City's Leadership Is Lost In October As Sales Decrease

Ten Deals Recorded During Month by Official Board Involve Only $46,792 — Verdun Leads Suburban Municipalities With $173,254 For 25 Sales — Outremont Places Second — City Leads For Year, However

Real estate transactions in Westmount during the month of October totalled only 10, involving a total of $46,792, it is shown in figures issued by the Montreal Real Estate Board. This places the city third among the suburban municipalities, being led by Verdun, whose 25 sales involved a total of $173,254.

For the first ten months of the year, Westmount leads the suburban municipalities, her 163 sales for $1,888,445 leading by $683,503 Outremont's 181 sales for $1,194,943, which placed that community second. Verdun comes third with 202 sales totalling $910,841.

Westmount's contribution of $1,888,445 is nearly thirty percent of the total amount of $6,346,859 involved in the 1635 sales recorded by all the suburban municipalities during the first ten months of the year. Smallest contributor is Saraguay, with one sale for $2200.

Many Mourn Railwayman Dead Aged 77

Napoleon Faille, Known As "Nap Foy", Served on C.N.R. Massena Line For Many Years

Many friends and former associates in railway work gathered Monday at St. Leo's Church to pay final tribute to Napoleon Faille, who died Thursday morning at the age of 77. Mr. Faille, who saw 48 years of continuous service on the Grand Trunk and Canadian Railways, was known as "Nap Foy" to thousands of travellers.

He started his railway career in 1883 as a brakeman, and was made a conductor three years later. In 1912 he was made station master at Bonaventure, but left that position a year later to get back into active service. He retired in 1931. Mr. Faille held many important offices in the Order of Railroad Conductors. Most of his running service was between here and Massena, New York.

Of his four surviving sons, Henry is following in his footsteps as a conductor and George is in the office of the auditor of accounts. Another son, who died some time ago, had been in railway service, and his nephew, Joseph Faille, is a conductor. Two other sons, Arthur and Albert, survive, as well as six daughters: Mrs. J. L. Bourbonniere, Mrs. C. P. Bourbonniere, Mrs. P. E. LeRoux, Mrs. J. A. Gagnon, Mrs. A. Beaudoin and Miss Ernestine Faille. Mrs. Faille died four years ago.

C.C.F. HEARD MARSH HERE LAST NIGHT

Professor Leonard Marsh addressed the Westmount Co-operative Commonwealth Federation last night at 127 Abbott avenue, taking as his subject "The Technique of Social Planning."

Mr. David Lewis, national secretary of the Federation, will come from Ottawa, to address the second meeting of the Club on December 16th in Victoria Hall.

Brotherhood Passes 41st Anniversary

Calvary Church Body Was First of Original Group Now in Montreal Federation

Rev. Gordon Burgoyne was the guest speaker Sunday at the weekly meeting of the Calvary Men's Own Brotherhood. The gathering took the form of an anniversary celebration, the branch being established just forty one years ago. It is the original branch of the group now included under the Montreal Federation of Brotherhoods.

In his address, Mr. Burgoyne said that he agreed with the words of H. G. Wells when he wrote that there was "no more evil thing in the present world than race prejudice. It is the worst single thing in life now. It justifies and holds together more baseless cruelty and abomination than any other thing." The people who are today turning the world into a shambles had no use for the healthy training given by the Boy Scout organization but preferred to have their children learn to use the bayonet, added the speaker, who took as his subject "If the World Suddenly Met Jesus." He wondered what the founder of Christianity would say of the administration of relief in Montreal when poverty stricken mothers were turned away from the dole and their children allowed to grow up without proper nutrition.

RESIDENT BEREAVED BY SISTER'S DEATH

Mrs. W. E. Mowat of this city was bereaved Sunday by the death in Larchmont, New York, of her sister, Mrs. A. J. Witham, a former Montreal resident. She died following a long illness.

She was the former Alice Maude Stewart. A Norman Stewart, J. Bruce Stewart and P. Douglas Stewart of Montreal are brothers.

Burial was made Wednesday at Larchmont.

Parliamentarian And Family In Mishap

Although injuries were of a minor nature, R. S. White, M.P. for Westmount, Mrs. White and Percy Barclay, brother of Mrs. White, all of 465 Roslyn avenue, were shaken up following an accident at the corner of Claremont and Sherbrooke street on Saturday night.

It was when the trio elected to cross Sherbrooke street in order to catch an east-bound tramway car that a vehicle, driven by a Mr. Futvoye, collided with the trio. Mr. Barclay, following the accident complained of a strained back and R. S. White suffered a slight injury to his eye.

Following the incident Futvoye reported the accident to N.D.G. Police station No. 23 but officers on duty, after delving into the records and searching maps, discovered that the particular spot where the accident occurred was not in their district. Futvoye returned to the scene of the accident and there gave a Westmount policeman the particulars.

MODERN PIONEERS TO RE-ENACT 3000-MILE TREK

Pioneer plainsmen thought their journeys hazardous, but how about the dangers of whizzing autos and carbon monoxide fumes which will confront 36 doughty "modern pioneers" when they accompany the covered wagon and ox team, shown above, in a re-enactment of the 3000-mile trek of Northwest Territory settlers from Ipswich, Mass., to Marietta, O., and through the other five states of the Northwest Territory? Dressed in conkskin cap, leather clothing and carrying powder horns, the members of the 1937 caravan will be on the road for several months, starting Dec. 3. Their wagon is an exact duplicate of the Conestoga wagons used by the original caravan. Some of the iron parts are even from the early caravan vehicles.

Tax Arrears Are Reduced By $14,000 In October

During October, Westmount succeeded in reducing the amount of delinquent taxes owing the city by $14,000, according to figures issued by the Montreal Metropolitan Commission. The amount now due the city from tardy taxpayers is $331,000, as against $345,000 at the end of September.

Outremont led the group of solvent municipalities under the jurisdiction of the Commission by reducing her tax arrears $17,000, from $233,000 to $216,000. Verdun placed third, with an $11,000 reduction from $169,000.

A drop of $76,000 in tax dues during October was reported by the eleven solvent municipalities under the Commission's rule, the figure now standing at $1,101,000. The three bankrupt towns of Ville St. Michel, Pointe aux Trembles and Montreal North reduced their arrears by $4,000 in the same period.

All but one of the 14 municipalities contributed to the improvement for the month, Hampstead's position being unchanged.

In the autonomous group, aggregate percentage of tax arrears to current expenditures was cut from 16 to 15.1 for the month of October, as compared with 15.2 on October 31, 1936.

