

Shopping For Christmas In November Is Object Of Business Association

Effort Being Made to Meet Combination of Patriotic and Practical Considerations Pointing to Necessity For Avoiding End-of-the-Year Rush

"Do your Christmas shopping in November," is the slogan adopted by the Business Association of Westmount.

The idea, as outlined to the Examiner by Eric Ohman, president of the association is at once utilitarian and patriotic. Congestion in the Post Office and on all forms of transportation will be unusually heavy and no good citizen would willingly do anything to clog the passage of men and munitions at what promises to be one of the most critical periods in the war. (December is perhaps the best month of the year for military campaigning in Libya and the North African littoral.) Also to be considered is the passage of soldiers in Canada

INDUCTION OF REV. G. W. GOTH

Ceremony Will be Held Tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Westmount Park United Church

Tomorrow evening, the Induction Service of the new minister, the Rev. G. W. Goth, B.A., B.D., will be held in the Westmount Park United Church.

The service, which will commence at eight o'clock, will be conducted by the Montreal Presbytery of the United Church of Canada.

The Chairman of Presbytery will preside and Induct. Worship will be conducted by Rev. Prof. G. R. Cragg, D.D.

The steps leading to the Induction will be related by the Secretary. The address to the minister will be given by Rev. E. J. Thompson, Ph.D. The address to the congregation will be given by Rev. T. W. Jones, D.D.

The Presbytery will assemble in the Vestry at 7.45 p.m. There will be an offering for the Presbytery Fund.

An informal reception will be held in Webster Memorial Hall immediately following the Induction Service at which time members of the congregation will have an opportunity of meeting their new minister.

Rev. Mr. Goth will preach at both services on Sunday next, November 1st.

Flt. Sgt. J. A. Anderson Graduates At St. Hubert

New Pilot Excelled in Athletics — Winning Aggregate Cup Trophy in 1939 for Track and Field Events

Among the members of the graduating class of air pilots at No. 13 Service Flying School at St. Hubert last Friday, October 23, was Flt.-Sergeant John A. Anderson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, 2044 Grey avenue.

Flt.-Sergeant Anderson who is only in his 21st year, stood high in a class that included outstanding physical and mental representatives of youth — not only from Canada with nearly every province represented — but also from the United States, Great Britain and the Fighting French. He was educated at the Argyle School and the Westmount High School. All through his scholastic course he was every boy's idol as an athlete and played senior hockey with Westmount High and had seven years of football with Argyle and Westmount High.

At not a few track meets he showed his heels to a large field, and in 1939 won the aggregate cup for track and field. He represented his school at many interscholastic meets at the Molson Stadium.

Though only a boy when he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force in September 1939, he had nonetheless already spent a year as a member of the Royal Montreal Regiment, with which track unit he had put in a season in camp.

Following his enlistment he was sent to the Manning Pool at Toronto and on completion of his course there he went to Rockcliffe, Ont., for his security guard work. His I.T.S. course was taken at Victoriaville, Que., and his elementary flying school at Windsor Mills, Que.

Flt.-Sgt. Anderson became a full fledged pilot at the new

SEN. BEAUREGARD IS REPLACED BY MAYOR MERRILL

His Worship Becomes A Member of Conciliation Board

His Worship Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., has just been appointed to replace the Hon. Senator Elie Beauregard, on the Board of Conciliation set up by the Federal Government to investigate the dispute between the Canadian Marconi Company of Canada and its employees.

The dispute is in connection with the recognition of the union and negotiation of a contract covering wages and working conditions.

His Worship the Mayor received notification of his appointment from M. M. McLean, Director of Industrial Relations and Registrar of the Boards of Conciliation for the Federal Department of Labour.

Dr. Gaspard Fautoux, M.P., is chairman of the board and the men's representative is Drummond Wren, of Toronto. A meeting of the board was held on October 6 but since then, according to a statement made by W. Michaels, organizer of the local union of the Metal Trades Council, the company had failed to accept two invitations to nominate the successor of Senator Beauregard and the Department at Ottawa had therefore made the appointment. It is expected the board will resume sittings next week.

WESTMOUNT PUPILS HAVE NO COMPLAINTS

John Mappin and Colin Elder, both students of Westmount High School, proved themselves recently worthy of their Alma Mater, whose sturdy, upstanding sons have made their way in every field of endeavour across Canada as well as the United States.

John and Colin were members of the contingents of college and high school students, who acceded to the request of Ottawa, to lend a hand to harvest the wheat crops in the West.

Due to the haste with which necessarily all was done many of the young people ran into unforeseen snags and their complaints were many and vociferous.

W. W. Dawson, chairman of the Central harvest labour committee, in referring to the aid rendered by these two harvesters, said that thanks to them Saskatchewan farmers had been able to harvest up till then seventy per cent of their crops.

The Canadian Press carried a story October 24, to the effect that a group of harvesters had passed through Winnipeg en route to their homes from Saskatchewan.

The majority, according to the C.P. despatch, had complaints, but the story continued, two students, John Mappin and Colin Elder, from Westmount High School, were satisfied. They had found the work in the harvest fields "swell," but were going home because experienced men had taken their places and harvesting was completed in many places.

Doll Fair

The Douglas Bader Chapter I.O.D.E. will hold a doll fair on Saturday, November 7, in the showroom of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power building, St. Catherine and Mountain streets. Dolls will be on display from Monday until the day of the fair. Mrs. T. E. Grimes is the convenor of this event.

Annual Luncheon

The annual luncheon of the Women's Association of Stanley Presbyterian Church will take place in Franklin Hall Memorial on Tuesday at one o'clock. The guest speaker will be Christopher Ellis, and Mrs. D. H. Cummings will be the soloist.

"LIGHTS OUT" SAVE POWER, HELP BUY BONDS

No one can estimate the amount of power that is wasted in Canadian homes where people neglect to turn out the lights when they are not required. For two big reasons such waste is foolish. First, it uses up power which could be better employed in war industries. Second, it costs the householder money which could be better invested in Victory Bonds. In Quebec and Ontario people are being asked to reduce their home power consumption by at least 20 per cent because this power is urgently needed for war industries. Two common power wasters are the people who get in a comfortable position to read a book then, with the light full on, drop off to sleep, and those who leave cupboard lights on while they go about their business in other parts of the house. In both cases they are wasting needed power and wasting money.

Westmount Victory Loan Making Excellent Progress

Necessity Pointed Out of Purchasing Victory Bonds From Westmount Canvassers

Westmount's Victory Loan drive, according to Mr. C. E. McKenna, organizer, when interviewed at the Westmount Victory Loan Headquarters, 1385 Greene avenue, is making excellent progress and all the members of the committee are very much pleased with the results to date.

Mr. McKenna emphasized, however, the necessity of Westmounters purchasing their bonds through the officially accredited Westmount representatives of the drive in order to make sure of Westmount's quota, which is a high one. Bonds bought elsewhere than through the Westmount committee will not be credited to Westmount.

In order to overcome this handicap the canvassers are working indefatigably in order to cover the large Westmount territory, as each canvasser is most desirous of seeing this city not only go over the top but greatly exceed its quota.

Information concerning the bonds, as well as the conditions of their purchase, will be given gladly to anyone telephoning Fitzroy 2471.

Yesterday afternoon the Examiner received the following telegram from Mr. W. A. Shields of the Dominion Public Relations Section of the War Finance Committee.

Westmount High School Sees Young Canada Day

Yesterday afternoon, the teachers and pupils of Westmount High School had the privilege of hearing Captain the Reverend T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., deliver an address on Young Canada's Day and the part that young Canadians can play in this war.

Captain Jones served his country for four years in the last war and has already been overseas in this war. At present he is working with the Y.M.C.A. in Canada.

The assembly opened with singing of "Land of Hope and Glory," and Robert Everson, president of the Westmount High School Red Cross Society, introduced the speaker.

Captain Jones told of many of his interesting and humorous experiences with Canadian Troops overseas in this war, saying that "all my stories are true — I make them up myself."

He went on to say that everyone of us could play a real part in this war, that "this is the People's War and the young people in high schools form a very vital part of that whole."

Captain Jones said that we should make our "beloved nation worthy of the great sacrifices of the men and women engaged in war services." To do this we should do our jobs in the best way we can, right where we are; we should do our utmost to be a credit to our teachers and our schools.

We should fit ourselves adequately for our life work by careful study and training, by "playing the game of life, by making life a relay race."

But in addition to this we could be a greater credit to our schools and nation by buying War Saving Stamps, participation in Cadet Corps, and other patriotic enterprises.

Capt. Jones related incidents of his own experiences in England during the battle of Britain — where he saw high school cadets, boy scouts, girl guides, and others during air raids serving as helpers to the doctors, nurses, and fire-fighters.

"There is a second appeal made to us," continued Capt. Jones, "to build a better Canada and make a better Canadian life," by really knowing our Canadian history and keeping up to date on Canadian achievements. Canada is a wonderful country "with great resources — forestry, mining, agriculture, fisheries and now industrial achievement. He said that Canada was a nation composed of people from many lands and that it is the duty and job of all high school boys and girls to "cultivate . . . true tolerance and goodwill, and that above all else we should honour God, by worship and service; and serve one another in the spirit of goodwill and comradeship." Capt. Jones stated that we should make a worthy contribution every day to our schools, our cities, and our nation, "so as to win Victory, and be worthy of it."

Temple Emanu-El Will Celebrate 60th Anniversary

On November 27th, Friday evening, and Saturday, November 28th, Congregation Emanu-El will observe the 60th year of its founding. The major service will be held on Friday evening and the congregational annual dinner meeting on Saturday evening. For this occasion, the Rev. Dr. James G. Heller, President of the Central Conference of American Rabbis and the Rev. Dr. Julian Morgenstern, President of the Hebrew Union College, will come to Montreal to participate. The celebration is of a double nature since it also marks the 15th anniversary of Rabbi Stern's ministry in Canada.

"ANIMATED ROSARY" ENACTED

An "animated rosary" was enacted by the Young Ladies' Sodality, Parish of the Ascension, on Friday evening in Ascension Church, offered to Our Lady by the sodalists for their relatives and friends on active service.

Street Cars Collide On Claremont Ave.

Failure to grip the rails while ascending Claremont avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 1.40 o'clock caused a rear-end collision between two street cars of the Montreal Tramway Company.

