FRENCH MINISTRY.

Both Houses of Parliament Sustain Waldeck-Rousseau.

Majority Was Small in the Chamber, But Sufficed.

PARIS, June 27.—The Waldeck-Rousseau Cabinet was sustained by both chambers yesterday afternoon, but the majority in the Chamber of Deputies was only 26 in the Senate it was 162.

The debate in the chamber was exceedingly stormy, Marquis de Gallifet, the new Minister of War, being the centre of attack. The revolutionary Socialists maintained a running fire of shouts of "Vive la Commune," "Assassin," and the like. General de Gallifet sat perfectly unmoved. M. Waldeck-Rousseau alone appeared in any way discouraged or nervous. It was observed that he trembled slightly when he began to read the declaration of the Government's policy.

DECLARATION OF POLICY.

This declaration (only a portion of which was published in yesterday's Star) was read in the Chamber of Deputies by the Premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, and in the Senate by the Minister of Justice, M. Monis, and was as follows:

"The Chamber of Deputies, in expressing itself resolved not to support any government, but one determined to defend energetically republican institutions, and assure public order, has clearly defined the task imposed upon the new cabinet. The ministry has no other ambition than to accomplish it in order to bring about the pacification of the country, and to maintain intact our common inheritance. It seemed to us that existing delusions should be effaced and that the work we are about to undertake required the co-operation of all Republicans. When the aim is definite, though varying according to the methods of different schools, accord becomes easier, and controversies are lost in the presence of one duty to perform. To end the agitation pursued under disguises easy to penetrate, against the regime which has been sanctioned and will be upheld by universal suffrage, and to require from all the services, loyal assistance and courageous assumption of responsibility, is necessarily the first duty of the Government. It is resolved to have all judicial decisions respected, and if the first wish of the country is to listen to the voice of justice it will maintain silence and respect while its decisions are prepared.

"In the front rank of the important interests of the country, bound up with the conservation of the dignity of the nation, we place the interests of the army, which the Republic has constructed on a stronger and wider basis and which is synonymous with the Republic's security and is the pride of France. We think, with the most illustrious and surest guides, that invaluable attachment to discipline is the first and essential guarantee of the army's own greatness. We intend to defend it with the same energy against the attacks and solicitations which constitute the most undeserved of insults.

"We desire above all that appeasement may be accomplished and it will come quickly if every one will give up being a law unto himself and bow to the law of the land.

"To accomplish the work which has devolved upon us we have need of the cooperation of Parliament and its whole confidence. We ask for the widest mandate. We take the fullest responsibility. We ask for a truce of the irritating discussions, hurtful to the interests of the country and that you will vote without delay a law necessary to the good working of the public services. If our efforts are not sterile, disunion among Republicans will vanish and the Republic will soon resume the path of economic and social progress."

MINISTERS SUSTAINED.

M. Ernest Roche, Socialist, interpellated the Government regarding the policy and composition of the Ministry. He declared it was a Government of war and of defiance, and violently attacked the Minister of War, General the Marquis de Gallifet. Other speakers followed in a similar vein, and eight orders of the day were moved, only two of them approving the Ministerial statement.

M. Waldeck Rousseau accepted an order of the day, moved by M. Jules Peribier, Radical Socialist, reading as follows:

"The Chamber, approving the declarations and acts of the Government, passes to the order of the day."

M. Waldeck Rousseau replied to the various interpellations, explaining the motives animating the formation of a Cabinet of somewhat divergent views, one of the main objects being to reunite all factions. He added that the Ministers had already assumed some responsibility, but he thought the backing of the Chamber was necessary for further steps, and asked what Ministry could for a moment tolerate acts seeming to show the belief that the army desired to constitute itself the judge of its own policy.

He further expressed the hope that it would be not necessary to take more severe measures, and said he thought it easy to demonstrate whence came the attacks upon the courts. Explaining the inclusion of General the Marquis de Gallifett in the cabinet, as Minister of War, he said it was because no other general had so spontaneously supported the constitution, and it was thought the necessary punishment of certain military men could be somewhat relaxed if emanating from such a trusted authority as General de Gallifett. In conclusion the Premier said: "Our task is heavy. Whatever course the chamber may pursue, I have done my duty."

The speech of M. Waldeck-Rousseau was much interrupted. The noise at times was deteaning and several members were called to order.

The chamber adopted M. Perilher's motion by a vote of 283 to 237, and an indescribable scene of excitement followed in the lobbies.

GENERAL DE GALLIFETT'S LETTER.

General de Gallifett's letter to the chiefs of the army has made a noticeable impression. As Le Siecle says, he has laid down the law in very clear terms. He shoulders responsibility for the chiefs, but reminds them that they are personally responsible to him, and he is not the man to let them forget it.

This, says the same paper, brings to memory an anecdote of the general who complained after a review that he had noticed a little straggling in the Second company of the First battalion of the Twentieth regiment. The general of that division thereupon rebukes the colonel, who reprimands the captain, who thunders at the lieutenant, who raises Cain with the sergeant, who curses the corporal, who falls bodily upon the private.

In other words, if any officer feels inclined to reply to a journalist through the medium of an order of the day read to the assembled troops, with a brass band just lined up for the ceremony, he may be sure that punishment will be set rolling down the line by General de Gallifett until it lands plump on the offender's head.

Officers who have sinned in this respect have already had an illustration of this, as they have been transferred to other posts in the provinces as a warning. "Spare the rod, spoil the child!" The army is Gallifett's child; he will see it is not spoiled.

NOW UNDER CONTROL.

The Caledonia Mine Has Been Saved to Its Owners.

Proprietors Held Blameless for Accident—Martin's Body Found.

(Special to the Star.)

SYDNEY, C. B., June 27.—The fire in the Caledonia Mine at Glace Bay is now under control. During the last few days there have been some heavy falls in the pit, and this, of course, has made the work of the fire fighters doubly dangerous. Undoubtedly fire still exists under its debris, but it will be gradually snuffed out. The mine is now saved unless the fire should break out in some other quarter, which is not considered probable.

Assistant Manager Johnston and Superintendent Brown, with sixteen men, yesterday morning travelled all over the mine except, of course, the part submerged and the fire district, and several times walked tentirely around the fire zone. Only three days ago the danger attendant upon working in the pit was so great that but eight men were permitted in the mine at one time, these being relieved every two hours, and explicit instructions were given each shift that for no reason and on no account should they go beyond a certain point, nor deviate from one certain pathway, and remain not more than two hours below the surface.

MARTIN'S BODY FOUND.

Inspectors Gilpin and Neville will make an examination of the mine on Thursday morning, and if they report the danger past mining will be resumed on Friday. All the coal cutting machines are in the affected part of the mine, but by working a double shift all the pick men could be employed, thus admitting of a daily output of from fifteen to eighteen hundred tons as against two thousand to twenty-two hundred previously.

The body of Donald Martin, the missing miner, was found at ten o'clock last night. He turned to the right while the others turned to the left. This explains the hitherto fruitless search for his body, but throws no light on the cause of the explosion.

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

The coroner's jury rendered its verdict yesterday as follows: The men came to their death in the Caledonia mine on the 16th day of June, 1899, by suffocation from after gas, the result of an explosion of gas in said mine. From the evidence before us we are unable to state definitely the starting point of said explosion.

The company is not held at fault or blamable for the death of the men.

The following additional subscriptions to the relief fund have been received: Daniel McCarthy, commercial traveller, $10; Abner Kingman, Montreal, $20; J. Harvey Brown, Halifax, $10; W. J. Nunn, Handsome Cove, N. S., $1; Union Assurance Company, London, Eng., $100; Mrs. W. Greig, Cote des Neiges, $5; William Burke, Mira Ferry, Cape Breton, $5; Town of Sydney, $500.

KRUGER IS WARNED.

Significant Speech on Transvaal Trouble by Mr. Chamberlain.

Boer Misgovernment Is a Festering Sore Poisoning all South Africa.

LONDON, June 27. — A most significant speech upon the relations of Great Britain to the Transvaal Republic was delivered by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, to a mass meeting of his constituents at Birmingham on Monday afternoon.

In the course of his speech he said that owing to the enormous military preparations of the Government of the South African Republic Great Britain had been compelled to increase the British garrison in Cape Colony and Natal, entailing an additional expense of £500,000 annually. "If the reforms which Lord Ripon proposed in 1898, had been accepted," said the Minister, "no crisis at present. But the raid had no crisis at present. But the raid that tied the hands of the Government and prevented the application of pressure."

Mr. Chamberlain asked the Government had tried to establish friendly relations with President Kruger, but all their advances had been received with contempt. He then proceeded to eulogize Sir Alfred Milner, Governor of Cape Colony and British High Commissioner for South Africa. The Government accepted responsibility for the actions of that official. As "for the counter proposals of Mr. Kruger, they did not constitute even a fair instalment of reform."

THE BOERS DENOUNCED.

After denouncing in the strongest terms the attitude and actions of the Boers, Mr. Chamberlain, with great deliberation and emphasis, added:

"The Transvaal's enormous secret service fund has procured it friends and advocates in every country. The way the British subject there is treated is not only a menace to them, but interferes with our prestige among the natives, who now regard the Boers and not the British, as the paramount power. Besides the breaches of London convention, the Transvaal is flagrantly violating the equality that convention was intended to secure. Its misgovernment is a festering sore, poisoning the whole atmosphere of South Africa. The Dutch in Cape Colony and Natal would be in the happiest condition, but so long as the disease of hatred and suspicion prevails in the Transvaal, it is impossible to stop the contagion.

DIRECT TALK OF WAR.

"Four times since independence was granted, we have been on the verge of a war with the Transvaal. It is erroneous to say the British Government wants war, but it is equally erroneous to say that the Government will draw back now that it has put its hand to the plough. We hope the efforts that are now being made will lead to an amicable arrangement, for Great Britain only desires justice, but there comes a time when patience can hardly be distinguished from weakness, and when moral pressure becomes a farce, that cannot be continued without loss of self-respect. I trust that time may never come in this instance, but if it does, Britons will insist upon finding the means to secure a result essential to the peace of South Africa."

The speech was warmly applauded. In replying to a vote of thanks, Mr. Chamberlain said he felt strengthened and encouraged by their confidence and support. He had spoken from the heart, because he believed they had reached a critical turning point in the history of the Empire, and that the whole world was watching to see how they would issue from the difficulty. "It is my belief," he said, in closing, "that the country will show itself not unworthy of its glorious history and traditions."

A BIG RAILWAY DEAL.

The Vanderbilts Will Absorb the Boston and Albany.

THEY HAVE PRACTICALLY SECURED CONTROL ON A 999 YEARS' LEASE.

(Special to the Star.)

NEW YORK, June 27.—Announcement is made to-day with much circumstantial detail to the effect that the New York Central Railroad Company will in a very short time acquire the Boston and Albany Railroad system. It is said that little beyond the signing of the papers remains to be done to complete the deal. J. Pierpont Morgan, Cornelius Vanderbilt and William K. Vanderbilt, all of whom recently returned from Europe, are said to have agreed upon the terms and accomplishment of the deal.

By the reported terms of the agreement through which the Vanderbilt system of roads will tap New England freight and passenger business, the stockholders of the Boston and Albany road will be guaranteed eight per cent. dividend for 999 years. Eight per cent. is the dividend they now receive regularly, though earnings have sometimes run beyond such rate and have provided extra dividends more than once.

New England railroad business, should the report of the deal be well founded, is likely soon to feel the effects of direct Vanderbilt control and activity. New York, New Haven and Hartford interests may have almost immediate realization of the appearance of new factors in the situation.

Mr. Morgan and Messrs. Rockefeller are dominant in New Haven's control, and what they direct can be accomplished readily. Vanderbilt interests continue to hold representation in the New Haven directory, though their stock holders are said to have become relatively small.

The Boston and Albany main line, extending from Albany to Boston, is 210 miles in length. It has 108 miles of feeding branches and 83 miles of leased road, making a total of 387 miles of road. Its rolling stock consisted at the last report of 242 locomotives and 6,693 cars. The capital stock of the road is $35,000,000, and the funded debt $7,485,000. The total liabilities are $36,513,000. For years past the road has paid eight per cent. dividend annually. Chauncey M. Depew is one of the directors of the road.

LEASE VIRTUALLY CLOSED.

The Tribune says: The report that the New York Central had come to an agreement with the Boston and Albany Railroad by which the Central would lease the Boston and Albany for a term of 999 years and guarantee eight per cent. on the stock was not a surprise here in railroad circles or in Wall street. That the lease is practically closed was confirmed from a trustworthy source yesterday. For more than two years William K. Vanderbilt and his friends have been working to get control of that line, as it is the Central's natural outlet to Boston for its western trains.

The general opinion in Wall street, however, although no official confirmation of the transaction could be obtained, is in line with the information that the lease had virtually been effected, and the view was taken that this New England arrangement would before long be followed by the long-talked-of extension of the New York Central system to the Pacific coast, from its present western terminus in Chicago, by consolidation with the Chicago and North-Western, the Union Pacific and the Oregon Short Line.

A HALIFAX WIFE-THIEF.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 27.—This morning the seventeen-year-old wife of Thomas Doyle, merchant, was arrested in a car at the station for stealing $1200 from her husband. She stole the money while Doyle, aged 45, slept. The wife had planned to leave the city with a churn for Newfoundland and the pair were to divide the money. Both were arrested. Doyle was married eleven months ago. The girl was pretty and was a domestic in a house in which Doyle boarded. She did not care for her husband and decided to leave him for ever.

MR. BOYER'S BAKERY BURNED.

(Special to the Star.)

ST. CONSTANT, Que., June 27.—At 5 p.m. yesterday fire was discovered in the timber supporting the oven of Mr. Boyer's bakery. The fire was only extinguished at 5 o'clock this morning. The oven was completely destroyed. It is being rebuilt of solid stone to-day, and will be ready for use to-night. Mr. Boyer has the contract for supplying bread to the Lafrance mills.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla and ... will be the result.

Montreal Made a Desperate Effort in the Ninth, But It Came Too Late.

RESULTS OF OTHER GAMES.

Toronto Lost in Springfield, While Rochester Won in Rochester

Sporting Gossip.

THE despatches say that our own Dooley was mainly to blame for yesterday's loss to Hartford, which is a very sad affair in its own way. However, modelers will revel at any time, and we are in the humor for that, notwithstanding our little fall down, Montreal is yet at the top of the list. Toronto had a snooze in Springfield, and the Pirates beat out the visitors. Rochester won and got on even terms with Toronto, leaving Worcester a close fourth.

CHARLEY DOOLEY'S ERRORS

Were Largely Responsible for Yesterday's Defeat.

(Special to the Star.)

HARTFORD, Conn., June 27.—Hartford had but little trouble in defeating the champions yesterday, although the Indians were given a frightful scare in the ninth. Montreal scored first in the second on Johnson's base on balls. His steal and a single by George Bannon. Tommy Bannon led off in the first with a double and got to third, but Schriebeck and Dooley flew out to Sharott. Hartford's first run was made in the second on errors by Sanders and Schriebeck, a sacrifice by Gatins, and Urquhart's single in the fifth. Dooley dropped two balls thrown to him, putting Sheehan and Kneil on the bases. Sharott sacrificed and Turner walked, filling the bags. Shindle made a hit to short centre, G. Bannon catching the ball. Kelly then hit to the fence for 3 bags, scoring 3 runs. It was a beautiful crack. Kelly was left on 3rd. Gatins and Urquhart both doubled in the sixth. Two bases on balls were given and Turner's single sent a one run. With the bases filled Shindle forced Sheehan at the plate. Kelly had another chance to clear the bases and Sanders gave him an out curve that he barely reached, and Schriebeck caught his fly. Schriebeck's and Dockitz's errors gave Hartford's seventh run. In the ninth Henry led off with a triple and Sheehan flew out to Sharott. Johnson tripled, scoring Henry. G. Bannon flew out and Johnson scored. Sanders stole three bases and scored on T. Bannon's hit. Dockitz, who hit safe with two men on the bags, Schriebeck sent a long fly to Sheehan.

MONTREAL COMING HOME.

The Montreal team comes home for a brief stay on Saturday. The Dominion Day attraction at the Ball Grounds will be the Rochester Pirates. Everybody who saw one of the last series played here by Rochester is sure to attend at least one of the Dominion Day games. If they are anything like the previous games played by the two clubs they will be exciting all the way through. One game will be played in the morning and the other in the afternoon. On Monday and Tuesday (July 4) Montreal plays in Syracuse.

THE OTHER GAMES.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 27.—Pappalau was wild and was given poor support, but the home team managed to win out by putting Pittenger on the rubber. The Pirates had the game well in hand up to the eighth, when three rank errors disheartened Pappalau, and he lost his nerve. The visitors came within one run of tieing, but Pittenger went in and shut them out. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Springfield	1	2	4
Toronto	0	5	1

Batteries—Pappalau, Pittenger and Moore, Budhoff and Rothfuss.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 27.—Worcester played a wretched game, literally giving the victory to Rochester. Both pitchers were effective, but the Rochesters hit timely, and the Worcesters bunched theirs. There was a decided lack of team work in the playing of the home team, and neglect to play the ball to the proper base helped the visitors in the run getting. Score.

	R.	H.	E.
Rochester	4	7	2
Worcester	3	9	4

Batteries—Becker and Smink, Horton and Yeager.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 27.—The game between Providence and Syracuse was a contest between two teams which had been strengthened to get out of a losing rut, and each was exceedingly anxious to win. Both sides had their troubles in the first inning, and Umpire Boyd was also nervous in starting off. Then there was a rally and after the first inning Evans had perfect support and the Stars played an uphill game against very close batting by Providence. Lush joined the Syracuse team to-day, and McKinney has been released. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
Providence	0	0	2	1	4	1	0	0	0	10	9	2
Syracuse	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	3	5	5

Batteries—Evans and Leahy, Mallarky and Williams.

At Indianapolis—Indianapolis, 4; Detroit, 2. At St. Paul—Milwaukee, 4; St. Paul, 0.

All the clubs in the league seem to be up in arms against O'Hagan, Burke and Smink of the Rochesters. Whatever the two has done on other grounds, they have not been heavy offenders in this city. It must be the influence of other crowds as not as conducive to gentlemanly conduct as in Worcester.—Worcester Spy.

Springfield has ten postponed games to play, the largest number of any of the Eastern League teams. Syracuse has nine, Montreal seven, Toronto, Worcester, Rochester and Providence six each, and Hartford two. Two of the Worcester games are with Montreal, the result of the games on the last northern trip.

Providence has played six errorless games this season, Toronto three, Springfield, Worcester and Montreal two each, Rochester and Hartford one each, while Syracuse has yet to play one.

THE LACROSSE FIELD.

WHAT OTTAWA THINKS.

Saturday's match between the Shamrocks and Nationals in Montreal on the National grounds was one of the warmest exhibitions of the national game that has been seen in Montreal for a long time.

The Shamrocks won by 4 goals to 3 in a very close contest. Whether the Nationals are always the aggressors or not in rough work, it is nevertheless a fact that every game in which the team has figured this season has been marred very much indeed by nasty play. The Nationals should take a tip and play gently, for it only needs a pretext for the other clubs to vote them out of the league. They came near getting it in the neck at the annual meeting of the league, and if any team had taken the intuitive the move would have been supported by a majority of the clubs. In their present mood it would not need very much provocation for Cornwall to start the ball rolling.—Ottawa Journal.

THE GAME OF CHESS.

COLUMBIA'S TRIAL

The Boat Had a Spin With the Successful Holder of the Cup, Defender.

NEW BOAT PROVED VERY FAST.

She Outpointed and Outfooted the Defender in Their Little Trial Spin.

MORE ABOUT THE SHAMROCK.

She Will be About Ninty Feet on The Water Line—English Press Comment.

NEWPORT, R.I., June 27.

THE long-looked-for trial of the Columbia has taken place, and it was unequivocally a successful one.

The new craft is a flyer, beyond question. She is without doubt the fastest boat in moderate weather in the world.

For ten minutes only she had a fair and square test with the Defender, unquestionably the fastest yacht afloat next to the new 90-footer. In this short trial, covering only three-quarters of a mile, the Columbia walked right by the champion of '95, under equal conditions of wind, tide and water.

Brief as was the test, it satisfied every one that the Herreshoffs have again built a marvel, this time one that will be likely to beat the Defender at least as much as that great did the Vigilant.

The pair came together directly off Newport. The Defender was headed down the bay, jam on the wind, with the starboard tack aboard. The Columbia, from up to windward, ran down and started 100 feet away from the Defender, on the latter's weather quarter.

The Defender had the wind clear and her full way on, still the Columbia pulled steadily, foot by foot, up by her, finally passed ahead, and handed the Defender's wind, and then, bearing down across her bow, squared off before the wind, having literally made a circle round the '95 champion, and that, too, in sailing only three-quarters of a mile.

There was no advantage to the Columbia from her weather position, in fact, she had the Defender's back wind as a handicap, and as the pair were not beating, but only "laying" along one tack, there was nothing to gain from having a weather start.

It was practically admitted by all the spectators that this little rub settled the question between the Columbia and the Defender in moderate weather. No wonder Mr. Iselin said he was "pleased" with the boat.

After the mainsail was set, Mr. Iselin and Mrs. Iselin went aboard from the St. Michael's, accompanied by Messrs. Thorne, Kane and Leeds, the trio who assist Mr. Iselin in his work of running his cup defender.

Capt. Nat Herreshoff was, of course, on board, for the craft had not yet been turned over to her owners, Rigger Billman and Sailmaker Hathaway were also on board.

The Columbia beat on short tacks down the bay. She went very fast, considering the light air. She seemed to take quite a list for the weight of the wind, considering more than the defender would have had in the same conditions.

The Columbia seemed to be quick in stays, and to hold her headway well. Once when it was very light, the order came from the wheel: "Slack up jib a little more"—very plain evidence that she is not overardent or hardheaded in light chances.

THE BIG STEEL BOOM

had quite a buckle from its own weight. Before passing Hog island, the two jackstays on each side of it were set in place, and then all hands took a pull on the tackle that hauled out the foot of the mainsail. They stretched and stretched, till there was only about three or four feet of the mast boom that were not covered by sail. On the gaff the cloth goes out well toward the end, leaving less than two feet to spare.

