Big Chicago Firms Anounce Reductions in Many Lines

CLOTHING DROPS

Economist Says Ford's Action Will Help General Cut on Autos

CHICAGO, Sept. 23. — (Associated Press.) Recent price reductions of from 20 to 25 per cent announced by textile manufacturers will be reflected in the prices of men's clothing next spring, Eli Strouse, president of the National Clothing Manufacturers' Association, declared today at the Association's convention.

Mr. Strouse added that "men's clothing prices cannot go down more quickly than the high cost of labor and materials," and that people must remember that "the cost of textiles is not the only factor entering into clothing prices."

ANNOUNCE BIG CUTS.

Price cuts of from ten to twenty per cent on many lines of merchandise are shown in newly issued catalogues of Sears, Roebuck and Company and Montogmery Ward and Company. The reductions, effective immediately, follow closely announcement by Henry Ford that he had lowered prices of his automobiles to prewar levels.

Muslins, cambrics, sheetings and poplins led the list of staples reduced by the two large Chicago mail order houses. Cuts in men's and women's clothes also were announced. Standard dress goods, reduced in price, will not go back to high levels, officials of the companies said.

Reductions of twenty-five per cent in furniture were announced. "Furniture was profiteered to death," O. W. Goess, of Montgomery Ward said. Shoe prices were also cut.

Prices of food were not affected, but the announcement said sugar would tumble following the annual canning season.

Coincidentally, a war on high prices of restaurants was ordered today by R. J. Poole, secretary of the City Council Committee on Living Costs.

The manager of the Hotel La Salle was to be asked today to explain prices charged in the hotel's restaurants. Other eating places in Chicago are charging 100 per cent more than the cost price, Poole said.

SOON BACK TO NORMAL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (United Press). Prices of merchandise will soon find their normal level through gradual readjustment of the entire economic situation, is the opinion of Edward C. Caldwell, financial executive of John Wanamaker's New York store.

Caldwell said today that he looked for lower prices but did not believe they ever would reach their pre-war level owing to the fact that wages and other costs of production would not drop to that level.

"The action of Henry Ford in reducing the price of his automobiles, and of other manufacturers in lowering the prices of their products, far from being the forerunner of a big slump in prices only reflects what has been quietly going on for the last ninety days," Caldwell said.

"I believe the average price of merchandise reached its peak in April. There was, of course, a big general reduction in retail prices following Mr. Wanamaker's flat cut of 20 per cent last May. Since that time, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, have joined in forcing prices down to their normal level.

AUTO REDUCTIONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (United Press)—A general price reduction of automobiles will be forced by the Knights of Honor, Eric Loucks, cutting prices [illegible] automobiles, William M. Lewis, [illegible] department economist said today.

[illegible] slashing of automobile prices will be another result [illegible] action.

Examples of some commodities [illegible] may be forced down in price by [illegible] cut, Lewis named agricultural [illegible] machinery, stoves, household hardware, waterproof clothing and building materials.

"These are made from steel, rubber, lumber and leather which enter into the manufacture of automobiles," said Lewis. "For a long time the public tolerated high automobile prices because of a shortage of steel. If automobile makers using high priced steel can cut prices, it is clear that manufacturers of other products based on steel can do the same unless they are profiteering."

"It looks [illegible] as if Ford is making a plan to sell more cars. Other automobile manufacturers now will be glad to follow Ford in cutting prices. I think many [illegible] have wanted to do it, but feared to be the first."

"All automobile manufacturers lately have noted a slackening up of orders. Ford [illegible] unfilled orders totalling 140,000 [illegible] manufacturers also have [illegible] orders. But they were [illegible] months ago. The public has stopped buying automobiles at present prices, just as it stopped buying [illegible] shoes, diamonds, jewelry [illegible]."

M. ARISTIDE BRIAND

Former Premier of France, whom the Parisian press today declare will succeed M. Millerand as Premier.

PARIS, Sept. 23 (United Press)—Paris afternoon papers announced "authoritatively" today that Aristide Briand will be appointed Premier by the new President, Alexandre Millerand.

Briand, it was said, will include in his Cabinet, Georges Leygues, Berard, Barthou, Viviani, Steeg, and possibly Former Premier Poincare as Minister of Finance.

ELECT MILLERAND AS PRESIDENT OF FRENCH REPUBLIC

Little Oppostiion to Choice of Successor to Deschanel

LONG CONCEDED

Radicals Saw Chances Fade When Others Withdrew

VERSAILLES, Sept. 23.—(United Press)—Without serious opposition Premier Alexandre Millerand was elected President of France today by the National Assembly. He succeeds President Paul Deschanel, who resigned because of ill health.

Millerand's election was conceded almost from the hour it was announced Deschanel would resign. It was made certain yesterday when the two chambers of the National Assembly in caucus gave Millerand a great majority for the nomination.

Radical groups desired Millerand's defeat but saw there was no chance of success when Raoul Peret and Leon Bourgeois refused to accept nominations against him.

The vast difference between the American and French systems of election will be appreciated if an American can imagine the Senate and House sitting in special session and deciding by caucus on a presidential candidate. And then having the same bodies sitting as a National Assembly, meet a few days later and elect their candidate. That, in a word, is what happened in the Senate and Chamber [illegible] Wednesday, and the election of Millerand will be confirmed in the ceremonious meeting at Versailles on Saturday.

M. Millerand received 695 votes out of a total of 892.

The complete vote was as follows:

Alexandre Millerand, 695.

Gustave Delory, (Socialist Deputy from Lille, Department Du Nord), 69.

Sen'ering, 20.

Blanck, 100.

At 4.57 o'clock M. Millerand was proclaimed by Leon Bourgeois, president of the Senate and chairman of the Assembly, as the seventh President of France.

The fact that M. Millerand's election was considered a foregone conclusion called the National Assembly to order this morning with a smaller attendance than has been usual in presidential elections. The deputies, senators and other political powers early abandoned their discussions to go to the Hotel de Reserve, which, as it was, was the centre of attention as I there only time was spent speculating on the formation of new Cabinet.

M. Millerand remained in Versailles over night at the home of the Premier Marquet. He received numerous persons [illegible] friends who congratulated him, most of them offering advice. M. Millerand's cabinet arrived in a body at 11 a.m.

The [illegible] which was uncertain [illegible] night, in the morning, became [illegible] [illegible] and the Socialist Republican [illegible] was being [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

SOLDIERS KILLED WHILST RESCUING AMBUSHED POLICE

Four Constables Wounded in Attack by the Raiders

DUBLIN, Sept. 23.—A motor lorry containing six policemen was ambushed near Lahinch by a hundred men yesterday. Four of the police were wounded. Two military lorries came to the rescue. The attacking party fired and two soldiers are reported to have been killed. Thirty arrests were made.

Two houses in an adjoining village were burned, supposedly as a reprisal.

Eight armed and masked men entered the Camden street branch of the Ulster Bank, Dublin, yesterday and held up the staff. They decamped with a considerable sum of money.

"Spies and informers beware," was the label pinned to the clothing of a man found dead in a field yesterday in County Carlow.

Two of an escort are reported to have been killed and four wounded when a police lorry was held up yesterday in County Clare.

The third soldier injured in the affray in Dublin on Monday died from his wounds yesterday.

Young Ireland yesterday reported the passage of the Industries Bill at a secret session of the Irish Parliament. The newspaper adds that the Parliament recorded its appreciation of the loyalty of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork and ordered a copy of the resolutions sent to him in Brixton jail.

The damage done by the "Black and Tans" in Balbriggan, in their raids Monday night and Tuesday afternoon, the shooting of two police officers in that town, is estimated at £200,000.

Among the dwellings destroyed by the raiders were the residences of Mrs. Andrew White, sister-in-law of Eamon de Valera, and Lawrence Flanagan, brother-in-law of de Valera.

BALBRIGGAN SITUATION.

BALBRIGGAN, Ireland, Sept. 23.—Nearly one thousand persons, about half the population of this partly devastated town, crept back to their homes yesterday morning, after having spent a second night of terror in the outlying hayfields. Once during the middle of the night an alarm was raised which caused a stampede of the people to remoter fields, where they took refuge under hedges and haycocks, or whatever shelter they were able to discover, in the dark.

Women and old men shivered in the cold of the night and until dawn, when a reconnoitring party found things quiet in Balbriggan, and all of them gradually returned to their homes.

The correspondent, who arrived at an early hour yesterday morning from Dublin, witnessed the last of the population coming home—women with crying babes in their arms, men carrying blankets and baskets of food, and children endeavoring to rub the sleep from their eyes. Only a handful of the residents of Balbriggan had been courageous enough to pass the night in their houses.

Many of the townspeople had scattered among friends to neighboring villages, while others had gone to farms about Dublin, more than 20 miles distant.

Groups of townspeople stood in the streets yesterday morning, gazing at the smoking ruins of houses wrecked by bombs or burned after having been soaked with petrol Monday night. Twice during his visit the correspondent saw motor tenders, each containing a half dozen "Black and Tans" recruited from army men to reinforce the Royal Irish Constabulary, wearing nondescript uniforms, half khaki and half police blue, whizz through the main thoroughfare, the men, rifles in hand. The local police consisted of twenty Royal Irish Constabulary veterans. They are said to have prevented the "Black and Tans" from burning the principal factory in the town and also to have saved other property. One child had a remarkable escape from a stray rifle bullet, which carried away an apple from its mouth without injuring its fingers or lips.

The body of Inspector Burke, of the Royal Irish Constabulary, who was killed during the early fighting, was removed from the police station, but the bodies of Gibbons and Lariess still lay in a nearby outhouse awaiting the holding of an inquest.

ATTACK ON INDUSTRY.

The manager of a British-owned hosiery factory, the inside of which was completely ruined, was preparing yesterday to return to England. He said it would be impossible to rebuild the plant. The manager suggested that the burning of this factory marked a new phase in alleged attempts to suppress the Sinn Fein. He said that although many creameries which had been community property had been destroyed in Ireland, he believed the burning of the hosiery factory to be the first instance of a deliberate attack on an industrial works. In this factory about 400 employes, including many women, have been thrown out of work. If the factory had been destroyed virtually the entire working population of Balbriggan would have been rendered idle. The skilled mechanics and other employes of the ruined factory say they will be unable to find jobs elsewhere in their particular line of work in Ireland.

The "Black and Tans" are encamped at Gormantown, three miles distant. Their threats to return to Balbriggan and complete the destruction of the town is keeping the people at a high pitch of expectancy and a majority of them are preparing to spend their third night in the open.

OPEN INVESTIGATION.

DUBLIN, Sept. 23.—The military authorities have commenced an investigation of the Balbriggan affair. A public inquiry will be held at which citizens of Balbriggan having knowledge of the trouble will be urged to testify. The "Black and Tans" in the vicinity of Balbriggan have been ordered confined in barracks.

BELFAST DECISION.

BELFAST, Sept. 23.—A decision which the Lord Mayor of Belfast describes as most important to the future of the city was reported yesterday when after a conference between the directors and every trade employed on Queen's Island, the shipyard men announced:

"We will work with any workers irrespective of religion, putting them on their honor that they are not associated with the Sinn Fein or any other disloyal organization."

LYNCH'S MURDER DESCRIBED.

DUBLIN, Sept. 23.—An official report issued yesterday concerning the shooting of Councillor Lynch, a prominent Limerick manufacturer, in his hotel room in Dublin, was issued last evening.

It says that 12 soldiers, accompanied by two members of the Royal Irish Constabulary, went to the Royal Exchange Hotel to arrest Mr. Lynch. As they opened the door to Mr. Lynch's room a shot was fired at them, and the military replied to the fire, Lynch falling dead. He was shot through the mouth.

The report adds that Lynch was violently resisting arrest when he was killed.

Mr. Lynch's home in Killimalloch frequently had been raided.

The city coroner, having announced for today an inquest on the body of Councillor Lynch, has received official notification from the Castle not to hold it as arranged.

SIR ARTHUR CURRIE URGES ANGLO-U.S. FRIENDSHIP LEAGUE

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—(Star Special).—General Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill University, and commander in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces during the world war, in address last night at the annual banquet of the National Association of Life Underwriters at the Copeley Plaza, denounced the "sinister elements" which are attempting to breed hostility between the United States and Great Britain, and appealed for a "League of Friendship" between the two nations, without which, he declared, permanent peace would be impossible.

The General who was the principal guest and speaker, received an enthusiastic greeting, and at the conclusion of his address the gathering manifested approval of his sentiments with three ringing cheers, and raised their glasses in a toast to the "President and His Majesty the King," at the proposal of J. Stanley Edwards, retiring president of the association.

TRIBUTE TO STATES.

In beginning his address, Gen. Currie expressed appreciation of the part played by the United States in the world war, and declared that the whole world was indebted to the nation for her sacrifice in the cause of liberty and freedom.

"It was the consciousness of the unlimited reserve of power that supported us all through the dark days in the spring of 1918, when the British were driven back to Amiens and the French to the very walls of Paris. Desperate as the situation was, we knew that a great host of American troops were rapidly gathering in the north of France, and it was only a question of time till we would be able to retain the initiative and finish the task we had begun four years before.

"It was no surprise to us when the American heroes proved their mettle at Belleau Wood and Chateau Thierry for three years before your Government declared war American boys were crossing the Canadian border, joining Canadian units, coming overseas, and at last winding their way up to the front with the Canadian corps. They were with us at Ypres, the Somme, Vimy Ridge, Hill 70 and Paschendaele. They were with us in our last great battles, from August 8 to November 11. For four years they mingled their blood with ours.

BOND OF BROTHERHOOD.

"There is a bond of brotherhood of a common sacrifice that will ever unite the American Republic and the Dominion of Canada. But these two countries are not only bound by the blood of those who suffered and died on the field of battle. We are inextricably connected by the blood of the living. Over 2,000,000 Canadians are living in your republic. On the other hand, if the recent immigration of Americans into Canada continues, we will have a great many more millions of your people on our side of the line.

"With Canada's tremendous and unexplored resources of land, minerals, of timber and of water power, it is no wonder that American capital and American men are pushing north and becoming partners with us in the building up of our nation, and we are glad to welcome you as partners. We need your money. We need your aggressive spirit of enterprise. We need your enthusiasm for progress, for education, for democracy.

"Under such circumstances, we ought to expect the closest kind of international co-operation and understanding between Canada and the United States. We are looking forward to direct representation of Canada at Washington, and it is unthinkable that we should allow any selfish interests on either side to impair friendly relations. For more than 100 years our mutual frontier of 3,000 miles has stood unguarded and we must be vigilant and active against all attempts to raise barriers between us or to create misunderstandings or suspicion.

"But this community of interest and blood that binds Canada to the United States is equally true to our connection with that commonwealth of nations which we call the British Empire. We are, therefore, deeply concerned about your relation with the British Empire and the development of an entente cordiale between the United States and the British Empire is a matter of tremendous importance to us.

SINISTER ELEMENTS.

"Whatever is calculated to disturb these relations threatens our peace and our security. We were delighted during the war at the growth of co-operation and mutual understanding and respect between the two great English-speaking peoples. Now that the war is over we are greatly disturbed to find the same sinister elements, which had exhausted their ingenuity in trying to aid Germany and to defeat the Allies, are back at their devilish work of trying to stir up hatred, enmity and jealousy between the two peoples who can do most to maintain the stability of the world and to permit the progress of humanity.

"We are greatly disturbed in Canada at your decision not to join the League of Nations, and we hope that your coming election will clear the way for some form of co-operation in world work of maintaining order and peace. We do not care whether you elect a Republican president or a Democrat president—that is not our business. ## MONTREAL AIR HARBOR OPENED

Official Inspection Made by Local Officers of the Aerial League

FINEST IN CANADA

Air Board's Project is for Chain Stretching from Coast to Coast

As a result of the pioneer work of the Montreal branch of the Aerial League of the British Empire, Montreal is now the possessor of the finest air harbor in the Dominion. Great discrimination has been exercised in the choice of ground, the area selected being Bois Franc, on the Cartierville road, formerly a polo field, a tract possessing characteristics which make it an ideal landing place.

Yesterday afternoon an official inspection of the Air Harbor was made by officials of the Montreal branch of the League, to whom this successful consummation is largely due. The party consisted of George R. Lighthall, president; James Cleghorn; Dr. J. Bonsell Porter, Professor of Mining and chairman of the Faculty of Science at McGill, and Associate of the Research Committee of the Air Board, vice-president, and E. Greenwood, Hon. secretary and treasurer of the League. The flying officers present were Messrs. Raymond and Wilshire, late of the R.A.F., who conducted the flight operations, with Reginald Warner as air engineer in charge of the aerodrome.

Inspection convinced the League officials of the wisdom of their selection. Well drained, clear of obstacles, level and fairly sheltered, its entire suitability was demonstrated later by flawless starting and landing operations. The ground is rented by the year in conjunction with the R. and W. Air Service, who are acting in co-operation with the Aerial League. In the hangar, which is of the Bessoneau portable kind used over [illegible] six machines of any type can be accommodated. At present it houses two Curtis biplanes, the property of the R. and W. Air Service, and a third is under construction. The framework of the hangar is steel and hard wood, and the cost of the linen canvas covering alone is about $2,700.

Another hangar of the fixed wooden type has been fitted up as a repair shop and office, and telephonic communication with Montreal has been established.

CHAIN OF AIR HARBORS.

The Air Board has in mind a great project—that of a chain of air harbors and emergency landing fields stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. This, it is acknowledged, cannot yet be realized, but will doubtless be achieved in time. Each harbor erected will be distinctively marked to render recognition possible from great heights.

Following the inspection, the first flights under the new regime were made. The machine used was a two-passenger Curtis, piloted in the first instance by Lieut. Wilshire, who took as passenger a Star reporter. The Hon. Secretary of the League, E. Greenwood, was afterwards taken up by Lieut. Raymond.

The Aerial League cordially offer the hospitality of the new air harbor to aviators throughout the Dominion.

FARMERS TO PAY 50 CENTS A DAY

At a meeting of the Administration Commission yesterday an indemnity of $2,500 was granted to the widow of Constable Chicoine, shot in the performance of his duties, subject to the adoption of the by-law by the Council.

It was decided to levy a rate of 50 cents a day on farmers occupying a stand outside a city market for the sale of his farm produce. This will cover the farmers who, for lack of room at Bonsecours market, have recently been occupying stands on Champ de Mars.

A by-law was also adopted on the erection of buildings in the ward of Notre Dame de Grace, providing amongst other things for the division of the ward into districts A, B, and C, commercial, industrial and residential districts respectively.

WITNESS IN C.P.R. CASE IS MISSING

Development at Morning Session When Trial Was Resumed

SAYS NO BRIBERY

Witness Insists He Did Nothing of the Kind—The Evidence Heard

Considerable controversy arose in the Court of King's Bench, Criminal division, this morning, during the resumption of the trial of Eldedge Beauchamp, a conductor, of the C.P.R., who is charged with theft as an agent from the railway company, when Assistant Superintendent Gallagher, of the Montreal office of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, stated that George Lachance, an employe of the agency, who is a witness for the Crown in this case, has completely disappeared.

The matter arose when the name of Lachance was called in the court at the conclusion of the hearing of the evidence of two other employes of the detective agency.

The assistant superintendent testified that Lachance, who has already given evidence in this case, had stated to him that a relative was sick, and that he had given the detective leave of absence. That was some time ago, the superintendent stated, and since that time nothing had been heard from, or of, him.

Questioned as to the means he had taken to locate the missing man, Mr. Gallagher stated that both the brothers of the detective, one in Three Rivers and one in New York City, had been questioned as to his whereabouts, and they had apparently heard nothing of him. He stated that the New York office of the agency is at present investigating the case and that he expects to hear every day that the man has been located.

When the superintendent had finished his explanation, Mr. Justice Monet, who presided at the court, stated that he was unable to understand how it was that a well-known detective agency could not locate one of its own operatives.

It was then that discussion arose regarding the action which the court should take in consequence of the absence of such an important witness for the crown. D. A. Lafortune, K.C., Carown Prosecutor, argued that the case be adjourned until the witness could be located, while Charles A. Wilson, K.C., counsel for the accused, referred to Section 999, chapter 146, of the Criminal Code.

Mr. Justice Monet was loath to make a hasty decision in the case, and order to consider the matter adjourned the trial until this afternoon. During the hearing this morning, a argument also arose between Charles A. Wilson, K.C., who is conducting the case for Beauchamp, and Howard Wilson, an employee of the Pinkerton Detective Agency.

The witness, Wilson, testified that whilst travelling with another operative on the line controlled by the C. P. R. from Quebec to this city, on Sunday, December 21 last, he had found that there was a party of actors on board, the leader of whom, a Mr. Barry, he knew. Beauchamp was the conductor on the train, he stated. He explained that he had asked Mr. Barry if he would "fix" things with the conductor for them, so that they could get off with a "cheap" fare. Barry, he said, told him to say "Traffies' Troop," to the conductor when he came around to collect the fares, and all would be well. When Beauchamp came around he said "Traffies' Troop," and was given two hat checks, which indicated that his fare was paid. Later he was told by Barry that the conductor had been given $2 for each of them for this good service, and he had paid Barry the money back.

"FIXING" A CONDUCTOR.

Questioned by Chas. A. Wilson, K.C., the witness stated that he was travelling on the train by order of the agency with which he was employed, "to keep a lookout for any irregularities."

"Were you instructed to bribe anybody?" asked Mr. Wilson. "No," was the admission.

"Then why did you?" was the question.

"But I did not," protested Wilson, the witness.

Mr. Wilson, K.C., did not seem, however, to agree with the witness's statements.

"Didn't you ask Barry to 'fix' the conductor for you?" he asked. Wilson, the witness, admitted that he did but stated that he did not think that he was doing anything wrong in passing money to the conductor by means of his friend.

"I will take all responsibility for all my actions," he exclaimed.

He admitted that, he had at one time been an employe of the C.P.R. and knew that the fare from Quebec city to Montreal was $5.75, but had allowed the conductor to give him a ticket which cost $2.00.

Further evidence this morning by J. H. Shearing, accountant of the C. P. R. books at the place viger station, was to the effect that he had received from the Pinkerton detectives operating on the Montreal-Quebec lines regular reports of late.

Peter Bercovitch, K.C., is representing the interests of the C.P.R. in the case, and Alban Germain, K.C., and Chas. Wilson, K.C., appear for the accused. The trial continues.

FINANCIAL AID TO UNIVERSITIES

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 23.—(Star Special).—A commission, which will include representatives of the Universities of Toronto, Queens and Western, is to be appointed by the Ontario Government to report upon the basis for future financial aid by the Province to the three universities. The personnel has been tentatively selected.

Hon. R. S. Grant, Minister of Education, under whose direction the enquiry is to be made, intimated yesterday that the commission would report upon the aid the Government should extend to the Universities, having regard to its expenditure on ordinary and secondary education.

CHAUFFEUR ARRAIGNED.

Ernest Paquette, the chauffeur who was driving the car in which one man was killed and eight persons injured near Bordeaux jail early last Tuesday morning was arraigned before Judge Lanctot this morning charged with being drunk while in charge of an automobile, having been found criminally liable by a coroners' jury on the day following the accident. Enquette was set for September 30.

COMMISSIONER TRANSFERRED.

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—G. B. Johnson, Canadian trade commissioner at Rio de Janeiro has been transferred to Glasgow to replace Vernon MacKenzie, who resigned. Major McCall of the Trade and Commerce Department at Ottawa will be sent to Rio as commissioner. Mr. Johnson is a former resident of Belleville.

RUMANIA GIVES ORDER TO CANADA

Nine Million Dollars' Worth of Woollen Textiles to Be Manufactured

An order for nine million dollars' worth of Canadian woollen textiles has been placed with the manufacturers of the Dominion by the Rumanian Government, according to information received. The order was not given through the usual channel of the official purchasing commission, but was arranged for by London agents and payment is guaranteed by a London bank, it is stated.

About 1,900,000 yards of cloth and knit goods to the value of $2,000,000 are included in the Rumanian order and this material will, in the main, be used for railroad workers and other Government employes.

Arrangements were made for the purchase some time ago and the order was placed with the Canadian Wool Manufacturers' Association, which has its headquarters in Hamilton. It was then split up by this association and divided equally among the various woollen and knitting mills connected with it, of which there are over a hundred scattered all over the Dominion. Several Montreal firms are said to have received large portions of the order but were unwilling to give out any information on the subject.

The congestion in European factories led to the placing of orders here, it is said, in spite of high exchange.

PORT OF SPAIN TOO LIKES THE PRINCE

H.R.H. Left Guiana for Trinidad City Today—People Pleased

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Sept. 23.—The Prince of Wales, who has been visiting Georgetown, British Guiana, is expected to return here this morning and will spend the day and evening ashore. He will leave on Friday morning for St. George, seat of the Government of the Windward Islands' colony and the principal city on the Island of Grenada.

Since his arrival here the Prince has been very active. He has visited the principal industrial centres and has played golf and tennis as relaxation from his exacting duties. Last Sunday he attended divine services and later visited soldiers stationed here, chatting freely with the men.

His democratic attitude has been very pleasing to the people, with whom he has conversed on many occasions. Dinners are being given members of the crew of the cruiser Renown.

SENTENCES GIVEN IN SESSION COURT

Judge Bazin this morning disposed of a number of cases which have been hanging fire for some time in the Court of Sessions. Over 20 cases were heard by His Lordship, in a number of which sentences were rendered.

Rene Blacklock, accused of attempted arson, was found guilty and sentenced to two years in Bordeaux. Samuel Dean, for indecent assault was sentenced to nine months imprisonment. Henri Coteau receiving a sentence of six months for a similar offence.

