LAST MEETING OF THE PRESENT CITY COUNCIL

Members Discuss Proposed Amendments to City Charter---Some of Them Referred to Next Council for Consideration

PRESENTATION TO MAYOR SIR G. GARNEAU

The last meeting of the present City Council was held in the City Hall last evening, most of the evening being taken up with the consideration of the proposed amendments to the city charter, which are to be brought up before the forthcoming session of the Provincial Legislature.

which your father sat as Mayor of Quebec. During the long hours of labor you devoted to the city's service, your thoughts must have reverted, with legitimate pride, to him who forty years ago, presided over the deliberations of this Council with the same dignity, ability and devotedness to duty that we have observed in the son.

The meeting was presided over by Sir George Garneau, those present being Aldermen Picard, Lemay, Mulrony, Campbell, Hogan, Collier, Pouliot, Gauvreau, Lantier, Plamondon, Messervy, Dinan, Fiset, Verret, Huard, Barbeau, Lavigne, Paquet, Cannon, Cummings, Samson, Madden, Jobin, St. Pierre, Lockwell and Matte.

Alderman Messervy, on behalf of the English-speaking Aldermen, spoke in a similar strain. When Mayor Garneau resumed his seat, he replied in a very touching and eloquent manner to the kindly remarks contained in the resolution, and to the compliments paid him by Messrs. Cannon and Messervy.

Another letter was read from the Secretary of the Quebec Board of Trade, to the effect that at a special meeting of the Board, it was decided to request the present Council to leave the consideration of clause 5, of the proposed amendments to the city charter, to the incoming Council.

Alderman Messervy, on behalf of the English-speaking Aldermen, spoke in a similar strain. When Mayor Garneau resumed his seat, he replied in a very touching and eloquent manner to the kindly remarks contained in the resolution, and to the compliments paid him by Messrs. Cannon and Messervy.

A letter from Lt.-Col. Ray, again submitting his request for the granting of privileges of the limitation of taxes on certain building lots on Grande Allee, was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Council then proceeded to take up the order paper, the first order being the examination, correction and approval of the extract from the valuation roll of the city of Quebec, now in force containing the list of persons qualified to act as grand and petty jurors, the report being adopted.

A letter was received from Mr. Alphonse Jobin, protesting against the lease of a property near the hay market at the Palais was referred to the legal advisors.

The members of the Council will retain a pleasant recollection of their relations with him, of the dignity and courtesy with which he has presided over their meetings, and the great ability he has displayed in the administration of the civic finances.

Ald. Picard, seconded by Ald. Verret, then proposed the following resolution:—

The many and important questions that have been solved during the past four years and, above all, the prominent part he took in the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the foundation of Quebec, during which he did the honor of the city of Champlain with perfect dignity, render him worthy of a high rank amongst the distinguished men who have occupied the chair of Mayor of Quebec.

At a meeting of the City Council of the City of Quebec, held on the 25th day of February instant (1910) it was resolved: That the following order of the day be entered in the minutes of the Council:—

The members of the Council are happy to associate Lady Garneau and her charming family in the wishes they now express for his happiness in the remainder of his career.

advised the Council to adopt the amendments at that meeting and if any changes were desired the bill could be amended when it came up in Parliament.

The first clause of the proposed amendments, authorized the city to borrow $225,000, out of which $200,000 for permanent works in Limoilou, $20,000 for permanent improvements of the city waterworks through the acquisition of certain lands along the river St. Charles and $15,000 for permanent works on Cote d'Abraham, and for the compensation paid to certain property owners of said street.

Ald. Verret proposed, seconded by Ald. Mulrony, to amend that clause by adding $100,000 to the sum required, that amount to be spent for making permanent repairs in St. Andrew street and until completion of the paving of Dalhousie street. He remarked that St. Andrew street was always in a very wretched condition notwithstanding that thousands of dollars had been spent on that street.

Ald. Madden remarked that he had a similar motion to propose and he was pleased to see that Ald. Verret had brought the matter to the attention of the Council. Last week he had spoken about the matter to Ald. Fiset, Chairman of the Road Committee, who informed him that they could not even pay the interest on a loan for that purpose, but now he was surprised to see them taking such an interest in St. Peter's Ward.

Mayor Garneau advised the Council to be prudent about adopting the proposed amendment before knowing where the terminals were to be erected. Ald. Jobin marked that the proposed changes would cost, according to the City Engineer, ninety-four thousand dollars and as Ald. Verret suggested to borrow our additional one hundred thousand dollars, he suggested that six thousand dollars be spent on paving Crown street, between St. John and King streets.

Ald. Fiset was of a different opinion, remarking that the proposed changes should not be included in that clause. After remarks from Ald. Madden, Cannon and Dinan, Ald. Verret withdrew his amendment, which can be brought up later on.

Ald. Jobin seconded by Ald. St. Pierre moved as an additional amendment to the first clause, that the city be authorized to borrow $5,000 for the paving of Crown street, but on the same principle as Ald. Verret's amendment, the motion was defeated only the mover and seconder voting in favor. The original clause regarding the borrowing of $225,000 was then adopted.

The clause which caused a long debate was the following:—

Section 8, of the act 57 Victoria, chapter 58, is replaced by the following:— "In assessing the immovable property in the city, the assessors shall take as the basis of their valuation, the bona fide rentals thereof, if they consider the rental proportionate to the real value of such property. If the rental is not considered proportionate to the value of the property or if the property is not leased, then they shall take as the basis of their valuation, a rental represented by five per cent of the value.

"If the property is occupied by the proprietor alone or is in his sole possession, the assessors shall determine the amount of the assessment to be paid by taking as a basis a rental equivalent to the interest at five per cent upon the rental value of the property."

When this clause was read, Ald. Messervy, seconded by Ald. Cummings, moved that all clauses from the above to clause 16 be left over for consideration at the next Council. Mayor Garneau, to expedite matters again suggested that the clauses be adopted, any charge could be made to the bill before Parliament, but Ald. Messervy insisted on his motion.

Ald. Cannon asked Ald. Verret what was the object of clause 5 and the latter explained that the system of taxation was not a just one, vacant lots were held by speculators at high prices and brought very little to the city. The public were under a wrong impression regarding the bearing of the clause. For example the property on Grande Allee was estimated at over $2,000,000 and all the taxes paid to the city was $17,000, while property on a small street in St. Valier ward, bought in $1,700. The same thing happened elsewhere and there should be a more fair division of taxes.

Ald. Messervy and Cummings both remarked that they knew that the object of the clause was to put an extra taxation on Grande Allee and other portions of the Upper Town, Palace Ward and St. John street included. The assessors did just as they pleased and estimated properties at any value whatever.

Ald. Dinan was surprised at Ald. Verret's remarks, and apparently the latter objected to a proprietor improving his property without having to pay extra taxes. As things stood at present if a proprietor put on an extra coat of paint on his house, the assessors went around and put on an extra value of one dollar a month on that property, apparently the clause was aimed at the proprietors of Grande Allee and St. John street. He was in favor of keeping the same taxes on large buildings even when they went into the hands of religious institutions as now under present circumstances was a fall off in the revenue.

Ald. Samson replied that some proprietors did not pay enough taxes and although rentals were much higher than over the valuation on certain properties never changed. After remarks from Ald. Pouliot, Cummings, Fiset and Collier, a vote was called but as the large majority of the Council seemed opposed to the clause, Ald. Verret agreed to allow it to remain over, with other clauses, for the consideration of the new Council. Clause 17 referred to the exemption of incorporated charitable and educational institutions, being exempt from taxes. Ald. Messervy thought it was time that these institutions should pay at least something towards the city for fire and police protection and he

QUEBEC WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

Addressed by Principal Peterson on the Naval Question from Non-Party Point of View.

The two speeches delivered before the Canadian Club yesterday were in striking contrast, Justice Longley advocating a future independence, and Professor Peterson pointing out that the national growth of the Dominion was dependent on Imperial security. Prof. Peterson has no mean reputation as a lecturer, and he did not fall short of yesterday, while the masterful and exhaustive way in which he handled his subject, showed that he must have been at considerable pains to study the question.

Mrs. Benyon, who introduced Prof. Peterson to his audience, and spoke both in French and English, said:— "Ladies, it requires very few words on any part to introduce to you Dr. Peterson, the Principal of McGill College. As a man of the highest attainments his name is of course familiar to all of us, and we welcome him here this afternoon as an apt and thoughtful exponent of modern ideas on our first line of defence. The subject is a broad one, and must be approached from many points of view. For those who have not studied the history of the past, or who have not kept themselves familiar with the mental and financial tension of the great powers of the Europe of to-day, Principal Peterson's address may help to clear away prejudices, and focus the main argument in a proper light. I am quite sure you are as anxious as I am to hear his ideas on the subject of the Canadian navy."

Principal Peterson discussed the naval question from a non-party point of view and after deprecating the excess of imperialistic talk sometimes indulged in, and explaining that for him personally, Imperialism meant simply the aspiration that the Empire might be enabled to hold together in all coming time. He went on to say that Canada is beginning to realize the truth that national growth is dependent on imperial security. This might be set against statements on the other side, to the effect that all Canada had to do was to go on building up the country, and attending to our own interests, leaving the rest of the Empire to take care of itself. We were either in partnership, he said, with the other component states of the Empire or we were not. We cannot have it both ways at once. If we were not in partnership then Canada could do what seemed best in her own interests just like a man who was in business for himself without any partner. But if we wanted to remain part of the empire, we must accept responsibilities and along with these a certain restriction of our absolute autonomy. There was too much talk, he thought, at the present time of the need for asserting our individual and separate existence and of the alienable rights and privileges of self-government; personally, he would like to hear more of the other side of the story, namely, the responsibilities of nationhood in a partnership of free states. For the true Imperialism was in no way inconsistent with our national aims and aspirations.

Referring to the naval service bill, Dr. Peterson said he had been a close observer of the current debate at Ottawa, and not being mixed up in party politics, he thought he could offer a suggestion that might reconcile both sides. It was essential that the momentous issue now before the country should be kept outside the sphere of party politics and that a well-informed public opinion should assert itself in regard to it. However much we might regret the fact, no nation could safely offer at the present day to lie down like a lamb among lions. The King's speech had just been published emphasizing the necessity of increased naval expenditure "for the defence of the Empire." It was not a case, as was often stated, of helping the old country. It was a question of imperial security. Some people seemed to think it was enough to say, "if there is going to be trouble count on us to rally to your aid." But they might be too late. The welfare of the Dominion with its great volume of ocean-borne trade, counting 63 per cent of the whole, was obviously bound up with the sea outside the walls of the continued existence of the Empire. Dr. Peterson praised the Dominion cabinet for the great advance noticeable in its attitude since 1902 when word had been sent to London that the Canadian Government would not be prepared to discuss Imperial defence at the forthcoming conference for the somewhat curious and illogical reason that the Empire was a democracy. He devised that could suit the circumstances of each and all of the Dominion overseas. He added that it would be, in his judgment, the greatest achievement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's long and honored career if he should succeed, in spite of obvious difficulties, in uniting the whole country behind this subject including his own Province Quebec. After quoting the view of the British Admiralty, he referred to the importance of the Pacific in the evolution of human history which he said could be narrated in terms of sea-power from the Aegean and to the Mediterranean, to the North Sea and must be defended by all the sea-power that could be made available to that end. It was not very reassuring to find the outcome of the recent conference on Imperial defence expressed in words like the following, which occurred more than once in the report of the proceedings,—"Should the Dominion desire to assist in the defence of the Empire in a real emergency." Why, surely if the Empire represented a common interest there should be a desire to defend it on the part of the component states! And as to what was called taxation without representation, the might depend upon it that if those who made so much of this bogey, were offered at the present moment representation in the councils of the Empire, they would probably would second a motion to that effect. Ald. Dinan moved an amendment to the clause to the effect that these institutions pay 2 per cent. to the city for fire and police protection.

Ald. Fiset attacked Ald. Messervy for having made the suggestion to Ald. Dinan when he should have had the courage to make the motion himself. The clause existed since thirty years and he was surprised to see Ald. Messervy suggest such a change. The motion then dropped and the last clause enacting that nobody will be allowed to float timber on the River Jaune, in the County of Quebec, nor on the River St. Charles above the intake of the city waterworks, was adopted without discussion.

Ald. Lantier gave notice that at the next meeting he would move that an amendment be added to the City Charter for permission to borrow $10,000 for the widening of Palace street between St. John and Charlotte streets.

Ald. Gauvreau also gave notice of motion to empower the city to lay uniform sidewalks in the main streets when they think proper to do so. The meeting adjourned at 11.30 until Tuesday afternoon next when Mayor Drouin and the new Council will meet.

A DOGLESS TOWN

Hamilton, Ont., Feb. 25.—Hamilton will be a dogless town before the rabies scare is over. By the first of the year a thousand dogs had been killed and since the dog catchers have been at work, the animals have been slaughtered at the rate of thirty or forty a day.

A CARDINAL FINED

Ricims, France, Feb. 25.—Cardinal Ludovic Lucien, Archbishop of Rheims, was condemned to-day by the civil tribunal to pay $100 damages to the Public School Teachers Association for signing the Episcopal letter forbidding the use of certain text books in the public schools. The association sued for $1,000.

