BYE-ELECTION IN BAGOT MAY CAUSE A DELAY Druse Rebels Are Setting Up Provincial Governments

Doubt That It Will Be Found Possible To Call Parliament December 10

Point Is Taken Among Liberals that for Real Test of Strength in House of Commons, Parliament Should Not Be Called Till Bagot Has Elected Its New Representative—When House Opens Cabinet Ministers Will Be Reduced in Number—Decision to Call Parliament for December 10 Has Caught Public Accounts Department by Surprise and There Will Have to Be Much Hurrying Up if Estimates Are to Be Ready.

(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, ONT., November 7.—In official circles today there is doubt if it will be found possible to call Parliament by December 10th. The coming bye-election in Bagot may cause delay. The point is taken among Liberals that for a real test of strength in the House, Parliament should not be called till Bagot has elected its new representative.

A SESSION WITHOUT PARALLEL IN HISTORY OF DOMINION
(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, ONT., Nov. 7.—Parliament opens on December 10th, providing all legal requirements can be met, for a session without parallel in the history of the Dominion. Primarily it will be a test of strength between Liberals and Conservatives, for there is little public business beyond the usual supply so far indicated. Ratification of the trade treaty between Canada and the West Indies, however, still remains. The treaty has been signed by all the parties, but still needs approval of the Dominion Parliament and of the West Indian legislatures. Premier King vigorously defended the treaty during the election campaign. Mr. Meighen criticized it. Approval of the treaty may provide a lively issue.

When the House opens, Cabinet ministers will be reduced in numbers. Premier King and Hon. G. P. Graham, who of the defeated ministers alone remain in the cabinet, will have to find constituencies before they can take their seats in the new House. Should they be unable to do so by the opening, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, is the senior member of the Government remaining and in the normal course of things would lead for the Liberals. Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, and the new acting Minister of Immigration, comes next in seniority. Premier King's intentions in regard to his own position, it is intimated, however, will be made known later in the day.

Decision of the Government to call Parliament for December 10th, has caught the public accounts department by surprise. There will now have to be much hurrying up if estimates are to be ready.

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS MADE LAST NIGHT BY PREMIER

(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Premier King announced last night that parliament would meet on December 10th, provided legal requirements can be met. All defeated members of cabinet with portfolios, with the exception of Right Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, have handed in their resignations to the Premier.

BOURASSA REVIEWS THE POLITICAL SITUATION

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—In a signed article in this afternoon's issue of "Le Devoir" Henri Bourassa, successful independent candidate in Labelle and protagonist of Nationalism, has the following to say a propos of the present political situation.

"The parliamentary crisis threatens to spill as much ink as the election itself. The situation is complex. It may become dangerous if the leaders lose their heads, if they do not muzzle their dogs, on the one side maddened on account of their not receiving the immediate rewards of the chase and on the other through seeing themselves placed on the short end in the Commons.

"From a strictly constitutional point of view Mr. King has taken the only decision in conformity with the immediate circumstances. The opinion of even Mr. Meighen and of his principal organs is that the Prime Minister could not claim a new dissolution. There remains only the other alternative of 'passing the buck' to the leader of the Tory party or of summoning parliament, in order that the responsibility of unravelling the tangle might be carried to the House of Commons.

Says Mr. King Has Acted Well.
"But what right would Mr. King, himself deprived of his parliamentary mandate, have to entrust Mr. Meighen, the leader of a minority group, with power, in opposition to the clearly expressed will of the electoral majority because he commands the most numerous group, say the Tories. The most numerous, as far as one can see, is not necessarily the majority of the House. The Tory press, lead by the Montreal Gazette, makes a great parade of the principles of the British constitution. It overlooks the most incontestable of these principles, at least since the revolution of 1688, and that is that the cabinet should have the confidence of the popular chamber. Who is there who will claim, even among his most ardent partisans, that Mr. Meighen at present enjoys this confidence. But, they reply, neither does Mr. King enjoy it. That is what remains to be seen, and the only manner in which that can be affirmed is to summon the House so that the majority of the membership might decide who, Mr. King or Mr. Meighen, or more correctly the Liberal or the Conservative party, should exercise power. Mr. King has done so, and he has acted well. In all logic and reason, he could not do otherwise.

"So much for the constitutional theory. Outside of that there is a side to the situation that is at once grotesque and disquieting. It is that the three party leaders have been placed in a quasi-impossible situation, that of governing alone or of arriving at an understanding that would lead to a fusion of these groups. Worse than that Mr. King and Mr. Meighen have been placed in such a position that each of them is right with respect to the other, and wrong with respect to himself.

"Mr. King has repeated insistently that he could not and would not govern without an absolute majority. He has fought relentlessly for the destruction of the Progressive party. He has only half succeeded and he cannot retain power except through the favor of the Progressive members whom he fought or whom he allowed to be elected by an entente, tacit or secret, in opposition to all his professions of public faith. He can maintain his position only by the grace of the Progressives, to the detriment of his reputation, of his dignity, and the future interests of his party.

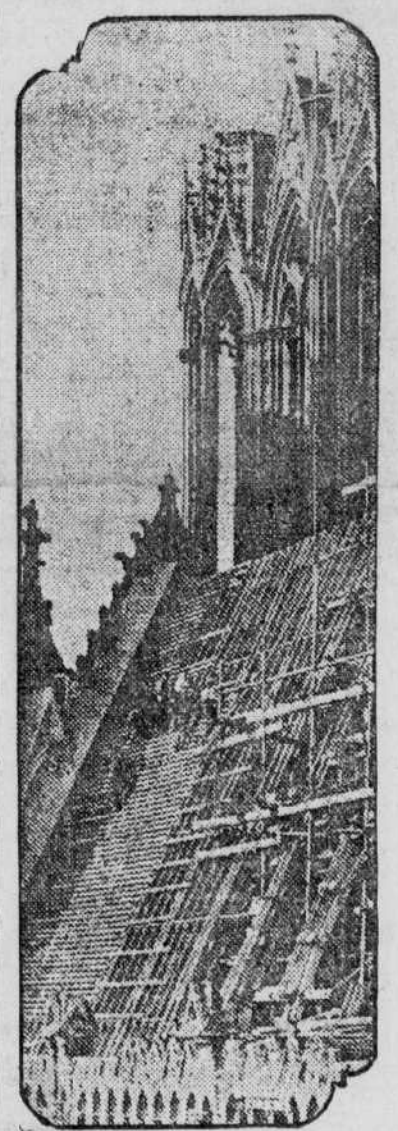

Position of Messrs. Meighen and Forke.
"Mr. Forke conducted his campaign in such a manner, particularly towards its close, that he has practically banned himself from forming a close alliance with Mr. King and the Liberal party as at present directed. All that he can do, and he ought in the general interest to do it, is to accord a reprieve to Mr. King so that a clear and durable solution might eventually be brought about.

"As to Mr. Meighen, he is, if possible, in a still worse position. In order that he might cause his past record to be forgotten, he has desired to hitch himself up exclusively to the Tories. (Continued on Page 14)

CITY COUNCIL OF QUEBEC IS TAKEN TO TASK

Mr. Justice Letellier, Who Investigated Civic Affairs of Ancient Capital, Makes Public His Report.

(Associated Press Despatch)
QUEBEC, Nov. 7.—The report of Mr. Justice Letellier, who investigated the civic affairs of Quebec, particularly with regard to the referendum that required the rate payers to pass on a loan for $300,000 for various public works, takes to task Mayor Samson and the members of the city council. The report was issued yesterday and charges negligence on the part of the city authorities in connection with the referendum and the violations with which it was accompanied, and also charges inertia on the part of the council in dealing with the violators when the facts became known.

Various acts of illegality are charged against the administration which, while not reflecting on the personal integrity of the public bodies, nevertheless have placed the city in a position from which it may eventually suffer.

PREMIER PAINLEVE'S FINANCIAL MEASURES APPROVED BY CABINET

(Associated Press Despatch)
PARIS, Nov. 7.—Premier Painlevé's financial measures were approved by the cabinet today. They are being sent to the finance committee of the Chamber of Deputies immediately.

The Premier's project, the text of which will be given out this evening, is "really a capital levy" Minister of the Interior Schrameck admitted to the newspaper men upon leaving the cabinet council. It bears the title "an extraordinary tax on all property." The minister indicated that the taxpayer would be able to pay in one, three or fourteen years.

"It is totally different from the project of M. Caillaux, former Finance Minister," was the way Minister of Public Works de Monzie described the Painlevé plan. "There has been a real effort to compose a project with simple mechanism, capable of being understood by all."

Sherbrooke Armistice Day Celebration Postponed Until A Week From Tomorrow-- Programme At Lennoxville Announced

Local Officials Unable to Complete Arrangements in Time to Carry Out Armistice Celebration on November 9—Monday Will Be Observed as a Public Holiday—Schools, Factories and Business Places Will Be Closed—Arrange for Special Church Services—Lennoxville Will Observe Armistice Day Tomorrow.

FOLLOWING a recent Act of Parliament, Thanksgiving and Armistice Days will be observed throughout Canada on the same date in the future, namely the Monday nearest the original Armistice Day, November 11th, which this year will be next Monday, November 9th.

Outlying districts, and in fact practically the whole Dominion, will celebrate these two great historical events next Monday. Owing to unforeseen drawbacks, however, Sherbrooke will not hold its Armistice celebration until a week from tomorrow, on Sunday, November 15th.

The day has been proclaimed a public holiday, and in Sherbrooke, as all over the Dominion, everything will be closed down tight, including the factories, the stores and offices, and all public buildings, such as the City Hall, the schools, banks, etc., while special hours will be observed in the post office. On Wednesday again, the schools will be granted a half holiday, but the wheels of industry will be turning as usual, and business, which was renewed on Tuesday following a two days' quiet, will be in full swing. However, all will on Wednesday honor the memory of those who died in the Great War by a two-minute silence at eleven o'clock in the morning.