Individual arrears at end of October as compared with September 30, were:

Town of Mount Royal, $18,000 against $28,000; Montreal East, $23,000 against $24,000; Verdun, $158,000 against $169,000; Hampstead, $17,000 unchanged; Montreal West, $38,000 against $42,000; Westmount $331,000 against $345,000; Outremont, $216,000 against $233,000; Lachine, $149,000 against $157,000; Ville St. Pierre, $26,000 against $27,000; Ville LaSalle, $52,000 against $58,000; Ville St. Laurent, $73,000 against $77,000; Pointe aux Trembles, $35,000 against $36,000 and $36,000 on October 31, 1936; Montreal North $45,000 against $50,000 and $43,000 last year; and Ville St. Michel, $18,000 against $19,000 and $29,000 in 1936.

DISCUSS DIAMONDS AT ST. MATTHIAS'

The fascination of rare jewels, especially diamonds, will be the subject of a talk to be given by Mr. Lovell Baker, of Henry Birks Ltd., to the regular meeting of the Young People's Association of St. Matthias' Church, on Monday, at 8.30.

Next Year's Obligations Will Require $1,342,274 — Excess of Estimated Income Over Expenditures to be $2,971 — Interest and Sinking Fund Need $441,850

Submitted to council at the regular meeting Monday evening, Westmount's budget for 1938 provides for a surplus of $2,971, without raising the present assessment of 13 mills on the dollar.

$1,342,274 will be required to meet obligations during the coming year, it is estimated. This will be spent as follows, according to Arthur F. Bell, secretary-treasurer—finance and municipal buildings, $144,666; interest and sinking fund, $441,850; contingencies, $15,000; City Hall, $5,732; Victoria Hall, $13,210; street lighting, $72,800; roads and scavenging, $280,545; police, $94,217; fire, $98,667; health, $30,328; unemployment relief, $33,495.

This money is to be provided by the tax of 13 mills on immovable property valued at $67,210,525, amounting to $873,520; by local improvement and frontage taxes, $158,000; by the electric light department, for interest and sinking fund $29,525; by income and sales tax, $130,000; by the City of Montreal, $20,000; by estimated revenue from business taxes, licenses, fines, Westmount Athletic Grounds, etc., $108,000; by Victoria Hall, $14,000; and by various other sources, $13,600.

Council announced that, according to provincial statute, the school tax will remain at 10 mills on all immovable property belonging to Protestant and other non-Catholic property owners who are not corporations on the neutral panel. The neutral panel rate will be 12 mills.

First reading was given to an amendment to the traffic by-law creating additional spaces where parking will be forbidden. Approval was given to the purchase of an automobile, equipped with a radio receiving set and fire extinguishing equipment, for Deputy Chief Burris.

The library committee announced that the sum of $100 had been secured from an anonymous donor for the purchase of technical books. Mayor Jenkins, in moving the Council's thanks expressed the hope that others would follow this example.

Secretary-treasurer Bell reported that 37 official tributes had been placed on the Cenotaph at the Remembrance Day services on November 14th.

It was announced about two months ago that consolidation of taxes would be granted to any resident of the city who would care to apply to Council for such privilege; to date none has appeared to ask this.

In discussing Rotary work, Mr. Cayford suggested that the members encourage more addresses from guest speakers on this subject.

Morals Affected By Freedom Says Noted Feminist Writer

The prospects of morality for the future depend upon the result of the present conflict between dictatorship and democracy, declared Vera Brittain, prominent feminist and writer, in speaking on "Youth, Morals and Marriage in the Modern World" at Victoria Hall Sunday evening under the auspices of the People's Forum.

Miss Brittain traced the causes and effects of post-war morality, and spoke briefly on the liberation of women from old restrictions, and the liberation of thought and speech from the old traditions.

Under Fascism, however, there was no freedom of speech or opinion, so that women were forced back into the home and regarded by men as child-producing machines to make soldiers for the next war instead of as companions and mates, said Miss Brittain.

Despite the clerical condemnation of the age, Miss Brittain said, she felt they had gone forward. Tragedy as the age had been, with the Great War and the series of international catastrophes which made them feel they should never have had any children because of the future, they must face the present period was better than the past for women.

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1937

TOM SAWYER, COMMUNIST

The length to which some nations are carrying this anti-Communist drive would be funny if the consequences to liberty-loving people were not so serious. For instance, in the Argentine the Government has banned from sale the universally-loved story of boy life "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" on the ground that it is "subversive Communist propaganda."

You laugh at that, but in Victoria Hall, Westmount, last week, nine hundred people heard Gratton O'Leary and R. L. Calder warn that the anti-Communist drive in Quebec might go to extremes far beyond the padlocking of leftist papers and bookshops. The padlock law, as drafted, puts unlimited power into the hands of the Attorney-General. A shop or a home can, under the law, be raided and cleaned out on no more evidence than malicious, anonymous and false information furnished the Attorney-General, and there is no recourse for damages. The law could conceivably be applied on no more evidence than "backstage" secret denunciations; the "planting" of evidence by the police could result in the padlocking of the homes and meeting places of the enemies of the administration even if they were anti-Communist.

Most people in Quebec have confidence that the Duplessis administration will not abuse the power it has placed in its own hands, but that does not make the law any more just or infringe any the less on the liberty of assembly which is the right of everyone under the Union Jack and which is, indeed the very strength of British democracy.

SHOP EARLY

In the expectation that the coming Christmas season will be one of the biggest on record, from a business viewpoint, local business men have put their Christmas lines on display somewhat earlier than usual. This information is given for the benefit of those who believe in doing the most of their Christmas shopping in advance of the rush of the last few days when stocks are depleted and selection limited. Just now, local merchants are carrying full lines, and selection, and quality is better than it will be as Christmas draws nearer.

THE FORUM

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

Conducted by Howard S. Ross, K.C.

NOTE:—The opinions expressed in these columns are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them. They are published for their general interest, variety and originality of treatment.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States is one of the most colorful, forceful, compelling personalities I have ever met. I was fortunate to see him in action the latter part of April at one of his semi-weekly White House press conferences. One might have expected, after five years of as crushing a governmental burden as was ever borne by any leader, to see a man with worn, frazzled nerves. On the contrary, he seemed vitally alive and in love with his job. He seems to have thrived on work and worry. Life and government seemed to him a battle of wits, of enthusiastic effort to get on with the job, to get something done. His heart seemed to throb with determination to ease the lot of the great masses of his countrymen, still reeling from the shock of the depression years. He has displayed scant respect for precedent, especially when he felt that by trying something new he could improve conditions. Of course he has made mistakes; any man who does things, makes mistakes; but surely it is better to have tried and failed than never to have tried at all. Widely known simply as "F.D.," Mr. Roosevelt's hold on the common people of the States is little short of spectacular. Perhaps no leader anywhere has been so successful in putting across his strong, vivid personality on the radio as has Mr. Roosevelt and his fireside radio talks have brought him into closer contact with the people than any previous president. Dynamic Mr. Roosevelt undoubtedly will go down in history as one of the greatest Presidents the States ever had. Austin F. Cross—Ottawa Citizen.

