APPROVE MOVE TO RETURN GOLD STANDARD Action On Marshal Foch's Report Has Been Postponed

Warm Praise For Budget Offered By Churchill

Daily Telegraph Says Budget Assures Stability of Pound Sterling and Paves Way for Increased Trade and Commerce Activity in Great Britain—Paper Has Particular Praise for Chancellor's Announcement that Government Has Sufficient Dollars on Hand to Pay Installments on Debt to United States Which Fall Due in June and December, Thereby Eliminating Britain as a Competitor in the Market for Dollars—Sees in This a Prospect for Stabilizing the Pound at Par.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 29.—There is a suggestion of approval for Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill's first budget in the editorials of the London morning newspapers of all political leanings, the Government being commended chiefly for the return to the gold standard and the reduction in the income tax.

Warm praise from Mr. Churchill's own party is expressed by the Daily Telegraph, which says the budget assures the stability of the pound sterling and paves the way for increased trade and commerce activity in Great Britain.

The paper has particular praise for the Chancellor's announcement that the Government has sufficient dollars on hand to pay the installments on the debt to the United States, which fall due in June and December, thereby eliminating Britain as a competitor in the market for dollars. The newspaper sees in this a prospect of stabilizing the pound at par.

The Morning Post inclines to the opinion that the budget does not do enough for the industries. It agrees, however, that it is timely, remarking that it "may gamble with the future, but considerably relieves the present."

The Westminster Gazette emphasizes the fact that the budget fosters protection and suggests that the Liberal party will resist attempts to institute tariffs under the guise of necessary taxation. It deplores the tendency of each successive Government to change the fiscal policy of its predecessor.

The Daily Herald, Labor organ, sees only new and heavier burdens for the working class and less demands upon the rich.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE SHOWED EVIDENCE OF BEING GENERALLY PLEASED WITH THE NEW BRITISH BUDGET

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 29.—The London Stock Exchange showed evidence today of being generally pleased with the new British budget, which it is considered will carry on the policy outlined by Premier Baldwin at the beginning of his administration, suggesting well for the financial and commercial unity of the country.

The downward adjustment of the income tax and the absence of the anticipated raid on the sinking fund caused fractional gains in investment securities, especially government issues, while those securities affected by reimposition of the McKenna duties moved up well, especially the various motor car and cycle shares.

The return to the gold standard was hailed with general satisfaction in the exchange market, where the pound sterling took another step nearer parity this morning and touched $4.48 1-4 under strong buying from practically all sources.

This figure is close to what is known as "the gold point," when charges for freight, insurance and so forth are taken into consideration, or $4.8687 for the shipment of gold from London to New York.

CHURCHILL FULFILLED LIFELONG AMBITION

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 29.—Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in presenting his great budget in the House of Commons yesterday, fulfilled a life-long ambition. He has crowded much into his brilliant and adventurous career. Less than six months ago he was what might be termed an "out" cast from political life.

But he returned to his original and traditional party allegiance, and now finds himself following in his equally famous father's footsteps, as he always aspired to do, holding the highest place, with the exception of one, in the government of his country.

His father, Lord Randolph Churchill, while holding the same office in the Salisbury Government, quarreled with the premier on the question of retrenchment in the public services, especially the defense services, and resigned in an angry mood before ever he delivered his budget statement, and this resignation virtually ended his political career.

The son, Winston, more fortunate, has submitted to parliament a budget statement, which although it may excite much criticism, is certainly likely to be called popular. Both Philip Snowden, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, and David Lloyd George, who also held that office as well as the premiership, congratulated Mr. Churchill on the rhetorical success of his speech. Mr. Snowden intimated, however, that the Chancellor must expect much adverse criticism from the Labor party.

Mr. Lloyd George, who desired to

(Associated Press Despatch.)

PLOT AGAINST LIFE OF AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN

Additional Guards Have Been Assigned to Protect British Foreign Secretary.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 29.—Additional guards have been assigned to protect Foreign Secretary Austen Chamberlain. It is reported that a plot against his life has been discovered and the assignment of the extra guards is presumably in connection with the alleged plot.

The news of additional police protection for the British Foreign Secretary came from official quarters, but there was much reticence about discussing the nature of the supposed plot. It was intimated that some of the details were discovered outside of London.

PLAN PARIS-NEW YORK FLIGHT ABOUT JULY 20

Two Distinguished Aviators Will Attempt to Win $25,000 Prize Offered in 1919.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

PARIS, April 29.—The long proposed flight from Paris to New York will be attempted about July 20, it was announced here today by Paul Tarascon and Francois Coli, both distinguished aviators, who were severely wounded in service during the war.

The flyers will attempt to win the $25,000 prize offered in 1919 by Raymond Orteig for the first flight from Paris to New York and return. They plan to fly via England, Ireland, Newfoundland and Nova Scotia in a hydro-airplane which is being built with a 500-horse power motor made in France under German patents. The flight is unofficial.

British Officialdom Has Fallen Back On Policy Of "Wait And See"—Stated Future Moves Will Depend Largely Upon France

Presume that Germany Will Stand by Her Security Proposals and that Hindenburg, Upon Assuming Office, Will Confirm and Continue Present German Cabinet, Which Is the Government Which Made Recent Proposals Accepted by Foreign Secretary Chamberlain as "Honest and Sincere."

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, April 29.—With Field Marshal Von Hindenburg at the head of the German state and a new government in power in France, the British have fallen back on a policy of "wait and see," as far as the European security situation is concerned.

British officials presume that Germany will stand by her security proposals, which, on this side of the channel at any rate, were adopted as the basis of negotiations for the building of a permanent peace in Europe.

They further presume that Hindenburg, upon assuming office, will confirm and continue the present German cabinet, which is the government that made the recent proposals accepted by Foreign Secretary Chamberlain as "honest and sincere."

British officialdom takes the view that what the further developments are depends largely upon France. In a fortnight or so, it is thought, Foreign Minister Briand will visit London and continue the conversations begun by M. Herriot as Premier with Mr. Chamberlain in an effort to reach some basis for assuring the security of Western Europe. It is felt that the French Government is not taking what is regarded in London as such an "unreasonable view of Hindenburg's triumph at the polls as have the Paris press and apparently the French people."

States There Should Be No Change Made In Constitution Of Dominion Without Unanimous Consent Of All Provinces

Senator Turgeon Also Supported Senate as Being Representative of Canada—Budget Debate Was Continued in House of Commons—D. Spence, Conservative Member for Parkdale, Declared Vote on Budget Should Have Been Taken Two Weeks Ago.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

OTTAWA, ONT., April 29.—Senator Turgeon declared that the constitution of Canada should not be changed without the unanimous consent of all provinces affected, in the Senate yesterday. He supported the Senate as being representative of Canada and opposed the plan for election of the Upper House.

In the House of Commons, yesterday, the following speakers took part in the debate on the budget: R. Milne, Progressive, Neepawa; P. F. Casgrain, Liberal, Charlevoix; Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative, Victoria; F. Rinfret, Liberal, St. James; A. J. Lewis, Progressive, Swift Current, and D. Spence, Conservative, Parkdale.

The vote on the budget should have been taken two weeks ago, D. Spence, Conservative, Parkdale, told the House of Commons last night. If prolonged debates were continued, it would soon be impossible for a man who was trying to run a business to sit in the House of Commons.

"The only ones who will be able to come here will be those who have made their pile, or those who have no visible means of support," said Mr. Spence.

BELIEVES CANADA SHOULD MEET FORDNEY TARIFF

(Associated Press Despatch.)

OTTAWA, April 29.—The House of Commons heard yesterday in the budget debate from the Conservative member for Victoria, B.C., the Hon. S. F. Tolmie, former minister of agriculture in the Borden and Meighen Cabinets, and now Dominion organizer for the Conservative Party. Hon. Tolmie analyzed agricultural conditions and attacked the Government for their failure to put into effect a tariff on farm products equal to that of the Fordney tariff in the United States. As a result, he maintained that Canada was being deluged with a flood of eggs from the Orient and from the United States, and the same applied to early spring vegetables. He stated that Canada should capitalize the demand for northern grown seeds, which, being produced in such a rigorous climate, were found always to produce the best results. He maintained that this was a proper industry for Canada to embark upon, and she could thus have a monopoly of it.

Increase Land Settlement.

Discussing the railway problem of the Dominion, he believed it would be very unfortunate if the C. P. R. were forced to lose a sufficient amount of business to make the Canadian National Railways pay, and believed it was not desirable that the latter road should progress at the expense of the former. He believed that the only reasonable solution for the Canadian National Railways problem was an increase in land settlement, which would result in an increase in railway traffic. He also discussed at length the question of immigration, and believed that the expensive fares from Europe resulted in a falling off in immigration to Canada.

Another Progressive Heard.

Another farmer, in the person of R. Milne, Progressive member for Neepawa, also took part in the debate. He argued that the national debt had increased by 135 per cent, since 1911, apart from war obligations. The national debt had been reduced only nine times since Confederation, and it was unsound to proceed without a sinking fund to pay off our debt. Mr. Milne opposed the tariff on coal announced in the budget, and while he did not favor the system of doles as in England, he would rather see that form of relief go to the miners than to large corporations in the form of tariff. He criticized the Government for its failure to do anything (Continued on Page 11.)

TERRORIST KILLED EIGHT PERSONS

(Associated Press Despatch.)

SOFIA, April 29.—The United States Minister to Bulgaria, Charles S. Wilson, categorically denies the statement attributed to British laborite parliamentarians visiting Bulgaria that he, either officially or unofficially represented to the Bulgarian Government the necessity for moderation toward those arrested after the bombing of the Sveti Kral Cathedral.

(Statements made by the Laborite commoners, Colonel J. Wedgewood and W. MacKinder, regarding conditions they alleged they found in Bulgaria have also drawn denials from the Bulgarian Premier, M. Tzankoff.)

The killing of another terrorist suspect near here after a desperate struggle with the police is reported. Discovered carrying revolvers and bombs concealed in two flower baskets, the man killed an official who attempted to arrest him. Police traced him to a house, but he took refuge in a nearby canal, from which for six hours he held the police at bay. He was finally bombed to death, but only after seven policemen had been killed.

REVOLUTIONISTS EMPLOYED FASHIONABLE WOMEN

(Associated Press Despatch.)

ROME, April 29.—Despatches received here from Sofia say the Bulgarian Government has discovered that the Central Committee of the revolutionists employed fashionable women, who had sneaked in the best social circles, as messengers to transmit code messages between revolutionary agents in Bulgarian cities. A number of these alleged messengers were arrested. They did not deny the charges, but said they were not cognizant of the contents of the messages they carried.