By this time the Columbia had reached down into the Ferryway between Hog Island light-ship and Mussell Bed light. Here the wind began to come up a little and was about half a wholesail breeze. Under her three lower sails the Columbia was making over four knots, close hauled, and, to look at her wake, one would not think she was making two.

Capt. Barr and Nat Herreshoff took turns steering the craft, and once Mr. Iselin himself gripped the spokes. It was easy to tell who was steering when she tacked. Capt. Barr slammed the wheel over and she came about like a top, filling away in not much over 20 seconds, while Capt. Nat nursed her round and let her take a long head reach each time she came about. There was fully 15 seconds difference in the time it took the Columbia to fill from tack to tack with different helmsmen.

As she reached along the Conanicut shore the Defender and the Navahoe could be seen coming out of Newport harbour. The Defender was under her three lower sails, with her working gaff-topsail in stops. She stood up the bay, running before the wind, but with her boom well aft. In this trim she passed to leeward of the Columbia as the latter was coming out on the wind. It was the new coming out and the old going back, the fastest pair of racing yachts ever seen together.

The Columbia stood on a little way and then was wound off and gybed over so that her boom went out to starboard. At the same time, her topsail sheet was slacked, and also her jib halliards. For a moment everyone wondered what the trouble was. From the group at the heel of the bowsprit it was a good guess to say that the big nose pole had begun to come a-nine, slacking up the head stays and letting the mast head aft and the mainboom down.

The boom was quickly caught on the weather topping lift, and Rigger Billman and four men began to remedy the trouble. The Columbia's bowsprit is run out through two gammon irons, and prevented from coming aft by a steel strap that runs from the stem to the heel of the bowsprit. This steel strap slipped and made all the trouble.

To those unfamiliar with matters nautical it may be explained that the Columbia's bowsprit is held in position on the end, that is on the boat by what might be likened to two big screw eyes through these eyes the heel or inboard end of the sprit is held from moving in any direction except in and out. The tendency to slip in is checked by a steel band that goes from one side of the bow round the heel of the sprit to the other side of the bow.

When the jib is set the sail is hauled up so tight that it puts a great part of the strain on the mast on the bowsprit end. Now the bowsprit cannot go up in the air because it is held down by the bobstays, the heaviest piece of rigging on the craft. As it cannot pull up it tries to slide back.

Here was the trouble. The trap probably did not quite do its work, and a slip in of only a couple of inches on the bowsprit would mean very slack stays. The bowsprits shrouds on the Columbia looked so slack as she ran off the wind that it made this theory of the trouble almost a certainty.

The Columbia's topsail was quickly sent down on deck, and then the Defender lowered hers without having broken it out at all. Both boats took a run up the bay side by side with booms wide away to starboard. Boats do not differ so very much on this point of sailing, and the pair did not run more than a mile together, still it was enough to show that dead before it the

When Rigger Billman got the bowsprit fixed, the Columbia was spun round to the wind. She came round like a knockabout, and though her crew took in on both ends of the main sheet at the same time, they could not get it in quickly enough to get it flat before she was by the wind.

The Defender followed the same plan, but did not round up quite so quickly.

The pair were then side by side, with the Columbia a couple of cable lengths to windward. Down the bay they stood on the port track. The Defender pinched up as high as she could, but the Columbia went just as high, and very plainly outfooted her. The Columbia had a very much greater list to leeward. The Defender stood up like a church; a bucket of water thrown on deck would almost have run off on both sides. The Columbia was heeled down till her rail was at times within close to two feet of the water, and she showed a big patch of bronze bottom on her weather side.

The boats made several tacks together, the Columbia pulling away all the time. When off Jamestown the Columbia took a long shoot into the wind and waited for the Defender with her staysail hauled to weather. When the Defender had passed through her lee the Columbia's helm was put up and she was allowed to run down on the Defender's weather quarter. From this point she quickly worked out past the Defender and then up went her helm again and she was squared away across the Defender's bow for the anchorage.

The Defender anchored just astern of the Columbia. From her topmast floated Mr. Duncan's private signal, while on the Columbia there was only a wind fly, for she had not been formally turned over to her owners yet by her builders.

SHAMROCK'S QUALITIES.

English Newspaper Opinion About the New Challenger.

LONDON, June 27.—With the exception of the Times, the papers do not indulge in speculation as to the build of the Shamrock. The Standard estimates her length at 130 feet and her draught with all square and fittings on board at 19 1-2. The Daily Mail estimates her length at 130 feet, 6 inches, her water-line at 89 feet, 6 inches; her beam at 25 feet, and her draught as 19 feet, 8 inches, and her sail area 13,000 square feet.

The Times says: So far as could be judged, during the very short time the vessels under water body was visible, there has been no radical departure with regard to shape. There are the long counter rakings, stern post and overhang forward that characterize the modern racing yachts. The profile of the bow slopes easily and gradually aft, until perhaps a third of the length is reached, and then the outline takes a sudden dip down almost in a vertical line.

The midship section may be described as that of somewhat shallow bodies, the vessel having an extremely and, depending from this structure, is a large and approximately flat surface, which will afford the necessary lateral resistance for keeping the vessel to the wind.

If the body plan be compared with that of the Defender, it may be judged that the Shamrock has the flatter floor and the squarer bilge, and will, therefore, possess more stability of form than her rival.

In regard to the dimensions nothing more than a guess can be given; but it may be supposed that the yacht will build up to her full size and will probably be over 90 feet on the water line. For this length she possesses considerable beam. Certainly the Shamrock is not a narrow craft and differs most materially from some earlier cup challengers.

The lead is evidently carried in the way now usual with racing yachts. The keel is slightly bulbous in form as in the Defender. That is to say the cross section dimensions are greater at the bottom than they are higher up and nearer the main body. There is however, nothing approaching the hideous bulb keel, that was so common a year or two ago, with many racing craft.

SLIGHT DAMAGE TO SHAMROCK.

The Launch Was a Most Successful One Otherwise.

LONDON, June 27.—Further particulars of the Shamrock's launch are at hand to-day.

There was a great cry when the Shamrock struck, especially from several members of the Lipton party, who witnessed the launch from the river. But it was soon ascertained that the damage done was slight, and as a tug towed the yacht towards the South-west India dock hundreds of whistles and horns made a tremendous din. When the Shamrock was launched her crew and a large number of workmen were on board. The canvas screens covered only about twelve feet of her bow and stern. The three top plates, which are made of alloy, were painted pea green. Below that she was a brilliant bronze, resembling gold. The mystery in regard to her dimensions was continued. No official figures were obtainable, but a man who worked on her says her length over all is 125 feet, her water-line 85 feet, beam 25 feet and draft 18 feet. Some little difficulty was experienced in entering the India dock, but ultimately the Shamrock was safely berthed in the upper basin, where her spars are lying. Sir Thomas Lipton, who was in high spirits, was asked a question regarding the prospects of the yacht, and he said to a reporter of the Associated Press: "We have engaged to win back the America's cup. We have fairly extended ourselves and if we are beaten all I can say is honour to the yacht which is better than Shamrock."

William Fife, jr., designer of the Shamrock, said: "Brains and all that careful thought and knowledge of naval architecture can put into the yacht, is there. Every man of us is satisfied that with a fair field we shall give a tight race to any opponent. Shamrock goes to Southampton to-morrow or Wednesday for just those little arrangements that racing experience gives, and then for the journey which, we hope, will herald the cup."

Admiral Beresford said: "I consider the hull of the Shamrock to be a remarkable triumph of construction. She is built on original lines. In the water she is not so striking as out of it. In my opinion, her underwater construction is unique. Her apparent great beam is necessary to satisfy the tremendous area of canvas. It is impossible to forecast the prospects. Take the case of the Meteor, which is an old craft; yet she is racing with great success. Her designer and builder have proceeded on the soundest lines for speed, and if she is not the swiftest afloat I shall be surprised."

ARGONAUTS' WORK.

Good Practices Being Done at Henley.

TORONTO, June 27.—Evening Telegram's special cable:

HENLEY-ON-THAMES.—The Argonauts have engaged Fred. Plaisted, the American oarsman, who comes from Maine, to train them. Ned. Hanlan rowed Plaisted on Toronto Bay some years ago.

The Argonauts telegraphed Chasper, at Putney, to come down to Henley immediately, as the fours boat is entirely unsatisfactory.

Yesterday morning the eight occupied their time in sprinting.

In the eights' trial they did the distance to Fawley Court in three minutes and forty-four seconds, and finished the course in 7 minutes and 35 seconds, feeling fresh. The strokes averaged thirty-four to the minute.

Goldman did half of the course in a trial in 4 minutes and 14 seconds, beating out Fox, one of his competitors, in the Diamond Sculls. A head wind was unfavourable to a good practice.

In Howell's quarters, the word is that Howell will push Goldman hard in the first half of the race, but Goldman says that if he gets in front at the start he will remain there until the finish. Goldman always finished well and in excellent condition.

The Argonauts are very popular here and will have many friends to support them when the regatta opens.

The official list of entries in the Grand Challenge Cup event are: Balliol College, Eton College, Leander Club, London Rowing Club, Thames Rowing Club, Trinity Rowing Club, Delft University, Holland and Toronto Argonauts.

For the Stewards' Challenge Cup the entries are: Balliol College, London Rowing Club, Magdalen Rowing Club, New College, St. George Hospital Rowing Club, Thames Rowing Club, Trinity College, Toronto Argonauts and the Favourite Hammonia Club. The latter four lost at the Berlin regatta.

The American, Howell, is rowing under the colours of the Thames Rowing Club.

In order to provide better room on the course, the starting point has been brought some thirty-five yards down stream.

In the Diamond Sculls, Ashe, of the Thames Rowing Club; Blackstaff, of the Vesta Rowing Club; Fox, of Pembroke College; Gaudin, of the Thames Rowing Club; Goldman, of the Toronto Argonauts; Hemmerdi, of the Leander Rowing Club, and Howell, of the Thames Rowing Club, are entered.

The man sent down to Henley by Clasper, who built the Argonauts' four-oared shell, will not commit himself with regard to this shell, but is waiting the arrival of Clasper himself.

CUP CHALLENGERS IN CHICAGO.

Prairie and Genesee Complete the Windy City's Fast Yachts.

CHICAGO, June 27.—From now on there will be a merry time in Lake Michigan around Chicago, and local yachtsmen will have plenty of choice gossip to discuss, for all the Canada cup challengers are here and are preparing for the trial races, which will start on the 4th of July. The boats are being thoroughly overhauled, and from now until the day of the race will be thoroughly tested and the crews drilled.

The last additions to the local fleet came when the Prairie and Genesee arrived. The former was expected, but the latter dropped in as a great surprise, having been brought in on the deck of a freighter. Local sailors who have examined the Rochester boat like her lines, but they pin most of their hopes to the Chicago boats. They are particularly impressed with the business-like aspect of the Prairie, and pronounce the boat one of the finest bits of naval architecture seen on the lakes. Every little detail of construction has been looked after carefully, and there is such a racy look about the little craft that it is small wonder that Commodore Morgan and Secretary Thorne are enraptured with her. She is now in South Chicago, having a few finishing touches made, and will be back into the Chicago harbour in a few days.

The Josephine was given a looking over yesterday, being hauled into one of the slips near Randolph street. Not that she needed any alterations, but her owners wanted to be sure that nothing was wrong. Commodore Howard, of the Buffalo Yacht Club, looked her over, and expressed himself as being well satisfied that the Whiteley Griffiths boat would prove fast.

THE COLUMBIA ACCEPTED.

BRISTOL, R.I., June 27.—After a conference among the owners of the new cup defender Columbia, Mr. C. Oliver Iselin, the managing owner, notified the Herreshoff Company yesterday afternoon that the yacht would be accepted without a further builder's trial. The owners expressed themselves more than satisfied with the performance of the yacht in yesterday's trial. The formal transfer was made yesterday afternoon to Mr. Iselin as managing owner of the Morgan Iselin syndicate.

GOSSIP.

In the Ladies' final English lawn tennis championship, Mrs. Hilliard beat Mrs. Steadman two to one. In the gentlemen's doubles, Hobart and Nisbet beat Simond and Carridan, three sets to two. In the third round Gore and Barrett beat Dixon and Ritchie, three to one.

In the cricket match at Derby yesterday between the Derbyshire eleven and the Australian visiting cricketers, the home team was all out in its first innings for 122 runs.

A meeting of the Lachine Football Club will be held at Fortin's Hotel, Lachine, to-morrow night.

Carried Down Stream.

When a man crossing some difficult place in his working career spurring all his energies to accomplish some critical passage in his business journey, suddenly finds his health giving way and feels himself swept out of the saddle by the swift-running current of disease—then is the time when the marvelous rejuvenating properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will prove an unfailing means of rescue and restoration.

It is a very simple though eminently scientific medicine. It is not a mere stimulant like so many malt extracts. It restores healthy power by reviving the innermost sources of vitality in the nutritive system. It enables the digestive and blood making organism to manufacture good blood abundantly and rapidly, so that the immense waste of tissue and nerve fiber entailed by hard labor is offset by a speedy upbuilding of fresh energy and strength.

A prominent and venerable Illinois physician, D. W. Vowles, M. D., of Fowler Adams Co., writing to Dr. Pierce, says: "I send herewith thirty-one (31) cents in stamps for The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser in cloth binding. With this pittance for so valuable a work (truly a gift to the public), I must express my high appreciation of the vast amount of good that you have rendered the public. A correct measure of your usefulness never has been and never will be estimated by the public, no, not even by the multitude of afflicted humanity that has been relieved and cured by your medicines. Wherever I go or have been in the United States, I find persons who have used, and are using Dr. Pierce's medicines with satisfaction, for all conditions for which they are recommended. Never has one spoken disparagingly of their action, and from having seen so often their good effects, I am also enthused with confidence in their action in cases and conditions for which they are recommended. It is not common for regular physicians to endorse and recommend proprietary medicines, but in this case I have no equivocation or hesitancy in so doing."

DOCUMENTS MISSING

Sensational Discovery in a Gambling Case.

Important Evidence Disappears From the Court House.

The trial of the three men who ran the St. Jean Baptiste Club on St. Charles Borromee street, which was commenced this morning, developed some sensational features before the case had fairly been started.

When the High Constable was called to produce certain documents which had been filed during the enquête before the Police Magistrate, it was found that certain documents had been removed from the case and disappeared from the court house.

The charge against Messrs. Napoleon Lajoette, Alexandre Lamarre and Hermindas Gohan, was that for six months preceding the 26th of April last they kept a gambling house at No. 92 St. Charles Borromee street, under the name of the Club St. Jean Baptiste.

When the place was raided by Chief Detective Carpenter and the gambling apparatus, tables, cards, chips, boxes, etc., were seized and during the enquête were produced as exhibits shown to witnesses for them to identify.

When the enquête was over a list of all the exhibits was made out, and High Constable Bissonnette took charge of a quantity of miscellaneous matter which was supposed whether it did or not to correspond with the list of exhibits. These articles were placed in the vault in the ground floor of the Court House and were brought into the Court of Special Sessions this morning did not tally with the list made by authorities.

Important documents showing the interest on the defendants with fictitious partners of the place in question. Also chips seized have disappeared and a pack of cards which an expert testified were marked have departed with them.

After the matter had been brought to the attention of the Court, it was discovered that Police Detective Sergt. Bissonnette after strongly condemning the loose method of handling exhibits permitted such a state of affairs to exist, explained that the missing articles were carried off by Detective Carpenter when the latter left the court house.

Detective Carpenter was then sworn and stated that he had taken away the articles in question, but that he had left them in the vault of the ground floor of the court house. He had left the vault at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon and had returned at 10 o'clock on Monday morning. He had not seen the articles since he had left them in the vault.

Mr. M. J. F. Quinn, Q.C., M.P., prosecuted and Mr. R. A. E. Greenshields, Q.C., and Mr. J. C. Beauchamp, appeared for the defence.

James Kehoe, Inspector of Police, testified that on Sunday, April 30 last between 11 and 12 o'clock at night he went to No. 92 St. Charles Borromee street, accompanied by Detective Carpenter and several other men. He went upstairs and found a number of men sitting around the tables. On the tables were chips, cards, dice and other articles used in the game. When the police entered the room the men seized as much as they could and threw it under the tables. Witness picked up a pack of cards and a number of chips which he produced in court. He identified the cards which he had picked up.

Cross-examined by Mr. R. A. E. Greenshields, Q.C.—He knew that the Club St. Jean Baptiste was in existence. He had been told that the Club St. Denis Police were secretly watching the premises. He knew that No. 92 St. Charles Borromee street was a gambling house. He did not know that the club was playing cards for money. He did not know that there was an understanding with the St. Charles Borromee street until the day of the raid.

Detective Carpenter, detective sergeant, the next witness, explained the circumstances of the raid on the Club St. Jean Baptiste. The witness went with the police and found the place closed up. The police had to force open the door. The witness identified the articles produced by the last witness. He found the men under the tables. He found a number of men sitting around the tables. He found a number of men sitting around the tables. He found a number of men sitting around the tables.

Cross-examined by Mr. R. A. E. Greenshields, Q.C.—He was not sure whether the men were playing for money. He did not know whether the men were playing for money. He did not know whether the men were playing for money.

The charge against Napoleon Lajoette, Alexandre Lamarre and Hermindas Gohan was that for six months preceding the 26th of April last they kept a gambling house at No. 92 St. Charles Borromee street, under the name of the Club St. Jean Baptiste.

When the place was raided by Chief Detective Carpenter and the gambling apparatus, tables, cards, chips, boxes, etc., were seized and during the enquête were produced as exhibits shown to witnesses for them to identify.

When the enquête was over a list of all the exhibits was made out, and High Constable Bissonnette took charge of a quantity of miscellaneous matter which was supposed whether it did or not correspond with the list of exhibits. These articles were placed in the vault in the ground floor of the Court House and were brought into the Court of Special Sessions this morning did not tally with the list made by authorities.

Important documents showing the interest on the defendants with fictitious partners of the place in question. Also chips seized have disappeared and a pack of cards which an expert testified were marked have departed with them.

After the matter had been brought to the attention of the Court, it was discovered that Police Detective Sergt. Bissonnette after strongly condemning the loose method of handling exhibits permitted such a state of affairs to exist, explained that the missing articles were carried off by Detective Carpenter when the latter left the court house. He had left the vault at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon and had returned at 10 o'clock on Monday morning. He had not seen the articles since he had left them in the vault of the ground floor of the court house.

Detective Carpenter was then sworn and stated that he had taken away the articles in question, but that he had left them in the vault of the ground floor of the court house. He had left the vault at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon and had returned at 10 o'clock on Monday morning. He had not seen the articles since he had left them in the vault.

James Kehoe, Inspector of Police, testified that on Sunday, April 30 last between 11 and 12 o'clock at night he went to No. 92 St. Charles Borromee street, accompanied by Detective Carpenter and several other men. He went upstairs and found a number of men sitting around the tables. On the tables were chips, cards, dice and other articles used in the game. When the police entered the room the men seized as much as they could and threw it under the tables. Witness picked up a pack of cards and a number of chips which he produced in court. He identified the cards which he had picked up

A STRAIGHT TIP TO KRUGER.

Mr. Chamberlain's vigorous speech at Birmingham yesterday cannot fail to advance the crisis at the Cape a long step forward. No one imagines that the Colonial Secretary would attempt so strong a hit off his own bat; for Lord Salisbury is still in command of the war policy of the Government. The more probable inference is that Mr. Chamberlain was commissioned by the Cabinet to speak plainly, and the general hope will be that his words will be heard as clearly by Boer as by British ears.

Unless the Boer leaders deceive their people as to the true situation, it is impossible to believe that they will really challenge the British Empire to battle. That Britain is exceedingly reluctant to go to war with this plucky and determined little community, goes without saying. The presence of a large Dutch population in Natal and Cape Colony would alone render this inadvisable; and there is a natural sympathy in British breasts for men who simply wish to live their own lives in their own way. But Mr. Chamberlain made it tremendously plain yesterday that there can be conditions under which Britain simply cannot afford to keep the peace. British prestige in South Africa cannot be sacrificed, even to protect the shy isolation of a pastoral people. And when that "shy isolation" takes the form of crushing taxation without representation upon a class of settlers to whom the Boers long ago guaranteed equal treatment, and under the protection of which guarantee and its accompanying agreement they have thrived, there seems to be less reason still for Britain to make the sacrifice.

Certainly there must be no doubt left in the native mind as to which is the paramount power in South Africa, and if the members of the paramount Government—which sits in London—have made up their minds that the time has come when it is necessary for the Boer to publicly acquiesce in the fact, it will be prudent and kindly to tell him so in the plainest possible language. The information should be pointed as straight at his head as it is said the Boer knows how to point [illegible] or a Briton a [illegible]

A MONSTROUS SCHEME.

An enquiry of the Government made by Sir Mackenzie Bowell in the Senate has called public attention to one of the most astonishing features of the Intercolonial extension deal, and one which has hitherto escaped notice. This is nothing less than an agreement by which the Government of Canada binds itself for ninety-nine years, to give all its westbound unconsigned traffic controlled by the Intercolonial, or its connections, destined for points west thereof reached by the Grand Trunk and its connections, to the Grand Trunk system.

That is to say, for ninety-nine years all "contributive freight" originating at any point on the Intercolonial, or its connections, and destined for Canadian North West or British Columbia, must go from the western terminus of the Intercolonial by the Grand Trunk and its American connections.

For ninety-nine years the Government binds itself to discriminate against any new existing or future Canadian route in favour of the Grand Trunk and its United States allies.

Practically for ninety-nine years the Grand Trunk gets all the advantages without the disadvantages of a lease of the Intercolonial.

Such stupid concessions as this are never granted by one railway company to another without arranging compensations. One company guaranteeing the interest upon the bonds of another, must enter into such an arrangement, and think itself fairly compensated by getting a monopoly of the other company's traffic for a century; but such a thing never entered into the head of any railway man to grant such a privilege for nothing, or to think of it as an unconsidered trifle, not worth mentioning, into a bargain.