Thanksgiving Day.
The pilgrims had been in the new world for nearly a year. The springtime sowing had taken place and all the summer the fields had been watched with great anxiety for all knew that their lives depended upon the coming harvest. The summer crops came to a richness of fruition beyond all expectation, and late one day in the fall, Governor Bradford sent four men into the forests to shoot wild birds. "We will hold a feast of Thanksgiving," he said, and invited the Indians who had been friendly to the strangers to rejoice with the white men. The Indians came, bearing gifts of venison, and the harvest lasted three days.

This was the first Thanksgiving Day celebrated in the new land, and little by little, as new colonies settled the country, the custom of a yearly Thanksgiving spread. In the United States, Thanksgiving is celebrated on the last Thursday of November, but owing to climatic conditions, the day in Canada has been set earlier, and it was chosen as the official occasion on which to render sincere and humble thanks to the Beneficent Author of all good.

In Sherbrooke, as all over the Dominion, everything will be closed down tight, including the factories, the stores and offices and all the public buildings, such as the City Hall, post offices, schools, banks, etc.

Special Thanksgiving services will be held in the Baptist Church tomorrow while the evening service in Plymouth United Church will be conducted along this line. Only the regular services will be conducted in Trinity United Church, and owing to the fact that on Sunday, November 15th, special missionary services will be held, Trinity Church will commemorate Thanksgiving on the following Sabbath, November 22nd. A Sunday of Thanksgiving has already been observed in St. Peter's Church.

Lennoxville Will Celebrate
Final arrangements for the celebration of Armistice Day in Lennoxville were completed at a meeting of the committee last evening. Mayor H. W. S. Downs presiding. All organizations and individuals who will participate in the parade will meet at the grounds of the High School on Sunday afternoon at 2.30, where the procession will be formed and will leave at 2.45. Proceeding to the Square, a flag-raising and dedication of the new pole will be followed by the address of the Mayor and the playing of "God Save the King" by the Lennoxville Band. Turning to the memorial, the guard will give the salute and the "Last Post" will be sounded. Two minutes of silence will be followed by the singing of one verse of "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," and as the band continues playing wreaths will be placed at the base of the memorial. Dr. A. H. McGreer, of Bishop's University, will give an address, and the ceremony will conclude with "O Canada."

The following organizations have been invited and have signified their intention to join in the parade: Guard of Honor, the Lennoxville Band, the Councils of Lennoxville and Ascot, the Clergy, Boy Scouts, Pupils of the Schools, the Women's Organizations, Men's Patriotic and Fraternal Societies. All of the citizens who desire to enter the procession will be free to do so.

ARMISTICE DAY
It was just seven years ago next Wednesday that the Armistice was signed by the great powers involved which brought to a close the greatest war of all times, the so-called Great War of 1914-18.

In the majority of countries which took part in the conflict, the day is kept sacred in order to keep in mind the actual signing of a treaty which ended four years of bloodshed and horror and to honor those who laid down their lives that freedom and democracy might not perish.

Today, young women and girls occupied prominent corners of the different streets, and visited offices and stores, selling wreaths and poppies, a custom which began on the first anniversary of the Armistice. This year the proceeds will go to (Continued on Page 14)

A HOLY WAR AGAINST FRENCH IN SYRIA THREATENED; REBEL MOVE DAILY INCREASING IN STRENGTH

Arabs Are Reported to Have Joined Druse Tribesmen and Are Prepared to Fight to Death in a Crusade Against Mandatory Power—French Have Evacuated Large Fortified Camp of Mousseifri—To North of Damascus a Large Part of Country Is Reported to Be Under Control of Rebels—Provisional Governments Are Being Established by Insurgents in Various Sections of Country Where They Are in Control.

(Associated Press Despatch)
PARIS, Nov. 7.—A Holy War against the French in Syria threatens. The Arabs are reported to have joined the Djebel Druse tribesmen and are prepared to fight to death in a crusade against the mandatory power. Unofficial advices relate that the rebel movement is increasing in strength, and that provisional governments are being established by the insurgents in various sections of the country where they are in control. At Damascus it is said a provisional government has been set up.

The French have evacuated the large fortified camp of Mousseifri, in the Djebel Druse territory south of Suéida. The Heifa-Damascus railway has been cut and the town of Derat, seven miles south of Damascus, is in the hands of Druses.

To the north of Damascus a large part of the country is reported to be under the control of the rebels. The Hama district is held by them. The city of Homs is besieged. The withdrawal of the French from Mousseifri, according to French official advices, took place without incident, and was due to a regrouping of the French forces.

Meanwhile Damascus is sorely beset. The Djebel Druses still surrounded the already battered city, with which communication is reported to have been completely severed by the cutting of the railway, telephone and telegraph lines. The Druses at intervals continued to fire into the city, and those of the populace who are able to do so are fleeing toward Jerusalem, Alexandria Bay and Aleppo. All street traffic has ceased and shops are closed.

HOURS FOR SALE OF LIQUOR ARE BIG PROBLEM

Greatest Concern of Any British Government Is How to Provide Alcoholic Drink and at Same Time Insure Against Its Undue Use.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Nov. 7.—Declaring that it was no longer possible to allow an individual freedom in Great Britain to obtain liquor at all hours of the day and night, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, the Home Secretary, last night told the ladies of the Carlton Club that one of the greatest concerns of any British government was how to provide alcoholic drink and at the same time insure against its undue use. The Home Secretary, who is the centre of a fight for extension of the nine hour day for the sale of alcoholic beverages at social clubs, yesterday was visited by a delegation of members who declared that the Baldwin Government was likely to lose the support of clubland unless the demand was met. To-day a delegation representing fifty temperance organizations appeared at the Home Office and protested against any alteration in the selling hour. They quoted the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London as approving their stand.

The Home Secretary has indicated that the whole question is likely to be the subject of a complete inquiry before the cabinet attempts any action.

HER NERVES BETTER NOW

Received Much Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I started to get weak after my second child was born, and kept on getting worse until I could not do my own housework, and was so bad with my nerves that I was afraid to stay alone at any time. I had a girl working for me a whole year before I was able to do my washing again. Through a friend I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took four bottles of it. I gave birth to a baby boy the 4th day of September, 1922. I am still doing my own work and washing. Of course, I don't feel well every day because I don't get my rest as the baby is so cross. But when I get my rest I feel fine. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and am going to keep on with it until cured. My nerves are a lot better since taking it. I can stay alone day or night and not be the least frightened. You can use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. CHAS. CARSON, 27 Forsythe St., Chatham, Ont.

Mrs. Carson is willing to write to anyone suffering from female trouble.

After a continuous treatment for about six months, I am now in first-class condition. This I attribute to my persistent use of 'Fruit-a-tives.'"

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action, it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Pale, Tired Mothers Should Beware of Chronic Fatigue

Many a discouraged mother thinks that her thin, pale, tired-out condition is due to exhausting housework and care of children—when as a matter of fact the real cause of all her distressing ailments is chronic fatigue.

Don't confuse chronic fatigue with the ordinary fatigue you feel after a good long walk. Chronic fatigue comes from within. Your organs and muscles have become debilitated due to lack of sufficient organic iron in your blood.

To conquer chronic fatigue you must strengthen your system by restoring this organic iron to your blood. But that her thin, pale, tired-out condition don't take the older mineral iron medicines which many doctors now say do little good. Take organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your blood and like that in spinach and lentils. Unlike ordinary mineral iron it will not injure the teeth or disturb the stomach, but is promptly assimilated.

Take Nuxated Iron for just two weeks and you'll be astonished how much stronger and better you feel. Money back if not improved. All good druggists.

"But you cannot have confidence in anything so long as your nerves are weak and you spend the nights worrying instead of getting good, refreshing sleep."

"Take my advice, boy, and go straight to the drug store and get half a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Then make up your mind that while you are using this you will get out into the fresh air all you can and forget to worry."

"Now, you may feel pessimistic after all the treatments you have been taking, but I know what I am talking about."

"My nerves were in a worse condition than yours ever were. I could scarcely get a wink of sleep, and did not care whether I got anything to eat or not."

"Besides, I got so irritable and down-hearted that nothing seemed to go right."

TAKE THE WORD OF YOUR NEIGHBORS

People Living in Every Part of Canada Highly Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a System-Building Tonic

You cannot afford to experiment with your health and before trying any remedy you are justified in demanding proof of what it has accomplished in cases similar to your own. Many people are in need of a tonic at this time of the year to build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. But it must be a safe tonic. It must give strength, not merely afford temporary relief. It must build up the system, and enable the various organs to act as nature intended, so that when the treatment is finished it will not be necessary to take medicine of any kind so long as the ordinary laws of health are followed.

For many years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a household remedy not only in America but throughout the civilized world. The world-wide use of this great Canadian remedy can be accounted for by the merit these wonderful blood-making pills possess. Thousands of statements from grateful patients have been published. All of the people who made these statements were somebody's neighbors, perhaps your own, and what they said about this great remedy could easily be verified, and you can safely take their word for the benefit they have found through the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

For Rheumatic Sufferers.

Sufferers from rheumatism who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using other remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The tonic treatment with this medicine has proved in thousands of cases that it builds up the blood to a point that enables it to cast out the rheumatic poisons through the regular channels, the bowels, kidneys and the skin. When this is done rheumatism is banished, and as long as the blood is kept pure and rich the patient will be immune from attack. This is fully proved by the case of E. E. Davis, J.P. of Dunsmuir, Sask., who says: "I feel it my duty to sufferers from rheumatism to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Some years ago I was a great sufferer from this trouble and was confined to my room. I tried two doctors without relief and had become despondent. Then I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills recommended for this trouble and got six boxes. Before they were all gone I was able to get around on crutches, and when I was on the eleventh box I started to work. I have not missed a day's work since on account of rheumatism. On two occasions since I have had light touches of the trouble, but a box of the pills soon put me right. I strongly recommend rheumatic sufferers to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Nearing a Breakdown.

