VOL. XXXVIII. No. 15 MONTREAL, THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1906. PRICE ONE CENT.

CHAMBERLAIN SEEMS TO BE THE ONLY LEADER

May have Charge of the Opposition in the House of Commons.

STRIKING CONTRAST TO DEFEAT OF BALFOUR.

Curzon's Telegram to Chamberlain Regarded as Very Significant.

Special Cable From the Montreal Star Correspondent Resident in London.

London, January 18.—Mr. Chamberlain's remarkable triumph over the whole Birmingham area, when contrasted with Balfour's humiliation in Manchester and the rout of most of Balfour's halting colleagues is accepted by the whole Unionist press as a proof of the Unionist defeat largely attributable to the feeble-mindedness of the latter. The British people would accept no theoretical compromise between fiscal reform and existing system, however loyal Chamberlain personally may remain to Balfour. But it would seem inevitable that Chamberlain is the only possible leader of the Opposition in the Commons, for only one or two pure Balfourites are yet returned, while the ardent Chamberlainites already number a solid body of 77. Balfour's latest utterances are interpreted as showing that he himself is coming to the belief that the Opposition policy must henceforth be whole-hearted fiscal reform; that is, a policy of a moderate British duties against the foreigner and such preferential arrangements as would bring the freest possible trade within the Empire consistent with Colonial industrial developments. This constructive Imperial policy presents a decisive alternative, and opposed to it is a socialistic programme which the United Labor, Irish Nationalist, and extreme radical sections will unitedly attempt to force on Parliament and which nobody will resent more than the great middle classes. Next in significance to Chamberlain's triumph is Curzon's telegram wishing success to the Chamberlainite candidate in Southport. Curzon was hitherto regarded as a Balfourite, if not a Free Trader.

STATES PREPARING FOR TROUBLE

Special to The Montreal Star.

Washington, January 18.—Recent advices which have come to the State Department did not indicate that the situation as regards national feeling toward foreigners in China is improved. On the contrary, conditions appear to be growing even worse, and officials here are all the more convinced of the wisdom of sending more troops to the Philippines, who may be thrown into China in event of trouble. Two regiments of infantry and two batteries of field artillery will leave the United States for the Philippines on February 1. This will give the American Government a large force to use in China in case there is an outbreak against foreigners. The Government is acting on information received from United States consuls stationed at various points in China.

FIXING UP THE RATES.

Lines East of Chicago Now Adjusting Matters in Toronto.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., January 18.—The passenger rates on all railways and steamboat lines east of Chicago, including those in Eastern Canada were arranged here yesterday at the annual meeting of the Niagara frontier summer tour rate committee and the St. Lawrence River and Great Lakes Association, which bodies comprise the general passenger agents and chief rate clerks of the important railway and steamboat lines in the east. Yesterday the rate clerks fixed the rates for the coming summer season, without making any appreciable change. To-day the general passenger agents will meet to confirm these rates and to make any changes needed.

RAILROADING IN THE WEST.

A Railway Bridge Over the Rainy River.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Fort Frances, Ont., January 18.—Notice has been received here that application will be made at the next session of Parliament for the right to construct a railway and passage bridge across the Rainy River above Fort Frances, near Pithels' Point, also for power to acquire land for terminal purposes, tracks and yards, and to connect with American lines on the opposite side of the river.

This means that the Duluth, Rainy River & Winnipeg Railway is seeking legislation to enter Fort Frances from the south to connect with the Canadian Northern. This railway is now only fifty miles distant.

"EXCUSABLE HOMICIDE."

Verdict Rendered by Jury Regarding Death of Lily Brisbois.

"Excusable homicide" was the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday afternoon, into the cause of the death of Lily Brisbois, who was accidentally shot in the abdomen by her brother-in-law, Joseph Aubin, Sunday, and died in the Hotel Dieu Hospital Tuesday night. The jury, after hearing the evidence, were convinced that the shooting was accidental, but wanted to issue an order forbidding Aubin to handle firearms in the future, but when Coroner McMahon explained that such instructions lay beyond their powers a verdict as stated above was returned.

WANDERERS NEARLY LOST TO THE SHAMROCKS LAST NIGHT

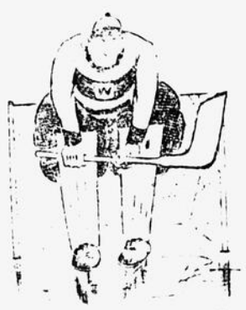

It Was a Slow Game and the Teams Appeared Pretty Evenly Matched, and There Was a Fairly Good Crowd Present.

The band blew out a few frozen notes at intervals.

It was a nice clean game, and the two referees just skated around dodging the puck and looking graceful.

M'GILLS FINAL HOCKEY PRACTICE BEFORE QUEEN'S MATCH

McGill had a final rousing practice last night in preparation for the match with Queen's in the Victoria Rink tomorrow night. The Intercollegiate champions are in splendid trim and confident of a victory.

All the men were on the ice and showed up in good form. Frank Patrick gives promise of splendid work as rover. Despite his long period of enforced idleness as the result of his injury in football Frank went through more than an hour's stiff practice without appearing any the worse. Billy Gilmour will play in his old position right wing again this season, while Gordon Raphael will deliver the goods on the other side of the ice.

Billy Chamberz, an Ottawa boy, who having been injured at the opening of the season, did not play hockey last year, was tried out at centre last night and gave a good exhibition. It is still a little doubtful whether he or Gird, captain of last year's intermediates, will play the position on the senior team.

The point position is also doubtful, Wallace and Stephens, cover point and point respectively of last year Intermediates, are the candidates. Stephens seems to have slightly the better of the argument, for, though a little slow, he has greater steadiness. For the other positions, Lindsay in goal and Rees cover, are the chosen Vics.

Y. M. C. A. GYM JUNIOR BUSINESS MEN'S CLASS FLOURISHING.

The Young Men's Christian Association Junior Business Men's Gymnasium class held a social gathering. The proceedings commenced at 6 p.m. o'clock with a game of basket ball against a team from the Senior Business Men's class, resulting in a score of 15 to 10 in favor of the juniors. The teams lined up as follows:

A. E. Wood	forward	Fleet
Clelland	defence	Pitts

Messrs. J. E. Merritt and H. G. Matthews acted as officials.

After the game the class adjourned to the dining-room for tea. The following guests were invited: Messrs. President, R. W. Chateauvert; Secretary, F. W. Wilson; Treasurer, J. Hurst.

FOOD— NOT MEDICINE.

If all the treatments for consumption were put in book form it would make a pretty big library. But after all there has been little improvement over the old treatment of rest, fresh air, sunshine, plain, wholesome food and Scott's Emulsion. The latter supplies nourishment that cannot be secured in any other way, and after all, nourishment is what the consumptive needs first.

A gain in weight, however slight, is a long step toward improvement. If there is the least thing to build on Scott's Emulsion will enable the patient to make that gain. People have gained a pound in weight from a bottle of Scott's Emulsion—it's an exception when they don't.

We have seen Scott's Emulsion take hold of a patient and bring about a change for the better inside of a week. It always helps even the most stubborn cases.

FOOTBALL

FUNERAL OF A WELL KNOWN FOOTBALL PLAYER YESTERDAY.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the Montreal General Hospital of Robert Crabb, deceased, better known as "Bob" has been, ever since taking up his residence in this city, actively connected with some kind of sport, probably being best known on the Association football field. He was a good all-round athlete and a very keen sport. Popular amongst his fellows a large concourse of young men followed his corpse to its last resting place. Representatives from nearly all the athletic clubs in the city were present, and members of "Bob's" old team turned out en masse to do their last honors.

Mr. Crabb had been ill in the hospital for the past two weeks with a severe attack of pneumonia, to which he finally succumbed. His presence on the football field will be sadly missed, and those who knew him well have lost a true friend and a faithful comrade by his untimely demise.

Among those present were Mr. Joseph Crabb, a brother of the deceased, Mr. Jas Wilson, K. C., K. P. Hervey, G. P. Shortleds, W. R. Clapp, Mr. Kyle.

CHESS CONGRESS ABOUT HALF OVER—SOME OF THE SCORES MADE.

The inspection of the eight play practically completes the first half of the tournament and allowing for the probable coding of the adjourned games gives the lead to the present champion, Mr. Shorey, by a score of 4½ to 3½. Mr. Shorey's win over Mr. Bell was a fine piece of play, and Mr. Smith's defeat of Mr. Lee and Mr. Hall's victory over Mr. Sawyer's first night's work.

The following is a score of the game, which is of no great interest, though we did not think it showed Black at his best:

Opening, Scotch.

MISCELLANEOUS

MAUPAS AND M'LEOD— APOLLO AND SAMPSON WRESTLE FRIDAY NIGHT.

Two of the cleverest wrestlers in America will be seen on the mat in a wrestling match, best two out of three falls, to a finish, Friday night, at Sohmer park. They are Emile Maupas, the Graeco-Roman wrestler, the pride of the French-Canadians, and Dan MacLeod, the catch-as-catch can wrestler. For a whole year have the promoters been trying to bring this pair together. They have finally agreed to meet in a mixed style match, one fall at catch-as-catch-can and one at Graeco-Roman and if it is necessary that there should be a third, they will decide by the toss of a coin.

In addition to this, Apollo will meet Alex Sampson, the new comer, champion of Sweden. He is a Swede and is nearly as big as Apollo. It will be a severe trial for the new man to be put up against a man like Apollo for his first appearance in America, but from the reputation he sent on and newspaper clippings, he ought to be able to hold his own against any man in America. He stands six feet, weighs two hundred and nineteen pounds and he is a marvel to look upon. His muscular development is nearly equal to that of George Hackenschmidt, and he stands ready to back himself for $1,000 against any man in America. Frank Gotch preferred.

MOFFAT WINS FINAL BY CLOSE MARGIN.

Pinehurst, N.C., January 18.—W. D. Moffat, of Hackensack, N.J., won the final round in the second annual tournament of the American Golf Association yesterday, defeating H. C. Fownes, of Pittsburg, by the narrow margin of one up.

The jockey, Mc-Laughlin, rode a fine race of the day, racing winning. Mayrant was favorite with Mona's Daughter at 20 to 1 and the fourth was won by Nick Wood at 100 to 1. The weather was fair and track good.

Physical Culture Club Tramp.

The usual weekly tramp of the Physical Culture Snowshoe Club, was held Monday evening, and notwithstanding the mild weather which prevailed over thirty members turned out, which is a very satisfactory showing for a young club.

The start was made from the club's headquarters 740 St. Lawrence, along Pine ave. to Peel st., thence going by the mountain road past the reservoir to the west lookout, returning by way of the Park slide down the Indian path to Cedar ave. and along Cedar ave. till Pine ave. was reached again.

The clubs social event of the season will take place on the evening of Friday, January 19, when they will tramp to Lunikins Hotel at Cote des Neiges, an interesting programme has been arranged for there, by the clubs officers.

WILL LEAVE BY SAN FRANCISCO AFTER ALL.

New York, January 17. The New Zealand football team, which has been playing in Great Britain, has arranged to return to the Antipodes by way of the United States, sailing from San Francisco on the Oceanic Company's steamer Sonoma, February 15. The New Zealanders expect to leave Southampton on the steamer New York January 20 and may arrange to play a match with a Canadian team at Madison Square Garden, if some suitable date can be arranged.

WEAK MEN DO YOU WANT TO BE STRONG?

To feel as vigorous as you were before you lost your strength? To enjoy life again? To get up in the morning refreshed by sleep, and not more tired than when you went to bed? To have no weakness in the back or "come and go" pains? No indigestion or Constipation? To know that your strength is not slipping away? To once more have bright eyes, healthy color in your cheeks and be confident that what others can do is not impossible to you? In short, do you want to be healthy, strong and vigorous? I can make you all this because I have done it for others.

Dr. McLAUGHLIN'S ELECTRIC BELT

has restored health and strength to thousands of weak people. If you use it as I direct it is a positive cure, and cannot fail.

It gives the vitalizing power of electricity, without burning or blistering, to every weakened part, developing the full vigor of manhood. It removes all the effects of dissipation forever.

I want every weak person who is not what they should be to call or write for my Belt, and, when cured, tell their friends of its wonderful effects.

My Belt is also an absolute remedy for Nervous Debility, Backache, Rheumatism, Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder troubles. It is arranged for women, as well as men, and cures female weaknesses.

Pain in Back Cured in 2 Months.

Dr. McLaughlin: Brantford, Ont., Oct. 20, 1905.
Dear Sir,—Having suffered with a pain in my back for over twelve months, I sent for one of your Belts last April, and after wearing it for two months, the pain left me altogether, and I have not been troubled with it since. I would have written before, but I was away from home.
I remain, yours very truly,
Jas. O. Sullivan, 85 Oxford St.

Varicocele and Kidney Trouble Cured.

Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 16, 1905.
Dr. McLaughlin:
Dear Sir,—I used your Belt three years ago for varicocele and kidney trouble, and was cured in two months' time. I had been troubled for many years, but am now sound and well, and have had no return of it since. I am now seventy-one years old, and am thankful for the results from your Belt, and shall always recommend it.
Yours very truly, Wm. Volk, 711 Virginia St.

N.B.—If you are sceptical, all I ask is reasonable security for the price of the Belt, and

It Costs You Nothing Until Cured.

It is as good for women as for men. Worn while you sleep, it can feel no trouble. You feel the gentle heat from it constantly, but no sting, no burning, as in old style belts.

RESULT OF ELECTION HAILED WITH JOY

Fallieres, the New President of France, Though not Strong Man, is Safe.

PRESIDENT'S HUMBLE ORIGIN

Election of Doumer Would Have Been Regarded as Catastrophe—Clemenceau's Influence Restored.

Paris, January 18.—M Fallieres, elected yesterday president of the French Republic before returning to Paris, thanked the Congress for his election in a speech marked by emotion. He assured the senators and deputies that he would justify their choice by devotion to the constitution and the country. He would allow none of the rights the constitution conferred on him to remain in abeyance, nor would he shrink from any obligation. He was aware of the task would be heavy, but there was one consideration that would support him.

"I am about to enter a house," he said, "where there is an old Republican without fear and without reproach who during a long years has set a great example of courage, prudence, patriotism and disinterestedness. I have but one ambition which is to tread in his footsteps. If like him, I accomplish my seven years' mandate I will, like him, descend unostentatiously and nobly from power. He will be my model. I shall never fail to draw inspiration from his conduct. I appeal to you for support, and I assure you you can count under all circumstances on me."

NEW PRESIDENT'S CAREER.

M Clement Armand Fallieres, the new President of France, is the son of a magistrate's clerk and the grandson of a blacksmith. He was born in 1841, at Mezin, in the department of Lot-et-Garonne. He studied law and was called to the Bar at Mezin, of which town he was afterwards mayor for many years. In 1876 he was elected to the Chamber of Deputies as a Republican, and affiliated himself with the Republican left group in the Chamber, and in 1880 was named as under-secretary to the Minister of the Interior. In 1882 he was made president of the council and ad interim minister of foreign affairs. Subsequently he became successively minister of public instruction of the interior, and of justice. He was elected senator in 1890, and has been three times president of that body. M Fallieres took an active part in the religious question opposing at first the proposition for the separation of Church and State, but later energetically advocated the repression of the clergy.

MANY EVILS AVERTED.

Paris, January 18.—The election of M Fallieres means much in French and European politics at this critical moment. It means that M. Clemenceau, for the third time, has named the President of the French Republic. It means as much as any selection could mean, peace in France and peace in Europe. It means re-establishment of the Republican bloc, which it was supposed was finally dissolved. The election of M Doumer, who is the stormy petrel of French politics, would have brought apprehension throughout Europe. His abilities are greater than M Fallieres, but his strong radicalism would have been regarded as a menace to peace in the pending crisis with Germany, which may prove a severe test of French patience.

The need of France at the present moment is not a strong man so much as one of tact and restraint. These qualities M. Fallieres possesses as well as abundant patriotism. Foreign intrigues against France will be powerless so long as the chief of state has the benefit of the supreme abilities of M Clemenceau, the lion of French politics, who for the past fourteen years has been almost without power, but who is now again in a position to dominate in certain respects the destinies of his country. For fully fifteen years previous to 1892 M. Clemenceau made and unmade ministers and presidents. Now his restrained influence will be used for constructive, not destructive purposes, as formerly. He alone among French publicists during the past year fully understood the German intrigues against France, and he may be depended upon to suggest effective moves in reply to fresh manoeuvres.

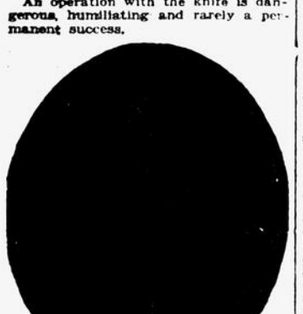

M Doumer's candidacy was also construed in certain quarters to threaten a possible revival of a form of Boulangerism. Hence the Conservative forces of France concentrated on M. Fallieres whose success assures the stability of the present regime.

CURTAIL OPERATIONS.

Packers Cannot Get Enough Canadian Hogs.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, January 18.—George Matthews and Co., pork packers, of Hull and Ottawa, announce that they will be obliged to curtail their operations and temporarily throw many hands out of work, because they find that it is impossible to secure sufficient bacon hogs to keep their establishment going.

It will be remembered that some time ago the Department of Agriculture declined to follow the importation of American hogs, because of the prevalence of hog cholera on the other side of the line and because American pork is inferior, and to admit it to Canada would damage the reputation of the Canadian article abroad. In connection with this matter, it is claimed by the Canadian farmers that the pork packers do not pay high enough prices for hogs, to make it profitable to raise them.

Contest Over a Will.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, January 18.—Action has been entered in the High Court of Justice by Mr. George A. Burgess, the Canadian Pacific Railway caterer, against the Toronto General Trusts Corporation administrators of the estate of Archibald C. Burgess, and also against John Burgess, Robert Burgess, W. S. Burgess, Franklin Scott Burgess, Mary Ellis Burgess, J. A. Burgess and the executors and executrix of the will.

Plaintiff's claim is for an order that a certain paper dated December 1, 1892, containing the last will and testament of Archibald Cecil Burgess and to establish the will, also for an order declaring the plaintiff's rights with respect to the estate, real and personal, of the deceased.

A claim is also made for an order for administration by the High Court and for an injunction to restrain the Toronto General Trusts Corporation disposing of the estate.

The estate is valued at $50,000. The will in question was declared valid by the Superior Court of Montreal, in which district the deceased lived for some time. The will was made in Carleton Place.

Garrison Classes of Instruction.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, January 18.—Militia orders issued on Wednesday authorize the establishment of garrison classes of instruction in signalling as follows:

Kingston February and March, 1906. London April and May, 1906. Halifax, April and May, 1906. Winnipeg, April and May, 1906. The inspector of signalling will make arrangements for end centres, where possible, for examinations to be held at the termination of the periods of instruction. The classes will be confined to members of active militia units outside of those places as may decire to attend.

Should it be considered advisable to hold garrison or regimental classes at other centres throughout the Dominion, arrangements will be made. If possible, to detail a qualified instructor on application from the officer holding the higher command or district officers commanding not within the higher commands, provided such application is recommended by the inspector of signalling.

