Ottawa Decision Of Arming Waited By Mobile Squad

Status Still Undefined Pending Clarification of Clause in International Law Regulating Treatment Of Volunteer Irregular Troops

Members of the Westmount C.P.C. Mobile Squad are in a quandary as to their right to carry arms. Their status is at present still undefined, because of the Franc-Tireur clause in International Law, which gives no protection to the civilian who bears arms in defence of his country. Clarification of their position is expected from Ottawa in the near future. It is learned from headquarters of the Civilian Protection Committee in the Province of Quebec.

From official C.P.C. sources it has been learned that inroads by the Reserve Army recruiting officers have decimated the civilian group which has been training for the last two years. The C.P.C. officials, however, are unwilling to voice any criticism of recruiting methods for the Home Reserve Army which should be given the fullest possible support, but they point out that in England Home Guards and ARP services are given equal rights and footing in the defence of civilian life and property, and they should therefore be given similar privileges.

The mobile forces of the CPC have been specially recruited and trained under the direction of Col. D. Rykert McCuaig, to circumvent sabotage attempts by armed groups by force; to halt any threatened invasion by such forces as parachute troops, and to carry out similar duties. It is held, therefore, that they should be permitted to carry the necessary arms to allow them to meet possible emergencies.

Nothing can be done, however, until official word has been received from Ottawa as to the exact status of the CPC, and particularly the members of the mobile squads. The decision is expected to be given within the next few days.

MOTORIST HAS FIT OF JITTERS AS BRAKES FAIL

Autoist Escapes With Fright When Forced to Sidewalk

When his brakes refused to function, he swerved to the sidewalk and hit a wire fence.

Such was the explanation given the police by Jas. A. McCorkindale of 3407 Madison Avenue, on Saturday evening when Westmount officers investigated what might have been a serious occurrence, but proved to be a mere mishap.

The driver of the car stated that he was obliged to turn his car suddenly to the one side in order to avoid a collision, and when he applied the brakes they did not hold, and the vehicle mounted the sidewalk and came to a stop only after it had struck a heavy wire fence which was partially demolished.

The driver himself escaped with nothing more serious than a slight fit of "jitters," but some flowers and shrubs on the lawn between the street proper and the sidewalk were crushed into the ground.

Local Chinese To Honor Minister From Ottawa

Dr. Howard S. Ross, K.C., columnist of this publication, is among the guests invited to attend the reception to be given on Sunday by the Chinese Patriotic Society of Montreal to Dr. Liu Shih-Shun, Chinese Minister to Canada at the Jasmine Cafe, 62 LaGauchetiere Street W. Dr. Shun will be accompanied by among others, Edward Bin Shue Lee, former student at McGill University, for some years editor of journals in China, and now secretary of the Chinese Legation at Ottawa.

MAYOR ATTENDS RACES

Mayor W. A. Merrill, K.C., was an interested spectator at the races held at Blue Bonnets on Saturday.

It was His Worship's first visit to the course during the present season.

KINSMEN HEAR TIMELY TALK ON ORATORY

Howard S. Ross, K.C., Outlines Art of Public Speaking at Club Meeting

Some timely pointers on the art of public speaking were delivered members of the Kinsmen Club of Verdun by Howard S. Ross, K.C., D.C.L., columnist of the Examiner, at a supper meeting of the Verdun club held at the Lassalle Golf and Country Club, last week.

Witty and brilliant to a degree, the speaker's discourse ran the gamut of politics to economics and was interspersed with a number of good stories, some of which related to his profession as a lawyer. Many and varied were the anecdotes he told and, coupled with his own wide experience as a public speaker, he was able to guide his younger hearers through the various kinds of speeches they may be called upon to make at some future date.

Mr. Ross tossed out a hint to aspiring political candidates: "Don't attempt to be humorous on the public platform. Voters generally do not trust a comedian to represent them in Parliament—or even on the city council!" Some men have tried that, he pointed out, but only to their regret. Only in very rare cases is the practise of posing as a funny man successful. Any attempt at humor, the speaker emphasized, should be well studied beforehand.

Mr. Ross said that anyone who had an aptitude for public speaking should use the gift with which he was endowed on behalf of worthy causes. He mentioned that a new Kinsmen's Club had been formed at St. John's, Que., with the majority of the members being French-Canadians. They were all enthusiastic about milk for Britain.

Introduced to the gathering by Sergeant-at-Arms Bill Maass, of the Kinsmen Club, the speaker was thanked by Jack McBrearty.

Milk for Britain

First collections to be announced by the Verdun club since taking over the duties of the Montreal Kinsmen as supervisors of the Verdun area Milk for Britain Fund, show that the sum of $50.00 had been reported in so far. In making the statement, Chairman Fred Wright said that only one-quarter of the weekly returns was included in this amount. The chair wished the committee continued success.

What happened in Montreal recently shows that "it can happen here," meaning of course, that the "meanest thief in town" could also live in this city. Wright reports that no less than three of the bottles used to receive Milk for Britain donations of pennies were found missing. These robberies have not been officially reported to the police but strict surveillance is being made by the various storekeepers whose kindness permits the bottles to be placed on their counter for the Kinsmen.

A bitter pill to swallow was the defence role that had to be assumed by the 1st Canadian Corps overseas, but at no time since its arrival in the Old Country has the Corps lost sight of the leading part that it is unquestionably designed to play when British invasion of the continent takes place. The Corps has been built into an immensely two-way fighting machine and the hard, gruelling training it has had has made it second to none as a defensive as well as an offensive force. The troops, itching always to carry the battle onto the enemy's own soil, are daily adding to their knowledge of hard-hitting offensive action.

WORKERS START ON DEMOLITION OF OLD HOUSE

St. Paul's Academy Playground and Building to Be Enlarged

Acting on instructions from the School Commission of St. Leon de Westmount, men began work this week on the demolition of the building on the west side of St. Paul's Academy which the Commission purchased last year. The space will be used to enlarge the school playground and to provide room for an addition to the academy.

The property which fronted on Cote St. Antoine Road was the only building in that section when it was erected over 60 years ago.

It will be remembered by older residents as the home of the Mount family which resided there for over 25 years. The late E. C. Mount was one of the first to form a business in Westmount, having been the proprietor of the Westmount Plumbing and Heating Company on St. Catherine street.

The fence surrounding the property and the large trees on the lot were removed early in the winter.

D. R. STEWART DIES IN ACTION

Former Pupil of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Received His Wings at McDonald, Man.

Sgt. Gunner Donald R. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Stewart, 642 Carleton Avenue, Westmount, was killed on active service June 25, according to word received by his parents. A further telegram advised them that the funeral service would be held on June 29 at 2:30 p.m. at Ripon, Yorkshire, England.

