

City May Take Tramways To Higher Court

Still Seeks Fifty Grand In Snow Aid

Members of Westmount City Council Monday will consider the judgment of the Court of Appeal handed down this week and which unanimously rules that the Montreal Transportation Commission does not have to help Westmount with snow removal, as its predecessor, the Montreal Tramways Company did.

The city is involved to an amount of about $17,000 a year and already the arrears have piled up to a total of more than $50,000.

Depending on the wording of the judgment, the city may or may not decide to take the case to a higher court in an effort to reclaim its $50,000.

Westmount and Outremont — which have sent bills in vain to MTC for its alleged share of snow-removal costs — sued the commission.

The Montreal Street Railway Company, when it entered its first franchise with the two municipalities in 1906, undertook to bear part of the removal costs. The obligation also applied later to Montreal Tramways Co., and payments were made regularly. Then, on June 16, 1951, the City of Montreal took over the company and changed its name.

The snow removal bills were dispatched with prompt regularity, as usual. But payments were not dispatched in turn. Bills piled up like the snowdrifts they concerned — until the municipalities decided to sue.

A Superior Court ruling found for the MTC, saying that the obligation contained in the earlier franchise did not exist after the city took over the streetcars. Now, Court of Appeal has confirmed the ruling in two identical judgments for each of the suing municipalities.

Vandals Wreck Offices, Get $208 At Red Feather

Red Feather officials were seeing red Tuesday morning after they were notified that thieves had broken into the Welfare Federation building on Atwater shortly before 5 a.m.

Thieves gained access to the building by a second storey window facing on Weredale Park. Three agency offices were entered and damages and material losses totalled close to $1,000 according to Henry Stegmayer, executive assistant. They demolished a safe in the office of the Society for the Protection of Women and Children and $208 was taken.

The John Howard Society had doors smashed, cabinets rifled and a small amount of cash taken. Montreal Boys' Association lost petty cash, a camera valued at $100 and fixtures destroyed and damaged.

Westmount police are investigating the break-in.

Montreal Sees Marler On Seaway

Federal Cabinet Minister George Marler received officials of the City of Montreal in Ottawa this week, to consider their suggestions for communication between the island and the south shore of the St. Lawrence, when the Seaway becomes a reality in this area.

The plan, which includes a highway along a retaining wall, tunnels, and causeway bridges, is being studied at the Federal level, Mr. Marler told the Montreal officials, but clarification of some points is being sought.

The Harbors Board, Seaway Authority and C.N.R. were all represented at the discussions.

70 From Hi-Y At Conference In Sherbrooke

Seventy HI-Y members from Montreal attended the Regional Easter Conference held in Sherbrooke last week. The Montreal delegation were representatives of 15 different HI-Y Clubs now operating in Montreal.

The general theme of the conference was "HI-Y Today for Higher Standards Tomorrow". Discussion centred around "Boy-Girl Relationships", "Delinquency" and "Capital Punishment", with some time being spent on problems of club organization and school relationship.

Alderman W. H. Bradley, Q.C. extended the greeting of the City of Sherbrooke to the delegates at the opening banquet and the Rev. C. Tait, Plymouth Church, was the guest speaker. All conference arrangements were made by the Sherbrooke HI-Y Club.

In the juvenile delinquency discussion the young people expressed themselves about the need for parent education on the matter. It was felt that most juvenile delinquency was due to parental failure. The group felt that the HI-Y Clubs were helpful in combating delinquency and that groups should be on the alert to assimilate the "lone wolf" into their club fellowship. Concern was felt that there was a need for a better understanding of laws governing juveniles and that it was likely a study and modernization of laws dealing with juveniles would help in the solving of the delinquency problem.

No decisions were arrived at around the vexing problem of capital punishment, although the delegates expressed the opinion that the answer lay in preventative techniques rather than punishment.

The conference is an annual event, planned for the Easter vacation period.

'Fete Des Fleurs' Entry Form Ready

Application forms for entry in the fourth annual "Fete des Fleurs", to be held May 31, at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, are now available at the museum, 1379 Sherbrooke street west. All forms must be completed and returned to the museum by May 15, it is announced by the flower show committee.

Sponsored by the Ladies' Committee of the museum as its major fund-raising project of the year, the "Fete des Fleurs" is a competition in floral arrangement for amateurs. Local professional florists aid in decorating the galleries. Last year some 250 entries were received, while more than 4,000 persons visited the museum during the day. Although only in its fourth year, the Montreal "Fete des Fleurs" has attracted international notice, with enquiries coming to the museum recently from as far afield as Kansas and British Columbia.

This year, according to the committee in charge, there will be 10 categories in the competition, including a class for children under 12 years of age. The other classes will be: wild flowers, Japanese arrangements, all green, show-cases, miniature, fruit and vegetable, classic arrangements free style, and a special class in which identical containers and identical flowers are provided to be arranged within a time limit.

ST. DAVID'S SOCIETY

The winter series of meetings of the St. David's Society of Montreal will conclude Friday, April 29 when a supper followed by a social evening will be held at Victoria Hall, from 6 to 8 p.m. Further information may be obtained from DE. 3046. Any new arrivals from Wales are invited to attend this function.

BUS TRIP TO NOWHERE

The Plus 16 Club conducted the second of a series of Bus Trips held this year, last Friday, with an attendance of 29 teenagers. The group left the club at 8 p.m. — the destination was Kozy Corner at Plage Laval and returned to the Club House by midnight. The next bus trip for the Plus 16 Club will be held on Saturday, June 18, and the destination will be Plattsburgh, N.Y. As an early reminder to members of the Plus 16 club — make your reservations early as only the first 40 to apply will be eligible to go.

