Blind Pianist Supplies Music For Troops' Party

Edgar Assells Outstanding in Art Crawford's Band At 'Y' Affair

Art Crawford and his band, a group of talented colored musicians, supplied the music for the regular Saturday night Westmount Y servicemen's party last Saturday. The parties celebrated their fourth anniversary on the previous Saturday. This was the first time that an orchestra had been in view of the dancers for many months. They usually dance to music supplied by records.

The man who received the most applause of the evening was the band's pianist, Edgar Assells. Edgar is blind but, as one admiring soldier said, "He sure can play that piano!"

More than 400 servicemen and girls attended the party. Refreshments were served in the Y's upper rooms.

Last Friday night badminton club had their weekly get-together in the Y's gym followed by refreshments a la candelight.

Terry Van Patten Is Named To Lead Listening Group

Program Organized in Connection With Broadcast "Of Things to Come"

Terry Van Patten, a student in the Army University course, has been appointed leader of the Y.M.C.A. Discussion and Listening Group in conjunction with the C.B.C. broadcasts — "Of Things to Come." This is part of the plan of the Canadian Adult Education Association to bring about a forum of public affairs comparable to the Farm Forum which has been such an outstanding success in our country during the past three years.

These citizen listening groups and discussion forums may be centered around the "Y" discussion group which is being held by Ewan Cameron. Such matters as: housing, employment, minorities, health, education, recreation, international relations, tariffs, labor unions and other vitally important subjects will be dealt with.

The listening group will get under way next Tuesday. According to original plans the project was to be launched on Tuesday of this week in a special broadcast over a national network on the topic "Can World Understanding Come Through Education?" planned in connection with the observance of Canada's ninth annual Educational Week.

Men from No. 1 Wireless School will join the listening group on Tuesday.

One of the features of the program will be studies of the reactions of the listeners to the programs and ideas sketched in the broadcast. The listeners' comments will be compiled with an eye to making some reference to them in later broadcasts of the series.

Westmount Girl Injured By Auto Going To McGill

Miss Alice Kennedy, 20-year-old McGill University student, residing at 4342 Westmount avenue, was seriously injured when knocked down by an automobile after alighting from an autobus at Milton and University streets at 11:05 a.m. on Monday.

The police of No. 10 station reported that Miss Kennedy was walking across the intersection towards the side entrance of McGill grounds, when suddenly she was hit by an auto driven by Arthur Cuthler, of 110 St. Joseph street, Dorval. The victim was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital and later removed to the Montreal Neurological Institute for examination.

Hi-Y. Heads Seek Security In Outlining World Future

Young People Have Very Definite Ideas of Kind of Society They Hope to Inherit

Canadian youth has its own blueprint of the post-war world. While politicians and philosophers, business men and idealists, writers and planners and advocates of no plan at all are busy setting down their proposals, the rising generation is not backward in making known its opinion of the new world it is to inherit some day.

The Y.M.C.A. of Montreal district which is now engaged in its annual campaign—$130,000 this year—to help to prepare youth for the world to come, arranged for a series of interviews with the boy and girl presidents of the Hi-Y clubs.

These clubs, with a membership of some 3,000 in 110 groups all over Canada, are Y.M.C.A. sponsored organizations within the high schools and are designed to provide cultural and social background for Canadian high school life. Principal aims are: service to others, personal growth and character development of its members. Through discussion groups which cover civics and

Making Of A People Is Topic Of Remembrance Day Sermon

Few Possessions Superior to Goodly Heritage, States Rev. G. W. Goth in Westmount Church

A sermon, entitled "The Making of a People," was delivered by Rev. George W. Goth, of Westmount Park Church, last Sunday. Following is a partial text:

"The man who has lost his past is a tragic figure. Other men use their memories as bricks with which to build their house of hope. They can look forward because they can look backward. The man who has lost his past wanders about, a vague and pathetic shadow, scarcely even a person. Because he has no memories, he has no secure hopes. His childhood is a blank. He cannot remember his parents. His boyhood is forgotten. His early manhood is beyond recovery. He has lost the stuff of which life is made. He does not even know his own name.

"If the man who has lost his past is the veritable visible essence of failure, the age which has lost its past represents an even darker tragedy. For an age is made of millions of interlacing memories. History is simply memory made articulate and the meaning of any age is found in the fashion in which it takes the materials of the past and weaves them into the life of the present. An idiotic age is an even more startling portent than an idiotic person. It has no memories of the childhood of the race; it has forgotten the youth of civilization. It has lost the sense of the early maturity of the mind of man. Forgetting the tale of man's moral struggle and moral victory, it loses the meaning of conscience itself. All the meanings magnificently won from centuries of experience are beyond its reach. The age does not know its own name. It has lost its humanity."

"Remembrance In Past Achievements"

We have been suffering from an overdose of forgetfulness. No nation can move towards its destiny if its people are unmindful of the power of a great tradition. Ernest Renan once said: "That which causes men to form a people is not only the recollection of great things they have done together but the longing and the will to do new things." Certainly, the making of a people has a great deal to do with the remembrance of great things they have done together. The glory of a nation has gone when its people cease to be thrilled and haunted by the glory of yesterday's achievements. For three hundred years after the battle of Thermopylae the boys and girls of Greece repeated with pride the names of the men who fell there. When they ceased to remember their heroic past the flag of their nation was numbered (See MAKING on Page 3)

CHURCHILL'S "V" FOR VICTORY SIGN IS HAPPILY EXPRESSED BY BABY FINGERS

Monday evening at Macy's Drug Store, a most adorable three-year-old was taking dinner at one of the tables with her mummy and daddy, and when admiring eyes of the dinner clientele would wander over in her direction she would cutely raise her tiny little hand and make Prime Minister Churchill's salute of "V" for Victory.

