HIGH-LEVEL U.S.-CHINA TALKS PROPOSED

World News In Brief

London, Jan. 11.—(Reuters)—Britain will issue commemorative stamps to mark this year's Festival of Britain. Postmaster-General Ness Edwards announced yesterday that the stamps would be issued—"subject to what the King might say." The King is a collector himself and unlikely to say "no."

Tokyo, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A B-29 bomber, its 50-calibre machine-guns blazing, fought off 15 Russian-made MIG jets in a nine-minute air battle over North Korea Wednesday. Superfort crew members said they believed they destroyed one of the speedy Red fighter planes.

Auckland, N.Z., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Sharp earth tremors rocked southern New Zealand early today, toppling chimneys and buckling railroad tracks. No casualties were reported.

The quakes, which lasted over a period of seven hours, set church bells pealing in the village of Christchurch and brought chimneys crashing down in Cheviot, 75 miles to the north.

The railroad station at Cheviot settled three inches into the earth and the main rail line north was knocked out by the quakes.

Taipei, Formosa, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Chinese national defence ministry said today Russia has moved an additional 300,000 troops to Siberia in readiness for an attack on Alaska.

It said Marshal Malinovsky, the Soviet Union's Far Eastern commander, has more than 15 seasoned divisions under him before the reinforcements.

The ministry also said the Moscow-Peiping axis is converting China's northwestern provinces into a vast military base.

Los Angeles, Jan. 11.—(AP)—It will take the American aircraft industry at least a year to begin producing half as many planes as it did in the second world war, a survey of main plants in Southern California indicated today. President Truman has called for a production capacity of 50,000 planes annually in the present emergency.

Albuquerque, N.M., Jan. 11.—(AP)—United States air force twin-engine C-47 crashed and burned about 30 miles west of Albuquerque last night but all 11 persons aboard survived.

Ground search parties early today found the three crew members and eight passengers. Seven of them were injured.

The crew had radioed the military control tower at Kirtland that it was abandoning ship before the crash.

Parliament Will Be Duller Place With M.P. Smith Gone

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Jan. 11.—(AP)—It won't be the same around Parliament Hill without Arthur Smith—the genial lawyer from Calgary noted for his short but pungent speeches.

Yesterday the hefty Progressive Conservative Member for Calgary West announced he would resign soon after Parliament reassembles Jan. 20.

The veteran battler of the courts and the hustings, who will be 65 next Feb. 13, said he is not well but "not incapacitated," and will resign from Parliament on advice of his physicians.

It is a safe assumption that his friends of all parties in the House will hope he reconsiders, because Art Smith has been the kind of member who can always strike a blow for his party when it is needed most, and stick a barb into his opponents so gently that they enjoy it.

He came to Parliament first in the 1945 general elections, but long before that he had argued court cases here and elsewhere so efficiently and entertainingly that he was known professionally from coast to coast.

Commonwealth Ministers Suggest Meeting Should Be Held On Korean Crisis

Rationed UK Sends Meat To Canada

London, Jan. 11.—(AP)—With Britain's meat ration at a microscopically low level—and most of it tasting like chunks of untanned leather at that—a newspaper headline proclaimed today that this country is actually sending meat to Canada, of all places.

Government officials said it's true, all right. But they added that the traffic is so small it really doesn't make any difference.

"Just a few hundred tons a year are involved," a food ministry spokesman said. "It wouldn't make the slightest difference to the ration."

But the Daily Express, which put the story under the incredulous headline "We send meat to Canada"—quoted housewives' representatives as saying it's "ridiculous" that any meat should go abroad.

One firm involved in the coal-to-Newcastle business was said to be in Urmoston, Lancashire. It sends meat, originally obtained from Australia, New Zealand and Argentina, in cans labelled "braised steak," "steak pie," and "minced beef."

The Daily Express quoted an official of the firm as saying this trade earns dollars.

"We sell on quality," the official was quoted as saying. "Only that"

Guay Petition Turned Down

Quebec, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Mr. Justice Albert Sevigny today ruled against a petition requesting a stay of execution for J. Albert Guay due to be hanged shortly after midnight tonight at Bordeaux jail in Montreal.

The petition was laid yesterday before the chief judge of Quebec Superior Court by Irene Simard, counsel for Mrs. Arthur Pitre who is due to go on trial for murder Feb. 20 as an accomplice of Guay in Quebec's airplane time-bomb case.

The petition by Simard was one of two 11th-hour moves made yesterday to keep Guay from the gallows.

While the Simard petition was argued before Mr. Justice Sevigny, Guay's lawyers appeared in Ottawa before Justice Minister Garson with their final appeal for a stay of execution and a new trial for the 33-year-old jewelry salesman.

or evening off, he would get the speaker's eye and wearily but bluntly say everyone knew most of the members wanted to go to a football or hockey game, which ever it might be, and that whatever was decided, he was going anyhow.

An active sportsman in his youth, he is one of the keenest sports fans in the House and many of his speeches have been spiced with the idiom of the playing fields.

His speeches have praised the values of home and married life, the virtue of toleration and good sportsmanship and the broad view of national affairs.

In his period in Parliament he has fought realistically for the rights of the working people, and gives his gifts of legal argument to the support of labor's aims while still maintaining the rights of those whose enterprise and foresight create labor.

Proposed Talks Would Be Under Auspices Of United Nations.

London, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Informed sources today reported that the Commonwealth countries have proposed a high-level meeting between the United States and communist China to discuss a Korean settlement.

The proposed get-together would be under United Nations auspices, the informants said.

Neither the United States nor Red China has so far reacted to the suggestion.

The new move apparently has the support of the leaders of all nine Commonwealth countries who have been discussing the tense situation in the Orient and in the rest of the world in a conference which began here last Thursday.

Few details of the proposal were available, but its immediate objectives were clear.

It would seek to avoid formulation in the United Nations of a new cease-fire resolution which might prove unacceptable to either the United States or Red China. It would seek to defer offering of a projected United States resolution to have the United Nations brand communist China an aggressor.

Britain, other members of the Commonwealth and many western countries would find it difficult to support such a resolution. Some have recognized the Peiping government. All want to keep out of a limited or open war against Red China. They fear labelling communist China an aggressor eventually would lead to imposition of economic sanctions against China, which would be a step to war.

The Prime Ministers have been studying a set of principles which Britain and India are said to feel would help end the Korean war. These include admission of Red China to the U.N., reaffirmation by the big powers of the 1943 Cairo declaration promising return of Formosa to China, a time-table for withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea and a seat for Red China on any U.N. group set up to restore Korea politically and economically.

Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain is said to have laid these principles before Prime Minister Nehru of India last Friday—but the word "proposal" is avoided.

Britain is understood to be sounding out the Americans in Washington on the idea of meeting the Red Chinese. India has put out feelers in Peiping.

While it has the blessing of the Commonwealth bloc as a whole, the initiative does not represent a joint Commonwealth move.