AN UNINTERESTING FIGHT

New York, Feb. 24.—Abe Attell, the featherweight champion, put it all over Frankie Neil in a ten round bout before the Langueur A. C. to-night. It was all Attell's fight from start to finish. Neil was exhausted after the second round, and so far outclassed that it appeared as if Attell could have put him out at any time, had he so desired. So one sided and uninteresting was the contest that the spectators spent a good part of the evening whistling a dreamy waltz in unison.

TO APPOINT THEIR DEPUTIES

Toronto, Feb. 25.—Party patronage committees will receive a small jolt very shortly if a bill to be proposed by Hon. J. J. Foy becomes law, as it will in all likelihood. Mr. Foy's measure will provide that all local Registrars, Clerks of the Crown, Clerks of the County Courts or the Surrogate and other Courts of the same kind and a lot of the smaller officials in the service of the Attorney-General's Department will have the right to appoint their own deputies and staffs, always, of course, subject to the approval of the Department.

MOST BEAUTIFUL WELSH CHURCH

London, Feb. 25.—The death occurred at his residence near Bridgen, at the age of sixty-two, of Mr. Robert William Jewell, owner of Court Colman and Beglan estates, deputy-chairman of the Glamorgan Quarter Sessions, and chairman of the Gild-grend Bench of magistrates. He was greatly interested in Church architecture, and built one of the most beautiful and expensive edifices in Wales—Penafai, near his residence at Court Colman. For this church he travelled all over Europe in order to obtain copies of classic sculpture and old ironwork for inclusion in the structure.

NEW SCHOOL REGULATIONS

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Feb. 25.—The report of the Educational Commission appointed by the Provincial Government in 1908, was submitted to the Legislature to-day. It recommends an increase in teachers' salaries of from fifty to sixty per cent., also two schemes of consolidation, one to cost $242,000, and the other $200,000. Among other changes are different classifications for teachers, with more professional training and higher qualifications for inspectors and more of them. In text books the main change recommended was the adoption of the new series of Ontario readers. A pension scheme for teachers, whereby they would draw an annuity after the age of sixty was recommended, physical training and military drill, a measure of enforced attendance. A prominent place for nature study and manual training were also recommended.

be the first to run away from the offer. It would be a pity, he thought, if the little Englander, of whom they had heard so much in the past, were now to give place to the little Canadian.

No one, so far as he knew, was advocating a permanent and unconditional contribution by Canada to the Imperial Navy. But it would be ten years before the Dominion Government was able even to begin building ships. Why not offer in the interval the equivalent of two battleships to be built in England, and meanwhile let the country study the whole question of getting ready to put the Government's Naval Service Bill in operation. This could not justly be called an unconditional contribution, for it would be easy to stipulate that at the close of the stated period, value should be receivable up to a certain proportion of the gift, in the form of ships, assignable to a Canadian fleet unit of the Imperial navy. On the other hand, it would reconcile both parties and unite the vast majority of the whole country for a common purpose. Dr. Peterson said he was not an alarmist but something had to be done if we were not to jeopardize the Imperial security which seemed indispensable to our national growth and development. Canada's interests spoke as though what they called the present state were another instance of the cry of "Wolf." But without any detailed analysis of the present policy of Germany, it was surely enough to recall the fact that within the past few years, Germany had held up both France and Russia and it was a fact of history that Germany would have intervened in the South African war if she had had the ships she is building now.

TO EXTEND LINES TO BOSTON

Boston, Feb. 25.—The statement was made in numerous circles here today that the Grand Trunk Railroad officials who are building a transcontinental line, are considering the possibility of extending their system to Boston as well as to Providence, whose application for a charter was made recently. The method by which the Grand Trunk could enter Boston involves legislation and a costly forty years ago.

MUST FIGHT FOR THEIR RIGHTS

Toronto, Feb. 25.—Controller Ward has returned from Ottawa fearful of the impending fate of provincial and municipal rights. "The Whitney Government will have to get busy if it wants to preserve its rights," said the Controller. This inter-county bill, the Guelph, Waterloo and Hamilton bill is no more for the general benefit of Canada than the miniature railway at Hallow's Point. The Quebec and Ontario Governments must get together and fight for their rights at Ottawa. We will have to enlist the aid of the Canadian union of municipalities, for this is an invasion of municipal rights. If this road gets a franchise into Toronto it will greatly depreciate the value of the street railway system when we take it over in 1912.

The municipal elections are over, and the word goes round that the merger, known as the Quebec Railway, Light, Heat and Power Company, propose to take a first step towards implementing the so-called "Programme of Progress" by concentrating their business offices on the site of the Jacques Cartier Hall.

THE COMMITTEE OF FIVE.

Though no formal report from this body has yet been published, we are told that it has not been idle. The issue of the visit of Mr. William Price, M.P., and Lieutenant-Colonel Scott to New York in the name of the committee, has been a return visit of Mr. F. Presbrey to our city to make a closer survey of the elements that will go to make Quebec a favorite winter resort.

LAURENCE IRVING'S VISIT TO QUEBEC.

The story about W. E. Gladstone and the celebrated actor, John Hare, comes to one's remembrance in presence of the visit which the son of the still more celebrated Sir Henry Irving has just paid to Quebec in the play of "The Affinity," which held the boards this week in the Auditorium.

ner, and he also invited his friend, Mr. Hare. The actor came in clean shaven, looking a man of thirty-five. When the actor was duly presented to the statesman, the latter said, "My dear sir, I am very glad to meet you. I know your father very well. Splendid actor he is! Fine old man," and one can readily understand how long it took the statesman to be convinced that this young man he had been introduced to was really the old man whom he had met behind the scenes.

THE HARBOR COMMISSIONERS.

We learn with surprise that, in spite of reiterated requests, the Harbor Commissioners have as yet held out no promise of suitable wharf accommodation for those vessels which are engaged in trading from Montreal and Quebec along the South Shore of the St. Lawrence and the Gaspé coast.

The patience of the citizens appears to be spun out to breaking point, and there is a strong sentiment favouring the abolition of the existing system and the substitution of three Commissioners, as is the case at Montreal.

Whether it be an owner or not, the Laurier Administration has caused to be issued an emphatic denial that the navy bill, which the Montreal Star has called the "most farcical of measures," is to be withdrawn.

If one wants to find an obsolete heap of old dimensions, he may safely expect to find it among that group of ancients known as the Senate of Canada.

to think of to prove that there was as much drinking in a "dry" town as in a "wet" town; although every one knows that there is no such thing. There is always some drinking in a dry town. No legislation can stamp out the drinking habit while the law of the land protects the manufacture of the stuff and draws a revenue from it.

Possibly Senator Domville would even object on moral grounds to the safer methods of milk distribution which are being introduced in so many of our cities. In communities where the liquor traffic is properly restricted the liquor that is vended on the sly is said to be the vilest of stuff, enough to endanger the lives of those who partake of it, even in small quantities.

The interest increases in the Workman case, wherein Professor Workman, of the Wesleyan Theological College, has sued that college for damages, on account of libellous utterances published against him by the College Council.

NOW FEMALE ISHMAEL, SHE SAYS

Haunted by Memories of Christmas Tragedy—Garrison Town Life.

London, Feb. 25.—Memories of a sensational crime, perpetrated on Christmas Day, 1907, are recalled by the appearance in the "Berliner Mittag Zeitung" of the life story of Frau Weber, formerly Frau von Schoenebeck.

Frau Weber's first husband, Major von Schoenebeck, was murdered under particularly atrocious circumstances in the garrison town of Allenstein by Capt. von Goeben, a brother officer, who afterwards committed suicide in goal. Frau von Schoenebeck spent a year in an insane asylum, and after her release wandered about the world, to use her own expression, "like Ishmael."

Quite recently she was secretly married in London to Herr Weber, a Berlin author, Herr Weber has just returned to a duel a member of the Prussian Diet, who asked the Minister of Justice why the prosecution of Frau Schoenebeck-Weber was dropped. The deputy promises a public apology.

In her statement Frau Weber says:—"It is terribly difficult for me to speak about the Allenstein drama. Often, during the last two years, when overcome with despair, I wanted to defend myself, but the task seemed hopeless. I have not even explained the circumstances to my present husband. Those who regard me as the murderer of Major von Schoenebeck and as the instigator of that tragedy are entirely ignorant regarding the cause of the terrible deed."

"When I married Major von Schoenebeck he was thirty-six and I was eighteen. I was young and inexperienced, and married to escape the clutches of my stepmother. I do not want to complain of my murdered husband. He was good-natured, but he neglected me—even the first day after the honeymoon, when he went shooting. Eight months after the marriage I made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide, and on two subsequent occasions again tried to kill myself."

"Alenstein is a small garrison town. It offered no distractions whatever. I needed someone to love me; someone in whom I could confide. My husband did not care for me, so that others took his place. Society in Alenstein acquiesced as long as outward appearances were observed."

"I made the acquaintance of Capt. von Goeben at a ball in January, 1907. We became good friends, and eventually he urged me to obtain a divorce and marry him. I always refused, although I did not try to conceal the fact that my marriage was an unhappy one. Sometimes Capt. von Goeben talked of challenging my husband to a duel under such conditions that one of them must have inevitably been killed."

After Capt. von Goeben's arrest he accused Frau von Schoenebeck of having instigated the murder. She declares that he was goaded into this statement by being told that she had accepted attentions from other men while pretending to be friendly with none but von Goeben himself.

"But public opinion condemned me," her statement continues. "I have lived the life of Ishmael. I dared not appear anywhere under my right name. I moved from place to place, from hotel to hotel, from boarding-house to boarding-house."

"I could not remain anywhere, because I was always recognized. Finally I found a home in a boarding-house frequented by Americans, where I met my present husband. He did not know my real identity, and only knew my real name after he had proposed to me."

Frau Weber declares that she courts a trial in order that her innocence may be proved.

"Of course, I feel morally guilty of the Allenstein drama," concludes the woman's story, "but, except for unfaithfulness to my husband, my conscience is clean. I have never dreamt of running away. I desire nothing but a speedy verdict in order that the horrible suspicion may be wiped out, and that I may take back my children. I can truly say that I wish von Goeben had shot me instead of himself."

The murder of Major von Schoenebeck took place early on Christmas morning. Capt. von Goeben was present at the major's house on Christmas Eve, when he masqueraded as Santa Claus, and distributed gifts to the children. He left before the other members of the party, at eleven o'clock but, instead of leaving the house, hid in Frau von Schoenebeck's bedroom.

Recommended As An Ideal Remedy

W. S. BOND, Esq., Lloydtown, Ont., March, 19, 1909. "For some years I have been greatly troubled with headaches and indigestion, brought on by stomach disorders, constipation and biliousness. I had tried many remedies with only indifferent success, until "Fruit-a-tives" came to my notice. Being a general store-keeper, I was selling a good many "Fruit-a-tives" to my customers and, remarking how pleased they were with the results obtained from using "Fruit-a-tives," I decided to try them and, I might say, the effects were almost magical. Headaches and biliousness disappeared and to-day I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to my customers as "An ideal remedy."

WANTED MORNING SIGNAL

London, Feb. 25.—Quits a comic opera set of strike is threatened at Portadown, one of the chief centres of the Irish linen trade outside Belfast. A short time ago the linen merchants agreed to adopt a suggestion made by a local medical man on behalf of the sick folk of the town to reduce the number of factory horns blown for the purpose of summoning workers to the mills. According to the arrangement entered into only two horns were to be used from Monday last, one at each end of the town, and all clocks were to be set by one central authority. The decision aroused considerable indignation among the workers, and the operatives in the spinning mills refused to resume work until the horn was blown. On Wednesday morning the mill hands employed in one of the largest factories in the town struck work because the horn was not blown at breakfast time. The workers in other factories will be brought out if the horns are not blown as formerly.

WHEN A SAILOR IS NOT A SAILOR

When He is a British Workman, Says the House of Lords—Compensation Puzzle

London, Feb. 25.—If a seaman is injured while working in the dock as a rigger is his employer liable to compensate him? That was a problem propounded in the House of Lords on Monday by a firm which was not satisfied with the decision of the Court of Appeal on the subject.

A rigger at Liverpool named John Chislett sued his employer for injury through the breaking of a taut rope, and was awarded £40 in the County Court. His employers, Messrs. Macbeth and Co., Ltd., shipowners, Glasgow, appealed, and the Court of King's Bench reversed his honor's decision. Chislett then took his case to the Appeal Court, who upheld his contention that he was a workman, since he no longer went to sea, and the House of Lords on Monday said they were of the same opinion.

Legally put, the question was whether in certain circumstances a man "engaged on board a ship" was a workman or a seaman within the meaning of the Employers' Liability Act. In 1908 Chislett was, with four others, employed to assist in moving Messrs. Macbeth's steamship Strathmore from one side of a Liverpool dock to the other. One of the ropes by which it was made fast to the quay gave away while the men were heaving on it from the winch on board, and struck Chislett. The Lord Chancellor, delivering judgment, said he saw no ground for disturbing the decision of the Court of Appeals. It was stated that Chislett was a seaman on two grounds—in the first place, on the ground that their lordships were bound by the interpretation given to the word seaman in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.

He saw no reason for introducing that Act in construing the word seaman. The statute they were dealing with did not say they were to apply that Act, and it would be a new terror in the construction of Acts of Parliament if they were required to limit words in an unnatural sense because of such limitation in another Act, which was not referred to, nor incorporated in the Act with which they were dealing.

It was said that, apart from the Act of 1854, this man was in fact a seaman. He thought that with proper direction the jury might well have been asked that question.

