BRITISH FORCES ENCIRCLING LEBANESE CAPITAL

Renew Drive On Vichy Rejection Of Peace Offers

SYRIAN POSTS SURRENDER TO BAYONET DRIVE

Vichy Government Answers with Arms at Its Command a British Overture Designed to Avert Bloodshed in Levant States—Native Chiefs Reported Extending Warm Welcome to Advancing Allies.

London, June 13.—(P)—Rebutted in a peace gesture, British and Free French forces in Lebanon and Syria were authoritatively reported today to be closing in on Beirut and broadening the base for perhaps the final assault on Damascus. A high source in London declared that forces advancing along the Mediterranean shore had pushed North of Sidon to a point within twenty miles of Beirut, Lebanese capital, while Free French forces had taken two villages East of Kisseou, facing Damascus, ten miles away.

The Middle East Command at Cairo said the Allies had "temporarily delayed in certain sectors by resistance of Vichy troops," but "had by yesterday evening made further progress in all sectors of their penetration."

The Vichy Government was answering with the arms at its command a British overture through Madrid suggesting that to save French blood it should instruct defence forces to offer no further resistance to measures taken by the Allies "to prevent the enemy from using Syria as a base of operations against them."

Britain disavowed any territorial designs against French territory and declared again that the Allied action was necessitated to counter German ambitions.

The exchange of notes—a French protest at the outset of the fighting and the British reply—were handled through the Vichy and British ambassadors at Madrid. They were published today.

Reuters News Agency said it was understood in Cairo that the Allies had practically surrounded Damascus and that parleys between the opposing forces with a view to avoiding bloodshed had delayed entry into the capital of Syria.

Coinciding with indications of the imminent fall of the city, an Associated Press representative at 1:10 p.m., local time, sent a dispatch which told of Vichy Government measures to protect French residents of Syria and Lebanon from native disorders. This dispatch said the Allied columns were only a few miles away.

Damascus was further approached by a flanking operation led by a Vichy officer who left Syria three weeks ago to join the Free French forces.

At the head of a troop of picturesque Circassian cavalry, which followed him from Syria, Col. Philibert Collet was reported to have skirted a semi-desert area southeast of Damascus to strike from the rear. British artillery and mechanized forces, meanwhile, were said to be hammering at the main defences South of the ancient Syrian capital, where the Vichy troops are occupying strong positions near Kisseou.

Dispatches from the front telling of these operations indicated the Allies had abandoned the sparring tactics they adopted at the start of the campaign in the hope of avoiding bloodshed.

Union Executives Act To Prevent Further Defence Factory Strikes

Washington, June 13.—(P)—Resumption of full-speed production on $500,000,000 worth of United States defence shipbuilding in the San Francisco Bay area depended today on the response of striking A. F. L. machinists to telegraphed instructions from their International Executive Council in Washington to return to their jobs in eleven shipyards.

Possibility the machinists might go to work Monday was voiced by Harry Hook, San Francisco business agent, who set a meeting Sunday to consider the Council action. He said a "full and democratic discussion" would be held, followed by a secret ballot.

Action on this biggest obstacle so far interposed to the all-out ship construction effort came last night in deference to a "direct request" from President Roosevelt, the Executive Council announced.

At the same time the two re-

IRAQ PREMIER PROMISES VENGEANCE ON TROUBLE MAKERS

London, June 13.—(P)—Premier Jamal al Madfai of Iraq in a broadcast from Baghdad said today the strongest measures would be taken against "the criminals responsible for the unhappy events" of last month when Iraq and British were in conflict.

He asserted that Rashid Ali Al-Gailani, who seized control of the Government in April but fled to Iran before British troops entered Baghdad, and his associates had not hesitated to co-operate with foreign powers and their agents in order to make Iraq a centre of trouble.

NEW CLASS OF VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

London, June 13.—(P)—The Air Ministry called today for "several thousand" volunteers required immediately for the defence of new Royal Air Force stations, airbases and establishments now being brought into use in all parts of the country.

Huns Occupied Robin Moor Before Sinking Off Africa

Survivor of Torpedoed United States Merchantman Claims Radio Seized to Prevent Sending of Distress Messages—Government Studies Strong Move in View of Latest Evidence Received.

Recife, Brazil, June 13.—(P)—A survivor of the sunken United States freighter Robin Moor declared today that armed German occupied the 4,999-ton ship and seized her radio to prevent her flashing an SOS before a torpedo from a German submarine sent her to the bottom.

CLAIM ACTION DELIBERATE

By LLOYD LEHRBAS (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, June 13.—(P)—The United States will lodge a vigorous protest with Germany on the sinking of the Robin Moor, it was learned authoritatively today, citing evidence of survivors that the American vessel was torpedoed deliberately by a Nazi U-boat.

The State Department's note, informed quarters predicted, will also demand that restitution be made for the loss of American life and property—thirty-five persons are missing—and that assurances be given against repetition of the incident.

Interest was keen, meanwhile, in what President Roosevelt might have to say on the subject when he holds his regular press conference today. When the sinking was first reported, Mr. Roosevelt asked the nation to suspend judgment until the facts were known, but yesterday the White House said there seemed to be "no longer any reason" for that.

At the State Department, it was said, the preliminary report on how the Robin Moor went to the bottom provided ample eye-witness testimony for an immediate demand on the Nazi Government for a full explanation.

The report was made by Walter J. Linthicum, U. S. Consul at Pernambuco, Brazil, who penned the accounts of the eleven known survivors, including one passenger, and after they reached the South American port aboard the Brazilian rescue ship Osorio.

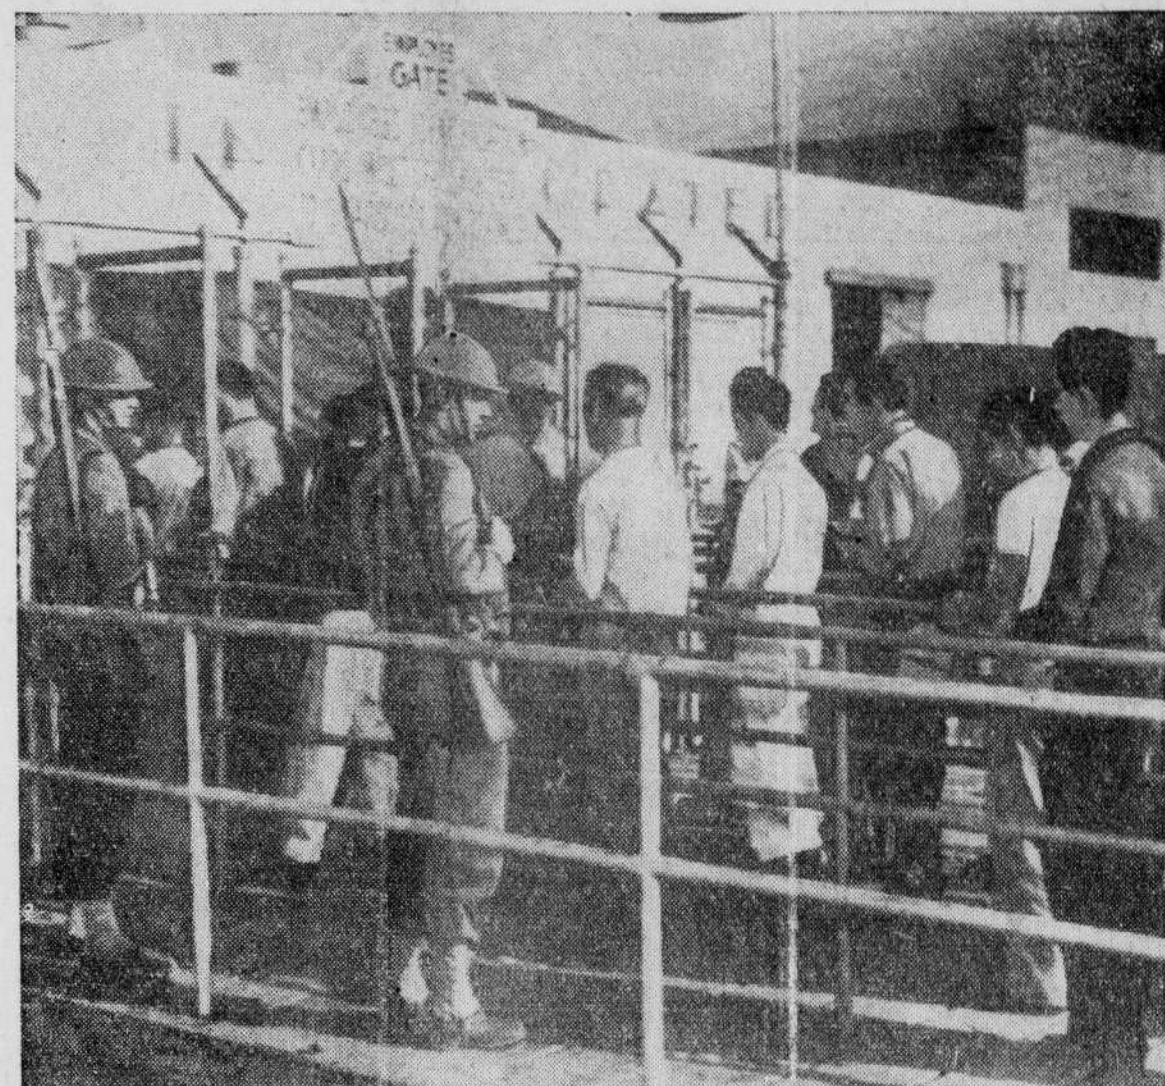

It told how the plainly-marked American merchantman was stopped by the submarine in the South Atlantic May 21, her identity confirmed, and the passengers given thirty minutes to abandon ship.

It described how she was torpedoed amidships.

Then it gave a final picture—the surface U-boat pumping thirty-odd shells into the sinking ship, and afterwards destroying floating wreckage with gunfire. The ship sank within twenty-three minutes.

