GREAT BRITAIN SUPPORTS U.S. STAND

Insists Upon Open Door In China Trade

Foreign Under-Secretary Tells House of Commons Empire Opposes Creation of All-Eastern Asia Economic Bloc of China, Japan and Manchoukuo——Government Faces Labor Want-of-Confidence Motion on Failure to Relieve Unemployment.

London, Nov. 10.—(Ø)—The House of Commons, during debate on the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne, will be asked to approve a Labor amendment deploring unemployment, it was announced today.

William Pethick-Lawrence, Labor, will submit the amendment expressing regret over the "absence of any reference (in the Speech from the Throne) to the serious problem of unemployment as represented by nearly two million men and women who cannot find work."

A fiery attack by David Lloyd George, former Prime Minister, upon the Government for "complete surrender" to the dictatorships, featured a full day of debate yesterday.

Through a policy of drift and concession, he said, the Government had permitted Britain's influence and security to be threatened from the Mediterranean to the Far East.

Richard Butler, Foreign Under-Secretary, declared Great Britain stood with the United States on the question of the open door for trading opportunities in China against Japan's announced policy of an all Eastern Asia bloc with the co-operation of a defeated China and Manchuokuo.

Viscount Cranborne, Mr. Butler's predecessor, and Sir Stafford Cripps and Arthur Henderson, Labor, entered the debate to assail the Government's foreign policy. Lieut.-Col. John Colville, Secretary for Scotland, aided Mr. Butler in answering their arguments.

Toward the close of the night session debate swung to trade. Walter F. Higgs, Conservative, said the visit next summer of the King and Queen to Canada and the United States was an "admirable initiative" but would be "absolutely useless" unless manufacturers followed it up.

Britain, he said, had lost her ranking position in overseas markets, particularly in the Americas. He said Britain was ten years behind in developing air service to South America.

Morgan Price, Labor, called for reorganization of industry and creation of a foreign trade body to represent the United Kingdom in negotiations with Eastern Europe. Declaring all was not lost there, Mr. Price said: "We still have our agreement with Turkey, the results of which ought to be developed."

"Let us return to our traditional policy and see that the great territories on the threshold of Europe and Asia are still kept open to the trade of the world," he said. "That, however, will not be attained by a

PROFITABLE LOOT

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Six bandits armed with a submachine gun, shotguns and revolvers held up a Railway Express Agency truck driver and his helper at a mid-city station early today, and fled in an automobile. Their loot was twenty-six bags of cancelled cheques.

JAP VANGUARD HEADS TOWARD RAILWAY TOWN

Capture of Yochow Would Give Invaders Strategic Position for Extension of Campaign into Hunan Province.

Shanghai, Nov. 10. — (AP) — A Japanese vanguard reached the outskirts of Yochow today after an all-night march and started attacking that strategic railway town 122 miles up the Yangtse from Hankow.

The capture of Yochow would put the invaders in a position to carry on their offensive in Hunan province southward by rail against Changsha, Hunan provincial capital eighty-three miles south of Yochow, and across large Tung Ting Lake against a dozen important cities.

Japanese announced they had occupied Tungcheng, forty miles east of Yochow, and were pushing on southward toward the Canton-Hankow railway south of Yochow.

Squadrons of Japanese aircraft bombed a dozen cities and military positions in Southwest China.

Dire Results Predicted From Revised Marriage Edicts

Elkton, Md., Nov. 10.—(Ø)—Marrying parsons who were voted out of jobs and the merchants who operated Elkton's romance mart under mass-production methods mourned today for the booming business that must end next week.

Warnings of dire happenings to the economic life of Elkton mingled with tones of satisfaction as returns from Tuesday's election showed Maryland voters approved on referendum a measure providing for a forty-eight-hour lapse between the issuing of a licence and marriage.

For a quarter century residents of adjoining states wanting to marry in haste, have dashed across the state line to be married in Elkton. Elopements became one of the principal businesses and Elkton streets were dotted with signs advertising active and retired preachers available for marriage ceremonies at any hour of the day or night.

The favorable vote on the forty-eight-hour proposal came after a period of soaring records of marriages. There were 2,308 licences issued last month in this town of 3,600 persons. But the move was none too popular with many, particularly taxi drivers, barbers and grocers, who had profited nicely. They provided the elopers with information on obtaining marriage licence and finding a minister. Then they collected a fee.

The state has done something it's going to be awful sick of," commented Rev. C. M. Cope, who said he worked "for the taxicab people" and who officiated at 668 ceremonies last month.

"The state has taken away $250,000 of revenue from Elkton. It's the only thing that has kept Elkton alive. It's just going to ruin this town."

In contrast was the comment of George C. Potts, Chief of Police for twenty years here until his retirement last year.

"They played the devil with this town," said he. "While they brought business to the town the jitney crowds and the marrying parsons did not conduct themselves in a proper manner. We're not losing much."

LARGE ADVANCE IS ANNOUNCED BY LOYALISTS

Spanish Government Forces Declare that Armies Are Steadily Pressing Toward Fraga and Lerida on Segre River Front.

Hendaye, France, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Despite Insurgent denials, Spanish Government armies claimed to be moving steadily forward today toward Fraga and Lerida on the Segre River front.

Insurgent General Franco's reports said his soldiers "reconquered all territory lost" on the Segre front in Northeastern Spain, but the Government in dispatches insisted its militiamen were in a position to attack Lerida from the north, south and east.

Lerida, an important power distribution centre of 43,000 population, is eighty miles west of Barcelona and sixteen miles northeast of Fraga, a town of $7,500 at the confluence of the Segre and Cinca rivers.

Arabs And Jews Combine In Opposition To Latest British Holy Land Plans

Arab Leaders Demand that Grand Mufti of Jerusalem and Exiled Terrorist Leaders Be Included in Any Conference Called by British Government to Study Palestine Situation —Jewish Leaders Label Plan as "Fantastically Ridiculous."

Jerusalem, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Disappointment was expressed today by Arab and Jewish leaders over Great Britain's declaration of policy on Palestine. Some Jews called it "fantastically ridiculous," and Arabs said it was a "complete misnomer because it is no policy at all."

They referred to a project announced yesterday of calling a London conference of Jewish and Arab leaders to compromise the dispute over Jewish immigration to the Holy Land and discarding as unworkable a plan to divide Palestine into Arab, Jewish and British-corridor sections.

A prominent Arab declared: "We must continue the fight until we obtain justice. The proposed conference definitely excludes our recognized leaders, members of the Arab Higher Committee who are now languishing in the sickly heat of islands in the Indian Ocean."

An Arab spokesman said the Arabs would not attend "any conference where Jews insist on numerical parity," and added, "Britain offers us nothing after Arabs fought, suffered and died, which was the only way we could make the world hear our case."

An exception to the general criticism was a statement by Dr. Judah Magnes, President of the Hebrew University. He welcomed the suggestion for a conference and suggested the establishment of a binational state comprising sixty per cent Arabs and forty per cent Jews for ten years, after which Palestine would become a part of a federation of Arab states embracing Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Iraq and Saudi Arabia, with an increased Jewish population within the Federation.

Arabs declared the apparent refusal to sit with the exiled Grand Mufti killed the conference idea at the outset and said, "No Arab leader would dare attend the proposed conference in the absence of the Grand Mufti, who is the strongest Arab leader." The Mufti is in refuge in Syria.

KING AND QUEEN TO TRAVEL OVERLAND

London, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The King and Queen will travel from Canada to Washington overland when they make their visit to the United States next year, it was semi-officially announced today. They will return to Canada before beginning their homeward voyage.

Turkey Today Mourns Passing Of Creator Of Modern State

Kamal Ataturk, Responsible for Elevation of Turkey from Disorganized State to One of Most Important of Minor Powers, Died from Lengthy Illness at Age of Fifty-Eight Years—Both Britain and Germany Keenly Interested in Appointment of Successor.

Istanbul, Nov. 10.—(AP) — Kamal Ataturk, creator and President of modern Turkey who lived hard and ruled hard, died today. He was fifty-eight years old.

Ataturk, long ill, succumbed to cirrhosis of the liver at 9:05 a.m. (2:05 a.m. E.S.T.) after having clung to life longer than his doctors had expected. He apparently had been gaining strength after a grave attack in mid-October but suffered a relapse.

Ataturk lived hard. He often worked or listened to musicians all night. For many years he was a chain cigarette smoker, a marathon coffee drinker and celebrated often with champagne and raki liquor, which was banned for British troops in Palestine during the Great War.

He ruled hard as the iron-fisted "Grey Wolf" who forged a strong new westernized state out of the war-crushed ruins of the Ottoman Empire.

Turkey, strategically placed between east and west in a rapidly changing world, quickly and sadly sought his successor.

Abdul Halik Renda, President of the National Assembly, assumed the interim presidency while a Government proclamation announced immediate convocation of the Assembly to elect a new President. The Assembly was expected to meet tomorrow.

General Ismet Inonu, the "Military Bookkeeper" who was Premier for thirteen of the fifteen years that Ataturk headed the state and was a lifelong collaborator of the President, was expected to be chosen.

The streets of Istanbul were thronged with saddened Turks mourning the man who gave them a new national consciousness. All public functions and ceremonies were

QUINTS TODAY HEADED TOWARD FULL RECOVERY

Physician Who Brought the Famous Youngsters into the World Highly Pleased with Result of Operations Yesterday.

Callander, Ont., Nov. 10.—(Ø)—Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, famous for bringing the Dionne quintuplets into the world, today looked forward to hearing his little charges relate the most interesting experience of their lives —removal of tonsils and adenoids.

"We didn't tell them what was going to happen and now I'm looking forward to hearing them tell me about it," said the pudgy physician, known only as a good "Country Doc" before one sunny morning in May, 1934, when he rushed along a bumpy, twisting trail to the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, two and one-half miles from here.

It was along a smooth, Government graded highway that Dr. Dafoe drove today to supervise in supplying light foods to the Quints who went hungry yesterday after the operation to correct a condition which might have threatened their lives. They yelled for food last night but their pleas went unheeded.

Need of the operation was stressed by Dr. Dafoe when he said that during the period last summer when the five sisters were ill with colds, "there was a time we feared Emilie might not be able to remain with us."

The doctor was happier today as he reported the children were doing "splendidly, splendidly." He said he was sure they would come through all right "but the way they are recovering so nicely is a delight. They are doing much better than I expected."

Dr. D. E. Staunton Wishart, noted specialist of the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children, operated, while Dr. C. H. Robson of the same institution, administered the anaesthetic. Dr. Alan Brown, the hospital's physician in chief, supervised and Dr. Dafoe remained in the background.

"All the tonsils were found to be as described by Dr. Dafoe, in a very diseased state, showing that his judgment in advising their removal was justified," said Dr. Brown, following the operation.

The nursery home of the children in which the operation was performed was the centre of much excitement yesterday as telegrams from all parts of Canada and the United States were delivered just prior to the operation. Many of the messages advised against the operation.

HEARING OPENS INTO DEATH OF MINING DOCTOR

Medical Representative of Mining Concern Met Death When Inflammable Costume Worn at Masquerade Caught Fire.

Kenora, Ont., Nov. 10. —(Ø) — Thomas Semple testified before Magistrate T. H. Wolfe last night that John Melnick, charged with manslaughter, touched a match to Dr. Dennis Smith's masquerade costume at a dance at Madsen Red Lake mine October 29 when the mine doctor suffered fatal burns.

Semple testified he had seen Melnick walk up to a group including the doctor, thumb a match and apply the light to Smith's costume.

"I believe it was done as a joke seeing the dress had caught on fire earlier and had caused a laugh then," Semple said. On the first occasion Dr. Smith had beaten out the flame quickly.

C. L. Donaghy testified Melnick had seemed greatly perturbed as others at the dance sought to extinguish Dr. Smith's flaming costume. "I lit it just as a joke but I didn't expect that to happen," Donaghy said Melnick told him. Donaghy was confident the fire could have been extinguished had the doctor remained in the hall. But the doctor ran for the door, apparently seeking to remove the fire danger from others wearing inflammable costumes. He was completely enveloped in flames.

Miss Jean Smart, nurse at the mine, said Dr. Smith's costume was similar to a Hawaiian costume with skirt made of unravelled rope strands tied to a heavier rope around his waist. She testified the first fire apparently had been caused by Dr. Smith's own lighter and the doctor had treated the incident as a joke.

Preliminary hearing of the charge against Melnick will be continued Monday.

MOONEY HOPES FOR PARDON ON BOMB TRAGEDY

Newly-Elected Governor of California Indicates He Will Favorably Consider Application for Pardon in Twenty-Two-Year-Old Case.

