

Rotary survey shows need:

2,800 Westmounters over 65 would consider a residence

Over 16 percent, or about 2,800 of Westmount's over-65 citizens, might be willing to consider living in a residence-type facility complete with medical services, social activities and resources for creative or volunteer work, a survey has revealed.

But only a small number of seniors would be willing to forego their independence to share an apartment or room with anyone but their spouse.

These two are the most salient points to come out of a survey of residence and care needs carried out during the past six months sponsored by The Rotary Club of Westmount with the aid of a Local Initiatives Program grant.

A questionnaire answered by 262 over-65 residents of Westmount found that 57 percent were willing to consider living in a senior citizens' residence, while another 12 percent might be willing to move into one at a future date.

Musical ride, concert big centennial success

Over 5,000 spectators watched RCMP horsemen and listened to the Royal 22nd Regiment band during a gala display of music and talent last night at the Westmount athletic grounds behind Westmount High School.

Office robbed

Westmount Police patrols found the back door of an office building at 4010 St. Catherine street insecure Sunday morning at 9:45. The next day they learned that one electric and one manual typewriters had been stolen.

The show, the latest in the city's centennial celebrations, fascinated a standing-room-only crowd of Westmounters, young and old, as the horses went through precision drills while the band played old favorites of the past and present.

Mayor Paul Ouimet and several aldermen were on hand in the dignitaries' seats. The mayor received the presentation of arms from chief horseman Insp. McInnis and his musical ride troop and offered a few short words of welcome.

The show was emceed by Westmount Fire Inspector Capt. William Timmons. Maj. Jean-Francois Pierret of the Royal 22nd Regiment directed the band.

Dorval taxicab rip-off nipped

A man got into a taxi at Montreal International Airport in Dorval and asked for a ride to Westmount last Wednesday evening. The taxi driver made the trip, then informed his passenger the charge was a flat $10.

The man refused to pay, called Westmount Police who phoned the taxi company.

It was learned that cab drivers should meter rides from Dorval, and that the general rate to Westmount is about $6.50, which the man happily paid for the ride.

Garage break

Someone broke into the garage at 4269 St. Catherine street west Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, climbing through a back-alley window. They broke open various vending machines and took the cash.

Lost a watch?

A Beaconsfield resident found a watch in the centre of the Redfern avenue-Sherbrooke street intersection last Tuesday and turned it over to Westmount Police.

The watch is a children's Timex with a brown strap. Its owner can retrieve the timepiece from Sgt.-Det. Gerald McKenna at the Westmount Police station.

Roof fire at Reddy is probed

Wooden walks and platforms on the 7th-floor roof of the east wing of the Reddy Memorial Hospital caught fire Friday afternoon and were fully ablaze when the Westmount Fire Brigade was called at 5:24 pm.

The blaze was quickly doused by firemen with the aid of hospital personnel, who had hoses readied for the men when they arrived. There was no spread of the fire to the interior of the hospital; the only damage was to the platform and roof flashings.

Two mutual aid cities were called to Westmount when the fire was reported. The Outremont crew was sent home as soon as it arrived, though Hampstead firemen covered at the Westmount fire station while this city's trucks were at the hospital.

Accident or arson

"There was no reason for the fire," Westmount Deputy Fire Chief Paul E. Motard said afterward. "It could be accidental or it could be arson." The walkway was constructed for maintenance personnel to reach air conditioning and ventilation equipment on the roof.

Both the Montreal Urban Community Police arson squad and Westmount Fire Inspector Capt. William Timmons are investigating.

Tilden retrieves long-lost auto

Officials of the Alexis Nihon Plaza parking lot called Westmount Police on Saturday to find out about a car left there about three months ago, open and with the keys inside.

A lot attendant had removed the keys from inside and left a note asking the driver to pay his rent and pick up the keys, but the note had gone unanswered.

Police investigators soon learned that the 1974 beige and brown Oldsmobile hardtop was the property of Tilden Drive-Yourself, and had been reported stolen to Toronto police, where it had been rented.

Server served

Westmount's Sgt.-Det. Bruce Whiteford had a warrant issued recently for the arrest of a suspect in a fraud case involving company checks. The warrant was served, but only after the man was finally found—serving time in a Philadelphia prison.

Cool but mainly sunny to begin and to end this pleasant week. Stormy everywhere from midweek into next weekend. Days very hot, also quite humid, so heavy night rains, with thunder, will bring us flooded roads and underpasses. Tornadoes in mid-west and southern States are heading for the Atlantic coast.

However, the coming weekend opens another very agreeable three weeks holiday period. August temperature range 50 and 95 degrees F., then slowly falling to 40-85. Harvesting in full swing everywhere.

