Eden Faces Quiet Ottawa Week-end; Cites No Problems

OTTAWA — CP — Prime Minister Eden faces an easy-going week-end in Canada's capital before he heads into two busy days of discussions with Prime Minister St. Laurent and other Canadian leaders.

Sir Anthony, arriving by air last night, told reporters he will have many matters but "no problems" to talk over.

World News In Brief

New Delhi—(Reuters)—American evangelist Billy Graham was garlanded with flowers by 500 hymn-singing Indian Christians at New Delhi airport Friday when he flew in to conduct three meetings this weekend.

Quebec — CP—The future of Asian communism rests with the future of China, Sir Archibald Nye, United Kingdom high commissioner to Canada, said here. In an address to a dinner meeting of the English-speaking Union, Sir Archibald said fear of China has become widespread throughout the weaker countries of Asia. "Each country is aware of its own weakness and realizes it is seriously menaced by the military might of China," he said.

Montreal — (CP)—A 46-year-old woman bank employee was ordered for voluntary statement by Judge Rudolph Camirand Friday to answer charges of embezzling $79,000 between Nov. 9 and Dec. 3 from a bank where she was employed.

Mrs. Yvon Tasse is charged with taking the money from the account of a large Montreal hospital which dealt with the branch of the Banque Provinciale du Canada.

Honiara, British Solomon Islands —(Reuters)—A 24-year-old English missionary, Reginald Poole, was sentenced to death here Friday after being found guilty of killing a native with a pick-ax at a mission school at Guadalcanal in November.

Chicoutimi —(CP)—The appeal of 21-year-old Edmond Gagne, sentenced to be hanged May 11 for strangling his aunt, will be heard March 1 before the five-judge Court of Appeals in Quebec.

The court, which heard a request Wednesday for permission to appeal, has to hear the appeal.

New York —(P)—Joseph and Stewart Alsop report in the New York Herald Tribune Friday that concentrated work has started on a project looking toward launching a reconnaissance satellite vehicle from the United States within five years.

The Alsops say in a copyrighted Washington story that the project has been informally dubbed "Project Big Brother."

Report Egypt Has 40 Russian Planes

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Diplomatic sources say Egypt has received from Communist Czechoslovakia 40 Russian-built Ilyushkin bombers—some of them already flying.

Awareness of this new capability, it is said, was a factor in the urgent call by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Eden this week for new efforts to preserve peace in the Middle East.

In their conference communication, the British and American leaders proposed discussions with the French, under a 1950 three-power agreement, to decide on joint action which would best prevent any violation of the Arab-Israeli truce lines. They again denounced the Soviet bloc's $80,000,000 sale of arms to Egypt as having "increased the risk of war."

France has agreed to the proposed talks, which probably will start here next week.

Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban is expected to ask the United States department again next week for approval of Israel's request to buy $50,000,000 in American defensive weapons. He has an appointment Monday with George Allen, U.S. assistant secretary for Middle East affairs.

His only scheduled activity today was an informal luncheon at Mr. St. Laurent's residence, just across the street from Government House where he is staying as guest of Governor-General Massey. He has no engagements Sunday.

The British leader, flying in from Washington at dusk in a Second World War Dakota, was greeted at the airport by Mr. St. Laurent, External Affairs Minister Pearson and Lionel Massey, the Governor-General's son and secretary.

Mr. St. Laurent had some difficulty getting through a crowd of photographers who pushed forward at the plane steps as Sir Anthony stepped down, carrying his familiar homburg and wearing a fur-collared blue coat.

Later, in a warm hangar, a microphone wouldn't work as Eden stepped up to say a few words.

Raising his voice so reporters could hear he said he had had "most useful" talks in Washington with President Eisenhower, and added it was a pleasure to be back "in your great country." He was last here as foreign secretary with Sir Winston Churchill in 1954.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd flew in 2½ hours later from Chicago, where he had spoken earlier, to be met by Mr. Pearson.

He told reporters he is looking forward to discussions here with Canadian leaders.

"I have the highest respect for Prime Minister St. Laurent," he said. "He is one of great statesmen of the world today."

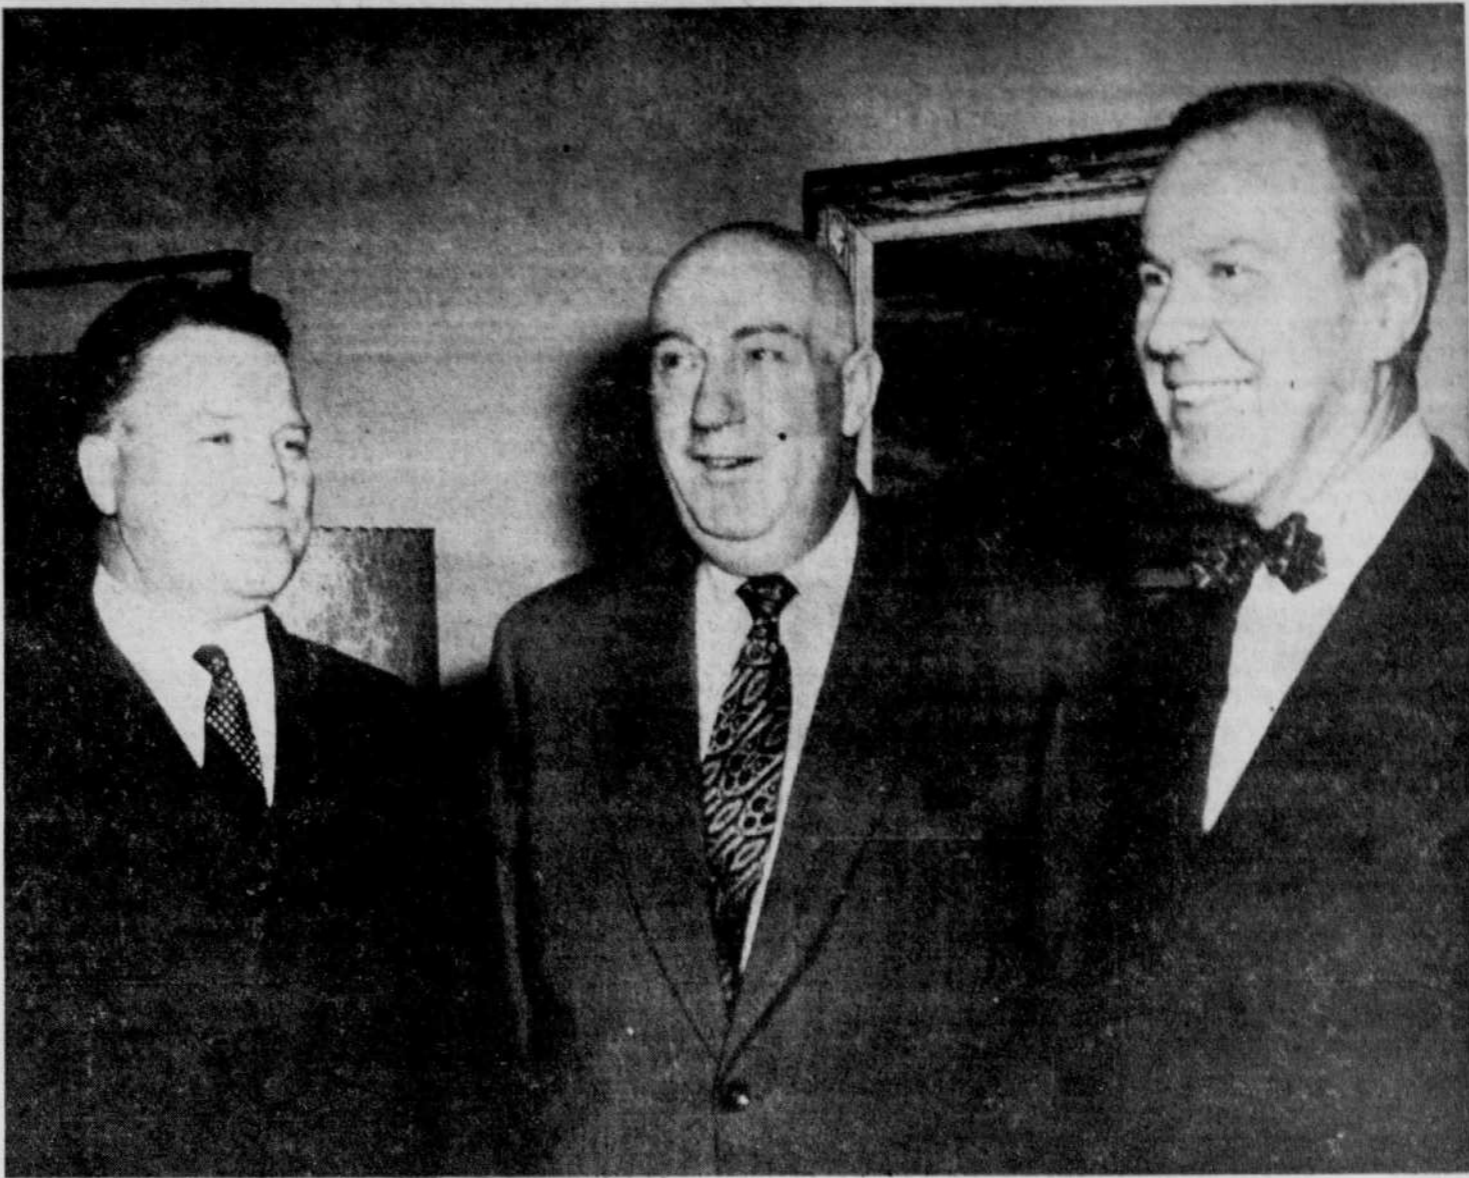

Sir Anthony travelled in the twin-engine Dakota because the RCAF's C-5 luxury airliner, used for dignitaries, is in Brazil where it took Works Minister Winters for the inauguration of that country's new president.

