The Westmount Swimming Pool will be open from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Sunday commencing September 3rd.

Should hot weather return for more than one day at a time, the Pool will open from 10 a.m. to 8.30 p.m.

Compromise on Bill 60

A. Kirk Cameron, local resident and long-time representative on various educational bodies, has come up with what he suggests might be an acceptable compromise on the provincial government's Bill 60.

He suggests that the Bill be altered to provide for:

(a) A ministry of Education (as presently sought by the bill), and,

(b) Continue the Council of Education as it now stands.

The Catholic and Protestant Committees should remain, he believes, with all their present powers and prerogatives, except insofar as these might be changed with the consent of the parties themselves.

Mr. Cameron has been a member of the Protestant Committee for nearly 43 years.

Baird brings 'em back alive

Col. Pat Baird is back from Baffin Island — and happy about the whole thing.

He brought back a party of 20 mountain-climbers and although they were a week overdue, missed connecting flights, and experienced bad weather — there were no complaints.

The Alpine Club of Canada, as the group is officially known, originally planned to scale Tete Blanche, but when that was found still frozen, they had to settle for lesser heights, but found them equally breathtaking from a scenic standpoint.

Most of the time lost was at Frobisher Bay, where the fog closed in.

Schools set

Student registering at schools under the jurisdiction of the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal will note that those entering their former schools will register at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 4, while new pupils or pupils enrolling at a particular school for the first time must report at 1:30 p.m. on the same day.

All schools under the Montreal Catholic School Commission will open at 9 a.m. Tuesday Sept. 3.

Next week's weather

Labor Day holiday, cloudy with sunny periods. Widely scattered thundershowers probable. Tropical storm for the Maritimes.

OFFICER CADET R. R. WEBSTER OF WESTMOUNT receives the Murphy Sword as the most successful and outstanding second year officer cadet at the Royal Canadian Armoured Corps at Camp Borden. Educated at Ridley College, Cadet Webster is currently at the University of New Brunswick. Making the presentation is Lt.-Col. George Addy of the RCAC Association.

21 years for firebug, more to come Sept. 5

Leonard Lemieux, 42, who terrorized a part of the lower section of eastern Westmount for weeks while setting a series of fires in rooming houses in the mid-night and early morning hours has been sentenced to a total of 21 years and six months in prison — and will be sentenced for fires set in Montreal September 5.

The sentences he has so far received will run concurrently. Now that the tension has eased and residents of the area are breathing more easily, it is realized that Westmount police and firemen have come out of the situation with their halos shining a bit more brightly, and that Montreal authorities also owe Westmount's finest a debt. The Montreal police and detectives had been seeking the man for months.

The guilty man admitted setting fires at 21 and 69 Prospect street, 4210 Dorchester West, 238 Elm avenue, 1118 Greene avenue and 264 Wood avenue. All the buildings involved were rooming houses or tenements.

Lemieux was detained at the scene of the Wood avenue blaze by Fire Captain Dan Ryan.

Lemieux, a confessed 'drifter' said his troubles started when his wife and four children left him and went to England. He admitted stealing an electric razor, a flashlight and $7 in cash during the excitement of one blaze, and was found with three wallets in his possession at the Wood avenue fire.

The reign of terror goes back to April 15, and in all, Lemieux has admitted setting fires that have caused an estimated $250,000 in damages.

Rotary International extravagant in praise of Unity club talents

The Unity Boys Club has been performing for Rotary International for the past five years at its annual assembly at Lake Placid, New York, and on every occasion has earned the finest praise from the top-notch

Rotarians representing clubs round the world.

In connection with the latest appearance of the unit, the following message has been sent to the Westmount Rotary Club from Raymond T. Schmidt, the assembly manager.

He says in part:

"It was my privilege to manage the assembly for Rotary International this past year and it was my first experience with Unity's capable group of youngsters.

ENTERTAINMENT

"I want at this time to again express my appreciation to all members of the Westmount Club for your development and maintenance of the Unity Club that has provided such outstanding entertainment for us these past years.

"It seemed to me that this year's program was especially well received because at the end of the performance the group received a standing ovation from all those in attendance. There were some 835 people at this meeting, from 49 of the Rotary countries or geographical regions of the world. "Again our thanks to your club — we hope that you will be able to continue supporting the Unity Club and that we will be able to continue to enjoy the talents of these youngsters".

Library closes Monday

Westmount Public Library will be closed all day Monday, which is Labor Day — and will then revert to regular winter hours.

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday during the winter period the Library is open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Wednesdays and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Children's Library is open Monday to Friday from 2 to 6 p.m. and Saturday morning 10 to noon.

Bail granted in U.S. case

Word has been received from Gadsden, Alabama, that Madeleine Sherwood, a former West End resident, and Broadway and Hollywood actress, has been granted bail of $1,000 pending an appeal on a sentence of six months at hard labor that followed charges made in Atalla, Alabama, in connection with a freedom march.

Miss Sherwood was arrested with 11 other persons on May 19 and charged with a breach of the peace. The group was allegedly tracing the steps of white integrationist William Moore, a Baltimore postman, shot to death March 23.

The other 11, according to Judge Cyril L. Smith, have not been tried, their cases being held in abeyance pending the outcome of Miss Sherwood's appeal.

The case is being used as a test of the constitutionality of state law, he said.

Miss Sherwood's lawyer has announced that he will take the case to the State Supreme Court and even to the U. S. Supreme Court if necessary.

Bogus bills

West End businessmen are warned that counterfeit money is again on the loose, this time in $20 bills.

The RCMP so far has turned up one of the new bogus series, bearing the serial number H E 1611888.

The bills, they report, can be spotted by a break in the "20" in the upper left corner. The Queen's portrait is weak, but the color is good on the bills, the RCMP stated.

A large part of the reason, apparently, was the way Toastmaster Tamblyn put over his material, for the Rotarians all knew all about the points he was making — though perhaps they hadn't just thought of them that way.

Listen, think, then speak — said the speaker and it looked to this chronicler as if the Rotarians were listening and thinking.

Keep to the time set, make sure to have a good vocabulary, make the best use of your voice, were other points.

Frankly, Frank,
you may be frank
— it was Frank!

Westmount Rotarians, frankly, were treated to a frank statement of fact Wednesday noon — and responded frankly.

It all began when Frank Carlin, who came at the wrong end of the Rotary Golf Tourney, was about to be presented with the trophy — the Continental Can Cup, as arranged by Frank Starr.

Deciding to be frank, Frank (Carlin, that is) balked.

"I've already been presented with that thing," he said, shrinking-violetly, "but to get an extra plug for Continental Can, Frank's rigging it again".

Frankly, Frank (Carlin, that is) didn't have a chance.

