Head Of Irish Free State Government Assassinated Near Cork Last Evening

Michael Collins Was Shot Down From Ambush Only a Few Hours After he Had Been Given an Ovation by the Residents of Cork City, Which Was Freed Less Than Two Weeks Ago by the Military Under Collins' Command—Many High Tributes Paid to Commander-in-Chief of Irish National Army—Stated That the Dail Eireann Will be Summoned Immediately, Probably Meeting on Saturday.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, August 23.—The assassination of Michael Collins, at Bandon, Cork, yesterday, comes directly on the heels of the announcement by the Irish irregulars of a policy of ambushes and raids in their fight against the Free State Government.

Collins was shot down from ambush only a few hours after he had been given an ovation by the residents of Cork city, which was freed less than two weeks ago by the military under Collins' command. The place where he fell is part of the constituency which he represented in the Dail Eireann.

News of the outrage, only meagre details of which have been received here, came too late for publication in the morning newspapers, the majority of which comment on the breaking up of the organized warfare in Southern Ireland. The "Times" prints under the caption, "The Hour For Leadership," a tribute to Collins as the successor to Arthur Griffith, as directing head of the fight for the Free State, which assumes unexpected timeliness in view of his assassination.

"In the public eye," it says, "Michael Collins is a man of energy and obvious ability, whose dash and personal disregard for danger have endeared him to young Ireland. General Collins' shoulders no doubt are broad and his frame strong, but the yoke that now lies upon him is heavier than that which Parnell bore and beneath which Redmond fell."

FREE STATE STAFF ISSUES MESSAGE TO ARMY

(Associated Press Despatch)
DUBLIN, August 23.—Early this morning the chief of the Free State general staff issued the following to the army:

"Stand calmly to your posts, then bravely and undaunted to your work. Let no cruel act of reprisal blench your bright honor.

"Every dark hour that Michael Collins met since 1916 seemed but to steel that brave strength of his and temper his gay bravery. You are left each inheritors of this strength and of that bravery.

"To each of you falls his unfinished work. No darkness in this hour, no loss of a comrade will daunt you at it."

DAIL EIREANN WILL BE SUMMONED IMMEDIATELY

(Associated Press Despatch)
DUBLIN, August 23.—It was announced this morning that in view of the assassination of Michael Collins, the Dail Eireann will be summoned immediately, probably meeting on Saturday of the present week.

IN PASSING OF GRIFFITH AND COLLINS, FREE STATERS HAVE LOST TWO MEN THEY WILL FIND HARD TO REPLACE

During the conferences in London on the treaty and various other subjects connected with Ireland, David Lloyd George, the Premier; Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, and Lord Birkenhead, the Lord High Chancellor, were said to have held Mr. Collins in the highest esteem. With the passing of Arthur Griffith, who died on August 12th, and Collins, the Irish Free Staters have lost two men they will find hard to replace.

When Mr. Griffith was buried Collins attended dressed in full uniform as commander-in-chief of the army, as the chief mourner for the Government. Although threats had been made against his life and his friends advised against his participating, Collins marched in the funeral procession to the cemetery. Collins was still in his thirties. Last May it was announced that Miss Kitty Kiernan, who belongs to one of the leading families in Longford, was engaged to marry Collins.

Little is known of the early life of Collins except that he is said to have been born of humble parents in County Kerry. He was educated at the National school, and after working with a brother in the grocery business, entered the postal service. At one time he was employed in the London Post Office. Collins sprang into prominence in October, 1914, in connection with the Sinn Fein movement. In 1916 he commanded a section of the rebel army in Ireland, which Patrick H. Pearse, who later was executed, was commander-in-chief. It was charged in a Government paper that "A priest named Michael Collins," accompanied Sir Roger Casement, who later was executed for treason in connection with the Sinn Fein plot with Germany, on a mission to Germany to visit Irish prisoners of war.

Although a member of the Imperial Parliament, Collins never sat in Westminster. During the troublous times between the Sinn Feiners and the British forces, Collins was said to have made his headquarters in Dublin, although he was prepared to move hither and thither on the shortest of notice. The Royal Irish Constabulary, the Black and Tans and the Auxiliaries frequently raided premises where Collins was supposed to be, but he always managed to elude them. His boldness was a by-

LLOYD GEORGE PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO MR. COLLINS

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Aug. 23.—Premier Lloyd George today sent the following message to William T. Cosgrave, acting chairman of the Irish Provisional Government:

"I deeply regret to hear of the death of the Commander-in-Chief of the Free State Army. In his death the Free State has lost a fearless soldier, a leader of great energy and devotion, and a man of remarkable personal character. Please convey to the members of the Government my profound sympathy with them in their loss of one of Ireland's most brilliant sons at a moment when Ireland most needed his special qualities of courage and resolution."

BLOW TO IRISH FREE STATE IS ALMOST IRREPARABLE

(Associated Press Despatch)
BELFAST, Aug. 23.—The Evening Telegraph says: "The blow to the Irish Free State is almost irreparable, especially as Collins and Griffith stood solidly for the treaty and they leave no outstanding figure behind them. Ulster will sympathize with the Free State in its trial and tragedies, which are directly due to Irishmen themselves. They have rightly or wrongly been given a great charge by the British Government and it is for them to carry on in spite of the disappointments and discouragements of recent months."

Exploding Bombs Kept Rail Strike Fever At High Pitch In Many Centres--Railway Executives Meeting In New York Today

Most of Railways Will Consider Peace Proposals Submitted by the Leaders of Transportation Brotherhoods, Acting as Mediators--Trouble on Southern Railway, Principal Sufferer from Trainmen's Walkouts During Past Few Days, Began to Clear Away Today.

(Associated Press Despatch)
CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—As railroad executives gathered in New York today to consider peace proposals by the heads of the transportation brotherhoods, acting as mediators, in the shopmen's strike, trouble on the Southern Railway, the principal sufferer from the trainmen's walkouts during the past few days, began to clear away.

Exploding bombs kept the rail strike fever at a high pitch in some of the United States rail centres, however.

A tremendous explosion early today in the Chicago and Alton round house at Venice, Ill., shook buildings within a radius of three miles. Police were rushed to the shops when further violence was threatened.

Bombs were hurled at the homes of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe employees at San Bernardino, Calif. Michigan Central officials increased their reward for the arrest of plotters accused of causing the Gary, Ind., wreck on Sunday, to $5,000. The original reward was one thousand dollars. Little Rock, Ark., police failed to locate a Missouri Pacific shop employee who was reported to have been kidnapped and severely beaten on Monday night. Switchmen in the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis yards at Paducah, Ky., refused to go to work because of an alleged attack on one of their number by a railroad guard. Train service was restored on the Southern Railway following the removal of most of the troops which had been on guard in the Spencer and Salisbury, N.C., and Princeton, Ind., yards.

The guard was reduced in a compromise with trainmen who walked out when soldiers were sent to quell disturbances.