Three restaurant keepers were summoned to appear charged with running a dining room without a license. None appeared and Judge Bazin, taking their non-appearance as an evidence of guilt fined the trio $40 and costs or, in default of payment, 30 days in jail. The names given on the summons were Steve Arabol, John Voutoker and Staite G. Finden.

Two keepers of beer hails who failed to procure the necessary license, Jean George and E. Beauchamp were each assessed $50 and costs or three months in jail.

George Bergeron, 1701 St. Lawrence boulevard, a clerk in the employ of Max Chamberlain pleaded guilty to a charge of selling liquor without a license and was fined $100 and costs.

No sentences were rendered in the other cases before Judge Bazin, the great number being of cases minor importance, which have been clogging the rolls for several weeks.

PROBE LOSSES OF TEXT BOOK MAKERS

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 23 The Ontario Government it is expected will appoint a commission to go into the matter of losses suffered by the publishers of text books in "carrying on" from year to year during the war under expired contracts, thereby implementing a promise made by the former Minister of Education, Hon. Dr. Cody.

In the early part of the war the Government's contracts for the publication of a number of text books expired. At that time costs were jumping, and the Government rather than make new contracts on the basis of higher costs, asked the publishers to carry on under the old contracts, giving assurances that they would be fairly dealt with.

Although a considerable amount of tea is grown in Burma, it is not used for beverage purposes, but is picked, prepared and eaten as a condiment.

Civic Employes are Preparing Scale of Wages

It was learned this morning at the City Hall that municipal employees, both unionised and others, are preparing a scale of wages which they propose to present to the municipal authorities. This is a question which, in view of what the employees consider to be extremely low rates of pay has become acute.

A great many men and women on the civic staff are leaving on this account, it is stated, and a departmental superintendent admitted recently that he had extreme difficulty in obtaining staff for a new department which had to be organized, with the result that the work had been much delayed, and there was difficulty in getting the quality of assistance required. An instance is quoted of an advertisement now exposed on the walls of the City Hall, calling for a senior stenographer at a salary of $840 per anhum.

The proposed scale of wages is to be submitted to the Civil Service Commission and to the Administrative Commission.

PERSONALS

C. O. Cloutier, manager of Dechaux Freres, has just returned from a six weeks' trip to England and Scotland, where he was busy caring for the interests of his firm.

Acting Chief Justice Archibald, who sailed from Montreal in June last for a tour of Europe, is expected back at the Court House early next week. His Lordship is now in mid-ocean on board the steamer Scandinavian, which is due here Saturday or Sunday.

One convention is for the Dominion alone, and the other includes both Canada and the United States.

SIX MONTHS FOR "KEEPER".

Charged with keeping a disorderly house, and offering liquor for sale upon the premises, Margaret Brown alias Annie Smith, of St. George street was sentenced to six months in jail on the first charge. She will appear for sentence on October 22 on the charge of selling liquor. The raid was carried out by Captain Kavanagh of No. 5 station and his men on the night of September 15. Lizzie Lefebvre, who was found in the house was released on bail of $25 and failed to put in an appearance in the court, his bail was confiscated.

TAX CONFERENCE MAY BE CALLED

Movement on to Hold Meeting to Discuss Equalizing Burdens

OTTAWA, Sept. 23. — Arising out of the inquiry into the triff and schemes of Federal Taxation, an interprovincial conference formal, or informal, is mooted for the coming winter. The idea would be to make a definite alignment of Federal and Provincial laxation in order to prevent the present overlapping Dominion, provincial and municipal income taxes, such as prevail in many provinces, becoming a hardship. The idea here is that the Dominion should be the exclusive collector of income taxes, the Provinces being compensated by the imposition of land taxes. The fact that owing to varied conditions in different Provinces, a uniform system of land taxation is difficult, if not impossible, suggests that the province alone utilize such sources of revenue. An amicable understanding with the Provinces is hoped for.

FORD COMPANY REDUCES PRICES

Five-Seater Touring Car Will Now Be Sold $65 Cheaper

Following the announcement made at Detroit a few days ago, the Canadian Ford Co. has reduced the price of its cars as follows: Light chassis, $125.00; runabout, $100.00; touring car, $65.00; Sedan, $50.00. The price of the one ton truck remains the same.

Although these price reductions are not as substantial as those made by the American Ford Co., they are a considerable reduction when figured on a percentage basis.

This reduction in prices will also lower the luxury tax proportionately.

ADVISE UNIFORM TRAFFIC BY-LAWS

A convention of traffic control authorities has recently been held in San Francisco, and Inspector E. D. Egan, of the Montreal Constabulary Force, was instructed by the civic authorities to attend the convention to represent Montreal. Traffic by-laws formed the subject, and Inspector Egan, on his return, has submitted a report to the Administrative Commission regarding the National Traffic Officers' convention.

He states that a committee was appointed to codify the by-laws of municipalities throughout the U.S., and to submit a report to an executive meeting which will be held at Cleveland, Ohio, on November 2. Daniel A. Sylvester was appointed chairman of this new executive, and Inspector Egan will also be a member.

It is proposed to formulate uniform laws in all the cities of the United States, and this proposition, submitted by the American Association of Highway Officials, will be given consideration by the executive, with a view to its adoption.

SELF-DEFENCE IS GORGADES' PLEA

Constant Gorgades, out on $1,500 cash bail in connection with the killing of James Plesses at Gauvin'sdance hall on St. Catherine street on August 28, made a voluntary statement today in which he admitted striking Plesses, but claimed self-defence as the motive. He was remanded for trial before the Court of King's Bench on November 2.

TICKET AGENTS SEE SIGHTS.

A drive round the mountain and a sight-seeing tour filled the morning of the delegates to the thirty-third annual convention of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association which is now in session at the Windsor Hotel. A considerable number of those attending the conference left for their homes last evening on the conclusion of the business session yesterday afternoon. Those who remained are enjoying the social programme which was arranged for today. This afternoon a meeting of the delegates will be held on board the S.S. Saturnia where an informal gathering will be held and light refreshments served.

OVERSEAS MAIL

A mail for England will close at Montreal General Post Office at midnight, on Tuesday, Sept. 28, for despatch from Quebec per S.S. Victorian, sailing Wednesday, Oct. 29.

Mail will close on Oct. 1, at midnight, for despatch per S.S. Melita, leaving Montreal for United Kingdom on Saturday, Oct. 2.

WOMAN OVERCOME BY GAS FUMES

Found in Bedroom with Life Extinct—Cat and Dog Dead in Hall

A verdict of accidental death was rendered by Coroner McMahon at the inquest held this morning at the Coroner's Court into the death of Mrs. Heilier, 30 years of age, of Bulger avenue, Point St. Charles, who was found dead in her bedroom by neighbors and police at 5:30 yesterday afternoon. A pet cat and dog were also found dead in the hall.

The woman had lived alone in the house with her cat and dog. On Tuesday, Mrs. Isidore Chatelle, who lives at 4 Bulger avenue, smelled the odor of escaping gas, but at the time did not pay much attention to it. Yesterday afternoon, the odor became so perceptible that she immediately notified the landlord and the police.

Sergeant Corbett, of the Point St. Charles Station, accompanied by Constables Parent, Marcil and Chamillard went to the house, and on entering the place found the woman lying across her bed, dead, and the cat and dog not far apart in the hall. The key of the oven of the gas range in the kitchen was found open, although the oven was closed. It is believed that the deceased inadvertently opened the key, probably by catching it in the folds of her skirt in passing the stove. When found the woman was partly clothed, and was apparently dressing for the street when overcome by the gas fumes.

Music Session at McGill Opened With Nearly 200

The McGill University Conservatorium of Music opened the session of 1920-21 this week with a registration of something like two hundred students. The records are not yet complete as registration is still in progress, but indications are that the enrolment will be even greater than that of last year. A number of students are intending to follow the course leading to the degree of Mus. Bac.

Registration in other faculties which opened at the beginning of the week is proceeding satisfactorily and preparations are being completed in every department for the influx of students at the commencement of the term in October. Scholarship, supplemental and matriculation examinations are now being held in the Arts Building.

In connection with the women students entering the Faculty of Arts, Miss Hurlbatt, warden of the Royal Victoria College, will be glad to see any of the day students by appointment between the hours of 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. daily, except Saturday.

TORMENTING DOG COSTS ONLY $25

Arraigned before Recorder Geoffrion in the Recorder's Court this morning charged with being under the influence of liquor and ill-treating a dog, Jean Baptiste Charbonneau was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs or one month in jail.

Constable Huard, who made the arrest, stated that he noticed the accused at the corner of Ontario and Papineau streets and that he was drunk and leading the dog on a cord. The dog tried to stop and the man dragged it along by the cord. Suddenly Charbonneau picked up the animal and started beating its head on the sidewalk. Constable Huard ran to the spot and placed the man under arrest. When picked up the dog was bleeding from the mouth and covered with bruises.

WESTERN ARREST MAY SOLVE LOCAL MURDER MYSTERY

Allan Coleman, alias Doctor Dandurand, alias Carrol, etc., wanted in Montreal in connection with the murder of Constable Chicoine, is at the present time serving a sentence of two years in the jail at Victoria, B.C., on a charge of forgery. He was arrested in Victoria last week, being sentenced on Tuesday.

It is claimed by the detective department that Coleman had some connection with the policeman's death, and it is understood that detectives will be despatched to the coast to bring him to Montreal.

Harold Ahearn, of St. Urbain street, arrived in Montreal this morning from Toronto under the escort of Detective Therrien. Ahearn is wanted here to tell what he knows regarding the fatal shooting of Constable Thomas Chicoine, on the morning of June 13. Chief Lepage states that this young man is not directly connected with the shooting but may be able to throw some light on the clearing of the mystery, from scraps of conversation which it is said he overheard in a pool room. He appeared before Chief Lepage this morning and was closeted with him for a considerable period, after which he was taken to the courthouse. Up to the time of going to press he had not been arraigned, but was waiting, in the custody of Detectives Therrien and Thibeau. His father accompanied the young man and was confident the boy did not know anything concerning the murder as he states he was at home upon the morning in question. Chief Lepage stated that Ahearn would probably be admitted to bail.

Joseph Eugene Ainey, who was arrested and charged with murder, but was released on bail of $5,000, will stand his trial at the present term of the Court of King's Bench.

It is understood that yesterday two other men were arrested upon the instructions of Chief of Detectives Lepage and are being held at headquarters as material witnesses.

GAMBLING CASE IN HANDS OF GAUDET

In reply to an enquiry this morning, it was stated by Chairman Decary that he had today received the letter referred to in The Star on Monday last, denouncing a gambling den on St. Catherine east. He has now passed on this letter, from R. Langlois, of St. Lawrence Broom and Brush Company, to Col. Gaudet, director of the Public Safety Commission, who will give it his attention.

PASSING AWAY OF THOMAS KIRBY

The death occurred early this morning of Thomas Kirby, 4471 Western avenue, in his 98th year. Mr. Kirby has been a resident of this city for many years, and was for over fifty years connected with the Merchants Bank of Canada. He was born in England, but came to this country at an early age and was stationed in Ottawa, then known as Bytown, for a time. Previous to his connection with the Merchants Bank he was manager of a branch of the Commercial Bank.

During the Fenian Raids, Mr. Kirby served as a captain in the 5th Royal Regiment, and was later presented with a medal as a veteran of the raids. He is survived by one son and two daughters—Walter Kirby, of Winnipeg; Mrs. Allan Macduff, of Montreal, and Mrs. W. McCombe, also of this city. The funeral will take place privately tomorrow.

Professor Mackerel

As far as fishes go the Mackerel is a veritable physical culture specialist. Every muscle in his body is linked and interlaced to the next until he is practically one network of muscular development. Numerous nerves and blood vessels keep these muscles in condition to work at a moment's notice and consequently he is a most rapid and enduring swimmer. It is due to this muscular formation that his flesh is so firm and tasty and it is due to the large number of blood vessels and nerves that he has such high food value. We have just received a lovely shipment of Mackerel straight from the fishery. They are from two to three pounds weight each and of unusually fine quality.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen Sounds Grave Note of Warning Against Extremist Peril in Canadian Politics—Need of Careful Decision

GRANBY, Que., September 23.—(Special to The Star by a Staff Correspondent).—A grave warning was issued by the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister of Canada, to the people of Canada last night as to the dangerous consequences that might ensue should the present Government be turned out of office and the Farmers' party get control of affairs. He pointed out that the remnants of the Liberal party had aligned themselves with the Farmers' party and also all those fanatics and extremists who were discontented with the established institutions of this country, and if that party got into power there was no knowing to what lengths they might be forced to go.

"I don't say that the Farmers' party want to overturn responsible Government," declared the Premier, "but many of those with whom they have aligned themselves in the City of Winnipeg and the City of Vancouver, and from end to end of this country, those forces of unrest with which they have aligned themselves, undoubtedly hold out as their goal the reversal of the system of Government in this Dominion. Therefore the addition of these groups to the Farmers' party constitutes that party the most formidable opposition of the Government, and picture to yourselves what would happen if that group should be in control."

PROTECTIVE TARIFF AND THE DANGERS OF A FREE TRADE POLICY MAIN THEME OF HIS ADDRESS

So big was the crowd that wanted to hear the Premier that the town hall would not hold one-third of them, and the place of meeting was changed to the bandstand outside, and it was from here that the Prime Minister delivered his address.

The Premier commenced his speech by paying a compliment to Senator Pope and Senator Foster for the successful and efficient way in which his tour had been planned, and then immediately launched into a discussion of the big issue that confronted the political world of the Dominion today, the old issue that the country had decided three or four times, that of free trade or a protective tariff.

He made it clear that he was not addressing the audience in opposition to their member, the Hon. G. H. Boivin, who as Deputy Speaker of the House ably fulfilled his duties and was thereby practically out of contentious politics, but he spoke to them as citizens of the Dominion of Canada. He pointed out how discussion regarding the problems of the war and how they had been met was not needed now, as the Opposition wanted to let the past go, but assured his audience that if at any time the actions of the Government were questioned, he was ready and willing at once to join issue on the question.

The Government had to face big problems and they went ahead as courageous men with a result that had placed Canada in a position that was the envy of the world. In re-establishment and looking after the wounded and maimed they led the world and their system had been copied by Great Britain and the United States, while the manner in which they had fostered trade during the war and kept the vitals of industry strong had enabled them to emerge from the struggle in a position to take care of the tremendous obligations resting upon them, and they were in a better position to discharge those obligations than any country that was in the war, except the United States, and the latter country was only in it for one-third of its duration. One splendid thing, declared the Premier, was that of the two billions of dollars that Canada owed as a result of the war, four dollars out of every five was owed to its own citizens. That was a strong position for any country to be in, and was worth working for, and he did not think the people of this country would be quite so ready in the future as some had been in the past to revile those whose efforts brought about that result.

POINTS TO DANGER.

Turning to the tariff question the Prime Minister reiterated his arguments regarding the Farmers' party and its creed of free trade, maintaining that except in the Province of Quebec this party was the strongest force that existed in opposition to the Government today. Even in the Maritime provinces, judging from recent occurrences the Federal Liberal opposition led by Mackenzie King could scarcely be said to be a formidable force in politics.

It was true that many who were nominally of that party in Western Canada had definitely aligned themselves with and merged themselves into the Farmers' party of that country. The official Liberal party of Alberta and other western provinces had adopted the farmers' program and today trailed behind the party led by Mr. Crerar and the strength of that organization was enhanced by the fact that it joined hands with and dragged behind it all the discontented, all those whose ambition it was to upset the established institutions of this country.

PEOPLE OF CANADA FACED WITH A DECISION UPON WHICH THE PROSPERITY OF THE DOMINION DEPENDS

"The people of every province must rise to the occasion," declared the Premier, "they must look over the question and make up their minds what they are going to do about an organization such as that. Are you going to permit it to triumph and what do you think, if you do, that you are going to have."

Hon. Mr. Meighen showed how, for fifteen years, Mr. Crerar had preached free trade, and declared that the men who were behind this program were not anxious to maintain the industrial progress of this country. They said they were still going to have a tariff, but it would not be on anything that could be produced in this country. Canada had had a protective tariff on its home industries for forty-two years, and those people who declared that they were for tariff reform, without declaring whether they favored free trade or protective tariff were simply confusing the people.

"You can be against a high protective tariff; I am against it myself," declared the Premier. "I want no tariff higher than is absolutely essential to promote legitimate industries in this Dominion.

"We need a tariff that will keep Canadian industries and workmen in this country and help this nation to grow strong by producing goods, instead of buying them from other countries. I have no patience with the public man that tells an audience that it is not a question of free trade or protection.

"A committee of this Government is obtaining firsthand information from men of every occupation and class; the best information they can get as to just what is necessary to produce the results I have described—to retain Canadian industry for Canada, and our workmen within our own borders—to retain the wealth and prosperity we have; to keep the country growing on the lines it has grown for forty years; to reach the destiny that is in store for us if we do not turn our back on principles that have brought us where we are.

"If we maintain the protective tariff at the level I have described I believe we will go on, but if we turn the other way we will go back and I believe the Province of Quebec, and particularly the working men here, will be the first to suffer, and the class to suffer most severely.

This province has grown in the last twenty years until it has earned a position of eminence industrially in Canada. By reason of the tendencies of its people, because of its great water power because of the virility and enterprise of its people, this province has assumed a position as a manufacturing province that is rivalled only by Ontario and surpassed by none, and the workmen of a province always suffer first, if hard times come for the manufacturing industry of a country.

FARMER INVOLVED TOO.

Agriculture depends just as much on the growth and prosperity of our towns and manufacturing centres which purchase the food that the agriculturist raises, as do the people of the towns and cities themselves, and just as soon as the tide turns back and begins to fall, the effect that will come if we buy any more goods than we buy now, and make less goods than we make now, just so soon will you find the workmen of this country compelled to go elsewhere as they did in the hard times of forty or fifty years ago.

The Premier then demonstrated the enormous cost it was to the country in the matter of exchange because Canada was buying $115 worth of goods per head a year from the United States, while she was only selling $4 worth of goods per head to the States, and he asked whether under these conditions, it was a good policy to tear down the tariff wall and abolish the duties that had to be paid on competing American goods. What was going to become of the Canadian dollar and Canadian industry if this was done? He did not believe that the broad-minded common-sense people of this country were going to take long chances with men who were ready to do such things as that, and despite what Mackenzie King and Dr. Beland said, the Farmers' Party would be in control of things and they would see to it that they got the result that they had in mind.

The Prime Minister again referred to the attacks made upon him by certain newspapers and politicians in Quebec and Ontario, which sought to prejudice the minds of the people of Quebec against him in the Government, declaring that the object of this was to mass together the people on a question of prejudice and prevent them from making their voice heard on the great issue of the day.

"They know what the voice of the people of Quebec would be on the tariff question," declared Mr. Meighen, "and they don't want that voice at all. They want to see men elected on something else and be a group by themselves. They will get their own friends elected on the tariff issue and thus they will be in control."

HAS NO ANIMOSITY.

The Premier continued that the chief means they were adopting was to try and get the people to believe that some awful reptile in human form was Prime Minister, that he was a man who harbored in his breast animosity against the French-Canadian race.

"No such feeling ever took birth in my life," emphatically declared the Premier, "and I challenge any journal or public man to produce a single sentence I ever uttered, a single paragraph I ever spoke, that had within it the slightest sentiment of hostility to this Province or the majority race of this Province. They cannot do it, because it does not exist. It is a fabrication and a fiction designed to lead the movement to mass the sentiment of this Province away from the issue, and silence the voice of this Province in the policy of Canada on that problem."

Concluding, the Hon. Mr. Meighen said it would be a whole lot better if people would interpet the compact of confederation more in conformance with the spirit that created it rather than with the letter that too often killed it.

"I only ask to be judged not only by what I have said, but what I have done. I have supported and advocated policies that were not popular in this Province, but I believed these policies were right, and I believe now they were right and because Canada followed those policies we occupy a nobler and better place today among the nations of the world than if we had not. I have no word to detract from what I have said and no deed to regret that I have committed.

TELLS OF ATTACKS.

In the promulgation of those policies and the championing of them I was animated not by any animosity to any province in the Dominion. I made it clear that in framing the laws they were designed to apply to every province and work no special hardship on any. And because I uttered those words they were misquoted in the west and I was attacked on the ground that I had framed the law to favor the Province of Quebec. So I consider that a law which each part of the country seems to consider was framed to favor the other part must have been a pretty fair law after all. I ask you to consider questions on their merits and not be deceived by the voice of calumny and deception. Consider these things out for yourselves, get at the facts, and getting at them, do what you think is right." (Cheers.)

VOICES INTENSE.

Arthur Lalonde, of Montreal, gave a vigorous address in French, in which he pointed out the many occasions on which the Hon. Mr. Meighen had paid tribute to the French Canadian race and given evidence of his desire to cooperate with them in every way possible.

The Hon. C. J. Doherty briefly thanked the audience for their attention and assured them that the members of the cabinet stood behind every word that the Premier uttered—without hesitation, without reservation, they unhesitatingly adopted and endorsed it.

The party afterwards motored back to Cowansville to the Premier's private car, which this morning was attached to the Boston express for Montreal, where the Premier and Mrs. Meighen are spending the day as the guests of the Hon. C. C. and Mrs. Ballantyne.

Representative Gatherings at Knowlton and Cowansville Meet Leader

MESSAGE OF UNITY

Speakers Dwell on Racial Friendship as Illustrated in Townships

KNOWLTON, Que., Sept. 23 (Special to The Star by a Staff Correspondent)—The County of Brome may be represented in the House of Commons by a non-member of the National Liberal-Conservative party, but that there are a very large number of Government supporters in this ideal summer resort on the edge of Brome Lake was demonstrated yesterday, when Premier Meighen and his colleagues of the Cabinet who have been accompanying him on a brief tour of the Eastern Townships arrived at Knowlton at mid-day on their way to Granby for the big political meeting held last night.

The station was gaily bedecked with flags and bunting, while a streamer across the main street declared "Knowlton welcomes Meighen." And the cheers of the crowd of citizens who had gathered to greet the party fully endorsed the written words.

Automobiles were waiting for them, and Mrs. Meighen was the recipient of a handsome bouquet of roses from Miss Kenneth Erskine, on behalf of the school children. The guests drove through the village to Blarney Castle, the residence of Senator George G. Foster, which was lavishly decorated in honor of the occasion. There Mrs. Meighen was entertained to lunch, other guests being Mrs. R. H. Pope, Mrs. McCrae, Mrs. G. Page, Mrs. Leggatt and Mrs. Harris.

A BRILLIANT FUNCTION.

The Premier, drove back to the Lake View House, where Senator Foster had invited a large number of his neighbors to meet the Hon. Mr. Meighen at luncheon. With him were the Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, the Hon. C. J. Doherty, Senator R. H. Pope, Brig.-Gen. D. Draper, Dr. Harris (Mayor), Rev. Canon Carmichael, Rev. E. M. Taylor, Dr. Macdonald, E. Fleury, Jos. Devignon, D. A. Manson, Dr. Henderson, N. F. McKay, J. Roger, K. N. McKeown, John Pibus, L. N. Pibus, Capt. Whitman, F. P. Williams, F. Williams, M. Hunt, C. W. Buchanan, E. L. Collier, Dr. Paintin, and a number of other prominent residents of the district. An excellent luncheon was provided, including the famed Brome Lake duck, and at its conclusion Senator Foster proposed the health of the King.

Then a move was made to the balcony, where an address of welcome was read to the Premier by Dr. Harris, mayor of Knowlton. This referred to the fact that Mr. Meighen had the unique experience of being the youngest Premier ever called upon to preside over the destinies of this country, and expressed the hope that in the solution of the great problems that had followed the upheaval of the past few years and the new ones which would arise, as Canada took her place as one of the most favored nations endowed by nature in the world, that he would prove to be a standard-bearer surrounded by a galaxy of intelligent and loyal Canadians who would not be dominated solely by the idea of the exhaltation of any particular party, race or tongue, but work together for the good of Canada, the future of Canada and leave to posterity a homogeneous people who would thank him for a work well done. The address also welcomed the Cabinet Ministers, and especially greeted Mrs. Meighen as a native of the Eastern Townships.

Senator Foster, on behalf of the citizens, endorsed the welcome given the Premier by the mayor of Knowlton, remarking that for two generations past it had been the proud boast of Brome County that they had had visits from the prominent men who had controlled the destinies of the country, that splendid galaxy of citizens who had written the history of Canada. Because they valued that tradition and remembered with pride and pleasure the honor which those great men did to Brome, so they were proud that the Premier had included that county in his itinerary.

The people of the Eastern Townships were clannish, and loved their country, as well as the people of any other part of the Dominion loved theirs. And they loved and respected one another and worked out their local destinies hand in hand, French and English together, without distinction of race.

MESSAGE FOR THE WEST.

As the Premier spoke to Western audiences, let him tell them that no matter what syren might tell them falsely, the people of the Province of Quebec and the people of Brome had no quarrel with that great Western country, for long before the flood of immigration from the United States and Europe went into that country, the men of Brome were there and had their share in its development, and therefore they felt nothing but goodwill for that splendid country and the success it had achieved.

Let him convey to them that message of goodwill and ask them to join together in that spirit, in order that they might build up a united Canada.

The fact that Mrs. Meighen was one of the girls of that district would gain for the Premier a personal sympathy and support that no Premier ever had before, no matter where he came from.

Senator Foster also paid tribute to the Hon. Mr. Ballantyne and the Hon. Mr. Doherty, whom he described as honest, capable patriotic men engaged in the service of the country.

PREMIER THANKS HOSTS.

Premier Meighen complimented the mayor on the sentiments expressed in the address, and thanked Senator Foster for the splendid hospitality extended to his colleagues and himself. The success of the tour was due in very great degree to the careful planning of Mr. Foster. The Eastern Townships were quite evidently inhabited by a clannish people, and he had not very much faith in people who had not that clannish feeling. That feeling of brotherhood and loyalty to one's own district was one of the very best things that bound a race, and he urged them to keep that spirit alive.