The rural life of Ontario is sinking to a lower and lower level," declared R. J. Deachman, Liberal member of Parliament for North Huron, at a weekly meeting of Ottawa Kiwanis Club which was attended by a number of Montreal Kiwanians including President Ray Churchill.

Citing his own community as an example, Mr. Deachman pointed out that when he was a youth there were six families settled on the mile and a quarter tract of land with which he was associated. "Now there are only three families. Two houses and two barns have been burned and never rebuilt."

Mr. Deachman expressed the opinion that the average age of farm inhabitants is today 20 years older than in his day. "This is simply because the youth is leaving the farm and when an industry loses its youth, that industry is lost," he added.

The farmer, on whose prosperity that of the whole Dominion depends, is burdened with higher capital cost than manufacturers, the speaker continued, simply "because he cannot apply the mass production methods." Farmers are forced to pay higher interest rates with the result that they cannot borrow money in sufficient quantities. To add to the general distress, Mr. Deachman said that the soil on the farms has worn out and the health of farmers has declined in the past few years.

The cause for all this, it was stated, is that the farmer unlike his manufacturing counterpart, is forced to deal in the open market where he has to obey the price dictates of world competition. Labor shortage in farm communities is another important factor.

One of the remedies for this evil is to "restore some of the old competition to industry." If this is not done, the present system of government support for the farmers will eventually "lead us into the socialist or fascist state."

Recent publications are showing that Arabia today remains the real home of slavery with at least 1,500,000 slaves, including a large proportion of blacks from the Sudan and Abyssinia. Although the number of slaves in China is supposed to reach two million, it is held that slavery in Arabia is a much greater extent, bears the characteristics of the classical forms of slave trade. Slaves are openly bought and sold, the markets for women of beauty being specially conducted and developed. A recent edict of Ibn Saoud, king of Saudi Arabia, forbids the importation of slaves by sea, and even by land. Yet this writ does not reach very far. Children born of slaves are slaves themselves, and more than one mother is faced with the tragedy of seeing her daughters sold away while her sons are not infrequently doctored to serve as eunuchs.

We will not solve our social, economic and religious problems until we first solve our home problems.—J. F. Wright, D.C.S.

Socialized Medicine Alarms Doctors of Washington D.C. Physicians hereabouts wear a worried look and all on account of the growing prospects of socialized medicine. The Employees Medical Service organization in the Home Loan Bank administration already claims 1000 members out of a total of 2000 employees. For $2.20 a month, the plan offers a member a medical care, three weeks hospitalization per year, minor operations for $3.30 per month the members of his immediate families receive the benefits thus offered. Clinical headquarters have been secured and a medical director selected. A staff of five or six physicians and perhaps ten attendants will be on call. When it is remembered that there are in Washington approximately 110,000 federal employees, with a total including dependents of at least three times that number, the apprehension among the medical fraternity is not surprising.

What will it grow into is a question these men, particularly the younger ones, are asking. The answer is not at hand.—Rev. W. S. Abernethy of Washington.

Dr. A. S. Allen

Will Address
Y.M.C.C. Group

What is going on in China and why? What has Japan in the back of her mind? What does it mean to the White Race? These questions will be answered by Dr. A. Stewart Allen at the meeting of the Young Men's Canadian Club in Queen's Hotel on Monday evening.

Dr. Allen, whose subject will be "Facts and Factors in Sino-Japanese Conflict," is a native of British Columbia and a graduate in medicine of McGill University, and has been superintendent of Kaifeng Hospital, Kaifeng, China, since 1929.

Kaifeng is close to the centre of hostilities, and Dr. Allen, as an eye witness, has the knowledge and background to give first-hand information about this tremendously important panorama which is unfolding in the Far East.

Dr. Allen is presently on furlough in Montreal and taking post graduate studies, specializing in chest surgery, under Dr. E. W. Archibald. The Young Men's Canadian Club are indeed fortunate in having such an authority to address them on this engrossing subject.

Ray H. Bissell will preside and introduce the speaker.

MELVILLE CHURCH NOTES

At the Sunday morning service, the minister, the Rev. Wm. Orr Mulligan, will preach on one of the problems which confronts the Christian church everywhere, that of changing its enemies into its friends and advocates. He will use the Conversion of St. Paul as a basis.

In the evening, Mr. Mulligan, will deal with the issue of Communism. Was Jesus a Communist? Were not the Apostles Communists? (Read the Acts, Chap. 4) Is Communism in Canada confined only to Quebec? Or is Quebec the only province in Canada courageous enough to deal with it? Is not the local agitation an endeavor to draw attention away from other evils? Is the present policy the right one in dealing with the problem? What is the relation of Christianity to Communism? Why the bitter antagonism in some places? Young people especially, are invited to this service.

On Tuesday evening, St. Andrew's Night, there will be the annual reception on this occasion by the managers. All members of Melville and their friends are invited. As this gathering has a reputation for a "truly good time was spent by all present," plans are that the one of 1937 will be the best ever.

BOOK REVIEW

by HOWARD S. ROSS

STILL MORE LETTERS

By Mrs. Kate Crane-Gartz
Published by Mary Craig Sinclair, Station A, Pasadena, California. Price $1.00.

This is the 6th volume of letters of protest of Mrs. Gartz, who thought that each would be the last. "I did not believe," she said, "that men in control of public affairs could continue to tolerate the hideous and unnecessary suffering of the masses of humanity, once they had it pointed out to them that there was a way to change these things. How can they endure such a world? I marvel how the few can be happy in luxury, at the expense of the many in frightful misery all around them."

Mrs. Crane-Gartz is of the well-known Crane family of Chicago. Her interest in social reform while she was yet in her girlhood and used to visit her father's big factory in Chicago. When she saw women working there that she might live without working, she wondered how she would feel if their positions were reversed. Herein is the explanation of the now world-circulated "open letters" which she addresses to all classes and conditions of those who lead out employment and government to the poor, and especially to those who persecute under the forms of law the champions of a better social order whether she agrees with the social formulas of these propagandists or not. In one of her letters declining the request of many of her friends that she run for the office of Governor of California she wrote, "Not that I could not improve on many of the late incumbents, if I had my way. When I observe our capitalist society, I find myself wishing to be a dictator, a benevolent one, of course and make the fur fly in all directions. I would not be afraid of my constituents, nor of doing the right thing for fear of the wrong people."

In a letter entitled, "Talk of Peace, Act for War," she wrote: "There is no greater stupidity in the minds of our leaders, than the idea of any of armaments to settle disputes between man and man."