The sources were careful to stress the Commonwealth in no way is ranging up on the U.S. over the Korean crisis.

The action stems from general agreement recorded by the Prime Ministers that the non-communist world must try everything possible to keep out of war with Red China.

Setting for an American-Chinese get-together presumably would be Lake Success if it is held under United Nations auspices.

The informants did not say whether the conference proposal called for unconditional acceptance.

Known Red Chinese conditions for a Korean settlement in the past have included her prior admission to the United Nations, the return of strategic Formosa and the withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea.

The United States has many times stated its readiness to negotiate a settlement if Red Chinese troops quit Korea and if U.N. objectives in Korea to re-establish the battered country as an independent, unified, democratic state—are fulfilled.

U.N. Faces More Delay Over Korea

Lake Success, N.Y., Jan. 11.—(AP)—The United Nations today faced a new delay in its quest for a Korean peace settlement.

The General Assembly's 60-member political committee was scheduled to meet this afternoon, but informed quarters said it probably would adjourn until next week because no one had any formal proposals ready yet.

The situation was this: The Assembly's three-member cease-fire committee had a six-point truce plan, but wasn't ready to submit it because India's Sir Beneraj N. Rau wanted to get approval first from his chief, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, who now is in London.

Israel had a similar seven-point plan, but did not want to formalize it in a resolution unless it received substantial support.

The United States had a plan, calling for condemnation of communist China as an aggressor, but wanted to give the U.N. another chance to seek a cease-fire.

The picture was complicated further by the fact that the whole Far Eastern problem was under consideration by the conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers in London. Many delegates felt they should at least wait until the Commonwealth diplomats had received word of any decisions which might affect their attitude.

Diplomatic sources reported, meanwhile, that the other two members of the cease-fire committee were getting impatient over the slowness of the Indian government in approving the proposed truce formula which was sent to Nehru in London almost a week ago.

These two are Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam of Iran and Canada's Minister of External Affairs, L. B. Pearson. One informed source said they might come forward with the cease-fire appeal without Rau, unless he sends a go-ahead soon.

Although there is little here here that the Peiping government will accept the new truce bid, there is general agreement that another clear-cut rejection by the Chinese Reds will clear away some of the objections to United States demands that they be labelled as aggressors.

Laws Alone Will Not Solve Alcohol-Traffic Problems

Toronto, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Drinking drivers are tough nuts to crack in Canada or any other country, the liquor control board of Ontario says today in a 70-page document.

On top of those encountered by other countries, Canada has "labeling" troubles. In Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, drivers are a problem when "under the influence." In other provinces they're difficult when "intoxicated."

The report on problems posed by drinking drivers is the result of an extensive survey conducted by H. David Archibald, director of research for the L.C.B.O., and Dr. H. Ward Smith of the University of Toronto's pharmacology department.

One of their points is that legislation and enforcement, while extremely important, are not the whole answer.

In Norway, the report says, where legislation and enforcement appeared in proper balance for the last 14 years, there has been no significant decline in the incidence, and the number of convictions for intoxicated driving has altered little.

Viscount Alexander took time off to visit Niagara Falls in its winter dress, accompanied by his sons, on vacation from their schools in England, and some of their friends. The Governor-General described the scene as "a marvellous spectacle." Identifiable are Viscount Alexander, centre, and Mayor Ernest Hawkins of Niagara Falls, left. Chinese Mass For New Attack Against U.N. Troops; Wonju Abandoned Again

Children Ordered To School

Keremeza, B.C., Jan. 11.—(AP)—The village assembly bell today may toll the dispersal of the "Children of Light" cult, whose members have been isolated 17 stormy days in search of serenity.

That is, unless the 35-member religious sect wants to face the consequences under the school attendance act.

"K Day" for Kingdom—has passed. Now it's "C Day" and the "C" is for classroom. The Keremeza school board issued the return ultimatum yesterday.

If the children venture out from the farmhouse retreat on the edge of town, the elders are expected to follow, thus ending the long wait for either the "world's end" or a "message from God."

But there may be one loophole. One of the cult members is a former school teacher, and the law says if equal education is provided by a teacher, children are not compelled to attend public school. Whether this is the situation must be decided before any action is taken.

The leader of the white-robed, hymn-singing group, 50-year-old Mrs. Grace Carlson, has promised that the youngsters will get back to their books.

"We have every reason to hope they will return voluntarily," said Fred C. McCague, junior high school principal. "If they don't their parents will feel the full force of the law."

When the extremists first locked themselves in the remodeled cottage they said they were awaiting the end of the world. Later they said they were awaiting a

Eisenhower Starts Talks With Dutch

The Hague, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today began a series of talks with Dutch leaders to find out what this little country has to contribute towards the defence of western Europe.

After a conference with the chiefs of the Dutch army, navy and air force, Eisenhower left for the office of Premier Willem Drees.

Later he will fly to Copenhagen for the fourth of a 10-country check-up on western Europe's contributions to the Atlantic alliance.

In his visits to both Belgium and the Netherlands Eisenhower has had the task of convincing these two small powers that defence against Red aggression is a job the west must assume to save itself. In both lands the fear of war between Russia and the west is great, but in both countries observers said that there has been an awakening realization of the need for rearmament.

Atom Bomb Is Still Major Deterrent To World War

(Editor's note: The accompanying article on the military outlook in Europe is by Wes Gallagher, Associated Press executive who has just returned from 10 years service as a foreign correspondent. His impressions of what may happen and what can be done about it come from wide experience and living, as he puts it, "next door to the Russians.") Since the end of the second world war he has been in charge of AP operations in Germany.

By WES GALLAGHER
New York, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Will the Russians provoke a war? When? What do you do about it? Despite their seeming lethargy, these three questions give Europeans the same nightmares they give people in the western hemisphere today.

No one knows positive answers to these questions, including the so-called Russian "experts," but if you live next door to the Russians in Europe—as I have since the end of the last war—the answers go like this:

1. The Soviet Union is apt to blunder through an aggressive act into a world war rather than start one deliberately.

2. The greatest war danger period since 1939 is from April through September of this year.

3. You must fight in Europe as long as you can, no matter how little you have.

It is useless to speculate on whether the Kremlin is planning a deliberate all-out attack. This would be the most closely kept secret in the world. The best intelligence agencies in the world frankly admit they would not likely obtain such top-secret information. The best they hope for would be a few days' warning of a possible attack by evidence such as troop dispositions, build-ups and similar movements.

On this count they all say there has been no significant change in troop dispositions along the Iron Curtain through Europe in the last year or two. But the Russians always have had enough there to overrun Europe. It would only need an order and minor shifts to send them into action.

The argument that the Russians would not attack because they are "getting what they want without it" does not hold water.

Hitler was getting all he needed in Europe in 1939 without war. He had the continent economically in the palm of his hand. He needed only to be patient. But he wasn't. He miscalculated that the west would not fight.

The danger seems to be that the Russians will not be patient, that they will make the same miscalculation of the west and that they will make one more aggressive grab in Europe that will touch off a war just as Hitler's invasion of Poland did.

