SMASH ENEMY RESISTANCE SOUTH OF LIRI RIVER

Fighting French Force Pursuing Remnants Of 71st Nazi Division

British and Indian Troops of the 8th Army Repulse Series of Nazi Counter-Attacks — Some 3,000 Prisoners Taken Since Big Offensive Started.

By NOLAND NORGAARD, Associated Press Staff Writer. Naples, May 16.—(AP)—Fighting French troops poured through a breach in the Gustav line on the South edge of the Liri valley today in pursuit of disorganized remnants of the German seventy-first division whose retreat was endangering the flank of the Nazi line blocking British troops at the valley's mouth.

(The German radio said violent fighting was ranging against strong Allied forces heavily reinforced all along the line from Cassino to the sea, and that German troops had been forced to fall back in night retreats, especially in the coastal hills which make up two-thirds of the fighting area.)

Reviewing the five-day campaign, a member of the staff of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Allied Commander-in-Chief in Italy, said Allied casualties had been less than expected.

The Liri valley affords a strongly-guarded corridor North toward Rome, and at its mouth fast British armor was massing for a big battle in the shadow of Cassino.

Although the French were plunging ahead, Gen. Alexander's staff member emphasized the Adolf Hitler line which backs up the broken Gustav Line had not yet been reached.

Allied troops had smashed forward three to eight miles since they opened their full-scale spring offensive Thursday night.

American troops have overrun Spigno in the Lower Garigliano Valley. The French in a violent attack have taken Monte Fammera, two and a half miles West of captured Ansonia and seven miles North of the Tyrrhenian Seacoast. They threw back disorganized elements of the German 71st Division.

The bag of prisoners taken since the Allied offensive started last Thursday night rose to 3,000 and official reports said today that the fighting French virtually had destroyed the German 71st Division.

Public Trial For Interned Persons Advocated In Commons By Coldwell

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL, Canadian Press Staff Writer. Ottawa, May 16.—(AP)—Suggestions on how the Federal Government should handle persons interned under the Defence of Canada Regulations were heard in the Commons yesterday during study of the Justice Department's estimates. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said he believed that whenever possible persons interned under the regulations should be given a public trial. "I have a good deal of sympathy with the point of view that we may have put into internment camps people who ought not to have been there, and we may have let out of internment camps persons who ought to be still in there," said Mr. Coldwell.

He said that men such as Alois Schneider, St. Walburg, Sask., and Joseph Farr and John Lorrimer, both of Toronto, had been released from internment without "adequate explanation or without even an adequate trial."

Fred Rose (Lab-Prog., Montreal-Cartier) said that simply because a man promised to behave if released from internment was not a sufficient reason to release him. The Government was being "soft" toward native Fascists and "I cannot agree that we can afford to be soft," he said.

Map shows where Allied 5th and 8th Armies in Italy have opened an all-out offensive along an 85-mile front from Cassino to the Tyrrhenian Sea. It is believed to be the first of co-ordinated blows from the West, South and East planned to squeeze Germany out of the war.

COMMONWEALTH PARENT MAY BE APPOINTED NEW SERVICE HEAD

Joint Statement Will Be Issued Affirming General Principles To Be Followed in Post-War International Relations.

London, May 16.—(C.P. Cable)—Commonwealth Prime Ministers met today in concluding sessions of their first wartime conference amid general satisfaction with the prolonged and frank exchange of views and information.

While the Prime Ministers met in the Cabinet Room at 10 Downing Street, officials were busy arranging for publication of a joint statement expected to affirm the general principles which the Commonwealth Governments hope to see followed in post-war international relations.

It will be released simultaneously in the five capitals Wednesday.

Date of the departure of the Prime Ministers is secret but Prime Minister Mackenzie King is anxious not to delay leaving beyond the time necessary to visit some of the Canadian forces and keep a few other engagements.

The last stages of the conference were devoted to intra-Commonwealth matters such as consultation, machinery, education and defence but it was understood the only difficult topic was consultation. This developed when Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia brought up his proposal for an Empire Secretariat to handle exchange of information among various parts of the Commonwealth.

While the other Prime Ministers were in agreement on the proposal, the matter was left open for future consideration by mutual agreement among the leaders to consult their governments further on it.

Montreal Man Rumored as Possible New Director of Provincial Town Planning Service, Quebec Official Announces.

Quebec, May 16.—(AP)—Aime Parent, member of the Executive Committee of Montreal, probably will be appointed Director of the Provincial Town Planning Service, it was said here today.

Creation of the new service was authorized by the Legislature recently and a bill to that effect is now awaiting Royal assent.

The "unofficial" announcement was made by Emile Morin, Provincial Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, at a sitting of the two-day convention of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association of the United States and Canada, Quebec branch.

The convention, which opened last night, will end tomorrow. Last night, delegates were guests of the Department of Municipal Affairs at a dinner tendered by Hon. Oscar Droinin, Minister of the Department.

The Legislature, by a law that will be sanctioned in a few days, authorized the organization of a provincial town planning service, through the Department of Municipal Affairs. Mr. Morin said, "Believing that the law would be sanctioned earlier, I had suggested to Mr. Lacombe, the chairman of the 'Intermunicipal' committee on your programme the Director of the new service."

"Although the appointment has not been made yet, Mr. Parent has agreed to speak to you on town planning. He possesses all the qualifications to become director of the service."

"The post-war period will create problems of technical order that will be solved only if we are prepared," Mr. Morin continued, "and if we have at our disposal experts able to help us by their advice and direction. That is the aim of the town planning service."

The guest speaker urged all Quebec municipalities to join the M. F. O. A. saying that "your suggestions will be listened to more carefully by both provincial and federal authorities if you are grouped together."

He also announced that in order to help Quebec municipalities to join the Association, the Department of Municipal Affairs had decided to pay half the fees which are $10 for towns with a population less than 10,000.

He expressed the hope that the future would encourage municipalities to join and that membership of the Association next year will reach 150 and not 96 as this year. Today, delegates also heard from P. A. Senecal, Assistant Director of Finance of the City of Montreal, who spoke of the "Internal Control in a Municipality."

That was followed by a general discussion on the problem relative to pension funds for municipal employees. J. R. French, Manager and Director of Finance of the City of Verdun, presided.

MAX BRAND KILLED ON ITALIAN FRONT

Naples, May 16.—(AP)—Frederick Faust, war correspondent for Harper's Magazine and better known under the pen name of Max Brand, was killed in action Thursday night on the Lower Garigliano sector, it was disclosed today.

Senator R. H. Pope Dies At Cookshire

Member Of Prominent E. T. Family Closes Career At Age Of 86 Years; Was Appointed To Senate In 1911

Prominent in the affairs of the Eastern Townships and member of many organizations that profited greatly from his zeal and keen participation, Senator Rufus Henry Pope, member of one of the most widely known families in this section of the Province, died today at his home in Cookshire at the age of 86 years.

Appointed Senator for Bedford District on November 17, 1911, Senator Pope was first elected to the House of Commons for Compton by acclamation in 1889, and has contributed much to his constituency through his activities in Canada's lawmaking body as well as in the other realms of Canadian life in which he has been active.

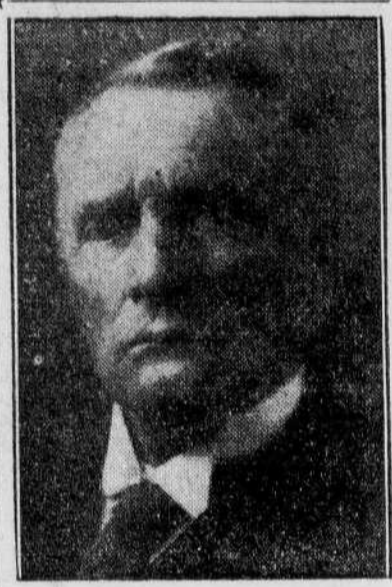

Sensor Pope, who was engaged in farming and stock raising during the latter years, was leader of many projects having the welfare of his community, his constituency and his country as their aim, was a member of the Advisory Board of the British Empire Financial Corporation as well as a director of several other mining and commercial companies, was President of the Eastern Townships Conservative Association in 1896, and was the last surviving charter member of the St. George's Club.

