Ascension Parish Returns Are Up

Returns for Ascension Parish in the Federation of Catholic Charities Campaign are "right on course", parish chairman Roland Laprairie, 4484 Sherbrooke St. W., reports. As a matter of fact, progress was a shade ahead of last year.

By Tuesday night, about $13,000 — half of the parish objective — had been turned in or pledged. Chairman La-prairie asked all canvassers to cover their cards and try to make full returns by the weekend.

About 400 of the 1,200 parish cards were taken by women canvassers under Mrs. J. H. McMahon. They were "doing a good job and making regular returns."

Throughout the Montreal area, overall returns were reported coming in fairly well. The total objective is $515,000, to cover the needs of the Federation's 33 agencies and services. By noon Wednesday $190,112 had been collected.

J. M. Wynn, general chairman, said the slogan "Count Your Blessings and Give!" was particularly appropriate to the drive. In these times of prosperity there still were many who required welfare and counselling services.

"They cannot enjoy the blessings we take for granted," he said.

Conservatives Pick Navy Man

A. Ross Webster, well-known Westmount businessman, Wednesday night was named Conservative candidate to contest St. Antoine-Westmount in the forthcoming Federal elections.

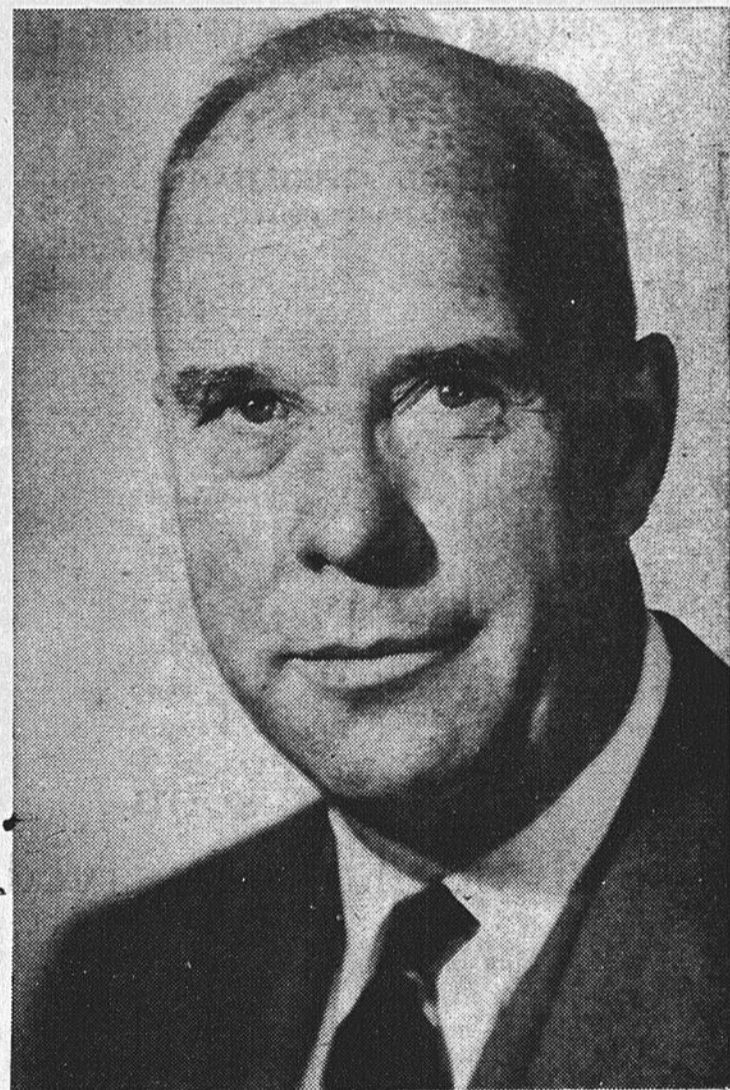

The 53-year-old Navy veteran was chosen at a convention called by the St. Antoine-Westmount Conservative Association and held in Westmount Junior High School on Academy Road.

Born in Duluth, Mr. Webster was educated in Westmount schools, Bishop's College School, Lennoxville, Que. and at La Durantaye, Que. President of Webster Coal and Coke Company Limited, he joined the Royal Canadian Navy in 1939 and was posted to sea duty in the North Atlantic. Later he was commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Hunter in Windsor, Ont., retiring from active service in 1946.

