The building known as 'Dagenais House' served as an office to lumber baron George Bryson.

$90,000 for renovation of Dagenais house

The Municipality of Mansfield-Pontefract has received $90,000 from the Ministry of Cultural Affairs for renovating what is known as 'Dagenais House', a small stone building located at the east end of the driving sheds attached to Bryson House on Highway 148.

The building was used as an office by lumber baron George Bryson, owner of the sawmills at the Coulonge Chutes and much land in the area. Mr Bryson apparently felt safer keeping his money in the stone house, in case of fire, rather than in his home which was made of wood.

Plans and estimates have been drawn up by Ottawa Architect Cecilia Humphreys. The inside of the building will be made into offices and rented. The job has gone for tenders and it is expected that the work will begin the 15th of October and be completed by the end of February 1986.

Bail hearing for robbery suspects

Three men were to appear before the judge at Campbell's Bay yesterday, October 1st, for a bail hearing in connection with the armed robbery that took place at the Bank of Nova Scotia on September 19th and the kidnapping the day after.

A fourth was released on bail the previous Tuesday, September 24th.

According to Richard Bourdon, spokesman for the criminal investigations bureau in Hull, one of the men was identified from a series of police photos by a witness to the crime. That man was then apprehended by the Sureté du Québec in Montreal after being arrested for another theft.

The three others were picked up by the Ontario Provincial Police near Hawkesbury and part of the $100,000 that was stolen has been recovered.

Two of the men will likely be charged with armed robbery and kidnapping. On Friday, September 20th, they kidnapped two woodsmen and forced the woodsmen to drive them to Ottawa. The woodsmen were later released somewhere in Ottawa about 11:00 a.m.

In the meantime, Corporal Martial Duchesne, 23, accused of the August 10th machete-slaying of a Fort Coulonge man has been ordered to stand trail on a charge of second-degree murder. Andre Graveline, 26, died shortly after his neck was slashed open during a brawl between civilians and soldiers outside the Hotel-Motel Coulonge.

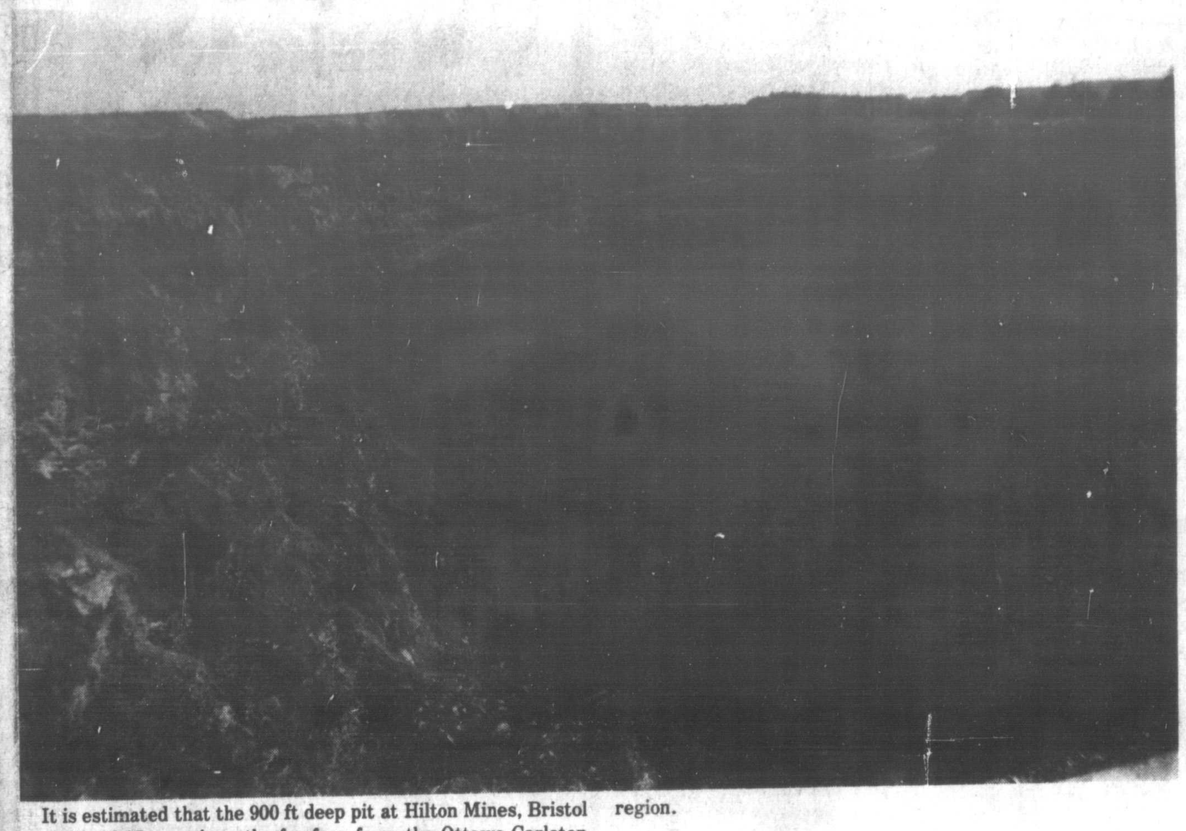
The trial of Corporal Duchesne, who also faces another charge of attempted murder, is to begin November 4th in the Quebec Superior Court.

Wise declares moratorium on FCC foreclosures

Agriculture Minister John Wise on September 17th declared an immediate moratorium on Farm Credit Corporation (FCC) foreclosure actions.

"I want to make sure that no farmer will be forced off the farm while I am reviewing the role and mandate of FCC, the Bruce-Grey Debt Review Board pilot project report and reports from FCC Appeal Board Chairmen. I also want to make sure that those individuals who might be assisted by new initiatives will have that opportunity," explained Mr Wise.

As of today, there are approximately 670 FCC foreclosures in progress which will be put on hold. Over the past six months FCC has initiated an average of 14 foreclosure actions a week. Recovery actions will continue in cases where the farm has been abandoned, where bankruptcy has been declared, where there has been a voluntary transfer of title or quit claim or where recovery action is initiated by another creditor forcing FCC to protect its security.



It is estimated that the 900 ft deep pit at Hilton Mines, Bristol would hold 85 years' worth of refuse from the Ottawa-Carleton region.

Hilton Mines probably least expensive option: consultant

by Hope Ledoux

Hilton Mines is one of the options being considered as a possible dump site for the Region of Ottawa-Carleton, according to a document entitled Waste Management Master Plan that was made public last week. The Mine, which extracted iron ore by the open pit methods was in operation for 25 years and left a 900-ft pit, eighteen million tons of sand, and the mountain of gravel which can be seen many miles away.

A feasibility study and proposal submitted by the mine owners have sparked some interest on the part of the Ottawa-Carleton Regional Government. Other options being considered include incinerating the refuse within or close to the urban area so that the energy generated can be used to heat a building, for example. Another option would be to choose a dump site within the Region; none of these sites, however, has the unique features of Hilton Mines.