"Their talk is childish. We have spent millions, yes billions, on buildings to talk in, and where are we today? We have settled nothing. World affairs are more chaotic than ever before, and the daily newspapers keep us posted about riots, revolutions and world-wide discontent. Yet we go blindly on, hoping for a better day, but doing nothing to avert a catastrophe that is already at the door of every capitalist country."

Let us spend these million, yes billions, for security, at all times and under all conditions. The letters are intensely stimulating and reveal throughout a great love for humanity.

"Y.W." Story Is Told Here

Miss D. Aiken, Girls' Work Secretary, Addressed Local Girls' Hi-Y Group Thursday

The origin and progress of the Young Women's Christian Association was outlined Thursday evening before members of the Westmount Girls' Hi-Y Club at their regular weekly meeting in the local 'Y' by Miss D. Aiken, Girls' Work Secretary of the former organization.

The Y.W.C.A. was started sixty four years ago, she said, and since then its progress had more than vindicated its existence.

Miss Aiken showed some films depicting scenes at the Y.W.C.A. camp in which a number of Westmount Hi-Y girls appeared.

She was introduced by Dorothy Richardson and thanked by Wendy Taylor. A short sing song, with solos and duets, was held, Lucille Christmas presiding at the piano.

Chamber Music Concert Well Rendered

Under the direction of Harry Norris, an excellent recital was given Tuesday evening in the Windsor Hotel's Prince of Wales Salon before members and friends of the Friends of Chamber Music Society. The quartet, consisting of Mr. Norris, Joan Archibald, Norman Herschorn and Victor Schenker, did excellent work with a number of selections that, while falling well in the realm of chamber music, were of considerable difficulty.

Beethoven's somewhat tedious quartet in C major, opus 59 No. 3 was done well, the four instruments blending well to produce a clear tone very necessary in certain parts of the work. Mr. Joseph Greenstone joined the four to play second viola in Mozart's String Quartet in D minor.

The next meeting will be held December 14th.

Freak Smash Turns Over Automobile

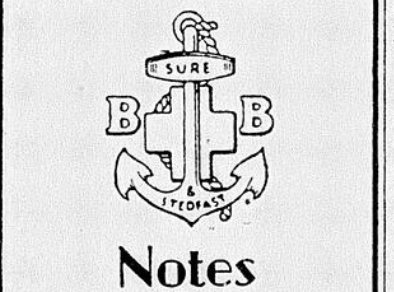

Car Gets Out of Control When Front Springs Break Suddenly—Driver Taken to Hospital

A freak motor accident occurred Sunday afternoon shortly after 1.30 when the front springs on a car driven by Louis Danis, 6522 Clark street, Montreal, suddenly gave way and caused the vehicle to turn over.

The auto had been proceeding west on Sherbrooke street, near the corner of Wood, according to Danis, when suddenly the front springs broke, causing him to lose control of the vehicle. The car turned over, causing damage to the roof, windows, and both right mudguards.

Danis was taken to the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital in police car No. 37. First aid was rendered by Dr. Rothwell, who found the victim to have suffered scratches to his head and a bruised leg.

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY

Do your Christmas Shopping early.

Probably nowhere in the pre-Christmas scene is there a more-used phrase and yet seldom indeed are the purchasers in possession of the true facts as to why they should shop early.

The average citizen would immediately think of the first reason. The selections are better the earlier you shop.

But there are other reasons.

It gives the merchant a

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

MAKE THE GOOD ONES BIG

Enlarging enables you to vary your print size. When you get a good shot like this, have it enlarged

SUMMER is about over and by now you should have a drawer full of prints—pictures of week-end outings and the vacation tour, sunsets and maybe seashores, the family's younger generation in sunbaths or bathing suits, capering about the lawn spray or digging furiously in a sandpile; all sorts of pictures rich with memories of a grand season.

The question now is—what are you going to do about them? Let them lie loose in the drawer where nobody will see them? Or, will you fix them up to be seen as pictures should be?

The least you can do is mount them in an album so they won't be lost. And if you have some really good ones, you might try your hand at a "summer book," edited just as the modern picture magazines are.

Have you ever studied these magazines and wondered why their pages are so interesting? Have you wondered why your own snapshots do not have the same snap and flash? It's really very simple—a matter of size as much as anything else. When an art editor gets a picture that is especially good, he trims it down to include just the part he wants. Then he has it enlarged and "splashes" it over a whole magazine page, maybe two pages. Other pictures, not as good, are used in smaller size and the big "splash" picture carries them along.

Start separating your pictures into related groups. One group, for instance, could be the baby at the sandpile. There is that grand shot of him, intent on pouring sand out of a bucket half as big as he is, with the sun making a golden halo about his head and his little mouth pursed in utter concentration. Don't keep it small, for then you can barely see the details that are so dear. "Splash" it over a whole album page. If you don't do your own enlarging, your photographer can do the work for you. Then take your other pictures of baby and sandpile and arrange them informally on the opposite album page.

With this method, you can produce layouts that have the real professional touch. Be hard-boiled in your editing. Don't be afraid to trim away parts of a picture. Use four strips of white card in planning the "trim" and shift them about like a frame over the picture until it is limited to just the part you want. Then have just that part enlarged. Nearly all good pictures are better for such trimming and it has brought many a dull photograph to life.

Nuts Win Place On Daily Menu In Search For Lower Food Costs

Nuts have graduated from holiday goodies into all year sources of pleasure and protein. Right now, with meat sky high, they take on extra domestic importance because they can materially help to keep the family protein needs within the average food allowance.

Nuts are a highly concentrated form of protein and should not be eaten in too large amounts. They

Sunday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, dry corn cereal, country sausage with apple rings, whole wheat muffins, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Fruit cup, roast duckling, browned potatoes, buttered white onions, cranberry jelly, endive salad, plantation pudding, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Hot tomato bouillon in cups, cream cheese and herbs spread, Georgia nut bread, preserved fruit, tea, cocoa.

may be substituted for either meat or fish, but should never be used in place of eggs or milk. Nuts are usually low in mineral salts and vitamins, and therefore are more valuable when served with fruits and vegetables.

How About Peanut Butter? Remember the old school lunch-room favorite—peanut butter? Well, today it is even more important, for it can take the place of expensive meat. Peanuts can also be pulverized and mixed with cream cheese and a little minced parsley for an all-round valuable luncheon spread. Rolled into balls and served with Green salad, this combination is of great food value.

Besides the low-cost peanut, walnuts, almonds and pecans are the most commonly grown nuts in the United States. Scan your favorite cook book for recipes using nuts and thereby cut down your protein costs and at the same time add variety and flavor to your family menus.