Sidelights On Conflict In Korea

By OLEN CLEMENTS
Fifth Air Force Headquarters, Korea, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The United States Air Force claims its estimates of enemy troops killed by planes are more nearly correct than many people think.

(The question was raised most pointedly last week by the London Daily Mirror in a front-page story scoffing at air force claims. It said pilots flying fast planes could not glean much information on how many enemy personnel they killed.)

Here's the way the air force arrives at its conclusions:

An interrogation officer—a sort of professional doubting Thomas—questions each pilot after every mission. There are usually four planes in each fighter flight—and fighters are doing m st of the work now. So the interrogator has four stories to check on each flight.

He evaluates each pilot's report, trying to strike a reasonable medium. Then, in most cases, he subtracts up to a third of the total claimed killed by the pilots and balances that with what aerial observers and ground intelligence have reported on the enemy disposition.

Plane cameras record the action in each strike; the movies are reviewed daily.

Pilots are not allowed to claim having killed any troops they do not actually see themselves. In the cold Korean climate troops try to stay indoors as much as possible. Buildings strafed and bombed are not permitted to be added to air force calculation of personnel casualties.

The U.S. Eighth Army says the air force actually underestimates casualties inflicted on the communists.

Here is an actual case in point: Nov. 23 the air force announced it had killed 230 enemy troops by strafing. The Eighth Army took the enemy positions the next day and found 1,025 enemy bodies—all killed by 50 calibre machine-gun bullets. U.S. fighter planes are armed with 50 calibre machine-guns.

Tokyo, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A correspondent who reported Gen. MacArthur had recommended withdrawal of United Nations forces from Korea said today he would "stand on the story" despite denials by headquarters.

Keyes Beech, veteran Chicago Daily News correspondent, reported yesterday that MacArthur was "understood to have recommended to Washington the withdrawal of all United Nations forces from Korea."

Beech said the information came from "authoritative sources."

Col. M. P. Echols, MacArthur's public information officer, last night called the story "a figment of the writer's imagination."

Hollywood — Behind the Screen: The Ruth Roman-Mortimer Hall romance and marriage was of the whirlwind variety. A little over a month ago, when their dating began, she told me:

Lili Palmer is the latest doll to turn gabber for NBC. She'll do a 15-minute once-a-week show from New York... Gloria Swanson is fuming over the printed report that she nixed a co-starring film with Bob Hope. She told Paramount she'd rather do a Crosby-Hope comedy than anything else.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

LEARN TO SCORE 3-HAND GAME

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"We've had a difference of opinion about the best way of settling the score in a three-hand Canasta game," writes a Pitts-burgh correspondent. "The other night we were playing at a neighbor's home and the game ended with the following score: Self, 385; Wife, 395; Neighbor, 2715. "Who wins how many points?"

There are two ways of scoring a three-hand game. The rule to be followed should really be agreed upon before the game begins.

Most players follow the rule that the high score wins from both opponents, and that the player in the middle wins from the low man. According to that practice, we would first reduce all scores to the nearest hundred and proceed thus: Self wins 1400 from Wife and 2700 from Neighbor; he therefore wins a total of 4100 points. Wife loses 1400 to Self but wins 1300 from Neighbor; so she loses 100 points net. Neighbor loses 2700 points to Self and 1300 points to Wife; so he loses a total of 4000 points.

The other method of scoring has one important point of difference. The player in the middle does not collect from the low man. If we followed this rule, Self wins the same amount; but Wife loses 1400 points, and Neighbor loses only 2700 points.

I like the second method for two reasons. First, it is easier on the low man. As we noticed, Neighbor was 1300 points better off by the second rule than by the first rule.

My second reason has to do with strategy. When the ordinary scoring rule is followed, it is always to your advantage to score as many points as you can. If you don't happen to win, you may beat the low man badly enough to make up for what you lose to the winner.

When the other scoring method is used, however, you want to win the game and you are not a bit interested in being second. Hence you are willing to cooperate with the low man while the game is in progress. You try to stop the leader even if that means scoring fewer points yourself on that particular hand.

Meanwhile, the low man has an interest in cooperating with you. If the game can be prolonged, each of you has a chance to improve his position.

The result is that unspoken partnerships arise during a game and flourish until the score shows a new leader. Then a new partnership develops. This sort of game has more interest than the game in which everybody is pulling at the heels of the man above him and stamping on the face of the man below.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

News Briefs From Around The Province

Montreal, Jan. 11—Delegates to the annual general meeting of the Royal Automobile Club of Canada yesterday heard the Quebec government taken to task for lack of good roads in the province.

A. L. Caron, a past president of the club, drew an unfavorable comparison between Ontario and Quebec, saying Ontario had "an excellent highway system" which was of great economic benefit to that province while Quebec had the "poorest roads on the North American continent" and was losing a great deal of tourist and other revenue as a consequence.

He was also critical of Premier Duplessis for "refusal to accept federal aid for a trans-Canada highway" because of "some vague monster in Ottawa."

Dr. C. A. Peters was chosen president.

Montreal, Jan. 11—Marcel Franco, president of the Quebec Federation of Labor, announced yesterday he had resigned his position. Roger Provost, vice-president of the Q.F.L., succeeds him.

Mr. Franco declined comment on a report that the Quebec government would appoint him within a few days a member of the Quebec Labor Relations Board.

Montreal, Jan. 11—A value of Quebec's mineral production in 1950 reached the record figure of $217,000,000, Dr. A. O. Dufresne, Quebec deputy minister of mines, last night told the Montreal Board of Trade.

For the first time, Quebec exceeded the 1,000,000-ounce mark in gold production, he said.

Quebec, Jan. 11—Mayor Lucien Borne said yesterday he had won a plea for extension of a federal order that would have forced some 70 families to evacuate their living quarters in former army barracks here.

Mayor Borne said he had received the federal order by telephone when he asked that evacuation of the barracks be postponed until April.

The huts, which approach slum conditions, were taken over shortly after the war by families hit by the housing shortage.

Sorel, Que., Jan. 11—Jail sentences ranging from six to 12 months, in addition to fines of $100 in each case, were imposed here yesterday by Judge Aime Chasse on nine men who teamed up last summer to strip wartime corvettes of more than $50,000 worth of equipment.

The nine men, all residents of Sorel, were welders, mechanics and cab drivers, who sold the equipment for scrap.

With the exception of two men—one still sought and another whose case has been referred to Feb. 6 for judgment—the crown has ended its long, drawn-out case against nine of 14 men allegedly involved.

Last month, two men were set free on charges of having been accessories after the fact of theft and a Drummondville, Que., youth was given a 15-day jail term for theft of $500 worth of submarine cables.

Sentenced to a year in jail: Jean-Paul Gauthier, Romeo Compagnon, Jean-Paul Lapierre, Henri Lapierre and Stanislas Gadbois. Six months: Roger Courvoisier, Oscar Gauthier, Marcel Blanchette, Leo Mongeau.