Many women give so much of their time to the cares of their household that they neglect their own health and sometimes reach the verge of a breakdown before they realize that their health is shattered. Often the heart palpitates violently at slight exertion, the stomach fails to digest food and discomfort follows. The nerves become weak and headaches grow more frequent. The body grows weak and they are always depressed. This condition requires immediate treatment with such a reliable tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which enrich and build up the blood, carrying renewed energy to every part of the body. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a rundown condition is proved by Mrs. Alex. McInnes, Bowman River, Man., who says: "About a year ago I had a serious illness which left me very anemic. I was not able to get around to do my work; in fact I could scarcely walk. I was troubled with palpitation of the heart with the least exertion. One day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they had done her much good. I followed this advice and took the pills for some weeks when I felt as well as ever. I have since been able to attend to all my household duties. The dizziness and palpitation have left me and I bless the day I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are just the medicine for those who are weak and run-down."

Blemishes of the Skin.

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order are the pimples and unsightly eruptions that break out on the face or body. The same condition is indicated by an attack of eczema or scrofula. You cannot get rid of these troubles by the use of purgative medicines, as so many people try to do. Purgatives merely gallop through the system and leave it still weaker. What is needed when the blood is out of order is a tonic which will restore its missing elements and leave the blood rich and red. For this purpose there is no other tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, every dose of which helps to enrich the blood, drives out impurities, and brings a new feeling of health and energy. Mrs. R. E. Bishop, Hawthorne Ave., Hamilton, Ont., tells for the benefit of others what these pills did for her. She says: "I was suffering terribly from scrofula. I doctored with several doctors but without success. My complexion was sallow, I had no strength, feeling very weak and languid. My neck was full of lumps, called scrofula, and at times they were very painful. After trying several so-called blood medicines, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me and I got half a dozen boxes. After taking them I found a decided improvement in my appearance, and to my joy the lumps were disappearing from my neck. I persevered in the treatment, and finally the only sign left of the trouble was a scar on my neck where one of the swellings broke. Since that time I have been in robust health and heartily recommend Dr.

Williams' Pink Pills to any suffering from impure blood."

Strength for Weak Girls.

There comes a time in the life of almost every girl when weakness attacks her. The strain upon her blood supply is too great, and there comes headaches and backaches, loss of appetite attacks of dizziness, heart palpitation, a constant weariness and a tendency to a decline. All these symptoms may not be present in any particular case, but the presence of any one of them shows the necessity for prompt treatment. And the very best treatment is through the blood-making tonic qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are the one thing needed to maintain the health of growing girls and women of mature years.

Here is a bit of strong proof:—Miss Matilda Brean, King Highway, Newcastle, N.B., says: "I was in an extremely run-down and nervous condition. I was losing flesh, had a poor appetite, always pale, and suffered frequently from headaches. In fact my condition can best be described as miserable. I had tried several treatments but they did not help me in the least. Then reading one day about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I decided to try them. After using three boxes I was much improved, but continued until I had taken six boxes, with the result that I am now well and strong, with good color and a hearty appetite. In view of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me I cannot recommend them too highly."

Was Very Pale and Weak.

A condition of anaemia calls for a tonic, one that will enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves, and for this purpose nothing can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills give the blood those missing elements necessary to give strength to the nerves, color to the cheeks, and nourishment to starved organs and tissues. Miss Margaret J. Fraser, R.R. 2, Thessalon, Ont., has proved the value of this treatment. She says: "I was very pale and weak. My blood was poor and I was very nervous. I lost my appetite, my feet and ankles were swollen and I was in very miserable condition. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got two boxes, and found before they were finished that they were helping me. I continued the pills until I had taken a half dozen boxes, with the result that I am now enjoying the best of health, all symptoms having disappeared. I feel confident that what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me they will do for others, if given a fair trial."

A very useful book, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free on request by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Thanksgiving Day

Under the provisions of an act of Parliament, the Monday of the week on which November 11th occurs is observed as Thanksgiving Day, combining the harvest thanksgiving with the celebration of the Armistice, which marked the close of the great war.

Tomorrow from nearly every pulpit in the land references will be made to the blessing of peace and of the bountiful harvest.

In many cities and towns special patriotic programmes will be carried out in honor of the occasion, the depositing of wreaths at the Soldiers' Monument or before a cenotaph erected for the occasion and followed by patriotic speeches.

In Sherbrooke the programme in this connection which has been under discussion at several meetings, does not seem to have materialized, which is unfortunate.

At Lennoxville and several other places in the townships the day will be marked by special observances.

To many the combination of Thanksgiving and Armistice Days seems a mistake, inasmuch as it confuses the occasion and the Monday set apart does not frequently fall on November 11th, the date on which the Armistice was signed.

The annual event, however, is one for thanksgiving and rejoicing and worthy of carefully planned observance on the part of every Canadian community.

In the awarding of the scholarship the standing of the student in the matriculation examination is considered, and the continuation of the scholarship is dependent upon the satisfactory standing of the student.

FELL ON BROKEN MILK BOTTLE

Mr. Delphis Dupuis, of Magog, forty-eight years of age, is in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital here following an unfortunate accident which befell him yesterday morning, when, on returning to his wagon after having delivered some milk at a nearby house, he slipped and fell. In falling, he landed with his arm on the empty bottle which he was carrying, and which had been broken when it fell out of his hand.

It is understood that Mr. Dupuis suffered severe cuts to his right arm, and his injuries necessitated his immediate removal to a hospital. Brien's ambulance was sent for, and the injured man was conveyed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital yesterday afternoon, following first aid treatment by Dr. Cabana, of Magog.

Reports from the hospital this morning stated that Mr. Dupuis had suffered considerably from loss of blood, but it is thought that his arm could be saved.

INTERESTING TALK WAS GIVEN BY FATHER CLORAN

Rector of St. Peter's Church at St. John, N.B., Addressed the Catholic Women's League on Duties to God and Country.

A treat was afforded to those who were so fortunate as to be present at the conference given by Rev. Father Cloran, C.S.S.A., rector of St. Peter's Church, St. John, N.B., to the members and friends of the Catholic Women's League of Sherbrooke in Mont Notre Dame Convent Hall, which had been so graciously placed at their disposal by the Rev. Sisters of Mont Notre Dame.

The speaker was introduced in a few well chosen words by the president, Mrs. H. Veilleux. Father Cloran's reputation as a gifted speaker preceded him. In an inspiring and instructive address, choosing as his subject the motto of the Catholic Women's League, "For God and Country," he proceeded to show the duties every Catholic woman owes first to God, which find expression in a keen appreciation of her faith, implying a thorough knowledge of her religion and the responsibility of living a life consistent with both.

Next to one's duty to God the speaker laid emphasis on the duty to one's country, and in this particular instance to our own wonderful country—Canada—which, however, could not be appreciated as it deserves without a thorough knowledge of its vastness, its beauties, its advantages and its possibilities. Father Cloran insisted that everyone should make it a duty to improve their knowledge, geographically, from coast to coast, without reference to provincial boundaries, and historically in its entirety, that is to say, from the very beginning, and again without reference to provincial differences of opinion.

Great stress was laid on patriotism and a practical loyalty, which is possible by being faithful to Canadian institutions, to Canadian enterprises, industries and trades by patronizing them and buying Canadian-made goods in preference to all others.

A short musical programme preceded the address, consisting of an overture on a four pianos by the pupils of Mont Notre Dame; a vocal duet by Misses Kathleen Leonard and Beatrice Lawrence; violin solo, Miss Kathleen Leonard, which added much to the delight of the event.

Mrs. L. E. Codere, who kindly took charge of the programme, also acted as accompanist.

In a concise but able manner, Mrs. E. P. McCabe moved a vote of thanks, first to the speaker, to the Rev. Sisters of Mont Notre Dame, to Mrs. L. E. Codere and to those who so kindly contributed towards the programme. This was seconded by Miss Bedard, president of the Richmond branch of the League.

An informal reception was held, when those present had the privilege of meeting Father Cloran.

WEEKLY HOUSE PLAN

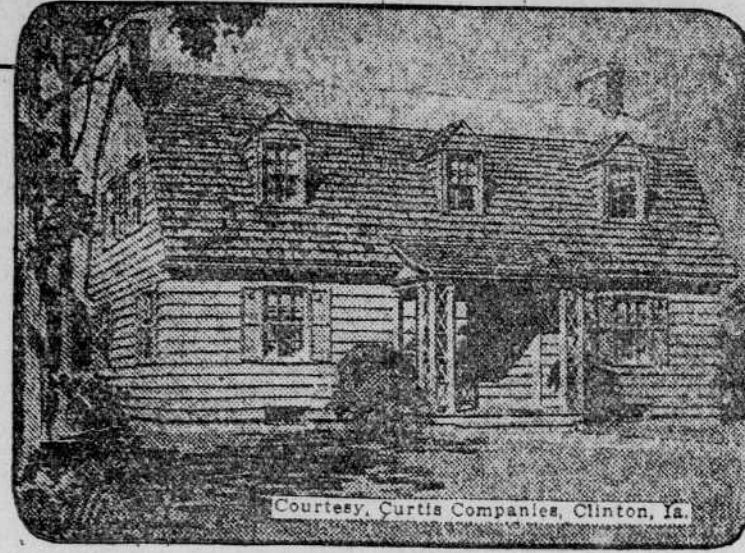

KITCHEN ARRANGEMENT OF THIS DUTCH COLONIAL TYPE OF HOUSE SHOULD PROVE DELIGHT TO HOUSEKEEPER

Dutch Colonial does not necessarily mean gambrel-roofed, but we usually think of it that way. Today's design is a five-room gambrel-roofed cottage that has much to commend it. Every detail of the exterior is correct as to architecture and pleasing in appearance. The dormers are especially worthy of note. Between them, under the sloping roof, are no less than six closets to delight the housekeeper.