NOTE TO A.B.

Dear A.B.: Your request to have your name mentioned in this column has not been granted — and this is the reason why. For your information, the names that periodically appear in this column are put there for some specific accomplishment which can be attributed to the merits of the member whose name has been mentioned or the contribution which the Club itself has made on behalf of the member — Now in your case, I would be very inclined to say that you have failed most hopelessly in any attempt whatsoever to adjust yourself to the high standards which prevail at the Unity Boys' Club and to which the majority of the members are not only proud of but also abide by most religiously.

Now here is my advice to you, A.B. "At the Unity Boys' Club we have a variety of activities which a 16 year old boy like yourself can participate in. Why don't you stop fooling around in the club and do something constructive, like woodwork or art or wood carving or leatherwork or join the Science Club or one of the many group clubs or perhaps you like athletics — why don't you play basketball, or hockey, or badminton, or boxing, or wrestling, or baseball, or softball or go in for track and field.

You want your name in the paper, A.B. well, how about a little cooperation — how about trying to act like a gentleman — we are ready and willing to give you your opportunity.

Sincerely,

Maurice Mariasine

Blind Fund Drive Active In Westend

The Combined Appeal for the Blind of Greater Montreal is making steady progress in the westend, it was reported this week by district chairmen. Objective of the campaign is $200,000 for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Quebec division, and the Montreal Association for the Blind.

NDG co-chairmen Mrs. Gilbert Layton and Mrs. J. L. Jennings and Westmount head Norman Clemens all reported that door to door canvassing is coming along "at about the same rate as last year."

They said they were counting on subscribers to volunteer their subscription as the canvass will continue until the objective is raised for the two westend districts.

The Montreal Association for the Blind maintains a school for sightless children, a brush and broom factory and a home for the aged blind at 6980 Sherbrooke street west.

Funds raised in this campaign are to help the sightless to help themselves.

Weredale House History Told Rotary By McAdam

Weredale House and Camp Weredale grew from an idea first conceived by a small group of people in Montreal in 1870, Vernon F. McAdam told members of the Westmount Rotary Club at Victoria Hall Wednesday.

Mr. McAdam, secretary manager of Weredale House and executive director of the Boys Clubs of Canada, said the first home for boys was established in this city on Mountain street in 1870. The home later established the Boys Farm and Training School at Shawbridge.

Camp Lewis, which is operated by the Montreal Boys Association, also grew from this small group of people who first thought of the homeless and wandering boys in Montreal back in the 19th century. Mr. McAdam said that the Boys Welfare Association and the Big Brothers Association amalgamated and formed the Association as it is today.

In tracing the history of Weredale House, which is to celebrate its 25th anniversary shortly, Mr. McAdam said it was in 1928 that members of the Montreal Rotary Club were first approached with the idea of raising a quarter of a million dollars to build a suitable boys home in Montreal to replace the inadequate one located on Mountain street.

Weredale House in Westmount was completed in 1930 and occupied that year by the boys. As a boys home it was ideal, being equipped with dormitory space for 161 boys, a swimming pool, gymnasium, auditorium, cafeteria and other facilities. More than 6,000 boys have been given shelter at Weredale House since it first opened its doors, he said.

Mr. McAdam said each boy is admitted to the home only on the recommendation of some recognized welfare agency. He pointed out that many of the boys who have grown up at the home have gone out into the business world and left their marks of success. He pointed out that during the last war, 378 boys from the home enlisted in the armed forces, with 22 being awarded decorations for bravery and outstanding service to their country.

He said the home now faces the serious problem of overcrowding. He estimated that in the past six months only 12 new boys have been admitted to the home, whereas under normal conditions the number of admissions over the same period should have been three times as many.

In relating the history of Camp Weredale, he told Rotarians that in 1933 members of the Westmount Club undertook to raise $10,000 in order to establish, what he described as the finest boys camp in the country.

Going over the past history of the boys clubs in Canada Mr.

Ballet Russe Pair Visit Art Exhibit

A visit from two of the leading ballerinas of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo highlighted opening ceremonies Friday of an art exhibition by Esther Goldenberg, 417 Mount Stephen avenue, on the main floor of Simpson's department store.

The theme of the exhibit is ballet dancers sketched backstage with the famous troupe, and coincides with the coming of the ballet to Montreal.

On hand for the opening were Sergei Denham, director of the Ballet Russe, and leasing ballerinas Nina Novak and Yvonne Chouteau. The exhibit will continue through May 14.

This is the first complete showing of Miss Goldenberg's ballet paintings, though she has exhibited successfully previously in several cities. Her work has often appeared in Dance Magazine in New York.

Miss Goldenberg first became interested in art as a career when she won a scholarship to Sir George Williams College, from a hobby show at the age of 10. There she studied under James McCorkindale.

For a time she was occupied with still life and landscapes, but after going backstage to do some sketching about 10 years ago, she discovered a new interest.

Since then she has gone backstage at many various forms of entertainment, such as ballet, circuses and concerts, to find subjects for her sketches.

In the future, she is considering adding athletics to her repertoire. Seeking grace and form of line in her sketchings, she contends the field may prove both interesting and worthwhile.