Sgt. Stewart was 21 years old and enlisted in Montreal in June 1940. He received his wings at McDonald, Manitoba. He had attended Bishop's College, Lennoxville, where he always took an active part in athletics. His specialty was track and at a meet held at his station in England a short time ago, he won the cross country run.

Homoeopathic Concerned Over Shortage of Nurses

Homoeopathic Hospital authorities are concerned over the diminishing supply of graduate nurses, a problem which began to reveal itself shortly after the outbreak of war and which continued to tax the minds of those in charge.

The task of providing sufficient nurses at all times to staff all departments adequately creates added responsibility on those whose duty it is to supervise the graduate staff and to instruct the student nurses.

The hospital reports to the board of management pays tribute to Miss Vera L. Graham, R.N., and Miss Dora W. Miller, R.N., and their assistants for the ability and patience which they have exercised at all times in dealing with this difficult problem.

The report comments: "It has been stated that the health of the nation is of first importance and it is regretted that so many nurses have been induced to accept industrial positions, where it is doubtful if their ability and training can be employed as advantageously as in our hospital wards. Another cause of shortage of supply has resulted from the call for military duty to which a number of our nurses have responded."

The report also mentions added difficulties arising from shortages in essential materials through the exigencies of war.

LOCAL OFFICERS ENJOY RESPITE

According to information secured from the Westmount police, the last week-end, and the first part of the present week, were uneventful. There were no accidents or incidents of any importance. No reports were received of injuries or mishaps of a serious nature. A few minor collisions, involving no harm to anybody, and resulting in only small property damage, were the only occurrences of which the police had any knowledge. No arrests were made, and as a whole, the law officers had a real holiday, as all they had to do was to pound their beat and "enjoy" their usual strolls through the streets.

The fire department was not called out for anything more serious than a few chimney fires.

The Court blotter on Saturday and Monday contained the smallest number of cases registered in a long while. As a matter of fact the presiding magistrate would have been entitled to the proverbial pair of white gloves on Monday, since he did not have to hear or deal with a single complaint.

BOY NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH

Alexander Gavin, 3 years of age, whose parents reside at 113 Selby street, had a miraculous escape from death or at least serious injuries, on Saturday afternoon on St. Antoine street.

The youngster ran right into the path of a heavy truck as he was attempting to cross the street. Fortunately the driver of the motor vehicle saw the boy in time to give the steering wheel a sudden twist and thus avoid what might have been a fatal collision. Little Gavin was thrown to the pavement, but when picked up by some passersby, it was found he had sustained no serious injuries. He was suffering from a few scratches and nothing more. He was taken to his home by the good samaritans who had raised him from the street.

Since the case was evidently an unavoidable accident, no complaint was lodged against the driver of the truck.

LIBRARY CLOSED SATURDAY

During July and August, the Library will be closed all day Saturday. From Monday to Friday, the hours will be as usual, from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

CHIEF W. GOUGH OFF TO ATTEND POLICE PARLEY

Head of Westmount Police Attends Conference Of Chief Constables in Quebec City

Problems confronting the various police bodies of Canada will be the principal topics to be dealt with at the 37th annual conference of the Chief Constables' Association of the Dominion which opened in Quebec City Tuesday afternoon. The convention is holding business meetings continuing through to Friday.

Chief Walter Gough, of the Westmount Police and Fire Departments, left on Monday to attend the meeting at which heads of the various forces throughout the Dominion will assist.

J. J. Conrod, Chief of Police of Halifax, president of the Association will occupy the chair, and according to George A. Shea, director of investigation of the Canadian National Railways, secretary-treasurer of the organization, the gathering will be one of the most momentous ever held by the Chief Constables.

LOCAL AIRMAN JOINS IN ATTACK ON REICH PORT

Squadron Leader L. B. Price, son of Major-General C. B. Price, commander of the Third Canadian Division of the Canadian Corps in Britain was a member of one of the four Canadian squadrons which took part in the terrific blasting of Bremen, chief submarine-building centre of Germany, last week.

Squadron Leader Price, who is a veteran of the Battle of Britain has proven himself a natural air fighter and has a host of achievements to his credit in the battle for the mastery of the air over Britain and Western Europe.

Servant Faints In Car And Is Slightly Injured

Marie A. Martin, a domestic servant, employed at 4792 Victoria avenue, suffered painful, although not serious, injuries to face and head, when she fainted in a street car on Thursday night about 10:30 and fell to the floor.

The young woman was taken to the Western division of the Montreal General Hospital, where she was given the necessary medical attention. She was later reported to be recovering from her injuries.

The incident occurred near the intersection of Westmount and Lansdowne avenues, and traffic was suspended for a few minutes while the victim was being removed from the street car for transfer to the hospital.

Constable Lauzon, of the Westmount police, made the usual investigation into the circumstances surrounding the case.

E. P. FLINTOFT IS APPOINTED C.P.R. COUNSEL

Local Lawyer, Long Connected With Company, Is Also Named Vice-President

E. P. Flintoft, K.C., who has a service record of 34 years with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, has been named Vice-President and general counsel, effective July 1.

The appointment has been announced by D. C. Coleman, President of the Company.

Mr. Flintoft fills the vacancy created by the death of W. N. Tilley, K.C., who was consulting counsel for the Company.

Born in Sarnia, Ont., in 1879, he entered Toronto University in 1896 and graduated with an Arts degree in 1900. He studied law at Osgoode Hall, at Toronto, and after graduating from that institution in 1903, he gained further legal experience in the office of E. F. Johnston, K.C.

He practiced law for five years in the firm of McEldred and Flintoft, at Waterloo, Ont., and at the age of 29, he joined the Canadian Pacific as assistant to the solicitor in the Company's legal office in Montreal.

Four years later he was promoted to assistant solicitor, and in August 1914 he was advanced to the position of solicitor.

In 1917 he was appointed general solicitor at Montreal, and was made a King's Counsel in 1928.

His next promotion was in 1936, when he was appointed general counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, a position he has since held.

He has now been given the highest position in the Company's legal offices.

Mr. Flintoft married the former Felicia Howitt, of Guelph, Ont., and has three sons and one daughter. One son, Lt. James Flintoft, is at present on active service overseas with the Royal Canadian Artillery.

Mr. Flintoft resides at 4305 Montrose, Westmount.

Lost And Found At City Parks

A black wallet was lost in Westmount Park or the vicinity. Identification papers and credentials were enclosed. The wallet was lost by Private Shapiro of the Black Watch regiment now at the Westmount Athletic Grounds. Private Shapiro's regimental number is D-86935.