This year he returned to the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve and is now commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Donnacona in Montreal.

Mr. Webster is married to the former Margaret Russell Aird and has four children, three sons and a daughter.

The meeting, which was under the chairmanship of T. R. Meighen, Q.C., also named three delegates and three alternates to attend the Progressive Conservative national leadership convention in Ottawa in December. Mr. Webster, Egan Chambers, and Mrs. Harold Hampson; alternates, E. D. Gordon, William Hickey and Mrs. Jeff Chapeau.

Physical Training Room, a new innovation this year, has an average of 20 boys per training session.

Each Thursday, a group of girls under the leadership of Mrs. L. Laviolette are enjoying a swim at the Point St. Charles Boys' and Girls' Club. All proceeds will go to UNICEF to help children of other countries and in order to bring this project to a fitting climax a program will be presented at Parkdale School on Friday, Nov. 2, at 8.15 p.m.

This will consist of Scottish dances, Hungarian dances and folk songs, a one act play entitled "The Heart That Talked" and the highlight will be the boys' choir of St. Philip's Anglican Church. This evening promises to be a very interesting one and a representative from UNICEF will be on hand to accept our gifts.

The purpose of the evening program is to stimulate interest in United Nations, UNICEF, UNESCO and Save the Children Fund and the Unitarian World Services Committee. Throughout the summer children of the St. Laurent Neighbourhood Association have been working on a United Nations project and have created many art and craft objects which demonstrate life of children in other countries and these will be on display.

Piano Teacher Discusses Adjudication Problems

Laure Fink, Westmount piano teacher, discusses the problems of adjudication in the field of music, in an article in the Canadian University Post.

Miss Fink, whose scholarship and tact has created a demand for her adjudicating services, says that a consuming interest in the proceedings was her secret of overcoming doubts as to her abilities, the first time behind an adjudicator's table.

"Unless an adjudicator has this enthusiasm for his work," she claims, "how can he possibly listen to seventy-odd eight-year-olds sing a four-line song (sixty of them out of tune, and at the end of the session find something constructive and encouraging to say to each child?"

Miss Fink believes there are certain basic requirements essential for an adjudicator:

"Sound musical training, a sense of style, experience in both teaching and performing and a certain gift of the gab. These, allied to the ability to concentrate fully on what one hears, no matter how childish or simple, are essential to the job."

Sometimes, however, the most qualified adjudicator can run into great difficulty because of the very nature of the competition. As an example, Miss Fink singles out these competitors with no class divisions where a concert pianist, a pop singer, and a cellist may all be competing against each other.

Faced with such a mixed group of performers, the only way of reaching a fair decision she says, 'is to establish as a

Although there may be amusing moments in adjudication, most of it is hard, concentrated work, "ten to twelve hours a day."

In spite of the amount of work and time involved Miss Fink feels it is one of the most rewarding and creative jobs in the musical profession.

Hon. Geo. C. Marler Hands Over Wharf To Verdun

Honorable George A. Marler, Minister of Transport, accompanied by Yves Leduc, M.P. for Verdun, was received at Verdun City Hall Thursday by members of the Council and City Officials.