J. Daniel Benefiel, director of the campaign and finance division, Community Chests and Councils of America, Inc., is in town this week to discuss the Red Feather campaign situation with members of the campaign cabinet of Montreal's Red Feather organization. He is also meeting with the Combining of Appeals Study committee of the Board of Trade to pass on U.S. experience in combining multiple appeals.

Wee Willie Starkey Hits CFCF Jamboree

Wee Willie Starkey — a member of the Unity Boys Club talent parade — made good this week from local entertainment point of view.

Willie, a member of the parade for a year now, has appeared with the group at all their hospital and benefit performances, which have been numerous. He and his guitar have been featured doing western selections.

He reached a new high in his climb when last week he auditioned for radio station CFCF's Home Town Jamboree, and was chosen to appear in the near future.

Meanwhile the talent parade rolls along, and it was announced they would provide a two hour variety show for the patients of St. Anne's Veterans Hospital early in May.

HOLLYWOOD, April 21. — George White once won $300,000 on a single horse race, drove an imported $25,000 limousine, was Broadway's toast as producer of the well-remembered Scandals. Then a few years ago he was involved in an automobile accident in which two people were killed. He pleaded guilty to hit-run charges, served time in jail and earned 35 cents a day tending sheep in San Diego County as a trusty.

The Toronto lad hit both heights and depths in show business. He won fame as a dancer, helped advance the careers of such greats as W. C. Fields, Helen Morgan and the Dolly Sisters. His revues in New York did much to promote the names of George Gershwin and Buddy DaSylva and gave birth to many standard tunes as popular today as decades ago.

But White's luck ran out for a while and he was taken through bankruptcy with liabilities of half a million dollars and no assets other than the clothes on his back.

So it's pleasant to report this never-say-die Canadian is on the way up once more. His Scandalettes are packing in the customers at Ciro's swank cabaret on Hollywood's Sunset Strip. His head is filled with good ideas and renewed enthusiasm.

About that $300,000 horse race. To help out a pal White advanced $1,500 to buy an unknown steed. The friend trained the horse and finally entered him in a race. George White bet $20,000 on the nose and the horse won at 15-to-one odds.

White later gambled $50,000 on another race — and this time lost. He hit the financial skids in 1929 when the stock market crashed and wiped him out. Today at Ciro's he receives a nominal fee as produced and for the use of his name. With White's luck — which has to turn good again some day — this could mean the start of a new career.

Moliere's "School For Wives"

At Westhill Theatre Until Saturday

Malleon's modernized version of Moliere's The School for Wives, the Montreal Repertory Theatre's production which opens next Wednesday in West Hill Theatre, will be directed by Stephen Porter.

Mr. Porter is in charge of productions for the Department of English at McGill University. He is a specialist in modern drama who has been producing lesser-known classics at McGill (Hippolytus, Measure for Measure, The Cenci).

Tomorrow evening Mr. Porter is delivering a lecture, Moliere on the English Stage, to the MRT Theatre Club. The evening, planned to precede MRT's Moliere production, is not restricted to MRT members, but is open to anyone wishing to attend. The lecture will start at 8:15 p.m., in the Arts Club, Victoria Street, and will be followed by an open discussion.

A graduate of Yale University's Drama School, Mr. Porter has been studying drama for the past five summers by travelling widely in Europe, the British Isles and the United States.

The School for Wives will have Bruce Raymond in the leading role of Arnolphe, Mr. Raymond directed MRT's Bonaventure earlier this season, and played in two MRT productions last season: The Deep Blue Sea and The Miser. He has acted with Ottawa's CRT, for whom he was also business manager, and the Mountain Playhouse, where he was business manager and co-producer. He acts and writes for radio and TV.

As Agnes, Arnolphe's ward and intended wife, Gerda Rother makes her first appearance in a leading role with MRT. She played in a studio production, The Enchanted, in the old Guy Street Playhouse, and has appeared in a number of plays at McGill, as well as with the Mountain Playhouse. She was a student in MRT's School of the Theatre.

Mary Kerr, winner of the Best Actress Award in the 1950 Regional Drama Festival, has already appeared this season with MRT. She was Miss Pierce in Bonaventure, and in Life with Mother, The Curious Savage and Uncle Harry in previous seasons. She has played frequently in Trinity productions, the most recent of which was The Chiltern Hundreds. In (Continued on Page 7)

Today At Snowdon, Outremont and Strand

"Six Bridges To Cross", the tremendous human drama behind the headline-story of the great $2,500,000 Boston robbery that shocked the United States, opens today at the Snowdon, Outremont and Strand theatres with Tony Curtis, Julie Adams and George Nader in starring roles.

Based on the sensational Collier's magazine story, the best-selling novel and the Reader's Digest Book Club hit, "The Anatomy Of A Crime" by veteran Boston crime reporter Joseph F. Dinneen, "Six Bridges To Cross" tells the story behind one of the biggest armed robberies in history with the trip-hammer jolt of reality. And against the background of that crime of the century, the picture reaches great heights of emotional interest as it makes the screen's first honest appraisal of the strange law-enforcing bond that links cop and stool-pigeon. "Six Bridges To Cross," however, is more a story of people than of crime.

Tony Curtis is cast as the slum-born Boston crook who turns informer. George Nader is seen as a worldly-wise policeman with Julie Adams as his warm and loving wife who befriends Curtis. "Six Bridges To Cross" was filmed mainly on location in Boston, actual scene of the sensational headline story.