When asked how likely the Mine was to be chosen over other possible solutions to the waste problem, Bill Cornfield, of MacLaren Engineers Inc. of Ottawa, one of the authors of the report, replied, "Let me put it this way: of all the options being considered, it is probably the least expensive. The big hole in the ground is already there...there isn't another site in Eastern Ontario or Western Quebec with a hole that size."

Mr Cornfield went on to say that the reason that an out-of-region site is being considered by Ottawa-Carleton is that the owner, Lamarche and McGuinty Inc., put forward a proposal that, from a technical point of view is considered practical.

Maurice Lamarche, of Lamarche and McGuinty, owner of the mine, is delighted with the proposal's reception. "I think it's a fantastic project...I think it's going to be good for the region."

According to Mr Lamarche, the dump would create 50 jobs and generate $1.5 million a year in payroll at the outset. After 10 years, the site would start generating another $1 million-a-year's worth of methane gas. The methane gas could be used, in turn, to power an industry, for example, a plant manufacturing railway ties.

Moreover, according to Mr Lamarche, the trucks or railway cars that bring in the refuse could be used to carry gravel or sand to Ottawa on the return trip. "It's big business, much bigger than what we're doing her now. All together, we're looking at 150 jobs."

Lamarche and McGuinty are now in the process of engaging a consultant to do a hydrogeological study of the site. The study, which is expected to take three months, will be presented to the department of the Environment with a view to obtaining a dump permit. But Mr Lamarche estimates that, assuming the region opts for the Hilton Mines site, it would take another three years for the project to become operational.

First, the 500 ft of water in the pit will have to be pumped out, a job that will take 18 months, pumping 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The bottom and sides of the pit will have to be lined with sand or cement and pipes built in to draw off the methane gas.

Mr Lamarche estimates that it would take $10-$15 million to get set up.

As far as Mr Lamarche is concerned, the dump would not present an environmental risk. The day-to-day management of the dump would involve covering every eight feet of garbage with eight inches of sand and pumping out and purifying the water that accumulates in the pit. "There are no houses or wells with 1.5-2 miles from here...the top of the pit is 75 feet below the level of the Ottawa River. If anything, the Ottawa River will be flooding the pit. I can't see why anyone would be against it."

Mr Lamarche expects that the Bristol Council will approve the project "as long as it meets all the environmental criteria."

Pontiac gets special Kodak honour

On May 30th, the Consolidated-Bathurst Inc, Pontiac Mill's continuing ambition to be the best was recognized by a major pulp customer when Eastman Kodak awarded the Company its "Quality First — Gold Award".

Division Manager Bill Mac Lachlan accepted the award from Kodak representatives Kent Smith, Bob Ward and Donna Tomko on behalf of mill personnel. In his remarks, he assured them that "the whole mill knows when we are running for Kodak. The pulp must meet all your specifications and everybody knows it."

The Pontiac Mill, on the Ottawa River, began producing bleached kraft pulp, from softwood species (predominantly white pine) and from hardwoods in the area (maple, birch and poplar) almost 18 years ago. It was in 1970 that Kodak took a trial carload of the specialty high-brightness maple grade. This was to be used as a component of the furnish for paper on which photographs are printed, with the Kodak logo on the reverse side.

This year 1971 saw extensive testing and trials averaging one carload of Pontiac Maple per month to Rochester. Sales have climbed steadily to become a major share of Kodak's total wood pulp requirements at Rochester.

In early 1983, the Company was invited to participate in Kodak's new Quality Management Program. This followed on the heels of their six-phase Wood Pulp Quality Assurance Program. Both programs sought to achieve quality of design, and ensure conformance to specifications. Kodak wants to encourage a team effort involving the buyer, the user and the supplier, so that they get the highest quality products consistent with best value.

Consolidated Pontiac is only the second of Koadk Park's suppliers, to achieve the distinction of the Gold Award. Requirements include: processes under statistical-control; specified testing by the supplier; and 100% acceptable material.

Speaking for Pulp Sales at the presentation, Peter Webster described receiving Kodak's award an honour and a privilege. He saw it as the fulfillment of a dream from the early days of Pontiac. "Hard work by both companies and tremendous cooperation brought it all together. It also represents a challenge", he said, "to mill, woodlands, and sales people to stay on top and to excel in their respective responsibilities to provide a major customer like Eastman Kodak the quality, and service they have come to expect."

Home burned in Luskville

Shortly after two pm last Wednesday, September 25th, fire broke out in the home of Germaine and Hebert Duval, well-known residents of the Village of Luskville. It is suspected that the fire was of an electrical origin and it burned stubbornly for some six hours. The 70-year-old house was of heavy timber frame construction and over the years wood chips and sawdust had been added as insulation, this, along with the many varieties of siding and roofing that had been added over time gave the firefighters many difficulties and in the end the home was destroyed.

Initially the call was answered by the Luskville unit of the Pontiac Fire Department but the Quyon unit and that crew soon joined in. Using portable pumps, water was moved some 200 yards from the Luskville Falls Creek which passes through the village, and along with water being drawn by the Luskville tanker unit the two pumpers (from Luskville and Quyon) were able to keep some six hoses operating almost continuously.

Along with their home the Duvals lost most of their personal possessions and memorabilia. They had no insurance.

Two of the Pontiac Volunteer Firemen direct a stream of water into the burning home.

Prizes for highest standing were awarded to Charlene Mulligan and Jacqueline Chevrier, with Charlene giving the valedictory address.

Ottawa Waterway. A navigable waterway from Ottawa to the Lakehead is the dream of numerous people on both sides of the Ottawa River, and this week one more meeting of minds on the matter took place. Warden Elsie Gibbons, Mayors Billy Burke of Quyon and T.J. McGuire of Calumet Island, as well as County Council Secretary Art Labelle of Waltham, met with representatives from Ontario communities. The group agreed to draft a recommendation asking the federal government to study their idea.

Married. On Saturday in Shawville United Church, Miss Gail Lucas, daughter of Mr and Mrs Russell Lucas of Yarm was united in marriage to Gary Lester, son of Mr and Mrs Robert Lester of Eastview.

On September 22nd, in St Peter's Church, Fort Coulonge, Miss Joan Mousseau married Emerie Graveline, son of Mr and Mrs Ernest Graveline.

Candidates. As a result of nominations for Pontiac County held in Campbell's Bay on Monday of this week, four candidates take the field to contest the Dominion elections on October 14th. The four candidates handing nomination papers to George Landon, County returning officer, were: J.A. Raymond of Noranda, Conservative; J.E. Piche of Guiges, official Liberal candidate; W.R. McDonald, merchant, Chapeau, Independent Liberal candidate; and D.D. Lapointe of Rouyn, Reconstructionist.

In the afternoon a joint meeting was held at which the candidates and their supporters addressed the large crowd of electors.

McDonald. Mr W.R. McDonald, ex MLA for this county and unofficial Liberal candidate in the present Federal electoral campaign, was accorded a splendid hearing at the first political meeting held in Shawville since the campaign opened.

The meeting, held in Wilson's Hall, was presided over by Mr Andrew Sly of Shawville, and was well-attended by representatives of all political parties.