The advices add that the police frustrated an attempt to kill Foreign Minister Kaloff, who had discovered a suspicious person near his home. The man resisted arrest and hurled two bombs which failed to explode. The marauder made his escape firing numerous shots at the police who were endeavoring to capture him.

No Change In Policy By Germany

German Chancellor Declares that to Bring Stable European Conditions Question of Evacuation of Cologne Area by Allies Must Be Speedily Settled.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

BERLIN, April 29.—In order to bring about stable European conditions the question of the evacuation of the Cologne area by the Allies must be speedily settled, Dr. Hans Luther, the German Chancellor, declared in a statement today.

"For more than three months," he said, "we have waited in vain for the reasons held to justify the non-evacuation."

Germany's foreign policy will not be changed, Dr. Luther stated emphatically. His declaration was made in an address before the annual congress of the League for German industry and commerce. It is understood to reflect also the viewpoint of President-elect Von Hindenburg, with whom the chancellor conferred yesterday.

That Germany does not desire war was a further categorical declaration by the Chancellor, who laid stress upon Germany's adherence to the security pact idea.

Young Married Women Need Mother's Advice—

MRS. PEARL STEELE
HOLDS, MISSOURI

A GREAT many women after childbirth get up too soon and, too weak to care for the child and perform their household duties, often bring on serious derangements.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid tonic to take at this time; it is an excellent restorative, contains no harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by nursing mothers.

Thousands of mothers advise their daughters to take this grand old root and herb medicine for such conditions because of their own favorable experience with it.

Following We Publish an Interesting Letter from Mrs. Steele of Warrensburg Which Should Interest Every Mother in the Land:

Warrensburg, Mo.—"When my second child was born I got up too soon as my mother wasn't able to do for me. I could not stand on my feet without being dizzy and my back would ache so badly that I would have to lie down at times through the day. My mother had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a bottle of it at the time, so she begged me to take it, which I did, and I cannot tell you how much better I felt after taking it. Then a year later my husband got back from overseas and we went to keeping house by ourselves and I got all run down again. I couldn't work long at a time but would have to sit down and rest. My husband kept begging me to take the Vegetable Compound again, so I have done so. I recommend it when I can as I know it is good for women's troubles and I thought you might like to know what it has done for me."—Mrs. PEARL M. STEELE, 205 Main Street, Warrensburg, Mo.

Ontario Woman's Interesting Case

Mount Forest, Ontario.—"I am proud today to think I have a fine big baby boy, as healthy as a trout, and I never felt better myself. Before I took your medicine I felt weak and miserable, and had pains all through me. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to get stronger and those pains all left me. I am glad I found out about this medicine. I think there is none other equal to it for women who have troubles of this kind. I cannot praise the Vegetable Compound too highly for the good it has done me. Whenever I know of a woman suffering I am glad to tell her of it."—Mrs. WM. RIDGEMAN, E. R. No. 1, Mount Forest, Ontario.

During the week-end the high school football team added to their laurels by winning two games.

The first was played on Friday afternoon after school against a team from Bolton Glen. The greater experience of the Glen players gave the boys several anxious moments, but in the final period the boys' youth and good combination told against the age of their opponents. When the final whistle sounded the high school had scored three goals to the visitors' one. On Saturday the return game was played with the village. Owing to the demands of spring's work neither team was up to full strength. This, combined with the summer temperature, made the game more strenuous than was comfortable. The boys feel proud of their 2-1 victory and are anxiously looking forward to the third game with the village, as each team has so far won a game.

Children's Cozy Corner

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY PRESENT THEIR FAMILY.

By Thornton W. Burgess.
There's nothing like the honest pride
That parents vainly seek to hide.

—Old Mother Nature.

Whenever the family went abroad, Jimmy Skunk was at the head of it, and very proud of being the head of such a family. He strutted with importance. Mrs. Jimmy, bringing up the end of the procession would look at him and grin. Then she would tell him to go here or there and he would promptly lead the way. Oh, yes, Jimmy was the head of the family. At least he thought he was, and he appeared to be. And Mrs. Jimmy was quite satisfied.

For a while Jimmy led his family abroad at night only. During the day if they came out at all it was only to play around the door. But one morning Mrs. Jimmy hinted, just hinted mind you, that it was time the children made the acquaintance of Farmer Brown's Boy and Mrs. Brown and Farmer Brown. Jimmy took the hint. He called the children about him.

"We are going to make an important call," said he. "I want you to be on your best behavior. Do just as I do. Do not be alarmed, for there will be nothing to fear. By the way, never at any time fear any one you may meet, no matter how big they are, for all the world knows you are armed and will respect you. Now, as I was saying, do just as I do and show how polite you can be."

Jimmy led the way out from under the henhouse and after him followed the nine young skunks with Mrs. Jimmy last of all. A few minutes later Farmer Brown's Boy happened to look out of the kitchen window. "I think," said he, "we have some early morning callers."

"My land!" exclaimed Mrs. Brown. "I'm dressed to receive callers! Who is it?"

She peeped out of the window and then she began to laugh. Farmer Brown looked over her shoulder and he began to laugh. "I don't think you need worry over not being dressed up," said he.

Across the dooryard marched Jimmy Skunk straight toward the kitchen door. His handsome tail was held high. There was pride in every step he took. Behind him, also with their tails held high, marched in single file nine young skunks.

went to the pantry and filled a pan with bits of dry bread, which she moistened with milk, bits of meat and some scraps of vegetables. Then without hesitating a second she opened the kitchen door, put the pan down on the ground below the doorstep, stepped back and waited.

Mrs. Jimmy promptly walked to the pan and began to eat. She had been fed from that pan before. Then all the others crowded around that pan, and that food disappeared at a surprising rate. They had excellent manners and though there was a little crowding, for the pan was hardly big enough, every one was good natured.

When the pan had been licked clean Mrs. Jimmy looked up at Mrs. Brown. They she looked at her big family, as much as to say, "Did you ever in your life see such a fine family?"

Then Jimmy gave a signal, the youngsters fell in behind him, and he led them over to the Old Orchard.

C. A. S. C. SCHOOL BROUGHT TO A CLOSE

Last week-end brought to a close the local branch of the Provincial School of the Canadian Army Service Corps after a very successful and encouraging year. These classes were started some six weeks ago at the Garrison Armory, Belvidere street, under the direction of Captain A. W. Black, M.C., R.C.A.S.C., of Military District No. 4, and Sergeant-Major Chas. E. Brown, R.C.R. The school opened with sixteen students on the roll, fourteen of whom wrote their examinations for Officers and N. C. O.'s certificates.

At the conclusion of the final examinations held last Friday evening, an informal luncheon was held at the armory, followed by songs and music. During the evening, Major R. I. Dean, on behalf of the officers and N. C. O.'s, in a few brief words presented Captain Black with a military cane and Sgt. Major Brown with a hammered brass cigarette holder filled with cigarettes. Three rousing cheers and a tiger were then given the two officers, which token

M. WILSON IS PRESIDENT OF ROTARY CLUB

Annual Meeting of Local Club Held Last Evening—Meredith Wilson Succeeds E. J. Page as President—New Treasurer and Secretary Appointed.

Election of officers by the Rotary Club at their annual meeting, which was held in the New Sherbrooke House last evening resulted in the unanimous choice of Mr. Meredith Wilson as president; Karl Barrett, vice-president; Mr. Henry J. Cordy, treasurer, and Mr. Bert Williams, secretary. This year's board of directors will consist of Rotarians Albert Munster and Gedeon Nadeau. Although the election of officers was the chief item of business, much interest was shown in the reports from the different committees, which were given by the chairman. The membership committee report given by Rotarian Van Roden, showed that at the beginning of the year the club consisted of fifty-six members. During the year eleven new members were admitted to the club, while other applications are also under consideration.

Rotarian J. C. McConnell, reporting on the work done by the boys' work committee, pointed out that during the year baseball games were played by teams comprising boys who formerly had spent much of their time about the streets, some three hundred orphans of the Sacred Heart Hospital were entertained at Victoria Park and at the hospital and a large number of poor city children were entertained at the circus, as well as at the Sherbrooke Exhibition. The Boys' Work Committee had also given special care and attention to a young boy who was very ill in need of help. In referring to this case the chairman of the boys' work committee remarked that special thanks were due to Dr. W. W. Lynch, who had rendered valuable assistance.

The following report were presented by their respective chairmen: Rotary education, D. A. McManamy; publicity, J. Sangster; entertainment, M. M. Wilson; luncheon, W. Cross; fellowship, Dr. F. Bradley; inter-city, G. Nadeau; musical, H. Keeler; secretary's report, R. Richardson; treasurer, H. Bradford.

It was announced that the chairman of the various committees would be elected during the coming week.

Asked Help of All
Rotarian H. Welsh, who acted as chairman in the absence of President E. J. Page, asked all members to give their support to the newly-elected officers, pointing out that the greatest need of the club was co-operation.

The newly-elected president, in a few remarks, thanked the club for electing him to the position and expressed the hope that the club would have a most successful year.

A hearty vote of thanks was proposed by Rotarian D. J. Salls and seconded by Rotarian C. Wolff for the work done by the retiring officers.

A letter was read by the chairman from the past president of the club, Rotarian E. J. Page, thanking the members of the club for the support which had been given him during the past year and expressing the hope that a happy year would be experienced. Mr. Page further added that while he was enjoying his trip, he would be very glad to be back in Sherbrooke, which he hoped would be in time for the next meeting of the club.

of esteem was very ably replied to by Capt. Black. He complimented Major Dean on the good attendance of the class and the fine showing they had made. He further remarked that upon looking over the written examinations he would be very much disappointed if at least eighty per cent. of the class did not pass. The enjoyable evening was brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem.

TWO FINES HANDED DOWN

Fines of five dollars and costs or five days in jail were rendered in the Recorder's Court this morning by Recorder Forest to Leon Gilbert and William Giroux, of St. Prosper de Beauce, when they appeared before the court charged with being intoxicated and disorderly.

AUTO CAUGHT FIRE ON QUEEN STREET

The fire department was required to extinguish a fire which started possibly from defective wiring in a Ford auto on Queen Street late last night. The auto was the property of Mr. Francois Therrien, and was considerably damaged.

The department was also called out on two different occasions for chimney fires at 9 Fabre Street, in the property owned by Mr. Henry Richardson, and at 32 Bowne Avenue North, in the property of A. W. Giard.