Completing the program at the Snowdon and Outremont are CinemaScope shorts in color and a cartoon, and at the Strand 'Apache Drums, with Five hours and 20 minutes will be cut from the present eastward schedule between Montreal and Charlottetown, and three hours and five minutes will be lopped off the westward run. Through sleeping cars will be operated year-round in the consist of the "Ocean Limited".

Three newcomers to MRT play in The School for Wives' cast: Charles Luke, as Alain, Peter Salzer, as Oronte, and William Austin, as Horace. Charles Luke appeared in the recent McGill production of The Cenci, and Peter Salzer has played in a number of McGill productions. William Austin is an Australian who has had professional repertory experience in his native country and in England.

The setting for The School for Wives has been designed by Peter Symcox, who designed the set for MRT's production of the Malleon-Moliere The Miser a year ago. He is an Englishman who has done designing for the Old Vic, the Mozart Opera Company and the Sadlers Wells. Costumes have been designed by Althea Douglas, who is in charge of costumes and makeup for the Department of English productions at McGill.

Insurance Firms Think Highly Of Newspapers

The life insurance companies in Canada think so highly of newspapers as the best means of making available information for the public that they concentrate their co-operative institutional advertising in the daily and the weekly press.

R. Leighton Foster, Q.C., of Toronto, general counsel of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association, told this to a meeting of the Life Insurance Managers Association of Montreal at the Ritz Carlton Hotel Monday.

"Our first institutional advertisement was published in a few Canadian daily papers in 1921. In the intervening 34 years at least $4 out of every $5 spent by the companies on cooperative public educational activities has been spent in the newspapers. During 1954-55 we are using every daily newspaper in Canada, more than 200 weekly newspapers, 14 farm journals and six financial publications to carry our regular messages explaining 'Why it is good citizenship to own life insurance,' he said.

"The life insurance business is the greatest co-operative enterprise in Canada today and participating policyholders in Canadian companies get all or at least 90% of the 'profits.'"

He added that the ratio of life insurance in force to national income is higher (about 110%) in Canada than in any other country in the world.

"Canadians buy their life insurance from more than 60 different Canadian, European and United States companies in the most competitive market in the world," he said.

Not So Predatory

Enterprise Is Just As Free
As Government Allows

The authority that sets out to prove that what it does itself would be highly reprehensible if done by anyone else has saddled itself with a rather difficult argument. It sounds like double talk to the people.

A short while back this curious kind of thinking got a bit of an airing on the C.B.C.'s Citizens' Forum program. The subject was "Free Enterprise: Is it Fact or Fancy?" The confusion induced by this bit of alliteration didn't trouble Dr. Eugene Forsey, economist of the Canadian Congress of Labor. He has been opposing Free Enterprise so long that he can now do it without thinking.

He opined that there was no such thing as free enterprise and that what went by the name was in reality monopoly capitalism, whose business it was to stifle competition.

This looked to Carl Pollock, an industrialist member of the panel, like an argument produced by the Combines Investigation Act, and there was quite a little flurry, Mr. Pollock thinking that this sort of governmental regulatory action was making a mockery of the term free, in enterprise or otherwise.

On Dr. Forsey's contention that Big Business was throttling Little Business Mr. Pollock had a pertinent query. If that were so, how was it that small industries and business had been increasing at such a steadily accelerating pace?

Perhaps there is no concrete answer to that question. It does seem to suggest however that Big Business isn't as predatory as Dr. Forsey and those of his way of thinking would have us believe, and it suggests that enterprise is about as free and competitive as government permits it to be. — J.L.R.

Call The Witnesses — I

BY REV. CANON R. KENNETH NAYLOR
Rector of Trinity Memorial Church

A few weeks ago I picked out of a pile of discards a little book on the Resurrection of Jesus, under the title "Call the Witnesses." It was written a century ago and is the report of a trial conducted by a group of lawyers seeking the answer to the question: Is the Resurrection fact or myth? So, being lawyers, they called as witnesses, the various accounts of the Resurrection which are found in all four Gospels, in Acts and I Corinthians XV. But that is not all. Every book of the New Testament is riddled through and through with faith in the Resurrection. When St. James introduces himself as a servant of the Lord Jesus Christ he is not speaking only of a person who died on the cross, but of a living, present Christ. Remove the Easter faith from the New Testament and you have a queer set of ideas.

There are people who would like to get rid of the fact of the Resurrection. They think that Christianity without the empty tomb would be so much more intelligible. They back up their thinking by saying that the major accounts of the Resurrection are so inconsistent that it is impossible to form a clear picture.

Let us then look at those accounts and as a matter of procedure let us look first at the points of agreement. In looking the record over, or acting as examining counsel of the witnesses, I am quite ready to admit that I am biased, but so is everyone else, biased for or against the witnesses. There is no possibility of a neutral position. I can take a neutral position on thousands of problems from the ancient world. It makes no difference to me or any one else whether Xerxes watched the Battle of Salamis from a marble throne erected on the promontory of Sunium or whether he had already set out for Persepolis. No one is better or worse off because the wife of Clodius pierced the dead tongue of Cicero with a needle to express her revenge over the lawyer who secured her husband's condemnation. But it makes all the difference in the world to me that Jesus bore my sins on the cross, that in doing so He died, and was declared Son of God with power by the resurrection from the dead.

So let us call the witnesses, and to begin with let us quote two sentences from St. Paul, one from Galatians and one from Galatians and one from I Thessalonians: "Paul an apostle . . . by Jesus Christ and God the Father, who raised him from the dead." Gal. II "to wait for His Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come." 1 Tess. 110. These are quoted merely to show that 15 years before the earliest Gospel was written the Resurrection was one basis of the Christian faith.