A most happy and promising gesture for so young a recruit of the "Youth Movement."

Claremont Barracks Head Praises Service to Troops

High praise for the services rendered and the facilities provided by the Westmount branch of the Y.M.C.A. to the young soldiers—averaging 17 and 18 years of age—now stationed at Claremont Barracks was expressed by Captain M. A. Ross in command of the barracks.

On learning that the Y.M.C.A. had launched its annual campaign, Captain Ross inquired if he could be of any assistance and suggested that if any kind of public demonstration were contemplated he would be glad to furnish a contingent for parade.

"The Y.M.C.A. in Westmount has been a hospitality centre for the men here," said Captain Ross. "It has been a home from home. There are few evenings indeed that have not found men from the barracks in workouts or at play or entertainments of some kind or other in the Y.M.C.A."

"The Y has been thrown open to us for what we call our swim parades. We have a basketball team in the Y.M.C.A. house league. In every way it has been a handy adjunct to us in our military training schedules. Much of the instruction imparted here calls for sedentary study or listening to lectures. The boys need an outlet for bodily exercise to keep in condition. The Y.M.C.A. has filled that need to perfection.

"One unusual service the Westmount Y.M.C.A. has performed has been in its dancing classes. We have at the barracks here scores of young men who are strangers to the city, many of them never being far away from home before. They have had many opportunities for social life since coming here. Those who could not dance found themselves deprived of many chances of innocent enjoyment. For men like that, the dancing classes inaugurated by the Y.M.C.A. right in the barracks were and are a decided boon.

"It is possible that these classes have made history. So far as I know there has never before been any instance of an outside organization coming right into a barracks to give instruction in dancing to non-dancers. Anyone among the men who can dance is eligible to join. The instructors are young ladies from the Y.M.C.A. assigned to the task by the hostess committee of the Y, chaperoned by senior members of the committee. It may well be imagined that the girls have undertaken a real task. The Y has been our recreation room and club and we certainly appreciate it."

Boys Display Interest In Post-War World

Ask Many Questions As B. W. Keightley Speaks to Hi-Y Club

Expressing the belief that post-war opportunities in Canada will be as good, and quite possibly better than those in the United States, because Canada's development is only beginning and the U. S. A. had reached its geographical limits, B. W. Keightley, national chairman of the post-war study committee, addressed a group of teen age boys at a meeting of the Hi-Y Club held in Westmount Y.M.C.A. last Thursday evening.

Mr. Keightley outlined in considerable detail the reasons why Canada should enjoy a happy and busy post-war era, and when he concluded he was thoroughly questioned from the floor about the comparative chances of post-war development in Canada and the United States. Serious concern was expressed by young members of the audience lest educated and well trained Canadians should seek better opportunities south of the border. Mr. Keightley, however, expressed the belief that the post-war opportunities in Canada will be as good, and quite possibly better than those in the United States. The U.S., he said, has reached its

F.O. KENWOOD IS REMOVED TO NEW CAMP

Westmount Flier, in Hands of Huns, Prizes Gift of Saxophone

Flying Officer Frank Kenwood has been transferred from the prison camp in Germany in which he had been interned on being brought to the Reich after being captured by the Nazis in the Middle East on September 26, 1942. He is now at Camp Stalag VIIIB.

With him he took a present of a saxophone which he received through the ministrations of Tracy Strong of the World Service Committee of the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Strong's office is in Geneva, Switzerland. Mr. Strong's attention was directed, while he was in New York, to young Kenwood's case by the Westmount Y.M.C.A. in which Frank was a member of the young leader's corps. Mr. Strong called his Geneva office and an official contacted Frank Kenwood. The latter confided his desire for a sax to while away some of his enforced leisure hours. The Y man made the purchase and sent the instrument to the prison camp.

In a recent letter to his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kenwood of Elm Avenue, Frank refers to the gift and expresses his gratitude to the Y representative. He asks all his friends to write to him.

A graduate of Westmount High School, Frank Kenwood joined the R.C.A.F. in September 1940, when he was 18 years of age. He trained at Brandon, Regina, and Fort William receiving his wings at Upplands near Ottawa, as a sergeant pilot. He went overseas in March 1941 and remained in England (Ill February 1942. He was married to an English girl on January 3, 1942. He saw service in Egypt and the Middle East flying sometimes in a Spitfire, at other times a heavy bomber, until he fell into the clutches of the Huns. He is much happier in his present abode, which is a much smaller camp than the one in which he was formerly interned.

Dickens Society To Hear Address By Austin Cross

Journalist to Talk on Novelist's Famous Visit to America

"Dickens in America" will be the title of the address to be given at the Dickens Fellowship in Victoria Hall, Westmount, on Tuesday evening by Austin Cross, author and journalist. Dickens before becoming famous as a novelist was one of London's smartest reporters, and it should be interesting to hear him and his methods described by one of Canada's leading newspapermen.

Musical numbers will be given by Sheila Arnold, soprano, with Phyllis Rowell at the piano.

The evening will be rounded off with the dramatic sketch, "Barkis is Willin'", adapted by Andrew Paterson from "David Copperfield", and based on one of the most humorous and most quoted incidents in the novel. Edward Wilson will appear as Barkis; Mrs. Basil Dunn will impersonate Peggotty; Ian Williamson, the clever juvenile actor, will be Little David Copperfield; and David's invalid mother will be played by Irene Mann.