The Continental Can Cup was unveiled in all its gleaming splendour, and Frank (Starr, that is) bowed.

you have the time, was the advice for those who felt they wanted to brush up on their public speaking — and if you haven't the time for these suggestions, concluded Toastmaster Tamblyn, there are lots of books on the subject.

For practice, he said, read aloud to your children or grandchildren, or, if possible, use a tape-recorder and playback.

Introduced by Ted Harrison, the speaker was thanked by Bill Everson.

B. J. Lande heads Mount Sinai

Bernard J. Lande, 4333 Westmount avenue was elected president of the Mount Sinai Sanatorium, a Jewish Federation agency, at the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Sanatorium. He succeeds the late Dr. Louis S. Eiding.

Elected to serve with Mr. Lande are Lewis Shapiro, first vice-president and chairman of the executive committee; Reuben Fisher, second vice-president and vice-chairman, executive committee; Harry Wolfe, treasurer; Nat Cohen, secretary; Ben Chazonoff, chairman, building and grounds committee; Mrs. Sol Guttman, publicity chairman; and Joseph Eliesen, chairman, by-laws committee.

A report was given at the meeting by Dr. M. Aronovitch, medical director.

"The highlight of the medical activities during 1963 was the opening of a complete ward for non-tuberculous patients," stated Dr. Aronovitch. "The admissions to this ward are confined to chest cases and to cancer cases where there is some hope of alleviation of symptoms by chemotherapy. Shortly after the opening of the ward, it was completely filled," he continued, "and the problem at present is to service the number of cases who apply for admission."

Dr. Aronovitch pointed out that there has been no reduction in the number of tuberculosis cases treated at the Sanatorium and that beds were occupied at almost 100 percent during all of 1962.

The medical director explained that there were several factors contributing to the high level of occupancy. The first is the case finding program in co-operation with the Herzl Health Service Centre. Another is the closing down of a number of TB beds in other institutions so that there is now a more restricted selection of sanatoria for new cases and the remaining ones must assume a greater and the youngest just 17 months.

The girls remained with the Soltys family for ten days, but now, happy to report, they are back at home and their mother has returned from the hospital and is on the road to full recovery.

"Didn't your husband mind all this extra work and activity?" she was asked.

"Not at all," she replied, "he thinks the same way I do — it doesn't hurt to do a good turn once in a while."

number of patients.

A third factor, and the most distressing, is a true increase in the number of tuberculous cases detected. "A possible reason for this could be a laxity in the attitude of the public as far as tuberculosis is concerned," explained Dr. Aronovitch. "The general impression seems to be that tuberculosis is no longer a disease of importance and proper preventive measures are not taken."

Dr. Aronovitch reported that a new method of studying the bronchial tubes was evolved at the Sanatorium in 1963. An exhibit of this method was shown and very favorably received at the International Congress of Radiology held recently in Montreal.

In 1962, 383 patients were treated at the Sanatorium and 277 were admitted.

Film depicts work

"The Work of Thy Hands" is a new documentary-type motion picture on the services provided by the local and national participant agencies of the Combined Jewish Appeal of Montreal.

The production of the film has been sponsored by the Combined Jewish Appeal in cooperation with the Federation of Jewish Community Services. It was produced by Tolea Films Inc. from a script specially written by Mrs. Charlotte Bronstein.

Mrs. Bronstein wrote the script for last year's award-winning film "Wonders Are Many", based on the experiences of the overseas mission of the Joint Campaign for Combined Jewish Appeal and United Israel Appeal. Tolly Reviv who directed last year's production is also the director of the new film. The narration is by Hal Stubbs.

Atwater Library

The Atwater Library, 1200 Atwater avenue, will be closed on Monday, Labor Day.

Regular hours will be resumed on Tuesday, September 3, when the library will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

PLEASE NOTE!

The offices will be closed Monday, Labor Day, but will be open Tuesday, as usual.

Good-neighbour policy works out well locally

"It doesn't hurt to do a good turn once in a while". That's the philosophy of Mrs. J. M. Soltys of 1123 Greene avenue, and in the immediate past she has certainly been practising what she preaches.

A neighbor was stricken some time ago and rushed to the hospital, leaving two little girls without anyone to care for them.

The girls are six and eight years old.

Mrs. Soltys didn't hesitate for a moment:

"Bring them to my place" she said as soon as she heard of the situation.

And so they were added temporarily to Mrs. Soltys family, which already numbered five children, the oldest 13 years

In Quebec in 2 years:

60,000 lose driving licenses

The Quebec two-year-old highway indemnity act has brought about:

- (a) a stricter traffic law enforcement,
- (b) better financial protection for the motorist,
- (c) a curb on political patronage.

This is the statement of E. H. S. Piper, head of the Highway Indemnities Act Fund.

In two years, he said, 10,500 drivers have temporarily lost their driving permits for breaking the law, and nearly 50,000 because they could not give evidence of their ability to pay for damages caused in accidents.

He pointed out:

1. "If someone hit you two years ago, the chances were 43 out of 100 you would not be paid. Now, less than 13 out of 100 are without protection;
2. "If you were unlucky enough to get hit by a driver without insurance, in all probability you formerly got nothing. Now, you would be indemnified by the fund to the limits specified by the law;
3. "If you have a licence and want insurance but you cannot buy it on the open market for any reason, you once had to decide whether to take the chance and drive without protection. Today, through the Assigned Risk Plan, insurance protection is guaranteed if you want it;
4. "Political interference on behalf of traffic violators has been drastically reduced, with improved morale among our law enforcement personnel and in our courts. The same laws apply to all, regardless of politics.
5. "Improved enforcement, combined with the constant weeding out of sub-standard

The 1963 Joint Campaign for Combined Jewish Appeal and United Israel Appeal is being conducted this year from November 4 to 18 with an objective of $4,275,000. The slogan for this year's campaign is "Care Enough, Give Enough".

Cecil Pascal, general chairman of the 1963 Joint Campaign, has pointed out that the new goal is the essential minimum required to meet the minimum budgetary request of all agencies affiliated with the Combined Jewish Appeal as well as to meet Montreal's share of the responsibility for the transportation to an resettlement of Jewish refugees and immigrants in Israel through the United Israel Appeal and Rescue and Survival Fund.

Goal higher

"This year's goal is $414,458 higher than the total raised last year," Mr. Pascal stated. "But in order to meet the goal of $4,275,000, it will be necessary to raise at least an additional half million dollars to com-drivers, through record control by the director of the Motor Vehicle Bureau, should reduce our accident frequency."

Mr. Piper, who is also manager of All Canada Federation Insurance, said, however, that one factor which will keep Quebec's auto insurance higher than elsewhere, regardless of accident reduction and prevention, is the provision in the law which gives a gratuitous passenger the same rights as an innocent pedestrian.