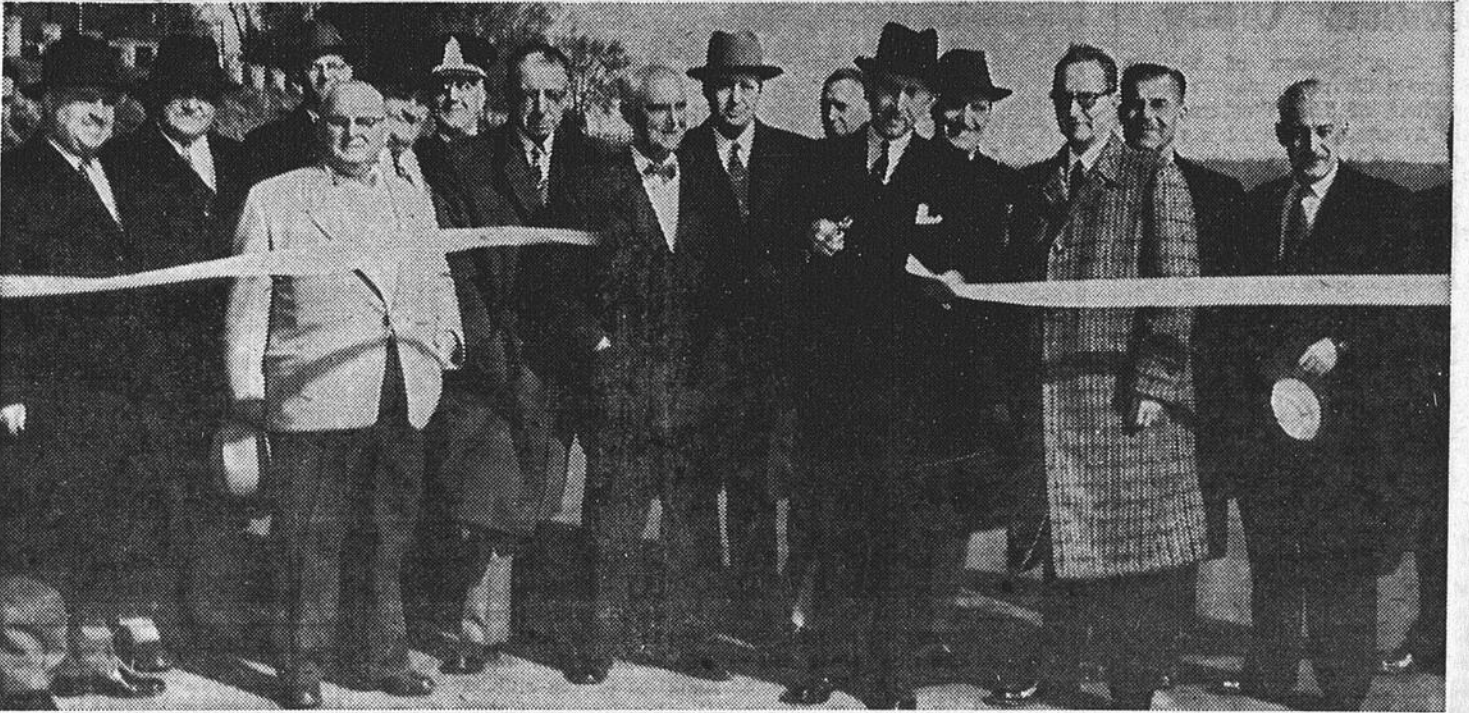

Mr. Marler, after signing the City's golden book, and being introduced to members of the City Council, proceeded to La Tortue Wharf, at the foot of River-view Avenue, where on behalf of the Canadian Government, he officially transferred the wharf to the City of Verdun.

The Minister of Transport was given a warm welcome at the wharf by Yves Leduc.

The local member of parliament remarked that La Tortue wharf had been purchased from the Crown Assets Corporation for the sum of $100, and that already over $5,000 had been spent on general repairs and re-construction.

In referring to the proposed bridge between Nuns' Island and the mainland, Mr. Leduc said that it will be suggested that it should be named "Louis St. Laurent Bridge."

Replying to the address of welcome, Mr. Marler said he was more than pleased to see His Worship Mayor Wilson still in office in Verdun, and knew that his good work for the City would continue.

Concluding his speech, Mr. Marler expressed the wish that the further development of the island would soon take place and add to the beauty of the Verdun waterfront.

PRIMAVESI, KAUFMANN & AWARD: The Montreal jewelry firm of Primavesi and Kaufmann has won one of the Diamonds U.S.A. Awards for 1956. The award was made last week. Two of their designs, chosen by the selection committee last spring, have been made up by the firm and were exhibited. One is a delicate, all-diamond necklace; a wreath in the "modern romantic" manner. Marquise diamonds shoot out budlike on the finest filaments of platinum between short, bold strokes of baguettes. The other award piece is a floral ring with buds formed of round brilliants amid foliage of marquise cuts. The winning jewelers say of their work: "Our jewelry designs seek to place diamonds of modern cut in the most attractive patterns. We are often moved by motifs found in nature. The multitude of tiny leaves and flowers and even members of the animal kingdom suggest ideas to us." Thomas Primavesi began his jewelry training as a young apprentice in Vienna, later working in Buenos Aires. Pius Kaufmann began his career in Switzerland at his birthplace, St. Gallen. He worked at the jewelry trade in other Swiss centers, finally in Geneva. Both partners came to Canada in 1953 and their design talent shows full maturity although their business in Montreal was so recently established.