Analysis of Patent Medicines.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, January 18.—There is no law at present on the Canadian statute books authorizing the Department of Inland Revenue to take any proceedings against the manufacturers of patent medicines who make use of harmful ingredients in making up their medicines, but this condition of affairs may be remedied before long. Pressure is being brought to bear upon the Government to take action to protect the public in this respect, and the matter is now receiving the attention of the officials of the department. As a preliminary the department will, in the course of a short time, publish the results of an analysis which has been made of several of the best known patent medicines. Future action will depend largely upon what this analysis reveals.

Medical Men Want a Grant.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, January 18.—Dr. Roddick, of Montreal, accompanied by Dr. Prevost, Ottawa, and Dr. Starr, Toronto, waited upon the Premier yesterday, and urged that a Government grant be given the Canadian Medical Association for the entertainment of the British Medical Association, which meets in Toronto in August. Sir Wilfrid promised consideration. The deputation also saw the officials of the Customs Department, and asked that the medical exhibits and instruments be allowed to come in in bond.

WHOLE FAMILY WERE MURDERED

Mother and Children Killed and Burned, Father Attempts Suicide.

Pembroke, N. H., January 18. What the authorities consider the most appalling tragedy ever recorded in New Hampshire was enacted in North Pembroke, yesterday. Following the destruction of the farm buildings of Charles F. Ayer, and the disappearance of seven members of the Ayer household yesterday afternoon and the suicide of Ayer late yesterday afternoon, at the home of his sister, in the town of Chichester, six miles distant, the announcement was made last night by Thomas F. Clifford, solicitor of Merrimac county, that there was little doubt but that the seven persons had been murdered, and the farm house set on fire.

The story of the county authorities is that Ayer was the murderer, but up to a late hour they had been unable to find any evidence to indicate the methods employed to wipe out the family. Whether the victims were shot or killed by other means cannot be told until the medical referee has made an examination of the remains of the victims. Up to a late hour only charred fragments of two of the victims had been recovered, although persons who visited the scene of the fire thought that they observed two other trunks in the blazing ruins. The victims of the tragedy were: Chas. F. Ayer, aged 43, killed himself by shooting; Mrs. Addie Ayer, his wife; Mrs. Isaac Lakeman, Ayer's mother-in-law; Flossie Ayer, aged 12; Alfred Ayer, aged 10; Bernice Ayer, aged 6; Andrew Ayer, aged 4; a baby girl. All were children of the Ayers.

County Solicitor Clifford, after investigating the fire as far as was possible, last night stated that Ayer had undoubtedly murdered the entire family and later set fire to the house.

SHERIFF TO INVESTIGATE.

Concord, N. H., January 18.—Sheriff Kimball left last evening to investigate the tragedy at Pembroke.

The circumstances of the fire seem shrouded in mystery. The last sign of life noticed about the house was at 11 o'clock, when a light was seen moving about. Mrs. Lakeman was not a feeble woman, and her relatives think it strange that she was unable to escape from the burning house. The fire was discovered by a neighbor, but its headway was then so great nothing could be done to save the buildings, and they burned very rapidly.

For a time it was thought that Ayer perished in the flames, but last night word was received that he had been found in the town of Chichester, six miles northeast of his home. He had shot himself twice in the head late yesterday afternoon, one of the bullets passing through the right temple.

Savannah, Ga., January 18.—Adrift on a gang-plank from nine o'clock Sunday morning until five o'clock Monday afternoon, without food or water, Karl Sumner, the only surviving member of a party of thirteen people, aboard the four-masted schooner Robert H. Stevenson, was picked up by the German steamer Europa, bound from Philadelphia for Savanah, Monday afternoon, and brought to Savannah yesterday. Besides the ship's crew there were four women aboard, wife of the captain, two relatives and a colored servant, all going to Havana on a pleasure trip.

The Stevenson, loaded with coal sailed from Philadelphia January 8, for Havana. Captain Higbie was in charge with First Mate Lewis.

Sumner says the steamer grounded on Diamond Shoals. All save four seamen, himself included, took to the boats, one boat being smashed and the first mate and two men being drowned. This fate he witnessed. He thinks the others capsized.

One of the men who remained with the schooner left on a raft; he left on the gang-plank, and the fourth remained. Several ships pased Sumner at a distance before he was picked up, weak from cold, hunger and thirst.

Ottawa, January 18.—During the year 1905 there was an increase in the number of immigrants who arrived in Canada of 10,395, as compared with 1904. The figures were 144,618, as compared with 134,223. Of the arrivals, 64,863 came from Great Britain, 44,424 from the United States, and 35,331 from continental Europe. The Department of Immigration expects that all records will be broken during the current year.

WOULD COST MANY MILLIONS.

To Carry Out Recommendations of Transportation Commission.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, January 18.—Estimates are being made of the cost of the country, providing that all the recommendations made to the Government by the Transportation Commission are carried into effect and the most conservative of them place the figures at about $100,000,000. It is not believed that in view of the large expenditure which must be made on the Transcontinental Railway the Government will see its way clear to spend this sum for some time to come. Only the more necessary work will be done at present such as the dredging at Port Arthur, Fort William, Midland and Depot Harbor, and increased elevator accommodation at Georgian Bay ports and at Montreal. Before long some definite action will probably be taken in regard to the Georgian Bay Canal project. A report on the preliminary surveys of certain sections made during the past summer is now in the hands of the Government.

The Ontario Senate Vacancy.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, January 18. — The friends of Hon. Geo. W. Ross are strongly urging his claims to the Ontario Senate vacancy, and it would cause little surprise if he were to get the appointment. It may be a month or more yet before the vacancies are filled, as it is the usual custom to make the appointments shortly before the House meets.

C. P. R. Plans New Line.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, January 18. — Next week the Minister of Railways will consider the plans of the Canadian Pacific Railway for their proposed line from Peterboro to Victoria Harbor, their proposed new terminal on Georgian Bay. The Grand Trunk oppose the C.P.R. project, on the ground that it parallels their existing line.

THE COUNCIL MAKES A BAD MATTER WORSE.

At the present time a citizen who does not pay his taxes, including his water rates, before December 1st, is deprived of his right of franchise at the elections in the approaching February. This has resulted in the disfranchising of a large section of the proper electorate of Montreal at every contest, and has led to a strong agitation for its repeal. The objections to it have been two-fold:

(1) Because it robs a poor man of his vote through his failure to pay an outrageous water tax, and

(2) Because it enables a schemer to enfranchise a lot of men by paying their water taxes for them, and thus establishing a claim to their votes on election day.

The Council proposes to meet these objections by extending the time, up to which a man can pay his taxes and get a vote, to nomination day.

Aldermen are forever complaining that their critics do not give them "a fair show." Yet when they deliberately do things of this character with serious faces, it is hard to see how their critics can be expected to always keep their patience.

Will this extension of time to nomination day lower the outrageous water tax?

Will it in most cases make it any easier for poor men to pay that tax and secure their votes?

Will it lessen the injustice in the case of men who cannot pay and so are robbed of their franchise?

Will it help the man who wants his vote to protest effectively against the very water tax which has disarmed him?

Then, as to the second objection, will it make it harder or easier for "schemers" to collect a group of grateful voters by paying their water taxes?

Will it not, as a matter of fact, play right into the hands of such rascals, giving them more time to know what they want to do on election day and making it more certain that their machine-made voters will not ungratefully forget who paid their taxes?

If municipal manipulators who expect to get their "tools" into the Council by paying water taxe. for voters at the last moment, had been invited to suggest a change in the present law which would render their corrupt purpose the easier of accomplishment, they could not have suggested a better one than this. Under the extension of time, they will have nearly two months longer to get into the field with their men and their plans of campaign; and their beneficiaries will have nearly two months' less chance to forget their obligations and escape from the toils of their tempters.

The critics of the aldermen have never made a harsher comment on their intelligence than they made themselves when they gravely suggested this proposal as an "improvement" of the present system.

NATIONALIZING CANADIAN PORTS.

In his address before the Toronto Canadian Club the other day, Mr. C. M. Hays proposed the nationalization of the leading Atlantic ports of Canada. So far from being afraid of waterways as a railway man, he urged the betterment of the terminal facilities of the great natural waterway of the lakes and the improvement of the Atlantic ports as abovementioned. The canals he regarded as having passed their most useful days, and being available now only for bulk freight, but granted that the waterways of Canada were probably not equalled in the world as regulators of railway rates.

This is in line with the report of the Transportation Commission of which Mr. Robert Reford is chairman, though the Commission goes so far as to urge the nationalization of all the great ports of Canada. This voices a feeling that local enterprise and wealth is not always capable of equipping properly what is really the outlet of a far larger area. Montreal, for example, is the summer port of the Dominion and nothing short of the resources of the Dominion are adequate for its full equipment.

Certainly, whatever the off-take of the canals may be, both railways and canals need more modern port facilities at every point at the country where freight carrying touches water. The Atlantic sea ports of the Dominion Montreal to Halifax, are in competition with the Atlantic ports of the United States, and we cannot permit ourselves to be outstripped in the race for cheap carriage to certain extent that the United States ports, such as Buffalo. Nothing could be more stupid than to spend millions to bring the grain of the West with our own railways and our expensive system of canals and then compel our ocean ships, equipped points to go to the United States for freight grain to be sent from those ports to Antwerp or London.

The Transportation Commission must complete its work, be it Ottawa, or American ports are going to prove too weak links to their systems if they can possibly help themselves. If we handicap ourselves by too small a canal for the largest ocean steamer that may be expected to enter the Lakes, we might as well have saved some of our money on the railway systems which are to connect and deliver the contents of the steamer to the "spout."

CHAMBERLAIN WINS.

The results in Birmingham, both of the real and suspicion that it is Protectionism and not Chamberlainism which the British people are here upon basing. Even when they tell us that it is the educational bill which is rejected in popular uprising against the Minister Mr. Chamberlain could have proved an able, for it is notorious that he was never enthusiastically for it. If the decision been left to him, it is not at all likely that the Dissenters from Birmingham would have had such an obnoxious measure into the teeth of British dissent.

But in any event, Chamberlain and Chamberlainism are signally repudiated in the only section of the country where they have been permitted to fight openly and vigorously for their policy. That they might have been successful throughout Great Britain had the Ballot been in force at the progress through the educational era of the agitation, may be too much to say. In Birmingham, Mr. Chamberlain has great personal strength, and in other parts of the country, he would have been opposed by powerful local magnates whom the conservative British people have been accustomed to follow. But one thing it is now beyond question that Chamberlain and his policy can win the approval of a manufacturing section of the British people when once they make a untrammeled fight for it.

There is only one disquieting thought in this connection for the Colonial Chamberlainite and that is the fear that "Joe's" personality may have carried his policy quite as much as his policy carried him. Chamberlain has been for many a year the idol of Birmingham. He fought his way into the confidence of his fellow-citizens as Cleveland did in Buffalo by the character of a reform Mayor, and after he had built up about himself probably the finest election machine in the United Kingdom, he entered Parliament as an extreme Radical. When he left Gladstone, Birmingham went with him, but it is only fair to add that England followed the example of Birmingham. Now he leaves the historic policy of free trade, and again Birmingham goes with him. The next few years will show whether again England will follow its example.

Clearly, Mr. Chamberlain will be the fighting leader of the Opposition in the new House of Commons. All his kind and loyal words cannot again elevate Mr. Balfour to that pedestal from which he has been so rudely tumbled. Mr. Chamberlain can only name the new leader on condition that he names himself. The main body of the Unionist party will be Chamberlainite, and even defeated Unionist candidates are saying that the Chamberlain programme was their one element of strength. Nor will any one be surprised at this. An electorate ever loves a positive and progressive political programme. A man who is in two minds himself about a question is hardly in a position to lead other men.

Mr. Lusignan's Statement.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—You were right in your statement, when speaking of the funeral of the Hon. R. Prefontaine and the transit of his body from France to Canada, that only once before had this honor been conferred on a Canadian—Sir John Thompson. Rev. Mr. Borthwick is not correct; the body of the late Sir George Cartier was not sent to Canada by the Queen in a man-of-war, but came to Quebec on board the steamer Prussian, of the Allan line, and his body came to Montreal on board the Druid.

Yours truly,
J. E. LUSIGNAN,
Nephew of Sir G. Cartier.

American Railway Rate Legislation.

Three bills have been introduced into the Congress of the United States with the object of regulating freight rates. Senator Foraker, of Ohio, whose bill seems to cover the most territory in this connection, takes the ground that the laws at present existing are sufficient in principle, but should be so amended as to give no question as to their application to all kinds of extortionate and discriminative charges and to all kinds of unjust discrimination, whether granted through the use of private freight cars or in other ways. The first thing to be considered in this connection, he says, is the question whether the present laws are adequate. The second question is as to what legislation will best remedy them defect and insure the most effective and most prompt correction of wrongs and punishment of law breaking individuals or corporations. In his remarks upon the subject Senator Foraker says: "The essential purpose of many of the bills that have been introduced in Congress is to confer upon the Interstate Commerce Commission authority, after full hearing, a rate has been found to be unreasonable or unjust, to determine what would be a reasonable and just rate and to prescribe and substitute that rate for the one condemned. The order of the commission to become effective pro tanto at once. Each one of these bills proposes to give to the United States courts more or less restricted power to review, at once, the order of the commission and to suspend its operation pending such review. Such legislation is not only objectionable on the ground that it would confer upon an administrative bureau practically autocratic and unrestrained power over the transportation interests and the commerce of the country, but it is also objectionable on the ground of its doubtful constitutionality. The political and practical dangers that would be involved in giving the rate making power to any administrative body are so great that it might well be doubted whether it would not be better to do away with all governmental supervision and to trust for substantial justice to the intelligent self-interest of the railways and to their desire to develop their respective territories. Fortunately, however, this is not necessary. Railways can be subjected to effective and even to drastic regulation without doing violence to the spirit of the constitution and without intrusting to any political body despotic powers over transportation and commerce, and authority to dispense prosperity to one locality while withholding it from another." The bill introduced by Senator Foraker proposes to provide a prompt and effective remedy for the humblest shipper by making it necessary for the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate any allegation of overcharge or undue rebate, and to report to the Attorney-General of the United States. That official, if the company after due warning fails to remedy the evil, will be bound to carry the case before the United States Circuit Court, to have the railway enjoined from charging the rate or giving the rebate mentioned. The carrier affected will have an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, but such appeal will not affect the rate fixed by the court in the first instance during the pendency of the suit.

Are Our Measurements Accurate?

When the intellectual individual reads of measuring distances comparable with the diameter of an atom, or of pressures, compared with which the tread of a fly is like the blow of a triphammer, the questions naturally arise to his mind: What degree of accuracy can be attained in such measurements? Literally everything is relative. The "perfect" rule may not have a total error greater than a hundred thousandth of its length. The "absolutely correct" thermometer will be pretty sure to have errors of several hundredths of a degree, and the set of weights will be relatively no better. Science has agreed that light is due to a wave motion in the ether and that the length of these tiny waves determines the character of the color effect produced upon us. Moreover, any chemical element, as iron, sodium, copper, etc., when heated under like conditions, will always send out waves of perfectly definite length. Hence, these little waves, a sixty thousandth of an inch long, form our best, our most permanent standard of length. By an extremely ingenious research, Prof. A. A. Michelson, of Chicago University, determined the length of the international prototype metre in terms of the wave lengths of the light of certain chemical elements. It takes several million such waves to equal a metre in length, and the metre is measured to an accuracy of at least a tenth of the length of a wave of light, or to a relative accuracy of one part in about fifty million. It seems ridiculous to talk of the millionth of a degree in temperatures, and yet the bolometer of Langley, the radiomicrometer of Boys, or the thermopile will measure it with a fair degree of accuracy. We can with equal means measure the heat received from a candle at a distance of a mile. Nevertheless, it is practically impossible to measure a single temperature to thousandths of a degree. Again the relative is easily attainable; the absolute is unattainable.

Some Simple Burglar Traps.

Burglars are so accustomed to elaborate guards against their inroads that none of the fraternity consider the majority of the safeguards turned out annually as an interference at all. But the greatest safety guards are usually the simplest precautions. For instance, turning the knob of an old-fashioned bolt is something that is usually forgotten after the bolt is shot, yet it would delay a burglar an hour, and an hour in his profession, or a minute, often means detection and capture. Anything that adds to the likelihood of a burglar being disturbed is a horror to them, and so it is of the old-fashioned chain and groove something dreaded by them. Placing a doorstop so that it rests half on the mat and half against the door, so that the door is forced if it will curl up the mat and act as a wedge, is another precaution that has led to the capture of many a burglar. Supplementary locks are the most successful burglar alarms, and assuming the individual to have obtained an entrance, is the old-fashioned wooden trick of balancing a tin pan or other vessel on the top of a partly opened door. A burglar never looks for trouble upward for trouble has attracted his attention to ground level, so that he may be sure to [illegible] stumble over the pan and bring it down with a crash. World Gossip

Nova Scotia Fishing Industry.

"One of the chief industries of the Province of Nova Scotia is fishing, and its value to the different business interests of the province may be gauged roughly from the fact that in the last year for which we have figures the yield amounted to nearly $8,000,000."

This is the statement of Mr. Frederick D. Hamilton, from Sydney, C. B., who is interested to a very great extent in the fishing out in Nova Scotia.

"Halifax, of course, handles the largest proportion of the fish caught and during last year shipped to foreign countries, which left that harbor, amounted to about $1,000,000 which about represents the average annual turnover.

"Many of our Halifax firms do business directly from Newfoundland and Labrador ports, which, of course, I have not included in the shipments from Halifax but it amounts to a considerable figure.

"St. John's, Nfld., ranks first, as Halifax second, as the largest dried fish distributing centres in America.

"Halifax is also making rapid strides as regard the extension of this trade, and many of the Newfoundland fishermen find it more to their advantage to sell their catch at our port than at their own ports, and this movement has been greatly facilitated by the establishment of branch houses in Newfoundland.

"The fishing industry at Halifax is an old one, and dates back over half a century.

Fortunes Have Been Amassed.

"Many enterprising merchants who engaged in the trade have amassed fortunes, and others have been indirectly benefited by it to a very great extent. A large proportion of the present day houses have come into existence during late years, though some of the old established houses are yet doing business in Halifax.

"Naturally, the export of such a great quantity of fish means the employment of a great number of men on the water, probably 500 or more, these in addition to the various clerical staff required to look after the office end of the business.

"Halifax is well situated for the handling of this industry, which now reaches to nearly every part of the old and new world.

"We have markets in the West Indies, Brazil, Venezuela, and the other South American countries, also in the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, in fact, in nearly all the European and Mediterranean countries.

"It is natural to assemble fish stuffs at Halifax and very easy to distribute them, and the port has a natural fitness for taking care of and looking after every phase of the trade, and I expect that Halifax will become one of the greatest fish markets in the world.

"There is another side to the question," he added, "which is the fresh fish trade. This is increasing annually.

"The demand for salt water fish from western Canada and the western States is growing so rapidly that in a few years this industry will have assumed the greatest proportions, and with the new and adequate system of refrigerating now being adopted on all properly equipped railroads this branch will be developed on a much more successful manner than in former years.

"The package fish trade has also increased lately, and, taken as all, there are great inducements for development in the fish line, which will, no doubt be taken advantage of in the future, and in which Halifax will surely participate to the great benefit for these industries engage the attention of the population of other large centres, and employ men for manufacturing purposes such as the preserving and packing of fish.

"One of our dry fish warehouses built at Halifax lately is the largest of its kind in the world. There has also been erected there a fresh fish house, which is the best equipped establishment of its kind in the world."

The Count and a Grizzly.