"In other provinces the passenger can only collect from the person driving him if he is guilty of gross negligence. Here, any fault at all on the part of the driver makes him liable.

pensate for loss of contributions through deaths, removal from the city, and other causes."

Mr. Pascal explained that "overseas needs continue at a record high because of the absorption problems of Jewish North African refugees in France and continuing large-scale immigration into Israel. At the same time, local agencies are faced with increased demands for new and changing services from an expanding population."

The Joint Campaign is conducted as a partnership effort on behalf of the Combined Jewish Appeal and United Israel Appeal. The UJA supports the program of the Jewish Agency in the transportation and resettlement of Jewish immigrants in Israel.

Local grants

The Combined Jewish Appeal provides grants to 20 local and national welfare agencies and community service programs as well as to the work of the United Jewish Relief Agencies overseas. The United Israel Appeal and the United Jewish Relief Agencies together support more than 25 overseas agencies which are the backbone of welfare aid for immigrants in Israel and for Jews in other overseas communities.

Over 40 percent of the funds raised in the annual Joint Campaign for Combined Jewish Appeal and United Israel are used for local and national agencies while the remainder goes for overseas purposes.

The funds for overseas are not transmitted in cash, but in the form of Canadian credits and supplies which the overseas agencies may draw on for their respective programs.

Pre-campaign events are now getting underway for the 1963 Joint Campaign among leading contributors and campaign workers.

Building extension tenders

Tenders are due to be opened shortly for alterations and extensions to Westmount's Police and Fire stations and the city hall annex — a job estimated at $750,000.

Closing was at noon yesterday.

Perry and Patch, 4626 St. Catherine west are the architects and Durnford, Bolton, Chadwick and Elwood, the associate architects.

Holden and Muir, 4137 Sherbrooke west, are consulting mechanical engineers on the job.

Some dozen bids were received, it is understood.

Bronfman painting tours U.S.

An outstanding picture from the Bronfman Collection of Canadian Arts is included among four contemporary Canadian paintings that the Museum of Fine Arts has loaned for a year for circulation in U.S. museums and galleries, it is announced.

The four will form a part of an exhibition "Twelve Canadian Artists" being organized by the Museum of Modern Art in New York.

New York museum officials, in commenting on the move, had this to say: "A few Canadian artists have earned international reputations — but recent developments in Canadian painting and sculpture are not yet widely known throughout the United States."

The picture from the Bronfman collection is "Emerging Figure" by Graham Coughtry. It is a 1959 painting.

Also in the group are: Jean-Paul Lemieux's "Les Grandes Personnes" painted in 1960; another 1960 painting "Elementary Fury" by Jock MacDonald and A. F. MacKay's "Manadala" painted in 1962.

Other artists to be included are: Borduas, Bush, Bloore, Coleville, McEwen and Riopelle and the sculptors Archambault, Etrog and Gladstone.

WE SAY

Nuisance has $483 value

It is refreshing to see the calm and straightforward manner in which the forces of law, order and justice in Westmount have so far dealt with the sextet of slogan-painters, who, as the city's lawyer pointed out "committed acts of cowardice against a sleeping city."

There was no question of revenge, no question of condemning individuals for their political beliefs, no attempt to exact the full penalty provided by the law ($500 fine or six months in jail) but only a desire to see justice done.

Fines were assessed, with costs and a bill for damages presented to those who pleaded guilty.

The nuisance value was set at exactly $482.92 — a nice round sum.

City attorney Lawrence Poitras made a good point during the hearings, before Municipal Judge Alex Stalker.

"A courageous man," he said, "preaches aloud his convictions . . . one who benefits from darkness is like a bandit and deserves to be punished."

No one from Westmount journeyed over the city line to paint slogans anywhere — the scales of justice were used and the measure required to balance the banditry was found to be $482.92.

There was no outward show of any spirit of retaliation.

No one was ruffled — and remember, those who won't be ruffled, can't be ruffled.

I SAY

"I never have frustrations — If at first I don't succeed, I quit".

YOU SAY

Lauds our police in arson cases

Dear Sir: May I congratulate the police of the City of Westmount for their fine work in connection with the apprehension of the confessed arsonist. It's a lucky thing we weren't all cooked in our beds.

I notice the Montreal police were not saying too much about the part Westmount played in the matter, but then I guess that is to be expected — they'd been looking for the man for months without success.

Again — may I say to the Westmount boys in blue — Well done!

Car care urged on city hills

Sir: I have noted in the press recently several letters calling for greater care on the part of motorists, and particularly truck-drivers, in setting brakes on cars when parking on hills.

Several times recently cars have rolled down hills unattended, and tragic accidents have been narrowly avoided.

I would like to add my voice to this swelling safety chorus, and to urge that the law require drivers of heavy vehicles to take extra precautions to prevent such hazards.

Lyall writes again

Some months ago Kenneth E. Lyall, a former president of the NDG Business Men's Association and a perennial candidate in civic, provincial and federal frays here, took his "goods" and bled himself to Toronto.

Mr. Lyall was born and raised in this district, and while here was a regular contributor, not only to the column of The Monitor, but also to the daily newspapers and to other weeklies around the province.

Now that he is settled in Toronto, he has unholstered his agile pen once more, and written to the Toronto Telegram.

His article, as it appeared on the editorial page of the Telegram on Friday, August 16th, is reproduced here in its entirety:

"I read with interest the articles in your paper recently by George V. Ferguson, editor of the Montreal Star, concerning the French Canadian situation of Quebec.

The following observations are based on being born in Montreal and residing there for many years.

No matter what Mr. Ferguson and other people say about the present day friction and problems in Quebec — blaming Confederation, Wolfe, 1837, Upper and Lower Canada, etc., the real reason for the unrest is simply that our French-Canadian friends want more of the good things of this life, the good things which the English-Canadian can see the the English-Canadian is getting, better jobs, better money and a better living.

Johnny Baptiste wants these things for himself and his children but they are not available because of the fact that the standard of education for the average French-Canadian of Quebec will not qualify him to obtain the type of jobs and positions that provide decent salaries and better living.

The nub of the French-

Canadian problem today is education.

It is not Wolfe of several hundred years ago, it is the one-room country school system that is still the standard in rural Quebec. It is not Papineau and 1837, it is the city school system that to this moment forces too many children to go to school on a half-day basis owing to lack of classrooms and teachers.

The present day Quebec French-Canadian school system of mass education will not and cannot provide the majority of the right education to enable them to compete for and hold onto middle and upper class jobs.

The ordinary French-Canadian is frustrated and angry. The French-Canadian leaders, of course, know of this; and to protect themselves and their positions from the cold searching stars of the people, the French-Canadian leaders are hurriedly blaming the English-Canadian and the English-Canadian institutions for all of Quebec's faults.