INJURED WHILE AT WORK WITH SAW

Maxime Beaulieu, aged forty-two years, residing at 41 Fabre street, was injured yesterday afternoon shortly before six o'clock at the mill of the General Lumber Company, of which concern he is an employee, when a piece of wood which he was attempting to saw was wrenched back, striking him in the stomach.

So far as can be ascertained, it seems that Beaulieu, who is a sawyer and mechanic by trade, had been employed on a circular saw for the purpose of sharpening it. On concluding his work, Beaulieu attempted to try the saw with a piece of lumber. On starting the machine, the wood in some way became caught, and, kicking back, struck the workman a blow in the stomach. This apparently only paralyzed him for a moment, as he thought nothing more of the matter and continued with his work. This happened about fifteen minutes before closing time.

TOMORROW IS LAST DAY FOR INCOME FORMS

Local Customs and Excise Department Kept Busy—Payments Pouring in This Week.

The staff at the local offices of the Department of Customs and Excise situated in the Post Office building on Dufferin avenue have been busily engaged since the introduction of the new system in regard to the collection of the income tax, which change is to the effect that the collection of the tax, for the first time in the history of its existence, is being made under the jurisdiction of the Customs and Excise department here as in other cities and towns, instead of having the forms and payments sent direct to the Shaughnessy Building, Montreal. As far as Sherbrooke is concerned, the tax payers will mail or deliver their filled in forms with cheques attached to the local customs department, which is included in the Montreal district, instead of sending them direct to the head office in Montreal as formerly was the case.

It was stated yesterday by Mr. J. C. Bellisle, of the local Excise Department, that the last day for payment of income tax for the present year is Thursday of this week, April 30th. The majority of the local taxpayers have already anticipated this by filing their returns and either paying their full income tax or the statutory first payment of twenty-five per cent. in order to avail themselves of the quarterly payment system.

Today and tomorrow, however, will see the real rush of returns and payments. It is usually the custom of large concerns and corporations to stave off the payment of the income tax to the latest possible date, thus getting further benefit from the money. They will, of course, always be some firms and individuals who will be caught napping, and who will wake up to the fact that their tax is overdue two or three days.

Money has been pouring into the local office at the rate of hundreds of dollars daily.

Besides the income taxpayers in Sherbrooke, the local office also handles the returns from outside towns and villages which happen to be situated in the Sherbrooke district. These places include Lennoxville, Richmond, East Angus, Bromptonville, Thetford Mines, etc.

In comparing the protection being afforded the office here and the Shaughnessy building in Montreal, it was pointed out that whereas in Montreal the R. C. M. P. were necessary owing to the fact that the payments were kept in the building for a considerable time and, that there was always a large crowd of people waiting to make their deposits, in Sherbrooke the forms and money are checked up and forwarded to their final destinations every night, the former to the Shaughnessy Building and the latter to Ottawa, therefore no great sum of money is ever in the local office for any length of time.

In order to make it easier for the staff and also ensure better service, returns should be marked on the envelopes "for the income tax branch."

Beaulieu walked home as usual, and was evidently feeling little or no effects from the blow until about nine o'clock last evening. Dr. F. Lord's ambulance was called, and Beaulieu was admitted to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital.

Latest reports state that Beaulieu's condition, although not any too favorable, remains about the same.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

After the treasure hunt on Friday night, members of the 2nd Troop visited the 4th Troop headquarters, where they spent a profitable half-hour in games and Scout work. Mr. Harry Lister, Dominion Field Commissioner, told the scouts about the Montreal Jamboree, which he had attended, and which was one of the greatest booby to scouting in the Dominion. The combined troop meeting closed with the "Scout Silence."

Next Friday night, 1st, both the 2nd and 4th Troops will hold an open meeting in their respective headquarters, to which the parents are invited. At the 4th Troop headquarters, Rev. W. S. Lennon will give a talk on a number of camps he has attended. This talk will be illustrated with a number of interesting pictures. Parents of the boys are invited to attend. All cubs of the 4th Sherbrooke pack are requested to wear their cub uniforms, or as much of them as they have, next Friday, May 1st., when prizes for the competition which has been carried on for several months will be presented.

At the 2nd Troop headquarters, regular meeting will be held, at which the parents are asked to be spectators. After this meeting, Mr. Harry Lister and Mr. Lobb will each give a brief talk explaining Scouting, its aims and methods. All parents of the boys of the 2nd Troop are specially invited to attend.

A district parade of local and Lennoxville scouts has been arranged to take place next Sunday, May 3rd., to the Presbyterian Church in response to an invitation issued by the Rev. Alfred Bright. The 2nd and 4th Sherbrooke Troops are requested to meet at the Dufferin Avenue headquarters at ten o'clock sharp Sunday morning. The local Troops, accompanied by the drum and bugle band, will then proceed to meet the Lennoxville scouts, who will march to Sherbrooke. Every Scout and Cub should endeavor to attend the parade, as this is the first time that the scouts have worshipped in St. Andrew's Church for several years. Scouts and Cubs are requested to wear full summer uniform if possible, but lack of uniform should not prevent any member attending. Colors will be carried, and every indication points to one of the best parades of the season.

The 2nd Troop Rover Scouts are progressing very favorably to a complete organization. The regular meetings are held at the Dufferin Avenue headquarters every Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. In the autumn it is planned to secure a regular club room. A baseball team has been formed, and regular practices are being held. A schedule is being arranged with the Lennoxville Scout baseball team, and some very interesting games should be the result, as the latter team has earned for itself the reputation of a first class junior aggregation.

Points of Interest Around Quebec to Be Illustrated

The beauty of the scenery surrounding the city of Quebec has been pronounced by travellers in many lands as the equal of much that has been exploited in foreign countries. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnston, of Ayer's Cliff, who spend much of their annual vacation in the vicinity of the city of Quebec, have prepared a set of stereopticon slides showing points of interest around the Ancient City. From these illustrations Mrs. Johnston will give a lecture under the auspices of the Women's Institute, in the Town Hall on the evening of May 9, and it is expected this will prove an enjoyable event.

T.B. CAMPAIGN IN CITY IS NOW WELL UNDER WAY

Dr. Demers, City Health Officer, Warns Public Against Dread of Tuberculosis—Urges All to Be Careful.

Dr. J. A. Demers, local health officer, and members of the local Anti-Tubercular League, who have started a campaign in the city for the prevention of tuberculosis, have issued the following statement regarding a series of talks which they hope to use as a means of bringing before the eyes of the public the great national danger caused by the spread of tuberculosis.

"Professor Landouzy said: 'Tuberculosis is an evil of misery and ignorance.' Does that mean that it is only found among the poor classes of society? No. It is to be found in rich homes, as well as in the poorer ones. Educated people as well as ignorant persons die of tuberculosis. I shall explain that which the learned professor wishes to point out to you, that misery and ignorance are the two sources which scatter this evil in a hurried way.

It must be remembered that tuberculosis is a disease caused by microbes, or which is contracted by microbes. In general every one should take much care to avoid all that which might attract it, and it is by a war against expectorating that we can best attack the microbe. A large number of persons have the deplorable and rude habit of expectorating on the ground, walls and their surroundings. Really, nothing is so barbaric nor so dangerous. A large number of persons, at first, did not know that they were suffering from this evil, but their spittle was tubercular, and you can imagine the results, especially when the best authorities tell us, 'Tubercular spittle holds the enemy.' It is from that that the infection comes to us, which is transferred to other individuals by dust, clothing, etc.

The League in its campaign is carrying on a war against expectorating. The Government has passed a very strict law, calling for a fine for all persons expectorating on the sidewalks, public places and other such places. However, the character principle of all citizens should be great enough to know that expectorating on the ground is dangerous to the lives of others. In Sherbrooke the sick and the persons who visit the dispensary receive advice and help, but through the press we hope to reach the general public, because it is necessary that all citizens of this city correct themselves of this habit and lack of knowledge.

The ignorance that there is a germ and the ignorance of spreading the sickness by expectorating are the two problems to be fought, and that is what is undertaken by the league.

Misery acts as a factor in the spreading of the sickness. There is no doubt but that alcohol, improper feeding, unhealthy dwellings and untidiness are the original factors which, when the microbe comes, paralyze the natural arms of defence. These causes must be known by the public if we wish to fight the germs. If by wise conditions we maintain our defensive and natural forces intact, we will not become tubercular.

Beside a cry of alarm; of 'caution yourself,' it must be written, 'Be neat, be sober, be strong.'

A general survey of the Quebec highways at the present time, and the plans for the coming year were referred to by the Hon. J. L. Perre, Minister of Roads, in speaking by radio station C.K.A.C., La Presse yesterday from the Montreal Press Club during the third of a series of concerts given this year by the Press Club.

The Minister stated by way of information for American tourists, many of whom were doubtless "listening in" at many American points, that the total length of permanently improved roads in Quebec exceeds 6,000 miles and represents a capital of $50,000,000 invested in the last 13 years.

Automobilists will benefit this year from a new system of traffic control and supervision. The government has decided to give up the "spotting" system, and to replace the latter by motorcycle officers, whose task it will be to see that the law is respected. All traffic officers will operate openly, and are instructed to give courteous warnings. Motorists should not forget that the laws made are for their own benefit, and for the protection of their own lives, said the Minister.

FAMILY TROUBLES BRING OUT
POLICE

A member of the police department was required yesterday afternoon to maintain order between Mr. and Mrs. Ovide Roy, of this city, who insisted on settling their domestic troubles in a rather unbecoming manner on King street, near the Lansdowne Market.

According to reports the couple have not been living in perfect harmony for some time past. Some time ago a separation was discussed and the wife agreed to this provided the horse and buggy, now their common property, be left to her. It is understood that this was agreed to by the husband and he left his wife, also the horse and buggy.

Yesterday morning, however, when the wife went to feed the much discussed animal she was surprised to find only a vacant stall. Her suspicions were centered solely in one channel and she immediately made her way to the city, as her residence is a short distance outside the city limits.

When she had reached Lansdowne Market she met her husband, who was engaged in his business of selling frankfurters, and in this capacity is a well known figure in the business parts of the city. Without much warning Mrs. Roy attempted to use force. The eyes of the law, however, noticed this affair and immediately separated the couple and Mrs. Roy was ordered to continue on her way. Shortly after the return of the constable to the police station, Mrs. Roy returned and again seized her husband. The constable also returned and arrested Mrs. Roy on a charge of assault.

The case was settled by Judge Lemay this morning, who settled the case behind closed doors.

SECRETARY WON SUIT AGAINST PARAMOUNT CO.

Superior Court Awards Former Employee of Paramount Rubber Company $1,725.

