Mr. McPhee will be at Fitch Bay every Thursday.

DESIRABLE LAKE PARK PROPERTY FOR SALE

I desire to dispose of my summer home at Twin Pine Point, Lake Park. This property consists of two large and one small cottage. All are practically new and up-to-date in every particular. They are in an ideal location, having beautiful surroundings and the outlook from either direction is simply magnificent. There is a beautiful beach for bathing, being sufficiently shallow to be safe for children. The arrangement of the interior of the buildings is all that can be desired by any one, the finish being such as a home in town would be expected to have. There is a good, convenient stable, fuel house, ice house and a very commodious boat house. There is a good, well graded and cared for State Road to this property, making it very accessible. There is no more desirable summer home on the Lake Shore.

BENJAMIN P. BALL, Owner, Derby Line, Vt.
P. S. This property is all in Vermont.

TOWN TOPICS.

Mr. A. E. Bryant, of Barnston, was in town Saturday.
Mr. A. Roland Crowe, of Boston, was in town on Saturday.
Mrs. K. H. Snow, of Watertown, Conn., was in town Saturday.
The Derby Line Studio will be closed Aug. 19 to Sept. 2, inclusive. 69-3
Mr. Nelson Ives' house on Ives Avenue is about ready for the masons.
Mr. E. A. Young's house on Elm Street is ready for the interior finish.
Mr. Albert Lyon, of Springfield, Mass., was in town Thursday and Friday.

Telford Bros. Garment Co., are in need of stitchers, on petticoat and overall work.

Mr. C. E. Palmer, of Morrisville, is a guest at his father-in-law's, Deacon Charles Lunt's.

Mr. A. E. Bishop's house is ready for the mortar, and the exterior is nearly completed.

Mrs. Floyd Moulton, of Beverly, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Moulton.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Stearns and Miss Grace Stearns, of Willoughby, Vt., were in town over Sunday.

If the rain storm of Sunday night and Monday morning had been a snow storm, it would have shown 27 inches fall.

Caswell & Davis sold their mill at Caswell's Mills to Mr. Henry Demick on Monday. The deed was passed on that day.

Miss Annie Gilmore, Misses Bernadetta and Leona Fregeau and Miss Kathleen Paquette have gone to Montreal for a few days' visit.

Mrs. H. T. Apington went to New York the first of the week to visit Lieut. Apington's parents and attend the Regular Army manoeuvres.

Nature has seemed to have kept our streets free from dust for the last few weeks by rain fall, and prevented the application of the car of asphalt as the street must be dry for the purpose.

There were 274 automobiles in town in seven days recently that were counted, and probably several avoided us or were missed. This was day record; those that "got by" in the night we are not responsible for.

Deacon Charles Lunt passed his 82nd milestone Saturday, August 10. Many of his neighbors called to congratulate him. Mr. Lunt is in very good health and is active in his interest in the growth of the villages. He is on the board of trustees of Stanstead College, first trustee of Stanstead South Congregational Church and takes a deep interest in the work of the church.

Mr. F. B. McGaffey, constable, Stanstead, has been directed by the local council to stop the automobile speeding on the Plain. It is a long, straight, well graded street and it is a temptation to the automobilists to try out their machines on it. Evidently the council deem it best to lock the door before the horse is stolen, or rather before some child or aged person is disabled or killed. This action of the governing board strikes us as a wise precaution.

W. B. Frost's branch bakery at Rock Island is attracting much attention. While there is a tempting display of about everything an up-to-date bakery could be expected to produce, the point which strikes the casual observer most forcibly is the absolute cleanliness of the place. It is preëminently the place for particular people. The methods adopted by this establishment should bring business and win success; they are apparently doing it.

Mr. Fred J. Robins, of Indianapolis, Ind., was in town Friday. Mrs. Robins and the children are spending their vacation at the home of her mother, Mrs. Betsey Root, of Westfield. Mr. Robins said his employers, Chase & Sanborn, insisted on his taking a vacation, consequently they are East for three weeks. He is pleased with his position and the country is the place for the ambitious young man, for there are greater opportunities. They miss Vermont, but the middle West has won them as permanent residents.

I wish to announce to the citizens of the Three Villages and surrounding places that I have engaged the services of a first class upholsterer from Boston, who has had 30 years experience, and I am now prepared to do all kinds of upholstering in the furniture line, carriages, automobiles and hair mattress renovating. If you cannot call at my shop, call me by telephone, and I will be pleased to show you samples. Work called for and delivered at reasonable prices, and all work guaranteed. Gilmore Harness Shop, J. W. Downing, proprietor. 69w2

TOWN TOPICS.

Mr. L. A. Brown of Moe's River, Que. was in town Wednesday.

Mr. J. J. Mullin of Bedford, was in town for a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Carpenter of St. Johnsbury, were in town Wednesday.

Take a day off and attend the County Fair at Ayer's Cliff, August 28th and 29th.

Tea will be served to members of the tennis club at 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

Mr. Henry Munderloh of Montreal and Eagle Point was in town Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bowen of East Hatley were recent guests at Col. B. B. Morrill's.

Get ready for the County Fair Aug. 28th and 29th; it will be the biggest and best yet.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Carpenter are at home from a two weeks' outing at Willoughby Lake.

The Harrison Associate Players will appear at the Rink Opera House Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 19, 20, 21.

Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Linberger and daughters, Mabel and Lillian of New York City, were in town Wednesday and to-day.

Col. B. B. Morrill is in Waterloo this week attending a rifle match of the 13th Dragoons. Mrs. Morrill accompanied him.

Mrs. (Rev.) T. A. Halpenny, who has been visiting relatives in Ottawa since the Conference changes, arrived at Stanstead Tuesday.

Mr. Charles Warren, son and daughter of Keene, N. H., are spending a few days in town. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Baxter.

The Quebec bank's new quarters are about completed. The heating plant is yet to be installed. It is quite a good use to put a horse shed to.

Mr. O. F. Caswell is now in the employ of the Globe Suspender Co. After a short office experience he will join the Globe staff of traveling salesmen.

Mr. Percy A. N. Sails, has concluded his engagement at the Rock Island and Derby Line station and left to-day for Norwich and Hanover to "relieve" for a few days.

Mr. Milton Merrill, who has lately been visiting his cousin, Mrs. C. B. Jenkins, for the first time in many years, returned to his home in Hyde Park, Mass., Friday.

Some melons planted in the spring by C. B. Jenkins came up a week or ten days ago, long after the planter had given up looking for them. This summer keeps everybody guessing.

The Colebrook, N. H., News says of Harrison Players: Monday night's bill, "The Man of Mystery," was a dandy. Everyone in the cast were stars. The singing of Gladys Moffatt was great. That alone being well worth the price of admission.

The gold bar from the Globe mine which was on exhibition at the Derby Line Bank, and subsequently sent to the mint at Ottawa, proved to be worth $40.17 more than the value placed upon it by the assayer at the smelter. To this there should be added $15 the amount charged by the mint for coining it.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paradis of North Thetford announce the engagement of their daughter, Isabel Margaret, to Mr. John Barrett of Thetford Mines. The marriage will take place September 17th. Miss Paradis lived with her sister, Mrs. H. A. Thayer, at Rock Island some four years, leaving this place in the fall of 1911.

The Republican Candidate for governor of Vermont, Hon. Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish, was in town Tuesday. He was accompanied by Mr. Drew Gordon of Cavendish and Mr. S. B. Bates of Derby. The Republican Candidate for governor never wears the incredulous, anxious stare, but on the contrary, look as cooksure satisfied as the school boy with his dinner in his stomach. Mr. Fletcher looked much more like a man of ability and worth than the politician.

Schuyler A. Gustin of Brown's Hill has made another sale of pure bred Ayrshire cattle at profitable prices. The purchaser was Leon Newton, of Ashburnham, Mass., who paid twelve hundred dollars in cash for seventeen head, the lot comprising six this year's calves, 3 yearlings, 3 two-year-olds, in milk, and 5 cows. Two of this year's calves brought $150. Mr. Newton also bought two head of Walter Berwick at $85 each, bringing the total number exported up to nineteen and the aggregate price to $1,360. The cattle were shipped Friday. Mr. Newton hopes to be able to pick up another car load of Ayrshires in this section.

Mr. James F. Telford went to Ayer's Cliff to-day to attend the educational meeting there.

James Gallagher died at the home of his son, George Gallagher, Stanstead, on Saturday. He had been in broken health for a long time. Deceased was a native of Ireland, but came to Canada when a young man. Before coming to Stanstead he had lived at Magog. Last June the late Mr. Gallagher passed his ninetieth birthday. His wife died some years ago and most of his children are gone. The funeral took place Monday morning.

Recently a very low priced but efficient and durable table holder for an electric drop has been placed on sale. It includes a shade holder and shade. Up to this device the price has been $5 and up. One day last week a St. Johnsbury physician was in town by auto with his family. They were walking about town and saw the fixture mentioned being shown on a table in a window and bought three. It pays to advertise by window display, and it pays to have us record the results of your advertising.

Mr. J. W. Crawford of Athol, Mass., arrived here Tuesday night after a week's visit with relatives in Coaticook. Mrs. Crawford has been visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity some time. Mr. Crawford was formerly employed by Butterfield & Co. After an absence of only six years he finds many changes. Speaking to a representative of the JOURNAL yesterday, Mr. Crawford said he did not know more than one man out of a dozen he met, and felt himself very much of a stranger. He has returned to the Bay State.

The annual outing of Golden Rule Lodge No. 5, A. F. & A. M., will take place on Labor day, Monday, Sept. 2nd. The steamer "Anthemis" has been chartered for the day. The party will land at Vale Perkins for the ascent of the mountain. From the Perkins landing there will be a walk or drive of something like two miles, but the final climb will be much shorter than from the Owl's Head landing. A committee from the Lodge recently made the ascent from Vale Perkins and the newer route is being adopted upon their recommendation.