San Quentin, Calif., Nov. 10. — (AP)—Smiling broadly, Tom Mooney went about his prison routine as a hospital orderly today with new hope of freedom through a pardon by California's Democratic Governor-elect, Culbert Olson.

But he has hoped so many times before, in the twenty-two years he has been in prison since his conviction of the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing outrage in San Francisco, he was hesitant about doing any premature rejoicing over the Olson statement promising an early hearing on a new pardon application, and indicating it would be viewed with favor.

Olson reiterated yesterday his previous belief Mooney was innocent of the bombing, in which ten persons were killed and forty injured, and that he was convicted on perjured testimony. He said he would hold a hearing, to which anyone might bring objections to setting Mooney free, before acting upon the pardon application.

Mooney has contended he was convicted on perjured testimony because "privileged interests" wanted to be rid of a labor organizer.

Reich Government Intervenes To Curb Anti-Semitic Terror

Propaganda Minister, in Appealing to People to Remain Calm, Declares that Final Answer to Jewry Will Be Given in Form of Laws and Decrees for Slaying of Paris Embassy Attache—Large Number of Jewish Properties Destroyed in Wave of Terrorism.

Berlin, Nov. 10. — (AP) — Propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels today issued a brief appeal to the German populace to desist from further anti-Jewish demonstrations after synagogues in many cities had been burned, wrecked or badly damaged.

"The justifiable and understandable indignation of the German people over the cowardly Jewish murder of a German diplomat in Paris has resulted during the past night in extensive demonstrations," said Goebbels.

He referred to the killing of Ernst von Rath, Secretary of the Paris Embassy, by a seventeen-year-old Polish Jew who had lived in Germany.

Telephoned reports from many parts of Germany showed that anti-Jewish violence, beginning early today, was nation-wide.

Seven of Berlin's twenty synagogues were burned. All Vienna's twenty-one synagogues were reported burned, wrecked or badly damaged. In Munich all Jews were told by angry Nazis that they must leave the country within forty-eight hours.

"In numerous cities and communities of the Reich," said Goebbels' appeal, "acts of violence were committed against Jewish buildings and businesses.

"The entire population is now, however, strictly requested to desist immediately from all further demonstrations and actions of whatever nature against Jewdom.

"The final answer to Jewry will be given in the form of laws or decrees."

Responsible Jews hearing this closing sentence expressed fears that a general order would be issued compelling all Jews to leave the country. Goebbels' appeal was issued at four p.m. (10 a.m. E.S.T.), some fourteen hours after the violence

RIVAL PARTIES OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR PRESIDENT

Unexpected Strength of Republican Party in Tuesday's Voting Increases Interest in Next Two Congressional Sessions.

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The Democratic and Republican parties began a two-year struggle for power today as the aftermath of political upheavals in Tuesday's United States elections.

With eleven new governorships, eight new Senate seats and at least seventy-seven more House seats firmly in their grasp, Republicans turned from ballot counting with the avowed intention of trying to take over the Presidency in 1940.

Democrats minimized Republican claims of widespread anti-New Deal sentiment. They were equally determined to use all the vast resources at their command to continue national domination beyond the next two years.

Only two major races remained in doubt today. In Iowa former Senator Lester Dickinson, (Republican) and Senator Guy Gillette were in a neck-and-neck contest. The same was true of the race between Senator Frederick van Nuys, (Democrat), and Raymond Willis, (Republican) in Indiana.

Aside from these, the latest returns from the forty-seven state elections gave this picture of the overturns:

Republicans who went into the campaign with only seven governorships came out with eighteen. Of those won Tuesday, nine previously had been held by Democrats, one by a Farmer-Laborite and one by a Progressive.

The ballot harvest gave the Republicans eleven Senate seats, including eight held by Democrats. In the new Senate, beginning January 3, they will have twenty-three seats, compared to fifteen at present. Only thirty-five of the ninety-six Senate seats were at stake this year.

With all but eight House races decided, the Republicans had elected 166 members, compared to 88 in the present House. (There was one Republican vacancy). Of the seats they picked up, seventy came from the Democrats, five from the Progressives and two from the Farmer-Labor party.

These triumphs, more extensive than many Republican leaders had predicted, made certain strong minority opposition in both the House and Senate next session.

Republicans counted most heavily on gubernatorial than congressional gains for advancing their cause toward 1940. Control of state administrations will give them patronage to rebuild party fences in disrepair since 1932.

Political leaders offered contrasting interpretations of the election results, first reversal for the Demo-

Gathering Of French Veterans May Provide Occasion For Fascist Coup

Paris, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Thousands of war veterans poured into Paris today to await their leaders' signal for Armistice Day demonstrations favoring a "Public Safety" Government to "rebuild" France.

The former soldiers, representing nearly 6,000,000 men mobilized by France during the Great War, are led by Henri Pichot and Jean Goy, who have let it be known they might order the men to march on Elysee Palace to present demands for a strong government to President Albert Lebrun.

Minister of Interior Albert Sarraut conferred with Paris Police Prefect Roger Langeron and insisted strong police and Mobile Guard forces be ready to discourage such a march on the President's home.

Extra guards moved into the capital from the provinces, leading officials to believe such a show of force would discourage the veterans from undertaking the Pichot-Goy plan.

Both Socialist and Communist party organs repeatedly have warned their followers of the possibility of Nationalist demonstrations tomorrow on the twentieth anniversary of the Armistice.

Speaking at Clermont-Ferrand early today, Pichot declared: "The present political regime is threadbare. The parties are at death's door. The hour of resolution has arrived. France needs a Public Safety Government."

The war veterans' dissatisfaction with Premier Edouard Daladier's Government, which Pichot and Goy have accused of "extreme weakness" in the face of Nazi German demands for the return of war-lost colonies, found an echo both in Right and Left political groups.

Reports that Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet had agreed on the return of Togo and the Cameroons to Germany in their eagerness to obtain Chancellor Hitler's friendship spurred the veterans' campaign and also caused uneasiness in political parties.

"The situation is very grave," Goy declared at Clermont-Ferrand. "France must be saved. All war veterans and all Frenchmen must unite to save the Fatherland."

The Republican Federation, the strongest Rightist political group, in a communique urged Daladier to take a stand on the colonial question before it "becomes a new threat of war." Socialists demanded that Daladier make clear the Government position on colonies.

Political and financial quarters openly discussed the possibility Paul Reynaud, the new Finance Minister, would need to head his own cabinet successfully to carry through a programme of financial recovery.

These quarters contended Reynaud's failure to bring recovery might mean the end of democratic measures for France and asserted he should be given virtual control of the government as far as formulating and executing his policy are concerned. Expressing a belief such control would be impossible for Reynaud as Finance Minister, they declared he must be made Premier.

Face-Saving Compromise Provides Solution For Jap Cabinet Crisis

Tokyo, Nov. 10.—(C.P. Havas) — The threat of a crisis in the Japanese Cabinet over Article XI in the National Mobilization Law appeared to have been averted today by a face-saving compromise.

Article XI provides for rigid Government control over all industrial financing operations and empowers the Government to tax profits. The army demanded its immediate application while Finance Minister Seihin Ikeda, representing the big financial interests, opposed it.

When the army brought the quarrel into the open with a public statement yesterday, it appeared for a time that Ikeda might be forced out. This was averted by the presentation of a group of compromise proposals whereby certain restrictions would be imposed on finance but not through Article XI.

Ikeda probably will take some time considering the alternative proposals, which will be based on articles of the Mobilization Law already in effect and from special legislation which would be adopted.

Under this plan, companies would be required to place profits over a certain limit in a fund of non-distributable reserves destined for re-investment in their enterprises. Ikeda stood firm, however, against the plan to force the companies to pay out their extra profits for the purchase of Government bonds, a form of forced loan which Article XI would make possible.

CARIBOU MOVING TO CENTRAL MANITOBA

The Pas, Man., Nov. 10.—(Ø)—Barren-lands caribou are continuing their early-season southward trek, R. D. Robertson, of Prince Albert, said here on returning from Churchill, Manitoba Hudson Bay port. The animals have been seen in the timbered country south of Mile 442, Hudson Bay Railway, he said. Section men near mile 374 said it was the first time in three years caribou had trekked so far south.

BURGLAR-PROOF TRUCK STOLEN

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Michael J. Mullen, protective agency employee, looked a bit sheepish as he reported the theft of his truck to police. The reason: It was a brand new, thief-proof machine, he said, equipped with an elaborate system of alarms that were "supposed to go off when anyone laid a hand on the truck."

British Government Seeking Peace Abroad And Prosperity In Country

London, Nov. 10. — (Ø) — Prime Minister Chamberlain restated the major objectives of his Government as peace abroad and security and prosperity at home in giving the annual address of the head of the Government at the Lord Mayor's Banquet last night.

By tradition, guests of the banquet which follows the colorful installation of the new Lord Mayor hear the comprehensive survey of foreign policy from the Prime Minister. But Mr. Chamberlain said he preferred on this occasion to survey the Munich agreement on Czechoslovakia.

The agreement, he said, did not represent a clash of opposing blocs and victory for one or defeat for the other.

It had demonstrated that four great powers under different systems of government were able to agree "upon the main outlines of settlement of one of the most thorny and dangerous international problems of our time."

"That should encourage us to think it must be possible for such powers to agree on other things as well," he said. "I have no shadow of doubt in my mind that what we did was right."

Mr. Chamberlain predicted "quieter times" for Europe and pledged British rearmament "commensurate with the part we want to play in maintaining peace."

"If we see peace threatened, we shall use any influence we may possess to save it," he went on. "If war breaks out we shall take any opportunity we can see to stop it."

BRITAIN PROVIDES AID TO PALESTINE

London, Nov. 10.—(Ø-Havas) — Great Britain will give financial aid to Palestine to cope with the serious financial difficulties resulting from disorders during the past year, Malcolm Macdonald, Secretary for the Dominions and Colonies, announced today.

In a written reply to a question in the House of Commons he said: "The disturbed conditions in Palestine during the last year have caused both serious shrinkage in revenue and heavy and increasing expenditures on public security. It has become clear that the Palestine Government is unable to meet these

WOULD FREE POLICE FROM CIVIC CONTROL

Halifax, Nov. 10.—(Ø)—"Frequent attempts" of municipal authorities to mix the question of law enforcement with the realm of municipal politics, were scored by Rev. George G. Webber, of Toronto, General Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance in Canada, in an address before the jubilee meeting of the Alliance here last night.

Although he was not familar with local conditions, Mr. Webber's experiences in Western Canada had shown him that if effective police work were to be accomplished, policemen must not have to depend upon elected municipal officials for employment.

TEMPERATURES AGAIN NORMAL FOR NOVEMBER

Maximum of 45 Degrees Recorded at Lennoxville Experimental Farm, a Drop of Thirty Degrees from 75 Registered Monday.

There is a snap in the air once more. There should be in November, the month when frequent snow flurries are expected as fore-runners of the blankets of white that will cover the streets of Sherbrooke and the fields and roads of the Eastern Townships in December.

Monday's unparalleled heat, so out of place at this time of the year, sent the mercury soaring to seventy-five degrees on the thermometers of the Lennoxville Experimental Farm, and caused local citizens to scurry to the attic to unpack clothes that had been wrapped up in mothballs for the winter.

Topcoats, hats and gloves disappeared and garments of summer again added a dash of color to Sherbrooke's sidewalks. Out came the golf sticks, as business magnates found it hard to concentrate on rows of figures and momentous deals while the sun poured in their office windows in company with balmy breezes bearing with them the call of the great out-of-doors.

Indeed, "Mother Nature" and "Old Man Weather" were having their fling, with "Old Sol" lending a helping hand.

But normal temperatures and expected November weather again prevail. A maximum of 45 degrees was recorded this morning at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm and officials of the Government Station state that it is a normal figure for this time of the year.

INVESTIGATING SECOND THEFT IN TWO DAYS

Thieves Broke into Restaurant of Donald Clark and Barber Shop Managed by L. B. Pierce at Lennoxville During Night.

The second robbery in as many days occurred in Lennoxville early this morning when the restaurant of Donald Clark and the adjacent barber shop managed by L. B. Pierce were broken into, both establishments being robbed of a considerable amount of stock and equipment.

The offence was perpetrated about 3.30 a.m. this morning, entrance being made by forcing a back window in the restaurant. The thieves made off with approximately thirty dollars worth of tobacco and miscellaneous articles of indefinite value from the restaurant, while the barber shop was stripped of razors and like equipment.

A neighbor noticed a young man of about twenty years of age loitering about the building at about 3.30 a.m. On account of the dim lighting it was impossible to see clearly enough to obtain an accurate description, but it was established definitely that he wore a red sweater, was of medium size and was bareheaded.

Chief Bozer was informed and has been conducting the investigation.

