Sixty-Six Year

SUSPECTS — Above on the left, being retained by Sherbrooke municipal police officers, is Jean-Guy Jacques, brother of Jean-Paul Jacques, who was shot and killed by Sgt. Gaetan Blais, early Sunday morning. On the right, also being retained by police officers, is Renaud Gosselin. Both appeared before a justice of the peace, Sunday, and were charged with assaulting a police officer and interfering with a police officer while attempting to carry out his duty. Sergeant attacked by trio

City policeman kills 1; two others are charged

A 33-year-old Sherbrooke municipal police sergeant shot and killed one of three men who attacked him with a car jack lever early Sunday morning as he was attempting to quiet a disturbance the trio was creating.

Dead is Jean-Paul Jacques, 954 Lisieux Street, Sherbrooke. He was killed instantly by a bullet in the heart.

The other two men, Jean-Guy Jacques, 20, brother of the dead man, and Renaud Gosselin, 25, 1418 Dorval Street, were arraigned before Judge Evender Veilleux in Sherbrooke District Court this morning on charges of interfering with a police officer in carrying out his duty and attacking a police officer.

Bail was set for both men at $950 property and $500 cash. Jacques was able to raise the required bail and was set free, but Gosselin could not raise bail and remained in custody.

A further hearing will be held on Thursday at the Sherbrooke Court House when it is expected both men will enter a plea.

A coroner's inquest into the shooting is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at 4 p.m.

The circumstances which led to the fatal shooting of Jacques as told by Sherbrooke Police Chief Edouard Moreau were as follows, as closely as he could reconstruct the case:

"The Jacques brothers and Renaud Gosselin had entered a local hotel earlier in the evening where they had had some hard liquor. Upon leaving the hotel, they went to the Bedford Restaurant on Belvedere Street.

"They were refused service in the restaurant and asked to leave on the grounds that their faculties were impaired, and the police were called as a precaution.

"As Sgt. Blais arrived on the scene, in answer to the call, the Jacques brothers and Gosselin were pulling away from the restaurant in a panel truck which had but one headlight working.

"The Sergeant followed them to make sure that no further disturbances would occur.

"The truck stopped at Gosselin's house on Dorval Street and Blais parked at a distance from them.

"The three came over to Blais' patrol car, and one of them started to kick the door. Sgt. Blais called for reinforcements and got out of the car to calm them down.

"They jumped him, threw him to the ground, and hit him with the lever of a car-jack on the head, arms, and nose.

"Sgt. Blais, unholstered his gun and fired a warning shot in the air.

"The three moved back momentarily, but they started to attack with the lever again.

"Seeing that he was about to be hit again, Sgt. Blais, fired again, and this time he hit Jean-Paul Jacques in the heart.

"At this point reinforcements that Sgt. Blais had called arrived at the scene.

Jean-Guy Jacques and Gosselin were apprehended and Jean-Paul Jacques was taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital where he was declared dead on arrival.

No date for the inquest has been set yet.

Venezuela revolt is smashed

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Loyal forces were reported in control of Puerto Cabello today after a weekend of bloody rioting to crush a Communist-backed revolt against President Romulo Betancourt's government.

Betancourt said more than 100 persons and possibly 200 had been killed in putting down a rebellious marine garrison in the port city 65 miles west of Caracas.

Unofficial reports of casualties ran as high as 400 dead and 1,200 wounded, with losses heavy on both sides.

The government announcement that the rebellion had ended came with the surrender of rebel navy officers, but fighting still raged in the old city.

The three moved back momentarily, but they started to attack with the lever again.

"Seeing that he was about to be hit again, Sgt. Blais, fired again, and this time he hit Jean-Paul Jacques in the heart.

"At this point reinforcements that Sgt. Blais had called arrived at the scene.

Jean-Guy Jacques and Gosselin were apprehended and Jean-Paul Jacques was taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital where he was declared dead on arrival.

No date for the inquest has been set yet.

As nominations close today

25 candidates expected for the ET

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record staff writer)

Twenty-five candidates are expected to contest the eight Eastern Townships ridings in the June 18 federal general elections, a survey of preliminary nominations this morning indicated. While several candidates had not completed the formality of filing their official nomination papers, including the $200 deposit, the returning officers in the eight ridings expected the necessary documents would be forthcoming before nominations closed at three o'clock, daylight time, this afternoon.

ing bought off, either in cash or by the promise of a job, before election day.

In former years, the withdrawal could be made any time before the opening of the polls. Under the new act, withdrawals must be made before Wednesday of this week. After that time, the candidate is in the race whether he likes it or not.

With the close of nominations, campaigning which has been proceeding at slow pace is expected to liven up.

In Sherbrooke County, both Conservatives and Liberals have meetings scheduled for tonight. Associate Defence Minister Pierre Sevigny is the scheduled main speaker at a rally in St. Francis School, Bowen Street South, in support of PC candidate Maurice Allard. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Fernand Joyal, Liberal, will hold a meeting in St. Jean de Brebeuf Church Hall, King Street West, at 8:30.

Mr. Joyal will also hold a meeting in St. Jeanne d'Arc Church Hall, Galt Street West Tuesday night, while Mr. Allard will address a rally at the St. Elie d'Orford school on Wednesday.

The feature of the week will be the whirlwind visit of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker to this district on Thursday.

The Prime Minister is scheduled to arrive at the Sherbrooke airport from Bagotville about 9:30 a.m., following which he will be tendered a civic reception at the Sherbrooke City Hall. He will leave about 11:15 a.m. for visits to Windsor Mills and Magog. After lunch he will visit East Angus after which he will fly back to Quebec City for

Weekend toll five

Five persons died accidentally in the Eastern Townships over the weekend. Four were killed in car accidents and one person, an 11-year-old boy drowned near Victoriaville Sunday afternoon.

Car mishaps in Missisquoi Shefford counties accounted for four of the deaths Saturday.

Dead are:

Leopold Tringle, 58, of Farnham;

Mrs. Arthur Cote, 57, also of Farnham;

Alfred Dufresne, 66, RR 4, Granby;

Mrs. Alfred Dufresne, 62, RR 4, Granby;

Jacques Belanger, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean-Marc Belanger, of Victoriaville fell into the Becancour River in Daveluyville, five miles from Victoriaville, Sunday afternoon and drowned.

Injured in the car crashes and reported in serious condition at the St. Joseph Hospital at Granby are:

Micheline Bernier, 17, of Roxton Pond and her 18-year-old brother Guy;

Also injured but later released from hospital was Magella Caron of St. Henri de Levis.

Both accidents occurred Saturday and two lives were lost in each crash.

The first occurred about 9.15

Saturday morning on route 13 between Granby and Roxton Pond, when two automobiles met head-on at the top of a small hill.

Alfred Dufresne and his 62-year-old wife were killed in this accident. Driver of the second car, Denis Pare of Granby, and two passengers, Guy Bernier and his sister Micheline were all taken to hospital.

Pare and Guy Bernier are both suffering from broken legs and Micheline Bernier has a broken arm.

The second accident occurred on the outskirts of Farnham about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Leopold Tringle and Mrs. Arthur Cote, both of Farnham were killed in this crash. According to Jean Staniulis, head of the Cowansville detachment of the Quebec Provincial Police a semi-trailer truck driven by Magella Caron of St. Henri de Levis crashed into the car driven by Tringle as the automobile made a turn to another road.

District coroner, Dr. Noel Monast of Cowansville opened the inquest a few hours after the accident but adjourned until Wednesday evening at the Desourdy morgue at Farnham.

Ships in trouble

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A freighter loaded with grain for Calcutta and a big charter fishing boat sent out distress calls Sunday off the southeast U.S. coast. Both later headed into port, apparently in no danger. The 7,241-ton freighter Mount Evans had a leak in her hull plates. The fishing boat Ocean Queen was taken in tow by a navy minesweeper.

NEWS IN BRIEF

REGINA (CP)—A mass sit-down demonstration at the Regina provincial jail took a startling turn Sunday night when 23 of the disgruntled prisoners broke open a recreation yard gate and fled into the prairie darkness.

By early today eight escapees were back in custody and an extensive hunt was on for the others. None of the prisoners was considered dangerous.

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada may more than make up in sales to the Common Market what she may lose if Britain joins the European group, F. D. Mathers, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said today in an address to the association's annual meeting.

Mr. Mathers said his prediction is subject to continuance of the rate of economic growth and rising prosperity that has characterized Western Europe since formation of the European Economic Community.

PARIS (AP)—A two-day meeting between President de Gaulle and Prime Minister Macmillan has wiped away many French objections to Britain's entry into the Common Market.

A joint communique issued after the talks ended Sunday said the community of interests linking the two countries must influence negotiations between Britain and the six continental states on British membership in the economic community.

ALGIERS (AP)—A bid for compromise by Secret Army leaders has been rejected by Moslem nationalists in Algeria, but the city remained quiet today as the Europeans held to the truce they invoked four days ago.

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Pravda today published a government statement viewed as a strong indication that Russia will soon resume nuclear tests in reply to his week's U.S. testing over Johnson Island in the Pacific.

The Communist party newspaper ran the statement in the space usually reserved for its editorials. The statement, issued here Sunday night, was seen as a hint that Russia planned to start testing again soon.

Graham warns of false security

CHICAGO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham addressed the largest crowd of his 19-day Chicago crusade for Christ Sunday and said Americans "are at the edge of an abyss and are about to fall in."

An estimated 44,000 jammed McCormick Place to hear Graham speak on the Lord's role in history. Officials of the Graham organization announced 915 persons made "Decisions for Christ."

Graham asserted that Americans live in the same false security that caused God to destroy the twin cities of Sodom and Gomorrah cited in the Bible. He attacked Americans' economic and military security and trust in science.

Worst toll in aviation history

Rejected suggestion plane was overloaded

CP from Reuters-AP

PARIS—Air France officials today rejected a suggestion that the giant Boeing 707 jet that crashed and burned on takeoff Sunday was overloaded. A total of 130 persons—most of them leading Georgia residents—were killed in the worst single-plane disaster in aviation history.

The company issued a statement that said this type of aircraft could have easily transported 20 more passengers in addition to several tons of freight.

The mayor of Atlanta, Ga., arrived here today to bring home the bodies of most of the dead who mainly were from Atlanta and environs.

Mayor Ivan Allen set out on his journey as investigators studied reports the pilot sensed disaster moments before the accident that killed all 121 passengers, eight crew members and Air France's Atlanta agent.

ALL AMERICANS

All the passengers were Americans and most were members of the Atlanta Art Association en route home after a three-week tour of European art galleries and cultural sites.

Only two Air France hostesses—seated in the tail end of the Boeing—were flung to safety in the flaming crash at Orly Field outside Paris. A plane steward was pulled alive from the wreckage but died later in hospital.

Francoise Authie, one of the hostesses, said: "It was so fast. So sudden, I didn't have time to realize what was going on."

Witnesses said Capt. Roland Hoshie, one of Air France's most experienced pilots, apparently tried frantically to halt the airliner after engine trouble developed as it roared down the runway, but the plane was going too fast.

Police sealed off a large area over which wreckage was strewn while investigators began collecting evidence on possible causes of the crash.

THROWN CLEAR

The stewardesses who survived were at their regular takeoff stations in the rear of the aircraft and were thrown clear when it plunged into the ground among the red-roofed homes of the village of Villeneuve Le Roi fringing the airport.

Eyewitnesses said the four-engined $6,000,000 plane ran the whole length of the runway, lifted off the ground, slewed to the left with one wing down and then "dropped like a stone."

The plane plowed its way through rose gardens for 500 yards before bursting into a mass of 150-foot-high flames.

The airliner came to rest within 10 yards of a villa where an elderly couple were having Sunday lunch. Two other homes, empty for the day, were damaged.

Airport officials said, however, that the Boeing did not leave the ground.

The takeoff just before 1 p.m. was in clear, bright weather—one of Paris' sunniest days this summer—and everything seemed normal as the plane warmed up for the Atlantic crossing.

GET 'LAST WORDS'

The recording of the pilot's last words with the control tower at Orly Field was requested by the district magistrate for use in the investigation of the crash. The magistrate said the pilot's exchange was routine—asking the tower for permission to take off and getting the go-ahead.

Importance of French tongue

Role of the French-language universities in preserving world status is emphasized

The importance of the French language throughout the world, and the role which the French Canadian universities must play in maintaining this status were emphasized by the Hon. Paul Comtois, lieutenant-governor of Quebec at the annual convocation ceremonies of the University of Sherbrooke, Saturday, where he received an honorary degree.

The lieutenant-governor told how impressed he was by the university of the French language when he was represented Canada at the independence celebrations of the Cameroons.