Fred N. Stephen, president, will be in the chair.

DR. ROSS TO SPEAK

Dr. H. S. Ross, editor of the Forum in this paper, will give an address on "Some Post-Victory Plans" tonight at 6:30 to the Kinsmen Club of Montreal in the M.A.A.A. premises on Peel Street.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1943

QUEBEC AT THE CROSSROADS

AS VICTORY approaches, the gigantic contribution of Canada to the war effort of the United Nations is receiving just recognition. In the glory that is rightly Canada's, all provinces can share. In no province will there be greater satisfaction than in Quebec.

Four years ago, when Hitler launched his campaign to dominate the entire world, the Province of Quebec stood at the crossroads. A group of narrow-minded men, preaching prejudice and isolationism, appealed to the people to elect a government whose sworn policy was to set a fence around the Province. On the other hand, the Hon. Adolphe Godbout and his supporters, fully appreciating the delicacy as well as the gravity of the situation, appealed to the Quebecois to hold their pre-eminent status inside the Dominion.

Once more the sound logic, the unerring foresight of the voters of Quebec predominated. The Godbout Government took power and, in doing so, assumed the severe task of guiding the Province safely along a road rendered perilous because of the extremism and abuses to which Tories had committed themselves in the war of 1914-1918.

When the events of these four terrible years have receded sufficiently for men everywhere to attain the right perspective, it will be evident that the people of Quebec chose rightly in 1939, and that the Government they then chose proved itself worthy of the people's confidence.

Behind the cloak of so-called patriotism, some politicians hope to conceal the fact that they put party and power before country. These four years have not been the exception. Ever since Premier Godbout took the helm, he has been harassed and assailed by professional politicians with nothing constructive to offer, whose policy is uniquely one of destruction. The proud record and status of the Province of Quebec; the urgent need for preserving to Quebec its true role in Dominion affairs; the inescapable fact that Quebec will be called upon to play an even more preponderant role in the reconstruction of Peace—all that has meant nothing. The primary object has been to foment trouble; the ultimate object to try to discredit the Godbout Government. Notably, those efforts have failed.

The Province of Quebec will emerge from this war greater in stature; higher in the regard of her sister provinces; fit to assume the heavier tasks of Peace—tasks which will mean employment, purchasing power and a constant measure of solid comfort. For that, the Province of Quebec in no small way will thank Premier Godbout and his Government. Despite the wreckers, they have helped the people of Quebec to add lustre to the name of this Province.

SUPPORT THE "Y" DRIVE

THE current appeal of the Y.M.C.A. for $130,000 will meet with a generous response from local residents, for nearly all of the money is earmarked for patriotic purposes. This sum, relatively modest for a metropolitan area like Greater Montreal, represents only 18 per cent. of the total Y.M.C.A. budget for this district. The other 82 per cent. of "Y" activities are self-supporting.

Especially worthy of note, and especially provocative of wide public support, is the fact that this $130,000 includes the cost of extending free facilities to men of the armed services in the regular "Y" branches. Camp establishments, Red Triangles and other special services are paid for by special Government appropriation, but the hospitality extended to soldiers, sailors and airmen by the regular branches, is not. In some cases, entertaining and assisting servicemen constitutes as much as half a branch's work.

It need hardly be said, therefore, that this campaign, which extends until November 25, deserves everybody's help.

ONE YEAR AGO

WHEN we survey the progress the arms of the United Nations have made in the past twelve months, we can be pardoned if we express some optimism on the subject of the end of the war in Europe. A short twelve months ago, the Germans were at Stalingrad, and although the Russians were resisting valiantly, few believed they had reserves and the arms necessary to strike back. The Germans were also deep in the Caucasus, and Rommel was at the gates of Egypt. True, the Germans were running behind their time-table, but they were confident that it was just a matter of time until their army of the Caucasus would join up with Rommel's Afrika Corps somewhere east of Suez. What a different picture today! Rommel out of Africa entirely, retreating up the Italian peninsula; the Russians fast approaching the Polish border, with the Germans in full retreat before them and the rigours of the eastern European winter still to come! And in the west the steady destruction of German cities by the great Allied bombing offensive. What have the Germans and their satellites left to anticipate? Even in the darkest days, we knew that if Britain held, if Russia held, and if China held, we would eventually win, for our strength was increasing. But time is the enemy, not the friend, of our enemies. As the sands slowly run out, so is dissipated all chance that they can win. We should be careful, however, not to let the amazing changes of the past twelve months increase our confidence to the point where we let up. There is still enough strength left in the war machines of Germany and Japan to give us some extremely nasty surprises if we let down our guard.

Berlin would like to think the decisions taken at Moscow are of small consequence. But how the Germans would have gloated had there been at Moscow the least sign of serious disagreement!

Letters to the Editor

EXPLOSION ON HINGSTON

To the Editor,

Your readers will be interested in the following "story" behind the news. It has to do with the explosion which occurred on Wednesday at 3490 Hingston Avenue.

Two boys, from Lower Canada College, were on their way to school after lunch, when suddenly, passing 3490 Hingston Avenue, "seemed to explode right in our faces", as one of the boys put it. Instead of dashing away to safety as many people would, without a moment's hesitation, one boy ran to a nearby alarm box, and the other dived through the already-broken dining-room window. He was met by flames and almost overpowered by gas fumes, but crawled along the floor into the kitchen. Sizing up the situation at a glance, he turned off the gas stove then attended the girl lying unconscious on the floor—her hair ablaze and her clothes alight. He smothered the flames with a towel then stripped the burning clothes partly off.

