Plane With 11 Aboard Is Missing

Washington, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Rescue patrols rose at dawn from air force bases around the north Atlantic to scan the waves for a big plane with 11 men aboard lost yesterday out in the Azores.

Thirteen R.C.A.F. planes from Greenwood, N.S., took off to join in the search. Seven left at dawn, and the other six later.

Through the night some 50 planes had roamed the skies along a great circle route from Westover air force base near Boston, listening for any repetition of a faint SOS heard yesterday, and looking for any peril light from the sea.

The lost craft, a C-97 Boeing military transport, left Lages air force station in the Azores—Portuguese islands in the east Atlantic—at 3:45 a.m. EST yesterday. It headed for Westover field, was carrying 3½ tons of mail and four tons of other cargo.

It was last heard from definitely at 4:28 a.m., less than an hour after it was airborne. Its radio report indicated it was flying through turbulent air.

Emergency Session Of Cabinet Is Called — Shooting Recalls Gandhi's Death.

Rawalpindi, Pakistan, Oct. 16.—(Reuters)—Pakistani Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan, 56, leader of the world's biggest Moslem state, died tonight from an assassin's bullets.

He was fatally wounded when he rose to address a political meeting. The gunman, who fired two shots from a revolver, was killed on the spot.

Liaquat was rushed to hospital where an operation was performed, but it failed to save him. The bullets struck him in the chest.

His assassin was seized by the crowd, the revolver still smoking in his hand.

An emergency session of the Pakistani cabinet was summoned immediately in Karachi, the capital.

Flags will fly at half-mast for three days and state mourning will be observed for 30 days.

It is not quite four years ago since Mohandas Gandhi, Indian nationalist leader, was shot and killed by a Hindu extremist in New Delhi.

Liaquat will be given a state funeral in Karachi.

The soft-spoken Liaquat, who has headed the world's largest Moslem state since it came into being in August, 1947, had just risen to address a meeting of the Moslem League here.

The shots were fired before he had uttered two words. A devout Moslem, Liaquat was born in what now is India. He was active in the affairs of the Moslem League, and when the sub-continent was partitioned, he left to make his home in Pakistan.

A graduate of England's Oxford University, he has nursed Pakistan through many difficulties, including the urgent one of relations with India, and their still unsettled dispute over the future of Kashmir.

Rawalpindi is about 40 miles from the Kashmir border. Liaquat and his wife visited Canada and the United States last year.

Liaquat announced last March 9 that a plot had been hatched "to create commotion" in Pakistan "and in furtherance of that purpose to subvert the loyalty of the Pakistan defence forces."

Fourteen persons were arrested, including the secretary of the Pakistan communist party and senior officers of the armed forces. Liaquat became Prime Minister in August, 1947, upon the death of Mohammed Ali Jinnah, founder of Pakistan. Liaquat had been Jinnah's foreign minister.

The Prime Minister arrived in Rawalpindi today for a six-day tour of the northwest frontier. Officials in neighboring India long have been aware that extremists in Pakistan have been trying to push the government into a more forceful Kashmir policy.

Rawalpindi, 90 miles southeast of the famed Khyber Pass, is an undisciplined frontier area which also is the scene of many movements of tribes for autonomy. Kashmir, predominantly Moslem in population, acceded to Hindu India after the partition of the subcontinent, because it was ruled by a Hindu Maharajah at the time. Pakistan disputes India's claim and troops have been facing each other across a line of demarcation while the United Nations tried to settle the ominous quarrel.

The hard-working Prime Minister was a brilliant speaker and skilled debater who did much of the spade work that achieved the separation of Pakistan as a state in the 1947 partition of India.

He was born in East Punjab, the second son of a wealthy land-owning family. He was fond of saying his family sprang from refugees, just like 6,000,000 other citizens of the Moslem state. His family came from Persia about 500 years ago and traces its descent from a famous Persian king, Nausarwan the just.

It became Liaquat's lot to pilot the new state through its early formative years when one crisis followed another in its affairs with neighboring India.

In the bitter three-year-old dispute over possession of Kashmir, Liaquat told his people to be ready to face any emergency and warned them last August the Kashmir dispute might be settled by open warfare.

In an address marking the country's fifth year of independence, Liaquat Ali charged India with

Sidelights On Royal Tour

Kapuskasing, Ont., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Just like any other away-from-home mother, Princess Elizabeth is buying postcards for the kiddies.

On the way here yesterday from Windsor by air, she asked members of her party to provide her with scenic postcards from every place she and Prince Philip will visit on this Canadian tour.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Governor Mennen Williams of Michigan yesterday presented the Duke of Edinburgh with a green-and-white polka dot bow tie, a duplicate of the one he was wearing at the official reception for the Duke and Princess Elizabeth.

Said the Governor: "It's brought me good luck and I hope it does the same for you. It's practically a badge of office around here."

To the laughter of the Prince and Princess, Windsor's mayor Arthur Reaume remarked: "He doesn't need one. He's got his office for life."

Calgary, Oct. 16.—(AP)—When Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh are here Thursday, they will be presented with a complete Indian outfit for Prince Charles.

Nine Communist Planes Shot Down Over Korea

By JOHN RANDOLPH

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Oct. 16.—(AP)—United States jet pilots shot down nine communist jets and damaged five others today in two roaring air battles.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force said one Sabre was damaged. All but one of the Red's MIG-15's were hit in history's deadliest jet battle. It erupted late in the day between 33 U.S. jets and more than 100 MIG's. The battle ranged from six miles in the sky down to tree-top level.

The dog-fighting jets raced over the 500 square miles of northwest Korea that form MIG-valley. It was all over in 15 minutes.

Veteran American jet pilots said it was the roughest fight they've had.

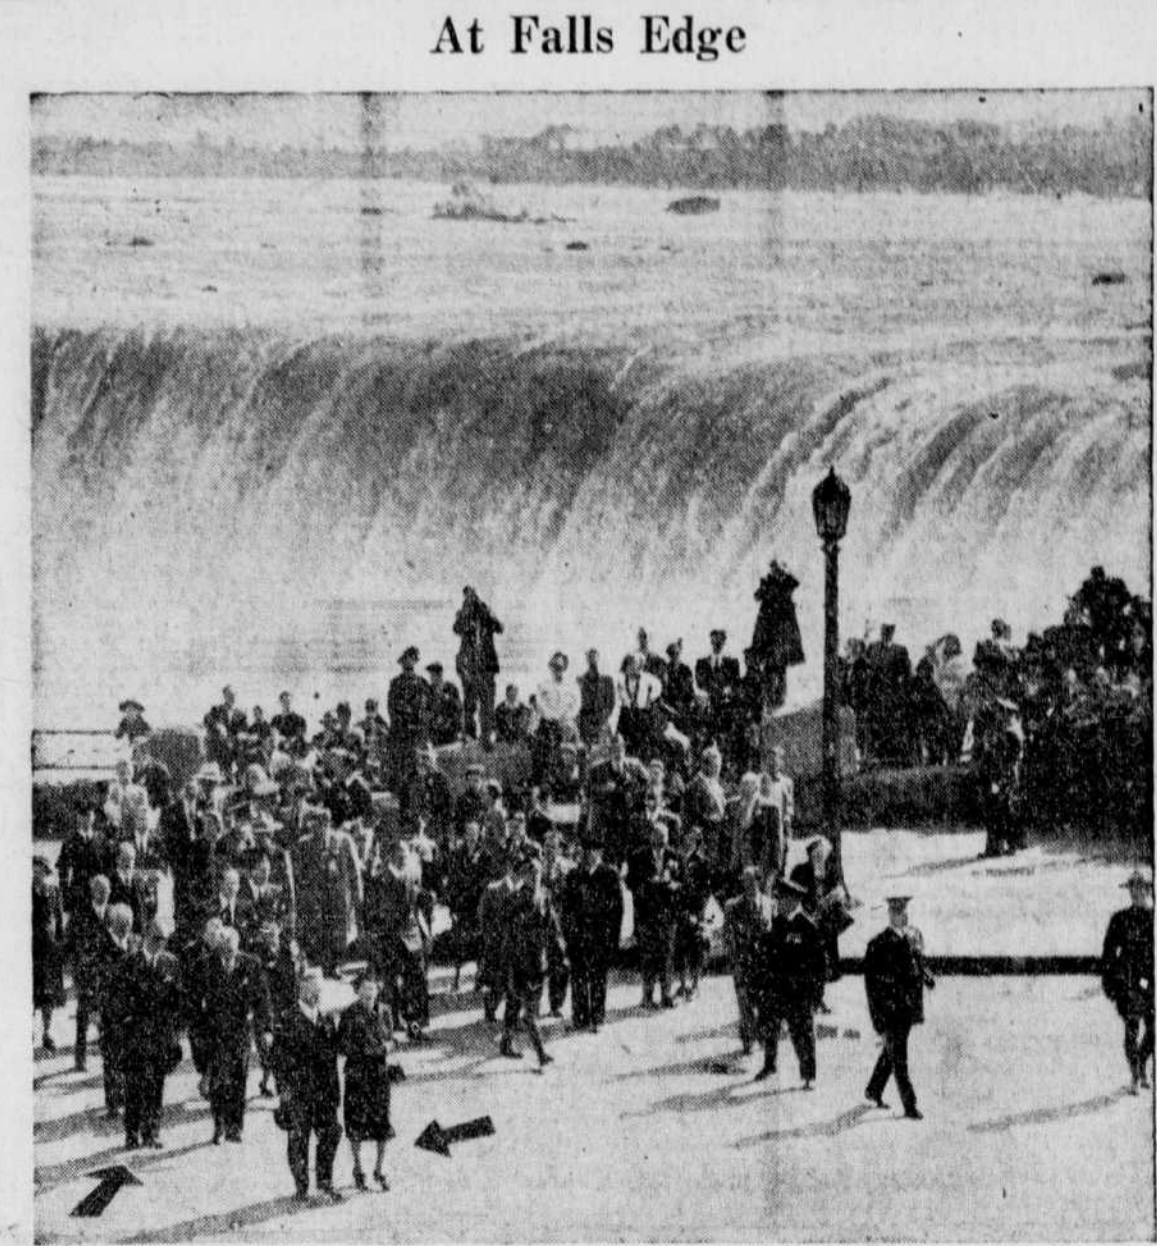

On the ground allied infantrymen smashed forward on three fronts.

