Isn't it about time to curtail these sensational stories about the holding up of individuals who happen to be crossing the line with a jackknife or a plug of tobacco apparently these stories are put out to prejudice people against the new customs appointees, who have no more idea of being "small" than their predecessors had. ### BEEBE ACADEMY.

The Bank of Commerce Medal, which was won by Miss Margaret Robertson, of Beebe Academy, is in the hands of the principal, Miss Hattie M. Patch. This medal is given in Grade II Academy for the highest average in the six compulsory subjects, providing a pupil does not fail in any one subject. Miss Robertson is only fourteen years of age. We would like to know if there is another pupil in the province who won the Bank medal at that age this year; or how many have ever won the E. T. Bank Medal as young, and with as high a percentage of marks.

Beebe is justly proud of Miss Robertson's work. There is not one pupil in a thousand who has taken as advanced work with as good results at the age of fourteen. Beebe Academy ranks second to none in the quality of its work.

The following is the inscription on the medal:

"Presented by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, with which is united the Eastern Townships Bank, through the Department of Public Instruction of the Province of Quebec, to Miss Margaret Robertson, June, 1912."

This medal with the other prizes will be presented soon at the public opening of the Academy.

Because of the congested condition of the Primary Department of Beebe Academy, the commissioners have found it necessary to engage a fourth teacher this year. The services of Miss Margaret Robertson have been secured.

A number of pupils from the surrounding districts are attending the Academic Department. Other pupils have tried to make arrangements to come here, but have found difficulty in procuring board in the village.

There are 116 pupils enrolled in the four departments. This is only the fourth year in the new Academy and now every class room is in use. The first year the work was done by two teachers.

At the rate we are growing in a short time an annex will be needed.

Where are those critics who said we built too large an Academy?

HINTS TO BUSINESS BUILDERS.

Keep a-pounding at the public all the time, let them know you have the goods, that the price is right, and that you have confidence in the quality.

An ad to attract the female eye must state the name of the article and the price.

In listing prices on goods, a $1.98 mark will have more effect than a $2.00 mark, because most everyone nowadays is seeking to save the odd pennies.

A short catchy ad will be read by more people than a long conglomeration of words.

Let optimism prevail throughout your advertising.

Don't advertise inferior articles. Better results will be gained by not even handling goods of this nature.

When a duck lays an egg, she gets up and waddles off, a hen advertises with her cackle. That's the reason there are more chickens than ducks in the world.

If you have a good thing push it along. Advertise it.

For a heart-to-heart talk with the people of your community, try the columns of your local paper.

To see to it buy when an article is properly advertised.

Printer's ink, when properly used, is the staff of life to any business.

Advertising is as much a stimulant to business as food is to the body.

The weak spot in some advertising usually lies in the fact that you are not consistent in keeping your business before the buying public.

By occupying the same space in the paper each issue you impress upon the public that you mean business and are there to stay.

AN ATTRACTIVE SCHOOLHOUSE.

During the past year or two much criticism has been directed at the rural schools of Stanstead township. They have even been held up as examples of just about everything that a country school should not be. There is in the township at least one purely "rural" schoolhouse which is a model of cleanliness and good order—one of which any agricultural community might well be proud. There may be others, but the one directly referred to is at Brown's Hill. Located in a region of natural beauty and good order, it would, perhaps, be difficult to make anything positively ugly. No particular effort has been made to beautify the grounds, but they are kept clean, and the exterior appearance of the old brick building is dignified. The interior is bound to attract attention and command respect. The fixtures are up-to-date, maps and pictures adorn the walls, and everything about the place is as "neat as a New England kitchen." This condition has been accomplished largely by the interest and cooperation of the citizens of the community where the school is located. They have set an example which might profitably be followed by other communities. No schoolhouse need be a reproach to the township if the citizens of the district would take as much interest in it as the people of Brown's Hill have in theirs.

A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring officers whose fidelity and hard work made the Aid such a spiritual, social and financial success. Much regret was expressed that the efficient president, Mrs. Bertha S. Ham, and the faithful secretary, Mrs. John C. McConnell, felt that they could no longer serve in their respective offices. The Farmer's Club of Hatley held a meeting on Saturday night, Sept. 21, which was largely attended and considerable interest was manifested. The result of the judging in the standing crop competition was announced by the secretary. In the ensilage corn competition the list was led by C. O. LeBaron, Hatley Centre, 1st, 84½ pts., 2nd, Ray Little, Hatley, 84 pts., 3rd, J. F. Woodman, Hatley, 79½ pts., 4th, C. A. Young, Hatley Centre, 78½ pts., 5th, H. C. Brown, Hatley, 86 pts. In the fodder corn competition Mr. R. P. Hurlbut, of Rubicon Farm, Hatley, easily led by the high score of 87½ pts. The crop was exceptionally good in every respect and merited the first prize, but one thing was lacking, and a very essential necessity, the acreage. While the crop eclipsed all others in quality and method of cultivation it lacked the acreage, and as the competition was for an acre of corn, while Mr. Hurlbut only had three quarters of an acre, so that before the judge's report was made public the president asked the decision of the directors on the question. A lengthy discussion resulted and finally a motion was moved and seconded that a prize could not possibly be awarded any competitor having less acreage than the competition called for, consequently the first prize was awarded to Mr. L. H. Parker, Hatley, 81 pts. 2nd, J. F. Woodman, Hatley, 80 pts., 3rd, C. A. Young, Hatley Centre, 76 pts., 4th, W. E. Greer, Hatley Centre, 74 pts., 5th, H. P. Abbott, Hatley Centre, 61 pts.

In the Standish special for potatoes, calling for one-half acre grown by the Swift Fertilizer in conjunction with barnyard fertilizer, said prizes to be awarded in fertilizer, 1st, T. J. Little, Hatley, 83 pts., 2nd, M. McNeerney, North Hatley, 77 pts., 3rd, H. C. Brown, Hatley, 76½ pts., 4th, J. B. Reed, North Hatley, 85 pts., 5th, Geo. W. A. Reburn, Massawippi, 74 pts.

THE LATE MRS. A. B. FROST.
 In the death of Mrs. A. B. Frost, the community has lost one of its most estimable mothers. Mrs. Frost was born in Danville, Quebec, December 13th, 1841, and her maiden name was Mary P. Lee. She married Abraham Bennett Frost, October 10th, 1861, and October 12th of the same year she came to Stanstead to live. Over half a century she was a resident of Stanstead. Her husband survives her. Three sons were born to them, and only one survives her, William B., of Stanstead.

There are five sisters living: Mrs. C. P. Stevens and Mrs. C. F. Thurston, of Malden, Mass., Mrs. Gilbert Healey, of Deadwood, South Dakota, Mrs. R. F. Stewart, of Iowa Falls, Ia., Mrs. Andrew Stewart, of Popejoy, Iowa, and two brothers, W. W. Lee, of Malden, Mass., and C. R. Lee, of Toledo, Ohio.