The French-Canadians have a beef, but let them beef at their own leaders and their own institutions — no use throwing rocks or bombs at English-Canadians.

Night time Question Mark

You've listened alone in the dark of night,
To those muffled sounds,
hidden from sight;
Wondered about the stillness
and space
As the world revolved at a breathless pace?
Night has a mystery all its own,
Real master of the vast unknown;
Its very power reigns supreme
To background even a modern dream.
Yes space still beckons
As does the dark —
But on the moon,
Will you pay to park?

Sculptor wins award

Stanley Lewis, 4145 Blueridge Crescent, talented young Montreal sculptor and print-maker, has been awarded a special grant by the Canadian Jewish Congress which will enable him to visit Israel to do research work based on archeological discoveries in Biblical art. In result of this work the publication of a portfolio of stonecut prints illustrating the Ten Commandments is scheduled to be completed in 1964.

Aiming to stimulate and sponsor creative efforts, the Canadian Jewish Congress has in the past made grants in the field of music and literature through commission and publication. The grant to Mr. Lewis marks the first time that such assistance has been given to an artist in recognition of the significance of his work and the valuable contribution to Jewish and Canadian culture.

Many awards

Lewis, a native Montreale, studied at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts School of Art and Design and graduated as top student with an honor diploma in graphic design and sculpture. In 1952 he was awarded a full tuition scholarship at the Instituto Allende, San Miguel, Mexico.

He also received grants from the Elizabeth T. Greenshields Memorial Foundation to study in Italy for several years. At present Professor of Sculpture at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts School of Art and Design, Stanley Lewis has had numerous one-man shows of sculptures and prints in Canada, the U.S.A., Mexico and abroad. The City of Montreal recently honored the artist with a special exhibit at the Centre d'Art de Mont-Royal.

The artist will leave for Israel this coming Fall for a lengthy stay, with a schedule of intensive research and artistic work in Jerusalem, the Negev Desert and various ancient cities and places where important archeological discoveries have been made recently.

Local student back from Mexico

The Westmount Examiner, Friday, August 30, 1963

If you can't see Red when you go to Mexico — there must be something wrong with your eyes.

That, in essence, is the feeling of Jacky Shipton, who is just back from a trip to the land of sun-drenched

Senoritas and sleepy peons, and who is more than a little appalled at the apathy that is shown in Mexico by Catholic students.

Jacky is an Arts student at Marianopolis College and was in Mexico representing the Canadian Federation of Catholic College Students.

The educational system of the country is in need of a change, Miss Shipton said on her return.

Some blood shed

At the University of Morelia, she said students were required to sign a declaration that they would propagate Marxist teachings, a move that the Catholic Action group finally managed to have rescinded, though after some bloodshed.

Students, there, she said, showed great courage and exposed themselves to danger and ridicule.

In some of the Mexican Universities, she added, practicing Catholics are not allowed in philosophy or arts courses.

In addition to the universities, said Miss Shipton, normal law and journalism schools are also heavily infiltrated with Communists.

Mexico, she added, is replete with Communists, who take advantage of the extreme poverty of the people.

The government, far-left-wing, holds all but three seats in the parliament, she pointed out, and added, "candidates not voted in, are brought in by force."

Unity seeks volunteers

With the commencement of another program season just days away, the Unity Boys' Club of Westmount will require additional volunteer leaders to take care of the planned expanded activities.

Although it is early to determine the requirements for the forthcoming season, the Club is appealing to the citizens of Westmount and St. Henry to offer their services if they have a few hours per week to spare and if they have some knowledge or are experienced in the following types of activities: Arts and Crafts, hobbies, sports, plastics, woodwork, model trains or model aeroplanes, sewing, art work, stamp collecting, dramatics or other related activities.

Anyone interested in volunteering their services are asked to get in touch with the Club Director at WE. 2-5506 or apply at the Club at 1090 Greene Avenue.

Tribute paid leaders

The volunteer workers of the Unity Boys' Club provided the youth of the community some 3,000 hours of service in the 1962-63 season. Letters of thanks and appreciation are being sent out to the Club's 62 workers whose contribution was invaluable in the successful operation of the organization and to whom an invitation to return for the ensuing year will also be made.

Continued emphasis will be made to encourage the older boys and girls to become members of the Junior Leaders' Corps. Last year's group of Junior Leaders', a total of ten, all received credits toward their "Letter of Achievement" the Big "U".

Latest program notes

TALENT CLUB — Musical Director Fred Johnston and Dance Instructor Danny Smith are returning to the Club for another year of service in the musical and dancing category of club work. GROUP CLUBS — Tom Stevens has been appointed leader in charge of group clubs. Watch this column for further developments.

Rootlessness adds to task of Red Feather

Growth of urban living has greatly increased the problems of social welfare agencies.

This is the statement of George E. Hart, associate executive director of Red Feather, who believes the change in living patterns has also brought about a rootlessness and an impersonal society in which men and women lack a sense of belonging.

Montreal, he noted, is growing at such a rate that it adds a population equal to the size of the city of Halifax each year.

To reduce the disorder and ease the way to progress is the job of Red Feather, he said, reminding that the goal this year is $2,305,000.

Life insurance companies invest millions in Quebec

The operations of life insurance companies in the province of Quebec have resulted in putting hundreds of millions of dollars to work in this province and a substantial inflow of investment dollars to Quebec. This enormous amount of capital which represents the savings of citizens of Quebec and others has been invested in the economic development of Quebec.

This statement was made by the Quebec Portable Pensions Committee of the life insurance companies in Quebec.

It was stated that assets invested in Quebec by the life insurance companies are of the order of $3,000 million, several hundred million dollars more than liabilities to Quebec policyholders which were $1,901 million at the beginning of 1961. Assets invested in the province by the companies have increased by $500 million since 1960.

In effect this means that in recent years the life companies have considered Quebec an excellent place in which to invest their funds for policyholders. They have therefore brought funds into the province for investment.

The statement was made to correct totally false suggestions that the life insurance companies invest less in the province than they have received from policyholders here.

In addition to the millions of dollars invested in Quebec on behalf of policyholders living outside Canada, the life companies at the beginning of 1961 had investments totalling $1,910 million in Quebec invested on behalf of Canadian policyholders alone.

Of this $1,910 million, $440 million was invested in government bonds (including municipal and school bonds); $560 million in corporate securities; $790 million in mortgages and real estate; and $120 million in other assets.

Voluntary investment in the province to this vast extent has encouraged investor confidence in Quebec, a prerequisite of economic development and expansion.

Baha'i

Labor Day talk set

"Labor as a 'service to mankind' amounts to an act of worship," is the theme of a talk to be given by Albert Rakovsky of Westmount at the Baha'i Faith Centre, 1548 Pine Avenue West, on Sunday evening, September 1 at 8:30 p.m.