The front porch is half-recessed into the building. Its grouped and latticed posts are very pleasing. An entrance with sidelights admits into a small stair hall, which is directly accessible from the rear. Notice the inconspicuous position of the coat closet on the stair landing. Traditions are followed out in the mahogany interior trim, which is standard material in Colonial design.

At the right is the long living room, well lighted from three directions. It has the indispensable fireplace and good wall space for large pieces of furniture. On the other side of the hall are dining room and kitchen. Every housekeeper will fall in love with the arrangement of sink and dressers in the kitchen, as well as with the roomy rear entry and its convenient location for the refrigerator.

Besides the six closets mentioned above, the two bedrooms upstairs each admit to large storage places under the roof at the rear. One of the closets may serve for linen, and other might be cedar-lined to store winter clothing or bedding.

A dormer at the rear affords space and light for the bathroom. The Dutch Colonial type well demonstrates its popularity, as is well demonstrated by this attractive and homelike little house. It costs approximately $7,325.

CONSTRUCTION IN OCTOBER INCREASED

Total Awards at $29,647,500 as Compared With $21,066,800 in October, 1924.

Total awards for Canadian construction for the month of October, as compiled by MacLean Building Reports, Limited, were $29,647,500 as compared with $21,066,800 in September. The total for October 1924 was $21,066,800. This year's figure is an increase of 40.8 per cent over the corresponding period of last year. Residential building accounted for 29.8 per cent of the October building, amounting to $8,829,700. Business building amounted to $5,314,900 or 18 per cent; industrial building $7,535,900 or 25.4 per cent and Public Works and Utilities $7,977,100 or 26.8 per cent.

The activity was distributed among the provinces as follows: — Ontario, 26.7 per cent; Quebec, 57.1 per cent; Prairie Provinces 5.8 per cent; British Columbia 8.5 per cent and Maritime Provinces 1.9 per cent. Contemplated new work in October aggregated $22,163,500.

Total construction started from January 1st to October 31st, has amounted to $238,324,900 compared with $222,779,100 during the corresponding period of last year, an increase of 7 per cent.

The above figures speak for themselves. They need no comment, especially when it is remembered that up to the end of July the total value of contracts awarded were several millions less than for the corresponding period of last year. In other words during the past three months the volume of work started has been increasing steadily instead of falling off as is usual at this season of the year. It is particularly gratifying to note the increase in industrial work. For the year this amounted to twenty-six millions of dollars while for the corresponding period of last year the total was less than thirteen million. Residential building also shows a total increase of sixteen millions of dollars for the year to date.

Quebec province shows the greatest proportion of increase in general construction, the Maritime Provinces are holding their own while the Western Provinces show an increase of approximately 8 per cent.

REDDY'S DIFFICULTY

(By Thornton W. Burgess)

Who puts his wit to constant use
For risking life has poor excuse.
—Danny Meadow Mouse.

Slowly up the Long Lane in the moonlight ambled Jimmy Skunk. He wasn't in the road, but in the grass and bushes beside the road. You see, fat beetles were to be found in these sometimes, and Jimmy is always looking for fat beetles. Behind him, but unknown to Jimmy, were Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse. Nanny was a little doubtful about it. It seemed to her as if they were running a great risk. She knew that Jimmy Skunk enjoys a dinner of Mice once in a while. But Danny insisted that they were safe. He said they were much safer than they would have been had Jimmy not been there. You see, Danny was taking great care that they didn't get near enough for Jimmy to know that they were following him.

Presently Jimmy Skunk met some one. Who do you think it was? It was a gentleman in red. It was a very smart little gentleman dressed almost wholly in red. It was Reddy Fox. Reddy stopped as soon as he saw Jimmy Skunk. "Good evening, Jimmy Skunk," said he, and said it most politely.

Jimmy looked up a trifle surprised. "Evening," he grunted, and stopped to pull over a stone in the hope of finding a fat beetle beneath it.

"I hope you are finding good hunting," said Reddy in his politest manner.

"There's plenty of hunting, but mighty little finding," grunted Jimmy, and began to gruble along straight toward Reddy.

Reddy most politely stepped aside and went around Jimmy Skunk. He took the greatest care to keep a respectful distance between himself and Jimmy. Jimmy continued on, and Reddy, as is his way, sniffed at Jimmy's tracks. Instantly he picked up his black ears. Then he took a long sniff. "Meadow Mice! And they have passed along since Jimmy did. They must be right behind him."

Very stealthily Reddy began to creep along with his nose to the ground and his eyes fixed straight ahead. The Meadow Mouse smell was very strong. In a moment he saw the grass move a little way ahead. It was only a very short distance behind Jimmy. Just then Jimmy looked around. He saw Reddy at once. Jimmy was provoked. Yes, sir, Jimmy was provoked. He didn't like the way he was being followed by Reddy Fox. He stamped his feet angrily. Reddy retreated rather hastily. All the time Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse were squatting perfectly still under some grass. They knew Reddy was following them. Nanny was frightened, but Danny thought it was a joke. You see, Danny felt absolutely safe. He knew he had nothing to worry about as long as Jimmy didn't see him. And it turned out just that way. Reddy didn't dare get near enough to catch Danny and Nanny because that would bring him within reach of that little scent gun Jimmy always carries with him. At the same time, Reddy didn't want to explain to Jimmy why he was following because he knew that Jimmy would try to catch Danny and Nanny, and of course this wouldn't suit Reddy at all.

Now you see Reddy's difficulty. There were those fat Meadow Mice and he didn't dare catch them. And at the same time he couldn't ask Jimmy Skunk to help him. So Reddy kept following along, hoping that Danny and Nanny would drop so far behind Jimmy that there would be no danger in catching them. But Danny was too smart for anything like this, and Nanny kept right close to Danny. So they moved along up the Long Lane in the moonlight toward Farmer Brown's barnyard, and all the time Reddy Fox was getting hungrier and angrier, and there wasn't a thing he could do about it. Right into Farmer Brown's barnyard walked Jimmy Skunk. With Nanny at his heels Danny dashed across the open yard and under a haystack. They were safe. So this is the way that Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse finally arrived at Farmer Brown's barnyard.

LETTERS FROM THE CORNER FOLK

Dear Uncle Jim:

This is my first letter to your corner. Mamma used to read your letter to me, but I can read them pretty well now. I go to school every day though we have three and a half miles to go. Our teacher is Miss B. Hodge, from Sherbrooke. We were out on Halloween night and played some tricks but did no harm. Our river was frozen across on Thursday, October 29th. Best wishes to the corner.

CLARENCE COPPING,
Valcourt, Que.

Dear Uncle Jim:

I have not written to you for a long time, so I thought I would write you a letter now. I was twelve years old on the 23rd of October, and I had a party. I am going to Charny school and am in grade seven. My teacher's name is Miss McNeil.

I have two uncles and an aunt who live in Sherbrooke. My sister and I went to Sherbrooke for our summer holidays. We also went to the exhibition.

Your loving niece,
MURIEL MOUNTAIN,
Charny.

Dear Uncle Jim:

It is a long time since I wrote to your corner. I am in grade three. I like going to school and I like my teacher very much. Her name is Miss Wilson. For pets I have two cats. We have thirteen cows and four horses.

Your loving niece,
EVELYN LOWD,
Bulwer.

UNCLE JIM'S LETTER

Dear Corner Children:

The last few days have been quite lovely, haven't they? I hope you have been out doors as much as possible and enjoyed the sunshine. Those of you who have to walk quite a way to school must have found it much easier this last week.

I received some lovely letters from the corner cousins this week. Clarence tells us that he went out on Halloween. What a good time he must have had "spooking." Your party must have been lovely, Muriel. How does it seem to be twelve years old? I'd love to see Evelyn's cats, wouldn't you? Perhaps she'll write us some more about them sometime.

Probably none of you remember the first Armistice day we had. It was a very important day in the lives of a great many people, for it meant that the war was over, and that the soldiers would soon be coming home. We celebrate Armistice day every year on the Monday nearest to November 11th. Perhaps you will have some special event in your town on Monday. In Sherbrooke they usually have a cenotaph upon which people place flowers or wreaths in memory of the soldiers. This is a very good thing for it enables the people to show their gratitude for what was done for them by the men who fought in the war. But we shouldn't forget that we are also celebrating Thanksgiving Day next Monday, and that we should remember to be thankful for all we have. If you think of all the things you have for which to be thankful you will be surprised to find how large a list you will get.

I hope you all have a lovely holiday and I wish you would write me about it.

Love from,
UNCLE JIM.