Americans and South Koreans drove nearly a mile closer to Kumsong in central Korea in their almost uninterrupted advance along a 22-mile front.

The allies were within five miles of the communist stronghold after a six-mile advance in less than four days.

On the western front, U.S. 1st Cavalry Division troops smashed into fiercely resisting Chinese, dug into deep bunkers on a hill line northwest of Yoncheon. They were locked in close battle at midday.

South Koreans captured another hill on the rugged eastern front. The day's air battles started when an American Sabre jet pilot shot down a Red jet in a brief battle in MIG valley over northwest Korea between 17 Sabres and

Royal Couple Leave For Winnipeg, Complete Happy Visit To Ontario

Kapuskasing, Ont., Oct. 16.—(AP)—After a small-town breathing spell from the starch functions of the big cities, Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip today say goodbye to the east for now and move on to western Canada.

Friendly Kapuskasing sends them away by air to Winnipeg, where they begin at noon a jaunt that will carry them through the Prairies and British Columbia for the next 12 days.

Their take-off was set for 10 A.M. EST after a late afternoon and night spent here with the people of Kapuskasing and nearby communities giving them a warm and neighborly reception and then leaving them time to catch up on the rest they've been finding it hard to get during the first week of their long tour.

(The plane took off at 9:45 A.M.)

The conglomerate 5,000 population of this paper-mill town was bolstered for the big occasion by perhaps another 20,000 persons from the surrounding towns in this northern Ontario bush country just 100 miles southwest of James Bay.

They yelled just as loudly as any in the east, chanting "Wa wa wa Elizabeth" as they waited for her to make an appearance on the balcony of her hotel. And they burst police lines for a closer look at the couple.

But then Kapuskasing, a working-man's town whose mill-foreman Mayor A. M. Stevenson said he realized the visitors' need, rest, gave them plenty of time to get to bed early in preparation for the strenuous trip ahead.

The functions, all strictly informal, were cut down to an inspection of Girl Guides, of which the Princess is chief; a visit to the town's paper mill, its sole industry; and a simple reception in the community hall for local officials, in addition to the royal tourists' brief balcony appearance.

In her short speech from the balcony, Princess Elizabeth had praise for the pioneers of this frontier area who hewed a community out of the rugged bushland and she expressed regrets that she could not visit other frontier towns.

On their tour of the paper mill, they saw one of the largest newspaper plants in the United States. They spent an hour and 20 minutes in the mill, with the Duke taking a keen interest in the production process.

Princess Elizabeth pronounced the party in the community hall "delightful." She was particularly intrigued by bow ties, worn by some of the guests, with pictures of her and the Duke on each wing.

Rt. Rev. R. J. Renison, Anglican Bishop of Mooseonee, presented the Princess with several articles handmade by Indians of Mooseonee, on the south shore of James Bay.

The couple flew here from Windsor, where their visit took on an international flavor when 200,000 Detroiters from across the river joined about as many Canadians in giving them an enthusiastic welcome.

Fifty motorcycle policemen from Detroit supplemented the usual escort of 10 Canadian Mounties and led a procession on a 13-mile drive through Windsor. The Princess appeared more relaxed and seemed to have more fun than on any other day of the trip so far.

The Duke, as usual, was in high good humor.

Violence Flares In Canal Zone

Cairo, Oct. 16.—(AP)—British troops went into action against Egyptian rioters in the Suez Canal zone today. It was the first real violence in the current Anglo-Egyptian treaty dispute.

A regiment of Egyptian troops was ordered to the scene almost immediately. The Egyptian war department said they had orders to "help police restore order."

The British troops took action to restore order at Ismailia, midway along the Canal zone after a crowd of Egyptians looted and set fire to a British army canteen—aided by Egyptian police, British authorities said.

A British army spokesman told a press conference here that the troops were "quelling the disorder." He gave no details.

"The situation in the Canal zone has deteriorated," he said. Egyptian police "actually helped the looters," he charged.

He added that the army has taken over operation of railroads in the zone. Egyptian employees were reported to be refusing to work for the British.

Britain's troop strength in the zone is secret but is probably around 60,000. These are the troops Egypt is seeking to oust by scrapping the Anglo-Egyptian treaty which grants them their right there.

(In London, it was announced today that a British soldier had been seriously stabbed in Ismailia yesterday and a British bus stoned.)

Ismailia lies on the Sweet Water canal inside the Suez Canal zone about halfway between Port Said and Fayid, headquarters of the British Middle-East command.

It is the largest town in the zone and is used by the troops mainly for recreational purposes.

Egyptian newspapers reported the activities of a "resistance movement" in which locomotive engineers were refusing to drive British military trains and taxi drivers were turning away British army passengers.

Another report from the Canal zone, telephoned to the newspaper Al Misri, said crowds of Egyptians had attacked British camps near Ismailia and attempted to set fire to the British installations.

These reports said Egyptian army units were being dispatched to the camps to maintain order but did not say whether British troops had clashed with the crowd.

Communications between Cairo and the Suez area, interrupted early today, were restored later in the morning.

Increased Vigor Is Shown By U.K. Election Candidates

London, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Britain's "demure" election campaign stepped up a notch yesterday as the closing of the nomination lists clearly defined the sides in the Oct. 25 voting.

But the increase in vigor came mostly from the candidates. The electorate appeared lacking in enthusiasm.

Conservative leader Winston Churchill, in his most vigorous attack yet on the Labor government, called the socialists a "very serious evil to our country." He scored Prime Minister Attlee's government for its attitude toward the United States.

Attlee, seeking to enlarge his precarious margin in the House of Commons, delivered six speeches in Labor's "grass-roots" campaign.

The closing of nominations showed there will be a huge floating vote—estimated as high as 2,500,000—to be fought for by the two big parties. Most of the "floaters" are adherents of the once-dominant Liberal party which posted only 108 candidates for the 625-member House.

Labor fielded 617 candidates and was matched by the Conservatives and their anti-socialist allies. The communist party put up only 10, and other splinter parties named 23.

In the 1950 election, with 478 candidates, the Liberals elected only nine members.

At dissolution Oct. 4 the House of Commons standing was: Labor 313; Conservatives and allies 297; Liberals 9; independent 1; Irish Nationalists 2; vacant 3—total 625.

Churchill, wartime Prime Minister, called the campaign "buoyant." But the Daily Telegraph, a staunch Churchill supporter, suggested it might better be described as "demure."

The telegraph and the independent Liberal Manchester Guardian agreed that radio and television may be replacing door-knocking and oratory in the hustings.

"When voters can thus be wooed in their millions by their own fire-sides, election meetings and poster campaigns are apt to lose some of their interest and importance," the Telegraph said.

Mused the Guardian: "Perhaps we are mostly content to listen to a few radio performers, good and bad."

But to Churchill and Attlee the old-fashioned stumping technique was still the thing.

Speaking at Huddersfield, Churchill said Labor had flopped in every field of governmental action during its six years of office. He assailed the "enfolding tendencies and mental infirmities" of socialism, and the Labor attitude toward the United States.

"... Their attitude has been to take everything they can get," he said. "Indeed, they have been maintained upon the bounty of capitalist America while at the same time trying to become the moral superior over them."

Attlee denied, in talks at Derby and Rugby, that his government stifles energy or enterprise.

"There has never been a time when industry had more help than it has from the government today in stimulating new developments for research of every kind," he said.

Foreign secretary Herbert Morrison sounded the foreign-policy note in a London speech. He said Egypt could either share responsibility for defence of the Middle East or show herself "a country devoid of any sense of international responsibility."

High Living Costs Emerge As Major Issue At Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The High cost of living emerged as a major issue for the fall session of Parliament yesterday as three opposition party leaders joined in asking the government to take steps to combat inflation.

As the throne-speech debate unfolded, Progressive Conservative leader George Drew, C.C.F. leader M. J. Coldwell and Social Credit leader Solon Low criticized the government for not taking firmer steps to contain high prices.

Prime Minister St. Laurent repeated the government's belief that the time is not ripe for direct price controls and said it has only one anti-inflationary weapon in its legislative arsenal—a measure to prohibit the fixing of retail prices.

Mr. Drew and Mr. Coldwell followed up their verbal blasts with traditional motions of non-confidence in the government.

The Progressive Conservative motion called for "adequate" steps to "combat inflation and deal effectively with the high cost of living while the C.C.F. urged control of the imposition of price controls and subsidies.

Mr. Low, prevented by House rules from introducing a motion at this time, bespoke his party's support of certain direct and temporary price controls to give the people relief from "the present terrific high cost of living."

Mr. St. Laurent indicated possible hope for lower prices by reporting that he had been told inventories of goods across the country are abnormally high and that some of them may have to be disposed of at "diminishing returns."

He conceded that prices are high and that some sectors of the population are suffering, but said the price level cannot be held fixed in a free economy.

But, despite the high prices, the average industrial wage today bought more than it did before the war and the farmers had a larger share of the national income than ever before.

Mr. Drew suggested Canada faced "a major defeat" if the problem of inflation was not tackled. The government had taken some steps to meet inflation, but they had been "disastrously wrong." One of those steps had been the imposition of a special excise tax and the raising of the sales tax.

The taxes should be repealed since the mere fact that the government had accumulated a budgetary surplus of $500,000,000 in the first five months of this fiscal year proved that they were unnecessary.

He repeated his requests of the last session of Parliament that the government appoint committees to study defence expenditures and recommend means to reduce government spending.

Mr. Coldwell charged the government with instituting a policy of "rationing by purse" and, in effect, pricing many Canadians right out of the consumer-commodity market.

He suggested that Canada and the United States could be blamed for high prices in Britain, where they had gone up despite price controls and subsidies. They had arisen because Canada and the U.S., which supplied Britain with many of her imports, had allowed inflation to run wild.