The submarine, survivors said, had a laughing cow painted on the conning tower for insignia, and also the name "Lorricke" or "Lorickie." Her

LONG STRUGGLE PREDICTED BY DEFENCE HEAD

Col. J. L. Ralston Tells Visiting United States Scribe That War Will Be Long and Strenuous.

Ottawa, June 13.—(P)—Col. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, predicts "This war is going to be a long one and a hard one."

Col. Ralston spoke last night at a dinner in honor of visiting American newspaper women, here for a glimpse of Canada at war. At the dinner were high-ranking army and air officers.

He warned that because the war is going to be a long one "that does not mean that we have time. Months, weeks and days are precious."

"We must make every minute of time count toward the day when we must make a more active part."

Canada has its difficulties in national defence, the Minister said. They arise from inactivity. There have not been many casualties in this war. People do not realize that we are in this war as we were in the last one. But this inactivity of getting at the enemy is the sort of bombing we have to take.

Canada had put its hand to the plow and would not turn back. Industry was getting into high gear. "We along with the United States are the arsenal of democracy."

Col. Ralston added that Canadians believe that the great heart of the American people is with them.

Air Vice-Marshal E. W. Sledman presided at the gathering. He expressed appreciation for American

RAIDERS CAUSE SLIGHT DAMAGE OVER BRITAIN

Small Number of Casualties Reported as Result of Bombs in One Town of East Anglia—Lively Air Battle.

London, June 13.—(P)—Nazi raiders dropped bombs on parts of East-England overnight, the Air Ministry said today. One enemy plane was shot down.

First reports incited the Nazis caused no casualties but it was announced later that "at one town in East Anglia there were a small number of casualties, some of which were fatal."

In a five-minute battle 20,000 feet above the Southeast English coast this afternoon a group of British fighters turned back a formation of Messerschmitts.

Several sharp bursts of cannon fire were heard and, after one long burst, an unidentified plane dived with a loud scream and appeared to have fallen into the sea.

Last night a Blenheim aircraft of the Coastal Command was attacked by three Nazi planes in the vicinity of a British convoy. The enemy aircraft were engaged by guns of the ships in convoy and by the Blenheim. One Nazi plane received a direct hit and when last seen was on fire and losing height. The other two German planes fled. The Blenheim suffered no damage.

British Position Steadily Improving, King Maintains

Intensified Bombing Raids on Germany, Lowering of German Civilian Morale and Down Curve in Ship Sinkings Favorable Factors in War Situation, Prime Minister Tells House of Commons in Pre-Adjournment Statement.

Ottawa, June 13.—(P)—The fact that although France was looked upon as the great barrier against German success, no "vital British position" had been lost since France fell a year ago was a source of encouragement, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said in a war statement in the House of Commons today.

He would have no hesitation in saying, Mr. King added, that a true conception of the situation "would go a long way to strengthen morale."

Reverses were bound to come but he said Canadians should not lose hope when they do come.

"We shall only be helping the enemy if we are unduly elated by temporary successes or unduly downcast by temporary failures," he declared.

In the air the balance was gradually being adjusted. British bombing raids on German industry were becoming increasingly effective.

The Nazi propaganda agencies were no longer able to conceal their effect from the German people.

Hitler in his recent speech was forced to promise better weapons for next year although the German people had all along been led to believe the war would end this year.

"Thus are the prophecies of tyrants put to shame by the efforts of free men," said Mr. King.

The stream of machines of war continued to reach the fighting forces in increasing volume. Everywhere in sky warfare the situation, although not mastered, was improving for Britain from day to day.

On the sea the curve of losses had gone down in recent weeks.

The attack of the Bismarck, followed, as it was, by "relentless pursuit and swift retribution" in the sinking of the Nazi ship showed the realities of British sea power.

Taking into account destruction of enemy ships the balance of destruction was not so heavily tilted in favor of Germany and Italy.

BIDDLE LIKELY INCUMBENT OF JUSTICE POST

Washington, June 13.—(P)—Capitol Hill heard today that President Roosevelt's choice of an Associate Attorney General Robert H. Jackson might lie between Solicitor General Francis Biddle and Thurman W. Arnold, in charge of the United States Justice Department's anti-trust division.

Jackson was nominated to the Supreme Court yesterday when the President also elevated Associate Justice Harlan F. Stone to be Chief Justice succeeding Charles Evans Hughes, who retires July 1, and named Senator James Francis Byrnes (Dem., South Carolina), to succeed James Clark McReynolds.

The Senate, which confirmed Byrnes' appointment in eleven minutes, arranged to hear any protests

Industrial Buildings Ruined In Intensified British Air Attacks

London, June 13.—(P)—Many industrial buildings were blown into the sky and numerous fires started last night in Germany's great manufacturing region, the Ruhr Valley, by a large force of British bombers in the heaviest raid of the war on that region, it was announced today.

Six planes of the bomber command were lost.

The attack "was the heaviest carried out in a single night against this industrial area and a great weight of bombs was dropped," said the Air Ministry's communique.

While the bomber command was attacking the smoky Ruhr, planes of the Coastal Command attacked docks at Brest, France, and Antwerp, Belgium, and also targets near Rotterdam, the Netherlands. One plane failed to return.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted that the R.A.F. flew over Western and Northwestern Germany last night and dropped bombs at various points.

FOREST FIRES RAGE IN NORTH COUNTRY

Chicoutimi, June 13.—(P)—Forest fires damped by heavy rains a week ago after blazing over a wide area for ten days were kindled in some localities last night.

A force of 500 men renewed their fight against flames moving toward the Lievre River and at Lake Victoria while another large blaze burned at Big Creek in the Roberval district.

Forestry reserves of Consolidated Paper, damaged in the previous outbreak of fires, were menaced anew by the Big Creek fire, and a call was made for additional fire-fighters in an attempt to bring the fire under control.

Edmonton, June 13.—(P)—Forest fires in the Whitecourt area, one hundred miles Northwest of Edmonton, raged out of control today and broke through fire lines on all sides.

Fire fighters were forced to abandon their lines yesterday and just managed to escape being trapped, officials said. A strong Southeast wind, which got up Thursday, is still blowing and there seems little sign of rain in the district.

Ottawa, June 13.—(P)—"Appreciably better," was the comment from Victory Loan headquarters today, based on overnight figures which showed total subscriptions yesterday to the $600,000,000 loan went above the required $33,000,000 a day average and reached $33,000,000.

The cumulative total as at 7 p.m. E.D.T. yesterday was $407,687,400.

Loan headquarters said that during Thursday and Wednesday subscriptions had been received from 96,937 individual subscribers. The number of subscribers yesterday was 46,337.

"There is great vitality in those figures," said the headquarters statement.

Yesterday's better-than-average subscriptions followed two days during which the daily totals were below the average required to complete subscription of the loan by the due date for closing the subscription books, June 21.

Total subscribers to 7 p.m. last night was 433,210.

Reports from the larger cities were: Winnipeg $22,922,500, or 95 per cent of its quota; Ottawa, $25,891,200, 78.45 per cent; Calgary, $4,235,950, 75.30 per cent; Edmonton, $3,657,950, 72.22 per cent; Montreal, $7,730,000, 63.2 per cent; Saint John, $1,616,000, 65.2 per cent; Saskatoon, $687,900, 65 per cent; Halifax, $3,620,050, 61.35 per cent; Three Rivers, $1,185,250, 60.47 per cent; Regina, $1,779,500, 52 per cent; Quebec, $5,773,000, 51.41 per cent; Sydney, N.S., $723,200, 36.16 per cent; Sherbrooke, $845,500, 28.23 per cent.

Summerside, P.E.I., still holds the lead among the smaller cities, on a percentage of quota is leading all cities, with subscriptions of $281,100, being 124.9 per cent.

Other cities reporting were Moncton $311,300, 108.1 per cent; Charlottetown $450,150, 81.8 per cent; Moose Jaw $300,400, 70.70 per cent; Glace Bay $283,900, 56.78 per cent; Brandon $313,350, 54 per cent.

On Thursday the loan drive passed the halfway mark and last night officials issued this statement:

"While the pace set in the first few days has not been maintained, officials at headquarters are full of hope that the people of Canada will carry through their determination to send the Victory Torch . . . to Prime Minister Churchill on schedule."

The Torch cannot leave Canada, they said, until the $600,000,000 issue of two and three per cent bonds has been taken up.

Yesterday's national total of subscriptions was $32,556,800, 62 per cent of the objective, and individual subscribers at that time numbered 386,873. On Wednesday, bond sales amounted to only $3,159,400, the

NORTH HATLEY PLANS VICTORY LOAN CEREMONY

With their objective of $40,000 surpassed by more than fifty per cent, residents of North Hatley on Sunday afternoon will raise three honor pennants on the Arch of Triumph which has been erected in the centre of the city.

Although residents of the town have subscribed more than $60,000 to the Victory Loan Drive, canvassers in the district are continuing their efforts and are confident of reaching a total of $75,000 before the campaign is closed.

It is expected that residents from surrounding districts will flock into the town Sunday for the ceremony. With a population of only 732 people, organizers in North Hatley have set their objective as a $100 subscription from every citizen.

Renew Drive

Increased pressure in the Damascus sector apparently was accompanied by intensification of the Allied drive on the Lebanese capital of Beirut, to the West.

From Istanbul, it was reported that Allied armor cars were moving southward today across the Syrian desert from Deir-e-Zor toward Palmyra, apparently in an attempt to encircle Vichy forces fighting in the South. If the force reaches Palmyra it will be in position to push on toward Damascus or Hama.

The Turkish sources said the town of Hassatche, thirty miles East of the Iraq frontier, had been occupied by the Allies.

British sources said last night Allied troops had reached the port of Sidon, twenty-five miles South of Beirut, with the support of naval forces off the coast. The push is continuing.

The main Allied force attacking Damascus has covered approximately fifty miles since it crossed the Syrian frontier and entered Syria last Sunday.

