TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

CABLE

LONDON, July 27.—It is stated that Sir Randolph Churchill has accepted the position of chancellor of the Exchequer and Leader in the House of Commons.

LONDON, July 27.—The Telegraph strongly advises Lord Salisbury to give the offices of Viceroy and Secretary for Ireland to Irishmen. The Morning Post demands an infusion of new blood in the Cabinet. The Chronicle asks to have Mr. Goschen in the Cabinet as a hostage for the Liberal Unionists. The Times begs Lord Salisbury to avail himself of the opportunities of improvement of the Cabinet without too much regard for personal claim. The Times implies that the leadership of the House of Commons ought not again be entrusted to Sir M. Hicks-Beach, and asks for a leader of great capacity and courage. The Standard says the new Government must not be a mere re-creation of the last Ministry. The Daily News has a bitter personal attack on Lord Hartington as a base traitor, and thinks he will join Lord Salisbury outside the Ministry.

A NEW PARTY.

LONDON, July 27.—The World says: Lord Hartington prefers Mr. Chamberlain to any closer relations with the Marquis of Salisbury, so the Unionists are resolved to form a party of their own with whips and regular internal organization.

THE G. O. M. GOING TO ROME.

Mr. Gladstone is going on a yachting cruise as soon as he is relieved from official work. He proposes to start for Rome early in November, and to remain in Italy till after Easter.

SOCIALISTS ON TRIAL.

FREIBURG, Germany, July 27.—The trial of the Socialist Deputies has begun. The accused denied any secret society whatever existed in connection with the Social-Democratic party organization which is exactly similar to other political parties.

A FURIOUS MOB.

The Amsterdam mob tore up the roadway in order to obtain stones for use as missiles. Eighteen policemen were wounded. Twenty-eight persons have been arrested, including two Socialists.

THE CHOLERA.

LONDON, July 27.—The cholera is spreading in Trieste. King Humbert has donated 150,000 lira to Italian cholera sufferers.

AMERICAN.

THE GREELY POLAR SCANDAL.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The recent publication of the story of Sergeant Maurice Connell, one of the survivors of the Greely exploring expedition, has been the occasion for the perusal of the diary of Lieut. Kisingbury, and the publication of extracts by the Free Press. The diary was in possession of the administrator of Lieut. Kisingbury's estate. In regard to the differences between Greely and Kisingbury, which resulted in the latter being deprived of his authority, Greely said it was because of insubordination in not getting up for breakfast when called. Kisingbury speaks of being relieved August 12, 1884, and on May 10, 1884, Greely promised to issue an order reinstating him. Under date of May 12, 1884, Kisingbury writes: "He (Greely) said he would give me credit and pay me the compliment I deserved. I was obliged to commence reminding him of this when he cut me short, flew into a passion and called me a liar in a loud, insulting manner. God help me, I had to take this. Too weak to write any more to-night." This was the last entry, and 18 days later, June 1st, 1884, Lieut. Kisingbury died. Greely's letter deposing Kisingbury is dated January 20, 1882, while as shown above that officer speaks of being relieved nearly a year previously, and Greely himself speaks in his letter of "your enforced stay with this command," which seems to corroborate Kisingbury's claim that he was relieved before the complaint about getting up in the morning. On two and a half sheets that are all remaining of one of the diaries are entries that show that Kisingbury was hampered and secretly interfered with by his superior officer. He was allowed to choose a companion for a hunting expedition and selected Connell, who was secretly told by Greely that he could return at any time and need not hold himself subject to Kisingbury's orders. Last February extracts were taken from the diary by Washington correspondents referring to Greely as incompetent. Many of the most important points, however, were omitted. The following are a few of these:—

"April, 1884: I am to-day again made a member of the expedition. Greely told him he would give him full credit for his 'admirable conduct.'"

"April 23, 1884.—Connell is quite weak. Poor Dr. Pavey is an unceasing and untiring help to us all. His medicines are very inadequate, and the reason for this must be shown hereafter. He is still under arrest. He chops ice and helps all he can in the way of chores. In April 27, 1884, Dr. Pavey recommended changes of diet, and Greely 'found fault with the doctor as usual.' Other reflections are made on Greely, who openly disregarded dietary suggestions and confessed doing so. He says the commanding officer also disregarded all suggestions regarding the course of the expedition, although such suggestions would have insured safety."

LABOR AND CAPITAL.

NO OUTSIDE INFLUENCE ALLOWED.

BOSTON, July 26.—The seven hundred employees of J. P. Squire, the Cambridge pork packer, were presented on leaving work to night with printed notices stating that the business cannot be carried on under any uncertainty as to the faithful performance of the duties they were engaged to discharge, and dismissing them from Mr. Squire's employment in order that they may return to their places under other conditions. To a reporter Mr. Squire said he never had any objection to a man being a member of a labor organization, but that he could not have any outside interference in his business. A strike might involve a loss of $300,000 or $400,000, and he could not continue business unless his men would sign an agreement to taboo all outside influence, strikes, etc. District 39, Knights of Labor, has the matter in hand on behalf of the men, and the issue is considered a serious one in labor circles.

CABAL AGAINST POWDERLY.

CHICAGO, July 26.—It is stated here on excellent authority that a secret cabal of the Socialist element of the Knights of Labor is being formed with a view to "downing" Mr. Powderly and committing the order to a radical policy but little removed from that of the hare-brained Martin Irons. Ever since the Cleveland convention the cabal has been working in the local and district assemblies to gain the ascendancy and prepare for the meeting of the General Assembly at Richmond in October. It has been extremely difficult for those not in the inner circle to understand the origin and meaning of certain influences which have been plainly at work in the order for several weeks past, and even the disclosures of the aims and purposes of the Home club did not make everything clear or explain events elsewhere. It is now known that this movement within the order is purely Socialistic, though it is attracting to it many men who are not Socialists. The head of the cabal is J. R. Buchanan, of Denver, who was elected a member of the General Executive Board at the Cleveland Assembly. The management of the eastern end of the combination was entrusted to George E. McNeill.

RIOT BETWEEN ITALIANS AND HUNGARIANS.

SHERANBOAH, Pa., July 26.—A serious riot broke out between gangs of Italian and Hungarian laborers on the new Pennsylvania, S. V. Railway between Delano and Hazleton this afternoon. The Italians struck for an advance in wages and undertook to compel the Hungarians to strike with them. The latter refused, and a terrific fight, in which nearly 400 men participated, followed. A train was immediately despatched to this place for police, but before they reached the scene the Italians had driven the Hungarians to the woods, and had stopped all work on the line. Several of the Hungarians are badly injured, and three of the number are reported dying.

STRIKE AT TORONTO.

TORONTO, July 26.—The laborers in the employ of a city contractor, named Jones, struck this morning for more pay. They have been receiving fifteen and seventeen cents per hour and want nineteen cents. The bricklayers sided with the men and also quit work.

ALLEGED SUICIDE.

NEWHAVEN, Conn., July 27.—At the inquest held at Morris, on the body of Lockwood, the murderer of Mattie Randall, the jury returned a verdict of suicide. Notwithstanding the verdict there are many who believe Lockwood came to his death by the hands of persons unknown. A DIABOLICAL CRIME FRUSTRATED.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP A STEAMER WITH A FLEASURE PARTY—NARROW ESCAPE OF THE FUTURE EMPEROR OF BRAZIL.

NEW YORK, July 27.—It is said an attempt was made last evening to blow up the steamer "Sylvan Stream," which had on board Dom Augusto Leopoldo, Prince of Brazil, the commandant and officers of the Brazilian warship "Barrosa", Consul-General Mendonca, and other attaches of the Brazilian legation. The party, with other guests, had been invited by the officers of the Sea Beach Railway Company to take a trip to Coney Island and see the sights at the West end. Yesterday morning Manager A. H. Maw, of the Seabeach Company, received a threatening letter signed by order of the Social Revenge Com. A special boat left the foot of Whitehall street at 6.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon with the Brazilian flag floating at the peak. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the party until their return. The guests had been safely transferred to the boat at Bay Ridge and were seated on the upper deck enjoying themselves when Coroner Messenger, who was seated in the cabin, noticed a faint odor of sulphur. Suddenly there was heard a fizzing sound from beneath a bench on the starboard side of the cabin, directly over the engine. At the same time a little fountain of sparks was thrown for a distance of two or three feet. Coroner Messenger rushed from the cabin, exclaiming, "There's a bomb in here." At the same instant George Brown, an employee of the Company, rushed from the cabin carrying a dark object which still emitted sparks. The reporter examined the cabin carpet where the bomb is said to have been placed, and found a scorched spot six inches square in the centre of which a hole had been burned through to the floor. Prince Leopold was not informed of the peril in which his life was placed until he was ashore and he was evidently startled, but only said, "The devil!"

TEXAS FEVER.

BOZEMAN, Mont., July 27.—Texas fever has broken out among cattle brought here from Kansas City.

A GLOOMY OUTLOOK.

ST. PAUL, July 27.—Major Fleming, Railway Commissioner for Dakota, takes a gloomy view of the crop situation in Dakota. He says the storms of Friday and Saturday in North Dakota destroyed about a million and a half bushels of wheat. He places the total yield of the territory at not more than 12,000,000 bushels. Thousands of cattle and sheep will be brought from Montana into Dakota this winter as the grass on the ranges has been entirely burnt out.

THE CROPS.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, July 27.—Reports from fifty stations along the line of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern Railway show that most small grain has been harvested, with better results than anticipated. Wheat is better in quality than it has been before in ten years. The yield is equal to last year's crop.