A citizen has under consideration the establishment of a general market where our farmers can come to town and have an opportunity to display their products for sale. Two days each week is thought of as practical. The result of such a move would probably benefit the merchants, farmers and the public. Farmers would perhaps strive to win the market by raising better products, using more care in harvesting them, for the purpose of attracting purchasers. The merchant's benefit would come from a larger number of farmers coming more frequently to town and the public's opportunity to buy would be enhanced as would the variety and quality of product. It appears to be worth trying.

TOWN TOPICS.

Mr. R. P. Hurlbut of Rubicon Farm, Hatley, was a business visitor to the Three Villages, Tuesday. For many years Mr. Hurlbut lived in California, where he was engaged in contracting and building. After his health gave way he came East and sought the quiet of farm life. Four years ago he bought the estate in Hatley which he now occupies; he has been gaining in health ever since. Asked how he could stand our climate after living in California so many years, Mr. Hurlbut replied that this section had some advantages over California, which had what he called a "monotonous climate." Mr. Hurlbut's special hobby is Holstein-Friesian cattle; his private stock pavilion attracted much attention at the county fair during the past few years. Tuesday he was accompanied by a native Californian, Mrs. M. C. Clark, who now owns one of the best farms in Stanstead county, and finds much to admire in this particular section of the country, although she admits that she could spare a portion of the winter.

The Tomfobia Lodge of Odd Fellows attended Centenary Methodist Church Sunday morning. The pastor of the church, Rev. T. A. Halpenny, spoke from the text: "The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal." The last clause of the 16th verse of the 21st chapter of Revelations. It was a practical message to all. To the men representing the lodge it must have been a helpful talk. The lesson drawn was that of the need of men, if they would be successful as citizens, they must possess the three dimensions mentioned in the text. The speaker saw in the length the quality of prospecting for a find; ambition, the far look ahead, but to be made not only the most of, but the very wisest and best use would only be the warrant for the obtaining of the greatest good. The second dimension, that of breadth, was essential to the greatest success of the first. He spoke of its meaning sympathy in and for others, catholicity of spirit. But these two would not make the complete character, ambition and sympathy are not sufficient unto themselves; the last dimension, that of height, made a perfect trinity of qualities. It is the act of placing our hand in that of our elder brother, Christ the keystone of the arch or trinity of self and our opportunity. Mr. Harry Edward's solo following the sermon and the work of the choir made it an impressive hour of worship.

Stanstead County Fair—28th and 29th.

By reports from all sections we conclude that the Fair will be a great success this year. Messrs. Wilson & Sons, the piano dealers, have secured a large space in the Main Building and will exhibit the following Standard makes of pianos: "Heintzman & Co.", "Wilson", "Webber" and "Milton." The firm have also engaged special musicians for the occasion.

FITCH BAY.

Miss Ethel Hadden of Lowell, Mass., is the guest of friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gustin and son were in Montreal a few days this week.

August 6th the W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. T. B. Rider. The literary hour devoted to "Health and Heredity." Readings given on "One of the greatest needs of W. C. T. U." "Christians should care for Lord's property." "The young should be taught to reverence body as home of the soul." "Alcohol, Satan's substitute for obedience to laws of health." "A Fatal Inheritance." The Tea Commandments pertaining to health. Meeting adjourned with temperance benediction, to meet Sept. 4th with Mrs. D. B. Keet.

On Wednesday Mrs. A. L. Rider and L. S. Brown went to North Hatley to a meeting of the W. C. T. U. with Mrs. J. W. McConnell. They report a very interesting and profitable program given on "Why we Belong."

On Friday, August 23rd, the ladies are cordially invited to meet at 2 p. m., at Mrs. A. L. Rider's to finish the quilt for foreign missions, after which supper will be served, and a social evening enjoyed. All are invited; proceeds to finish refurnishing room in C. C. Coll.

Mrs. E. Dornsha spent a week with her sister, Mrs. C. Lanctot, at Stanstead recently.

Mrs. Griffith, of Sherbrooke, and Miss McCarren, of New York, were entertained at John Gallaher's the past week.

AYER'S CLIFF.

The special missionary service on Sunday morning was enjoyed by a large congregation. Rev. C. Moore was assisted by Rev. Pierce of Waterville, who with his wife is spending a few days at Elmwood Park. Mrs. F. A. Johnston gave a very interesting and instructive address on missions, Miss Smith of Coaticook sang a solo very sweetly, the choir gave the anthem, "Jesus Savior Pilot Me," and the hymns were accompanied by Mr. F. A. Johnston with cornet. No evening service was held on account of the storm, which though severe and long, did no damage in the village more than shutting off lights and telephones.

The Guild will hold a sale at the county hall on Saturday evening of this week. There will be articles both fancy and useful of their own work, and tables where food and candy will be sold, then a musical program will be given. Let everybody come.

The Ladies Aid are preparing to serve refreshments under canvas the two days of County Fair.

The warmer weather brings many visitors to our village and the cottages at the lake.

Quite a large party are being entertained at A. E. Fish's cottage at Blueberry Point.

Mrs. F. A. Johnston is entertaining her mother, Mrs. McFadden, of Lennoxville.

Mrs. Gostford Pierce, of Windsor Mills, spent a few days recently with Mrs. F. Pierce and Mrs. Badger.

Mrs. Hill with her friend, Mrs. Hayes, spent a couple of days in Coaticook last week.

Mr. D. F. Davis was in Barton, Vt., on Tuesday.

Mrs. Dyson, of Way's Mills, and her daughter Ruth were at Mrs. A. A. Drew's recently on their way home from Montreal, where Ruth has had several months' hospital treatment by specialists. She is a sweet, patient child and her many friends trust this treatment may remedy the lameness from which she has always suffered so cheerfully.

Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Hayes visited Mr. Will Heath at Casville, who was so severely burned recently, and find him cheerful and hopeful of soon getting up onto crutches. His physician assures him of entire recovery though it may take some time.

One of our merchants reports the sale, during the month of July, of 1700 loaves of bread, about 70 of which were home-made, the rest from a Stanstead bakery. Why isn't this an opening for a baker of our own?

At the last meeting of village council Mr. Parkhill, who is about moving to Boynton, resigned and Mr. I. Slack was appointed in his place. At the suggestion of the Board of Trade it was decided to improve the village sidewalks and Mr. S. W. Sargent was appointed to oversee the work. There is also a movement toward the appointment of a board of health.

Received too late for last week.

About thirty-five ladies attended the Ladies Aid meeting with Mrs. Austin Libby, near Cassville, on Wednesday of this week. A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed and a sumptuous tea served on the lawn.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. F. Pierce on Wednesday, Aug. 14th, at 2.30 p. m.

Next Sunday will be missionary Sunday at the morning Congregational service, when the pastor, Rev. C. Moore, will be assisted by an address on missions from Mrs. F. A. Johnston, who is always a welcome speaker.

The weather being mostly cold and showery is rather discouraging to farmers and unpleasant for campers, especially those living under canvas.

Mrs. A. E. Fish is entertaining her sister from the West.

Mrs. S. E. Hill is confined at home from a severe cold.

HOW NAMES ORIGINATE

GREEK AND LATIN SUPPLY MOST OF FEMININE ONES.

Four Principal Sources for Most of Given Names Used Among English-Speaking People—How Mary Became Popular.

There are four principal sources for almost all the given names in use among English-speaking people—these are Latin, Greek, Hebrew and German. A very few are of Saxon, Celtic, Syriac, Persian or Arabic origin.

When England was a Roman Catholic country the name of the mother of Jesus Christ was, from religious and superstitious motives, very frequently chosen by parents and for centuries Mary was the most common female Christian name in England.

After the Reformation the increased familiarity with the scriptures caused the names of the characters of the Old Testament history to be very frequently adopted. To this period we owe the introduction of Sarah or Sara, a Princess, and Hannah, grace. The latter has many derivatives, such as Ann, Anne, Annie, Anna, Annette, Nanette, Nan, Nancy, Nance and Nettie.

The Puritans were steeped in Bible lore and were fond of taking the names of Christian virtues as front names for girls, as to them we owe such names as Mercy, Modesty, Grace, Patience, Prudence, Truth, Virtue, Faith, Hope and Charity.

In Queen Anne's time came in a fondness for choosing names ending in a or ia, as Amelia, Letitia, Maria, Lucida and Alicia, of several of which there are alternative forms ending in e, ie or y, as Olive, Letitia, Mary, Lucy, Annie and Alice.

Elizabeth, which means "consecrated to God," is Hebrew and came into general use in England during the reign of Queen Bess. Isabella is the same name, of which Isabella, Yeabel, Isabella are variants; Bess, Bessie, Bet, Betsy, Betty, Eliza, Elsie, Lizzie, Liz and Lillie being diminutives.

Other Hebrew names in less common use are Abigail, Deborah and Dinah, Pleasure as the significance of Edna, and Eve, the mother of all, means life.

Of Eve or Eva, Eveline and Evelina are diminutives. Joan, Jane, Joanna, of which Janet is the diminutive, are feminine forms of John; Jean, Jeanne and Jeannette are the French equivalents. The meaning is gift of God.

Jaqueline, Josepha and Tomasa are respectively feminine forms of James, Joseph and Thomas. The name of Mandelene, given in the novel to die tinguish Mary of Magdala from other Marys, appears in French as Madeleine, the shortened form of which is Maud.

Maria has two meanings, bitter and star of the sea. Marion is the French form of this and May is a diminutive of it. The name Marion or Marianne is the result of the combination of Mary and Anne. Martha means sorrowful or ruler of the house.

We owe to the two classical languages, Greek and Latin, as many names as to all other sources put together, about 50 female given names being traceable to the Greek and about 70 to the Latin. Several Greek first names are taken from flowers, precious stones and animals. Thus Rhoda is a rose, Phyllis a green rhododendron and Diantha flower of Jove. Margaret and its diminutives, Madge, Maggie, Margy, means a pearl; Melissa is a bee and Dorcas a gazelle. Among the most common Greek names are Dorothea, Dorothy, Helen, which is the original of Eleanor—among the most popular and fashionable names today.—New York World.