But what does Mr. Blair get for Canada in consideration of his tying the hands of the Intercolonial and making it a feeder of the Grand Trunk, and its connections, for ninety-nine years? He gets a compliance undertaking from the Grand Trunk that all traffic originating on that line and its connections destined for points on the Intercolonial shall be given to the Intercolonial at Montreal. A moment's thought will show the worthlessness of the considération. There is no comparison between the two volumes of business respectively given by each company to the other.

So far as points only reached by the Intercolonial are concerned, the concession amounts to nothing, because obviously the freight would have to go by the Intercolonial under any circumstances. So far as through traffic for Atlantic ports is concerned, the Grand Trunk's interest will be to divert everything possible to Portland for its own benefit rather than let it go to Canadian ports for the benefit of the Intercolonial.

It is difficult to characterize such an agreement in parliamentary language, but it is certainly the most unpatriotic, unbusinesslike feature of the whole Drummond County deal. There is no estimating the value of the privilege Mr. Blair is throwing away, simply because there is no estimating the extent of the business between the Intercolonial Atlantic ports and Western Canada between now and a hundred years hence. There may be a score of Canadian routes from Montreal to Winnipeg in twenty years' time, but the Intercolonial will be forbidden to do business with any of them, because there was once a gentleman named Blair who dabbled in railways and politics and thought he knew more than anybody else would be likely to know for a hundred years. Should the Dominion Government want to sell the Intercolonial within the next ninety-nine years its selling price must be enormously depreciated by the Grand Trunk lien on its business. Selling in fact would be out of the question. No other line would want it as a gift saddled with such a servitude, and the Grand Trunk already having a monopoly of its west-bound freight would have no interest in buying the line. It would be cheaper to make the Grand Trunk a present of the Intercolonial with its annual deficit, Mr. Blair and all.

It is only fair to the House of Commons to assume that this perfectly outrageous part of the agreement escaped the attention of the members, as it seems to have done of everybody else. It is not easy of detection simply appearing as a clause in an innocent-looking traffic agreement which, however, is ratified by the bill and made part of the ninety-nine years' contract. But the duty of the Senate is plain, and once more Canada has reason to be thankful that it has a second Chamber to detect and correct the blunders of the Lower House.

AN IMPORTANT EVENT.

Sir Cavendish Boyle and Mr. E. Depough, commissioners from the Government of British Guiana, are in Ottawa conferring with the Government regarding reciprocal trade arrangements, and an Associated Press despatch from Kingston, Jamaica, says that Mr. Joseph Chamberlain has directed the Governor of Jamaica, Sir Augustus W. L. Hemming, to instruct the Jamaica reciprocity delegates to proceed immediately from Washington to Ottawa for the purpose of conferring with the Dominion authorities on the whole project of Jamaica's future relations with Canada.

This is an opportunity that Canada should make the most of. Everything possible should be done to favourably impress the delegates from both Jamaica and British [illegible] and to go home without some satisfactory arrangement for reciprocal trade. Why should not Canada propose commercial union to these tropical British colonies? We could well afford to admit all their products free into Canada in return for their free admission of all Canadian products. In estimating the value of a reciprocal treaty with the United States we have to set the losses against the gains. The farmers of the Northern States produce exactly the same crops as the Canadian farmers and export their surplus to the same British market. If Canadian farmers gained the privilege of free entrance to American markets the farmers of the United States raising the same products would probably send at least an equal quantity to Canada. In every line of manufacturing industry reciprocity with the United States would expose our manufacturers to the keenest competition.

But in considering the advantages of reciprocity with the British West Indies we have only to calculate the gain of its for their products will not compete in any way with ours. What they produce we have to import from somewhere. Why not buy from a British colony instead of from a foreign nation? They, on the other hand, import large quantities of manufactured goods, fish and northern farm products from the United States, all of which Canadians could supply.

A commercial union between Canada and the British West Indies, including British Guiana, would add immensely to the trade of Montreal, and the Montreal Board of Trade should endeavour to influence the Government in favour of such an arrangement. The delegates from Jamaica and British Guiana should be invited to Montreal and entertained by the Board of Trade. They should go home with a feeling that Canadians have given them a hearty welcome. The United States has spent hundreds of millions of dollars and sacrificed many lives to add to her tropical possessions. With a little effort Canada can probably obtain commercial supremacy without going into over-tropical possessions much more valuable than those for which the United States has expended so much blood and treasure. And we need such tropical annexes much more than the United States did, for that country has a number of Southern States producing products that Canada has to import.

The arrival of these colonial delegates in Canada may be an event of much importance to the Dominion.

CORRUPTION IN ONTARIO.

The revelations of the election courts in Ontario have brought upon that Province the usual deluge of discussion of ways and means of "putting down bribery and corruption." And the usual remedies are suggested—the disfranchisement of notoriously corrupt constituencies, compulsory voting, heavy penalties for bribe-giving and bribe-taking, and all the rest of them.

Undoubtedly laws can be made which will help to minimise political corruption. We have much less corruption now because of the laws which are in operation. Mr. Ingram has a bill before Parliament which will increase the difficulties in the path of those who wish to corrupt a constituency, but so subtle is the human mind that it is much easier to make unpreventable armourpiate than non-leaky laws. If and when Mr. Ingram's bill becomes law, it will be no longer possible to bring potato planters down from Sault Ste. Marie to serve as deputy returning officers in the Ontario peninsula, but it is that other means will be found to attain something like the same result. Still, of course, it is a good thing to pass bills like that of Mr. Ingram; for they narrow down the chances of escape.

But what is wanted more than law, is simply a general perception of plain truths. The Ontario election trials have shown that the immediate trouble in that province is that a platoon of professional party "workers" are being moved about from constituency to constituency wherever, in fact, a bye-election is about to be held—and that these professionals seem not to be always painfully scrupulous about the methods they employ to carry the day. There is no doubt about their existence. They appear mysteriously in every county where an election is pending, the witnesses go into the box and tell about them at every trial; they come upon the stage in different guises, and they labour in many ways to prevent the verdict of the electorate from being fairly recorded. Nor are there any two opinions about which party they support—they are for the two governments, the one at Toronto and the other at Ottawa.

Now why, in the name of ordinary "horse-sense," should not the people recognize this plain fact? Here is an obvious, organized corrupting influence, maintained by one of the political parties. Undoubtedly, it is worth a number of votes to that party in each of the bye-elections. And, as votes are the things that win elections and seat supporters in both Legislature and the Parliament, it is altogether likely that this organization will continue to operate so long as it nets the party employing it a gain in voting strength. But the moment it becomes sufficiently odious to the decent citizen to render it certain that its presence in a constituency will cost the party more respectable ballots than it can manage to offset by "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain," the organization will go to pieces like the deacon's "one horse shay."

The respectable non-bribable voters of Ontario can put that organization out of the way any time they choose. It is not a question for the corrupt element to settle at all, but for the incorrupt. They have only to drop the miserable cant that "both parties are corrupt," and vote squarely against this one, obvious, conspicuous foe to pure elections until it disappears. Then if they find traces of the same kind of thing in the fighting organization of the other party, they can dose it with the same heroic medicine.

When large blocks of decent citizens leave one party and vote for the other because they have reason to believe that the party they usually sympathise with is employing corrupt means to carry the election, political corruption will be, at least, driven farther under ground. And it is less harmful, the less it is seen. Certainly the people of Ontario should take cognizance of the Liberal "machine" which the late election trials have uncovered to the gaze of the whole community. If the rising generation is to be taught that this open and shameless defiance of decency is to be tolerated and permitted to benefit the party behind it, we must look for decadence rather than progress in the matter of political purity.

THE SMOKE NUISANCE.

Fire and Light Committee Discuss Means of Abatement.

But No Action Was Taken—Talk of Naming an Inspector.

The meeting of the Fire Committee which was adjourned from Friday, took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the City Hall. A motion was adopted, authorizing the supply officer for the fire department to buy on spot cash, and a note was issued to the City Treasurer authorizing him to pay to Mr. Beaulieu the amounts necessary for those purchases.

The question of the temporary lights to be put in Logan's Park, Dominion Square and other places was discussed, and finally deferred until the next meeting. A letter was read from Chief Benoit claiming $300 from the department, as the heir to his son, lately deceased, for salary due to him for work done in the department. An order was given that a copy of the will of the deceased be attached to the letter, and the same be reported to the Finance Committee.

Complaints were received against defective smoke stacks. These letters, which were signed F. X. St. Charles, S. Carsley, L. Chaput, Fils & Co., A. McPherson & Co., and others, created quite a lively debate.

Alderman Marsolais got up, and said that the city orders seemed to be of no value as they were never executed. Referring to the question on the tapis, he said that for over a year the firms complained about had been notified to remedy the defect, by having a smoke consumer put in their chimneys, but that nothing had been done.

Strict measures should then be taken, said Alderman Marsolais. He suggested that as Mr. Champagne, the city boiler inspector, was too busy to attend to those matters, Mr. A. Descarries, clerk in the department be named as assistant, and look after the smoke nuisance.

This point raised objections. Alderman Laporte said that no two heads should be named in the one department, and that Mr. Champagne should alone be held responsible for the nuisance, and that Mr. Descaries should be made to report to him as his assistant.

Much controversy ensued over the qualifications and capacity of the candidate, and whatever he would have time enough at his disposal, after his regular work had been done in the department, to attend to the smoke nuisance, before the question was ended. Suggestions were made by Alderman Ames, that an assistant be given Mr. Champagne, who would be told to go ahead and prosecute the delinquents.

Alderman Martineau said that delinquents should be given thirty days' delay and upon failure on their part to comply within that time prosecution should follow.

Alderman Ames asked Chief Benoit if a fireman could not be spared to do the work. None qualified enough to prepare a case for court could be found, said the Chief.

Ald. Marsolais moved that Mr. Pearson, mechanical engineer of the Fire Department, be made assistant to the City Boiler Inspector, re the smoke nuisance.

Ald. Martineau said that it was not necessary to go and visit the boilers of the chimneys causing the nuisance. The fact of seeing the thick smoke issue from the funnel was sufficient, along with names of complaining neighbours, to make a case for prosecution.

Ald. Martineau furthermore moved that Chief Benoit's son be appointed as assistant to Mr. Dansur, secretary of the Fire Department, and that Mr. Champagne be authorized to make use of all his clerks for the abatement of the nuisance.

Ald. Laporte moved that Mr. Descarries be named as assistant to Mr. Champagne.

Mr. Champagne said he had too much work to do to attend to the matter, and an assistant should be put on him, who would look after the nuisance, and make cases against delinquents, not only when letters of complaint had been received, but in all cases, and especially in the suburbs, where the working classes who did not know to whom to make complaint, and were, furthermore, afraid to appear against their employers, the owners of mills and factories, needed protection just as much as other classes of society.

Ald. Stevenson then said that Mr. Descarries was much employed looking after the chimney sweeping, boilers, building department, and other work of a paying nature to the city, and that he could not be employed in that capacity.

Ald. Laporte moved that act on be taken at the end of thirty days against delinquents.

Ald. Stevenson said that he wished to know if the items alluded to in the letters of complaint received had already been proceeded against?

Then followed a lively "tilt" between Ald. Stevenson and Laporte, which created some excitement in the meeting.

Upon the allegation of Ald. Laporte that the president of the committee had himself caused delay to the taking of action against smoke nuisances, Ald. Stevenson at once flared up and categorically denied it, saying meanwhile that "It seemed to him that Ald. Laporte was doing all the talking in that committee."

The final decision was to have Mr. Champagne report at the next meeting and to decide if he can take charge of the work, and make personal reports to the committee.

NO NEWS OF PLANTE

Who Disappeared on May 27—Was it His Body Which Was Found in the Ottawa River?

No news has yet been received from Wilham Plante, employed in a cigar factory at the corner of McGill and Wellington streets, and who disappeared on the afternoon of the 27th of May last, leaving his young wife and his eight months' old baby at their home, No. 989 St. Dominique street.

Young Plante was dressed in a black diagonal frock coat and suit when last seen. He wore a black felt hat and black and green tie under a turn down collar. He stood 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighs about 150 pounds. He has black eyes and hair and a small mustache. The only marks on his body are two scars, one on each foot, and three large vaccine marks on the left arm, one being in the elbow pit.

It is thought that the dismembered body found in the river near Ottawa a week ago might be that of William Plante.

APARTMENT HOUSES.

The Flat Scheme Seems to Have Taken Root in Montreal.

A Big Apartment House on University Street—Other Structures.

The building of apartment houses has been a feature of Montreal's growth during the last two or three years, and a large number of these buildings are now under construction in the city and in contemplation. Mr. A. F. Gault has taken an active part in the erection of apartment houses in Montreal, and in addition to "The Salisbury," at the corner of Guy and St. Antoine streets, which is now completed, Mr. Gault will build another, "The Marlborough," on Milton street near University street.

The Marlborough will be four stories high exclusive of the basement. It will have a frontage of 70 feet in Milton street and will be constructed of pressed brick with yellow sandstone trimmings. It will contain thirty suites, ranging from nine to two rooms, and two splendidly appointed studios on the top floor. Messrs. Taylor and Gordon, the architects, have introduced a number of new features into the proposed structure, among them being that all the chambers will have direct light from a large central court. The reception and drawing rooms facing the street, fireplaces, and special heating, lighting and ventilating appliances will be used. The building will cost $80,000 and work will be begun this week.

Mr. Benjamin Desiaurriers has under construction in Rue Du Zouave, adjoining St. Denis street, between Sherbrooke and Ontario streets, a twenty-six flat apartment house, which will be ready early in October. The front is of rough and dressed stone. Each flat will have eight rooms which will be finished in red pine and cottonwood, and oak doors, plate glass windows and carved oak fireplaces. The structure will cost $36,000.

On the adjoining lot Mr. E. Lesperance will erect an apartment house of nine flats similar to the one now under construction by Mr. Desiaurriers, to cost $12,000.

Mr. Albert Holmes is having plans prepared by Messrs. McDuff and Lemieux for two tenement houses in Western avenue, Westmount, to be ready for occupancy in February.

'SHERLOCK HOLMES' COMING.

William Gillette Will First Produce His New Play in Montreal.

Montreal will be the first city to see the dramatization of Conan Doyle's "Sherlock Holmes." William Gillette, who has dramatized the work, and will play the title role, has just reached New York from London, where he consulted Dr. Doyle on the production of what will be an intensely dramatic play.

"I desired," says Mr. Gillette, "that Dr. Doyle see it and set me right on certain points. He seemed greatly pleased with the way I had handled the character, and said that I had not taken enough liberties with the book. I left the play with him, so that he might fill in the names of cities and localities of which I am not aware. The play will be presented in Montreal and Washington, D.C., for a week, and then staged in New York."

ST. JEAN BAPTISTE DAY.

A Big Colonization Celebration to be Held at St. Ignace du Nominingue.

The national holiday of St. Jean Baptiste is to be observed with eclat next Sunday at St. Ignace du Nominingue, Lt.-Governor Jette, Archbishops Duhamel and Bruchesi, Premier Marchand, Hon. Messrs. Parent and Turgeon, Mayor Prefontaine, Messrs. J. D. Rolland, M.L.C., president of the Colonization Society; H. Bourassa, M.P., C. B. Major, M.L.A., G. A. Drolet and others have accepted invitations to be present. The excursionists will go to Labelle by train and then drive to Nominingue. A collection will be taken up to be known as "The Colonists' Fence." A convention to further the interests of colonization, mass, procession, banquet etc., are on the programme.

WESTMOUNT TOWN COUNCIL.

Several points of interest were discussed at the special meeting of the Westmount Council held last evening. Notice of a by-law to repeal by-law No. 45 which had been passed some years ago to empower a syndicate to build the line, was given by Councillor Bulmer. The construction of the road under difficult conditions will be discussed at a subsequent meeting. By-law No. 140, referring to the extension of Westmount avenue, was discussed, at some length, but it was finally decided to defer all action for the present. The claims of Joseph Hill, against the corporation for injuries received in a fall on Roslyn avenue was referred to the City Attorney who will take action. A letter was read from the Montreal Water and Power Company, enclosing a certificate of analysis of a sample of the water supplied to the town. It says that the water was satisfactory and suited for a town's supply.

MOUNT ROYAL'S OFFICERS.

The regular meeting of Mount Royal Lodge, No. 1, I.O.O.F., was held in the Oddfellows' Hall, 24 St. James street, last evening, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months:—Bro. Goodfellow, N.G.; Bro. J. Foster, V.G.; Bro. Lyon Silverman treasurer; Bro. Jas. Goodfellow, recording secretary.

At the regular meeting of Beaver Lodge, No. 5, Daughters of Rebekah, I.O.O.F., held in Unity Hall, Wellington street, last evening, the following officers were elected: Mrs. M. Pollock, N.G.; Mrs. Pratt, V.G.; Miss L. Jenkins, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Livingstone, treasurer.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The regular meeting of Damascus Lodge, No. 4, Knights of Pythias, was held in Castle Hall, 8 Phillips Square, on Friday evening, when three candidates were advanced to the second degree. There was a large attendance, including many members from sister lodges. The District Deputy Supreme Chancellor, Knight Dr. Lockhart, in a short address, stated that he had just returned from Quebec, where he had almost completed arrangements for the formation of a very strong, active lodge, and which he expected to institute in July, the members of the new lodge there being anxious to get into working operation before the visit of the Supreme Chancellor in August. Dr. Lockhart also asked the co-operation of all the Montreal knights to give the Supreme Chancellor a hearty reception. At the close of the meeting a pleasant hour was spent socially, and a capital musical programme carried out. Songs were contributed by Knights Dr. Lockhart, G. C. Rough, Cornell and J. E. Balls, while Mr. Webb delighted the brethren with some selections from Dr. W. H. Drummond's poems. Mr. W. J. Birks presided at the piano, and also gave some piano solos.

THE SITUATION IN CUBA

As Viewed by the Manager of a Branch of a Canadian Bank Established in Havana.

Some months ago the Merchants Bank of Halifax established a bank at Havana, Cuba, and took Mr. R. W. Forrester, who has been acting as accountant of that branch for the past four months, is spending a holiday with friends in Montreal.

In speaking of matters in this latest addition to the United States territory Mr. Forrester says that he has some doubts of the political future of the country. While the Spanish residents would like annexation to the United States, the Cubans are clamouring for independence. Maximo Gomez who is the ex-of the Cubans, stands for law order and everything else has so far had a restraining influence and Mr. Forrester says that he considers him a very safe man.

Business in Cuba in quiet, the ordinary sugar crop of 1,200,000 tons having shrunk on account of the war's effects to little more than 50,000 tons. At the present time the two chartered banks in Havana are the North American Trust company and the Merchants Bank of Canada, the first named being the fiscal agents of the United States government. The rate charged for discount on business paper is about 8 per cent.

The imports to Havana since the war have been very large, and some days as much as $600,000 are entered at the custom house.

Life and property seem perfectly safe, the health of the population of Havana was good, and Generals Brooke and Ludlow were both looked upon as able officers, and the feeling towards the Americans is cordial.

THEATRE ROYAL BENEFIT.

The benefit to be given the attaches of the Theatre Royal on Monday evening next July 3rd, promises to be a most successful and interesting affair. The programme includes a number of well known variety turns as well as vocal numbers and character sketches, the following being the list of performers and their acts: John E. Turton, descriptive vocalist; Eddie Giguere and Blanche Boyer, eccentric comedians; Mr. Courtleigh Auburn, who will present the transformation scene from "Faust," with all the scenic and electrical effects; the Hungarian band, masters of the xylophone, the Kis Ners, French equilibrists, Armstrong Bros., singers, dancers and travesty artists; Miss Ruby Raymond, dancer; Baker and Lynn, comedy sketch duo; Mme. Durand and "Tootsie" in a new sketch by Frank Dumont; B. Rice, in illustrated songs. The cinematograph is also on the programme for new and novel moving pictures.

AT SOHMER PARK.

The management of Sohmer Park is this week offering an excellent bill of fare to its patrons. The vocal numbers, ballets and operatic choruses are all of a high order of merit, while the flying trapeze performance of the Austin sisters is one of the most daring exhibitions of its kind ever witnessed in the Park. One of the sisters performed a clever act at the conclusion of their double number, consisting of walking head downwards on the ceiling of the auditorium. The quartettes and duetts by the members of the stock company were good, while the instrumental numbers of the Hungarian Gypsy Band were greatly admired.

TO BE DRAWN BY HORSES.

The Cruel Sentence Passed by St. Cunegonde Council on Electric Cars.

CONDUCTOR AND MOTORMAN TO BE HAULED OFF TO THE POLICE STATION.

At the meeting of the Town Council of St. Cunegonde last evening considerable discussion was occasioned over the application for a liquor license by Mr. O'Hara for an hotel at the corner of Park and Van Horne avenues. The question against the granting of a license was declared to be illegal, the petitioners not having been sworn to nor declaration required. Mr. Lewthwaite and Mr. Robert Neville, jr., opposed the granting of the license, challenging the names presented by Mr. O'Hara on his applications on the ground that the hotel was for the accommodation of residents. Outremont, being in the residents of St. Louis in that vicinity, and that it was unjust to issue a license to the hotel on the West Ward of St. Louis against the wishes of the majority of the residents simply to oblige residents of Outremont.

It was, however, finally decided that the petition against the application was irregular, and as the applicant had the required number of signatures the Council had no alternative than to grant the license.

Ald. Martin then brought up the car question. He stated that there was a by-law enforced prohibiting any teams standing in or blocking the streets for any considerable length of time, and he could not see why the Park & Island Ry. should be permitted to have privileges denied to residents of the town. Their cars continually stood on the streets, sometimes for an hour at a time, seriously interfering with vehicular traffic. Mr. Martin said that he had had a by-law prepared covering the case, and moved its first reading. The by-law provides that the cars must not stand on the street any longer than is required to discharge and take on passengers, and authorizes the town's police force to arrest and bring before the Town Recorder, the motorman and conductor of any car violating such by-law, and authorizes them also to hitch teams to such cars and draw them to the Police Station. The by-law then passed its first reading.

IRISH LITERATURE.

An Attempt at a Consecutive History Made by Mr. Douglas Hyde.

