Search Continues For 22 Missing

GRIM EVIDENCE — An empty fishing boat washed up on the shore at Escuminac, N.B., is grim evidence of one of the worst disasters in the memory of Northumberland Strait fishermen. The hurricane-force winds lashed boats and washed men overboard like soap suds.

ESCUMINAC, N. B. (CP)—The search for bodies of 22 men still missing in the Northumberland Strait fishing fleet disaster was to continue out of this little port today.

The death toll has reached 13. Little knots of relatives still come to the water hoping for good news but they are now resigned to the worst.

RCMP in Newcastle said Monday night they had orders to continue dragging operations in the strait and search of the shoreline indefinitely.

HOPE FADES

As hope for any more survivors faded, sympathy and offers of aid began to pour into this little village and neighboring Bay du Vin and Baie Ste. Anne.

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip expressed their sympathy through Governor General Vincent Massey.

"I have been asked by Her Majesty the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh to express their distress at hearing of the loss of lives and ships in Northumberland Strait early Saturday and to convey their sympathy to those who suffered and to the next of kin of those who lost their lives in the disaster," the message said.

Pallett Explains Land Deal

OTTAWA (CP) — Once again the Commons Progressive Conservative majority has refused to investigate a land expropriation case that has drawn into heated controversy Transport Minister Hees and John Pallett chief government whip.

After hearing explanations from both men—Mr. Pallett for the first time—the Progressive Conservatives Monday night outvoted the combined Liberal and OCF opposition 136 to 35 to defeat a motion of non-confidence in the government based on the case concerning land near the Malton, Ont., airport.

The Liberals concentrated on two aspects of an Exchequer Court judgment by Mr. Justice J. T. Thorson who said Mr. Pallett maintained Mr. Hees agreed to be bound by land valuations to be set by an appraiser named on the government whip's recommendation.

The written judgment also said

Louis Armstrong Hit By Pneumonia

SPOLETO, Italy (AP)—American jazz king Louis Armstrong was taken to Spoleto's civil hospital today, suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

Italian doctors who examined him immediately after the attack today said that he had suffered a heart attack. But an examination by specialists at the hospital showed that the 59-year-old musician had pneumonia.

The specialists—one of them a heart man—said Armstrong's condition was not grave.

FIVE GUARDS HELD BY PSYCHIATRIC PATIENTS

100,000 Expected

Congress Opens Tonight

The first Diocesan Eucharistic Congress ever to be held in Sherbrooke officially opens tonight with the consecration of St. Michael's Cathedral by Archbishop Georges Cabana, honorary patron and sponsor of the congress, at 8 p.m.

This will be followed by the traditional St. Jean Baptiste eve bonfire at Dufresne Park at 9.30 p.m.

More than 100,000 people are expected to attend the congress which will continue through Sunday.

Among the highlights will be a mass marriage ceremony at Jacques Cartier Park, June 27, at which Cardinal Leger, Archbishop of Montreal will officiate. All events except the consecration of the cathedral, which will be spread over two days, will take place at Jacques Cartier Park where a large temporary altar has been built with seating capacity for 12,000 people.

Although French will be the official language of the Congress, Thursday evening has been set aside especially for English-speaking Roman Catholics. Cardinal McGuigan of Toronto will say Mass and preach in English at 9 p.m. Thursday night. At 8 p.m., Mgr. Rosario Moisan of St. Patrick's Church will conduct a Holy Hour.

A Congress official, explaining the meaning of the event, said it is organized for the benefit of the diocese, but it can be on a national or international scale. "Eucharistic Congress is the homage of the people to Jesus in the form of the Blessed Sacrament," the spokesman said. "A Congress presupposes a period of intense preparation and is climaxed by a public procession and profession of faith."

"The last days of the Congress are a triumphal hymn of praise and thanksgiving of the Divine King in the Holy Eucharist," he added.

The purpose of the Congress, he said, was to render tribute to God and to give thanks for graces received in the diocese since its foundation.

"No Retreat" Stand Taken By Herter

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Christian A. Herter is reported ready to proclaim a "no retreat" stand in future talks with the Russians on the deadlocked Berlin issue.

Herter is to outline his views in a television-radio report tonight. His 15-minute speech will seek to explain why six weeks of intensive talks at Geneva failed to ease East-West tensions over Germany's fate.

APPROVES PLAN

President Eisenhower is understood to have approved the main points of Herter's address during a White House meeting Monday. With Eisenhower's full backing, he is reported ready to say:

1. The United States, Britain and France have reached rock bottom in the concessions they will offer Russia in order to settle the Berlin crisis.

2. The Soviet Union must rescind its ultimatum-like deadline for an end to Allied rule in West Berlin if a new round of foreign ministers' talks in Geneva is to avoid the same deadlock that caused the ministers to recess Saturday.

3. Eisenhower is determined to shun any summit meeting with Premier Nikita Khrushchev unless the Geneva talks first make readily apparent progress in blocking out a reasonable settlement of the Berlin quarrel.

State department officials said Herter's aim will be to make it clear that the Allies are ready to see the Geneva talks collapse in disagreement rather than surrender their rights to act as protectors of West Berlin's 2,250,000 citizens.

Hunt Goes On For Russian Deserters

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (AP)—The hunt continued today for two seamen who apparently deserted the Russian trawler Neman when she docked her Sunday.

Victor Selianoff, second secretary of the Russian Embassy in Ottawa, told reporters Monday that his visit here was in connection with the disappearance of two crew members of the trawler. The missing men were identified as Valis Butoldis and Aodolph Tlonis, both 21.

Anti-Fronzizi

Tension Grows In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's government crisis appeared to be nearing a climax today as a move grew among military leaders to oust President Arturo Frondizi despite his cabinet's resignation.

Tension was heightened by Frondizi's refusal to accept the resignations of his three armed services secretaries, chief targets of the rebellious officers.

Open threats were voiced against Frondizi's regime by his military opponents. They were reported to feel they are strong enough to force the embattled president out unless he meets their demands for sweeping changes in his government and policies.

Leaders of the clique talked openly of installing a military junta to replace the president, a landslide victor 16 months ago in Argentina's first free election in more than a decade.

MAY FORM COALITION

Striving to cope with the darkening crisis, Frondizi told Interior Minister Alfredo Vitolo, long an administration spokesman, to meet leaders of Argentina's political parties today to sound them out on the situation. This aroused speculation that Frondizi was considering forming a coalition government.

Vitolo told reporters the mass cabinet resignation Monday indicated changes in the government's policies but did not say what the changes would be. Observers believed they might have come too late to appease the aroused military.

Many of the military opponents of Frondizi's administration played key roles in the revolution that toppled dictator Juan Peron four years ago.

They have accused Frondizi's administration of not fulfilling its election promises and of permitting Peron supporters and some Communists to infiltrate the government.

Late Bulletin

TORONTO (CP)—Twelve top CBC employees in Toronto resigned today and 19 others were reported to be planning to quit in protest over the cancellation of a morning opinion program on the radio network.

The resignations were touched off at 1 a.m. when four officials of the CBC's department of talks and public affairs announced they were quitting because "candlestick political influence" had caused the cancellation of Preview Commentary, a five-minute opinion program which followed the 8 a.m. radio newscast.

Queen Gets Used To Pace

CHICOUTIMI, Que. (CP)—Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, rapidly getting used to the quick pace of their Canadian tour, appeared more relaxed Monday as they visited the Saguenay region than they have since the tour's start.

The Queen smiled happily and enthusiastically through the one-day visit to the northern Quebec area. The prince, too, was in a sparkling mood.

He frequently became absorbed in talking to people at various stops and had to rush to catch up with the Queen.

The weather was as erratic as the tour's schedule was precise, but the sun appeared to favor the Queen and Prince Philip at the proper moments — breaking through fog and rain to enable them to see the untamed grandeur of the Saguenay River valley and the tamed might of the industrial Lake St. John area.

They sailed from Port Alfred Monday night for Quebec City, where another full round of activities waited them today.

As the royal yacht Britannia cruised up the mighty river 150 miles north of Quebec, the Queen and prince spent hours taking pictures and gazing at the countryside and the towering cliffs of the Saguenay canyon.

Rain and lightning met the Queen as she disembarked at Port Alfred but the sun burst out almost immediately as she took off for a motor tour to Kenogami and Jonquiere, pulp and paper mill towns, and to Arvida, where one of the world's largest aluminum smelters operates.

The region was not heavily decorated for the visit, but the couple's reception was warm.

"Whoops!"

The Queen, as she gingerly descended the gangplank at Port Alfred, almost skidded in a patch of wetness.

"Whoops, it's slippery," she exclaimed, startled.

The Queen was wearing an aquamarine blue and white spotted cotton tailored suit with a white topcoat, which she doffed when the sun came out.

At Chicoutimi, the royal couple was presented with a painting of a Saguenay River scene and was introduced to about 100 district residents.

The prince chatted in flawless French with Bertrand Tremblay, Chicoutimi newspaper man, about Saguenay newspaper problems. At Arvida, the royal couple walked through parts of the 1 1/2 mile aluminum plant and were driven through other sections.

They inspected a 7,000-pound ingot and donned safety glasses to visit the potroom, where temperatures in the electric furnaces reach 1,000 degrees centigrade.

Spotting British freighter

Captain J. G. Wilson standing at attention at dockside, the prince asked him: "Are you from the Caxton?"

He had seen the bowplate of the British paper carrier Caxton as he swung into a dockyard, and had noticed Captain Wilson's traditional British merchant service cap.

Surprised, Captain Wilson affirmed that he was.

"And you're a Belfast man, too," said the prince.

Captain Wilson had to admit he was.

Queen Elizabeth remarked earlier on the beauty of Port Alfred, located in the snug and picturesque harbor of Baie des Ha! Ha!

The name, historians say, comes from the expression of surprise and pleasure uttered by French explorers when they saw the beautiful expanse of the Saguenay River.

African Women Stage Durban Demonstration

DURBAN, South Africa (CP)—A group of 250 African women staged a demonstration in central Durban today. Riot squads and firemen with hoses stood by.

The new demonstration began as African grievances against the Durban council mounted. A boycott of municipal buses in one non-white township and a protest against metering of water in another caused anxiety among riot-conscious citizens.

Police used tear gas Monday to disperse a crowd of 200 Negro women demonstrating in the modern Kwa Mashu township against the council's plan to meter the township's water supply.

E. G. Jenkins, the township manager, later received a delegation of the women, however, and said their complaints will be discussed by city authorities. He said the women viewed the metering as an extra cost to be borne by their small budgets.

Seize Control Of Wing

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Psychiatric patients seized five guards Monday night and today were in control of a wing of the U.S. medical centre here.

"It's a full-blown riot," said Dr. Russell O. Settle, warden of the centre, known as the "country club" of the federal prison system.

All available guards surrounded the darkened wing, waiting tensely for a chance to rescue the hostages from 115 prisoners.

The wing houses homosexuals and neuro-psychiatric patients classified as "younger aggressives" and "old aggressives." The centre's population totals about 1,000.

HELD AT KNIFEPOINT

One patient was seen holding a knife to the back of a hostage.

"Don't try to come in here or your men will get hurt," a rioter told the centre's control room by telephone. "We mean business," another said in a second call.

Questioned by Settle on what started the riot, the man said: "We have our demands almost ready but we will call you." Then he hung up.

The 100-foot-long, one-storey concrete wing is divided into three cellblocks and is separated from the rest of the centre by a barred door.

First indication of the riot came when a guard peered through that door in a routine check just before "lights out."

GUARDS STRIPPED

The guard told Settle he saw prisoners milling in the long corridor. The five guards in the wing were stripped to their shorts and some of the prisoners were wearing the officers' uniforms.

Held hostage were William L. Fitch, Leonard Appleby, Melvin G. Jung, Robert D. Rosenthal and Charles R. Allen.

Some lights were smashed and there was other destruction in the wing. As soon as escape routes through the main door and the steel-barred windows were blocked, the staff settled down to waiting.

Love-Lorn Ape Releases Pals

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A self-appointed attendant—a chimpanzee—caused regular zoo attendants some concern when he began releasing birds and animals at Washington Park zoo in El Paso.

Oswald broke out of his cage Monday and scampered around the zoo, releasing animals and scattering bottles and other containers.

Bob Shipp, city director of recreation, said Oswald may have been showing off for Amy, the female chimp who boards in the cage next to him.

Shipp added, "You know, once in love with Amy."

Making Headway Here

Iron Curtain Traders Busy

OTTAWA (CP)—Representatives of Iron Curtain countries are bustling about Ottawa in unusual numbers and they make no bones of the fact they are courting increased trade with this country.

They seem to be making some headway.