Colonel Colin K. Russell Makes Report To Ottawa

Colonel Colin K. Russell, after a rest period at his home, 641 Ayley Avenue, has reported to military authorities in Ottawa on his service with the Canadian Corps in Britain. Colonel Russell went overseas with the rank of Lieutenant-colonel with No. 1 Neurological Hospital which he was instrumental in forming. He was in charge of this unit until he was moved to London with the rank of colonel as neurologist with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps overseas.

GREEK KING VISITOR TO WESTMOUNT

King George II Makes Un-scheduled Tour to Mountain in Quest of Fresh Air

King George II of Greece was a visitor in informal fashion to Westmount on Sunday.

It happened this way. After lunch and before the press conference scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. His Majesty decided that he wanted some fresh air. With W. H. Measures, secretary of the Department of External Affairs at Ottawa, his escort during the Greek King's stay in Canada, and with J. Alderle Raymond, president of the Windsor Hotel, he stepped into a car carrying the blue and white flag of our ally Greece and drove off preceded by a motor-cycle escort.

The tour proceeded in happy-go-lucky fashion. First the car went to Westmount Mountain, circled Summit Drive and stopped for five minutes on the Lookout where Mr. Raymond pointed out Montreal's largest buildings, bridges and suburbs. Then the King, back in his car, drove off to Lafontaine Park and later to the meeting with pressmen.

ARMY TRUCK SMASHES INTO LAMP POST

Soldier Escapes Unscathed But Lights and Metal Standard Are Badly Damaged

Army Week was inaugurated in an unorthodox manner by the driver of a light army truck on Saturday evening. The unformed driver of the vehicle gave a startling demonstration of what damage can be caused by even the smallest of the motorized units of the armed forces.

The soldier was trying to back his baby truck to place it as close as possible to the curb, but miscalculated the space available. The rear end of the vehicle struck an ornamental standard lamp-post, on St. Catherine at Clarke.

The contact shook the metal post with such violence that all the lamps at the top, the reflectors, and the top ornaments, crashed to the pavement, some of the broken debris landing into the truck.

WOMAN IS HIT BY ARMY CAR ON MANOEUVRES

Mrs. Joseph Christie Suffers Broken Leg and Ribs as Driver Loses Control

Military authorities have set afoot an inquiry into an accident earlier this week in which Mrs. Joseph Christie, 48, of 223 Melville Avenue, suffered a broken leg and fractured ribs when she was knocked down by an army car near her home.

The car—a jeep—was on manoeuvres in connection with the celebration of Army Week when it struck a parked auto and swerved into the sidewalk at Melville Avenue where Mrs. Christie and a woman friend were engaged in conversation.

The victim was given first aid by soldiers who had been riding in the jeep and was taken to the Homoeopathic Hospital where she is reported to be making progress, although her stay in the institution will not be brief.

LAWS . . . violations

Traffic accidents are so common that most of us have become hardened to them. We take for granted that every week or so we will hear of some friend or acquaintance who has been hurt in an automobile accident. It's just part of the weekly news—like marriages, anniversaries and death from natural causes.

When we are driving ourselves we take for granted we will see some accidents now and then. We also take for granted (even though we may curse them) that we will meet a lot of careless drivers on the road, that we will see constant traffic violations by other motorists—and the most honest of us will admit to almost daily violations on our own part, particularly speed law violations.

In fact a lot of us feel sort of griggish about obeying speed laws. Not wanting to be stuck in the muds, we join the speeding throng driving merrily along the roads which are each year smeared with more blood than a battlefield.

It is estimated that 70 per cent of the traffic accidents in 1941 happened while a driver was violating a traffic law.

That fact points the way to what must be done and what eventually will be done to cut down the slaughter on the highways. The chief solution will be the real law enforcement with heavy penalties for violations.

If every driver knew that "a ticket" would be apt to mean the loss of his license, if he knew that reckless driving was subject to a jail term and that having a friend who knows the judge wouldn't help—that realization alone would be apt to cut down accidents 50 per cent.

No column like this, no scare pictures of accidents, no boring talks to schools or clubs on traffic accidents are going to help, much unless the law holds a big club over the head of the motorist. We ought to all be pretty well convinced of that. For we have all heard this accident story over and over again yet each year the death toll mounts.

The protection of life and property is one of the fundamental purposes of law and of law enforcement agencies. Most all of us may contribute at one time or another to the danger of the highways—but it seems to be up to our law-making bodies and our policemen to make us behave.

JUNK NEEDED

It is quite possible that this war may be won by the junkmen who collect old papers, rags, tin cans, broken tools and thread-bare tires.

This is a war that calls for more tons of materials of all kinds than all of the past wars put together. No matter how brave or daring our soldiers and sailors are, no matter what master plans may be formulated by our generals for crushing our enemy, the final outcome will depend upon what group of nations can produce fastest and what group has the most materials available for production.

In the back yards, cellars and scrap-baskets of America are enough materials to win major engagements on the battlefield.

When you consider that steel mills rely upon the return of scrap metal for about one-third of their raw materials, you can begin to realize the part which the junkman plays in this war.

Steel is just one of many war industries which need our waste materials. Paper, rags and rubber are almost as important as steel in our war program.

That's why the government has organized a bureau of industrial conservation which is primarily concerned with seeing to it that nothing is thrown away which could be shot at Hitler.

Every one of us should think of our scrap-baskets, our junk piles and our attics full of trash as mines of ammunition—raw material which can be magically turned into bullets, tanks, planes and ships.

We can give this material to the junkman. Or we can give it to the Salvation Army or any charitable organization which collects waste material. Or, if we wish, we can sell some of it to junk dealers.

There are only two don'ts:

1. Don't burn or destroy anything without first making sure it isn't of some use. And there is practically nothing which cannot be utilized.

2. Don't give your waste material to any junkman without first asking him what he does with it. Make sure that he doesn't destroy it, burn it or throw it on dumps. There are still plenty of collectors who haven't yet learned of the need for this material. You can help teach them.

VACATION CLUB STARTS BRISKLY

The Vacation Club got off to a good start last Monday morning with thirty-five members taking part in the program. The vacationers were glad to welcome ten new members including the Patterson brothers from Australia.

A grand time was had by all on the scavenger hunt last Monday and the trip to Coca-Cola on Tuesday afternoon was rated highly successful by the boys. During this warm weather the swimming pool proves to be a favorite with the boys and many activities have been planned to take place in the water.