The two sisters from Malden were present at the funeral, which was held from the Centenary Methodist Church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. T. A. Halpenny, pastor of the church, officiating. It was a beautiful service, the pastor choosing as the central thought the words of the Master: "Blessed are the peacemakers." This text was the keynote of Mrs. Frost's life, it tells her life story with absolute accuracy. It was a just tribute, for as a mother in the home, as a neighbor, in her steady loyalty as a church-going woman, as a witness for the cause of temperance and sobriety in the community, she stood uncompromisingly for the highest and best in her home, the church, the W. C. T. U. and the community. She was blessed with tact, a winsomeness and sweetness that made friends and by these beautiful gifts her life was a blessing to all who came in contact with it. Such lives are the bond of humanity, they reflect the sunshine and cheer of life and keep the world going. There isn't any tinsel about them, they are real gold.

Mr. Halpenny's use of the figure of the fading autumn leaf was a beautiful simile.

There was singing by a quartette composed of Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. Trueman, Howard Tilton and Fred Montle.

The bearers were Brother Masons of Mr. Frost: Messrs. Sidney Stevens, John Tilton, Samuel Murdoch and Carl I. Moulton. Interment was at Crystal Lake Cemetery beside her two sons.

The flowers at the home and church were beautiful. Wreaths from the two sisters in Malden, a pillow from the brother in Malden, a pillow marked "Mother," a wreath from the W. C. T. U., of which the deceased was a member, a bouquet from the Ladies Aid Society of the church, sprays of flowers from Miss Colby and others.

ALGONQUIN NATIONAL PARK.
 The month of September in the Algonquin National Park of Ontario is one of the most beautiful of the whole year, and splendid accommodation at the "Highland Inn" is offered for that month at reasonable rates for all those who desire to forget the over-refinements of civilization and seek the solace of nature. The "Highland Inn" is capable of satisfying even the critical visitor, but there is no attempt to develop competitive style in dress.

It is a region where comfort of apparel and peace of mind are the watchwords. People go to Algonquin Park because they love nature, fresh air, high altitude, simple living and fellowship with kindred spirits. The Inn is excellently kept in the good old-fashioned way, which puts a personal relationship between the innkeeper and guests. For any one whose nerves are troublesome, or through over work needs a rest, or whose health is run down, there is not a more delightful place in America than Algonquin Park. Altitude 2,000 feet above sea level. Write to Mr. Wm. Gall, Manager, The "Highland Inn," Algonquin Park, Ont. for all particulars and illustrated folders.

Have you noticed the amazing spread of the week-end habit in this country? The week-end! We used never to hear of it, and then we heard of it only from the man who knew his Europe, and then—well, the next thing we heard of it from everybody. It's a nice little phrase, useful, somewhat ornamental and distinctly suggestive of quiet and a little fun. Its increasing popularity in this part of the world is important, it seems, for this reason: It shows we really are beginning to let down. We're beginning to live. It's a smart man who works hard when he's working. It's a smarter man who can play as hard as he can work and work as hard as he can play.

Bromptonville is working for an electric railway line to connect with the Sherbrooke street railway. The Eastern Townships Power Co. is back of the undertaking. The municipal council of Bromptonville has been asked to guarantee the issue of bonds to the amount of $50,000 at 5 per cent. payable in three years. In return the Company will provide a freight and passenger service between Bromptonville and Sherbrooke. A by-law is being prepared and will be submitted to the rate-payers.

VERMONT ITEMS.
 The Woodford Lumber Co. has made one thousand large boxes in which to ship ferns.

Justin H. Blaisdell, aged 82 years, was found dead in bed at his home in Barre Friday morning.

Frank G. Hunt committed suicide at his home in Orleans recently by shooting, death being instantaneous. Mr. Hunt was born in Dorset in 1852.

The Free Baptist Church of St. Johnsbury will benefit largely by the will of Mrs. Adeline Ward, the church being made the residuary legatee.

The enrollment of new students at the University of Vermont, Burlington, Wednesday, the opening day, was 146 and will probably reach 160 within a few days.

It is expected that within a few days Barre's hotel project will be settled as far as financial matters are concerned. To date $35,000 has been subscribed in stock.

Apple buyers who have been in Middlebury and vicinity for the past two weeks are making large shipments of the fruit which they purchased. A large amount is being shipped to Boston and other New England cities.

Williston Samuel Hough, a native of Williston, noted educator and teacher and dean of the Teachers' College of George Washington University, died Thursday at his home in Washington following a brief illness with stomach trouble.

The Austine institution of Brattleboro for the care and education of the deaf, dumb, and blind, which was opened September 17, has 17 pupils, 11 girls and six boys. The institution is supported largely by state funds, appropriated at the last legislature.

North Enosburg was visited by fire Sept. 25th, when the large barn on the farm owned by Byron Combs of East Berkshire was destroyed, the loss being estimated at $4,000. Some two hundred tons of hay went up in smoke and a few of the seventy or eighty cows in the barn were lost.

The annual meeting of the Vermont Bar Association will be held Tuesday, November 5, at the Pavilion, Montpelier, according to announcement just made by R. E. Brown of Burlington, the president. This will be the first day of the supreme court session. The usual banquet will be held.

The attendance at Middlebury College for the year will be 330 or over, a gain of about 25 over last year. This is the tenth consecutive year in which Middlebury has increased its attendance. The freshman class numbers more men than a year ago, but the number of women is about ten less.

The United States Clothes Pin Co. of Montpelier has bought the plant, equipment, and good will of C. C. Putnam & Son of Putnamville, manufacturers of the spring clothespins. The equipment will be moved to the plant of the Montpelier company and part of the stock has already been transferred.

In the spring of 1911 while Solon Bigelow, of Westford, was at work in his sugar place he discovered a bee tree in the bush, but thinking it best not to molest it at that time of year, he left it until this month when he secured from it over 100 pounds of comb and clear honey. The tree he took it from was about three feet in diameter.

Clyde Paxman of East Berkshire, was seriously injured Sept. 23 while drawing lumber from the Dominus mill at Samsonville. A lot of boards standing upright fell on him as he was passing crushing him to the ground, cutting his head and face and smashing one of his hips. He was taken to St. Albans by train and his condition was reported to be serious.

Rate-payers of Montgomery Center, at a special town meeting held on the 19th ult., voted 167 to 67, to exempt from taxation for a term of ten years a veneer plant to be constructed and equipped by the Nelson & Hall Company. The buildings will be located on the Kelton meadow at that place, and the estimated cost of the plant is $80,000. It is hoped that the proposed plant will restore the village to the prosperous condition which existed before the burning of the Nelson & Hall Company's butter tub factory some time ago.

Eugene Cowles Made Curtain Speech.

The Post-Intelligencer, Seattle, Washington, Sept. 14th, says: "The Pirates of Penzance drew another full house at the Moore theatre last night and the splendid presentation and delightful music provoked demand for encore after encore. De Wolf Hopper is not on in the first act, and Eugene Cowles was called and made a neat curtain speech."

Joseph A. Gauthier, for many years proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel, Sherbrooke, died early Friday morning, Sept. 13th. Three years ago he sold out to A. E. Cooper, formerly of the Rock Island House. Afterwards Mr. Gauthier managed the Stadium for about a year, then he was engaged as manager of the Chateau Frontenac. He gave up that position early last May when he was appointed Joint Collector of Provincial Revenue, succeeding the late C. A. E. Lefebvre.