HOW FIRE IS OBTAINED

"Mother," said Alice, "how is fire held in the matches?"
Mrs. Brill laughed. "The fire is not held in the matches," she answered. "Matches are made of such substances that will burst into flame when the friction caused by rubbing the match against a rough surface causes a sufficient amount of heat. In the olden times matches were made of pieces of hemp dipped at one end into sulphur. These were lighted by applying the sulphur tip to a glowing coal or some other already burning material that had been previously kindled by flint and steel. The first fires were lighted by producing a spark from the friction of two pieces of wood. This tedious method was replaced by striking flint and steel against each other. Sulphur matches followed soon after and when the method of producing fire by these means was found to be too irksome some progressive and inventive soul produced the phosphorous match. Two hundred years ago there lived in Hamburg a man named Brandt. This man in attempting to transform the lower metals into gold came upon an elementary substance until then unknown. This was phosphorous—a self-igniting, glowing substance which makes our matches of today so effective. Look at these matches, Alice. See, the inflammable end is covered first with sulphur and then over this with phosphorous. On this match the phosphorous is painted red, but other matches are painted with a blue or brown powder, according to the whim of the manufacturer. The phosphorous is yellowish and translucent like wax. Its name means light bearer. Look, rub it between your fingers gently in this dark corner. Your fingers seem to be covered with a pale light. And do you notice a peculiar odor? That is phosphorous. Be careful, don't rub it too hard or it will quickly burst into flame. You will be surprised when I tell you that though phosphorous is a deadly poison animal and plant life could not exist without it. It is found in milk and in meat. Many cereals contain it and it enters into the composition of flour and bread. But when it occurs thus in combination with other substances it becomes a useful rather than a poisonous thing. It is when we find phosphorous alone in the condition in which it is used on matches that we need to fear it.

Mr. Pare Saved His Deposit by Narrow Margin—Small Vote Was Polled.

The statements of the various polling divisions in Richmond-Wolfe were examined, this week, before Returning Officer Guilmette, at Danville.

Mr. Tobin was represented by Mr. H. A. Hudson and Mr. P. C. Duboyce, while Mr. J. H. Cote, of Asbestos, represented Mr. Pare.

Mr. Tobin's majority is given as 3,605, though two or three polls are not yet officially reported. The representatives of the candidates will meet the returning officer again next Wednesday in this connection.

Mr. Tobin received 7,292 votes to his opponent's 3,688. The latter, therefore, saved his deposit by a narrow margin, receiving slightly more than fifty per cent. of the vote.

Vote cast was little more than half the total on the list being 10,981 out of a total of over 19,000.

PRESUMABLY TO SELL PAR-ROTS

Adv. in exchange—"Wanted, clerk for a large bird store; one who is a ventriloquist preferred."

But where? You'll never guess it, Lou—

Not if you try a week!

No, Annabel, not shopping, we went shopping yesterday.

We can't spend money constantly, at least not in that way.

That's all you think of, I believe—To run and run and run.

From store to store with perfect leave.

To buy—you think that's fun. Ha, ha, you're 'way off, Betty dear.

Your guess is even worse.

You'll have to give it up, I fear—I've told you that my purse is empty quite. We cannot go.

However we desire—The movies are expensive, tho' we never seem to tire.

Now, Bessie, what have you to say? I half believe you know.

Just what we're going to do today, you keep on smiling so.

You're always very quiet, Bess, but think a lot, I'm sure.

Well, I'm surprised! You also guess.

It is a shopping tour?

No, nothing of the sort, my dears, you all are very wrong.

I hope you won't give way to tears or pout for very long.

It isn't shopping, movies, nor a chance for you to roam;

But still we're going, children—for we're going to stay at home.

She endured much sickness during life, and for the past year was confined to her bed, but was always cheerful and had a smile for everyone. She will be greatly missed by all.

She leaves to mourn her loss one sister, Mrs. C. Nodding, of Lennoxville, two brothers, Alvin Sherman, of Scottstown, and Ernest Sherman, of Lancaster, also Mrs. Alton, of Scottstown, sister-in-law, three daughters, Mrs. A. Griffen, Mrs. E. MR. B. FRANK KNIGHT, BEEBE

BEEBE, QUE., Nov. 7. — In the death of B. Frank Knight, which occurred on Friday, October 23rd, Stanstead loses one of its oldest citizens.

Born in the Townships, the deceased spent his entire life here as a farmer, and always took the deepest interest in town affairs. He was the youngest child of the late Captain Samuel and Mehitabel (Goss) Knight, who located at No. 6, the 13th range, in the days of the early migration to this section. Here Mr. Knight was born more than ninety-two years ago, and to his old home he first brought his bride, who was Charlotte Ruth, youngest daughter of the late Capt. John and Lydia (Gustin) Gilman. Her family also, was among the first settlers of Stanstead.

Soon after their marriage in the lifetime of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knight moved to the Gilman homestead and here they spent the years of their long and useful lives. The farm, made more attractive and valuable by the improvements put upon it, has long been known for the generous hospitality and good cheer dispensed there, and in consequence it has possessed a comfort and a charm that only old-time homesteads know.

Mr. Knight was a good farmer and took just pride in his crops and in his live stock. His treatment of cattle was more than humane. As a well known figure at local agricultural fairs, he often served as judge to assign the awards for competing farmers. He was always a kind and obliging neighbor, but it was in his home life that all the qualities of his mind and heart displayed themselves and worthily have his children returned all his affection and care.

Although Mr. Knight could claim only a common school education, he was well trained in the school of life, and by his general reading and knowledge of affairs, both local and national, he showed a grasp that far surpassed that of ordinary men. In his letters, which possessed an outward attractiveness, fine penmanship and correct orthography, he was at his best, for they displayed an originality and had a flavor often lacking in those of a more studied art.

Mr. Knight is survived by all his children, Mrs. Samuel C. Earle, Mrs. Eugene Blount, Mrs. Harry M. Haven and Miss Ruth G. Knight, the last of whom as the home-maker for the past few years, having cared for her father in his declining age and during his last illness, which, fortunately, was not long. The friends of his youth and of his active years had nearly all preceded him in the onward march.

The funeral was held at the late home on Monday, October 26th and was well attended, Rev. Mr. Conklin officiating.

Interment was in the Gilman family lot, located about half way between the farm and Griffin Church.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor Sherbrooke Record:
Sir—Your correspondent of Thursday, November 5th, signing "Manufacturer" is evidently peeved over the result of the recent elections and particularly, I presume, over the result in Sherbrooke.

My opinion is that "Manufacturer's" idea of being engaged in industry is to carry on a manufacturing business with a plant capitalized at two or three times its cash value. He can sit back comfortably and pocket the revenue, even if it does send the cost of living so high and, with his own wage list cut so low, the Canadian working people have to seek a living in the United States. If "Manufacturer" will come out in the open and show a little more of his intelligence in a less sensitive manner I will be pleased to take the "negative" on the high tariff issue.

JOHN P. CLEARY,
Warden, Que.

To the Editor Sherbrooke Record:
Dear Sir—I have read the letter signed "Manufacturer" in your issue of 5th instant with a great deal of surprise and also of curiosity. Surprise, that any manufacturer with intelligence of a degree sufficiently acute to be so easily insulted, would refer to the election of the candidate of a party which has so satisfactorily protected industries, whose demands are reasonable, in the terms used in this letter, particularly when the member-elect is also interested in the industries of the city and vicinity.

Curiosity not only as to the writer's identity, but also as to why, with all the writer's superior intelligence, so susceptible to insult, he would consider a change in the individual representation of this county, to a gentleman of such honor and distinction and possessed of the same desire to render justice to our industrial and other interests a further insult. Does he know the measure of protection given our local industries by the very honorable gentleman's government, and that any of the slight changes that have been made have caused no appreciable injury to our industries.

Possibly he does, and that this letter is only the result of a little hangover from the recent contest. At all events, I am inclined to size up this expression of his thoughts in this way.

Yours sincerely,
A MERCHANT.
Sherbrooke, Nov. 6th, 1925.

ARMISTICE DAY

To the Editor Sherbrooke Record:
Sir—There are few people resident in Sherbrooke who are not fully aware that Wednesday next, 11th November, is the anniversary of Armistice Day, and at 11 o'clock on that day, the great majority of British citizens pay a silent token of respect to those sons and daughters of the British Empire and their allies who "died that we might live."

In spite of this knowledge the city of Sherbrooke as a whole failed to pay this tribute to the glorious dead on Armistice Day, 1924. Looking from my window there was little cessation of bustle on Wellington street. It is true that the Street Railway Co., stopped their cars and that day, the great majority of automobiles and other vehicles and the pedestrians on the street during the two minute period immediately following the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

I do not for a moment believe that this seeming lack of respect was caused by "want of heart" but rather "lack of thought." In the myriad small details of business the psychological moment was overlooked, doubtless much to the mental distress of the individual concerned.

In order to avoid such an unfortunate happening this year, will it be possible for all factory whistles to blow and church bells to ring for say fifteen minutes preceding the moment of eleven, thus warning the public of Sherbrooke that the whole British Empire is joining with them in that impressive silence of remembrance.

The bells might sound again at eleven o'clock when all might resume their activity, certainly none the worse for the display of gratitude.

This suggestion is offered to I.O. D.E., Rotary or any person or organization with energy and interest to act on it.

Yours truly,
Lt.-Col. Sydney E. Francis, V.D.

HAVE BEEN MAROONED ON ISLAND FOR A YEAR

(Associated Press Despatch)
HONOLULU, Nov. 7.—Passengers on the liner Aorangi which arrived here yesterday from Australia sent a cable to Governor Eyre Hutson of Fiji, urging that relief be sent to a white man and twenty-five natives who face starvation on Hull island, two days journey from Fiji. The men have been marooned on the island for a year, the owners having gone into bankruptcy.

The Ocrangi landed emergency supplies on the island for the marooned men.

How Often Do You Buy a War Tax?

EACH time you buy a motor car you pay for five things in which you never can take a ride:

These are: war tax—freight charge—factory's profit—dealer's profit—salesman's commission.

Once every five years or more is often enough to afford yourself the luxury of such purchases.

Those who buy the Packard Six expect, on the average, to keep their cars more than five years, spending the minimum in war tax and other outside charges.

Packard encourages its owners in keeping their cars, through retaining the beauty of Packard lines and in announcing no yearly models. It is now more than ten years since Packard offered yearly models.