LENNOXVILLE

Members of the Parish Guild of St. George's Church were busily engaged at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the Church Hall, in making plans for their Christmas sale and tea, which they will hold early next month. Mrs. Thomas D. Bozer, the president, conducted the meeting, when Mrs. E. L. Atto, the secretary, was instructed to send letters of thanks to three persons who had very kindly given donations of work or material for this sale. A report of the recent chicken pie supper, put on by the Parish and St. Monica's Guilds, jointly, was given. Following adjournment, Mrs. Mary Roberts and Mrs. W. A. Page were hostesses at the tea hour.

As a result of the several petty robberies in Lennoxville recently, Chief T. D. Bozer asks that residents do their part in checking the would-be thieves by locking their doors and fastening windows securely.

Mrs. Effie Munro is spending a few days in Newport, Vt., visiting her niece, Mrs. C. Dubray.

Mrs. L. B. Pierce is enjoying a brief visit with old friends in Beebe, her former home. She is expected to return to Lennoxville on Saturday.

All will be pleased to hear that Mrs. Harry Arguin is as well as can be expected after undergoing an operation at the Montreal General Hospital.

Rival Parties Open Campaign For President

crats since 1930. Republican Chairman John Hamilton said the vote showed "a widespread repugnance toward governmental incompetence, maladministration and callous political corruption."

"These Republican gains reflected a determination on the part of millions of our citizens," he added, "to put an end to constant experimental legislation which has held back economic recovery and kept the country in a hub-hub."

Democratic Chairman James Farley pointed out that his party had won substantial majorities in the Senate and the House despite the decline in numbers. "I think the outcome justifies the statement that the country as a whole is still strongly behind the humanitarian policies of President Roosevelt," he said.

Former President Hoover said the strengthened Republican Opposition should mark "the beginning of the end of this waste of public money, these policies of coercion, political corruption and undermining of representative government."

In reviewing the elections, political strategists of both parties have to consider in planning further campaigns just where 1940 presidential hopefuls stand now the mid-term balloting is out of the way.

One name still high on the list of Republican presidential possibilities was that of Thomas Dewey, who, although he lost the New York gubernatorial race, proved himself a two-fisted vote-getter.

Defeat of Governor Frank Murphy, (Democrat), in Michigan, led to speculation that President Roosevelt might appoint him to Supreme Court.

Senatorial and gubernatorial victories placed several men to the fore as potential candidates. On the Republican side these included Robert Taft of Ohio, son of the late Republican President, who defeated Senator Robert Bulkley, a New Deal Democrat; John Bricker, elected Republican Governor of Ohio, and Leverett Saltonshall and Arthur James, elected governors of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, respectively.

In Democratic ranks, impressive majorities for Senators Bennett Clark of Missouri and Millard Tydings of Maryland caused friends to advance their names as possible 1940 candidates.

Meanwhile, leaders of both parties watched the national economic situation both for its reaction to and its effect on political trends. The stock market's upward swing yesterday was widely acclaimed in Republican quarters as a result of Republican gains.

Suffering greater rebuffs in the election than the Democrats were the Wisconsin Progressives and the Minnesota Farmer-Laborites.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York, who left Republican ranks for the American Labor Party, arranged a conference in Washington next week to discuss the future course of Progressives.

Turkey Today Mourns Passing Of Creator Of Modern State

cancelled. Thousands of flags flew at half-staff and hundreds of mosques were besieged by crowds of weeping worshippers.

Most Turkish leaders, whether approving of Ataturk's dictatorial methods or not, joined with the majority in acclaiming him for bringing Turkey into world politics as one of the most important of the smaller powers and making her a key country connecting Middle Europe and the Near East.

Ataturk was generally believed to be pro-British, and both the British and German Foreign Offices have been known to have keen interest in the choice of his successor, whose policies might influence strongly the European political balance.

Kamal Ataturk rebuilt in a few months a Turkey which had been steadily declining for nearly 350 years. He revivified it, westernized it, modernized it—made it important in world politics as one of the leading smaller powers, a key country connecting Middle Europe and the Near East.

His methods were ruthless, unique, dictatorial. First and only President of the republic he founded in 1923, he was nominally an elected executive, but actually, with the elective Assembly composed of hand-picked delegates, he was a dictator.

Ataturk ended the age-old unity of church and state, banned polygamy, freeing women from the harem, substituted western dress for the flowing, all-covering garb of the Near East; established the family as a social unit, abolished the Caliphate and Sultanate, reduced illiteracy—created, in short, the personal "Dream State" he had envisioned years before as a radical, social minded youth.

With military school training, he won promotions in the Italian-Turkish war of 1911 and the second Balkan war and was a colonel when Turkey entered the Great War on the side of Germany, whose leaders rated him one of the ablest Turkish officers. He was a commander at Gallipoli, where the Allies suffered a defeat.

After the war he rose fast. He was sent by Sultan Mohammed VI to demobilize troops in Anatolia. But instead of demobilizing them, he used them as a nucleus for a Nationalist army, waging, as an outlaw, three years of guerrilla warfare. In 1921 the Greeks invaded Anatolia, and after desperate fighting the Turks won, re-entering Smyrna on September 9, 1922.

Ataturk then abolished the dual government of Turkey and deposed the Sultan, although he named the ruler's heir, Abdul Mejid, as Caliph, or head of the Islamic faith.

On October 29, 1923, the National Assembly proclaimed Turkey a republic and unanimously elected Ataturk its first President. He immediately began his long-projected task of modernizing Turkey's 13,000,000 inhabitants. On March 3, 1924, he abolished the Caliphate, ending a dynasty six hundred year old, and had Turkey well on the way out of a decline which had begun in 1580, when Sultan Sulyman the Magnificent unsuccessfully stormed the gates of Vienna in an attempt to bring the Christian world to its knees.

A high mark in Turkey's resurgence was the signing by eight European powers in July, 1936, the Montreux Convention permitting Turkey to remilitarize the Dardanelles Straits. The pact terminated the Lausanne treaty, which banned fortification of the Straits by Turkey, and definitely made Turkey a leading minor power.

Ataturk was born plain "Mustapha," and later had "Kemal," meaning "Perfection," and "Pasha," or "General," added. The name Mustapha Kemal Pasha was changed formally by Parliament in 1934 to Kamal Ataturk, or "Perfect Father of the Turks."

Mr. W. W. Peirce and family were visiting relatives at Beauharnois.

A brief business meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Parnell. Mrs. Cora Terrill acted as president. The chief item discussed was a bale of goods to be packed and sent to Western Canada shortly. This plan is in charge of Mrs. White.

Miss Joyce Baldwin, of Coaticook, was a week-end guest of Miss Pauline Paige at Canaan, Vt.

A very enjoyable "pick-a-prize" bridge was held at the Guild Hall under direction of the Ladies' Guild of St. Stephen's Church. Prizes numbering over one hundred were chosen by the players. Afternoon tea was served by Mrs. Lothrop and Mrs. Robinson.

Reich Government Intervenes To Curb Anti-Semitic Terror

began in Berlin.

Mobs charged into a police guard in the heart of Berlin today and began plundering shattered Jewish shops while smoke still billowed from synagogues in various parts of the capital.

Violently, demonstrators took revenge upon Jews for the slaying of a German Embassy secretary in Parish by a Polish Jew who once lived in Germany.

Shop windows were smashed in several German centres. Synagogues were broken into. Fires raged in seven of the twenty Berlin synagogues as well as in Munich and Dresden syangogues.

Crowds, angry and plunder-bent, pushed police aside in Friedrichstrasse in downtown Berlin, and surged into the arcade between that important avenue and famed Unter den Linden. The arcade houses many Jewish shops.

Vienna dispatches reported the total or partial destruction of all the twenty-one synagogues in the city. Vienna Jews said twenty-two of their number had committed suicide in despair. One synagogue in the Austrian capital was blown up, three others wrecked while Storm Troopers compelled Jews to begin tearing down another.

In Berlin a mob had jammed Friedrichstrasse since rioting began early in the morning. Police were helpless against a looting crowd, angered by the killing of Ernst von Rath, secretary of the Paris Embassy, by Herschel Grynszpan. Von Rath, shot Monday, died yesterday.

Hourly, new reports of destruction and violence came from different sections of Germany. Dozens of synagogues were reported raided, desecrated or burned in Cologne, Hamburg, Dresden and Vienna.

The official German news agency in a short bulletin said of the violence that "the grossly enraged German people vented their ire in manifold anti-Jewish actions."

Henrich Himmler chief of the Secret Police, issued a decree forbidding Jews to carry weapons. Twenty years in concentration camp is the penalty for violation.

Brown-shirted Storm Troopers, black uniformed SS guards and police stopped all Jewish pedestrians and searched them for weapons.

Fire broke out in two synagogues in Berlin, both in the fashionable West End. One was the largest in the city. The synagogue at Hersfeld, a Prussian town, was burned down yesterday.

Berlin police established guards in some streets against looting in the wrecked shops. In others black-uniformed Elite Guards took command.

Some Jews said they slept in a different place each night in fear that other measures might be taken against them to avenge the slaying in Paris of Ernset von Rath, Legation Secretary, by a Polish Jew.

Nazis said officials disapproved of the gang action and that, "although public excitement is justified," action "must be taken on a strictly legal basis and not as spontaneous individual outbursts."

The gangs moved systematically up and down each street, and in the main avenues not one shop window of a Jewish-owned business remained intact.

A typical band had four members. They travelled slowly in an automobile. Seeing a white-lettered store, they would jump from the car and with sticks smash the front windows. Then they would dart quickly away as the clatter of broken glass pierced the otherwise quiet morning.

In one leather goods store everything was taken except one briefcase as soon as the window was broken. A little later a man walked by. He noted the briefcase, picked it up and calmly proceeded down the street.

One gang halted an Associated Press reporter trying to telephone his office from a pay booth, and shouted at him, "you atrocity monger!" They permitted him to go unharmed.

The damage done to the Jewish stores probably means that shots fired in Paris have killed Jewish business in Berlin. Doubt existed among some that glass would be available under restrictions of the German four-year economic plan to permit them to restore the shops. They indicated they probably would choose to close their shops permanently.

policy of submission to the dictator states. It can only be obtained by a policy of conciliation on the one hand and firmness on the other."

Colonel Colville replied that Prime Minister Chamberlain's appeasement efforts had their economic as well as political side.

"We shall make our best endeavor to retain our trade with the Central European countries and use all proper methods to extend it," he said. "But those speaking continually of the value of markets in Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Greece and Yugoslavia sometimes forget the very great value of the German and Italian markets themselves."

liabilities by recourse to the depleted civil budget. Certain measures of financial relief are therefore necessary and proposals will be laid before Parliament in due course in the form of a supplementary estimate."

The Manchester Guardian (Liberal) today found little to inspire confidence in the Woodhead Commission's report for solving the situation.

"The Government must not forget that the policy of this country is based on the Balfour declaration and on the idea of a national home which is less and less heard of since the days of the Peel Report (the partition plan)," the Guardian said.

"It is high time that they not only had a policy but stuck to it and what they have to remember is that the obligations to which they declare their loyalty have been clearly laid down for them in the terms of the mandate that they hold from the League (of Nations)."

First Sugar Refinery

In early days maple sugar was the staple sweet in Canadian homes. By 1854 imports of cane sugar had largely displaced the home grown article and in that year John Redpath established the first Canadian sugar refinery in Montreal.

Six years before that enterprising venture, the Canada Life issued its first policy to a resident of the province of Quebec. It was then the only Canadian life insurance company, a position it held for almost twenty years.

Over a period of ninety-one years, the Canada Life has established a reputation for absolute dependability. It has paid to or accumulated for its policyholders, annuitants and beneficiaries more than $650,000,000—over $50,000,000 more than it has received in premiums.

Enthusiasm High At Second School For Leaders Session

Various Eastern Townships Centres Represented at Gathering in Mitchell School Last Night—R. Alex Sim Talks on "The Psychology of Leadership."

A genuine feeling of fellowship permeated Mitchell School last evening when upwards of seventy-five persons entered wholeheartedly into the various activities of the second session of the School for Leaders, sponsored by a group of local citizens under the chairmanship of Wright W. Gibson, principal of the Sherbrooke High School.

Community singing, an address on "The Psychology of Leadership" by R. Alex Sim, secretary of McGill University's Rural Adult Education Service, study groups for various subjects, and folk dancing were enjoyed by an assembly of persons from various walks of life, who came from Cookshire, Waterville, North Hatley, Bromptonville, Hyatt's Mills, East Angus, Coaticook, Ayer's Cliff, Lennoxville and other towns in the district, as well as a large representation from Sherbrooke.