STEEL CORPORATIONS GRANT INCREASES

Before the steamer left all that Mr. Fielding would say was: "I am going to Cherbourg, Paris, and to Geneva. My business is chiefly commercial as I intend to negotiate the French treaty."

Mr. Lapointe said: "I suppose you are interested in knowing what we will do abroad. The two important matters to be looked after by my colleague and myself will be, with Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High

ANTHRACITE OPERATORS FAIL TO REACH AGREEMENT WITH MINERS' LEADERS -- HIGH WAGES OFFERED

Joint Conference at Philadelphia Adjourned Finally Last Night to Meet Again at Call of Secretary upon Request of Either Side--Bituminous Miners in Westmoreland and Fayette Counties Offered an Increase in Wages Equal to the Highest the Mining Industry Has Ever Paid.

(Associated Press Despatch)
PHILADELPHIA, August 23.—The joint conference of anthracite operators and representatives of the miners finally adjourned last night to meet again at the call of the secretary upon the request of either side.

HIGHEST WAGES EVER PAID OFFERED

(Associated Press Despatch)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—Forty thousand bituminous miners in Westmoreland and Fayette Counties today had before them an offer of increased wages equal to the highest the mining industry has ever paid. In these two counties, generally known as the non-union field, before the call of the miners' strike, many of the men are now organized and the public today awaited developments from the heart of the bituminous region.

Union leaders of seventy-five locals, controlling more than ten thousand miners, voted almost unanimously to pass up the average increase of nearly two dollars and fifty cents a day until recognition of the union was accorded by the independent companies making the offer.

Miners operators today were prepared for a rush of returning miners and extra deputies were on hand to prevent disorder.

AGREE TO GRANT 1920 SCALE

(Associated Press Despatch)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 23.—A general increase in wages for miners and coke workers in the Fayette region will become operative today, it became known here yesterday, when independent companies said they were prepared to announce a scale which will be the same as that of 1920.

The new scale will embody increases of from thirty-six to fifty-eight per cent for the various classes of labor in the mines and around the coke ovens and will equal the highest rates ever paid for this class of work in the district it was said.

Assassination Of Collins Preceded By A Kind Of Battle Of Propaganda In Dublin

Collins' March Through Streets of Dublin Behind Body of Arthur Griffith, His Colleague, Was One of the Most Impressive Incidents in Irish History, Because Everybody Believed that Collins Himself Had Been Marked for Death.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Aug. 23.—The assassination of Michael Collins was preceded in Dublin by a kind of battle of propaganda, both the Provisional Government and representatives of the irregular army posting placards which set forth their respective aims and claims. Travellers reaching London after attending the funeral of Arthur Griffith say they found curious crowds assembled about these posters.

One manifesto charged that the Provisional Government had secretly dispatched an emissary to the South to assassinate Eamonn de Valera. Side by side with this was another interpretation of a manifesto which the enemies of the Free State imagined as being sent out by Collins and the members of his staff. It was worded something like this: "Men of Ireland, your King and country call you. You who have fought so bravely for the cause of the Empire in Egypt, India and elsewhere are now needed again for the defence of the Empire."

Another and longer poster, apparently placed by Governmental officers, dealt with destruction caused by the irregulars throughout Ireland. It argued that the irregulars' movement was destroying every reasonable hope for Ireland's prosperity and happiness, and appealed to the citizens generally to stand solidly behind the Provisional Government.

The grief over the death of Arthur Griffith was accompanied by a warm expression of admiration and affection for Collins, whose three hour march through the streets of Dublin behind the body of his colleague was one of the most impressive incidents in Irish history, because everybody believed that Collins himself had been marked for death.

This sinister fear seemed to pervade the very atmosphere of the capital. The general terrorism and uncertainty had laden the atmosphere with dire apprehension for the future of the country. If Collins had any premonition of his fate he did not show it, but walked calmly forward, a handsome, heroic figure, boyish and confident.

STREET AT CORNER OF KING AND BOWEN REPAIRED

The Street Railway Company has done a laudable action in repairing the section of King Street East at Bowen Avenue, where there were several deep holes alongside the tracks. These holes have been a menace to traffic for some months, and it is a relief to have them at last repaired.

The section of the street affected has been repaired with paving blocks.

FAREWELL TO SALVATION ARMY HEADS.

The final farewell service to Captain and Mrs. Harrison, for the past two years in charge of the work of the Salvation Army in this city, was held in the Salvation Army Hall last evening. A large number of friends and members of the congregation were present and expressed in suitable terms a farewell and best wishes to their leaders.

Captain and Mrs. Harrison sang a duet during the evening and the Captain made his farewell address. They will leave this afternoon for their new home in Matance, Ont., where they will have charge of the work of the Army.

Ensign and Mrs. Martin, of Toronto, will arrive in Sherbrooke tomorrow and will take charge of the work in this locality.

Sunday School Picnic

The weather interfered with the holding of the picnic planned for the Primary Department of the Methodist Sunday School yesterday afternoon. Instead of going to the Park, as had been intended, the little ones, under the supervision of the primary superintendent, Mrs. C. E. White, met in Douglas Hall, where games, a peanut hunt, etc., took the place of outdoor sports as far as possible. The basket lunch provided completed the afternoon's pleasure, the children forgetting in their enjoyment the deprivation of a day in the woods.

General Notes

Mrs. Henry Goodwin and her son Milton are spending a few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nodding.

Misses Maude Parker and Irene McCurdy have returned from Conference Heights, Knowlton, where they spent a delightful week at the girls' summer camp in company with about eighty others from Montreal and the Eastern Townships.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Norcross are spending several weeks at Garthby, camping.

Mr. Max Norcross is in Drummondville, and Mr. Ashley Norcross left yesterday for Montreal.

children under twelve years of age will be admitted free to the grounds at any time of the day or night.

This is a very creditable move on the part of the exhibition authorities, and is one which should meet with the approval of all citizens, especially those who are possessors of large families. It is a true indication of the good intentions of the directors, and they state that this will become an annual feature of the exhibition, if the children seem to appreciate the action.

On Tuesday the exhibition will be in full swing and all exhibitions and attractions will be in place. In addition to the usual attractions, the directors have this year provided a children's playground, equipped with swings, sec-saws, slides, etc., and many other diversions which delight the hearts of all children. This playground will be in the charge of competent attendants, who will look after the children, so that parents may leave them there with safety.

The Rotary Club members have been invited to attend the fair on this day and will lunch at the grounds on the grounds at twelve-fifteen o'clock. The judging in all classes of cattle and horses will be in full swing and three interesting races are scheduled on the list of track events.

Tuesday will therefore be one of the big days of the week and is one of the best possible days on which to take the children to the fair, a thing which is made special attractive through the generosity of the directors.

CHANGE IN STREET CAR ROUTINGS FOR FAIR WEEK.

The Street Railway Company officials are preparing a new schedule and routing for their various lines which will take effect on Saturday morning and which will remain in force during exhibition week.