"I saw that our traditional isolation no longer had a reason for existence... I sensed that we were no longer alone... geographical distances have been overcome and this gives us a chance to have contracts with others, without ceasing for a single instant, from speaking our language," Mr. Comtois said.

"In Europe the rise of France has given back to the French language the status which it occupied before the Second World War, and it is spoken as the mother or second tongue in all the major countries. In Asia, the rise and respect for the French language is also remarkable," Mr. Comtois continued.

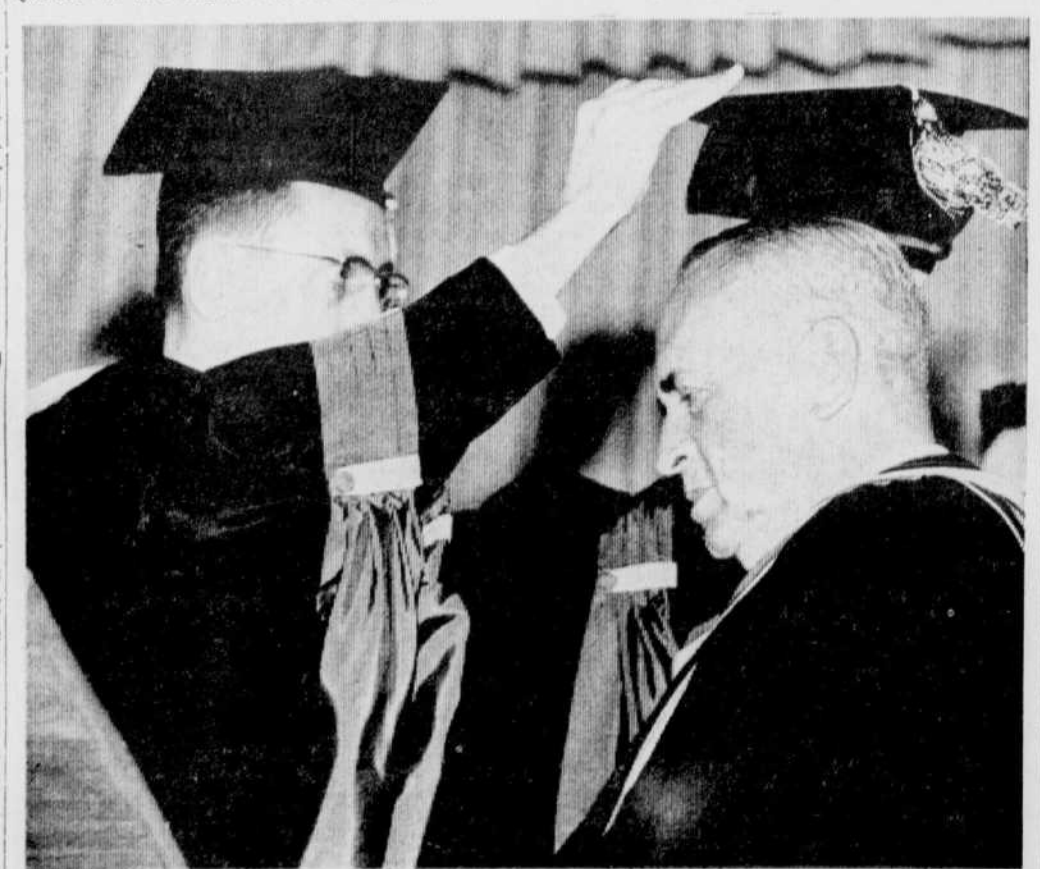

The story is similar in South and Central America Mr. Comtois explained.

"But it was in Africa, that I was most impressed," he said. "There are 15 countries in Africa where French is the official language, and where the French culture is considered the most precious heritage left behind by the European colonizers, he said.

"The use of French in the United Nations also shows the great importance which the countries of the world attach to our language," Mr. Comtois said.

"Quebec is alone in North America, and we must not forget it... it is up to us to save the French-Canadian culture and the universities must lead in this, he said.

"The language which we speak, and our Christianity, compels us to leave our isolation, and to bring our precious collaboration to the advancement of the French culture in the entire world," Mr. Comtois concluded.

TAKE IT FROM KATHY

Dear Kathy: I'm 15 and have started going steady. My mother doesn't approve because she doesn't think people should go steady until they are ready to marry. This is different. She doesn't understand. When boys and girls go steady now it doesn't mean they are ready to march the altar. Parents are old-fashioned and don't realize how things have changed. When they were growing up they didn't even have television! Isn't it true that lots of girls younger than I am go steady?—Terry L.

Dear Terry: Your parents didn't have television but boys and dates aren't recent inventions. I'm sure mother has had experience with both. Going steady used to mean something serious and permanent. It still should. In the "old days" a boy and girl made this arrangement when they felt quite sure that they would not meet anyone they like more and were considering the idea of spending the rest of their lives together. "This is different" means that you consider your arrangement less permanent. Is it a form of insurance against lonely evenings? It is just a means to prove you won a popularity race? Does it really make sense to go steady if you plan to date steadily only until someone more interesting arrives on the scene? I don't think so!

You'd be a very unusual 15-year-old if you don't occasionally admire a good-looking

At University of Sherbrooke convocation

Construction of new buildings unveiled

The construction of a new science pavilion, an education building, a central office, and a 300,000 volume library beginning in August was announced by Msgr. Irenée Pinard, rector of the University of Sherbrooke in his opening remarks at the annual convocation of the University, on Saturday.

The money for the construction will come from the provincial government.

Coed wins top award for faculty of arts

The Racine Prize, offered for highest standing in the faculty of arts, was won by Lucie Melancon.

In the faculty of law, the Lieutenant-Governor's medal went to Jacques Mathieu, who also won the Wilson and Laflour Prize for Civil Procedure. Jacques Sylvestre won the Civil Law Prize; Pierre Boily won the Notary's Prize for second year; while the prize for Roman Law went to Claude Gagnon.

In the faculty of science, the Governor-General's medal was won by Sylvio Richard, while the Lieutenant-Governor's medal was won by Conrad Lauzier.

The Athlone Bursary, good for two years study in Britain, was won by Bernard Vigneux.

Guy Talbot and Gaston Rouleau shared the Corporation of Engineers Bursary, and the Canadian Institute of Engineers Prize was won by Claude Desrosiers. Pierre Blais won the Public Works Prize while Conrad Lauzier won the Mechanical Prize.

The Professors' Prize for high standing in Electrical Engineering went to Silvio Richard, while Jean Moore took the Laboratory Prize in Electrical Engineering.

Richard Thibault and Roger Chevalier won the prizes for high standing in third year engineering and second year chemistry respectively.

The Lieutenant-Governor's Medal in the faculty of commerce was won by Gilles Blais, who also won the La Tribune Prize, for academic excellence.

Conrad Lussier won the Belanger Prize for accounting, while Jean-Louis Langlois won the Codere for industry and effort. The Caisse Populaire Sociale prize went to Leonard Veilleux and Jean Rene Hamel took the Chamber of Commerce Prize.

"The past year has been a very successful one," Msgr. Pinard said, "from both an academic and material point of view."

"Academically, we have founded an institute of religious culture. The institute of teaching has been transformed into a full-fledged faculty. In addition girls will be allowed to enter the faculty of arts. Courses leading to doctorates and masters degrees have been instituted, and honors courses, in chemistry and biology have been created," he said.

"Materially, a research laboratory has been set up as well as many other laboratories for the science faculty, and construction was started on a 460 room dormitory," he stated.

The importance of the family and the troubles which are presently besetting it in the Province of Quebec were the topics of a speech given by the Hon. Emile Lafrance, provincial minister of family and social welfare, of Sherbrooke, who received an honorary doctorate in social sciences.

"The more I travel and the come convinced of the great importance of the family in shaping the destinies of peoples," Mr. Lafrance said.

"It forms or deforms people and societies... it is the topic of which sociologists, poets, sages and philosophers, have long sung the praises," he said.

"Today, however, the family is in trouble, in actual peril; it is menaced by materialism, libertines, alcoholism, housing shortages, divorce, a lack of discipline amongst youngsters, and the weaknesses of parents," Mr. Lafrance charged.

"To correct the 'drastic situation we need immediate research into the strong and weak points of the family, and what can best be done to correct it. We need more education for the families on family matters. And these two should be but stepping stones to further enlightenment," Mr. Lafrance exclaimed.

He suggested that all clubs, societies, religious institutions, etc. that are interested in the 'family' should group together to form a 'League for the Protection of the Family.'

53 persons have completed night course in "Survival Training in the Home" at Newport, reports Police Chief James F. Mulcahy. The graduates will be given certificates. The course was organized by the State Board of Education in conjunction with State Civil Defence. Ed Romey of Montpelier, Vt., is the state head of survival training. He trained instructors, including Col. George Orthey, U.S. Army (retired) who co-ordinated the Newport course.

Persons taking the course included teaching nuns, lay teachers, store clerks, housewives and police officers.

Chief Mulcahy said that, in his opinion, if an atomic attack is to come, it is most likely to occur late on a Saturday night or early Sunday morning. He said, "The Russians, like the Japanese, know us very well. They know the average American very well, and know that he likes to go out Saturday nights. This makes Saturday night the logical time for an attack."

The attack, in the chief's opinion, could come at any time of the year. However, he said if a bomb is dropped near Newport, it will be dropped by mistake; there is no target of strategic importance in the immediate area. The chief stated that the state of Vermont has plans to care for refugees from the Province of Quebec.

"We are not unmindful," he said, "that there are 2,000,000 people or so in the Montreal area, and if that metropolis suffers an atomic attack, these people will have to go somewhere. Also, we must take into consideration the fact that Plattsburgh is a number one military target. There are Strategic Air Command missiles carrying bombs stationed there."

The chief said that Newport has a 200 bed portable hospital, complete with cots, generators for emergency power, medical supplies, surgical instruments and even religious supplies for the use of ministers and priests. The stock of medical supplies was recently increased.

When asked who would be in charge in case of an emergency, Chief Mulcahy said that he would be, even if martial law were declared.

A special notice has been issued to the public, advising that the 25 yard rifle range in East Sherbrooke is a danger area, and its privacy should be respected. The warning, issued under the signature of E. B. Armstrong, Deputy Minister at the Department of National Defence, Ottawa, also advised that the Crown will not accept responsibility for any claims which may arise out of damage or injury, including death, to persons or property.

Vacation school set for July 3-13

Advance registrations are now being received for a two-week vacation church school to be held at the Lennoxville United Church July 3 to 13 with sessions from 9 to 11 a.m.

Children from all denominations are welcomed.

The school has four departments: Kindergarten for 4 and 5 year-olds directed by Mrs. Dorothy Tucker; primary, 6 to 8 year-olds under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Williams; junior, 9 to 11 years of age, directed by Mrs. Beverly Sutor and junior high for 12 to 14 years old under the direction of Mrs. Beverly Noble.

The program will include worship, songs, hymns, bible stories, handicrafts, nature studies and games.

To assist in the planning for the school this year, parents are asked to register their children on or before June 11 with Mrs. R. MacMillan, Maple Avenue, Lennoxville at LO. 2-8353.

A fee of 50 cents per child or $1.00 per family will be collected to cover costs of handicrafts material.

Further information may be obtained from the director of the school, Mrs. T. A. Judson at Bishop's University or by calling LO. 2-8792.

Health clinics

RICHMOND — (Special) — Richmond County health clinics for immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and polio will be held at the following places this week:

Launch Polaris

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States nuclear submarine Thomas Edison successfully launched a Polaris missile from beneath the surface of the Atlantic Ocean Saturday. The missile, unleashed from a depth of about 90 feet, burst swiftly to the surface, ignited and sped more than 1,500 miles down range.

Terrorize Jews

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Anti-semitic Argentine terrorists protesting the hanging of Adolf Eichmann machine-gunned a Jewish business firm and hurled a bomb at the Israel Union School Saturday. No casualties were reported. Leaders of the Association of Argentine Israelites appealed to Interior Minister Jorge Walter Perking for protection of Jewish property.

1,200 attend election rally

COWANSVILLE — One of the largest and most responsive crowds to attend a Brome - Missisquoi political rally of the 1962 Federal election campaign was held at the St. Leon Secondary School hall here, Sunday night in the favor of Normand Ruel of Farnham, the Social Credit banner-carrier for the duel county.

Over 1,200 people attended the meeting which got underway at 9 p.m. to listen to four guest speakers including Dr. Robert Norman Thompson, newly appointed leader of the Canadian Social Credit party.

In his address, Mr. Thompson spoke of innumerable 'bridges' the Social Credit party would build to gap the present inefficiencies of the Progressive-Conservative government and past Liberal party administrations.

