AIR RAID CAUSED WHOLESALE DEATH

A Large District Of Almeria Destroyed In Midnight Raids

Air Attacks on Government Held City Cause Speeding Up of Efforts to Evacuate District—Extent of Casualties Unknown as Bodies Are Being Pulled from the Debris of Workers' Section—Insurgent Commanders Claim that Last Secondary Road Linking Madrid to Outside World Is Occupied.

Valencia, February 13.—An insurgent aerial raid on Almeria filled the streets with dead and demolished several buildings during the night, reports reaching the Socialist Spanish Government said today.

The number of dead was not known. Bodies still were being pulled from the debris of houses in the workers' section. Evacuation of the civil populace, ordered yesterday in the face of an insurgent advance from Malaga, was speeded up.

Today the freighter Montetoro, carrying thirty-seven Almeria refugees, limped into Valencia harbor, with great bomb holes in her decks and her pilot house blown away. The master said an insurgent plane, at sea, dropped a 500-pound bomb squarely on the ship.

Government troops, meantime, contended they were holding the insurgent ground forces in check near Motril, west of Almeria, and that a Government offensive in the Granada and Cordoba sectors of Fascist-held Spain was progressing.

INSURGENTS IN CONTROL OF IMPORTANT HIGHWAYS

With the Insurgent Forces Southeast of Madrid, February 13.—Insurgent commanders reported today Madrid's last direct connection with the eastern seacoast had been blocked by Fascist occupation of nine miles of secondary road near the villages of Chinchon and Colmenar de Oreja.

With land and air attacks, the insurgents drove into Socialist territory along the cut-off Albacete road from the Arganda bridge over the junction of the Jarama and Manzanares rivers.

In other operations, the Fascists seized control of five farms east of the Jarama river and consolidated their position at the Arganda bridge, the first barricade to Madrid's principal highway to Valencia.

(The only remaining route of escape from the besieged capital, it was apparent from the Fascist reports, was a roundabout road from the village to Arganda, east of the bridge, to Alcala de Henares, on the northern highway to Guadalajara.)

(By holding the bridge, the Fascists control the Valencia road. They also dominate the secondary cut-off road leading to the Albacete highway. All the other highways south of the capital are under insurgent control.)

FRENCH GOVERNMENT WILL PRESS NEUTRALITY DRIVE

Paris, Feb. 13.—The French cabinet decided today to push efforts to get "efficient and prompt" measures to isolate the Spanish civil war through the International Non-Intervention Committee.

Yvon Delbos, French Foreign Minister, outlined to the Ministers negotiations now in progress and steps looking forward to a prospective neutrality agreement.

Delbos was expected to review the non-intervention proposals before the chamber of deputies Tuesday.

Reich Banking And Railway Systems Placed Under Direct State Control

Reichsbank Stripped of Technical Independent Character and Placed Directly Under Hitler's Authority as a State Organ with Funds Available to Finance Further Re-armament.

Berlin, February 13.—Special decrees yesterday stripped the Reichsbank of its technical independent character and placed it under the direct authority of Hitler as a state organ while the German railways, heretofore administered by a separate corporation, had their administration merged with the Transport Ministry.

These two steps were taken in fulfillment of Hitler's announcement of January 30 that both institutions be fully restored to Reich sovereignty, while the official statement today emphasizes that these two laws finally liberate the Reichsbank and the Reich railways from foreign influences that may have survived from reparations days.

According to the new law, the Reichsbank is charged with the task of "regulating currency circulation, facilitating payment of clearance, and caring for the utilization of

DOMINION'S EXPORTS CONTINUE TO RECORD HANDSOME INCREASE

Ottawa, February 13.—The National Revenue Department disclosed today Canada's exports during the first ten months of the fiscal year ending March 31 were worth $184,552,479 more than in the first ten months of the previous fiscal year and that imports were worth $83,744,195 more in the same comparison.

PLAN TO MAKE NEW YORK A SPOTLESS TOWN

New York, February 13.—Shiny badges, natty uniforms and copies of the sanitation code were the stock in trade of one hundred strapping young men on the streets of Manhattan.

The badges designated them as special officers of the police department. Instead of fighting crime, they will combat dirt. They are the shock troops in a campaign to make New York a spotless town.

Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act Produced Stormy Debate

Minister of Agriculture Gardiner and Conservative Leader Bennett Engaged in Heated Dispute Over Political Partisanship—Post Office Estimates Brought a Plea for Better Treatment for Rural Mail Carriers—Little Information Concerning Proposed New Air Mail Service.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—When the trans-Canada airmail service is inaugurated, mails will likely leave Montreal in the evening after the close of business and be delivered in Vancouver the next morning for afternoon delivery.

This was one bit of information Postmaster-General Elliott was able to give the House of Commons last night when questioned about air mail. He was unable to say, however, whether the service would start this year or upon what terms and conditions the mail would be carried.

Mr. Elliott was questioned by H. C. Green, Conservative, Vancouver South, and stated no arrangements had been made as yet about trans-Atlantic or trans-Pacific airmail services.

Post Office estimates brought the House an hour or two of quiet after the stormiest debate of the session over a few amendments to the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act.

The amendments were approved and stand for third reading following the dispute between Conservative Leader Bennett and Hon. James

Faces Contempt Charge

Robert Pinkerton, right, head of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, and R. I. Burnside, Detroit Pinkerton official, are shown in the above picture before the United States Civil Liberties Committee, where they face contempt charges for refusing to reveal to the committee the names of their operatives in the 1935 Chevrolet strike on the grounds the disclosure might "lead to violence or even murder."

URGES CURB ON COMMUNISM IN LUMBER CAMPS

President of Colonization Society Also Deplored Violation of Sunday Labor Laws—Lumberjacks Protest Against Obligation of Stacking Logs.

Quebec, Feb. 13.—Curbing of Communist activity in Quebec's lumber camps was urged yesterday by Monsignor Auguste Boulet, president of the Colonization Society of Quebec, in an address to members of the Provincial Forestry Congress.

Monsignor Boulet made clear that a capable workman should not be refused work in the woods because he was a Communist. But, he declared, spreading of propaganda or preaching of the Communist is prohibited.

CHURCH BELLS RINGING AGAIN IN OLD MEXICO

Orizaba Catholics Offer Prayers of Thanksgiving in Own Churches as 'Peaceful Uprising' Ends Twelve Years of Secret Worship.

Orizaba, Veracruz, Mexico, Feb. 13.—After twelve years of secret worship, even under the shadow of police raids and prison, Orizaba Catholics offered prayers of thanksgiving today in their own churches. Openly and joyfully, they knelt in prayer before flower-banked altars they had opened to sunlight again last Tuesday in defiance of the state's rigidly enforced anti-church laws.

Apparently, their "peaceful rebellion" had triumphed. Municipal, Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4.

Another Outbreak of Bloodshed In Trouble Swept Automobile District

Martial Law Ordered at Anderson, Ind., Following Early Morning Clash Between Unionists and Anti-Unionists Which Resulted in Injuries to Ten—Situation Described as "Exceedingly Grave."

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 13.—Tension which followed a bloody clash between union and non-union automotive workers, in which at least ten men suffered wounds, gradually eased today as National Guard troops arrived to place Anderson under bayonet rule.

The outbreak of violence started in the early morning at a south side tavern. Shots were fired, rocks thrown, clubs wielded.

Police rushed to the scene and arrested thirteen men, six of whom said they were members of the United Automobile Workers of America and had come to Anderson from Flint, Mich.