Owing to the fact that no cars will cross the Dufferin Bridge, the Portland cars will come from the corner of Ontario and Prospect Streets along Ontario, down Portland, Belvidere, King, Alexander, Aberdeen and Depot Streets and up Wellington Frontenac and Portland to complete the round trip.

The Fairmount cars will run from the Cotton Mills down Aberdeen and along Depot and Wellington and up Frontenac, Belvidere, King, Alexander and Galt, back to the Cotton Mills.

The Park cars will run as at present during Saturday, but some changes in the routing will be made on Monday to continue through the rest of the week.

FORMER LOCAL MAN HAS UNIQUE HONOR

Mr. Walter Maguire, popular physical instructor of the Y.M.C.A. in Montreal, and for several years physical instructor of the Sherbrooke branch, has just returned from Seabeck, Washington, where he had attended the opening of the Summer School for Y.M.C.A. Employed Staffs. Mr. Maguire has the distinction of being the only Canadian who acted as instructor at the course of the Summer School, an honor which he held too last year. This year Mr. Maguire had full control of the physical course of the Summer School, and attended during the first four days. Indications are that the school will be double in attendance this year, he states.

Employed officers of the Y.M.C.A. from the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and a few Canadians attend the annual Summer School, which takes in the Y.M.C.A. movement of the Pacific Northwest. The course is divided into four sub-sections, including secretarial, boys' work, educational and county work. The latter has to do with the organization of unsettled districts where equipment is lacking, and is achieved by travelling officers who co-ordinate the work of community Y.M.C.A. committees in each centre. This phase of the movement is growing, states Mr. Maguire.

HEAVY ACTION TAKEN AGAINST RAILWAY CO.

An action for $15,000 damages has been taken against the Quebec Central Railway by Mr. G. A. Ferland, of this city, as a result of an injury sustained while working at the station. The action is not taken under the Workmen's Compensation Act, but under the common law, inasmuch as the salary of the plaintiff exceeded $1,500 for the year previous to his accident.

The principal allegations made by the plaintiff are that on September 26th last he was engaged in placing a number of railway cars in the yards of some of the mining companies at Theford. During the course of his work, three of four cars were sent along a siding, which had a slight incline in the direction of the cars on which Ferland was working. The plaintiff was working on the front car, a box car, and was supposed to put on the brakes at the desired stopping point.

While working on this, it is claimed, the brakes stuck to the wheels suddenly and the wheel which the plaintiff used to apply the brakes made a sudden turn throwing him on the rails a few feet in front of the cars which were coming down the slope. Ferland managed to throw himself across the rail, but not before he was hit by one of the cars and had the top of his foot cut off.

The plaintiff claims the accident was due to the company's negligence in not having furnished him a proper car with which to work, as the brakes for the wheels were composed of metal much too soft and as the wheel and the iron bar serving to keep the brake in place were not

The other causes of the accident are given as ordinary and general responsibility. The plaintiff claims the sum of $1,053.50 for general hospital and medical expenses; the sum of $3,943.65 for loss of salary during the course of temporary and absolute incapacity; and a balance of $9,502.35 for permanent infirmity, making a total amount of $15,000. Seale, cousin of the bride.
After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the table decorations, in the centre of which stood the bride cake. The following girl friends of the bride assisted in serving, Misses Willey, Collins, Dunn, Macdonald and Mrs.
Steele.

A feature of this interesting occasion was the presence of the great grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Shonyo, as well as her grandfather, Mr. H. D. Shonyo.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade left on the 5:18 train for Montreal, en route to the New England States, amid showers of confetti and good wishes. The bride's going away gown was navy blue tulle, with a white feather hat and mink fur.

The bride's gift to the groom was a gold ring. The groom presented the bridesmaid with a cameo brooch, the best man a pearl stick pin, and the ushers with cigarette cases.

Mrs. Shonyo, great grandmother of the bride was dressed in black silk with white lace collar and small black hat. Mrs. Edward Seale, grandmother of the bride, wore a gown of black satin trimmed with shadow lace and a small black hat. Mrs. Albert Seale, mother of the bride, wore navy blue canton crepe with heavy lace trimming and burnt orange lining, large picture hat and the corsage bouquet of American beauty roses.

The present were numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. On their return they will reside on Mountain Street, Granby, Que.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Halpin, Mrs. W. C. Davidson, Mr. Wm. Seale, Mrs. (Capt.) R.
Seale and daughter, Rita, of Montreal; Mrs. H. W. Simpson and son, Leslie, of Shawinigan Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Patterson and son, Darcy, and Mrs. H. Paige, of Bolton; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shonyo, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Broadbent, Mr. Clifford Shonyo and Miss Probyn, of Magog;
Mr. H. D. Shonyo, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seale and daughter, Irla, of Eastman.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white canton crepe with shirred trimmings. Her silk net veil was draped in cap effect, wreathed in orange blossoms and flowing in a train at the back. She carried a bou-quet of pale pink Ophelia roses, maiden hair fern and baby breath flowers, her only ornament being a string of pearls with diamond clasp, the gift of the groom.

The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Halpin, of Montreal, who wore pale green silk with large picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. Mr. Lutterell Seale, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

The wedding march was played by Miss Mabel Bradford. The ushers were Mr. N. A. Austin and Mr. Ward

JERSEY CATTLE DISCUSSED AT ROTARY CLUB

Rotarians Given Opportunity to Appreciate Jersey Produce.

The local Rotarians were treated to the choicest of milk, cream, butter and ice cream yesterday noon when they listened to an address on "Jersey cattle" by Mr. W.E. Ashton, B.S.A., of Waterloo, Que.

These dairy products were supplied with the compliments of the Quebec Jersey Cattle Breeders' Association. The milk and cream came from the Grayburn farms, Waterville, the butter from Mr. C.O. Edwards, "Maplehurst", Hillhurst, and the ice cream from Barrett's, Wal-terville, and the members were unanimous in stating that these dairy products were unquestionably the choicest ever offered to the local public.

Mr. Ashton, fieldman for the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club and for the Quebec Jersey Cattle Breeders' Association, briefly reviewed the history of the Jersey animals and their subsequent introduction into Canada. It was pointed out that while the average head of cattle retained in the Jersey Islands is 10,000, this had dropped to five thousand during the war and had since reached slightly in excess of nine thousand. The registration requirements are very strict and notwithstanding the fact that animals are allowed to be exported or even retained.

The first head of Jerseys was brought to Canada in 1868, nine of these animals being landed at St.
Lambert's by a Mr. Stevens. Until 1901 all Canadian Jerseys were registered in the American book.
The fifth Canadian volume has just been issued and shows that 20,000 animals are registered in the Dominion with 650,000 registered in the States.

At the big fair in 1893 the Jersey cattle proved its ability to produce more milk and more butter than any other breed and again at the world fair in 1904 it proved its ability to produce better dairy products.