Mr. Douglas Hyde, an author of considerable reputation, has just published a 600 page volume entitled a Literary History of Ireland.

It is doubtless owing to the difficulty of arriving at definite conclusions as to the real scope of Irish literature that no attempt at a consecutive history of it has been previously made. The author of the book believes that an experiment in this direction would have been made some time ago but for the Decline of Irish Ireland which followed the great famine and the unexpected turn given to Anglo-Irish literature by the efforts of the Young Ireland school to compete with the English in their own language.

NEWS OF THE CITY.

RACING MEN.—A large party of racing men, who for the past three weeks have made Montreal their place of residence, left on Sunday morning for Buffalo. The party, which included Judge Pettingell and wife, Judge Marios, Mr. F. E. Fowler, Mr. Roger Sullivan, Mr. T. H. Miller and some forty others, left at nine a.m. by Grand Trunk, arriving at Brockville at noon. There they caught the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company's steamer Toronto and arrived in Toronto Monday morning at half past six o'clock. At seven o'clock they left by the Niagara Navigation Company's steamer, arriving in Buffalo two hours and a half later.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—The Hebrew Sick Benefit Association held a regular meeting in their hall, 6 Phillips Square, President P. Dobrosky in the chair. The secretary's report showed an increase in membership and also a favourable financial standing. The following officers were elected: President, P. Dobrosky, by acclamation; vice-president, I. Litman, by majority; secretary, H. Egleson, by acclamation; treasurer, S. Gold, by acclamation; trustees, M. Rapp, A. Fineberg, B. Jasper, by acclamation.

GONE TO WINNIPEG.—The Rev. H. R. O'Malley, who has been assistant pastor of St. Jude's Church, in this city, for the past two years, left for Winnipeg yesterday to assume the duties connected with the new position as assistant pastor of Holy Trinity Cathedral there. The reverend gentleman preached his farewell sermon in St. Jude's on Sunday evening, his text being, Gal. II., 20: "The Son of God who loved me and gave himself for me."

ASSAULTED THE POLICE.—Robert McCormick was sentenced to $20 or two months by Recorder Pourier yesterday. It appears that on being arrested by Constable Cordenier for disturbing the peace, he made terrific efforts to escape the police. The constable even produced a stone with which the prisoner had struck the constable heavily on the arm.

SENT TO GAOL.—James Clark, kitchen helper at the St. Lawrence Hall, was sentenced to a term of four months in gaol by Police Magistrate Latontaine for stealing a suit of clothes from a fellow-employe named James Rowan. Detective Kellert arrested the accused and brought him to justice.

IN AID OF THE CHURCH.—A strawberry festival under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid will be held in Dorchester Street Methodist Church (cor. St. Urbain) this evening. A good programme has been prepared and a very enjoyable evening is assured.

CIRCUIT COURT CASES.—During vacation the Circuit Court will sit to hear cases between landlord and tenant and to render judgments by default or in ex parte cases, every Tuesday morning at ten o'clock.

RETAINS HIS SEAT.—Councillor Stephen Hurteau, of the town of St. Louis, retains his seat in that body, the contestation of it before Mr. Justice Charland having been dropped by the petitioner, Germain.

AN EXECUTRIX APPOINTED.

Mr. Justice Curran has appointed Mrs. William R. Oswald executrix to the estate of her late husband, to replace Mr. E. B. Greenshields, who had been appointed by the will of the deceased, but who renounced, and Mr. Samuel Greenshields, who predeceased the testator, the will having been made in 1895. The usufruct of the estate is left to Mrs. Oswald, and after her death is to be shared equally between her two children, Miss Jean Oswald and Malcolm C. Oswald, now a minor.

DEATH OF MR. W. H. FERGUSON.

The death of Mr. William Henry Ferguson, formerly in the employ of Vipond, McBride and Co., of this city, occurred yesterday at 371 Bourgeois street. Mr. Ferguson had gone to the Adirondacks for the benefit of his health, and returned to the city only about a week before his death. Deceased gentleman was 33 years of age. In 1889 he married a daughter of the late Robert Lauder. He leaves a widow and three children.

A REMOVAL PERMIT GIVEN.

Mr. Justice Mathieu has authorized the removal of the remains of the late Mr. Daniel Noe Wetzler, and his wife, father and mother of Mrs. R. P. McLea, from the cemetery of the Spanish and Portuguese Jews, "Shearith Israel," to the Mount Royal Cemetery, where they will be placed in the lot of her husband.

Order with Variety....

The Arrangement

—OF—

The Masterpieces.

FROM the earliest days of cyclopædia-making the simple alphabetical classification has been the most easy for ready reference, and in connection with the arrangement of the Masterpieces of the World's Literature this method produces a very happy combination of different periods of literature in the same volume. Thus in each volume there is secured a certain variety, and the heaviness or sameness of a mass of antique, classical, or mediæval material is avoided, and the reader obtains a sense of the varieties and contrasts of different periods.

As an illustration take down a volume from the library of the masterpieces; examine its contents, note the variety of its reading matter and the wide range covered by its authors and their writings. Here is Vol. XIII. It opens at page 6626, giving a fine portrait of Charles Kingsley. A better illustrator of variety it would be difficult to find, for he succeeded in almost every field of literature. He wrote novels and poetry, essays and lectures, history and sermons. The best from them all will be found in this chapter which opens with a complete biography of this brilliant man who snatched time from the demands of his study, his college and his pulpit to assist in forming co-operative associations for the betterment of the condition of the working class.

Passing on, the reader comes to Kipling's portrait, his biography and his stories and verses, which for ten years past have been the delight of the English reading world. Here are the latest of Kipling's best things and the chapter closes with those beautiful verses called the "Recessional."

Next follows a chapter on Klopstock, a German poet of great merit and author of "The Messiah," "The Death of Adam," etc. The best of his poetry is given here.

Everybody has heard of the Koran, but how many have read a page from that wonderful book? Several of its characteristic chapters are reproduced in this volume of the Masterpieces together with an account of the book's history.

In this volume will be found the best from several distinguished French authors; from La Fontaine, the fabulist; Lamartine, poet and historian; de Lisle, poet and dramatist; Lemaitre, critic and poet; LeSage, novelist and dramatist.

In this same volume the reader will find the most charming of Lamb's essays; Landor's poems and classical dialogues; Andrew Lang's "Letters to Dead Authors"; Selections from Lecky, the Irish historian, and from Lever, the Irish novelist.

Abraham Lincoln's great addresses are reproduced here with a full page portrait of the great President.

Livy, the Roman historian, will be found here, the selections containing his analysis of the character of Hannibal, an account of his crossing the Alps and descriptions of his great Italian battles.

Forty pages are filled with the best of Longfellow's beautiful poetry with full page illustrations.

Four of the brightest of Junius' mysterious letters are here; also twelve selections from Juvenal's satires, and fifteen pages from Thomas a Kempis.

Such in outline are the features of one volume of the Masterpieces.

As is the book so is the entire Library—"A conspectus of the world's literature," as Principal Peterson called it.

If you intend securing a set do not delay your application, for the present available supply is nearly exhausted and the distribution will close when the last set is allotted.

Sample pages, specimen illustrations and full particulars free.

The Protestant Orphan Asylum vs. Deacon es qual et al.—Judgment ex parte en declaration d'hypotheque for $3,677.95.

Berger vs. Dixon.—Judgment by default maintaining the saisie gagerie after judgment.

The Court of Appeal with Mr. Justice Hall dissenting, confirmed the judgment of Mr. Justice Tellier, in the case of one of the heirs, Jean Charles Victor Beaudry under the will of the late Victor Beaudry made on Dec. 27, 1887, sued the trustees of his father's estate for $3000, being ¼ of the first year of the annual income allowed to him by the will. He has also summoned in the case his mother Angelina Leblanc in her capacity of tutrix to his two minor brothers, and his two minor sisters and Rouer Roy in his capacity of curator to the substitution created by his father's will. The trustees declare that they submit themselves to the adjudication of the Court, but at the same time they submit for its consideration that the net revenue of the estate is insufficient to give to each of the five children $3000 a year without taking funds from the accumulated revenue, which now amounts to $175,000, that the accumulated revenue should be capitalized and that the testator's children have no right to receive and expend it and that finally the net revenue of the estate after deducting cost of management amounts to $18,000 a year.

Mr. Justice Tellier held in the Superior Court that the plaintiff was entitled to an annual sum of $3000, to be taken from the net current annual revenue of the estate, if sufficient, and in case of its insufficiency from the revenue which had accumulated from the death of his father, but only from his share being one fifth of such current and accumulated revenue, and only so long as his share in the current and accumulated revenue should be sufficient to pay such sum to him annually and he further declares that each of the children whether of age or minors are entitled to an equal share from the death of their father of the net revenue of the estate, and it condemns the trustees to pay the plaintiff out of his share of the revenue, as well in the current year as in the accumulation, the sum of $3000 for the two quarters of his annuity which he claims by his action, with costs against the trustees.

The Court of Appeal now holds that the accumulated revenue should not be capitalized and added to the mass of the estate, but that it should be divided among the five children who each take one-fifth thereof in absolute property, and that Jean Charles Victor Beaudry is entitled to the $3,000 which he claims by his action, to be taken out of the current year's revenue to the extent of his one-fifth and the deficiency to be taken out of his share or one-fifth of the accumulated revenue. They therefore reject the pretensions of both Jean Charles Victor Beaudry and the trustees and maintain the pretensions of the tutrix and the curator to the substitution.

Both appeals are therefore dismissed with costs, in favour of the tutrix and curator, and the judgment appealed from is confirmed. The costs in the appeal of Jean Charles Victor Beaudry are to be paid by him, but the costs in the appeal of the trustees are to be paid out of the gross revenue of the estate as an expense of the management.

Mr. Justice Hall thought that the revenues of the estate should be treated en bloc by the executors, and the alimentary allowances stipulated by the will, provided out of and charged to the mass of such accumulating and accumulated revenues, so long as they are sufficient for that purpose; and that the appeal of J. C. V. Beaudry should, therefore, be maintained, and the judgment a quo varied in that sense.

PIMPLES CURED BY Cuticura SOAP

The most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath, and nursery. It is the only preventive of pimples, blackheads, red, rough, and oily skin, red, rough hands with shapeless nails, dry, thin, and falling hair, and simple baby blemishes. It is so because it strikes at the cause of most complexional disfigurations, viz., THE CLOGGED, IRRITATED, INFLAMED, OVERWORKED, OR SLUGGISH PORE.

My face was covered with a pimply, ruptured, and itching skin. After using CUTICURA SOAP for six weeks my skin made a remarkable change, all the pimples went away, my skin getting as soft as velvet.
H. CROME, 223 Melrose St., Chicago, Ill.

I was troubled with pimples, especially on the chin and forehead. I tried several home remedies, but as they proved to be of no value, I decided to use CUTICURA SOAP, and in six weeks I was entirely rid of them.
HENRY P. DAHLKE,
6111 So. Paulina St., Chicago, Ill.

My face was covered with pimples and blackheads. Some would be all red, and others would be full of white matter. The blackheads would be all over my face. I spent about ten dollars for soaps, medicines, etc., but they never did me any good. I tried CUTICURA SOAP, and it only took three cakes to cure my face.

THE CRIMINAL CODE.

Good Progress Made With the Bill in the Senate.

THE CLAUSE AIMED AT MR. BURLAND WAS FINALLY WITHDRAWN.

(Special Staff Correspondence.)

OTTAWA, June 27.—The Senate had a long sitting yesterday. An excellent day's work was done on the amendments to the Criminal Code, the section affecting Mr. Burland being discussed for some hours and finally withdrawn.

After an explanation from Sir Mackenzie Bowell in which he stated that when he was Premier, Mr. Burland obtained a fiat from the Government and secured a verdict of $3000, the Senate resumed in committee upon the Criminal Code, taking up the clause which sought to make it a felony for any person to withhold from the Government plates of banknotes or postage stamps. Hon. Donald Ferguson asked why the Government had not taken action against Mr. Burland instead of attempting to make special legislation to cover his case eight months ago. Mr. Mulock threatened to have a clause put in the Criminal Code to enable them to put Mr. Burland on a criminal trial if he did not give up these dies, plates and rolls. Mr. Mulock was evidently animated by a deep spirit of animosity towards Mr. Burland and his language towards Mr. Burland was more forcible than eloquent. No one could follow the dispute between Mr. Burland and Mr. Mulock without seeing that there had been much bad blood between them. Mr. Ferguson moved as an amendment:

"Provided, however, that in case of any person who has been a contractor with the said Government for engraving and printing notes or stamps, and who has in his possession such dies, rolls or plates for which he claims to be paid by the Government, the Minister of Finance shall be made, after the allowance of the plaintiff's claim, or after the granting of a fiat, to ascertain his rights in the Exchequer Court."

Hon. David Mills said Mr. Ferguson mistook the Senate for the Exchequer Court. Mr. Mulock admitted the indebtedness of the eight or nine thousand dollars, but said to Mr. Burland: "You have in your possession certain dies, rolls etc., from which you can print stamps to the danger of Canada." Mr. Burland said he wanted to be paid for these dies, etc. Mr. Mulock said he was paid in the ordinary course under the contract. There was the injustice. Mr. Burland had never made a application for a fiat on that suit yet he might have it as part of his defence. Mr. Mulock did not refuse payment, but did refuse payments so long as those dies, etc., were in Mr. Burland's possession. If Mr. Burland gave up these dies, rolls and plates he would be in exactly the same position to sue as he was now. It was against the rights and dignity of the Crown for these things to be in Mr. Burland's possession. The House should not set in, Mr. Burland above the Crown.

The clause was discussed by Hon. Messrs. Primrose, Macdonald (B.C.), Columbus, Perley, Kirchoffer, Mason, Aylen, Power, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Dever, Scott, Kerr and finally the proposed clause was struck out altogether.

The clause in the code respecting counterfeiting was extended so as to cover the case of people tendering Confederate States notes.

The combines clause was sought to be amended by making combines of workmen on strike exempt. Hon. David Mills said some eminent lawyers said that such combines were not exempt under the clause as it stood.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell asked if it were right to allow one class in the community to do what was not allowed another class? That was what the amendment did.

Hon. Mr. Mills said the amendment did not stand in the same position as the rest of the clause, as it was a limitation "for their own reasonable protection."

Hon. Mr. Power held that the new subsection was unnecessary, especially when read in connection with the preceding sections of the code.

Hon. Mr. Power thought the bail had not received consideration before it was brought into the House.

Hon. R. W. Scott pointed out that this clause had not been changed since 1892, when a great deal of time was spent over it.

Hon. Mr. Power moved to strike out the word unlawfully in the original, where it read unlawfully to unduly, leaving it to read "to limit." This was done.

Hon. L. Power and Sir Mackenzie Bowell wished the amendment struck out.

Hon. Mr. Mills—Oh, no.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell—Oh, yes.

Hon. Mr. Mills thought his views were entitled to some respect, especially when backed up by the opinion of eminent judges and counsel. If Sir Mackenzie wished them to be punished let the clause stand.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell would not allow any class of men to do wrong unpunished.

Hon. R. W. Scott said it was held in Great Britain that workingmen had a right to combine.

Hon. Mr. Power asked if there was no objection to workmen unduly limiting the facilities for transportation etc., or to their restricting or injuring trade; or preventing the manufacture of any article.

Hon. Mr. Mills held that the clause should be there.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said he had opposed this amendment years ago in the Commons, as looking like pandering to votes. He did not say it was so now, but it looked like it.

Hon. L. Power said the clause was suggested by Sir Oliver Mowat in 1897 and was struck out.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell withdrew his opposition and the clause carried.

An amendment was made to the clauses governing trials for certain offences against morals permitting judges to clear the courts.

A clause permitting the use at trials of depositions made by dead or absent witnesses was proposed.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell recommended a further amendment providing that the person using the deposition should not, either by carelessness or otherwise, be responsible for the absence. This was suggested by the experience in recent election trials. If a party was responsible for the witness' absence or connives at it, the deposition ought not to be used. The clause was received.

The sections against gambling were amended by being extended.

A number of clauses affecting criminal proceedings, trials, etc., were adopted with some little discussion.

The bill having been gone through except one or two clauses, the committee rose and reported progress and the Senate rose at 10.40.

AID FOR DRY DOCK SCHEMES.

Government Proposes to Assist the Construction of Dry Docks at Canadian Ports.

OTTAWA, June 27.—Mr. Fielding gives notice of a resolution that it is expedient to amend the Dock Subsidy Act of 1882, by providing that if any approved incorporated company enters into agreement to construct and equip a dry dock, in such places and in such manner as the Government approves, the Governor-in-Council may authorize the payment of two per cent. per annum for twenty years on the cost of the work, such subsidy not to exceed twenty thousand a year; also any such company entering into an agreement to enlarge and extend any existing dry dock may be paid by the Government two per cent. for twenty years on the outlay, provided, however, that such subsidy shall not exceed ten thousand dollars a year.

At a meeting of the Hamilton, Ont., City Council Monday evening, E. B. Wingate, late of the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway, was appointed city engineer.

Why Men Are Weak.

Weakness or loss of vigor is a subject worthy of deep consideration. The knowledge that you are not equal to the demands of nature that your strength is waning—is a knowledge that should urge you to prompt action; it should force you to adopt the only scientific means of recovering your strength, your vigor.

This means is through the daily application of Electricity to the weakened parts by means of Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt. It tones, invigorates and strengthens. Its warming currents carry new life into the worn-out nerves and make manhood complete.

Dr. Sanden's book, "Three Classes of Men," should be in the hands of every man not perfect in health. It is free. Send for it, or call at the office and examine and test the Belt.

Mrs. Robert Black.

Her Health Made Perfect by Dr. Coderre's Red Pills.

The usual plan followed by the doctors is to limit upon a local examination when the patient is a woman. Such a proceeding is abhorrent. A modest woman rebels at the thought. This is one of the greatest mistakes ever made by the general medical profession. In a great majority of cases of female troubles a woman need not even talk to a doctor. She can cure herself at home with Dr. Coderre's Red Pills for Pale and Weak Women. She can shut herself away from the eyes of everybody, and cure all her aches, pains and drains. This isn't extravagant talk. It isn't exaggeration. It is backed up by the testimony of hundreds of thousands of women. These pills are put up in 50c. boxes, or 6 boxes for $2.50. The price is so small that the poor can be cured as well as the rich. No amount of money will buy better medicine. A thousand dollars spent with doctors will not do as much good in female troubles as Dr. Coderre's Red Pills. Mrs. Robert Black of 69 Beaton St., Montreal, writes: "For two years I suffered from poor, thin blood and headache. My appetite was gone, and I was so weak that I could not do my housework. Half the time I was obliged to lie down, being always dizzy. The days and nights passed in unhappiness and restlessness. I heard so much about Dr. Coderre's Red Pills I thought I would try them. After taking four boxes I was completely cured of my terrible suffering. I have great faith in Dr. Coderre's Red Pills, and recommend them to all women."

Write us about your sickness, and we will have our specialists send full, free, personal advice by mail, to cover your particular case. Send your name and address on a postal card, and get a free copy of our famous book, "Pale and Weak Women."

Dr. Coderre's Red Pills are widely imitated. Beware of all red pills sold by the dozen, the hundred or at 25c. a box. They are worthless imitations. Get the genuine at all honest druggists. They have them—always 50 Red Pills in a box for 50c., or 6 boxes for $2.50. Or you can send the price in stamps, or by registered letter, money order or express order to us. We mail them all over the world, no duty to pay.

Dr. Coderre's Red Pills, at 50c. a box, last longer than liquid medicines costing $1. They are easier to take, more convenient to carry, and they cure. Address all communications to ANOTHER LIBERAL UNSEATED.

The Judges in the West Elgin Case Comment Upon the Methods Employed.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., June 27.—The West Elgin election was declared void by Judges Osler and Meredith yesterday afternoon. The first charge proceeded with was the appointment of deputy returning officers. It was shown that in several divisions the right persons did not act and Justice Osler voided the election with costs on the returning officer, Sheriff Brown, and the unseated Liberal member, Mr. D. McNish. Justice Meredith concurred in the judgment. Both judges said gross irregularities had taken place, and there was no excuse for the returning officer's conduct. The trial only lasted one hour and twenty minutes.

BAD FIRE AT IROQUOIS.

(Special to the Star.)

IROQUOIS, Ont., June 27.—Last night about midnight and while the caretaker was taking his lunch the water works were seen to be on fire in the upper flat. It was found impossible to stay the ravages of the flames and the building and machinery were soon a heap of ruins. The loss to the Waterworks Company is estimated at $6,000, $1,500 of which was covered by insurance. In addition about $2,000 worth of electric plant belonging to Mr. Keefe that was stored in the building was destroyed. This also was insured for $1,500.

TOLEDO, Ohio.—Fire on Monday entirely destroyed the Michigan Central freight house, partially destroyed the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton freight house, burned one hundred loaded cars, the aggregate loss amounting to over $300,000 a very small part of which is covered by insurance.

BRANTFORD, Ont.—John Shaw's flour-mill at Mount Vernon was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning. Cause of fire, loss and insurance unknown.

QUEBEC.—A fire at St. Tite, on the Lower Laurentian railway, on Sunday, destroyed a couple of piles of lumber at Scougall's Mills. The mills themselves escaped.

CRYSTAL, Man.—The home of James McArtney, five miles south of this town, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday. Very little was saved.

WANTED — TO PURCHAS

DREYFUS SIGHTED.

Cruiser Sfax Spoken by a Steamer Near the French Coast.

Excitement Continues in Paris Over the Political Situation.

PLYMOUTH, England, June 27.—The Belgian steamer Bruxellesville, which arrived here to-day from African ports, reported having sighted at noon yesterday a French cruiser, believed to be the Sfax, having Dreyfus on board, going in the direction of Brest.

EXCITEMENT AT BREST.

BREST, France, June 27.—The French first-class cruiser Tage, which put to sea on Sunday evening, the belief being that she was going to meet the Sfax, having Captain Alfred Dreyfus on board, returned here at 7 o'clock last evening. Some sailors of the Tage, who landed later, said she had not met the Sfax. She encountered a fog and released her carrier pigeons about twelve leagues out at sea, after which she returned to port.

