Reds Cancel Track Meet After Athletic Skips Bail In U.K.

LONDON — (AP) — The Russians today cancelled a track meet with Britain in protest against the arrest of the Soviet champion woman discus thrower, Nina Ponomareva, on a charge of shoplifting.

The hefty girl, a potential Olympic champion, jumped bail after she was picked up Wednesday in the theft of five cheap hats, and there was a strong suspicion today that she had flown the coop.

The leader of the Russian team said he had called off the two-day, British-Russian meet scheduled to open tonight as a protest against "the dirty provocation."

Nina is sought as a fugitive for failing to appear in magistrate's court Thursday after being released on bail in care of a Soviet embassy official.

Dock workers reported that an outside woman answering Nina's general description weighed 168 pounds was hustled aboard the Soviet cargo ship Balashov in the dark of Wednesday night. The Balashov then hastily finished loading, upped anchor and headed for Leningrad.

British police, however, seem to think that 27-year-old Nina, a favorite for the woman discus thrower's title in the Olympics at Melbourne next November, is still hiding in the Soviet embassy. Police surrounded the embassy site in London's west end, but diplomatic immunity prevented a search of the building.

The dock scene occurred a few hours after a woman store detective collared Nina outside a shop in busy Oxford Street. The visiting Soviet athlete was charged with trying to decamp with five frilly examples of capitalist hatters' art worth a total of $1 12s 11d that's $4.60 in American money or 18.4 rubles by Soviet figures.

Nina was bailed out for $5 $14 or 58 rubles by a Soviet embassy official who guaranteed she would appear in police court Thursday. She didn't.

Magistrate Clyde Wilson issued a warrant for her arrest, but police got nowhere with inquiries about her at the Soviet embassy.

The foreign office maintained a dignified official silence.

World News In Brief

OKLAHOMA CITY. — (AP) — Sonic booms pealed across the Oklahoma City sky Thursday setting off scores of telephone calls to police and newspapers. One mother, before she learned the blasts were caused by jets apparently rehearsing for the national air show here, followed advice in her civil defence manual. She covered her children with a sheet to reduce "radiation."

WASHINGTON. — (AP) — Twenty-one members of the French parliament will arrive Sept. 11 for a 17-day visit to the United States as part of the state department's education exchange program.

WASHINGTON. — (AP) — Senator Harry Byrd (Dem-Va.) says the cost of United States government civilian employment shot past the $10,500,000,000 mark to history's highest level in the year just ended. Byrd heads the congressional committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures. He had protested last week that the government was on a "spending spree" endangering prospects for a tax cut in 1957, and that Congress had "accelerated" the spending rates.

LIVERPOOL, Eng. — (Reuters) — A strike of 1,200 Liverpool dockyard boilermakers ended Thursday after two months. The men voted to resume work and then negotiate for higher pay.

BOMBAY. — (Reuters) — Air India International today announced the purchase of three Boeing 707 jet airliners which will be delivered by March, 1960. The new jets will cover the distance from London to Cairo in four hours, 10 minutes, and between Cairo and Bombay in four hours, 50 minutes.

VIENNA. — (AP) — Four young Hungarians armed with pistols shot their way past Communist border guards early today in a daring dash to Austria. They turned in their weapons and requested asylum, Austrian police said.

LONDON. — (Reuters) — A London doctor has complained that the "common practice" of British doctors in prescribing beer for patients on the national health service is a "disgrace to the profession." Dr. S. L. Guantlett condemns this "scandal" in a letter to the British Medical Journal, urging that the alleged practice "be stopped forthwith."

LONDON. — (Reuters) — No candy, cakes, ice cream or fruit drinks will be sold in Russian school cafeterias from now on, Moscow radio said Thursday. Instead, children will be able to buy food more suited to a normal lunch and not likely to spoil their dinner at home.

Crash Survivors Fly Home

KODIAK, Alaska. — (AP) — The living and the dead were flown today from the crash of a Canadian airliner which took 15 lives.

Bound for Vancouver — starting point of the doomed flight — were six of the seven survivors and 13 bodies.

Left behind, either in the wreckage or the frigid waters which lap the tidelands of the emergency landing field at Cold Bay, Alaska, were a mother and daughter presumed to have perished.

Twenty-two persons were aboard the flaming Canadian Pacific Airlines DC-6B which mushroomed onto the tides flat Wednesday night while flying the North Pacific route to Tokyo. Four of the eight crew members and three passengers survived.

Among them was Capt. Thornton (Sandy) Tweed, 33-year-old CPA pilot whose own father died 17 years ago while ferrying freight in the far north.

Tweed, an aviator since he was 11 years old, was flown Thursday to Kodiak naval station by U.S. navy fliers. Missing but with no hope for their survival were Mrs. Margaret Lem of Toronto, and her eight-month-old daughter Judy.

Cold Bay is 500 miles northwest of here at the tip of the Alaskan peninsula. Communication between there and the mainland was almost impossible and only barest details of the wreck were available.

Tweed, it is known, radioed the radio station that the plane was afire. He apparently tried to land at Cold Bay but crashed short of the runway on the second try.

The four-engine craft struck the mud flats at 9:48 p.m., Ko-diak time, (4:48 a.m. ADT) about seven hours out of Vancouver.

Ten of the passengers were Orientals, most bound for long-planned visits to their native lands. Among the dead were two Canadian Roman Catholic priests and a Japanese woman who had been attached to her country's embassy office at the United Nations.

Presumably CPA was returning the dead and the survivors on the same plane, which was flown to Cold Bay after word of the crash was received.

The priests were Rev. James MacIntosh of St. Andrews, N.S. and Rev. Vincent McGough of Toronto. The embassy attache was Miss Toshiko Yamane, who was returning to Tokyo for reassignment.

Father MacIntosh, who had spent seven years in Japan, was returning to his parish in Nagoya. Father McGough was on his first assignment and was to join a language school in Tokyo opening Sept. 1.

The survivors included:

Second Officer, Robert Love, 28, Victoria; stewardess Dolores Jordan, 26, Burnaby, B.C.; Sharon Edelstein, 16, and Patricia Edelstein, 7, Sharon's sister.

The Edelstein girls are the daughters of the manager of the CPA office in Hong Kong, Ted Edelstein.

His wife and another daughter were scheduled to board a later plane for their return to the Orient.

There was the usual plane-crash irony. One of the passengers was Lee Lock, who booked passage on another airline and then switched because the CPA schedule would get him there faster.

He is listed among the dead.

Quebec Surplus Is $294,553

QUEBEC. — Finance Minister Gagnon today announced that Quebec ended the 1955-56 fiscal year with a surplus of $294,553.

In his budget speech in February, Mr. Gagnon had forecast a surplus of $75,000 for the year ended last March 31. At that time he had estimated revenues would reach a record $389,468,000. Instead they soared to $407,812,775.

Expenditures, including ordinary, capital and public debt charges, reached a record $407,518,222.