They are interested in selling to Canada as well as buying from her with a view to reducing the big Canadian trade surpluses with Communist block countries of recent years. In 1958 Canada exported to Russia products valued at $18,800,000 while importing only $1,600,000 from that country.

A member of a Czechoslovakian delegation said here Monday night his country soon may buy up to $10,000,000 worth of chemicals and pulp and paper machinery from Canada.

SELL SURPLUS PORK

Agriculture Minister Harkness confirmed in the House of Commons Monday Canada agreed last week to sell Czechoslovakia 2,200,000 pounds of surplus pork, the first meat ever to be sold by Canada to that Communist regime.

Also in Ottawa now is a delegation of five deputies of the Soviet parliament who told a press conference a new Canada-Russia trade treaty expected to be signed soon likely will increase both the volume and variety of trade between the two countries.

There are reports that new dickering is under way between Ottawa and Communist China that may lead to new trade deals with that country. No details are available on these negotiations.

All three countries want Canada to increase its purchases, however.

Ivan G. Kabanov of the Russian group, a former Soviet trade minister, said Canadian and Russian negotiators are working on a pact under which the "principle of mutuality" will be observed. He said there has been no objection by Canada to that approach.

SEND DELEGATION

Rudolf Javorik, Czech deputy minister of chemical industries heading a four-man party on a tour of Canadian industries, said his country will send a delegation to Canada within the next few weeks. It will attempt to negotiate purchases of $2,000,000 to $10,000,000 in Canadian synthetic rubber, carbon black and other chemicals and chemical products and in pulp and paper machinery.

Czechoslovakia also was interested in buying licences to use Canadian processes and know-how.

Canadian industrialists had indicated interest in his invitation to send representatives to Czechoslovakia to be shown industrial advances there, he said.

War Vet Farm Loans Doubled

OTTAWA (CP)—Loans available to war veteran farmers to enlarge their farm holdings will be more than doubled under legislation passed by the Commons Monday night.

The government bill amending the Veterans Land Act provides for maximum loans of $20,000 instead of the present $9,999 for full-time veteran farmers. The repayment period is being extended to 30 years from 25.

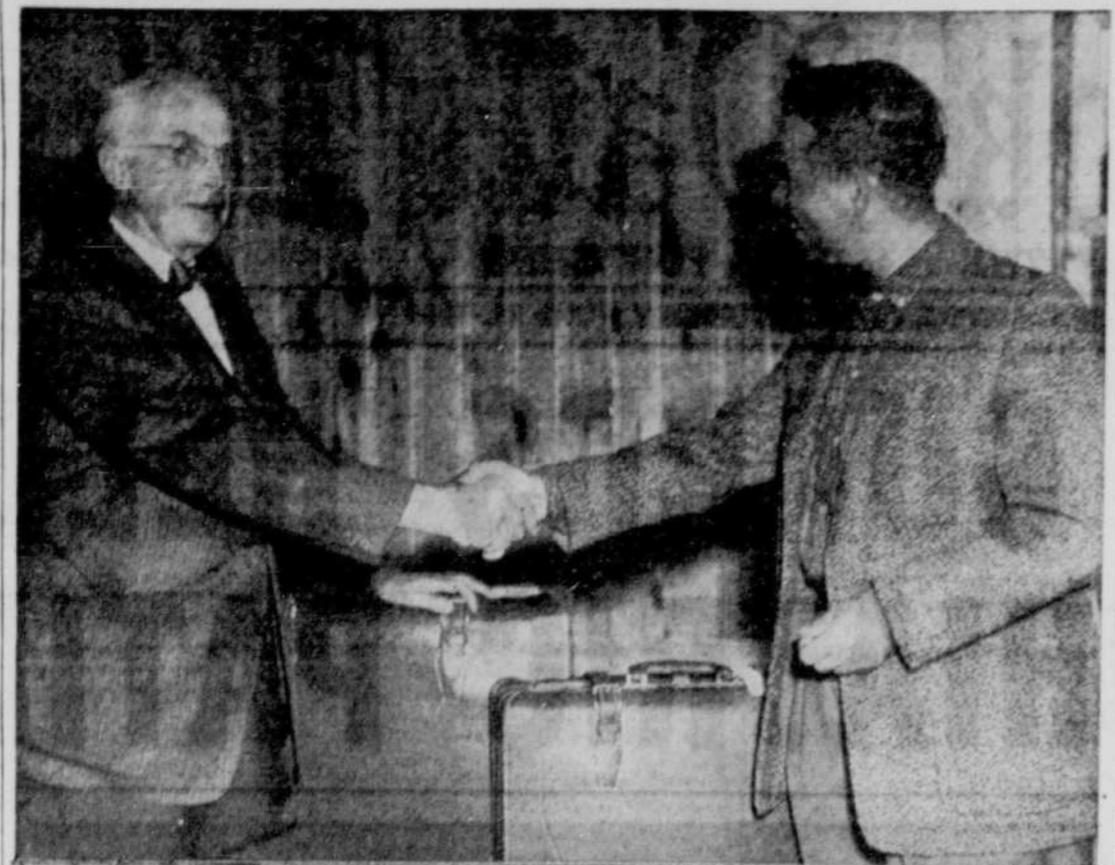

The measure was cleared through its final stages in the Commons and sent to the Senate with general approval of all parties.

Richmond And Melbourne Board Of Trade

Two presentations were made at the recent meeting of the Richmond and Melbourne Board of Trade held at the Bellevue Golf Club. In the top picture, C. W. Armstrong, mayor of Richmond, left shakes hands with Harry Filiatrault after presenting the Richmond Plastics manager with a set of luggage on behalf of the Board. RICHMOND — The June meeting of the Richmond and Melbourne Board of Trade was held at the Bellevue Golf Club in Melbourne. Presentations were made during the evening at this first meeting of the Board and Club and a golf tournament was held in the afternoon. Supper was served in the new clubhouse by the ladies of the club.

Russel Bedard, president of the Board, was in the chair for the meeting, the last until September. Gilles Marcotte was nominated vice-president and Bruce Moffat secretary.

J.O.L. Michaud, mayor of Melbourne and club manager, announced winners of the tournament were: Leslie Rattray, gross 88, net 70; Raymond Lafrance, runner-up, gross 101, 71; Lloyd Fuller, gross 91, net 75; Harry Filiatrault, gross 93, net 74; Gilles Marcotte, gross 89, net 76.

Mr. Rattray is a two-time winner of the Board of Trade Trophy, which was donated by Thomas Southwood in 1947. Mr. Southwood made the presentation.

After a brief comment on the game, Mr. Michaud announced the official opening of the club will be held on Saturday, June 27. A two-ball mixed foursome will be played at 2 p.m., with a supper and dance in the evening. Members and friends are invited to take part in the tournament.

A set of luggage was presented to Harry Filiatrault by the mayor of Richmond, C. W. Armstrong, on behalf of the Board of Trade. Mr. Filiatrault, manager of Richmond Plastics, will be leaving Richmond shortly for another position with the company.

Speaking for the members, Mr. Armstrong expressed regret at the departure of Mr. Filiatrault, who had made many friends here and was a welcome member of the Board, devoting much time to the activities of the organization. The recipient thanked the members.

George Ewing, president of the Golf Club, noted that a meeting was held just two years ago to promote the building of a new clubhouse and this was the first supper held in the structure. Replying, Dr. Jean Smith congratulated the club on its new building.

K. G. Nourse thanked the ladies for the supper. The president expressed his thanks to those who had turned out for the day's events, which 35 attended.

Rev. H. I. Apps said grace before supper. Seated at the head table were: Mayor Armstrong, Mr. Ewing, Mr. Bedard, Mr. Moffat, Mayor Michaud and Mr. Southwood.

The rooms were prettily decorated with baskets of flowers and the color scheme was carried out in pink and white. On her arrival, the guest of HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The passing of Ethel Barrymore erases the last of a great generation of America's first family of actors. The acting tradition goes back to the 1700s in the Barrymore-Drew line. The question arises as to who can carry on that tradition. Lionel left no progeny. Ethel had three children, Sammy, John and Ethel Barrymore Colt. All have made stabs at the dramatic art but without impressive results. Young Ethel has had some success as a singer.

The best chance for upholding the dynasty appears to lie with the children of John Diana, his daughter by poetess Michael Strange, had great opportunity as a young actress. But, as she titled her autobiography, it was a question of Too Much, Too Soon. After baring her woes in literary and movie form, she has lately settled down to serious acting with some success.

John had a son and daughter by Dolores Costello. Dede did not pursue an acting career but John Jr. leaped into the profession at 17. At 27, he is still acting and has yet to break through the star barrier. Conscious of the constant comparison to his father, he adopted the name of John Drew Barrymore. And he points out that his sire was 40 before reaching greatness as Hamlet.

IRONIC TWIST
It's ironic that relations were strained between the two acting hopes of the Barrymore family and her Aunt Ethel during her last years. She was aghast at Diana's public confessions, especially where they cast aspersions on Ethel's beloved brother Jack. Ethel had long declined to countenance her brother's diodes, preferring to remember him as the dashing young Adonis of the theatre. She disliked Gene Fowler's account of Johns roistering days in Good Night, Sweet Prince. One of the reasons she wrote her own autobiography was to counteract that impression.

The actress was estranged from young John in recent years. The rift became public when he walked out of an eastern stage engagement in a dispute with the managers. Ethel told the press that no Barrymore had ever done such a thing before.

Annual Picnic Of Scotstown W. I. Held At Bishopton

SCOTSTOWN — The annual picnic meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric McMannis, Mirror Lake Cottages, Bishopton, with 15 ladies attending.

Lunch at noon was in charge of Mrs. Dewar Scott, Mrs. Geo. Macdonald and Mrs. Kelton MacKenzie, the main dish being a recipe taken from the Macdonald Farm Journal, Ship Wreck.

After lunch a short business meeting was held and Mrs. Mayhew read the minutes, and gave the treasurer's report.

A thank-you letter was read from the Red Cross, a letter from G.W.I. office and from Mrs. H. G. Taylor, National Office in Ottawa.

The number of pounds collected for the paper drive was 9,120. Mrs. Ladd thanked all who helped and reminded all to start saving for the next drive to be held in the Fall. Those not having room to store their paper may contact Institute members, who would provide storage somewhere else.

Expense money was donated to Mrs. Dewar Scott, delegate to the June Convention. A donation was also made to the Sherbrooke Hospital and the Compton County Bursary Fund.

Mrs. Ladd expressed thanks to Mr. and Mrs. McMannis for their hospitality and the three ladies who provided cars for transportation.

Pictures were taken of the six charter members present. This year being the W.I.'s 25th anniversary, a special meeting will be held this Fall and charter members will be invited to attend.

Tea was served by Mrs. McMannis and several of the ladies. Before leaving for home Mr. and Mrs. MacMannis and two of their Florida friends installed the members into the Hen Club.

Council Condemns Proposed Alteration Of Airport Plans

Federal Transport Department Asked For Explanation Of Move

The decision of the federal Department of Transport to restrict construction work at the Sherbrooke municipal airport to a single 5,000-foot runway 150 feet in width brought violent criticism from the Sherbrooke city fathers at yesterday's Council session. Finally, after much discussion, the aldermen unanimously agreed to a motion by Ald. Paul Gervais, chairman of the Industrial Relations and Transport Committee, that a letter be sent to the Ottawa authorities demanding an explanation for the change in plans.

First criticism of the announcement of the change in plans announced over the week-end by Maurice Allard, MP, for Sherbrooke, came from Ald. Everett Nicol who declared it looked as though the City of Sherbrooke would have nothing but a small country airport which probably would be used by none but flying club members.

"We bought the land for two runways, each 6,000 feet long by 200 feet wide," Mayor Armand Nadeau declared. "Now Mr. Allard says that only one runway will be built and that will be 5,000 feet long by 150 feet wide. As far as I am concerned, the federal government has changed its plans without notifying us."

"The reason why we did not buy land at Windsor Mills for the airport is because we were told by the Government that a 5,000-foot runway would be too small for jet liners and other big planes we have today," said the mayor.

"I knew this would happen when the federal government changed because then everyone started asking for airports, so the government decided to build small ones all over the place."

"When we expropriated the land we had to tell them why — we told them that it was for the construction of two 6,000 foot runways by 200 feet wide. They agreed with us, and we drew the plans accordingly," said Mr. Nadeau.

Ald. Carl Camirand and Ald. Antonio Pinard said that "The City Council should protest such action."

The mayor said that "It was agreed upon to buy the airport for the government for a nominal fee if it was built according to plans."

"My impression," said the Mayor, "is that while we were asking the government when they would build our airport they were stalling us until they had completed the new plans."