In default of payment, all will spend an additional three months in jail.

Assisting Miss Crocheteiere will be Miss Louise Trizanne and Jay Joslin as vice-presidents, Stewart Hansford as secretary-treasurer, and retiring president Ewart G. Morgan as acting past-president.

Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club Officers Are Installed By Lieut.-Governor

Visiting the Kiwanis Club for the purpose of officially installing the 1951 slate of officers, Lieutenant-Governor Alex Leslie, of Montreal, spoke briefly on the objectives of the organization as a whole and said that the International Board had come forward with a new theme for 1951, and that is that "Freedom is not free."

Referring to the need for immigration as a result of the shortage of manpower in this country, he said that it is of prime importance to have good Canadians in Canada.

"The increase in population means added responsibility to the people who are Canadian by birth," he pointed out, "and there can be no freedom without responsibility. We have an important part to play in order to keep democracy before the public and it is our duty to see that everyone accepts his responsibility."

He advocated nine resolutions set forth by International, asking that all Kiwanis Clubs across the country live up to them.

They are as follows: To uphold the United Nations in its effort to enact, interpret and enforce international law, and in its effort to preserve the free nations of the world.

To cultivate existing relationships between Canada and the United States and support all plans that will strengthen our common defense and welfare.

Expose and combat communism and proclaim the principles of our free nations.

Promote economy, efficiency and integrity in government at all levels.

Resist all trends towards socialization of any profession, business, industry or group of workers.

Protect the public welfare by demanding legal rights and responsibilities for both management and labor.

Foster safety and conservation of resources and all constructive citizenship programs.

Expand services to all youth and seek to eliminate the causes of juvenile delinquency.

Strengthen the social structure through intensified services to home, church and school.

Lieutenant-Governor Leslie reminded all committee chairmen, directors and officers of the duties facing them during the coming year, and expressed appreciation to the retiring members of the executive for their splendid work.

In thanking past president Len Keeler, he pointed out that the retiring president becomes chairman of the advisory committee and should at all times be ready to assist his successor.

Officers installed were Guy Blanchette, president, Les Memory, first vice-president, Reg Bishop,

Muir Urges Committees On Financing

Montreal, Jan. 11.—James Muir, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, suggested today that democratic governments consider setting up advisory committees on financing in the move toward rearmament.

These committees would comprise governors of central banks, representatives of industry, finance and labor and senior civil servants who would review expenditures and advise on possible economies.

In his prepared address before the bank's 82nd annual meeting of shareholders, Mr. Muir said the committees' function "should be confined to restrictive action, with no power to suggest new expenditures or the increase of those already proposed."

"At this stage the most important weapon in the whole arsenal of war controls is the control of ordinary government expenditures."

At the same time, Mr. Muir outlined a course to provide for rearmament while curbing inflation. In a summarized appraisal of ways to fight inflation he suggested:

"1. Voluntary saving through the patriotic restraint of consumption should be encouraged by the precept and example of government, business and private citizens; i.e., through less non-military expenditure by government, less capital expansion by business and less consumption—especially on credit—on the part of private citizens."

"2. Voluntary saving should be encouraged, borrowing discouraged and fiscal policy made effective by allowing a continued movement toward higher interest rates."

Chinese Mass

said it was a counter-attack aimed at throwing the enemy off balance.

After the Reds broke off the engagement, the allied line was stabilized two miles south of Wonju. AP correspondent Don Hutch reported from Eighth Army headquarters that Chinese and Korean Red forces threatened the line at Chechon, 20 air miles southeast of Wonju.

An estimated 200 communists were engaged by allied patrols eight miles northeast of Chechon, and another 1,300 were observed east of the city.

Reports reaching Eighth Army headquarters said a large number of Reds was seen eight to 10 miles south of Chechon and moving south.

There were no reports of any action between Chechon and the Sea of Japan coast on the east side of the peninsula.

Chinese and Korean Red forces have been spotted moving south along the coast, however. Last week they were between the 15th parallel and abandoned Hungnam in North Korea. It was at Hungnam that the navy removed some 200,000 U.N. troops and Korean civilians in December.

On the western front, AP correspondent Stan Swinton reported that a force of some 5,000 Chinese Reds was seen moving south of Osan, 28 air miles south of Seoul. Swinton's dispatches confirmed reports of a Red build-up in the west.

Between those western points and Wonju the Chinese had set up check-points. One was at Ichon, 28 miles west of Wonju. Refugees reported a large number of Reds in the hills surrounding Ichon. Eleven miles to the east, U.N. patrols probed to within a mile of Yoju and found the town in Red hands.

Snow hampered allied patrols. Roads in the area between Wonju and Osan are muddy ribbons. The slush had made some of them almost impassable.

Sidelights on Conflict

Population Stands At 14,000,000

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—Canada's population has hit the 14,000,000 mark, nearly double the figure at the start of the first world war.

Government officials confirmed that the figure has been reached. It compares with these others: The 7,200,000 people in Canada in the 1911, last before the first world war.

The 11,500,000—2,500,000 less than now—Canada had in the 1941 census, after the start of the second world war.

The figure of 15,000,000 Canadians by 1950, of 14,000,000 in 1971 predicted by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in 1946.

Eisenhower Starts

Some 200 people demonstrated before the building of the United States information service in Amsterdam last night, shouting "down with German rearmament" and "down with Eisenhower."

Communists distributed pamphlets near the military barracks here this morning warning Dutch soldiers they would soon have to serve throes to murder with German troops "who plundered our families, and with the same bandits who plundered and looted our country."

Ilse Koch Says Collapses Faked

Augsburg, Germany, Jan. 11.—Ilse Koch has admitted that she is only faking in her courtroom collapses, witnesses testified today.

The "red witch of Buchenwald," on trial for alleged concentration camp atrocities, was carried from the courtroom last night and refused to leave her jail cell to attend the court session today.

But Dr. Rudolf Engler told the court that Mrs. Koch bragged to him, after last night's seeming collapse, that "she had played a good comedy."

A jail warden testified that Mrs. Koch told her, after a previous courtroom collapse, that "it was only theatre," and that she "could play the same comedy again."

For nearly six weeks, Mrs. Koch has listened to former Buchenwald prisoners accuse her of cruelties, while she lived in Buchenwald as wife of the camp commander.

The judge said yesterday that these prisoners' testimony was "apparent about 95 per cent" by written camp records.

Three new cases brought the number of suspected cases in Brighton isolation hospitals to 15. An R.A.F. officer who flew from Karachi, Pakistan, to spend Christmas with a Brighton family is believed to have introduced the disease.

Store Up Love, Mental Riches, Friendship As Well As Money

WHAT ARE you storing up for your old age? Money, of course. The dullest and the most thoughtless realize the necessity of providing against the time when they will no longer be able to work.