New Namur Street Plant Of Pepsi Doubles Output

Production capacity of the new Pepsi-Cola bottling plant to be opened today at 4900 Namur Street will be more than double that of the previous installation at 825 Querbes Avenue, it is disclosed by Frank W. McIntosh, president and managing director of Pepsi-Cola Company of Canada, Limited.

Operating on an eight-hour day and a five day week, the new plant is expected to turn out more than 5½ million cases of soft drinks annually, he told a news conference.

At 24 bottles to a case, these bottles laid end to end would stretch completely around the world from Montreal, Mr. McIntosh noted.

The new plant will produce Pepsi-Cola and Schweppes Tonic water, dry ginger ale, and club soda for distribution in Montreal and environs. The site at 4900 Namur Street occupies an area of 212,000 square feet, of which 157,000 square feet are devoted to the new building. The plant is three times larger than its predecessor.

CANADA-WIDE

In this building will be maintained headquarters for the company's Dominion-wide operations, as well as for the Montreal branch. There are now 111 company-owned and franchised Pepsi-Cola bottling plants in Canada.

More than 10,000 square feet in the new plant will be devoted to concentrate manufacturing. Some of the concentrate to be made in the Montreal plant will be used in the local bottling operation and some will be shipped to Pepsi-Cola bottlers throughout Canada. It is this vital concentrate that is largely responsible for the uniformity of Pepsi-Cola in the 74 countries throughout the world in which it is sold.

In the Montreal plant, the concentrate will be piped into a mixing room in which are installed three 3000-gallon stainless steel syrup tanks. Each tank has three lines — one for treated water, one for simple syrup (sugar and water) and one for concentrate. These ingredients, in carefully-measured proportions, will be blended and mixed in the tank and then aged for 24 hours. The resulting syrup then will be blended with water and carbonated in the new plant's three special coolers. The temperature of the mixture will be brought down to 45 degrees Fahrenheit in these coolers before it reaches the filling equipment.

An industry innovation at the filling operation will be the use of six electronic "inspectors" to examine the contents of each and every bottle filled. Even a grain of sand would be sufficient to activate a mechanism that will automatically reject any faulty bottles.

Other features of the new Pepsi-Cola plant include a completely-equipped product control laboratory, a garage with a capacity of 100 trucks and with its own fully-equipped repair shop, a cafeteria, and a locker room for the plant's 225 employees, completely air-conditioned offices, fluorescent lighting throughout, and a visitors gallery in the bottling room.

"The public will always be welcome to visit our new plant and to observe the contribution that science has made to the efficient and sanitary bottling of Pepsi-Cola," Mr. McIntosh declared.

He added that the company's growth since its establishment in 1934 has been founded on "the highest standards of quality and purity," and said that these standards would be maintained in the new Montreal plant, in the other Pepsi-Cola plants throughout Canada and "in all future operations that are developed in the company's inevitable expansion."

Mr. McIntosh serves both as president and managing director of Pepsi-Cola Company of Canada, Ltd. Chairman of the board is Herbert L. Barnett, who also is president of Pepsi-Cola Company (U.S.A.). Other executive officers of the Canadian firm are Julien Savignac, Vice-President and Assistant Secretary, M. C. Somerall, Vice-President and General Sales Manager, F. Norman Wilson, Vice-President and Controller.

The November Mission

VI

Today's Mission

By Ven. Arch. R. K. Naylor
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

We have been thinking of the Mission of John the Baptist to his people of some nineteen centuries ago in order that we may compare our small affairs with that turning point in the world's history. Our affairs are small in comparison with those, but for us and for our time they are very important indeed. And it is quite as necessary for us to repent of the sins and shortcomings of those affairs as it was for the people of Palestine in the year 30 A.D. We too are in one of the critical periods of history, and we are in need of a fresh and better way of looking at things. As John called his contemporaries to repent — to change their ways of thinking about God, and their fellow-men, and the world they lived in, so the Church today calls us to cast a critical eye on our ways of thought and see if they are good enough, or if we need to make some changes.