Robert Graves in "The Nazarene Gospel Restored" denies the fact of Jesus' death. So we shall begin there. To St. Paul and to the other New Testament writers the death of Christ is stated over and over in such form as "He died for our sins according to the Scriptures." It would be absurd to talk about the Resurrection from the dead, unless Jesus had died. There is no hint anywhere that Christ did not die.

The more direct witnesses are the four Gospels, and they report the death of our Lord in almost identical words: "And Jesus cried again with a loud voice, and yielded up his spirit." When all four elaborate the story, and the Fourth Gospel reports how a soldier pierced His side with a spear, to make assurance doubly sure, we need have no doubt about the soldiers. They did not lack experience of death.

St. Michael's School Old Boys To Fete Presentation Quintet

A testimonial dinner to five Presentation Brothers — now retired from active service — will be tendered Thursday, April 28 by the Old Boys Association of St. Michael's School (Luke Callaghan), at the Ritz Carlton Hotel.

Two of the Brothers are now stationed at Daniel O'Connell High School. They are Bro. Borromeo O'Neil, retired, and Bro. Majella Fleming, assistant principal.

The others are Bros. Chryostom O'Keefe, Thomas Murphy and Ireneus Ring. Having taught in both Ireland and England, they volunteered for work in Canada and were among the pioneer band who came to Montreal in 1910 — the year of the Eucharistic Congress in this city.

The greater part of their teaching career has been at St. Michael's School where they have had outstanding success as teachers as well as contributing their talents to many extra-curricular activities.

Clarence McCaffery Q.C., a well known public speaker and a past student of the Presentation Brothers, will give the main address at this banquet. Among the invited guests will be Rev. Bro. Albertus Reen, Provincial, Rev. Bro. Alfonso Mitchell, Superior General now visiting the institute's houses in the West Indies and the principals of the Presentation schools in the city.

The ticket committee reported that the response to this reunion has been most gratifying and that enthusiastic support is being received from every quarter of the city. If any St. Michael's Old Boy has not yet been contacted, please accept this notice as an invitation to be on hand for this grand event. Further information on this dinner may be had from the following members of the association: John Hamilton, VI. 8039, Leonard Hay, CA. 6969, and Bill Macdonnell, AV. 8-8114.

McAdam said in 1924 there were only nine clubs in the organization. In 1929 the Boys Club Federation was organized with a membership of 16 clubs, and finally the present set up as it is today was organized in 1947.

The Boys Clubs of Canada now operated 50 clubs in 20 cities in Canada, and have, in the past few years, spent three million dollars on boys clubs in the country.

Clubs such as these are the contributions social agencies have made to the future of the country. Mr. McAdam said.

He said there were three things essential in being a good service club member. These three qualities, he pointed out were: being a good board member, giving up of wealth to the limit of his resources; and being able to bask in the glory of past accomplishments of the club, but using it as a background for even greater things in the future.

Mr. McAdam was introduced by Bill Moxley and thanked on behalf of the club by Jack Burrows. President Borden Empey was in the chair.

H. Moody Is Winner Of 'Mixed Singles'

A "mixed singles" badminton match between two westend residents proved a highlight of the evening Monday, as a preliminary to the final of the world professional badminton championships.

Harold Moody edged MSBC clubmate Jean Dunkheld 15-12, 12-15, 15-10 after allowing the pert gal an eight point handicap in each game. The match was one of two exhibitions reeled off before Denmark's Paul Hoin clipped former champ Stan Cutts 15-3, 15-2 in the rubber match of a best of three contest.

In the other exhibition match — a mixed doubles affair — Nancy McKean and John Kennedy beat Kay Grant and Ross Miller 18-4, 8-15, 15-12.

Scout-Jamboree Deadline Is Set May 2 For Forms

The eighth World Scout Jamboree, to be held at Niagara Falls highlighted scouting news this week. Deadline for submission of medical forms and fees for the jamboree, which is still 17 weeks away, was set for May 2.

It is expected that a number of scout contingents from other lands will be visiting this province before continuing on to the jamboree site at Niagara.

A meeting will be held at Scout headquarters tonight to discuss Camp Tamaracouta's program for the coming season. It is expected that the camp will be open following the jamboree for the convenience of visiting scouts. The camping season will be shortened this year due to the jamboree, it was reported earlier.

Activities on the weekends have been in full swing at the Sea Scouts base SSS Venture at Lakeside since April 1. There will be a meeting of the Sea Scout committee held at Scout headquarters on April 28.

Wolf Cub field day on May 15 will be marked in the Western District by Church parades, while a Scout outdoor rally is being planned for May 28. Central district bronze arrowhead course dates are announced as from May 6 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and May 7 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Names of candidates for these courses should be reported by Scout leaders not later than April 23.

"SOMETHING FOR EVERYBODY"

Here's why we like our "Family Trade" the best:

2) Because we like to see Pop relax, after a tough day at the office, over an appetizing and delicious meal.

We like to see his jaded appetite perk up when he sees the tasty food that is served to him by one of our efficient waitresses.

3) Because it makes us feel good to see the look of worry and strain on Mother's face disappear when she realizes that the menu contains a variety of food that will appeal to every member of the family and that everything is cooked to perfection under the supervision of our expert chef. And, best of all, no dishes to wash and no cleaning up to do!

We're sure that your entire family will like our meals. So make it a point to visit our restaurant soon.