Next week will be "Health Week" and a great deal of the program will be built around this theme. The program for next week is as follows: Monday, 9:30: General assembly with a talk on "Public Health"; 10:30: Handicrafts; 11:00: General swim; 2:00 p.m.: Educational trip; 5:00 p.m.: General assembly; Tuesday, 9:30: General assembly and swim; 11:00: Movies; 2:00 p.m.: Swimming meet; Wednesday, 9:30: General assembly; 10:30: Handicrafts; 11:00: General swim; 1:30 p.m.: Verduin swimming pool; 5:00: General swim; Thursday, 9:30: General assembly, health quiz; 10:30: Handicrafts; 11:00: General swim; 2:00 p.m.: Treasure hunt; 5:00 p.m.: General swim; Friday, July 10, 9:30: General assembly and swim; 11:00: Movies; 2:00: Educational Trip; 5:00: General swim; Saturday, July 11, 9:00: Westmount boys leave for Kamp Kanawana; 9:30: Baseball in the park; 11:00: General swim.

The largest payroll in Canada is that of the pulp and paper industry. Excluding woods operations, wages and salaries paid out total $6 million dollars annually.

Telephone Directories Help Bring "Evangeline" up to Date

About two hundred and twenty-five years ago, a wave of French settlers came to Louisiana directly from France. Fifty years later, a second wave arrived from Nova Scotia, then known as Acadia. Descendants of the first group are today known as Creoles; descendants of the second group, made famous by Longfellow's poem "Evangeline," are called Acadians or Cajuns.

Until recently, although there are 750,000 people of French descent and culture in southern Louisiana, the exact limits of French Louisiana had never been mapped, nor was it known just where the Acadians had settled. Then Dr. Peverly Meigs, professor at Chico State College, California, made a detailed study of one hundred and twenty telephone directories, comparing names with old lists of names compiled in Nova Scotia nearly two centuries ago.

Maps based on the study were shown by Mr. Meigs at the recent annual meeting of the Association of American Geographers in Baton Rouge. Telephone directories, he told the association, contain much valuable information for social geographers interested in "who lives where." A similar "ethno telephone" survey of cultural groups has been undertaken in California. From The Blue Bell, monthly magazine for the employees of Bell Telephone Co., and published at Montreal, W. A. MacLaren, Editor.

The Jewish group in America will disappear as a racial and national entity. Dr. Julian Morgenstern, president of Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, predicted in opening the academic year at that institution, but it will persist as a "distinctive Jewish religious group." "Though we may and must cease to play a distinctive role as Jews nationally, racially and culturally here in America," said Dr. Morgenstern, "it does not follow that we must disappear as Jews completely. We will persist as a distinctive Jewish religious group, strong in the measure that spiritual truth is vital and creative in Judaism, and that the Jewish way of life is good for all men, regardless of racial origin, to live by."

Because he believes Europe will be faced after the war with "the greatest catastrophe in history," Sir John Orr, famous British food authority, speaking at the International Conference on Science and the World Order in London, urged the Allied Governments to appoint an international committee at once to work out a "world-wide food policy based on human needs."

Child mortality in Paris has increased by 45 per cent since the Nazi occupation. It is estimated that British expenditure on the war this year will exceed $4,500 million—being between 40 and 50 per cent of her total national income. Canada is spending 40 per cent of our national income. It is estimated that in Washington, D.C., there are 200,000 motor cars and only 2,000 garages. Most motor cars are parked all night—and during the day when not in use—against the curb in front of the owner's house.

During October, a new Buddhist temple was dedicated in Seattle. It is an impressive brick building costing $100,000 and includes a gymnasium and social rooms. "The week-ends are great assets to those who have to work hard," observes a writer. Unfortunately, however, the Weather Clerk seems to regard them as liquid assets.

It may be something of a surprise to many to know that there is nothing strictly modern about the principle of the modern automatic machine. At least one automatic slot machine was in existence as far back as 200 B.C. This machine was in operation in Egypt and was used to disperse purifying water to worshippers in the temples. The charge for an invented by Ctesibus, a scientist supply of water was five drachmae. The apparatus, which was of the time, consisted of a phial of water surrounded by casing. The water was released by the opening of a valve which was, in turn, operated by a balance, this acting when the requisite weight of five drachmae was placed upon it. When the water had been dispensed the coins slipped from the balance into a receptacle at the back.

IN THE TRAIN

I used to find my regular train journeys to and from the office very dull until recently. It was bringing home Martha that first gave me the idea. Martha is our pet canary, and when I entered the train with the cage wrapped around with brown paper I caused such a silent sensation among my regular fellow-travellers that I felt it was up to me to provide them with a lot more simple entertainment of a similar nature.

I began with the family Bible. This is what may be described justly as a "time" — a Carnera among Bibles. I read a chapter from the New Testament going in to the city and some of the Psalms on the return journey in the evening, and was gratified to observe that most papers and magazines were laid aside.

The following day I had a brain wave. My wife had been grouching away about the necessity of having a certain sweeping brush matched exactly, which could only be done in the city. So I pleased her and continued my entertainment campaign by carrying that brush in the train, unwrapped and with the handle. And was I the cynosure of all eyes? I'll say I was!

This was nothing, however, to the evening when I opened a little portable typewriter, upon which I dashed off a short note and a couple of envelopes before my station was reached.

Next I tried a huge sheaf of newspapers, which I looked through with professional rapidity, marking a paragraph here and underlining a sentence there, and occasionally taking a note or two.

A minute edition of Shakespeare's works provided me with material for my next stunt. I read this in the train one morning with the aid of a large magnifying glass, and had the satisfaction of noting that I was being closely watched.

I would have liked to survey the passing landscape through field-glasses but I was afraid of being caught for a fifth-columnist so I contented myself with making a sketch of the roof of the train on a large drawing-board. As a sort of grand finale I put two or three novels in each of my pockets, and carried an overcoat stuffed in the same way. I could see that all eyes were on the mysterious bulges in my apparel, and two or three times I made as if to take something from a pocket but stopped, as though I had changed my mind. The suspense around me was terrific, but I left it unsatisfied.

Hollywood Gossip

Ginger Drops Glamour For Different Role

Ginger Rogers, who insists on changing her type of movie character every few pictures, discarded all Hollywood glamour for sheer realism in her picture, "Roxie Hart," the 20th Century-Fox comedy at the York until Friday night which opens Sunday at the Westmount United Theatre.

Imagine Ginger as a tawdry, two-bit dancer—and she isn't afraid to look like one—who pops gum like a veteran and wears enough mascara and rouge for ten girls! It's an entirely new and different role for this versatile actress, and also one which led to unexpected difficulties.

locked her in and told her that she had to kick on the door and scream to get out. Wellman wanted realism, and Ginger Rogers was not one to let her director down.

Has Real Fights

The star put her entire heart into the kicking and kept beating on the door when waam!—her foot and leg came right through a panel which splintered. And her leg was caught so tightly that carpenters had to saw parts of the panel away so that she could extricate the leg.

