500 ARE KILLED IN EARTHQUAKE ON BALI ISLAND

Horrible Disaster Is Reported
From Isle in the Malay Archipelago.

DESTROYS MANY HOUSES

Bali Is Dutch Possession Forming Part of Dutch East Indies.

London, Jan. 26.—Five hundred and fifty persons were killed in the earthquake on the island of Bali, according to an official report received at The Hague and transmitted by Reuters's Telegram Company.

A despatch from London under date of Jan. 25 said that news had been received in Amsterdam that fifty natives had been killed and two hundred others injured in an earthquake on the island of Bali, in the Malay Archipelago. More than a thousand houses were destroyed, it was added, and the governor's palace was damaged seriously. Bali, which has a population of about 700,000, is one of the Dutch possessions forming the Dutch East Indies. The island has an area of about 2,100 square miles.

STR. PRINCE JOHN STRIKES A ROCK

TWENTY PASSENGERS WERE TAKEN OFF SHIP BY OTH-ER VESSELS.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 26.—Fifteen to twenty passengers on the steamship Prince John were rescued today by other steamers after the Prince John had struck a rock and had been beached on the coast of south-eastern Alaska. The Prince John sent out
"S.O.S." calls earlier in the day, to which several coasting steamers responded. The Prince John has a crew of twenty-eight, and has been plying between Prince Rupert, B.C., and Skagway, Alaska. It is believed here that she is not in great danger.

RUSSIAN MINISTER ON SICK LEAVE.

Berlin, Jan. 26, via Sayville.—According to the newspaper Russky
Slovo, says the Overseas News Agency, M. Pokrovsky, the Russian Foreign Minister, has tendered his resignation.

A despatch from Petrograd under date of Jan. 19 said that the newspaper Rech announced that a sick leave of two months had been granted to Foreign Minister Pokrovsky.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK FELT IN MONTREAL

FELT BY CITIZENS GENER-ALLY, ALTHOUGH NO DAM-AGE IS REPORTED.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—An earthquake shock was felt in this city this afternoon, and lasted about fifteen seconds.
While no damage has been reported as a result of the earth tremor, it was felt by the citizens generally, and considerable uneasiness was caused by it. The vibration was most noticeable in Outremont, Westmount and the northern districts of Greater Montreal, many people rushing out of the houses under the impression that an explosion had occurred. Even in the downtown district, the tremor was quite noticeable. McGill University has no seismograph, but there is no doubt that the local stir was the result of an earthquake.

DAMAGING BLAZE IN CYANIDE PLANT

FIRE CAUSED HEAVY LOSS IN A SUBURB OF NIAGARA FALLS.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 26.—Damage to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars was done tonight to the American Cyanide plant, the largest plant in this district, located in Stamford, a suburb of Niagara Falls.
Firemen from this and the other side of the river, together with private hose companies of the plant, were able to get the fire under control by 8 o'clock tonight.

The fire started at six o'clock in the Hydrate building and spread quickly in the inflammable material. The firemen from this city experienced much difficulty in fighting the flames as when water is poured on carbide, it immediately explodes. When it looked as if the flames would spread to the whole plant, a hurry call was sent to the American side for assistance. One truck sent took the wrong road, and got stuck in snow. The plant has eight hundred to a thousand employees. The cause of the fire is unknown but may have been caused from an explosion of carbide.

Officials of the company expressed the view that the loss may run over two hundred thousand. It is understood that the loss is partly covered.
The plant was established here eight or nine years ago.

WELLING OUTFOUGHT LEO JOHNSON.

New York, Jan. 26.—Joe Welling, of Chicago, outfought and outboxed Leo Johnson, colored lightweight, of this city, in every round of a ten round bout here tonight. Welling weighed 135½ pounds and Johnson 134½.

FRENCH LOST GROUND TO GERMANS AT HILL 304, BUT REGAINED IT IN VIGOROUS COUNTER- ATTACK AFTER HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING — BRITISH TAKE TURKISH TRENCHES AT KUT- EL-AMARA AND INFLECTED HEAVY LOSSES ON ENEMY—HEAVY FIGHTING IN TIRUL SWAMP.

Spirited fighting has taken place north-west of Verdun on the front in France, near Riga on the Russian front and southwest of Kut-El-Amara in the Mesopotamian theatre.

German forces have been successful in the operations in the first two regions, while British troops have taken prisoners from the Turks along the Tigris in the latter.

Attacking in force on a front of 1,600 metres against Hill 304 northwest of Verdun, Teuton soldiers stormed French trenches and took 500 prisoners. French troops, the latest French communique says, have recaptured most of the trench positions gained by the Germans. Counter-attacks by the French failed, as did further attempts to regain the lost ground, according to Berlin. German troops also gained ground on Le Merte Homme and Avocourt. The fighting around Hill 304, Paris states, was in the nature of hand-to-hand combats at times.

est of Riga in the Tirul swamp region and along the river Aa, the Germans and Russians continue at grips in heavy fighting. German attacks, Berlin says, were successful and additional ground and 500 prisoners were taken. Counter-attacks by Russian troops were repulsed in both sectors of the battle front with heavy losses to the attackers along the Aa. Petrograd declares that the Russians, after advancing more than a mile in the battle zone, were forced to return to their positions under the pressure of the attacking Germans.

Turkish first line trenches on a front of 1,100 yards were gained by the British in their attacks southwest of Kut-El-Amara. In addition, London says, some second line positions on the right bank of the Tigris were taken. West of the Hai river four counter-attacks by Turkish troops were repulsed with heavy losses.

There has been no great activity in Rumania. On the northern portion of the French front, British troops have carried out several successful raids.

The attack on the English coast near Lowestoft, reported by London, was carried out by German light sea forces. The German ships, Berlin says, were able to approach the English coast and return to their base without sighting a hostile vessel. One small vessel, London records officially, fired shells at the coast. Only a few shells reached land, and there were no casualties. The damage is reported as insignificant.

BRITISH STATEMENT.

London, Jan. 26.—British troops have carried out successful raids east of Loos and north-east of Vermelles on the French front, says the official statement issued from British headquarters tonight. In aerial fights five German airplanes were destroyed and five others were damaged. The statement follows:

"Enemy positions east of Loos were raided by us at daybreak this morning. The enemy suffered many casualties and a number of his dugouts were bombed and destroyed. We captured 18 prisoners. We also entered the enemy's trenches northeast of Vermelles early this morning and again took several prisoners.

"We bombarded the enemy's positions north of the Somme during the day with good results. Elsewhere the artillery activity was normal.

"Yesterday our airplanes successfully bombed a number of places behind the enemy's lines. There were many air fights in the course of which five German machines were destroyed and five others were driven down damaged. One of our airplanes is missing."

FRENCH STATEMENT.

Paris, Jan. 26.—The War Office communication issued tonight says:
"According to recent reports the attack carried out yesterday by the enemy on the left bank of the Meuse was especially violent. Several German regiments took part in the fighting, which at some points was in the nature of hand-to-hand combats.

"This morning through a violent counter-attack in the region of Hill 304 our troops recaptured most of the elements into which the enemy had penetrated.

"Artillery fighting has taken place on the right bank of the Meuse in the region of Bezonvaux-Louvemont, on the Woevre in the sector of Regnieville and on the sector of Vehe to the east of Luneville.

"Aviation: A German airplane was brought down to the west of Barleux by our anti-aircraft guns."

Belgian communication: "There was intermittent artillery activity by the enemy today all along the Belgian front. Fighting by means of bombs is reported from Het-Sas."

SOLDIERS SUFFER FROM THE COLD

DROP IN THE TEMPERATURE SEVERELY FELT THROUGH EUROPE.

London, Jan. 27.—The cold wave in Europe is growing more intense.
Despatches from Holland say that in Germany it is causing much suffering and interfering with the transportation of food munitions. Navigation of the Rhine was stopped by ice Friday. Rivers and canals in central and eastern Germany already were ice bound.

The weather is also severe in Holland, where the inhabitants for the first time in four years have been able to enjoy their favorite pastime, skating on the canals.

Correspondents on the British front in France say the troops are suffering the most biting win-ther since the war began. The use of automobiles is rendered almost impossible on the account of the freezing of radiators and carburetors. Many cars are stranded along lonely roads. The soldiers, especially those in the trenches and on sentry posts, are suffering severely, but the general health of the army continues amazingly good.

AGGRESSIVE TONE OF ENTENTE NOTE

RIZOV SAYS WHAT HE HAD
IN MIND WAS RUSSIAN CON-DITIONS.

Berlin, Jan. 26, via Sayville. — Mr.
Rizov is quoted by the Overseas News Agency as asserting that what he characterized as "the aggressive, violent tone" of the last note of the Entente powers was due to the conditions now prevailing in Russia.

"That country of 'possible impos-sibilities and irreconcilable contradictions,' as Russia is characterized by her great satirical writers," said M.
Rizov, "is like a volcano on the eve of eruption. This is shown by Russians press reports and by other accounts of the proceedings of the Duma, despite obliteration by the Russian censor of some of the truth.

"Apparently the Entente decided to attempt directly to influence Russian public opinion. The British Ambassador, Mr. Buchanan, delivered public speeches in order to revive Russian confidence in victory and in England. These speeches remaining without effect, England, France and Italy felt obliged to allow Premier Trepoff to make the solemn declaration that the Dardanelles definitely had been promised to Russia. This manoeuvre having made no impression, the Entente donned the lions garb, assumed the attitude of victors, and sent the answer to President Wilson because it was afraid of a general paralysis in Russia.

"Contemporary Russia is divided into three parts. The first is the Emperor's Russia, that is the present regime at the head of which is the Emperor who, despite all his bellicose proclamations, is much more interested in maintaining the rule of his house and the present regime, than in the war.

"The second is liberal Russia, represented by the 'progressive bloc' which forms a majority of the Duma and advocates war until victory is attained, not because it believes in victory or because it believes the continuation of the war to be necessary, but because it hopes to obtain a constitutional and parliamentary government with French and English aid.

"The third is the Russia of the laboring classes, the workmen, farmers, Socialists and others, represented in the Duma by the parties of the Extreme Left who want peace, liberty and land for agricultural work Theirs ideas are proclaimed by Maxim Gorky who demands peace because he does not believe in victory
"A compromise of these three Russian divisions is improbable if not impossible. Only a miracle could reconcile these 'irreconcilable contradictions.'"

The Weather

Toronto, Jan. 26.—The weather has moderated a little in the western provinces, but it is still very cold everywhere except in British Columbia where rain is falling.