The Rev. J. B. Phillips wrote a book two years ago with the challenging title "Your God is too Small." That suggests what is wrong with a great many of us; we think of God in human terms. It is all very well for the countryman on the back concessions to speak of God as the "Man up there" who controls the weather; but we need instead to turn our minds to Him who "maketh the seven stars and Orion and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night; that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; The LORD is this name." Amos 5:8. Truly your God is too small. He is not only the God who brought Israel out of Egypt, but who brought the Philistines from Caphtor and the Syrians from Kir; or in modern terms. He is the God who established English and French in this Dominion of Canada to show the world how two languages and cultures can live together; who brought the white man and the black into union in the U.S.A. to work out another problem — the LORD is

His Name: Yes, and brought Russia and India and China into the comity of nations that the world may really be one world as it was in the beginning.

It is not only that your God is too small, your picture of man is too small also. We make a mean creature of him, by loading him with glory and non-our," Psalm 8:5. Is the same not true of our picture of the universe? True, we have magnified it in size far beyond our imagination, but here size is a cold thing, almost without meaning. There too the Psalms had a warmer, higher conception of the world he lived in: "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork." Psalm 19:1. As long as we think of this material world as a thing to be exploited, purely for our own advantage, it will pull us down and keep our eyes set on the earth and the wealth it contains for us. Our conception of the earth is too small. It is not ours to own; it is in our charge to end in order that through it we may glorify God and serve one another.

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of God's goodness overcomes evil will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" will include the following selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (571:15): "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

Among the passages to be read from the King James Version of the Bible is the following (Isa. 35:10): "And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they

THESE ILLUSTRATIONS SHOW TODAY'S CROWDED CONDITIONS

Operating rooms are kept busy but lack space for most efficient use of modern life-saving equipment. Some operating rooms now only adequate for minor surgery.

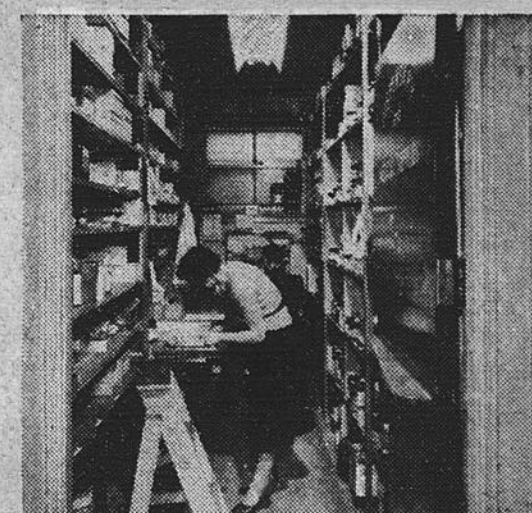

The out-patient department is one of increasing importance. Patients are unavoidably kept waiting simply because there are not sufficient facilities to handle them.

Physiotherapy is continually becoming a more important factor in modern medicine. Crowded conditions make it impossible to obtain full benefit of modern technological developments.

The stork is no respecter of hospital problems. Added nursery space is urgently needed to meet the growing requirements of the obstetrical department.

What this photo doesn't show is the line-up which often forms outside the door of this tiny pharmacy. Pharmacists' work is exacting and should be carried out under less crowded conditions.

OVERCROWDED CONDITIONS

HOW YOUR SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE USED

- Provide More Beds—For years the hospital has operated at a capacity beyond that recommended for normal operation. This campaign will almost double the existing bed capacity, helping to overcome delays in admitting patients.
- More X-Ray Facilities — Our X-Ray Department—using rooms designed for other purposes — has been doing its best to handle the increasing demand for x-ray diagnostic examinations and treatment. It can no longer meet these demands.
- More Operating Rooms — Our two existing operating rooms are just no longer able to keep up with the need for operating room space and services. New and more modern operating rooms are essential to eliminate delays and increase efficiency.
- Larger Out-Patient Department—Out-patient quarters, which were built to handle 2500 patient-visits a year, last year handled almost 25,000. New clinics, waiting rooms, and examining rooms are required by the large community which the hospital serves.
- New Physiotherapy Facilities — Modern trends in medicine lay emphasis on physiotherapy. Our physiotherapists are working under crowded conditions. Your donation will help provide more space and facilities for handling more patients.
- Enlarged Post - Operative Recovery Rooms—The Queen Elizabeth was the first hospital in Canada to provide a recovery room for patients during the early hours following an operation. Now it is accepted practice. Our existing recovery room is now totally inadequate for the demands made on it.
- New Nursing School Quarters — The need for more nurses in all Canadian hospitals is paramount. But, nurses must be trained. Additional quarters, classrooms, laboratories, demonstration rooms, and library facilities must be provided.
- Added Service Facilities — 28-year-old service equipment, now being operated at beyond capacity loads, is no longer capable of meeting demands. Maintenance costs, too, are becoming prohibitive. Not only do water lines, boilers, elevators, ice machinery, and much other equipment need replacement, but capacities must also be greatly increased.