ONLY THE BEGINNING
West Ward Alderman J. M. Jeanson believed the government could very well be calling for tenders for the construction of a 5,000-foot runway now but within a few months could call for more tenders for the completion of the work.

"This has been done in the past," added Ald. Jeanson.

"Yes," replied Ald. Carrier Fortin, "but it was the old government that worked that way. It does not necessarily mean that this one will do the same."

DEPARTMENT LETTER
"In a letter dated May 6, 1959, the Department of Transport informed us that plans for the construction of a municipal airport for Sherbrooke had been completed," said the Mayor.

"This must therefore show that they changed the plans because the plans we gave the government have been in their possession since 1957."

"They won't get away with it," said Ald. Jeanson. "We bought the land for the construction of two runways of 6,000 feet long with provisions for an additional 4,000 feet later on following a request from the government. They even cleared the land for the two runways and now they tell us that only one will be built."

To Respect Tenders Deadline

Tenders must be at the city hall on time if they are to be considered, ruled the city fathers, ruled at the first summer session held at 4 p.m. yesterday afternoon.

This decision was reached after tenders had been called for waterworks and sewer installations on Farwell street. Three of the four construction companies submitted their tenders a few minutes past the deadline called for. Fabi et Fils had presented their tenders a few minutes before the 11 a.m. deadline set for last Friday, while the Newton Construction Company, Leo Piquette Company and the Maurice Letourneau Company had their tenders in shortly after the 11 o'clock deadline.

"It was unanimously decided to give the work to the Fabi company."

"It is a principal," said Mayor Armand Nadeau. "Next time these companies will learn to have their tenders in on time."

Fabi et Fils submitted tenders of $3,137.40 for the work.

Director of Services Charles Langlois told Council members that the Newton Construction Company had phoned him last Friday morning about 10.45 asking him if it would be alright if they submitted their tenders a few minutes late.

According to Mr. Langlois he told them that it was not up to him to decide if it would be permissible or not.

At this point, the city fathers asked Mr. Langlois if the construction companies had had enough time to prepare and submit the tenders.

"I think they had sufficient time, an ad appeared in the newspapers a week before the deadline," concluded Mr. Langlois.

These included:

Traffic Experiment For Congress Opening Night

Denault and Marcell streets and the Jacques Cartier bridge will be closed to all traffic Wednesday evening because of the Eucharistic Congress it was decided by city council members last night.

This decision was not arrived at before a long and rather controversial discussion on the part of the city fathers.

If the closing of these streets results in reducing traffic and noise in the Jacques Cartier park area Wednesday night, it is believed that these arteries will remain closed during the other evenings of the congress.

If, on the contrary, a traffic congestion is caused, the streets and bridge will be immediately re-opened.

A $100 grant has been awarded the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce for construction of an office on the Montreal road so those attending the Eucharistic Congress this week and the Chamber of Commerce convention in the autumn may obtain information about hotels and other facilities.

Following a letter received from Frontenac street residents, council members decided to install parking meters on Frontenac street between Marquette street and the Kayser plant.

The meters will permit 12-minute parking at a cost of one cent, one hour parking at a cost of five cents and two hour parking costing 10 cents.

Eight Royal Canadian Mounted Police constables will help out local police officers during the Eucharistic Congress.

This offer was accepted by the council. The city will pay for meals of the constables.

No decision was reached on a request that the name of the street behind the St. Jean-Brebeuf church at the King and Jacques Cartier street intersection be changed to that of Beloeil.

This request, which was made by the toponomy committee, will be taken under consideration by council members.

One of the gates to be installed on Albert street will be for below ground parking while the remaining one will be for those wishing to park above ground.

The installation of toll gates on Albert street will mean that this street will become two-way.

At present, Albert street is one-way towards the east.

Special Holiday Service Listed By Post Office

Special service for the St. John the Baptist Day holiday will be provided at the Sherbrooke post office tomorrow, J. C. Cayer, the post master announced today.

Jail Sentence For Fraudulent Cattle Purchase

A one-month jail term was imposed on Donald McGinty, of Sherbrooke, yesterday by Judge Redmond Hayes after McGinty pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining $900 worth of animals under false pretences.

McGinty was arrested last April 4.

When McGinty asked Judge Hayes if he could be let out of jail to take care of his ailing mother, the judge told him that he should have thought about his mother before.

"But I was drunk at the time" protested McGinty.

Two Years For Theft Of Car

Andre Fournier, of Sherbrooke was sentenced to two years in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary after he pleaded guilty in Magistrate's Court to a charge of stealing a car in Sherbrooke June 8.

"I suppose that's what you want, the penitentiary," said Judge Redmond Hayes.

"Yes," replied Fournier, "I am sick and they can cure me there."

"Yes, they can cure your physical sickness, but you are the only one that can cure your soul," concluded Judge Hayes.

The car belonged to Robert Roy, of Sherbrooke.

Council Argues Suggested Site For New Fire Station

"You can save $50,000 easily and put it to better use if you don't build a ski trail in the west ward" said Ald. Everett Nicol at last night's council meeting when he was told by Ald. Marcel Savard that he would save money if he built his proposed fire station in a nearby park instead of a location on the Jacques Cartier boulevard near King street.

Ald. Nicol, Protection Committee chairman said last night he thought an ideal spot for the proposed North Ward fire station would be on the Jacques Cartier boulevard behind the St. Jean de Brebeuf church.

"If we have a fire station at this location," said Ald. Nicol, any calls from King street West, across the Jacques Cartier bridge or in the North Ward, could be answered easily."

Director of Services Charles Langlois told Ald. Nicol that the fire station should be located closer to Prospect street so that calls from behind the golf course, could be answered easily.

Ald. Nicol said that a frontage of 1,200 feet on Jacques Cartier boulevard by 800 feet deep would be the ideal location.

"Yes, but you could save money if you built the fire station in a nearby park," said Ald. Marcel Savard.

"Well, I will show you how to save $50,000 if you don't build that ski trail in the West Ward near the illuminated cross," answered Ald. Nicol. "Furthermore I would rather see a park free from buildings, especially a fire station."

"I thought that this was an ideal location, but if you don't

Quebec To Pave Street

Although the reason behind the Provincial Government's move remained obscure, the Sherbrooke aldermen yesterday accepted an offer by the Provincial Roads Department to pave at its own expense a 2,100 foot stretch of Council street. The only condition attached to the offer is that the work be completed within this week.

The stretch involved extends from the city limits towards the centre of the city.

It is believed the Provincial Government offer is attributable to the Eucharistic Congress opening tonight.

African Violence

Behind the violence in Africa which has brought death to more than 200 natives and injury and imprisonment to hundreds more in the past six months lies the smouldering black vs. white issue. This dominates all discussion of Africa today, however much local authorities may blame other, superficial causes for the violence that has erupted.

The intensity of the feeling between the races varies from country to country, from colony to colony. But the African knows today that it is only a matter of time before he is once again master in his own house. And the whites in Africa, whether they be colonial officials or native-born, as in South Africa and the Rhodesias, know too that the nationalist feeling sweeping the continent means the end of the old way of life.

It is perhaps worse for the white in South Africa. He is a minority, outnumbered by millions by the Africans, yet he considers himself to be as much a native of his country as the second-class citizens with darker skin that he dominates.

In the British colonial countries, enlightened administration and long-sighted policies from London are paving the way for the eventual abdication of the colonial rulers. This has already happened in Ghana and will happen in other colonies. The French have given up the Congo Republic freely and there is hope for a peaceful solution in Algeria where nationalism has a religious rather than a racial origin.

The South African policy of segregation, which attempts to push the African into a permanent servant status without a voice, is a conscious attempt to put the clock back a century. It is doomed to failure, although the South African is bitterly resentful of the lack of understanding by outside critics of what he considers his predicament.

The Cato Manor riots in South Africa last week in which four Africans were killed were caused by the "Shebeen Queens" or women selling illicit liquor, according to a government report. The women were allegedly resentful of the competition of municipal beer halls. But African women have been staging protest marches since last fall against the identity card policy of the government. Every grievance will be exploited by the nationalists and it is hardly necessary to point out that the government is practically inviting the Communists to come in and stir up trouble.

If Western influence is to survive in Africa, the white man must first recognize that nationalism is here to stay. With co-operation the African can be brought to political maturity, with Western aid he can be lifted out of poverty, and out of the reaches of Communism. In those parts of Africa where the white man attempts to stem the nationalist tide by force, there will be violence and ultimate damage to freedom's cause.

Summer Burglaries

Now that vacation time is here, many families will be closing up their city homes, and moving away for a holiday.

This is the move that many professional burglars are waiting for. Each year, the number of home lootings increases sharply during the summer months, and many householders unwittingly contribute to the increase.

A few simple precautions can help prevent many home burglaries:

Cancel all milk and newspaper deliveries. Old newspapers on the doorstep are a certain indication of an empty house.

Arrange to have the lawn mowed periodically.

Valuable jewelry and silverware should be left with a bank for safe-keeping.

Do not leave lights burning. During the daylight hours they indicate an empty house.

Report any evidence of theft or break-in promptly; even if nothing is taken, the information can be of value to police.

Time spent on these few steps can save the loss of thousands of dollars.

A MATTER OF FIGURES
(Fort Williams Times Journal)
Survival on today's highways, the Safety League maintains, is largely a matter of mathematics.

Few drivers get into accidents merely through lack of skill. Most motorists, immediately before a crash, had complete control of their cars in the situations they expected. But they didn't have enough margin to adjust to the unexpected events that led to the collision.

It is largely a question of mathematics, comments the Ontario Safety League. Few people will take much trouble to avoid a thousand-to-one risk that only arises occasionally. But if that 1,000 to 1 risk is one that you accept every day you drive, you can expect to be in hospital from that risk within three years.

To take one example, if you cruise along a crowded highway at 50 m.p.h., less than 25 feet from the car ahead, you'll probably arrive safely, and may never realize there is any danger. But you are in danger, even though the odds are long. If the driver ahead makes a panic stop for any reason (and it can and does happen), you will inevitably slam into the rear of his car. In this respect, the control of your safety has passed out of your own hands. Your margin has decreased. You can restore your margin to a safe level by keeping 80 feet (five car lengths) from the other 50 m.p.h. car. The good driver doesn't attempt to beat the law of averages. He gets it on his side.

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — Out of the country's emotional flap over a TV performer's naive gaffe should come some thoughtful analyses of just what the Queen and the Crown mean to Canadians.

A Toronto psychiatrist unwittingly struck at the thing which gives Canadians their identity, namely the Queen. Then he went on to assert that Canadians see the Queen as the symbol of "the good and beloved mother."

This intimation that Canadians have a sort of national Cedipus complex is a pretty far fetched notion. Especially when you remember that the warmth with which Canadians greeted George VI in 1939 was just as great as that being extended to his daughter 20 years later.

But the psychiatrist is right in saying that Miss Davidson seemed to her critics to be striking at a revered national symbol which in large measure gives Canadians their identity, setting them apart from Americans. I would guess that the Queen's role as a national symbol is by far her most important, so far as this country is concerned.

The Queen is also chief of state, the apex of the pyramid of government. This is very important—constitutionally, legally and politically. But this role is one that others can fill as well as she. Indeed, they do, in the persons of governors-general.

She is commander-in-chief of the armed forces, a position in which I believe no elective or appointive chief of state could function as well. The sovereign as commander-in-chief bestirs, not only in military breasts, the emotion of personal loyalty and the ancient bond of fealty.

The ties to the Crown which the young Queen personifies have survived a thousand years, but their roots are many thousands of years further back, in tribal society. They give Canada an inner strength, apart altogether from considerations of Commonwealth kinship and alliances, which the nation would lack if the man at the top were an elected president, or even a traditionless home-grown king. This strength flowing from the Crown contributes to stable, honest and dedicated government; to national unity and character, to national identity.

Those who don't understand this may consider the royal tour across the country as a sort of circus parade to which they can be indifferent or not depending on whether they like circus parades.

Miss Davidson said she is indifferent. But she is quite wrong in believing that most Canadians feel indifference. The bias may be indifferent. The stupid may be. The self-thought sophisticates may be. But events of the last few days have proven that the Queen means a good deal to most Canadians, even though many of them have difficulty finding words for a reason better than "because she's the Queen."

I have never noticed, as Miss Davidson suggests, a lessening of affection for the Crown because of the heavy post-war influx of immigrants of non-British origin. Miss Davidson's argument overlooks, I think, the average immigrant's desire to become a Canadian as quickly as possible. That means accepting and identifying himself with things Canadian, accepting Canada's ways as his ways, Canada's queen as his queen.