"WAR AS IT REALLY IS" SHOWS MID-AIR BATTLE

Five years ago the idea of battles in the air becoming a reality would have been scoffed at. Today, the papers record such events as almost daily occurrences—so many German aviators destroyed by the British, or the tale of a spectacular encounter in mid-air when the daring of one or the other aerial star bears his adversary to the ground and capture, or death. To the general public these events have little real significance, for it is impossible to picture such things in the imagination, with any idea of correctness. It remained for Captain Donald Thompson, the intrepid war photographer of "Leif's Weekly," and official movie man for the French government to film such a scene. After making hundreds of pictures on the actual front line trenches, with shells bursting all around, and every minute apt to be his last, Thompson declared that he wanted to get an aerial encounter as the grand climax for his film, now called "War as it Really Is." Those who see it at the Auditorium Theatre on February 5, 6 and 7, will agree that it is the most exciting event ever recorded in pictures.

Captain Thompson arrived at the Albes' chief Aero Station, and after turning his camera on the numerous interesting features connected with the station's handling of over 2,400 war aeroplanes, he was invited to go aloft with a noted British aviator. There being only room for two in the machine, Thompson took the place that should have been occupied by the machine gunner. Of course, this left the plane defenceless, but it was arranged to have another aero, ready for combat, accompany it when it flew over German territory.

Up in the air went the two machines and soon they were in the clouds, 10,000 feet above the earth.

STUDIED AT MCGILL.

Major J. S. Jenkins, deputy director of the medical department of the Fourth Canadian Division at the front, met a German officer prisoner from the recent Somme fighting who stated that he was a graduate of the Faculty of Science of McGill University. He said that he failed to understand why England and Germany were fighting. His conversation revealed much antipathy between the senior and the junior German officers.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! 25 CENT BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

EVERY BIT OF DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT.

Try This! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

This, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its extraordinary and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

CONSCIENCE MONEY GIVEN TO OWNER

SAVINGS OF SIX YEARS TAKEN RETURNED BACK MINUS $144.

New York, Jan. 26.—The theft of $1,430 from the home of Michael Spetzel, No. 13 Monroe street, Passaic, N. J., became even more of a mystery the other day, when someone returned all except $145 in a manner as mysterious as the taking of the money.

Some one told Spetzel a month ago that the United States soon would be engaged in war and that then the government would seize all the money in the banks. Spetzel withdrew $1,430 he had saved in six years of frugal living, from a bank and he and his wife, after long discussion, believed the safest place in which to conceal it was in a pocket of an old pair of trousers hanging on a kitchen door.

Each morning Spetzel felt of the trousers and found the money there until the morning of January 13, when he felt for the "roll" and it was gone. When Spetzel and his wife recovered they ran to the police station.

Detectives were unable to find a clue. The matter was put down as an unfathomable mystery. Spetzel, still mourning his loss, rose and before dressing looked at the baby's crib to see that the child was properly covered. On the crib he found an old stocking and in the toe was a large lump. Putting in his hand Spetzel withdrew $1,435 in bills. The stocking apparently had been thrown through an open window from the street during the night. The only explanation the police could offer was "conscience money."

FEEL FINE! TAKE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER, BOWELS

SPEND 10 CENTS! DON'T STAY BILIOUS, SICK HEADACHY, CONSTIPATED.

Can't Harm You! Best Cathartic for Men, Women and Children.

Enjoy life! Your system is filled with an accumulation of bile and bowel poison which keeps you bilious, headachy, dizzy, tongue coated, breath bad and at stomach sour—Why don't you get a 10-cent box of Cascarets at the drug store and feel better. Take Cascarets tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You'll wake up with a clear head, clean tongue, lively step, rosy skin and looking and feeling fit. Mothers can give a whole Cascaret to a sick, cross, bilious, feverish child any time—they are harmless—never gripe or sicken.

MESOPOTAMIA WORRIES.

Blistering Winds and Devilish Insects of Giant Size.

The advanced base of the British army in Mesopotamia is a great tented city, writes L. E. Browne, correspondent for Chicago News. Bustle and noise reign supreme on the shore. Fatigue parties of soldiers, white men and brown ones, stagger under 200-pound sacks of rice and flour, which they heave on great piles. Further down the river are the remains of a small Arab village. The houses are of sun-baked brick. The population has long since departed, and many men are making the houses habitable for white troops against the approaching cold weather.

Every officer on board the steamer was burdened with stores for his unit. They consisted of the luxuries of life unobtainable at the front, such as lime juice, tinned fruits and beer. Japan controls the beer markets in the east. We have just heard that a great Japanese ship has arrived at Basra loaded to her gunwales with beer—and beer only. The officers on our ship had ten cases of tinned milk to one case of beer or lime juice.

The driving hot wind of the shami brings a fine dust with it. The wind is so dry and hot that it cracks men's lips, and perspiration dries so rapidly that one does not seem to perspire at all. From 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. all wear pink helmets, neck shields, spine pads, and dust-proof sun glasses. Many officers have dugouts beneath their tents into which they creep during the middle of the day.

Breakfast and lunch are taken in dugouts, but dinner, the gala meal of the day, is always served in the open. One is always sure of a starry night in Mesopotamia at this time of the year. Not a drop of rain will fall until it is too cold to dine out of doors.

Insects of all colors, shapes, and sizes add amusement and misery to dinner—the former if it is a praying mantis which boxes one's finger, the latter if it is green and fuzzy and gets into the soup. Grasshoppers grow as big as lizards. When one looks on the table we bet on which way it will jump. The sandy gets in his dirty work during dinner. He makes mincemeat of one's ankles. The sandfly is probably Mesopotamia's greatest pest. He resembles a

At this point we, the fighting two—start to climb to our allotted height. We are to mow the bombing party and act as a rear-guard until the eggs have fallen. Afterwards, when the others have finished their little bit and get home to their tea, it will be our pleasant task to hang about between the lines and the scene of the raid, and deal with any infuriated Boche pilots who may take the air with some idea of revenge.

We travel eastwards, keeping well in sight of the bombers. The ridges in front of us are numerous, and only through gaps can we see the landmarks. Arches, also, can only see through the gaps, and, disconcerted by the low clouds, his performance is not so good as usual.

But for a few shells, very wide of the mark, we are not interrupted, for there are no German craft in sight. With the powerful wind behind us we are soon over the objective, a large wood some few miles behind the lines.

AIRMAN DESCRIBES A DAYLIGHT RAID

GRAPHIC LETTER BY "CONTACT" PUBLISHED IN THE LONDON CHRONICLE.

What are your feelings, dear lady, as you watch the airships that pass in the night and hear the explosion of their bombs? At such a time the sensations of most people, I imagine, are a mixture of deep interest, deep anger, excitement, nervousness, and desire for revenge. Certainly they do not include speculation about the men who man the raiders.

And for their part, the men who man the raiders certainly do not speculate about you and your state of mind. When back home, some of them may wonder what feelings they have inspired in the people below, but at the time the job's the thing and nothing else matters. Out here we bomb only places of military value, and do it mostly in the daytime, but I should think our experiences must have much in common with those of Zeppelin crews. I can assure you they are far more strenuous than yours on the ground.

Our bombing machines visit all sorts of places—forts, garrison towns, railway junctions and railheads, bivouac grounds, staff headquarters, factories, ammunition depots, aerodromes, Zeppelin sheds and naval harbours. Some objectives are just behind the lines, some are 100 miles away. There are also free-lance exploits, such as when a pilot with some eggs to spare dives down to a low altitude and drops them on a train or a column of troops.

A Daylight Raid.

A daylight bomb raid is seldom a complete failure, but the results are sometimes hard to record. If an ammunition store blows up, or a railway station bursts into flames, or a train is swept off the rails and the lines cut, an airman can see enough to know he has succeeded. But if the bombs fall on something that does not explode or catch fire, it is almost impossible to note exactly what has been hit. Even a fire is hard to locate while one is running away from Archie, and perhaps a few flaming rockets.

Fighting machines often accompany the bombing parties as escort. The fighters guard the bombers until the eggs are dropped, and seize any chances of a scrap on the way back. It is only thus that I have played a part in raids, for our squadron does not add bombs to its other troubles. I will tell you, my very dear madam, about one such trip.

The morning is clear and filled with sunshine, but a strong westerly wind is blowing. This will increase our speed on the outward journey, and so help to make the attack a surprise. These low-lying banks of thick white clouds are also favourable to the factor of surprise. It is just before mid-day, and we are gathered in a group near the machines, listening to the flight commander's final directions.

Punctually at noon the bombers leave the ground, climb to the rendezvous height, and arrange themselves in formation. The scout machines constituting the escort proper follow, and rise to a few hundred feet above the bombers. The whole party circles round the aerodrome until the signal strips for "Carry on" are laid out on the grounds, when it heads for the lines.

At this point we, the fighting two—start to climb to our allotted height. We are to mow the bombing party and act as a rear-guard until the eggs have fallen. Afterwards, when the others have finished their little bit and get home to their tea, it will be our pleasant task to hang about between the lines and the scene of the raid, and deal with any infuriated Boche pilots who may take the air with some idea of revenge.

We travel eastwards, keeping well in sight of the bombers. The ridges in front of us are numerous, and only through gaps can we see the landmarks. Arches, also, can only see through the gaps, and, disconcerted by the low clouds, his performance is not so good as usual.

But for a few shells, very wide of the mark, we are not interrupted, for there are no German craft in sight. With the powerful wind behind us we are soon over the objective, a large wood some few miles behind the lines.

City Physicians Explain Why They Prescribe Nuxated Iron

To Make Beautiful, Healthy Women and Strong Vigorous Men NOW BEING USED BY OVER THREE MILLION PEOPLE ANNUALLY.

Quickly Transforms the Flabby Flesh, Toneless Tissues, and Paled Cheeks of Weak, Anemic Men and Women into a Perfect Glow of Health and Beauty—Often Increases the Strength of Delicate, Nervous, Run-down Folks 200 Per Cent. in Two Weeks Time.

New York, N. Y.—It is conservatively estimated that over three million people annually in this country alone are taking Nuxated Iron. Such astonishing results have been reported from its use both by doctors and laymen, that a number of physicians in various parts of the country have been asked to explain why they prescribe it so extensively, and why it actually produces so much better results than were obtained from the old forms of inorganic iron.