"Something has happened in Canada today," Mr. Thompson said, "something that has never happened before. The people are tired of old-line parties. The miracle of June 18 will be the miracle of the Social Credit party."

Both parties are so much alike, Mr. Thompson continued, referring to both the Conservative and Liberal that the people call them the 'Pearsonbakers' parties.

"I am convinced that the people of Canada do not want socialism," he said, "instead the people want liberty. But they want their liberty with security."

Mr. Thompson then pointed out that for the past 37 years the Social Credit party has ruled Alberta and British Columbia without a single interruption.

Speaking of the Conservative government Mr. Thompson said that within the past two years the Canadian national debt was doubled as compared with any previous period since Confederation.

Referring to a recent article that appeared in a Montreal newspaper, which he did not name, Mr. Thompson said that this paper claimed that the reason why there was a great influx of Soviets in Quebec was because of the large number of poor and uneducated people.

"This is foolish," he continued, "There are no better Creditists elsewhere in Canada than in Quebec."

Six Quebec mayors will run for nomination at the upcoming election. In Quebec there are also lawyers, doctors and teachers that will run. There will also be four outstanding labor leaders throughout the country that will carry our banner — one of these is from Montreal, he said.

Change of command held at Bury

BURY — (Special) — Lt.-Col. John M. Gardiner, CD, official took command of the 7/XI Hussars RCAC from Lt.-Col. W. P. McGovern, ED, here Saturday afternoon.

RSM, WO-1 O. O. Matthews also relinquished his post, which was taken over by WO-1, G. C. Paradis.

Brig. Jean Prosper Gautier, commander of 9 Militia Group officiated over the ceremonies, and was accompanied by officers of his headquarters, including Lt.-Col. A. Langlais, Lt.-Col. F. L. Armitage, and WO-1 H. A. Flanders.

Other guests on the reviewing stand included former commanding officers: Brig. J. N. Wood, commander of No. 11 Group, Montreal; Lt.-Col. W. Bishop; Lt.-Col. E. E. Denison; Lt.-Col. T. G. MacAulay; and Lt.-Col. C. Hoyle.

an inspection by Brig. Gautier accompanied by the former and new commanders and former and new RSMs, Lt.-Col. Langlais and Lt.-Col. Armitage.

Lt.-Col. McGovern and Lt.-Col. Gardiner both spoke to the regiment after a short address by Brig. Gautier. These talks were followed by the official handing over of the command, change in RSMs, and a march past. The regimental band played march selections, adding greater color to the pageant. The national anthem was played in honor of the Queen's birthday.

The 7/XI Hussars RCAC have squadrons in Richmond, Windsor and Bury, drawing personnel from such other centres as Scottown, Cookshire, Sawyer-ville, East Angus, Danville and Asbestos.

During the social portion of Saturday's gathering in the officers' mess, Honorary Lt.-Col. of the regiment, T. G. MacAulay presented the mess with a large silver punch bowl.

Lt.-Col. McGovern was presented with a silver carving set by Lt.-Col. Gardiner on behalf of the unit, and WO-1 Paradis presented the retiring commander a gift from the WOs and sergeants. A gift was also presented to WO-1 Matthews by the NCOs.

CHANGE IN COMMAND — Lt.-Col. Edward P. McGovern, ED, left, retiring commanding officer of the 7/XI Hussars, RCAC, Saturday received a sterling silver carving set from his unit. Unable to save building

Family left homeless in fire at St. Felix de Kingsey Sun.

ST. FELIX DE KINGSEY — (Special) — Fire of unknown origin levelled a two-storey wooden frame house here Sunday on the 8th range. The family of Emile Robidas was left homeless as result of the fire which started in the second-storey and is believed to have been caused by a short-circuit.

The Robidas family had finished supper when younger members of the family smelled smoke and saw it coming from the top floor about 5 p.m.

Mr. Robidas was working in the barn milking cows at the time and as he left the barn, he noticed fire coming through the roof of the house. Firemen were called from St. Felix, four miles from here on the St. Marie Road but they could not save the burning house.

Eight volunteer firemen under Paul Belisle used three hoses pumped from a nearby brook but the fire had progressed so far they could do nothing to save the building. Furniture downstairs was saved but much was lost on the second floor.

Neighbors rushed over to help the Robidas' fight the blaze and remove most of their belongings. The fire, which started at about 5:30 p.m. kept burning for about three hours as firemen kept pouring water on the burning building. The men confined their hoses on the house as the light winds blew away from the barns.

The barns were not touched by the blaze, Mr. Robidas said he carried insurance of about $2,000.00 but the loss was heavy.

Neighbors rushed over to help the Robidas' fight the blaze and remove most of their belongings. The fire, which started at about 5:30 p.m. kept burning for about three hours as firemen kept pouring water on the burning building. Opportunity to stimulate the mind

Canada is one of the few countries in the world where learning two languages should be easy. But it is not.

Efforts to popularize bilingualism have bogged down in murky arguments about children's intellectual development, loyalty to various flags and forefathers, the glories of the English language compared to the French language and vice versa, stolid indifference and just plain stupidity.

Against this formidable barrier, it is a wonder there are people — and the number is increasing — who have learned both languages at all. These bilingual Canadians have quietly assimilated both tongues, some as children others as adults, with no apparent effect on their mental stability, their principles, their respect for the tradition of their ethnic groups or their patriotism.

The motives for learning a second language are not important. A large percentage of French Canadians mastered English to earn a living. Many English people are proficient in French because of the business advantages.

Quebec should be the ideal place to learn French, but for too many English-speaking residents, its advantages are not obvious. However, these same people were alarmed when a French Canadian minority group, calling itself separatist, advocated secession of Quebec from Confederation. Would this issue and the worry it caused have arisen if there had been a better understanding on both sides of the language fence?

In most cases, it is not the fault of our present educational systems, French and English, if some Canadians are bilingual. They overcame the language barrier in spite of their lack of proper school training in either of the languages.

But there are encouraging signs that the situation may improve. One university, three private schools and a women's group — all of the English language.

Untold wealth can get you into trouble if it's untold on your income tax report.

Will you be a victim of drowning?

Will you appear on these pages this summer as a cold drowning statistic? The Canadian Red Cross News Service asks? You probably have no such intention, but the facts still hold that nearly a thousand Canadians will lose their lives by drowning this summer. Whether you're one of them depends entirely on you.

As far as we're concerned, we'd rather you saved us the trouble of writing your obituary. Obituaries are unpleasant pieces of reportage. Instead of writing your obituary, we'd rather print a story about your quick thinking and presence of mind, perhaps in saving someone else from drowning. But even if you don't make the printed page as a heroic rescuer, you can still help to save many lives as well as your own.

June 3 to June 9 is National Water Safety Week. During this week, make it a point to contact your Red Cross and find out all you can about safety.

The readers say

Protests against too-wide highways

Sir:

The Council of the Township of Sutton is seeking $100,000.00 to develop some 23 miles of roads. The Municipal Electors were summoned to vote on whether they approved or disapproved the Council's by-law authorizing the issue of bonds. That was on the 28th May. On the 30th, Sir, you published how the voting went: 117 in favor, five against.

I am one of the five, not because I do not recognize that the Township needs better roads. God knows it does. Nor because I think we can afford to reject Government help, if this is forthcoming. We can do so little without it. It means more taxes, what can we expect to get without them. No, Sir. Mine is but a vote of protest against being thought an accessory to what I fear will be a massacre.

To qualify for Government help, our reconstructed roads will have to be 66 feet wide, ditches and all. There are creeping in on all sides these chain-wide roads that scar the green of the country side and massacre its beauty. Countless trees that have taken more than a hundred years to reach their splendor have been cut down; still more young trees that one day might have replaced them have fallen before the road makers. Yet they have not planted a single tree. Instead, the greenery that might have concealed these ugly wounds has been discouraged with one or another vegetation killer. True, other Townships have better roads than we have, but better deserts with which to surround them. It is the price paid for the Government help without which we might have no roads at all.

Why is this so important to us? God willed a lavish hand when he endowed with all its magnificence what is now the Township of Sutton, which concedes nothing in beauty to its world famous neighbour, Vermont. It is our duty, it should be our delight to preserve these blessings, which we are coming to share more and more with newcomers in our midst, people who have a keen sense of all that is fine and wish to enjoy it, and — naturally — to preserve it.

My prayer is that the Government will consider whether it can help us with something less lavish than its custom, but that will still meet our country needs. A road, half a chain wide, well ditched and gravelled, would be so much superior to our neglected watercourses, often without a pathmaster to care for them, that we ought indeed to feel grateful. It would mean that landowners could still call their land their own up to some fifteen feet from the center of the road, as has been the custom for many years past. How many fine trees would be preserved to give us shade and the splendid colors of the fall. Nor need there be any noticeable devastation to sin against God's handiwork.

A faint hope of relief may be found in the book. It says that roads that were of a lesser size (than a chain) on the 1st. November, 1817, need not be made larger. I have heard of two such concessions being made by the Government, but these were for dead ends, roads that led nowhere. In Vancouver, I learn, the Government recognizes three sizes of roads: half a chain, a chain and about a hundred feet (a chain and a half).

Would the Government help us if we were to ask for the humblest of these? It would save so much gravel, so much money and, Good Grief, how much beauty?

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
IVOR MCCLURE,
Sutton.

Battle to death

Kennedy's minor medicare plan meets opposition from doctors

By RON COLLISTER

WASHINGTON — As one who lived happily under Britain's socialized medicine, I was astonished by the hysteria here over a very small Government plan to pay the medical bills of old people.

The nation's doctors are locked in battle with President Kennedy and it looks like a battle to the death. But to the Kennedy Administration, this is yet another example of a private interest group trying to block the national interest.

The last group that tried it were the steelmen. They were defeated, too.

Meanwhile, the doctors are spending huge sums to out-propagandize the Kennedy drive to get his bill approved by Congress this summer.

The nut of this effort is that the nation will — O, Heaven forbid, — sink into a British-style national health service if the Kennedy medicare plan is approved.

EEK, SOCIALISM!

And then, worse still, into Gauleiter-type socialism. However, history is against the doctors in these strange arguments.

Socialized medicine doesn't usher in repressive socialism. In West Germany, there is a medical care plan for the aged and needy that began in the 1880s.

That was the era of Bismarck.

And no one would say he was a creeping socialist. The United Kingdom has now had socialized medicine for 14 years.

In that time, there has been a remarkable re-birth of the free enterprise spirit and great bounds in prosperity.

In Sweden, there has been some form of health plan since 1763 — when the United States was just a twinkle in the eyes of a handful of early settlers.

Sweden today is a socialist country, but it is the envy of the world for its tremendously high standard of living and national prosperity.

So it is clearly wrong to conclude that socialized medicine cannot be a basic service by the government to the people in an otherwise blooming free enterprise system.

It's about as holy as George Washington's cherry tree.

At this moment, all Americans agree that something should be done to help old people whose life savings are eaten up by two weeks in hospital.

The great chasm appears over Kennedy's plan to levy a tax through the social security system to pay for it.

There are nearly 17 million people over 65 in the United

This, say the critics, is socialism, plain and simple.

Just what is the plan that is causing such trouble?

It is called the King-Anderson Bill, sponsored by Representative Cecil R. King and Senator Clinton P. Anderson — and it has been bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee for a year.

The committee can't raise enough votes to free the bill for its next legislative journey, to the floor of the House for debate.

President Kennedy is trying to rouse so much public commotion that the committee will be pressured to act and free the bill.

FOR AGED

Under the bill, people of 65 or over would get: — in-patient hospital care for up to 90 days — after they have paid $10 a day for up to nine days.

—skilled nursing home services for up to 180 days — if the patient is first treated in hospital.

—out-patient hospital diagnostic services — after the patient has paid the first $20 of the charge for each diagnostic study.

—home health services for up to 240 visits during a calendar year, including intermittent nursing care, therapy and part-time home-maker.

Not covered in the bill are doctors' and dentists' fees, drugs and some health aides.

The cost would be carried by small increases in the social security tax. A man earning $5,200 a year would pay $13. So would his boss — $26 in all.

Most of the critics of this formula say that the needs of the old people can be met under the Kerr-Mills Law, in effect since October, 1958.

MEANS TEST

This gives wider benefits to fewer people. Its most controversial aspect is a means test.

Under this law, Federal-State funds are used to help people of 65 or over who do not qualify for old age assistance and cannot pay their medical bills.

This plan is outside the social security system. Senator Anderson says it is not working because the states lack the financial capacity to make it work.

It is obvious that Kennedy is pushing for nothing shorter than the King-Anderson Plan to put medical aid under the canopy of social security.

