4 inches of snow fall in the E.T.

Cloudy weather and heavy snowflurries today followed on the heels of the second snowfall of the season last night, which wrapped the Eastern Townships in 4.4 inches of snow.

Icy roads, covered with a thin layer of snow, made driving conditions in the Eastern Townships hazardous last night and early this morning.

In general, traffic in this area was slowed down almost to a halt, and at least one accident was attributed to the icy road conditions.

Traffic tie-ups were reported in numerous communities as cars tried in vain to drive up even the smallest hills.

Weather reports say there's more snow to come. The low temperature last night was 27 above.

The first snowfall this year was on November 18. Last year, the first snowfall of the season in the Eastern Townships was on November 6. Two and one half inches of snow was recorded on that day at the Experimental Farm at Lennoxville.

Sherbrooke Provincial Police this morning report only one minor accident caused by slippery road conditions. The accident occurred at 10 a.m. this morning at Ascot Corner.

Sherbrooke Provincial Police were called twice Monday night by motorists requesting sand for icy roads.

Traffic near the Coaticook was brought to a halt for nearly two hours late last night as motorists tried in vain to drive up hills. Sand was brought in and traffic continued.

Sherbrooke municipal police reported several calls from stranded motorists, but no accidents were reported.

A spokesman for the Public Works Department of the City of Sherbrooke said city workmen laid salt during the night and early this morning on city hills and at intersections.

The spokesman said the roads in the city are all open to traffic and road conditions were reported better, although a few slippery spots still prevail.

The Provincial bus line, Q.C.R. and Larabee bus service all report that buses are on time and all out-of-town buses are running according to schedule.

OTTAWA (CP) — Quebec separatist Dr. Marcel Chaput won't be fired for defying a ruling by the Defence Research Board but he'll have to watch his step in future.

The 43-year-old biochemist was suspended Monday by DRB for two weeks without pay for taking leave without the board's authority to speak in Quebec City Friday on separatism.

Dr. John Keyston, acting chairman of the board, said Dr. Chaput, president of Le Rassemblement pour l'Indépendance Nationale, was guilty of "wilful disobedience."

He told a press conference that the two-week suspension is designed as a "total punishment." It was "straight disciplinary action" and there was no intention of the matter being passed along to the federal cabinet.

Ben Bella and the other three were weak after fasting but their condition was not believed serious. A fifth rebel minister held by the French had been too ill to take part in the strike.

They were to be moved to a convalescent home near Paris with Moroccan as well as French physicians attending them, and the French agreed that a representative of Moroccan King Hassan II could live with them. Cherkouk said the French had promised the prisoners would enjoy a liberal regime.

Calls for 'imagination, vigor'

Urges Canada take the lead in Commonwealth Market link

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadians have been handicapped by their proximity to the United States less by economics than by their resulting unwillingness to develop distinctive Canadian products.

H. I. Macdonald, of the University of Toronto's department of political economy said today.

Addressing the annual tax conference of the Canadian Tax Foundation, Mr. Macdonald said that Canada should lead the Commonwealth into association with the Common Market.

Canada, he said, "has not demonstrated the imagination and vigor that is required to adapt our economy to a world of growing trade communities."

An "enlightened commercial policy" could secure and strengthen the Canadian position in the North Atlantic trading triangle of Canada, the United States and Western Europe, including the United Kingdom.

Mr. Macdonald said Canadian manufacturers have been inhibited by the size of their market.

He said "we are simply living in a world where such blocs are the best practical device for approaching the goals that the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade has sought."

"I could only wish that Canadian business and government would show some true awareness of the political and economic transformation that has swept across Europe."

Britain, in her negotiations with the Common Market, had as a bargaining tool her own high tariffs and the Commonwealth preferences and could bargain both for herself and the Commonwealth.

"We in Canada should have learned to accept this some months ago, for Prime Minister Macmillan has clearly prepared his ground well."

Canada's major error so far, Mr. Macdonald stated, "has been to think in terms of the status quo, more anxious to protect and preserve the present position than to find ways of enhancing her future economic advantage."

One of the favorite stories about the recent 22nd Soviet party congress concerns Polish party boss Vladyslav Gomulka and Polish Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz.

The two were sleeping in the same Moscow hotel room when Cyrankiewicz was awakened in the middle of the night by Gomulka shouting "Down with Khrushchev—throw him out!"

Terrified, Cyrankiewicz shook Gomulka awake and asked: "Vladyslav, Vladyslav, what are you saying?"

Gomulka blinked, looked around and replied: "Oh, Joseph, I was just dreaming I was at the 23rd congress."

Change harbors

TORONTO (CP) — Canada Steamship Lines, biggest shipping company using Toronto harbor facilities, will pull its operations out of Toronto in favor of the Port Credit harbor, cutting Toronto's shipping cargo by about 200,000 tons a year.

TEST EXPECTED

The test of strength between the two leaders is expected to come when Neves appears before the Chamber of Deputies to ask for support for basic reforms to establish social stability.

'The wall must go'

W. Berlin youths storm barricade

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police brandishing night sticks rolled back hundreds of west zone youths who tried to storm the Communist-built border barrier Monday night with cries that "the wall must go."

East Berlin police also opened up on the angry demonstrators with water cannon and tear gas grenades and drew tear gas fire in reply from the West Berlin police. Authorities estimated that about 200 grenades sailed over the wall during the exchange.

The demonstrations marked the 100th day since East Germany started erecting the wall which virtually sealed off the main escape route for East German residents fleeing the Communist regime.

There were no reports of serious injuries, but many were drenched by cold blasts from the Communists' water gun.

The flareup came as East Berlin labor forces strengthened the 25-mile wall into a concrete-and-steel tank trap. The work got under way Sunday and prompted speculation that the Communists were preparing for a complete shutdown of the East-West border.

The youths' charge on the wall followed a torchlight procession in which an estimated 20,000 marched five miles through downtown West Berlin in an anniversary observance led by Ernst Lemmer, West German cabinet minister, and Otto Bach, speaker of the West Berlin city parliament.

Before the thousands who gathered at the eternal flame in the Reichskanzlerplatz—which is supposed to burn until Germany is reunited—a student leader condemned what he called the criminal actions of East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht.

"Away with the Communist criminals—away with Ulbricht," shouted Juergen Wohlrabe, chairman of the West Berlin student federation.

Communist news papers in East Berlin today blamed Kennedy's envoy to Berlin, for their strengthening of the wall with tank barriers.

An editorial in Neues Deutschland, the official Communist daily, quoted Clay as saying the Western allies should have torn down the wall by force.

"This," said the paper, "was obviously not only criticism of the past, but an expression of Clay's wish-dreams for the future. He has already demonstrated clearly enough by his tank show at Friedrichstrasse how such an act of force would be staged."

Clay is in Washington for the talks between Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Kennedy. He left before the Communists began their new wall around the Brandenburg Gate.

Neues Deutschland, also blaming Adenauer and other Western leaders, claimed the wall was a guarantee that East Germany would not lead the world into war. War, it said, could begin with a limited action, "for example, with a tank push in Clay's style."

WASHINGTON (CP) — A West German source said Monday night that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer demands that the wall dividing East and West Berlin be torn down as a condition for settlement of the Berlin crisis but not as a condition for beginning East-West negotiations.

"The chancellor is not posing any ultimatums for entering these negotiations," the informant added in commenting on the first day of talks between the 85-year-old German leader and President Kennedy.

The chancellor, the informant said, insists that the Western powers make clear in talks with the Russians that the wall must come down in any agreement reached. There also must be a firm pledge to the political and economic "viability" of West Berlin with West Germany.

In turn, West Germany would agree to increase "technical" relations with the East German regime, but without stating that it recognizes the East German government either formally or informally.

SUPPORTS U.K. VIEW

Kennedy, who supports the British view that there is nothing to fear from negotiations as long as vital issues are made clear, has refrained from making clear whether he supports the West German position on the wall issue.

However, the latest clarification of the Adenauer view—that he doesn't insist on removal of the barrier as a prerequisite to opening of East-West talks—strengthens the possibility that the West may reach a united position under which such talks could begin.

In a lengthy private discussion at the White House Monday, Adenauer and Kennedy are said to have reached an understanding that any decisions they work out must be subject to further discussion with British and French leaders.

The chancellor and the president scheduled an intensive round of conferences today.

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP) — The Stratford Shakespearean Festival ended the season with a loss of $22,097 the Festival Foundation was told Monday night by president Wilfred P. Gregory. Mr. Gregory said the deficit, which includes operating costs incurred when the festival remained open two weeks longer this year, reflected the decrease in the Canada Council Grant.

Canada seeks text of Britain's position

Fleming comes away from Macmillan talks still lacking Common Market information

LONDON (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming came away from a talk with Prime Minister Macmillan Monday still lacking the information on the European Common Market that Canada sought more than a month ago.

"He didn't say he would give it," Fleming said, referring to a British document which is of the "highest importance" to Canada.

received so far is a "summary of a part" of the statement.

Fleming's remarks marked the first official confirmation of a difference of view between Canada and Britain regarding the process of Commonwealth consultation on the current negotiations for British entry into the Common Market.

Britain feels that the requested text is one of the conference documents that the negotiating parties have agreed should be regarded as confidential, for circulation only in the closed group of direct participants.

Whitehall also says that all the essential points covered in the document have been communicated to the Canadian government.

The Canadian complaint about British reticence has been a subject of unofficial comment for some weeks. British newspapers accused the Ottawa administration of obstructiveness.

Fleming said that in general his talk with Macmillan and his meeting with President de Gaulle in Paris Saturday indicate that "very great difficulties" are inherent in reconciling British membership in the Common Market with full protection of Commonwealth interests.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express says today the British public is "distracted by the bad feelings between Britain and Canada over the Common Market."

The Express, which is opposed to Britain entering the Common Market, comments on the British statement Fleming is seeking.

"The statement was made to the Six. It has not been given to the governments of the Commonwealth."

"Is it any wonder that there is resentment in the Commonwealth?"

whether Rockefeller made shore.

The search was concentrated in the area where Rockefeller left the raft, at the northern mouth of the Eilanden River 250 miles northwest of Merauke, and 150 miles northeast of Oranienburg.

