Red Square packed to welcome Gagarin

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow took the world's first space traveller, Yuri Gagarin to its bosom today in Red Square with an outpouring of pride and joy beyond anything since the collapse of Nazi Germany 16 years ago.

The Cosmonaut, heading a motorcade from Vnukovo Airport, arrived in the square at 2:20 p.m. Moscow time.

His arrival in the great square climaxed a triumphal automobile ride from the airfield, where he had landed from his secret space base to a tumultuous ovation 90 minutes before.

Beaming proudly, Premier Khrushchev accompanied the Soviet Union's new hero to the most honored spot in the Soviet Union, the top of the Lenin-Stalin tomb. With members of the ruling presidium around them, they waved to the cheering thousands jamming the square.

The presidium awarded him the supreme title of Hero of the Soviet Union "in recognition of the heroic exploit." It also created a new title and conferred it upon Gagarin: "Astronaut-SALUTES KHRUSHCHEV

Flown to Moscow from an unidentified airfield near the point where he landed safely from a 108-minute flight into space Wednesday, Gagarin stood at attention before his premier, saluted and reported completion of his mission and his readiness for new orders.

"Comrade, first secretary of the Communist party of the Soviet Union, chairman of the council of ministers of the U.S.S.R.," he said, "I am happy to report that the task assigned by the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union and the Soviet government has been fulfilled.

Terrorism charged by bishop

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP)—Pro-Trujillo mobs have driven a Roman Catholic bishop to this capital after wrecking his diocesan residence 100 miles west of here. Nuns and priests are also fleeing the district.

Bishop Thomas Reilly, 52, in trouble before with Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo, said police and soldiers put him in protective custody for a while Thursday after terrorists ransacked his home.

"I am going to deal with the government over these acts of terrorism," the prelate from New Bedford, Mass., said after arriving in Ciudad Trujillo.

He said he will demand that the government guarantee the safety of priests and nuns in the western part of the country, where his diocese of San Juan de la Maguana is located.

FOLLOWED ARGUMENT

The newspaper El Caribe said the attacks started after a priest got into a heated argument over a pro-Trujillo business shutdown in San Juan de la Maguana. The shutdown was to protest "the machinations of the bishop against national sovereignty," El Caribe said.

The Trujillo-church dispute started last year with a pastoral letter in which the bishops urged Trujillo to ease repressive measures. The hostility increased when the bishops rejected Trujillo's demand that the title "benefactor of the church" be added to the long list of titles he holds.

Last week Trujillo's military intelligence service announced that three terrorist bombers confessed to working for Bishop Reilly with the aim of discrediting Trujillo.

"Of course, the charges are untrue," the bishop said, adding that he would also discuss these accusations with the government.

Lesage looses an angry blast over 'incited' children's letters

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean Lesage has loosed an angry blast at the persons who incited school children in St. Hyacinthe, Que., to write to him begging him to retain religious education in the province's schools.

The premier said in the legislature Thursday he has dozens of letters from children in the St. Hyacinthe area, 40 miles south of Montreal.

"I have the greatest respect for the signature of little children," said Mr. Lesage, "and that is why I have nothing

Deadlock ends, new liquor law in effect

QUEBEC (CP) — A new liquor law, broadening selling hours and providing for the establishment of a liquor board, is in effect today after a six-hour deadlock between the legislature's two houses Thursday night.

The new act was signed by the lieutenant-governor and became law following a compromise between the elected Legislative Assembly and the appointed Legislative Council, which functions as a provincial senate.

The 95-seat assembly is controlled by Premier Lesage's Liberals, the 24-seat council by the opposition Union Nationale party.

The Liquor Act, approved by the Legislative Assembly before the Easter recess, received the approbation of both houses with three watered-down amendments.

The effect of the amendments is to shorten the Sunday hours of sale of alcoholic beverages outside the Montreal and Quebec City areas and to compel nightclub patrons to buy full three-course meals with their liquor on Sundays and holidays.

NO CHANGE IN CITIES

Sunday hours of sale are unchanged on Montreal Island and the adjoining Ile Jesus, in Quebec City, and within a five-mile radius of Quebec City.

In all other regions the sale of any alcoholic beverages will be legal only between 1 p.m. and 11 p.m. on Sundays.

Under the original bill passed by the Legislative Assembly, any alcoholic beverages could be sold anywhere between noon and midnight on Sundays.

Five private bills were passed with the government-proposed Liquor Act. They were bills amending the charters of Quebec City, Cap de la Madeleine, Candiac and the Montreal milk producers' co-operative and a bill concerning the estate of Mr. Elodie Deschambault.

The legislature's public bills committee assented to the creation of a closed corporation of Quebec medical radiologists, and made several changes in a bill submitted by the province's architects.

The committee deleted three articles which would have required all builders to enlist the services of an architect. It granted approval to a clause giving the association the right to own buildings with a total value of $300,000.

Can't find body

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A murder defendant Thursday was convicted of killing a woman whose body has never been found. Thomas E. Burns, 35, was found guilty of first-degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment for slaying Mrs. Marie Coleman, 50, with a hatchet Jan. 10, 1959. Burns pleaded not guilty. In presenting his case the prosecution was unable to prove that Mrs. Coleman was dead.

M. N. D. PUBLIC SPEAKING WINNERS — Monique Hetherington, left, and Dawn Boisvert, right, were the two winners of the annual public speaking contest at Mont Notre Dame Convent, sponsored by the Alumni Association Thursday night. Monique spoke in French on the "Teenager" and Dawn, speaking in English, chose as her topic "Retarded Children." The girls will receive cash prizes of $25.00 each at graduation exercises in June. NORTH WARD SCENE — The seven inches of snow that descended on the Sherbrooke area Thursday created this perfect winter scene in Sherbrooke's North Ward between Quebec and Victoria Streets in the area known as Rockcliffe. The beauty of the snow somewhat compensated for the fact that April 1961 has broken all snow records for the last 45 years. With the seven inches of snow that fell Thursday the total snow fall for this month is 23.3 inches. The record for April up until this time was 20.4 inches in 1943. (Record Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Call up reserves over Angola attack

LISBON (Reuters) — Reserve forces were called up today in Portugal's huge west African colony of Angola following a full-scale rebel attack Thursday on a northern Angola village.

The Portuguese news agency Lusitania described the attack on the village of Ucu as the heaviest frontal assault since the revolt started two months ago.

The agency said scores of rebels were killed in the attack—the second on the village in three days. In the previous clash, about 20 Portuguese settlers and 100 Negroes were reported killed.

The rebels swept down on the village, about 100 miles north of Luanda, after a company of infantry was withdrawn Thursday, leaving only a token force of 30 men.

Called worst defeat The agency described the clash as the worst defeat the rebels have suffered since the reported killed. The attack on Ucu came as Portuguese leaders took steps to suppress the growing wave of anti-white violence in the colony.

Prime Minister Salazar announced Thursday that he has personally taken over the post of defence minister in a cabinet shakeup aimed at speeding up "necessary measures for the effective defence of Angola."

Rescue all 35 crewmen from stricken freighter

BOSTON (AP) — The coast guard reported today that all 35 crew members from the stricken freighter Marine Merchant have been picked up.