He was predeceased by his wife, Lucy, daughter of Major C. Noble, of Compton, ten years ago, and leaves three sons, Desmond Ives, John Henry and Colin Cecil, and one daughter, Gladys, Mrs. Neville Lindsay, of Calgary. He also leaves several grandchildren, including Miss Doreen Gilday of New York, Mrs. Patrick Morse of Cookshire, William and Colin Pope, both taken prisoners of war at Hong Kong, Lt. Col. Thomas Gilday, in Italy, Lt. Rufus Gilday, on loan to the Royal Navy, and John Henry Pope, also with the Canadian Army in Italy.

The family from whom Senator Pope is descended came to the Eastern Townships from New England where the Pops appeared as an early date.

The founder of the family in the Eastern Townships was Colonel John Pope, a native of Massachusetts, who was born near Boston, who left his New England home as a young man and settled in the Township of Eaton on a large tract of land which was then a wilderness. Here he built a log home, on the site of which now stands an imposing brick dwelling house, The Hon. John Henry Pope, father of Senator Pope, was born in what is now Cookshire on the Pope homestead and before the days of Confederation was elected to the Legislature, in which he represented Compton County.

From such British Empire Loyalist stock did Senator Pope descend. He was educated at Cookshire Academy and the Sherbrooke High School and deciding upon a career of stock raising and farming settled on the home farm in Cookshire.

This property was known as the "East View Stock Farm," and here for some years, he made a specialty of Polled Angus or Aberdeen cattle, and to him must go the credit for introducing this breed of cattle into America.

He owned a tract of more than 800 acres of land, some of which contained growths of valuable timber. He devoted much of his time to the cultivation of the farm and the raising of Jersey cattle and ranked among those men of the Eastern Townships who have been instrumental in elevating the standards of agricultural science.

Not content with a life on the farm alone, Senator Pope, like his father, entered public life and upon the death of his father in 1889 was chosen as his successor to represent Compton County at Ottawa. In 1891 he was re-elected over his opponent, Seth P. Leel, of Montreal, and was elected in 1896 and 1903.

Though he was a candidate for the same seat in 1904 and 1908 he met with defeat and then, after Sir Robert Borden was elected in 1911, Mr. Pope was summoned to the Senate of Canada, and he filled that post with ability and credit, representing Bedford District.

Widely known, like his father before him, and respected by all who knew him, Mr. Pope served well his fellow men and their institutions.

He was said to know Canada "from the shores of North Sydney to British Columbia," and was familiar with the history of all these parts. A man of no pretensions, modest and

Chinese Capture Strategic Points In Further Advance

Receive Continuous Support of American Air Force in China's First Big Offensive in Seven Years of War—Developing Pincers Movement Against Japanese-Occupied Section of Burma Road.

Chungking, May 16.—(AP)—Chinese troops have captured several strategic points in a further advance west of the Salween River in the new offensive to open a path to India, the Chinese High Command announced today.

The Chinese Expeditionary Force is receiving the continuous support of the American Air Force, the commander said.

Sweeping forward in China's first offensive in seven years of war, the forces of "100 victories," Marshal Wei Li-Huang advanced through important Mamien Pass, 40 miles Northeast of the Japanese base of Tengchung North of the Burma Road and reached the Shwela River.

Farther South the Chinese virtually encircled a considerable number of Japanese in the vicinity of Tatungzu, 29 miles North-east of Tengchung.

The Chinese also occupied Hongmoshi, 12 miles East of Tengchung, and captured the ruins of Pingtia, 24 miles Southwest of the Burma road town of Lunging, one of the principal Japanese bases in China's southwestern Province of Yunnan.

Tengchung is approximately 110 air-line miles Southeast of the positions held by Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese and American units who are pushing the two-lane Ledo highway from India toward Myitkya.

Information furnished by the Chinese High Command suggested that the Chinese were developing a pincers movement against the Japanese-occupied section of the Burma Road. Dispatches from the front said the Chinese already were at work reconstructing ruined portions of the Burma Road to link it with the Ledo Road and establish a land connection with the outside world.

Considering the difficulty, territory where the troops must fight their way along trails up 11,000-foot mountains, the five-day-old offensive apparently was going extremely well.

In the Tatungzu sector Japanese casualties outnumbered the Chinese more than two to one, it was said.

SHARP PROTEST IS RAISED OVER GUENETTE CASE

Townpeople Send Resolution to Military and Provincial Authorities Protesting "Vexatious Methods" Used by Police.

St. Lambert, Que., May 15.—(AP)—The fatal shooting in this Lewis County village on May 7 of 24-year-old Georges Guenette, while fleeing from R.C.M.P. officers, brought a resolution of protest over the week-end from the Town Council against "vexatious methods used by certain members of police."

Copies of the resolution were sent to Justice Minister Louis St. Laurent; Brig. Edmund Blais, officer commanding, Military District No. 5; Premier Adélard Godbout and Provincial Opposition Leader Maurice Duplessis.

Text of the resolution follows: "It is resolved that the Council, while declaring itself respectful of laws, wants to protest with energy against the reprehensible way in which one of our fellow-citizens, Georges Guenette, a family supporter, was killed last Sunday May 7th, without having received the benefits of his religion."

"It is also resolved that this Council declares itself ready to collaborate in respect of laws, but asks authorities to prevent repetition of events so regrettable and considers that the vexatious methods used by certain members of the police are contrary to the laws of peaceful citizens and to the inviolability of their homes."

Last Monday a coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death after investigating the shooting of Guenette, for whom R.C.M.P. officers had been searching for 15 months on a charge of assaulting a constable who was arresting a draft-dodger.

Jap Thrust Is Checked At Daletme

Southeast Asia Communique Also Announces Japanese Attack West of Labawa in Kaladon Valley Was Also Repulsed.

Kandy, Ceylon, May 16.—(AP)—A new Japanese thrust closer to the borders of India 220 miles Southwest of Imphal was reported today which said an attack was repulsed ten miles West of Daletme.

Daletme is only eleven miles East of the India frontier in the Kaladon River Valley and is about fifty miles Northeast of Buthe-daung, the high-water point of the British spring advance against Akayab on the Bay of Bengal coast.

British authorities recently announced the abandonment of Buthe-daung for more defensible positions following a Japanese flanking thrust in the vicinity of Paletwa, thirty-five miles to the Northeast.

The Southeast Asia communique said a Japanese attack West of Labawa in the Kaladon Valley also was repulsed.

British tanks, mopping up in the Kohima area in Northeast India, have destroyed fifteen enemy bunkers and killed 150 of their Japanese defenders, a communique said.

In addition to the casualties inflicted by the armored units in wiping out these strongpoints the bodies of 300 enemy dead have been counted in the battle area.

War Situation Seen At Glance

By The Canadian Press. Italy—Last organized German resistance South of Liri river smashed; advances of three to eight miles recorded; French throw back disorganized elements of German 71st division; 8th Army Rapidly bridgehead nearly two miles deep.

Russia—Russians report air blows at German sea and land transportation and local activities on two sectors of battlefield.

Hospital Struck As German Planes Assault England's Southern Coast

By W. W. HERCHER, Associated Press Staff Writer. London, May 16.—(AP)—The German Air Force, striking with possibly 300 planes in its own counter-offensive, attacked the Southern Coast of England last night for the second consecutive night and the Berlin Radio claimed today the assault was concentrated on Portsmouth.

Defensive forces shot down five planes as the Nazis came over in two waves shortly after midnight. Four other coastal towns felt the weight of enemy bombs as the raiders spread through the dark sky. A hospital was hit, causing a number of casualties.