Poultry Raising on a Big Scale.
 One of the "attractions" of Richford is the Franklin County Poultry Farm. Mr. Manuel, the proprietor, was engaged in the veneer business there until that industry "went up." Now he is the owner of some three thousand hens, and markets his eggs at fancy prices, many of them going direct to the high-class Boston hotels. His fattened chickens also bring fancy prices from "private" customers. The hens are kept in long sheds, open at the south side, but provided with heavy duck curtains which may be drawn to keep out the storm and cold. Chickens which are being fattened for the market are kept in individual compartments "cribs," with scarcely room to move, and something to eat always within easy reach. In this manner they cannot "run off" their flesh, and have to get fat whether they want to or not. A "hen yard" of this kind brings in a lot of money, but it costs something to run it. Three or four men are constantly required to do the work, and the feed bill is something to set a man thinking. There are other drawbacks, for instance when some microbe attacks the chickens and they die off by the hundred as they did at Richford a while ago. But the location of the yards there did not strike us as being ideal; the land is flat, rather low lying, and consequently apt to be wet. Then the place is hardly worthy the name of a "farm," being a vacant lot of land in rear of a residential street. In a thickly populated section a single rooster may disturb the slumber of a hundred people, but if his "voice" be well trained they may become so accustomed to his morning salutation as not to be disturbed. It is different with a "chorus" of several hundred roosters of various ages and different degrees of "culture." In fact people living in the immediate locality of the Richford yards have begun to complain, and the selectmen are worried. In the heat of summer the health officer has to go on occasional "smelling expeditions." To prove the uselessness of all this, the owner and his family sleep on an open porch next to the yards, both summer and winter, without the slightest discomfort or ill health. Neighbors are nice to have, but notwithstanding this, we would advise any man who wishes to go into the poultry business on so large a scale to get as far away from them as possible—for his own good and theirs too.

Not Many "Sore Spots."
 On the whole Richford strikes one as being remarkably free from "sore spots," and a pretty wholesome place to live in. It has had a Village Improvement Society and is among the cleanest Eastern villages having any industrial standing. It has many attractive homes, and its stores and shops bear evidence of its commercial prosperity. Many of its business buildings are of substantial brick and concrete construction. It has two large furniture factories and one overall factory. At some time or other all municipalities make mistakes. Many of the sidewalks in the residential sections of Richford were put down at a time when asphalt was regarded as the proper material for "permanent" walks; its lack of permanency is now being demonstrated. Cement has been used for the more modern walks. The surrounding country is unsurpassed for scenic beauty.

At the State Agricultural School.

State Superintendent of education Mason S. Stone, paid a visit recently to the new State Agricultural School at Randolph where a large class of Vermont boys is entered this fall with several more students expected to enroll.

A class of 20 students entered the stock judging contest held Friday at the state fair. The boys are at work on the Randolph farms where they are making many improvements such as cutting out hedge rows, tile draining, etc. A class in forest management is doing practical work on the farm wood lot.

Work on the school barn is being pushed. By October 1 the dairy stable will be ready for use. A small separator building has been erected adjoining the stable where the separating will be done. The remainder of the creamery work, such as sterilizing, ripening the cream, churning, and testing, will be done in a modernly equipped room in the basement of the agricultural hall.

The creamery work will be done in connection with the course in dairying as taught in the school. A 30-foot silo has been erected and is ready for filling. A herd of 25 cows, half Holsteins and half Jerseys, will be kept this winter, both to furnish dairy products to the dormitories and to furnish practical experience in the school work.

In Berlin several offices have been opened where women workers may lodge complaints as to the sanitary conditions of the buildings in which they work, without necessarily giving their own names.

The Germans are not emigrating to any extent at present, for the reason that conditions are being made far more comfortable at home for the working man.

Plans For Improvement—Metallic Circuit for Cassville Party Line.

NEW SWITCH BOARD HERE.

The two new switch boards with which the Rock Island exchange of the Eastern Townships Telephone Company is to be equipped arrived here a few days ago. When completed the system will be what is known as a three-position board. Three operators will be on duty constantly; one of these will handle the long distance business only, the other two giving their attention to local calls. The company's construction gangs are now engaged upon important work in Compton and Richmond counties; it will be some little time before the new plant can be installed here.

The matter of a location for the combined exchange is not yet fully decided, but it will probably occupy the present Bell quarters. Should it go to the premises of the local manager, Mr. E. F. Millet, formerly the chapel building, the wires will be put under ground in that vicinity. That is the information given the JOURNAL Tuesday by Mr. C. J. Wright, general manager and secretary-treasurer of the company.

Since the advent of the Sherbrooke Railway & Power Company's transmission line the service of the Cassville "party" line of the old People's Company has been greatly impaired by electrical induction. This "single grounded" wire will be changed to a "metallic circuit" when the other improvements are made in this section. By December 1st Manager Wright thinks everything will be working smoothly.

The circumstances of the amalgamation of the old People's Telephone Company with the Bell interests in the District of St. Francis are well known to the readers of the JOURNAL. Many were opposed to the merger as being in the nature of a monopoly, and there has been some fear of higher rates or restricted service. The best justification of the amalgamation is the fact that when operating in opposition neither company seems to have been receiving adequate return upon its investment. If they could exist at all under the old system, economies effected by joining the two systems under one management should place the new company in a position to earn dividends and at the same time continue the privileges enjoyed by patrons of either of the old companies. In any case the People's Telephone Company has justified its existence. It came into being at a time when the Bell Company was curtailing its service and raising its rates all along the line.

For years the People's Company, led by its former manager, Mr. C. Skinner, fought an uneven fight against a corrupted press and bribed municipal officers. In this respect, at least, it served the people well. Mr. Skinner was a "fighter" who never knew when he was "kicked." His successor is more of the diplomat, and the amalgamation was probably due as much to the diplomacy of Mr. Wright as to any other cause. There would appear to be less need for opposition now than before the existence of the Public Service Commission formed a couple of years ago.

ABOUT OUR NEIGHBORS.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Lovell and family, with O. H. Martin, left Coaticook Sept. 25th for California, where they will make their home.

Coaticook Immigration Officers received notices that their services would not be required after October 1st. No reason was given for their dismissal.

Wilson E. Booth has sold his milk route at Waterloo to Joseph Arret, who took possession the first of the month. Mr. Booth has been in poor health for the past three months and for that reason the sale was made.

Robinson & Tenny, of Waterloo have dissolved partnership, J. F. Loisel of Montreal having succeeded to Mr. Robinson's interest in the firm. A larger stock and city departmental store prices are promised to patrons of the "old stone store."

Knowlton is doing something to relieve the steep grade of England's hill. Some blasting has been done and the top of the hill cut down, the material excavated being drawn to the sag at the foot of the hill. The improvement is noticeable.

An old resident of Stanstead township who has been a close observer of the weather for many years, stated recently that there had been only five really favorable haying or harvesting days since July 25th. This of course means days which have been not only dry, but hot. The only parsel he remembers was in 1853, when it rained nearly all the time.

Reports from various parts of the Townships indicate an abundant crop of potatoes. As a rule the quality is good and so far they are not rotting. In some sections considerable quantities were dug last week. From Cherry River a few days earlier it was reported that one man, Leslie Catchpaw by name, was digging them out of the mud and washing them in the water between the rows. This is a pretty good story if it be true.

The name of P. A. Bissonnet, M. L. A., is being mentioned as the likely successor to a position of Joint Collector of Provincial revenue for the District of St. Francis, made vacant by the death of the late J. A. Gauthier. In consequence of these reports there has been considerable talk of a bye-election in Stanstead county, but it is now thought that even if the appointment should go to Mr. Bissonnet it would not be made until after the next session of the Legislature.

