

NEXT WEEK'S WEATHER

By ERIC NEAL
May 11 to 18

A pleasant, mild weekend opens our true spring, arriving in this fifth week after Easter, as usual. Main bird migration, they prefer to fly north during Full Moon nights.

Forsythia in flower, as are tulips, jonquills, narcissus and hyacinths, also trilliums in the woods. Choke cherries and crab apples blossom in the south.

We may expect 60 hours of sunshine this week, with temperatures up to 75 deg. F some days, but nights down to 30 deg. F.

Night showers, cold morning mists and intermittent drizzle for many places during the weekend.

Not going to Gabon
Drury stops talk,
he's running here

Westmount's federal representative C. M. Drury confirmed Tuesday at a press conference that he will again seek nomination as the Liberal party's candidate in the June 25 election.

Mr. Drury, who holds two portfolios in the federal cabinet, the ministry of trade and commerce, and the ministry of industry and defence production, said the purpose of the press conference was to put an end to "rumours that I am to be the next ambassador to France or Gabon, or whatever".

His purpose in seeking nomination and election in the new riding of Westmount, he said, was to enable him to carry on as a member of the government "which has laid the groundwork for better-than-ever Canadian unity and growth.

His voters
'cosmopolitan'

The changed face of Westmount as a federal riding was noted by C. M. Drury, MP and cabinet minister, speaking at a press conference in Montreal Tuesday.

The area, enlarged by redistribution of federal election ridings, is a cosmopolitan area, he said, "whose inhabitants range from the most recently-landed immigrant to what we might call 'the scions of Canada's oldest families', from the wide-ranging industrialist to the swinging go-go girl.

"I look to them all for support".

To automate substation

Modern equipment to be installed in Westmount's electrical substation should nearly pay for its $63,000 cost within the first year, Alderman Jean Richer told council Monday night.

Council voted to commit the $63,000 for the work.

Alderman Richer explained that reduction of the work week from 48 hours to 40 hours for substation operating staff would require the hiring of four to six additional operators if two-man shifts were to be continued. By making the suggested equipment changes, however, it will be possible to operate one-man shifts, thus saving $36,000 to $54,000 per year in additional wages.

Traffic light costs shared

Half of the Tupper Street-Awater Avenue intersection is in Westmount, half of it in Montreal.

Traffic experts for the two cities have agreed that traffic lights are needed at the intersection, so the cost is to be shared equally.

Westmount council Monday voted $2,800 as its share of the installation cost.

Montreal engineers estimate the total cost at $5,600. Montreal is to do the work, with Westmount helping to pay.

"It is the Liberal party's policy, and it is my intention, that we knock the stuffing out of the elements of disunity by removing the sources of their complaint..."

Towards this end, he said, the groundwork had already been laid with the bilingualism and biculturalism report.

Speaking in French, he said he hoped that Canada could show, as the people in Montreal have shown, that the rights of man can live in fact as well as in theory. He spoke, he said, not only of linguistic rights, but also economic, judicious and social.

He said, "The manifestations of disunity which have cropped up over the past two or three years have had their origin in Canadian history..."

"The growth of Canada, spiritually and economically, became known to the world in our Centennial year. Among others, through the Canada Council (whose works are not perhaps so well known) we have laid this groundwork for an épanouissement extraordinaire in the years to come.

"It is my ambition to share in these efforts to the utmost of my ability and it is for this reason that I seek the Liberal nomination for Westmount".

Four cars and 71 bicycles up for auction

Four cars, the youngest of them 10 years old, and 71 bicycles and tricycles in various states of repair are to be sold by the City of Westmount at public auction.

This was resolved at Monday night's meeting of city council.

Selling the property will be A. W. Wilson, bailiff of the Superior Court. Certain other formalities have to be observed before a date is set for the auction.

Fraud try nets fine

Sam Duchoeny, 43, of 2700 Bedford Road, Montreal, arrested April 26 for attempting to cash stolen Canadian Pacific Airlines money orders in Westmount, was found guilty of attempted fraud Friday and sentenced to the time spent in jail, plus a $50 fine. He agreed to make full restitution.

The cars are a 1958 Buick, last licenced in 1966, a 1958 Pontiac, licenced in 1967, a 1956 Plymouth and an Ensign.

One has a rear wheel missing, another a vanished front wheel. Some are only frames, but most are complete, including boys' and girls' sidewalk models.

... AND MORE

Westmount police, reporting that 44 bicycles were taken from their owners during the month of April, most of them later to be abandoned, have urged all Westmount cyclists to buy licence plates. This is required by law, police point out, and offers considerable protection to the owner.

When a plate is purchased from the city, police explain, the bicycle's serial number is recorded. Later, if it should be stolen and later recovered by police, the owner can be easily traced and his property returned to him.

Other points stressed by police are:

When leaving a bicycle, make sure it is chained and locked to an immovable object.

Record the serial number and keep it at home.

Saturday night spree ends in police chase

A Saturday night drinking spree ended abruptly last week after Westmount police chased a truck along St. Catherine Street and arrested four men.

Charged with taking a vehicle without the owner's permission are four Ville Emard men, Jean Ducharme, Richard Narbonne, Georges Mitchell and Rene Turcotte. Ranging in age between 20 and 25, the men pleaded not guilty and were released on bail, to appear for trial May 21.

Police action was begun when two persons came to the station Saturday night to report they had seen some men taking a truck from another person on Dorchester Street.

A truck was spotted, chased and stopped. Three men were arrested, a fourth one arrested at his home on Sunday morning.

visor, Patricia Marks; and assistant, Anne Murphy. The special guest speaker was A. Milstein.

Other guests included Miss K. McMorrow, Sister M. Murphy, national costume. Exhibits were on display and many pamphlets and souvenirs were distributed to the members.

After opening and welcoming remarks, Anne Murphy outlined the history of the Holy Land from early times up to the 19th Century. Then Mr. Milstein, making use of the many maps discussed modern history of Israel with a very special note on the "Six-Day War" of June 1967. This included talk on the growth of Israel as a state. An interesting question period followed with questions ranging from Israeli culture to economic problems.