Gov. M. Clifford Townsend, awakened in the executive mansion at Indianapolis by an appeal from Mayor Harry R. Baldwin, immediately ordered one thousand National Guard troops mobilized and rushed to Anderson.

Mayor Baldwin told the governor the situation was "exceedingly grave."

Police Chief Joseph Carney said the thirteen men arrested were being held on vagrancy charges, in connection with the disorder, which started suddenly at a southside tavern.

A report to police headquarters that "thirty-five or forty cars of men are enroute from Flint" caused added consternation.

Details of police were stationed around the homes of the mayor and police chief.

Emory Shipley, tavern proprietor, told police "two car loads of men" came to his establishment and demanded that Evon Robertson, said to be a non-union worker at the General Motors' Delco-Remy plant, be sent outside. Shipley, police reported, told the men Robertson was not in the place.

Shipley claimed several shots were

AMNESTIES GRANTED ITALIAN PRISONERS

Rome, Feb. 13.—Amnesties and reductions of sentences were granted to Italian prisoners today to celebrate the birth of an heir to the throne.

Persons sentenced up to February 12th, to three years in prison or less were amnestied, as were those who had received jail sentences of two years or less in lieu of fines. Prison sentences of less than ten years were reduced by two or three years, and sentences of ten years or over were reduced by four years.

POPE IS FREED FROM NEED OF HYPODERMIC INJECTIONS

Holy Father Reported to Have Had Comfortable Night as Symptoms of Grave Illness Are Eliminated.

Vatican City, Feb. 13.—Pope Pius was freed from the annoyance of hypodermic injections today, removing one of the last evidences of his grave illness.

Dr. Aminta Milani, Vatican sources said, has decided the Holy Father's continued improvement has made possible suspension of that type of treatment. A liquid tonic for the heart was substituted.

The Pontiff's night was comfortable and he again enjoyed the comparative freedom from insomnia which has increased his strength in recent days.

"SUICIDE CRATER" BECOMING LARGER

Tokyo, Feb. 13.—Japan's famous "suicide crater" is becoming larger. Scientists measuring the crater of Mount Mihara, on Oshima Island, where thousands of Japanese have taken their lives in suicide leaps, found the crater has expanded approximately ten times its previous size in the past thirteen years.

Austrian Government Rapidly Nearing Crisis On Nazi Issue

Expected that Von Schuschnigg Cabinet Will Be Forced to Make Decision Over Week-End Between a Definite Pro-German, Near-Nazi Policy, Complete Independence Envisaged by Chancellor Dollfuss or Support to Hapsburg Restoration to Counteract German Influence.

SUPPORTERS OF ROOSEVELT IN OPEN DEFIANCE

Former Brain Truster Leads Campaign Against Increasing Size of Supreme Court—Changes to Lower Courts Favored.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Criticism of Supreme Court enlargement by Senator Clark, Democrat for Missouri, and Raymond Moley, former Roosevelt "brain trustee," widened today the breach in the United States Democratic party ranks over the merits of the President's proposal.

Administration supporters, however, pointed out that opponents already had court a clerk among the forty to forty-three senators inclined to vote against the measure.

Clark said he favored Mr. Roosevelt's recommendations on speeding up lower courts. Of the suggestion to increase the supreme bench to fifteen, he said:

"To me it seems a radical and unnecessary change in our whole system of government, without the submission to the people in the proper form of amendment to the constitution."

The Missourian called Mr. Roosevelt the "undisputed leader of the American people," but added:

"We cannot assume that so high minded and idealistic an executive will always occupy the White House."

Moley, former Assistant Secretary of State now a magazine editor, also declared in a radio address that a constitutional amendment was the proper method to seek a change, which he termed necessary.

"But to say that such a need exists," he said, "is not to condone the proposal of a measure which violates the spirit of the constitution itself."

How soon Congress would begin formal debate on Mr. Roosevelt's programme remained uncertain. The House of Representatives Judiciary committee may take up his recommendations Tuesday.

Strongly Armed British Empire Chief Factor In Assuring European Peace

War Secretary Declares Increased Armaments Essential to Maintain British Position—British Determination to Proceed with Rearmament Plans with Least Possible Delay Reflected in Announcement of Selection of New Plane Factory Site Within Three Weeks of Abandonment of London Factory.

London, February 13.—Britain's determination to proceed with her rearmament plans with the least possible delay was reflected today in the announcement that within three weeks of abandonment of a London site the Air Ministry had found a new location near Liverpool for its proposed aircraft factory.

The original site at Maidenhead on the Thames was abandoned for a number of reasons, particularly its vulnerability. Last night the Air Ministry announced the proposed factory would be erected on a hundred-acre site at Speke on the River Mersey.

A contract was also let for a new air base at Evanton in Scotland, which will be completed within six months.

Labor and Liberal newspapers continued criticism of the Government's £400,000,000 defence loan plans, but on the whole the decision was favorably received. A full dress debate in Parliament on the entire defence question has been arranged for Wednesday.

The greatest service Britain can render in the cause of peace is to present the "world with a fact of a strongly armed Empire," War Secretary Duff-Cooper told Edinburgh industrialists in a speech last night.

Declaring modern armaments and scientific inventions will prove of little use if there is a shortage of experienced manpower in the army, Duff-Cooper warned certain powerful nations were openly encouraging a militaristic spirit.

"Even the most optimistic of people could not help but see that there are all the signs of an approaching catastrophe," he said.

HEIR APPARENT RECEIVES HIS PRELIMINARY BAPTISM

One-Day-Old Prince Victor Emmanuel Today Attended His First Ceremonial Function.

Naples, Feb. 13.—One-day-old Prince Victor Emmanuel, nine-pound, dark-eyed heir apparent to the Italian throne, attended his first ceremonial function today.

While sleepless Neapolitans still paraded in celebration of his birth, the young namesake of King Victor Emmanuel, his grandfather, was taken to the private chapel of the royal castle for his preliminary baptism, the lustral water of purification.

WOMAN LEAVES $75,000 TO R. C. M. P.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—Sir James MacBrien, commissioner of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, disclosed today a firm of Edinburgh lawyers had advised him a woman in England has bequeathed to the force about $75,000.

The woman, Miss Audrey Carden, living at Knightsbridge, near London, left the force half the residue of her estate. She died last December 26.

The Commissioner said he had not been informed why she left the money to the police, but said it was to be applied to the governing body of the force.

Police Check Unverified Report Of Plot To Kidnap Two Dionne Babies

Seeking Man Who Prompted Official Investigation with His Story that Two Foreign-Looking Men Discussed Snatch Plot in Toronto-Buffalo Bus—Minister of Welfare Croll Describes Report as "Fantastic."

Toronto, Feb. 13.—Ontario police today marshalled their forces to track down an unverified report of a plot to kidnap two of the Dionne quintuplets.

Unexcited about the rumored plan to snatch a pair of the famous youngsters, police sought an unnamed man who prompted official investigation with his story that two foreign-looking men discussed the plot on a Toronto-Buffalo bus.

Police considered the possibility that the whole affair was a hoax. The story started when the unidentified man last yesterday called the wife of an Etobicoke Township constable and told her he overheard the two men discussing the plot. One said: "Arrangement are all made."

The story was transmitted to Ontario police at Toronto. They tried unsuccessfully to locate the man who made the telephone call. Anxious to interview the two men on the bus they could not reach them. No tone regarding the bus schedule was given by the man, who supposedly left it at Long Branch, a few miles west of Toronto.