While Miss Davidson made an error, she is paying for it. I hope public criticism of her will stop short of persecution, because in balance maybe we should be glad she said what she did. It may clear the air of recent innuendoes that Canada lacks affection for the Crown, and by prompting us to think it may give us a clearer idea of what Elizabeth II means to us.

PALLETT EXPLAINS

that the appraiser, J. E. S. Clare of Port Credit, Ont., a campaign organizer for Mr. Pallett in his Toronto-area riding of Peel, testified "Mr. Pallett had instructed him to put as generous a valuation as possible on the properties."

DENIES STATEMENT

Under Liberal urgings to explain these things, Mr. Pallett said "I never at any time instructed the valuator to place a generous valuation and to that I pledge my oath."

He said a "simple misunderstanding" between himself and Mr. Hees was at the bottom of the question of whether Mr. Hees had agreed to be found by the land valuations.

He believed Mr. Hees told him at a meeting last fall that the minister would send the valuations to treasury board, a cabinet committee that considers proposed expenditures before they go before Parliament. Such a course would involve Mr. Hees recommending that the board approve the valuations.

However, he said, Mr. Hees was equally sure that his only assurance was to send the valuations to the staff of treasury board who are experienced in matters of land valuation.

AGREES WITH PALLETT

Mr. Hees said he agreed completely with Mr. Pallett that "the misunderstanding regarding the 'Claré valuations' may have arisen from Mr. Pallett believing Mr. Hees said he would refer them to treasury board and from Mr. Hees using the words treasury board staff.

J. W. Pickersgill (L — Bonavista-Willington) said Mr. Pallett should have made his statement on the case long before Monday. He asked why the "misunderstanding" between Mr. Pallett and Mr. Hees was allowed to continue when Mrs. Allen Drew, one of the expropriated land owners, sued for greater compensation on the basis that both landowners and government would be bound by the Claré valuations.

Mrs. Drew was awarded $11,200 in an action claiming $17,300 the amount of the valuation by Mr. Clare. She claimed the government agreed beforehand to pay the amount set by Mr. Clare.

Replying to Mr. Pickersgill later, Mr. Hees said the land owners were told before they went to court that the matter was reviewed by treasury board staff and not accepted.

3. Mr. Green said Canada, through the NATO council, will participate in a review of the Geneva conference before the Big Four foreign ministers resume their talks July 13.

Montreal Hunt Club Members At Sweetsburg

COWANSVILLE — Mayor and Mrs. Roland Desourdy entertained members of the Montreal Hunt Club and a number of local riding enthusiasts at their ranch near Sweetsburg on Sunday. The warm, sunny weather was ideal for the well-planned program.

From about 10 a.m. participants and spectators gathered, chatted over coffee and admired the mounts and the mountains.

The special feature of the morning was the Blessing of the Hounds and the Hunt, in which about 75 mounted horses and the pack of beautiful dogs took part. The officiating priest was Rev. Gustave Desourdy of St. Johns, brother of the mayor. Father Desourdy made preliminary remarks in both English and French and offered the prayer for the protection and safety of the hounds, the horses and the riders.

Following the brief service, there was a cross-country canter of some 15 to 20 miles. This began with a fence jump. The hounds, having been given the scent, led the hunters on a sweep through the rolling hills of the area. There was a stop at Wendybrook Farm, where the men and women were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Veillon. Finally all returned to the Desourdy Chalet for luncheon.

Among those present were Joint Masters of the Hunt H. T. MacDougall and L. T. Porter, Hon. Secretary-Treasurer Duncan Stewart and the huntsman, William Woodward. The honorary whips of the Montreal Hunt are Bart MacDougall and Miss Penny Slipp, the latter at present in England.

Mayor Desourdy's two young sons, Robert, aged 5, and 12-year-old Gerald, smartly mounted, directed motorists towards the Ranch.

The previous day some of the Montrealeurs had engaged in a fox hunt at Foster. This was their first visit to the Cowansville-Sweetsburg district, although the Laurentian Trail Riders have gone more than once at Knowlton.

With Father Desourdy at the time of the Blessing were his brother, Germain, of Cowansville, and Roger Harrison, of Longueuil.

NO RETREAT STAND

In advance of Herter's speech, these authorities said Russia should not expect the recess agreed upon at Geneva to yield any important new Allied concessions when talks resume July 13.

Herter and Eisenhower are reported to have agreed that prospects for convening a summit conference this year appear to be at an all-time low in view of Russia's tough attitude.

The Geneva deadlock meanwhile focused new attention on scheduled direct Soviet-American talks within the next two weeks with Russia's visiting deputy premier, Frol Kozlov.

Kozlov, a confidante of Khrushchev, is set to talk with both Eisenhower and Herter when he visits Washington during a two-week tour beginning July 2.

If Khrushchev is ready to soften his demands, Kozlov could be the Kremlin messenger, some authorities believe. Most officials expect, however, that Kozlov will not carry any change of Soviet policy.

Father And Son Night Celebrated By Waterloo Club

WATERLOO — Father and Son Night at the Kiwanis Club saw sons, borrowed sons, guests, and members numbering 70 being entertained by two members of the R.C.M.P., and an excellent film on the training of R.C.M.P. recruits. President Wally Jenks warmly welcomed the members and their guests. He was very pleased to see so many fathers and sons out, and expressed his hope that this would be an annual event.

Sergeant H. Patenaude, accompanied by Constable Dennis Ling, made a few brief remarks concerning the film. He also expressed his thanks for the invitation, and wished the club luck in its good work. Sergeant Patenaude was introduced by John Jenks and thanked by John McKergow.

The film, Career in Scarlet, gives an excellent picture of the life of a Mountie from the time he is accepted to the day he graduates as a full-fledged officer, and continued to show the type of work done by the force. The recruit not only attends lectures but must train to march and handle weapons, as well as do manual work such as mowing lawns. On graduation day he wears his scarlet uniform for the first time. As a trained officer his duty varies from checking narcotics, to patrolling the northlands, from patrolling city streets in certain provinces, to breaking up smuggling rings.

A brief history of the founding of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, whose name was later changed to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, was also given. Today the force is mechanized, with horses mostly used for special occasions.

The force also has a marine and an air branch. The highest honour an officer can win is the George VI Medal.

Roger McKergow reported that Derrick Grenier had raised a total of $8. for the club through the sale of old licence plates from the trucks and employees' cars.

Happy Birthday was sung by the group to young Pierre Cardinal, and to Frank Makinson, who was celebrating his 21st.

During the evening a lively sing song was conducted by Art Reed assisted by Sam Wager and Gerry Tetreault, with Roger McKergow at the piano.

Seated at the head table with President Wally Jenks, his son John Jenks, Kiwanian Leon McGovern and his father, Henry McGovern, and the two dining ushers, Sergeant H. Patenaude and Constable Dennis Ling.

JOHNSON—MACIVER

GOULD, Que. — A very pretty wedding took place in St. Peter's Anglican Church, Gould, on June 6 at half-past three o'clock, when Ruth M. MacIver became the bride of William Thomas Henry Johnson. Miss MacIver is the daughter of Mrs. Daniel A. MacIver and the late Daniel MacIver, of Gould. Mr. Johnson is of Fredericton, N.B., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Charles Johnson, of Cowansville, Que. Rev. W. E. Walker officiated. The wedding music was played by Miss Barbara Johnson, sister of the groom, who also accompanied the soloist, Mr. Henry Moulard, in the rendition of Bless This House, before the arrival of the bride, and Eternally, during the signing of the register. The church was adorned with baskets of gladioli with white satin bows and lily of the valley designating the guest pews.

Given in marriage by Mr. Angus Macdonald, of Kingston, Ont., the bride was gowned in white satin appliqued with Alencon lace and fashioned on Empire lines. The rounded neckline was trimmed with Alencon lace. The full floor-length skirt fell into a chapel train.

Her finger-tip veil of tulle illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, red Sweetheart roses and heather, specially imported from England.

Mother of Teen-Age Girl: Don't Pry, Nag, Rummage

If you have a teen-age daughter these old-fashioned reminders still make sense:

One. Know her friends and, if possible, the parents of her friends.

Two. Know where she is going and let her know when you expect her home when she goes out at night.

Three. Let her know that you trust her but make it clear that trusting a young person means that parental supervision is still necessary.

Four. Don't be afraid to ask her not to date a boy you know she shouldn't.

Five. Don't nag at her about little things. She'll get the idea that she can't please you or that you don't have a very high opinion of her.

Six. Respect her right to privacy. Don't rummage through her mail, read her letters, ask prying questions about her friends or insist on helping her entertain the boys and girls who come to see her.

Seven. Encourage her to bring her friends home. Insist that you meet any boy she's dating.

Eight. Make her understand that it is just as unkind to hurt a boy's feelings as to hurt a girl's, so that she won't break a date when a better opportunity comes along or be rude in refusing a date with a boy she considers impossible.

Nine. Insist she be considerate enough to telephone and let you know if her plans are changed or if she is going to be later than she thought.

Ten. Help her build up her self-esteem to the point where she is not afraid to stand up for what she thinks is right or to refuse to go along with the crowd when her better judgment tells her not to.

Approaching Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Bond, of Montreal West, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Konstance, to Gyles Rene d'Artois, son of Mrs. J. Lionel d'Artois, of Knowlton, Que., and the late Mr. d'Artois. The marriage will take place on June 27 at eleven o'clock in St. Malachy's Church, Hampstead, Que., Father George Thoms officiating.

Study Of Geology Offers Women Promising Careers

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Helen M. Belyea has developed her childhood interest in rocks into a career as a geologist, a field she considers is well-suited to women.

A native of Saint John, N.B., she has worked in Calgary for the last 14 years with the Geological Survey of Canada.

Petite and quiet-spoken, she was interviewed here while in Montreal for the conference of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. At this meeting she was awarded a special medal for producing the leading paper on economic geology produced by the Institute in the last year, believed the first woman so honored.

PROMISING FIELD
Geology and the oil and natural gas industries hold fine promise for women interested in careers, says Dr. Belyea.

Wage scales are excellent, and much of the work can be done in the office rather than in the field.

"Women have already built up a tradition in this line, and there is absolutely no discrimination against them."

"There is no question of male versus female—we are all simply geologists."

Dr. Belyea said that as a child she was always interested in rocks, "and like so many children I used to collect them." She graduated from Dalhousie University in Halifax and obtained her doctor of geology degree at Northwestern University in Chicago.

A NEW KIND OF BURGER... FOR JUNE DAIRY MONTH

Have we run the gamut in the 'burger line... with beefburgers, banquetburgers, cheeseburgers, chicken and turkey burgers, baconburgers, shrimpburgers and hamburgers? Not quite, says the Dairy Foods Service Bureau... to prove it, the Bureau has come up with a cornburger, really a hamburger but with the yellow, green and red of Mexican-style corn kernels peeking through the crispy browned edges of each meat patty. Besides, there's a couple of teaspoons of skim milk powder tucked into each patty for extra food value.

As you know, the different brands of skim milk powder on the market vary and so it's best to use recipes that are tested by the maker of the milk powder you buy. When making meat loaves and meat patties however, up to 1/3 of a cup of any brand of skim milk powder can be added to a pound of ground meat. Adding milk powder to ground beef, pork, veal or lamb is a wonderful way to slip extra milk into meals!

In this Dairy Month of June, try out this newest member of the 'burger' family, indoors and top-of-stove, or outdoors over the charcoal fire friend husband has ready in the backyard.

CORNBURGERS
(Makes 4 Servings)

1 pound ground beef; 1/2 cup Mexican-style kernel corn (green pepper and pimiento added); 2 tablespoons minced onion; 1 1/2 teaspoons salt; 1/3 cup skim milk powder; 1 egg; 1/4 cup fine bread crumbs; 1/4 cup water

Mix all ingredients, except water, together. When thoroughly mixed, blend in water slowly. Form into patties. Brown slowly in hot fat until cooked.

Ray Royer Loses In Tennis Event In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Four seeded players were eliminated Monday in play for the Quebec intermediate tennis championship. The tournament is to end this weekend.

George Barcelo, of Montreal, third-seeded, went down 9-7 and 7-5 in a close fought match with Jacques Senecal of Montreal. Harold Moody of Montreal defeated fourth-seeded J. L. Lamoureux of Montreal 6-3, 5-7 and 8-6. Rene Royer of Longueuil, Que., dropped eighth-seeded Raymond Royer of Sherbrooke, Que. 6-6 and 6-3.

recover from the dive they took over the weekend when they slumped from second position to a tie for third. They are three games behind Fuller and one behind second place Windsor.