Everyone was then invited to the projection room to see a film lent to the club by the Israel government tourist office, entitled Jerusalem, City of David. This film gave an interesting look into one of the world's most ancient and immortal cities. Following this a break was taken and Israeli refreshments were served along with "Tahina" and "Kichels". Patricia Marks spoke on the gastronomical aspect of Israel with a special description of Kosher foods.

The meeting resumed with Christine Reutlinger who examined industry, agriculture and exports. Valerie Secardin then pointed out the major cities on the map and gave a brief yet interesting note on each. Cathy Colvey then elaborated on Israeli art and architecture. Nicole Gareau's talk was very interesting and the members responded enthusiastically as she spoke on famous and the most outstanding people that Israel has contributed to the world.

Finally, Carl Gregor, filling in for Sheila MacCormik, discussed cultural contributions. Worthy of special mention are Judith Bedford and Joanne Warred, both of whom did a great deal of research for this meeting.

Again everyone was invited to see another film on Israel in general.

City debts written off

Council voted Monday to write off debts totalling $3,255.47 as uncollectible. The debts, most of them incurred by persons who have moved away from the city, some but by no means all of them from the Selby Street area, were mainly for amounts between $10 and $20.

Adoption practices explained

By E. C. GANNON

Humanitarian work being done by the adoption department of the Children's Service Centre was explained to members of Rotary in a talk by Miss Anne Powell, M.S.W., dealing with the service and problems of the department's work. During the course of a year, over 500 children are placed in homes after intensive investigation. The service, she said, covers three groups of persons in the community, the unmarried parent, children placed for adoption, and parents wishing to adopt a child.

The service was one of 38 Red Feather agencies and its work has been increased because of the increasing number of unmarried mothers. According to statistics, more girls than boys are in demand from the agency and adoption is divided between religion and nationality; children must be adopted into a family of the language to which it belongs.

The main problem confronting the agency was that there are more children available for adoption than there are homes.

The Centre is encouraging the passing of provincial legislation whereby language rather than religion and language, as presently required, will be a factor in the placing of children. The speaker was introduced by Gordon Cormie and given a vote of thanks by Bob Layton.

Mrs. Les Stuart, wife of the prominent member of the Westmount Rotary Club, was congratulated on behalf of the members on her recent presentation with the Award for Canada at the recent John F. Kennedy Memorial Dinner for Retarded Children.

Among guests attending the luncheon was Helen Rochester, gastronomic writer of the Montreal Star, as well as visiting Rotarians from other clubs who were introduced by Bob Robson. The attendance record of members has been increasing, according to Jack Burrows who made a strong plea for raising the percentage.

Sales of tickets for the forthcoming raffle have been increasing, reported Les Stuart, who urged all teams to increase their activities particularly those who wish to reach the 50-book mark.

Andy Durso announced there would be another visit of members to the Federal Training Centre at St. Vincent de Paul, Wednesday, May 15, at 7:30 p.m. Transportation will be given those who wish to go leaving Victoria Hall at 7 p.m. Ross de St. Croix will again show a film and speak on auto racing.

Oscar Knebel and Jim Glen are active in disposing of visas for "Man and His World".

Expanding

Westmount council Monday gave second and third reading to a zoning bylaw amendment, clearing the way for The Study girls' school to convert a house owned by the school to a library and other facilities.

The amendment was passed following a public meeting to which no residents came to voice objections to the change.

The expansion procedure was begun by The Study in accordance with new provincial government regulations. The building which will house the new library is located at 5 Braeside place, next to the school's present site.

We Say

We non-French here have role in Québec

Separatism is evolving susceptible of two definitions:

1) Nationalism of French-Canadians;

2) Nationalism of Québec.

The first we've been living with, expressed by Bourgault and his followers. Its overtones of sentiment and emotion have on occasion pushed the movement to violence and intolerance of Canadians not of Gallic blood or tongue, would Balkanize this region into complete independence regardless of cost, making Québec poor but hopefully happy.

The second has emerged more clearly with the more moderate sovereignty movement of Lévesque. It is sentimental, too, but possessing realism. It recognizes that utter independence would spell ruin, proclaims "Maitre chez nous!" except for those spheres in which continuing ties with the rest of Canada would serve the cause better: trade, currency, defence, etc.

In option 1) there is nothing for Québec's million persons of non-French origin. If permitted to remain, we would be uncomfortable second-class citizens in the new separate state.

In option 2) - in its very existence - we can take comfort. Indeed, in the Lévesque thesis there is nothing very different from the urgings periodically heard, ever since Confederation, in the Maritimes in their feelings of neglect, remoteness and economic disadvantage, or more recently in British Columbia in that province's sense of superiority, remoteness and economic advantage.

Yet the Maritime and West Coast attitudes, whether or not they are serious threats to Confederation, have little counterpart here. Québec is advantageously located in Central Canada, bountifully supplied with natural resources, exposed to investment and developments. Mr. Bourgault will not admit as does Mr. Lévesque that the problems of this province have been largely of its own making in a slow evolution from the culture, education and economy of the past.

The traditional parties represented by Messrs. Johnson and Lesage both seek a new status for Québec, if not of all provinces, within Confederation. If that patient process proves insufficient, Québeckers - French and non-French - could find René Lévesque a not unpalatable alternative.

It is important that we "Anglos" who make this province our home, particularly if it is our birthplace, think of ourselves as Québeckers as well as Canadians, supporting along with our French-speaking fellow citizens what is good for Québec.

Prof. Maxwell Cohen has refreshing ideas

We like Westmount's Prof. Maxwell Cohen's fresh approach to a foreign policy for Canada, and his possible entry into Federal politics would be a plus for good government.

His 10-point program for external affairs, advanced in a speech to the Canadian Club of Montreal Monday, is the sort of broad, imaginative thinking wanted in all areas of national administration under whichever new leader takes power June 25.

Having regard to necessary continuity in the country's affairs, both Messrs. Trudeau and Stanfield should be on the lookout for brainpower and talent as yet comparatively unknown to politics, such as the dean of McGill University's law faculty.

Not that such recruitments

LONDON: A Westmounter has been propagating the character of a man who was killed here more than 400 years ago.

What is little known about this man is that one of his favourite books is Kempis' Imitation (Penguin paperback classics, 4s).