European Medical Institutions say: "As I have said a hundred times over, organic iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only throw away patent medicines and nauseous concoctions and take Nuxated Iron, I am convinced that the lives of thousands of persons might be saved, who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, consumption, kidney, liver, and heart troubles. The real and true cause which started their diseases was nothing more or less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood."

Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with a blood pressure of 20 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact, a young man he really was, notwithstanding his age.

The secret, he said, was taking Nuxated Iron. He had filled him with renewed life. At thirty, he was in the health; at 46 he was carefree and nearly all in—now at 50 after taking Nuxated Iron a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth.

Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much food you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You do not get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become pale and sickly-looking. Just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron.

If you are not strong or well, you owe it to your health to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary iron three times a day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

I have seen dozens of nervous run-down people who were ailing all the while—double their strength and endurance and entirely rid themselves of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days. The simple reason for this is that Nuxated Iron, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old form of reduced iron, iron acetate, or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. The iron demanded by Mother Nature for the red coloring matter in the blood of her children is, alas! not that kind of iron. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated to you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete and prize-fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the fray; while many another has gone down in ignominious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

Dr. Schuyler C. James, Visiting Surgeon of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City, said: "I have never before given out any medical information for publication. I ordinarily do not believe in it. But in the case of Nuxated Iron I feel I would be remiss in my duty not to mention it. I have taken it myself, and given it to my patients with most surprising and satisfactory results. And those who wish quickly to increase their strength, power, and endurance will find it a most remarkable and wonderfully effective remedy."

Dr. James late of the United States Public Health Service says: "I have seen in an elevated and devalued state of health those who had been suffering from protracted illness, and those suffering from a long-standing case of anemia, all such people, in my opinion, need iron. Nuxated Iron, there has been brought to me a true and most potent remedy to nearly all forms of anemia."

EXPOSE DISLOYAL
LIBERAL METHODSMINISTER'S DENIAL AND AFFIDAVIT BY REPUT-ABLE CITIZENS OF ST. ROSE UNMASK THE UN-DERHAND WORK OF CANNON CLIQUE.

(Special to The Chronicle.)

St. Henedine, Que., Jan. 26.—The greatest political activity prevailed in St. Leon de Staden. Everywhere county, although the formal campaign of meetings closed last night at St. Leon de Staden. Every where both sides were working overtime endeavoring to hold the ground already won before the opening of the polls tomorrow morning.

As is mostly the case in election contests, both candidates express the greatest confidence of victory. Outsiders in the county, however, who have been watching events closely, are of opinion that the result will be in doubt until the last vote is cast.

Formal Denial.

The principal new topic in the campaign today was the charge laid by the Liberals that the Hon. P. E. Blondin had uttered disloyal sentiments in his speech at St. Rose on Wednesday night. This morning Mr. Blondin made formal denial that he had used the language attributed to him. The explanation of Mr. Blondin was covered in the following telegram, which he addressed to the Prime Minister, Sir Robert Borden, today:

"St. Rose, P.Q., Jan. 26, 1917.

"Right: Hon. Sir Robert Borden,

"House of Commons,

"I am informed that the press is publishing affidavits from the Liberal canvassers to the effect that I have advised people to run away if conscription would come, and that I have stated if money obtained improperly through war contracts, those who got it did well because it was English money. This news comes to me just a few minutes after my declaration, a speech delivered at St. Prosper, in the presence of Dr. Masson, Liberal member Dussault of Quebec, my two Liberal opponents at the meeting; that it would be an act of cowardice, on the part of the Government to promise that, there would never be conscription in this country, and more especially so in this war time.

"As to the war contracts, I have simply drawn the attention of the people to the fact that the Munitions Board is an Imperial Institution, under the direct control of the War Office, and completely outside of Canadian politics.

(Signed) P. E. BLONDIN."

Liberal Disloyalty

A largely signed affidavit has also been prepared on the question of Mr. Blondin's utterances, the signatories being several score citizens of St. Rose who were present at the meeting in question. It reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned, declare that we were present at the joint meeting held in St. Rose on the 24th instant in the hall maintained by the Liberals, at which the Hon. P. E. Blondin and Mr. Danyou, a Liberal lawyer, of Rimouski, took part. In the course of the discussion, Mr. Danyou affirmed that Mr. Cannon's candidature was advocated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and quoted a letter from Sir Wilfrid Laurier congratulating Mr. Cannon on his candidature. In the name of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he declared that if Mr. Cannon were elected the Conservative government would be overthrown. Sir Wilfrid would return to power, and Laurier would destroy the conscription that Borden had just imposed on the country through the medium of the National Service cards.

His speech dealt principally with the menace of conscription and against the National Service cards. He added that Laurier was for his country before being for England, and that if Laurier were returned to power he would stop Canada's contributions to the war, which he said, was the road to ruin. He added fur-

LAURIER'S VALETS
TRY TO EXPLOIT
RIDICULOUS STORYPRATTLE OF LIBERALS SILENCED IN COMMONS
BY HON. BOB ROGERS—PARLIAMENT WILL AD-JOURN ON 7TH OF FEBRUARY.

(Special to The Chronicle.)

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—Parliament will adjourn on Wednesday February 7th and will probably stand adjourned for two months. The date was agreed upon today between the leaders of the two parties, following the receipt by Sir Robert Borden of cables urgently requesting his early attendance at the War Conference of the Empire in London.

In anticipation of the early adjournment and with the object of terminating the debate on the address as speedily as possible, Conservative members practically withdrew from the discussion, which was carried on today by Liberals only. Despite this, however, little progress was made at today's sittings, two Opposition members taking up the whole of the afternoon and evening up to ten o'clock when Mr. J. G. Turfitt, of Assiniboia, concluded an extraordinary and extravagant attack on the Government, covering a long distance and a wide field. The next Liberal on the list was George W. Kyte, of Richmond, N.S., who made the famous Carvell-Kyte charges last session. Mr. Kyte asked for an adjournment.

Hon. Robert Rogers who was leading the House pointed out that there was plenty of time to go on with part at least of Mr. Kyte's speech, and there were cries of "Question" from the Conservative benches. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, however, insistently supported Mr. Kyte's request and the debate and House were adjourned.

Mr. A. B. Copp, the first speaker, referred to the affidavits signed by several Liberals of Dorchester county to the effect that Hon. P. E. Blondin had at an election meeting there, told his hearers that it did not matter whether Col. Allison had made away with money for war purchases since it was English money and that they could escape conscription by crossing the American border.

Unequivocal Denial.

Hon. Robert Rogers rose to state that Mr. Patenaude had telephoned an unequivocal denial of the statement attributed to Mr. Blondin, who would repeat it in person in the House.

Mr. Copp then read a newspaper despatch in which Mr. Blondin was credited with an admission that he had pointed out the Allison scandal had nothing to do with Canadian money and that if there were any Quebecers afraid of conscription they could cross the border. The Westmoreland member concluded by censuring the conduct of a Minister who instead of encouraging National Service was encouraging the flight of Canadians to escape it.

Mr. Turfitt read a long statement of which the conclusion was that in all Cabinet changes since 1911, the Government had recognized the Nationalists with a view to preventing the return of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to office and that practically all the Quebec Ministers were opposed to assisting the Empire in its wars. Mr. Henri Bourassa's paper, Mr. Turfitt said, was urging that Mr. Lucien Cannon be defeated in Dorchester county because Sir Wilfrid Laurier was ready to devote all the resources of Canada to assisting the Empire.

"I make this charge against this Government and more particularly against the Prime Minister who is the responsible Minister, that this Alliance has been kept in force and three Nationalists have been kept in power for the very purpose of preventing recruiting in Quebec," said Mr. Turfitt.

The statement of the Assiniboia member was greeted with cries of "Shame" from the Conservative benches and Mr. Turfitt added that "three nationalists, disloyal Canadians, disloyal Britishers," had been kept in the Cabinet to prevent and hinder recruiting in Quebec. His explanation of this allegation was that the members of the Government knew they could not be around to power on their record of domestic and war administration and therefore had determined to fight the next election of the racial issue by lining up against Quebec the eight other provinces.

THE EXPULSION OF THE TURKS
FROM EUROPELord Bryce Gives His Views
on This Phase of Entente Reply.

CHANGE LONG OVERDUE

Will Deliver Long-Suffering Christian Population From Oppression and Slaughter.

London, Jan. 26.—The demand for the expulsion of the Turk from Europe, included among the terms in the Allied note reply to President Wilson, is justified by Lord Bryce in his views on that phase of the Entente reply, which were given to The Associated Press today.

Concerning Turkey Lord Bryce's views were formulated before the peace notes were exchanged and will appear in about a month for authorized publication in London and New York under government auspices. Owing to their direct bearing upon the terms regarding Turkey laid down by the Allies he has now made them available to The Associated Press.

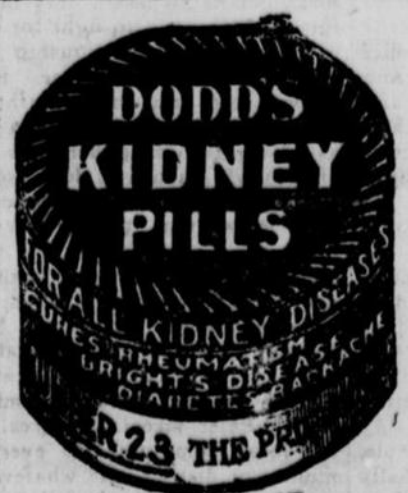

"No one who has studied the history of the Near East for the last five centuries," says Lord Bryce, "will be surprised that the Allied powers have declared their purpose to put an end to the rule of the Turk in Europe, and still less will he dissent from the determination to deliver the Christian population of what is called the Turkish Empire, whether in Asia or in Europe, from the government which during those five centuries has done nothing but oppress them."

"These changes are, indeed, long overdue. They ought to have come more than a century ago, because it had then already become manifest that the Turk was hopelessly unfit to govern, with any approach to justice subject races of different religion."

"Turkish rule ought to be ended in Europe because, even in that small part of it which the Sultan still holds, it is an alien power which has in that region been and is now oppressing or massacring, slaughtering or driving from their homes, the Christian populations of Greek or Bulgarian stock. It ought to be turned out of the western coast regions of Asia Minor for a like reason. The people there are largely, perhaps mostly, Greek-speaking Christians. So ought it to be turned out of Armenia and Cilicia and Syria, where within the last two years it has been destroying its Christian subjects, the most peaceful and industrious and intelligent part of the production."