Mr. Lloyd, originally scheduled to travel by Trans-Canada Air Lines, arrived instead in an RAF four-engine plane used by Sir Roger Makins, British ambassador to the United States.

Drifts Piled In Texas

Plainview, Tex.—(P)—A raging snowstorm continued to lash west Texas today, paralyzing transportation and piling drifts to rooftops.

At least 16 deaths have been blamed on the blizzard since it roared into the Panhandle in midweek and then spread over most of Texas. Most of the deaths were due to traffic mishaps on ice-glazed highways and streets, others to fires and suffocation from faulty stoves, and one man died of a heart attack while shovelling snow.

Old Friends — Sargey A. Borisov, centre, head of a seven-man Russian delegation in Ottawa to negotiate a trade agreement with Canada, poses with External Minister Pearson, right, and Soviet ambassador Dmitri Chuhavia in Mr. Pearson's office. Mr. Pearson met Borisov, Russia's first deputy minister of foreign trade, when he visited the Soviet Union last October.

PQ Future Bright; Optimistic Budget Sees Record Revenue

QUEBEC — (CP) — Unprecedented provincial revenue of $389,468,000 for the current fiscal year ending March 31 was forecast in the Quebec budget speech Friday by Finance Minister Gagnon.

On the basis of nine months' actual operation, Mr. Gagnon said revenue will exceed by $57,610,800 the estimate he made last year, leaving a tidy 75,000 over-all surplus, the first since the 1951-52 fiscal year.

For the new fiscal year starting April 1 Mr. Gagnon estimated revenue will reach $374,266,500—the highest revenue figure he has ventured to predict for a 12-month period.

Compared with planned expenditures for the coming year which Mr. Gagnon announced early in January, totalling $374,101,427, the forecast 1956-57 revenue would be high enough to leave an over-all surplus of $165,173 March 31, 1957.

The optimistic 14,000-word budget, read by Mr. Gagnon in the legislative assembly where Union Nationale government members manifested approval with vigorous desk-thumping, contained other important news for Quebec.

1. Federal-provincial taxation bills are on the mend and the Quebec government plans to study the federal government's latest proposals "in a spirit imbued by the desire of enabling our province to play its true role and the nation to fulfill its world mission."

2. The current budget is the last before a provincial election, generally expected this summer.

3. The possibility of the establishment of steel mills in Quebec province as a result of the great iron ore mining developments "will soon become a reality," Mr. Gagnon did not elaborate.

Soaring ordinary expenditures are expected to reach a record-level $277,985,000 at the end of next month, after public debt charges of $28,402,000, a surplus of $83,081,000 on ordinary accounts.

Eden Addresses U.S. House — British Prime Minister Anthony Eden addresses the House of Representatives in Washington at the conclusion of his talks with President Eisenhower. Eden told the Representatives that Britain no longer needs American aid, and that "apart from a measure of defense aid, we now stand on our own feet. We intend to continue to do so." Behind Eden is House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Sherbrooke Man Stole Money To Pay Lawyer

Shawinigan Falls, Que.—(P)—Paul Lachance, 31, of Sherbrooke, Que., pleaded guilty Friday to three thefts from Shawinigan foundries but argued that he had good reason.

Lachance told Judge Leon Girard he had to get money to pay his lawyer for an appeal against a previous six-month sentence.

He was sentenced to two years in penitentiary.

Martin Raps Tariff Walls Set By U.S.

New York — (P)—A Canadian cabinet minister said Friday that protective tariff walls for high-cost United States industries do not serve this country's long-term interests.

Health Minister Martin said the U.S. can't be expected to buy Canadian products if their prices are not competitive.

"We do think, however, that it is in the interest of this country as well as our own to buy from the cheapest source and that devices for the protection of high-cost industries are not in the long-term interests of either country."

Mr. Martin spoke at the annual dinner of the Canadian Society of New York.

He said Canada-U.S. trading relations have been remarkably good, on the whole. But since most of Canada's trade was with the U.S. it was sensitive to any trade barriers.

"We all believe that government interference in matters of trade should be kept to an absolute minimum."

The statement was included in the text of a speech issued to the press before delivery.

Mr. Martin spoke on other Canada-U.S. relationships, including defence and foreign policy.

"Canada's continued existence as a free and independent nation is a living refutation of the false and invidious accusations of those who claim to see in the United States a sabre-rattling, power-mad giant bent on world conquest," he said.

"True, the United States is undoubtedly the most powerful nation on earth today, but has used this power wisely and with restraint."

China Asks Indochina Meeting

Washington — (P)—Red China has formally proposed to Britain and Russia the calling of a full-dress conference on Indochina. This would bring Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and State Secretary Dulles of the United States to the same conference table.

The Chinese proposition was discussed during the Eisenhower-Eden conference here earlier this week, and it is understood that British officials agreed with the Americans to oppose it.

The proposal was made to Britain and Russia as co-chairmen of the Geneva conference on Korea and Indochina which was held in the spring and summer of 1954. It was at this conference that the Indochinese state of Viet Nam was divided between Communist and anti-Communist groups after the French government decided it had to end the long Indochina war.

The agreement provided for consultation on elections to be held throughout Viet Nam—both the free and Communist sections—in mid-1956. The consultations were supposed to begin last year, but so far the parties have not met.

Officials here believe that the Chinese Communists have seized on this situation to try to get a high-level far Eastern conference going. They say the Reds appear to be seeking every means of building up their prestige, and that a Chou-Dulles meeting is one of the devices they are trying to employ.

CCF's Coldwell Calls Snap Vote Red-Faced Liberals Beaten 46-36

Ottawa — (P)—Persistent opposition criticism is keeping the government from introducing legislation to ratify federal guarantee of bank loans on farm-stored prairie grain.

CCF Leader Coldwell yesterday momentarily sidetracked the loans resolution—which must be adopted before the bill is introduced—by pulling the rug from under a red-faced, 170-member Liberal representation in the Commons.

He called a snap vote on a technical motion and the government, to its obvious discomfort, was beaten 46 to 36.

The vote did not mean the fall of the government. In effect, it stopped committee discussion of the loans resolution and the

Blizzards Continue; Forecasters Predict More On The Way

LONDON — (AP) — Biting Siberian blizzards kept Europe freezing today, and forecasters warned that fresh blasts will keep the continent icebound for at least another three or four days.

Menacing ice floes were reported building up in the North Sea as the death toll over the frozen continent rose to 113 in five days.

Latest fatality reports from Europe's worst storm in the 20th century showed France hardest hit with 31 dead. Britain reported 25 deaths.

Temperatures again dropped far below freezing during the night after a slight lull Friday had raised hopes that the great freeze might be about to thaw.

Reports of death and suffering poured in from all parts of the United Kingdom and the continent.

Near Bristol, England, an 80-year-old woman was found suffering from severe frostbite after wandering in a daze for 18 hours across frozen fields.

In Glasgow, six Lascar seamen died from fumes as they huddled over a makeshift stove aboard their ship.

In parts of London electricity was cut off to conserve power. Garbage has not been collected in the capital for 10 days because of icy streets.

Damage in the famed flower fields of southern France was estimated as high as 1,000,000,000 francs ($2,800,000).

The famed "battle of flowers" at Nice may have to be put off, since the giant carnation crop used for tossing over the streets has been virtually ruined.

In traditionally sunny Italy, sub-zero temperatures brought traffic chaos across the land. A foot of snow covered the eastern Italian coast near Bari, and Grogento reported the heaviest snow in 40 years.

In Denmark, a fleet of ice-breakers was mobilized to keep the sea lanes clear as ice floes threatened to block the Skagerrak and Kattegat straits. At least 12 ships were stuck fast in the ice pack while scores more were marooned in ice-bound ports.

A helicopter flew a veterinarian to shoot 32 pigs starving to death aboard an abandoned freighter off the coast of the Danish island of Zealand.

Other aircraft were called in to ferry food and fuel to isolated islands in the Scandinavian area.

Reports of a serious fuel shortage came from behind the Iron Curtain. Poland called for fuel-saving measures and ordered bonuses to increase output from the mines.

New Witness In Daniels Case

New York — (AP) — An entertainer at the after-hours bottle club where singer Billy Daniels became involved in a Harlem shooting has been held as a material witness in the case.

Gerard Dorsetta, 28, also a Negro singer, was placed under $1,000 bail Friday. The district attorney's office said he had "vital information on the shooting."

Dorsetta, who said "three men are trying to catch up with me" because he talked to police, told reporters:

"I got no more to say. I got nothing to do with this trial. I'm not going to testify to anything but my name and address."