Mr McDonald spoke largely on matters in connection with the Liberal convention at Campbell's Bay, and his withdrawing to take the field not as an Independent, but as a Liberal supporter of Hon. Mac Kenzie King.

Mr McDonald was supported on the platform by Mr Wyman MacKechnie of Wyman, and Mr J.O. LaFlamme, advocate of Campbell's Bay.

Conservatives Meet. The first meeting in the interest of J.A. Raymond, Conservative candidate, was held at Shawville Theatre on Monday night, and despite falling rain, was attended by a large number of the electors of the village and immediate vicinity.

The meeting was presided over by G.A. Howard, president of the Conservative Association for East Pontiac. Supporting speakers included R.P. Eades, former Saskatchewan, MLA, now merchant of Shawville, and Dr S.J. McNally, of Campbell's Bay. The speakers urged support for Mr Raymond, and the return of the Bennett government.

Shawville Fair. Last year's Fair was regarded as the most successful in the Society's history. That which closed on Wednesday evening last may be fairly ranked as a close second to it. In some features it surpassed the event of 1909, while in others it was scarcely up to the mark.

In addition to the contingents which came to town by the morning train from the west, there was a big influx of visitors as the result of the special train run from Ottawa. By far the larger proportion of the people, however, came by their own conveyances, of which there were many hundreds in evidence.

McCagg's merry-go-round, which has now become almost a fixture at the Fair, was on hand to the delight of the young people, and the number who hovered around it all afternoon was evidence that its popularity is still at flush tide. "Conn" had a busy afternoon and evening collecting the nickels from his numerous patrons.

The receipts last year from all sources amounted to about $1200. This year the figure was almost $1400.

Born. At Shawville on September 27th, to Mr and Mrs Heman Lester, a son.

Married. At the Methodist Parsonage, Yarm, on Sept. 21st, John Arthur Wellington Horner of Radford, to Florence Elizabeth Strutt, of the 8th Line, Clarendon.

On Sept. 21st in Ottawa, Mr Nathan Dagg of North Clarendon married Miss Pearl Johnston of Forester's Falls.

Girl Guides celebrate 25th

A number of special events are taking place this year in order to celebrate 75 years of Guiding in Canada.

In Ottawa, last June, about 7000 Guides and Scouts, including some Guides and Brownies from Bryson, took part in a parade from Lansdowne Park to Parliament Hill, where Provincial Commissioner Mary O' Brien gave a welcoming speech.

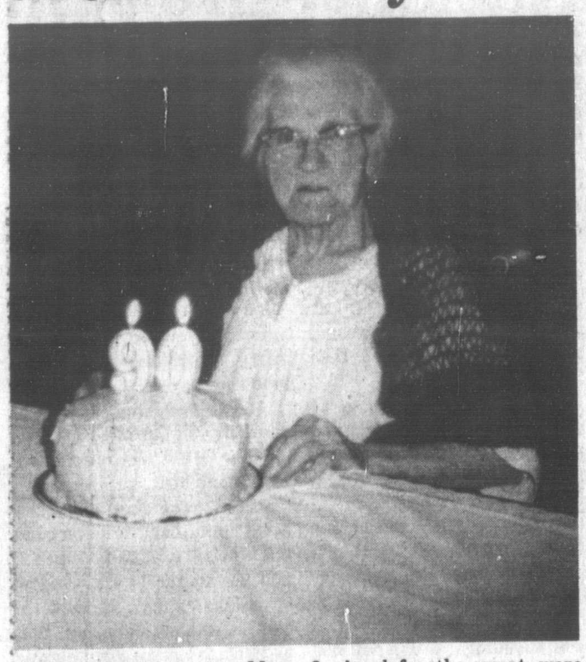
Last Sunday, there was a special 'Celebration of Thanksgiving' Service. The service was followed by a party where the celebration of Guiding's past was complemented by a look at the future.

The first Witan Camp to be held in Canada took place in Alberta, with youth (Guides and Scouts) 18 years and over from all of the world participating. Susan Beeb of Quyon represented Ottawa and Shawville at this event.

There are presently groups of Brownies (age 6-9), Guides (9-12), Pathfinders (12-15), Rangers (15-18) and Link (18-35) in the Pontiac, mainly in the Bryson Area. Those interested in joining Brownies should call Lucienne Gauthier at 648-2773 or Guides, Sandra Kluke at 648-5825.

Anyone interested in starting a unit should call Elke Beeb, Commissioner, at 647-5807.

90th birthday



Congratulations to Mrs Maye Walsh (née Maye Wilson) on the occasion of her 90th birthday, celebrated on September 4, 1985, at the home of her daughter at Carp, Ontario. On hand for the event were members of her family and grandchildren. She received several lovely birthday wishes from relatives out of town.

Beech Grove W I

The regular meeting of Beech Grove W.I. was held at the home of Jean McMillan at 2 pm on Wednesday, September 11th. The motto "Knowledge is our Guiding Light; Wisdom our Trusted Friend". The roll call — something for sale — was answered by seven members and included apples, cucumbers and other garden produce, plants, herbs and some baked goods, all of which disappeared very quickly. Proceeds of the sale will go to the Distress Pontiac Fund.

It was decided to have a Thanksgiving or Harvest Basket as an October Fund Raiser. Ruby Hammond will make the basket. Members are asked for donations of all kinds of goodies and small articles as fillers.

We welcome all Institute members to the Semi-Annual County Meeting to be held at 8 pm on October 16th in the basement of Wesley United Church, Beech Grove.

Canadian Industries convenor read an article from a local paper and Home Economics gave a recipe for a delicious dessert. I know it is delicious because she produced the dessert as well as the recipe.

An attractive and tasty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Ruby Hammond.

The next meeting will be at Reta Draper's on October 9.

What can you do with a hole in the ground?

Editorial

What can be done with a huge hole in the ground, a mountain of gravel, and an enormous quantity of sand? This is the question that Maurice Lamarche and Gordon McGuinty, the owners of the Hilton Mine site have been trying to answer ever since the mine closed.

Probably everyone in Pontiac has had an idea: proposals have included moving the mountain to provide access to some iron ore apparently located under the gravel, stocking the water-filled pit with lake trout for a unique fish farm, and manufacturing concrete railway ties out of the gravel. This last has progressed to the construction of prototypes which have been tested by the railway companies.

A new idea has recently been suggested by the Regional Government of Ottawa-Carleton, filling the hole with garbage. A consulting firm has studied the plan and found it to be reasonable from the point of view of the Ottawa-Caleton Region and the owners are also quite enthusiastic with the prospect of creating fifty jobs in the County.

For a variety of reasons, people do not like dumps in their neighbourhood. This is particularly so when the material being disposed of originates elsewhere. Every time a site is suggested for land-fill, for storing of industrial wastes or for the disposal of nuclear wastes there is a certain amount of opposition, opposition which often reaches national or even international levels.

Most of the time this opposition is entirely justified by the lack of community involvement in the decision making process. No one likes the thought of someone else's hazardous wastes being stored in his own backyard. There are so many examples of these wastes coming back to haunt the nearby residents, the Love Canal in Niagara Falls U.S.A. and the radioactive basements in Port Hope are two.