New Bible Translations.

In the Philippines the Bangan New Testament has been completed. This makes an additional language, or dialect. We have co-operated with the British and Foreign Bible Society in a revision of the Tagalog New Testament, which is eagerly awaited by the Philippine people.

The society has joined with the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society in bringing out the Old Testament in Panayan—the translation of the Rev. Dr. Lund of the Baptist mission in the Philippines.

The Pentateuch in Pampangan and Cebuano is also completed and ready for the printer.

The book of Acts has been brought out, in addition to Mark, Luke and John, as the beginning of the Kurdish Testament.

Revision work is also being carried forward by similar union committees in the Wendi and Mandarin in China, and in the Old Testament in Portuguese in Brazil.

The revision of the Scriptures in Swahili has made progress, as also the revision of the Zulu version in Africa.—Report of the American Bible Society.

Wonderful Henry.

"Carve!" exclaimed the gushing new wife. "Oh, Henry carves just too lovely! You ought to see him cut the sausage, and when it comes to carving the croquettes, he is simply just a fat!"—Browning's Magazine.

Or Vice President.

Crawford—Has he much of a reputation as a statesman?
Crabshaw—So-so. Every presidential campaign he gets mentioned as a dark horse.

GET VARIETY IN SOUP

FAMILY WILL NOT THEN TIRE OF IT SO SOON.

Little Care and Thought Will Produce Many Tasty and Satisfying Dishes—Don't Use Any Pronounced Flavor Too Often.

From the humblest of leftovers to the more elaborately prepared and expensive soups there is an almost limitless vista of changes which can, by a little of real and independent initiative, produce most appetizing as well as really economical results. Many families fall in the habit of making only a very few kinds of soups until everybody is tired of soup. In clear soups the stock is, in principle, usually the same. But much variety may be made with a little care and thought.

Varied Soup Flavors.—A clear soup flavored with cloves is liked by many; or a soup slightly thickened with grated potato and flavored with thyme, or thickened with a mixture of grated potato and grated carrots in equal parts; or a soup otherwise clear with the very finest dumplings made of egg, salt and flour and just a suggestion of allspice in the flavor. Barley, rice, vermicelli, macaroni, tomatoes, onions, are all old stories, but a little experimenting with different flavors, not too conspicuously used, almost makes a new dish of an old one. Then, in their seasons, what varieties of vegetable soups may be concocted! Always have bay leaves in the house for use in soups and stews, but don't make the mistake of using any pronounced flavors, like bay, thyme, sage, or any one spice, too frequently, else the family will tire of it.

Potato Soup.—Six potatoes, peeled and boiled with one onion. Warm one quart of milk and water, add potatoes, mashed, season with salt, pepper, butter and a tablespoon of chopped parsley.

Tomato Soup.—One quart can tomatoes, half tablespoon salt, one pint hot water, quarter teaspoon pepper, one tablespoon sugar, six cloves, one small onion, one tablespoon butter, two tablespoons cornstarch, one stalk celery, one tablespoon extract of beef. Put tomato, water, sugar, salt, pepper and cloves to boil 15 minutes. Put butter into frying pan, when hot, add sliced onion, fry five minutes (do not brown), add cornstarch, cook two minutes, add to tomato, etc., simmer five more minutes; strain thoroughly, add extract of beef, return to fire, and boil up once.

Mulligatawny Soup.—Cut the breast of a young chicken (after it has cooked in soup stock) in small pieces. Put in a pan the carcass and bones of the chicken, and enough soup to cover it, simmer for one hour and strain; fry two small onions in an ounce of butter, add three-fourths of an ounce of flour, stir well, pour the broth in the butter and onions, boil up, add one-half tablespoonful of curry powder, half a cup of milk, pepper and salt; simmer for ten minutes; put the chicken meat in the soup tureen, two tablespoonfuls of boiled rice, pour over the soup and serve. Half a teaspoonful of beef will help strengthen the chicken stock.

Tomato Bisque.—Stew a can of tomatoes with a pinch of saleratus in it about ten minutes. Boil three pints of milk, thicken with one tablespoon of flour, butter size of an egg, salt and pepper to taste. Then strain the tomatoes into the hot milk and serve immediately.

Salmon Soup.—Heat a quart of milk in a double boiler with a slice of onion and thicken with a tablespoon of flour creamed into one of butter. Remove the onion. Add a teaspoon of salt, a speck of cayenne and half a can of salmon which has been chopped very fine. Serve when thoroughly hot.

Chocolate Ice Cream Cookies.

One-half cup brown sugar, one-half cup white sugar, one-half cup butter Cream together and add one beaten egg, two squares melted chocolate two-thirds cup sour milk with one ever-teaspoon soda beaten in flour to make stiff enough to roll thin. Cut with small round cutter, and bake. Make filling of five teaspoons hot water, tea-spoonful vanilla, one teaspoon butter and confectioner's sugar enough to beat smooth enough to spread. But a little on the bottom of a cookie and press another to it like a sandwich.

Ideal Gruel.

To make gruel successfully, great care must be exercised. To make patent groats gruel, the required quantity should be mixed very smoothly and carefully with cold water; milk is apt to make it lumpy. When mixed, it should be added to equal quantities of boiling milk and water; boil all gently for fifteen or twenty minutes. When done, three parts fill a cup, and serve with cold milk or cream and castor sugar.

Milk Lemonade.

Dissolve four ounces of loaf sugar in one-half gill of boiling water, then add a gill of sherry and juice of two lemons. Stir well together, then add three-quarters of a pint of new milk. Stir all well, strain through a jelly bag till clear. The cost is small, and the drink really delicious.

Egg Cordial.

Beat the white of an egg to froth add a tablespoon of cream and a tablespoonful of good old brandy, and if liked, a little sugar.

Origin of English Royal Academy.

The yearly "show" of works by living artists which is held at the English Royal Academy from the first Monday in May to the first Monday in August owes its existence to a meeting of painters which was held at the Turk's Head, Soho, on November 12, 1759. The knights of the brush and palette resolved that "once a year on a day in the second week in April at a place that should be appointed by a committee for carrying the design into execution, to be chosen annually, every painter, sculptor, engraver, chaser, seal-cutter, and medallist may exhibit their several performances." It was also resolved that "the sum of one shilling be taken daily of each person who may come to visit the said performances."—"The Royal Academy," Oscar Fricke, in National Magazine.

Passenger's "Lucky Escape."

A traveler in one of the London tubes attempted to board a train after it had started and the gates were closed. He got his feet under the gate and hung on until the train ran into the tunnel. Here he was knocked off, and but for the prompt action of the engineer he would have had both legs cut off. He wrote a letter of complaint to the company, whereupon they had him "summoned" for breaking one of its regulations, and the court fined him $2.50 and costs, which amounted to $3.10. The item describing the case in the London Times was labeled "A Lucky Escape." Evidently from a heavier fine.—New York Press.

Pantheon and Parthenon.

The Parthenon, or what is left of it, stands upon the Acropolis of Athens. This most famous building on earth was erected under the administration of Pericles about B. C. 442. Its present ruinous condition was caused by the explosion of a bomb during the war between the Venetians and Turks in 1687. The Pantheon, at Rome, was built by Agrippa in B. C. 27, and, unlike the more beautiful temple at Athens, it still in a fair state of preservation. The Pantheon is, of course, well worth seeing, both for its own sake and on account of its historic interest; but it does not hold the fame belonging to the incomparable building on the Athenian Acropolis.

Appropriate Names.

In upper Third avenue E. Bunn has a bakery. In Columbus avenue is Miss Stuch, women's lingerie. A dealer in window glass has a name which may be read either way and it will be the same: Leon Noel. In Boston avenue is a surgeon dentist, Dr. Morg.—New York Press.

ABOUT OUR NEIGHBORS.

The County Fair has been growing in size and popularity for many years; the advancement this year will be more marked than even. Plan to see it.

During Sunday night's storm the large barn belonging to Mr. Duolos, Kingscroft, was struck by lightning and burned. With considerable difficulty the owner saved his horses; other contents of the building were destroyed.

A meeting is being held at Ayer's Cliff to-day in the interest of elementary schools. It was called by the special committee recently appointed by the Protestant section of the Council of Public Instruction.

The municipal council of East Andrus has passed a by-law providing for a loan of $70,000 to secure water-works and a sewerage system for the town. Under the by-law the corporation will have the right to expropriate springs and other sources of supply within a radius of twenty miles.

Granby was the scene of a $100,000 fire Sunday afternoon when the Meyer Thomas Company's box factory was burned. At the outset it was apparent that the local firemen would not be able to control the fire and a call for help was sent to Farnham.

Another report gives the raise in the level of the lake from Sunday night to Monday morning as six inches. Dr. J. C. Colby was caught in the storm while returning from Knowlton. He crossed the lake from Knowlton's Landing to Georgeville in a small boat and at the latter place was met by Chauffeur Charles Ames.

The first fair of the season comes at Barton next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 20-22. The management of the Barton fair seems to be easily living up to their reputation for giving "the best 25c. fair in New England."

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Edwin Hills and Miss Lillian Hills, of Brooklyn, N. Y., wish through the JOURNAL to thank the many friends who so kindly remembered them with post card showers during their recent illness.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

with plenty of out-door exercise, pure food and air, will arrest consumptive tendencies, allay irritation in throat and lungs, and build up the whole body.

SUNDAY NIGHT'S STORM.

The electrical and rain storm which covered a large section of the Eastern Townships Sunday night was the worst experienced in many years. At least one life was lost and a number of buildings were burned.

The storm did not come without warning; all the afternoon the forces of nature were gathering for the fray. Towards night the western sky darkened, the big clouds which had rolled up over the mountain tops took on an inky blackness; flashes of lightning became more and more frequent; one peal of thunder followed another and the rain came, first gently then in torrents.

