St. Leonard march

Riot Act read

MONTREAL (CP) — The Riot Act was read and police used tear gas Wednesday night to disperse a stick-swinging, window-smashing crowd of 1,500 demonstrators who paraded through suburban St. Leonard calling for French-only school instruction.

Police said 50 persons were arrested, three of them after a small van filled with chains, clubs and metal rods was intercepted and searched.

At least 36 persons, including six police, were treated for minor injuries.

The demonstrators succeeded in skirting around three police blockades thrown across northend Jean Talon Street in their illegal march from a shopping plaza lot to St. Leonard's Jerome Le Royer elementary school.

At the school, site of chair-throwing class between French and English-speaking residents at a meeting eight days ago, flying squads of helmeted police throwing tear gas canisters sent the hard core of demonstrators fleeing in different directions.

Mayor Leo Ouellet read the Riot Act about 90 minutes after the march started at 8 p.m., allowing police to arrest anyone not dispersing within 30 minutes. A police official said those arrested under terms of the Riot Act would face stiffer Criminal Code charges rather than charges levelled under a municipal bylaw.

Scores of windows along Jean Talon Street, some of them businesses run by English-speaking Italian immigrants, were broken by rocks and sticks.

A police officer estimated that 1,500 persons participated in the parade, even though St. Leonard's police chief refused to grant a permit because he feared a repetition of violence that broke out at the meeting in the school gymnasium last week. No permit was issued Wednesday for use of the school by the pro-French group.

At least four busloads of provincial police were brought in quickly to form up the third blockade at Cannes Street. They stretched four deep across Jean Talon with riot sticks, plastic face protectors and gas masks. ASKED TO TURN BACK

The demonstrators were told their march was illegal and were asked to turn back. Many kept pushing forward and orders were given by police to throw tear gas grenades.

Rocks and sticks were thrown by demonstrators, many of them teen-agers. Some windows in nearby stores and buildings were broken. The demonstration was organized by the Ligue pour l'Integration Scolaire, which advocates school instruction in Quebec in the French language only.

BEGAN LAST YEAR

A school language dispute has divided St. Leonard since its Roman Catholic school board last year began a program of gradually eliminating English-language classes from its elementary schools. The program covers Grades 1 and 2 this year.

Violence a week ago at a meeting called by the LIS and interrupted by a group of English-speaking Italian immigrants prompted the suburb's police chief to refuse a permit for Wednesday night's march.

While tear gas canisters were thrown at the third police blockade, several marchers ran up side streets and regrouped behind the police on Jean Talon. They were then faced by a handful of Italian residents who lined up in defiance, but the chanting, shouting demonstrators charged into the group and quickly dispersed them.

A week ago, fights broke out between French and Italian groups at an LIS meeting. Chairs were thrown across the school's gymnasium and Raymond Lemieux, LIS president, received a minor cut on the head.

Pinard will run again

Three aldermen to be elected Oct. 1

SHERBROOKE — (CJ) — Two of the three Sherbrooke aldermen whose three-year terms of office expire this month are expected to seek re-election while the third has announced definitely that he will quit the Council.

Wednesday afternoon Ald. Antonio Pinard who has represented Seat No. 1 of the West Ward for the past 15 years announced that he would seek another term and indications are that Ald. Everett Nicol, who holds North Ward Seat No. 2, will be in the running again although he could not be reached for comment yesterday.

After representing Centre Ward seat No. 1 for 13 years, Ald. Marcel Savard, who has been chairman of the General Administration committee, advised his council colleagues in a letter over last weekend that he was abandoning municipal politics due to pressure of private business.

Nominations for the three seats will close at the City Hall at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 24, and if more than one candidate is nominated for any seat voting will take place the following Wednesday, Oct. 1.

The municipal elections this fall will differ in one important respect from those of previous years in that the new or re-elected alderman will serve only one year instead of being named for a three-year term as had been the rule until 1958.

This situation results from drastic changes to the Cities and Towns Act and to the city charter governing elections for city councils.

Traditionally the ten Sherbrooke aldermen have been elected for three-year terms, with three being elected in each of two years and four aldermanic posts and the mayoralty being filled in the third year.

Under the new Cities and Towns Act, the terms of all Council members expire in the fall of 1970 with an entirely new Council being elected for a four-year term.

Changes to the City Charter also provide for an extensive revision of ward representation on the Council.

At present each of the five wards, regardless of population, have been represented by two aldermen, a situation which many contend is unfair to the heavily-populated East, West and North Wards and unduly favorable to the Centre and South wards whose combined population is less than one-third of any of the residential wards.

In an effort to correct these inequalities, the Centre and South wards will be combined into one for aldermanic election purposes returning one alderman.

Each of the East, West and North Wards will be given an additional representative.

The mayor will continue to be elected by the citizens at large.

Alaska makes huge oil deal

No 7-Up strike end in sight

SHERBROOKE — No end in sight for the two-week-old strike of Seven-Up workers in Sherbrooke.

Talks broke down Tuesday when the CNTU-affiliated Sherbrooke Seven-Up Workers Association and management failed to reach agreement in Montreal despite conciliation by J. Dorion of the Quebec department of labor.

Twenty-six employees walked off the job demanding better wages and more security. A CNTU spokesman said yesterday the latest management offer came nowhere near meeting their demands.

Claude Gingras, strike director, said there is no possible way any of the men will return to work until Seven-Up guarantees employment and starts paying them "decent wages".

At the present employees are being paid the minimum wage, $1.15 an hour.

ANCHORAGE (AP) — The state of Alaska collected an apparent $900,220,590 in bonus bids for a third of its Arctic North Slope oil fields Wednesday in the biggest such sale of drilling rights in United States history.

The total apparent high bids fell $99,779,410 short of the $1,000,000,000 hoped for by state officials. But the money paid by the world's major oil companies will provide a desperately needed transfusion for Alaska's frontier economy.

State officials were reviewing the bids and said it would be several hours before the 179 apparent high bids were accepted or rejected. This was a formality.

J. Paul Getty and H. L. Hunt, two of the world's richest men, combined with three oil companies to bid $72,200,000 for one 2,560-acre lease. It was the largest per-acre bid ever for oil land in the United States—$28,233.

CASH FLOW TO BANK

Alaska will start drawing $45,000 a day interest on the bid money today after it is flown to banks in New York and other cities by chartered jet. The impact on the state's economy will be felt from Anchorage, the state's largest city, to the tiniest village.

The Getty and Hunt interests combined with Amerada-Hess Oil Co., Louisiana Land and Exploration Co. and Marathon Oil Co. on their record bid. Getty is a California oil magnate living in England. Hunt is a Dallas, Tex., oil billionaire. Several of his companies were involved in the bid.

The state opened bids of 179 tracts of land—about one-third of the state-owned property around Prudhoe Bay, where last year the biggest oil field on the North American continent was discovered.

The Getty-Hunt representatives apparently had done their homework especially well. Their combines were high bidders on at least four of the choicest tracts, all near a discovery well brought in by British Petroleum.

The previous high for an oil lease sale in the United States was $603,000,000 for the Santa Barbara Channel field. The previous high per-acre lease bid was $27,401, in Louisiana, in 1967.

It was the 23rd time Alaska has offered oil land for lease. The total paid for leases in all previous sales was $97,500,000.

A combine of Gulf Oil Corp., British Petroleum Oil Corp. and British Petroleum Alaska Inc., was apparent high bidder on the first six tracts on which bids were read. Total high bids on those six were $95,700,000. A combine of Phillips Petroleum, Mobile and Standard of California bid $41,230,000 on one 2,560-acre tract.