In the meantime, the other boy dashed in and pulled down the blazing curtains and drapes, put them out, then the carpets, etcetera, and within a few minutes, had the fire pretty well under control, so that when the firemen arrived, they were quickly able to check it. As soon as the boys saw that everything was under control, and the girl's parents had arrived at the house, they wandered along, nonchalantly to school.

Had these boys stopped to think for a few seconds, instead of acting so promptly, with complete disregard for their own safety, the poor girl would undoubtedly have been burned to death and the house would probably have burned down. As it is, the girl is in a critical condition at the hospital.

These two boys risked their lives and while they do not know that I am writing this letter, I think their act deserves recognition. They insist that their names be not publicized. I have notified the parents of the girl and they have promised not to divulge their names.

I think your readers will agree that the actions of these boys was very praiseworthy and deserving of great commendation. This is the reason I am writing this letter. I vouch for the reliability of the above story, knowing the two boys well, and shall be glad to give their names to any bonafide inquirer.

Our sympathy goes to the parents of this unfortunate girl. We hope she will recover.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Rough calculations concerning the cost of the war given by an American economist, Dr. Leon S. Wellstone, were recently summarized by the Winnipeg Free Press as follows:

The equivalent of the money spent in ridding the world of Hitler, including all the war damage, would buy every family in this world a $5,000 home. It would provide a four-year college education for 500,000,000 young men and women. It would build a million dollar hospital for every community of 2,000 or more people the world over. It would pay for the common school education of 400,000,000 children for 25 years. It would build 25,000,000 miles of four-lane cement highways.

In any such calculations the margins for error must be very large; but if the estimates were to be discounted to the extent of fifty per cent, they would remain prophetic of what man may yet accomplish if he can free the world from the threat of war by removing its causes.

A friend suggests that at this important period in the history of our world we all need badly the fifth wheel of an automobile—the steering wheel.

President Roosevelt defined the third of the now famous four freedoms as: "Freedom from want, which translated into world terms, means economic understandings which will secure to every nation a healthy peacetime life for its inhabitants." Unfortunately a nation may yet accomplish if he can free the world from the threat of war by removing its causes.

A generally well informed United States Journal stated recently "causes for misunderstanding and division between Russia and the Western Allies are multiplying. To name only a few (and these entirely in the Political field, without reference to any ideological difficulties), it is clear that Stalin does not see eye to eye with Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt on at least these matters: (1) The treatment of a defeated Germany, Mr. Churchill is still insistent to Parliament last week that Germany must be dealt with on a punitive basis different from that applied to any other nation; Stalin emphasizes the hopeful future open to Germany once it has got rid of Hitler and his gang. (2) The Russian demands for annexations along the western frontiers of the U.S.S.R. (3) The restoration of Balkan monarchies, promised by Mr. Churchill in his Quebec speech. (4) The support of King Victor Emmanuel and Marshal Badoglio in Italy, called for by Mr. Churchill in his speech of September 21. (5) The treatment of the French Committee of National Liberation, now granted full recognition and diplomatic status by the United States and Great Britain. (6) The restoration of European empires in the Far East—a subject on which both Russia and the Anglo-Americans so far have maintained official silence but concerning which there is likely to be a greater divergence of views than ever any other. Nevertheless, we must all hope that the conference will be held, and that it may help to clear the air."

"The education of the educated is notoriously difficult. Few humans are as averse to facing reality as a college professor. He has been protected, perhaps pampered. He has enjoyed security of tenure to a degree unknown in any other walk of American life. When that security suddenly vanished because of a vanishing student body, he became a normal but confused human being. Both feet planted firmly on a cloud, he reviewed his plight in endless committee meetings, illustrating vividly the old saying that when three are gathered together in the name of education there are always four distinct opinions."—G. H. Estabrooks, Professor of Psychology, Colgate University.

Rev. A. J. MacQueen, B.A., B.D., minister of Centenary-Queens Square United Church, Saint John, N.B., speaking as the guest preacher in St. Andrew's United Church, Sydney, N.S., said in part:

We need men of magnanimity. The hope of our world, not only in personal relations, but in that between nations, races and classes, lies in men and women of large souls. Fourthly, we need men of vision and purpose. Men who have a gleam and are determined to follow it. There is too great a lack of vision in our world today. There is too much of a backward look. Our only hope for a lasting peace and world prosperity and brotherliness lies with such men and women who would blaze new trails, open up new areas of living, pioneer into new continents of social relationships and lead us along new ways to a new order where democracy, freedom, equality, fraternity come to mean what God intended.

DIGNITY AND RIGHTS STRESSED BY BISHOP

"The most essential element in a sound society is a sound family," declared His Excellency, Bishop R. Brodeur, D.D., of Alexandria, speaking before the Xavier Apostolate Guild in Congress Hall on "The Contribution of Catholic Women in the Reconstruction of a Christian Society."

"This world of ours," he said, "is in a bad way. Our men are fighting on the battle front to win the victory and it is up to those on the home front to win the peace." Peace, he went on, was the result of order as opposed to disorganization, and happiness was the result of peace. It followed, therefore, we should strive for a lasting peace. The first step, according to the speaker, was to put God back into our lives and to follow His teachings in our daily conduct with our fellow men. We had put God aside and substituted our own code of morals. We had become too materialistic in our way of life and had forgotten the rule which says to love your neighbor as yourself. The dignity and the rights of the individual should be recognized, the Bishop said, and he should be treated as a human being with a soul and not just as a machine to be used when needed and then discarded.