At about eight o'clock there came a lull in the storm and a slight lightening of the sky. Wayfarers who had sought temporary shelter ventured out again, only to be caught in the worst storm of the night, which came at about nine o'clock. So intense was the darkness that travel would have been impossible but for the intermittent electrical illumination provided by nature.

The damage by washouts in this section was not as heavy as might have been expected, and most of the electrical energy seems to have been harmlessly spent so far as the township of Stanstead is concerned, but some of the neighboring townships were not so fortunate.

Hatley seems to have been a center of electrical disturbance. Tuesday Mr. R. P. Hurlbut of that place gave the JOURNAL a vivid description of Sunday night's storm. The deluge of rain, thunder and lightning had been depressing, but the situation became weird when the darkness was dispelled by the burning of buildings in three different directions.

During the storm one of the sheds on the fair grounds at Ayer's Cliff was struck by lightning and ignited. It was a low structure and the fire was extinguished without much difficulty.

Geo. H. St. Pierre of this place, who witnessed the storm from his summer cottage on the Katevale road, Lake Massawippi, reports a raise of fully four inches in the level of the water there.

Another report gives the raise in the level of the lake from Sunday night to Monday morning as six inches.

Dr. J. C. Colby was caught in the storm while returning from Knowlton. He crossed the lake from Knowlton's Landing to Georgeville in a small boat and at the latter place was met by Chauffeur Charles Ames, accompanied by John Audet. The party left Georgeville at 8.20, and when on the Marlington road, a short distance from the Narrows hill, the storm descended with such fury that progress became impossible; even with the powerful lights of the motor car the road could not be seen.

Dr. Stockwell was out in a portion of the storm coming from the Irvine camp at Cedarville, but with a covered buggy did not mind it seriously. Contractor Beach was out in the earlier part of the storm, coming from "Beechwood." He was accompanied by his granddaughter, Miss Lillian Beach. They left home in an open buggy just before the big storm came on.

Charles W. Stevens was at "The Pines," his summer home on Lake Memphremagog. Monday morning he rode into town on horseback. In conversation with a representative of the JOURNAL Mr. Stevens said that everything loose on his two acre lot had been washed into the lake. He had seen only one electrical storm which approached that of Sunday night.

The burning out of an oil switch at Capelton during the storm put the Sherbrooke Railway & Power Co.'s transmission line to this place out of commission. In this manner the villages of North Hatley, Ayer's Cliff, Stanstead, Rock Island, Derby Line and Beebe were suddenly plunged into complete darkness. All residents agree that Sunday was the darkest night that ever came to the Three Villages.

The electrical storm was particularly severe in the vicinity of Ascot Corner. From that place one death and the destruction of five barns are reported. E. Roseau, a young man who was spending the evening at the home of A. Bronchu, two miles from the village, was struck by lightning and killed instantly. His companions felt the shock but escaped injury. A barn belonging to M. Pomerleau, situated in the village, was burned; it contained neither live stock nor hay. O. Desruisseau lost four barns filled with the season's hay crop.

A barn belonging to John Edwards, Farnham, was struck by lightning and burned with its contents including a large quantity of hay.

Lightning-set barn fires are reported from Milby and Compton.

Sunday night's train over the E. & M. was considerably delayed by a washout between North Hatley and Eustis.

The steeple of the Roman Catholic Church at Cookshire was struck by lightning, but sustained little damage.

A Cookshire correspondent reports the killing of several head of cattle and sheep by lightning in the Sand Hill district. Mr. Kirby, Mr. Labonte and Wm. Barry are among the losers.

THE SHERBROOKE FAIR.

Where Bargain Tickets Can be Obtained. 5 for $1.00 Until Aug. 24.

In consideration of the demand for cheaper rate of admission to the annual Sherbrooke Fair, the directors of this, the largest and best exhibition in the Province of Quebec, have seen fit this year to return to the former rate of twenty-five cents at all times for adults, and fifteen cents for children, but in so doing not only have they acceded to the popular demand, but they have gone one step further. In every town throughout the Eastern Townships, in the principal stores and other places, the names of which are given below, will be found on sale strip tickets, five for one dollar, admitting one or five on the same ticket.

In every department of this year's fair great progress will have been made, and the public will see the largest and best show that Canada's Great Eastern Exhibition has yet produced.

These strip tickets will be on sale up to August 24th at the following places:

H. A. Channell, Stanstead; A. E. Hurd, Ayer's Cliff; B. F. Stewart, Rock Island; J. B. LeBaron, North Hatley.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever.

The late Mrs. William W. Heath. Heathton lost one of its most estimable women in the death of Mrs. William W. Heath (nee Clara E. Locke) which occurred Sunday afternoon, August 10, at the Heath home- stead in Heathton, where she had lived since her marriage, March 21st, 1871.

Mrs. Heath was born October 1, 1847, at Heathton, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Locke. Both the Heath and Locke families were among the first to settle in the locality. The Heath farm was cleared by a fore-bear of the present owner, his father and grand-father being born on it.

The deceased was always identified with the best activities in the community, was for several years president of the W. C. T. U. She was a faithful member of and worker in the Methodist Church and a splendid neighbor.

The funeral was held at the church Tuesday, Rev. F. A. Halpeny of Centenary Methodist Church, Stanstead, officiating. Music was furnished by a mixed quartette. The church was full, a rich testimonial to the esteem in which she was held by her neighbors. The flowers were numerous and beautiful. The interment was in Crystal Lake Cemetery. The bearers were: W. R. Wood, A. M. Aldrich, G. R. Pocock, C. H. Bean, G. E. Searles. Mrs. Heath had been ill for some months, the cause of her death being dropsy. She leaves her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Sarah Lydia Hastings of Heathton, and a son, John L. Heath of Rock Island. Her youngest daughter, Mary L. Heath, died last February.

The $15 models are made of very handsome tweed mixtures of browns and greys, plainly tailored. Another style is made of serge, jacket bound with silk braid. This suit is made on much the same lines as the more expensive suits. Still another $15 Model is also made of serge in the different colors. This suit is especially adapted for extra and odd sizes from 39 to 49.

NEW COATS

A very complete line of New Fall Coats, none to heavy for evening and automobile wear, in all grades and colorings.

READY-TO-WEAR GOWNS

New Styles for Fall; the lady is hard to please who cannot find among these gowns one suitable for any occasion. CORDUROY-One of the most serviceable and popular materials for Fall Dresses and Suits is Chiffon Corduroy; it is shown in beautiful colorings and as the name indicates is much lighter in weight than made previous to this season.

LIGHT WEIGHT SILK FOR FALL GOWNS

in all the best colorings, 24 inches wide, 25c. per yard.

AUTOMOBILE VEILS

36x54 inches, made from good quality chiffon, finished with a wide hem-stitched hem, all the best colorings. Special Values $1 each.

NEW NECKWEAR

Made in Robespierre style, pink, black, navy and green collar, with a double jabot of white lace, 25c. each. Same style, better quality, 50c. each. Bows and Ties of all descriptions. Midgets in all colors. Irish Croquet, with ribbon threaded under the roses, also all sorts of ribbon flowers for neck adornment, 25c. each.

CARPETS

This Department not only carries a stock that is very much larger than is usually found in a place of this size, but our prices can always be depended on to be as low as either the city Department Stores or the Catalogue Houses. We will always be pleased to match prices for our customers.

FIBER CARPETS

There is no more sanitary Bed Room Carpets than the Fiber Carpet, it can either be sewed or laid like a matting. We have not felt like recommending this carpet to our customers at 50 or 55c. per yard, but we are now able to sell it at 25c. which is only the price of a fair straw matting and this carpet is surely a much better floor covering and very much better value. Good line of patterns and colors, 25c. a yard. Carpet Size Rugs, 9x12 feet, Tapestry, Velvet Axminster and Brussels, prices $10, $12.50, $15, $18.50, $19.95, $23.50 and $25 each.

PLEASANT HEIGHTS.

Rain! Rain! Farmers are getting entirely discouraged, especially those who have a quantity of hay down.

Mrs. Bert Miller of Smith's Mills was a guest of her sister, Mrs. M. Harris a few days last week.

Miss Eva Bachelier is at East Bolton for a few days to help care for her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Patterson, who is quite ill.

Miss Elizabeth Sharkey, of Magog, was at Mr. F. Sharkey's a few days recently.

Master Howard Cass of Griffin visited relatives here last week.

Mr. Fred Thomas, of Magog, is doing Mrs. M. Bachelier's haying.

Mr. D. Patterson and brother Harlow were at Pleasant Heights on Sunday.

Miss Nora Thomas of Magog, is staying with Mrs. M. Bachelier for a few days.

Mr. Brash of Magog was in this vicinity on Tuesday.

Miss Willard will commence her school here on Monday, after an absence of four weeks. We understand that Miss Frances Embury is to teach the Oliver school, commencing Sept. 1st. We wish the young lady success.

Mrs. J. Wharry is very low at this writing.

Mrs. Wm. Patterson is no better.

WAY'S MILLS.

Mrs. Geo. Colt, of Brattleboro, Mass., has been the guest of Mrs. J. O. Oliver.

Miss Alta Bryant, of Hatley, was a recent guest of Miss Agnes Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Fannie Daniels spent the week-end in Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hanson, of Rock Island are spending a couple of days at Mr. J. O. Oliver's. They leave tomorrow for Elmwood Park, where they are going to occupy Mrs. Jencks' cottage.

Mr. Henry Gilbert and son Malcolm, of Bromptonville are spending a few days at E. J. Gilbert's.

The heavy storm of Sunday did not do any damage here. The big elm tree in front of H. McDonald's house was broken down and the lightning struck the chimney on the Standish house, went down into the bedroom, struck the bed which the boys were sleeping on, split it in two and tore it all to pieces, but the boys were not injured, though needless to say were some frightened. The outvert on the Standish road was washed out by the heavy rain.

Don't miss the County Fair at Ayer's Cliff, August 28th and 29th.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our heartfelt gratitude for the assistance so generously extended to us in our time of affliction. Through the JOURNAL we wish to extend our most sincere thanks to all our neighbors and friends for their kindness, assistance and sympathy.