The coast guard said the 8,294-ton vessel, en route from Louisiana to Portland, Me., with a cargo of sulphur, split in two after the rescue. Previously her

Truck hijacked

LONDON (AP)—Four hijackers seized a truck Thursday carrying £50,000 ($38,000) worth of tobacco — including 7,000,000 cigarettes — after slugging the driver at nearby Whetstone, Middlesex.

The 8,294-ton vessel came to grief in rough seas 40 miles southeast of Portland, Me., lightship.

The radio operator had sent word about 5 a.m. that he was leaving—the last to depart.

Snowfall in April is record

The seven inches of snow that fell on the Sherbrooke area Thursday brought the total snowfall for April to 23.3 inches breaking the previous record for the month.

The Lennoxville Experimental Farm reports that during the last 45 years the highest figure for April was, until yesterday, 20.4 inches of snow in 1943.

Total snowfall for this winter is still well below the average, however. At the beginning of April only 43.3 inches had fallen. The average for the last 45 winters is 96.6 inches. The 23.3 inches which have fallen in April are helping to bring the total nearer normal but the Lennoxville Experimental Farm says it is very unlikely that 96.6 inches will be reached this winter.

To insist West Germany 'protect' Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann's chief defence lawyer said today he would demand that the West German government "protect" the former Gestapo colonel from the judgment of Israel's courts.

Again challenging Israel's right to judge Eichmann on charges of having a major part in the mass murder of Jews under Hitler, defence counsel Robert Servatius said: "Eichmann has a claim against the German state to protect him. If the state remains impassive, he can sue the state and he will do that."

Servatius warned the special Israeli court trying Eichmann that "intervention is still possible" by West Germany in the case. The chief defence counsel made the statement as he heatedly contended that Eichmann should be tried by a German court. He asserted that appropriate German courts and laws are available to handle the case and denied that Eichmann came freely to Israel to stand trial.

By RELMAN MORIN

The fifth session of the trial lasted only an hour and 45 minutes and then recessed until Monday. Supreme Justice Moshe Landau, who is presiding over the special court of three Israeli judges, announced that its decision on whether it is competent to try Eichmann—would be delivered Monday.

Eichmann, wartime chief of the Jewish affairs section of the Nazi Gestapo, is charged with responsibility in the death of 6,000,000 Jews during the Second World War and other crimes.

After long hours of discussion on disputed points in international law, the proceedings suddenly exploded into high drama when Servatius rose to reply to prosecutor Hausner.

Servatius came quickly to the question of trying Eichmann in West Germany.

He said that relations between West Germany and Israel are cordial and friendly. But then he said: "INTERVENTION POSSIBLE

"Intervention is still possible and may still arise at any stage of this trial.

"The accused has a claim for protection and for intervention from his country."

Servatius attacked the competence of the Israeli court on two other points:

1. The assertion that Eichmann was kidnapped in Buenos Aires, Argentina, and did not come to Israel of his own free will.

2. That the order for the kidnapping "was done by order of the Israeli government."

Pinup boy?

Hamilton is ribbed in House

By JACK VAN DUSEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) —

Gales of laughter swept through the Commons Thursday night as a Quebec Liberal MP conferred the title of Parliament's "pinup boy" on Postmaster-General William Hamilton.

Mr. Hamilton joined in the laughter himself at comment delivered by Azellus Denis as he flicked through pages of a post office department magazine sprinkled with pictures of the minister.

The Liberal postal critic from Montreal St. Denis said the magazine, Postmark, showed photographs of the 42-year-old postmaster-general sitting down, standing up, sitting on a scooter, and bowling.

In one edition of the magazine — which, Mr. Denis said, costs the taxpayer $34,000 annually — there were 12 photographs of the minister.

CONSCIOUS OF PUBLICITY

Speaking mostly in French, but sometimes breaking into English, the 54-year-old member chided the minister, a former Montreal advertising executive, for being too public relations conscious.

Public relations spending by the department had risen to $456,800 from $326,700 when Mr. Hamilton took over the portfolio in 1957.

The Commons today will continue with the study of the $190,791,178 spending estimates of the post office department. Approved Thursday in the 10th day of debate were the agriculture department estimates of $172,181,953. Only other estimates approved so far this session have been those of the immigration department.

Mr. Denis said a period of unemployment is not the time for Mr. Hamilton to be making experiments with electronics equipment. He should wait until the employment picture is brighter, said Mr. Denis, charging that Mr. Hamilton is putting postal employees out of work through a preoccupation with automation.

BUYS OUTSIDE CANADA

And while Mr. Hamilton urged Canadians to "Buy Canadian," he was purchasing equipment from England, the United States and Italy.

Mr. Hamilton said the post office handled more than 4,000,000 pieces of mail last year for the first time in history. Development of an electronic sorting system was continuing.

CCF Leader Argue topped off the lengthy debate on the agriculture department estimates with a charge that the government's crop insurance program launched two years ago was a "half-baked fiasco."

Farmers weren't interested in the plan because the government's contribution of 20 per cent if the premiums was too little. The federal share should be increased to 50 per cent, he said.

Agriculture Minister Hamilton said the program would catch on. In a decade it would be in effect in most provinces.

Reds evacuate 500 paratroops

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Royal Lao army has evacuated some 500 paratroopers it dropped northwest of Muong Kassy April 5.

Relays of American-piloted helicopters completed the pull-out of the red-bereted fighters from the valley just above the town Thursday.

Moscow Radio had reported the paratroopers were encircled a few days ago and it was believed they found their position untenable.

Chamber of Commerce week

Premier Jean Lesage, proclaiming the period from April 16 to April 22 "Chamber of Commerce Week" said, "Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade render valuable service in economic, social and cultural fields. They are dedicated to the common good and they contribute in large measure to the betterment of the living conditions of our people."

Since the successful inauguration of this promotion three years ago, this week has been set aside to bring about a greater understanding and appreciation of the role of the Chamber of Commerce movement.

We are living in a period of change, of critical appraisal and of adjustment.

We find ourselves faced with an unemployment problem of the first magnitude and are concerned about rising costs far in excess of productivity increases.

In the face of these and other problems it is imperative that in every community there be established a strong group of community leaders. Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade across Canada are providing much of this leadership today.

To continue playing a strong, vital role in the affairs of Sherbrooke, it is imperative that the local Chamber receive the support, not only of business and professional men, but of every citizen.

Self-help and giveaways

Opponents of the food-giveaway plans, whereby food surpluses accumulated in certain nations would be distributed among the needy nations, argue, and with considerable reason, that the cost of such schemes could be better applied to improving agricultural production techniques in the overpopulated countries.

Present world surpluses approximate 125 million tons, an amount sufficient to feed the world's needy for only three months, with shipping charges exceeding 1,250 million dollars.

But this amount spent on fertilizer-manufacturing plants and other projects for improving production would bring large-scale, long-lasting assistance to the needy.

In water-rich India, rice production is approximately 1,200 pounds per acre. In Greece, permanently lacking adequate water supplies but receiving large supplies of suitable fertilizer, the rice production averages 3,600 pounds per acre. Italy, with better soil produces 4,750 pounds of rice per acre. The freight charges on the existing food surpluses would permit the erection of enough fertilizer factories to give India the same volume as used by the Greek farmers.