Baha'u'llah, the Founder of this Faith which originated in Iran just over a century ago, wrote that it is the duty of everyone to engage in some art, trade or profession and that this occupation, if performed in a spirit of service, is considered equal to other forms of worship of God.

One of the biggest problems facing us today Mr. Rakovsky said, is that the monotonous repetition of many jobs in this mechanical era had destroyed a good deal of our natural pride in work well done for its own sake. In order to regain this pride, it is necessary to develop an entirely new spiritual attitude, realizing that work is not only necessary to physical and emotional health, but can be made our personal gift to society, putting into it the very best of ourselves, always striving for perfection.

'Picasso and Man' Exhibit in Spring

Leading museums in the United States and abroad as well as important private collectors have agreed to loan major works to the exhibition "Picasso and Man," which is to be presented at The Montreal Museum of Fine Arts in February and March, it is announced.

The loans are of such significance that the various phases of Picasso's evolution, as well as his private world, will be fully illustrated, said Dr. Evan H. Turner, director of the Museum.

Twelve works are being contributed by the Museum of Modern Art, New York, alone.

List of galleries

Other U.S. galleries which will be among the lenders are:

The Marion Koogler McNay Art Institute, San Antonio, Texas; the Los Angeles County Museum; the Baltimore Museum of Art; the Cleveland Museum of Art; the Albright-Knox Art Gallery, Buffalo; the Art Institute of Chicago; the Boston Museum of Fine Arts; the San Francisco Museum of Art; the Wadsworth Atheneum, Hartford, Conn.; the Washington University Art Galleries, St. Louis; the Currier Gallery of Art, Manchester, N.H.; the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, Ohio; the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, Richmond; the Cincinnati Art Museum; the Pasadena Art Museum; and the Evergreen House Foundation, Baltimore.

Among the private lenders are: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Zacks, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. G. Hamilton Southam, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Stralem, New York; Sidney Janis, New York; Richard S. Zeisler, New York; Mr. and Mrs. David Meltzer, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Ault, New York; Mrs. George Mack, New York; Mrs. John David Eaton and others.

The visitor to the exhibition will be able to follow Picasso's early development from his youth (By Lamp Light, 1898, painted in Barcelona when he was only 17), through the Blue (Woman with Cats, 1901) and Rose periods — the period of harlequins, pierrots, clowns and nudes — to his famous experiments in Cubism (beginning with Les Femmes d'Alger, 1907) and the later periods.

Women in his life

There will be paintings of the women in his life (Ma Jolie and J'aime Eva are examples), Paris, the poets, painters, dancers and patrons he has numbered among his friends.

The exhibition will also include drawings and sculpture by the 82-year-old genius who has revolutionized 20th century art, covering his career over a 60-year span with some 175 examples of his oeuvre.

The largest Picasso retrospective ever staged in Canada, the exhibition will parallel, in a limited sense, the theme of Montreal's 1967 World's Fair, "Man and His World."

ON LEAVE — NEW YORK AND EUROPE

Malcolm Smith, a well-known school music specialist and pianist with the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal, who lives in Notre Dame de Grace, is on leave of absence to continue his studies for a PhD in music.

Chatting with him before he left last month, Malcolm was very enthusiastic and told me of his plans in detail.

In New York, he is continuing with the celebrated David Saperton (son-in-law of the late Leopold Godowsky) himself a former concert pianist, now a pedagogue who has taught such famous pianists as Jorge Bolet — Sidney Foster — Seymour Lipkin — Abbey Simon — Shura Cherkassky — Julius Katchen — William Masselos. Some of these have performed with the Montreal Symphony Orchestra.

While he was teaching last year, Mr. Smith would go to New York to take lessons and always practised daily on his return from his music courses in his high school classes.

The degree for which he is working is a new area for piano performers and demands informative and background program notes, also like a dissertation. (This is a rather unfamiliar word to the average person, so to explain it simply means "a formal discourse" or more clearly: a thesis (essay) embodying the research for a doctoral candidate.)

About a third of Malcolm Smith's program comprises Canadian compositions. While studying with Mr. Saperton (who was assistant for over 17 years to the late Josef Hofmann, Director of the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia) is having the opportunity of conducting and performing in Chamber Music ensembles.

In November Malcolm Smith goes to Milan, Italy to give concerts and after a holiday in Greece will go to Salzburg where he hopes to attend the Master Classes of Geza Anda. Then on to Freiburg to work with Carl Seeman. Several concerts have been arranged in Germany and Norway in the spring after which Malcolm Smith returns to his home on Terrebonne avenue. Let us all wish the Notre Dame de Grace musician success for this season of intensive study.

Both Geza Anda and Carl Seeman performed in concerts at Westhill High School Auditorium in the Society of Friends of Music Series.

John B. Frosst explains move in drug field

Arrangements have been completed for Charles E. Frosst & Co., largest all-Canadian manufacturer of prescription medicines, to acquire an interest in Mowatt & Moore Ltd., pharmaceutical manufacturers.

The agreement represents a co-operative effort in the pharmaceutical field.

John B. Frosst, 3223 Trafalgar avenue, president of Charles E. Frosst & Co. emphasized this point in a statement: "This is not another take-over. It is an arrangement whereby two Canadian-owned companies in the pharmaceutical field are joining hands. Between us we can give greater service to Canadian medicine and to the health needs of the country as a whole.

"The move does not contemplate reduction of staff in either company.

"Charles E. Frosst & Co. will have a representative on the Mowatt & Moore Board. They will have the benefit of our research, technical, marketing, personnel and other services. At the same time, the two companies will collaborate in the development of new products," he stated.

William Telfer, 117 Radcliffe, president of Mowatt & Moore Ltd., said: "Because this agreement gives us access to Frosst experience and facilities, we foresee an accelerated rate of growth for our company and the possibility of more jobs for Canadians — under Canadian leadership."

Mowatt & Moore was founded 40 years ago and now has 35 sales representatives across Canada with depots in Vancouver and Winnipeg. Plans for the future include the building of a new plant on land already acquired on the outskirts of Montreal. The company exports to Central and Latin America, the West Indies and the Middle East.

Charles E. Frosst & Co., founded in 1899, has a sales force of 87 and warehousing facilities in Toronto, Calgary, Winnipeg, and Vancouver. The company's modern Montreal plant includes extensive research and control laboratories containing the latest scientific equipment. There are three overseas producing subsidiary companies, in Colombia, Peru and the Middle East, and the company exports to many other countries.

Frosst report

Charles E. Frosst & Co., Montreal, had net earnings of $693,555 or $1.31 a share for the year ended May 31, 1963, compared to $722,454 or $1.36 a share last year.