Mr. W. A. Brewster, a noted guide from Banff, N.W.T., is at the Windsor after having visited the chief cities in the Eastern States.

Mr. Brewster has been in Banff for the last twenty-four years, and has guided through the mountains and forests of that district many notable people, such as the Duke of Suffolk, Count Conrad and Count Herman, and many of the nobility principally of the German aristocracy.

"We had a Count Sesselbrodie out there one season, who had just come across the Pacific, and had come straight on to Banff," said Mr. Brewster.

"When he arrived he carried a sword, quite a formidable looking weapon it was, too, and when asked why he carried it he acked if the people of Canada did not carry swords. When advised in the negative he said:

"'Well, at any rate I will use it to despatch bears when I shoot them.'

"How well he used it will be seen from the following story.

"The Count and his guide started out one afternoon, and when coming on evening the Count wandered from his guide, and could not be found for quite a while. In the meantime, gun in hand and sword hanging from his side, the Count met a large grizzly and, losing no time, shot at it, wounding the animal in the foot. This so enraged bruin that he immediately started to contest the Count's right to hurt him. The Count, being alone, evidently lost his nerve, for he took to his heels and climbed a tree, in which he sat all night, though he was hoarse from shouting for help. Before daybreak the guide came upon the Count again, whom, to his utter amazement, he found perched in the tree, though the bear must have wandered off hours before. After that the Count left his sword in his room at the hotel."

Speaking of Western Canada, Mr. Brewster stated: "We have one of the finest countries in the world, and for scenery there is nothing to beat our own land, not even in Switzerland.

"What I cannot understand is the fact that so many of the Eastern Canadians whom I have met have mostly all been to the Old Country or South to the United States, while very few have ever been in the western part of their own country.

"But great changes out there to-day are going on, and there is plenty of room for enterprise and industry, and in a few years the West will be one of the finest countries on the map.

"The Doukhobors, when they first come out, are poor and not over-zealous to work, but they immediately begin to copy their English friends and quickly learn their ways.

"They generally work on the railroads in the winter and on the farms in the summer, until they have saved enough to stock a small farm, and then they dig in, and the younger generation of Doukhobors will make good citizens, steady and industrious, and will be a help to the country."

Prosperity in France.

Mr. F. O'Berle, of Paris, is stopping at the St. Lawrence Hall, and has just finished a tour through Great Britain, the United States, Brazil, Mexico and Canada.

He states that his country of France is in a very prosperous condition. "You know the French nation is always in good financial shape, and are always equal to an emergency, as shown by them in the case of the Franco-Prussian war.

"The indemnity demanded by Bismark was intended to cripple France, but in this respect at least the Iron Chancellor did not know the French people and we have gotten over the effects of that tremendous outlay of money to Germany.

"It looks just now as if they probably wanted some more, but I hope the 'shoe will be on the other foot' this time, and if a war should come I believe France would not be the loser.

"However, our commercial industries are prospering to such an extent at the present time and our exports is so prosperous that it was not a republic or catastrophe if war should break out and certainly should come I believe France would not be the loser.

"I hope the Moroccan Commission now in session will arrive at a satisfactory solution of the trouble."

Excitement Runs High at Capital Over Coming Contest.

Quebec, January 18.—C. H. Belanger, lessee of the Mountain Hill Hotel has assigned. His assets are placed at $4,842, and his liabilities at $8,333, of which his wife claims $6,200.

It is called L'Eclair, and is apparently published by friends of the Taschereau party in municipal matters, and intended as an antidote to Senator Choquette's paper, Le Soleil.

TO EXTEND TIME FOR PAYING TAXES

Proposal Made to Amend Charter Regarding Disfranchisement for Non-Payment.

NO DIVISION OF THE WARDS

Motion to That Effect Declared Out of Order—Ald. Lapointe Makes Apology.

The City Council at its meeting yesterday afternoon did not approve of the motion of Ald. Leclaire that persons owing money to the corporation for taxes should be allowed to vote. It was decided, however, that all those paying up to nomination day should have the right to vote. This action extends the time when citizens were disfranchised. According to the new enactment, if approved of by the Legislature, citizens will be allowed up to January 20 to pay their taxes and get the right to vote, at the present time if taxes are not paid by December 1 the franchise is taken away.

It was Ald. Leclaire's contention that the proper way to do was to allow everyone the right of franchise. His argument was that if persons did not pay their taxes they could be proceeded against in the courts, he held that it was unjust to deprive a man of the right of voting on that ground.

Other members of council said they would be glad to have every citizen given the right to vote, at the same time they held that it would not be fair to allow persons to vote who paid no taxes, and place them on the same footing as those who paid into the civic treasury.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe, seconded by Ald. Carter, then proposed the following motion in regard to the matter:

"Any elector who, on or before the nomination day, shall produce a certificate of the city treasurer establishing that his taxes have been paid, will have the right to obtain from the city clerk a certificate authorizing him to vote and the latter shall keep a record of the certificates delivered, which will be subject to examination on application by any ratepayer."

The motion was carried.

MUNICIPAL GERRYMANDER.

An important matter was now brought up by Ald. Couture. He moved that the question of representation in Council be remodelled that every ward having more than 2,000 electors should be divided into two sections, and that each alderman should be responsible only for the section or portion of the ward for the most part at large.

Upon hearing the above, Ald. Ames said the subject could have been brought up before the Legislation Committee. Council could not take up the subject at such a late date.

Ald. Payette: Before we can amend the charter in such a manner a notice of motion will have to be given.

Ald. Carter: This subject is too important to be rushed through on the eve of the election. He is legislation is worse than no legislation at all. I hope Ald. Couture will withdraw his motion."

Other members held that by the mode suggested in the motion of Ald. Couture the number of aldermen would be greatly increased. They did not like this idea as there were at the present time no less than forty aldermen, this was with the exception of St. Henri and St. Cunegonde.

The mayor finally ruled that the motion of Ald. Couture was out of order, that, in brief, it could not be added to the proposed charter amendments.

OTHER MOTIONS DEFEATED.

The following amendment to the charter was proposed by Ald. Sadler:

"The city is authorized to borrow a sum of $500,000 (1) $200,000 of which to acquire St. Helen's Island and give effect to the agreement entered into with the Dominion Government, (2) $50,000 to establish a free ferry service and to make or said island such improvements as may be deemed necessary; (3) a sum of $250,000 for the enlargement of Western square for the purpose of acquiring improvements and establishing a public park and play grounds in the western portion of this city; and to issue for such purpose stock or bonds for a term of not more than 40 years and at a rate of interest not exceeding 4 per cent. per annum, with a sinking fund sufficient to redeem the same at maturity, the said sinking fund and interest to be raised of the annual revenue of the city."

This was defeated and as the section to retain the city will ask for power to borrow $500,000 to be expended in the purchase of St. Helen's Island and the establishment of a free ferry service.

A clause was defeated to purchase the plant of the Water and Power Co.

An important motion by Ald St. Denis was defeated. It asked that important franchises only might be given out by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the entire Council instead of only the affirmative vote of a majority of council.

After other changes had been made to the city's bill it was declared ready to be sent to the Legislature. The main clauses of the bill have already appeared in these columns.

ALD. LAPOINTE APOLOGIZES.

It being the last meeting of the present City Council the opportunity was taken by the city fathers to bury the hatchet; expressions of good will were heard on every hand.

Ald. Lavallee said he regretted very much that such men as Ald. Robertson, Ames, Vallieres, and others, had decided to resign and not serve another term. It was men such as these, Ald. Lavallee said, who had done much to put civic politics on a much higher plane in the city. Each of the retiring aldermen had devoted a great deal of their time to civic affairs; they had been honourable and self-sacrificing in every way. For this they deserved the sincere thanks of their electors. Ald Lavallee moved a vote of thanks to the retiring members.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe seconded the motion. In doing so he took the occasion to offer an apology to Ald. Robertson. The apology was on account of heated remarks he (Ald. Lapointe) had passed at the last meeting of the Finance Committee to Ald. Robertson. "I am afraid," said Ald. Lapointe, "that I said hard things to Ald Robertson at the meeting in question. I assure Ald. Robertson, however, that what I said was in the heat of argument and that no man in this chamber has a greater respect than I have for Ald. Robertson. There seems to be an impression that in my remarks at the meeting on Friday I questioned the honesty of Ald. Robertson. This impression is entirely erroneous. Whatever I might have said I never meant to question the honesty of a man who stands so high in the esteem of his colleagues as Ald. Robertson." Concluding Ald. Lapointe said:

"My words were spoken in the heat of the moment, and you have my sincere assurance that I meant nothing at all derogatory to the character of Ald. Robertson. If Ald. Robertson thinks that such imputations were intended, I can now offer my most humble apology."

It was the opinion of Ald. Lariviere that the city would lose much by the retirement of such able aldermen. He regretted that they could not be prevailed upon to remain in the field.

SPOKE FOR RETIRING ALDERMEN.

In reply, Ald. Ames thanked the aldermen for their kind words. He said that the many years he had been in council had been well spent. If he had been useful in any way he wished no higher reward.

Ald. Payette complimented the retiring members on the good they had been able to accomplish. He trusted that their positions would be filled by men as capable, honest and self-denying.

Acting Mayor Valieres said he felt deeply pleased at the words of appreciation which had been uttered. Had it not been for pressing private business affairs he would have consented to serve for another term. He said he felt sure the business of the city would be well administered in the future.

After some [illegible] adjourned [illegible] was a general hand-shaking among the city fathers. The usual meeting of the City Council [illegible] in February. At [illegible] Mayor Maj[illegible] are expected to [illegible] aldermen.

NEARLY 30,000 PATIENTS TREATED

That is Record of Royal Victoria Hospital During the Last Twelve Years.

The report of the superintendent of the Royal Victoria Hospital, presented at the annual meeting of the institution, shows interesting figures. There were 3,093 patients treated during the year, an increase of 39 over the previous year. Of these 1,729 were Protestants, 1,118 Roman Catholics, 211 Hebrews and 35 of other faiths. The free patients numbered 1,631. The total days of hospital treatment aggregated 71,194, as against 74,777 in the preceding year, a decrease of 3,583 days.

Other figures were given as follows: On January 1, 1905, there were 174 patients in the hospital remaining from 1904, and during the year 3,085 were discharged, of whom 1,348 were well, 1,098 improved, 184 not improved, 275 not treated and 182 died. There remained in hospital on December 31, 1905, 180 patients. Of the 182 deaths, 57 took place within 48 hours of admission. The death rate for the year was 5.89 per cent. or, deducting those dying within 48 hours after admission, 4.05 per cent. The highest number of patients in the hospital on any one day was 219, on February 24 and the lowest was 186, on July 18. The highest monthly average was 212, in February, and the lowest 178, in July. The daily average for the year was 195, as against 205 for the previous year.

A TWELVE YEAR RECORD.

The ordinary medical work of the hospital was interfered with to some extent during the year by the extensive building operations conducted. The number of patients was restricted, and the cost per day increased, two wards being practically out of use most of the time. During the twelve years that the hospital has been in existence 29,887 patients have been admitted to the ward for treatment. In the out-patient department the total number treated last year was 3,850. The number of visits of these patients aggregated 24,852. Medical 8,582; surgical, 4,988; eye and ear, 4,324; nose and throat, 5,622; diseases of women, 1,140. The income for the year was $160,581, while the ordinary expenditure amounted to $124,547, the balance of $36,065 being applied in reduction of the indebtedness incurred by the new buildings and other additions. The total cost per day per patient was $1.74; the cost per day of maintaining each person in the hospital staff, servants, all employes and patients—being 93 cents, and the daily cost of provisions for each person, 23 cents.

MEDICAL APPOINTMENTS.

Dr. J. W. Stirling was appointed ophthalmologist to the hospital, in succession to the late Dr. Duller. The following appointments were made to the medical staff: Associate in medicine, Drs. Fry, Cushing and McCrae; clinical assistants in medicine, Drs. Burnett, McAuley and Russell; clinical assistants in neurology, Drs. Robertson Robins and Russell; clinical assistant in ophthalmology, Dr. Tooke; clinical assistant in gynaecology, Dr. Goodall; clinical assistant in laryngology, Dr. Hamilton White, registrar, Dr. Cushing; assistant registrar, Dr. McAuley; house pathologist, Dr. Klotig; assistant in X-ray department, Dr. Cram.

Present at the meeting were Mr. R. B. Angus, president; Mr. E. S. Clouston, Sir George Drummond, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Mr. R. G. Reid, Dr. Peddock, Dr. Peterson, Mr. F. L. Wanklyn and Mr. W. T. Gear.

DEMAND RECALL OF THE VICEROY

Kwang Tung Issues Order for Extra Taxes, and Falls Foul of the People.

Special Cable from the Montreal Star Correspondent.

Hong Kong, January 18.—The Viceroy of Kwang Tung province has issued an order from Canton that taxes are to be increased to complete the Canton-Hankow railway. The members of the merchants' guilds are indignant, and the general feeling is very strong against the action of the Viceroy. One of the influential leaders in the opposition had been imprisoned. The retired viceroy of the province of Fukien has gone to Pekin to remonstrate with the authorities there. Trouble is brewing and foreigners in Canton have been advised by their consuls not to enter the native city. The situation is considered grave. The recall of Viceroy of Kwang-Tung, is demanded by the people.

RUSSIAN ELECTION CAMPAIGN OPEN

It is Said That the Pacification of Country is Going on Steadily.

St. Petersburg, January 18.—The holiday truce in Russian political circles is over, and the new political parties are mustering their strength for Russia's first all-important electoral campaign. The opening guns will be fired to-day, when the delegates of the constitutional Democrats will assemble to discuss their elaborate platform. The party represents the advanced Liberal opinions of the Zemstvo majority, and the platform will closely follow the resolution of the last Zemstvo Congress. There will be a conference of leaders of the allied moderate parties from various parts of the Empire here this week. This coalition, which embraces the party of law and order, the Octobrists and five lesser factions, has chosen the name of Constitutional Monarchists, and will nominate candidates in common. Though officially they are in favor of continuing the armed revolt they have awakened to the necessity for securing a representation in the coming national assembly, and are concentrating their attention on securing a full registration from the labor, professional au Socialistic organizations. In consequence of the great rush to register, the period of registration, which expired yesterday, has been extended for two weeks.

During the holidays the pacification of the country has been steadily going forward. By an unsparing use of the military and the wholesale arrests of the leaders of the fighting organizations, the revolutionists have been forced to return to their old methods of assassination. Not a day passes without reports of the murder of obnoxious officials in several cities. So far St. Petersburg has escaped, owing to the demoralization of the Terrorists here and the activity of the police.

In addition to the Caucasus and a few localities in Siberia, the open revolution is now confined chiefly to small islands off the Baltic coast where the difficulty of landing troops hampers the subjugation of the revolutionists.

Following the example of their brothers on the mainland, the peasantry of even the tiniest islands in the Baltic have instituted independent republics. One of these on the islet of Liniust, probably the smallest state in the world, already boasts of a revolution, and a second president, the citizens having risen and overthrown the first president. The president, chief magistrate, Janeenson, in addresses the people in proclamations as "my faithful subjects."

ST. GILES CHURCH MEETING.

Reports of a Successful Year Read at Annual Meeting Last Night.

Last evening the annual meeting of this church was held. A large number of members and adherents were present. Reports were adopted from the various organizations, showing good progress. The amount received from all sources was $5,800. The donations to missionary and benevolent work were $780; the indebtedness was entirely wiped off during the year. The church register showed that 40 baptisms, 23 marriages and eighteen burials were inscribed. Sixty-one members were added during the year. The stipend of the pastor, Rev. J. R. Dobson, was increased. As a compliment toward the excellent record of the past year all the officers were unanimously re-elected to office. The officers are: President, R. W. Burry; vice-president, Robt. McCrudden; secretary, A. McGregor; treasurer, F. A. Miller; members of the board, Wm. Kennedy, Robt. Millar, W. J. Moody, W. F. Martin, L. McTavish, and Alex. Ross. The trustees are Francis Hyde, Dr. G. A. Berwick, Hugh Cully, Arthur Walsh, and John Foster.

WIDOW THROWN ON STREET.

Story of Futile Struggle of Mrs. Meloche to Keep Family Together.

A pitiful story was brought to the notice of the officials of the Recorder's Court yesterday, when Mrs. Thomas Meloche, a widow, 36 years of age, told them of her struggles to support her family of seven small children. Her husband died two months ago and since that time she had worked hard to keep the family together, but she had no friends and the task was too much for her. A few days ago the Grey Nuns took three of the children, and this was a great relief, but still she fell behind and not being able to pay her rent she was put out on the street. Mrs. Meloche was sent with her four children to one of the city refuges, and arrangements will be made to place a couple of them at Montfort.

Entertainment by Children.

The catechism class of St. Anthony's parish, which, under the direction of the Rev. Thomas Heffernan, numbers more than 800 children, will give an entertainment to-morrow evening in the basement hall of the church. The proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of sacred vessels for St. Anthony's. The entertainment will consist of choruses by a choir of fifty voices, teachers and scholars, dialogues and tableaux.

Banquet for Councillor Galbraith.

A banquet will be tendered Saturday night at the St. Lawrence Hall to Councillor William Galbraith, of Westmount. It will be given by Mr. Galbraith's colleagues in the council, and by friends in Westmount and Montreal.

A LETTER TO CONTRACTORS.

They are Urged to Unite to Contest Union Aggression.

A letter has been addressed by the secretary of the Builders' Exchange, Mr. J. H. Lauer, to the electrical contractors of Montreal. It reads in part as follows:

"It is for you to decide whether or not you will direct your own affairs, or if you intend to entrust them to the tender mercies of the dictators of the unions. If you admit the truth that in union there is strength, you will not attempt to cope single-handed with this or any other important question. If union is of advantage to your employes it ought to be equally so for you. The Builders' Exchange, which is an association of all the employers engaged in the work of construction, will look after your interests in every problem of labor. We have spoken without the slightest ambiguity on all these labor questions. In two struggles with labor in 1905 we stood squarely for the "open shop," and we beat the unions at their own game. Why not then let us look after your interests as well? The time has come for action, not theorizing, and the Exchange has passed its period of trial. It has established its practical power of helping the contractors in their opposition to the unjust and illegal attitude of the unions."

John D. Rockefeller has taken to engineering as a recreation.

A LONG LIST OF LOCAL CREDITORS

Business of Winnipeg Importing Company Now in Hands of An Assignee.

Winnipeg, January 18. The business of the Winnipeg Importing Company, which went into liquidation some time ago, is now in the hands of Mr. C. H. Newton, assignee, who has completed taking over the stock. It shows that their liabilities for distribution assets aggregating $30,000, while the total liabilities amount in the neighborhood of $75,000. The concern is owned by Charles W. Quirk, who came here from Mexico about two years ago, and engaged as manager, Geo. Margolius, of Montreal. The firm obtained credit from the big eastern houses, Margolius acting as buyer, purchasing extensively in Montreal. About the middle of November last, the Winnipeg Importing Company suspended payments, but did not assign. Quirk disposed of the entire stock for $6,000 to Portugal Bros. here and disappeared. The creditors through their counsel, Mr. A. F. Andrews, at once attached the stock, claiming that the transfer was fraudulent, and asking that the court set it aside. Several other suits arising out of the same matter have been instituted at the request of Montreal firms for the purpose of keeping the stock attached until the court decides the rights of the litigants. Following is the list of Montreal creditors, who are dry goods and cigar merchants, their individual claims ranging from $2,500 down. BONUSES IN HIDE TRADE.

