TRAGEDY OF THE BOARD OF CONTROL.

Inquest Into Decapitation of Aldermen Thompson and McCrea Was Continued in City Council Last Night — Search For a Motive—Theories Differ—Many Suspects.

"Who struck Billy Patterson?" This momentous question occupied public attention some years ago. The problem was never solved. The City Council of Sherbrooke has its mysteries, and at last night's meeting some of the aldermen probed deep in the effort at solution. Briefly and concretely stated, the question is, "Who struck Thompson and McCrea?" And what was their motive? Ald. Ledoux, who handled the weapon, or in other words made the motion which resulted in their decapitation as members of the Board of Control, declares that if Thompson and McCrea were struck it was merely incidental and accidental. Ald. Howard, the slate maker, is charged with being the origin of the trouble. "Very well," says he, "that being the case you are all in it, for you all voted for my slate." Ald. McManamy declares the overthrow of the Board and the execution of Messrs. McCrea and Thompson to be a foul plot, hatched in the dark and executed in an underhand way. He sprung the sensation of the evening by charging the Mayor with supporting the election of Ald. McCrea as chairman of the Board and then plotting against him afterwards. He read from the minutes of the meeting which recorded the Mayor as seconding the nomination of Mr. McCrea. The Mayor emphatically denies this and declares that it is an error in the minutes. Ald. Denault supports him. Ald. McCrea remembers that he had the Mayor's support. Ald. McManamy was chairman, mover and seconder, and rushed the whole thing through, replies the Mayor. Ald. McManamy persists and declares the whole a case of vendetta, revenge for an unintentional offence offered Ald. Denault. Ald. Thompson testifies that the wound was a stab in the back and that the knife is still in the wound. Ald. McCrea says he does not mind having his head cut off, but he thinks they went about it in a "cussed mean way."

The Council chamber was crowded as never before last night. To the credit of the Council, be it said, that the business of the meeting was transacted with despatch before the entertainment for which the crowd was waiting was brought on.

The petitions of the C.P.R. and the proposed structural steel concern were acted upon as reported elsewhere.

The Board of Control reports of meeting held in the afternoon with three members present were received and acted upon, the proposed schedule of rates, as given elsewhere in this paper, being read and laid over till next meeting for consideration.

Business over the curtain was rung up and the drama commenced.

ALD. McMANAMY'S STATEMENT.

"I want to place myself right," began Ald. McManamy. "I have heard it circulated that I have been trading with the city, that the city buys bricks from the E. T. Brick Co., with which I am connected, and consequently I violate my position." Ald. McManamy read the provisions of the charter which set forth that the restrictions placed upon aldermen did not apply in the case of joint stock companies of which they are stock holders. This was his relationship to the E. T. Brick Co. An alderman might be a shareholder in the E. T. Bank, with which the city did business, without violating his position. The situation was the same.

Ald. McManamy then proceeded to review the Board of Control trouble. He went back to the organization of the Council committees when the change was made in chairmenship. Both he and Ald. Thompson opposed the change in the Finance Committee. Then they came to the meeting on February 9th, when the Finance Committee was proposed as Board of Control. All seemed agreeable. No one opposed.

"On the 12th," said Ald. McManamy, "the Board of Control desired to organize. At that meeting I have the minutes here, there were present Mayor Bachand, Ald. Denault, Thompson, McManamy and McCrea and Messrs. Robins and McCaw. (Reading from minutes) Ald. Thompson moved, seconded by Mayor Bachand, that Ald. McCrea be chairman of the Board."

The Mayor—"I did not. If the secretary has entered my name there it is wrong and the result of some influence. I deny that I seconded that motion."

Ald. McManamy—"All seemed agreeable. No voice was raised. Not a word said against it. As it turned out afterwards, Ald. Denault was slighted. Somebody had told him he was to be appointed in lieu of the place in the Finance. I did not know it. I had no reason or desire to humble Denault. If Ald. Denault felt aggrieved by the appointment, why did he not raise objection. Everything seemed to be satisfactory. We came here March 1st to the regular Council meeting. The sky was clear. There seemed to be good feeling. The first intimation to the contrary was when the Mayor announced that he had consulted the City Attorney and found that the Board was illegally constituted. A motion was made from a type written copy in the hands of Ald. Simoneau. This was seconded by Ald. Desaulniers, and thus two of the youngest members of this Council leame forward to humble and degrade two of my confreres. They did not seek simply to amend an illegal act, but to cut off the heads of Ald. Thompson and McCrea. Any why? Because an insult had been offered to Denault? By whom? Both Thompson and myself voted against taking Denault off the chairmanship of the Finance. His French friends supported this. Who is responsible? The Mayor is recorded as the seconder of the motion to appoint McCrea as chairman of the Board of Control."

The Mayor—"I did not. You ran the whole meeting and rushed it through as chairman, mover and seconder. You were excited."

Ald. McManamy—"I had no reason to be against Ald. Denault. He has been a good councillor. I don't want to make any charges now, but I want to clear myself of any charges. There's the proof. (Pointing to minutes of Board of Control meeting). The worst feature is to think that I would join in this plot against Thompson and McCrea. I think the English people have some rights. You put on Howard. He's a good man. You put him on against his will. You decapitated Thompson and McCrea. I have refused to act on the Board as re-constituted. You can't expect me to go back on my friends or anyone. I am too old now to go back on my friends. McCrea and I have fought hard, but I have never said I did not respect him. He's rough with his opponents sometimes, but I respect him. He fights hard and stands up for his convictions. A job was put up outside the Council. These men were turned out as they drive out a soldier who has disgraced his country. It is the French-Canadian members of the Council who combined to create this trouble."

Ald. Denault—"All this is not advancing things."

Ald. McManamy—"Yes, it is. It is putting the English members in their proper place. They have some rights. I consider you have insulted two English members of this Council and degraded them. You and your friend Simoneau, and with the Mayor at the bottom of it."

Ald. Lanctot—"I fail to see any disgracing or decapitating."

Dr. Ledoux spoke in defence of the action taken, claiming that no injury was done anyone; that the first Board was organized all right, but illegally, and that the change was incidental to the re-organization.

Ald. McManamy—"The last meeting gave the whole thing away. Denault said he was insulted. The Mayor felt slighted. Denault condemns the meeting in McCrea's office."

Ald. Olivier—"The whole trouble emanates from Ald. Howard's slate. It has been charged that the French-Canadians have plotted against the English. I say this is false. When municipal ownership was being agitated, who supported it, the French-Canadians, because they believed in it. Who opposed it, the English people, but that was no crime. The first Board was illegal. The second was formed legally. There has been no racial cry. I want to protest against the charge that the French-Canadians have plotted.