Speaker Suggests a Good Public Relations Program Be Set Up By Association of Hospital Auxiliaries

The problem of justifying hospital expenses in an understandable way should be accepted by hospital auxiliaries as their responsibility. Mrs. Frederick N. Blodgett, told the Province of Quebec Association of Hospital Auxiliaries on Monday, April 18.

The member of the Ladies' Committee, New England Medical Centre, Boston, told the one-day meeting that the hospital needs the understanding, respect and co-operation of the public it serves. And the auxiliary can help by setting up a good public relations program.

The voluntary hospital, according to Mrs. Blodgett, is becoming increasingly dependent on the community for its financial support and staffing.

This means that public relations program is needed to supply the public with information, said the speaker. This is the role which the hospital's auxiliary should be ready and qualified to fill. She said hospitals should have their own public relations departments, too.

"It is a natural outgrowth of their development for hospitals to set up a public relations department—not to advertise and sell medical care, but to point up needs, study new ventures, explain new trends, and educate the consumer to evaluate properly this priceless commodity which he may be reluctant to support—until his life depends upon it—patient care."

She said the opportunities for public education are almost limitless and cannot be encouraged too much. "Think what a program of preventative techniques would mean if properly offered to a roomful of waiting patients in a large hospital. They are nervous, apprehensive, and often have hours to wait."

The speaker said such a program was set up in the Boston Dispensary and has met with great success. She also suggested instigation of a series of health lectures, or health forum, for the general public. "No doubt this is not unusual right here in Montreal, but has it been done under the auspices of an auxiliary?"

She referred to a type of publication which would be a "natural" for auxiliaries to produce. It would be a pamphlet for newly admitted patients, outlining certain hospital rules, routines, why meals are served at a certain hour, what some of the various uniforms mean. "It may explain away some lack that otherwise would form the basis for a formal complaint."

Public apathy and lack of complete understanding can unwittingly provide the stumbling block between the potential accomplishments offered by scientific research (with its parallel development of modern health program) and their actual, physical realization.

There was a time, said the speaker, when hospital auxiliaries could afford to use their money for dainty extras, such as fancy tea parties or frills for nurses' dormitories.

But with growing deficits in hospital budgets, "it becomes more and more the solemnly accepted responsibility of the Church Of Advent Women's Aux. Celebrates Its 60th Anniversary

This week, the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Advent, Westmount is celebrating its Jubilee with a great Thanksgiving Service at 2:30 on Monday, followed by a reception in the parish hall. Archbishop Carrington will be the special preacher. The Branch was started 60 years ago on March 5, 1895.

A year later this report mentioned fees and donations from members amounting to $4.60 and a grant of $5 from the Chancel Guild. The Dorcas department bought materials costing $8.26! This year fees and donations were $1,750 and the Dorcas dept spent $270. In those early days Wood Avenue was right in the country and the Church was a mission. This partial list of appeals the branch has contributed to, gives an idea of the wide variety of needs the 60 year-old auxiliary is interested in: a small heater for a mission house at Coppermine and a baby's cot for the missionary at Port Harrison - both places within the Arctic Circle; lubricating oil for the mission ship "Rendez-vous" ministering to coastal settlements in British Columbia; expenses for Christian Literature in Sierra Leone, Africa through Miss Frances Howard; co-operating with Technical Assistance program for destitute refugees in Pakistan; these are only a few of the contributions sent abroad via the Woman's Auxiliary.

Forming part of the Dominion Woman's Auxiliary the Advent branch will give thanks for 60 years of opportunity to share in nursing, teaching and evangelistic work in Canada, in India, in Japan and - until recently - in Amman, Jordan.

A member said "We almost feel that we are actually there - in the cold desolation of the Arctic, in the T.B. hospital we staff in Japan, or out in India with Dr. C. V. Jackson in her Clinic van Faith II bumping over the rough narrow trails towards some Punjabi village where the line-up has been forming since before dawn. From village Faith carries the message of healing and prevention. At times the van has to cross riverbeds, to crawl through ploughed fields or climb mountains at 10 m.p.h., or less!"

Someone has said, whenever a door closes another opens. As the W.A. of the Church of the Advent closes its first 60 years the members are alert for new avenues of service and fresh openings in the future.

Doreen Day To Address McGill Alumnae Society

"Common Cents in Fashion" has been chosen by Mrs. Doreen Day, Fashion Consultant with the T. Eaton Company Ltd., as the title of her talk to the members of the Alumnae Society of McGill University at their next meeting. The event will take place on Monday, at 8.15 p.m. in the Royal Victoria College.

Mrs. Day is well qualified to speak on a subject of such interest to women by the wealth of experience which she has accumulated in the fashion world. Over 25 years ago, she began preparing reports called "Customer's Viewpoint" for a large department store, and became so intrigued with store activities that she decided to work full time. She then joined the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. in Toronto as fashion advisor, and later was called to the Montreal store, where she supervised the Shopping Service and organized the Comparison Department. Subsequently she organized the Fashion Bureau and the Wedding Bureau, which she still supervises today. She travels a great deal and writes a column of fashion information gathered from the various important Collections she attends.

Mrs. Day's outside activities include being the only woman director of the Advertising and Sales Executives Club of Montreal for eight years; First Vice-President of the S.P.C.A. for five years; member of the United States Fashion Group; member of the Ladies Kennel Club; member of the Women's Auxiliary of the Children's Memorial Hospital and member of the Women's Auxiliary of the Montreal General Hospital.

