VOL. VIII., NO. 13. WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1937 PRICE: TWO CENTS

Improve Property Lovell C. Carroll Urges Rotarians

"Home Improvement Plan vs. Dole, Taxes and the 'isms' Was Topic of Address at Luncheon Meeting Wednesday—Speaker Introduced by Rotarian C. E. Medlar, Thanked by Wilf. Spearman—Carnival Plans Complete

Addressing members of the Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday at their regular weekly meeting in Victoria Hall Lovell C. Carroll, advoctae, local resident and one-time candidate for the Quebec Legislature in this division, stressed the fine points of the Home Improvement Plan and urged that every home owner improve his property under the plan and recommend to his neighbour to do the same.

Deploring the present system of government 'of the poor, by the clever, for the rich', Mr. Carroll recommended the Home Improvement Plan as one way out of our present economic difficulties and advocated it as an alternative for increased dole, taxes and the 'isms'.

Intervention

In part he said: "No one can deny that the day has come when governmental intervention is necessary. Laissez-faire has gone for ever. The doctrine is—are we going to accept one of the 'isms with their doctrine that democracy as we practice it is one of government of the poor, by the clever, for the rich, and or are we going to reform and renovate capitalism? We cannot accept either of the totalitarian state systems; Fascism with its corporate state, ruthless treatment of minorites or dissentients, or Communism with its doctrine of placing everything in a common pot. I often wish that we could take a gang of these very learned but theoretical gentry called C.C.F.'ers through many of our industrial establishments, refineries, breweries, phone exchanges, textiles and banks and let them appreciate what a delicate finely organized scientific system modern capitalism is, despite its abuses. Nor can we accept money tampering — an Aberhart who wants to issue new money against the resources of Canada, blindly forgetting that these resources, insofar as they have been developed, have already money or debts existing against them and any doubling would spell but disastrous inflation.

"What then is left? The answer must be a reformed, controlled capitalism in which the rights of labor and capital find an equal protection. But, until our legislators straighten out constitutional difficulties and bring down sane and sound legislation, are we going to sit back, let the dole and taxes rise, face sit-down strikes, labor unrest, and, what is worst, the slow moral degeneration of young men and women who can find no useful place in society.

"The Home Improvement Plan faces this problem squarely. If whole-heartedly supported by businessmen and citizens like you it should be of immense advantage, taking men off the dole, lightening taxes, providing better homes and buildings. If you don't get behind it you face the other alternatives I have mentioned. The plan of course, is just a beginning of housing and other schemes which the government have in mind to loosen the inertia still existing in the present systems.

"Apart from the social value in giving employment, reducing taxes and staving off revolution, consider the selfish view-point. Your property is greatly increased in value. If you rent it, the increase in rent alone will take care of the monthly payments. Materials cost less now than they will. Deterioration will cost you more in the long run than repairs now."

Mr. Carroll then explained the plan in detail.

In conclusion he stated:—

"If, as I believe, it is true that

Shortage Of Skilled Men Is Foreseen

Ex-Alderman Major J. Colin Kemp Discusses Home Improvement Plan at Advertising Club Luncheon

Major J. Colin Kemp, former Westmount alderman and now executive director of the Home Improvement Plan's executive, addressed members of the Advertising Club of Montreal at their luncheon in the Mount Royal Hotel on Wednesday.

"The object of the Plan is twofold," Major Kemp told his hearers. "First it is aimed at the relief of unemployment in the building industry and trades, which has been very serious of late years, and it has opened the advantages of time-payment for repairs to dwellings, an advantage not previously available.

"The first job of those who wish to put over the Home Improvement plan," declared Major Kemp, "is to persuade property owners to delay no longer, but to put their houses in order now. The Home Improvement Plan has placed repair and modernization within the reach of every home owner."

"In the United States" went on Major Kemp, "it is estimated that two billion dollars were injected into the building industry and trades through a similar plan, and with the Canadian rediscount rate considerably lower than that in the United States, a similar spur is expected for the Canadian industry.

"I do not know the total number of applications approved, but I have reason to believe that there has been a far greater increase in the last few weeks in approved loans than is indicated in the figures of cash disbursed. There is even the possibility that the Dominion may be faced with a shortage of skilled labor in the building trades this Spring," Major Kemp said in conclusion.

BROTHERHOOD MEETING

The Easter message will be brought to the Calvary Men's Own Brotherhood on Sunday, by Brigadier W. R. Dray, Acting Resident Secretary of the Salvation Army. Bro. John Wood will render vocal and accordeon solos.

The Brotherhood service on Easter Sunday will be held in the Ladies' parlours of Calvary Church, the Sunday School using the Church auditorium to present an Easter pageant.

Greenhouse Is Scene Of Fine Floral Display

The annual flower show at the Westmount Park greenhouse was opened yesterday. The main display of flowers is in the "lobby" immediately back of the library, and a smaller exhibit is in the adjoining room where the fish pond is situated.

Mr. J. G. McCreath and his staff of capable assistants have arranged a striking lay-out, and are to be congratulated on their fine work.

The greenhouse will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily except Sundays, when it will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

CAR BURGLARIZED

Mrs. Albert Laurin, Victoria avenue, reported to Montreal police Saturday night that two suitcases and a coat with a fur collar had been stolen from her automobile while it was parked opposite 1500 Drummond street. The value of the stolen goods was placed at $360.

SPOKE AT MEETING

Paul A. MacFarlane, vice-president of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, was the guest speaker at the St. Lawrence Kiwanis Club's luncheon on Tuesday.

He is vice-chairman of the Home Improvement Plan campaign for this province, and spoke on the plan and its objectives.

Anniversary Service At St. Andrew's

Rev. W. J. Clark, Minister Emeritus, Preached Sermon Commemorating 28th Birthday of Building

The 28th anniversary festival of the construction of the present building of St. Andrew's Church was observed over the week-end, when members of the congregation who worshipped in the former building joined with younger members of the church in the special services, at which Rev. W. J. Clark, D.D., minister emeritus, was the guest preacher. It was through the efforts of Dr. Clark that the present fine building was erected in 1910.

Dr. Clark, who retired from active pastoral work in 1932, said that in spite of temptations to indulge in many personal reminiscences the opportunity was too precious to permit him to go outside of the interpretations of his text, which was "In Him was life, and the life was the light of men." He said he was struck with the different attitude of the public today to what could be observed in the days of his youth, when the fact of another world loomed so much larger in people's minds. If there was anything sure in regard to Christ's teachings it was that of another life as the complement to this one, he declared.

People, went on Dr. Clark, have shown a tendency to identify Christ with some body of doctrine and ritual, but this was not correct, and the two dominating principles of the "Man of Nazareth" were that "life was an intensely good thing to him, with a wise and infinite purpose behind it, and he was sure that this life was a preparation for a more beautiful one.

Dr. Clark noted that it was just thirty years ago that he preached his farewell sermon in London, Ontario, prior to commencing his pastorate in the local church.

A feature of the service was the reading of a telegram, by the Rev. F. W. Kerr, from the Rev. Herman Abramowitz, Rabbi of Shaar Hashomayim synagogue, for many years a personal friend of Dr. Clark's. Rabbi Abramowitz sent personal felicitations to the congregation of St. Andrew's on their anniversary celebration, and asking Dr. Kerr to convey to Dr. Clark his wishes for many years of health and happiness.

The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. F. W. Kerr.

Scholars To Speak In Aid Of Swimming

Brother Merry Alphonse, of St. Leo's, Sponsors Contest to Further Municipal Pool Project

Brother Merry Alphonse, principal of St. Leo's Academy, who has been actively engaged for some time in interesting local residents in the project of having a municipal swimming pool in Westmount, announces that, to further this work and arouse public opinion on the matter, a public speaking contest will be held in St. Leo's School Hall on Wednesday, April 21st. This contest will be open to all pupils attending Westmount Schools.

All those planning to take part should mail or bring their entries to their respective principals, not later than Monday, April 12th.

The Public Speaking Club of St. Leo's Academy has chosen, at the principal's suggestion, the following topic: "Resolved, that the City of Westmount should provide

Annual Display To Be Given By Police, Firemen

The annual display of Physical Training by the members of the Police and Fire departments of the city will be staged in the armoury of the Royal Montreal Regiment, St. Catherine street, on Tuesday evening, April 20th, it was announced at the City Hall this week.

The annual Tug-of-War between the two departments will be staged for the Royal Montreal Regiment Cup. Last year this was won by the Fire Department, and the year previous by the Police.

Other items on the program, which will be released in the near future, include marching, Swedish drills, Indian Club work, resuscitation, and First Aid, in which latter work the men took a course during the winter.

Carl Ludwig Lived Here Forty Years

Victoria Avenue Resident Died on Monday; Was With John Henderson Company Fifty Two Years

The funeral was held privately from his former residence, 507 Victoria avenue, of Carl A. Ludwig, retired furrier, who had made his home in Westmount for forty years. He was seventy-three years of age, and had retired from active business five years ago.

Mr. Ludwig had seen fifty-two years' service with John Henderson and Co., and at the time of his retirement was chief designer with the firm. His father before him had been fifty-one years with the firm, more than a century of service having thus been rendered by the family.

He was a native of Montreal. In connection with his business, he had made frequent trips to European fur centres, where he was as well known as he was here. He also visited the United States fur centres regularly.

A widely read man, he specialized in history and biography, and in his younger days was keenly interested in, politics, municipal provincial and federal. He is survived by his widow, formerly Emma Krause; a brother, John Ludwig, of Chicago; and two sisters, Mrs. Gurney, of Boston, and Miss Bertha Ludwig of Montreal.

Dr. Klein officiated at the funeral service.

AT FELLOWSHIP

Mr. Arthur Davidson, well known local violinist, and Mrs. F. J. Hodgson, musical director, rendered selections at the meeting of the Dickens Fellowship on Tuesday in Victoria Hall.