Here are samples of it:

"Foolish people say, 'See what a good life that man enjoys! He is so rich, powerful and distinguished!' But these riches are uncertain and burdensome, and never enjoyed without anxiety." p. 55

"Avoid public gatherings as much as possible, for the discussion of worldly affairs becomes a great hindrance, even though it be with the best of intentions, for we are quickly corrupted by vanity." p. 36

"Short-lived is the glory granted and received by men, and sorrow is ever its companion. The glory of good men is in their own conscience, not in the tongues of men." p. 74

"The affairs of others may prosper, while your own are frustrated. Others will be commended while you remain unrecognized. Others will be entrusted with this or that office, while you are not considered suitable for anything. Your nature will cry out at this treatment. But it will be a great achievement if you remain silent." p. 160

"Concerning the world, what can you see anywhere under the sun that can endure for long? You hope, perhaps, to find complete satisfaction; but this you will never do. Were you to see all things in existence spread out before you, what would it be but an unprofitable vision? If it pleases you to hear the news of the world, you must always suffer disquiet of heart as a result." pp. 52, 53

"Whenever a man wants any-to politics would be without problems. Remember the brilliant Hon. Walter Gordon's first budget as Canada's untried new Finance Minister? Fresh theories, spawned in and perhaps sound by the standards of Mr. Gordon's wide world of business, proved plainly impracticable in the realities of politics and public administration.

It could be likewise with Prof. Cohen. His 10-point program for foreign policy is sound good sense evolved in a campus office or a Victoria Avenue study (probably both!) but the best will in the world may be something else when advanced in Washington, Moscow, Paris or the U.N. What do you do when goodwill expressed to Dean Rusk, the Politburo, de Gaulle or the Biafran delegate is not reciprocated, or is rebuffed or simply ignored?

Nonetheless, we'd like to see Prof. Cohen and his program tried.

thing badly, at once he becomes restless. A proud man is never at rest; a poor and humble man enjoys the riches of peace." p. 33

"It is good for us to encounter trouble, for trouble reminds a man that he is an exile here, and that he can put his trust in nothing in this world." p. 39

"We should not hanker after a pleasant time in this life, but rather be glad to suffer for God's sake, and account it the greatest gain to be considered of small importance among men." p. 156

"A true understanding and humble estimate of oneself is the highest and most valuable of lessons." p. 29

"Do not let the work you have undertaken break your spirit. Work with all your might. Study, worship, be penitent, keep silence, and pray." pp. 155, 43.

THE MAN

The man is Sir Thomas More, the leading character in A Man For All Seasons, produced on Broadway by Robert Whitehead, starring Paul Scofield.

Whitehead, a Lower Canada College old boy, lived on Sherbrooke Street West almost opposite the children's pond at the corner of Westmount park.

Here in London, Whitehead told me that Paul Scofield is a quiet, shy man who shuns parties.

By means of the Burns Mantle series, often borrowed from the Westmount Library, I believe I have read all the best plays produced on Broadway since 1930. I would say this one by the English schoolmaster, Robert Bolt, is the finest of them all. Whitehead agrees.

Every noble in England clicked his heels and said, "Yes, sir; yes, sir; certainly, Your Majesty." More did not. That seems to me to be the main point of the play.

LIKE CHURCHILL

Sir Thomas More was exactly like Winston Churchill in that they both acted alone. Let no one be deceived on this point, which I have never seen written anywhere.

How many Members of Parliament supported W. S. Churchill, MP, when he first pleaded for rearmament in the House of Commons?

I asked my own MP, Sir Richard Nugent, who owns a huge chicken farm near my home in Dunsfold, Surrey. He told me about a dozen supported him.

I also asked Sir Edwin "Ted" Leather, a Canadian originally of Hamilton, Ont., who has been a Conservative MP for Somerset for about 15 years. He said there were about 30 who supported him.

Sir Richard and Sir Edwin, albeit unwittingly, are not merely wrong; they are completely wrong. Of the 628 MPs in the House of Commons, how many at first supported Churchill? Not one of them. I know. I looked it up right here in Hansard. Be not deceived. He was alone.

More and Churchill stood alone, albeit for different causes. Both were ignored. Both had no followers. But the reason they had no followers is the same.

The reason is that the others considered, first, themselves and their own careers: "What will people think of me? How will it affect my career?"

More and Churchill, on the contrary, acted on their conscience.

VITAL QUESTION

It would seem that the vital question is what prompted More to behave such that he is revived and admired by millions today, 433 years later?

Of course no one knows. No one can divine the inner landscape of another man's mentality. What is known is that More has acknowledged his debt to this little volume, Kempis' Imitation, which may give us a hint of his mentality.

This book has been a favorite for 500 years. I have compared two translations. The old one is florid and verbose. This new Penguin translation by Leo Sher-Perly-Price is succinct and clear.

FOOTNOTE:

The other night at a party held around the corner from my home, I noticed a man in a heavy Scottish shirt, a leather windbreaker and a battered fedora. He wore this hat in the house, which is rare in England. I thought he was Canadian or perhaps Australian: a ruddy, husky hulk of a man slightly over six feet tall. And I said to myself, "That chap is an individualist who does not care a pink hang what anyone thinks of him."

The next time I saw him he was in a boat on the Thames, a long boat rowed by eight oarsmen. Attired in a splendid gold tunic, he was reclining on cushions under a canopy at the stern: Robert Shaw playing Henry VIII in the current film, A Man For All Seasons.

I could hardly believe it was the same man. But it was. Our neighbor is his brother-in-law. And besides being an excellent actor and playwright, Mr. Shaw has written at least three best-selling novels.

CALL OF THE OPEN AIR - Between now and October, Isabel Mulligan reports in The Financial Post, Canadians are expected to dig deep in their pockets and come up with $300 million to pay for outdoor recreation. The figure, which includes spending on sports equipment, travel, out-of-town accommodation and other expenses incurred in sports participation, is given by industry spokesmen. The Financial Post writer says that although winter sports have shown tremendous growth in recent years, the majority of Canadians stay in hibernation until the snow is off the ground. Activities in the warmer months account for 60% of all the money Canadians spend entertaining themselves. The boom in summer recreation is very clearly on. The Financial Post says. For example, the number of new golf courses built has doubled in the last 15 years and there is an increasing demand for family memberships. Sporting goods manufacturers are forecasting a minimum 10% increase in sales.