Say Arrests Made Of Peronists

BUENOS AIRES. — (AP) — Argentine government security forces were reported to have carried out mass arrests before dawn today to forestall possible strikes and disorders by Peronista labor leaders.

Today was the first anniversary of the last big rally by the exiled dictator, Juan Peron, before he was overthrown. Locked in a struggle with the Roman Catholic Church and faced by growing dissension in the army, Peron threatened in a speech to labor leaders a year ago that five of his foes would die for each Peronista killed. He was ousted shortly after.

Provisional President Pedro Aramburu's government evidently feared that labor leaders still loyal to Peron were plotting strikes and disorders on the anniversary.

Slash Prices In Sunday Edition Of Boston Post

BOSTON. — (AP) — The Boston Post, which recently resumed publication after an eight-day suspension because of financial difficulties, announced Thursday its future Sunday editions will sell for 10 cents instead of 20 cents. Boston's four Sunday newspapers heretofore have sold at 20 cents.

In making the announcement, The Post said the Sunday edition would include color comics and a magazine with television features. The Post is currently being published by three trustees appointed by the federal court.

Prisoners' Treatment Not Harsh

CAIRO (Reuters) — British diplomats, allowed Thursday night to see two Britons held by Egypt on espionage charges, reported that the men were tired and dazed, but showed no signs of physical ill treatment.

The two prisoners, James Swinburn, business manager of the British-owned Arab News Agency, and Charles Pittuck of the Marconi Telegraph Co. of Egypt, were interviewed in the presence of the jail governor and two other Egyptian officials.

Today's Chuckle

The small boy on the phone asked information for the number of the movie house.

"You'll find that in the directory," she said.

"I know," he answered, "but I'm standing on it."

3 Killed In Ont. Auto Crash

ORILLIA, Ont. — (AP) — Two men and a woman were killed, and one man was injured Thursday when a car went out of control near here and slammed into the side of a gasoline truck with such force that the car's make could not be identified at first.

Patrick Arthur, 34, of Port McNicoll, father of 10 children; Cor Van Dergof of Orillia, and a woman tentatively identified as Ariene Georgian Vaillancourt were killed.

Bartley Scriber, a passenger in the truck was taken to hospital suffering severe injuries. Jack MacDonald, of Orillia, driver of the truck, was uninjured.

The gasoline flooded ditches and police roped off the area. It took them an hour to frop the bodies from the wrecked car.

Nuclear Explosion In Russia

WASHINGTON. — (AP) — President Eisenhower announced today the Russians have touched off still another atomic explosion. He said this one was more powerful than the test a week ago which had the forces of almost 1,000,000 tons of TNT.

Eisenhower made the announcement at a press conference after recalling that last Sunday he disclosed that Russia had resumed tests of nuclear weapons.

On that occasion, while he was still in California, Eisenhower said a blast on Aug. 24 had the force of almost a megaton or 1,000,000 tons of TNT.

Today, the president said the Russians have engaged in what he termed another large test in the accustomed place. That would be in southwest Siberia, as reported for the first time officially in Eisenhower's announcement last Sunday.

The new test, Eisenhower said, took place Thursday in that area. Then he went on, in effect, to criticize Soviet leaders for talking peace and at the same time continuing tests of nuclear weapons.

Eisenhower said Soviet diplomats talk of abolishing atomic weapons but go right ahead testing them without prior announcement and in secrecy.

Cyprus Becomes Base For French; Nasser Protests US Attitude

NICOSIA, Cyprus. — (AP) — The first sizable contingent of French troops was expected to reach this Mediterranean island today to bolster the French-British military position in the tense Suez area.

An advance liaison party flew into Nicosia Thursday night to prepare for arrival of the French forces, while a cargo ship reported to be carrying military supplies and about 150 troops dropped anchor off Famagusta.

Unofficial sources said three shiploads of French soldiers were expected today at Limassol, major port on Cyprus' south coast. More vessels carrying French troops are expected to reach this uneasy British bastion before the week ends.

These were other developments in the continuing Suez Canal crisis:

1. Britain announced the North Atlantic Council will meet in Paris Wednesday "to consider the Suez Canal question."

2. Egypt objected to statements by President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles describing the Suez Canal as an internationalized waterway.

3. The five-member Suez committee headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies met again in London to further plans for its meeting in Cairo Monday with Egyptian President Nasser. The committee will present the proposal for international control of the waterway endorsed by 18 of the 22 powers which attended the recent London conference.

4. Britain ordered two attaches of the Egyptian embassy in London to leave for British soil in retaliation for Egypt's expulsion of two British diplomats the Egyptians charged were mixed up in a spy ring. The British denied the spy charges.

5. Egypt pushed its drive abroad to recruit pilots to guide ships through the Suez. There was no indication what luck she was having.

France got permission from Britain earlier this week to base troops on the British-ruled island only 250 miles north of Egypt for the stated purpose of protecting French citizens and interests in the event of a breakdown in Suez negotiations.

Arrival of French units brought them in contact immediately with an eruption of violence linked to another tough British problem — the Greek Cypriot drive for union of this island with Greece.

An explosion in Famagusta harbor damaged a British LST (landing ship, tanks) near the spot where the French cargo ship reported carrying troops was anchored. The explosion, apparently engineered by a frog-man of the pro-Greek EOKA underground, holed the LST above the water line. The blast was believed caused by a limpet or sticky mine placed against the vessel's hull.

Earlier, the wives of two British army sergeants were accidentally wounded by bullets fired at terrorists by British soldiers on a busy Nicosia street.

The announcement by the foreign office of Wednesday's meeting of the NATO council said Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd would attend. Diplomatic sources said it was presumed Britain and France wanted the meeting in order to tell their allies what they plan to do if negotiations with Nasser break down.

The Menzies committee will fly to Cairo Sunday.

Nasser called in U. S. Ambassador Henry Byroade to express "regret" over President Eisenhower's Wednesday statement endorsing the 18-power plan for international control. An Egyptian government communique said Nasser objected to Eisenhower's saying the canal was "internationalized by a treaty of 1888."

Egypt maintains the canal is under Egyptian sovereignty and says the Constantinople Convention of 1888 only guarantees freedom of shipping through the canal. Nasser said Egypt has declared her respect for the 1888 convention in regard to the freedom of shipping.

Some U. S. officials attributed the protests to a misunderstanding. They said Eisenhower and Dulles used the word "internationalized" in referring to the right of passage through the canal and were not talking about ownership.

Pressing its drive to find replacements for British and French pilots on the canal, Egypt bought advertising space in newspapers in New York, London and Paris. They offered high pay to experienced seamen.

Fiery Segregationist Started Clinton Riot

CLINTON, Tenn. — (AP) — In less than a week, court-ordered mixing of races in the local high school has changed this peaceful Tennessee town into a place of racial tenseness and hatred.

Last Monday Clinton high became the first state-supported high school in Tennessee to end segregation when it admitted 12 Negro students along with about 750 whites. The town's leaders agree that most of the trouble was stirred up by a fiery segregationist from Washington who never saw this town of 4,000 persons until last Sunday.