The evening's programme was inaugurated by Mr. Gibson, the chairman, who asked W. H. Wolter to take charge of the community singing. Such songs as "A Capital Ship," "A Merry Life," (which was sung to the tune of "Funiculi, Funicula"), and two rounds, "O How Lovely Is the Evening" and "Are You Sleeping?" were enjoyed, with Mr. Gibson as piano accompanist. Two members of the School's Council, J. Kenny Flaherty and Louis Rosenbloom, were introduced by Mr. Gibson.

Those present then listened with interest to the second of the series of lectures by Mr. Sim on "The Psychology of Leadership," in which he said that to be a successful leader of any group, one must understand the group and its individuals, and the world in which one lives, for leadership is personality in action under group conditions. Leader may stimulate the group to action, but he must also give this action direction. "Leadership and group response," he said, "are best illustrated by an army, which, with its equipment, training and skill for action, but without the directive skill or genius of a Napoleon, is little more than a disorganized rabble. Leadership must be directive."

As an illustration, Mr. Sim remarked that after the Russian revolution, when the country was in chaos, the leaders made a survey of conditions in the country and drafted a five year plan. President Roosevelt in similar circumstances in 1933 brought direction to chaos.

"I am not recommending a revolution, but I do recommend an analysis of conditions, and a five year or a five months' plan of attack," he said.

He suggested that they make a survey of their community, study the activities of its organizations, the facilities for recreation, and find out

SCHOOLS HOLD REMEMBRANCE DAY CEREMONY

Prize-Winners in Essay Contests Conducted at Sherbrooke High and Mitchell Schools Announced this Morning.

Special Remembrance Day ceremonies were held this morning at the Sherbrooke High School and the Mitchell School, when the authors of prize-winning essays were rewarded and addresses on the importance of Remembrance Day delivered. Rev. Fred Williams, of Trinity Church, spoke at the High School, and Rev. F. A. C. Doxsee, of Plymouth Church, at the Mitchell institution.

"The soldiers of 1914-18 left work of a 'war to end war' unfinished, and it is up to us to accept the challenge," Rev. Mr. Williams said in his address to the High School students.

The ceremonies at the High School opened with the singing of "O Canada," the invocation by Rev. A. Ottiwell, of St. Peter's Church, and the Scripture lesson. Following Rev. Mr. Williams' address, a solo, "In Flanders Fields," was sung by Mrs. Lawrence Pergeau, who was accompanied by Miss Muriel McHarg at the piano. A minute's silence was also observed in commemoration of the men who sacrificed their lives Overseas.

"We are assembled here for two reasons," Mr. Williams said. "First, to honor the record of the Canadians who fought or died in the war, and, secondly, to pay our tribute of memory for the years to come."

He declared that the courage of the men who fought in the war is a direct challenge to the boys and girls of this generation.

Citing the example of the 19th century, in which wars in civilized Europe and America were almost continuous, Mr. Williams declared that another world war would result in destruction of western culture and civilization.

"Our responsibility is both individual and corporate," he continued. "From our sense of individual responsibility must develop a great world conscience." The speaker referred to the construction of the Peace Tower at Ottawa, in which memorials of all allied powers are incorporated, and that said, "our ideal should be a memorial in which all nations of the world should be represented as standing for peace."

In presenting the prizes in the essay contest which he sponsored, Col. K. B. Jenckes expressed his gratification at the results obtained. He pointed out how the Canadian Legion is endeavoring to look after disabled and destitute war veterans and stressed the increasing need of the Poppy Day fund. Bob Kellett, president of Grade XI, thanked Col. Jenckes on behalf of the student body.

Col. M. W. McA'Nulty, who judged the essays with Col. E. B. Worthington, remarked upon the high standard which had been set by the contestants.

The ceremony at the Mitchell School opened with the flag salute and "O Canada" and prayer by Rev. Mr. Williams. A few remarks were made by W. H. Wolter, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., after which the prizes were awarded by Col.

Stone Marten In Custody Of Radio Police

The Radio Police — called upon every day to perform a wide variety of duties—were exceptionally proud this morning of their most recent capture.

It had nothing to do with bandits or thugs or burglars or vagrants.

It had nothing to do with climbing trees for stranded cats, or chasing around East Sherbrooke for unruly roosters.

It concerned a full-grown stone marten, which is today in the custody of the municipal police and apparently happy in its new, and strange, surroundings.

The stone marten was encountered on King street west early last evening and showed no dismay at all at having occasion to deal with the bluecoats. In fact, it was quite friendly. One of the constables stepped out of the patrol car and quietly approached the animal, fearful that it would dash away.

But nothing like that happened. The stone marten appeared quite content to be picked up and fondled.

It also seemed to appreciate the ride to police headquarters. Such rides are usually disconcerting.

The stone marten lost no time in striking up a staunch friendship with the men in blue upon arrival at Number One Station on Marquette street.

It will be kept until a claimant, if there is one, puts in an appearance.

Millions Will Pay Tribute To War Dead In Armistice Day Observance

Tomorrow, throughout the length and breadth of the vast British Empire, millions will pause in their daily activities in silent and reverent tribute to those who sleep in Flanders Fields.

From His Majesty King George and members of the Royal Family down to the humblest of his loyal subjects, Empire citizens in all corners of the globe will observe two minutes of silence as the world marks the twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice on November 11, 1918, when, after four long and dreadful years, the Great War ended and the roar of guns was stilled.

In Sherbrooke, as in the rest of the Dominion and Empire, the two-minute period will be at eleven a.m. During those two minutes all normal activity of the city will cease, the clatter of machinery in factories will be stopped and hundreds of employees pause at their tasks. In the quietness of many local homes mothers whose sons lie somewhere in France and wives made widows by an enemy gun will bow in mute but eloquent tribute to the memories of those who sacrificed their lives for King and Country.

At the request of the Honorable Secretary of State for Canada and the Honorable Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec, Mayor Marcus Armitage asks all citizens of Sherbrooke to observe the two-minute silence. Mayor Armitage further urges that all residents fly their flags at top mast throughout tomorrow. Special instructions have also been given to interrupt vehicular traffic through the streets during the silence.

No parades will mark Remembrance Day in Sherbrooke, but returned men will gather at the soldier's memorial on King Hill, where brief ceremonies will be held. Officials of the Bell Telephone Company have announced that from eleven a.m. until 11.02 tomorrow no

Saw Accused Removing Goods From Asbestos Firm Premises

Georges Precourt Testified Today Rosario Gagnon Threatened to "Beat Him Up" If He Mentioned Incident—Crown Expected to Complete Case Against Asbestos Man Today.

Evidence that he had seen Rosario Gagnon drive into the premises of the Canadian Johns-Manville Company and return with his car loaded with material, and that the accused had threatened to "beat him up" if he mentioned it, was placed before a Court of King's Bench jury this morning by Georges Precourt, company brakeman, as the Crown neared completion of its case against the Asbestos youth who is on trial on a charge of theft.

Testimony from persons who allegedly bought material from the accused was again introduced today. First witness this morning was Adelard Hamel, farmer, who stated that he had gone to Gagnon's house to obtain some roofing paper, and had been shown a large number of rolls hidden in the hayloft.

J. A. Pouliot, Asbestos merchant, identified a cheque which he gave Gagnon in payment for twenty rolls of paper he claimed he purchased from the accused. Witness stated the rolls were similar to material kept as good stock in the company stores and could not be considered as scrap.

Testifying yesterday afternoon, Noe Champagne, Danville farmer, declared that Gagnon had offered him 100 rolls of good grade roofing material and had asked him to call for it during the night. He had not purchased any, however. Similar evidence was presented by Fernand Couette, who stated Gagnon had offered him 75 rolls at a price much lower than the retail quotation..

The Crown, which is endeavoring to prove that the material was taken not only from the company's dump but also from the company's stores, also called Peter Bartleman, of Montreal, who was commissioned by the firm

— Eastern Townships' Only English Daily —

SHERBROOKE, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1938.

Hatred of evil and love of good must become habitual.

The Humanitarian Aspect Of A Great City

The generous response made by the citizens of Montreal to the annual appeal of the Federated Charities is but another evidence of the humanitarian aspect of a great city. It shows that there is a heart and human sympathy in a great metropolitan centre, and the people of Montreal and vicinity who helped to put the campaign over in such a splendid manner should feel proud and happy in the final outcome.

The scope for philanthropic work in a centre such as Montreal is unlimited. There are thousands of citizens and their dependents, unable to provide for themselves, who must depend upon the generosity of their more fortunate neighbors. These people must be given a helping hand, and it is only through an organization such as the Federated Charities that this much-needed assistance can be forthcoming.

While the Federated Charities is essentially a Montreal project, its success is closely followed throughout the Eastern Townships. Especially true was this of the 1938 campaign, owing to the fact that this year's general chairman was Mr. John Bassett, President of the Sherbrooke Record and of the Montreal Gazette.

The success of the campaign was in no small way the result of Mr. Bassett's untiring efforts and organization.

We know we are voicing the sentiments of Mr. Bassett's many friends throughout the Townships in extending congratulations to him and his workers upon the splendid success achieved.

The United States Result

Cold, indeed, is the comfort which might be derived by President Roosevelt and his supporters in Tuesday's election of Governors and Congressmen. Although conceding that the Republican party would make some inroads into the top-heavy Democratic majority in the House of Representatives, it is doubtful that any administration supporter was prepared to admit the extent of the opposition victory. In fact the result of the election marked a signal defeat for the Government if it did not bring an actual victory for the Republican party as unofficial tabulations show that a combination of insurgent Democrats and Republicans today control the Lower House.

But perhaps more important than the Republican gains in the House of Representatives was their showing in the country at large for the minor offices. Taking seventeen of the thirty-two Governorships at stake and a corresponding percentage of the local offices, the Republicans today are in the happy position of being able to build up a nation-wide political machine, something which they have been lacking for six years or more, which promises to make them even a more potent threat in 1940 than they are in 1938.

Another notable feature of the election was the virtual elimination of third parties, none of the minor groups recording any substantial progress, which indicates that those dissatisfied with the administration of the day felt that their cause could be better served through the election of straight Republicans, acting as an organized unit, rather than through the return of a scattering of independents and minor party representatives often working at cross purposes.

Furthermore, a sharp rebuke has been issued to those who presented somewhat crude plans for giving something for nothing, the majority of the scrip or fiat money pension plans having been rejected.

Sporting Organizations Expect Too Much

In the olden days a sporting organization was formed because of the love of sport. Today organized sports, be it hockey, baseball or practically any other branch of sport, has reached the status of a racket with the defenceless businessman being made the goat.

In this day of advanced sport when a team or a league is launched the demands for financial assistance go out right and left. The officials of such a league or team seem to think that they are little—or big—gods and that everyone must cater to their whims.

A businessman today is confronted with a demand for a grant to this and that team. Down in his heart he does not want to part with his money because he knows he is not going to get any returns from his investment. But he feels that, for business purposes, he had better do something. So the cheque is signed.

The time has come when a halt should be made to such demands. It is all well and good to have a good local team, but it should be able to finance itself.

Teams are organized with funds provided in many cases by unwilling backers. The season ends, a good portion, if not all, of the money is spent, but no financial statement is issued and no one knows how the money was spent. This is not sport.

Autos And High School

Twenty-five of the most turbulent years of history have rolled away since automobiles first became common enough that many high school boys and girls could drive them. During those years two of the problems facing teachers and parents alike have been, first, how to keep children interested in school and second, how to reduce the traffic hazards created by students driving automobiles.

These two problems may present an answer to each other. The schools of Toledo, O., will soon start regular instruction in automobile driving under the auspices of the Toledo Automobile Club. Two dual control automobiles will be used. Should the experiment prove successful many other schools may adopt the course. Trade schools in many of the larger cities offer courses in mechanical work on automobiles, but these courses are limited to a small percentage of the school enrollment. It is regrettable that so few high school boys and girls have been given competent instruction in driving and ordinary repair work on automobiles where the automobile is so large a part of our life.

Consumer Needs

Consumers with a more realistic view of their future earning capacity are watching their expenditures more carefully.

Consumers are willing to forego services they formerly enjoyed rather than pay higher prices because of the necessary higher overhead costs.

Consumers are learning that co-operation will get for them many things they could not obtain as individuals.

Consumers have more time to devote to their buying and to co-operation.

Wilford L. White made these observations at the annual convention of the National Wholesale Hardware Association at Atlantic City.

Hardware men need more knowledge of consumer needs. Consumers need education on price and quality and hardware men need to know their own products more thoroughly. This sounds like old-time common sense and is well worth repeating to all business men bedeviled by fast changing conditions in a turbulent world of commerce.

But this advice is more than that, it is advice from the one man in the United States who can best follow the consumer's dollar as it flows in trade in the United States.