Ald. McManamy—"It is all very well to pretend there has been no combine, but the tree is known by its fruit. Your interest has been to wipe out McCrea and Thompson. You did it because Denault was insulted. The English people are entitled to some consideration. Ald. McCrea holds a high place in the city. He has been chosen as director of the E. T. Bank. Ald. Thompson stands high, and as head of a manufacturing concern employs more French-Canadians than anyone else in this Council. They say he is a good man. You select McCrea and Thompson and then throw them down. You pretend it is an accident."

Ald. Olivier—"I don't question the ability of McCrea and Thompson. We refute the charge laid against the French-Canadians of having plotted and raised the race cry. There is nothing of the kind. I have lived here 40 years and never heard of it before. It should not exist in this community and never will."

Ald. Lanctot—"I rise to protest against this discussion. Ald. McManamy asked the privilege of protecting himself. I am willing to say that he has done so. I think he was clear before he rose. I ask the Mayor to save us from a lot of this personal talk."

Ald. McManamy—"We are indebted to you for a lot of cheap advice."

Ald. Lanctot—"If you insult me you will get it back."

Ald. McManamy—"I am waiting for it. It has been protested that there is no combine. If not, why not accept my offer. I accept place on the Board with Thompson in place of Howard, who declines to act and has not time to act. You refuse. You say you will not have Thompson. I never did any low trick of that kind. I do not come here and protest friendship and then run the knife in someone's back."

Ald. Lanctot—"If you attack me you will find that I am ready for you. Any alderman who has ever sat at this Board with Ald. McManamy knows that he is never satisfied unless he has his own way."

Ald. Simoneau as the mover of the motion which constituted the new Board, said that he prepared the ball fired on that occasion, but he did it without any thought of injuring anyone. He had supported the first pro-

JURY TRIAL IN A MAGOG CASE.

Action Against Corporation for $1990 Damages.

BOY FELL INTO OLD CISTERN OR WELL AND WAS DROWNED.

In the Superior Court this morning, before Mr. Justice Demers and a special jury, the case of Jos. Roullier against the corporation of the town of Magog was commenced.

This is an action where the plaintiff, Joseph Roullier, sues the corporation defendant for $1,990 as damage for the death of his minor son. The plaintiff alleges that the corporation had caused to be dug a well or reservoir on St. Catherine street; that well or reservoir was very deep, and the banks were slippery and dangerous; that defendant had taken no pains to protect this well by a fence and children had been allowed to play around it. On the 27th of July, 1908, the plaintiff's son was playing around the well and fell into the water and was drowned. The plaintiff claims that if proper protection had been placed at this point no accident would have hapaened.

The following jurors were sworn: Messrs. Frank Flanders, George E. Ingham, Ascot; F. G. Ponton, Brompton-ville; H. Mailhoit, Brompton; Edward Poulin, Compton; Charles J. Lefebvre, Eaton; H. H. Kerr, Ed. Kelly, A. E. Kinkead, A. D. Lacroix, Jos. Lacombe and N. Lacroix, Sherbrooke.

Mr. J. P. Wells, of Cate, Wells & White, represented the plaintiff, with Mr. L. A. Gosselin, Montreal, as counsel, and Mr. L. E. Panneton, K.C., the defendant.

Mr. Tournigny, secretary-treasurer of the town of Magog, was the first witness called. He produced the resolution of the council, calling for the erection of a reservoir on St. Catherine street for fire purposes.

Mr. Meade, land surveyor, Coaticook, produced plans of the locality around where the reservoir in question is situated.

The case is still proceeding.

The Daily Record has received from its Quebec correspondent a copy of the bill presented by the Sherbrooke Board of Protestant School Commissioners.

"11a. The Board of Protestant Commissioners may, from time to time, determine the rate of a special tax to be imposed for school purposes on real estate belonging exclusively to Protestants, for the year commencing the first day of July in each year, provided, however, that such special tax shall not, in any case, be more than three mills in the dollar."

"15a. Such special tax shall be known as "The Special Protestant School Tax," and shall be levied and recovered by the city at the same time, and in the same manner, as the real estate tax of the city, and shall for all purposes be deemed to be a municipal tax of the city, except that exemption from municipal taxation created either by law or contract, shall not apply to the said special Protestant school tax, and the said special Protestant school tax shall be paid by the city, to the said Board of Protestant School Commissioners, at the same time and in the same manner as said board's proportion of the city school tax."

CITY GAS AND ELECTRIC DEPARTMENT.

15th March, 1909.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Sherbrooke:

Gentlemen,—We herewith present a Special Report for your consideration of rates for Electric Lighting to be supplied for customers in Sherbrooke and vicinity.

We would recommend the adoption of the Manchester System, which was introduced by Dr. John Hopkinson of the Corporation of Manchester, England, which consists of making a fixed charge per year proportioned to the greatest capacity required by the customer at the time of the greatest load on the generating plant at the station, and a rate by meter for current consumed, considerably lower than what is at present charged here.

In bringing forward this schedule of fixed charge and low meter rates, it should be understood that it is done to induce customers to use flat irons and other electrical devices during the day and in the summer months, and at the same time have all customers

MARRIAGES

CHASE — HAWKINS.

Richford, Vt., March 23.—(Special)—A very pretty wedding took place at the Methodist Parsonage on the evening of March 13th, the contracting parties being Edward T. Chase, son of A. S. Chase, of Richford, and Miss Gertrude N. Hawkins, of Montgomery. Rev. W. E. Douglas officiated.

The happy couple met with quite an unpleasant experience when driving out of the village. They were driving near the brink of the river when the horse was seized with a fit and careened over the high bank into the icy waters of the river. The horse was luckily rescued with but slight damages to the outfit. Another rig was secured, and Mr. and Mrs. Chase resumed their honeymoon journey.

SHEARER — BRODIE.