"Everything had been quiet until he arrived," said Sheriff Joe Owen. "Now we've got a pretty ugly situation on our hands."

He was talking of John Kasper, 26, executive secretary of the "Seaboard White Citizens' Council" of Washington. For two days this week, minor incidents of violence involving Negroes and whites have erupted. Most of those involved were non-students.

A five-year-old integration suit by a group of Clinton Negroes was climaxed last spring when federal Judge Robert Taylor ordered the school board to end segregation this fall. Clinton took it in stride. Most of its sparse Negro population live in a neat settlement on a hilltop overlooking the city.

Then last Sunday Kasper arrived. Early in the week he landed in jail, charged with vagrancy and trying to incite a riot. The charges were dismissed for lack of evidence.

Kasper conducted nightly meetings on the courthouse lawn, harranguing against integration and against local school and law-enforcement officials.

Over and over, he has repeated: "We must keep the Negroes out."

He demanded that school principal D. J. Brittain oust the Negroes or resign. Brittain rejected the "ultimatum," and students and parents both gave him overwhelming votes of confidence.

Anderson school officials Wednesday got a temporary restraining order against Kasper and five of his followers. The order prohibited acts interfering with peaceful integration.

Kasper was jailed Thursday after another mass meeting Wednesday night, and held in lieu of $10,000 bond. A hearing was scheduled today on a contempt citation against him.

In Mansfield, Tex., additional police officers were requested to "assure that law and order will be maintained" at Mansfield high school where a dozen Negro students were expected to enroll today.

Thursday a sullen, angry mob of 250 men and boys milled around the school, threatening to use guns to keep the Negroes from enrolling in the previous all-white school after federal Judge Joe Ewing Estes refused to sign an order which would delay integration of white and Negro students in the Tarrant county school.

MIGRATING BIRDS SIGNAL SUMMER'S END

These days, a few minutes observation of some chokecherry bushes serve to indicate the presence of substantial numbers of birds even if listening for their songs would give no such indication. The red-eyed vireo, so insistent in repeating his strong phrases in spring and early summer, in every village and town, is today quiet and seldom betrays his presence by giving a series of relatively weak calls. The quiet hissing notes of the cedar waxwings may be heard from time to time above the city streets and gardens but by and large 1956 bird songs are approaching the vanishing point.

While these paragraphs are being written a strong wind blows. Fall appears on the stage with firm step and is not to be denied. Thoughts turn to the unspectacular southward migration of non-game birds, a migration already in progress. Many of the shorebirds from the north (snappers, plovers and others) have already passed south of our latitude, congregating in hundreds and thousands along the beaches and marshes of the Atlantic coast. New England bird watchers, whose numbers are very great, will be slipping away frequently to see the lingering shorebirds at their favorite spots, such as Portland, Maine; Newburyport and adjacent Plum Island, Mass.; Cape Cod and its Monomoy Island; and so on. Our immediate area offers little in the way of habitat attractive enough to delay these migrants and little is seen of them as they pass through. Just about this time last year, however, Back Lake, of the Connecticut Lakes district just over the border in New Hampshire, was drained to a very low level in preparation for the chemical killing of its course fish and subsequent re-stocking. While this little lake was "down" relatively large numbers of shorebirds lingered on its muddy bottom, availing themselves of the food exposed and simultaneously indicating that there is an appreciable migration of shorebirds through our area, even though few of them normally alight.

By the time these notes are in print the fall migration of wood warblers should be in full swing. The northward migration of these tiny colorful birds, twenty-two species of which regularly migrate to or through the Eastern Townships, was one of the most spectacular in years. The late spring held up their migration. Food was apparently scarce and in their search for it the warblers showed themselves far more than usual and to such an extent that many people, with but slight acquaintance with birds, gave detailed description of various warblers that they had seen, descriptions that were accurate enough for identification purposes. On the imminent return journey to the south, which will continue for some weeks, identification of the warblers will be difficult, for the most part. Most of the individuals will be immature birds, in many cases showing little resemblance to the adult of spring with their more vivid and highly characteristic plumage. Even those with considerable experience in bird identification will be perplexed by most of the fall warblers which, collectively, present yellowish to olive tones to those who watch them flitting quickly from tree to tree, in obvious haste. Often the warblers will pass through in "waves." Roger Tory Peterson does not exaggerate when he writes that "if at the end of ten years of field work you can say you really know the fall warblers you are doing very well." The observer who is not equipped with his two color plates of "confusing fall warblers" will be left with most of his questions of identity unanswered. With this experience behind him he may contemplate the more exciting prospect of watching the migration of waterfowl later in the season.

ROCK ISLAND—

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. William Higgins, of Rock Island, who recently observed her birthday anniversary, was invited by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hull, to "drop in for a minute". On arrival, Mrs. Higgins was greatly surprised to find that her daughter, Gail, and son, William, had arranged a family dinner in her honor at the grandparents' home.

The table was attractive with a white linen cover and pink garlands suspended from the overhead chandelier to the table corners, while in the center was a birthday cake decorated in white and silver and glowing candles.

The youngsters had prepared and served a salad supper, with the celebrant cutting the cake.

Mrs. Higgins received several lovely gifts and the best wishes of the family, and later of her many friends at the silver wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lees at the West Park I.O.O.F. Hall, which she and Mr. Higgins attended.

A Refreshing Approach

Judith Robinson, Ottawa columnist for the Toronto Telegram, is undoubtedly one of the most uninhibited critics that the Canadian government has today.

A recent Robinson item, of particular interest to Quebecers, dwelt on her theory that there is nothing of which the Quebec government can be accused that the Canadian government can't do just as well or better.

Says columnist Robinson:

"The report of which Abbe Gerard Dion and Rev. Louis O'Neill of the University of Laval are joint authors reveals many failures in political rectitudes in Premier Duplessis' and Prime Minister St. Laurent's native province. Unquestionably they are grave failures, but the assumption that all are uniquely 'Canadian' should be discouraged."

Miss Robinson asks whether it is "more corrupt" to be told "vote Union Nationale and get your back hospital bills paid courtesy of Maurice Duplessis," or to be told "vote Liberal and get free hospital care from the cradle to the grave courtesy of Paul Martin."

Miss Robinson suggests that the practice of bribing voters with their own tax money is general in Canada at every government level, but the interest of the politically righteous has centred on retail rather than wholesale dealings in political sin.

What is the difference between the Quebec and Canadian governments' vote catching methods, except in scale, she asks.

"The principle, or lack of it, is the same whether a federal government supporter is delivering a new post office and a new dock there to keep a constituency sweet, or a provincial member's agent is delivering a washing machine here and a television set there for the same purpose."

"In the circumstances," Miss Robinson concludes, "it would be a pity if the rest of us were to spend, in repenting Quebec's sins and stupidities, time we might more profitably employ repenting our own."

This is indeed a refreshing approach to be taken by someone outside the Province of Quebec. It has often been the impression that the rest of Canada is so busy calling the pot black that they haven't had time to keep their own political kettle clean.