Y's WORDS

Beginning today, this column will attempt to provide news and views of things happening at the Westmount YMCA and interesting facts about the YMCA in general. Hope you enjoy the column and join us for some of the fun.

May 25 the youth department will sponsor a Rummage, Kid-die-style. We are seeking donations of comics, children's books, records, toys and games for this sale. All children are invited to come to the "Y" at 2 p.m. and join in the fun.

Day Camp registration is now in full swing and camp periods are filling fast. Our French camp, Les Joyeux Lutins is particularly popular and parents wishing to enroll their children (8-12 years of age) in this program, should do so as soon as possible to avoid disappointment.

the Westmount YMCA in the field of WORLD SERVICE. In August, the branch will be sponsoring a group of teens on a work camp project in Austria at Camp Sibley. The group will present equipment to the camp as well as provide whatever assistance they can to the operation of the camp during their 10-day stay.

In our 25 MILE SWIM CLUB, two members have reached that elusive goal. Both Leo Cunningham and John Zlatuschka, our building superintendent, have recently had their names placed on the Master Trophy Plaque and have received their individual awards. Mr. Zlatuschka is also taking part in the 100 MILE RUN and has long since passed that mark and heading for the 500 MILE mark; at last count he had run a total of 468 miles since beginning the program in February.

Clean-up is continuing on our recent financial campaign; the minimum campaign objective should be realized soon.

Forecaster picks best in holidays

Eric Neal, whose long range weather forecasts appear as a regular feature in The Examiner, says that the best time for holidays this summer will be the second and the last week of each month. The third week also will be pleasant, but showery. The summer will be rather dry.

The weekly weather forecasts provided by Captain Neal represent a 100-year loaded average based on Canadian government statistics, and 50 years of aviation experience.

Mr. Neal's method has recently been adopted by the British and the American weather bureaus for programming their electronic brains to produce weather forecasts up to three months ahead. They have named it "forecasting by analogy".

Mr. Neal takes into account all the known weather cycles and, in particular, the phase of the moon for timing, and thereby establishes the stormy day in each week.

Rose with a heart, 100-year-old tale continues Saturday

It could be said that the story of the "Rose With a Heart" first began over one hundred years ago in a village outside Copenhagen, Denmark. In the village there lived a poor priest who never had enough money to help all the sick and crippled children who came to him for aid; and he could not think of any way of raising money until the idea came to him to sell the roses which grew in the hedge-row round his garden, that he dearly loved, and which he thought of as his only luxury. So he sold his roses, and with the money he was able to help his children.

The story of the old priest and his roses reached the ears of a beautiful Danish Princess, who afterwards became Queen Alexandra of England. She never forgot the old priest and his roses. Many years later she organized the first Rose Day on June 26, 1912. The first Rose Day took London by storm; fifteen hundred women, in tight skirts and cart-wheel hats of 1912, 'held-up' the people of London in the good cause of charity selling rose buds. More than twenty thousand pounds was collected in the streets of London on that day. Since then the total has risen to more than one hundred thousand pounds in England each year.

Canada's Centennial Rose is such a rose. During Centennial year more than $70,000 was raised in the good cause of Charity through the Centennial Rose and other Centennial Rose products.

The Centennial Rose has become known as "THE ROSE WITH A HEART" and will not only continue to bloom in thousands of gardens across the nation but in the hearts of millions of Canadians. Each year, the Saturday before Mother's Day will be "Rose With A Heart Day" in several cities across Canada. Hundreds of Volunteer workers will take cities by 'storm' selling a plastic "ROSE WITH A HEART" Boutonniere. The proceeds will be used by the Heart Foundation for its worthwhile work.

YOUNGER YEARS at WHS

Spring concert musical event

by vicki percival

The sound of music filled the school as WHS presented its Spring Concert April 29. Participants for this concert had long been in rehearsals, but the many early eight o'clocks, quick lunches and late afternoons spoke for themselves as well as the students. This program consisted of all three sections of the music department: the strings, the winds, and the choir. The Junior Choir started the program off with Sweet Afton arranged by W. H. Anderson and Earth Rejoices arranged by Burton Kurth. The Senior Choir followed with a Cantata by Buxtehude. The soloist in this was Martha Mackenzie while Martha Aspler and Arthur Cohn were the clarinetists. The singing subsided with the performance of the Senior Band which began with a march by Williams. Shadow of a Fortress by Palange was next, and they concluded with Bolero by Verdi. The choir returned as a combination of the Junior and Senior ones and their selection of songs was quite a combination. They began with an English folk tune, The Fly and The Bumble Bee. They moved to Canada and French-Canadian song Un Canadien Errant. The soloist in this moving song was Chris Roe. They then went South, more precisely, to Jamaica and The Yellow Bird. Hungarian Folk Songs were next with Thomas Toth as soloist. The Choir concluded on a hopeful note with The Song of Hope. The flautists in this Hebrew song were Rosemary Hood and Susan Aberman.

A brief intermission followed and the Junior Band opened the second half of the program. Their performance was neatly arranged, opening with March - Scout Parade by Hauver and closing with Chromatic Jump by Hauver as well. A German hymn Dona Nobis Pacem was the piece between. The bands' and Mrs. Florida's contribution to the show was finished.

The Choir in combined force returned with some excerpts from the Pirates of Penzance. From Climbing Over Rocky Mountains they went to O Dry the Glistening Tear. Soloist was Suzanne Weiss. Their performance ended with When the Foeman Bares His Steel in which soloists were Mona Pederson and Patrick Ormos.

The choir, under Mrs. Doroschuk, had sung its last. The Strings sweetly concluded the concert. A Concerto in D Major by Vivaldi introduced the Senior strings. The Junior Strings followed with their introduction, Introduction to the Orchestra by Round. With that they added a Mexican song, La Paloma Blanco. They returned combined in force and song. Melody and Harmony by Round started their music while the grand finale and ironically, contribution to music, was Perpetual Motion by Suzuki.

With that the Strings under the direction of Mr. McLearn invited the world of music to return to the world of Westmount.