The macadamized road which is being built by the township of Compton, commencing at the Ascot line and running in a southerly direction, is said to be one of the best highways in the country. The new road is finished for a distance of about a mile and a half and steady progress is being made. Those in charge hope to complete the new highway up to the Libby hill before winter sets in. Compton township was one of the first to take advantage of the Provincial Good Roads Act of 1912.

Publicity is being given to the report that Sutton Mountain is the highest point in the Province. The old geological survey gave it an altitude of 3,000 feet while "Table Top," Gaspé, was credited with 4,000 feet. Now it is said that the more recent topographical survey has added 1,004 feet to Sutton Mountain, or in other words that a mistake of just that much was made in the old survey. If all this be true "Old Round-top," as it is sometimes called locally, not only leads the Province of Quebec but gives its old neighbor a tight rub, the latter claiming only 4,018 feet. Sutton Mountain is, however, lacking in individuality; it is almost lost in a "sea" of other mountains and as a distinctive feature of landscape cannot be compared with either Orford, Owl's Head, the Pinnacle in Missisquoi County, or Jay Peak in Vermont. Sutton Mountain is, however, visible from many points in Stanstead.

The fine weather which came last week, after the wettest season in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant," gave owners of low lying land an opportunity to finish haying where they were not driven too hard with the harvesting of grain or the digging of potatoes. Near the head of Sargeant's Bay, Wednesday, September 25th, the Dewey place, now owned by Parker Powell, presented a scene approaching July activity, with mower, horse rake and loading all in operation at the same time, and a big field of hay lying flat. The Hunter farm now owned by Mr. Patch was a scene of similar activity, ten or fifteen acres of hay being down Wednesday forenoon. John Camber, who lives in the next neighborhood, had more haying to do, but was leaving it until after the harvesting of grain and digging of potatoes. While the seeds had fallen from the hay, new growth was thickening it up at the bottom, so it stood a chance to lose less by further delay than grain did. On the meadow land between North Troy and Mansonville, along the line of the Orford Mountain Railway, a large quantity of hay still lays in cocks, some of which are half submerged in water. This hay has been out a long time and is ruined. Surely this is farming under difficulties.

ABOUT OUR NEIGHBORS.

The golden jubilee celebration of the Rev. Patrick Quinn, parish priest at Richmond was celebrated in that place last week. At the banquet Thursday afternoon Bishop Larocque read a cablegram from Rome conveying congratulations and blessings from Pope Pius and conferring the title of grand vicar on Rev. Father Quinn.

Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Ives of Peatonica, Illinois, and Dr. and Mrs. Clinton Ives of Dixon, Illinois, called on their aunt, Mrs. Chas. Lawton, at Cassville Monday afternoon. These eminent physicians are sons of the late John Ives of Byron, Illinois, and grandsons of Joseph Ives of East Hatley, who was one of the first settlers on the shores of Lake Memphremagog.

Alfred Corriveau lost his life at the Jacobs asbestos mine in Theford Mines, Saturday. He was working with his father-in-law, W. Roberge, who has the contract to remove the clay from the rock. While at this work deceased ventured too near the edge and went over with a "slide." He was buried with several tons of earth. Life was extinct when the body was reached by a rescue party.

Samuel Madelaine of Waterville escaped a two years' penitentiary sentence by killing himself in his cell at the Sherbrooke jail Friday evening. Madelaine was only twenty years of age and the crime which, indirectly, cost his life was the theft of a horse. At least he was convicted of such an offence in the Magistrate's Court, Thursday. He grew very restless after his confinement, but when his supper was sent to him Friday night he was asleep on his cot. Later on when the dishes were gathered he was on his knees apparently praying. He had spoken to nobody. Shortly after seven o'clock, as the turnkey was closing the cells for the night he found Madelaine's lifeless body hanging by his cell door. He had tied his handkerchief around his neck, and to this attached a piece of wire taken from his bed, the other end of the wire being fastened to the bars above the cell door.

A row in a lumber camp at Kidderville, about five miles from Lime Ridge, Thursday, Sept. 26th, ended in the murder of an Italian named Camillo Cherubino by a compatriot named Raffelli. Three brothers Frank, Joseph and Bruno are involved. While at work at about nine o'clock in the morning Joseph Raffelli and Cherubino got to quarrelling. In a short time Raffelli's two brothers rushed in to help him and a free fight was waged until the contestants were finally separated by their employer, Angelo Rossi, another Italian. The Raffelli brothers went one way and Cherubino the other. Ten minutes later Rossi heard two shots, and going to the main road found Cherubino dead, a shotgun having been discharged through his back. His assailants had disappeared. The affair was immediately reported to the local authorities at Lime Ridge but no effort was made to locate the murderers until half past ten that night, after the coroner had secured a verdict of murder, the Raffelli Brothers being charged with the crime. All have since been taken into custody. Frank, who is suspected of being the actual murderer of Cherubino, was taken at Beecher Falls Saturday. At that place a U. S. immigration officer turned him back as being an undesirable citizen and he was handed over to the Canadian officials. The preliminary hearing was held at Sherbrooke Monday.

Electa Wightman, widow of the late Joseph Nichols Holland, in his lifetime a well-known business man of Bolton Centre, died at her home in that place last week. She had been in failing health nearly a year, being afflicted with heart trouble. Although suffering much, she bore her burden without complaint, and her long and useful life was peacefully closed at four o'clock Tuesday morning. Deceased was a daughter of the late William Wightman and was born in Richmond, Vt., seventy-four years ago. She was twice married, her first husband being the late John Blaisdell, with whom she went to Bolton when a young woman. Mr. Blaisdell died thirty-eight years ago and on June 5th, 1883, Mrs. Blaisdell became the wife of Mr. Holland. Mrs. Holland's life, like that of her late husband, was remarkably active. Capable in business matters, she was a source of constant support to him, and at the same time she possessed all the finer sensibilities of the real lady. Her kindly, sympathetic nature won the love of all, and in her removal from the sphere of earthly activity many aching hearts are left behind. After a simple service of prayer at the home, Thursday morning, the remains were taken by train to Richmond for burial. The funeral took place Friday afternoon, from the residence of Jed Wightman, Esq., brother of the deceased, to the Center cemetery. Mrs. Holland is survived by one daughter, Lillian Blaisdell.

J. Keir Hardie, the noted British labor leader, is to address the annual convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress at Guelph, Ont., next month.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire through the JOURNAL to thank all who so kindly assisted us by act and sympathy during the illness of our wife, mother and sister; for the beautiful flowers and sprays of autumn leaves and the choir.

A. B. Frost and family.

Rate payers of Magog, at a meeting convened recently for the purpose of discussing the proposed amendment to the town charter which would provide for a secret ballot in the election of councillors as well as the right to divide the town into wards, decided in favor of the changes named. The town has had its charter amended twice during the past two years and the cost has been considerable.

Old-Time Market Days.

"Market-day," for ages an institution in England, still exists in certain localities, and may still be studied with interest by the tourist who visits Halifax, Nova Scotia, or Charlotte-tower, Prince Edward Island, where large enclosures and roomy market houses are maintained for the benefit of the country people, and such citizens as have established a regular market business. Everything from live stock to a bouquet of flowers may be brought here for sale, the owner being allotted a suitable place and charged a small fee for his accommodation, and while most of the market people are far from being especially rustic in their dress or speech, the variety, and sometimes the peculiarity of their offerings still suggest the important part which the English market and its legal control played in the local and business life of three centuries ago—"Nobility of the Trades—The Farmer," Charles Winslow Hall, in National Magazine.