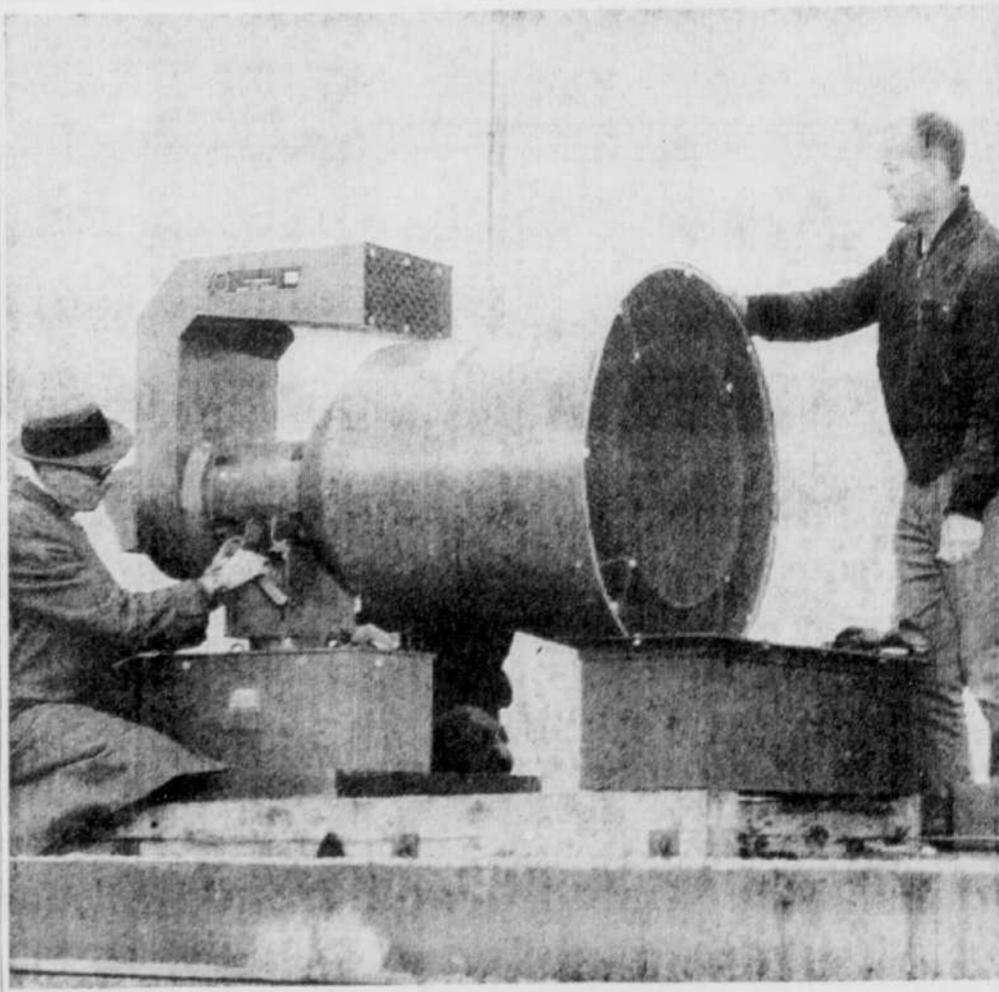

Wassink told of the battle against the elements that he, Rockefeller and two Papuans waged before the outboard-powered raft overturned Saturday near the mouth of the Eilanden River.

The Papuans dove overboard as the craft capsized and swam for shore, Wassink said.

They made shore and sounded an alarm that touched off the search.

Rockefeller clung to the raft Saturday night and decided Sunday to try to swim for shore with the aid of the gasoline cans, Wassink said.

Wassink, a civil servant who was with Rockefeller on a two-month tour to collect objects for the Museum of Primitive Art in New York, said he did not know

11-year-old tells bizarre story

Girl reveals mass murder

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A little girl's narrative of bloodshed and death at sea has the earmarks of mass murder by a man gone berserk, a U.S. Coast Guard officer says.

The officer who made that interpretation of Terry Jo Duperrault's account of a tragic night aboard the yacht Blue Belle would not be quoted by name. Officially, the coast guard said no findings were announced until its investigation is complete.

The bizarre story told by the 11-year-old Green Bay, Wis., girl was made public by the coast guard Monday.

Earlier Capt. Julian A. Harvey, skipper of the Blue Belle, said all seven persons aboard the ketch jumped into the Atlantic as the vessel burned and sank after a Bahamas squall snapped its mainmast. All except Harvey were presumed lost.

SLASHES WRISTS

After learning that a freighter had picked up Terry Jo from a small life raft after floating in the ocean for more than 80 hours without food or water, Harvey committed suicide by slashing his veins.

Terry Jo said she saw her mother and brother lying on a bloody deck, that the mainmast did not fall, and that she did not see or smell any fire.

And she told the coast guard. The FBI said "we are checking to see if any violation occurred within our jurisdiction." Crimes on the high seas come under federal jurisdiction.

The girl told investigators: "I heard screaming and stamping . . . and I saw my mother and my brother lying on the floor and there was blood all over."

Capt. R. F. Barber, district coast guard officer in charge of marine investigations, questioned the girl and later disclosed the answers to a press conference.

Asked what Harvey was doing when she saw her mother and brother lying on the floor, Terry replied:

"I saw my mother and my brother lying on the floor and there was blood all over."

WATERLOO — The Ephrem Beaulac and his wife first came to Waterloo from his birthplace at La Visitation, Nicolet, and opened a modest general store.

The young family located in a small building at 814 Main street—the exact site of the present-day establishment—and began the business which today has developed into one of the largest single family incorporations in the Waterloo region of the Eastern Townships, standing as a memorial of one man's resolute industry.

Decade by decade, Mr. Beaulac witnessed the justification of his efforts as the little venture he had founded expanded requiring more and still more space. New additions were made to the original building and the adjacent property was acquired.

The pioneer couple raised a large family, seven boys and three girls, all of these surviving with four of the sons now participating in the corporation which Mr. Beaulac formed two years ago, just a little over a year before his death last spring.

World-wide rule of law would help United Nations

The extension of the rule of law in the world is the crux of the problem of strengthening the United Nations, achieving disarmament and providing security, the national director of the UN Association in Canada told a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships Monday night in Sherbrooke.

Mr. Willson Woodside said that the agreement to halt nuclear testing with an inspection system would be a notable extension of the rule of law.

He added that the western nations which have this concept of law will have to show

GUEST SPEAKER — Willson Woodside, national director of the United Nations Association in Canada, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships Monday night in Sherbrooke. the way by setting up their own international court and abiding by its decisions.

This solution was the basis behind NATO which has provided the UN as well as the West with security and given the world the example of an international force, Mr. Woodside continued.

Mr. Woodside pointed out that the United Nations is in a very precarious position, but that it has been in difficulties ever since it was created.

"How could it be anything but difficult to bring all the peoples and political systems of the world together, to agree on any thing?" the speaker added.

He pointed out that there is, of course, no guarantee that the UN will always survive its crises, and yet what has kept it going so long? the speaker asked.

His answer was that it is a moral strength that keeps the UN going.

"It is the need that all nations feel for a world meeting place," he said.

Mr. Woodside then went on to discuss the question, along what lines is the UN likely to develop?

The speaker outlined the development of the role of the secretary general and said that although Hammarskjöld's death had weakened the ties and support for the position which he had built up over the years, U Thant has said that he means to follow in the tradition built up by the late secretary general.

The seating or admission of Communist China is another problem facing the UN. What will probably happen in this connection, Mr. Woodside said, is that a committee will be set up to study the situation and Communist China will be offered admission if she agrees not to take over Nationalist China.

Whether or not China will accept this offer is another matter, Mr. Woodside added.

The speaker said that although the UN may face bankruptcy and may be unwieldy because of the size of its membership and the nature of its organization it will succeed because, "It's got to succeed," Mr. Woodside said.

"The UN faces difficult times. Is it not, rather the world which faces difficult times and the UN which offers the best hope of mastering them?"

The United Nations Association in Canada of which Mr. Woodside is national director has no direct connection with the UN in New York.

It works solely to interest people in the work of the UN, to inform them about it and to make them conscious of the necessity of supporting this world organization.

Under contract City will have right to sublet airport

Sherbrooke will have the right to sublet in whole or in part its municipal airport according to the contract which will be signed between the city and the department of transport, council was told last night.

Under the terms of the agreement, the city can sublet the airport to a private flying club until it finds a commercial airline which would service Sherbrooke.

Two representatives of the regional office of the department of transport, Mr. Albert Gouin and Henri Goudreau, sent here to assist in the technical difficulties facing the city in the preparation for the opening of the airport, said that the contract will be submitted shortly for the signature of the city council.

According to the civil aviation laws, the department of transport is not selling the airport but renting it for a nominal fee of $1 per year.

If the city does not sublet the airport, the maintenance of the runways and services connected with the operation of the airport will be its responsibility.

If the city decides to sublet it to a commercial airline the responsibility of maintaining the site will be decided between the company that rents and Sherbrooke.

Construction of hangars, runways or other service buildings must be approved by the department of transport.

In order to facilitate the job of the city authorities the transport department will provide free technical assistance.

The department will also grant $4,000 a year to assist the city in purchasing equipment which will be used solely for the airport.

At the present time the city has attempted to attract commercial airlines to operate in Sherbrooke, but it has been unsuccessful so far. Nordair airline which has been said to be interested in the Boston-Sherbrooke-North Shore run has not made specific proposals yet.

City budget Taxes up, down or same?

The Sherbrooke residents will be told next week if the city's property taxes for 1961-1962 year will be increased, decreased or maintained at the same level, it was learned Monday night at the city council meeting.

Ald. Carrier Fortin, chairman of the general administration committee of the city council, said that the 1961-1962 budget will be made public at the next meeting of the city council.

Although Mr. Fortin refrained from saying, if there will be a hike in the present taxes, he hinted that this year's budget will be over the $10,000,000 mark reached last year.

WINDSOR — (Staff) — For the second time in two weeks, the ratepayers of the town of Windsor have called for a referendum on a proposed bylaw which calls for a yearly salary for the mayor and each of the six aldermen.

Twenty-four property owners signed a petition at the city hall here last night calling for a referendum.

Two weeks ago, when a salary of $1,500 for the mayor and $1,000 for each of the councillors was asked, a referendum was forced and defeated by a margin of 58 votes.

In the draft bylaw presented to the ratepayers last night, the council is seeking $1,000 for the mayor and $800 for each of the aldermen. The referendum will be held Dec. 12 and 13, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, in town hall.

Twenty-one ratepayers were required to sign the petition to force a referendum and the required amount had signed long before the city hall was closed at 9 p.m.

Many ratepayers came to vote and when they realized that the required 21 had signed they did not bother to enter and vote.

Four members of the council were missing from the public meeting. Those attending were Councillors Laporte, St. Louis and Desaulniers.

Whether or not China will accept this offer is another matter, Mr. Woodside added.

The speaker said that although the UN may face bankruptcy and may be unwieldy because of the size of its membership and the nature of its organization it will succeed because, "It's got to succeed," Mr. Woodside said.