Daniels, 40, is free in $2,500 bail as the result of the wound-

Troops Use Gas, Clubs In Cyprus

Nicosia, Cyprus—(Reuters)—British troops and police used tear gas and clubs Friday to break up a march of 500 left-wing Greek Cypriot demonstrators in the port city of Limassol protesting against reports that Archbishop Makarios has agreed to co-operate with the British.

The Greek Orthodox archbishop, leader of the movement to unite the British colony with Greece, has, according to unconfirmed reports, agreed to accept a British invitation to help draw up a self-government constitution.

The left-wing Cypriots demanded outright rejection of Britain's terms and immediate self-determination.

Several thousand workers went on strike at British army and Royal Air Force bases and many of them went to Limassol to take part in the demonstration.

Troops stopped the marchers when they approached the government hospital. They were dispersed by tear gas but formed again and marched towards the town's main shopping centre.

The government-controlled Cyprus Radio quoted Mufti Mehmed Dana, spiritual leader of the minority Turkish Cypriots, as saying that the Turkish community would insist on equal rights and equal representation in any island constitution.

In London, diplomatic quarters said Britain is expected to resume talks with Archbishop Makarios after ministers have studied his reply to the latest British proposals.

Fredericton Fire Damage $250,000

Fredericton — (P)—A bulldozer cleared rubble from Fredericton's main street today after a $250,000 fire destroyed one of the largest grocery stores in the city, damaged a second store, left seven families homeless, injured two firemen and covered the downtown area with smoke and ash.

AT THE PREMIER CINEMA

Phenix City, once the vice center of Alabama, is the locale of "The Phenix City Story." Allied Artists' presentation, starting tomorrow at the Premier Cinema.

Until it was raided and shut down completely by the state militia in June, 1954, Phenix City was known as "America's Sin City." It abounded with gambling dens, clip joints masquerading as saloons and other establishments of ill repute.

The "high society" of the town consisted of gamblers, muscle men, fancy ladies and other shady characters. Phenix City probably was the toughest, wildest community of this century in the United States until the militia took over.

Producers Samuel Bischoff and David Diamond moved their company into Phenix City for filming of the picture, and actually recreated the town as it existed in its uproarious heyday.

The gambling joints were reopened, the hoods and racketeers again "took over," and the order of the day was "live high and clip the sucker."

"The Phenix City Story" relates the efforts of the responsible citizens of the community, headed by Albert L. Patterson, former Attorney General-elect, to clean up their city. It faithfully documents the real-life killing of Patterson by racketeers soon after his election victory.

Richard Kiley, Kathryn Grant, John McIntire and Edward Andrews head the cast of the swiftly-paced action film, with Meg Myles, sensational singer, featured, which was directed by Phil Karlson. Harry Neumann was the director of photography and the original screenplay is credited to Crane Wilbur and Dan Mainwaring.

The Bulganin Offer

The West cannot now or ever be a party to any plan of world settlement which calls for dividing the globe into Communist and non-Communist spheres of influence. Our moral position demands that at all times we speak and act for freedom.

That is perhaps the chief reason why President Eisenhower could do nothing but reject Russian Premier Bulganin's offer of a treaty of friendship between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Bulganin's proposal, set forth in his letter to the President, is basically a program for gaining American acceptance of Russian conquests to date. The U.S. would be asked, in effect, to enter upon a new era of "Soviet-American friendship" in which it would do nothing at all to disturb Russian rule over millions of enslaved peoples.

It is one thing to recognize the existence of a military stalemate in the world today. It is quite another to extend formal recognition, to condone, Soviet conquests in Europe during and after World War II.

Furthermore, there is no assurance whatsoever that a treaty of friendship with Russia would be worth a ruble. Russia's path is strewn with broken treaties of this sort. They are maintained only so long as they are thought convenient and useful to the Kremlin.

It's A Spirit

Never has the idea that Britain and the United States are one in principle as well as in blood been so dramatically presented as when Anthony Eden laid down his prepared speech in the Senate Thursday, with the remarks:

It's hard to express. It's a spirit. The most effective friendship of all is that one which can face differences of opinion and even of material interests and still endure.

Eden's added testimony to the relationship of Britain and the United States was not necessary. It is a fact so firmly established in history and in the broad general interests of the two nations that any change in it is almost inconceivable.

It is obvious from the demeanor of Eden and the British delegation in Washington that the conferences between the two great allies have gone well although no complete conciliation of ideas has taken place on some subjects at issue. They have gone well because of complete agreement on major objectives, against a back-

Fashion Gymnastics

There is one aspect of women's fashions that must be puzzling to the average male, to say nothing of the average female.

The puzzler is the rather unusual poses that some of the models take to "best show off" the latest design in morning, afternoon or evening wear.

You've all seen them, we're sure. Shawl draped with careful abandon, the model assumes a position that gives the impression she is trying to escape a paddle aimed at her posterior. This, plus an expression that

In this specific instance, too, it seems fair to conclude the Russian leaders imagined their offer might drive a wedge between the U.S. and Britain on the occasion of the Eisenhower-Eden conversation. The attempt was crude, and Britain already has pronounced it futile. The British understand that a stroke of the Soviet pen will not bring peace, will not wipe away the many problems in the world's trouble spots.

As Mr. Eisenhower observed in his written reply to Bulganin, the United States is ready now as always to negotiate sincerely for world peace.

But the "spirit of Geneva," if it has had any meaning, does not signify simply the discarding of belligerent posture in return for a mutually carving up of the world. It means active, sincere effort to solve the critical problems that are the true peril to peace.

Russia has so far shown no effort of that kind. Its price for friendship, indeed for peace, is the West's endorsement of all the evil it has wrought.

Even in the world of nuclear force, free men need not thus court the "friendship" of tyrants. They need not yield to smiling blackmail. By keeping strong and united the West can block a resort to violence, halt further conquest, and one day lift the yoke from the conquered.

ground of confidence that tactical decisions will also always be compromised to avoid any serious abandonment of one by the other.

Concrete evidence of this compromise procedure is offered by the willingness of the United States to review its practices regarding the blockade of Red China to see if British, Ceylonese, Indonesian and Malayan trade can be aided without increasing Peiping's aggressive potential.

The Eden-Eisenhower declaration, citing what Russia has done to peoples since the Second World War as compared with what the West has done for them, and the accompanying promise of continued help, is effective propaganda. It is based on demonstrable facts, as against the promises of communism for the future, promises for a system which have not been accomplished for its own people.

The determination of the two allies to meet communism on any battlefield it chooses, military, economic or ideological, has seldom been more clearly or more firmly expressed.

seems to say, "You wouldn't dare!" completes the picture.

If this pose occurred only once or twice, it would undoubtedly bring loud guffaws from the menfolk. Seeing them day after day puts a man on the defensive. He begins to wonder if perhaps this is the way the womenfolk are supposed to look. He's not sure he approves but he begins to wonder. It's difficult to wonder and laugh at the same time. But let's try!

Letters To The Editor

The Editor, Sherbrooke Daily Record, Dear Sir:

I was indeed surprised that you allowed the Taxpayer from North Hatley "a little space in your paper." However, since you are not discriminating in the quality of letters you print, you can do no less than to allow me the same consideration. I merely wish to point out a few of the many misrepresentations contained in Taxpayer's letter.

Taxpayer is not at all well informed. Even his statement about "a family who have paid taxes here all their lives," is in itself questionable; but that is beside the point, as is the whole question of respect due a taxpayer or any other resident. The size of the funeral would indicate that the deceased was a highly respected and beloved citizen. As a matter of fact, the mayor did bring the matter to the attention of Mr. Meigs, the caretaker of the rink, and the hockey game which was in progress was halted.

Another thing, the mayor is not "always worrying about that extra penny that is coming his way." Why should he worry if, as Taxpayer says, it is coming his way? Let me remind Taxpayer that the mayor gives his time to the job of being mayor, and that means many unremunerative hours spent in service to others. This Taxpayer person is obviously not a religious person as is shown by his un-Christian remarks about a fellow citizen. He is not so much concerned with respect due the deceased, or consideration for the bereaved, as he is with seizing a supposed opportunity to slander a citizen who is more of a success, financially, than he is. To my mind, it is certainly in poor taste to utilize one family's sorrow to defame another.

Another Taxpayer.

The Editor, Sherbrooke Record. In answer to Mr. Taxpayer's letter of February 1. Mr. Taxpayer you should try and state the truth. On Saturday the school girls did have a game, and Saturday evening there were fourteen children skating and they were sent away at nine o'clock. (Fifty years ago that was late.) The only music at the rink was from a radio, but after nine o'clock I stayed and flooded the rink so there were lights on until 10:15. On Sunday afternoon the young boys from Waterville came over to play and at 2:20 they went to the dressing room and waited until the people came out of the house. Then, the two teams lined up across the ice until the funeral went past. They then played their game and as soon as the game was finished the rink was closed until Monday afternoon.

Now Mr. Taxpayer please answer this: "Where does Mr. Reed make one cent out of the rink?" The town gives this rink to our children free. They do this to keep our children off the streets, etc. What have you ever done? I did not see any stores or even the garage across the street closed!

If you, Mr. Taxpayer, would do half as much for our small town as our mayor does, you would not be ashamed to sign your name to a letter. You speak of respect. You sure had no respect for the dead to write such a rotten letter to a me like this.

Just because you have no children that skate, others have. So, Mr. Taxpayer dig out those windows and let a little sun get in your house! If anyone was to blame for the rink not closing, it was I, not Mr. Reed.