Proctor Evens Up Annual Football Series

U.S. Academy Wins Trophy Defeating W.H.S. 26-13

By BOB ROBINSON

A big, rugged football squad from Proctor Academy, Andover, N.H., dumped Westmount's High School's Senior B gridders 26-13 Monday morning in the eighth annual clash between the two schools.

By virtue of their win, Proctor retained possession of the Walter Small Memorial Trophy which they captured last year. The series now stands at four victories for each school.

The contest was played in bright sunshine and before a large turnout of students who had little to cheer about until late in the game when Westmount scored both their majors.

The green and white clad invaders ran roughshod over their lighter and less experienced opponents. Had it not been for the slow-footedness of Proctor's backfield, the U.S. squad would have probably run the count higher.

Proctor's hard-charging line created havoc in Westmount's backfield all morning and, as a result, the local aggregation seldom was able to organize a sustained drive.

Offensively, Paul Hamilton was Westmount's lone threat. The locals' other big gun, Pete Souquet, was unable to break out for any considerable gains against the alert Proctor defense. Coach Ron Sharp's favorite weapon the forward pass, proved ineffective as Proctor's charging wingline kept the Westmount quarterback off balance.

Proctor struck for a major in the first quarter when an old Westmount nemesis, Bob Gilmore, plunged over from the three yard stripe. The convert was not good.

On the kickoff, Westie halfback Souquet fumbled on his own 48-yard line, Gilmore recovering. Several plays later Stewart's bouncing punt trapped Geoff Plomer in the end zone for a two point touchback, the U.S. version of a rouge.

In the second stanza, the Academites went over for two more unconverted touchdowns. Weld intercepted Hamilton's pass on Westmount's 18 and stumbled over the goal line. Later in the quarter, Butler gathered in a pass on the Westmount 17 and went over standing up. At half time Proctor led 20-0.

Bill Weld ran the second half kickoff back 70 yards to the Westmount 20-yard line. Three plays later, Gilmore crashed over for his second major score. Once again the convert attempt failed.

In the last frame Westmount finally came to life. The Purple and White squad moved the ball to the Proctor 36 yard line where Ray Sproule floated pass out to rangy left end, Gerry Mullins. He made a leaping catch on the 15 and scampered over for Westmount's first touchdown.

Late in the game, Hamilton swept around left end, behind Souquet's crisp blocking, for a 22-yard touchdown gallop. Pepper Young converted to make the final count 26-13.

day, this is one time the US ball carrier didn't get far. Paul Hamilton (34) and Gerry Mullins are getting ready to stop Proctor's Weld. (Harrison Photo)

Westmount sorely missed the all-around ability of their regular quarterback Bruce Hutchison who sat out the game due to an injury. Gilmore, Weld, Harris and Stewart stood out for Proctor.

W.H.S. Downs Lakeshore 19-13 For Third Victory

By MICHAEL LEVINSON

Westmount High School — behind a strong defence and hard crushing offense — rode to their third victory of the season Wednesday when they defeated Lakeshore John Rennie High School by a score of 19-13 at the Athletic Grounds.

A young, local athlete, now attending Lower Canada College, has stamped himself as one of the outstanding swimming prospects in the country.

The locals' ground attack was particularly effective and the passing of Paul Hamilton and Gerry Matsubuchi showed great improvement over past performances.

By contrast, the aerial attack of the visitors was weak throughout and their ground plays produced results only in the second half of the contest.

Westmount's first major featured a 104-yd. run by Pete Souquet who took the ball on a screen pass from Hamilton, on a first down play, following a punt into the end zone by Lakeshore.

Again in the second quarter, nearing the halfway mark, the same combination managed a touchdown from the Rennie 15-yard line with another screened pass, accompanied by smart blocking, that enabled the fast-moving Souquet to score.