Reports circulated in Toronto late last night that extra guards were thrown around the Dafoe nursery where the babies live two and a half miles from Callander.

But the usual two guards were on duty behind the eight-foot steel fence that protects the nursery. A reporter who rushed to the building to check the kidnap reports found himself suddenly challenged when he stepped onto the guardhouse.

The quint's protectors said the guard had not been doubled. They would not admit they had even heard of a plot to kidnap their charges. But the reporter's rental of the kidnap story brought no success to interview the two men on the

FAIL TO REACH AGREEMENT IN KIDNAP TRIAL

Jury Informs Judge, After Deliberating Since 2:47 p.m. Yesterday, that It Cannot Agree on Guilt or Innocence of Two Men Charged with Abduction of Former New Jersey Attorney.

New York, Feb. 13.—After deliberating since 2:47 p.m. yesterday, a King's County Court jury at 10:51 E.S.T. today reported to Judge John J. Fitzgerald it was unable to agree on the guilt or innocence of Martin Schlossman and Harry Weiss, charged with the kidnaping of Paul H. Wendel.

Judge Fitzgerald set down the case for retrial March 1. Murray Bleefeld, twenty-eight, pleaded guilty yesterday to the crime which delayed the execution of the Lindbergh baby kidnapper three days last year.

Wendel claimed he was abducted and forced to sign a "confession" he had kidnaped Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. Wendel testified he was brutally beaten.

Bleefeld, Weiss and Schlossman said they were induced to take part in the kidnaping by the Ellis Parkers, senior and junior, of Burlington County, New Jersey, where the elder Parker is chief of detectives.

CITY BRIEFS

MILD WEATHER WILL INTERFERE WITH WEEK-END SPORTS

The vagaries of the weatherman have been a popular subject of conversation all winter. They were again being discussed today as the thermometer rose thirty-eight degrees overnight to melt the thin coating of snow covering the district and disrupt the plans of sportsmen who had anticipated a week-end of skiing, curling and other winter activities.

But sportsmen are becoming accustomed to having their fun spoiled. Skiers particularly have had little co-operation from the weatherman this winter. There has been little snow and skiing activities in general have been curtailed.

The mild temperature today also threatened to force the postponement of curling matches scheduled for the week-end because of soft ice. And unless there is a sudden drop in temperature the kiddies will not be able to enjoy the city's numerous outdoor rinks which are such popular rendezvous for the younger element.

Yesterday's temperature as registered at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm was maximum 36 and minimum 3, and that on the same day last year was maximum 11 and minimum 8 below. At eleven o'clock this morning the mercury rested at 41 above.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK OF BLOODSHED IN TROUBLE-SWEPT AUTO DISTRICT

Continued from Page 1. kerton Detective Agency, may face a United States Senate contempt charge for his refusal to name the "secret operatives" who mingled with sit-down strikers in General Motors plants.

Senator LaFollette said late yesterday Pinkerton officials had been "reluctant and evasive in hearings before his Civil Liberties Investigating Committee."

"Evidence now before the Committee indicates that the Pinkerton Agency has restrained the rights of free speech and collective bargaining," he said.

VANGUARD OF AUTOMOBILE WORKERS RETURNED TODAY

Detroit, Feb. 13.—Automotive plants reopened today to the vanguard of more than one hundred thousand General Motors employees summoned back to their jobs on settlement of the six-weeks strike.

Factory whistles blew for 1,800 men in Flint, Mich., key city in the deadlock. Thirty thousand more were to resume work there Monday, with thousands more following through the week.

Preparations for a return to capacity production were pushed in the far-flung factories of the Corporation which turns out nearly half the automobiles produced in the United States.

In dozens of cities auto workers were going to their jobs at higher pay. General Motors announced a five-cent an hour increase almost as the agreement which ended its dispute with the United Automobile Workers was signed Thursday.

The Chrysler Corporation announced a pay hike averaging ten per cent, two days before the strike was settled.

The Packard Motor Car Company followed with a five-cent an hour boost yesterday for 12,500 workers.

The three raises will put an additional $40,000,000 a year in pay envelopes of approximately 300,000 wage earners.

Flint watched for the departure of Michigan National Guardsmen, quartered there since January 13. Departure orders were for 750 troopers today, with 2,500 more to be sent to other posts.

Prohibition of liquor sales in Flint and Genesee County, induced by the strike, was to be lifted at noon.

General Motors maintenance men began preparing plants for action by cleaning up accumulated debris, removing strikers' barricades, re-erecting and inventorying scattered materials.

Two plants—Fisher Body Nos. 1 and 2—will reopen under new managers. Both were occupied by "sit down" strikers for forty-four days.

Apprehension was increased, it was said, from reports of landing of Italian troops at Malaga, southern seaport recently captured by the army of insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

The Ministry of National Economy was instructed to draft legislation to strengthen efforts to stabilize prices and prevent an increase in the cost of living.

A series of decrees were also approved establishing a forty-hour week in glass factories, slate mines, laundries and dry cleaning establishments.

CONSTRUCTIVE PROPOSALS RECEIVED FROM PORTUGAL

London, Feb. 13.—The International Non-Intervention Committee will make another effort to isolate the Spanish civil war Monday by discussing further plans to control shipments of supplies and munitions to the Socialist and Fascist armies.

A sub-committee hopes to receive, informed sources said, "constructive suggestions" from Portugal, which has opposed any control plan for the Spanish-Portuguese borders.

Enlistment of foreign volunteers in the Spanish armies will also be considered, it was said.

LOYALIST CONTROL OVER UNIFIED ARMY PLANNED

London, Feb. 13.—The Spanish Government is likely to put all its forces—including troops from autonomous Catalonia—under a single commander-in-chief, the Spanish embassy announced today.

The question of such a unified command has been considered for months, the embassy said, and is now most likely, due to the loss of Malaga. Consideration also may be directed to Government-held territory, it was stated.

A spokesman explained General Jose Miaja, on the Madrid front, now was the nominal commander-in-chief, but that Julio Alvarez del Vayo, Foreign Minister and "Political Commissar," shared the responsibility. Neither, the spokesman added, had been able to control forces fighting on Madrid, Almeria and Valencia fronts.

FASCISTS CONCENTRATE ON VITAL VALENCIA HIGHWAY

Avila, Spain, Feb. 13.—Fascist troops flung their drive to complete the isolation of Madrid over a wide area to the southeast of the city today, concentrating on the vital highway to Valencia.

LESS TRADING APPARENT WHEN PRICES SLUMP

Reduced Volume on Decline Raises Hope Among Traders that Slump of Past Week on Canadian Markets Is Merely Technical Reaction.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—The Toronto mining share market had a week of declining prices along with declining volume. Again last week's daily average of three million shares, this week's turnover in the five full sessions averaged only 2,237,000. Drilling up of offerings in the periods of price weakness tempered the blow for the bull faction and encouraged the view that the list was undergoing a technical adjustment.

Weakness developed mainly in the gold group and the exchange index for the yellow metal list fell back three and a half points to 162.93, while the mixed metal mines list recorded a net advance of about 1 1/2 points in the index, due mainly to a mid-week up-surge in the western oils. Part of the oil advance was forfeited in the moderate selling of Thursday and Friday while the base metals held a minor advance for the week.