This column apparently encountered little resistance in its initial drive, but reports reaching London last night told of sharp hand-to-hand encounters with Australians wiping out Senegalese posts at bayonet point after artillery bombardments.

pany, Quebec City. Mr. Lindsay remained with that company until its plant was wrecked by a boiler explosion.

In May, 1891, he was appointed chief accountant for G. R. Renfrew and Company, Quebec City, now Holt Renfrew and Company, Limited, with which he was connected as director until the time of his death.

Mr. Lindsay served several terms as President of the Quebec branch of the Y.M.C.A. He was always active as a church worker, and was a member of Dominion Douglas Church, in Montreal, at the time of his death.

In 1875, Mr. Lindsay married Miss Elizabeth A. Barlow who died in 1929. There were four sons and one daughter; the youngest son, Lt. Kenneth R. Lindsay, was a Great War veteran, 42nd Highlands, and has since died.

EMPLOYEES DUE BACK TO SHEER SILK ON MONDAY

Compromise Reached with Striking Employees Over Demanded Dismissal of Foreman.

The one hundred employees of the Sheer Silk Hosiery Company, who were on strike early this week demanding the dismissal of one of the foremen of the plant, will return to work Monday, it was announced today by Walter Mutchler, general manager of the company.

It is understood that the workers discussed the matter late last night with Cyprion Miron, conciliator of the Quebec Government Department of Labor, who was called in to settle the dispute.

Details of the agreement reached between the company and the workers could not be obtained but it is understood that a compromise of some nature had been reached. Mr. Mutchler said that the foreman against whom the men complained would remain on the job, however.

It is believed that the directors of the company have agreed to give the matter further study but work will not be interrupted in the meantime. The strikers were members of the Knitters' Association of Employees of the Sheer Silk Hosiery Company.

be turned over to the mediation board.

The machinists demanded $1.15 an hour pay, instead of the $1.12 an hour provided in the costwise ship-building master agreement signed in April, and double pay for overtime.

The Pittsburgh propeller strike was averted by the Union's agreement to extend the existing wage contract with Curtiss Wright to June 20, pending mediation board efforts to settle the dispute.

The union demanded for the 1,000 workers involved a general ten cent hourly increase. The present minimum is sixty cents and the average pay seventy-eight cents an hour.

A drive to "Clean out Communists" from the Congress of Industrial Organizations-United Automobile Workers organizing drive in the Pacific Coast aircraft industry was proclaimed by Richard T. Frankenstein, C.I.O.-U.A.W. aircraft director, as normal production of ten warplanes daily near the army-occupied North American Aviation plant in Inglewood, Calif. Four thousand troops guarded the plant. The plant is engaged in $196,000,000 in contracts for Britain and the United States.

In an address last night Frankenstein said the first of about one hundred and twenty-five high C.I.O. officials had arrived to help him eliminate radicals from "positions where they could dominate C. I. O. policies" in the organization efforts.

He condemned the "irresponsible acts of the local leaders" of the U.A.W. in precipitating a strike "against our national government and our national defense," referring to the North American walkout last week.

The Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles said whether this episode on the high seas would constitute a "grave incident" in the eyes of the Government.

He declined any official comment pending receipt of full information and a careful survey of all facts related to the war's first loss of an American ship by direct belligerent action. The detailed depositions of the survivors are on their way here from Brazil.

Welles emphasized in a statement that the Robin Moor was a neutral ship, she was bound for African ports outside combat areas, and that she carried a general cargo—ranging from steel rails to brassieres—but no arms, ammunition or other material of a military character.

A digest of international law prepared by Green H. Hackworth, legal adviser of the State Department, and recently published by the department, stated that Germany, among other nations, adhered to a provision of the London naval treaty of 1930 which was designed to "humanize" submarine warfare and insure all possible precautions for the safety of persons and crews of merchant vessels.

The agreement specified submarines as subject to the same rules of international law as surface warships, and might not sink a merchant vessel without first placing passengers, crew and the ship's papers in a place of safety.

"For this purpose," the provision declares, "the ship's boats are not regarded as a place of safety unless the safety of the passengers and crew is assured, in the existing sea and weather conditions, by the proximity of land, or the presence of another vessel which is in a position to take them aboard."

After interviewing the survivors at Pernambuco Linthicum reported that the vessel had been sunk midway between Africa and South America and passengers and crew left adrift in open lifeboats, hundreds of miles from land.

There were four lifeboats. Three remain missing after twenty-two days at sea, despite searches along the lengthy Brazilian coastline. The missing boats carried thirty-five crew members and passengers, including three married couples and one child.

Of the rescued, the one non-crew member was P. C. Eccles, a British subject.

Dr. Rosario Fontaine, medico-legal expert, reporting on his autopsy on the woman's body, said there were marks showing the woman had been stabbed five times about the body with a pointed instrument and once in the neck.

A lifeboat in charge of the first mate rowed a mile and a half to the waiting U-boat. There the mate personally apprised the commander of the Robin Moor's nationality and destination. He spent ten minutes below deck, the report said, and when he reappeared the "abandon ship" command was given.

The Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles said whether this episode on the high seas would constitute a "grave incident" in the eyes of the Government.

He declined any official comment pending receipt of full information and a careful survey of all facts related to the war's first loss of an American ship by direct belligerent action. The detailed depositions of the survivors are on their way here from Brazil.

Welles emphasized in a statement that the Robin Moor was a neutral ship, she was bound for African ports outside combat areas, and that she carried a general cargo—ranging from steel rails to brassieres—but no arms, ammunition or other material of a military character.

A digest of international law prepared by Green H. Hackworth, legal adviser of the State Department, and recently published by the department, stated that Germany, among other nations, adhered to a provision of the London naval treaty of 1930 which was designed to "humanize" submarine warfare and insure all possible precautions for the safety of persons and crews of merchant vessels.

The agreement specified submarines as subject to the same rules of international law as surface warships, and might not sink a merchant vessel without first placing passengers, crew and the ship's papers in a place of safety.

"For this purpose," the provision declares, "the ship's boats are not regarded as a place of safety unless the safety of the passengers and crew is assured, in the existing sea and weather conditions, by the proximity of land, or the presence of another vessel which is in a position to take them aboard."

After interviewing the survivors at Pernambuco Linthicum reported that the vessel had been sunk midway between Africa and South America and passengers and crew left adrift in open lifeboats, hundreds of miles from land.

There were four lifeboats. Three remain missing after twenty-two days at sea, despite searches along the lengthy Brazilian coastline. The missing boats carried thirty-five crew members and passengers, including three married couples and one child.

Of the rescued, the one non-crew member was P. C. Eccles, a British subject.

CRITICIZES WAR EFFORT

By FRANK FLAHERTY

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, June 13.—(C)—Ughered in by a declaration of impatience with military training methods from a serving officer, a general debate on national defence matters continues in the House of Commons today.

Last night Maj. Alan Cockeram (Con. York South), wearing the uniform of the Irish Regiment in Canada of which he is second in command, asked Defence Minister Ralston for some "house-cleaning" at National Defence headquarters and complained of slowness in the supply of equipment and in the training progress of troops in Canada.

Col. Ralston replied that he could supply equipment only as fast as Canadian industry could produce it and defended the training system as approved by British army authorities.

"We must walk before we can run," said the Minister. "The training being done is basic training which must be given before the higher training in large formations is given."

The Minister said he had made many changes at defence headquarters and would not have more than have "square pegs in round holes." He said the present Chief of the General Staff, Maj.-Gen. H. D. G. Grear, was recommended for the post by Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Corps overseas, and himself a former Chief of the General Staff. He expressed complete confidence in Gen. Grear and other officers at headquarters.

The debate took place on defence estimates as the House sat to midnight for the second night in succession in an effort to complete its business this week. During the long sitting the House approved estimates of the Departments of Finance, Trade and Commerce, Secretary of State and National Revenue.

Labor Department estimates were completed and a home loan bill completed. These gave Angus MacInnis, (C.C.F., Vancouver East), a chance to protest at a telegram sent the Government by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association urging action to deal with the labor situation.

Labor Minister Mackenzie King said it was not his conception of the duties of the Labor Department to deal with subversive activity or to enforce the law.

"We are there to provide fair wages and to conciliate disputes, but it is not our job to be a function of the Labor Department to act as a police force," he said.

The House adopted Prime Minister Mackenzie King's motion to adjourn when present business is completed until November 3, subject to an earlier call if the public interest requires it.

Conservative House Leader Hanson left Ottawa for his home at Fredericton, lending weight to belief the House might complete its business today.

The Cockeram-Ralston exchange was the second of the session. A week ago a general election was called by the Minister about a speech the officer made at a political meeting. The Minister said in the letter that speech contained criticism of army policy which, under King's Regulations, was not to be made in public.

Maj. Cockeram said the training received by his unit since its mobilization in the 4th Division did not compare with the training given troops in 1914 and 1915. He said the division's artillery had been sent to the armored division and as yet there was no divisional commander or headquarters staff.

"I suppose the Government has not yet decided to whom it will give that political plum," he said, "but there isn't any question we are entitled to active service."

He said his unit's establishment was fifty Bren guns but it had only twelve, and he spoke of other shortages in equipment. The member said also that he thought all jobs at National Defence should be filled by military district headquarters should be filled by men who saw service in the First Great War.

With available equipment, he charged, Canada would have been "licked" had the German battleship Bismarck and its escort vessel, the Prince Eugen, landed the extra men they had on board when they were out in mid-Atlantic.

"I think it is time the Militia Department came to life and that some system of training should be conceived and the bottleneck that is at headquarters should be removed," he declared.

Col. Ralston said Canada's overseas commitments for this year were the 3rd division, the army tank brigade and the armored division. These formations had first call on equipment.

Training was being carried on under the "training centre" system which was the only one that could give results. Instead of organizing a unit and starting it out with officers and men all inexperienced, the personnel was trained first at centres.