Y. M. PHYSICAL DIRECTOR GOES TO STRATFORD

R. J. Smith Returns to His Home Town in Near Future.

Last night at the postponed meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sherbrooke Young Men's Christian Association several very important matters were introduced and considered. At the outset the question of finances was considered, and the treasurer reported that the account at the bank was overdrawn to the extent of $2500.00 due very largely to failure on the part of some of the larger subscribers to contribute, and a large number of old members failing to renew. It was felt that if the friends of the Association fully realized the situation there would be a ready response to any appeal that might be made, and it was decided that in the Membership Campaign, which will be carried out towards the end of September, all those subscribers and members whose fees were due should again be approached. A report was then

The heads of the naval and military medical departments in England have Medical men unquestionably admit that cocoa is nutritious.

Maybe that hill is not there, after all—

VERY often the hill we seem to be climbing, after the mid-

Simple, natural food may level

Grape-Nuts—THE BODY BUILDER

“There's a Reason”

Made by Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Windsor, Ontario

given of the Business Men's Picnic held on July 22nd, at Mr. A. M.
Sangster's cottage, and on motion the Secretary was instructed to write Mr. Sangster expressing the appreciation of the Board for his kindness in giving the grounds and doing all in his power to make the picnic a success. Correspondence was then read when letters of sympathy forwarded to W. H. Wilson, Mrs. F. B. Wilson, Messrs. Meredith and Lennox Wilson were approved by the Board. Correspondence was then read relative to the resignation of Mr. R. J. Smith, Physical Director, and the National Council re a suggested successor. Mr.
Smith, who has been for the past two years Physical Director here, was offered the position of Physical Director at Stratford, his home town, and decided, if it could be arranged, to take up the work there in the near future. Mr. Smith's resignation was accepted and Secretary was authorized to write him expressing the appreciation of the Board for the splendid work he had done, and wishing him every success as he goes back to his home town to take up the work there.

At the suggestion of the National Council the Board is entering into negotiations with a number of prospects in the hope of getting a suitable successor to Mr. Smith in Sherbrooke, and it is hoped that very shortly a new man will be engaged.
Reports were then received. Mr.
Armstrong gave the finance report and showed an income of $705.00 and an expenditure of $1002.00, which includes subscription to National Council of $298.00. The membership report was then read by Councillor Newton showing an increased membership against last year of 48; the total membership now stand at 589.

The General Secretary's report was then read which noted a considerable amount of activity in and around the building. The two baseball teams and the football team each having showed up splendidly.
Attention was also called to the improvement in the tennis court which is now being used fairly freely, and also to the alterations in the building for the better control of all activities in the building.
On motion, all reports were adopted as read, while general satisfaction was expressed at the healthy condition of the work.
Proposed Programme
The General Secretary then read a proposed programme of work for the Association during the coming year pointing out that it was proposed to add to the Physical programme while pushing the social and industrial, doing what was possible without overclaiming with the churches. In educational matters the Secretary suggested that the Association be prepared to carry out the programme suggested last year, in which there were French classes, mechanical drawing classes, public speaking classes and above and beyond all those the pushing of the Y.

CHAPTER XXVI.
"If you will tell me how much they are, I will write you a cheque for the amount."
Gavin's handsome face flushed furiously; his eyes flashed.
"Jean doesn't owe me anything," he said curtly. "She played because I wished her to do so. Her losses are my affair."
The two men measured glances; they had always disliked each other; it gave Dawson a triumphant pleasure to remember the day when he had asked Robin's permission to marry Jean and been refused; he was getting his own back now—he spoke more pleasantly.
"I quite appreciate the spirit you are in," he said. "But—as Jean is to my wife so soon..."
O'Neil clenched his hand; he had not realized how much this was going to hurt him; angry words rose to his lips, but he checked them. After all, it was only for a little while, soon—perhaps in a few hours, and Jean and he would be openly engaged before all the world.
He could afford to be a little magnanimous to this man who was so soon to lose everything.
But his heart was throbbing jealously; he could hardly trust himself to look at Jean; he made no attempt to say good night to her.
"Have you and Mr. O'Neil quarrelled again?" Pansy asked Jean as they stopped to speak on the landing before going to their rooms. Jean flushed painfully.
"Why ever do you ask?" Pansy laughed.
"Oh, I only thought he seemed to avoid you," she said lightly. "Good night, Country Mouse."
"Good night," Jean walked into her room and shut and locked the door; she tore Gavin's ring from her finger, and flung it down on the dressing-table. What a ghastly muddle she had made of everything! She stood staring at her pale reflection in the glass. She looked tired and worn out; her head was aching, too; beneath her hair there was an ugly bruise where she had struck her head when she fell.
How would it all end? She knew that Robin would not be content to wait much longer; she knew that next time he saw her he would want her to tell Gavin the truth and dismiss him; but her whole soul shrank from doing it. How could she tell him? She felt bitterly ashamed; and yet—not for anything in the world would she have undone this evening.
She thrilled at the memory of Robin's kisses; it seemed impossible that the man who had held her in his arms so gently was the same "grim griffin" whom she had defied and declared that she hated. There was no man like him in all the world—no man so gentle and yet so strong; no man so tender and so understanding.
The "Robin dear" of her far-away childhood was "Robin dear" still, a man whose very name sent the blood flying to her cheeks.
Perhaps he would be sorry he had ever kissed her—perhaps in the morning she would find that he never really had—that she had just dreamed it all, and that they were going to take up their lives where they had broken them off before he said he loved her.
She smiled a little here; he never had said that he loved her, but she knew it all the same; he had not even asked her if she loved him, because, of course, he knew that, too.
How blind she had been all along not to see it before; this wonderful thing that had come into her life, Robin's wife, she had to the words. It was impossible that they could ever come true. She hurried to bed and lay awake in the darkness, trying to recall just exactly what he had said, just exactly how many times he had kissed her.
Church bells were ringing somewhere out in the night. She remembered that tomorrow was Christmas Day. Such a wonderful Christmas Day it would be, after all...
"I'm not half—not half good enough for him, that's the worst of it," Jean thought with a new humility. "But, at any rate, he knows how horrid I can be—I've only got to show him now that I can be nice, too." She fell asleep.
But in the morning she felt afraid to go downstairs and meet him. Twice she put her fingers on the door handle of the breakfast-room to turn it, and twice her courage failed her. Supposing he was there alone; supposing she had to walk the whole dreadful length of the room by herself and say good morning to him as if nothing unusual had happened?
She summoned her courage; she turned the handle and walked boldly in, and Robin was there alone.
He was standing in his usual place, back to the fire. His eyes were turned to the door as if he were expecting her. Jean felt the color surging to her face.
"Oh—are you alone?" she asked helplessly. She stood hesitating at the doorway.
He came forward; he laughed a little, rather unsteadily.

MAKE THE FAIR MIDWAY FAIR.

The exhibition season is here. Throughout the country, during the next few weeks, the Fair Fairs will be held. The midway will be a feature of every show.

There is no doubt that many who attend the fairs get a good deal of amusement out of the midway. Most people do not seriously object to a game of chance on the midway, providing there is a sporting chance to win a doll, or what ever may be offered. A game of chance, so called, with the chance eliminated by some trick or device, becomes a steal and against such it is the duty of all exhibition executives to protect the public.