Allied operations from British bases last night were confined to attacks by R.A.F. Mosquito planes against the industrial city of Ludwigshafen, objectives in Northwest Germany, and an enemy airfield in France. Four aircraft failed to return from these and mine laying missions. R.C.A.F. Halifaxes laid mine last night but the only Canadian losses reported were two fighters in operations yesterday.

Ludwigshafen was last bombed on the night of May 10 by Mosquitoes, which have now made seven night penetrations over Germany this month.

After a week of the most intensive bombardment in preparation for the impending invasion, Allied aerial activity from British bases has been on a greatly reduced scale for the last sixty hours. It appeared to be a grim pause for more new crushing blows.

The German operation against the South Coast seemed in about the same strength as Sunday night's raid on South and Southwest England. In that foray the Nazis lost 15 planes.

The Nazi loss of only five planes last night was attributed to the fact the Germans hit Channel targets and did not cross England to the West Coast, thus avoiding the longer exposure to British defenses.

Describing the attack on Portsmouth, the German radio claimed large quantities of high explosives and incendiaries were dropped "on most important targets in this coastal town." In spite of a "very fierce enemy defence" the attack was carried out "with good effect," the Germans claimed.

New evidence of the Germans' mounting tension and fear of an uprising of conquered peoples when the Allies begin the Western invasion was an order broadcast by the German High Command.

MUCH WORK IS STILL FACING QUEBEC HOUSE

Six Government Bills Await Discussion, with Some Others Expected to Be Made Public Shortly.

Quebec, May 16.—The Provincial Legislature enters its 18th week of sittings today, with plenty of work still awaiting members before prorogation of the 21st Legislature's final session.

The Legislative Council, Provincial Upper House, has adjourned until May 25, indicating that the session will not end until several days after that date.

Last week the Assembly continued study of the 1944-45 estimates but there is still plenty of estimates to be passed before the entire budget is adopted. In addition, there are six government bills awaiting discussion, with a few others expected to be made public shortly.

Measures still to get second reading is Premier Godbout's bill providing for the increase of electoral districts from 86 to 91; and five measures dealing with social welfare and child protection.

Provincial Secretary is expected to bring in a measure dealing with uniform school books and their distribution free of charge.

NAZI SHIPPING ASSAULTED BY SOVIET PLANES

Russians Claim German Rail Installations and Supply Depots Blasted—Three Transports Also Reported Destroyed.

London, May 16.—Soviet air blows at German sea and land transportation and local activity on two sectors of the otherwise German battle front, were reported by the Russian High Command today.

A broadcast communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor here, said Russian airmen caught a convoy of 41 ships in the Norwegian port of Kirkenes and sank three transports totalling 19,000 tons, a self-propelled barge, an auxiliary vessel and a patrol cutter.

Three Nazi transports were set on fire, and one of them was beached, the communique added. Two other transports and an escort vessel were reported damaged.

Nazi rail concentrations in the vicinity of Lwow in pre-war Poland were bombed and fires and explosions were started among German military trains and supply depots at Ravaruskaya, Strij, Dvinsk, Ukhno and Dobrozin, the High Command said.

The Russians said the Germans had pressed back Soviet formations and captured a small hill at Stanislawow, but added the situation was restored later with about 100 German slain.

A German bridgehead on the left bank of the Lower Dnepr was liquidated, the supplement said, in a Russian counter-attack that resulted in about a battalion of Nazis being either killed or drowned.

The Berlin radio's reference to action on the Lower Dnepr said that Soviet troops had succeeded in penetrating Nazi positions "with a few tanks and infantry" between Grigoriopol and Dubossary Northwest of Chisinau.

The Soviet communique said that Partisan Scouts in the Western districts of Kalinin province set fire to an enemy train.

Italian origin, he again was interned. An advisory committee recommended his release in February, 1944, and he was allowed to go. The Government had made no suggestion to the committee.

Mr. St. Laurent told the House that the Government has been considering what action it should take against persons who are British subjects by naturalization and who have acted in a treasonable manner during the war.

He was answering J. C. Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre) who suggested that the naturalization papers of such persons should be cancelled and that such persons should be sent to the country they supported during the war.

Maxime Raymond (B.P., Beauharnois-Laprairie) suggested that Camille Houde, former Mayor of Montreal, who was interned in 1940 after advising the people not to comply with National Mobilization Regulations, should have been given a public trial before internment.

The Justice Minister said Mr. Houde was not going to be treated any differently than anyone else. The former mayor had made another request for release from internment and an advisory committee soon would review his case again.

A year ago, Mr. Houde had refused to sign a statement saying he would not interfere with the war effort and an advisory committee had recommended his continued internment, said Mr. St. Laurent.

During discussions on the lifting of the ban on the Toronto's Witness, Col. Defence Minister Ralston said that an army inquiry at Winnipeg had found that members of the set called for military training had been mistreated, but he had ordered a further inquiry by Maj.-Gen. J. P. Mackenzie, Inspector-General for Western Canada.

Col. Ralston made his statement after Rev. E. G. Hansell (S.C., MacLeod) and Hon. R. B. Hanson, (P.C., York-Sunbury) had quoted from affidavits sworn to by friends of men in detention barracks who said they had been beaten.

Mr. Hansell quoted from an affidavit signed by Elva F. Patzer, Winnipeg, who said her brother, Gordon M. Morrow, told her he had been beaten, had been "pushed around" while a pack was fastened to his back with a rope around his throat and believed he had suffered a broken rib or ribs.

Mr. Hanson quoted from an affidavit by Stephen Klyniuk, Whytby, who visited Adam Remando at the detention barracks in Winnipeg. The affidavit said Remando had been beaten and placed under an ice cold shower for 20 minutes and that later a gun was tied to his arm for several days.

Earlier a question by Dr. H. A. Bruce (P.C., Toronto Parkdale) set off a sharp exchange between Government and Progressive Conservative members. Dr. Bruce asked if Walter Winchell, United States radio commentator and columnist, had voluntarily paid a generous tribute to the war effort of Canadians.

Resources Minister Crerar said Mr. Winchell had not been paid, and added it was "unfortunate" the question was asked. Mr. Winchell had voluntarily paid a generous tribute to the war effort of Canadians.

Mr. Hanson interjected to the Government, not the Canadian people.

Col. Ralston said he would have expected to "hang, his head in shame at the question."

At the start of the sitting, Mr. Crerar informed the House that under Order-in-Council passed May 5th, Chinese nationals may pass through Canada in continuous journey to an outside point as they come into Canada for a temporary visit. The order would also allow persons registered under the Chinese immigration Act to make more than one visit abroad.

Previous Chinese nationals were dealt with under special legislation. Mr. Crerar said that negotiations for a new Chinese immigration treaty were continuing.

ers against Piombino and Ancona Harbors, rail bridges at Orvieto and Pontedera, as well as industrial objectives at Portoferraio.

Light bombers and fighters continued the assault in the battle area against supply dumps, gun positions, bridges, troop concentrations and motor transport.

After winning San Giorgio the French captured Cresta Santa Lucia and Leforeto to the Southwest and in the area between they seized the villages of Casale Annunziata and Castel Nuovo, cutting the road from the Northwest of Castel Nuovo.

Gen. Alphonse Juin's troops captured the commander of the 194th German Grenadier Regiment with his whole headquarters, including both battalion commanders.

Allied naval forces gave their support to the ground offensive for the fourth successive day yesterday, bombarding heavy concentrations of anti-aircraft and long-range artillery in the hills around Fermana and Itri behind the fighting front where the 5th Army is inching forward.

A U.S. cruiser escorted by two destroyers carried out a bombardment May 14, reporting hits on two ammunition dumps in the target area, the Allied communique disclosed.

Sharp tank artillery duels as well as steady infantry fighting roared around the British-Indian bridgehead over the Rapido River, which officially was reported to be now nearly two miles deep in the direction of Pignataro, enemy strong point in the centre of the mouth of the Liri Valley.