Mr. Low urged the government to abolish or reduce some taxes, encourage production and pay subsidies on selected goods. It also should issue interest-free money where necessary and adopt an investment policy for development of industries and resources.

He described as "a complete misstatement of the facts" a suggestion in the speech from the throne that the government's anti-inflation measures had checked prices.

Calcium and magnesium (lime) are two of the important elements consumed by all crops. Some require more than others. A ton of alfalfa hay, for example, removes from the soil the equivalent of about 100 pounds of limestone. Clover and other legumes also use a lot.

A screenwriter was relating the plot of a story to a producer. He reached the point at which a gangster takes over a country store.

"A great switch," the scribe enthused. "A gangster and all these rural characters. I wish I had a title for it."

"Why," grinned the producer, "don't you call it 'Hood-Lum and Abner'?"

Brief, Impressive Ceremonies Mark Dedication Of Bridge At Waterville

By CUTHBERT JONES
Waterville, Oct. 16—Brief but impressive ceremonies attended by religious and political leaders marked the dedication of the recently completed bridge linking the two sections of this Compton county village yesterday afternoon.

Hundreds of persons from the surrounding areas and points even further removed gathered to witness the cutting of the ribbon and the benediction ceremonies of the new structure which replaced the old wooden structure of nostalgic memory.

The ribbon was cut by Hon. C. D. French, Minister of Mines in the Duplessis Government and Members of the Legislature for Compton County, while the bridge was blessed by Rev. Father J. A. Archambault, cure of Waterville. The ceremonies were presided over by Gerald T. Miltmore, Mayor of Waterville.

In addition to Mr. French, who stressed the urgent need for the new structure, the speakers included Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Lands and Forests and of Hydraulic Resources, Denis Gerin, M.L.A. for Stanstead, Henri Yachon, M.L.A. for Wolfe, Rev. Mark Beaufort and Rev. John Butler.

Following the dedication ceremonies, a banquet was held at Hillcrest Lodge attended by several hundred citizens of Compton county and vicinity. The chief speakers at this event, which was presided over by Mayor Miltmore, were Mr. French and Mr. Bourque.

In opening his remarks, Mr. French declared that during the six years he represented the county in the Legislature, grants totaling $5,859,733 had been paid out to Compton County. Since the 1945 by-election, $2,908,994 had been paid for the construction and maintenance of roads, $102,856 for winter roads, $956,242 for education, $538,566 for colonization roads, $730,950 for rural credits, $198,436 for agriculture, $44,587 for improving fire-fighting facilities, $255,170 for bridge construction and $128,442 for bridge repairs.

Both Mr. French and Mr. Bourque, who followed him, predicted a bright future for the village of Waterville, with the new million dollar plant of the Sponge Rubber Co. Ltd., now under construction, offering important employment opportunities to the people of the community.

Reviewing the work of the Union Nationale party since its first election to office in 1936, Mr. Bourque asked his listeners to compare conditions then with those today. Roads had been vastly improved, an apprentice school established, a technical school, a superior school, an agricultural school. These had been established in Sherbrooke, he said but they served the entire district, 112 of the 225 students at the Superior School being from outside Sherbrooke.

In Sherbrooke, hospital facilities had been vastly increased and the major institutions—the Sherbrooke Hospital, the St. Vincent de Paul and the Hotel Dieu—ranked favorably with those anywhere. The Government, he continued, was studying the possibility of amending the Blue Cross regulations, which at present restrict payments to cases of hospitalization, to reduce hospital

$18,067 Reached In Catholic Charities Drive

The Catholic Federated Charities Campaign reached a total of $18,067 in its returns last night, of its $25,000 objective.

This is above last year's figure of $16,816, and the receipts for yesterday alone, $3,509, were well over last year's for the same day. Officials of the campaign feel that the last two days, that is today and tomorrow should put the drive well over the top.

Eight parishes out of 16 have reached their objective so far, and $1,250 out of its $1,800 had been reached yesterday by St. Patrick's.

There are still a number of returns to be brought in, but those who have not been contacted by canvassers, and wish to contribute, may send their subscription to campaign headquarters, 79 King Street West.

Joint presidents, J. E. L. Blais and Frank J. Conway will handle the final dinner meeting to be held at the Sacred Heart Hospice tomorrow evening.

Mr. Conway stated this morning that there are still some tickets available at headquarters but that they are going fast. Attendance at the dinners this year has been remarkable, and a large crowd is expected tomorrow night. The proceedings are to be recorded and broadcast over the local French radio station at 10.15.

congestion by cutting down the period beneficiaries stayed in institutions.

Turning to the affairs of the Hydraulic Resources Department, he said that the electricity problem of the Eastern Townships had been settled for many years to come through the linking of the systems serving this district with the Quebec Hydro plant at Beauharnois. This added some 100,000 horsepower to the existing resources of the Shawinigan Water and Power Company, the Southern Canada Power Company and the City of Sherbrooke.

Mayor Miltmore declared that after suffering severe trials

Five-Year Contract Is Granted After Sherbrooke City Transit Proposal For Extension Is Rejected

Offering a five year contract, the maintenance of the existing circuits and fare levels and a guaranteed minimum payment of $2,000 annually to the city, Alphonse Laramie, owner of the Laramie Coach Lines, last evening was awarded the franchise for the operation of the urban transportation system in Sherbrooke.

The decision to entrust the operation of the autobus system to Mr. Laramie was taken after a proposal by the Sherbrooke City Transit Company, a subsidiary of Provincial Transport Company, for the extension of their franchise which expires January 31, 1952, was found unacceptable.

The Sherbrooke City Transit Company asked that the franchise be extended for one year only and that the payments being made to the city at the present time be suspended. In asking for these amendments to the existing agreement, the company stated that it was making no money on its service at the present time and that it did not wish to enter into any long-term agreement in view of the steadily rising costs of labor and material.

The Laramie proposals call for the maintenance of fares at the existing level of ten cents cash or four tickets for twenty-five cents, the payment of $2,000 annually to the city plus five per cent of any net profits in excess of $15,000 in any year. Mr. Laramie promised to acquire seventeen new buses for regular service and to have an additional thirteen available for rush-hour and special services.

After the acceptance of his offer, Mr. Laramie announced his intention of leaving for Chicago today to conclude arrangements for the purchase of the new vehicles, claiming to have a confirmation of his tentative order. He said that the new machines would be delivered before the existing franchise of the Sherbrooke City Transit Company expires on January 31.

The Sherbrooke City Transit Company has operated the local service since late in January of 1932 after the old Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company, a subsidiary of the Southern Canada Power Company, suspended street railway operations following 35 years of more or less unprofitable business in the transportation field in Sherbrooke and Lennoxville.

In the early years of its activities in Sherbrooke, the City Transit Company shared the fate of the predecessor railway company

Optimist Club Signs Petition Asking Province To Build School For Blind

The need of educational facilities in this Province for French-speaking blind boys above the age of 12 years was again voiced by Neil Tracy, E.T. field representative for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

In an address to the local Optimist Club last night at the weekly Club dinner meeting, held in the LaSalle Hotel, Mr. Tracy told of the methods by which blind persons are educated and, at the conclusion of his talk, passed around a petition to the Provincial Minister of Youth and Welfare asking that such a school be established in this Province, a petition which the members signed.

Introduced by Henry Crocheteire, the speaker was thanked by Casey Vincent.

Roland Laliberte, assistant to Mr. Tracy, addressed the Club briefly in French.

President Jacques Laliberte was in the chair for the meeting and seated at the head table with him were: Gaston Dajpe, Pete Blais, Roland Laliberte, Neil Tracy and Henry Crocheteire.

The president announced that next meeting would mark the official visit of the district governor, Gilles Gamache, of Montreal, and asked the members to bring guests to this important meeting.

Jean Louis Dupuis extended the invitation by Y.M.C.A. general secretary J. Edward Shortt for the members to form a volleyball team to compete in a league against other service clubs. Paul Allard was appointed captain of the proposed team with Paul Lefebvre to work as his assistant.

One guest, Paul Beaulieu, was introduced by Gaston Roy.

Mr. Tracy pointed out that there had been no facilities for the education of French-speaking blind boys over 12 since the Nazareth Institute in Montreal was forced to suspend this project over 10 years ago.

"Since then these boys have been left to drift," Mr. Tracy said. Through the combined efforts of the C.N.I.B. and the Canadian Council of the Blind, several petitions have already gone forward to Quebec to ask that such a school be established. The present petition is being signed by service clubs and other sympathetic persons all over the Province and it is hoped to have a large number of signatures from this district, including those of civic officials.

It is hoped, Mr. Tracy said, that such a school, when established, would be in the hands of the clerks of St. Viateur.

There are adequate existing facilities for English-speaking blind boys above 12. Mr. Tracy said, with a school administered by the Montreal Association of the Blind in the metropolis and schools at Halifax and Brantford, Ont.

Local Rotarians Visit Lancaster For Meeting

Lancaster, N.H., October 16—President Emile Levesque and 26 other members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club crossed the border last night for an inter-club meeting with Gorham, Berlin, Whitefield and Lancaster, N.H., all clubs of the 288th District of Rotary.

Rev. R. C. Tait, of Sherbrooke, was the speaker at the dinner held in the Lancaster Inn, choosing as his subject "Rotary's part in the troubled international scene."

He pointed out that Rotarians can do much for the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace in their individual lives.

The fellowship and understanding they give to one another as members of a service club, should be spread into their daily associations in business and their lives as members of a community.

From the community this good will and understanding spreads to an entire country, grows and develops until it takes on international significance.

Mr. Tait also warned the gathering against looking upon other races with a sense of pity, feeling that they are the superior race. Before there can be any international peace, there must be thorough understanding and good will towards individuals as fellow men, he said.

Past President Douglas Stevenson, of Sherbrooke, introduced Mr. Tait.

Lancaster's president Ray Carr was in the chair for the meeting and welcomed the visiting clubs.

