Social Credit scores a landslide win in Alberta

PREMIER MANNING

Mornings fine with no fags

OTTAWA (CP) — Judy LaMarsh says now that she's given up cigarette smoking she feels better when she wakes up. "But the rest of the day is awful," the federal health minister told reporters after announcing Monday that she will call a national conference on the hazards of lung cancer and other diseases from smoking.

WORLD NEWS

OTTAWA (CP) — Conflicting views on whether Canada should set up a national task force to fight severe forest fires were heard today by the North American Forestry Commission.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican officials completed today the final arrangements for the conclave that will elect the Roman Catholic Church's 262nd pope.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court's decision bidding compulsory Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools appeared today to have been accepted with little commotion.

OTTAWA (CP) — The new federal sales taxes are bound to raise the price of everything from the Peace River dam to a few kitchen cupboard.

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Macmillan appeared today to be nearing the twilight of his political career, victim of perhaps the strangest imbroglio in British history.

OTTAWA (CP) — The first solid indication may be in mid-July with publication of the trade department's revised outlook for capital investment. The original forecast, prepared near the end of 1962, was for a five-per-cent gain in business investment.

EDMONTON (CP) — Alberta's Social Credit government swept aside almost all opposition for the second time in a row when it scored a landslide victory in Monday's general election.

The party, which has administered the affairs of the province for the last 28 years, won its eighth five-year mandate with the same over-all margin it had in the last general election of 1959 — a majority of 57 members.

All three opposition leaders fighting their first campaign were defeated by Social Credit candidates, the same fate which struck the opposition in 1959.

The official opposition in the new 63-seat legislature will consist of two Liberals and a Coalition member who claims Liberal and Conservative support.

Redistribution cut two seats from the old 65-seat House. Party standing compared with the result of the last general election:

FIRST THRUST FAILS

The New Democratic Party in its first major thrust in Alberta politics since it replaced the CCF party, failed to elect a member. A CCF member hasn't sat in the House since 1959.

The Social Credit party, headed by Premier E. C. Manning for the last 20 years, campaigned on its record dating back to 1933 and its promise to extend a multi-million development program launched five years ago.

Manning 55, is the dean of Canadian premiers and is within 6 1/2 years of surpassing the record for continuous service as premier.

The record is held by the late George Murray, Nova Scotia premier for 26 1/2 years.

The premier and all 14 members of his cabinet were re-elected. Welfare Minister L. C. Halmrast was returned by acclamation two weeks ago when no one else filed nomination papers in Taber-Warner.

David Hunter, 48, Liberal leader, was defeated in the northern constituency of Athabasca by Antonio Aloisio, who held the seat for 11 years for Social Credit.

Neil Reimer, a vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress who became Alberta NDP leader six months ago, failed to unseat Social Credit Lou Hears in Edmonton.

PC LEADER FAILS Lawyer Milton Harradence, 41, Conservative leader, lost to Donald Fleming of Social Credit in Calgary West.

Roger Lebeuf, founder of the Alberta Unity Movement which campaigned for a better deal for farmers from oil companies, was unsuccessful in Olds-Didsbury. There were two other Unity candidates in the field.

A total of 225 candidates contested the election—a full Social Credit slate, 56 New Democrats, 55 Liberals, 33 Conservatives and 18 Independents.

Mr. Reimer blamed his party's poor showing on a split in opposition votes. "A lot of thinking people expressed opposition to the present government but they didn't get behind one candidate," he said.

Mr. Harradence said the victory was a "tribute to the genius" of Mr. Manning.

Raps 'questionable ideologies' in Quebec

E. T. autoroute a boost to economic expansion

AUTOROUTE CEREMONY — Guy Poliquin, left, president of the Quebec Autoroutes Office, and Carrier Fortin, minister without portfolio and Sherbrooke MPP, are mounted on an earth-moving machine for ceremonies marking the start of construction on the Eastern Townships Autoroute yesterday at Omerville.

Finish autoroute by 1965

OMERVILLE — The president of the Quebec Autoroutes Office Monday promised that the Eastern Townships Autoroute would be finished by July 1965, and said it would have paid for itself in tolls in 35 years.

"And this without any drawing on the provincial roads treasury," Guy Poliquin stated in his address at sod-turning ceremonies for the highway here at its terminal point 10 miles from Sherbrooke.

Tolls, he said, should according to the report on which the province based its autoroute plans, total $1.50 per motorist over the length of the Montreal-Omerville route.

Mr. Poliquin praised the Eastern Townships organizations which had promoted the autoroute project. "You asked for your autoroute, worked for your autoroute, and now you have your autoroute," he said.

"This," the autoroutes head said, "is a proof that a wise public opinion coupled with foreseeing administrators can produce realities of the highest magnitude. We are here to day to launch the beginning of a two-year construction program which will change completely the face of the Eastern Townships economy."

Such a building program would normally take 10 or 20 years, Mr. Poliquin said, but the willingness of E.T. planners to impose a toll system on themselves had made the speedy construction possible. He had this description of the physical nature of the highway to come: "A ribbon stretching over 72.18 miles, and which will have a width of 300 feet. This ribbon will consist, first of all, of a central band of 50 feet, and four lanes of asphalt. Since our bridges will have a minimum width of 88 feet, it is by no means impossible to widen the road to six lanes if the need ever arises, though present indications do not show this."

"No less than six bridges will be built, plus 45 viaducts. There will be 16 entrances and exits, Simons, and Standest MPP and five toll posts, the first for 50 cents, and the others for 25 cents. Trees would be felled over 1,000 acres. Asphalt would be laid over 2,600,000 square rods and $285,000 feet of guard-rails erected. Total cost was estimated at $60,000,000."

Mr. Poliquin departed from the text of his speech to note that Sherbrooke contractors, by tender, had been assigned the Omerville section of the construction. Reviewing the history of the project, Mr. Poliquin said that the autoroutes office had first made a survey whereby 183,215 motorists between Montreal and Sherbrooke were interviewed about destinations and routes. The report could not be made public, he said, for fear of speculation.

On April 12, 1962, Premier Lesage announced in his budget speech that the Eastern Townships Autoroute would be built. On July 12, Mr. Poliquin had planted the first stake for the surveying of the route. Now, a year later, construction was underway.

One hope for the autoroute, Mr. Poliquin said, was that it would aid in decentralizing the industry that was now "choking the metropolis" of Montreal.

By MALCOLM REID (Record Staff Reporter)

OMERVILLE — Quebec's true salvation lies "in economic expansion and not in questionable ideologies," Minister without Portfolio Carrier Fortin said Monday in ceremonies marking beginning of what he identified as a major step in that expansion, construction of the Eastern Townships Autoroute.

A little earlier in the afternoon the Sherbrooke MPP, alongside Quebec Autoroutes Office President Guy Poliquin, had taken the controls for a brief charge in a massive earth-moving machine, symbolic start of work on the four-lane toll highway to link Montreal and this town on the outskirts of Sherbrooke.