SALE PICKETED

The sale was picketed by six Eskimos from Barrow, who contended that the North Slope and its oil should belong exclusively to members of their race—first inhabitants of the bitterly cold area along the Arctic Ocean.

Silver dollars everywhere

SHERBROOKE — Tens of thousands of silver dollars, over a ton of the metal coins in all, will begin cascading into the cash registers of retail businesses and the pockets of customers, suppliers and staff of the retail establishments throughout the Sherbrooke area on Thursday night, as employees of one local manufacturing company, the Walter M. Lowney Co. Ltd., receive their weekly pay in the silver coins and spend them on their regular shopping rounds.

Concerning Lowney's presence in Sherbrooke, Mayor Nadeau said "It was one of the greatest days in my political life when I came back from Montreal with the assurance Lowney's would settle here."

Launching "operation silver dollar" was Sherbrooke's Mayor Nadeau, who handed over their quota of silver dollars to company president Keith Ellison, president Guy Beaulieu of the Bakery and Confectionary Workers International Union of America and two long service Lowney employees, Helene Dubeau and Louis Durocher.

Inspired by the provincial government "Quebec knows how!" campaign, "operation silver dollar" was the brainchild of company and union executives who felt that not only in Sherbrooke, but in most communities, the general public, retail merchants, service companies and others in non-manufacturing trades were not aware of the importance to their livelihood of industrial employee spending. As the Lowney employee silver dollars are used in weekly shopping and move through the secondary channels to retail staff and their suppliers and so on throughout the community, it was expected they would dramatically demonstrate the multiplier effect of just one employee salary dollar.

Citing statistics from a recently published C.N.R. survey, company president Ellison emphasized that on the average, one non-manufacturing worker earns a living from the multiplier effect of spending by just two industrial employees.

On this basis he said, the collective spending by all of the Lowney employees in the Sherbrooke area is responsible for generating over $3,500,000 of retail sales each year, for the existence of nearly 40 retail stores and the livelihood of some 500 persons working in retail and service establishments.

He pointed out that on an average the spending of salary dollars by each 100 Lowney employees directly or indirectly supports 113 households and the operation of 136 automobiles.

And Ellison said, "these figures are considered as conservative, since they only take into account the effect of employee spending and do not consider purchases of services and supplies by the company itself which have the same multiplier effect as the employee spending."

"The Lowney employee is an important person in Sherbrooke and through this 'operation silver dollar' we hope each person in the community will more clearly realize his importance both as a breadwinner for his own family and for the others he directly and indirectly supports when he spends his salary dollars," the president concluded.

Company employees themselves were also strongly reminded of their own importance in the community through a series of letters and display cards in the plant outlining the effect of their salary spending in Sherbrooke. They were encouraged to make their importance known by spending the silver dollars in their weekend shopping and a series of prizes and incentives were offered those spotted spending the silver coins.

The Lowney plant produces chocolate and confectionery products in Sherbrooke which are shipped throughout the world. Founded in 1896, the company moved from Montreal to its present Sherbrooke location in 1961 and is rated as one of the area's largest three industries. It provides employment to some 1,000 persons on a year-round basis.

Former Bishop's man dies in UK

SHERBROOKE — (CJ) — Word has been received here of the accidental death in Worthing, England, of Stuart Sanders, for many years bursar and registrar of Bishop's University, Lennoxville.

Mr. Sanders, who was 82 years of age, is believed to have suffered a period of dizziness during which he fell off a pier into the ocean. Efforts by a police constable to rescue him proved unavailing. For many years he was a resident of Sherbrooke, being employed in the office of E. and T. Fairbanks and later as bursar and registrar at Bishop's. About eight years ago he returned to England to live with a widowed sister, Mrs. Mary Swan.

SILVER DOLLARS — Sherbrooke Mayor Armand Nadeau yesterday handed over the first silver dollars to a Lowney employee. With the mayor are to his right, Miss Helene Dubeau, 39-year employee of the firm, Keith Ellison, president of the company, Louis Desrochers, 39 years' service with the company, and union president Guy Beaulieu.

lead and led a trump. East was in with the ace and led a second heart. West ruffed and that was that!

We should forget about the possibility of reaching six no-trump. It is conceivable that some pair of bridge players in the world might find some way to get to the no-trump slam. With the actual four-heart opening it is practically impossible.

We should also forget the fact that at the table South managed to go down one at six spades.

Somehow or other, no matter how much of a desperado East might be, he would not be likely to open four hearts without both the ace of spades and a seven-card trump suit. Therefore, any reasonably careful South would worry about the possibility of a heart ruff and guard against it by playing the king of clubs at trick two and cover with dummy's ace. Then discard the king of hearts on the queen of clubs at trick three.

Strangely enough South suffered from an embarrassment of riches. If he had held a low heart instead of the king, he would surely have taken the quick discard on the queen of clubs and made the contract.

Some of the problems in Victor Mollo's "How Good Is Your Bridge?" are very tough. Others, like the one shown today, are extremely simple.

Even the simple ones teach a lesson. Thus, there is nothing wrong with South's six-spade contract except that six no-trump would count 10 points more and be absolutely safe while South managed to go down one at six spades.

The play was short and not sweet. South won the heart

JEANE DIXON

FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 12, 1969

Your birthday today: After a rough start containing various unfamiliar people and situations, the year levels out after a month or two into a challenging, upward way of life. Today's natives usually are practical in all their endeavors. Many of them have had distinguished careers in music.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Your new methods find no market today. Instead, use your talents to unscramble confusion caused by well-meaning friends and fellow workers. Your loved ones are moody at the moment.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): The unexpected occurs. Travel arrangements are apt to be upset. Calmly work through the day's kaleidoscope of changes, a little at a time, staying with routine where you can.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your unruffled determination makes the difference between a passing squabble and a long-time feud. Remember that both quarrels and cooperation take at least two.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): If you must be unorthodox, be subtle. You may receive as well as offer surprises—strive for moderation in both what you project and what you do in reaction to abrupt demands or excitement.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Make up your mind not to lend any money today, whatever the request. Aside from this, it's an interesting day with some excitement in both your work and social contacts.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): What you do now determines the future. Idealistic approaches pressed with energy and originality may actually be the most practical course over the long run.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Promises, rumors of major changes fly about. Believe none until you have proof in hand. This is an excellent day for medical check-ups.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): The temptation is to move abruptly and harshly in response to provocations. Take a second look, and you will find more effective answers to support your long-range plans. Your money has wings for flying!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): There is more beneath the surface than in public view. Pay attention to what you can see, then estimate the rest. Sacrifice your spare time, just to stay ahead. Concentrate on the side issues.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): There is not much you can push today. Let the world come to you. Honor your debts if you can, or make new arrangements.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You have to know your own mind and adhere to your own previous plans. Disagreement is apt to develop on any pretext, especially over the meaning of news from distant places.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): The intuition of last night is to be followed up earnestly early today. Find some time to meditate before the fairly interesting evening promised.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH
Be Suspicious of Any Abnormalities in Mouth
 By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

Self-evaluation of your dental health may save your life. Interrupt your headlong rush through life long enough to look at yourself. Has that bump on your neck gone away? What about the sore on your lip that heals but keeps coming back? How about that fleeting, odd, numb feeling you get in your chin every once in awhile?

Be alert for signs and symptoms that are different from normal for you. Does your tongue get sore often? Has your denture suddenly begun to fit poorly? Or difficult or painful to wear? Has your mouth suddenly become dry? Have your gums become swollen, discolored? Do they bleed at the slightest touch?

This is not meant to frighten you. Rather it's to make you worry more about your dental health. Possible embarrassment of being called a hypochondriac should not preclude your concern about health, or seeking proper medical and dental advice and care.