Also taking part were Lee Stillings, Whitefield president, and Bill Metz, president of the Berlin club. Past District Governor Guy Shorey, of Gorham, who will address the Sherbrooke club to night, and Past District Governor George Ewing, of Sherbrooke.

President Emile Levesque led the gathering in the ever popular "Alouette."

404,000 Cigs Are Seized By Local R. C. M. P.

Prompt action by two constables of the local R.C.M.P. detachment, nipped another alleged cigarette smuggler this morning.

A merchant of East Hereford was due to appear in local court today charged with illegal possession of 404,000 American brands on which duty had not been paid. The accused was arrested at St. Hermenegilde this morning by R.C.M.P. constables J. A. Roux and J. L. Proulx.

His 1950 half-ton truck was seized along with the 40 cases.

Community Chest Campaign Total Is Close To 80 P. C. Of Objective

With about 20% of the canvassing still unreported, the Red Feather Community Chest Campaign has reached close to 80% of its objective, and campaign chairman Walter S. Sutherland, in commenting, points out that while this might look as though the campaign would reach its objective readily, the bulk of the cards still out are for smaller amount subscribers.

"It is urgent that canvassing be completed," says Mr. Sutherland, "and that as great an amount as possible be finally raised with as little further delay as possible. There are people who are still waiting to be called on, and it would be a grand thing if they would send in their contributions to the campaign office in the Bank of Commerce, Dufferin Ave."

The need of the seven participating organizations cannot be taken care of until the total amount asked from the citizens has been contributed. Additional contributions are needed today.

More Than 200 Show Interest In Navy Here

The Navy recruiting drive in Sherbrooke is going very well. Lieut. J. R. Gratton, head of the recruiting party told the Record this morning.

Already more than 200 young men have been interviewed by Lieut. Gratton and his staff of three, Chief Petty Officers Roger Unwin, J. A. Champagne and S. A. Matte.

About half of those interviewed were from Sherbrooke, the others, Mr. Gratton says, from "Magog, Stoke Center, Windsor Mills, Fitch Bay . . . I could go on." Tomorrow a recruiting office will be held at Magog.

A little-known fact about the Navy's recruiting drive is that women will be accepted for service.

Although it is unpublicized, a limited number of girls will be accepted for service in the Navy, chiefly as radio operators.

The recruiting unit arrived here on October ninth and will remain in Sherbrooke until October 18th.

Yesterday and today have been proclaimed Navy Day in Sherbrooke by Mayor C. B. Howard.

The local campaign is being carried on from an office in the third floor of City Hall, six days a week, between the hours of 11 a.m. until eight p.m.

"A man can get into the Navy in 24 hours," Lieut. Gratton says. "All the testing is done right here in Sherbrooke with Dr. MacLeod doing most of the medicals."

Dr. Fletcher and Dr. Tanguay have assisted with the medical examinations and the Sherbrooke Hospital has co-operated in the matter of X-rays.

No special quota of recruits has

Stanstead Downs

Stanstead, Oct. 16.—Stanstead College defeated Quebec High School 15-9 Saturday in an inter-scholastic football game played at Quebec.

The home team opened the scoring in the first quarter with a converted touchdown.

Stanstead got five points back before the quarter ended when Blair Touchie took a forward pass to the Quebec 30-yard line, Lindsay Smith plunged seven yards and Jim Cramer skirted the end for a touchdown. This was not converted.

In the second quarter a short Quebec kick and a no yards penalty set Stanstead up for another major, Auger plunging for the points. The convert failed and the half time score was 10-6 for Stanstead.

Quebec scored a placement in the third quarter to cut down the lead, but in the final session Auger again plunged for a Stanstead major.

through the destruction of its principal industry and its convent by fire, Waterville was new looking to a bright future through the introduction of a large new industry here, the convent having been already rebuilt through the assistance of the Provincial Government. The Sponge Rubber Company would offer employment to several hundred persons. Residential construction, which had been non-existent for many years, now booming, with twenty new houses being built in 1951 and plans being made for the erection of fifty more. The development of the Suffield mine also offered an opportunity for the employment of many Waterville residents.

and accumulated substantial deficits, but with increased industrial activity and the growth of the town in the war and post-war years, it found the financial picture brighter. In the first ten years it made no payments for the franchise, but a few years ago a new agreement was concluded whereby it paid a minimum franchise tax of $7,500 annually and an additional payment of 7 1/2 per cent of the gross revenue in excess of $250,000. In 1950, the payments to the city amounted to $17,775.54.

Frank Gravel, manager of the Sherbrooke City Transit Company, had no comment to make on the city decision, stating that his company had not been formally notified. When the notification was received, a statement may be forthcoming from the Provincial Transport Commission.

This was the highlight of an otherwise routine session of the Council at which an extensive list of committee reports were accepted.

One provided for the restoration of the sidewalk in front of the new post office site on King Street West at a cost of $1,000 and the paving of St. Edward Street, the cost to be paid by the Dominion Department of Public Works.

Another ordered that the municipal meat inspector observe all municipal, provincial and federal by-laws covering the sale of horse meat to protect the population.

Horse meat sales also came in for attention later in the evening when Ald. Leo Cadorette gave notice of a by-law to prohibit the sale of horse meat within the city limits. This is expected to meet an early death, legal opinion being that such a by-law was ultra vires of the council.

Notice of two other by-laws was also given, one to establish the 1952 tax rate at the existing 10 1/2 mill level with an additional 1/2 mill sewer tax on improved streets. The other provides for the city purchase of a building in East Sherbrooke for a local industry that plans to expand its operations.

Ald. Eugene Thibault was named pro-mayor for the current three-month term.

A resolution protesting an article in a national magazine on Sherbrooke was passed, the sponsors, Aldermen Thibault and Leclerc, claiming it is full of inaccuracies.

Quiz Features Meeting Of Lions Club

The Sherbrooke Lions Club last evening observed District Governor's night with a quiz program on this officer.

Edgar Stracchino asked the questions and many fines were imposed on members who were unable to give the correct answers.

Plans for a zone meeting to be held next Sunday were discussed and committees were appointed to make arrangements for the meeting.

A dinner on Sunday night will be addressed by Walter C. Fisher, past president of Lions International.

A Chinese auction, for a prize donated by Emile Elias, was won by J. A. Bourgeois, who later auctioned his trophy, with Dr. Georges Saine being the ultimate winner.

A quiz on the city of Sherbrooke, organized by program chairman L. P. Brousseau, was adjourned to the next meeting.

President Alberic Julien presided and with him at the head table were Gerard Monfette, Charles Parkin, Georges Lemire, Henri Le Gagnon, Alex Allard, Philippe Dion and Armand Morrisette.

Because of the zone meeting on Sunday there will be no club meeting next Monday.

Vancouver, Oct. 16.—(C) —A suggestion that newspapers fully observe the three-day rest period arranged for Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh on Vancouver Island was made today by the Vancouver Daily Province.

The Province reproduced on its front page a message sent to Walter S. Thompson, chief information officer on the Royal tour, by Torchy Anderson, editor of the Province.

The message reads: "Because of the tremendous strain on Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip, the Vancouver Daily Province suggests that scheduled three-day holiday on Vancouver Island be Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Oct. 23-24-25 to be real holiday. If you so arrange this newspaper glad to cancel all coverage plans this holiday period and accept official news releases and pictures from official source. Believe all newspapers and public would gladly co-operate to make island visit a real holiday. Certainly one well earned. Your views would be appreciated."

Mossadegh Will

installment of his speech attacking British handling of oil in Iran.

Today's session is scheduled for 3 p.m. EST.

Mossadegh appeared before a jammed Council session yesterday. He spoke for almost 15 minutes in forceful, emphatic French before turning over to an aide the burden of his hour-long argument that Britain has exploited the south Iran oil fields, and that the oil dispute is no business of the Security Council.

For the crowded chamber and the United States television audience, Mossadegh displayed none of the emotional outburst which characterized his speeches at home. He read his prepared statement slowly and calmly. There was not a tear, not a faint.

Mossadegh said he will speak today on a revised resolution Britain has submitted calling for new talks. Britain withdrew an earlier resolution implying censure of Iran.

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said he will have to wait for Mossadegh's new statement before he can present his final argument.

Jebb said of Mossadegh's accusations against the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company that "some are false, some are exaggerated." He also denied the Iranian's charges that Britain used force against Iran.

A handshake meeting between Jebb and Mossadegh arranged by Sec-Gen. Trygve Lie in his office after the session, failed to make peace.

An Iranian spokesman said earlier that Iran will take part in new talks with British representatives only to discuss indemnities due the nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and continued purchase of Iranian oil by Britain.

seizing Nepal, Hyderabad and Kashmir by force. He said Pakistan never would accept Kashmir as part of India and he would shed his own blood to defend his country.

The sixteen persons who went on trial last June accused of plotting against the Liaquat government included Maj-Gen. Akbar Khan, former army chief of staff. The outcome of the secret trial has not been made public.

Authoritative sources said the plotters, 13 military men and three civilians, planned with the aid of a "foreign power" to arrest Liaquat Ali and other top Pakistani government officials, and then tell the nation of 70,000,000 population of the change to a military regime. After this the informants said the plotters intended to launch a military campaign in Kashmir.

Violence Flares

foreign demonstrations in Egypt hailed the approval last night by a cheering parliament of legislation ordering Britain out of the Suez Canal area and the Sudan.

A crowd of more than 50,000 greeted Prime Minister Mustapha El Nahas Pasha as he arrived in Cairo after taking the parliamentary acts to King Farouk in Alexandria for signature.

Strong police forces had to extricate the Prime Minister from the great crowd.

Demonstrators paraded through Cairo and Alexandria, shouting "Down with the Americans" down with the United States dollar," as well as anti-British, anti-French and anti-Turkish slogans.

In Alexandria a private car was overturned. There were reports of a strike of 3,000 Egyptian workers on the British air base at Abu Sueir, in the canal area.