The so-called "Liri Appendix," where the Liri and Rapido rivers joined, was mopped up and counter-attacks driven off. In the Northern part of the Valley the enemy was reported covering Highway 6—the road to Rome—with tanks plus many small units, some of which were hastily scraped together, as well as elements of the 1st Parachute Division.

No Opposition Reported as Allies Advance Towards Last Jap Strongholds—Planes Continue to Batter Enemy Airbases.

Advanced Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, May 16.—Australian troops today were reported advancing unopposed toward the last Japanese strongholds on the North-east shoulder of New Guinea as Allied airmen bombed the enemy's battered airbases at the other end of the Hugelishand with relentless fury.

A Headquarters spokesman said the Australians had advanced some forty miles from captured Alexishafen to the vicinity of Bunabun Harbor—halfway to the Japanese airbase at Hansa Bay. Bunabun is sixteen miles beyond Cape Croisilles, which was reached last week.

Naval units supported the advance by bombarding Karkar Island, where the remnants of a Jap force are falling back towards Wewak.

Karkar has been strongly fortified by the Japs and used as a base for supply lines to Madang, Alexishafen and other New Guinea coast centres.

The results of the naval bombardment may leave the Jap forces trapped North of Madang, with only the coastal route leading to Wewak.

Royal Australian Air Force bombers, attacking the Boram airstrip at Wewak, have possibly destroyed the Japs' last hopes of escape by air.

For several days, Australian pilots reported desperate Jap efforts to lay down new strips for heavy transports at Boram. The R.A.A.F. waited until the strips were nearly completed, then turned on a devastating attack, wiping them out.

Heavy bombers dropped 220 tons of bombs Sunday on Wake Island and coastal targets nearby in a mighty follow-up assault to the record 394-ton pounding the day before. Headquarters said damage was extensive at this sector 120 miles Northwest of Hollandia.

Heavy and medium bombers also carried attacks on the Schouten Islands, 280 miles Northwest of Hollandia, into the 11th successive day with night and day strikes which left fires.

and Philippe Henriot of the French Propaganda Ministry said in a broadcast: "The last breathing space before invasion has arrived... We do not know where the main Allied blow will fall."

The invasion air preparation was carried forward yesterday by about 250 American heavy bombers and a force of fighters and fighter-bombers which hit objectives in France. Light bombers attacked an airfield near the hard-hit Creil railroad yards near Paris. Mediums bombed a railroad yard.

In these operations, as well as widespread R.A.F. operations the night before, not one bomber was lost. One escort plane failed to return.

French warriors, thirsty for revenge against the Germans, pursued battered and disorganized remnants of the enemy Northwestward and Westward from the Upper Garigliano Valley, capturing the important town of San Giorgio immediately South of the Liri River.

This swift thrust put the Allies in a position to flank the whole German defense system Cassino and facing the 8th Army's Rapido bridgehead.

Americans climaxed their attacks from the Lower Garigliano to the base of the lofty Arunci mountains by capturing Spigno.

The Germans counter-attacked farther South and a fight raged for possession of hill 108, with the enemy holding its Western slopes.

Official reports said: "The Germans holding high ground West of the 5th Army front now are dependent on tough mountain trails for their lines of communication but enemy demolitions made establishment of our lines of communication likewise difficult."

Ronald Colman and Rosalind Russell in "Under Two Flags," which begins tomorrow at the New Premier Theatre.

Ovid's famous story, "Under two Flags," which begins tomorrow at the Premier, a tremendous best-seller since it first appeared, is a drama of the French Foreign Legion. The romantic aspects of the story have been described as "burning as the desert sands" while the spectacular elements are almost as measureless as the vast Sahara itself. The climax of the film comes in a lonely desert outpost, where Colman and McLaglen, with hatred in their hearts for each other over the women in their lives, Claudette Colbert and Rosalind Russell, find themselves united in a desperate battle against overwhelming odds.

In "The Rains Came," Louis Bromfield has written perhaps the outstanding novel of his career. His fascinating characters come vividly to life with Tyrone Power as Major Ramsay Saffi, Myrna Loy as the glamorous Lady Esketh, and George Brent as the world-weary Tom Ransome.

The other attraction is "Secrets of a Co-ed," starring Tina Thayer, in which she plays the role of a co-ed, wilful young daughter of a well known criminal attorney, Otto Kruger, and tells how her escapades bring tragedy into both their lives.

Fewer People Producing More Farm Products, Says Hon. J. G. Gardiner

Agriculture differs from some other industries in that it follows the same pursuits in peace as in war. This is due to the fact that farmers are engaged in producing food and clothing which is as necessary at one time as at another. If more food is required in wartime it is either because people are better fed or there is more waste.

This was the gist of an address made last night by the Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, as he spoke before a meeting of the Sherbrooke Junior Board of Trade at the Social Club. His subject was on agriculture before and after the war.

Mr. Gardiner described the production of Canadian farmers thus: "Farmers in Canada are producers in food rather than fibre for clothing, although this country does produce considerable flax, fibre and wool."

Confining his remarks to farming as relative to food production, he said one could give a historical review of the development of Canadian farming "and relate your experiences in this section of Quebec to that development."

The veteran Minister of Agriculture then added: "We are in a very middle period which in the space of not more than thirty years will determine whether we have learned anything from past history, which can help us solve the problems of agriculture."

The problems of agriculture have always been associated with production and distribution, he continued. The causes of these problems and their solutions have never been more completely illustrated than during the past fifteen years, and the next fifteen years will probably prove whether they will be beneficial.

Mr. Gardiner dealt with the cause of the ten years of depression, saying that no one who has followed the history of the fifteen years preceding the war can doubt that it was the determination of the nations of Central Europe to continue the war which caused the depression.

"In trying to render themselves self-sustaining, they first denied others access to their country and then compelled their own people to provide for themselves irrespective of cost," he said. This idea, the speaker maintained applied to food production and affected every supply of food producing country in the world and "none more so than Canada."

Listing causes resulting in unemployment, the Minister stated that it was the policy which for the time being brought about a condition in countries like Germany and Italy, where there was little unemployment. This is the policy, he maintained, always employed by nations preparing for war, because "it strengthens them and weakens their peace-loving victims."

"Some examined the conditions within the countries in question and found their system of government or economic systems different from ours and concluded that there was no need to search for further solutions and began advocating a change in ours," Mr. Gardiner continued. "But after almost five years of war we can look back over ten years of economic warfare and preparation by our enemies for a fighting war and five years of actual waging of war while we (the Allied Nations)

V.O.N. BENEFIT CONCERT WAS WELL ATTENDED

Members of Schubert Club Presented Enjoyable Recital in City Hall Last Evening.

Inspired by the benevolent gesture of the Schubert Music Club in presenting its annual benefit concert for the V.O.N., all members very happily co-operated in sparing no effort to make this popular event not only a success financially, but presented an altogether pleasing and varied programme.

Seldom has the City Hall Auditorium, which has recently been redecorated, looked more inviting, the simple but artistic stage decorations, tall standards and low baskets filled with graceful branches of cherry blooms and golden cowslips, lending a springtime atmosphere and forming an ideal setting for the many colorful evening gowns worn by the artists, who so generously gave "of their best" to help the V.O.N., and en passant, reflected pride in their own "Club."

Mrs. Norman Flint acted as cashier, while Miss Nora Leonard, the Club's programme convener, and Mrs. Wright Gibson, were in charge of their department.

Two charming young ladies, Mrs. Gerald Spafford and Miss Phyllis Armstrong, acted most efficiently as ushers, and Mrs. H. S. Armstrong, President, acted informally as official hostess and supervisor.

The programme throughout was well arranged and varied, each and every number nobly contributing its share towards the completion of a truly delightful whole, for which the large audience expressed its appreciation in hearty applause.