Revelations Made in Toronto Division Court.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., January 18.—That a system of bonuses was not adopted solely by members of the Plumbers Association was shown in a case in the Division Court yesterday, in which the hide trade was involved. From the evidence it would appear that dealers agree on the price to be paid. Individual firms, however, give a bonus to anyone giving his trade solely to them. One butcher said he received $100 to $150 a year in this way. Another had obtained an advantage of three cents a pound.

In the action in question, Wickett & Craig, tanners, sued Mr. Gallagher, a butcher, for $100. This amount was paid to Gallagher by Alexander & Company, agents for Wickett & Craig, to encourage him to do business with this concern. It was claimed that sufficient hides were not supplied. As there was no agreement covering the gift of the money, the case was dismissed.

THE MOROCCAN CONFERENCE.

Contraband Arms Will Be the First Question Decided.

Algeciras, Spain, January 18.—The delegates of the Moroccan conference have taken a day of leisure, in order to enable the secretaries to get ready for their work, and indulged in private conversations among themselves, or spent the time in preparing with their junior colleagues for the discussion of the surveillance of contraband arms in Morocco, the first question to be discussed at the next meeting. When the conference shall have agreed on regulations for the punishment of foreigners engaged in smuggling arms into Morocco most of the countries will have to legislate on the subject as only Great Britain and Spain can by orders in council penalize their subjects.

Well Known Woman Killed.

Philadelphia, January 18.—Mrs. Anita de B. McMurrow, also known as the "Countess of Battencourt," 75 years of age, once famous because of her claim to the ownership of vast estates in Spain and Cuba of the value of $25,000,000, died at her home here yesterday under circumstances that warranted the coroner in instituting an investigation. Her son John has been detained by the police pending the outcome of the coroner's inquiry.

Late Monday night neighbors heard screams in the house and cries of murder. No one interfered. Later a servant summoned Dr. H. M. Hinkle, the family physician, who found her dead. An assistant deputy coroner started an investigation and last night admitted he found evidence that the son had struck his mother.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

Thousands of women suffer untold miseries every day with aching backs that really have no business to ache. A woman's back wasn't made to ache. Under ordinary conditions it ought to be strong and ready to help her bear the burdens of life.

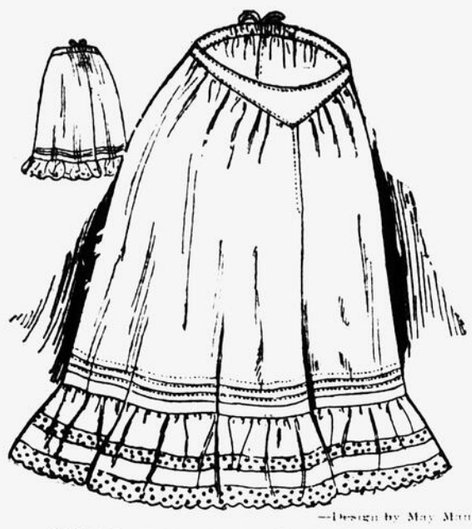

It is hard to do housework with an aching back. Hours of misery at leisure or at work. If women only knew the cause. Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause in the world.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it's not to be wondered that they get out of order. Backache is simply their cry for help.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

will help you. They're helping sick, overworked kidneys all over the world—making them strong, healthy and vigorous. Mrs. F. Ryan, Douglas, Ont., writes: "For over five months I was troubled with lame back and was unable to move without help. I tried all kinds of plasters and liniments but they were no use. At last I heard tell of Doan's Kidney Pills and after I had used three-quarters of the box my back was as strong and well as ever."

Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

YOKE DRAWERS, 5225.—CAMBRIC WITH LACE.

Comfortable and well fitting underwear is a necessity to comfort and to good dressing, inasmuch as no skirt can hang perfectly beneath which the garments are clumsy or lacking in shape. The drawers illustrated are among the best obtainable and are made with a shaped yoke while the fullness at the back can be regulated as required. In this instance cambric is trimmed with the German Valenciennes lace, that makes a most durable and satisfactory finish for underwear, but the lighter weight nainsooks and Paris muslins can be used if liked, while the trimming can be any washable lace or embroidery or the frills can be embroidered by hand if desired.

For a woman of medium size will be required 2¼ yards of material 36 inches wide with 2¾ yards each of edging and embroidery.

A May Manton pattern No. 5225, sizes 22 to 32 inches waist, will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents.

City patrons can purchase patterns at the Star Branch Office, corner Peel and St. Catherine streets, at the same price.

DISFIGURED BY ECZEMA

Wonderful Change in One Night. In a Month Face Was Clear as Ever.

REMARKABLE CURE BY CUTICURA

"I had eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was so disfigured I could not go out, and it was going from bad to worse. I had given up hope when a friend recommended Cuticura Remedies. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap, and used Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent, it changed wonderfully. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month the treatment had removed all scales and scabs, and my face was as clear as ever. (signed) T. J. Soth, 317 Stagg Street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

PROVE IT.

Little Frances Marie Knowlton is the daughter of Dr. F. W. Knowlton, the discoverer of this great hair-growing remedy, and her beautiful hair was grown wholly by the use of this great tonic.

Danderine makes the scalp healthy and fertile and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp fertilizer and therefore the greatest hair-producing remedy ever discovered. It is a natural food and a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a 25c. bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made.

LARGEST ON RECORD.

The National Drug Company Gets Down to Business—Big Order for Books.

At a meeting of the executive board of the new drug merger, held in Montreal last week, it was decided necessary to adopt a simple and uniform system of bookkeeping for all the branches. It was also approved, as being essential to the policy of the new company, that only the most modern methods should be adopted. After thorough enquiry, the contract was finally given to the Copeland-Chatterson Company. Mr. Joseph Myers, the general manager, is in Hamilton to-day, with a corps of experts, in consultation with Mr. C. W. Tuding, the treasurer of the National Drug Co.

WALSH BREAKS WITH GALLERY

Rupture Between Two Representatives of St. Ann's Ward Complete.

HAS BEEN LONG IN SIGHT

Other News Notes From the Campaign in Different Divisions of the City.

War on Ald Pain Galery came to a head Ald Walsh on the street this morning. There were no intimates of the former P.A. present and Alumnus feeling between the pair. Ald Gallery on one hand upbraided Ald Walsh for reports he is alleged have been circulated against him by Ald Walsh's friends.

I don't know anything about these reported Ald Walsh said I can't be responsible for what my friends say. I have enough of my own affairs to look after and you look after yours.

So strong Ald Walsh carried away and the rupture between the pair, it appears, that began after the trial of Ald Gallery's election case, was complete.

A delegation of electors of St. Ann's Ward waited upon Ald Walsh last night to offer him the nomination, and he accepted. His forces are already well organized and he will open committee-rooms within a few days. His nomination papers are to be filed tomorrow.

MAYORALTY MEETINGS.

Ald Ekers will hold a meeting tonight in St. Jean Baptiste Market Hall, when the mayoralty is of large proportions.

Mr. [illegible] organization meeting in St. Jean Baptiste ward, at meetings tomorrow night and Saturday night in St. Denis ward and Hochelaga Ald Ames in St. James ward on next week.

ALD. ST. DENIS' LETTER

Ald St. Denis is out with a letter to the press, saying that he has not retired from the candidature in Centre Ward, inasmuch as he was unsuccessful in his efforts to induce Ald. Valliéres to run in his place. This gentleman, in turn, has urged Mr. St. Denis to remain in the field, promising his support to him. Ald. St. Denis declares that his administration of the police department has been a success, in spite of honest administration and economy. His votes in Council he cites, have been honest votes. He deprecates the "going into" his private affairs in order to make capital against him in a public sense. All he asks is to be judged according to his municipal career.

MANY NOMINATION PAPERS.

Quite a number of aldermen, and new aldermanic candidates, were at the City Hall today, handing in their nomination papers. A surprise sprung was the announcement that Mr. J. A. Duff was going to oppose Ald Sadler for seat No. 1, St. Andrew Ward.

The following candidates handed in their nomination papers today: Ald Robillard, seat No. 2, St. James Ward; Ald. Turner, seat No. 2, St. Gabriel Ward; Mr. Guay, seat No. 1, St. Henry Ward; N. Seguin, seat No. 2, St. Mary Ward; Ald. Sadler, seat No. 1, St. Andrew Ward; Ald. Lemay, seat No. 2, St. Louis Ward; Ald. Stearns, seat No. 2, St. George Ward, and Ald. Clearihue, seat No. 1, St. Lawrence Ward.

The nominations will be declared closed at 12 o'clock noon, on Saturday. It is expected there will be some eighteen candidates elected by acclamation. The fight is waxing warmer in all the wards where there were contests.

ALD. VALLIERES' RETIREMENT.

Acting-Mayor Valliéres was at the City Hall today. He received many expressions of regret that he was returning. Efforts were made to get him to run again. To all appeals, however, Ald. Valliéres turned a deaf ear. He said that his private business affairs demanded all his time. He spoke with pleasure of the strides which he said had been made, towards civic reform. He hoped the new City Council would inaugurate a programme of conducting the affairs of the city on a purely business basis.

A Life Story in Classified Want Ads.

CHAPTER VII.

The Return of the Classified Dog.

The baby cried loudly, his puppy was lost.

"We will find him," said Papa, "no matter what cost."

They hunted the house and the neighborhood round,

But no trace of puppy was anywhere found

The household was lonely, and baby was sad.

"Don't cry," said Papa, "I'll put a small ad.

In the Star 'Want' column and puppy will be Returned to us soon, now you wait and see."

What Papa predicted came true the next day;

A boy brought the dog and baby was gay—

And now for the sequel of this little rhyme;

A Star "Want" Ad. brings results every time.

MR. LADD CAUGHT

At 9.45 This Morning Mr. Frank Power, 1847 Notre Dame Street, Recognized and Accosted Hm.

Captured at Last.

The mysterious Mr. Ladd was caught this morning at 9.45 in the store of Mr. Frank Power, 1847 Notre Dame street.

Mr. Ladd had gone into the place with a small boy to purchase a pair of skating boots, but unfortunately for him and fortunately for Mr. Power the size that was desired was not in stock.

So therefore Mr. Power sent one of his clerks to procure the size desired.

In the meantime, Mr. Power had observed that his customer greatly resembled the picture that was published in yesterday's Star of the Mysterious Mr. Ladd, and at the same time, Mr. Ladd saw that he was being more closely observed by those in the store than he had been almost any time during the time that he has been in Montreal.

There were present at the time besides Mr. Powers, the saleslady, Miss Jay, and Mr. Labonte, the male clerk, and Mr. David McQuaig, an employee of the electric engineering company, and a customer at that time.

Mr. Powers stepped up to Mr. Ladd, and said to him:

"You are the Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd, do you deny it?"

Mr. Ladd not seeing a copy of the Star, replied "What do you mean?"

Mr. Power repeated what he had previously said, and taking a copy of yesterday's Star from his pocket said, "Here are the goods."

Mr. Ladd then extended his hand and congratulated him on having made the capture and winning the fifty dollars.

MR. LADD'S OWN STORY IN TO-MORROW'S PAPER

WILL PROCLAIM PUBLIC HOLIDAY

Citizens Will Be Asked to Close Establishments on Day of Mr. Prefontaine's Funeral.

The City Council be asked that as a special mark of respect to the memory of the late Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, the citizens of Montreal close their business on the day of the funeral on January 25. A resolution to this effect was adopted yesterday at the meeting of the council.

Ald. Ekers brought in the motion which was seconded by Ald. Robillard. It was to the effect that the Mayor should issue a proclamation calling on the citizens generally and the heads of manufacturing and other business establishments to close their offices and places of business on the day. Thursday, January 25, on which the funeral service of the deceased minister is to take place. The motion was carried unanimously.

OTHER MEMBERS RETURN

The members of the party accompanying Hon. Mr. Prefontaine on his fatal trip to Europe returned yesterday to Montreal. They were Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Lemieux, and Mrs. Rodolphe Lemieux. Mr. Lemieux was with Mr. Prefontaine up to Tuesday night he died. Although not at the time calling that the end was near, he had remarked afterwards that he feared he would never return to Canada. Mr. Lemieux wants to the splendid tribute of respect paid to the memory of the departed minister in England and France alike is one of the most notable chapters of the whole episode.

GEORGE GRANT, M.P., SPRINGS SENSATION

A Liberal Whip Alleges That Many of Party are Dissatisfied and Prepared to Bolt.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, January 18. A decided sensation was caused here yesterday afternoon when a local paper came out with an interview with Mr. George Grant, M.P., Liberal member for North Ontario, in which he expressed great dissatisfaction with the manner in which affairs are being conducted in Ottawa and declared that a large section of Ontario Liberals was prepared to break with the party. Mr. Grant is one of the Liberal whips for Ontario, but it is known that in spite of his official position he has for some time been dissatisfied with the way things are going.

In the interview Mr. Grant said that the Ontario Liberals are anything but satisfied with the present cabinet and stated that there are at least eighteen of them ready to break with the government unless matters are arranged more to their satisfaction. Mr. Grant stated frankly that the old liberalism had been lost sight of, and a new element had entered to the domination of which the Ontario Liberals, or at least a section of them, would not longer submit. He claimed for one thing that the government was deliberately holding back the session in order that the country should forget the representations made to the tariff commissioners in order to raise the wall of protection. Against such increase he would act in strenuous opposition.

Mr. Grant is at present lying in the hospital here ill. He has nothing further to add to his statement of yesterday.

Grant's doctor says his patient has no recollection of giving the interview, which has been published.

MR. BURLEN STILL BEING SHADOWED

Remarkable Surveillance of Official of Defunct Boston Concern Still Goes on.

One of the most remarkable detective visits that has ever been held in Montreal in connection with a man supposed to be wanted in the United States is being kept by Detectives Sloan and McGill, of Chief Carpenter's headquarters staff.

The man watched is Mr. Burlen, the secretary-treasurer of the Provident Banking Company, Boston, and the watch has now been kept up on him for some forty hours without ceasing.

Strange to say he is not quite sure as yet who are his pursuers.

Mr. Burlen is as nervous as he was yesterday, in fact even more so apparently, and his night's rest yesterday does not seem to have done him much good.

He seems to be constantly waiting for some one from Boston to join him, and spends his time making sudden little excursions on street cars, taking unexpected little walks in the snow and visiting the telegraph offices and the Grand Trunk Railway station.

No order for his arrest has arrived yet, but it may arrive at any time.

Chief Silas H. Carpenter, of the Montreal Detective Bureau, is in constant communication with Inspector Watts, of Boston, by long distance telephone and by wire.

JURY EXONERATES THE MOTHER

Coroner McMahon held an inquest today into the cause of the death of the baby found dead in a room in a boarding house at 788 Palace street, on New Years eve.

The Maternity Hospital, to which institution the mother was taken after the finding of the body of the child, was represented by Mrs. R. W. Reford, vice-president; Mrs. Frank May and Mr. C. M. Holt, K.C.

Medical Examiner Dr. Duncan MacTaggart, who made the post-mortem examination, stated that the child had lived. He found marks of violence on the nose which could have been caused by a fall or crushed in by the hand if force had been used. The injury, he said, might have been caused by the child lying on its face.

Mrs. James Currie, mother of the dead baby, said her maiden name was Ida Sherman. She was a native of Yankleek Hill. She had been deserted by her husband seven months ago. She had three children living at Hawkesbury with an aunt. When the child was born she fainted away and could not tell how it happened to fall on the floor.

Mrs. Michael Kelly, of 786 Palace St., explained the circumstances in connection with the finding of the infant, and Mrs. R. W. Reford corroborated the evidence of Mrs. Kelly as to the good intentions and admissions of the mother.

Dr. Gray, of Bonsecours Hall, said that he found the body of the child lying on a dresser when he entered the room. He didn't question the mother, but under the circumstances he had refused to give a death certificate.

After hearing two or three other witnesses the jury returned a verdict of exonerating the mother from any blame.

LT.-COL. JETTER DELIVERS SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Honorable gentlemen of the Legislative Council, gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:—

I am happy to welcome you on your return to the capital, whither your parliamentary duties summon you.

"The sudden death of the Hon. R. Prefontaine, one of the members of the Federal executive, has caused deep regret throughout Canada and especially in this province of which he was so distinguished a son. His breadth of mind, his spirit of conciliation, his clear grasp of the present needs of Canada, and his energy made him a powerful factor in drawing the various nationalities closely together and in promoting the development of the country. The sympathy tendered to Canada by the Imperial Government and by that of the French Republic have produced a profound impression on all the inhabitants of this province.

"I am convinced that I but voice your feelings in doing homage to the memory of Mr. Cochrane, late member for Montreal, and of Mr. Leslie, late member for the Magdalen Islands, who died during the parliamentary recess.

Messrs. Cochrane and Leslie were upright and enlightened members and their death deprives the province of the services of devoted and truly patriotic men.

"We have reason to rejoice at the entrance of two new provinces into the Confederation. This event is a proof of the constant progress made by our country, and leads us to hope that the future will secure for the people of Canada that influence to which they may legitimately aspire.

"I regret that the settlement of the question of the Federal subsidy has not met with that measure of success which the efforts of my government warranted. Nevertheless encouraged and supported by the assured co-operation of the other provinces, my government is determined to persist in the steps it has taken and to do everything that may be necessary to hasten the favorable settlement of that just claim.

My government has likewise devoted its attention to the various questions connected with the fisheries of the province, such as the re-imbursement by the Federal authorities of a portion of the Halifax award, the remission of the amounts collected by Canada for fishing permits within the limits of the province, and the issue of such permits in al lour territorial waters. During the coming season it will exercise all the rights given to it by the constitution with respect to the ownership of the fisheries, and will recognize no permits but those it may itself have granted.

The delimitation of the frontier between the province and Newfoundland is also receiving the attention of my Government.

PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

"Public instruction has been the special object of my Government's solicitude. I am happy to say that it has given more generous aid to poor school municipalities, and has interested itself in the foundation of new normal schools, where young girls who wish to become teachers can receive proper pedagogical training. The measures it has adopted to stimulate the zeal of the school boards, and to encourage teachers to persevere in their career will, I am sure, meet with your approval.

"Colonization receives from my Government all the attention due to the important role, which the province plays in the Confederation. The difficult task of classifying lots of land in such manner as to separate those which are serviceable for agriculture from those reserved for lumbering has been vigorously carried on. The work so far accomplished will further a satisfactory understanding between settlers and lumber limit holders, for already disputes between their conflicting interests have almost entirely ceased.

"In order to group settlers on new lands, certain townships whose soil is most suitable for farming will shortly be placed at the disposal of the Colonization Department, which will open up means of communication to them.

THE INTEREST IN FORESTRY.

"My Government has not failed to take a lively interest in forestry. Our forests form a considerable proportion of the public wealth. Their existence is closely associated with our finances, with the success of important industry, and with the preservation of a proper water supply. It is therefore necessary that they be protected, if we wish to secure their perpetuation while permitting of legitimate lumbering operations. In view of all these considerations, my Government has amended the regulations for their protection against fire, and has also decided to create additional forest reserves in such regions, as may seem suitable for the purpose.

"Dairying is becoming of remarkable importance in our midst. Quebec holds the first place in the production of butter, and that it is yearly making great progress in the manufacture of cheese. My Government will redouble its efforts in encouraging our rural population in this important work. In a few days a dairy school, provided with all modern improvement and probably the most perfect on the continent, will be opened at St. Hyacinthe.