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, April 29.—A suit wherein Edgar Hillrich, formerly secretary of the Paramount Rubber Consolidated of Canada, sought $1,725 as arrears in salary, was maintained in part yesterday by Mr. Justice Mercier in the Superior Court.

It was held that the plaintiff was entitled to payment of the sum claimed from his former employers, but that he had no special privilege as against the hypothecary creditors to be paid out of the assets of the company, now in the hands of the Prudential Trust Co. Ltd., trustees for the bondholders.

Hillrich declared that he was engaged as secretary to the Paramount Rubber Consolidated in June 1923, at a monthly salary of $300. He declared that this company owed him $1,475, as salary from September, 1923, until January, 1924, inclusively. He also declared that on February 1st, 1924, he was summarily dismissed, without cause, and without the customary notice.

Hillrich contended that he was entitled to a month's notice, and on this score he asked a further sum of $300, bringing the total claim of $1,725. He took action against the Prudential Trust Co., Ltd., as trustee for the bondholders of the Paramount Rubber Consolidated and also against the latter company.

Hillrich claimed that he had a privileged claim against the moveables and immovables of the Paramount Rubber Consolidated. He therefore asked that this company be condemned to pay the sum claimed, and that the trust company be ordered to collocate the claim for payment in preference to the hypothecary creditors.

Mr. Justice Mercier held that, according to the Civil Code and various commentators, the plaintiff had no privilege whatever. On the other hand, said the judge, he was entitled to payment of the sum claimed.

Judgment was accordingly given maintaining the action simply against the Paramount Rubber Consolidated, and dismissing it as far as it related to the Prudential Trust Co., Ltd.

BENEFICIARIES AS FAR AS CANADA IS CONCERNED

(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, April, 29.—Canadian sugar tobacco, and automobiles will be the chief beneficiaries under the preference proposals in Mr. Churchill's budget. To a certain extent Canadian wines also may benefit.

Sugar, tobacco and wines came under the first part of the offer of increased preferences made by the Baldwin Government at the last Imperial Conference. To this part of the offer, it is apparently the intention of the British Government to give effect. Under its terms, increased or stabilized preferences were to be granted on certain articles which were already dutiable on entering Great Britain. Sugar, tobacco and wines were in this list.

There was another offer under which new duties were to be imposed on certain foodstuffs when coming from countries outside the Empire, while the Empire product was to be free. This offer has been dropped as a result of the defeat of the Baldwin Government at the polls.

Canadian automobiles should benefit as a result of restoration of the McKenna duties. These duties gave a preference to Empire automobiles, among other things. They expired a year ago, and were not renewed by the late Labor Government.

TRAIN DERAILED TODAY AT SOUTH ROYALTON

BTHEL, Vt. April 29.—The Washingtonian, fast through passenger train, on the Central Vermont Railroad was derailed early today at South Royalton. A broken journal on the tender of the locomotive was given as the cause. The tracks were torn up for a distance of several hundred feet, but passengers and train crew escaped injury. Traffic both ways on the main line of the Central Vermont was held up for seven hours, but the damage had been repaired and trains were in operation at nine o'clock. The Montrealer, the companion train of the Washingtonian, on the northbound route, was delayed many hours.

WAR DEBTS.

Some one in Europe has discovered that some of the individual states of America do not pay their foreign debts any more promptly than do some of the states of Europe discharge their obligations to America.

A letter in the Westminster Gazette points out:

"Eight states are in default, mostly to Europe, for periods varying from 50 to 80 years, to the following approximate amounts (there is no reliable data in respect to Alabama):

|                |                  |
|----------------|------------------|
| Arkansas       | .....$1,740,000 |
| Florida        | .....1,400,000   |
| Georgia        | .....2,540,000   |
| Louisiana      | .....1,200,000   |
| Mississippi    | .....1,400,000   |
| North Carolina | .....2,250,000   |
| South Carolina | .....1,200,000   |

"Taking 60 years as an average period of default, and reckoning compound interest at five per cent., these eight states now owe the rest of the world more than $200,000,000. Some of them have had Prohibition since 1907, yet while the U.S.A. is very anxious for the repayment of its own foreign loan, eight of its constituent states have not, apparently, the slightest intention of fulfilling liabilities now approximating one-fifth of our own debt to America."

There are no doubt debts contracted during the American Civil War, as the States listed are in the South. They are, therefore, war debts and defeat in war is not supposed to relieve a State of its financial obligations to foreign countries. The above situation, therefore, furnishes an argument for delay or relief in the case of some of the European debtor countries.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Daylight saving will go into effect in Sherbrooke and other cities in Canada next Sunday. Many and probably the majority of rural communities in the townships as well as elsewhere will operate on Standard Time. Railway schedules will conform with daylight saving, by advancing the train schedules instead of the clocks.

There seems to be a very fixed rural objection to the Daylight Saving System and such objection cannot be so wide spread and unchanging without having some reason back of it. In Pennsylvania, where the rural vote outnumbered the urban, change of Standard Time has been forbidden as has, also been done in Maine.

The Ottawa Journal in a discussion of Daylight Saving says:

"Canada is not the only country in which the believers in daylight saving find militant opposition. It has just happened that the Legislature of Pennsylvania has passed a law making it an offence to in any way change Eastern standard time within the state. The explanation of this rather extraordinary interference with local option is found in the fact that rural representatives outnumber the urbanites, and over there, as here, the farmers who do not want daylight saving for themselves are bound that nobody else shall have it. They insist that it compels them to get up when the dew is still on the grass, and sends sleepy children off to school an hour earlier than under 'God's time.' Some of them may even believe with our own Mr. Black, M.P., that it produces lazy men."

"Of course, the farmers are wrong. They can get up when they please, and as for the children it is sheer imagination that they are required to get up an hour earlier than usual. Daylight saving does not alter the fundamental fact that there are 24 hours in each day, and the division of those hours is unchanged by the innocent moving of the clock an hour ahead. The most discouraging thing is that our rural friends cannot see what is so obvious to nearly everybody else."

"But the people in the cities of Pennsylvania, in common with the people of nearly all the other states, are determined to have daylight saving all the same. And no enactment of a Legislature can stop them. They propose to leave the clock alone, since the law forbids them to tamper with it, and to just act as if it had been moved an hour ahead. Exchanges, stores, restaurants, factories and business and industrial places of all kinds, will simply open an hour earlier before the first of May and the end of September, and close an hour earlier."

"Few things could be more regrettable and senseless than the opposition of rural communities to what the cities wish to do in respect of daylight saving. If these crazy city people want to put up with all the discomforts and inconveniences which the farmers fancy attaches to daylight saving, why shouldn't our rural friends simply ignore the whole movement as a thing which does not concern them in any way whatever? They can't prevent it, no matter what they may do."

PRESS COMMENT

WATCH YOUR BONFIRE.

(Brooklyn Eagle)

This is the season when the head of the house volunteers as a forester and burns up the grass about his home. That he is responsible for burning up so few homes along with his front lawn is due chiefly to the efficiency of suburban fire departments. In the country, where the fire departments are few and far between, he is a menace. To smell the aromatic odor of burning balsam on a mild April night under a full moon generally means that somebody's bonfire has taken to the woods. It happens every year. It is about time that it occurred to everybody that there could be no better time to put an end to the annual waste in forest fires arising from brush fires than now.

Tall dead grass, last year's leaves, brushwood half full of sap and broken branches from the winter's storms make ideal tinder for burning up woodlands. A stanch ally of the burning householder is the motorist. With the return of mild weather he fares forth on the Sabbath, flicking lighted cigarette and cigar butts along the highways, building campfires which he neglects to extinguish, scattering a trail of live coals, heedless that it may sweep through the hills and endanger whole villages. Between the amateur forester of the commuting districts and the careless motorist in the hills it's a wonder that the springtime destruction from open fires is not greater. As it is, it remains an appalling indictment of the most inexcusable brand of carelessness.

RUNNING DOWN ANCIENT MAN.

(Boston Transcript)

Ancient man and his doings possess a fascination for the modern student in proportion to their remoteness; and the whole world may evince what we might term a family interest in the departure from the United States for Europe and the Orient of Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, of the Smithsonian Institution. This great anthropologist goes abroad "to examine personally all traces of ancient man and his predecessors" in Southern Asia, Java, Australia and Africa. In India he will try to examine all collections of paleolithic instruments. In the Straits Settlements local collections and caves will attract his attention. In Java the object is to visit in person the localities of the finds of the now known representatives of the early man known as Pithecanthropus. In Australia he will study the fossil Talagai skull and more recent finds of skeletal remains of the Australian aborigines; and in South Africa Dr. Hrdlicka will examine locally into the circumstances of the find of the Rhodesian man. Here also he will make a comparison of recent finds of anthropoid apes and prehistoric skulls preceding the Bushman and the Negro.

The knowledge anthropologists have gained of our prehistoric ancestors has been from finds and data so scanty as to suggest little to any but the most highly trained specialists. The present expedition, which is conducted by the Smithsonian in conjunction with the Buffalo Society of Natural History, will afford a review of practically every material circumstance tending to disclose the origin of man. We can imagine no one better equipped than Dr. Hrdlicka to undertake this colossal project.

TRIALS OF A BACK-YARD GARDENER.

(Christian Science Monitor)

All those who, either from a sense of duty or for the pleasure they expected to enjoy, have experimented more or less with back-yard gardens, seem to agree that that particular method of intensive activity is not as simple as it looks. Since the early years of the late war it has been the ambition of many American boys and girls, as well as of many grown-ups, to excel as tillers of refractory garden spots, many of which are ill adapted to the particular purposes to which they have been put. Convincing claims put forth by the publishers of seed catalogues, tracts which attempt to teach short methods in thrift, and the inherent urge which induces the generations of Americans to try their hand at farming, have combined to swell the ranks of amateur gardeners and to supply recruits as fast as the discouraged or disqualified desert.

With the return of moderate spring days there is noticeable a general mobilization of the undaunted backlot agriculturists. The prospect is alluring as they regard it from the viewpoint of the illustrations on the seed packets. But these ambitious experimenters, unless they have endured the trials of a previous season's experience and may thus claim to be classed as veterans of the art, should not lose sight of the fact that between seed time and harvest there will intervene many days when a sense of discouragement will try to creep in. Even when the ground has been prepared, the accumulated rubbish removed, and the seeds or shoots have been planted, the actual work of the amateur farmer has only begun. There will come days and nights when it seems there is too much rain, and others when there seems to be too little. And most amazing of all is the discovery that weeds grow unceasingly under every possible condition.

IRELAND ON THE SEA.