Their lordships had, however, to decide the question, and in deciding it they had to see whether by avocation the respondent was a seafaring man, and whether he was at work connected with this duties and avocations as a seafaring man. Both these elements had to be considered.

Otherwise, a painter, painting in dock, or a mechanic, called in to mend a valve in a dock or harbor, would be a seaman, which he obviously was not. Under these circumstances he thought it was impossible to say of this man, who was a rigger, and who had not been to sea for five years, that his avocation was that of a seaman. Therefore the appeal must be dismissed.

Lord Macnaughten said he thought so, too. He held that the term seaman could not be applied to a person who was not by avocation a seafaring man, and who was not at the time employed in the ordinary duties of his calling, as such.

Lord Atkinson, Lord Collins, and Lord Shaw concurred, and the appeal was dismissed.

CITY OF QUEBEC.

City of Quebec, District of Quebec. BY-LAW NO. 438. To Amend By-laws Nos. 406 and 427, respecting the closing of bars and the sale of intoxicating liquors in retail liquor stores.

(Drawn up in the French Language.) At a meeting of the City Council, held at the City Hall of the City of Quebec, on the twenty-first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and ten (1910) the following By-law was read for the first time: 1. Every bar in every house or building, wherein intoxicating liquors are sold in the City of Quebec, shall be kept closed until seven o'clock in the morning on all week days. 2. The sale, by any person whomsoever, of intoxicating liquor before seven o'clock in the morning, on any week-day, in any licensed house or retail store in the City of Quebec, is prohibited. 3. Every person, whether the holder or not of a license for the sale of intoxicating liquors, who refuses or neglects to keep such bar closed during the whole time during which it should so remain closed, and every person who, before seven o'clock in the morning, sells intoxicating liquors in a licensed house or retail liquor store in the City of Quebec, shall be liable for each offence to a fine of not more than fifty dollars, and in default of payment of the said fine, to imprisonment for not more than three months. 4. This By-law is without prejudice to the provisions of article 1,111 of the Revised Statutes of this Province, 1887, or any other provisions enacted by law to replace the same. 5. By-law No. 400, passed by this Council on the 11th May, 1906, and By-law No. 427, passed by this Council on the 26th February, 1909, are amended accordingly. 6. This By-law shall come into force on the first day of May, 1910.

PUBLIC NOTICE. Is hereby given that, pursuant to section 204, of the Act 29 Vict., Chap. 23, and of Section 5 of the Act 29 Vict., Chap. 51, the above By-law will be read for a second time and passed on Friday, the 26th day of January instant (1910). By order, H. J. J. B. CHOUINARD, City Clerk.

Firemen Caught and Confined Fire in a Lumber Yard Yesterday Morning.

The firemen had a spirited battle yesterday morning with a blaze which broke out in the extensive lumber yards of J. H. Gignac & Co. in St. Roch, and which promised for a time to develop into a serious conflagration. The fire was discovered by an employe about ten minutes after eight in a shed connected with the works, and the alarm was promptly given. The first section was promptly on the scene, and when the seriousness of the situation was seen, the whole brigade was summoned. After a couple of hours' fight the firemen succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading, and the immense lumber piles were saved from destruction. The damage will amount to seven or eight thousand dollars, but there is more than ample insurance to cover the loss, the companies interested being as follows:

BERTHA ROY'S GREAT SUCCESS

Young Quebec Pianist Given an Enthusiastic Demonstration at Auditorium Last Evening.

Miss Bertha Roy, a gifted daughter of the Ancient Capital, whose talents as a pianist have been increasingly recognized since the days when as quite an infant prodigy, she first made her appearance upon the local scene, was last evening greeted with a brilliant audience that almost filled the Auditorium to its fullest extent, and which included a remarkable throng of the wealth, beauty and fashion of Quebec. The concert was given under the distinguished patronage of the Lieut.-Governor and the Premier of the Province, and it was a most interesting and enjoyable one throughout. Miss Roy had the assistance of a number of the leading amateurs of Quebec, who were very too ready to testify their appreciation of the high position which she has attained in the musical world. Since the days, when as a child, she first impressed the musical circles of Quebec with her undisputed musical genius, the modest little girl whom Quebecers learned to love, has developed into a really great artist, and with all the charms of her blooming womanhood she has advanced space with her development. Miss Roy had had a course of instruction under the best teachers in Paris, and Quebecers have heard her since her return, but her performance last evening showed that her progress was still proceeding. Her selections were a revelation of her remarkable musical genius. The child prodigy whom Quebecers formerly knew, has developed into an artist of the first rank, and she was given a real ovation. The programme rendered by Miss Roy was a widely diversified one, and it was calculated to bring out all the abilities of the youthful performer. The enthusiastic applause which greeted her rendition of her different difficult numbers left little doubt as to the impression which she made. Miss Roy was the recipient of a number of handsome bouquets during the evening, and her success was a really triumphant testimony to her talent. A technique which is beyond criticism and a sympathetic perception of the great masters which has made her art so attractive, testified truly as to the reasons why she has won such great success throughout the whole American Continent. Miss Roy has had a number of important engagements since her return from Paris, the most important of which was, perhaps, her tour of America with the great violinist Kubelik, when she made for herself a name that is now familiar throughout America. Another Quebecer who won an enthusiastic demonstration of approval was Mrs. H. R. Goodday. Her violin selections were received with remarkable appreciation. There is no need to praise Mrs. Goodday's artistic skill on her favorite instrument to a Quebec audience. Her splendid talent has long been recognized as a high honor to the Ancient Capital, and several handsome floral tributes were also presented to this charming lady.

DAY BY DAY

The King is dead! Long live the King. Likewise the City Council.

Sinners stand in slippery places, we are told, but can all those who tumble on our icy streets be classed as saints?

For the silence of a plain cook, there are few to equal the self-claimed discoverer of the North Pole.

In summer the golf club has its sway, but in winter the Canadian Club seems to be equally potent in Quebec—two meetings yesterday.

According to medical opinion the City Council died hard—and what it could not accomplish itself it handed on to its successor.

February has been making a good attempt to keep in line with its antecedent months, and we may March unto April without any frozen wars.

Mayor Garneau was chaired last evening, and the Council cheered.

There was a fire in a drying house yesterday morning, but the fireman made it very wet when they got there.

Could it be possible that those men who broke the windows in a corset factory last night did so as a protest against any further performing the duty which involves upon them, so we are told—of lacing their wives' at—ys?

The Wanderers evidently believe in securing the cream of the games they play. Renfrew is now out of the creamery class.

The weather is backing up the committee of five in their endeavor to boom Quebec as a winter resort. If some one would only abolish the policeman now who insists upon your sidewalk being cut down so low.

Organize your sliding party for tonight, and enjoy the bracing air and moonlight on Kent House slides.

QUESTION OF SUNDAY SHOWS.

Judge Cimon will pronounce judgment on Tuesday next in the Superior Court in the case taken to annul the municipal by-law in regard to the closing of picture shows and other amusements on Sunday.

FROST BITTEN.

A man named Patrick Gilmour, residing at 1301 St. Valier street, had both his hands frozen while at work, and was removed from his home to Jeffery Hale's Hospital, where he is receiving medical treatment.

ISOLATED.

No bargains are more advantageous than the isolated offers at present being made by Myrand & Pouliot's firm. Being taken off the shelves for that purpose, they are reduced to produce effect.

NIAGARA FALLS WINES.

These fine wines are for sale at our store. Our $1.00 per gallon is a good and sound wine. Our $1.50 per gallon is the product of the richest growths of the Niagara Falls Vintage and have over 5 years old in wood; sold in bottles also.

FAMOUS BAND COMING.

Creator and his famous band have been booked for an engagement in Quebec during the month of April. Prior to his annual engagement for the summer in Chicago, Creator will take his band on a short tour of Canada and the United States, and Quebec is among the cities which will have the pleasure of hearing his musical organization.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Three lots of land situated on the southeast corner of Berthelot and Artillery street, were sold yesterday morning by Sheriff's sale. One of these belonged to the Cosgrove estate, and realized the sum of $3,500. The purchaser was John Cosgrove, of Valen-tier. The other two lots belonged to the Desgas estate, one of which was sold for $1,150 and the other for $7,350. The purchaser in the latter cases was Mr. Edmond Giroux.

BANKERS' HOCKEY MATCH.

The Imperial Bank of Canada hockey team defeated the Banque Nationale team in a closely contested game at the Quebec Skating Rink yesterday afternoon by a score of 4 to 3. A large and enthusiastic crowd witnessed the game, showing that the teams were popular. In the first half the Imperials found the nets twice, while the Nationale's managed to score once, making the score 2-1 at the end of this period. At the beginning of the second half, Nationals scored, evening up, but the Imperial boys were not to be beat and quickly added two more, while the Nationale's only managed to score once more before the whistle blew. For the Imperial Bank, Woods, Curley and Hall were the stars, but were ably backed up by Love, Russell and Toller while Bignell gave a clever exhibition of goal-keeping. For the Nationale's Morency and Turcotte played well, and were supported ably by the other members. Messrs. Lemesurier and Labreque handled the game in good style. The following was the line up: Imperial Bank. Nationale Bank.

CHANGES IN THE BASEBALL RULES.

New York, Feb. 25.—Here are the changes in the baseball rules which were adopted by the magnates of the major leagues at the schedule meeting. Umpire Silk O'Loughlin of the American League outlined them today:—

The coaches' box has been altered to prevent the coach from getting nearer than fifteen feet to first base. The dead-line runs through first and second bases.

The umpire must watch small points which hitherto have been subjects for complaints from captains, such as discoloring of new balls.

The captain must notify the umpire of substitutes or changes in the positions of players, and the umpire must announce such to the crowd.

The captains must give the umpires the batting order list at the home plate before the game is called and players named must take part in the game.

If a player upon the defence impedes or stops a batted ball by throwing a glove or mask at it the runner gets three bases.

The umpire judging balls and strikes is the chief, his colleague guarding the first and second bases only.

Every player gets an assist who assists in putting out a runner, even if he makes the put out himself. Thus he may get credit for a put out and an assist at once.

The chief umpire may fine, bench kickers, and eject them for a second offence.

WOLGAST A VERY YOUNG CHAMPION

Was Born in 1888 and Broke Into the Fighting Game About Four Years Ago.

Adolph Wolgast, who becomes the new lightweight world's champion by reason of his victory over Battling Nelson, was born at Cadillac, Mich., Feb. 8, 1888. He is one of the youngest men who have ever held the honor.

Wolgast has only been fighting a short time. Four years ago he was just gaining notoriety by figuring in preliminaries. He has a long string of victories to his credit.

Wolgast's first battle was decided in 1906. He met a youngster named Young Nelson, and by a singular coincidence knocked out his man in three rounds. He followed this up by defeating Kid Bond, Ed. Smith, Johnny DeForest, Kid Moore, Young Kilrain, Ted Smith and Kid Gannon. All these fights were short ones, rarely going over four rounds. Wolgast was re-matched with Young Nelson and the latter succeeded in getting the decision. This is the only reverse Wolgast has experienced.

The new champion had a succession of victories in 1907. Among his opponents were Jeff O'Connell, Biz Mackey and Ole Nelson, all rated as good men. Wolgast came prominently into the fight limelight in 1908, especially when he was matched to meet Owen Moran.

The encounter was held at the National Athletic Club, this city, and was for 10 rounds. Wolgast was heralded as a wonder, but he failed to live up to his Western reputation. He and Moran went ten rounds. Opinion was divided as to who won the mill.

That same year Wolgast fought Abe Attell, Dan Goodman, Harry Baker and Frankie Neil. In 1909 he met among others Matty Baldwin in a 12-round draw and Tommy Murphy in a six-round no-decision bout at Pittsburgh.

Wolgast's real boost came when he met Nelson at Los Angeles on July 13 last. The newspapers gave the fight to Wolgast and yesterday's return match was the result. Wolgast's last mill prior to the one with Nelson was with Henry Piet, the French lightweight champion, at New Orleans on Nov. 14. Wolgast knocked out Piet in two rounds.

WESTON AGAIN WALKING.

Albuquerque, N.M., Feb. 25.—After spending the night at Thoreau, N.M., Edward Payson Weston started out this morning with the intention of walking 49 miles to-day and spending the night at McCartys, where he will rest over Sunday. Weston expects to reach Albuquerque Monday, three days ahead of his schedule.

AMERICAN BOWLING CONGRESS.

Detroit, Feb. 25.—When the American Bowling Congress begins its 10th annual tournament to-morrow night Governor Fred. M. Warner and Mayor Philip Breitmeier are expected to deliver addresses of welcome and Mayor Robert Bryson, of Indianapolis, President of the Congress, will reply. The rolling will be started on the fourteen alleys by fourteen officials of the local tournament and of the Bowling Congress. Five men teams of the city of Detroit will take the alleys Saturday night and Sunday. A novel feature of the arrangement is that an aisle eight feet wide that is to be kept clear, separates the scorers from the contesting bowlers in front of them and from the spectators behind. More than 3,000 bowlers will participate in the tournament before it closes on March 15th.

MCGILL DEFEATED VARSITY.

McGILL DEFEATED VARSITY. McGill defeated Varsity in the Intercollegiate series to-night to a score of 5 to 6. The contest was a hard one, the score being tied more than once. At half time the score was 6 to 5 in favor of McGill, and they won out in the second half.

