BAD FIRE AT CAMPBELLTON, N. B.

Only a Few Houses Left According to Report.

BLAZE STARTED IN SHINGLE MILL AND SPREAD RAPIDLY THROUGH THE TOWN.

St. John, N. B., July 12.—Fragmentary reports of a disastrous fire which broke out in Campbellton yesterday, on the I. C. R., in the northern part of the province, indicate that the town is practically destroyed. The fire broke out, says a Chatham message, in the Richards Company's shingle mills and spread rapidly throughout the town. One report says only a few houses are left standing. Among the property destroyed are the I.C.R. station station house and freight shed.

The Great North Western Telegraph office is burned and all communication with Campbellton by either telegraph or telephone is cut off.

Dalhousie, a town several miles distant, reports sending apparatus to help Campbellton, and then itself being visited by fire, which, however, was subdued by hard work. Chatham also had a blaze, a telephone message stating that the Miramichi Company's store pulp mill was considerably damaged.

A Newcastle message states that among the buildings burned are the Presbyterian and Baptist churches, the Arlington, Minto and I. C. R. Railway hotels, the Tonsbury furniture store and the Opera House.

Newcastle, N.B., July 82.—In the fire which swept the town of Campbellton yesterday it is feared lives have been lost, there is a report here that seven men were killed in an explosion, but this is not confirmed. The body of a baby was found, the little one had been suffocated.

Four thousand people are homeless. An appeal for assistance is being sent out. The I. C. R. loss alone is said to be $100,000.

Campbellton is a seaport town in Restigouche county, N.B., on the Intercolonial Railway. It is situated on the south bank of the Restigouche river, about fifteen miles from Dalhousie, where the mouth of the river is. The river has been dredged during the past few years, admitting ships of large tonnage to Campbellton wharves. It is the northernmost town of the province, and is the big game centre of Northern New Brunswick. Sportsmen from all sections make it their outfitting point, guides can be procured, and within a few

Roblin Government Secures a Large Majority.

ALL THE MINISTERS ELECTED—TWENTY-NINE CONSERVATIVES TO THIRTEEN LIBERALS.

Winnipeg, July 12.—The elections for the Manitoba Legislature were held yesterday and resulted in a complete victory for the Roblin Government. There were a few changes in constituencies, but the Government will have about the same majority as they had in the last House, the parties standing—29 Conservatives and 13 Liberals. The ministers were returned by increased majorities, but some of their supporters had narrow escapes, only being elected by small majorities. The result is about as expected although the Liberals were hopeful of making a better showing.

Conservatives were jubilant at their victory and paraded the streets in torchlight processions until close to midnight. The Liberals, while disappointed at the provincial result, were greatly pleased at the showing made in the West and North wards here and attributed their victory to thorough organization.

DID BOYS JOIN THE JOCKEY TROUP.

Young Lads Missing Since Race Meet Here.

CHIEF HAS WIRED ST. JOHN, N. B., POLICE FOR INFORMATION.

The police of this city have been notified that a young lad named Plamondon, of East Sherbrooke, has been missing since July 4th.

To-day it has been learned that two other young lads have been missing since the same day. The other lads' names are Duberger and Jutras.

The three boys were last seen by their parents on the evening of July 4th. Since that time they have not been heard from.

It was suspected that they had gone off with the horsemen who were attending the meet here.

Chief Davidson has wired the Chief of Police at St. John, N.B., and has asked him to make a thorough search for young Plamondon. The disappearance of the other two has not yet been reported to the Chief.

The missing lads were about 17 years of age, and while the races were here they spent considerable time at the grounds. It is thought that the life of a jockey appealed to them so strongly that they decided to follow the horses to St. John.

DARING AVIATOR IS KILLED.

Hon. S. C. Rollis Meets Death by Fall.

WRIGHT BIPLANE DASHED TO EARTH WHILE IN FLIGHT THIS MORNING.

Bournemouth, Eng., July 12.—(Special)—Hon. S.C. Rolles, son of Lord L. Langatock, hero of the recent flight from Dover to France and return, was killed this morning by fall, while flying with his Wright biplane.

The machine suddenly buckled up while forty feet from ground, was verturned and the young aviator was dashed to earth.

NO RUNNING MEET DURING FAIR WEEK.

Directors of E. T. A. A. Reach This Decision.

IF HELD AT ALL WOULD LIKE TO SEE THEM ON SAME PRINCIPLE AS TROTTING.

RACES.