Greene group incorporated, funds raised to aid study

The Greene Avenue Village Association has been incorporated as a non-profit company with the name Greene Avenue Planning Corporation, it was learned this week.

A drive for funds has reached $1,200 in contributions of individuals ranging from $2 to $50, with a target of $6,000. The funds are earmarked for printing and "communications" in connection with a study of the area being undertaken by the citizens' group, concerned with preservation of the character of Greene's shopping district and environs.

Mrs. JoAnn Isenman, who sparked the group originally, is president of the new corporation. Tim Grosvenor, an architect member of the group, said yesterday that the July 2 meeting held with the City of Westmount architectural and planning commission was encouraging. The city experts had pledged their co-operation and continuing interest and it is hoped to have further meetings from time to time, including a showing requested by the commission of the group's slide presentation, recently seen by the Westmount Municipal Association advisory council.

The slides were shown Monday afternoon to a group of Greene avenue merchants, all of whom have joined the association.

Mr. Grosvenor also reported that preservation of the former post office building at Greene and de Maisonneuve boulevard seems assured, with an inter-governmental committee agreeing with Hon. C.M. Drury that the department of public works should dispose of it only for reuse of the present structure.

The Greene group hopes that the use will be by a restaurant or some retail establishment, which would infer longer hours than would, say, offices.

Westmounters may have seen two men at various St. Catherine street locations taking decibel readings to find out what sort of noise is being created by regular street traffic.

The two are part of a study funded as a Local Initiatives Project and co-ordinated by CEGEP Vieux-Montreal Prof. Rene Bolduc. Equipment and permits have been supplied by the City of Montreal, though the study includes various streets throughout the Montreal Urban Community.

Mr. Grosvenor said that the city is in accord with the hope that Mondeu Corporation does not demolish the buildings on the northeast corner of Greene and St. Catherine street until plans for future use of that site have been agreed.

Findings, once published, will be submitted to the City of Montreal, though a social affairs department official said any information of distinct importance to Westmount would be passed on to city hall here.

The study has been continuing for the past four years, the official said.

Desjardins Service Station, 4084 St. Catherine street west, closed down Friday after 41 years in Westmount. Lazar Service Station, at the corner of Sherbrooke street and Grosvenor avenue, is scheduled to close by August 1.

The two Champlain gas stations are victims of a general province-wide "internal integration program" being carried out by Imperial Oil Ltd., owners of Champlain Oil, whereby only selected gas "bars" and heating oil distributors will retain the Champlain name.

The sites of the two stations probably will be sold on the open market for redevelopment in the next six months to a year, the same fate as most other such Champlain units in the Montreal area. Some stations will be changed to Esso service stations, according to Henry Montpetit, Quebec automotive director of Imperial Oil, but most will be sold on the open market.

TCH accident injures four

An accident on the Trans-Canada Highway entrance ramp from Greene avenue Saturday evening at 6:15 sent three persons to hospital with multiple injuries.

June Morin, 22, of St. Michel received injuries to her stomach and both arms; Louis Lebouf, 17, of Rosemount had injuries to his head and back, while 15-year-old Daniel St.-Germain, also of Rosemount, injured his mouth. The three were taken to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital by Westmount Police ambulance.

Other details of the accident were unavailable.

Car taken here to California; suspect held

Last week we gave you this item:

Fished out

A 1971 Barracuda was stolen from the east-wing garage at 4300 de Maisonneuve boulevard some time between 5 pm Saturday and 1 pm Sunday.

This week San Bernardino, California, police informed Westmount's constabulary that the car had showed up there and they were detaining a suspect.

the old days," Jules Desjardins said of his station, which he has operated since 1923, "when it was all private." The redevelopment of St. Catherine and Tupper streets and Dorchester boulevard forced out many of his regular clients, the mainstay of his business. "Lately we started to come back again, but generally it's been getting worse and worse and worse."

Mr. Desjardins has used the station closure as an excuse to retire. He plans to take a few weeks' holiday once the closing has been finalized, but will maintain his home at 11 Ingleside avenue.

Station Manager Barry Coulomb is now looking for another job.

At the opposite side of Westmount, Joseph Lazar is moving his staff and equipment to a gas station-independent Gulf—at 5790 Monkland avenue in Notre Dame de Grace, which he bought when told that his outlet would be closed. He hopes to be able to take about 65 percent of his Westmount clientele with him.

Tried to buy station

Joseph Lazar, who has operated the Sherbrooke street station for the last 13 years, had another year on his present lease, but has been promised compensation by Imperial. He said he had tried to buy the station, but his offer was refused.

Somewhat grudgingly, Mr. Lazar noted that he had been selling about 36,000 gallons of gasoline a month, more than the Dunlop Esso station diagonally across Sherbrooke street.