For Wilford L. White is the marketing research chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Editor's Note-Book

Let no man say that the statesmen of Britain and France were out-traded in the bargain they have struck, until he has attempted to add the total of the price they might have had to pay.

PROTESTS GLARING HEADLIGHTS

To the Editor,
Sherbrooke Record.

Sir:—Having been forced off the road twice recently in one trip from Sherbrooke to Bishopton, I would like to protest through the medium of your paper against what has become, in my opinion, public danger number one in this province, namely, the use of powerful, glaring headlights and, particularly, refusal to dim such lights when meeting other cars.

We had met and passed many cars on the Sherbrooke-Ascot road without difficulty as their lights either did not glare or were dimmed when meeting ours, when, suddenly, we noticed the telephone wires overhead begin to gleam, then the landscape on one side became illuminated, then over a knoll half a mile distant appeared a glowing montser whose radiance was such that our eyes were blinded to all else. Not ten feet of the roadway in front of our car could be seen. Our lights were dimmed and raised again without effect. Slowly we crept along the right border of the roadway, hoping there might be no pedestrian, beast or carriage ahead. Meanwhile the other car was rapidly approaching, bearing directly down upon us. Death and destruction seemed inevitable and imminent. In desperation our wheel was turned still more to the right. Then followed a sickening sliding sensation, accompanied by a series of exclamations of various intensity and character, and we realized we were still on earth, at an angle of about forty-five degrees across a "soft shoulder" and very close to a deep ditch. The monster had disappeared and we were thankful to have escaped with our lives. Thanks to more fortunate fellow sufferers we were soon on our way again, but the experience was repeated about ten miles further on.

Is there nothing to be done by the public against this menace to all motorists? Surely there must be some laws which, if properly enforced, would prevent it to some extent at least. Meantime, personally, I have resolved to insure by car, the family and my life and also to stay at home nights when at all possible, while contemplating the advisibility of equipping my car with a machine gun or perhaps a small cannon, fore and aft, the judicious use of which might be the most effective way of dealing with those who have apparently no consideration for the lives or property of others.

ROBERT ELLIOTT, M.D.
Bishopton.

MUST ARM OR SURRENDER

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

Sooner or later the three remaining democracies among world powers—Britain, France and the United States—will have to oppose with all their resources the onward march of the European and Asiatic totalitarian countries, Germany, Italy and Japan, together with such smaller nations as may come under the dictatorial orbit, are embarked upon aggressions that leave the democracies no choice short of destruction unless they are prepared to defend themselves. And it surely needs no argument that it will be safer to meet the menace, as a unit, than to individually face the growing forces of Nazi and Fascist system of government.

Which is another way of saying that the British Empire is the first line of defence for North America—and France is the foremost salient against aggression by the dictators. The United States is brought definitely into the scheme of things by reason of the fact that Nazism having roots in Germany and Fascism drawing its substance from Italy are steadily at work in South America States. The U.S. may cling to the policy of keeping out of European entanglements, but it cannot escape the challenge to the Monroe Doctrine contained in dictatorial encroachment into the Americas. In that knowledge lies the explanation of the enormous rearmament plans of the Washington government. The United States is increasingly aware that self-preservation demands powerful armaments—though these may never be called into use.

And what is true for the U.S. is doubly applicable to Great Britain and France. It has taken the hot breath of an impending holocaust in Europe to rouse these countries to their defensive weak spots—and to set them rearming at redoubled speed. Thus the strange analogy of the so-called "peace of Munic" actually serving as the prod to far greater preparations to fight in need be—or to deter Hitler and his "friends" from forcing war upon peace-loving democratic countires. It is all a bit puzzling to the British people—it is a matter of utter astonishment to the uninformed Nazis in Germany. So much so, it appears, that Berlin is reported to be waiting for London to officially "explain the logic of Britain's armament upsurge."

That is the trouble when even as intelligent a people as the Germans are given only one side of the international situation. They entirely fail to realize that the British nation, desiring only peace and safety, lives in constant danger of being reduced to dependence upon the whims of Adolf Hitler unless so stoutly armed that the power-mad Nazi dictator dare not attempt to bend her to his will.

STARING US IN THE FACE

From The Pen Of E.T. Writers

ARMISTICE DAY.

"And they lived and stood upon their feet, an exceeding great army."—Ezekiel 37:10.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
Stand up in all your ghostly might,
Unvanquished in the hard-won fight,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
Who came from lands so near and far,
Who fought to free the world from war,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
List to the war drum's throbbing pain,
List to the bugle's piercing strain,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
The world is dark with terror now,
Forgotten is your solemn vow,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
Men, maddened everywhere by fear,
Have failed your warning words to hear,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
The fierce war god of fearful mien,
Cruel-visaged Mars, abroad is seen,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
To you we stretch out suppliant hands,
A host of youth from many lands,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
Illusions gone, children of Fact,
We long to know how we should act,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
We dream not of a warless world,
Of battle flags forever furled,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Stand up, ye dead in Flanders Fields,
And tell us what ye know today,
Help us to see and know our way,
Stand up on Flanders Fields.

Youth of this land and every land,
Responsive now to your command,
We rise and stand on Flanders Fields
Unvanquished, but not victors we.
By arms comes not true victory,
Alive in death this truth we see.

To you we give this quickening word:
No peace abides won by the sword.
Illusions pass, but lives outpoured
Find lasting Fact: Love is their Lord.

Ye called us from our graves. Now
ye have heard,
Leave us to rest in peace, no more disturbed.

TIMELY COMMENTS

The new Conservative leader says: "I do not believe any industry has any right to exploit people behind tariff walls, and I do believe that any industry which does so should have its protection taken away." Good for Dr. Manion! And good for Canada if that precept became practice.—Toronto Star.

Now that Thomas E. Dewey has consented to be Republican candidate for Governor of New York, it is possible that his type of moustache will become the fashion. While not a handlebar, it is far more impressive than certain other moustaches that could be named.—Montreal Gazette.

Dr. Robert B. McClure, field director of International Red Cross for Central China, now visiting in Canada, says that seventy per cent. of the war patients in China are women and children. As civilization advances rapidly towards perfection it is clearly seen that the way to win wars is not to defeat the soldiers at the front but to destroy the women and children in the rear.—Croft's Review.

Agatha (eyeing cheap, worn-out car): "We'd never get there."

Billy: "Why not? These peaches we're eating came all the way from California in a tin can."

Landlord (to hard-up dentist)—"Can't you do anything about paying the rent that's due?"

Dentist: "Well, I could pull out all your teeth for nothing."

Constructor: "Does the foreman know that the trench has fallen in?"

Laborer: "Well, sir, we're digging him out to tell him."

Author: "The setting of my new play is in Australia."

Manager: "Fine! Get it produced there."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

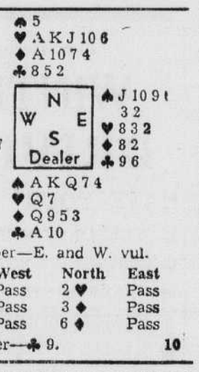
COMBINED STRENGTH BETTER CHOICE THAN A ONE-HAND POWERHOUSE

Par bridge—Par score is 100. Yesterday I asked four questions about this hand. How many did you answer correctly? Deduct 10 for each incorrect answer. Eighty is a "good" score; 90 shows expert play; below 80, average. Expert credits are added for brilliant play, and you should try to average at least one such credit on each hand in the series.



Rubber—E. and W. vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	3 ♦	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	6 ♦	Pass

Opener—♣ 9. 10

When a slam is being considered, it is usually wise to seek out the best trump suit, even when it involves showing suits of slightly less than ordinary biddable strength. From a glance at North's hand, one would assume that he would prefer hearts as trumps, but the longer (combined) diamond suit turns out to be preferable.

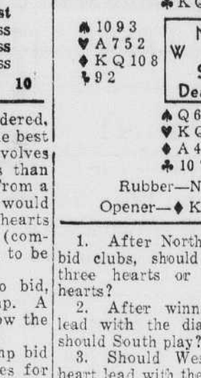
1. On his second turn to bid, South should bid two no trump. A two-spade rebid would not show the full strength of the hand.
2. As South's two no trump bid promises strength, North hopes for a slam and therefore can bid his weak diamond suit.
3. Having found a fit in diamonds, the slam should be played in that suit.
4. East should open the club nine, as the clubs are the only unbid suit.

The club opening makes the hand difficult, as the declarer now cannot afford to draw trumps. The only hope lies in discarding declarer's losing clubs on the spades, or dummy's losing club on the hearts.

The ace of spades should be cashed, followed by the king. An "expert credit" will be given if West refuses to ruff the second spade, and discards a heart.

The queen of spades is continued, and West ruffs with the jack of diamonds. North is given credit for an expert play if he refuses to overruff, and discards his last club. The hand can now be made safely with a diamond finesse.

Contract Problem
(Solution in next issue)



Rubber—Neither vul.
Opener—♦ K. 10

1. After North has bid and rebid clubs, should South jump to three hearts or simply bid two hearts?
2. After winning the opening lead with the diamond ace, what should South play?
3. Should West win the first heart lead with the ace?
4. Can West defeat the contract by making the club play when he wins with the heart ace?

There are two opportunities for expert play in this hand.

KEEP SCALE OF A FISH DISH VERY SIMPLE

Dress your fish simply. It will taste smarter. Fresh fish needs no disguise, despite all the complicated talk you may have heard. Oysters, too, respond best to gentle treatment. They are their own reward in most cases.

Buy only one hundred per cent. fresh and quick frozen fish. It should be firm to the touch, have red firm gills and be moist of eye and have shiny scales.

Fish Baked in Milk

(Serves 4 to 6)

Two pounds fish fillets, 1 egg, 1-3 cup dry bread crumbs, 2 cups whole milk, 1 1-2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-2 teaspoon minced garlic, 1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley.

Clean fillets and wipe dry. Beat egg lightly and brush over one side of fillets. Then sprinkle lightly with salt, bread crumbs and lemon juice. Lay in well-greased baking dish. Pour in milk. Add salt to taste and pepper if wanted. Then dot bread-crumbed fish with butter.

Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for about thirty-five minutes. Sprinkle with parsley and serve very hot.

Pigs in Blanket

(Serves 4 to 6)

One pint large oysters, 1-2 pound thinly sliced bacon, salt and pepper to taste, lemon sections.

Clean oysters, carefully removing all bits of shell. Drain thoroughly and season delicately with salt and pepper. Wrap a strip of bacon around each oyster and secure with a toothpick. Use a shallow, lightly greased baking dish. Stand wrapped oysters on end. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about an hour, or until bacon is crisp. Serve with sections of lemon and dishes of cole slaw.

SHEARING CHANGES CHARACTER OF FUR

Not a new fur, but a new version of an old favorite, is sheared racoon. By a special treatment which leaves a rich, lustrous pile, the character of the pelt is changed from one of purely utilitarian uses to a light-weight flattering fur equally suitable for sophisticated town or country wear. Undyed, sheared racoon is lively enough to be charming with black, yet soft enough to make an excellent foil for the season's high shades. Best of all, it is said to retain all of its long-wearing qualities.

A bevy of young people, including guests from the United and Anglican churches in Coaticook, and from the Church of the Advent, spent a most delightful time in St. Peter's Church hall last evening, when the "Good Companions" acted as hosts and hostesses for what proved to be one of the most successful parties of the season. Skipper Colin Standish's cheery welcoming words, and the efficient manner in which Mr. Oliver Miller, as master of ceremonies, directed the excellent programme of games and stunts, being largely responsible for the wonderful esprit de corps which permeated the jolly gathering of young people from various church groups. Miss Betty Earnshaw acted as convener for the dainty refreshments, which were served during the interval between the fixed programme and the informal dance which brought the successful party to a close. Prior to dispersing, Mr. Gordon Beerworth, president of the Coaticook group, voiced the thanks and appreciation of his confreres to St. Peter's Good Companions, who had so right royally entertained them, his remarks being cordially affirmed by Mr. Charles Lemay, who spoke for the guests from the Church of the Advent.

Southwood, president. KEEP COSTUME JEWELRY ATTRACTIVE

Costume jewelry being so important this season, a compact kit containing a fluid jewelry cleaner, brush, metal tray and tweezers, is handy to have in order to keep it always clean and bright. Simply brush the solution on the piece to be cleaned until it forms a lather, then wash in clear cold water and dry with a soft cloth. Or simply wash in warm suds, adding a little ammonia if you wish. Use a soft brush, taking care to go all over the piece, back and front, rinse in clear water and dry.