CANADIAN.

STARVING FISHERMEN.

SUFFERING ON THE NEWFOUNDLAND AND LABRADOR COAST.

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, July 25.—The Canadian Government will send a steamer from Quebec to the coast of Newfoundland and Labrador to carry such donations as charitably disposed persons may desire to send to the starving people there. In Quebec alone over $1,000 worth of provisions have been subscribed so far, and it is believed Ontario will do as much or more. The Newfoundland Government is in a position to give the immediate aid which the necessities of the case demand. The suffering of these starving, ill-clad fishermen has been known for over a month, but the above is the first step taken to relieve their distress. Deputation after deputation has applied for aid in vain, and the Indian guide and Government interpreter, who has just returned from Cape Chidley, the extreme north-western point of Labrador reached by sledge, gives a heartrending account of the terrible destitution and suffering which the Esquimaux and Indian farmers are enduring along the Labrador coast.

On Cape Chidley 250 souls are distributed over an area of several miles. The entire food supply gave out early in March. The seal catch was very small. As the season wore on the seal failed to come near enough to shore to be caught. The cold was intense, and many of the older people died of exposure and lack of nourishment. On June 12, when the guide left, the mercury stood at 18° below zero, and had

NEWS.

TRANSATLANTIC.

The sale of the Duc d'Aumale's study at Chantilly realized 62,500 francs. Mr. Cyrus W. Field has gained his action for libel against Mr. James Gordon Bennett and obtained a verdict for $5,000 damages and costs. A meeting was held in Paris, on Monday, in opposition to M. Pasteur. Several doctors attacked M. Pasteur's method of inoculation to prevent hydrophobia. The office of burgomaster of Strasburg, which has been vacant since 1873, has been filled by appointment thereto of Herr Bach, president of the district of Lower Alsace. The Papal delegate, Signor Rotelli, has concluded important treaties with the Porte insuring the Church great success in the East. Signor Rotelli will be promoted at the next consistory. Sir Joseph N. McKenna has written a letter to Sir Charles Dilke, in which he says that after a careful perusal of the evidence given in the Crawford divorce case, he cannot but regard it as inconclusive, contradictory and incredible. Thousands of Nationalists, with bands and banners, assembled at the railway station in Waterford, on Monday, to welcome Mr. Killen from New York, the bearer of a portrait and relics of General Thomas Francis Meagher. Sunday next has been fixed as the day for the unveiling of the portrait. Mr. Richard Power, M.P. for Waterford city, will deliver an oration on the occasion.

THE BRITISH POLITICAL SITUATION.

SALISBURY'S CABINET. LONDON, July 26.—Lord Salisbury has convened a meeting of Conservative members of the House of Commons at the Carlton Club tomorrow. Lord Hartington, it is said, will probably be selected as secretary for the colonies. There are rumors of a hitch in the forming of the new cabinet on account of the conflicting claims of two leading ministers of the last Conservative Government. LORD CHARLES BERESFORD AS IRISH SECRETARY. NEW YORK, July 25.—Mr. Justin McCarthy's weekly letter has the following:—"There is some talk of Lord Charles Beresford, the fighting sailor of the Nile and the Soudan, for Irish secretary. It is hardly serious, I should think, and yet I don't know where they could find a better man for the position, in which, under the present circumstances, no genius and no statesmanship could bear fruit. For myself, I would rather see Beresford in office as Irish secretary than one of the regular dead beat politicians. Beresford is a gallant and dashing sailor. He is an Irishman who never denies his country, and is popular among all men. He never patronized a man in all his life, and would just as warmly shake hands with an Irish peasant as with an Irish peer. He does not care three straws about politics, and does not know enough about Dublin Castle traditions to hold them in the slightest reverence. Of course, he is not a man of any political ability or experience whatever in an attempt to govern Ireland on Tory principles. We shall never again in Ireland take a Chief Secretary seriously unless we know that he is commissioned to prepare a scheme for home rule. "Send us your clever men, your statesmen," such would be my advice to Lord Salisbury, "when you have made up your mind to do that, but if you are not ready for that just at this moment send us some jolly good fellow, who, as Mrs. Bertram in 'Guy Mannering,' says of the old-fashioned collector of excise, will sing his song and take his drink and draw his salary, and give no trouble to himself or anybody else. Lord Charles Beresford would do quite well."

THE TYREE CROFTERS IN ARMS.

LONDON, July 26.—The crofters of Tyree Island are arming to resist the military. The smiths are forging spears; the women are engaged in piling up stones ready for use, and all available firearms have been loaded.

NATURALIZATION OF TURKISH SUBJECTS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—The Porte has issued a circular to the governments of the various provinces, instructing them to enforce the law which stipulates that the naturalization of Turkish subjects abroad shall not be recognized. The governors are requested, in the event of the return to Turkey of the class referred to, to continue to treat them as Turkish subjects, and not permit consular intervention in their cases. The issuance of the circular at this time is mainly directed against the numerous Armenians returning from the United States as naturalized citizens of that country. The American consulate has referred the matter to Washington.

GREAT RIOTS IN AMSTERDAM CAUSED BY THE PROHIBITION OF A BRUTAL SPORT.

AMSTERDAM, July 26.—A serious conflict took place here, yesterday, between the populace and the police and troops, arising from the prohibition of a popular sport on Sunday. The disorders were renewed to-night, when the troops fired into the crowd. The rioters are erecting barricades. It is reported that ten persons have been killed and many wounded. The Socialists are fomenting the disorders. The sport, the prohibition of which led to the trouble, is the killing of eels attached to a cord stretched across the canal, a degrading sport popular among the lower classes.

FRANCE AND THE NEW HEBRIDES.

France denies absolutely that she has any intention of annexing the New Hebrides and affirms her intention of negotiating with England for the joint maintenance of order in the island. Lord Rosebery, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has informed M. Waddington, the French ambassador, that Australia is opposed to France's suggested arrangement, and that therefore England will not consent to alter the existing agreement, thus compelling France to respect the independence of the New Hebrides.

THE LONDONDERRY RIOTS.

LONDON, July 26.—The Government declines to institute an enquiry into the conduct of the police on the occasion of the recent election in Londonderry. The Viceroy's order summoning the inhabitants of Londonderry to deliver up their arms and ammunition before to-day has been disregarded.

AMERICAN.

A PRIEST'S MARRIAGE. NEW YORK, July 26.—The Rev. William J. Sherman, an assistant pastor of the Church of the Visitation, in Red Hook, South Brooklyn, went away on a three weeks' vacation a month ago. When his vacation expired he did not return. His continued absence and the belief among his friends that he has married Miss Tillie McCoy, of No. 12 Douglass street, have given rise to the rumor that he does not intend to return. It is said that he has taken his wife to Boston, where he expects to obtain employment as a clerk for the Intercolonial Steamship Company. Father Sherman is 27 years of age. He was ordained priest four years ago, after he had unsuccessfully tried to induce Miss McCoy to marry him.

CANADIAN.

General Sir Fred. Middleton has returned to his official duties in Ottawa. As a consequence of the Quebec provincial rifle matches being this year thrown open to the entire Canadian militia, a much larger number of Ottawa riflemen than usual intend taking part in the competition.

OTTAWA.

WHEN THE CITY COUNCIL advertised for applications for the position of commissioner of works and health at $6,000 a year, a pledge was given that the names of unsuccessful applicants would not be divulged. By some means the Globe procured a list of applicants and published it, and at least one of the applicants has written the Mayor complaining bitterly of the breach of faith. The matter was brought up in Council on Monday night, and a resolution passed empowering the Mayor to hold an investigation with the object of finding who supplied the Globe with the list. The Mayor, in commenting upon the matter, said if the guilty party were an officer of the corporation he should be severely dealt with, and if an alderman, he ought at once to resign.

MAYOR HOWLAND has written to Ottawa for full particulars regarding the sufferings of the fishermen on the Labrador coast, and asking if the Government intended to send a vessel with supplies for their relief. He thinks Toronto is generous enough to load a vessel with supplies if necessary. THE RETURN MATCH between the Hamilton and Toronto Rifle Associations took place on Wednesday, ten men a side. Snider rifles, 200, 500 and 600 yards. Hamilton won by 54 points. Hamilton, 786; Toronto, 732.

CRIMES AND ACCIDENTS.

A MANIAC COOK. NEW YORK, July 26.—The schooner "Anne Carle" reports that she fell in with the schooner "Nellie C. Paine," of Boston, off Fenwick's Island, on Saturday. The crew reported that the cook, who was crazy, had cut the captain's throat. The "Paine" when last seen was heading for Delaware breakwater. LYNCH LAW. Waco, Tex., July 26.—Advices from Comanche county state that a mob hanged a negro boy who outraged and murdered Mrs. Stephens. The mob intended to burn him alive, but the mother of the murdered woman pleaded with them for the less barbarous punishment. AN OLD STORY RE-TOLD. LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 26.—C. D. McKenzie, book-keeper for the Ashland Coal and Iron railway, at Ashland, is missing. He has written saying that he is short in his accounts $18,000. He is supposed to be in Canada. A LOVER'S DREADFUL DEEDS. PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 26.—Thomas Richardson, of Bowenville, became angered because his sweetheart, Sarah A. Bishop, of Fall River, discarded him. Last night at 11.30, at the grove in the Fall River, where Miss Bishop was out walking with Wm. K. Russell, he shot the girl in the left wrist. Mr. Russell in the left hand and neck fatally, and Jesse Siddons, who interfered in the head. He then attempted to shoot Officer Murphy, and shot himself in the hand. Richardson was locked up. Mr. Siddons is dangerously wounded.