REVISION OF STATUTES.

"Satisfactory progress is being made in the revision of the statutes. A portion of the work will be submitted to you during this session.

"The re-organization of the departments, authorized by an act of last session, has been accomplished with satisfactory results. The public buildings now being erected by my Government at Sherbrooke and at Montreal will soon be completed.

"Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly, the public accounts for the past fiscal year will be submitted to you, as usual, and you will be called upon to vote fresh supplies for the requirements of the public service.

"I am happy to inform you that there has been a decrease in the provincial debt, and that the operations of the past fiscal year show a surplus.

MUST PRACTICE ECONOMY

"I urge you, however, to carefully study the financial situation, for such a study will convince you that the Government must practice economy and increase the revenue.

"Honorable gentlemen of the Legislative Council, gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

"You will be called upon to legislate on various matters, amongst others:

"On civil law, the public lands, fisheries and game and other subjects of general interest.

"I am confident that you will devote to your important labors all the attention they deserve, and that, in your deliberations you will always be guided by the sole desire to truly serve the public weal."

Has Hockey Come To This?

Forgery Resorted to to Spoil the Wanderers so That They Could Not Win Last Night's Match—James Strachan's Name Forged to a Letter Telling Menard They Did Not Want Him to Play—Police Asked to Investigate the Case—Officers of Other Clubs Express Great Indignation at Such Dastardly Tactics.

One of the most dastardly attempts that was ever made in Montreal to "put a Hockey Team out of business" before an important match was played last night.

Menard the Wanderer goalkeeper had a letter sent to him in the afternoon purported to b signed by Mr. James Strachan, the President of the Wanderers, telling him that as they had another goalkeeper his services were no longer required.

The letter, a rank forgery, naturally

Menard, the Wanderer Goalkeeper, whom some enemy of the Wanderers tried to keep away from last night's match by means of a forged letter.

put Menard in anything but good humor, and it was nip and tuck between the two as whether the Wanderers were to have a goalkeeper last night or not.

A fac-simile of the letter is published herewith.

The matter will be brought to the notice of the new Hockey Association at its next meeting, and the Association will probably agree to offer a reward for the apprehension of the forger in addition to what the Wanderers will do of their own accord to punish the crime.

To say that everyone is of the opinion that the Shamrocks are entirely innocent seems almost useless the probability being that some enemy of the Wanderers invented the trick.

WHAT WANDERERS ARE DOING ABOUT IT AT THE PRESENT.

The President and executive of the Wanderer Hockey Club have offered a reward of twenty-five dollars to anyone giving information that will lead to the conviction of the party or parties concerned, who forged the name of the President of the club, James Strachan, to a note to Menard the Wanderer goalkeeper last night.

Mr. Strachan says that he has never had his name trifled with before, and that it is too late to begin now. He has placed the matter in the hands of the proper authorities, the city detective force, and intends to leave no stone unturned until the matter is finally and thoroughly sifted to the bottom.

Wanderer circles are very much incensed over the affair and all hands vow that they will go the limit to catch the man who did such a despicable trick. They all absolve the Shamrocks from participation in the crime.

WHAT VICTORIAS' PRESIDENT HAS TO SAY ABOUT THE FORGERY.

Dr. Eddy Stuart, president of the Victoria Hockey Club, had the following to say in regard to the alleged forged letter written to Menard, the Wanderer goal keeper. "The Shamrocks have had a hockey team on the ice for a long time much longer than the Wanderers, and such an occurrence has never been known to happen before in the history of their club. Advertisement means a great deal to hockey teams these days, and anything new will advertise a team better than anything else. I don't mean to say for a moment that the executive or any of the officers of the Wanderer Club would degrade themselves as low as that to help along their team, but I do think it is quite possible that some well meaning and more shallow thinking well wisher of the club may have seen in the exposure of this scheme something whereby the club would gain notoriety and thereby increase the gate receipts.

"I do not think anybody connected officially with either club had anything to do with the nefarious scheme, however."

POTTER, OF MONTREAL, WANTS THE PERPETRATOR SHOWN UP WELL.

Mr. Thomas Potter thinks that it is an impossibility that the Shamrocks could have anything to do with such a low lived plot. "If such a method is to be tried on whereby games may be won, it is high time to begin housecleaning and rid a despicable spirit from the sport. Such schemes are always made public and there certainly never has been anything like it before in any athletic circles here. I hope this disgraceful proceeding will be thoroughly aired and President Strachan has the hearty co-operation and sympathy of the Montreal Club, and anything that that club can do to clean up matters will be thoroughly done. The clubs must all make a stand against such doings and the sooner this mystery is cleared up the better it will be for the game."

Mr. W. P. Lunny, the secretary of the Shamrock Amateur Athletic Association, said this morning that the information the Star gave him was the first he knew about the forged letter. "We expected" he said, "to run up against a much more formidable aggregation, and we are naturally much pleased with the way in which the match came out, but all those who know the Shamrocks know that they would never resort to such a dastardly trick as the one committed to-night on opposing team.

"You can state for the Shamrocks that they heartily disapprove of all such work, and will be glad if the perpetrators of last night's outrage are caught."

London, January 18. The Liberal tide is rising faster than ever to-day as the flood of returns come in from yesterday's elections in the counties. Fourteen more Conservative seats have been captured, while the Unionists can only record a victory in one division, which is more than counterbalanced by the labor gains in Sunderland and Warwickshire. Well known Unionists like William St. John Brodrick, the former Secretary of State for India, Henry Chaplin, the former president of the local government board, and Allwyn E. Fellowes, the former president of the Board of Agriculture have been overwhelmed by the Liberal avalanche.

Among the new members is Dr. Stopford W. Brooke, a former Unitarian minister of Boston, who captured the Bow and Bromley division of the Tower Hamlets (London), in behalf of the Liberals.

A LOAN SHARK ON TRIAL.

McHarrie, of Toronto, Is Charged With Fraud.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., January 18.—Magistrate Denison this morning began the hearing of the case of Robert McHartie, manager of the Anderson Company, a money-lending firm charged with fraud. E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., and Gideon Grant appeared for McHarrie.

The Kehr case, in which an appeal has been entered, was not taken up. This morning's proceedings consisted largely in the filing of documents found in McHarrie's office, circulars, advertisement, etc., "what amount do you Need" and "Cheapest Rates," and "You Promise Nothing, Advance Nothing, Risk Nothing." There was also a kick from a disgusted customer who refused to pay $138 interest for six months on a loan of $35.25.

TYPHOID FEVER IS PREVALENT THROUGHOUT THE CITY.

Forty-one Cases Reported at the City Hall This Month.

No fewer than 41 cases of typhoid fever have been reported at the City Hall since January 1, in the following wards:—St. Denis, 6; St. Henri, 4; St. Andrew's 4; Ste. Cunegonde, 4; St. Mary's, 1; St. Lawrence, 2; Papineau, 1; East, 2; St. James, 1; St. Joseph, 4; St. Gabriel, 2; St. Ann's, 3; St. Louis, 3; St. Jean Baptiste, 1; Lafontaine, 2; and Duvernay, 1. This is in excess of the average.

The importance of properly fortifying oneself against it cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The germ can be taken into the system through drinking water, milk, impure air, in eating too much animal food, or through open sewers.

Prevention is accomplished by eating pure food, especially plenty of vegetables and fruit—observing absolute cleanliness—avoiding damp, unwholesome surroundings—and by building up the health with a good wine tonic.

This fever is usually preceded by extreme langour, seemingly causeless weakness, great depression, violent headaches, throbbing temples, pains in the stomach, back and loins, and sometimes nausea.

Dr. Wm. Buchan, the eminent British physician, recommends wine containing extract of Peruvian Cinchona bark for the well and ones who have the symptoms of the disease. He says: "I have often left a patient twenty times and more, little expecting to see him alive next day. Yet I ordered a bottle, or perhaps two, of generous wine to be given in the twenty four hours; and that patient recovered and enjoyed health for many years." He advises all exposed to infection to drink a few glasses of wine every morning.

Too much cannot be said of the strengthening qualities of WILSON'S INVALIDS' Port. This is an excellent wine containing as it does the medical properties of Peruvian Cinchona bark, which invigorates and tenders the body impervious to the typhoid germ, when other wines invariably fail. For sale by all druggists. 38a 16 2

INCREASES IN PAY GRANTED

The negotiations between the engineers of the Grand Trunk and the company, which have been going on in this city since October last, have not yet concluded, although the men have to a certain extent gained what they were asking.

The Grand Trunk has agreed to grant engineers a substantial increase in the rates of pay, but the point now to be settled is when those rates shall come into effect. Five cents an hour extra for detention time, while men are on the road; seven per cent. increase for engineers on shunting engines—these are the concessions that the company has made to their employes.

But as yet no agreement has been reached as to the date when these rates shall go into effect. The engineers maintain that they have been under a great deal of expense in keeping their committee in Montreal all these months, and they demand some sort of compensation. They therefore desire that the new rates go into effect dating from the first of October last. The company is willing that the revised schedule should take effect on the first of January, and daily sessions are still going on in the efforts of both parties to arrive at some definite settlement.

BULL CAMPAIGN IN STOCK MARKET

It Gained Considerable Momentum in Forenoon Dealings.

TORONTO RAILWAY ACTIVE

Iron and Steel Issues Stood Out Prominently in the Dealings—Montreal Street Higher.

The stock market was pitched to the proper tune to-day for a bull market and everything went as joyously as a marriage bell.

Very few days this year could show a list of transactions so long and important. Yesterday was a brisk day in the trading but to-day was better.

Most of the issues which were prominent in the dealing yesterday, and might be termed the leaders of the present bull movement were again in evidence and enjoyed still further rises.

It is hard to find anything on the list which was at all prominent in the dealings which did not something of an advance to its credit.

Toronto Railway stood out very prominently as it did yesterday, and notwithstanding the cold water thrown on the movement by the Toronto crowd the price had a further rise from 109 to 111 1-2. Very little stock seemed to be taken there that there will be an increase in the dividend but that did not daunt the local bulls who are behind the movement.

Another department of the market which developed further marked strength compared with the Lower Provinces iron and steel issues. Nova Scotia Steel and Coal, while not so heavily dealt in as some other issues, came forward with a rise of two points to its credit, opening at 70 and making 72 on the move.

This issue has been neglected for a long time during most of which it has been subjected to bearish pressure. Lately it has shown signs of pulling away from such influences.

The trading in Dominion Iron issues chiefly developed in the bonds which touched 86, after opening at 84 1-2. The common rose to 28 1-2, and the preferred to 78, the best figures in some time.

Dominion Coal shared in the feeling of the day to the extent of two points gain from 78 1-2 to 80 1-2.

Montreal Street Railway was another conspicuous feature of the bull campaign and the level reached to-day, being the top for a year or more did not bring out a great deal of the stock indicating the strength with which it is held. The opening dealings were at 238 3-4, and nothing further was done until 240 was bid.

Mackay's common was a firm feature at 61 1-2 and Montreal Power absorbed some of the spirit of the occasion and rose to 90 1-8.

TRUCE IN THE COPPER WARFARE

Important Developments are Looked for in Wall Street.

MAGNATES MEETING TO-DAY

Some Believe That a Big Merger is Now in Process of Formation.

The arrival in New York of a large contingent of western copper interests, including prominent representatives of the Amalgamated, United, Clark and other important mining companies, revived the report that a big merger is under consideration. It is thought probable that the matter will come before the Amalgamated directors at their regular dividend meeting in progress to-day.

Among the Montana copper people who have come East are W. H. Hall, J. B. Leggett, J. M. Hodgens, W. A. Clark, jr., James Gray, Frank Laing, A. J. Shores, W. D. Thornton, C. A. Molson, Lyman Elder, M. Walsh, M. E. Long, A. J. Campbell, D. C. Evans, W. McAvity, W. Wheeler, George W. Davis, M. S. Isaac, C. B. Wisner, W. B. Holter, E. H. Wilson, T. L. Greenough, and A. H. Weatby.

The statement published last week regarding the ultimate aim of the Standard Oil Company in reference to the copper industry of this country has, as was to be expected, been widely circulated and discussed throughout the various States chiefly interested. As each look in the light of circumstantial evidence is carefully considered, the feeling grows that the omnipotent tentacle of the Standard will not be content until they have seized control of this important industry. It is suggested that they may wait until the inevitable reaction from the present boom occurs in order that outside concerns may be in a more approachable frame of mind than they are to-day. No one wants to sell copper mines at present. Companies are being formed by various quarters to acquire them. This may be an opportune moment to float a huge trust such as the one associated with the alleged intentions of the Standard Oil interests, but it is a decidedly inopportune time for securing control of the companies desirable for the formation of such a trust.

Discussing the truce between Amalgamated and Heinze the Boston News Bureau says: Many facts and factors are coming to light which indicate that the cessation of copper warfare on the Butte Mountain mainly means a breathing spell. Negotiations are now on which, if consummated, should be international in their scope, and unify the copper production of the Butte Mountain, and expand such units over other copper camps as should be understood to this connection that the American Smelting & Refining Company is now in position to represent a future copper production on the American continent amounting to nearly 200,000,000 pounds per annum, that with the opening the Lexington, Mr. Heinze's United Copper Company can, with improved smelting facilities, come near to doubling in the future its present output on the Butte Mountain of about 40,000,000 pounds per annum; and that the Anaconda, should its improved values at depth hold for any considerable distance, can, with its new smelting plant, put all previous records into the shade. Many years ago Anaconda produced as high as 135,000,000 pounds of copper in a single twelvemonth."

DETROIT BANK MERGER.

The Dime Savings Bank, of Detroit, has acquired the Union National, buying the stock at 90. The Dime Savings Bank was organized in 1884, with a capital of $60,000, which was increased in 1885 to $100,000, and in 1887 to $200,000. A further increase to $250,000 was made when the Dime Savings absorbed the Marine Savings. The Union National was organized February 16, 1886. Statement as of November 5 showed a capital of $200,000.

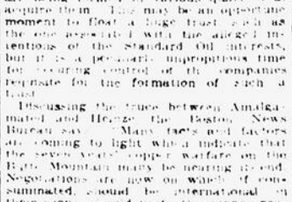

ERIE SHOWS GOOD EARNINGS.

The gross earnings of the Erie Railway for the five months ending November 30, 1905, increased $1,561,000 over the earnings for the same period the preceding year, and this additional business was secured at the exceedingly low increased cost of conducting transportation of $90,000.

BULL ITEM ON STEEL ISSUES.

A representative of the Carnegie Steel Co. says: The situation is finished steel is simply jammed with specifications are increasing that way similar named mills deliveries according to contract. We are busy most of the time explaining the situation to anxious customers.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET

Laidlaw & Co.—Yesterday's reaction in certain quarters of the market, especially in A. C. P., where a large long interest existed, was distinctly beneficial to the bull position, and the best observers of the market agree that the recession could proceed further without prejudice to the market's inherent strength. Aside from the uncertainty which always attends the action of the A. C. P. directors as to the matter of dividends, there is nothing in the situation to undermine bullish confidence. During the week the banks have increased over last week's enormous gains of cash and another favorable statement Saturday is in prospect. The reduction of the Bank of Germany's discount rate affects to the disadvantage the supply of money additions abroad, but also to a growing control over the international political outlook which recently threatened to disturb the world's financial markets. Current business in all departments is progressing at a record-breaking pace, and is only just beginning to wear the aspect of a boom.

J. B. Pixley & Co.—The London market for Americans is firm at advances ranging from 1-8 to 1-4 over close. The Bank of England rate remains unchanged.

J. S. Bache & Co.—The morning was up to expectations. The late rally yesterday afternoon was followed by some aggressive buying of C. P. R., Union Pacific and the Goulds. These Gould stocks are beginning to reform themselves and acquire additional interest and go far toward shaking off the harmonious market from now on. Some of the low-priced industrials were taken up and to-day

E. & C. Randolph's [illegible] Liverpool was due to come 5 to 7 lower. Opened steady, 6 to 7 lower, and at 12.30 dull, 6 to 7 lower. Spots, fair business, 7 points lower. Sales, 10,000; estimated [illegible] ports, 18,000, against 16,000 last year.

Price range in New York this morning was as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	12.30
January	11.64	11.78	11.59	11.76
March	11.74	11.85	11.69	11.85
July	....	11.89	11.75	11.86

Topics of the Street

For the third time in succession the Canadian Pacific Railway has led all other roads of the continent in point of increase of earnings. In December Pacific showed a gain of over $1,000,000, and the nearest approach to that was $562,000 by the New York Central. The Hill roads came next, while "Soo" was sixth, and Grand Trunk eighth. Canadian Pacific also had the lead in October and November. As for the outlook, the consensus of opinion indicates that the first six months of the current year will be a very fruitful period for the railways. In fact, the probabilities are that gross earnings for the entire year will run very high, but it is difficult to say whether net receipts will do relatively as well as gross earnings.

The publication of the report of the annual meeting of the Bank of Hamilton seems to have stimulated the demand for these shares. The shareholders ratified the decision of the directors to increase the capital by $500,000. An announcement of interest also was that hereafter the dividend would be paid quarterly. The steady growth of the bank was summarized in the president's address, showing the [illegible] of net earnings to capital have grown steadily, thus:

Period	Net earnings
1875—1885	10.01 per cent
1875—1895	10.01 per cent
1895—1905	13.98 per cent

Hamilton is still pointed to as the cheapest of the 10 per cent bank stocks returning 4.54 on the investment, as against 4.21 from Imperial and 3.67 from Dominion.

The annual statement of the Canada Landed and National Investment Co. gives color to the belief in Toronto that this class of companies has done exceedingly well the past year. The profit and loss account of this company shows that this year $80,000 was transferred to reserve fund, which now amounts to $150,000, or nearly 50 per cent of the paid up capital. This is $10,000 more than was so transferred in 1903, and $30,000 more than was transferred in 1904.

This old and unlikely story of an increased dividend is the way the Toronto Railway movement of yesterday was referred to in Toronto by our paper. Another says:

"Toronto Railway stock was quite active to-day, both here and in Montreal, and advanced on what was said to be Montreal buying. Expectation of some action by the directors with regard to increasing the dividend rate may have been back of the movement. The next declaration is due in April. There is also talk of a new stock issue, but President Mackenzie states that that will depend upon the demands of the city for extensions."

STRONG WITH STREET.

Improvement in Money Situation Abroad Helped the Situation.

From the Special Correspondent of The Montreal Star in Wall Street.

New York, January 18.—The stock market showed considerable strength at the opening this morning in many stocks, and all shares were higher, several new high records being made.

Improvement in the money situation abroad, as well as at home, absence of any real uneasiness over the Moroccan situation and increasing favorable conditions of this country's export trade contributed to strengthen the market and increase the buying power in securities that most readily reflect these favorable factors.

Reading advanced 2 3-8 to a new high record at 148½. Smelters also advanced 3 3-8 to a new high record at 173 7-8. Kansas and Texas pfd gained ½, making a new high record at 73¼, a gain of 3 points.

Other advances included Colorado Fuel 1 5-8, Great Northern pfd 1 3-4, Delaware & Hudson, 1 1-4. Anaconda opened up 3-4 then rallied a point but quickly receded until it was down 1 3-4.