POLICE STOPPED FIGHT.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 25.—In the 13th round of a scheduled fifteen round bout before the Eureka A. C. to-night the police stopped the fight, and Willie Jones, of Brooklyn, was given the decision over Frankie Neil, of California. Neil was almost out in the 12th round, being saved only by the bell, and apparently could not have lasted through the thirteenth.

QUEEN'S BEAT LAVAL.

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 25.—Queen's seniors won a victory over Laval here to-night in their last game of the senior Inter-collegiate series, before a small crowd. At half time the score stood 5 goals to 1 for Queen's and the final score was 13 to 3. The champions had it over Laval at all stages, never being in danger of defeat.

TONIGHT'S BIG HOCKEY GAME

M. A. A. Team Will Meet Picked Seven from the City Hockey League Tonight.

There has been quite a demand for tickets for the big hockey match at the Quebec Skating Rink this evening, when the M. A. A. team, of the Interprovincial League, will meet a team picked mainly from the City Hockey League. In view of the fact that the Amateur Hockey League will likely be extended next year, and that Quebec will once more figure in senior ranks, the match to-night should prove an interesting test of the class of amateurs which Quebec will be able to place on the ice.

The Quebec team to-night will probably be—Savard (Crescents), goal; DeLery (Laval), point; J. Walsh (Crescents), cover-point; C. Power (Quebec), rover; Phillips (Crescent), centre; W. Rooney (St. Patrick's), wing; McDougall (St. George), wing; F. Power (St. George), spars. This line-up, however, is subject to change, there have been so many showing class at the practices held for this match that there may be some variations.

The Montreal team is an unknown quantity so far, but it is known that the M. A. A. is sending down a strong aggregation, and the match should be one well worth seeing. There will no doubt be a big crowd in attendance, and the match cannot fail to be one worthy of witnessing.

MINIATURE RIFLE CLUB.

There was a good turnout at the practice of the Miniature Rifle Club at the Drill Hall last evening, when several matches were shot, the results being as follows:—

303 Match Canadian Rifle League Series—Possible, 25, 25, 50.

Table with 2 columns: Name, Score. K. W. Hay: 25, 25-50. A. O. Anderson: 25, 25-50. S. H. Hill: 25, 24-49. A. Young: 23, 25-48. P. D. Gowen: 23, 25-48. T. Prendergast: 21, 23-47. D. BROWN DOG TO GO.

Statue Which Has Caused Much Trouble to Be Returned to Givers. London, Feb. 25.—The Brown Dog drinking fountain in the recreation ground on the Latchmere estate, Battersea, which has been the cause of many demonstrations on the part of London medical students, is to be removed, and returned to the donors.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the Battersea Borough Council. The removal was recommended by the Highways Committee, and after a long and at times lively discussion, the Council adopted the recommendation by forty-two votes to four. Dr. McManus said he had no objection to the fountain if it would encourage the people in its vicinity in habits of temperance. The medical profession looked upon the inscription with good humor, although it was humored to hurt the very profession to whom the donors of the statue would turn in their time of suffering. Alderman West said the removal of the statue was an outrage. The present council had received no mandate to take away the statue, which now belonged to the people of Battersea. "I shall be very sorry for the people who are engaged in the actual removal," said Mr. West, "because I shall take down some living prototypes of that brown dog, and they shall show their teeth if there is a chance. The fountain was presented to Battersea by the International Anti-Vivisection Council in memory of a brown dog which is alleged to have died while undergoing vivisection in the laboratories of University College. In recommending its removal, the Highways Committee states that the fountain involves considerable expenditure in the way of police supervision, and causes obstruction in what is now practically a public highway."

AN OARSMAN AT EIGHTY-FIVE

Enough Rowing Men Turn Out to Cheer Veteran Dr. Furnivall on the River.

That fine old veteran, Dr. F. J. Furnivall, who is still a passionate devotee of rowing, although turned eighty-five, was recently the central figure of a remarkable demonstration of rowing men on the Thames between Hammersmith and Richmond.

The demonstration was the Furnivall Sculling Club's tribute in honor of Dr. Furnivall's attainment the previous Friday of his eighty-fifth anniversary. Some 1,000 friends and spectators joined in giving "the Doctor," as Dr. Furnivall is affectionately termed by the members of the club, which he founded, a most cordial reception.

Dr. Furnivall left the clubhouse at midday sculling bow in a crew of four steered by a 'ady. Several sculling crews from the club and numerous small craft followed. The journey was to St. Margaret's, Richmond. At Kew Bridge a very large crowd had assembled to see the boat pass, and representatives of the Ancient Order of Watermen turned out in full regalia for the purpose of presenting the doctor with an address. Unfortunately the latter was unaware of the Watermen's intentions, and the boat did not stop. Arriving at Kew, another ovation was accorded Dr. Furnivall. The journey to Richmond was accomplished in one hour, five minutes, and the return in fifty minutes.

Upon arriving back at Hammersmith the doctor received shoals of congratulatory telegrams. One was from Lord Ronald Sutherland Gower, and another from Mr. McKinnon, President of the Oxford University Boat Club. "I am particularly glad to have received a wire from Mr. McKinnon," said Dr. Furnivall to a Press representative as he came off the boat, "as I am a Cambridge man myself." Referring to the afternoon's row, the doctor remarked: "We had a nice tide going up and a strong one coming back, so it was only about half the work we had last Sunday."

Asked if he felt "fit" after his outing, he replied: "Dear me, yes. There is nothing unusual about that. It is quite a customary thing for me to do this spin to St. Margaret's and back every Sunday morning in winter for a little exercise."

In the evening the occasion was further celebrated at the club-house by a tea, at which there was a large birthday cake, decorated with green and gold (the colors of the club), and adorned with eighty-six ornamental candles, representing the years attained by Dr. Furnivall.

Berlin, Ont., Feb. 25.—Berlin pros. clinched the championship of the Ontario League to-night by defeating the fast septette from Waterloo by the score of six goals to two. The result of to-night's game puts Waterloo out of the running. The game was exceptionally clean.

WANDERERS WHITEWASHED REN-FREW.

Renfrew, Feb. 25.—Wanderers of Montreal, not only defeated the local team here to-night in the National League, but also whitewashed them, the final score being five to nothing in favor of the visitors.

REVOLVER CLUB.

The following scores were made by the Quebec shots in a match with the Winnipeg Officers' Club last evening:— F. W. Porter: 151. F. A. Judin: 148. A. W. Hay: 146. R. F. Lindsay: 138. E. R. Nyberg: 138.

The club championships will be shot on Tuesday evening next, and will consist of revolver championship, pistol championship and club championship. Mr. John S. Thom, Hon. President, has kindly offered a valuable silver medal for the last named event, and the club will furnish appropriate medals for the revolver and pistol high men.

CHICAGO "WHITE WINGS."

Men Get Many Valuable Articles From Street. Cleaning the streets of a big American city like Chicago is a big job and the work of the street cleaner is of vital importance to the health and happiness of the community. If you doubt this pause and consider what the city's streets would look like if it were not for the daily toil of the "white wing." His wages average about $1.50 a day in the United States, but in European cities he does not get one-half that amount. This is not a large income these days, but there are many things which make up for the small wages.

The thousands of pedestrians surging through the streets drop a great many things besides money. If the white wing picks up a pair of gold-rimmed glasses he can dispose of them for a couple of dollars. It may be a fountain pen he will find. Gold stick-pins—even watches—have found their way into the public dump. But few things of this sort get that far. The wary white wing watches everything he picks up and his eyes are trained. He has made it a part of his business to watch the trash for valuables.

One down-town white wing figures his income from findings at about $5 extra. He once went six weeks, his findings for the time amounting to only 60 cents, but the next week a roll of $1 bills with a rubber around them netted him $15 clear. Another time he picked up a pair of glasses worth $10.

It is perfectly legitimate for the white wing to keep these things if no effort is made by the owners to recover them. Of course, in the event of an identification mark, the finder is morally bound to return the articles to their owners. But the city pays but small attention to this. The men are hard workers and deserve what they find.

"Sunkist" Orange Special

An Entire Trainload of Oranges Coming on Special Express Schedule for

Special "Sunkist" Orange Sale

Week Beginning February 28

Your dealer—every dealer—will be supplied with fresh picked "Sunkist" oranges. Here is fruit that is fresh as that eaten by your California friends, for it comes to you as fast as this special express freight train can bring it. It has the right of way wherever possible. The California Fruit Growers' Exchange can allow "Sunkist" oranges to fully mature on the tree because they get them to you so quickly after picking.

Picked By Gloved Hands

Picked by experts wearing gloves to keep the deep tinted skin intact—thus insuring perfect oranges. "Sunkist" oranges are tree-ripened—observe the deep tinted skin—that's Nature's guarantee for the matured lusciousness within. There are no other oranges like these. Place them on your table at every meal. Your family will appreciate "Sunkist" oranges as they do no other food.

Physicians recommend oranges for their food value to brain and nerve cells.

Be Sure You Get "Sunkist" Oranges

In order that you get the choicest of the 5,000 groves in which "Sunkist" oranges are grown, be sure the oranges you buy are wrapped in tissue paper upon which is printed the "Sunkist" label. Oranges without this wrapper are not "Sunkist" oranges. Insist upon getting "Sunkist" oranges only—then you are insured of the finest fruit it is possible to grow.

"Sunkist" Lemons

are rich in strong lemon juices. They are thin-skinned, firm, tree-ripened and hand-picked. They answer every purpose better than any other lemon in the world. That's because they are carefully cultivated by most expert hands.

FREE—ORANGE SPOONS

SCIENTIFIC GENIUS DIES IN GAOL

Tragic Sequel to a Charge of Sending Bombs by Post—Perfect Laboratory.

London, Feb. 25.—In painful circumstances the career has closed of a scientist who had achieved much, and in whom there were even more brilliant possibilities.

Dr. Ekenberg was a man of extraordinary talent. Born some thirty-nine years ago in Sweden, he received his early education partly in his native country and partly in Germany.

When he was only eighteen he published an exhaustive work describing in detail everything subject to customs duty in Sweden.

As recently as May of last year his address, "Fuel from Peat," to the members of the Iron and Steel Institute, deeply impressed the audience as to the brilliance of his talents.

Dr. Ekenberg was an authority on the chemistry of soap and explosives, and he had installed in his house at Clapham Park one of the most perfect laboratories in the world.

A verdict of "Death from natural causes" was returned.

Suffered from Violent Cathartics

The Warning of Mrs. Geo. C. Fox is One That Should be Heeded by All.

Few men on the road are better known than genial George Fox, whose friends throughout the west are legion. In the following letter he expresses gratitude for signal services rendered by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"From my experience I recommend everyone that takes pills to give up the old-fashioned, harsh, purgative pills, and, instead, to use Dr. Hamilton's. They cure headache, biliousness, constipation, bad stomach and keep the system in perfect condition."

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 24.—One hundred and two cases of typhoid fever have been reported to Dr. Sheard, city medical health officer, so far this month, as against ten cases for February, 1909.

The fever record this month is the highest since 1899 when the contamination of the water by sewage resulted in 111 typhoid cases in the city.

Items of Interest

Within a few weeks, says the New York Herald, England's first naval airship will be "launched." The crew, already chosen, six officers and men from His Majesty's ship Verano, are now undergoing a course of preliminary instruction.

Though the Admiralty has succeeded in keeping knowledge of the details of construction from leaking out, it is known that the airship will be of a far more advanced type than any hitherto built. Of the rigid type, it will be the largest of its kind in the world, with the single exception of the Zeppelin airship.

The firm which has had charge of the construction built the first submarine for the British navy, and for that reason the maximum of confidence as to the success of the new airship has been popularly inspired. The craft was especially designed by Messrs. Spencer & Sons, of Highgate.

"This new Admiralty craft," said Mr. Percival Spencer, who is a firm believer in the possibilities of airships as a war factor, "is naturally something of an experiment. Opinions differ on the subject of size. Some believe in huge constructions of the Zeppelin type and others pin their faith to the smaller craft of the French Clermont-Bayard type.

"I must say that the latter have certain material advantages. Being small, they are proportionately harder to hit. They do not require many men to handle them, thus minimizing the loss of life in case of disaster, and they are capable of travelling faster than the larger vessels.

"The Admiralty airship is an enormously powerful one and is the outcome of long and careful experiments. The latest improvements known to aerial science have been incorporated in her, and there are many more which have not been made public.

While patriotic Englishmen enthusiastically anticipate the "launching" of this possible new factor in North Sea defence and surveillance, there has been much discussion of the report from Germany that the Krupps have constructed two guns especially designed for the destruction of airships.

It is understood that they are an adaptation of ordinary guns discharging a special kind of shell, which leaves a luminous trail of smoke behind it and explodes inside the gas bag of the aerial craft. It has been established, however, that airships can be brought down with shrapnel if caught within range, and the new feature about the invention seems to be, according to experts, the luminous trail of smoke marking the track of the projectile.

The necessity for something that will explode in or near the balloon has long been recognized. An ordinary bullet going through the envelope would not necessarily bring down such a craft. That contingency, too, has been provided against in the case of some rigid balloons by having the envelope consist of a series of air-tight chambers, so that if the gas does escape from one the ship will not sink.

It has been suggested, therefore, that the best way to attack airships is by means of aeroplanes. To bring down the latter would be a difficult problem, as the planes might be riddled with shot and yet the machine would continue its flight if the man and the engine were uninjured. The argument has given rise to the German idea that the government should take steps to obtain a fleet of aeroplanes as quickly as possible.