The Doctor Says:

IT IS IMPORTANT TO CATCH SKIN CANCER IN EARLY STAGES

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

A reader wants to know just how skin cancer looks in its first stage. This is an excellent question since cancer of the skin and certain kinds of skin disorders which precede it are readily visible to anyone and their early identification and treatment can save untold trouble later on.

Any sore on the skin—around the mucous membranes of the lips, near the eyes or anywhere else—which does not heal as quickly as one thinks it should ought to be considered suspicious.

If the skin has a lump or ulcer you should give yourself a break and let the doctor look at it. Some of these sores or lumps will be cancer and they are so easy to get rid of when they are small and may be so difficult to cure after they have grown a while that there is no sense in delay. There are also some skin conditions which may lead eventually to cancer and therefore should be watched, even if not treated, so that they can be attacked at the first sign of cancerous change.

The most important of these are the scaly brown or black patches which are quite common in elderly people and are usually located on the parts of the skin most exposed to the sun and air. These patches are called keratoses.

Keratoses are not cancerous when they start though they so often develop in that direction that it is sometimes—but not always—a good idea to remove them.

There are two things which always seem wise, however. One is to watch them for if they grow, it may be a danger signal. The other is that persons who show a tendency to develop these patches should try to protect their skin as much as possible from exposure to sun.

A little common sense about taking precautions can save a lot of grief. The patches of keratosis can be cut out or treated by X-rays or the electric needle, if necessary, the choice of method depending on size, location, and most of all, the judgment of the physician.

The actual skin cancers, too, can be treated by surgery, X-ray, radium or combinations of these. If the patient has not been careless about letting some warning sign run on too long, the results from skin cancer are not to be greatly feared.

FUNNY BUSINESS

By Hershberger

"Dear, I'm afraid they won't be satisfied till you let them scalp your toupees!"

Harland and Gary Lauer being the winners.

The president then called upon the new High School principal, Mr. Frank Trecartin, who took as the subject of his address, "There's Magic in a Goal." The importance of a student choosing and attaining his objective was stressed. "A goal is a good thing, it always steadies one," The principal reported on a recent survey, which had been made in grades 8, 9, 10 and 11, as regards the work to be taken up by the various students following their graduation. Among the different lines of work chosen were nursing and teaching among the girls, insurance investigator, mechanic, carpenter, farmer, R.C.M.P., aeronautical engineer, Diesel engineer, among the boys.

It should be within the scope of High Schools throughout the country to provide courses which will meet the needs of all. At the present time High School education is of a fundamental type, which does not meet adequately the needs of the scholars. For those who wish to go on to college the course provides courses to obtain college entrance, but for those students who wish to go on with trades or business, little or no provisions are made in the present High School curriculum to meet their needs. There is a great need for a wider course of study, in order that a more varied course be provided to meet the needs of all, not only a limited class, as is the case at the present. A discussion period followed Mr. Trecartin's address. The need of specialized education was stressed, a good education is essential to meet present day conditions. Mention was made of the excellent technical schools sponsored by the government (provincial) which are being built throughout the province, and the benefits of these schools, which are not as widely known as they should be.

The minutes of the previous meeting held in April were read by the secretary, Mrs. Charles Jones, and approved as read. In the absence of the treasurer, Mr. Lloyd Harris, through illness, the financial report was given by Mr. L. Ames, who reported a balance on hand of $390.32. The proceeds from school dances, after payment of expenses were $31.32, while receipts from play ground held during the summer were $74.00 with disbursements of $120.40. The cost of the Dental Clinic sponsored by the Home and School Association for the High School students was $237.25.

Mrs. Sinclair McIntosh, program convener, reported that as the Association had been unable to have the MRT come out from Montreal, to present a play as the program for the November meeting, it was decided that local talent would present the play "Temperate Zone." For the January meeting a letter had been received from Vic Obeck, of McGill, stating that he hoped to be able to be present at this meeting and to deliver an address on sports. The guest speaker for the October meeting will be Dr. Avison of Macdonald College, who will speak on the importance of the social in community life. In December, the monthly meeting will be the Christmas concert put on by the High School students. In February, the meeting will be devoted to Health, in March, the annual fun night will be held, also a tea in connection with Education Week, in April, a concert will be held, at which the choir from St. Helen's School, Dunham, together with a boys' choir from Montreal will provide the program. The closing meeting for the season will be the annual meeting and dinner which will be held in May and will complete the activities for the season.

Mrs. McIntosh reported that Mr. Filmore Sadler, of the Summer Theatre at Knowlton, whose course in Public Speaking at the Cowansville Missisquoi Community School last winter proved so popular, plans to conduct a similar course for the benefit of the local Home and School Association. Enrollment in this has to be restricted, as it is impossible to carry on properly with a large class. Mr. Sadler has requested that the class be restricted to not more than twenty members. Those who are interested in joining the class are requested to communicate with Mrs. McIntosh, phone 625.

The school library will open on October 18, the committee in charge are Mrs. Henry Shaffer, Mrs. George Harland, Mrs. Earl Brownrigg and Mrs. McIntosh. Mrs. Clayton Campbell, R.N., Health convener, reported that 121 registered for the Dental Clinic, and that 80 went for treatments. Another child had been taken to the Eye Clinic at the Royal Victoria Hospital. The annual medical examinations were underway, with 148 pupils to be examined. Dr. Shaffer and Dr. Draper having again kindly given their services for this project.

The president reported that as a mark of appreciation from the Home and School Association, checks for $25.00 had been sent to both Dr. Shaffer and Dr. Draper for their kindness in conducting the health examinations during the past two years.

Mrs. McIntosh reported that Dr. Shaffer has returned his check of $25.00 as a donation to the Home and School Association.

The Bookmobile from the McEllan Library of McGill University will visit Bedford every four weeks. Membership fees are $2.00 for an adult and $1.00 for a child, which allows four books every four weeks. Members will be notified of the date of the Bookmobile's visit in sufficient time to allow of the bringing in of their books for exchange.

As a money-raising project, a demonstration of handicrafts will be given by a member of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild of Montreal, who will also give a talk on the work done by this organization. This will take place on Thursday evening, October 11, at eight o'clock in the High School. All of those interested in handwork or hobbies of any kind should find this a very interesting evening, and refreshments will be served. Mr. L. Ames, chairman of the Ways and Means committee is in charge of the tickets.

The principal requested that following the Thanksgiving holidays all girl students wear tunics.

The guest speaker for the evening, Dr. Charles Cahn, was then introduced by Dr. Shaffer. Dr. Cahn is a member of the staff of the Verdun Protestant Hospital and studied abroad, where he attended Oxford University and is making a brilliant record in his chosen field as a doctor. Prior to his address Dr. Cahn showed a film, "The Feeling of Hostility," showing the development of this feeling in a young child, which was accentuated by the death of her father, the re-marriage of her mother, and the subsequent birth of a brother. All of which things tended to divert the mother's attention from her young daughter, who as time went on, craved more affection and attention from her mother, which was not forthcoming. In order to compensate herself for this lack of maternal love and esteem, the girl buried herself in her studies, in which she succeeded greatly, however without attaining a well-rounded personality. Not until she met an understanding teacher at college, who took the time and effort to explain conditions to the girl, was she able to adjust herself to some extent to life around her. Although she was clever and able to carry on well in the business world, social contacts always remained difficult for her. Dr. Cahn pointed out how, if the right methods had been used by the mother in the formative years of the girl's life, how much better and happier the girl would have been.

Among certain traits developed in children by the lack of affection, were stealing. One stole to obtain money to buy candy and gifts for other children to obtain popularity, to compensate for the lack in the home atmosphere. Over-eating is done as compensation for the same lack. On the other hand the results of too much affection and attention from the parents are just as bad for children. Over-protection and anxiety tends to stifle children's initiative, making them shy and dependent. Aggression is a good characteristic, when used along proper and constructive lines. As an example of dependent children, the cases of those living behind the Iron Curtain were cited, all children are taken to day nurseries, where they are taught to look upon Stalin in the light of Santa Claus, from whom all gifts and treats come. One of the great problems of tomorrow, when this present generation of children are grown, will be the results of their present day training, with their great admiration for authority, which has weakened their moral fibre and which will produce a generation of weaklings, one which will depend upon those in authority for guidance and direction, with no ideas of their own. A generation brought up with a training in direct contrast to those in the free world, with different ideals and aims.

Parents should not show too much concern about language used by their children, as in some cases the children do not realize the meaning of the word used, and in other cases, children who dearly love to be the centre of attraction use these words in order to get the attention of their parents even if the attention results in punishment.

Children are quick to sense unease in their parents and will try to do their best to allay the situation. Too many commands are bad for children, but a show of firmness of the part of the parents is needed, and is a relief to the children, who feel that their parents have their best interests at heart.

The discussion period which followed the showing of the film was most worthwhile. Dr. Cahn was untiring in his effort to give a clear and logical answer to the various problems presented to him. Mrs. Alex MacArthur moved a hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Cahn for his kindness in coming to the Home and School Association meeting and for his most interesting and friendly attitude to the many problems presented for his consideration. The president announced that as one of the three representatives to the Regional Council of the Home and School Association from each Association branch resigned yearly, and that Mrs. McIntosh had tendered her resignation, nominations were called for a member to replace Mrs. McIntosh. Mr. L. Ames being chosen.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served, the members of the executive serving as hostesses, Mrs. Malcolm McCaw, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. Eric Kemp, Mrs. Clayton Campbell, Mrs. Alex MacArthur, Mrs. Lloyd Harris, Mrs. Gordon Jones, Mrs. Roy Cook, Mrs. R. S. McIntosh, Mrs. L. Ames, Miss May Scott and Mrs. Richard Craighhead.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rintoul were in Montreal on Sunday to visit their little son, Stephen Lindop, at the Alexandra Hospital where he is making progress in the miraculous convalescence from meningitis which he developed in August, 1950.

Following the evening service at the Church of the Advent on Sunday, the congregation met in the Parish Hall for a social gathering at which Rev. Canon E. K. Moffatt gave a most interesting talk on his recent trip to Palestine. Later in the evening presentations were made to Miss Barbara Wark, organist of the church, who is leaving shortly to study dramatics in New York, Rev. Lorne Myers and Mr. John Pearce, who have rendered valuable assistance in the church and Sunday-school work, the presentations being made by Canon Moffatt, Morris Lemay and James Wark. At the close of the social hour, the ladies of the Guilds served refreshments.