Another big event occupied Westmount Thursday, May 2. Horizons 2000 show gave a sneak preview of Montreal in that year. This was the annual program sponsored by Westmount High's Alumnae to raise money for its Scholarship fund. The program began with the program of slides and commentaries on the format that Montreal could assume during the next 32 years. Plans of proposed systems of highways, roads and subways gave some idea that time will not ameliorate transport problems. New innovations such as "Action Centers" as well as old ones such as the restoration of old buildings reassured people that all will not be lost in the future.

The drawing for door-prizes took place next and there was many a satisfied guest.

Old Times were remembered by members of the Alumnae over coffee and refreshments. A bake and book sale was also held in aid of this worthy cause. Members of the prefect board and library system under Mrs. Drummond acted as ushers and served refreshments. Teachers saw old students and graduates met again and Horizons 2000 definitely tried to foresee a hopeful future for some in their studies while for all in their lives.

Following the Students' Council executive elections the one official function left to most clubs is the election of their executive for next year, and this was the suit that was followed by many of the clubs as April 29 - May 3 can rightly be called the Week of Executive Elections. The Theatre Club was the first club with its executive for next year. The president for 1968-1969 will be Don Deitcher. His vice-president will be Reagan O'Connor. Minutes of the meetings will be kept by Diana Locke. The financial end of the club will be managed by Corine Haw. Historian will be Connie Vorman.

The Red Cross was next, having elected part of its new administrative force. President for the coming year will be Linda Solomon while the position of vice-president will be filled by Marian Emo. Publicity for the club will be handled by Erik Heppner while money matters will go to Ellen Garmaise. Secretary has not yet been chosen. The Cheerleaders have also chosen those who will lead the cheers for Westmount next year. In addition to the Grade 10 girls who become the vanguard to the Senior Cheerleaders a certain number are chosen from Grade 9 who will be in Grade 10 next year. The new cheerleaders are Paula Goldwarg, Judy Clinton, Judy Cohen, Anne Parkinson, Nancy Gold and Jennifer Marrien.

Other clubs are also in the making of a new executive. The Current Events Club has held its interview and the results should be known soon. Café Vendredi has also made public its intention to hold its interviews for the executive in the near future. While other clubs have to still form executives and tie up loose ends, already there is the ever familiar shift of interest from this year's executives to those of next year and what they are going to do for Westmount in 1968-1969.

BOARDING SCHOOL FOR OUR DAUGHTER?

Many parents to-day are asking this question. They wonder if the public school system is the right one for the young lady growing up in their family. For many girls the public schools are ideal. For others the advantages offered by a St. Helen's education will be just right. What are these advantages?

St. Helen's is a school rooted in tradition, founded 93 years ago and cherished since that time by a distinguished succession of Headmistresses, teachers and students. Such traditions are intangible but real and your daughter becomes part of them.

St. Helen's is modern too, in the very best sense. New teaching methods, modern laboratories and a fresh outlook towards the challenges of the 60's are part of its philosophy.

St. Helen's is rural. Located only 50 miles from Montreal in an Eastern Townships village, your daughter here has a chance to feel the happiness of country life, to learn the ways of nature in a way impossible in the city.

St. Helen's is scholastically excellent. With a teacher-student ratio of 1 to 5, a large library, and specialists for most subjects, your daughter's academic strengths (and weaknesses) are understood and developed on an individual basis. Most girls go from St. Helen's to the college or vocation of their choice.

St. Helen's is fun. Tennis, skiing, painting, skating, riding, hiking, and music making are all a part of normal life as your daughter finds her place in a happy community of girls from all walks of life and all parts of America.

Would you like more information? Contact Miss Mary Grant, Headmistress, Dunham, Quebec. Telephone AREA CODE 514-295-2451. A new residence has recently been erected and a few places are available for September 1968 for girls from 12 to 18.

Ballantyne seeks unity as PC candidate

Murray G. Ballantyne, accepting the Progressive Conservative nomination as candidate in the June 25 federal election for Westmount riding, said at the May 2 convention that the achievement of a unified Canada was his most compelling reason for entering federal politics.

The 59-year-old lecturer and historian warned that "Montreal is lost, and we, its English speaking citizens are lost if this becomes a unilingual Quebec".

He was chosen at a PC nomination meeting in Victoria Hall, and pledged an all-out struggle to achieve a bilingual Quebec in a bilingual Canada.

One of his opponents in the June 25 voting will be Charles M. Drury, the Liberal incumbent who is minister of trade and commerce, and minister of industry and defence production.

Montreal-Westmount is a new riding created by redistribution, and comprises areas that used to be in Westmount, St. Lawrence-St. George and NDG.

Mr. Ballantyne, a specialist in French-English relations, told a crowd of 300 at the meeting that both elements are destined to live and work together and "create a great country".

"There are one million of us in Quebec who speak English. We have always enjoyed the right to teach our children in our own language and to speak that language in the Legislature and in the courts. However, there are one million French-speaking Canadians outside Quebec who do not enjoy these same rights." Mr. Ballantyne said he has consistently, whenever practical, struggled for the rights of French-speaking Canadians to

At Westmount library Recent 'large print' books boon to partially sighted

The publication of "large print" or "sight saving" books is a rather recent venture in the publishing field, and one that has been most enthusiastically received. These books - in well designed, attractive format, printed in large easy-to-read type, and unabridged - are intended primarily as an aid to the partially sighted.

The Westmount Public Library now has a varied collection of "sight saving" books, and is expanding the collection. The following list includes some of the titles which are now available at the library.

St. George students' Spring Carnival an 'in' event

The students of St. George's School have plenty of surprises in store at their school Carnival tomorrow at 3100 The Boulevard.

A number of new and imaginative games dreamed up by Grade VI, beautiful paper flowers, candles and other gifts made by high school students, award-winning children's movies, a spine-chilling "Horror House", music, refreshments, a closed-bid auction of paintings - that's just some of the fun.

From Grade 1 up it is "total student participation" with students planning all the games, staffing all the booths, serving at the tea tables, dinner tables, soft drink booths and snack bars, operating the public address system and selling tickets. They have been testing shoe shiners for the honor of qualifying for the shoe shine booth offering the "best shine in town at half the regular price."

The Carnival will open at 1.30 p.m. There will be no charge for admission. Games will be held both indoors and out, unless it rains. There will be a small charge for each game and prizes for each. The games include The Wishing Well, Sock-it-to-Me, electronic maze, flour-treasure, Horror House and The Spirit Calling.