For instance, there has been operated on some former occasions a certain game for dolls. It looked very simple. A ball is swung outward and the player expects it to knock over the pin on the backward swing. The operator does it every time. The player wonders why he does not succeed. There is frequently a trick in this game by which the pin, which is set by the operator, may be moved slightly to the right or left. The hole in the bottom of the pin is either not in the center or is large enough to allow of a little play. Or the operator by leaning on the table can make the required change in position. Gravity brings the ball back, but if the pin is not fairly set the player can never win. This trick has been worked in some cases and is not always detected and checked by fair representatives.

The above is but one case. Many other games are not games of chance at all but, in effect, are loaded dice. It is the duty of all exhibition authorities to protect the public in this regard. A keen director, actuated by a determination to see that the public have at least a sporting chance, should be in charge. A plain clothes man, with experience and detective ability, should test out the devices.

Let the midway patrons have a chance. Most of them will not kick if this is as one to ten but no one likes to be victimized by the elimination of the single chance.

WORLD LANGUAGE.

A bright story, lightly written, comes from Paris, where publicists and politicians are disturbed over the chances of French as the world language of the future. The discussion started over Esperanto, a proposed world language invented by a Russian scholar some thirty-five years ago. Some nervous persons conceived that Esperanto was becoming the language of the Bolsheviks and other "internationalists." A crusade against the arbitrary speech naturally resulted in a new lease of life for Esperanto in France. Esperanto clubs are springing up everywhere, while the controversy rages. At its height a professor of the Sorbonne has declared that Frenchmen should encourage Esperanto in order that it may sidetrack English in its mad rush to become the universal tongue of diplomacy.

There is a serious undercurrent to it all. The French are proud of their language. They have been taught through generations to think of English as barbaric and uncivil. Through the pages of French literature the Englishman swears his uncouth way with an exaggeration as great as that with which his be-moaned representative has trod absent-mindedly on the stage. France gloried in the fact that her language long remained the tongue of the British court. It is different today. The French have seen English admitted to equality and co-partnership with the French in recent world conferences. They have seen the yellow races accept English as their international tongue.

Will there ever be a world language in the sense of one spoken generally by men everywhere? Not for a few thousands of years at least. But every day brings nearer the time that will make necessary the recognition of a universal speech that will be accepted, by matter of course, as the medium of communication where ever men of differing tongues meet and congregate. What will that tongue be? We may safely assume that it will not be Esperanto or any other made-to-order code. We are too busy in this hustling world to take on new tongues.

Authorities estimate that English is spoken now by 250,000,000 people, probably many more. German, before the war, claimed 120,000,000, Russian 90,000,000, French 60,000,000. Next in order are Spanish, Italian and Portuguese. It is safe to say that as many people speak English as speak French, Spanish, Italian and Portuguese combined.

English owes its dominance to the fact that the English-speaking peoples have been the great colonizers. English will gain in dominance because today the English-speaking peoples are the great travellers; and they carry their speech with them. They will continue, too, to be colonizers; a gigantic project is now on foot to develop white, English-speaking Australia. As many English-speaking persons may one day live there as now live in the United States and Canada combined. German, second most powerful language, will not expand for many years to come.

Thinking Frenchmen recognize these facts, and begin, ruefully, to admit them. "Well," they say, "English may in time become the international language of business, but we must save French as the language of good society." It is probable however that the language of international business will be the language of international society, good, bad and indifferent.

REJUVENATION.

It is as inevitable as it is desirable that when any great medical discovery is heralded to the world conservative and cautious minds should proceed to examine it from every side in order to determine whether the claims made will stand the test of scientific investigation. In this way from time to time the quietus has been given to many much vaunted alleged "cures," while others, few by comparison, have been admitted as genuine.

A similar course is naturally being pursued at present in connection with various forms of operation represented as being successful in the rejuvenation of elderly men and women. It is a subject of widespread interest, because it is outside the range of previous human experience and holds forth a flattering hope somewhat like the fabled fountain of youth which provided so alluring to earlier generations.

There are many workers in this field, but the most celebrated is a Vienna professor, whose experiments with rodents have been known to scientists for some time. The story of how he gave three new leases of life to one ancient rat has been freely bandied about. Applying his theory and method to human beings, he is now said to be able to restore youth to a man in two hours and to a woman in a few weeks. The transformation, it is declared by his adherents, includes restoration of white hair to its original color, the disappearance of wrinkles, the filling out of the face and the reinvigoration of the brain.

It all sounds very magnificent, but an investigation conducted by experts on behalf of the British Medical Journal rather throws cold water on the whole scheme. In the case of three aged patients where increase of muscular strength and activity was at first recorded it was found that in a year the subjects of experiments were in the same state as before.

When doctors so far differ, lay opinion is of little account, but it may at least be advanced that in the well known formula of the Scotch verdict it is "not proven" that the fountain of youth or any satisfactory substitute for it has yet been discovered.

TODAY'S A HOLIDAY.

August 23, 1922.

For the Rain God.

Into the religions of the East a thousand imperfections have crept. Thus when we speak of the Buddhists of Siam, we cannot be sure that Hindu rites have utterly been ignored in the rise of Buddhist customs, and anon we cannot help observing something of the tinge of Islam in the ceremonies.

Christians, indeed, are not allowed to witness most of the state religious festivals, and to this rule the holiday observance today, propitiating the rain gods, is no exception.

Brahmins, clad in a primitive sort of bathing garb, are to be seen, in the rain festival, with their hair streaming to the wind, reading lengthy addresses to the Siamese Jupiter Pluvius twice a day for three days running.

They stand before a pit, and in their hands are flags and banners painted to represent clouds. The images of the gods whom they invoke are constantly exposed to the sun. The idea is that if his image suffers from the heat, the god is more likely to send the surcease of rain to all earth's inhabitants. Varuna is the principal deity whose aid is sought on this occasion.

PARAGRAPHS

Home is just a roof over a good woman.

A bachelor is merely a male whom no intellectual female has tried to land.

The less a man knows, the more he delights in springing an occasional Latin phrase.

A cultured man is one who can trim you so courtously that you are ashamed to get mad.

Perfumed powder has its uses, but it is very unsatisfactory as a substitute for a bath.

The woman who tells you that raising children isn't much of a career is right. It isn't, the way she raises 'em.

There is hope that the coal strike will be settled. They haven't taken it to The Hague.

A man never realizes how many things he disapproves of until his own daughter reaches sixteen.

If Germany will only bow to the inevitable, perhaps the Allies will stop demanding the impossible.

An educated man is one who can tell, off-hand, what became of that war between Greece and Turkey.

About the only time the average man has that triumphant feeling is when he gets two flies with one swat.

It isn't advisable to order beef in a restaurant that is careful to keep its knives sharp.

In this day they are fortunate parents who can associate with their children enough to absorb a little culture.