Raising The Dead

Since the day Adam was turned out of the Garden of Eden, and forced to toil for his subsistence, man has been paying taxes on the money he earns, acquires, or that which is bestowed upon him.

We start paying taxes just as soon as we earn money, continue paying until we die, and in some cases the stigma of taxation continues even after death.

Even the grave gives no protection, for the Exchequer Court of Canada has recently resurrected the dead beneficiary of an estate to make him pay Federal succession duties.

The case was that of Henry Hebert Hilder, of Welland, Ont., who died in 1949. His sister, Henrietta, died one year later leaving him much money under a will written in 1948. The court, which sought to oblige Hilder's beneficiaries to pay taxes on the amount, was very specific and lucid in its naive explanation when it said that it must be assumed that the beneficiary, although in fact dead, was still alive, so far as taxes were concerned.

Mr. Justice J. D. Hyndman, in his judgment, stated that it must be assumed under the meaning of the law, that "at the time of Henrietta's death, her brother, although in fact dead, was still alive, and consequently became a successor to the property involved."

Such an assumption appears preposterous, but it is not for us poor mortals to argue. All we can do is pay.

Conserve Salmon

The Atlantic Salmon Association, in Montreal, comes up with a rather strong argument aimed at conserving the province's Atlantic salmon for the sportsmen.

The Association points out that the people of Quebec get by far their greatest cash return when the salmon is used by sports fishermen rather than by commercial netters.

According to the result of a Laval University survey, soon to be released, the 7,000 fish landed by rod and reel on privately leased salmon streams under club management cost $175 each. Averaged at 12 pounds, the angler paid $14.60 a pound, or 36 times the price realized by commercial fishermen engaged in marketing salmon as food.

The Laval survey indicates that

Quebec receives a gross revenue from all branches of the Atlantic salmon fisheries of $2,498,000 annually, of which more than $2,000,000 is direct payment to Quebec citizens.

In emphasizing the importance of the salmon angler, the survey notes that the money spent on salmon fishing clubs amounts to $1,245,000 a year, in outfitters' camps, $106,000; on Government reserve waters, $69,000; to which is added the purchases and sundry expenses of anglers, amounting to $480,000.

Thus, the survey compiler concludes: "The Atlantic salmon is an important economic asset for the people of Quebec and worthy of the most diligent measures to ensure its conservation."

Tight Lips Over Provinces Drink

(Peterborough Examiner)

Every year there is a conference of the liquor commissioners of the Canadian provinces.

It lasts for three days, and it is conducted, like many another annual conference, at a large hotel in circumstances of some luxury.

But the conference of liquor commissioners is a very quiet affair; it gives no information to the press, and is indeed very firm in its determination that nothing about the conference shall—pardon the expression—leak out.

Yet what is discussed presumably concerns a subject which is of public importance, and which involves about 200 millions of dollars every year of public money.

Why are the commissioners so secretive? The conduct of the various provincial liquor boards varies widely.

In Quebec, as so many Ontario people know, it is not necessary to have a licence; we have often wondered if the licence has any purpose other than to get an extra dollar a year out of every patron of LCO.

In Quebec French wines of a good though not unusual quality may be bought in demi-johns, which considerably reduces the price, as compared with Ontario.

How are these matters decided? Presumably they do not come up at the annual conference, or there would not be such striking differences between provinces.

What, then, is discussed? We think that the public would like to know.

After all, it is $200,000,000 worth of the public's business. It is the conclave which directs a trade which chooses all our liquor for us.

Who told the commissioners to be so tight-lipped about something which, after all, belongs to the people?

IMPRESSIONS

(Toronto Telegram)
Back from a visit to Moscow and Leningrad, the Moderator of the United Church, Dr. Dorey, reports this impression:

"The question of peace is uppermost in the minds of the Russian people. The average Russian would never launch a war if he had the choice." This recalls another impression, brought back from Germany by a well-known Ontario doctor. He had been entertained by members of the German government, and quoted one as follows: "It would be silly for us to start a war, for Russia would be on our tail in 20 minutes; we would be licked. We have had enough war." So the MD told a meeting of Ontario Medical Association: "I cannot believe that the intelligent people of Germany want war any more than we do." That was just 12 months before Germany launched World War II. "The people" may not choose war, but they have to hop to it smartly when so ordered.

POINTED LETTER TO A "SKILLFUL" DRIVER

(Kinistino, Sask. Post)

(This open letter to youthful drivers was written after its author had been forced off the road the previous day by a young driver who passed him on a hill, cutting in sharply ahead of him to avoid an oncoming car.)

Dear Son:
You may think you are a good driver, and perhaps you are. But I'd like you to keep in mind that most of your "skillful" driving is due to other motorists.

Anybody can whip across the road as fast and as carelessly as you are going. There's no trick to that—the new cars are loaded with power and pickup—too much so, I'm afraid.

Just remember that it was my alertness that prevented an accident on the hill, not your. And the driver who was approaching us also had to brake suddenly and swerve in order to save your life and his.

It is not your courage nor dexterity that has kept you alive as long as this, but the prudence and politeness of other motorists. You have been trading on our good will and sense of self preservation.

I wish it were possible to point out to you that your kind of driving is nothing but bad manners—it is not heroic, or adventurous or manly.

Suppose you ran down a crowded street, pushing people out of your way, knocking packages out of ladies' hands and kicking children into the gutter. What would be heroic or manly about that?

Nothing, of course. Then why do you suppose that having 2,000 pounds of steel under you makes it any better? There's nothing to be proud of in driving fast—any fool can do that. It's a form of cowardice to threaten other drivers, not courage.

Suppose you beat me at the get-away, or up the hill? What does that prove? Nothing, except that the car you bought is faster. You didn't make it; it's a commercial product. Anyone can buy one like it—and anybody can drive with maniacal disregard for safety.

So don't take pride in your deadly accomplishment. A real man is considerate and polite—and takes chances only when it counts, when his honor and conscience call for it. On the highway, most of all, it's easy to tell the men from the boys—for the men have to save the boys from the consequences of their foolish and needless bravado.

AFRAID OF TRUTH?

(St. Catharines Standard)

In expelling two British newspaper correspondents, the Nasser government seems to be running true to the form of all dictatorial governments. The correspondents were writing articles about the Suez situation which did not agree with Egypt's ideas—and thus they were ordered out of Egypt. In Germany, and in Russia, and in many another country, dictatorship has meant the end of a free press and the end of honest reporting. Correspondents have been ordered out of those countries at various times, and have been prevented from writing the truth, as they saw it, while there. A dictatorship dislikes, yes, fears, the light of free, unhampered, uncensored reporting. So does Nasser, apparently.

PLAY OF ACE SAVES FACE
Should declarer take the ace of spades at the first trick in today's hand? If he does, he will lose his game contract.