The Krupp quick firing guns for use against airships are reported to be of two models, the first of 7.5 centimetres and the second of 10.5 centimetres. The lighter gun can be mounted on a motor car, and the larger is intended for use aboard ships. Elevation is possible to seventy-five degrees, with a range of 360 degrees, and the larger gun will carry 14,800 yards with a maximum height of 12,800 yards.

TWO MILLIONS OF ORANGES. More than 16,000 boxes of oranges will be sold in this district during the Special Orange Sale advertised by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. If these boxes of oranges were placed end to end they would measure five miles. It requires forty cars to make up a train load. There are four hundred boxes in each car and the boxes will average 160 oranges each. Upwards of two million oranges will be transported on this special train, and if orders from the trade indicate anything this immense quantity will be disposed of during the week. 5,000 orchards have been stripped of their choicest fruit, wrapped in SUNKIST wrappers, placed in these great refrigerator cars and are running under schedule time, just as passenger trains are run, that there may be no delay and that every dealer may be supplied.

Good, Better or Best? A VITAL DIFFERENCE IN BREADS. QUALITY you know is comparative. Just as much so in bread, as in woollens or linens. If you make bread at all you naturally want it to be good—as good as, or better than your neighbor's. But is your bread as good as it ought to be? Does it furnish its full quantum of health and strength? Is it nutritious as well as delicious? Ordinary flour makes fairly good looking bread. But if you care for food value, for nutrition, for digestibility, for bone and muscle and blood building quality, you will want a flour rich in the highest quality of gluten. You will want the flour that makes bread not only good-to-look-at, but also makes it strength-producing, health-producing. But where can you get such flour and how can you tell it from the kind that isn't nourishing? The safe way is to get OGILVIE'S "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD". Then you can't make a mistake. "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" is the finest flour in the world and makes the best bread in the world. And it is just as good for Pastry as it is for Bread. It is the one flour which has proved an unqualified success for every household purpose. And its absolute uniformity guarantees you against failure—

Victoria's Great Scheme.

Universal interest is being shown in an elaborate and practical immigration scheme promulgated by the Government of the State of Victoria, details of which have been made public by Sir John Taverer, Agent-General in London. The object of the scheme is to attract settlers from England, and it stands to the credit of Mr. Wood Mead, the United States irrigation expert, appointed two years ago to the chairmanship of the State Water Supply and Irrigation Board.

Mr. Mead recognized that while Victoria spent huge sums in establishing its great water supply in the Waranga basin and other reservoirs in connection therewith, it failed to take adequate advantage of the facilities offered for cultivating the vast tracts of land irrigable from these sources. Mr. Mead's views on this all-important subject prevailed, and the Victorian Government has decided upon a remarkable enterprising policy. A portion of this land is to be resumed and divided into blocks reserved specially for immigrants from the British Isles and the United States.

It is understood that the delegation from Victoria is to leave Melbourne for London in May. It will visit the chief agricultural centres, and everything possible is to be done to make clear the attractiveness of the scheme. It is intended to arrange that emigrants from Great Britain under this scheme shall be conveyed by special steamers at low rates in December next, and the steamers are to sail from those ports which best suit the various contingents of emigrants. In an interview on Wednesday with a representative of the "Standard of Empire," Sir John Taverer mentioned that the scheme was one whereby 40,000 British and United States agriculturists were required during the next two years to take up specially reserved blocks of irrigated land in the Goulburn Valley served by the Goulburn Weir waters. The settlers are to be selected by a travelling delegation, consisting of Mr. Elwood Mead, Chairman of the Victorian Water Supply and Irrigation Commission, a Cabinet Minister (in all probability the Hon. W. L. Bailieu, Minister of Public Works), and other gentlemen. In regard to the method of acquiring

Steel Sectional Filing Cabinets. This improved system has no equal for filing correspondence, invoices, statements, or any business papers, made completely of steel, finished golden quartered oak, or a rich mahogany, which makes an elegant ornament for the office. The increasing demand for these cabinets can be largely attributed to the following inherent properties. Steel resists fire, is more sanitary than wood, does not crack, warp, absorb, swell or stick, can be used in the warmest or coldest climates, occupies less room, the parts do not work loose. WRECKED SAILORS' TERRIBLE MARCH

All-Night Tramp Across Snow-Covered March in Iceland—Boat-Hook Stretcher. London, Feb. 25—When the crew of the Hull trawler Thomas Hamilton, which was wrecked off the coast of Ireland, arrived home, a thrilling story of their terrible experiences was told.

The trawler struck in the night during a heavy gale. Some of the men put on lifebelts, and leaped into the sea, hoping to reach the shore. They got back to the wreck, with the exception of one. Waves washed across the deck, driving the crew to the rigging. While they were climbing aloft, however, a deck-hand lost his hold as a wave struck him, and fell to the deck with a broken leg.

After daybreak the mate managed to swim ashore with a line, and the others by this means reached land. They found the body of the man who had been drowned while trying to swim ashore, and buried it as best they could on the beach before they set out across the snow-covered marshy district to find the nearest habitation.

They carried the injured deck-hand with them as far as they could in a hastily improvised stretcher made by fastening boat-hooks together, but the men were so exhausted that, despite his entreaties, they were obliged to leave him at last, placing him in the shelter of a billock, after wrapping him in blankets.

Specifications E-M-F "30"

MOTOR—It is a marvel of power, economy and performance. No motor of the same dimensions (4" by 4½") produces within 20 per cent of the power.

CYLINDERS—Here 4". Stroke 4½". Compression—moderate. All experience has proven these cylinder dimensions to be nearly ideal for all kinds of service.

CRANK SHAFT—Is off-set ¼" from entire line of cylinders—still another increase in power efficiency with minimum of wear on cylinder walls and pistons. Crank shaft, drop forged from special steel.

LUBRICATION—Splash—automatic, vacuum feed—reliable and economical. Oil reservoir cast integral with aluminum crank case.

IGNITION—Double system, consisting of (a) Splitdorf magnets, (b) battery. The magneto is not an extra or "special equipment." It is as much a part of the E-M-F motor as the valves, and is included in the list price of the car.

COOLING—Is by large centrifugal pump—high efficiency at slow engine speeds insuring cooling in hill climbing and hard pulling over muddy roads.

CARBURETOR—Has proven a marvel of flexibility and simplicity. Our own make, so well made and all made alike. Never heard an E-M-F "30" "missing" in your life.

CLUTCH—A cone clutch—simple and also better in some respects, has been substituted for the expanding ring clutch in former models. Needs no adjustment, and steel springs under the leather facing makes it take hold as smoothly as the ring-clutch did.

TRANSMISSION—Type—Selective sliding gear. Gear case integral with differential housing in rear axle—the unit power transmission system" so generally approved by engineers of late.

REAR AXLE—E-M-F exclusive design. Right and left housing sections drawn from sheet steel and heat treated, giving extra strength. Fitted with truss rods.

FRONT AXLE—I-beam type. Drop forged in one piece—not welded in center. Heat treated. Spring perches forged integral. Liberal safety factor.

WHEELS—Artillery type. Large spokes—12. Spokes and felloes first grade second growth hickory.

TIRES—Morgan-Wright. Good tires. Equipment has proven ample—thanks to car being made of best alloy steels, consequently light. Remember that excessive tire equipment simply obligates you to pay more than you ought for your tires.

SPRINGS—Front, semi-elliptic. Rear, full elliptic. Extra wide for this weight of car—2". Driving thrusts and braking strains taken by two radius rods—not by springs.

FRAME—Pressed steel—U-section. Side members straight—strengthened neither by offsetting nor drooping.

MUFFLER—E-M-F design, silent. Silences by radiation—not by obstruction. Absolutely no back-pressure.

FENDERS—Enameled steel in the newest style, most approved enclosed-full-length-of-the-car type.

WHEEL BASE—108". TREAD—Standard 56½".

WEIGHT—(Exact) with all tanks full—2040 pounds; with top, side curtains and glass wind-shield—all tanks full—2150 pounds.

BODY—New "U-Door" type—up to the minute in style and finish. Tonneau a few inches wider, so that it seats three two-hundred pounders comfortably.

COLOR—Body dark blue, running gear yellow. From across the street you couldn't tell whether it was a $6000 car or a $1500 one.

PRICE—$1500, f. o. b. Walkerville—until further notice.

Full Specifications and Technical Description on Request.

ACROSS THE BORDER two motor cars, E-M-F "30" touring car and its younger brother, Flanders "20," light roadster, runabout or suburban, are first choice of discriminating buyers of that great class who want efficiency, luxury and enduring qualities at a moderate price.

THE E-M-F COMPANY, of Detroit, Michigan, is now the largest motor car manufacturer in the world. Nearly twice as large as any other concern in the industry. Annual output, 15,000 E-M-F "30s" and 25,000 Flanders "20s."

DURING THE PAST TWO YEARS many of these cars have been bought by Canadians despite the handicap of duty and other charges. They have proven to be the kind of cars that appeal to Canadian buyers—principles of design and construction follow more closely after European models than other American made cars.

RECENTLY THE E-M-F COMPANY OF CANADA (Limited) was organized. At the head of this Canadian company are Messrs. Franklin H. and J. Harrington Walker, of the firm of Hiram Walker & Sons. This ensures not only practically unlimited financial backing, but is a guarantee of quality in the product and that the guarantee will be lived up to. The factory—shown above is located in Walkerville, Ont.—directly opposite Detroit.

THIS IS THE LARGEST PLANT IN CANADA devoted to the manufacture of motor cars exclusively. Every part of both the above-named models are manufactured in this plant. They are exact duplicates of the American product and made as well as—if not better than—the same models manufactured in Detroit. Canadian buyers are more particular than those across the border—at least, we like to think so. In finish and attention to details, this has not been lost sight of.

COMPARE THE SPECIFICATIONS and the prices of these two models with those of other makes of cars—European, Canadian or American—and you will see that by the establishment of this mammoth plant in Canada, buyers on this side of the border are now able to obtain greater value for their money than ever before.

NOT ONLY THAT, but in buying either E-M-F "30" or Flanders "20" you are not experimenting. You get cars of known reputation, time tried, road tested and guaranteed by men you know.

READ CAREFULLY AND COMPARE with other cars, point for point; compare quality of materials; excellence of workmanship; and, finally, the style and finish of these cars. You'll find that each in its class wholly outclasses other cars at similar prices. E-M-F "30" at $1,500 f. o. b. factory at Walkerville, Ont., cannot be equalled for less than $2,000 to $2,500. Flanders "20" at $950 recognizes no competitor selling for less than $1,250 to $1,500.

OUR GREATER FACILITIES AND ORGANIZATION combined with our greater output—which distributes the "overhead expense" over a greater number of machines—make these prices possible. The price, coupled with the sterling reputation of these cars, creates the demand; having the market we can produce in large quantities; and producing in large quantities makes the price and quality possible. It is as complete as a circle and as simple.

FINALLY, THE GUARANTEE that goes with every car is backed by men you know and whose financial standing ensures its fulfillment in every respect.

Specifications Flanders "20"

MOTOR—20 horse-power. Four cylinders, cast on block—following best European and American practice in motors of these dimensions.

BORE—3½". Stroke, 3¾".

COOLING—Motor is water cooled, the jackets being extra large, insuring good circulation and a plentiful supply of water under all conditions. Water jackets surround valve ports also. Circulation is maintained by a centrifugal pump of liberal proportions and simple design, driven from magneto shaft.

LUBRICATION—Same principle as E-M-F "30" vacuum feed oiler saving no moving parts and consequently impossible to over-charge. Cannot stop nor starve the motor—oil level always the same regardless of road levels, speed of motor, or any other conditions.

IGNITION—Dual system, consisting of (a) Splitdorf magneto—same as E-M-F "30," of which at this writing there are 16,000 in early use and not a complaint; (b) a set of dry cell batteries are supplied for emergency use.

CARBURETOR—Is of the approved float type similar to that on E-M-F "30" also, like the latter, is of our own design and manufacture.

CLUTCH—Is of the reversed cone type—leather faced—the type that has outlived all the "multiple disc" and other types.

REAR AXLE—Is similar in design and construction to that of E-M-F "30," which has proven so satisfactory to owners—so unapproachable to competitive makes.

TRANSMISSION—Is incorporated in the rear axle—the ideal construction for cars of light or medium weight. This combines the operating mechanism to two units and affords a maximum of flexibility in the chassis.

FRONT AXLE—Is drop forged in one piece—not welded in center—from special steel of high torsional and elastic properties.

SPRINGS—Front, semi-elliptic. Rear, full elliptic, with scroll ends—same as E-M-F "30" and on other high grade cars. A case of easy riding and breakages practically unknown.

DRIVESHAFT—Following the most up-to-date practice—but not to be used only in high priced cars—two sets of brackets of the universal expanding metal ring type. Enclosed in a pressed steel drum on rear axle.

FENDERS—Enameled steel. Increased full length of car.

WHEEL BASE—100 inches. Tread, standard, 56½". Special, 51" for southern states trade.

TIRES—22" x 3"—ample tire equipment and good safety factor.

GASOLINE CAPACITY—12 gallons—sufficient for 250 to 300 miles.

OPERATION AND CONTROL—As this car is designed for the use of owners and will probably but seldom be driven by skilled chauffeurs, every effort has been made to simplify the control and make every part "fool proof."