"It's economic decentralization made possible," the minister said of the autoroute, which he predicted would cut an hour and a half from Montreal-Sherbrooke travel time.

Mr. Fortin remarked in English that it was important, too, "at this time when we are studying the great problem of Confederation, that the Eastern Townships set the example to the rest of Canada and show once more that it is possible for the two great races to live together."

Mr. Fortin expressed thanks to "the committee of 15 mayors who, in repeated efforts over long years, backed the government and perhaps hastened its decision."

Sherbrooke Mayor Armand Nadeau was on the ceremony platform, but Granby Mayor Horace Boivin, on an official trip to Europe, was not able to be present. Sherbrooke federal MP Gerard Chagnon as well as several Townships legislature members also attended.

The minister without portfolio also congratulated the region's Chambers of Commerce for their promotion of the autoroute project. Sherbrooke Chamber President Gontran Guillemette chaired the speech-making, and recalled in his opening remarks the chamber's representations over the years.

Mr. Fortin also complimented the Sherbrooke city council — of which he was until last year a member — for promoting the autoroute. He added that what welded all these efforts together was "the zeal, the tenacity of our businessmen, our professionals, our working population, our agricultural population, our educators and our religious leaders."

Others to speak included Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce past president Herbert Simons, and Standest MPP and Georges Vaillancourt, who stressed the encouragement to America.

To erect signs for deer

Autoroute underpasses to accommodate deer are impractical, but "deer crossing" signs will be erected along the Eastern Townships Autoroute, the president of the Quebec Autoroute Office said yesterday.

Questioned by The Record following sod-turning ceremonies for the highway at Omerville, Guy Poliquin reported his office had received correspondence urging the construction of viaducts to permit deer to cross the road's route without risk of being hit by automobiles.

His office could not accept the writer's proposals, Mr. Poliquin said, but was consulting the provincial fish and game department on the placement of warning signs.

Of viaducts, the autoroutes chief said, "It hasn't been done anywhere in North America. In any case, deer don't cross at specific points, but rather within general areas of a mile or so. We will place warning signs in such areas."

René Paquette of Waterville, head of a four-man committee favoring underpasses for deer, told The Record last week that such accommodations had been successfully installed on some highways in Vermont.

RACIAL CLASH SPARKS VIOLENCE AND VANDALISM

NEW YORK (AP)—A riotous clash between Negroes and white civilians.

The trouble began at two Negro street rallies—both on Seventh Avenue at 125th Street. Police, some swinging nightsticks, charged into a crowd of 150 at a rally sponsored by the Black Nationalist movement and sent some participants sprawling to the street, bleeding. The others fled.

Police said they attempted to disperse the crowd after an officer on the scene was struck by a thrown object.

Police did not report any other injuries.

Unflappable Mac ripped in Profumo debate

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Macmillan appeared today to be nearing the twilight of his political career, victim of perhaps the strangest imbroglio in British history.

Macmillan managed a vote of confidence in the House of Commons Monday night over the celebrated and smelly Profumo affair but never did Opposition Leader Harold Wilson look better and never did Unflappable Mac appear more flappable.

Newspapers unanimously regarded the vote—321 to 252—a setback for the 69-year-old prime minister since it meant that 27 of his Tory followers abstained, indicating they wanted another chief before the next election.

Macmillan's margin on the crucial vote was only 69—almost 30 fewer than the maximum government majority. The vote came after a dramatic six-hour debate over the case of resigned war minister John Profumo and his entanglement with fast-living Christine Keeler, 21, who he was seeing at the same time as the Russian naval attaché in London, Capt.

Eugene Ivanov. Ivanov has since returned to Moscow and been promoted.

During the debate before the vote Macmillan was obliged to make two damaging admissions: That Profumo's lying completely deceived him and his ministers.

That his security organs, already compromised by a succession of spy scandals, knew less of Profumo's intrigue than London newspapers—and failed to tell him what little they did know.

The political correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says the 27 Conservative abstentions amounted to a serious withdrawal of party support from the prime minister. The Telegraph adds:

"Mr. Macmillan, a broken man, seemed close to tears after the division figures were announced."

The Daily Mail, normally a Macmillan supporter, headlined its report of the debate "Mac: The end."

What appeared to make Macmillan's position even more exposed was the fact that before the debate Conservative backbenchers meeting in private were said to have sought assurances from the party managers that a vote for Macmillan would not be taken as a guarantee of future backing for him.

At this point South could have claimed the balance on a

Eventually, no one was going to be able to stop hearts. South ran off five club tricks. On the fourth club a heart was discarded from dummy. On the fifth club West had to go down to two hearts in order to hang on to the jack of spades. The

The real-life detective in Sunday night's Show of the Week got around a lot—to a slaying of a strangling, to the aftermath of a fight, to jails, to interrogation rooms, to skid road. He kept questioning people—some of them obviously drunk—but he almost never let them answer his questions.

We never learned anybody's name or what he had done, except for one professional thief called Skinny Richard from whom the detective got no information.

It seemed apparent that most of the time the detective was talking cautiously for the camera, explaining things that didn't need explaining, moralizing earnestly, and trying to keep suspects or witnesses from saying anything libellous or incriminating.

At hour's end our detective had obtained one statement and located a missing witness, but had a lot hanging fire.

Parking garage project

Council delays decision on request for extra funds

A decision to grant an additional $6,940 for construction work at the Wellington Street South parking garage was postponed indefinitely by Sherbrooke council Monday night.

City Services Director Charles Langlois recommended that such a payment not be made.

In a report to the municipal authorities tabled at the regular weekly meeting Mr. Langlois said that "In the circumstances it is impossible for me to recommend the payment of a supplementary amount on this subject."

Mr. Langlois was referring to the request made by contractor Eugene Marcoux that $6,940 more than agreed upon in the contract be awarded to him because of unforeseen expenses incurred when he hit rock harder than expected.

Last week, although opinion was divided on the matter, council divulged that it was not legally obligated to pay the Marcoux firm the additional amount.

The original cost of the project agreed upon with the city was $278,000. Mayor Nadeau mentioned at last week's meeting of the council that in the past council had at times paid the contractor more than agreed upon in the original contract after a study of circumstances surrounding the request.

Included in the report of the city services director tabled at the council meeting Monday night was a list of the tenders submitted on the garage, and a breakdown of estimates offered by the contractors for the cost of drilling the rock on the site of the projected garage.

By JAMES DAVIES (Record Staff Reporter)

The list of the original estimates made by contractors for final costs, excavation of earth, and excavation of rock follows in this order:

Eugene Marcoux Ltee. ($278,000) $6,800; $13,203; Stanislas Grondin Inc. ($292,000) $6,800, $25,715; J. W. Roy Ltee. ($294,700) $4,842, $38,085; Dorilas Grenier Ltee. ($297,000) $6,120, $24,325; Albert Morin ($327,700), $7,500, $30,600; Adelard Jacques Ltee. ($341,478), $40,180 (combined); and J. C. Masson Ltee. ($276,741), $6,120, $24,325.