In youth, money is a convenience and an aid to pleasure. In age it is an absolute necessity, for when we are old we have to buy even consideration and politeness from those about us. This is true even in the households of our own children, for between the father and mother who are able to pay their own way and are the source of a never-ending flow of gifts and treats and the father and mother who must be supported is a great gulf fixed.

dependent for their happiness upon the love you have stored in the hearts of others? Most of us have a curious and naive belief in what we call natural "affection." We fool ourselves into thinking that people must love us because there are blood ties between us. Never was there a more fallacious theory.

There is, to be sure, the mother passion for the child she has borne, and the instinctive clinging of the child to its mother while it is young and helpless, but that is all. It doesn't follow as a matter of course that grown-up men and women love their parents just because they are their parents.

As a matter of fact, they don't, unless the father and mother have won their love by years of tenderness and understanding and sympathy. You can't be hated and tyrannical and selfish and stingy with your children and expect them to love you because it is their duty to do so.

If you want your children to love you when you are old, you have to begin winning their hearts when they are in the cradle. Have you laid up a good supply of friendship for your old age? No complaint is heard more often from the old than that they are lonely. Few come to see them. They are seldom asked out. No one sends them flowers when they are sick. They are neglected and they crave the little attentions that we all like and yearn for the society of their fellow creatures.

Now, when old people are lonely, it is always their own fault. It is because they have neglected to lay up any friendships for the serene and yellow days when they have no longer the power to attract people to them.

They have gone their selfish way through life, sufficient unto themselves in their youth. They have never held out a helping hand to those in need. They have never wept with those who wept and rejoiced with those who rejoiced. They have not bothered to write notes of condolence or congratulation. They have never visited the sick and afflicted. They have never spent an hour listening to an old person's garrulous talk, and so when they get old they are repaid in the same coin.

Are you laying up any mental riches for your old age? I know an old lady so feeble that she cannot stir from her chair and whose eyes have failed so that she cannot tell day from night and who is so deaf that she cannot be read to, but who passes her days delightfully reciting to herself whole cantos of Scott and Byron and recalling word for word chapters of Dickens and Thackeray and Miss Austen. Her mind to her a kingdom is, in which she finds entertainment and amusement.

Will you be amused or bored when you are in your 90s, and have nothing but your own society?

I know another woman, middle-aged, who is deliberately laying up a treasure of memories of travel to solace her in her old age. She will never know a dull moment, for she will have something to think about besides her rheumatism and her diet when she sits alone in the twilight of life.

Old age comes to us all. Don't let it find you empty-handed or empty-minded. Thus shall you make it a time of happiness instead of torment.

Father Moisan Addresses C. W. L.

A visit to the picture of Our Lady of Good Counsel at Genazzano, an old Roman city, where the inhabitants devoted to Venus, were a pleasure-loving people, was the very interesting subject of a talk given to the Catholic Women's League, by Rev. Father J. R. Moisan, in the Canon Fiset Memorial Library, last Wednesday evening.

Father Moisan, director of the Sherbrooke diocesan council, C. W. L., accompanied by Rev. Msgr. Leon Bouchier, D. P., pastor of St. Patrick's, Magog, and chaplain of the Magog subdivision, out of courtesy for the members of the League whose patroness is Our Lady of Good Counsel, made it a point to visit the church in which is preserved the picture, to gather data and bring back their own impressions of the shrine.

Father Moisan related the intriguing story of the mysterious arrival of the miraculous picture on St. Mark's Day, March 25, 1467, in the old church of Santa Maria, which had been under the care of the Augustinians since 1356.

Records hold the picture, which came from Scutari on the shores of the Adriatic Sea, was originally kept in the Church of the Annunciation, Georgia and De Salevis living there at the time of the persecution of Christians, by the Turks, and fearing the church might be burned, were praying before the picture for something to happen, when suddenly it was lifted by a clout and started to travel in the sky. Devotees of Mary, not knowing where they were going, followed the painting by day and by night, guided by the illuminating picture, and as the Star of Bethlehem had led the Magi and stopped over Jerusalem, so did the venerable icon disappear from sight, at Genazzano.

Reports then spread abroad that in the old church of Santa Maria, the venerable icon itself was observed to be hanging suspended in the air without the slightest apparent support.

Lady Petruccia, a devout Christian, decided to enlist the help of other servants of Mary, sold her home and started the building of a church to house the picture. Her venture proved unsuccessful and she became the object of ridicule. However, later, at a fiesta held within the unfinished walls, the matter was looked into, and the building was resumed.

Three months after the arrival of the picture at Genazzano, 161 miracles had been wrought and since that time, pilgrimages from Ireland, England and many parts of Europe are usual events.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Provencher and thanked by Mrs. Richard Hova.

MARRIAGES

MENARD—COTE

Rock Island, Que., Jan. 11.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, Rock Island, on Saturday morning, December 30, at ten o'clock, when Therese Claire, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cote, of Rock Island, was married to Mr. Jullien Menard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lauriault Menard, of Granby, the nuptial Mass being celebrated by Rev. Father George Guay, parish priest. The wedding music was played by Mr. Paul Morel, with vocal selections by Messrs. Leandre Cote and Jack St. Sauveur. Christmas flowers were used to decorate the altar and Holy table, and adorning the latter were the gold church vases used for the first time.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Royal blue velvet fashioned with a shirred bodice, V-neckline with shoulder shirring and long sleeves with shirring at the wrists. She wore a white feather and rhinestone cap, and her only ornament was a rhinestone necklace. She carried a white leather prayer book, which was decorated with red and pink carnations and white ribbon streamers by Rev. Sister M. St. Joseph, of the Stanstead Ursuline Convent.

Mr. Menard stood as witness for his son and Mr. Roch Di Stefano acted as usher.

Mrs. Cote, the bride's mother, was attired in a crepe frock of copper red, trimmed with black velvet, a white feather hat with black velvet trim and accessories.

Mrs. Menard, mother of the groom, wore a toast colored crepe dress with matching accessories. The reception was held at the Del Monty Hotel, where a turkey dinner was served to twenty-eight relatives and close friends. The bride's table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake, made and decorated by the Ursuline nuns, with tiny blue flowers and topped with a miniature vase holding small carnations. At the four corners of the base were fans outlined in Royal blue to match the bride's gown.

Later the happy couple left on a short trip to Montreal before going to Chicoutimi, where they will reside. The bride travelled in a red faille dress under a black Persian lamb coat, a red feather hat and black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Stanstead Ursuline Convent, and a graduate of the Hotel Dieu Hospital School of Nursing, in Montreal.

The groom, a graduate of a Granby school, attended a university in Montreal for one year, and is now employed as an insurance adjuster. Mr. and Mrs. Menard were the recipients of many beautiful gifts from their families and friends.

Guests from out-of-town were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lauriault Menard, Messrs. John and Mark Menard, Mrs. Menard, Miss Denise Menard, Granby; Mr. Girard and Mrs. Menard, St. Hyacinthe; Mr. Lawrence Cote and Miss Dolores Campagne, Montreal.