In the other game this evening the Sherbrooke Indians will be gunning for their fourth consecutive win. The club dropped its first four games in the schedule but have been undefeated since then. They meet Kist in the club's third encounter of the year. Kist are presently in the cellar of the loop with only one win in six starts.

The Indians are at present the hottest team in the league. Their fielding has sharpened up immensely and has made the difference between loss and defeat on at least two occasions. Lawrence Dorey is providing the extra hitting power that the club lacked while both Mathieu and Robinson have been whittling down opposing batters.

Game time in both cases is 7:30 with the local game being staged at the Park Ave. Stadium.

Floyd Patterson Anxious To Prove He's A Real Champ, Ends Training With Sizzling Display, To Rest Now

CHATHAM, N.J. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson Monday finished his training for Thursday night's title bout with Ingemar Johansson with another two round workout in his steam-heated indoor gym.

Trainer Dan Florido had to caution the 24-year-old champion several times to ease up when he started to batter his sparring partners. Patterson appeared on edge and eager for action. In one round against Bill Tate of Chicago, a heavy middleweight, Patterson cut loose with a hard right and staggered his opponent.

"Whoa, take it easy," yelled Florio from the side of the ring. When Lew Jones of Rockford, Ill. climbed through the ropes for his one-round outing the champ slammed hard at the body. Jones, a 195 pounder, threw a right hand lead in the style of Johansson's reported knockout style and Patterson scored to the head with a left hand over the right.

He then unleashed a nine-punch body barrage, grunting while he whaled away with both hands until Florio yelled "ease up."

Patterson also showed that he has not discarded his much criticized "gazelle" punch—a leaping right hand lead. The champ threw the "gazelle" at Jones just before the bell ended his active ringwork.

Patterson boxed 103 rounds during his 4½-week tuneup drill for the unbeaten European champion from Sweden. During the early stages he floored several of his sparring partners but eased up in the last few days.

The champion was down to 180 pounds Sunday night after boxing in stifling heat. After a three and one half mile jaunt on the road

Monday morning he was back up to 183 pounds. He expects to come into the ring Thursday night in Yankee Stadium between 181 and 183 pounds. In his fourth defence May 1 at Indianapolis against Brian London he weighed 182½, giving away 25½ pounds.

In sharp contrast to the challenger who finished boxing Saturday and did his last roadwork Thursday, Patterson will run 4½ miles this morning and will loosen up briefly in the gymnasium. Wednesday morning he will rest until Thursday's weigh-in.

100 PER CENT BETTER Florio said Patterson was "100 per cent better now" than he was for London.

Cus D'Amato, the champion's talkative manager, said the champion was not going into the ring expecting to score a first round knockout but "if he can he will."

Patterson, perspiring freely, said he had no fixed battle plan. "Everybody says he's supposed to be a great right hand puncher," he said, "but how do I know? Maybe his left hand is his best punch. I will be ready for anything. Despite what everybody says, I think the London fight helped me."

After the final workout, Patterson weighed 182 pounds. He said he might come in the ring as high as 184 pounds.

"As long as I feel the way I do now it doesn't make any difference whether it's 178 or 188," said Patterson.

In a press conference, Patterson was asked how long he thought the bout would last. "That depends on Johansson," he said. "If he lets me I'll end it early. If he doesn't he might even end it early."

Millions Of Russians To Take Part In Second "Spartakiad Of Nations" Aug. 8-19 In Moscow's Famous Layout

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Millions of athletes in villages and cities in all parts of the Soviet Union are competing for the honor of taking part in the second "Spartakiad of the nations" in Moscow Aug. 8 to 19.

The Spartakiad, a domestic "Olympic Games" for athletes from the 15 Soviet republics, is being organized on a big scale. The preliminaries are said to have involved everyone who can run, jump, swim or throw.

It will be held in Luzhni Park in Moscow, a huge complex of stadiums and sports fields which includes the Lenin Stadium with accommodation for 100,000 people.

In the Russian federation alone, 12,000,000 athletes are said to have competed in the preliminaries, which began as long ago as last fall. Altogether, 17 teams will take part in the Spartakiad.

POPULARIZE SPORT The organizational work for the Spartakiad is in the hands of the newly-formed Union of Sport Societies, a semi-voluntary body which has replaced the state committee for physical culture and sports.

One of the main tasks of the new union is to popularize sport more widely and to free it from the rigid mold into which it had set under the old committee. A major criticism of the former committee was that it paid too much attention to established stars and left the average athlete to fend for himself.

Nikolai Romanov, chairman of the union, said in an interview here his union hoped to get at least 50,000,000 athletes on the books of various clubs and societies by 1965. He put the present figure at 20,000,000.

Almost every day newspapers agitate for an even greater response from young athletes on grounds it is their duty to keep fit "for higher productive work and for the defence of the Motherland."

Romanov and his organizers hope that the Spartakiad will bring to the fore potential stars who can be trained for the Olympic Games in Rome next year. The Spartakiad also will give the rest of the world a foretaste of what they may expect from the Russian athletes in 1960.

City Tennis Tourney Is Postponed

The City of Sherbrooke Tennis Tournament which was slated to open this evening has been postponed till Tuesday, June 30, announced Jean de Lesseule, secretary of the Sherbrooke Tennis Association.

Entries for the event will be extended until next Monday, June 29, and can be made at J. N. Boisvert and Codere's until that date. The reason is owing to the fact that it will interfere with the Eucharistic Congress which opens today and ends Sunday evening.

Chevrefils To Attend Wings' Training Camp

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP) — Real Chevrefils, former National Hockey League player with Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings, said Monday he will attend Wings' fall training camp.

The 27-year-old left winger spent last season and part of the previous one with Springfield of the American League after Bruins demoted him because he frequently broke training rules.

Chevrefils said "I know I've got two strikes against me. But I've learned my lesson and I'll stick in the NHL this year."

Doug Ford To Compete In International

TORONTO (CP) — Doug Ford of Paradise, Fla., winner of the Canadian open golf title in Montreal Sunday, led a strong U.S. team into the international amateur matches here today.

Canada has won the previous two international best-ball matches but the formidable U.S. team may prevent an easy Canadian sweep.

Dow Finsterwald, Julius Boros and Paul Harney complete the U.S. foursome.

Their amateur teammates are Ed Meister, Bob Shave, Chuck Kocis and Ed Tutwiler.

Vancouver's Stan Leonard, lowest Canadian shooter in the Open, heads Canada's team. With him are Al Balding of Markham, Ont., Bud Loftus of Calgary and Henry Martell of Edmonton.

Bruce Castator, Canadian amateur champion, runner-up Eric Hanson, Nick Weslock of Windsor, Ont., and Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., are the Canadian amateurs.

BOB CLEROUX SCORES TKO

MONTREAL (CP) — Bob Cleroux of Montreal dropped Lloyd McKay three times in the third round Monday night to score a technical knockout over the Detroit heavyweight in a scheduled eight-rounder at Mont St. Louis Gymnasium. Cleroux weighed 171 pounds, McKay 183.

Knocks Over Third-Seeded Pietrangeli Of Italy; Other Americans Advance; Ladies Take Over Courts Today

WIMBLEDON, England — (AP) — Earl Buchholz, a lanky American 18-year-old, volleyed and smashed third-seeded Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy to defeat Monday in the biggest upset of the opening session of the 73rd Wimbledon lawn tennis championships.

The St. Louis, Mo., high school student knocked out the stocky Italian, regarded as Europe's best player, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, 7-5. He did it in spite of having his left side heavily taped.

"I had an operation during the winter, Buchholz said afterward. Before today's match I was troubled with a cramp in my groin, so I had it strapped up. It gave me trouble only when I served."

Alex Olmedo, the 23-year-old Peruvian who is top seeded, and Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio — Buchholz's more famed copleagues on the U.S. Davis Cup team — also went into the second round of men's singles.

COASTS TO VICTORY

Olmedo, who won the Davis Cup almost single-handedly for America, coasted to a 6-2, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Warren Woodcock, a 22-year-old Australian. Mackay, seeded fifth, defeated Ian Vermaak, a South African Davis Cup player, 6-2, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Budge Patty, the Los Angeles veteran who operates a Paris travel bureau, and Jaroslav Drobny, an Egyptian citizen who lives in London, both lost their opening matches. They were the only former Wimbledon champions in the field of 128.

Alan Mills of Britain defeated the 37-year-old Drobny, winner in 1954, by scores of 14-12, 3-6, 10-8, 8-6. Jon Douglas, a former football player from Santa Monica, Calif., eliminated Patty, the 1950 winner, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

The Douglas victory went down as the day's No. 2 upset. Patty wasn't seeded this year for the first time in many years, but he's ahead of Douglas in the U.S. rankings. Douglas is making the international tennis circuit for the first time after concentrating mainly on football at Stanford.

OTHER U.S. WINS

In all, it was a good day for the Americans. In addition to Olmedo, who lives in Los Angeles and is an official U.S. representative here, Mackay and upsets Buchholz and Douglas, veteran Gardner Mulloy, Jack Frost, Myron Franks and Malcolm Fox turned in first round victories.

Except for Pietrangeli, the seeded list went through unscathed although MacKay, No. 5, and Denmark's Kurt Nielsen, No. 7, had a few bad moments.

Buchholz's main weapons were a sizzling cross court backhand and a forehand that skimmed the sidelines. His overhead game wasn't impressive at the start, but towards the end he pulled out a string of volleys that caught Pietrangeli yards out of position.

The Italian was somewhat off form, continually netting or hitting out on shots that ordinarily would have been winners for him. He found his touch just long enough to win the second set, then lost it again.

FANTASTIC SHOTS "Buchholz played some fantastic shots," Pietrangeli said. "Whenever I played what I thought was a great shot and a winner, Buchholz pulled out an even better one."

Olmedo's play was marked by a strange mixture of dazzling style and lacklustre, almost listless, tennis. But his overall effectiveness was evident early in the first set and there never was room for doubt about the outcome.

Mei Fu-Chi of Communist China outlasted young Ronald Barnes of Brazil, 3-6, 9-11, 11-9, 6-1, 6-1 in a five-set thriller.

Paul Willey of Vancouver, Canadian contender, lost out in the first round to Gerald Oakley of England 6-3, 7-5, 6-3.

Monday's play was limited to men's singles.

Out-Spoken Aussie, Bill Young, Would Be Surprised If He Saw What It Is Going To Cost For Pan-Am Games

By JACK SULLIVAN Bill Young, a dynamic little Australian with the well-known Aussie aptitude for colorful language, looked around at the brass in the British Empire Games athletes' village last summer and declared: "What the hell are all these people doing here?"

His comments were directed primarily at the 22 officials who made the 3,000-mile trip from Canada to Cardiff, Wales, with a 98-athlete team in tow. Young was general manager of the 102-athlete Australian team and he had five officials helping him.

"Look," Young told this reporter, "if those athletes of yours need someone around to tell them what to do and when to do it, they don't belong here or in any international competition."

"They're supposed to be in top shape, which they probably are. So why all the officials? There's practically nothing for them to do except to sip tea or cocktails at silly receptions."

CHAMPION ATHLETES

"Look at our team. We're loaded with world champions who reached the top by the simple method of sacrifice of pleasure for hard work. They know what to do to stay here. My staff is here to make things easier for them by arranging transportation to training grounds and so forth."

"We aren't here to tell them how or when to train. They know all this."

The Aussies demonstrated it. They finished second to England in both point and medal standings.

The green-clad Australians piled up 496 points on the basis of 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the first six finishers in each event and won 66 medals — 27 gold, 22 second-place silver and 17 third-place bronze. Canada, which picked up only one gold medal in rowing, was fourth with 179 points and 27 medals.

Summer: 103 competitors and 24 officials.

MONEY ESTIMATE

An estimate of money required to get the teams to Chicago, Squaw Valley and Rome and home again shows these figures: Pan-American Games: $89,000. Winter Games: $22,000 (board and lodging is provided free at Squaw Valley). Summer Games: $155,000.

"Is there really a difference in tire quality?"

"There's a BIG difference in tire quality and Firestone makes the difference!"

Motorists who lose sight of the word "quality" are underestimating the critical importance of their tires. Because your safety depends on your tires, it doesn't pay to take chances with tires of unknown quality.

Firestone's fifty years of tire leadership is your guarantee of superior tire quality. Longer mileage and maximum safety are the dividends you receive from this long history of leadership.

Only Firestone has conducted tire research at the Indianapolis "500" Race. Every winner for 36 years chose Firestone tires—and paid full price in cash. Firestone engineers study the effect of the tremendous speed and heat of Indianapolis. This research leads to safer tires for your car.