The lump in your throat when you swallow, the occasional pain in your jaw, the swollen, rubbery bump in your neck, or the hard fixed, enlarged gland on the side of your face, could be due to chronic inflammation, or worse, could be a malignancy.

Six-month checkups aren't enough. Disease doesn't wait to develop at 6-month intervals, or 3-month intervals. Be your own dental health detective, and report clues to your dentist.

Each day when you look at yourself to shave, comb your hair, or put your face on, look also at your lips, cheeks and tongue and as much of your mouth as you can manage to examine.

If you wear dentures, examine ridges and grooves they rest on.

Any sore that doesn't heal quickly and stay healed may be a potential cancer.

Any bump or lump, or pain, or numbness around the face, a sore on the lip, a gray spot on the tongue or inside the cheek, an ulcer on the floor of the mouth... if detected and treated early has a far better chance for successful treatment, with minimal disfigurement, and least dislocation of your life.

(Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.)

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

BILL 49 — Operations have started to implement the recommendations in Bill 49, the bill governing manpower vocational training and qualification, with members of different fields of activity meeting last night at the Apprenticeship Centre in Sherbrooke. Seen are, from the left, F. X. Legare, CNTU Rimouski central president, Guy Larose, from the department of industry and commerce, labour and manpower deputy-minister Jean-Paul Savard, and Mrs. Louise Gareau, labour representative, Montreal.

Bill 49 work starts

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — Work has begun in Sherbrooke in connection with Bill 49, pertaining to manpower vocational training and qualification.

At a special meeting yesterday representatives from the fields of labor, management, education, industry and government met to start implementing the recommendations contained in Bill 49.

Concern was first noticed during 1964, at which time changes in technology were altering the labor market by abolishing traditional occupations and replacing them with new jobs.

It then became urgent to re-construct the whole concept of vocational training through apprenticeship, and adapt existing institutions to suit present needs and create others that might be deemed necessary.

On Sept. 24, 1964, the Lair Committee was founded to study vocational training by apprenticeship.

Early in 1966, the committee was advising the Minister of Labor on the creation of a Manpower Commission that would weld together the law governing aid in apprenticeship and the Minimum Wage law.

Representatives from apprenticeship committees, noting they could no longer meet the requirements of vocational training without reviewing their statute and enlarging their field of responsibilities prompted the Minister of Labor in 1967 to set up the Savard Commission, to study the co-ordination of manpower vocational training.

Its recommendations in 1969 fostered Bill 49, adopted by the National Assembly on June 13, 1969.

One of the main objectives of this new legislation will be to establish an advisory structure to inform, through the department of labor and manpower, the various agents of vocational training on occupational and manpower requirements.

The establishment of a provincial advisory committee and of regional advisory committees will enable the department of labor and manpower to associate the employers and employees representatives in determining the qualifications required for the carrying on of trades and vocations, and in the preparation and coordination of vocational training programs and in the establishment of conditions for admission to employment.

The provincial committee will consist of persons from the various sectors of industry and services, and representatives of the employees. In addition, there will be one representative from each of the following departments: education, labor and manpower, industry and commerce, and family and social welfare.

To insure effectiveness and instrumental participation, the programs will be established by the department of education.

The establishment of a vocational training commission for manpower in each of the regions of the province will enable this objective to be realized.

Players will continue shows in '69

LENNOXVILLE — At a meeting of the executive committee the Lennoxville Players decided that the amateur theatrical group would again this season produce an operetta and one or more straight plays for charitable and other worthy causes.

It was decided that an open and general meeting for all those interested in taking part in either the musical or dramatic productions, or in direction, staging, etc., would be held on Monday evening, Sept. 15, in the rehearsal room of the Bishop's College School Gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

The Players endeavour to offer to all those would-be actors and actresses and backstage workers in the area an opportunity to participate in these productions, and anyone interested is urged to attend the general meeting, whether experienced in acting and singing or not.

Last year the Lennoxville Players produced Agatha Christie's 'The Mousetrap' under the sponsorship of the Lennoxville Wing of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies Auxiliary, Gilbert and Sullivan's 'Pirates of Penzance' for the benefit of the Lennoxville Optimist Club, and the farce-thriller 'Exit the Body' at the Piggery Playhouse, North Hatley.

City dwellers move to the country

FOSTER — A great deal of attention has recently been given to the flow of people toward our cities, which sometimes gives the impression that we'll all be there soon, with the "country" left unpopulated.

Little noticed has been the fact that there is a country movement. Some people, even those who have lived in the cities all their lives, are finding ways to get away from the cities.

This move away from the city takes place for many reasons: low taxes and more leisurely way of life cause many to retire to country homes, after a full working career in the city; others rebel against one or more of the problems of cities: pollution, crime, and others.

Another group, and these are perhaps the most positive ones, move away from cities not to escape an urban life they don't like, but to find a way of life they do like in the country.

The Record recently interviewed a young couple who are representative of those who move to the country for the unique opportunities it offers.

Larry Groves and his wife Sharon are new residents of the Foster area, where they have bought a 50-acre farm.

"Actually," Larry said, "it was really because of our hobby that we first thought of living outside Montreal, where I grew up."

"We share an avid interest in raising and riding horses, and here we all have the room we need for our animals," Larry said. "In addition to our three part Arabians, of course we have four cats and two dogs, and I expect our menagerie will expand as time goes on," Larry Groves continued.

Mr. Groves, an insurance agent for Sun Life of Canada since 1967, said he divides his time about equally between his clients in Montreal and those nearer his home.

We understand that since much of his work involves the solution of complex estate analysis and business insurance problems for his clients, he maintains offices both at home and in Montreal.

Foremen should learn more business

SHERBROOKE — A foreman working in modern industry not only must know what he and his men are supposed to be doing, he must learn how to handle quality, cost and organizational problems.

Raymond Pinard, manager at Domtar's East Angus plant told the Industrial Management Association monthly meeting last night that foremen today will have to learn more about business to go along with their skill in a trade. In the future they will have to be able to handle workers who are better educated and situations that are more complicated.

In prediction that within 25 years industry will do away with foremen, Mr. Pinard said jobs will be open in supervisory capacity only to expert technicians and men who have kept up to date with the quickly changing face of their industry.

He called on foremen to realize that many of the new supervision methods being introduced are better than the ones now generally utilized.

He said many supervisors today who have the opportunity to receive instruction in organizational structure, quality and cost control do not make the best of it. "The courses are not as effective as they should be because of a lack of individual effort and a lack of continuity. Once the course is completed the books are stored away and everyone has soon reverted to his old habits. This learning process must be repetitive. It must never cease in order to be effective."

He said the foreman's task will become more difficult because of progress in technology and education. "The more affluent worker will be more difficult to motivate and better educated youngsters will create more pressure on the supervisor."

Mr. Pinard said industry should not be afraid of these changes but try to participate fully in making them work.

Knowlton without police

At the last regular meeting of the Knowlton Municipal Council Constable Maurice St-Pierre submitted his resignation from the Knowlton Police Force. With Chief Gaudreau on sick leave and due to return only in the middle of October St-Pierre's resignation leaves Knowlton without regular police protection. Contacted by the Advertiser Acting Mayor Roderick Crandall stated that St-Pierre was still fulfilling the duties of a police officer to a limited extent until a new constable is chosen. Mr. Crandall stated that three applications have been made and the Council will act on them as soon as possible. In the meantime anyone requiring the services of the Police Department should continue to call the Police Emergency number which is 243-6664.