Industrial stocks maintained a firm front, and on four days of the week they advanced to a new peak for recent years. Trading volume fell off, however, from an average of 60,000 shares daily last week to 51,000 shares this week. The new gains have carried the list to a six per cent gain since the start of the new year.

Steels, implements, utilities and the building stocks were prominent in the week's gains. Steel of Canada common stood out with an advance of $6.50 to a new high as Consolidated Smelters posted a gain of $1.15. Other leaders finished on the upside included C.P.R., Imperial Oil, Distillers-Seagrams, Dominion Bridge, Shawinigan and United Steel Corporation.

Display of heaviness in the gold started a moderate amount of sell trimming by the margin traders as a precautionary measure. It was reported that some brokers in Toronto, Ottawa and elsewhere were asking clients to cover fully their cheaper stocks—in some cases all stocks priced under three dollars—and were also declining less-than-board-lot orders.

Interest centered in the Alberta oils in the early part of the week and the heavy buying sent Calgary and Edmonton to a new peak of $6.55. The fast advance invited profit-taking and the price was hampered by $4.80 at the close yesterday, still thirty cents up for the week however.

The medium-price goods took the brunt of the selling attack. O'Brien slipped back fifty-five cents and Pickle Crow and Central Patricia weakened forty cents each.

On the gaining side were Lake Shore with a dollar advance and East Malartic, Chibougamau, Hard Rock and Macassa with small gains. Among the base metals, Hudson Bay, Falconbridge, Pend Oreille and Sherritt improved, and the silvers weakened narrowly. Eldorado sold down twenty-five cents to $2.40.

"There is no attempt to realize," said the published survey, "that this scarcity is due mainly to the desire of the German Government to fix maximum prices for the benefit of the lower classes."

It went on to explain that in most countries the scarcity of a commodity causes an automatic rise in the price of that commodity, "and this rise automatically and effectively shuts out the demand of the lower classes."

"In Germany," the institute continued, "this cruel and anti-social rule has been eliminated by the fixing of maximum prices. The result is that in certain seasons there is a disparity between a small supply and an unchanging demand."

It was admitted food prices were higher than in 1933, when the Nazi Government came into power, "since the Government naturally had to raise agricultural prices above the depression level which at the beginning of 1933 shut out any chance of profit for the farmer."

Continued from Page 1. Gardner, Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Bennett was afraid the Government was allowing political partisanship to creep into the program, as argued by the former Conservative regime which sought to avoid anything of the sort. He objected to the appointment of John Vallance, former Liberal member of Parliament, as chief executive officer under the act.

This led Mr. Gardner and other Liberals to recall certain Conservative members of Parliament whom Mr. Bennett had appointed to various posts and at the same time to defend Mr. Vallance as an ideal man for the position.

He was said by Mr. Gardner, a practical farmer who knew conditions in the drought area and who was endowed with the energy and the enthusiasm necessary to make a success of the job.

All western members who spoke were hopeful the area affected by drought would continue to support a large population. They believed a good start had been made under the act passed in 1935 and considered the expenditure of money on maintaining the people on the land and improving their prospects for making a living fully warranted.

The Post Office estimates brought from T. A. Thompson, Conservative, Lanark, a plea for better treatment for rural mail carriers. He thought the tender and contract system should be done away with and a basic rate of remuneration per mile established.

Mr. Elliott said establishment of such a rate would be difficult as conditions varied greatly on different mail routes. He did not think a mail carrier could complain at receiving the remuneration for which he had offered to do the work.

If many mail carriers were now accepting contracts for low pay it was due to the fact they could not earn more in other work, he said. Few people in rural districts were receiving an adequate income. The farmers were not making as much money as they should and were unwilling to carry mail for less than they would accept were the returns from farming more satisfactory.

PRICES AND DETAILS OF SHERBROOKE MARKET

Plentiful production caused another drop in the price of strictly fresh eggs on the local market yesterday afternoon, but vendors interviewed by a Record representative expressed the opinion that this trend would be reversed in a week or so. Eggs were quoted at twenty-five to thirty cents a dozen. This compared with twenty-seven to thirty-five cents a dozen the previous week. The comparatively—and unseasonable—mild weather that prevailed early in the week is largely accountable for the heavy production, it was explained. Hens have been laying prolifically and, in addition, the demand has not been very heavy.

Questioned concerning the egg situation, one vendor stated that it was very probable that eggs would not be so easy to purchase during the coming weeks and as a result prices would rise again. He accounted for this by the fact that hatcheries have started to purchase large quantities from district farmers, and he cited his own particular case as an example. Next week, he said, he would be receiving 170 dozens less from two producers who have agreed to supply hatcheries. His was by no means an exceptional case, he added.

Prices of other dairy products were unchanged. Best creamery butter was twenty-nine cents a pound and best dairy twenty-eight. The vegetable section, rhubarb was thirteen cents a bunch compared with twenty cents a week ago, and on the provision market lamb carcass was up one cent a pound at fifteen cents.

In the following price list of products on the Lansdowne Market the vegetable section, rhubarb market include those of farmers and butchers in that section:

Efforts to eradicate "cursing and blasphemy" by workers were advocated by the speaker, who also deplored violation of Sunday labor laws and suggested the delegates be strictly urged such laws should be strictly enforced.

Representatives of the lumberjacks were invited by Committee Chairman F. Faure to submit their suggestions for improved living conditions and promised they would be included in the general report to the plenary meeting.

Lumberjack representatives protested against the obligation of stacking logs which they said was imposed by several companies. This was work for horses and not human labor, they claimed. They suggested a regulation which would pro-

SHERBROOKE, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1937.

An Ill-Timed Controversy.

A certain section of the British public, including a few members of Parliament, have shown a decided lack of good taste in raising a public controversy over the possible financial settlement to be made upon the Duke of Windsor.

This controversy is distinctly out of place for two reasons—the first being that the Empire generally is opposed to being reminded more than is necessary of the tragic events of last December, and the second, that as yet the civil list has not been presented to Parliament for approval and probably will contain no distinct provision for the former sovereign, leaving this to be included among the personal allowances of King George.

The British Government to date has handled a very difficult situation with great tact. Surely it may be trusted to continue this good taste for some time to come.

Japan Cuts Its Costs.

Japan is the latest country to be brought to the sharp realization that great military ambitions are slowly dragging her into the morass, the announcement by Premier Senjuro Hayashi's cabinet that alarm over soaring commodity prices and high cost of living had forced a budget cut of eight and one-half per cent, being a virtual admission of the fact. The reduction is to be accomplished by the combination of outright cuts in certain national expenditures and postponements of others.

The sooner that the nations of the world realize the fallacy of preferring "bullets to butter," the sooner will the base of a real disarmament programme be laid and an effective start made in the direction of lasting peace.

A certain measure of national preparedness is necessary for every nation, but like any other medicine or tonic, when taken to excess it usually brings disastrous results.

Plebiscite And War.

When some of the resolutions presented within the mellowed walls of the Canadian Parliament are examined in the reasonable light of day, the average citizen is given cause to wonder how some men get to Ottawa.

For several days the question of Canadian neutrality has been the topic for debate to the detriment of the other business of the House. Various members, especially of the C.C.F. group, have offered a variety of hair-brained suggestions in connection with this subject, but that introduced by Lucien Dubois, Liberal member for Nicolet-Yamaska, probably caps the climax. This demands that the Government hold a plebiscite to determine the desire or otherwise of the people of Canada to enter a war in the event of the Dominion or the Empire being menaced by a foreign power.