According to the testimony of Motorman A. A. Lilley, driver of car No. 1954, due to the slippery condition of the rails his car slid down Claremont avenue and bumped into car No. 1529, in charge of Motorman A. O'Neill.

Mrs. Irving Smith, 4041 Vendome avenue, and Mrs. George Foss, 4454 Coolbrooke avenue, suffered from shock, and were conveyed to their homes.

Slight damage was done to the rear of the first car and to the front of the second one.

CANON G. OLIVER BACK TO PARISH IN WESTMOUNT

Rector of St. Matthias' Was Command Chaplain With The R.C.A.F.

The Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver, who for the past two years has been a Command Chaplain in the Royal Canadian Air Force has been given permission to resign from the Service and return on Sunday next to the parish of St. Matthias', Westmount. The Rev. A. T. Love, Rector of St. Alban's, Montreal, who has been Acting Rector for this period returns to his parish. A farewell gathering will be held in St. Matthias' Parish Hall tonight at 8.30, when the congregation will bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Love who have endeared themselves to a large number of people during their stay in the parish. The chairman of the meeting will be the Rev. Canon Oliver and a presentation will be made by Dr. J. McK. Wathen, the People's Warden.

For the first year Canon Oliver was Command Chaplain of No. 3 Training Command with Headquarters in Montreal. In April of this year he was posted to Eastern Air Command and has been working in that district up to the time of his resignation.

Canon Oliver speaks in highest terms concerning the work of the Chaplains of the R.C.A.F. having been associated with about fifty in the two commands. The enthusiasm and morale of the officers and men of the R.C.A.F. is the highest possible and the Canon expresses his appreciation of the privilege he has enjoyed in working with the airmen for the past two years.

Wings and Commission Awarded PO McLeod

Pilot Officer Donald Cameron McLeod, R.C.A.F., has just been awarded his pilot's wings at Camp Borden, Ont., and been commissioned in the Royal Canadian Air Force. He was educated at the Westmount High School and McGill University. PO McLeod is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cameron McLeod, 32 Shorncliffe avenue.

Captain O. H. Smith Promoted Overseas

Captain Odrie H. Smith, who has just been promoted from a Lieutenant's rank to a captaincy, according to official advices from overseas, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Smith of 11 Melbourne avenue.

He was educated at Westmount High School and McGill University of which he is a bachelor of science. He joined the Royal Ordnance Corps and went overseas last March. Before enlisting, Captain Smith was a member of the staff of Walter J. Armstrong, consulting engineer.

NEW MODERATOR IS PREACHER

Rev. Dr. W. Orr Mulligan Delivers Anniversary Sermon in Montreal West

Speaking at the Montreal West Presbyterian Church last Sunday night, Rev. Dr. W. Orr Mulligan of Melville Presbyterian Church and newly elected moderator of the synod, said the idea of a new order had originated with the old philosophers.

Dr. Mulligan referred to the depression with its burning of wheat and crops thrown into the sea showed what led men to say: "This shall not be."

The thinking of the people must be transformed, Dr. Mulligan declared, as it was on the question of slavery which brought a new order for millions of black men.

Vision, the preacher said, must also be transformed. It was vision which had turned an old dump into Westmount Park, and vision had led Ford to create easy communication and the Wright brothers to fly.

The occasion of the sermon was the observance of the 15th anniversary of Montreal West Presbyterian Church and the 32nd anniversary of Presbyterianism in Montreal West.

SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT

Friday evening, November 13, will be students' night at the Fair to be held by the Catholic Women of Westmount, war work group, in Victoria Hall from November 9 to 14. The Green Room has been engaged for them that evening. In addition to a nickelodeon, there will be an orchestra in attendance.

Bessborough Chapter

The regular monthly meeting of the Earl of Bessborough Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be held on Thursday, November 5, at the home of Mrs. S. E. Taylor, 2324 Beaconsfield avenue. The guest speaker will be Miss A. I. Vall, who will take as her subject, "Social Service."

Flt. Sgt. H. Henry Speaks To Westmount Rotary

Personal Experiences of More Than Thirty Raids Over Enemy Country

The high spots of a personal experience born of more than thirty continuous raids over enemy territory was the off-record subject of Flight Sergeant Henry's informal talk yesterday as guest speaker to the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall.

The simple, unaffected, forthright talk of the fair-haired, boyish-looking Flight Sergeant held the large Rotarian gathering — that included a group from No. 1 Squadron Air Cadets Canada — and many visitors to the end, when Flight Sergeant Henry was given an ovation.

Towards the conclusion of his address, Flight Sergeant Henry digressed for a few moments to pay a compliment to the Women's Division of the R.C.A.F., who are, he said, rendering invaluable aid to the war effort.

Leslie A. Collins introduced the guest speaker and made reference to the splendid record of overseas service of Flt.-Sgt. Henry.

The vote of thanks was moved by William Bone, who thanked the speaker for having taken the Rotarians for a trip over Germany. Mr. Bone said he thought it would be a good thing to have Flt.-Sgt. Henry give a series of

CONSERVATIVES MAKE CHOICE OF DELEGATES

Meeting in Victoria Hall Last Night Largely Attended

G. B. Foster, K.C., John G. Porteous and Mrs. Owen Rede Campbell were nominated at last night's meeting of the St. Antoine-Westmount Conservative Association at Victoria Hall, as delegates to the Conservative Convention in Winnipeg in December. The alternates were William Carswell, Paul Desjardins and Leslie Boyd. George Campbell, K.C., was chairman of the meeting, and Edward Greenwood, secretary.

W. R. Bulloch, former M.L.A., who was present at the meeting, disagreed sharply with the results of the Port Hope meeting. He did not enlarge on the subject, but said he felt that many changes in Conservative Party policy were necessary in order to maintain the support of the members. He declared he could not accept the principles laid down at Port Hope, and felt that they were a mere "grasping for votes."

THE BOYS' BRIGADE MARKED THE ANNUAL FOUNDER'S DAY

The 1st Montreal-Westmount Company were highly honoured at having the Montreal Battalion parade to their Church last Sunday morning, marking the Annual Founder's Day service which this year falls upon the 60th birthday of the Boys' Brigade. The boys assembled in goodly numbers, parading to the church with the bands of the 1st and 10th Companies in the lead. A most inspiring address was delivered by Rev. H. T. Pickup, guest preacher for this occasion, whose message was in the form of a challenge to the boys to set a high standard, like unto Daniel, that they may go forward in these dark and difficult days, but with Christ as their Captain, leading others onward in this great Christian crusade.

This past Friday the Company enjoyed one of the most thrilling drill periods conducted by Sgt. Paul News, former officer of the 2nd Chester Company, England. Sgt. News, a most efficient instructor, has won the affection and admiration of all the boys in the Company and they sincerely hope he will be able to carry on with them for some time to come. Captain J. H. Richardson enrolled the following boys following the meeting: Privates: (Continued on Page 3) talks, similar to the one he had just given, throughout Canada. A group of No. 1 Squadron Air Cadets Canada were guests of Westmount Rotary. They were introduced by A. B. Williamson, deputy chairman of the Fellowship Committee, who invited any member of the gathering who entertained doubts as to the spirit of the rising generation to look at the air cadets present and set all his doubts at naught.

The cadet party was in charge of Flight Sergeant Ivan Leger. Those composing the party were Corporal David Townsend, Cpl. Glen Magee, Cpl. Ronald Somers, Cadet Noel Brooks, Cadet John Charters, Cadet James Kennedy, Cadet Charles Hazen, Cadet Gordon Pollock.

Herbert Welham introduced the following out-of-town guests: Dr. Robert McDonald, Sarnia; Dr. H. D. Johnston, Sault Ste. Marie; L. C. Anderson, St. Catharines; H. L. Henderson, Kemptonville; F. C. Whitaker, president, was chairman of the meeting, and with him at the head table were Flt.-Sgt. Howard Henry, Percy E. Jarman, L. A. Collins, Dr. H. D. Johnston, Sault Ste. Marie, Dr. Robert McDonald, Sarnia, and J. H. Colton.

STUBBORN BRITISH HEALTH

The report of Ernest Brown, British Minister of Health, speaks of the "stubborn good health" of England and Wales, despite food rationing and a shortage of physicians, and attributes the showing to "a spirit of co-operation for the common good." That there should have been no major epidemic, though hundreds of thousands were crowded during air raids in shelters that were anything but sanitary, is certainly cause for gratification.

Particularly striking is the comment that food rationing has revealed "nothing disquieting." Here we see the effect of Sir John Orr's sensational revelations of English malnutrition, made a few years ago, and of the newer knowledge of nutrition. There can be no doubt that the distribution of vitamins, the balancing of diets, the serving of hot meals to workers, the establishment of factory canteens and the compulsory provision of medical service by employers of more than 250 have made it possible to reduce Great Britain's normal food supply without undermining the national health.

Thus far, of course, we have only the first chapter of a story that cannot be fully told until after the war is over. A country which must ration about every necessity of life indefinitely and which rarely sees a sunny day for at least four months of the year cannot hope to escape unscathed. It will be informative to compare the final record with that of the last war.

Though compulsory health insurance had been established in 1911, it was not until physicians had been demobilized that it could exert its full effect. Little was known about vitamins, and hence about deficiency diseases, with the result that more attention was paid to calories than to the values that were made to improve housing, but there were still too many overcrowded slum areas even after the war. Only in recent years have the British made notable progress in controlling the environmental causes of diseases. We must therefore attribute the "stubborn good health" of the English and Welsh to the general improvement of British health services, to the advance in medical knowledge and to popular education rather than to the natural stamina of a very mixed population and to good luck.

"WITH ENGLAND—FOR CANADA"

Every Canadian ought to read the speech delivered over the radio Sunday night last by Major the Reverend J. A. Sabourin, chaplain of Les Fusiliers Mont-Royal in support of the Victory Loan. Father Sabourin spoke for an hour of the events of that historic night of August 18-19 at Dieppe. His words are the words of a true Canadian. No one who loves this country and its people could have helped being deeply moved by his address.

Father Sabourin deplored the remarks of those who keep repeating that the English chose the Canadians for the assault—gave the Canadians the most dangerous role. "While we Canadians were guarding the heart of the Empire," he said; while we watched the English coasts, the English by the thousands fought in Libya, in Africa, and elsewhere. We were chosen for Dieppe because we were the best in the world for the job."