It sounds unreasonable, but in just a few weeks we will be saying that summer is our favorite time of year.

It is estimated that 3,762 tons of coal could be mined daily with the energy now employed to keep white shoes clean.

PRESS COMMENT

GOLF IN PERIL FROM BETTING.

(Toronto Globe.) Adams, in Pithy Personalities in the Boston News Bureau, says that the "Waldorf crowd"—those professional bears with sporting proclivities—have turned over their old haunts to the buyers in New York for the convention, and have emigrated to the Westchester-Biltmore at Rye.

Principal sporting events now are the golf matches, and I am told that as high as $25,000 a hole was bet during the Hazen and Kirkwood vs. Sarazen and Armour match. The Waldorf crowd studied the health, form and practice of the professionals as the "rail bird" studies from sheets and times the work-outs of the ponies. It will be all up with golf if gamblers ever get a footing on the links.

BAD HEALTH PROFITABLE.

(Windsor Star.) Are the people of Ontario paying more for their medicine than they should?

This question is suggested by the report just issued, that the liquor dispensaries of the Province show a profit of $300,000 for one year's operation.

The presumption is, that when a person goes to a dispensary with a prescription from a doctor, that person is after something necessary to health. That is the reason the issuing of prescriptions was placed in the hands of medical men.

There is only one conclusion from this, and it is that the Ontario Government, on its own figures, stands convicted of making a huge profit out of the bad health of the people.

NO DISCRIMINATION, THERE!

(Detroit Free Press.) The settlement of the coal strike will be a fine thing, but it is a pity it cannot be settled without letting those Illinois mob murderers get their jobs.

ANTHRACITE OPERATORS

of Pine Hill Presbyterian College, Halifax, called in as an extra representative by the United Mine Workers, has not arrived in Sydney, and the conference this afternoon will go ahead without him.
Official reports from the coal fields were that all was quiet during the night in Cape Breton South. On the north side of the harbor among the Sydney mine workers there was considerable excitement when four railway strikebreakers followed warnings of the miners to leave town. Twenty-one months ago the brotherhood men employed by the Cape Breton steel companies in their railway yards went on strike for standard rates of pay and working conditions. They are still out, and until recently non-union men have been running the locomotives in the yards at the Sydney mines.

When the present general strike broke out these non-union railroaders went into hiding, and some of them were found lying in swamps and other out-of-the-way refuges.
Last night four Quebec men who have been running engines in the Scotia yard were located in a hiding place and told to leave town. They took the night train for Quebec.

Hon. D. D. MacKenzie, Solicitor General, arrived in North Sydney this morning, and it is reported that he will use his utmost influence to bring about a settlement of the coal strike.

JERSEY CATTLE DISCUSSED AT

ducts at a cheaper rate. Mr. Ashton observed that this cast no reflection upon other breeds but statistics were merely quoted to emphasize the proven ability of the Jersey cattle.

Jerseys Increased in Province.
The speaker maintained that there was no breed in the Province of Quebec which was making such rapid progress as the "Jerseys" and held that this was due largely to the fact that better produce was secured at a cheaper rate.

Mr. Ashton commented upon the fact that while the Dominion was formerly noted for its beef cattle it was found impossible to compete with Argentina where 70 p.c. of arable land was pasture. The Argentine cattle is monopolizing the market and Canadian farmers are turning to dairy cattle.

It was pointed out that Canadian Jersey Association shows an increased registration of four per cent over last year while the Holstein shows only an increase of four per cent and other breeds show declines. This suggested clearly that the Jersey was well adapted to local conditions and in fact the Canadian standard is somewhat higher than that prevailing in the United States.

"The day is not far off," said Mr. Ashton amidst applause, "when the citizens of Sherbrooke will be able to have delivered on their doorsteps milk of the same quality which you have had today. The milk from the Jerseys contains from 5 to 5.2 p.c. butterfat compared to three per cent by other breeds, or 4 p.c. by the Ayrshires."

The speaker was very optimistic over the future of the Jersey animal in the Eastern Townships and assured his audience that the substitution of these pure-breeds for grade animals would eventually result in the distribution of milk which would be more nutritious and prove more profitable for farmers and consumers alike.

At the conclusion of Mr. Ashton's remarks, Mr. F. J. G. C. over of the Grayburn Farm, Waterville, supplemented same by referring to the facilities which were available in this district. He maintained that the bulk of feed can be grown right on the farm and that the only way to improve the quality of the feed and ensure good crops was by means of rotation.

Mr. Gale held that it was slow work introducing pure-bred stock but expressed the hope that many farmers would realize the advantages to be derived and would add same to their herd. He concluded his remarks by observing that if dairying along these lines were introduced along a large scale, the residents of the city, the sick and the children would be the ones to benefit chiefly.

President Dave Salls briefly thanked the speakers for their remarks and observed that the mem-

DOWNWARD TREND NOTICED ON WALL STREET 'CHANGE

(Associated Press Despatch.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(Wall Street Noon.) Free offerings of stocks throughout the morning encouraged the bear faction and prices continued downward, despite persistent efforts to rally the list. Selling pressure soon extended to motors, equipments, paper shares and some of the public utilities, declines of two to four points being registered by American International, Associated Oil, Montana Power, North American, Worthington Pump, Allied Chemical and Union Bag and Paper. Mexican Petroleum continued its contrary course, rising six points before noon, with sympathetic advances taking place in the Allied Pan American shares, Corn Products, Consolidated Gas and Pullman, the latter rising five points, were other outstanding exceptions to the general recession. Call money opened and renewed at 3½ per cent.

SLIGHT SAG REGISTERED IN CHICAGO WHEAT PRICES

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Trading in wheat was not large at the start today, local traders being inclined to await leadership on either side. The market ran into selling orders soon after the opening and checked the early advance. Support came from commission houses on minor breaks. Receipts were estimated at 800,000 bushels.

The opening, which was at unchanged figures to quarter cent higher, with September at $1.02½ to $1.02¾ and December at $1.03½ to $1.03¾ was followed by a slight sag all around.

Rains in parts of Nebraska, Illinois and Indiana made corn easier at the start, but the market rallied quickly on reports of higher temperatures in Kansas. The opening, which varied from ½ to ¾ cent lower, with September at 60 cents was followed by a slight advance all around, and then somewhat of a setback.

Oats started unchanged to ¼ cent lower with September at 31½ to 31¾ cents and held close to the initial range.

Provisions lacked support.

BASEBALL LOCAS OFF ON A STRENUOUS WEEK

The Sherbrooke baseball club was scheduled to play in Newport, Vt. yesterday but owing to unforeseen circumstances the American team has passed out of existence after a somewhat unsatisfactory season.

This afternoon the locals heard the lion's den at St. Johnsbury for the second game of the series for the border championship. The St. Johnsbury lads won the first contest when they shut the locals out by 2 to 0, but the series has a long way to go yet before completion and the Sherbrooke fans are confident their favorites will stage an appropriate rally to be played on neutral ground.