The address emphasized the concord between the two great Canadian races, and contrasted, by inference, with the estrangement that in some degree did exist between the English and French elements elsewhere in this Dominion, but not so greatly as was often stated.

"I think if one reads the hearts of the multitude of the people," continued the Premier, "instead of the headlines of the extremist press we will conclude that there is a whole lot less estrangement than we were led to believe there was. In Manitoba the English people are not to be heard, except in the most negligible instances, to give utterance to expressions such as many people here have been led to believe is the dominant feeling of this people. Their feeling is the feeling of friendship. That is the prevailing feeling, and anyone who is worth while among them has no other feeling whatever.

"It is true that knowledge of each other is the very best thing to drive out misunderstanding and consequent hostility and it is because intercourse between certain of the population of English extraction and French extraction is geographically not possible that the designs of those who would traffic in racial hatred sometimes meet with success."

Senator Foster said that the Hon. Sydney Fisher had asked him to express to the Premier his regret that illness prevented him being present to join in the welcome to him.

The Hon. Mr. Meighen said he could not allow the opportunity to pass without expressing his sincere appreciation of the message from the Hon. Sydney Fisher. For twelve years he had known him and most of that time sat with him as a fellow member of the House of Commons. Though they differed, and consistently differed on public questions they were through all those years personal friends, and he joined with his fellow citizens of Knowlton in expressing real and earnest regret at the misfortune that had befallen him, by ill-health, and with the same earnestness he expressed the hope that the recovery which he was informed was well under way would be continued, and that Mr. Fisher would soon be in good health and spirits again.

Senator Foster then introduced Mrs. Meighen to the audience declaring that she was "one of the greatest assets that the Meighen firm possesses." Mrs. Meighen was greeted with hearty cheers and smilingly acknowledged the salutation.

PROMISE OF THE FUTURE.

Hon. C. J. Doherty remarked that his father had, in the early days, his share in the teaching of the men who laid the foundations of the great progress in the Eastern Townships. Referring to the Premier, the Minister of Justice declared that those who had seen him at work had seen enough to know that they might without hesitation say to the people of Canada that if God only spared him for the allotted span of man's life they were receiving that day a Prime Minister whose career when it was finished would leave behind it on the pages of history a record second to none of the men who had preceded him in that great office.

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne greeted Knowlton as an old friend of his early days, when he used to visit the Eastern Townships and he assured the audience that just as he used to offer them good wares in those days, so the Government of which he was a member would offer them the best wares possible and worthy of their acceptance.

The party then drove back to the station, while Premier Meighen drove out to the Hon. Sydney Fisher's house and paid his respects to him, the special train backing up from Knowlton in order to pick Hon. Mr. Meighen up and carry him on to Cowansville.

COWANSVILLE'S WELCOME.

On arrival at Cowansville the Prime Minister was met by F. X. A. Giroux, chairman of the local reception committee, and the Hon. W. F. Vilas, M.L.C., Mayor of Cowansville, and a large number of citizens. Motors were provided and took the party for a brief drive of the town, before going to the Town Hall, where a special stand had been erected, decorated with autumn-tinted maple leaves. Addresses of welcome in English and French were presented by the Mayor, and Premier Meighen in acknowledging them, said that Cowansville was a place he had been anxious to visit for nine years, for it would always be associated in his mind with the memory of a young man whose home was there and who represented the neighboring County of Brome in Parliament. He had had the honor of counting Col. Baker among his personal friends. Col. Baker had left home and friends at the call of his country and fell in the heat of conflict a sacrifice for the country he loved. The story of his life and his soldier's death should be an inspiration to the town and district in this generation and to posterity as well.

The premier spoke of the beauties of the Eastern Townships, and of its evident prosperity, expressing the belief that the mingling of industrial and agricultural interests gave people a better outlook and a less tendency to hard-hearted commercialism that existed in some other parts of the country where there was not so much variety. He spoke of the amity that existed between the two races and declared that out of the loins of France and England had sprung a race which lived in harmony and mutual respect and gave an example to the whole community which he wished they would emulate.

Hon. C. J. Doherty also spoke, being introduced by A. J. Leonard, his address in French being well received.

The Premier and his party then left for Granby, where the big mass meeting was held in the evening, following a civic reception.

TWO VOTES FOR PONZI.

She carried 800 bags of mail and 1,000 tons of cargo. # GRANBY'S TRIBUTE TO MRS. MEIGHEN

First Lady of Land Given Real Home-Coming Reception

GRANBY, Sept. 23.—(Special to the Star by a staff correspondent.)—Yesterday was a great day for Mrs. Meighen, wife of the Premier of Canada, for on it, she returned to her native town of Granby and received the plaudits of those among whom she had lived in years gone by, and the hearty congratulations of people in all stations of life on the proud position of the first lady in the land to which she had risen.

The civic reception in the Town Hall was more than a formal gathering—it was a home-coming, and the sentiments of the townspeople were faithfully interpreted in the beautifully illuminated address which was presented to the Premier by Mayor P. E. Boivin. This welcomed the Premier and assured him of their unfaltering loyalty to the Crown, and then proudly went on to relate the expression of deep appreciation of the gracious presence of Mrs. Meighen, in whose veins ran the blood of one of the early pioneers of Granby, and although she had risen to be the first lady in the land they had the right to claim her as one of themselves.

The address expressed the hope that the Premier would be possessed with the vision of a leader with the power to stimulate the sober thought of the Dominion and promote an atmosphere of stability and harmony and to initiate only such legislation as in the impartial judment of a well-ordered man would tend to the greatest good to the greatest number, so that through the far spaces of the country few cries of discontent would be heard but rather a brotherhood of citizens established.

Mrs. Meighen was presented with a huge bouquet of roses by Miss Kathleen Smith, who was kissed as her reward.

PREMIER'S MEMORIES.

Premier Meighen, received with loud applause, said the feelings with which he addressed the people of Granby were different from those experienced elsewhere for he had memories and associations with that town which he would always carry. He felt indeed honored to come to Granby and receive from the hands of the Mayor and his personal good friend, the Hon. G. H. Boivin, M.P., for that county, the words of welcome which had just been delivered. It was a matter of regret to him that he could not reply to it in both languages, as it had been given in. He had tried to do so once, but the result was such a humiliation to himself that he came to the conclusion that there must be some education intervening before making the attempt again.

When he visited Granby on his wedding trip in 1904 he never imagined that he would ever be appearing before an audience in that town or any other as a politician. But one thing had led to another and the fact that they had led so far was to him a matter of greater surprise than it was to anyone. However, the responsibility now was his, and it was shared by very able men, and every ounce of his strenth and resources would be exercised to discharge that responsibility honorably and creditably to his country and himself. He was delighted that one of the daughters of Granby shared that responsibility with him and he assured them he would not be where he was but for her assistance.

MISS SYBIL KENNEDY, YOUNG DIXIE PLAYER, GIVES GREAT PROMISE

Strenuous Contests in Canadian Ladies' Golf Championships at Hamilton, But Canadian and U.S. Champions are Fancied

MISS SYBIL KENNEDY

Youthful Royal Montreal lady golfer, who is said to have a good chance for Canadian honors.

HAMILTON, Sept. 23. (Star Special). The process of elimination continued in the Ladies' Canadian Golf Championship tournament at the Ancaster links of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club, today when the first round of the championship competition, the driving competition and the first round of the consolation series were all cleaned up. Ideal weather with a warm sun and fast greens made for a delightful day, and the players took good opportunity of the chance to wind up the play at an early hour. Few surprises were noticed in the general results, but some really good scores were registered, chief of which was an 83 by Miss Alexia Sterling, the American champion; an 84 by Miss Nesbitt, the Woodstock golfer, who represents the Hamilton Club in all the competitions, and an 85 by Miss Ada Mackenzie, the Canadian title holder. Miss Mackenzie had returned the best gross score of the qualifying round on Tuesday with 88, three strokes better than her nearest opponent, and when she came in at noon with her 85 it was conceded that she had set something for them all to shoot at. It was not long, however, before Miss Sterling completed her journey round the course, creating some excitement with a card of 83. Miss Nesbitt, who had been content to qualify on the first day with 96, was among the last lot of the championship competitors to come in, but she was intently upon a seat with the mighty, as her 84 indicated. Of the three scores Miss Nesbitt's was the cleanest cut. Miss Sterling and Miss Mackenzie both got into trouble. The former lost a ball on the eleventh green and was given an approximate score of 7 for the hole, which really meant a penalty of two strokes. Miss Mackenzie's difficulties came on the third hole, when her opponent's ball was lost, the Canadian champion crediting herself with a seven for the hole and continuing play. As par for the third hole is 4 and the average is 5 it is readily seen that Miss Mackenzie did not give herself any the best of the deal. The three cards are mighty interesting if for no other reason than that they were the best scores put in since the tourney opened. They are as follows:

Miss Sterling:
Out .. .. .. ..4 5 6 4 5 4 5 4 4—41
In .. .. .. ..4 7 5 3 4 5 3 6 5—42—83

Miss Nesbitt:
Out .. .. .. ..5 5 5 6 4 3 5 4 4—41
In .. .. .. ..5 5 4 4 4 7 3 6 5—43—84

Miss Mackenzie:
Out .. .. .. ..5 5 7 6 4 3 5 4 5—44
In .. .. .. ..5 5 5 4 3 4 5 4 6 5—41—85

The two champions had little difficulty in disposing of their opponents, and had the opposition been a bit keener there is no doubt that the above scores would have been bettered. In fact Miss Sterling felt able to negotiate the course in 81 had it been necessary for her to play out the eleventh hole. Miss Mackenzie had things quite easy in her game, winning the first seven holes and being six up at the turn. This was true practically of all the favorites.

Miss Robertson, runner up last year in the championship final, disposed of Mrs. Woods of Beaconsfield, in handy fashion, while Miss Sidney Pepler of Toronto had no trouble with Mrs. Allen of Winnipeg. Mrs. E. A. Mackenzie, of Vancouver, continued to show some good golf, while Miss Annable, the representative of the Kanawaki Club, advanced considerably in the estimation of the experts by reason of her excellent play.

Miss Bauld, the Halifax player, was expected to encounter stiff opposition from Mrs. Ahern, the Quebec champion, but the Ottawa lady was somewhat off her game and Miss Bauld had an easy time. Miss Joyce Hutton survived the play after a good fight with Mrs. Hammill of the Mississauga Club, while Miss Sybil Kennedy, a young Montreal girl, also reached the second round, a really good performance in view of her youth and experience, and she will be closely watched today. Of the sixteen players left in the championship struggle, Montreal has six, with the Toronto clubs coming next, the record being as follows: Montreal, 6; Toronto, 6; Hamilton, 2; Atlanta, U.S.A., 1; Vancouver, 1; Halifax, 1.

This is dividing the honors in good style and is a somewhat natural sequence in view of the fact that the twenty-nine clubs are represented in the tournament as follows: Mississauga, Hamilton, Baltimore, London, Toronto, Beaconsfield, Lambton, Quebec, Rosedale, Royal Montreal, Royal Ottawa, Brantford, Rivermeade, St. Charles, Kanawaki, Halifax, Atlanta, Vancouver, Niagara Falls, N.Y., Lakeview, Scarboro, Murray Bay, Sarnia, Oshawa, St. Catharines, Summitt and Montreal Country Club.

Considerable interest was manifested in the driving competition, which brought out a large field, the winner turning up in Mrs. K. C. Allen of the St. Charles Club, Winnipeg. Mrs. Allen secured a total of 586 yards for her three drives, with 183 yards on the first drive, 194 on the second and 209 on the third. She was closely followed by Miss Bauld of Halifax, who continues to hold her place in the front row. Miss Bauld had a total of 580 yards, with 168, 207 and 205 for her three drives respectively.

The best single drives went to the two champions. Miss Ada Mackenzie, Canadian title holder, drove out for 225 yards, but her first effort was off and she was eliminated. Miss Sterling, with 224 yards for her second effort, failed on her first ball. Mrs. Allen's victory was quite unexpected, as it was the general opinion that Miss Pepler or Miss Elmsley or some others noted for their driving ability would divide the honors. The prizes failed to go to the ones fancied for the event, and it is just as possible for the championship to go the same way, even though Miss Mackenzie and Miss Sterling are turning in such splendid scores.

By Thursday evening the fourth round in the championship will have been reached. Play in the second round started in at 10:10 a.m., and the winners started out on the third round at 2:30 p.m. This will bring the contest down to the four who will enter the semi-final stage. With indications of good weather early in the day, some excellent scores were expected.

Play in the championship consolation series also commenced today. The draw for this event is as follows:

Miss L. Hammill vs. Mrs. H. M. Bostwick. Mrs. Ahern vs. Mrs. Armstrong. Mrs. J. H. Riddell vs. Mrs. Goodearle. Mrs. Woods vs. Miss Willo Gage. Miss Bowes vs. Miss A. Strachan. Mrs. Kerr Cronyn vs. Miss Jean Denny. Miss Hazel Kennedy vs. Mrs. K. C. Allen. Miss Frances Sharp vs. Miss Maud Codville.

The first round of the championship consolation is called for 9:30 a.m. and the second round for 2 p.m.

Those of the defeated in the first round of the championship play are as follows: Miss Robertson, out 567, 454, 544—44; in 6 7 6 3, 6 up. Miss Pepler, out 651 045 464—50; in 7 6 4 3 5 4—5 up. Miss Kennedy, out, 864 565 645—49; in 665 553,467—49—98. Mrs. More, out 776, 654 535—48. In 565 446 567—49—97. Miss Annable, out 776 666 656—55; in 6 6 5 5—7 up. Miss Mills, out 565 754 555—47 in 573 347—4—3 up.

METROPOLE PREPARE FOR ST. ARSENE FIGHT

The Metropole baseball club held a fast work-out last night in preparation for their meeting on Sept. 26 at National grounds with St. Arsene in the city baseball championship series. With only one game standing between them and a crushing defeat, the Independent champions are in grim earnest for the coming battle, and will line up at full strength.

It is likely that Art Duchesnil, the veteran hurler who pitched such a sensational game last Saturday, will be the choice in the coming battle. Duchesnil was out-lucked to lose in an extra-inning game, and with a week's work, is in grand shape. If he is not started, Henri Clement will probably get the call. The St. Arsene team is planning to use their star, Olivier in an effort to clinch the title.

"LAST WORLD'S SERIES NOT ON SQUARE," STATED

CHICAGO, Sept. 23. (United Press.) From five to seven players on the White Sox team are involved in charges of crooked baseball in connection with the 1919 world series between the Chicago Americans and the Cincinnati Reds, which was not on the square, Hartley Replogle, assistant state's attorney, declared after the first day's investigation of baseball scandal by the Cook County grand jury.

"Some very good stuff was brought out," Replogle said, summing up the testimony of Ban Johnson, president of the American League, Charles Comiskey and William Veeck, presidents of the Chicago clubs, and sporting writers.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—(United Press)—Rube Benton, pitcher of the New York Giants, was expected to furnish sensations today when he appeared before the county grand jury investigating alleged baseball gambling scandals.

Benton was to be quizzed regarding charges made by Charles Herzog, of the Chicago Nationals, that on a tip from Hal Chase, barred from baseball for alleged gambling, Benton made $3,500 betting the Cincinnati Reds would win the first two games of the world's series with the Chicago White Sox last year.

John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, and Barry McCormick, umpire of the Philadelphia-Cubs game here August 31, have been asked to appear before the grand jury next week.

"The last world's series between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds was not on the square," Assistant State's Attorney Harry L. Replogle, charge of the grand jury action, declared after the first day's investigation. Ban Johnson, president of the American League; William Veeck and Charles Comiskey, presidents of the Chicago baseball clubs and sporting writers testified at that session.

"From five to seven players on the Chicago White Sox team are involved," Replogle said. He declined to give further details.

JACK BLOOMFIELD HERE FOR THE HOWARD BOUT

Jack Bloomfield, the much-discussed British middleweight, who knocked out Eugene Brosseau here two weeks ago, arrived in Montreal this morning from New York, where he has been training with Georges Carpentier and Levinsky, and incidentally preparing himself for the battle with the rugged Bayonne fighter.

Bloomfield is tanned as a result of his out-door training since leaving here, and looks in splendid condition. "I hardly expect to stop such a rugged fighter as Howard," he said this morning, "though of course, I'll try my very best. But I'm sure I'll out-point him for as a result of working with Carpentier, I am boxing faster than I ever did before. If I beat Howard, I will be very glad to meet Jeff Smith, or any other middleweight the promoters here select, in a bout of any distance. O'Dowd, Johnny Wilson, or any of the top-notchers would suit me."

Howard is expected here either tonight or tomorrow morning. The veteran Bayonne fighter is boxing at the top of his form just now, and on the strength of his remarkable showing against George Chip, will have strong support. Howard is a heavy hitter, while Bloomfield has not yet shown whether he could take punishment, as Brosseau failed to land a single heavy blow on him when they met. It is also a matter for speculation whether Bloomfield's open style will be suited against a rushing, hard-hitting fighter like Howard.

Jim Harris, an English feather-weight, who had a good record on the other side, will make his local debut tomorrow night with one of the local featherweights.

Bloomfield is working out at Theors' gymnasium this evening with Jack Kid Thomas.

FALL OUT OF THE RING ENDED FEATURE BOUT

They will soon need a set of safety nets to string around and below the edges of the boxing and wrestling platform at the Mount Royal Arena, if the boxers and wrestlers performing there continue to indulge in their playful habit of throwing one another to the floor.

The crowd never objects; it is there to get thrills, and a four-foot fall of one or two men, sometimes mixed in deadly embrace, gives it.

It occurred again last night, when the newcomer to local wrestling, Tom Draak, hurt his shoulder so badly that he was unable to continue. The accident happened when he and Salvatore Chevalier had been wrestling for fifty-four minutes, and both were striving to obtain a hold too near the ropes. Suddenly they broke through the side and with the unfortunate Draak underneath, the two landed on the floor below. The Dutchman gamely picked himself up and re-entered the ring, but it was evident that he had received a serious injury, for in no time the powerful Frenchman had taken him for a fall, pinning his two shoulders squarely on the mat, with no seeming difficulty. However, when the second part of the match was started, Draak did not appear to be in very good condition and complained that he could not move his right shoulder. Chevalier gladly agreed to discontinue the match owing to the handicap of his clever opponent.

Draak seemed to make a good impression for his first appearance, and the match was a fine exhibition of clever, clean wrestling.

The semi-final between Ivan Linow and Sula Havenpau, which was a good deal of a burlesque, ended in a victory for the former in a quick fall after about half an hour's grappling. The fall was unexpected and the bewildered Havenpau was taken completely unawares. It happened when the excitable Finn was claiming a fall to Refered McKinney. Linow grabbed his opponent and had him down in a short time.

It was announced after the match that Cazeau is to meet a wrestler by the name of Marcevitch next Wednesday night, and as the second match last night is along the style of the Cazeau an interesting match is expected.

Ivan Linow expressed a desire to meet Salvatore Chevalier as he has not come up against the Frenchman yet.

OPENING BREAKFAST OF THE HUNT SATURDAY

The opening breakfast of the Montreal Hunt will take place at the new Kennels, Fresniere, on Saturday, September 25th. Special cars will leave on the Canadian National Railway, Lagauchetiere street, at 9 a.m. (Standard Time) and return immediately after the breakfast. Already over a hundred have signified their intention of being present.

JOHN E. TURTON

Secretary Canadian Branch, one of the district representatives on the Canadian team for Scotland.

J. BRUCE STEWART

One of the district representatives on the Canadian Curling team to invade Scotland.

The Star was enabled to announce yesterday for the first time the names of the six gentlemen and a spare who will represent this district on the team which will leave St. John, New Brunswick, on the thirtieth of December to invade Scotland. All of those mentioned are certain to go with the possible exception of Mr. Murray who, being a Government official, will have to obtain permission, but it is hoped and expected that under the circumstances there will be no difficulty about that.

Mr. Murray is the president of the Outremont Curling Club.

The two gentlemen whose pictures are published today, Bruce Stewart and Jack Turton, are exceedingly well-known in the sporting, business and social life of Montreal.

Mr. Stewart has been the secretary of the Branch of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club of Scotland for some time, and has the reputation of being a painstaking and active official, as well as a crack curler.

Jack Turton is one of the best known men-about-town in the city, and used to have a great reputation as an entertainer.

Thomas Williamson, whose picture appeared yesterday, belongs to a curling family, and the name has been one to conjure with in Montreal curling circles for years. His own reputation as a strong curler dates back a score of years.

SCHNEIDER GETS GOLD MEDAL FROM MONTREAL

A magnificent gold medal, thanks mainly to the efforts of Ald. Louis Rubenstein, is about to be presented by the City of Montreal to one of its citizens, Albert E. Schneider.

Mr. Schneider's name will be recalled as the winner of the welterweight boxing championships recently staged at the Olympic Games in Antwerp. The presentation will be made by Mayor Mederic Martin in person on Monday next at the City Hall.

The medal, which is unusually large and handsome, bears on its obverse a wreath of maple leaves raised, and a shield with the city arms executed in colored enamel. The reverse bears an inscription that this medal is in commemoration of Mr. Schneider having won the "145 pounds boxing championship of the world at the Olympic Games held at Antwerp, Belgium, in 1920."

A similar presentation was made to George Hodgson when he won the Olympic Swimming Championship.

HAMILTON JOINS FORCES WITH N.H.L.

(From Yesterday's Postscript Edition.)

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—(Star Special). —It was learned yesterday that the Hamilton Arena directors have paid over their money to the National Hockey League for a franchise in the Old Pro Circuit. This settles the question of whether Hamilton would be in the new C.H.A. or the N.H.L. The C.H.A. were counting on Hamilton and claimed to have had them lined up. But the St. Patrick club officers and the N.H.L. have not been idle and have been working quietly on the matter. With Hamilton in the circuit it means that the St. Patrick team will play in Hamilton this winter if the C.H.A. block that out of the local Arena. With Hamilton now in the C.H.A. it is wondered just how their circuit will line up. One suggestion is that there be four teams in Toronto, but this would not prove popular nor profitable.

President Calder of the N.H.L. refuses to say anything further than "that he had received no money from Hamilton." From the radiant manner of the N.H.L. people interviewed it is safe to say that if Hamilton has not yet paid any money they soon will do so.

REDS OUT OF RUN FOR PENNANT ON LOSS YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. (By L. R. Blanchard, United Press Staff Correspondent) — A National League communique today said the Reds were decisively defeated and had retired to the fastness of Cincinnati to rebuild their forces for the 1921 campaign.

The Reds definitely slid out of the list of pennant possibilities by losing two games to Pittsburgh yesterday while the Dodgers continued their triumphant rush by defeating Boston. Brooklyn failed to shake off the Giants entirely. The New Yorkers theoretically remained in the running by whipping the Chicago Cubs.

The task before the Dodgers today was to win two more games. They have six contests left, five of them with the Giants. If Brooklyn were to win two, one victory naturally will have to be at the expense of the Giants. Allowing the Dodgers those two victories, while the Giants win seven, dropping one to the Dodgers, the final standing would be:

| | Won. | Lost | P.C. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Brooklyn | 91 | 63 | .591 |
| New York | 90 | 64 | .584 |

If the Giants relax only enough to let the Brooklynites win one of the final series, the best that can happen will be a tie.

The biggest noise of the year for the American League was due in Cleveland. Indians and Sox were waiting there for a fight to the finish. An even split will leave Cleveland out in front. A clean sweep for the Sox would give them a fine chance at the pennant. The series was as near crucial as crucial series ever become.

Grand Trunk Boat Club Barn Dance

Owing to the great success attending all the dances, the committee have put on this season, they have decided to hold a barn dance tomorrow (Friday) night, before the closing dance for the season is held. A real good time is promised all who attend, and the committee have made arrangements to entertain a large crowd.

The date of the closing dance will be announced next week.

LAYS ASIDE CLUBS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Bobby Jones, the youthful golf wizard from the Druid Hills Club of Atlanta, Ga., like many other link stars, is over-golfed. Due to the multiplicity of tournaments and keenness of competition in this country, the Atlanta star is ready and willing to lay aside the clubs for the books.

Jones played his last match of the season Monday, he declares, and will leave for Georgia School of Technology to complete his studies. He enters the junior class this fall.

BILL HUGHES IS TEMPORARILY IN CHARGE M.A.A.A.

With nearly thirty players in uniform, the squad of the champion M. A. A. A. football team got down to work in earnest last night. The first match in the Big Four series is only a week from Saturday, and with two bad gaps on the club yet unfilled, the Winged Wheelers are throwing every effort into their work to be at the top of their form. Their first match is in Toronto, with the Argos, who are generally credited with being the team to beat this year, the Oarsmen having recruited a formidable crew, including most of last year's stalwarts.

The failure of Hughey Jaques, the star booter of last year's team, to report this season, and the continued refusal of Frank McGill, the quarter-back of the club, to play football again, has left two bad holes which are yet unfilled. The back division has been further weakened by the defection of big Art Brophy, who after many years of service has decided to give up football for all time.

With Jaques definitely out, after intimating that he would be with the team, it is likely to devolve on the reliable Ken Barwick to do the booting. Barwick is really a high-class punter, though his light was under a bushel last season as a result of the remarkable booting of Jaques. Barwick gets both height and distance on his spirals. Tommy Thompson is another good booter and will be lined up on the back division with Barwick.