When Lieut.-Col. Dollard Menard called the regiment together before embarkation, and said: "Ca y est, les gars," the explosion of enthusiasm was such as he had never before seen, the abbé recalled. Later he himself told them that many would never see the coasts of England again. But they all took communion and cheerfully offered their lives. "Without the shadow of hesitation, they threw themselves onto the beach in the midst of a curtain of fire, the like of which you cannot imagine, and advanced toward the enemy."

"Of what did we think as we advanced toward Dieppe? We thought of you, we wished to keep from you the horrors of war, we wished to keep Hitler from destroying our faith, our traditions, and all things especially dear to us. We were not fighting for England, but with England for Canada. There are some who still say 'Maudit Anglais.' What stupidity! At this moment I prefer to be a loyal subject of England than any other country in the world, including—alas—France."

"My boys at Dieppe," concluded the speaker, "gave a lesson in courage, in discipline, in obedience, and in faith in their leaders. Isn't it true that we too often want to take the place of the Prime Minister and General MacNaughton? How many of these small slipped strategists there are who throw themselves into the solving of problems of which they don't know the first word."

Dominion Douglas Church Notes

In Dominion-Douglas church next Sunday evening following the service, the Young People's Union will begin a series of programmes which will be of interest to all who attend. Social activities will be followed by seasonal refreshments.

Dr. Lloyd Smith will preach at both services, the topics being: Morning: "Facing a Time Like This." Evening: "Courage" being second in a series entitled "War-time Virtues."

Missionary programmes will be provided in the church school. It is hoped that parents will encourage their children to attend regularly.

Meetings of interest to the women this week will be: Monday, 7:00 p.m. Sewing Circle; Tuesday, 10:00 a.m. Women's Association; Wednesday, 10:00 a.m. Red Cross Unit. To these meetings all ladies are cordially invited.

Your Session at its last meeting decided to try to make November a "Special Church Attendance Month" and that a letter should be sent to every home in our church constituency asking that during the next five Sundays, as far as possible, every member be present at church at least once every Sunday.

It was decided also to take a "Gallup Poll" of the real reasons which lead some folk to come to church and lead others to stay away. You will be given an "Opinion Ballot" upon which the members of your household are invited to mark an "X" beside those reasons which express sincere opinions. You may indicate as many reasons as do truly express your opinions. Blank lines have been left to enter other reasons which operate in your special case.

This ballot is to be entirely anonymous. You are asked to mail the ballots to the church or put them in a receptacle which will be found on the table in the narthex.

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures are being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of next week are hidden. Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age. Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible. All answers must be in this office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue. A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper. The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers, as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers.

The winners of last week's contest are as follows and their passes will be received in Monday's mail:

Mrs. H. Trott, 4326 Sherbrooke W., Apt. 36; Greta Yates, 39 St. Anne Ave.; Douglas Ross, 4628 St. Catherine W.; Mrs. S. Read, 3155 St. Antoine St.; Barbara Sheridan, 110 Selby St.; Mrs. J. A. L. Strathy, 511 Claremont Ave.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

The following appeared in Western Farm Leader of Calgary:

BRAVE NEW WORLD
"In considering the problems of reconstruction, it cannot be too much emphasized that the post-war period will not of itself offer us a brave new world in which to live," stated Dr. Cyril James, principal of McGill University, in an address before a large Calgary audience recently. Dr. James is the head of the organization which is today planning reconstruction policies for Canada.

He pointed out that "we shall not find ourselves with greatly enlarged opportunities when the war is over, because everything that we have done during the course of war will automatically affect the pattern of our society when peace comes."

We hope to return to the subject of Dr. James' address at a later date, because what he has to say upon the necessity for a clear-sighted approach to the tasks of reconstruction is important. It gives no encouragement to those groups in Canada wedded to the idea that we can return after the war to the former condition of things.

For the moment, however, we will be content with a brief quotation from the portion of his address in which he dealt with Agriculture.

"Under the group of domestic problems which are affected by international factors," he said, "is the whole reorganization of Canadian Agriculture. Canadian agriculture cannot be studied except in terms of American, Argentine, South African and Australian agriculture, while we must also take account of European conditions in regard to the probable demand for foodstuffs."

"I am not saying that international factors offer the whole answer. They do not. It has been suggested to me (and I am not an authority for this figure because I am neither an agricultural expert nor a nutritional expert) that if we could raise every individual in this country to the basic nutritional standard which is regarded by our scientists as essential for physical well-being, it would require an increase of some twenty-five per cent in the total production of agricultural goods in Canada to supply the needs of the Canadian population alone. Canadians are now studying nutrition. We shall, I hope, do some of the things that are being done in Great Britain and the United States to make possible the effective nutrition of the poorest groups in the community, and it is obvious that such a policy will affect agriculture, although I hasten to add that even if you brought everybody up to the best standard of nutrition they would not eat all of the Canadian wheat output. Canada would still have problems of re-adaptation in agriculture, taking account of new domestic demands as well as of preferences in the international exchange of goods."

"We shall lose this war," declared John G. Winant, U.S.A. Ambassador in London, in a speech to Durham miners on June 6th, "unless as well as crushing Fascism we also destroy 'depression democracy' and in its place establish 'service democracy'."

Commenting on this statement The Co-operative News, Manchester, England, points out that service democracy applied to economics is the great discovery and achievement of co-operation. The immense commercial and industrial undertakings operated so successfully by co-operators for service to themselves and their fellow members prove that service can provide the motive power to drive the economic machine.

"Co-operation," the News article goes on to say, "has never asked for a subsidy; capitalism is only kept alive by doing it with subsidies. Co-operation provides an automatic regulator—between

STOP ME

Something Unusual

William Faversham was playing in "The Squaw Man" in St. Louis. The dramatic critic on a certain morning newspaper described in considerable detail how Mr. Faversham wore his hair and the way his neck was shaved. His acting was scarcely mentioned.

Later in the week a cub reporter on the same journal interviewed the actor and, among other things, inquired, "What did you think of the criticism of your play in our paper?"

"Well," replied Faversham, "I have played 'The Squaw Man' in every important city in the United States, but this is the first time a barber was ever sent to criticize the play."

What's Her Last Name?

A girl fresh from the West Highlands visited a sister living in Glasgow. At the outskirts of the town she stopped at a tollbar and began to rap smartly with her knuckles on the gate. The keeper, amused at the girl's action, and curious to know what she wanted, came out, when she very demurely interrogated him as follows:

"Is this Glesca?"

"Yes."

"Is Peggy in?"

Carnegie's Method
Andrew Carnegie employed a simple but conclusive test in hiring office boys. He would give them some parcels to unwrap. Their employment depended upon whether they carefully untied the knots and saved the string or snipped it off and threw it away.

Whom did the canny Scot employ? One guess. Wrong. The boys who cut the string got the jobs. "The days of string-saving," observed the capitalist, "are over."—Wall Street Journal.

CALVARY CHURCH NOTES

The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed on Sunday next in Calvary United Church. The Minister, Capt. the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., will conduct the service and preach the sermon on the theme "Marching with the Music." Dr. Matheson, of Scotland once said in his own revealing way, "Weary is the march without the Music." These are days when we greatly need the music for the march of life. All who are striving to follow the Lord Jesus Christ are most earnestly invited to attend and share in the Communion service.

At the evening service at 7:30 p.m., Dr. Jones will preach on the theme "Our Church's Witness in a World at War." This will be a service of Christian propaganda—setting forth the facts of the Church at work at home and abroad. The Church is at times the object of criticism, and frequently by those who know the church only from the outside. This will be the "inside" story of the life and work of the United Church. It is a record of which to be proud—it is also a story of appeal and challenge.

The Sunday School will meet in all departments at 10:00 a.m. The morning hour is proving a most satisfactory one for the Christian educational work of the congregation.

The Young People's Union will meet on Monday at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, 10:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., the Red Cross Unit will meet for this important branch of work.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Association will be held on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

On Wednesday at 8:15 p.m., the midweek service for Prayer and Bible Study will be held.

A special date to remember and keep—Thursday, November 12, an Illustrated Lecture will be given in the Church Auditorium by Capt. T. W. Jones, on Beautiful Heroic Britain, the home of the Minivers, the Joneses, the Kellies and the MacPhersons. Real scenes of beauty and scenes of war's devastation will illustrate the lecture.

Stately Old English Papers Bow To War Exigencies

London Times, Daily Telegraph and Others Reduced To A Scant Few Pages, But Carry on Unhindered By Political Interference — Cannot be Wiped Out

The tremendous difficulties that face the newspapers and the publishing business in general in England were vividly and clearly outlined by Walter R. Legge, editor of the Granby Leader, in an address delivered at a luncheon of the Montreal branch of the Canadian Women's Press Club in the Ritz Carlton hotel on Saturday last.

It was Mr. Legge's first public address since his return from Great Britain where he had made an extensive tour, studying, in particular, conditions created by the war in the newspaper world. Rationing of newsprint and other restrictions, said the speaker, had forced the papers in the Old Country to very considerably reduce the size of their publications, and to illustrate his remarks he produced copies of some of the leading newspapers which had been cut down to mere "sheets", which, however, as he pointed out, gave a most satisfactory "coverage" of the news.

The Daily Telegraph, which in normal times had an average of twenty-eight pages, now appeared on four, and the world known publication "The Times", had been reduced from forty-two to eight pages.

Naturally, with a restriction of space, advertising had to be reduced accordingly.

News had to be condensed to the limit, but even with the lack of space the principal world events were given in a satisfactory, if much restricted, form.

Strange as it might seem, said Mr. Legge, it was impossible to buy a newspaper at the news stands unless a copy had been ordered in advance. And to have a paper delivered at one's own address was considered a high privilege.

Since the newspaper "game" like a show, must "go on," provisions had been made for the publication of newspapers in fully equipped plants underground, in bomb proof shelters, where they could be edited, set up and printed under all circumstances and conditions.

The speaker incidentally remarked that in spite of contentions, which he qualified as "rantings," expressed by Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, that the liberty of the press had been throttled in Great Britain, newspapers in the Old Country were not directed as to what to print by the Government or anybody else.

The papers could print whatever they liked, just as "orators" could say what they thought fit from their soap boxes in Hyde Park or elsewhere. When the question was put to a member of the Government as to why such liberty was given to those public speakers, the minister had remarked: "A good ventilation system has got to be provided in all buildings and in all organizations."