A DREYFUSARD MEETING.

organized by Socialists, was announced for last evening in the Salle du Trellis Vert. Circulars were distributed during the day, calling upon the people of Brest to defend their liberties gained at the expense of four revolutions, and to "Prevent the supreme shame to humanity of the condemnation of an innocent man." The police took stringent precautions to prevent trouble. The mob was headed by a local anarchist leader named Broussoulloux, but the proprietor of the hall withdrew permission for the meeting, and a hot altercation without resulted. An hour or so later, a crowd of some 500 made a long detour and entered the town by another route. Then joined by all the loafers in Brest, they overran the whole place, shouting "A bas l'armee," "Vive Loubet," "Vive Dreyfus," and "Vive la Social Revolution." The people of Brest were for the moment thrown into a state of consternation; but the demonstrations speedily became farcical. As soon as the crowd met a few police with a tri-coloured scarf around their waists, it dispersed and soon the streets were quiet. Broussoulloux disappeared at the first sign of a collision with the police.

YESTERDAY'S DIVISION.

The Majority in the Chamber Was Small, But May Lead to a Dissolution.

(Special Cable to the Star.)

PARIS, June 27.—An analysis of yesterday's vote in the Chamber of Deputies shows a precarious majority for the Ministry which will owe its existence henceforth to sixty-one absentionists. The twenty-nine progressists alone more than balance its majority of only twenty-six. Various reasons make it probable that the Ministry will hold a majority until the vacation of Parliament in July. Only one hundred and seven Progressists followed M. Meline against the Ministry. Others continue to fear the odium of an alliance with Right against the Republicans. Radical absentionists like the Socialists fear the odium of an alliance with Meline. Moreover, the vote of the Senate with its Republican unanimity in support of the Ministry against the twenty-five votes of the Right is understood to be a warning to the Deputies that in case of the overthrow of the Ministry the Senate would concur with President Loubet in a dissolution. This would prevent a Presidential crisis, and leave the Ministry in power until after the new elections by which time the Dreyfus judgment will be given. The anti-Semite and Nationalist papers continue to foretell resignations en masse of army officers at the trial of Dreyfus at Rennes should turn against them. The Dreyfusards, in their turn, threaten the Jesuits and clerical schools with preparing candidates for the army.

PARIS PRESS OPINIONS.

M. Clemenceau, in the Aurore, says he regrets the Government's majority in the Chamber was not larger, but declares it large enough to save the Republic. It is composed entirely of stalwarts. He gives ungrudging praise to Waldeck Rousseau, Brisson and Viviani, but pours contempt on the "runaway Bourgeois" and those who were not present in their seats in the Chamber.

The Echo de Paris expresses the opinion that Waldeck Rousseau must already regret mixing in affairs from which he is unable to draw any advantage and describes the day as disastrous to the Republic.

Quesnay de Beaurepaire is absolutely speechless, and at last his signature does not appear under the usual tirade against everything and everybody.

Drumont describes the day as "Reinach's day" and characterises the ministry as "a few Gallifets" asking the names of their colleagues. The members of the Chamber hurling insults at Gen de Gallifet gave Drumont the impression that the General was inwardly remarking "You are on my list when the day comes." Drumont describes the situation as the calling into action by the Jews of their reserve men. The Jews, he says, have hitherto governed France occultly, but they now drop the mask and order the Gallifets and the Millerands who has long been in their pay to cease their bickering and unite in a Ministry. He predicts a final cabinet with Rothschild as President of the Council, Dreyfus Minister of War, Reinach Foreign Minister, Picquart Minister of Arts, and Zadoc Kohn, Minister of Religion, which shall govern France.

The Petit Bleu praises Waldeck Rousseau's pluck in defending his colleagues, and commends Brisson's unselfish support of the Ministry. The paper denounces Meline's "backstairs attacks" and his putting forward his puppets to deliver attacks which he is afraid to make openly himself. "With a vast majority in the Senate" the paper concludes, "and a sound majority in the Chamber Waldeck Rousseau can govern."

DEROULEDE'S DEMAND.

In the Chamber of Deputies to-day, M. Paul de Roulede, founder of the so-called League of Patriots, and member for Angouleme division of Charente, introduced a proposal for a revision of the constitution, with the view of substituting "A popular for a Parliamentary republic," and demanded urgency for his motion.

The Premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, opposed the proposition and asked that the motion be referred to a committee.

M. de Roulede requested permission to speak, but the President of the Chamber, M. Deschanel, refused to allow him to do so.

M. Lasies, anti-Semite, member for the Condom division of Gers, accused the Premier of having recourse to subterfuges and a violent tumult ensued. Several of the deputies tried to speak, but their voices were drowned and the president was compelled to suspend the session. When it was resumed, urgency was proposed for M. de Roulede's motion and it was defeated by a vote of 397 to 70.

The Columbia and Defender Sailing in Long Island Sound.

(Special to the Star.)

NEW YORK, June 27.—The Columbia and Defender set their sails and set forth from here shortly before eleven o'clock for a brush in the open waters of the Sound. A spanking breeze sprang up while the flyers were sending their canvas aloft. Both were caressing gently as they faded from sight.

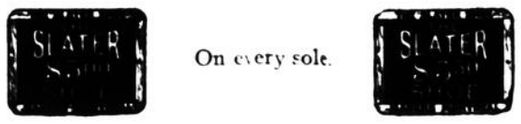
"The Slater Shoe" Exhibit.

Not only are the most interesting machines employed in shoe manufacturing in full swing at "The Slater Shoe Store," 225 St James street, and the men operating them in full view of the public, but there is another display of shoes in their different stages of manufacture.

No less than 18 of these are shown from the leather to the perfectly finished "Slater Shoe," with the makers' trade mark on the sole.

This is very interesting and well worth a few moments of your attention.

"The Slater Shoe" is sold at two stores only in this city, every pair is Goodyear welted and has the makers' name and price stamped on the soles in a slate frame.



On every sole.

MARKET UNSTEADY.

Pacific Stronger, But Gas Dropped Down to 199 3-4 To-day.

Trading in the Mines Dropped Away to Almost Nothing.

The upward turn of the mines appears to have ceased with the close of yesterday's business in the Stock Exchange as the trading this morning dropped to almost nothing and quotations were stationary. The rest of the trading was of the same narrow character and the only changes of note were the stronger feeling in Canadian Pacific and the weakness in Gas.

The cable from London on Pacific came in stronger this morning at 100⅝, advancing to 100⅝ and closing at 100⅝. The local sales were all at 98¾. Gas commenced selling at 200¾ compared with 201 yesterday but the bearish attitude of a prominent operator had the effect of driving the price down to 199¾, a net loss of 1¾ point. Toronto Rails sold at 116¾, the same as yesterday, and Richelieu and Ontario advanced one point to 110 on one small lot. Payne stood at 1.45 and Montreal and London 51c.

Toronto Street Railway earnings for the past week with increases were:

Sunday's earnings of the Montreal Street Railway increased to the tune of $1450 50 on returns of $5736 72. The earnings of the Toronto Street Railway for the same day were $2540 98, an increase of $467 18.

The Twin City Rapid Transit earnings for the third week of June were:

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

The Cheese Market Is Heavy and Butter Shows a Decline.

Old Potatoes Decline 10c Further, and New Ones Are Being Offered.

BUTTER.—The easier feeling which was spoken of yesterday developed into a quotably lower market this morning.

The weekly auction sales held by the Association of Butter and Cheese Manufacturers, have at least the effect of illustrating the views of the trade upon what prices should be paid in the city. At this morning's sale, 178 packages of creamery were offered. The finest lot was one of 60 boxes, which rapidly reached 17½c, at which figure it was knocked down. 69 boxes of good quality brought 17¼c; 22 boxes brought 16⅝. 27 boxes were closed out at 16¾, and 22 boxes at 15¾. This latter butter was of good quality, but somewhat cloudy, and the packages were not the most approved. Most of the other butter sold was really good quality. Prices are consequently considerably lower than a week ago, and it is more than probable that 17½, the price at which the finest lot was sold at to-day's sale, is a very outside figure. The general opinion is that 17¾ is as much as the best butter is worth to-day, and one dealer affirms that he bought finest at 17½c. This is probably a stretch of imagination, as 17¾c has been realized for finest, though really nice has been sold very much less. Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning were 1,329 packages.

CHEESE.—The market was described as top-heavy," this morning, by which was meant that it was liable to slump at any moment. The Star's special cable showed a weaker market yesterday, and this morning the public one is 6d down, for new white, at 42s, and steady at 42s for new coloured.

These reports of course, have the effect of weakening the local market, but prices have managed to stop up pretty well so far. It is probable that no one here would let best westerns go at less than 8¾c, but it is also likely that he could get this price for them should any one require them. Easterns are quotable at 8½c to 8¾c. The demand, however, is very dull, and very few are looking for cheese very anxiously, though it is reported that the short interests have not yet been fully supplied. Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning were 14,286 boxes.

POTATOES.—The market is easier again to-day. Prices have fallen off about 10c a bag, all around, and good stock was bought on track this morning at 90c, while fair was secured at 70c. Offerings are more liberal and, owing to this being the critical period of the season, merchants try to keep sold up the whole time. In a jobbing way, 90c a bag is being paid.

New stock is offering more freely this morning. One merchant had a lot of United States potatoes, which he was offering at $3.50 a barrel. It was also reported that another offered new stock at $3 a barrel. These offerings would of course force the price of old down.

EGGS.—There was a very good trade in the city this morning. Demand was principally for No. 1 stock. No. 2 being considerably under the influence of the weather and other adverse conditions. There was also a greatly improved demand for selects, these eggs being unquestionably fresh gathered, and of good quality. There is very little export going on at present as prices on the other side hardly permit of trade in the best lines, and there is not much whatever in exporting the inferior stock. The early part of July being a holiday season in England, eggs arriving there next week stand a good chance to be knocked around considerably before being disposed of, so that there will not be done for a week yet. It is thought however, that in the course of a fortnight, there will be a fair demand from over the water. This will be inclined to hold the market up a bit. Receipts were very light this morning, being only 383 cases. Selected eggs are selling at 13 to 13½c, or single cases as high as 14c. Best westerns can be had at 11½c to 12c, and No. 2 candled at 10c to about 11c. P. E. I. are quoted at 10c to 11c.

HONEY.—Stocks are unusually light, but very few people want any, so that demand can be supplied.

White clover, in comb, 8c to 9c in round lots; smaller lots, 9½c to 10c; white extracted honey, 5½c to 6c; pound in tins; buckwheat honey, in comb, 5½c to 7c, and extracted, 4c to 5c, as to quality.

MAPLE PRODUCTS.—Business is dull, and prices are steady at 6½c to 7c a pound in wood, 90c to $1 an imperial gallon tin, 75c to 80c a wine gallon tin. Fine sugar is worth 8½c to 9c a lb.

BEANS.—Demand is light and steady at 80c to $1 a bushel.

ASHES.—The market is steady.

First sort potash, $3.90 to $3.97½ second sorts, about $3.75 by the hundred pounds; first pearl ash, nominal at $5 to $5.25.

COUNTRY CHEESE BOARD.

LINDSAY, Ont., June 27.—The Lindsay Haliburton cheese board met here yesterday. Buyers present: Messrs. Flavelle, Whitton, Fitzgerald and Moore. 1,732 boxes were boarded. Fitzgerald bought 625 boxes; Whitton 650, Flavelle, 447. Prices realised ranged from 8¾c to 8 7-16c. The next meeting will be held on Monday, July 10th.

UTICA, N. Y., June 27.—At the Utica board of trade yesterday the following sales of cheese were made: 850 boxes large white at 8c; 3,970 boxes large coloured at 7¾c; 3,408 boxes do. at 8c; 250 boxes do. at 8⅛c; 480 boxes small white, at 8c; 365 boxes do. at 8¼c; 1,080 boxes small coloured, at 8c; 240 boxes do. at 8¼c; 115 packages butter at 17c to 17½c.

At Little Falls the sales were: 818 boxes large at 8c; 5,546 boxes small, at 7¾c; 84 boxes small on commission; 27 packages dairy butter, at 15c to 17c.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market is rather dull just now. There is very little demand for lard or pork and dressed hogs are scarce and firm. The demand for smoked meats is however, first class and some good sales, both local and for export, have taken place.

DRESSED HOGS.—Fine abattoir killed are selling to butchers at $7.00. Heavy stock is worth about $6.75.

CANADA PORK.—Barrels heavy short cut mess, $16; barrels short cut back family pork, $15.50; selected heavy, boneless, short cut mess, $16.50; barrels heavy short or long cut clear, $15; barrels short cut clear, light, $14.00; barrels heavy flank, $14.00.

LARD.—Compound refined, 5½ to 6¼c per pound, according to quantity; extra pure, 6¾c to 7¾c; finest kettle, 8¼c to 9¼c, according to quantity and brand.

BEEF.—Extra plate, in barrels, $12.00; plate, in bond, $10.50; tierces, $17.50; Glasgow beef ham, spliced, 11c per lb.

HAMS.—Choice selected large, 10½c; small, 11c; extra small, 11¼c, with bone out, rolled, choice, 12c.

BACON.—Breakfast, boneless, 12c; Wiltshire sides, 11c; Windsor backs, 11c; green bone in, not smoked, 7c; long clear, 7¼c.

SAUSAGES.—Pork links, Oxfords, Cambridges' farmers' and pork sausages meat, 6c a pound; smoked Bayeloy links, 8c; smoked Brunswicks, 7c; Bolognas, 6c.

LIVERPOOL.—The public cable was steady at 42s 6d for pork; 26s to 26s 6d for lard; 25s to 25s 6d for bacon; and 23s to 25s 6d for tallow.

CHICAGO.—At one o'clock the market was stronger than last night's closing at $8.17 for July pork, $8.37 for September. For June lard, 5c; July, $5.02½ for September, $5.17.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Cotton futures opened steady. July, 5.48; August, 5.53; September, 5.57; October, 5.61; November, 5.66; December, 5.70; January, 5.75; February, 5.78; March, 5.83; April, 5.86; May, 5.91.

GRAIN MARKETS.

Wheat Declines at Liverpool—Flour is Easier.

This was a dull day in the wheat markets after the slump of yesterday. Liverpool opened weak, July option being 5-8d down, at 5s 2 7-8d, Sept. being 3-8d down at 5s 11 1-2d, and Dec 3-8d down, at 6s 0 1-2d. Nothing of a specially bullish nature occurred during the day, and prices sank lower and lower, till at closing time July stood at 5s 1 7-8d, showing a loss of 3-8d further, Sept. stood at 5s 11 1-4d, a loss of 1-4d since the opening. Dec. stood at 6s 0 3-8d, a loss of 1-8d since morning.

Paris opened a little higher in the morning, but at closing time June wheat was steady and firm at 19.90, last night's price, while December was 10 centimes higher, at 20.70.

Antwerp closed a shade lower at 16 7-8. London cables quoted wheat and maize off coast, as dull, with nothing doing, while there was more wheat on passage offering.

Chicago opened weak, but at one o'clock had worked back to last night's closing price, 72 1-8c.

LOCAL GRAIN MARKETS.—Trade was very dull this morning, in fact, not one single transaction was heard of during the forenoon. For No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat, 72c afloat Fort William was being asked, but it was thought to be rather high. No. 1 northern was quoted at 69c. Oats were offered at 34 1-2c afloat, and 24c in store was bid for a certain lot. Peas were steady at 75 1-2 to 76c, and buckwheat at 60 1-2c.

HAY.—The crop along the north shore of the St. Lawrence will likely be heavy and of fine quality, that on the south will not be so good. There is still an active demand in the province from U. S. merchants.

Quotations are: No. 1, $7.50; No. 2, $6.50 to $6, delivered alongside the ship, for cattle exporters, choice hay will bring about 50c more than No. 1.

ROLLED OATS.—Dealers are pushing trade, and find it difficult to secure orders.

Quotations in car lots on track here are: $1.85 in bags, and $3.90 in wood. Broken lots bring a little more.

FLOUR.—Another nice export order was closed by a miller of Manitoba grades this morning for August shipment. The order was for 3,000 bags. The market however, is dull. The recent feeling in wheat has had a depressing influence upon prices, and millers can no longer realize what they could a few weeks since. Manitoba grades have been marked down 10c, and Ontarios are steady and nominal.

Quotations in store are: Winter wheat patents, $4.75 to $4; straight rollers, $3.40 to $3.60; straight rollers, in bags, $1.65 to $1.70; Manitoba patents, $4 to $4.30, strong bakers, $3.75 to $3.90.

FEED.—There is not much demand for any line of feed. Bran continues rather easy and trade is dull.

Quotations are: Ontario winter wheat bran, $14; shorts, $16 according to quality in bulk, Manitoba bran, $13.00 in bags; shorts, $15 in bags; middlings, $18 in bulk; moullie, $17.50 to $20 in bulk, cornmeal feed, in bags, 85c to $1.

TORONTO GRAIN MARKET.

TORONTO, June 27.—Wheat dull and weaker at 69c to 70c for red and white west. Goose 67c to 68c west. Manitoba easier at 84c for No. 1 hard. Montreal freights and 8½c Toronto and west.

Flour—Steady. Cars of straight roller in barrels, $3.25. Toronto freights.

Millfeed—Demand fair, steady. Cars of shorts, $14 to $14.50, and bran at $12.50 west.

Corn—Steady. Canada yellow, 38c west. No. 2 American is quoted at 42½c, Toronto and west.

Oats—Unchanged at 28c to 29½c for white and west.

Oatmeal—Steady, cars of bags, $3.80, and barrels at $3.90 here.

Peas—Steady at 66c west.

FRUIT AUCTION.

One of the most rapid sales of the season took place yesterday at the Montreal Fruit Auction Company's rooms, Potter & Morin, auctioneers, 127 boxes of lemons, in lots of 5, wet stuff sold up to $1.05, 100 crates American cabbage, a little "off" as to freshness, had to be slaughtered at 50c to 90c. Two carloads of fine California fruit, peaches, plums, apricots and pears, brought out the best bidding and quickest selling for large and small lots we have yet seen. Every seat in the salesroom was filled. There was standing room only when the gong sounded for the first car. There is nothing at all like it anywhere else in Canada. A car of extra fine fruit from the "Earle" Company, consigned to Mr. McLean, Montreal Fruit Exchange, brought out splendid competition.

The prices for large lots mostly were: Apricots, $1.25; peaches, $1.65 to $1.25; Bartlett pears, $2.65. Another good car of California, chiefly peaches, with 100 crates plums from the Porter Bros. Company, Mr. John T. McBride, agent, met with the same "snapping" bids, and was resold off rail at 90c to $1.05 for peaches, 75c to $1.25 for plums. The whole selling time was not 40 minutes, nearer 30.

CIVIL SERVICE SAFE.

Mr. Richardson's Bill to Render Salaries Liable to Seizure Is Killed.

Mr. Davin Voices the Discontent of the Northwest Farmer at Broken Tariff Pledges.

(Special Staff Correspondence.)

OTTAWA, June 27. The chief topic of discussion in the House at yesterday's sitting was a lengthy and interesting discussion upon a bill introduced by Mr. Richardson, Liberal member for Lisgar, to render the salaries of civil servants liable to attachment for debt. The discussion took place at the evening sitting in committee, with Sir Louis Davies in charge of the House. Representing the Government, Sir Louis declared himself opposed to the measure on the ground that it trenched upon provincial jurisdiction, whereupon the member for Lisgar said he must take the opinion of the Minister of Justice to the effect that the bill was intra vires constitutional. The members on the Opposition side took for Government to task for being unprepared to express an opinion of so delicate a point on an important question of legislation.

During the afternoon sitting there was a short debate on a motion proposed by Mr. Davin, arraigning the Government for failing to redeem its pledges to the farmers of the North West to reduce the tariff on agricultural implements and the cheaper grades of cottons.

THE PLEBISCITE'S COST.

In reply to a question by Mr. Foster the First Minister said that the amount expended on the Plebiscite to date up to Jan. 26 was $102,541 and that $1,000 more would be required to complete all payments.

MONTREAL POST OFFICE.

Replying to a question by Mr. Quinn, the First Minister said that the appointment of a postmaster for Montreal would not be made until after an investigation had been made into the post office in Montreal.

MONGOLIAN LABOUR.

Mr. Prior wanted to know the policy of the Government in regard to the legislation passed by the Legislature of British Columbia with a view to prohibiting the employment of Chinese and Japanese labour. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the statutes in question had been received and were under consideration of the Minister of Justice.

THE SERVICE MEDAL.

The Minister of Militia, in reply to a question by Mr. Prior, said that 11,078 applications had been received for the Canadian General Service medals and clasps. 4,781 of which had been passed upon by the medal claims board for approval. In 1,167 cases decision had been reserved by the Board, pending the receipt of additional particulars. All applications, with the exception of 441 received during the past few days, had been investigated, examined and recorded for consideration by the board. The method and date of the distribution had not yet been decided upon.

THE CURRAN BRIDGE AGAIN.

A number of motions for returns were adopted, including several by Mr. Maclean, asking for copies of the report of the Royal Commission appointed to enquire into the construction of the Welland Canal bridges and Grand Trunk bridges crossing the canal at Montreal, the evidence taken before the commission and the cause for its creation in the enquiry by the Public Accounts Committee of the Supreme Court in the case of St. Louis vs. the Queen, and a copy of the final certificate of settlement of section three of the Lachine canal enlargement, of 1879, to 1890 in detail.

INSOLVENCY LEGISLATION.

Another return was ordered of copies of all correspondence from the Montreal Board of Trade or other boards of trade in the Dominion respecting insolvency legislation.

BROKEN TARIFF PLEDGES.

Mr. Davin Voices the Discontent of the Northwest Farmers.

Mr. Davin moved: "That in the opinion of this House, the promises not been kept with the farmers of the West since duties have not been reduced on agricultural implements and have been increased on the coarser grades of cotton goods of English manufacture, the increase in many staples of which the people are consumers, been rendered necessary by raising the duty above that under the tariff of 1894."