Exclusive Firestone Tire Building Methods are the result of Firestone research. For example, Firestone Safety Tension Gum Dipping ends the principal cause of tread cracking. New Firestone Rubber-X is a new kind of tread rubber—gives far longer tire mileage.

Sixty thousand trained Dealers all over North America stand behind the Firestone Lifetime Tire Guarantee. Whether you need tires, batteries or accessories, it pays to turn in at the familiar Firestone sign of quality. Yes, wherever you drive in North America, you're safe with Firestone.

Mickey Mantle And Bill Skowron Are Beginning To Look Like Old

Power Yanks To 11-6 Win Over Athletics, Mantle Gets Two Homers And Skowron One For Eight Runs

Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron are beginning to look like Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron again for New York Yankees. But who would ever recognize Bob Turley?

The big righthander, last year's top pitcher in the majors and the American League's top winner with a 21-7 record, failed to last again Monday night, almost blowing a five-run lead as Mantle and Skowron powered the Yankees to an 11-6 victory over Kansas City Athletics.

Mantle drove in six runs with his 16th and 17th homers and a triple. Skowron belted home a pair with his 14th homer. But it was southpaw Bobby Shantz who kept the Athletics from keeping pace, gaining a 2-2 record with five innings of two-hit, shutout relief.

Turley, who has won but six while losing seven, matching his losses of last season, gave up five consecutive hits and four runs as the Athletics cut the Yankees' lead to 7-6 in the fifth inning before Shantz hurried in.

APPROACH LEADERS

It was the only league game scheduled and put the fifth-place champs within three games of first and within a half-game of Baltimore Orioles and Detroit Tigers, tied for third.

Mantle hit his first homer with the bases empty in the first inning off loser Ray Herbert (4-7).

Then, after Skowron's blast in the fourth inning, Mantle chased the Athletics' righthander with a two-run triple as the Yankees scored four in the fifth. His other home run, with one on, was a shot over the fence in deep right-centre off former Yankee righthander Tom Sturdivant in the seventh inning.

That gave Mantle four home runs and 11 runs batted in for the last seven games, his best spurt of the season.

Skowron has done better. The Moose has hammered four home runs and driven in eight in the last four games for 52 runs batted in. Mantle has 44 RBIs.

Roger Maris, just off the disabled list, had a pair of doubles, scored twice and drove in a run for the sixth-place Athletics. Bob Cerv drove in three runs with a double and single.

Hank Aaron Still Top Hitter Despite Cards' Bill White's Rally; Kuenn Takes Over From Kaline In American

NEW YORK (AP)— Bill White of St. Louis Cardinals picked up 36 points on batting leader Hank Aaron of Milwaukee with a .500 performance last week that carried him into the National League's runner-up position.

White, for whom the Cards gave up Sam Jones, their top pitcher of 1958 in a winter trade with San Francisco, collected 13 hits in 26 at bats. This boosted his average 21 points to .360. Aaron lost 17 points to .391 with only 10 hits in 36 tries.

White was pressed for the week's honors by Wally Moon of Los Angeles. Moon, who has hit safely in his last 14 games, moved into fourth place with a 15-for-31 showing that increased his mark 26 points to .332. He is only four points behind San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda, the No. 1 batter. Cepeda gained one point to .336.

Smoky Burgess of Pittsburgh, in second place a week ago, dropped to fifth. He was hitless in eight attempts and fell to .331. Johnny Temple of Cincinnati advanced to sixth place at .330 on a 12-point gain. Temple had 11 safeties in 25 tries.

In the American League, Harvey Kuenn of Detroit took over the lead from teammate Al Kaline. Kuenn was the only one among the leaders to gain ground. He picked up four points to .359. Kaline tailed off six points to .351 before suffering a fractured cheekbone in Thursday's game against Baltimore.

Pete Runnels of Boston slumped four points to .335. Nellie Fox of Chicago White Sox, in fourth place, lost 14 points to .328 and Gene Woodling of Baltimore went down nine to .326. The records include Sunday's games.

Harmon Killebrew of Washington continues to set the American League pace in home runs and runs batted in. He had three homers and seven RBI last week to lift his totals to 24 and 53, respectively.

Ernie Banks of the Cubs and Aaron gained ground on Ed Mathews of the Braves in the National League home run competition. Aaron had three homers last week and Banks slammed a pair. This gave Banks and Aaron 19 apiece while Mathews, who failed to connect, has 22.

Banks is the runs-batted-in leader with 67, six more than Aaron.

Lefty Sandy Koufax Posts His Fourth Straight As Dodgers Down Phillies; Giants Beat Pirates To Gain Ground

The way things have been going, Sandy Koufax doesn't care how he wins, just so he wins. Monday night, he did it with a spectacular strikeout performance that just missed the National League record. The 23-year-old lefty put away his fourth in a row while striking out 16 batters as he pitched Los Angeles to a 6-2 victory over Philadelphia.

Capt. Ed Warner Posts High Score In Weekly Shoot

Capt. Edson Warner, Adjutant of the Sherbrooke Regiment RAC, posted the excellent score of 101 out of 105 points at Sand Hill Rifle Range Saturday afternoon. The occasion was a scheduled practise match, in preparation for the Provincial .303 service rifle championships.

Each competitor fired two sighting shots and seven shots on score at a six-inch diameter bullseye at 200 yards and at an 18-inch diameter bullseye at 500 and 600 yards.

Paul Kaeser, of Sherbrooke, posted the top score at 200 yards, a 34 x 35. Capt. Warner's "possible" 35 points was the best fired at 500 yards. Dick Winget's 33 at 600 yards outranked Capt. Warner's 33.

Thirty competitors took part, including men from Victoriaville, Arthabaska, Island Brook, Theford Mines and Windsor Mills, as well as Sherbrooke and Lennoxville.

The top ten scores follow:

Capt. E. Warner	101
R. C. Winget	97
F. J. Glass	96
J. G. Beattie	96
J. Ferris	96
P. Kaeser	96
E. Jenkinson	93
R. Grandpre	93
H. Marshall	93
Tpr. D. Ford	87

That's a major league record for a night game, bettering the pitchers. It was only one shy of Dizzy Dean's National League old mark of 14 held by four record, set back in 1933 with the St. Louis Cardinals, and but two short of the major league record of 18 set by Bob Feller in 1938 with Cleveland.

Lower Jim Owens and reliever Humberto Robinson collected eight strikeouts between them, setting a modern NL record for two clubs and matching the modern major league record with a total of 24. The old NL record of 23 had been tied for the fourth time just last May 31—when Koufax and reliever Danny McDevitt fanned 14 Cardinals.

The Dodgers moved past Pittsburgh into third place with the victory, three games behind first-place Milwaukee. The Pirates were beaten 4-1 by San Francisco in the only other game scheduled as the second place Giants trimmed the Braves' lead to a single game.

Although setting the one-game knockout high in the majors this season, Koufax gave up 10 hits, one Harry Anderson's eighth home run, and didn't have a working lead until the Dodgers scored three in the fifth against Owens, now 4-5. Gil Hodges, who counted a first-inning run with a sacrifice fly, singled home a pair in the fifth.

Koufax had two strikes on each of the first two men he faced in the ninth, Joe Koppe and Richie Ashburn, but both fled out. The final out came when Dave Philley singled and was nailed trying for a double.

The Giants made it with a four-run seventh inning that gave Ed Fisher a victory in his major league debut. Fisher gave up only three hits in his seven innings, retiring 17 in a row between first and seventh-inning singles by Dick Groat. Ron Kline 6-4 lost it.

White Sox Stops Indians, Twin Bill Tonight

Raymond Farrell, pint sized pitcher of the White Sox St. Pat's Old Boys Association sponsored team in the Little League, chalked up his second victory of the season defeating the Rotary sponsored Indians by a 9-2 score. A doubleheader is on tap tonight. Senators travel to Lennoxville to take on the Yankees and at the Parade Grounds the Indians and Tigers clash.

A base on balls, a hit by Gravel and an error, charged to third baseman Vincent of the Indians, gave the White Sox two runs in the top of the opening inning. One hit by Fabi in the second sent another run across the plate. Indians broke into the scoring column in the bottom of the third getting two runs and bringing them back into the game. Hits by Dussault Morin and pitcher Thibault doing the damage.

Bingles by Lachance and Gilbert added one more run for the Sox in the fourth they got one more in the fifth and then in the top of the sixth they came up with a big four run inning. Four hits in a row by Lachance, Fabi, Gilbert and Gravel. These coupled by a couple of Indian errors amounted for the runs. Indians got their final run in the last of the sixth. Pelequin and G. Vincent hitting.

The game was well played. Indians did not get many breaks. The team is improving and will break into the winning column very soon. In a good White Sox team Farrell and Gravel stood out. O'Conner Webb and Largy were the umpires.

Orioles Sign Gary Wilhelm

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore Orioles decided Monday to find out if history could repeat and signed up a 23-year-old rookie pitcher, Gary Cooper Wilhelm. He's the brother of Hoyt Wilhelm, the Oriole pitcher who has revived the knuckle ball craze. Hoyt labored in the major leagues for eight seasons before making his biggest splash at the age of 35. That was last September when he pitched a no-hit, no run game against New York Yankees shortly after reporting to Baltimore from Cleveland.

WINS INTER-COMPANY TOURNAMENT — Charlie Clark, second from the left, is shown with his foursome who played in the Bell Telephone and Southern Canada Company golf tournament which was held in Waterville. Clark posted a 77 gross while Carl Dunn had a 71 net. R. Moreau won the prize for the "Most Honest Golfer" when he registered 137 strokes for the 18-hole event. T. Ball and T. Selby won the sealed hole affair. Left to right, Russell Kezar, Charlie Clark, Leo Lemieux and Gerry Millmore. (Photo by Doug Gerrish)

Notre Dame To Have Two Lonely Ends This Fall

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)— Notre Dame's football offense next fall will feature not just one but two lonely ends, coach Joe Kuharich said Monday. "With such a fine passer as George Izo, we will throw the ball a lot. We'll split either one or both ends out 18 to 20 yards, depending on which side we feel can best be exploited." The main difference between this formation and the original "lonely end" used last year by Army is that the Notre Dame flankers will get their signals in the huddle before taking the far out position.

Women's Groups Of Beebe Churches Make Plans For Summer Activities

BEEBE — Mrs. Allan Pocock entertained the ladies of the Woman's Association of Wesley United Church at her summer home at Cedarville, when plans were made for the season's activities.

The president, Mrs. Beverly Haselton, conducted the meeting and the devotions were led by Mrs. Norman Somerville. Minutes and thank-you notes were read by the secretary, Mrs. John Silvester.

The treasurer, Mrs. Herbert Mallalieu, reported a very satisfactory amount from the bazaar and supper held in May, also that a good number of flags have been sold for decoration on Dominion Day. More flags have been ordered and everyone is being urged to decorate for this special occasion. There are small flags for bicycle and tricycle decoration and larger ones for home decorations.

The fancy work committee are planning a booth of suitable articles for sale at the Dominion Day celebration being planned by the Legion and a committee was also named to convene a food sale. Mrs. John Silvester and Mrs. George Buckland Sr., will be in charge.

Plans were made for catering at a wedding reception in July and tentative plans were made for a food sale to be held in August.

It was announced that a general collection of waste paper will take place in the fall and everyone is urged to save old newspapers during the summer months. If anyone has papers which they would like removed now they may either take them to the barn of John Silvester or call a member of the W.A. to have them picked up.

Mrs. H. S. Beane gave an interesting report on the meeting of the Quebec - Sherbrooke Presbytery Woman's Association, held in Lennoxville.

An enjoyable picnic style lunch was served. There will be no further meeting until September.

ALL SAINT'S GUILD
The June meeting of the All Saint's Church Guild was held in the council room, with Mrs. A. Vance and Mrs. Edna MacArthur as hostesses. The president, Mrs. Jack Heald was in the chair.

The secretary read the minutes and the treasurer reported a bank balance of $124.63. It was decided to purchase a sizable amount of articles for the fish pond which the Guild will sponsor at the July 1 celebration.

There will also be a food sale at the Memorial Park on July 1 for which the following solicitors were named: Mrs. J. Heald, Main Street; Mrs. W. Reynolds, Canusa Ave.; Mrs. A. Slade, Tomfobis Ave.; Mrs. A. Peacock, North Main and Bigelow Sts.; Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, North Derby Road; Mrs. Edna MacArthur, Junction, and Mrs. C. Brown and Mrs. R. King, Beebe, Vt.

An afternoon tea and sale is planned for July 30, to be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Cass. There will be a fancy work table and a sale table of home cooked foods. A special meeting will take place on July 17, to plan for the sale.