The publishers, said Mr. Legge, were extremely careful in publishing nothing that might in any way give comfort or information to the enemy or otherwise hurt the Allied cause. They were neither forced nor coerced in any manner by the Government. They acted with the utmost freedom but fully understood their patriotic duties and obligations and acted accordingly.

The address was followed with keen attention by the large attendance of newspaper women who were evidently deeply interested in the speaker's remarks.

Mrs. E. N. Little, president of the club, occupied the chair, and in a few well chosen brief remarks introduced the guest speaker who was thanked at the conclusion of his address by H. E. McCormick, president and managing director of the Monitor Publishing Company.

Short History Of Stanley Church

By W. D. REID, D.D., Minister Emeritus

The 68th anniversary of the founding of Stanley Presbyterian Church, Westmount, and the 28th anniversary of the opening of the new Stanley Church, was celebrated on Sunday, October 25th, 1942. The preacher was the Rev. Andrew R. Osborn, D.D., of Spring Street Presbyterian Church, New York, N.Y. Dr. Osborn, is well and favourably known in Montreal, having supplied for a time in Knox Crescent and Calvin-Westminster Churches in this city.

Stanley Church has had a long and interesting history. On the 26th of May, 1874, a small company of people—64 in all—met in the schoolroom of old Knox Church, which stood on the corner of Dorchester and Mansfield streets where the Sun Life Building now stands, and decided to start a new Presbyterian Church in connection with the Canadian Presbyterian Church. They had all been members of Erskine Church, which then stood on the corner of St. Catherine and Windsor streets. The cause of their coming out had been the smuggling in of an organ to lead the praise in Erskine Church which had hitherto been led by a Presbyterian. The leader of the group was the late Sir William Dawson, principal of McGill University. The Rev. John Scrimger presided at the meetings, and received 64 certificates that were handed in—the first one being that of Sir William Dawson.

It was decided to commence services forthwith. St. George's Anglican Church kindly loaned them their schoolroom where services were carried on all summer. A session was organized consisting of George Rodgers, James Ross, David MacFarlane and James Middleton. A building site was purchased on Stanley street adjoining the Windsor Hotel, and the schoolroom was opened on the 9th of December, 1874, by the Rev. R. F. Burns of Cote St. Church, and Dr. MacVicar of the Presbyterian College. The Rev. J. C. Baxter of Scotland, who had been the stated supply for a time, was unanimously called and was inducted into the charge on the 7th of May, 1875. He held the pastorate until 1878, when he resigned to go back to Scotland. The Rev. James McCaul was then called, and inducted into the pastorate on the 4th of February, 1879, and carried on a most energetic work until his health failed and he resigned on April 6, 1886. He was succeeded by the Rev. F. M. Dewey who was then called, and preached his first sermon on the 3rd of October 1886. For nearly a quarter of a century afterwards, Dr. Dewey carried on the work in Stanley, when, after a long and lingering illness, he was called to the higher service above.

For two years the Rev. W. J. Fowler filled the pulpit as stated supply. It was then thought by the Presbytery that Stanley was going out of business and the church would be sold. A meeting of Presbytery was called to consider funeral rites, but the funeral was postponed. However a call was issued to the Rev. W. D. Reid, who was then Superintendent of Missions in Alberta and who had been a member of the church, a member of the choir and a Sunday School teacher in his student days. The call was accepted, and Dr. Reid was inducted into the charge on June 21st, 1912. Dr. Reid carried on the work for 25 years. Services were conducted in the old Stanley Church until May 1913. Seeing that there was no future for the church surrounded by so many large Presbyterian Churches, and the ever increasing drift westward, the congregation decided to move to the Upper Level of Westmount. After a prolonged battle in Presbytery in which the local Westmount Ministers fought against allowing the removal to that locality, the Stanley men won and the permission was granted. In May 1913 services were begun in the Roslyn School Hall while the new church was building. The Roll when moved to the new site stood at 93 members. At the first Communion 86, many of them strangers, sat at the Lord's Table. After a pastorate of 25 years to the day, and having received 1,900 new members into the church, Dr. Reid resigned, leaving Stanley Church one of the strongest Presbyterian Churches in Canada. He was succeeded by the present popular pastor, Dr. Frank S. Morley, who is now carrying on the work of Stanley Church with great success. Undoubtedly there is still a great work for Stanley Church to do in its present location.

POLICE CONCERT PLANS READY

Directed by the Misses Dorothy and Verna Evans, the Evans Sisters Troop Show will be the feature of the 24th annual concert of the Montreal Police Department for the benefit of the Merchant Marine which will be held under the patronage and kind permission of Fernand Dufresne, Director of Police, in the Catholic Sailors Club on November 12.

Included in the program will be Therese Lemieux of Verdun, with Walter Jackson and Joe Landermann, Barbara Brooks, a tap dancer, and Geraldine MacKinnon in a military toe dance, are like Mr. Jackson, residents of Westmount and Monique and Andre Bernard in a juvenile song and dance team hall from Verdun. Miss Dorothy Evans appears as a one-man band. Helena Lawton and Violet White appear in a Hawaiian dance and the Gypsy troubadours fill out the bill.

Separately on the program appear king of accordionists, Pat Marazza and his junior accordion band and several other entertaining features.

Soviet Minister Is Concert Patron

Much interest has been aroused by the fact that His Excellency, Theodore Gusev, newly appointed minister of the U.S.S.R. to Canada, will make his first Montreal appearance at the concert to be directed by Eugene Ormandy in the Forum on Friday, November 6th. This symphonic concert which is being sponsored by Montreal Festivals will inaugurate a national All to Russia Drive.

Eugene Ormandy, conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, will bring to Montreal for the concert several members of his orchestra to augment the usual Montreal Festival personnel. Associate conductor of the Philadelphia orchestra and its first trumpet; William Kincaid, first flutist; Anton Torelli, first bass; James Chambers, French horn player; Marcel Tabuteau, first oboe player.

Coming from New York also will be soloists who will sing in the beloved Ninth Symphony of Beethoven, the only symphony written for voice and orchestra. Kurt Baum, tenor of the New York Metropolitan, who made a triumphant debut with that organization last season; Judith Hellwig, continental soprano recently arrived on this continent and now in the midst of a successful American concert season; Jean Watson, young Canadian mezzo-soprano at present singing in New York, and James Pease, American bass-baritone, who made his debut with the Philadelphia Opera last winter will comprise the quartet who will be accompanied by the choir of Les Disciples de Massenet, under Charles Goulet's direction.

One half of the program will be made up of the Ninth Symphony.

TWINS ARE CHRISTENED
The christening of the infant twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Illsley took place on Sunday afternoon in St. Stephen's Church, the Rev. Harold Laws officiating. One baby was given the names of Penelope Jane, her godparents being Mrs. Victor Whitehead, Mrs. F. S. B. Heward and Mr. H. K. Hephurn. The other baby was given the names of Susan Mary, her godparents being Miss Ada Wardle, of Staffordshire, England, for whom Mrs. I. T. Archibald stood proxy; Mrs. E. Van Buskirk, of Aylmer, Que., for whom Mrs. Andrew H. Allan stood proxy, and Captain C. W. Illsley, of Toronto, the children's uncle, for whom Mr. Andrew H. Allan stood proxy.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Illsley entertained informally at their residence, 124 Claudioboye avenue.

CABLING LAID ON ROADS HERE FOR TELEPHONE

Bell Company Workers Installing Improved Line From Ottawa in Existing Conduits

The Montreal section of telephone cabling laid this year from Ottawa is now being installed in existing conduit under West-End streets, according to John Rhind, Bell Telephone manager here.

"Although wartime shortages of materials have reduced new telephone construction to a minimum, certain projects essential to the maintenance of vital service for war purposes have to be carried out," Mr. Rhind said. "Such a project is the linking of the capital and this metropolis through underground storm-proof cable."

The local section now being placed consists of some seven and one-half miles of cable extending from the Montreal long distance centre on Belmont street to the telephone repeater station at De Beaulieu, beyond Vandreville.

The span between Ottawa and De Beaulieu was completed recently. Except for a 16-mile stretch between Green Valley and Monkland, where the cable was carried on poles, the 80-mile inter-city circuits are underground, buried by means of a special plough drawn by powerful tractors.

Making their long journey between the two cities, telephone voice currents will be boosted at De Beaulieu and Chertsville by powerful vacuum tube amplifiers similar to the tubes in a radio receiving set. At intervals of 18 to 20 miles along the route, the electrical impulses will be renewed at auxiliary repeater stations, one of which is now under construction at Pointe Claire.

The Montreal-Ottawa cable, it is expected, will be in service by the end of the year. By 1944, this cable job will have been extended to Toronto, according to present plans.

FARE FOR SALVAGE
Two thousand children in Bishop Auckland, England, were given a ride each day for a week on a miniature railway for a bundle of waste paper or books.

The 1942 vegetable crops throughout Canada are generally above average in size and quality.

Special Salvage Drive Nov. 2-7 Inclusive

All Citizens Are Asked to Give Their Full Support To This Patriotic Work

Apart from the usual continuous salvage collection which is made throughout the city, there will be a Special Salvage Drive for one week commencing Nov. 2nd to 7th inclusive.

The following materials are most urgently needed for the war effort: scrap iron and steel, rubber, aluminum, lead, zinc, copper, brass, bottles, fats and bones, metal foil; besides numerous other miscellaneous articles such as: phonograph records, coat hangers, batteries, bed springs, carpets, bolsters, and mattresses. There is also a special need for magazines of all kinds as reading matter for our men in uniform.

All newspaper and other waste-paper should be disposed of with other refuse in the usual way, as owing to the surplus of this material at present on hand throughout the district, special collections of paper have been temporarily discontinued.

How to have your salvage collected:
If, after searching the house from attic to basement you find you have two or three small cartons or bundles of salvage, amounting to less than fifty pounds, place these beside your garbage cans on your collection day and they will be taken direct to the salvage depot. You need not fear that your cartons or bundles collected in this manner are overlooked as every garbage vehicle is compelled to stop at the salvage depot, to unload these special bundles, before proceeding to the incinerator. If, however you have fifty pounds or more please call F.I. 8531, War Salvage, and a cart will be sent to pick it up. Please do not call for a special collection for smaller quantities.