Christmas At Beulah S. S. Ayer's Cliff

Ayer's Cliff, Jan. 11. — Under the superintendency of Mr. A. H. Slack, a Christmas party of the Beulah United Church Sunday School was held in the church hall, when two of the teachers, Miss Irene Boomhour, and Miss Letta Dustin, assisted by the other teachers arranged a very fine program and each one of the younger folks taking part is to be commended upon the renditions of their number.

The program opened with "Welcome," by the pupils of the Primary room; recitations, "First of All," by Dale Mosher; this was followed by a little recitation by Sandra Smith; Sue Lane Veay sang a solo very sweetly.

Recitations followed by Peter and Margaret McHarg, "An empty stocking," and "Christmas Trouble." Donald Thompson recited "Call Me Chubby," which truly fitted Dorothy. A group of three songs, "Little Stars," "Long Ago," and "Away In The Manger" were sung by the Primary pupils; Mary Waite was heard in a recitation and Michael Good recited "My Price." The Junior girls were very lovely in a pantomime, "Time At Christmas" was given as a recitation by Joan Belyea, and the recitation, "The Christmas Story," by Marion Fisher, Dale Mosher in a very charming way sang a song and Freddie Slack sang very nicely "Frosty The Snow Man." Robert McHarg and Cecil True sang as a duet, "The Winter Wonderland." Geraldine Martin recited "Snow Man and Gail Smith read "All Done."

The highlight of the program was "The Manger Scene," by the Sunday School. With the outbreak of "Jingle Bells" Santa Claus with jolly laugh and carrying his full pack arrived to greet the children and to distribute the gifts, candy bags, etc., from the well laden tree.

The evening was greatly enjoyed by the children, parents and friends.

President Jack Buckland, Newly-Elected Head Of Waterloo Kiwanians, Outlined Chief Objectives For 1951

Waterloo, Jan. 11.—President Jack Buckland presided over his first meeting of the year on Tuesday night, at the weekly meeting of the Waterloo Kiwanians Club held at the Canada Hotel.

President Jack outlined his objectives for the year, stating that it was his hope that the one main objective of every member of the club would be "Goodwill," not only among the members themselves but throughout the citizens of Waterloo and throughout all Canada and the United States.

To raise the funds necessary to carry on the successful work of a Kiwanian Club, the president gave a short resume of proposed activities for the coming year, among which were included an ice carnival, under the direction of Kiwanian Al Grainger; the annual spring dance with Kiwanian Dunc Dalton in charge; the food booth at the Waterloo Fair with Kiwanian Bert Fisher directing; the annual sale of T.B. Seals, Kiwanian Cane Sheppard being at the head of the drive; a Turkey Shoot with the immediate past president Kiwanian Mike Cardinal, in charge; and the annual Kiwanian Concert under the direction of Kiwanian Roger McKergow.

It was also decided to build two more picnic tables on the Sherbrooke highway under the chairmanship of Kiwanians Pete Gunter and Wesley Parkes.

Christmas cards are being picked up again this year in order to send them along to some hospitals, where they are used to amuse the shut-in children.

The complete organization for the Waterloo club for the year is as follows: President, Pete Gunter; Moe Katz, Al Perkins and Robert Millinchamp; music, Roger McKergow, Rev. Mac Fisher, Bert Fisher and Robert Millinchamp; reception, Dunc Dalton, Gene Sheppard and Mike Cardinal; youth welfare, boys and girls' work, underprivileged children, Al Grainger, Bert Fisher, Dr. Blake, Claude Walker, Jack Court and Paul Emile Fortin; public affairs, business standards and public relations, Jack Buckland, Moe Katz, George Dallaire, Frank Allen and Mike Cardinal.

Interclub will be attended to by Garret Chapman and Al Perkins. Attendance, membership and classification, by Walter Readshaw and Lawrence Purdy. Agriculture and conservation by Abe Norris, Thomas Wilkinson and Garret Chapman; achievement reports, Kiwanian education and regulation, Pick Pickford; support of churches, Wesley Parkes, Henry Smith, Rev. E. D. Mitchell; house committee, Harry Shank and Jesse Smith.

The executive officers are Jack Buckland, president; 1st vice-president, George Dallaire; 2nd vice-president, Dr. Moe Katz; treasurer, Frank Allen; directors, Al Grainger, Dr. Victor Gariepy, Orval Lewis, Dunc Dalton, Gene Sheppard, Pete Gunter and Thomas Wilkinson; and the secretary, is Fernand Bouchard.

A very successful year is anticipated in every event under the guidance and enthusiastic leadership of Jack Buckland after one just completed by the immediate past president, Mike Cardinal, who worked exceptionally hard to lead the club to one of its best years to date.

Kiwanian Mike was warmly congratulated for his job well done.

General Notes At Slack Bros. Greenhouses, on Friday afternoon, a fitting arrangement had been planned on the occasion of retirement of eight of the loyal and faithful employees, Messrs. Joseph Sanschagrin, Joseph Lepine, Alfred Comeau, Stanley Window, Oscar Robert, Albert Sylvester, Ben Norris and William Degromie, when a supper was served at which the senior partner, Mr. Charles W. Slack, expressed his gratitude to each man present whom he was retiring on pension and to whom each was presented with a fire radio. As is the case in all such instances, the spirit of gratitude and happiness was overshadowed by the knowledge that the life long associations and companionships were being interrupted as well as their customary daily intercourse was terminating, nevertheless each one expressed his appreciation to the employer who had always been, courteous, kindly and generous to all who had been in his employ.

Mrs. Gordon W. Wendall, of Montreal, visited Mrs. W. E. Colborne and called on other friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lowry and son, Harvey, were New Year's guests at the home of Mrs. Lowry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Masters, in Grantville.

After enjoying the holidays with her parents, and brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parkes and Roy Parkes, Miss Margaret Parkes has returned to her school duties at Hudson Heights High School.

Miss Myrtle Gaw was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sanborn and family, and Mr. A. F. Sanborn, in South Roxton, over the week-end and New Year's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baldwin spent the New Year's week-end in Montreal, where they were guests of the latter's sisters, the Misses Kate, Margaret and Mary Stewart.

Q.S.H.L. HOLDS STORMY SESSION; ROYALS HERE TONIGHT

Braves Lone Objectors To Saints' Request; Players To Be Brought Up Through Intermediate Farm Team

CARLIN'S ROYALS HERE TONIGHT

This evening Frank Carlin will bring his charges to Sherbrooke for their third engagement of the season at the local arena in a regular league fixture.

On their two previous tilts here the visitors chalked up 4-1 and 6-2 victories. In the second game the locals and the Royals ended in a 2-2 stalemate but in the overtime the Montrealers ran in four goals to march off with the victory.

Ted Hodgson and Stan Warecki, who will sign intermediate cards owing to the fact that the local club was refused permission to see them by the other league teams, are expected to be in uniform for tonight's battle.

Montreal, Jan. 11.—(CP)—The Quebec Senior Hockey League, in one of the stormiest sessions in years, last night voted to abandon the waiver rule, through which lower-placed teams have first claim on players released by teams in higher standings.