Also at its September meeting Council heard representations from Mr. Harry Shufelt who was the spokesman for a group of citizens. Mr. Shufelt complained about the large number of dogs in the village which are causing various nuisances by barking. Mr. Shufelt added that a child had recently been bitten by a dog and that action from Council was needed. Acting on this complaint Council appointed a committee to hire a dog-catcher to enforce the present Dog-Control-by-law. Council also requested the Provincial Department of Health to conduct an analytical survey of Brome Lake to determine pollution levels and also an identification and classification of sewage disposal units.

This action had been requested by the Brome Lake Conservation Association as a necessary prerequisite to pollution control.

Press cannot fulfill duties of Opposition

Next to a free, properly functioning Parliament, an important bulwark of liberty in our society is a free, properly functioning press, meaning the mass media as a whole.

No government with autocratic ambitions can have its way entirely unopposed as long as the press remains free to probe, report, analyze and criticize the management of public affairs.

This claim was heard frequently during the rules debate in the Commons, with defenders of the Government's downgrading of Parliament saying it should allay fears of a budding dictatorship — the press would be there to warn the nation against any misuse of power.

But a free press cannot replace a constitutional opposition, as the writers are not the elected representative of the people and the Government can conceal its operations from them or feed them misleading information and shrug off criticism as malicious attack.

The press may mirror the political drama but it cannot take over the key roles of elected politicians because it cannot stand ready to take over the responsibilities of government.

Basically the proper functioning of Parliament rests on the freedom of all its members to express their views on matters of public concern, which right is lost when the Government unilaterally restricts freedom of speech in the Commons.

Once the political opposition is hindered in the discharge of its constitutional responsibility the media are deprived of much of the information they need for mirroring the full picture of the political process. The press has no constitutional authority for questioning the Government and attempts to take over this function can be brushed off by the Government.

And when a Government muzzles the Opposition in Parliament, how long will it tolerate a free press?

Couples who hold hands are either sweethearts or old-marrieds who respect each other's pocket-picking abilities.

African bomb ticking

There is a racial time bomb ticking in Africa, warns an American educator and authority on that continent.

The best way to defuse it is by restoring diplomatic relations between white South Africa and the countries of black Africa contends Dr. Carl L. Schweinfurth, associate professor of history and political science at Bethany College in West Virginia.

Isolation through moral and economic sanctions has forced South Africans into a defensive and inflexible position, he says, and continued isolation, sanctions and threats of war can only result in their taking even more oppressive measures against blacks and Asians within their borders.

The United States and other powers, he argues, should give all possible non-military support to the small, black, independent states which point like swords into the heart of South Africa. Swaziland, Lesotho and Botswana could become showplaces of what the black man can do with proper assistance.

At the same time the white powers should try to develop as many contacts as possible with South Africa and her people because understanding occurs only through communications.

He predicts no sudden or dramatic change in South African attitudes and practices. But a more positive and pragmatic approach to the country by black Africans and others could at least bring about a more just and equitable modification in its racial policies.

It may be a tall order, like asking the Arabs to extend the hand of friendship to the Israelis. But in both cases the only other alternative — a mutual bloodbath — really leaves no choice.

TODAY in history

Sept. 11, 1969 . . . Gen. George Washington was defeated in the Battle of Brandywine 192 years ago today — in 1777 — by a British force under Sir William Howe. American losses in the engagement, named after the Brandywine River in Pennsylvania near where the battle was fought, were about 1,000 killed, wounded and taken prisoner, compared with about 600 for the British. Howe followed up his victory and 16 days later entered Philadelphia.

1916 — The centre span of the Quebec Bridge dropped into the St. Lawrence River near Quebec City while being set in place, killing 13 workmen.

1956 — W. A. Bishop, VC, Canadian First World War air ace, died.

Second World War . . . Twenty-five years ago today — in 1944 — Allies fought on German soil for first time. French troops reached Dijon. American fighters shot down 175 enemy planes in air battle over Germany.

Letters to editor

Endorsement provided to Lawrence colonists

The Editor:

I wish to thank you for your recognition of Lawrence Colony in recent publications. With the free expression of opinion in matters of both public involvement and personal concern there is always danger of hurt feelings because it is very seldom that any one person has knowledge of all the facts. I do not believe that there has been any insincerity expressed by anybody. Nor do I believe that anybody should feel hurt or blamed.

Perhaps a little explanation from me might help to clarify matters. Last spring, justifiably or not, it became generally understood that there would be a forestry programme at or in the vicinity of Lawrence which would give employment to all able-bodied Lawrence men. Disappointedly, this did not materialize. We might well assume that the main cause of this was lack of finance on the part of authorities and the policy of Government to co-ordinate an over-all area scheme for which it lacked money, as well.

When in late May it was made known to me that there were only three men in Newport Township on public assistance who could work on a project I requested that I might be supplied with the names of men at Lawrence who were in need of work that I might present the list to the Minister of Lands and Forests to inform him that there would be sufficient men to make a project possible. I thought that the men of Lawrence should speak for themselves which they did. I am glad, in a petition: "TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN". This, no doubt, many of your subscribers have read. Blame, if blame anybody thinks there should be, for the publication of this is not to be laid on any of the Petitioners. (Petitioners, be proud that you spoke for yourselves and gave your signatures.)

I have been informed that the Minister did not receive this petition. For what reason I cannot say at this time because I do not know and, perhaps, never shall know. I did not deliver it to him personally, as I had intended, because he was not in his East Angus office on June 2nd but I had sent later that day by mail with a covering letter. The consequent delay allowed opportunity to have some copies made of the petition which might help to promote the cause of the good people of Lawrence. It was through this means that it was possible for your paper to obtain a copy for publication.

This is by way of explanation and not apology. It is not apology but facts that are needed and, perhaps, a little charity by those who would be critical. May I say to the people of Lawrence, Mr. Editor, show your colors, blow your horns, seek your rights, defend yourselves against public opinion and statements which you think are unjust, and don't take second place to anybody. All you need is equal opportunity with others and you can well take your place in society. Seek it. I am behind you and other kind and helpful people are behind you, too. Thanks to all. This I say on your behalf, too.

Thanks to you, Mr. Editor. Sincerely,
REV. M. C. M. JONES
President Eastern Townships Protestant Colonization Association.

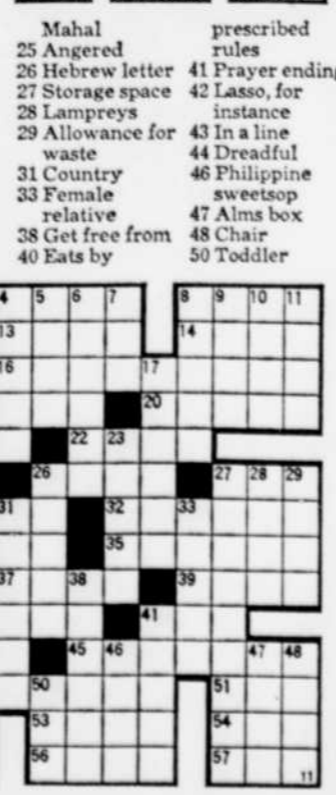

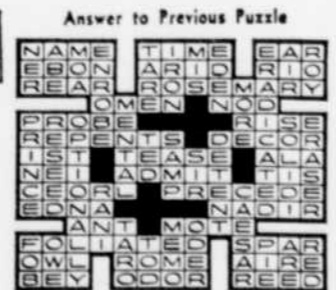

TIMELY QUOTES

I am coming to believe that a major factor in controlling skyrocketing costs is the degree to which physicians are involved in the program, not simply as purveyors of medical aid but also as watchdogs of costs and guardians of quality. —Robert H. Finch, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

We do not want to see more cathedrals built, and hardly more churches, before substantially improved effort on social action. —James T. Harris Jr., director of the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice.