He concluded by saying that many things had led to the disruption of our family life and that it was the duty of the mothers to re-establish a Christian spirit in the home and by her teaching and example to inculcate in her children the principles of justice and charity.

"For," he said, "the character of the family decides the character of the society."

The speaker was introduced by Rev. Edward Brown, S.J. and thanked by Mrs. F. O. Reynolds. Eleanor Chartrand sang, accompanied by Mrs. Stephen McGivern. The Right Rev. Monsignor McShane spoke briefly. Mrs. J. A. Clement presided.

Mrs. E. Franklin was announced as the winner of the silver fox scarf donated by J. V. Quinn, furrier, and Mrs. A. Ricciardi of the Afghan donated by Mrs. F. Whalley.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Organs

Addresses Westmount
Club

The great range of the pipe organ as compared with the different instruments of a symphony orchestra was discussed last week by Dr. John Cashin at a luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club held in Victoria Hall.

During his address in which he urged that young musicians should turn to the organ as a musical outlet, he demonstrated on the Victoria Hall organ the various notes obtained from strings, flutes and percussion instruments.

He traced the development of organ music from earliest times and pointed out that it offered an infinite number of compositions, being complete and all inclusive. He also played Johann Sebastian Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D minor, closing his address with a rendition of Schubert's immortal Ave Maria.

Dr. Cashin was introduced by Dr. George Little and thanked by Dr. Frank McNaughton. The president of the Westmount Rotary Club, C. W. McBride, presided at the luncheon.

At present an interne at the Montreal General Hospital, Dr. Cashin was born in Adams, Mass., and studied music at Williams College, Williamstown. He obtained his A.B. from Holy Cross College, Worcester, and his medical degree from McGill University last February. A lieutenant junior grade in the American navy, Dr. Cashin is to leave shortly for the Mayo Foundation in Rochester, Minnesota.

BUILDERS OF TOMORROW

Do you remember that boy you passed this morning? He was on his way to school—clean-cut and fresh, but rather cocky as becomes a boy of 16. He was laying down the law to the fellows with him in no uncertain way.

DID it ever occur to you, with all our talk on post-war planning, that it will be that boy and his friends who will decide the kind of place Canada will be after the war?

Far-fetched? Well, if he were three years older he'd probably be piloting a bomber over Germany tonight, the fate of six or nine men in his hands not to mention half a million dollars of equipment. We'd listen with respect to anything he said after experiences like that—and those youth will have plenty to say about post-war Canada. Surprising how quickly they grow up.

That Boy, this morning... supposing he turned out to be a labour leader... an employer or a government official... would he be a builder and leader you'd be glad and proud to see carry on where you leave off?

It all depends on what you do for youth today. If you leave them to their own devices without facilities for training or without guidance and proper leadership, there is no saying, but they may become juvenile delinquents, void of character, principles, morals and faith. As they could destroy themselves, so could they destroy Canada.

This vital sphere of youth training is where the Y.M.C.A. has chosen to serve. Through its many sided programmes of activities it effectively co-operates with the church, the school and the home in helping youth to find answers to the problems of today—in providing facilities for the development of healthy minds in healthy bodies through organized games, sports, hobbies, camps, discussion groups, educational and inspirational meetings.

At the 'Y' youth finds the facilities they need for the profitable use of leisure time. Here they are trained in leadership and experience the sobering influence of responsibility. The 'Y' Secretary is their confident and friend—the type of man who understands youth and to whom they instinctively and confidently turn for advice and guidance.

Nor are these services confined to teen-aged boys, but extended to youth of all ages in schools, colleges, war industries, etc., while men of the armed forces stationed in this district or on leave use the building facilities, pools, gymnasium, games and social rooms of the Montreal Y.M.C.A. without charge.

Be glad there's a Montreal Y.M.C.A. — Be sure there always is.

OBJECTIVE $130,000.00

"What's holding you back brother?"

THE fellows who are in there pitching at the Axis didn't need any formal invitation to race into this scrap... and they're beginning to wonder what happened to you. Those fellows are in the thick of things... smooth-working teams of fighters... each man doing his part.

Besides real he-man action and adventure, you'll get skilled technical training and experience that employers will rate highly after the war.

If you really want to pull your fair share, and if you're fit, there's not a thing in the world to hold you back. You can go aircrew today. You can win your wings in a few short months under the guidance of veteran airmen. What about it, brother?

WEDDINGS

RITCHIE-WATERSTON
 The marriage of Joan Charlotte, daughter of the late Edward James, Waterston, and of Mrs. Waterston, to Second Lieut. Ross Alfred Ritchie, R.C.O.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Charles Ritchie, of Chateaugay Heights, Que., took place on Saturday evening at St. Matthias Church. The eight o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver.

Miss Dorothy Koch was maid of honor and Miss Patricia Waterston, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Arthur Leuwinn Dempster, of Noranda, Que., while the ushers were Mr. Gerald Hatch, Mr. Douglas Waterston, brother of the bride, and AC2 Otto Cley.

Mr. J. P. Pratt, of Toronto, gave his goddaughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white tulle, the skirt extending into a short train. Her veil of tulle was held in place by a tiara of shirred lace and she wore a pearl pendant which was worn by the bridegroom's mother on her wedding day.

The two attendants were dressed alike in frocks of apple green tulle.

The reception after the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's mother, 435 Metcalfe avenue.