BODY—1 F.P.M.—Innes. Runabout. Standard type but having large deck at rear, enclosed 7½ inches high for carrying trunks, samples or other articles. An ideal and a practical utility vehicle and without handsome.

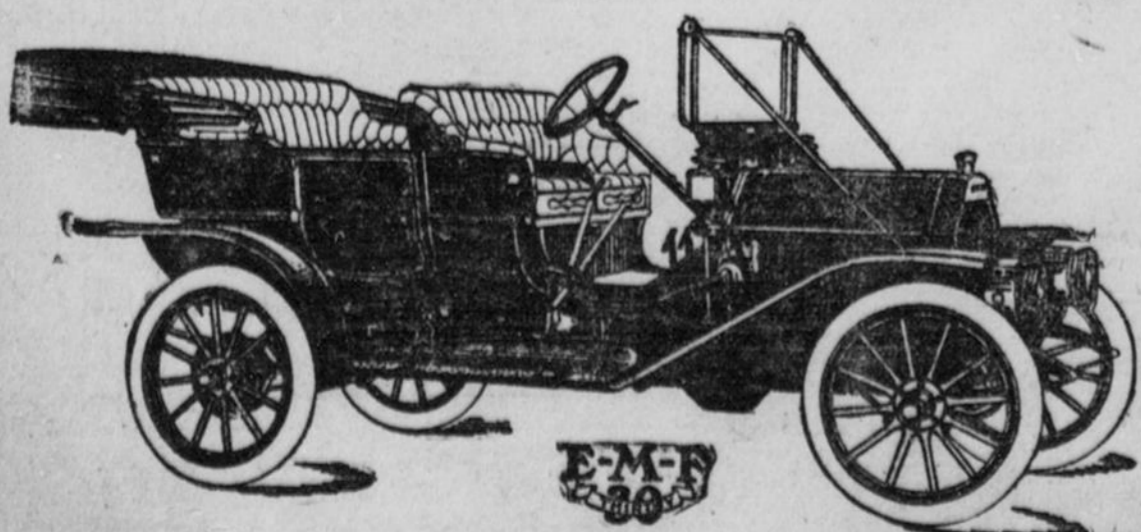

SUBURBAN—A baby four-passenger car without doors. The rear pair of seats are removable and otherwise the body is same as Runabout.

RACY ROADSTER—A classy two-passenger Roadster, with gasoline tank exposed at rear of seats. Large receptacle under seats and another under rear deck.

EQUIPMENT—Splitdorf magneto; 2 side oil lamps; 1 oil tail lamp; 2 acetylene head lights and acetylene generator, and good tubular horn.

PRICE—Runabout, seating two, $950 f. o. b. factory, Walkerville, Ontario. Suburban, seating four, with rear seats removable, $1000 f. o. b. factory, Walkerville, Ontario. Racy Roadster, $1000 f. o. b. factory, Walkerville, Ontario.

The Specialist Doctors, American Physicians, holding medical certificates in France, United States and Mexico have made discoveries which promise to be the greatest ever yet given to humanity.

Their great lung cure, and stomach, kidney and rheumatism cure is called the Great Germ Destroyer. The ingredients are found in Mexico, Italy and Brazil, in South America, and the remedy is followed by prominent cures. The ingredients are not known to any person except Dr. Pelletier, who made the discovery in 1879. The most wonderful of all is the fact that the Doctors have cured thousands of American, Mexican and French soldiers and prominent people in all parts of the world.

They have government certificates from Mexico, Brazil, New Mexico and Canada, and also from many Latin Republics testifying to cures wrought by them with the great marvel. One of the certificates is signed by nearly a troop of Mexican soldiers. American soldiers and government officials also give testimonials to the wonderful cures. The Doctor has testimonials signed by the Presidents of Mexico and the United States.

The Doctors can show thousands of other testimonials from prominent people at Ottawa, who were cured of lung trouble, kidney trouble, stomach trouble and women of monthly trouble.

The Great Specific has saved thousands of people and their books are open, free of charge, to all. Give full description of your disease and the medicines will be forwarded by mail or express.

POLITICAL NEWS

Seventy years ago New Zealand first became a portion of the British Empire. Few British states have had a more romantic history. Tradition declares that the islands were first discovered and colonized by the Maoris— or some kindred race from Malaysia— early in the fourteenth century; and there is a legend among these wonderful people that when they arrived there in their war canoes they found a white community in possession. All these early stories, however, rest on a very slender foundation. Historical data do not come in until Tasman's time, the middle of the fifteenth century, when that notable officer of the Dutch East India Company landed there and explored the three main islands and several of the smaller ones. Captain Cook's advent there was in 1777, and thirty-seven years later came the first settlement of Europeans. It was not until 1839, however, that colonization took place on an extensive scale, and it was followed by such trouble among the Maoris and the settlers that these beautiful and fertile islands were within an ace of being annexed to France. In January, 1840, the Governor of New South Wales took the bull by the horns, and despatched Captain Hobson, R. N., on a formal mission of annexation, and on February 6 the treaty of Waitangi, signed by all the leading Maori chiefs, made Queen Victoria sovereign of New Zealand. Created a dominion a year ago, New Zealand has to-day a population of 1,100,000 souls, and an export trade of $100,000,000 annually.

The Toronto Star says: "As to the French treaty, the Payne-Aldrich law does not provide that the American maximum tariff shall be applied as a penalty against countries negotiating commercial treaties in which the United States was not included. The law was not intended to put an end to all commercial negotiations between other countries, and if it were no such pretension could be allowed. The law is aimed at 'undue discrimination,' and such discrimination is not practised by Canada. "The intention of the law is broadly stated in the condition that the foreign country shall accord reciprocal and equivalent treatment to the United States. Canada does this and more. The Canadian tariff on the products of the United States is far lower than the American tariff on the products of Canada. We import American goods to the value of $180,026,550. The people of the United States import from us goods to the value of $2,604,357. On an average every Canadian buys $25 worth of American goods. Every American on an average buys $1 worth of Canadian goods. This may not be reciprocal and equivalent treatment, but our neighbors seem to have no ground of complaint."

Hamilton Herald:—"By putting up a fight for her rights Canada has wrested from the German government an admission that she and the other self-governing states of the British Empire have a right to discriminate in trade matters in favor of the mother country, and each other, and that such discrimination does not call for retaliation by foreign nations. This is quite an admission. The victory in this tariff war—and a very important victory it is—rests with Canada."

Apostles of universal peace who wish to substitute pamphlets for Dreadnoughts are deserving of respect. Eventually, in a few hundred years, perhaps, their arguments will prevail. Success is remote because they waste their time trying to convert Britons to the belief that war is a curse. Britons are already convinced. Let the apostles now convert Germany.—Toronto Mail.

Mr. Asquith is represented as being between the devil and the deep sea. Mr. Redmond is in much the same position, for while it may be within his power to resign as an office of Government that will not give Ireland Home Rule, it is not within its power to elect a Government that will.

The King in the speech at the opening of Parliament spoke of the requirements for the defence of the Empire making it necessary to propose a substantial increase in the outlay on the navy. The King in such a matter expresses the views of his ministers, and his ministers have been rather deprecating the naval scare from which many in Great Britain have been suffering. Perhaps, looking across the North Sea, and noting what they saw there they have thought more than they said.—Toronto Mail.

Pittsburg Dispatch:—"Of thirteen classes of engineering appliances, with the range from locomotives to electric light carbons, the exports from England to Canada reached a total value of $1,965,370, while those from the United States to Canada were $26,394,285, or more than thirteen times as great. As this was done under the handicap of a material rebate in tariff duties to England and the supposed sentimental preference of Canada for England, the evidence of the ability of the United States to develop important trade with its neighbors is very striking."

St. Louis Post-Dispatch:—"From the way in which a tariff war with Germany was dodged, it looks as if that maximum and minimum device has been arranged solely to stop Canada from flooding our markets with the products of paper labor."

Topics of the Day

CANADA AND PREFERENTIAL TRADE.

The following article appears in the Barbados Agricultural Observer:— All the world knows that a Commission has been appointed to enquire into the trade between Canada and the West India Colonies with a view to its expansion, so that the colonies mutually concerned may be benefited. Also it is common knowledge that Canada has for some years admitted British-grown sugar to her markets at lesser duty rates than those payable in respect of foreign-grown sugar. The difference between these two rates is known as the Canadian preference, and has from time to time caused a great deal of heart-burning to sugar producers in the West Indies. When this preference was first granted, it seems to have been imagined by such producers that the preference, or, at any rate, a considerable proportion of it, would find its way into their pockets. It seems to have been thought that the Canadian traders were such poor business men that they were going to add the amount of the preference to the price paid for West Indian sugar. It was said that "x" represented the price of British-grown sugar in the Canadian market in the pre-preference days, that "x" plus the preference must be the price subsequently. The Canadian did not fall in with this view. Had he done so, his bankruptcy would have been the inevitable result. The American would have undersold him in his own market, and would have captured the entire sugar business. It would only have been a question of time when the Canadian refineries would have had to close down.

Although this fact is so patent, a great deal of misunderstanding exists on it, and there is in the mind of the average West Indian sugar grower a lurking belief that his Canadian brother "has done him" in the matter of this preference. Let us see if we can put the matter more clearly before him, and disabuse his mind of this obsession. Instead of dealing with sugar in the Canadian market, let us instance flour in the Barbados market. Let us suppose that the price of a barrel of flour in Barbados is $5; and that $2 of this sum represents the profit to the flour grower. The duty on a barrel of flour here is $1, so that the cost of a barrel, duty paid, would be $6. This being the state of affairs, we pass an act declaring that Canadian-grown flour shall pay a duty of 60 cents per barrel instead of $1. The effect of such an act would be that a barrel of duty-paid Canadian flour would cost in Barbados $5.60, while the same brand of American flour would cost $6. That is to say, we should pay the Canadian the same price for his flour after the preference as we did before, but his flour would cost us less, because when it arrived at our port, we should have to pay less duty on it. This fact would not induce us to offer the Canadian one cent more per barrel, and the price of our wheat grown in Manitoba would remain at the same $2. We should use the preference in the following way: We should say to the American miller: "We can get Canadian flour now at $5.60 per barrel duty paid. Can you let us have it at that price, or can you go one better and supply us at $5.50? If you cannot meet us in either of these ways, we cannot deal with you at all." And we observe further that if by rigid economy and a sacrifice of some of his profit, the American agrees to let us have flour at a price that works out for us at $5.50 per barrel, we shall no longer pay the Canadian $5.60. We should calmly tell him that we can obtain American flour for $5.50 and do not intend to pay any more for it. The startling result of this business transaction would be that by granting the Canadian flour producer a preference of forty cents per barrel, we had not only increased the value of his flour, but had actually succeeded in reducing it. The wheat grower would, after the preference, get less for his wheat (so far as Barbados consumption was concerned) than before, because the American, sooner than lose our market altogether had nullified the preference by a reduction in price. We had in effect, used the Canadian preference as a weapon in our dealing with the American producer, and by its potency made specially good terms with him.

Now, if we should use a Canadian flour preference in this manner, is it to be wondered at that the Canadian uses the sugar preference in the same way? He says to the foreign sugar producer, "I can get British-grown sugar at such a price. Can you compete at that price or can you not?" If he cannot, then British-grown sugar is bought; if he can, then some of each kind is bought; and if the foreigner can undersell us, then we have to follow suit or lose the market. There should be no misunderstanding on the point and no self-deception. Sentiment does play a part in business, but only to this extent: If A and B have a commodity which you want to buy and the price is the same, you will buy from your friend in preference to the other. But if this latter's price is the cheaper, your friend will be passed over. Markets are governed by supply and demand, and if you have special terms offered by some individual or country, your keen business man is going to use that fact as a whip over the others.

What then is the use of a preference? Its use is of the utmost importance and its results are far-reaching. To go back to the instance we gave. Suppose that when we allowed the Canadian flour producer a preference in our market, and thus reduced the cost of such flour to us to $5.60 per barrel, the American producer found himself unable to compete at that price. The result would be that Canada would command our market. We would Canadian flour in preference to any other, because it was the cheapest. So when Canada gives us a preference on sugar, the tendency is for the Canadian refiner to buy British-grown sugar. He can get it for less, and he uses this fact as a weapon against the foreign sugar grower. But the vital point for us is that we have secured a market—so far as any merchant can be secured. And it is this most momentous point that has to be kept in mind when dealing with this preferential question. Do not make it a grievance that the preference goes into the Canadian's pocket. It can, by the operation of the world's markets, go nowhere else. That is immaterial. What is material—essential—vital—is the securing of a market for our staple product. For reasons that need not be dealt with here, the American market is rapidly becoming closed to us, and in the English market, continental beet has a great advantage over our sugar. There only remains then the Canadian market, and no reasonable and feasible thing should remain undone to secure it. Do not antagonize the Commissioners by vain replies after a participation in the preference. Let us look at the question like business men, and fix our aim and attention on the main object to be achieved—the securing of a market.