Esso officials maintain that Mr. Lazar's station lot is so small that it would be difficult to improve or maintain under city regulations.

Local couple killed in N.B.

Major and Mrs. Irvine Freeman Price, 250 Kensington avenue, were killed Saturday afternoon when their car overturned after leaving the Trans-Canada Highway near St. Basile, N.B.

Major Price, 81, was a veteran of the First World War and with the Eighth Princess Louise's Hussars of New Brunswick. His wife, Doris, was 74.

The Prices are parents of E.K. Price of 83 Birkendale drive, Toronto.

A memorial service will be held locally, date and place to be announced.

The following building permits were issued at city hall during the past week:

We Say

Solidarity with honor

CONTRAST Mr. L'Allier, the Quebec communications minister, and our Westmount MNA, Mr. Drummond, lands and forest minister.

They belong to the same cabinet.

Mr. L'Allier, an avowed nationalist, comes right out in the National Assembly and says he doesn't like Bill 22, the official language act, and that the only reason he is voting for it is for the sake of cabinet solidarity.

Mr. Drummond, who as recent as last March declared on one of his rare appearances in his riding that Bill 63—wiped out by Bill 22—should not be changed and that better means should be found for promoting bilingualism among French-speaking Quebecers, continues his extended silence.

Cabinet solidarity has been the inferred excuse of Mr. Drummond for not publicly reflecting the fears, feelings and suggestions of his constituents in this crucial language question.

So it has been with his two English-language ministerial colleagues, Dr. Goldbloom and Mr. Tetley: though these two gentlemen at least have spoken, expressed their guarded doubts.

We agree that Mr. Drummond, if determined to hang onto the perks of his portfolio, could not publicly display the courage of back-bench Liberals Springgate of St. Anne and Ciaccia of Mount Royal by voting against this bill.

But Westmount would have been glad to hear from him, at least to the extent to which Dr. Goldbloom and Mr. Tetley have been heard.

And the frankness of Mr. L'Allier, for the different reason of showing that they do indeed represent English Quebecers, would have befitted Dr. Goldbloom, Mr. Tetley and, above all where Westmount is concerned, Mr. Drummond.

Rather than this sordid, sullen silence in the face of the concerns of the trustful voters who sent him to Quebec.

Gulled, ripped off again

'IT's so stupid' is Montreal Mayor Drapeau's retort to the suggestion to Quebec from Pierrefonds that the City of Montreal and not the Montreal Urban Community as a whole should bear the municipal share of Olympic policing costs.

We say, it is not stupid at all.

The Olympics were exclusively Montreal's, nay, Mr. Drapeau's grand idea from the outset. And until now he has insisted that the games "won't cost the taxpayers a cent."

The suburbs would be quite happy to let this adventure not cost Montrealers, exclusively, anything. Westmount taxpayers would cheerfully forego the privilege of sharing "not a cent" of expenses.

Specially now that, for security alone, "not a cent" has become many millions of dollars—the exact or even approximate amount apparently not, even yet, subject to any consensus among federal, provincial or municipal authorities. All we know, despite Mr. Drapeau, is that it will be a very large figure.

The performance of the Quebec authorities in this matter is truly amazing. Without knowing the amount, even approximate, Justice Minister Choquette has decreed that all the MUC municipalities must share Montreal's bill.

And now Municipal Affairs Minister Goldbloom, in his bland, mild-mannered and gullible way, has tolerated the Drapeau argument that for Montreal to shoulder the expenses which it has itself incurred would lead to "balkanization" of MUC finances.

What nonsense!

It is nothing more than simply to require the MUC to bill Montreal for extraordinary police services incurred for the Olympic Games.

Mr. Drapeau is reported as suggesting that neighboring municipalities will benefit from "economic spin-off" from the games. Before buying that argument, Dr. Goldbloom might ask Mr. Drapeau to explain what benefits may accrue to Pierrefonds, or even closer-in Westmount. A little reflected glory, maybe; but what revenues?

Dr. Goldbloom's portfolio is supposed to function for the benefit of all municipalities—not only Montreal.

Mr. Drapeau once more has gulled Dr. Goldbloom, this time into ripping off the suburbs.

We have never been consulted, let alone asked, about the Olympic caper.

Even so, start watching now for the inevitable big bulge in 1976 MUC assessments, our own city council's pitiful explanation of the inevitable jump in the tax rate, and for the tax bills which inevitably will follow. You'll be paying them.

And remember with all the gratitude you can muster that happy threesome: Messrs. Drapeau, Choquette and Goldbloom, back there in July 1974.

Post-election euphoria

The next five years hold great potential for Canada as a member of the world community, following the re-election on July 8 of a majority government under Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

Canada, as I mentioned last week, is in the enviable position of having a strong majority government that will be able to tackle, without interference, the problems of inflation that face Canada, and the world.