The Masson firm's bid for the job was disqualified by Sherbrooke city officials when they decided that it did not meet the specifications of a local contractor.

The remainder of the city services director's report reads in translation as follows:

"The contractor asks for an additional sum for excavation in rock of $6,948.37. For proof of the hardness of the rock he puts to us a letter from Fibi et Fils Ltee., establishing the cost at between $10 and $15 a square yard. He also sends us a letter from Gilles Joncas, professor at the University of Sherbrooke that reports that the rock at this site is extremely hard and abrasive."

"The speed of drilling for this rock is only 6.2 feet against 12.6 to 20 feet for the ordinary rock found in Sherbrooke."

"On the other hand the specifications and the contract contain no clause related to the hardness of the rock and you will notice on the attached list of tenders submitted that the majority of the contractors tendered $6.95 a cubic yard for the rock. Meanwhile Mr. Marcoux seems to have calculated only half of the volume of rock calculated by the other contractors."

"Under the circumstances it is impossible for me to recommend the payment of a supplementary amount on this subject."

Condition of swimming pool threat to children bathing

Informed that cement in the Sangster Park swimming pool was chipping to such an extent as to render the pool a threat to the safety of children bathing, Sherbrooke council decided Monday night to inform the company responsible that it would have to do repairs at its own expense.

Parks Superintendent Gaston Lebrun told council in a letter released Monday night that the Sangster Park swimming pool repaired he said in 1961 by contractor Albert Morin "is falling apart and the children will not be able to swim because I am afraid that some few among them will injure themselves quite seriously."

City services director Charles Langlois mentioned to The Record at the meeting that expenses of repairs to the swimming pool will be borne by the contractor.

On Galt St. West

A notice to amend a zoning bylaw to permit the construction of taverns on a section of Galt Street West was tabled before Sherbrooke council Monday evening.

Council has received petitions for and against the zoning change in the West Ward.

Last week, a ward resident, Roland Fournier, presented to council a petition, bearing 500 signatures, opposing the zoning change. He said a license will be sought to open a tavern on Galt between St. Antoine and St. Pierre Streets once the building permit is obtained from the city.

Opponents of the zoning change disagree with the move because they claim a tavern will be opened in front of Duressne Park. They plan to forward their petition to the Quebec Liquor Board.

Ald. Antonio Pinard said the municipal government does not have the responsibility of issuing tavern permits.

May expropriate hotel property

If no satisfactory offer is put to the city for a piece of land in back of the Magog Hotel, Sherbrooke authorities made known their intentions of expropriating it.

Sherbrooke council decided Monday night to renegotiate terms for the purchase of a lot behind the Magog Hotel because of the discrepancy between the price offered by the hotel and that arrived at by city estimators.

The price being demanded by the Magog Hotel officials for the 18,087 square feet of land is $85,913.25 while city evaluates its worth at $36,184 in addition to paying the owners extra for use of the road leading to the lot.

Council votes money for camp

Sherbrooke council voted unanimously Monday night to award a $5,000 grant toward the completion of the projected St. Michael's Health Camp on Little Lake Magog.

By allotting the money to the group, Sherbrooke officials are making good a promise to the organization in 1960, when grants of $1,000 yearly for five years was decided upon once St. Michael's officials commenced work on permanent quarters.

According to remarks at city council, the construction of such a premises has begun and the government in Quebec has donated $10,000 towards it.

Previous to this project, the St. Michael's group operated its camp from rented facilities.

VETERANS WORK

Congregation to mark 100th anniversary of Cookshire church

MRS. E. S. HEATHERINGTON (Record correspondent)

The contract was let to Albert Haseltine for $2,200, and was duly fulfilled and accepted May 9, 1963; the trustees appointed were C. A. Bailey, H. H. French, G. M. Orr, Thomas Foster, D. A. Farnsworth, Josiah Sawyer and William Sawyer.

About 30 years later, the building was raised to its present height, and the interior finished in hard wood. Improvements were made periodically—such as the installation of electricity in the church in 1903 and in the basement six years later by H. A. Worby.

In 1868 Cookshire was set off as a separate mission, three years later the circuit was organized under the superintendence of the Rev. H. J. Fowler.

Various changes have been made over the years in regard to the number of churches in this pastoral charge, but, since 1943, this has been a three-point charge, including Cookshire, Bury and Island Brook.

The church has had numerous repairs completed within the past few years, a Hallman electric organ has been installed and maroon-colored gowns for the senior and junior choirs have been purchased through subscriptions given in memory of loved ones, there is also a communion table and a cross given in memory of loved ones to adorn and beautify God's house.

The ladies of the church will serve a supper on Saturday evening, June 29th, and lunch after the morning service on Sunday, June 30 and tea after the evening service.

Council meeting postponed

MAGOG — (Staff) — A special meeting of council called for last night to consider a new traffic bylaw and amendments, to bylaws concerning garbage and water rates, was called off at the last minute because the mayor didn't show up.

Magog Secretary - treasurer, Jean Paul Lange said that the meeting has been re-scheduled for Thursday at 7.30 p.m. Even if Mayor Ernest Simard had attended, Mr. Lange explained, last night's meeting would not have been legal since 48 hours notice had not been given.

He said the traffic bylaw to be discussed would limit heavy traffic along the city's main street and would require taxis to make only right turns into their stands.

Under the amendments to the garbage collection and water bylaws owners of apartments and boarding houses would have their rates reduced, he said.

The acquisition of some property, probably by exchange, to allow for the opening of St. Joseph Street, will be discussed Mr. Lange said.

Motions had been made concerning the new traffic bylaw and the amendments, he said, and it remained only for council to discuss them and to vote.

Thursday's meeting will be at the town hall.

Deer a menace to the E. T. autoroute

The sod-turning at Omerville yesterday to officially mark the beginning of construction on the Sherbrooke-Montreal autoroute symbolized the start of what will be one of the most modern thoroughfares for highway traffic in Canada.

Like its antecedent, the Laurentian autoroute, the new E.T. highway is designed for swift, unimpeded road travel. High speeds will be the rule, not the exception, and excessively low speeds will be prohibited.

But provincial authorities appeared to have overlooked one unusual factor in their autoroute planning. The highway will pass through some of the best deer country in the province, especially between Eastman and Granby. In that area, the projected route of the road cuts right across known and long-established deer runs — paths habitually followed by the deer population in their daily movements.

The problem is not a new one. Immense inter-state highway projects in the United States have faced it, and a number have solved it. Rene Paquette of Waterloo, president of the Montreal-Sherbrooke Big Game Committee, pointed out last week that in Vermont, underpasses for deer runs have been built along many of that state's super highways to allow both deer and motorists to go their respective ways unhindered.

Apparently, according to Mr. Paquette, the Quebec government's solution will be to erect "Deer Crossing" signs at the appropriate locations.

This, of course, is a poor, makeshift solution, particularly in view of the large number of deer runs involved. Mr. Paquette said there are nearly twenty between Eastman and Granby alone.