MRS. JOHN PEASLEY, MR. FRED PEASLEY.

BEEBE.

Rev. G. W. Fither has two sons visiting him.

Mrs. Joe House, of Manchester, N. H., is visiting her brother, Mr. Hoel Beebe.

Quite a number from here attended the wedding of Miss Erema Copp to Mr. Gilbert Hutchison at the home of the bride in Derby last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. E. M. Beerworth accompanied some friends, who had been visiting her, to Montreal last Saturday by auto, returning home this week.

The Ladies Aid will meet in the schoolroom of the church August 23rd. Supper served at 6 o'clock. A welcome is extended to all.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Twombly and Mr. Edward Stone have returned to Boston, Mass., after spending a few weeks with relatives and friends here and adjoining places.

A party of twelve took a trip down the lake last Saturday, among whom were Mrs. James Albee and sons Raymond and Allen, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Twombly and Mr. E. Stone, of Boston, the others being from this place. All enjoyed the day.

Advent Church next Sunday, service at 10.45. Subject: "A Place of Refuge." Evening at 7.30. Subject: "Who is the Beloved?" All are welcome.

Mrs. Katie Robinson and twin daughters of Boston, are visiting her mother, Mrs. C. A. Searles.

Mrs. A. A. Tyler and Miss Connie Ferguson spent Friday at North Hatley with friends.

Miss Emily Welsner, of Boston, is the guest of Miss Olive House.

It is reported that there is to be a webbing factory built here. We are glad of business industries as it improves our pleasant village.

Mr. LaCourse's new house is progressing finely. Will Mosher is the managing workman.

C. B. Ordway and William Annis, of Orleans, visited at H. H. Twombly's recently.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Kirwin and little son are spending a few weeks in Quebec.

Fred Gray and family, with friends who are visiting them, spent a few days in Holland recently.

The Stanstead Granite Co. have been building an addition to their shed, which shows that the work is increasing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jenkins are spending two weeks at Potton Springs.

MASSAWIPPI.

During the electrical storm of Sunday night, which lasted seven or eight hours, and long to be remembered by its severity, a barn belonging to Mr. Delworth Little was struck by lightning and burned, the bolt going in by the hay fork. Mr. Little was in the barn and received quite a shock from which he soon recovered, however.

There were 60 tons of hay, a double wagon and land roller consumed. The insurance was $700 on the barn, but the loss will be considerable. The other barns within eight feet were saved by the efforts of the neighbors who soon gathered.

While the sky was aflame to the north of us another conflagration was seen to the south-east at Kingscroft and soon the light from this reflected even here through the dense clouds and mist like moonlight.

It was a fearful night with heavy rainfall and people generally remained up most of the night.

Rev. E. E. Marggraf of North Hatley held the Sunday morning service here in exchange with Mr. McVey. He gave us a most excellent sermon and the congregation was rather in excess of the ordinary, the weather being good and several visitors to our town being present. Rev. and Mrs. Gardner of Pennsylvania were among the number.

Miss Alice Griggs, of Sherbrooke, is in town for a time the guest of Miss A. Hitchcock.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Skinner and the Misses Jencks, of Sherbrooke, have been at her sister's, Mrs. Samuel Robinson's, for a few days of late.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hovey and daughters, of Canaan, Vt., were at Broadview Friday and Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Gillilan, of Beebe, were at "Greenbank" over Saturday night, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Ayer on Sunday to see Miss S. Ayer, who is slowly gaining from a fever.

It is said that the lake rose about eight inches with the rain of Sunday night.

Miss Myrtle Frappled has returned from Moose Jaw not greatly impressed with the country. Our own fair land is good enough for most of us.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman of McConnell were at Mr. Peck's on Monday.

Mr. Al Cox went to the hospital at Montreal last week for an operation, which took place Saturday. A letter received Monday states that he is doing well. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. W. Monroe, who is staying with him.

Mrs. N. Whitcomb and her two sons and Miss Alice attended the Whitcomb-Webster wedding at Coaticook last week.

Mr. Elmer Colt and Mr. O. Amy have exchanged automobiles.

Mr. C. Sloggett motored to North Hatley on Sunday.

HATLEY CENTER.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Oliver were guests of her mother and sister at Stanstead over Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. C. A. Young was in Stanstead over Sunday and the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O. LeBaron and family of Detroit, Mich., are guests of his father, C. O. LeBaron.

Considerable annoyance attended with loss has been the experience of sheep owners of late through the depredations of a couple of canine marauders. Fortunately these undesirable disturbers were soon run down and shot and favorable terms of settlement were concluded between the owners of the dogs and the sheep losers.

One of the worst electrical storms that has visited this county for a great many years occurred on Sunday, commencing about 6 o'clock p. m. and lasting until 3 o'clock a. m., Monday. At first it did not appear to be of unusual ferocity and magnitude, but by 7.30 o'clock it was very evident that a storm of unusual pretensions was hovering over this part of the province. Not many weeks ago this section was visited by a terrible cloud-burst causing heavy losses by wash-outs, but no one expected that another deluge was to be experienced in almost like manner. While the damage by water was not so great, the amount of rain which fell was probably exceeded by the fact that it continued to rain much longer. Water was running ankle deep on the roads, and in some grain fields water stood half way to the knees. Many fences were thrown down and others turned over and cattle, horses and sheep had free access to roam. The storm was attended by considerable loss by fire.

When the storm first commenced the lightning struck the barn belonging to Mr. Delworth Little, but did not ignite, however, the bolt fell near Mr. Little, who was in the barn at the time, and a slight shock almost overcame him, yet with difficulty he reached the house, where he was afforded help by the members of his family and the company they were entertaining that day. About an hour afterwards, while they were still working over Mr. Little, a second bolt struck the barn and in a moment it was on fire. Fortunately the company rushed out and saved the horses and contents of the stables before the fire became too hot. Soon the neighbors reached the spot and rendered all the assistance possible, saving practically all the wagons, etc. It was early perceived that nothing could be done to save the silo or separator and refrigerator rooms, so all the efforts were turned to saving the old barn and ice house. In this they were successful. Many of the firefighters worked hard, but special mention must be made of Elwin English of Massawippi, who climbed up onto the plate of the building and threw water on the roof and other burning portions of the building. After half an hour of constant water throwing the fire was extinguished and this barn saved. After the fire it was found that Mr. English was badly burned despite the continual drenching he received from a couple of helpers who were despatched to do this work. We hope the burns will not prove serious.

While this fire was in progress the storm did not abate and another fire in Kingscroft could be seen very plainly. Mr. Little's loss will be heavy as his hay crop was mostly harvested and the insurance was small.

CASSVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Heath of Judd's Mills, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lawton on Friday. Mr. Heath called on his nephew, Mr. William Heath, on the same day.

Miss Olive Gilley, of Somerville, Mass., arrived at the "Maples" Friday evening to spend a few weeks at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lawton.

Mrs. Jessie Larraway and two children, of Swetsburg, are spending a few days at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. G. S. Rudd.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed here last Sunday. A meeting of the quarterly official board of Hatley and Cassville was held at the church on Monday.

Mr. A. G. Glough, of Ayer's Cliff, attended church here last Sunday.

Owing to the heavy rains much of the grass is still uncut.

Mrs. L. J. Bangs and her sister, Mrs. M. Bangs, of Sherbrooke, are visiting relatives at Stanstead and Rock Island.

Mrs. Gage, of Pearson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. David Watson.

Mrs. Albert Libby and daughter Ethel and son Guy are spending a few weeks at the home of Mr. Libby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Libby.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during the long illness and death of our dear husband and father. We wish to thank especially the choir; also the Brother Foresters for the beautiful wreath, and others who sent floral tributes.

Mrs. T. E. Demick and Family.

SUFFERED EVERYTHING

For Years, Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Canadian women are continually writing us such letters as the two following, which are heartfelt expressions of gratitude for restored health:

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of womb and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully for years until I began taking your medicine. I also recommend it for nervousness and indigestion."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ont.

Chesterville, Ont.—"I heard your medicines highly praised, and a year ago I began taking them for falling of womb and ovarian trouble.

"My left side pained me all the time and just before my periods which were irregular and painful it would be worse. To sit down caused me pain and suffering and I would be so nervous sometimes that I could not bear to see any one or hear any one speak. Little specks would float before my eyes and I was always constipated.

"I cannot say too much for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, for there are no medicines like them. I have taken them and I recommend them to all women. You may publish this testimonial."—Mrs. STEPHEN J. MARTIN, Chesterville, Ontario, Canada.

The Man Who Disappeared

By Rev. J. H. Rabson, Secretary of Correspondence Department of Moody Bible Institute

TEXT—Enoch walked with God; and he was not; for God took him.—Genesis 5:24.

In the patriarchal days a very prominent man, a preacher who gave the startling message that the Lord would come with ten thousand of his saints to execute judgment upon all, disappeared. What commotion this disappearance caused we are not told. There was no record of the fact, as far as we know, for nearly two thousand years, and then it was merely said, "God took him." Then another period of about two thousand years passed, when the mystery was further cleared up, the record showing that the man had been translated that he should not see death. He was the only man of the patriarchal era, as Moses was of the Jewish era, and Christ was of the Christian era, to be taken to heaven by translation.

He walketh with God High in salvation and the climes of bliss. Exempt from death.

Possibly the same queries were made then that would be made now, as to the mysterious disappearance of a person, and among others this question would be asked, "In whose company was he last seen?" Our text tells us, and the answer presents to us a fact that is of practical interest and which we will consider. He was last seen walking with God.

Can a Man Walk With God? Why not? Is not a man created in the image and likeness of God, in righteousness and true holiness? Although the features of this common likeness are battered out of recognition, yet the purpose of man's creation that he should hold the closest fellowship with God remains, and if, recognizing his marred condition he comes in penitence to God as David came, he will be received as one after God's own heart and walk close with him.