The next five years will enable the government, under Mr. Trudeau, to bring to fruition the many projects that were initially conceived in 1968, and developed over the last six years.

Sir Wilfred Laurier prophesized that the 20th century would belong to Canada. Certainly, as a nation Canada is at the threshold of creating a society that is unique in the world community.

I, as your Member of Parliament, look forward to working with you during the next five years to achieve this goal.

Editorial Notes

IT's enough to give a place a bad name. In this continuing era of reverse snobbery, Westmounters will be prone to avoid in shame their friends from Town of Mount Royal ($24,247), Beaconsfield ($19,457), Sillery ($18,871), Cote St. Luc ($15,564) and Outremont ($14,390) to say nothing of Victoria, B.C. ($8,543), Valleyfield ($8,537) or Montmagny ($8,148). For Statistics Canada has revealed, from the 1971 census, that our city has the highest average family income of any community in Canada of over 10,000 population. Adding in proceeds from Junior's (if he is over 16) paper route and dog-walking, sister's baby-sitting; big-sister's summer waitressing, big-brother's pick-and-shovel job, mom's spare-time typing and dad's salary plus bonus plus dividends plus retainers plus fees, the average Westmount family had to get by on $25,377. The image, of course, is a bit distorted: there are some Westmount family incomes so huge that they overbalance the numerous ordinary folk who give Westmount its wide social and economic mix—so little appreciated or understood outside our borders. Fie on Statistics Canada! . . .

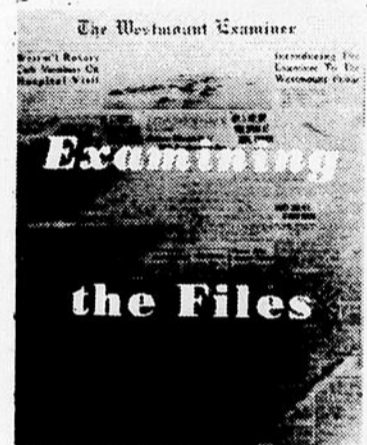

WE like the smart idea, for Dominion Stores and the Kidney Foundation, whereby the grocery chain will exchange $1,000,000 worth of its cash-register receipts for a kidney machine. Employees of the Pfizer pharmaceutical firm have adopted the project and three weeks ago had collected $150,000 worth of receipts. Anyone who wants to join in the good cause should send their slips to PO Box 800, Youville Station, Montreal H2P 2W6. . . .

AT an early stage of planning Westmount's centennial celebrations this year the idea was scouted without success of having the Montreal Symphony Orchestra perform here. Next best thing will be the last of a series of five MSO "aperitif musical" concerts in shopping centres on Aug. 15 at noon in Alexis Nihon Plaza. The series of free programs is sponsored by Joe Seagram and his boys, the booze people. . . .

PERMIT-mad Quebec has another bill, No. 16, on the back burner slipped in with the furore over Bill 22, which is likely to cause anguish among the sport set, particularly those who give freely of their time to develop young bodies. It is titled "The Quebec Athletic Commission Act" and with the present government's penchant for imprecision and playing its de Maisonneuve folks protest arterial use

(A copy of the following letter has been sent to The Examiner:)

Mayor Paul Ouimet,
City of Westmount,
Westmount, Que.

Dear Mayor Ouimet:

The decision by the City of Westmount to succumb to MUC pressures and permit the use of de Maisonneuve boulevard west as a two-way artery between Lansdowne and Claremont avenues is completely unacceptable to the undersigned residents of the area affected.

Without prior consultation with residents, the city has denied the residential nature of de Maisonneuve boulevard and its feeder streets below Sherbrooke street.

Arbitrarily, bus routes have been placed on a street too narrow to carry such traffic. Promises of westerly bus traffic only are a myth. There is a constant easterly flow of large intercity buses. The street already has become a truck route in both directions.

The safety of children, pedestrians and senior citizens using educational and recreational facilities in Westmount Park apparently has been ignored.

The City of Westmount has shown a lack of respect and concern for its citizens in the de Maisonneuve boulevard west area by imposing on the environment in which they have chosen to live standards, in the name of change, which ignore socio-economic and human considerations.

Immediate steps should be taken to develop a plan which is compatible with the needs of residents and the growth of the community. This should be done in consultation with concerned citizens.

An early meeting to discuss the problem would be greatly appreciated. For further information please contact Mr. or Mrs. R. Follett, 4727 de Maisonneuve boulevard west, 937-5587, or Norah Cassidy Froot, 4721 de Maisonneuve boulevard west, 932-8124.