There was still a shortage of equipment but the situation was improving. He assured Maj. Cockeram the Irish Regiment would get its

DEMONSTRATION IN COATICOOK FOR WAR LOAN

Thousands Attended Rally Held Last Night to Encourage Subscriptions to 1941 Victory Loan.

Coaticook, June 20.—Planned to encourage subscription to the Victory Loan by residents of Coaticook and vicinity, an enthusiastic rally participated in and attended by thousands of people was held here last night. Featuring the evening's programme was a mammoth parade, a meeting in the Rivoli Theatre and the burning of the effigies of Hitler and Mussolini.

The parade, which left the Theatre at seven-thirty o'clock, was comprised of veterans of the war of 1914-18, troops from Sherbrooke, the Coaticook Battery, the Coaticook Band, detachments from local Catholic schools, Boy Scouts and Cubs, and decorated automobiles, trucks and bicycles.

A thirteenth number of war films were shown as well as several showing the different uses to which the money raised in the Victory Loan drive will be put. Louis St. Laurent, K.C., Joint Provincial Chairman of the campaign, made an impassioned plea for greater support of the campaign in this area, then, following the showing of a feature picture, C. A. Gallagher, district organizer, spoke to the large crowd, telling how much it costs to equip the individual soldier.

Mr. Gallagher reminded his listeners that they were only about fifteen hours' flying time distant from the enemy, stressed the great cost of machines and ammunition and said that the best opportunity for Canadians to serve their country at the present time lies in subscription to the Victory Loan.

Mayor J. H. Pelouquin, speaking in French, also urged the people of Coaticook to subscribe freely to the drive. Dr. W. L. Shurtleff, K.C., said it is up to Canadians to push the loan over the top without delay.

"We owe it to our Government, we owe it to our soldiers and we owe it to ourselves," Dr. Shurtleff said. "It is our Government, they are our soldiers and it is our war."

Lieut. Rousseau, of Sherbrooke, issued an appeal for recruits for the armed forces, and pointed out that a recruiting office will be opened in Coaticook in the near future.

A $50 Victory Bond, given by ten of the leading business men of Coaticook, was drawn for, and was won by Mrs. W. Dionne, after the burning of Europe's bloodthirsty dictators brought the rally to a close.

Bishop's University Confers Four Honorary Degrees

Military Note Sounded At University's Convocation

Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec Among Four Distinguished Canadians to Receive D.C.L. Degree—Many Graduates to Receive Degrees in Uniform.

The fact that Canada and the British Empire are at war, with all the resources at their command, against totalitarian powers who would destroy the democratic way of life and the democratic way of life was brought home sharply to the large numbers attending the Convocation of the University of Bishop's College yesterday afternoon.

A guard of honor, formed of members of the University's Canadian Officers' Training Corps, received Major-General Sir Eugene Fiset, Kt., C.M.G., D.S.O., M.D., LL.D., Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, one of the four distinguished Canadians who received the honorary degree of D.C.L. and a good number of the graduates who received degrees in course were in uniform.

The others who received the degree of D.C.L. were F. Cyril James, M.A., Ph.D., Principal and Vice-Chancellor of McGill University, Montreal, Rev. G. Basil Jones, M.A., Dean of the Faculty of Divinity and Harrold Professor of the University of Bishop's College, and F. T. Hand-sombody, M.A., Rector of the High School of Quebec.

Arriving at the University shortly after two o'clock, the Lieutenant-Governor, accompanied by Lt.-Col. D. B. Papineau, A.D.C., was met by the Chancellor, Hon. R. A. E. Green-shields, D.C.L., LL.D., the Principal and Vice-Chancellor, Rev. A. H. McGreer, M.A., D.C.L., D.D., and D.C. Coleman, D.C.L., LL.D., of Montreal, and proceeded to the lawn adjoining the Old Arts Building, where the Guard of Honor, under the command of Major C. H. M. Church and Second Lieut. D. W. Chute, came to the present as the bugle band played the General Salute. Accompanied by the Chancellor and the Principal, Sir Eugene then inspected the Guard.

In addition to the four honorary degrees, twenty-six degrees in course, including one M.A. and eight High School Interim Certificates were awarded.

Speaking on the topic, "Qui Vive?" Dr. James delivered a stirring challenge to the graduates who leave the University to take their places in the war-torn world. "During the past twenty years the civilization of our Western world has crumbled per-

DUDSWELL MAN SUCCUMBED TO SEVERE BURNS

Verdict of Accidental Death Returned Today in Case of Irene Lessard Injured While Cleaning Steam-Shovel.

A verdict of accidental death was returned today by a jury under Coroner Leonidas Bachand in the case of Irene Lessard, twenty-seven-year-old laborer of St. Adolphe de Dudswell, who succumbed to burns he suffered when his clothes caught fire when he was cleaning a steam-shovel on the Sherbrooke-Quebec highway yesterday.

Gerard Grenier, 28, also of St. Adolphe de Dudswell, who went to Lessard's rescue, is in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital suffering from severe burns about the hands. He remains there for observation for several days.

Lessard was alone at the time his clothes caught fire and witnesses at the inquest, which was held at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital this morning, were unable to explain exactly how the accident happened.

Lessard was employed by the Modern Paving Company and his duties consisted of cleaning and oiling the steam shovel and in general keeping it in good condition. Grenier in his testimony put forward the theory that a short circuit on the shovel may have started a fire and that the fire spread to Lessard's clothes. As his clothes were covered with grease and oil, the unfortunate victim was soon a flaming torch and screamed in pain when his companions touched him in an effort to extinguish the flames.

Grenier and Lessard's brother, Rosario, who was also working for the Modern Paving Company, and who was eating in a nearby farm house when the accident occurred, finally managed to put out the fire and the victim was rushed to hospital where he died last night.

Coroner Bachand after hearing the evidence instructed the jury to render a verdict of accidental death.

Doctor in Civil Law from Bishop's University.

"This University of Lennoxville has been spreading its teaching for now over one hundred years. Measuring the progress of this school on the constant developments of our modern times, preparing the young men for the actual need of our Canadian society, taking account of the necessities and circumstances of our American evolution, the professors of this University have won, for themselves and for this home of learning, the best reputation of honor and of high education.

"In the various fields of thought and action in every country, and perhaps more than elsewhere in the midst of our young Canadian nation, the principles that enlighten the leaders, the power that strengthens their spirit and their will have all been the result of the teaching given by the high educators of our universities.

"It is a pleasure for me to recognize publicly, here, today, the wonderful achievements realized in this way by the educators of your institution. Here have been prepared, for the benefit of our Canadian life, many men of character who have honored their Alma Mater and deserved the gratitude of all, for the able part they have played in their sphere of great and leading activities.

"I wish also to mention with pride the manner in which, during the last war, when I was in charge of the Department of National Defence, this university, for one, responded to our call for the preparation of our young men as officers in our various units. I have always remembered with a deep sense of satisfaction the co-operation offered by all our universities through our various Canadian Officers' Training Corps.

Today, according to the new developments of this generous country of ours is doing his best to help save liberty and civilization throughout the world. And you also are taking your share in the national duty of this hour.

"I would like to congratulate you and our other universities and institutions for the noble example given to our youths and the people in this country, to prove our loyalty to the Mother Country as the defender of our rights and our faith.

"I need not give any advice to the valiant students I see brightening this solemn assembly with the charm of their own youth, whose petulance, today, though restrained by the serious thoughts of these times, is nevertheless allowed to give expression of joy and relaxation.

"However, I am very glad to offer them, and before all to those receiving their final degree, my warmest congratulations for having completed the course of their high studies, my best wishes also for their success in the career awaiting them.

"To them and to the authorities of this university, I once again express my very deep appreciation for the

Time Is Precious In Prosecution Of War, Emphasizes Dr. F. C. James In Bishop's Convocation Address

The mounting total of assistance, spiritual and material, which has come from the United States indicates that there is a growing number of people in that country who realize that they cannot remain silent in the face of "the challenge that has been sketched," Dr. F. C. James, Principal and Vice-Chancellor of McGill University, declared yesterday afternoon at Convocation at the University of Bishop's College.

Dr. James was one of four distinguished Canadians who received the Degree of Doctor of Civil Law, Honoris Causa, from the Lennoxville institution.

Declaring that time was precious, Dr. James warned that unless that challenge was responded to immediately "it may be too late to answer it."

"Even though we realize clearly that the loss of the initial battles does not imply ultimate defeat in a war, we must realize with equal clearness that every initial defeat makes the attainment of ultimate victory somewhat more difficult," he said.

Dr. James added that the civilization of the Western world crumbled perceptibly during the past twenty years because men and women were not alive to their responsibilities.

"Fear and narrow-mindedness," he stated, "have prevented, on many occasions since 1931, the adoption of sound plans for the rehabilitation of world society and the creation of a climate of opinion in which the march of human progress might have resumed."

The complete text of Dr. James' address follows:

"The habit of speeches at Convocation descends to us, along with the pattern of the gowns that we are now wearing, from a distant Medieval age. In that day, if my memory serves me well, candidates for degrees were expected to prove, before the members of Convocation, their intellectual worthiness by offering, extemporaneously, a defence in Mediaeval Latin of a thesis that might be presented to them by the faculty. I should not think that this evening as a graduate of Bishop's University if that test were imposed today, because I must admit that I have never regarded extemporaneous orations in Mediaeval Latin as an accomplishment to which I could pretend.

"The modern habit is pleasant. The candidate is allowed to speak in the English language and is not called upon for his remarks until after he has received the degree, in order that his nervousness regard-

FREEDOM TORCH DUE TO ARRIVE HERE TOMORROW

Parade Which Will Be Made Up of Fifteen Different Units Will March Off from Parade Grounds at 3.30 P.M.