If the signs serve their purpose properly, they will only serve to slow down autoroute traffic. Sudden stops at 60 or 70 miles an hour can produce unholy traffic jams on a superhighway.

But an even more vital consideration is the great danger involved in the sign system. Deer can't read — they will be crossing the highway will-nilly. Many motorists are bound to miss the signs, especially at night, or simply ignore them. Or, even if they do see the signs, they are likely to miss seeing deer suddenly appear on the roadway until it is too late. There will be collisions — possibly multiple collisions. There will be deaths, there will be injuries. Not only will the deer population be threatened, but the lives of every motorist using the autoroute will be jeopardized.

Serious consideration should be given by the appropriate authorities to something far better than a system of signs.

After an auto accident it's too late to stop and think.

Opposition parties lose in Alberta

The sweeping victory registered by the Social Credit government of Premier Manning in Monday's Alberta elections was a foregone conclusion and the only surprise would have been if the Opposition parties had registered substantial gains in their House strength.

Actually the Opposition had little to offer the voters in return for a change in the administration of the province. Premier Manning and his colleagues have given the province an efficient government marked with no major scandal. Its policies have won the general endorsement of the rural voters although some aspects of its educational financing program are disliked in the urban centres. But this dissatisfaction apparently is not deep-rooted enough to convince the city dweller to accept the call that it is time for a change.

The one regrettable feature of the election is the virtual disappearance of an effective opposition. Weak in the last Legislature, the Opposition forces suffered further reverses on Monday.

A strong Opposition is a necessary part of the democratic parliamentary machinery and its absence deprives the people of some of those checks and balances which serve to keep governments in order.

But the almost certain Social Credit sweep convinced many of the voters that their best interests lay in supporting government candidates, while none of the other parties offered any effective program to win popular support.

It's easy to laugh at misfortune when you're the one it misses.

Other papers say:

Canada moves to protect fisheries

The Canadian decision to apply a 12-mile limit in place of the traditional three-mile limit on territorial waters concerns the question of fishing rights. This problem should and can be isolated from the maze of technicalities, the political and strategic consideration bearing on freedom of the seas.

(Christian Science Monitor)

Geneva conference on freedom of the seas. There the United States proposed a six-mile limit for all purposes except that of protecting offshore fisheries, suggesting a 12-mile limit for that.

More troublesome might be the Canadian decision to enclose bays and other waters between headlands by drawing a straight line from promontory to promontory. But Prime Minister Pearson has said that the traditional fishing rights of other nations will be given due weight. His statement indicates a period of negotiation ahead.

In the past the movement for a 12-mile limit has been resisted because it appeared to be a Soviet device for unsettling the law of the seas which had been built up by Western nations over hundreds of years. It was also pointed out that it could close straits and other offshore waterways whose free access was vital to the security of some nations.

But if the new limit is applied exclusively to fishing rights and the rules for its application can be arrived at in conferences of men of goodwill, it can be a factor in the modernization of the law of the sea to fit a space age that goes deep down as well as high up.

More to it than meets the eye Businessmen approve of budget, but find some sour notes, too

Finance Minister Gordon's first budget turned out to be something of an iceberg: nine-tenths under the surface. But what businessmen could see of it, they generally liked. Provisions to encourage greater Canadian control of domestic industry and to prevent takeovers of Canadian companies met widespread approval.

Share ownership — and penalties for those with less — was that he had provided a "substantial" incentive to foreign-owned companies to take in Canadian shareholders and directors. Opinions on the "Buy Canada Back" section of the budget were mixed.

Technical, foreign money could still grab control of Canadian firms, but under the legislation (which so far applies only to companies whose stocks are listed on stock exchanges) the early stages of accumulation of stock in big blocks would be ruled out.

'SWEET AND SOUR' "Sweet an sour" was the way H. Roy Crabtree, newly-elected president of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, reacted.

'CAN'T FORCE' And R. W. Todgham, president, Chrysler Corp. of Canada Ltd., while regarding the new withholding taxes as progressive proposals to stimulate stronger Canadian ownership of companies, didn't think it would achieve much.

'MORE COSTLY' What's been called "Take-over by stealth" will be rendered impractical, it's believed in official Ottawa.

'GO LONG WAY' "Following this budget, I think industry and the Government will go a long way in resolving many of our deficit problems," said Earl K. Brownridge, president American Motors (Canada) Ltd.

'WANT FAMED NAME' AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—New Zealand may soon have a city called Churchill. Six boroughs on the outskirts of Auckland plan to amalgamate and Churchill has been suggested as their combined name.

'TEN YEARS AGO' (From the Record of Thursday, June 18, 1963) President Mrs. M. A. St. Pierre told the annual meeting of the Waterloo School of ballet that illness among the pupils had forced cancellation of the recital this year.

'ICEBERG' Ronald Robertson, director of the Canadian Tax Foundation said the budget "strikes me like an iceberg. There's a lot more to it than meets the eye."

'INCENTIVE' Mr. Gordon himself told a press conference that he regarded this move as one of the most important parts of the budget since "it removes impediments to the sale of bonds to pension funds in the U.S."

'BYGONE DAYS' TWENTY YEARS AGO (From the Record of Friday, June 18, 1943) The regular meeting of the Lennoxville Women's Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Woodard, Belvidere Street, with Mrs. L. W. Smith presiding, and Mrs. H. L. M. Vaudry leading the devotional service.

After much fuss Margarine becomes Canadian staple

Hippolyte Mege-Mouries could never have imagined what a fuss he was starting 75 years ago in Paris by concocting the first oleomargarine with mince suet and shredded fresh stowach of sheep. The French chemist, rewarded by Napoleon III for his work and then subjected to the first signs of a gathering opposition, would, if he were alive, be content to see his butter substitute partly emerge today, from 80 years of prohibition and restrictions in North America.

In Canada, only Prince Edward Island now bans margarine outright and more than half the country can buy yellow margarine. A Cross Canada Survey by The Canadian Press shows that provincial legislation during the last two years has lifted the margarine ban in Quebec and approved the sale of yellow margarine in Manitoba, Nova Scotia and Ontario.

British Columbia and Newfoundland place no restrictions on the color of margarine; Manitoba, Ontario and Nova Scotia allow yellowing outside the range of butter color, and Alberta, Saskatchewan, Quebec and New Brunswick permit the sale of white margarine.

Mege-Mouries got a foretaste of trouble to come soon after he patented his complex process of refining margarine animal fat in 1869. He brought his invention across the Atlantic after widespread acceptance in Europe, took out a U.S. patent in 1873 and ran into opposition from farmers and the new butter factories that had started taking over from the farmhouse industry 17 years earlier.

The United States, in deference to the expanding butter interests, enacted in 1886 the first of a series of restrictive laws heavily taxing yellow margarine and imposing high licence fees on the industry.

The same year the Canadian government banned the manufacture and sale of margarine. A butter shortage during the First World War prompted the Canadian government to lift the ban on margarine in 1917, but it was reimposed in 1923 and the dairy lobby kept it that way for 25 years.