The dumping of garbage in Bristol could be entirely safe. Engineers and geologists will be studying the site and trying to ensure that the underground water in the area will not be contaminated. But it will take more than a statement from the Ministry of the Environment that everything is fine to convince everyone. There is a large credibility gap between spokesmen for government and industry, and the public, resulting from many errors in judgement in the past.

If the site becomes a dump, much needed jobs will be created in Pontiac. In a few years methane production could become a valuable source of energy and it might even attract additional industry to the area. It might provide the impetus to get the railway tie factory underway.

On the other hand ground water contamination is a concern to people living in the area, as is the enormous increase in heavy vehicle traffic on the highway that would result if the garbage is transported by truck. The effect of the enormous quantities of waste chemicals included in this garbage, even though in individually small amounts, will be difficult to assess.

In Pontiac there is now an opportunity to avoid the confrontations which have so often plagued the selection of dump sites in other parts of Canada. The public's concerns must be made known and must be dealt with in an obviously fair and reasonable way by those making the decision.

Hilton Mines

As far as the kind of waste that would be delivered to the site, Mr Cornfield said that it would be municipal refuse — household, commercial and industrial. "Anything that can be put out on the curb."

How will the managers of the dump be sure that nothing goes in that shouldn't? Mr. Cornfield replied that it will be up to the licencing authority, the Ministry of the Environment to police the site. "If the operator lets stuff in that shouldn't be let in, then he can lose his licence."

Mr Cornfield acknowledged, however, that it's hard to verify that people are not disposing of chemicals in empty javex bottles. Since there is no heavy manufacturing done in the Ottawa-Carleton region, however, only small amounts of waste — "a gallon of this, a litre of that" — can be expected to be generated by any one facility, be it a dry-cleaning company, a film-developing company, or a government or private laboratory.

"There are no fertilizer or pesticide or paint manufacturers here. The pulp and paper industries and the high tech industries produce some odd things...although the high tech industries tend to reuse and recycle such things as acids to etch gold and copper. There isn't anybody producing (toxic wastes) in major volumes."

It has not been decided yet whether the refuse will be transported to the dump by truck or rail: if by truck, it will be compacted, if by rail, probably not.

National fire drill

The Canadian Fire Departments, along with McDonald's Restaurants of Canada, will be sponsoring a nation-wide fire drill on October 9th.

The drill is just one of the many activities planned for Fire Prevention Week, held every year from October 6-12. The ninth is the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire that started October 8th, 1871, killing 500 people and causing property losses of more than $200 million.

The aim of the drill is to educate parents, children, and people living alone in proper fire evacuation procedures. Canada has the worst record in the industrialized world for fire-related deaths, with 90 percent of all fire fatalities occurring in the home.

Canada's national fire drill will encourage people to discuss possible escape routes from their homes and to actively practise these routes at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, October 9th.

This week, pupils, at Dr S.E. McDowell School in Shawville, will be bringing home a poster outlining the procedures to follow in the event of a fire and containing a place on which to draw up a map of escape routes that the family should take in case of fire. The map can be posted conspicuously in the house. Copies of the poster can also be obtained at Sears in Shawville.

In the event of a fire emergency, fire officials suggest the following steps:

At the first hint of trouble, carefully roll out of bed, keeping low. This way you avoid smoke and heat, which rise.

Crawl to the door and touch it with your hand to determine if it is hot. If it is, do not open it and go out through a window or secondary exit if there is one. If the door is not hot, proceed following your escape plan.

In the hallway, stay beneath the smoke level. Once outside, everybody go to a predetermined meeting place, preferably in front of the house.

Quality of education focus of symposium

Over the next six months, representatives from virtually all groups involved in education - parents, students, teachers, principals, trustees, administrators, etc. - will be getting together to examine the quality of education in Quebec in a process entitled 'Estates General on Education: Objective 100%'.

This will be the first time that so many groups involved in education will have the opportunity to come together in workshops to examine current problems in the educational system and seek solutions.

Unlike Law 3 and the deliberations and public hearings that preceeded it, the Estates General will be concerned with the content of education and the delivery of services rather than the structure of the education system.

More than fifty workshops will be held treating such themes as teacher training, new technolgoies, the role of the family, sexism, talented children, general and professional training, adult education, problem children, etc...

The Estates General is not a government initiative. Rather, it was begun by the Federation of Catholic School Boards of Quebec. The Ministry o Education will be represented, however, as one of the many groups involved.

The regional phase of the Estates General will take place during autumn 1985 and, in the Outaouais, will culminate in a 'Day of Reflection' to be held in each of the local School Boards, followed by a Regional Symposium, to be held December 6th and 7th.

The province-wide forum will be held April 2-5th, 1986 at the Palais des congrès in Montréal, where Marc Garneau, the astronaut, will be the guest speaker.

Those interested in participating are encouraged to do so through their respective group - parents, teachers, etc.

The title, Estates General, is taken from French history and refers to the assembly that was made up of the three orders or states: the clergy, the nobility and the bourgeoisie. According to the Larousse dictionary, the estates general played a purely consultative role and were only convened by the King in times of crises.

In 1789, the three orders got together and proclaimed themselves the constituent assembly, thus ushering in the French Revolution.

Helicopter in Luskville

On Friday, September 27, 1985, an army helicopter carrier from Camp Petawawa set down in Mr Yvon Alary's field in Luskville, Québec about 400 to 500 feet from route 148. The aircraft had minor engine trouble but in a short time the crew had it repaired and were ready for take off.

Antique cars tour Pontiac

by Blair Prior

On September 22 the Historic Auto Society of Canada, Rideau Valley Region, members enjoyed a tour of Pontiac County.

Twenty-three people of this club, driving cars ranging in age from a 1928 Chev to a 1959 Cadillac and a few modern cars as well, met in Ottawa in the hazy Sunday morning.

Driving west on Highway 148, they enjoyed the autumn colours and the beautiful sight of the Ottawa River and after a brief lunch stop at Quyon, continued on to Bryson. Here a two hour cruise on the Pontiac Princess acquainted these people with the history and beauty of the Upper Ottawa River.

After the boat cruise, the caravan made its way to Memory Lane Farm at Quyon. A delicious pot luck supper was enjoyed by all before separating to make their way home, be it in Kemptville, Oxford Mills, Richmond or Jasper, Ontario.

All in the family

Working for Hydro is a family tradition in some families, and when Electrical G-F Don Manary's son Troy started to work as a summer student at BNPD he represented the fourth generation of Manary men to work for the Corporation. Troy's great-grandfather John worked on construction at Cameron Falls, Raynor, and Stewartville. His grandfather Verdun worked on construction at Barrett Chute, Stewartville, Chenaux, La—Cave, Niagara, Red Rock and Little Long. His father Don has worked at Little Long, Mountain Chute, Barrett Chute, Stewartville and BNPD. The Manary family all came from Wyman originally.

Learning to do without chemicals

Tavistock area farm is doing just fine using all organic methods.

Farming without chemicals.