The meeting was convened in an attempt to straighten out recent player transfers and numerous protests that have arisen following the move that sent Ted Hodgson and Stan Warecki from Ottawa Senators to the lowly Sherbrooke Saints.

The first vote on the transfer ended in a stalemate. A second vote taken among the seven representatives nearly cleared the way for the players to remain with Sherbrooke, but Valleyfield opposed the move.

A third ballot again showed Valleyfield the lone dissenter. As the result of the abolition of the waiver rule, the players will be signed to intermediate cards by the Sherbrooke team, and will be able to move up to the senior team for the balance of the season.

Valleyfield's point of contention was that when Ottawa asked waivers on the players before the Dec. 15 deadline, they made a bid for Hodgson. Ottawa withdrew the waivers on Hodgson when they realized Valleyfield, now leading the league, wanted the big defenceman.

The Q.S.H.L. requested special permission from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association at its semi-annual meeting in Toronto in December, to bolster both

Richmond Club Edges Out Ayer's Cliff 3-2

Special to the Record

Ayer's Cliff Jan. 11.—Joe Marcoux's Richmond and Intermediates chalked up their second consecutive win in the Massawippi Valley Hockey League last night when they edged out Stiffy Stafford's Ayer's Cliff aggregation 3-2 in a close battle.

The issue wasn't decided until the final seconds of the game in the third period. Richmond moved to the fore in the initial period when Gagnon called twice. Meek rammed home the first Cliff tally in the closing minutes of the period.

There was no scoring in the middle session although three penalties were handed out by referees Murphy and Morehouse, two to Richmond and one to home club.

The final period saw Nichol knot the count at 2-2 when he beat Gervais after the eleven minute mark with Bedard sitting out a penalty.

Cloutier drew the next infraction but the Cliff held on during his absence. In the closing minutes of the game Cloutier drew another penalty and before his time was up Johnston went off leaving Stafford's crew two men short.

The Richmond team went all with the advantage in their favor and finally Allard tallied the winning goal with twelve seconds of play left.

Richard Main Rocket In Canadiens' N. H. L. Drive; Performs Hat-Trick As Canucks Blank New York Rangers

Just a week ago the supporters of Montreal Canadiens were shedding tears for their team and saving their cheers for amazing Mr. Maurice Richard.

Today they can scream happily for both. The team, which appeared to be heading for the National Hockey League cellar, is back in the contenders' circle, and The Rocket is flying higher than ever.

Canadiens jumped back into a third-place tie with Boston Bruins last night when they put the chill on what has been described as the hottest team in the league—New York Rangers.

The score was 3-0, and Richard distinguished himself once again by scoring all three goals while Gerry McNeil was working hard for his fifth shutout of the season.

Richard's scoring feat showed his season's total up to an impressive total of 24 goals. It increased his second-place figure for the all-time modern scoring race to 274—four better than Aurel Jolani, and the late Howie Morenz, whom he had tied last Thursday night.

And it brought him closer to the all-time high of 323 scored by Nels Stewart during his lengthy ice career.

Richard also stepped up a notch in league point standings. He now is in first place, five points behind Detroit's Gordie Howe.

A crowd of 8,372 in Madison Square Garden do everything but score in dropping their first game in nine on home ice. A victory would have pushed the New Yorkers into third place ahead of Boston. The loss drops them into fifth, three points ahead of last-place Chicago.

Richard scored his first goal midway in the first period after taking a pass from defenceman Doug Harvey. He got the others in a quick burst in the third period. Bert Olmstead and Elmer Lach set up his second goal at 17:38, and just 28 seconds later Olmstead fed him a pass for the final goal.

The Montreal victory served to jumble even more the standings of the bottom four teams in the N.H.L. With only four points separating the third and sixth teams, the positions are likely to change again before the week ends.

Chicago visits Montreal for tonight's only game.

WITH ROD & GUN

By IZAAK HUNTER

A QUOTE ADMIRABLE LAWBREAKER

We run across a lot of stories—true stories—of game wardens not doing their duty or even of wardens who use their uniforms and their authority for the purpose of extortion to the detriment of their province. Also we hear about despicable law breakers without many redeeming features. It is seldom however that we get a story reporting a game warden doing his duty with the right amount of firmness, making a friend for the province of the man he arrests, plus quite admirable and presumably regenerate Here is such a story.

It may be recalled a short time ago in this column there appeared a report headed to me by Steinar Jensen, of Three Rivers of the work of Warden J. R. Gravel, of La Tuque. Warden Gravel working in an important and more than passing tough district, in about nine months of the current year, had 60-odd cases against a wide variety of fish and game violators. Among these cases was one against a group of men from Manchester, New Hampshire, who had been fishing with resident licences. One of them was Robert O'Donnell.

"Think You Are Quite the Warden"

Over the holidays Warden Gravel received a greeting card from Manchester, New Hampshire. It was a French language card, too. It bore the following message:

"Hello Warden."

"Just want to wish you a very Merry Christmas and a real Happy New Year. Still think you are quite the warden. Know you had a job to do and we were definitely in the wrong, and know, too, that you didn't throw the book at us."

"But to set you straight, we are not a crowd of outlaws, as was perhaps described to you by that guy on Lake George. We were up there for just one reason, a real good time. That is all forgotten and we wish you the best for the holidays."

"If you can steer us straight on some good fishing, just drop me a card and oblige."

The card was signed "Bob O'Donnell, lawbreaker from Manchester, N.H."

Who Sold Those Resident Licences?

So the warden did his duty, the lawbreaker paid his fine and the province still has a friend.

There is some good fishing up in that district and we need have no doubt that Warden Gravel will steer his friendly and understanding ex-prisoner straight to it. Furthermore I personally don't believe the boys from Manchester will offend against our laws again when they return.

What I'd like to know is who told the visitors they would only need resident licences. It is going to be an unusually brazen outsider who attempts to buy a resident licence from any person entrusted with the job of selling them. Some years ago I ran across a case of a Montreal sports goods dealer, who, to encourage buying of equipment in his store advised three American visitors that they would need to buy the more expensive non-resident licences. They had Massachusetts accents a yard wide but when I saw them in the bush they hadn't been spotted. A real example should be made of one of these chaps some day.

The Law Becoming Less a "Hass"

And speaking of real examples, it is gratifying to note that these are becoming more frequent around the country. The Quebec Department of Game and Fisheries cracked down, but firmly on a big paper company's officials and employees for deciding that they could take moose and caribou like spruce and balsam off their leased limits, and this without paying any stumpage on them either. Twelve officials and 22 employees pleaded guilty and paid.

Then also in Quebec we had the case of a very tough and notorious poacher from Sherbrooke who when caught jacklighting deer, attacked two wardens and beat one of them severely with the barrel of his rifle. Also he threatened to "cut them in two" with his "Bren gun." He was fined $300 and sentenced to three months in jail.