Police hold two in murder

DRUMMONDVILLE — (Staff) — The detachment of the Quebec Provincial Police here announced Monday night that they are holding two important suspects in connection with the brutal murder of 82-year-old Philippe Raymond of Drummondville who was killed at his home on the October 28.

A coroner's inquest into the murder will be held Friday night at the city hall of Drummondville when the Provincial Police will present the evidence against the two men.

These two men bring the total to six, that the police have arrested and questioned in connection with the murder. The other four had to be freed because of lack of evidence.

Detective Roland Gilbert, head of the homicide department of the Drummondville branch of the Quebec Provincial Police said that the two men were arrested over the weekend in Montreal.

The arrests were made by Sgt. Claude Blais and three men from the Drummondville detachment.

Mr. Raymond was found tied to his blood soaked bed on the 28 of October after being beaten to death by what police described as "a dull object, probably a wooden club."

It was the man's niece who made the discovery.

Post office to be built

MAGOG — (Special) — Mr. Rene Letourneau, MP for Stanstead, announced yesterday that the federal treasury board has accepted plans for a new post office and customs building to be built here. He said the government's public works department has asked for tenders.

The new federal building will be constructed on Main Street East on a property adjacent to the Magog city hall lot and that of La Providence Hospital.

Mr. Letourneau said tenders have been called for the immigration and customs building to be built at the boundary. The deadline for the bids is December 13th. He said work on the project would begin in early January.

The central tower of England's great Lincoln Cathedral, completed in 1501, stands 270 feet high.

Sherbrooke Court "Sentence won't stay on ice" Judge Hayes tells accused

Passing of sentence against Denis Roy, 23, of Windsor, who previously pleaded guilty to a charge of theft, was postponed until December 11 in Sherbrooke District Court Monday morning.

Roy had admitted stealing about $310 from a parked car last October 22, with a 23-year-old companion, Yvon Rouillard, of Windsor. The latter was given a suspended sentence, but Roy, who had been released on parole, had been ordered to reimburse the money.

In court Monday morning, the accused told Judge Bedmond Hayes that he had reimbursed part of the amount, but that he couldn't reimburse all the money before February.

"The sentence won't stay on ice till then," said Judge Hayes. "If you pay back all the money, the sentence will be altered in consequence. However, passing of sentence can't be delayed indefinitely. I would advise you to find the money from friends or relatives."

"I realize," said the accused, "that the Court isn't a loan company."

A 29-year-old Bromptonville man pleaded guilty Monday morning in Sherbrooke District Court to a charge of hit and run which occurred last November 6.

Jean-Louis Allard was fined $50 and costs by Judge Bedmond Hayes and was ordered to deposit $250 in cash to pay for the damages caused to Mr. Jacques Labonte's car.

Allard admitted being involved in the accident, but told the court that he had the money to pay for the damages.

More hearings of Liquor Board

The Quebec Liquor Board will return to Sherbrooke for another series of public hearings on some 30 liquor permit applications which will be presented on November 30th and December 1st, it was learned Monday afternoon.

Mr. Dewey Zaor, acting general attorney, said that although the board was not expected to return to Sherbrooke for quite some time, the considerable number of applications forced it to hold further hearings.

Orchestra to present concert

The Netherlands Chamber Orchestra conducted by Szymon Goldberg will give a concert on Wednesday night at the Granada Theatre under the auspices of the Sherbrooke branch of the Community Concert Association.

The orchestra composed of 25 musicians was founded in 1955 through the efforts of Holland's civic and cultural leaders.

It has a repertoire of 160 works which are predominantly Baroque with some Modern selections.

Most of the members have been with the orchestra since its formation which is one reason for its homogeneity and unity of approach for which the group is noted.

They have gone on numerous foreign tours in the last six years although this is their first trip to North America. Although the conductor is Polish born three fourths of the musicians are Dutch.

Many internationally known musicians and conductors have appeared with the orchestra adding to its fine reputation.

School bus issue 2 towns may pass by-laws

Two more municipalities in the Eastern Townships are considering the passing of by-laws to prevent vehicles from passing stopped school buses.

The Cookshire town council has informed The Record that the matter will be brought up at the next council meeting on December 6.

The Ayer's Cliff council has received a letter from the local school board requesting a bylaw which will provide protection for the children who travel on the buses.

The council is holding its next meeting on December 4 at which time the matter will come up for discussion. If the motion were accepted it would not be passed until the January meeting and would become law 15 days after that.

Local history should be taught

"The history of the Eastern Townships, the life and struggle of our ancestors must be taught in our schools in greater detail," the Farm Forum district five rally was told Monday night in Cookshire.

Bart Holtham, Sherbrooke lawyer, was guest speaker at the meeting in the Cookshire High School which was attended by forums from Compton, Sherbrooke, and Stanstead.

Quebec versus the rest at Laval

Reading over reports of Laval University's first Congress on Canadian Affairs which ended on Saturday, it is difficult to escape the conclusion that some very old ground was re-travelled with little appreciable progress made towards solving some problems that are as old as Canada itself.

Subject of the conference was The Canadian Experiment: Success or Failure, and was ostensibly to be devoted to a study of Confederation as it stands today.

It is perfectly understandable that what was actually discussed was not Confederation as such, but the problems of a French-Canadian minority in a predominantly English-speaking country.

In this context, Premier Lesage sounded a familiar theme of provincial rights and provincial autonomy. Other speakers, notably Quebec secessionist Marcel Chaput, aired fiercely nationalistic sentiments reminiscent of Henri Bourassa.

All of this was no doubt of benefit in that it afforded delegates an opportunity to hear strongly-held views frankly expressed, even to Douglas Fisher's outspoken criticism of French Canada.

But Confederation was, and still is, more than simply a matter of Quebec versus the rest.

The primary consideration of Confederation as it was first conceived was economic: how to fashion a viable nation out of a number of diverse elements; out of rich and poor regions; out of vast wildernesses scattered with a few urban areas; out of an economy dependent on fishing at one end and an economy dependent on fur trapping at the other.

And, in a more sophisticated manner, these considerations are still the main ones faced by Canada, Confederation as it is today.

It is still the effort to keep welded together a nation that lives largely along a tenuous 3,000 mile long strip, comprised of people and areas whose economic situations are disconcertingly diverse.

The effort is, of course complicated by large national and international issues; things which no one in 1867 could foresee or provide for.

Quebec, and Ontario, too for that matter, think that the Federal government, as a result of these larger considerations, has taken too much of the power in this Confederation.

But the Maritimes and some of the Western provinces don't agree. They need Confederation for their very survival.

The big question today is, or should be, is Confederation still fulfilling its role properly of forging unity out of economic variety, and is it being done in the right way?

In any discussion along these lines, French-Canadianism and its ramifications certainly have a place, but it is not the paramount position the Laval congress appears to have given them.

But the Maritimes and some of the Western provinces don't agree. They need Confederation for their very survival.

The big question today is, or should be, is Confederation still fulfilling its role properly of forging unity out of economic variety, and is it being done in the right way?

Women's piece of mind can so easily destroy man's peace of mind. Broadening dairy products market?

One of the underlying reasons for the increasing glut of milk and its derivatives in Canada may be the lack of research efforts in finding new uses for the product. The development of substitutes available at much lower prices than the genuine article have drastically reduced the demand for butter, which at one time constituted one of the main outlets for milk. While the demand for milk products has been declining, production, encouraged by government price support, has been increasing.

The only solution advanced to date has been to cut prices for butter and fluid milk, the producer to be compensated by a government subsidy.

Little thought appears to have been given to find new uses for milk, perhaps entirely outside its use as a food. Some money has been spent on research but this has been confined to discovering some way of making people eat milk in a new form. And very often increased demand for the new food items is offset by a reduced consumption of traditional lines, leaving little or no net advantage to the industry as a whole.

It is possible that the expenditure of a comparatively small amount on development and research might uncover so many new uses for milk derivatives that within a short period the threat of unwieldy surpluses may be removed.

Some observers in the pulp and paper industry say that within a few years paper will be in short supply because of the demands of the chemical industry for wood pulp. Perhaps the dairy producers could move in on this market.

The quickest way to silence a bridge club is to ask who is the eldest. Old MacKenzie bridge to be rebuilt Quebec Public Works Minister Rene St. Pierre said in Sherbrooke over the weekend that the MacKenzie bridge, which spans the St. Francis River between Melbourne and Richmond, will be rebuilt.

The announcement, a long overdue one, is nevertheless welcome.

The 57-year-old span was not designed for modern traffic. Originally built to carry a maximum weight of eight tons, it regularly has to carry trucks today weighing over 40 tons.

The bridge has been strengthened from time to time in order to make this possible, but it has become increasingly apparent in recent years that repairs and strengthening are a waste of money.

Just a few weeks ago a section of the bridge collapsed under the weight of heavy traffic. Every week, new potholes and other weaknesses appear on the bridge.

Heavy trucks cause the bridge to shiver and shake.

This situation is all the more deplorable because the bridge is part of an important highway artery.

Mr. St. Pierre did not specify when rebuilding work would start, nor exactly what the nature of the rebuilding would be.

But it is to be hoped that a start will be made in the very near future, and that the rebuilding will be of such a nature as to approximate a new and modern bridge.

Other papers say:

A new outlook for world situation

If the big world crises are to be resolved, it is going to call for a completely new outlook on the part of all nations. Should the present cold war tension continue, it is inevitable that it will lead to a shooting war, which can only mean a nuclear war. Yet the new outlook is not needed to avoid the risk of war, but rather to promote the positive peace which is a much more desirable state for the nations of the world.

In looking for that new outlook, the point of beginning would seem to be to set aside self-righteousness, one of the greatest stumbling blocks to seeing things clearly. Giving the Western nations a nudge in this direction is the Rev. John C. Bennett, dean of the faculty of Union Theological Seminary, who remarked to the Catholic Association for International Peace that it should not always be assumed that God is on the side of the West.

Perhaps the Western powers have been guilty of this presumption, and we need to be reminded quite frequently that we can be wrong. We need to be reminded that we too can be guilty of moral failure, and consider the possibility that the atheism of communism may be a judgment on the churches. Dr. Bennett said:

"It is our temptation to assume that, because our opponents are atheists, God must be on our side, and to overlook the extent to which communism itself is a judgment upon the sins and failures of the middle class world, upon the Christian world."

The Western nations, out of self-righteousness, reject the possibility of Divine judgment, and proceed in the belief that God is on their side. Our blindness in this consideration leads us into complacency, and if we have even a modicum of Christian belief, it can close our eyes to the greater reality that Dr. Bennett suggests.