If declarer takes the ace of spades and leads trumps, the opponents will take the ace of hearts and cash two more spade tricks. They will then take the ace of diamonds to defeat the contract. If declarer takes the ace of spades and returns another spade in the hope of ruffing in the dummy, the opponents will take the ace of trumps themselves and then cash a spade trick and the ace of diamonds.

South cannot gain by taking the ace of spades and running the clubs immediately. West will ruff the third round of clubs with a useless trump. In short, there is no way that South can gain against good defense if he takes the ace of spades at the first trick.

The case is quite different if South refuses the first trick. If the defenders switch to trumps, declarer still has the ace of spades to control that suit. If the defenders, instead, lead a second spade, South can get to his hand with the king of clubs in order to ruff his third spade in the dummy. It is then easy to draw trumps and give up just one trick to each of the red aces.

Marriages

CHAMBERLAIN - JOHNSON
MAGOG, Que. — In St. Luke's Church, at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, August 25, the marriage of Mavis, daughter of Mr. Albert Johnson and the late Mrs. Johnson, of Magog, to Mr. Russell John Chamberlain, of Rock Island, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chamberlain, of Rock Island, took place. The double ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Canon J. Comfort, and Mrs. Charles Kirby played the traditional music at the organ console. Multicolored gladioli were used to decorate the altar, baskets of hydrangea were used in the Chancel and white satin ribbons and pansies marked the guest pews.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Garth Call, a friend of the family, wore a gown of white nylon tulle and lace over bridal satin, fashioned with a floor length skirt featuring inserts of lace and a strapless bodice topped with a long sleeved lace jacket having a round collar. Her shoulder length veil, worn over the face until after the vows were exchanged, was sprinkled with clusters of tinted sequins and held in place by a bandeau of sequins and she carried a Colonial bouquet of red rose buds centered with white carnations.

Miss Agnes McKellar, acting as maid of honor, wore a cocktail length gown of coral nylon sheer over taffeta, styled with a full skirt and bolero over the strapless bodice. She carried a nosegay of yellow carnations and wore a bandeau of the same blossoms in her hair.

Miss Shirley Chamberlain, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. She was dressed in a cocktail length gown of Alice blue nylon net, the full skirt featuring tiers of shirred net and a matching bolero covered the strapless bodice. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations and wore a bandeau of the same flowers in her hair.

Miss Kay Johnson, as flower girl for her sister, wore a frock of white organdy embroidered with yellow flowers, over yellow net and taffeta and she carried a white basket of Talisman roses and wore a bandeau of pink carnations.

Mr. William Pope acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Colin Johnson, brother of the bride, and Roy Chamberlain, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Chamberlain, mother of the groom, was attired in a frock of navy blue coin dot sheer over taffeta, a lacy straw hat and white accessories with a corsage of white carnations.

The reception was held at Ripplecove Inn in Ayer's Cliff. A dinner was served in the dining hall where the head table was centered with the three-tier wedding cake.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain left by motor on a trip to the New England States. For travelling, the bride wore a frock of teal blue, a beige feathered cloche hat, brown accessories, and a corsage of red rose buds. On their return they will reside in Magog.

Out-of-town guests were from Rock Island, Stanstead, Sherbrooke, Thetford Mines, Mont-real, Tomifobia, and Ayer's Cliff.

STURTEVANT-ASTON
IRON HILL, Que. — In Holy Trinity Church on August 25, at two o'clock in the afternoon, the marriage of Margaret Sarah Elizabeth, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Aston, of Cowansville, to Mr. Ronald Alvin Sturtevant, second son of the late Mr. Ernest Sturtevant and of Mrs. Bernice Sturtevant, of Iron Hill, took place, the Rev. E. F. Macklin, of Mansonville, formerly of Iron Hill, officiating. Miss Isabella Beattie, of Cowansville, played the wedding music and Mrs. J. Williams sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a strapless cocktail length gown of white nylon lace topped with a long sleeved lace bolero. A tiara of satin adorned with sequins held her finger-tip length veil of tulle illusion and she carried a bouquet of red roses, fern and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Rosemond Aston, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore an off the shoulder cocktail length gown of pink nylon and matching pink slippers. A tiara of pink flowers held her pink veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white roses, fern and lily-of-the-valley.

The best man was Mr. Lance Hadlock, of Iron Hill, and the ushers were Mr. William Stonebridge, of Bolton Pass, and Mr. Walter Brown, of Cowansville.

Mrs. Aston, the mother of the bride, wore an afternoon dress of blue lace over satin with blue accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Sturtevant, the mother of the groom wore a printed blue nylon dress with a corsage of yellow roses and white accessories.

The wedding reception was held in the I.O.O.F. hall, in Cowansville, where the bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake made by Mrs. James Williams, of Sweetsburg.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Sturtevant left on a motor trip, the bride, travelling in a light yellow suit with red accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Cowansville.

Make Room In Your Life For Kindness To Outsiders

By RUTH MILLETT
Any woman, however rushed, ought to allow time in her busy schedule for kindness.

It's smart for a woman to be able to manage a job and a home. It's splendid of a woman to do a great deal for her family.

But she is leading a narrow, self-centered life if she doesn't reserve a little time for doing things for others.

The woman who meant to visit a sick friend but never got around to it, who meant to send over a hot dish to the neighbor who had a death in the family, who meant to invite to her home the newcomer she met and whose loneliness she sensed but never found the time to ease isn't being a whole woman.

By tradition, women are the ones who take time for small kindnesses, who remember and do something about the troubles of others, who keep in touch with friends whether they live close by or at a distance.

If the woman of the family doesn't do these things they are usually left undone, and the woman herself and her whole family feel the difference.

A family's closeness to others, the number and intimacy of its friendships, its feeling of being a part of the community, all rest on the human touch.

Too many women today can find time for a beauty shop appointment every week, but no time to visit the sick. They find time for self-improvement courses, but no time to improve the lot of others.

They find time for doing everything for their children—much of which their children could and should be doing for themselves—but no time for anyone else's child.

Such close-to-home living makes for selfishness and detachment. It's bad for a woman's personality and growth and bad for her family.

So no matter how busy you are, remember to reserve a little time each week for kindness that goes beyond the walls of your own home.

More Coffee?

Brazil has been testing portable aluminum irrigation systems to increase the coffee crop. Results are startling: yield per tree is more than doubled. Even if applied only to half of Brazil's coffee crop, production would be increased by 3,700,000 bags!

Our own Canadian farmers have found endless ways to use Canadian aluminum: Piping for orchards, field crops and stock... foil for mulching... roofing and siding for barns, brooders and silos... cans and pails for dairy farms.

Canadian output of primary aluminum is being further increased to supply the makers of these and a thousand other products useful in agriculture, industry, defence and the home.

September Bride Feted By Friends At High Forest

HIGH FOREST. — Mrs. Grant Forgrave, Mrs. Harry Graham Sr., and Mrs. Verne Wilson were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Wilson for a shower in honor of the former Miss Theda Jackson of Birchton, prior to her marriage to Mr. Roland Lowry which will take place tomorrow.