Temperate and courteous endeavour should be made to obtain a repeal of the permission recently given to the Canadian refiners to import 20 per cent of the sugar required by them from foreign countries at preferential rates. This permission is regarded as a grievance by us, but it must be remembered that it was accorded to meet a combine (or threatened combine) of British sugar producers. To instance flour again: How should we have liked it, after the forty cents preference, when Canadian flour should have been sold in our market at $5.60, it was, owing to the action of a Canadian combine, offered at $5.90, and nothing less! Should we or should we not, have sought permission to extend the preference to American flours to the extent of 20 per cent of our wants, and so have broken up the artificial price? And if we should have so acted, why quarrel with our Canadian brothers for being as acute traders as ourselves. We want the Canadian market—it is vital to us—but if we are to get it, we must leave off crying for participation in the preference, and must hold our position in it by honest dealing.

TOO HOARSE TO SPEAK

An American Doctor Tells of the Grand Results Achieved With "Nerviline."

"I had a patient with Quinsy that I found great difficulty in curing," states Dr. Wilson. "Every time he caught cold or got chilled he suffered intensely from sore throat, hoarseness, throat and chest soreness. After every attack his throat and chest seemed more sensitive. This patient lived in the country, and couldn't come to the city for treatment. I concluded that the best remedy would be an honest liniment, and because of its enormous sale and well-known merit, I advised 'Nerviline.' Morning, noon, and night Nerviline was rubbed over the neck and chest, and once a day diluted with water it was used as a gargle. In a day or two my patient reported an improvement, and by continuing the treatment with Nerviline he was cured. I can recommend Nerviline for breaking up colds, for chest tightness, throat inflammation, quinsy tonsillitis and similar conditions."

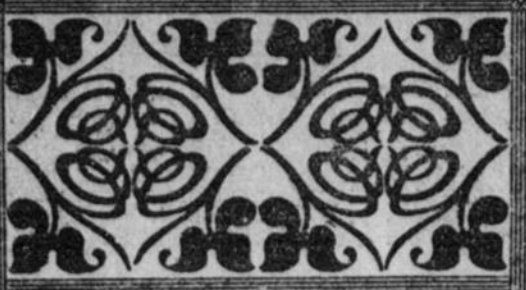

Not a druggist or doctor who has examined the formula of Nerviline who won't tell you how good it is—why it contains the best medicaments known to science and for general family use has no equal.

PRINTING

IF you use Printing in any form and desire to have it put in the most suitable shape, we can serve you.

In Printing, good or bad, the main items of cost are fixed and you pay as much for stock, for composition, and for presswork to one printer as another, provided he is estimating with a true knowledge of his costs and a fair profit. The fact that one piece of work is more attractive than another is caused only by the intelligence with which it is planned and care which the work receives. This planning and careful supervision is not expensive, and the difference in price between good and poor printing is less than you may suppose, while the difference in selling power may be—probably will be—several times greater than any POSSIBLE difference in cost.

We have the knowledge and facilities necessary for producing good Printing and shall be glad to exert them on your orders.

FOR THE NORTH SHORE. Weather permitting, the C.G.S. Montcalm, Captain Pelletier, will leave port this morning for ports on the North Shore as far as Seven Islands, with passengers, mails and general cargo.

CRUISER LAUNCHED. London, Feb. 25.—The second class cruiser Bristol was launched at Clydebank yesterday. It is the first British warship to be fitted with turbine engines of the Curtis type.

The Bristol has a displacement of 4,800 tons and is expected to show a speed of twenty-five knots. Her dimensions are: Length, 430 feet; beam, 47 feet; draught, 15 1/2 feet. The indicated horse-power is 22,000.

APPOINTMENT. Mr. J. Fontaine, of Levis, formerly chief engineer of the C.G.S. Montcalm, has been named inspector of boilers of steam vessels at this port. He succeeds Mr. Joseph Samson, the present inspector, who retires after a faithful service of forty-one years.

NEW HAMBURG LINER. Berlin, Feb. 25.—I learn from Hamburg that the new 45,000 or 30,000-ton vessel of the Hamburg-American Line, which will be built at the Vulcan yards there, will cost approximately $7,500,000. It will probably be named Europa. The order for the vessel was originally placed three years ago with Harland & Wolff, of Belfast, but was cancelled on account of the depressed condition of the shipping trade. The completion of the Europe will realize a long-cherished idea of Herr Ballin, director of the Hamburg-American Line.

COURT BALL ROMANCE. London, Feb. 25.—Austrians' hopes of one day seeing a grandchild of the aged Emperor Francis Joseph sharing the throne have been considerably strengthened by an incident which occurred at the ball which was specially arranged at the Schonbrunn Palace at the command of the Emperor for the younger members of the Imperial Austrian House. Interest was centred in the Archduchess Elisabeth Frances, or "Ella," whose mother, the Archduchess Maria Valeria, is the youngest and favorite daughter of the Emperor. The Archduchess Ella, attired in a simple muslin frock, was thought to resemble closely the late Empress Elisabeth, after whom she is named. Contrary to the original arrangements the Archduchess' partner was the Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, the young heir-presumptive to the throne. The news of this spread rapidly, and it is thought to portend that the Austrian people's dearest wish may be fulfilled. The Archduchess is eighteen and the Archduke twenty-three.

HOMICIDAL MANIA. TERRORISES PARIS. London, Feb. 25.—The Vaugirard district of Paris is being terrorised by a young madman whose insanity takes a form similar to that which made "Jack the Ripper" notorious in London. This individual, instead of selecting women as his prey, makes night attacks on men and boys, wounding them dangerously with a long knife. So far this man has attacked half-a-dozen people, two of whom lie in hospital in danger of their lives. One of them, a butcher's assistant at Vaugirard, was returning home when he heard someone running up behind him. Next moment he felt the shock of cold steel plunged into the back, and sank to the ground with a terrible wound near the heart. The victim caught a glimpse of his assailant, who ran away as quickly as he came, but he was an absolute stranger. The next victim was a boy, aged seventeen, who was attacked at night in a lonely street in a similar way. The maniac plunged a knife into the boy's abdomen, ripped him open, and again took to his heels. These are the last two cases, but the first attack of this kind were reported at the end of January. The maniac would shadow schoolboys going home late in the evening, or shop assistants, and pounce upon them when they were near the fortifications. Happily in each case he succeeded only in cutting their clothes and wounding them slightly. The maniac is a fairly well-dressed man, clean-shaven, who crouches stealthily along walls at night, or walks with an air of indifference, his hands stuck in his pockets, and a cap pulled carelessly to one side. He seems thus to be waiting patiently for hours until he has set his eyes on a victim, whom he follows until they are both alone in a street. Then he quickly approaches him, draws a long knife, and attempts to rip him open, or to stab him in the heart.

WHERE THE GREAT FIRE CEASED

London, Feb. 25.—An army of photographers were busy on Friday at "The Fortune of War," an old city landmark which is about to disappear. The inn, which is famous for the fact that it marks the spot where the Great Fire of London ceased, is at the corner of Giltspur street and Cook lane, Smithfield, and, painted in bold characters on the wall, is the inscription:— This Pye Corner, Where the Great Fire of London Ended After Burning Night and Day from the 2nd to the 10th of September, 1666.

By many people the inn goes by the name of the "Fat Boy," owing to the fact that on the outer wall is the gilded figure of a fat boy, "put up in memory of the late Fire of London, occasioned by the sin of gluttony." The "fat boy" is to be placed in the Guild Hall Museum.

GIPSY'S CURSE FULFILLED

London, Feb. 25.—An extraordinary story of a gipsy's curse and the tragic sequel to it is revived by the news of the death of Mrs. Frances Octavia Addison at Riga. She was the widow of Charles Greenstreet Addison—the famous "Addison on Tort." Mr. Addison was one of the four sons of a Kentish squire, who was cursed one night while standing on his lawn by a Romany seer. The prediction declared that neither the squire nor any of his sons should die in bed. The gipsy's prophecy came true. The squire was killed in the hunting field. The eldest son was mortally wounded in India. The second son was asphyxiated upon Vesuvius. Charles Greenstreet Addison died suddenly in his drawing-room. The other, Dr. Wm. Addison, F.R.S., is ill in his house at Brighton. When an old colleague came to play a customary game of chess one afternoon, the patient had risen, and was found dead in his armchair with the chess-board ready before him.

FOUGHT THE MAORIS

London, Feb. 25.—After a career full of adventure, Capt. J. J. Dume, who was soldier, author, sportsman, and artist, died on Monday. In the Maori war of 1863-65 he was severely wounded, and he subsequently travelled nearly all over the world in search of sport and adventure. At one time secretary to Isaac Butt, the first Home Rule leader, Capt. Dume was in later years Governor of Castlebar, and after the murder of Lord Frederick Cavendish and Mr. Burke he was credited with being the only official in Ireland who refused police protection. He instituted many important reforms in the prison system. In later years he devoted himself to literary and artistic work, and wrote much for the Field. His book, "How and Where to Fish in Ireland," has become the standard work on the subject, and his "Hera and There Memories" formed a mine of good stories and information. He was also a clever black and white artist, whose portraits and caricatures were largely bid for. For some years past Captain Dume had been in failing health, and the end was not unexpected. He leaves one son and three daughters, of whom the eldest is best known to the public under her nom-de-plume of "George Egerton."

GIRLS FIGHT A LOUE DUEL

London, Feb. 25.—A duel between two girl students took place on Sunday at Prosewitz, a small village close to the Austrian frontier. The combatants, who were studying medicine at Cracow, had fallen in love with a dashing young medical student named Breiter, who made love to both of them in turn, and avoided becoming engaged to either. The rivalry for his affections excited violent hatred, which led to a quarrel and the exchange of blows. The two girls considered themselves bound by the same rules of chivalry that held good among their male companions. In their circles blows demand the shedding of blood, and a duel is the inevitable consequence of a hand-to-hand fight. Consequently Ilona Ilinsky, who received the first blow, challenged Olga Metzgeroff, who struck her, by sending two other girl students as her seconds. Olga Metzgeroff obtained two more girl students as her seconds, and the four seconds arranged that the duel should take place in German territory, so as to evade the Austrian authorities. After the duel the combatants and their party were to return to Austria in great haste to avoid trouble with the German authorities. The conditions arranged were pistol shots, at fifteen paces, to be exchanged until one of the combatants became disabled. The four seconds arranged an interval of three days to enable the duellists to practice pistol shooting. The duelling party crossed the frontier at sunrise and proceeded to a secluded spot in the forest. The principals took up their positions, and one of the seconds gave the word of command. The two combatants exchanged four shots before either of them was hit. At the fifth shot Olga Metzgeroff received a wound in the left shoulder, and fell in the snow fainting and bleeding profusely. Two girl medical students had come to render first aid in case of necessity, and after bandaging the wounded girl she was conveyed back to Austria and taken to her home. The victor, Ilona Ilinsky, was the recipient of enthusiastic ovations from her fellow women students.

HOLIDAYS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Bishop of London Favors Novel
Scheme of Separation—Test of Real Love.

London, Feb. 25—The suggestion that husbands and wives would be happier if they had each year a fortnight's holiday away from each other comes from the Bishop of London.

He was addressing a men's meeting at Excelsior Hall, Bethnal Green, and after remarking that it felt like coming home when he arrived at Bethnal Green, said many things were changed, but still there were some other things they wanted to alter.

"I do not like to see the crowds coming out of the public-houses at three o'clock on Sunday afternoon," he went on. "I do not mind the dear old fish shops—smelling just the same. They are all right. But what we have to alter most are the homes of Bethnal Green. I know something of the homes of Bethnal Green; in fact, I have started a good many of them on Christmas mornings, when I have married as many as forty couples.

"The best test whether a husband loves his wife is his conduct towards her ten years after they have been married. Every husband and wife would be better if they had a fortnight's holiday away from each other every year.

"The wife should be free for at least a fortnight from the cares of the house and children, and she would return at the end of that period to the joys of her home with increased strength. No home is complete without children. I fill mine with other people's children, having none of my own."

"It is so easy to tell Tommy to run along to Sunday school, and to send the missus to evening church while you sit down with a paper and a pot of beer. But, mind you, when the time comes and the boy grows up, he will do exactly what his father did."

VIEW OF WOMEN.
The bishop's pronouncement has aroused a chorus of approval among women.

"I am absolutely in agreement with the bishop," said Mrs. Price-Hughes. "Experience of life has taught me that it would often be a very good thing if husbands and wives could take their holidays separately. When you are away from people you can see things more clearly; you realize their good points, indeed, their true character, apart from the little rubs and strains that must occur in everyday life. It is possible, even for people who are devoted to each other, to see too much of one another. We are all human, and a need for change is a human need. In a short separation for a holiday things can be seen in their true perspective."

As to the prejudice that the sanctity of marriage requires that a husband and wife should never be voluntarily apart, Mrs. Price-Hughes thought it was very much weaker than it used to be among the educated classes.

"No doubt it lingers on to a great extent in many middle-class circles," she said. "I do not know that they would be shocked at a proposal that husband and wife should take their holidays separately; but the idea would never occur to them. The husband might go away on business, and combine that with his holiday; and the wife might, perhaps, go to stay with her mother; but the idea of her making a real holiday would certainly be a very novel one."

"I should certainly welcome more freedom in these family arrangements," continued Mrs. Price-Hughes. "There is no doubt women suffer greatly from want of change. It is so difficult for the mother to leave the children. The man has generally more chance in the way of business."

Mrs. De-ward, president of the Women's Freedom League, says: "There is no doubt it would be an excellent thing for mothers and wives if they could get a short rest from husband and children and household cares. Many working mothers whom I know never get a rest except when they are ill in bed. And not always then."