As to the fact of walking with God, we have, first, the case in question. Then we have the clear statement that Noah walked with God. Near the end of the Old Testament we have the statement that certain priests walked with God in peace and equity. The Psalmist said, "Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil . . . thou art with me." If we believe that the fourth person in the furnace into which the three Hebrew children were cast was the Son of God, again do we have men walking with God, for the king said, "I see four men loose, walking in the fire." All through the centuries men and women have walked with God, and no picture of touching elbows or linking arms is too strong to express the contact. Walking with God is the Christian's goal, and he sings:

So shall my walk be close with God,
Calm and serene my frame,
So purer light shall mark the road
That leads me to the Lamb.

Walking with God involves separation from the world, a negative result. It then involves congeniality in personal qualities. "Can two walk together unless they be agreed?" In the case of man walking with God, the qualities in God must indicate the mutual qualities, and those which man may possess are holiness, mercy, love, the spirit of self-sacrifice, and love.

Enoch Walked With God 300 Years. Walking with God implies prolonged and constant companionship with him, and in the case before us, the walk continued for 300 years. When Jesus called his disciples he said, "Follow me," meaning that he would have his disciples attach themselves closely to his person, and at the end of his ministry he commanded those who were then with him.

We cannot ask unselfishly, is this walk for man's benefit? It implies a mutual conferring of benefits. A natural consequence of walking with God will be close intimacy without any suggestion of offensive familiarity. God holds trysts with his people. Christ and his people have common secrets; all that is Christ's belongs to his followers. How sweet it is to have God take us into his confidence, and reveal to us the depths of his love for us!

In the case of Enoch we have a suggestion that a prolonged walk with God will result in something better than any communion to be realized on earth. Enoch was translated, and God took him to himself and redeemed as he was by the blood of Christ yet to be shed for him, he had blessings in God's presence greater than those of angels. Walking with God is a prophesy of heavenly translation.

Do Not Require Alcohol. "People in ordinary health do not require alcohol in any form, and are not benefited by it even in very small quantities."—Surg.-Major F. Carley.

PERILS OF ELEPHANT HUNT

Hunters More Afraid of Stampede Than of Being Attacked by Huge Beasts.

We were now in the bend of the Niger, and approaching Lake Niangaye, a fine sporting country, writes Capt. A. H. W. Haywood in the Wide World Magazine. Here I spent nearly three weeks, shifting my little camp as circumstances dictated. It was near the site of an inundated village that I made my headquarters for elephants. These fine beasts used to come and drink at the lake every three or four days, and I was fortunate enough to get two good tuskers here. My first view of these animals was a never-to-be-forgotten one. It was a beautiful moonlight night, and I had sent out my hunters in different directions to bring me early news of elephants coming to drink at the lake, which is a very large one. Suddenly a man appeared, saying that a herd was approaching rapidly, and soon I heard the thud of a multitude of huge feet on the sandy ground. Making a wide circuit to avoid giving them my wind, I cautiously drew close to the lake.

Words cannot adequately describe the beauty of the scene that met my eyes. Some 40 elephants were disporting themselves in the moonlit waters, bathing and douching themselves with water taken up in their trunks. Knowing I should get my chance later, I had plenty of time to single out the best tuskers and mark them down. In the meantime, I lay perfectly still in my concealed position, enjoying this remarkable picture. Having bathed and drunk their fill, the elephants proceeded to retreat leisurely homewards. With a little maneuvering I had no great difficulty in shooting one of the animals I had marked down. Now arrived a dangerous moment. The huge herd, frightened rather than enraged at the report of my rifle and the fall of their comrade, stampeded in all directions. Some half dozen came careering toward me; there was neither time nor space to evade them, and for a moment I thought I must inevitably be trampled under their massive feet. I had flung myself on the ground to be as inconspicuous as possible, when fortunately something made them turn aside. They passed within a few inches of my prostrate body, screaming and trumpeting in terrifying fashion as they thundered by.

RISES GHOSTLIKE IN COURT

Very Much Alive, First Husband Appears in Annuity Suit at Paterson, N. J.

Paterson, N. J.—For ten years looked upon as dead, Ralph Mowerson of Syracuse, N. Y., walked into Vice-Chancellor Stevenson's court and established that he was alive. The suit of John G. Schwartz, secretary and treasurer of the Schwartz Building company, against his wife Hannah for annulment of their marriage was under consideration. Mrs. Schwartz was testifying, when Peter J. McGinnis, counsel for Schwartz, ordered Mowerson to stand up. "Do you know that man?" the woman was asked. Only a moment before she declared she learned her first husband had died somewhere in the west. Mrs. Schwartz gasped and almost whispered: "Yes, I know that man; he is my husband." She was then excused.

Mowerson testified that he married Hannah E. Straut May 8, 1896, at Tallman, N. Y. Ten years ago he deserted his wife, he admitted, and went to Phillipsburg, Mont. He denied that he had ever caused to be written letters to his wife declaring his death. Mrs. Schwartz testified that she had received a letter from his sister in Idaho telling of his death.

Human Chain Rescues Man. Niagara Falls, N. Y.—One of the most daring rescues in the history of Niagara falls was made by Aran Kevoorkian, an Armenian. Wading out waist-deep into the rapids a short distance above the cataract, he pulled to shore with a pike pole the unconscious form of Henry J. Smith of Buffalo.

Kevoorkian was assisted by David Gordon and Park Constable Thomas Harrington, who formed a human chain, anchoring the Armenian to the shore and enabling him to resist the current, which was unusually strong owing to the high water.

COINS AND THE MINT.

Metal Money That Uncle Sam's Officials Buy and Sell.

The mint does not buy old coins or paper money, except certain rare colonial coins in fine condition, desired for the mint's cabinet. Mutilated or uncurrent United States gold and silver coin is purchased as bullion. The mint has no pattern pieces for sale, and the government pays no premium for the return of any of its coins or paper money.

New coins cannot be struck in this country in the absence of authorization by congress. The mint supplies United States coins only and not of any past date. The fifty dollar gold piece and the half dollar and quarter dollar pieces in gold were struck by private parties on the Pacific coast during the '49 period and not by the federal government.

The coinage of the following coins ceased in the years named: The half cent, copper, in 1857; one cent, nickel, 1864; half dime and three cent, silver, and two cent, bronze, in 1873; twenty cent, silver, 1878; trade dollars, 1883; one dollar and three dollar, gold, and three cent nickel, 1890. The Columbian half dollar was coined in 1892 and the Isabella quarter in 1893. The Lafayette dollar was struck in 1890, the date on the coin (1900) being that of the unveiling of the memorial.

Certain markings, indicating the place of coinage, are to be seen on our coins. Those struck at the Philadelphia mint have no mint mark, but those struck at all other mints are distinguished by a small letter on the reverse, near the bottom. These letters are "C" for Charlotte, N. C., discontinued in 1831; "CC" for Carson City, Nev., discontinued in 1853; "D" for Dahlonega, Ga., discontinued in 1831; "O" for New Orleans, and "S" for San Francisco.

The coins of the United States now authorized by law are: In gold, double eagle, eagle, half eagle, quarter eagle; in silver, dollar, half dollar, quarter dollar and dime; minor, five cent, nickel and one cent, bronze.

Proof sets of both gold and silver coins are to be had by purchase from the mint. When business there is slack medals may be struck from dies furnished by individuals, public institutions and incorporated societies at a charge sufficient to cover the cost of the operation and the value of the metal.—Scientific American.

Why Wild Beasts Left Missouri.

No elk have been seen in central Missouri since 1834. Prior to that time they were reasonably plenty. They were attracted by the prevalence of the salt licks. Nathaniel Walker, or "Uncle Natty," as he was familiarly called, a famous pioneer hunter, claims to have counted fifty elk in a drove on the knoll near the present Saline county courthouse. The bear disappeared about the year 1840, though occasionally animals of the bear tribe were afterward seen. Old time Democrats said that the Whigs scared the bear, deer, elk and almost every other kind of game out of the country in 1840 by their yelling, anvil firing and torch-light parades in honor of General Benjamin Harrison, their successful candidate for president.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fire Insurance Policies.

There are not many real estate brokers who know how to write a fire insurance policy. Many, however, think they are experts about such matters until a client of theirs learns after his property has been damaged by fire that he was only partly insured. "If buildings are to be insured," says R. O. Haubold, "care should be taken to issue the policy in the name of the persons in whom title is vested; that provision is made that should the building stand upon ground held in any other way than fee simple the policy will not be voided by that fact. If the premises be or become vacant for a period of more than ten days the contingency must be met."—New York Tribune.

Old Glory.

I have seen the glories of art and architecture and of river and mountain. I have seen the sunset on the Jungfrau and the moon rise over Mont Blanc. But the fairest vision on which these eyes ever rested was the flag of my country in a foreign port. Beautiful as a flower to those who love it, terrible as a meteor to those who hate it, it is the symbol of the power and the glory and the honor of fifty millions of Americans.—George F. Hoar.

A Sigh From the Author.

"Proofreading is Greek to me, even after having several books published," Miss Alice Louise Lee recently wrote to her publishers. "But what worries me is this psychological question, Will my corrections be as unintelligible to the printer as all his marks are to me? It seems to me very confusing. In the face of proofreading I feel like the farmer who before the rhinoceros' cage declared, 'There ain't no such beast!'"

His Honor at Stake.

"Young man, how do you expect to marry my daughter if you are in debt?" "Why, sir, in my opinion it's the only square thing to do. The longer I am engaged to her the worse off I will be."—Life.

The Servant Problem.

"I, sir," said the demonstrative candidate, "am a servant of the people." "Gosh!" replied Farmer Cornbosel. "Ain't this servant problem gettin' to be awful?"—Washington Star.

Heaven will be inhabited by every man who has heaven in his soul.—Beecher.