Consumers campaigning for the removal of restrictions on margarine gained important allies in the oilseed farmers and processors before the Second World War.

The North American manufacturers, who first used animal fats and then imported palm and coconut oils, switched in the late 1930s to domestic soybean, cottonseed, peanut and corn oils. Of the oils used now by the Canadian industry about 40 per cent is soybean and 30 per cent is marine or fish oil.

A post-war butter shortage in Canada gave the pro-margarine campaign another boost. The price of butter climbed in 1947 to more than 70 cents a pound. The campaign featured marches by housewives, letters to legislators, debates in Parliament and litigation that reached the judicial committee of the Privy Council in London. One group of housewives gathered on the front steps of the Ontario legislature to demonstrate the effort and anguish involved in mixing a color bud into a block of white margarine to make it yellow.

The late Senator William D. Euler of Waterloo, Ont., a former Liberal trade minister, led the fight in Parliament. Three attempts between 1946 and 1948 to repeal the ban on margarine were defeated in the Senate and a private member's bill in the Commons never came to a vote.

Finally, Senator Euler succeeded in a move to refer the issue to the Supreme Court of Canada and the court decided in October, 1948, that the federal legislation was unconstitutional. The judicial committee of the Privy Council upheld the decision in 1950, dropping the margarine issue into the laps of the individual provinces.

The same year in the United States, Congress repealed the federal taxes and licence fees on margarine. Most of the state restrictions against yellow margarine were lifted soon afterwards.

In Canada, provincial legislation governing margarine often appear related to the importance of the local butter industry. Prince Edward Island, which maintains the ban on margarine, produces more butter per capita than any other province — almost 57 pounds per head of population last year. British Columbia and Newfoundland, which impose no restrictions on margarine, are at the other end of the butter-production scale, turning out less than five pounds per capita.

All the white-only provinces except New Brunswick are high on the butter-production list. Saskatchewan produced almost 30 pounds per capita last year, Alberta just over 29 pounds, Quebec more than 27 pounds per head. New Brunswick produced 11.6 pounds of butter per head last year.

Area expansion, progress reported at Farnham Public Library meeting

FARNHAM — The annual general meeting of the Farnham Public Library, Inc., was held on June 4, in the library at city hall, when reports of the year 1962-63 were presented. The president, Jean Gauthier, welcomed the members.

In his address, Mr. Gauthier commented on the satisfactory progress which had been made during the past year. An increase of 88 per cent in membership necessitated the expansion of the library area, and directly paralleled an 89 per cent increase in circulation.

The directors reported that a total of 13,248 books had been exchanged by 8,455 borrowers. Costs of books continue to rise, but it had been possible to add over 1,000 new titles to the shelves. In addition, in order to offer greater variety, arrangements were made with the McLennan Travelling Library Service to supply books for the English adult section.

The city council, recognizing the importance of a bilingual library in the community, have again made a grant of $1,200 as well as adding new space for a workroom, building additional shelves and completely renovating the entire area.

The grant from the Quebec Library Services, increased to $900 this year, helped to meet the increased costs.

The Lions' Club contributed $25 for the purchase of children's books, and the Daughters of Isabelle gave memberships to 10 children, who otherwise might have been unable to enjoy the library facilities.

The president thanked the directors for their support, referring especially to the work of the secretary, Mrs. Wallace, and the volunteers who assisted in the many tasks involved in the smooth operation of a library.

Dr. O. Trepanier and W. J. Worden each spoke briefly, congratulating the directors for the tremendous accomplishment in the successful operation of the library.

Directors re-elected for the ensuing year were: Jean Gauthier, president; R. J. Tarbet, vice-president; Miss Léona Patch, Miss M. R. Morissette and Miss Louise Hall, directors.

Amsterdam International Airport is KLM's home base. KLM has carried over 12 million passengers a total of 14½ billion passenger miles.

KLM offers 9 weekly flights from Montreal, 4 daily flights from New York during peak Summer season

During Summer, at least 35 KLM flights a week cross the Atlantic to Europe. This gives you a choice of 4 or more flights a day, plus convenient connections at Amsterdam. KLM's European flights in and out of Amsterdam are timed to connect with KLM flights to and from Montreal and New York. Your Travel Agent has all the details. Ask him.

1. KLM carries an average of 3830 passengers every day—about twice the capacity of a big ocean liner. KLM has an electro-mechanical check-in system at Amsterdam International Airport. This system reduces check-in time per passenger to a minimum. It also mechanically produces a load sheet and thus speeds loading time. Every KLM sales office in Canada gets up-to-the-minute space availability information every day on KLM connecting flights.
2. Your KLM crew goes to work two hours before your plane takes off. They finish about an hour after you have arrived at your destination. Significant comment: a veteran KLM pilot sums up his job in these words:—"Being a jet pilot is just like being a concert pianist. You have to keep on practicing even when you're perfect."
3. KLM sets very high standards for its cabin crews. They must be pleasant, capable, polite—in short, ideal hosts and hostesses. They are trained to anticipate passengers' wants. Quite a few KLM stewards and stewardesses speak five or six languages. Some speak seven or eight. They must at least speak Dutch, English, French and German.
4. A large percentage of KLM pilots are family men. 88.1% are married, 79.1% of them are fathers. For some pilots, loyalty to KLM is a family affair. Three are sons of former KLM pilots. There are four pairs of brothers flying for KLM. One of these pairs has a third brother who is a pursuer. KLM pilots are all well educated. Three of them are doctors of law.
5. KLM Economy Class passengers enjoy exactly the same friendly personal attention as First Class passengers do. The cuisine is simpler, of course, but comes from the same chefs and the same kitchens, and wines and other drinks are available at nominal charge. For instance: a quarter bottle of top quality champagne costs just 75 cents and a glass of good Scotch whisky is just 60 cents on KLM's trans-Atlantic routes.
6. KLM has a permanent wine-tasting committee of six people. It meets once a year to judge red wines and twice a year to judge white wines. Tasting is done blind. Nobody on the committee knows the vintage or the price. KLM wines are chosen for quality alone. Quick-ripening wines are selected because they travel well. There is no risk of sediment.