The basic philosophy of organic farming is deceivingly simple but ask most farmers to give up their chemical weed controls and stop using the traditonal moldboard plow and you would probably get a look usually reserved for crazy people.

These farming techniques are exactly the one's used by Oak Manor Farms of RR1 Tavistock, to produce its wide range of organic grain products.

For many people, organic farming conjures up images of idealistic dreamers who proclaim the values of organic food and grow vegetables on a small plot while supporting themselves by selling handmade pottery.

Growing organic grains is not a dream for Delton and Dave Reibling, father and son operators of Oak Manor Farms. It's big business.

The Reiblings farm about 160 hectares (400 acres) and mill, package and market their products in Canada and the United States.

Oak Manor's product line includes more than 100 grain products and Tomas Nimmo, the farm's marketing manager, is constantly try something new or different. In 1951, he was one of the first local farmers to build a milking parlor and in 1956 installed one of the earliest bulk milk coolers.

"I was one of the first people using herbicides like 2-4D (still in common use in Ontario) and I was one of the first people to stop using them", Mr Reibling said.

About the same time the Reiblings began to question the amount of chemicals and fertilizers necessary to keep their yields, their attention was drawn to a bacterial product in the northern U.S. which was said to allow you to cut back on fertilizer application rates.

Over the next couple of years, they began to utilize the other methods which are stock and trade in organic farming: crop rotation, roto-hoeing, and cover cropping.

Oak Manor grows a much larger list of crops than you will find on most cash crop farms. In addition to local cash crops like corn, wheat, barley and soyabeans, the Reiblings also grow six types of beans, triticale, flax, millet, alfalfa, peas, rye, and sunflowers.

One crop which might be unfamiliar to local farmers is oil radish which is grown for green manure and for its value as a soil conditioner, Mr Reibling said.

"I call it my soil-builder," he said. "It is a tap root which can go down several feet or more and when the tops are disced in for green manure, then the roots decay and they really help drainage.

"We also use lots of manure, disc in clover and alfalfa and plant some oil radish just about every year," Mr Reibling said.

Natural raw materials like gypsum and raw rock phosphorus are also used, he said.

Oak Manor sells a certified organic product in a premium quality market but could a cash crop farmer, with volumes large enough that he would have to continue to sell his crops on the cash market with non-organic grain, switch out of chemicals and remain profitable?

"Absolutely," Mr Reibling said. "But the techniques take time to master and you have to keep track of your crop's progress — you can't just plant it, spray it and forget it.

"The first year you stop using chemicals will be the most difficult because the soil will be out of balance from years of chemical use and because you will not be used to the new methods and the timing required," he said.

The yields recover after the initial drop and come back up to compete with the previous yields but with much less spent on fertilizer and spray, Mr Reibling said.

Organically grown crops compare even more favorably if you consider that the productivity of modern farming is overestimated because of a failure to include a calculation of off-farm inputs, he said.

"People always throw around statistics about how many more people each farmer can feed now because of improved methods but there are a lot more off-farm dollars used as inputs," Mr Reibling said.

The yields must be compared to the level of inputs to get a true picture of productivity and that's where the lower costs of organic farming really make the difference, he said.

Mr Reibling said farmers should think about a system which centres on the use of more and more chemicals and fertilizers. "A person that never wonders is brainwashed and a brainwashed person never wonders."

Youth art club

A new art club that will enable young people 14 to 18 years of age to attend cultural get-togethers and meet new friends has been organized by the Educational Services of the National Gallery of Canada. The Youth Art Club will consist of a series of eight 90-minute sessions to be held directly after school hours.

These sessions will give the participants the opportunity to increase their knowledge and understanding of our contemporary artistic life. Various activities have been planned and two group leaders have been chosen to coordinate the sessions and the free discussions that will follow. Participants will therefore be able to compare this new experience to the accepted principles of visual art.

The sessions for French-speaking adolescents will be held on 10, 17, 24 and 31 October as well as on 7, 14, 21 and 28 November 1985. Sessions for English-speaking participants have been planned for the months of February and March 1986.

Since enrolment is limited, those interested should register early by contacting the Gallery'd Education Services at (613) 990-0576.

Rustic Rhetoric

by E.B.W. Mulligan

Someone once said, "reassembling the past is dangerous one must be careful not to disturb settled waters or dig in the mud."

Another unknown author said —

"Take time to work
It is the price of success
Take time to think
It is the source of power
Take time to play
It is the secret of perpetual youth
Take time to read
It is the fountain of wisdom
Take time to be friendly
It is the road to happiness
Take time to dream
It is hitching your wagon to a star
Take time to love and be loved
It is the privilege of the Gods
Take time to look around
It is too short a day to be selfish
Take time to laugh
It is the music of the soul".

To take away deep thoughts — in my reading of early times around the valley and especially in Aylmer in 1867, the year of confederation, a fall delicacy was black squirrels. Some weighed as much as two pounds. Apparently, according to an article in the "Packet", this practice was brought up here by Veterans from the American Civil War which had ended the year before.

I always like squirrels — their endless energy and their contribution to our country because without them there would be no oak or butternut trees.

Three weeks ago an article in THE EQUITY about the new provincial forest property included the statement that the Pontiac Forest Products Producers Board was invited to an information meeting in Gatineau, but that it did not attend. The invitation was actually sent by courier from the Ministry of Energy and Resources in Quebec City, but it was never delivered to the Board Office in Shawville. As a result the Board members did not know of the meeting until it was over. A two dollar phone call from Quebec could easily have done the job that a ten dollar courier letter was unable to accomplish.

Around Quebec

by Richard Wills

Johnson Wins. Pierre-Marc Johnson waltzed to victory Sunday night as leader of the Parti-Quebecois and immediately began patching up rifts within his strife-ridden party. "We emerged more united than we have been in a long time," Johnson said after making a kind comment about each of his leadership rivals. And for the first time since the start of the 97-day leadership campaign, Johnson paid tribute to the PQ's retiring leader, Premier Rene Levesque, who quit his seat in the National Assembly yesterday, praising him for leaving him a "clean house."

Johnson, 39, who takes over a party with an effective one-seat majority, an empty election war-chest, and far less popularity than Robert Bourassa's Liberals, also appealed to all Quebecers to give him a chance to build a better Quebec.

Johnson is expected to be sworn in as premier Thursday — the first Quebec premier whose father was also premier. Daniel Johnson was Union Nationale premier from 1966 until his death in 1968.

Johnson received 58.4% of votes cast, Marois 20%, Garon 16.2%, Bertrand 2.8%, Lalonde 1.5%, amd Gagnon 1.1%. (Montreal Gazette)

Bourassa's Plans. Quebec Liberal leader Robert Bourassa said last week that a Liberal government would "eliminate the exaggerations" of provincial language law to make it more reasonable and less contentious.

Bourassa said he does not feel his party has to go as far as the PQ has done to protect the French language in Quebec. He criticized Bill 101 regulations that prohibit English-language signs in stores even in areas that have large English-language populations.

"We can modify that," he said, "It's a question of common sense."