Mrs. Lionel A. Forsyth, B.A., M.A., K.C., gave an address on the famous novelist.

Former War Nurse Dead At 67 Years

Mrs. George Eedson Burns, Mother of General Staff Officer of M.D. No. 4 Served in France

Many friends joined relatives Wednesday morning at the chapel of Jos. C. Wray and Brother to pay honours to Mrs. Geo. Eedson Burns, wife of the late Col. George Burns, who died Monday at the age of sixty-seven years. She was a member of the first contingent of Canadian nurses which left Quebec in 1914 to serve in France during the Great War, and was a former officer in the women's auxiliary of the Royal Air Force. She was the mother of Lt.-Col. E. L. M. Burns, O.B.E., M.C., General Staff Officer at M.D. No. 4 Headquarters.

Mrs. Burns, formerly Louise Wills, was a native of Toronto, and was the daughter of the late Alexander Wills. She was educated in Montreal and prior to her marriage to Col. Burns in 1896 was graduated as a nurse from the Royal Victoria Hospital.

In 1914 she enlisted with the Canadian Army Medical Corps. During the war she was transferred to the Royal Air Force, where she assisted in the training of young women who served as auxiliaries to liberate young airmen for the front.

She was a member of the Royal Empire Society and of the Montreal Art Association. She worshipped at the Church of The Advent.

She is survived by her son, Lt.-Col. E. L. M. Burns and a sister, Mrs. R. Graham, of Huntingdon. Her husband predeceased her in 1924.

Many Attend Funeral Of Geo. Fowler

Elm Avenue Resident Was Lumber Agent With Canadian Pacific For Forty Six Years

Many friends joined former business associates yesterday in paying final tribute to George A. Fowler, Elm avenue resident, whose death occured Tuesday at his home. He was in his 77th year, and had been lumber agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway for forty six years until his retirement in 1928.

A native of Ogdensburg, New York, Mr. Fowler began his railroad career in 1878 with the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railroad. In 1882 he joined the Canadian Pacific as freight foreman at Hochelaga.

In 1884 he was appointed freight agent at Brockville, Ontario, and five years later was made chief clerk in the general freight department at Ottawa. He was transferred to Montreal in 1892 as assistant chief clerk in the general freight department here.

On April 1st, 1897, he was named lumber agent for the company, a position which he held until his retirement. He is survived by his widow, the former Lena Coolidge; and one son, Gordon L. Fowler, of Montreal.

Interment was made in the Montreal Memorial Park, Cartierville.

Go and tell Peter. Mark 16:7

The joyous Easter tidings impose a sacred duty on all of us. "Go and tell Peter," the Easter angel says to the women at the empty grave of our Lord. The special message of Easter is, of course, the Resurrection and man's hope and assurance of Immortality.

But there are other messages of great help and inspiration from the same reason and its events. One of them is the power God gives His children to transform evil into good.

The Cross was the sign of the criminal and his disgraceful death. Today it is sign of achievement, of moral and spiritual conquest, of the sacrificial spirit in its noblest sense and at its highest without which neither men nor nations can make progress nor endure.

ST. STEPHEN'S

Holy Week has come again as the yearly Commemoration of the sacrifice of Jesus Who gave His life for you. As you look up to the cross, I pray that you may realize that the whole gospel story was enacted there. Who is this? It is Christ the Son of God, Crucified because "He loved me and gave Himself for me." The same loving Saviour said: "Come unto me all ye who are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest."

The hopes of mankind centre around the cross and the empty tomb. The cross where He died that you might be forgiven. The empty tomb—your assurance that those who have died are still living.

Could any period of commemoration make such a demand upon you as Holy Week and Easter? Come to your Church on Good Friday and thank God for the love of Christ Who gave His life for you.

When the Apostle Paul declared "Jesus Christ hath abolished death," he did not mean, of course, that the fact of physical death no longer obtained. Men have long dreamed of discovering some "elixir of life" which would prolong life indefinitely, but our Master's interest was not centred in adding a score of years to life's span, but in improving its inward quality.

So the "abolition of death," which Jesus accomplished means,

Here's A Problem Always Palls Why Do Kiddies Throw Snowballs ?

Farbeit from us to act the role of the killjoy and put the bee on the fun of countless thousands of youngsters; children are entitled to all the enjoyment they can get out of life, for when they get older they'll certainly have precious little; but there's one thing we never could understand, and that is why should children have to throw snowballs?

Sunday afternoon at Grosvenor and Sherbrooke a group of children—in fact, most of them were old enough to know better—were engaged in the ancient and none too honourable art of throwing snowballs at each other. One side was entrenched on the side walk on the south west side of the intersection, and the other group were diagonally opposite them.

Their procedure consisted in throwing balls nigh in the air, over the traffic and trolley lines, and the other group would display nonchalance or something by catching the balls in their hats.

This was not as bad as it might have been, but many pedestrians walking by had to watch out for their heads and collars. The snow was of that delightfully soft, sticky consistency that mixes so well with the starch in your collar.

If they want to throw snowballs, why can't they go in the park, or up on the mountain?

This protest may be a little late for this year, but it can be filed away and used at the beginning of next year—if we have any winter, that is.

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1937

A NOTABLE VICTORY

Lovell C. Carroll, young lawyer and a resident of Westmount, is to be congratulated on his successful handling of a court case wherein two persons took action against a tavern keeper who refused to serve them. They claimed, among other things, injured feelings, humiliation, and the loss of the pleasure of drinking beer.

The fact that these two gentlemen were coloured, has nothing to do with the case. This is Canada, and not the southern States. In this country a man's rights and social privileges are not determined by his ancestry or the colour of his skin, and the person who would raise a race cry or foster un-Christian discrimination deserves the contempt of all.

Mr. Carroll, is, as we say, to be congratulated. In the southern States he would have been either laughed out of court or run out of town on a rail for attempting a defence of coloured citizens. But this is Canada, and he can put down the winning of this case as a high spot in his career.

ARE STREET CARS BECOMING OBSOLETE?

The recent report of the Montreal Tramways Co. shows that there was more profit in operating the buses than in operating the street cars, which brings up the question how much longer the street cars will withstand the competition of the buses.

In certain sections of dense traffic the street cars may still hold their own, but the buses have many superior advantages in other districts. Slowly but surely the bus seems to be supplanting the street car, but this process had a setback at Seattle, Wash., last week.

In that city another splendid example of public ownership can be traced. Their street railway system was built in 1911 and in 1919 the city took over the system for $15,000,000. Ever since the city took over the system—eighteen years ago—it has been operated at a steady loss. Last week the citizens voted on a scheme to replace the worn-out street cars with up-to-date trackless trolleys and buses and the citizens rejected the idea.

In many other places street cars have been ousted entirely, but if Seattle had voted for changing the street cars for buses it would have been the largest city in America without street cars.

WHERE WILL THE MONEY COME FROM?

Montreal's tax-mongers are off on another spree. The latest proposals as contained in the draft of the Montreal Bill would be amusing if they weren't so unfortunately real. The framers of the bill seem to have forgotten nothing. Tax No Parking signs. Tax Baby's milk. Tax Bread Deliveries. Tax Insurance Money. Tax business, and then tax it some more. Tax salesmen! As Christopher Ellis remarked over the radio, the only thing they've forgotten is to tax the air we breathe. And this is the administration that was going to do away with the sales tax! Ye Gods! Better far the sales tax, and forget the new products of the stupid imagination of our City governors. Should the new bill get through by any chance, it will be the English section of the population that will pay most of the shot, as usual. And business, already hard pressed, will be restricted still further, for taxes are one of the most destructive, in the long run, of all the hindrances to trade and commerce.

ABOLITION OF TRADE BARRIERS

Premier Stanley Baldwin in a statement to the British House of Commons early this week said: "The British Government attaches the greatest importance to action being taken without delay to relax progressively the present system of quotas . . . with a view to their abolition." The British can be depended upon to take a sensible stand on all matters concerning tariffs, quotas, and other trade restrictions, for Britain's wealth and her livelihood lies in her ship bottoms. Even during the worst days of the trade war, when thousands of ships were tied up at the piers of the world, and their crews on relief, Britain had about four thousand ships at sea. And now, with a general lessening of tariff walls among the Anglo-Saxon nations and the French Empire, Britain is doing much better. Eventually, the British hope to return to the free trade policies that made England the merchant, the shipper, and the financier of the world.

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:—

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of the coming week are hidden.

Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 5384 Sherbrooke Street West, using special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

All answers must be in the office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Friday's issue.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age.

The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers, as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to everyone submitting the right answers.

A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper.

Winners in last week's contest are as follows, and they will receive their passes in today's mail.

Mrs. F. Ritchie, 4698 Westmount Ave.; Miss M. Wilson-Smith, 622 Grosvenor Ave.; A. MacDonald, 602 Belmont Ave.; Mrs. M. F. Brodie, 393 Roslyn Ave.; Claire Desjardin, 3 Belvedere Road; Mrs. Irene H. Picton, 1247 Greene Ave., Apt. 1.

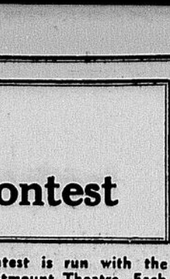

EXAMINER FORUM

In Which Subjects of General Interest are Discussed

NOTE:—The opinions expressed in these columns are not necessarily those of The Examiner, and this newspaper does not accept responsibility for them. They are published for their general interest, variety and originality of treatment.

By HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

Production is said to be 97 per cent of 1928 figures but the Canadian Welfare Council states that the number on relief is higher by 6 or 8 per cent than at the same time last year. The Council's report points out that while the Business Index shows an improvement of 50 per cent in three years, the number of jobs has increased by only 40 per cent. The report states: "The depression has left Canada with a burden of economic dependency just as surely as the war left her with a $42,000,000 annual pension burden!"