Come on out, this is the 2nd of February. You may be able to see your shadow.

Thanks,
Stan Meigs, Caretaker.

Snow

By Rev. B. S. Murray, M.A.

"There's snow in Old Quebec." Hear ye! All ye who live where palms—and not pines—thrive. But there's more than snow here in Canada. This we are prompted to declare to those who may have accepted at face value Kipling's label which we consider a libel, of our land and my land, Canada, as a Lady of the Snows.

According to my 1955 calendar, since November we have had this silvery blanket covering foreseen harvest fields and the woodlands brown and bare. The valleys too are shut in by this flickering curtain, gray and thin. To watch the changeover taking place we find the Snow as it falls, so silent, soft and slow, directing our thinking to the almost silent, cohesive effect of gentleness which makes for both power and greatness and, at the same time, rebuking those who insist on speed, forgetful of that old motto on the kitchen stoves of another generation—"Slow but sure. No combustion."

I am aware that there are those who happen upon these lines will snow, storms that were "anything" but "silent, soft and slow." There are those, too, who once knew and liked snow, but not now. Memory, nevertheless, keeps reminding them of playing in the snow, making snowmen, of sliding, skiing, walking in the moonlight and of sleigh rides.

From the impractical let us turn to the practical. If you happen to be one who delights in listening to the weather forecasts, you will observe how very important snow is to skiers in the Townships and the Laurentians, too. Plenty of snow means full hotels. And that's big business! Those who ply the axe cutting wood know the value of snow. Farmers know from experience its value as a blanket, not forgetting its usefulness as a fertilizer contributing to the growth of grass and wheat. Both amazing and useful, too, is it as God's dynamite bursting rocks, terrain, creating new avenues and blazing new trails.

All this was brought home to me when a Christian gentleman reminded me that, according to the Bible, his Authority, the Creator, mindful of the wants of men, sends frost, ice and snow to cover the earth-like wool (Ps. 147:16) that the tender herbs be not nipped and the seed in the earth may be kept warm and not perish in the hardest frost.

And those snowflakes, though they dance merrily, chasing and tumbling over one another, as they come to visit earth, yet are on a serious mission. They have an appointed work to perform—a service to render. This they apparently delight in doing. You, my friend in Christ, are here with a divinely appointed work to do, with the Taskmaster looking on! This should call out the best within you and others, seeing that your good works will glorify your Father Who sent His Son into the world to serve even the least, the last and the lost.

When we imitate Christ's spirit of Service, we will display by our tact, skill and the "forgetting of oneself into immortality" that knighthood flowers in our generation. For with deeds sound in motive and beautiful in method, the service we render is indeed, a sacrament and we the dispensers thereof.

S stands for service! May the Holy Spirit challenge you to serve men, thy brethren, at all times, in all places and therein glorify God's Name!

N for New Men
Of times as I walked on the white, pure snow along country roads, thoughts of the One who made the snow so white and pure so moved me that I imagined I heard His Voice saying unto me: "The right spirit is assured when the heart is clean" (Ps. 51:19). Then I imagined a thousand tongues took up the refrain, "Wash me that I shall be whiter than snow." I could not but remind myself of that multitude, which no man can number, who would be willing to testify to the power of sacred music, singing, instrumental music, chimes—which bestirred afresh, thoughts of God so realistic that they had no alternative but to arise, return home to that loving Father against Whom they had sinned and were no more worthy to be called His sons. This return was inspired by the Biblical assurance that such a Father, though Mighty was also Merciful, ready, waiting, anxious to for-

TV IN SLOW MOTION

(Halifax Chronicle Herald)
To the list of complaints being levelled against CBC television, add one of bad timing in the presentation of many programs over its Maritime regional station at Halifax.

This week a comparatively small percentage of the station's audience saw the film on the opening of Parliament a full seven days after it had been recorded in Ottawa and a full seven days after it had been televised to central Canadians.

Halifax is only six hours away from Ottawa by air. 26 by train, but it took a whole week to get the film on the screen here.

Stories of Famous Hymns

by Horace B. Powell

"I CAN HEAR MY SAVIOUR CALLING"

I can hear my Saviour calling, I can hear my Saviour calling, I can hear my Saviour calling, "Take thy cross and follow, Me."

I'll go with Him through the garden, I'll go with Him through the garden, I'll go with Him through the garden, I'll go with Him, with Him all the way.

I'll go with Him through the judgment, I'll go with Him through the judgment, I'll go with Him through the judgment, I'll go with Him, with Him all the way.

He will give me grace and glory, He will give me grace and glory, He will give me grace and glory, And go with me, with me all the way.

Where He leads me, I will follow, Where He leads me, I will follow, Where He leads me, I will follow, I'll go with Him, with Him all the way.

This hymn, written by E. W. Blandly, was helped to fame by its appealing chorus.

The refrain, indeed, has always been for many the most popular part of the song and in many hymnals it appears under the title, "Where He Leads Me, I Will Follow."

Today, it has disappeared from many song books but for many years—years during which the greatest of the gospel songsters gave and forget. His conditions remain the same yesterday, today and forever—heavy repentance and true faith with the blessed assurance that though our "sins may be as red as scarlet, they shall be made as white as snow; and though they be like people, they shall be white as wool" (Is. 1:18).

Now scarlet and crimson are considered ineradicable colors. Blood is the bleacher that makes them white. Christ's sacrifice is the antitoxin for the poison of sin. He is the Lord, your Healer, that you may be made blameless without spot or wrinkle. And whosoever will set to accept this invitation to wash his sins in the Blood of the Lamb shall be whiter than snow and a new man in Christ.

O for Opportunity
This leads me to O for opportunity. Now as the snow provides for many opportunities for doing useful tasks as well as making possible outdoor sports, so, in the spiritual realm there are opportunities unlimited for those who possess the spirit of adventure.

An excellent opportunity to go pioneering on a special trip awaits you, for Lent will begin on Ash Wednesday (February 15th). Why not make your plans to take this trip, aiming at the rediscovery of such old-fashioned words as repentance, faith, conversion, confession, absolution, hope, love, to name a few. From such a trip we shall acquire a spiritual maturity and be possessed with the determination to incorporate these youths in daily living so successfully that our lives shall be noted for their joy.

W for Worship
To keep alive this spirit of divine joy, we need to worship. And this brings me to W, the last letter in Snow. Worship is the highest act of which man is capable of and yet there are far too many who have allowed other "pressures" to crowd out this contact with the Highest, with the result that we are experiencing moral confusion and spiritual sterility. To do your part in stemming this rising tide, why not make it one of your Lenten resolutions to "Take time to worship God." "God First" is every true Christian's motto. Service clubs have their place. They are not substitutes for worship. Worship God—God-worship—then, is a must for the soul, the immortal soul. Without it, the soul shrivels and dies. To avoid this, get alone with God in the garden of the soul and as you walk and talk and eat with Him, you will accordingly measure yourself by His standard. The Perfect Man.

Surely this will bring you to your knees with the admission that as you have sinned in "will, word and deed," it is your earnest desire to make amends by living a new life, following the commandments of God and walking from henceforth in His holy way.

Listen, across the congregation, I hear the blessed declaration: "He—God—pardoneth and absolveth all who truly repent and unfeignedly believe His holy Gospel. You won't hear that in the Winter. Wondrous out-of-doors, will you?"

Make no mistake about this, with pardon comes peace, quiet of mind and holier gladness. Now knowing why we are spiritually bankrupt, let us, as the church bell calls, wend our way to God's house where, in the sacrament of the Word and

THIN ICE HELPS SPADE DOUBLE

Earlier this week we learned the danger of reopening on suspicion when the opening bid of one no-trump is passed around. Here's a hand in which I was guilty of the same dangerous action. It helped my son Jim and me win a national championship a couple of months ago, but we both knew we were on thin ice.

When one no-trump was passed around to me, I hated to pass the East hand, but I also hated to rely solely on a bid of two spades. Hence I tried a dangerous double.

Jim opened the three of diamonds from the West hand, hoping that I would be able to lead hearts through declarer. Declarer played the seven from dummy, and I played the eight without the slightest hesitation.

South won with the ace of diamonds and now had the impression that Jim had led from some combination headed by queen-jack. He didn't know the club situation, but he thought that he knew what was what in diamonds. Hence he led a small diamond towards dummy.

Jim saw his chance and took full advantage of it. He played the jack of diamonds! This made South all the surer that Jim led from both honors and was now "splitting his equals."

Hence South played low from the dummy. Jim now led his last diamond, and South confidently finessed dummy's ten. This allowed me to win with the queen. South never got a second diamond trick and never got to dummy for a club finesse.

We wound up setting the con-

St. Francis High School News Report

HOCKEY
The St. Francis High junior and senior hockey teams were visited by the boys of Drummondville High.
The junior game started off with a bang for St. Francis, as they showed excellent defence. At the end of the first period, Richmond led 3-0. In the second period Drummondville players showed signs of improvement though they were unable to score. The game ended with Richmond slaughtering Drummondville by a high score of 9-0. For Drummondville, who showed very good sportsmanship, this was the second time they had been defeated by Richmond.
Richmond scorers: Storie 4, Badger 2, Ward 2, Roster 1. Assists: J. Mills 3, Jones 1, Doyle 1, Smith 1. Penalties: Badger 1.
The senior game was a close-fought battle all the way for both teams. What a game! School spirit was really showing in all periods. R. French, Drummondville's only scorer, made the first point of the game, while K. Cogan, an excellent defenceman, plowed down the ice to tie the score 1-1. All through second and third periods the game was close, though Drummondville still led 3-2.