If this resulted in a mere doubling of India's domestic rice production — a very conservative figure in the view of experts — that country's grain problems would be solved.

Similarly, suggestions that North American feed grain be used to promote beef production in the needy nations overlook the fact that in most of these countries the animals disease-ridden and should not be allowed to perpetuate themselves. Rather, efforts should be made to develop a new breed suitable to the conditions of the country.

Direct aid programs may be justified in certain cases, but for the most part these altruistic ideas only remove from focus the real issue — the improvement of the agricultural potential of the needy countries.

Colored coal

English technicians are reported to have perfected a process to dye artistically-shaped lumps of coal gold, silver, red, purple and green.

The British housewife may soon be able to buy coal to match her living room curtains.

It seems they are getting a bit bored with endless lumps of plain ordinary black coal in their grates.

Maybe the new color process can be of help to the coal industry here. While oil is replacing coal as a fuel virtually all over the country, Canadian women may react to brilliant-hued stuff like a knight in armor to a clarion call.

With proper promotion, who knows, decorator colored coal in fire places may become the hottest thing in home fashions.

There might be a problem of market saturation to overcome, of course. No style-conscious housewife is going to burn all that pretty coal.

SENSELESS BID LOSES SCORE

It isn't hard to spot today's criminal. South was guilty of senseless overbidding.

Of course, he had an excuse. It seems that he thought his partner's business double of two clubs would show greater high card strength.

It did not constitute a crime for South to take out the two club double. His hand was such that he could not expect to hurt two clubs, but South had a very simple takeout bid. He could have bid two hearts only.

Then if North had all those high cards South thought he had North would have been looking right at them. North would have found another bid over two hearts and then South could have gone to game.

Of course, there was no play for four hearts. South had to lose two spades, a diamond and a trump and his jump to game just cost him a nice part score that he could have had and a 50-point penalty.

Incidentally, it may be of interest to try to see what would happen if South had left the two-club double in. The chances are that he would have gone down two tricks, but if you are interested in problems try to figure out if he could escape with down one against perfect double dummy defense and with perfect double dummy play.

The coming race war in South Africa: Part 3

Those making protest face banishment

(This is the third of a series of articles on South Africa's racial crisis by a Canadian Negro who recently toured that country).

By SYDNEY WILLIAMS
Distributed by Toronto Telegram News Service

When I stepped down from the aircraft at Jan Smuts Airport outside Johannesburg, I was met by white representatives of the South African government's information bureau. I was greeted warmly and courteously.

In a motorcar with a white driver, I was taken to the Carlton Hotel, Johannesburg's best, where my registration caused considerable excitement. But it was apparent they expected me.

Later I realized that they had permitted a Canadian Negro to come to South Africa because it was assumed I could be molded into an advocate of the country's racial program.

At the hotel I was ushered to an excellent room, but was requested to not enter any lounges, bars or other public rooms. I would eat in my room. Appointments were made for visits to native areas, with guide and escorts provided by the government.

I was soon interviewed by reporters. As I had said before leaving Canada, I told them that I had been impressed by the South African government's Program for the education of Africans, for the establishment of their own communities, for a form of local self-government.

I had said, and repeated, that these things should be seen and evaluated fairly.

Because there is a reign of terror in South Africa, my intentions were suspected. I later found that Africans shunned me. Black leaders were slow in meeting me.

But in the hotel, bedroom boys, elevator operators and others found excuses to speak, to slip into my room, to ask questions.

Perhaps it was through them that I met the native leaders. Meanwhile, I toured what are called the townships, or locations. These are the vast, sprawling native communities in which South Africa's non-white populations must live.

By the native Locations law, every municipality must provide such places. No native may own land; but at low rental he receives a small lot on which he may build, or rent, a dwelling.

Failure to pay township rents, no matter what the reasons, can mean banishment to an isolated reserve, even though the offender has never lived there, and has no friends or relatives there.

Also, an African can be banished for breaking the rigid pass laws, one of the keystones of the apartheid system. The native pass restricts his movement to the path between his job and his home. And he can travel this route only during certain hours.

My first visits were to the Johannesburg townships of Orlando and Meadowlands.

These are comparatively new. Many of the residents were forcibly uprooted from Old Sophiatown, the locale of Father Huddleston's vivid book "Naught for Your Comfort." There they had purchased land and homes many years ago. By law this was taken from them.

Every effort was made to discourage me from speaking to Africans. We walked through the townships—even the best were treeless, bleak expanses of tiny cottages that were numbered like cells and without street names.

I asked the curious watchers if they were happy. They shrugged. None dared speak his mind in front of an official.

Some townships, in the very shadow of huge power developments, had no electricity. Children scurried everywhere, ragged, yet surprisingly clean. On every hand were pathetic evidences of pride: Tiny patches of struggling lawn, flowers in windows, spotless washings hanging above the pitifully small backyards.

And despite my realization that I was seeing the best, my horror grew in the knowledge that these were prisons, camps of captive and subject people. It explains why, as it was reported later in the newspapers, I reacted bitterly, when Bantu Affairs Minister William Maree, a white praised the conditions.

"These," he said, "compare most favorably with the cottages of the workers in your homeland, don't they?"

"What?" I demanded. "Don't insult my intelligence." I told him then and there that it seemed to me apartheid was designed to drive non-whites into the jungle.

I looked at the little two-room huts, each sheltering at least a family and usually, some old folks. My throat tightened and my heart was sick.

Here was obvious deprivation, malnutrition, evidenced by little children's swollen bellies, poverty in the rags clinging to the clotheslines, but still pride in the carefully painted doors and bits of salvaged furniture.

This was apartheid, the separation of the white race from the human beings who shared the country with them.

The gulf between me and my guide and escorts was developing in my first few hours. My willingness—even my desire—to see some good in the racial program fell to despair and desperation.

But what could displace apartheid? The fanatic, religious belief in the policy makes change impossible for its creators.

I had a frightening vision. History has shown that repression ends in horror, bloodshed, vicious hatreds.

Can South Africa avoid this? I am afraid not.

Annual report

Fairbanks-Morse reports net loss of $547,000

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian States companies, the Howe Fairbanks-Morse Company Limited, manufacturers of industrial equipment, Thursday announced a net loss of $547,000 on 1960 operations. This compared with a net profit of $281,216 in 1959. In its annual report, the company said the loss was largely incurred in the liquidation of divisions losing money.

The company liquidated two major divisions, home appliances and electrical supplies, several minor ones but acquired five new subsidiaries in 1960.

President Robert Morse said the company has been converted from a Canadian distributor operation into an international manufacturing and marketing group.

Total assets at Dec. 31, 1960 were $18,970,000, compared with $16,087,000 at Dec. 31, 1959.

Two of the subsidiaries acquired last year were United States companies, the Howe Scale Company of Rutland, Vt., and the Johnston Pump Company of Pasadena, Calif.

The three others were Rudel Machinery Company Limited and Dynamic Engineering Limited of Montreal, and Skinner Scales Limited of Vancouver.