The artists individually need no introduction, for all are popular favorites within the large circle of Sherbrooke's music lovers, but as there are exceptions to every rule a few comments on the ensemble "Canada Has Company," words and music by Mrs. L. E. Codere, will meet with kindly response in the hearts of all who once more paid loving tribute to the composer last evening.

During the entire ensemble, two Air Cadets from the 67th Squadron, stood at attention, standing on either side of John Codere who capably acted as director, while congratulations were later showered on Mrs. Marie Doherty, who sang the solo part.

The violin solos by Horace Boux, with Adrien Leblanc acting as his accompanist, were quite outstanding, while the piano duet, "Rondo Capriccioso, Mendelssohn, played on two pianos by Mrs. L. E. Codere and Mrs. Irene Olivier Leveque, was a most satisfactory even the most fastidious of critics.

There were no encores and generally this rule is appreciated, for at times it is abused, and on the whole the efficient arrangements for the Club's annual V.O.N. benefit were heartily approved by the patrons who so much enjoyed this annual musical treat last evening.

The programme follows: Piano Duo—(a) Minuet, Sonata in G Major (J. Christian Bach), (b) Torch Dance, Henry Eighth (Edward German), Josephine D. Codere, Irene Olivier Leveque.

Soprano Solos—(a) "En Sourdine" (Debussy), (b) "L'Enfant et les Sortilèges" (Ravel), (c) "Notre Amour" (Faure), Kathleen Shea.

Baritone Solos—(a) "Within These Sacred Bowers" (Mozart) (From the Magic Flute); (b) "I Would I Were a King" (Sullivan), Roy Whitehead.

Soprano Solos—(a) "The Sleep That Plits on Baby's Eyes" (Carpentier); (b) "Music I Heard With You" (Hageman); (c) "Estrallita" (Arr. Frank LaForge), Kathleen Shea.

Piano Duo—"Rondo Capriccioso," Mendelssohn, Josephine D. Codere, Irene Olivier Leveque.

Ensemble—"Canada Has Company," words and music by Josephine D. Codere, written on the occasion of the visit of the R.A.F. to Canada and dedicated to the Air Forces. Prologue—Solo. Chorus. Soloist: Margaret Doherty.

Guests assisting in Chorus—Messrs. J. Lenguan, A. L. Parker, K. Doherty, R. Choquette, T. Harding, A. Bergeron, C. Jameson. Choral Director, John Codere.

Extension Of Des Forges Street Approved At Session Of Council

After a rather delayed start, the Sherbrooke Aldermen cut through their agenda in short order last evening, cleaned up a pile of committee reports and gave approval to a couple of by-laws, the first of which provided for the customary grants to various local organizations and the second provided for amendments to the traffic regulations to prohibit parking of vehicles with their left side to the curb.

Highlighting the committee reports were proposals for the purchase of the land needed for the ultimate extension of DesForges street in the West Ward from Drummond to Short streets. This street at the present time extends from the Canadian Ingersoll Rand offices to Drummond street. The approximate cost of the land required will be three thousand dollars.

The meter readers of the gas and electric departments will be provided with new uniforms, the order for five such being placed with J. A. Laverdiere and for five others with Alexandre Trudeau, while ten uniform caps were ordered from Leo Laliberte.

A group of East Sherbrooke Residents applied for permission to incorporate a social club but the Aldermen refused to grant their approval until more information had been received as to the directors and purposes of the organization.

The meeting was presided over by Pro-Mayor Guy Bryant, Mayor Genest being absent in Quebec to attend a municipal finance convention.

There were 8015 saloons in New York City before prohibition.

DEATH REMOVES SUTTON COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hazzard, Sutton, died within a period of less than twenty-four hours of one another. They had been married for more than forty years.

Mrs. Hazzard, the former Fannie Adelia Porter, aged eighty-one, died on Sunday after a brief illness, and her husband, who was seventy-eight, passed away yesterday. The shock resulting from her death was believed responsible for his passing away.

Mrs. Hazzard was buried yesterday, and Mr. Hazzard, a farmer all his life, will be interred this afternoon in Fairmount Cemetery, Sutton, in a grave adjacent to that of his wife.

Surviving Mr. and Mrs. Hazzard are three children, two sons and a daughter, Gordon and Harry Hazzard, and Miss Carrie Hazzard, all of Sutton.

O God, Who art the author of peace and lover of concord, defend us Thy humble servants in all assaults of our enemies.

THE UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER FORMULA

Despite the fact that the strategy of Adolf Hitler and his aides in recent months has been to fight a defensive war of attrition in hope that his enemies would grow weary and give him favorable peace terms, there has been no indication that Allied countries have changed their mind on unconditional surrender. This was clearly expressed by Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State, who declared he had heard of no change in the United States policy of adhering to the unconditional surrender formula.

It is true that Britain, the United States and Russia long ago told the Axis satellites in almost so many words that terms would be made easier for them if they abandoned Hitler, and toward the weekend the Big Three came out flatly with a pre-invasion ultimatum to Finland, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary that they must abandon Germany now or suffer "disastrous consequences."

There have been a good deal of confusion grown out of a misinterpretation of the term "unconditional surrender." It sounds tough, but it does not in itself carry any horrible penalties. It merely means that the victors will decide the peace terms and are not prepared to bargain. The terms imposed may be very lenient or very harsh, but it is the victors and not the vanquished who say which it shall be.

The question of the little satellites is, relatively speaking, not a matter of moment. However, the consensus of Allied statesmen, military men and professional observers is that the Allies will have failed in their chief war aims if they do not exact unconditional surrender from Germany and Japan.

The United Nations have sworn that Nazism and Prussian militarism shall be utterly destroyed in Germany and that militarism shall be pulled up by the roots in Japan. We have sworn that the territories stolen by both countries will be returned to their rightful owners. We have sworn to render both Germany and Japan utterly impotent militarily. We have sworn to punish war guilt. How could this be achieved unless unconditional surrender were exacted—unless we dictated the terms? Obviously it would be impossible. Thousands of men who already have made the great sacrifice, and other thousands who at this moment are girding themselves for the bloody beaches of D-day, would have fought for a will-o'-the-wisp.

The Germans are great for synthetic productions. The thing we have got to watch out for is that they do not put over a synthetic peace.

Still, while the Allies propose to purge Germany and Japan, and the rest of them so far as they deserve, we have no intention of reverting to barbarism to do it. It is the Allied purpose to help the defeated nations to become useful citizens in a decent world.

THE LENGTH OF THE STRUGGLE

As we await the break of D-Day it is natural that one of the burning questions should be how long it will take the Allied war machine, after it has hit top speed, to grind out this final phase of the European war and administer the coup de grace to Hitler. The first point we must log down in examining this undoubtedly is that we are facing a terrible struggle. Having acknowledged this, it is legitimate to note that many observers incline to the theory that once the invading forces have overcome the terrible initial hazards and have established themselves, the Hitlerites will be about ready to accept the inevitable and surrender. This idea is based on the belief that the Nazis will quit short of allowing the fight to be carried into German territory. Speculation over the prospects of Nazi surrender would be dangerous if we did not at the same time recognize the certainty that the invasion of Western Europe is going to produce one of the bloodiest battles of history. The only thing which will force a collapse of the enemy will be conviction that there is absolutely no hope of gaining more favorable terms by hanging on.

The Prussian militarists, who are among the world's best soldiers, know that they already are beaten. They are making a long-shot gamble that by protracting the conflict they can weaken Allied determination and thereby obtain better terms. The Hitlerites are going to fight against invasion with everything they have—and that represents tremendous striking power, although it is far from what it once was. And we should not treat lightly the German claim that they have devastating secret weapons, for they may have.