The most recent evidence of Packard's interest in its owners is the chassis lubricator and motor oil rectifier—which together double the life of the car.

The price of the Packard Six 5-passenger Sedan, including spare tire, delivered in Sherbrooke, is $4,250.00.

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

The Vital Flame

A Stirring Serial of Primitive Passions by May Christie

On her way home, passing a little copse, she dismounted to pluck some early violets, tying the horse's reins securely to the branch of a tree.

Her hands were full of the fragrant flowers when, looking up suddenly from the moss-grown tree-roots, she spied someone walking across the meadows, heading directly for the little wood. It was Miles Holden. She must run away—she must not, would not meet him!

But she was on her before she could make up her mind for flight. His startled air was scarcely flattering, when he saw her.

"Out so early... I had no idea... ah!... you have been riding...," he said disjunctedly, looking on the flushed loveliness before him, apparently taking no pleasure in it.

"I'm going back to the house. It must be nearly breakfast time," stammered Marcella, letting the violets slip through her fingers.

He stooped to pick them up, gathering them carefully into a bunch, and taking his time about it. The unexpected meeting had upset him.

Then he handed her the flowers. She thanked him, turning to go. "May I walk back with you?" The young man spoke diffidently.

Marcella's chin went up. It was a proud, even obstinate young chin. "Don't let me interrupt your stroll, out of mere politeness. It's only a mile to the house. I can ride the distance in a few minutes."

He gave a queer smile.

"You think your company is so distasteful to me?" She nodded.

"After the other night, can there be any other alternative?"

He hesitated. Then he said, rather gently:

"When a creature is hurt, it has a sort of instinct to reach out and hurt back again. I succumbed to that primal instinct, I was a beast."

She stared at him.

"You? Hurt? How?"

The man gave a short, harsh laugh.

"It's rather obvious, isn't it? Why beat about the bush?"

"You mean about my—my engagement?"

(Was he trying to excuse his past silence? Was he seeking to vindicate himself a second time, by putting her definitely in the wrong?)

He came close up to her, and with a sort of wondering wistfulness, regarded the fresh young face. Her eyes, wide open and misty, resembled the dew-drenched violets that she held.

"Can't you imagine that it would be a blow to any man to—care—tremendously—for a girl—and believe he had a chance with her—and then come back and discover she had given her promise to another?"

"A blow?" Marcella stared at the speaker, her brain in confusion, and every nerve a-tremble with the tension of the moment.

"How could it possibly be a blow when the man really didn't want the girl at all," she asked.

"But—but—I didn't know. You went away..." she stammered.

"Because business called me off so suddenly that I had to go."

"Business?" She put a hand up to her forehead, brushing back a wandering curl, as though it were a cobweb that prevented thought.

"I thought that just an excuse. Warwick told me—about your friend in Paris—you wanted to see her—"

"Her? I don't in the least understand. You must be more explicit."

In his eagerness, the young man's tones were sharp.

"Why, you know already. Didn't you come back together?"

"I came back by myself, and I don't in the least know to whom you are referring. Speak out, Marcella!"

She hesitated. She was very proud.

"Lady Warrington thinks you are engaged..."

A light broke on his face. And then he gave a sheepish grin, and colored just a little.

"Good heavens! You don't mean Leonie Day?"

The girl was silent.

"Leonie Good lord!" He drew a pace back, raising his brows incredulously.

"The last person in the world! How could anyone ever think of such an absurdity?"

Marcella bent her pretty head and started plucking the petals of a violet into little pieces.

"You believe such utter nonsense? Who could have put such an idea into your head? Did you say that it was Tremant?"

She nodded.

"Then he lied, for his own ends," said Miles stoutly. "I look upon Miss Day as a charming girl, a good pal, but never in any other light. I did happen to see her once or twice in Paris, but there was nothing odd in that. One may have friends?"

"Of course." (That demon imp of jealousy made her voice sound hard and cold, when she wanted to be all sweetness!) "Don't think I was criticizing your actions. You have a right to like anyone you choose."

She was pitifully conscious of the ungracious tone of the remark. It stung him, for he flung back, quickly:

"You ignored my letters. I begged you to write to me. Not a word arrived. And, though I'd told you I would ring you up at a certain hour, you couldn't even wait the necessary five minutes, but had to set off without even leaving a message—"

"You wrote me?"

"But of course I did, Marcella!" Miles declared. "What on earth do you take me for? Did you think I was lying to you when I told you all you'd grown to mean to me those few days on boardship—those wonderful few days that, sleeping or waking, are printed on my memory forever?"

She could not but believe his earnestness.

The letters never reached me. I waited—desperately—hoping so hard to hear from you. Her voice broke on a half sob, and her pretty eyes grew mistier.

"Marcella! Then it wasn't that you wouldn't answer? It wasn't that you'd forgotten?" He caught her two hands in his own, crushing the violets hard.

Her soft lips quivered, and her proud little head dropped.

"I couldn't forget! After the wire came—so curt and—and disappointing—I waited one week—two weeks—for a word—a sign—"

"Darling!" Totally forgetting for the moment that she had given her word to another man, and that he—Miles Holden—had no "right" to clasp her in his arms and hold her tight, he caught the girl to him, close, so close.... "My own! Marcella! I was an idiot not to have had your proper address with me.... the second time I was positive I'd got it right, but you do believe when I say I wrote twice—voluminous epistles?"

Her heart hammered in her throat so loudly that the beloved voice seemed faint and far-away. Then, very low, she stammered out:

"I do believe you, Miles. I must believe you! I—I've lain awake at nights, trying to persuade myself that something like that did happen."

"My girl! My darling! It—it's magnificent + to know that you weren't just playing with me, after all. I swore I'd never trust another woman. I tried to hate you, dear heart and I couldn't. I could only go on loving you, and suffering."

He tilted her head up so that he could look deep into her eyes. "Tell me, Marcella, that you do really love me. Tell me you love me no one else...."

—he gave a sudden start—"Jupiter I'd forgotten the Tremant chap. He believes you're going to marry him!"

The recoil frightened her. Not for a second time could she dare run the risk of losing him!

"It's only you—I—I care for—Miles! The other thing was—was forced on me—"

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY

Marcella Field—Beautiful daughter of a poverty-stricken professor gives a half-promise of marriage to Warwick Tremant—Hard-as-nails and wealthy financier, who plays on her desire to help her father out of his money troubles, and also employs the memory of an indiscreet ski-ing party in the Alps to influence her.

Miles Holden—Brilliant sculptor meets Marcella on the ship coming from America to England and they fall in love. Tremant, however, tells Marcella that Holden is really entangled with Leonie Day, whom Miles has established as a smart milliner.

Lady Warrington—A wealthy woman trying to forget that she has reached middle age. At a house party she gives, Warwick and Marcella are understood to be engaged.

Deirdre—A girl of the underworld whom Marcella befriends and whom Warwick, secretly recognizes as one he had known in the past.

Marcella is shocked when Miles arrives at the party with Miss Day.

Miles is bitter at what he supposes is Marcella's perfidy. He tells her he had made up his mind they should not meet again.

Miles gives her no chance to explain but works in a temporary studio.

Miles accidentally meets Marcella in the woods.

in the first instance?"

"That's what you think? Ah no, Marcella! Your own heart tells you that it isn't true. Be honest! Wouldn't it have been kinder, straighter, to have given the man who loved you the blow straight from the shoulder at the beginning, and not led him up, up, to the very gates of happiness, and then slammed them shut in his face?"

She trembled uncontrollably with the sudden dawn of hope. He wasn't playing.... he was in deadly earnest.... why, he did care, after all!

"But—but—I didn't know. You went away..." she stammered.

"Because business called me off so suddenly that I had to go."

"Business?" She put a hand up to her forehead, brushing back a wandering curl, as though it were a cobweb that prevented thought.

The Offering for Your Amusement This Week.

AT THE PREMIER THEATRE

"Graustark", with Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien, will be the feature attraction at the Premier Theatre for the first three days of next week, beginning on Monday.

Miss Talmadge takes the part of a beautiful princess of a romantic kingdom in the south of Europe, while Mr. O'Brien appears as a modern young man, romantic and chivalrous, who strays by chance into the kingdom, sees the beautiful princess and falls in love with her. In the story there is also a king who tries to be stern in spite of his modern ideas.

In this picture "Graustark" has been transformed into a modern kingdom—just modern enough to have new ideas, yet old-fashioned enough not to have surrendered the dreamy halo of romance to the blatant clamor of jazz bands.

Mystery and the warm spirit of adventure still stalk the cobbled streets of the little kingdom, yet in modern guise. Maidenly eyes are still shy, and fresh cheeks free from cosmetics. There are no cabarets, no suburbs and no careening taxicabs. Yet for all that there is the modern spirit of emancipation from convention which follows the war.

Eugene O'Brien returns by popular demand to have the leading role opposite Miss Talmadge. He plays Grenfell Lorry, the romantic young man of the story. Frank Currier is the king, and others in the cast include Marc McDermott, Roy D'Arcy, Albert Gran, Lillian Lawrence, Michael Vavitch, Winter Hall and Wanda Hawley.

A special vaudeville act consisting of comedy singing will also be given with this programme.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, Colleen Moore will appear in one of her latest pictures, "The Desert Lover." The vaudeville for the last three days of the week will be "The Three Darlings," a miniature revue of singing and dancing.

AT THE CASINO THEATRE

"Daring Love" with Elaine Hammerstein in the leading role, supported by Huntley Gordon, Walter Long, Johnny Arthur, Gertrude Asto, Cissy Fitzgerald and Morgan Wallace, is coming to the Casino theatre for the first three days of next week.