According to Sheila Hibben, whose Butterscotch pudding with nuts and whipped cream is far more than a quick and pleasant dessert. It provides a lot of food and the nuts provide first class protein. With soaring meat prices, any other protein, provided it is low in cost, is an important item on the menu.

National Cookbook, though not new, still remains one of the best of our kitchen Americana, Georgia under-stands what to do with pecans.

Georgia Nut Bread
(1 large loaf)

Two cups finely chopped pecan meats, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 2-2 3 cups flour, 1 egg, 2 teaspoons baking powder.

Mix together the flour, sugar, salt and milk. Add unbeaten egg, baking powder and pecans. Set in warm place to rise for 20 minutes. Grease a loaf tin, then pour in the bread batter. Bake in moderate hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 1 hour. Do not slice until cold.

Plantation Pudding
(6 to 8 servings)

One and one-half cups pastry flour, 3 teaspoons tartaric baking powder, 2-3 cup sugar, 1-4 teaspoon each cloves, cinnamon and allspice, 1-3 cup orange juice, 1-4 cup melted butter, 1 egg, 1-2 cup warm mashed sweet potato, 1-3 cup seeded raisins, 1-3 cup chopped pecans, 1-1-2 ounces unsweetened chocolate, grated, (not melted).

Sift together dry ingredients; mix together orange juice, melted butter and well beaten egg; add to dry ingredients; mix well. Add sweet potato and mix thoroughly; add raisins and nuts; fold in grated chocolate last. Put into large, well greased mould and steam two and one-half hours. Serve warm with thin cream slightly sweetened and flavored with nutmeg.

Peanut Butterscotch Pudding
(4 to 6 servings)

One package butterscotch arrow-root pudding, 2 cups milk, 3 tablespoons chopped salted peanuts.

Mix butterscotch pudding and milk. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Remove from fire; add chopped peanuts. Pour into mold or sherbet glasses and chill. Serve plain or with sweetened whipped cream.

Keeping Up Appearances

By "GWENNE"

Did you ever stop to realize just how much the word "beauty" includes? Here are a couple of the most forgotten or least thought about points to think about for a while.

A very important factor is voice, its tone and quality. This of course does not necessarily mean a lovely singing voice as we are not all fortunate enough to be born Pons, Moores or MacDonnells, but a softly spoken voice is important to the modern Miss.

You will no doubt have noticed how much easier it is to listen to a low soft voice rather than a person who shrieks in order to be heard at the bridge or dinner table.

Even though you are not an excellent singer—try singing a couple of tunes popular or old ballads every day in your very best singing voice. When you come to a note that sounds a little harsh, sing it over and over, trying to improve it each time. This is most helpful to the speaking voice.

Something else included in the beauty sphere is the way in which you use your hands. How often do we notice the way people grasp at things in a clumsy, awkward manner. Purse, books, parcels and umbrellas are held so stiffly whereas they would be quite secure if held lightly but firmly in the hand, giving a much better appearance.

The way in which you hand things to a person is important, too. Don't thrust things at them but pass the object to them firmly with the palm upturned to give a nice line to the whole hand.

Sitting position is another bother in that we foolishly think that the most awkward position is fall or drop into a chair but walk really the most comfortable. Don't up to it and ease into it gracefully. Once seated, if you must cross your legs (no longer considered bad form) cross them above the knee so as not to look bulky above the ankles.

If you don't cross them, however, place one foot on the floor

Bunny Writes Of Fashions To Betty

Dear Betty:—

With Christmas almost upon us we naturally start to think of gifts. To get the best that the shopkeepers have to offer, doing your Christmas shopping now. Don't wait until the last few days to make up your list, expecting to get everything you want, because this year it won't be done. Everybody is buying for the holidays right now. Earlier shopping has its good points; for one thing you are always sure of getting what you want. Many of the stores have organized a shopping service whereby you leave your list with them and they will do your shopping for you and wrap the various gifts for a nominal charge.

I saw an ideal gift your mother would like. It's an angora wool dressing gown. Made on princess lines it has squared shoulders and a gayly coloured girdle at the waist-line. These gowns are made in pastel shades that are very youthful for the more mature person. One big thing in their favour is the fact that they are washable. Just wash them the same way you would wash a sweater or other woollen article, (if you add a teaspoon of glycerine to each quart of water that you rinse the article in you will find that it will retain its softness and colour.

A novel gift for your sister, Jean, is the blue mirrored dressing table set. This set is very compact and does not take up too much room besides being very easy to wrap. It consists of a compartment for facial tissues and a small drawer for handkerchiefs; underneath at each side are two more drawers which may be used for powders or creams. This really makes a very acceptable gift. In front of the other and with the hands resting in your lap with palms upturned, you will be in a comfortable position and will look to your best advantage.

When standing in conversation with someone, don't stand with feet apart, or worse still, first on one foot and then the other. Stand firmly on both feet. This will keep you firm and with more confidence when speaking to another person.

We will discuss the dozen and one other things around which beauty revolves but for the present let's concentrate on the above for a while.

table gift. I think that it is always nice to buy a gift that the person you are giving to, would not buy himself. A well-known English firm is putting out some very neat cosmetic sets consisting of powders, creams, bath salts, and perfumes, and all these sets can be obtained in different odours and powders to suit every complexion. Of course there is always that old standby, stockings, which make an admirable gift for friends who are in the business world, that is one thing they never can have too many of. I am sure you will find excellent selections both in colour and quality this year, both in day time or evening hose. The black-heel stockings make the ideal gift for the stay at home girl who goes to teas and luncheons. They are quite the vogue for afternoon wear just now.

With the Book Fair now in full swing, you should be able to get a very nice assortment of better books, both for children and the strong silent men, whose gifts are always a great source of worry. Buying gifts for the males of the family is a very difficult task. If you buy your brother a tie or a pair of socks, he is sure to say that the colours are too loud or that they are too dull. Women have not yet been able to reach the happy-medium in that line yet. But give them time. My advice to you is to start looking and buying your gifts for the gentlemen now because they take more time to buy than anything else.

For gifts that have to be mailed be sure to pack them well and mail them a few days earlier. Nothing is so bad as a belated Christmas gift. Don't send gifts that are very fragile, because nine times out of ten they will be broken. Help the mailman to enjoy Christmas at home for a change, he will appreciate it more than you realize. Mark all gifts, going across to England "Christmas Presents" otherwise the receiver will have to pay duty on the parcel, which is often times more than the gift.

The store-keepers are all ready for you now, so don't be afraid of shopping too early. If you do this you will find that you will get much better service too, which is always a great help, whereas if you wait till the last few days you find the clerks all tired out, not capable of giving you the proper attention, which only goes to make everybody concerned miserable and cross.

Yours as ever,
BUNNY.