Two Years for Ontario Tough Guy

This was thought to be a pretty tough sentence but now Ontario has acted on a manner which many will consider even more fitting of the crime. The Canadian press reports the Ontario case as follows:

Sudbury, Ont., Jan. 9.—A 27-year-old railway (C.N.R.) section hand, father of three children, was sentenced yesterday to two years less a day for taking moose meat at gunpoint from a forest ranger and a game overseer.

Leo Paul Collins admitted his actions toward the two officials were the result of his fear that moose meat they had seized would be used as evidence to convict him of the slaughter.

He was fined $400 for killing the animal. A charge of obstructing officers of the law was withdrawn. Collins lives at Ostrom, about 80 miles northwest of here.

Ranger Jack Eno and Overseer Sam Nowell said they were overtaken Dec. 30 by a railway gas truck as they walked down the tracks. They thought they would get a life, they testified, so turned around to walk to the truck. They saw the man in the truck had a rifle.

"He ordered us to halt when we were about 75 feet away," said Eno. Unarmed, he and Nowell advanced cautiously. Eno quoted Collins as saying: "Drop that moose meat, turn around and get going."

"I tossed him the package of moose meat . . . he had pumped his rifle just before this, ejecting a shell, but we didn't know if the rifle was loaded or not. Then he laughed to see us with a joke."

Collins testified that the rifle was not loaded.

Eno and Nowell said they had found the meat in a basin at the rear of Collins' Ostrum house. He had admitted it was his and at first had offered to take them to Westree, a nearby whistle stop. When he refused, they had started to walk.

After Collins took the meat from them, they said, he again overtook them. This time he did not have a gun and he took them to Gogama.

"He laughed," said Nowell, "and said he couldn't let us have that kind of evidence."

State Of Texas To Honor Tris Speaker

Dallas, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Tris Speaker, the Texas baseball immortal, comes back today to receive an accolade—enshrinement in the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

The old "Gray Eagle" who played more than 20 years in the big wheel, is the first athlete from his native state to be so honored.

Speaker was selected for the Hall of Fame by the Texas Sports Writers Association in a unanimous vote.

New Record Mark Of Deer Shot In Maine

Augusta, Me., Jan. 11.—(AP)—A record 39.216 deer were killed in Maine's 1950 deer hunting season.

Earle Bradbury, Deputy Commissioner of the Inland Fisheries and Game Department, said yesterday that 22,083 bucks and 17,133 does were bagged in the Oct. 21-Nov. 30 season.

The bag was 3,852 greater than in the previous record year of 1948, when 35,364 deer were killed.

Harry Geisel Named Umpire Supervisor

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Bruce Dudley, president of the American Association, announced yesterday the appointment of Harry Geisel of Indianapolis as supervisor of Association umpires.

Geisel, veteran of 18 seasons in the American League, retired in 1942 after suffering an injury on the diamond.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Maurice Richard, Montreal, whose hat-trick performance gave Canadiens a 3-0 victory over New York Rangers.

Gerry McNeil, Montreal, who racked up his fifth shutout of the season.

Ben Hogan Wins A. P. Comeback Poll For Rallying From Near-Fatal Accident To Return To Top Golf Spot

New York, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Bantam Ben Hogan's phenomenal movie-script rally from a near-fatal accident to regain his old golfing heights was rated today as the greatest comeback in sports for 1950.

American sports writers and broadcasters, participating in the year-end associated Press Poll, had little trouble making up their minds in this category, giving an overwhelming vote to the plucky little shotmaker from Texas.

Feb. 2, 1949, Hogan was critically injured in an automobile accident. There was doubt that the sinewy veteran who the year before had scored professional golf's grand slam—the P.G.A., Open and Western—would ever walk, much less play, again.

But by mid summer Hogan was hobbling around on crutches and in December he played his first round of friendly golf.

There was a flurry of excitement when it was announced Hogan would attempt his comeback to competitive golf in the rich Los Angeles Open Jan. 6. Could Hogan do it? He replied quickly.

Walking stiffly on legs held together by baling wire, Hogan amazed the golf world by finishing in a tie with Sam Snead for first place, shooting a remarkable 280. It was immaterial that Ben later lost to his old rival in a playoff.

Hogan won the Greenbrier Open in May with a record-tying 21-under-par 259, and then climaxed his spectacular comeback by winning the National Open at Philadelphia in June.

Hogan received 112 first-place votes from the 214 who cast ballots, and piled up 393 points on the basis of three for a first-place vote, two for second and one for a third.

Second place went to another whose career was almost cut short by tragedy—Eddie Waitkus, first baseman of Philadelphia Phillies.

Waitkus was shot and badly wounded in Chicago June 15, 1949 by a 19-year-old girl who explained she just had an "urge to kill somebody."

He came back last year to play 154 games for the Phillies, help them to the National League pennant and play in the World Series. He batted .284.

The Navy football team that rose up to shock Army, 14-2, in the final game of the season won their third place following by Johnny Mize, the veteran first-baseman whose bat helped lead New York Yankees to the World Championship.

Then in order came the New York Giants baseball club; Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankees outfielder; the Princeton Football team, unexpected surprise of the Ivy League; Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati pitcher; the Michigan Football team and the New York Yankees Baseball Team.

New Speed Boat Race To Be Held At Seattle

Seattle, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A speed boat race similar to the annual Harmsworth Trophy event will be run with Seattle Seafair posting a trophy for it, Jerry Bryant, chairman of the local organization, said yesterday.

The Harmsworth Trophy event is off the 1951 calendar for lack of a challenger.

J. Lee Barrett, secretary of the Yachtsmen's Association of America, advised Bryant that challenges for the Harmsworth had to be received by Dec. 31. The trophy once was out of circulation for 16 years.

Bryant said he had expected a challenge from a syndicate in Vancouver, B.C., which had been grooming Miss Canada IV for a crack at the Slo-Mo-Shun IV, local hydroplane which won the Harmsworth last summer after setting a world speed record.

The Gold Cup race, also capped by Slo-Mo-Shun in 1950, will be contested here Aug. 4 at the opening of the Seafair. Challenges have been received from Guy Lombardo and Horace Dodge and Bryant said about 15 boats were expected to enter. Lombardo, band leader and speed boat enthusiast, originally is from London, Ont.

The new race, to be known as the "Seafair Trophy Race," will be held Aug. 11. Length of the course has not been decided.

Mohawks Beat Hornets, Gordon Gets Three

Cincinnati, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Jackie Gordon scored three goals last night to lead Cincinnati Mohawks to a 4-2 victory over Indianapolis and into a tie with Pittsburgh for second place in the American Hockey League's Western Division.

Gordon got his first two goals the hard way but the final one came when the Indianapolis net was wide open in the closing seconds. Cap goalie Jim Henry had been withdrawn after Marcel Pronovost had trimmed the Mohawks lead to 3-2 with a goal from 15 feet out with only a minute and 43 seconds to play.

Jean-Paul Denis got Cincinnati's other goal on a dash down centre.