SHOP AND WATER POWER FOR SALE

We have vacated our wood shop in the Foundry Hill, moving to our new wood shop near our Canadian factory, and the old shop is for sale. It is 40x50, 2 1/2 stories and a basement, with a frontage of about 112 feet, and it runs to the Southside of the canal. There is 12 feet head and 36 horse power, and this property carries its prorata proportion of the canal improvement. Its location and water power makes it a very desirable property. The price at which we are offering it is low, taking into consideration the present activity of the realty market in our villages.

HOME TOWN HELPS

NOT ALWAYS BEHIND EUROPE

Many of America's Big Centers of Population Take the Lead in Some Matters.

New York City alone secure a larger revenue from land values than do the much-heralded "unearned increment" taxes of all the cities of Germany and all the taxes of the revolutionary Lloyd George Budget of 1909 combined. The total collections of New York City from this source amount to approximately $60,000,000 a year. I think it may fairly be claimed that we have made more progress in local taxation than have any cities in the world.

It must be remembered, too, that many activities of the American city are efficiently performed. Our library systems are models. In this we have been pioneers. The rapid development of public and private libraries, the extension of branches, the opening of reading rooms and library centers, the use of pictures and children's departments show the possibilities of our municipal democracy—when the laws of the state permit it to grow as it will.

Commissions come to America to study our library methods just as commissions go from this country to Europe to study their municipal achievements. The park systems of our cities are of the same high order. Our development in recent years has been phenomenal. Not only are our parks generous in area, but they have been laid out by experts in a far-sighted way. The Boston system is said to be the most comprehensive of any in the world, while those of Chicago, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Kansas City, Denver, and a score of lesser cities compare favorably with those of any cities of Europe.

America, too, led the way in playground development, as well as in the wider use of the schoolhouse and the social center. The exhibits of the American city in these activities at the Berlin Town Planning exposition were accepted as in advance of those of Europe.

From the very beginning our fire departments have been honestly and efficiently administered. These, too, have been models for foreign cities. For the most part, they have been free from the spoils system. Merit has been recognized in the selection of chiefs. New appliances have been rapidly introduced and an esprit de corps has been created like that of the army and the navy.—F. C. Howe in Scribner's Magazine.

WITH AN EYE TO THE FUTURE

Manner of Laying Out the Streets of a New Town Should Be Most Carefully Considered.

For outlying districts, narrow, winding, or diagonal streets make it possible to spend more on the sanitation of the homes, declares a man who has made a study of city planning. Where traffic of the future promises to be dense and a wide street may at some time be wise, in the intervening years a narrow paved area, bordered by grass and trees, is good economy, good sense, and good health.

As between rectangular streets exclusively and a combination in which some of the streets are diagonal and some rectangular, Robinson says aesthetics, sanitation, and convenience all favor the latter.

In Vienna the crowds are handled with less inconvenience than in any other city, and there the cars come in on diagonal streets to the Ringstrasse, which they follow around to deliver their passengers as near as possible to their destinations.

Robinson says: "The two diagonal streets, Broadway and the Bowery, in New York saved for the city breathing spots like Madison and Union squares—space out of reach if condemnation had been required."

Utilization of Vacant Lots.

For several years the City Beautiful page has advocated the use and beautification of vacant city lots, calling attention to the success attained in eastern cities through the work of Vacant Lot associations, etc. The problem now seems near to solution. The various schools of the city have extended their school garden work to nearby unused property, and if this movement does not culminate in the appropriation of all vacant lots it will at least call attention to the importance of control of one of our greatest eyesores—numberless weed-grown, rubbish-strewn vacant lots.—Los Angeles Times.

Weeds in the Walks.

For weeds in pavements or gravel walks make a strong brine of coarse salt and boiling water, put the brine in a sprinkling can and water the weeds thoroughly, being careful not to let any of the brine get on the grass, or it will kill it, too.

Worth Thinking Over.

What a simple matter it would be to clean up the city if everybody would do his part without depending on his neighbor to begin the work first! That is, assuming, of course, that the city authorities would do their part.

WHEN COAL WAS FORMED.

Curious Condition the Earth Was in at That Period.

What is said to be the strangest period through which this earth has passed is the one that was responsible for the formation of coal. The planet is described as being at that time flat and smooth as to surface and peculiar as to vegetation. The continents were just beginning to rise above the ocean, and the land had not yet become dry. Mountain ranges had not arisen from the swamps, and the atmosphere was thick with fog. In this state of affairs there sprouted and flourished the plants which were later to furnish the world with its coal supply.

These plants grew as big as our largest trees, taking deep root in the mosses and flourishing like the lush grasses in moist meadow land, developed into the strange shapes now found in tropical vegetation. The forests looked, scientists state, like dense growths of weeds, rushes and enormous ferns. Some of them grew in the shape of cacti, having spines all over them. This kind of vegetation was very rich in carbon, which it derived from the warm, moist atmosphere. Then the millions of years rolled by, the forests of giant weeds were buried by deposits of earthy material, and the chemical change took place which slowly changed them into coal. This process stopped with the carboniferous age, so that when the present supply of coal is dug out of the ground there will be no more.—New York Sun.

A RUSSIAN ROYAL TRAGEDY.

Czar Boris and the "Bell With the Ear Torn Off."

The kamauille koloko, or "bell with the ear torn off," had a most romantic history. In the sixteenth century Prince Dimitri, the rightful heir to the Russian throne, was deposed by a revolt led by Boris Godunoff, who was afterward proclaimed czar. The seat of government was then at Uglich, and thither Dimitri was sent in order that he might remain under the direct observation of the usurper.

Boris, fearing the populace might awake to the justice of the claims of the young prince, planned the assassination of Dimitri. He was one day stabled in a courtyard. None of the bystanders showed any disposition to aid him. A priest, however, from the cathedral belfry saw the crime and immediately began tolling the great bell, which was held sacred and rung only on unusual occasions, such as a coronation or the death of a czar.

Furious at this tacit expression of reproach, the czar commanded that the priest should be tortured and executed and that the bell should be taken down and placed beside the body of its ringer. This order was fulfilled, and the bell was beaten with clubs by the entire populace, the Czar Boris being at their head.

The czar then decreed that the bell should be exiled to Tobolsk and that one of its hangers be removed to efface its disgrace.—Harper's Weekly.

Camembert Cheese.

Camembert is the name of a commune, a few houses about a Camembert church in the prefecture Vimoutier and the department of Orne. The cheese got its name from the fact that it originated near there, but there isn't a cheese factory nearer than three miles away now, and not enough people live in Camembert to run one of any size. Caen, the principal Camembert market, is in Calvados. The cheese is carted to the shore and carried across the mouth of the Seine to Haver in boats. It is made, however, on the northeastern side of the Seine and from there comes to Haver direct. The cheese is shipped unripe even to home markets near at hand in French cities. It is seldom over four weeks old when it leaves the factory and often only two or three.—Argonaut.

The Proof.

"Apropos of International marriages," said a Texas congressman, "I am reminded of a saying of Vicomte d'Oignon."

"These American hetresses," grumbled the vicomte to his friend, the Chevalier Tete de Veau, "are a cold, calculating, designing lot."

"Yes?" said Tete de Veau.

"Yes," said d'Oignon. "I've just been accepted by Miss Billia Nare and, though Billia is worth twice as much as Lotta Golde, the latter declines positively to release me from our engagement."—Washington Star.

Caught in His Own Trap.

Mother—Why, what is the matter, Johnny? What are you crying about? Johnny—Teacher made me sit in her chair on the platform today, just because I whispered once. Mother—Well, I don't see anything dreadful in that. You have had to sit there before, Johnny—But there was tacks in her chair today! I'd just put 'em there for her to sit on.—Judge.

Equally Creditable.

"Do those stories that statesman tells give the public an impression that he is a man of mentality?"

"I think so," replied Senator Sargum. "Even if they do not indicate a ready wit they show a long memory."—Washington Star.

Well Done.

"Whatever I try to do I do with all my might."

"That was what Ridgely said. He told me you got his last dollar."—Washington Herald.

A man is hated sometimes for pride when it was an excess of humility, gave the occasion.

THE BALL SUBDIVISION

This beautiful property is now ready for sale. It has been carefully plotted and over 200 Maple and Spruce trees planted. Phelps Avenue has been graded to the property on its Canadian side, and Caswell Avenue has been graded and graveled to the property on its Vermont side. The two Avenues are connected by a new street, named Ball Street, running North and South. The location of this property is about ideal for residential purposes, being very accessible from either of the Villages, and it has lots located on either side of the Boundary Line, and two, numbers 11 and 12 are bisected by the line. The price is very reasonable for this kind of property and it will doubtless sell readily because of its desirability.

HENRY T. BALL, Proprietor, Rock Island, Que.

The plot can be seen and the prices of the property be obtained also in the office of Charles E. Bennett, Derby Line, Vermont.

GOOD ROADS MEETING.

Municipalities After "Trunk Line" Between Derby Line and Sherbrooke.

WOULD HAVE GOV'T BUILD IT.

Representatives of the municipalities of Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Ascot, North Hatley, Hatley township, Stanstead township, Stanstead and Rock Island met in Sherbrooke yesterday to consider the feasibility of a "trunk line" highway from Sherbrooke to Derby Line, Vermont, to connect with the "State road" at the latter point. The movement in favor of the proposed "trunk line" was started at Lennoxville some time ago, other municipalities being invited to cooperate. At yesterday's meeting the subject was pretty thoroughly threshed out. Some of the delegates understood that Premier Gouin was committed to a policy of Government built "trunk lines," and that one of the lines mapped out was from Quebec to Sherbrooke, with an extension to the international boundary. Others did not so understand the question, the latter believing the "trunk line" policy to be out of harmony with the Government plan.

Under the last Provincial Good Roads Act any municipality can obtain money with which to build roads upon payment of an interest charge of only two per cent., the balance of the interest, as well as the principal, being met by the Government. The meeting was entirely harmonious regarding the desirability of the road, and as to its route, which would be via Casville, Massawippi and Hatley Centre (Oliver schoolhouse). From the latter point two routes were suggested, one being via North Hatley and Capelton, the other via the east road and the Hunter bridge to Lennoxville. The North Hatley route seemed to meet with most favor. After full discussion a resolution was passed favoring the appointment of a delegation from the municipalities interested to go to Quebec and point out the importance of this artery of travel with the object of inducing the Government to construct the road without municipal contribution.