In the final analysis, we ought to be concerned not so much whether God is on our side as whether we are on His side. But that involves a mental self-examination that many of us may be unwilling to undertake. Whatever may be said, the judgment of God remains, and we ought to examine our outlook in the light of the judgment of God. (Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph)

To cope with African nationalism

Portugal begins cautious reform

LONDON (CP)—Tiny Portugal, a nation clinging to the patterns of life that led them to a "Estatuto dos Indigenas"—native statute. This law, which separated the three continents, is revamping its overseas policies. In the wake of the Angolan and assimilated—civilized violence and butchery, the gov.—has come under much criticism of Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar announced a series of decrees aimed at coping with the growth of African nationalism.

By DAVID OANCA This does not mean that all automatically received this right when the decree was announced. There are literacy and property qualifications for this. The overseas minister put it this way: "In keeping with the rule that power must always be exercised by those who are most fit to do so, the law will define for all, the conditions in which they may intervene actively in political life."

These distinctions, All natives now are considered full citizens of Portugal and subject to the same regulations on matters such as the right to vote. This does not mean that all automatically received this right when the decree was announced. There are literacy and property qualifications for this. The overseas minister put it this way: "In keeping with the rule that power must always be exercised by those who are most fit to do so, the law will define for all, the conditions in which they may intervene actively in political life."

It is a cautious program of social, political and economic reforms. The goal is not to lead the nation's African territories of Guinea, Angola and Mozambique to independence. This the Portuguese regard as foolhardy. It is to integrate 11,000,000 Africans, Europeans and mulattos into viable multi-racial societies closely linked to the motherland.

Of the total population, only two per cent of non-whites in the African provinces have become "assimilados"—which means having taken the steps to become legally "civilized." It is perhaps because of external criticisms and internal pressures that the government has finally decided to abolish

The program, announced Aug. 28, includes: 1. Abolition of the declared distinction between primitive Africans and their "civilized" neighbors. 2. A stepped-up program of European settlement in the African territories, particularly Angola and Mozambique. 3. Creation of a common market for Portugal and her overseas territories. 4. Abolition of laws that forced African natives to work under contract or to grow specified crops each year. 5. Inauguration of moves to increase the participation of citizens in running the affairs of their own communities.

The program is intended primarily for the African territories, which have a total area of about 800,000 square miles—more than 20 times greater than Portugal.

Other parts of the empire that was founded in the age of discovery five centuries ago have not got the problem of dealing with large numbers of primitive people. The remaining portion of the world's oldest empire includes Goa, Damao and Diu on the Indian subcontinent; Macao on China's south coast; Timor in the Indonesian archipelago, and the tiny islands of Cape Verde, Principe and Sao Tome of west Africa.

The Portuguese approach is the direct opposite of that propounded by most of her allies. Britain and the United States proclaim support for rapid self-determination of all African regions still not sovereign. Portuguese authorities view the political emancipation of such territories as "disintegration of Africa."

"We continue to believe that a man serves best when he serves his country, and for that reason have no doubt as to the advantage of our manner of looking at the needs of African territories," said Overseas Minister Adriano Moreira.

Medieval nicknames gave birth to lots of modern last names. Before we had last names, nicknames were a way to tell one Tom, Dick, or Harry from another. Nick names for "Richard" included Hud, Dick, Rick, Rich, Hitch, and Hick. Scores of family names have sprung from Richard and its nicknames—names like Hudson, Dixon, Ricketts, Ritchie, Dick, Hicks, Hitchcock, Rich, Pritchard, Richardson—and of course, Richards.

Newly independent states must rely on "obtaining technicians on a mercenary basis either through international organizations or under bilateral agreements."

Salazar's government declares that by increasing emigration from metropolitan Portugal to the African territories, the problem of providing skilled help can be overcome.

Portuguese authorities say there would be a complete absence of the color bar. The races would be encouraged to mingle and intermarry. The customs and rites of primitive peoples would be respected. The Portuguese add that it was this respect for existing

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — It is remarkable that a government elected on a promise to re-establish Canada's economic independence of the United States should turn to the U.S. for economic leadership.

While this is no doubt politically embarrassing to the Conservatives, it is not ground upon which to crucify them. The situation today is not the same as it was in 1957 when Prime Minister Diefenbaker proposed (and subsequently denied having done so) to switch 15 per cent of our U.S. imports to Britain. The difference is Britain's desire to join the European Common Market, and the calamitous effect that it is likely to have on Canadian sales to Britain.

In these new circumstances the government has had to draft new policies. After a period — an overly long period — of confusion and uncertainty, the government has developed flexibility to adapt itself to the changes taking place around it. Diefenbaker, Finance Minister Fleming and Trade Minister Hees deserve credit for their adaptability, not ridicule for their complete reversal of the trade policies they advocated four years ago.

By the same token — and this is extra gall for the Tories — Liberal leader Pearson deserves credit for having formally proposed in the Commons last April 25 a plan for an Atlantic trading bloc. Basically this is the Ball-Herter-Clayton approach to 1961's world trade problems that is being urged upon President Kennedy and the Congress. And it is on the U.S. giving leadership through this approach that the Canadian government's hopes now appear pinned.

With Britain in the ECM and Commonwealth tariff preferences heading for the junk pile, Canada would have a choice of four alternatives. It could turn to high tariff protectionism — but this would ruin our export trade. It could seek to join the ECM — but the price would be ruin for many Canadian industries. It could seek some form of economic union with the U.S. — a North American common market. Implemented carefully, over many years, with substantial concessions on both sides, this would be economically feasible. It would also be a big step towards political union, price most Canadians would not wish to pay.

The fourth alternative is membership in a larger trade grouping under American leadership, linked with ECM.

What is the Ball-Herter-Clayton approach? George W. Ball, US undersecretary of state for economic affairs, prepared a monograph for the president which advocates the total repudiation of protectionism. To retain Free World leadership, he said, the US must "open the doors and windows of our economy" to international competition.

Former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and William L. Clayton, former undersecretary for economic affairs, reported to the congress that the US should "form a trade partnership with the ECM and take the leadership in further expanding a free world economic community." The US should particularly extend membership concessions to the "contested" nations like India, to counteract a tendency for them to gravitate into the Sino-Soviet economic orbit.

Herter and Clayton offer their plan as a means of winning the economic cold war. It could also save Canada's economic life.

Grain losses depress farm income

OTTAWA (CP)—Prairie grain weather to keep next year's losses from drought this year depressed net income of Canadian farmers to the lowest point in at least 12 years, the agriculture department reported today. Grain growers cut deeply into stockpiles to maintain cash income, and it will take favorable next year. Cash income of Canadian farmers will rise to an estimated $2,896,000,000 this year from $2,783,000,000 in 1960, the federal agriculture department said in a bulky conference document.

But nearly $400,000,000 of this income came from eating into farm-held food stocks, mainly Prairie grains.

With operating costs also rising, net income of Canadian farmers is expected to drop to $886,000,000 this year from $1,358,000,000. This would be the lowest since the government started compiling net income figures in 1949.

The report also indicated that Canadian wheat exports may decline, and gave the dwindling of stockpiles as one reason.

It said exports in the 1961-62 crop year may fall to about 325,000,000 bushels from the 353,500,000 sold in 1960-61 — the fourth-highest on record.

NOTES TROUBLE SPOTS The report noted trouble spots arising from surplus production in two other farm products — butter and broiler chickens.

It indicated butter stocks at the end of 1961 likely will total a record 201,000,000 pounds, an increase of 67,000,000 pounds from last Dec. 31.

It forecast increased milk production next year going into butter and said the current decline in butter consumption will continue if prices remain at present levels.

If this happens, it said, butter stocks at the end of 1962 could be another 80,000,000 pounds larger at some 280,000,000 pounds.

It noted this year's 23-per-cent jump in production of poultry meat — most of it in broiler chickens. In September, prices paid by processors at London, Ont., fell to a record low of 12 cents a pound.

Reviewing the general economic outlook, the report said international trade in wheat, coarse grains and oilseed crops should be larger next year. There were "bright" prospects for apple exports.

FAVORABLE FACTOR Domestic demand for Canadian farm products should continue strong and the upturn in the United States economy was also a favorable factor.

The report forecast slightly lower hog prices in the first half of 1962, though hog marketings may be higher.

Egg production is expected to rise, with resulting lower prices in the first half of next year. Export markets are also expected to decline.

Potato production this year declined three per cent despite a six-per-cent increase in acreage. But because of a large increase in U.S. production, prices next year aren't likely to rise.

The report noted that the trend to dehydrated potato products, with several new processing plants under construction, may reverse a downturn in the amount of potatoes consumed by the average Canadian.

Mrs. T. Crossley

Service held today in Sherbrooke

A funeral service was held early this afternoon from the Church of the Advent, East Sherbrooke, for Mrs. Thomas Crossley, the former Alice Mounsey, who died November 18 at the Sherbrooke Hospital. She was in her 90th year.

Born in Braham, Leeds, England, she married Thomas Crossley of her home town in 1897.

In 1908, Mr. and Mrs. Crossley and their two daughters, Nellie and Rosamond, (who died in 1922), came to Canada and resided in Montreal until 1939 when the family moved to Sherbrooke.

Mr. Crossley predeceased his wife nine years ago this February.

Mrs. Crossley was a life member of the Branch 16 of the Railway Veterans of the Royal Canadian Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Crossley was the first provincial president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Royal Canadian Legion Auxiliary. At that time she was a member of the Montreal Branch.

She had been awarded the Order of Merit from the senior branch of the Royal Canadian Legion Ladies Auxiliary, the King George VI Jubilee Medal in 1935 and the Coronation Medal in 1937. All three medals were awarded for the work Mrs. Crossley did while a member of the Royal Canadian Legion Ladies Auxiliary.

Mrs. Crossley was also a member of the Sherbrooke 53rd Regiment Chapter of the I.O.G.E. and a member of the St. Margaret's Guild, Church of the Advent, Sherbrooke.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. R. M. Loughheed, (Nellie), of Sherbrooke.

Interment was in the St. Peter's Church Cemetery.

Approve budget

ROME (Reuters) — Conference of the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization Monday night approved a $31,585,000 budget for its work in 1962 and 1963. The previous biennial budget totaled $21,500,000.

Conspiracy, theft, fraud

Two businessmen get seven years

By STAN McCABE
BRANDON, Man. (CP) — Toronto businessmen Hugh Paton, 42, and D. Hubert Cox, 47, were convicted Monday night on charges of conspiracy, theft and fraud against Brandon Packers Limited and sentenced to seven years in prison.

Defence counsel announced shortly after the 39-day trial ended that the convictions and sentences will be appealed.

The two men, former heads of Great West Saddlery Company Limited, the parent firm of the Brandon Meat Packing Company, were taken to Brandon jail after Mr. Justice A. M. Monnin passed sentence.