The bears did not attempt to repeat the raid which they made before the close last evening. Despite the fact that foreign copper metal markets were weak in the early dealings to-day copper stocks in the local stock market manifested a much firmer tone than at the close last night. Amalgamated Copper was not particularly aggressive, but good resistance was offered to the pressure to which it was subjected. It rose half a point.

The Bank of England made no change in the discount rate, while the Bank of Germany as generally expected, reduced its official figures to the extent of one per cent.

Consols and American securities were higher in London and considerable business was done here on foreign account. Canadian Pacific was extremely active, and rose 2-4.

EASIER MONEY ABROAD.

The Bank of Berlin has reduced its discount rate to 5 per cent., and the Bank of England rate remains unchanged. This indicates easier monetary conditions abroad, and as Germany was the weak point in the money market, the improvement there is reflected in the lower discount rate, and should be reflected in a more confident feeling in the speculative markets. There is nothing in the general situation that is disturbing, and with the A. C. P. dividend out of the way, the market should be in a position for a resumption of the upward movement.

AMERICAN STEEL DIVIDENDS.

Wall Street has been flooded with reports for some time that the American Steel Foundries Company was about to resume dividends on its preferred stock. Inside interests have maintained for some time that they knew nothing of any such move on the part of the company, and have insisted that it could not be true. Some authorities declare there is no likelihood of dividend resumption in the near future, and for that matter, for some time to come.

DAIRYMEN HOLD INTERESTING SESSIONS

Western Ontario Farmers Adulterate Milk More Than Ever.

RULING REGARDING HOGS

Paint and Oil Trade—Firm Markets on Wheat and Cotton—Poor Market for Poultry.

Ingersoll, Ont., January 18.—The convention of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario continued its session here yesterday.

Geo. H. Barr, chief dairy instructor for Western Ontario, reported on the condition of the cheese industry. He made the statement that never before had so many farmers adulterated milk by adding water or removing cream. It was a severe reflection upon the farmers of Western Ontario.

Geo. A. Putman, of Toronto, Superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, gave an address on the facilities afforded Canadian farmers by the Government to become educated along lines of dairying and general farming, and urged greater interest in the farmers' institute meetings.

The quality of cheese and the character required by the British market was discussed by Prof. H. H. Dean, of Guelph. He stated that unless Ontario makers were more progressive, the Quebec article would occupy a primary position on the market soon.

J. A. Ruddick, dairy commissioner, gave a talk along similar lines.

Geo. H. Barr presented a report on the instructions given to the creameries during the summer. They had increased in number from 71 to 89, and 53 had been regularly visited by instructors. The finest butter had been made where the pasteurizing was used properly, and the butter where it was kept in cold storage was much sought after.

Prof. G. L. McKay, of Ames, Iowa, paid a tribute to the Agricultural College of Guelph. Regarding how much water should be kept in butter, he said that 11 or 15 per cent. was the best amount. There was considerable discussion of the point. Prof. Ruddick told briefly of the advancement which had been made in Canadian butter on the British market during the past year.

At night, nearly 600 people crowded the hall.

G. C. Creelman, principal of the O.A.C., referred to the great advantages possessed by Canada, making it one of the most prosperous countries in the world. He made a plea for farming as opposed to professional and business work. Speaking of education, he said he hoped to see consolidated schools as one way in which a great deal might be done to improve. Principal Foreman then presented to James Patton, of the Maitland Cheese Factory, in Perth county, a trophy, valued at $150, awarded annually to the maker with the best cheese exhibited.

Short addresses were delivered by J. C. Hegler, K.C., Geo. Smith, M.P. for North Oxford, and M. S. Schell, M.P. for South Oxford. A telegram from Hon. Sydney Fisher was read, which expressed his regret at his inability to be present.

DISPUTE OVER BACON HOGS.

Farmers Say Packers Will Not Pay Enough—To Confer Together.

Toronto, January 18.—As a result of a meeting held at the Department of Agriculture to-day, a conference will shortly take place between the packers and other interests concerned in relation to the controversy that has arisen respecting the supply and prices of hogs. The idea is to reach an understanding as to prices to be paid by farmers for hogs. The packers claim that since the embargo of United States hogs there has been a shortage which the farmers of Ontario have not helped to relieve, many of them having, on the contrary, demanded increased prices. On the other hand, the farmers contend that the packers are not paying fair prices. An attempt is therefore, to be made to bring the two parties together, and to assist as far as possible in reaching a solution of the difficulty. Those present at to-day's meetings were Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture; Hon. John Dryden, ex-Minister of Agriculture; W. F. Hodgson, Dominion live stock commissioner; and W. L. Smith.

WHEAT MARKETS FIRMER.

Bullish News From India—Snow Needed in States.

From a Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, January 18.—May wheat sold from 88 3-4 to 87 7-8, and July from 85 1-4 to 84 7-8, compared with closing yesterday of 88 and 85 respectively.

The advance of 3-8d. in the price at Liverpool on continued unfavorable news from India, and the fact that Wall Street was on the buying side, coupled with the cash demand reported by all the leading markets, drove scattered shorts under cover.

The Price Current said that while recent snows gave wheat the moisture needed, the young plant is bare of snow, and in the event of a cold snap damage reports will come out in large numbers.

South-Western receipts were larger than a year ago, while north-western were smaller.

Minneapolis stock increased 750,000 bushels for five days.

COTTON HIGHER AT NOON.

Dealers are Waiting on Next Ginners' Report—Very Little Doing.

E. & C. Randolph's letter said: Nothing developed yesterday to throw any light on the situation or to induce any change in individual views. The disposition is still to await the next ginners' report for a better idea of the crop situation before attempting any fresh position on the market. Meanwhile there seems to be nothing much but scalping operations, with large operators reducing their lines as opportunity offers.

FRESH EGGS MORE PLENTIFUL

Stock at Low Prices—Poultry Market Very Sick—Butter and Cheese Steady.

EGGS.—The situation is practically unchanged, so far as prices are concerned, save that No. 1 cold storage eggs may be had at 18c to-day, whereas 20c was being asked for them yesterday. From all accounts, more firms are prepared to accept reduced prices this morning than yesterday. The weakness of the market seems to be due entirely to the large receipts of fresh laid eggs and to the anticipated liberal receipts from this forward. Now that the hens have started laying in western Ontario, and the Winter is well advanced, it is likely that while a cold snap may reduce the production, it cannot stop it altogether. Consequently it is felt that prices will be on the low side from this forward, although there is a general belief that they will again go higher than at present, before the season ends. This belief would seem to be a reasonable one, as stocks are not large, and the reduced price will have the effect of depleting them. Select cold storage eggs are quoted at 23c, and new laid at 27c. Some say that the stock which is arriving as fresh laid is of very poor quality, and not at all what the name implies. One firm, however, states that they will guarantee the stock to be January and that they go over all the eggs before selling the same out at 28c.

BUTTER.—Merchants continue to hold differ at views of the market, some talking it up and some down. Mild weather, while it may prevent the make of better butter, cannot bring on the make of fresh butter any earlier than usual, and failing this, there is little or no chance of people of fresh after the market for a long time to come. Dairy butter is steadily easier, and it is not thought there will be very much more received either from Ontario, and exceedingly little from Manitoba. Prices are 20½ to 21½c, according to quality. Creamery was steady at 22 to 23c, according to quality. Up to a late hour, England had not cabled any change in the market for Canada, but there was a feeling here that there was too wide a spread between Danish and Colonials, the former being too high.

CHEESE.—The market continues steady. Holders are still asking 13½c in many cases, though some cheese could be picked up at 13¼c, and possibly lower occasionally, though the latter would not likely be strictly finest. Exporters are looking forward to a renewal of the demand within a short time.

POULTRY.—The market is very flat. Turkeys can be had at 12c for finest, prices ranging down below 10c for inferior quality. Geese could not be sold at more than 9c for finest it is said, fowl and chicken ranging from 6 to 10c, according to selection. Ducks may be 12 to 13c, very few being offered.

BUTTER SCARCE IN ENGLAND.

If Frost Set in Market Would Be Forced to Very High Point.

Messrs Dowsall Bros. Manchester, report the English butter market, under date of January 9th, as follows: "Copenhagen says: Market is exceedingly firm and it is more than probable that the official quotation will again have to be advanced 4 kr. Circumstances in the butter trade seem to be quite of an extraordinary character. We are severely frosty. The change has since been wired 2 kroner advance. The trade has again to report an [illegible] of stock, hence the sensitiveness of the market to the least extra demand. Manchester was absolutely cleared on Tuesday of every fresh cask it, a fortnight standing a slight pull after the New Year's holiday. If frost or real cold weather sets in, it would be difficult to forecast what price butter would reach. Australian and New Zealand are in brisk demand, and are mainly absorbed by the London market. The Russian disturbances have cut off a good deal of medium class butter coming from the Baltic provinces and from Siberia.

LONDON WOOL AUCTION.

Germany and the Home Trade Bought the Merinos Market Firm.

London, January 18.—There was a large attendance at the wool sales yesterday. The offerings consisted of a superior selection of 12,912 bales. Competition was animated. Merinos were taken chiefly by the home trade and Germany. Crossbreds were in spirited demand. Fine new clip was very firm, and several parcels were taken for America. Cape of Good Hope was in strong demand. Following are the sales in detail:

New South Wales—4700 bales; scoured, 10½d to 2s ½d; greasy, 5d to 1s 2d.

South Australia—2200 bales, scoured, 1s 8½d to 1s 10d; greasy, 3d to 1s 1d.

West Australia—2200 bales, greasy, 6¾d to 1s ¼d.

New Zealand—1100 bales; greasy, 7¾d to 1s ½d.

Cape of Good Hope and Natal—600 bales, scoured, 1s to 1s 9½d; greasy, 8¼d to 11½d.

Buenos Ayres—400 bales, greasy, 8d to 11d.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS STEADY

Local Market for Cattle Remains About the Same.

The live stock market showed very little change, as compared with the first of the week. Cattle were fairly plentiful but there was very little choice stock offered. A few sold at around 5c, the most of the fine cattle selling from 4 to 4½c. Medium brought 3¼ to 3¾c, and common 2½ to 3c. Sheep sold around 4 to 4¼c, and lambs around 6c, a few probably bringing a little more. Calves ranged from 4 to 5c per lb. for good stock. Hogs were firm at 7 to 7¼c.

Bank of Hamilton Annual Meeting

Held 15th January, 1906.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS.

The Directors beg to submit their annual Report to the Shareholders for the year ended 30th November, 1905.

The Balance at credit of Profit and Loss Account, 30th November, 1904, was		$ 10,178.28
The profits for the year ended 30th November, 1905, after deducting charges of management and making provision for bad and doubtful debts, are		337,232.12
Premiums received on new Stock		265,421.00
		$602,870.40
From which have been declared:
Dividend 5 per cent., payable 1st June, 1905	$111,779.29
Dividend 5 per cent., payable 1st December 1905	119,940.38
	$231,719.67
Carried to Reserve Fund from Profits	$105,519.00
Carried to Reserve Fund from Premium on new stock as above	265,421.00
	$340,740.00
Allowance to ex-President authorized by the shareholders	5,000.00
	$577,459.67
Balance of Profit and Loss Carried Forward		$25,410.83

The Directors have pleasure in pointing out that, after paying the customary 10 per cent. dividend, they have been able to place to Reserve Fund, out of profits, the substantial sum of $135,000. The year's earnings are, in the opinion of the directors, very satisfactory, indeed, considering that out of the year's profits, the maximum estimated loss ($90,000), which the Bank has sustained by the embezzlement and forgeries of T. Hillhouse Brown, has been provided for.

The Directors beg to report that the progress of the Bank still continues in a marked degree, and that, while they had thought it prudent to open during the year a few new branches in Ontario and Manitoba, in recognition of the rapid development of the country, they have mostly confined themselves to the strengthening and building up of the business at the various points at which others had already been established. It is proposed, however, to ask of the Shareholders, at the Annual Meeting, power to increase the Capital of the Bank by $500,000, in order that the Directors, in case it becomes advisable, may be in a position thus to provide for the future growth of the Bank's business.

The Directors have noted the growing tendency on the part of Banks and other Corporations, to pay dividends quarterly, and believing that such a practice may become more or less general, have decided to adopt it and propose hereafter to declare dividends every three months.

WM. GIBSON,
President.

Bank of Hamilton, J. TURNBULL,
Hamilton, November 30, 1905. General Manager.

In moving the adoption of the annual report, Hon. Mr. Gibson said:

Gentlemen.—Your Board of Directors beg to express the pleasure they have in being able to present the report to the shareholders. During the whole history of the Bank, covering a period of 34 years, this year would have been the best and the most successful that we have ever enjoyed but for the unfortunate incident in connection with our east end branch in this city. Had that not occurred our net earnings would have been 19.20 per cent. on our capital, and notwithstanding that we had to make provision for that loss the net earnings of the year are 15.42. After deducting the loss of $90,000 already referred to, our earnings for the year are considerably greater than the average for the past ten years. In the period from 1875 to 1885, the rate of earnings was 10.1; 1885 to 1895, 11.03; 1895 to 1905, 13.98. I invite the attention of the shareholders to the fact that every dollar earned by the bank, except what has been carried to rest, has been paid to the shareholders, and that the misfortune of the past year in the east end branch is likely to fall on the employes more heavily than upon the shareholders, for, as you know, though the bank has had under consideration, and it is still its intention to establish a pension system, such has not yet been begun.

During the past year agencies have been opened at College and Ossington streets, Toronto; Toronto Junction, Carberry, Keeston and Killarney, Man.; Battleford, Sask.; and at Fernie, B.C. While we have been somewhat conservative in opening new branches we have been endeavoring to strengthen those where we already have agencies. It may be said that some of the places where we have opened branches are small in the matter of population, but it must be remembered that they are in growing centres, surrounded by rich country and that the prospect for increased business in the future is very bright. The directors have great faith in the country. I am very glad to notice that the Bank is popular with the investing public. Last year there were 645 shareholders on our books and this year the number is 713, showing that the stock in going into the hands of investors.

At the same time we have made 68 new friends for the bank.

By the report I have just read you will see that it is proposed to increase the capital stock by $500,000. During the last six months a quarter of a million dollars was taken up at a premium of 100 per cent. The same care will be exercised in issuing the new stock only as the business of the bank requires it.

Now in regard to the incident in the East End. Much comment and criticism have been indulged in. I had been away from the country at the time, but I want to say for the members of the Board that they acted like men in the best interest of the public and of the bank. The Board determined to give the public the result as soon as the result could be ascertained. Our inspection is as rigid as that of other banks. You can do something with the staff of the Bank when the agent is honest, but when the agent is not honest and adds forgery to his stealing, the bank is largely at his mercy. You have to trust the people employed by you, and we have to depend on the fidelity of our agents, and while one man has proven false, the 399 other employes of the bank have not, and we have confidence in them. You may say that the inspection is not rigid enough. I believe that you may have too much inspection. If you let an agent think that he is being spied upon he will probably sit and do nothing and your business is bound to suffer. Now, in regard to quarterly dividends I need not say much—they cannot come too often.

Mr. John Proctor seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

On motion of Mr. Samuel Barker, M.P., seconded by John A. Bruce, the following motion was unanimously carried:—

"That the thanks of this meeting be given to the President and

LABORITES DID NOT DO SO WELL.

Conan Doyle Among the Defeated—Dr. McNamara Again Successful.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

London, January 17.—Yesterday's election left the Chamberlain contingent complete control of all the Birmingham seats, of which there are seven. Not only did they win their own seats by an increased majority, but they secured the other divisions as well by a aggregate majorities of forty thousand, a result at any rate for the present unparalleled in the history of the city. The chief interest centered in the contest between Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Crosthwaite-Eyre, the Unionist candidate in Aston Manor. The latter polled only 7,201, against the 12,280 of Mr. Chamberlain. This is the fifth time Mr. Chamberlain has been returned with increased majorities. In 1900 he polled 6,790 votes more than his opponent, and in 1903 his majority was increased to 8,186. Mr. Crosthwaite-Eyre polled 1,015 votes more than the Unionist candidate in 1903, but the Liberal vote fell off 1,396. The Labor candidate came to third in Portsmouth with 4,122 votes, and in Wakefield second with 2,981, there being a Liberal in the field. In a three-cornered fight at Wigan Labor was also second, securing 7,296 votes.

Liberal gains to date aggregate 88; Conservatives, 2; Labor, 23. The standing now is: Liberals, [illegible]; Conservatives, 2; Nationalists, [illegible]; Labor, [illegible].

"FIRST CLUB GONE"— "BUSINESS HOUSE IN."

(Canadian Associated Press.)

London, January 18.—The Daily Mail in an editorial on the revolution in the political field, says:

"When the survivors of the Unionist wreck re-assemble in the House of Commons they will look upon a scene never hitherto witnessed in that august assembly. They will find the 'first club in Europe' gone and we hope that as a sequence the first business house in Europe will have taken its place."

Among other changes the Daily Mail notes the "great reduction of the power of railroad magnates and similar interests which hitherto have been overrepresented" and decline of "lustre of the magic letters 'M.P.' after the names on the prospectuses of company promoters."

The Morning Post says:

"Birmingham has begun the work of reconstruction. Joseph Chamberlain has proved beyond question that the British people demand from every one who submits himself to their choice a definite expression of convictions and not a theoretical exposition of the advantages of two-mindedness."

"AMERICAN WIFE" HELPED CHAMBERLAIN.

Special to the Montreal Star.

New York, January 18.—A New York American special says: "Chamberlain's victory here is due to three causes: weakness of Liberal candidate, Chamberlain's personal popularity, and splendid aid rendered him by his American wife, who was Miss Endicott, of Massachusetts. It has never been Chamberlain's custom to take personal part in his canvass, but the year's outlook was so ominous that his friends pressed him to visit the polls. Mrs. Chamberlain also insisted on encouraging him, and her decision bore splendid fruit. Everywhere her presence brought out the greatest enthusiasm and cheers for Mrs. Chamberlain were quite as frequent as those for the apostle of protection."

Nelson, B.C., January 18.—Fire in the residence of Henri Bourgeois last evening resulted in the death and burning of Bourgeois' two little boys, aged 5 and 4 months. The mother had stepped out for a moment, leaving the children asleep in bed. Mrs. Bourgeois rushed back to the house too late to save her children, whose burned bodies were discovered a few moments later, where the firemen had extinguished the flames. Fire is supposed to have originated from the explosion of the kerosene lamp. Damage to building, owned by J. L. Stocks, $1,000, covered by insurance. Contents total loss, uninsured. The Bourgeois' came here from St. Celestine, Que., last July.

More Terrible than War!

More terrible than war, famine or pestilence is that awful destroyer, that hydra-headed monster, Consumption, that annually sweeps away more of earth's inhabitants than any other single disease known to the human race.

"It is only a cold, a trifling cough," say the careless, as the irritation upon the delicate mucous membrane causes them to hack away with an irritable tickling of the throat. When the irritation settles on the mucous surface of the throat, a cough is the result. To prevent Bronchitis or Consumption of the lungs, do not neglect a cough however slight as the irritation spreading throughout the delicate lining of the sensitive air passages soon leads to fatal results. If on the first appearance of a cough or cold you would take a few doses of you would save yourself a great deal of unnecessary suffering. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains all the life-giving properties of the pine trees of Norway, and for Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all Throat and Lung affections it is a specific. Be sure when you ask for Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup to get it. Don't be humbugged into taking something else. Price 25 cts.

Miss Lena Johnston, Toledo, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for throat troubles after taking numerous other remedies, and I must say that nothing can take the place of it. I would not be without a bottle of it in the house."