In the middle of the third, Richmond's fiery Cogan scored again, making the score 3-3. Richmond fans went wild at this and Drummondville decided to do something about it. French again scored, giving the lead to Drummondville once more. Fighting and arguments between both teams soon began. The game was called with approximately three minutes left to play by mutual agreement between team coaches because of fighting and poor sportsmanship. The final score was 4-3 for Drummondville.
Richmond scorers: Cogan 2, Lowry 1. Assists: Gunter 2, Doucet 2, Willey 1, Blanchette 1. Penalties: Cogan, Doucet, Blanchette, Gunter, Sage, Pope, Willey.
Drummondville scorers: French 4. Assists: Harbour 2, Rivoire 1, Lemaire 1. Penalties: Lemaire, Anderson, Rivoire.
BASKETBALL
The Asbestos senior girls visited Richmond senior girls. The Richmond girls, who have unfortunately been without a coach for the past two games, led in the first quarter by a score of 9-0. Asbestos showed what they could do when they caught up with Richmond in the second quarter, giving Richmond some thing to work harder over. In the middle of the third quarter the game became a little rougher, causing disputes between referees and players.
Asbestos was now leading 27-17, and they were really proud of the situation. Richmond's second lineup, consisting of D. Cayer, A. Roy, and B. Fletcher, along with guards W. Barrington, N. Gleason and B. Taber played a fine last quarter, though they were able to defeat Asbestos.
Top scorers for Asbestos were Margaret Dealy and Marilyn Hart. Final score stood at 27-23 in favor of Asbestos. All in all Richmond did not take the defeat too badly and both teams considered the game a tough but good one.
Refreshments were later served in the cafeteria under the direction of the social committee.

BISHOP'S BULLETIN BOARD

CARNIVAL—Bishop's second annual Winter Carnival is almost over. Tonight's Carnival Ball will mark the end of the three-day festivities which began with "Ice-rama" Thursday night.
During these last hectic 72 hours a lot has happened:
Dolce Narizzano, 19-year-old blond from Westmont, became the first Bishop's Carnival Queen in the history of the University. She was voted in by students in an election with two other finalists, Jane Bartlett and Sue Pappall. The basis for the award was threefold—looks, personality and activities.
Bishop's Gaitors finally won a hockey game. They triumphed 6-2 over the University of Sherbrooke in their annual Skinner-Nadeau Trophy competition. Coach Lynn MacDougall was relieved to see his boys finally snap their current losing streak.
The snow sculpture, always a crowd-pleasing part of any carnival, was held today. Entries included a train, the "U.B.C. Special" from the out-of-residence men, a dragon from the second floor of Norton Hall, a crown from the men in Old Arts, a beer-drinking bear from the fourth floor of Norton Hall, a couple kissing good-night with a large clock as a backdrop from the women of Pollack Hall, a Noah's Ark from the Divinity Faculty and a seal from the third floor Norton Hall. These monuments of industry will probably last well into the summer months but come early while the snow lasts.
A woodsman's contest is being held today and it will be followed by a basketball game between Bishop's Gaitors and the Lennoxville grads in the Memorial Gymnasium.
One of the highlights of the Carnival was the Ice Show featured in "Ice-rama." Much credit goes to the stars of the Sherbrooke Winter Club for the generous donation of time and energy which made the show a success. Dick Nutter, Ann Goode, Andree and Claude Dubois, Shirley Taylor and Michelle Jacques all added immeasurably to the quality of the evening.

Of the Bishop's participants, credit should go to Di Montgomery and Dolce Narizzano, who organized the numbers. Also praise to all the Bishop's "Carnibelles" and "cheerleaders" who worked so hard in the wind and snow of an outdoor rink to perfect their routines. Especially gratifying was the wonderful support given by the "Ice-rama" night by the citizens of Sherbrooke. They turned out in great numbers to fill the Arena and make the show the success which only a packed house can provide. To the people of Sherbrooke, all connected in any way with the Carnival extend sincere thanks for your support.
Tonight the Ball will end the Carnival. Dancing to the music of Russ Meredith and the Millionaires will provide a fitting finale for the second and best winter carnival in Bishop's history.
DEBATING—Bishop's debating team has been overshadowed by all the Carnival publicity and action this week. The debating team however, has done something unheard of in Bishop's recent years. Monday they will debate against McGill for the Eastern Canada Regional intercollegiate finals. Last Monday our two teams defeated Queen's University in their second Inter-University Debating Society match. In Kingston Bishop's team of Gibson and Evans upset the highly-touted Queens debaters 2-1. Here the home team of Clarke and Kennedy won a unanimous decision.
Should Bishop's defeat McGill then they will advance to the Dominion finals. The winners of the Dominion go abroad to debate on a N.F.C.U.S. sponsorship.
Monday's topic is the same as in previous debates—"Should Canada have a Separate Codified Bill of Rights?" Guests are welcome to the contest which will be held in Convocation Hall.
OTHER NEWS—Winners of the Snapshot Contest sponsored by the Bishop's University Photography Club were announced this week. Joe Armstrong took first prize with a shot entitled "Blue Mountains". Hugh Welsford's "Chapel Window" took second prize and "Full Moon" by Andrew Little was third. An honorable mention went to Robert DeJong's "The South Will Rise Again". Gifts from Skinner-Nadeau were presented to the winners.
It is rumored that there will be some quite significant changes in the Students Association Constitution when the Association meets this Wednesday.
The N.F.C.U.S. sponsored student discount service is now in effect in Sherbrooke and students are taking advantage of the discounts allowed a certain N.F.C.U.S. recognized stores.
SPORTS SLANTS—Bishop's hockey team has a doubleheader scheduled for next weekend. They play at Sir George Williams Friday and back here against R.M.C. on Saturday. . . The girls basketball team plays Macdonald College. . . the men play at C.M.R.
Intramural standings were released today. They reveal the Blues on top of the heap with 5 points. They are followed closely by the Greens who have four points, the Yellows with three and the Reds are still pointless. Don Stringer, of Greens, is the top scorer with six goals. Robertson and Catterson of the Blues are tied for second position with four goals apiece.
DENISON'S MILLS—Mr. Wilfred Hughes, of Longueuil, visited his mother, Mrs. Albert Hughes, who is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. Colin Andrews visited Mrs. Andrew's brother-in-law, Mr. Sydney Ward, of Bury, a patient in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital in Sherbrooke. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Andrews in Lennoxville and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Goodfellow on the Brompton Road.
Mr. T. Lyall, Jr., of Murdochville, spent the week-end with his family at the home of Mr. George Mastine.
Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Denison were, Mrs. Gordon Denison and Mrs. Mabel Brown, of Danville.
Mr. Cecil Hannan had the misfortune to break a rib while working in the woods.
BEEBE—Mr. Basil White, of Montreal, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Vance.
Mr. F. A. Johnston, Mr. Fred Armitage, and Mrs. M. A. Woodman were in Coaticook to attend the funeral of Mr. Len Thomas.
Mrs. J. M. Martin has left for Verdun, when she will spend a few weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowler and family.

Lennoxville Church Reports Increased Income

In addition to routine business, several important topics were discussed at the annual vestry meeting of St. George's Church, Lennoxville, held in the church hall.
The rector, Ven. Archdeacon Albert Jones, opened proceedings with prayer and welcomed the good attendance of members of the congregation.
Kenneth Herring, people's warden, presented a very encouraging financial statement, which showed a substantial increase in income for 1955 over that of the previous year, with little change in most items of expenditure.
He reported a good balance in both the general and Mission accounts and paid high tribute to the Parish Guild and St. Monica's Guild, whose work in assisting the finances of the church and in other ways do much to lighten the warden's duties.
J. W. Dunfield, rector's warden, reported that improvements authorized in 1955, in the form of a new heating installation, insulation of the roof and double windows on the church, had been satisfactorily completed.
The Every Member Visitation for the purpose of furthering the Quebec Anglican Advance had, Mr. Dunfield stated, met with a gratifying response and he thanked the chairman of the parish committee, Les Memory, and the canvassers who had contributed so greatly to its success.
In tendering, with regret, his resignation as rector's warden, due to his impending removal, Mr. Dunfield stressed that his happy relations with the rector, his fellow wardens and all members of the congregation had combined to make his year in office a pleasant experience.
Archdeacon Jones extended congratulations and best wishes to Mr. Dunfield on his promotion and the expressed appreciation of Mr. Dunfield's valuable services. David Melton was named as his successor.
The election of Kenneth Herring as people's warden, R. G. Bullitt as vestry clerk, R. C. Murray and Lt.-Col. L. M. Watson as auditors, and the re-election of the existing finance committee, with the addition of W. Sullivan, was approved.
The proposed increase in the assessment for missions was approved.
Archdeacon Jones expressed his pleasure in the standing of the church finances and his gratitude for the unflinching support of the wardens, officers and members of all bodies connected with the church and to the parishioners.
Col. Watson extended a vote of thanks to the wardens, vestry clerk, sexton, the Parish Guild, St. Monica's Guild the Altar Guild, Women's Auxiliary and all other organizations of the church and to the superintendent and officers of the Sunday School.
The meeting closed with grace, followed by refreshments, served by the members of St. George's Guild.