Despite the net loss, dividend payments were made in 1960 for the 23rd consecutive year. These were 70 cents per class A share and 60 cents for class B.

Gals, 'slavery' isn't bad if shared with husband

"Women are household slaves," declares a woman writer who builds up a fairly good case to prove her charge.

But before we start crying in our dishwater let's consider for a moment that if we are household slaves our husbands are family slaves.

No man who supports a family is in any way free. He has to earn that paycheck — no matter what. Indeed, he may be so financially chained he doesn't even dare to quit a job he hates to try something else, if the job he hates offers security to his family.

Women often begrudge men their leisure time. But actually a man with a family usually spends his leisure time not as he wishes, but as the family demands.

As for money, it's a mighty small part of his salary that the average man spends on himself. The family's needs come first and what papa gets for spending money depends on how much is left over after the groceries and kids' shoes have been paid for.

Furthermore, a man's duty to his family doesn't end with providing them with today's necessities. He has to contrive to have their future security assured in case anything should happen to him.

So let's not feel too sorry for ourselves. We women may be slaves of a sort. But bondage with our husbands isn't too bad a lot, now is it?

Beauty Tips

Doldrums Cure

A bright new hat is not the only remedy for a case of the blues. Shampooing your hair, or buying a rosy lipstick, or some eye shadow in a "different" color can do the trick, too. Anything that perks up your appearance is a cure for the doldrums.

Wash Hose First

Gossamer, sheer hose calls for perfect fit. For wrinkles are unsightly in these seamless cobwebs. If you launder your hose before wearing, you'll find that it will become more resilient and fit better as a result.

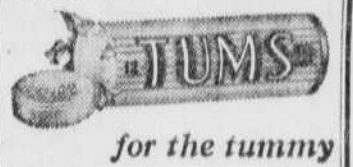

Homemaking

Sponges vs. Rags.

To make housekeeping more efficient, replace old-fashioned cleaning rags with a "wardrobe" of well-chosen sponges that can be sucked in a jiffy.

Build a carport economically

By MR. FIX

If your budget doesn't permit putting up a garage this spring, why not settle for a carport? If well constructed and planned it can be converted to a garage in a later step.

Meanwhile you can offer the family car some shelter and even have a roofed over patio of sorts during the summer.

The carport is native to warmer climates where rain and hot sun are the only considerations. If you live where there is plenty of snow plan on a roof that will bear the heavy load.

The carport is generally anchored to one wall of the house. This wall, a roof and two or more posts on the other side of the roof are the bare minimum requirements for a carport. The carport also can be a way of making the transition from a one-car to two-car garage. In this case one wall of the garage is used for the side of the carport. When it comes to closing in the structure completely you can use the siding from the old garage wall for the new one.

A 2x4 or 2x6 securely anchored to the wall of your house (use spikes or lag bolts with anchors for masonry) will form one support for the roof. Allow a pitch of about one inch per foot. The rafters are toenailed to this anchor beam or ledger. Use 2x6's on 24-inch centers for the rafters. The outer edges of the rafters should be firmly supported on a 4x6 plate fastened to at least two 4x4 posts securely mounted on concrete footings that go below the frost line. Strap iron or an angle iron should be inserted in the concrete before it hardens. Bolt the post to this.

Variations

There can be variations. The roof needn't be flat. It could follow the peaked roof of the house. Mount two anchor beams on the wall so that they form the same angle as the peaked roof.

The roof should be covered with wood sheathing and roll roofing. Be sure to use flashing where roof and wall meet. The flashing should be inserted under the row of clapboards or shingles immediately above the roof. It should then bend outward over the top layer of roofing and be sealed with asphalt.

CANTERBURY EAST —

Mr. Albert MacLeod of Ville St. Laurent, spent several days with his brother, Mr. Leslie MacLeod, and Mrs. MacLeod. The Misses Sylvia and Elaine MacLeod, of Sherbrooke, were also guests over the weekend.

The Record's Farm Report

Most optimistic indication in the economic outlook is that the current recession has reached bottom. At the same time, few indicators point to early recovery.

The announcement two weeks ago that residential construction was up 18.1 per cent for the first quarter of 1961 was offset by last week's report of the same quarter's drop in business building (down 31.1 per cent) and industrial construction (down 57.4 per cent). Overall, construction is down 16.6 per cent from last year. The DBS report two weeks ago that unemployment in Canada had climbed to 719,000 in February from 693,000 in January was almost optimistic because so many in Ottawa had feared it would go even higher than this 11.3 per cent of the labor force.

Effects of these influences were evident in the steel industry where output has been declining in recent weeks. Last week's steel ingot production was 3.7 per cent below the same week last year. In contrast, U.S. steel production is at a 10-month high and has been climbing. Industrial production in Canada in January was down six per cent below January, 1960, DBS reported this week.

ECONOMIC BRIGHT SPOT
Bright spot in the economy is again export trade, in January up 8.3 per cent above last year. Imports were up 8.4 per cent but the export balance in commodity trade was 5.5 per cent. The steady growth in population, now averaging about two per cent, has also helped boost the economy by pushing up consumption demand. In addition, recent reports indicate that last fall's decline in consumer confidence, due to unemployment, reduced earnings and uncertainty of the future, has levelled off and consumption spending from now on may be expected to hold its own or increase.

Unlike Washington, few remedies are being suggested in Ottawa for getting the economy rolling again. No doubt this is part of the reason for the uncertainty of business men and consumers. Last week President Kierans of the Montreal stock exchange suggested subsidiaries of the chartered banks be established for the express purpose of making development loans to stimulate Canada's growth.

But indications in Ottawa are that Finance Minister Fleming's budget, now expected in about three to four weeks, will have few if any such measures for stimulating the Canadian economy. This dearth of remedies was also evident last week in the report of the Senate committee on manpower. In it Senator Croft noted that, although their hearings were nearly over, briefs presented "have not come up with too many solutions" and the committee was in a "very difficult plight". So Mr. Croft suggested that Bank of Canada governor James Coyne be called in to give the Senate committee some of his remedies.

Indications are that Governor Coyne will appear before the committee after Easter. Already blamed by economists for many of the economy's present difficulties and ready with solutions on many public platforms, Mr. Coyne's testimony is awaited with interest by Ottawa.

POPULATION INCREASE REPORTED
DBS reported last week that Canada's population had increased two per cent over last year. In another report DBS noted that milk production for January-February, 1961, was up 1.4 per cent from 1960. This does not mean that milk consumption will overtake production and eliminate some of our butter surplus (last week 30 per cent above 1960 in nine cities). The level of consumption now depends to a consid-

Supper follows christening at Farnham church

FARNHAM — The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Mayhew took place on April 9, at Saint James Church with Rev. H. Oswald Slattery officiating. The name given the baby was Robert Maurice, and the god parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Budgen and Ronald Williams Jr.

Following the ceremony a buffet supper was served at the home of the parents.

Present from out of town were Robert J. Mayhew, of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Budgen, of Ville la Salle, and Miss Ruby Mayhew, of Montreal.

EATON

Miss Elizabeth Brazel of Toronto, spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Brazel. Mr. Osborne Lake and son Allan of Sharon, Ont., were guests at the same home.