The directors of the E.T.A.A. met yesterday afternoon and transacted considerable business.

The request of Mr. Scott Ives, of Montreal, who asked permission to hold running races during fair week was first taken up. After some discussion it was decided that the request could not be granted. The dirtors felt that they would like to have running races, provided they were conducted on the same principle as trotting races. The lack of space however, made it impossible for them to accept Mr. Ives' offer.

Mr. G.R.E. Kennedy appeared before the board and asked for assistance in order that the Government might be persuaded to hold the Dominion Mineral Exhibit here this fall. The directors were in sympathy with Mr. Kennedy and offered free space for such an exhibit.

LURE OF WEST CEASING TO ATTRACT.

Build Up the East Now a Patriotic Cry.

NEEDS OF RURAL EDUCATION IN QUEBEC PROVINCE — WORK TO BE DONE IN THIS CONNECTION.

At the recent convocation of Bishop's College University the Provincial Treasurer gave an address on the education question and on the backward condition of the rural elementary schools. On this latter point he said:

"Here in this garden spot of the Province of Quebec, here in the Eastern Townships, among Protestant English-speaking people especially, the condition of elementary education leaves much to be desired.

"The people have increased in material prosperity, they have profited by the general knowledge and information that have been so widely diffused by the press, but their educational ideals have not kept pace with their material advancement.

"I do not intend to occupy your time but for a moment. I take this opportunity afforded by the presence of men high in ecclesiastical as well as in civil positions, to call their attention to certain deplorable conditions which exist in our educational system.

"More than one-third of the Protestant teachers in the Eastern Townships are untrained, and in fact possess no certificate of competence of any kind whatever. Schools remain in charge of these incompetent teachers for periods varying from six to eight months a year, while the average salary of teachers with diplomas is only $221.00 per year."

Mr. Mackenzie then urged, and rightly, that the work of reform must be more widely and extensively undertaken, so far as the individuals of the community are concerned, if it is to be effective.

The Montreal Witness commenting upon the situation says:

"Four years ago we had in the English-speaking counties an educational campaign that was organized by the Hon. Sydney Fisher, and there is no doubt at all that it did good here and there. It cleared the public mind for one thing, of many false impressions, and it emphasized the fact that the best progress is to be sought in local effort. But the backward conditions still existing in so many municipalities make it plain that one campaign was not enough. It was not enough in Ontario half a century ago and more, when Egerton Ryerson was engaged in the splendid task of arousing the people of that province to a sense of their educational duty; campaigning was the steady annual activity of that reformer. Ryerson was obliged to persist, and did persist, until the local energy and pride almost everywhere could be relied upon to support good schools as a matter of course. We would suggest that another campaign, similar to that of four years ago, be undertaken in our province. Qualified speakers, well informed on all the details of our educational work, are available; all that is needed is someone to lead the way. If his official duties do not prevent him from undertaking it, we imagine that the call of the Provincial Treasurer to this work would be heartily responded to in the Eastern Townships at any rate. An active campaign, followed up by the formation of local educational associations, along the lines suggested by Dean Sinclair, of Macdonald College, but including, in addition to school commissioners and trustees, the ministers of religion and others interested, would surely be productive of much good.

"Whatever may be the general backwardness on this question in any community, there is always a minority with right ideas, and this minority can usually do something effective when it is organized. As Mr. Mackenzie indicated, there is urgent need of co-operation on the part of those who have not hitherto occupied themselves directly with the school question, but whose interest in it is needed. That co-operation can be secured by organization, and a distinct purpose of such an educational campaign as we are proposing might well be the securing of this local organization. In the address referred to Mr. Mackenzie said that he was not one of those who take a gloomy view of the future prospects of the English-speaking people in the province. He believes that the circumstances which have brought about the backward educational conditions are of a temporary character, and that restored confidence in the future of the minority will help to right them. The lure of the West is ceasing to attract as strongly as it did:

"The great resources of the Province of Quebec, the development of which may be said to have just commenced, its great forest and mineral wealth; its great prospects for the establishment of manufacturing industries; the fertility of its soil for agricultural purposes, will ever be attractive to capital and enterprise, and there are none who have greater faith in the great possibilities that the Province of Quebec affords, than the English-speaking people themselves."

"But nothing, after all, is more calculated to give confidence and strong purpose to a minority, and to win respect for it, than the exhibition of common principles of action in just such matters as that of public education. Here, if anywhere, is the field for high aims and ideals on the part not merely of the few, but of the many. This is our real plain of Ilium."