Seeded Grape Pie.

Take your grapes, pulp them, set aside the skins, bring the pulp to a boil slowly, then press through a sieve, mix with the skins. Take a cup of sugar, mix two tablespoonfuls flour with it, put with your seeded grapes, add a lump of butter. Have a nice, rich pie crust; line your pan with it, put in grapes, then your top crust. Cut holes in it to allow the steam to escape. Brush the top with melted butter; bake in a hot oven to a golden brown. Serve a little warm with coffee.

WOMAN'S READING CLUB

The picnic tea announced for Tuesday afternoon, October 1st, at the Congregational vestry was very well attended and a fair amount of enthusiasm evinced as regards the Club program for the winter. Mrs. Charles E. Bennett, chairman of the Executive Committee, reported a varied and inspiring set of subjects for the various afternoons of the season which showed the result of much painstaking care on the part of the committee. As far as possible, those members who took no active part in last year's work have places in this year's schedule. This program was voted upon and unanimously accepted.

In place of Mrs. H. T. Ball, who resigned the position of secretary-treasurer, to which she was reelected at the annual meeting, Mrs. J. J. Parker was unanimously chosen. This important office in the Club has always been well filled and Mrs. Parker will be no exception to this rule. Three new members names were proposed and accepted at this meeting. Tuesday afternoon, October 16th, a musical and literary program will be enjoyed at the home of Mrs. J. B. Goodhue, Derby Line.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

Fox Creek, N. B.—"I have always had pains in the abdomen and a weakness there and often after meals a soreness in my stomach. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better and I can work with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the paper."—Mrs. WILLIAM S. BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N. B.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

FIRST CARE OF BROOD SOWS

Should Be Kept in Thrifty Condition Without Laying on Much Fat—Making $7 Cot.

The first care of the brood sow should be to keep her in a thrifty condition without laying on much fat. A week or ten days before farrowing time put her in a fattening pen and let her get accustomed to her new quarters. Feed a little bran each meal, which has a laxative effect and makes farrowing easier. Scratching and petting a sow while feeding is time well spent, although it may seem ridiculous to some, writes Edward B. Chalk in the Farmers' Mail and Breeze. By treatment of this kind I have in one week tamed an old sow that looked like a man-eater so I could handle her pigs.

I prefer the hog cot or the individual hog house. While the large house is convenient and has other advantages, it is hard to keep clean, and a contagious disease breaks out the chances are that all the herd will take it. The bottom timbers of your hog cot are 2 by 6's, placed up eight inches and made to lap over at the corners, where a pin holds them in place when set up. The top timbers are 2 by 4's, made in the same way. The dimensions of the cot are 8 by 4 feet, 6 feet high in front and 4½ feet at the back. I find that such a house can be built for $7.

It is best to make such a house of matched lumber, but inch boards of foot wide and well battened are good. I place a guard along the wall of each cot, a 2 by 6 that extends outward and is six or eight inches above the floor. This protects the pigs from being rolled on when they are young. I have five of these cots now and will build five more. They are easily kept dry and clean, may be moved about where wanted and when not in use for hogs may be used to house chickens or calves.

REMEDY FOR LICE ON CATTLE

Application of Crude Petroleum Will Kill These Pests—Same Treatment Good for Swine.

Calves and yearlings with bald spots around the head, neck and along the spine and under the stomach are infested with animal lice. Lice prevents growth and weakens the strength of the animal. Give each one a good washing with warm water and carbolic soap. Use a good, stiff brush to cleanse the skin. Take time so that thorough work can be done; wipe dry, then rub in crude petroleum. One application, if the work is well done will be sufficient.

Strong cider vinegar may be used in place of the petroleum. Crude petroleum can be had for 12 cents per gallon. It is valuable for healing cuts and sores on stock. The same treatment should be given to sows and pigs.

Lice hatch in the woodwork of stables and pens. Give the stable a thick coat of hot lime wash; mix one ounce of carbolic acid in each bucket of wash. Get the wash well into the cracks. Clean out the pen and wash the floor of the pen and also the yard with dry alkalized lime.

Hogs and pigs should have a grass pasture with a low shed to go under at night and during hot days. If you want to see a pig grow, give him plenty of clover and freshly made mill fed slop, mixing one handful of linseed meal in the slop once or twice a week. Give fresh, pure water and charcoal or burnt wood.

Pumpkins for Hogs and Cows.

It is surprising that more pumpkins are not fed to pigs and cows which have access to alfalfa pasture in the fall. For brood sows and shoats, and even for fattening hogs a ration of pumpkins will give good results. It has been found that raw pumpkins will give as good results as though they were cooked. If cooked and some grain sprinkled over them hogs will eat more of them, which is the only advantage. In feeding cows the seeds should be removed if fed in large quantities, for the seeds, if fed in considerable quantity, will interfere with the digestion and cause a decrease in the milk flow.

DESIGNS IN DRAPERIES

STYLES OFFERED GIVE HOUSE-WIVES A WIDE CHOICE.

For Summer Curtains, Coolness and Fresh Appearance is All Important—Cretone or Chintz Sash Are the Present Favorites.

The city housekeeper who must stay in town all summer does not bother with draperies. Her sole need is air and if she be sensible she sticks to undraped windows and doors. For the suburban and country house, however, curtaining is all important. Never has the choice of these been wider or more artistic than this season, and the woman who must recapture her house or furnish a new one is to be envied.

In selecting summer curtains two things are important: The fabrics chosen must be cool and fresh looking and they must be washable. Heavy fraperies are inartistic, because they are inappropriate. This eliminates brocades, silks and satins, velvets and wool.

In curtaining a summer house choose nothing that will be ruined by open windows. Where double curtains are used they should be easily manipulated on the rods. Unless a bedroom has plenty of windows double curtains should not be used. Some housekeepers prefer the cretone or chintz sash curtains. These hang to the sill and work loosely on rods. While they shut out more air than the net or lace curtain they darken a room better, and if properly hung can be pushed into small compass at night.

There is a fancy now for the valance across the top of the window. This may be a ten-inch ruffle run on a rod; but the shaped and stiffened valance is enjoying quite a revival.

In treating any window or door, remember the simpler the effect and the straighter the lines the better taste. Puffed and much draped hangings are bad form.

For these heavy curtains or draperies are shown a variety of printed chintzes, taffetas—linen and cotton—and cretonnes of foreign and domestic make. The coloring of even the cheaper grades is artistic and one can find flowers, foliage and birds in any desired color. The English glazed chintz is especially effective and washes well. Its chief objection is easy wrinkling.

Yeast Cakes.

One quart thick buttermilk, one pint corn meal, one-half pint flour, one large yeast cake soaked in just enough water to cover. One-half teaspoon ginger may be added, but it is not necessary.

Put the buttermilk over the fire in a granite pan and bring to a boil, then stir in the corn meal and flour, which have been sifted together. If ginger is used it can be added as it is cooked also. This should be of about the consistency of mush when cooked. When lukewarm add the soaked yeast cake and set in a moderately warm place to sour, which should take from twelve to twenty-four hours. When it bubbles or smells quite sour, it is ready to be mixed with more meal, enough to roll out on a bread board. Then out and place when it will dry.