(Louisville Courier-Journal)

From Hoboken to Dublin, the first steamship line to carry passengers between these points and flying the flag of the Irish Free State will be inaugurated in June. Two interned German ships, the York and Seydlitz, of the North German Lloyd, have been purchased and will be put into the service.

Friends of Ireland in this country have done no more constructive work to assist the little dominion than this. The United States-Irish line is a New Jersey corporation, financed by American capital to aid the development of agriculture and commerce, and to encourage American capital to establish factories in the Emerald Isle. The ties of friendship between the two countries will be strengthened and America and Ireland will be brought together by actual contact.

The present needs of the Free State are opportunities for development. The biggest problem the country has had has been depopulation by emigration. The old days of virtual serfdom and poverty are over, or at least the dawn of a new day is breaking, yet the British colonies and America still beckon to the Irish lad and colleen. There is now a place for them on their own hearth. Ireland needs them. And Ireland needs money with which to make them and the land prosperous.

Heretofore American contributions have been to political causes, to individuals who cherished the dream of making Ireland a republic, or to organizations whose purpose was to relieve poverty and suffering in the long suffering land. The time for that, too, has almost passed. Aid to political causes now is more or less in the class of assistance in fomenting revolt. The Free State is no longer an experiment to be changed overnight by some too idealistic leader. It is a going concern. For the first time in history Ireland has all the self-government that is possible.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ILLEGAL FISHING.

To the Editor Sherbrooke Record:

Sir,—I was very pleased to see that the citizens around Lake Massawippi are taking an interest in the protection of the fish in that lake, as the item in the Record of yesterday's date shows. It is encouraging to see that there is at least one lake in the Eastern Townships where the protection of public-spirited and foresighted enough to try to prevent illegal fishing.

Perhaps no district in Canada was better blessed with natural resources in lumber, minerals, fish and game than was our own Eastern Townships. Our woods contained deer, bear, moose and fur-bearing animals in large numbers. Practically all suitable streams had their colonies of beaver, while the lakes and ponds had many wild fowl, loons, herons and other birds. Our lakes and streams teemed with fish from the plebeian sucker and perch to the aristocratic trout and lordly salmon, and our lakes and streams had as good fishing as could be found anywhere.

How different it is today. Our natural heritage has been so abused that the moose and beaver are extinct. Our trout streams have been so netted, dynamited and polluted by sawdust from saw mills that it is quite a novelty to get a decent catch of trout within fifty miles of Sherbrooke.

A few years ago Brompton Lake, Little Brompton Lake, Webster Lake, Smooth Pond, Chalmers Ponds, Stukely Lake and the other lakes of that district contained touladi or grey trout, black bass and pickerel in great quantities. They have been so netted and dynamited that the grey trout are practically extinct, and to catch one is about as easy to get as a dodo.

Lake Alymer, Elgin Lake, Lac des Iles, Lake St. Francis and the other lakes around Garthby and Disraeli are being netted quite openly. Nets are placed in the mouths of the small rivers flowing into these lakes as soon as the ice goes out. At this season these fish go out stream to spawn and it is quite a simple matter to secure a good haul, and in the summer time it is quite possible to buy fish weighing from one to twenty pounds that have been illegally caught. If such work is carried on much further how long will the supply of fish last in that district?

I think that at a conservative estimate the percentage of deer legally killed in this district and the Stoke and Orford districts would be forty per cent. leaving sixty per cent. illegally killed. In the spring some are shot in the clearings; others are shot in the summer by luring them out to the "salt lick." In the fall a large proportion of our local hunters get their deer with a "Jacklight." In the winter the settlers, lumbermen and farmers get the deer when they are helpless in the deep snow. In parts of La Patrie, Dudswell, Stoke, Orford, etc., on most any dark night in the fall it is possible to see as many as six "Jacks" in operation.

If we keep on destroying our wild things like this without trying to give them adequate protection, and if we keep on flagrantly disregarding the Fish and Game Laws of the Province, our children and coming generations are not likely to thank us for the heritage of fish and game that we are bequeathing them.

Yours for better sport,

"IKE WALTON."

Miss Laura Chamberlain spent the week-end at her home in Ayer's Cliff.

Mr. Grant Kendall, of Warden, was calling on friends in town on Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Burnett, of Granby, occupied the pulpit in the Methodist Church at both services on Sunday.

Mr. Reginald Hills, of Sherbrooke, was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Edgar Hills.

At the morning service in the Methodist Church, Mrs. F. W. Colwell most beautifully rendered "Calvary" during the offertory.

MANCHESTER, Eng., April 29. — Almost all the books worth reading are books which have not been published in the twentieth century, in the opinion of the Rev. Garfield H. Williams, secretary of the Missionary Council of the Church Assembly.

Addressing members of the Student Christian Movement conference in Manchester recently, Dr. Williams contended that the attitude toward books as taken today by the modern student is "positively ridiculous." "Unless a book be dated 1924, or possibly 1923," he said, "the modern student, one might say, virtually ignores it altogether."

"I sometimes feel," Dr. Williams asserted, "that modern youth is really the most conceited thing that has ever been produced."

DECLARED THAT CREW MEMBERS NOT SEAMEN

Former Master of the Ill-Fated Steamer Canadian Exporter Gave Evidence — Plaintiffs Seeking to Hold C. G. M. M. Liable for Loss of Cargo.

(Associated Press Despatch)

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 29. — "If you insist upon sending the ship to sea in this condition, for God's sake take me out of here."

This was the plea which Captain William Bradley, former master of the ill-fated steamer Canadian Exporter told Mr. Justice Murphy in the Supreme Court yesterday that he made to the shore offices of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine just before she left port on the fatal voyage in July, 1922. The answer he alleges he received, according to his testimony, was: "If this ship is in Vancouver tomorrow morning the newspapers will say that the strikers have beaten the C.G.M.M."

With the first officer, Newton Campbell, on the bridge, the Canadian Exporter piled up on Willapa bar, off the coast of Oregon, near the mouth of the Columbia river early in the morning of July 31st, and after several days on the reef finally broke up and sank.

Consignees of the cargo are suing for claims of $45,000, while other consignees having claims in excess of $150,000 are awaiting the outcome of the hearing.

Captain Bradley, in his evidence, said the crew of the Exporter walked out the day before she was scheduled to sail because of a cut in wages. A new crew was sent aboard in the afternoon, but none of them had papers which, he said, indicated they were not seamen, so he refused to sign them, and sent them ashore.

That night, he alleged, the shore officers of the company came aboard and signed them on themselves.

The vessel subsequently sailed, meeting with disaster soon after.

The plaintiffs are seeking to hold the C.G.M.M. liable for the loss of the cargo and allege that the ship was unseaworthy, due to the alleged incompetence of the quartermasters and that the compass deviated to an abnormal extent, and other causes.

Captain Bradley is only one of several witnesses who travelled half way around the world to testify at the present trial, having come from England. The mate, whom he criticized, is also here, having been brought from a berth with a ship plying on the Black Sea. Several members of the crew also have been brought from Australia.

INDICATES THAT WORSHIP OF MILITARISM HOLDS A FIRM GRIP ON GERMANS

(Associated Press Despatch)

TOKIO, April 29. — The election of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg as president of Germany is likely to produce a serious effect on the opinion of various vernacular newspapers.

The Jiji Shimpou says "the election bears eloquent witness that the worship of militarism still holds a firm grip on the German nation," adding it is afraid that the election detracts greatly from the world's confidence in the German policy of peace.

SENDS CONGRATULATIONS TO VON HINDENBURG

(Associated Press Despatch)

HANNOVER, Germany April 29. — Chancellor Luther yesterday sent a telegram of congratulation to Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, saying: "It is a special honor for me to greet you as chosen for the highest office the German people are capable of bestowing. With gratitude and esteem I cherish the memory of all that your person and name have signified for the Fatherland in times of greatest exertion and bitter need."

"I sincerely hope under your presidency the German people will gather strength through ever growing unity and that the nation's regeneration will continue to make progress on the road of peaceful and just development."

World Wide Recognition is hard to get!

To obtain world-wide recognition is no easy accomplishment!

Yet in a remarkably short space of time, the new Studebaker cars have won the endorsement of motor car buyers all over the globe. And not a "word of mouth" endorsement either. From Hong Kong to Timbuctoo the public has expressed its appreciation of the New Studebakers by "saying it with orders."

A 532 per cent gain in Studebaker sales in the British Isles; 134 per cent in Holland; and 90 per cent in Spain. These are a few examples that tell better than words what they think of the New Studebakers across the water.

The way people are turning to Studebaker in countries abroad is duplicated throughout Canada.

There's a reason for this trend of buying. A reason which will be perfectly obvious once you see the 22 new Studebaker models; once you examine their many features; once you compare the prices with all other cars — and learn the history-making values offered by these new cars.

Tiger Becomes Shy—This Week's Coolidge Stories—Leacock, Optimist or Humorist—John D.'s Golf

ECONOMY bulletins from the U. S. White House at Washington are now becoming a matter of almost daily routine. The latest brings the news that President Coolidge is applying his rigid principles to the matter of hats. He has given orders to have his last year's fedora cleaned, re-blocked and made to look as new as possible. He has no intention whatever of buying a new one, Easter or no Easter.

This is one case where the economy of Mr. Coolidge will be really felt.

NOW that the golfing season is getting underway photographs of John D. Rockefeller on the links will appear with greater regularity, as well as anecdotes on the subject. Getting in early and avoiding the rush, Rev. Dr. John E. White, of Anderson, South Carolina, announces that the oil king rode a bicycle between long shots twenty-one years ago.

"Mr. Rockefeller, at that time," relates the doctor, "would drive, mount his bicycle and one of his men would push him along to the ball. On the bicycle was a little basket in which were kept ice and pint bottles of barley water. Mr. Rockefeller would take a drink now and then."

"His game was straight, gleeful and short. After a good drive he would usually start singing under his breath a little song, 'Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming.'"

SIR JAMES BARRIE refers to the happiest memories of a lifetime as "walnuts." At the request of a New York columnist, a number of noted authors contributed what they considered their own most priceless walnuts for publication. Stephen Leacock, the Canadian, arrived late. His laconic comment in answer to the request for one instance was, "Haven't had it yet?" This naturally enough gave rise to the question whether Prof. Leacock was a chronic optimist or merely a confirmed humorist.

AS previously announced, Stewart Edward White, the author, persists in his determination to hunt lions and tigers with bow and arrows. He passed through Paris a few days ago with his friends, Dr. Arthur Young and Dr. Saxton Pope. The New York Times, which has previously commented in semi-sarcastic manner on the project, wonders, on behalf of Mr. White's many admirers on this continent, whether two doctors will be sufficient.