EAST ANGUS

Friends of Miss Eleanor Howe, popular bride of the week gave her a shower on Thursday evening, November 3rd, at the home of Mrs. C. E. Rogers, in East Angus. Bridge was played at three tables, after which a buffet supper was served. Mrs. Lewis Howe and Mrs. Paul Armstrong poured. The table was centered with a miniature bride carrying a shower bouquet of white 'mums. Hidden under the doll's dress was an automatic toaster, which was presented to the guest-of-honor.

HERE'S CLOSEUP OF THAT HITLER 'GIRL FRIEND'

The glamorous Leni Riefenstahl says she merely "works" for Hitler, but continental gossips have long talked of a romance between Der Fuehrer and the movie star, pictured as she arrived in the United States.

The woman whose beauty, daring, and acting and directoral ability carried her high into the councils of Adolf Hitler is again in the United States.

She is Leni Riefenstahl, and she is showing here the Olympic Games movies she made for the German government in Berlin two years ago. She has just finished a long stay in France with the same purpose.

The position of the charming, unmarried, thirty-year-old actress in the German government is not certain. Smilingly, she denied on landing in New York, the often repeated story that Hitler has been romantically drawn to her, though she has Jewish blood.

Whatever her present relationship with Hitler and the German government, the "Film Director of National Pomp and Pageantry" is not travelling the world showing pictures made at great government expense unless she still stands in favor with that government and with Hitler personality.

Born in Tenement

Miss Riefenstahl has had a fascinating career. She was born in a Berlin tenement, daughter of a plain workman, a plumber.

Ignoring parental opposition, she turned to the stage. At fourteen she became a dancer, and was attached to a troupe under Mary Wigman.

Like Hitler, she dabbled in painting. In 1923, the year of Hitler's "beer-cellar putsch," she was with a minor theatrical company in Munich.

Then she broke into the movies. Her dancing, skill, and beauty caused her to rise swiftly.

She made "The Holy Mountain," "The Great Leap," "The Blue Light," "Storm Over Mt. Blanc," "The White Hell of Piz Palu," "White Frenzy," "S. O. S. Iceberg." All her films ran to ski-jumping and airplaning, something like an artistic "Perils of Pauline."

Hitler is believed to have seen her work in "Blue Light" and asked to meet her. This was a year before he took power in Germany. When he became dictator the memory of the vibrant actress remained.

In 1933, '34, and '35 he called on her to make the official movies of the Nazi Party congresses. No facility, no aid, no expense was spared. In 1936 she made similar official pictures of the Olympic Games at Berlin.

In the "Iceberg" film she flew among Iceland bergs with Ernst Udet, German flying ace, and in the mountain pictures she refused to have doubles fill in for her in the most daring episodes. Yet her salon in Berlin when she is there is the most brilliant in the capital.

Work For Hitler

It was rumored a little more than a year ago that Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister, denounced Miss Riefenstahl at a Berlin social gathering as part Jewish. She was supposed to have been practically kicked out of Germany at that time.

Not only does Miss Riefenstahl deny all this, but it seems unlikely that she would be touring the world on her present mission with expensive official films if it were so. Even if there were a faint Jewish strain in Miss Riefenstahl's ancestry, is would make no difference, for Hitler has pointed out that he, and he alone, will determine who is and who is not a Jew in Germany.

Outstanding as artist, athlete, director, business executive, Miss Riefenstahl is in many respects the outstanding woman in a Germany where such carcerism is discouraged in women.

"I work for Hitler," she said in New York. That is what she is doing on the present visit.

NEGLECT WINTER DRY SKIN AND YOU'LL RAISE A CROP OF WRINKLES BY SPRING

This is the time of year when the dry-skinned individual ought to begin spending a few extra minutes a day giving her skin a little special attention. Otherwise, the dry condition is likely to become even more annoying. In fact, it's quite possible that by next spring she will have acquired a network of fine lines and wrinkles which could easily have been avoided.

If your skin is dry, better wash your face with soap and water only once a day during the coldest winter months—preferably at night before going to bed. Scrub it thoroughly then, of course, and rinse with cold water until cheeks are pinkish and tingling. This rinsing is very important. Afterward, smooth on night cream.

The night emollient you choose can be of heavy or light consistency, depending simply on which you happen to like. However, a light, liquifying cleansing cream won't do for this purpose. You ought to have a rich cream for night use and a cleansing cream to use in the morning and during the day.

Generally speaking, the liquifying creams are not especially suitable for dry skin. They need a richer type with more body. It won't spread as easily as the former varieties, but it will soften as well as cleanse.

Hang Your Head

In the morning, smooth on a thin layer of cleansing cream, remove, then apply another coat and leave this on while you brush your teeth. When you have removed the second layer with soft cleansing tissues, blend on cream rouge, then press quantities of face powder from base of throat up over forehead. Let this set a moment or two. Whisk off the excess powder with a clean piece of fluffy cotton or a soft powder brush. If your skin isn't alarmingly dry, perhaps you will prefer to remove the second coat of cleansing cream more carefully, and use foundation lotion or cream under your makeup.

Two or three times a week while you are brushing your hair or patting on night cream, sit on a chair with your head hanging down between your knees or stand with your torso bent forward from the waistline as far as possible. Occasionally letting blood rush to your face in this manner is excellent for your complexion.

On a level road, an ordinary elephant can carry a half-ton load.

DEATHS REPORTED

MRS. ELIZABETH ANNE JACKSON PAGE

Death removed a much-esteemed former resident of Sherbrooke when Mrs. Elizabeth Anne Jackson Page passed away at her home in Gorham, N.H., on October 17th. Mrs. Page had been in good health until the end, and her sudden demise was a great shock to her family and friends.

The late Mrs. Page, born in Sherbrooke in 1862, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Berwick. She received her education in the Sherbrooke schools, and in 1884 was united in marriage to J. Franklin Page, who predeceased her in 1904. Of this union five children were born.

In 1926 Mrs. Page moved to the home of her sons, Ernest and Elmer, in Gorham, N.H., and passed the remainder of her days there. She is survived by three sons, Ernest and Elmer, of Gorham, and Irvine, of Brompton, and by one daughter, Mrs. W. M. Fancy, of Gorham.

One son, Earl, died at the age of fifteen. Mrs. Page also left to mourn her loss, several grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Although the deceased confined her activities to the family circle, she made many friends, who mourn her passing.

Prayers, conducted by Rev. A. M Van Dyke, of Berlin, were held at Mrs. Page's late Gorham residence, after which the body was brought to Sherbrooke for burial. The funeral service was held in the Church of the Advent, Rev. Mr. Moffat officiating. The bearers, relatives and friends of the deceased, were Melville Page, Gordon McGenty, Howard McGenty and Hiram McLeod. Many beautiful floral tributes showed the esteem in which Mrs. Page was held.

Interment was made beside her husband in the Prospect Street Cemetery.

STANBRIDGE R. AID APPOINTS NEW PRESIDENT

Mrs. George Hayes Elected Chief Executive of Ladies' Aid at November Meeting —News Budget from Stanbridge Ridge.

Stanbridge Ridge, Nov. 10.—The November meeting of the Ladies' Aid was featured by the election of officers for the coming year, resulting in the selection of Mrs. George Hayes as president.

The meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Hayes, opened with the regular exercises after which the minutes of the last assembly were read and adopted. Then followed the election of officers, the principal business of the afternoon. The following were elected: Mrs. George Hayes, president; Mrs. Pattenden, vice-president; Mrs. Sager, secretary; Mrs. Baker, treasurer and Mrs. C. Vaughan, flower fund treasurer, the last three being re-elected.

During the course of the afternoon regret was expressed at the loss to the Ladies' Aid occasioned by the departure of Mrs. George Phelps, who has taken up residence in Bedford. Mrs. Phelps, who has been an enthusiastic member of the Society since its inception twenty years ago, had held several offices in the Aid and was always a ready worker for the good of the Assocation. Her absence will leave a vacancy that will be difficult to fill.

After the business of the meeting had been completed, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. L. Hayes and Miss Winnie Douglas, served supper.

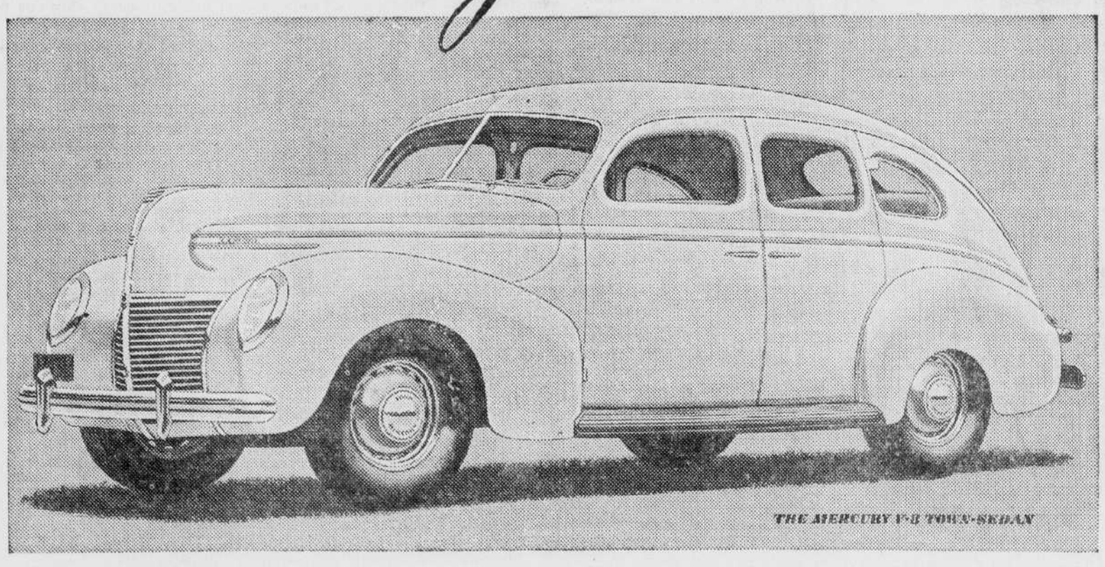
A NEW CAR JOINS THE FORD QUALITY GROUP

THE MERCURY
V-TYPE Eight
A PRODUCT OF THE FORD ORGANIZATION



THE MERCURY V-8 TOWN-SEDAN

For 1939 the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, presents an entirely new car—The Mercury 8. Outstanding features are streamlined beauty—rich upholstery and appointments—95-horsepower V-type engine—hydraulic brakes—remarkable quiet and comfort—116-inch wheelbase, 195 inches over-all length—wide bodies—exceptional room for passengers and luggage.

THOUSANDS of motorists, noting the extra value provided by the Ford and the Lincoln-Zephyr in their price fields, have had a desire for an equally outstanding value in the lower medium-price field.

The new Mercury 8 is the answer to that desire. It provides the added size and luxury that extra dollars buy, plus something this price class has never known before . . . Ford quality and dependability, with the performance and economy of a Ford-built V-type 8-cylinder engine.

It is made possible by the modern, progressive policies of the Ford organization and its constant effort to give greater value to a widening circle of motorists.

The clean, flowing lines of the new Mercury reflect the distinction of the Lincoln-Zephyr—accepted style leader and an example of Ford pioneering in original design.

The Mercury is a big car—long and unusually wide—with exceptional space for passengers and luggage. Three people can ride comfortably (we emphasize the word comfortably) in both the front and back seats. Head room and leg room are equal to that of many cars selling at considerably higher prices.

Because the Mercury is a big car, it is powered by a big 95-horsepower engine, of the eight-cylinder V-type that has made such an unusual record of performance. Motorists who now own cars in this price field will be amazed at the economy of the Mercury 8.

It is a remarkably quiet car. Scientific research by Ford engineers has minimized noise and vibration. Microphones and stethoscopes have been used to locate the sources of disturbing noises and new sound-deadening materials developed.

Bodies are all-steel, of course, welded into a single one-piece unit for your greater protection. The new hydraulic brakes are built to strict Ford standards of safety and dependability.

We invite you to see the new Mercury 8.

Backfire Dept.: Plenty of the West Virginia fans were carrying a peeve because the Mountaineers' coaches let Bill Dutton, all-state high school end last year at Weston, W.Va., slip out of their fingers. Seems the kid enrolled at West Virginia, came out for football, but the coaches turned thumbs down. So he quit and went to Pitt, where he's doing a neat job of halfbacking Jock Sutherland's freshmen. And when the Panther plebes walloped the Mountaineer youngsters, young Mr. Weston only came through with two long touchdown gallops.

Schools Hold Remembrance Day Ceremony

Jenckes and a few words spoken, congratulating the successful candidates, by Col. McA'Nulty. "In Flanders Fields" was recited by Doris Campbell, and Miss Elizabeth Horton thanked Col Jenckes for sponsoring the contest.