"If the Turkish Sultanate is to be left in being at all it may with the least injury to the world be suffered to exist in Central and Northern Asia Minor. There the population is mainly musliman and there are comparatively few Christians, and those only in the cities, to suffer from its misgovernment. Even there one would be sorry for its subjects, musliman as well as Christians, but the weak Turkish state such as it would then be could not venture on the crimes of which it had been guilty, when it was comparatively strong."

That the faults of Turkish Government are incurable has been most clearly shown by the fact that the Young Turkish gang who gained power when they had been deposed by Abdul Hamid have surpassed even that monster of cruelty in their slaughter of unoffending Armenians. The committee of Union and Progress began by promising equal rights to all races and faiths. This was 'union.' It proceeded forthwith not only to expel the Greek-speaking inhabitants of western Asia Minor and to exterminate the Armenians, but to attempt to Turkify the aliens, Moslems as well as Christians, and to proscribe their language."

POLLING IN DORCHESTER.

For the information of our readers we give below a table giving the results of the voting in the different parishes of the County of Dorchester during the Federal elections of 1908 and 1911 and the Provincial elections of last May. This table gives the election years, the number of total votes in each parish, the number of votes polled and the Conservative or Liberal majority as the case may be. From it one may gain an idea as to what are the strongholds of the respective parties. It will be seen that in 1911 Mr. Seigny converted a Liberal majority of 339 votes into a Conservative one of 378. Owing, however, to the bilingual agitation and the fact that Mr. Cannon in 1916 carried on much the same kind of campaign as he has been waging the last ten days, Laurier's dear Lucien was then returned with a majority of more than 400 votes.

The following is the table:—

Cut this out and compare it with tonight's returns.

Mr. Cannon appealing "in the name of Laurier" has definitely advised his audiences in Dorchester county that he is not in favor of the war policy of the Borden Government and announced his belief that Canada has done enough for England. Sir Wilfrid must choose between that sort of thing and the respect and support of the thousands of loyal Liberals outside of Dorchester.

WHERE IT STARTED.

Probably there was never anything more hypocritical in Canadian politics than Le Soleil's denunciation of what Mr. Seigny said in 1911 and its approval of what Mr. Cannon is saying today.

How did Laurier get into power in 1896. Simply on the race cry. In those days Le Soleil was L'Electeur.

The following is the kind of campaign that was waged by the Liberals of Quebec in 1896.

In that election L'Electeur, now Le Soleil, said:—

"One of old Tupper's dreams was imperial federation. Imperial federation means a closer alliance between England and her colonies generally and Canada in particular. One condition of such an alliance would be that in time of war Canada would be called upon to pay its share of the cost in money and in men. And, as England is nearly always at war with somebody we would be continually taxing ourselves to find money, always drawing lots to raise men. In return England would make these fairs baronets, knights of this, commanders of that. But the people would remain food for cannon. Hardly had Sir Charles Tupper returned from England than he began to pave the way for the realization of his awful plan. England was threatened with a difficulty with the United States over a few acres of mining land which she claimed in Venezuela, thousands of miles away from our country, in Central America. Immediately Sir Charles Tupper, to be officious, hastened to order the purchase in England of guns, cannon, etc., to the extent of $1,800,000, in the midst of a session without consulting the House. That was not enough for him. He wanted three millions."

Continuing, this local Liberal organ, delivered itself of the following: "Why all these armaments, if we are not to have war? And why fight for England? The electors should remember that these big and great chiefs who are always anxious to show themselves greater patriots than others, more loyal than others, and ready to throw themselves into war for the benefit of others, will not be those who will bear the burden. These carbines, these cannon, the electors will have to handle them. You are considered good enough food for powder. The Tupper, Angers, the Tailions will be in their ministerial offices, whence they will send us forth to death, joy in their hearts and a glass of champagne in their hands. Once more, why all these rifles, these cannon, these bayonets, if these good Tupper & Company do not meditate some bad action? Your children will be sent to Africa, to Asia, whence they will never return. If you vote for Blue candidates, you approve all these war-like preparations. Does the government come to your assistance when you are crushed by taxes of all kinds, when misfortune overtakes you, either through flood or fire? And we spend three millions of dollars for guns. Vote for Laurier and his candidates if you want to see your country enjoy the same tranquility, and not to expose yourself to start some of these fine mornings, leaving behind your wives and families and all that you hold dear."

Such is the written record of the Liberal "Cannon fodder" party.

A SAIL FOR EVERY BREEZE.

The Toronto Globe, chief Liberal organ in the province of Ontario, says:

"National Service and National Thrift. With these ideals before them Canadians may do more than they have yet done to aid the Allies in the New Year."

Fine and noble words, says the Ottawa Journal. But do they mean anything when we consider that in Quebec, Mr. Lucien Cannon, the Laurier-endorsed candidate, is appealing to the electors of Dorchester to elect him to Parliament as a supporter of Sir Wilfrid and the Liberal party because Laurier disapproves of national service. Mr. Cannon says:

"Laurier disapproves of the national service scheme by refusing the invitation to join it. The national service cards mean either nothing or conscription."

In Ontario the Liberals can catch votes by approving of national service and appearing to be very patriotic. In Quebec they adopt a different policy. Yet Sir Wilfrid endorses those who are taking both courses, playing the partisan politician with sectional and racial appeals rather than the patriot interested solely in the successful prosecution of this Empire's war.

SARRAIL'S TASK.

If the pressure of the Entente upon Constantine has resulted in that monarch's acquiescence to their demands the menace from Greece has been removed.

That being accomplished, it is logical to assume that very shortly the reason for the massing of vast forces of Entente troops at Saloniki will be revealed.

Already dispatches tell us that reinforcements are being sent to the Macedonian border by the allies indicating that a big movement is to be initiated.

Indications are that the allies will make supreme efforts to cut the Berlin-Constantinople railroad.

This railroad has been the main artery that has supplied the Central powers with supplies.

Tapping as it does the granaries of Asiatic Turkey and providing quick transportation of men and munitions in either direction this railroad has proved of immense value to the Central powers.

It is Sarrail's task to cut this artery and prevent shipment of food-stuffs or war material to their adversaries.

Only by doing this can the mobilization of forces at Saloniki be justified and upon the success of Sarrail's forces much depends.

This is one of the pivotal points of the war, we believe.

Failure of the Entente to isolate Turkey will mean greater expansion of Germany in the near East.

Success of Sarrail will mean the killing of the German plan to establish themselves at Saloniki as a stepping stone to the formation of a near eastern empire.

Also, it will materially help the plan outlined by the Entente Powers, "the building of a Slav dam across the tideway of Germany's ambition."

Sarrail's task is a terrific one. We are on the eve of great events.

Perhaps, after this, Mr. Cannon may come to realize that abuse is not argument.

President Wilson turns his eyes from the crucifixion of Belgium and prattles of "peace without victory."

The electors of Dorchester will today show the Liberal candidate just how much use they have for his "Cannon fodder" methods of campaign.

The average Canadian will find it hard to understand why Mr. Seigny, who stands for the Empire and the Allies in this war, is opposed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberals in Quebec.

While England is making unlimited sacrifice of blood and treasure on the soil of France, the Dorchester Cannon thunders out, "Are we going to ruin ourselves for England? NO!"

The Liberal candidate in Dorchester appealed to his audience on a platform which disapproved of further expenditures of men and money to help England. And, as he, himself, said: "I appeal to you in the name of Laurier."

Conversion, or change of heart, is not altogether unknown either in Canadian politics or Canadian journalism. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was once as outspoken in his hostility to Great Britain as his lieutenant, Cannon, is today.

If Mr. Cannon should win in Dorchester by force of appeals which do not justly represent the position of his opponent, by appeals to racial prejudice and passion, the victory over the Government, of which Mr. Seigny is a member, would be very dearly bought by the loss of respect for the Liberal party throughout the country.

Life Insurance A Privilege

Life insurance is a comparatively modern invention, and has not been known for more than a few generations.

In the old days, if a man lost his life prematurely, his widow and children were in most cases left destitute: the only remedy thought of was the poor-house.

By means of life insurance the modern man can make provision for the maintenance of his family in the event of his death.

The Mutual Life of Canada will pay the beneficiary a fixed income if desired and this will continue at least twenty years, payments monthly or yearly.

Is this not a vast improvement on a system which entailed a life of labor, dependence or of charity? Life insurance is a great privilege, and fortunate is the man who is in good health so that he can secure its protection for those whom he loves.

UNITED KINGDOM.
Sales and Purchases Abroad Increased In 1916.
Washington Jan. 26.—The United Kingdom increased both its sales and purchases abroad in 1916. A Department of Commerce tabulation today puts imports for the year at $4,619,000,000 and exports at $3,940,000,000, against $3,394,000,000, and $3,000,000,000, respectively, in 1915. This shows an increase of 11.4 per cent in purchases and of 31.8 per cent in sales abroad.
Imports of food, drink and tobacco during the year were valued at $2,041,000,000, against $1,953,000,000 in 1915; raw materials, $1,639,000,000, against $1,394,000,000, and manufactured articles, $939,000,000. Exports during the year were largely of manufactured articles.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

ANOTHER BEAUTIFUL CHURCH DESTROYED

ONLY WALLS OF $100,000 EDIFICE AT ST. LOUIS DE COUR VILLE REMAIN.

The beautiful parish church of St. Louis de Courville in Montmorency County only completed and consecrated in 1913 was destroyed by fire late yesterday afternoon. Only the four walls of the sacred edifice, value-remainder having fallen prey to flames which spread so rapidly that they could not be overcome by the volunteer fire fighters from the neighborhood who were later assisted by a detachment of the Quebec Fire Department under Deputy Chief Talbot. It was about 4 o'clock in the afternoon when the fire was first discovered by Father Boulet. Cure of the parish and other parishioners. Smoke was issuing from the basement. The alarm was immediately given but despite the very best efforts of the large number of volunteer firemen who had apparatus and a fair pressure of water at their disposal, the flames soared to the upper portion of the Church which was soon enveloped, but not before the Sacred Host, chalices, together with pictures and other ornaments had been rescued.

A hurried appeal for assistance from the City Fire Brigade was made bringing a quick response. When Deputy Chief Talbot and a detachment of the Brigade arrived the fire had such mastery that the men from the City deemed it a wise course to confine their efforts towards saving the presbytery which they were successful in doing.
The parish of St. Louis de Courville was only established five years ago. The site of the Church is between the parishes of St. Gregoire and Beauport on the upper level. Cardinal Begin officiated in 1913 at the blessing of sacred edifice. It was built of Citadel Brick and while not the largest, it was recognized as one of the most beautiful churches outside the City.