Mr. Robert Taylor has returned to Lake Megantic, after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bouchard and family, of Shawville, Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Wilson and son Tommy of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wilson and family of Huntingville, were Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chilton Lowry.

Friends were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. John Winslow at the Sherbrooke Hospital on April 8. Mrs. Winslow was a former resident here for many years.

Mr. James Galvin, who spent the winter in Berkeley, Cal., and the past month in Montreal, has returned home.

The Christmas Club was entertained by Mrs. Albert McCaffery, when 500 was played at three tables. Prize-winners were Mrs. A. G. Glen, Mr. Steven Brazel, Mrs. Austin Currier and Mr. C. H. Picard. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by several members.

THREE VILLAGES —

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fortin, Derby Line, were Mr. and Mrs. George Paradis and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lesebvre, of Gonic, N.H. Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Provencier and Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Provencier of Rouyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Provencier of Sherbrooke.

Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blais, Derby Line, were Mrs. Annette Plante, Miss Cecil Lalime, and Mr. Napoleon Lalime, all of Newport. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Plante of Holyoke, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Camille Plante, Rheel and Debra of Barton, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Plante and son Donald of Orleans.

erable extent on whether the recession can be overcome quickly enough to cut unemployment and so increase earnings and spending.

CATTLE OUTLOOK STORY
Cattle prices in Canada are now up $1 and U.S. prices down $2 from prices last year at this time. Toronto and Chicago prices for good steers were close to par this week (about $23 a cwt). Along with this change in prices, indications now are that Canada's cattle population may be building up more than the U.S.

In Canada the market situation is strong. Cattle exports to the U.S. have fallen off to a trickle—445 head a week ago and only 22,563 head since January 1, against over 53,000 a year ago. Canadian cattle slaughter since January 1 is close to last year (allowing for two per cent population increase this means a decline in beef supplies per capita). But total red meat supply is down 10 to 11 per cent, due to the big drop in pork output from last year. Together these have strengthened meat prices. Stronger prices may account for the increase in cattle going on feed in recent weeks over last year and for indications that marketing of cows and heifers in Canada may be down, not up as in the U.S.

C of C plans

Restricted in work by lack of funds

The Sherbrooke-Montreal Autoroute Committee, which has now adopted the name of "Eastern Townships Autoroute Committee", has prepared a second brief on the financing of the proposed Autoroute, and this brief was sent to the Provincial Authorities during February 1961.

What is your Chamber of Commerce?

It is a voluntary association of citizens to promote the commercial, industrial, agricultural and civic welfare of this community.

The interest of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce is not, however, confined only to local matters. Just as a citizen of a municipality is also a citizen of his province and of his country, so the Chamber of Commerce has provincial and federal interests in addition to its local activities.

In our province of Quebec, there is a Provincial Chamber of Commerce and indeed many regions within this province have their own associations, known as regional Chambers, to advance the interests of their particular region. At the provincial level, the activity of the Chamber of Commerce is co-ordinated and presented to the provincial government through the Chamber of Commerce of the Province of Quebec, our provincial federation which groups over 180 Chambers and Boards of Trade across the province of Quebec.

At the federal level, the activity of the Chamber is co-ordinated and presented to the federal government through the Canadian Chamber of Commerce - the national federation of more than 800 Chambers and Boards of Trade. The policy of this national group is determined by the majority vote of the member Chambers and Boards - each of which has one vote of equal strength.

The national Chamber undertakes public relations programs to explain the virtue of the private enterprise system. (Similar programs are often undertaken by the local Boards and Chambers.)

Congratulations to our local Chamber of Commerce

Plan ahead during garden moving month

By MARGARET E. DOVE
April is garden moving month. Trees, shrubs, vines, evergreens and perennials can be moved as soon as the ground warms up. Thin barked trees such as birch, beech, redbud, dogwood and magnolia should be planted in the spring, they do not tolerate fall planting.

When selecting shrubs, give thought to the birds. Berry-bearing shrubs provide food for birds as well as being ornamental.

Most nursery catalogues list shrubs having attractive flowers followed by berries; the following are but a few that are pleasing in a garden:
PRODUCE BERRIES
Amelanchier grandiflora (service berry), a tall growing shrub covered in May with pure white flowers, then by red berry-like fruit; Pyraeantha, oftentimes called firethorn, an interesting and spectacular fruit-bearing shrub which is attractive when grown as a wall covering in a sheltered position. This shrub needs a bit of coddling until well established. It blooms in late May, flowers are followed by clusters of brilliant orange-red berries.
Cotoneaster in variety, rosa rugosa, viburnum in variety, and loniceera (honeysuckle). L. midsummer. L. tatarica grandiflora, has attractive creamy flowers and orange berries in midsummer. I. Tatarica grandiflora is covered in early June with masses of pink flowers followed by scarlet fruits.

This is a hardy, rapid growing shrub that will grow very tall. Once established it should be pruned each season if it is to be kept within bounds.

OKAY IN SHADE
Two attractive shrubs that thrive in the shade are symphoricarpos orbiculatus (coral berry) with red berries in the fall, and symphoricarpos albus (snowberry), prized for its snowwhite fruit.

When setting out dwarf fruit trees, keep the graft line above the soil surface. The graft line is the place where the union of two plants grows together to form one.

A graft consists of the understock having the roots of one kind of plant, and the scion. The new plant produced will have the branches, leaves, flowers and fruit of the plant from which the scion has been taken. (Scion — a piece cut from one plant for grafting onto another plant.)

Cells of democracy

Ideals and aims of the local chamber

Chamber of Commerce Week was established to bring to all Canadians a concept of the role of the local Chambers in community building for the national good.

Here are cells of democracy—independent and vigorous—binding citizens together to make their community better places in which to live and earn a living. Chambers can truly be called the conscience and will of their communities. The conscience to see and recognize the needs of the community, and the will to take effective action.

It has been well said that a community is poor in purse and poor in purpose that has not a strong, vital and active Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the local Chamber of Commerce are men who have accepted the responsibility of citizenship and who have recognized that their community demands something more than mere observance of the law.

Canada depends on strong, progressive, vital communities. Only by giving something of themselves in time and effort can men make the contribution which spells the difference between a live community and a dead one.

If you call LO. 9-3133 or drop in at 78 Peel Street, the Chamber staff, consisting of secrettary-manager Henri J. M. Baudet and typist Suzanne Hallee, will attempt to answer any questions or offer any help that you may require.

The Sherbrooke Chamber is affiliated with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber of Commerce of the Province of Quebec, and the Montreal Better Business Bureau.

Following is a list of reasons why any businessman should consider joining the local Chamber.

1) Because I have a business stake in this community which can best be safeguarded by working with others through the Chamber of Commerce to protect and advance all business. I help insure this community's progress which in turn insures the success of my business.

2) It is only fair for me to support the Chamber since I reap benefits through the concerted planning, counsel and action that is best obtained through the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

3) Because my support is "plowed back" to yield many-fold benefits in new industries, increased payrolls, health, safety legislation, business protection and community advancement.

Leonard A. Curtis, President of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce.