Defence counsel Harry Walsh for Paton and Henry Monk for Cox said they will seek release of their clients on bail pending disposition of their appeals. They had been free on $25,000 bail each since their arrest in Toronto Jan. 12.

The men were accused of conspiring to steal $460,000 from Brandon Packers; actually stealing $448,000 from the company; conspiring to defraud Brandon Packers of $460,000; and fraudulently investing the firm of $448,000, and knowingly making, publishing and circulating a false prospectus for a $400,000 Brandon Packers bond issue in 1956.

All of the offences were alleged to have taken place between Jan. 1, 1956 and Nov. 30, 1960.

Mr. Justice Monnin sentenced them to seven years concurrent on each of the counts.

Paton, a native of Charlotteville, and Cox, a native of Manchester, England, heard the sentence impassively, as did their wives, who were among the spectators.

Paton and Cox were arrested in the wake of a series of events that started with a six-month strike at Brandon Packers last year. A judicial inquiry into the strike by Mr. Justice G. E. Tritschler of the Manitoba Court of Appeal resulted in a preliminary recommendation that a deeper investigation be made into Brandon Packers' financial operations.

A. S. Dewar, Winnipeg lawyer who eventually handled the prosecution of the case, conducted an investigation and Paton and Cox were committed to trial May 4.

The trial opened June 5 but was immediately adjourned in compliance with a defence request for more preparation time. The trial actually began Sept. 25 and was starting its ninth week Monday.

The charges against the two men said they committed theft and fraud by buying control of Brandon Packers with the major portion of $200,000 the meat packing firm itself had invested in Propax Limited, another company they controlled.

They also were charged with theft and fraud by billing Brandon Packers $208,000 for management services by Great West Saddlery — services the Crown contended never were provided.

Also involved were charges for rent of Toronto offices and other expenses the Crown said were not justified; $4,000 commission charged against Brandon Packers in the acquisition of West-gate Packers Limited of Port Arthur, Ont., and loans made by Brandon Packers to other companies controlled by Paton and Cox.

Both defendants testified that they had no criminal intent and that their actions amounted to normal business practice.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

EAST SITS WITH SETTING TRICKS

It was the last round of the tournament and South felt that he needed a top score if he wanted to win.

Hence, he bid two spades with the intention of stopping a lead of that suit and his plan obviously was to go on to a heart slam.

When North jumped to three no-trump South swapped horses in mid-stream and tried for the slam in no-trump. He was still after that top score, but wanted to get it another way.

East was really delighted with six no-trump. He was on lead and he held the ace and king of spades. What could be sweeter? Setting the hand doubled, of course! East doubled.

This double caused South to swap horses a second time. It was obvious to him that East was doubling with two sure tricks and they probably were the ace and king of spades, so South ran out to seven hearts.

East did not double that one. It was up to West to choose an opening lead and he selected a diamond whereupon South ran off 13 tricks.

South had his top score and at latest reports East and West were still arguing about the respective lack of merit of East's double and West's lead.

11 YEAR OLD

"He came from up forward with a pail in his hand."

"Did you ask him anything about what he was doing or what happened to your mother or brother?"

"No, I just said, 'What happened?' and he said 'Get down there.'"

"Did he seem to be angry or excited?"

"He sounded real mad."

"About how close did Captain Harvey come to you up on the deck that night when you said he was angry?"

"SHOVED ME"

"He touched me and he hit me and he shoved me down with his hand."

"You went to your room and climbed on your bunk?"

"Yes."

"The reason why you then left your bunk was because you heard the water coming up in the boat?"

"No, it was up on my bed before I got up."

"When you went up on deck then, you knew where this small life raft was and you knew that you were going to try to get to it?"

"Yes."

Terry said she put the raft over in the water, then jumped into it.

She said she didn't know where Harvey was. "I don't know if he got in the dinghy or what happened."

Women's groups in the news

ASCOT W.I.
Ascot Women's Institute held a most interesting quiz on Current Events, conducted by Mrs. Wallace Wingate at their regular meeting held at the Huntingville Community hall on Thursday evening, November 16. This part of the program concluded in a three way tie with Mrs. William T. Pearson being the winner.

Mrs. Ashley Hatcher the president, presided and welcomed several guests from Lennoxville and the roll call was answered by telling how to be neighbourly.

A letter from C.A.C. outlined some of the plans for the coming months and asked for the support of the members.

Mrs. John Garfat reported on a meeting held recently by the department of agriculture and school fair committees when plans were drawn up for the prize list for the coming year and noted several changes.

Mrs. Wallace Wingate reported on a sale of pumpkins, with the proceeds going to UNICEF also cards ordered for the same purpose.

Mrs. Dawson Savage read an article regarding the teaching of children to read and encouraging the necessity for good books.

Mention was made of the W.I. broadcast earlier in the day and members were reminded to have all materials and patterns, ready for the sewing course to start on the evening of November 20. The work calendar for this month was knitted booties or mittens.

Mrs. Wentworth Richardson reported on attending the 25th anniversary of the East Angus Women's Institute and of the hospitality extended the guests.

Mrs. Wallace Wingate gave a detailed report of the quarterly county meeting held in Lennoxville. The usual advertising space will be taken in the Lennoxville High School Lyre again this year and the sum of $5.00 was voted to the S.P.C.A. and the Quebec Service Fund subscribed to one hundred per cent.

A new ways and means committee was named with Mrs. William T. Pearson as the convener. The next meeting due to the approaching holidays will be held on December 14 in the Assembly room at the Experimental Farm.

At the close a lunch was served by Mrs. Lorne Butler, Mrs. Walter Blodgett and Mrs. J. A. Lundeborg.

she needed many taggers for November 17 and 18 and the rest of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of times and locations for the volunteers. Mrs. Buckman then distributed the boxes and the tags, these had been repaired, counted and bundled by the senior class.

ST. MONICA'S GUILD - ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH LENNOXVILLE

The regular meeting of St. Monica's Guild was held November 14 with Mrs. F. Smith in the chair, and 37 members present.

Mrs. E. Frost reported that the Annual Meeting of the Hall Committee will be held on December 5. Mrs. C. Dougherty volunteered to assist with the kitchen inventory. A detailed report on the Ploughmen's Banquet was given by Mrs. G. Gard.

Final plans were discussed for the Christmas Tea and Sale which will take place on Thursday, November 23, from 3.00 to 8.00 p.m. Mrs. A. Halsall volunteered to make the posters.

Mrs. D. Miller, Miss O. Harvey and Mrs. E. Hobbs offered to help at the Cancer Dressings meeting on December 6.

Following adjournment of the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Miss J. Hall, Miss D. Dutton, Mrs. A. Ladd and Mrs. B. Clarke, convened by Mrs. N. Hunting.

XI CHAPTER BETA SIGMA PHI

The XI Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held their meeting at the home of Helen Spafford, Ontario St. The president, Ann Hansford was in the chair and called for reports from all committees.

It was decided to have a table at the next meeting to be held at the home of Nora Black in Lennoxville.

The Christmas Party will be on December 11th at the home of Barbara Richardson, both chapters will participate in this event.

The program chairman Peggy Herring introduced Nora Black who gave an interesting paper on "Realism, the Painter and the world around us." She used as illustrations paintings from Van Eyck, Raphael, Braque, Dufy and others. Pointing out how artists through the years have reflected realism and that all art was realistic with the one exception of abstract. Muriel Blackmore thanked the speaker.

Members of the Epsilon Chapter joined the group for refreshments in the dining room. The president of the Epsilon chapter poured at the tea table which was arranged with a pink cloth and center piece of pink roses and pine branches.

The Philathea Group of the Lennoxville United Church heard the "Value of Church groups," by Mrs. Ralph Mosher at their regular meeting held in the Scott Hall on Tuesday evening November 14. Final plans were made to serve a chicken pie supper at the coming Bazaar on the second evening November 30.

Mrs. Roy Sutor the president opened the meeting with prayer and discussed the forming of the United Church Women's units, which will take the place of the Women's Federation and groups.

Reports were given by various conveners and donations received for the bazaar sales tables.

The annual white elephant sale was held with Mrs. Austin Scott acting as auctioneer. Rev. A. B. and Mrs. Lovelace were guests and members were reminded to bring decorated baskets or boxes to the December meeting. This meeting will also take the form of a Christmas party with an exchange of gifts.

After the benediction the hostesses for the evening Mrs. Austin Scott, Mrs. Albert Raycraft and Miss Edna Davidson served refreshments from the lace covered tea table which was centered with bronze and yellow mums.

ASSOCIATION FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

The regular meeting of the Sherbrooke County Branch of the Association for Retarded Children was held on November 14 at the School, London Street with the vice-president, Mrs. R. Gravel in the chair, 23 members were present.

The president, Mr. A. Beaulieu took over when he arrived. He announced that the Sherbrooke representative on the Board of Directors for the Provincial Association is now Mr. Paul Desruisseaux. He also thanked those who had helped paint the school yard fence and put in new posts and glazed the windows and contributions of food for the school lunches.

Mrs. Blachford reported that the pupils at Mitchell School, Waterville and Lennoxville were tagging this year on Nov. 17-18.

The president also announced that a new psychiatrist was to be appointed by Prov. Ass'n. so that Mr. Lapointe would be able in future to visit our school more frequently.

Mrs. R. Allatt reported that

BROMPTON ROAD W.I.

Mrs. George Hadenko and Mrs. Gerald Decoteau were joint hostesses at the latter's home on Scotch Road recently, when the Brompton Road branch of the Women's Institute held their November meeting. The meeting opened in the usual manner, the roll call being "Current events in the newspaper."

The conveners gave their reports as follows: Citizenship, Mrs. McLeod, read an article on "Peace in 1962". Education, Mrs. G. Hatch, reported books had been presented to pupils in grades 3 and 4 for improvement in arithmetic and at Mitchell school presentation was made by Mrs. Norman Hatch.

DEAF HEAR AGAIN WITH NEW CORDLESS ELECTRONIC CAPSULE

CHICAGO (Special) — A wonderful tiny new hearing aid utilizing the latest in electronic research—that can correct hearing loss without cords, wires or plastic tubes—the "Utopian"—was announced by S. F. Posen, noted acoustical authority.

Posen stated, "This remarkable new hearing aid slips in and out of the ear as easily as snapping your fingers. It provides higher fidelity hearing at natural ear level that can help many sufferers from mild hearing loss."

Posen also announced that a thrilling new, fully illustrated book reveals all the exciting facts about this revolutionary new way to hear clearly again. "It is 'must' reading for everyone with a hearing problem," he added.

Andy Bathgate holds six point lead in NHL scoring race

Has collected 31 points while Provost setting pace with most goals, Bower is best netminder

MONTREAL (CP) — Veteran right winger Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers has swept into a commanding six-point lead atop the National Hockey League's individual scoring race.