LIFE POLICIES AND THE VARIOUS RISKS

Dr. F. G. Finley Reads Paper on Subject Before Insurance Institute.

CLERGYMEN HEAD THE LIST

Ministers Generally Classed as Best Risks by Insurance Companies—Mortality Among Lawyers.

"The Relation of Occupation to Life Insurance" was the subject of a paper read before the Insurance Institute on Tuesday by Dr. F. G. Finley. The lecturer pointed out that in dealing with the industrial classes as applicants for life insurance, the question of occupation was a very important one, as so many engaged in manual labor ran undue risks from accidents, and others were liable to contract diseases from special dangers connected with their work. Apart from the working classes, and the followers of a few dangerous trades, the question might be regarded as one of minor importance, and bankers, brokers, business men, clerks and professional men were accepted without reference to their special duties.

Many occupations were attended with very considerable risk, and the companies were careful in granting policies. Such trades as were refused by most companies were those engaged on large structures, sheriffs of explosives, aeronauts, divers, caisson workers, firemen, bridge builders engaged on large structures, sheriff, detectives and policemen, horse trainers and jockeys. In many offices an extra premium was regarded as a sufficient return for the risk of other occupations. The chief and sub-chiefs of the fire departments were charged extra, while the men were refused. Motormen and electric conductors, fishermen, boatmen, etc., all had to pay high rates for their insurance.

There were some occupations attended with a greater degree of longevity, and thus considered as gilt-edge from the insurance standpoint. Of these clergymen headed the list. In another list, that of Dr. Muirhead, the list of long livers was topped by those classed as peers, baronets, and of no profession, among whom heart disease was the chief cause of mortality. Compared with doctors and lawyers, the clergymen as long livers shows to great advantage. Ogle's figures of mortality are 106 for clergymen, 152 for lawyers, and 202 for doctors.

The high mortality among members of the legal profession is attributed to mental energy and strain, while the death rate among doctors is only exceeded by that of the notoriously unhealthy callings. A number of unfavorable circumstances may be regarded as leading to a high mortality among doctors, amongst them being mental strain and worry, disturbed nights, and exposure to the inclemencies of the weather.

Dr. Finley dealt with moral hazards and stated that those whose occupation required the handling or sale of alcohol were considered bad risks for insurance. Outdoor labor was also more healthy than indoor, while those demanding exposure to dust involved great risk. There were a number of employments involving exposure to poisonous substances, all tending to shorten life. Arsenic, mercury and phosphorus were given as examples.

While a general agreement exists that the followers of certain dangerous occupations should be debarred from the most favorable forms of life insurance, yet there are widely diverging methods adopted in practice. The habits of such individuals must be carefully considered, and if good, many of them may prove excellent risks. At the present time a classification of the increased risk in most occupations cannot be made on a mathematical basis owing to the varying environment, habits and other circumstances. The constant improvement of hygienic surroundings will doubtless, in the future, tend to lessen rather than increase the risk in occupations now classed as dangerous, and our point of view on such risks will change from time to time. Individual intelligence must also play a part in determining the risk of certain employments, and with the more general diffusion of education it will prove an easier task to overcome prejudice amongst workmen, and lead them to adopt necessary precautions.

Charged With Theft of Dress Goods.

The case of Charles Plante is before the court. He is accused of stealing a large quantity of linen and dress goods from a number of different stores towards the end of last year. Several people from whom the goods were taken came to the court and identified their lost possessions. A Hebrew, by the name of Livaye, is charged with receiving these stolen goods and of having paid Plante for them, giving him ridiculously small sums for articles of considerable value. He denied the charge and asserted that he had received the linen and dress goods for the purpose of pressing them.

Sues Mayor of Sault au Recollet.

O. Giroux, secretary-treasurer of the municipality of Sault au Recollet, has entered suit against Mr. Alphonse Pottras, mayor of the same town for $500 damages. The declaration filed by Mr. C. A. Parisesuit, acting for Mr. Giroux, sets forth that the mayor, in order to deprive the plaintiff of his position circulated false reports damaging to plaintiff's character, and made false statements against him before the other councillors.

Special Notice.

THE BARGAIN HUNTER.

A feature of the age is a bargain hunter. He is everywhere. So is she, it is curious though, how often they miss the very places where bargains might be most easily secured. It doesn't seem to enter into their heads that the best bargains can almost always be found in the leading stores rather than in the little shops. The big stores get a great quantity of used goods in part payment for new goods, and these they generally sell at a sacrifice in order to keep their floors clear of used goods, no matter how good they may be. For instance, we have at present a very fine rosewood Steinway piano for $210, payable $25 cash and $10 per month; a handsome pipe organ for $225, cash, with handsome blue and gold pipes, 8 stops and 1 octave of pedals; an almost new Chickering upright piano in a mahogany case for $350 on easy terms, and a Lindsay cabinet grand upright piano with every improvement, used less than three months, for $318, payable $10 cash and $6 per month. These are real bargains, not worn out stuff but practically new, and listen a moment longer, we are overcrowded with organs we have to soon get into our new building, and these organs must go even at cost. Prices from $35 upwards. Terms 50c per week upwards. Please come at once. C. W. Lindsay, Limited, 1568 St. Catherine street. 15 3

A SALE
THAT'S NOT A SALE
AND YET IT'S A SALE

TO GET a Slater man's shoe at 50c. less than its present price—that is a thing you never heard of. Just turn over a few of your memory pages, and try to recollect one case wherein the Slater shoe has been the feature of a fire sale, water sale or any kind of a sale. You can't recall one lonely case.

¶ The Slater is now fifty years old, and during that half century has stood as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar, for Standard Quality and Standard Price, and at the end of another half century, it will still be heard shouting, "Standard Quality and Standard Price."

¶ We are offering you to-day a lot of Slater men's shoes at 50c. less than their present price, but we're not cutting the price. We're offering you an honest bargain—a chance to save 50c. on a pair of the best men's shoes that ever came out of a shoe factory, but we're not cutting the price. We'll explain.

¶ The cost of every single solitary piece of material used in making shoes has advanced from 3 to 300 per cent during the past year.

¶ Here are a few convincing examples:

Shellac	300 per cent.	Sole leather	25 per cent.
Wax finishing	40 per cent.	Counter "	25 per cent.
Blacking	25 per cent.	Heels and Toe piece leather	25 per cent.
Dressings	25 per cent.	Inner Soles	25 per cent.
Upper leather	20 per cent.

¶ What does this mean? It means that the present cost of making the $3.50 shoe of one year ago quality is 50c. per pair higher. We could, but won't, bore you with details. No shoe manufacturer to-day, whatever may be his experience and genius, can give the $3.50 quality of one year ago and reap therefrom one red copper cent of profit. He can make a $3.50 shoe, but at present he can't make the $3.50 shoe of one year ago quality; sell it at $3.50, and make one cent of profit. What then must he do? He must do one or the other of the two things.

¶ If he wishes to continue the popular $3.50 price, and make a profit, he's got to break faith with the public; he's got to deceive the public; he's got to lower the quality of his shoes 50c's worth, and make the public think he's giving them the $3.50 quality of one year ago. He can cut the quality easily. By using sheep skin and other inferior leathers in the uppers, he can save 25c.; by using shoddy counters, cheap welts, canvass or shoddy toe stiffening, shoddy heels, cheap insoles, worthless thread and patent filling for the soles and heels, he can save another 25c.; and when skilled hands have put this cheap stuff together and have cunningly bathed it in black paint and polish veneer, you'll never know, till old Doctor Wear shouts the truth.

¶ On the other hand, if the manufacturer wishes to keep the public's faith and confidence, if he wishes to be honest and sincere, if he wishes to give the public the $3.50 quality of a year ago, he must add 50c. to the retail price to cover the advanced cost of raw material.

¶ The Slater Shoe Co. has been on the honest side of the shoe fence for fifty years, and it's not going to switch at this fork in the road. It's going to keep the confidence of the hundreds of thousands of Slater patrons. It's not going to cut 50c. from the vital strain points (the only points that can be cut), and thereby reduce wear strength 100 per cent. It's going to add the 50c.; it's going to raise its $3.50 shoe for men to $4.00; it's going to keep the quality just where it has kept it for 50 years; it's going to continue giving you the Standard Slater $3.50 shoe of one year ago quality, but that shoe is going to cost you $4.00 henceforth, because no living shoe maker can make it for one paltry penny less.

¶ Now, Mr. Wearer, don't get deceived; don't allow the skillful advertisements of crafty shoe manufacturers to persuade you that they haven't changed quality or price; that this advance in Canada is a thing exclusively "Slater", and that the Slater Shoe Co. is merely striving to boost its price to rake in more profit. The necessity of an advance in shoe prices has been heralded throughout the length, breadth and thickness of the land. Here are a few examples:—

¶ Foot Wear Fashion, one of the leading Boston shoe organs, says in regard to the advanced price of raw material:

"The shoe manufacturer must skin the shoe, raise the price or loose money."

¶ The Montreal Gazette says:

"Boots and shoes advance. Quebec manufacturers announce increases on all lines."

¶ Most shoe manufacturers are not tenderfeet—don't you think it. Many of them fear to come out frankly and flatfootedly, and stand fearlessly on the firing-line for a $4.00 shoe. They fear heavy loss in patronage should they raise the price. So instead of advertising one price,—$3.50, as of old, they're now foxily advertising two prices—$3.50 and $4.00. The $3.50 shoe is supposed to be the $3.50 quality of a year ago, but they don't say so; and the $4.00 shoe is alluringly paraded before the public as a "Custom Grade", "Bench-made", "Gilt Edge", etc. shoe. Now, Mr. Wearer, don't get "taken in". That $3.50 shoe is the $3.00 quality of one year ago, and that $4.00 shoe, with the high-sounding appellation, is the $3.50 quality of one year ago. If you don't think so, try a few pair, and old Doctor Wear will out with the truth.

¶ The Slater Shoe Co. has deferred its advance for more than a year, hoping materials would recede to the old normal prices, but instead they've soared higher and higher, and profits have dropped lower and lower, until necessity has forced the tacking on of the fifty.

¶ Now, Mr. Wearer, let's get down to the vital point of this advertisement.

¶ The $3.50 quality of a year ago is from now on to cost $4.00. No matter how the shoes are branded—Slaters, or otherwise—no matter how nice the paint and polish veneer may look, no matter how much hot air the maker and retailer may deliver you, you've got to pay $4.00 for the $3.50 quality of one year ago, and don't you forget it.

¶ We've a large number of Slaters, bought under the old price-conditions, and branded, on the linings and soles, $3.50. These shoes are left over from our last fall stock. You can readily see that we should get rid of them immediately. If we continue them in stock with our new $4.00 shoes, we'll be selling some Slaters at $3.50, and some at $4.00. This would immediately excite distrust, and shake confidence. It would convey the impression that the Slater is not a standard-price shoe, as claimed in its advertisements, and that we're not a standard-price store. It would break down the standing and reputation of the Slater shoe, as the shoe of Standard Quality and Standard Price—a reputation which the Slater Shoe Co. has spent fifty years, and hundreds of thousands of dollars, to establish. You probably never realised the full meaning and value of a reputation for Standard Quality and Standard Price. If not, just ask yourself why you buy Slater shoes, and you'll find yourself answering:

"Because they keep up their quality to the highest standard, and
"there's no danger of a retailer sticking me on the price, as he
"must sell at the price prescribed, advertised, and branded on the "sole by the Slater Shoe Co.

¶ If we should shake confidence in the Slater Standard-Quality Standard-Price policy, we'd almost be unable to sell a single Slater Shoe within so short a period as thirty days, and you can rest assured we're not going to do it, and we couldn't if we wanted to, as our contract with the Slater Shoe Co. is iron-clad against price-cutting.

¶ We're going to clear out these $3.50 Slaters immediately, by heavy advertising, but not by price-cutting. Far be it. We're offering you to-day the unusual chance, and the last chance, to save 50c. on a pair of Slater shoes. There'll never be another such chance unless the price is raised again. We dislike to shout the favourite expression of the cheap sale-stores' visible "Last Chance", "Positively Last Appearance", etc., but if you'll reflect just a moment, you'll realise that we're actually offering you an unusual chance, and in all probability a last chance, to save 50c. on a pair of Slater men's shoes.

¶ Neither are we fond of such phrases as "Come early and avoid the rush", but we are advertising heavily, and anticipate that the normal sizes and popular shapes will be sold quickly.

P.S.—Please understand that in every particular—style, fit and wear—these $3.50 shoes are precisely the same shoes we'll soon be selling at $4.00. They were made during the past year at practically no profit to the Slater Shoe Co. They're not ancients, nor remnants, nor worthless stock, but what we have left of our last fall stock, and we can fit you in almost any style, shape and size.

P.S. again.—A man who wears one pair of shoes constantly will always have slouchy-looking shoes. Keep one pair on your feet, and a few pairs on shoe trees; switch from feet to trees daily, and you'll have more handsome extremities

THE EMBARGO ON CATTLE.

Chambre de Commerce Asks for the Reasons of Its Enactment.

The British embargo against Canadian cattle was taken up again by the Chambre de Commerce at its regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon. A resolution asking the Imperial Government to declare the reasons which prompts such action, was passed, the resolution being as follows:—

Be it resolved:—That in face of such a deplorable situation for Canada, which is so prejudicial to her interests, the Imperial Government be respectfully invited to make an official declaration as to the reasons which prompt the maintenance of its regulations touching Canadian cattle.

That this official declaration is all the more necessary from the fact that if the embargo is maintained because of a change in the fiscal system of the United Kingdom, Canada and other colonies may be induced to modify the regime of favors which they are according or propose to accord to said United Kingdom.

On the other hand, that if these restrictions are enforced simply in the belief that Canadian cattle is really or is suspected of being a source of danger, the principle of equity would demand, as satisfaction to Canada, that a commission of doctors, and veterinary experts be appointed, the same composed of persons chosen in the United Kingdom, Canada, and the other self-governing colonies, who will investigate the subject and whose investigations will determine the maintenance or the repeal of the present restrictions on Canadian cattle.

Whereas, one of the chief industries of Canada is the raising and exporting of live stock.

Whereas, the raising of cattle from Canada has been forbidden in the United Kingdom for several years past and that said cattle have to be killed within ten days following their arrival in Great Britain under the pretext of being stricken with or suspected of having contagious diseases, although minute and repeated examinations have refuted this affirmation.

Whereas, this condemnation of Canadian cattle, coming from such high authority, brings very considerable harm to Canada and greatly prejudices the reputation of one of its most progressive and lucrative industries.

Whereas, the countries of continental Europe, which are rightly interested in protecting themselves against the scourge of bovine diseases, have not imposed a similar embargo on Canadian cattle, their entry being free in those states.

Whereas, the solidarity which unites all sections of the Empire exacts that none of their productions and industries shall be abased and decried unjustly.

Calvary Congregational Church.

The annual meeting of the members of Calvary Congregational Church was held last night, and was taken up principally with the election of church officers for the coming year. So That You Can See the Price Gain On the Instant

All January "Sale Prices" are marked in plain figures. The lack of room in the store prevents display of all the bargains, just as the limited space in the newspapers obliges us to confine our daily money-saving stories to one or two representatives from each department. The choice of these never so big as it will be to-morrow at 8 a.m.

This is one of the best

FORCING THE ISSUE ON TEMPERANCE

Doran Lays Down as Part of Programme Stricter Observance of License Regulations

WANTS HOURS OF SALE CUT

His Meeting in St. Henri Last Night —The Progress of Mayoralty Campaign.

Mr. W. E. Doran brought his heavy artillery into play last night when he addressed a large meeting of the electors of St. Henri, in the old town hall. It was a big meeting. There were over 1500 people in the hall, many being turned away.

Mr. Doran made a presentation of his claims to office, chief among which was the argument that it was the turn of an Irish Roman-Catholic to receive the honor. He is out strong for the shutting out of all unlicensed places, and of the resorts where liquor is sold at any time of any day; and he has declared himself the advocate of earlier closing, and a stricter enforcement of the license regulations. In fact, Mr. Doran has a modified temperance programme, and he regards temperance questions as vital issues of the contest.

Mr. N. Trudel presided over the meeting, and among those who had come to support Mr. Doran, were Mr. Letourneau, advocate, Mr. Robert Bickerdike, M. P., and Mr. Alex McFee.

Mr. Doran regards a visit to St. Henri as more or less a homecoming, for he built many of its buildings, and was long identified with the town. In regard to Ald. Ekers' contention that the fact of a man being an Irishman did not qualify him for the position of mayor, he admitted that the French-Canadians, owing to the vast preponderance of their numbers, were alone entitled to the mayoralty chair, but they had always treated the English-speaking minority with generosity, and according to the usage that had long pertained, it was now the turn of an Irish Roman Catholic to be mayor representing a minority within that minority. It was his own conviction that the majority of Protestant citizens had no desire to deprive the Irish Catholics of this their privilege.

MR. DORAN'S PROGRAMME.

Coming to questions of municipal politics, he promised to work for a readjustment of the water rates with a view to lightening the burden for people of small means. What had Ald. Ekers' done, he asked, in this respect? As mayoralty candidate he promised much, but as alderman and as Finance Committee chairman, what had Ald. Ekers done towards lowering the water rates? The aldermanic contention that the revenue would be insufficient if the rates were cut was scoured by Mr. Doran.

"With economy, the revenue will be sufficient," he declared.

Better observance of the license regulations, the closing of all unlicensed places and shorter hours for the sale of liquor were then of the planks in a platform of modified temperance that Mr. Doran laid down. He emphasized the importance of this issue, and advocated early closing on Saturday evenings and a complete stoppage of the sale of liquor on Sunday.

"TO USE STRONG HANDS.

"There is no use saying it cannot be done. With vigilance and care, all unlicensed places could be shut up and the licensed hours could be made to conform strictly with the regulations," he said.

Mr. Doran referred to a meeting held on Tuesday night for the purpose of discussing the prosecution of wholesalers who supplied unlicensed places, and at which Mr. Eugene Lafontaine was appointed one of a committee to visit upon the Archbishop.

Mr. Lafontaine was one of Ald. Ekers' supporters, and he favored this policy; but would Ald. Ekers go the same length. Considering his own policy, he could not be surprised at opposition from people in the liquor business, and he instanced the Tammany chief, Mr. "Larry" Wilson.

What some people appeared to regard as a disgrace had been thrown at his head,—the fact that he was a member of the Harbor Commission. Mr. Doran preferred to leave politics out of the fight, but he could not deny that he was proud of being a Laurier member of the Commission, instead of being ashamed of it. Important reforms had been effected since his advent to the board, and the workingmen's interests had been given great attention.

In conclusion, Mr. Doran pledged himself to strong efforts for the reduction of the price of gas and the cheapening of the electric light.

MR. DORAN'S SUPPORTERS.

Mr. Letourneau, advocate, who followed Mr. Doran, called him the workingman's candidate, and urged that he had the necessary courage and stamina to fight the trusts.

Mr. Robert Bickerdike, M.P., and Mr. Alex. McFee supported Mr. Doran's candidature on the following grounds, though Mr. McFee is a Conservative, while the candidate is a strong Liberal. He was an honest man, a most important qualification in a mayor—because, by an unwritten law (la entente cordiale) it was the right of an Irish Roman Catholic to be the next mayor, and because they considered that a violation of this understand would be a dangerous precedent. The election of their friend meant, moreover, a better water supply. In their opinion, the city in this respect was in a worse position than Westmount. An improvement in the quality of the water supplied the city could be easily managed by extending the intake pipe to Heron Island. They both wished to bear testimony to Mr. Doran's usefulness on the Harbor Board.