Speaking to his motion, Mr. Davin cited the declarations in the Liberal platform of 1893, and the utterances of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Minister of Agriculture before meetings of farmers in the North West and Manitoba in 1894, and compared them with the protection at tariff adopted by the Liberal Government, to show that the farmers of the North West had been deceived and deceived by the Government. Ever since the Liberal Administration had assumed office, Sir Richard Cartwright had been forced to sit in silence and see all his cherished ideas of fiscal policy outraged. He commented upon his absence from the House during the last week, and attributed it to a desire to escape and protest against the policy of the Government in regard to the coal duties which, he said, Sir Richard had strongly denounced. He quoted figures to show that the preferential phase of the present tariff was a delusion, which in no way benefited the farmers of the West, and concluded by quoting from the Trade and Navigation returns to show that the importation of agricultural implements under the preferential tariff had been absurdly small.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that if Mr. Davin was in earnest he would have brought in his resolution as an amendment to the budget. Instead of doing so, like other members of the Opposition, had heaped unmerited praise upon the Government by having termed protectionists ministers by having turned protectionists and declaring that no further tariff reduction was necessary for the welfare of the country.

Mr. McMullen declared that the Government had gone a long way towards redeeming its promises of tariff reform. Incidentally he referred to the fact that Mr. Devine had been the paid secretary of the Chinese Commission, and argued that much of the support he had given the late Conservative Government was due to a sense of gratitude for favours received.

Mr. McNeill promptly raised a point of order that it was unparliamentary to impute such motives to a member of the House.

The Deputy Speaker ruled that the point of order was well taken, and Mr. McMullen having denied that he had intended to impute motives the Deputy Speaker announced the disclaimer of Mr. McMullen a sufficient apology. The discussion was continued by Messrs. Davis, of Saskatchewan, and Mr. Davin, up to six o'clock.

CIVIL SERVANT'S DEBTS.

Sir Louis Davies Kills Mr. Richardson's Bill to Render Civil Servants Liable to Garnishees.

After recess the bill respecting the Northern Commercial Telegraph Company was read a third time and passed.

The House then went into Committee on the bill respecting the attachment of salaries of public officers and employes of the Government, introduced by Mr. Richardson, the Liberal member for Lisgar.

Mr. Bell, Liberal member for Prince, P.E.I., having secured from the promoter of the bill an agreement to restrict its operation to seizure for debts contracted subsequent to the passage of the bill, gave his support to the measure, declaring that there was no valid reason why the civil servant should be in any different position from other citizens in respect to liability for debt.

Sir Louis Davies objected to the subsection defining salaries to include emoluments, fees, moneys, allowances, etc., claiming that the definition complicated the whole matter.

Mr. McMullen contended that it was necessary to include fees in the definition, as there were many civil servants receiving allowances or fees for supposed extra work which really formed part of their salaries, although their names did not appear in the civil service list as civil servants receiving salaries.

Sir Louis Davies said he had opposed the bill last session and was not in favour of it this. Still he wanted to see the evil aimed at by the bill diminished rather than increased. As a matter of consideration in the bill, that salaries of civil servants should be liable to seizure the same as other citizens would, in his opinion, be sufficient, leaving it to the laws of the several provinces to do the rest.

Mr. Foster supported the bill as necessary in every one of its details.

Sir Hibbert Tupper pointed out that the bill gave the creditor wider rights over the salary of the civil servant than he had himself, inasmuch as under it the creditor could sue the civil servant and the civil servant could not sue the Government without a fiat.

Mr. Fortin protested that it was opposed to his ideas of Liberalism that persons who were paid the highest salaries should be constituted a special class. The majority of civil servants paid their debts, and the bill was intended only for the exceptions to that rule.

Mr. Richardson was surprised at the objections raised by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, coming from a member of the Administration. The Minister of Justice had declared that the bill was constitutional.

Mr. Powell, after pointing out that the bill would make a pension liable to seizure, suggested that the bill should be referred to a special committee.

Mr. Fortin, in reply to a question by Mr. Haggart, admitted that under the bill it would be mandatory on a deputy Minister of a department served with a writ of attachment to make a certificate to the court.

Sir Louis Davies again pointed out that with all the machinery proposed to be provided in the bill it was an infringement of provincial jurisdiction, being a matter relating to civil procedure. It was not, in his opinion, any reproach to a Liberal Cabinet Minister to find fault with a bill of this kind, even if its promoter did call it a radical measure of reform. In England it had been the policy rather to widen the list of exceptions than to abolish them. Moreover, under this bill the travelling allowances to judges would be rendered liable to attachment.

Mr. Richardson consented to amend the clause under discussion, so as to apply only to salaries and wages. He had it on the authority of the Minister of Justice that the bill was not unconstitutional as other lawyers in the House, though possibly not so eminent as the Minister of Marine, were of the same opinion.

Sir Louis Davies: Have you the opinion of the Minister of Marine in writing?

Mr. Richardson said that he had, adding that the Minister of Justice made a few absurd objections to the bill, as, for instance, that the measure was objectionable because traders took advantage of civil servants to force goods upon them. (Laughter.) When lawyers disagreed like this, said Mr. Richardson, what was a layman to do? He suggested passing the bill and allowing the courts to decide its constitutionality.

Dr. Montague said such a course would result in much litigation, simply to gratify the ambition of the member for Lisgar in getting a radical measure of reform on the Statute Book. He thought, however, the Government ought to express its opinion on the legislation.

Mr. Richardson said he had seen the Minister of Justice several times about the bill, and he had found no serious objection to it.

Mr. Davin said it was a deplorable spectacle to see the Government so unprepared on a question of such an important public matter. Where was the leader of the Government or the Solicitor-General?

Mr. Talbot: The Solicitor-General sails for England to-morrow.

Mr. Davin: For Rome, you mean?

Mr. Davin concluded by declaring that the Government was bound to announce its policy on this bill.

Mr. Richardson declared that the bill was not a Government measure, and the Ministers were free to do as they did last year, vote for or against it, as they chose. While he was prepared to give the Government an independent support, he was not going to run after the Premier every time he wanted to introduce a bill.

Mr. Becourt, as an old resident of Ottawa, declared that no class in the community discharged its obligations more honourably than civil servants. Fewer civil servants appeared in the courts as debtors than any other class.

After some further discussion, Sir Louis Davies move that the committee rise and report progress in order that the opinion of the Minister of Justice on the bill might be formally obtained.

Mr. Richardson protested, saying that if the motion carried the bill would never be heard of again. He insisted upon a vote being taken.

The motion that the committee rise was carried on a vote of 20 to 17, and the committee rose and the House adjourned at 11.15 o'clock.

DEAN HARRIS TO RETIRE.

(Special to the Star.)

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., June 27.—After the confirmation service and mass here on Sunday, Bishop O'Connor was presented with an address of welcome to which the Bishop replied briefly. He was glad to see in this city that religious tolerance existed.

Very Rev. Dean Harris then addressed the Bishop and caused much surprise by asking to be relieved of his charge on account of failing health. He would like to take a smaller parish. The Bishop expressed surprise and said he did not feel inclined to grant the Dean's request but promised consideration.

DR. CAMERON RE-NOMINATED.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 27.—The Liberal-Conservative convention to nominate a candidate for the House of Commons for Inverness, was held at Wycocomagh. There were present 77 delegates. Dr. Hugh Cameron, the ex-Conservative member who represented the constituency from 1882 to 1896, J. L. McDougall, and Dan Gillis, barrister, of Port Hood, were proposed. Dr. Cameron was nominated by a vote of 70 to 7.

COUNCIL OF WOMEN.

Countess of Aberdeen Delivers Her Presidential Address.

Unions of Mothers Are All Right, But Fathers Count in the Home.

LONDON, June 27.—The International Council of Women opened yesterday in the Convocation Hall of the Church House, instead of the large hall of Westminster Town Hall, which was found to be too small to accommodate the delegates.

The Countess of Aberdeen, president of the council, in her address, after cordial words of welcome, sketched the duties of the council. She said international arbitration should ever be placed foremost in its programme; advocated the establishment of an international bureau of information regarding all that affects women, and warned women against arrogating to themselves alone the duties of curing all evils, saying: "It may be well to have unions of mothers, but do the fathers count so little in the home that their counsel is not needed. The redemption of the race can only be compassed by men and women joining hands and making common cause in every department of life." In conclusion, the Countess deprecated the idea usually formed about women's congresses, that they were bent upon devising plans whereby women might be emancipated from home duties, saying: "This congress holds fast to the belief that woman's first mission must be her home."

MRS. SEWALL INTRODUCED.

Lady Aberdeen afterwards introduced Mrs. Mary Wright Sewall, of the United States, vice-president of the council, who was enthusiastically received as a possible successor to the presidency. A delegation of the Chinese women were next introduced, and afterwards Lady Aberdeen presented representatives of twenty-six nations, among them Miss Susan B. Anthony, who subsequently attended the debate in the House of Lords on the bill to legalize the election of women as councillors and aldermen, which, however, was defeated by a vote of 182 to 68.

The sessions will be continued daily till July 5. Representative women will be assembled from every European country, and from India, and all the colonies, and from the United States. Papers will be read and discussed on "Child Life and Training," Primary and University Education, Technical Education, Professions for Women, medicine, journalism, nursing, farming, etc. Papers on literature, science and art, and the drama, will also be read by Mrs. Flora Steel, the novelist, and by the well known women in the programme. Canada is well to the front. Papers are to be read by the following ladies from the Dominion: Mrs. Woodless, on Technical Education; Miss Charlotte Rose, on Women at the Universities; Miss Derick, on Professions for Women; Mrs. Dignam, on Arts as a Profession for Women; Miss Carlisle, on Women Inspectors; Miss Scovil, on Nursing; Miss Martin, LL.D., on Divorce Law; Mrs. Arthur Scafe, on Women in Public Life; Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, on the Treatment of the Poor in British Colonies; and Miss Carty, on Insanitary Conditions of Women's Work in Factories. Professor James Robertson, of Ottawa, will also read a paper on "Canadian Agriculture as an Occupation for Women." There is no lack of varied and interesting topics.

SIR JULIAN PAUNCEFOTE.

It is Now Said That He Will Not Return to Washington.

HON. FRANCIS HYDE VILLIERS SLATED TO SUCCEED HIM.

LONDON, June 26.—Sir Julian Pauncefote will not return to the British Embassy at Washington.

Sir Julian has completed thirty-four years of distinguished public service and proposes to retire altogether from public work.

Foreign Secretary Salisbury was notified of this intention by Pauncefote on his arrival in London.

SIR JULIAN PAUNCEFOTE.

In the Foreign Office it is understood that the Hon. Francis Hyde Villiers, C.B., the Assistant Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, will be the new British Ambassador to Washington. Villiers, who is the only brother of the Earl of Clarendon, is forty-seven years old and has been in the Foreign Office since 1870, having passed through all the grades to his present position. He was private secretary to Lord Salisbury as Foreign Secretary from 1886 to 1892, and to Lord Rosebery from 1892 to 1894, when the latter was Foreign Secretary.

Only one life, that of Lord Clarendon's only son, Lord Hyde, stands between Mr. Villiers and the Earldom.

He is reputed to be an able, painstaking official.

Besides his aristocratic connections his claim for the important embassy at Washington is declared to be based upon the fact that he has been specially concerned in all the negotiations between Washington and London since his promotion to Assistant Under Secretary in 1896.

He married in 1876 a daughter of Mr. Eric Carrington Smith, a connection of the wealthy Carrington family, and has three sons and two daughters. The eldest son is eighteen years old.

This intended transfer of another Foreign Office official to the Washington Embassy is calculated to create profound discontent and heartburning in the diplomatic service, whose members have recently found their promotion to the highest offices in the service blocked by the interposition of the Foreign Secretary's personal entourage in three instances. But this will be the first occasion on which an Assistant Under Secretary has been advanced at a bound to an Ambassadorship.

Sir Julian Pauncefote will be offered a peerage when he returns from The Hague conference, and probably his retirement will not be announced till then.

FEDERAL GRANT TO OTTAWA.

(Special to the Star.)

OTTAWA, June 27. — The Government has decided upon the composition of the commission which will apportion the spending of the $68,000 a year grant to the City of Ottawa. The Administration will appoint three members of the commission, and the City Council two. None of the members of the commission will receive any salary, and the secretaryship will be an honourary office. The members of the commission, so far as the Government appointees are concerned, will hold office during good behaviour. The Minister of Finance will explain the bill in the House to-day.

THE QUEEN AND HER SOLDIERS

The 'Sons of the Widow' Reviewed by Her Majesty at Aldershot.

A BRILLIANT MILITARY SPECTACLE IN WHICH 18,000 MEN PARTICIPATED.

LONDON, June 27. — Her Majesty the Queen, the Duke of Cambridge, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, Grand Duke Michael of Russia, the Duke of Connaught, General Lord Wolseley, Commander-in-Chief of the Army, and many princes and princesses were present on the famous plains of Aldershot on Monday to witness a review of over 18,000 of the best troops in the Kingdom.

Not since the Queen's Diamond Jubilee in 1897 has a more magnificent army corps passed before a European sovereign, and while 60,000 additional troops remained in their barracks, the display afforded the Queen ample evidence of her military resources.

All the regiments which took part in the review were those which would answer the first call to arms, and as the various battalions swung past the royal carriages their fitness evoked the heartiest applause. Nearly 15,000 infantry, 50 guns and 3,600 horses made up this magnificent display.

Nearly all the foreign military attaches were present, and a profound impression was made upon them as the Dragoons, the Scots, the Fusiliers, the Camerons, the Scottish Rifles and other heroes of the Zulu campaign passed. The enthusiasm of the crowds was intense and the Queen smiled approbation as each command came immediately under her eye.

The foreign attaches compared the army of the Queen to a "forest of shimmering steel overhanging a scarlet sea," and characterized it as one of the finest reviews within their experience.

[The statement telegraphed from London that the review "was interpreted in London as a means of satisfying Queen Victoria that her troops are ready for service in the Transvaal" and that "Her Majesty came from Balmoral Castle mostly for the purpose of attending this review," are excellent samples of the exaggerated stories which are sent across the Atlantic concerning British affairs. The review was in no sense a result of the Transvaal war talk; it was ordered by the War Office over six months ago, and has no more significance than the fact that it is Her Majesty's annual review of her soldier sons.]

THE BELT LINE BILL.

Harbour Commissioners to Secure the Insertion of an Important Amendment.

(Special to the Star.)

OTTAWA, June 27.—A deputation composed of Mr. Robert Mackay, chairman, Mr. R. Bickerdike, Mr. Joseph Contant and Mr. David Seath, secretary, representing the Montreal Harbour Commissioners, arrived here last evening and had an interview with the promoters of the Montreal Belt Line bill, which was to be taken into consideration in committee of the whole in the House, but which was allowed to stand until Wednesday. The Harbour Commissioners, it is understood, secured the consent of the promoters of the bill to the insertion of a clause providing that the plans and profiles of that portion of the proposed line over the harbour front should be submitted to them before the works of construction is commenced.

In the House last night, when the order came for committee of the whole on the Montreal Terminal, formerly the Montreal Line Railway Company's Bill, as amended by the select standing committee on railways, canals, and telegraphs, Mr. James Sutherland, the chairman of the committee, said that at the desire of the Harbour Commissioners of the city of Montreal, he had to request that this bill should not be taken that night.

Mr. Bergeron—Why not?

Several honourable members requested an explanation.

Mr. Sutherland replied that the representatives of the Harbour Board were present. It appeared that some of the property affected was under their control, and they wished the matter to stand over. He thought it was a reasonable request, and one that should be granted under the circumstances without opposition.

Mr. Lemieux, the Liberal member for Gaspe, who had charge of the bill, said he had seen some of the Harbour Commissioners of the city of Montreal. They pretended that the Belt Line Company should not build any part of their line on the property of the Harbour Commissioners unless terms had been arranged with those commissioners, and contended that an amendment should be inserted in the bill, and that Parliament had no right to give power to the Belt Line Company to infringe on the property of the Harbour Commissioners. The bill, therefore, stood over.

WEST INDIES AND CANADA.

The Delegates Now at Washington Instructed to Visit Ottawa.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 27.—The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, has directed the Governor of Jamaica, Sir Augustus W. L. Hemming, to instruct the reciprocity delegates to proceed immediately from Washington to Ottawa, for the purpose of conferring with the Dominion authorities on the whole project of Jamaica's future relations with Canada. The reason for this step is now known, but many people suppose that Mr. Chamberlain doubts the practical results of the American negotiations, and desires to hasten the movement for the alternative Canadian annexation.

[On Wednesday last, the Star published the following special despatch from London, from which it would be inferred that the visit of the Jamaican delegates to Ottawa will have for its purpose the discussion of a reciprocity treaty:

"LONDON, June 21.—Regarding the new tariff arrangements between the United States and Barbadoes, it is understood here that the British Government has arranged that whatever concessions shall be given to the United States also shall be given to Canada."]

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 27. — It is now announced that Jamaica's exclusion from the Imperial scheme for establishing closer relations between Canada and the West Indies caused the sending of the reciprocity delegates to Ottawa. It is also announced that the Governor, Sir Augustus Hemming, is shortly going to Canada, but the merchants here declare the question fundamentally is one of trade and not of politics and that Jamaica's only reliance is in America.

AN ITALIAN SPY'S FATE.

NICE, June 27. — The Italian General Giletta di San Giuseppe, who was arrested here two weeks ago on the charge of spying on the French military defences, was convicted yesterday, and sentenced to five years' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of 5,000 francs ($1,000). When the sentence was pronounced the audience in the court room applauded. The public generally approves of the punishment.

Mr. Brown's Opinion of Paine's Celery Compound

IT RESTORED HIM TO NEW HEALTH WHEN ALL OTHER MEDICINES FAILED.

It is everywhere admitted that the people who testify to the health-giving and restoring virtues of Paine's Celery Compound are men and women who are respected and well known in the towns and cities where they reside.

The high standing of Paine's Celery Compound with the most prominent medical men, and its world wide popularity, is due to the fact that the great medicine accomplishes just what it promises. It saves life after all other medicines fail; it cures when doctors pronounce the ailment incurable.

Mr. John H. Brown, Truro, N. S., writes as follows:

"I am truly thankful for the good results I have obtained from the use of your Paine's Celery Compound. For a long time I have been a sufferer from general debility and indigestion, and have made use of many medicines, but none have given me the grand results, as for an improved health is concerned, as has your wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. It has done wonders for me, and though I am 65 years old I have been able to do light work for the past six months, and have not lost a day. I give your medicine all the credit for my restoration."

MORE RIOTS IN SPAIN.

The People are Displeased With Some of the Government's Proposals.

MADRID, June 27.—A serious riot occurred yesterday at Saragossa. A mob attempted to set fire to the convent of the Jesuits and while the Civil Governor was trying to appease the rioters he was shot at, but escaped without injury. Martial law has been proclaimed in the city.

The demonstration was aimed against the budgetary proposals of the Spanish Government. The mob pillaged the building of the Saragossa Consul-General and stoned the gendarmes on guard, several of whom were severely injured.

SEVILLE, Spain, June 27.—Serious riots occurred here yesterday growing out of the popular discontent with the financial proposals of the Government. The rioters stoned the military club.

MADRID, June 27.—In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday the Premier Senor Don Francisco Silvela, replying to a question by the Senor Romero Robledo as to the disturbances in various parts of the country, said that those at Seville and in Madrid were not important but the disorders at Saragossa were serious. The Government, he declared, was fully determined to punish severely all outbreaks against law and order and, if necessary the whole Peninsula would be declared in a state of siege. Senor Silvela while pacing along the street yesterday was the object of slight manifestations of a hostile character.

A Fight Between Germans and Chinese, and an Attack Upon a French Consulate.

LONDON, June 27. — The Daily Mail publishes a despatch from Shanghai saying that the German troops who were sent to punish the Chinese for a recent attack on the railway near Kiao-Chou, met with a strong resistance near Ti-Tsuni. A fight ensued, and the Chinese lost ten men. The Germans captured Ti-Tsuni, and then advanced on Kau-Mai, which surrendered without fighting.

The Hong Kong correspondent of the Mail telegraphs as follows: Anti-foreign disturbances have just occurred in Meng-Tzu, Province of Yun-Nan, where the residences of the customs staff and the French consulate have been burned by an armed mob. The foreigners effected their escape.

THE $222,000 "POPULAR" LOAN.

Instead of It Reaching the Masses It Will Likely Be Gobbled Up by Big Firms — Unlike the Three Million Loan It Is to Be Put Up at Auction.

The aldermen have yet another loan on their hands.

It is for the sum of $222,000. It will be disposed of on July 15. This contemplated loan has some features about it that are arousing much comment among those at the City Hall who claim to know the prompt way it is planned to gobble it.

A few explanations will be in order, and will show the manner in which the civic finances do business.

When, months ago, it was decided to get permission of the Legislature to float the three million loan, it was also decided to float a loan of $222,000, to be redeemed in forty years. With a flourish of trumpets it was announced to the Finance Committee and Council by certain aldermen, that this latter loan was to be floated entirely in the interests of citizens who might wish to invest in civic bonds. The alleged ignorance of electors in financial matters connected with the city was loudly bewailed, and it was said that such a loan, given out at good interest and in small lots, would do much to educate the public in the city's finances and be profitable to it at the same time.

The loan, it was stipulated, should bear no less than four per cent. interest.

For once the taxpayers might think certain aldermen had a little unselfish regard for them, and those who said the matter were quite pleased at getting a chance to invest their money in securities that would bear four per cent. interest. But all these hopes may be regarded as knocked on the head. A few days ago advertisements were put in the papers, and tender forms were received, showing just in what way the supposed popular loan was to be floated.

"FOR THE WHOLE OR PART."

The following advertisement shows that instead of the taxpayers getting small lots of the loan at a stated rate of interest, it has to be tendered for and by banking concern or capitalist desires may gobble up the whole loan.

CITY OF MONTREAL.

4 p.c. Loan

Of $222,000.

TENDERS

Address to the undersigned will be received up to noon 15th July,

"FOR THE WHOLE OR PART"

of an issue of $222,000, bearing 40 years date, bearing 4 per cent interest and provided for by a sinking fund to redeem it at maturity.