Scotstown Rangers, Guides enjoy successful camp

SCOTSTOWN — The Ranger and Guide Camp of the Scotstown Company held at the Irving farm from Aug. 18 to 23 was successful, with 11 girls in camp. The leaders were Mrs. W. H. M. Church, Mrs. Les Irving, assisted by Mrs. John D. MacDonald and Miss Heather MacAulay.

While at camp the girls worked toward their Pioneer, Camper, Athlete and Second Class badges. The Scotstown Brownie Group spent one day at camp and also worked for their Athlete badge. Dawn Irving, who was celebrating her 5th birthday on Aug. 20, was presented with a birthday cake by Mrs. John D. MacDonald. The same day being visitors day, several parents and friends visited the camp.

Miss Simone Bailey, Camp Advisor from Sherbrooke, spent a day at camp and gave the girls their tests for the Pioneer and Camper badges.

All of the girls were new campers except five who had camped before. The Leaders and girls are grateful to the Lennoxville Boy Scouts for loaning them the tents, John D. MacDonald for bringing the tents and Peter Goodin for returning them to Lennoxville.

Apart from the Campers fee the expenses were covered by proceeds of the food and rummage sale. The Leaders and girls are also grateful to the parents and friends in the community who assisted in any way in making the week's camping for the girls a success. Mrs. Church and the girls give much credit to Mr. and Mrs. Les Irving for the many extra things they did at camp which added to their comfort and enjoyment.

THE BAHAI HOUSE of Worship at Wilmette, Illinois, United States, is an exotic nine-sided temple bordering the shore of Lake Michigan.

Baha'I religion expands west

By STU LOWNDES

Blessed is the spot, and the house, and the place, and the city, and the heart, and the mountain, and the refuge, and the cave, and the valley, and the land, and the sea, and the island, and the meadow, where mention of God hath been made, and his praise glorified
Baha'u'llah

What is Baha'I? The word, pronounced Ba-ha-ee, is used to denote either the faith of an independent world religion that began in Persia 100 years ago, or a follower of Baha'u'llah, the prophet-founder.

The religion, little known in the West, has a few ardent followers or "messengers" in the Eastern Townships and boasts a flourishing membership in 250 countries around the world.

While it claims no affiliation to a sect of any other religion, the Baha'I faith does have its own sacred scriptures, its own laws, its own administrative institutions and its own holy places — the most sacred of which are situated in the Holy Land.

The religion does not have any secret mystic doctrines, it does not have a priesthood or professional clergy but it does believe in only one God.

The Baha'I faith revolves around three basic principles: the oneness of God, the oneness of religion and the oneness of mankind.

Organization of the faith is through elected bodies at the local, national and international levels. Elections are democratic in form, except that there is no campaigning or nominating.

Financial contributions for support of all Baha'I activities are accepted only from its members and are wholly voluntary. Personal solicitation is forbidden.

At present there are four Baha'I houses of worship. They are located at Frankfurt, Germany; Sydney, Australia; Kampala, Uganda, Africa, and Wilmette, Illinois, U.S.A.

Temples are used as places of prayer and meditation and are open to all people, regardless of race, religion or class.

Services are simple, without ritual, and consist of selected readings, prayers and meditations of the Baha'I faith and other religions of the world.

The Baha'I World Centre is situated in the Holy Land on the slopes of Mount Carmel overlooking the seaport of Haifa, and the twin city of Akka, where Baha'u'llah, prophet-founder of the faith, was imprisoned for his religious beliefs.

The prophet-founder of the Baha'I, Baha'u'llah, was Arabic and means the "Glory of God". He was born in Tihiran, Iran, Nov. 12, 1817 and was the son of a government minister.

Baha'u'llah, upon hearing of the claim of the Bab, a young merchant of Shikaz, to be a prophet of God, embraced the Babi faith and became one of its staunchest adherents.

In 1852, as a result of his Babi activities, Baha'u'llah was imprisoned in an underground dungeon in Tihiran. While imprisoned there he received the first intimation that he was the "Great Messenger" of God foretold by the Bab.

Upon his release from prison, a period of life-long exile and banishment began. While in exile in Baghdad in 1893 he announced his prophetic mission to his followers.

After further exile to Constantinople and Adrianople, he was incarcerated in the Turkish penal colony of Akka.

Although he remained nominally a prisoner until his death in 1892, Baha'u'llah was persuaded to move outside the gates of the prison-city after a nine-year confinement within prison walls.

He died shortly after.

The Bab, born in Shiraz, Iran, Oct. 20, 1819, was a young merchant of Shiraz and a devout member of the Shaykhis, a Moslem sect which believed that Mohammed's announcement in the Koran of a prophet succeeding him would actually come to pass in the year 1844.

The young merchant took the symbolic title of the Bab, meaning "The Gate", and showed such vision and beauty of character that he soon had 18 devoted disciples, including Baha'u'llah, known as "The Letters of the Living".

Startling as may be the Bab's bold claim that he was the promised one foretold by Mohammed, even more astonishing was the declarant's message that a much greater prophet would appear shortly after him — Baha'u'llah.

Because of his teachings, the Bab and his followers were persecuted by the Muslim clergy. These persecutions persisted during his imprisonment and banishment and culminated in his public martyrdom in 1850 at Tabriz, Iran (then Persia).

Some 20,000 of his followers were also martyred during the early history of the Baha'I faith.

The eldest son of Baha'u'llah, Abdul-Baha shared the persecution, exile and imprisonment with his prophet-father, and remained a prisoner until 1908.

Appointed by his father in a written will and testament as the centre of his covenant, Abdul-Baha, meaning "Servant of Glory", was the person to whom all Baha'is must turn for instruction and guidance.

After his release from prison, Abdul-Baha undertook extensive teaching tours in Egypt and Europe and spent eight months in the United States in 1912.

Abdul-Baha is regarded as the "Perfect Exemplar" of Baha'u'llah's teachings, but not as a divinely inspired prophet.

The eldest grandson of Abdul-Baha, Shoghi Effendi, was appointed as the guardian of the Baha'I faith. In 1912 he became, after Abdul-Baha, the sole interpreter of the Baha'I teachings.

Under the guidance of Abdul-Baha and his eldest grandson, the present administrative order was developed and the groundwork laid for the eventual election of the Universal House of Justice, a nine-member body elected by the members throughout the world which has legislative powers on matters not expressly revealed in the Baha'I scriptures.

After the death of Shoghi Effendi in 1957, the worldwide leadership of the faith was assumed by the supreme administrative body ordained by Baha'u'llah — the Universal House of Justice — which was established in 1963.

The sacred scriptures consist of the writings of Baha'u'llah, the Bab, the Bab, and Abdul-Baha. There are numerous commentaries and explanation written by Shoghi Effendi, which although not considered as sacred scripture are regarded as equally valid.

The Baha'I faith has 12 basic principles:

- 1) The oneness of the world of humanity.
- 2) The independent investigation of truth.
- 3) The foundation of all religions is one.
- 4) Religion must be the source of unity.
- 5) Religion and science must be in harmony.
- 6) Equality of the sexes.
- 7) Religious and racial prejudice and superstition must be overcome.
- 8) Universal peace.
- 9) Universal education.
- 10) Spiritual solution of the economic problem.
- 11) An auxiliary universal language.
- 12) International parliament of man.

Since there is no clergy in the faith, the responsibility for teaching and spreading of the religion rests with the individual Baha'I.

BEEBE — A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Wesley United Church on July 12 uniting Sharon Lou Tetreault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tetreault, to Kristian John Kirkwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erle Kirkwood, Malartic.