The implication is that a permanent reserve of unemployed much greater in numbers than ever noted before will be present even after "recovery is complete."

No one knows how many will be prmanently unemployed when production reaches its maximum but evidently there will be too many to be ignored or to be put aside by a dole system. Industry under of present set-up cannot provide work for all unless men in increasing numbers are put to war work. And as technological methods improve and industry expands machines and processes will, more and more, replace men. The sooner the nations of the world find the solution for this vital problem the better it will be for all of us.

The fishing industry of Nova Scotia — in particular the shore fishing — is in a bad way, and that wide awake, vigorous daily the Halifax Herald is making a strong plea for assistance.

The Herald said: "The industry is down to the hard rocks of want. The flood tide of destitution is battering at whole communities in the province. Hundreds of men who risk their lives daily on the seas are given less than a pittance for their labors. Some of them and their wives and children are driven to beg for old clothing with which to ward off winter. They hate accepting charity but they are compelled to descend to it, plead for it."

There are no sturdier, courageous, self-reliant people than the fishermen of the Maritimes, and when they ask for help there is something radically wrong and drastic remedies are called for.

The Herald suggests four steps —Control by a central authority, a scale of minimum prices for the benefit of the fisherman and maximum prices for the protection of the consumers. Also steps should be taken to save the export trade, as half the catch is processed and sent abroad.

Some action should be taken which will not only give early relief to such deserving folk, but action which will be of permanent benefit. And what benefits the fishermen by increasing their purchasing power will benefit the people of Nova Scotia and the people throughout our country.

California pays a pension to the aged of $35 per month and there is a strong agitation that it be increased to $50, and that the state remove all liens or claims on pensioners' homesteads for sums paid as pensions. Colorado as the result of a constitutional amendment now pays old age pension of $45 per month.

If more evidence is needed as to the unsoundness of our economic system it is found in the following news items—a few of the many which appear in our newspapers.

"Manitoba will continue present restrictions against beer brewed in other provinces 'purely as a measure of self defence' it is announced by Premier John Bracken who added: 'My government has always believed in the principal of free trade between the provinces but the objective of a wholly united Canada is illusory if the tendency of imposing disabilities upon the sale of products of other provinces was allowed to grow. The principle of free inter-provincial trade for many years has been honored more in the breach than in the observance by practically every province in Canada. Quebec and Manitoba have been the only provinces without barriers against outside beer. If other provinces take deliberate steps to prevent or make difficult the entry into and sale within those provinces of the products of Manitoba my government is justified in adopting measures of self defence."

"Scarcity of Ontario potatoes due to farmers holding their product for higher prices turned dealers today towards the Maritimes to fill consumer's needs. One dealer said the farmer can ask what he likes for his product but we won't pay more than $1.50 a bushel: There are 35 carloads of eastern potatoes on the railway tracks Monday morning and more are coming all the time. We can get all the New Brunswick potatoes we want. The Maritime product was of better quality and that the consumer would gladly pay more for these potatoes than pay higher prices for the Ontario variety."

Dalhousie University will stage a reunion of graduates in 1938. A three-day reunion was planned by an alumnus committee to organize a celebration of the 100th anniversary of the establishment of continuous teaching in the college by the sea. Graduates from all parts of Canada and other countries will gather to pay tribute to Dalhousie's founders and benefactors.

It is estimated that the expenditures on armaments during 1936 aggregate $14,000,000,000. In 1913 when the nations of Europe were preparing for the Great War the amount spent by all countries on armament building totalled $4,000,000,000.

Java is the world's most heavily populated island. Its population exceeds 36,000,000 although the island has an area of only 48,504 square miles.

Noel Coward once said of Michael Arlen: "He is every other inch a gentleman." What would he say of John Barrymore?

If the full truth were ever known about the way in which government influence has been used by great corporations, public indignation would know no bounds. —Henry A. Wallace, U.S.A.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, March 28th, is "Reality."

The Golden Text is: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations." (Psalms 90:1).

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all." (I Chronicles 29:11).

"The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas." (Science and Health, page 331).

Calvary Church Notes

On Good Friday evening in Calvary Church, Greene avenue and Dorchester street, Westmount, the minister, the Rev. T. W. Jones, will deliver an illustrated lecture, using beautifully coloured lantern slides to tell the wonderful stories:

(a) The Quest of the Holy Grail, that thrilling story of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table, and the high quest of Sir Galahad;

(b) The Passion Play at Oberammergau, as he witnessed it in that world-famous village among the Bavarian mountains.

A vocal soloist and a violinist will assist the minister, while the organist of the church, Mr. G. W. Cornish, will render organ music fitting for this great occasion. The doors of the church will be opened at 7.30 to afford opportunity for the audience to gather and spend this time in devotion and meditation before the lecture begins at 8.15 p.m. No tickets will be sold, all seats being free. A silver offering will be asked on behalf of the Benevolent Funds of the church.

Easter Day is being eagerly anticipated as a day of great blessing and spiritual uplift in the services of Calvary. "The Radiant Morn" will be the theme of the service at 11 a.m. with Mr. Jones conducting the service. The choral ministry will be led by the Junior choir of Calvary church, which will be robed in new gowns for the Easter service. The choir has been trained under the direction of Mrs. W. S. Walker and Miss V. Jamieson.

The preaching service will be followed by the Communion of the Lord's Supper, at which time a large number of new members will be received into the fellowship of the church.

An open session of the church school will be held at 3 o'clock in the church auditorium, at which session the school will present a Pageant of Eastertide. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The evening worship will be held at 7.30 when the senior choir of the church, directed by Mr. G. W. Cornish, the church organist, will render an Easter Cantata entitled, "The Resurrection," which will be illustrated with beautiful reproductions of great masterpieces of Resurrection scenes, which will be interpreted in an address given by the Minister.

The evening service will also be followed by the Communion of the Lord's Supper.

All are heartily invited to attend and share in this season of spiritual uplift.

Thursday and Friday, April 1st and 2nd, Calvary Dramatic Guild will present "Whispering Walls," by Wall Spence. Performance commences at 8.15 each evening. Tickets may be secured by members of the Guild.

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

REWARD FOR DOING NOTHING

GERMANY would have liked to gain the support of Denmark in the World War, and so the Allies turned their diplomatic guns on King Christian X and his ministers, to avoid such a union. Denmark remained neutral, and for this, after the war, the Allies rewarded the little country with the northern part of Schleswig-Holstein, which Germany formerly had taken from her.

Neutrality was the only favorable step for King Christian, if he were to keep peace in his extensive family, for he counted relatives on both the Allied and Entente sides of the conflict. As a result, when war came, family ties were threatened, and Christian found it best, and most profitable, to remain neutral.

Christian ascended the throne of Denmark in 1912, and this year celebrates his silver jubilee Many stamps bear his portrait. One of the first types is shown here.

Rare Hawaiian Stamp Recently Brought $10,500 To Its Owner

A Philadelphia collector recently paid $10,500 for a tiny scrap of paper that once could be purchased at the Hawaiian postoffice for only 2c.

In 1851 the Hawaiian Islands, under the rule of a local king, invited foreigners, particularly Americans, to come and do business with the inhabitants. The invitation was accepted by religious as well as commercial establishments.

Missionaries Convert Natives

Missionaries thronged the islands and attempted to convert the natives to Christianity. As they communicated with their sponsors on the mainland to America it was necessary to devise a means of transporting messages.

Ships only stopped at Hawaii on rare occasions to unload passengers and deliver mail. When outgoing letters and parcels were taken aboard the ships it was necessary to pay the captain for each article carried If he remembered to paste a United States postage stamp on the parcel when he arrived at San Francisco all went well, but if he forgot, as so many did, then the mail never arrived at its destination.

The king then ordered a local "artist" to draw a design for postage stamps which would prepay letters and parcels all the way to the United States and also be recognized for postage in the cities of that country. A crude drawing, result

Crude Printing Used

Several sheets of stamps were printed by an even cruder process and were sold piecemeal to the missionaries who used them on their mail. A year later the stamps were replaced by others more pleasing to the eye.

In the years that passed since the first Hawaiian stamps were issued the majority have disappeared. Not more than a few dozen exist today and all bring prices ranging from $4000 to $19,500 each

Leslie Collins Addressed Westmount Sub-division in St. Leo's School

Leslie Collins gave an illustrated travelogue to members of the Westmount sub-division of the Catholic Women's League on Friday in St. Leo's School Hall, taking his hearers through Ireland, where he described scenic and historical attractions of the Emerald Isle.

Mrs. J. Simpson sang two songs, accompanied by Mrs. C. Erb, and two dance duets were performed by the Misses Phyllis and Bernice Dickson. M. Zimmerman was heard in some songs accompanied by Mrs. A. Pichet. Mrs. M. A. Phelan thanked the speaker and the artists.

The meeting stood for a minute in tribute to the late Rev. Mother Ste. Anne Marie, mistress-general of studies of the Congregation de Notre Dame and dean of the Marguerite Bourgeoys College.

Mrs. M. A. Phelan was appointed convener of the nominations committee, and Mrs. P. T. Golden and Mrs. C. W. Hemming as members.

Mrs. C. H. G. Short presided.

ATHLETIC VIOLINIST

Hockey-playing, tennis champion, Grisha Goluboff will be violin soloist with the Montreal Orchestra at His Majesty's Theatre Sunday afternoon in the season's final concert. At fourteen, Goluboff is mentioned as successor to the great Kreisler.

Mrs. H. B. Pope Planning Trips

If you are planning on going abroad this summer, why not arrange to join the party which is being personally conducted by Mrs. H. B. Pope, of Metcalfe avenue?

The party will leave Montreal on the S.S. Antonia on July 2nd and will visit Scotland, England, Holland, Belgium, Vimy and France and includes also a two weeks' cruise on the S.S. Lancastria, calling at Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Finland and Poland.