Miss Jackson was taken completely by surprise to find about 40 guests present. Mrs. Wilson presented her with a corsage of pink sweet peas and escorted her to a decorated chair between her mother and the mother of the groom.

After an interval she was told there were gifts but she had to follow the strings attached to her chair to find them. She then was given a card signed by all who had contributed to her gifts. The bride-elect thanked the hostesses and those who helped make the shower a success.

The living room and bride's chair were decorated with pink and white streamers and bows. Balloons were suspended over her chair and when broken showered the guest of honor with confetti.

The dining table, covered with a white linen cloth was decorated with pink and white streamers and centered with a bouquet of sweet peas and pink tapers in crystal holders. Gladioli pansies and other flowers were also used throughout the rooms.

Lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by several other ladies.

Horse Pulling Contest To Feature Last Day Activities

Canadian, US Entries Expected
For Day-Long Program Tuesday

BROME—Something new will be added to the big Brome Fair this year with closing day of the four-day event being devoted to the holding of the biggest horse pulling contest ever staged in the province of Quebec. Commencing at ten in the morning, it will be held before the grandstand all day Tuesday, the last day of the fair which opens here tomorrow.

HORSE PULLING CONTEST — Scheduled for the last day of Brome Fair, being held this Saturday through Tuesday is a giant horse pulling contest, open to entries from the United States and Canada. Five hundred dollars is being offered in prize money for the event which is planned to get underway at ten o'clock in the morning. Jim Blackwood, well-known Knowlton farmer and fair director is shown above with one of the teams to enter the competition. The pictured horses are the property of Marcus Blackwood, contest organizer.

This year's contest is designed to surpass any ever held here in the past. Instead of having one or two entries for a small class, the event has been arranged as an outstanding feature of the fair. And entries have been coming in from Vermont, New York, Ontario and Quebec.

In charge of the contest is Marcus Blackwood, well-known Knowlton auctioneer and horse dealer. To publicize the contest, Mr. Blackwood has given up his own time recently to take his championship team to Ontario and American pulls, competing in their events and inviting participants for the Brome contest.

Five hundred dollars is being offered in prize-money for three classes, including a free-for-all open to teams of any weight. A silver trophy donated by Mr. Blackwood will be given for the best teamster and four ribbons will be offered in each class.

The three classes will be 3,000 pounds and under, with $75, $40, $25 and $10 offered for the first four places; the 3,300 pounds class with equal amount of prize money offered and the free for all with $100, $60, $30 and $10 in prizes.

A five dollar entry fee, to be charged to all participants, will be refunded at the close of the day.

The contest will involve drawing a stone boat through a six foot draw. Each team will be given three pulls, with a complete pull being registered when the boat stops. Each pull will be measured from the nearest point of the boat to the pin and the longest pull in every section will be the one to count.

This contest if successful will become a yearly event at Brome Fair, and with directors having finished their part of the program it is hoped that fairgoing individuals will help make the day successful by attending the event, which should surely prove to be a highlight of this year's fair.

Beervern Holsteins Outstanding Competitors At Brome

John Beerwort To Return With Prize-Winning Herd

BROME — One of the youngest farmers in Brome County is today demonstrating the successful results of the country's 4-H Calf Clubs.

Sandy-haired John Beerwort, 25-year-old farmer from Brome Centre is an excellent example of what good training can do.

John, who is the son of the late Raymond Beerwort, now operates a 300-acre farm, a few miles from Knowlton, off the Iron Hill road. Born in Foster, he has been living here for 17 years.

Farming is not new to John who was brought up on one and has done nothing else, and as familiar to him as operating a farm is district fair prize-winning. A former stalwart member of the local Calf Club, he received several cups for his judging ability at the fair and always helped his father carry off honors with their fine holstein herd.

Raymond Beerwort died in 1931. Since then John has taken over, continuing the tradition of being first rate exhibitor at various county fairs. An only son, John now runs the farm alone.

Beervern Farm has been raising Holsteins for 25 years. Today the herd numbers 35, although John held a sale last October when he got rid of 53 of the prize cattle. In the past years, the Beerworts have come up with one of the top holstein herds of the district. This success has been repeated annually at such exhibitions as Waterloo, Brome, Bedford and Sherbrooke.

This year has been no different. At Waterloo, John took several firsts and at Bedford, he walked off with senior and grand champion bull and female prizes.

Some of the individual prize-winners of the Beerwort herd were sold last year, but John has now purchased 11 new ones which he hopes are of even better stock.

With the cows he now has are 13 milkers, with milk being sent daily to Elmhurst Dairy in Montreal. Last year at Brome, John's cows brought special honor to the milking herd. There was a first prize aged cow, a first prize two to five year old and a first prize two year old and this year at Bedford Fair Beervern Pabst Johanna, a five year old took the senior and grand champion female prizes.

In the new stock John purchased is a six-year old bull, to be shown for the first time this year at Brome. Named Montview Abbeckerh Successor, the bull is expected to bring additional laurels to the Beerwort herd. John also has high hopes with a second bull, named Rock-

CHAMPION HOLSTEINS have been raised by Beervern Farm, Brome Centre for the past 25 years. In the herd, owned by John Beerwort, are several prize cows, shown above grazing in the pasture, as well as three prize bulls. wood Dekol T. Rowayne, a yearling purchased in Manitoba, whose dam sold for $2700 at the sale.

Junior herd sire is also new and was purchased from Jack Fraser's Spring Farm in Ontario. It is the son of Spring Farm Fond Hope, one of the best in Ontario which won top honors for five years running at the Royal Winter Fair.

There is little doubt that John's earlier training in the Calf Club is as much help to him as his father's expert farming in past years.

John won many prizes with his Calf Club work, the highlight of which came in 1949 when he was chosen to represent the province at the Royal Winter Fair. In addition he has three cups for showmanship in the local calf club and was also owner of the champion calf at the Sherbrooke Fair in 1948 and 1949.

When Mr. Lavin, who was an American-born Newfoundland businessman, visited Knowlton several years ago, he was so impressed with the country that he decided to come back some day and retire.

Although not yet retired, Mr. Lavin's idea has been in part realized, for since those visiting days, he has bought a farm, built a new home and manages to spend half the year with his wife and two sons here in Knowlton.

Three years ago, Mr. Lavin purchased the Old Soule Farm, four miles from Knowlton on the Cowansville highway. Engaging Arden McKelvey as farm manager, Mr. Lavin sold the dairy herd, renamed the site Brome Angus Farm and started raising purebred Aberdeen Angus cattle. Going back to Newfoundland, it was not until a year ago that he built a new home here, where he now spends half the time.

Soon after Mr. Lavin started raising Angus he showed them at Brome Fair and after an absence of a year will return again to the annual event, being held this week-end.

The shiny black Aberdeen Angus cattle are a type that a few years ago were almost unknown in the Province of Quebec. Today, however more and more herds have made their entry through Ontario breeders and Angus raising in Quebec has become more popular.