Rev. Mr. Doxsee based his remarks upon the poem "In Flanders Fields," touching upon the author, its meaning and its significance as regards the present day. He described the poem written by Col. John McRea, a native of Montreal who graduated from the University of Toronto and was a professor at McGill University, as one of the most beautiful things to come out of the war. Col. McRea, he said, was a great lover of horses, dogs and children and his poem first appeared in Punch on December 8th, 1915. Col. McRea died on January 28, 1918.

Winners and the topics selected were announced as follows:

Class I (pupils of Grades X and XI): Special prize, Kathleen Hall—"The Significance of the Poppy in Connection with Armistice Day"; first prize: Morris Lemay—"The Significance of the Poppy in Connection with Armistice Day"; second prize: Phyllis Porter—"Champions of Peace"; third prize, Marjorie Atto—"Champions of Peace."

Millions Will Pay Tribute To War Dead

calls will be answered by the operators.

Remembrance Day services tomorrow will have a special significance in view of the troubled state of the world. The hope of those who died in the "war to end all wars" has not been realized and throughout the world the air is charged with rumors and threats of war.

In spite of present day strife, however, those who pause in silence tomorrow will remember that the men for whom the silence is observed fought and died for a cause they believed to be just. Failure of the world to profit fully by their heroism and courageous sacrifice does not alter the meaning or the worth of their unselfish service.

Enthusiasm High At Second School for Leaders Session

whether the churches compete or co-operate.

"What does your community know about this strange new post war world?" he asked. "Study groups, forums, etc., are a means to this understanding. Does your programme and your leadership take into account the new forces and conditions? Leadership must not only be group conscious, but also community and world conscious. At the same time, we must not lose sight of our individual member, for we must try to collate the needs of the individual with the social and economic conditions in which he lives."

Mr. Sim pointed out that leadership is the activity of influencing people to co-operate toward some goal which they come to find desirable. It should emphasize the satisfaction and sense of fulfilment secured by the followers, and there are four factors in leadership which should be taken count of: first, to examine the way by which people rise to the stimulus of leadership; second, the process of influencing; third, the nature of the goals, which people find desirable, and fourth, the qualities of the leaders in action.

"Leadership," he said, seeks to achieve the fulfillment of all the unrealized talents that are buried in every person; it visualizes the potential personality; it sees the possibilities of creative living in a community; it begins by setting new standards of values. Our sense of values may be destructive or constructive to personality. Leadership directs individual and group activity into constructive channels."

In conclusion, Mr. Sim remarked, "The development of the person is the prime object of intelligent, consecrated leadership, and this calls for creative leadership. The curriculum of the School for Leaders includes activities that may be creative: drama, music, recreation and study. In them the person not only realizes his real self—his new self—but he expresses this new self in his play, acting, singing, and other forms of the activity in which he may become engaged."

At the conclusion of this lecture, those present formed into elective groups in different parts of the building and engaged in the study, or discussion, of the several pursuits under consideration.

About twenty of the younger members took part in the recreation group, which included practical demonstration of games under the leadership of Miss Margaret Nicholson, with Miss Lucille Moore acting as piano accompanist, and the spirit of real enthusiasm which prevailed here was also apparent in the other elective groups.

With the ringing of the school's electric bell, all re-assembled in the common hall, where Miss Nicholson directed about fifteen minutes of folk dancing, which brought an instructive and highly enjoyable evening to a close.

Saw Accused Removing Goods From Asbestos Firm Premises

to investigate a series of robberies.

Bartleman, who has since severed his connection with the Asbestos company, testified that he and his men had kept a close watch over the dump but had caught only one person over a long period.

Theodore Lefebvre, brother-in-law of the accused, admitted that from time to time he had sold rolls of roofing paper for Gagnon.

"Did you know where Gegnon obtained this material?" he was asked by Crown Prosecutor Antonio Drolet.

"No," he replied.

"Did you often see supplies of asbestos paper at Gagnon's home?"

"There was some there nearly all the time," witness said.

Leodore Blanchette, George Frechette, Paul Trottier and Herman Nolin, all farmers residing in Asbestos district, stated from the witness stand that Gagnon had sold them supplies of flooring material and shingles at various times.

The material, they said, although not of the best grade, was nevertheless in good condition.

"Did you notice any printing on the rolls' wrapping paper?" Herman Nolin was asked.

"On one of the wrappings," he replied, "I noticed the name of the Canadian Johns-Manville Company."

Andrew Leroux testified that in April of 1937 he had helped to pull Gagnon's car out of a mud hole. The accused, he said, had offered him payment in the form of roofing material. He had noticed several rolls in the automobile, he said.

The case is continuing.

CORNWALL FLYERS IN SECOND PLACE TIE

Penniston Pack Take Rapides On Home Ice

Flyers Win Five-Three and Step Up on Equal Terms with "Battleship" Leduc's Charges—Lloyd Perras Sensational for Cornwall in Last Period—Braves at Shawinigan Tonight.

Albert (Battleship) Leduc called time out today to extract a monkey wrench from his brand new Lachine Rapides hockey machine—a huge, damaging monkey wrench tossed there by Don Penniston's fast-moving Cornwall Flyers in Provincial Senior Hockey League competition.

Last season's Allan Cup finalists handed Rapides a five to three setback at Lachine last night, their second triumph in two meetings between the clubs and Lachine's second loss in three games.

The win moved Flyers into a second-place tie with Leduc's crew—but with a better record. Flyers have started twice and won both while Rapides gained their position by a four-point victory over Boston Olympics. The loop-leading Valleyfield Braves engage Cataracts at Shawinigan Falls tonight.

The last man on the Cornwall line-up, Goalie Lloyd Perras, proved the stumbling block for Lachine sharp-shooters. Time and again when Rapides threatened to take command in an action-packed third session, Perras blocked off the tying goal with a sensational get.

And he was just as brilliant throughout the contest save for one brief let-down. After a scoreless first period, Tommy McIntyre broke the ice for Cornwall in 9:27 of the middle frame when he took a pass from Shaw to poke the puck by Conrad Dion. Shaw then added another and McClelland made it three to nothing with less than a minute remaining.

Nine minutes past the third period marker saw Perras slacken a little and Lilly pumped two counters by him in quick succession to bring Lachine within striking distance. Gardner then tallied unassisted to give Cornwall a two-goal working advantage but Tag Millar cut it in half with less than two minutes to go.

Here, in a last desperate move, Leduc yanked Dion from the nets and iced six forwards, but the strategy misfired. Dick Proulx lofted a long shot that found the cords and gave Flyers the decision.

SPORTING NOTES

Y. M. C. A. AGGREGATION DEFEATS S. H. S.

The Y. M. C. A. and Sherbrooke High School badminton teams engaged in a friendly joust in the "Y" gym last night, with Bill Peak's players chalking up three victories and the students two.

"Pete" Miller, of the school squad, picked up a win in a singles encounter with Ed Stevens a "Y" standard-bearer, while Miss E. Seeley and Don Barfield chipped in with a mixed doubles triumph for the school, downing Miss G. Pye and Ivan Theberge.

Miss A. Strickland, of the "Y" side, defeated Miss B. Ferguson in a ladies' single duel while Miss Seeley and Doug MacIntyre knocked off Miss Eta Mittleman and Art Wright in mixed doubles.

In the deciding game Trevor "Edgewood" Stevens pinned a defeat on B. Wood and gave the "Y" the edge in the match.

An auspicious beginning for badminton at the "Y", the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the players.

BOOST WALES AS EMPIRE GAMES SITE

Cardiff, Wales, Nov. 10.—(CP)—Sir Robert Webber in a Welsh broadcast enlarged on his suggestion that Wales should stage the Empire Games in 1946.

The games engendered a spirit of good will between members of all parts of the Empire and he was sure everyone would agree it would be all to the good if the games could be held in turn in small countries such as Wales, New Zealand, Rhodesia, and in some of the colonies.

With "Fast Freight" Syd Ball in the pivot spot, "Big Freight" Larry Ball and "Caboose" Art Stocks on guard and "Midnight Special" Cecil Mullin and "Express Train" Bill Hammond the main cogs in the wheel, the Q.C.R. cagers are drilling at the "Y" in preparation for competition in the City and District Basketball League.

Creighton Nutbrown, the "Disraeli Special," has been chief organizer of the new team, and hopes the railroaders will make a good showing in their first venture into loop play. The entry of Q.C.R. may make for added interest in basketball, and at least will mark a change from the traditional line-up of two "Y" squads, Bishop's, Sherbrooke High School and Lennoxville High School.

The railroaders hope to blind their opponents with more than speed, hence their flashy red and white undies. Dave Holgate led a squad of all-stars to a close win over Q.C.R. in a practice tilt at the "Y" the other night. Dave will play for the Reds this year, and should roll in plenty of baskets, to say nothing of many tiskets and taskets.

Talking hockey for the nonce, when the intermediate, junior and juvenile leagues swing into operation newspapermen in the newly-established press box above the stalls and stables at the far end of the Arena will be at a great disadvantage. They will be forced to follow play without aid of the time-clock, and will have to do one of two things: Take a wild guess at the times of goals, or race around the promenade as men demented to consult Messrs. Choquette and Authier, who hold forth at the rinkside, directly in front of the old press box.

Rightly enough, the old order usually changeth, yielding place to new, but there are times when a look is better than a leap. The old location of the press box was entirely satisfactory to writers and telegraph operators, but not so the new. Members of the sports writing fraternity all demand a return to their haunts of the days of yore.

A good representation of the "Old Faithfuls' Society" will be in uniform when Windsor Mills intermediates open their campaign in defence of the championship of the St. Francis Valley Hockey League, which they have held for the last five years. Among them are Bobby Morey, Bus McLenahan. W Gauvin, E. Bailey, R. Longpre and A. Frenette.

A surprise is in store for followers of Valley loop games, and Dallas Grant and aides in the Papertown are the boys in the know. Suffice to say there will be not a few new faces on display when the squad doffs wraps and skates out to play its first tilt.

A story is going the rounds that Charlie Gordon, a character in the Sherbrooke sporting firmament, is planning to operate an intermediate aggregation. Charlie is something of an idealist, a dreamer, and goes through life with a swashbuckling air of nonchalance. If the "Gordon Gophers" materialize, they should be a breezy aggregation.

Saturday's game will decide whether Sherbrooke Athletics will advance to Quebec Rugby Football Union finals or hang up their woolies for the season and gather round the stove to talk it all over. The one certain thing is that the Athletics should win, and win by plenty, but, being unpredictable, as were the beavers of softball fame, they can win or lose in the twinkling of an eye.

They have four points to pick up before they can step out on the victory trail. Valois will bring a young, hard-fighting bunch to Sherbrooke, and three lads in particular. Helps, Henry and Taylor, will bear close watching. Henry kicks, helped by Helps on field goals, Helps directs the team and carries the ball on quarterback sneaks, while Taylor specializes in broken field dashes. The latter ran like the wind over the hills and dales at Valois, and may be expected to flit hither and thither in very sprightly fashin on the Parade Grounds.

Tim Piche's circus of grunt and groan artists, both tame and wild, staged a show for the local Knights of Columbus. Wild shrieks, howls of agony and ape-like war cries issued from the sanctum of the order as the matmen went through their paces. Although amateur, they went the pros one better in the matter of ring histrionics, and it is reported that the noble Knights enjoyed themselves no end.

If the cooler weather continues it will not be long before the St. Pat's rink will be flooded and frozen hard and the lads and lasses out on the blades. Tradition demands that the Irish academy be the first to have natural ice. This season, as in former years, practically the whole student body will bid for jobs with the various school teams. The lads are gunning for the Interscholastic title snared last year by Sherbrooke High School.

Notice that Johnny Hibbard figures prominently in the plans drawn up by the coach of McGill's senior hockey team.

Jones, who used to be a railroad conductor, got a job on one of the big air liners. One day he met an old crony who asked him if his new job was much different from his old one.

"Not much," was the reply, "except they won't let me throw a man off for not paying his fare."

ADAMS WILLING TO HAVE WINGS CLIMB SLOWLY

It's a wise hockey manager who knows he can't build up an ailing team or an ailing player overnight. The game moves fast, but its sheer speed is all the more reason for insisting on sound, carefully-processed machinery.

So Jack Adams, who had Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League's front row two seasons ago and must long for a winner again, may get better results in the end for his current attitude of caution. "Genial Jawn" says he will be satisfied if the Wings manage to gain the fourth play-off position this winter, and he's willing to let Charlie Conacher take his time in regaining his old-time form.

There are spots, though, where the Wings will have to tread on the loud pedal to make sure they're contenders when the times comes to apply pressure in every game. Tonight's game with New York Americans at Detroit looks like one of those spots.