7. One of the skills of KLM chefs is knowing what passengers are most likely to choose from a menu. This takes years of experience. You always have a good chance of getting a dish you like on a KLM flight. KLM prepares special diet food for passengers who request it as they book their seats. KLM pursers are always briefed on these special diets before passengers come aboard.
8. On all scheduled KLM flights, each passenger has his own individual table, whether he flies Tourist, Economy or First Class. On KLM's intercontinental First Class flights, you get slippers, hot towels, champagne and other wines "on the house".
9. The cabin of a DC-8 jet is 12 feet wide. This is wide enough to take 6 seats abreast comfortably. KLM's First Class cabins have only 4 seats abreast. KLM's DC-8 jets have two pantries—for faster service, five flush toilets and several cloakrooms, the cabin, air-conditioned on the ground as well as aloft, gets a fresh supply of air every three minutes.
10. Travelling First Class on a KLM DC-8 jet, you sit in unstinted comfort. Your seat is as wide as an armchair, has built-in table lamp, pre-focused reading light, air blower and finger-tip control panel. Each seat cost KLM U.S. $1,500. Every KLM DC-8 jet has a luxuriously appointed lounge, located in First Class. It is a perfect place to meet your fellow passengers over free drinks.
11. Several reigning monarchs and their families have used KLM's charter services. KLM charter planes are flown by the same full-qualified and experienced crews as scheduled flights. KLM's don't-take-any-risks maintenance applies to all its aircraft—charter or otherwise.
12. KLM's biggest charter contract was concluded with an oil company for the transportation of its employees and equipment. It lasted six years. KLM operates about 500 charter flights a year across the North Atlantic and about 1500 a year all over the world. LM charter service is available all year round.
13. "KLM Gateway to Travel Enchantment" is an invaluable booklet packed with useful information to help you plan your European vacation. As well as containing details on a wide range of KLM tours and multi-stopover possibilities, it also includes tips on Amsterdam International Airport's tax-free shopping facilities, how to rent a car, etc. All you need to do to get your free copy is to complete and mail the coupon at the bottom of this advertisement.
14. "What You Should Know About Reliable KLM When Planning Your Trip To Europe" is another booklet that tells you everything you should know about KLM and KLM's unsurpassed service. You'll find that it's full of worthwhile information on how to make your European trip just that much more enjoyable. To get your free copy, simply complete and mail the attached coupon.
15. KLM flies to every continent in the world. KLM has been established in Canada since 1946 and now has offices in principal Canadian cities. Something worth noting: KLM has daily flights out of Montreal and New York for Europe. During the peak Summer season, you can choose from nine weekly flights from Montreal and four daily flights from New York.
16. See your Travel Agent. Having themselves been professionals in the field of air transportation for 44 years, KLM recognize that it takes professionals to plan trips efficiently. In every city in Canada, KLM is represented by a professional—your Travel Agent.

District court

No date is set for trial of two charged in mishap

No date has yet been set for the trial of two Sherbrooke youths who were charged with driving a boat in a dangerous fashion on the Magog River, according to a St. Francis District Court of Sessions official.

Andre Gervais and Gilles Bedard appeared in Court of Sessions late last week and pleaded not guilty to the charge laid against them and elected to be tried by a judge and jury.

According to the charge a young girl playing in the shallow part of the water was injured when hit by the rope used to pull a water skier.

ESCAPEE Marcel Taion, the escapee from St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary had the date of his trial postponed last week so that he could find the money to procure the services of a lawyer.

In the meantime he is being held behind bars at the Sherbrooke jail. He is charged with theft with violence.

Filion, general manager, General Investment Corporation of Quebec, and guest of honor; Mrs. Oscar Paquette Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Paquette Sr., Oscar Paquette Jr., superintendent of the Magog Cotton Mill; and F. R. Daniels, president, Dominion Textile Company Ltd.

Some 6,000 people from Canada and U. S. visit modernized cotton mill at Magog

MAGOG — Some 6,000 people, from as far afield as the southern United States and the Maritime Provinces, visited the Magog cotton mill of Dominion Textile Company Limited, last week.

Each was a guest of the company during a two-day Open House staged at the Magog plant last Tuesday and Wednesday to mark completion of a $3,000,000 modernization project. Visitors came from North Carolina, Vermont, Maine, Massachusetts, Quebec, Ontario, Nova Scotia, and other areas, to see the mill, regarded as one of Canada's most efficient. Official "re-opening" was held June 10 when Gerard Filion, general manager of the General Investment Corporation of Quebec, told an audience of federal and provincial politicians, and local dignitaries, that expansion of existing industry was one of the most rapid means of providing jobs and economic growth in the province of Quebec.

Oscar J. Paquette, superintendent of the Magog Cotton Mill, said today that attendance during the Open House had "surpassed expectations."

"We were particularly gratified to see so many people from the New England area of the United States visiting us, though not surprised as many of them have strong family ties with Magog and district," said Mr. Paquette.

Continuing a constant policy of modernization by Dominion Textile, the primary objective of the Magog reorganization was to enable the plant to compete better with foreign fabric producers who claim about half of the Canadian market.

"But it will be more than merely an avenue of tourism," Mr. Fortin told the gathered crowd in the roadside field where the sod-turning was held. "The autoroute will be an aid of the first order in the economic expansion of Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships. It will cut 20 miles from the distance between Montreal and Sherbrooke, already an incalculable saving in the transport of merchandise."

"If Sherbrooke has quickly become a major industrial centre of the State of Quebec, it has something to do with the fact that it is served by three large rail systems — the Quebec Central, the Canadian Pacific and the CNR. Add the autoroute, and Sherbrooke and the Townships are more than privileged."

The autoroute was, he said, "a new corridor opening on the market of Canada's metropolis and on the biggest island port in the world."

The Laurentian Autoroute Office had become the Quebec Autoroute Office, and would now give the province "a whole network of rapid-traffic, limited-access road," he said.

Two couples entertained at Sutton to celebrate wedding anniversaries

SUTTON — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Phelps was the scene of a pleasant gathering on June 4, when, assisted by Miss Marion Phelps, Miss Joan Anne Phelps, and Miss K. McIntosh of Cowansville, they entertained at a combined party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Phelps of Cowansville, who were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary on that day, and of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Phelps, of Foster, who were married 44 years ago on June 5.

Some 35 relatives and friends were present to help celebrate the happy occasion.

Arrangements of mauve and white lilacs and yellow tulips were used to decorate the rooms and large silver numerals, 25 and 44, surrounded by ivy leaves, were worked into the window decorations, which formed the background.

Lilies-of-the-valley were used to top the beautiful three-tier wedding cake, which formed the centerpiece of the dining room table. A pink damask cloth covered the table, which was lighted by white tapers in silver holders. A smaller souvenir cake, in the form of an open church register, was suitably inscribed with the two marriages. Both cakes were made by Mrs. Rupert Phelps and decorated by Mrs. Roland Gibson.

Each guest of honor was presented with a corsage or boutonniere and after toasts were drunk, Rupert Phelps, who was best man for his brother Gardner, read two newspaper clippings: one of his uncle's marriage to Gertrude Wright in 1919 in London England and the other of the marriage of his brother to Rita Plamondon at St. Peter's Church in Sherbrooke in 1938.

These items had been carefully preserved in a scrapbook compiled by Bert Phelps' mother, the late Mrs. Hiram Phelps. One of the first clippings bore the date of 1856. The volume is now a family treasure.

Gordon Snyder, of Cowansville, on behalf of those assembled, presented Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Phelps with a silver tray, after which Mrs. George Mizener, of Foster, made the presentation of an electric coffee percolator to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Phelps. Both couples expressed thanks for the party and the gifts.

A lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Susan Phelps.

Guests present were from Sherbrooke, Cowansville, Foster, South Stukely, West Brome and Bristol, Conn.