APPRECIATION OF ART.

"I went to see your piece at the theatre last night and was delighted with it. Do tell me where the costumes were made?"—Pele Mele.

LIGHTNING STRUCK AT MASSAWIPPI.

Four Children were Burned by Electric Fluid.

HOUSE DAMAGED.—VERY NARROW ESCAPE FOR MASSAWIPPI FAMILY.

Massawippi, July 12.—(Special)—During the storm of Sunday the house of Mr. Sargent, formerly owned by Mr. Harry Kezar, was struck by lightning, which did considerable damage, but was not set on fire.

The bolt struck the chimney and came down into the living rooms by the double stove, and played about the floors in three rooms and splintered them, then demolished two posts in the cellar, killing a cat which was there, and passed into the ground. Four children of the family were sitting about the kitchen table and were badly burned about the limbs in spots. Three of them had their shoes torn to bits, and one a small gash cut between his toes. It was a narrow escape for them. Dr. Brown was called and dressed the burns, and they now seem doing well. It was a great fright for the parents. It was said the cat looked as if a hot wire had been wound around its body several times.

FITZGERALD AND LAVIN GUILTY.

Conspiracy to Defraud at Recent Race Meet.

WILL BE SENTENCED FRIDAY — THE EVIDENCE—GAME PUT UP ON LOWELLTOWN MAN.

The trial of Robert Fitzgerald and John Lavin took place this morning before Judge Mulvena. The Crown decided to proceed first with the charge of conspiracy to defraud.

Gedeon Valliere was the first witness called. He was gate keeper at the exhibition grounds during the recent races. He recognized Read and the two accused as having noticed them at the exhibition grounds, his attention having been drawn to them by the way in which the accused accosted Read. He noticed that all three had money in their hands, and that they went over to the sheds where the horses were kept. He called Price's attention to what was going on.

Stevens Read identified the accused. He said he belonged to Lowelltown, Me. He came to Sherbrooke to have a good time. He had one hundred dollars in his pocket when he left Lowelltown. He had never met the accused before. He had been drinking heavily for some days before going up to the races. He was accosted by Fitzgerald who asked him to come and see some fine horses that they said they owned. They then asked him to bet. He refused. They kept after him and finally put up five dollars which he gave to Fitzgerald who left with it telling him to remain with Lavin and he would get his money back.

Lavin told how that Fitzgerald owned these horses. Fitzgerald came back with a roll of bills in his hand and said he had won and asked him for more money. He said he was a stranger here and wanted some security. Lavin said, "Let me have it and you will get it back all right." He then gave Fitzgerald a roll of bills which contained fifty-five dollars. Fitzgerald left in a hurry. "I began to get uneasy," said witness, and wanted my money back. Fitzgerald finally wrote on an envelope, which the complainant had, the words "R. Lyon," and told him to ask for that man at the Sherbrooke House, and that he would get his money. Witness went to the Sherbrooke House, but found nobody of that name there. He then went to the police and finally found the two accused at the Montreal House, where they were arrested."

Norrey Price, who was acting Superintend of the grounds at the time, had his attention called to Read and the accused by Vallier. They were passing money between them at that time. A man by the name of Turner called him into a shed and told him to listen to what was going on. The two accused were talking to Read outside, asking him for more money which he refused. We could hear the accused but we could not see him. When we came around the shed we saw Read hand Fitzgerald a roll of bills. Read was noticeably drunk, but could walk and talk alright.

Sub-Chief Couture testified as to the amount of money and other articles that were found with the accused when he searched them.

Morin, a turnkey at the jail, testified as to finding $33 in the lining of Fitzgerald's coat.

The case was then submitted by counsel.

The Court found the accused guilty and remanded them to jail until Friday morning for sentence.

Upon their being found guilty Mr. Broderick declared that the Crown would be satisfied with one conviction, as the other charges were all based on the same facts, and withdrew the other two charges.

AUTOMOBILE VS. FARM WAGGON

Glen Sutton, July 12.—(Special)—We do not often meet with the kind of automobilists known as "road hogs," but occasionally they come this way. One such recently learned a lesson that may be of benefit to him, by a collision with Mr. Clark Jones' heavy farm waggon, piled high with bags of sawdust. Mr. Jones was nearly off the road, but the chauffeur attempted to keep the entire road, and at full speed struck the waggon with force enough to slide the rear end about two feet to one side, but doing no damage to the waggon. The engine of the auto was put temporarily out of business, and some other damage, done, but was soon repaired and the driver was able to proceed, perhaps wiser for the delay.