HIJACKERS PLAN NEW YEAR DANCE

Group Will Meet on Monday to Discuss Further Details—Third Meeting Held Recently

The third meeting of the season of Hijackers Club was held recently and took the form of a luncheon meeting, Tom Lewis for the third successive term, president of the Club, was in the chair and opened the proceedings with a report of last season's activities. A committee of ways and means was appointed to take charge of arrangements for the annual New Year's Dance. John Peacock was invited to handle a number of organizing matters.

The President announced that Blake Sewell has been signed up to play at the New Year's Eve party.

The meeting was brought to a close and the next date of meeting was set for Monday November 29th at which time all members are urged to be present.

Smith Pupils' Good Concert

On Thursday evening of last week, in the ballroom of the Ritz Carlton, a very successful concert was given before a large audience by Miss Catherine H. Smith's pupils. The Westmount Rhythm Band, in costume, marched, sang, and performed their band pieces and eurythmics both musically and with precision. Solos and two piano pieces followed, also violin selections by Mr. Larche Paul, which were greatly appreciated. Period pieces, played in costume and ending in a final tableau, to music, brought the concert to a close. The pupils evinced much talent and played with good tone throughout.

The following pupils took part: the Misses Celia Benett, Amy Fowler, Martha Spiney, Jane Benett, Caroline Rigby, Audrey Speirs, Margaret Johnson, Harriet Anderson, Betty Benett, Helen Houston, Corinne Bruce, Ann McFarlane, Alice Benett, Marian MacMillan, Peggy MacMillan, Adele Robertson, Betty Cooper, Alma McFarlane, Mary Gibb, and Masters Bill Raymond, Michael Sutherland, Bart Sutherland, Rodney Wray, Alec Anderson and Fred Roney.

SILVER SCREEN SNAPSHOTS

OF COMEDY
AND DRAMAParade Of Personalities In
"You Can't Have Everything"

Spotlighting a swiftly paced parade of outstanding entertainment personalities such as has been seldom seen on the screen, Twentieth Century-Fox offers a grand festival of top-notch sing-song musical comedy in "You Can't Have Everything," which opened Wednesday at the Westmount to play until Saturday, starting Sunday at the Seville.

Featuring Alice Faye, lilted to new hi-de-heights; the Ritz Brothers, triple threats to gloom; Don Ameche, screen heart-throb and star of radio's biggest show; Charles Winninger, radio's "Cap'n Henry"; Louise Hovick, bringing a new personality to the screen; Rubinoff and his violin; and Tony Martin, romantic raver of the airwaves, Darryl F. Zanuck's newest hit surpasses his famous "Sing, Baby, Sing," "One In A Million," "On The Avenue," "Wake Up and Live" and other musical smashes.

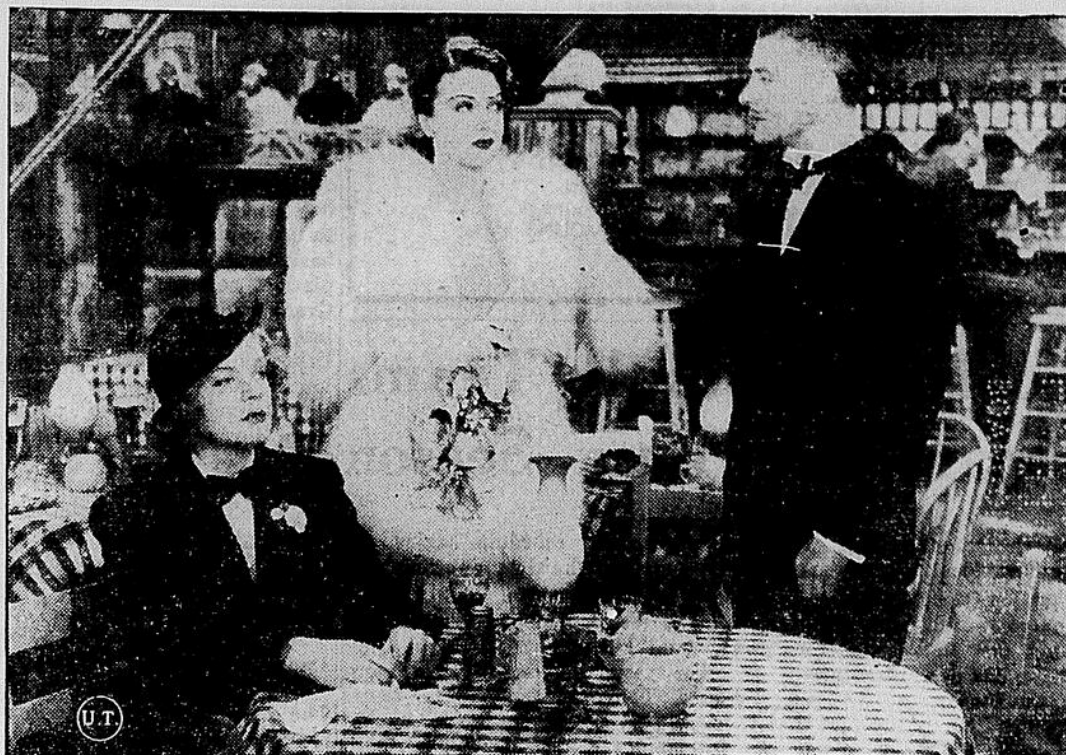

Song hits by the ace song-writing team of Mack Gordon and Harry Revel stud the story, which was adapted by Harry Tugend, Jack Yellen and Karl Tunberg from an original by Gregory Ratoff.

Alice Faye, who was selected by Irving Berlin and Cole Porter as Hollywood's best song-plugger, plays a singing playright whose stark, serious tragic masterpiece is adapted by the Ritz Brothers into a howling farce. Because she thinks Don Ameche has had a hand in this blasphemous act, Alice puts the kibosh on his romantic ideas, only to relent in subsequent scenes.

Liberally interspersed with a variety of entertainment from beginning to end, the story finally unites Alice and Don despite attempts of Louise Hovick to get Ameche for herself. Other amusement experts in the cast include Arthur Treacher, one lo-n-g laugh; Phyllis Brooks, sweetest of tomorrow's stars; Tip, Tap and Toe, rhythmic as rain on the roof; Louis Prima and his band, the trumpet king at his hottest; and Tyler Brooke.

To Norman Taurog, the director, goes much credit for a well-rounded production with its smooth and imperceptible transitions from one variety spot to another. Laurence Schwab served as associate producer.