At colorful outside booths there will be antiques, handicrafts and new and used books, records, toys and jewellery. Inside the school there will be a clothing store, offering new clothing donated by merchants and used clothing in good condition, and a bake shop with pies, cakes, casseroles and other good homemade things to eat.

ALL DONATED

All articles have been made or donated by students, teachers, parents, past students or friends of St. George's School. Mrs. Frank Starr, chairman of the Parents' Activity Committee, which has helped the students by collecting, storing, sorting and pricing the thousands of articles says: "This is the 'in' way to shop. It's fun, it's easy, it's one-stop. And what prices! . . . there'll be lots of wonderful bargains and some good 'finds' for antique buffs".

An innovation this year is an auction of paintings and drawings, some done by parents and friends especially for the Carnival. They will be on exhibition in the gymnasium all day Friday. Interested buyers will submit closed bids which will be opened at 8 p.m., the highest bidder winning the painting.

Specially selected short movies for children will be shown every hour at 2, 3, 4 and 5 p.m.; tea will be served in the dining room from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Mothers and members of the staff of St. George's will begin

Hungarian stamp honors inventor

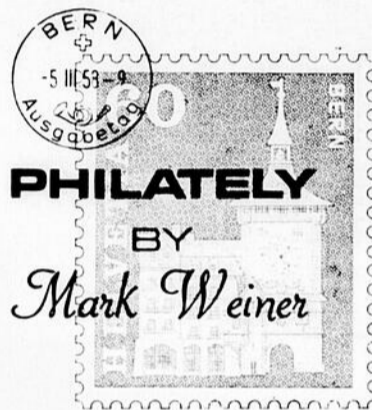

The small dots which sometimes appear in the upper margins of high value stamps from Great Britain and which seem to have intrigued many collectors, are in fact registration marks. They are placed on the printing plates by the printer, so that he can see any movement which may occur in the register of the print to the lay edge of the sheet.

Since April 1, at the GPO Dublin, the 5d stamp in the existing definitive series (Sword of Light design) which were printed by letterpress have been replaced by stamps of the same design printed by photogravure. These stamps will be gradually introduced to all other Post Offices in the country as supplies of the letterpress printed stamps become exhausted. This action will in no way affect the production program of the new definitive series scheduled for this year.

March 18 Cyprus issued two stamps and a souvenir sheet to commemorate International Year for Human Rights. Printing was by litho-offset on water-marked paper in multi-color by Aspioti-Elka, Athens. The principal subject design of both stamps is the common design of the UN, in addition to which the 50 mils stamp features the emblem of the Council of Europe and the 90 mils stamp the emblem of the UN. The souvenir sheet, with a face value of 250 mils, depicts the Declaration of Human Rights on a papyrus and the emblem of the UN. The printing of this sheet in limited quantities has given rise to great speculation with many dealers now asking three times the face value. This is the second time in recent years that this has happened with souvenir sheets from Cyprus and it is hoped that the postal authorities will take steps in the future to remedy this situation.

In February Hungary issued the first value of the set "Anniversaries-Events 1968" a 2Ft stamp commemorating Kalman Kando (1869-1931), mechanical engineer, who invented the Kando electrical locomotive. The stamp was designed by Ferenc Bokros and printed by photogravure in dark blue and depicts the statue of K. Kando and a 'Kando' locomotive, set against a background of a map of Hungary symbolizing the completion in 1967 of the electrification of the Hegyeshalom-Budapest-Zahony railway line. This stamp was followed in April by the second series, also a 2Ft stamp, to commemorate the 600th anniversary of the foundation of the city of Kecskemét. Also designed by Bokros and printed by photogravure, the stamp depicts the City Hall and the Arms of Kecskemét, as well as a bunch of grapes, an apricot and a cold-storage train symbolizing the world-famous fruit exports of Kecskemét.

A 'Nature Preservation' set comprising nine stamps with a face value of 9,50Fts. was issued in April depicting protected birds in their natural environment. The stamps were designed by M. Fule and printed in multi-color photogravure. This set was issued to help publicize the Congress of the International Council for Bird Preservation which will be meeting in Budapest, June 1968.

Multilingualists with the mostest

The USSR remains top of the list of the translating countries with 3,968 titles (including translations of works already published within the country), according to the 19th edition of Index Translationum (I), just published by Unesco. The Index lists 39,267 translations published in 70 countries during 1966 plus a few earlier publications not hitherto listed. The USSR is now followed by Yugoslavia (3,452), which lay eighth in 1964, and whose production has more than doubled since then to nose out Germany (3,095). (It should be noted that, for translation statistics, no attention is paid to the political division of the country).

Another noteworthy advance is that of Spain, which comes up to fourth place (2,429), ahead of the USA (2,069), Italy (2,010), the Netherlands (1,846), France (1,809), and Czechoslovakia (1,763), which it followed in 1964. Tenth place is held by Japan (1,669), whose translation output has increased by 50% since 1964 and is now ahead of Sweden (1,345) and Denmark (1,126).

Thirteen other countries have published more than 500 translations. They are: Hungary (949), India (840), Belgium (839), Portugal (808), Poland (806), Rumania (791), Norway (771), United Kingdom (752), Finland (730), Switzerland (720), Turkey (660), Brazil (629), Bulgaria (573). Among these, Hungary and Brazil have made the most advance since 1964.

During 1966, there were 197 translations of the Bible. Lenin remains the most translated author with 201 translations. In 1964, immediately after him came Shakespeare whose four hundredth anniversary it then was, and then Jules Verne. Their places were taken, in 1966, by Georges Simenon (137) and Tolstoy (122). Karl May, German author of youth adventure stories, was translated 114 times.

He is thus ahead of old favourites such as Agatha Christie (99) and the brothers Grimm (97). Shakespeare and Dostoevsky with 96 translations each are closely followed by Ian Fleming (95). Hemingway, with 91 titles is the tenth most translated author.

VOLUNTEER:

We welcome Kevin Fenlon to our faithful band of volunteers. Kevin has had a great deal of experience in the theatre world and we consider it a great asset with our proposed production of West Side Story to have the benefit of his assistance.