Official NHL statistics released today show Bathgate with nine goals and 22 assists, top in the league, for 31 points. He has played in all 18 Rangers games.

Bathgate, 29, never an NHL scoring champion though he's come close to accomplishing the feat several times, picked up seven points on two goals and five assists in two outings last week.

He's been in on 13 of the 17 goals New York has scored in its last four games.

Claude Provost of Montreal Canadiens was held to two points—one goal and one assist—in four games last week but held on to second place. Provost has a league-leading 14 goals and 11 assists for 25 points. He also has played in 18 games.

GEORFRION THIRD

Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion, last season's scoring champ, had one goal and two assists last week and moved into sole possession of third place with eight goals and 13 assists for 21 points.

Earl Ingarfield of the Rangers had five points—four of them goals—and vaulted into a tie for fourth place with Don McKenney of Boston Bruins.

Ingarfield is second to Provost in goals with 11. He also has nine assists for 20 points. McKenney, held to one goal and one assist in two games, has a season slate of 8-12.

Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings, Dean Prentice of New York and Johnny Bucyk of Boston share sixth spot with 19 points.

Howe scored one goal and picked up two assists last week while Prentice had four assists and Bucyk one.

Henri Richard of Montreal, held to one goal and one assist, and Doug Mohns of Boston, with one assist, are tied for ninth position at 18 points.

THREE PLACE TIE

Two members of the Toronto Maple Leafs—Frank Mahovlich and Red Kelly—share 11th position with Detroit's Eddie Litzenberger. Each has 17 points.

Boston rookie Cliff Pennington is alone in 14th spot with 15 points.

Five players follow with 14 points. In this bracket are Don Marshall and Phil Goyette of Montreal, Bobby Pulford and Dave Keon of Toronto, and Stan Mikita of Chicago Black Hawks.

Veteran Johnny Bower of Toronto continues to lead the race for the Vezina Trophy—awarded annually to the goalie who plays the most games for the team that allows the fewest goals—with a 2.47 goals-against average.

Glenn Hall of Chicago is second with an average of 2.59. Jacques Plante of Montreal and Lorne Worsley of New York are tied for third with 2.83 averages.

Terry Sawchuk of Detroit and Hal Head in shutouts with two each.

Montreal continues as the most penalized team with 248 minutes—60 minutes more than Detroit and Toronto which is second.

Defenceman Lou Fontinato of Canadiens is most penalized player with 74 minutes. That's 42 minutes more than his closest rivals—teammate Marcel Bonin and Chicago's Eric Nesterenko.

East have won Little Grey Cup

OTTAWA (CP)—The East has the Grey Cup—that is the Little Grey Cup.

A pickup team representing Eastern Canada Saturday defeated a Western squad by a score of 28 to 13 at the Little Grey Cup football classic staged annually by Canadian servicemen at Metz, France.

The festivities were highlighted by the crowning of Leading Airwoman Clare Bell of Egmont, north of Edmonton as Miss Grey Cup.

Sam Etcheverry may return to Canadian ball

VANCOUVER (CP) — Sam Etcheverry in a Canadian football uniform again?

Don't discount the possibility, says Doug Smith, Montreal radio and television personality and personal friend of the former Montreal Alouette quarterback now playing with St. Louis Cardinals.

Province sports editor Eric Whitehead, who reported Etcheverry's remarks in an interview, said a most interested listener was Herb Capozzi of British Columbia Lions, whose Western Football Conference team won one game this season.

Etcheverry was traded by the Eastern Conference Alouettes to Hamilton Tiger Cats. Etcheverry refused to report and went to join New York Giants of the National Football League. St. Louis Cardinals proved they had prior rights to him and now, troubled by an ailing passing arm, he is having a hard time holding down the first-string quarterback job there.

Etcheverry was quoted in the Montreal Nouvelles Journal recently as saying he would quit the NFL and return to Canada rather than sit on the bench.

"Canada includes Vancouver," said Smith. "What about it? Are the Lions interested?"

Capozzi replied the Lions are interested but added that Etcheverry is on the Montreal suspension list and would be Alouette property if he returned.

If the Alouettes did not want Etcheverry?

"It's very interesting," replied Capozzi. "We'll certainly keep in touch with the situation."

Willie Marshall setting pace in AHL scoring race

NEW YORK (AP) — Hershey Bears' Willie Marshall, who picked up nine points last week, became the American Hockey League's sixth scoring leader in as many weeks today.

The 29-year-old veteran centre, in his 10th AHL campaign, has a league-leading 26 points on 10 goals and 16 assists. That gives Marshall, in sixth place last week, a five-point lead over Springfield Indian's Brian Kilrea.

Paul Larivee of Providence Reds and Rochester Americans' Alex Faulkner of Bishops Falls, Nfld. are tied for third with 20 points, according to league statistics released today. Faulkner is the assists leader with 17 while Marshall is tied with Barry Cullen of Buffalo Bisons and Providence's Pierre Brillant for the goals lead with 10.

Hershey's Bobby Perreault is the No. 1 goalie with a low of 2.21 goals allowed a game.

still leads the goal-keepers with a 2.50 goal average and with two shutouts. Cesare Manigo of Hull-Ottawa has allowed the same number of goals—45—but played one game fewer.

CBC to carry second game of Western Football Conference on eastern TV network from Winnipeg at 10.00 p.m.

TORONTO (CP) — The CBC announced Monday night it has decided to carry the second game of the Western Football Conference final on its eastern television network.

The game between Calgary Stampeders and Winnipeg Blue Bombers will be shown in its entirety on the CBC's western TV network starting at 8:30 p.m. CST Wednesday and on the Eastern network at 10 p.m. EST, a half-hour after the game begins.

The first half-hour of the game won't be telecast in the east because of previous commitments on the eastern network from 9 p.m. to 10 p.m. EST, a CBC spokesman said.

The spokesman said the CBC is still considering whether it will carry the third game Saturday afternoon, if one is necessary, on its eastern network.

CONSIDER PROPOSAL

The CBC also has under consideration a second proposal that its western TV network carry the concluding game of the Toronto-Hamilton eastern football conference final Saturday afternoon if no western game is required.

The publicly-owned corporation has the TV rights to the western games but required permission of the eastern conference to telecast western games in the east.

John Bassett, president of the CFTO-TV, a private station which holds eastern conference TV rights, announced Monday that the CBC is free to televise the Calgary-Winnipeg second playoff game Wednesday night. He said the CBC could also pick up the CFTO telecast of the Saturday eastern final for broadcast on the CBC's western network.

The CBC decision to televise the western game Wednesday night on its full network came after a series of proposals and counter-proposals between the CBC, CFTO, the privately-owned CTV network, and the Eastern Football Conference TV committee, headed by J. T. (Jake) Gaudaur of Hamilton.

Bowl choices are to be made this weekend when 1961 schedules end

NEW YORK (AP)—To bowl, or not to bowl. That is the question that will be answered this Saturday when most of the college football teams eligible for post-season competition, wind up their 1961 regular schedules.

And the bowl promoters, with time growing short, are going to fret until the question is settled.

Maryland's Terps were the latest to be put on a "win or go" basis when the Gator Bowl committee told coach Tom Nugent Monday that if his team lacks Virginia this Saturday, it will get one of the spots for the Dec. 30 game in Jacksonville, Fla. Maryland accepted the bid on that basis. Georgia Tech is rumored to be the best bet as an opponent.

The Orange, Sugar and Cotton Bowls, among the New Year's Day bigwigs, are still unsettled.

The Rose Bowl knows it will have the winner of Saturday's UCLA-Southern California game, which will be Big Five champ, as host. Alabama is the current hot choice to be the opponent, running well ahead of both Minnesota and Ohio State of the Big Ten.

TO GET BID

In Miami, Orange Bowl chairman Van Kussrow will know on Saturday whether Louisiana State will come to his gala gridiron affair. The Bayou Bengals, who have already turned thumbs down on the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, will be offered a formal bid after their game against Tulane. And they are expected to say yes.

The Big Eight, and leader Colorado particularly, are still simmering over an Orange Bowl commitment's statement that Kansas, if it beats Missouri this weekend, will be the choice from that conference. The bowl people are not committed to the Big Eight champ and feel that the Jayhawks, winners of six in a row since a 20-19 loss to Colorado, would make a better attraction.

The Sugar Bowl, with both Alabama and Louisiana State headed elsewhere, may be starting to scratch. Mississippi, another southeastern power is reported headed to Dallas for the Cotton Bowl against Texas, if the longhorns beat Texas A and M this Thursday and win the Southwest Conference title.

In that event, the Sugar Bowl people probably will go after Arkansas, if the porkers wind up second in the SWC. An opponent would have to be found from among Auburn, Georgia Tech, Miami or possibly Duke.

The only major teams already bowl-bound are the University of Wichita and Villanova, which will meet in El Paso's Sun Bowl.

Commissioner Joe Foss admits to AFL holding secret draft of US college players, owners to blame

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—It used other terms to say it but the American Football League has admitted in effect that it held a secret draft of United States college players two weeks before the official date.

The club owners "conducted a poll among themselves in respects to a limited number of players with whom they would have intra-league negotiation rights," was the way Commissioner Joe Foss put it. He added that he didn't know it had happened.

Foss had agreed with the American Football Coaches Association that the draft would not be held until Dec. 2—the day the U.S. college football season ends.

Jack Curtice of Stanford, president of the AFCA, said he was disappointed and shocked.

'NOT FAIR'

"We have tried to treat both leagues (the National Football League is the other) as fairly and equally as possible. It is not fair to a college football coach to have his players tampered with until the season is over."

Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the National Football League had previously stated that the premature AFL action would not change the National Football League plans for its official draft Dec. 4.

Foss pointed out that under league-by-laws players cannot be signed before their last college games, so that no college player could become ineligible.

Foss said he would not approve the contract of any player eligible for the 1961 draft who was signed prior to Dec. 2.

New York—Kelvin Scott, 152 3/4, Trinidad outpunted Vince Shomo, 151 1/2, New York, 10.

Nottingham, England — Dave Charney, 134 3/4, Britain, knocked out Darkie Hughes, 130 3/4, Wales, 1. (British Empire lightweight title).

$1,000,000 is put in escrow for Patterson

BOSTON (AP)—A cheque for $1,000,000 was placed in escrow Monday to guarantee that heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson will get a rematch should he lose his title to Tom McNeely in their Dec. 4 fight in Toronto.

In the agreement between both sides, if McNeely wins the heavyweight title bout, he must give Patterson a rematch within 120 days or forfeit the money. Should McNeely win the title and then retire Fuller gets his money back. But if McNeely decides to come out of retirement, he owes Patterson $1,000,000.