The Rev. T. W. Tyson officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with baskets of white

Miss Donna Haskell, niece of the bride, as flowergirl, was in a dress identical to the other attendants. She carried a small basket of mixed flowers.

Mr. Gregory Kirkwood, of Malartic, acted as best man for his brother, while the ushers were Mr. Stanley Hancox of Bedford and Mr. Gary LeCraw, Norland, Ont.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Tetreault, was attired in a coat dress ensemble of printed shantung lined with beige accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Kirkwood, chose a beige summer knit dress with white accessories. Both ladies wore white rose corsages.

Mrs. May Alex, maternal grandmother of the bride, was in a blue summer knit suit, with a rose corsage.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Stardust Room in Newport, where a buffet lunch was served. The wedding cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Valmore Lepitre. Another cake was made and decorated by Mr. and Mrs. McNeal, a gift to the bride. Music for dancing was supplied by the Stardusters.

For a wedding trip to Quebec City and points in Prince Edward Island, the bride wore a coat and dress ensemble in turquoise French crepe, white accessories and a white rose corsage.

Following the honeymoon, the couple took up residence in Port Credit, Ont.

Guests attended from Montreal, Arundel, St. Bruno, Beloeil, Val d'Or, Toronto, North Bay, Magog, North Hatley, Georgeville, Bedford, British Columbia, Barrie, Florida, Rock Island, Stanstead and Beebe.

The Friday evening preceding the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Tetreault entertained the wedding party. A buffet lunch was served following the rehearsal. The bridal attendants were presented with gifts.

Salt Beautifies Skin

Ordinary salt from the kitchen shelf is another beauty aid for the frugal. A salt rub, which increases the circulation, will give the skin a glow and beautify blemish-prone shoulders and arms. Simply relax in a tub of warm water for five minutes until your pores open, then massage with dry salt, and rinse in cool water.

Wedding in the Townships Rye - Bronson

DERBY — The marriage of Lexie Rose, only daughter of Mrs. Martha Bronson, Derby Line, and Mr. Donald Bronson, Kitchener, Ont., to Mr. Arthur Henry Rye, son of Mrs. Harold Rye, South Burlington, Vt., and the late Mr. Rye, took place on Saturday afternoon, September 6, at the Derby United Church.

Rev. Lester Van Zant officiated for the double ring ceremony. Mrs. S. Houghton played the organ music, choosing selections from "The Sound of Music". Arrangements of white and yellow gladioli were used to decorate.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white peau de soie having applique chantilly lace at the highrise waist on each side of the semi A-line floor length skirt, on the bodice with a scooped neckline and tipped the full length sleeves. The cathedral length train of peau de soie was caught with a bow and streamers and enhanced with cut lace applique. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was held by a tulle of tear drops and lace hearts and tulle. She carried a cascade of yellow Sweetheart roses, and miniature white carnations with ivy entwined.

Miss Pauline Routhier, as maid of honor, in maize, the bridesmaids, Miss Helen Routhier, Miss Sally Scott and Miss Lorrie LaBounty, niece of the groom, in Nile green, were dressed alike in princess styled gowns of Irish linen with short sleeves and round necklines edged with green and yellow embroidered daisies. They wore matching bows and tulle in their hair. The maid of honor carried a long stem talisman rose. The bridesmaids each carried a full bloom yellow rose.

Mr. Daniel Leonard was best man for the groom and the ushers were Mr. Randall Bronson, brother of the bride, Mr. William Lawrence, and Mr. Walter LaBounty. The gentlemen of the wedding party wore afternoon tuxedos, and carnation boutonnières.

Mrs. Bronson, mother of the bride, was in a turquoise blue sheath satin poplin, topped with a matching coat, white accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses and poms.

Mrs. Rye, the groom's mother, was wearing a beige knit jacket dress, brown accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and bronze mums.

The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. B. R. Wilson, was in a printed crepe dress and wore a toned hat and black accessories. Her corsage was sweetheart roses and poms.

The groom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. George Perkins wore a dark blue knit and black accessories with a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and poms.

The reception was held in the church fellowship room, where seasonal flowers were used to decorate. Under the convesorship of Mrs. Olive Christensen, the women members of the church served a buffet. The bride's table was centered with the three tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Benoit Blais, in white with yellow roses and green leaves topped with wedding bells.

Miss Carol Bronson, cousin of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Miss Denise Routhier was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Rye left by motor for their wedding trip to Maine and Nova Scotia. They will be living in the Northgate Apts, Number 42, North Ave. Ext., Burlington, by mid September.

The bride travelled in a long sleeve beige wool dress topped with a brown and beige checked sleeveless coat with toning accessories.

Guests attended from Kitchener, Ont., Boston, Mass., Burlington, Morgan, Greensboro, Randolph, Middlebury, Derby, Vt., Hanover, N.H., Massachusetts, and the Boundary Villages.

Newly weds will live in Brampton, Ontario.

WARDEN — St. John the Divine Church, Warden, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday August 16 when Jean Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Talbot, became the bride of James Homer Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Thompson, all of Brampton, Ont.

Rev. David Mercer officiated at the double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with baskets of cut flowers, white gladioli dominating, and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Mary Sicard and the soloist, Mr. Gordon Cousins, sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length empire gown of white organza fashioned with a lace covered bodice. Her cape of matching lace centered with a panel of organza, covering the bodice, fell into a full length train. Tiny white flowers held a floor length veil. Her bouquet was of yellow roses, shasta daisies and ivy.

Mrs. Dana MacNeill, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Leigh Marshall, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Edwin Norton, as attendants, wore identical floor length gowns of mint green summer linen. A long sash tied on the side gave a cummerbund effect, and their hats were pill boxes of matching material. They carried nosegays of yellow and white shasta daisies with ivy.

Little Miss Angela Talbot, niece of the bride, as flowergirl, wore a pale yellow dress, the sash tied in a bow at the back. Her headpiece was a circle of miniature pink and white carnations and she carried a basket of shasta daisies and carnations. She wore a silver locket, a gift of the bride.

Mr. Thomas Thompson, cousin of the groom, Brampton, was best man, while the ushers were the Messrs. Sherman Talbot, brother of the bride, and Mr. Paul Rutledge also of Brampton. Master Michael Manning, nephew of the bride, acted as ring bearer, and carried a heart shaped pillow edged in lace.

Mrs. Talbot, mother of the bride, wore an outfit of aqua crepe with matching lace coat, white accessories and a corsage of tangierne carnations.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of the groom, chose a dress of gold puffed taffeta trimmed with brown velvet, with a matching hat, and a corsage of pink and white mums.

The reception was held in the Legion Hall, Waterloo, where the bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake made by the bride's sister, and flanked by pink and white carnations and lighted white tapers.

For the honeymoon trip through the Eastern States, the bride chose an ensemble of hot pink, the coat of co-ordinating check with hat to match. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Out of town guests were from Granby, Cowansville, Sherbrooke, Waterville, East Farnham, Montreal, Brampton, Milton, Kitchener, Weston, and Toronto.

The couple has taken up residence at 48 David Street, Brampton.

THE DUKE OF WELLINGTON IODE

The first meeting of the Duke of Wellington Chapter IODE was held at the Moore Street rooms recently.

Regent, Mrs. P. A. Dauncey, presided and the meeting was opened with the prayer of the order.

Treasurer, Mrs. D. A. Maguire, read the financial statement showing all the summer expenditures paid. The Spring Dessert Bridge proved a financial success and the members discussed several possible money-raising projects for the fall.

The drawing for an electric fry pan and an electric light fixture will take place at the October meeting.

The members were reminded that October has been chosen for the planned membership drive.