A tremendous stimulus has been given to the loan campaign in the metropolitan area by the thrilling pro-British speech of Abille Sabourin, the heroic captain of Les Fusiliers Mont Royal at Dieppe at a meeting which honored him and Col. Menard in Montreal.

Parade Tonight
Representatives of more than 100,000 war workers from all sections of the Montreal area will stage one of the biggest and most colorful parades seen in Montreal in recent years when they go to bat for Victory Loan tonight. More than 5,000 workers equipped with torches will be the mainstay of a long parade which will include 22 floats, detachments from the three fighting forces and from the police and will move along Sherbrooke street from McGill College avenue to Closse street, streaming into the Forum where they will stage their own rally.

Much of the talent for the show will come from the workers themselves and this will include a brilliant performance by Toto the Clown, renowned through the centres of Europe and America. When the war came "Toto" stopped clowning and laid aside his grease paint to take up the tools of war in a local munitions plant.

On the night of the show he will forget work for a spell and get back into the familiar togs to entertain his fellow war workers in their drive to put Canada's Third Victory Loan over the top. The program will also include aerial acrobatics by the "Flying Marinos" who will climax four days of public entertainment in city squares.

Other big events of the week in connection with the loan was the

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD A PARTY

Westmount Park Church Organization Celebrates Hallow'en in Advance

The Young People of Westmount Park had a most enjoyable evening at their meeting last Tuesday evening when a Hallow'en party was held. A number of young people from Tyndale House were guests and helped to add to the fun. Games under the direction of Joyce Thornber and Gladys Thornber with ghostly stories were in keeping with Hallow'en. Refreshments were looked after by Ila Pettigale. A short vesper service closed the evening. Frank McPhee as leader.

It is hoped as many as possible of the young people of Westmount Park would be at the induction service of the new Minister, Rev. Mr. Goth, on Friday evening.

C.W.A.C. GRADUATES FACE NEW DUTIES WITH HIGH RESOLVE

"To be trained like the C.W.A.C. girls, to enlist in the most dramatic act ever staged in the history of women in Canada, to give service to our empire like men! What a moment to recall after this war is over!" writes an observer who was present at the recent graduation exercises at the Canadian Women's Army Corps Training Centre, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, P.Q.

The writer records her impressions as follows: "As the smartly clad feminine figures marched across the sunlit college grounds, answering the orders issued by their officers with quick precision and rhythmic grace, a voice nearby was heard to remark 'I cannot see the sense of treating women like men, putting them into uniform and drilling them like soldiers destined for the battle-front. Why cannot they serve their country as cooks, stenographers, motor drivers and in other services without aping men, wearing brass buttons, military uniforms and drilling in this way. I think it is just another item of expense for the Canadian Government.'"

Criticisms Gained "With regard to the remarks overheard, such criticism is easily gained. To begin with Canada's army of women are sent to their training centres and given a few weeks' intensive military drill, map reading and other studies, along with physical training and deportment. This period of exercise, under the direction of skilled physical drill instructors is offered so that the women recruits may become hardened and built up physically. Therefore, when they undertake their war duties they are stronger and better fitted to give good service.

"Discipline is one of the benefits included in the course of training. Many cadets have never realized the true meaning of discipline in their sheltered way of life. Every psychologist realizes the truth of this statement and the value of control in mental and moral education. "With regard to equipping the army girls with uniform and all the accessories necessary for their outfit, it is well to recall that when the girls graduate and enter the active service as stenographers, filing clerks, cooks, ambulance drivers or whatever type of service they undertake, they receive less in actual cash than their sisters in mutti who are employed in similar work. But the army girls are proud to be serving their country shoulder to shoulder with their menfolk. They more than repay the Government for the cost of their military equipment or the cost of their humble salaries.

Officers Attend "Many outstanding naval, military and air force officers attending the demonstration that day at Ste. Anne de Bellevue helped to make the event a memorable one. The only woman major-general in the British Army, Major-General Jean Knox, controller-general of the Auxiliary Territorial Service of Great Britain, in presenting the girls to the graduates, gave each girl a few words of congratulation and a handshake that brought a proud smile to the faces of the new officers. "I watched the smart precision squad and I remember the women of devastated Europe, who having suffered greatly, would welcome the opportunity of leaping forward if their governments summoned them to save their blood-stained land from the enemy's clutches. To them it would be the call of a saviour, the very voice of Providence. But they cannot do so. Fortunately, Canadian women can, and are doing their part."

No Witchery Is Needed To Make Hallowe'en Party A Fun-Filled Success

Soldiers and Hallowe'en chocolate tarts belong in the party picture.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX Hallowe'en parties are more than ever in order this year. We need to relax once in a while, so let's celebrate on Hallowe'en. Simply, of course, and within our budget. But with friends, with fun and with something good to eat. A few inexpensive chicken croquettes, with an egg sauce made yellow with chopped hard cooked egg yolk, served with hard rolls and hearts of celery, will brighten any party. Here's an easy recipe.

Chicken Croquettes (Makes 8)
Three tablespoons quick taploca, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, 2 tablespoons minced pimiento, 1-2 cup milk, 1-2 cup chicken stock, 1-1/2 cups chopped cooked chicken, sifted bread or cracker crumbs, 1 egg beaten with 3 tablespoons milk and dash of salt.

Hallowe'en Chocolate Tarts (Makes 6)
One recipe prepared chocolate pudding, 6 tart shells. Prepare chocolate pudding as directed on package, reducing milk to 3-4 cups to make a slightly thicker filling. Cool; pour into tart shells. Decorate tops with pastry cut-out of pumpkin faces.

Catholic Mothers Will Entertain At Children's Party

The Catholic Mothers' Club of Westmount will sponsor a Hallowe'en party for girls and boys of the Ascension Parish on Saturday evening from 7 until 9.30 o'clock, in the assembly hall of St. Leo's Academy. Moving pictures will be shown, and prizes will be given to the boys and girls wearing the best, the most original, and the funniest costumes. The young guests will be received by the president of the club, Mrs. A. A. Paré, and members will help to entertain the children. Mrs. Maurice Shea and Mrs. P. J. Melvin are conveners for the party.

It is hoped that parents will co-operate by bringing the younger children to the party and by making the necessary arrangements for their safe return home. It is stated.

Catholic War Workers To Hold Fair in Hall

The first major effort to raise funds for their war services will be made next week by the Catholic Women of Westmount. War Work Group, under the convener of Mrs. A. A. Paré and Mrs. J. O. Marchand. The work-rooms at No. 444 Mount Pleasant Avenue are a veritable bee-hive of industry to have all in readiness for the November fair. Hundreds of ornaments, costume jewelry, toilet preparations, wearing apparel, hand knitted goods and a wide variety of hand painted articles, home made jams, jellies and pickles are being marked at bargain prices for sale. The Fair will be held in Victoria Hall from November 9 to 14. Make no vows to perform this or that; it shows no great strength, and makes thee ride behind thyself.—Fuller.

China's "Fight For Peace" Described By Madame Yuen

"A victorious China is our guarantee for peace in the Pacific; China is fighting for peace and freedom in China, and for peace and freedom in the world," said Madame Yuen, addressing the Westmount Women's Club at the meeting held on Friday afternoon in Victoria Hall. Madame Yuen, president of the Montreal Chinese Ladies' Society, who took as her subject, "The People of Free China," told her audience that "The hatred, bitterness and suffering the Chinese have undergone in their war with Japan have increased their resistance a thousandfold; China is a nation tempered in the fires of war."

Tells of Rebirth
Describing the events which led up to Japan's aggression and invasion, the speaker told of China's rebirth prior to 1931, when a spirit of renaissance spread over the country. National reconstruction was getting under way, and the Chinese people were being trained in self-government; Japan saw these signs of a new China and invaded Manchuria in 1931. The gallant efforts of the Chinese delegate at the League of Nations meeting which declared Japan the aggressor, failed, Madame Yuen said. When Japan annexed still more portions of China, people begged Generalissimo Chiang-Kai Shek to go to war; but he said "There are plans for salvation for the nation, and we cannot change those plans, because the life of the nation depends on them; we must wait." A crisis was precipitated, the speaker said, but added that China's university professors, writers, lawyers and students all declared they would support Chiang.

Women Share Work
"Women, too, have shared the hard work in China's war effort," the speaker said, mentioning a dramatic episode which took place when 300 Chinese women moved ammunition to safety before the advance of the enemy. "China is looking to the future with hope and confidence, and is even planning for the day when peace will return," said Madame Yuen; "she will take her rightful place in the brotherhood of nations; her social and economic life will function towards the Americas; let us hope that bond of friendship existing between our people in the Pacific may be further strengthened with the passing of the years," she concluded.

Mrs. C. D. French thanked the speaker. W. R. Bullock spoke briefly.

Sodality Will Hold Hallowe'en Social

A Hallowe'en social will be held tomorrow in St. Leo's Academy Hall under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Sodality of the Parish of the Ascension of Our Lord.

This social is to be held under the patronage of Rev. W. E. McDonagh and the proceeds are to go to the Queen's Canadian Fund. The general convener is Miss Gerry Brown; Miss Lorraine Hart is in charge of telephone; Carol Melville, refreshments; Betty Brown, decorations and Anne Landy, programs.

on behalf of the third Victory Loan campaign; it was moved that the club would purchase a $100 Victory Bond. Mrs. Iris Alton sang, accompanied by Miss Vera Groves. A period of silence was observed in honor of the memory of Mrs. Stanton Robinson, a member of the club who died recently. Mrs. J. A. Gillespie recited a poem concerning a doll and its "trousseau," for which a drawing will be held soon in aid of the club's social service work. Mrs. R. M. Macaulay, president, was in the chair.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED

by
GERALDINE BRIETZCKE

Talk for hours, if you must, but let it be while visiting or being visited, and not over the telephone. Remember the old days, when you could ring up Marjorie and dictate recipes to her in a leisurely way after your afternoon's work was done, and the clock ticked peacefully in a shining and spotless kitchen; or how you could read her the latest letter from Dorothy, and make suitable, not to say exhaustive, comment? Well, those days are gone forever.

That telephone is a vitally necessary instrument in time of war, and as the local telephone company has said, it is part of a system which cannot grow. It is a purely physical fact—it cannot grow.

Copper, rubber, aluminum and zinc, they tell us, are no longer available, and without them, new telephone facilities can't be built.