WELDON-BROWN
 The marriage of Allison Hamilton, daughter of the late Frederick Baylis Brown and of Mrs. Brown, to Lieut. Richard Dale Weldon, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mr. Joseph Weldon, K.C., and of Mrs. Weldon, took place last Friday in Montreal West United Church, the Rev. A. S. Ross, D.D., officiating. White chrysanthemums were used in decoration.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. F. William L. Brown, was attended by her sister, Mrs. John A. MacLennan, of Windsor. Capt. Arthur Weldon, C.I.T.C., Farnham, was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Colin Anderson and Flight Lieut. John Schwab, R.C. A.F.

The bride's gown was of Breakwater blue crepe and her shoulder length veil of matching color was caught by clusters of the orange blossoms which had been worn by her grandmother at her wedding. Her bouquet was composed of Briarcliffe roses and bouvardia and she wore two heirloom bracelets, the gift of an aunt. Her only attendant also wore Breakwater blue crepe with hat of raspberry chenille and bouquet of chrysanthemums in raspberry and blue tones.

The bridal reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 4940 Grosvenor avenue. Later Lieut. and Mrs. Weldon left for the Seignior Club, the bride travelling in a brown wool suit, having collar and cuffs of white lamb, and wearing a brown felt hat and a camel hair coat.

Bantam Rugby League Champions Are Red Wings

Andy Blair's Red Wings are the newly crowned champions of the bantam section in the Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League, the Red Wings copped the title when they outscored the Greyhounds 11-5 in a two game total points to count series. The champions really won the title in the first game of the series when they walked off with a 6-0 victory. The second game, played on Saturday morning, ended in a 5-5 tie.

The win of the Red Wings was a distinct upset as the Greyhounds had carried everything before them throughout the schedule, having won seven games and tied the other. In the two league games between the teams, the Greyhounds had won the first till 7-0 while the other ended in a 5-5 tie.

Both games of the final play-off series were closely fought with play going from one end of the field to the other. The Red Wings took a one point lead in the first half of the initial tilt, when Ted Tilden kicked a rouge from about twenty yards out. The Red Wings held on to this single point lead until halfway through the last half when they put on a deep drive that brought them to the Greyhounds' ten yard line. Andy Blair then tossed a forward to Dave Crombie for a major score. The convert was unsuccessful so that the Red Wings had a 6-0 lead. There was no further score in the game.

The second game of the series was played on Saturday morning, with the field covered with snow. This slippery covering did not suit the fast running Greyhounds, particularly their star, Cammie McFadden.

The Red Wings struck pay dirt almost immediately, after kicking off to the Greyhounds, Allen Bishop intercepted a Greyhound lateral on the first play of the game and galloped over the goal line from thirty yards out. The touchdown was not converted but it gave the Red Wings a 5-0 lead in the game and an 11-0 lead on the series.

The Greyhounds threatened time after time only to see the winners turn back every thrust they made. Finally just after the last half started, Cammie McFadden got free on one of his twisting runs and travelled some forty yards for a touchdown. The convert was blocked so that the score was tied at 5-5 in the game but the Red Wings still held an 11 to 5 advantage on the round.

The Greyhounds tried hard from this point on but with one exception when they got away for a long run, but unfortunately it was called back due to someone stepping out of bounds en route. The Red Wings were full value for their win with Andy Blair, Ted Tilden, Allen Bishop, Dave Crombie and Dennis Skinner playing very effectively. The Red Wings were presented with their championship crests immediately after the game.

In the semi-final series the Red Wings and Greyhounds won their way into the final round by identical scores in two sudden death games. The Greyhounds beat the Dragons 16-0 while the Red Wings took the Rinkydinks into camp by a like score.

Cammie McFadden, Dave Rosenvig and Don Wadsworth all got touchdowns for the Greyhounds in their game with the Dragons, while McFadden added the extra point via a drop-kick on a convert.

In the Red Wings-Rinkydinks game, the winners scored all sixteen points in the latter half of the tilt with Dennis Skinner, Keith Laidley and Ted Tilden accounting for them all.

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

By BILLY HAROLD

From all indications a record crowd is expected to attend the Football Social Friday evening in the Oak Room of Victoria Hall, which is held annually, win, lose or draw, for the purpose of closing the season in big league style. A part of the evening is put aside to remember St. Leo's old boys now on active service. I will now draw your attention to one whose name and spirit has become a tradition to our school.

In the final game of the 1939 Senior Football schedule, St. Leo's engaged Loyola before an overflowing crowd of enthusiastic football fan. Who won the score is unimportant now, but the following thought, if you will permit me to turn back the pages of time a few years, will probably add a precious jewel to your golden chest of memories. Out there on the wind swept gridiron on this particular Sunday afternoon, was a diminutive speedy halfback in a green number 1 sweater, playing his farewell game for his school he was so devoted to. Time and again, throughout the afternoon, his spectacular playing drew thunderous ovations from the vast throng. It was one of the Academy prides streaking like a greyhound around the end and into the open and with as deft a pair of hand as ever graced school football, snaring another of Johnnie O'Connell's well timed passes. Now no more, sad to say, will number 1 St. Leo's be seen again on the football field, as his number will be dedicated on Friday evening and withdrawn from competition in memory of this gallant little athlete who wore it with such honor and distinction. He is now believed dead, as the result of operations overseas, and although we do not know where he is, we are sure the presence of his enduring spirit will always be within the four walls of this proud little school nestled near the foothills of Westmount. His name, if you have not already known, is Sergeant-Bombardier James Patrick O'Reilly, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. O'Reilly, of 356 Elm Ave.