Miss Emma Westover, of Montreal, was injured about the head and a physician had to be called, but Miss Evelyn Lafleur, of this village, and Mr. Walley Otter, of Montreal, escaped more easily. They were both murdered as they lay in bed, the child in a cot near the bed of its mother. Croche fell between the two beds when he fired the bullet into his own head, and his body was found on the floor. Those residing in the house say that the tragedy was the result of jealousy.

Toronto, July 12. —(Special)— A Globe Winnipeg special says: "The long conference between striking Canadian Northern men and management, including Mr. D.D. It is understood that the Roblin Government made desperate efforts to force settlement on the understanding that if successful, the men should vote for Conservative candidates. ## ENGLAND IN EGYPT.

PUBLIC REVENUE TWENTY TIMES AS GREAT AS WHEN BRITISH CONTROL BEGAN.

When England assumed the sole control in 1882 Egypt was still bankrupt, with a public debt of more than $500,000,000 and an income insufficient to pay the interest and carry on the government.

The public revenue in 1882 amounted to $4,500,000; in 1907 to $81,500,000, more than $10,000,000 in excess of the expenditures. On January 1st, 1908, the sum of $45,000,000 was in the general reserve fund and the public debt was reduced in 1908 by $1,600,000; it now is $497,000,000.

The cities and towns were without any drainage or sewerage, says the "World To-day." Only within ten years even Cairo itself, with a death rate of forty-six per one thousand, has undertaken any such public work. In the country every canal was polluted and stagnant pools of filth were near every village.

The annual pilgrimages to Mecca were likewise the means of introducing many diseases. Cholera and other epidemics were of frequent occurrence, and their ravages carried off thousands and thousands of the population.

Little by little the various difficulties of the situation have been studied and solved by the administration, until now Egypt may be considered a reasonably healthy country. Of course, vast sums of money have been required to effect such a result.

At first enormous difficulty was encountered by the English in making changes in the system of taxation, because the people, so long accustomed to the betrayal of their interests, thought the plans proposed were simply for the purpose of increasing their burdens. Little by little, however, they learned that another era had opened, and finally their suspicions were calmed. They then began to work with renewed energy, and now, secure in the fruits of their labor, they are not merely improving their own conditions, but are building up the reputation of their country.

THE FRENCH CANADIAN HORSE.

STEPS BEING TAKEN TO REHABILITATE THE FAMOUS BREED.

Horsemen in Canada are greatly interested in the recent action of the Federal Government at Ottawa in giving authority for the establishment of a stud book in which the French-Canadian type of horse will be eligible for registration.

There was a time when this distinctive breed was one of the features of the Province of Quebec, but outcrosses with unsuitable stallions, chiefly Clydes and Belgians, have practically extermmated the hardy, useful type, which once was predominant. There are, however, in a few districts, some good specimens still, and an effort is to be made toward rehabilitating the breed.

The true French-Canadian horse of half a century ago was g stout bodied horse on short legs. He had many of the qualities of the Morgan, although as a rule much larger than his American cousin, and there is little reason to doubt that many Morgans brought from Maine and Vermont across the Canadian border were used in the stud throughout Quebec, and that some of the most prized of the French-Canadian horses had a strong infusion of Morgan blood.

Their trappy action and lightness of foot showed that it was no extraordinary thing to find horses of 1,400 pounds and more capable of 2.40 speed, with the bend of the knee and the flex of the neck that are the delight of every man who knows the horse and what is most desirable in the way of gait.

THE UNPUNISHED CRIMINAL MENACE.

(From the New York Times)

Judge George C. Holt finds that of the three hundred thousand persons who have participated in lynchings in the past forty years, one hundred thousand are still living—"approximately one hundred thousand unhung murderers of that particular type." The labor disturbances of the past five years have averaged more than fifteen hundred a year, and of these at least one-sixth have been accompanied by crimes of violence, maiming and murder. Participants in such riots are felons, and of this class are "165,000 men—guilty of felony or murder now living." In Kentucky, southern Indiana and Ohio are the pillaging, assaulting and murderous bands of night riders, and "no night rider has ever been convicted of any crime." The cases of blackmailing and murder of Italian residents by the "Black Hand" are uncounted, yet "so far as I am aware no person has ever been convicted in this country of any murder of that kind." Very serious crimes have developed from the reckless handling of automobiles. "No punishment, except a trifling fine, or, in very rare cases, a short imprisonment, has been imposed in such cases."