In this, he has one reason, the mid-term Congressional Elections in November.

There are nearly 17 million people over 65 in the United States and many of them will be casting a vote in those elections.

The thunderous applause given Kennedy as he denounced the American Medical Association at Madison Square Garden suggests which way they will vote.

CAN'T PAY

Kennedy says Americans over 65 have an annual medical bill twice that of Americans under 65 but their income is only half.

And only half of them have any health insurance.

RAM, he stresses, would not interfere with a patient's freedom of choice of doctor, hospital or nurse.

The AMA charges that it would end the American tradition of a private doctor for a private patient.

Standing nearly $100,000 on a half-hour television spot to battle Kennedy over medicare, the AMA accused him of a "cruel hoax and a delusion."

The public, said the AMA, is in danger of being "blitzed, brainwashed and bandwagoned" into swallowing a health plan that would disrupt health services and turn them into numbers.

The plan would cover millions of people who don't need help and ignore millions of others who do.

However, the doctors' battle may be only a rearguard action. Kennedy, with his new popularity and power is tipped to win.

But the battle may run over into next year, with President Kennedy continuing to give the nation regular lessons in "how to succeed in politics by really trying."

To meet stiffening competition

Denmark tries collective farms

By GEOFFREY DODD

COPENHAGEN (Reuters) — Dairy-rich Denmark is turning to its own version of the Soviet collective farm in an attempt to meet stiffening competition in Western markets.

Small dairy farms, backbone of Denmark's agriculture-based economy, are being incorporated in "milk factories" where 1,000 cows, rather than the usual 10 to 50 individually owned animals, will be maintained.

Denmark is possibly the most striking example in Europe of an agricultural country which has had to adjust to problems raised by the European Common Market.

Until recently, Danish agriculture was unsubsidized and unprotected. Its two principal markets were Britain and West Germany, respectively in the European free trade area and the rival Common Market. Farm products make up about half the country's total exports.

Butter and other farm products have met with increased competition in the last year or so, bringing widespread pleas from Danish farmers to join the Common Market without waiting for Britain, despite government statements that it will not join the European trading Community unless Britain does.

This policy has required more efficient farming to compete with the heavily-subsidized output of other countries.

Herd feeding, already controlled with a dietary accuracy and care not equalled in many hospitals, will be further refined.

Labour union drive

32-hour week next goal

By GEORGE GRAHAM

With the Canadian economy moving forward this year, labor unions can be expected to renew their drive for a shorter work week—with no reduction in pay.

Most unions in Canada and the U.S. won the 40-hour week long ago and the next likely goal will be 32 hours, four eight-hour days.

Labor across North America set out last year determined to reduce the work week. Resolutions were passed at every major labor convention on the continent listing the sub 40-hour week as a prime target.

Many labor economists argued this would be the best way to fight automation-age unemployment.

Hand in hand with the shorter week were such objectives as longer vacations, earlier retirement, restrictions on overtime and increased benefits during periods of lay-off or unemployment.

POOR YEAR

But 1961 was not a good year for bargaining. Canadian unions found. Unemployment was high—more than eight per cent for the year—profits were small and management was generally in a get-tough mood.

Unions quietly abandoned their battle for shorter work weeks, settling instead for wage increases averaging five to eight cents an hour.

But the drive is on again. The United Brewery, Flour, Cereal, Soft Drink and Distillery Workers opened the 1962 assault with a January demand for a 32-hour week with 40-hour pay.

It's a safe bet other unions whose contracts expire this year will also go after shorter hours.

BARRIER BROKEN

Some unions—like those in the ladies' garment industry and printing trades—already have broken the 40-hour barrier and are hammering for a four-day week.

But in the largely non-union service industries — fastest growing sector of Canada's economy—50-hour work weeks are still common along with rock-bottom wages.

A spectacular breakthrough was scored in New York last year by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers which won a 25-hour work week after a brief strike.

The electricians who previously worked five six-hour days plus one hour per day overtime made concessions reducing their pay cheque from $165 (with normal overtime) to $161.29 per week.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

an evening meeting.
Highlighting campaign activity in the Eastern Townships over the week-end was the visit of Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson to Cowansville Sunday night where he addressed a crowd estimated at over 1,200 people.

The Secord leader predicted his party would sweep Canada on June 18, declaring that the people were fed up with the old parties.

"I am convinced they do not want socialism," he said, "instead the people want liberty. But they want their liberty with security."

During the past two years, he continued, Canada's national debt had increased at a rate double that of any similar period in Canadian history.

He said the Social Credit Government would increase the family allowance to $18 or $20 monthly and would extend the age limit from 16 to 20 years when children were attending school or college.

This is nomination day for the June 18 dominion election and a record field is in the running.

Nearly 1,000 candidates — 997 as of Sunday night, a Canadian Press compilation showed — will contest the 265 seats. The previous high was in 1945 when 954 candidates sought the 245 seats at stake that year.

Last-minute changes can be expected. Some persons who had announced their intention to run may change their mind — they have until 2 p.m. local standard time to file official papers and pay their $200 deposit.

CP's compilation shows 265

Progressive Conservatives in the field — one in every constituency — 264 Liberals, 226 Social Crediters, 212 New Democratic Party members, 14 Communists and 16 independents. There will be three or more candidates in all but eight constituencies.

SOCRED NOMINEES UP
There were 836 candidates in the 1958 election and the big increase in the number this year is due to Social Credit which has said it will contest 225 seats. The party had only 82 candidates in 1958.

Candidates file nomination papers today in 242 of 263 constituencies — there are two two-member ridings, Halifax and Queens, in Prince Edward Island. Seventy candidates were named May 22 in the other 21 ridings, in northern areas where extra time is needed to deliver election supplies to isolated polls.

Nominations by provinces, 1958 figures in brackets:
Newfoundland 19 (16); P.E.I. 13 (9); Nova Scotia 43 (28); New Brunswick 33 (26); Quebec 270 (224); Ontario 327 (261); Manitoba 58 (49); Saskatchewan 67 (55); Alberta 72 (70); British Columbia 90 (83); Yukon and North West Territories 5 (5).

Standing of the Commons at dissolution: PC 203, Liberals 51, NDP-CCF 8, vacant, 3.

just missed a runaway collision with a light plane that had landed moments earlier.

Later at Chelmsford, 12 miles away, he ran into a violent demonstration by some 150 persons as he arrived to speak at a union hall. It was aimed primarily at Progressive Conservative candidate Don Gillis, president of the big Sudbury district local of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.).

Mr. Gillis has severed relations with his union's Canadian headquarters and is a key figure in the stormy battle between Mine-Mill and the Canadian Steelworkers Union (C.I.O.) for control of the nickel workers local he heads.

Mr. Gillis was hit on the neck with a stick and had his shirt ripped in a melee as he arrived at the union hall with the prime minister. Nobody laid a hand on Mr. or Mrs. Diefenbaker in the crowd but the prime minister's wife elbowed one of the crowd which pressed close.

Members of the organized group carried placards linking Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Gillis as "sellout twins."

The hall was filled with some 300 Conservative supporters but the demonstrators outside could be heard shouting and booing during the Conservative leader's speech.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the minority must realize that every other person also has the right to be heard.

But he again had trouble hearing the same evening at Pembroke where he ran into a steady stream of heckling that largely disrupted his speech to some 1,200 persons.

The prime minister called them "a small group of irresponsible" who were "carrying out the instructions they received."

He said the reason for the recent heckling is that everywhere Canadians are realizing his government has done a good job in the last five years and will be returned June 18.

Referring to nuclear weapons, he said Canada will not extend the nuclear club as long as there is peace, the possibility of maintaining peace or discussion among the nations.

perly resulting from disregard to the notice given.
The 25 yard range is used by district militia units for small arms training.

Last Saturday, at a change-of-command parade was held by the 7th Hussars RCAC, at the Bury Armoury, when Lt. Col. John M. Gardiner, ED, took over the unit from Lt. Col. Edward P. McGovern, ED.

Capt J. L. A. Turland has been taken on strength of 9 Militia Group Headquarters and promoted to the rank of Major. He is a member of the Royal Canadian Army Pay Corps, and will be attached for duty to Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, RCIC.

SPIT 'n POLISH

Are you going to camp? Have you started making plans?

You know, it's only sensible that you start planning early, especially if you are a man with responsibilities. Ask yourself, is everything in readiness at home for your week's absence?

Getting leave from camp can pose some difficulties, and returning home to look after problems could prove most inconvenient for you and your unit.

So, take stock of the situation today. Make certain all is ship-shape at home while you're away. And, knowing that all is well back home, you'll be able to give more thought to soldiering, and undoubtedly be a better militiaman.

In Memoriam

ALLAN — In loving memory of our loving husband and father, John M. Allan, who passed away June 4, 1956.

DEPARTMENT OF TRADE AND COMMERCE

MANUFACTURERS!! U.S. BUYERS DELIVERED TO YOUR DOORSTEP

HERE IS AN OUTSTANDING OPPORTUNITY to personally present your products to the most influential group of American buyers ever assembled in Canada. The Department of Trade and Commerce is flying 150 buyers from New York, Philadelphia and Chicago to Montreal for a special Canadian Samples Show on June 19 and 20. They are eager to inspect every type of Canadian-made item normally sold in department and similar stores.

YOU CAN PARTICIPATE in this Government-organized Canadian Samples Show at a very nominal cost—in fact, for less than you would spend on a single sales trip to New York. The exhibitor's fee is only $250 per 12' x 12' unit.

IMMEDIATE SALES AND FUTURE ORDERS are in prospect for exhibitors at the Canadian Samples Show, which will provide an ideal opportunity for your senior sales executives to personally meet scores of buyers who represent the world's largest consumer market. Only Canadian exhibitors and American buyers will be admitted.

THIS IS TOO VALUABLE AN OPPORTUNITY TO MISS if you manufacture any products of the type commonly sold in department stores. Act quickly! The deadline for applications is June 11. Reserve your space now.

Richmond County Historical Society holds inaugural meeting, program

RICHMOND — The Richmond County Historical Society made an auspicious beginning on May 24 at a meeting held in St. Francis High School when a slate of officers was elected, directors were appointed and 25 members enrolled.

The reading of the proposed constitution by the newly-elected president, Miss Alice Dresser, was followed by an interesting program consisting of the reading of old letters and articles of local interest.

Mrs. Inez Fallona read a letter dated in April, 1900, written by John Doyle, a soldier in the Boer War, to her father, Mr. George Frazer. In the letter Mr. Doyle described some of the battles in which he had fought and spoke of the privations suffered by the troops particularly the hunger and thirst, stating how often he had longed for a drink from the spring near Mr. Frazer's home. He mentioned seeing Lord Roberts and hearing him comment that their company certainly knew what they were doing. The letter was written from Camp Bloemfontein and was accompanied by a flag of the Orange Free State, on which he had printed the names of the battles in which he had taken part.

The first marriage recorded was that of Lock Perkins and Priscilla Brown, while the first baptism was that of Guy George Lord. When the building became inadequate, the present building which was later moved across the road to serve as a parish hall. It was replaced by a brick building in which services are still held.

EMIGRANT TO STATES
Miss Dresser read an interesting and entertaining summary of letters written to her grandfather, John Dresser, Bailiff and postmaster of Richmond, by Art Lord who had left Richmond in 1834 with his family in search of fortune and adventure in the States. His letters contained frequent allusions to cold Canada and the advantages of life in the U.S.

Later the tone of his letters changes as he tells of the deaths of his wife, and young daughter from the fever.

A few years later there is a letter from his son, Guy, telling of his father's accidental death during an altercation with a neighbor and expressing a longing, never realized, to visit his family's old home and relatives.

Band festival Bedford, draws large audience

BEDFORD — A band festival held here on May 21, attracted large crowds from the town and surrounding district, and the audience was appreciative of the excellent music, as well as the exhibitions given by the various bands.

Among them were the High School Band of Enosburg Falls, Vt.; from Cowansville the Massed Bands of the Alouettes, Harmony and Juvenile; the Moose, Drum and Bugle band of St. Albans, Vt., and the High School Band, Richmond, Vt.

The queen chosen for the festival was Miss Ginette Meunier.

The parade formed at St. Joseph's Convent, marching along St. Joseph Church, Victoria, River, Phillipsburg Avenue, Pleasant Street, Pine Avenue to Main Street, where the following program was given at the Soldiers' Monument:

Mister Joe, Enosburg Falls, directed by Mr. Bostwick. Normal by the juvenile Cowansville Band under the direction of Norman Serous, leader; Military Escort, Bedford Band, conducted by assistant director, Guy Dery.