Mr. Dubois is apparently ignorant or prefers to ignore the fact that when wars break out, they break out suddenly, and that taking a plebiscite takes time. Speed is essential to any effective policy of national defence, and if Canada should be threatened by any foreign force it would be necessary to act with the least possible delay. The emergency session of Parliament pledged by Prime Minister Mackenzie King is the absolute limit of delay to which the country can be subjected. Otherwise the enemy will be away to a flying start while the registrars are swimming in ballots.

League Still Valuable.

While the League of Nations has not exactly been covering itself with glory during the past year or so, having been defied by its enemies and deserted by some of its friends, it is by no means dead. In fact, it is still as busy as it ever was in those quiet, unobtrusive activities which never do get the headlines.

A bulletin from the League of Nations Association summarizes some of the things the League is at present doing. It is preparing to summon an international conference on the sugar trade, by which the industry may be stabilized and decent security assured to planters and workers in far-distant parts of the globe. It is continuing to help the Chinese in their reconstruction programme. League experts are busy advising the Chinese on such matters as health, finance, agriculture, hydraulics, and flood control. The League also is enabling Chinese engineers and other specialists to study abroad and get contacts and information which will enable them to serve their country better.

The League's health organization, meanwhile, has been getting international standards set for such things as anti-pneumonia serum, staphylococcus antitoxin, and so on. Governments and commercial laboratories throughout the world, as a result, are enabled to give their people better protection against disease.

Standing alone, this catalogue of activities is impressive. It is only when contrasted with the great war-prevention work that the League was designed to do that it looks so small. Because the League has not lived up to what was expected of it in the larger sphere, the solid and substantial work it has done in the lesser one escapes our notice.

And yet, with this kind of work being done quietly, honestly and fully, it cannot be said that the League has failed. For if it is doing nothing else, it is at least giving the world a constant object lesson in the value of international co-operation and mutual help.

The dictators and the war-mongers may rant and strut and rattle their sabers; all the while, these self-effacing League workers are doing their best to make men happier and life richer—doing it with a serene disregard for international boundaries, hatreds, or suspicions.

May the power of that example have its effect on us, before the world slips into an orgy of collective throat-cutting that apparently is the aim of the present-day dictators.

Valentine Day.

St. Valentine's Day will be observed tomorrow. Again the popular event is being celebrated in traditional custom by young and old alike.

February 14th is Valentine Day, but whence this date derived its title it is rather obscure. The only information available is that far back in the third century there lived a certain Valentinus who was credited with being a worker of miracles.

The origin of the feast that makes for sentimental verses, heribonned love-notes and comic cards has been traced to the old Roman celebration on February 14th of the feast of Februa Juno.

While the connection with the present custom of exchanging Valentines seems rather remote, it is believed in some quarters the Lupercalia became the feast of St. Valentine in honor of the saint who suffered martyrdom at the time of the pagan celebration in the year 270.

There are other legends built up around the life of Valentine emphasizing his kindness and love of children, but numerous writers declare there is no connection between the early Christian saint and the modern Valentine Day customs.

The modern world, however, likes to keep young in spirit and it is for this reason that Valentine Day arouses keen interest. It is not so much the importance of the occasion but its appeal which makes it popular.

What Editors Say

WILL PUBLIC DEBT EVER BE PAID?

St. Catharines Standard. When one considers that the national debt of the United States is about the mark of thirty-five billion dollars, and the debt of Canada, federal, provincial and municipal, is seven billions, the question intrudes itself whether this mountain, here or elsewhere, will ever be removed. Certainly in the normal way, it cannot be liquidated for generations to come, but a monetary cataclysm such as an inflation to the extreme limit might some day be invoked by unscrupulous government as was done in Europe.

P. M. Richards, Financial Editor, Saturday Night, raised the question, when he pointed to the fact that the average citizen today liked to see his government spend money to provide popular benefits. Unquestionably that is true, and there is an attitude of mind not to worry about the public debt, that worry being left for some nebulous set of men in some distant time in the future.

One thing is assured, as long as taxes grind down, as they are increasingly, there will be advocacy of all sorts of financial heresies and low-value money may be the inevitable result. National or other debts will not be much of a problem if the dollar ever recedes in value as did the German mark a few years ago. But it will involve a tremendous amount of distress among the Canadian people as a whole.

PROMINENT PEOPLE OF THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS

JAMES PATRICK MULLINS, M.P.

Following the general election of 1935 the constituency of Richmond-Wolfe sent as its representative to the nation's capital a man who has long occupied a prominent place in the business life of the Town of Bromptonville and one whose name is known and honored throughout the Eastern Townships.

It was upon the shoulders of James Patrick Mullins that had fallen the mandate of the people and it is he who today is serving his constituency with distinction.

James Patrick Mullins was ably qualified for the task assigned to him. A native son of Quebec Province, Mr. Mullins has spent his entire lifetime in this Province.

The son of a farmer and of Irish-Canadian parentage, Mr. Mullins knows the temperament of the Eastern Townships. He is familiar with the needs of this section of Quebec Province and he is a man who strives with all his might to serve the people in a manner which will be of the greatest benefit to the largest number.

Mr. Mullins has had a varied career. He has been a successful businessman. He has given of his best to any undertaking in which he became interested and he has achieved much in life, although he is still a young man with many years of active service before him.

Born at St. Mathias on January 5, 1874, the son of James Mullins and Margaret Boyle Mullins, he was educated at the Coaticook High School.

Forty-two years ago Mr. Mullins moved from Coaticook to Sherbrooke. Thirty-five years ago he went to Bromptonville to reside. It was in Bromptonville that he spent the greater part of his business life.

Shortly after his arrival in Bromptonville he became managing director of the Tobin Store Company and a director of the Tobin Manufacturing Company.

For twenty years he was connected with the Tobin store, which was sold seven years ago to a new management. Since then Mr. Mullins has been engaged in the insurance business.

Mr. Mullins has always taken a keen interest in agriculture. He is the son of a farmer and has never lost contact with the farming people. For many years he acted as manager of the Tobin farms at Bromptonville.

Mr. Mullins has also been for many years one of the principal figures in the municipal life of Bromptonville. He recently declined re-election as Mayor of the town, a position which he held since 1933. For nine years he served as councillor.

He has done much towards the general improvement and welfare of the town and has been one of the main promoters of many civic undertakings which have been launched from time to time to improve Bromptonville.

Since going to Ottawa as member for Richmond-Wolfe Mr. Mullins' qualities and ability have been recognized and he has been called upon to serve on many Government committees. He is a member of the Railways, Canals and Telegraphs Committee, the Agricultural and Colonization Committee, the Public Accounts Committee and the Printing Committee.

In May, 1903, Mr. Mullins married Lillian Flynn, of Bromptonville, and they have four children, Sylvia, Mrs. Cesaire Gervais, of Sherbrooke, Viola and Dorothea, of Bromptonville, and Waldo Mullins, of Montreal.

Parliament Hill Hears...

By Wilfrid Engleton.

A good anecdote—admitted to be one of those doubtful yarns which may have actually happened, or may have been borrowed from abroad—is recounted by Thomas C. Douglas, member for Weyburn.

It happened during Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen's first campaign in southern Manitoba. The audience was fairly receptive, but at a critical moment a cabbage landed on the platform.

Meighen held it up—so the account runs—in full view of the crowd, and hush fell over the house. "My friends," observed Mr. Meighen, "it has often happened before that a Liberal has become angry at me, but this is the first time one of them ever lost his head completely!"