KILLED BY A DRUGGIST'S ERROR.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 26.—This morning Mrs. Andre Barroli, an Italian woman, sent her son to J. A. Bartlett's drug store for ten cents worth of cream of tartar and the same amount of sugar of milk. The woman mixed the drugs and administered a portion to her three sick children and took a quantity herself. Instead of sugar of milk the druggist gave the lad arsenic, and to-night the mother is dead and the three children are not expected to recover. The druggist is crazed with grief.

A POSTAL TRICK.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Col. W. H. Bolton, chief of the division for handling second-class matter at the Chicago post-office, was arrested to-day, charged with the embezzlement of public funds by means of false returns. The inspectors claim to have traced a shortage of $4,600 from November, 1884, to November, 1885, and intimate that the total shortage will be from $10,000 to $50,000.

RUNNING DOWN A MURDERER.

HIS BODY FOUND HANGING TO A TREE—INTENSE EXCITEMENT IN A CONNECTICUT TOWN. NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 26.—All day Saturday and all Saturday night crowds of men and boys slept in the woods or scoured around in search of Lockwood, who abused and murdered Hattie Randall, the daughter of a farmer in the town of Morris. Among them was the young farmer to whom she was to be married. The excitement was unprecedented. The whole country was roused. Fifty men came over from Plume & Atwood's shop in Thornton, and 100 more came over with crowds of men from Watertown, Tarrytown, Bethlehem and Litchfield, making altogether a motley array of 1,500 men, armed with guns, pistols, swords, and in fact every conceivable variety of weapon. They brought their food with them and the farmer's house was turned into a storehouse. This morning the crowd started through the patch of woods that have been vainly searched for the past three days to find Lockwood. The boys were in the men's way, so they were sent back, but in the skirmishing a round on the side of where the largest number of searchers were, three of them suddenly came upon Lockwood. He hung from a rotten limb of a small chestnut tree, strung up by a rope, which had been stolen from Johnston's barn with a pair of food the day before. As soon as the boys saw him they set up a shout as if by magic, and of one common accord the whole 1,500 men converged to the place where the murderer hung. The body was cut down and was carried out into a big field. When the 1,500 man hunters had satiated themselves with gazing at the body it was carried into a barn and the rope, which was tied in a knot under the left ear, was seized upon by relic hunters. Whether Lockwood took his own life, or whether he was saved the trouble of tying the knot, is a mooted question.

TAKING A PRESCRIPTION.

Some years ago, at a time when cholera had poisoned the air, a gentleman of wealth, standing and intelligence, from one of the Southern or Middle States, while temporarily sojourning in Boston, felt certain "premonitory symptoms," that were rather alarming, all things considered. So he inquired of the hotel keeper where he could find a good physician. "One of your best," he said, with an emphasis in his tones that showed how important was the matter in his eyes. "Dr. Knox stands at the head of his profession in our city," returned the hotel-keeper. "You may safely trust yourself in his hands."

"Thank you. I will call upon him immediately," said the gentleman and away he went. The doctor, fortunately, as the gentleman mentally acknowledged, was in his office. The latter, after introducing himself, stated his case with some concern of manner; when the doctor felt his pulse, looked at his tongue, and made sundry professional inquiries. "Your system is slightly disturbed," remarked the doctor, after fully ascertaining the condition of his patient, "but I'll give you a prescription that will bring you all right again in less than twenty-four hours."

And so he took out his pencil and wrote a brief prescription. "How much am I indebted Doctor?" inquired the gentleman, as he slipped the little piece of paper into his vest pocket. "Five dollars for the consultation and prescription," replied the Doctor, bowing. "Cheap enough, if I am saved from an attack of cholera," said the patient as he drew forth his pocket-book and abstracted from its folds the required fee. He then returned to the hotel, and going to one of the clerks, or bar-keeper, in the office, he said to him: "I wish you would send out and get me this prescription."

"Prescription! Why Mr.—, are you sick?" returned the bar-keeper. "I'm not very well," was answered. "What's the matter?" "Symptoms of the prevailing epidemic." "Oh! Ah! And you've been to see the Doctor?" "Yes." "Who?" "Dr. Knox." The bar-keeper shrugged his shoulders as he replied: "A good physician. None better. That we all acknowledge. But, if you'll let me prescribe for you, I'll put you all straight in double-quick time."

"Well, what will you prescribe, Andy?" said the gentleman. "I'll prescribe this." And, as he spoke, he drew from under the counter a bottle labelled, "Mrs. —'s Cordial." "Take a glass of that and you can throw your Doctor's prescription into the fire." "You speak confidently, Andy?" "I do, for I know its virtue."

The gentleman, who had in his hand a prescription for which he had paid five dollars to one of the most skillful and judicious physicians in New England, strange as it may seem, listened to this bar-keeper, and in the end actually destroyed the prescription, and poured down his throat a glass of "Mrs. —'s Cordial."

It is no matter of surprise, that ere ten o'clock in the evening, the gentleman's premonitory symptoms, which had experienced a temporary abatement, assumed a more alarming character. And now, instead of going to, he was obliged to send for a physician. Dr. Knox whom he had consulted, was called in, and immediately recognized his patient of the morning. "I'm sorry to find you worse," said he "I did not in the least doubt the efficacy of the remedy I gave you. But, have you taken the prescription?"

"Wh—wh—why no, Doctor," stammered the half-ashamed patient. "I confess I did not. I took something else." "Something else. What was it?" "I thought a glass of Mrs. —'s Cordial would answer just as well." "You did! and, pray, who prescribed this for you?" said the Doctor, moving his chair instinctively from his patient and speaking in a rather excited tone of voice. "No one prescribed it. I took it on the recommendation of the bar-keeper down-stairs, who said he knew it would cure me."

"And you had my prescription in your pocket at the same time! The prescription of a regular physician of twenty-five years practice, set aside for a quack nostrum, recommended by a bar-keeper! A fine comment to common sense and the profession, truly! My friend, if I must speak out plainly, you deserve to die—and I should not much wonder if you got your desert. Good evening."

"tor," said the patient, imploringly. "I am sick, and what you say can only have the effect to make me worse. I am already sufficiently punished for my folly. Prescribe for me once more, and be assured that I will not again play the fool."

Dr. Knox's professional indignation had pretty well burned out by this time; so he took up the case again, and once more gave a prescription. In a couple of days the gentleman was quite well again; but that Mrs. —'s Cordial cost him twenty dollars. He is now a little wiser than he was before; and is very careful whose prescriptions he takes. It would be better for the health of the entire community if every individual would be as careful in the same matter as he is now. Those who are sick should, above all things, shun advertised nostrums, in the sale of which the manufacturers and vendors are interested. Often testimonials as to their efficacy are mere forgeries. Health is too vital a thing to be risked in such a way.—Laws Of Life.

BARBED WIRE FENCING.

(To the Editor of the Witness.) SIR,—Seeing you invite expressions of opinion as to the danger or otherwise of using barb wire fencing, you will allow me to state that my experience is that such makes a decidedly dangerous fence. I had a valuable colt in one of my fields at pasture on Tuesday last, and on my mar going into this field, which is barb wired, he noticed blood upon the front foot of my colt, which on examination proved to be a deep cut at the bottom of the foot extending some 2 1/2 inches in depth and nearly five inches in length, almost severing the hoof from the leg. On examination of the fence I was soon convinced of the danger by observing that the animal had drawn his foot some distance along the fence in an effort to extricate the same, and of course left heavy blood marks upon the wire. I may also mention that an exactly similar accident occurred to one of my neighbor's horses last year, and I can only reasonably suppose that many such accidents do occur without reaching your ears. In conclusion I can only ask your correspondent "J. Henry Gotsche" to refrain from crying "safe" until he is out of the woods. MATTHEW O'NEA.

Howick, P. Q. P. S.—We can prove at least six cases of such accidents in this neighborhood. M. O.

SCOTT ACT VIOLATORS.

On Friday last a number of our unlicensed victuallers were brought up before Police Magistrate Lowes at the council chamber here to answer charges of violation of the Scott Act. Quite a number of witnesses were examined on the sale of buttermilk, and at the close Messrs. Coyne and Campbell were asked to contribute $50 each and costs. The case against Mr. Cummings was adjourned until Tuesday of this week, and the one against McQuillan was dismissed for lack of evidence. The law is not going to be a dead letter in Mt. Forest, it appears, if the friends of the Act can help it.—Mt. Forest Index, July 20, 1886.

FRED. PARKER'S WHALING CRUISE.

BY FRANK H. CONVERSE.

Now if Fred had followed the impulses of his better nature just at that moment, they would have led him straight to the Boston and Maine depot, and thence home. But he hesitated a moment or two too long, and he who hesitates to do what he knows undeniably to be right is pretty certain to be lost in the tangles of wrong-doing. He elbowed his way through the hurrying throng with an astonished sense of the world's being considerably larger than he had ever dreamed, undecided in purpose, unsettled in action. Finally he made up his mind to find some quiet, respectable hotel, and "sleep on it," as he expressed it. "It would be acting a coward's part," he thought to himself, "to give up all my anticipations for one misadventure." A policeman directed him to the "Ocean House" close by, a fine semi-nautical hotel, frequented particularly by the captains and mates of the smaller vessels which lay thickly clustered along the wharves in sight of the Ocean House windows. Having secured a room and had his supper, he entered the little reading-room, where half a dozen of the better class of seafaring men were smoking and chatting.