A welcome addition to the squad last night was Joe Gilhooley, the crack wing man of last season's McGill team. It had been doubtful whether Gilhooley could be secured, but he set the worries of the club at rest last evening when he trotted out in uniform. Gilhooley and Bill Sharpe, who is going great guns, will give the Winged Wheelers the finest and most wicked pair of tacklers on the circuit. Pringle Seath, another of last season's McGill stars, is working regularly. Seath is one of the most ardent workers on the club.

It was reported today that friction over signals had developed between Joe Donnelly, the coach, and the club over the matter of signals. It is said that last year's signals do not meet with Donnelly's approval, and the team worked last night under Bill Hughes.

A meeting of the Quebec Rugby Union is called for Saturday to draw up the intermediate schedule.

CASE OF MISSING HORSE NEARS END

(From Yesterday's Postscript Edition.)

The race horse "Fair and Warmer" which was reported to have been stolen from the track at Blue Bonnets, will be returned to its owners today. The parties holding the horse have now been located. Mr. Nicholson, of the firm of Messrs Nicholson and Plante, who gave The Star this information, is representing the owners of the horse. Messrs. Whatley, Roris and Williams. Mr. Nicholson says he will conduct their case in the action which they are threatening to bring against the Montreal Jockey Club for neglect.

He added that in the course of his investigation leading to the discovery of the parties who are holding the horse he has learned a great deal of the trickery practised by racehorse men. As he considers that it is to the interests of the public that this should be disclosed, he will make a statement later on. At this stage of the inquiries into the circumstances attending the disappearance of the horse, he says an early disclosure would spoil things.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 23.—(Star Special.)—Further enquiry at Thorncliffe track yesterday failed to throw any light on the disappearance of Fair and Warmer from Blue Bonnets. It was verified that P. A. Jones, who is said to be the real owner of the horse, has horses on nearly every track, the majority of them leased out to other people and not racing under the name of Jones though those at Thorncliffe are.

It was also learned pretty definitely yesterday that Whatley, the owner, while prominent in jockey circles around here sometime ago, never rode for Seagram.

HIGH SCHOOL GAMES AT STADIUM TOMORROW

The largest entry on record has been made by High School boys for their annual field games tomorrow afternoon, more than 500. If the weather holds, the day should prove most successful in every way. The 100 yards dash is as usual open to competitors from the schools of the Inter-Scholastic Association. The games begin at 2 p.m.; access to the grounds will be gained from Pine avenue only.

ST. LAMBERT CLUB DANCE.

The last of the regular weekly dances held by the St. Lambert Boating Club will take place on Friday evening. This will wind up a successful season of the club and as the dances throughout the summer have been well attended, the closing one is expected to draw out a good representation of the members.

WELL RUN RACES AT DORVAL RACE TRACK ON FIFTH DAY MEET

Zollicoffer Stable Won Two Events and Had One Second—Jockey J. Smith and Trainer W. Walsh Reinstated Yesterday

The card on the fifth day of the autumn meeting of the Dorval Jockey Club yesterday was again without a feature race, but some closely contested and well-run events made the day a success. One of the largest crowds in some time with the exception of Saturday attended and the betting on the mutuels was decidedly brisk. Those who attended were fortunate in striking ideal weather conditions.

The prices returned from the mutuel machines were not as liberal as some have been lately, but nevertheless a few good prices were paid. The biggest price of the day was returned on High Olympus, which came second in the seventh race. A $2 place ticket on this horse paid $19.80. In this race Truant set the pace and led the way for three-quarters of the course. In the stretch Antiphon rushed to the front and came in first, with High Olympus second and Astraea third.

The Zollicoffer stable made a double win with Trickster II. and Highland Lad in the sixth and third races respectively. Both these horses scored well-earned victories over good fields. Hidden Ship, also of this stable, ran second in the fourth race.

Sevillian repeated his former day's win and ran as fine a race, under a smart ride by Jockey Hayward. Broom Peddler coming up from behind and defeating Salvatelle was surprising to all in the fifth.

Trainer W. Walsh and Jockey J. Smith, suspended by the stewards at the Kempton Park meeting over an indifferent performance by W. T. Trenholme's Redpost, have been reinstated.

The owners of the two-year-olds named in the event for Canadian-bred maiden two-year-olds to be run this afternoon have requested that the same race be put on for Friday with the exception of the winner. Two other youngsters have been added to the list eligible to start.

JACK BLOOMFIELD

His bout at the Mount Royal Arena tomorrow is looked for with great interest.

William Northey, secretary of the Montreal Jockey Club, was a visitor at the course during the afternoon.

Jockey Frank Murphy, who was suspended at the meeting at Dorval in the spring, will ask at the meeting of the Canadian Racing Associations at Toronto on Saturday that his suspension be lifted.

Three carloads of horses are scheduled to leave Dorval this afternoon. They will be raced at the meeting at Chargin Falls, near Cleveland.

GOLFING NOTES UP TO DATE.

Word was received yesterday that Harry Vardon and Ted Ray, the famous Britons, will sail for home on the Celtic November 6. Rumor had it that they would remain in America during the winter, visiting California and the South during November, December and January, but this was denied by Arthur D. Paterson, who is managing the tour for Vardon and Ray. The pair are fully booked up to that time and will return to the New York district October 2, when they will play at Upper Montclair. On October 3 they will appear at the Century Country Club, October 4 at Lido, at Garden City the following day, at Essex County October 6, and at Knickerbocker, Shackamaxon and Woodmere October 7, 9 and 10 respectively. Their last appearance will be at the Nassau Country Club October 30, but before that they will play at Dixie.

It is seldom that four star golfers, such as Vardon, Ray, Jack Dowling and Frank McNamara, halve sixteen out of eighteen holes in an exhibition match, as was the case at Cherry Valley. So far as the first round was concerned, the quartette might just as well have returned to the clubhouse after the third hole was played, for at that stage Vardon and Ray stood 2 up and the issue remained the same when they retired for luncheon. As it was the famous Britons only ended the thirty-six holes 3 up and 1 to play.

WATCHING THE BIG LEAGUE'S SCOREBOARD

Sherrod Smith held the Braves to six hits and put the Dodgers within two games of the National League pennant by winning 3 to 1.

The Pirates worked their way to within three games of third place by taking a double bill from the world champion Reds, 2 to 0 and 3 to 1. Adams and Ponder were the winning pitchers.

Dave Bancroft contributed to the Giants' 7 to 2 win over the Cubs by lamming out four hits and accepting ten chances without a bobble.

Lyons, a Cardinal rookie from Sioux City, defeated the Phillies, 4 to 2, in his first big league appearance.

The American League clubs had an off-day.

DUNLOP ROAD RACE.

Alderman Louis Rubinstein, president of the Canadian Wheelman's Association has been informed that the Dunlop Road Race will be run as usual this year. The event is to take place on Danforth Markham Road, Toronto on Saturday, October 16. Entries are to be made with F. O. Johnson, of 106 Adelaide street west, Toronto.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT.

The Devil will get the jazzers.—The Reverend John Roach Straton.

George Washington, we've often read, a lively measure used to tread
With zip and pep in every step,
And sinuous gyration.
He did the minuet, it's true, for that's the only dance they knew,
For only one was ever done,
In George's generation.

If George were in our midst today, we doubt not that he'd swing and sway
And take a chance on every dance
He found was in the fashion.
The General was never slow, and from our history we know
It's gospel truth that in his youth
The jig step was his passion.

Yet Washington did fairly well—he woed and won a stately belle,
And though he danced—as years advanced
And honors rained around him—
His countrymen revered his name, they gave him opulence and fame
And if he'd stood for it they would Have actually crowned him.

And when today we're sternly told the Devil has a strangle hold
On every girl and boy who whirls
Around the jazzing palace,
The fact that George was never much entangled in said Devil's clutch
We don't forget, and so the threat
We take cum grano salis.

THE PASSING HOUR

Jenkins—Miss Beggs is much older than I thought.

Tompkins—How's that?

Jenkins—I asked her if she had read Aesop's Fables, and she told me she's read them when they first came out.

The curious effect sometimes produced in telegrams by want of punctuation or the omission of a single small word cannot fail to have struck every one.

A London lawyer had a woman relative in Scotland from whom he had "expectations." She had been ailing for some weeks, when one morning came a telegram asking the lawyer's wife to go at once as she—his aunt—was much worse. His wife accordingly went.

During the evening of the following day the husband received this announcement:

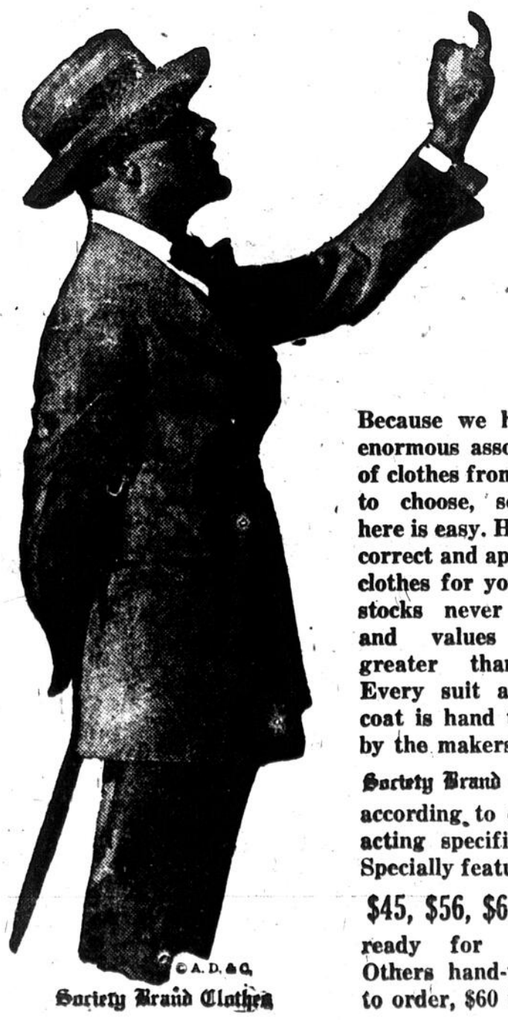

"Aunt Matilda went to heaven at 3.30 returning by 11.50 tomorrow morning."

There is a popular belief rather widespread that the third finger of the left hand, usually known as the wedding ring finger, is the first finger that a newborn babe is able to move and is the last part of the body over which a dying person loses control.

McGRAW GETTING EVEN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. — The betting along Broadway is that, while the recent expulsion of John McGraw from the Lambs Club may have marked the end of one fight, it probably marked the beginning of another. McGraw, having been put out of the Lambs Club, has put some of the Lambs out of his club, or so runs the story which is being handed about today, and no one has been found who will deny it.

In short, the guardian of the press gate at the Polo grounds, acting under orders presumably issued by the Giants' manager, who also is vice-president and part owner of the club, took up the season passes of several Lambs when the passes were presented at the grounds yesterday.

Some of these passes, it is said, were issued to the erstwhile holders by McGraw.

FEATURE FOR TWO-YEAR-OLDS.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., Sept. 23.—It seems possible that the two-year-old championship will be definitely settled here Saturday in the running of the $10,000 Eastern Shore Stakes, a six furlong dash for which the real contenders for the title have been named. Among these are James W. McClelland's Leonardo II., winner of the Hopeful, and Harry Payne Whitney's Tryster, winner of numerous stakes, and neither of which has yet been defeated. If these two start and one of them are returned the winner, the race will be generally accepted as having decided the championship.

UPHELD LANDLORD'S PRIVILEGE CLAIM

In a judgment rendered by Mr. Justice Mercier in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon, His Lordship upheld the rights of a landlord on a question of a privileged claim for rent. The issue rose in sequence to proceedings taken originally to recover the rent of the race track of the Maisonneuve Driving Park.

The property was leased by the Viauville Lands Company to Henri A. E. Morin et al, and they sub-let to the driving club. Action was taken by the proprietors against Morin and his associates to recover $5,100.95 for rent and taxes. Judgment was given in August, 1919, maintaining the claim, and the Land Company in execution of the judgment put a seizure on the club stands, judges' box, fences and other moveables on the race course.

In the present action Aristide M. Joncas, manager and assistant treasurer of the driving club, proceeded by tierce opposition to judgment, and claimed ownership in some of the effects seized by the Viauville Lands Company.

Mr. Justice Mercier found that the tierce opposition was not justified, and judgment intervened maintaining the Viauville Land's contestation of Joncas' claim and dismissing the tierce opposition with costs.

STILL ANOTHER HUNGER-STRIKE

Ship's Stokers Enjoy Two Days' Voluntary Starvation, Then Desert

Although much in the limelight, MacSwiney is not the only one battling against alleged tyranny by means of the spectacular martyrdom of a hunger strike. Nine stokers of the Norwegian freighter, G. S. Gilbert, while that vessel was in the Montreal harbour decided to emulate the Sinn Fein hero, and refused all food for two days. They were fired to adopt this method of forcing the Captain's hand by the oratory of an agitator who after declaiming on their rights left them to watch for him in vain while following out his instructions. The Gilbert, commanded by Captain Ericson, arrived in this port from Greece, having been commissioned by the Greek Government to take on in Montreal a load of wheat for that country. The stokers were Scandinavians and as soon as they arrived here they demanded from the skipper the full amount of the wages due them. He, believing that they were about to desert stated that he would give them each ten dollars, but no more. This offer they scornfully declined and with the advice of the demagogue fresh in their minds, sat down on the hatches and played cards, informing the Captain that without pay they wouldn't work.

He straightway told them that until the boilers were cleaned they wouldn't get anything to eat—unless they worked they would get no food—so they sat and smoked for twenty-four hours, holding up all the work of loading. At the end of this time the mate taking pity on them offered them some food, which they scornfully refused. Another day passed during which they still looked for the arrival of the demagogue who was to come to their aid and provide for them. Two days of starvation was enough, however, and at last realizing that the agitator had deserted them, they capitulated and accepted the captain's offer of ten dollars together with a pass to get out of the harbor. They disappeared and have never returned, although some of the deserters forfeited as much as a hundred dollars in wages, and are probably making for the lumber camps for the winter. The ship was now entirely without stokers, and the captain managed to find six Arabs who were glad enough of the chance to get to Greece and cover that much of their journey home. No sooner had this addition to the crew been made than trouble arose among the rest of the men who refused to work with "niggers." After a little difficulty this dispute was finally settled and the vessel left Montreal last week for Greece, though still short of three stokers.

THE NEW VOTERS.

GRANTING women the vote in the United States made possible the addition of more than eight million new electors to the voting strength of the country. This great change takes place just before a Presidential election.

The women are sent gunning for big game armed with a weapon they are not trained to use. That they will learn quickly is apparent, but the fact remains that huge floating blocks of American votes are to be picked up, and there are politicians trained in doing this kind of picking.

It is a public duty to clarify the various issues so they may become apparent to these millions of unaccustomed voters. That this will be done by rival politicians scrambling for votes is unlikely. However, women's organizations are doing wonderful service.

AN ENEMY HATH DONE THIS.

IN recent years Canada has made some good and valued friends. And yet the country cannot expect to escape without a certain number of enemies as well.

A particularly deadly enemy, we think, is the lady who writes in a recent issue of The London Daily Telegraph warning domestic servants in Great Britain to avoid this Dominion. Most cruelly this correspondent paints a dark picture of the treatment accorded domestic servants by Canadian household heads. An isolated case or two are cited as typical of the general run of experience in Canada.

The New York Times grabs at this long article and prints the whole of it. The reason is seen in the last paragraph, where British servant girls are warned to pass up Canada for the United States.

The London paper's correspondent paints a picture of servant life in Canada that is quite on a par with the tale of The Marchioness in "The Old Curiosity Shop." Canadian householders are depicted as slave-drivers who substitute for the whip refined tortures of starvation, suffocation and the like. Somebody has a poisoned pen out for Canada with a vengeance.

Of course, it is all a mass of jaundiced rot. Social customs in Canada are such as to afford more comfort to those in domestic service than is available either in England or the United States. A few offensive cases should not be allowed to give a bad character to the whole system. In Canada today, as in other countries, those who have satisfactory domestic servants guard them like precious jewels.

Canada expects to have enemies, but surely there are nicer ways of being anti-Canadian than this.

THE PRESIDENT OF FRANCE.

PRESIDENT MILLERAND of France deserves the supreme honor which his countrymen have paid, by bestowing upon him the highest office in their gift. A good deal of water has flowed down the Seine since, in the days of the Third Republic, two young men were associated in the bringing out of a daily paper called "Justice," but during the intervening years the history of France has been largely bound up in the lives of these two men—Clemenceau, the editor, and Alexander Millerand, his chief-of-staff. The fiery radicalism of the editor appealed to every sentiment of the chief contributor. Yet on one point they differed. Milerand was a Socialist and Clemenceau would have none of the creed. So there grew up an estrangement between these two great Frenchmen which grew wider and increased in bitterness as the years sped by, and not even the Great War healed their differences. Both were staunch patriots, but the warmth of their common love of country did not melt the frigidity which personal differences of temperament and viewpoint had created.

Millerand has been fighting Germany all his life, and it is intimate knowledge of the relations between the two countries and of the psychology of the nation beyond the Rhine that has influenced his policy as Premier. He was one of the first to realize that the storm of 1914 was brewing, and his famous speech in May of that year rang like a tocsin throughout the length and breadth of France.

The speech he made on that occasion might be repeated as the expression of his policy on any day since the hour of its utterance. It was spoken at Belfort, and with a skill in oratory given to few men, and with a sincerity of tone and sentiment that carried conviction, he raised a paean to the spirit of self-sacrifice and devotion which the great fortress had given proof of in former wars, and declared that "never again would France sign a document that diminished her strength."

The prophet of 1914 is the President of France today.

THE BRITISH STRIKE.

THE silver lining that is visible behind the dark clouds of industrial England grows in magnitude and in irridescence as the day set for a general strike draws nearer. Hope of a settlement has by no means been abandoned, and the announcement that even if the conference between the Triple Alliance and the Premier fails, negotiations will be continued is a promising augury for domestic peace.

In spite of all the firmness which Mr. Smillie is exhibiting in his public utterances, he would be the first to acknowledge that success is by no means certain if the issue is joined next Monday between the Triple Alliance and the Government. In the first place, he cannot overlook the fact that of the registered membership of the Miners' Federation of 904,000 more than 60,000 refrained from voting and 238,865 voted against a strike, while there are at least 300,000 persons employed in the coal mining industry who are not members of any federation. Moreover it is admitted that 120,000 boys between the ages of 14 and 18 took part in the ballot, and it is reasonable to presume that the preponderating majority of these voted in favor of a "holiday." These figures discount the suggestion that the miners are presenting a solid front in their demands, and the history of past industrial disputes goes to show that there is small hope of ultimate victory when the strikers enter the contest without enthusiasm and with divided counsels.

The miners are showing an increasing anxiety, and if a means of egress can be found through which they could withdraw from the dispute without loss of prestige it is probable that they would grasp the opportunity. Mr. Smillie is fighting a tactical battle. Every move he takes is designed to hasten the accomplishment of his expressed aim—nationalization. He will give no pledges for the future with regard to output, and when he is confronted with the figures that show that while the miners' average earnings have increased from $415 to $1,100 between the years 1913 and 1920, while the output has decreased from 287,500,000 to 240,500,000 tons during the same years, he has no answer to meet the contention of the mine owners that there is no assurance that output will increase if wages are advanced.

If the issue which is looming in Britain was merely a question of higher wages or of shorter hours the rights of the case would best be decided by the appointment of an independent tribunal or by conference between employers and employed. Both of these alternatives Mr. Smillie has refused, and in so doing he is running contrary to the repeatedly expressed policy of the majority of British labor.

COMPILING BUDGETS.

A T recent municipal conventions the demand has been very general that civic budgets should be compiled in a manner to be clearly understood by taxpayers—certainly this is not the case in Montreal.

The average Budget is a thing of profound mystery to the ordinary citizen. It is notorious that past aldermanic compilers were foggy themselves concerning its devious windings. Little wonder, then, that there should be apathy and bewilderment among the mass of the people.

Budget reformers contend that three months at least should be devoted to budget compilation, and that the custom should be inaugurated of inviting taxpayers when important matters concerning its drafting are being taken up.

A suggestion very generally approved of is that the practice now in vogue in many places of voting a lump sum for all kinds of public works should be discontinued; that, in brief, exact details be given of just what improvements are to be undertaken, their actual cost, etc.

Most drastic reforms are urged in the matter of giving out civic positions and the fixing of salaries. There is proof in abundance that the average city loses from twenty-five to forty per cent paid out in wages to the inefficient and needless employees. Reformers urge that competent commissions shall be appointed whose sole duty will be the consideration of just what employees various departments need, and what shall be their remuneration. It would be their duty, also, to report on all salary increases.

A final suggestion is that after the adoption of a budget a simple and brief synopsis of it should be mailed to all who pay taxes.

Certain of these innovations would be found most useful in Montreal.

THE CORNER CZAR.

THE traffic policeman holds a keystone position. To a certain extent, he is charged with protecting the lives of citizens. It is well, therefore, that his authority be unquestioned.

In declaring that the signal of the traffic constable is absolute and must be rendered instant obedience by drivers, Mr. Justice Maclennan lays down a principle worthy of the widest acceptance. When everybody comes to understand the necessity for this rule, the danger of street accidents will be reduced.

The traffic officer has a responsible position. Men for this work should be chosen with care, for special qualifications are needed. But no question can be permitted, with safety, as to the officer's authority once he has taken over his corner. The waves of traffic beat down upon him, and he rules the waves.

The two chief things that give a man reputation in counsel are the opinion of his honesty and the opinion of his wisdom.—Ben Jonson.

THE WORLD'S PRESS

Feminine Fashions.

London Daily Mail: The mode is never still. However far the pendulum swings back, it will surely stop short of the tight lacing in which women were imprisoned before they became athletic. It will certainly not give us the trailing skirts, which used to pick up dust and germs in the street. Fashion experiments with extremes, but sooner or later settles somewhere in that middle zone of good sense which suits most women and pleases most men.

Chickens and Cream.

Los Angeles Times: The expense account of one of the women candidates for office in California shows that about 10 per cent of the money was spent for ice cream. The ladies used to find fault with the male politician who asked their husbands to have a drink. What do they think of the wily woman who inveigles Friend Husband into the corner drug store and seduces his vote with a plate of ice cream? That is what they might call chickens coming home to roost.

Better Living Conditions.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The general conditions of living here by the masses of the people are excellent. Because of higher wages, the average quality of living has been raised and many women workers have been enabled to remain at home and perform better the household duties which are so important an element in the well-being of the whole family. In spite of all the discontent and criticism, it is apparent that the living conditions of the people are better than they ever were before and that the tendency is constantly upward.

Australia for the Australians.

Sydney Bulletin: What Australia needs is a breed of public men who will think of Australia first and put it first—before Ireland, England, Czecho-Slovakia or any other country. One way of getting public men who will be Australians in spirit and action, and not mischievous exiles, brooding over the wrongs or saturated with the prejudices of other countries, is to provide in the Constitution that the Prime Minister must be a natural-born Australian. And it would do no harm to extend the principle to bishops and union secretaries.

The Power of the Petrol Trust.

London Daily Express: The Petrol Trust has a strangle-hold on the world, and is using it ruthlessly. That is bad enough, but the harm done by the selfishness of these greedy monopolists goes further — it furnishes the most telling propaganda material for the agitators who are fanning the world's unrest, because it brings discredit on the whole system under which we live and conduct our affairs. This is a matter for Government action, immediate and drastic. We must be freed from the tyranny of the oil monopoly. Nothing less than that will suffice.

Direct Action and Democracy.

The New Statesman: We do not think it is possible to overestimate the importance of the action taken by British Labor this week in connection with the Russo-Polish crisis. It is probably true that that action had no influence on the course of events. Theoretically, "Direct Action" on political issues cannot be defended, but practically it need not be feared, for it can never be a really powerful weapon unless it derives its strength from unanimity — and when it does that it becomes a democratic weapon, which may strengthen but can never injure a democratic government.

Emigration and Exchange.

Baltimore Sun: One of the outstanding causes of the continuing flow of emigration to Europe is the unbalanced foreign exchange, which makes it possible for laboring men, laden with a few years' savings in American factories, to exchange their American money for small fortunes in lire, francs or crowns. However, this get-rich-quick plan already has been played to the end of the road, for the returning European finds that his money does not buy very much in the present stagnant state of production abroad, and thousands of them already have returned across the Atlantic to replenish their bank accounts and perhaps to stay here permanently.

Wanted—A Business Government.

Tientsin (China) Times: Let those who are attempting to reorganize the Government enlist the merchant class on their side, and they will create a cohesive force against which the petty jealousies of rival politicians, and the ambitions of individual militarists, will be of no avail. The vested interests which in this, as in every other recent political crisis, will be arrayed against reunion and efficiency, will melt away if the Chinese merchant classes throughout the territory of the Republic pledge their financial and moral support to a Central Government whose members are no longer permitted to play ducks and drakes with the national revenue.

Playing the Game.

London Daily Telegraph: Sportsmanship is the salt of the world. When nations or political parties, like individuals, do not know how to take defeat or how to bear themselves chivalrously in victory, they fall into strange courses. When the rules of fair play are deliberately broken, degeneracy speedily sets in. It is quite possible that a nation may be given overmuch to sport, and especially to certain forms of sport, round which there gathers an accretion of undesirable elements, but no nation can have too much of the genuine spirit of sportsmanship, which consists as much of a generous appreciation of a rival's prowess as of a personal desire to excel.

Modern Municipal Government.

Boston Transcript: Throughout the country the tendency of modern municipal government has been towards such a centralization of power that responsibility may be fixed and efficiency in administration obtained. Unpaid boards have as a rule been found inefficient. The theory of appointing men and women because they are the representatives of certain walks of life, in the hope that they might see their problems from different angles, has long been exploded. In practice one member of an unpaid board, and he or she a person who can give the most time to the work, has generally administered. In some cases a paid executive secretary, hampered by his trustees, has been called upon to exercise all the administrative functions of the trustees.