During a recent visit of the Governor-General to Queen's University a coincidence occurred which struck every one present as being of a remarkable nature. Possibly it was not drawn to Lord Tweedsmuir's attention, but nearly every one else present on the occasion was impressed. It is certainly "One for the Book."

The evening before Lord Tweedsmuir arrived in Kingston there had been a gathering of the alumni, and Professor William Bennett Munro, great American authority on government and one of Queen's leading graduates, gave an address. He spoke of "Youth and the New Era," and lauded the steady influence of college men in times of turmoil and mental confusion.

In the course of it he said, speaking of a course at Harvard on the History of Israel: "I have a recollection of twice visiting that course to hear the lectures and one thing has stayed in my mind throughout the intervening years. It is a remark that the professor made about a well-known passage in the Book of Isaiah: 'They shall mount with wings as an eagle; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint.' There, he said, you have an anti-climax. What the prophet should have said is, 'They shall walk, they shall run; yea, they shall mount as with an eagle's wings.'"

"After thirty-five years, however, I am convinced that the prophet was right and the professor was wrong. There is no anti-climax in these ancient and noble words. To do the spectacular thing, to mount momentarily and come to earth again is by no means the hardest thing in the world either for men or for nations. The world, moreover, is full of hundred-yard sprints—those who flash before our eyes on the run and are never seen again. But the man who can do each day's work as it comes, never faltering week after week or year after year, he is performing the most gruelling task of all. To him should go the laurel and the crown."

With that passage still in mind, consider the following lines delivered the next morning before almost exactly the same audience by the Governor-General, who was not there the previous night, and had no way of knowing what had been said on the run and are never seen again. But the man who can do each day's work as it comes, never faltering week after week or year after year, he is performing the most gruelling task of all. To him should go the laurel and the crown."

"Have you ever considered what that passage in the Bible means. 'They shall mount up with wings as eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint?' It sounds like an anti-climax, like a descent from the greater to the less. But I think

COWANSVILLE DEBATE DREW LARGE NUMBER

Many Interesting Arguments Submitted in Debate "Resolved that Brutal Frankness is Preferable to Extreme Politeness" Staged by Young People.

Cowansville, February 13.—"Resolved that brutal frankness is preferable to extreme politeness," was subject of an interesting debate between members of the Young People's Union in the United Church parlors.

The affirmative was upheld by Suzy Stowe and Gordon Badger, while that of the negative was supported by Clifford Johnston and Wendell Scott. The judges, Miss Joyce Ashness-Wells, Mr. Henri Fiset and Mr. D. McAllister, gave a majority decision in favor of the affirmative, with thirty-six and thirty-four points respectively.

The affirmative contended that the adjective, "brutal," in this connection did not mean cruel, because its association with the noun, "Frankness," changed its meaning. As an example of the efficacy of this attitude the method used by Sovietists to rouse the people of Athens from their lethargy was quoted. The lack of frankness in the Court of Louis XIV precipitated the French Revolution it was claimed. Brutal frankness is a characteristic of the English school boy and this breeds respect. A brutally frank man may have the kindest heart under a rough exterior. The method used by the "G" Men of the United States in their treatment of gangsters was the opposite of extreme politeness but much more effective. If campaigning for foreign missionaries would you describe conditions as they really are or in an endeavor to be extremely polite minimize the dangers? The former it was claimed would arouse the spirit of adventure and reality so much to be desired. In this fast-moving world extreme politeness is impractical, and in nine cases out of ten it is ineffective. The man who has the courage of his convictions is the one who achieves results, concluded the affirmative.

The leader of the negative, C. Johnston, and his colleague, W. Scott, based their argument on the claim that extreme politeness in the home will make for more thoughtful, self-disciplined citizens, better social leaders; politeness is always constructive frankness, especially brutal frankness, is destructive, politeness gives, frankness demands. In the school it was claimed that brutal frankness in dealing with a pupil below normal would destroy all possible chance of co-operative learning activity, while the opposite method would bring encouraging results. In national relations the lack of diplomacy, courtesy and politeness was blamed for the loss of the American colonies in 1776. In popular opinion frankness is valued for its truthfulness, but politeness is just as truthful as frankness, but it takes more mental work to exercise. An extremely polite person has a better chance to succeed in business, can give advice with better results, is a better companion, uses tact, is a better mixer, sets a better example and will be politely treated in return.

SWIFT JUSTICE METED OUT IN N.Y. BATHUB SLAYING

Confessed Negro Killer of Mrs. Mary Robinson Case on Way to Electric Chair Exactly One Month After Crime Committed.

New York, February 13.—Mayor Green, confessed negro killer of Mrs. Mary Robinson Case, was on the way to the electric chair today, convicted exactly one month after the attractive young housewife was slain in her apartment.

A jury took three hours—of which more than one hour was devoted to dinner—to find the bath-tub killer guilty of murder in the first degree.

Judge Charles S. Golden said he would pronounce the death sentence—mandatory with the first degree verdict—February 19.

That the meaning is exactly the opposite. It is an ascent from the easy to the difficult. It is the last feat which is the hardest. It is not so difficult in a great crisis to rise like eagles; it is not so difficult in moods of excitement to run and not be weary. But most of the world's work has to be done at a foot's pace, and the hardest task of all is to walk the prosaic roads of life and not faint."

In the audience listening to Lord Tweedsmuir was Professor Munro, and of those on whose face a smile of astonishment crept at the unusual coincidence it is said that his was about the broadest of all, no doubt he being in the process of congratulating himself that he had got the illustration in first, and again, that Lord Tweedsmuir had interpreted the passage in exactly the same way!

Did you know—that Hon. Clarence D. Howe, while born in the United States, is a descendant of Nova Scotia stock which migrated to New England—that the Minister of Transport speaks Italian and Spanish with some fluency, a by-product of his stay in the Argentine—that in the election campaign he surprised some of his Italian voters by addressing them in their own language—that he is very popular with the French-Canadian members of the cabinet—that he plays a fair game of golf—that he used to be a crackerjack at bridge and won at least one tournament prize—but doesn't find time to keep up with Culbertson in his present post.

The True Bread

St. Matt. IV, 4: "It is written: Man doth not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

One of the many tokens of a growing tolerance among Christian bodies is the general recognition of Lent, not necessarily as a season of fasting and self-discipline, but as a sort of breathing-spell in the midst of the whirl of social engagements. Now, since Lenten observances arose out of the realization of Our Lord's forty days' sojourn in the wilderness, and the temptation He withstood in the course of it, it is surely worth our while to give it a little thought.

One of the heresies of the early centuries of our era was the denial of the reality of Christ's sufferings; in fact, some proclaimed their belief that the Figure on the Cross was a mere phantom, and not a real body, with joints, nerves and sinews; and therefore immune from pain. Even more common was the belief that He was immune from temptation. Indeed, so natural, so inevitable, was this error, that the New Testament writers thought it their duty to insist over and over again, that Christ suffered, being tempted; that He was touched with the feeling of our infirmities, being tempted in all points as we are, yet without sin; that the Agony in Gethsemane was real agony, and the temptation in the wilderness real temptation.

It was not until still more firmly to establish this truth that the Lenten Fast was instituted; and who can deny the appropriateness of its observance? For, the sacred record leaves no room for doubt that Christ's hunger was no make-believe.