A very pretty wedding took place at five o'clock. Thursday afternoon, in the new St. Andrew's Church, Westmount, was that of Miss Leah Florence Brodie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Brodie, to Mr. James Gilman Shearer, son of the late James T. Shearer. The Rev. Dr. Clark performed the ceremony. The church was exquisitely decorated with a profusion of cut flowers, plants, soft twining greenery, and palms. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a beautiful Directoire gown of white satin, the yoke and sleeves of mechlen lace, and trimmings of real lace on the bodice. Her long net veil was caught by a spray of orange blossoms and she carried lilies of the valley and orchids. The only ornament worn by the bride was the bridegroom's gift, a diamond and pearl pendant. The bride's attendants, Miss Edna Craig, the maid of honor, and Miss M. Gear and Miss Beatrice Weir, the bridesmaids, were gowned alike in the Empire dresses of shell pink satin and pink presentation veils, the maid of honor's surmounted by a wreath of pink rosebuds and those of the bridesmaids fastened by pink feather mounts. They carried Killarney roses. The bridegroom's gifts to the bride's attendants were enamelled orchid pins with pearl centers, and to the best man and ushers, pearl stick pins. The best man was Mr. George Shearer, brother of the bridegroom; the ushers being, Mr. Gordon Shewan, Mr. Frank Ball (Boston), Mr. Harvey Trimingham (Bermuda), and Mr. Wm. Brodie, brother of the bride. The ceremony was followed by a reception at "Langdraft," Roslyn, avenue, the home of the bride's parents, some three hundred guests being present. The bride and bridegroom received the congratulations of their friends standing beneath a canopy of laurel in the drawing-room, refreshments being served in the billiard room. Mr. and Mrs. Shearer left the same evening for New York, en route for Bermuda, where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride travelled in a navy blue cloth costume, with touches of pale blue and silver and a catawba colored straw hat. They will reside on their return at 4223 Dorchester street west. Among out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Dr. and Mrs. Casey Wood, of Chicago; Mrs. Dunning and Mrs. Briare, of Albany, N.Y.

TRAGEDY OF THE BOARD OF CONTROL.

posal that the Finance Committee be the Board of Control. He understood that Ald. Denault would be chairman. He thought the Council had better cool down and get to work.

Ald. Howard said it looked as if everyone who was talking wanted to get a little advertisement in the paper. There seemed to be an undercurrent in this matter. He contended that as it was admitted the English people were entitled to two members on the Board, they should be allowed to say who they should be. "I was interviewed this week," said Ald. Howard. "I said we want McManamy and Thompson. I was told 'we won't have them.' The Mayor told me this."

The Mayor—"I said 'they won't have them.'"

Ald. Howard—"No, 'we won't have them,' two or three times."

The Mayor—"I am accused of seconding that motion which elected Ald. McCrea chairman of the Board. I say that was not so. Why should I second that motion when I intended to have Denault chairman. If this has been recorded by the secretary it is because he did not understand what took place, things were pushed through so by Ald. McManamy. It is a mistake in the minutes of Mr. McCaw, and I must not be made to suffer. As to my conversation with Ald. Howard, I urged that we wanted two English representatives on the Board. I asked Ald. Armitage and Howard. The former said: 'I don't know. Did that show that we wanted to exclude the English? We do not care what McManamy thinks. I have been some fourteen months mayor and have had little trouble with him up to this time. How many mayors sitting here have been abused in the past. If I have been able to keep away from him fourteen months I have done pretty well. We are going to have a Board of Control. Well, we leave it open for those who have been elected. If they won't come in we will come here and nominate two others. I respect this house. Let us be men. You may abuse me. I am through with the discussion."

Ald. Armitage admitted that the Mayor had called on him. He could not accept a position on the Board. He told the Mayor if he changed his mind he would let him know. He had not changed his mind. He had expressed the hope that Ald. McManamy and Thompson would be taken on. The reply was, "No, their action at the last meeting was such that they can't go on, and if none of the English members will go on we will put Simoneau and Ledoux on."

Ald. Thompson reviewed his record in the matter, showing how he had stood by Ald. Denault in the committee organization, refusing to join in the slate which altered the Finance Committee. "I could have told you, Mr. Mayor, that you seconded that motion to put McCrea on as chairman."

The Mayor—"No, I did not. I appeal to Ald. Denault. Did I second that motion?"

Ald. Denault—"No, you did not."

Ald. Thompson—"Ald. Howard has since proposed a compromise. You, Mr. Mayor, said "No, for then you would win your point."

The Mayor—"No, I did not say it. Your ears are all closed."

Ald. Thompson—"Could you not have told us?"

The Mayor—"I did."

Ald. Thompson—"Why did you want to cut us off? Why disgrace us?"

Ald. Thompson—"The usefulness of your Board is dead. So far as the citizens are concerned, no matter whether it is composed of French or English, its usefulness is dead."

The Mayor—"Because you are not in it?"

Ald. Thompson—"No, not that. I see the knife is still in me. You keep punching it. I would not go on the Board if I could. I can't get on if I would."

The Mayor—"That's your privilege; your privilege to stay away."

Ald. Thompson—"Yes. I am the only English councillor who fought for municipal ownership. I hope whoever runs it will run it honestly, and if we are now getting what those who opposed municipal ownership said we would get, I hope this enterprise will peove a success, and I am willing to stand by; I have work enough at this desk. In the case of the Board of Control I can take my medicine, if it is not pleasant. I would like to see McManamy and Howard go on with the work. I would like to see some compromise reached."

Ald. Denault—"Somebody made a slate for committees to deceive somebody."

Ald. Thompson (to Ald. Howard)—Did you come to my office and ask about changing chairmanship of the Finance?"

Ald. Howard—"Yes."

Ald. Thompson—"What did I say?"

Ald. Howard—"You kicked. I made a slate and everybody here voted for it."

Ald. McManamy—"One thing which must impress all is the position the Mayor takes. He says we want two English members, but we want to name them. We must have a certain two or none."

Ald. McCrea—"I would feel flattered by some of the remarks made concerning me to-night if it were not for the 'cussed actions' of some who have spoken well of me. Now, the motion for my election to the chairmanship of the Board was seconded by the Mayor."

The Mayor—"I say no. Don't insult me. You cannot tell me I lie."

Ald. McCrea—"I say what I recollect."

The Mayor—"You don't remember that."

Ald. McCrea—"When you found that things were not right, would it not have been your duty to try and smooth the trouble over? When you took the City Attorney's opinion why did you not go to Ald. McManamy and discuss the matter with him. You waited till the last hour. Then, in a humiliating manner, you kicked us out of office. Two aldermen were struck in the back and kicked."

Ald. Denault—"That's out of order."

(Ald. McCrea continued to refer to the method of overthrowing the Board as first organized.)

The Mayor—"Law is law."

The Mayor—"Is it law to kick a man out?"

The Mayor—"Was I obliged to go to you when you slighted and insulted me?"

Ald. Desaulniers—"I move that Ald. Armitage be pro-mayor for the next term of three months." Seconded and carried.

"11 o'clock. I move we adjourn," added an alderman.

The meeting broke up with a few parting shots, and the firing was continued in the lobby, the fresh night air outside and the broad street being alone able to cool off the agitated aldermen and end the discussion for the time being.