Devil's Food.

Cream one cup of light brown sugar with one-fourth of a cupful of butter and one egg. Add one cupful of sour milk or cream, first dissolving in it one teaspoonful of soda. Stir in one teaspoonful of vanilla, and one-fourth cupful of sifted flour and two squares of bitter chocolate dissolved in three-fourths of a cupful of boiling water. If sour cream is used instead of milk, use half the quantity of butter. Bake in two layers or in a loaf in a moderate oven.

Hints About Steel.

To clean articles made of steel, rub with a piece of raw potato, unaltered lime or powdered pumice. Skates, sled runners, etc., may be prevented from rusting, when they are stored away for the summer, by coating them with a mixture of lard, pulverized black lead and camphor.

To remove rust from steel, rub with salt wet with hot vinegar; scour and rinse with boiling water.

Dry with a clean flannel cloth and polish with sweet oil.

Washing Eggs.

The ordinary way to break an egg is to hit it against another egg or over the edge of the mixing bowl and let the contents stream over the side of the shell without considering whether the latter is clean or not. Even if there is no visible dirt, the shell may not be as clean as it seems, for it may have come from a dirty nest or have been untidily handled. Eggs should therefore always be washed before breaking.

Ice Cream Coffee.

Put a good-sized spoon of vanilla ice cream into the bottom of a tall, large glass and fill up with chilled and iced coffee made with sugar and cream. Do not stir. Serve with long-handled spoon.

When Bluing Clothes.

The next time you prepare your bluing water add a little salt. This helps to distribute the color and prevents the clothes from becoming streaked or blotched from the bluing.

NEW WAYS OF COOKING LAMB

Many Prefer, for a Change, to Have the Meat Taste Like Venison—Some Recipes.

Pull off all the skin from a leg of lamb; put it in an earthen dish and pour over it a quart of sour milk (well beaten). Add some sliced onion, a slice of lemon, six pepper corns, one bay leaf and some salt. Leave the meat in the dish from five to eight days and turn it once a day. Then wash off the milk and lard the meat with strips of bacon. In roasting pan put remnants of the bacon, a piece of butter and some rinds of pumpernickel or rye bread, a little onion and sliced carrot. Roast one hour; while roasting add a cup of sour cream.

Another Way.—Take off all the fat and skin from a leg of lamb and lard it with strips of bacon, on which some pepper has been put. Put the meat in an earthen dish and add some onion, two bay leaves, some carrots and some peppers; then pour over it a quart of white vinegar and turn daily for four days. Without washing, put the meat in the roasting pan and brown in butter. Roast one hour, gradually adding some of the vinegar in which the meat has been pickled.

A Simpler Way.—Skin a leg of lamb and take off all the fat. Soak a napkin in vinegar and leave it around the meat for three days, taking care that the cloth never gets dry. It is best to put fresh vinegar on every day. The fourth day lard the meat and let it remain in buttermilk one day. Then dry off and fry in butter. Add some sweet cream to the gravy.

To Restore Color Bleached by Acid.

When color on a fabric has been accidentally or otherwise destroyed by acid, ammonia is applied to neutralize or counteract the effect of the acid, after which an application of chloroform will in almost all cases restore the original color. The application of ammonia is common, but that of chloroform is not so well known. In the case of your fine slate-colored serge skirt discolored by using strong oxalic acid to remove fruit stains, touch the spots lightly, using, if possible, a fine brush, or a bit of cotton pad on the plain end of a match. Have the pad almost dry and see that it affects every part of the stained place, then apply the chloroform in the same way. Afterward press the injured portion under a cloth using a cool iron and your skirt will be nicely restored.

HERBERT-MOVEY.

Montreal—The marriage of Miss Minnie Irene McVey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McVey, to Mr. Harry H. Herbert, was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 18th, at half past three o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, which was prettily decorated for the occasion with palms, roses and asters. Rev. Edward Bushell of St. Matthias Church, Westmount, officiated and the ceremony was performed beneath a bridal veil and power of roses.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white duchesse satin with an over-dress of silk messaline and wore a silk Brussels veil, over a hundred years old, which was caught with clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Dolly Herbert, sister of the groom, who wore silk marquisette and carried pink asters.

Mr. John Snelgrove acted as best man, and the wedding music was rendered by Miss Gertrude Stevens, who was prettily gowned in pink satin with over-dress of pale blue ninon and silver trimmings. The ribbon bearers were the Misses Muriel and Gladys and Masters Howard and Dudley Woodhouse, cousins of the bride.

The groom's gift to the bride was a cheque, to the bridesmaid, platinum pendant and chain, to the best man a pearl stick pin and to Miss Stephens a gold signet ring.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Herbert left to spend their honeymoon in Boston, Lowell, Newport and Beebe, and on their return they will reside at 308 Frudhomme Ave., Notre Dame de Grac.

The bride's traveling costume was of blue broadcloth with silk blouse to match, and blue pressed beaver hat with ostrich trimmings.

The presents were numerous and costly, including out glass, silver, linen, china and a number of cheques.

The out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Coburn, West Acton, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Austin Bodwell, Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. R. Herbert and Mr. and Mrs. R. Stuart and family, of Sault aux Recollets, Mrs. Chas. Piercy, of Porcupine.

FARR-CURTIS.

The Courier-Citizen, Lowell, Mass., Sept. 23rd, says:

"A very pretty wedding took place Saturday night when Mr. Clayton F. Farr was married to Miss Maude Ethel Curtis at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Curtis, 97 Read street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. R. Harris, pastor of the Paige Street Free Baptist church, and was witnessed only by the intimate friends and relatives of the young couple.

Miss Winnie Adlington, of North Billerica, was bridesmaid, and the best man was Mr. Harold Dalton of Lowell. The wedding march was played by Mr. A. W. Henderson. A very pretty feature of the wedding was the decorations and the young couple were married beneath an arch of autumn foliage. The double ring service was used, Miss Esther Curtis acting as ring bearer.

The bride was attired in white voile, trimmed with duchesse lace and carried a large bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore pink messaline, trimmed with chiffon, and carried pink roses. The couple received a large number of useful gifts, including out glass from her Sunday school class and from the Merrimack print room, where the bridegroom is employed. Mr. and Mrs. Farr left for a wedding tour, and on their return will reside in Lowell."

The bride has a number of relatives in this vicinity. Her mother's maiden name was Lillian E. Wells, second daughter of Carlos A. Wells of Rock Island, formerly of Fitch Bay.

THE MONEY STRINGENCY.

Stringency is the dominant feature of the money situation generally. While this is a repetition of what has occurred in other years at this time, the situation is especially tight this year. This is largely due in Canada to the early and large harvest and to preparation and moving of our crops. The same reason applies to the market in United States, with political uncertainty an additional factor. Stringency in England is due to money demands from all over the world, especially from South America at the present time. As a result banks are lending very little call money. Six per cent is the ruling rate for new call loans, and some firms in Toronto have already advanced old call loans from 5½ to 6 per cent.

Tightness in money is being reflected in the stock market, where it is having a deterrent effect. Stock brokers are complaining of their inability to secure money. Securities like any other commodity cannot be purchased without money. As is usual present tightness indicates healthy conditions. Were there no natural products to move there would be little money required.