The cruise is particularly attractive to younger people as much entertainment is planned for each day and night. It also is a leisurely comfortable experience for the older people and a very popular holiday travel for the British themselves.

As it is expected that there will be heavy travel overseas this Coronation year, it would be wise to decide early if you wish to join one of these tours.

Any further information will be given by Mrs. H. B. Pope or Tobin Travel Bureau, Peel street.

J. F. Torrance Burial Held

Windsor Avenue Resident Was Connected With the Insurance Business

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at the home of his mother, 660 Victoria Avenue, of James Ferrier Torrance, who died on Sunday morning at his residence, 51 Windsor avenue. He was thirty five years of age.

He was a son of the late J. F. Torrance and a grandson of the late John Torrance, head of the old Dominion Line of steamships. He was an active member of St. James United Church, and received his education at Lower Canada College. In business he was associated with H. W. Emo, insurance agents.

He belonged to the Kanawaki Golf Club and the Bic Golf Club, and was a member of the M.A.A.A. He is survived by his wife, formerly Helen Louise Roberts; a daughter, Margaret Elizabeth; his mother, Mrs. J. F. Torrance; a brother, Glenn, and a sister, Margaret I.

Westmount Park Church To Hold Easter Services

This evening at 8 o'clock, the choir of Westmount Park Church (Lansdowne and Western Avenues) under the direction of Dr. Herbert Saunders will render Dubois' Sacred Cantata, "The Seven Last Words." The soloists will be Miss Phyllis McLearon, Mr. Rhys Lloyd and Dr. George Holden.

The parts of the Cantata will be interspersed with scripture readings by the Minister. An offering will be received to be devoted to the United Church Fresh Air Camp.

Easter Sunday will be observed with appropriate themes and music at both services. In the evening Mr. Smith will relate an Easter Story, "The Boy who discovered the Spring." Following the service a sacred pageant, "The Resurrection" will be presented by the dramatics group under the direction of Miss Margaret Murray.

Dance At YMCA On Friday Was A Fine Success

Soft lights . . Lilting music . . Graceful couples moving across the floor in melodious rythm. Such was the aspect of the Yotmots' Dance held last Friday night at Westmount Y. The gym was tastefully decorated with gay streamers which, alas, did not stand up under the rampages of merry souvenir-hunters.

Music, sweet or hot as the occasion demanded, was supplied by two orchestras. Art Morrow and his Knights of Melody, who until lately have been playing for the Yotmots' Dancing Classes, held forth in one part of the gym; while Marshall Lebeau, in another section, was at the head of an eleven-piece band just recently organised. It seems apparent that these young fellows have a real future ahead of them as up-and-coming musicians.

The orchestras played alternately, so the boys and girls had continuous dancing. Refreshments were served which made a perfect climax to a very pleasant evening. President Wes Ball stated that the dance was a definite success, and the Yotmots are to be congratulated on their first venture into large-scale dances.

earthquake, confusion, and a panic of terror.

Then glorious, sun-drenched Easter dawned like some sweet spring-time morning after a night of pain. Everywhere we feel the throb of life, the songs of newly-awakened birds, the fragrance of flowers, butterflies bursting their winter shrouds, lilies clothed in pure, white raiment, a woman stealing hopefully into the Garden of Death, an angel and then — her Master alive by her side, speaking her name "Mary."

It is all so incredible, and yet it is all so necessarily true. Death and darkness could never be God's last word to his children. Forth from the darkest night there breaks the brightest morning, and forth from the tomb is born Life's most glorious hope. If Calvary had been the final verdict about One who lived and died as did the Man of Nazareth, then all the courses of this world were wild, irrational madness. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and because He lives, we too shall live.

a swimming pool for the use of the children of the municipality."

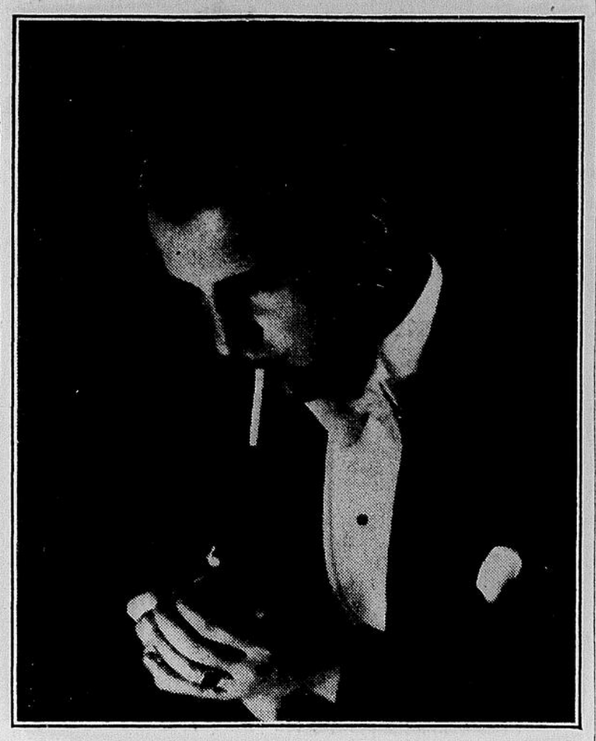

This will be the topic of the contest.

Brother Merry Alphonse has always been keenly interested in the furtherance of swimming in the schools, and the boys of St. Leo's, who have been making use of the Notre Dame de Grace Community Hall tank for the past two years, have made marked progress in this direction. Under the guidance of L. Pilon, the scholars have trained for and taken swimming tests, and twelve boys have obtained their Bronze Medallion, and twenty one the Silver Medallion. A week from today a number will take examinations for the Gold Medallion.

Brother Merry Alphonse plans to visit principals of local schools in the near future to discuss the project.

A large number of entries is expected for the public speaking contest.

Notes And Oddities Of Westmount 32 Years Ago

This is the fifth of a series of articles dealing with the Westmount of thirty-two years ago, and taken from files of The Westmount Advertiser for 1905, which recorded local history as it unfolded. Older residents who may recall incidents herein recorded, or others which may have been omitted, are invited to communicate with The Editor. Reminiscences of old times are always welcome, and we will be pleased to print any letters submitted, according to subject matter and space available, and subject to editorial "condensing."

The Water question seems to have caused no end of argument and concern in the old days. One writer, of the "Letters To The Editor" class, states as follows in The Westmount Advertiser for February 25, 1905: "The death rate in Westmount . . . is only 9.66 per thousand . . . I am not prepared to say what Westmounters drink as a rule, but I do not imagine that many of them drink Westmount water . . . I do know that one third of its residents are supplied with Laurentian water, not to speak of consumers who boil it. The low death rate is probably due to unusually healthy surroundings, and to the fact that they do not drink Westmount water."

An item states that the fall of snow that winter amounted to ten feet and four inches. This is of interest in view of the light snowfall we have had this year.

Under a heading "ONE THING AND ANOTHER" on the back page, a number of interesting items appear. Among these are: "Mrs. Byers, 4355 Montrose avenue, sent a parcel of clean and useful magazines to the police station for the constables, and Mrs. E. Starr, of Tupper street, sent the Auto-biography of Thomas N. Doulney, a temperance reformer." Also: "Two Westmount boys are reported to be doing well in San Francisco. Mr. Charles Minto has been appointed general manager of the Hartford Cotton Mills and Mr. Frederick Minto cashier of the same company. Both are sons of Mr. William Minto."

The following issues, for March 4th, notes the resignation of Mr. G. A. Robertson as superintendent of works. The bereavement of Principal W. B. T. Macaulay of Westmount Academy, whose father died in Edinburgh, is lamented, and a news item states that "An Immense Building" will be constructed shortly on Sherbrooke street between Wood and Atwater avenues, for the Sisters of The Congregation of Notre Dame. And the treasurer of The Western General Hospital acknowledges, with thanks, the generous donation of Miss Mary Dow, amounting to $5,000, towards the liquidation of the old debt of the hospital.

The issue for March 11th tells of "a most exciting hockey match between the ladies of the Royal Victoria College and Westmount," played at the Arena. The Westmount ladies won 2-1. "Mr. Colin Ross, of McGill, refereed very impartially, but too leniently!" A note states that preparations "are being made for the celebration of St. Patrick's Day on a huge scale," and another: "Following are the results of the competition for the best collection of house grown winter bulbs (not grown in a greenhouse) three prizes offered by the Association: First prize, Mr. W. Ramsay, Clarke avenue; second prize, Miss Massey, 4224 Dorchester street, and third prize, Mrs. John Stewart, Cote Road."

Further notes from the old files will be given next week.

CARDS AND TEA

The Westmount Women's Club is planning a card party to be held at Victoria Hall on Wednesday afternoon. Tea will be served following the playing.

Truck Driver Makes Novel Admission

Arthur Modler will probably go down in history as being the first truck driver to admit himself in the wrong.

Monday morning at 11.35, Mr. Modler's Chevrolet truck collided with a Packard sedan driven by Frederick Bulmer, salesman for the Packard company, at the intersection of Victoria and Western avenues. The Packard was proceeding east on Western, and the truck was going south on Victoria.

Constable Lauzon, who investigated, still sticks to his story that Modler admitted he was proceeding against the red traffic light, and was thus the cause of the accident. Modler was fined for this infraction.

Bulmer was taken to the Western division of the Mantreal General Hospital by Lieut. Byford, where Dr. Slatkoff reported he was suffering from bruises and cuts.

Both the Packard and the truck incurred damages in the mishap, which certainly must have pleased the Packard people and the soft drink concern which owns the truck.

purpose. Everywhere else things develop toward some end. Surely it would be strange if the loftiest yearnings of men were empty. I prefer to believe with the eminent philosopher Josiah Royce, "Only an infinite process can show me what I am."