MRS. P. SEVIGNY, 33 Rosemount avenue, Westmount, who is chairman of the Westmount Division of the Joint Cancer Fund, reports an increased interest among the public in this year's appeal for $250,000. The campaign, which concludes April 28, will provide funds for the three-fold program of research, education and welfare. More than 600 patients are already under the care of the Fund's welfare committees and grants in excess of $175,000 were spent by the National Cancer Research Institute in the province last year.

Children Like Hot Flavorful Soup Mates

We spent a spring weekend near Westport, Conn., recently. It was still cold. But our hostess served soupmates, two or more kinds of canned soups blended together for enticing flavor. Hot, flavorful and different, they were welcome.

She served this combination in mugs — chicken gumbo and chicken and rice. With the steaming mugs went hot dogs, hamburgers, pickles and onions. The teen-agers present wolfed down this fare. So did we.

We learned other soup mate tricks. Here are some meatless combinations — green pea and tomato; vegetarian vegetable and cream of celery; clam chowder and green pea; tomato and cream of celery.

At one luncheon we had clam

Ass'n Hospital Auxil's Elects New Officers

The third annual convention of the Association of Hospital Auxiliaries of the Province of Quebec was held on April 18, in the Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. J. Cecil McDougall, who was re-elected president, had a word of encouragement for smaller hospital auxiliaries.

She told the third annual convention: "We are very proud of our large auxiliaries and of their great achievements, and we are grateful for their leadership and inspiration, but we want to assure the smaller groups and especially the new ones just starting out that this association wishes to encourage, not competition, but co-operation and mutual assistance and aid and to emphasize the importance of the quality and spirit of service."

The provincial association, recalled the president, was established two years ago and was the last of provincial groups to be formed in Canada. It provided a link of associations from the Atlantic to the Pacific. "Therefore you must feel a great sense of pride in the dramatic growth and success of this, your association, due entirely to your good will and faith — this encouragement has indeed been precious to us."

Mrs. McDougall said: "We believe that every possible effort should be made to open avenues of communication and understanding by sharing of mutual problems and exchanging ideas and knowledge with others in the same field of endeavour."

Trapshooting Tourney Set Here Sunday

The province of Quebec's first registered trapshooting championship tournament will be held on Sunday at O'Connell Field on Cote de Liesse Road near Dorval airport.

Sponsored by Montreal Anglers and Hunters Inc., representation is expected from the major trapshooting centres in Quebec, eastern Ontario, Vermont and northern New York state.

Registration with the Amateur Trapshooting Association gives official status to the events which include individual and team titles. The four main events will be: singles championship at 16 yards (open and closed), 100 birds; doubles championship (open and closed) 50 birds; two-man team championship, 200 birds; and five-man team championship, 500 birds.

After the tournament, a meeting is planned for the purpose of organizing a province of Quebec trapshooting association.

League Seeks Sixth Team

There's a spot open in the St. Laurent Intermediate Hockey League for another team.

The situation was revealed at the annual meeting Tuesday when an application was received from a Verdun sponsor. Officials said they would admit the team providing a sixth entry could be found to rebalance the league.

Anyone interested in entering is asked to contact league president Jimmy Kerr, 5001 Grand Boulevard, at DE 0258.

St. Laurent All Stars Named, MacRae Places Four On First Squad

The St. Laurent Intermediate Hockey League wound matters up for the year Tuesday night, when league representatives gathered for the annual general meeting. Highlight of the evening was release of the loop's all star team.

The champion MacRae Electric squad made the best showing on the dream team, coming up with four first squad selections. Two Michaud Freres players tied for one position, while NDG Regents and Royal Pharmacy each contributed one representative.

On the second team Royal Pharmacy held the lion's share of laurels with six men selected. MacRae and Regents each picked up one additional place.

A complete MacRae defensive unit made the first team. Goalie Pete Brisebois and defenceman Ross Murray and Bob Painchaud all were chosen, with Murray a unanimous choice — the only one on the team.

Don Tinning completed the MacRae romp being picked as all star coach. Charlie Garneau of Regents nailed down the center slot, while Frank Read of Royal Pharmacy picked up the left wing berth. Michaud's Billy Quirk and Bob Sleeth tied at right wing.

There was a representative from Royal Pharmacy at every position on the second team but right wing, which was won by MacRae's Bud Selby. Roy Scurrah was posted in goals, with Walter David and Ewart Read on the blueline. Don Bussiere nailed down the center position, with Brian McCann at left wing.

Pharmacy coach Pat Patterson tied with Regents' Ray Tremblay as coach of the squad.

League leading scorer Charlie Garneau added to his laurels, being selected as most valuable player by one point over the Druggists' Don Bussiere. It was also announced that Garneau had ended up as playoff point leader, with nine points on five goals and four assists.

Jim Campbell of Regents ended second in the playoff scoring, with three of each for six points. He ended up right behind Bussiere in the all star votivity.

Michaud's Bob Sleeth was named most gentlemanly player, with Bussiere runner up again by one point.

Jerry Kerr was elected president of the league, succeeding Jimmy Slater. Other officers elected were Pat Patterson, vice president; Jim Kerr, treasurer, Cliff Farnworth, secretary; and Pat Lomasney, director.

It was announced that an application had been received for next year from Lachance Hardware of Verdun. League officials said they would accept the entry if a sixth team could be found by the time the fall meeting rolls along.

They said if six teams made up the league next year, an extra night of hockey would be planned each week. In all likelihood this would be Wednesday at Loyola. The loop plays all its games now Saturdays at St. Laurent Arena.