One of the few breeders in Brome County, Mr. Lavin now has a total of 65 head. Starting out by purchasing his stock from Ontario breeders, he also bought from purebred auction sales around Quebec.

In the Lavin entries at Brome two years ago were several first prize winners and a junior champion bull. The bull, which was one of the first animals bought by Mr. Lavin, came from W. L. Ham's farm in Fergus, Ont. Named Eilen Mere of Glen Angus, the bull is now four years old and weighs 2,000 pounds. Returning to the fair this year, it is expected to give stiff competition to others in the senior bull class.

Along with the senior bull, Mr. Lavin expects to show a junior bull, five females and a male calf. The five females, all under two and a half years old were part of the 15 new cattle purchased by the farm this spring. One heifer, an Eriskay bred, won every class she entered in Ontario last year, and only met defeat at the Royal.

On the Brome Angus Farm are also several prize Angus steers which will be taken to the Sherbrooke Winter Fair later this year.

Trained beer taster tells skeet shooters why they'll enjoy the new CROWN & ANCHOR Lager Beer

"Thank you, fellow skeet shooters; for letting me interrupt to talk about the new Crown & Anchor.

"You'll enjoy new 'Crown' because it's milder, smoother, lighter to the taste, sparkling clear and brilliant to the eye. Empty claims? — no sir! — We've proved it!

"My job is beer-tasting. With my colleagues of the taste panel, I sipped from unidentified (look — I'm blindfolded) glasses of new 'Crown' and other lagers. Our trained palates gave the new Crown & Anchor higher marks than any other lager for mildness, smoothness and lightness of taste. And our trained eyes gave new 'Crown' the highest marks for clarity and brilliance.

"The Molson's people further proved our conclusions by putting bottles of new 'Crown' and the next most popular lager — both identified only by numbers — in thousands of homes throughout Quebec. Interviewers calling later found this:

"Everywhere; new 'Crown' was preferred by a majority of all lager consumers — for its mildness, smoothness, lightness, brilliance and clarity.

"Convinced? Then fire away. And afterwards we'll have some more fun — a bottle of new Crown & Anchor!"

Labor Day Weekend Could Decide Leaders In Tight National League Race

Argos, In Trouble, Go To Vancouver, Source Of Their Worries, For Help; Als And Rough Riders Meet Twice

Toronto Argonauts, in trouble after only two Big Four football games, have gone to Vancouver, the source of their worries, in an attempt to dig themselves out.

Coach Bill Swacki watched his No. 1 quarterback Tom Dublinski go out of action with a twisted knee in a pre-season game against British Columbia Lions. He had his hopes raised by a solid performance against Montreal Alouettes from second-stringer Gerry Doucette, only to see the young Canadian injured in his next game. So, Swacki signed Arnie Galiffa, late of the Lions, Thursday.

The former Army all-American has three days in which to learn the Scullers' plays before he must lead them in a Labor Day game against Hamilton Tiger-Cats, who Wednesday battered Argos 18-0 in Toronto's home-opener.

Today the Big Four's only undefeated teams meet at Ottawa, with the Rough Riders, last year's doormats, opening at Lansdowne Park against the powerful Alouettes.

The situations are reversed as the Riders travel to Molson Stadium to face the Larks on their home ground.

In other eastern football action, the Ontario Rugby Football Union has three games scheduled for the long holiday weekend. Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen will have it out with the Golden Bears at Sarnia Saturday. Bears have another game Monday with London Lords. Toronto Beaches meet the league's new entry, Rochester Rockets, so far winless, in the other engagement.

Argonauts hope for better things with Galiffa, a noted passer, if a mediocre runner. Swacki had him flown in from his Donora, Pa., home and the six-foot-two, 195-pounder will start work immediately.

Galiffa made his reputation with the powerful West Point squads and kept it untarnished through a losing season with Lions. Last year he completed 155 of 271 pass attempts, 10 for touchdowns. His dismissal this year in favor of Tony Teresa, a running quarter, was a surprise.

The 28-year-old Galiffa was called in after Argonauts figured third-stringer Johnny Stephans, from Holy Cross, was not of Big Four calibre. Stephans cut by Hamilton earlier this year, was the signal-caller for most of the game against Ticats.

Among the four grand circuit races won by O'Brien were the two richest of the day, the $26,000 McMahon Memorial for two-year-old pacers and the $18,000 Matron for three-year-old pacers.

O'Brien won the McMahon with Adios Express taking two divisional heats and a raceoff over Newport Duke, double heat winner in the other division. O'Brien was second twice with Razzle Dazzle in Newport Duke's division.

He then won the Matron with Adios, taking the third and fourth heats. The first two heats, raced Wednesday, were won by Newport Frisco and Steamrider De-mon.

Marv Jensen is Fed Up With IBC And Sugar Ray

WEST JORDAN, Utah—(P)—A "fed up" fight manager says Sugar Ray Robinson and the International Boxing Club "can forget about Gene Fullmer and Marv Jensen...and get somebody else" if they don't settle soon on details of a Fullmer-Robinson middleweight title bout.

Jensen, Fullmer's manager, accused the IBC and middleweight champion Robinson of "stalling" on final arrangements for the bout, in a telephone call to the Associated Press Thursday night.

"If it isn't settled within the next few days," Jensen said, "they can forget about Gene Fullmer and Marv Jensen as far as their plans go and go ahead and get somebody else."

"I think that's what they want to do anyway."

Wednesday, IBC secretary Truman Gibson said in Chicago the IBC had offered Robinson a fight in Chicago with home television but that Robinson's camp was reported cool towards the locale.

"We got nowhere," Gibson reported, "But that doesn't mean it's out."

WINS DOW AWARD — Sam Fabi, centre, is seen receiving the sterling silver tray donated by Ivan Dugre, local representative for Dow Brewery, on the right, when his horse William West Kyer made a clean sweep of the "DD" Pace. Yvon Robert, on the left, made the presentation on behalf of Mr. Dugre and Dow Brewery. The presentation was held on the stage owing to the inclement weather.

Joe O'Brien Teams Four Winners Home

DU QUOIN, Ill. —(P)—Little Joe O'Brien of Alberton, P.E.I., drove home four winners Thursday and took nine of 13 heats he contested at the Du Quoin state fair.

Among the four grand circuit races won by O'Brien were the two richest of the day, the $26,000 McMahon Memorial for two-year-old pacers and the $18,000 Matron for three-year-old pacers.

O'Brien won the McMahon with Adios Express taking two divisional heats and a raceoff over Newport Duke, double heat winner in the other division. O'Brien was second twice with Razzle Dazzle in Newport Duke's division.

Soo's Winning Streak On Line With Vasquez

WASHINGTON —(P)—Boxing's longest current winning streak goes on the line tonight when undefeated Jimmy Soo, of Philadelphia, tackles Bernabe (Baby) Vasquez of Mexico City in a 10-round lightweight scrap at Capital Arena.

Soo is rated a slight favorite on the strength of 33 consecutive victories—20 by knockouts. But Vasquez, the lightweight champ of Mexico, has an edge in experience in the calibre of his past opposition.