English rights groups like Alliance Quebec have criticized the PQ government's decision to revamp Montreal's social service network, and have repeatedly asked for legislative guarantees that services will be available in English.

"I make the formal commitment that a Liberal government will ensure the future existence and development of English-speaking institutions and health and social services," Bourassa said in English to about 200 business people in Pointe Claire.

Alliance Quebec president Michael Goldbloom said in an interview that he is "pleased by this unequivocal endorsement of the Alliance's position." (Gazette, Sherbrooke Record)

Paratrooper To Stand Trial. A Canadian forces corporal accused of the August 10 machete-slaying of a Fort Coulonge man has been ordered to stand trial on a charge of second-degree murder.

The trial of Cpl. Martial Duchesne, 23, who also faces another charge of attempted murder, is to begin Nov. 4, in Quebec Superior Court.

Andre Graveline, 26, died shortly after his neck was slashed open during a brawl between civilians and soldiers outside the Hotel Coulonge.

A coroner's inquest Aug. 20 found Duchesne, of the Canadian Airborne Regiment at Petawawa, responsible for Graveline's death.

The attempted murder charge arises from an attack on Murray Godin, 23, who needed 35 stitches to close a chest would. (Gazette)

Aylmer Hotel Still Standing. No date has yet been set for demolishing the Aylmer Hotel, part-owner Louis Bertrand says.

"Until we are sure that the City of Aylmer will issue the permits we need and enough tenants are interested in leasing space in a new building so that we can get mortgage money, the Hotel will stay where it is." he says.

Mr Bertrand says that a number of organizations like the central location, and the prospects of putting up a modern office building in the near future are very good. (Aylmer Bulletin)

Migration - A mystery of nature

Nearly all of the 775 species of birds in North America migrate but because waterfowl are the most noticeable, they are associated more with migration than other species.

Many of the waterfowl species make tremendously long journeys — some as long as 5000 miles one way. Black brant that nest on Queen Maud Gulf in the Canadian Arctic migrate along the cost to Baja California. Lesser snow geese and pintails that breen on Wrangel Island, Siberia, winter in the Central Valley of California. Pintails, banded in Alaska, have appeared in hunters game bags in Guatemala, a distance of nearly 5000 miles. Some of the blue-winged teal that breed in the Western provinces of Canada winter in Ecuador, South America.

Some species of waterfowl fly continuously unless forced by exhaustion or adverse weather to land. It is possible for some birds to make non stop flights of a minimum of 2000 miles and possibly as much as 3000 miles. A typical example is the lesser snow goose that departs from the southern end of James Bay and flies 1600 miles nonstop to the marshes of Louisiana.

Most waterfowl average speed is 50 mph and generally fly at speeds between 40 to 60 mph. A flight of 500 miles would take a mere 10 hours at an average speed of 50 mph.

Waterfowl may fly at different altitudes ranging from a few feet above the sea to 20,000 feet above sea level. The altitude of migration depends upon the terrain and the distance travelled. Snow geese have been witnessed on radarscopes at an elevation of 10,000 feet. One pilot reported a flock of snow geese near Alexandria, Louisiana at the extreme altitude of 20,000 feet above the ground. Canada geese migrate at lower altitudes than the Snows and usually not as far. The longer the migratory flight, the higher the altitude.

Why do waterfowl migrate? The biological answer to this is "survival". Most waterfowl would not survive if they did not migrate since the water areas that hold food freeze over, making food unattainable.

Hundreds of experiments have been conducted on the physiological factors responsible for bird migration, yet scientists still do not have all the answers. It is not readily explained why large-scale migration occurs before food supplies become scarce.

Factors within the bird itself play a part, as do environmental factors. The length of night in comparison with the length of daylight appears to be the key that sets the timing mechanism in motion. Also, weather conditions and food supplies, which become increasingly important as autumn progresses, may modify the timing.

Many experiments have shown that birds must accumulate large reserves of fat prior to migration. Fat provides the necessary energy required for the long journey southward. Fat is important because it produces twice the energy per unit of weight as does protein. When shortages of the desirable foods exist, the length of time required to reach a readiness to migrate increases.

Waterfowl have the ability to return to the same breeding, migration and winter areas that they visited in previous years. The navigation of waterfowl is intriguing to say the least. For example, mallards that navigate short distances show a different use of sun and stars than do blue-winged teal which migrate further. There is no doubt that waterfowl use the landscape extensively in navigating across country.

During bright nights, migrating waterfowl use large bodies of water to direct them in their flight. Scientists also believe that waterfowl might use wind and the earth's magnetic field in navigation. It is the scientist's belief that when waterfowl are unable to see the landscape or celestial bodies, then the earth's magnetic field provides the navigation cues required for migration.

As the huge flocks of "Canada's" wing southward, they catch the attention of both young and old and one can only marvel at the migration pattern of waterfowl and other species. Yes, migration is mysterious but isn't it intriguing and fascinating to hear the sould of those migrating "Canada's"? It is just so Canadian!

It's a fact

Owls are long-lived birds and in the wild probably reach an age of 15 to 20 years. The record for longevity goes to a captive bird that lived to be sixty-eight.

Today's Tip

Wood ducks are very colourful birds, especially the drakes. They make excellent mounts when handled by a skilful taxidermist.

Parting Shot

The whrr-rr of wings, the taste of strong coffee and the voice of a fine friend can be the beginning of many good days in the marsh.

Quyon . . .

Get well wishes to Anthony Kilbride who is in the Civic Hospital and not too well. Our prayers and get well wishes goes out to him.

Get well wishes to Willie Label who is a patient in the Ottawa Hospital.

Sympathy is expressed to the Bell family. Thomas Bell died in the hospital on Saturday morning September 28th. He married Alice Doherty. He was 72 years. His funeral was from Our Lady of Fatima's Church on Tuesday, October 1 to St Bridgets cemetery, North Onslow for interment.

Congratulations to Ann Trudeau and Paul Pamerleau who were married in St Mary's Church on Friday, September 27. The reception and party was held in Gavan's Lounge.

Congratulations to Lorne Armstrong and Helen Enright on the occasion of their wedding which took place in the United Church Quyon on Saturday, September 21st.

A bus load of senior citizens from Quyon travelled to Fort Coulonge. They went to see the chute on the Coulonge river. They observed a lot of improvement since their last trip. Although the water was at a lower level, the falls was not as forceful and foamy but still a beautiful silvery sight. They saw the crib or raft where the lumbermen loaded on the timber and was sent over the falls. An iron bridge has been built across the river. A camp or cabin is erected and hydro installed. The group went to Chapeau, crossed into Allumette Island at St Joseph's and came out onto Hwy 148. They witnessed the beauty of the trees, with their golden, red and greenish leaves. Finished off by dining at the Steak House near Coulonge.

A youth rally was held in Pembroke over the weekend September 28 and 29. Nine of our young people from Quyon attended. This was a Diocesian Youth Rally held in recognition of the International year of the youth. Eleanor Foran went as a supervisory person. Others attending were Danny Desabrais, Dave Mohr, Ron Thrasher, Michel Lafleur, Terry Proulx, Kelena Beattie, Carolann Hickey, Peggy Alexander and Dianna Desabrais. It was a two day program and over 500 attended. This activity concluded with Mass offered by Bishop Windle in the Cathedral Church on Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

Bea and Ken Price visited at Daley's on Monday and finished off their socializing by having supper with Basil Murphy. They crossed the ferry and landed in Navaho Drive by 10 pm.