After hiding in the closet from the police, who suspect her of shooting her lover, she is cornered by a newspaper man, played by Lynne Overman. He tries to make her confess to the crime and when Ginger makes an attempt to get away, the two get into a tussle that's one of the many highlights of the exciting film.

"ROXIE HART"

"A YANK ON THE BURMA ROAD"

One of the most realistic machine gun battles ever depicted on the screen forms a dramatic highlight of "A Yank on the Burma Road," which opens Sunday at the Monkland United Theatre.

Textile Industry Rushes Production for War Needs

The extent to which Quebec industry has thrown itself into the war effort is indicated by some comparative figures released here today by Dominion Textile Company Limited.

The information shows that the cotton textile industry of Quebec, which produces nearly three-quarters of Canada's cotton goods, is 11 times ahead of its 1914-18 war production records. The mills have turned most of their facilities to the manufacture of direct war materials or essential articles which have an indirect bearing on the war. This fact is all the more inspiring when it is considered that the cotton industry, even in wartime, must maintain a certain percentage of its civilian production to clothe the nation and provide specific textile necessities of life.

At present it is estimated that 150 million yards of direct war products and other essential materials are turned out by the Quebec industry in a year's time. Among these items are anti-gas cloth, aircraft fabric, camouflage cloth and nettings, tire fabrics for army equipment, gun covers, parachute strapping yarn, webbing for rifle and machine marine, bandage cloth and scores of other products including, of course, uniform cloths and linings.

Two other figures are of particular interest. Dominion Textile reports that its plant employees now earn 28 per cent more per hour than at the outbreak of war, and that the company pays 5.4 times as much in taxes as the total paid in dividends to its several thousand shareholders.

YORK SHOWING 'MARTIN EDEN'

From Tahiti to Singapore, from Frisco to Cadiz, Martin Eden's flashing flets and indomitable courage made him legendary, according to the lusty, brawling, tempestuous novel by Jack London, himself a redoubtable and gigantic figure in American letters. And now, from the studios of Columbia Pictures, comes a challenging and superbly entertaining motion picture based upon London's greatest novel, a motion picture so packed with punch, so eloquent and so stirring as to move it immediately into the "hit" class.

"Adventures of Martin Eden," which is now playing at the York United Theatre until Friday night, is a triumph as much for its producers and director as it is for its cast, and, overshadowing them all, is the trenchant triumphant picture of London himself.

Glenn Ford, the young and ever-brightening star, appears to perfection in the title role, modelling his characterization after London's Martin Eden, which, in turn, was modelled after London himself. Lover, adventurer, fighter against social injustice, poet and brawler, Ford's Martin Eden emerges as big as life, as lusty and blood-stirring and dynamic as a storm at sea.

Claire Trevor, Evelyn Keyes, Stuart Erwin and the others in the sensational case are equally fitted to their difficult tasks, that of creating with understanding and sympathy men and women from divergent worlds, who can speak and understand the same language, a language of bare knuckles and indomitable courage, of glowing beauty and flaming romance.

"TO THE SHORES OF TRIPOLI"

A Marine's life is not an easy one—but if there's a lovely lass like Maureen O'Hara around it's much more fun. That's what John Payne finds in the thrilling new Technicolor hit "To the Shores of Tripoli," which opens Saturday at the York United Theatre.

Sidney Salkow directed the film, from a screen play by W. L. River. Both share in the round-robin of applause which must be accorded to every person who contributed however slightly, in this splendid filming of a literary masterpiece.

GOOD FOR FISHERMEN
Anglers in Jasper National Park seeking rainbow, cutthroat, brown and lake trout will find a dozen fine fishing lakes within three miles of the town of Jasper, a division point on the Canadian National Railways. Eastern speckled trout have been successfully introduced into the Maligne waters and the fisherman has his choice of Maligne Lake, Maligne River or Beaver Lake.

MYSTERY FILM AT MONKLAND

Dramatizing the efficiency of scientific crime detection, "Kid Glove Killer" now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Saturday night. Featuring Van Heflin, Marsha Hunt and Leo Bowman, the picture combines the excitement of a man hunt with an unusual triangular romance.

Rapidly rising to the front as one of Hollywood's most expert performers, Van Heflin again breathes excitement and reality into a role, as the police chemist. He has the sure touch and telling force that makes for excitement in screen portrayals. The attractive Miss Hunt is another player whose work can always be depended on and she gives an engaging and forthright performance as the chemist's assistant. Bowman is also effective in one of his few appearances in a villainous characterization.

LILY PONS STAR OF MUSIC FILM COMING TO KENT

Opera Singer Goes Popular In Big Way With Novelty Songs and Comic Situations

Hailed as the most brilliant and delightful picture in her screen career, Lily Pons' new RKO Radio vehicle, "Hitting A New High," will open next Saturday at the Kent Theatre with Jack Oakie co-starring, and a novel story-plot to win new admirers among the film-going public.

Seven songs, ranging from operatic arias through classic "novelty" tunes to sparkling modern numbers, are sung by the shapely diva, who is supported by such favorites as Eric Blore, Edward Everett Horton, John Howard, Eduardo Cinnelli and Luis Alberni. Altogether, "Hitting A New High" is rated as the funniest as well as the most melodic of the famous soprano's screen vehicles.

These numbers include three operatic arias "The Nightingale" from Parisatsy, "I Am Titania" from Mignon, and the "Mad Song" from Lucia di Lammermoor; a novelty classic, "Musical Snuff Box," sung to a music-box accompaniment, and three modern tunes, "Let's Give Love Another Chance," "I Hit A New High" and "This Never Happened Before," written by Jimmie McHugh and Harold Adamson.

Elaborate night clubs in Paris and New York, a huge Long Island estate, a big private yacht, a radio station, a Parisian hotel and an African jungle are among the

LOVE IN BLOOM

Traditional brides, this wartime year, are wearing unpretentious but lovely blooms in fresh arrangements. This one has carnations at her temples and a spray bouquet of carnations and magnolia leaves. The bridegroom who carries on a long distance courtship learns the bride's preference well in advance of the wedding, and wires flowers to coincide with his arrival.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED

BY GERALDINE BRIETZKE

To quote Lil' Abner's Advice: "When you're mummy and pappy and you pay taxes, you're Uncle Sam."

It is help in Uncle Sam to beat the Axis; well, indirectly, we are helping Uncle Sam and all the other United Nations, and we'll be helping even more in September, as everyone knows. This makes us think deep thoughts about certain clothes we turned our noses up at last summer with the idea that their usefulness was finished and that we could start over again this year. So we can, on the same clothes.