The destruction of the St. Louis de Courville Church marks the third Church destroyed by fire within the past twelve months. The other two were the parish church at Beauport and the one at Limoulin, both entailing considerable financial losses.
Yesterday's fire is believed to have been caused by an explosion of the furnace in the basement of the Church. It is understood that the Church was insured for $80,000 divided amongst the following companies: Fabrique Mutuelle $50,000, Palatine $20,000, Guardian $5,000, British Colonial $5,000.

MILL OWNER MEETS A VIOLENT DEATH

WAS CAUGHT IN THE MILL WHEEL AND HORRIBLY MUTILATED.

A sad accident occurred on Tuesday last at Metabetchouan, which caused the death of Jean Langevin, who was the proprietor of a grist mill.

It appears the deceased, who had been at work all day in the mill, did not return as usual to his supper, and his wife becoming anxious, went in search of him. On entering the mill she found her husband on the floor; his clothes all torn, several pieces of which were discovered in the fly-wheel. From the appearance of the body, which was badly mutilated, it was evident that the unfortunate man's clothing had been caught in the wheel and that he had been thrown several times against the floor with the result that his spine was fractured.

The deceased, who was only forty years of age, leaves a wife and large family.

BIG CROWDS SEE "WATCH YOUR STEP"

ANOTHER BIG AUDIENCE LAST EVENING AND INDICATIONS FOR BUMPER MATINEE.

Another large audience witnessed the second evening's performance of "Watch Your Step" the breezy, tuneful musical comedy playing at the Auditorium and indications are that the house will be sold out for today's matinee and the farewell performance this evening.

The show is a most pleasing one, well-acted, staged and interspersed with real witty sayings and clever dancing. Those who have not as yet witnessed it should not fail to make use of the opportunities still left to see it.

INVALID SOLDIERS ARE ENTERTAINED

TRINITY CHURCH CHOIR DISPLAY HOSPITALITY TO RETURNED HEROES.

The members of Trinity Church Choir entertained about seventy-five returned wounded soldiers last night in the Church Hall. Private Carter, a member of the Church was one of the party of returned men.

A splendid musical programme was given in which several of the men took part. All the artists were accorded hearty applause, which they really deserved.
Refreshments were served at the close of the concert which were much enjoyed, and the men expressed their pleasure at the hospitality that had been extended to them.

The Rev. A. R. Beverley, Rector of the Church, presided, and by his affable manner quickly made the returned heroes feel quite at home.

The Q. R. L. H. & P. Co. kindly provided a car to convey the men both to and from the Church, and the Quebec Cartage also assisted by furnishing a sleigh to transport those of the invalids who found difficulty in walking. The programme was as follows:

The death occurred on Thursday of Mr. H. M. Cote, at his residence, Ste. Foye Road. The deceased, who was the proprietor of the well-known grocery establishment on St. John street, was highly respected by a large number of citizens. He was of a remarkably cheerful disposition and was a great favorite amongst those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.
Besides his wife, the late Mr. Cote leaves two sons, Antonio and Jules, and four daughters, the Misses Jeanne, Germaine, Simone and Theresa, to mourn his loss. They will have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

CITY OF QUEBEC FLOATS NEW LOAN

FINE FIGURE OF 99.09 SE. CURED ON $780,000 10-YEAR GOLD BONDS.

The rm of Wood, Gundy & Co., of Toronto, was the successful tenderer for the $780,000.00 five or ten year City of Quebec gold bonds. Their figure of 99.09 for ten years was accepted by the Civic Finance Committee yesterday afternoon as the most advantageous of the tenders, fourteen in all. The quotation of this firm for five years was 99.38.

While the tenders were being opened in the presence of the members of the Civic Finance Committee and representatives of the different financial houses that had submitted tenders, Mr. H. des Rivieres, Manager of the Bank of Montreal, (St. Roch's Branch) was called to the telephone and when he returned informed the committee that Mr. Bancroft, Manager of the Lower Town office of the Montreal Bank had received word from the rm of Wood, Gundy & Co. to the effect that an error had been made in their tender which should have read 98.09 for the ten years and 98.38 for the five years.

As the Committee did not consider this sufficient justification for rejecting this tender, it was opened and considered on its merits with the other thirteen. A short while after Mr. Swenerton, representative of Wood, Gundy & Co. received a telegram from his firm to the same effect as the telephone message, but on the advice of the City's legal advisors the Committee decided to accept the original tender, as the City could not be held responsible for any error made by the tenderers. It was finally decided on motion of Ald. Martin that the tender of Wood, Gundy & Co. for ten years at 99.09 be accepted.

It is hardly necessary to point out that the City has probably never floated a loan at such an advantageous figure.
As will be seen from the appended list of tenders the next highest bidder was the firm of R. M. Grant & Co., Boston, who offered 99.07 for the five year bonds and 98.50 plus $60 on the total of the ten year bonds.

Mr. Swenerton got in communication with his firm early last evening and learned that Messrs. Wood, Gundy were perfectly satisfied with the decision of the Finance Committee and will accordingly stand by their first price. This news was communicated to Mr. des Rivieres.

To Every Woman Who Is In Pain

MRS. WILLIAMS SAYS USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She Suffered for Two Years, but Three Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Her a New Woman.

Adamsville, Kent Co., N.B. Jan 26th (Special).—"I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to every woman who suffers." So says Mrs. Williams, a well-known and highly respected lady residing here. Mrs. Williams was a sufferer for two years until she used Dodd's Kidney Pills. She found in them quick relief and complete cure. That is why she is so enthusiastic in her praise of them.
"My troubles started with a cold. Mrs. Williams states. "I never seemed to get over the effects of it. I had cramps in my muscles and my joints were stiff. There were dark circles under my eyes which were puffed and swollen. I had a bitter taste in my mouth and I suffered from headaches.
"I felt heavy and sleepy after meals and had attacks of neuralgia. Heart flutterings and rheumatism were soon added to my troubles. I took just three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I cannot be too glad that I did so.
Every one of Mrs. Williams' symptoms was a symptom of kidney disease. That is why Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

Children Had Eczema Doctors Failed to Cure

Two Letters Which Prove the Efficiency of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a Cure for Eczema.

Fortunate are the mothers who know the virtues of Dr. Chase's Ointment, for there is no treatment so suitable for use after the bath to relieve irritation and chafing and to thereby prevent eczema and similar skin diseases.
Mrs. W. L. Barnes, Timmins, Ont., writes: "I want to tell you about the case of my little boy who had baby eczema when he was three months old. It started on the top of his head, on his forehead and around his ears. The doctors failed to do him any good so I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment on the recommendation of a friend, and in a month's time the child was entirely free of this disagreeable skin disease. He is now four years old, and has never had any further trouble from ailments of this kind. I also have great faith in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and believe that it cannot be beaten as a restorative for pale, nervous women."

Mrs. George McNair, River Charles N.B., writes: "We use Dr. Chase's Ointment in our home, and would not wish for anything better for cuts, burns and bruises. A few years ago a friend of mine, whose baby was terribly afflicted with eczema, had her child treated by their own family physician, but the little one got no better. They tried several remedies, but they all proved useless in this case. Upon the advice of a neighbor they got Dr. Chase's Ointment, and before the first box was used the child was completely cured. I can also recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to suffering friends who I know will be glad to learn of something to relieve their nervous trouble. You have my permission to use this letter for the benefit of others."

LAVAL TO MEET
MONTAGNAIS TONIGHT

In The World of Sport

MILITARY HOCKEY
GRANDE ALLEE RINKLAVAL AND MONTAGNAIS
IN CITY LEAGUE MATCH
AT ARENA TONIGHT

Both Teams Are Determined to Stay in the Running and Will Make Big Effort to Win—Comparison of the Players—
Results of N. H. A. Games Will Be Bulletined—Election Returns Also Posted.

The Laval and Montagnais teams will meet at the Arena this evening in what will likely prove an elimination contest in the Quebec City Hockey League race. Laval must win to stay in the running while Montagnais, though they have lost only one game, will be in the same position as Laval should the Students carry off the honors as the Sons of Ireland would then have a clear lead of two games over the nearest competitors.

It will be a great game and it is hard to pick a winner. Laval seem to have the speed while the Montagnais shape up better in all-round team-play. In goal Demers of the Montagnais has a shade over either Lantier or Monseratt; at point Joe Roy and Lt. Gendron are fairly evenly matched through Gendron's pushing is more direct and effective. Walter Derouin shades Dubois, though the latter is a good check and speedy starter. Derouin, however, counts for much and he generally can manage to skate opposing forwards into the corners. On the line the picking is rather hard. Angers in centre is a foxey player and though not so fast as Antonio Savard, more than makes this up by his headwork. On left wing Ernest Savard will oppose Gagne, the Laval back who plays right wing for the Students. Both boys are brilliant players and this should be a real test. Bouchard the Montagnais phenom who plays right wing will have Duchaine opposed to him. Both are ex-Trifurians and probably know each other's weaknesses. In the matter of substitutes Laval has Simard who when in the mood can play almost any man in the league. Monseratt and a couple of others, U. Cote, Gailfoux and other boys will help out Montagnais at intervals.

Altogether the game should be a brilliant exhibition and well worth going to see.

The results of the N.H.A. games will be bulletined by goal and the election results will also be posted so that you will miss nothing by attending the game. The probable line-up:

Laval Montagnais
Goal. Demers.
Point. Roy.
Cover. Derouin.
Centre. Dubois.
Right Wing. Angers.
Left Wing. E. Savard.
Duchaine. E. Bouchard.

IS CECIL RUNNING THINGS?
It looks very much as though a real deal was put over on the La Casquette Hockey Club, when the Eastern Canada Amateur Hockey Association suspended two of their star players, Chamillard and Bechard, for "boring" on the eve of their important Montreal Hockey League fixture against the Stars. Although both of the players did their "boring" some time ago, they were allowed to play in the Munition League games last Tuesday.

It is a queer co-incidence that an official of the club competing against the La Casquettes in their important fixture, also holds office in the E. C. A. H. A., and that the latter organization suspended two of La Casquettes star players on the eve of the big game.—Montreal Mail.

President Steve Newton has named the following officials for tonight's game on the Arena ice:—
Referee: Dave Power.
Assistant: Walter Quart.
Timekeeper: William Sharpe.
Penalty Recorder: E. R. Lepine.
Scorer: James McDonnell.

The St. Patrick's Hockey Club will practice between six and seven o'clock this evening. So said the Hon. Par LePire, president of the aforementioned hockey organization. St. Pat's meet Sons of Ireland on Monday evening next.