George Bernard Shaw, as Karl Kapok, the noted playwright caricatures him. Mr. Shaw has just recently learned to dance the tango.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, of U. S. A., dislikes paper cups.

IN an autobiography by Emil Fuchs, "With Pencil, Brush and Chisel," which has just been published, the author tells this story of Lord Rothschild, the great banker, and his curtness which at times came perilously near being rudeness. A distinguished stranger, calling on the financial leader, was shown to a seat, where he waited patiently for some time. When his patience was fast oozing away, he finally rose and said, "Perhaps you did not understand. My name is So-and-So."

"Very well, take two seats," was the answer.

A FRENCHMAN who is an exceedingly learned man in the realm of physics, Dr. Fournier D'Albe, has taken a try at the old-time game of peeping into the future. The time will come, he predicts, when we shall be able to crowd into one hour experiences which required a lifetime when our ancestors thronged the earth. It will be possible to communicate with any person anywhere on the globe at a moment's notice. Clothing will be so light that half a dozen changes of costume may be carried in a handbag. This savant, however, does not go so far as to specify the date on which all this is to happen or the period in which it may gradually occur.

THE TIGER becomes shy. Acting under the auspices of the French government which is saving films made of the home life of French men, the movie men tried to train their cameras on Georges Clemenceau and crank out an historic record for posterity. The Tiger roared and refused. Now the word comes that he has completed his great literary work, three volumes of 600 pages each, in which he has recorded the fruit of a lifetime's meditations. They will not be published, however, till ten years after his death. Those are his orders.

Got His First Start When He Lost His Job

Death Writes "Fins" to the Career of Samuel Childs—Introduced Imagination Into Eating-Houses

A FEW days ago, a short item in the news announced the death of a man who had played a peculiarly intimate and yet a particularly inconspicuous part in the lives of an enormous number of everyday people. This was Samuel S. Childs.

Thirty-eight years ago a man named Dennett found that two of his young employees in the restaurant business were incurring the jealousy of others of the hired help. These two young men were filled with an overweening desire to get on in the world and rows were the inevitable result. Consequently the ambitious couple, to use a popular expression, got the air. And so Samuel S. and William Childs, finding themselves jobless, decided to strike out for themselves. There are 107 restaurants to-day as circumstantial evidence of the fact that they carried out their intentions and became, so to speak, the eating-house kings of America.

Like many other famous men, the Childs brothers spent their early years on a farm. There were ten children in the family and there seems to have been plenty of work to go round.

The head of the household, however, must have been a shrewd and far-seeing man, for his son Samuel received a very fine education. He attended high school. From there he went to a medical college and finally to West Point, where he fitted himself for the American army.

But the army failed to attract Samuel S. Childs. He did what appeared to be a very eccentric thing. He went into the restaurant business. He went in and was shortly shot out again.

Having decided to plunge boldly, the Childs brothers took every dollar of their savings and leaped. They had tremendous faith in their belief that organized public eating was to be their highway to success.

They were right. The story of the growth of their string of white-tiled restaurants is the story of the success of any efficiently managed commercial enterprise and a little more.

The imagination of Samuel S. had a lot to do with it. He showed a great deal of vision in his picking of sites and selecting of menus. It was imagination which introduced the white-capped chef behind a griddle in the front window. A whole generation of small boys has watched these chefs flipping their griddle cakes with magnificent aplomb. The result of this was 42,000,000 helpings of griddle cakes during last year alone.

The restaurant man whose career came to a close a few days ago had evolved a philosophy of life for himself in which hard work played a prominent role. He has been often quoted as saying that the poor boy's opportunity was better to-day than it had ever been in the past and that the opportunities of to-morrow would far surpass those of to-day. Another of his oft-repeated philosophies was the remark that education was an excellent medium to success but only a medium after all, because success required original courage and enterprise coupled with the ability to withstand assault.

His career was testimony of the fact that he practised his doctrines as well as preached them.

Ambassador's Wife Is New Parisian Scapegoat

Anything Unusual or Embarrassing Is Immediately Laid at the Door of Mme. Krassin

PARISIANS, who dearly love to have a scapegoat on whom to tack all kinds of stories, good and bad, appear to have fixed on Mme. Krassin, wife of the Soviet ambassador to France, as their newest victim. Whenever anything funny or unusual or embarrassing occurs here now it is immediately laid at her door. People have even coined a pun about her. Instead of "Mme. L'ambassadrice" they call her "Mme. L'embarrassadrice."

The other evening there was stupefaction among the frequenters of a well-known dancing resort when the band began to play an antiquated polka. People stared at each other in amazement, wondering if the orchestra had been stricken with sudden madness. The bandmaster hastened to explain that one of his best patrons had requested the polka, wishing to dance before going home and being unfamiliar with the modern dances.

"Mme. Krassin!" murmured everybody, without taking trouble to look about and verify the conjecture.

"I HEAR the Scotch doctor is ill!"
"Yes, and he refuses to treat himself!"—Judge.

Mere Man Has a Right to Have His Headgear Noticed

The hats of prominent gentlemen are a fascinating study, and there is no reason why feminine headgear should monopolize the news with Easter, the real headgear season, approaching. On the left are two poses of Premier Ferguson of Ontario showing the effect of hats on his facial expression. There is his ordinary hat and his ordinary expression, his official hat and his official expression. In the centre are four photos of Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canada's high commissioner in London, who has the peculiar faculty, as these pictures show, of appearing dignified and distinguished in all varieties of headgear. On the right are Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty, the dominion's railway heads, wearing hats that they have made famous.

Wit of the King's Bench Steps Down a Centre of Controversy for Years

Justice Darling, Who Presided Over the Famous Case of Mr. A, Was a Continuous Humorist—Is There a Place For Jokes in the Court Room?

WE seem to be passing through an era of retirements. One by one a long line of prominent public men have doffed their robes of office and stepped out of the whirl, hustle and bustle into seclusion or semi-seclusion. An outstanding figure among these notables is the Right Honorable Sir Charles John Darling, one of Britain's "learned justices," who boasted that he never went to a school or university and a jurist who was known all over the English-speaking world as the wit of the King's Bench. His retirement is still comparatively recent. His reputation, humorous and otherwise, will remain very fresh in legal memories for many a long year yet.

Mr. Justice Darling, commonly referred to as "Darling J.," remained a controversy and a burning issue till his last day on the bench. His pronounced sense of humor was always making sudden appearances and there were many who felt, and also remarked publicly, that puns and comments conducive to courtroom laughter were not fitting for a man of his position. They felt that the dignity of the law was injured when a judge cracked jokes. They still think so.

Many others were his affectionate followers and admirers. They retell with relish the various anecdotes that have grown up around his career. As for instance, these two:

Witness (dramatically): I have been wedded to the truth since infancy.

Justice Darling: Yes, but how long have you been a widower?

And:
Another Witness: I am a clairvoyant.

Justice Darling: Then can you tell us what will be the result of this case?

He originally retired in November, 1923, but the shortage of judges brought him back again and gave him the opportunity of presiding over the most sensational case in his career, the famous blackmail case of the erstwhile unknown "Mr. A."

It is interesting to note that he has a great respect for newspapers. They are, he believes, the greatest powers for good and truth known to civilization—when they are rightly handled, which some are not.

And he pays his left-handed tribute to the reporter "who displays marvelous qualities of erudition, humor, general knowledge and imagination. Anything more poetic, but inaccurate,

A Judge's Farewell to The King's Bench

AMONG his many natural gifts, "Darling J." numbers a neat talent for versification. His poetry has no lack of charm and one of his outstanding bits is his farewell to the bench, written on the eve of his retirement:

Long worn, now cast aside; red robe, lie there—
Not, when the organ throbs the nave along,
By chests of kingly dust,
And chantries old,
Shall I, with measured step, and quickened heart,
Pass to the Judge's place: and bowed, implore Myself be not condemned
Nor less than right decree.
Not with resounding trumpets, may I come
To sit in judgment on the regal bench
Dividing false from true,
With sword and even scale,
Mantle and stole laid by, and cap of doom;
Beret, alone, I wear no ermine more;
Nor judge—yet one Assize
I, fearful, must attend.

than the reports of what goes on in my courts it would be difficult to imagine."

Little, slim, with long white hands and a face like ivory, a face that is the face of an actor, this is Justice Darling. He may leave the courtroom behind him, but his personality lingers there.

What's a Million or So In a Case Like This?

Possibility of a Jam in Solar Traffic With an Earth-Sun Collision Alarms an Unknown

PROF. C. A. CHANT, the famous Canadian astronomer, whose study of the question of eclipses here and in Australia has made him an international authority, is credited with the following story, rightly or wrongly.

At a certain popular lecture on the subject of astronomy, the sensational statement was made that in 70,000,000 years the sun and the earth would collide, with very disastrous results to the latter, if not the former.

A man at the back of the hall rose in an agitated manner and gasped: "How many years did I understand you to say, sir?"

"Seventy millions," replied the unknown scientist who happened to be giving the address.

"Thank Heaven," said the interrupter with an audible sigh of relief; "I thought you said seven millions."

COUNT MAY COME TO CANADA

IT was rumored some time ago that Count Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian republic, and one of that country's most outstanding leaders, would come to Canada with his family and make his future home here. Doubt was expressed in some quarters as to the advisability of encouraging immigrants, if you care to call them that, of this nature.

Anyone who thought that the count or his family had any intention of playing the idle aristocrat role might note the courage and grit the countess has displayed. While in refuge in the Balkans with her husband and children, she helped to win bread by running a small ferry-boat and acting as driver of a motor car. Now she is seriously considering going on the vaudeville stage in an attempt to add to the income of her exiled family. This despite the fact that the Karolyi family was at one time probably the richest in Hungary.

Damaged in Transit

A MISSIONARY in India had the hymn "Rock of Ages" translated into Hindustani. On retranslation into English by a student, the first two lines bore this inspiring and illuminating aspect:

"Very old stone, split for my benefit,
Let me absent myself under your fragments."

Disappointed to Find He Was an Ex-Premier

Sir Robert Borden Was Sadly Disillusioned in His Own Home Riding of Halifax

HAVING represented the city of Halifax in the commons for many years, Sir Robert Borden for a time believed he was no stranger to the good people of the eastern gateway to the dominion. He was sadly undeceived, however, shortly after he laid down the onerous duties of premier.

Included among the large number who pressed forward to meet him at an informal reception in Halifax was a middle-aged lady well known for her interest in child welfare.

After the manner of so many other one-idea enthusiasts, this lady imagined everybody else must necessarily be particularly interested in her particular field, and when she got the chance to talk to the guest of honor launched forth into her favorite topic.