Novel new treatments of shape, fabric and trims combine to make this season's galaxy of gloves more eye-appealing than ever.

Asymmetrical draping and cuff effects give new gloves a dramatic outline this Fall, with the high-lighted focal point at the side, achieved by "dress up" touches of piping, lacing, fagoting and novel French knot embroidery.

Luxurious crushed velvet and rich satin are used in longer styles shown for cocktail time and later. Also featured for more casual occasions are wide varieties of short-it string gloves. This season many appear with elasticized roll back cuffs or generous fur trim.

A new trick or two in glove trimming is the use of contrasting lace lacing from the tip of the little finger to the cuff, removable cuffs to complement different outfits and amusing "shoe buttons" for a bit of whimsy.

Immunization Means Freedom From Disease, Fears, Costs, Doctor Says

Toronto. — As Canada's ninth annual National Immunization Week gets under way, Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the Health League of Canada, points out that safe, simple immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox means more than protection against three deadly diseases. Immunization gives parents peace of mind.

"Immunization is a vital part of the public health program not only because it can effectively prevent the occurrence of diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox, but also because it removes the eternal anxiety of parents—at least on these three scores," said Dr. Bates.

"Consider, too, what it saves in terms of money—parents' and taxpayers' alike."

Average length of hospitalization for diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox may run from two to four weeks, tying up hospital beds, staff and facilities, and costing parents certainly not less than one hundred dollars and probably a good deal more.

"All of this—the anxiety, the risk of death, and the expense—can be prevented simply by taking the youngster to a public immunization clinic or to the private physician for immunization shots," declared Dr. Bates. "It's just ridiculous that every child in the country is not already immunized. Neglect of this sure preventive is scarcely short of criminal."

Yet the neglect continues at an alarming rate.

Last year there were 305 deaths resulting from 12,182 unnecessary cases of whooping cough; and 49 deaths from 421 cases of preventable diphtheria, according to Health League records. Among all the contagious diseases, whooping cough continues as the leading cause of death in children under one year of age in Canada.

"No one questions for a moment the desirability of saving children's lives and medical science has provided the means of doing this," summed up Dr. Bates. "And yet Canadian parents continue to let their children go along without the sure protection of immunization. Hence the necessity for our continual promotion of the idea of immunization. Hence National Immunization Week."

Toxoiding Can Prevent Tetanus

One of the most serious of the infectious diseases, tetanus (or lockjaw), need never occur, points out the National Immunization committee of the Health League of Canada. But it does continue to produce agonizing death every year, despite the availability of a 100 per cent effective preventive.

"Tetanus is completely preventable by toxoiding," states the Health League's immunization authorities. "It is a disease that should only be of historic interest in these enlightened times. Nevertheless, each year in every province of Canada, children die from this condition. There is a continuing need for vigilance on the part of health organizations to publicize the necessity of universal immunization."

Tetanus is caused by the poison from a germ which usually enters the body through a site of injury such as that produced by compound fractures, fireworks, embedded splinters, puncture wounds, insect bites and burns. Symptoms usually appear from one day to three months after the entrance of the germs into the body. The disease follows an agonizing course and produces a very high fatality rate.

Prevention of tetanus should begin with routine immunization of every infant with tetanus toxoid. This is now frequently combined with diphtheria and whooping cough vaccine. This procedure should be commenced at three to six months of age, and it consists of a series of three injections, given one month apart, plus a fortifying injection three months after the primary immunization, another one year later, and another two years later.

"It is only necessary to be confronted with the care of one patient with tetanus to realize how vitally important it is that this disease be completely eradicated," writes Dr. C. S. Anglin of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, in HEALTH magazine. "It is because of the persistent occurrence of cases of tetanus that public health campaigns are still necessary to attract the attention of every citizen to the seriousness of this disease and the complete protection afforded by tetanus toxoid."

"The ready availability of this protection for every infant, child and adult obtainable in any physician's office or at child health centres, should be taken advantage of by every member of the community. With the co-operation of the entire population in this campaign, in a few months tetanus can be reduced to a position of medical historic interest only."

Whooping Cough Is Worst Killer

Whooping cough causes more deaths each year in Canada than diphtheria, measles, scarlet fever, or poliomyelitis, and among children under two years of age deaths from whooping cough exceed those from these four other diseases combined. This startling statement is made by the Health League of Canada to point up the dramatic need for immunization against whooping cough.

"Of the various infectious diseases encountered today, whooping cough presents the chief problem from the standpoint of reduction in mortality," a medical spokesman for the Health League summed up. "It is in the younger age group that the high mortality in whooping cough occurs. Eighty-five to ninety per cent of deaths from this disease occur before the third year of life, and more than half of the total whooping cough deaths occur in infants under one year."

The whooping cough mortality rate increases in winter when broncho-pneumonia is more prevalent, and in summer when intestinal upsets are common. The disease is particularly hard on youngsters who are debilitated, delicate and poorly nourished, or who may be living in poverty or under unfavorable home conditions.

Whooping cough is present in most communities the year round, but in Canada it shows a definite increase in early winter. The disease may attack any man, woman or child, from two weeks of age into advanced years; but those mainly affected are under five years of age. It is an extremely contagious disease—75 to 90 per cent of infants and children intimately exposed to a case will become infected if they have not had the disease or been immunized. One attack of whooping cough usually protects the person for life; but second attacks have been known.

"Because of the seriousness of whooping cough as a leading cause of death and also because of its after-effects, the elimination of this disease is one of the main objectives of National Immunization Week," observed Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the Health League. "We are fortunate to have readily available a safe vaccine which is itself harmless and which provides protection in more than 80 per cent of children to whom it is administered. In the minority of children who may not be rendered 100 per cent immune by the whooping cough vaccine, the disease, if contracted is much milder."

Whooping cough vaccine is now available in a preparation combining it with diphtheria and tetanus toxoids. This makes it possible to secure triple immunity with a single series of injections, saving time and trips to the doctor's office or immunization clinic.

Alexander Calls On Parents To Have Children Immunized For Protection

Ottawa. — On the opening of Canada's ninth annual National Immunization Week, October 14 to 20, His Excellency the Governor General issued the following statement from Government House:

"I desire to direct the attention of the people of Canada to the importance of National Immunization Week. The object of this campaign is to impress upon everyone the importance of taking protective measures against three major menaces which threaten the children of Canada. These are: Diphtheria, Whooping Cough and Smallpox."

"National Immunization Week, an annual event sponsored by the Health League of Canada, in co-operation with official Departments of Health, to be successful, requires the co-operation particularly of parents."

"In urging this co-operation I warmly commend the Health League of Canada in its efforts to provide means whereby thousands of young Canadians, boys and girls, can be safeguarded from the source of these diseases."

Diphtheria Still Kills Unnecessarily

Toronto. — Despite a marked reduction in the number of deaths from diphtheria among Canadian children in recent years (from 1,281 deaths in 1924 to 49 in 1950), diphtheria continues to play an important part in the mortality figures of most countries. It deserves more attention from the public than it sometimes receives, according to Dr. C. S. Anglin of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

"During World War II the leading epidemic disease on the European Continent, both from the standpoint of the number of people affected and the number of deaths, was diphtheria," reported Dr. Anglin in HEALTH magazine.

"The fight against diphtheria in this country has been so successful that many Canadians may never have heard of anyone they knew suffering from it. In spite of this, however, diphtheria is still with us, bringing suffering and

Nothing To Lose, Everything To Gain, Says Health Minister Of Immunization

Ottawa. — "There is nothing to lose by immunization, but everything to gain—your child's health, possibly his very life!" emphasized National Health and Welfare Minister Paul Martin in backing up the Health League of Canada's ninth annual National Immunization Week.

In a special moving picture short being shown across Canada during National Immunization Week, October 14 to 20, the Minister of National Health and Welfare puts the case strongly in favor of immunization as a safe and simple protection against diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox.

"You can save your child from the menace of these diseases through early immunization," he tells parents. "Because these contagious and frequently fatal ailments can be prevented, it becomes the parents' responsibility to safeguard their children."

"The best time to have your child immunized is in his very first year. Don't put it off. Don't gamble with the life of your little one. Take him to your doctor or health clinic NOW!"

"Medical science has done a truly wonderful job in developing and improving immunization," said Mr. Martin. "It's up to each and every parent to see that his child receives its benefits."

Quarter Century Club Banquet At Asbestos

Asbestos, Oct. 16. — At the Quarter Century Club Banquet, given by the Canadian Johns-Manville Company, where fifty men received suitably engraved watches, having completed twenty-five years service with the company, Miss Anne Morrison, of the C.J.

M. office staff received her watch, with a special word of commendation from Mr. A. R. Fisher, president of the Johns-Manville Corporation, who made reference to the fact that Miss Morrison was the first woman from Asbestos office staff to serve the company for twenty-five years and thanked her for her untiring devotion to duty. The following afternoon, Miss Morrison was given a surprise party at the Main Office. She was asked by Mr. C. M. McGaw to stay a short while overtime and take some notes at a special meeting in the Conference Room. Miss Morrison was very much surprised to find the room full of fellow workers to greet her. She was presented with a handsome handbag, and when examining the inside of the bag, found a coin purse containing sixty dollars. Mr. McGaw then presented her with a jewel case containing a fine gold expansion bracelet for the watch received the previous night.

Although taken completely by surprise, Miss Morrison thanked everyone present for their wonderful gifts.

After congratulations were extended by all, a delicious buffet lunch was served. The table had a three storey cake, decorated in white and silver, with a silver 25 on top for centerpiece, surrounded by flowers and candles, and all kinds of cookies and cakes, together with assorted sandwiches.

Later the new film produced by Canadian Johns-Manville, was shown and enjoyed by all, bringing the surprise entertainment to an end.