I believe in the life everlasting because I believe in Jesus, the greatest religious teacher our race has known, having the deepest, truest insight and the most healing and inspiring influence. He was so sure of the life everlasting that He said little about it but His whole life and His gallant and sacrificial death are based on it. For Him the most real world lay out beyond the reach of hand or ear or eye. He taught that the great privilege of life is entirely to trust the unseen God and in death to do the same. He died saying, "Father, into Thy hands I commend My spirit."

For centuries men in Europe had argued about the possibility of land beyond the sunset. What settled the argument was the voyage of Columbus. Jesus is our Columbus. In a ship of utter faith He sailed forth upon the sea of death and came back with increased powers, bearing tidings of a life fuller than the heart of man can yet conceive.

I believe in the life everlasting.

SNOW REMOVAL

Snow removal equipment of the city has been at work during the last week removing the recent snowfall from the city streets. Following a somewhat lengthy "lay-off" due to balmy weather, many men found employment in taking care of the heavy precipitation.

J.W. Coldwell At Banquet

M. J. W. Coldwell, M.P., will be the main speaker at the Coronation Banquet and Ball being held by St. George's Society of Montreal on St. George's Day, April 23 at the Windsor Hotel.

Mr. Coldwell is a Devonian and a graduate of University College, Exeter. He was principal of Thomas School, Regina, until 1934, an alderman of that city for nine years, and Governor of Regina Hospital for one year.

The banquet and ball is being organized to celebrate the 103rd year of the Society's history; officers of H. M. Canadian Grenadier Guards will co-operate by attending.

Betty Speirs At Victoria Hall Shortly

From the celebrated studios in the West End of Montreal comes the advance information pertaining to the spring Recital of the Betty Speirs School of dancing. As usual Miss Speirs has routined the program so that the various grades will show to advantage.

The Baby classes will be catered for in the beloved fairy story 'The Old Woman who lived in a Shoe.' Peter Miller, co-director of the School, who makes this story style of entertainment one of his specialties, has rewritten and adapted it in his own inimitable way, and when we recall what he did with 'Dick Whittington', 'Sleeping Beauty', 'Cinderella', and 'Alice in Wonderland', we feel safe in predicting that the Betty Speirs Babies will charm you on this occasion as they have always done in the past.

The feature of the evening will be the 'Ballet d'Amour', choreography by Betty Speirs and Hulda Semmens. Miss Semmens, as you will recall is the favorite protege of Sonia Serova whom Betty Speirs through Madame Serova was able to bring to Montreal as her assistant. Miss Speirs is not stinting of praise for her talented assistant as the celebrated Steinway Hall technique is so noticeable in the senior classes of which Miss Semmens has given so much of work.

'Ave Maria' of last season's Recital was acclaimed as being near to perfection but in this season's Sacred Classic 'Ora pro Nobis', the senior group have surpassed anything ever done before in this class of presentation. There will also be the selected program by the soloists of the School. This will present the various talents of the dancers in tap, modernistic and ensemble work.

We have always admired the partnership of Betty Speirs with her artistic ability, and Peter Miller, the super-showman, who never misses a color scheme, a scenic effect or an opportunity to surround the talented children with the stage production which their efforts deserve, and with that thought in mind we are once more looking forward to the Betty Speirs Recital, which we have noticed from past experience, not only attracts those immediately concerned with the artists, but also those discriminating people who only attend entertainment for the value which they receive.

He would be killed and would be buried and would rise again. Easter morning saw Him completely vindicated — not only so but it proves that the supernatural has broken into men's lives. It vindicates the Old Testament prophesies, and proves that Christ was indeed the Son of God.

(2) If Christ be risen, then there is hope still for His Church. He said "Go and teach all nations and lo! I am with you." The risen Christ is still in His Church, and even if things are dry and dead yet He will break forth again in a great revival. "The gates of Hell shall not prevail against His Church."

(3) If Christ be risen, then Death has been conquered. "Death has lost his sting and the Grave has lost its victory." Of another life He has given assurance — it is only going to be with Him.

Rev. J. Lavell Smith . . . .

that, living in the faith which Christ inspired, men no longer view death as the cold and silent thing they had thought it to be, but rather as a passage way leading into a life that is rich and glowing and beautiful.

When a grain of sand enters the shell of the pearl oyster, it is an irritation; an unwelcome visitor, a thing to be abolished. But failing to drive it out, the oyster builds around it, layer upon layer, the structure of the pearl. The grain of sand still remains at the heart of the pearl, but it is now transformed into a thing of beauty.

Christ's abolition of death means, not its removal, but its transformation into a thing of beauty and eternity.

Hockey Playing Violinist To Appear Sunday With Montreal Orchestra; Goluboff Only 14

Young Californian Rated Alongside Kreisler—Says Musicians Not Sissies—Has $1000,000 Violin From Ford—California Tennis Champ and World Traveller

Junior tennis champion of California, world traveller, internationally-famous violinist, and all-round likeable young chap—that in a few short phrases describes Grisha Goluboff, fourteen-year-old violin virtuoso who arrived here this morning for a visit during which he will appear as guest soloist with the Montreal Orchestra under Douglas Clarke Sunday afternoon at His Majesty's Theatre in the final concert of the current orchestral season. When Goluboff played with the Orchestra three years ago several hundred people were turned away from the theatre, and present conditions point to a repetition of this again Sunday afternoon.

Goluboff arrived at Windsor Station from the midwest via New York, and was received at the depot by a large crowd of admirers. After posing for photographers he headed for the Mt. Royal Hotel with his father, and tossed stories and opinions across the room to this writer while unpacking his suitcases and eradicating soot from his ears.

"Music a sissy's occupation!" he exclaimed in reply to a query. "Say, don't you believe a word of that. Some musicians I've met are the toughest hombres ever to enter a radio studio or step on a stage. Others are pretty good at athletics. Personally, I like tennis and hockey—played hockey in California a couple of years and fooled around with a puck in Europe just a few months ago. Its certainly a grand game. I don't know where people get the idea that artists or writers or musicians are sissies. Most of them are pretty fair sports." Doesn't sound much like a world-famous violinist talking does it?

Grisha pulled his violin from its case and examined it carefully to see how the instrument had weathered the journey.

"Henry Ford gave me this" he said. "Its a genuine Stradivarius —cost close to $100,000. They say it once belonged to the Lord Mayor of London, but he probaby didn't play it. It was in several famous collections until Mr. Ford gave it to me." Ford has been exceptionally generous to the young musician. The violin was followed by an expensive French bow, and later the automobile magnate presented the lad with a magnificent limousine.

Grisha has just returned from a European tour during which he played with the Symphony orchestras of all leading cities, and he is booked for a follow-up tour next year. A candid camera addict, he snapped many representatives of European royalty and got several shots of the Duke of Connaught at Bath, where they met at a Boy Scout gathering.

Grisha will play Mozart's Concerto No. 3 for violin and orchestra Sunday afternoon in a program which will include the Facade of William Walton, the Prelude to Parsifal by the German composer, Wagner, and Brahm's Symphony No. 4 in E minor.

Will Repeat Cantata At Melville on Sunday

Rev. Wm. Orr Mulligan, M.A., L.L.B., B.D., minister of Melville Presbyterian Church, will deliver special Easter sermons at both services Sunday.

Selections from the cantata "From Olivet to Calvary" which was sung at the church a week ago, will be repeated by request. Mrs. Hewetson, soprano, Mrs. Shields, contralto, Mr. W. Hill, bass and Mr. W. Coulter, tenor, were outstanding in this presentation.

Join in the triumphant praise of Easter Day because "The Head that once was crowned with thorns is crowned with glory now." The Saviour Who loved you and gave Himself for you, stands before you in the Easter Communion and says "Take eat, this is My Body which is given for you, drink ye all of this, for this is My Blood of the new covenant which is shed for you and for many for the remission of sins, do this in remembrance of Me."

This great Week of Remembrance! How much love and thanks, how much time are you going to give to Him Who loved you and gave Himself for you?

Rev. Gilbert Oliver . . .

Victory, and Hope, for these are the messages of Easter, and of religion generally, for Christians are happy people, who try to love and not hate, who are not beaten by the exigencies of life, but find in them a challenge, and in the strength of the Resurrection go forth conquering, and to conquer.

Lastly, no one to whom the Christian message of the Resurrection really appeals can ever lose hope either in himself or his fellows or in the world in which we live, in spite of all the unrest and sorrow. So, in a happy, joyful, victorious, hopeful Easter to all.

THE HOUSEHOLD

By Lydia Le Baron Walker

Guess Work Plays No Part In Successful Cookery

No cookery can be successful that is done by guess work. It is true that the experienced cook does not seem to be following measurements when she discards measuring cups, spoons, etc., and relies on her judgment when cooking. But she is not gauging her amounts by guess work, although she appears to be. It is well for the novice in cooking to appreciate this, and beware of attempting to use her own judgment, for it takes experience to be able to make successful dishes while discarding measuring utensils and equipments.

The Experienced Cook

The experienced cook has worked with scales and measuring cups so much, and she has such deft and sensitive fingers, that she has learned to estimate with her eye, and she knows textures by touch —by the feel of the mixed ingredients. So what appears guess work cannot be correctly so termed. Also she has learned to play with recipes. That is she uses recipes as foundations for her expert variations. She will put in a trifle more of this and reduce other ingredients a minute bit, and possibly add an extraneous ingredient, the flavor of which she knows will be liked. In short she creates dishes.

The Amateur Cook

The amateur in cookery does well to follow recipes just as they are, until she knows how ingredients blend and what are congenialities. She may, however, venture to alter flavorings to suit her taste, substituting almond for vanilla, or pistachio for either, etc. With lemon the results are not apt to be quite so good by substitution. There is an acid in lemon which reacts on ingredients to make a more pleasing blend, oftentimes, than can be gained by substitution. This is noticeable in sponge cake. The experienced cook knows this. The novice does not.