"Going to ship, my lad?" The questioner was a tall, full-bearded man, who cut his words crisply short, and wore a slouch hat well down over his restless black eyes, which somehow would never look directly into your own. He was nervously chewing the end of an unlighted cigar, and with his heels on the guard around the stove, he had been regarding Fred with a keen look for several moments.

"I—I—had some thoughts of it," stammered the boy, a little startled at being addressed by a stranger, who in his own mind he decided was the very counterpart of the gentlemanly pirate captain in "Bold Benard, or A Pirate Against His Will."

"Well," said the stranger, after a moment's silence, "look here. I want a smart, gentlemanly young fellow to make up my complement of a crew. My vessel, the 'Bonita,' lies at the end of T wharf, and sails at the four o'clock ebb to-morrow afternoon for the Caribbean Sea. Nice voyage, good weather, easy times, and a share in the trip. Come aboard to-morrow and look at her. Smoke? No? Glad it—bad habit—especially for a young man—shall look for you early—good night." And telling the delighted boy to inquire on board for "Cap'n Clark," the stranger betook himself from the room before Fred could ask the question on his tongue's end as to the nature of the voyage.

But all the same, Fred was delighted. What a pleasant yet businesslike man, he thought. Probably the vessel was a general trader, and visions of coral strands and waving palms danced before his eyes. The next morning, bright and early, he was on board the "Bonita," which even to Fred's unaccustomed eye was certainly a very nice-looking vessel. Her wedgelike bows, clean run, and tapering spars brought to mind the swift-sailing craft in which Jack Runaway met with many of his wonderful adventures. Two long, sharp boats were turned bottom-up on the after-hatch. Vaguely Fred wondered what might be beneath them. Of course she was neither slaver nor privateer—those things were past, but might she not be a smuggler? He was led to this train of thought by the evasive answers of the captain and Mr. Marline, the mate, as to the purport of the voyage.

"Well," said the former, with a little hesitation, "we're cruising the most of the time."

"Perchance," ventured Fred unconsciously, imitating the grandiose style of language affected by the speakers of fiction, "the gallant craft seeks some undiscovered isle."

"You're not far out of the way," answered Mr. Marline, with a sly look at Captain Clark, and Fred then made up his mind, that in all probability, the vessel was fitted out to seek for the buried treasure of former freebooters in the Spanish Main, whereby this enforced secrecy. There was a delightful sense of mystery about the whole thing, and before he parted with Captain Clark, Fred went before the Commissioner and signed certain shipping-papers, the heading of which the astute commander contrived to keep concealed.

"You won't need much in the clothing line," said kind Captain Clark. "I always carry a 'slopchest' with everything useful in it."

At which Fred thanked him with such an excess of gratitude that he failed to see the expression of Mr. Marline's face, which was singularly contorted, as though he had derisively thrust his tongue into his cheek. And blessing his lucky stars that his nautical lines had fallen in such pleasant places, and under the leadership of such an open-hearted commander, Fred made his purchases.

He appeared on deck after dinner, in a navy-blue shirt, eruptive with stars and anchors worked thereon in white braid, a pair of white-ducked pants, low shoes, and a narrow-brimmed glazed hat—a most seasonable garb for rounding Captain Hatters in the winter-time. At the suggestion of the outfitter, he had also purchased a lantern and umbrella.

"None of the other fellows will be likely to think of these little comforts," said the clothier gravely, rubbing his hands softly together, "and you will find them invaluable in dark or stormy weather."

And in the hour before the crew came on board, I am glad to say Fred sat himself down in the fore-cabin and wrote the following letter home:

"ON BOARD THE BONITA, Dec. 187.—"DEAR UNCLE AND AUNT.

"I take My Pen in hand to tell you that I Am well and happy and wish you the same. I am sorry if you feel bad at my running away and hope you will forgive me but it was my Fate my Destiny. I am on board of a noble craft whose destination I am not permitted to reveal as yet not being quite sure myself. But I know enough to say that she is a buty of 170

Tons big with two splendid boats each side and Another astern. And the captain is a Noble heartid Being as Brave as he is noble. He says I am jest the Kind of Stuff that officers are maid of. And he will Exert Himself to Advance me the First Opportunity. We are to croose among the flans of the caribion sea where the galant freebooters made their Rendivooos. Perhaps we shal find some Trase of Their Spoil. I Dare say No More. Tel cousin frank the vessel carrys ten men and officers besides, two boats crews I heard them say. There is a Brick oven blit up in front of the first Mast with boylers on top wich the Mato tels me is where the cook bakes the beens and Brown bred and inlyun pudings for the Men who wash their close in the boylers. He says we must not expek pure silver forks and ivry handle knifes this voyage and must be content with plated ware. But I look for som hard ship and Toted him so. Giv my love to all inquiring frens. Perhaps the Mere boy at whom a hartless world has lafed will Return to them with Honor And reknoun.

"Good-by dear uncle and aunt we sail in about an hower. God bless you.

"From Your nephew FRED."

"Well," I said with dismay, as I heard the letter read, "Fred has done it now."

"Done what?" asked Mr. and Mrs. Green in a breath.

"Why," I answered, "the boy has been fooled into shipping into a Provincetown whaling schooner, that's all, and he has no more idea of what lies before him, than—"

But finding no comparison strong enough, I cut my speech short. I have a bitter spite against Provincetown whalers. I once made a voyage in one myself.

"But I don't understand," said Mr. Green, with a perplexed look, "why they should show Fred—a youngster who has never been on salt water—so much favor."

"Wait till they get him at sea," was my answer. "But the discipline will after all be good for him," I added, "and if he doesn't return with a higher estimate of quiet country life than ever before, then I am a false prophet."

I went on to explain, that of late years men were rather shy of shipping in this class of vessel; that seldom or never does a genuine sailor get a berth on board one. They prefer vastly to break in green hands. One reason is, that a sailor will invariably run away the first chance he gets, and is pretty sure of shipping again, while a green hand has no such assurance in the event of desertion. A sailor knows the danger in pulling on an infuriated whale, and easily loses his head. A green hand is far more likely to keep up to his work through the excitement of the occasion, and realizes but comparatively little of the real peril. There is little sailorizing done on board these vessels, and men easily learn to set or take in fore and aft sails, steer a trick at the wheel, stand a lookout aloft, and pull a strong oar in the boat.

I have explained this at some length, as the modus operandi of securing green hands in preference to sailors, and the reasons therefor are not generally understood. Which done, let us return to our sailor lad, who introduced to sea life and surroundings is best reserved for another chapter.

TUESDAY, JULY 27, 1886.

BRIBES seem to fly thick. A few days ago the Gazette said a bribe was offered it; now the Secretary of State says a bribe was offered him.

MR. CHAPLEAU'S IDEAS OF HONOR are characteristic. He says that he was bribed with premierships and numerous other things, but especially with gold, to join the Nationalist party.

MR. CHAPLEAU'S CONDEMNATION of the briber at St. Lambert the other day was rich. He told the story of how Mr. Senecal had determined to bribe Mr. Mercier and, according to the story, Mr. Chapleau himself was a consenting party to the operation, an accessory before the fact, virtually a briber, yet he condemned Mr. Prefontaine whom he absolved from all charges of having been bribed, but whom he held was guilty of bribing others because he was the medium of transmitting the bribe.

THE CITY IS GAY to-day with flags and other signs of rejoicing over the visit of a prince of the Church of Rome, the first Canadian priest raised to the dignity of Cardinal Archbishop. Of course Roman Catholics act consistently in honoring the appointee of the Pope to this regal dignity, but do our aldermen act consistently with their duty to a mixed public (a goodly portion of which is not Roman Catholic) in voting public money to honor the Cardinal? We do not remember of any public expenditures in rejoicing when the two great Presbyterian denominations became one at an Assembly held in this city a number of years ago.

MR. JUSTIN MCCARTHY is of the opinion that if Lord Salisbury is determined to grant no reforms in the government of Ireland, but is going to rule it according to old methods, no better man than Lord Charles Beresford can be got to fulfil the onerous duties of Chief Secretary for Ireland.

WILL THE THOUGHT that two men are lying seriously injured, one of them at the point of death, trouble the consciences of those who are responsible for the preparations which were made for the reception of Cardinal Taschereau, to-day, or will it mar the festivities of the day in any degree for that Prince of the Church? We trust that it will.

IT IS DOUBTFUL whether there is any better way of obtaining publicity for facts than that of allowing the world to know that you have determined upon strict secrecy. It is the glory of a nineteenth century newspaper to bring hidden things to light if the general public are served thereby.

CARDINAL TASCHEREAU.

of such facts, obtained through a breach of faith somewhere, and annoyance was caused to those whose name were published.

THE YOUNG LIBERALS AND PROHIBITION.

SOME Canadian journals which are warmly attached to the temperance cause and which are valued supporters of prohibition, have found fault with the Young Liberals of the Dominion, who met in convention in Montreal recently, because of alleged lukewarmness toward what is undoubtedly the gravest political issue now before the country.

Resolved—That the question of the total suppression of the liquor traffic be submitted to a special vote of the people.

Resolved—That the question of the adoption of the Canada Temperance Act be left to the constituencies, as at present, and that where the Temperance Act has been approved of by popular vote the Government should provide proper machinery to enforce it.