Tomorrow afternoon the third game will be played on neutral ground at Littleton, N. H., and Pete Landry and his confreres expect to return home on Friday morning with a couple of victories stowed away.

Saturday the strong St. Hyacinthe team, supplemented by two or three players from Montreal teams, will line up against the locals. The Sherbrooke lads won the first game played this season by 8 to 5 and Saturday's game should be a nice one. The visitors for Sunday have not yet been definitely decided upon.

TONEY WILL NOW REPORT UNTIL NEXT YEAR
(Associated Press Despatch.) ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—Fred Toney, former New York Giant, whom the local Nationals obtained by waiver last week, will not report until next season, it was announced yesterday.

CANADA BASEBALL LEAGUE (Associated Press Despatch.)
MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—The Ottawa-Montreal game in the Canada Baseball League here yesterday was postponed owing to wet grounds, while the game at Cap Maheune was called before any scoring was done.

SPORTING NOTES

CANADIAN SKIPPER VICTOR.
TORONTO, Aug. 23.—Skipper Norman Gooderham and his crew of Royal Canadian Yacht Club, hiked two wins over Skipper Charles Adams and his men from the Eastern Yacht Club, of Marlborough, Boston, yesterday in the first of their sporting series of six races. In the morning the local skipper aboard the Caramia, won by one minute, and in the afternoon, when the two crews changed boats Gooderham brought the Patricia in 33 seconds ahead of his rival.

As the times indicate, both races were keenly contested with the yachts, especially the afternoon race.

FAILED TO AGAIN SWIM CHANNEL.
(Associated Press Despatch.) DOVER, Eng., Aug. 23.—T. W. Burgess the Englishman, who swam the English Channel in 1911, yesterday again essayed the feat, starting from the French shore to cross to England. He had to give up in mid-channel, however. Jean Michel, a Frenchman, also started the swim, but failed.

GOOD ENTRIES FOR THE TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS

Townships Events Promise to Be Attractive.

Entries for the Eastern Townships Tennis Championships have been received in large numbers and from many different points throughout the Townships. In each instance, with the exception of North Hatley, the strongest players in the district have been entered and the games this year will unquestionably be much superior to those of last season.

A gratifying feature in connection with the present tournament is that several new clubs, such as Thetford Mines, Drummondville, United Club, Sherbrooke, will be represented in the different events and the championships will be strictly representative of the talent available in the Eastern Townships.

Entries will be closed this afternoon without fail and the draw for the singles and doubles will be made this evening and will be published tomorrow. There will be about twenty-four to thirty entries and the pick of the tennis enthusiasts in the Townships will have a battle royal over the week-end.

A. Hodson, the holder of the Royal Cup, emblematic of the Eastern Townships Singles, will be on hand to defend his title, while Napier Smith, of Megog, the holder of many tennis trophies in different parts of the country, will be a strong contender. Sherbrooke will also provide a number of players cherishing a hope to annex the "cup" and these will be supplemented by players from Lennoxville, Thetford Mines, Windor, Drummondville, Bury, Hermitage, United Club Sherbrooke, and others all anxious to take the silver back to their own clubs.

The courts at the St. Francis Club are in excellent condition and given favorable weather the tennis events should provide a splendid attraction.

MITCHELL CUP GAMES

Members of the St. Francis Club competing in the Mitchell Cup games are reminded that committee is anxious to have the games played at an early date as possible. The draw has already been posted up at the club house and in most instances the first round has been played. Members can proceed immediately with the playing of the second round in accordance with the schedule and in instances where failure to play the first round is holding up the other games a report should be made to the committee and the necessary adjustment will be made.

The English Channel in 1911, yesterday again essayed the feat, starting from the French shore to cross to England. He had to give up in mid-channel, however. Jean Michel, a Frenchman, also started the swim, but failed.

RACES AT THREE RIVERS
(Associated Press Despatch.) THREE RIVERS, Aug. 23.—American Stock Farms won the opening event of the first day's harness races here yesterday, when St. Frusquin, of Newport, too the 2:22 trot. St. Marquis, of Barthier, won the 2:25 and Red Moko, of Barton, Vt., won the 2:17 pace.

SHERBROOKE vs. LENNOXVILLE
The Sherbrooke and Lennoxville teams are scheduled to meet in a football game this evening at the Parade Grounds at 6:30 p.m. and while the result will have little effect upon the League standing both teams need the points to avoid holding the position of wooden spoonists. These teams were scheduled to meet three weeks ago, but the game was postponed owing to the absence of the referee.

TOURNAMENT AT HERMITAGE GOING AHEAD

Several Interesting Matches Were Played Yesterday—Local Successes.

The number of players remaining in the Hermitage open tennis tournament, which is taking place on the courts of the Hermitage Club, Magog, is gradually decreasing and a consequent tightening up of play is being witnessed. The matches, as a rule, are becoming closer and are being fought to hard finishes.

Entrants from Newport and Montreal are still prominent, while several local players have survived the first few rounds. The finals are scheduled to be played on Saturday, of this week and there ought to be some excellent tennis on that occasion, as well as during the intervening period.

Sherbrooke and Lennoxville players have been fairly successful in their matches and at the close of yesterday's play four of the locals were still in the running.

Miss Charlotte Jenckes defeated Miss K. Lyall, of the Hermitage, in one of the feature matches of the day. Miss Lyall got away for a fine start in the first set, letting the Sherbrooke opponent take only three games. In the second set, however, Miss Jenckes started a strong comeback, winning by a good margin. In the third set it was anybody's victory till the last ball had been played. The games were featured by long rallies and steady play, with both players fighting hard for every point.

Miss Lyall and Miss Jenckes both demonstrated that they are players of great steadiness, playing backhand and forehand shots with equal ability and placing well. Each player fought hard and Miss Jenckes won, only by placing a few hard drives, which were almost impossible for Miss Lyall. This is the second time these players have met this season, Miss Lyall winning on the former occasion.

The scores of the above match were 3-6, 6-2, 7-5, for Miss Jenckes. In the senior singles, Pacaud, of Montreal, eliminated Maclear, Jr., of Lennoxville, but only after the match had gone three sets. The scores were 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

Maclear, Jr., paired with Williams, was also eliminated from the senior doubles, meeting defeat at the hands of two Montreal entrants.

Maclear, Jr., however, came back strong in the junior singles and defeated Moebis, who had formerly won from Pacaud. The American got away for a running start and had Maclear 5-2. The Lennoxville player staged a rally and took the set by winning five straight. In the second set, Maclear won quickly, taking the victory 6-2.

Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Jenckes, Sherbrooke, were eliminated from the mixed doubles by Walsh and Miss Marshall, Hermitage, in one of the hardest matches to date. Forty-one games were played before a decision could be reached and both pairs fought at top speed for the victory. The Sherbrooke couple made a good start but their lead was cut down. The first set going to the Hermitage players by 8-6. In the second, the score mounted equally, each side winning and losing steadily.