C. P. R. BONUS RECOMMENDATIONS

concern to be established here was reported upon as follows.

1. That the city grant exemption of taxes for 10 years.
2. That electric power be furnished at same rate as Can. Rand Co.
3. That suitable site be granted.

It was further recommended that as soon as this company accepts this offer and enters into contract aggreeing to erect shops within one year, to employ 50 hands the first year and pay out $25,000 in wages, etc, that the secretary be instructed to offer the B.A. Land Co. $750 an acre for land required by the company, in the vicinity of the Canadian Rand Co.

There was some discussion as to the amount of land required. It was said the company wanted 6½ acres. Some thought this too much. It was left in the resolution as "suitable site," the details being left as a matter of arrangement in the contract.

The above recommendation was adopted.

KNOWLTON.

The public meeting in the Methodist Church on Sabbath eve., March 21st conducted by several members of the Women's Missionary Society was eminently successful. It was presided over by Mrs. P. England, the president. The first item of interest was the report of the W. M. Society, read by Miss Lucia Knowlton, followed by another report of the Young Ladies' Circle showing the progress made and monies raised since their organization. After this we had a most excellent talk on the need, value and importance of Missions, by Miss Martin. Mrs. McElroy, who followed gave a splendid paper on training our children in Missionary activity. Mrs. Geo. H. Robb gave a very interesting paper on Mission Work in India, the incidents in the paper were directly from Miss Robb who left Knowlton for the field of labor eighteen months ago.

Mrs. Galley gave a thoughtful and earnest paper on the evils of intemperance and the importance of aggressive action among all citizens to stamp out this evil. The program was interspersed by good singing from the choir.

The Young Ladies' Circle will meet in the Lecture Hall of the Methodist Church next Friday at 3.30 p.m. Tea served at 6, to which all young people are invited.

The Parochial Guild of St. Paul's Church will meet at Mr. Sewell Foster's on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m.

Letters to the Editor

POINTERS FOR HEALTH COMMITTEE.

Editor of Record.

Dear Sir,—Having read with interest the various doings of the Health Committee in regard to a pure milk supply, I venture to offer a few suggestions which I believe are essential to the health of the cows. From experience I am convinced that cows' teeth harbor many germs hitherto unsuspected, and that these frequently contaminate the milk. I recommend that the teeth of all dairy cows should be cleaned twice daily, and that this law should be made compulsory. As to mode of procedure I think the tooth brush is the proper thing. Again, as the germs are not likely to be restricted to the regions of the teeth, but would probably find a location in other parts of the mouth. I would further suggest that each cow be supplied with an antiseptic gargle as an addition to the toothbrush.

Hoping Ald. Ledoux and the Health Committee will consider this favorably and enforce it.

Thanking you in advance for so much space in your valuable paper.

Yours respectfully,
A Scientific Farmer.

THETFORD MINES WANTS SUPERIOR COURT.

A numerous delegation from Thetford Mines recently waited upon Sir Lomer Gouin to point out that while Thetford was the centre of a district comprising 35,000 souls, the distance to the district seat of the Superior Court was sixty miles, while the Circuit Court seat was twenty miles distant. In view of these facts, they prayed for the establishment of a court house at Thetford Mines and the opening of both Superior and Circuit Courts there. Sir Lomer promised to give the petition consideration, and to bring the matter before his ministers.

DUNHAM HAS LICENSE QUESTION.

Big Attendance at Lecture on Temperance.

SOME FAVOR DOING AWAY WITH LICENSE—SOME TAKE OTHER VIEW.

Dunham, March 23.—(Special) — The lecture given Thursday evening in the Village Hall by Mr. George P. England was attended by all the people that could possibly crowd into the Hall. Rev. James Pletts was chairman of the meeting. The lecturer opened up by comparing the scourge of alcoholism with the Yellow Peril He gave it as his opinion that there was no use to compromise with liquor and use a little; that teetotalism was the only safe rule.

Mr. England quoted many statistics, and stated that in individuals and in villages it was necessary to consume reform before the disease got too bad. The drunkard is beyond recall, but the moderate drinker can be reclaimed.

Temperance in the individual is necessary for the temperance in society. There is no use for the Government to pass prohibition law when there is not sufficient moral sentiment to back it up.

Regarding Dunham, Mr. England thought it was better to make it a lasting reform; to do away with the license forever and to insist an evil in the community in order to provide a stopping place for the casual traveller. He referred to Article twenty Two of the license Law, by which the possibility of the Council's granting a license was taken from them if an actual majority of the resident Municipal electors opposed it in writing. If there is not such a majority against the license, it is discretionary with the Council. The Laurier Government had stated that, if 50 per cent. of Canadian electors had been in favor of prohibition, we should have had it. The future would tell how Dunham was to decide.

As Mr. England sat down, Mr. Pletts referred to Scott Act and its operations in Brome County having decreased the consumption of liquor therein; to the fact that Quebec Province, which had been the strongest against prohibition at the time of the Plebiscite had, this last year, dropped 200 licenses; to the statement that the travelling public would not be cared for without a licensed hotel.

The Rev. Henry Plaisted, M.A., rector of this Anglican Parish advised the people to make haste slowly in this matter; that there was a possibility of making some compromise whereby Mr. Duchesneau would run a temperance hotel here; that the experience in St. Andrews, Que., had been unsatisfactory in doing away with licensed hotels; that the experience of Ormstown was more satisfactory; that there had better be another meeting, next week.

Mr. R. P. Small stated that there was no personal feeling of animosty against Mr. Duchesneau, but against his business; that he approved of the idea of having another meeting to go further into this matter, as it was of the gravest importance.

Mr. England again spoke stating that it was bad morals for a community to condone an evil in order to save 25c. per meal for travellers. They would possibly have to pay 50c. instead of 25c. for their meals in a temperance hotel, but that was not a crying evil. Dunham is not a railway centre like Cowansville and Sutton and does not have pressing need of a licensed bar.

Mr. E. L. Watson remembered the Scott Act days, with no pleasant recollections. He was strong for temperance, although not a teetotaller. His father, a physician, had found seven-eighth of the disease of his practice due to drink. He advocated starting of a fund to prosecute all infringements of the license law, whether we continued to have a licensed bar or not.

Mr. Plaisted put the motion for a meeting, next week. It did not carry.

Mr. Small moved a vote of thanks to Mr. England for his able lecture, which, Mr. Small thought, should be delivered in other villages. This motion was seconded by Mr. Michael Curley and passed. Mr. England, in replying, stated that he had delivered the lecture at the request of his father and was glad if it had set people to thinking. It evidently had for men, women and children of Dunham have discussed it very continuously ever since.

SUTTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Graves, of Rutland, Vt., were called hurriedly to Province Hill, near North Troy, Vt., on Friday by the illness of Mrs. Geo. W. Audette, the mother of Mrs. Graves. Her condition is considered to be quite critical. All three people were formerly residents of Sutton, and Mrs. Graves has only recently left the hospital in Rutland, where she was treated for several weeks.

Mrs. Martin Courser has sold her house near Glen Sutton to Mr. Silas Courner, who in turn has sold the same to Mr. George Marcey. The consideration was $250. Mrs. Courser leaves on the 24th for Tupper Lake, N.Y., where she has employment in a large boarding house. Her sister's girl, Miss Hazel Austin, who has been stopping with her, goes to Richford, Vt., to stop with Mrs, Howard Ryea. Mr. Herb Courser moves from the house at the Glen to the rooms in the Wilson house in the village.

Miss Nora Gladden returned on Saturday from a three weeks' visit to Springfield, Mass., where she was a guest of her uncle, Mr. Ernest L. Gladden, formerly of this town.

A very pleasant gathering took place on Saturday afternoon in the Sunday School Room of the Methodist Church when the members of the Maternal Association observed their third anniversary. A very pleasing and helpful programme was arranged in which the children had a large part. The invocation by the Rev. J. Pletts, words of welcome on behalf of the Association, was extended to the assembly by Mrs. N. L. Whitcomb, President of the Association. The 23rd Psalm was recited in concert followed by prayer by Mrs. D. K. Gilbert and Mrs. C. A. Stephen. Remembrances from the Association in the form of books and cards were presented to each child by Rev. Jas. Pletts. The Secretary's report was listened to with interest and two new members were added.

SHERBROOKE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Sherbrooke Teachers' Association was held on Friday at the High School, those present including Mr. H. D. Lawrence, chairman of the Board of School Commissioners; Mr. John Parker, B.A., Inspector of Superior Schools; Rev. Canon Shreve, Rev. G. Ellery Read, and the teaching staff of the four Protestant schools.

Mr. E. C. Irvine, the Principal, presided, and called upon the Secretary to read the minutes of the last meeting.

Inspector Parker then spoke briefly, explaining certain changes which are to be made in the near future in the grading of the schools.

Mr. H. D. Lawrence also spoke with the earnestness and conviction on educational matters for which he is noted.

A special feature of the afternoon was a paper read by Rev. G. Ellery Read, on the "Fourfold View of the Teachers' Profession."

INFLUENCES WHICH HAVE MOULDED CHURCH SERVICES.

The Rev. Canon Shreve in his address Friday evening, at St. Peter's Church Hall, said:

"We have seen the different sections of services which existed in Apostolic days, and sub-apostolic days, as one of our writers puts it, the days immediately following the apostolic age, and we must now consider some of the forces and influences which merged them into certain shapes in their growth, in the course of ages.

"The first of these was the growth of the Roman ecclesiastical power in England. In 747, at the Council of Clochu, the Augustinian party had grown so strong, they carried everything before them, and a canon law was passed formally adopting the Roman ritual in England. Differences such as putting salt in water at baptism, the tonsure, the keeping of Easter, were some of the points of contention between the British and the Roman clergy.

"The second influence was the founding of the monastic orders. Gradually, but surely, they grew into communities, living, if such a term can be used, the hermit life, and these monasteries maintained seven hours of prayer, matins, prime, tierce, sext, nones, vespers and compline. When our prayer book was formed, all the offices up to noon were compressed into matins, or morning prayer, and the offices for afternoon down to and including compline were given the name of evensong or evening prayer. In each of these offices the Lord's Prayer was included, and when these were compressed into morning and evening prayer, the Lord's Prayer was retained twice in the morning, twice in the evening. Every Bishop in the early Church had the right to select where he chose the prayers and collects, or compile his own service. These were called "uses." The Bishop of York had his "use," the Bishop of Salisbury his service, or use, etc. Following the Preface in the front of our Prayer Book, these "uses" are referred to, and they were all considered in making up the present form.

"The next influence is language. The superscription on the cross was written in three languages, Hebrew, Greek and Latin, and it was therefore the contention that the Scriptures should only be circulated in these languages. The Hebrew, Old Testament was translated into Latin, and the Greek Church of course, had its translation, and their liturgy was always in Greek but the contention was that ecclesiastical language in the English Church should be and must be Latin. But the English were not conceant with this. Bede translated into the Saxon tongue the Gospels and Psalms, and in 1325 a large portion of the Bible had been translated into English. In 1382 the Wycliffe Bible was completed. The people were so anxious to have the prayers in their own tongue, that pieces of horn with prayers written on them, were chained to the pillars of the churches, so they could be read and repeated by the people. The epistles and gospels were first allowed to be said in the common tongue in 1538. It has always been a pleasure to me to read the first words of the great Magna Charta, a copy of which I have here to-night, 'The Anglo-Saxon Church shall be free forever.'"

GRAND CONCERT AT Y.M.C.A.

High Class Entertainment Given Last Evening

MRS. KELLOGG, READER, WAS A LEADING FEATURE.

The third number on the Y.M.C.A. Concert Course, which took place last night in the Gymnasium was in every way a great success. Mr. J. W. McKee announced that Mrs. Morris, owing to indisposition, would be unable to sing, but that the committee had been very fortunate in securing Miss Vera Workman whose singing so delighted the audience at "Willowdale," on St. Patrick's Day.

The first number on the programme was a cornet solo by Mr. Frank Waddington, leader of the 53rd Regiment Band. Mr. Waddington, as on his previous appearance before a Sherbrooke audience, left a most favorable impression upon those whose good fortune it was to hear him. Mr. Waddington was followed by Miss Workman, who sweetly sang "Life's Lullaby," accompanied on the piano by Prof. J. W. Bearder. Miss Workman possesses a remarkably sweet voice and her number was greatly appreciated.

A reading by Mrs. Jeannette Jewell Kellogg was the next number on the programme, and gave as her selection, one of those ancient gladiatorial narratives, which afford ample opportunity for the reader to demonstrate her exceptional ability to sway her hearers and hold them in breathless suspense at the same time picturing before them in a manner, most realistic, the scene of the narrative. Mrs. Kellogg was loudly applauded and responded with an encore.

Prof. Sawdon followed Mrs. Kellogg and as on previous occasions, charmed the audience with his violin playing. Mr. Scott Gilbert, who came next on the programme, gave a beautiful vocal selection and was greeted with a hearty round of applause.