A CALL TO CANADIANS

The necessity of every Canadian realizing that he or she must take an immediate part in the effort of winning the war for the preservation of democracy and individual liberty was vividly stressed by Dr. F. Cyril James, Principal of McGill University, at the Convocation ceremonies at Bishop's University. Dealing with the issue facing Canadians today, Dr. James declared:

"Time is precious. Unless we, who are still able to hear it, respond immediately to the challenge, it may be too late to answer it. Even though we realize clearly that the loss of the initial battle does not imply ultimate defeat in a war, we must realize with equal clearness that every initial defeat makes the attainment of ultimate victory somewhat more difficult. Our enemy is advantaged by his successes both in material and morale, so that we cannot stand idly by assuming that we can enjoy today and leave until some more convenient occasion the response which, instinctively, we feel the challenge to demand. We are compelled to fight with all the energy and resources that we can command in order to preserve life and freedoms that make it real, and we must never, for a moment, forget that if we should lose this opportunity to preserve it, there may not be another chance."

The Dominion is making many calls upon its citizens for support in many lines of endeavor, it seeks men for the army and money for materials, and it is the duty of each man and woman to give this support without delay.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA

The success of the German propaganda machine in preparing the path for spread of Reich military control over the greater portion of the European continent cannot be denied, but like in all organizations it has one great weakness, a weakness that it has shared with the leaders and citizens of Germany alike for many years. It does not understand the true psychology of the British people and as a result its efforts to undermine the determination of the Anglo-Saxons to win the war have very often the opposite effect. An example of misguided propaganda effort was the recent leaflet raid over the British Isles, the pamphlets warning the British people that they face starvation because of the efficacy of the German U-boat. But strangely, the charge came just two days after Prime Minister Churchill had been able to inform the British House of Commons that the Battle of the Atlantic is going better for the Old Country.

The Prime Minister said "prodigious exertions" had been made to bring North American supply cargoes into British ports, and added: "The month of May was in fact the best month we have had for some time upon the Atlantic."

He indicated that the month's losses, including the heavy toll taken in the course of fighting in the Mediterranean, would amount to around 350,000 tons, compared with approximately 490,000 tons lost in both April and March.

The German leaflets apparently dwell largely on President Roosevelt's references to the shipping situation in his speech of May 28. As a great many Britons heard this speech on their own radios, and most newspapers published the full text, it seems incredible that Dr. Goebbels would hope to deceive any Briton by his distortions.

In fact Mr. Roosevelt's "blunt truth" was not startling to the people of the British Isles, because their own leaders had kept them well informed on the war at sea and had repeatedly warned of the seriousness of the situation.

What the President did say is this: "... There have been sinkings of merchant ships in alarming and increasing numbers. ... The blunt truth seems to be ... the present rate of Nazi sinkings of merchant ships is more than three times as high as the capacity of British shipyards to replace them; it is more than twice the combined British and American output of merchant ships today."

The Nazi leaflets did not add what the President said the United States, together with Britain, was doing and would do to overcome this menace to maritime freedom. Neither did they quote Mr. Roosevelt's promise in Washington yesterday that "we will help Britain to outstrip the Axis powers in munitions of war, and we will see to it that these munitions get to the places where they can be effectively used to weaken and defeat the aggressors."

Among the problems now being dealt with by Washington is that of getting supplies to the British forces in the Middle East, which has been complicated by the increasing activities of Axis submarines in the Middle Atlantic, between South America and West Africa, through which ships bound for the Cape and the Red Sea must pass.

Averell Harriman, in charge of co-ordinating supplies from the United States, has gone to Egypt to deal on the spot with problems arising at that end of the supply line. At the other end careful study is being given to the case of the United States steamship Robin Moor, reported torpedoed while en route to South Africa. As President Roosevelt has affirmed the determination of the United States to see that its ships retain the right to sail the oceans unmolested, the case may have profound repercussions. In the meantime Washington has asked the public to reserve judgment on the case until the full facts are ascertained.

TWO CANADIANS HONORED

The honors bestowed by His Majesty upon two Canadians, former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, and High Commissioner Vincent Massey, indicates the important place which these two men have built for themselves in the war effort in the Old Land.

Viscount Bennett, who now takes a seat in the House of Lords, has played an active part in the aerial rearmament of Great Britain being one of the chief lieutenants of Lord Beaverbrook in the Ministry of Aircraft Production, while he has also held many other important positions in connection with the volunteer effort, perhaps one of the most important being the Chairmanship of the London Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey has been carrying on an important task, i.e., that of acting as liaison officer between Canada and the other sections of the Commonwealth represented in London, with a great degree of success. The work has been difficult and at many times misunderstood, but this has not deterred him in his efforts, and judging from the honors accorded him, the gravity of the task has been fully appreciated by the British authorities.

FROM THE RECORD FILES OF THIRTY YEARS AGO

Officials in charge of the Coronation programme in Great Britain have announced that a United States and German dreadnaught will join ten British capital ships in the great naval review at Spithead. In all 170 warships will take part in the Royal Review.

Heavy rains during the past few days have materially improved the agricultural situation throughout the Eastern Townships and have eased the menace of brush fires.

At the regular meeting of the Royal Templars of Temperance at Scottstown, the following officers were elected: Mr. Payson Sherman, Miss Mary Black, Mr. Norman Morrison, Mr. Rupert McLeod, Mr. Alton Brown, Mrs. W. F. Bowman, Miss P. G. Scott, Mr. Herbert Wheeler and Mr. William Buchanan.

The annual meeting of the Sherbrooke County W.C.T.U. was held at Lennoxville at which the following officers were elected: Mrs. G. G. McCurdy, Mrs. W. H. Abbott, Mrs. G. E. Hyndman, Mrs. R. I. Dean and Mrs. W. T. G. Brown.

Immigration officers along the border, especially in the Cookstown district, are having their hands full in preventing illegal border crossings, several exciting chases being reported in the past few days.

Reports from England tell of a strong agitation there for the introduction of daylight saving time, whereby the clock would be advanced by one hour during the summer months. The move has the strong support of Winston Churchill.

Considered as an endorsement by the Maritime Provinces of the reciprocity proposals, the Liberal Government in Nova Scotia headed by Premier Murray was returned in the Provincial elections with a substantial although reduced majority. The Liberals returned twenty-seven members to eleven Conservatives.

DAYS

By Grenville Kleiser.

Glad days, sad days, duly ebb and flow,
Long days, wrong days, serpentine and slow;
Brief days, grief days, laden deep with woe,
Days that all must have an ending.

Free days, glee days, flitting here and there,
Chill days, ill days, difficult to bear;
Mood days, brood days, fraught with carking care,
Days that all must have an ending.

Bright days, right days, pleasant things to do,
Mild days, wild days, making much ado;
Gay days, play days, happy times for you,
Days that all must have an ending.

Slave days, grave days, naught but toilsome work,
Worst days, curse days, times all like to shirk;
Bleak days, freak days, wherein dangers lurk,
Days that all must have an ending.

Great days, fete days, beauty filled and light,
Fair days, rare days, swift as eagle's flight;
Best days, best days, ere the peaceful night,
Days that all must have an ending.

MY PRAYER

There's a sound of bagpipes playing
And the martial beat of a drum.
Up through the crowded city
I see the soldiers come.

These are the heart of the nation,
Stalwart and brave and true,
Fighting for Britain's honor,
Striving to see her through.

Somewhere in that great army
Is one that my heart holds dear,
If I could only see him,
Only could have him near.

This is the prayer I offer,
Morning and night and noon,
Guard all our gallant laddies,
Help them to come home soon.

Make peace within our borders,
Take from our hearts this blight,
Let right over brute force conquer—
Help us to win the fight.

Bring back the ones we love best,
Tho' they be near or far,
Let there be no more parting,
Let there be no more war.

THE CENSUS IS NECESSARY

(Le Droit, Ottawa)

Those who are opposed to the holding of the census in time of war should by this time realize their mistake. As a matter of fact, people do not fight simply to win a war. Victory is not an end in itself. It is only a means. What people desire by winning a war is to live in a better world afterward, which will take into account the economic, intellectual, moral and religious needs of individuals as well as of nations. To win the war and to fall back into a worse world than that which existed at its commencement would have grave results for social peace. Therefore, it is necessary to win the peace. And to win the peace, that social peace to which all people aspire and which they will demand with more force after the conflict, it is necessary, from this time on, to think of the reorganization which will follow the war. If the legitimate authorities do not concern themselves about it now, others will attempt to carry out this reform as they see fit. It will be said: "We have the experience of the past." That experience, useful as it may be, will not suffice. What we need is an inventory of all our resources, human, economic and social. Our present documentation is getting very old. It dates from 1931. It is not upon official information so far back that preparation for after war must be based. We need new documentation and the present decennial census will furnish it.

THEY'RE DOING HITLER'S JOB FOR HIM

The New York World-Telegram

Figure compiled by Edward F. McGrady, labor consultant of the War Department, show that more than 1,700,000 man-days have been lost this year through strikes in plants producing for the army. These man-days would have produced 40,000 Garand rifles, 1,000 completely armed light tanks, 200 Curtiss-Wright pursuit planes, 100 training planes, 3,000 50-calibre machine guns, 500 75-millimetre gun carriers and 30,000 anti-aircraft shells. The April coal strike reduced steel production by an estimated 370,000 tons of ingots—enough to build 12 battle-ships or 8,000 medium tanks.

Suppose a fleet carrying those supplies had just been sunk off our shores. Is there any doubt that such an act would cause those now flirting with the idea of convoys to drop their camouflage and go all-out for the use of our navy?

But they have been sunk on American soil. And those who would risk boys' lives to convoy ships will not risk the anger of a few labor politicians.

If Britain falls, whether or not we enter the war, Hitler will dominate Europe, Asia and Africa—and perhaps South America. The slave labor of three-quarters of the globe will be turned to the task of beating American industry and labor.

If Hitler succeeds in his dream of world empire, what will happen to American labor unions then? If you have any doubt, ask the labor leaders of France—who indulged in the luxury of strikes when their country was trying to arm. Ask the workers of England, who are toiling seven days a week, ten and twelve hours a day, to make weapons that weren't made when there was time.