Services convenor reported that two knitted baby sets, five pairs of baby booties and four nightshirts had been made by Mrs. C. J. Hawkets. Chapter members staffed the library trolley at the Sherbrooke Hospital during the summer months. It is hoped that several members will attend the Provincial Chapter's Semi-annual meeting at St. Johns, Que., on October 15 and 16.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments served by Mrs. P. A. Dauncey.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH LENNOXVILLE ACW

In the absence of the president, Miss Kathleen Atto presided at the opening meeting on September 5th, which was a very interesting one.

Deaconesses will now be recognized as ordained, and will be considered for the priesthood. Women church workers will be on the same salary scale as the men and will receive a pension. A woman was chosen as Deputy-Prolocutor.

Mrs. Ronald Reeve gave an illustrated talk on Durham Cathedral and its immediate surroundings. Mrs. Lee Watson introduced the speaker and she was thanked by Mrs. Willard Johnston.

Arrangements were made for the Sunshine Tea to be held on September 16.

Tea was served by Mrs. L. J. Hewitt.

A buffet luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter Judy and her daughter-in-law, Carolyn. The wedding took place in St. Patrick's Church Sherbrooke the following morning.

Two games separate five clubs in frenzied Western Division race

Mets romp into 1st in Expo sweep; who's laughing now?

Montreal Expos, with a 44-99 won-loss record and smarting from a double defeat at the hands of New York Wednesday, can take heart in the fact that seven years ago today the Mets were in last place in the National League with a 35-105 record.

Today, the Mets are in first place in the Eastern Division, one game ahead of Chicago Cubs after downing the Expos 3-2 in 12 innings and 7-1 in a doubleheader Wednesday. The Cubs, meanwhile, lost 6-2 to Philadelphia Phillies.

In other NL ACTION Houston Astros defeated Los Angeles 2-1 to tie the Dodgers for fourth in the Western Division, just two games back of first-place San Francisco Giants.

San Francisco lost 8-4 to Atlanta Braves but remained one-half game ahead of both Cincinnati Reds and the Braves. St. Louis Cardinals swept Pittsburgh Pirates 11-2 and 2-1 while San Diego Padres edged the Reds 2-1.

The hit that thrilled Met fans was a single by Ken Boswell in the 12th inning of the opener. It scored Cleon Jones and put the Mets in first place for the first time this year.

The Mets increased their lead to a full game in the nightcap as they erupted for six runs in the third inning and Nolan Ryan pitched a three-hitter.

Montreal got three hits and two runs in the first two innings of the opener off Jim McAndrew. McAndrew limited the Expos to one more hit until he was taken for a pinch hitter in the 11th. Ron Taylor of Oakville, Ont., pitched the 12th and got the victory.

SETS CLUB RECORD

The Mets had plenty of trouble with Mike Wegener, who yielded just five hits and struck out a club record of 15, but they scored one run in the first inning on Art Shamsky's two-out, single and tied the score on the fifth when Wegener balked with the bases loaded. Boswell's game-winning hit came off Bill Stoneman.

New York fell behind 1-0 in the second inning of the nightcap, then wrapped up its sixth straight victory and 22nd in 28 games in the third. Wayne Garrett, Cleon Jones and Boswell each drove in a run in the inning, and three more scored on a wild pitch and two errors.

Chicago, out of first place for the first time since the season started, went down to its seventh straight defeat before the three-hit pitching of Rick Wise.

The Phillies broke a 2-2 tie on Johnny Briggs' run-scoring single in the seventh.

Houston gained its tie with Los Angeles behind the hitting of Denis Menke and Jim Wynn, and the pitching of Denny Lemaster.

EDGE NEARER

Atlanta, now just two percentage points behind second-place Cincinnati, beat San Francisco as Hank Aaron belted his 40th homer and Rico Carty followed an Aaron single in the fifth with his 12th homer.

Shortstop Woody Woodward's error proved to be Cincinnati's downfall. He came in on Julio Morales' grounder in the eighth inning and allowed San Diego's Roberto Pena, who had tripled, to score.

The pitching and hitting of Bob Gibson keyed St. Louis' first-game victory over Pittsburgh.

Gibson, 17-11, rapped three singles and a double and scored twice while Joe Torre drove in five runs with a triple and single.

The Cardinals grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first inning of the second game when Bob Belinsky walked in two runs with the bases loaded.

Reggie Jackson is itching to regain his American League home run-hitting lead from Frank Howard. He's also just plain itching.

Howard slapped his 46th of the season to match Jackson's output in backing Dick Bosman's two-hitter as Washington Senators whipped New York Yankees 6-1 Wednesday night.

But Jackson was deprived of at least an opportunity to go back on top a few hours later when he was sent home from the Oakland ball park with a case of the hives. It wasn't known just how long he would be out.

Jackson wasn't the only one to desert the fast fading Athletics. Only 1,945 fans, the smallest crowd in the Bay area's major league baseball history, turned up to see Seattle Pilots' 9-4 victory. That pinned the fifth straight loss on the Athletics, their 13th in 16 games, and put them another big step toward mathematical elimination in the Western Division.

Thanks to the Pilot victory, Minnesota Twins, who had only a two-game lead over Oakland just a little more than two weeks ago, maintained their 9½ game bulge despite a 3-2 loss to Chicago

White Sox

ORIOLES STOP SOX

Baltimore Orioles whipped Boston Red Sox 8-6, Detroit Tigers stopped Cleveland Indians 4-1 and California Angels defeated Kansas City Royals 11-4 in other games.

Bosman held the Yankees hitless until Jimmy Hall lined a double to left centre with one out in the eighth. Jerry Kenney followed with a single for the only other New York hit, producing the lone run.

Ken McMullen hit his 16th homer in the fourth, a solo blast, and Howard put it away in the next inning with his shot with two men aboard.

Wayne Comer's homer and single knocked in three runs and rookie Dan Walton produced two more with a triple in Seattle's triumph. Ramon Webster homered for the Athletics, his first of the year.

Don Pavletich's solo homer, his sixth, and a single helped the White Sox and Tommy John, 7-11, past the Twins.

MAGIC NUMBER—FIVE

Don Buford's 10th homer keyed a six-run fourth that guided Baltimore to its fourth straight victory and ninth in 11 games, cutting to five the Orioles' magic number for clinching the Eastern Division title.

Syd O'Brien knocked in three runs for the Red Sox with his 10th homer and two singles, while Carl Yastrzemski hit his 36th homer, the 1,500th career hit for the left fielder.

Mickey Lolich pitched a five-hitter and backed it with a run-scoring triple and scored once himself as the Tigers handed the Indians their 87th loss of the season, the most any Cleveland team has dropped since the 1928 Indians lost 92 games.

Jim Northrup hit his 21st homer for the Tigers, extending his hitting streak to nine games.

Bubba Morton produced five runs with a bases-loaded double and a single as California swept aside the Royals.

Beavers announce new appointment

Officials of the Sherbrooke Beavers of the Quebec Junior A Hockey League have announced the appointment of Mario Lauzon as publicity director of the team.

During the course of the season, Lauzon will accommodate the press and radio coverage in the region.

Training camp officially opens 9 a.m. Friday morning at the Sports Palace. More than 100 people from throughout the province will report, under the tutelage of coach Lou Poliquin.

The directors of the Quebec Junior A League have approved the constitution and rules that have been suggested by the Executive of the League. At the end of a very long meeting that took place last Saturday in Drummondville, President Bob LeBel said: "All the directors have shown that they will contribute entirely to the success of the Quebec Junior A League."

The directors have also accepted to give young players in the Quebec the same advantages as in the other Junior A Leagues all over Canada, with the intention of having them stay in the province to play hockey.