The loan will be in the form of coupon bonds of $500 each, with $6 semi-annual coupons, of one dollar each, attached, and is issued under the authority of Clause 311 of the City Charter.

Forms of tender can be obtained at the Treasury Department, if desired.

W. ROBB,
City Treasurer.

City Treasurer's Office,
Montreal, 17th June, 1899.

INTEREST AT COMPETITION.

The following is the official tender sent out and it shows clearly enough that instead of four per cent being paid by the city to parties taking the loan (as the advertisement might lead one to suppose) that they must bid in a tender saying what interest they are willing to pay if they take a part or the whole of it.

TENDER

I the undersigned hereby offer to take $ ——— and the loan of two hundred and twenty-two thousand dollars now offered by the City of Montreal in terms of the public advertisement and hold myself in readiness to pay for the same, or any percentage thereof which may be allotted to me, at the rate of ——— on delivery of the bonds.

From the above the taxpayers will sadly realize that the much vaunted popular loan, which they thought was to give four per cent for money invested in it, and which was to be put on sale in small lots, so as to be easily taken up by concern or person offering the most interest. The disenchantment which the taxpayer, with small means, will put it compared with the wealthy broker is, at a glance, obvious.

THE MONTREAL $3,000,000 LOAN

Chicago Syndicate Said to Have Disposed of a Million at 105 1-2—The See Sawing of Similar Bonds in London—Mayor Prefontaine on the loan.

Nine men out of every ten met with on the street said this applies to all classes of the population of Montreal. I think that the $3,000,000 civic loan has been mismanaged so far as the interests of the city are concerned.

There is a healthy public sentiment over the matter. The interference of finance in this case is not so great I am that the average man can see at a glance that money has been lost by means which might have been prevented.

Tenders might have been called for.

The highest bidders bids might have been considered.

THE NEWS FROM CHICAGO.

News came from Chicago today in a special despatch to the Star that the bonds sold the syndicate formed in that city are being disposed of by them quite readily. It is alleged that already a market has been found by the syndicate for one-third of the $3,000,000.

The price paid for the bonds etc., as the despatch states, for this quantity is 105 1-2. It is added that the remaining $2,000,000 will be held for a higher price.

To quote this despatch further:

"There is an air of mystery surrounding the whole transaction, as none of the syndicate care to discuss either the buying or selling price."

A syndicate member said to-day to a Star representative:

"We purchased the bonds as cheaply as possible, and knew no one in the transaction save the bank that sold them to us. If there were any of the city officials of Montreal mixed up in the sale we knew nothing of it."

The price said to have been paid for the $3,000,000 of bonds—105 1-2—would seem to indicate that a lower price than that figure was paid the Bank of Montreal, and that the figure quoted by the Chicago papers and Chicago despatches—105.57—was above the mark. Meantime the price paid remains within the knowledge of the seller and buyer but there is reason to believe that the figures will be known shortly, and that this mysterious part of the transaction will be revealed. But at present there is enough food for reflection on the methods of the Finance Committee in respect to the manner and method of calling for tenders and shutting off higher tenders than the one accepted.

MONTREAL BONDS IN LONDON.

Some comment and a good deal of enquiry is being heard in respect to the price of Montreal 3 1-2 per cent. 40 year bonds now on the London market. It is stated that now the price ranges from 101 to 103, but that last year the price ruled at a considerably higher figure than at present. The question is asked, what has happened to lower the price? Montreal's credit stands as good to-day as it ever did; the prices of Toronto and Ottawa civic bonds are on the upward rise, and money is cheap the world over.

Then, too, it must not be forgotten that the chairman of the Finance Committee of Montreal has been in Paris and London, where the movement downward in the price of the bonds of his native city could hardly have escaped his observation. No doubt his efforts would be directed to stiffening the price of the bonds by a word in season—that would be a timely and suitable and patriotic course.

But in spite of all these factors, the price of Montreal bonds has dropped in the London market until to-day the transaction completed through the Bank of Montreal is susceptible of comparison is being as advantageous as the standing of the London bonds justifies. So the standing of our bonds in the London market can be pointed to as a justification of the action of the Finance Committee in parting with the $3,000,000 loan at par or a shade better.

Probably the favourable terms procured by the Chicago people for the million dollars' worth of bonds—105 1-2—may influence an upward turn in the London prices of Montreal's 3 1-2 40-year bonds. If such be the case, the reflex action of the London movement would probably be felt in Chicago, in turn, and aid the syndicate in disposing of the remaining $2,000,000 worth of bonds they are said to be holding for a higher price at better terms.

Ald. Ramsay is now in New York. It is said he will shortly sail for Europe.

THE MAYOR NOW SPEAKS.

Mayor Prefontaine, who has been absent from the city for a few days, was down at the City Hall this morning, and was quite willing to talk about the three million loan which is exciting so much comment.

Upon being asked whether or not he knew the bonds had been disposed by the Bank of Montreal to a Chicago syndicate at a very large profit, His Worship replied: "No, I do not know that the loan has been disposed of on the Chicago market. If it has been disposed of in the United States I do not know what has been got for it."

"With your knowledge of financial matters, would you consider that the city made a good bargain when it disposed of the loan at a fraction above par?"

"Frankly, I think we disposed of the bonds at very good terms. We have got a little over par, and that is all that possibly could be expected."

"DIDN'T WANT TO HAWK."

"But our bonds are quoted in London at 101 and 103 on the London market?"

"Most of our bonds are being sold at 101, and we have got a fraction over 100 for the bonds. I am quite sure that if the bonds had been advertised they would not have brought more than par. You must remember that it is a very difficult thing to dispose of such a large amount of bonds, and if we had gone hawking and advertising them all over the world they would have depreciated in value and we should have found ourselves in a very awkward position. Then at the present time the city's financial condition is not such that there would have been no wisdom in the city trying to float the loan itself. But even supposing it had been decided that the city should place the loan, we could not have placed it directly on the markets, and in consequence we should have had to pay at least one and a half per cent. commission for its handling. There would have been other expenses, so even if we had placed it at 103 there would have been but very little more got out of the transaction than what has now come to us."

CANNOT ACCOUNT FOR IT.

"But how do you account for our bonds only being quoted in London at 101, when a year ago they were worth about 105. Toronto bonds are almost at the latter figure to-day."

"I suppose there has been a fluctuation in the money market. I can give no other reason for the depreciation in our bonds. I do not know why Toronto's bonds should be worth more than ours."

As to the manner the Finance Committee handled the placing of this loan. Do you think it was right that only three or four firms should have been singled out by a few members of the committee to tender for it?

"I think the Finance Committee used its own experience as to the placing of loans. It had been used to doing business with one of the leading banks and some of the leading brokers and what was customary in other loans was simply done in this. The very strongest firms were asked to tender and for the life of me I cannot see what would have been the good of asking a dozen banks or brokers to tender. As I have said, it is not everyone who can tender for such a big loan."

"You are aware, of course, that tenders are alleged to have been received by the chairman of the Finance Committee, from outside parties, who made very much better offers for the loan than was given for it?"

MAYOR NOT A TENDER.

"I have heard that such was the case, but do not know the facts. I can say, however, that I think the Finance Committee did perfectly right in not handing the loan over to any concern that might wish to tender for it. Suppose now that the loan had been parted with to some concern that was found could not handle it, and it had some back to us again what a nice mess we should have been in, and how the value of the bonds would have run down when we attempted to float them again. I may tell you that I got a tender myself from a man named Ling, or Thing in the United States, but I did not know him from Adam and I never dreamt of asking that he should get the loan. The Finance Committee, I suppose, felt like I did as to certain tenders it might have received."

"Will the Finance Committee have to report back to Council and ask it to endorse its action on this loan?"

"Not at all; the Council weeks ago decided that the committee should float the bonds on certain tenders and its commands have been obeyed. There will be no good in bringing the matter up again in the Council. All that remains to be done is for me to sign the bonds. When they are submitted to me I shall endorse them and then the whole matter is at an end."

THE GOOD TEMPLARS.

Friction Developes at the Opening of the International Lodge

A Question of Charter Tax Which May Split the Whole Order.

(Special to the Star.)

TORONTO, June 27.—The International Convention of the Supreme Lodges of the Independent Order of Good Templars opened a ten days' convention here this morning with an attendance of two hundred delegates, which represents eighty-five Grand Lodges from all over the American Continent, from Great Britain and Europe.

The meeting had hardly secured a good start this morning when a serious question, which, at the luncheon adjournment, was no nearer settlement than when it arose. The credential committee reported that two Grand Lodges, the Ontario and Iowa Lodges, were in debt for the charter tax of two cents per each member, and their delegates were, therefore, prohibited from sitting in Supreme Lodge.

Mr. George Spence, of the Ontario Lodge, said that even if these two lodges had not paid their charter tax, such a delinquency merely placed them upon the same footing as the European Lodges, which never had remitted their charter tax, and that, therefore, they had a right to vote.

The European delegates contended that in 1887, when they amalgamated with the American lodges, they did not then accept the charter tax, and, therefore, had not paid it. They did not intend to submit to it, and, notwithstanding, claimed their full privileges. The English lodges have 64,000 members and the Swedish, the largest of the continental societies, claimed over 90,000 members, so that a tax of two cents each meant a large sum of money.

The American contingent claimed that they had kept up the charitable fund almost unassisted, and asked that the European lodges be assessed, as they were. Several of the delegates from Europe said that if the tax was demanded the European organization would secede. At the adjournment, the question was still under vigorous discussion.

SUDBURY NICKEL.

The Wellington Mine to Be Acquired

By the Dominion Iron and Steel Company as an Adjunct to Their Present Works.

There is some prospect of the Dominion Steel and Iron Company of Sydney, the formation of which company has been given at length in these columns, purchasing the Wellington Nickel Mines at Sudbury. This mineral deposit which has the reputation of being the richest nickel mine outside of New Caledonia, has not been worked for several years. The late Duncan McIntyre was a large shareholder in the company, in fact was the chief owner, and his death, which occurred some four years ago, disorganized the affairs of the company to such an extent that a clean up was made at the mines and the works shut down.

It now seems that Mr. B. E. Pierson, secretary of the Dominion Steel and Iron Company, has approached some of the shareholders of the company in Montreal with a view of negotiating for the purchase of the mines.

The Sudbury property would, it is thought be a valuable addition to the Dominion Steel and Iron Company, as nickel enters very largely into steel making according to the latest and most improved ideas. The property, before the death of Mr. Duncan McIntyre, was valued at about $750,000. However, it is thought that at the present time it could be purchased for considerably less.

MINING EXCHANGE HOLIDAYS.

The brokers on the Montreal Mining Exchange are to take a holiday, or, more properly speaking, a series of holidays. A motion was passed this morning adjourning the board at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon and not convening again until Wednesday, July 5, at 11 a.m. This will give the members of the board a chance to [illegible]

WHEAT TOOK A DROP

Caused by Heavy Northwest Receipts and a Liverpool Decline.

CASH BUSINESS COMMENCED EARLY AND THERE WAS GOOD SELLING.

(From the Special Correspondent of the Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.)

CHICAGO, June 27.—Wheat took a drop of ¾ cents this morning on continued liquidation the first two hours, which was brought about by the decline at Liverpool and the continued heavy North West receipts. The cash business commenced early and before noon 200,000 No. 1 Northern had been worked here for direct export. This caused the liquidation to cease and some of the early sellers turned buyers and prices regained the early loss. Montreal stood pat on her long lines and bought on the soft spots. The lower markets at Liverpool were due to the decline here, coupled with the poor demand there for cash. It is a noteworthy fact that Liverpool seems to be declining with Chicago and Chicago with Liverpool.

Beerbohm's figures on the world's wheat crop are rather interesting than trust worthy. He makes the shortage compared with last year phenomenally large crop 350,000,000 bushels. He adds that there will be no lack of wheat owing to the large reserves from the heavy crop of 1898. It is hard for American crop experts to agree on the yield in America where there is every facility for getting information in regard to the Californian crop this year the government and private authorities differ widely. The only safe conclusion to be arrived at is that there is not likely to be any important surplus of wheat on this crop. The showery weather in the North West should be noted as the excess of rain there during the early growth of the spring wheat plant may prove an important factor later on.

STOCKS FAIRLY ACTIVE.

Tendency of Prices During Early Hours Upwards.

AFTER NOON A LITTLE LESS ACTIVITY PREVAILED IN THE MARKET.

(From the Star's Special Correspondent in Wall Street.)

NEW YORK, June 27.—A fair degree of activity attended the early dealings of the Stock Exchange to-day, and the tendency of prices during the morning was upwards. There was good buying of a number of issues, and some sharp advances were recorded. Omaha rose 1¾ per cent., New York Central 1, Chicago Gas ½, Continental Tobacco 1⅜, Federal Steel 1⅝, and Missouri Pacific 1. There were, however, one or two stocks that were inclined to lag behind. Among this group were Sugar Certificates, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Manhattan Elevated and Metropolitan Street Railway. In fact the last named at one time showed decided weakness, falling off 2 points from yesterday's closing figures. After mid-day ess activity prevailed, but the strength continued the best figures of the day being made.

ACCOUNTANTS MEET.

The Association of Railway Accounting Officers Convene.

What the System They Have Introduced Means to the Public.

MR. P. A. HEWITT.
President of the Association of American Railway Accounting Officers and General Auditor of the Big 4.

The eleventh annual meeting of the Association of American Railway Accounting Officers convenes to-morrow at 10.00 a.m., in the Windsor, auditorium, comptrollers and auditors of nearly every railroad and inland transportation company in the United States and Canada will be in attendance.

This meeting is the first the Association has held in Canada, and it promises to be one of the best attended and most representative in the history of the association, nearly ninety per cent. of the total mileage of the railways on the North American Continent being represented in the association.

The addresses to be delivered by the President and also by their Secretary, will pass in review what has been successfully accomplished through the efforts and work of the association during the first ten years of its existence.

The present system of through waybilling of freight, and the interline passenger tickets, two important facilities enjoyed by the public, have been made possible by the work of the association to bring about uniformity of methods in the accounting departments for the expeditious interchange of business between railway companies. Were it not for this the travelling public would not enjoy the convenience of using through tickets routed over several different lines of railways, neither would it be possible to ship through freight by the use of one waybill for the entire number of railways who haul it over the whole or a portion of their respective lines.

The Canadian railway and steamboat companies have tendered every courtesy to the visiting members, many of whom have their wives and families with them. The Committee on Arrangements, of which Mr. J. D. Ogden, comptroller of the Canadian Pacific, is chairman, have arranged the following itinerary. The Montreal Street Railway Company tender special cars for an electric ride through the city, leaving the Windsor Hotel at 8.30 p.m.

The Grand Trunk provide a special train Thursday, at 4.00 p.m., to Lachine to meet steamer to run the rapids. The Canadian Pacific tenders a special train, leaving Windsor Station, Friday, 7.50 a.m., for Quebec, providing the visitors with a sumptuous luncheon at the Chateau Frontenac on arrival there, returning the same evening.

THE CITY MUST PAY

For Land Taken by It on Dominion Square.

The Amount Claimed Was $44,000 But Court Only Allowed $32,000.

Mr. Justice Lamothe this morning condemned the city to pay Messrs. John Fairman and C. H. Hall not the sum of $87,810.50 for the strip of land belonging to them on Peel street, along Hamilton's store, was the city expropriated from them in 1896 to widen the street. The plaintiffs claimed $44,000, basing at the rate of $18 per foot for 2,487 feet. The residents of the locality, including the plaintiffs, had appealed to the city to widen this street, offering to sell them the needed property at a price to the city without going through the formality of an expropriation. The city took possession of this strip of land but a short time before the action was tried and used the remainder, so that for more than three years it has been used as a public street.

The city pleaded that it never meditated or intended to expropriate this property and to widen the street, but that its action had benefited the plaintiffs, and further, that by act of Legislature it had been divested from paying for this property, the expropriation fund having been exhausted.

His Honour remarked that he was a member of the Legislature when the act was passed, and it had never been contemplated to relieve the city from paying for land which it had expropriated for the public benefit. The court, therefore, held that the city was clearly liable for the payment of this property. His Honour had difficulty at reaching the value of this strip of land, which was situated in a county where property had greatly increased in value in later years. The witnesses produced by the plaintiffs had valued the land at $18 per foot. The witnesses were all competent men. On the other hand, equally competent witnesses had been produced by the city, and who had sworn that the property was worth 86 cents, 88 and finally others $10 per foot. The average value as given by the city's witnesses was 1,750 feet at $10 per foot, and 727 feet at $1.50 per foot. This totalled up to $20,810. Between this sum and that of $44,000, claimed by the plaintiffs, His Honour awarded a middle amount, fixing the sum to be paid by the city at $32,810.50, with costs.

It was stated that the city will go to appeal. His Honour remarked in the course of his judgement that he found the whole purchase of property by the city within the formality of expropriation was correctly legal, the same principle having been laid down in the case of Henry Hogan vs. the city by the Court of Appeal.

ST. LOUIS AND ITS CARS.

Mr. Justice Charland heard witnesses for the defence this morning in the case of the town of St. Louis against the Montreal Park & Island Railway, to set aside the franchise granted the Messrs. Corriveau and Williams to run an electric road within the limits of the municipality, which franchise was transfered to the Montreal Park & Island Railway, on the ground that the company has not carried out its contract, and had failed to give the town an electric car service similar to that of the city, with transfer tickets to all the lines in Montreal as they allege they had undertaken to do. The company was represented by

AT THE QUEEN'S PARK

Magnificent Bicycle Races on a Brilliantly Lighted Track Please Many Spectators.

CANADIAN RECORD WAS BROKEN

Entertainment Gave an Idea of What the World's Bicycle Meet Races Will Be Like.

WRETCHED CAR SERVICE.

"Brown" Kept the People in Good Humour During the Hour Cars Went on and Off the Track.

CLOUDS of inky blackness threatened for a while the peace of mind of the spectators at the bicycle races at Queen's Park last evening, but failed to interfere with the successful carrying out of the programme on the brightly illuminated track. Decayed or distorted rails on the Montreal street car line leading to the Park had a similar effect on the spectators after the races were over, but failed equally to dampen their spirit, thanks to the efforts of Brown. Which Brown, sad to say, is unknown, and the entire family of Browns will have to bear the reflected glory due to the man who managed to keep half a dozen enormous carloads of tired people in good humour during a full hour, which most of them spent in climbing in and out of the cars, pushing at the dark and lifting in the front of them, with the accompaniment of alternate objurgation and cheering. Brown and his rabbit's foot did wonders, however. He was a circus in himself, changed from clown to menagerie, from menagerie to sideshow barker, from side show barker to sorcerer, and from sorcerer to highwayman philosopher. The street car company would do well to engage him regularly, though it might perhaps be cheaper to put their tracks in shape, than to pay a man of his talents the salary which his acquirements should command. Mr. Dandurand might also with advantage offer him a position. Since even McLeod, and the other crack racers at present here, have written home about the terrible state of the line, an announcement to the effect

"THAT BROWN WILL BE THERE"

to cheer up passengers of derailed and detained cars might do a good deal towards bringing people to the races, who would otherwise stay away. The great trouble however would be to find Brown. All the particulars known about him up to date, are that he has a friend whom he addresses affectionately as "Soapy," and that he was noticed to have banked for a number of seconds in one of A. B. Rattray's smiles, directed at him from the car in front. As is usual in this world, true merit seldom meets at once with the solid recognition it deserves, and to keep up this idea a fresh young conductor nearly created a riot on Brown's particular car by threatening to put Brown off, for alleged non-payment of fare.

Those of the lovers of the wheel, however, who are prepared to brave the dangers of a street car ride to the Park find themselves easily repaid for their trouble by the

that have been provided for them. Last night, everything, barring the pistol of Mr. Rattray, the starter, went off without a hitch, and the men rode for all they were worth. Nat. Butler, whose reappearance from a distance, to Fitzsimmons was noticed in various parts of the grand stand, took nearly everything in the professional line, either alone or with the assistance of his brothers, but they had to fight for it. Boisvert was the bright particular star in the amateur line, though Evans won the handicap race. The triplet race was a humdinger, and the fact that the Canadian record was broken for the paced mile is a proof of the work that was done.

This evening's entertainment, if the weather be good, and Brown has no other engagement, though the street car people may remedy the wretched track, ought to be thoroughly enjoyable considering the programme that has been arranged, with band music between the waits. If a visit to the track will do nothing else, it will give one an idea of what the World's Bicycle Meet will be like.

ZIMMY TO BE CYCLE KING.

Will Race American Cracks Saturday and Goes Abroad if Successful.

NEW YORK, June 27. — Arthur A. Zimmerman, the retired champion cyclist of the world, who has been training at Ashbury Park for the last two months, preparing for his first appearance in competition, which takes place at Ambrose Park next Saturday, declares he never was in better condition in his life, and he will have absolutely no excuse to offer in case the latter-day champions prove too speedy for him.

The "Jersey Shouter" would certainly decline to appear again on the track unless he had considerable confidence in his ability to cope with such men as Bald, Cannon, McFarland and Kiser. He never was a rider to make a match unless he was in the pink of condition. He would not ride against a man unless he was confident of winning, and there are none who believe that Zim decided to try the banked tracks again unless he had considered the question carefully and knew that he still possessed the speed which made him famous. The quiet manner in which he has gone about his training, the few interviews which have emanated from his quarters, and the fact that he is negotiating for a European trip to start in the autumn, all point to his confidence in his speed for cycle competition.

The big event in which Zimmy will compete has been termed the Zimmy Handicap.

MISCELLANEOUS SPORTS.

FIGHTS AT CONEY ISLAND.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Bob Fitzsimmons reappeared in the ring as a fighter at the Coney Island Sporting Club, where he sparred three rounds with Dan Hussey. There were three other bouts on the card, two of which lasted ten rounds each. The third was to have been a 20-round contest between Owen Zeigler and Charley McKeever, of Philadelphia. They fought desperately. McKeever had Zeigler almost out in the seventh round, when Zeigler's seconds threw up the sponge. The referee did not seem to realize what the sponge was thrown into the ring for, and allowed the men to continue for a few seconds, during which Zeigler was knocked down. His seconds claimed a foul, but it was not allowed. In the meantime Zeigler had regained his feet and struck McKeever heavily on the face while Charley was off his guard. Police Captain Kenny and other officers interfered, and the ring was soon cleared, after McKeever had been announced as the winner.