The score remained at 12-0 until Lakeshore players succeeded in hitting the score sheet following a determined drive into Westmount territory, aided by a penalty against the Purple and White. It was Quaille, the right half, who went over from the two.

In the fourth quarter Rennie put on a spirited effort to overcome the lead but Westmount went further ahead following a diving pass interception by Matsubuchi. A long pass from the latter to Plomer and a 15-yard end run by Paul Taylor produced the third TD. Mullins caught a pass for the extra point.

John Rennie marched right back into the running and Wilson scored on a lateral from the 4-yard line to make the score 19-13.

Souquet, Teddy Evans, Bob Carr, Matsubuchi, John Rogers and Ron Leadbetter were outstanding for the winners while Quaille starred for the losers.

Tribute Paid Local Air Cadets On Their 15th Anniversary

BY TED ABRAMS

Tribute is paid to No. 1 (West Montreal) Air Cadet Squadron in a pamphlet published by the Air Cadet League of Canada.

The handsome pamphlet, entitled "The Story of Canada's 'First' Air Cadet Unit," is published to commemorate the Squadron's fifteenth anniversary.

In tracing the history of the Squadron, it is noted that formation of the unit was sponsored in the early days of the Second World War by a group of prominent Westmount citizens led by Major Hugh M. Scott, M.C. This group played a leading part in the development of the Air Cadet League, and was later rewarded when the Westmount Squadron was officially designated as No. 1 (Westmount).

Commanding Officer of the original squadron was S/L H. P. Illsley, a Royal Flying Corps Veteran of the first World War. Still active in the League, Mr. Illsley is currently a member of the Dominion board of directors of the movement.

One of his efficient officers, L. McCaig, later joined the RCAF, earning the rank of S/L as well as the DFC. McCaig later lost his life "after serving gallantly." Many other members of the squadron later served on active duty with Canada's armed forces.

Operation of the unit proceeded through public support. Funds were raised for uniforms and equipment, and due largely to the efforts of S/L Illsley, the squadron "flourished and grew to a strength of almost 400."

The squadron remained inactive during the period immediately following the war's end, but was completely reorganized in 1948. The revitalized squadron is now called No. 1 (West Montreal) Squadron, and is under sponsorship of the Airforce Veteran's Association, Quebec Branch 84, of the Canadian Legion.

Present strength of the unit is just over 150 cadets, with a trumpet band, and an experienced group of officers and instructors. The Commanding Officer is S/L Hugh S. Greene, once a cadet with the original squadron.

A. Ross Grafton, a past chairman of the Quebec Provincial Committee, is now heading the squadron's civilian committee. Still showing his interest in the unit, is Mr. Illsley who serves on the committee.

"Under new sponsorship, with new officers and a whole new generation of cadets," the pamphlet states, "No. 1 Squadron again ranks among Canada's finest."

To bring to the public's attention the type of training offered to any young teenager, the pamphlet outlines some of the activities of No. 1 Squadron.

TRAINING

In the basic training period of the new cadet, emphasis is laid on military deportment and sound citizenship training. He is supplied with free uniform of standard RCAF issue, and attends twice-weekly meetings throughout the school year. Along with familiarization of RCAF organization and trade structure, the youth gains expert instruction in photography, marksmanship, and precision squad drills. For the musically inclined, there is weekly band practice.

Self-discipline, a cooperative attitude in dealing with others, and pride in his appearance as a member of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets marks the cadet after his first year of training. Maturity is reached at a young age, in comparison to others of his own age.

In his final training year, at 17 or 18 years of age, the cadet may win a flying scholarship to obtain his private license. There is also the opportunity for a fully paid college education. However, to be eligible for these and many other opportunities, he must work hard at his school studies.

Every summer, the cadets may receive further training during two weeks of summer camp. The camp, located on a regular RCAF Station, provides for better on-the-spot training as well as a relaxing recreation program — at no cost to the cadet.

GRADUATES

Graduates from this squadron have gone their ways in various careers, and many are today successful business and professional men. According to the pamphlet, many of these graduates "readily admit that they have been better equipped to face life in general through the training received through the Air Cadet movement — certainly proof that this unit is producing 'Better Citizens Through Air Cadet Training.'"