Hitler's army is generally figured to total about three million, which is a formidable force. However, the fact remains that the German Reichswehr, big as it is, just is not strong enough to cope with the Allied armies. The Russians alone may have at least twice as many men under arms, apart from the vast forces of the Western Allies. Thus, despite Hitler's great strength, he no longer is able to defend adequately the entire perimeter of his European fortress. It should be remembered that he not only is encircled by superior land forces, but that he also is ringed by air and sea. Once the Allied invasion armies are smashing at Hitler's lines in France in co-operation with the Russians on the East and the Allies in Italy and the Balkans, he will be unable to protect all points at once.

THE INDIANS AID THE WAR EFFORT

When a survey is made of the war effort of the various groups which go to make up the Canadian people, the Indian, the original inhabitant of this country, need feel no shame for the record which his people have made in the fight for freedom. Many a Western Canada regiment boasts of a substantial portion of braves who have laid aside their war paint for khaki, while Eastern units also have their share of the Redmen. But the aborigines of this country have not confined their support to the fighting services alone, and many are holding down jobs in vital industries. On the financial side, the figures released by the Indian Affairs Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources at Ottawa, contributions of record total nearly $25,000. Victory bonds and war savings certificates are well maintained among all Indians and numerous outright donations marked for "the war effort" have been reported. Of the war services, the Red Cross is the most popular, but the Wings for Britain Fund and Overseas war relief organizations are favored by Indians in the West.

Compilations made to mid-April show that the Red Cross has benefited to the extent of $10,529, of which the Six Nations Band at Brantford contributed $5,200 and the Blackfoot Band of Alberta $3,050. Other war organizations to which contributions have been made are the Canadian War Services, $1,779.20; Wings for Britain Fund, $2,310.31; Canadian Aid to Russia, $610.84; London Orphans Fund, $432.30; Queen's Canadian Fund, $650; British War Victims Fund, $3,001; Salvation Army, $100; and Catholic Refugee Children, $69.

Purchases of war savings certificates have so far reached $5,241 and outright gifts to the war effort total $2,282.51.

Funds for these various contributions come from many sources. In some cases it represents interest earned on funds held in trust for them but in most cases it is the result of initiative and hard work on the part of the Indians. Some of the proceeds were used to send parcels and cigarettes to the 2,383 Indians in the armed services but the greater part went to organized funds.

GETTING "TOUGH" WITH NEUTRALS

St. Thomas Times-Journal
The definition of neutrality in war does not seem to be very clear. Sweden fires at Allied planes that are sometimes forced off their course when attacked by German fighter planes. She says she is compelled to fire at them to protect her neutral status. Armed planes must not fly over Sweden even if they have no intention of dropping bombs on Swedish soil. At the same time Sweden sells war materials to Germany with which to kill Allied soldiers, and even when specifically asked to refrain from exporting a specific article like ball-bearings she says "No." Perhaps if Sweden did not sell ball-bearings to Germany, Nazi planes would be so few that they could not drive Allied planes over the Swedish stratosphere. That would be one way of safeguarding Sweden's neutrality, but there would be no money in it for Sweden.
Other countries are in the same boat. We note with satisfaction that the United States has listed thirty-eight firms in Erie which American business people must stop having dealings with because they do not have business relations with Germany that are helping the enemy.
The United States and all the Allies can afford to be "tough" in regard to certain countries. There have been signs recently that they have initiated a new policy and they will probably expand it. They have military power in their hands now.
But there was a time, a few years ago, that the United States and Great Britain were in the position of "neutrals" and helped one big, brutal country try to crush a weak, peaceful country, but any suggestion that they were doing anything legally or morally wrong met with pious protestations from the American and British departments of State.
That was when these two countries exported millions of tons of scrap iron and millions of barrels of oil, and other war supplies to Japan which were used to wage war against China. It was no use China protesting. China had no military power to impose her demands on the countries that were helping her enemies. Fortunately for China, Japan attacked the United States, and Britain declared war against Japan, and there was no more scrap iron and oil for the Japs.
All that these facts convey is that paper agreements do not amount to much. The best way to enforce neutrality is to have the big guns and the big battalions on your side.

SPAIN BETS ON ALLIES

Fort William Times Journal
The Spanish-American agreement just announced is one of the most significant indications of the waning power of the Axis. If there is a world that owes a debt to Hitler for benefits conferred it is the Franco regime in Spain. That the Franco regime now is ready to sign an agreement with the United States is quite conclusive proof that Franco has noted in what direction the straws are blowing on the war terrains of the world.
Spain has agreed to a number of provisions of a drastic nature and that would not have been considered while there was any prospect of Hitler emerging as the master of the world or even if he had a ghost of a chance to have his finger in the international pie in the post-war era. It is evident that Franco thinks Hitler's goose is cooked. Franco is ready to say of Hitler as Hamlet said of Yorick, "Alas, poor Hitler, I knew him well."
There can be no doubt that Spain is in sore need of petroleum and, in order to obtain a renewal of shipments from America, Franco has not hesitated to thumb his nose at the Axis chief who was a powerful factor in establishing the regime that now rules Spain. Spain will expel Axis agents from Tangier and from the Spanish mainland. Spain will release interned Italian ships to the Allies. Spanish forces have been withdrawn from the Axis armies that are opposing the Russians on

SEEKS INFORMATION WITH TWO-CLUB BID

Second of a series of four articles on the Weiss slam convention.

The opening bid of two clubs on the hand shown today seeks definite information, as outlined in yesterday's article. North's correct response, holding an ace but not the ace or king of trump, is to bid the ace suit, i.e., two hearts. This response is made regardless of the length of the ace suit; it merely shows the ace of hearts and denies a higher ranking ace.

Now South would like to find out whether North holds the king of spades or the ace of diamonds, hence his bid of two spades. If North held the ace of diamonds, he would respond three diamonds; but not holding that ace, he shows his king

EDUCATIONALIST MEETING HELD AT RICHMOND

Various Protestant School and Teachers' Organizations Sponsor Educational Conference Held in Richmond.

Richmond, May 16.—Educationalists from all parts of the Province gathered in Richmond to attend an Educational Conference sponsored by the various organizations of Protestant Teachers and Protestant School Boards of the Province. All general sessions were open to the public, but for the ordinary citizen probably the most interesting feature was an illustrated lecture delivered by Harry D. Spencer, Principal of Public Schools, Spencer, N.Y. The lecture is part of a programme drawn up by the American Council of Education in conjunction with the office for the "Co-ordination of Inter-American Affairs." This organization carries on similar informative programmes in some of the South American countries.

The speaker was introduced by D. C. Munroe, Principal of the Orms-town High School. The subject of his informal talk was "Reviewing the Programme of the Community School," and in keeping with the title, Mr. Spencer, with the aid of an ample collection of well-chosen photographs and a projecting lantern, brought out a very vivid picture of the school life at Spencer, a village in New York State South of Ithaca, near the Pennsylvania border, in the centre of a rural community, that is gradually changing from dairy farming to poultry keeping. For some time past, families of Finnish blood have been moving in, and by their sagacity and their industrious and thrifty habits, these hardy people are usually able to rebuild any old broken down farms that they secure.

Similar to the modern tendency in our Canadian provinces, the smaller schools in New York State are being absorbed into large central units, where instruction in Music, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Farming and Forestry is given along with the teaching of Reading, Writing and Arithmetic, and as little Latin as possible. The programme for the courses in Music and Home Economics does not appear to differ essentially from the Canadian methods, but the Industrial Arts department seems to have a more elaborate equipment than that met with in our best schools. Pupils specialize in Agriculture and carry out practical work in the care, feeding and handling of farm stock, while the Forestry pupils secured a hundred acre woodlot, in which to carry on practical studies in lumbering and forest preservation and related subjects.

The attendance at Spencer School is about 250 and 70 per cent of the pupils are transported by some six buses, which are owned and operated by the school. The capacity of these buses ranges from 15 to 55 persons, and in a comparison of average transportation costs per pupil, Spencer School paid out one and one-half times as much per pupil for transportation under the contract system, as Spencer School paid out to operate their own buses.