No one has intimated that the Americans are going to set the league afire. They lost six straight pre-season games to New York Rangers, then dropped their schedule opener to Chicago six to one. Red Dutton will have the Americans punching before long but right now they can still be used as a stepping-stone.

There should be a few indications then, about what the Wings, and principally Conacher, can do when the time comes. The winner will have recorded its first victory of the season.

Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs will be in the same boat at Montreal. The Leafs have dropped their first two games and Canadiens lost in their opener against Chicago Sunday.

For the meeting, Toronto has called on Normie Mann to replace Gordon Drillon in the line-up. Mann was obtained on option from New York Rangers' Philadelphia farm club to fill in when Drillon suffered a broken thumb Saturday night againts Chicago. Canadiens probably will play without Polly Drouin, diminutive centre who suffered a wrenched knee against the Black Hawks Sunday.

SMOKE EATERS START DOWN EUROPEAN TRAIL

Trail, B.C., Nov. 10—(CP) — Trail Smoke Eaters, Allan Cup hockey champions who leave tonight for Europe and a hockey tour in search of the world's amateur title, will play a series of games in Canada before they sail from Halifax December 10 on the Duchess of York.

The schedule includes: Nov. 28 or 29, Oshawa or Kingston; Dec. 1, Ottawa Senators; Dec. 2-3, Cornwall Flyers; Dec. 5, Quebec Aces; Dec. 8, game in Saint John unconfirmed; Dec. 9, game in Halifax unconfirmed.

Tickets for next week's Fred Apostoli-Young Corbett fight (now designated for the middleweight "title" will cost $11.50 per copy tops. But you could have seen the same bout in San Francisco last February for $5.75.

Hymie Caplin points out that he put nothing in writing with Seattle promoters about bringing Solly Krieger back there to fight, but he'll give those fellows out there a chance to meet any "title" offers he gets around here.

CANADIAN TEAM DEFENDS HORSE SHOW TROPHIES

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The military phase of the National Horse Show, which so far has been decidedly Chilean and United States with emphasis on the former, may take on another angle tonight when the Canadian army officers defend another of the many trophies they won last year.

The International Military Special Challenge Trophy brings the officers and their picked mounts of six nations into the Madison Square Garden arena with last year's winner, Lieutenant Marshall Cleland, of Troy, Ont., in the gallery. Lieutenant Cleland injured his back last summer and probably is through riding over the jumps while Squire, the twenty-three-year-old horse he rode to victory, was killed in Europe several months ago.

The Canadians present a strong front, however, with Captain Stuart Bate and Lieutenant Douglas Cleland, twenty-two year old brother of Marshall, their main reliance.

The Dominion officers got away to a bad start in this show but the last two nights they came up with rides that indicated their horses are rounding into form, now that the weather is cooler.

The Canadian riders matched the performance of the Chile and United States teams last night in the final test of the three-day competition for the trophy presented by President Arturo Alessandri, of Chile, but the bad night in the opening competition spoiled their chance of retainng the trophy. As it was the Chileans won with a low score of twenty faults and were trailed in order by the United States, Irish, Mexicans, Canadians and Cubans.

JULES HUOT IN FIRST BRACKET OF QUALIFIERS

White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Sixty qualifiers, including some of the country's top flight golfers and some little known to the big time teed off today in the final thirty-six holes of the $3,000 White Sulphur Springs Open, initial important money tournament of the winter season.

In the vanguard was "Slammin' Sam" Snead, White Sulphur pro, who went into a slim lead yesterday at the end of the second eighteen of the seventy-two hole test when he fired a two under par sixty-eight. This gave him a 136, one stroke better than Henry Picard, of Hershey, Pa. Other qualifiers posted 153 or better.

Snead and Picard battled it out down the back stretch, with the home course ace finally picking up birdies on two holes as Picard parred his way in.

Ky Laffoon, of Chicago, youthful Chandler Harper, of Portsmouth, Va., and Juliet Huot, the 127-pound former Canadian open champion from Quebec, held close to the pace with 138's.

"Light Horse" Harry Cooper, entered from Chicopee, Mass., shot a sixty-nine to come in at 139 along with Billy Burke, of Belleair, Fla., who fell a stroke off his pace of yesterday.

Rangers' Farm Squad Burns Up Minor Loop

Philadelphia Ramblers Tack Nine-Two Pasting on Springfield Indians, Recently Seen Here—Defenceman Joe Cooper, an Ex-Manhattanite, Leads Undefeated Philly Flashes with Two Tallies.

Lester Patrick, the cagey leader of New York's National Hockey League Rangers, should take a "busman's holiday" some night and see a hockey game. To be more explicit, the game should be one in which Philadelphia Ramblers, a Rangers' farm club, are taking part.

Not that Patrick hasn't seen the Ramblers often for most Ranger material is drafted through the International-American League club. But it is the manner in which the Ramblers are performing now that would cause even a seasoned campaigner like Patrick to sit up and take notice.

The league's season is less than a week old, but the Ramblers with three straight victories are the only undefeated team left in the league. In addition they have piled up twenty-six goals in those three contests which means a tally on an average of every seven minutes. No other team in the eight-team circuit even comes close to that.

Ramblers made it their third victory in a row when they trounced Springfield Indians nine to two last night as the Hershey Bears, dropped from the unedefeated list after two straight wins by losing to Cleveland Barons four to three. In the night's only other contest Pittsburgh Hornets sent Syarcuse Stars down to a third straight defeat by defeating the Toronto Maple Leaf farm club four to one.

Defenceman Joe Cooper, with the Rangers last year, and Kilby MacDonald each scored twice for the Ramblers. The other Ramblers' goals were tallied by Hugh Gustafson, Babe Tapin, Bobby Kirk, Bill Carse and George Allen. The two Springfield scores, both of which came in the first period, went to Max Kaminsky and Bert Connolly.

The Barons needed overtime to defeat the Bears on Earl Bartholome's goal. Lorne Duguid, Cunningham and B. Blake were the other Cleveland scorers, while Steele, Orville Roulston and Drouillard scored for the Bears. The game was played at Cleveland where the Barons dropped only one game in the whole of last season although tied several times.

Two first period goals within forty-seven seconds by Sid Abel, recruit center, were enough for Hornets to top the Stars. The Stars went into the lead on Murray Armstrong's goal in the first period but only a short while later Abel tallied twice and Jack Keating added another for the Hornets near the end of the session. Pete Kelly scored the last Pittsburgh marker shortly after the start of the last period.

CORBETT VS. APOSTOLI FOR MIDDLEWEIGHT CROWN

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP) — The November 18 battle between the two Pacific Coast middleweights, Young Corbett 3rd and Fred Apostoli, will be for the championship of the world under ruling of the New York State Athletic Commission.

The Commisison, at yesterday's meeting, slipped in a joker, however. They ruled Promoter Mike Jacobs must slash $2,000 from the winner's purse as a guarantee that the victor would meet Solly Krieger, the Brooklynite who won a lien on the title by knocking off Al Hostak in Seattle last week. The bout must be held on or before January 30.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE AT AYER'S CLIFF

Rev. T. A. Tyson, of Beebe, Guest Speaker at Beulah United Church Celebration.

Ayer's Cliff, Nov. 10.—Large congregations attended the anniversary services of Beulah United Church on Sunday morning and evening and Monday evening, November 6 and 7.

Rev. T. A. Tyson, of Beebe, guest speaker on Sunday morning, chose as his subject, "How to make the Church more effective in the World of Today," and emphasized the fact that vision, enthusiasm, and consecration are necessary to put the principles of Christ into effect. The choir rendered the anthem, "O, Be Joyful in the Lord," and Mrs. F. H. Rider sang as a solo, "Lord, Thou Hast Been Our Dwelling Place," by Louis Phillips.

In the evening Mr. J. D. McFadyen, of Stanstead, chairman of the Presbytery, was the guest-speaker and took as his text, "Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say." The speaker put great emphasis on "sincerity" as the keynote of life's activities.

The music of this service was especially fine, the choir rendering two beautiful anthems, "Jubilante," a Russian melody, which was sang unaccompanied, and "Even the Night Shall Be Light," by Reed. The solo parts were very effectively sung by Mr. M. W. Johnston.

Rev. Fred Williams, of Sherbrooke, was the special speaker at an impressive service on Monday evening and a large and appreciative congregation listened to him with deep interest. "Christianizing the Church" was the foundation of the address.

Mr. Williams said that the church has many critics today and that it is surprising how many people elect to live in a community where there is a church, with all its influence for good, in times of need exact every service the church can give and then stay on the outside and criticize it.

There are, he said, many problems in the world today, both social and industrial, but that six hundred millions Christians, if sincere and enthusiastic, could readily solve them.

"The religious phase of life is the hope of tomorrow," Mr. Williams declared, and we must have moral rearmament. We have the alternative of accepting the guidance of God or the guns of Hitler. The Church must have a vital oneness with God which will create a passion for world missions, unity of purpose and vision, for the Kingdoms of the World are destined to be the Kingdom of God," the speaker concluded.

"Spirit of God," by Ferderlain, was rendered by the choir, the solo being beautifully sung by Mrs. R. G. McHarg. At the close of the service a social hour was enjoyed in the vestry, when refreshments were served by the ladies of the Associations, assisted by the men of the church.

The medical report prepared by Dr. C. L. Brown, who acted as examiner in the local school recently, was complete and satisfactory. A committee was appointed to arrange for the follow-up work which will include one tonsil operation and several cases of dentistry.

Mrs. E. E. Crook gave a complete resume of the County Quarterly meeting at North Hatley. Mrs. B. B. Morrill read a very interesting paper, written by Col. Morrill, on "The League of Villages."

Tea was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mr. Beerworth and Miss Helen Crook.

Cowansville, Nov. 10.—A very impressive service was held in Trinity Church when the newly-elected officers of the A.Y.P.A. were installed by the rector, Rev. G. R. Addie.

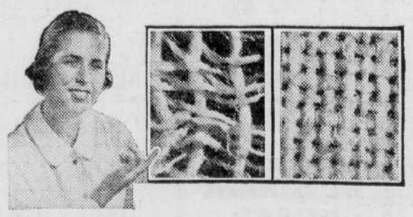
NEW HIGH-TEST OXYDOL NOW WASHES WHITE CLOTHES UP TO 15% WHITER!

GIVES UP TO TWICE THE SUDS of Less Modern Soaps in Hard Water

Even hardest water can't squelch the amazing suds-making power of new High-Test OXYDOL. Tests show that it gives up to TWICE THE SUDS of old-style bar and package soaps even in hard water—suds that actually stand up 2 to 3 times longer! Unbelievable? Try it and see for yourself!



CLOTHES LAST 2 TO 3 TIMES LONGER When Washed the High-Test OXYDOL Way

The picture at the left represents a new sheet (highly magnified) scrubbed 84 times with old-style soap. Note fraying in weave due to hard rubbing and scrubbing . . . on the right, a similar new sheet, washed 84 times without scrubbing, the new High-Test OXYDOL way. Note difference in "washday wear and tear."

Read how an amazing new ingredient makes New High-Test OXYDOL give whiter washes than ever—yet keeps it safe for washable colors, fabrics, and hands

Here it is—the amazing new kind of laundry soap that's creating such a furor all over America today—new High-Test OXYDOL! The soap that washes white clothes up to 15% whiter than old-fashioned bar and package soaps!

When first you try new High-Test Oxydol, we believe you'll be utterly amazed. For it contains a new ingredient that soap experts have been working on for years.

This remarkable ingredient not only multiplies washing power—but also keeps High-Test Oxydol safe for washable colors—safe for fabrics and hands. You'll find that even gaily colored prints come through wash after wash amazingly brilliant and fresh.

But that's not all. Tests against old-style package soaps show that High-Test Oxydol gives up to TWICE THE SUDS even in hard water. Rich, hard-working suds that stand up 2 to 3 times longer.

In tub washing, these rich suds soak dirt loose in as little as ten minutes. No back-breaking scrubbing to sap your strength and shorten the life of your clothes. In fact, clothes washed this scrubless way last 2 to 3 times longer from the standpoint of washday wear and tear compared with old-style methods.

In washing machines, women say that new High-Test Oxydol is little short of a miracle! Its richer-than-ever suds soak dirt loose while the washer is running—give you DOUBLE-ACTION wash.

New High-Test Oxydol is easy on household budgets, too. Each cup goes up to one-fourth again as far—does up to 25% more work—than the same amount of old-fashioned soap. So it's a grand money-saver, too.

Get a package of new High-Test OXYDOL today. You'll find it for sale at all dealers in the familiar orange and blue bull's-eye package. (No change in the box—the difference is in the soap.) Once you try it, we believe you'll never go back again to less modern soaps! Procter & Gamble.