IN SPLENDID MUSICAL COMEDY ROMANCE

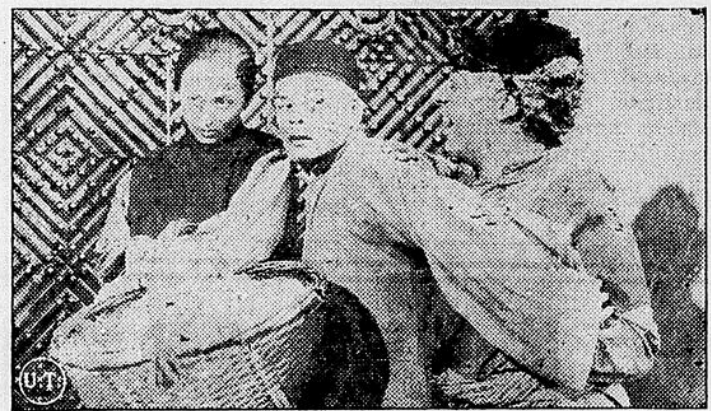

Beautiful Alice Faye, Louise Hovick and Don Ameche together in a scene from "You Can't Have Everything," in which the Ritz Brothers have featured roles, is now playing at the Westmount until Saturday, opening on Sunday for three days at the Seville United Theatre.

KENNY BAKER AT THE WESTMOUNT

Kenny Baker, popular radio star is seen with a featured feminine player from "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air," which was written by the author of "Mr. Deeds," opening a three day engagement at the Westmount on Sunday.

IN PEARL BUCK'S DRAMA

Luise Rainer and Mr. Paul Muni in a scene from "The Good Earth," which is now playing at the Monkland until Saturday night, opening a three day engagement at the Snowdon on Sunday.

California, at thirteen he trekked across the continent with his mother and arrived in Philadelphia just in time to win a competition under Olga Samaroff at the Philadelphia Conservatory.

He made his debut three years ago under Stokowski with the famed Philadelphia orchestra, and has appeared again with them since. Montrealeers know him for his fiery young interpretations, his wondrous control and technique, his beautiful tone and likeable, modest personality.

His program at the Ritz, will include three sonatas by Scarlatti, the Appassionata Sonata of Beethoven, items by Ravel, Balakirev, Brahms and Chopin.

This will be Eugene List's only Canadian appearance this season, for he returns immediately to New York and more study.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING
The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation inaugurated publication of "News" this week, a handsome and useful addition to CBC press publicity services. Power behind the most popular of current mid-day variety shows is none other than George Temple, one-time favourite of local tuners, who currently produces "The Happy Gang" daily for CBC in Toronto. All accommodation for Wednesday evening's "Community Sing" was absorbed by a willing public several days in advance, and many observers were forced to stand as a packed Columbus Hall sang and swung to the latest ditties. Local listeners who pick up London December 10 will hear the Hart House String Quartet in a special BBC short wave transmission dedicated to dial-twisters in this zone.

DIAL DELIRIUM
Britain entered the international radio scene this week with announcement at London that Davenport would henceforth broadcast short-wave in foreign languages, with special programs in Spanish and Arabic dedicated to listeners in South America and the Far East. The Davenport announcement adds that... news broadcasts will be straight news, and not the sort of propaganda which goes out from many foreign countries. British television, incidentally, took on new life several days back with foreign reception of the televised Crystal Palace motor races. The transmission was by means of radio link, signals radiated from a mobile transmitter being picked up at Alexandria Palace Television Headquarters and re-transmitted for public reception.

KILOCYCLE CHATTER
"Old Cowboy" was sold out twice locally within seven days, ample tribute to the musical genius of Hamilton Kennedy, local composer, whose "Old Faithful" thing that was different from any other voice in the world.

Kenny Baker, of course, plays Dodd. He sings five tuneful melodies written by the highly successful composing team of Harry Warren and Al Dubin.

Kenny is surrounded by a high-class comedy cast for his movie debut. The always delightful Alice Brady plays a goofy opera singer who pursues him with matrimony in mind. Frank McHugh is his audacious and somewhat nutty press-agent. Gertrude Michael is a vamp who has mercenary ambitions toward Kenny. His real romantic interest is Jane Wyman, pretty little starlet who is going places in the movies, and is being groomed for stardom by her studio, Henry O'Neill, Ferris Taylor and Harry Davenport add to the mele.

Alfred E. Green, long famed as a comedy director, guided the making of "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air," which was adapted from the Kelland novel by William Wister Haines and Elaine Ryan.

Rainer to the Monkland screen today in the spectacular filmization of Pearl S. Buck's widely-read novel of Chinese life. This feature opens a three day engagement at the Snowdon on Sunday.

A specially-designed wind speed gauge, constructed at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, was used in a series of intensive experiments by Douglas Shearer, recording director, to ascertain methods of satisfactory recording under different wind velocities on location.

Because of the extensive outdoor filming for "The Good Earth," the wind factor in sound recording assumed a most serious aspect. Under high winds whole sentences were sometimes lost through disturbances of sound vibrations. Various types of windshields were tried unsuccessfully. To end this for all time, Shearer planned a table of recording handling at various wind speeds from one to fifty miles an hour. Worked out electrically and acoustically the table was used by all sound men on location for "The Good Earth."

His new wind gauge is mounted on a tripod for easy transportation, uses a vane like a windmill to point the indicator mechanism into the wind, and measures speed by a torsion balance. Various types of microphones, wind shields and directional handling devices are checked by its use.

Dominion Drama
Festival Plans

The Quebec Regional Committee of the Dominion Drama Festival are looking forward enthusiastically to a local contest, from March 8 to 12, which will be far in advance of those of previous years.

At a meeting held the other evening, Prince Lieven presiding, it was indicated that three 3-act plays would be presented as well as nine plays of one act each. For the first time at the local festival, trophies will be awarded for the best performances by groups, for the best individual performances, and for the best play by a local author. These prizes it is felt, should add greatly to the interest in the contests from the local point of view.

WESTMOUNT HOCKEY TEAM MEETS MCGILL AT FORUM TONIGHT

Local Entry In Montreal Intermediate Loop Fields Strong, Fast Aggregation

Coach Norman Smyth Enthusiastic Over Prowess Shown at Practices—Players Have Had to Hold Work-outs at Midnight on Forum Ice—St. Lambert and N.D.G. Also Clash This Evening

Westmount will play McGill tonight at the Forum in a Montreal Intermediate Hockey League schedule fixture. The local entry has fielded a promising group of players, and the Red and White should have their hands full.

Despite difficulty in getting practice periods, the Westmount team has shown considerable progress. They have swarmed the Forum ice several times at midnight, this being the only hour available—and the late hour seems not to have interfered with their condition. Norman Smyth, who has been retained as coach, has high hopes for the team.