The theme revolves about three bits of "human driftwood" into the lives of each of whom come the all-pervading influence of a good love. Chief among these characters is that of Bobo, played by Miss Hammerstein. Bobo is an entertainer in a cheap cafe and is continuously under the shadow of the advances made on her by "Red"

PRICES AND DETAILS OF SHERBROOKE MARKET

The advance in the price of potatoes was one of the outstanding points at Lansdowne Market this week. Last week potatoes were selling for a dollar and twenty cents per bushel as the top price. However, during the course of the week a steady increase was reported until they reached the high figure of two dollars per bushel, at which price they were selling today. The high price, however had its effect upon trading, and while the supply of potatoes was not over heavy, the demand for them was light.

Many different opinions are expressed by local farmers on the market regarding the price of potatoes during next few weeks. Some farmers are of the opinion that the increase in price is not likely to remain, and that within a short time a more favorable figure will be realized, while others claim that a top figure price will remain for some time at least. The buyers generally at the market this week did not seem to treat the matter as being very serious, and many of them that intended buying rather large quantities of potatoes simply put the matter over for another week, and in the meantime intend following price activities in this connection.

Pork this week was down a couple of cents per pound, selling at fourteen cents instead of sixteen as last week. Pork took a slight increase of a couple of cents a pound a couple of weeks ago, but apparently this was only a temporary increase. There was an exceptionally large supply of chickens on sale this week, and owing to the fact that the demand was very light, regardless of the Thanksgiving holidays, this product was selling for a slightly lower figure than last week.

Sellers in the dairy market reported an increase in the price of dairy butter, last week this product was selling at from forty-eight to sixty cents per pound, while this week fifty to seventy cents was the average price, although in most cases the price was sixty and sixty-five.

DAIRY PRODUCE

BUTTER.—There was no improvement in the demand for butter from any source which would indicate that buyers generally had ample supplies on hand for the time being and were not disposed to operate at the present level of prices. The volume of business was small and the market was quiet, with Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized creamery quoted at 42 1/2c to 43c per lb., No. 1 creamery at 41 1/2c to 42c per lb., and No. 3 creamery at 40 1/2c to 41c per lb.

CHEESE.—The export trade in cheese is reported slow owing to the fact that the foreign demand is indifferent, and in consequence the market was quiet. The feeling was about steady, and prices were unchanged with current receipts of western No. 1 white and colored nominally quoted at 23 5/8c to 23 3/4c per lb., and eastern grades at 23 3/8c to 23 1/2c per lb.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

EGGS.—Egg production is now down to a very low point. At many centres of production there are not enough to supply local consumption. The price of extras is advancing steadily but the demand for fresh firsts and seconds is not so keen. The reason for this is that fresh firsts and seconds come into competition with storage eggs. Ontario country shippers are paying: Extras 46c to 48c, firsts 40c, seconds 30c and have made sales: Extras 50c to 52c, firsts 43c to 44c, seconds 33c to 35c f.o.b. cases returned. The storage egg situation might be termed about steady, sentiment being largely influenced by the course of the United States markets which are nervous and unsettled. A sale is reported of a car of storage seconds at 30c f.o.b. Winnipeg. This car went to Toronto. Some sales of storage firsts are reported at Toronto at 39c in lots of over 100 cases. One buyer stated that he was offered May storage firsts at 38 1/2c delivered, cases returned. The movement out of storage is said to be good and it only requires a firmer market in the United States to strengthen the situation here. Fresh receipts throughout the West are extremely light. A price rise is noted in Winnipeg but in other centres quotations are unchanged. A revival of threshing operations has followed the better weather in Saskatchewan, this tending to cut fresh arrivals still further. British Columbia conditions unchanged.

A feature of the local egg situation was the easier feeling that developed in the market for storage eggs and prices were reduced 1c to 2c per dozen. This was attributed to the liberal offerings and the somewhat disappointing demand for supplies at this season of the year. The volume of business in a jobbing way was only fair, the demand being chiefly for small lots to meet immediately wants, and sales of extras were made at 44c, firsts at 40c and seconds at 35c per dozen. The tone of the market for strictly fresh eggs was on the other hand strong owing to the increasing scarcity of supplies and prices advanced with sales of extras at 58c per dozen.

POULTRY.—Receipts of poultry continue to increase, but have not been burdensome, and the market has been about steady with the exception of thin, unfinished birds which are not suitable for storage purposes and have to be sold at low prices to interest buyers. Chickens are still a major portion of the receipts. There is a fair quantity of fowl coming. More ducks are being marketed and demand is improving. The turkeys that have come upon the market, so far, are not in very good condition. Dealers say hotels and restaurants prefer stock that was placed in storage last fall as it is more meaty. Live poultry shipped to Buffalo last week brought the following prices, delivered: Fowl, heavy 25c to 27c, medium 23c to 24c, light 18c to 20c; chickens, heavy 25c to 27c, medium 23c to 24c, light 18c to 20c, broilers 17c to 21c; ducks, white, 25c to 27c, colored 23c to 24c. Receipts are generally increasing throughout the west with quality for the most part good. Turkeys are late maturing this year and arrivals are very light.

HONEY.—There was no change in the condition of the market for honey, prices for all grades being steady with only a moderate amount of business passing, and sales of No. 1 white clover honey in comb were made at 25c per section, No. 2 grade at 22c per section, white extract honey in 30-lb. tins at 13c per lb., 10 lb. tins at 14c per lb., 5 lb. tins at 14 1/2c per lb. and 2 1/2 lb. tins at 15c per lb.

MAPLE PRODUCTS.—The trade in maple product continues dull and prices were unchanged with maple syrup in a jobbing way quoted at $2.25 per tin of 13 lbs. and bright grades of maple sugar at 18c per lb.

POTATOES.—The strength which has prevailed in the local potato situation of late was more pronounced than ever Wednesday and prices scored a further advance of 40c to 50c per bag. This was attributed to the increased demand from United States buyers for supplies, the marked falling off in receipts here and the fact that stocks on track have been pretty well cleaned up. There were no new Brunswick potatoes on the market owing to the fact that it is reported Cuba is taking all the offerings from that section and that cobbler in car lots were now quoted at $3 per bag of 90 lbs., f.o.b. shipping points. A fairly good trade was done on spot in Quebec varieties at $2.50 to $2.75 per bag of 90 lbs. in car lots ex-track.

HAY MARKET

HAY.—There was no change in the condition of the market for baled hay, prices for all grades being maintained with a fair volume of trade passing, and sales of car lots of good No. 2 timothy hay were made at $14 per ton, clover mixed hay at $12 per ton, and No. 3 timothy hay at $10 to $10.50 per ton, f.o.b. cars here.

GRAIN MARKET

GRAIN.—Owing to the weakness that developed in the future wheat situation Wednesday and the indifference cash demand from all sources for the cash article the Winnipeg market was weaker and prices closed at a decline of 2 7/8c to 3 5/8c per bushel, with No. 1 northern quoted at $1.35 3/8, No. 2 northern at $1.32 1/8, and No. 3 northern at $1.29 3/8 per bushel, ex-store, Fort William. The premium on No. 1 grade was unchanged at 1 1/4c per bushel over the November option,

SHERBROOKE LOAN AND MORTGAGE CO.

Reports Submitted at Annual Meeting Show Prosperous Year—Board of Directors Re-Elected.

The 51st annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Loan & Mortgage Company, was held on Monday afternoon with the following shareholders present: W. A. Hale, president; Neil Dinning, vice-president; H. E. Goodhue, director; Jas. Mackinnon, director; F. N. McCrea, director; J. Nicol, director; Chénier Picard, director; C. B. Howard, A. G. Campbell, Jas. Lowe, J. Leonard, D. Wilson, W. E. Paton, A. C. Skinner.

The Annual Report of the Directors and Report of the Auditor were submitted by the President, the report showing the past year's period, ended September 30th, 1925, to have been the most prosperous in the history of the company.

Attention was directed to the fact that, after paying the usual dividend of six per cent. on the paid-up capital of the company, which is at its authorized limit of $250,000, the amount of $15,000 had been added to Reserve, bringing the Reserve account up to $35,000, an increase of $45,000, in the past five years.

The Contingent Reserve, provided for the purpose of taking care of losses, if and when they occur, the amount carried forward to the credit of Profit and Loss as Undivided Profits, taken with the Reserve Account and the Paid-up Capital, bring the total of Capital and Reserves to $243,226.81.

This sum, exceeding one-third of a million dollars, stands as security for the depositor or debenture-holder as the company's pledge that his savings are safely invested when deposited with the company in either a deposit account, which pays him four per cent. interest, or in debentures, which pay up to five and one-half per cent. interest.

The mortgages held by the company amount to nearly a million dollars, all of which are periodically examined by the directors, while cash, bonds, collateral loans, etc., make up the total assets, not including trust accounts, to a total of $1,087,252.79.

The Trust Accounts, which are kept separate, as required by law, now total $1,036,247.66, making total assets of all kinds, $2,124,200.45.

Unanimous approval and adoption of the report was voted and the thanks of the shareholders tendered to the directors, officers and staff.

Mr. J. H. Bryce, auditor for the past year, was re-appointed and the former Board of Directors, Messrs. Dinning, Goodhue, Hale, Mackinnon, McCrea, Nicol and Picard, re-elected.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, Mr. W. A. Hale was re-elected president, and Mr. Neil Dinning was re-elected vice-president, Mr. Philip M. Robins and Mr. R. N. Robins being re-appointed secretary-treasurer and assistant secretary, respectively.

The business of the company has now grown to such an extent that for some time past it has been necessary to hold regular weekly meetings of the board in order to deal promptly with applications and other business and the number of persons calling at the company's office on business during any business day would surprise any one who is not a frequent caller.