In addition to this, there are now more calls being made than ever before. It begins to look like the theory of the irresistible force meeting the immovable object, doesn't it? So the only thing to do is to reduce the force and give the object a chance.

On the inside of the front cover of our local 'phone book, it says that in Montreal and vicinity there are over 75,000 calls to "Information" in the average day; worse still, it adds that 55,000 of these calls are unnecessary. Think of that! Thousands upon thousands of patient searches made by patient employees of the telephone company, as well as hours and hours of lost time and busy lines.

simply because of laziness on the part of people who couldn't be bothered to use the directory, or used it carelessly.

The worst offenders in the matter of what might be termed telephone greed are those with the least important news to impart, we have discovered. This is true in the case of those who have grievances, and who can tell you, from twenty or thirty different verbal angles, just why or how they are offended with Miss Blinks, who left their name off the mailing list of the Jolly Awfuls Group.

Then there are the nice friendly people who don't bore you at all, but who could go on for ever, telling you funny stories and being interested in your doings and entertaining you generally. This latter type of conversation is a regrettable war casualty, and we are sorry, but we'll have to be firm about it. We'll have to be firm about the whole thing.

A Westmount lady, who is interested in people, animals and everything about her, noticed the other morning that the milkman, (a rather thin, frail man) was accompanied on his rounds by a different horse than the one he had hitherto driven. She asked him why.

"Oh, they gave him to me to fatten up," he told her, "I let him take it easy; for instance, where there's a big hill, like Clarke avenue, I leave him at the bottom of the slope and deliver the milk up the hill on foot." And now, who's going to fatten the milkman?

Red Cross "Disaster Menus" Are Ready To Feed Homeless If Bombs Fall On U.S.

New York Unit Proves Efficiency in Surprise "Emergency" Call

Some young "refugees" who took part in the Queen's Red Cross Unit's surprise emergency demonstration get their quota of a "disaster" meal.

NEW YORK. — If bombs fell on America tomorrow, how quickly and efficiently could women canteen workers get to the scene of trouble with healthful, "disaster meals" for bewildered, homeless civilians? The Red Cross doesn't have to guess to get the answer.

In a recent surprise test, probably the first of its kind in the country, the ARC's Central Chapter of Queens, New York, gave a demonstration of speed and efficiency which is considered a model for similar units all over the country.

The volunteers taking part in the test were told merely that some time between midnight Friday and midnight Saturday they would be called on for some kind of emergency "active duty." They were not told the time they would be called, or what they would have to do. One sat up most of the night in her uniform. She finally concluded nothing would happen, so went to bed only to be called out after a couple of hours' sleep.

Check on Four Angles of Test
Leaders of the chapter ordered the test to determine how well the untrained volunteers could fulfill the following essentials of providing a war disaster meal:

1. Speed of mobilization.
2. Serving of the meal under sanitary conditions, most essential in disasters.
3. Provision of hot, adequate, nourishing food.
4. Efficiency in the teamwork of cooking, and transportation and service of the cooked food.

At 9 a.m. Walter P. Burden, chairman of the Queens Chapter, sounded the emergency call, announcing that the Red Cross had been called on to feed 150 persons on the playing field of a local school. The canteen chairman was ordered to mobilize her corps.

She called the captain of the mobile kitchen unit, who in turn assembled her crew of 10 women at chapter headquarters. In addition, 15 key women were notified, and each in turn called nine others, bringing the grand total of workers mobilized to 180 on practically a moment's notice. All except the 10 were ordered to report later at the playing field.

The 10 at headquarters found there the necessary food, together with paper cups, containers, plates, forks, and spoons that are kept ready for actual emergencies. They prepared a nourishing meal from one of the standard "disaster menus" on file. It consisted of rice a la creole, cole slaw, bread and butter, applesauce and coffee.

Call Took Members By Surprise
The women went at their duties with zest. They prepared the meal quickly and packed the whole business into heavy pots and vacuum containers which they lugged onto their mobile canteen trucks with their own muscle.

Arriving at the high school playing field, they set up the emergency tables which they had also brought, and prepared to serve the meal.

Meanwhile the rest of the 160 mobilized were appearing, some in their cars, others puffing up the long hill from the nearest transit station. They stood by as observers, but prepared to help if necessary.

Many of the women who responded had been caught in the midst of some household job. One was serving breakfast to her family, finished this, but left without breakfast herself. Another was notified by one of her children while in the midst of a shopping tour, abandoned her shopping and went home to don her uniform and hasten to the "disaster" scene.

The feeding was handled quickly and efficiently. In case of extended emergency, the Queens Chapter is prepared to continue "disaster meals" for two days or two weeks, depending on how soon authorities

COL. R. MACDONALD ADDRESSES C.W.I. ON PUBLIC HEALTH

Colonel R. St. J. Macdonald, M.D., Professor of Hygiene at McGill University, was the guest speaker at the membership day meeting held by the Westmount Subdivision, Catholic Women's League, on Friday. His subject was "Public Health in Wartime."

Dr. Macdonald stressed the need of good sanitation, safe drinking water and pasteurized milk, both for the health of the civilian and military population. Mrs. N. W. Dundas thanked Dr. Macdonald.

Mr. J. T. Hackett, K.C., spoke briefly on the Victory Loan drive. Mrs. J. T. Rogers, president of the subdivision, made a presentation to Mrs. T. J. Guilford, president of the Montreal subdivision, on the occasion of the silver jubilee of the C.W.I.

Mrs. G. A. Meagher, convenor of the meeting, reported 24 new members.

Miss V. Cahoon sang, and little Miss Edna Bannerman danced; Mrs. M. O. Phelan thanked the artists.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Colford and her committee.

ENORMOUS NUMBER SENT BY AUXILIARY OF KNITTED GOODS

Montreal headquarters of the Overseas Parcels League, British Minesweepers' Auxiliary, has despatched 16,445 articles of knitted goods to a value of $26,307.98 in the first nine months of this year, according to the report of Mrs. W. S. Lea, president, showing activities to the end of last September.

Mrs. A. Chase Casgrain is now undertaking the organization of a French-speaking branch of the league in this city.

Since its inception in the latter part of 1939, through the efforts of Mrs. L. S. Walgate and a committee of ten other Montreal workers, the league membership has developed nationally and spread into the Panama Zone, it is recorded. Latest figures for the operations of the Toronto offices of the league show that thus far in 1942 they have shipped 11,783 articles to a total value of $15,497.25.

Seaboot Stockings Needed
Seaboot stockings are in particular demand at this season. Mrs. Lea reports that a pair essential to every man on a minesweeper can be knitted from one pound of wool that costs $1.32 when purchased through the league. Socks, scarves, helmets and other items of personal necessity for the 50-

000 men of whom some 3,000 are Canadians in the service are in urgent demand also. The need for knitters is greater than ever before and wool can be supplied at cost to anyone willing to work it into articles that the league regularly distributes.

Chartered under the War Charities Act by the Dominion Government, the league offices are situated at 1412 Drummond street. This auxiliary is a charter member of the Montreal War Services Co-ordinating Council of which J. Hollis Brace, vice-president of the Bell Telephone Company, is chairman.

About 3-4 billion dozen eggs have been produced in Canada during the first eight months of 1942, while the number of laying hens has increased fully 13 per cent to a total of 315 millions. Indications, says the Current Review of Agricultural Conditions in Canada, are that farmers will sell about 17 per cent more chickens as meat than in 1941.

"Now WE hold a Mortgage on Canada Ma!"

"Sure we're working harder than ever—but that never hurt anybody. We're working longer hours and putting our money away in Victory Bonds. Now we'll be paid interest instead of paying it.

"When peace comes we'll have money saved to buy new equipment for our farm—might even put up a new barn—maybe take a holiday!

"Meanwhile, we can't think of any safer or better place to invest our money than in bonds backed by our country. And we can't think of any better purpose than helping our fighting boys get the jump on the enemy. When we read about our lads bombing Germany, we can think that maybe we raised one of those bombs on our own farm.

"So that's our plan from now until peace comes. We will work to save and lend. We'll have it to spend later. And we can look forward to getting that new tractor and that fine new automobile we're saving for now."

"We'll be laying up for ourselves the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS—backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada: they yield a fair rate of interest; we can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when we need cash!

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

Columbia's "They All Kissed the Bride" opened yesterday at the Westmount United Theatre to prove—as though proof were necessary!—that Joan Crawford rates premier billing as one of Hollywood's better comedienne, that Melvyn Douglas is one of the screen's finest romantic comedy stars, that Alexander Hall is filmdom's foremost director of gay love stories.

Miss Crawford appears as the girl in the case, a stuffy tycoon who is forced on a romantic

At York Theatre

The men who write history with their wings—America's flying heroes—are honored in Columbia's new screen drama, "Flight Lieutenant", which is now playing at the York United Theatre with Pat O'Brien, Glenn Ford and Evelyn Keyes.

O'Brien is seen as a daredevil pilot, an ace of the last war and a hero to aviation enthusiasts in the decade which followed, until he crashes one night during a commercial flight. Drunk when he crashed, and responsible for the death of his co-pilot, his license is permanently revoked. Unable to adjust himself to ordinary civilian life, he leaves his young son in America and joins a wildcat airline in the tropics, where he hopes to hide his past. He makes what restitution he can—by anonymously arranging to support his victim's widow and baby daughter—but this fact is of minor meaning and he conceals his action. His own son grows up still thinking that his father is a hero, and dreaming of the day when he, too, will fly for the Army.

According to advance Hollywood reports, "Flight Lieutenant" achieves the dynamic impact of a dive bomber when the boy discovers his father's guilty past, a discovery made the sharper by the realization that the girl he loves actually is the daughter of the man his father killed. Determined, however, to prove his flying blood, the boy enlists as an Army Air Cadet, and proudly accepts an assignment to power-drive a new interceptor plane, an assignment he knows has only one conclusion.

Lesser players, carefully chosen for difficult roles, include such well-known character actors, as Jonathan Hale, Minor Watson, Larry Parks, John Gallaudet and Frank Puglia. Sidney Salkow, one of Hollywood's better action-film directors, wielded the megaphone and B. P. Schulberg produced "Flight Lieutenant".