It was another good year, according to Chairman Eliot S. Frosst and President John B. Frosst, who point out in the company's annual report that 1962 earnings included a non-recurring capital profit equal to six cents a share.

Sales are up

Consolidated sales of this largest all-Canadian manufacturer of prescription medicines reached a peak of $9,837,601, an increase of $142,795. Dividends paid on Class A shares, listed on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges, and Class B shares totalled $344,955, the same as last year, at the annual rate of 60 cents plus five cents extra paid in June. Retained earnings at the end of the 1963 fiscal year stood at

Recent Wedding

Montgomery — Veary

The marriage of Joyce Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Veary, of Lake Megantic, Que., to Mr. Hugh William Montgomery, of Simcoe, Norfolk County, Ont., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh R. Montgomery, of Westmount, took place recently in St. John's Church, Lake Megantic, the Ven. Archdeacon Timothy Matthews, of Lennoxville, Que., officiating, assisted by the Rev. Walker, of Lake Megantic. Mrs. Aitken played the wedding music, and standards of white shasta daisies and gladioli were used to decorate the church, and cornucopias filled with wildflowers marked the pews reserved for guests.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white organza over taffeta, the fitted bodice having a bolero of Chantilly lace with a scoop neckline and short sleeves, and the skirt having an overskirt caught at the back with a bow and falling into a slight train. Her waist-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a single organza flower and she carried a bouquet of gardenias, white carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Shirley Craig, as maid of honor, and Miss Suzanne Ulmann, as bridesmaids, were in frocks of aquaramine organza fashioned with fitted bodices having scoop necklines and elbow-length sleeves, and skirts with straight panels in the front and unpressed pleats at the sides and in the back. They wore matching pleated open pillboxes with short veils, and carried spray bouquets of salmon pink gladioli blossoms.

Mr. Robert Hamilton, of Westmount, acted as best man for Mr. Montgomery, and the ushers were Mr. John Annesley and Mr. Thomas H. Montgomery jr.

Mrs. Veary, the bride's mother, was in a sheath gown of Alice blue lace with a hat of matching chiffon, and a corsage bouquet of white gardenias.

Mrs. Montgomery, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of cameo pink chiffon, the fitted bodice having a cowl neckline and elbow-length sleeves, and the sheath skirt being draped at the side. She wore a matching hat, and had a spray of miniature pink roses pinned to her purse.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Kent Cottage, Lake Megantic, where arrangements of white shasta daisies and gladioli and candles in silver candelabra were used as decorations.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery left for Bermuda, the bride travelling in a sheath frock of pale lime green flowered silk under a matching linen coat, and wearing a white hat, and a corsage bouquet of orange roses.

Simple detailing marks fall's smartest handbags

By Millicent Hickmore

THIS FALL, the well-dressed woman will heed the "call to arms" of simply styled, handsome textured leather handbags keyed to clothes for casual living. A fall fashion preview presented here by Leather Industries offered striking visual proof that the accent on handbag fashions in on lines and the leathers. Lines are simple and easy, whether pouch or clutch... box bag or barrel. Leathers are beautiful in the range of textures — grained, waxy, smooth, sueded, antiqued, lustre.

TOP BAG for fall will be the pet of the suburban set, the "country look" leather satchell, pouch or tote. Roomy without being oversized, it is also being "taken up" by the suburbanite's big-city sister, who knows a good thing when she sees it. This casually elegant handbag style was shown most often in grained, brushed, antiqued, and the new waxy leathers, and usually sports brass hardware in closings, emblems or other ornamentation.

OTHER POPULAR STYLES on exhibit included shoulder bags, barrels, crescents, envelopes and clutches. The leather boxbag, constructed with rigid sides and a lid-type top, will be back on the fashion scene in both rounded and angular shapes. Each handbag displayed the distinctive black-and-gold "genuine leather" tag that means quality to the discriminating shopper.

THE LEATHER COLOR story for fall features "deep country" shades. Starring is the brown family, including antelope, bone, honey and mahogany. Also important will be deep tones such as cranberry, mustard and olive, and neutrals on the order of fog grey and taupe. The "authentic" look of waxy and antiqued leather tannages, and aniline-dyed grained leathers which retain their original markings, is a natural for this casual fashion picture.

FOR DRESSY COSTUMES, trim leather bags with a slimmer, smaller silhouette were shown, principally envelopes, clutches and flat pouches with chains. Style details are kept to a minimum... burnished gold closings, self-leather bow or other simple decoration.

AFTER-DARK handbag styles spotlighted glossy smooth leathers, glowing lustres and sleek suede leathers. Occasionally illuminated with a touch of jewellery, these stunning bags in vivid colors, pastels or inky black will add fashion excitement to the fall social scene.

ON THE BOOKSHELF: A new and different book on Montreal has just been released. A bilingual book for a bilingual city, MONTREAL, by Sam Tata and Frank Lowe, attempts to capture on film and in commentary the spirit of the city's culture.

Famous for the cosmopolitan atmosphere that makes her a rarity among North American cities, Montreal is a lively subject for the photographer. Mr. Tata's camera ranges the city from the harbor and Chinatown to Westmount and Mont Royal. He includes photographs of Montreal landmarks, the night life, winding staircases and streets peopled with many nationalities. Brief commentary, in both French and English follows the camera in its travels.

The authors of MONTREAL are both experts in their fields. Tata has photographed cities from Hong-Kong to Paris and his work has appeared in Life and Time magazines, in British periodicals and in Canada in Macleans, Chatelaine, Weekend and many others. Frank Lowe won fame as a journalist during World War II, has worked for the CBC, Weekend, and the Montreal Star.

Red Feather lists women for '63 drive

The following Westmount appointments in the women's division-residential canvass for this year's Red Feather campaign, have been announced by Mrs. R. C. Scrivener, 655 Grosvenor Ave., Westmount area chief of the women's division:

Mrs. K. W. MacIntyre, 637 Grosvenor Ave., deputy chairman; Mrs. C. S. Gurd, 649 Grosvenor Ave., deputy chairman for Westmount west.

Objective of the Red Feather campaign, which runs from Sept. 23 to Oct. 8, is $2,305,000.

The toothpick was in high favor among ancients and gold and silver picks were widely used by the Romans.

MISS JOAN HELEN MARTIN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Martin, of Westmount, and MR. JOHN HATTON POUPART, son of Mrs. J. Henry Poupart and of the late Mr. Poupart, whose engagement is announced. The marriage has been arranged to take place on Saturday, September 28, in the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount.

Road work threatens Canadiana

It would appear that some of Dollard des Ormeaux's historic buildings are going to fall before progress.

The widening of Sources Road is the villain of the piece.