The second of these two resolutions was proposed as an amendment to the first resolution by the more timid and perhaps half-hearted among those professedly in favor of temperance, but the out-and-out supporters of Prohibition took the ground that they wanted to see both resolutions carried because the second declared in favor of the Government providing machinery to enforce the Scott Act in the counties where it had already passed, which was urgently necessary; and the first provided for a plebiscite which would, it was believed, show that the majority of the people of the Dominion, as a whole, were in favor of prohibition. They therefore proposed that the main motion and the amendment be made separate resolutions, and that both be passed. Those who were opposed to temperance fought against the proposal, but after a long discussion it was carried by a large majority. The proposers and supporters of these resolutions were earnest prohibitionists, and in moving that the question be submitted to a popular vote of the people of the whole Dominion, and that the Scott Act be enforced by the Government, they supported their proposals in prohibition speeches, and were hotly opposed by those in favor of the liquor traffic.

THE VISITING CARDINAL.

AN OUTLINE BIOGRAPHY OF CARDINAL TASCHEREAU.

CARDINAL Taschereau, who has to-day conferred the pallium upon the Archbishop of Montreal, was born at Ste. Marie de la Beauce, on the 17th of February, 1820. His father was the Hon. Thos. Taschereau, Legislative Councillor, and his mother, previous to her marriage, was Miss Marie Panet. The Cardinal is brother of the Hon. Justice Taschereau, late of the Supreme Court, and uncle to the Hon. Justices Henri T. and Elzear Taschereau.

In 1847, having been sent to the Grosse Ile mission, he, like most of the previous missionaries, succumbed to the ship fever. After having held several offices in the Seminary of Quebec, he went to Rome in 1854 to submit to the Holy See the decrees of the Second Council of Quebec, and to receive his degree as Doctor in Canon Law. He returned in 1856, and in 1860 was appointed rector of Laval University. In 1862 he was made Vicar-General of the diocese, and in 1869 accompanied Mgr. Baillargeon to the Vatican Council as a theologian.

In 1874, accompanied by the Rev. Abbé Hamel, rector of Laval University, he again visited Rome. He was president of the Sixth Quebec Council in 1878; again in 1883 he visited Rome, and in 1886 he has been considered worthy of the high distinction of being the first Canadian cardinal. His Eminence is the sixteenth bishop of Quebec. He has taken a prominent part in the ecclesiastical difficulties of the Province, and is looked upon as belonging to the more liberal section of the church.

THE NEW FIRE MAINS.

TWO shipments of the twenty-four inch pipes to be used for the extension of the water system in the suburban districts, and in the improved system in the business part of the city, have been received. The laying of the pipes will be begun immediately, and carried on with vigor. Yesterday workmen were busily engaged carting the huge pipes from the steamer to St. James street and Place d'Armes. These mains are intended for fire purposes only.

FIRE IN A STABLE.

About ten o'clock last night an alarm from Box 13 brought the Central Division of the Fire Brigade to a burning stable on Craig street, belonging to Mr. M. Parent. The horses in the stable were uninjured. The fire originated in the loft. The damage is estimated at $300, fully covered by insurance in the Royal Canadian.

A CAPABLE CONSTABLE.

Constable Cunningham, of the Harbor Police at Chateauguay, on Saturday, with a small rod and line, captured a huge maskinonge weighing twenty-five pounds. One hundred pounds represented his day's work.

PRINCE OF THE CHURCH.

A CARDINAL'S WELCOME TO MONTREAL.

A GREAT EVENT FOR VILLE MARIE—THE ARRIVAL OF CARDINAL TASCHEREAU THIS MORNING—THE RECEPTION AT THE WHARF—THE ADDRESSES AND DECORATIONS.

THE old town of Ville Marie has seen many strange sights in its time, but never before has it witnessed the arrival of a Canadian Cardinal. The 27th of July, 1886, will be memorable in future years as the occasion of the visit of the first Canadian prince of the Church, and no matter how widely we may differ in opinion as to the value of the title, nobody will deny the honor which is attached to it by those most concerned, or belittle the enthusiasm of the reception with which the distinguished prelate was to-day received by our Roman Catholic fellow-citizens.

The morning of the Cardinal's visit broke dark and lowering, and as the steamer "Montreal" entered the port at an early hour, this morning, a heavy rain was falling and everything presaged a wet day. From an early hour people commenced to wend their way toward the wharf, and it could easily be seen that the residents of the ancient Ville Marie had donned their holiday attire and made ready for a gala day.

His Eminence and the clergy who accompanied him were early astir, and soon after their arrival were joined by Archbishop Fabre and numerous clergy of the diocese, besides a large number of prominent citizens. His Eminence and Archbishop Fabre received an immense number of visitors in the steamer's saloon, which was crowded to overflowing. A few minutes before nine o'clock, Ald. Grenier, the Acting Mayor, accompanied by Mr. A. Gosselin, the Acting City Clerk, and the members of the City Council arrived, and were at once presented to the Cardinal. The word was then given to land. The Papal Zouaves formed a double line from the steamer to the dais, the members of the City Council lined the carpeted passage leading up to the dais, while Chief Paradis and his bodyguard of police kept back the immense crowd that was gathering upon the wharf and threatening to rush upon the dais.

To His Eminence Monsignor Elzear Alexandre Taschereau, Archbishop of Quebec, Cardinal of the Holy Roman Church:—

YOUR Eminence.—The citizens of Montreal respectfully tender their homage, and wish to express their gratitude and their happiness for this visit of Your Eminence. The glorious and supreme Pontiff, His Holiness Leo XIII., in appointing Your Eminence to the high dignity of a prince of the Church, while rewarding you for an already long episcopal career and full of meritorious deeds, has given us another proof of his solicitude for a country whose importance, both in religious and many other respects, is increasing rapidly.

The splendor that this rare distinction is sure to spread over the church of Quebec, the great mother of so many other churches, unites in this instance with that of the new dignity of which you bring with you the insignia to be conferred upon the venerated pastor of this diocese. So many favors simultaneously bestowed on our country, both in your own person and in that of your worthy co-workers, the Archbishops of Montreal and Ottawa, should incite us to render our thanks to Heaven and to pray fervently for the conservation and propagation of the faith and of the virtues that surround it, the sole and true sources of greatness and prosperity for the people.

Cardinal Taschereau remained standing and listened most attentively during the reading of the addresses. When they were concluded he briefly replied. He asked the Acting Mayor to convey to the citizens of Montreal his warm thanks for their hearty reception. The city of Montreal occupied a grand place in the history of our country. It was founded by a religious association which had done great good for the country at large. The first days of Montreal were marked by heroism in which the people had shown their devotion to the faith, and this demonstration showed how deeply they were attached to the Supreme Pontiff.

During the Cardinal's reply the utmost silence prevailed, and the scene at this point was most impressive. From the lofty dais a splendid view could be obtained of the whole surrounding scene. The whole length of the revetment wall in front of the wharf was one dense mass of humanity; Jacques Cartier square was crowded with a surging mass eagerly pushing forward to command a better view, and the police had some difficulty in keeping the crowd back. From Joe Vincent's and the adjacent wharves rose saluting shouts to greet the prelate and the visitors as they stepped from the dais to the carriages in waiting. His Eminence was conducted to a handsome carriage drawn by four fine grays, in which he took his seat, accompanied by Archbishop Fabre, Mgr. O'Brien and Acting-Mayor Grenier.

Notre Dame street, through which the procession passed on its way to the church, was a black mass of spectators, both sides of the street being lined, while nearly every window was filled by sight-seers.

Sir,—This morning I found three boys on the street in a most pitiable condition, having been stowaways on board the SS. "Thames" from Liverpool.

ARCHBISHOP FABRE.

THE NEW ARCHBISHOP.

MONSIEUR FABRE AND HIS CAREER. Edouard Charles Fabre was born in Montreal on the 28th of February, 1827, and is thus not yet sixty years of age.

From his early childhood young Fabre gave marked signs of piety and of a genial and mild disposition. At the age of nine years his parents placed him at the St. Hyacinthe College, where he had among other classmates, Hon. Senator Armand and Hon. Charles Laberge.

His first mission was at Sorel, where he was given the office of vicar. In 1852 he became parish priest of Pointe Claire, and two years later was called back to the city, where Bishop Bourget made him a canon of the Cathedral.

His time and attention were more especially devoted to the class of educated young men, and nearly all the present generation of our Catholic citizens in professional or commercial pursuits were married by him.

In 1869 Canon Fabre went back to Rome to attend the Vatican Council. Shortly after his return he was appointed as coadjutor of Bishop Bourget, and was consecrated in the Jesuits' church, on the 1st of May, 1873.

Mgr. Fabre has two brothers and two sisters, Hon. Senator Fabre, Canadian Commissioner in Paris; Mr. Gustave Fabre, hardware merchant, in this city; Lady Cartier, who resides at Cannes, France; and Mrs. L. J. A. Survever, of this city.

MADE AN ARCHBISHOP.

BISHOP FABRE RECEIVES THE PALLIUM.

AN IMMENSE CONGREGATION IN NOTRE DAME—TWENTY-THREE BISHOPS IN ATTENDANCE—THE PROCESSION TO THE CHURCH—A SOLEMN CEREMONIAL PERFORMED BY THE NEW CARDINAL—BISHOP MAES DRAWS A HISTORICAL PANORAMA.