Meets regularly

Leading citizens are members of chamber

The Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary association of the leading citizens of our City, forming a group dedicated to work for the welfare of all concerned.

The Chamber constantly strives to promote the city's commercial, industrial and civic development.

Our Chamber is affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce of the Province of Quebec, a Federation that includes over 180 Chambers in the Province of Quebec.

Our Chamber is also affiliated with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, which is in effect the official spokesman of all Chambers of Commerce activities from coast to coast in our Dominion.

The Chamber accomplishes the bulk of its work through its various committees, which members are invited to join according to their individual desires, their hopes and their capacities.

President of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce this year is Leonard A. "Len" Curtis.

Other members of the Executive and Board of Directors are as follows: Vice-Presidents, Lionel Caron and Herbert A. Simons; Treasurer, Jean-Louis Gauthier; Directors, Paul E. Beaulieu, Aime Bergeron, Jacques Brisson, Paul E. Carrier, Gontran Guillemette, Eugene Marcoux, Leslie Memory, Robert D. Rice, Gordon McD. Shaw, Gordon R. Stewart, Denis Tremblay.

Immediate past president is Claude Genest.

Following is a list of committees presently at work in our Chamber, with their respective chairmen: Civic and Municipal Affairs, E. Marcoux; Commercial Affairs, G. Guillemette; Industrial Affairs, G. R. Stewart; Provincial Affairs, J. L. Gauthier; National Affairs, H. A. Simons; Town Planning, D. Tremblay; Airport, E. Marcoux; Autoroute, J. L. Gauthier and J. J. Dunn; Waterworks, J. Brisson; Finance, J. L. Gauthier; Bulletin, H. A. Simons; Membership Recruiting, A. Bergeron; National C. of C. Week (Publicity); Liaison with Members, L. Memory; Education, G. McD. Shaw; Nominations, C. Genest; Tourism, J. L. Gauthier; Program, L. A. Curtis; City Budget, R. D. Rice; Textile, G. McD. Shaw.

Promotes civic welfare

Besides being more than adequately represented on the Eastern Townships Autoroute Committee, the Chamber, through its own Autoroute Committee, continues to follow with the fullest attention all developments concerning the bringing about of this project, which will be of the utmost importance for the entire region, from the point of view of industrial, economic and touristic development.

The Chamber's Airport Committee is also continuing to work for the realization of this also very important project, which will mean so much for the future growth and development of our city.

Thanks to the incessant work of its Town Planning Committee, and through its delegate on the Town Planning Consulting Commission, the Chamber of Commerce has a constant interest in the organized development of the city, following the Master Urban Plan which has been adopted by the City Council as of last year.

TEXTILE
The Chamber's Textile Committee pursues its efforts to aid the local textile manufacturing industries which are currently faced with a very stiff competition from imports of low-wage countries.

It goes without saying that these few detailed examples constitute only a part of the work done by the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce.

May the Chamber obtain the concrete support of all business men and professionals, and it will then be in a position to fully play its proper role

Even the smallest town needs a constant ambassador of Goodwill to the general public, the stranger within its gates and the world at large.

Concrete achievements

Town planning, industrial promotions are studied by separate committees

On the local scene, the Chamber of Commerce has taken and still plays an important and very active part in all matters of common interest, such as Town Planning, supply of drinkable water, the City Budget, the municipal airport, the Sherbrooke-Montreal Autoroute, the Industrial Commission, etc.

Below are several concrete examples of recent achievements of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce:

Town Planning

The Master Urban Plan for the city of Sherbrooke is a familiar subject to everyone today, but how many Sherbrooke citizens know that the Chamber of Commerce was the instigator of the movement that incited the City Council of our city to engage the services of M. J. C. LaHaye, Town Planning Consultant, in 1956.

It was also the local Chamber that recommended in 1955 the establishment of a Town Planning Consulting Commission, composed of delegates from various leading groups and associations in the city with representatives of the City Council.

Airport

Since 1955 at least, the local Chamber has united its efforts with those of the City Council with a view to obtaining Federal Government aid for the construction of a municipal airport.

Since then, a number of steps have been taken by the Chamber to contact various air transport companies in an effort to study the possibilities of obtaining a regular air service for our city.

However, the whole project is still not complete, although the first runway has been built and should be asphalted during the present year.

Construction work is due to be undertaken for the erection of an airport terminal building and necessary buildings for the operation of an airport.

The Chamber continues to keep an eye on all the developments concerning our own Sherbrooke Airport, through the efforts of its Airport Committee established for this purpose.

Municipal Affairs

The Chamber feels that one of its key roles is to follow through on all matters of importance which concern the citizens of our city on the municipal level, and its own Municipal Affairs Committee keeps close watch and defends the interests of all, on the local scene.

There are many examples of this watchfulness to cite but the most recent one is the result obtained regarding the partition of cost of permanent works for the building of new streets in our city.

After having presented the Chamber's Recommendations to the City Council, backed by the assistance and support of other groups in our city, and following two joint meetings with the Mayor and the Aldermen, it was rewarding to know that the City Council decided to revert to the partition of cost for construction of new streets, on a 50-50 basis between bordering property owners and the City.

It was also through recommendations of our Chamber that the City Council undertook last year the preparation of a financial study of the city needs for the next ten years.

On the commercial scene, the Committee appointed often works in such close collaboration with the Municipal Affairs Committee that it is not always easy to give each committee the credit which it so rightly deserves, both working for the growth and development of our city in many ways, for the good of all concerned.

Nevertheless, we can cite, the work done by this Committee on Commercial Affairs in the matter of regulating store-closing hours, and on the schedule of fines to be set in cases of infractions to municipal by-laws.

After having revised the by-laws concerning stores, and having amended them by the adoption of Municipal By-Law No. 1045 of the City Chart, the City Council has just obtained from the Provincial Legislature the right to raise the rate of fines established for such infractions, following again the recommendations made by the Chamber.

Industrial Promotion

Prior to the establishment of the present Industrial Commission, the Chamber of Commerce operated jointly with members of the City Council and Industrial Promotion Committee which kept up a strong and consistent effort to bring new industries to our city.

The best example that can be cited here is in connection with the bringing to Sherbrooke of the Walter M. Lowney Company Limited, who decided, after investigating other cities in Ontario and Quebec, that Sherbrooke offered the best advantages, and decided to build their chocolate plant here in the Queen City, at a cost exceeding some five million dollars.

The building of this plant started last year and gave work to a large number of local men and business firms. When in production, in August this year, Lowney's will provide work for a large number of local citizens.

In 1959, the Chamber of Commerce studied the question of Industrial Promotion in our progressive city and presented to the City Council recommendations for the establishment of a permanent Industrial Commission.

This project took form with the engagement of Mr. Robert Belisle as permanent secretary of the Industrial Commission which was finally established last Fall.

Of the eleven members who comprise this Commission today, the Chairman and seven of its members are members of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce.

In 1957, the Sherbrooke Chamber took an active part in a day of study, at Granby, on the Road Needs of the Province of Quebec.