Menu Suggestions — The Clubwoman's Food Service Guide

Wise menu planning is a very important and necessary part of large quantity food service. Your menu is your guide to ordering food and other supplies, computing costs, making table and serving arrangements, estimating number of helpers needed, and deciding what equipment and dishes are needed.

INEXPENSIVE MENU
Tomato juice, spaghetti or macaroni with meat, fish or cheese, jellied vegetable salad or cabbage salad, hard rolls or whole-wheat bread, ice cream with cookie, coffee, tea, milk.

Home-making
A teaspoon of household detergent added to a quart of water is a reliable formula for removing partly wilted cut flowers.

Sweaters that are properly washed and dried need no ironing. But a neat finish can be added by pressing button and buttonhole strips on cardigans. Work on wrong side, over turkish towel padding.

Before repainting, steel casement window frames need to be washed to remove dirt and dust. Allow to dry before applying any new finish.

Out of laundry-line space? Try this one: Set an open card table upside down on the floor and string a line of cord around the tops of the legs, hitching it at each corner. Crisscross for even more space. Spread newspapers to take up the drip.

Ironing goes faster if newly sprinkled clothes are folded instead of being rolled. Fewer wrinkles get set in damp fabrics this way.

A moist wad of steel wool, well lubricated with soap or detergent, will erase rubber heel marks from linoleum floors.

TRENHOLM—
Mr. George Matthews, of Melbourne, was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Reid.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stevens were in Montreal to visit Mr. Bill Stevens, who is making a speedy recovery from his eye operation, and will be leaving the hospital shortly.
Miss Frances Mastine and Miss Elaine Hayes, of Richmond, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mastine.
Rev. George Harrington, of Richmond, conducted Holy Communion service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyster.

CLEVELAND—
Mr. Raymond Pease spent several days with his daughter, Mrs. Alex Fowler and Mr. Fowler in Lennoxville. While there, Mr. Pease had a medical check-up.
Miss Abbie Pease, of Melbourne, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pease and also called on Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pease.
Mr. George Tozer has returned home after spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morey in Windsor Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clarke were also guests at the same home.
Miss Joyce Perkins, of Drummondville, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Perkins.

BROME—
Mr. C. R. Caw is a patient in the B.M.P.M. Hospital, in Sweetsburg, for observation.
Mrs. J. Stone, of Montreal, is a guest of her mother, Mrs. Effie Libby.

MEDIUM-PRICED MENU
Fruit juice, meat loaf, brown gravy or chicken pie, boiled or baked potato, green beans or buttered carrots, side salad—lettuce, tomato, cucumber with dressing, rolls or french bread, apple pie or apple crisp-cheese, coffee, tea, milk.
Note: * Avoid two types of pie on one menu.

MORE EXPENSIVE MENU
Seafood cocktail or consommé, roast beef or baked half chicken breast, Duchess potato, buttered squash and green peas, side salad—pineapple ring with cottage cheese and whipped cream dressing, rolls, bread sticks, assorted rye breads, strawberry shortcake, coffee, tea, milk, assorted nuts.
Note: * Use frozen strawberries if out of season.
These menus are generally acceptable to most groups. They illustrate the following basic rules for menu planning:

1. Consider how the different courses will look on the plate—not more than one breaded food; not more than one sauce or gravy; not more than one red or green or yellow food, but rather an attractive combination of colors.
2. A colorful meal is not only

Frequent, Chatty Letters Keep Friendships Glowing

By RUTH MILLETT
One of the most faithful letter writers in my family has for years been an aunt who, though busier than many people, has always managed to find time to keep in touch with relatives and friends by way of Uncle Sam's postal service.

Her letters I have come to count on. When she recently had an accident in which she broke both wrists, I learned that both arms would be in casts for some time and knew that I was going to miss her letters.

Well, they're still coming. They are now written in pencil and the letters are twice as tall as usual. But somehow, casts and all, she manages to write.

This is by way of leading up to the statement that there are very few real reasons for not keeping in close touch by letter with the friends and relatives we really care about.

We have so many excuses. We've been too busy to write. Or we haven't been feeling well. Or we haven't had any real news to tell. Or we belong to the group who confess we can't sit down to letter writing unless we are in the mood for it. Or we've been meaning to write for ages but...

Glitter Don't Spot Shiny Fiber

By ALICIA HART
Those glittery clothes are luscious to wear, but unless care is exercised, they may be a little touchy to keep up.

Those gold and silver-plated fabrics are made by plating 100 per cent nylon tricot knit with a gold or silver-colored coating. They are soft, pliable and luxurious-looking.

But they should be guarded against lipstick and other spots and stains. Most of the spotting reagents that a commercial spotter in a dry-cleaning plant must use to get them out will also remove the gold or silver-colored particles from the nylon.

They can be hand dry-cleaned or hand wet-cleaned, however, if the garment design permits and not too much is expected in removal of those stains.

These fabrics are difficult to press with a hand iron. The iron does not glide over the surface easily and has a tendency to stick to the fabric. A dry-cleaner can do it with ease, using special finishing equipment to press with steam and air without any pressure on the fabric.

Asbestos College To Hold Festival

Asbestos—The old timers of the St. Alme College are organizing a festival for the school children to be held at the Civic Centre on February 12th, at 2 p.m.

An excellent program has been prepared with races, hockey, fancy costumes and prizes for the winners. The Asbestos Harmony Band will be in attendance.

Leo Gagne has been appointed organizer and Pierre Veilleux and Marcel Labrecque will assist.

STANBRIDGE RIDGE—

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cook and son, Bruce, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cook, at Bedford.

The regular Farm Forum meeting which was to have been held at "The Lodge" with Mrs. Ramsey, the hostess, was cancelled due to the stormy evening.

old friend on the street we would have time to stop and chat. Or if one of the people we care about showed up at our front door we would invite him in and insist that he stay long enough for a real visit.

And yet for those same friends and relatives, just because they live at a distance, we often say we have no time. No time for a letter, when a letter can be written in 10 minutes.

How can we excuse ourselves for such lack of hospitality when our only means of entertaining our friends is with a letter?

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McGrath of Abercorn announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Priscilla Isobel (Peggy), to Mr. Cecil C. (Bud) Mando, Jr., son of Mrs. Ruby Mando and the late Mr. Cecil Mando of Sutton.

Miss McGrath is a graduate of Richford High School, Richford, Vt., Class of 1954, and is at present employed at the A.R.E. Industries, Abercorn. Mr. Mando attended Sutton High School, and is employed at the Maplewood Ranch, Sutton.

There's An Art To Ice-Cutting; It's Still A Profitable Business

By BETTY BRADSHAW

In spite of common use of the refrigerator, the City of Sherbrooke used almost 500,000 tons of ice last year. In fact, they nearly cleared out the three ice houses on Esplanade Street, owned by the Sherbrooke Ice Company.

To replenish this supply, 35 men have been occupied the past month cutting blocks of ice from Little Brompton Lake and the Magog River. Their job, which began just after the New Year at Brompton, then moved to Sherbrooke three weeks ago, should be completed this weekend, when the ice houses are filled.

The Sherbrooke Ice Company which has been in existence since the days when refrigerators were almost unknown, is owned by the Ross brothers, Charley and Alex.

Although the ice business is still thriving, the two owners can remember well when the City of Sherbrooke used considerably more ice than today. With the arrival of the refrigerator more and more people stopped using ice, and today customers are few and far between.

Chief consumers today are the railroad companies. In addition, a daily ice route is covered by the company to service regular customers.

It stands to reason that the hotter the season, the greater the demand and consequently, the better the company's business. That's why last summer's scorching heat almost wiped out the ice supply in Sherbrooke. Needless to say, the Sherbrooke Ice Company is optimistically anticipating a good season this year as well.

Cutting conditions this year are described by the Rosses as almost perfect. Except for a few snowstorms, they have had good, clear, cold weather. This year's ice has developed a 17-inch thickness, much better than the shallower cakes of last year.

Ice-cutting in itself is quite an art. It requires good, strong men as well as horses and tractors.

The Sherbrooke Ice has the right to a large strip of river-ice along Esplanade Street. This year, they have cleared about 15 acres of the best ice.

Next step is to cut the 22 by 36 inch blocks with a gas-operated saw. A channel is then cut, slightly wider than the blocks, leading into the ice house. Equipped with ice picks, several men push the ice into the channel.

An endless chain works continually, dipping into the water and pulling the blocks up a ramp into the house. Near the bottom of the ramp is a planer which slices snow from the top of the cake, so that it is clear ice when packed in the house.

Inside, some 20 men work with tongs and picks, removing the ice from the run and placing it in neat rows. This continues until the three houses are filled to the rafters, holding over 500,000 tons of ice-cakes, each cake weighing between 400 and 450 pounds.

Directing ice down the ramp into the ice house is Roland Alexandrini, who keeps the cakes from falling off the end of the chain as it turns into the building. When the three Esplanade Street ice houses are filled, 500,000 tons of ice will be stored away for the months ahead.