Vasquez has won 44 of 57 bouts since he started in business six years ago. He put away 14 rivals and has been kayoed himself only once while losing 12. His other match ended in draw.

The fight will be carried over the usual Friday night TV and radio hookup.

William West Kyer Wins Dow Award; Lucky G Takes Hiram Walker Trophy; Daily Double Pays Top Price Of Day

William West Kyer, a four-year-old brown gelding owned by Fabi & Fils of Sherbrooke, swept both ends of the "DD" Trot and Pace to win the Dow Award yesterday afternoon on the final card of the week's racing at the Sherbrooke Fair.

Lucky G, owned by Mrs. Robert Menard, was awarded the Hiram Walker trophy for finishing 2-2 in the main class of the afternoon. The drivers battled through a sea of mud but completed the full nine classes.

The condition of the track caused several upsets as some of the favorites failed to show anything on the muddy surface. One accident was caused when Adair Dumas' Mary G. Herbert took a spill in the third class.

J. Laporte's Sturdy Allie came through with the biggest payoff of the afternoon when $51.80, $16.60 and $6.60 was collected across the board in the main event. He beat Lucky G to the wire in a splashing finish.

Fabi's William West Kyer was the only double winner of the afternoon as all the others were split. Art Casey's Pat Kuno, in the first, and Amedee Beaudoin's Jean Harvester N formed the winning double combination and paid $112.05.

The first quinella paid $21.50 when Sara Brooke teamed up with Fabi's entry in the third. In the sixth Fabi's Village Boy and Leo Maheu's Kenneth Hanover paid their pickers $51.85 while in the ninth Rosina B and Nora Grattan was the winning duo and $16.70 was collected.

Dodgers Fall Two Games Off Pace Dropping 4-3 Verdict To Last-Place Cubs; Teams Face Tough Schedule

It's time to get the kids off the street in the National League pennant scramble, and the long Labor Day weekend — strictly a weekend of labor for Milwaukee, Brooklyn and Cincinnati — could do it.

Nobody's safe. Milwaukee and Brooklyn each play eight games in the next six days. And the second place Dodgers facing three doubleheaders in three days while the front-running Braves meet first the pesky St. Louis Cardinals, then the persistent third-place Redlegs in a pair of four-game sets.

The Braves take a two-game lead into the big weekend, having gained a half game while being held to a 1-1, eight-inning tie by Pittsburgh and rain Thursday after the last place Chicago Cubs had bopped the Dodgers 4-3 in 11 innings.

Those were the only games scheduled in the majors.

The Braves opened their week-end home stand with a two-night doubleheader against the fourth place Cards tonight. Cincinnati starts its last visit to Milwaukee with a Labor Day double header.

Brooklyn starts its long haul with five games against the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds. After a single game tonight, the two play a day-night twinbill Saturday and a Sunday doubleheader. Then the Brooks go home for a Labor Day pair that opens a four-game series with Pittsburgh.

Cincinnati eases into the week-end with the first of three against the Cubs at Crosley Field tonight. Then the Redlegs move in against the Braves for "the four games that will tell whether we're going all the way," according to manager Birdie Tebbetts.

The game, called in the ninth by rain must be re-played from scratch, probably at Pittsburgh Sept. 18 or 19.

Ex-Dodger Don Hoak tripped the Brooks. His seventh-inning sacrifice fly tied the score at three-all against starter Roger Craig and his single scored the winner off Don Bessent. Turk Lown won it in relief.

In the American League, Mickey Mantle takes his race-off to Washington as the New York Yankees try to pad their eight game lead tonight. Cleveland is at Chicago for a two-night pair in battle for second place.

WIFU Four-Game Weekend Starts At Winnipeg With B.C. Lions Clashing With Bombers; Eskimos At Regina

WINNIPEG. —(CP)— Four Western Interprovincial Football Union coaches will be looking this weekend for vindication of their final choices of U.S. imports.

A fourth mentor, Al Sherman of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, will still be trying to make up his mind on import selections while the league's five teams play four weekend contests. There is one game tonight, one Saturday night, and two Labor Day.

Sherman will have 48 hours after the game to decide on the 12 imports and two reserve imports he will keep for the remainder of the schedule. The four other teams in the conference already have declared their imports.

The second-place British Columbia Lions meet Blue Bombers in Winnipeg tonight. Saskatchewan Roughriders travel to Cal-gary for a Saturday night meet-ing with the luckless Stampede-ers who are in last place with three straight losses.

The unbeaten Edmonton Eskimos, conference leaders and 1955 Dominion champions, entertain Winnipeg in the Alberta capital Monday when Lions visit Regina for a go at the "Rough-riders."

Meanwhile Calgary has filed a protest with G. Sydney Halter of Winnipeg about the game last Monday in the Manitoba capital which Bombers won 16-15 on end Tom Miner's last-play field goal.

Stamps are protesting that Winnipeg had 13 men on the field for that final play. Calgary would have won 15-13 if the field goal had not counted.

A win over the Lions would lift Al Sherman's Bombers into a second-place tie with the British Columbia team.

Alouette Motel Fine Spot For Spending Fall Vacation

Ten-Unit Establishment Completely Equipped To Meet Vacationists' Needs

FOSTER — Although summer appears to be drawing to a close, there are still several good weeks of holiday time left for those who wish a late summer vacation.

An ideal place to spend just such a holiday is the Alouette Motel, four miles from Knowlton at the entrance to Fisher's Point on Brome Lake.

This roomy motel, run by the owners of Alouette Lodge is perfectly suited for a spring, summer or fall vacation. The new 10-unit motel, opened for business July 1st of this year, has already proved to be a popular vacation spot and stopping off point during a holiday tour.

Greeting guests in the spacious motel are wall-to-wall carpeted pastel colored rooms, each equipped with showers. All are heated by glass heating units, enabling the motel to open early in May and close in October.

Some rooms contain comfortable double beds while others are equipped with twin beds. All are done in modern furnishings and decor.

Just a few feet from the red-trimmed white motel is the eight-year-old Alouette Lodge, where guests are invited to enjoy all privileges accorded lodge guests. Home-cooked meals provided in the large dining room, which has a seating capacity of 150, has proved to be ideal for banquets and receptions.

An orchestra is engaged at the Lodge for nightly dancing throughout the summer and a special feature for holidaying guests is that a Roman Catholic church service is held in the hotel each Sunday morning through the peak holiday season.

Brome Lake, just across the road from the Alouette, provides every type of water sport and is a popular duck hunting ground later in the fall.

With 20 lakeshore cabins, the large lodge and motel, the entire Alouette establishment can accommodate 130 guests either for the day, week, month or season.

Fully-licensed, the Alouette is a member of the Hotel Keepers Association of the Province of Quebec and Manager G. D. Dalrymple and his staff have made a name for themselves in doing their utmost to provide a happy vacation for their many guests.

We extend congratulations to the management of the Alouette Lodge Motel, Foster, on the completion of their project.