The Cardinal, the bishops and their suite, having alighted from their carriages in the yard of the ancient Seminary building, entered the large hall, where they put on their sacerdotal garments and robes of office. The procession then formed and proceeded to the church, the route being around Place d'Armes as already indicated. A cross bearer with two acolytes led the way; then followed several hundred priests, and next came the Cardinal, archbishops and bishops with their attendants in the following order:—

His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau; Archbishop Fabre, of Montreal; Archbishop Lynch, of Toronto; Archbishop Leroy, of New Orleans; Archbishop Gross, of Oregon; Archbishop Duhamel, of Ottawa; Bishop Detlefsen, of Burlington; Bishop McIntyre, of Charlottetown; Bishop Rodgers, of Chatham; Bishop Conroy, of Curium; Bishop Langevin, of Rimouski; Bishop Walsh, of London; Bishop O'Hara, of Scranton; Bishop Wadhams, of Ogdensburg; Bishop Mahoney, of Eudora; Bishop Moreau, of St. Hyacinthe; Bishop Racine, of Sherbrooke; Bishop Cleary, of Kingston; Bishop Carbery, of Hamilton; Bishop Lorrain, of Pontiac; Bishop Maes, of Covington; Bishop Gravel, of Nicolet; Mgr. O'Brien, apostolic delegate; Monsignor Marquis, of Nicolet. Archbishop Tasche was unable to attend, on account of a slight illness.

In the long line of priests forming the procession were noticed representatives of all the religious orders in the Dominion, including Trappists and Dominicans, with their white robes and shaven heads. As soon as the procession entered the church, the organ began to play the Papal March, and the prelates passed through the centre aisle, the novices and officers of the 65th forming an escort. All the bishops took the seats allotted to them in the sanctuary with the senior members of the clergy, and the other priests got accommodation as well as they could in different parts of the church, which was, of course, crowded to its utmost capacity. The Judges, members of the City Council, members of the House of Commons and Provincial Legislature, the Presidents and officers of the different national and benevolent societies, the Professors of Laval University, and other invited guests, occupied seats in front of the altar railing. In one of the front pews was noticed Madame Fabre, the aged mother of the new Archbishop, who seemed deeply impressed with the ceremony throughout.

When the Cardinal had taken his seat on the throne his assistants approached to clothe him with the rich and costly garments used for celebrating Pontifical High Mass. This being done, His Eminence, with mitre and crozier, and assisted by Grand Vicar Legare and the Rev. Messrs. Marois and Gagnon as Deacons of Honor, proceeded to the foot of the altar, followed by a number of acolytes and assistants in rich copes, chasubles and dalmatics. High Mass commenced; the choir, composed of about 500 voices from the choirs of the different churches, singing the "Messe du second ton harmonise" with orchestral accompaniment. At the offertory Messrs. Hudon, Cholette, Labelle and Lortie sang the anthem, "Tu es Sacerdos."

AN INTERESTING SERMON.

Mgr. Maes, Bishop of Covington, a Belgian whose fifteen years residence in America has somewhat impaired his French accent, delivered the sermon, which was considered by those present a splendid piece of eloquence. Seeing the vast multitude assembled in the large cathedral, he said that never before had his missionary heart been so rejoiced as at the sight of so large a body of men assembled together to worship and glorify the true God. He considered the diocese of Montreal as the trunk through which the sap coming from Quebec, the root of Catholicity on this side of the Atlantic, was to be distributed to all parts of North America. But in such a grand demonstration their thoughts should not be confined to the good done in one diocese only; this should be a fitting occasion to consider how God in all ages had shown the influence of His spirit upon nations. To an ordinary observer, he said, it was a patent fact that God gave to each a national vocation. There is no eternity for nations, and as they will disappear with this world, each is rewarded or punished in this life according to its fidelity in responding to its vocation. A striking example of this, he said, was to be found in the Hebrew nation, always happy and prosperous while obeying the laws of Jehovah, but cast down in shame and contempt when backsliding, and up to the present day carrying on their forehead the indelible mark of their Deicide. Again, the famous and glorious Roman nation had a mission to fulfil, and that was not to satisfy its ambition and love of glory but to prepare everything for the coming of Christ, and when this mission had been accomplished the Romans disappeared, not recognizing the new conqueror of the world.

Coming to modern nations, the preacher referred to the glorious days of Italy, when the power of the Popes enlightened it and made Rome the centre of Christian art and of civilization. But the sacrilegious hand of the house of Savoy had tarnished the jewel of papacy, and not until Italy went on her knees before the Pope, would she again become what she once was, the queen of the world in arts and religion. Again, old and strong Germany, that nation of many virtues, had been once very powerful, and the names of her heroes were both great and numerous. But Germany also had forsaken the church for a time, and now, notwithstanding the valor of a Von Moltke and the diplomacy of a Bismarck, was satisfied to throw herself at the feet of Leo XIII., who was too good to give it a paternal blessing.

And what about France? asked the Bishop. France, the land of Clovis and Charlemagne; France, the country of St. Louis and Joan of Arc; France, the Soldier of the Church; France, the queen of nations, whose policy could create empires and whose language served to bind nations in the treaties! Yes, France had done all these great things and many others, when truly Catholic and Christian, but her impiety and immorality had finally degraded her, and punishment had soon followed. Was it not an open fact that the first Prussian victory coincided with the taking away of the French flag from Civita Vecchia? To France, also, he would say: "Bow down your head in obedience to the church and you will again be great." It was while France was in all her grandeur, in the 16th century, that the Canadian branch of that then powerful tree had been planted on American soil. Canada, so far, had been faithful to her mission, and God, in His mercy, when France had become impious, detached this vigorous branch from the mother trunk to place it under the protection of Great Britain, a country which, if the signs of the times were to be relied upon, was now beginning, after a slumber of three hundred years in heresy, to awake into a resurrection. The learned preacher concluded his sermon by calling upon Montreal to increase both in Catholicity and material prosperity and to be always united with Rome; and finally wished for Mgr. Fabre the respect of his clergy and the love of his people.

BESTOWING THE PALLIUM.

As soon as Mass was over the ceremony of the giving of the Pallium took place. The Cardinal seated in the centre of the sanctuary with his back turned to the altar, the archbishop elect, in full pontificals, approached and knelt before him, there repeating the oath of office, Curé Sentenne having first read from the pulpit, in Latin and French, the papal document erecting Montreal into an archbishopric on account of its great importance.

Mgr. Fabre having taken the oath, the Cardinal put the white Pallium of sacred wool upon his shoulders, pronouncing at the same time the formula which has already been given in these columns. Immediately after, a cross bearer entered the sanctuary bearing the archiepiscopal cross, which is one of an archbishop's insignia of office, and which is carried before him in all religious ceremonies.

The Cardinal then withdrew to the left, and the new Archbishop, assisted by Grand Vicar Maréchal and the Rev. Mr. Colin, Superior of the Seminary, rose to his feet and, ascending the altar steps, gave his first benediction in his capacity of Archbishop, the vast congregation kneeling down.

Immediately after, the Cardinal and Bishops left the church in procession, and again passing round Place d'Armes, returned to the Seminary, where they left their insignia and ornaments, and then adjourned to the Cabinet de Lecture, where the banquet was served.

A DINNER WITHOUT SPEECHES.

The dinner was quite a recherché affair. There were about 400 guests present, and the menu prepared by Madame Du Perroul was excellent. At the special request of Mgr. Fabre, there were no speeches. After the banquet Cardinal Taschereau paid a short visit to the Archbishopric and then proceeded to the City Hall, with Mgr. Fabre for the levee, their carriage being escorted by the cavalcade.

THE DECORATIONS.

Considering the short space of time in which they were got up, the decorations to-day were very fine. The piece de resistance was the grand dais erected by the city on the wharf. A richly carpeted enclosed corridor led from the steamer to the top of the dais, which was richly furnished and decorated with the Papal coat-of-arms, bunting and evergreens. A handsome arch was also erected at the corner of St. Lambert's Hill and Notre Dame street, and nearly every store on the latter street displayed flags—generally the French tri-color and British ensign—with evergreens and other decorations.

The interior of the Notre Dame Church was beautifully decorated. Along the galleries hung festoons of crimson and white bunting, while upon the pillars of the Church were shields bearing the coats of arms of the Cardinal, the Archbishop and the other dioceses of the Dominion. Festoons of the Pontifical colors, yellow and white, were hung over the sanctuary, and the flags of Great Britain, France and other countries were hung over the high altar, with the Papal flag over all, while numberless banners were displayed around bunting appropriate mottoes. A superb canopy of crimson silk was erected on the gospel (left) side of the altar, on which the Cardinal took his seat. The exterior of the church was also prettily decorated with dark crimson shields and bannerets, and over the respective towers floated the British and French flags.

The interior of the City Council Chamber, where the Cardinal and Archbishop are holding a levee as we go to press this afternoon, has been beautifully decorated with flowers from the Viger Garden Conservatory, as well as flags and bunting.

A CELTIC WELCOME.

At two o'clock this afternoon a large number of our most prominent Irish-Catholic fellow-citizens assembled at the Seminary Hall for the purpose of presenting Mgr. O'Brien, the Papal Ablegate, with an address from the Irish Catholic population of Montreal. Among those present were Messrs. D. Barry, James McShane, M.P.F., Edward Murphy, H. J. Cloran, Halley, and a number of others. The following address was presented to Mgr. O'Brien:—

The Rt. Rev. Henry O'Brien, Private Chamberlain to His Holiness Leo XIII., and Papal Ablegate.

In the name of the Irish Catholic population of Montreal, we welcome Your Excellency with all the warmth and affection of our Celtic hearts to the metropolis of the Dominion of Canada.