It was decided that the incoming officers will be responsible for the making of confirmation veils for the Beebe church and it was also decided that if there were not sufficient funds in the Sunday school to buy prayer books for the confirmation class that the Guild will offer assistance.

An ice cream social will be planned for August 19, to take place on the church lawn, and music will be furnished for street dancing that evening. The round robin was won by Mrs. J. Heald.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE
The June meeting of the Beebe Women's Institute, held at the home of Mrs. George Buckland

Sr., with Mrs. Alfred Little assisting hostess, was conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. Neil Brevoort, in the absence of Mrs. Boisvert.

Several articles of used clothing were received for the Crippled Children's Camp at Ayer's Cliff.

Four articles of handcraft were sent to Macdonald College to be on display during the convention. Further plans were made for the booth on July 1. Mrs. L. Brown and Mrs. A. Little were named co-chairmen, with several members offering their assistance.

A report was heard from the play ground equipment committee and it is hoped that a swing, a slide and a picnic table can be placed on the grounds before July 1. It was also decided to buy a picnic table for the Weir Memorial Park.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

Mortgage On Thetford Mines Anglican Church Burned With Fitting Ceremony

THETFORD MINES — Sunday evening a high point in the life of St. John the Divine Anglican Church was reached when the mortgage on the new church was burned at a service attended by the Most Rev. Philip Carrington, Archbishop of Quebec. Despite one of the heaviest rains of the season, a large turnout of parishioners was on hand for the occasion.

The service was a special one for the parish, among those special features being the procession led by Arthur Moad, Donnie McCann and Ian Robinson, followed by the choir, making their first appearance in their attractive blue and white vesture.

The service was conducted by Rev. S. A. Meade, with Canon M.H.W. Seeley reading the first lesson, J. McCammon, the second and Rev. McKendrick, of Inverness, leading in the prayers.

The sermon was given by Archbishop Carrington, whose words centred around the theme, A city set on a hill cannot be hid; a church in the midst of a community can not help but be felt. He dwelt briefly on the history of the Anglican Church here and paid tribute to the fine new building witnessing to the power of God in this mining community.

"No enterprise gives a congregation so much happiness as the building of a church", the Archbishop pointed out, and said that in addition to their pride in the new building, everyone there felt a sense of happiness at having had a share in the endeavour.

He closed with a few words about the Draft Prayer Book Canada 1959, a revised version of the one now in use and delighted the congregation with the news that next Sunday instead of speaking here, he would be conducting the service at St. Paul's, Gaspe, where the Queen and Prince Philip would be worshipping, and at which time he would have the honor of presenting the Queen with the aforementioned new Prayer Book. The original Prayer Book incidentally was published in 1959, exactly 400 years ago in the time of the first Queen Elizabeth and it seemed fitting that the second Queen Elizabeth should be presented with the new copy.

Stating that next Sunday evening Prince Philip would be reading the 12th Chapter of Tomans at the service in Gaspe, Archbishop Carrington suggested that it might be a nice gesture if the same lesson formed part of the Thetford Mines service.

Following the church service the congregation adjourned to the Parish Hall where the burning of the mortgage took place. Among those taking part were, Archbishop Carrington, Canon M. H. W. Seeley, Mr. Meade, George McCammon, people's warden; T. R. Johnston, rector's warden; Andrew S. Johnson Sr., A. L. Penhale and George Smith. Since Canon Seeley had been the rector when the church was built, Mr. Meade asked him to say a few words on the occasion of the mortgage burning. Canon Seeley briefly referred to the past history of the church and to the devotion displayed by each member in bringing this project to a satisfying conclusion - not forgetting to mention the late Arthur Johnston who, with those present, had worked so faithfully toward this new church.

The former people's warden, who was also chairman of the building committee, A. S. Johnson, was given the honor of presenting the mortgage to the Archbishop for burning. In a few words prefacing the presentation of the mortgage, he recounted how the congregation had deliberated both long and prayerfully over each decision concerning the church, not least in the decision of a site for the new building.

The final event of the moving ceremonies was the presentation of a silver tray and mantel radio to Mrs. T. R. Johnson in gratitude for her 30 years of faithful service as church organist.

Refreshments served by the ladies of the congregation, brought the evening to a close.

75th Anniversary Of Red Deer, Alta.

RED DEER, Alta. (CP)—This central Alberta city of 17,000 celebrates its 75th anniversary this year with five pioneers still around to tell tales of its founding.

The five are members of the family of Rev. Leonard Gaetz, a Methodist minister who was here when Red Deer became a settled community in 1884. It was incorporated as a city in 1913.

The city's location between Edmonton and Calgary, and its excellent rail and highway facilities, make it a hub for wholesale distributors and small industry. Its population has tripled since 1948.

In sight for its anniversary year are a multi-million-dollar synthetic rubber plant and a large pulp mill. Surveys have already been taken for construction of the pulp and paper plant, while the rubber plant would be another offspring of Alberta's oil and natural gas development.

In the early days it was devoted to agriculture, and the log cabin that Mr. Gaetz built when he arrived by horse and wagon to start homesteading survived until last year.

Baccalaureate Sermon Affords Advice To St. Francis Graduates At Richmond

fessional faculties and the teaching profession represent the cream of society. Mrs. H. I. Apps, rector of St. Ann's Anglican Church and Rural Dean of Richmond, told the graduating class of St. Francis High School at the baccalaureate evensong service in St. Ann's.

Over 20 members of the graduating class attended the service, which opened with a procession of the choir led by the rector, and servers, completed the long procession. The church was filled to capacity with members, relatives and friends of the graduates and clergy and members of the other churches of Richmond and Melbourn. Rev. J. Leslie Dean represented Chalmers United Church, and J. Urquhart, student-in-charge, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The first lesson of Evensong was read by Mr. Dean; the second by Mr. Urquhart. The service was conducted by Mr. Apps, and Mrs. Louise Fee, of Melbourn, organist and choirmaster of St. Ann's was in charge of the music and singing.

In his sermon to the graduating class, Mr. Apps pointed out that graduation from High School was not the end of learning, but merely a step along the road to wider vistas of education, learning and experience, experience being the best of all teachers, regardless of a person's standing in society or degree of academic achievement.

He also pointed out that the esteem in which members of the teaching profession were held by the wise parents and members of an enlightened society was of noble proportions as evidenced by the fact that parents entrusted their most prized possessions, their children, to leaders and

As a priest of the Church Mr. App's remarks and advice centered around the spiritual riches available to those whose life was God-centred and who had a spiritual home and refuge in Christian Churches enjoying religious liberty in our land. Said her, with a proper grounding in religious and secular education students leaving high school age well started along the road of life, and with further study and thought and work could maintain and enjoy a life governed by the marvelously delicate balance of moral and natural laws, both of which laws came into being by Divine creation. How well these young people take their place in society and preserved the integrity of these laws depend a great deal upon how well they have learned the lessons received from their teachers; and how well they correlate their learning with the later lessons in the school of experience.

In his closing words the Mr. Apps reminded the congregation and graduating class that they could always take the words of the Psalmist as motto or watchword of life, Whoso putteth his trust in the Lord, mercy embraceth him on every side. This had been the stay and support for generations past, and will remain the same for generations to come. The graduates of today provide the teachers and leaders of tomorrow, each generation bringing peculiar treasures of its own to embellish those of the past and enrich those of the future.

Backing Sought For India's Conservatives

By RUKMINI DEVI

BOMBAY (CP)—A number of prominent non-party Indian leaders are actively trying to get popular backing for India's first Conservative party — named the Conservative Opposition party.

Spearheading the campaign is Chakravarti Rajagopalachari, 80-year-old elder statesman and one of the principal lieutenants of Gandhi.

He says the new party would "stand for freedom of man, freedom of the farm and freedom of the family as against the attack of totalitarianism on the freedom of everybody."

Rajagopalachari, one of India's most brilliant and controversial statesmen, was one of a handful of men, including Prime Minister Nehru, who was closest to Gandhi during the long struggle for independence.

He succeeded Lord Louis Mountbatten as Free India's first governor-general but in the last six or seven years CR as he is known in the country, has been moving farther and farther away from the Congress party and Nehru.

AGAINST CO-OPS

Rajagopalachari has been highly critical of the Congress party's decision, taken at the party's annual session last January, to organize co-operative farms in the country. Though Nehru and other Congress party leaders have said the co-operatives would be purely voluntary and that the peasants would retain their titles to their lands, CR holds that the decision would bring in "totalitarianism by the back door."

"The collective farm attacks not only the farm but the family as well," he says.

He adds that the Conservative Opposition party will fight for the restoration of constitutional guarantees for the protection of property rights and contractual obligations. Congress party leaders say nothing has been done to do away with such guarantees and that Rajagopalachari is suffering from "confused thinking."

Informed political observers do not rate the chances of the new party as very high, despite the prestige attached to Rajagopalachari's personality.

Rajagopalachari himself has said that his object is not to get into Parliament for some years to come. He would watch the progress of the new party before deciding whether to jump into the election battle, the preliminary shots in which will be fired in about two years from now.

The next general election is scheduled to take place in early 1962.

ASBESTOS —

Following a service in the United Church the congregation honored Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Eddy with a gift of money and a social evening. The occasion was the wedding anniversary of the minister and his wife. Mrs. Edith Boyd presented the gift on behalf of the Board of Stewards, Board of Elders and the two ladies' groups. The tea table was set buffet style with flowers and candelabra enhancing its charm. This is the last congregational get-together with the minister before he leaves to take up his duties in his new charge in Ontario.

Mrs. F. Buzza, of Harrogate, Yorkshire, England, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. T. J. Barclay and Mr. Barclay. While in the community she is also visiting her niece, Mrs. Gordon Alexander, and Mr. Alexander.

Mrs. Len. Gale, of Wickford, R.I., who has been a guest of Mrs. J. Mory in Drummondville, is visiting her son, Mr. Earl Gale, and Mrs. Gale.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Vigneau and daughter Joy, of Montreal, are spending a week's holiday at Larochelle.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ashcroft have returned from their honeymoon trip to Quebec City and are residing at the Iroquois Club. Mrs. Ashcroft has accepted a position on the nursing staff of the Canadian Johns-Manville Hospital.

Mr. Isaac Morrill left recently from Dorval by TCA for Kapuskasing, Northern Ontario, to visit his son, Ronald, and family. He was accompanied to Dorval by Mrs. Morrill and son, Merrick.

Progress Made In Planning For Bury Celebration

BURY — The Athletic Association held a third meeting to work on plans for the July 1st celebrations.

Reports showed progress and everything points to a successful observance of the day. Activities will start at 9:30 a.m. with a ball game in which members of the Canadiens hockey team will participate. A large, specially-made sign, swinging in the breeze, will greet all who arrive by car with Welcome to Bury. To facilitate matters and save time, two sound systems will be in operation.

The Gokioke Indian Chief Band, from Gorham, N.H. will present some stirring melodies. A special rhythm band will lead the children's parade. Jerry Haseltine's orchestra will supply music for the evening dance at Bailey's Pavilion.

There will be places to eat. The Women's Institute will serve a hot turkey dinner and a cold plate supper in the Town Hall. Booths at the Park and the Legion Hut will serve lunches. An entertaining variety concert will be followed by an outstanding display of fireworks. In all, the activities planned should make for a busy, happy Dominion Day.

Girl Guide News

ROCK ISLAND

The Town Hall was the scene of a delightful event, when the Rock Island Girl Guide troop honored one of its Senior Guides who is going on an extended trip with her parents before leaving for Sweden, the homeland of her father. The Guide is Miss Anna Lemon, who had been lured to the hall under false pretences by Miss Phyllis Curtis and a friend.

On arriving the honored guest was surprised to find the troop awaiting her, and Miss Sandra Armstrong presented her with a corsage made up of travel accessories, a miniature comb, hankie, nail file and rain hat.

Games were played, the winners awarded prizes and dancing to recordings was also enjoyed. A buffet style lunch was served and included a Bon Voyage cake made and decorated by Miss D. Farley in the trefoil design of the Guides and decorated in the Guide colors of yellow and blue, and inscribed with Good Luck Anna.

Miss Edith Davis on behalf of the troop leaders and Guides presented Miss Lemon with the gift of a travelling case and photograph album, and she voiced her appreciation for the pleasant surprise and lovely party.

Miss Lemon with her parents and brother, Olaf, leave this week for a motor trip to points of interest in the Canadian and American West. In September the family will return to Stanstead, but Anna will leave them at Salt Lake city for Sweden, where she plans to continue her education.

DERBY LINE

Two boys from Troop 80, Derby Line, Peter Earle and Blaine Willey, are looking forward to a high spot in their scouting careers, hiking over a part of the 127,000 acres of the Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, N.M.