The concluding numbers on the program were, a rendition of O Canada directed by Edouard Benoit, of Richmond, Vt., director of the Bedford Band; Guy Save the Queen, by the massed bands of Bedford, Cowansville, and Richmond.

The evening finished with a dance at the arena and the serving of refreshments to the members of the bands.

RICHMOND —

Mrs. Ivy Fuller and Mrs. Howard Falls were in Montreal, to visit Mrs. J. S. MacNaughton, a patient in the Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

Miss Ruth Lanigan spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Matthew Pollock, and Mr. Pollock, at Gallup Hill.

George and Angus Dyson, have returned to Montreal, after visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dyson and aunt, Mrs. Eva Donahue.

Mr. David Henderson, of Montreal, spent the holidays with his aunt, Miss Myrtle Dyson.

Mr. S. Duval has received news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Dora Couerier, of Chambly, at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, in Sherbrooke on May 24. The deceased is also a sister of Mrs. Fred Astell, of Windsor, formerly of Melbourne.

Mr. Melvin Butler, accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Manning and Mrs. Lorne Butler of Lennoxville, attended the funeral of a relative, Mrs. John Arkley, of Waterbury, Vt.

Mrs. W. K. Rattray and sister, Mrs. A. Phipps, of Melbourne, received news of the death at Haverhill, Mass., of their aunt, Mrs. Cora Paulhus, 94, the former Cora Sheppard of Sorel.

Mrs. James Stevens, sister-in-law, Mrs. George Cogan, Miss Hazel Bell, accompanied by Miss Alice Stevens and Mr. W. Kimball, of Montreal, attended the funeral on May 25, of Mr. Frank Hubbard, of Sherbrooke, of the graduating class.

Address by Dr. H. Hutchison

Stanstead County teachers urged to be enthusiastic in their duties

AYER'S CLIFF — The annual meeting of Stanstead County Teachers' Association was held at Ripplecove Inn, on May 24.

After dinner, the guest speaker, Dr. H. Hutchison, headmaster of Stanstead College, gave a stimulating and interesting talk on the topic, Enthusiastic Teachers and Unenthusiastic Pupils.

Dr. Hutchison spoke with wisdom and understanding on the problem of drop-outs. He said that he felt high school students did not have the right goals in view while they were in school; the temptation to leave before graduation in order to have money in their pockets was too strong for some of them to resist. He noted with regret that their morale tended to deteriorate as they went up the school.

The speaker urged the teachers to be enthusiastic about what they were teaching. He maintained that sincere enthusiasm was bound to rub off to some extent on the pupils and they would thus be stimulated to new efforts and a love for academic things.

He thought there were many efficient teachers, doing a conscientious job, but emphasized that efficiency was not enough; there must also be enthusiasm, understanding and humor.

Dr. Hutchison was introduced by H. Costello, principal of

Mary Brooks Picken on sewing

Sew sheer for wearing pleasure

Now that georgette crepe and crepe de Chine are again available, and with the nylon crepes and chiffons so easy to buy, fabric displays and counters show many and lovely sheers, plain and flowered; some in large design, some small. An advantage of plain fabric is that you can wear it longer, but it has the disadvantage of showing spots.

We can find in texture, price, and color exactly the fabric best suited to us and our purpose.

Slim or stout, a sheer fabric will hang limp enough to be becoming. A stand-out skirt can be achieved with an extra-stiff net or taffeta petticoat.

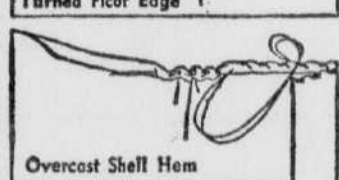

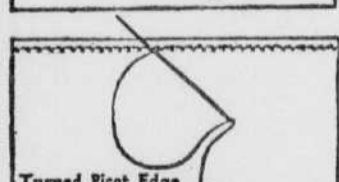

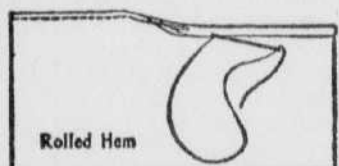

The bodice of a sheer should be lined with a soft crepe or nylon, and there should be an underskirt of the same color, cut the same as the outside; taffeta if you want it to stand out, crepe if it is to hang softly.

When stitching sheer fabric, stitch on tissue; the needle cuts paper away. This way your seam will not be light.

Stitch the neck so seams come between lining and outside. Face the armholes unless sleeves are used.

The underslip should be 1-inch shorter than the outside, and have its hem free from the dress. For that, a picot edge can be used, or an overcast shell hem as shown in sketch detail. For the outside skirt, stitch 1/4-inch from the edge. Trim close, and finish with a rolled hem

For the belt, there is a press-on pelonite that you buy at your notion counter. First, cut a belt of fabric. Then, cut the seam allowance off your belt pattern, cut the stiffener without seams. Press this as directed against one thickness of belt.

Lay the lining for the belt over the right (top side) of the belt, stitch the ends and bottom seams. Turn belt right-side-out; turn raw edges in and whip to place. Press the belt, put it on over the dress, close it correctly, marking with pins; sew snap fasteners or hooks and eyes for a neat closing.

Because it often is difficult to have a wrap exactly right for wear with a sheer dress, a stole seems advisable. Buy 1 1/2 yards extra of the dress material; if dress is plain, buy a happily matching print, or vice versa.

Fold the fabric through the center the long way, stitch across the crosswise ends. Clip the seam and overcast it. Turn right-side-out and press. If the selvages are not attractive, trim them off-stitch one end and lengthwise edges. Turn stole right-side-out and slip stitch the open end.

Such a stole can be glamorous, becoming, and so comfortable when some warmth is needed.

Dear Mrs. Picken: I want to make neckties. Can you help me? — C. E.

Dear C. E.: Many women make neckties—some make them for gifts, others make them to sell. Choose fabrics that are right in color for men's apparel. Choose a fabric that does not stretch too easily.

Rip up a discarded necktie that is of recent vintage, use this for a pattern, allow for seams as on the tie. Note interlining and buy the same type. Take care in cutting, seaming, pressing—all essential to good sewing.

Marriage

Hamelin - Sherrer

DUNKIN — The marriage of Elaine Joyce, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Sherrer, of Dunkin and Ross John, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hamelin, of Mansonville, took place quietly on Friday morning, May 25, at St. Paul's Anglican Church in Mansonville. Rev. Gerald Tulk officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white peau de sole, fashioned with a cowl neckline and short sleeves. Her elbow length veil was held in place by a pearl tiara. Her only jewelry was a cultural pearl pendant with matching earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white hyacinth. The bride was unattended.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was served at the home of the bride, the lace covered table being centered with a three-tier wedding cake, decorated by Mrs. Cousins of Bolton Centre. Tulips and lilac completed the decor.

Later the couple left for a motor trip to Ontario, the bride travelling in a two-piece ensemble of pink arnel with white and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamelin have taken up residence in Dunkin.

ASK THE DESIGNER

by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: I am 11 years old and would like to know what to wear to camp this summer. It will be in June. Please tell me what to wear on the bus (as that's what I will be riding on). I will be there five days.—P. B.

Dear P. B.: First of all, most camps have regulations about what you should wear. So you had better ask mother to write to the camp counselor to see what she suggests you bring along. Now, more advice comes from designer Helen Lee of Alyssa, who says:

"For camp, you will probably need shorts and shirts or knit tops, pajamas and robe and sneakers. As for the bus trip, pick a dress you can wear both coming and going. A dark green or navy in a mixture of dacron and cotton would be nice and would stay fresh. By all means, take a sweater along. Either wear it or have it handy in a small bag."

Dear Gaile: Last year, I bought a dark blue dress, an eyelet batiste. I was so fond of it that I have ordered another one in black. Should the slip I wear with it match or may I wear a light slip? Last year, I wore a slip to match but I have seen both types of slip worn here in Philadelphia.—L. M.

Dear L. M.: I talked to Jean Hall, designer for Munsingwear, about your particular fashion question. She suggests:

"Try a clear yellow under that black eyelet; I think you'll like the effect very much. Actually, you're correct in thinking that you can wear a black slip if you like. But never wear white with such a dress. Experiment a bit. Wear the dress when you go to buy the slip and try on some bright prints. Print slips in clear colors are new and fresh and I think you might like this look under a dark eyelet dress."

Dear Gaile: Recently, I started wearing muu-muus. I would like some advice on when and where they should be worn. Also, what type of shoes should be worn with them? I appreciate any help that you can give me.—M. W. D.

Dear M. W. D.: Since you live in Florida, the muu-muu can be worn both around the house or on the patio. It may even be worn as swimsuit cover-up on the beach. It's an informal, easy way to dress. Advice as to the shoes to be worn with it comes from designer Maureen Spindit of Bernardo. She says:

"The thong sandal, flat slipper or flat, open sandal are all correct with the muu-muu. A textured leather would be pretty and, for patio wear, you might consider the thong sandal in gold leather."

Women's Groups

ALDRERSHOT CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

The regular monthly meeting of the Aldershot Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held in May at the I.O.D.E. house on Moore St., with the Regent Mrs. S. K. Barnes presiding.

The secretary's report and the treasurer's report were read.

A motion was made that fees for the National projects would be paid which included: Peace Garden, Overseas Relief, Shipping fund, Korean project, National Emergency fund, Canadian Scene and Commonwealth Relations.

The regent thanked the members for their support at the Municipal Anniversary dinner.

Mrs. R. Wheeler gave a very interesting resume of the dinner for the benefit of those who were unable to attend.

The members agreed that Mrs. R. Bishop should be Aldershot Chapter's delegate at the National annual meetings in Prince Edward Island.

Mrs. W. Girling read a letter of thanks from Miss V. Hatch for the renewal of magazines for Lawrence School. She also reported that two Grade ten boys attended the United Nations seminar at Macdonald College.

It was voted to continue the cash prizes for Industry and Effort for a Grade nine boy and girl entering Grade ten.

A sum of money was to be donated to the Y.W.C.A. to sponsor an underprivileged child for a full month's day camp in July.

The next meeting will be held in September with a social evening.

The meeting was adjourned and an enjoyable lunch was served by Mrs. B. Wallace and Mrs. A. Pearson.

ST. FAITH'S EVENING GUILD

The May meeting of the St. Faith's Evening Guild was held in St. Peter's Church hall on May 23 with the president, Mrs. Rice in the chair.

Mrs. C. Bishop will act as president for the remainder of the year, due to the fact that Mrs. Rice is leaving Sherbrooke.

Mrs. J. Davidson is to be in charge of the telephoning committee and Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Munster will continue to be on the committee.

The annual mitten sale was tentatively set for October 23.

The meeting was adjourned by Mrs. Hughes, followed by refreshments being served by the hostesses, Mrs. G. Bishop and Mrs. A. Munster.

Mrs. C. Bishop, on behalf of the Guild, presented Mrs. Rice with a gift of appreciation.

ST. MARGARET'S GUILD CHURCH OF THE ADVENT

A meeting of St. Margaret's Guild was held in the church hall recently following a very successful rummage sale.

The meeting was opened with prayer and the minutes of previous meeting read. The treasurer reported the recent card party had been successful.

Routine business was disposed of and bills ordered paid. The Guild will recess until September.

Refreshments were served by Miss Knapp.

One-piece swimsuit flatters the figure

An attractive swimsuit will always draw attention. It's a rare man on the beach who won't chance an appraising look at the feminine scenery.

The length of the glance depends pretty much on whether or not his wife is with him. But whether that glance will be one of appreciation or derision was decided the day the swimsuit was bought.

For anyone who is not a slim teen, there's just one kind of swimsuit that will be flattering—the one-piece suit.

As for the mature woman who thinks she looks young in a bikini, I suggest she look in a full-length mirror before she ventures on the beach. Unless she's wearing the rosiest glasses ever made, she'll give up the idea.

The bikini will get attention, but any dictionary will tell you that attention isn't a synonym for admiration. You might long to be a slim young thing, but wishing won't make it so. Give some thought to becoming an attractive woman instead.

Brighten Rainy Day

There's no point in adding to the dreariness of a rainy day by going to class in a combination of old clothes. The teen-ager who wears any old thing on wet days is missing a chance to lift her own spirits and collect a few compliments, too.

A gay raincoat, matching umbrella and colorful boots will protect any clothes you choose to wear.

Decide ahead of time on a rainy day hairdo for yourself. If your hair is slightly wavy, a neat page boy will survive the weather. If your locks are straight, try wearing it in smooth and shiny style.

Whatever you do, don't use the rain as an excuse to look sloppy.

Tips for Tanning
The right lotion for suntanning contains a chemical sunscreens that will block off enough ultra-violet rays to lessen the danger of burning, without preventing tanning.