Mournful Matilda.

Blue are the eyes of Matilda,
Blue as the sky;
Blue is the mood of Matilda—
Would you know why?

Gerald made love to Matilda,
Shy as a fawn;
Wanted to marry Matilda;
Now he is gone.

Gerald could offer Matilda
Houses and cash;
Gerald looked fine to Matilda;
Soon came the crash.

Bossy was blue-eyed Matilda,
So said her folk;
Gerald was told by Matilda:
"Please do not smoke."

Gerald ise calling on Hilda,
Gentle and good;
Pity the blue-eyed Matilda,
Blue is her mood.

CASE FOR WESTERN FARMERS.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—Some months ago we read in your columns a letter which complained bitterly of the increase in the price of flour.

One sentence declared forcibly that Western farmers were "lining their pockets."

As a Western farmer of five years' experience I wish to make a few statements regarding the present cost of growing wheat and to deny that harvesters have been poorly paid for their work. Does your Eastern reader realize that since 1915 grain growers in the West with few exceptions have met years of failure? Would he care to sell his entire crop at fifty cents per bushel because of rust and to buy seed the following spring at $2.05 per bushel? Or, after feeding a lot of horses on straw for months, would he care to buy hay at $45 a ton and oats at $1.46 per bushel in order to fit them to put in the next crop?

Speaking of this year's experience in raising what is spoken of as a bumper crop. Our share of that has been grown with the following drawbacks, late seeding, grasshoppers, hail, drought, and finally rust, reducing what promised a big yield to a mere five or six bushels per acre. This is the case over a large section of country.

For the harvesting of this crop we are paying from six to seven dollars per day. If men would work for these wages there would be no complaint, but many of them do not earn their board. That is the reason they do not remain long at work. The farmer's wife prefers to do several hours' work each day in the field as a substitute.

Perhaps some of your city correspondents will realize a little of what it means to grow wheat. At least this will prove to them that Western farmers are not profiteers. J. M. ARMSTRONG.
Oxbow, Sask.

SERBS AND MONTENEGRINS

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—I have received the following letter from Mrs. Burnham which speaks for itself. It may serve as a reply to the Serbian contentions regarding Montenegrin conditions.

"Since Col. Burnham last wrote to you, things have been going from bad to worse, and the Powers are "fiddling" while this small nation is going down to death. The strangle-hold the Serbs have on Montenegro is being tightened, and when the veil is lifted, there will be found a condition of affairs that will make the stoutest heart quail, and people will ask why we allow this?

"After the organization of this Fund, Fred (Col. Burnham) came from Canada with enthusiasm for Serbia, but has since turned from her with loathing and disgust. The "reign of terror" is almost complete. It is no longer possible for the population to earn a living except those in the Serbian employ. People are in dire distress and many — particularly women — are losing their reason. This I know personally and the women of Montenegro, who are imprisoned, starved and flogged, cry out for justice. Col. Burnham was told a few days ago that no foreign missions were needed now, as Serbia has abundance of money, medicines and supplies. If she has, the Montenegrins are not benefitting by it. The majority have not a second garment to their backs, and many express a desire that death will come soon; all this in spite of the fact that the Premier of the British Empire acknowledged to a deputation of prominent men that "Serbia had no right in Montenegro," and that he also knew of the atrocities. Why is this? Fred (Col. Burnham) has been threatened with assassination because of our sympathies with these poor stricken people, forsaken by the powers who claimed they were fighting for small nations.

"We know the entire Mission is in danger, but the flag still flies, for when we go we know the key will be turned in the lock in this part of the country, and God alone knows what the atrocities will be. They will not allow anyone to leave the country, not even women or children, and why? Because they are afraid of what they will tell."

B. KIDMAN.

NO CHEAPER FURS.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—We think it is high time that a wrong impression should be corrected.

Lately the public seem to think that furs in the retail shops should be cheaper this fall than last. This is a mistaken impression on the part of the public for the following reasons:

The retail fur manufacturer or dealer has to buy his skins and manufacture them during the summer months, in order to be ready for his fall trade, and this takes from two to five months according to the size of the retailer's business.

When one looks back to the fall of 1919 they will recollect that raw furs had remained steady in price from the previous May, and the manufacturers bought their principal articles at reasonable levels, but after retailers had their full requirements for 1919 bought, and, in fact, after the bulk of their selling was done, namely, in December, speculators got into their heads that furs were cheap, when compared with silk, wool, or similar articles, and from the period January, 1920, to March, 1920, these speculators pyramided the prices of raw furs to almost an absurd point.

As this period was not a period for manufacturers to buy for their requirements they naturally stayed out of the market, and the consequence was a very heavy drop in raw fur prices—in some cases as much as 40 per cent. This brought furs back to the normal levels of 1919 and retailers, therefore, bought their requirements for the fall of 1920 at about the same prices as they had bought previously, and therefore, while there has been a decline from the high speculative levels in the price of raw materials, there is no decline from the prices of a year ago; in fact, with the increased cost of labor, it is difficult for the retailer to maintain last year's price level.

When compared with other articles of clothing, furs in our opinion are excellent value when their durability is considered. R. S. COLTART,
Vice-President Canadian Fur Auction Sales Company.

The Common Lot

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Walking along the street the other day I saw a crowd gathered about something at the curbstone. Of course I approached and elbowed my way in toward the centre and craned my neck and raised my ears to find out what was the object of interest. One always does so. We are crazy to see what the crowd sees, and when we see it, it is usually something like what I saw—a faker selling soap.

That is it. In the centre, at the goal toward which all eyes and attention are bent, is a fool or a fool thing of some sort. On the outside, toward which our backs are turned, are the sky and the glorious city and life, and wonder and beauty.

The older I get the more I am coming to think that people are, as Carlyle said, mostly fools. We are madly going in one direction while what we really want is in just the opposite direction.

For what is it we all seek? Is it not exclusiveness, in one form or another? We long to be rich or learned or in the smart set, or distinguished or extraordinary by hook or crook. Whereas, as a matter of fact, the best things in life lie not at all in the uncommon, but in the common lot.

I remember with what fear and trembling I once made up my mind to ride third-class on a railway in Germany. The guide book had warned me against it, and a lot of nice people had said it was dangerous, but I tried it. I went from Munich to Ulm and Nuremberg, and then on to Paris, in the lowest and cheapest coaches. For when once I got started I was delighted. It beat the elegant first-class and the bourgeois second class utterly.

I met a lot of interesting people, commercial travellers, boys and girls, and we were not at all afraid of each other. Any one I saw I could spunk up and converse with, and everybody was human and approachable, and, in the language of the Podunk News, "a nice time was had." And if I had ridden first class I would have been in the midst of half frozen mummies, each afraid of the other, all fearful that someone would encroach upon their precious exclusiveness.

There's a limit to my democracy. I draw the line on bad smells and dirt. When it comes to horsey smelling clothes and possibilities of vermin, I am an aristocrat. But you don't have to be high and mighty to be clean.

FROM THE STAR FILES

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

(From The Star File, Sept. 23, 1890)

Montreal.—(From our editorial in The Star): The German Emperor, William, has some people think, military genius of the highest order which only require developing to make him another Napoleon or Frederick. At recent manoeuvres he sharply criticized mistakes made by several commanders, and undertook to show them how battle should be won. That it is his ambition to emulate the deeds of his great ancestor Frederick is no secret; but his flatterers may possibly stuff the young man's head too full of conceit, and in the end land him and the country in as bad a fix as the third Napoleon did France.

Winnipeg.—Sir Hector Langevin was the guest of honor at a public dinner given last night.

Ottawa.—The Canada Central Exhibition will be formally opened tomorrow by His Excellency, the Governor-General. Among the exhibitors is Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, who is showing twelve Guernsey cattle from his farm at St. Anne de Bellevue.

Montreal.—Permanent works, such as street widening and opening, formed the staple subject of conversation of the session at the City Hall yesterday. A large deputation of proprietors on St. James street, headed by Hon. James McShane, urged the widening of St. James street from Bonaventure station to the city limits.

FRENCH-CANADIAN VIEWS

THE TEACHING OF ENGLISH.

La Presse—One of the most delicate and one of the most important questions which the Council of Public Instruction has to determine in the reform of our primary teaching, is unquestionably the part which ought to be devoted to the English language in the elementary schools of Quebec. Under pressure from suggestions made in divers quarters, our legislators were divided between fear of extending the French language to so large a part that no time would be left for the scholar to learn English or to devote too much time to the teaching of English to the prejudice of the culture and development of the mother tongue of the children. Yet we believe that a way exists of combining the teaching of French and English in our schools from the earliest years so that in place of hurting each other the two languages will be of mutual assistance the one to the other. Let us give French the place which rightfully belongs to it—the first place—since it is the instrument which will serve to develop among the future generations of our race the genius, the qualities and the virtues, which have been the strength and the glory of French-Canadians in the past. But at the same time let us assure these same generations of the precious advantages which are to be derived from an adequate knowledge of the two official languages of this bilingual country. For it is important for us not to forget that we shall never be competent to fill the part which we are anxious to play upon this continent unless we possess the means and resources which will make up for our inferiority in numbers. But how shall we acquire this bilingual culture which is so desirable unless we furnish the French-Canadian scholars with an opportunity to learn English from the first days of their schooling? It is at this time that the child's brain is most capable of receiving and storing the notions and impressions that his reason and his judgment will develop later on when they have ripened.

By cultivating French and English simultaneously the child will be initiated without any delay into the intellectual beauties produced by the Latin and the Saxon genius, he will have a wider outlook, he will better understand his duties as a citizen, without losing anything of his character as a patriot. He will not be only one man, but he will be two men in one. Let us banish these fears of assimilation and anglicization which are without foundation. The genius of the French people is strong enough to be able to develop in the spirit of our compatriots alongside the English genius. And our primary teaching assuredly will not fail to reach its goal by working to establish a contact between the two languages. The mixture will prove an advantage to the individuals concerned and to the Canadian community as a whole.

PREVENT FIRE LOSSES

Insurance is often a small compensation for fire loss. Take a manufacturer who has a large order to complete in a stated time, if fire destroys his plant the insurance does not pay him for his inability to fulfil his contract. Not only is this contract lost, but others, while the plant is being rebuilt. Our fireproof Doors and Windows help very materially to prevent the spread of fire.

LASALLE BRIDGE AFFAIR REVIVED

Contractors Claim Arbitration Costs Against City—Judgment Reserved

The Lasalle bridge affair which everyone thought dead and buried sprang up again before the Practice Court yesterday upon argument of a motion presented by Wilfrid A. Hanfield, K.C., on behalf of Pion and Grothe, two of the contractors of the now famous bridge, to have the amount of costs of the arbitration taxed against the City of Montreal. The City recently settled the claims of O'Sullivan, Pion and Grothe by paying them the amount granted by the board of arbitrators, but refused to pay the legal costs of the proceedings.

W. H. Butler, K.C., appearing on behalf of the city, claimed that the arbitration between the parties was an extra judiciary proceeding, and this being so, the city was not responsible, except for its own costs. He contended that the beneficiaries of the arbitration should also pay their own, including the fee of their own arbitrator, the taking of proof adduced on their behalf, etc. Mr. Butler said that even if Pion and Grothe were entitled to said costs—which contention he denied—they should have proceeded by way of a direct action against the city, and not on a motion to have the costs taxed.

Wilfrid A. Handfield, K.C., for Pion and Grothe, said as the code of Procedure did not provide for any means of settlement in the present instance, common law was to be applied; the city lost and should pay the costs. He also claimed that his motion to have the fees taxed was in order and the only procedure he had to follow in the occurrence.

Mr. Justice Bruneau reserved judgment.

SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

FINAL RECORD OF PATRIOTIC FUND

History of Its Inception and Work Told in Final Report

That a complete history of its part in Canada's splendid response during the five years of stress from 1914 to 1919 may be preserved for future generations, and in order that those who gave their wholehearted energies in its support may have some record of the work in which they so ably assisted, the National Executive Committee of the Canadian Patriotic Fund have issued a volume embodying a complete history of the Fund.

The story of its formation at the instigation of Sir Herbert Ames, its incorporation by Parliament, and how it carried out its threefold duties of collecting, and distributing the money granted to dependents of the men who went overseas, as well as acting as counsellor and business agent to the soldiers' families, is simply and graphically chronicled in the first pages of the volume. The rest of the book is devoted to the work of the society in the various Provinces and a financial report of moneys received and their disposition is included. Throughout the volume are a number of very fine illustrations, including photographs of the officers of the Fund and those who furthered the work of the organization.

The motives of the Executive Committee in preparing the volume are well expressed in the preface:

1. "To give a full accounting of our trust to those from whom the trust came.

2. To acknowledge the devoted and gratuitous services of the thousands of honorary officials who made the successful fulfilment of the trust possible.

3. To place on record the patriotism, generosity and self-sacrifice of civilian Canada during the Great War."

The Executive Committee express their satisfaction at the co-operation of the public almost everywhere and their appreciation of being of service to dependants of soldiers and sailors.

The volume is to be tendered by the Executive Committee to those whose services are deserving of special recognition.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY.

The Natural History Society will hold its adjourned annual general meeting on Monday next at 8:30 p.m. in the society's rooms, 385 Mountain street. The sale of the Society's property will be considered on the motion of Prof. F. E. Lloyd, given at the last meeting. W. B. Stokes, hon. secretary, states that the importance of this meeting justifies a large attendance.

PROPERTY TAXES ARE FREELY PAID

The new property tax is being paid with unexpected freedom, according to City Hall officials, and already 1,697 accounts have been paid, making a total collection up to Tuesday of $330,225.

The reforms that have been made in the tax collection department it is claimed are greatly facilitating the transaction of business and satisfaction is being expressed by tax-payers that they are no longer subject to so much delay as under the old system. The coupon system of accounts in particular avoids the long waiting of tax-payers at the wickets, and queues are neither so long nor so slow as they were.

---

The War Office has notified Mr. James Lynn, Mouse Town, Coal Island, of the death of his son, Sergeant James Lynn, who has been killed on active service in Egypt. Much sympathy has been felt for Mr. Lynn, who has lost his last surviving son, the other three having been killed on active service during the late war.

TAKES ACTION AGAINST CITY

The action taken by Emery Brosseau, farmer, of St. Hubert, for $199 damages against the City of Montreal was heard yesterday in Mr. Justice Maclennan's court.

Brosseau was arrested on March 24 last by Mounted Constable Jas. McMahon, jr., on St. Denis street, near Emery street, for failing, it was alleged, to obey the constable's sign not to cross the intersection of Ontario and St. Denis streets.

On March 30, Brosseau was acquitted of the charge in the Recorder's Court, and he took action against the city and the constable for $199, for loss of time, etc.

The city, through J. A. Damphousse, K.C., denies any responsibility and Defendant McMahon, through Jos. A. Mercier, K.C., contends Brosseau's failure to obey his gesture to stop was a breach of a municipal by-law and he was justified in arresting plaintiff.

J. Edmour Bernard, K.C., appears for plaintiff.

MARGARET CURRIE'S MAIL

All correspondence in this department should be addressed to Margaret Currie.

All communications must have name and address signed, and must be written on only one side of the paper.

Please address legal and other questions to Editor, Notes and Queries, and not to this department. Military questions are to be answered by the Editor of The Veterans' Page. Medical questions are to be submitted to Dr. Huber, care of The Star, and if a private reply is required a self-addressed and stamped envelope must be enclosed.

Theatrical and motion picture questions should be addressed to the Dramatic Editor.

JANE JONES.

Please read rules at head of the column.

HER PHOTOGRAPH.

1. This summer I met a very nice boy. He said he loved me. Anyway, his birthday will soon be here and I want to give him something. What would you suggest? He does not smoke. Do you think it would be all right of I gave him a sliver frame with my picture in it? I have ten dollars to spend on this gift. 2. I have cared very much for a boy for six months, do you think it can be real true love? How can I tell for sure?

FORGET-ME-NOT.

Ans.—1, You are very foolish to spend ten dollars on a present for a boy, unless you are engaged. You will only embarrass him. I would certainly not give him your photograph in a silver frame. Give him a book if you know his taste in reading. If you don't get the newest thing in fiction. Ebony-backed military brushes, clothbrush, etc., are also suitable, a fountain-pen, a sterling silver, ever-sharp pencil, would all be good. 2. Impossible to say. Love isn't a matter of days, or months.

CAMP COSTUME.

At the risk of being thought ridiculous, I venture to submit this letter for public opinion.

I have just returned from camp, where, to my great enjoyment, we were allowed to roam around in gym. bloomers and middies. The physical freedom and consequent mental improvement derived from this costume cannot be appreciated until experienced.

The point of my letter is this: Is there the remotest possibility of this style ever coming into effect?

I would advise those who are inclined to consider me eccentric to give the idea a week's trial (in the privacy of their own homes, of course) and I feel confident that they will change their opinions after trial.

Most of the camp girls heartily endorse this idea.

In winter heavy stockings could be worn. Are you with me girls?

"KUMFORT FIRST."

P.S.—Your personal opinion would be very much appreciated if you think it advisable to give same.

Ans.—I think it would be splendid for school-girls, but wouldn't St. Catherine street be a funny sight if fat, middle-aged women took to wearing middies and bloomers?

SHOULD HE EXPLAIN?

1. When taken into a restaurant for supper after attending the theatre with a gentleman friend what is it customary to order? Would sandwiches and tea be proper? Please let me know as I am not used to city ways and will be waiting for your reply. 2. Do you think it wrong for a young lady and her gentleman friend to hold hands? When receiving a wedding announcement of a cousin is one expected to send a present or congratulations? 3. When going for a two weeks' visit to the city this time of year what kind of clothes would one need to take? also what colors are fashionable this fall? What do you think of a fellow who writes and asks a girl if he may have her company and when she gives consent he only comes a few times and then tells her for certain reasons he thinks it better for him not to come any more, but although asked for an explanation says he would rather not explain. Says he has nothing against said girl or her family and that he appreciated the way they have used him. Do you not think he is entitled to give the young lady a more satisfactory reason for not calling on her after having asked her permission to do so. Perhaps it was family interference and he did not like to say so, but don't you think it was a strange way to act? and yet he said he wanted to be good friends.

CUTIE.

Ans.—1, Sandwiches and tea are proper if that is what you want. If it is an expensive restaurant where there is an elaborate menu, you may choose from a number of things—lobster or chicken salad, lobster a la Newburg, chicken a la king, Welsh rarebit, etc., but in any restaurant, sandwiches may be obtained and are quite correct. 2. No. Just foolish and lovers are always foolish. It's part of the fun of being in love. 3. It is only necessary to send congratulations, but for a relation, I think I would send a small gift. 3. Take a tailored suit and blouses, an afternoon frock, and evening gown, and a heavy coat and sweater. All shades of brown, many shades of green and the ever-popular blue. 4. He probably found out that you were not as congenial as he had expected and decided the easiest way was to drop out without saying anything. You can't explain that sort of thing, you know.

FOR "OLD MAID."

"Old Maid's" letter in Monday's Star set me thinking. The Fates certainly seem to have used her unkindly.

It is a pity in more ways than one, for, after all, it is the lack of attractive, well-bred, clever girls—such as "Old Maid" shows herself to be—that forces many chaps, who prefer to be other than lounge-lizards and jazz fiends, to live a life of voluntary, though unwelcome, celibacy.

So many girls today would believe you if you told them that Alfred Noyes wrote "Bubbles" and that Lord Dunsany was Viceroy of India. Yet I'd wager that there are many of "Old Maid's" type who wouldn't.

POLYBINS PERIWINKLE JONES.

EUGENICS.

We are living in an age of direct ignorance, controlled by a system of ignorant intelligence treasured by that particular branch of society and societies that are muzzling men and women of their human rights, in order to gain a fortune. This continual muzzling and allowing ignorance to perpetrate is a disease, a rotten infectious degrading disease, common to more or less of all classes of society, and which must be battled against.

When the mass of the human race get over their present fear of knowledge, and realize that it is really power for indefinite good, they will turn their attention to the improvement of the race, and human beings will be produced, superior in every way to any the world has yet seen. Not only can the body be perfected so as to be stronger and more beautiful, as well as free from disease but the mind also can be made far superior to the most gifted ever yet known.

The power of the mind depends on the perfect development and organization of the brain, and there is no question but that the brain can be perfected as well as the muscles. In the brain of every kind of animal we find certain parts developed, which are not found at all, or only rudimentary, in the animals below them that have less mind; and it is the same in the human race.

It is therefore, only the more perfect brain, which gives man the more perfect mind, and it is only by perfecting the brain that we can effect further improvement in his mind.

It seems to me more than probable that human beings will in future be produced with brains, and consequently minds far above those of our present greatest men as they are above the brutes; and that in those days men will comprehend and reason understandingly upon matters which we now esteem unfathomable mysteries, and far above all human comprehension.

I have full faith that the man of the future will be as far above the present man, as the present man is above the orang-outang, but for this to be effected marriage must be a science based upon a knowledge of physiology, and the laws of natural selection and heredity instead of a mere matter of chance, as it is now. We think it quite right and laudable to so attend to the breeding of animals, as to bring them to the most perfect stage of development; and yet we shrink from applying the same laws to human beings; though nothing is more certain that the one could be perfected equally with the other.

Let any one look at an ill-bred, uncared-for domestic animal, and then look at a thoroughbred of the same kind, and note the difference. They are scarcely like the same beings, all the bad points are carefully bred out, in the improved one, and the good ones developed to the utmost. The same results would follow among human beings if both were made a science, as I cannot but hope and believe it some day will be.

If people were only rational enough to see this truth and act upon it we should be able to gradually perfect the nervous system, the same as we do the other organs and consequently the mind also.

Education improves or develops the mind, by causing a more perfect development of the brain, and this affects not only the individual so educated, but also his children by the law of heredity descent. Parents with well-educated brains will produce children with better developed brains at birth than those of uneducated people. And with continual careful training and selection, this course of improvement might go on indefinitely; how far we cannot even imagine but doubtless to the production of human beings as far above the highest yet seen, mentally, as they exceed the merest brutes. I say again, therefore, that when men have progressed far enough to attend to these matters, as regards their own race, the same as they now do to the lower animals, human beings will be born immeasurably more perfect, both bodily and mentally, than anything we can now conceive.

At present it is almost blasphemous to speak of such things, and therefore we go on perpetuating disease and madness, from generation to generation, when we might easily get rid of them. In all forms of nervous disease, and especially those affecting the mind and disposition, this law of heredity descent is especially operative, and this constitutes one of the main difficulties in treating such disease; for what can the physician do when the patient has been born with certain kind and form of brain making him have inevitably certain mental and moral infirmities? Neither medical treatment or moral preaching can do much good in such cases, and yet in our ignorance they are all we depend upon.

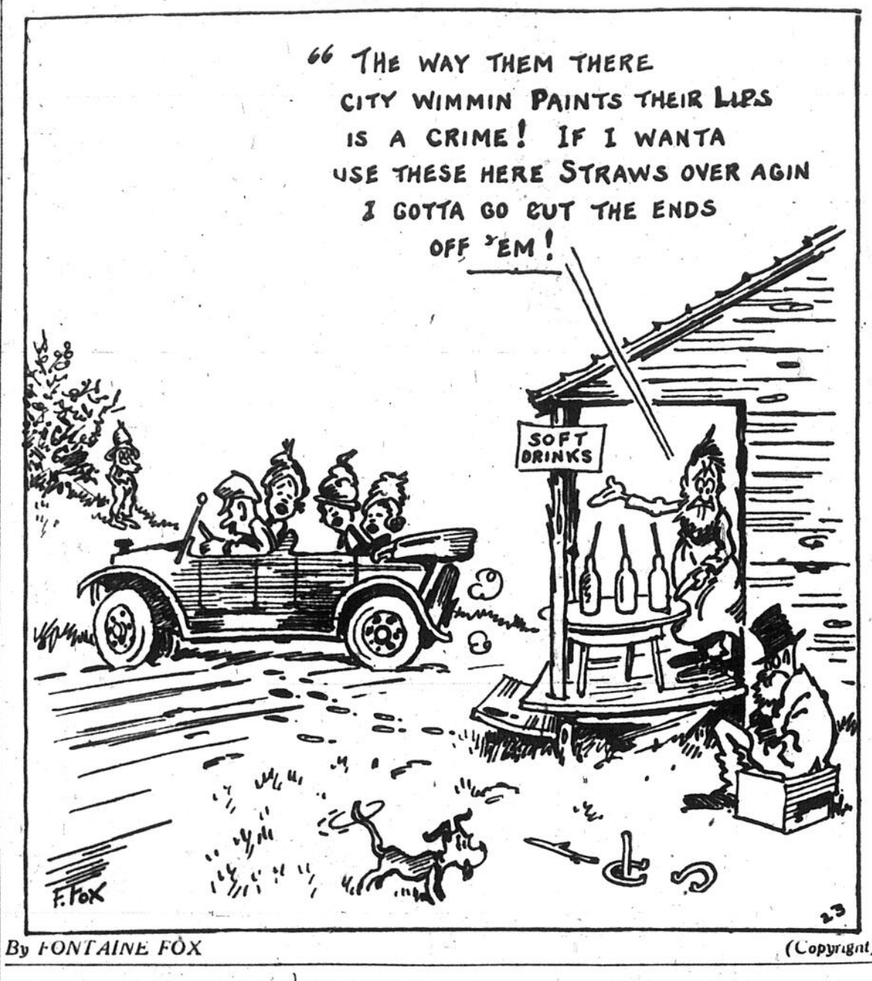

It is ridiculous in the fact of human decency, that I should determine to hit at the medical profession in the manner of insinuation, etc., but as the foregoing subject was written about many years ago, and practised in certain parts of the world many thousands of years ago, and proved itself successful, there is no need why it should be buried and left to rot today.