Yours very truly,

Richard Follett

No ifs, ands or butts about pool-side seats

Sir: Thanks for giving prominent display to Mrs. Kremer's protest against the decision of the Westmount parks and recreation department to phase out chairs at the Westmount pool.

Until reading Mrs. Kremer's letter, I had presumed the lack of chairs at the pool was due to a repair program as in past years.

Now we are getting to the seat of the matter—a unilateral decision by the department of parks and recreation on the grounds of expense. This type of chair retails for approximately $4.50 each. Even at 20 percent off, the minimum allowance for bulk purchases, the cost of 100 chairs would be around $350.

Surely the department or financial expert Ald. Leeds Nelson can find this piddling amount from the large array of figures they trot out with smug satisfaction at budget time.

Equally ridiculous is the other reason given for the removal of the poolside chairs—no other pool in the Montreal area supplies chairs. Not having time to check other municipalities, I agree with Mrs. Kremer that poolside chairs are special because they serve a useful purpose for old and young residents. Sitting or lying on cold, hard cement or hot, hard cement is not an ideal health situation.

So Westmount taxpayers, now is the time to get off your ifs, ands and butts to protest against this removal of the "seats of the mighty."

Jack Marsters

235 Metcalfe avenue,
WESTMOUNT, H3Z 2H8

(Editor's note: Parks and Recreation Superintendent B.A. Rothwell yesterday said that there was no intention of depriving pool users of seating and that suitable perimeter benches were being designed to be built in the city shops. These could be in place this season, he thought. The ban on individual deck-type chairs had nothing to do with cost, he added, except that they required constant repair due to rough usage. The real problem was supervision, particularly of youngsters who used the chairs for other than their real purpose. A number of accidents and many cuts had been suffered from jagged ends of broken chairs; thus the question was fundamentally one of safety, particularly of youngsters, he told The Examiner.)

Prince Albert proposal raises more objections

Sir: With respect to the proposed development plan for the Prince Albert avenue bakery site, I wish to point out that the nearby residents on de Maisonneuve boulevard are likely to be more affected by it, than those of the SARA area.

This is because the proposed rezoning of the area to allow a high rise on the north side of the boulevard would not only further destroy the residential nature of the street, but might well set a precedent enabling further such developments in the area to be permitted.

Secondly, all traffic access to the development is to be from de Maisonneuve, thus increasing the already horrendous volume of traffic on this road.

Our council has failed to consult with ordinary de Maisonneuve residents not only in this respect, but also with the recent opening of the road as a major traffic artery. May I ask that the interests of de Maisonneuve residents be taken in to consideration in the future and that they be fully consulted about all developments affecting their area?

Although for the next two years, the MUC and the City of Westmount have ruled that de Maisonneuve is not a residential street, in actuality it is lined on both sides by houses and a few apartment buildings and no official ruling can alter this fact.

cards close to its vest it says that the sports to which the creation of this three-member junta will apply itself are "wrestling, boxing and any other sport determined by the lieutenant-governor in council"—meaning, once again, the all-powerful cabinet. Try this for size, should you be thinking of organizing, say, some 12-year-olds to learn the manly art of boxing: "No person who does not hold a permit in force shall: (a) organize a match; (b) operate an establishment; (c) film a match or present it on a screen; (d) take part in a match as a contestant, or as a manager or second of a contestant; (e) take part in a match as a referee or umpire, judge, time-keeper, physician, inspector or master of ceremonies." WHAT'S there to do? Well, this summer the volunteer guides, many of them Westmounters, of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts once again are conducting walking tours of Old Montreal every Wednesday at 11 am starting from Place Vauquelin. . . Then at St. Donat, well known to many Westmounters as a summer retreat which also is celebrating its centennial, has a "Peoples' Art Exhibition" going daily except Mondays through to Aug. 11. . . And the Foster Horse Show takes place, a one-day affair on Sunday, July 28, at Knowlton—a place where many Westmounters are summering.

Looking for the alternative?

Bishop's is it.

The English university at Lennoxville in the bilingual Eastern Townships. Just 100 miles from downtown Montreal (near Sherbrooke). But what a difference:

A real campus (over 500 acres) with great residences. A challenge for you to learn — instead of being a cog in a large and anonymous teaching factory.

Fewer than 1,000 students. (On an average 13 students to a professor). Teachers who know that you don't live and learn in watertight departments. Full sports and recreation facilities.

Best of all: the open challenge to find out what you want to be and how to get there.

Undergraduate courses in Humanities, Social and Natural Sciences, Business Administration.

We are still accepting applications for the Fall of 1974

de Maisonneuve traffic increases significantly

Traffic on de Maisonneuve boulevard between Lansdowne and Claremont avenues increased significantly this week as St. Catherine street was closed entirely to allow for Metro construction.