Take that pale gold crepe dress of yours. It's no longer a pleasure to wear. It makes you feel grim. Yet the material is sound and the cut classical. So what could you do to bring it back to life? New belt and buttons answer that question — and they need not even be bought. How about that lovely piece of printed silk that is too small to do much with — you could braid a pretty belt out of that, and cover buttons to match.

We bought some lovely white gloves in the United States in the happier years. They were made of a sort of woven silk cord, and were delicately embroidered with a sprinkling of rosebuds in pink and blue. If your white gloves are intact as to fingers but slightly tired and rust marked elsewhere, you might try the rosebuds.

You must have a scrap of white material somewhere that would be perfect for a small Dutch hat. White wings spreading on each side of the face are very pretty; and think of the pleasure of washing and ironing your hat, instead of gingerly guarding it in a paper bag, and watching with anxious eyes the encroaching grime on brim and crown as summer marches on. You could buy a pattern anywhere for a few cents, and make the hat in a night or two; and lace hat and white accessories.

Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Desmond, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of turquoise blue crepe, with a black hat and matching accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of Talisman roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where peonies and daisies formed the decorations, and later the bridal couple left on a motor trip through Ontario, the bride wearing a red-tinged dress of tan and white sheer crepe under a beige coat with honey-colored fox fur trimming. She wore matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. Richard Reed, grandmother of the bride, of Quincy, Mass.

Specialist Brings Beauty To Lower-Income Articles

West Hollywood, Calif. "Our homes, more than ever, must be the acme of achievement, especially if the demands of war are going to make us stay home more and more," believes Hilda Matsner Swarthe, a career woman who has specialized in bringing art and beauty into merchandise for lower and middle incomes, according to an article in the Christian Science Monitor.

Her whole career, which began years ago when she reconstructed some antique jewelry, almost seems to have been designed just for advising how to make the most of a person's home in wartime.

"If you shop around, you can find more and more fabrics, furniture, and decorations in low-price ranges for your home. Merchants and manufacturers are learning that the American public will buy the best in good taste."

Mrs. Swarthe ought to know. As a style expert for one of the world's largest department stores, R. H. Macy's of New York, she spent seven years in the forefront of those trying to bring good taste into all price ranges.

Specialist Since 1923
Since 1923 she has devoted her time to applying color, line, and form to all types of merchandise. Mass production need be no bar to beauty at bargain prices, she has found: "If you pour beauty into a machine, beauty will come out."

As the artistic "alter ego" for many a merchant and manufacturer she has proved in good black ink that the public's taste should never be underestimated. "Too many manufacturers thought art had no place in making volume sales," she recalls. Now they are all realizing that a demand for low prices doesn't mean a demand for ugliness.

"Preoccupation with war must not cause any of us to neglect the arts," she reminds everyone. She is now devoting full time to an organization, Raymond & Raymond, which is nationally known for its facsimiles of fine paintings.

At her studio in the fashionable Sunset Boulevard shopping "strip" on the edge of Beverly Hills, Mrs. Swarthe displays reproductions of the masters, as a case in point that the best is none too good for the average American home.

Sells Reproductions
Fine paintings have been regarded as out of reach of most incomes, but if even professionals can't tell an inexpensive copy from a priceless masterpiece, why shouldn't the $1,000-a-year clerk have his little apartment set off with a reproduction or two, she asks. In appearance one of the smartest in the shopping centre, her shop specializes in reproductions from $1 to $24 each. Almost everyone can afford something within this price range, she thinks.

Before taking charge of the western galleries for her organization of publishers and dealers, Mrs. Swarthe had specialized in styling for public interiors. After seven years at Macy's, stressing home-furnishings, she became a free-lance consultant in many branches of home-furnishings design, associating with the Lighter Company and the Dennison Manufacturing Company.

Then she founded, with Beryl S. Austrian, the firm of Intramural, Inc., specializing in planned interiors for apartment-house lobbies, reception rooms, exhibit halls, professional offices, and shops.

DANCING TEACHERS HOME FOR SUMMER

The Misses Betty and Ruth Meynell, of Sherbrooke street west, have returned home for the summer from Charlottetown, P.E.I., after having completed a successful season at their dance studio there. The Meynell sisters are well known in Montreal as dancers and dance instructors, having had a studio here for several years.

They established a school of dancing in Charlottetown last autumn, and have just finished their season with a springtime revue, which was sponsored by the Kinsmen's Club and was under the distinguished patronage of His Honor Lieutenant Governor Lapage of Prince Edward Island, and Mrs. Lapage, and His Worship R. B. Holman, of Charlottetown. The proceeds of this revue were donated towards supplying milk for British children.

The Misses Meynell will reopen their Charlottetown studio in the fall.

Fish Recommended For Hot Weather Menus

Fresh fish, because it is an easily digested as well as highly nutritious food, can scarcely appear too often on the hot weather menu.

Halibut and cod are now in season from both east and west coasts, and haddock from the east coast will soon be plentiful. Take advantage of local varieties, — trout, whitefish, pickerel, perch, and so on. Your dealer will tell you the days these are available each week.

"Cook fish at high temperature to preserve the food-rich juices, but don't overcook," advises Miss Hazel Freeman, lecturer-demonstrator, Department of Fisheries. Allow ten minutes per inch thickness at 450°F. Some varieties may not require even this long. After six minutes test with a knife. If the fish has lost its watery appearance, it's ready for the table.

SINGS SOLO
Master John G. Wakely, of 1953 Greene avenue, sang the solo, "Love One Another," at the wedding of Miss M. Frayn and Mr. Richard S. Eaton, which took place recently at the Church of the Advent.

MENTIONED ON RADIO
"V-Bundles" is averaging three tons of clothing a week, and recently it was mentioned in "Front Line Family," the serial story run by the British Broadcasting Company.

FAIR EARNS $500
Approximately $500 was earned for the Westmount Women's Club ambulance fund by the strawberry social and variety fair held in Westmount Park recently by the club, it is announced.

CHARM AND BEAUTY MARK VACATION-LAND

Laurentians Draw Muniton Workers

The Laurentian season is now under way and practically all the resort hotels are open with their spacious lawns, tennis courts and bathing beaches, sprinkled with vacationists from all parts of the country.

The Laurentians, now in the war's third year, are probably a vacation district as much warmed as a centre of activity. Folks, really tired, are taking advantage of the odd day or two now and then to relax in the famous playground.

It is admitted on all sides that relaxation is necessary, especially since Treasury Secretary Morgenthau of the United States said that: "Every person should have a little fun."