Pastry Cook

The experienced pastry cook requires no measurements for the amount of shortening pie crust needs. She can tell by the feel when enough has been blended with the flour. This is not guess work but knowledge. It is only when a person has acquired the culinary art that she has this knowledge.

5,700 HORSES FOR THE CANADIAN FARMER

BREEDING SERVICE SINCE 1931

The "Black Horses" have sired 5,700 foals for Canadian farmers in five years! Never before, in the history of any country, has such a valuable breeding service been open to farmers!

These 35 prize Percheron stallions, famous as superb specimens of their breed, are owned by Dawes Brewery, of The National Breweries Limited, and the entire cost of their purchase and maintenance is borne by this Company.

While the "Black Horses" are primarily a means of advertising the products of Dawes Brewery, The National Breweries Limited, in deciding to establish the string, took into consideration the fact that their breeding service would be a mode of promoting also the interests of the farming population in general. Every season these stallions are distributed throughout the Province of Quebec. The farmer pays a $2 fee, and this is later presented to the Agricultural Society of the district, so that every cent raised by the "Black Horses" returns to the agricultural interests of the community.

The "Black Horses" confer three immense benefits on Quebec:

(1) they provide thousands of foals of superior quality for farmers, thereby rapidly improving the standard of draft horses raised in this Province;

(2) they promote a greater market for Quebec horses, through the widespread publicity accorded their spectacular show winnings, thus attracting outside attention to the quality of horses bred here;

(3) they have aroused a greater realization among farmers of the importance of intelligent breeding and of employing the best methods of raising foals. In this connection, The National Breweries Limited has distributed more than 60,000 instructive booklets during the past year.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE

TALKS AND SINGS CHINESE IN HER LATEST FEATURE "THE STOWAWAY," SUNDAY AT THE

WESTMOUNT THEATRE

Shirley, In China, Does As Chinese Do In Remarkable Role

Now she's in China! Who? None other than Shirley Temple! She even talks and sings Chinese, and she takes charge of a fascinating romance, faces danger in glittering Shanghai, performs in a Chinese Theatre and, in short, plays the most unusual role she's ever had, in her new and most thrill-filled picture, "Stowaway," which opens a three day engagement at the Westmount on Sunday. The feature will follow at the Seville Monkland and Snowdon United Theatres.

It's a picture for your "must" list—with a gripping story, a glamorous cast of great stars, Gordon and Revel's latest song hits, and—first, last and always—the incomparable Shirley!

Little Miss Temple plays the role of a little orphaned waif adrift in China, a victim of the bandits. She becomes an unwitting stowaway on a cruise liner on which Robert Young, a bored millionaire, Alice Faye, and the latter's mother-in-law-to-be are traveling.

Shirley brings Alice and Young together, much to the chagrin of the lder woman, who promptly the older woman, who promptly meet the boat at Hong Kong. Meanwhile Shirley, Alice and Young go out to do the town and have a grand lark, Shirley winning a prize in a local theatre by singing in Chinese.

The fiance, Allan Lane, then appears, but Alice refuses to marry him. When Chinese authorities threaten to take Shirley away from Young's guardianship because he is a bacheor and hence not consedered a proper foster father for her, Alice agrees to marry him—in name only!— to make the guardianship legal. She then departs for Reno for a divorce from Young, but he follows and, with Shirley showing the way, they realize that they are truly in love and decide to stay married, with Shirley making a third member of the family for a happy fade-out.

In addition to Robert Young and Alice Faye, Shirley's strong supporting cast includes Eugene Pallette, Helen Westley, Arthur Treacher, J. Edward Bromberg and Astrid Allwyn.

Darryl F. Zanuck, Twentieth Century-Fox Production Chief, selected William A. Seiter to direct with B. G. De Sylva, Earl Carroll and Harold Wilson as associate producers. William Conselman, Arthur Sheekman and Nat Perrin wrote the screen play based on a story by Sam Engel. Irving Caesar composed a happy topical song for Shirley.

Romance, Intrigue, Adventure, Thrill in "Lloyds of London," Coming to Westmount March 31

Against the turbulent canvas of adventure and intrigue which forms the pulse-stirring background of "Lloyds of London," the picture that has entertained two continents opens a four day engagement at the Westmount on Wednesday, March 31st.

Packed with the thrill of forbidden kisses that changed the destiny of a whole empire, as the fateful lovers forgot everything but that they were man and woman in each other's arms, The Twentieth Century-Fox feature tells the story of human passions that were inextricably woven with the course of history.

Madeleine Carroll, Tyrone Power, Freddie Bartholomew and Sir Guy Standing are featured

MRT Players In Petticoat Fever

As its fifth major production this season, MRT has chosen Mark Reed's comedy Petticoat Fever, which, when played in New York was pronounced by Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times as "one of the brightest items the year has discovered." Montrealers will remember its presentation on the local screen with Robert Montgomery, Myrna Loy and Reginald Owen in the main parts.

Dascom Dinsmore (Cecil Nichol) is a feverish radio operator in a far northern outpost. His main trouble is lack of company, particularly feminine. The play opens with Dascom in a fidgety, angry mood, savagely taking sling shots at a battered cowbell and generally, registering frustration in every action. His wild oats have been sown and the future, heartbreaking womanless, stretches desolately ahead. Into this void suddenly descends an aeroplane, forced down in distress. Out of it step young and beauteous Ethel Campion (Margaret Rawlings) and her crusty fiancé, Sir James Fenton (Filmore Sadler). Fenton loudly demands that Dascom radio immediately for assistance. Dascom, his eye on the lovely Ethel becomes a little difficult and the fun starts. Further complications are added when one of Dascom's wild oats, Clara Wilson, turns up unexpectedly, demanding to know what all the excitement is about.

Dascom, of course, wins Ethel, and Clara gets Sir James, but the why and the wherefore make an entertaining and intelligent comedy which we know will be relished by all who see it.

Tickets for "Petticoat Fever" are now on sale at the MRT office.

Calvary Guild To Give Final Play Of Year

On Thursday and Friday, the Calvary Dramatic Guild will present "Whispering Walls" by Wall Spence.

This group of young people is under the direction of Miss Mary Wright. Forcefully written, with a strong stage background, this play promises to be entertaining to even the most critical of audiences.

The cast includes the Misses C. Dodds, P. LeMaistre, H. McCaskill, J. Woodley, E. Aitken, J. Manley. The male section is comprised of the Messrs. J. Banks, N. McCaskill, A. Rogers, B. Jones, N. Mansont, and G. Butler.

Allan Elliott is in charge of the stage.

TAX AREARS DOWN

Westmount's outstanding tax bill was $36,000 less at the first of February to what is was at the beginning of the year, it is shown in the monthly report of the Montreal Metropolitan Commission.

At Januarl 1st, the figure was $583,000, at Februarl 1st it stood at $547,000.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE IN LITTLE PRINCESS

The Easter holidays will give every child an opportunity of witnessing one of the most delightful plays ever produced by the Children's Theatre.

"The Little Princess" or the "Story of Sara Crewe" is an intriguing boarding school story which will delight the hearts of young and old alike. It was originally played in New York, after which there was a very fine screen version with Mary Pickford and Zasu Pitts.

When this play was first produced by the Children's Theatre, it created such interest and great enthusiasm, and was accorded such an excellent reception, that inquiries have been pouring in for a repitition of this production, and now the Jewish Junior Welfare League have made arrangements with the Children's Theatre, directed by Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters for a repetition; they are sponsoring this performance in order to raise funds for their philanthropic work, and at the same time, it will give hundreds of children an opportunity of seeing a worth while play.

The following will appear amongst the large caste of players:

Lillian Wilkinson, Marcia Getz, Thelma Vautour, Lois Astrof, Lillian Lozoff, Elika Spector Patsy Pearson, Isabel Weinrauch, Norma Carrick, Shirley Pearce, Richard Davis, Laura Mitchell, Natalie Sommer, Constance Ginsberg, Mona Bronfman, Bernard Berlin, Lillian Simons, Cyril Berlin, Bernice Robinson, Alfreda Wallace, Eleanor Lang, Marion Brown, Lois Coombs, Betty Hunter, Elaine Lefcourt, Ella Pollet, Muriel Kemp.

Tickets should be obtained now at either of the Sunbeam Flower Shoppes, corner Victoria and Sherbrooke, or corner Harvard and Sherbrooke, at Macy's Super Store, St. Catherine St. W., or at Willis and Co., Ltd., corner Drummond and St. Catherine Streets.

"The Little Princess" takes place at the N.D.G. Community Hall, corner Decarie and Cote St. Antoine Road. on Tuesday afternoon, March 30th at 2.45.

Trend In Skirts For 1937 Spring Season Is Definitely Shorter

Shorter Skirts Call Attention To New Show Colors And Styles

time or cocktail hour shoes are a new fashion note welcomed by many. Shiny patents in black or navy, give special contrast and smartness when worn with suit costumes and matching handbags.

Colors for daytime show black and navy predominant, but the fashion-wise woman also is wearing the new rust tan with either black or navy costumes. Called "red earth" or by other descriptive names, it has the bright brownish yet deep color hue perfect to accent the dark costume.

Oyster Gray for Easter

A runner-up in the mode for light and lovely fitted shoes of kid-skin is gray, and its competition with beige has brought variety to the shoe mode this spring. Soft gray suedes, and deeper blue-grays are preferred.

Beige has found its place as a smart spring shoe color for dressy shoes, and is often trimmed with contrasting color. But it will find its greater popularity in the summer mode, when it may even displace white.

Patents Worn With Prints

Smart women seem to prefer shining patent shoes, in black or dark colors, with their printed frocks for daytime. And it may be noted that some of these dresses have shining patent belts to carry out the effect.