The Sherbrooke players, however, managed to make a final spurt, taking the set 8-6. The third and last went to the Hermitage by 6-3. One of the features of the match was the strong driving and excellent net work of Walsh, his cross court drives being especially deadly.

Miss C. Jenckes and Stan. Read, Sherbrooke, won in their second match of mixed doubles from a Hermitage couple, but only after a hard struggle in the second set. The first set went to the visitors easily by a score of 6-1. The second, however, was a different matter, both Miss K. Lyall and her partner, of the Hermitage, setting a hard pace and displaying a good brand of steady tennis. The Sherbrooke pair steadied down and managed to win by 6-4.

Real also won his second match in senior singles.

The gallery, at yesterday's play, was fairly large and unstinted applause was given, when any player made an exceptionally good stroke.

MANY EXHIBITS TO BE SEEN AT AYER'S CLIFF

Ayer's Cliff Fair Opened Under Very Favorable Conditions—Many Attractions.

(Special to the Record.) AYER'S CLIFF, Que., Aug. 23.—Under very favorable conditions, the seventy-seventh annual exhibition of the Stanstead County Agricultural Society opened yesterday and all indications point to a big and more successful fair than ever. All the officials are hard at work, accommodating the crowds and seeing that everything runs smoothly.

Mr. S.S. Colt, of North Hatley, is doing everything possible to make all exhibitors welcome and his committees are leaving nothing undone that will, in any way, contribute towards making the fair a success.

Mr. George W. Page is in charge of the racing, and if the weather continues to be favorable, the races should prove to be the best in years. Judging, one of the most important branches of fair work, is being rushed ahead with all possible speed. Dr. O. Burnette, a Government official, is looking after all the accredited herds and is also giving many farmers a great deal of good advice.

Baseball during the day and moving pictures at night are two of the big attractions, in connection with the amusements, and should prove to be strong drawing cards.

Miss Roach and Miss McQuat, of Macdonald College, are giving two canning demonstrations by the cold pack method. The first of these was given this morning at eleven o'clock (standard time) and the second and final demonstration will be held tomorrow morning at the same hour.

In the various lines of entries, quality and quantity are both conspicuous and many favorable comments are being heard in this connection.

Although the automobile is playing a prominent part, the horse still plays an important part in rural life. There are many fine equine entries and some beautiful animals can be seen in the horse section.

In the cattle section, the dairy cow is predominant, as this breed is one of the best in the Eastern Townships. Among some of the exhibitors are Messrs. B.J. Taylor and A.E. Fish and Sons, who have fine herds of Ayrshires; R.H. Libby, who is exhibiting some excellent Brown Swis; L.H. Parker and F. Woodman, the owners of Holsteins; and W.E. Hunt, who is showing some fine Herefords and Shortorns.

All classes of sheep, swine and poultry are well filled and it is easily seen that these lines are not being neglected by the farmers.

The exhibits of vegetables and fruit excel anything of former years and every available inch of space is taken. This, in itself, is an excellent indication that fine crop conditions are prevalent throughout the Townships.

The Dominion Textile and the Ragg Ball are among the chief exhibitors, while the Dominion Experimental Farm, Lennoxville, has a fine exhibit, which is in charge of Mr. McClary, superintendent of the farm. The Women's Institutes from different towns and villages, also have some excellent exhibits.

A considerable amount of interest is being displayed and many calculations are being made as to the final results.

SPANISH TEAM ELIMINATED
BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 23.—The Spanish Davis Cup team was eliminated by R. Norris Williams and Wm. Washburn in straight sets yesterday.

The entries for the horse, cattle, swine, sheep and poultry contests are known to be larger than ever.

PROSPECTS ARE SPLENDID, SAYS E. W. FARWELL

President of E.T.A.A. States that 38th Exhibition Will Exceed All Expectations.

"Bigger and better than ever," said Mr. E. W. Farwell, President of the Eastern Townships Exhibition, when spoken to this morning, "we have more entries than we anticipated, in fact our entire equipment and space is taxed to the limit, and we find ourselves obliged to refuse a number of entries."

"This is the thirty-eighth year the Exhibition has opened its doors to the Sherbrooke public and I cannot recall a single instance when the demand for space was so consistent and when such a spirit of optimism prevailed as is the case this year."

"Irrespective of the cattle, swine, horses, sheep and other entries, which are naturally of exceptional interest to farmers in the Eastern Townships, you will be surprised to hear that the entries in the Dog Show surpass anything we had anticipated and the visitors to the Exhibition will have an opportunity of seeing some of the splendid animals which have taken numerous prizes in other provinces."

"A number of new features have been introduced this year and I feel that the auto polo is likely to prove an excellent attraction. The midway will, of course, be in full swing as usual, and Mr. Francis, our energetic secretary, tells me that there has not been a single instance of engagements being cancelled. This is somewhat unexpected and it looks as though the people of the Townships will find that the amusements will be second to none."

"Tuesday promises to be a big day, and I suppose we will find half of the younger generation passing through the gates. The Directors have decided to allow children, under twelve years of age, to enter free on this day and at noon the members of the Rotary Club will be the guests of the Directors at luncheon."

"A resume of details associated with the different events would be too lengthy, but you can rest assured that the Directors are greatly impressed with the favorable indications which point to a banner week. It must be remembered that we have reduced the rates this year and we feel that the public will show its appreciation by turning up in large numbers. We are hoping that the weather conditions will be favorable and, if we are assured of this, I have no hesitation in stating that I expect to see this 38th annual Exhibition exceed anything of the past."

GENERAL EVENTS.
Arrangements are practically completed for the holding of Canada's Great Eastern Exhibition, which opens on Saturday and continues throughout the whole of next week. A large number of new attractions have been secured for this year and the fair promises to be exceptionally well patronized.

The usual vaudeville performances will be put on in front of the grand stand every afternoon and evening of next week, and the attractions which have been secured this year are of a first-class nature.

The midway will be larger than ever and visitors will have an opportunity of indulging in every kind of recreation from playing Hoop-la to a trip "Over the Falls."

A number of baseball games have been arranged for the week and fans will see the strong Sherbrooke team in action against several teams with great reputations in other parts of the country.

The industrial exhibits are many and large this year, and one may see, by strolling through the main pavilion, almost every kind of manufactured article common to this continent.

The entries for the horse, cattle, swine, sheep and poultry contests are known to be larger than ever.

Studebaker

Light-Six Touring

Now $1375

In seven months this year Studebaker built and sold more cars than during the entire year of 1921. And 1921, in spite of a general business depression, was the biggest year in Studebaker's 70 years' history.

This steady volume of business, plus the savings resulting from Studebaker's methods of complete manufacture, reduces manufacturing and selling costs. And it is a Studebaker policy of long standing to share these savings with the customer. Hence, the new low prices.

Rain-vision slanting windshield; cowl lights; combination robe- and hand-rail across back of front seat; outside and inside door handles; carpet-covered foot rest in tonneau; gasoline gauge on tank in rear; complete set of tools; tire carrier in rear with extra rim.