Follow These Coke Rules for Warmth & Economy

1. Always fill the firebox as full as you can. A deep fire (a) applies more heat to sidewalls of furnace; (b) circulates more hot air; (c) burns steadier—easier to control; (d) needs less attention.

2. Coke needs less draft than coal. Draft settings vary with each furnace. A little experimenting will prove the most efficient positions to set your smoke-pipe damper and cold-air check. Bottom draft-door should be open only when you want quick heat.

3. Lasalle Coke makes so little ash that hard shaking of grates is not necessary. Use poker to loosen ash, then if you must—shake grates very gently.

In the morning and at night:—

1. Open key damper, close air check, clean fire with poker.
2. Shake grates gently until red glow appears in ashpit.
3. Add a few shovels of Coke and open bottom draft.

Then, when fire is burning briskly:—

1. Fill fire-pot as full as you can.
2. Close bottom draft door.
3. Nearly close key damper. Set cold-air check according to temperature you require.

Good Photography depends on NICKEL

Hundreds of everyday uses for Nickel have been developed by the Nickel industry through a planned program of research. Today a large share of Canada's Nickel production is being diverted from peacetime uses into channels for preparedness. So the Nickel mine facilities, greatly expanded over the past decade, are again being operated at peak capacity. There is actually more Nickel now being delivered by Canada to the free world than in any peacetime year.

CANADIAN NICKEL

"The Romance of Nickel" a 60-page book fully illustrated, will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

In the drums used in drying photographic film, nickel alloys are used to give long wear and resistance to chemical corrosion.

In the tanks, trays and washers used in processing black and white or color film, nickel alloys give high resistance to corrosion by developing and fixing solutions.

A capacity crowd saw the game, marked by one of the roughest first periods of hockey ever played at the Charlottetown Forum.

A total of 16 penalties were handed out in the first 20 minutes, four of them majors.

Larry Frechette in the Halifax net and Hal Gordon of the Islanders both turned in magnificent jobs. Frechette was particularly brilliant in the final session when he kicked aside 19 shots.

The Islanders outshot Saints 39-23. Halifax led a practically new team from that of last year. Defensively they were very strong, while their forwards were light but fast and smart.

The Islanders outplayed the Saints in the last two periods but could not break through the armor of Frechette and his defence. In the final period the Islanders controlled most of the play as Halifax strove desperately and successfully to maintain their one-goal lead.

From the opening whistle there was evidence that fists and blood would be flung before too long. Halifax had the first shot on goal when Hal Gordon turned aside a long blueline shot about the one-minute mark.

Defenceman Orville Kelly of the Saints drew first penalty at the 45-second mark. Within three minutes six men had followed him to sinners bin and Kelly himself was back at the 3:16 mark.

At 8:55 with Islanders a man short centre Watson struck for his goal. He picked up a loose puck at centre, slipped over the Islanders' blueline, skirted a lone defenceman and backhanded a low shot into the twines for the marker that proved the margin of victory.

As the bell rang to end the first period a minor donnybrook broke out in the Islanders end of the rink. Johnny Morrow and Keating started to mix it up and Johnny Morrow, Dutchak and Keating went at it while Morrow and Fred Weaver engaged in another struggle.

The second period was much quieter with only one penalty being handed out — to Vitale.

At the 19:20 mark of the third period another fight broke out with Vitale, Bellringer and Pearson drawing majors. Danny Wilkes followed them to sin bin 10 seconds later.

With 25 seconds to go Islanders Coach Lamoureux yanked goalie Gordon and the teams played four men a side but the Islanders could not get by Frechette.

Cop Two Of Three Games Played To Tie Canadiens For Top Spot; Terry Sawchuk Leads Goalties

Montreal, Oct. 16.—(P)—High-light of the opening week's play in the 1951-52 National Hockey League season has been the performance of Chicago's Black Hawks, now deadlocked for top spot in the league standings with Montreal Canadiens.

The Hawks, who finished last season in sixth place, have won two of their first three games and much credit for this turn-about from last season's form goes to George Gee whose two goals and three assists give him a first place tie.

Chicago, bolstered by an off-season acquisition of strength, mostly from Detroit Red Wings, has scored eight goals, only one less than Canadiens, tops to date in that department.

Canadiens and Hawks, each of whom have played three games, have two victories against one defeat for four points. This is two more than Toronto Maple Leafs, Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins. The Leafs and Wings have each won one and lost one while Boston has won one and dropped two.

New York Rangers occupy the cellar, having dropped their opening encounter, 3-2 to the Hawks.

Tied with Gee for the first place in the individual race are Montreal's Bert Olmstead and Elmer Lach, each of whom has counted once and scored four assists.

Next comes Canadiens' perennial threat, Maurice (Rocket) Richard with three goals and one assist for four points. He is followed by Tod Sloan of the Leafs who has three goals to his credit.

Also with three points are Adam Brown of Boston, Jim Pettersen of Chicago and Sid Smith of Toronto.

Terry Sawchuk of Detroit has the best record among the goal-tenders. He has allowed three goals in two games for a 1.50 goals-against average and is the only netminder to date with a shutout in his credit. This came in the first game of the season as the Wings blanked Boston 1-0.

Boston Bruins are the most penalized team in the circuit with 40 minutes while individual bad-man honours go to Bernie Geoffrion, of Canadiens, who has spent 18 minutes in the penalty box.

Five Managers Testify In Boxing Investigation

New York, Oct. 16.—(P)—Five boxing managers testified yesterday before the Federal Grand Jury who is investigating professional boxing and possible violations of anti-trust laws by the International Boxing Club.

Bill Daly, manager of heavyweight Lee Savoldi, and Hymie Walman, manager of heavyweight Cesar Brion and former National Boxing Association Welterweight Champion Johnny Bratton, made their second appearances before the jury.

The three new witnesses were Max Waxman, business manager of Jack Dempsey, Tex Sullivan, manager of heavyweight Lee Oma, and Joe Wella, manager of a former light heavyweight champion, Gus Lesnevich.

Rocky Marciano Gets In A Little Extra Work

Greenwood Lake, N.Y., Oct. 16.—(P)—Rocky Marciano, training for his Oct. 28 heavyweight fight with Joe Louis, got in some extra road work yesterday — because of a snake.

Marciano encountered a poisonous copperhead while walking along a mountain path near his quarters here. The snake was killed by Al Columbo, his trainer.

Columbo later commented: "The Rock did five extra miles of road work — before we could catch him."

CARTIER SCORES FAST WIN OVER RINDONE

Boston, Oct. 16.—(P)—Walter Cartier, New York contender for the world middleweight boxing title, needed only 48 seconds to gain a one-round knockout over Joe Rindone of Boston in their scheduled 10-round feature bout last night at the Boston Garden. Cartier weighed 162; Rindone 163½.

LiMaggio Leaves For Japan Still Undecided

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—(P)—Joe DiMaggio's status as a baseball player has not been decided and, the Yankee Star emphasized yesterday, he is not going to make up his mind finally until his return from Japan.

The outfielder, now in the twilight of his career, made this clear as he climbed aboard a plane at San Francisco's International Airport.

DiMaggio is flying to Japan with Lefty O'Doul's All-Star aggregation of professional ball players.

A story from New York Oct. 12 said DiMaggio had definitely made up his mind to retire. Asked about this, the outfielder explained he told club president Dan Topping that he had made his decision.

Topping asked DiMaggio to "think it over" and the San Franciscoan agreed to do so.

Jackie Gibson Stars As Moncton Upsets Millionaires In Opener

Sydney, N.S., Oct. 16.—(P)—Jackie Gibson, the ex-Sydney goalie, tonight to spark Moncton Hawks to a 4-2 win over Millionaires in the opening game of the Maritime Major Hockey League.

The new goalie for Johnny Horeck's Hawks was injured in the third period and received a thundering ovation when he returned after treatment.

Horeck, formerly of the championship Charlottetown Islanders, was jubilant over the showing of his squad.

"We just gave the big shots a half-wummy," he said. "The next time out we may give them the full treatment."

Hawks shot into the lead in the closing minutes of the opening period and were never behind after that.

Their opening marker came at 16:20 of that period and then they added another at 5:20 of the second before Sydney replied a little less than three minutes later.

Moncton added another within a matter of seconds to make it 3-1. Millionaires replied two minutes later and then Hawks put it in the bag with a safety shot at 18:26.

For an opening game, it was good. Eleven penalties were handed out.

Glac Bay Miners Of New Major League Use Youth As Yardstick

Glac Bay, N.S., Oct. 16.—(P)—Glac Bay Miners have two objectives, outside of championship thoughts, as they open their Maritime Major League campaign: beat Sydney Millionaires and make their financial critics eat crow.

With youth as the preliminary yardstick, Miners are being fashioned into a battling crew by Norman (Bud) Poile, the Port Arthur, Ont., dandy whose blistering shot was a bane of N.H.L. goalkeepers for seven years.

Miners finished last season with a $14,000 deficit and a definite edict from the hockey directors that they would keep "hands off" major hockey competition this year.

Sydney Millionaires appeared alone as Cape Breton's representatives in the Maritimes' first real major hockey hook up until mid-August when John Xidos, Glac Bay business man, began organizing a new club solely out of contributions in a share-selling campaign.

Glac Bay, with $10,000 as its objective, canvassed the sprawling coal mining area and received unsolicited offers from far and near—even from the "enemy" Sydney territory.

The club then approached Poile, 26-year-old mentor of Tulsa Oilers in the United States League last year, and he came to terms for a salary estimated at $7,000.

Poile figures he can do better with the $2,400 that the club spent weekly last year than has been done.

Allie Reynolds Has Bone Chip On Elbow

New York, Oct. 16.—(P)—New York Yankees announced yesterday that pitcher Allie Reynolds' arm had been examined by Dr. George Beasly in Baltimore but no decision was made on whether an operation would be necessary.

Reynolds, who pitched two no-hitters for the World Champions this year, has a bone chip in his right elbow.