The United Church of Quyon celebrated their 126th anniversary of church service on September 15th. Rev Philip Cline of Toronto was the guest speaker. Rev Robert Oliphant is the present Minister now. The church choir was lovely and Barbara Horner rendered some beautiful solos. Dinner was served by the United Church Ladies. A great crowd attended.

Donnie and Beverly Stanley have gone to Burlington to visit her sister Angela and also visiting son Brett who is going to school in Toronto. Happy holidaying.

A group of Quyon friends have gone to Toronto to visit Lorette O'Hearn. Rose Belanger and Ervin McCann were the co-pilots. Sandra McCann, Gail Gavan, Donna, Gail Mac Kechnie, all travelled for the event.

Millie Daley (née Palmer) had a birthday recently and the girls took her out on Friday evening to the Spaghetti Factory and Kenny took her to the Beaucannan's Renfew, on Saturday evening. They were accompanied by Donna and Bruce Hodgins.

Maureen Curley has returned home from Spain and other points. First week their toured Gennada, Cordonia, Savile, Morocco, Tangeris and second week stayed at Don Pablo Forremolines. The scenery was outstanding, food was different and hard to get use to. The land was dry and in need of rain. Mae said it was sure nice to be home but they had a good trip.

Waltham . . .

Rev. Roger McElwain motored to Mattawa, Deep River and Rapides des Joachims on Wednesday accompanied by Mrs Erna Marsden and Mrs Edna Harkins. It was a lovely trip as the coloured foliage was at its peak of beauty.

Mr and Mrs Ivan Liscum, Oshawa, visited Mr and Mrs James Perry on the weekend.

Scott and Jane LeRoy were weekend visitors at their grand mother's, Mrs Florence LeRoy.

The Youth Club held a successful dance in the Church Hall on Friday evening.

Mr and Mrs Deha Gagnon and family were weekend visitors at Mrs Cecile Gagnon's.

Mr and Mrs Earl McKnight, daughter Wendy and a friend spent the weekend at Mrs Ruby McKnight's summer home.

Mrs Erna Marsden returned to New Brunswick by bus on Monday after a week's visit with Rev R McElwain.

Otter Lake R.A. upcoming annual meeting

The Otter Lake Recreation Association (R.A.) will hold its annual meeting on Sunday, October 6th, at 1:00 p.m. in the Municipal Hall in Otter Lake.

This is an opportunity for those who are dissatisfied with the facilities on the R.A. grounds or the activities that the R.A. organizes to do something about it.

It is also an opportunity for those who are satisfied with the facilities and activities to get involved in the activities for the coming year: the New Year's Eve Party, Winter Carnival, the July and August Ball Tournaments, and special events such as the fund-raising dance for ROTEL.

The R.A. is looking for new ideas and points out that it is not necessary that a person be an officer in the organization in order to give an opinion or a helping hand where it is needed. The more people who give of their time, the more activities that the R.A. can hold.

The Annual Meeting will consist of the following: presentation of 1984-85 financial statements; results of activities held during the past year and a comparison with the previous year; and the election of ten officers.

Bristol W.I.

The Bristol Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs Denyse Kohlsmith on September 12th with eleven members present.

Mrs Ruby Rusenstrom conducted the meeting in the absence of our president. The roll call was answered by members telling the birthplace of their grandparents.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Then the treasurer's report was read. Arrangements were made to hold a bazaar on October 26th.

Each convenor gave a report. One given by the education convenor, Denyse Kohlsmith, was especially interesting when she told of her niece teaching Cree Indian children in the far North. She showed articles of beadwork made by these children.

A social hour was enjoyed after the meeting closed and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Les jeunes volontaires, oui . . . mais

par Hélène Tremblay

Bien que leur voyage à Québec a failli être annulé suite à certaines pressions exercées pour empêcher les jeunes de l'Outaouais de participer à la manifestation prevue dans la vieille capitale, les jeunes volontaires du Pontiac ont quand même reussi à s'y rendre.

En effet, en raison d'un conflit administratif, les autobus qui devaient rassembler les jeunes volontaires de tout l' Outaouais et assurer leur transport de Gatineau à Québec, ont du être annulées à la dernière minute.

A cinq heures trente mardi soir, alors que la quarantaine de jeunes du Pontiac se preparaient pour leur départ de Fort Coulonge à cinq heures mercredi matin, une réunion d'urgence était convoquée dans la soirée pour choisir une alternative. Les 600$ récoltés par des moyens de fortune la fin-de-semaine précédente, n'étaient pas suffisants pour permettre à tout le groupe de participer à cette manifestation. Il a donc fallu se resigner à déléguer seulement quinze d'entre eux, louer une petite camionnette et aller unir les voix à celles des autres jeunes volontaires qui s'étaient donné rendez-vous.

Ce fut certes une première déception mais les jeunes volontaires ont demontré qu'ils étaient prêts à l'affronter pour faire valoir leurs droits.

Grâce au civisme et à la jovialité des manifestants, la marche ainsi que la periode d'attente devant le parlement se sont déroulées sans bavure. Les slogans n'ont pas manqué pas plus que la vigueur déployée depuis le début pour pouvoir participer a cette manifestation.

Après une courte attente d'environ une heure, cinq jeunes qui avaient été délégués auprès des ministres concernés, revenaient nous transmettre les reponses. Oui, "le programme Jeune Volontaire" sera prolongé, oui, la parité sociale sera accordée rétroactivement au premier août 1985 et à cela s'ajouteraient même les montants pour les frais de garde.

Mais ceux-ci sont encore au stade de négociation. Les jeunes impliquées dans des projets depuis le mois d'août ou ceux ayant fait l'accord du comité local avant cette décision auront droit à la parité. Par contre, les jeunes non-beneficiaires de l'aide sociale (les 16 a 18 ans), les prestataires d' assurances-chomage qui n'ont pas d'autres revenus, auront une augmentation de 32$ sur leur allocation mensuelle de projet, qui était normalement de 150$. Les autres, les beneficiaires de l' aide sociale, recevront en plus de leur allocation habituelle, une augmentation de leur allocation mensuelle de projet de 128$, ce qui constitue la parité sociale avec les 30 ans et plus.

Cependant, pour les futurs projets, la parité sociale ne sera accordée qu'a ceux qui détiennent leur diplome de secondaire cinq. De toute évidence, cette mesure aurait pour but de diminuer le nombre de décrocheurs, particulièrement élevé dans les milieux ruraux. Cet événement aura certainement aidé à motiver et activer la solidarité de la jeunesse pontissoise qui, je l'espère, continuera à se dévélopper.

Avez-vous ce qu'il faut?