The next number, a whistling solo, by Mr. L. Poulin, was greatly appreciated by the audience and he was loudly encored and he generously responded. Mr. Poulin was accompanied by Prof. Cartier on the piano.

Mrs. Kellogg again appeared and was once more given a hearty reception. "Killarney," by Miss Workman, given by special request, was the next number and Miss Workman was loudly encored. A violin solo by Prof. Sawdon; a song by Mr. Gilbert, another reading by Mrs. Kellogg, and a whistling solo by Mr. Poulin brought a most successful evening to a close.

THE KINRADE CASE.

RUMOR SAYS INQUEST MIGHT BE RUSUMED BEFORE APRIL 22ND.

LENNOXVILLE MUSICAL CLUB.

The Lennoxville Musical Club treated their audience to another fine programme last evening. They have raised their standard year by year, and it is now high works of some of the best composers receiving adequate treatment at the hands of competent performers. Bach, Schubert, Saint-Saens, Chopin, Weber and Chaminade were all represented last evening, as, also, the song-writers, Von Fielitz, Ganz, Morgan, D'Hardelot and Allitsen.

Miss Taylor, piano; Mr. Alcock, violin; and Mr. Briggs, flute, opened the concert with a trio, "Spring's Awakening," and Schubert's "Serenade," following later in the evening with a brilliant and melodious arrangement of the "Oberon" overture, which was greeted with loud applause. Miss Carron's name on a programme is an attraction in itself. Two of her selections, "Conte de Fee" and a "Barcarolle," which she gave as an encore, were of her own composition. Mr. Stewart earned for himself a hearty welcome in this, his first, and, it is to be hoped, not his last appearance, before the Lennoxville Club audience. He sang several times, accompanied by Mr. Johnson, the best liked songs being, "Moya, my girl," and "The little Irish girl," the latter given as an encore. A duet for two pianos by Saint-Saens, "Marche Heroique," quaint in character and difficult of execution, was extremely well played by Mrs. Hobart and Miss Stevens. Mrs. Hobart, also, by her fine accompaniments, contributed to the effect of Mrs. Arthur Boulton's most enjoyable numbers. This lady is unusually gifted, being the possessor of a rich, powerful and highly cultivated voice, and a charming personality. She was enthusiastically applauded and encored in the following songs, which it will be seen afford a range and variety not often acquired by an amateur. A German Song Cycle, "Schon Greitlein," by Fielitz; "I know a lovely garden," d'Hardelot; "The Butterfly's Kiss," Ronald; "Since we parted," Allitsen, and "The Woodpecker," Ethelbert Nevin." "God Save the King" brought the programme to a close.

A HOME TRADER.

A surgeon in a town, engaged to perform an operation of minor character upon a somewhat unsophisticated patient, asked him if he were willing to have only a loval anaesthetic.

"Sure," replied the other. "I believe in patronizing home industry whenever you can."

And he meant it.—Lippincott's.

Rebuked.

Large Lady (beamingly)—Could I get a seat near the stage, please? Box Office (surveyingly)—Why, certainly. What row did you want? Large Lady (indignantly)—Don't get fresh, young man.

PROPOSED LIGHT AND POWER SCHEDULE.

pay their proportion for "readiness to supply,—when demanded," whether they make the demand continuously or may be absent several months in the summer—and make the demand in the winter only. The expense to the plant being the same for "Readiness to serve," whether current is used many hours or few.

The following will make it plain why the fixed charge should enter into the question of uniform rates:

Unlike either water or gas, electricity must be manufactured at the very instant it is used, and customers for electricity want a supply available for their needs at any moment of the day or night.

To meet this want the Electric Light Department must keep all of its system of wires alive with electricity, ready to meet instantly at any hour of the day or night its customers' requirements.

This department must be prepared with a plant for generating and distributing electricity of sufficient capacity to take care of the aggregate requirements of all its customers at the moment of its greatest demand—or as it is called the "Peak of the load."

The annual expenses may be divided into two classes, namely the fixed costs and the running costs.

The fixed costs are large—relative to other business undertakings—because a considerable proportion of the investment required to provide for the "peak of the load," must stand idle about twenty hours of each day.

If a customer requires a plant of say 10 kilowatts (or say 200 lamps) capacity and uses it but one hour per day, the costs for that hour will not only be running costs for that hour, but the fixed costs of the plant.

Therefore, we claim that the cost of supplying a customer is not measurable merely by the amount of electricity used by him—but is dependent also on the fixed costs he has required it to incur and that unless his total annual payments exceed the fixed costs—he must be a source of loss, to be made up from the profits from other customers, whose payments will exceed their "fixed costs."

In the application of this system of charging it is of course understood that some classification would be necessary to meet local conditions.

PROPOSED CLASSIFICATION.

1. Houses,—to be rated for capacity or Fixed Charge on the number of living rooms wired for electric light, (not counting halls, passages, cellars, closets, etc.). Rooms with two or more chandeliers to be rated as 2 or more units, and for current consumed 5 cents per K.W. hour.

2. Stores, offices, warehouses, shops, and other places of business not open every night in the week, to be rated for capacity according to the number of lamps installed for general illumination (not counting show case, sign or display lamps), and for current consumed 7½ cents per K.W. hour.

3. Stores, shops and other places of business open at least six nights in the week, rated the same for capacity as No. 2, and for current consumed 5 cents per K.W. hour.

4. Hotels, clubs and all public buildings not classed elsewhere, to be rated for capacity by measurement of their maximum demand during hours of peak or highest load at station—and for current consumed 5 cents per K.W. hour.

5. Colleges, convents and boarding schools to be rated for the capacity the same as class 4. And for current consumed 4 cents per K. W. hour.

6. Churches, Societies and other institutions where maximum demand is never used before 6 p.m. Capacity to be rated on their maximum demand, but fixed charge to cover only lines, transformers and meters, instead of as in other classes to cover generator plants also. And for current consumed 5 cents per K.W. hour.

All of the above subject to a reduction of 50 per cent. on the meter rate for all current used in excess of 4 hours per day per unit of capacity in any one month, (that is in excess of 6 K.W. per unit per month.)

7. Factories and other industrial works—

10 cents per K.W. hour for the first hour per day per lamp installed.

5 cents per K.W. hour for the next three hours per day per lamp installed.

2½ cents per K. W. hour for all consumption in excess of 4 hours per day per lamp installed.

Meter service 25 cents per month for each meter.

8. Hospitals and charitable institutions rated for capacity the same as class 6. And 2½ cents per K. W. hour for current consumed.

5 per cent discount for cash on all of the above.

No meter rent charged when only one meter is required for any one installation, except class 7.

Free renewals of lamps discontinued.