The younger generation, which always had plans made for the summer vacation, are most reasonable in their demands upon the requirements of a resort hotel in the district. They too feel the importance of being on the job; nevertheless, vacations are so staggered out this year, that practically everyone will be cared for in pleasant surroundings. Of course, vacation time is really a problem this year more than ever. Quite a handicap is experienced by the employers in so arranging their schedules that their employees receive a certain amount of relaxation. Many businesses really suffer by the disturbance of their staffs. There is no longer the spare hand to be called upon when needed. In fact there is so much doubling up at the present time that it is almost impossible to allow a department to be without one of its clerks without feeling the pressure upon the other employees who have to replace them.

The public not really engaged in active war work at the present time, really does require a rest of two or three weeks from the strain that has been confronted during the past few months. Time is also telling on many of executives who are braving the storm and taxing "themselves to the limit. The steady grind of their offices, coupled with war interests and activities, leaves one wondering how they can stand up under the strain and only goes to confirm the opinion that even they require a week or two in the mountains and it is safe to conclude that the Laurentians, this year, will act as host to a very large number of them.

Eastern Townships Still Mecca for Holiday-Makers

"You can't stop vacationers from going to their favourite holiday places," say officials of the Tourist Bureau of the Province of Quebec. Before gasoline and tire shortages, the Eastern Townships tore by automobile was unsurpassed for popularity. This year, sightseers will go mainly by train. Fishermen, ranging from battle with Lake Memphremagog salmon, will find their way as they have done for many years past.

For vacationists who like to take their fishing mixed with a generous round of other holiday activities, sailing, golfing, swimming, and tennis, the Eastern Townships have much to offer, say tourist officials.

For those who like the unruffled life, and choose food from an elaborate menu, there are hotels in Magog, Sherbrooke and North Hatley, gathering-places of many of Quebec's elite. And for others, sensitive to atmosphere, there are quiet hamlets tucked away in the bays of the bigger lakes.

The Eastern Townships boast many scenic lakes ideally located in the midst of rolling, fertile country. Lake Massawippi, Brome Lake, Lake Memphremagog are a few of this district's favorite fishing zones and they present exciting studies for landscape artists, and natural shots for camera fans.

So in spite of wartime restrictions the Eastern Townships is still Canada's colourful vacation-land.

DODGERS AGAIN LEAD LEAGUE WITH TWO CONSECUTIVE WINS IN SENIOR SOFTBALL LOOP

Last Thursday's heavy rain cut the number of games played in the Westmount Municipal Senior Softball League down to seven but John Hutchinson's Dodgers made the best of the situation when they captured the only two they were engaged in to jump back into the League leadership. The Dodgers defeated the Wireless School 12-7 and then created a bit of an upset on Friday evening when they beat the Royals 12-8. The No. 3 Training Command and the Radiolators won their only encounters of the week, the Command team taking the No. 12 Depot squad into camp 6-3 and the Radiolators beat the St. Hubert Flying Squadron 12-8.

The Royals, No. 12 Depot and St. Hubert teams also won games. The Royals beat the Wireless School 6-4, the No. 12 Depot won the best game of the week when they edged the Swans out 3-2 and the St. Hubert nine defeated the Swans 14-12.

The Dodgers found very little trouble with Parker's offering when they defeated the Wireless School 12-7 last Wednesday as no less than 19 hits were scored off the Alrmen's hurler, Noel Romney, Don Durno, Tom Brennan, John O'Connell and Emmett Miller were again the big guns of the batting attack. Dougie Maher, Ozzie Daltell and Smiley Meronek picked up two hits apiece for the Royals.

Butler's four hits and George Scully's third home-run of the season were the main factors of the No. 3 Training Command's 6-3 win over the No. 12 Depot team. Bradley on the mound for the No. 12 outfit settled down after the second inning and limited the winners to one run and struck out ten men. Whitey

B. S. Burland Wins Putting Contest

B. S. Burland of 4226 Montrose Avenue captured the putting tournament which was held in King George Park last Friday evening. Continued bad weather on the Thursday evenings forced the cancellation of the tournament from the regular date but the event was held on the following evening although the number of participants were very few.

Burland carded a 52 for the 36 holes to win the event.

counted one more in the third inning when Barin singled and later scored. The Swans threatened in the fourth when hits by Jim Haggarty, Norm Harris and Bill Booth accounted for two runs but they lost their last hope of winning when Jackie Coleman was caught trying to steal home in the last half of the final inning.

The St. Hubert Flying Squadron won the last game of the week when they outslugged the Swans to win 14-12. Home-runs by Bulmer and Seivigny for the winners meant the difference between a win and a loss. Johnnie Eaves and Bob Brennan led the Swans at bat with three hits each.

Jack Keen of the No. 3 Command team retained his place at the head of the batting list during the past week. Keen has an average of .526. Other members of the "Big Ten" hitters are Don Durno, of the Dodgers, with .513; Frank Cashin and Paul Gulliver, of the Radiolators, with .509; Lloyd Daniels, of the Royals, .488; Tom Brennan, of the Dodgers, .473; Rourke, of the Radiolators, .471; Mel Read, of the Dodgers, .467; Earl Kelly, of the Swans, .433, and John O'Connell, of the Dodgers, .433.

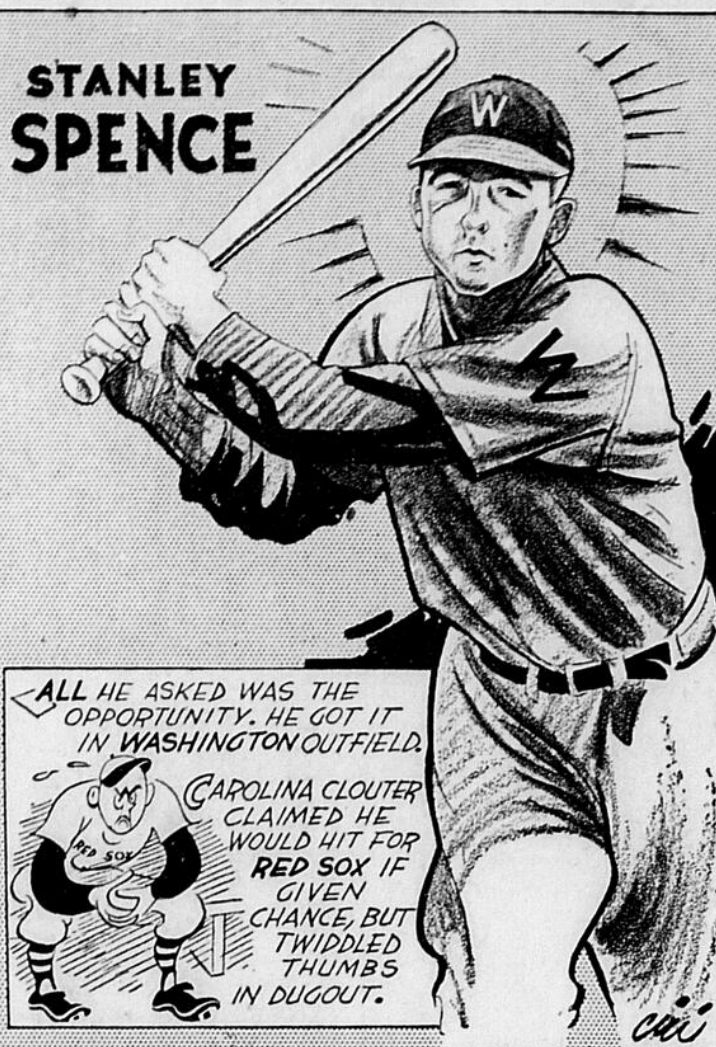

Jack Keen, of the No. 3 Command team, has made the most hits, 20, while Noel Romney, of the Dodgers, has scored the most runs, 18. Don Durno, of the Dodgers, has batted out the most doubles, 7, while Baril, of the No. 12 Depot team, leads in home-runs with 5.