With such a wide variety of subjects being taught, many of these subjects are necessarily elective or alternate and 18 teachers are required to complete the staff. For the same reasons, the attendance in a given class varies from four or five in some of the Latin classes upwards to an average of ten, with some popular subjects running much higher.

An adequate system for medical and dental care of pupils operates in the school and includes a nurse. A special effort is made to make contacts with the families of the pupils and the Spencer School keeps records of all information bearing on the social and economic status of the various members of the community, so that they will be in a better position to understand and appreciate the problems of the pupils. Special teachers chosen because of their unusual abilities along these lines are ready to study the problems of the pupils, and give them constructive advice or practical assistance.

The directors of education in New York State appear to take a much broader view of the functions of the Centralized School than is taken in Canada, and prefer to think of it rather as a Community School, and in addition to operating the day school for children, Spencer School opens its doors for the adult members of the community to hold meetings in the evening, in the auditorium free of all charges, and to use the workshop of the Industrial Arts Department for welding or other repairing of farm machinery. Books for keeping farm accounts and records are distributed, instruction is given in the making of income tax returns, and a number of other subjects. The Home Economics Department responds to appeals for advice on household problems, and its programme is designed to dovetail into the programme of the Agriculture Department, wherever the two meet on common ground.

Such a type of public service cannot be carried out without money, and the State authorities valued the contribution of the school toward community welfare sufficiently that they supplied most of the funds for the $70,000 budget for Spencer School and its community leadership. Mr. Spencer stated that the aim of a school should be, not only to train the pupils so that they may earn a dollar, but to so equip them for later life, so that they may get a dollar and a half's worth of living out of the dollar earned. Secondly, the staff should work as one unit to sell the services of the school to the community, and lastly, the school should aim to furnish to the community a wholesome constructive leadership.

A lengthy question period after the lecture furnished abundant proof that the audience had followed Mr. Spencer with deep interest.

EXHIBIT WORK AT RED CROSS TEA AT BEEBE

Despite Fewer Workers, Much Good Work Accomplished by Beebe Red Cross Members.

Beebe, May 16.—A Red Cross meeting and tea was held in the Red Cross room. The work of the month was on display and even though there had been a decrease in the number of workers, due to housecleaning and gardening, there was a large amount of splendid work on exhibit.

Several shipments of knitted articles for the local Red Cross branch have come during the winter and early spring from Mrs. Moranville and Miss Viola Moranville, who with Mr. Moranville spent the winter months in Melbourne, Fla. In their last shipment was a beautiful wool afghan, which had been given to Miss Moranville by Mrs. Clare Burgess, of Melbourne, for the Beebe Red Cross.

The interest taken in the work of the Canadian Red Cross is widespread and the Beebe Red Cross Society is very appreciative for these gifts coming in from friends of its members.

Another name which appears frequently on the lists of donors is Mrs. Charles Voorhies, of Brooklyn, N.Y. Quantities of goods have been sent by Mrs. Voorhies through Mrs. Elsie Henderson to the branch. Another donor, Mrs. Emelie, of Montpelier, Vt., who is a niece of Mrs. Henderson, has also given generously. To these and to others who have contributed in many ways, the Beebe Red Cross Branch wishes to express its grateful thanks.

The hostesses for the tea were Mrs. Allen Pocock and Mrs. Samuel Johnson, who were assisted by Mrs. T. Lee and Mrs. Sidney Pocock.

The social hour, enjoyed when tea is served, is looked forward to by many and the committee regrets that more ladies do not come out to these functions.

During the business period, news of interest from Red Cross House in Montreal is given. The work of the month is exhibited and a good attendance gives encouragement to the workers. The tea is held on the last Wednesday afternoon of each month so the committee trusts that the ladies of the town and district will bear this in mind and come to the teas.

Beebe Red Cross shipment to Red Cross House, Montreal, for the month of April follows:

NEW LIQUOR PERMITS NOW EFFECTIVE

New permits for the purchase of alcohol and spirits are now in effect

WHERE TO GET YOUR PERMIT
Permits are available to all persons 20 years of age or over, at all Quebec Liquor Commission stores and at 905 Delorimier Street, Montreal, or at the main office for the Quebec district, in Quebec City, corner Dalhousie and St. André Streets.

METHOD
The national registration card of the applicant must be shown at the time of application.
On the issuance of the permit, the national registration card will be marked with a small lozenge-shaped stamp to show that a permit has been granted the individual.
The two sheets, each containing an age declaration of the applicant and the authorization of the Quebec Liquor Commission must be filled out and signed by the party applying for the permit. One of these sheets remains in the issued permit book, the duplicate remaining on file with the Quebec Liquor Commission in order to keep necessary records of ration books and to maintain control of the rationing system.
There is no charge made for permits issued to residents of the Province of Quebec or members of Canada's armed forces, no matter from what part of the country they come.
Permits will allow the purchase of the same quantity of alcohol and spirits as authorized by the previous permit books, namely 40 ounces every two weeks.
A permit will be authorized only for the applying party and is not transferable. In other words, a man cannot apply for a permit for his wife. She must apply in person.
A permit obtained under false pretences, or presented for liquor purchases by anyone other than the person to whom it was originally issued, will be confiscated.

NON-RESIDENT TEMPORARY PERMITS
For civilians not residing in the Province of Quebec, and for members of the armed forces other than those of Canada, a special temporary permit will be issued, subject to the following conditions:
1— Suitable identification papers must be presented.
2— The temporary permit will be good for a period of two months and will be issued at a cost of $1.00.
3— At the expiration of two months the issued temporary permit will be invalid but may be extended for a like period on the payment of $1.00. A renewal application must be filled out for this extension.
All other conditions of the regular resident permit apply in the use of the temporary non-resident permit.
The amount of alcohol and spirits allowed on the temporary permit will be 26 ounces per month.

MAIL ORDER PURCHASES
Permits for ordering by mail in districts not served by the Quebec Liquor Commission stores, can be secured from the mail order store where you usually make your purchases. When ordering by mail, enclose your permit which will be returned with your purchase.
The Quebec Liquor Commission earnestly requests all citizens to use their permits fairly and only for their personal purchases. Co-operation would also be appreciated in reducing purchases to a minimum.

A LINK BETWEEN GREAT NATIONS...

EVERY single one of us wants a just and lasting peace. But, one of the first essentials to a lasting peace is continued understanding and unity between the present great comrades-in-arms... Britain and the United States. Canada is the link between these two great nations... a member of the British Commonwealth and the long, inseparable friend of the U. S. A. Yes, we, of Canada, know both these peoples... like them both so well that we are the link that joins... the bond of understanding. This is our natural birthright... let us serve it well. CLYDE SHOUN HURLS NO-HIT, NO-RUN GAME

Defeats Boston's Jim Tobin As Cincinnati Triumphs 1-0

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer. Cincinnati's bull pen has yielded a pitcher in Clyde Shoun to equal Jim Tobin's no-hit, no-run job and baseball today is beginning to wonder where the pitching is good or the hitting bad. Two near-perfect games have been tossed within a month where none was recorded in the last two years.

While Shoun was blanking Boston, 1-0, on Chuck Aleno's home run and showing Tobin how it feels to be on the receiving end of a no-hitter, St. Louis Cardinals broke out with nine runs in the first inning. Brooklyn leveled Chicago with a 17-hit attack and the New York Giants gave the hitting profession another boost with 15 safeties at Pittsburgh.

When Shoun turned back Boston without a hit, on top of Bucky Walters' one-hitter Sunday, it was the first time since 1927 that a club has been so completely stopped on two successive days.

Shoun's job topped Tobin's because he walked only one and Tobin passed two. After Tobin strolled in the third and died on first, not a Boston batsman reached base. Chet Covington, who pitched baseball's only perfect game in 1943 for Scranton, Pa., in the Eastern League, was one of the victims as the Cards paraded over the Phillies, 11-6. Emil Verban had a triple and a single in the big first inning. Dixie Walker paced the Dodgers' attack as they scored seven runs in the sixth frame in swamping Chicago, 14-3, behind Hal Gregg. Walker upped his average to .414. The New York Giants got partial revenge for Sunday's double loss by edging the Pirates 3-7 after a rocky start.