Julius November, New York attorney, represented Patterson, Fuller and his attorney, James G. Wheeler, conferred with November for nearly 1 1/2 hours before final details of the agreement were worked out.

Waiting expectantly in the background while the two camps conferred, were three representatives of Championship Sports, Inc., of Massachusetts, promoters of the title fight. The fight was originally scheduled for Boston, Nov. 13, but was cancelled when the state boxing commission refused to grant Patterson's demand for an out-of-state referee.

Tech School and Beavers win in Junior loop

Normie Dussault made his coaching debut in the Sherbrooke Junior Hockey League a successful one when the Tech School managed to eke out a close 3-2 win over Bishop's University. The Junior Beavers posted their second win of the short season with a 5-1 verdict over St. Francis last night at the Arena.

The twinbill was a wide-open affair as all teams were out to try and come up with a win. Checking was close as the players kept their heads and played good hockey. Several penalties were handed out all for minor offences.

The Tech was obliged to come from behind a 2-0 lead after two periods. Ewart and Canter put Mush Morehouse's crew out in front in the first frame and they held the edge around the nets while Dussault's crew failed to click on their shots.

In the middle session it was a close affair with both clubs missing good scoring chances. It was nip-and-tuck the whole

Seniors competition to be held here, Bob McMurray, Hubert Johnston to be presented with special awards

The final playoffs of the Seniors Competition of the Canadian Branch of the Royal Canadian Curling Club will be played at the Lennoxville and Sherbrooke Curling Clubs on Dec. 15-16.

This annual tournament is open to all clubs of the Branch. The rinks must be composed of players 60 years old or over.

Playdowns are held in the various districts and the final playoff of the 16 winners takes place here. The finalists will come from Montreal District, six rinks, Ottawa Valley District, five rinks, South Shore District, three rinks, and the North Shore District with two rinks.

Local curling club opens new season

The first games of the opening Bonspiel got underway last night at the Sherbrooke Curling Club.

Some very interesting curling was witnessed. There are 22 rinks in the spiel which will run until Friday when the finals in the main event as well as the consolation will be played at 8.00.

Brome Bombers need funds to hold sale

COWANSVILLE—(Staff)—The Brome-Missisquoi Bombers of the Eastern Intermediate Football Conference need money, Guy Fontaine of the Bombers told the Record recently.

To raise funds for the club, members have organized a sale of Willard's chocolates for November 24, 25 and 26.

Everyone is urged to make a purchase so that sufficient funds can be collected to permit the club to continue operations.

Eddie Quinn lines up bout for winners

MONTREAL (CP)—Boxing promoter Eddie Quinn said Monday he has lined up a January bout here between the winners of the Robert Cleroux - Archie Moore and Zora Foley-Henry Cooper fights next month.

Both matches are scheduled for Dec. 5, the Cleroux-Moore fight in Montreal and the other in London, England.

Quinn said he made the arrangements by telephone with London promoter Jack Solomons, in New York on a business trip.

Uncle Sam to try and give tennis lift by turning National tourney into giant international spectacle

NEW YORK (AP)—Uncle Sam will try to give tennis a much-needed lift next year by turning the national championships at Forest Hills into a giant international spectacle like Wimbledon.

George E. Barnes of Chicago, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, announced plans Monday to have 85 foreign players, including representatives of the Soviet Union, flown here for the annual event.

The tournament would be extended to last two weeks, instead of the usual 10 days—again matching Wimbledon's "dedicated fortnight."