The Dodgers still hold a one point lead over the rest of the teams in the league race. The No. 3 Training Command and the Royals are next in line while the Wireless School, Swans, No. 12 Depot Radiolators and St. Hubert follow in that order.

No games were played in the league last night, two are scheduled for this evening. The St. Hubert Flying Squadron hook up with the No. 3 Training Command while the No. 12 Depot meet the Radiolators in an important game. On Friday night the Royals and Dodgers play in another important fixture.

An entire Rover Sea Scout crew mans one of the leading ships of a British minesweeping flotilla in home waters. They share in a record of mines swept from their base, and have carried out a number of special operations.

TENNIS TEST WILL EMBODY NOVEL IDEAS

The entry list for a novel tournament has been posted at the municipal courts, the event is a mixed doubles one, but no prizes will be awarded to the winners as the total proceeds of the entry fees will be donated to the Queen's Canadian Fund. Another new idea will be in the pairing off of the partners, instead of the time honoured custom of choosing your own partner, all the names of the players will be placed in a hat and the partners will be decided upon in this way. In the event there are not enough men or women to make enough partners, the members of the sex with the lowest numbers will be allowed to play again after they have been eliminated in the first round with those who have received byes. In this way every person who enters the tournament will be assured of a partner and also making a contribution towards a good cause.

Mrs. Lowe won the Ladies Open Singles title last Friday evening when she defeated Mrs. McNaughton 12-10, 6-2 in a hard fought match. A large crowd was treated to some fine tennis in the first set of the match and the interest was very keen. Mrs. Lowe who also won the

SWIMMING MEET IS HELD AT 'Y'

A very successful swimming meet was held at the Westmount "Y" last Friday afternoon. Over thirty boys spent an enjoyable period in the pool.

Marvin Greenbaum took top honors in the Junior section with 9 points. He was closely followed by Jim Nesbit who obtained 8 points. A new member to the "Y", John Todd, captured first place in the prep section with 11 points. Nelson Creamer took second place with 10 points to his credit.

With the opening of the Vacation Club last Monday, many more enjoyable periods in the swimming pool are anticipated. Many boys have already learned to swim and congratulations are due to Eric McFadden who is the first event last year defeated Mrs. Andree in the semi-finals while Mrs. McNaughton eliminated Mrs. Becker.

The Men's Open Singles now underway on the courts is progressing favourably and indications point to the possibility of the event being concluded by next week.

Five men have advanced to the fourth round of the tournament. Gordon Ross, G. R. Minty, J. G. Ross, John Peirson and J. MacGillivray are the men in the fourth round.

CRICKET CUP TIE REMAINS UNFINISHED

Owing to the first round of the Davidson Cup being played on Saturday, ordinary league cricket matches remained in abeyance.

Verdun, by eliminating Wanderers I, which presently are holders, assured that the trophy will change hands. Wanderers II had an easy victory over St. Paul's, and West Indians scrambled to victory over the R.C.A.F. by three runs.

The remaining tie was between Maisonneuve and Westmount and was unfinished owing to the heavy scoring which prevailed.

Maisonneuve won the toss against Westmount but decided to put their opponents in, a decision which gave the former three hours fielding, while 243 runs were being made, as a result of consistent scoring.

Maisonneuve, as the result of two hours batting, had made 83 for the loss of only one wicket when play ceased owing to darkness.

According to the regulations of the league, unfinished cup ties take precedence over other matches and must be played off not later than the following Saturday.

John Gattelus' Bruins captured the Bantam baseball title last Thursday afternoon when they defeated the Bombers 21-10. These two teams had been tied in the league race and had one game more to play which was against each other. The game was postponed until the examinations were over and finally took place on Thursday.

Home-runs were in the bullish trend in this game with no less than seven of them being clouted. Frank Wickham of the Bruins led the way in this matter with three of them. Others were hit by Palmer, John Gattelus of the Bruins and Bob Lunny and Bill Losito of the Bombers.

Frank Wickham led the winners at bat with four hits, closely followed by Palmer and Gattelus with three each. Bob Lunny and Brown of the Bombers also had three hits each.

John Dorois on the mound for the winners struck out six men and walked five.

SOME IMPORTANT POINTS ABOUT YOUR RATION CARD

1. A Ration Card is required for each individual person, regardless of age.
2. Each numbered coupon is good for a two weeks' ration of 1 lb. of sugar.
3. Coupon No. 1 is good July 1st; coupon No. 2, July 13th; coupon No. 3, July 27th; coupon No. 4, August 10th; coupon No. 5, August 24th.
4. Coupons cannot be used before the specified dates, but may be used any time afterwards.
5. Only coupons 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 can be used for sugar buying.
6. Do not use coupons A, B, C, D and E, unless instructions are issued by The Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Do not detach them.
7. Coupons must be detached in the presence of your retailer. He will not accept loose, detached coupons.
8. If you do the buying for your home, or for a number of people, you may purchase sugar for them by taking their ration cards with you to the store.
9. If you order by telephone, coupons must be detached in the presence of, or by the delivery man.
10. Retailers may hold customers' ration cards and detach coupons for them in cases where customers are not ordinarily at home to take delivery; or in the case of summer cottagers having deliveries made by mail or express.
11. If you go visiting for a week or more, you should take your ration card with you for your host to use.
12. If you are a regular boarder in a house, you should turn your ration card over to your landlady so she may secure your sugar allowance.

14. You do not require coupons for sugar that you consume in restaurants or public eating places. These places are rationed and can only serve limited quantities to their customers.
15. Misuse of ration coupons is illegal and offenders are liable to prosecution.
16. Report to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office (a) if you lose your card, (b) if you change your name or address.
17. If additional ration cards are needed for new babies, or new Canadian residents, write to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office.