In 1959, following the Provincial Chamber of Commerce Convention, joint meetings were held with the Granby Chamber of Commerce to further study and promote the project of a

Tommy Ivan And Rudy Pilous Fined By President Campbell

Accused Of Calling Frank Udvari "Gutless" Following Thursday's Game In Detroit, Meet Tonight

By W. R. WHEATLEY

CHICAGO (CP) — Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks meet tonight in a tie-breaker as the Stanley Cup final nears an end and any club officials making a public outcry against the officiating can start digging deep in their pockets.

This was made plain Thursday by Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League.

Campbell slapped a $300 fine on Chicago manager Tommy Ivan and a $200 fine on coach Rudy Pilous.

Technically the offence was "making statements having a prejudicial effect on the league and the game of hockey." More precisely it was for using such terms as "gutless" in describing referee Frank Udvari.

The Chicago officials spoke their bitter criticism in the dressing room after Wednesday's game in Detroit, which the Hawks lost 2-1. The Red Wings' win tied the best-of-seven cup final at two games each. After tonight's fifth game of the teams move back to Detroit for the sixth game Sunday.

ADDS WARNING

In announcing the fines, Campbell said recurrence of such conduct by any parties involved in the series will bring "substantially heavier fines."

The criticism of Udvari was made by Ivan and Pilous to newspapermen. Campbell said neither denied the statements "made under circumstances which clearly authorized their publication."

This is the second time during the post-season playoffs Campbell has stepped in with fines. Coach Toe Blake of Montreal Canadiens was fined the maximum $2,000 for striking referee Dalton McArthur after a Montreal-Chicago semi-final game.

Campbell said Thursday night no action is necessary regarding remarks made by the Hawks' Reg Fleming to Udvari when the two happened to meet outside the stadium after Wednesday's game.

Campbell talked Thursday with Udvari and standby referee Eddie Powers, who was present when the incident occurred.

Hull-Ottawa Canadiens Roll To 6-3 Win Over Thunderbirds In First Game Of Eastern Loop Finals

HULL, Que. (CP) — Hull-Ottawa Canadiens took an easy first step toward the Eastern Professional Hockey League championship by whipping Sault Ste. Marie Thunderbirds 6-3 here Thursday night.

The Habs, still limber from the seven game semi-final series which ended Sunday against Kitchener - Waterloo Beavers, skated to victory against the rusty Thunderbirds who hadn't seen action in the 10 days since their series against Kingston Frontenacs ended after five games.

The rest of the road may be rougher going, if the Sault Ste. Marie club can start off in the second game here Sunday with as much speed as they beatily came up with Thursday night.

After two sluggish periods the Thunderbirds drew within a goal of the Habs in the final frame but their chances died when Canadiens capitalized on a penalty.

STRATEGY BACKFIRES

The Canadiens were playing only as well as they had to, taking a 2-0 lead in the first period and staying up 3-1 after 40 minutes.

Thunderbird coach Billy Reay tried in vain to even things up by pulling his goaltender in the final 48 seconds of play but the move backfired when Glen Skov scored into the empty net.

Keith McCreary and Bobby Rousseau started off the Hull-Ottawa scoring in the first period and Brian Smith made it 3-0 early in the second.

Su Mac Lad Wins $65,000 Gotham Trot

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Su Mac Lad, Air Record and Canada's Tie Silk—first three finishers in Thursday night's $65,000 rain-drenched Gotham Trot—are expected to be named today to join a select European group for the $50,000 United Nations trot at Yonkers Raceway next Thursday.

The first three are considered cinches—Su Mac Lad, owned by I. W. Berkemeyer of Milford, N.J., because of his standing as America's best current trotter; air record because of the way she was moving up at the finish of the 14-mile gotham; and Tie Silk because he is the defending U.N. champion.

The North American representatives will join European champion Masina of France, Italian champion Tornese and Italy's Mirk D'Angier along with three other European horses who fared badly in the Gotham. The three, Iskander F. of Germany, and Lavandiere III and Jariolain of Italy, had a rough time in the combined snow and rain as Su Mac Lad, driven by Stanley Dancer, trotted to his third straight victory by taking the Gotham in 2:38—good time considering the sloppy condition of the track.

Su Mac Lad paid $3.70.

Terriers Within One Game Of Cup Final After Riotous 4-2 Win Over Amherst In Penalty-Studded Game

GALT, Ont. (CP)—The explosive Galt Terriers had their reservations to an Allan Cup appearance all but confirmed to day in the wake of a riotous evening that threatened to set back Confederation to pre-1867 status.

The Upper Canadians emerged with a 4-2 victory over Amherst Ramblers from Nova Scotia in a game that boiled over in the second period to such an extent that both teams were sent to their dressing rooms to cool off.

It was the 10th straight playoff victory for the power-laden opportunists from this Western Ontario city and gave them a 3-0 lead in the best-of-seven series to choose Eastern Canada's opponents for Winnipeg Maroons in the Canadian senior hockey championship.

Jacques Moquette, Amherst playing coach and a heroic figure in the nets, still refused to concede defeat.

"If we stay on the ice, I still think we can come back," he said amidst the sour atmosphere of defeat in the Amherst dressing room.

"But it will be very tough."

The Ramblers started the game with stunning fury. Only 29 seconds after the opening faceoff, Moe Lamirande deflected a blue-line shot past goaltender Harold (Boat) Hurley.

But Bob McKnight squared it up, Bob Mader and Joe Malo put the Terriers ahead in the second and Malo wrapped it up in the third with his second goal over after Shermie White had put the Maritime champs back in contention.

The Ramblers got their last chance to stay in the running in the fourth game Saturday night. If they win, succeeding games as necessary are scheduled for next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

TOUCHES OFF BRAWL

A clash between Fred Pletsch of Galt and the Ramblers' Danny Malone touched off the second-period brawl, the only major donnybrook the 2,380 fans had witnessed here during the entire Ontario hockey Association senior season.

The period took just short of an hour to complete as the officials sent both sides off the ice and took 23 minutes to restore order and figure out penalties.

CAHA Hands Out Suspensions In Memorial Cup

EDMONTON (CP) — Disciplinary action against players involved in Wednesday night's Memorial Cup donnybrook in Winnipeg was announced Thursday by Art Potter, vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

A stick-swinging brawl broke out as the game ended with Edmonton Oil Kings ahead of Winnipeg Rangers 4-1.

Potter gave a one-game suspension to Phil Dutton of the Oil Kings, assessed a match penalty by the referee.

Wayne Muloin and Larry Lund of the Kings and Ken Stephenson, Brian Hestall and Bill Shields of the Rangers each will serve a 10-minute misconduct penalty at the start of Saturday's game in Edmonton.

He said the ice strength of the teams will not be reduced during this period.

Miami Beach, Fla. — Allan Harmon, 168½, Kingston, Jamaica, knocked out Billy Ryan, 174, Brockton, Mass., 1.

Sherbrooke Alouettes Baseball Club To Be Incorporated, Sale Of Season Tickets Rolling Along

The executive of the Sherbrooke "Alouettes" Baseball Club will be incorporated. This decision was reached last night at a general meeting at the Hotel Union. The team will be known as the "Alouettes Baseball Club."

Lucien Dugre, Al Caplan, Raymond Bergeron and Jean-Marc Jeanson, newly named directors of the club, attended the meeting along with the executive. Several other matters were discussed regarding the coming season.