Concluding, it is useless at the present time, to attempt to give rules for scientific eugenics, or even to lay down general principles, for very few people would yet act upon them.

The first thing to be done is to educate the public mind, up to the point of not being afraid of the subject, and to lead the more advanced minds to see its importance. The practical application of such knowledge will follow, and people will then wonder that such an important matter should have been for so many ages neglected.

THOMAS McVEY.

FASHIONS FOR TODAY

Frocks that will wash, whether of wool or cotton fabrics, are by all odds the best for small children and this year some very charming things are being developed in wool challis and in fine French flannel. The colors are usually light, with flowers or polka dots in contrasting color, and washable ribbon is one of the popular trimming touches. Fine English sateen is also a popular material. This cotton fabric wears splendidly, washes equally well, and the only difficulty seems to be a shortage of the material.

The little frock sketched, made with an Empire waist line and three scalloped ruffles for the skirt, may be of wool challis, fine French flannel, or of English sateen. The edges of skirt ruffles, collar and cuffs, all finished with scallops so as to take them out of the ordinary ruffle class, are bound with ribbon in contrasting color. The little pleat in the centre front is added for good measure. The dress buttons in the centre back, the buttons matching the ribbon binding in color.

Dark wool frocks for girls are always serviceable. One of the popular trimmings this season consists of garlands of wool, flowers in vividly contrasting color set on in the form of bands about the skirt or to form panels. White pique collars and cuffs are used effectively on navy serge frocks and sometimes, for the older girls, the dresses are equipped with detachable pique vests or vestees as well.

Combinations of black and white are greatly favored for children's dresses. One charming little dress of black velvet recently seen had the touch of white carried out by bands of white angora at neck and sleeves. For dressy wear are shown chiffon velvet frocks in black, cut low in the neck and sleeveless, and worn with gimpes of white filet lace.

HIS WIT REWARDED.

An honest rustic went into the shop of a Quaker to buy a hat, for which fifteen shillings were demanded. He offered twelve.

"As I live," said the Quaker, "I cannot afford to sell it thee at that price."

"As you live!" exclaimed the countryman. "Then live more moderately and be hanged to you!"

"Friend," said the Quaker, "I have sold hats for twenty years and my 'As I live' trick has never been found out till now; thou shalt have the hat for nothing."—Ex.

THE HISTORY OF YOUR NAME

(By Philip Francis Nowlan.)

LIND

VARIATIONS — Lynd, Lindeman, Lindstrem, Linden, Lindley, Lynn.
RACIAL ORIGIN—English, also German.
SOURCE—Geographical.

In this country today we pay little attention to trees, so little indeed that the average person, particularly among the city dwellers, does not know one from another. This was not the case in medieval and early modern times, when trees were widely used as landmarks in establishing locations.

All of the family names in this list belong to the geographical class, and they are all derived from the name of a tree, the linden, the name of which is now and was in the Middle Ages when family names were formed, virtually the same in both English and German.

It is impossible to determine definitely in the cases of most of the family names given in the foregoing whether they are German or English. The name Lindstrom is certainly German, meaning "lindstream," that is, a stream or river bordered by linden trees. Dwellers in such a locality often were known by such a name as Hans of the Lindenstream, the prefixed words being dropped in German as they have in similar circumstances in English.

Lindley is an English name formed from the name of the tree and "ley" an old English word for "shelter." Lynd is the closest we have to the old English spelling of the name of the tree. Lynn in some cases, when it is not Celtic, is a variation of this spelling.

There is evidence that Lind, Lindeman and Linden are of both English and German derivation.

APPLE PIE!
Sounds appetizing, doesn't it? But put one on the table and see the smiles it brings around. Apples are good for the health—better so when cooked. But, cooked right, between two golden crisp crusts—they are surprisingly good. Your Apple Pies will always be wholesome and delicious if baked with

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME BY THORNTON W. BURGESS

ANOTHER HONEY HUNTER.

Instantly he forgot all about Busy Bee and honey.

Full many a store of hidden sweet
Is passed by hurrying, careless feet.
—Buster Bear.

Buster Bear is not the only one with a sweet tooth. Oh, my, no! Farmer Brown's boy has a sweet tooth also. He is almost if not quite as fond of honey as Buster Bear. He is so fond of it that he keeps bees to make it for him. Now, Bees have a way of leaving their home to make a new home, leaving a few in the old home. Whenever Farmer Borwn's boy discovers the Bees making ready to leave their home he prepares a new home for them and moves them into it. But sometimes he is not about when they decide to move, and then, of course, they get away. Usually they choose a hollow tree in the Green Forest for their new home.

Farmer Brown's boy had had a very busy summer. Three times he had found that Bees had stolen away while he was absent. Each time he looked over to the Green Forest and smiled. "Some day in the fall I will have a hunt for you and bring you home," he said.

So it just happened that on the very morning Buster Bear was reminded of honey by being stung while he slept in a sunny spot in the Old Pasture, Farmer Brown's boy started out to hunt for his lost Bees. In his hands he carried a little box with a little glass window in the cover. In the box was a piece of honeycomb filled with honey.

Straight up to the Old Pasture went Farmer Brown's boy. He knew just where certain late flowers were in bloom, and he felt sure that where there were flowers there would be Bees. He knew that these busy workers would be out searching for honey just as long as a flower could be found. So, whistling merrily, he started out to hunt for flowers.

When he reached the Old Pasture he stopped whistling. He walked as softly as he could. He took the greatest care not to rustle a leaf or snap a dry twig under foot. It wasn't that he feared he might scare the Bees. Of course not. But he had learned long ago, that the way to see what is going on among the little people of the Green Meadows and the Green Forest is to be unseen himself, and so whenever he goes out for a walk he tries to keep from being discovered, or at least from startling any of his little neighbors.

So it happened that Buster Bear, intent on spying on Busy Bee and her sisters, hoping to discover in which direction their home lay, neither heard nor saw nor smelled Farmer Brown's boy until he stepped out from the bushes on the opposite side of the little sunny place where the late flowers grew. Buster was so surprised that he all but let out a great "woof!" of surprise. He stopped it just in time.

Instantly he forgot all about Busy Bee and honey. His first thought was to steal away as quickly and silently as he could, for Buster is very bashful when human folks are about. But he had seen Framer Brown's boy so often, though Farmer Brown's boy didn't know this, that he had begun to think him harmless. But just then Farmer Brown's boy began to do something very queer, and Buster's curiosity kept him right where he was. He just had to know what Farmer Brown's boy was doing.

PEACHES.

Peaches and cream are very nearly our idea of the perfect food; nectar and ambrosia do not sound half so attractive.

The best way to eat peaches is raw, ripe, peeled, cut in eighths into large desert bowls, served with powdered sugar, and cream, plain or whipped. If, in addition, a light sponge cake, without frosting, is offered to us, delectability cannot attain greater heights.

But peaches are good in a number of other ways. They make a delicious filling for a short cake, made of baking-powder biscuit dough with four tablespoonfuls of shortening to two cupfuls of flour. A cottage pudding may be split, and served with peaches and whipped cream between and on top, and for both short cake and cottage pudding, canned peaches are as good as fresh ones.

Peaches are easy to can and rarely spoil. A syrup of one cup of sugar to two of water, boiled ten minutes, should be poured over peaches pared, halved and packed, hollow side down, into glass jars, sterilized fifteen minutes, and sealed. Peaches may be pared by being plunged first into boiling, then into cold water, which loosens the skins, as it does of tomatoes. But if this is done the peaches must be handled rapidly, a few at a time, lest they become soft and discolored. In any case the syrup should be made before the peaches are pared, and poured over them at once.

Clingstone peaches should be canned whole.

The rinds of peaches may be washed and used as follows in a very good marmalade: Take a pound of peaches with three pounds of peach rind, and four pounds of sugar. Cook slowly for two hours. Add the juice of two lemons.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Metropolitan Newspaper Service.)

Vegetable Marrow Preserve.—For Mrs. S.—Take young vegetable marrows weighing about 6 lbs. Peel rather thinly, cut in half, remove seeds, and cut into dice or cubes. Put the marrow and its weight in granulated sugar into a preserving pan with a quart of water. Boil gently for about 20 minutes. Pour into a bowl and return all the liquid to the pan. Add 2 oz. root or stem ginger, previously bruised and tied in a piece of muslin, add also the thinly cut rind and strained juice of four lemons. Boil for 1-2 an hour; then add the marrow and boil, skin and cook gently for 1-2 hour after it begins to boil. Remove ginger and put preserve into sterilized jars.

For many months he had been eating free suppers at her father's expense, and fair Mabel thought it time he got a move on. One evening, as they sat together in the parlor, she carried out her little scheme.

"Oh, I say, how funny!" she cried suddenly, as she turned over the evening paper.

"What is it?" he asked.

"Why, here's an advertisement in which it says, 'No reasonable offer refused.'"

"What's odd about that?" asked the young man, in surprise.

"Oh, nothing," she replied, coyly, trying to raise a blush; "but those are my sentiments exactly."

Several days later the engagement was announced.

How Do You Say It?

Common Errors in Engli: How to Avoid Them

(Copyright.)

"COMMENCE" OR "BEGIN."

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The question is frequently asked, "Is there any difference in meaning between the words 'commence' and 'begin' ?"

These words have exactly the same meaning. "In significance there is no difference whatever between 'commence' and 'begin'; the former word is from the Latin, the latter is Saxon and is preferred before an infinitive," says the Standard Dictionary. That is, it is better, according to some authorities, to say, "I began to read the book," than "I commenced to read the book."

It should be said, however, that some writers hold that "begin" is the simpler word and, therefore, to be preferred. Alfred Ayres, in "The Verbalist," says of "begin" and "commence": "These words have the same meaning; careful speakers, however, generally prefer to use the former. Indeed, there is rarely any good excuse for giving the preference to the latter."

HEALTH TALKS

By JOHN B. HUBER, A.M., M.D.

THE ALCOHOLIC TAINT.

"Is the appetite for liquor transmitted to the offspring? Also, will the children or grandchildren of those using alcohol to excess, inherit a tendency to insanity?"

I wish I could sidestep these questions; since they are put up to me, however, I will state what I believe to be the truth about them, and questions like them:

Sometimes a very slight family disorder may grow and become intensified through several generations, until it becomes something really dreadful. It is when we come to the nervous system and its diseases that we find a wide range of abnormalities. This we readily understand when we consider that the central nervous system has for its function both the bringing of every organ and tissue of the body into harmonious interrelation and the adjusting of the body as a whole to its environment—that is, to the universe outside it.

Children will not by any means always suffer the nervous maladies of their parents or other forebears; what they will inherit, is an untoward predisposition, a tendency. And the kind of nervous aberrations which the child will manifest, will depend largely on the baneful influences the child may be subjected to after birth. Such an unfortunate child may thus develop epilepsy, or alcoholism ,or sexual perversity, and so on.

The alcoholic taint is certainly the most unfortunate that can be bequeathed; yet even this, like all the others, can be fought and lived down by the heroic soul. The offspring of chronic inebriates are badly developed; they are like to be undersized ,morose or melancholy in disposition, or hysterical and acutely sensitive. Or they may be wonderfully precocious, and manifest the highest genius. They lack especially poise, those unhappy children, are weak in attention and will power. Their behavior is apt to be odd, tending even to the "demifous"—the half-mad systems may express itself in a deficient moral sense and in impulses to do wicked things. Sometimes such pathetic children become downright insane.

It should be emphasized that marriage with an individual of bad blood will tend to drag down an inheritance of good blood; imbecility is often introduced into "bloodlines" that have hitherto been good. One's inheritance cannot always be judged from a consideration of the parents alone, for normal parents may have abnormal even criminal children. The inheritance must be traced back for generations ,and the records of cousins, aunts, brothers and sisters must be examined. One does not inherit from his parents, but from the "germ protoplasm." There seems to be no hereditary danger with regard to cancer except when the disease has been on both sides of the family ancestry. More of this tomorrow.

All inquiries addressed to Dr. Huber in care of the "Health Talks" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy; it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

BOLSHEVIK GOLD DENIED CRUISER

Dominion Government Will Not Guarantee Safe Conduct

SOVIET TRADE

Does Not Object to Canadians' Dealings, But Cannot Be Responsible

OTTAWA, Sept. 23. — (Star Special).—That the five million dollars of Bolshevik gold reported to be at Reval to the credit of Canadian manufacturers, will stay there, if, as stated in a London cable, condition to its removal is guarantee of safe conduct, is the position taken by the Dominion Government. Orders for Canadian goods have been negotiated and gold in huge quantities is said to be ready, but the Soviet Government wants a cruiser sent for it, fearing that, in transport, it may be seized by other creditor nations.

The Minister of Trade and Commerce intimated today that the Government is not going to get mixed up in any international situation of the sort. It has no objection to Canadian firms dealing with the Soviet Government, but it is not going to guarantee delivery of goods, or delivery of gold in payment for them. The facts are that the gold is what has been appropriated, or stolen, by the Bolsheviki from the Russian gold reserve. Russia owes a tremendous amount to France and other countries, and they would have the right of seizure. Any imbroglio will be avoided by the Government here. Some suggestions have been made to the Government that safe conduct of the coin alleged to be at Reval should be guaranteed.

SAYS U.S. CUTTER WITHIN RIGHTS

While Cruising in St. Lawrence Carries No Armament Violating Treaty

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(Associated Press). — The United States Coast Guard cutter Chillicothe, which is cruising on the St. Lawrence River, carries no armament which would violate the provisions of the Treaty with Great Britain concerning armed vessels on the waters between the United States and Canada, it was stated yesterday by Commodore W. E. Reynolds, commandant of the Coast Guard Service.

The Kingston, Ont., branch of the Army and Navy Veterans protested yesterday to the Canadian Government that the Chillicothe carried mounted guns in "direct violation of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain."

Commodore Reynolds said the Chillicothe was cruising the St. Lawrence on its regular duty to prevent smuggling, enforce the customs regulations, and co-operate, where possible, with the prohibition enforcement officers.

LONDON DOCTOR SHOOTS HIMSELF

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 23.—Dr. Roy J. Farmer, a well-known local physician and a veteran of the Great War, in which he served as a surgeon on a torpedo boat destroyer of the Royal Navy, shot himself shortly before midnight. He was immediately rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital and no hopes are held out for his recovery. It is stated that he is suffering from two bullet wounds near the heart, but details as to how the wounding happened are not available at the present time.

Dr. Farmer was to have appeared before the police magistrate tomorrow to answer three charges involving breaches of the Ontario Temperance Act.

Opportunity knocks on the door and Fear on the inside keeps his shoulder braced against it.—Ex.

WOULD TAKE BOOK VALUE AS BASIS OF 'PHONE RATES

Carvell Says Anything Higher Not Be Considered

HEARING NEAR CLOSE

Understood Next Sitting Not Before Early in November

OTTAWA, Sept. 23. — (Canadian Press)—Hearing of the Bell Telephone Company's application for an increase in rates was not concluded by the Board of Railway Commissioners yesterday. When adjournment was taken shortly after five o'clock, the company still had one witness to produce in order to complete the establishment of its case. It was thought that the taking of evidence will be concluded by noon today. The next sitting will not take place until early in November, because Chief Commissioner Carvell leaves on Saturday for the West, and he will not conclude western sittings of the board before the end of October. Meanwhile, accountants are to examine the books of the company and produce all the statistical statements that have been demanded by opposing counsel.

The chief witness called yesterday by the company was N. M. Lash, chief engineer, who was called to demonstrate the greater items of cost in conducting a large telephone system other than increased costs of wages and materials. He dwelt particularly upon the increased complexity of the business and the ever-growing intricacies of long distance telephony. He said that in the past the public had been satisfied to talk three or four hundred miles. Now two or three thousand miles was not unusual, and plants had to be able to take care of almost any distance. The cost of such telephoning was very great.

$10,000,000 NEEDED ANNUALLY.

Replying to questions by the Chief Commissioner, Mr. Lash said he was reasonably certain that ten million dollars are required annually by the company for the next two or three years to meet the demands of the public. This figure he put as an absolute minimum. He stated that it would take two years to instal automatic telephones in any new exchange, and that it would be utterly impossible to think of substituting a complete system of automatics in Toronto or Montreal excepting at great cost.

Chief Commissioner Carvell said that he wanted to know how much money the Bell Telephone Company had tied up in its plant today. He stated positively that rates would not be based upon the value of the property today.

Mr. Osler asked Mr. Winter whether the actual value of the plant today was in excess of the book value.

The Chief Commissioner: "What is the book value?"

Mr. Winter replied that the book value of the plant was fifty-two million odd dollars. He considered that the actual value was equal or in excess of the book value.

Judge Charles Laurendeau objected to any consideration being given to the actual value of the plant as it stood today. If this was done it would be necessary for the opponents of the application, or the Railway Commission, to make an appraisal of the whole property. This might take a year.

BASE RATES ON BOOK VALUE.

Mr. Carvell remarked that any rate decision would not be based on anything higher than the book value of the property.

N. M. Lash, when called by Mr. Osler, gave a talk, technical in its nature, designed to show that the company must have money if it was to put its plant in proper shape and keep pace with the very large demand for telephone facilities. He stated that the cable and conduit plans of the company must be made many years ahead. In 1911 an estimate was made of the number of lines which would be required in Toronto in the present year, and results show that this came within 1,000 lines of the number actually needed.

Every time the company was forced to postpone the installation of an office owing to lack of money, said Mr. Lash, it meant that it must spend money on temporary cable to serve subscribers until the office could be opened. Within the last four years the company had postponed opening offices all over the system on account of lack of money. As examples he gave Melrose (Montreal), Walkerville, Calumet (Montreal), and Toronto Beach. These postponements had cost $17,000 in temporary underground cable for a single year.

SAYS WORK HAMPERED.

In order to show how the engineering department had been hampered because of lack of money, Mr. Lash reviewed the budgets of the last few years. He said that in 1914 he was allowed only 67 per cent of the amount asked for. In 1915 he was allowed 22 per cent; 1916, 6⅔ per cent; 1917, 62 per cent; 1918, 42 per cent; 1919, 76 per cent; 1920, 31 per cent. The rapid growth of the business demanded larger size cables and many more central offices. Toronto would require one new office per year for the next seven years, and Montreal about the same. At the end of this year Toronto would have 60,000 telephone lines. In Montreal the re-arrangement of the underground cable distribution plant, due to the opening of the new plateau office, had cost the company $130,000. Toronto, on account of the growth in the office districts, was worse even than Montreal. The program of the company called for the opening of seven new offices by 1927. If, however, money was unobtainable and the plans could not be followed, the service in Toronto would be "hopeless."

LONG DISTANCE PROBLEM.

Mr. Lash said that the public was demanding long distance talks. In the past it was satisfied to talk three or four hundred miles. Now two or three thousand miles was not unusual. A telephone plant had to be able to take care of almost any distance, and the public had no conception of what this cost in plant maintenance and operating. The cost of getting the two parties together for a long distance talk was very large, and the company got no return for this.

It was necessary for the company to decide immediately what it was going to do with regard to opening offices at Welland, Woodstock, Weston, Brampton, Pembroke, Renfrew, Shawinigan Falls, Smiths Falls and Trenton. Extensions would have to be made to practically all the company's central offices, and the full mechanical equipment for the new Montreal and Toronto offices be ordered at once for delivery two years hence. The Toronto-Hamilton cable, which had become an absolute necessity, must be ordered at once. The plant of the company was now in a very serious state and wholesale additions be made if it was not to lapse into a deplorable condition.

In Europe women play a much more important part in the managerial and producing end of the theatrical business than they do in America.

THOROLD HEARING DIVULGES LITTLE

Eighteen Witnesses Heard at Fire Inquest—Non-Communicative

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Sept. 23.—Eighteen witnesses were examined before Fire Marshal Heaton at Thorold yesterday, in the continuation of the inquest on the firing of the Thorold town hall by a mob on the night of August 16 last, when an attempt was made to lynch David McNeal, the alleged murderer of Margaret Boucock. There are several witnesses still to be heard and the inquiry will be resumed this morning. It is still being conducted in camera.

Fire Marshal Heaton did not make an official statement this evening, as he did Tuesday evening at the close of the day's sitting, but he said that practically nothing new had been elicited. It is stated that some of the Thorold people who were called as witnesses yesterday were far from communicative on matters connected with the riot and the attempt to burn down the town hall when the authorities refused to hand McNeal over to the mob on the night in question. The Fire Marshal and Crown Attorney Jeffreys attributed this to a conspiracy of silence, it is said, and subjected the witnesses in question to searching questions.

One official is reported to have testified that when the town hall was besieged by the mob, he was not asked to give aid to the authorities, and when he heard revolver shots, he thought things began to look serious and he beat a hasty retreat.

Four witnesses, it is reported, stated that in their opinion, the crowd which gathered at the town hall on the night of August 16 was a peaceful crowd, and were simply curious to get a look at McNeal, and did not mean to do him any harm. The majority of the witnesses, however, expressed different opinions from this.

AIR FATALITY AT SHAWVILLE FAIR

E. S. Amey, Jeweller, Killed, and Lieut. Drummond Injured

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—E. G. Amey, a prominent jeweller, of Shawville, Que., was killed and Lieutenant Jack Drummond, of Ottawa, painfully injured yesterday afternoon when in full view of hundreds of spectators the airplane in which they were flying crashed to the earth. Mr. Amey sustained terrible injuries and died at the residence of his brother-in-law in Pontiac last evening. Drummond's injuries, while extremely painful, are not considered serious.

Lieut. Drummond was engaged in taking up fair visitors for ten minute trips. Lieut. Drummond made a successful take off just outside the fair grounds and had reached quite an altitude, when he attempted to do a "spiral nose dive."

While descending in the dive the engine stopped and the aviator was unable to clear some telegraph wires near the C.P.R. station, into which the machine crashed.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 23. — Said to have shot and killed Francis Sarafinchan, his sister-in-law, and wounded Tena Fincler, another woman, at McNutt, Sask., near Yorkton, Tuesday night, provincial police are now searching for Andrew Sarafinchan.

OFFER REWARD FOR BANDIT LEADER

Police Anticipate Battle With Five Red Deer Desperadoes

LE PAS, Man., Sept. 23—At the request of the police in pursuit of the five bandits who held up the employees of the Red River Lumber Company at Barrows Junction, rifles and ammunition were sent forward on the evening's train to Mileage 11. It is thought the gang is making towards the railway line that leads from Hudson Bay Junction to The Pas and the police are concentrating at Mileage 11, where the Chemong trail emerges onto the railroad and then leads to the sparsely inhabited north country, where it would be almost impossible to capture the fugitives. So far the robbers have travelled thirty miles from the scene of their latest hold-up. The police have faith that they have a good dragnet for the capture at Mileage 11 but anticipate a battle. They also have warned the crews of the trains going through to beware of being held-up as the gang is a desperate one led by a desperado with a bad reputation. For his capture a reward of $500 was offered yesterday, whether he be taken dead or alive.

BANDITS WOUNDED.

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 23—The five bandits who fired on a provincial police posse after they had raided the Red Deer lumber camp on Sunday are still at large but surrounded by a reinforced posse in a thick bush between Fernwood and Roscoe. A despatch received yesterday, says Inspector Tait, of the Prince Albert division, states that two of the bandits have been wounded. They are all young Russians armed with automatics.

WANTED IN ONTARIO.

The five bandits now holding a police posse at bay near Roscoe, Sask., are wanted in Ontario, according to a telegram received from the Ontario provincial police by the Saskatchewan provincial police, for a hold-up at Fort Francis, Sept. 11. They are said to be the men who held up employees of the Lockhart Lumber Company near Fort Francis and got away with a number of cheques.

URGES UNIFORM CONTROL OF DRUGS

Renfrew Member Discusses Patent Medicine Problem Before Druggists

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—Owing to the development of prohibition throughout the Dominion, uniform laws for the control of the manufacture and sale of proprietory and patent medicines are needed, according to J. A. Stewart, M. P., of Renfrew county, who addressed the Ontario Retail Druggists' Association on the matter here yesterday afternoon. Uniform legislation was required, Mr. Stewart said, in order to deal with the sufficiency of medication in patent and proprietory medicine, so that the same law would be in force in every Province. He recommended a reference of the matter to the Dominion Department of Health, which he said was the best equipped to deal with it.

VANCOUVER ISLAND PROSPERITY DUE TO PRESENT TARIFF

Paint Makers Assert Reduction Seriously Mitigate Against Development

FARMERS' PROFIT

Labor Man Voices Opposition at Victoria Hearing

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 23.—(By Canadian Press).—Speaking before the Board of Tariff Commissioners yesterday morning H. J. Pendray, a large paint manufacturer, representing the manufacturers of Vancouver Island, told the commissioners that industrial development of Vancouver Island was due to the protective tariff in vogue. Continuing, he said that without the tariff the market for local plants in Western Canada would be eliminated, as the competition of Eastern Canada and the United States would practically bar local firms from the market.

Contention that a protective tariff had developed the industrial life of this country to an extent that would have been impossible without it and that western farmers had profited greatly thereby in the extension and development of markets, the transportation systems of the country and education, was the opinion expressed by A. C. Flumerfelt, a former Minister of Finance.

Mr. Flumerfelt, expressed the opinion that the contention that western agriculturists do not derive advantages from a protective tariff, inasmuch as prices for their products are set by the export demand, disregards the fact that the farmers' marketing and other expenses are considerably reduced by reason of industrial development.