Judge Holt has gathered statistics in proof of his assertion that unpubished crime is the greatest present menace to American society. Besides the classes of almost totally unpunished criminality noted above the judge holds that the practice of letting most persons, howsoever accused, go free, has become part of the conduct of the courts of law. Many magistrates are political friends of criminals. Trials are postponed and delayed. They are protracted, by the admission irrelevant testimony and preposterous theories of experts, the excessive number of counts in indictments.

WHY THE ILL FEELING?

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Ind. Dem.)

It would be interesting to know how much the discussion in the Canadian House of Commons of the question of naval armament on the lakes was due to ill feeling engendered by the tariff controversy, and how much to a real feeling that the United States is not living uo to the spirit of the agreement of 1811. The Canadians can scarcely misunderstand the wishes and intentions of the Washington Government so far as to believe that the operation of training vessels on the lakes can menace their national safety.

Mr. Foster, of the Privy Council, is probably right in ascribing the action of the United States in increasing its naval strength on the lakes to the newly acquired possession of a "naval policy." Without such a policy—that is, without the recently acquired ambition to rival European nations by the expense and elaboration of naval equipment—the United States would not now be causing alarm across the border.

But this does not mean, of course, that the United States has any idea of aggression against the Dominion, either on its own account or on account of the mother country. It means simply that the ambition for naval display leads the Government to exert every effort to train recruits in increasing numbers for the service. The training ships on the lakes, with their increasing armament and their expanding numbers, are the inevitable accompaniment of congressional prodigality in building up a costly navy.

Canada need not, probably does not, fear aggression from the United States. There is reason to suspect that this lake question is brought up as a sort of counter irritant to relieve the ill feeling over the tariff controversy.

M-L

PURE PAINT

Worth any man's paint money, because made of pure materials so thoroughly mixed that every drop does what paint must do to be good paint —PROTECT and LAST. It took 17 years to find just how to use one ingredient (peculiar to M-L Paints) that greatly lengthens the life of the paint. But it was worth the time! —because it makes this paint well worth its price.

FOOD PRICES IN 1823.

AN OLD JOURNAL WITH FIGURES THAT ARE OF INTEREST TO-DAY.

(Cincinnati Commercial Tribune)

That prices of food in Cincinnati were not always as high as they are now is the testimony of a musty little volume of poems and facts compiled by Moses Gust, who came to Cincinnati from the east in 1823, and when he got here took careful note of many things he saw, including the market. He jotted his observations down in his journal, which was later published by Looker & Reynolds of this city. The journal was resurrected by Philip Hinkle and this interesting bit of information culled from its pages.

"Markets in this (Cincinnati) city are abundantly supplied with the best kinds of meats and vegetables. Beef, mutton and veal sell from two to four cents a pound, pork from one and a half to two and a half cents, butter, twelve and a half to eighteen and three-quarter cents; cheese, six to eight cents, and eggs, four to ten cents per dozen. Wheat flour costs from $1.25 to $1.75 per hundredweight; buckwheat costs the same; cornmeal, eighteen and three-quarters to twenty-five cents per bushel; wheat, forty-five to fifty cents, and oats from twelve and a half to eighteen and three-quarter cents. Chickens sell from ten to twenty-five cents per pair; turkeys for three to four cents per pound; potatoes, twenty-five to thirty-seven cents, and turnips, eighteen and three quarters to twenty-five cents per bushel."

The same little journal states that the Cincinnati waterworks were operated by horses, and that the really astonishing thing about this town was the nine-story steam flour mill on the river front, with walls from nine to ten feet thick, and having a capacity of fifteen thousand bushels. This might well be compared with the elevator now at Lawrenceburg, eighteen miles down the river, the capacity of which is the modest amount of five hundred thousand bushels.

A GENTLE ENOUGH REMINDER.

Absent-Minded Professor (to one of his colleagues)—Excuse me a minute, but can you tell me the date of the first Peloponesian war?

Colleague—431 B.C.

A. P.—Oh, yes, so it is. Thank you so much. It is also our doctor's telephone number, and I had to ring him up, and could not remember it. —Fliegende Blatter.

MORE SPIRITS AND LESS BEER.

OFFICIAL FIGURES SHOW WHAT CANADIANS DRINK—AN INCREASE IN USE OF TOBACCO.

Ottawa, July 12.—Canadian people last year consumed more of liquor and less of beer than in the previous year, according to official statistics of the Department of Inland Revenue just issued.