First Team

Goal: Brisebois, MacRae (6); defence: Murray, MacRae (8) and Painchaud, MacRae (7); center: Garneau, Regents (7); left wing: Read, Royal Pharmacy (5); right wing: Quirk, Michaud, and Sleeth, Michaud, tied (4); coach: Tinning, MacRae (5).

Second Team

Goal: Scurrah, Royal Pharmacy (4); defence: David, Royal Pharmacy (3) and Read, Royal Pharmacy (3); center: Bussiere, Royal Pharmacy (5); left wing: McCann, Royal Pharmacy (4); right wing: Selby, MacRae (4); coach: Tremblay, Regents, and Patterson, Royal Pharmacy, tied

Many Local Entries Given In Kennel Club Dog Show

A large westend representation is included in the list of entries in the Ladies Kennel Club of Canada championship dog show and obedience trials this Sunday.

Miss Winifred Steggall, president of the group, told The Monitor this week that well over 400 entries had been received, covering Eastern Canada and the United States. Included among

Locals Are Among Those Honored At MSBC Dinner

Two westend athletes—members of the Montreal Badminton and Squash Club—were honored among many other club members at the annual dinner and prize giving last Friday.

John Smith Chapman, 17, and Harold Moody, 16, were the two locals who came in for the bulk of honors, with Chapman especially shining.

A squash raquets player for only two years, he won four of the five single championships at the club this past year. He missed out on the club title when John Foy came from behind to win.

In addition, he picked up the Canadian intercollegiate crown, playing for McGill, Province of Quebec junior crown, and in the Canadian championship was forced to withdraw due to an injury.

Harold Moody successfully defended his Canadian Junior title and is rated a contender for senior honors in the near future.

Club president Orby R. Drummell presided at the dinner and pointed out the club had enjoyed a record season of activity in the two games it sponsors and that its program to develop junior players had had encouraging results.

Herschorn Renamed Life Saving Head At Annual Meeting

H. E. Herschorn, 5618 Notre Dame de Grace avenue, was unanimously reelected president of the Canadian Council of the Royal Life Saving Society at the annual meeting last Saturday, at the MAAA.

Other officers elected include Jackson Dodds, Montreal, honorary president; M. G. Griffiths, Toronto, vice president; S. E. Waldon, Edmonton, Roy Ashworth, Toronto, George A. Burrows, Vancouver, R. B. McIntosh, Manitoba, and Mrs. Peggy Seller, Lakeside, secretary.

The session dealt mainly with the problem of awards to those who passed the RLSS tests. It was noted that gradually the organization is reaching a stage where it can issue its own certificates, medallion alternatives, and handle such other life saving business directly concerns Canadians.

In the past, the certificates have been issued by the parent body in London, England. The Canadian Council operates under a license issued them back in 1947 by the Royal Life Saving Society.

The meeting showed a strong desire for more independence in running the affairs of Canadian life saving, but at the same time showing a desire to maintain the affiliation and helpful guidance of the RLSS in England.

this, she added, would be many local residents.

The 34th anniversary of the show and trials is slated for the Hussar's Armoury from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Judging will go on all day, with three American judges on hand. They are Louis Warden, Jersey City, N.J., Hans Oberman, New York City, and Ed Pickhardt, New Milford, Conn.

Eliminations will go on all day, with the best in the show being chosen about 10 p.m.

A new feature this year will be a costume parade of owners, who will dress to represent the individual background of their dogs. Mrs. Doreen Day, fashion consultant for Eaton's, will judge this contest.

The obedience trials will start about 10 a.m. with Kenneth Naurner, Glenwood Landing, N.Y., as judge. Some 30 entries have been received.

Miss Steggall said a large group would be arriving from Ontario, and another sizeable aggregation from Vermont. A feature will be some Bazenjis—a breed that originated in the Congo — from Massachusetts.

Burke Bantam Book Uses 'Natural' Golf

A new simple and easy way to improve your golf game is the subject of a recent addition to the pocket novel field, that may prove of interest to local residents.

It's a 25 cent Bantam Book titled The Natural Way To Better Golf, and written by Jack Burke, one of the hottest young professionals in the game. Authorities say the book can help both beginners and champs.

The book tells the natural way to master the five key shots of the game—drive, full iron, pitch, chip and putt. Both accuracy and distance can be bettered by using this natural method, Burke says.

The author is one of the world's top-ranking professional golfers. Only 31, he already holds many course records and for the past three years has been among the ten top money winners.

Commenting on the book, Byron Nelson, all-time competing money winner, has this to say: "Jack Burke puts golf on a common-sense basis. His book reads the way a golf pro talks . . . what's more, he doesn't teach you how to hit the ball and then leave you stranded on the lesson tee. He steers you around the course showing you what clubs to use and what shots to play."

Minor Softball Entries Listed

The first entries in westend intermediate and softball leagues this summer were named last night, at an organizational meeting held at NDG park.

District monitor Roger Bastien reported that Trenholme, MacRae Electric and RCMP would definitely be in the intermediate loop, with Dow, St. Augustine's and Royal Bank listed as possibles. Columbus did not have a representative, but had previously signified intentions of entering a team.

Trenholme, St. Augustine's and Columbus were entries in the junior loop, with Oxford and Bnai Brith not having representatives but highly probable.

Leagues will start about May 17, and final date to enter clubs is May 10. Anyone interested should contact Bastien at PI 6111, local 162 or at DE 2279.