Mr. Flumerfelt referred to advantages to the farmers from industrial development promoted by a protective tariff, some of these industries are relieved from an excessive burden of taxation. He said that industries made possible by a protective tariff pay a greater proportion of taxation for the upkeep of national, provincial and municipal government and in this way relieve the agriculturists of a large part of a burden which otherwise they would have to bear alone; preservation of the identity of Canadian farm products, establishment of permanent market conditions and cultivation of good will for distinctly Canadian commodities, higher prices very often for farm products and provisions in industrial centres.

Manufacturing and agricultural enterprise are favorably reflected in each other; they are inter-dependent, added Mr. Flumerfelt.

LABOR PROTEST.

E. S. Woodward contended that the tariff system of raising revenue was vicious from the workmen's standpoint, as he was penalized not from the size of his pay check but on his necessities for his family.

Mr. Woodward, who is British Columbia vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, protested against the retention of the protective tariff system as a means of raising revenue. A man, he contended, should pay according to the benefit he received. He asserted that the uneasiness in this country and other countries was due largely to economic reasons and a remedy should be found.

W. F. Thompson said it would be dangerous to Canada to have free trade unless it were reciprocal. He believed free trade would be a good thing if it were universal.

R. W. Mayhew, of the Sydney Roofing and Paper Company, which will produce an output of $800,000 this year, declared it was the protection afforded against the American product that made the industry possible here, with a market in British Columbia and the western provinces. If protection is continued, he said, it will enable the company to devote its attention not only to the Canadian trade but to the export market. A protective tariff is necessary, he declared, to assume the industry a home market for ready made roofing.

BANQUET SPEECHES.

The six hundred business men of the city attended the luncheon tendered here yesterday to the members of the Tariff Commission by the Board of Trade. Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, reiterated the determination of the Government to stop borrowing, and he hoped that the methods of the future would be more effective than those of the past.

Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, reviewed the labor situation, and promised that as far as possible, returned soldiers and British subjects would be employed in the construction of the proposed drydock at Esquimault.

Hon. Dr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, urged business men and the community to take an interest in agriculture and emphasized the need of patronising home industry, pointing out that Canada was spending $800,000,000 a year in the United States at present at a big discount.

EMPLOYMENT ASS'N ELECTS OFFICERS

Ottawa Man Again President—Organization Changes Name

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—Besides electing officers for the coming year, members of the American Association of Public Employment Offices decided at the closing of the annual meeting yesterday afternoon to meet at Buffalo next year, and also to change the name of their organization. In future it will be known as the International Association of Public Employment Services. The constitution was amended to allow this. Mr. Bryce M. Stewart, Labor Department, Ottawa, was again elected president of the association. The other officers elected were:

Flynn, New York; executive, J. B. Densmore, Washington, D.C.; immediate past presidents and director general, United States Employment Service; Miss Marion Findlay, Toronto; J. Peters, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Thos. Malloy, Regina, Sask.

LIBERALS DESERT.

ST. STEPHEN, N.B., Sept. 23.—The Liberals of Charlotte County met in convention here yesterday but was not largely attended. A striking feature of the gathering was the absence of many former supporters of all things liberal. The convention placed a ticket in the field for the provincial election composed of John W. Scovil, St. Stephen; Frank Kennedy, St. Andrews; Harry W. Mann, Red Ridge; Hugh R. Lawrence, St. George.

GOVERNOR COX'S TRAIN WRECKED

Engineer and Several Passengers Injured

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept., 23.—Governor Cox's special train, on the way to Prescott, Ariz., from Phoenix, over the Santa Fe, was wrecked one mile north of Peoria, sixteen miles from Phoenix, about four o'clock yesterday afternoon. Neither the Governor or any member of his personal party was injured, although all were badly shaken up.

One engineman is reported badly hurt and several passengers sustained slight injuries. The accident is supposed to have been caused by a broken rail. The three forward cars were overturned and went into the ditch as did the second engine and the tender of the first engine.

N.S. VETERANS TO BOOST HOUSING

Criticise Provincial Act — Officers Elected at Yesterday's Session

DIGBY, N. S., Sept. 23.—There was a lively discussion of the housing problem at the Nova Scotia G. W. V. A. convention here yesterday, after which it was decided to memorialize the Dominion Government asking that a housing scheme on the same basis as the Settlement Board be established. It was also decided to carry out a rigorous campaign to inform the people generally as to the main facts in housing conditions. The Housing Act as passed by the Provincial Government came in for some criticism as it was felt it was regarded with so many fences it was almost impossible to get over them.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Honorary president, General Thacker, G.O.C., District 6, Halifax; president, H. C. Bent, Amherst; vice-president, J. H. T. Nicholson, Sydney Mines; executive: Zone 1, G. W. Russell, Halifax; Zone 2—Rev. J. J. McDonald, Bridgewater; Zone 3—Yarmouth to Lockport, left open; Zone 4—R. R. Murray, Springhill; Zone 5—M. S. Binet, Arichat; Zone 6—J. Welsford McDonald, Pictou; Zone 7—B. W. Roscoe, Kentville; Zone 8—H. A. McKenzie, Bridgetown; Zone 9—Baddeck, etc., left open; Zone 10—Morrison, Glace Bay.

TORONTO WILL BAR IRISH CONVENTION

Mayor Church Tells Promoters to Abandon Plans

STRONG PROTESTS

City Determined League Meeting Shall Not Take Place

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—(Star Special). — If the Self-Determination League for Ireland desires to hold a convention, some other place than Toronto will have to be selected. Mayor Church has taken the matter in hand, and notified the acting chief of police to advise the owners of the Labor Temple that a breach of the peace might result. He has also told the promoters of the meeting that they had better abandon their plans.

In addition, a large meeting was held at Victoria Hall last night, attended by nearly five thousand men, and the repeated declaration was loudly applauded that "This meeting must not and shall not take place in the loyal city of Toronto." Strong protests were voiced, and the following resolution passed by a standing vote:

"In letter to E. A. L'Estrange, secretary of the Army and Navy Veterans' League, the Mayor writes—

"The Self-Determination League and the Sinn Fein leaders have declared that a state of war exists between the Mother Country and their organization and many innocent people have been killed as a result of this active warfare. If this is so then there is only one side for loyal citizens to take and that is to come to the united help of the British Empire as happened during the war."

Further down in the letter he says: "I agree with you that the question of free speech is not involved, but the question of treason is. Their only hope is that England and America will be enemies and that Ireland will fight England and England will fight America. They did the Kaiser's work before and during the war and if we see in our midst men who would break up the British Empire and plunge a dagger into its heart what are you to think of them except that they are traitors?"

LOWER CLOTHING.

Toronto tailors and clothing dealers admit that clothing prices are liable to take a drop, but think that this will not happen until spring. The pronouncement of the Clothiers' Association at Chicago that clothing prices will drop in the spring finds many supporters here.

SHOT BY BURGLAR.

Nick Evanoff, a laborer on a C. N. R. construction gang, was shot through the thigh early yesterday morning by a burglar who entered one of the boarding cars in the Don Valley near the brickyard. Evanoff was brought to St. Michael's Hospital, where he is reported to be in a serious condition. From details furnished the police it was learned that three masked men entered the car at 2:30 in the morning. While the burglars were searching the clothing of the foreigners, Evanoff called for help. One of the three men turned and fired at him, the bullet passing through the right thigh. The gunmen then fled from the car without getting any money. No arrests have been made.

QUESTION DOUGHTY'S RELATIVES.

In an effort to learn something of the whereabouts of John Doughty, the missing secretary of the missing theatre magnate, Ambrose J. Small, Geo. T. Walsh, solicitor for Mrs. John Doughty, will ask Mr. Justice Rose at Osgoode Hall today for an order compelling Jean Doughty, William Doughty, Mrs. E. Lodett and William Wilson to attend before Col. John Bruce, special examiner, to be examined in regard to John Doughty's present location.

WOULD ENFORCE BOND.

Mayor Church and Controller Maguire, at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Control, stood for refusing to loan to the Toronto Street Railway Company, until next year, its percentage payments to the city. The Mayor's motion to refuse the company's request was defeated and Controller Cameron's, to postpone action until next Tuesday, was carried, with the approval of Controllers Ramsden and Gibbons. R. J. Fleming, general manager of the railway company, appeared before the Board and said that a councillor's statement to the effect that the company's assets would be bought as junk for $5,000,000 had hurt the company's credit. "Personally," he said, "I am satisfied they will not be bought for that much nor twice that much."

TROLLEY KILLS CHILD.

A nine-year-old girl, whose identity was not established up to a late hour last evening, was struck and instantly killed at 6 o'clock last evening on Colborne street, just off the Market square, Brantford. The accident happened within the sight of hundreds of pedestrians at the crowded hour. The little one ran in front of a westbound street car, and apparently tripped. Motorman Huffman stopped the car within thirty feet, but the little one's face and head were crushed beyond recognition.

GUISE-BAGLEY LOSES.

The case of Ruddy v. Buise-Bagley was concluded at yesterday afternoon's sittings of the Supreme Court, Mr. Justice Middleton presiding, at Peterboro. When the jury returned a verdict in which it found that the business as represented by Judge Ruddy was not misrepresented and the plaintiff, claiming that the agreement was fortfeited by reason of default, the vendor is entitled to retain the money paid and the right to possession of the premises. Guise-Bagley's counter claim for $10,000 damages was dismissed. Guise-Bagley will have to pay the costs of the action and the counter claim. Guise-Bagley had agreed to lease the building and take over the law practice of Judge Ruddy and entered suit charging that the properties had been misrepresented.

MOTOR TRUCK ROBERS.

Motor truck robbers are terrorizing York County. Within the last six weeks store after store in York and in the counties adjoining have been broken into and truckloads of merchandise carried off. The robbers have operated in the dead of night, and have chosen for their prey isolated stores in towns and villages unprotected by night police patrol.

In not a single case have the robbers been discovered, nor has a single reliable clue been found by the police investigating.

Last night a store was cleaned out in Newmarket. Then about six weeks ago a regular chain of robberies began. Macdonald and Sons' general store at King City lost more than $1,000 worth of merchandise; stores in Richmond Hill, Weston, Whitby and Barrie suffered. Last Friday night four stores in Bolton were cleaned out, and the same night one in Bradford. On Monday the robbers visited Alliston.

FARMERS PLAN FULL TICKET.

FREDERICTON, N.B., Sept. 23.—At a meeting of the executive of the United Farmers organization of York County yesterday afternoon, it was decided unanimously to nominate a complete ticket for York County, including a candidate from the city and three from the county, and to call a convention of United Farmers for Tuesday, September 28th.

U.S. LETTER CARRIERS WILL NOT FEDERATE

NEW CREW FOR H.M.S. CONSTANCE

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 23. — (Star Special).—A new crew will join H.M.S. Constance, while she is in here. The cruiser arrived here on Monday from St. John and is at the dockyard. She carries a crew of over three hundred officers and men and her new personnel are coming to Canada on the steamer Melita, due at Quebec the end of the week. They will come to Halifax by rail and immediately go on board the ship, the present crew going to one of the harbor forts for a few days and then going to Quebec to take passage on the Melita for Quebec. The cruiser will then leave for the South.

UNIFY COMMERCE BOARDS OF EMPIRE

Congress Approves Affiliation with Imperial Council of Commerce

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—In an effort to complete the business of the Ninth Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire here yesterday, sixteen resolutions were discussed and carried, but it was found impossible to wind up the business before today. The resolutions dealt with were varied in subject, and embraced matters of importance to the nation's matters, relating to the organization of the congress and matters of a secondary nature.

The most controversial subject that has yet come before the congress, was a proposal by A. J. Hobson, of Shelfield, England, that all business arising out of the proposed federation of the Chambers of Commerce of the various parts of the Empire, should be controlled by the British Imperial Council of Commerce. There was strong opposition to this, and finally a modified form of Mr. Hobson's resolution was carried.

A number of delegates took the ground that the effect of such a resolution as that moved by Mr. Hobson would be to create a bureaucracy in London and in the modification of the original resolution, this feature was removed. The congress approved of all the Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade throughout the Empire becoming affiliated with the British Imperial Council of Commerce.

WINDSOR TO HAVE FLOATING HOTEL

WINDSOR, Sept. 23.—(Star Special).—As a solution to the acute lack of hotel accommodation in the Border Cities, a movement is under way to maintain a floating hotel, which will open immediately the navigation season ceases. President Bourke, of the Great Lakes Transportation Company, who has been approached by members of the Border Chamber of Commerce, declares his willingness to moor one of the company's vessels where it would be easily accessible to travellers. During the recent session of the Trades and Labor Congress, it would have been impossible for the delegates to have remained in the city had not private houses been thrown open to them.

The idea of a floating hotel was originated for this purpose in Detroit, where the Nuronic was used.

GETS HEAVY SENTENCE.

WINDSOR, Sept. 23.—The high cost of living is a mere shadow in comparison to the high cost of stealing, judging by the sentence of six months at hard labor meter Fred McCormack, convicted of theft of a pair of socks from a local dry goods store.

URGE MORE CONSTABLES.

WINDSOR, Sept. 23.—With rum runners and motor speedsters running riot, the Border Chamber of Commerce is urging the appointment of fifteen additional police constables to the local force.

$200 LIQUOR FINE

Cornwall Man Must Serve Term in Jail as Well

CORNWALL, Sept. 23.—(Star Special).—A resident of Cornwall Township, named Ed. Miller, appeared in the police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor, preferred by provincial officer Stick. Miller pleaded not guilty, but the provincial officer submitted evidence to prove that he had sold liquor and C. H. Cline, deputy police magistrate, imposed a fine of $200 and costs and 15 days in jail as well, or, in default of payment of the fine, the accused will have to serve two months' extra. This is the second time the magistrate has added imprisonment to the fine for an infraction of the O. T. A. since he was appointed deputy magistrate.

TICKET AGENTS HAVE GRIEVANCE

Complain That Free Transportation is No Longer Obtainable

The question of transportation for ticket agents was the chief subject of discussion at the 34th annual meeting of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association which opened yesterday in the Oak Room of the Windsor Hotel. The opening address was delivered by George G. Bell, who welcomed those in attendance and wished the association success in its objects.

The president's address which referred in part to the difficulties of securing free transportation for ticket agents from the railway companies opened a discussion in which all expressed themselves as dissatisfied with the present condition of affairs. The privilege of obtaining passes on railway lines, which many had believed permanent, was curtailed shortly before the last annual meeting in Toronto, and has not since been restored.

The president, John Ransford of Clinton ,emphasized the value of travel to the ticket agents and through them to the companies which they represented. To be successful, a ticket agent must be able to talk, he pointed out, and to tell prospective customers all they ask about their journey and more. "A man cannot do this properly," he said, "from time folder acquired information. He cannot talk too intelligently, and this can only be done from personal observation."

"Hitherto we have been used generously by the various railroads both in Canada and the United States. We have been granted transportation for ourselves and for our dependents to and from our annual meetings. Today it is no longer so. Only to those wholly engaged in railroading is such transportation possible. But more than that, the annual passes which some outside agents had are stopped, and in this manner they are deprived of educational advantages of which it is difficult to estimate the full benefit."

The meeting was unanimous in its agreement with the president's opinion on the matter and several members spoke in appreciation of his attitude. It was decided to take no hurried action with regard to the question of transportation. One member told of an instance in which a certain railroad in the United States, through its legal advisors, interpreted the Railroad Act differently from the majority of lines and admitted ticket agents to the ranks of those whose right it was to receive free transportation. He expressed the hope that the privilege would soon be restored to those from whom it had been taken last summer.

Mr. Snell, of the Grand Trunk Railway addressed the meeting briefly. The program of entertainments was announced by the secretary, E. de la Hooke, of London, Ontario, as follows:—Wednesday evening, theatre night at the Princess ;Thursday, September 23 ,10 a.m., drive around city and mountain; Thursday afternoon, 3.15 p.m., drive through city to Anchor Donaldson docks, where a meeting will be held on board the Saturnia and light refreshments will be served. All activities in the city are under Daylight Saving time in order to avoid confusion. A trip to Quebec is contemplated by a number of those attending the convention, after its close tomorrow evening, but the association is not going as a body.

Regret was expressed at the absence of a number of members and in the case of Mr. Churchill of Collingwood, Ontario, whose recent blindness had caused him to resign from active membership in the association a letter of regret and of appreciation of his work for the association will be sent.

MISSIONARY SHOWER.

A missionary shower was held last night, in honor of Miss Helen Lockhart at the Pentecostal Missionary Rest Home, 161 Notre Dame street, Lachine, to help supply the equipment for her coming trip to India. Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Lindsay, who were present and are also going to India on Missionary work, will hold their farewell meeting in the hall of the home on Friday next at 8 p.m.

ONE MONTH FOR SELLING DRUGS

Dr. W. E. Rouillard, 348 St. Catherine street east, was yesterday sentenced to one month's imprisonment when he appeared before Judge Cusson in the Enquete court on a charge of selling drugs without a license. It is claimed that the accused sold 1-4 ounce of morphine whilst not in possession of a certficate authorising him to do so.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupify, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

FACE STONE WALL IN EXPLOSION CASE

Federal and Municipal Authorities Find No Clues to Perpetrators

A NEW WITNESS

Stenographer Warned to Keep Away—Police Search for Man

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(From Our Own Correspondent.) — The combined efforts of the eight federal and municipal agencies investigating the explosion in Wall Street last Thursday have so far failed to turn up one fact that may lead to the arrest of those responsible for the disaster. The authorities admitted last night that they "were up against a stone wall."

Fire Commissioner Drennan said that the experts of his department had not made up their minds as to the nature of the explosive used, while members of other investigating bodies were still in doubt as to whether it was an accident or a deliberately planned outrage.

Police officials and agents of the Department of Justice believe the blast was planned deliberately. The District Attorney's office, however, leans to the idea that the affair may quite reasonably have been an accident.

The latest witness in support of the plot theory is a girl stenographer, formerly employed in the office of the Department of Justice, and now working in the Equitable building. She is said to have been warned to stay away from the Wall Street district on the day of the tragedy by a young man who took her to lunch two days previously. The story runs that when the girl asked for more details her escort gave evasive answers, but begged her to heed his advice.

Department of Justice officials yesterday began a hunt for the man.

MIAMI CABLE

Western Union Seeking Permission to Establish Line

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.— Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and William G. McAdoo, counsel for the company in connection with the forthcoming communications conference, called on Secretary of State Colby yesterday to urge that an executive permit be granted the Western Union for the landing at Miami, Florida, of the American end of a cable to the Barbados.

The State Department has declined to act on the original request of the Western Union filed some weeks ago, and recently had warships sent to Miami to prevent the landing of the cable.

WOMEN PICKET CONSUL'S OFFICES

Carried Inflamatory Signs Denouncing Britain's Irish Administration

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—The offices of the British Consul were picketed yesterday by American women—apparently of Irish descent—in the interest of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, of Cork. Three were on duty, dressed in black, and carried immense signs bearing the legends:

"Great Britain forbids SS. Panhandle State, United States Mail Steamship Company entering Irish ports!" "Americans! Are we asleep?" "British officials closely guarded as MacSwiney sinks. Special bodyguard watches over Lloyd George."

"George Bernard Shaw says: "I would not be in Lloyd George's shoes for a good deal." MacSwiney is near death. Lloyd George's shoes may soon be empty."

"American ships flying the American flag barred from entering Queenstown harbor. Well, Americans."

There are about 25 women altogether acknowledging no special leadership at headquarters they say.

DEFEAT SUFFRAGE.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 23 — Ratification of the suffrage amendment by the Maryland House was voted down last evening by a vote of 50 to 43.

SOCIALIST MEMBERS CONTINUE BATTLE

N.Y. Assemblymen Make Move to Secure Reinstatement

ALBANY, N.Y., Sept. 23.—(United Press.)—Complications in the ouster of the Socialist members of the Assembly continued to pile up today. The three ousted men, Charles Solomon, August Claessens and Louis Waldman, now take the attitude that they were not legally members of the Assembly when they were ousted the second time Tuesday night, inasmuch as they had been sworn in without certificates of election.

Today they planned to secure the certificates and present themselves to the Secretary of State a second time to take the oath of office, if their counsel approved the idea.

Louis M. Martin, chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, was of the opinion that if the Socialists carry out their plan they would enter the House as new members, and that another resolution to expel them would be necessary.

JOHNSON TO STUMP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. — Senator Hiram Johnson, California, will invade the east on a whirlwind speaking tour in behalf of the Harding-Coolidge ticket, the third week in October, it was announced at Republican National headquarters.

"Why Didn't You Leave Me Years Ago"

Title of New Song Now Sweeping the Country

The latest song craze from the bright lights of Broadway is entitled "Why Didn't You Leave Me Years Ago Instead of Leaving Me Now." This ballad is now inundating Canada with a wave of song that promises to reach from Ontario to the wilds of the Northland.

The song is issued by Leo. Feist, of New York and Toronto, who expect that "Why Didn't You Leave Me Years Ago" will rival in popularity some of their other big hits, such as "I Know What It Means To Be Lonesome," "Salvation Lassie of Mine," "Rose of No Man's Land," "K-K-Katy," etc. The cover of the song contains a beautiful picture of Mabel Normand, so popular with movie patrons.

FIVE LINERS ARE LEAVING MONTREAL

Week-End Liner Capacity is Heavy from This Port —Water Level Low

Liner activity in Montreal port is still keeping pace with New York to such an extent that this week there is no indication of the lull which comes to other ports at this time of the year.

Four ocean liners arrived here during the week, all within forty hours of each other, and during the same week-end, commencing tomorrow, five ocean liners leave for Europe with capacity passenger lists.

The C.P.O.S. liners Tunisian and Scotian, for Glasgow and London respectively, leave port tomorrow morning. On Saturday the White Star liner Canada, the Anchor-Donaldson liner Saturnia and the C.P.O.S. liner Corsican leave together at 11 a.m., city time. The Saturnia sails for Glasgow and the other two for Liverpool.

In addition to the five liners docking at Montreal the Victorian and Friedrich Wilhelm of the C.P.O.S. line from Liverpool docked at Quebec this week. The Friedrich Wilhelm left Quebec at 4 p.m. today.

Among the Montrealers arriving on the Victorian yesterday afternoon at Quebec were the following: Miss O. Avery, A. Dingwall, P. L. Lukis and Mrs: Lukis, A. R. Mark, Y. Masson, A. B. Robertson, A. Trudel and Mrs. Trudel, B. Wigdor, Mrs. H. P. Wright and Miss M. Wright.

CORSICAN PASSENGERS.

Leaving Montreal for Liverpool on Saturday are the following Montrealers on the C.P.O.S. liner Corsican:

Miss Ann Crawford, Mrs. Mothersall, Mrs. J. Ogden, Mrs. A. Clapham, Mrs. A. Noel and son, Mr. and Mrs. E. Mitchell and family, Mrs. H. Syner, Mrs. H. Bradford, E. F. Bieler, A. N. and Mrs. Clermont, Miss M. Daly and Miss K. Fulwell, Mr. Butterworth, Miss Jane Robinson, Miss V. Hall.

CANADA PASSENGERS.

Leaving on the White Star liner Canada on Saturday are the following Montrealers:

Mrs. Baker and child, Mrs. E. and Miss D. Burns, H. Case, Mrs. M. Cuswell, Miss M. J. Fisoter, Miss K. and Master H. Gough, Mrs. J. P. and Miss Hodges, Mrs. K. Holliday, A. Holness and Mrs. Holness, Mrs. C. Hood, Miss Martin, Mrs. F. O'Connor, C. E. Philbick, Miss H. Stewart, Capt. F. and Mrs. Thornbly, Mrs. E. Watson and family, J. Yates and Mrs. J. Yates.

RIVER DOWN FOUR FEET.

The river level, which has been exceptionally low all summer touched the lowest level in four years this morning. The 33 foot channel gauge indicated today a depth of 28 feet 11 inches, a drop of four feet and one inch.

The lowest previous level was recorded in 1915 when the gauge read 25 feet 10 inches for one August day but did not keep the low average of the present month. Precipitation in the St. Lawrence river basin is stated to be quite normal and the present low level is thought to be due mainly to the slowing-up in dredging operations, caused by the war.

A strong agitation is to be made when appropriations are made next session for the deepening of Canadian waterways. The 35 foot St. Lawrence river channel has suffered by fifty per cent cuts in dredging expenses. An effort is now being made to have the pre-war dredging plans carried out on the schedule which was then planned and agreed upon.

MANY BARGES RETURN.

Probably the last of all military and naval forces to be demobilised is in the river at present, namely a fleet of steam barges belonging to the Canada Steamship Lines, which were ordered overseas during the war and reached Europe under their own steam.

They are only now returning and the vanguard, which is due here in a day or two, consist of the following river vessels averaging from 1,500 to 2,000 tonnage and recognized as a welcome addition to the C.S.L. fleet: The Winona, Turbinia, McKinstry, Glenellah, Kenora,, Edmonton and Mapleton. These vessels have an average length of 260 feet and are extremely useful as grain carriers between Montreal and the great lake elevators.

There remains a considerable number of lake vessels belonging to the Canada Steamship Lines not yet reported back from their original war charters but the present movement is an indication that the largest of the Montreal fleet of river boats will soon be restored to normal river routes.

MONTREALERS ON SCOTIAN.

The following from this city are booked to leave tomorrow morning for London on the C.P.O.S. liner Scotian: Mrs. C. Trouillard, Miss M. Trouillard, C. Birch, Dr. A. De Guise, H. D. Palmer, M. Ouimet, Rev. O. Henry, Mrs. V. Hulin, Mrs. A. Lazuya, Mrs. J. Chevru, Miss B. Morgan, Mrs. D. G. Davies, Miss K. T. Godfrey, Auguste Geborit, M. Thiviere, J. Thiviere, Mrs. F. W. Forster, Mr. and Mrs. B. Maurault, J. E. Clement, J. L. A. Clement, Miss Y. and Miss S. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. F. Valade, Mme. M. Privat, Miss Marcel Privat, Miss B. Carey, C. B. MacDonald, J. ## Lebel Township Most Active Gold Mining KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Sept. 23.—Of the new mining districts of Northern Ontario, the township of Lebel, in the eastern part of Kirkland Lake field, has become the most active. More discoveries of gold have been made during the past summer in that area than in any other part of the North.