In connection with West Side Story we are pleased to report that the two female leading roles have been cast. Margaret Morrissey to be Maria and Sharon Whims will take the part of Anita. Barbara Halpern is also endeavouring to arrange filming of the production along with the assistance of Nathan Krakow, who has been volunteering in the photography department this year.

OUTDOOR GAMES:

On Monday, from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Nancy Dallas, who has been a club member for many years, is planning an outdoor program for younger members in the park immediately across from the club. There are good facilities in this area and Nancy is a fine instructor so send the young ones along for baseball, soccer baseball, track and miscellaneous games.

COSOM HOCKEY:

A team will be playing against Holy Cross from Unity this week.

TRANSPORTATION:

Ask Barbara about her new mode of transportation?

Temple singers

Saturday, May 11 at 8 p.m., the Peterborough Temple Songsters will present a high calibre program in the Salvation Army Auditorium, 2085 Drummond Street, Montreal.

This aggregation, 50 members, under the leadership of Director Ben Smith, has achieved a high standard of singing and during tours of Canada and the United States has been warmly acclaimed.

In addition to varied four-part vocal items by the choir, a xylophone ensemble, chime soloist and timbrel group will be featured.

TRACK and FIELD:

Allen Bechard, boys' program director, reports that trials will begin immediately for the annual MBA track meet taking place later this month or in early June.

UNITY BOYS' and GIRLS' CLUB NEWS

To Susannah Jepperson who won the Smartie Contest with a guess of 1,262; the actual count was 1,263.

Christian Family Sunday and Mother's Day will be observed in Dominion-Douglas. Twenty-two young people will be confirmed. The group will have a special Communion Service early Sunday evening. Dr. Smith's sermon will be "Closing the generation gap".

Of Adam, dust and God

Whether "the dust of the ground" is the same as "the image of God" will be considered at the services in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the reading of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Adam and Fallen Man". The Golden Text is from Ephesians: "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light". Pertinent passages from the denominational textbook will include: "It may be worth while here to remark that, according to the best scholars, there are clear evidences of two distinct documents in the early part of the book of Genesis. No one can reasonably doubt that the purpose of this allegory - this second account in Genesis - is to depict the falsity of error and the effects of error" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

Advanced ballet students dance in demonstration at high school

Advanced students and teachers of classes sponsored by the Canadian Ballet Association will perform for the public May 11 and 12 at Westmount High School Auditorium.

Included among the performers are Westmounters Bettina Russell, Cynthia Turley, Sandy Creasar and Lauren Bennet.

The May 11 performance will begin at 8.15 p.m. and the May 12 show at 2.30 p.m.

The Canadian Ballet Association is primarily a teaching organization run on a non-profit basis comprised of 45 ballet projects with a total enrollment of 4000 children. The heart of the CBA is the project system. These are run by volunteers who budget, collect fees, rent halls and pay the salaried teachers, senior assistants and pianists.

These projects are open to all pupils regardless of race or creed and are balanced to suit the pupils' talents. A seven grade syllabus for the projects is set by the teachers.

To facilitate the advancement of the more gifted of the 4000 pupils active in projects, the CBA has set up a Regional Advanced Bal-

Brian Ross Fraser shares scholarship

Brian Ross Fraser, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross Fraser, 53 Arlington Avenue, shares the Fosberry Scholarship given annually to the son of an old boy at Lower Canada College. The award, open to boys entering grade seven, was given as a result of the scholarship examinations recently written at LCC.

Sharing the Fosberry prize with Brian is Richard Charles Bradeen, son of Mrs. D. Bradeen, 308 Geneva Crescent, Montreal.

Also announced by the headmaster was a scholarship for entry into grade five, going to Robbie Newton Drummond, son of Dr. and Mrs. Keith N. Drummond, Montreal West, and two scholarships for entry into grade 7, to Kenneth Manuel Covo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Covo, Beaconsfield and to Lee Frank Webber, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Webber, Notre Dame de Grace.

let in five areas of the city. These are also administered by volunteers. Approximately 10% advance to RAB. The children who are accepted still attend their once a week project classes but they also take advance classes on other days.

Five experienced teachers teach on a rotation schedule of six weeks in each of the five areas. The students are thus exposed to an accelerated and more challenging training. The teachers of the CBA feel that they can give a child an excellent basic knowledge of ballet and guide the exceptional talents.

CAN AUDITION

A graduate of RAB can audition for company classes and if accepted leaves the projects to further studies with guest teachers. Here they may choose between a dancing or teaching career. The association enrolls the services of professional specialists from the United States and Canada to further the training of those apt to make a career of ballet as a performing art.

OR TEACH

Those among them wishing to teach start off as volunteer demonstrators in projects. From there, those who are serious and qualified become paid assistants. Having completed high school, a year of full time apprenticeship and having met the requirements of both written and practical examinations, they are then qualified to become teachers.

Last year the project students were given a chance to perform on stage. An evening of ballet was choreographed by the teachers and each project independently presented a recital.

This year the company demonstrators and assistants long with the teachers will be performing for the public. The ballets that will be shown are choreographed by Mme Seda Zare.

The performance dates are May 3 and 4, at the Town of Mount Royal High School at 8:15 p.m.; May 11 at 8:15 p.m., and May 12 at 2:30 p.m. at Westmount High School.

Alumnae repeat Monte Carlo

The Marianopolis Alumnae Association will hold a Monte Carlo evening, in conjunction with their annual meeting, at 8 p.m. Friday, May 10, at the Black Watch Armoury, 2067 Bleury Street. This evening is planned for Marianopolis Alumnae, their families and friends.

Miss Carole Annn O'Connell (Class of '65) is chairman of the committee for the Monte Carlo evening.

The annual meeting preceding the games will be chaired by Miss Margaret Martin (Class of '49), president of the Marianopolis Alumnae Association.

Last year's Monte Carlo evening was such a success that the Association decided to repeat the event for this year's annual meeting.

Humanity without distinction

To bring to those in need the human touch of sympathy and understanding; to offer material and spiritual aid without distinction of race, creed or circumstances; that is the function of The Salvation Army's Social Service Centres.

Ex-prisoners seeking to rebuild their lives, destitute old men and women asking only a last haven, children denied their birthright of health and happiness, girls betrayed by the glamour of cities and misplaced trust, innocent babies born into a hostile world; these and others, find in The Salvation Army the human touch of healing and hope.