The rerouting of buses was carried out smoothly, beginning at 11:45 am Monday; eastbound buses, as prescribed, began using Sherbrooke street and Lansdowne avenue, while those headed west went up Lansdowne and along de Maisonneuve before resuming their normal routes.

Voyageur buses travelled east along de Maisonneuve and tried to negotiate the difficult corner to travel south on Lansdowne avenue, bringing numerous complaints to both Westmount Police and to The Examiner. Voyageur officials were notified of the situation yesterday, and consented to move their buses north to Sherbrooke, following the MUCTC route.

City officials said this morning they would be considering

Voyageur bus negotiating Lansdowne corner yesterday

prohibiting all through trucks and buses from travelling east on de Maisonneuve, but admitted there was a real problem for those truckers attempting to travel north, since most heavy traffic is also prohibited from Lansdowne north of de Maisonneuve due to the shallow depth of the roadbed.

The city also will consider retiming lights on de Maisonneuve to allow cross traffic on Grosvenor and Prince Albert avenues—controlled only by stop signs—easier passage during rush hours, when traffic on de Maisonneuve is specially heavy.

No serious traffic mishaps have occurred on de Maisonneuve since St. Catherine closed.

A Honda 350 motorcycle worth $900 was stolen from outside 4675 St. Catherine street west between 9 and 10:15 o'clock Friday morning.

No-show

A padlock was removed from the inside door of a showcase fronting on St. Catherine street at Alexis Nihon Plaza last Wednesday afternoon between 1 and 4 pm. A silver-plated tea set, four silver goblets and two dresses, the property of the "Smuggler's Den" boutique, were stolen.

Seniors . . .

Extrapolated to include the 4,095 seniors living in Westmount according to the 1971 census, (there has been little change in this number since then, according to city hall) the percentage offers a total of 2,798 elder (retired) possible applicants.

Of the 262 who answered the questionnaire, only 10 declared that they were willing to share quarters with another person, while 126, or 48 percent, said they definitely would not consider such a prospect. The remaining 126 gave nebulous answers or were undecided.

Somerville site cited

In summarizing the data and making specific proposals, the report noted several times the availability of centrally-located land along Prince Albert avenue between Somerville avenue and de Maisonneuve boulevard. While recognizing that such a residence had been proposed but succumbed to a zoning-change referendum, he nevertheless felt that the area would be a prime spot for a 300-unit residence.

The 27-page report asks why seniors wishing to live in such a residence do not move to projects in Montreal, St. Laurent or Cote St. Luc, then answers by suggesting the seniors are extremely determined to remain in their own community. Fifty-six of those questioned, or 21.5 percent, have lived in Westmount for more than 50 years; all but 58 have been here more than 10 years.

Different aspects of the type of residence they would prefer were suggested in various comments on the questionnaire, though the questionnaire itself asked whether they would use on-site medical facilities, whether they would engage in organized social and craftwork activities or would want a part-time job. Of the 148 who would definitely consider living in the residence, all but four said they would prefer having medical facilities on the premises. Social activities interested 40 percent of the respondents; part-time work caught the eye of 34 percent, while 26 percent said they would like to engage in handicrafts. A number of seniors (included within each percentage) favoured two or three of the possible activities. Twenty-two percent of those who answered the question were not interested in any of the three activities.

Special requirements

Special requirements suggested by the seniors on their own included, in order of frequency, low-cost rental, central location, dining room with meals and special diets, private and shared accommodation with bath, permanent nurse on premises with visiting doctor, a bell system for service communication, a library, a chapel, and permission to use the senior's own furniture, rather than having furnished apartments.

"It seems perfectly clear," Mr. Thomas concluded, "that the necessity for a residence for senior citizens is not really in question at this point. . . . The true crux of the matter is getting individuals to commit themselves, to raise money and to get a residence built . . ."

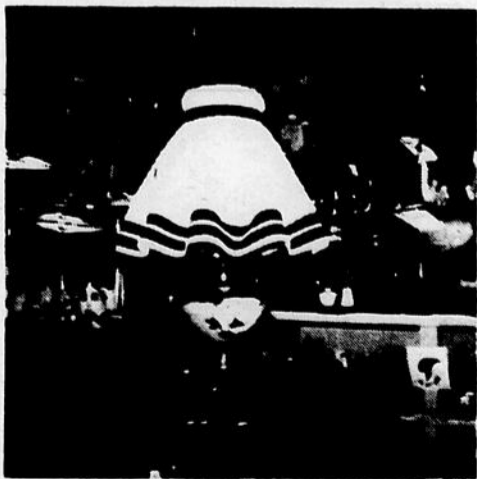

"One might think that having helped build Westmount and contributed to the building of the nation as a whole in a 40-odd year work life, their treatment in their supposed "golden years" might be a more benevolent one. These seniors should at least be left their dignity and perhaps be granted a greater degree of happiness and relaxation than they presently experience."