Your fame as a distinguished prelate of the Catholic Church, and as a trusted and honored friend of the Holy Father, preceded your coming to these shores, and provoked an eager desire on the part of the faithful children of St. Patrick, scattered throughout the length and breadth of the land, to do all honor to him when the Sovereign Pontiff had selected for the high and important mission of Papal Ablegate.

But, Monsigneur, if we find deep gratification in conveying to you an expression of the esteem and admiration which we entertain for the virtues that adorn you and the services that you have rendered to the Holy See, our hearts are all the more gladdened when we consider that your attachment to the Faith has not weakened, but has fortified your devotion to the Fatherland. If the church has found a faithful servant in you, we are proud to proclaim that Ireland, also, has a true and devoted son in Your Excellency.

tions of the Irish race. Faith and Fatherland are still our motto; and our ambition is to be true to the one until death, while we serve the other until freedom and prosperity return to its shores.

Thus, Monsigneur, when you return to the Eternal City to lay at the feet of the beloved and illustrious Leo XIII. an account of your mission and of the events attending it, you will not fail to assure His Holiness of our profound and filial gratitude for the tokens of paternal love and solicitude which he has given to the Church in Canada by conferring the exalted and signal honor of the Cardinalate on one of her most eminent prelates and by creating two new archbishops in this Province.

You will also not fail to assure our Holy Father that he has no more devoted and affectionate children than the Irish exiles and their descendants who have made their homes here on the banks of the St. Lawrence.

Signed by the Presidents of the Irish National, Literary, Temperance and Benefit Societies, D. Barry, St. Patrick's Society; Edward Murphy, St. Patrick's T. A. & B. Society; P. F. McCaffrey, Catholic Young Men's Society; P. Riely, St. Ann's T. A. & B. Society; Arthur Jones, Irish Catholic Benefit Society; E. Halley, Young Irishmen's L. & B. Society; D. Macdonald, St. Bridget's T. A. & B. Society; John O'Neill, St. Gabriel T. A. & B. Society; Jer. Coffey, St. Anthony's Young Men's Society; M. Louchman, St. Ann's Young Men's Society; J. Donahue, St. Mary's Young Men's Society; E. W. Nicholson, Catholic M. B. Society; H. J. Cloran, Irish National League.

Mgr. O'Brien made a brief reply, thanking the Irish Catholics for their warm expressions of regard.

THE IRISH AND THE CARDINAL.

The various Irish Catholic congregations were represented at the ceremony this morning by a delegation from each church. Among the more prominent gentlemen composing the delegation were Messrs. James McShane, M.P.F., M. P. Ryan, James O'Brien, D. Barry, Owen M. Garvey, B. J. Coghlin, B. Tansey, ex-Ald. Kennedy, and many others. The lengthy address, which was read by the Rev. Father Dowd for the various congregations, welcomed His Eminence in warm terms, on behalf of the Irish Catholic population, and expressed their high sense of the honor which had been conferred upon the whole Church by the elevation of His Eminence. The address also referred in terms of strong disapproval to the actions of certain Catholic journals in criticising the decrees of the Church even after they had been passed upon by the Supreme Pontiff. The address was signed by Father Dowd, of St. Patrick's Parish; Father Salmon, of St. Gabriel's; Father Cattull, of St. Ann's, and Father McCarthy, of St. Anthony's. His Eminence was evidently highly pleased at the enthusiastic part which our Irish fellow-citizens took in the reception.

NOTES BY THE WAY.

Among those in the procession, this morning, were the Hon. J. A. Chapeau, Secretary of State, and Chevalier Drolet.

M. Vital Reche, an old Canadian of ninety-one years, accompanied by his daughter, has come from Rochester, N.Y., to witness the ceremony to-day. He was one of the invited guests at thirteen young Taschereaus' christenings in the Church of St. Marie le Beauce.

Judge Berthelet presented three gold pins, valued at $200, for the purpose of pinning the pallium to the Archbishop's robes.

The splendid archiepiscopal cross used this morning, is a gift to Mgr. Fabre from the Sisters of the Congregational Nunnery.

RASCALLY WHITES.

HUMAN BEASTS OF PREY FROM LACHINE VISITING THE INDIAN RESERVE.

On Friday two Indians named Joe Lazoar and Louis Hemlock were charged before Mr. McLea Walbank with being drunk on the reserve. On being asked where they got the liquor, they replied that a boy gave it to them. It appears that the plan is to give some boy money to obtain the liquor. The party from whom it is bought can then plead that he did not know the liquor was bought for an Indian. Each prisoner was fined $5 and costs, or one month's hard labor. The fines were paid.

A boy, 15, named Joe Johnston, was then charged with stealing a watch from his sister-in-law. He was found guilty and sent to the Reformatory for two years.

On Monday evening, two Indian women were found guilty of loitering on the Common on Sunday. One who does not now belong to the reserve was allowed eight days to go back to her husband on the Tuscarora reserve. The other was fined $3 and costs, and was cautioned that if caught loitering on the Common again, or out after dark unprotected, she would be sent down to the female gaol. It appears that white men are brought over to the reserve by certain parties, who pretend to have made arrangements with the Indian women for a meeting. At the trial it came out that five men crossed over from Lachine in a boat. Two of them approached the women and threatened to do them harm if they did not submit to their wishes. A policeman appeared on the scene and the men made off. One of the parties in the boat was recognized, but as he contends that he was merely hired to row the others over, and as he did not leave the boat's side, he has not been arrested. The two women, however, have sworn informations against parties unknown.

NOT ALL ACCIDENTS.

THE HOSPITAL DOCTORS BUSY—DRUNKEN BRUTES—THE EFFECT OF A ROCKET.

Yesterday afternoon a crowd of sailors were engaged in a drinking bout in Ratelle's Hotel, McGill street, when one of the revellers, named James Keating, was thrown down by his confères and kicked about the head, inflicting a large cut on the scalp and nearly severing the left ear from the head, as well as other minor injuries. The man was conveyed to the Notre Dame Hospital, and after having his wounds dressed, he was sent home. Yesterday Thomas Hayes, aged 34, living at No. 289 Lagache street, fell fifteen feet into the hold of a vessel, very badly bruising himself about the limbs, but receiving no serious injuries. He was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital.

This morning a lad named Isidore Robitoux, aged 14, from Laprairie, was letting off sky-rockets near the Custom House, in honor of the Cardinal, when one of them burst and wounded him seriously. He was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital in a cab, where it was found on examination that the right hand had been nearly all blown off, and that amputation was necessary. The right arm, thigh, leg and foot are frightfully lacerated and burnt. The boy says that some man gave him the rocket to set off, and that he did not know what it was composed of.

Yesterday a young man named Thomas Phillips, while working in Clendinning's foundry, had one of his fingers badly crushed. It was dressed at the General Hospital.

One of the seamen of the Allan SS. "Parisian," while at work on the vessel yesterday, had his arm fractured. It was set at the General Hospital.

COLONEL AND M.P. A CASE OF PISTOLS AND COFFEE—THE M.P.'S CHALLENGE.

A lively fracas took place yesterday afternoon in front of the St. Lawrence Hall, between two well-known gentlemen, one a prominent French Canadian M.P., and the other a city Lieut. Colonel of militia. Both gentlemen are of a muscular build; but, fortunately controlled themselves enough to make it lively with words alone. The dispute arose over the Chambly election; then one gentleman accused the other of abandoning the Conservatives, and the other brought a countercharge of hostility to the same great cause. The word liar was frequently used, and the dispute ended in the French-Canadian gentleman challenging the colonel to a duel. The disputants were separated at this point without having done each other any injury. The time for the duel has not yet been fixed, but the French Canadian gentleman, it is believed, has selected a well-known newspaper man as his second.

THE ANTICOSTI COMPANY

REGISTERED IN ENGLAND—A SUIT STILL PENDING FOR THE OWNERSHIP.

Most of us have read very different accounts of Anticosti's capabilities and resources. A short paragraph appears in one of London's well read papers, the Ladies' Pictorial, which was forwarded to Montreal by the last mails and reads as follows:—

A correspondent writes to ask, "Where and what is Anticosti?" Anticosti is an island about 140 miles long in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, full of game and fish, only waiting for enterprising settlers to develop its vast resources. Visitors to the Colinderies will find in the Canadian department a very interesting exhibit from this island—lobsters with claws which measure eight inches round, white-tailed eagles, a saddle-back gull, dogs and bears, specimens of the various woods, to say nothing of sealkins and splendid samples of vegetables and fruit grown there. The climate is said to be delightful, as the cold is tempered by the sea. A young friend of mine, who is very delicate, has spent the winter most pleasantly and comfortably there. Another gentleman I know writes home to say he would rather sleep in the open air there, under two blankets in winter than try the same experiment in the Highlands in summer. The island was purchased about two years since by Mr. F. W. Stockwell, of Toronto, and Mr. T. G. Stockwell, of Bath, who have already erected twelve telegraph stations on the island, and connected it with the mainland by the electric wire. The rivers are full of salmon and fish of all kinds. Anticosti is also suspected of being a mineral region, and before long we shall probably hear a good deal more of this rich little island, with its extraordinary capabilities.