The supporting players are equally fine. Roland Young appears to delightful perfection as the family barrister who prefers the bar with a brass rail; Billie Burke is seen as a delicious dowager; and Allen Jenkins portrays a rough-and-ready truck driver who teaches Miss Crawford things she never knew about trucking in one of the most hilariously hilarious jittershaking sequences ever filmed. Others in the cast include Helen Parrish, Andrew Tombes, Nydia Weston, Mary Treen, Gordon Jones, Roger Clark and Edward Gargan.

At The Monkland

What are the film preferences of our men in the armed forces? Musicals, straight comedies and action pictures—in that order, according to an extensive survey made under the supervision of William LeBaron, 20th Century Fox producer, whose newest film, "Footlight Serenade", would seem to indicate that he already has his ear to the ground.

LeBaron's purpose in canvassing the army camps was more than merely to uncover their motion picture predilections, although that in itself was sufficient justification for it. But, to the veteran producer, the armed services constitute a broad and accurate cross-section of the entire population. Hence, it follows that, when you determine what our citizen army likes by way of entertainment, you know at once the preferences of the nation as well.

As far as LeBaron is concerned, the boys in uniform will get precisely what they want—which means the general public will too. He is concentrating on lavish musicals, studded with stunning stars and swiny songs.

The first of these is "Footlight Serenade", starring John Payne, Betty Grable and Victor Mature, now playing at the Monkland United Theatre. Jane Wyman, James Gleason, Phil Silvers and Colina Wright, Jr. are featured. Gregory Ratoff directed from a screen play by Robert Ellis, Helen Logan and Lynn Starling, based on a story by Fidel LaBarba and Kenneth Earl, while the topnotch tunes were written by the team of Leo Robin and Ralph Rainger. Hermes Pan staged the dances.

DECEPTION

It is a pity we so often succeed in our attempts to deceive each other, for our double-dealing generally comes down upon ourselves. To speak a lie or to act a lie is alike contemptible in the sight of God and man.—Everton.

FRIENDSHIP

True friendship is rare only because the conditions under which it can grow are so rarely obeyed. Mutual respect, mutual tolerance, mutual interest, and the gift of mutual freedom are the ingredients of friendship. And the greatest of these is freedom.

Hallowe'en! — the one night a year when hobgoblins and witches, elves and imps, reign supreme, when ghosts and bats flit about with a clear conscience, and black cats wail on unmoored by mortal man. For sooth, humanity this night is forced to bow humbly and submit to the influence of the forces of the darkest nether regions, while all manner of mystical things transpire.

The superstitions associated with All Hallow's Eve date back to early pagan times when folk were great believers in the supernatural. Originally, great feasting and celebrating went on for several days in honour of Pomona, the goddess of fruits. Fruit is still an important part of our Hallowe'en festivities.

Different customs prevail in various countries in connection with October 31st. In northern England it is known as Nutcrack Night, while in Yorkshire it is Cake Night. The ancient

At The Snowdon

Mystery, murder and music—plenty of the latter—are mingled merrily in "Sweater Girl", the frolicsome college movie starting Sunday at the Snowdon Theatre with June Preisser and Eddie Bracken.

The special added feature is "The Affairs of Martha," starring Marsha Hunt, Richard Carlson, Virginia Weidler, Allyn Joslyn, Marjorie Main, Frances Drake and Barry Nelson. Billed as "a gay farce of suburban scandal," the picture concerns a family in high society which is agitated by the announcement that a certain housemaid is writing a book of "memoirs." Afraid of its revealing nature the family goes "all out" to stop its publication and complications pile one upon another before things are straightened out. Latest newsreels, and other shorts will complete the program.

graves of relatives and friends. Here in Canada, this is a big occasion for the youngsters. Today, all across the wide expanse of this Dominion, in cities and hamlets, children will be dressing themselves in queer costumes, eating pumpkin pie and going from door to door yelling "Trick or Treat!" or "Hallowe'en Apples!" Apples have long been associated with Hallowe'en, and ducking for them in tubs of water, or eating them off a string is all part of the day's fun. This year Canada's apple crop is somewhat smaller than it has been in previous years, but there will be no shortage of the fruit for Hallowe'en celebrations. Estimates now place the apple crop at approximately 3,858,000 barrels, which is about 1,935,000 barrels short of the 1939 output.

"Whistling in the Dark" presents a comedian famous on the stage but comparatively new to the screen, in one of the funniest offerings in many a season. Adapted from the Broadway stage hit, the picture offers fast-talking Red Skelton, who is famous on the stage in every large city in America, in his first M-G-M starring role. The film is playing at the Kent Theatre Saturday.

Conrad Veidt, who scored in

"A Woman's Face," presents another mysterious character as the sinister leader of the cult racketeers. To add to the hilarity of the picture is "Rags" Ragland, comedy hit of Broadway's "Pamama Hattie."

S. Sylvan Simon, who directed "Keeping Company" and "Washington Melodrama," showed his distinct flair for comedy in his skillful handling of the rapid-fire laughs.

DONALD MCDONALD'S DRAGONS END THEIR LEAGUE SCHEDULE AS JUNIOR SECTION VICTORS

The Dragons Registered Their First Win Last Saturday Morning When They Defeated University School 15-12

Donald McDonald's Dragons ended up their league schedule undefeated in the junior section of the Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League when they eked out two close wins during the past week. The Dragons registered their first win on Saturday morning when they defeated the University School 15-12 in a thrilling game. On Tuesday afternoon they were very lucky to edge out the Red Wings 2-1.

In the other game played during the week, the Tornados won their first game of the season when they shut out the Hurricanes 17-0 on Saturday morning.

With but two games remaining in the league schedule, the teams to participate in the loop play-offs are still unknown. The Dragons and University School are assured of making the post season series but the third team is still a mystery. The Eagles have two games remaining to be played and a win in each of these encounters would place them tied for second place. Yesterday afternoon the Eagles met the Hurricanes and a win in this game would assure them of at least a tie with the Red Wings for third place. The Eagles' second game is with the University School team on Saturday morning.

The University School squad opened the scoring early in the first half when Bruce Schofield pulled down two successive forward passes from Mickey Darling, the second one being behind the Dragon's goal-line for a major score. Both of these passes were caught in smart fashion, as on both occasions Schofield seemed to be well covered by the Dragons' secondary and safety-men. Darling converted the try with a drop-kick to make the score 6-0 for University.

The University team went into a 12-0 lead when Darling broke away for a long run from centre field and before the Dragons could catch up with him he was behind their goal-line for another major score. Darling also converted this via the drop-kick route. At this point the Dragons came into the picture and held their own from then on. Short forward passes and long runs by Ken Black set up scoring plays but none were effective till Black gathered in one of Earl MacDonald's long heaves to cross the University goal-line. The convert was unsuccessful so that score at half-time read 12-5 for University School.

The Dragons had the edge of the play in the second half, breaking out with sensational runs many times only to lose possession of the ball when they got within striking distance of their opponent's line. Black again struck pay-dirt for the Dragons when he accepted a pass from Donald McDonald and outfooted the University players to their goal-line 70 yards away. The convert was again unsuccessful which left the University team on top 12-10.

A furious drive in the last few minutes of the game saw the Dragons bring the ball up to the University School's three-yard-line. The Dragons seemed to have scored on the first down when

Civil Aviation Gains In Canada

Civil aviation in Canada continues to make great strides, the mileage flown by civil aircraft during the first three months of the current year totalling 2,474,662, of which 2,120,906 were revenue miles and 353,756, non-revenue miles. The total number of passengers carried was 32,001, exclusive of crews, and the freight transported aggregated 3,108,083 pounds, in addition to 739,082 pounds of mail.

No attempt has been made to estimate the mileage flown by civil aircraft engaged in forestry patrol, fishery patrol, surveying, advertising, school instruction, and exhibitions, but the hours flown in such services were as follows: forestry patrol, 23, fishery patrol 23, photography-surveying 142, school instruction 1,235, and exhibition 296.

An important phase of civil aviation in Canada is the transportation of freight, express, passengers and mail to the mining districts of the Northwest Territories. Modern-type aircraft now bring many areas once almost inaccessible to within a few hours flying time of large centres of population.

SCORER FOR DODGERS

Paul Governall, Columbia University's All-American candidate, is the National Football League's official scorer for Brooklyn Dodgers games.

STEELERS SECOND CHOICE

George Gonda, star Duquesne back signed by Pittsburgh, was drafted by the Steelers but preferred the Navy Air corps. When the navy turned him down, he asked the Steelers for terms.

TOTEM POLE PRESENT

Corrine Griffith Marshall, wife of the Washington Redskins owner, gave him a totem pole for his 53rd birthday. She had it shipped from Albuquerque, N.M., where it was certified to be several hundred years old.

POWER

Power, unless managed with gentleness and discretion, does not make a man the more hated; no intervals of good humor, no starts of bounty, will atone for tyranny and oppression.—Jeremy Collier.

Earl MacDonald heaved a short one over the line to Bob Harwood but this was called back. A second one was more successful and Donald McDonald gathered it in and then threw himself the remaining foot or so over the line to give his team the important five points to make the score 15-12 in favor of the Dragons.

The University had two or three plays remaining before the game ended but no further scoring resulted.

Picking the stars out would be difficult as the players on both teams were right on their toes. Mickey Darling and Bruce Schofield were again the shining lights for the University team while Ken Black, Earl MacDonald, Donald McDonald, Bob Lunny and Bob Harwood were the best for the winners.

The Dragons were very lucky to in their game with the Red Wings. The Dragons scored a safety-touch in the first half of the game when Waterston fumbled one of Earl MacDonald's kicks and then recovered behind his goal-line but before he could run it out Mickey Bourassa nabbed him. The Red Wings garnered their lone point when Andy Blair booted one over the line in the second half for a rouge.

The Red Wings kept the winners inside of their half of the field the entire second half and were on the Dragons' goal-line on three or four occasions but failed to score on any of these opportunities.

Cold weather and a strong wind bothered the forward passing but Johnnie Waterston pegged a few that were successful for the Red Wings.

Marvin Greenbaum and Cam MacDonald were the best for the Dragons in this game while Waterston, George McLanders, Dennis Skinner, Glassford and Andy Blair shone for the Red Wings.

In the third game of the week Ronni George's Tornados won their first game of the season when they shut out the Hurricanes 17-0.

Marvin Greenbaum and Cam MacDonald carried most of the Tornados' offensive play with Greenbaum's running being especially effective.