The preliminaries were between Tony Moran, of Brooklyn, and Cresby Boyle, of Philadelphia, at 128 pounds, to a draw, and Frank Patterson, of Brooklyn, and Jerry Marshall, of Australia, which also resulted in a draw.

GOSSIP.

A special practice match of the Montreal Cricket Club will take place this afternoon on the M. A. A. A. grounds. All members are requested to be on hand.

At Poughkeepsie, N.Y., yesterday, the four-oared race over the two-mile course was won by Pennsylvania. The time was 11 minutes 12 seconds. Cornell was second, time, 11 minutes 14 5-8 seconds.

The freshmen eight-oared race between Pennsylvania, Columbia and Cornell over the two mile course was won by Cornell. Time, 9 minutes 55 seconds. Columbia was second, one and one-quarter boat lengths behind Cornell. Time 10 minutes. Pennsylvania third, three and one-quarter lengths behind Columbia. Time, 10.10.

Wray is out with a challenge to Jake Gaudaur. Wray will require a propeller on his shell to keep up with Gaudaur. He can have all he wants in a race with Ras Rogers, and the backing of the latter will come from Worcester, too, says the Worcester Spy.

A London cable says: A. E. J. Collins, the 14-year-old Clifton College School boy cricket player, continued his remarkable innings yesterday, scoring 558 runs and not out.

'WALLY' CONNORS' WAYS.

His Companion Believed to be W. J. Howard, a Noted Crook.

"Wally" Connors, alias Charles Brown, the notorious New York bank sneak, and his mysterious companion who were arrested yesterday as suspicious characters, appeared this morning before the Police Magistrate to answer to the charge of vagrancy. Both of them pleaded not guilty and were remanded.

There is some good ground for belief that the partner of "Wally" Connors, who gave his name to the police as Andrews, is no other than W. J. Howard, who is described in Byrne's criminal records as "an old and active bank sneak, alias Killoran, who travels with Connors, both of whom have done extensive work throughout the United States." Not only were they together when arrested, after visiting several banks, but on the 21st Andrews registered at one of the hotels as J. Howard. In addition, he has admitted to Detective Suthergill that this is his correct name, but whether he is the individual whom Byrne, in his book describes, is not yet certain. Chief Carpenter thinks he is not, but if so, the coincidence is remarkable.

As stated in yesterday's Star, Detective Suthergill had his eye on these two men since a few days, as the two suspected characters were constantly patrolling from one bank to another. Even yesterday, although it was only 10.30 o'clock when they were arrested, they had already been followed to five different banks, viz., the Bank of Toronto, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Molson's Bank, Imperial Bank, and the Bank of Nova Scotia. It was while coming out of the latter that they were nabbed. One usually entered the other remaining outside. In the latter establishment, the teller was asked for a blank cheque on the Merchants Bank. The teller could not find one, the object evidently being to get a glance at the cage, or of any money that might be lying about. It is also known that the men cashed a cheque last week at the Bank of Hochelaga. Detective Suthergill meeting them coming down the steps while counting the money. It is not yet known how this was accomplished, whether by fair or foul means. Taken all together the two accused are the sort of business men that bank directors do not care to meet. Both men are confined at the Central Station. Last night about 10 o'clock, Connors gave the turnkey some money to buy a newspaper. He didn't care which one it was, he said. He later scanned the paper carefully for a little personal that concerned himself.

As already stated, their photographs and their measurements have been sent to all the American police centres, and it is expected some interesting details concerning these two men, will be known at the detective's department in a very near future.

The deceased has been ailing for three weeks past. A funeral service was held at St. Ann's Church this morning, at 7.30.

Saturday next being the eve of the solemnity of St. Peter and St. Paul, formerly a feast of obligation, which feast is now observed on the Sunday following it is a day of fasting and abstinence, but owing to the fact that it is also Dominion Day, the Archbishop has ordered that the fasting and abstinence for the occasion be observed on Wednesday.

APPOINTED TO MONTREAL.

(Special to the Star.)

BRANTFORD, Ont., June 27.—The British Methodist Episcopal (coloured) Conference which had been in session here for over a week was brought to a close yesterday. Among the appointments made was: Montreal, Rev. Robert Brown.

Still a Little Time.

The present distribution of the Masterpieces by the Star Library Club is drawing to a close. Readers who have decided to secure sets of this work should be prompt with their applications, for the present available supply of the books grows smaller every day, and orders are filled in the order of their receipts. "First come, first served," is the rule.

The complete library is delivered at once, and the applicant therefore has the use of the books while paying for them, upon specially favorable conditions. Write today for particulars, Star Library Club, 141 St. James street, Montreal.

BURGLARS AT COTEAU.

They Broke Into the Registrar's Office and Secured Some Valuable Coins.

A daring attempt by burglars to blow the vault of the Soulanges County registry office occurred last night. The burglars broke in by a window giving on the private office of the registrar. Every drawer in the office desks was searched and papers were all scattered on the floor of the private office. The burglars next broke into the office of the deputy registrar, which is adjoining, and stole some coal oil and several coins and coin papers of great value for collection purposes which were left in the private desk of the deputy registrar. The burglars carried them some tools consisting of a hammer, a chisel and bit and two chisels.

THREW HERSELF IN THE RIVER

A Woman Committed Suicide at Bord a Plouffe.

The news reached the city this morning that an unknown woman of modest appearance had thrown herself into the Des Prairies river at Bord a Plouffe about seven o'clock last Saturday morning. The family of a Mrs. E. Charron, residing at Bord a Plouffe saw the woman throw herself into the water. Efforts were made to rescue her, but she sank before help could reach her. The coroner was notified, and will investigate.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

The Grace Episcopal Church Sabbath School held its annual picnic to Bout de l'Ile on Saturday. The picnic was the largest and most successful in the history of the school. Races, games and other sports were indulged in and a most enjoyable day was spent. The only hitch that occurred was when the pic-nickers were ready to return. For some unexplained reason the Bel Line Railway did not send the special cars for the return trip as the cars on which they came was arranged to start the pic-nickers were compelled to return in instalments on the regular cars. The St. Henry Methodist Church Sabbath School were also picnicking at Bout de l'Ile. They also stated that they had arranged for special cars, but were treated in the same way. As a consequence it was very late in the evening before the majority of the scholars of both schools reached home.

THE ODDFELLOWS' OUTING.

No more popular excursion leaves this city every year than the Oddfellows' to Highgate Springs on Dominion Day, and this year they are making strenuous efforts to make this one the best they have yet held. This is the eighteenth successive Dominion Day on which the Oddfellows and their friends have visited this beautiful picnic grounds on the shores of Lake Champlain. They have secured Blaisdell's orchestra for dancing and numbers of beautiful and costly prizes. They also expect their usual large crowd.

NEW ROYAL VICTORIA WING.

At the next meeting of the Board of Governors of Royal Victoria Hospital, which will be held on the third Tuesday in July, the erection of a small isolation ward, which is very much needed owing to the gradual extension of the work of the hospital, will be discussed. It has been necessary of late to inaugurate an out-of-door department, to cope with existing emergencies, and the board of governors will be asked to sanction the erection of the proposed additional ward for isolation purposes, as a remedy to this out-of-door department.

HE FELL INTO THE RIVER.

Shortly after midnight this morning Peter Doolan, a labourer, living at No. 118 Colborne street, slipped from a dyke at the wharf, and in falling was cut and bruised on the head. He was brought to station No. 15 by the Harbour police and thence to the Notre Dame Hospital, where he received treatment, after which he departed for his home.

ROYAL SCOTS.—After the parade to turn in uniforms on Saturday evening the members of the Royal Scots will march to the Arena to hear the performance. The excellent band of the regiment will play a number of selections.

A First Class Hotel.

Even in Montreal, first class hotels are not plentiful.

The Queen's of that city solicits the patronage of the travelling public with the assurance that it is first class in every respect. The building is handsome and fireproof, the decorations and furniture artistic, attendants civil and obliging, table seldom equalled, situation most central, rates reasonable. No wonder our patrons are numerous and of the best class.

A MILITARY TATOO.

One Has Been Arranged for Friday Evening at Laprairie.

THE BIG CAMP AT LEVIS OPENED THIS MORNING FOR TEN DAYS.

There will be a military tatoo at Laprairie on Friday evening which, it is promised, will even surpass that which was such a feature of the Queen's Birthday celebration last May, on the M.A.A.A. grounds. The tatoo will take place at 9 o'clock on Friday evening and the arrangements are under the control of Col. Gordon. The entire force of the militia in camp at Laprairie, comprising several thousand men, will take part in the tatoo, and if the weather conditions are favourable the event will be one worth going many miles to see.

A special train has been arranged for, to leave Bonaventure station at 7.30 p.m., returning reaching the city at 11 o'clock. A special reduced rate will be made for the occasion.

THE LEVIS CAMP.

(Special to the Star.)

QUEBEC, June 27. The Levis military camp was opened to-day at St. Joseph de Levis, and all preparations were completed yesterday. Some 200 members of the Royal Canadian Artillery went over to act as militia police. Some 3,500 men will be under canvas, and at the end of next week the whole number will cross over to this city, and have a grand parade on the Plains of Abraham.

CAMP NIAGARA.

NIAGARA, Ont., June 27. The work of the men yesterday in camp was chiefly given to battalion drills, skirmishing, marching in quarter-column and brigade drill. The target practice of the militia corps was completed yesterday morning, the 59th and 46th being the last battalions to go to the ranges. Major-General Hutton arrived in camp about noon to-day, and will remain until Wednesday. He came, while here, will be taken up inspecting the different corps. The few patients in the hospital are all steadily improving. There is some doubt as to whether camp will break up Saturday morning or the troops remain to take part in the Dominion Day exercises.

METHODISTS AND PROHIBITION

New Brunswick Conference Adopts Resolutions of Protest to the Premier.

(Special to the Star.)

ST. STEPHEN, N.B., June 27. The New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Conference had a warm debate on the report of the temperance committee which resulted in the following resolutions being passed by an almost unanimous vote:

Resolved, that this conference views with profound regret and dissatisfaction the action of the Dominion Government in relation to the recent plebiscite on the subject of the prohibition of the liquor traffic, first, for the refusal to give definite information beforehand to the House of Parliament, though repeatedly asked for it, as to the intention of the Government on the supposition of a majority being found to favour such prohibition, and further in refusing to indicate what majority would be requisite to warrant the introduction of a measure for prohibition. Second, in determining that the negative vote in one province should count for more than the affirmative given in each of the others and of the majority of the whole in the matter of such importance to the well being of the population, and unconstrued by the Government itself as a test of the wishes of the people. Third, that the Premier, himself, has attempted to vindicate the inaction of the Government on the ground that it was always understood that such majority as that given would not suffice for the introduction of such a measure, while he had steadily refused to give this information at the time when it was most eagerly sought and would have been of the highest service.

"And further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Premier of the Dominion."

EIGHT LUCKY MINERS.

They Secured $250,000 Within Twenty Miles of Dawson in Two Years.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 27.—Eight miners have just reached here from Alaska with $250,000, the result of two years' digging within twenty miles of Dawson. One of them, W. H. Armstrong has a nugget worth $300. "The country is full of like men," said Armstrong, "and every steamer brings a lot more to swell the list. There will be a fairly good clean up this year around Dawson, but it will belong to ten times as many men as last year's output."

Charles Osborne, of San Francisco, who arrived here yesterday from Dawson, claims to have found a rich placer ground at the headwaters of McMillan river. He says it is a terrible country to get into. With his partner, Smithson, of Los Angeles, he travelled up the river 400 miles. He cleaned up nearly $1,000 before they were compelled to come out for provisions. While in there they met a party of six who left Edmonton over four years ago and wintered on the Pole river. Their clothes were in rags and they were almost skeletons. Three of the party had died. The leader of the party, a man named Jackson, from New Jersey, said they had been held up by Indians and robbed of a good part of their outfit. From that time they lived on fog flesh and a couple of moose which they were fortunate enough to shoot.

MR. O'GARA'S PUBLIC FUNERAL

(Special to the Star.)

OTTAWA, June 27. — A public funeral was awarded the remains of the late Martin O'Gara, Q.C., this morning. The procession started from his late residence in Ottawa East shortly after nine o'clock and passed through the city by way of Elgin, Wellington and Rideau streets to Notre Dame cemetery. It was headed by the band of the 43rd Battalion, and then followed the city policemen in uniform, the Dominion policemen, the members of the city fire brigade, City and County Councillors and others. In the procession was also noticed the representatives of the Carleton County Law Association, the Benchers as well as other public bodies. It was the largest funeral that has taken place here for some time.

SACRILEGE IN LEVIS COUNTY.

(Special to the Star.)

QUEBEC, June 27. The residents of Levis are in a great state of excitement over a case of sacrilege which has just occurred there. Robbers entered the church of St. Antoine de Bienville and stole a golden chain, which was round the statue of the virgin, as well as a golden crown from the statue of the Sacred Heart. The collection boxes were rifled without much result and several objects of value in the church were wantonly destroyed. Four tramps had visited the Presbytery on the day of the outrage and they are suspected of the crime.

ONTARIO'S LUMBER LAWS.

Americans' Appeal to Law May Delay High Commission.

APPEAL IS FOR NEARLY A MILLION DAMAGES AND WILL GO TO PRIVY COUNCIL.

(Special to the Star.)

OTTAWA, June 27. — It is understood that proceedings in the test case promoted by the Michigan lumbermen against the constitutionality of the Ontario manufacturing conditions act will be so far advanced that the case will reach the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England by next November. As it is admitted that until this phase of the lumber question is in a fair way of settlement, no conclusion can be reached on the trade question by the Anglo American Commission, it would not be a matter of surprise if the Commission did not meet again until the late autumn or early winter.

Meanwhile, Hon. M. Dickenson, counsel for the Michigan lumbermen who are fighting the Hardy act so vigourously, has filed the bill of damages against the Ontario Government. It amounts to the tremendous sum of $936,500. The chief item is loss consequent upon the shutting down of the mills in Michigan by being deprived of the logs hitherto secured in Ontario under Crown licenses. The claim has been filed with the State Department at Washington and has reached Ottawa through the Colonial office in London.

In the Senate yesterday afternoon, Sir Mackenzie Bowell rose to explain what he had said on the question of the fiat issued by the Attorney-General of Ontario. He thought no one would believe he was so ignorant as some newspaper reports made him out. What he meant to say was that the American lumbermen had two grievances. 1st, that they leased limits without any conditions being attached and the Ontario Government now brought in restrictions which amounted to a limitation of exportation; the second was that this limitation acting as an embargo on exportation, whilst the Province had no power to impose an export duty, virtually infringed the Dominion's right of imposing such duty.

A BISHOP ON HIS DIGNITY.

An Unusual Incident at a Confirmation at Brantford.

BISHOP DOWLING SPOKE VERY PLAINLY UPON A PRIEST'S DUTY.

(Special to the Star.)

BRANTFORD, Ont., June 27.—Bishop Dowling, of Hamilton, created something of a sensation in St. Basil's Church on Sunday when administering the rite of confirmation. His Lordship asked whether any were there who are claimed by the neighbouring parish of St. Mary's. The reply was made that there was one, a boy named John Ryan.

The Bishop addressing the boy asked him who had sent him to St. Basil's.

The boy replied that he had been sent by his father.

The Bishop then remarked that Father Lennon was at the bottom of the matter and, turning to Father Lennon, asked whether he claimed jurisdiction over the boy.

Father Lennon replied that he had no jurisdiction but what he got from his Bishop.

"Because, if you did," said the Bishop I "would very soon see into it and if you claimed that boy I would take away your facilities."

Then, turning to the audience, the Bishop said that he was a man of peace but he was also a Bishop and he intended to make his priests obey him and when they appealed to the Pope against him, the Pope himself wrote to him to maintain his authority. His Lordship continued. "Obey and respect your priest as long as he does his duty, but if he teaches you to resist your Bishop, woe be to him. Woe be to the priest that by his conduct for conversation would promote such a spirit among the people. I do not accuse him of it but if Father Lennon tries to fight me he fights the wrong man."

The Bishop thereupon ordered young Ryan to go to St. Mary's where he was confirmed in the afternoon.

RAILWAYS AND THE PUBLIC.

Mr. Blair Explains the Provisions of His Bill to Amend the Railway Act.

(Special to the Star.)

OTTAWA, June 27.—At the Committee on Railways and Canals this morning the Canadian Northern Railway Company's bill was reported.

Mr. Blair's act to amend the Railway Act was then taken up. Hon. A. G. Blair, in explaining his bill, said the reason of its existence was that it was deemed expedient to incorporate into an act several clauses which they had from time to time incorporated in various acts coming before them. The first section contained certain clauses for the protection of the general public and regulated the erection of telegraph and telephone lines. It contained conditions as to when, where and under what circumstances poles could be erected and wires strung. Second section dealt particularly with certain circumstances which the committee have been in the habit of inserting in acts dealing with bridges, etc. It dealt with the approval of plans, the regulation of tolls, etc. It also covered the issue of bonds in such works. The third section contained several clauses intended for the greater protection of railway companies and to give increased safety to the public. The fourth clause conferred authority on the Railway Committee of the Privy Council on special application to order where it deems right the construction of stations by companies which have received Government aid. The clause was a new one and recommended itself to many members of Parliament. It had been too much the habit of the railway companies to select the sites of stations in their own interests instead of in the interests of the localities. It would occur to many that the insertion of such a clause would mean a good deal of trouble, but those who were entrusted with the duty of administering the law must face the music. Section five contained clauses providing for the authorization of rules and regulations for the operation of railways. It was inserted because there had been dissatisfaction with rules and regulations in some cases. It was to secure uniformity and by so doing would secure increased safety for the public and in operating the roads. The bill was then taken up clause by clause.

Hollinshead and Gunnis, the promoters of the latest Levis abattoir scheme, to the effect that the Government was strongly in favour of the establishment of abattoirs, but was against the scheme put forward by these gentlemen.

THE ST. RAYMOND FIRE.

(Special to the Star.)

QUEBEC, June 27.—There is no further news of any consequence from the scene of the St. Raymond fire. Most of the victims will rebuild at once and several have already awarded their contracts. In most cases the burned buildings will be replaced by more pretentious ones, of brick, or stone, and thus the visitation may prove to be not an unmixed evil.

THE CONFERENCE ASTONISHED

By the Manner in Which Germany Has Rejected Russia's Proposals.

THE KAISER HAS EVIDENTLY THROWN IN HIS LOT WITH ANGLO-SAXONDOM.

THE HAGUE, June 27.—The first committee has examined the Russian proposals relating to military effectives and budget. Colonel Gross Von Schwarzhoff, of the German delegation, declared that Germany could not enter into any engagement not to cease her naval and military effectives. The committee referred the Russian proposals to the special committees of the naval and military sub-committees. The drafting committee on arbitration adopted the first reading of the proposed code of procedure on arbitration. The vote on the second reading will occur on Friday, when the second reading of the permanent arbitration projects, including the scheme of Sir Julian Pauncefote, the head of the British delegation, will occur.

LONDON, June 27.—The correspondent of the Daily News at The Hague says: The German delegates have privately informed their colleagues that they had received instructions to accept the principle of a permanent tribunal of arbitration as outlined in the Anglo-American plans. This and the speech of Col. Gross Von Schwarzhoff plainly intimating that Germany had made up her mind against the Russian idea of disarmament, and had reached the conclusion that the time had arrived to tell the world so, are the two great events of the whole conference. Neither has been published as an official act of the German Government, but everybody knows that Germany will not recede from the position thus taken up. To-day I interviewed many delegates, some friendly to Germany, others hostile. They were unanimous in declaring Schwarzhoff's speech a smashing blow, pulverizing the argument of General Den Beer Poortugael and Co. Illinski. The effect was tremendous within the conference when Schwarzhoff pointedly exclaimed: "Germany is not ruined. On the contrary, her wealth, contentedness and standard of life (he used those words) are daily increasing." Altogether his speech was the biggest sensation of the conference, hitherto nobody expecting Germany to reject the Russian proposals in so brusque and unconditional a manner.

NEW LIGHTHOUSE.

The Government steamer Druid arrived at Quebec yesterday morning with Col. W. P. Anderson, chief engineer of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, on board. Col. Anderson had been cruising for several days on the Druid in deciding as to the location of the permanent lighthouse, which is being built to replace the lightship at Upper Traverse. The pier for the lighthouse will be sunk in a day or two. The wrecking steamer Diver is already on the spot, putting down anchors to place the piers. The lighthouse will be a little to the north of the present lightship, and the pier will be sunk in 28 feet of water, whereas the lightship is anchored in 24 feet.

SCHOONER SUNK.

Captain Charles Koenig, of the Druid, reports that on the morning of Saturday last he discovered off Lislet wharf the schooner Navigation, 17 tons, with only her stern visible above the water. She looked as if she had been sunk by a collision with some other ship. In the evening she was again sighted, but as there was a high wind blowing it was impossible to find out whether there was any one on board. On Sunday evening at four o'clock the Druid approached and found no one on board, and all the boats gone. Capt. Koenig telegraphed Tadousac, and received the following reply: "Schooner Hovington belongs to Theophile Caron, Escoumains. The fate of the crew as well as the cause of the sinking is unknown.

HANDLING CHILLED MEAT.

There was an interesting sight on the Dominion Line pier yesterday morning as the steamship Roman, which sails for Liverpool on Wednesday morning, took aboard a large consignment of meat which had come by refrigerator cars from Chicago. A canvas covered avenue led from the car to the ship. The sides of meat, weighing from 90 to 110 lbs. each, were taken out of the cars and attached by a hook to a little wheel, which, when pushed went spinning down the decline on a wire to the ship's hold. Every side of meat was carefully sewed up in cheese cloth, and every package was stamped with the number of pounds of meat in the side. On arriving at the ship the meat was immediately placed in the ship's cold storage compartments, without the sun's rays being allowed for a moment to fall on the consignment. About twenty-two car loads of meat will go by the ship to the other side.