Secretary Baker of Lennoxville was authorized to arrange for the interview. Mayor Melloon was the official representative of the municipality of Rock Island, the citizen delegation being composed of Jas. F. Telford, W. H. Hovey, T. F. O'Rourke and J. C. Holland. Stanstead Plain was represented by Mayor Papineau and Hon. M. F. Hackett, Stanstead township by Mayor Walsh.

THE SIXTEENTH GAME.

A very strange aggregation came up from Newport Saturday to play the Frontiers. They were about all strangers. It is understood that there is an internecine war among the ball players at Newport and there is quite liable to be a change in the line-up at any time without notifying the league managers. It was quite a game to watch after all. Ashton made his first appearance here and everybody caught on to the fact that he is the best yet. When we learned that Charles Jenkins the Frontiers' mascot, was down in the Maine wilds there was a depressed look came over the fans and the umpire showed some incredulity and was less stolid at the opening of the game, but it seemed to be our day. We put three white pebbles in our right trousers pocket in the first inning and Ralph Bassett pushed one of "Riley's" smooth ones far enough out to make the third bag of oyster shells. We punted in the 2nd, caught two more in the 3rd and were five to the visitor's get some. They retired "Riley," substituting Gilman, a very quiet, peaceable chap, but when he began to work his St. Vitas wind-up we tried to see if we could hold our breath until he had disgorged the ball, but we breathed twice. How the "Dickens" he can untangle the anatomical knot and not tear or break something is beyond us.

The fifth inning the odds and evens scored and we added two to our five. In the 6th and 7th "nothing was doing." In the 8th the visitors scored again and we made another addition of two, making us nine to their two and so it finished.

Dana of Barton played second.

BRESETTE CORNER.

The W. C. T. U. met on August 7th at the home of Mrs. J. W. McConnell. We were glad to welcome one new member, and enjoyed the presence of three visitors, Mrs. J. Hunter, late of Cowansville Union, Mrs. L. D. Brown and Mrs. A. L. Rider, of Fitch Bay. The subject under consideration was: Why we wear the White Ribbon. We find many good reasons for banding ourselves together and binding ourselves with the white token of purity for our own advantage and the good and help we may render to those about us and the influence which will live after we are gone. The next meeting will be with Mrs. H. Kezar, October 2. The September meeting coming in fair week we decided to postpone it one month.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. D. U. Little for the loss of his large stock barn and the year's crop of hay, which was burned by lightning during the severe storm of Sunday evening.

Mrs. A. L. Rider, of Fitch Bay, and Mrs. O. W. Brown, of Maplecroft Farm, near Smith's Mills, were guests of Mrs. J. W. McConnell on Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Ruth Burnham of Barton, Vt., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. W. McConnell.

A canvass of the summer visitors at North Hatley shows at present forty less than at this time last year, but more than that number of rooms are engaged for later comers.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Wilson and son were at Eustis the first of the week.

Mr. A. Hunter of Eustis was a guest at Wayside Farm on Friday.

BROWN'S HILL.

Miss Clara Wilkie of Windsor, Que., is the guest of her friend, Miss Elizabeth Brown, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Ketcham and Miss Maude of Magog spent Sunday with her father, Mr. A. F. Curtis.

Mesdames E. E. and W. H. Temple are entertaining their uncle, Mr. Philo Spencer, of Lyme, N. H., for a few days.

Miss May Adams of Georgeville, Que., was the guest of Mrs. W. H. Temple on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Temple spent Tuesday at the Three Villages.

Mr. H. G. Vaughan was in Magog Sunday.

Mrs. Howard Bennett and daughter, Mrs. Theo. Smith, and two sons, of Barre, Vt., were guests of Mrs. Bennett's brother, Mr. J. A. Wilder, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Davis, of Baldwin's Mills, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Vaughan on Sunday.

Miss E. A. Temple was the guest of friends at Fitch Bay during the past week.

Messrs. G. L. and R. A. Temple and John Elbridge leave on Friday for the Canadian North-west.

Mrs. Charles Edson and baby Mildred, of Kingscroft, Que., were the guests of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Vaughan last week.

MINTON.

Mrs. J. McRea is staying at Mr. M. B. Rublee's owing to poor health.

Miss M. Dean, of Sherbrooke, was at home over Sunday.

Mr. W. Chamberlain of Oliver spent Sunday at Mr. A. A. Beane's.

Miss Alta Bean is visiting friends at Island Brook.

Rev. Mr. I. Norman of Lennoxville, conducted services here last Sunday.

A very severe electrical storm passed here Sunday evening, but no damage was done.

Mr. L. Magoon is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Chapman, at McConnell.

Mr. H. R. Slack attended council meeting at Massawippi last Monday.

Nearly all the farmers here have finished haying in spite of much rainy weather.

LEADVILLE.

Mr. Alexander Thompson of Cassville is spending a few days at his farm here. He is accompanied by his son, Mr. Gordon Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson and son Collin, of Newport Center, have been visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brown, of North Troy, spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Stickney spent Sunday at North Newport, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Maxfield.

The recent cloudy weather has greatly retarded haying operations and there remains a large amount yet to be cut in this vicinity.

CRYSTAL LAKE.

Mrs. Alma Gardine of Beebe is visiting at Mr. Stephen Tryon's.

Mr. and Mrs. Berto Bachelder and sons of Barnston were recent guests at Mr. J. R. Wells'.

The Misses Nettie Lovering and Ethel Minor were week-end guests of Mrs. Lizzie Rowell, Derby, Vt.

Mrs. Benj. Minor and Miss Lena Minor are spending a few days in Portland, Me.

Remember the County Fair August 28th and 29th.

PRIZE CUPS ON EXHIBITION.

In the north window at the Rock Island drug store are shown the eighteen sterling silver cups which are to be given as special prizes for Holstein-Friesian cattle at the Stanstead County fair. The most valuable cup in the display was given by the Queens Hotel, Limited, Montreal, which owns a large herd of Holstein-Friesian cattle. This cup has a wholesale value of $25. Other cups in the display have an average value of $10 each, and were contributed by the following breeders and others interested in thoroughbred stock: Neil Sangster, Ormstown; F. E. Came, St. Lambert; Dr. D. L. Harwood, Vaudreuil; Dr. E. P. Ball, Rock Island; J. M. Montie, Stanstead; C. C. Hanson, Dixville; Carlos P. Davis, Stanstead; Homer G. Curtis, Stanstead; Mrs. M. C. Clark, Hatley; R. P. Hurlbut, Hatley; John W. Stone, Hatley; J. W. McKay, Hatley Centre (two cups); A. G. Clough, Ayer's Cliff; M. W. LeBaron, Hatley; W. C. Webster & Son, Coatcook; H. B. Whitcomb, Hatley. These prizes cover all sections for which prizes are usually awarded. Particulars are given in a list of special prizes recently issued by the Society. The special prizes referred to above were obtained through the efforts of R. P. Hurlbut, of Rubicon Farm, Hatley, an enthusiastic breeder of Holstein-Friesian cattle. It is the most costly and handsome collection of prize cups ever shown here.

MCCONNELL.

A succession of terrific thunder showers visited us on Sunday evening last and though no fire resulted in this vicinity a small bridge near Turnertown was washed away and one at this place which was washed out last May and had been rebuilt was so badly wrecked as to be put out of business again. Such weather conditions are very discouraging for those farmers who have been unable to finish their haying as well as for road makers.

REDWAY-DREW.

On Wednesday afternoon, August 7th, at the residence of the officiating minister, Miss Lydia D. Drew of Apple Grove Que., became the bride of Mr. William Redway of Colton, South Dakota.

The marriage was solemnized by Rev. E. W. Puffer of Derby, Vt. Mr. and Mrs. Redway will reside in South Dakota where Mr. Redway is a prosperous farmer.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish through the JOURNAL to thank those who so kindly assisted us during the illness, death and burial of our wife and mother. For the flowers and the quartette that sang at the services. "A friend in need is a friend in deed."
William W. Heath and Family.

PRECIOUS RELICS IN DANGER

Steps Being Taken by the Pope to Insure the Safety of Documents in the Vatican.

Father Ehrle, the well-known historian, who has been prefect of the vatican library since 1895, is shortly to retire from his important post, and Monsignore Ratti, director of the Ambrosian library, of Milan, has been subsequently destructive bird, held lected by the pope to succeed him.

The manuscripts contained in the vatican library number over forty thousand and surpass not only in number but also in value and interest those of all other libraries in the world combined because they have been accumulated since practically the beginning of the Christian era. It will be necessary for Father Ehrle to remain in charge for at least another couple of years in order that he may hand over to his successor these manuscript treasures, which must be identified one by one.

The pope, on the suggestion of the retiring librarian, has availed himself of this detailed examination of manuscripts, which takes place whenever a new prefect is appointed, to reform the methods heretofore adopted for their preservation. The manuscripts are enclosed in low wooden cupboards called "armadillo," about five feet high, the doors of which are richly decorated, according to the plan in use for centuries in Rome, which was to combine art galleries and libraries and thus give room to hang pictures on the walls over the books.

While every precaution is taken for the preservation of the manuscripts from moths and dampness this old system of keeping them has its great drawbacks in case of fire, as the cupboards are naturally not fireproof. Father Ehrle suggested to the pope that every cupboard when possible should be converted into a strongbox or safe perfectly fireproof and that two or three large rooms should be specifically built with walls covered with steel plates or other non-inflammable material, to which the manuscripts that can not be kept in cupboards could be removed.

His suggestion has been fully approved by the pope, who still recalls the fire in the vatican, which but for the intervention of the Italian firemen might have had disastrous results, and the necessary arrangements have now been made to have the vatican manuscripts preserved in such a way as to insure their safety and integrity.