For dressier costumes, lovely pastel suede shoes are beginning to be seen, especially at afternoon functions, tea time or evening affairs. "Sandalized within an inch of their lives," these new pastel shoes are feminine to the last strap, and should be very much favored for wear with sheer prints from now on.

Hi-Low Is New Shoe Story

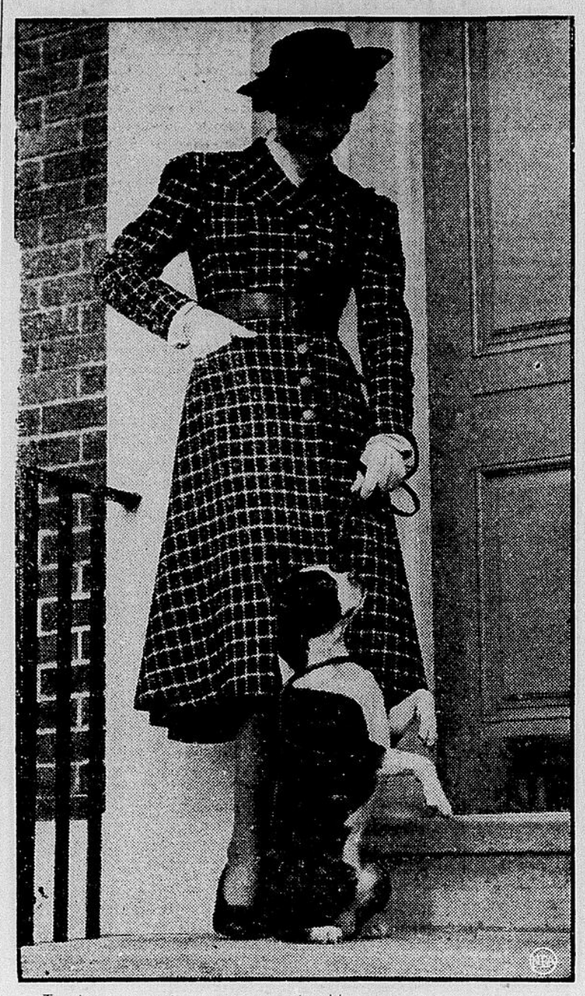

High-built "boot" styles continue, dressy in cut-out styles for afternoon, and tailored in oxfords or step-ins, for daytime. But to vary the picture, there are brand new low-cut pumps that do make the ankles look trim and young. Heels, too, go higher, or lower according to the shoe and the preferences of the wearer.

Colors Match Shoes

Colored patent handbags are matched to colored patent sandals, and make a fashion alliance hard to beat, for dressy occasions or sports. In many other bags, shoe colors are predominant, with a bright color used as trimming contrast.

Gabardine handbags, and other materials are also used to pair them with the new shoes. Often the same, or a similar trimming flap or handle carries out the trimming on the shoe. Stylists, it seems, have been getting their heads together, to give women a "smartly ensembled look."

BASKETWEAVE COAT IS POPULAR

To give your costume an unquestionably sporty air, top it with a coat in basketweave wool of a black and white sugar loaf patterning. This model has a flared hemline, modified lapels, velvet collar and wide leather belt. Worn with white gloves and scarf and a black Breton sailor hat, it is a stunning garment.

CRBC Seeks Sponsored Programs; Claim CFCF May Become Chain Key

Indecision In Government Action Clouds Situation With Uncertainty — Elaborate Plans For Broadcasting Of Coronation Details — Dr. Dafoe Contract Renewed — Metropolitan Opera Concludes Season Saturday

By JACK HIRSHBERG

Declaration by Major Gladstone Murray that Canadian broadcasting "shall be something more than an auxiliary of commerce or a mere adjunct to the machinery of advertising," though received with the sincere benediction of editorial writers on the regional press, was tendered an entirely different reception by those behind the scenes in Canadian broadcasting who realize that fine phrases and touching sentiments succeed only partially in hiding the fact that the government-controlled network has entered the advertising field itself and is actually soliciting sponsors for its radio programs.

Revelation of this, coupled with the rumour that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation was contemplating purchase or acquisition by other means of CFCF, keyed interest in the local radio problem to a new high pitch during the days just past, and the situation remains as puzzling and as far from definite solution as ever.

Rumours that the local Marconi aircastle might be acquired by the CBC to act as key station for the proposed Quebec English network were accorded more than the customary wave of the hand at midtown offices of the private broadcasting organization. Station officials confessed a belief that the rumours were rather far-fetched, but admittedly did not know where they stood. Sudden action in one direction or the other is improbable; but should CFCF be acquired by the CBC its network affiliation with the National Broadcasting Company would probably come to an end with resultant loss to Montreal listeners of such radio headliners as Jack Benny, Rudy Vallee, Fred Astaire, the G. M. Symphony and the Metropolitan Opera. Such a situation is not impossible, for recent announcement indicated that network affiliation with NBC by the CBC's Toronto station, CRCT, was soon to be discontinued.

Entrance of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation into the field of commercial broadcasting, though still apparently unofficial and partly hidden by a cloud of indecision, seems a reversal of the original aims of the Canadian Radio Commission, parent body of the present group. Whether the CBC plans eventually to create a nationwide network to operate in competition with private radio organizations, is not known. It is doubtful that definite plans toward any goal have yet been formulated, but possibility of such a move is not too remote to bear watching. New regulations effecting advertising time, limitations on commercial announcements, fixed rates for sponsored programs and so forth are as yet unannounced, and the regional stream of broadcast entertainment is fast becoming stagnant pending definite announcement of policy and rules by the body entrusted with radio control.

Meanwhile, the local scene remains covered with the slush of indecision, and the CBC apparently holds all the cards in an obviously one-sided game.

CORONATION TO BE COVERED BY CBC

Plans for elaborate coverage of the forthcoming Coronation were issued by the CBC and call for special radio activities to commence March 30 and continue through to May 12, drawing to a climax with complete coverage of the actual ceremonies and events attendant upon the crowning of a new king . . . Broadcasting on Coronation Day will commence about three quarters of an hour prior to the Westminster ceremony, when an observer describes the scenes of revelry and pomp as the King and Queen leave Buckingham Palace and progress through the crowded streets of London toward the historic old Abbey under the shadow of Big Ben . . . Swift switch of scene will take the listener to a point overlooking the Abbey, to the west door of the Abbey, into the Abbey and finally to the top of Constitution Hill . . . Microphones will then follow the royal party as they return to Buckingham Palace by a circuitous route taking them past Trafalgar Square and Oxford Circus, and His Majesty will, himself, climax an historic day in the annals of radio by speaking to his peoples everywhere as dusk sweeps over London . . .

DAFOE WINS RENEWAL

Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, whose stationery is adorned with the smiling heads of his five little god-daughters, has won a contract renewal with the Columbia network and will continue to broadcast through CBS facilities each Wednesday and Friday morning from 11.45 to 12 . . . "The March of Time," a radio production much more authentic than the periodical from which it sprung, will stick to the air throughout the spring and summer months it is understood . . . Idaho's largest station, which paradoxically is call-lettered KIDO joins NBC July 1, marking the 118th station to fly the NBC banner . . . CCF will soon become NBC's only Canadian outlet, the Broadcasting Corporation having decided to allow the CRCT-NBC contract to lapse . . .

GIRLS SWITCH TO EVENING

Phil Spitalny's all-girl orchestra will switch from Monday afternoon to the evening at 10 p.m. starting April 26. Rosalie Greene, the original Mary Lou of Showboat, joined the ensemble as singing mistress of ceremonies three weeks ago . . . The Metropolitan Opera Company starts its annual spring tour of four eastern cities on Easter Monday, and will conclude its regular New York season this Saturday afternoon with a special broadcast through CFCF of Wagner's masterpiece, "Lohengrin," with Kirsten Flagstad singing the role of Elsa. Flagstad is the reigning sensation of the Metropolitan Opera Company and is looked upon as one of the greatest interpreters of Wagner now living . . . "Canada 1937" is fast winning recognition as Canada's outstanding radio production, gaining added polish and brilliance with each successive broadcast. Honours for success of the Sunday afternoon program should be equally divided between technical and artistic departments, with the former due much credit for the smooth manner in which the efforts of London, Paris, Montreal and New York are blended together without hitch or interruption of any type . . .

Rupert Caplan, whose "Spotlight Parade" travels nationwide every Wednesday evening from CFCF and CRCM, remains director of "And So It Came To Pass," the only CBC dramatic emanating from Montreal.

London. — Sheila Thompson, the seven-weeks-old daughter of Queen Mary's second chauffeur, has become a god-daughter of her father's royal employer, who granted permission for the baby to be christened in the tiny chapel of Marlborough House.

Bruker, Reg'd, Is Centre For Fine Fashions

Guidance In Selection Of Fabric and Styling Is Feature Of Service At Popular Downtown Establishment

The spring wardrobe cannot be considered complete without at least one tailored costume of elegance and simplicity. A successful tailleur costume requires skilled cutting and fitting to individual measurements, together with technical precision in construction and finish. Such a service is offered by Bruker Reg'd., 1466 Crescent St.

This season, one has a variety of types from which to choose a tailored suit. The classic mannish type of suit appears in men's suiting fabrics of fine worsted and soft flannel in new patterns and colorings. This type of suit depends for its effectiveness on a clever adaption of men's styles, softened by subtle details of design to flatter the feminine figure, together with the perfect fit and individuality achieved only by custom tailoring.

ed hZOj shrdlu cmfw m m mm

A newer type of suit which promises to be very important this season is the stoftly tailored suit which supplements rather than replaces the mannish type. Intricate details of cut, seaming, novel placement of pockets, a wider variety of treatment in lapels and collars and a greater choice of finishing details distinguish this softer suit.

Bright Jackets, Dark Skirts

Bright jackets are combined with dark skirts, jackets are cut very short, or longer than the conventional length, the tunic influence is seen, all variations of the jacket and skirt theme.