Odds and Ends:
Athletic activities around the school are at a standstill just now, as the gang are awaiting, rather impatiently, the opening of the coming hockey campaign which should get underway very shortly with a few pre-season hockey practices at Lachine Arena. It is a little bit early to size up our prospects but the Bantams with Jimmy McCarthy, Bob Harwood, Dave Manning, Frank Cliff and Jack Martin, as holdovers from last year's nifty club, should form a nucleus of another strong team. The Senior B. group flush from their football success are keen on repeating in hockey, but this is not going to be an easy matter, as there remain a lot of weaknesses on the tentative line-up that will need polishing. Jack Shannon, Milton Orr, Bill Shannon and George Desabrais are expected to carry the brunt of the team's chances, and it is to be hoped a strong supporting cast will be garnered from the large number of prospective candidates. Loyola College plan to enter a strong Senior "B" team that will be heard from. The executive of the forthcoming football social have announced that, owing to increased expenses it will be impossible to provide free drinks with the lunch, but this comes as no surprise and it still leaves this social affair as the best buy of its kind among local high schools. Dr. Bussiere, chairman of the sports committee of the Parents Association, has announced progress has been made towards helping provide financial assistance for sports activities in the school, but so far, nothing definite has been done.

Municipal Hockey League To Hold Meeting Monday

The Westmount Municipal Hockey League will hold an organizational meeting on Monday evening November 22nd in the Victoria Hall. The meeting will get underway at eight o'clock and all those intending to enter teams in the juvenile, midget or bantam sections of the league are requested to attend. Each team is limited to two delegates.

It is quite possible that the midget section will be divided into two sections this year, an A and B section. This was done two years ago in the bantam section when one or two teams were too strong for the rest of the clubs. It is apparent this year that there are a lot of boys who have graduated from the bantam class but who are not good enough to make the better midget clubs, but if there were a class B section they would enter teams. All clubs of this nature are asked to attend the meeting.

The ages for the various groups are as follows, bantams 13 years and under; midget, 15 years and under; juvenile, 17 years and under. The deadline for all these dates is November 1st, that is if a boy is 14 years of age after November 1st, he is eligible to play in the bantam series; in like manner boys 16 years of age after November 1st are eligible for the midget series and boys 18 years of age after November 1st are eligible for the juvenile series.

Any teams or persons requiring information should get in touch with recreation supervisor Jim McCormick in the office at the greenhouse or by phoning him at Fitzroy 1929.

Midget Six Man Title At Stake

Fred DeJean's Orioles and George McLanders' Red Wings will battle it out for the championship of the midget section in the Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League, both these clubs won their sudden death games in the semi-final series of the playoffs.

The Orioles had very little trouble with the Hurricanes, taking a 34-0 decision while the Red Wings took their playoff game from the Royals by default.

The Orioles and Red Wings have been scheduled to play two or three times but the adverse weather has kept them apart so far. The final series between these two teams will be decided in one game as the weather is not too favourable to a longer affair.

Nearly all of the Orioles contributed to their share of the scoring in the game with the Hurricanes. Brendan Neeson was the top man with eleven points followed by Earle MacDonald with seven, and Ronnie Brambell and Malcolm Turner with five apiece.

Bessborough Chapter I.O.D.E. Presents Show

Canada's Victory Show, "Stand by for Victory," will be given in Victoria Hall on November 25 under the sponsorship of the Earl of Bessborough Chapter of the I.O.D.E.

The proceeds of the show will be devoted to the funds of the chapter.

A partial list of subscribers will be found on another page of this issue.

Recital Arranged For Next Sunday

The first of a series of Sunday night recitals will be held on Sunday at 8.45 in Westmount Baptist Church. The programme will include The Wilderness, by Goss, a male chorus, Hymn before Action, by Walford Davies, and a choral arrangement, Great is Jehovah, by Schubert. There will also be two organ solos. The recital will be under the direction of Hilbert Troop, organist of the church.

MISS SHAW REPORTS PUPILS PASS "Y" SWIMMING TESTS

Girls in the Monday and Friday gym classes are not only enjoying the exercises but are visibly benefitting from them, according to Miss Joanne Shaw, physical instructor for girls at the Y.M.C.A. Many of the girls reported that they went through all last winter without suffering from a single cold.

Pupils of Miss Lillian Hay, swimming instructor, have passed their elementary swimming tests. Test No. 1 consisted of recovering at chest height an object from the bottom of the tank by bobbing for it; bobbing 20 times rhythmically or gliding under water for 15 feet; demonstrating back flutter kick 20 feet (sculling permitted); standing plain front dive from edge of pool and swimming 40 yards with the elementary crawl. Those who have passed this test are the Misses J. Manning, M. Manning, M. Hogg, J. McLeod, B. Douglas, H. Yarnish, F. Good, E. Burns, T. McCarrick, J. Finne, J. Fooks, L. Scott and B. Hay.

No. 2 test consists of proper surface dive following push-off from side of tank in deep water; two-plunge of 25 feet in good form or scull on back for 60 feet head first; demonstrating back crawl 60 feet; standing plain front dive from diving board and swimming 100 yards any style. Those who passed No. 2 test are H. Yarnish, T. McCarrick, and L. Scott.

Local "Y" Pool Answers RAFTC Men's Need

The swimming pool and gymnasium of Westmount "Y" was turned over on Monday morning for the first time to the officers and men of the Royal Air Force Ferry Command and will be available to them for five mornings each week throughout the season. This need was provided by the board of management of the local branch in response to a request from the Royal Air Force Transport Command.

In addition to this, facilities are provided for exercise and recreation for other service men and industrial workers.

The house basketball league has four service men's teams, and informal dances are well attended here by the men in uniform each Saturday night.