The Executive was requested to send a telegram to the CAHA asking this association to refuse the new rules that the QAHA intends to write about the "minor league" players. "Such rules will cause a prejudice to our league because not any other Junior A League in Canada has to observe rules like these," said Bob LeBel.

Before you get into too much hot water, read this...

Fact 1: You can buy a family-sized, Cascade electric hot water heater for much less than other types of water heaters.

Fact 2: The average family (4 persons) uses less than 40 gallons of hot water a day. (So why pay for the over-ability to heat 2,000 gallons per day?)

Fact 3: If your family is NOT average, and you have peak hours of extraordinary hot water use, a 60-gallon CASCADE is more than enough for your needs.

For example, let's suppose you do a big wash, bath two children, and use up another 10 gallons in various ways all in one hour. Let's even rush things and have you take a bath, too. (And leave the tap running a bit!) All in that same hour. Have you any idea how much hot water you will have used?

- Would you believe:
- one big washing — 28 gallons
 - three baths — 30 gallons
 - odds and suds — 10 gallons

Total: 68 gallons (That's all!)

And our 60-gallon CASCADE would supply 73 gallons of good hot water during that hour.

Fact 4: For most of family-users, however, our CASCADE 40 (40 gallons) is all the hot water heater they need.

Facts 5-6-7-8: The CASCADE is very economical, because it's designed to supply family needs, not a carwash!

The CASCADE is very practical. It's so compact, you don't need a special room or compartment for it.

The CASCADE is extra-safe. Flameless. Worry-free. The CASCADE is extra-clean. Odorless. Leaves no deposit of any kind.

However you figure it, the CASCADE is the most logical, efficient and thrifty hot water heater you can possibly buy.

Ask your local supplier for the exact Cascade electric water heater for your needs. Or call the Sales Department of Hydro-Quebec.

Arabian Horse Show held in Knowlton displayed color

KNOWLTON — On Sunday, September 7, the Quebec Arabian Horse Association

(l'Association du Cheval Arabe du Quebec) held its first show since its inception three years ago. The Lion's Field on Bondville Road in Knowlton was the show site with 75 per cent of the gate proceeds going to the Knowlton Lions Club, which amounted to $218. The show was planned by a committee of the Association composed of President Denis Brossard of Magog, Jay Irwin of Waterloo, Brandon Sykes of Knowlton and secretary, Mrs. Denise Clement of Magog.

The Quebec Arabian Horse Association was formed three years ago by a group of Arabian horse owners among whom is Jay Irwin of Waterloo. At present the Association has over 70 members with the bulk of the membership coming from the Province of Quebec but there are members from Ontario and the United States. The Association conducts its business in both official languages and welcomes any interested Arabian owner to join its ranks. Local residents who are members of the Association and will be showing their horses: Jay Irwin, Brandon Sykes, Larry Groves of Foster, Raymond Boule and George Dyer both of Sutton and Maureen Johnston Main and Marion Seymour both of Knowlton.

All the events were judged by Alan Thorpe of Nashville, Ontario, with George Rogerson acting as Ringmaster. The association wishes to thank Mr. Rogerson for offering his services to this most worthwhile event. The show was composed of nine Halter classes and 11 Performance classes. Some classes were open allowing both English and Westerns to participate. One event which proved interesting was the Fanny Ride during which the rider rode bareback with at least six inches of a sixteen inch piece of paper under his fanny at all times. Another eye-getter was the Arabian Mounted Native Costume event during which the "Arabs" were dressed in various costumes.

The available facilities at the Lion's Field included two rings with all events except the Western Trail taking place in one of the two. The grounds cover 18 acres with an elevated platform available for the Judge, the Association Secretary and officials. This show last Sunday was the first of its kind ever held in the Province of Quebec yet, despite its novelty, there were 72 entries. Though the Arabian race is not the most numerous it is accepted fact that these relatively small horses which average 15 hands in height have a level of endurance and determination which is unmatched as is their versatility and beauty. It is the cumulative intention of the Quebec Horse Association to present the Arabian horse on a broader scope of popularity, as the Morgan horse is admired in the state of Vermont. The Horse Show proved to be a great success—both rewarding to the entrants and for those who ventured out to the grounds to watch it. On the basis of this year's showing, great things are expected in 1970.

JUNIOR SCORES HOLE - IN - ONE — Yvan Beaubien, age 15, a member of the Richmond - Melbourn Belleview Golf course, made the hole-in-one on the 3rd green with a hundred foot drive using a number 9 iron. At the time, he was playing a local tourney and accompanied by Hugues Cormier and A. Maguire. Yvan, is the first known junior to feature such an event on this course. In the photo, Yvan is looking over his "prize" ball, while his playing opponent, Hugues, proudly displays the green flag. (Record photo - Wm. H. Lunan Studio)

Hitting the links... "Champion of Champions"

MONTREAL — Club champions from Quebec Golf Association member clubs will compete for the top provincial championship titles and O'Keefe trophies in classes A, B and C in the annual "Champion of Champions" tournament at Wentworth Golf Club on Sunday, September 21.

And the class A, B and C champions registering for the event will be setting a golf record for "lasts": the "Champion of Champions" tournament is the last official QGA event of the season, the final competition on this year's provincial O'Keefe circuit and will be the final tournament ever to be held at the present Wentworth layout in Cote St. Luc. Next season, the Wentworth activities will be transferred to their club's new Ile Perrot location.

Eligible to participate in the invitation tournament are the class champions of QGA member clubs in Quebec and Eastern Ontario. 129 champions representing some 50 clubs took part in the 1968 match at Beloeil Golf Club.

Grand Tour tourney

QUEBEC CITY — Twelve Canadian golf professionals and one lone amateur will be competing starting on Friday at the Royal Quebec golf club for what has in only its second season become the country's elite golf championship, the 1969 Carling Canadian Tour championship.

The professionals, who can be rated as the top 12 now playing actively in this country, are the winners or most consistent low scorers in the provincial open events on the brewery's cross-country golf tour. Canadian pros winning one of the seven opens received an automatic entry to the tour championship, the others qualified through points earned in tour play. Only members of the Canadian Professional Golfers Association were eligible for the Quebec trip.

Just two of the pro positions, those held by Bob Cox, of Quilchena, B.C., and Bill Wakeham, of Victoria, were gained by tournament victories. Cox, who earned his tour championship qualification by winning the Saskatchewan Open, also took the Alberta and Atlantic opens and is the top pre-tournament favorite.

SURE FOOTED as a WILDCAT

TURNPIKE SAFETY '4'

PREMIUM QUALITY NYLON

Safety '4' Wildcat has a lot going for it. Much more than you'd expect to find in medium-priced nylons. Where else would you get the tenacious grip of a great cat, the racy look of a Grand Prix tire? Yet that continental look runs more than skin-deep. Built to set your car closer to the road, Safety '4' has the high-speed stability and easy handling that take highway problems in stride. Like a Wildcat, it has the instinct for swifter stops, faster take-offs. Its inner strength and stamina spring from a Dupont Nylon 4-ply cord body that measures up to the toughest road tests. A great tire—a great value! And it's not alone. If long mileage is on your mind, take a look at its running-mate—Turnpike '78' Nylon. This one has the low, wide proportions of tires you'll soon be seeing on the new 1970 high-performance cars. And it's a Whitewall at only $2.50 more than the regular Safety '4' Blackwall.

*Manufacturers' List Price—If you're confused about this term, here's the gen. Each manufacturer publishes a list of prices. Generally speaking, for similar grades, these prices are pretty much the same. Newspaper advertised sale prices may cut these list prices 15%, to 25%. By contrast, Canadian Tire cuts list prices by more than 50%. Come in—compare—and see for yourself!