Driving ice along the open channel to a chain lifting it into the ice house are Rene and Leo Labonte and Simeon Huppe, three employees of the Sherbrooke Ice Company. Each rectangular block weighs between 35 and 45 pounds and after going through the planer on the way to the house, is nothing but clear ice. (Record Photos by Gerry Lemay)

Cutting ice from the Magog River is done by a gas-operated saw. Mac Ross, son of one of the owners of the Sherbrooke Ice Company, is shown cutting the 17-inch thick ice into blocks 22 by 36 inches. A 15-acre lot was cleared by the company three weeks ago and operations should be completed this week-end, when all three ice-houses are filled.

The year 1940 being a Leap Year, the newly-formed Aldershot Chapter of the I.O.D.E. decided to hold a Spring Dance that would be appropriate to the Season. Thus was born the SPINSTERS' SPREE, the dance to which the girls invite the boys and pay all expenses. It proved an instant success — especially with the boys — and has become increasingly popular in the years since its inception.

Some of the boys take advantage of the girls by suddenly finding their cars unavailable and having to take taxis, by ordering the best of everything, etc., but the girls pay them back and insure themselves against a repetition by marrying them — so let the boys beware!

For fifteen years, the SPINSTERS' SPREE has been the social event of the season, and is greatly anticipated by the "bachelor" and "spinster" sets. Unhappy indeed is the boy who has no bid to the SPREE, and triumphant the girl who dons her prettiest dress and trips the light fantastic with the boy of her choice!

Of course the married girls are equally enthusiastic, the more so as the usual rules do not apply and the expenses come out of the family budget.

As is usual at dances, corsages are worn — but not by the girls! At the entrance to the dance, a table of corsages are displayed and causes much amusement.

The proceeds of the dance go into the General Fund of the Aldershot Chapter, and are disbursed throughout the year upon charitable and educational objects.

This year the dance is being held at the William St. Armory (By kind permission of Col. Hall) on Saturday, February 11th, the admission being three dollars a couple. Sherbrooke Regiment 12-piece orchestra has been engaged as this has proved so popular with the dancing fraternity, and a good time is assured to all.

FLYING SKI SCHOOL HERE TODAY

The Dow Kingsbeer Ski School will be at Hillcrest this week-end. They swing into action today and will continue tomorrow.

The school's instructors are bonafide members of the Canadian Ski Instructors Alliance and are rated with the best in the Province.

The field will be divided into various classes, from beginners to the more advanced group, with an instructor in charge of each one.

It is a wonderful opportunity for the youngsters to get a basic knowledge of the proper manner to handle their skis and will certainly reduce the number of injuries.

Tomorrow afternoon will see a much-needed and long-sought ski lift start operating. This has been made possible through the labor, perseverance, foresight and initiative of a group of citizens who were interested in the progress and promotion of the winter tourist trade.

It is the first "Pomagalski" ski lift to be installed in the Townships and the second in the Province. It certainly will help to induce skiers to our part of the country and we think it will be very popular with all enthusiasts of the sport.

The official opening is booked for tomorrow afternoon but we understand that it is already in operation and those who have used it are raving about it.

To those who have made this possible we would like to extend a very hearty vote of thanks for their wonderful foresight in installing such a modern ski-lift.

The hockey fans of Rock Island and the Border will certainly be treated to a wonderful exhibition of hockey tomorrow afternoon.

These kids, that is what they are, will look like a well-balanced club of pros. They have been playing all over the country and have held their own with the best of them.

The first singles Provincial darts championship ever to be staged will take place here tomorrow afternoon at the Belvedere Street Armoury.

The Jean-Paul Perrault and Dow Brewery trophies will be at stake as well as several outstanding prizes.

The trophies, which have been donated by Ivan Dugre and Jean-Paul Perrault, are valued at $250 each and are certainly something to look at.

The organizers have gone to a lot of work in getting things in order for the big tourney. It will take all afternoon to run through the matches and the winners won't be declared until late.

George Macdonald, president of the Provincial Baseball League, was in town this week on a flying visit to see Mayor Nadeau and President Ivan Dugre regarding the outcome of the local club.

It would seem from listening to Doug "Dow" Smith from Cortina that "Over Confidence" played a big part in Canada's loss to United States in hockey.

We are of the opinion that this year's entry wasn't as strong as previous ones. If we are going to compete in these events we should send the best or stay at home.

The Russians are the only undefeated team in the competition and it will be up to the Dutchmen to try and knock them over.

Al Rollins certainly gave an outstanding exhibition of nerve and team spirit in Boston Thursday evening. He was floored by Leo Labine's shot in the second which required five stitches to close.

Rollins was making his comeback with the Hawks after being demoted to Buffalo and there should be no hesitation in saying he won back his job especially after giving such an exhibition.

There was so little to separate the two couples that the victory for the pair from Vienna wasn't certain until the judges announced the official results based on the complicated scoring system used for figure skating.

Miss Dafoe, 26, who has been skating with the 29-year-old Bowden for more than five years, faltered on a lift at the end of their performance and did not finish until after their recorded music had stopped.

Barbara Wagner, 17, and Bob Paul, 18, of Toronto, the other Canadian entry in the competition, finished sixth in the field of 12.

The Toronto couple, world champions for the last two years and winners of the Canadian and North American titles for four years, had defeated the Austrians in the last world competition in Vienna a year ago.

The margin for the Canadians then was .05 of a point and the difference was a fall by Miss Schwarz.

Miss Schwarz, 19, and Oppelt, 21-year-old salesman, received four first-place votes from the nine judges and five seconds.

The Canadians received four firsts, four seconds and one third.

Barbara Wagner, 17, and Bob Paul, 18, of Toronto, the other Canadian entry in the competition, finished sixth in the field of 12.

Leonard Quintin Elected Secretary Of Vermont State Golf Association; Les Mercer Re-Elected President

St. Albans—A St. Albans man has been named secretary of the Vermont State Golf Association, President Leslie Mercer announced today.

Leonard E. Quintin was named to fill the post vacated by John McDonough, of Rutland, who resigned at the meeting of the Executive Committee of the VSGA last fall.

Mr. Quintin will assume secretarial responsibilities today, but will be assisted by Mr. McDonough until May. "By May," President Mercer said, "We expect to name McDonough executive secretary of the Association."

Mr. Mercer said because McDonough was "too valuable a man to lose." The VSGA hopes to create the new office of executive secretary. This will be done at the annual meeting of the VSGA to be held in May at the Country Club of Barre, by amending the by-laws. Members will then be asked to vote on the action.

McDonough, a top-notch golfer himself who plays out of the Rutland C. C., has been secretary for the past two years. Beginning in 1937, he was crowned "Caddy Champion" of the Champlain Club. While serving with the U. S. Army during World War II, he was runner-up in the Fort Devens Post Championship. Quintin has also been a vice-president of the Champlain C. C. and a director for many years.

LEONARD QUINTIN

Besides Quint and Mercer, other officers of the Vermont State Golf Association include: Edward L. Keating, vice-president, Manchester; James C. Jerome, vice-president, Burlington; Dr. Donald E. Coburn, vice-president, St. Johnsbury; and Floyd M. James, treasurer, Burlington.

Delegates at large include: James B. Stewart, Barre; George G. Smith, Rutland; William Clark, Fairlee; and T. Paul Tierney, Woodstock.

Russia Blanks United States 4-0; Canada Must Defeat Them By Three Goals Providing Americans Lose

By KEN METHERAL Canadian Press Staff Writer

Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy—Russia's smoothly operating hockey machine whipped the United States 4-0 Friday night, taking over sole possession of first place but giving Canada's Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen a clear shot at the hockey title when the two clubs play tonight.

Held to a single second-period goal by U.S. goalie Willard Ikola despite a wide margin in play, the Russians broke loose to score three times in barely a minute of third-period play.

The one-sided Russian victory dropped the Americans into third place behind Canada, tied with the Dutchmen on points but striking them on goal average.

A Canadian victory over the Russians would make goal averages the determining factor in deciding the championship. The Dutchmen can capture the title by defeating Russia by three goals, provided the Americans do not run up a more decisive margin in their earlier game against Czechoslovakia.

Held scoreless in the first period, the Russians took command at 13:38 of the second frame when Nikolai Khlistov scored while the Americans were a man short.

Vesvolod Bobrov, Yuri Pantyukhov and Valentin Kuzin supplied the third-period scoring burst.

Ikola, the air force navigator from Eveleth, Minn., who was mainly responsible for the 4-1 upset his team pulled over Canada last Tuesday, was equally brilliant.

He had no chance on Khlistov's goal as the Russian deflected Pantyukhov's goalmouth pass into the net while U.S. right-winger Gord Christian was serving a tripping penalty.

Ikola had successfully coped with several difficult shots in the first period while Johnny Matcheffs sat out a boarding penalty. He pulled a brilliant stop late in the second frame when Bobrov, the Russian captain, broke into the clear and fired a hard drive at him.

The American Hockey League club also called up Gordon Stratton of Brandon, Man., who is owned by the Barons.

Windsor Travels To Asbestos In Other Tilt; Two Tomorrow; All-Star Junior Game At Rock Island Arena

Four important games are on tap this weekend in the Massawippi Valley Hockey League and the outcome of all four tilts will have a big bearing on the teams standing. This evening Sherbrooke will receive the Waterloo Maroons while Windsor travels to Asbestos in the first half of the fixture.