ANOTHER FLYING MACHINE.

FLIGHTS SEEN FROM SEVERAL PLACES IN ONTARIO.

Woodstock, Ont., March 23.— There are many people in this vicinity who are confident in their belief that somewhere in Western Ontario is an inventor, who has a flying machine that has reached at least a moderate stage of perfection, which has been concealed from public attention. A number of instances are given to sustain this belief. At different times in the last six months reliable residents of Woodstock have seen high in the air, both at night and in daylight, what was apparently an aerial car under control, and at night lights were perfectly apparent. These facts cannot be disputed. At Tillsonburg a few days ago such a sight was seen, the object passing the town in an easterly direction high in the air. Then Monday came a report from Hamilton that a flying machine with lights had been seen over the bay. It is the theory of many that some unknown experimenter is waiting to bring his machine to perfection before springing into fame. That it is an aerial ship of some kind is certain.

THEY SHOULD BE PUNISHED.

Knowlton, March 23.—(Special)—The indignation of the residents of the Lower Village was aroused on Thursday night by a dog running about the streets with a tin can filled with stones tied to his tail. We wonder that the perpetrators of such a deed go unpunished.

IS NOT "JACK THE HUGGER."

P. Arboure was given 30 days in jail by Judge Mulvena yesterday afternoon on a charge of being a vagrant. When arrested it was at first thought that "Arboure" was the "Jack-the-Hugger" who has been paying attention to a certain portion of the North Ward. Two of the young ladies who were attacked failed to recognize Arboure. Arboure's general make-up is such that if he had been the "Hugger" those accosted could not fail in recognizing him again. He is a very small man, and although 26 years of age, one would have to look closely at his features to learn that he was not a boy of about 14 years of age.

MEETING OF CONGREGATION OF ST. ANDEW'S CHURCH.

A meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's Church was held last night for the purpose of settling the question of a pastor. It was decided to hear more candidates and a committee consisting of Judge Hutchinson, J. H. Bryce and Henry Bartlett was appointed to take the matter in hand.

The question of extending a call to one of the students of the Montreal Presbyterian College who has preached here, was dropped owing to the fact that word was received that he would not be able to accept.

The Committee may decide not to hear a full list of candidates but will decide on a certain man and then ask him if he would entertain a call if extended. In this way the question would no doubt be more quickly settled.

53RD REGIMENT SMOKER.

The smoker held by the officers and members of the 53rd Regiment in the old Armory was well attended and proved a most enjoyable function. About 150 were present. The entertainment was presided over by Col. Spearing, who gave a short address. The 53rd Regiment Band was also present and during the evening rendered several selections. Solos by Corporals Parkes and Tate, Pte. Robertson and Bandsman James, also, added considerably to the enjoyment of the evening. Several new recruits were received and at the close refreshments were served.

The prospects for the coming season's drill are very good. The class for the non-commissioned officers opens tonight and will meet every Tuesday and Thursday.

Several young men have joined the regiment this year and will no doubt be followed by others who wish to avail themselves of the many opportunities which the new drill hall affords for social enjoyment.

Whitton; Mr. Tinning, of Blinkbonnie Farm, home after spending a few days with friends in Montreal; Miss I. Wark to her home in the West, after spending several months with relatives here; Miss Reta Bartlett, of Melbourne, spending Saturday with her friend, Miss Hazel Davis, of Riverdale.

Mr. Edwin Blanchette is quite ill at his home here. Dr. Tanner, of Ulverton, is attending him.

Mrs. E. Brock is some better after her recent severe illness.

The Ladies' Aid meets at the home of Miss Ida Armstrong to-night, March 24th.

Mr. Lewis and Miss Myrtle Bartlett, of Melbourne, were guests of Miss Elda Boast, "The Maples," on Sunday.

SCHOOL BUILDING BURNED AT EUSTIS.

Destroyed at About 9 a.m., To-Day.

BUCKET BRIGADE SAVED THE NEARBY BUILDINGS.

Capelton, March 23.—(Special)—The Catholic school building at Eustis was destroyed by fire about 9 o'clock this morning. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A bucket brigade was formed and fought hard to save the Catholic Church and property, succeeding in this respect.

One of the company's buildings caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished.

SAID A ROBBER DID IT.

KINRADE FAMILY'S LAWYER TALKS OF THE MURDER.

Kingston, Ont., March 23. — (Special)—"A robber killed Ethel Kinrade." This was the reply made by Mr. G. Lynch Staunton, counsel for the Kinrade family, who was in the city yesterday, when asked what his theory was regarding the murder of Miss Kinrade. The lawyer is in the city attending a meeting of the trustees of the C. M. B. A. of which he is solicitor. "Not a tittle of evidence has been brought out," continued Mr. Staunton, "to connect any person with the crime. There has been a spirit of lawlessness abroad in Hamilton. A constable and citizen were shot the other day by a burglar. The other night there was an attempted assault on a young lady in an alleyway. Unquestionably it was one of this criminal band who shot Miss Kinrade. Who else was there to do the deed? Absolutely no motive has been found for connecting any other person with the revolting crime. The sisters had no dinerences, so far as the law knows. It is quite clear that the sisters were dressing on the fatal afternoon to go out. How would they be quarrelling? If they were engaged in a bitter quarrel they would not be paying the careful attention to their toilet which their clothes and appearances indicated. Disappearance of the revolver? Then if somebody in the house did the deed, where has the revolver gone to? The premises have been microscopically searched, even the sewer being torn up, but not the slightest trace of the weapon has been found. No evidence, although the prosecution tried hard to bring it out, has been produced to show that there was ever a revolver in the Kinrade home."

In an interview with the representative of a Toronto newspaper, Mr. Staunton said that the brother of Miss Elliott, the woman whom Florence Kinrade had as her travelling companion on several occasions, attended Queen's University at one time. This morning Mr. Staunton went to the registrar's office and was told that the records contained no mention of the name. When asked about the matter, the lawyer said he had been informed on what he regarded as good authority that Miss Elliott's brother did attend Queen's.

SUPREMACY OF ENGLISH NAVY.

Premier Asquith Wants it Kept Unassailable.

BRITAIN'S NAVY WILL STILL BE MORE THAN DOUBLE THAT OF GERMANY IN 1912.

London, March 22.—In the House of Commons yesterday Prime Minister Asquith made a statement in vindication of the Government's naval programme, with reference to which Arthur Balfour last Friday gave notice of a motion of censure on the Government. Mr. Asquith said that not only was there no friction, but no unfriendliness between England and Germany, but a mutual sense existed of what was due to the independence of two great peoples, and a mutual feeling that each must have regard to its own interests in the matters of national defence.