War Workers Enjoy Exercise Facilities

War workers from plants in the vicinity of Westmount are enjoying gymnasium and swimming pool facilities at the local branch of the Y.M.C.A. during the supper hour on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays every week.

Another type of beneficiary of Y facilities are the men and boys from the Montreal Association for the Blind who also use the swimming pool and gymnasium regularly. Ion Fraser, popular Hi-Y leader, is in charge of this group.

Look at your mercies with both eyes; at your trials and troubles with only one.—Theodore Cuyler.

Saturday Evening Basketball Games Keenly Contested

Month-old Club Programs of Sport And Social Activities Prove Popular

A marshmallow roast and moonlight dip are two of the highlights of this coming Saturday evening's program at the local Y.M.C.A. The program will begin around the fireside at seven o'clock and after a ghost story which will be told by Ross Seaman the boys will toast their marshmallows. Following this there will be a moonlight dip in the swimming pool.

This club has proven to be very popular with the boys since its commencement four weeks ago. Several active programs have already been held and the committee under Ronald George have many more treats in store for the winter season. Sleigh rides, skiing and skating parties, and winter hikes are just a few of the activities that will take place as soon as the snow falls. At present the club has a membership of thirty boys and it is expected that there will be well over fifty taking part in this program by the Christmas season.

The club has been divided into two groups and Peter Swift and Ted Tobias have been chosen as captains. Peter Swift's team now

Y's What's

Classes in woodwork will begin at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday morning at 10.30. George Grey, instructor from Westmount schools, will be in charge.

In addition to the many other organizations of servicemen being given the use of Westmount Y.M.C.A. facilities, the Employment Company from the Westmount Athletic Grounds are now coming for basketball, gymnasium workouts and swimming. The Company has a team in the Y.M.C.A. Basketball League.

Men from the Royal Air Force Transport Command come every morning for exercise and swimming.

Not least in appreciation of Y facilities are the men from No. 1 Wireless School on Queen Mary Road. The Y.M.C.A. is a second home to them, according to John Walker, War Services Supervisor at the school.

Friday night parties for young people are growing in attendance and popularity. There were fully 120 at last Friday's party for high school boys and girls. It consisted of a social evening and dancing. Miss Joanne Shaw added the hostess touch. She was assisted by Betty Kelly. The committee in charge of this party was made up of Peter Kindersley, Murphy Chamberlain, Marilyn Reade and John Agnew.

At their own request young soldiers from Claremont Barracks now come at 7.30 a.m. for an early workout and swim.

J. W. Beaton, secretary of National War Services work of the Y.M.C.A., will be the speaker at the weekly supper meeting of the Hi-Y Boys' Club tonight. His subject had not been announced at the time of the Examiner going to press.

The Hi-Y Girls' Club met last night and had an enjoyable and profitable gathering.

The Basketball House League games were played according to schedule last night.

The Reasons for Substitutions

In normal times, the Quebec Liquor Commission carried a very wide variety of distilled liquors, wines and liqueurs. Some of these were of domestic origin and others were imported from countries in all parts of the world. In almost every instance these beverages represent important commercial commodities of the countries from which they come and are manufactured by numerous business houses in those countries.

It would, of course, be impossible under any circumstances to keep in stock goods produced by all these producers, but it was the policy of the Quebec Liquor Commission to have on hand for their patrons the wares of the better known houses and also of other houses which while not so popularly known had a clientele in this Province.

In order that the best products should be available to our people, purchasing offices were maintained by the Commission in London, England, and Paris, France, while to the offices of the Commission in Montreal and Quebec City came regularly representatives of producers from all parts.

Not only did the Commission carry this large assortment of alcoholic beverages, but it carried them in a variety of sizes ranging from ten ounce bottles of certain distilled spirits to gallon jars of domestic and certain imported wines.

The reason for this is obvious. It enabled the Commission's patrons to have a choice in respect to the kind of beverage desired, in respect to the producer of that beverage, and, within the limits imposed by the law, to the quantity. The smaller sizes were intended to avoid the necessity of a patron having to buy more than he wished or to spend more than he could afford.

It sometimes happened, however, that even when shipping and other facilities were functioning normally and there was no shortage of wares generally, the products of a particular manufacturer would be temporarily out of stock. When this occurred most patrons were content to take another brand of the article desired, and in the case of mail orders the Commission, unless otherwise instructed, substituted another brand of the same grade, a procedure which was invariably approved by the purchaser.

Such substitutions in those days were not of common occurrence and, being then only temporary, caused little inconvenience.

Since those pre-war days, however, great changes have taken place. It is absolutely impossible to get certain types of wines and cordials, while in regard to all other alcoholic beverages, uncertainties of transportation and restrictions on the quantities which the Commission may sell have created a difficult and serious situation.

Undoubtedly, under prevailing conditions, there is inconvenience and disappointment to many purchasers. It is no longer possible for a patron to be sure that he will obtain the article he has chosen from the Commission price-list. Obviously, however, this arises from causes beyond the control of the Commission.

The best that can be done is being done. With limited supplies, many of the more popular brands are quickly sold out, and often this happens to whole lines of a particular beverage. Every effort is made to ensure that patrons have available something from which to choose and whenever possible small sizes are stocked so that minimum purchases may be made.

It is desired, however, to emphasize that the Commission has no interest whatsoever in pushing or restricting the sale of any particular beverage or brand. The Commission's function is to serve its patrons with what they desire when this is possible. When that cannot be done the alternative articles which may still be in the stores are there as a service to the public, which is again urged to keep in mind prevailing conditions and limit its purchases accordingly.