In a night game, Mike Guerra's homer with one on sent Washington into overtime and scored the winning run in the 11th on Hillis Layne's single for a 4-3 edge over Cleveland, moving the Nats into second place.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By SYD THOMAS, Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Toronto, May 16.—Now that the Incorporated Canadian Racing Association in the east has agreed to carry accident and death benefit insurance on jockey's and exercise boys, the situation is fairly well stabilized across Canada. British Columbia horsemen have had insurance in effect several years now.

Wot A Fizzle: Everyone had been all keyed up the last few weeks and months waiting for the annual National Hockey League meeting when 'twas said, things would really start popping. Chief on the agenda, those "in the know" had forecast, was to be a little mix-up between Art Ross and T. P. Gorman over Ross' alleged slandering of the high-flying Canadians. But nothing happened, snucks, it's a dull world.

Incidentally: Petty Officer Ted Morris, coach of the football squad at H.M.C.S. York, Toronto, chips in on the argument between upholders of the game as played in Eastern Canada and the western variety. The former Toronto Argonauts star says that aside from the west's forward pass from the line of scrimmage, there isn't much reason for changing the eastern rules to conform with the west's "yankee" style of ball. . . . Boxing commissions are always catching the deuce from someone, and the Saint John, N. B., version of the ring maestros there the other night before the fights, professionals at that, had become the least bit bloodied, according to reports. Ralph Costello of the Telegraph-Journal commented afterward: "We feel that professional boxing is a game that should be played for keeps. . . . Fans go to a professional boxing program to see blood. They are disappointed if maybe it isn't committed." B-r-r-r, How gruesome! You can't expect them to fight for keeps, Mr. Costello?

Mancuso, Hayworths Could Catch In Four Different Games In Two Big Leagues In Day; Brothers Of Veterans Give Browns Best Staff

By HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Sports Editor.

Baltimore, May 16.—You may pick up a newspaper following double-header any day now and find the Mancuso and Hayworths catching in four different games in the two major leagues the same afternoon.

Luke Sewell, a fair-to-middling receiver himself, is authority for the statement that Frank Mancuso and Myron Hayworth give his surprising Browns their best catching in years.

One peek at Frank Mancuso, the Brownie's No. 1 backup, and you know he is kin to the Giants' veteran Gus. Whether he will approach the illustrious Blackie in handling pitchers and throwing remains to be seen. In addition to the similarity in appearance they are alike in another respect—lack of speed. About to play

Frank, 25, at even six feet and coming in at 190 pounds, picked up what Mery Shea calls the tools of ignorance as Gustave became a full-fledged star with the Giants—in 1933. Gus' success made up his mind. Frank wanted to be a catcher, wasn't swift enough to play elsewhere. In 1937, Bill Terry gave him a job with the New York's Jersey City subsidiary. He knocked around in the minors, finally landing with the Browns' San Antonio farm in 1942.

Following a season in which he batted .270, Mancuso entered the Army, became a second lieutenant and a paratrooper. A spine injury suffered in a jump from a plane brought the medical discharge which made him available to the Browns.

Ray Hayworth, brother of Brooklyn's Ray, well-seasoned, just 28, six-foot one and weighing 192 pounds, has been in professional ball since 1936, when he started in the Yankees organization, which retained him through '38. Red, the aggressive type, spent '39 in Dallas, Toledo acquiring him when the Texas League folded. The Browns called when he batted .278 in 92 engagements.

Frank Mancuso and Red Hayworth were meant to catch, anyway. On keeping fit. A leatherneck boxing team at an advanced Pacific base was given time out from regular duties in which to train, reports Sgt. Bill Allen, Marine combat correspondent. Several of the boys trotted out of camp bundled in sweat shirts for road work. Out of sight, they decided to go swimming and lounge on the beach. The fighters were splashing happily around in the surf when a sergeant spied them.

"What are you doing?" queried the three-striper.

"Training," came the answer. "Swimming softens the muscles," the sergeant, an ex-boxer himself, replied.

He led the boxers off to the woods where they were handed axes and given ample opportunity to resume training by helping clear trees for a gun emplacement.

Rochester Red Wings Batter Jersey Giants For 20-10 Win

The Rochester Red Wings last night got two runs. The winning run came in the eleventh when the Bears had the bases loaded and Bert Diegs blasted over a single which brought in the winning counter.

Burleigh Grimes, Toronto manager, was chased from the game in the tenth.

The Jersey City Giants at the Rochester Red Wings blasted five Giants moundsmen for sixteen hits.

Otis Davis was the main slugger of the day as he banged out a homer and two three-baggers as the Wings took the opener of the three-game International League series.

Rochester made sure of the game in the fourth when, trailing 7-6, they let go with a barrage of hits that produced ten runs. The Jersey Giants helped the Wings to the win with six miscues.

NEWARK EDGES OUT LEAFS 4-3
The Newark Bears gained a 4-3 win over Toronto Leafs last night in the first of a three-game International League series at Toronto as a rally by the Leafs in the last half of the eleventh inning fell short yesterday.

The Bears came from behind to even things up at 2-2 in the fourth and forged ahead with two more runs in the eleventh. Toronto was able to come up with only one run in their half of the eleventh.

The Toronto team was allowed eight hits by Holcombe, but they were kept spread well apart except in the second frame when the Leafs

HIGH SCHOOL, LENNOXVILLE CLASH TODAY

The Sherbrooke Junior Softball League again swings into action today as the Lennoxville High School takes on the Sherbrooke High School squad in a scheduled game this afternoon at the local Parade Grounds.

The race so far has been quite close and the two teams are expected to put up a good game this afternoon. It will be the first time the two squads have met, and they are considered to be quite evenly matched.

The Sherbrooke High School have a very strong team and have been beaten only once thus far. They went down to a 6-5 defeat at the hands of the St. Pat's entry.

The Lennoxville boys have also proved that they are very formidable opponents, having swept aside all opposition so far. They are a dead certainty to give the Sherbrooke squad a lot of trouble, for they have a bunch of hard hitters who are capable of slugging hard when the need arises.

The game is scheduled to start around four-thirty.

Favor Williams To Win Over White In Ring Fight Tonight

Philadelphia, May 16.—(P)—Hard Juan Zurita, current NBA champion, punches Ike Williams, top notch Negro lightweight from Trenton, N. J., goes to the ring a probable 2-1 favorite tonight, set on knocking out Luther ("Sluggo") White and earning a crack at ex-champ Sammy Angott in the bargain.

The winner of tonight's clash is promised a bout against Angott at Philadelphia's Shibe Park—already signed for June 6 or 14.

And Ike has an extra incentive—he wants to get even for that 12-round knockout deal him a few months back by Bob Montgomery, recognized as lightweight champion by New York and Pennsylvania.

Since then the 20-year-old favorite has won 10 of 11 starts—his only defeat dealt at Angott's hands. Seven victories were by the knockout route and five were scored in a row. Among his victims were Ellis Phillips, one round, Joey Peralta, nine rounds and Mike Delia, one round.

The former holder of the Maryland version of the lightweight title, White, of Baltimore and the also-a-brother has met six champions and beat four of them. He dethroned Willie Joyce as Maryland titleholder and defeated Leo Roadk, former NBA featherweight king, Dave Castillon, Canadian champion and

THE MILDDEST CIGARETTE YOU CAN SMOKE

A Buckingham is the mildest cigarette you can smoke, because it is mild, where mildness counts most—in the throat. A Buckingham is "Throat Easy" because it is blended from tobaccos that are naturally cool-burning, cool-smoking.

For a milder smoke, and a more satisfying cigarette in every way, try Buckingham. You'll never again be satisfied with anything less in a cigarette.