Hiland Wright, aged 53 years, a prosperous farmer living near Glen Sutton, was run over and killed by the C. P. R. southbound night express Sept. 11th. He attended the Brome fair that day returning by the evening train. After waiting at the village of Glen Sutton some time he started for home on the track. Next morning his mangled remains were found. Three years ago a brother of the deceased met death at about the same place and in the same manner.

A bite of this and a taste of that, all day long, dulls the appetite and weakens the digestion.

God Demands Recognition

By Rev. J. H. Ralston,
Secretary of Correspondence Department of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Psalm 46:10—"Be still, and know that I am God."

While we rarely find a professed deist nowadays, few men recognize God as he manifests himself. Yet, while men do not recognize God who has revealed himself, they are constantly manufacturing gods to suit themselves, and these are as numerous as those of Egypt in the days of the Pharaohs.

In the text there is the call of God to give attention to himself—"Be still, and know that I am God." God is intensely interested that man should recognize him, not only because man would thus greatly bless himself, but God demands this recognition because he is sensitive to the appreciation of those whom he has created in his own likeness and image. We must maintain this, notwithstanding the specious plea that it would be ignoble in God to demand such recognition.

This matter can only be settled by an appeal to authority, and multitudes believe that the Bible is such authority. In Exodus 34:14, we read: "Thou shalt worship no other God, for the Lord whose name is jealous, is a jealous God." Joshua called the attention of Israel to the same characteristic in God when he wished Israel to return to God, to the enjoyment of their divine heritage.

In the text God does not ask man to know him; he simply asks that we recognize him as God, and appeals in the 8th and 9th verses of this chapter for the use of the physical senses: "Come, behold the works of the Lord, what desolation he has wrought in the earth; he maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth, he breaketh the bow and cutteth the spear in sunder; he burneth the chariot in the fire." Our attention is also called to what we have heard with our ears, and our fathers have told us what he has done in the time of old. Were not God's dealings with the Egyptians to prove that he was God? Was not God back of the blessing of Israel by Balaam, while Balaam's purpose was to curse? Has God not set up one and put down another? Has he not despoiled the devices of the crafty that their hands cannot perform their enterprise, and has he not taken the wise in their own craftiness, and is not the counsel of the froward carried headlong? And what shall be said of the occurrences of modern history? Had God anything to do with the earthquake in San Francisco; the burning of the General Schofield, and the sinking of the Titanic? Of the latter event it is said that in the last moments of that fated vessel's remaining afloat, all classes of people prayed, and the band played until the very end, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." And what was this but recognition of God, and possibly with many, too late?

To say that God has nothing to do with these things on the ground of that it would be violence to the reign of law, dishonoring to him as an infinite being, and entirely relieve man of moral responsibility, is really not worthy of serious consideration. The consciousness of God's immanence in all such things would be a deterrent from sin on the part of some, and would be an incentive to good on the part of others.

How are men to know God? Simply by being still. By searching, men cannot find out God. As David would lie in the fields at night and look up into the starry heavens, it would not be for the purpose of finding out God, but as he gazed he could not help but exclaim: "When I consider the Heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast created, what is man that thou art mindful of him, or the son of man that thou visitest him?" As Moses would have Israel to recognize God, he said: "Stand still, and see the salvation of God." As Isaiah would have Israel see wherein their strength lay, he said they should sit still. So the method of knowing God is to just keep the eyes and ears open, to stop, look, listen—God is here, there, everywhere. The results of this will be a more serious consideration of one's obligation to God. The life of the Christian will be made richer, and as the darkness of the hereafter is approached, there will be a preparation to meet God, with whom, whether he will or will not, man has much to do. To know God, and him whom he has sent, is everlasting life.

When the dust of business so fills your room that it threatens to choke you, sprinkle it with the water of prayer, and then you can clean it out with comfort and expedition.—James Stalker.

Only in a world where there is suffering could God prove that he is love. The man who buries his talent might as well bury himself.

BIG MONEY FOR INVENTIONS

Millions of Dollars Made on Little Articles That Proved to Be Useful—Few Instances.

Every time you pull the cap from a beer bottle or a soda bottle you put a fraction of a cent in the pocket of W. H. Painter of Baltimore, the inventor, the Detroit Free Press remarks.

De Quillfeldt, a New Jersey inventor, made $15,000,000 out of a rubber bottle stopper he invented.

Hyman L. Lipman of Philadelphia got $160,000 for a lead pencil rubber eraser.

The little metal staple used to hold buttons on shoes brought a big fortune to a man named Heaten of Providence.

A man named Dennison pasted several little rings about the hole in a shipping tag and thus made an "eye" that would not pull out and got a fortune for it.

Silverthorn retired with enough money to last him the rest of his life. Made it out of brass toe tips for boys' shoes.

One man cleared $100,000 inventing a tin can.

Another invented an opener for that can and cleared nearly a million.

Still another invented the self-opening can, the one with a key, and cleaned up a million.

FOR HOLDING LANTERN GLOBE

New Yorker Makes Improvement by Means of Which Glass Chimney is Easily Removed.

An improvement on the old tubular lantern, by means of which the glass chimney may easily be removed or inserted, has been devised by a New York man. The metal canopy over the top of the chimney is so arranged on a spring wire that it can be raised on one side to permit this movement of the glass. The canopy tube of the lantern passes through a hole in the canopy proper. A side wire runs up on the other side and terminates at the top in a spring globe holder. The canopy and the globe holder can thus be tilted and the globe withdrawn or inserted with ease and without danger of being broken by the strain on it. In the old style lanterns of this type the canopy was stationary and as may well be imagined by those who never had any experience, as those who had, do not have to use chimney on and taking it off was a somewhat delicate operation, the spring globe holder being the only yielding part of the apparatus.

Germany is about to experiment with the naval aeroplane. Russia's army in times of peace numbers 1,200,000, and in case of war it can be nearly quadrupled. In 1910 the total population of New York was 4,766,883 and the total street car traffic was 1,489,683,490. A French inventor has placed a rubber roller in a cigarette paper holder to push out a single sheet at a time. While a man's heart is beating 70 times a horse's is pulsating but 40 times and an elephant's only 30. A small metal match box which clamps on the stem of a pipe is a recently patented novelty for smokers. An international exposition of book making and its allied arts and sciences will be held in Germany in 1914.

A moving picture camera can be operated on horseback by using a recently invented attachment for the purpose.

An Illinois man has invented a metal tray to be attached to a broom to catch the dust which the latter collects.

Experiments with man power aeroplanes in France have led to the offering of several prizes for successful flights.

In some of the towns of Hungary a special tax is levied on bachelors, ranging from a few cents to about twenty dollars per annum.

The annual fall of soot in London, according to carefully figured estimates, amounts to from twenty-five to thirty-five pounds for each inhabitant.

An attachment for phonographs by which a violin can be connected with a record and made to produce music has been invented by a Wisconsin man.

An aeroplane invented in England can be turned into a tent for its pilot to get a night's rest wherever he may happen to stop by the addition of canvas curtains between its planes.

DERBY LINE, - VERMONT

THE BALL SUBDIVISION

This beautiful property is now ready for sale. It has been carefully plotted and over 200 Maple and Spruce trees planted. Phelps Avenue has been graded to the property on its Canadian side, and Caswell Avenue has been graded and graveled to the property on its Vermont side. The two Avenues are connected by a new street, named Ball Street, running North and South. The location of this property is about ideal for residential purposes, being very accessible from either of the Villages, and it has lots located on either side of the Boundary Line, and two, numbers 11 and 12 are bisected by the line. The price is very reasonable for this kind of property and it will doubtless sell readily because of its desirability.