The team to get on the ice tonight will be chosen from among the following, all of whom have attended the practices:—Sid Patterson, formerly in goals for Royals; Harold Maher, probably defence; J. Saunders, Jerry Hartney, the Dusseault brothers; Carly McDonald, last year forward with Villers; Billy Willock and Don Bissell, Doug Merrick; Johnny Phillips, who though a Westmount man formerly played with St. Lambert's; Rolly Loftus, John Pullam, Eric Reid, Henry Phillips, who has been out of town for some time, is expected to return and get into action shortly with

Four Skating Rinks Planned

Four rinks will be operated at the Westmount Athletic grounds this winter, it is announced. Two regulation size hockey rinks (200' x 85') will be provided at the ends of the field, and a large skating rink will be between these two. A special fancy skating rink, for fancy skaters only, will be provided with a thirty-inch high board fence.

The public skating rink will form an encircling rink around this, providing a skate-way fifty five feet wide.

Tickets for men, women and children, with a combination ticket for couples, will be on sale shortly.

Dr. Bobbie Bell To Train 'Y' Coaches

Dr. Bobbie Bell, formerly McGill hockey coach, will meet tonight with coaches of the Y.M.C.A. intermediate hockey teams to set up plans for the year and arrange the teams and league matters. Dr. Bell's famous 'system' of hockey playing will be taught the coaches. The meeting will be held at six o'clock.

Jack Patrick, Marshall LeBeau, Garnet Rogers and Eddie DeWit will coach the teams. Paul Cheese, Jack McCreath, and Greig Harrison will be captains. Another has yet to be chosen.

Junior and Prep teams are being drawn up, and captains and league games will be arranged in a few days.

HI-Y GRADS MEET
Mr. McBroom of The Gazette gave the Grads an interesting talk on Robert Burns, illustrated with coloured slides at the meeting on Monday. Doug Woods gave an encouraging report of the last dance. Mr. Stew Hamilton was in the chair.

Mr. Haston Scott signed up about fifteen members to prepare for putting on "The Cat and the Canary" or some other dramatic production.

"What's the big rush, Mike?"
"Oh, I'm late to me wedding."
"I'm sure it's half over by now."

Local Basketball Teams Prepare For Busy Season

With but one week remaining before the schedule begins the mentors of local cage teams have been striving hard to put finishing touches on their offensive and defensive formations. Starting the season on a high note of enthusiasm, the Westmount basketball teams are not only more numerous than usual but appear to be a little stronger than representatives of other years and should win more than their share of the games played. The only fault to be found in the situation is the fact that there will be three Westmount teams, Westmount Y, Queens Grads and Westmount Amicis, in the intermediate section A race.

Dominion Douglas make their senior league debut Wednesday

PLAN TO ORGANISE REFEREES' BOARD

It is planned by local hockey authorities to form a board of referees, principally for taking charge of games played in the city parks. This will provide a convenient number of competent men from whom to draw a referee for a game, and will eliminate a lot of the last-minute rushing, apparent in former years, to get qualified men.

Anyone interested should get in touch immediately with Norman Smyth at the Athletic Grounds.

HI-Y MEETS MONDAY

Mr. W. A. Buckley addressed the Westmount Hi-Y club on "The Budgeting of one's time" Mr. MacPherson encouraged the group to explore further the possibilities of developing latent musical talents. Stan Dart, past president announced that The Advisory Committee would induct new members Sunday evening at nine. Frank Common presided.

Next week will be Freshman Night.

League Results ---In Advance!

by Jimmy McCormick
Leaving myself open to all sorts of dire happenings that generally fall on the head of the one who figures that he is in the "know" enough to forecast the winner of some fight, baseball race or football game, this writer will attempt to give his ideas on the coming basketball season. In the first place I believe that the McGill Grads will repeat their success of last year and take the Big Seven title again this year. This prediction is made with the reservation that Johnnie Ferraro plays for them throughout the season. The addition of Talpis to the forward line and the year of senior experience helpful to Johnnie Crombie, should make the red team a little stronger than last season, which they certainly will need to be to edge out the youthful Y.M.H.A. team. Abramovich will floor a smooth, fast breaking team that will pack plenty of scoring punch. The first year of senior competition together with the unstoppable Ferraro, are undoubtedly their major obstacles. Nationals appear next best and in the event of a three team play off, should prove strong enough to head off the C.P.R. squad. The new rules, with the centre jump eliminated, should help the railroaders. Their main weakness in seasons past has been the lack of a tall centre. Southwestern Y are the real dark horses of the league but should not menace the top two teams at least. Dominion Douglas rate right up with Southwestern team, but Coach McKee with a limited scope to find his players, members of the church team having to be attendants at the Central 'Y' seem doomed for the cellar position. That makes it McGill Grads, Y.M.H.A. Nationale, C.P.R., Southwestern Y, Dominion Douglas and Central Y.

In the intermediate A section, the Westmount Amicis hold the doubtful honour of being the pre-season favourite to take the title. Evidently stronger than last year when they were beaten by Southwestern for the city title, the blue team will be the target the rest of the teams are shooting at this season. McGill will present a well conditioned squad and an exceptionally strong one as they are not entering one in the major loop. Westmount Y should be right up there too, almost all their home games can be conceded to them so

Instructress Is Engaged To Coach Fancy Skating On City Rink This Winter

Miss Helma Karick, Estonian Figure Skating Champion, Will Take Charge of Branch of Municipal Recreation — Special Ice to be Maintained — Plan to Stress Figure-skating

Miss Helma Karick, former singles and pairs champion of Estonia has been engaged to coach fancy skating enthusiasts at the Westmount Athletic Grounds rink this winter. Miss Karick, who has appeared in both amateur and professional status at a number of important carnivals and skating meets throughout Canada and the United States, has had many years of experience in this highly specialized line, and is considered one of the foremost leaders in her field.

Miss Karick will be in attendance every day that the fancy-skating rink, to be erected specially for this purpose, is open. She will teach dancing on skates in addition to the regular fancy skating routines.

Her talents are not confined to fancy skating; a few years ago she was ladies' singles champion at the Notre Dame de Grace Tennis Club.

The city's recreational department plans to stress fancy skating this winter. Started last year, it has proven exceedingly popular here, more than fifty skaters taking part. It is hoped to have several times as many following Miss Karick's instruction this winter.

As far as is known, Westmount is the first city in eastern Canada to hire an instructress for this line of work.

that their "away" fixtures will tell the tale. Queens Grads with no centre man, Art Wright still being on the shelf with a bad leg, although strong enough in the other positions will find the going hard until they get a pivot man. Montreal West led by their high scoring centre Lorne Brand look like the next best. MacDonald College and University de Montreal is the way we see them.

In intermediate B section St. Clements should be good enough to take Sterens and St. Matthews into camp.

POOR GRAZING NOW
"Nearly a generation ago my head was grazed at the Second Battle of Ypres."

The little fellow looked thoughtfully at the old man's head and said:
"There isn't much grazing there now, is there, grandpa?"