Victims are two typical French-Canadian homes, one of which is said to be more than 150 years old.

One is located at the entrance to the Rideau Memorial Gardens, 4239 Sources Road; the other is near the entrance to the Glenmore curling club. Both are on the east side of the road.

When the new Sources Road is completed, the houses will be just one foot away from the highway and provincial statutes call for a minimum of 15 feet separating homes from highways.

Dollard des Ormeaux has already investigated the possibility of moving the houses, but the cost would seem prohibitive.

Women's Realm

The Montreal Ladies Choir will open its 26th season on September 10.

Choir rehearsals are held every Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Temple Emanuel, 4100 Sherbrooke street west, side entrance, 395 Elm avenue.

Seems when French-Canadians build a home they build it to the last—in one spot! The four-foot thick basement walls are the big stumbling blocks to removal, and a preliminary estimate for removal was in excess of $10,000.

Dollard des Ormeaux's civic administration has exhibited rare historic appreciation by attempting to find a suitable location within the town limits, in which old homes, antique memorabilia, etc., could be displayed to best advantage. As yet the project is only in the talking stage, but already an impressive list of old homes, farms, antiques has been drawn up.

It is hoped that in some way demolition of the two French-Canadian farm-houses can be avoided, and the way the road widening is progressing, it would seem town council and farm-house owners have a good two years to find a solution.

Christening

The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Emblem Jr. and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Emblem, of the Town of Mount Royal, and Mr. and Mrs. Stan J. Smart, of Westmount, took place recently in the Annunciation of Our Lady Church, Town of Mount Royal, the Rev. Francis T. Moyle officiating. The baby was given the names Gordon Francis, and the godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Emblem.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the residence of the child's parents.

Dear Abby...

She's Miffed

By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: All right, let's see if YOU think I am "sick" and should see a psychiatrist. My husband gave me a surprise party for my birthday last month. He planned it all on the telephone with a good friend of mine. I really was thrilled for it was a grand party. But when he gave HER a corsage exactly like the one he gave me, it spoiled everything. This was the first corsage my husband had bought me in 33 years of marriage, and I had to share the honor with another woman. I would like your opinion on this. A person doesn't enjoy being told she is "nuts."

LUMP IN MY THROAT

DEAR LUMP: I don't think you are "nuts," but I do think you are over-reacting. True your husband acted thoughtlessly, but he was only repaying a friend for helping to plan your party. And it's the party that counts. Don't mention the corsage again.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I'm surprised at you. I usually agree with your answers, but that letter about the little four-year-old taking one grape at the grocery store amazed me. Are YOU agreeing with that busybody who saw it and said, "He'll be stealing cars at 16"? Let me quote Dr. Spock: "When small children take things that don't belong to them, it isn't stealing. They don't have a clear sense of what belongs to them and what doesn't." Besides, a grocery store is no place to discipline a child. She should have waited until they got home, and then explained why he shouldn't have taken the grape. You must never humiliate a child by reprimanding him in front of others.

STEADY READER

DEAR READER: Sorry, I don't speak Spock. If a child of four doesn't know that what he sees displayed at a grocery store does not belong to him, the time to teach him is when he starts to help himself. I realize that public reprimand is doubly hard for a child to bear, but for some reason, those are the lessons they seem to remember longest.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: One son became officially engaged last June, with plans to marry this June, but it never came off. He is 30 and the girl is 23. He gave her a very costly diamond, which was quite a rock by anybody's standards. This girl has been seen out with other men, but she denied it when my son asked her. (I saw her and so did my husband.) Our son refuses to believe she is playing him for a fool, but it is so obvious it is pathetic. Now she says she wants to "stay engaged and keep the ring," but she needs to date other men to "test their love." What do you think of this?

THE OLD FOLKS

DEAR FOLKS: Any man who gives a girl a "rock" and allows her to date others to "test their love" has several much larger rocks in his head. But he's 30, Mom, and you can't tell him what to do.

* * *

HURT PARENTS

DEAR HURT: Yes, many other parents have "gone through this." You can't force your love on your son or on his wife, and you shouldn't try. The immature and embittered daughter-in-law is your son's problem. Best that you ignore both of them until he shows what he can, or will, do — if anything.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am to be married soon and my plans are slowly shaping up. A couple of months ago, my mother-in-law-to-be asked to see the pattern and material I had selected for my wedding dress. (I am making it myself.) I showed her and she seemed delighted.

Last evening I was shocked beyond words when she showed me HER dress. It was an exact duplicate of mine — only in blue. She had it made. Abby, I am a large girl and there aren't too many patterns that are slenderizing for me. That was the reason I chose that pattern. Should I

Fashion show is sole fund-raising project

"The Associates", non-profit groups of women who give assistance to needy families, and particularly to pre-school children in the Montreal area, will stage their annual fund-raising Fashion Show September 26, at 8.30 p.m. at the Windsor Hotel.

There are three groups of "Associates", which are also responsible for aiding the St. Ann's Baby Clinic, in addition to their other welfare projects. The St. Ann's Baby Clinic was founded by Rev. Father George Daly, C.S.R. in 1916 for the purpose of aiding mothers of unborn children.

Honorary members active

In 1933 the first group of go ahead and wear mine, ask her not to wear hers, or what?

HURT

DEAR HURT: Ask her to please wear something else for your wedding. If she doesn't quickly agree to it, YOU find another pattern for yourself. Don't let a "me too" mother-in-law spoil your wedding day.

Associates was formed in Westmount, followed in 1936 by a group in Outremont, and in 1956 the Western Group was established. Many of the original members have since become honorary members but are still quite active, attending general meetings, helping with Christmas projects and the Fashion Show.

Each of the groups is composed of approximately seventeen members who hold regular monthly meetings in their homes. Besides annual and monthly dues, each member is responsible for a knitted or sewn article of clothing per meeting, which go into layettes for new babies. Help is also given to dress children for their First Communion. Christmas baskets consisting of clothing, toys, fruit, candies are given to needy families. When funds permit, "The Associates" send children to summer camp.

The success of the annual Fashion Show, the only money-raising project of "The Associates", will determine the extent of help "The Associates" will be able to provide in the coming year. The Fashion Show is being presented by James A. Ogilvy's Company Limited.

Frost Report . . .

$4,364,680, an increase of $348,600 or 66 cents a share.

The company officials report that domestic pharmaceutical sales in 1963 showed an increase of five per cent, while the value of sales was affected by a substantial reduction in the company's prices for major antibiotic products. Export sales were almost one-third higher than the previous year and profits earned by foreign subsidiaries for their fiscal years ended December 31, 1962, were higher than 1961. However, income from dividends and royalties transferred to Canada was slightly lower due to increased foreign taxes and the lower value of foreign currency.