A GOOD IDEA

Amherstburg Echo

In one of the despatches from England a war correspondent from the United States expressed amazement that the people of Britain could still tend to their roses and flower gardens even though the next minute a bomb might change the garden into a crater. The English set a good example in beautification that we in this vicinity could well follow. Everything should be done to make our surroundings as attractive as possible and especially around the school buildings. By fixing up school grounds, planting shrubs, flowers and trees, and allowing the children to do the mowing of the work the desire for beautification is inculcated in the youngsters and they will carry this desire into their homes and keep them interested as they grow older. Most of the little red school-houses in the rural sections could be brightened with a few flower beds and trees. It is much more pleasant for youngsters to play in a yard that is alive with growing things than in a yard as barren as a desert. Well kept school grounds will also add materially in creating a good impression of Ontario among tourists.

BANG AWAY AT BERLIN

London Sunday Dispatch

The Nazi blunder about reprisal raids is intended to be a terrifying gesture of strength. It is actually a startling admission of fear and weakness. We know that where Hitler is strongest he does not issue warnings. Does he then fear a test of endurance between British and German civilians? We shall not save London or any of our cities by conciliatory gestures to the Nazis. We realized long ago that after we have fought out this war we shall have to build afresh. But the Germans were promised that they and their cities would ride immaculately to a quick victory. We have now put a doubt in their minds. That doubt can be developed into terrified loss of faith if we continue to bang away at Berlin. It seems that Hitler is afraid we may do so. That is an excellent and abundant reason for acting on the hint.

THE MAIN OBJECTIVE

(The Express, London)

We are in a jam on the shores of the Mediterranean. The heroic conduct of the British garrison at Tobruk, which took 300 German prisoners, relieves the situation for a fleeting moment. But the menace to Suez remains. And if Alexandria becomes unusable to us, then the scene on the European mainland is indeed desperate. This is one picture. We do not seek to gloss it over. The blows fall on us so rapidly that the attention of many is wholly

The Browns had a new housemaid, young and pretty. Mrs. Brown thought her husband was taking rather too much interest in the new arrival.

"I like the look of that new maid. She seems to have plenty of go about her," Brown remarked to his wife.

"She certainly has, darling—she's going tomorrow," replied his wife sweetly.

Bill: "My daughter has a queer way of getting her own back on the telephone people."

Dick: "What's her method?"

Bill: "She uses my car to knock down their piles."

"Who gave the bride away?"

"Her little brother, Willie. He stood right up in the middle of the ceremony and yelled: 'Hurry, Louise, you've got him at last!'"

Mrs. Mainchance (sentimentally): "I declare, darling, you hold the umbrella over me just as carefully as you did in our courting days—more carefully, if anything."

Mr. Mainchance (prosaically): "I did not have to buy your hats in those days, Myrtle."

"I'm going to kiss you before I go," said the young man who had outstayed his welcome.

"Do it now while I'm still young," replied the girl wearily.

Considerable damage had been done to the baker's shop by an incendiary bomb, and the proprietor was worn out and worried.

As his wife was getting supper ready, in another part of the town, a neighbor rushed in with the sad news.

"If I were you," she wound up, "I wouldn't put much bread on the table. The sight of it might upset your husband after his trying time."

"I hadn't thought of that," confessed the baker's wife. Then she went on brightly: "I know what I'll do. I'll make him some nice toast."

Jake was a worthless and improvident fellow. One day he said to the local grocer: "I got to have a sack of flour; I'm all out, an' my family is starvin'."

"All right, Jake," said the grocer. "If you need a sack of flour and have no money to buy it with, we'll give you a sack. But, see here, Jake, there's a circus coming to town in a few days, and if I give you a sack of flour, are you sure you won't sell it and take your money to the circus?"

"Oh, no," said Jake. "I got the circus money saved up already."

A visitor was entering a museum when he was stopped by the new door keeper.

"Pardon me, sir," he said, "but you must leave your umbrella here."

"But I have no umbrella," replied the man in surprise.

"Then I'm afraid you must go and get one," said the doorman firmly. "That notice says that all umbrellas must be left at the door."

VETERAN WHIST PLAYER EXECUTES BRILLIANT COUP

One of the most brilliant hands I have seen this year was played by Edward Marcus of Boston. An old-time whist player, Marcus sometimes gives the impression of seeing through the backs of the cards, for he has executed many extraordinary coups like that in today's hand.

South trumped the opening lead, cashed the ace of spades and led a small spade to ruff with the seven of hearts. The fall of West's king indicated the spade split.

Declarer's problem at this point is certainly puzzling. He can win five trump tricks plus the spade ruff, also two top spades, but that still leaves him two tricks short. A complete cross-ruff of spades and clubs would yield eight trump tricks plus the spade ace, but he could then never cash the queen of spades.

From the bidding Marcus guessed that West held a singleton diamond and that it was an honor. He hoped it was the blank ace, and that West held all the top clubs.

On this assumption he found an extraordinary way to make his hearts, then the queen, overtaking with the ace, and pulled all of West's trumps, leaving himself also void. Dummy discarded two diamonds. Then South led the three of diamonds.

West play the ace! Now West was left nothing but clubs. He could cash two tops and then let dummy make the jack, or he could lead low and force the jack at once. But in either event the jack of clubs would make the tenth trick, together with two top spades, the spade ruff, five hearts, and the king of diamonds.

LATEST STYLES EXHIBITED FOR I.O.D.E. BENEFIT

Duke of Wellington Chapter Sponsored Fashion Show in Aid of War Service Work.

The Duke of Wellington Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire graciously lent its patronage to the premier Early Summer Fashion Show, presented at the Chateau Frontenac last evening.

Mrs. Matthew Graham, Regent, wearing a smart printed silk ensemble with a large picture hat of black straw trimmed with white roses, informally welcomed the large number of patrons at the entrance, where Mrs. R. L. Bishop, Treasurer, acted as cashier, and Mrs. A. A. Munster took charge of the door-prize tickets.

The door prize, the choice of a dress valued at thirty-five dollars, no doubt attracted many, but on either side of the long run-way in the large dining room and extending the entire length of the spacious lounge, there was a large and enthusiastic crowd to view Dame Fashion's latest offerings.

An especial feature, and one which added greatly to the enjoyment of the parade, was the excellent music provided by a three-piece orchestra, stationed in the entrance hall and about mid-way on the path down which the attractive mannequins paraded.

The exhibition featured women's apparel for all occasions, including attractive house coats, pyjamas, slacks, sportswear, afternoon dresses, dinner and evening gowns, fur-trimmed coats, short fur jackets, two bridesmaid's frocks and a lovely wedding gown of printed organza with a long train.

Special fashion notes featured jacket dresses or capes and dresses in silk prints, also exquisite models in beige wool self-branded redingote ensembles; sportswear in striking stripes; white frocks with applique of brilliant colored flowers; black sheer with touches of white lingerie and matching jackets; pale grey with pink in a fascinating afternoon dress; a dainty evening frock of plain white organza, square neck-line, short puffed sleeves and bouffant skirt; a dinner dress of red white and blue crepe, red bolero, white blouse and long full skirt of blue, practical and attractive; distinctive printed linen dresses for 'teen-age girls, and a dainty grey and white silk print with a matching printed sheer redingote.

Mrs. V. G. Southern, Miss Louise Olivier and Miss Beverly Ames, who acted as mannequins, were assisted by several professional models brought from Montreal for the occasion.

Excitement reigned supreme during the drawing for the door prizes, Mrs. Graham announcing the winners, Mrs. F. H. Bradley, Wolfe Street, and Mrs. Z. Trudeau, 32 Gillespie Street.

On behalf of the Chapter, the Regent extended grateful thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Conway, whose generous hospitality was so much appreciated, to the models, and all who by their work or patronage had helped to make the fashion show such a success.

Later refreshments were served under the convenship of Mrs. M. L. McFadden with members of the Duke of Wellington Chapter assisting.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

PLYMOUTH W.M.S.

The closing meeting of the season for the W.M.S. of Plymouth Church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. A. C. Dossie, Melbourne Street.

Miss L. Ransohoff, President, was in the chair and all unfinished business was disposed of prior to adjournment until the autumn.

Dime cards were turned in to Mrs. W. G. Cross, acting Treasurer for the meeting.

Rev. F. A. C. Dossie conducted the devotional period, and introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Jean Whittey, of Halifax, missionary on furlough from India.

Stressing the value of a "dime," the equivalent of a day's salary in an Indian hospital, Dr. Whittey, gave other comparative values of currency in India.

She also spoke most interestingly on the women of India, their trials and the many difficulties to be overcome by missionaries in this far off land where "caste" rules are so strong and so hard to overcome.

Several guests from Magog were welcomed at yesterday's session by the President, who also voiced the thanks of the W.M.S. to Dr. Whittey.

Mrs. W. G. Cross, who acted as pianist for the several hymns interspersed during the meeting, also accompanied Miss Annie Baldwin, vocal soloist for the afternoon.

Later tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Norman Flint and Mrs. Nelson Whitman, the latter substituting for Mrs. Wright Gibson.

Tea was poured by Mrs. A. Sangster, with Mrs. Gerald Spafford assisting, the table being charmingly done with mauve phlox in vases in a crystal bowl and mauve candles in crystal candlesticks.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1—If you ask someone to take a long automobile trip with you, sharing expenses, should you word the invitation in such a way that it will be easy for the person to refuse?

2—Is that also true when you invite a friend to share an apartment with you?

3—If you share an apartment with another person should you invite friends whom your roommate doesn't care about when he or she is planning to be away?

4—Is it necessary to be meticulous about paying back borrowed money promptly to the person with whom you share an apartment as to any friend?

5—Should you expect to borrow clothes from the person with whom you share a room or apartment?

What would you do if —

For a year you have been sharing an apartment with one person and someone with whom you would rather live invites you to move in with him—

(a) Feel that you must not move, as you might hurt the first person's feelings?

(b) Leave as soon as your apartment lease is up, or at the end of any time arrangement made by the two of you.