Eighty-six years' experience and service in Canada, plus a devoted corps of workers and a cross-country chain of institutions uniquely qualify The Salvation Army for this work.

Through the Salvation Army the individual's compassion and dollars can be translated into practical Christian service. Canvassers will call on behalf of the Army's Red Shield Appeal, this month. The campaign began here May 6 and continues to May 20.

For every $1 contributed to the Red Shield Appeal the Salvation Army spends another $5 in services to the needy.

HEART LOAF

Tiny, heart-shaped sandwich loaves tell the love story deliciously at the bridal shower. Using a heart shaped cookie cutter, cut small hearts from enriched bread slices. Spread with tasty fillings and stack three "hearts" together to make each dainty loaf. Ice the loaves with a fluffy frosting made by whipping soft cream cheese with sour cream. Cupid's arrow and the engaged couple's initials are written on each with piping jelly.

West Enders study roses

Roses, from nursery to showtable, will be the subject at the May 15 meeting of the West End Horticultural Society, in Wesley United Church Hall, N.D.G. Avenue at Royal.

The speakers rank among the more successful rose growers in the West End and will be able to provide very valuable and timely information, beginning at 8 p.m.

Robert S. Semple will speak on buying, planting and caring for your roses.

Mrs. Mary Foot will deal with choosing, cutting and preparing your roses for the show.

Mrs. Audry Guadagni will explain how your roses are judged.

Colored slides will be shown. The meeting is open to the public, admission free. Door prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

Andy, a champion of youth

By NEIL FERNANDES

St. Leo's senior hockey team captain is the guest columnist for this week.

St. Leo's athletes of 1968, affectionately presented coach Andy McGillis with a gold ring bearing the school's insignia, during the annual hockey party at Chateau Maisonneuve, Friday, May 3. The ring was awarded to coach McGillis in thanks for his professional help, devotion, friendship and inspiration to the athletes of the Academy.

Andy McGillis first came on the St. Leo's sport scene some 30 years ago, when the school virtually had little competitive sport's activity of any kind. It was the late Jimmy O'Reilly, at that time considered one of Montreal's top high school athletes, along with Joseph O'Hanlon, a highly competent and respected member of the staff, who convinced Andy that the school was ready for football.

In the team's first year coached by Andy and ably assisted by Mr. O'Hanlon as team manager, they scored a major upset in winning a senior football title. From then on St. Leo's never looked back and under the coaches sagacious guidance the pride that was St. Leo's began to grow. There were those who felt that sports held no place in the education of youth and contributed nothing but a distraction from the true meaning of education.

The true meaning of education, in my humble opinion, is the mental, physical, spiritual and moral development of an individual to his maximum capacity. It was coach Andy's feeling that a boy who went through school without any sports participation lost out on a wonderful and useful experience. Through the years at St. Leo's, Andy truly became a champion of sport-loving youth; appropriately, the boys who were the most difficult to handle always received friendship and understanding from the coach.

George Bernard Shaw once said "It is a pity that youth be wasted on youth". I think that the illustrious Mr. Shaw when making that statement overlooked Andy.

For although the ravages of time have taken their toll on him, he has that impressive look that accompanies his dedication; he is quite capable of competing with any teenager in the categories of enthusiasm, zeal and vigor. Andy certainly is not a pessimist but at the same time he is not an irresponsible individual who undertakes an endeavor with false bravado.

I have sometimes thought him too cautious, but patience is truly a virtue. My praise for Andy McGillis is earnest, and every youth who has had the opportunity to be associated with him is indeed fortunate. This article, I feel, gives voice to the feelings of every athlete of 1968. I hold these feelings to be sincere. If these statements be false and upon us proven, then we have never played for Andy and Andy never coached.

OUTSTANDING PLAYER

Unanimously selected by the coaches, Bruce Emo completed his fourth year with the Huskies. A very deceptive runner and a fine team player, he is very highly thought of as a fine all-round athlete. Bruce compiled 126 points in 8 games as a half-back. He is 13 years of age and a Grade 8 student at Westmount High School.

HOCKEY LEAGUES

Termite:

Leading his team to first place in the regular season and to the league championship, David Cottingham also won the Termite scoring crown, with 9 goals and 10 assists in 12 games. David is 9 years of age and a Grade 4 student at Selwyn House School.

Mosquito:

Playing his third year in organized hockey this year's Mosquito winner displayed fine stick handling ability and puck control in leading his team to the Mosquito championship. He also won the scoring championship with 12 goals and 6 assists in 12 games, and was a member of the Mosquito All Star team. Mark MacIsaac is 11 years of age and a Grade 6 student at the Priory.

Pee Wee:

Compiling a total of 20 goals and 18 assists in 13 games he captained and led his team to the Pee Wee championship. He has five years of organized hockey to his credit, and was a member of the Pee Wee All Star team. Alex Darragh is 12 years of age and a Grade 7 student at Westmount High School.

Bantam:

This year's Bantam winner proves what determination, hustle and gentlemanly conduct can produce. Playing his first year in organized hockey he won the scoring championship with 16 goals and 19 assists in 13 games. Compiling more assists than goals points out the fact that he was a team player, as he helped the Rangers to the Bantam championship. Alan Victor is 13 years of age and a Grade 9 student at Westmount High School.

Midget:

This year's Midget winner completed his sixth year in the Recreation Department Hockey Programme. He scored 32 goals and had 18 assists in 14 games which was a splendid accomplishment. David Tunis also played for the Westmount High School junior team, and along with top grades found time to help out as a referee. David is 15 years of age and in his last year at Westmount High School. He was also captain of the Spartans who won the Midget championship.

Goaler:

The award for the outstanding goaler goes to Clifford Stevens who allowed only 16 goals against his team in 12 games. He was a member of the Mosquito and Pee Wee All Star teams and shows a great deal of promise. He is 11 years of age and a Grade 6 student at Westmount Park School.

Special guests at the awards night were Mayor Tucker, Aldermen I. S. Backler, Jean Richer, Daniel Doheny, City Manager N. T. Dawe, Services Director F. L. Davis, B. A. Rothwell, and John Garland, recreation department.