Tomorrow afternoon Windsor will journey to Waterloo while Magog makes the trip to Asbestos to tangle with the league leaders. Sherbrooke has the day off and will anxiously wait for the outcome of the games.

In the E. T. Junior League only one game is slated and that is tonight when Windsor moves to Brompton. Nothing is on the agenda tomorrow in the Al Kouri circuit as it was declared a day off to allow the players to take part in the All-Star game at Rock Island.

The Rock Island entry has booked a game with the Jr. Canadiens of Montreal and they will use an All-Star squad from the Junior League. The tilt is slated for 2:30 tomorrow at the Border Arena.

If Windsor can post two victories over the week-end they will move past Sherbrooke providing course that the Braves drop their tilt against Waterloo this evening. They meet the Meteors and Maroons on the road and will be hard to beat.

A win for the Murphy clan can assure them of a tie for third position for the present but they have played more games than their opponents. A few more wins for the Meteors and nobody will be able to catch them unless they hit a slump, which looks quite impossible at present.

Austria Has Big Day At Olympics; Russia Wins Team Standing; Canada Amasses 12 Points For Their Showing

CORTINA d'AMPEZZO, Italy - (CP) - Austria had a big day at the winter Olympic Friday as its top skier completed an amazing triple Alpine victory and its figure skaters dashed Canada's hopes for its first gold medal.

Toni Sailer, handsome 21-year-old plumber from Kitzbuehel, added the downhill to his victories in the giant and special slaloms and became the first skier ever to sweep all three Alpine events.

Andre Bertrand of Quebec City fell during the downhill run but finished in 3:31.2 for a creditable 24th in the field of 85 competitors from 27 countries.

In the pairs figure skating, Austria's Elisabeth Sissy Schwarz and Kurt Oppelt edged Torwart's Norris Bowden and Frances Dafoe by the barest of margins. The Canadians, two-time world champions, had been favored to win their first Olympic pairs title and it was a great disappointment when they lost out, apparently because Miss Dafoe faltered momentarily during a lift at the end of their number.

Canada earned six points from the figure skating-five by the second-place finish of the Bowden-Dafoe team and one by the sixth placing of another Toronto couple, Barbara Wagner and Bob Paul.

The Canadian team now has 12 points based on 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the top six places in each event and Friday moved up from 13 to 10th place in the unofficial team standing. Thirty-two nations are entered in the games.

With 21 of the 24 Olympic events completed, Russia has clinched the team standing with 101 points.

However, Austria, which won two gold medals Friday and had a third-place finish in the downhill to gain 24 points, narrowed the Soviet margin. The Austrian team is second with 78½. Sweden is third with 53, Finland fourth with 46, the United States fifth with 45½ and Norway sixth with 44.

In addition to the six points Canada gained Friday, Lucille Wheeler, St. Jovite, Que., skier has earned five, finishing third in the women's downhill and sixth in the giant slalom, and Carole Jane Pachl of Montreal added one with a sixth in the women's figure skating.

The first two heats of the four-man bobsled race were held Friday and two Swiss sleds, Franz Kapus, No. 1, and Max Angst's No. 2, were first and second. A U. S. sled piloted by Art Tyler of Rochester, N. Y., was third in the two runs down the hazardous Mount Tofana course. The final two heats will be run today. Italy's favored bobsledders held fourth and fifth after Friday's runs.

Answer to Today's Puzzle

FOSTER— Church Guild Elects Officers

Foster — The annual meeting of the B.C.M. Church Guild was held at the Parsonage, with the president, Mrs. R. E. Allen presiding.

Rev. T. J. Liggett opened the meeting with prayer and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Beale. The annual reports were then read and showed a very successful year.

The election of officers resulted as follows: president, Mrs. T. J. Liggett; 1st vice-president, Mrs. F. W. Flood; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. R. Price; secretary, Mrs. M. Tryhorn; treasurer, Mrs. C. Taylor; flower convener, Mrs. N. Crowhurst; public relations, Mrs. R. Allen; advertising, Mrs. A. Beale. Committee workers: fancy work, Mrs. C. Johnson, Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. W. Knowlton; plain work, Mrs. C. Taylor.

The meeting was closed by Rev. Mr. Liggett with prayer. Mrs. Rexford thanked Rev. and Mrs. Liggett for their hospitality on behalf of those present.

Dr. Eric Bradford, of Macdonald College, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bradford.

The Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. Leslie Durrell. This being the Fourth Night, an excellent program of films was shown furnished by the Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Glen Brown, of Knowlton, kindly brought the High School projector. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Bokus assisted by the ladies. The next meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Whitchee.

Mr. Maurice Williams has returned home after spending a week in Montreal to be near Mrs. Williams, who is in the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Victoria Hospital in Montreal, where he underwent surgery.

Miss Virginia Davis spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Davis at Glen Sutton.

Mr. Ted Nurse, of Ashbury College, Ottawa, and Miss Carolyn Woodward of Lachute, were weekend guests of the former's parents, Rev. and Mrs. T. E. R. Nurse.

Ever since fashion turned her back on fox fur for feminine adornment, the price of pelts has been depressed to the point where, today, they have practically no commercial value. Consequently the market hunter has laid away his traps and gun and turned to other and more profitable ways of turning an extra penny. Almost everywhere, the red fox population has increased to an extent where the havoc created by this arch predator amongst small game and farm fowl stock, has become a problem of real concern.

FOX ENJOYS VARIED DIET

In almost any discussion of this question there is usually at least one who will rise in defence of the fox, arguing that poultry and game birds form only a small part of his regular diet. On this score it is interesting to note the findings of qualified biologists, who have gone on record that throughout his range, mice and other small rodents make up a large portion of the food of the red fox; but other small mammals, also birds, eggs, reptiles, insects, fruits and berries are included as well.

Not so long ago the stomachs of more than two hundred red foxes killed in New England states were examined and it was found that only seven per cent of them contained poultry or game birds; almost 50 per cent contained mice and 25 per cent rabbits. However, these particular foxes were killed between the months of October and March. It is likely that in the spring and summer more game birds, insects and fruit would have been eaten. Up to a point this seems to support those who are against any organized measures being taken to cut down the fox population. The real controversy revolves around this question: Would the percentage of poultry, game birds and rabbits that are devoured be higher if the fox could find more game? I think the answer is very definitely yes.

DESTRUCTIVE KILLER

Although the fox appears to thrive close to civilization, he will at the same time quite naturally frequent any area where small game of any kind (including mice and other rodents) is plentiful. There is also plenty of evidence that the fox often kills not just for hunger, but many times out of pure destructiveness. As an example there is the authentic report of a red fox which got into a pen on a game farm down in Maine and killed 95 pheasants and was still at it when discovered by one of the keepers.

WHAT IS A SAFE FOX POPULATION?

A fact beyond the range of any scientific investigation is that a certain number of foxes in a given area may be fairly safe during one season, but dangerously unsafe to the small game population during another. Put more simply in a locality where you might stand to flush three or four dozen partridge in a day's hunt at a time of peak cycle, three foxes turned loose on that range might not interfere with the natural partridge increase. Turn six foxes loose on the same range at a time of low cycle and conceivably not only would the natural increase be endangered, but the very survival of the game bird jeopardized. Let no one think that this is building up to endorse any program designed to bring about the extinction of the red fox and I don't feel that anything so drastic is necessary to aid the restoration of our small game, fur or feathered. For one thing, along with others I thoroughly enjoy fox hunting as a winter sport. I do feel though that if more fellows could be interested in taking it up that we might look for some improvement in this predator situation.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THOSE WHO DRINK BEER

Dear Neighbour:

My staff and I are making a special effort this month to see that there is plenty of O'Keefe's Extra Old Stock Ale available everywhere in our district.

Thanks to the cooperation we receive from your licensed grocer, hotel keeper and waiter, O'Keefe's Extra Old Stock Ale is becoming more and more popular. That's why I'm having this drive, so that you will be sure of getting O'Keefe's when and where you want it.

I suggest that you try O'Keefe's Extra Old Stock Ale as soon as possible. You'll like this light mild ale because it is truly different. It is different because it is brewed with seedless hops. Removing the seeds from the hops removes all unpleasant bitterness. This makes O'Keefe's a mild, better-tasting ale. Taste it for yourself then you'll be convinced.

When you try O'Keefe's Extra Old Stock Ale you will find it a truly different and better-tasting ale that gives you complete enjoyment. On the other hand, I will have gained a new friend. That will satisfy both of us.

Sincerely,

ROLAND LACHANCE,
Branch Manager,
O'Keefe's Distributor,
Sherbrooke.

P.S.—In case your licensed dealer doesn't have O'Keefe's Extra Old Stock Ale, let me know and I'll send him a supply immediately.

Another 23,000 Canadians were enjoying the advantages of a diversified investment in the prosperity of their country through their holdings of shares of Investors Mutual of Canada Ltd., a balanced, open-end mutual fund managed and distributed by Investors Syndicate. Investors Mutual's assets were in excess of $89,000,000 at the end of 1955.

Many of these people live in Sherbrooke and district. In order to provide them with more prompt, and more convenient service Investors Syndicate has opened a new office at 230 Dufferin Ave.

The office, under the direction of Mr. Jim. Planche, will serve Investors Syndicate clients residing in the Sherbrooke area and in the Eastern Townships.