Military hockey is scheduled for the Grande Allee rink this evening.

WITH THE MOTORIST

"CONSCIOUS POWER AND BEAUTY" IN ALL AUTOS TODAY.

Furious Battles Have Raged Continually Among the Makers Between Differing Schools of Designs.

"The March of Conscious Power," the expressive line of James Russell Lowell, I think expresses the march of progress made by the automobile," said Louis H. Periman, the famous inventor of the demountable rim.

"It has been my extreme good fortune," said Mr. Periman, "to be a first-nighter, and indeed an every nighter at every automobile show held in this city, and if I were to write a brief epigram on the automobiles of today, I would say that they were ticketed 'hors concours,' above competition, like the famous paintings by the world's greatest artists in the Paris Salon.

"The chassis of today possesses conscious power, the work of the skilled artisan, and the body work of the motor car of today possesses conscious beauty, the work of the graceful artificer. And to these two essential factors has been added conscious comfort for the passenger.

"Now let us look backward and note the crude conditions that led up to the present-day perfect conditions.

Two Distinct Tendencies.

"As in years past the art of motor car making exhibits two distinct signs of irresistible tendencies—one is toward fixity of type, the other is toward reversion of type. Fixity of type means the conditions when there may be a number of widely different patterns of automobiles in use, but all of one pattern are substantially alike. For instance, if Henry Ford made all the automobiles of this country they would all be alike. Reversion of type—well-known phrase of the scientific evolutionist—means here a return to earlier and once discarded forms of construction.

"A pertinent instance of this form of development is the use of wire wheels today, because they were originally used on the first automobiles produced in this country, largely because automobiles were made by bicycle makers who used bicycle ideas and bicycle material then on hand. Take another pertinent instance: The first imported automobiles had not tube ignition. Then followed battery ignition both by wet and dry cells, chemical it is true, but today the storage battery is in vogue on account of the electric starting and lighting idea. The later magneto which produced electricity mechanically is now being somewhat discounted in favor of the generator and the storage battery.

Battle of the Cylinders.

"The battle of the cylinders, then as now, raged furiously in the early part of automobile history, the one-cylinder, cylinder feed hydro-carbon type of motor, disputing the field with the steam engine and the electric motor. The latter two are here yet, even if not as prominent as they might and should be.

"Probably the greatest advance in the automobile of today is the elimination of friction, friction having only one place where it is of value in an automobile, and in this place friction produces traction between the tire and the ground.

So, of course, all the motor cars of the Class of 1917 are fitted with either ball or roller bearings—not all over, it is true, but somewhere in all the revolving parts, wherever their use is indicated. The American makers of ball and roller bearings now lead the world in the volume and value of their output, as their huge plants and their productive capacity testify to.

"The artillery wood and wire wheels, of course, are supreme in their order as named. Originally we used hose pipe tires cemented on; then followed the clincher type of tire, the detachable tire and rim, and last but not least the demountable rim; and so universal is the use of the demountable rim today that all the American makers fit demountable rims to their cars, with the exception of two makers. The clincher type of tire rim might be said to be almost passe, excepting the smaller and cheaper cars and sizes of tires, the straight-side tire having gradually come into its own.

"The matter of demountable rims is of more than passing interest, my own elementary foundation patent having been filed in 1906; and as a matter of fact the rim problem has engaged the attention of automobile engineers ever since the advent of the automobile. The U. S. Patent Office reports show nearly 1,500 patents of all classes dealing with demountable rims of one kind and another. In 1916 the American tire industry alone consumed one half the world's 1915 production of crude rubber, and 85 per cent. of the United States Sea Island cotton product, besides which it is estimated that 25,000,000 tires will be made in 1917.

"Meanwhile, the non-skid tread leads them all, the cord tire is the popular high priced one, and motor car makers everywhere are adopting the S. A. E. standards for regular tire sizes, over-sizes and rim-sizes.

"I merely mentioned these rim and tire facts to give the reader some idea of the inventive activity in the particular field, and to show how firm a grip the demountable rim has upon the motor car manufacturer and the motoring public.—New York World.

INDIA'S MOTOR MISSIONARIES.

In India and South Africa, the missionaries who are conducting religious and educational movements among the natives find that they can just about double their accomplishments with the use of Ford cars. In both of these countries in the outlying districts where the missionaries usually carry on their good work, the facilities for traveling around are the most primitive. Consequently they are limited in their results by the number of natives it is possible to reach in the immediate vicinity, unless some means of extending the work is at hand.

These missionaries who are driving Fords are delighted with the more extensive possibilities, and many have declared that they are able to just double the number of natives reached, with very little additional work, and sometimes with even less work.

Rev. J. P. Brodhead, a missionary at Durban, Natal, has found it necessary to cover forty, fifty and a hundred miles, frequently. Horses have been used to some extent, but for two or three months of the year there is a season of great danger for horses in South Africa. A disease unknown to Canadian horses is epidemic and almost always proves fatal. Last spring, when Mr. Brodhead's horses died after a few hours of illness, he decided to buy a motor car, and took home a Ford immediately. He finds the car most serviceable, saves much time, and travels much easier than he could with his horse.—Ford Times for January.

OVERLAND TOURING CAR SMASHES HILL RECORD IN AUSTRALIA.

An Overland has come to the front gain in Australia, a car of that type performing the unprecedented feat of climbing Mt. Clarence, in West Australia. Although the event occurred some weeks ago detailed news of the happening has just reached the Willys Overland factory.

The first portion of the journey was over slippery sea sand and water sheds. About a quarter of the way up, the road—if it can be called such—became damp and slippery. To add to the danger a big rock formation with a 15 to 25 per cent. grade was encountered. Several dashes up this rock failed, special "chocks" placed between the wheels being all that saved the car and driver from sliding to the base of the hill. Such was the friction at this point that one of the tires took fire.

After the rock had been climbed, the car encountered still further trouble in rounding several zig-zag paths in a heavy rain.

Upon reaching the summit the car was lowered by ropes 20 feet over a huge rock on the very peak of the mountain to the road below, and was driven back to town with a party of twelve on board.

"The car was none the worse for its experience," says The Motorist and Wheelman of Australia in describing the climb. "This was considered by motorist who witnessed the performance, and who are familiar with the local conditions, to be the limit in tests for power, endurance and strength of the Overland car."

GRAY-DORT STANDS UP TO RIGOROUS TESTING.

With a full complement of passengers, two Gray-Dort Touring Cars showed by their remarkable performance unusual power and reliability in long-run trips. The two cars, whose occupants were friends and relatives of Mr. N. T. Lavoie, proprietor of the East End Garage, Montreal, covered the distance between Montreal and Springfield and return in 28 hours. Not a single break-down or accident was encountered in the whole of the 500-mile trip, and a steady speed of 24 to 25 miles an hour was maintained throughout the journey. Conditions were such that any tourist might ordinarily meet with. The eleven members of the party enjoyed the trip in perfect comfort finding the seating capacity of the car ample even when carrying a full complement of passengers on a long and tedious journey. Altogether the trip is an interesting piece of evidence regarding the Gray-Dort's dependability, power and comfort.

AN UNTESTED THEORY.

HAPPY FIGHTER WRITES HOME

One of the brightest and most read able of Canadian writers about the war is "The Happy Subaltern." The identity of this young lieutenant is not widely known for he does not pretend to be a literary man. When he went to the front he wrote letters home to his mother, as thousands of young Canadians in England, France, and Flanders were doing, and his mother found them so entertaining that she read them to gatherings of friends. They advised publication, and the book is now on many a literary shelf. All that it tells about the Happy Subaltern is that his name is Billy, and as Billy he has made friends.

Perhaps the best way in which to give an idea of Billy's letters is to give two short extracts from them. One is a characteristically humorous account of an incident in an English barber shop.

"I had rather a unique experience the other day which I want to tell you about. Everyone who has hailed from this insular kingdom was wont to complain in my ear in Canada of the slowness of the barbers over there, and always related how much faster the tonsorial art of Great Britain pushed in your whiskers. I have proved for myself the why and the wherefore of it. Having to go up to London one day this week I slept in and missed my usual shave, so upon my arrival there proceeded to secure one. Seeing a sign 'Ladies and Gentlemen's Hair Dressing Saloon,' I proceeded therein. A bald-headed person of doubtful antecedents, judging from his physiognomy, motioned me into a chair. Not a white enamel be cushioned one with a neck rest and numerous levers, but a plain red plush one showing unmistakably that other thousands had sat on the same seat. It was the same kind that any railroad in Canada issued to its hard worked station agents. I sat me down, not without some misgiving, and grasping 'me noble countenance' he tilted my head rearward until I felt as though I were one of the contortionist acts in a vaudeville show. He smeared my face with lather and proceeded to scrape the protruding hairs off. It was a process greatly resembling a man with a snow shovel removing the accumulation of last week's snow from the sidewalk. Every time he let go of my head I endeavored to raise it, but somehow he always beat me to it, and grabbed it again before I could sufficiently stretch the muscles to erase the crick in them. Upon close examination that I made after a hurried exit I found tiny tufts of whiskers and decided that the reason why they 'do it' quicker over here is first, because they don't 'do it,' and second if they took any longer they would permanently dislocate their customers' necks.

By way of contrast probably there is nothing better in Billy's letters to quote than his description of the death of McCarthy, the wag of the company, and once a camp cook.

"It was a beautiful morning in May. The grass was green and the shrapnel-scarred trees were trying to burst out into a few sparse leaves. A hawthorn bush just to the rear of the trench was white with bloom, as Maeterlinck says, 'yielding up its soul in perfume,' distinctly noticeable even among the varied smells of the trench. Here and there a swallow fitted in the first smile of Old Sol, and all was still, as still as the first hour of dawn on the Front can be—sometimes I came to the bay where McCarthy was on duty. Alone he stood watching a mess tin of water heating over a candle. He looked up at the rum jar I was carrying and laughingly asked if he couldn't have his ration, knowing full well that I knew he'd had it when with a dull boom from the east came the herald of the morning hate. I turned. There stood McCarthy, rifle in hand, face turned to the azure above, and in his loudest tones addressing the screaming shell with 'Good morning, Fritz.' The same instant I heard it burst almost overhead. Its pall of black smoke hovered there, while its rain of death descended with the peculiar indescribable whine of shrapnel. But as they say, 'It didn't have my number on it.' One of the freaks of shell fire, it left me and took McCarthy.