The last speaker, Dr. Leonard, of Ste. Cunegonde, declared it to be the duty of French-Canadian to vote for Mr. Doran in view of the understanding with regard to the mayoralty.

BUSINESS MEN'S CANDIDATES.

Mr. John Hyde, secretary of the Business Men's Committee for the municipal elections writes as follows: "As there seems to be some misunderstanding as to who are the candidates who were endorsed at the Business Men's meeting, held recently in the Board of Trade rooms as aldermen for St. Andrew's Ward, I beg to say that Ald. George W. Sadler and Joseph Ward are the nominees for Seats Nos. 1 and 2 respectively. It has also been stated that Mr. Henry Hamilton, intended being a candidate, but this is not a fact as the gentleman, whom I understand is contemplating a contest, is Mr. Fred Hamilton, formerly a city assessor."

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Mr. Daniel Furlong, aldermanic candidate in St. Louis ward, has announced his retirement in favor of Dr. Gadbois.

A requisition has been presented to Mr. Edward Latreille, contractor, to come out against Ald. N. Lechair in St. Jean Baptiste ward. It is expected that Mr. Latreille will accept the candidature.

A meeting will be held in St. Jean Baptiste Market Hall in Ald. Ekers' interests to-night. Among those who will speak, in addition to the candidate himself, will be Mr. L. T. Marechal, K.C.

A gathering of the electors of St. Louis ward at 1711 St. Catherine street was addressed by Dr. J. P. Gadbois last night, the candidate for seat No. 2. He severely criticised Ald. Lennon's programme, terming it a plea in favor of the Montreal Gas Company, and he also scored his opponent for alleged patronage in the reorganization of the civic law department.

Loss of Power To Digest Food

The most important function of the organs of the body is the digestion and assimilation of food, and in this process is consumed an enormous quantity of nervous energy.

As the result the moment disorders of the nerves arise, digestion is impaired and the very source of health, strength and vitality interfered with.

To prevent physical bankruptcy the nervous system must be built up by outside aid, such as the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, a preparation composed of the very elements of nature which go to form new blood and nerve cells.

Besides this restorative influence on the whole system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has an immediate and direct effect on the digestive system. It stimulates the nerves of taste and induces a good flow of saliva to aid digestion. It excites the glands of the stomach and produces a plentiful supply of gastric digestive fluids. The congregation of St. Gabriel's Presbyterian Church held their annual meeting last night, to hear the report for the year. It showed that the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Robert Campbell, had during the past year married 14 couples, officiated at 18 burials, and baptized 14 children. The gain in membership for the period amounted to 24. Reports were submitted from the kirk session, board of trustees, the treasurer, the chairman of the Purchase and Interest Fund Committee, the Sabbath school, the missionary society, Young People's Association, Ladies' Aid Society, Women's Auxiliary Missionary Society, and Young Men's Association, all of which were of a very satisfactory character. Rev. Dr. Campbell presided, and Mr. J. T. Adamson acted as secretary.

EVERYTHING REDUCED.

Enthusiasm is at white heat at the dry goods store of Messrs. Jas. A. Ogilvy & Sons, St. Catherine street west corner of Mountain street, account of the enormous reductions made on all white goods. In fact everything in the store is subject to very large reductions. A comprehensive list of good values will be found in their announcement on page 11 of this issue of the Star.

THE MYSTERIOUS MR. LADD HAS THE MOST EXCITING DAY YET

He Visits Half a Dozen of the Big Stores and Does Everything to Attract Attention but Label Himself as the Mysterious Ladd.

(By The Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd.)

Three distinguishing incidents are features of The Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd's trip about town yesterday, viz.:

The reported diamond robbery, and a most curious coincidence connected with it, in a visit I made to Cochenhaler's diamond store.

A cabby drove the Mysterious Mr. Ladd about town for half an hour and received a marked dollar bill to drove it.

Three men and two clerks at Birks' jewellery store on St. Catherine street at 1.45 p.m. yesterday, watched the Mysterious Mr. Ladd very closely for several minutes, and within my hearing commented on how closely the object of their surveillance resembled Ladd. And after all they permitted me to walk out without any interruption.

Other incidents of the day were my interview with Mr. Ogilvy, the veteran merchant, and my handing to the cashier in the lunch room at Carsley's store, on St. James street, a check with my name on it.

I also visited Hamilton's department store, Tooke, the haberdasher, both on St. Catherine street, and Bennett, the florist, back to Stair Branch No. 1.

It was my SIXTEENTH DAY at large in Montreal, and as has always been the case I was in no way disguised or "made-up."

My first venture of the day was to drop into Cochenhaler's on St. James street, near The Star office about half-past ten o'clock. I knew that the clerks in the big stores are on the lookout for The Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd, and that it had been considered almost impossible for me to go to Cochenthaler's without getting caught so strictly is watch being kept there.

So I was determined to adopt the best expedient that presented itself to me and take my chances. It was absolutely necessary to get in and out of Cochenthaler's as quickly as possible, not forgetting to make my visit so conspicuous that the clerks could not possibly forget it. I must create a sensation there in some way.

But I calculated that my greatest danger lay in getting through the Old Guard, which has its pickets all along St. James street, from St. Lawrence Hall to McGill street, not to consider the additional danger incurred in passing the lookouts in the several stores and cafes I have visited along that street. That I did not over-estimate the danger has been proven time and again by the number of men who have been intercepted day after day in that locality.

So the first thing I did was to plan the role of a man who has been robbed of a diamond, and being on his way to notify the police, stops at Cochenthaler's to prepare them for the possible emergency of the felon who has taken the alleged diamond, offering it for sale there. Under such conditions what more natural than a greatly excited caller jumping out of a sleigh rushing in to give warning and out again to the sleigh, then being whirled away. The incident of a reported diamond robbery would be sufficiently impressive to emphasize the visit of The Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd.

Well, it worked like a charm. It is really the most comical of all of my experiences in Montreal. But what amuses me the most of all is that I had three of the clerks in the store chasing me out to the sleigh.

And what is still more curious is that before I called a party had really been in Cochenthaler's and offered a diamond for sale. It is a remarkable coincidence, too, that the size of the diamond was exactly the same as my fictitious diamond was represented to be—which was given on the spur of the moment by the lady who accompanied me. The scheme I concocted only an hour before I put it through, and no one else knew about it in advance.

I hired the sleigh at McGill College entrance and drove to the residence of the lady I desired to take with me. She had no intimation that I was to call for her. She had never seen me until I rang her door bell. She is the wife of the only individual in Montreal who has been the means of daily communication between me and my employer.

In ten minutes she was ready, and we were quickly off for the sleigh ride, the driver taking us through Park avenue, Bleury and St. Peter streets, where he turned into St. James street. In front of the Star office we passed considerable of a crowd watching the bulletins. My companion called my attention to a bulletin headed "The Mysterious Mr. Ladd." Then the sleigh had come to a stop in front of Cochenthaler's.

The driver started to get off his seat, but I didn't wait. I threw open the gate, jumped out, and, as we had planned while coming down, I turned as though to address my companion, who replied so those standing by would hear her:

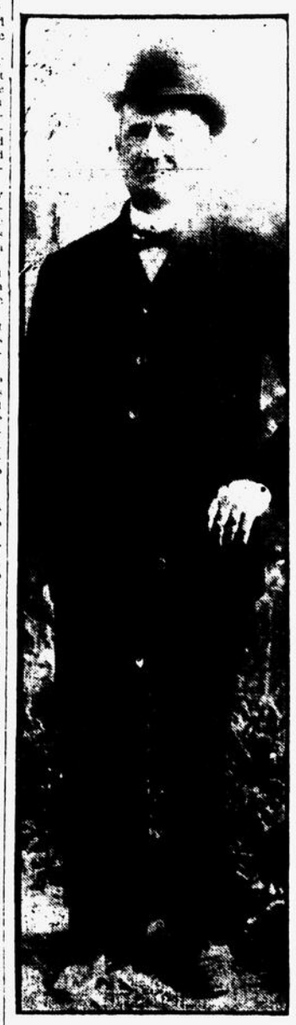

"Don't keep me waiting, Edward."

I think I trotted into the store. I gave myself no time to inventory the people there. I thought two customers stood at my left and one or two clerks toward the rear. I believe there were three clerks at my right. To the latter I addressed what I had to say. I had sprung into the store so hurriedly—always thinking of the pickets on the street—that everyone there turned and looked at me.

"Where is Mr. Cochenthaler," I said in an agitated way, going part way back in the store.

One of the clerks at my right started to follow me, saying: "Mr. Cochenthaler is out now." Then I turned to him and said:

"If any one comes in here with a diamond to sell, detain him. I suspect for a moment, but no more," spoke. Then I added: "I cannot explain more now. I may return. I must go to the police." What the clerk said to me I do not know. I opened the door and passed out of it leisurely, closed it behind me and was quickly into the sleigh.

The driver closed the gate and I said, "To Ogilvy's as fast as you can." He started to turn the rig when I saw the clerk who had talked to run out bareheaded. I thought the end of The Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd was at hand. He held in his hand a paper of some sort. I could not say that it was a newspaper. I thought at first it was. Before he got across the walk I saw that it was not. I then saw two other clerks come out bareheaded. The first one had reached the sleigh and exclaimed:

"What is the size of that diamond?" I hesitated. "How many karats?" he added. Then the second clerk, a much smaller man, repeated the request. I was trying to fix upon a reasonable size diamond, and I heard the one who spoke last say:

"A party was in here this morning offering a diamond."

I have no more proof now than to run in karats this size," I said. In my perplexity I turned to the lads at my side. She was prompt in replying. It was woman's wit.

"Two karats," she said.

Then straining as it may seem, the smaller sized clerk said:

"That was the size of the diamond offered here this morning."

"To police headquarters," I shouted to the driver. He whipped his horse and as we were saying good-by from the curb my companion said:

"To Ogilvy's."

As we were bumping along over rough boulevards on St. James street, I remarked to her that I had to ask her lips to say "2 karats." She quickly replied:

"If you had done so they would have known at once it was a fake."

Later I learned that the detectives had got the name of the lady who was with me.

At Ogilvy's after the cabby had waited a few moments I went out and dismissed him. He had said he would charge me 75 cents, but I gave him a dollar bill. The letters appear in the four corners on the green side of the bill. It is a Dominion of Canada bill. No. 141928, Ottawa, March 31, 1898."

We met Mr. Ogilvy in the store and he took us to the hosiery counter. I had a long conversation with him. Among other things I told him he was spry for his age. He said he would be seventy years old next month. I talked with him on three different occasions while were were in the store. The second time we met he said inquiring if "you are not of Montreal?" I replied "I have been here only a short time." Then he told me about the time he was promoted to second manager of a store, being then all I understood him, 17 years old. I had said to him that the tall clerk who had sold us hosiery was declaring in response to my questions that she preferred to keep busy during hours. And she is always busy," was his reply. That young lady, who wore blue glasses and was dressed in black, will remember that I chaffed her considerably about keeping busy.

We visited the upper floors to give the clerks there the chance to meet The Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd. In the ribbon wear department a lady of medium height were a heliotrope colored bonnet which I admired, and which she took off to show me.

At the clerk we met in the same department I addressed saying: "I want to buy nothing. I simply wanted the lady (my companion) to show me the pretty clerks in the store." She blushed!

When we went out Mr. Ogilvy was behind a counter with two or three clerks. I reached over and shook him by the hand.

"Call again," he said cheerily.

"I hope to," I replied.

We walked directly down to Tooke's. I bought collars of a clerk there. He will remember me for I mentioned the word love and told him I thought he had been through that experience. He laughed it off. I persisted saying, "your satisfied look makes me think you have been married." When he made out the price check he wrote:

20 minus 5—20

I told him he had knocked off five cents for the jollying I had given him. He said they were allowing a discount.

We then crossed the street into Hamilton's and went down stairs, looking over the display of dishes. We talked with a little clerk who had pretty teeth. We then went up to the second floor. I priced men's night-dresses and insisted on buying a woolen one with very gaudy colors, which the clerk, a short, stout built man, said he didn't have. The lady with me bought a veil. I picked up the clerk's check to mistake. She gave me the right one. I have it now. It is marked:

Bought of No 7 Amt Rec'd 25
Sales No 16 Dept 20 or No 1 cannot make it out
No $2021.

A clerk, probably 26 years old watched me closely there. He stood opposite where we purchased the veil.

We went down to Bennett, the florist on Peel street where I purchased two carnations and got telephone connection with the Star. Then we waited in Gougeon's grocery on Dorchester street for a car. We took a Park and Hall car 501 conducted by 2428 and got off at the corner of St. James and McGill st. On the car, sitting opposite us, was a gentleman wearing a red cockade accompanied by two ladies. They had a splendid specimen of what I called a Boston Bull dog. The incident and one of the ladies gave the clerks scrutiny several times. The lady with me also observed it.

We overheard them say they were going to Carsley's, where we were all bound to get luncheon.

We walked through McGill and Notre Dame streets to that corner passing Mr. Cooper of The Star, as my companion informed me, and entered Carsley's taking the elevator to the east store to the lunch room. There we got seats at a table with a young lady about in the middle of the room. The check which I received to pay for our luncheon will identify the girl who waited upon us. It is marked:

No 22.14 Waitress 16
2 date January 15 Total Amt 70

When I paid the cashier I gave her the check and she will find by looking at it that I had printed in lead pencil across the top LADD.

When we entered the restaurant we passed two men and a young lady at a table. The latter wore a brown costume. She was a blonde. Both of us observed that she gave me a searching look. Afterwards we saw that a young man at the table up in the corner near the front and two girls, all of whom are employed in the restaurant scrutinized me with a show of much interest. The scrutiny that one or two ladies eating at a table near us, gave me, also drew our attention. They were costumed in red. The waitress evidently had no suspicion. She got "consolation money."

When we returned to the main floor we stopped to see the clerk who, when I previously visited Carsley's store had plainly shown his suspicions of me. After he was forcibly reminded of my identity by many acquaintances of his, as well as by what I had written. When we stopped at his counter, yesterday, my features were not changed by any make-up, whatever. I was dressed differently, that was all. And although I talked with him, he did not appear to remember me. He will recall the lady and gentleman who examined navy blue beaver, insisting that it was Melton. He will also recall the joke he got off. I said the cloth must be black. No, it was navy blue and he placed it beside a black piece of cloth to show us the difference. As we turned away he remarked with a laugh: "It is not so much blue as to give any one who wears it the blues." We passed the clerk who, on my previous visit sold me a handkerchief and went out into St. James street. We walked west to St. Peter, where we crossed the street and continued along to McGill street on the north side of St. James street. We passed the lookouts at Alexanders, Hannan's and Campbell's. Then we walked up to St. Catherine street, passing several parties who we both noticed, were observing me closely, and entered Birks' jewellery store at the entrance from the side street. At a counter opposite that entrance I called for ladies' rings. I objected to diamonds, saying that I wouldn't have one that cost less than $250, and got him to show me turquoise. Finally I selected one with the understanding that if I did not call for it by 3 o'clock I would not be compelled to take it. He said he would lay it aside. On a box he wrote the name I gave him.

HENRY LODE.

What street and number, he asked. Oh put down Sherbrooke, was my reply. Never mind the number. If I take the ring I will call for it.

Three men stood in front of the show case at my left and one or two clerks behind it. The word "Ladd" spoken by one of them attracted my attention. I looked up in an apparently unconcerned manner, and my eyes met those of a large built man with no beard. Then I saw all in the group looking at me. I heard some one say:

It's like him.

Then again I heard another say: He's still out."

I could get no connection between these fragments of their conversation for that was all I heard. But my name spoken by one of them and their attention as I could see, being directed upon me, left no doubt in my mind of my dangerous position. So we walked out of the St. Catherine street entrance but before leaving the store we stopped to examine some very pretty brooches.

A short time after I got under cover, believing that I had left sufficient additional tracks to dispose of any doubt as one may possibly have that the Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd is around the city in person endeavoring to get people to catch him. The aggregate of rewards for my capture has now reached the handsome sum of $250.

CHIEF OF PROVINCIAL DETECTIVES M'CASKILL. GRABBED AS MR. LADD.

Mr. K. P. McCaskill, the Chief of the Provincial Detective Force, had but hours just before the Star went to press yesterday of being taken for the Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd.

He was talking to a member of the Star editorial staff on St. James street, not far from the Star office, when Mr. Fred. Cushing came up to the couple, and, addressing the newspaper man, said: "Of course you are Mr. so and so, and then, pointing at Mr. McCaskill, said: "And you are the Star's Mysterious Mr. Ladd."

Mr. McCaskill laughed it off, and said: "You will never get him unless you use the proper formula. Have you got a Star with you?"

Mr. Cushing would not be shaken off, and when Mr. McCaskill said he was compelled to go, because he had business elsewhere, Mr. Cushing clung to him and called to a big man in a khaki overcoat with big brass buttons, whom he evidently knew, to help him see that the supposed Mr. Ladd did not escape.

They followed Mr. McCaskill into the International office, and across St. James street, quite a crowd following them, and they protested all the time that they would not let Mr. McCaskill go till they had secured a Star.

It was only when Dr. J. D. Cameron, who happened to be on St. James street, Capt. Williams, the gentleman who came so near to capturing Mr. Ladd, and some other acquaintances of both Mr. Cushing and Mr. McCaskill came to the rescue that Mr. Cushing and his companion agreed to let Mr. McCaskill go in peace.

Mr. Cushing, not knowing Mr. McCaskill, was to an extent justified in holding him up, as there is a general resemblance between that gentleman and Mr. Ladd.

The strangest part of it all was, however, that although a number of friends assured Mr. Cushing that he was wrong, he only became the more convinced that he was right, the more he thought it over, and half an hour afterwards, when he saw Mr. McCaskill again, he grabbed him once more, and insisted on his going into the Star office to be identified.

Mr. McCaskill, thinking it was better to humor him came followed by a large crowd, which created quite a commotion in the Star business office.

OTTAWA AND MONTREAL CLASH ON SATURDAY.

The Stanley Cup holders make their initial bow before the Montreal public this year in their game against the winged wheel bunch on Saturday night. Mr. Potter's dark horses have been putting in some hard faithful training, and bid fair to give the Ottawa boys a good run for their money. With Brophy in the nets there is not much danger of Ottawa running up a very enormous score, and Sargent and Coulson have worked up some very pretty combination work in the centre.

Desse Brown will play in Doctor Cameron's place at cover; Meldrum will be at his old stand at point, while the other forwards will probably be Small and Mason.

HYOMEI CURES CATARRH

Its Healing Balsams Kill All Catarrhal Germs.

There is no more common disease than catarrh and none that is more dangerous. It weakens and debilitates the whole system, if it is allowed to run, leads to serious and sometimes fatal complications.

No dangerous drugs are taken into the stomach when Hyomei is used. Breathed through the small pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, its healing balsams penetrate to the most remote cells of the throat, nose and lungs, killing the germs of catarrh, healing the irritated mucous membrane and making complete and lasting cures.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of an inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1. The inhaler will last a lifetime, while extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured, whenever needed, for only 50 cents.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid on receipt of price. Write to-day for a free sample bottle and consultation blank that will entitle you to services of my medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N.Y.