The statistical summary and proposals have been tabled before the board of directors of the Westmount Rotary Club.

Money-machine aide memoire assists fraud

Users of 24-hour bank withdrawal systems should take care not to write identification numbers on the special cards they have been given to start the machines.

One man seems to have thought that would be an easy way to remember his special account number, but got burned for it. Several months ago he had his card stolen in a downtown

Montreal bar, and it was used for withdrawal of money from the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce on Sherbrooke street at Victoria avenue. A man was arrested within the next 24 hours and charged with fraud, but pleaded not guilty.

Last Tuesday the suspect was found guilty in Westmount Municipal Court of misusing the card. He was remanded for sentence until September.

Local folk are elected

W.E. Stavert, 205A Edgehill road, was re-elected vice-president of the Douglas Hospital Centre at the recent annual meeting, while C.M. Russel, 4845 Westmount avenue, was continued in his post as vice-president and honorary treasurer.

Other officers re-elected included Robert Bell Douglas of Laval as president of the hospital and Charles Wolfson, QC, Montreal, vice-president and honorary secretary.

Eighteen governors were elected to the board of management of the institution, including Mrs. L.F. McRobie, 653 Victoria avenue; Mrs. R.L. McLean, 126 Arlington avenue; L.H. Walls, 26 Thornhill avenue; D.A.M. MacLaren, 2 Westmount Square; J.W. Sharp, 3 Westmount Square, and Colin Webster, 52 Gordon crescent.

On dean's list

Derek L. Cottier, 337 Metcalfe avenue, is one of two students from Quebec province to be named to the dean's list of St. Lawrence University, Canton, N.Y., for academic achievement during the 1974 spring term.

Motorbiker tries turn, four injured

Four persons were injured when two cars and a motor bicycle collided at the corner of Sherbrooke street and Lansdowne avenue Saturday at 6:18 pm, as the motorcyclist reportedly cut off one of the autos in attempting a left turn.

Pierre April, 15, from Lachine, was driving his cycle west on Sherbrooke to the right and in front of a 1967 Plymouth driven by Luis DeSouza, 47, of Pierrefonds. The cyclist claims to have signalled for a left turn to go south on Lansdowne, and began his turn when he looked back to see the Plymouth bearing down on him. He swerved, as did Mr. DeSouza, who went into the eastbound lane of traffic where he struck a 1974 Nova being driven by Jacques Paris, 49, of 456 Mountain avenue.

In the ensuing collision, young April had a possible broken left leg, and was transported to the Montreal Children's Hospital by police ambulance along with 7-year-old Shirley DeSouza, who received a slight head injury.

Mr. DeSouza broke his upper front teeth and received a slight cut on his chin, injuries which were treated at the Reddy Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Paris' wife, Janet, had a broken right ankle and was taken to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital by police car.

The cars were heavily damaged.

Next council on Aug. 5

Westmount city council meets next on Monday evening, Aug. 5. Last statutory sitting was July 2. The customary mid-month session, which ordinarily would have been held last Monday, was passed over. Aldermen did, however, meet in general committee but for what purpose was not revealed.

The mayor, Paul A. Ouimet, QC, is on vacation this month. He returned to officiate at last evening's RCMP musical ride and Royal 22nd Regiment band concert.

In the shade

The Quebec department of lands and forests, Hon. Kevin Drummond minister, is co-operating with the transport department in planting some 300,000 trees on the perimeters of autoroutes.

A 1970 Renault was stolen from the Dawson College parking lot on Selby street some time between 1 pm last Tuesday and 5 pm the next day.

Senior softball races down to champ wire

By MARK SURCHIN

As the Senior Softball League schedule races down to the wire, the first-place position and the playoff spots are very much in doubt.

Current standings show the Police and the Athletics in a tight battle for the lead. Even though the Police are undefeated, the Athletics are only two points behind them. These two points represent a small margin between the two teams, as they could be erased through one Athletic victory. However, the Athletics have played one more game than the Police thus far.

The outcome of this struggle will probably be determined in the remaining games between these two teams.

Due to their successes so far, both the Police and the Athletics should make the post-season playoffs, yet three teams will enter the playoffs, and each of the

Westmount Municipal Softball Leagues STANDINGS

	GP	W	L	D	Pts
Police	12	7	0	0	14
Athletics	12	8	6	2	0
Olympics	12	8	3	5	0
Stars	12	7	2	5	0
Wanderers	12	6	0	6	0

other three teams in the league has a chance to qualify. Of these three teams, the Olympics are ahead, yet the team has played more games than both the Stars and the Wanderers, thereby having more chances to earn points. Although the Wanderers have not had much luck so far, half of their scheduled games remain to be played so they are not out of the race yet.