The Tornados' touchdowns were tallied by Greenbaum on a running play, Cam MacDonald on receiving a forward pass from Greenbaum and Dave Ross after intercepting a Hurricane forward pass.

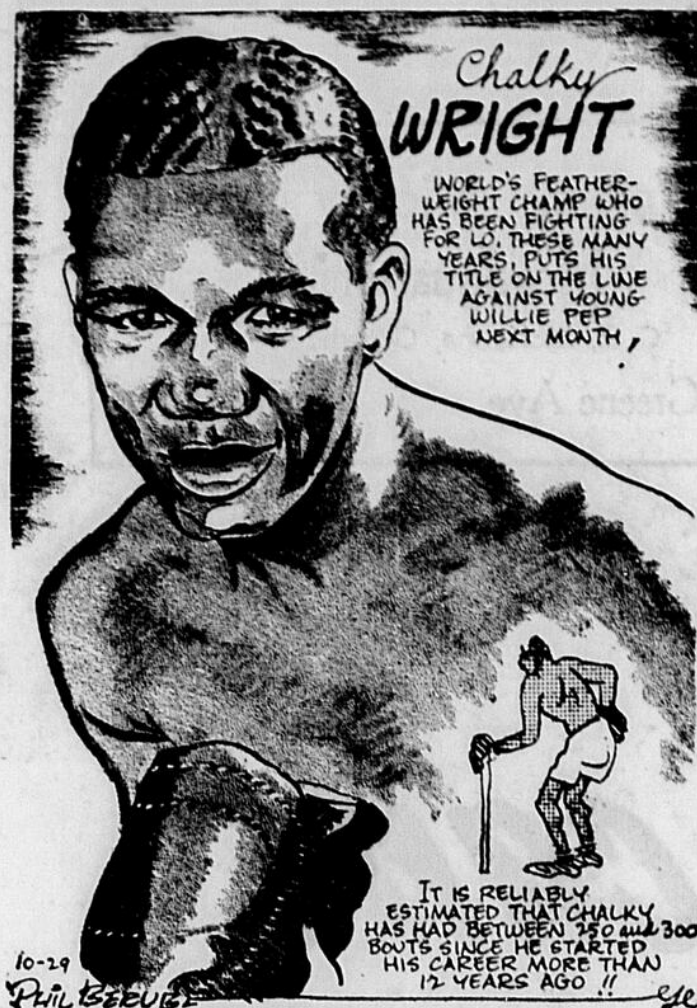

Mickey Darling of the University School team is still leading the scoring race with 50 points to his credit, team-mate Bruce Schofield is the runner-up with 32 points while Donald McDonald is next in line with 30 points.

by Phil Berube

Y's Chats

The average business girl this year appears to have at last realized that a healthy body is today essential, and accordingly is taking planned exercise and recreation more regularly, with lots of enthusiasm. The Y.M.C.A. is delighted to have so many new, also many of the old members back in the Gym and also for Badminton.

Every Saturday morning from 9.30 until 12.00 noon, boys between the ages of 9 and 11 are coming to the local Westmount Y.M.C.A. to take part in a programme of games, apparatus work, corrective exercise, boxing and wrestling, swimming and crafts. Regular attendance at these classes in the past has resulted in many of the boys making considerable progress towards a goal of self improvement—physically, morally and mentally. Every boy is given an opportunity to develop qualities of leadership by participation in activities which take the individual differences of each member into consideration.

WHAT EDUCATION SHOULD BE

Education is the drawing out of a child's mind so that it can see life as it is, not a mere mass of phenomena, but a consequence of underlying causes. It is the exercising of the faculties of right judgment to meet events as they arise; it is an ability to gauge himself and others. Education is the cultivation of personality. It is to the child what perfect gardening is to the tree—a help to growth so that it may develop personality. The gardener helps each tree to put forth the essential quality of its own that differentiates it from all other trees and makes it a thing of use and beauty to the world. That is education, and that alone is education. Instruction is simply providing the necessary weapons or implements to obtain the food. All instruction that does not tend directly to nourish personality is worse than waste—it occupies nerve and energy that are wanted for better things.

Taking a few steps I immediately collapsed just as two stretcher bearers from the orderly room arrived to whisk me away. Before passing out however I made a mental note that at the next training period I would bring my bicycle.

Physical Fitness Through Exercise And Diet

This is another in a series of health articles by P. M. McFarlane, Physical Director at the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Many of us fail to realize that health and physical fitness are often determining factors in giving one the courage, energy, and good cheer to carry on in a way becoming to the spirit of a Canadian citizen. This is particularly true of those who are too old for selective service but who have important work to do "at home". It is most important then that these men keep fit for the role they must play in a preparedness programme. The influence of the older group will help the younger group, not yet of service age, to go on living vigorous, wholesome, normal lives, so far as emergency conditions make it possible.

To gain and maintain a state of health and fitness both mentally and physically, this group must follow a sound programme of health and recreation. Many have accepted so many new responsibilities that care of personal health has been endangered. Sedentary, nerve exhausting business has taken its toll through degenerative diseases of the heart, arteries and kidneys.

All organically normal people need daily activity to work the big muscles of the body which are the power house of bodily energy. Too many men only overwork their small accessory muscles and nerve fibres with the result that tension and fatigue sets in to lower efficiency of the entire body. That is why every businessman should have at least one active sport as a hobby which he can participate in every day. No matter how old you, if you are organically sound, there is an activity to fit your particular needs. Many complain that time cannot be found for the pursuit of a physical fitness programme. Time can and must be found or later on, the working hours lost through illness will be nothing compared to a few minutes spent each day at a graded physical programme. Important as it is for young men to keep fit, it is every bit as important for the older men at home behind the lines to have bodies which are functioning with the greatest mental and physical efficiency. Keeping physically fit and increasing one's energy should be considered the number one responsibility of everyone.

THE WEAK

As there are none so weak that we may venture to injure them with impunity, so there are none so low that they may not at some time be able to repay an obligation. Therefore, what benevolence would dictate, prudence would confirm.—Colton.

FIND THEIR OWN KEEP

MEASLES IN FIJI

A measles epidemic in Fiji in 1935 carried off 40,000 persons.

Direct sunlight is an important disinfectant in the health protection of farm animals, but becomes valueless after passing through ordinary window glass.

Jim Says

IT CAN BE DONE

Jim finds times hard. His standard of living has dropped. There are all these new taxes.

Now there's another Victory Loan and Jim is expected to subscribe.

"Rock bottom!" was Jim's first thought. "We're on rock bottom. Just can't find the money!"

He's thought some more since. And he's decided it can be done. Jim says he doubts if Merritt lost much time wondering if it could be done when he crossed that bridge at Dieppe.

"See Here, Private Quinn"

by
THE GAFFER

It was a bright and cheery October morn when the bombshell broke. Sitting on top of a tier of books in the library, deeply absorbed in my exhaustive research into the wage differential among the aborigines of New Guinea in the Fourteenth Century, I heard for the first time that graduate students must henceforth report for military training. Thoughtfully brushing off my dust begrimed spectacles, in order to see the situation more clearly, I climbed down from the stacks, and straightened up with some difficulty as years spent poring over huge tomes and musty documents had made me slightly stooped.

In answer to the call of duty—and the Department of National Defence—I decided at once to make my way over to the office of the training corps. Leaning heavily on my cane I entered the building, and told the sergeant in charge the nature of my business. He looked at me rather coldly apparently being somewhat doubtful as to my contribution to the military defences of the Country, a feeling I was inclined to share with him, but discreetly I kept my counsel. I was told to report for training the following day.

Dawn arrived the next morning much the same way as other mornings, and as I hobbled across the campus people were scurrying to and fro, apparently unaware that anything out of the usual was taking place.

I walked into the drill hall and going up to a man in uniform who seemed to be one of the head men I said "could you tell me what I have to do, Sergeant?" He looked at me with considerable lack of interest and told me that he was the officer in charge. Immediately I sensed that I had made the wrong move, but keeping a stiff upper lip I said "sorry, Sir," and proceeded to salute him with the wrong hand. I was immediately assigned to a platoon and a short while later came to the conclusion that years spent in the halls of learning are an inadequate preparation for a military career.

After drilling for some time I perceived that I had overlooked getting a gun. Noting the Sergeant looking at me in an unfriendly manner I appeared nonchalant and pulled out a copy of Aristotle's "Nicomachean Ethics", and started to thumb the pages. This ruse failed however, and I was told to arm myself forthwith, which I did in self defence if nothing else.

Physical training being the next form of diversion, we were all told to jump up and down, which we did for an indefinite period that must have been at least three or four hours. The last time I went down, however, I was unable to resume the upward journey due to the fact that my lower limbs had ceased to function. With an air of indifference I lay flat on my stomach, cupped my chin in my right hand and looked straight ahead. This strategy failed however to throw the Sergeant off the track. Staring at me with a malignant gleam in his eyes he said "Private Quinn, on your feet!" Finding my feet after some difficulty I resumed an upright position although by now I had developed a slight list to the starboard.

We then marched around the drill hall for another day or so, and I began to perceive that our sergeant was an enthusiastic proponent of the theory of perpetual motion. Only the thought of the old school kept me mechanically moving forward. The Sergeant then barked "Right turn!" Being an individualist I turned left. This seemed to bring matters to a head. The Sergeant immediately stopped all proceedings and I could feel all eyes on me. The Sergeant called the Lieutenant and the Lieutenant called over the officer in charge who immediately called the Officer Commanding, the O.C. proceeded to get the War Office on the

"And, let me tell you, life in Canada is cake—fruit cake—compared to the bitter, stale crusts of bread conquered Europe begs under the Nazi heel . . . . . Sure, I know back home you've got rationing and bigger taxes, and it costs more to buy things . . . . . But this is war . . . If we don't lick the Axis—they'll lick us. They'd make it plenty tough, too . . . then you would know, what high taxes really are—what it's like to be a slave . . . . . Impossible? . . . There are millions of slaves in Europe right now; Yesterday these people were free. They, too, thought they were safe. They were wrong . . . . . Winning this war needs courage—and money, too . . . for planes and ships and tanks . . . . . So dig down in your pocket, brother, and buy your share of those new Victory Bonds. Don't say you can't afford it. You've got to afford it. Remember: Victory depends on you as much as on us . . . . . So roll up your sleeves and fight—with your dollars."