Of spirits, the consumption per head of population, in the last fiscal year was .815 gallons; of beer, 5.276 gallons; of wine, .97 gallons; and of tobacco, 2,940 pounds.

In the fiscal year of 1909, the consumption of spirits per head was .806 gallons; of beer, 5,348 gallons; of wine, .085 gallons; and of tobacco, 2,910 pounds.

The latter increase in consumption is not out of proportion to the increase in population, and compared with the old days, there is a substantial decrease.

Thirty years ago two gallons of liquor were consumed for every head of population, now it is less than a gallon. Twenty years ago the consumption of liquor was .833 per head and of beer, 3,360 gallons. In 1900 liquor had fallen to .701 and beer increased to 4,364 gallons per head. As compared with ten years ago, the increase in spirits is .114 gallons per head and of beer .912 gallons.

The wine consumption is not growing. Twenty years ago it was .104 gallons, and ten years ago .85 per capita. Now it is .97.

There is a steady but not abnormal increase in the use of tobacco. In 1890 it was 2,143 pounds per head; 2,300 pounds in 1900 and last year 2,940.

OUR SACRED DAY DESECRATED.

(From the Baltimore Sun.)

The London News, commenting on the fight at Reno on Monday, makes palpable hit. "Even those Americans," says our English contemporary, "whose proudest boast is that almost anything may happen in the United States might have hesitated a year ago to believe that the most sacred day in their civil calendar would be celebrated before the whole world by the most nakedly commercial prize fight in the history of pugilism." Thoughtful Americans will agree with this London newspaper that the affair at Reno on the Fourth of July was a shameful desecration of the day that ought to be sacred for all time in the estimation of patriotic Americans. The rebuke is a just one. Although as a nation we are often inclined to resent foreign criticism, Americans who have not outgrown respect for our most cherished traditions and for the sacrifices which their forefathers made to achieve the independence of the colonies will concede that the criticism is thoroughly deserved.

MORE WEDDINGS IN LENT.

(From the Gentlewoman.)

Lenten marriages are now frequent. This year several well known couples have been married in Lent, and 1909 saw the splendid bridal of Lord and Lady Douro during the sacred season. As a nation we seem to have outgrown the belief that a wedding which took place during the forty days would bring in its train ill luck or misfortune, and there is a royal precedent in favor of this date, as the marriage of their majesties, the King and Queen was celebrated in the lenten weeks of 1863. "There was no lent when I was young," is a remark said to have been made by the late Queen Victoria when a certain bishop issued a slight protest against some proposed fixture during the penitential period; and facts prove that the rigid observance of Lent dates from the later years of the last century.

IMMIGRATION EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

Chief Davidson has been investigating the immigration law as applied to employment agencies.

The law and regulations of Canada respecting immigration and immigrants says on the subject:

"No person shall, at any port or place in Canada, for hire, reward or gain, or the expectation thereof, conduct, solicit or recommend, either orally or by handbill or placard or in any other manner, any immigrant to or on behalf of any owner of a vessel, or to or on behalf of any innkeeper or boarding house keeper, or any other person, for any purposes connected with the preparations or arrangements of such immigrant for his passage to his final place of destination in Canada, or elsewhere, or give or pretend to give to such immigrant any information oral, printed or otherwise, to assist him to his said place of destination, or in any way exercise the vocation of booking passengers, or of taking money for their inland fare, or for the transportation of their luggage, unless such person has first obtained a license from the Superintendent of Immigration authorizing him to act in such capacity."

AN UNPOPULAR CLAUSE IN NEW LIGHT SCHEDULE.

In yesterday's Record was given a summary of the proposed electric light by-law, very much simplified from the schedule now in force, making the rate 7c. per k.w. for domestic lighting, with 30 p.c. off for churches, hotels, stores, industries, etc., etc.

The proposed new schedule also provides that the gas rate shall be $1.25 for 1,000 feet, and $1.50 per year for ineter, the meter charge to be payable one year in advance.

The new electric light schedule, if it is finally passed by the Council and goes into effect, is likely to be more popular than the present one as being less complicated and without the fixed charge for rooms which has not been a popular feature of the present by-law. The flat rate for six-roomed houses will, also, be popular.

There is one clause which will not be popular, namely, that which requires tenants, who are not proprietors of real estate in the city, to make a deposit of $3.50 for flat rate and $6 for meter rate, as a guarantee that they will pay their light bills. This is a precaution on the part of the city against losses occasioned by tenants leaving the city with unpaid light bills. In a few cases this stipulation will likely prove to have been a wise one. In most cases it is quite unnecessary. In all cases it will be unpopular, for no citizen likes to be singled out as under suspicion of being dishonest and the city's requirement of a deposit is a precaution which implies a suspicion.