"I saw him slowly sink clutching his tunic. I cut off his tunic and his shirt, only to find his breast and shoulders peppered as a colander. He was gone—I knew that—but I forced a quarter grain of morphia between his lips. The stretcher-bearers came, but McCarthy needed no shell dressings. The ashy gray of his face, the wild stare of his eyes, the convulsive clutch of his hand betokened that death was silently creeping nigh. I gave him a cup of water. As I lowered the head a smile lit his countenance, and he weakly said, 'Do you remember, sir, the night you said "Gunga Din"? That's how the water tastes.' And then with the same smile, 'It's funny, sir, how I spoke to that shell. It ain't often that one calls his own number.' Which was how McCarthy, cook-comedian, in his own way said 'Moriturus Te Salutis!'

IN THE CLAY BELT.

To demonstrate in every way the agricultural possibilities of Northern Ontario it is proposed now to establish a creamery at New Liskeard on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway. The Ontario Department of Agriculture has already been engaged in selecting a type of dairy animal that will be suitable to the northern climate, and in order that settlers and farmers may have a market available the creamery will be established.

To meet the demand for agricultural labor the Director of Colonization is sending agents to points in the United States for the purpose of attracting men looking for this class of work to Ontario during the coming summer. A year ago this was tried with considerable success, and as the supply of that class of labor is even larger now, it is expected that an increased number will take advantage of the opportunity.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopeless blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturer guarantees it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good drug store and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for emergency use in a most every family. Sold in Quebec by W. Brunet & Co. and other druggists."

PAVED WAY TO FORTUNE WITH HORSE SHOES

THREE YEARS AGO SMITHY, RUN BY OWNER AND ONE MAN, NOW SERVES FOUR NATIONS—35 HELPERS.

There have been "war brides" and war fortunes without number in the United States since the beginning of the great European conflict, and large sums of money have been made by people who least expected them, in ways which they never would have imagined had not the war started them on the high road to success and wealth. From the stock markets of Broad street and the wheat pits of Chicago to the breeder who raises stock on the immense Western ranches and the farmer who raises each year a colt or two as a side issue of his farming work, have come tales of sudden and unexpected wealth made possible only because nations were hurling themselves upon one another, bent on destruction.

Perhaps one of the most curious of these war fortunes, or at least the paving of the road to such a fortune, is that of the village blacksmith of East St. Louis, Ill. Certainly it is one that owes its origin entirely to the war and to the demand for animals. And, while it may seem a bit modest, the American people are accustomed to look at figures in the days of huge accumulations of wealth, yet it certainly is not a sum to be sneered at as a result of scarcely three years' work.

The owner of the fortune won't admit that it is a fortune. He will tell a visitor that he has made considerable money; but he refuses to state the amount. It has been estimated at $75,000, but the owner merely shakes his head when this is mentioned, and declares that he wishes it was that much; then he adds that he doesn't see why any other person should care how much he makes, as long as he does it honestly and that he does not want the size of the pile made public, anyhow.

He is modest, is this village blacksmith, whose name is Harry F. Browning, in so far as the fortune is concerned. But he takes a great pride in his big business and is proud to display it to the visitor and tell him of the growth that has been made during the war period.

Sort of a by-product of the war, is this business. But even though it may be a by-product, it is one of the biggest things in the world. It has that mark of distinction about it, just as some person has said:

"It is better to be the biggest

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

LOOK, MOTHER! SEE IF TONGUE IS COATED, BREATHE HOT OR STOMACH SOUR.

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breathless, is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Lantic Sugar

makes the best cake because it creams quickly and thoroughly with the butter which is the hardest part of the mixing. Its purity and extra "fine" granulation make it dissolve at once.

Canada must 'Carry On'

If Belgium's Children Are To Be Saved --

To punish the violation of Belgium and free its land from the Huns has been one of the strongest rallying cries of British and Canadians throughout this war. For it our men have fought hard and long, and stronger and more determined now than ever, they are "Carrying on," to the finish.

When the soldiers first went out to fight the despoilers of Belgium, we who could not go undertook to help feed the starving women and children who were victims of German savagery. Are WE carrying on as the soldiers are doing? Or has our enthusiasm cooled—our sympathy died out—our help lessened or ceased?

Certainly the Belgians' need of help has not lessened, but rather increased! Three million women, children and old men are depending for food—for life itself—on the Belgian Relief Commission. The Commission in turn depends on us Canadians for a substantial share of the necessary food, or the money with which to buy it. If we fall short in our contributions, thousands of Belgian kiddies must go painfully, if not fatally, short in their food supply. Already an alarming number of them, weakened by scanty rations, are falling victims to tuberculosis.

There would be little merit in restoring Belgium to a nation whose motherhood and youth we had allowed to be decimated and weakened by hunger and resulting disease. Let us at home carry on the relief work as unselfishly, as steadfastly and as successfully as our soldier boys are carrying on the fighting! If YOU have not been helping, now is the time to give a hand and do your bit.

CASUAL COMMENT

"SO FAR SO GOOD."

By Dr. J. M. Harper.

The return-visit the delegates from Quebec have been making to Ontario in line with the advocacy in behalf of a closer national understanding between the two more prominent races in Canada, has been marked by the most satisfactory inter-congratulatory results. And the practical is high at hand to greet and follow up the successful mission. Every one knows what that practically is. The newspapers and the post offices have been busy telling us all about it, within the past week or two. The conditions which stare us in the face in the matter of a patriotic National Service are being emphasized in a way that cannot be overlooked by any wholesome-minded Canadian. We all know where we are at, as to the share of activity we have to enlarge, if we would be in at the winning of the war, just, as it is to be hoped, we now know from the reports concerning the Service of the Quebecers who have lately been enjoying the hospitalities of Ontario, that it is a unifying Canada which is going to face the conditions that are being practically tackled by Director-General Bennett and his colleagues. Nor is it necessary to say that these same Quebecers who have been so hospitably entertained in Toronto and elsewhere in Ontario, as well as their patriotic entertainers, are not likely to close their mission of good-will, now that the entertaining is over for the moment. They have virtually allied themselves with the National Service movement inaugurated by the Federal and Provincial Governments. They have been "serving" the Nation in a way that cannot be misunderstood. The Canadians who have gone to the front were entertained before they left; and those who have been spared to return home have also been entertained. But there is more than that required of the entertained and their entertainers. But there is still fighting to be done by the one, the recovering from painful disabilities by the other, and a general rallying on the part of all of us to share as keenly as possible in the Service of the State up to the point of the winning of the war. We hardly need any further report of the greetings and counter-greetings of the delegates, now that they are back with us. The safe-guarding of an entente among ourselves is a "fait accompli," thanks to the maturants of national camaraderie we have been suggesting for ever so long back, to the pricking of the malingering fault-finder. The necessities for a more active war-service at home or abroad, direct or indirect, are still with us to face, and will be till Canada is saved with the rest of the world from the overshadowing of Hohenzollern rule.

The fear and trembling that is being given voice to on the part of one or two labour circles, under false advising, need not be made too much of, in the meantime. The report from the Semi-ready Manufacturing Company of Montreal, shows where some of that false advising comes from. There are few who favour conscription in theory. As a possible tentative, there are some who favour it, as there are some who declaim against it in the abstract, while there have been one or two who have favoured it one day and pronounced against it the next to suit their own purposes of canvass. But it may surely be safely said that no brave-hearted Canadian is ever likely to rebel against conscription, should the dire necessity arise for us to have conscription in defence of the public interest. The fear-and-trembling, therefore, is that making itself visible in certain quarters is for the moment a mere premature affectation. It is but a momentary outcry ahead of time, promoting an untidy wrangling over what may never be called for. In one quarter it has been given a partizan cast of countenance. And this is no time for the nursing of a look of that kind. Mr. Bennett and his colleagues are busy trying to find out from their fellow-citizens, how far they are willing to share in a governmental National Service. If under the wisely matured counsel of the highest statesmanship we have, and through the instant co-operation of our returned visitors from Quebec and Ontario, the majority of those who have received and returned the official cards declare that they are willing and ready to serve the State during the necessitous times that have befallen it, then the way is open for that majority and State officialdom to indicate what Service is expected of us, possibly one by one individually. If there be a minority that would rather be a State unto themselves, then will the State know for a certainty that there are some who would force the State to favour conscription. Indeed, we would not be surprised to find among the latter not a few of those who have been decrying the malingering of their neighbors in giving heed to the call of our recruiting agencies. That decrying of their neighbors is now out of date. The entente delegates have brought home to us the fact that it is out of date. We are one, they have told us; and all Canadians, who are loyal Canadians, have to listen to the call of the State. We have all to share in the common cause of saving our homeland and our European motherland, God helping us.

The plea of the British Allies in their unanimous reply to President Wilson, and the counter-plea of the German allies, indicate objectively and subjectively how far we are yet from a world's peace. And the notable words of advice from those high in authority over us cannot but convince us where our State duties lie. The State is in peril, and the people—all the people—have to rally to its rescue. The crisis is with us, irrespective of the remoteness as yet from us, of the personal galling straits that beset the peoples of our motherlands in Europe. We have not yet reached the stage which they have reached of putting on the attire of "shackcloth and ashes." The agonizing of the Belgians and the Serbians and the Poles and the Armenians and the Roumanians is still at arm's length from us. The profits from war-supplies and manufactures are still gongling in our purse. Professor Leacock in his advocacy for a "Canadian National Organization for War," has been telling us pretty freely of our punitive nonchalance and thoughtlessness. The cartoonist of "Life" has even been comparing us to a crowd of heedless, giddy, waltzing crowd of emigrants on their way to Hades, waiting for passage in old Charon's boat to the beyond. And really the jingling of these war-coins in our purse has seemingly stopped the ears of many of us to the serious aspect of affairs, whatever be the philosophy of it all. The treacherous and barbarous-minded autocracy of Hohenzollern militancy in its fooling of the German people, is more or less to many of us as yet a mere picture-show. We would spend the profits of our share in our share in the show in the most thoughtless way, and send to the dogs any one who would interrupt, with sober-minded advice, the madcap scuttling of the public chest which the running of the show involves. But, of course, this is but one side of the story. The true side of it is about being told by these mail-cards that are by this time reaching the hands of Director-General Bennett and his colleagues. The frolics of the passing day cannot but be subdued in presence of our responsibilities. The crisis is with us, shrug our shoulders at it as we may, or at those who write of it, or speak about it from platform or pulpit. President Wilson's initiative of trying to find out whether peace be possible or not, has led to the opening of the eyes of the Entente Allies as well as of the Neutral Nations, as to the danger ahead of us. There is now no foothold for a stampede urged on by any cry of "No Emergency." With the plea of a righteous indignation against a would-be tyranny taking charge of the world as it has Germany itself, on the one hand, and the subtle plea that there is only one way of securing peace, namely by force of arms and a dread of butchery on the other, is it going to be said of any one claiming Canada to be his or her homeland, that a National Service is not for them, crisis or no crisis. The Quebec and Ontario deputations for the urging of a closer provincial camaraderie from one end of Canada to the other, has virtually brought us to see that there is but one way out of the threatenings that beset us, and that is by rallying as a one people to the rescue of the communal interest under the advice of the State. And surely it is as one people we should implement the decree of the motherlands in Europe, that in their further campaigning against the diabolism of Odium and its heartless Hohenzollern offspring, there is going to be no begging on our part for peace, but only a granting of it.