Season ends Tuesday

The regular season ends on Tuesday, with the subsequent playoffs lasting until the champion emerges on Aug. 20. The league is unlike both the Mosquito and Pee Wee leagues in that teams are not made up from registered individual applicants, but rather by any group of adults who wish to enter themselves as a team. The front-running Police, for example, are made up of Westmount's law enforcers.

This year, a new team has been entered: in the Olympics. Because of the team's rookie status, success was not expected, yet the Olympics have stymied the odds and have a good chance of making the playoffs.

Softball has not been the only activity at recreation in the past week. The summer playgrounds program provided another busy week as usual for Westmount's children. Next week also promises to be a full one, with outdoor arts and crafts on Monday, the weekly trip on Wednesday, folk dancing on Thursday, and work on the park projects on Friday. On Tuesday, there will be contests and friendly games. As the theme of this year's program is Westmount's centennial year, the games played will conform to this theme. The old-fashioned games in store should be interesting and challenging.

Indian play

The Pendulum Theatre, based at 379 Roslyn avenue, is premiering "Wasawkachak," directed by Duke Redbird, at Dawson Hall, 1435 City Councilors street, next Wednesday at 8 pm.

Plates found

Westmount Police found a set of license plates in the parking lot of the Reddy Memorial Hospital, 2039 Tupper street, Monday at 12:50 pm. Tracing the number,

The Westmount Examiner, Thursday, July 18, 1974 11

they found they had been removed from a car parked on Louis Pare street in Lachine; the owner of the plates had left the car there on Saturday at 8:15 pm, but had not known they were stolen.

Dim view

A cable TV amplifier worth $199 was stolen from the roof of 5010 Sherbrooke street at about 10 am last Wednesday.

Ottawa STOL service Airtransit head's topic

Short - takeoff - and - landing (STOL), Montreal-Ottawa air service begins for the travelling public a week from today.

Westmount Rotarians had the youthful MBA president of the Air Canada subsidiary, Airtransit, tell them all about it yesterday at the regular luncheon meeting of the local service club in Victoria Hall.

Gary Vogan, the Air Canada careerist charged with setting up and operating the two-year demonstration project for the Canadian government, spoke enthusiastically as he showed slides to illustrate various aspects of the development.

Underlying the new commuter service was the decision of Ottawa to show that it was workable, leading to opening a world market for a larger, 48-seat version of the 11-passenger Twin Otters to be used initially by Airtransit. The Canadian-built plane is seen as having a potential export sale of $1.5 billion if proved successful.

The service is offering downtown-to-downtown service of 1 hour and 22 minutes, including transport to and from stolports, (included in the $20 fare) versus 2 hours by conventional airliner (at $18), 2 hours and 20 minutes by car, 2 hours and 24 minutes by train and 2 hours and 35 minutes by bus.

CN to upgrade

He revealed that CN is planning to upgrade their time by introducing Turbo train service between the two cities, which he welcomed as beneficial all around. (Plans have not been announced officially and details were not available yesterday from CN.)

Airtransit has six Twin Otters, each worth $495,000 plus another $430,000 worth of special equipment, including a super-efficient navigational aid system. The latter is necessary for operating close to built-up areas and for the narrow, exclusive corridors assigned as airways for the service.

George Sklivas introduced and Russell Edge thanked Mr. Vogan.

There were six visiting Rotarians and two guests of members plus past presidents Stanley Neilson and James de Lalanne. President Dick Herzer chaired.

Next week, following the luncheon, there will be no speaker—members are paying their annual visit to Camp Weredale in the Laurentians, a project of the club. They are to play a softball game with the boys.

Stoned

A rock was thrown through the garage door window at 526 Grosvenor avenue about 9:50 pm Saturday. Two suspects were reportedly seen walking south on Grosvenor soon afterward, but they escaped police.

Sellers beware

Westmount police warn citizens who advertise furniture for sale to beware of a man and his young son who may come to look at the items.

Lately the two visited a resident of 4215 de Maisonneuve boulevard to look at some antiques being sold privately, just before 3 pm on Friday. When they left, she found $14 missing from her purse.

The same mode of operation resulted in the loss of a purse and electric razor from a fifth-floor resident of 4300 de Maisonneuve boulevard June 29.

Ill-afforded

A 1969 Ford was stolen from the city's Tupper street parking lot last Thursday, between 8:30 am and 4:30 pm.

In by rear

Thieves broke through the rear window of 380 Lansdowne avenue yesterday afternoon. Westmount Police are awaiting a list of stolen items.