The boys go to Mount Norris Scout reservation at Lake Eden, in Vermont on June 26, leaving there on June 29, for Philmont Ranch. After visiting several beautiful and historic sites along the way, they will arrive at their destination on July 9.

It will be the last the boys will see of civilization until July 19. All equipment necessary for camp life will be packed by each Scout. On July 20 the boys will leave and arrive back at Mount Norris on July 28.

The cost of the trip, $230 each plus a considerable amount for extras is footed by the boys themselves with the exception of a few generous donations from local organizations and public spirited citizens. Each boy has worked hard to earn money on his own to be able to attend this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

The boys are both well-qualified to represent Troop 80 and Derby Line Village, as well as the entire Boundary communities.

on this trip. Both boys are Senior Scouts, with Star rank, they have 3 1/2 to 4 years Scout experience, are Junior leaders and have 6 merit badges each as well as a wide knowledge and experience in camping.

Boy Scouts is an organization to develop better citizenship, and any help given these boys will be greatly appreciated.

Famous Montreal Girls' Private School Marks Fiftieth Anniversary Of Founding

MONTREAL (CP) — Back in 1909 two young teachers pooled $4,000 and set out through Montreal in a horse-drawn carriage looking for a building to start their own school.

They found one on downtown Guy Street, and this year a 50th anniversary party was held to mark the occasion for Miss Edgar's and Miss Cramp's private school for girls.

Miss Maud Edgar, now a white-haired 86, was among the celebrants. She and Miss Mary Cramp conceived the idea of their own school while both were teaching at Haverhill College in Toronto.

But she is still amazed that they were able to carry it out. "It was just an act of faith opening the school," said Miss Edgar in an interview. "All we had was the $4,000. But we did it."

Both retired in 1940, the same year the school was moved to a new location on west-end Cedar Avenue. Miss Cramp died in 1950. Miss Edgar, with vivid recollections of the years, said "girls are still just the same basically," although much has changed.

"Teen-age girls had more fun in the old days. They enjoyed things more and they had a greater variety of friends. This custom of going steady—a boy being attached to one girl—is ridiculous."

She said girls go to university as a matter of course now. But when she was a young girl "it wasn't the thing to do."

"Girls came out then, and this was made much more of a show than now. I remember I couldn't get one of my friends to come with me to university."

So Miss Edgar went alone and was graduated in 1896 from the University of Toronto.

At Haverhill, she was hired with the firm admonition: "Do not marry!" "I told them I'd marry if I please," she said. But she never did.

It was at the university that she met Miss Cramp and from their friendship the partnership grew.

They decided they would move to Montreal to start their new school "because we did not want to take students away from Haverhill," said Miss Edgar.

Their first student here was the daughter of a friend. But soon they had more than 70 lined up and "before the doors opened we had to refuse applications."

Now the school has more than 150 students in classes restricted to 10 to provide greater individual instruction. It offers complete matriculation requirements.

Two other private schools for girls here have been opened by former students at Miss Edgar's and Miss Cramp's.

Alberta's History May Be Found In Names Passed On By The Pioneers

CALGARY (CP)—The history of all Alberta can be read in the names passed on by Indians, pioneers, ranchers, railroad men, police and postmasters.

Unusual happenings are the root of many a town or river name. Committee Punch Bowl Lake for instance, a tiny lake at the summit of the Athabasca Pass, was named by old fur traders who used the spot to drink a toast to the Hudson's Bay Company.

Marlin Lake in Banff National Park is named after the legendary magician, Wizard Lake, south of Edmonton, is close to Conjuring Creek.

Bath Creek, which feeds the Bow River, got its name back in 1881 when a Canadian Pacific Railway engineer was thrown from his horse and given a sudden bath.

Pincher Creek in southern Alberta originally was known by the Indian name of Little Spitzee but was renamed after a trader lost a valuable pair of pinchers there in the 1860s.

The village of Mirror, west of Lacombe, was named after a London newspaper, The Daily Mirror, and the post office of Bingville near Medicine Hat was named from an old comic strip.

East of Couits is the town of Aden, named by a postmaster after the Arabian seaport. Harrold in the Didsbury district was named after the hot, dry winds which blow on the African coast.

Kahwin, a post office in the Smoky Lake area, recalls the violent opposition of the non-Slavic residents to a suggestion that it be given the Russian name of Ostaskik. Kahwin in the Sioux language means no.

Bruderheim, east of Fort Saskatchewan, is the German name for "brethren's home," and the Ukrainian settlement of Myrnam is named for a Russian term meaning "peace to us."

Seven Persons near Medicine Hat is believed to have been named by early settlers after a small camp of seven people who were slain by Indian raiders.

Deadhorse Coulee near Milk River marks the spot where 40 police horses starved while being driven to winter pasture, and Bullpound Creek which flows into the Red Deer River southeast of Drumheller marks the site of a Blackfoot Indian buffalo slaughter.

Some of the better-known Indian names are Athabasca—Cree

Never before has public interest in every aspect of the automotive business – including, of course, automobile sales – been so keen and so general.

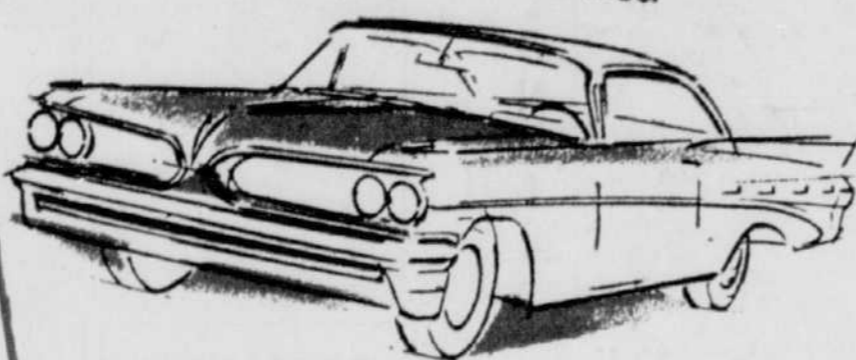

For that reason, we are glad of the opportunity to tell you about the cars and trucks we build and the respective positions they enjoy in the market-place. Naturally, we are most appreciative of your preference for our products – a preference which continues to grow – and, in doing so, endorses even more clearly our recent advertisement "That which deserves to lead – leads!"

We make Chevrolet.

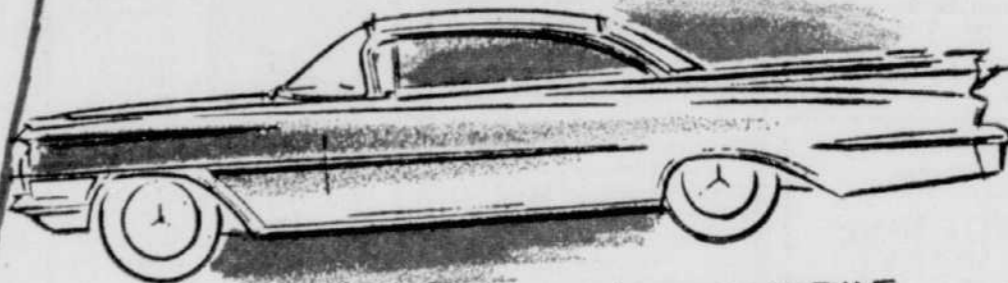

FIRST IN SALES year after year – and again in 1959. This is the true measure of public opinion, and it proves conclusively that there's no value like CHEVROLET value.

We make Pontiac also.

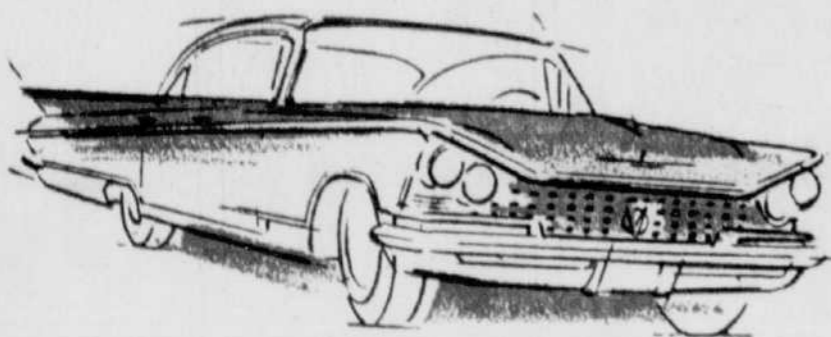

And PONTIAC'S SECOND IN SALES. Its popularity is growing by leaps and bounds, as you can plainly see in every community across the land.

And here's Oldsmobile...

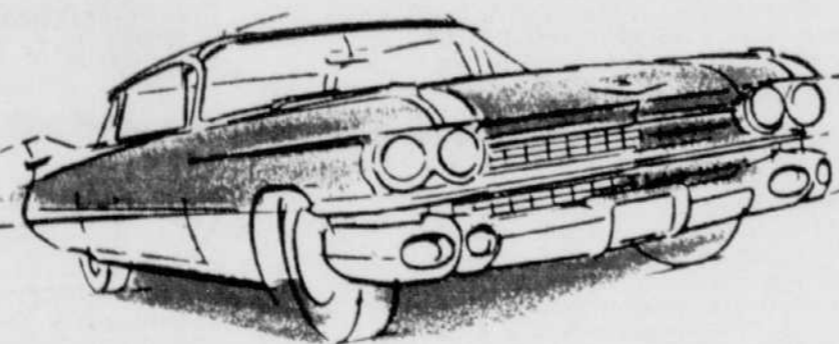

Another best-seller! In fact OLDSMOBILE is a "standout" in the medium price class. Why? Because there's nothing quite like that new OLDS feeling!

Buick...we're proud to make it, too.

THE CAR which proves that better automobiles are being built and Buick is building them. Beauty? Performance? Riding qualities? Overall excellence? Buick is unbeatable!

Then there's Cadillac...The indisputable Standard of the World.

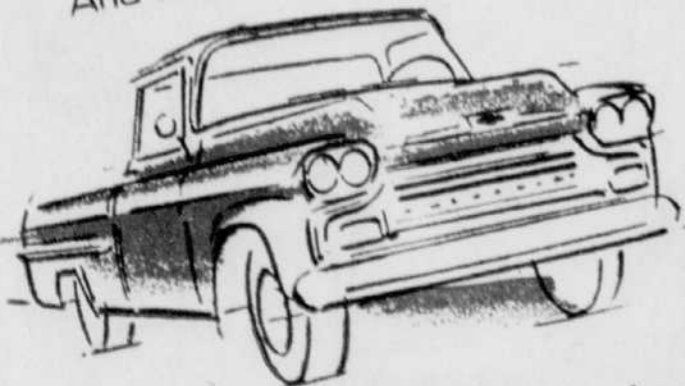

"World's best synonym for Quality."
"Known for the company it keeps."
"The decision that needs no explanation."

Now, let's introduce our pride and Joy from Britain – the famous Vauxhall!

Here's the car that's breaking records every day. No question about it, VAUXHALL is the choice of the people who prefer a car of this class. We're sorry it hasn't been possible to meet the demand. We sincerely appreciate your patience!

And let's not forget trucks!

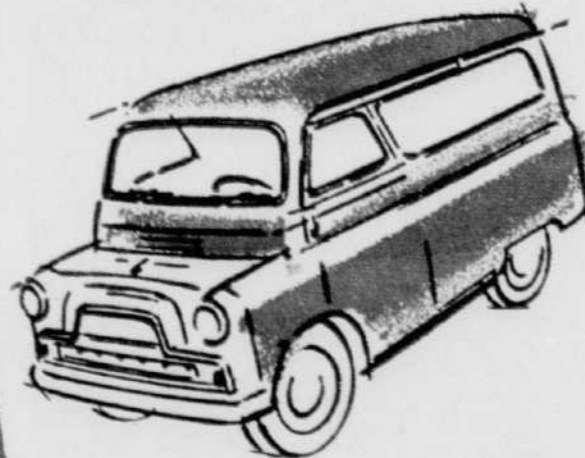

As you'd expect, Chevrolet trucks, TOO, are first in sales. Whatever the load, whatever the road, CHEVROLET does the job better, quicker and more economically.

GMC – from half tons to 45 tons

From frisky pickups to the big brutes. And, for your information, second place in sales is solidly clinched by GMC.

To complete the parade of trucks, we have the new British BEDFORD.

Tried and proven around the world and now fast becoming Canada's favorite, too!

What does all this mean? We like to think it reflects a special kind of confidence in General Motors and its vast dealer organization. It is recognition, as it were, of a philosophy which has been dedicated always to superior quality, craftsmanship and value.