More for research

The report reveals that expenditures on research, almost all of which was conducted in Canada, were 13 per cent higher than for 1962. Canadian Government research incentives were of little benefit to the company.

Taking issue with the Restrictive Trade Practices Commission report of January 19, 1963, the company's top executives suggest that contrary to the Commission's recommendation that patents on drugs be abolished, drug patents should be strengthened. "It is your Company's contention that the holder of a drug patent should be given complete protection for three years from the date of issuance of the patent, following which the patentee would be required to grant a license upon request in return for a royalty. Such a licensee should be required to manufacture the product in Canada," they state.

They go on to say that this patent law would protect customer and manufacturer alike. It would give the public assurance of moderate drug prices and yet encourage pharmaceutical manufacturers to invest even larger sums in research and in the development of the market for new products. "The abolition of patent protection would be reflected throughout the industry, seriously retarding the flow of new medicinal products. It would harm the expanding Canadian pharmaceutical industry which, in recent years, has given employment to an increasing number of Canadians including scientists trained in Canadian universities," they warn.

Picasso and man . . .

Dr. Turner said the exhibition is so important it may outdraw all other individual exhibitions ever held here.

He said the major loan from the Museum of Modern Art, which has the largest single holding in North America of Picasso paintings, was made possible because the institution will be closed for three months early next year for a $25,000,000 expansion program. The expansion has been referred to as part of New York's preparation for its own World's Fair in 1964-65.

Finn class championships dates are set

The North American Finn Class championships, sponsored by Royal St. Lawrence and Pointe Claire yacht clubs, will be held Aug. 28 to Sept. 1. There is a practice race on Aug. 28 and seven championship races.

There will be 15 to 20 Canadian entries, including Canadian champion John Clarke of Toronto and two previous Olympic contenders, Bruce Kirky and Ian Bruce.

From the United States comes the redoubtable Glen Foster, well known international 14 sailor; 1962 North American champion Fred Miller of California; 1962 Sears Cup winner Henry Sprague of California who also won the O'Day Trophy this year, and 1962 National champion Peter Barrett.

Ian Bruce and Graeme Hayward are regatta and race committee chairmen, respectively. Racing takes place at 10:30 and 2:30 Thursday, Friday and Saturday and at 10:30 Sunday morning.

Races for the Royal St. Lawrence Dragon Trophy will be sailed Friday, Saturday and Sunday. There will be five races, two Friday, two Saturday, and two Sunday with a minimum of three to count.

Gordon T. White is regatta chairman and V. O. Marquez is race chairman. The winner will receive a substantial allowance toward going to Europe for the Gold Cup races.

The Labor Day weekend is traditionally allotted to the Hudson Yacht Club which will hold its annual regatta and Lake of Two Mountains Cup race.

The Cup race takes place at 2:45 Saturday off Ile aux Tourtes. It is open to all yachts 18 feet and over, and S.L.V.Y.A. handicaps are used.

The annual regatta will start at 10:40 Sunday. The order of start is as follows: Flying Dutchmen and Jollyboats; Y Flyers; International 14s; Dragons; Lightnings; Cruisers; Handicaps A, PC, F, Daysailors and Catamarans; Fireflies; and Flying Juniors; Handicap B, graduates, wayfarers and GP14s.

Hunter Trials September 8

Entries from many parts of Ontario as well as Quebec are expected for the annual Hunter Trials, by the Montreal Hunt, Sunday, September 8.

The trials will be held at the Montreal Hunt Farm, St. Scholastique, starting at 9:30 a.m.

The trials include classes from novice to qualified hunting horses.

Three major trophies are to be awarded: the MacDougall Trophy for a team of three hunters, the Hugh Paton Cup for handy working hunter, and the Viau Trophy for qualified hunter.

The Viau Trophy is open only to horses that have hunted at least five times in one season with a recognized pack of hounds. The trials will be held on a completely new course recently built at the Hunt Farm. The Montreal Hunt, which is the oldest hunt club in North America, believes that the new course is one of the most outstanding on the continent.

Included in the program will be a parade of the Montreal Hunt pack, recognized as one of the finest in the country.

Judges for the trials are Mr.

8-man tackle football

The Westmount Recreation Department has a big deal underway for boys aged 11, 12 and 13 — provided they are not playing for any other football team and any touch football team — in the 8-man tackle football set up they are now arranging.

Maximum weight, if you want to play, is 110 pounds and the minimum is 80 pounds.

Oh, yes, there's another thing too — you have to supply running shoes, a helmet, shoulder pads and football pants.

The loop is particular about that — you must wear pants.

Registration has been going on for a while now, but a lot of the boys have been out of town, and this is also a reminder for those who may learn of the situation for the first time, or haven't got around to registering yet.

Where do you register? at the artificial rink, that's where.

And if you want more information, just call John Garland, the recreation supervisor, at WE. 2-4293.

If you're going down to the artificial ice rink to register, don't go before 10.30 a.m. or after 4.30 p.m. — there won't be anyone there.

A Northern Electric scholarship for 1963-64 has been awarded to Claude Schaffer, 331 Clarke avenue, Apt. 4, Montreal.

He is studying for his bachelor of commerce degree at McGill University.

Touch Football

The City of Westmount Recreation Department Touch Football Programme will get under way early in September. Players in the following categories started to register at the Recreation Office at the Artificial Rink Monday.

MOSQUITO — Under 10, as of Sept. 1, 1963, born after Sept. 1, 1953.

PEE WEE — Under 12, as of Sept. 1, 1963, born after Sept. 1, 1951.

BANTAM — Under 14, as of Sept. 1, 1963, born after Sept. 1, 1949.

Further information may be obtained by calling John Garland at the Recreation Department — WELLINGTON 2-4293.

Loyola Warriors

The Loyola College football Warriors, defending Ottawa-St. Lawrence conference champions, will commence practice for the 1963 season on Saturday, August 31 at 10:30 a.m., on the campus gridiron.

Coach Jack Kennedy will start the season without many of the stars who brought Loyola the combined east-west O.S.L. championship for the first time last year. The Warriors lost sixteen players through graduation, notably fullback Pete Howlett, tackles Bob Bourgault, Moe Colson and Irv Narvey, and end Larry Cullen.

The Warriors are fortunate in having two top-notch quarterbacks on hand to direct the attack this year. Mike Kostin will be returning for his final year of college ball, while Bernie Young will be back with the team after a season with the Chomedey Vikings.

Coach Kennedy has indicated that he may use one of these candidates as either an offensive halfback or a defensive corner. Jim Newman, Paul St. Georges and George Poirier will round out the offensive backfield.

Bobwhite quail are found in small coveys.

And more so than ever we are ready to serve you with all classroom requirements so that you need not waste precious time on matters pertaining to school supplies.