Tout le monde n'est pas fait pour être un soldat professionnel dans les Forces armées canadiennes. Il faut avoir l'esprit vif et la résistance physique nécessaire pour pouvoir se soumettre à une formation et à une discipline rigoureuses. Mais si vous réussissez, c'est un mode de vie idéal.

L'armée va vous tenir en forme, toujours prêt à agir, à voyager et à relever de nouveaux défis. On vous demandera des efforts, mais vous aurez la fierté et la satisfaction d'être un élément clé de l'équipe.

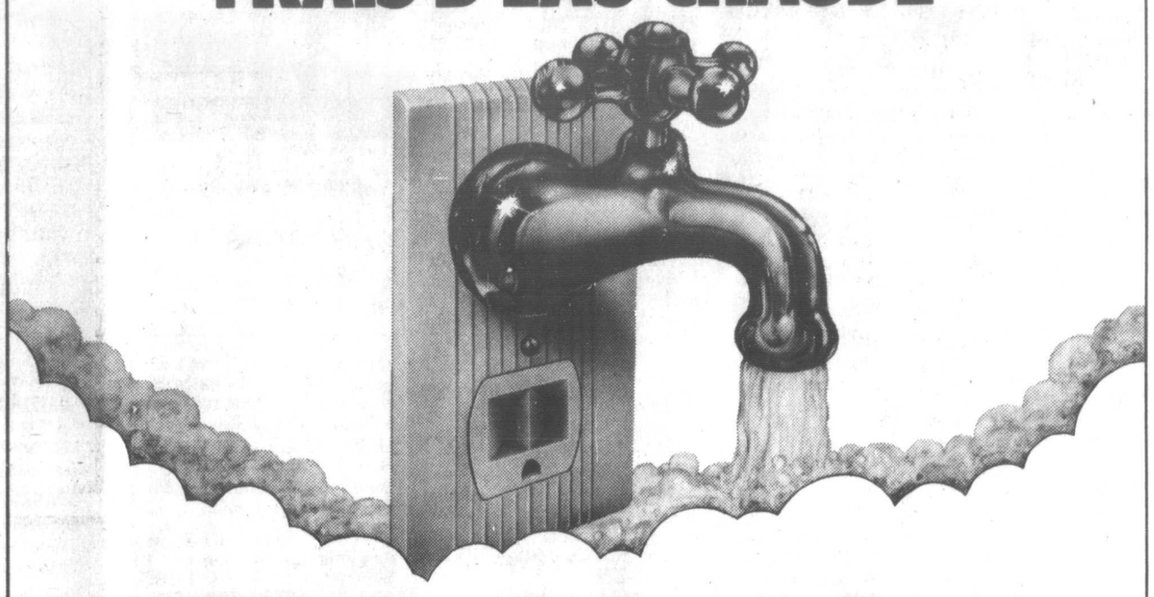
VOICI UN MOYEN EFFICACE DE RÉDUIRE VOS FRAIS D'EAU CHAUDE



LE PROGRAMME DE CONVERSION À L'ÉLECTRICITÉ DU CHAUFFAGE DE L'EAU – SECTEUR RÉSIDENTIEL

Vous n'avez pas encore de chauffe-eau électrique ? Pourtant, dans une habitation, chauffer l'eau à l'électricité coûte de 20 à 40 % moins cher qu'au mazout. De plus, le chauffe-eau électrique est le moins cher de tous à l'achat, et il est propre, efficace et sans entretien.

Pourquoi continuer à payer plus cher ? Profitez des subventions offertes par Hydro-Québec et obtenez entre 140 $ et 225 $ pour remplacer votre chauffe-eau à mazout ou à gaz par un chauffe-eau électrique.

Communiquez avec un entrepreneur licencié ou avec le bureau du service de la Clientèle d'Hydro-Québec dont le numéro figure sur votre facture d'électricité, et demandez le dépliant du programme. C'est le temps d'agir...avec électrifficacité!

IN MEMORY

HERAULT - In loving memory of our brother Donnie who left us so suddenly on Thanksgiving Day, October 7, 1979.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true
There is not a day, dear brother
That we do not think of you.
Sadly missed by Carol, Dwight, Kelli and Michael BO2

PARE - In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs Joseph Paré who passed away October 4, 1977.
Eight years ago dear Mother was called
To her eternal rest
Gone where the angels sing so sweet
And taken when God knew best.
Emile and Bea
XO2

SMITH - In loving memory of a dear husband, grandfather and great grandfather, Nathan Thomas who passed away October 1, 1984.
It seems so strange that those we need,
And those we love the best,
Are just the ones God called away
And took them home to rest.
But every time we think of them
We seem to hear God say:
"Have faith and trust my -promise;
You'll meet again some day."
Sadly missed by Wife Minnie, Keith and Lorraine, Todd and Jeff. XO2

SOCIAL NOTES

Caldwell . . .

Bob Knop of Bodergraven, Holland, Olissia Stechishen and Craig Robinson of Deep River and Gerald Sharpe of Ottawa visited with Hermonie Sharpe and daughters Ruth and Tammy over the weekend.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Tommie Bell who passed away in Ottawa Hospital this past weekend. Tommie was born and raised at Weirstead ,where he married Alice Doherty and after living there quite a few years, they moved with their family to Ottawa. Tommie will be sadly missed by all who knew him.

The rain we had over this past week was sure a welcome sight as wells all over the country have been going dry. It is bad enough when you haven't water for home use but it is much worse when farmers with large herds of cattle, etc, haven't enough water to water them. It was a help to have the rain but we could stand a great deal more.

Kirk Tubman will soon be leaving for Cornwallis, Nova Scotia where he will be stationed with the Canadian Army. We all wish you the best of luck Kirk and hope you will enjoy your stay in Cornwallis.

Dale Alexander of Ottawa, Edith Alexander of Montreal, Margaret Robinson of Hemingford, Quebec, visited with Mr and Mrs Eddie Alexander over the weekend.

Birthday congratulations to Luther Webster of Rochester, New York, who celebrates his birthday this week. Your Canadian friends wish you many more years of good health and happiness.

Get well wishes are sent to Linda Dorzek who has been a patient in Shawville Hospital. Linda is at present recuperating at home.

Don't forget our Senior Citizens Euchre Party which is held every Wednesday night at the Bristol Town Hall.

St Luke's Guild will be held this week at the home of Mrs Elaine Russett.

Also visiting from Ottawa for the weekend were Anne Bernie and Paul Mousseau, Mr and Mrs Bill Welsh and children Jennifer and Erin of St Alberts, Ont.

Ward Woolsey and Dale Alexander motored to Toronto Saturday to bring Mrs Woolsey back, as she had been visiting friends there.

Had a call from son Donald and wife Joanne Sharpe of Ear Falls, Sunday night. Everyone there are well but the weather is quite cold and they have had snow. Our weather here has been beautiful but by the looks of the weather in the north, we generally get at a later date what they are experiencing now.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Audrey Smiley (Mrs Henry) who passed away this week.

Sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Rev Roy Hilton in the loss of his sister who was one of the people who died in the hospital in London, Ontario, suspected of food poisoning.

Congratulations to Rodolphe and Joanne Lasalle who were married Saturday on Calumet Island.