The hunger symbolizes for us today the drive of the lower against the higher nature in man. In fact, that is just what temptation is, therein lies its very essence, flesh and spirit in battle array! Every age may have its special temptations, but all this may be resolved into that one perennial universal conflict between the base and the noble instincts and desires of man. It is this that gives the old story of the Temptation its undying interest, because it is the type of a common human experience. Like Our Lord, we too are driven into the wilderness to battle with temptation. Like Him, we also must realize that duty is higher than the satisfaction of desire; that the service of God outweighs the cravings of the senses.

When He quotes Moses' words—"Man shall not live by bread alone"—He speaks as man's true representative; the perfect Man declares in behalf of all Humanity the universal law: "Bread cannot fully satisfy a being made in God's image; were it not so, all these desires and aspirations and importunate demands of man for spiritual realities, for Truth, and Duty, and the Eternal Value, are mere chimeras."

Even Aristotle recognized this fact. He says: "The good of a being consists in the activity proper to it." Hence, for man, a rational being, that is not truly Life which bread alone can satisfy! For Man—as the poet and wisest of all ages have realized—is Soul as well as Body, and cannot truly live with the more important side of his nature atrophied!

The Story of the Temptation has a psychological interest. All life is a struggle for position. The child grasping at the new toy, wondering at the daily marvels nature presents to him, is in bondage to the senses. As he grows in wisdom and stature, he meets some test, he faces some problems, that his father or mother cannot solve for him; he must depend upon himself.

Thereupon, he realizes, albeit vaguely enough, that he is an individual, with his own responsibilities to face, his own life to live. Here, then, is our first wilderness experience, that first realization of our individuality. For, in that desert place we face the same temptations Jesus met, the tendency to think a life of worldly comfort, or of satisfied ambition, is the all-important matter, and everything else illusion!

The tempter comes to every young man or woman and says: "Everybody is doing this; everybody is thinking that. Why should you be so superior and stand-offish in your thoughts and ways?" Who can doubt the reality of this contest? Happy, indeed, is he who, at the close of the struggle, can say: "I will not live for bread alone, but for truth and duty."

In so deciding, the young man travels along the same road to the very same Victory that Jesus won, long years ago, in that dark and cheerless wilderness in Palestine. Only when Truth and Duty are supreme within the soul, can the moral life have real clearness and stability. If God, then, reveals to us that something is true, it immediately becomes our duty to transmit it to our fellow-men. The Gautamas, the Mohammeds, the Luthers, the Livingstones of this world, the martyrs of religion, of science, and of statesmanship, are proof positive that Truth cannot be divorced from Duty!

The life of Our Lord teaches that this devotion to truth and duty almost necessarily involves sacrifice; but the very word "sacrifice" clinches the fact that "Man does not live by bread alone." The universality of sacrifice indicates a deep-seated power in man to rise on occasion to the summons of the highest in him. Our daily papers not only reek with the sordid details of infamy and crime, but glow with the story of life yielded up freely for others. Yes, man does not live by bread alone!

Of course, the lower wants must be recognized, but not as powers to cramp and bind the more lofty and spiritual possibilities of man. Our Lord does not ask us to neglect home and work and social pleasures, or even our hobbies and sports; but He certainly does want us also to find joy in higher things. He admits that man shall live by bread, but insists "not by bread alone!"

That great story of His sojourn in the Wilderness gives us an insight into Our Lord's plan of redemption. He does not free us from temptation, any more than from sorrow, pain, and death. He does not free us from absorption in the lower to the neglect of the higher goods, and enables us to find in and through Him the beauty of holiness, and the power of the spiritual life.

London, Feb. 13.—Perplexed legislators—bachelors all—besought the Government to do something about the strange scarcity of girl babies in England. Bachelor Ronald Cartland, aged thirty, Conservative, put the question of posterity up to the Government yesterday, urging it to "make recommendations thereto."

He was particularly concerned that not enough girl babies were being born to take their places as future British mothers, thus accelerating the declining birth rate. "Why," asked bachelor Cartland, "are we having fewer children than in the past?" Quick to answer was fellow bachelor and Conservative Richard A. Pilkington. "I learn with amazement and honor that even in this House there are nearly two hundred bachelors, he declared.

Throughout the exchange, Arthur Hayday, member for West Nottingham and father of seventeen children, sat in silence. Cartland pointed out the birth rate in Great Britain had dropped steadily since 1875. As a solution for the problem, Pilkington suggested a tax on himself and his fellow-bachelors would solve the problem by making marriage and paternity more attractive.

GAS MASKS LATEST STYLE AT BRITISH TEA PARTIES

Ruined Coiffures and Disarranged Make-Up at Gas Mask Party Is Grim Reminder that Britain Must Be Prepared for War.

Wimbledon, England, Feb. 13.—Four hundred feminine guests at the Mayores of Wimbledon's tea party resigned themselves yesterday to ruined coiffures and disarranged make-up to don gas masks as a grim reminder Britain must be prepared for war.

Gas masks were placed above the conventional tea and cakes at Mrs. G. Farquharson's novel party at the town hall to help the Government popularize precautions to be taken against gas attacks.

Even a baby was drafted to do its bit in a gas proof baby carriage, supplied with air through its mother's gas mask. "These English women have a sense of humor along with a deep sense of responsibility," said Mayor's Farquharson of her novel "At-Home."

"While style and vanity naturally balk at the idea of wearing the ludicrous things," she said, "we realize the necessity of being prepared for eventualities and we are anxious to promote the Government's scheme."

Even Wimbledon's famous tennis court is included in the prosperous borough's plan for gas defence. It will be an emergency ambulance depot and the spacious club rooms a clearing station for victims.

"We will only use the centre court as a last resort, however," the Mayoress, a tennis enthusiast, declared.

Mother—Marilyn, were you a good little girl at church today?

Marilyn—Yes, mother. A man offered me a big plate of money, and I said: "No, thank you."

TWO CHILDREN MEET DEATH IN NORTHERN FIRE

Bodies of Gerard and Claude Campeau Today Dragged from Smouldering Embers of Big Frame Farmhouse that Was Levelled by Flames.

St. Jovite, Que., Feb. 13.—Villagers rushed into the darkened streets of this little village in the Laurentian Hills early today as a church bell tolled its tale of tragedy. A mile away, on the prosperous farm of Octave Emond, the bodies of Gerard and Claude Campeau, his grandsons, were dragged from the smouldering embers of the big frame farmhouse, completely destroyed by fire.

News travelled quickly to the village pastor and the sound of the bell brought rescue workers to the farm. Three families lived in the house, which neighbors found blazing furiously.

Emond, first to awake, rushed to the barn in his bare feet to get a ladder. All the children were asleep on the second floor and Emond, assisted by his wife, passed them down the ladder one at a time. Two were Claude, aged four and five years respectively.

Annette Legare, a granddaughter, was most seriously burned of the survivors. She, and five others, are being cared for by Dr. Henri Grignon.

Fire apparently started in the cellar and the flames spread swiftly through the house. Survivors were taken to nearby barns, saved from destruction by the efforts of neighbors.

Emond has two married daughters living with him and a large family of his own. Most of the grownup children work at an inn in the village during the summer and winter holiday seasons. St. Jovite is one of the popular centres for Montreal skiers.

of the Province remains clean and tidy. Yesterday afternoon Paul Robidoux, of this city, was conveying a truck load of loose paper to the city incinerator. He did not cover the load and as he sped along paper fluttered out of his vehicle to mark his trail. But he did not proceed very far. The sharp blast of a police whistle brought him to a halt. Today he was fined three dollars and costs when he appeared in Police Court on a charge of having failed to cover his truck load of paper. He will buy a tarpaulin.