No one product can be all things to all people, and you must choose the one that suits your complexion best. Sun tan oil produces a rapid tan, and overexposure must be avoided. Sun tan cream offers greater protection, and sun tan lotion, which is non-oily, provides good protection for most people.

Don't make the mistake of thinking you don't need a sunscreen when you sit under an umbrella. Its shade won't prevent the sun's rays from bouncing off sand and water.

Annual G. A. Festival Held at Quebec Lodge

MASSAWIPPI — The Annual Festival of the Girls' Auxiliary of the Anglican Diocese of Quebec was again held in the Diocesan Youth Campsite, Quebec Lodge, with a registration of 136 girls and leaders from branches as widely separated in the diocese as Keegan and Fitch Bay, or Three Rivers and Lennoxville.

The weekend Festival began on Friday evening, May 25, with a program of singing, folk-dancing and games in the Recreation Hall. Talent Show competitions were presented, varying from a short skit to a chorus-line and minstrel-show. Mr. Troubetzkov, of Bishop's College School, gave an instructive and humorous adjudication.

After Sung Mattins next morning, taken by the Festival's padre, Canon S. A. Meade, and with a helpful talk by Rev. E. W. Harrison, various competitions were under way, and entries of handicraft and Dorcas work from the various branches were on display in the Recreation Hall.

Competitions in singing, physical fitness exercises, Mission study, home nursing and volleyball continued at various times during the day. A highlight of the day was again the instructive adjudication and practising of the Festival Anthem by Morris Austin, organist of St. Peter's Church, Sherbrooke.

ADDRESS
After a picnic supper on the lawn near the Staff House, the girls again assembled in the hall to hear a challenging address, followed by a question-time, by Miss Sheila McDonough, of Montreal, who spoke of her work in a girls' college in West Pakistan, where she spent three years as a short-term missionary. Miss McDonough is presently attending the Institute of Islamic Studies at McGill University.

Following this, some of the talent shows were repeated, in part, and then came the awarding of trophies and prizes for the various sections and entries, including presentation of luggage to the retiring Diocesan Girls' Secretary, Mrs. S. A. Meade, with a tribute to her long and faithful work in office.

For most at the Festival, the impressive climax was again the Service of Eucharist at 10:30 a.m. Rogation Sunday. Miss McDonough was asked to give the second part of her talk at this time, speaking on Vocation and What It Should Mean. The celebrant was Canon Meade who also was asked to make a special presentation of a Ring of Honor to Sue Blake, of St. Michael's, Silly, awarded by her branch. The Festival Anthem was sung first in two parts, and then with a descant setting.

NEW FEATURE
A new feature of the Festival this year was the presence of a number of girls who will be assisting the staff at the Girls' summer camps at the Lodge as counsellors. They were able to confer from time to time with the director for both the girls' camps, Mrs. Genevieve Cazes, of Quebec. Several G. A. Links were also present — and a presentation was made to one of them for work completed, by Mrs. Elsie Lobdell, Diocesan Links' secretary.

The Festival weekend owes its success to the capable direction and planning of Mrs. S. A. Meade, Diocesan Girls' secretary — to the meals under the preparation of Mrs. Bailey, and the cooperation of those who assisted in carrying out the various parts of the program — not least the helpful adjudications of those who acted as judges of the various sections.

PRIZE-WINNERS
There follows a list of prize-winners: Big Challenge Cup, for top aggregate: St. Michael's, Silly, Quebec; Little Challenge Cup, for second place standing: St. John the Divine, Thetford Mines; Mission Study Cup, Thetford Mines; Dorcas Cup, St. Michael's, Silly; Physical Fitness Cup, St. Michael's, Silly; Volley Ball Cup, Kenogami; Home Nursing, St. Matthew's, Quebec; Talent Show, Thetford Mines; Handicrafts, Fitch Bay; Singing Shield, Drummondville. By the system of marking and awarding, followed again this year, a branch can only accept one award in each section or part; so that in some cases the trophy itself went to a branch having the next-highest marks. The director and leaders are very grateful to these judges: Mrs. T. J. Matthews, Mrs. J. D. R. Franklin, Miss Menzies, of King's Hall, Compton, Miss Pam Moore, of Magog, Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Harrison, of Quebec, Mr. Troubetzkov, of Bishop's College School, Rev. H. C. A. and Mrs. Denton, of Hatley, and Mr. Morris Austin, of Sherbrooke and Massawippi.

Meeting held by Red Cross at Sawyerville

SAWYERVILLE — The Red Cross met on May 23 at the home of Mrs. Gordon Forgrave in Sawyerville with 16 present. The afternoon was spent sewing and knitting, and several finished articles were turned in. During the business meeting, donations were voted to the Cancer Fund and the Sherbrooke Hospital Campaign.

A letter was read from Red Cross headquarters in Montreal explaining the work required would be different, since the articles of clothing made would be going to the tropics.

A humorous reading was given by Miss Margaret Wilson. It was planned to have the next meeting in the afternoon on June 13, in the W.I. Hall in East Clifton, when the group will entertain members of the East Clifton Women's Institute.

GENERAL NOTES
Mrs. Kenneth McBurney spent several days in Montreal, when she went to visit her little son in the Children's Memorial Hospital. Miss Myrtle Thompson, of Montreal, spent a weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Thompson.

SWEETSBURG —
Mrs. William Merchant has left by jet for Dusseldorf, Scotland, to spend three months with her sister, who is ill. Mrs. Merchant will also visit friends in Callander and other Scottish towns.

Mr. Alex Taylor is erecting a garage for Mr. Raymond Godreau on the west side of his lot.

Trenholm UCW hears talk on life in Africa

TRENHOLM — At the monthly meeting of the United Church Women, the guest speaker, Rev. Miss E. Carr, of Ulverton, told of her trip to Africa how the people there dress and live, illustrating her talk with slides. Miss Carr was introduced by Mrs. Simpson and thanked by Mrs. W. Stevens.

The meeting was held on May 23, in the church hall with Mrs. W. Knowles at the piano for the opening hymn.

Sixteen members answered the roll call and the guests were welcomed. Correspondence included a note of thanks from Mrs. L. Wintle for flowers sent to the family in their bereavement.

Mrs. V. Morrow and Mrs. P. Brock offered to clean the church for June.

Flanellette was reported purchased to be made into diapers to be sent to a charitable organization. Literature for U.C.W. was also on hand.

Mrs. Lyall Simpson gave a brief on the annual presbytery to be held in Lennoxville on May 31. Delegates appointed were: Mrs. C. Brock, Mrs. L. Wintle, Mrs. F. Mills and Mrs. W. Stevens with Mrs. D. Goodfellow and Mrs. O. Taylor as substitutes.

A plant and bulb sale held after the meeting netted $5.60.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. Mills, Mrs. V. Morrow, Mrs. B. Reid and Mrs. S. Stevens.

The next meeting will be held on June 27, at the home of Mrs. Orin Taylor with Mrs. W. Stevens, co-hostess, and Mrs. F. Wintle in charge of devotions.

A performance of Winter Night with moon, Louise Cuture, stars Louise Kimmel, Sylvia MacNab, night clouds, Pam Davidson, Jill McCaw, snow flakes — Grade 2 pupils.

The expert detail of the costumes was excellent and the musical accompaniment consisted of selections from Brahms, Chopin and Schumann, adapted to the performers by the pianist, Mrs. Alex MacArthur.

Flowers were presented to Miss Chamberlain and Mrs. MacArthur as a mark of appreciation from the pupils.

DUBLIN RANGE —

Guests at the Robinson home over the weekend included Messrs. Donald Gerald, and Douglas Robinson and Miss Helen McIntosh, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brophy, of St. Therese, Miss Geraldine Robinson and Mr. Clinton King, of Thetford Mines.

Mr. Raymond Dempsey, of Montreal, spent the weekend at his home here.

Mrs. James Carroll, of Inverness, is spending an indefinite time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carroll and family. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robinson were in Lennoxville to attend the funeral of Mrs. Edgar Walker.

SUTTON

Sutton Pack and Troop held their first outdoor meeting of the year on the farm of Fred Knights, when Cubmaster Knights and A.C.M. Hawley were invested by A.D.C. Madden. Following the ceremony the following Chums received their neckerchiefs and badges and were invested into the Cub Pack, L. Langacher, J. Breslain, G. Townsend, M. Hawley, and P. Rutter.

At this point the troop arrived under the leadership of Scoutmaster S. N. Kirby. This led to the going-up ceremony of a Leaping Wolf Cub, Senior Sixer John Hawley. The new Scout received the Grand Howl from his old cub pack and was welcomed into the Troop by the Scoutmaster, and given three cheers by the Scouts.

Games were played between the Scouts and Cubs, and among themselves, in a natural hollow in the woods. Cubmaster Knights' farm is situated on a high point in Sutton, one side of the hill being a maple grove, which is an ideal camping and meeting place. Mr. Knights has allowed the Cubs this area as a meeting place and plans are being made to use it this summer for cook-outs and camping. All Scouts attended the two monthly meeting of the Group Committee at the Legion Hall under the chairmanship of V.C.M. Nick Bleser. Plans were laid for the camporee held on the weekend in Vermont, 18 Scouts from Sutton Troop attending. N. Whitford was appointed transport officer and Mr. Millinchamp was appointed and attendance, each year winning top awards. The two Thetford Patrol Leaders were given the honor of representing Canada at the flag lowering ceremony. The Canadian piper also received an award.

THETFORD MINES

Twelve boys from Thetford attended the American Boy Scouts Association Green Mountains Camporee at Camp Sunrise in Benson, Vt.

This was the third consecutive year that representatives from here have attended the Camporee and each year they have brought home top honours. This year a younger, more inexperienced group of boys attended. None had ever been to the Camporee before, but still competed favourably. Approximately 400 boys were at the camp, 130 of them being Canadian.

The Thetford groups were the Lynx Patrol, with Jackie Little as Patrol Leader, Lyman Canning as Second, and Mark Riley Alan Henderson, Robbie Steele, Dennis Lovett; the Rattlesnake Patrol, headed by Patrol Leader Terry MacMillan, with Peter Bateman, Second, Billy MacKenzie, Timmy Riordon, James Messel and John Oughtred. All of the Canadian boys were from the Eastern Townships.

Both Thetford Patrols won "A" Pennants; the Lynx Patrol placed third and the Rattlesnake fifth in final judging. The Canadian contingent was asked to host the Campfire Night.

One of the E.T. patrol had with them a bagpipe and piped in the ceremony, which consisted of two Canadian and two American boys placing symbolic logs on the campfire. Mark Riley, of Thetford, was chosen as one of the two Canadians to take part.

The Thetford Scoutmaster, George Riley received a gift to commemorate Thetford's third consecutive year in at-

MELBOURNE

Mrs. Ethel Fehrson of Greenfield, Mass., Mrs. Eula Patterson, of White River Jet., Vt., and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ingram, of Montreal East, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Henderson. Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Fehrson also visited Mr. and Mrs. John Bowring.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Fleming and daughter, Miss Sylvia Fleming, of Pointe Claire, and Miss Marjory Barr, of Montreal, spent the weekend with Mr. Robert Barr and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Aulis and daughter, Barbara, have moved into their newly-acquired home. Guests over the weekend were Mr. Aulis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Aulis, of Tomifobia.

The World of SPORTS

The Boomer available to no one, says Ken Reardon, spikes rumors, NHL opens three-day stand today

MONTREAL (CP) — The shiny dream that lured New York Rangers general manager, Muzz Patrick, into blissful hopefulness appeared today to have burst.

As the National Hockey League swung into its three-day annual meeting, Patrick's efforts to get Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion from Montreal Canadiens seemed squelched.

Vice-president Ken Reardon of Canadiens said Sunday night: "As far as I am concerned Geoffrion is available to nobody but Canadiens."

Patrick began his pitch towards Canadiens a few days ago. He said he understood Canadiens were not too happy with the mercurial Geoffrion, whose scoring fell off sharply last season, and that New York would "go higher than anybody else to get him."

DON'T NEED MONEY
It is generally accepted in hockey circles that Canadiens don't need money, and Patrick neglected to mention any players he would be willing to give up. One source close to Canadiens said Patrick would have to hand over established stars—such as Andy Bathgate and Dean Prentice—even if he had a remote chance of getting the husky Boom Boom.

It is known that the Montreal club has desperate problems of its own. It must decide which of its potential young stars and which of the veterans still far from over the hill it must shelter from the draft.

At the same time, the club would far rather make a deal than see an unprotected player snatched away for the $20,000 draft price.