"In some working-class households there is no doubt the wife is expected to be always at hand, ill or well, ready; and, I fancy, in many middle-class households, too. On the other hand, of course, there are many men who are very good indeed when their wives are ill.

"I am very glad the Bishop of London has said what he has. I have a friend who in her country cottage sometimes takes in these working mothers for a rest, and the change in them after a respite from the daily round of work is quite wonderful."

A working woman, consulted on the subject, remarked that she had been away once for fortnight at the sea. "I had the baby, of course; but my!—it was a rest. After we'd made our beds there wasn't really a thing to do, and not a bit of cooking. But it isn't easy. The two younger boys were away with the Holiday Fund then, and I could leave the eldest to manage with his father. Now they are all growing big, but you see, if I were away, it would mean all of them leaving their dinner away from home, and that does run into money."

RUSSIAN POLICE AGENT'S DEVIOUS METHODS

London, Feb. 25—Sentence of four years' imprisonment was passed at Khar'kov recently on a former police inspector of the town of Lubny, Lagovsky, who was charged with concocting a series of imaginary plots in order to advance his position in the service.

In the spring of 1908 Lagovsky began by pretending to discover that an attempt was being prepared on the life of M. Manjefsky, the examining magistrate at Lubny, who had been entrusted with especially important affairs, and falsely related how he had overheard two students (whose names he gave) discussing projected attempts on the lives of M. Manjefsky and the superintendent, and of a meeting at which lots would be drawn to designate the perpetrators.

The house of the father of one of the lads was searched, and a number of documents placed there by Lagovsky and concealed in the most melodramatic and bloodthirsty language were discovered.

Lagovsky, however, surpassed his previous efforts by shooting himself in the arm, inflicting a skin wound, and then concocting a story of how a certain Jew had fired on him, and had succeeded in escaping by climbing a wall.

Suspicion was first excited against Lagovsky when it was seen that all the papers connected with the case were in the same handwriting. Moreover, conclusive evidence was produced that the wound in his arm must have been self-inflicted—the only conceivable alternative being that an assassin had approached him from the back and shot downwards over his shoulder.

A TERRIBLE SUFFERER FOR THREE YEARS

But Health Was Completely
Restored by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Extreme anguish; pains in the joints that all but drive one crazy—thus may inflammatory rheumatism be described. The victims are to be pitied—to them life is one long torture; they suffer by day and cannot sleep by night. Such was the condition of Miss Alida Mercier, of Ottawa, Ont. For three years she was a victim of this trouble and found no relief till she began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:—"For three years I was a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism. During that time I consulted and was treated by some of the best doctors in our city, but I found no relief in their treatment. I began to despair of ever being well again, when one day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I procured three boxes and by the time these were used there was enough improvement in my condition to encourage me to continue their use. Three more boxes completely cured me and to-day I am as well as ever I was. I always keep a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house and would recommend all who suffer as I did to give them a trial."

It was the new blood that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually made that restored Miss Mercier to health and strength. There is no medicine to equal them in making new blood and in this way they cure anemia, rheumatism, heart palpitation, indigestion, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance and many other troubles. Sold by all dealers in medicine or direct at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Some Important Small Things Glimpse Here and There

Nothing is so interesting than to stroll ground such large stores, as we run, and to view the noted articles and prices which certainly must draw your attention by their low figures.

Notice

Please remember that for the whole of next week we will give double tickets on every purchase.

49c
Nice Children's Shoes, laced or buttoned, sizes 3 to 7, color chocolate. These kind of goods are always in want in every place where there are children, worth 90c, offered for 49c.

34c
Ladies' White Cotton Drawers, beautifully trimmed with laces and insertions, or wide embroidery. This line is cheap at 50c., is sold at 34c.

$3.75
A nice colored tweed suit for boys, from 10 to 14 years old. This article is worth very near the double of the price we are offering it. A boy going to school is always in want of a suit at that price, $3.75.

39c
Grey or white Corsets, sizes from 24 to 30, desirable shape, nicely moulded. A real body builder, worth 90c. for 39c.

For the Working-men

Good strong and dark tweed, ready-made pants, all sizes. Prices $1.00 to $1.25. A real bargain.

For the Working-men

Working garments (over all), blue and white thread mixture, very strong. We want to dispose of that line. Your choice for 50c.

Something to Keep in Mind

In our matchless offer of outing skirts, we wish to let you know that they are comprised of small sizes that are often required, but are not always to be had. We mean the small lengths from 28 to 36 inches. Prices are running from $1.79 to $3.95.

THE DESTINY OF CANADA

Address by Judge Longley Before the Quebec Canadian Club at Chateau Frontenac.

The members of the Canadian Club turned out in full force yesterday to hear the address given by Justice Longley at the Chateau Frontenac. The keynote of his speech was independence, although he receded somewhat from the position which he took on a former occasion at New York, and dealt with it more as a calling for attention in the immediate present.

Judge Ohas. Langelier, who presided, referred to the reputation of their distinguished guest, who scarcely needed an introduction.

Justice Longley, on rising, said he regretted that he could not address them in the beautiful language of which the President had just made use. He would therefore confine himself to the one language. It was a pleasure for him to renew his acquaintance with Quebec and old associations. It was not long since Halifax had enjoyed a speech from Sir George Garneau. There was much to show the interest which the two provinces took in each other. For himself, he would convey them the warmest greetings of Nova Scotia. Both provinces were doing much in the way of co-operation.

The President had referred to his association with political life. However, since he had been appointed to the Bench some five years ago, he might say that his life had been more or less monastic, and removed from the world, the flesh and the—tertium quid. It was therefore all the more a pleasure to be resurrected occasionally.

His presence amongst them to-day was the conclusion of a grand tour. For a week he had been speaking to Canadian Clubs, and now he had reached Quebec; the creme de la creme. All the time he had spoken on the same subject, a patriotic Canadianism. It was a great thing to remember that there was a cordon of Canadian Clubs extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and all engaged in free discussion of the most momentous question. Their educating influence was far-reaching and without parallel, whilst their inspiring effect would broaden the conception of Canadians and induce them to regard matters from a national rather than a parochial standpoint, thus elevating them continuously to a true appreciation of Canadian nationalism.

The Confederation had been the greatest historical event in the last half of the nineteenth century. Three years after they had annexed 3,000,000 square miles of territory, and building even better than they thought, they had in the sufficiency of their faith extended the railway over the trackless prairie, a railway that reached from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Cities and towns had sprung up as if by magic in that great Northwest; and they could pride themselves that their progress had been even more rapid than that of the neighbors to the south. But there was a fly in the ointment. While the West was advancing to prosperity by leaps and bounds, the East suffered in comparison. It was no use trying to disguise the fact. He wished that, by the touch of some fairy wand, he could transform Nova Scotia to the same condition of prosperity. The West was magnetic and was drawing to it all that was best in the East. He hoped for the time when there would be a reflex action. As it was, they could secure the grain-carrying trade for the East and find industrial markets for the products of the West.

Now he did not wish to strike any contradictory note but he realized that any man who spoke could not expect everyone to agree with him, and the man who passed through life without offending anybody must have the same kind of backbone as a jelly fish. There was one question which Canadian were asking themselves, when they considered the enormous resources of the Dominion and the immense volume of their trade. Canada, with a population of 7,000,000 had done even better than had the States with a population of 30,000,000. No estimate of their future could be too sanguine. Let them then consider Europe. They had all heard of the German scare. What was responsible for it? All Europe was overcrowded, and the need for expansion was keenly felt. Those countries had an excessive population and but little territory. They might dump Germany into one of the Great Lakes and it would only make a respectable splash. England was seeking to co-operate with Canada and Australia in evolving a system of emigration. Everywhere was a desire for the land, which was the producer of all. The question was this: Were such men as he saw before him going to be content to occupy a secondary position. He did not advocate an immediate severance of their relations with the Empire. But later on they must secure some national status and develop a pride in Canadianism. In time this question of nationhood must overwhelm all else. They could not endure to be always called colonists. When their population should have mounted to 50,000,000 would England still send them a Governor-General and would they

CHARMING RESIDENTIAL LOCALITY.

Parties wishing to own homes in a most charming residential locality in the vicinity of this city should study the advertisement of the Montclair Land Co. in another column. This company owns land in the promontory of St. Foye, an ideal place for private residences, commanding one of the finest views in this district, taking in the whole valley of the St. Charles and portion of the Laurentian range. The property is situated but a short distance from the centre of the city, and next summer will be reached by the street railway. The lots are offered on very favorable conditions, i.e., $250 each, $5 cash and the balance payable in monthly instalments of $5, thus placing them within the reach of all, and giving the purchaser a chance to realize large interest on his savings. It is certainly a great chance for anyone who wishes to be the proprietor of his residence, and becoming independent of landlords and avoid yearly moving. Study the company's offer and then interview its manager.

NEW DRESS GOODS.

COMMITTEE OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

The quarterly meeting of the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction was held at the Parliament Buildings yesterday. Prior to the meeting a deputation of the committee waited upon Premier Gouin and asked for an increase in the grant to school inspectors from $1,000 to $1,400. This Sir Lomer Gouin promised to do.

The members present at the meeting of the committee included Rev. Dr. Shaw, Principal Peterson, Rev. Dr. Rexford, Dr. Robbins, Professor Kneeland, the Lord Bishop of Quebec, Rev. A. T. Love Messrs. J. C. Sutherland, Masten, Shurtliff, J. White, Dr. Rowell and Miss Whyte.

There were a number of important matters under discussion, one of which was the report of a sub-committee on a proposed summer school for teachers at St. Anne's College. This was considered impracticable by the College authorities and it was suggested that a short course term should be opened at some other season during the year.

The standard of entrance to the elementary class of the school of teachers was also considered. At present candidates must possess grade No. 2 academy diplomas. The report of the committee recommended that when a sufficient number of such candidates were not available a number one certificate might be accepted. The recommendation of the committee was finally accepted.

LOSSES BY FLOODS IN FRANCE

Paris, Feb. 25.—The official reports of the flood damage in 18 out of 86 departments show a monetary loss of $14,000,000. This includes the $10,000,000 damage done in Paris, but here, as elsewhere, no account is made of the indirect losses, which are incalculable.

always be dependent on a smaller community? When Canada was stronger she must assume her place properly and potentially amongst the nations. If they must have union with England, let it be a union of equality. He hoped and expected that, even though he might not live to see it himself, his children might live to see the day when Canada would be recognized as a nation.

His Honor, Judge Lemieux, who proposed a vote of thanks to the speaker said of Nova Scotia, that good stuff was often wrapped up in little parcels. He referred to the famous men whom it had produced and said that Justice Longley was not the least of these. He spoke of the decision rendered by the Judge in the case of the Dominion Steel and Coal litigation, which had been sustained by the Privy Council.

Mr. Balfour, the General Manager of the Union Bank, seconded this vote of thanks and testified to the pleasure with which all had followed this interesting and instructive address. Amongst these present were—Sir Lomer Gouin, Principal Peterson, McGill College; J. T. Ross, W. M. Dohell, Hon. Chas. Langelier, Judge Lemieux, Judge McCorkill, Lt.-Col. B. A. Scott, G. H. Balfour, Lt.-Col. Wood, J. Hamilton, L. A. Cannon, Vesey Boswell, Lt.-Col. Forsyth, N. Lavoie, Dr. J. M. Harper, Mr. Holt, W. A. Marsh, etc., etc.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world.

A PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 24.—Mrs. Mills, of 181 Wilton avenue, was seriously injured this morning in a very peculiar manner. She was standing at the corner of Agnes and Yonge streets, when a Canadian express sleigh crossing the street was struck by a rapidly moving street car. The car caught the sleigh between the front and rear bows, completely separating the rear bow from the rest of the vehicle and throwing it with great force across the street. Mrs. Mills was unable to get out of the way and was knocked off her feet and badly injured internally. She was rushed to the General Hospital where her condition is said to be serious.

BRIGANDS AS BURGLARS

London, Feb. 25.—A priest living in a lonely part of the town of Camunon, according to a despatch from Lisbon, has fared ill at the hands of six masked men. These men forced the back door of the house. The servants, a man and two women, were soon overpowered and gagged.

The marauders then began to fill sacks with the valuables, during which the priest was awakened. When he appeared on the scene he was assailed by the gang, and though he made a plucky resistance he was knocked down with a hammer.

On Friday he was found in a pool of blood, still living, but not expected to survive. The house had been cleaned of all valuables, including gold and silver chandeliers, altar relics, images, paintings, and £800 in hard cash. The total amount stolen is estimated at over £5,000.

The perpetrators are suspected to be a band of brigands.

THE DEATH RECORD

Toronto, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Mabee, wife of the Chairman of the Dominion Railways Commission, died this morning at her residence, 15 Scarth Road, Rosedale, after a protracted illness. Peritonitis was the immediate cause of her death. Mrs. Mabee was the daughter of the late Mr. Thorold, of Stillams, and married Mr. Justice Mabee 25 years ago. They lived for many years in Stratford, where Mr. Mabee practiced law, but removed to Toronto five years ago, when Mr. Mabee was elevated to the Bench. Mrs. Mabee is survived by two children.

Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Cyrus H. K. Curtis, wife of the head of the Curtis Publishing Company, and the first editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, died at her home in Wyncoke, a suburb to-day. Death was due to heart disease. She was 55 years old. Mrs. Curtis became editor of the Ladies' Home Journal when that publication was started in 1883. She retired from the editorship six years later.