RUBIN PLANT LIVING UP TO AGREEMENT
Yesterday afternoon Mayor Emile Rioux and members of the City Council visited the Rubin clothing factory on King street west to check up on the number of employees actually engaged by this concern.

Complaints had been made that the company, which had been given a commutation of taxes providing they employ two hundred hands during the first year of operation, was not living up to its agreement with the city.

The visit yesterday revealed that the Rubin Company had actually exceeded its stipulated employment roll. There are at present 307 employees at work in the plant.

The staff today comprises twenty-eight executive officials, forty-three workers from Montreal and other outside points and 236 workers from Sherbrooke.

The programme had been arranged by Miss Mabel Shaw, of Livingstone Memorial School, Mbereshi, P. O. ## MAGOG MILL IS CLOSED OWING TO EPIDEMIC

Illness Among Thirty-Five to Forty Per Cent. of Staff of 1,850 Employees at Dominion Textile Company Today Resulted in Complete Suspension of Operations.

Magog, Feb. 13.—An epidemic of influenza that affected thirty-five to forty per cent. of the staff of 1,850 employees today caused a complete shut-down of operations at the Dominion Textile Company here.

John Peters, manager of the Textile Company, stated that the print and mechanical divisions, in which approximately one thousand persons are employed, was closed last night and that the cotton mill section, where the balance of the 1,850 employees work, was shut down all day yesterday.

It is estimated that there are over 1,700 cases of influenza in the town. Illness this week began to deplete the staff of the Dominion Textile, and Thursday night the situation had become so acute that it was considered advisable to partly suspend operations. Complete shut-down occurred when the situation did not improve.

Company officials believed that a few days rest would be beneficial for all concerned, and prevent the epidemic from spreading to any greater extent.

Mr. Peters stated today that it was planned to resume operations at the plant on Monday morning—partially, at least.

ANOTHER SHIPPING STRIKE THREATENS PACIFIC PORTS

President Roosevelt Warned by Union Officials that Shipping Will Be Again Paralyzed Unless Enforcement of Copeland Act Is Delayed.

San Francisco, Feb. 13.—The threat of another shipping strike, growing out of union opposition to a federal hiring law, hung today over United States Pacific ports, just recovering from a ninety-eight day tie-up that cost an estimated $68,000,000.

Officials of three unions involved in the recent strike telegraphed President Roosevelt and Secretary of Commerce Roper that shipping "will again be paralyzed from the Pacific Coast" unless enforcement of the Copeland Act is delayed.

Specifically what action the unions would take was not stated. Some union workers have threatened "sit-down" strikes if enforcement is begun before union leaders present proposed amendments to the bill.

The Act provides that seamen must carry books showing records of their employment and ability. Spontaneous strikers will be prohibited and workers and assure them of jobs. The unions declare it furnishes employers information from which they can blacklist men for union activity.

Enforcement of the provision for grading a seaman's ability has been suspended until February 20. Union officials asked last night that the date be extended to March 25. They said the U.S. Shipping Commissioner, acting on Washington instructions, had informed shipowners and unions no articles would be approved unless crews accepted the discharge books.

"If the Shipping Commissioner persists in this stand it means that foreign and intercoastal commerce will again be paralyzed from the Pacific Coast," said the telegram to President Roosevelt.

URGE REMOVAL OF CROSSINGS ON NEW ROUTE

Farnham Board of Trade Adopts Resolution Similar to that of Cowansville Organization in Connection with Elimination of Three Level Crossings on Irberville-Highwater Highway.

Farnham, Feb. 13.—A resolution pressing for the elimination of three dangerous railway crossings on the new highway to be constructed by the Provincial Government between Irberville and Highwater was unanimously adopted here at a meeting of the Farnham Board of Trade.

Announcing that work would start in early spring on the construction of the new road, which is unofficially estimated will cost $2,000,000, was made this week by Frank A. Pouliot, M.L.A. for Missisquoi County, at the annual banquet of the Cowansville Board of Trade.

The sixty-mile stretch of highway will pass through Farnham, Cowansville and Knowlton, and will be the final link in the new road between Highwater and Montreal, the Montreal-St. John section having been completed last autumn.

At the time of Mr. Pouliot's announcement the Cowansville Board of Trade passed a resolution urging the Provincial Government, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Board of Railway Commissioners to do away with the three level crossings between this place and Cowansville. It was suggested that two of the crossings could be eliminated by a detour, and the third, which is at the entrance to the town of Cowansville, by the construction of an underpass.

This resolution was studied by the Farnham trade body and a motion conforming with it was unanimously adopted. Mr. Pouliot, who was present at the meeting, agreed to present the two resolutions to Minister of Roads Leduc. Representatives of the Canadian Pacific Railway were also in attendance, and undertook to lay the resolutions before higher railway officials in Montreal.

A delegation consisting of L. A. Giroux, K.C., president of the Cowansville Board of Trade, Frederick L. Nunn, honorary president, Raoul Demers, second vice-president, and R. H. Hibbard, chairman of the trade body's road committee, attended from Cowansville and, in introducing the resolution adopted at the meeting of their association Tuesday night last, stressed the importance of eliminating the three railway crossings in question.

NEW CONTRACT ENDS LENGTHY POWER DISPUTE

Ottawa Valley Power Company and Ontario Government to Drop Series of Actions Resulting from Cancelling Old Contracts.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—Power contract disputes between the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission and the Ottawa Valley Power Company disappeared today in new agreements reached after lengthy conferences.

Originating in 1935 when the legislation cancelled commission contracts with Quebec firms came into effect, the dispute ended yesterday with announcement of the new contracts.

Premier Mitchell Hepburn announced the new contract under which the Commission purchases the entire output of the jointly-owned Chats Falls plant on the Upper Ottawa River. The commission and the power company developed the falls as a power site.

The commission purchases the output on a basis of 96,000 horsepower at $12.50 a horsepower. Also the Commission obtains an option to buy the plant outright any time within the next three years by taking over the capital stock at $5,000,000 and assuming the bonded indebtedness of $15,500,000.

Court action launched by the Ottawa Valley firm following cancellation of contracts will be stopped. Ontario Government's appeal to Privy Council against the action the company won will be dropped because of the new contract.

Validity of the old contract with the Ottawa Valley firm was upheld by the court following which the Beauharnois Light, Heat and Power Company launched similar suit, now facing the Commission. The Beauharnois firm is now only one of the Quebec firms affected by the cancellation which has not reached an agreement with the Commission.

Purchase of the Chats Falls plant outright by the Commission is remote. "We have no thought of acquiring property in Quebec," was the Premier's comment on this part of the contract.

Under the new deal Ottawa Valley company assumes payment of all taxes and water rentals which may be imposed by the Dominion, the Quebec or any Quebec municipal government.

Mr. Hepburn further states the new legislation, passed at the recent legislature session to protect the Power Commission against court actions, will not be proclaimed for a while. "It will remain as it is for a while," he said.

"Now, ladies and gentlemen," said the cheap-jack, holding up a shilling, "here's a chance for everyone. A new silver shilling. How much will you give for it?"

As he expected, the bids came quickly. "Finally, a small boy said: 'Elevenpence!'"

"Very well, my lad," said the shilling's yours. Hand up your elevenpence!"

The boy shook his head. "Take it out of the shilling and give me the change," he said.