Other notices have appeared in London Truth and many other English papers, wherein Mr. F. W. Stockwell's name appears as the owner of the island. This ownership, however, is in dispute at present. A suit having been instituted by Captain Forsyth, late of the 7th Hussars, one of the original owners of the island (and who has spent large sums in connection therewith) to have the sale by licitation to Mr. Stockwell set aside on the ground of fraud and conspiracy. This suit has been carried on for many months, and Captain Forsyth claims to have the advantage. Yesterday the latter gentleman received a cablegram stating that the "Anticosti Company" had been registered in England, but considering the suit above alluded to, which is now pending at Murray Bay, he thinks it rather premature on the part of Mr. Stockwell to organize a company and to invite settlers and capitalists to take an interest in the island.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. H. B. Sharpe, who is at the head of a very important institute for the education of the freedmen in Boydton, Virginia, a branch of the "Faith Work" of Dr. Cullis, of Boston, arrived in view last night, and is expected to remain until the beginning of next week. She has been invited by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to hold daily meetings in the Girls' Reading Room, St. Catherine street, and especially to take part in the meetings to be held on Friday, which has been appointed a day of prayer, in view of the coming elections.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

WINNIPEG.

(Special to the Witness, July 27.)

WHEAT CUTTING ON THE BELL FARM will commence to-morrow. A two-thirds crop is expected.

THE HON. THOMAS WHITE left MacLeod yesterday for Winnipeg. He and his party, including Mrs. White and two daughters, drove from Calgary, making the last fifty miles between four a.m. and one p.m., the quickest on record. On Friday afternoon he received deputations of settlers. There was a grand ball in the evening. He was entertained at luncheon on Saturday, at which the Minister spoke in reference to the settler and lease privilege. From his tone a speedy settlement is looked for. The entire party visited the sundance on the Blood reserve on Sunday and saw about two thousand Indians in all their glory and nakedness.

SIR GEORGE STEPHEN, Mr. Van Horne and party arrived to-day en route to the Pacific. They will be interviewed upon their return by the Winnipeg Board of Trade relative to the establishment of stock yards and packing-houses for the Western cattle trade at Winnipeg.

A BAD FAILURE FOR THEM.

MENIGUA, Nicaragua, July 27.—Four officers, hostile to the Government, combined with the revolutionists and attacked the artillery barracks here. The attempt failed, four officers and the greater part of the revolutionists being arrested. They will be severely punished. The originator of the revolt was Don Joss Jerez.

FLOODS IN THE SOUTH.

CHARLESTON, S.C., July 27.—Distressing accounts come from the rice fields along the Sante river. The whole country for miles on each side of the river in Williamsburg, Georgetown and Berkeley counties is covered with water. The rice in most cases is totally destroyed.

OTTAWA.

(Press Despatch, July 27.) A REPORT upon the Canada Atlantic Railway, just made by Mr. Shanley, C.E., shows the road to be in excellent condition. Bonds to the extent of $25,000 per mile have been issued, making a total debt of $3,200,000. The sum of $164,000 in addition is attached to the ferry. Mr. Shanley remarks: "The exceptionally favorable features stated will for all time render your road capable of being economically worked. Fully completed and equipped the working expenses may certainly be kept down to 60 percent of the gross earnings, and when we look around us and see roads of steep gradient and high curvatures being worked for two-thirds of the earnings, it would seem not unreasonable to predict that the Canada Atlantic will, by-and-by, show results even more satisfactory than 40 percent net revenue."

OWING TO THE DECREASE in the sales of lumber of late, the Chaudiere mills have slackened operations; several have taken off the night gangs.

TORONTO.

(Special to the Witness, July 27.) ACCORDING TO Mr. Wragge, local superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railway, the negotiations between that Company and the Canadian Pacific Railway with reference to the entrance of the latter into the city on the east are not in a very forward condition.

THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT will probably make some allowance for the difficulty of the algebra paper set for second class teachers at the recent examination.

AT A MEETING of the City Council, last night, a resolution was passed requesting the Mayor to ascertain how the list of applicants for the Chief Commission of Works got into the Globe. Aid. DeForest, Chairman of the Executive Committee, stated that Mr. Patterson, of Montreal, had been wrongly reported to be one of the applicants for the position. A resolution asking the Ontario Government to change the site of the new Parliament buildings from the Queen's Park to Rosedale was voted down by a large majority.

Langevin, Rogers, Walsh and Cleary, Vicar-General Legaré and the Abbé Marois, secretary, and Gagnon, master of ceremonies, left this afternoon for Montreal by the Richelieu Company's boat, which was magnificently decorated in honor of the distinguished party.

THANKS TO CATHOLICS AND PROTESTANTS.

The following appears this afternoon in the French local papers over the signature of Cardinal Taschereau's secretary:—"I have the honor to be directed by His Eminence the Cardinal Archbishop of Quebec, to tender his most sincere thanks to all those who were good enough to contribute in any way to the success of the solemnities which inaugurated his elevation to the Cardinalate. His Eminence is happy to be able to say, in all sincerity, that in this grand demonstration the prevailing idea was that of respect, attachment and gratitude to the Sovereign Pontiff. He has been equally gratified by the part which our separated brethren kindly took in that fête, in illuminating their homes, in calling upon him and in their references to the subject in their newspapers. No greater pleasure could have touched the heart of His Eminence than to have witnessed the universal concurrence of good will which rendered the solemnities of the 21st July an unequivocal proof of respectful affection, profound devotion, unlimited confidence and sincere attachment for his sacred person. His Eminence cannot pass over in silence the touching marks of profound attachment given to him by his clergy and the religious communities on that solemn occasion, and he desires to make special mention of the consolation he has derived therefrom.

THE ABLEGATE.

The Rev. He says that Mgr. O'Brien is but 42 years old, though he has been represented as from 55 to 60. He was not born in England, but in France. His father and mother were Irish, his father being a captain of great wealth in Cork. While they were travelling in France young O'Brien was born. He was educated in England and was for some years a priest in Liverpool. He subsequently removed to Rome, studying to fit himself out for the duties of the Camerlengo, and now stands in the highest favor of the Vatican, being a chamberlain of the Pop, and enjoying peculiarly intimate relations with the Pontiff. He inherited his father's vast wealth, and is one of the best known and most highly respected monsignors in Rome.

A NEW FRENCH COLONY.

OTTAWA, July 24.—Napoleon Bonaparte Wise, a distinguished connection of the Bonaparte family, has cabled from Paris to Archbishop Duhamel that he will shortly visit Canada for the purpose of inspecting the land he purchased some time ago in the Lake Temiscamingue Colony. He will also look after the properties there owned by thirty wealthy Parisians. The colony, which is being promoted by Archbishop Duhamel, was founded a year ago. It is situated in Northern Quebec, 200 miles north-west of Ottawa. The directors propose to send agents to the New England States to induce expatriated French-Canadians to remove there. A railway to the colony is now being built, and an effort will be made to bring colonists from France.

SPORTS AND GAMES.

LACROSSE.

The Cornwallis play the Torontos on Saturday. There is no knowing what the result will be. The Cornwallis are the favorites, but the Torontos have the greatest enthusiasm, and if their play altogether is as good as it was here, there ought to be fine games played.

The Irish team will be with us next month, and they may depend upon being warmly received. The Irish, since his inception, have taken to the game with the greatest enthusiasm, and the visiting team should make a good showing.

The Brocklives yesterday defeated the Capitals, of Ottawa, by three straight games, in five, five and four minutes.

The members of the newly formed baseball club had another practice last night. The organization promises to be a success.

The Clippers and the Beavers meet on Saturday, on the Shamrock grounds, when an interesting game may be expected.

AQUATIC.

The regatta, in connection with St. Ann's boating club, comes off on Saturday next. All the preliminary arrangements are complete. A special train will leave the main station at 1.15 p.m. to take on visitors from the city.

The interest is now deepening in the Laing-Hosmer race, which takes place on the 31st inst. at Valleyfield. The course is straight, and runs parallel with the highway, so that the public can view the race without being charged.

He inherited his father's vast wealth, and is one of the best known and most highly respected monsignors in Rome.

EGGS.—We quote 13c to 14c for good, 14c to 15c for extra fine and candied.

HOOP PRODUCE.—The following are the quotations to-day:—Western Mow Pork, $13.50 to $13.75; do. short Cut, $14.25; Canada Short Cut, $14 to $14.50; Hams, city cured, 11c to 12c. Lard, in pails, Western, 9c to 9 1/2c; do., Canadian, 8 1/2c to 9c; Bacon, 10c to 11c; Shoulders, nominal; Tallow, nominal, refined, 4 1/2c to 5c. DAIRY PRODUCE.

CHEESE.—There is a fairly brisk business, and it is said at shaded prices. We quote from 7c to 8c.

BUTTER.—The demand for Creamery is a special one, and is mainly for the North Shore Quebec make. Prices are going higher. We quote as follows: Creamery, 12c to 12 1/2c; Townships, 14c to 15c; Morrisburg, 13c to 14c; Western, 12c to 13c.

LIVERPOOL PROVISION MARKET.

CHEESE.—A fair, steady, consumptive demand, assisted by speculation, caused an advance at the commencement of the week of 1s to 2s per cwt. Yesterday and to-day the feeling is not so strong, and though the advanced quotations are asked in most instances, the market is a little easier, with more tendency shown to sell, and not accumulate stocks. We quote, to-day, choice white cheese, 41s to 42s 1/2d, though 42s has been obtained; colored, 40s to 41s 1/2d—occasionally 42s has been obtained. There is a fair demand for meaty medium cheese at 33s to 35s, especially for white. Skimmed cheese has to be offered cheap to tempt buyers—20s to 20s is asked for such, according to grade.

BUTTER.—Quotations are nominally 70s to 80s for choice American and Canadian, but there is no stock, and the arrivals are small.—Hobson Brothers' Circular, July 17th.