Although the Lebel territory is regarded as being new from a mining standpoint, yet it has a decided advantage over all other new areas in that it is the continuation of a belt of auriferous formation which the central part of the Kirkland Lake district has been found to contain millions in gold. This removes a large amount of the gamble which would otherwise attach to its exploration and development.

MINES WILLING TO ABSORB MEN BEING RELEASED

TIMMINS, Ont., Sept. 23 (Star Special)—The harvest season in the West is drawing to a close, and curtailment of employment in the automobile industry is taking place. These two factors alone are releasing a vertible army of men for re-employment in other lines of industry.

Mining men in Northern Ontario have again taken heart, and believe the situation may mark the commencement of a solution of the labor shortage problem in this country particularly in the Porcupine gold district.

Two thousand mine workers could find employment at Porcupine and at Kirkland lake, while at Cobalt the demand for men is also greater than the supply. Nowhere in the North country is there any unemployment other than by choice.

A Puzzle to Me
I had a few dollars in the bank and was saving a little all the time, but without any definite plan. I looked at my neighbours, some of them men of means, and wondered what they did with their money, their extra money, I mean. I supposed they invested it somehow, but how? That was the question, and I was too bashful to ask.
One day, however, I read of a man who had been paying an instalment of $87.25 a month for a year and a half and had actually made $136 in interest on his payments during that time, while at the end of the eighteen months he was the possessor of 15 shares Canadian Pacific Railway Company Stock and in receipt of a dividend cheque for $37.50 every three months.
That was $150 a year, all made by a small Systematic Investment account with J. M. Robinson & Sons, Members of the Montreal Stock Exchange and doing business in Montreal, St. John and Fredericton.
To make a long story short that ended my puzzle—the answer had been found. I opened a systematic account with that house and my savings are earning the full dividend return of my investment. In a few months I shall have paid for and received a certificate for 20 shares of Dominion Iron Preferred and my income therefrom will be $35.00 every three months, $140 a year.
You, too, can follow this simple plan. I am sure that J. M. Robinson & Sons will send you their very attractive little booklet explaining the plan if you will drop them a line asking for booklet C to 11 St. John St., Montreal, or to Market Square, St. John, N.B.

Mantell's Brutus a Dignified Study of A Noble Character

THAT the tragedy of "Julius Caesar" still possesses a power to draw large audiences was fully exemplified at His Majesty's Theatre last night, when the auditorium was crowded to see Mr. Mantell's production of this famous play, which he omitted from his repertoire on his two previous visits to this city. Not only was the theatre full, but the audience manifested the keenest interest and frequently gave emphatic expression to its appreciation of the production.

* * *

Mr. Mantell's Brutus is a dignified study of a noble character. If at times it seems to lack that austere distinction a few of the greatest actors have lent the role, on the other hand it is always compellingly human. Mr. Mantell, alike in carriage, in gesture, and in vocal expression, conveys to the mind a vivid impression of the Roman noble led astray by evil counsel and mistaking ambition in others for patriotism demanding his service. His gestures are few, but they are invariably illustrative. They are, moreover, natural. He does not stalk the stage in a stilted manner. His deportment is dignity itself—precisely what one would expect from a Roman of Brutus' rank and years.

* * *

The soliloquy in the garden was delivered as a soliloquy—not, as is so often the case, like a "set" piece for recitation. Mr. Mantell achieves the same success in all Shakespearean soliloquies,—delivering them in a half-spasmodic manner that suggests the spoken thought, not the recited phrase. It adds tremendously to one's understanding of the significance of the lines. The crowd in the Forum scene was at times too emphatic in its outbursts, but even this fault is to be preferred to a silent assembly listening to a piece of elaborate declamation. I would not say Mr. George Stillwell's Antony was at all times satisfying. It was uneven. But be it remembered that this is an extremely difficult role, and that but few actors of the greatest experience and talent ever have achieved success in it. Mr. Stillwell at least gave us the semblance of sincerity, and his utterance was clear and expressive, if occasionally it tended too much towards mere rhetoric.

* * *

The quarrel in the Tent scene at Sardis marked the best achievement of the evening's performance. Mr. Mantell in this maintained throughout a dignity and authority of gesture, of speech, and of carriage that created a deep impression. In Mr. Henderson as Cassius he had support that went far to complete the illusion of the scene. Mr. Henderson in the lighter moments of the role did not measure up to its possibilities, but the Tent scene found him both resourceful and capable of expressive dramatic utterance, though a tendency towards too hasty delivery, slightly marred its incisive effect. The scene as a whole, both in action and from a pictorial standpoint, may be regarded as the notable one of the performance.

* * *

In a tragedy such as "Julius Caesar" it is not always easy to cast a repertoire company to the best advantage for every role. The characters are so deftly limned, the qualities that differentiate them so subtly indicated. Mr. Mantell is fortunate in his Caesar, however. Mr. Lindsley's portrayal of Caesar lacked nothing in dignity or that semblance of authority the role demands, nor was it by any means weak in the finer points of characterization.

The opportunities given Portia in the drama are few, but the role is none the less an attractive one, and Miss Hamper makes it more so by the sheer simplicity of her acting. She never strains after effect, and in consequence she gains what she wants in a manner effortless and convincing.

There are no other individual performances that call for special mention. The staging and mounting were along traditional lines, adequate as to background, colorful, devoid of unessential detail, and notable for spaciousness and good lighting.

Tonight "King Lear,"—the finest impersonation of the mad monarch the English-speaking stage knows today.

S. MORGAN-POWELL.

Cobbler Showed He Made Profit of $100 a Week

In a case decided by Mr. Justice Howard in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon, it was incidentally shown that a cobbler can make clear trade profits varying from $100 to $110 a week.

The case was that of Henry Rapkin, who occupied a shoe repairing shop at 2240 Ontario street east for three years from May 1, 1916, to May 1, 1919. The property then changed hands, Rene Laporte being the purchaser, and he renewed plaintiff's lease for a period of five years at $22 a month. Later, wishing to make certain structural alterations, Laporte moved his tenant into premises next door. Rapkin alleged that thereby he lost trade and custom and took action against his landlord asking damages as follows: $1,000 for loss of customers, annoyance and inconvenience, and $300 for loss of trade.

In support of his claim, plaintiff showed that during the summer months he made clear profits amounting to $100 to $110 a week.

Defendant in contesting the claim quoted a clause of the lease by which he had reserved himself the right to do alterations without liability of plaintiff for any damages in consequence of such work.

Mr. Justice Howard said the case must be governed by the provisions of the lease, and particularly the paragraph which protected the landlord against damages. In the circumstances, the court held that plaintiff was sufficiently compensated for any damages which he had proved, beyond those he was obliged to suffer under the conditions of the lease by the tender of defendant for $100.

Judgment was therefore given declaring defendant's offer sufficient, and dismissing with costs plaintiff's action for any sum beyond $100.

Bercovitch & Co. appeared for plaintiff, and Trudeau & Guerin for the defence.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S NEW PREMIER

Hon. R. A. Squires, K.C., Prime Minister of Newfoundland, who arrives on the Victorian, is paying his first visit to Canada since he became Premier. In August last year he organized the Liberal Reform party, which defeated the Government of Sir Michael Cashin, in one of the most sensational campaigns in the history of Newfoundland. He was Minister of Justice in the Government of Sir Edward Morris for four years, holding a seat in the Legislative Council, which latter he resigned to contest the district of St. John's West, the old seat of Sir Edward, now Lord, Morris, which he carried at the head of the poll.

He was born at Harbour Grace forty-two years ago, educated at Dalhousie University, a lawyer by profession, a noted platform orator, a very astute political organizer, and an indefatigable worker.

He has been in London for the last two months on the colony's business, chiefly the Labrador boundary dispute. Mr. Squires is on his way home to Newfounland. He holds 24 out of 36 seats in the House of Assembly.

NOTHING DONE IN GAMBLING AFFAIR

Old Man Loses Savings —Broker Gambles Fortune, Sharks Carry on

The denunciation of a certain gambling den on St. Catherine East to E. R. Decary, chairman of the Administrative Commission, has not yet been followed up, because, as Mr. Decary informed The Star this morning, it had not been received by him—"but when it arrives immediate action will be taken." It will be remembered that R. Langlois, of the St. Lawrence Broom and Brush Company, a few days ago alleged that a clerk had gambled away $7,000, most of it being stolen money.

A case had occurred to him, he informed The Star this morning, of a jobber his firm had done business with having made away with $800 of their money, and much more of other peoples. He said that in this case the jobber had no money, "so he traded our brushes, which were no use to the betting concern he wanted to deal with, for matches, which they could use in their cigar store businesses."

Mr. Langlois claimed that this particular concern was the headquarters of the Montreal gambling dens, and was so powerful that it was they who decreed whether a new man shall be allowed to open up for "business."

Since his communication appeared in The Star, several cases had come up to him. One was that of an old man, a carpenter, whose savings of fifteen years, amounting to $3,550 had been taken out of his bank by his son by means of two forged cheques. "The old man was in tears when he came to see me, but he can do nothing, and he will certainly not take action against his only son."

It was said that clerks at several of the department stores and other places had a system of leaving a pool, or sum of money, at these gambling dens, and then telephoning during the day to place their bets. "Of course they lose, for these people are nothing but sharks, and in many cases, once the clerks lose their own money, they steal from the till of their employers to try and win back their losings."

LOYOLA HOME TO HOLD TAG DAY

Final arrangements for a tag day in aid of the Loyola Convalescent Home were completed for Saturday next at a meeting held in the Catholic Girls' Club, 311 Mackay street, yesterday. The executive of the club has granted the use of the rooms as headquarters for the work. The meeting was well attended and it is hoped to raise by this tag day an amount equal to that of last year, to enable the committee to proceed with the purchase of the new premises as the work of the Convalescent Home now demands larger quarters.

Among those present at the meeting, and taking active part in the tag day were:—Mrs. H. Fortier, Mrs. J. Vincent Quinn, Mrs. A. W. Robertson, Mrs. S. C. Marson, Miss Bury, Mrs. M. Hackett, Mrs. C. P. Myers, Mrs. C. McAuley, Mrs. D. McCallum, Mrs. M. Johns, Mrs. F. Palmer, Mrs. H. F. Hope, Miss Rowan, Mrs. J. T. Angus, Miss Wickham, Mrs. M. Casey Miss Charland, Mrs. M. McBrearty, Mrs. J. Cumming, Miss Armstrong, Miss Dunne, Miss Marion, Miss Fraser, Miss Jones, Miss Tansey, Miss Stewart, Miss McKenna, Mrs. J. E. Buckels.

AT THE MOVIES

Miss Eileen Percy opened a four-days' engagement at the Strand Theatre yesterday in "Her Honor The Mayor", a picture romance of love and politics. "Eyes of some men travel far for the finding of a star", said the poet Wordsworth. In this case the new star comes from Ireland. Miss Percy's beauty and her ability as an actress are known to thousands of motion-picture patrons, for she has played leading parts in recent successes, and has a successful stage career behind her. A crowded house gave her picture a most cordial welcome last night. "Her Honor the Mayor" tells how a woman managed to conduct public affairs and her own private affairs at the same time, and to keep her hands clean, though corrupt forces were leagued against her.

Harold Lloyd will be seen on the same bill in his latest comedy special, "High and Dizzy," which has scored one of the biggest hits this season.

* * *

"The Hidden Code," a photoplay of thrills, of wholesome problems and hair-raising exploits, showing at the Tivoli Theatre for the balance of the week, presents to the movie lover a welcome change from the general run of pictures now before the public.

The photoplay tells the story of a demented scientist who has discovered after twenty years of research and experiment a method of making an explosive, the smallest drop of which would level the greater portion of a city like New York with the thoroughness of a West Indian earthquake. In order to protect the secret formula of this explosive the old scientist places his beautiful daughter in a trance and then burns into the flesh on her shoulder a part of the hidden code. The other half of the formula he writes on a slip of paper.

There are two groups of men, one representing a large explosive manufacturing concern and the other a band of sharks who, after failing to purchase the formula, attempt to steal it.

An attraction to be presented at the Tivoli at an early date will be the great Jewish picture "Face to Face With Your Relatives in Poland."

CIRO'S OPENED LAST EVENING

The inaugural function of "Ciro's", Montreal's new and exclusive dance club, was held last night in the quarters which have been fitted up at 186 Peel street. The attendance was by invitation only and the guests were well pleased with the club and its cosy atmosphere combined with an excellent floor for dancing and good music provided by a three piece orchestra. The latter was acceded to be one of the features of the evening. The decorations of the club rooms are in grey and mauve with mural paintings encircling the dancing room. The furniture and stencilled hangings were of an attractive simplicity in design. Pretty rooms have been fitted up for sitting out and the staircase with hanging lamps and decoration of mural paintings add another attraction. The club is named after a similar organization in Paris and is unique in Montreal in that it will be open only to members and their guests.

Among those who attended last night's successful function were:—

Lord Richard Nevill, Lady Davis, Miss Riordon, Col. and Mrs. George Cantlie, Mrs. Arthur Drummond, Mrs. R. A. E. Greenshields, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Joseph, Mrs. Hugh Walkham, Miss Clergue, Mrs. Geoffrey Porteous, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porteous, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. McG. Stoker, Mrs. Sidney Johnson, Lieut.-Col. ### CHARCOAL BLAZE TROUBLED FIREMEN.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke at a fire which broke out in a charcoal storage shed of the Canada Charcoal Co., at 8:30 last night. The blaze was soon under control, but the intense smoke proved troublesome to the men, who had to be relieved at frequent intervals. The two men who were overcome by the smoke, Fireman Labrie of the St. Catherine street east station, and Fireman Belanger of the Craig street east station, were treated on the spot and were able to return to work.

The origin of the fire could not be ascertained by the firemen, but some progress had been made by the flames before their arrival. The majority of the men were sent back to their stations at 1 o'clock this morning, but two streams were left in action.

EUROPEAN EXODUS HAMPERS WORK

Shortage of Labor Results from Poles and Italians Going Home

The departure from this country of literally thousands of Poles, Lithuanians, Italians, and others, for their home countries has left the labor situation of the Dominion in a serious condition, said Joseph Brand, manager of the Advance Labor Bureau of St. Antoine street, when asked by The Star this morning to give some explanation of the present shortage of unskilled labor here.

Mr. Brand explained that during the past few months and certainly within the past year, over 280,000 foreign laborers who were engaged on various kinds of work here, have left for their homes, having accumulated enough money by their work to set them up in good businesses in Europe and to keep them in comfort for the rest of their lives.

At this time of the year, he explained, unskilled labor is especially in demand, owing to the fact that the lumbering industry is beginning to get into its proper stride before the winter months come on, and railways and other large industrial machines are busily preparing their systems to stand the strain of a heavy winter.

The large number of railway accidents of which we are hearing every day in this country and the United States, are due to the fact that the companies controlling the lines on which they occur are unable to obtain sufficient men to keep their lines in proper order, he said.

Mr. Brand was of the opinion that it would not be until the present high head tax placed on foreign immigrants was lowered, and men from the central republics of Europe persuaded that they would lose nothing and gain a great deal by coming to this country, that the shortage of this very essential class of labor would be remedied.

"Of course," he added, "there are still as many English, Irish and Scotch immigrants coming here, and perhaps even more, than there ever were before, but these people are not of the classes in which the unskilled laborers are to be found. There is comparatively little restriction upon their entry into the Dominion, either."

The labor agent explained that the British immigrants could not be expected to fill the places of men from the other nations of the populous European continent who had used this country for their own purposes and then left it. Most of the Britishers go to farms or settlements, he said, or drift into the business or professional life of this country through one channel or another.

LABOR TO ENTER FIELD.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 23.—Intent on making a fight for the Mayoralty and all the aldermanic and school trustee seats, the Dominion Labor party took the preliminary step in its civic elections campaign last night, when it instructed the executive to call a convention of the membership for the purpose of nominating candidates.

MUSIC

An anecdote has just been told the music editor of The Star that is worth repeating. A certain man singer, who shall be nameless in this paragraph, but whose name is celebrated on two continents, sang in Montreal within recent memory and was greatly applauded for his long, loud, high notes. At supper afterwards, however, he was so hoarse that he could scarcely speak; and when someone complimented him on his success and his singing, he said: "But I was not singing, I was shouting." (Students might keep this little story put away as a warning.)

The first concert to be given by the band of H.M. Canadian Grenadier Guards will take place at His Majesty's Theatre Sunday afternoon, November 7. The soloist will be Miss Yvonne Gall, one of the shining lights of the Paris Opera at the present time. This singer, also a member of the Chicago Opera Association, has been winning high praise for her wonderful performances of Thais, of Juliette and of Marguerite. She will be a prominent partner of the great tenor Lucien Muratore, this winter, in most of the French operas to be given by the Chicago company. The visit of Miss Gall here will mean the presentation of an artist of high merit and distinction.

The repertoire of the band has been considerably increased. Many novelties are being rehearsed, among them some of the most noted present-day young English composers. J. J. Gagnier, the bandmaster, has already begun rehearsals. The Grenadier Guards Band will probably go to Toronto early in the season for a concert.

The following criticism of Creatore's opera company appeared in the Baltimore Sun the day after the troupe made its first appearance in that city:

"A fine performance of Verdi's 'Rigoletto' was given last evening at the Academy of Music by the Creatore Grand Opera Company, which is proving one of the most interesting, and certainly one of the most complete travelling organizations that has visited Baltimore for many seasons. The mise-en-scene has been very carefully and thoroughly prepared, the sets are effective, and the costumes are fresh and picturesque, while the chorus has been very well trained, sings with good tone and excellent attack. Moreover, the big orchestra under the direction of Giuseppe Creatore, makes a remarkably rich background for the singers, who in last evening's opera were all unusually interesting young artists, whose interpretations of the beautiful old score were marked by authority, a fine sense of poise and histrionic appreciation and a knowledge of emotional values."

* * *

French, English and Italian songs will be sung by Caruso at his concert here next Monday evening. Miss Alice Miriam will sing two operatic numbers, "Depuis le jour" from "Louise" and "Un bel di" from "Butterfly," as well as English songs; and Albert Stoessel, the violinist, will play the Prelude and Allegro by Pugnani-Kreisler, numbers by Faure, Paganini and two of his own compositions. The accompanist for Mr. Caruso will be Salvatore Fucito; and for Miss Miriam and Mr. Stoessel, Louis Grinberg.

MEETING POSTPONED.

The usual monthly meeting of the Chambre of Commerce, which was scheduled to be held yesterday afternoon, was postponed until Wednesday afternoon next. The change is due to the absence of the first vice-president, Alfred Lambert, and of Leon Lorrain, secretary of the organization. Mr. Lorrain is again at his office today, having returned to the city yesterday evening.

WOMEN'S WORK

Wives' League Summer Report Shows Good Work

The Montreal Soldiers' Wives' League held their opening meeting yesterday at the league rooms and reports of a very busy summer were read. During this time 200 people called for advice and assistance, 84 letters and 50 post cards were written, $110.69 was given to deserving persons and 30 orders of groceries sent out to families in need. The house committee reports that 23 women, 57 children and four men passed through the home on Osborne street. Some of these men were from St. Dunstan's, where they had been trained and have now returned to Canada with English wives. The clothing committee reported that they will continue their work during the coming winter and the convenor, Mrs. Chas. Ley, is most anxious that parcels of second-hand clothing be sent to the league rooms at Osborne street. The sewing committee gave out five layettes during the summer and will continue their sewing during the winter months.

MOTHERS' AID MEETING.

The monthly conference of the Mothers' Aid Branch of the Charity Organization Society will be held at 70 Jeanne Mance street at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

BEATEN UP AND ROBBED OF MONEY

Beaten and robbed by two men on Mountain street near the G.T.R. crossing at 10:30 last night, Thomas Deane, 55 years of age, of 1245 James street, Baltimore, was taken to the Montreal General Hospital suffering from a severe gash on the head. A diamond ring and between $50 and $60 had been taken from him.

Passersby found Deane and notified Lieut. Trudeau of the Montfort street station, who had him conveyed to the station, and later sent to the hospital where he was admitted to a ward. Deane states that while walking along Mountain street he was attacked by two men, one of whom struck him on the head with a black jack. They then robbed him of his money and a valuable diamond ring.

ATTACK PONTIFF'S FORMER PALACE

ROME, Sept. 23.—The Osservatore Romano, the Vatican organ, says that Monday night Socialists attempted to invade a church in a popular quarter, but did not succeed in breaking through the doors. They postponed the undertaking to a later date, when, the paper asserts, they will attempt to occupy the Lateran Palace, which was once the residence of the Popes.

The Osservatore Romano also asserts that Socialists are threatening to invade the Catholic Club and two nunneries.

LONDON, Sept. 23—The attempted invasion of religious edifices in Rome is in part a movement among persons unable to obtain dwellings owing to the shortage in housing accommodations to seize unoccupied homes and other buildings and install themselves, according to a despatch to the London Times from Rome.

The despatch says that Tuesday night quite a number of such buildings were occupied. The police in some instances evicted the invaders and the Government is prepared to prevent an invasion of church property.

MILITARY NEWS AND VIEWS

For the Veterans — The Army and Navy Veterans' Association is not finding it easy to get enough volunteer workers to help them on their coming tag day. Secretary Colebourne, who is in charge of the program for that day, tells me that he still needs hundreds of volunteer workers. He has sent out an urgent appeal to all members of the association to lend a helping hand. This, most of them will do, that a benevolent fund to give needed assistance to their less fortunate comrades may be established. The work is in such reliable hands, and under such capable direction, that success is assured if the members cooperate.

The secretary's appeal reads as follows:

"The executive of the Army and Navy Veterans is making every effort to ensure the success of the Tag Day in aid of the Club House and Benevolent Fund. This can be secured by the hearty co-operation of every member. One thousand helpers at least are required, and I am appealing to you to assist the fund in every possible way. If you cannot give the time yourself, please secure one or more to help us. Ladies and girls or boys make good taggers. Particulars will be forwarded at a later date of the work allocated to each helper. Arrangements will be made for work to be found in the house district of each volunteer."

A meeting of the Employment Service Council of Canada will be held in Ottawa today, tomorrow and Saturday. At this conference will be discussed many important matters affecting employment conditions throughout the country during the coming winter, and the recommendations agreed upon will undoubtedly be placed into legislative effect.

Surplus Stores.—It is now estimated that through the courtesy of the War Purchasing Commission, surplus Naval and Military Stores were sold at reduced prices to returned soldiers and departments to the total amount of $100,665.54.

Pensioners' Travelling Expenses.—As a result of a suggestion from the Association the method of payment of travelling expenses incurred by pensioners appearing before the Travelling Medical Boards was recently brought under investigation.

In response to the representations made, the Board of Pension Commissioners have now authorized payment of such expenses in cash to any pensioner appearing for re-examination, who might be financially inconvenienced if required to wait for a cheque from the District Office. In ordinary cases, the present procedure of payment by cheque from the District Office will be continued.

COMMUTING PENSIONS

The Pension Office in the Drummond Building is a busy place these days and an enormous pile of extra work is being heaped on the staff under Mr. Elliott. A lot of this extra work is unfortunately unnecessary and the machinery is consequently overburdened for no other reason than that too many returned soldiers, officers as well as other ranks, will not correctly read the information that is printed and reprinted for their guidance in every paper in the country, and in many circular letters sent them.

Let me give an example: One day last week 300 letters reached the local pension office, each one asking for commutation of their pension. Of these 300, just 28 were entitled to commutation under the regulations. Still the remaining 332 files had to be turned out, examined and letters written in reply. That all takes time, and wastes it, but even that is not the worst feature. The 28 deserving cases are delayed in getting action, and these feel they have a right to kick, as indeed they have, but they should abuse their unthinking comrades, who on every pretext, without making any effort to inform themselves, write a letter to some pension office.

Let me state the facts in this commutation of pension business once again. Only classes 19 and 20 pensioners are eligible under the new Act for commutation of their pensions.

I would suggest to all eligible pensioners who have made application that they delay writing letters until the end of October, when, if they have not heard from Ottawa they should write the Pension Office, Drummond Building.

MILITARY EVENTS

Don't forget the Veterans' Tag Day, October 2. To be held under the auspices of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association.

TONIGHT.

General Meeting — Rosemount Great War Veterans' Association will hold a general meeting on Thursday next in the Veterans' Hall, Masson street. All members are earnestly requested to attend.

Federation Meeting — A general meeting of the Federation of Returned Soldiers and Sailors will be held in the "Lafetiere Hall," corner of Aylwin and St. Catherine, on Thursday, Sept. 23, at 8 p.m. sharp. All members are requested to attend.

FOR DOUGHBOYS

A circular has been issued by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, which contains valuable information for ex-members of the United States Forces now resident in Canada. The following are the more important points made therein.

No compensation is payable unless the disability or death can be traced to an injury or disease incurred on service.

Every man who was injured or contracted disease while on service, even if same was of a minor character, should apply for a certificate of injury before one year has elapsed after the date of his discharge or resignation.

Application should be made to the Chief Medical Advisor of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D.C., or to any District Supervisor of the Public Health Service giving full name, serial number and organization, and rank at the time released from the Forces.

The regulations provide that no compensation may be made in respect of a disability or death which occurs more than one year after discharge unless the soldier is in possession of a certificate of injury and the importance of each soldier entitled, obtaining this document cannot therefore be too strongly emphasized.