Sir Robert was bored, but did his best to simulate a polite interest, though listening with only half an ear.

Suddenly he became all attention when he realized the lady was thanking him profusely for what he had done to make the lives of little babies healthier and happier. He was particularly puzzled when he heard himself referred to as "the greatest benefactor of future generations this country has ever known."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have carried off such a situation with graceful ease. Hon. Arthur Meighen would have looked wise and maintained a discreet silence. Premier Mackenzie King would have tactfully changed the conversation.

But however great may have been his abilities in other lines, Sir Robert Borden never was a nimble-witted politician.

Try as he would, the ex-premier could not recall any child legislation of his that deserved such extravagant praise, and said something to this effect to his fulsome admirer.

"Legislation? Legislation?" said the lady, with a look of extreme surprise. "What is legislation to do with your business?"

"As member of parliament and former premier, I am naturally supposed to have something to do with legislation," explained Sir Robert, his brows compressed in perplexity.

The lady gasped with dismay, then said: "Oh! Are you a member of parliament? I'm so disappointed! I thought you were the man who condenses milk for babies!"

SOLOMON WAS OVERRATED

AN amusing story is told by Sir Montagu Sharpe, K.C., of a certain American judge who was asked in his court by two wrangling women to decide the case of the real motherhood of a baby.

He proposed, upon the great authority of Solomon, to cut the baby in two.

But the mothers would not hear of that, and said:

"Oh, if it comes to that, you can keep the baby," and they left the court.

When, some hours afterwards, the judge was found carrying the baby through some of the precincts of the court, he was heard to declare that he thought Solomon a greatly overrated judge.

HAS A PROFESSOR'S MEMORY

LIKE many other famous men, Lord Balfour has a bad memory for faces.

A story is told of how one day—he was plain Arthur Balfour at the time—he went into a Bond Street teashop for a cup of tea.

On leaving he presented the waitress with a fairly substantial tip, which the girl acknowledged with a "Thank you, Mr. Balfour."

The latter looked up in surprise, regarded the girl attentively for some seconds, and then asked her how she had recognized him.

"Oh," she replied, with a smile, "I was parlormaid at your house for seven years."

That same evening in the House of Commons a colleague of Mr. Balfour started to chaff him about the incident.

"Why, how on earth did you get to know about it?" asked the bewildered statesman.

"Well," was the reply, "I happened to be sitting right opposite you at the same table, only, of course, you didn't recognize me."

COBBS DROPPED
THEIR SEVENTH
STRAIGHT GAME

Third Week Finds Unreckoned
Contenders Clinging to Heels of Champion Giants and Senators.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 29.—Opening of the third week of the 1925 Major League season today finds unreckoned contenders still clinging to the flying coat tails of the champion New York Giants and Washington Senators, with pre-season first division favorites manifesting no signs of recovering from slumps.

As Washington again stepped out into undisputed possession of first place from a tie with Philadelphia
in the American League yesterday,
the veteran Walter Johnson giving Boston only four hits, the Detroit Tigers pitched deeper into the mire
by dropping their seventh straight game to the Browns by 5 to 3.

The Yankees, saved by rain yesterday, have likewise been one of the early season disappointments, with only a slight edge on Detroit.

In the National League Pittsburgh has almost matched Detroit in a failure to strike the gait figured for them on the basis of their form last year. Signs of a recovery are seen by Pirate followers in their last two victories over the Cardinals, however.

With good pitching by Morrison and hard hitting by the entire team yesterday, McKee's entry came through with a clean cut verdict, 7 to 3.

The Cincinnati Reds, continuing to play winning baseball with a make-shift line-up and good pitching broke their tie for second place with Chicago and gained a full game on the leading Giants by decisively defeating the Chicago Cubs by 9 to 3.

The Phillies made possible the tightening of the National League race by driving Barnes off the slab
in the seventh with a four run rally which trounced the Giants 7 to 5.

Cleveland in the American battle-carried their place against the aggressive push of the White Sox, when George Uhle let the Sox down with five hits while his team mates were gathering nine.

George Sisler led the attack of the St. Louis Browns with three singles, making the fourteenth consecutive game in which he has hit safely, and helped his team to a 5 to 3 victory over Detroit.

BALL CLUB TO HOLD CAMPAIGN
TO RAISE FUNDS

Objective Is Set at $3,500—Committees Were Appointed at Meeting Last Night.

The question of a first class baseball team to carry Sherbrooke's colors during the coming season is being put squarely up to the local sportsmen by the officials of the Baseball Club as a result of the decision reached at a general meeting held at the American House last night.

In other words, the club officials decided that activities during the 1925 summer months would be determined by the response from the fans in a campaign to be launched for $3,500. Of this amount $2,000 is needed to cover the deficit carried over from last year's operations, and $1,500 to start the season in good financial standing. It was also decided in connection with the financial campaign to raffle an automobile.

Committees were appointed last night to carry on the campaign, and it was stated that a financial statement for 1924 would immediately be published.

If it is decided to have a baseball team this season, it is planned to enter the Green Mountain League if this organization operates, and if not to play independent baseball.

HOCKEY

CITY OF SEATTLE TO CONTROL
ITS OWN TEAM

(Associated Press Despatch)
SEATTLE, April 29.—Ice hockey will come into its own in Seattle as a result of the approval of the civic auditorium plans in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. A team owned and controlled by Seattle capital will represent this city in the Pacific Coast Hockey Association race as soon as the auditorium can be completed.

E. T. SCHOOL HOCKEY CUP
AWARDED TO B. C. S.

Of the four schools who constituted the Eastern Townships High School Hockey League this year,
Bishop's College School alone played a full schedule of games. St. Patrick's Academy, however, claimed points by default, which, had they been allowed, would have placed them on even terms with
B. C. S. The Lennoxville boys protested that the St. Patrick's team had not taken reasonable steps to arrange fixtures with St. Andrew's, and consequently should not be allowed points for matches which,
owing to their procrastination,
were not played.

The matter was referred to Mr.
Edgar W. Smith, president of the League, who has now addressed the following letter to the Principal of St. Patrick's Academy and the Headmaster of Bishop's College School.

"Gentlemen—
From the correspondence which I have at my disposal concerning this controversy it is my opinion that the following points are established:

(1) The officials of the Stanstead College Hockey Club were not informed at a date sufficiently early in the season — as to the number of schools in the League to enable them to arrange their schedule so as to be able to play the necessary six games. For this I think that Bishop's College School and St. Patrick's Academy are equally responsible.

(2) St. Patrick's Academy was at fault in not trying to arrange their individual hockey games with Stanstead College at a date sufficiently early in the season. As by the correspondence of Mr. E. C.
Amaron to Brother O'Callaghan I understand that the first move in this direction was made about March 10th, 1925, which is undoubtedly late for regular League games to be played on rinks where artificial ice is not in use.

FOUR KILLED IN A FIRE AT PORTLAND, ORE.

Apartment Took Fire — Forty Persons Escaped from Building
— One Person Injured, Probably Fatally.

(Associated Press Despatch)
PORTLAND, Ore., April 29.—
Four persons were killed and one injured, probably fatally, in a fire which early today swept the Hendricks apartments here.

Forty persons, awakened when the fire was burning, escaped from the building, which contained forty-six apartments.

E. Sullivan, 55, died from injuries sustained when he leaped from the fourth floor and missed a fireman's net.

The flames raged for more than hour before firemen could enter the building to search for the bodies.

The bodies of Miss Clara Sher, 20 years old, Miss Frazier, 20 years old, and A. Lawr, a blind victim, were found.

team; therefore it is my opinion that the Championship for the year 1924-25 should, in equity, be awarded to Bishop's College School.
Yours very truly,
(Signed) Edgar W. Smith."

DEMPESE REFERRED COMMIS-SION TO HIS MANAGER

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 29.—Jack Dempey has referred the New York
State Athletic Commission to Jack Kearns, his manager, for its answer to the question of whether he was ready to fight Harry Willis.
Paying a friendly call yesterday
on the body which a few weeks ago declared him ineligible to box in this state because he had failed satisfactorily to answer Willis' formal challenge, the heavyweight champion was questioned briefly as to the possibility of a Willis fight. To each query he replied: "Jack Kearns is my manager."

the title, was at one fall.

In a preliminary match Theodore Steinke, of Germany, defeated Geo.
Walker, of Canada, in two straight falls, the first in twelve minutes and fifty-nine seconds and the second in twenty minutes and forty-seven

TWO THOUSAND GUINEAS

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEWMARKET, England, April 29.—
Manna won the Two Thousand Guineas Stake run here today.
Manna is by Phalaris, out of Waf-les, and is owned by H. E. Morris.
Sir G. Bullock's St. Bevan was second and Sir E. Hulton's Oojah was third. Thirteen horses ran.
The betting was: Manna, 10 to 8
against; St. Bevan 9 to 1 and Oojah 10 to 1 against.
Manna won by two lengths, while
St. Bevan finished four lengths ahead of Oojah.

ag comparative outsider, romp away
with the big stakes for the million that is the first classic of the English flat season and which is re-

EXAMINATION
OF W. T. MARLOW
IS CONTINUED

General Foreign Freight Agent of C.N.R. Answered Questions of H. J. Symington, K.C.

(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, April 29.—Cross examination of W. T. Marlow, general foreign freight agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was continued when the special parliamentary committee on ocean rates met this morning.

In answer to H. J. Symington, K.C., Government counsel, Mr. Marlow said that some members of the North Atlantic eastbound conference were also members of the United Kingdom westbound conference, and also of continental westbound conferences.

"Is there any essential difference between the method of fixing rates eastbound and westbound?"
asked Mr. Symington.

Mr. Marlow replied that he knew nothing about the fixing of westbound rates. The eastbound were not considered in making westbound rates nor were westbound rates considered in making eastbound rates. Earnings were considered, however. He thought that the New York conference took into consideration the fact that the traffic westbound was much lighter than the eastbound, and that this was a factor in making rates.
The general result of voyages both east and west was considered in fixing rates.

Generally speaking, the rates were lower to the continent than to the United Kingdom, Mr. Marlow said.

"Why?" asked Mr. Symington.

"Several factors are involved,"
Mr. Marlow said.

The continental conference was a comparatively new thing, and at one time it was practically impossible to arrive at a common ground.
There was dissension between Dutch and German lines, and certain lines had withdrawn. This was partly due to unsatisfactory business conditions.

"Rates to the continent are lower because the continental conference is not so closely welded or so efficient as the United Kingdom conference?" asked Mr. Symington.

"That is one reason," replied the witness.