Each club can protect 18 players plus two goalies, and as usual the NHL champions are pretty well loaded with top, experienced talent and with youngsters ready for a crack at the big time.

EXPECT LIVELY TALKS
With the NHL's intra-league draft not on the agenda until Wednesday, there was a promise of liveliness in deals and talks of deals during the two intervening days.

Boston Bruins will undoubtedly be in the thick of any hockey-market swaps. They're particularly anxious to pick up a well-experienced goalie. There have been reports they'd like to get Charlie Hodge, in the Montreal chain. Hodge has had plenty of NHL experience as understudy to Jacques Plante but is said to be averse to moving out of Canada for business reasons.

The NHL rules committee meets today to start off proceedings, and the joint rules committee—representatives of the pros and the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association—meets later.

The inter-league draft comes up Tuesday, when NHL clubs draft from the Western Hockey League and the Eastern Canada Professional League.

Little tinkering with the rules is expected. The CAHA wants to make some changes but must get the pros' consent under the joint agreement.

ADS wins girls track championship

Alouettes say trade is okay

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League said Saturday they consider a four-man trade with Calgary Stampeders is legal despite a ruling that the deal is "temporarily void."

The ruling was handed down Friday by Syd Halter, commissioner of the league.

The trade involved Joe Caruthers and John McMurtry of Calgary and Hal Krebs of Montreal. Another unnamed Calgary player is to be sent to Montreal later.

Halter made his ruling after Edmonton Eskimos challenged Calgary's right to trade the players without having them pass through the player equalization draft of the Western Football Conference.

"We feel the trade is perfectly okay," said an Alouette spokesman.

Bill DeWitt agrees to leave Birds in Cincinnati for at least five years

CINCINNATI (AP) — Owner Bill DeWitt has temporarily handed control of Cincinnati Reds' board of trustees back to the Crosley Foundation and agreed to keep the National League team here at least five years.

The move Sunday complicated the already-muddled sale of the team to DeWitt last March 23 for $4,625,000.

The next move is up to Attorney-General Mark McElroy of Ohio, who said last month he would investigate sale of the club under his powers to supervise charitable foundations such as the Crosley group.

DeWitt said Sunday he has written Mrs. Stanley Kess, who heads the foundation, giving his pledge to keep the team in Cincinnati at least five years.

Powel Crosley Jr., the Reds' late owner, had made a similar bargain with the City of Cincinnati, promising to keep the Reds here in return for $20,000 worth of added parking around Crosley Field. That agreement runs out after this season.

MAY NAME DIRECTORS
DeWitt also promised Mrs. Kess that the foundation would have the right to name a majority of directors of the baseball club until the purchase price is paid off.

The board of Cincinnati Reds Incorporated, formed when DeWitt bought the club, is made up of DeWitt and two trustees of the Crosley Foundation—Stanley Kess and Michael Haydock.

McElroy said he wanted to investigate the sale after he received reports that a group headed by Joseph P. Rippe Jr., Cincinnati real estate dealer, had offered $5,500,000 for the club.

At the time of the sale announcement, Thomas C. Haydock, spokesman and trustee of the foundation, said he had seen no offer higher than DeWitt's.

Sixteen athletes from the Asbestos Danville Shipton High School amassed a total of 70 points Saturday afternoon and walked away with their second consecutive Hi-Y Girl's Track Meet championship.

Their closest competitor was Sherbrooke High School with 36 points, a distant 34 points away.

Standouts in the meet were two sisters, Brenda and Martha Smyth, of Asbestos. Brenda counted 23 individual points to win the Y's Men's Trophy in the senior division and Martha copped the N. W. Mitchell Trophy with 24 points in the midget division.

Their combined points, 47, represent well over half of their whole teams total of 70.

Following SHS in third place was Cowansville with 34, Sunnyside with 32, Knowlton, 26, two teams were tied for sixth spot with 24½. Granby and Lennoxville, Richmond came seventh, with 24, and Bury and Sutton came eighth and ninth with 3 and 8 points respectively.

Eleven records fell by the wayside in the day-long meet, six of them coming in the senior division. J. Porter of GHS bettered the old senior high jump mark with a leap of 4 ft. 9 in. Brenda Smyth set records in the 75 yd. dash, the 8 lb. shot and the broad jump. She also was a part of her team's relay squad, who smashed the old 440 record. The other record in the senior class came in the discus set by P. Horne of KHS.

In the midget class, three records were set by Martha Smyth and one by N. Smith of Sunnyside. Martha set new marks in the 75 yd. dash, the 100 yd. dash and the broad jump while N. Smith set a new record for the 6 lb. shot.

The other record came in the bantam division and was set by S. Nutbrown of SHS. She leaped 12 ft. 5 in. to better the old broad jump mark. No records were broken in the pee wee class.

Dave Perkins, chairman of the meet, presided at the presentation of trophies immediately following the last event on the card. The Rotary Club trophy, awarded annually to the winner of the meet was presented by Paul Carriere and accepted by Martha Smyth, captain of the ADS track team.

In addition to separate trophies awarded to the Smyth sisters, A. Apps of RHS was presented with the Gosselin Trophy for winning the high aggregate in the Pee Wee division and M. Rediker, high aggregate winner of the bantam class was awarded the Jim MacKinnon trophy.

Bruce Kidd, Canada's teen-age whiz kid, walks off with honors in meet at Compton, Cal., sets new records

COMPTON, Calif. (CP-AP)—more than a stride, until the Bruce Kidd has proved he can mingle with the finest and make them bow to him.

Kidd, Canada's teen-age track whiz, won the 5,000-meter run Saturday night at the annual Compton Invitational track meet for the second year in a row.

The runner who finished behind him was the same as last year—little Max Truex of Los Angeles.

And badly beaten in third place was Murray Halberg, the New Zealand star who has come within an ace of tying the world record for the 5,000 and was figured by most to beat Kidd handsily in this race.

Kidd, a student at the University of Toronto, set United States records for both 5,000 metres and three miles.

AHEAD OF BEATY
The Canadian runner passed the three-mile mark in 13 minutes, 17.4 seconds, clipping almost four seconds off Truex's old mark of 13:21. He hit the tape in 13:43.8, well ahead of the previous record of 13:51.7 held by Jim Beatty.

Truex followed Kidd closely across the finish line in 13:57.6. It was Halberg's first loss in formal competition in the 5,000 since 1957. Last year he came within two-tenths of a second of tying Russian Vladimir Kuts' world record of 13:35.

Kidd, 18, who runs for the East York Track Club, is expected to meet Truex and Halberg again in the 5,000 at the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union's national track and field championships to be held at nearby Walnut, Calif., June 22-23.

Harrington meets Fernandez July 14
NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Harrington feels he's ready now to go against the welterweight division's ranking contenders.

The 28-year-old Hawaiian will get the chance to prove his merit at Madison Square Garden here July 14 when he takes on formidable Jorge Fernandez, the No. 4 contender from Argentina.

Harrington earned the shot by gaining a split decision in 10 rounds Saturday night over sharp-punching Charley Scott, although he was floored for the first time of his career.

Scott, well behind after four rounds, dropped the Honolulu native with a sizzling left hook to the jaw in the fifth round. Harrington barely made it up at a count of nine.

EARNED EDGE
After that it was a slugfest to the final bell, with Harrington earning the edge on a strong finish in the last two rounds.

Referee Barney Felix (5-4-1) and judge Bill Recht (6-2-2) voted for Harrington, the 8-5 underdog. Judge Tony Rossi had Scott, of Philadelphia, ahead 5-4-1.

It was Harrington's sixth straight victory and his record now is 41-8-1. Scott, once a leading contender but no longer ranked among the top 10, has a 30-19 record.

Harrington weighed 148½, Scott 148.

Pittsburgh signs 18-year-old for about $70,000
PITTSBURGH (AP) — The newest Pittsburgh Pirate bonus baby is expected at Forbes Field Tuesday to begin a week-long workout with the National League Pirates.

Carl Taylor of Key West, Fla., 18-year-old catcher, signed a professional contract Sunday a few hours after graduating from high school.

Amount of the bonus was not disclosed. Some estimates placed the figure at $70,000, but a Pirate spokesman said it was too high.

Taylor is a step-brother of John (Boog) Powell, rookie outfielder for Baltimore Orioles.

Hebert wins with 30-ft. putt on playoff hole
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., had victory in his clutches, then retrieved it deftly in the first sudden-death playoff hole of the $40,000 Memphis Open golf tournament.

He rrammed in a 30-foot putt on the 19th hole to grab top money of $6,400 from South Africa's Gary Player and United States Open champion Gene Littler in the three-way playoff Sunday.

It was a game recovery from bitter disappointment on the last of the regulation holes where Hebert was putting for an eagle and needed a birdie to win.

His first putt rolled almost the width of the green and stopped three feet from the cup. The second stroke rolled inches past the mark, giving him a three-under-par 67 at the Colonial Country Club course.

PARS 18TH HOLE
Player parred the 18th for a 68 after recovering from a trap. Littler chipped close and dropped a putt to birdie the same hole for a 66 and a spot in the playoff.

On the decisive 19th all three men hit the green in two. To show he still could putt after the fluff on 18, Hebert whacked a hard one that rolled true to the cup for a birdie. Player ran his putt past the cup and Littler patted his to the rim, where it refused to drop in.

Hebert, Littler and Player finished the regulation 72 holes at 267. Littler and Player each won $3,050.

Lionel's brother, Jay, and Bruce Crampton finished a stroke behind the leaders and won $2,050.

Al Balding of Toronto shot a final-round 74 for 280, good for $220.

Arnold Palmer, the pre-tournament favorite, had 70 Sunday for 278 and $365.

Al Hooker hurls four-hitter as Alouettes split with Granby Knights

Drop afternoon tilt 7-2 but rally in evening to take win 5-2, next home game Thursday with Coaticook

Sherbrooke Alouettes split their twinbill with Granby Knights losing in the afternoon 7-5 in an abbreviated six-inning duel but in the evening Al Hooker came up with a fine four-hit performance to post a 5-2 win and earn the split. Drummondville Royals divided their bill with Coaticook losing 5-2 but in the evening fixture at home they came up with a 3-2 victory.

In the other series on the card between Acton Vale and St. John it was another split. The Beavers posted a 12-2 win in the afternoon to officially open their home season but in the evening the Pirates came up with a 7-4 decision. Following Sunday's games the standing remains the same.

Tomorrow evening the Alouettes journey to Coaticook while the Royals and Pirates clash. Als' next home game is Thursday evening when Coaticook will be the visiting club.

Al Hooker came up with a fine hurling display in holding the league leaders to four hits, one a homer to right-fielder Jacques. The Als were charged with two errors and both figured in the second inning to allow the Knights tally their two runs.

Jacques opened with his homer on a one-pitch and then Pratt followed with a single. He moved to second on the play when centre-fielder Robichaud fumbled the ball. He slid into third when Norm Jacques lost the ball and on the recovery peg he raced home with Granby's second tally.

From then on Hooker took control and backed by perfect fielding by his mates held the Knights to two scattered singles, one in the fourth and the other in the eighth. He retired five at the plate and issued only two free walks.

The Als held a good time at the plate and found Mallette's offerings to their liking. They tallied one run in the second on two hits but in the third they crossed the plate twice on a single hit. Mallette passed two and this coupled with Robichaud's bingle and a stolen base accounted for the runs.

In the fifth they opened up on Mallette and drove him to the showers. They belted four straight singles before coach Pratt lifted him for Lefty Paquette, who finally retired the side. The Als got one run and then added one more in the eighth to give Hooker a comfortable 5-2 lead going into the ninth.

In the final frame Hooker got the first at the plate and then forced the other two to hit to the shortstop and the tilt was over. A good crowd was on hand and it was a big night as prizes were handed out to the fans.

Tigers continue winning streak, edge Indians

While the rest of the elite in the American League derby have been all but marking time on a two-week treadmill, Detroit's onrushing Tigers have been making up ground like a stretch-running colt threading his way through a pack of tiring contenders.

The Tigers gained another length Sunday, outlasting Cleveland Indians 8-6 for their 12th victory in 15 starts—a profitable span that has enabled Detroit to pick up four full games in the race and advance from seventh place to fourth, just one game off the pace.

Meanwhile, New York Yankees moved into a share of first place with the Indians by beating Los Angeles Angels 6-3 on some heavy hitting by Elston Howard, and Minnesota Twins further tightened things up with a 7-5 decision over Washington Senators that left the Twins only half a game behind the co-leaders.

Chicago White Sox got by Baltimore's skidding Orioles 2-0 in the day's only other action. Boston Red Sox and the Athletics were rained out at Kansas City.