ANSWERS

1—Yes. For he won't want to make the trip unless he feels you are very congenial.

2—Yes. And for the same reason.

3—Yes. If possible.

4—Certainly.

5—No.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(b). Sharing an apartment should not be looked on by either person as anything but a temporary convenience that either can end at will.

CHEESE PROVIDES AMPLE PROTEINS, OFFERS VARIETY

Cheese is always good protein news these days when meat is high. But variety must be part of the cheese story. Richard Korn, the distinguished young American conductor, is quite as skillful with cheese novelties as he is with his baton. He's perfected these little numbers for his personal friends, but lets us into his hospitable secrets.

The best cheese for cooking, according to young Maestro Korn, are Parmesan, American and Swiss. Cheese in its cooked form is entirely digestible and can be eaten freely even by those people who ordinarily are sent dashing for the bicarbonate after indulging in a slice of cheese in its rawer form.

FLUFFY TOMATO RAREBIT (Serves 8)

One can tomato soup, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 lb. sharp cheese, 1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 2 eggs, separated.

Pour tomato soup into top part of double-boiler. Add grated sharp cheese. Heat and cook until cheese is thoroughly melted, stirring and beating constantly. Then stir in the beaten egg yolks to which dry mustard and Worcestershire sauce have been added. Fold the beaten egg whites into the hot mixture. Serve on toast.

CHEESE SOUFFLE (Serves 6)

Eight square soda crackers, 1 1/2 cups milk, 3 egg yolks, beaten, 3/4 lb. grated American cheese, dash of tabasco sauce, 3 egg whites, beaten stiff but not dry.

Put crackers and milk in pan 3 inches deep and let stand 3 to 4 hours. Mash crackers thoroughly. Mix egg yolks, cheese and tabasco well with crackers and let stand until ready to heat and serve. Fold in egg whites and bake for about 30 minutes in oven that has been preheated to 300° F. Turn up temperature and brown for 2 minutes.

CHEESE PUDDING (Serves 8)

Eight slices of white bread, 2 cups grated Parmesan-type cheese, 4 eggs, 1/2 cup butter, slightly creamed, 3 cups milk, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard.

WAY'S MILLS W.I. MEMBERS HEARD REPORT

Satisfactory Proceeds Realized for Institute by Presentation of Play by Hatley Players and Sale of Candy.

Way's Mills, June 13.—Members of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. John McKinnon recently with a good attendance, several visitors being present at the tea hour.

In the absence of the President, the meeting was opened by the Second Vice-President, Mrs. Freeman Sutton. After the usual opening exercises, the Secretary gave the report of the Hatley play, which had been very much enjoyed and with the sale of home-made candy had netted the Institute $12.86. A letter was read thanking the members for the gift of maple sugar for the Navy League in Montreal. Mrs. Sutton gave an excellent report of the annual County meeting at Hatley and asked the co-operation of the members in the "tea room" project at the Ayer's Cliff Fair. It was decided to send a gift to a shut-in. Very attractive programmes which had been made by the Misses Rich and Perkins were distributed, also pamphlets from the Government re raising tomatoes for canning for Overseas.

At the close of the meeting, tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Sutton.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Adam, the second Thursday of July.

MANY ATTENDED TORCH SERVICE AT KNOWLTON

Inspiring Sermon Delivered by
Rev. E. D. Mitchell at Evening
Service of Knowlton
United Church.

Knowlton, June 13. — A special "Torch Service" in connection with the 1941 Victory Loan Campaign was held at the evening service at the United Church, attended by the C.P.C., Brome Division, under Adjutant Ellwood Wilson and the First Knowlton Troop Boy Scouts under their leader, K. C. George, as well as many local citizens. The Pastor, Rev. E. D. Mitchell, was in charge of the service.

Psalm 37 was read responsively and the lesson was taken from Numbers, chapter 1. Hymns sung at intervals throughout the service were "Unto The Hills Around," "Lead On O King Eternal," "From Ocean Unto Ocean." A solo "A Song of Canada" by Percy Semon, was rendered by Mr. A. Leroy Bullard and the following pledge was repeated by all present: "I hereby declare my belief in Almighty God, and reaffirm my loyalty and allegiance to His Majesty the King, and further declare by support for British institutions. I pledge myself and my all to hold the Torch on high, and to march shoulder to shoulder with the Motherland and the Empire in our righteous cause through victory and enduring peace."

Commencing his address, the Pastor welcomed the organizations represented as well as the congregation and took as his subject, "The Flaming Torch," saying that at the outset, a torch must be lighted and is being used as a symbol in the present campaign to kindle enthusiasm and inspiration. He went on to say that a Torch was harmful unless carried aloft. He spoke of the use of the Torch in olden days and that even then it was handed from one to another, saying that now it must be followed as a true symbol of our devotion; it must be used to discomfit the enemy, and it must be used as a symbol of the human spirit.

"Our courage, must not be weak our resolution, not soft and our loyalty must be as strong as steel," the speaker concluded. Special prayers were offered for the King and his advisors, the Empire, armed forces and all who serve because of War. The service was brought to a close with the singing of "God Save the King."

HE GAVE HIS LIFE

that we might live

As he lay dying in hospital, an R.A.F. air gunner wrote this letter to his mother.

The letter was written by Sergeant Alfred Harrison, R.A.F., to his mother, Mrs. Harrison of Edin Street, Nottingham. The letter and photo are reproduced by Canada's National Victory Loan Committee, under permission especially granted by Mrs. Harrison and the London "Daily Mirror."

My Dearest Mother: —
By the time you receive this letter you will no doubt know the news, but I want you to keep your chin up and keep smiling. You know, dear, that a war cannot be fought without the loss of lives, but those lives are never given in vain. They are given so that Britain shall still remain the first land in the whole world, and, come what may, nothing can alter the dignity and love for peace and security that is a Britisher's heritage. So remember, darling, I, along with others, died so that our loved ones shall be safe and secure for all time, and in the years to come, others will die for the ones they love most. Well, darling, with my dying breath, I'll pray that our sacrifice was not in vain and I'll say: God bless you, dearest of all mothers.
Your loving son, Alf

He, and countless other valiant hearts have given their all for us.

For all we have and are, for all our freedoms' sake, we dare not let their sacrifice be in vain.

splendid reception I have received and of which I shall always keep the most agreeable souvenir."
In his address after declaration of Convocation opened, Chancellor Greenshields extended a warm welcome to the four men receiving honorary degrees and congratulations to the young men and women completing their university courses. He counselled them to remember the excellent teachings they had received during their three years at Bishop's to uphold the honor of their Alma Mater in whatever fields their duty may lie in the years that lie ahead.

THE PRINCIPAL'S ADDRESS
The following address was delivered by Dr. McGee as he introduced the recipients of Honorary Degrees. "I am grateful to the Chancellor for the opportunity to convey to the members of the graduating class the congratulations and best wishes of the faculty. The uniforms which the men wear today are a symbol of their readiness to make their contribution to the arms of all free people. Such a spirit has been the abiding admiration and gratitude of us all."

"On behalf of the faculty I wish to express appreciation of the splendid co-operation which we have had from Major Church, the very efficient Officer Commanding the Bishop's Contingent of the C.O.T.C. this year. Frequent references have been taken place throughout the year to co-ordinate the military and the academic work. As a result, a very exacting schedule of military training has been carried out with as little interference as possible with academic courses. It has been a heavy year for all who have conscientiously striven to do justice to the many claims on them. There are compensations for that. The development of the individual corresponds closely with the practice of moderation in all things except effort."

To the members of the graduating class we say: "Good luck and God bless you!"

Mr. Chancellor:
"I am to have the privilege of presenting to you four candidates whom the convocation has elected to honor. Mr. W. G. Scott, D.S.O., M.D., is a distinguished soldier and administrator. He is a graduate of Laval University in Arts and Medicine, and a post-graduate work in Paris and Canada. He is now a Lieutenant in the 8th Regiment. He was Medical Officer in the Canadian Volunteer Force which served in the South African War and for his courageous and successful work he was decorated with the Distinguished Service Order. Since the South African days he has held many responsible positions, in each of which his work has given proof of ability and zealous devotion to the cause of his country."

TIGERS SNARE INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE LEAD

Superheater In 19-9 Rout Of Kayser Team

Tie for Lead in Softball Circuit Broken by Tigers' One-Sided Victory—Lipin's Seventh-Frame Homer Paves Way for Y.M.C.A.'s 14-13 Win Over Fairbanks—Game Between Rand and Carey to Be Replayed.

The expected close battle between Superheater and Kayser, who up to last night were deadlocked for the lead in the Industrial Softball League, failed to measure up to expectations, the Tigers breezing to a one-sided 19-9 victory over the Millmen at the Parade Grounds and stepping into undisputed possession of first place.

Most of the excitement centered on the fixture between Fairbanks and the Y.M.C.A., in which the "Y" outfit managed to secure a 14-13 triumph in eight innings. Philip Carey and the Rand, playing in the third game, managed to complete four innings before the Sherbrooke Regiment took over their diamond for outdoor training. Ernie Taylor, League official, said today that this contest will be replayed.

In the Fairbanks "Y" engagement, the E. and T. troopers looked to be well away to victory as they collected seven runs in the first four innings and held their opponents scoreless. The "Y" hit their stride in the last four frames, drawing even in the seventh and winning out by the slim one-run margin in the eighth, with Fairbanks getting three more runs in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the last of the eighth.

Sam Lipin, the factum factotum of the Y.M.C.A., struck the most timely clout of the encounter, blasting out a home run with the corners crammed to tie the score at 12-12 in the seventh frame and send his lads on their way to their initial win of the season. Charlie Budning, Gordie MacFarlane and Les Adams each collected two hits. St. Sauveur, with a home run, and E. Ainslee, with two hits, were the best batters for the losers.