The decision to incorporate the club was reached after a lengthy discussion when it was outlined the amount of business transactions which the club is obliged to undergo during the season. During the past few weeks several new directors were named in order to give the club more support from all circles.

Jean David, who is in charge of public relations for the club, announced at the meeting the Hotelmen's Association had made a donation of $150 to the club. In the meantime, despite the bad weather, the sale of season tickets is going along fine. It is hoped once the weather clears things will proceed at a faster pace since the opening is scheduled for May 14.

During the season the club will be in a position to offer special promotions to the public. The Alouettes will be playing twenty games at home and the same amount on the road. Fourteen of their home tilts will be evening fixtures with the other six in the afternoon.

Mary Van Gaulin Top Hockey Player On Scotstown High School Squad Awarded Goodin Trophy For Year

MARY VAN GAULIN

By SANDRA PICKFORD
(Record Staff Reporter)

What's wrong with girls playing hockey anyway?

"Nothing at all," says the star player on the Scotstown High School Junior Girls hockey team who was just awarded the Goodin Trophy, presented to the player best exhibiting sportsmanship while playing hockey.

Mary Van Gaulin, a fifteen-year-old, grade eight pupil at Scotstown High, strongly recommends girls to join a hockey team. "I think girls should play hockey," she said. "It's a popular outdoor sport and boys don't seem to realize that girls enjoy hockey just as much as they do," she explained.

Mary says that hockey is not too rough a game for girls, "if girls thought that hockey was too rough and tough for them then they wouldn't play," she said.

Sure, she said, the boys make wise cracks about a girl wearing hockey pads, on the shoulder and knees, and swinging an almost too big a stick, but although they won't come right out and admit it, way down deep they are actually pleased and proud when we win a game, why in fact, just as pleased and proud as we are when they win their hockey games," Mary said.

Born in Scotstown, Mary has played hockey for the Scotstown High School Junior team for three years. She started playing for the purple and white in grade six and ever since then, hockey has been her main interest. A girls' hockey team has been formed ever year at Scotstown High ever since Mary can remember but she sadly said that there might be a possibility that a team will not be formed next season. "It's possible that we won't have a team next year," Mary said. "We are such a small school and it is getting harder every year to get teachers who will come out to coach us or even to teach in our school," she said.

For the past few years the girls have been coached and trained, on the town rink behind the school, every Monday and Friday from January until late February by Heather MacAuley, a 22-year-old local resident. "Heather has left and we have no one but Rev. Louis Elias, minister of the Anglican Church, has offered to help us," Mary said.

Standing about 5 feet 2 inches and weighing not more than 95 pounds, you couldn't believe that Mary was the star player of the purple and white hockey team. This year Mary played center and has never received an injury. "That is, besides the usual bumps, and bruises," Mary added.

Mary's proudest moment was when she was presented the Goodin Trophy, presented to the player best exhibiting sportsmanship while playing hockey either in the Pee Wee, junior boys or the Junior Girls teams on March 10 (she had to look the date up in her diary).

Playing on the school hockey team seems to run in the Gaulin family. Besides Mary, her older sister played goal for a number of years before they married and her younger ten year-old brother, John, is now playing defense on the Scotstown School Pee Wee team.

The Scotstown High School Junior Girls' hockey team plays six games per season, against Sawyerville, Cookshire and Bury, although no ratings are made on the game. When she is off the ice, Mary takes an interest in volleyball, badminton, skating, skiing, and her favourite, beside hockey, horseback riding.

Future plans? To try and fix up a game between the Scotstown Junior Boys hockey team and the Junior girls, but, "only trouble is, that we know they are too good for us," she said.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

Phillies Win First Game Of Season Knocking Dodgers Out Of First Place, Giants Stop Pirates Second Straight

The National League moves into its "second openers" today with Cincinnati's unbeaten Reds in first place after Philadelphia Phillies managed to take advantage of Los Angeles mistakes and hand the Dodgers their first loss.

The Phils, scoring four runs in the last two innings, three of them gifts, salvaged the final game of their three-game set at Los Angeles Tuesday night, winning 8-7. That left the Reds, who rapped Chicago Cubs again, 5-2, topped on top.

San Francisco made it two in a row over Pittsburgh Pirates, winning 6-5 in 12 innings for the Giants' first decision over relief ace Elroy Face in three years. Milwaukee Braves won 11 innings before downing St. Louis Cardinals 5-4.

OPEN HOME SCHEDULE

The Cardinals, who split the two-game series at Milwaukee, open their home schedule tonight against Cincinnati. The Cubs open their Wrigley Field season in an afternoon game against Milwaukee and the Giants and Dodgers swap foes.

The American League's expanded schedule, so far restricted to just five games because of bad weather, counted another complete loss Thursday with rain: Snow and cold barring play. Only three games are scheduled today. Cleveland moves to Washington and Minnesota to Baltimore for night games with Chicago White Sox at Detroit this afternoon.

After blasting from behind on two-run homers by Pancho Herrera and Tony Gonzales, the Phillies dropped back again in the seventh at Los Angeles when the Dodgers scored three for a 6-4 lead. The Phils then moved ahead again with three in the eighth on a double by Tony Curry and a single by Gonzalez, and two errors.

The errors continued when the Dodgers tied it 7-7, in the eighth on an unearned run, but the Phils then put it away when winning reliever Dick Farrell singled and scored on a two-out error by losing reliever Ed Palmquist in the ninth.

Duke Snider drove in the first three Dodger runs off Phillie starter John Buzhardt with a home run and a double. The homer, a solo shot in the second inning, was the Duke's 36th, giving him a tie with Ralph Kiner for seventh place on the all-time list. Only Stan Musial of the Cards has hit more (429) among active players.

The Giants finally won it when winning reliever Jim Duffalo doubled in the 12th and Felipe Alou and Harvey Kuenn followed with singles.

CBC Won't Carry Any of Big Four Football Games Nor Any Of Private Stations Affiliated With Network

OTTAWA (CP)—Some of the haze surrounding the question of Big Four football television rights was cleared away Thursday in a public hearing of the Board of Broadcast Governors. The present picture:

None of the Big Four playoff or regular league games—including interlocking games played in the east against Western Conference teams—will be shown this year on CBC stations or private stations affiliated with its network.

CFTO-TV Toronto, an independent station which outbid the CBC for the Big Four TV rights, now can telecast the games only in Toronto—and even then only on Montreal and Ottawa games, since those in Toronto and Hamilton would be blacked out under league rules.

The Toronto station applied to the BBG Thursday for permission to set up a temporary network to broadcast the games over a microwave chain including its own station, CJOH-TV Ottawa, CFCF-TV Montreal and French-language station CFTM-TV Montreal. All are so-called "second" stations, independent of CBC networks.

In the event that the BBG approves another application by Toronto broadcaster Spencer Caldwell to form a permanent network, he would use his facilities to distribute the Big Four telecasts — although CFTO-TV would continue to own the television rights.

PLAN HITS SNAG
But in other discussions Thursday, the broadcaster's plan to have the private network in operation by mid-September hit a snag when he refused to give the commissioners a firm commitment on programming hours.