Included in the brochure, is a message from the Commanding Officer of the Squadron, S/L Hugh S. Greene, in which he thanks the general public for their continued financial and moral support.

He cited the benefits of the Air Cadet movement to our country's youth, giving examples justifying the League's motto: "Better Citizens Through Air Cadet Training."

Mr. Greene felt that in continuing their financial support, the public could take pride in knowing they are taking an active part in the "preparation of our youth for a better Canada tomorrow."

Noel Romney Named New Pilot Of Dow Brewers

Noel Romney, perennial all-star first baseman in the Snowdon Major Fastball League and a 12-year man in the loop, has signed as manager of Dow Brewery's entry in the west-end loop.

In announcing the signing of Romney, Kevin Kennedy, business manager of Dow Brewers, said the team was already making plans to strengthen its lineup for next year.

The Brewers, who in 1955 won provincial fastball honors after winning the Snowdon League championship, made the playoffs for the third straight year last summer but were eliminated in the semi-finals.

Romney earned fame as a fine glove man and a sturdy hitter from the time he began playing in the Snowdon loop with Snowdon Stars in 1942, until a broken leg ended his playing career in the last regular game of the 1955 season.

Other teams to which he has given excellent service since then are St. Augustine's (1946), Hampton Food (1947), Ascension 1948-49-50) Canadair (1951-52) and Dow 1953-54-55).

Highly popular with players and fans alike, Romney succeeds Stan Kalinauskas, who has managed the Brewers for the past three years. His signing was made in the presence of J. Paul Bertrand, president of the team, and other officials of the club.

Silverstone Wins Over Silverstone

Abbey Silverstone 18-year-old holder of the Bonillon-Desjarlais Trophy, emblematic of provincial fencing supremacy, proved the old story of the pupil becoming better than the teacher.

In the Open International Golden Epee Tournament, held recently in the Rosemount Club, Abbey met his father Dave Silverstone for the first time in competition and defeated him 5 hits to 2.

This tournament, which attracted some of the best blades from the States as well as most of Canada's tops, including members of the Olympic teams from both countries, is in its first year. The placings were: R. Berry, Detroit, U.S.A., Carl Schendy, Can., R. Spinella, USA.

Abbey took 5th place while his father placed 9th. This places young Abbey well up inside the Canadian Big Five of Fencing.

CURLERS ABROAD

Though communiques have been brief and rather rare, Montreal Westward Rotary President Eric Denman reports the local Rotarian curlers, now on a junket in Scotland, are enjoying traditional Scot hospitality. Reading between the lines, Mr. Denman figures they have won approximately half of their matches.

There are 750,000 species of insects on the earth.

Sooners, Wreckers Battle To 31-All Tie In 8 Man Loop

Sooners and Wreckers met for the fourth time this season in the Westmount Municipal Eight-Man-Tackle Football League in the best display put on by the teams to date. The game ended in a 31-31 tie.

Wreckers opened the scoring in the first quarter with Chuck Burton getting his first of five touchdowns he scored during the day. Frank Robinson took a pitch out and romped over to put Sooners on the score sheet, both convert attempts failed and the quarter ended 6-6.

Sooners scored twice in the second quarter, Robinson plunged over from eight yards off tackle and Quarterback George Spare threw a pass to Dwight Keizer who went all the way. Burton scored again for Wreckers and the half time score read 18-12 for Sooners.

Each team scored TDs in the 3rd period; Spare for Sooners and Burton for Wreckers. Sooners carried their six-point margin into the final frame but it was short lived as Burton again tallied.

Spare climaxed a down field march going over on a quarterback sneak play to put the Sooners ahead again, he also converted and the score read 31-24.

Sooners kicked off and Burton lugged the leather into Sooner territory where two plays later he eluded the entire Sooner squad to pick up his last TD the convert try was good and the final score was 31-31.

For the Sooners, Allan Keith came up with another fine game; Richard Dicker, the defensive left tackle put the stopper on Wreckers ball carriers repeatedly and new comers Wayne Dallas and Donald Harper showed up well.

Apart from Chuck Burton, other outstanding Wreckers were Carlos Gavin for his defensive work and Jimmy Ray, the team's best tackler. Johnny Millichamp blocked well at centre and Doug Banks called well out of the quarterback slot. Rookie Pierre Carpentier showed promise on defence. Nine-year-old Tim Rothwell held his own in the older company.