Leo Reise Undergoes Minor Ankle Operation

Detroit, Oct. 16.—(P)—Leo Reise, defenceman for Detroit Red Wings, underwent an ankle operation yesterday at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said afterwards Reise was resting comfortably and the operation wasn't as serious as first believed. A fluid sac on Reise's right ankle tendon was removed.

Reise will miss at least three more Red Wing games.

N.Y. State Racing Body Rejects Meade

New York, Oct. 16.—(P)—The New York State Racing Commission refused again yesterday to issue a jockey's licence to Don Meade, who was ruled off the turf at the Hipodromo De Las Americas track in Mexico City in 1945.

Meade announced he would take the matter to the courts.

The Racing Commission, which gave Meade a hearing here Sept. 27, said in its decision "his participation in racing would not be consistent with the public interest or with the best interests of racing generally."

The jockey, who has been suspended and in trouble in many States during his stormy career, had been charged with foul riding in Mexico.

Five Riders Draw Sentences For Dope

Baltimore, Oct. 16.—(P)—Three jockeys and two exercise riders were among seven men sentenced to prison terms yesterday on charges growing out of parties at which "teen-age girls were given narcotics."

Judge Joseph Sherbow said the circumstances of one case involving a 17-year-old schoolgirl were "too sordid to be repeated."

Charles Richardson, 28-year-old Negro exercise rider at race tracks, drew 10 years.

Three-year terms were given Robert Williams, 22-year-old former exercise rider, James McDermott, 20-year-old Wen Cove, N.Y. jockey, and Frank Novella, 21, Lawrence, Mass. jockey.

Thomas Kane, 20, another jockey from Baltimore, was sentenced to two years and Wilford Dion, 18-year-old exercise boy, and Albert Rice, 19, to 18 months.

Clark Griffith, Owner Of Senators, Testifies Before Special Committee Regarding Baseball And Anti-Trust

Washington, Oct. 16.—(P)—Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, told Congress yesterday he once violated baseball's controversial reserve clause—and thereby helped found the American League.

But, Griffith said, he favors hanging the penalty on any player or who does today what he did in 1901.

The penalty now: the player would be barred from the league for five years.

Griffith expressed his views to a House of Representatives Judiciary Sub-committee which is trying to find out whether baseball violates the anti-trust laws.

It has been particularly interested in the reserve clause. This, in effect, binds the player to stay with the team with which he first signs.

Yesterday's hearing wandered all over the outfield, from the woes of playing in the minors to the troubles of an umpire.

But Griffith's story seemed to interest the Committee the most. Griffith was a star-pitcher for the National League before he jumped to the new American League in 1901. He said he feels his move was justified, because, he said, baseball was dying for want of competition.

But the 82-year-old, and still vigorous, owner of the Washington Senators, supported the reserve clause wholeheartedly, in spite of the way he flouted it 50 years ago.

"We can't have players jumping from one league to another," he said. "It would destroy baseball."

Other developments today: 1. The Sub-Committee disclosed it possessed a mysterious secret document purportedly written in 1946 by Larry MacPhail, then an owner of New York Yankees.

All but two copies of this document were destroyed. Not only that. But the document was watered down, and some of the rough spots were cut out. Every copy of this milder version apparently has been destroyed, too.

In general, the MacPhail document is critical of the baseball set-up and urged changes in its structure.

2. Al Widmar, a St. Louis Browns pitcher and one time hold-out, suggested that players should be given the right to set up a guild to handle salary disputes.

3. Ernie Stewart, a onetime American League umpire, said he lost his job when caught in a cross-fire between former high Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler and the League president, Will Harridge.

Stewart testified he was discharged by Harridge in 1945 after he undertook to sound out fellow umpires on their salaries and working conditions, at the direction of Chandler.

Joe Louis Still Aiming For Return Match For Title; May Meet Charles At Miami In February In Big Fight

Pompton Lakes, N.J., Oct. 16.—(P)—Joe Louis is training for his Oct. 26 fight with Rocky Marciano but his sights are set on Ezzard Charles.

The old Brown Bomber is not underestimating the undefeated Brockton better. He's working as hard for Rocky as he ever did for any major mix, but it's obvious that Joe is confident he'll teach Rocky a lesson.

Old Joe, he's 37, is hoping to get his return crack at Charles, the former heavyweight champion, in Miami in February. However, the match is only in the talking stage right now.

"Jim Norris (president of the International Boxing Club) spoke to me about fighting Charles in Miami this February," said Joe at his training camp. "I'd like that."

Louis is hoping that a win over Marciano and Charles will get him a title shot with Jersey Joe Walcott even though Ezzard has a contract for a championship fight with Walcott.

Getting back his old crown is an obsession with Joe. He has put aside all plans for a second retirement until he gets another shot.

"Long as either Walcott or Charles is champion, I'm going to keep chasing," said the Bomber.

"Of course if some 23-year-old kid comes along and wins the title somehow, then I guess I'll have to call it quits," said Joe with a grin.

"Cause then, by the time I get a shot, my grey beard will be hanging around my knees."

Joe didn't say how any of the youngsters around could muscle his way into a title crack. As of today, Walcott doesn't plan to defend his crown until June.

Walcott will be 38 officially in January. And Charles, at 30, is just a baby. This three-way battle could go on for years.

Marciano, of course, could ruin all of Joe's hopes in Madison Square Garden.

The bookmakers think Joe is in for a busy evening. Right now Louis is favored at only 7 to 5. If he goes in that low, it will be the shorest price ever for a Louis fight.

Rhubarb Develops In Soviet Union Circles

Moscow, Oct. 16.—(P)—A sports rhubarb rocked the Soviet Union yesterday.

On street corners, in barber shops, on buses, there was just one subject of conversation — and it had nothing to do with the atom bomb.

It was: "Was Referee Latyshev right or wrong in disqualifying the Kalinin soccer football team's tying goal in the National Championship game Sunday?"

JOIN THE NAVY — A MAN'S LIFE

The Navy Is Not Just A Job... It Is A Way Of Life

The intelligent young man looks for a career in which he will be happy. For those who can live up to Navy standards, the Royal Canadian Navy offers an attractive lifetime career with many features and benefits not available to civilians ashore. However, the Navy is not a soft touch: the going will often be tough and living conditions hard. It's a man's life in the Navy, and to the right man it provides a satisfying and secure profession.

There is a steady job in which his income and skill can consistently improve... with opportunity to retire on pension while still a comparatively young man... with clothing and housing... free medical and dental care provided... there's a month's annual leave with pay... and opportunity to travel... But—more than that—a Naval career gives the satisfaction that comes from serving one's country in the honored uniform of the Royal Canadian Navy.

The Navy is not just a job—it is a way of life that combines adventure, good comradeship, travel, continuing education, with economic security. To the right man, the R.C.N. offers happiness and satisfaction—pride in himself, his service and his country.

Recreational, Social and Educational
Health is essential to efficiency and the R.C.N. places much stress on the physical and recreational program for its men. Inter-ship rivalry exists in all sports. R.C.N. teams often take part in provincial and Canadian playdowns. Also, to further the education of its men, the Navy makes provision through its Educational Officers to hold regular classes and special tutoring. Freedom of worship, of course, is part of the Navy's tradition.

Basic and Advanced Training
New entry training, covering a 21-week period, is a general introduction to Navy life and the elementary practice of the service. Then comes 30 days' leave; followed by sea-training on board ships of the Navy to learn all about ship's routine, seamanship and other subjects. Finally, you begin specialist training, if possible in the technical branch which you have selected.

There are many skilled trades with opportunity for advancement.
The modern Navy is complex and intricate and requires skilled tradesmen for specialists' jobs. The Navy has first class schools and training centres to train its men in a wide variety of specialties. These trades provide a man with the opportunity to improve himself and earn additional pay and advancement.

IF YOU ARE BETWEEN 17 and 30 You Can Become a SAILOR

The Navy's Job

When you join the Navy you become a member of the Service whose job is to defend our seaborne trade... vital to Canada's permanent prosperity.

Over one third of Canada's trade is foreign trade. Today, in peacetime, Canada trades goods and produce with over 60 different countries. A huge proportion of this trade is carried by sea.

In war the defence of sea-borne traffic is vital to victory. Armies and air forces in distant lands, and those who stand with them, depend on the safe passage of ships for their life and strength. The Navy's job is to make that passage safe. There is no substitute for ships in this all important job.

The carrying capacity of 60 ten-thousand-ton ships = 240 large freight trains
or = 60,000 large trucks
or = 120,000 four-engined aircraft.

You see how vital the Navy is! You see how permanent is the Navy's job!

When you join the Royal Canadian Navy, you become a member of a proud service with a great tradition and a solid future for YOU.

For the Young Man who can Qualify "IT'S A MAN'S LIFE"

You'll make new friends and take part in health-giving sports with young men like yourself.

The ROYAL CANADIAN NAVY Has Advanced

September, 1939 —

A nucleus of six destroyers, three minesweepers and a few small craft, with a total permanent personnel of 1,774 backed by 2,024 reserves, provided the foundation for one of history's greatest naval expansions. Dockyard facilities were limited, yet at the outbreak of war the Navy was ready. Asked by the British Admiralty when convoy duty could be started, the Navy answered: "Immediately".

The war —

The Navy expanded to 770 ships, 378 of these fighting vessels, and a total trained personnel of 95,775 including 5,853 Wrens. Our ships fought in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, the Caribbean, Mediterranean, North and Irish Seas, the English Channel and the route to Murmansk; made safe the passage of 25,343 merchant ship voyages, delivering in the North Atlantic alone, 181,643,180 tons of vital goods from Canada and the United States to Britain.

Today —

Canada has the best equipped fleet she has ever possessed: A fine new aircraft carrier, two modern cruisers, new destroyers of the world-famous "Tribal" class, splendid frigates and escort minesweepers. The Navy's ships, planes and equipment are amongst the finest in the world. The Navy's men are in a secure, respected profession which reflects the continuing advancement of the Naval Service itself.

Today —

Alert young Canadians can find opportunity in Canada's Navy. The Navy's advance can be your advance. Canada looks to her young men to keep her strong on the sea.