HENRY T. BALL, Proprietor, Rock Island, Que.

The plot can be seen and the price of the property be obtained also in the office of Charles E. Bennett, Derby Line, Vermont.

HOW TO COOK RHUBARB

HEALTHFUL AND TASTY DISHES EASILY PREPARED.

Skin Gives Sauce Pinkish Tinge That is Very Attractive—Boiling Water Removes Sharp, Acid Taste—Rhubarb Pudding

In stewing rhubarb do not peel, for the skin cooks tender and gives the sauce a pinkish tinge that is very attractive. Scrub the stalks well, then cut in inch lengths. Put in a colander and pour actually boiling water over them, allowing it to drain off immediately. This removes the sharp, acid taste of the rhubarb without impairing its flavor. Now put the drained rhubarb into a saucepan, with layers of sugar in weight about equal to fruit. Add the least little water, from a quart to half a cup, cover closely and set on the back of the range or in the oven, where a gentle heat will melt the sugar and cook the rhubarb. By the time a good rich syrup is made the fruit will be tender, not broken and full of sweet, pleasant juice—a great contrast to the insipid or over acid compound which sometimes masquerades as "stewed rhubarb."

Rhubarb Pudding.—To make a pudding cut into inch lengths four unpeeled stalks of rhubarb. Stew very gently with two tablespoons of sugar and a little grated ginger; cut a thick slice of bread into strips, put a layer in the bottom of a dish and another layer crosswise on top; pour in some of the fruit and the juice, then put in another layer of bread and more fruit until the dish is nearly full; set aside to soak. Prepare a custard of half a pint of milk, a tablespoon of cornstarch, sugar and lemon rind to taste and when thick pour over the pudding. Serve cold.

Rhubarb Sherbet.—Wash the stalks well and cut into inch pieces. To a dozen stalks add a quart of cold water and simmer until tender. Sweeten to taste, flavor with a little grated orange peel and stand in a cool place, then strain and freeze. As with all frozen dainties, a good allowance of sugar is necessary, as it loses sweetness in the freezing.

Rhubarb Cream Pie.—Pint stewed rhubarb, four ounces sugar, pint cream, two ounces powdered cracker, three eggs. Rub the stewed rhubarb through a sieve, heat the other ingredients well together and just as the pie is ready for the oven stir in the rhubarb. Pour the whole into a plate lined with pastry, cover with strips and bake.

Baked Rhubarb.—Peel the rhubarb, cutting into inch pieces; fill a baking dish, cover with sugar and set in a moderate oven for half an hour. It forms its own juice and should not be allowed to brown at all; stir occasionally. A pan should be set under the dish, as the contents may boil over.

FOR DINNER IN WOODS

VARIOUS DAINTIES THAT BELONG TO THE PICNIC MENU.

Veal Loaf Always a Faithful Standby—
Deviled Eggs Preferable to Plain
Hard Boiled—Fried Potatoes
Add Zest to Meat.

A veal loaf is always appetizing in the woods. An excellent recipe is: Three pounds and a half of finely chopped veal—the leg is best—mixed with three well-beaten eggs, into which is stirred a grated nutmeg, a tablespoon each of black pepper, thyme and salt, a teaspoonful of onion juice and a dash of cayenne. Add three table-spoonfuls of cream and three water crackers rolled fine. Mix in a long loaf, dot with butter and bake about an hour in a moderate oven, basting frequently.

Veal loaf may be sliced thin and packed in paraffin paper in a flat box, but dries out less if taken to the picnic whole. Carry a sharp carving knife, as thick slices are unappetizing.

Deviled eggs are usually more popular than plain hard boiled ones. Boil the eggs fully half an hour, throw at once into cold water and do not shell until chilled. Cut the eggs in half lengthwise, run the yolk through a sieve and mix to a paste with a salt spoon of mustard, cayenne pepper, salt and a tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley to a dozen eggs. Oil or melted butter can be used for mixing the paste.

Deviled eggs carry better if both halves are filled, then put together and each egg wrapped in waxed paper. Or they can be put in a shallow tin box, with waxed paper between the layers. On hot days keep the box near the ice on reaching the picnic grounds.

If each one brings a certain allotted portion, one could take fresh eggs for scrambling—allow three for each person—a small preserve glass of butter, salt and pepper and a skillet or a chafing dish, whichever is more convenient.

Nothing is better than fresh scrambled eggs at a picnic, unless it is fried potatoes. Boil the potatoes at home—in their jackets—and take a good supply of butter for frying. A pound can be carried in a tin kettle with ice packed around it. Have a sharp knife for slicing and a fork or short cake turner for stirring.

Leftover cold chicken or veal makes an excellent hot dish for a picnic. Cut the meat into small cubes at home and wrap in waxed paper. Make a white sauce from a tablespoonful butter and one of flour to every point of milk. This is the allowance for a quart of meat. Season highly with salt, pepper and a little onion juice. An appetizing sandwich for a picnic is made from slices of brown bread on which is spread a mixture of chopped green peppers, to which is added a can of sweet peppers or pimentos, a little minced parsley, bound together with a highly seasoned mayonnaise.

Where a hot sandwich is liked for a picnic, have two thin slices of white bread buttered; spread one with a little chutney, the other with grated Parmesan cheese. Fry an egg, place it on the cheese, and press the other half well over it.

ICED BEEF TEA IS EXCELLENT

During Hot Weather It Will Be Found More Acceptable Than The Hot Beverage.

Where beef-tea is required on a hot summer day it is sometimes more acceptable to the invalid if served iced, and in condensed form. Prepared as follows it is quite palatable: Cut up a pound of lean, juicy sirloin steak into pieces of about two inches square. Grase a clean pan with butter and put it on a fire of red-hot coals, and as soon as ever the pan is hot toss the pieces of steak in it, turning them rapidly this way and that way with a fork until seared on every side.

See that not a drop of juice is in the pan, and that each separate square of beef is thoroughly heated through before you finish your work.

Take the pieces now, one by one, and squeeze through a wooden lemon squeezer which has been standing in boiling water into a cold bowl. Extract all the juice from the piece, and you will have the finest beef essence. Set the bowl in a pan filled with cracked ice. The coldness of the beef essence—which you serve in a tumbler, having added the necessary salt, and with a tiny triangle of toast—does not affect its qualities.

Refreshing Beverages.

Any fresh fruit makes a delicious drink when the juice, squeezed from it, is strained, sweetened and filled with cold soda or aerated water. Or a syrup can be made to be kept on hand by boiling the juice with sugar. To make the drinks use a few spoonfuls of this syrup and fill the glass with water, plain or carbonated.

The most delicious lemonade or limeade can be had at a moment's notice if the juice of the fruit be kept on hand, mixed with sugar to taste. It is simplicity itself to pour water over this and the drink is ready.

Mashed Potato Doughnuts.

Take two tablespoonfuls of butter, one cup of mashed potatoes, one and one-half cups of sugar, one cup of sweet milk, four cups of flour, two eggs well beaten, with a little salt, two teaspoons of baking powder and fry in hot lard. These are delicious.