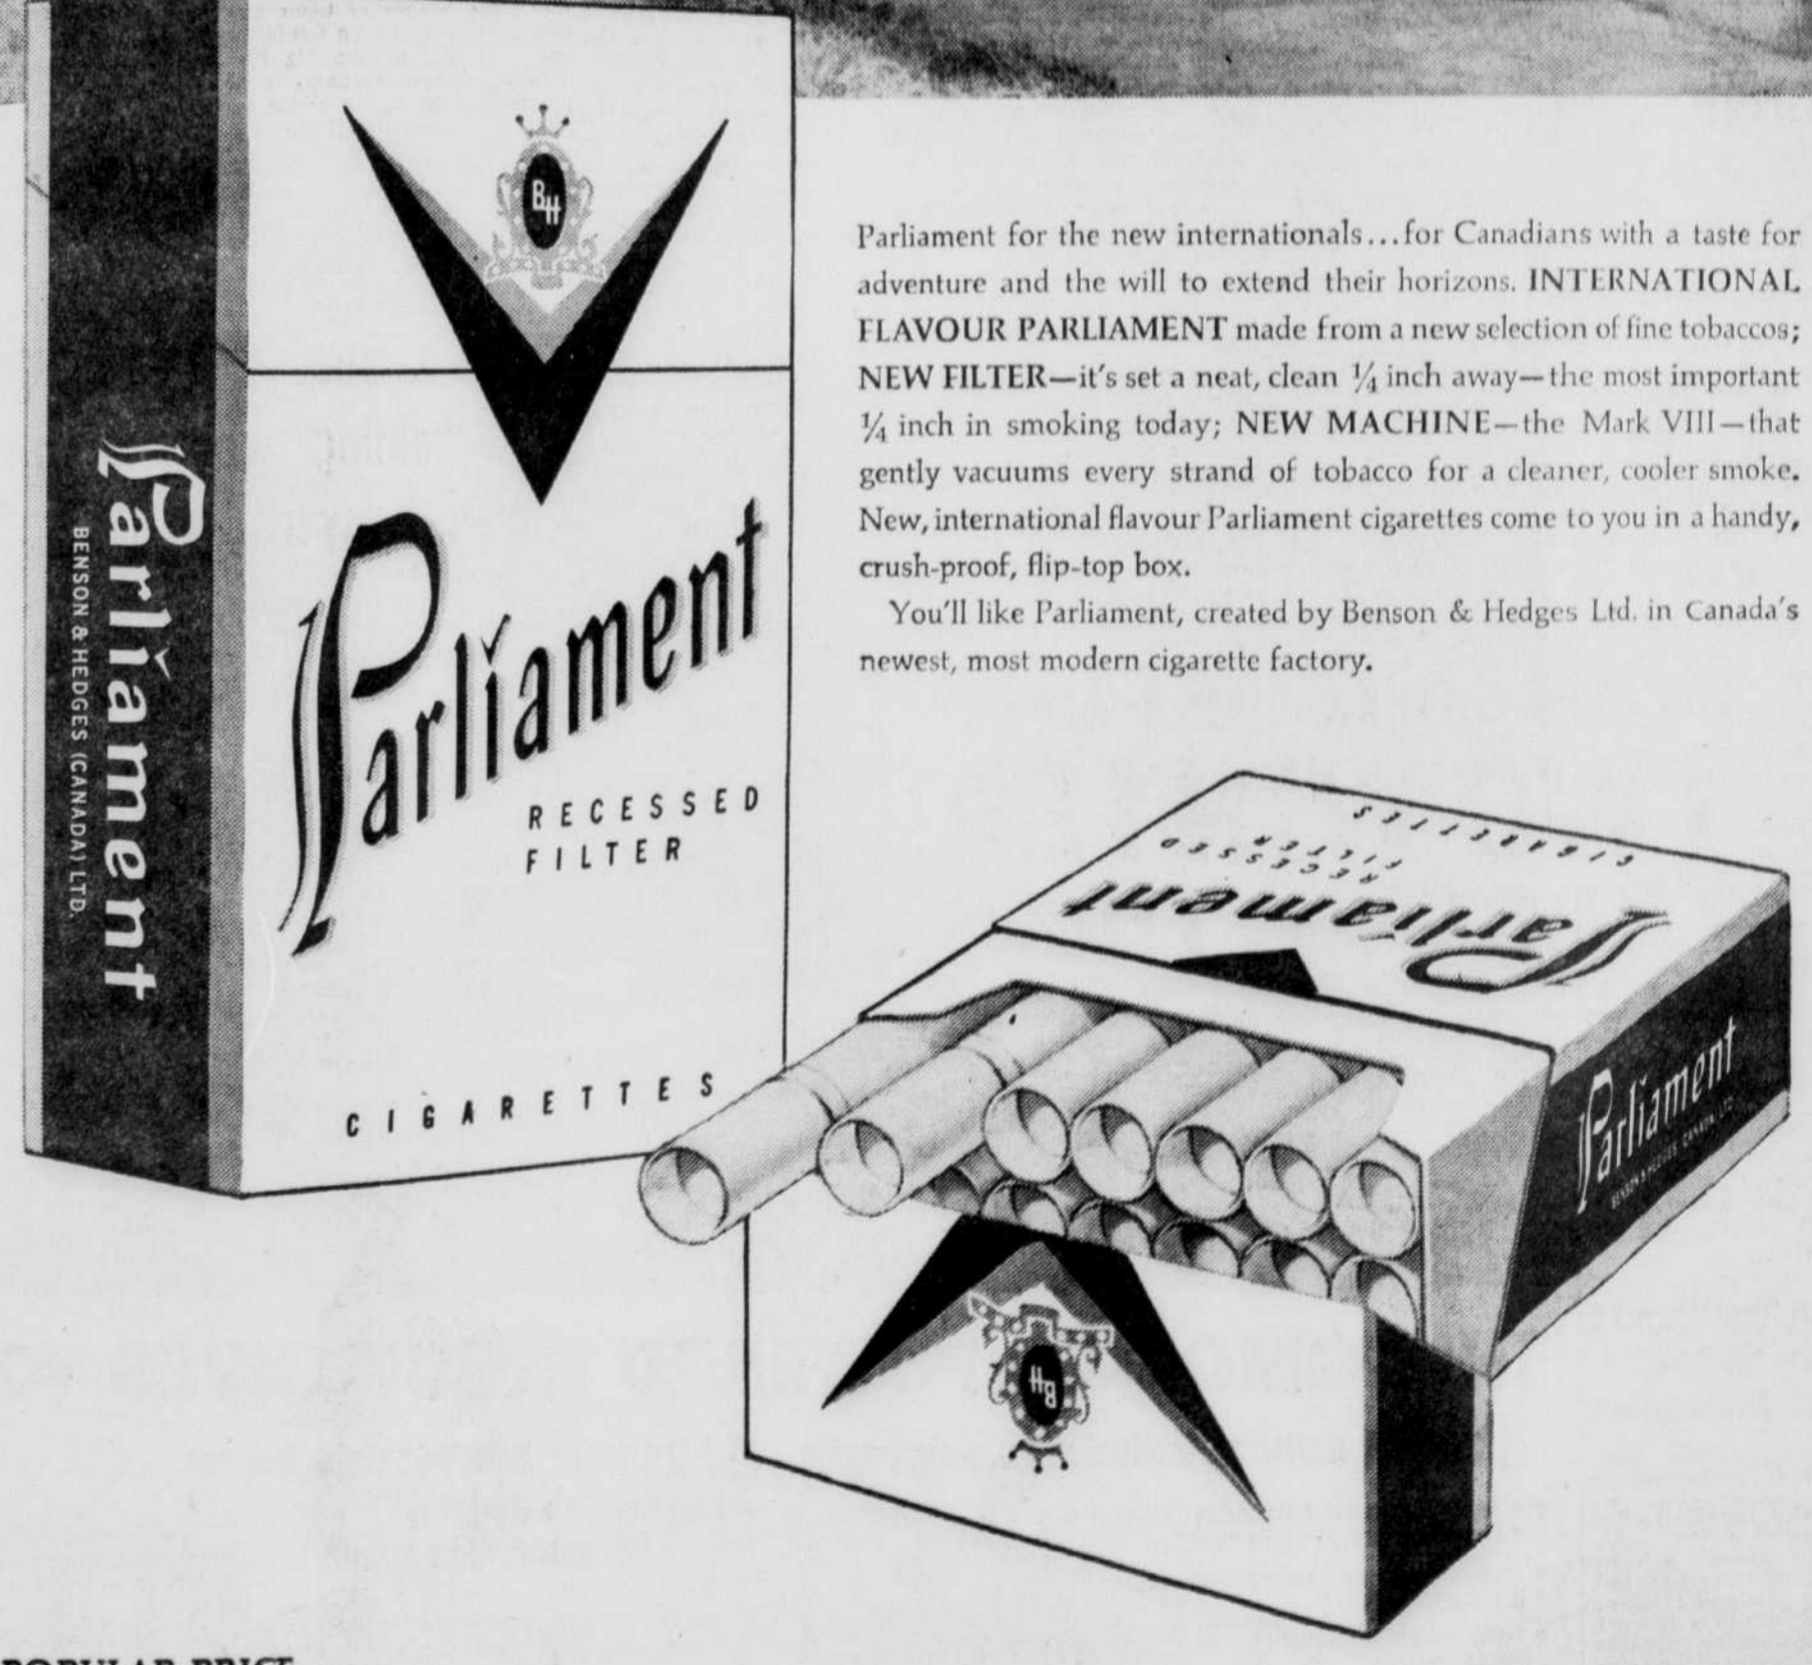

The star-studded international field will be made possible through the co-operation of the people-to-people sports committee aimed at bettering good will among nations through sports.

COMMITTEE HELPS
The people-to-people sports committee would help raise funds for transporting and paying the expenses of the invited players.

Besides Russia, countries which will be invited to send representatives include Canada, Sweden, Germany, Spain, England, Denmark, Ireland, Hungary, France, Italy, Yugoslavia, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, India, Japan, Malaysia, Austria, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, South America and Mexico.

In the past, the tournament singles fields have been restricted to 128 men and 64 women. In recent years, there has been a sharp decline in European and other foreign entries.

If the plan is a success, the U.S. nationals can expect to draw the top Davis Cup talent of Europe, including such players as Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola of Italy and Jan Erik Landquist of Sweden.

Shipton Institute makes plans for busy year-end

DANVILLE — Members of the Women's Institute met in the Farmer's Hall on Nov. 11, when poppies were sold.

Mrs. M. Baker reported on the County meeting, and a discussion on the history of Richmond County followed.

The secretary was instructed to write to the Minister of Agriculture for information regarding seeds for the School Fair.

One dollar per member will be sent to the Quebec Service Fund.

Mrs. Milton Baker was appointed to give the broadcast on the Sherbrooke radio in January.

A shower of cards will be sent to Mrs. W. Greer, who has been in hospital.

Plans were made for the Christmas meeting, when there will be an exchange of gifts.

Mrs. W. Brosomb was given $10 to buy gifts for members' children, and members were asked to bring in a bag of candy each.

A card party will be held on Dec. 1, at the home of Mrs. D. Kerr.

The program for the next meeting includes a contest on decorating miniature Christmas trees.

Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. Bournier and Mrs. M. Baker.

ISLAND BROOK

Mrs. Cecil Dyson, Neil Dyson and friend, of Town of Mount Royal, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morrow.

Mrs. Ida Holbrook has left to spend the winter in Hemmingford and Sherbrooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Dawson of Lachute, were weekend guests of Mr. Howard Seale and Miss Mary Seale.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lennis Ewing were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stevens, of Danville; Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Dawson, of Lachute; Alton Ewing and Mr. Yates and son, of Swetsburg; and Mr. and Mrs. E. McComb and family, of Eaton Corner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hodge and daughter, Frances, of Lachute and Ottawa, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Lister, and all with other friends were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Spaulding on the occasion of Mr. Spaulding's birthday.

Miss Wilson, of Mille Isles, was visiting Mr. W. J. Dawson and her sister, Mrs. Dawson, who is in hospital.

KINGSBURY

Miss Janet Sutherland, who spent several weeks with Miss Marion Kerr, has returned by jet to her home in Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Denno, of St. Lambert, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Stalker have moved to their new home at Gallup Hill, formerly Mr. Elie Benoit's farm.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain or Discomfort

Finds Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

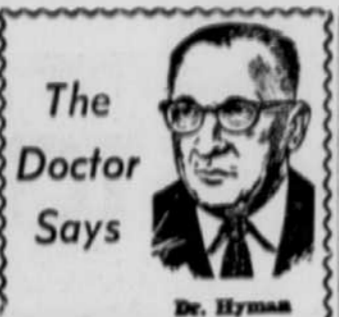

Toronto, Ont. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a famous scientific institute.

Now this new healing substance is available in convenient, ready-to-use packets. Preparation E1. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

The Doctor Says

TIPS ON HOW TO REDUCE COSTS OF MEDICAL CARE

Major items in many household budgets are the costs of medical care. At the moment, many thoughtful individuals, committees of public-spirited individuals and governmental agencies are trying to reduce these costs.

This way, they hope to permit families in middle and lower income brackets to get the benefits of modern medical care without being forced to practice economies in the purchase of essentials, or of making undue sacrifices in their purchases of nonessentials.

If you are like me in that you begin to grow impatient with long drawn out investigations, you might consider doing a little homework on the subject. To help you get started, here are a few general suggestions:

The cost of advertised proprietary drugs far exceeds that of preparations of similar action purchased by their true or generic names. To be sure, it's easier to ask for a catchy trade name than to pronounce acetylsalicylic acid (as-sel-till-sally-sill-lick ass-sid). But that way you can get five grains of aspirin for a fraction of a cent against paying as much as a dime for the same dose of a more elaborately packaged product whose effects, good and bad, differ almost imperceptibly.

You can self-medicate with drugs that only relieve symptoms, such as appetite-killers, cough medicines, laxatives, iron tonics, vitamins, tranquilizers and sleeping medicines. Or you can insist that your doctor prescribe these for you. Either way is wrong. You should not be treating your symptoms but the causes of your symptoms.

For example, scarcely a week goes by without notice of the introduction of a new appetite-killer. Yet a report prepared for the Committee on Advertising of the highly respected New England Journal of Medicine states that "the relative ineffectiveness of anorexic drugs (appetite killers) alone is indicated by the enormous number of available preparations probably intended to mask undesirable side effects or to influence favorably the psychologic state believed to be responsible for the intractable (stubborn) appetite."

The report then concludes that, despite "the continuing search for an agent that will depress appetite without producing central stimulation (that is, of the brain), it is likely that no such drug alone will ever cure obesity. The obese patients who have most satisfactorily responded to treatment may, in the majority of cases, be considered to be under temporary control and are not actually cured unless the factors responsible for their excessive appetite disappear permanently.

"Indeed, there is no convincing evidence that more than an insignificant number of patients treated for obesity ever achieve permanent suppression of excessive caloric intake."

RECEIVES DONATIONS

Sutton Home and School hears committee reports

SUTTON — A regular meeting of the Home and School Association was held in the auditorium Nov. 14 with over 50 members in attendance.

Mrs. Robert Cowan, President, was in the chair and at a short business meeting, various committees reported on the progress of their activities.

Committee on UNICEF said that with about 175 pupils participating, $215 was collected, and a letter of appreciation from the central committee was read by the Secretary.

Mrs. Austin Henry, for the Cook Book committee, reported that plans were being made for the members to print the book themselves. They are short of recipes for jams, jellies, drinks, etc. and any such recipes would be most welcome.

The Hot Lunch committee acknowledged donations of $50 from the Lions Club and $90 from an anonymous group of business men to help with lunches for underprivileged children.

Since the old piano now being stored at Austin Henry's was reported beyond repair, Roy Seaman offered to take it away for its salvage value.

The president announced that as is customary at the December meeting, donations would be received for the Christmas boxes to be distributed to the needy. Clothing and toys in good repair, food, or any other suitable articles will be required.

Money was voted to purchase first proficiency prizes for all grades in the school.

After the business meeting, Fred Knights was introduced as Garry Knights, master of ceremonies for a program patterned after a T.V. Show, I've Got a Secret. Members of the panel were, Doug Wighton as "Bill," Mary Miller as "Betsy," Roy Seaman as "Henry," and Peggy Eland as "Bess." Several interesting and amusing secrets were aired and the panel was stumped in most cases. Mr. Knights was introduced by Mrs. Gwen Holden, who acted as announcer and applause prompter.

Coffee and doughnuts were served by Grade 2 mothers at the close of the evening.

Church group meets at Gould

GOULD — The November meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Alan Matheson, with the president, Mrs. K. N. McIver in the chair.

The Christian Stewardship reading was given by Mrs. Dave Hillis and Mrs. Peter MacIver read an article on Temperance. Mrs. George Mackay read a selection entitled, Peace from the Storm, from the book, Hasten the Day.

Mrs. Wm. Gates was pianist for the selected hymns and Mrs. Jack O'Brien and Mrs. Roscoe Morrison assisted the hostess with refreshments, following the benediction by Mrs. F. Elliott.

THEFTOR C.W.L. hears talk on new project

THEFTOR MINES — The monthly meeting of Our Lady of Lourdes Council was held at St. Patrick's School.

Mrs. W. J. Johnson, citizenship convener stated that the Cancer Clinic were being resumed and urged members to turn out and help with this worthwhile work.

After routine business which included authorization for the annual donation of the St. Vincent de Paul Societies in the five parishes, Rev. J. Gravel was welcomed. He outlined a project which he has in mind for Theftor, a Catholic Inquiry Forum, in which the League members could be of considerable assistance. Father Gravel expects to get the project started early in the New Year.

Father Gravel also advised that Midnight Mass would be celebrated again this year at St. Patrick's School.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Eugene Sauve and Mrs. D. Doiron.