THE TRYING OUT OF CHRISTIANITY.

(From Zion's Herald)

Lessing once said: "Christianity has been tried for eighteen centuries. The religion of Christ has yet to be tried." This is one of those brilliant epigrammatic deliverances which conceal as well as reveal truth. We do not know what Paul of Tarsus "tried," what John Huss "tried," what Wesley and Whitefield "tried," what D. L. Moody and Gipsy Smith have "tried," if it was not Christ's religion. They were not perfect men, but they got at the heart of Christianity's secret, and they lived close up to the cross, they had as their dominant mood, their overmastering passion, the mind of Christ. Yet if Lessing means to remind us that after eighteen—now nineteen—centuries Christianity is for multitudes a name rather than a life, a theory rather than a deed, a sentiment rather than a sacrifice, he is right. Moreover, no man, not even Paul, has tried out to the very uttermost all the possibilities of the Christian faith and experience. Moody, who probably never heard of Lessing, put the truth forcibly when he said that "the world has yet to see what God will do with a thoroughly consecrated man."

BAD FIRE AT CAMPBELLTON, N. B.

hours travel moose, cariboo and deer are to be found in abundance. It contains post, express and telegraph offices, five churches, a number of stores, several hotels, five lumber mills, a grist mill, two factories, a printing office, two branch banks, and has a considerable trade in fish, especially salmon. During the season of navigation a steamer runs twice a week between Campbellton and Gaspe. The population is 4,000.

FURTHER PARTICULARS FROM SCENE OF FIRE.

St. John, N.B., July 12.—(Special--Campbellton, the most flourishing town in northern New Brunswick, is in ashes. The loss is estimated at over $2,000,000, and four or five thousand people are homeless. The wires are down, and full particulars are not yet available.

Many people sought refuge at Dalhousie, six miles away, and others crossed to the Quebec side of the river for shelter.

The fire started yesterday afternoon at Richards mill, above the town, and swept a path clean through, taking all but a few buildings in the outskirts of the town, which had fire department and gravitation water system; but nothing would stay the progress of the flames. Persons working in factories rushed home to find the flames before them, and to see their property destroyed. Members of families were separated, and panic prevailed. Fortunately only one death is reported, a child named Doyle being suffocated.

Five sawmills and a woodworking factory, foundry and other industries, six churches, six hotels, all the property of the Intercolonial and International Railways, schools and residences were devoured in one common ruin. Only seven houses, standing in the outskirts, remain of the flourishing town of Campbellton. Three mills of the Richards Company were valued at $90,000, two by the Shives Lumber Company at $100,000, and one by the Harquil Woodworking Company at $60,000.

The town was growing rapidly and quite a number of very substantial new buildings, including a $15,000 hotel, were destroyed.

Campbellton is a seaport, with very extensive lumber trade, and a divisional point on the Intercolonial Railway. The International Railway, across New Brunswick, has a terminus at Campbellton. It is also the headquarters for salmon anglers and hunters of big game. The New Brunswick Gazetteer says it contained forty-five stores, half a dozen hotels, seven sawmills, sash and door factory and planing mills, foundry and machine shop, two branch banks, six churches, fine school buildings, a small hospital and much valuable railway property.

Over eighty million feet of lumber was exported from Campbellton last year. Its population is over four thousand and had nearly doubled in ten years. It was one of the most flourishing small towns in the Lower Provinces, with gravitation water system and electric lighting.

RACE ACROSS OCEAN IN A BALLOON.

AMERICA AND GERMANY WILL IN ALL LIKELIHOOD BE CONTESTING FOR SIGNAL TESTINIG FOR SIGNAL

New York, July 12.—An international race for the honor of being the first to cross the Atlantic in a dirigible is to-day absorbing the attention of aviators, and for the moment the balloon has put the aeroplane in the background.

America and Germany will, in all likelihood, within a few months be contesting for the privilege of bringing to realization the dream with which Edgar Allen Poe hoaxed the nation three-quarters of a century ago.

Walter Wellman, who thrice tried to reach the North Pole by air, is the leader of the proposed American party. Wilhelm Rettig, architect engineer and artist, is working in Berlin at the plans for a trip across the Atlantic in a wooden balloon. Rettig's aim is to establish a regular line of air passenger boats.