Mr. Asquith then submitted the facts of the case, which, he said, were that England's first Dreadnought had cruised 30,000 miles, and great value was attachable to the experience thus gained. But it was a mistake to multiply stereotyped reproductions of the new type in early years. At the end of this year England would have seven Dreadnoughts in commission. He anticipated that Germany would then have two. In 1912 England would have 40 first-class battleships, with a total displacement of 585,000 tons, exclusive of Dreadnoughts. Germany would have 20 first-class battleships, with a total displacement of 241,000 tons. England would have 35 cruisers and Germany eight. It was essential that these facts should be known, since they referred to the finest fleet that had ever ridden the waters. In the meantime he appealed to the House, in the interests of the nation that, whatever party might be in power, the first care would be to maintain intact and unassailable the supremacy upon which Great Britain's freedom depends.

ALBERTA ELECTIONS

RUTHERFORD GOVERNMENT SUSTAINED BY A BIG MAJORITY.

Calgary, March 23.—The Alberta provincial elections yesterday made no break in the procession of Liberal victories; in fact, their success at the time of writing appears to be more decisive than ever. There were 25 members in the old House, of which two were Conservatives. In the new Legislature there will be 41 members, and from the returns so far received only three Conservatives.

Eight constituencies in doubt.

SWEETSBURG LIGHT AND WATER QUESTION.

To the Citizens of Sweetsburg.

A short time ago, I addressed an open letter to all interested persons in Sweetsburg upon the question of light and water, trusting that some response would be forthcoming either for or against these things.

I suggested in my last letter that I considered it advisable that a public meeting should be called by those interested in order that the questions might be thoroughly threshed out in public, and that it might be determined once and for all whether the citizens of this village desired these improvements or not, and if they did, to what extent they would be willing to pledge the credit of the corporation, and further to determine what would be the most reasonable, feasible and practicable means to accomplish that end.

Personally, I can do very well without a municipal water supply, as I am very well supplied with that necessity, and as for light, I can continue to read my newspapers in the evening by the aid of an oil lamp as of old. But there are those in Sweetsburg, however, who are less favorably situated than I, who are still compelled by necessity to have recourse to the "Town Pump" for their water supply, and would be pleased to see a system of electric lights installed here. But strange to say, although any one, or all of these same persons when questioned as to whether or not they are in favor of water and light for Sweetsburg, will answer in the affirmative; yet when it comes to setting to work to acquire these things, they become strongely apathetic and plead business as policy as an excuse for shirking their share of the responsibility.

Everyone knows there are certain individuals in every community who oppose everything in the way of improvement or development, and consequently he who agitates such improvements naturally makes enemies of these individuals or at the least lukewarm friends.

Nothing in the way of innovation or improvement was ever accomplished in any community without a certain amount of agitation and wordy warfare, which always engender a certain feeling of bitterness from those in opposition.

The important question to decide at this stage is, who is going to do the fighting? It seems to me that every citizen in Sweetsburg who favors water and light should be willing to assume his fair share of the criticism and of the abuse if there is any.

It is all very well for those residents of Sweetsburg who desire both light and water, but who have not the courage to fight for their opinions, to stand idly by and urge Shufelt, Pickel, Giraux or Lynch into the contest, while they escape from all censure or criticism and applaud the gladiators from a safe distance, but let me tell those residents who are refraining from taking any part in this agitation, through what they call "business policy" when they seek for an excuse to award flying missles, that they will never have their water or lights unless they are willing to descend into the trenches and assume their share of the conflict.

Neither Shufelt, Pickel, Giroux or Lynch are seeking applause from the gallery, nor do they purpose making enemies among themselves for the sake of cheap notoriety, or of tickling the fancy of any set as factious, but they are all willing to assist the people of Sweetsburg in procuring what they want.

I had a little fling at the expense of our village Council last week, but this august body is not wholly to blame that Sweetsburg is not more than it is.

It must be remembered that the municipal Council simply reflects the force of public opinion which is behind it.

If then, you have a public opinion which is languid, indifferent, apathetic, cast no blame upon the council, for it is simply a reflection of that public opinion.

Now on the other hand, you have a public opinion which is alert, aggressive and progressive, you will have a municipal Council animated with the same spirit, and will get what you want, simply because you desire it and are strong enough to insist upon having it.

It was for the purpose of assisting the Council that I urged, in my last letter, the advisability of calling a public meeting in order to fully determine what the feeling of the residents of Sweetsburg was, in connection with water and light.

If the residents of Sweetsburg are determined to have water and light and can agree as to the best means of obtaining them, there will be no difficulty with the Council, there can be no difficulty for the Council are your servants and must do your bidding.

If the inhabitants and ratepayers of Sweetsburg do not desire water and light sufficiently to go to work systematically to obtain them, then let them cease to put the blame upon the Council, but place it where it belongs, then let us bury this light and water question and turn our attention to something else.

Yours truly,
W. H. Lynch.

DONALD MARTIN, TOLSTA.

Tolsta, March 23.—(Special) — The death of Mr. Donald Martin, which occurred early Sunday morning, March 14th, removes from our midst one of the oldest and most respected men of this place. He was born in Lewis, Scotland, in the year 1828, and came to this country when quite a young boy. He was married twice; his first wife, Miss Marion MacDonald, died many years ago, leaving a large family of small children. He then married Mrs. Annie Graham, who survives him. Besides his aged wife he leaves three sons, Mr. William Martin, of Seattle, Wash; Mr. Johnnie Martin, of Vancouver, B.C., and Mr. George Martin, Gould, Que. Two daughters, Mrs. Murdo Beaton, of Cabot, Vt., and Miss Bella Martin, who has lived at home, taking care of her aged father; and one stepdaughter, Mrs. Coata, of Newport, Vt.

Mr. Martin was a great sufferer for many years; although not confined to his bed until about three weeks before he died. He was sadly afflicted with deafness in his later years, which greatly marred his happiness, yet he retained a cheerful air of resignation, bearing his affliction like a Christian, quietly, without repining or grumbling.

To Advertise Enough Is Not Always Possible—But Some Progress in That Direction May Be Made!

"Enough" advertising would give your business an immediate "jump"—give it an impulse forward which nothing could check.

If, therefore, you COULD advertise "enough" your prosperity-problem would be quickly solved.

What you CAN DO NOW is to reach out in the direction of adequacy in your advertising—"sacrifice" other things, in your desire to keep pace with the best and the biggest advertisers in your line.

If you make "other things" pay for the advertising up to the point of partial adequacy, after that the advertising will pay for the other things—for ALL of the other things.