The clothes poll

by Helen Hennessy

Anyone turned loose among the snowsuits set this fall may be in for a bit of a shock. The sight of two-legged ponies, Dalmatians, leopards, zebras, lions and lambs could raise the question of whether next week's pay check should go to the eye doctor or the psychiatrist.

Fake furs will be big with the small fry. Some of the pint-sized numbers I've seen represent species that even Noah wouldn't recognize.

Toddlers in their Dalmatian skins will steal the fall scene, especially in some of the one-piece jobs that boast ears. But the new animal kingdom doesn't begin and end with the pygmies. It extends all the way to the suburban group. There are bathrobes of "fiber fur" and even jumpers and shifts for girls in the 7-14 bracket. The price range is a wide one, but for indoor wear it's smart to choose higher-priced fake fur. This fabric is difficult to shape and an inexpensive dress may have an ungainly look because it lacks fine detailing.

Moderately priced back-to-school coats, blazers and parkas run the gamut from fake ocelot to bogus mink—in all the "mutation" tints. But think before you buy, mom. It's the American way to improve status as one grows older. You may have to hide your stole when your subteenager decides she has outgrown the age for synthetic mink.

Chic Chat

Q—"My husband and I plan to take our vacation in San Juan, Puerto Rico, in July. We will stay at a luxury hotel and visit the night spots. Will a fur stole be necessary, and will I need to have floor-length evening dresses? I understand they are very popular this year."—Mrs. L. N.

A—Dear Mrs. L. N.: A fur stole will be unnecessary in San Juan. If you choose to wear one for dining in air-conditioned restaurants, it won't be out of place. But an evening sweater or fabric stole will be equally fashionable.

Unless you have been invited to a formal event where you are certain that evening clothes will be the only manner of dress, don't take any long gowns. Pastel silk or chiffon cocktail dresses are what is worn at night spots and hotel dining rooms where there is dancing. You will be uncomfortable if you are overdressed and there's no need to take up valuable space in your suitcases with elaborate evening clothes.

You'll find you will need plenty of casual clothes for daytime wear, and at least two bathing suits. For sight-seeing you will want two pair of walking shoes and cool cotton dresses.

When your daytime clothing will make up so much space in your luggage, it would be pointless to carry furs and ball gowns that you won't use.

A Caribbean vacation gives you the chance to forget hats, gloves, girdles and that little black frock. And you'll enjoy it more if you do just that.

Questions readers ask

Q—My son loves pizzas but won't give them to him because I think they are not nutritious. Am I right?

A—No, you are wrong, according to Dr. Philip L. White, secretary, Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association. In the June issue of Today's Health, he writes, "Pizza properly prepared with lots of cheese and tomato paste is indeed a good food. The cheese, sausage, tomatos and crust ingredients combine to a splendid example of fine food and good nutrition. The conventional pizza is a good source of protein and calcium and contributes its share of iron, vitamins A and C, and the B complex vitamins to the daily diet."

Q—Is it safe to carry any kind of sandwiches on an auto trip?

A—Protein foods by and large are not travel-safe without refrigeration. Better stick to jams, jellies, preserves and certain kinds of cheese — not cottage or cream cheese. Also such items as smoked Thuringer and hard salami.

White Sox and Senators win games with high scores in the LL action

The White Sox and Senators won their games in the Little League last night, White Sox making a 13-0 win over the Yankees while Senators dumped the Twins 22-9.

Tonight the Indians and Red Sox clash and the Tigers go against the Twins.

White Sox showing their best ball so far this year had rather easy against the Yankees. Loose infielding did not help the Yankees' cause and they made six costly miscues in the game.

White Sox got four in the second, five in the fourth and finished off with three more in the fifth. Yankees threatened to score in the fourth getting two hits but pitcher Farrell struck out two to keep them off the score sheet. Hussey, Sayer and Coley each with two hits were the White Sox stars. Daignault, Garard and Cotton started for the losers.

Senators ran away from the Twins in the early stages of their game. Miscues and bases on balls by the Twins gave the Senators a 19-4 lead at the end of three innings.

Senators got two more in the fourth and closed out their scoring with one run in the sixth. Twins did manage five more runs in the last three innings as the Senators took the game on the long end of a 22-9 count. Cook, Rattle and Raban were the Senator stars. Yves Bernier Rose and Bonduant starred for the Twins.

Indians continue their win streak by shutting out the Senators, 1-0

Expendable Jack has become Dependable Jack.

That would be Jack Kralick, the lean left-hander who's been on a tear for Cleveland's streaking Indians.

Considered by Minnesota Twins the southpaw they were most able to do without, Kralick was on the trading block for some time before he was dealt to Cleveland for right-hander Jim Perry six weeks ago.

It's now an Indian chief, with a string of six straight victories.

Kralick's latest triumph came Monday night as Cleveland edged Washington Senators 1-0 with a gift run in the eighth inning. Jack threw a five-hitter in besting tough-luck loser Jim Duckworth, who yielded the game's only marker when he balked after committing a two-base throwing error.

With its latest winning streak at five, the fourth place Tribe now stands just three games behind New York's first-running Yankees in the tight American League race.

ORIOLES WIN

In the only other league game scheduled, the slumping Baltimore Orioles revamped their lineup, got a home run and a neat pitching job from lefty Mike McCormick, and beat Boston Red Sox 7-2. The result left Orioles and Red Sox also three games off the pace, Boston two percentage points ahead of Cleveland and Baltimore two points back.

Kralick fired a no-hitter against Kansas City on his way to a 12-11 record for Minnesota last year but the Twins—deep in southpaws—put him up for grabs during the off-season and finally made the deal with Cleveland.

He was 1-4 when he joined the Indians and lost his first decision with them. Since then he's posted his six in a row and his last four have been complete games. Kralick's five-hitter against Washington was his third shutout, and lowered his earned run average to 2.47.

Duckworth gave Indians only three singles but botched things royally in the eighth inning. First off, he pegged wildly past first after fielding Dick Howser's grounder, then, after Jerry Kindall had sacrificed, the Washington right-hander balked in the run.

WHIFFS SIX

Kralick struck out six and did not walk a man as Indians, in ninth place the first of this month, won for the 15th time in their last 17 games.

Cassius Clay remains favorite on eve of his fight with champ Cooper

LONDON (AP) — London's weatherman today gave a favorable forecast as Cassius Clay remained a firm favorite for his open-air 10 - rounder against British heavyweight champion Henry Cooper at Wembley Stadium tonight.

The prediction was for rain in the afternoon followed by a dry and sunny evening.

This was music indeed to promoter Jack Solomons, who anticipates a capacity crowd of 55,000. Solomons never issues his takings, but he reckons to gross at least $280,000.

For Clay, the 21-year-old Louisville Lip, the time had come to translate his welter of words into deeds—or face the scorn of a critical crowd.

Cooper, 28, was quietly confident and spoke of a plan he had worked out to deal with Clay's speed.

While Britons have cared little for Clay's talk they have been impressed by his workouts.