The Tigers downed Cleveland 5-3 Saturday while the Yankees lost 6-1 at Los Angeles and the Twins crushed Washington 9-2. Boston whipped Kansas City 9-2 and the White Sox split a doubleheader at Baltimore, winning 10-2 and losing 11-4.

RIVALS BROKE EVEN
While the Tigers have been on their 12-3 tear, the other four clubs in the first division—the Indians, Yankees, Twins and Angels—have barely stayed above .500 with 8-7 marks.

Detroit took a 6-0 lead behind Don Mossi Sunday but the left-handed needed a lot of help before his fourth straight victory was clinched. The Indians staged a four-run uprising in the eighth inning against Mossi, Ron Kline and Jerry Casale, making it 7-7, but rookie southpaw Ron Nischwitz struck out Willie Kirkland and Mike de la Hoz grounded into the third, leaving two runners stranded.

The Tigers nicked Pedro Ramos for a run in the first, then routed him with a five-run second. Chico Fernandez led off the inning with a homer, two walks and Billy Bruton's single loaded the bases, and Mossi and the fleet Jake Wood both scored on Charlie Maxwell's 410-foot sacrifice fly. Norm Cash then capped the inning with his 14th homer, off Barry Lantman.

Fernandez singled home what stood up as the winner in the fifth, and Wood's single and stolen base, plus another single by Bruton produced another Detroit run in the eighth. Lantman and Willie Tasby homered for Cleveland.

HOWARD HITS TWO
Howard belted a pair of two-run homers in teaming with John Blanchard to spark the Yankees offense. The Yankee catcher connected off loser Eli Grba in the second and against Art Fowler in the eighth, both times following singles by Blanchard. Howard, who also doubled, whacked each of his homers over 400 feet, the first going to right and the second to left.

Blanchard knocked in the two other runs with a third-inning single.

Giants sweep series with Mets as Dodgers stumble in Philadelphia to drop behind 2 1/2 games, Cards lose Feeling run down and need a tonic? New York Mets will pick you up.

Both San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers have been on the Met diet recently. The Giants and Dodgers won 13 of the 15 games that the Mets have lost in a row. Both clubs left the Polo Grounds with new health and wealth.

The five Met dates in New York with the Dodgers and Giants drew a total of 197,383, a brilliant financial coup. But the price was steep. After knocking heads in California and New York with two front-runners, the Mets are embedded in 10th place with a sorry 12-34 record.

The Giants completed a four-game sweep Sunday with a 6-1 victory that left them 2 1/2 games in front of the Dodgers, who stumbled in Philadelphia both Saturday night and Sunday after winning 13 in a row. The Phillies came from behind and dumped the Dodgers Sunday 7-5.

Cincinnati Reds, Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals, running third, fourth and fifth, all lost Sunday. The Reds, beaten 6-3 by Chicago Cubs, now trail by 6 1/2. Pittsburgh, winner of seven in a row, bowed twice to Houston Colts 10-6 and 10-3 and dropped eight games back. St. Louis lost its eighth straight, bowing to Milwaukee Braves 6-4, and fell 12 games behind the leaders.

METS TRIED HARD
The Mets gave the Giants a good fight for six innings. Bob Miller, a non-winner, had struck out eight men and allowed only one run—Willie Mays' 9th homer—until San Francisco broke through with five runs in the seventh. Miller walked winning pitcher Juan Marchal with the bases loaded, forcing in the tie-breaking run.

The Phillies, who shut out the Dodgers 7-0 Saturday night behind rookie Dennis Bennett, shocked Los Angeles again Sunday after trailing 4-0 at one stage. Johnny Callison came through with four straight hits and three runs batted in while the Dodgers were unable to Child, 13, hit by wild pitch and is killed

TRINIDAD, Calif. (AP) — A 13-year-old Babe Ruth League baseball player died Sunday when he was hit in the throat by a wild pitch during batting practice.

Witnesses said Ronald Christie was standing outside the batting cage when the pitch hit him, caving in his windpipe.

The one adult on hand summoned aid but respiration attempts failed and the town's only doctor could not be located.

The youth was dead by the time he reached the nearest hospital 15 miles away in Arcata.

24 --- Two-Handed

When your stroke goes wrong, the first thing you should check is your backswing.

Usually you'll find that you're raising your shoulders as you take the club back. This error throws the controlled arc swing out of whack at the outset. It is caused by picking up the club, instead of swinging it.

Coordination of the hands is particularly important in the backswing.

There seems to be a natural tendency to take the club back with the left hand only, the right only going along for the ride. The left hand must guide, but the right has a job to do, too. If you make sure you have the feel of the club with the fingers of your right hand, the chances are that hand will function as it should.

Practicing the backswing, it is a good idea to try to decapitate an imaginary clover about 18 inches behind the ball. This will give your swing a broader arc. You shouldn't have to worry about breaking the wrists too soon—before they reach waist level—if you take the club back properly.

The break should come naturally.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts accuses National League umpire Landes of "flagrant abuse of authority"

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts of Milwaukee Braves broke with tradition Sunday and accused National League umpire Stan Landes of "flagrant abuse of authority."

Disturbed by Landes' actions as plate umpire Sunday, Tebbetts issued an unwritten "statement" in his clubhouse office after the Braves' 6-4 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

Without mentioning Landes by name, the Milwaukee field boss, who stepped down as executive vice-president this season to return to managing, charged the veteran umpire with "bullying" the Braves.

"It's a very simple matter for an umpire to bully a ball club into silence, but it's the first time I've seen it done," Tebbetts said.

Tebbetts was angered by Landes' words when he went to the plate to help out catcher Del Crandall in arguing about a pitch called a ball in the fifth inning.

THREAT UNJUSTIFIED
"This is the first time in my career I have heard an umpire threaten to throw out a star ball player for complaining about a pitch. He told Crandall that if he said one more word, he's gone. When I objected to this, the same ultimatum was delivered to me."

Landes, an umpire in the National League since 1955, ejected Gene Oliver of the Cardinals in the seventh inning and moments later ordered Warren Spahn from the Braves' bench. Oliver claimed interference when he tried to race to first base after the ball popped out of Crandall's glove on a third strike. Spahn then ribbed Landes.

Landes said he told Crandall "I was sick and tired of him trying to umpire" in the game, which was televised nationally. "I told him if he keeps arguing he's going to be ejected," Landes said. "Then Tebbetts came out and told me that he (Crandall) can do all the hollering he wants as long as he doesn't swear. Is Tebbetts writing the rule book?"

International Olympic Committee yanks South Africa and South Korea on carpet for racial discrimination

MOSCOW (AP) — South Africa and South Korea were on the carpet today as the International Olympic Committee began its annual meeting.

The committee begins its formal meetings at the Kremlin Theatre, with a discussion of the 1964 summer games to be held in Tokyo and the winter games, scheduled for Innsbruck, Austria.

The executive committee met Sunday night, and although no official announcement was made, one source said a warning may be issued to South Africa because of racial discrimination in forming its teams.

The South Koreans also were advised that unless they show they are willing to form an all-Korea team—that would include Communist North Korea—by Aug. 1, the whole affair would be studied.

GERMANS AGREE

The committee eliminated one problem before it came up. Officials from both West Germany and East Germany said they are willing to form an all-German team as was done in 1960.

President Avery Brundage indicated that one of the most important discussions will involve politics. The committee always has been on record as being against any hint of politics in the games, but has been having more and more trouble keeping it out in recent years.

Brundage said he was distressed because the East Germans were refused travel visas to compete in the world skiing championships in France and the world hockey championships in the United States this year.

The committee will be asked, with Brundage heading the drive, to schedule the Olympics and other international competition only in countries that agree in advance to permit all competitors to enter.

Cards lose two, Drummondville and Thetford lead pack

Defeats of 7-2 and 9-2 drop Cards from first to third in ET Junior, Opposing pitchers star at Windsor

WINDSOR — (Staff) — Getting five of their runs on errors, the Asbestos Angels dumped the Windsor Cardinals 7-2 here yesterday afternoon and climbed to third place in the Eastern Townships Junior Baseball League.

In an evening game, also played in Windsor, Drummondville batters pounded Windsor pitchers for 11 hits and handed the Cards their second loss, 9-2.

The two defeats left the Cards floundering in third place, one game off the pace set by Drummondville and Thetford.

Thetford and Magog, were the only teams inactive over the weekend. Thetford held onto their first place standing with a 3-1 record whereas Magog dropped 1½ games behind the leaders. They hold down last place in the standings, having won one and lost two.

Asbestos 7, Windsor 2
The Cards matched the Asbestos output at bat with six hits but erratic infelding was charged for five of the Angels' seven runs in the afternoon game.

The Angels picked up two runs in the second inning on two hits, one in the third on two hits and four in their big fourth inning, on only one hit. Windsor picked up their runs in the sixth and fourth innings, each time on a walk and back to back singles.

Andre Couture, (1-2) went three innings for the Cards, giving up three runs and going to the showers with the bases loaded. Mike Raymond, (1-0) finished the game for Windsor.

Tom Holland, went the distance for Asbestos, giving up six hits and two runs. Camille Boudreau paced the winners with two hits. George Guilbeault and Nelson Emond led the Cards with two singles apiece.

Drummondville 9 Windsor 2
Drummondville batters struck for 11 hits, six of them for extra bases, the fielders played flawlessly and backed up a two-hitter pitching performance by M. Niket to defeat Windsor 9-2.

Cowansville Little League holds opening

COWANSVILLE—(Staff) — Musical strains of "Take me out to the Ball game" and "Play ball" could be heard echoing through Cowansville Sunday, as the Cowansville Lions Club sponsored Little League Baseball loop officially opened with the help of the Cowansville Junior Harmony Band.

Activity got underway about 2 p.m. when a parade headed by the Cowansville Junior Harmony Band including players of the four-team baseball league, Montreal officials of the Little League Baseball loop, Jean-Jacques Bertrand, Missisquoi M.L.A., civic and religious authorities and members of Cowansville industry circulated throughout the Town's Street.

Although there were no peanuts or cracker jacks, things were popping, as a record crowd watched Little Leaguers play two four-inning exhibition games after preliminary introductions of each player. Contrary to what the song says, "I never care if I never come back," many viewers decided then and there that they would be back to see the kids play ball at the Municipal Park Monday night.

Jim Wilson, of Montreal, provincial president of Little League, congratulated Cowansville Lions for sponsoring the 33rd Little League team in Quebec Province. He also reminded the large attendance that the league would become part of an International Organization which boasts over 1,200,000 players.

"We are not concerned whether the young ones make the major league," Mr. Wilson said, "but we are concerned that these boys become good citizens and learn true sportsmanship and fair play."

The League is sponsored by the Cowansville Lions Club. The Association has its own executive of which Marcel Paquette is president, Guy Choquette, vice-president, Jack Stocks, treasurer, and Doug Stocks, secretary.

Player agent is Bob Wilson with Ken Scott his assistant. Chief Umpire is John Bowling. Official scorer is Grant Patterson while Art Stocks is in charge of statistics.

Brazil and Russia lose some of their glamor in World Soccer, both held to ties, play Wednesday

SANTIAGO, Chile (CP-AP)—Defending champion Brazil and co-favorite Russia lost some of their glamor in competition for the World Cup soccer championship during the weekend.

Brazil's star player, inside forward Edison (Pele) Arantes, suffered a leg injury and hobbled in pain throughout the Brazilians' match with Czechoslovakia Saturday.

The game ended in a scoreless draw.

The highly rated Russian team could manage only a 4-4 draw Sunday with underdog Colombia, which wiped out a 4-1 deficit within eight minutes of the second half.

The Russians came to Chile with a big reputation after defeating Uruguay, Chile and Argentina during a South American tour last year. But to date they've shown little here to suggest that they're world championship material.

Without Pele, Brazil seems to lack the drive necessary to win the championship. "Pele is a man who gave extra strength

Pirates—took the Little League oath in both French and English before the large attendance.

Little Leaguers will play on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays at the Municipal park for approximately the next two weeks, or such time as their locale on North Street is ready.

Locale on North Street is being donated by the Bruck Mills of Cowansville Limited. When LL moves into its own stadium, games will be played on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Also on hand Sunday was Medard Cousineau, of Valley field, district representative of Little League.

Russia is in first place in the Africa group with three points. Yugoslavia and Uruguay have two each and Colombia has one.

Brazil and Czechoslovakia are tied for the lead in the Via del Mar group with three points each. Spain has two and Mexico is without a point.

Hungary tops the Rancagua group with four points. Next come Argentina and England with two points apiece, followed by Bulgaria, which has no points.

The next matches Wednesday pit Uruguay against Russia, Brazil against Spain, Chile against West Germany, and Argentina against West Germany.