After the third inning, in which they scored seven times, Superheater Tigers were never in difficulty against Kayser. The Mill Mob led 2-1 at the end of the first and 4-2 at the end of the second, but the Tigers' seven-run third, followed up by five runs in the fourth, made it plain sailing. Superheater tapered off with three markers in the sixth and two more in the seventh, while Kayser's last tallies came in the fifth and sixth.

Philip and Dube pounded home runs and doubles each for the Tigers, with Jim O'Connor lacing out two doubles, Ernie Taylor a triple, Vigneault a double and Hamel three singles in three trips

CRONIN PLANS TO TAKE OVER "HOT" CORNER

Shift Will Make Room for Skeeter Newsome at Shortstop and Give Red Sox Swift Double Play Combination.

When Bobby Doerr gets off that charley horse, don't be surprised to see Joe Cronin shift to third base for the Red Sox after sixteen years at shortstop.

That would make room for Lamar Newsome, one of the flossier fielding shortstops.

It would give the Bostonians a double play combination second to none, with Skeeter Newsome and Doerr flipping the ball around like sleight-of-hand performers.

Jim Tabor hits and runs, but Cronin has about given up on the Alabama as a dependable third baseman.

Tabor cannot start a double play. Red Sox long have had the power and are at last getting pitching, especially from the young left-handers, Earl Johnson and Mickey Harris, and a polished right-hander, Charley Wagner. Jack Wilson has great potentialities. Robert Moses Grove is still around. Heber Newsome has demonstrated he can help. Emerson Dickman may find himself.

Mike Ryba is useful. Manager Cronin is eager to encourage the pitching surge with improved infield play.

And many an old shortstop has prolonged his playing days at third base.

Slow motion camera research revealed that Lou Novikoff had fallen into the habit of striding forward before the ball was pitched, thus wrecking his timing.

Since seeing visual proof of his fault, the recruit outfielder of the Cubs has belted the ball at a much more impressive clip.

Maybe the Mad Russian will now live up to his Pacific Coast reputation of smacking the sphere from town to town.

The Wrigleys could use something like that.

Gas House Gang no longer describes the St. Louis Cardinals, though they're definitely back in the pennant hunt.

The Red Birds now pattern themselves after soft-spoken Billy Southworth.

You hardly know they're around until three o'clock in the afternoon. Then, as the standings show, they begin to pile up evidence of their presence.

Derringer's Crafty Twirling Gives Champions Shutout Win Over Boston

A lot of tears have been shed this season over the failure of big Paul Derringer to dominate the National League pitching scene as he did in leading Cincinnati Reds to two pennants and a world championship.

The Duke, at 33, is a year older than last year, a little fatter and a little slower. He was hurt in spring training and had some trouble getting started. This was not helped by the lamentable lack of hitting from his team-mates.

But ten years in the big time have made this huge right-hander one of the craftiest hurlers in the business. Game in and game out, even now, he can do as much with his curves, knucklers, changes of pace and control as most of the rubber-armed speed-ballers.

He showed how tough he can be yesterday by pitching four-hit ball to beat Boston Braves 1-0. He gave just one base on balls, fanned half-a-dozen, and let runners get as far as second base only three times. It was Paul's second straight victory.

The day's only other National League game also was an airtight pitching spectacle between Carl Hubbell and Bill Lee with New York Giants stopping Chicago Cubs 2-0. Lee allowed six hits to Hubbell's eight, but gave a run in the first inning on two singles, a walk and a fly, and two errors brought another in the fourth.

Although the teams were tied yesterday, a freak in the percentages lifted the Giants into third place ahead of the Reds, .510 and .509.

In the American League Boston Red Sox divided a double-header with St. Louis Browns in odd affairs. The Sox scored four runs in the first inning of the first game and then were shut out for the next eight frames by the impressive relief hurling of Bob Muncie.

Browns tallied five times in their half of the first inning and won 9-4. The Red Sox held to six hits in the second game while the Browns made seven, but Boston triumphed 3-2 on Ted Williams' two-run homer.

Philadelphia Athletics took a nip-and-tuck struggle from Detroit Tigers 5-3 first at Briggs Stadium. The Athletics' three-run circuit clout in the ninth inning after Pat Mullin had hit one with a mate aboard for Detroit in the seventh.

The Yankees beat out Chicago White Sox in the 10th, 3-2, on Joe Dimaggio's four-bagger.

York, Off To Flying Start, Seen As Threat To Ruth's Home Run Record

Detroit, June 12. — Because he never before had so many home runs so early in June and fairly roars along in the stretch, baseball men now see Rudy York as a definite threat to Babe Ruth's major league home run record of sixty.

Where Ted Williams, the left-handed hitter, has to smite the sphere 380 feet to clear a fence, York is a right fielder at Fenway Park and 420 to get one to right-center, Rudy York, the right-hand batter, has the left field stand at Briggs Stadium in sight in half his games.

Competent judges say York, who has hit 18 home runs as this is written, should be ten ahead of the field by August 1st, when he usually starts his drive.

It will be recalled that York patted the pill into the left field stand of Cleveland's huge Municipal Stadium to beat Bob Feller and the Cleveland Indians and clinch the 1940 American League pennant for the surprising Detroit club.

York hit 18 homers in Month As Frosh

York topped one of Ruth's marks in his freshman year in 1937, when he clocked 18 home runs off some of the slickest slinging the junior wheel could offer. Not even Ruth in the peak month of his palmiest days matched that figure.

The Sultan of Swat's maximum was seventeen during September, 1927.

York belted 35 home runs in 1937, but got in only 104 games as a third baseman and catcher, so he actually was hitting at a rate of 52 a year. Many of his appearances were in the role of a pinch-hitter.

The Cherokee may be retarded somewhat by the absence of Hank Greenberg, York hit behind Greenberg and pitchers preferred to take their chances with the younger man. Greenberg would walk, and pitchers gambled on stopping York, who consequently had ample opportunity to hit. Now he draws as many passes as he does walks.

York remained in the background while Greenberg was around but took over the day Hankus-Pankus was induced into the army. He has taken complete charge of the Detroit infield.

Indian Gets Distance With a Short Swing

York was not at home at third base or as a catcher, but is happy and comfortable at first base. This and the fact that he is not pressing while fully cognizant of his importance in the Detroit attack, counter-balance to a great extent the effect of his being a marked man.

Standing 6 feet 1 and weighing 210 pounds, York generates his power in his wrists and forearms.

He uses a much shorter swing than say Jimmy Fox, perhaps the shortest ever used by a long-range slapper. That is why he is a stylish hitter who never looks awkward. Standing far back in the box, he steps into the pitch on a direct line.

York tries to work the pitcher into a hole and then waits for the ball to come along. He is set to give it a ride. "And why should I try to hit to right for a single or double, when I may hit to left for a triple or home run?" he asks.

Like Hank Greenberg, Rudy York reasons they pay off on extra bases these days.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED AT COOPERSTOWN

10,000 Fans Expected to Witness Reds-Indians Clash at Birthplace of Baseball Today — Celebration All-Ohio Event.

Cooperstown, N.Y., June 13.—(AP)—Celebration of baseball's 102nd anniversary today is an all-Ohio event. Cleveland Indians, American League leaders, oppose the world champion Cincinnati Reds of the National League in an exhibition expected to draw 10,000 fans to this birthplace of the sport.

Minus club expenses, receipts go to support the Baseball Museum and Hall of Fame dedicated two years ago on the centennial anniversary of Gen. Abner Doubleday's invention of the game.

Monte Pearson, whose righthand slants proved effective against the Indians when Pearson was in the junior loop, is down to hurl for the Reds. Cleveland's probable pitchers are Cal Dorsett and Ken Jungles, righthanders.

William Brann, owner of Challengon, says his big boss is coming along nice and probably will tangle with Whirlaway before the year's over. And that, ladies and gents, should be a race!

SAYS GREENBERG IS MAKING GOOD AS U.S. DRAFTEE

Former Star First Baseman of Detroit Tigers Is with Anti-Tank Company — Rides Wherever He Goes.

With the Army in Tennessee, June 13.—(AP)—A tall, slant-shouldered guy shuffled up to the cook tent, the 20th in a line of fifty-two soldiers waiting for noon mess.

Any 'teen age kid from Texas or Maine could have told you who he was—Henry Greenberg, the home run clouter—by the way he towered over everybody, his familiar flat-footed walk, his prominently dark eyes, the doleful way he knitted his eyebrows.

Greenberg, late of the Detroit American League baseball team, had the most publicized selective taken into the United States Army last month, is trying to throw off his fame and become just one of the boys here where 55,000 soldiers are participating in war games of the second army.

"Greenberg is making a swell soldier," said Capt. Glenn Sikes, Commandant of the Anti-Tank Company of the 2nd Infantry. "He started out as part of a water detail, getting water to fill the canteens. Now he uses a Garand semi-automatic rifle as part of the protection around our anti-tank gun. If he keeps learning he'll be put on the crew of a 37 mm. anti-tank gun handling ammunition."

In this outfit, Greenberg is not bothered by the partially-flat feet that almost kept him out of the army. He rides wherever he goes.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE GIANTS HIT .500 PACE

Three-Hitter by Rube Fischer Sets Montreal Back 5-0 and Sends Royals into Third Place.

Jersey City Giants, who win or lose games in bunches, have been getting some remarkable pitching lately and as a result have returned to the .500 mark in the International Baseball League chase.

Rookie Rube Fischer put them there yesterday by tossing a three-hitter to shut out Montreal 5-0 for the Little Giants' fifth victory in their last six games.

Yesterday's conquest was Fischer's third of the season. He received admirable support from his mates, who walked three Montreal hurriers for eleven hits. Pep Rambert started for the Royals and was charged with the loss.

The Jersey City victory shuffled the standings to the extent of knocking Montreal from second place. Rochester's champion Red Wings took over the runner-up spot without lifting a finger as their game with Syracuse was postponed through threatening weather.

The idle Wings got a double benefit from the layoff when Buffalo Bisons edged the league-leading Newark 2-1. The Bruins' margin thus was sliced to a game and a half.