Desmond Hackett, sports writer of The Daily Express, had a last minute viewing of Clay and said:

"I have never seen even flyweights so blur the skipping ropes nor seen middleweights hit the light punch bags with such pace and precision."

Cooper has had 28 fights, has won 19 and drawn one. He's a slow starter, but has a good left hook.

Clay, unbeaten in 18 fights, has called Cooper a "bum, a no-good, and a cripple."

Sherbrooke club is in first place in the Inter-City Softball League

RICHMOND (Special) — Sherbrooke's Hotel Albert club still holds down first place in the Inter-City Softball League followed by Asbestos Aramis who are moving in on the top team.

Aramis edged out Richmond's Brown Shoe squad 6-3 in a regular game played here Sunday night before over 100 fans.

There was a parade through town before the game got underway with the local Major ette Corps and Cadets and with Sports Queen Jeannine St. Louis and the local softball club.

Richmond's Mayor Marcel Roy was also in the parade that ended on the exhibition grounds.

The two corps put on a short performance and Mayor Roy threw out the first ball to get the season off to an official start. Alderman Evangeliste Richard, president of the Recreational Committee was behind the plate with Queen Jeannine at bat.

Jerome Hayes acted as MC introduced the guests and players, and made note of the lighting system set up for nightball. He said this was made possible through the co-operation of Brown Shoe Co. and its manager, George Morin, the Bell Telephone Company employees, members of the ball club and Leo Paul Ouellette, local electrician as well as the generosity of the local citizens.

Mayor Roy expressed his congratulations and best wishes for the success of the club and the sports committee, promising their support from the town council.

A drawing was held for benefit of the Summer Sports Association and tickets were sold by members during the past month. The winner was Normand Lamarche of Richmond.

Ben Deshaies went the distance for the Asbestos club, hurling a four hitter, fanning nine men and winning the

N. Y. Yankees to hold camp in Montreal

The World Champion New York Yankees will conduct another of their famous tryout camps at St. Laurent, Montreal, Canada on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 4, 5, and 6.

This camp will be under the direction of Yankee scout Al Todd.

Other noted Yankee scouts and instructors, including Arthur Dede, will also attend. Paul Martin, from the Montreal School System will be present.

Boys between the ages of 16 and 22 years are eligible to attend, and they should bring their own gloves and shoes. Uniforms are preferred, but are not necessary. Bats, baseballs, and catching equipment will be furnished by the Yankees.

Workouts will be held from 9:00 A.M. to 4 P.M. on each of the above days.

Several Yankee camps in previous years have uncovered boys who went on to win their pin-stripes at Yankee Stadium.

While Koufax was lowering among them Phil Rizzuto, a Yankee star shortstop for three seasons and now a Yankee radio/TV announcer and ace left-hander, Whitey Ford.

Cards continue to set the pace; Phils topple the Cincinnati Reds

There's just no stopping Sandy Koufax, the Dodger dandy who continues to mow 'em down but this time found his catcher caught in the crossfire.

Koufax spun his usual assortment of fast and faster balls along with his good curves at San Francisco Giants Monday night, scattering four singles in a 2-0 Los Angeles Dodgers triumph that dropped Giants from the National League lead to third place.

St. Louis Cardinals, 8-1 winners over New York Mets, took over the top spot by one-half game over the second-place Dodgers with Giants another two percentage points back following Koufax's sixth shutout of the season.

Koufax, however, made one mistake. He neglected to tell catcher John Roseboro he was coming in with a faster than fast pitch in the third inning and the Dodger receiver was forced to leave the game with an injured left palm. X-rays were scheduled to see if there were any broken bones.

While Koufax was lowering among them Phil Rizzuto, a Yankee star shortstop for three seasons and now a Yankee radio/TV announcer and ace left-hander, Whitey Ford.

Elsewhere, Willie Stargell drove in six runs with two homers and a single as Pittsburgh Pirates walloped Milwaukee Braves 9-3 and Philadelphia Phillies used consecutive homers by Roy Sievers and Don Demeter for all its runs in a 4-2 triumph over Cincinnati Reds. Houston and Chicago were idle.

Koufax, now 10-3, struck out nine while going the distance for the ninth time this season. He fanned three in the second inning as Giants made their only threatening gesture by loading the bases on a walk. Joey Amalfitano's single and an error, but lost their opportunity when Jose Pagan struck out to end the inning. O'Dell took his third loss against nine victories.

Although Koufax has recorded six shutouts, he still is well off the one-season record. Grover Cleveland of Phillies posted 16 in 1916.

Brogio, 8-2, was supported a 15-hit Cardinal attack against starter Jay Hook, (3-7), and Galen Cisco. Bill White hit his 11th homer while Ken Boyer and Curt Flood each collected three hits. Brogio, who had shut out Mets twice previously, was touched for an unearned run in the seventh inning on two errors and Charlie Neal's single.

AARON GETS 19th

Stargell led Pirates' offensive with a run-scoring single in the first, a two-run homer in a three-run sixth inning uprising that snapped a 3-3 tie and a wrap-up shot with two on in the ninth. Bob Bailey and Bill Mazeroski also homered in support of Don Cardwell, who allowed eight hits in bringing his record to 3-8. Hank Aaron hit his 19th homer for Braves.

Sievers hit a three-run homer and Demeter followed with a solo shot in the sixth inning that tagged John Tsitouris, 2-2, with the less. The homers gave Ryne Duren a 4-0 lead, but the Phillies starter gave up single runs in the sixth and seventh and Jack Baldschun had to come on to preserve the victory. Duren's second against one defeat.

Baltimore—Ralph Dupas, 15-0 New Orleans, outpointed Denny Moyer, 13-3, Portland, Ore., 15. Dupas retained world junior middleweight title.

Omaha—Tom McNeely, 20-3, Boston, stopped Bill Nielsen, 18-7, Omaha, 8.

Eastern Townships athletes place in Caledonian games over weekend

There were only four entries from the Eastern Townships Track Association at the Caledonian Highland Games in Mount Royal, but all four managed to place in their events.

The small number of entries was due to school examinations.

In the pole vault Reid Cook of West Brome took a third while Bob Hume of Foster placed fifth in that event. Cook jumped 10 feet 6 inches, while Hume failed to clear that height. Both first, and second place contestants used fiberglass poles.

In the broad jump Bob Hume placed third while in the high jump he placed fifth.

In the high jump, J. Terauds of Rock Island managed a second while in the javelin he placed first with a heave of 184' 8".

Competing in the bantam division Marianne Terauds placed fourth in the high jump.

On June 22, the ETTA has entered two relay teams in the Provincial Senior Relay Championships at the Athletic Grounds of Mount Royal, starting at 1:00 p.m. The relays that the ETTA has entered are: the 440 sprint relay, consisting of D. Savage, J. Winslow, R. Hume and D. Munkittrick and the sprint medley relay, in which M. Peacock of Cowansville will start with the 440 followed by D. Savage and D. Munkittrick in the two 220 yards while the anchor 880 will be run by P. Boyd.