Outside comment on the courtesy and patience of the staff in their reception of the public are highly complimentary and examples of such consideration are frequently seen in connection with recently-arrived fellow-subject from "the old country," who finds dollars and cents rather puzzling and has to have them translated into terms of pounds, shillings and pence.

while No. 2 grade was 1-2c per bushel lower at 2c under, and No. 3 was 1-4c higher at 3-4c under. The deliveries of grain on November contracts were 3,000 bushels barley, and 25,000 rye.

The export trade in all lines of grain in the Montreal market was again reported very slow, there being few firm bids received from foreign buyers overnight. On spot No. 1 northern wheat was offering at 12 1/2c per bushel over the Winnipeg November shipment, and an odd load of Canadian western No. 3 barley was sold at 9 1/2c per bushel over the Winnipeg option, c.i.f. here, while New York houses were offering the same grade of barley now here at the above price without meeting with buyers. The local market for Ontario and Quebec oats was easier at a decline of 1-2c per bushel. The demand was very limited with No. 2 white in car lots offering at 52c, No. 3 white at 50 1/2c and No. 4 white at 49c per bushel, ex-track, and sales of several cars of Ontario barley were made at 85 1/2c per bushel, ex-track.

The ocean grain freight market was quiet, the demand being only for odd loads, but the undertone was steady, and rates showed little change. All the room for November loading to Liverpool, London and Glasgow has been pretty well engaged, while to Manchester freight for heavy grain was offered at 3s 9d per quarter, to Avonmouth and Leith at 3s 6d, to Dublin and Belfast at 3s 3d, and to Cardiff at 3s. Engagements of wheat to Antwerp were made at 15 1/2c per 100 lbs. barley at 16 1/2c and oats at 17 1/2c to Havre wheat at 16c, barley at 17c and oats at 18c, while to Rotterdam wheat was let at 15c, barley at 16c and oats at 17c.

PROSPECT OF THREE RAILWAYS COMPETING IN ROUYN DISTRICT

From present indications the Rouyn Mines Railway, on which construction work has already been commenced, will be the first to operate directly into the rich mining district of Northern Quebec, tapping the business which is expected to assume large proportions in the next few years. This branch will be operated by the Canadian National Railway on a lease basis with the financial co-operation of the Government of the Province of Quebec.

Notwithstanding these advantages it is confidently expected that other lines will not be long in making extensions into the same territory. Nipissing Central, a subsidiary of Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, already has a branch built to the Quebec border from the west and only requires a short stretch of road to reach Rouyn. Another railway expected to become a factor in the C.P.R., which has a branch line in as far as Des Quinze, where the power plant of the Northern Canada Power Company is located.

It is expected that the decision of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Limited, about entering the field in both a mining and smelting capacity will have considerable to do with the extension of the road in view of the close connection of the C.P.R. with that company as its largest shareholder. These two co-operate in British Columbia, the mining and smelting business being the largest individual feeder the railway has from a traffic point of view. A similar opportunity now presents itself in Rouyn, and history is expected to repeat itself.

DO NOT EXPECT NEW ELECTION IN GERMANY

Official Quarters Look for Altered Attitude Toward Security Pact and Locarno Treaties.

(Associated Press Despatch)
BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Despite the bitterness with which the partisan fight for and against the government's commitments at Locarno is being pursued, official quarters declare that the next ten days will completely vindicate the course adopted by Chancellor Luther and Dr. Stresemann, the Foreign Secretary and bring an altered attitude toward the security pact and the Locarno treaties.

The parliamentary group of the Socialist party, after three hours' session yesterday, voted to refer the question of convoking the Reichstag to Herr Loebbe, president of that body, upon his return from New York.

While the radicals still adhere to their pet scheme of dissolving the Reichstag, it is believed in parliamentary circles that the government shortly will be in a position to produce tangible proof that the Allies propose to live up to the promises given to Chancellor Luther and Dr. Stresemann. Thus it is declared, all the requisite conditions for the formal signing of and new elections will not have to be held.

SOVIET RUSSIA CELEBRATING ANNIVERSARY

Every Large City Is Aglow With Red Electric Signs Symbolizing Achievements of Bolsheviks During Past Eight Years.

(Associated Press Despatch)
MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—Bolshevik Russia last night began a three days' celebration of the eighth anniversary of the October revolution with a great mass organization in the national theatre, at which General Ku Kan Men, Chinese revolutionary leader, conveyed greetings from the far eastern revolutionists to the Russian proletariat.

Leo Kamenoff, chairman of the Council of Labor and Defence, gave a three hour address in which he reviewed the history of the 1917 rising and the events of the last eight years.

Moscow and every large city is aglow with red electric signs symbolizing the achievements of the Bolsheviks since the overthrow of the Czar. More than a million yards of red cloth has been used for banners and drapings and flags in Moscow alone.

AUTO LICENSE 1926 PLATES ARE RECEIVED

Next Season Plates Will Be Brown-Red With White Figures—No Increase in Automobile Taxes.

(Associated Press Despatch)
QUEBEC, Nov. 7.—Automobile license plates for 1926 reached the provincial revenue department yesterday afternoon, though they will only be distributed from March next. Provision has been made for over 100,000 automobiles. It is expected that the number of cars next season will reach nearly 125,000.

White figures, embossed on a brown-red plate, will be the characteristics of the license plates for the coming season. Figures will run from 10,000 up for touring cars and from 10 to 10,000 for trucks and other varieties of motor vehicles.

Instead of having nineteen letters used, as describing the variety of motor vehicles, the revenue department has decided to reduce this to nine to help traffic men, who were complaining that they were getting mixed up.

Announcement was made to the effect that there would be no increase in the motor vehicle taxes this year. This means that the present three cents per gallon gasoline tax would remain as it is, and that, contrary to reports, no taxes on so-called "balloon tires" was projected. Tending towards uniformity of motor vehicle law through the Dominion, certain minor changes will be made in regulations, but none of them will be of a radical nature. Some action will be taken in regard to lights on cars at night.

QUITE A DEMAND FOR FAULTY EMPIRE STAMPS

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, November 7.—King George is one of many stamp collectors who have been out for penny stamps issued recently by the Post Office for £4 (about $20) apiece. An error in the making of a sheet of 240 is responsible for the flurry.

The faulty sheet was sold to a London firm and a parcel boy tried to stick some on brown paper. When they would stick he found the gum was on the printed side. The firm sold the stamps to a man who realized their value as rarities, and he has sold them to collectors at from one pound to four pounds each. King George bought a block of four. A Swedish dealer has offered four pounds for each specimen.

HILLHURST

On Tuesday evening a reception in honor of the marriage of Mr. A. H. Waldron to Miss Violet Wallace, which took place on October 27 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace, at St. Hyacinthe, was given at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Waldron. About eighty guests were present and enjoyed a social evening. The gifts received were varied and lovely, including silver, fine china, linens and money, also a cabinet of silver from gentlemen friends in Coaticook, where the young couple are well known. Mr. and Mrs. Waldron left this week for West Palm Beach, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

DOUBT THAT IT WILL BE FOUND

sively with the tariff question. On this matter he has suffered a decisive check. Liberals and Progressives have joined to defeat him. The withdrawal of Sir Lomer Gouin, of Hon. Walter Mitchell and of Mr. P. N. McCrea, has served only to accentuate the refusal of the Liberals generally, and the Liberals of Quebec in particular, from urging a policy of high protection. Without a doubt between Progressives and Liberals, and among Liberals themselves, there are notable differences of opinion with regard to the scale of importation taxes that it is desired to maintain.

But these are not greater than between the diverse categories of the members bearing the title Conservative. The Conservatives of Nova Scotia have certainly not been chosen to favor the tariff policy of Mr. Meighen. It is hence incorrect to say that on the tariff question Mr. Meighen commands the most numerous and the most compact group in the house.

And the remainder? Will it be claimed that he obtained the suffrage of Ontario on the strength of his grotesque proposals to offer the railways a monetary compensation, drawn from the Federal treasury in order to obtain a decrease in transportation rates in favor of the Maritime Provinces? How many among the 116 or the 118 members bearing the blue label would launch Canada into the adventure of war as Mr. Meighen declared himself ready to do on a simple despatch from Winston Churchill?

"Personally Mr. Meighen is in possession of less confidence in the Conservative party than Mr. King in the Liberal. The Gazette itself, which today adopts the attitude of outraged virtue because Mr. King refuses to put his adversary in the saddle, lost no opportunity of demonstrating, before the electoral campaign that Mr. Meighen merited the confidence neither of the country nor of the Conservative party. It speaks with bitterness of the verdict of the Province of Quebec. No one has contributed more efficaciously towards this than itself, unless perhaps it be its confere in Toryism, the Star. "Let there be no mistake about it, Mr. Patenaude and his candidates, whatever their personal merit, bit the dust because the people of Quebec saw in them disguised partisans of Mr. Meighen or worse, marionettes of Lord Atholstan. Is that wrong? If Mr.

Meighen merited the confidence that is claimed for him today, why conceal him before the election and try to use him by a disguised manoeuvre, the duplicity of which was strengthened as the battle advanced.

"As to the charlatan press, despised by its own compatriots, which broadcast periodically the claim of saving the country as well as the French language and the Roman Catholic religion, simple common sense administered to it the rebuff to which it exposed itself. True Conservatives ought to rejoice with us. May they never permit themselves to be captivated by the allurement of this false prophet, captivated by the shallow trick of offering kingdoms to whomsoever will adore him, will accept his money, which changes invariably into dead leaves, and will preach the incoherent evangel that he peddles daily in his huge salad bowl. If Mr. Patenaude had listened ed to his real friends, both he and his party would have been spared this patronizing humiliation, the Province and the country would not be in their present impasse.