FATHER MORRISCY'S WAY

Of Curing Catarrh is Simple and Effective.

In treating catarrh, some doctors recommend internal remedies, while others pin their faith to external applications. Internal medicines do not produce immediate relief, while external ones do not reach the seat of the trouble.

Father Morriscy's method was to supplement one treatment with the other. His famous prescription, "No. 26", consists of tablets and salve, each skilfully compounded of Nature's own remedial agents. The learned priest did not believe in using dangerous and powerful drugs, when simpler and better remedies were available.

The tablets, to be taken three times a day, invigorate the system, purify the blood, and restore the health and vitality. The antiseptic salve, applied inside the nostrils, soothes and heals the passages and destroys the germs therein.

Attacking the disease from within and without, and working together, the two treatments known as No. 26 quickly cure catarrh and prevent future trouble.

For this tried and true combined remedy, 50c. at your dealer's or from Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B. 88

DOMINION TEXTILE LEAGUE.

Magog, July 12.—(Special) — The first game of baseball in the Dominion Textile Co. League was played here Saturday between the Engravers and the Machinists, and resulted in a win for the former by a score of 15—9. The score up to the beginning of the ninth inning was a tie, but Labrec, the Machinists' pitcher, went up in the air in this inning, and the Engravers took advantage of the opportunity to win the game.

Some very good plays were pulled off during the game, also a good many bad errors, but it is hoped with a little more practice these may be done away with. Following is the line-up :

BOXING.

GOTCH MAY MEET JOHNSON NEXT.

Chicago, Ill., July 12.—After agreeworld's champion wrestler, as a posing to train Frank Gotch, the world's champion wrestler, as a possibility to meet Jack Johnson, Jas. J. Corbett, who arrived in the city yesterday from San Francisco, departed later in the day on the same train with Johnson for New York. On the long ride to the Eastern Metropolis four cars separated the champion and the ex-champion, who are bitter enemies. Corbett still feels bad over Jeffries' defeat, but said he believed he has a man who, with proper training and touching, will be able to wrest the title from the colored champion. This man is Frank Gotch, who already has signified his willingness to undertake the task, but Corbett thinks he should have a few fights before he challenges Johnson to show the public whether he is as good with gloves as he is on the mat.

Corbett said: "Johnson that fought Jeffries was entirely different from the Johnson who fought Burns and Ketchel. He is a great boxer and a hard hitter, and what surprised me most was that he had a whallop with his left hand. There's no use talking, we have got to find somebody to beat him, and I think Gotch is the man. He has brains, and will do what he is told, and as he is anxious to try conclusions with Johnson, I think we can make a fighter out of him."

THE LEADING N. L. U. SCORERS.

Roberts, of the Montreal team, still leads the N.L.U. scorers to date, having passed the different goalkeepers no less than 15 times. However, Lalonde, of the Nationals, is giving the Montrealer a hard run for the honor, and as a result of Saturday's game the National leader is now holding down second place, only one goal behind Roberts.

F. Scott, also of the Montreal twelve, dropped from second to third place, having 10 goals to his credit.

As Montreal do not play a schedule N.L.U. game for some time now, it is likely that some of the other players will overtake the Montreal men within a short time. The leading scorers to date are as follows:

|---|---|
| Roberts, Montreal | 15 |
| Lalonde, Nationals | 14 |
| F. Scott, Montreal | 10 |
| Lamoureux, Nationals | 8 |

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK MARKET

REVIEW OF PRICES PREVAILING IN MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 12.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending July 9 were 2,530 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 1,400 hogs, and 1,000 calves. The supply on the market yesterday morning for sale consisted of 600 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 700 hogs, and 150 calves.

The feature of the cattle trade yesterday was the stronger feeling in the market and prices advanced ¼c per lb. This was attributed to the fact that the supply was about 500 head smaller than a week ago, and that really useful beeves were rather scarce. The attendance of buyers was fairly large, and considering the warm weather and higher prices a good trade was done. Choice steers sold at 7c to 7¼c, good at 6¾c to 6¾c, fairly good at 6c to 6¼c, fair at 5½c to 5¾c, and common at 5c to 5¼c per lb. A few choice cows brought as high as 5¼c, and from that down to 3c was accepted for the lower grades.

A stronger feeling developed in the market for hogs, and prices scored an advance of 25c per 100 lbs., which was due to the lighter receipts and the keener demand from packers for supplies. A fairly active trade was done, and sales of selected lots were made at $9.75 to $10 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.