FEW MINUTES! NO INDIGESTION, GAS, SOUR STOMACH--PAPE'S DIAEPSIN

Digests all food, absorbs gases and stops fermentation at once.

Wonder what upset your stomach?—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into sub-bomb lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul tongue coated—just take: Pape's Diaepsin, and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diaepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diaepsin, which costs only fifty cts. for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

FINANCIAL - COMMERCIALClosing Letters By the Can. Press

(Canadian Press).

New York, Jan. 26—Efforts of the professional element to infuse interest into today's market by elevating equipments and other issues 2 to 7 points were moderately successful until in the final hour, when heaviness in motors, shipping and a few of the more vulnerable specialties caused a general reversal and an irregular close.

Features of early strength included New York Air Brake, American and Baldwin Locomotives General Electric, Pressed Steel and American Cars, American Can, the metals, particularly zinc shares, International and American Writing Paper's, oil's, Industrial Alcohol and several utilities, such as Montana Power, Western Union and MacKay Companies.

United States Steel made a gradual rise of a point to 115 3-8, all of which and more was later forfeited and Bethlehem Steel remained unquoted until almost near the end, when 100 shares changed hands at a price unchanged from the previous day.

The all-around decline of the last hour was primarily due to concerted pressure upon motors and subsidiaries, General Motors making an extreme loss of six points. Shipping's also yielded on nominal offerings, Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies scoring a gross setback of 3 5-8 points.

Rails counted for less than usual. Reading being the only representative issue to manifest more than slight activity and strength. Long Island was again reactionary with some heaviness in minor rails like Denver and Rio Grande and Missouri Kansas and Texas Pfd. Total sales amounted to 460,000 shares.

For the first time this year forecasts of the weekly money movement suggest a contraction of local bank reserves, probably by a substantial amount. Consumption of a large export of gold to south America was announced and foreign exchange was again erratic, fires making some recovery from their extreme depreciation, while marks moved contrarily.

Dealings in bonds were light with an irregular tone, the new St. Paul offering finding no reflection in railway issues. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,260,000.

At the Theatres

VICTORIA THEATRE.

Capacity Houses at All Performances Yesterday—Last Opportunity Today to See Robert Connors and Mabel Trunnelle, in Wonderful Production "Martyrdom of Philip Strong, by Rev. C. M. Sheldon.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

FRANK MCINTYRE

Frank McIntyre, who is starring in the Famous Players adaptation of his greatest stage success, "The Traveling Salesman," says that he has travelled so many miles on the road in theatrical companies that he has a feeling in the bottom of his heart for the unfortunate travelling man. At any rate, those who see him in this Paramount Picture, which is the feature attraction at the Victoria Theatre will agree that he plays the role with understanding.

AT THE OLYMPIA.

Miss Billie Burke

Last showing today of Episode 2, of "Gloria's Romance," at the Olympia, with other big features.

"FELL IN WITH FISHES AND AINT BACK YET."

Baby Marie Osborne at the Empire Theatre Today.

There is a delightful little scene at the opening of the "Joy and the Dragon," starring Baby Marie Osborne, which Manager Lanthier, of the Empire Theatre has made arrangements to present at this popular theatre today.

Some fishermen find the wee youngster lashed on a frail raft at the mercy of wind and wave, the sole survivor of a ship that hit a mine. "My name is Joy," she tells her rescuers. "Mama's joy. My papa just fell in with the fishes and ain't back yet."

"Joy and the Dragon" is the third of Little Mary Sunshine's starring vehicles. The first was entitled "Little Mary Sunshine," the second "Shadows and Sunshine." Each has made a bigger hit than the other. It is said that "Joy and the Dragon" gives a wonderful opportunity to this little star and yet does not depend solely on her, since it has an interesting and fast-moving story and a splendid cast composed of Henry King, Ruth Lackaye and J. Cullen Landis in addition to Baby Marie Osborne.

Coming Attractions.

Watch for the special attractions coming to the Empire, including that great film, "The Christian," "The Battle Cry of Peace" and other gigantic productions. The biggest features on the market are shown at the Empire.

CLASSIC THEATRE

Offers for the Last Time Today One of the Best Productions Ever Seen in Quebec—Dorothy Dalton and H. B. Warner Star in New Triangle Play.

Today is your last chance to see a picture that will hold you from start to finish. The picture is "The Raiders" a tale of a bunch of swindlers and how they tried to get control of a big railroad; how they were foiled by the President's daughter and one of the employees of the company. Then there is the pretty love story; the mighty stock exchange; scenes up in the Adirondacks; the return of the President in time to save the railroad, and the big reward for the faithful employee—the President's daughter—of course. Altogether a picture that you should not miss. Then there's that Keystone comedy. Congratulations are in order for the management of the Classic. They know what the public want in moving pictures.

A BIG TRANSACTION

MR. J. EDMOND POULIN BUYS A MODERN GARAGE

A big real estate deal was put through last Saturday. The imposing edifice which the G. A. Carre Company is building at the foot of Crown street hill was acquired by Mr. R. Edmond Poulin, agent for the celebrated Cadillac automobiles in the District of Quebec, and distributors for all Canada of the Grant-Six Automobile, for which he has just closed a contract to dispose of 1,000 automobiles which will be delivered to him in 1917. In 1916, he sold 500.

In Montreal, Mr. Poulin owns one of the finest, the largest and the most modern garages in Canada. It is situated at the corner of Sherbrooke and Park Streets. It is the official garage of the American Automobile Association. It covers an area of 45,000 feet floor space.

The property which he has just purchased in Quebec will be the largest garage in Eastern Canada. It covers 55,000 feet floor space. It is constructed of fireproof materials, specially for garage use, and situated in the centre of the city, it will certainly receive the custom of automobile owners.

This garage will be equipped in all details for the greatest comfort possible, and will offer all the commodities and advantages imaginable which the most exacting customers may demand.

There will be annexed to the garage a perfectly equipped repair shop under the direction of expert workmen. Next to the garage proper, where the automobiles will be housed, washed and looked after, a room will be furnished for the chauffeurs, where they will find toilet rooms, chairs and newspapers for them to peruse while waiting to be called.

There will also be a magnificent sample or exhibition room where the different models of automobiles which Mr. Poulin has for sale will be exhibited as well as a complete department of accessories of all kinds.

Next to the salesroom, a cosy smoking room, tastefully furnished, will be open to the visitors where they will find newspapers and toilet requisites. Situated on Crown street, this garage is in the centre of the city and will be accessible at all times, by automobile or electric cars or otherwise and will prove an ideal place for amateurs to house their cars for repairs or simply to procure advantageously the accessories which they may require.

The debtors have filed a consent to assign for the benefit of their creditors. Messrs. Leclair & Gagnon, were appointed curators to the estate.

WATCHING THE SEINE.

Parisians Fear It Will Freeze and Delay Coal Shipments.

Paris, Jan. 26.—Parisians are watching the Seine, anxiously for fear that it will freeze over and prevent the arrival of coal barges. For several weeks the normal coal supply of Paris has been short because floods made the passage of tugs and barges under bridges hazardous. Today, although skating is going on in the canal, and at Versailles, the river still remains clear of ice.

URGES LIFTING OF GREEK BLOCKADE

PREMIER LAMBROS ASKS THE AMERICAN MINISTER TO USE HIS INFLUENCE.

Athens, Tuesday, Jan. 23, via London, Jan. 26.—(Delayed)—Premier Lambros today asked Garrett Drovers, the American Minister, to use his influence with the Entente Allies diplomats to hasten the lifting of the Entente blockade of Greece. The Premier described at length the sufferings of the people, the danger in which the blockade placed the understanding between Greece and the Entente and the precarious position of the government on account of its inability to ameliorate conditions.

Mr. Drovers promised to present the situation to the British Minister.

HOW TO CURE STOMACH TROUBLE

The Common Cause is Lack of Blood—therefore You Must Build Up the Blood.

There is the most intimate relation between the condition of the blood and the activity of the stomach. The blood depends upon the stomach for a large part of its nourishment; while every act of digestion, from the time the food enters the stomach and is assimilated by the blood, needs plenty of pure well-oxygenated blood. The muscles, glands and nerves of the stomach work only according to the quality of the blood.

The most common cause of indigestion is lack of rich, red blood. Not only does impure blood weaken the muscles of the stomach but it lessens the product of the glands of the intestines and stomach, which furnish the digestive fluids. Nothing will more promptly cure indigestion than plenty of pure blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the safest and most certain blood-builder. A thorough trial of these pills gives a hearty appetite, perfect digestion, strength and health. Here is proof of the value of these pills in case of indigestion. Mr. Daniel Dexter, Liverpool, N.S., says:—"For several years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. I was greatly troubled with gas on the stomach which caused disagreeable sensations. I was also frequently troubled with nausea and vomiting, which were very distressing. As a result of my trouble my appetite almost completely failed and what I did eat caused me constant pain. I was continually doctoring but did not get any benefit, and had about made up my mind that I would suffer for life. One day a friend asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and while I had not much hope of a cure I decided to do so. I had only taken a few boxes, however, when I found they were helping me. Very gladly then I continued the use of the pills, and in less than three months I was as well as ever I had been, able to eat a hearty meal, and to feel that life was again worth living. I had also been troubled from time to time with attacks of rheumatism, and the use of the pills cured this as well as the indigestion. It is now over a year since I took the pills, and in that time I have had no return of the trouble.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

RECORDER'S COURT.

Four men were charged at the Recorder's Court yesterday with drunkenness. Three of the delinquents were fined $5 and costs, while the fourth was sent to jail for fifteen days.