STATES THERE
SHOULD BE NO

for agriculture this year in the budget, although the success of agriculture was of vital importance to Canada. Describing the hardships of a farmer's wife on the prairies,
he said that the only consolation
she could find in this year's budget was a decrease in the tax on grain, although only about one farmer in five hundred ate grapefruit. He advocated long term rural credits and a reduction in the capitalization of the Canadian National Railways, as a solution for some of Canada's problems.

Supported Budget.

Pierre Casgrain, Liberal member for Charlevoix-Montmorency, supported the budget, arguing that it contained stability which the Conservatives asked for last year. He also approved of the tax on export power, and also a tariff commission, with only advisory powers.
Mr. Casgrain stated that conditions were good in Canada, and that there were 84 per cent more woollen industries in Canada today than in July last year. In Montreal there was more building than ever before and the Canadian dollar was at par with the American dollar. He also said there was less work in the United States than in Canada.

Freight Rates Too High.

Freight rates were too high on agricultural products, Quebec had fewer miles of railway per capita than any province in Canada, yet it was impossible to get a branch line for that province. Mr. Casgrain advocated that the Government subsidize the port of Quebec and assist in the developing of tourist trade throughout Canada.

OIL AND PAPER
FIRMS BEFORE
BOSTON COURTS

Beacon Oil Company Brings Suit
for $1,000,000 Against International Paper Company of New York.

(Associated Press Despatch)
BOSTON, Mass., April 29th.—
Trial of a suit involving $1,000-000, brought by the Beacon Oil Company, of Everett, against the International Paper Company of
New York, began yesterday before Judge Morton and a jury in the United States District Court.

The plaintiff company alleges that the paper company, which controls more than a score of mills in Canada and the United States, in October, 1920, entered into a contract to purchase the following year 550,000 barrels of fuel oil at $3-50 a barrel. The purchasers, the bill stated, took only 266,802 barrels, and the price in the meantime dropped to low levels, entailing heavy loss to the vendor firm.

The defendant company declares that because of strikes and other unfavorable conditions it was unable to carry out its terms.

RUM-RUNNING PROJECT WAS NOT A SUCCESS

Most of Liquor Seized by U. S. Authorities, States Sir Broderick Hartwell.

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, April, 29.—The Daily Mail, which recently told of Sir Broderick Hartwell's misadventure in whiskey running off the United States coast, now says he has circularized his supporters to the effect that he lost everything in the debacle.

Of the sixty-one thousand cases in the shipment, the United States authorities are declared to have seized more than twenty-two thousand.

About six thousand were sold and the proceeds spent on vessels, coal and other things. Thirty-two cases remain available for sale, the circular says, but it is problematic whether they can be disposed of, the risk of seizures being very great.

"It is obvious," Sir Broderick continues, "that a big loss of capital is inevitable, and every contributor has the right to sue me for non-fulfillment of my guarantee, but I have lost everything and any such action would only result in hampering my endeavors to save something from the wreck, and I am the only person who can do so."

MUMTAZ BEGUM AGAIN ON STAND IN MURDER CASE

Case of Nine Men Accused of Murdering Abdul Kadir Baula Continued Today—Girl Claims She Found Greater Happiness in Home of Maharajah of Indore.

(Associated Press Despatch) BOMBAY, April 29.—Mumtaz Begum today continued her ordeal on the witness stand during the third session of the trial of the nine men accused of murdering her protector, Abdul Kadir Baula, rich Mohammedan merchant. The former favorite of the Maharajah of Indore declared that Baula supplied her with ample funds and that she found greater happiness in his house than at the Maharajah's palace in Indore. The Maharajah, she said, was not sincere when he said she could leave his household whenever she pleased. Mumtaz admitted that she did not tell the Maharajah she wanted to leave him. She escaped from Indore, because of her baby's death, she said. Answering a question from the Counsel Mumtaz said: "A female child was born to me, but a nurse killed it."

BUDGET DEBATES AFFORD A CURIOUS COMPARISON

In British Parliament the Budget and Debate Were Over in a Single Sitting.

(Associated Press Despatch) OTTAWA, April, 29.—Debates on the budget in Ottawa and Westminster this year afford a curious comparison in methods. Cable despatches indicate that although the Chancellor of the Exchequer only submitted his budget yesterday, the resolutions were adopted before the House adjourned. Budget and debate were over in a single sitting. Here, the budget was brought down on March 24th. With the exception of a few days recess at Easter, the House has discussed the budget ever since. There have been nearly a hundred speeches. And even with that, the debate is not scheduled to close before Friday morning.

A special committee is working on a new rule to limit speeches.

REV. A. S. REID DECLINED TO VACATE OFFICE

Would Not Hand Over Papers to Newly Appointed Clerk of Montreal Presbytery.

(Associated Press Despatch) MONTREAL, April 29.—Rev. A. S. Reid, clerk of the Montreal Presbytery, was relieved of office, and overtures will be made to the General Assembly to remove Rev. Dr. D. J. Fraser, principal of the Presbyterian Theological College, and any other professors of the college opposed to church union, according to decisions reached yesterday at the final general meeting of the Montreal Presbytery, prior to entry into the United Church in June. Tensions charged the atmosphere when the Rev. A. S. Reid declined to vacate his office or to hand over the papers and documents of the office to the Rev. William Munroe, who was appointed the new clerk. Upon declining to accede to the wish of the Presbytery as expressed in resolution, Rev. Mr. Reid was asked in another resolution to forthwith hand over the papers and records to the new clerk. Again he declined.

At the close of the afternoon session Rev. Mr. Reid was again asked to comply with the desires of the Presbytery. Scooping all the papers on the table into a bag, he closed it and holding on to the bag tightly again declined to hand them over. A committee was appointed to take such steps as were deemed necessary to secure possession of the records.

MAINTAINED HIS WIFE WAS KIDNAPPED BY TWO MEN

Chicago Restaurant Manager Is Held in Connection With Finding of Torso of Women in Catch Basin.

(Associated Press Despatch) CHICAGO, April 29.—Frank Kocurek, manager of a restaurant and formerly a butcher, was taken into custody today in connection with the finding of a week ago of the torso of a woman in a catch basin here. After questioning Kocurek for several hours, the authorities announced that they believed the woman to be his wife and that he had slain her a year ago, using his knowledge of butchering in dismembering the body. Kocurek vehemently denied this, although he admitted that the body of the woman might be that of his wife who was maintained as kidnapped by two men on May 11, 1924.

FRANCE TAKES PRECAUTIONS RE 'MAY DAY'

All Troops in Paris District to Be Held in Barracks, Ready for Any Call—Motorcycle Police to Patrol City.

(Associated Press Despatch) PARIS, April, 29.—Aroused by last week's Communist shooting incident, the French authorities are taking extraordinary precautions to guarantee order during the celebration of May Day. It has been decided that all the troops in the Paris district shall be held in barracks, ready for any call. Motorcycle police will patrol the city ceaselessly.

There will be no taxicab service, the drivers unanimously having decided to observe the day with a general strike.

URGE EMPLOYEES TO ABSTAIN FROM WORK

BERLIN, April, 29.—A committee of the combined German trades unions publishes a summons in Vorwaerts urging all employees to abstain from work on May 1st, as a demonstration of the annual Labor festival.

The Nationalist trade union, the group which supported Von Hindenburg in the presidential election, has issued a manifesto insisting that there is no occasion to celebrate the "international" as even the Socialistically governed Allied countries indulged in brutal militarism.

The suggestion to abstain from work it termed mere mockery of German labor.

IMMIGRATION FIGURES SHOW AN INCREASE

During March 2,731 Canadians, Who Had Been in U. S. Six Months or Longer, Returned to Canada.

OTTAWA, April, 29.—In March of this year immigration to Canada totaled 6,575 compared with 2,210 in February, an increase of 4,365. Of the 6,575, an official statement issued by the Department of Immigration and Colonization shows that 3,273 were British, 1,297 from the United States and 2,005 from other countries. In the same month 2,731 Canadians, who had been in the United States six months or longer, returned to the Dominion.

For the fiscal year 1924-25, ended March 31st, last, the total immigration was 111,362, made up of 53,173 from the British Isles, 15,818 from the United States and 42,366 from other countries. In the same period 43,775 Canadians returned from the United States, so that if this number is added to the general immigration total of 111,362, the combined count is 155,137.

CONSENTED TO ABDICATE AFTER SIGNING OF GRECO-TURKISH AGREEMENT

Chief Problem Has Been Fulfillment of Clause in Lausanne Treaty Providing for Exchange of Minority Populations.

LONDON, April 29.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Athens says the Greek patriarch Constantinos, who was expelled from Constantinople on January 30 last by the Turks, consented to abdicate after the signing of a Greco-Turkish agreement.

The above despatch follows closely upon advice to the Exchange Telegraph from Constantinople last Friday, but unconfirmed from any other source, to the effect that an agreement had been signed settling all the problems affecting Turkey and Greece.

The chief problem at issue has fulfillment of the clause in the Treaty of Lausanne providing for the exchange of minority populations.

IS IMPOSSIBLE TO REOPEN THE NEGOTIATIONS

Australian Premier States that if Treaty Is Not Brought Before Canadian Parliament It Will Automatically Lapse.

(Associated Press Despatch) MELBOURNE, April, 29.—Referring to a statement purporting to have been made by MacKenzie King, the Canadian premier, that further negotiations would be necessary before the Canadian parliament could ratify the Canadian Australian trade treaty, Premier Bruce said that it was impossible to reopen negotiations as the agreement had already been ratified by the Australian parliament.

The premier added that if the treaty was not brought up before the Canadian parliament it would automatically lapse.

TRIBAL CONTINGENT HAS ENTERED FRENCH MOROCCO

(Associated Press Despatch) PARIS, April 29.—Sidi Mohammed, brother of Abd El Krim, Moroccan rebel leader, has entered the French zone of Morocco at the head of a big Harka, or tribal contingent, according to official information, received by the French Government.

The governor of French Morocco has sent a regiment of reinforcements, but it is stated that French

INSTITUTES EXPENSE TRIMMING CAMPAIGN

(Associated Press Despatch) PARIS, April 29.—Finance Minister Caillaux has instituted an expense trimming campaign by writing each minister: "See me personally so that the most rigorous economy can be exercised in next year's budget."

Every useless employee, he added, must be discharged.

will not attack the tribesmen unless provoked.

Extensive military precautions are considered necessary, because it is feared that as soon as the feast of Ramadan is over, in a few days, the tribesmen's religious fanaticism will force Sidi Mohammed to attack or lose prestige among his followers.