As well as variety of design, variety of color is permitted to a greater degree than in the mannish suit. Two colors may be combined or plaids used with plain fabrics, not forgetting striped effects. For the woman who finds the classic tailleur too severe, or who prefers a more feminine costume, the softly tailored suit will prove most welcome.

The tailored coat-dress will be revived this season and, though allowing greater latitude in design, must be expertly cut and fitted to be most effective. Clever details of finish and trimming add much to the importance of the coat-dress.

An exceptionally fine collection of Parisian and Viennese designs of distinction is offered by Mr. Bruker to assist in the choice of the most important spring costume.

BEAUTIFUL SABLE SKINS

Four beautiful Hudson Bay sable skins made into a neckpiece by Coristine Fur Stores, 1241 Peel St.

FAVORITE FURS AT CORISTINE'S

Russian Sable, Kolinsky, Hudson Seal, Alaska Seal, Persian Lamb, etc. in all Types of Garments

Neckpieces calculated to lend glamor to the new spring turnouts are an important feature of the collection of fine peltries at Coristine Fur Stores, 1241 Peel street. Silver fox in the natural animal scarf mode continues to maintain its popularity while other rich furs are shown in two-skin neckpieces, as well as in capes of various flattering designs.

For the latter type of garment one and two-skin treatments are those most generally employed, the more elaborate effects, however, occasionally requiring as many as six and seven skins. Among the peltries slated for prominence is Martin, of which Coristine's are showing some fine specimens, both in the stone and the baum, as well as in the natural Canadian varities.

Fisher and the exclusive Russian sable will also be in the spotlight of fashion. Other varieties, unquestionably flattering to the feminine ensemble, though more reasonably priced, are Russian kolinsky fitch, grey squirrel, and Japanese marten.

Though those whose business is the evolving and developing of modes for the world of femininity are now for the most part concentrating there attention on the immediate present and the succeeding summer, furriers, of necessity governed by a considerably more forward outlook, are already seriously engaged in the business of considering and actually creating next year's models for those wise enough to order such garments now.

Favorites Next Winter

Hudson seal, Alaska seal, in either black or rich Safari brown, Persian lamb and caracul are among the media most favored by fur manufacturere for the winter of 1937-38. Styling which emanates from such arbiters of style as Molyneux, Lucille Paray and Marcel Rochas, is characterized by a youthfulness and dash distinctly flattering to the tall and slender woman while the mature as well as the so-called rather "difficult" figure types are recognized in models which, though more conservative, are unquestionably flattering in line.

Generally speaking, it would look at the present time like a fairly equal division of honors between the princess silhouette whose faultlessly fitting waist is accentuated by the vivacious glare of the skirt below, and the nonchallant seven-eighths swagger effect, utterly different but equally appealing. The latter treatment is especially flattering when the medium is Hudson or Alaska seal, the back falling in three big rippling folds which tend to highlight the characteristic lustre of the peltry.

Princess models frequently wear a particularly "sporty" air through the addition of belts, and swaggers are occasionally cut on rather form-fitting lines across the front, thus having the tendency to invest them with a rather neater and less bulky appearance, while they are also warmer than those cut on flowering lines throughout. The conservative semi-fitted models will, of course, enjoy wide prominence as usual.

Shoulders will be cut with moderate width and sleeves, full towards the top, will for the most part gradually taper to a close-fitting wrist. Some suggest the old-fashion puff treatment, others being on the leg-of-mutton order. Collars, though widely varied in conception, are fashioned on smaller lines than heretofore and usually fasten snugly about the neck. Some styles, of the upstanding flare variety, create the suggestion of added height, many, however, being in the regulation draped style.

For motoring and walking as well as for general spring and early autumn wear Coristine's are showing some smart jackets, some of which extend only to the natural waistline others being of finger-tip length.

BABES

She was giving a bridge party. When the patter of tiny feet was heard upstairs, she raised her hand for silence.

"Hush," she said, "the children are going to deliver their good-night message. It always gives me such a feeling of reverence to hear them. Listen."

There was a moment of tense silence, then, shrilly: "Mummy, Willie's found a flea."

Printing and publicity work of all kinds—phone the office.

Frilly Neckware For Manish Suit

Crisp and sheer and dainty, the new spring neckwear curls in tiny Rembrandt ruchings about the neckline, or dips with fluttering jabots to new lows. More V-necks are seen than in many years, for with softer suits in vogue the neckline may be either high or low.

Dotted swisses, embroidered organdies, lace-trimmed batistes and sheers, vie with tailed gilets or panels in the front of new suits. Pique, is once more a favorite, but linen in tucked and tailored versions is also smart.

Collar lines are varied, too, with flat smallish collars softened by stitchings or other detail. Girlish Peter-Pan types or small sailor collars are also noted in spring collections.

Guimpes often replace blouses, for they have short puff sleeves, and concentrate interest in the panel front shown by the suit. They are more advantageous to wear than gilets or panels, too, which may account for their popularity.

JIMMY McCORMICK ORGANIZES LOCAL BASKETBALL TOURNEY

Handsome Trophy Donated For Competition By Local Teams; Start Next Week

Plan to Start New Loop in Westmount Tuesday or Wednesday — Geo. P. Smith, A. W. Seaman, Norman O. Johnson on Executive Committee — Definite Entries Already Received — Those Wishing to Enter Have Until Tomorrow

For the first time in history a basketball champion will be declared in Westmount. In a tournament organized by Jimmy McCormick, prominent basketball coach, local basketball teams will have a chance to show their superiority over their neighbourhood rivals. The teams will be competing to be the first holders of a handsome trophy offered by Sammett and Blair, sporting-goods firm on St. Catherine Street West. The "Sammett and Blair" trophy will be put up for perpetual competition and will certainly be a valuable addition to any of the local clubs' trophy cabinets.

The tournament boasts of an efficient and exeperienced executive committees in Messrs. Geo. P. Smith, physical educational director of Westmount schools, A. W. Seaman, Hon. Vice-President of the Montreal Basketball League Council and Norman O. Johnson, President of the Montreal Church Basketball League.

Definite entries have been received and accepted from the three Montreal Basketball League teams operating in Westmount viz:—Queen's Grads, present champions of the M.B.A., section C., Westmount "Y" and Dominion-Douglas Church team, both the latter teams were finalists in their respective sections of the M.B.A. this year. At the same time two strong independent teams have signified their intention of entering.

An effort is being made to line up a team representing the Westmount Junior Footabll Club. The gridiron champs could put up a strong team in Tedlie, Fidkin, Swinden and others, all experienced cage hands.

There is still room for any other Westmount team or players wishing to take part in the tournament and information may be obtained by geting in touch with Jimmie McCormick at ELwood 9481. The dead-line for team entries has been set for Saturday noon, March 27th. Plans are being made for the tourney to get under way on either March 30th or 31st.

Westmount Baptist Church Notes

On Monday evening a cast of young people presented an impressive Easter play entitled: "Pilgrims of the Way." The portrayal was most effectively rendered by Walter Burke as Barnabas, Donald Foreman as Saul of Tarsus, Duncan McKechnie as John Mark, Sylvia Burke as Mary, the mother of John Mark, Sybil Grant as Rhodda and Leslie Carson as the Messenger. Miss Dorothy Brooke presided. Mr. Wilfred Williamson introduced the cast. Miss Gladys Harper read the Scripture lesson and Mr. Earl Large led in prayer. Miss J. Williamson sang two solos and Miss Margaret Simpson rendered a piano solo. The attendance was splendid.

Easter Sunday will be observed at all services. The theme of Rev. J. A. Johnston's morning sermon will be: "Now is Christ Risen." In the evening he will have as his subject "Treasures from that Syrian Tomb." Under the direction of Mr. Shirley McKys the choir will present very attractive Easter music. Mrs. F. J. Hodgson will preside at the organ.

TED FENWICK WINS IN BERMUDA GOLF

Ted Fenwick, well known golfer and Westmount resident, won the Belmont Manor golf tournament at Bermuda on Saturday, for the second straight year, defeating Syd Powell of Vancouver 5 and 4.

Fenwick started basly, but held a two hole lead at the end of the first nine. He increased it to four on the next nine.

MAINLY ABOUT ★★★ SOCIETY

Society — sociologically speaking—is divided into two general classes, the upper and the lower, with a wide stratum in between compromising most people just like you and us (or is it we?) Society is a crusty arrangement, with its upper crust, and is thus like a loaf of bread, the majority of the dough being in the middle. (If not used, the dough will turn sour. This event is known as a depression.)

When one speaks of society, one usually means the "upper crust" and the social and personal columns of the newspapers. Just why, nobody seems to know. Why the doings of so comparatively small a portion of the popular should be of such interest to themselves, and more especially to people on the outside looking in, is problematical. Perhaps if papers had no social and personal columns, things would be different. But that would put our Society editress out of a job, and that would never do. (Are you there, Miss Strachan?)

Who cares to read items like the following?—Mrs. Jones entertained at tea yesterday; Mr. and Mrs. Beetlepuss are spending the winter in Ozzamopiwizzle Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Kacious and their daughter Effie are away for the week end? Why not pep it up a bit and make the social and personal column worth reading—although we grant you that the persons concerned may not think as we do.

Revised Version

Mr. and Mrs. Will E. Becaught are away for the week end, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Max Wupy, who did not know they were coming. Mr. Wupy is considering moving to an un-named address shortly to obviate week-end visitors.

Mr. Hi Wayman has left for St. Vincent de Paul, where he will spend six years as the guest of the government for that little job on Maplebull avenue. (Visitors on Wednesdays only.)

The wedding took place yesterday of Mr. I. M. A. Sucker and the former Miss Wantha Hubby. Mr. Sucker's favorite hymn, "Fight the Good Fight" was played during the ceremony. Mrs. Sucker wore a knee length gown of printed cotton, with flour and cookery stains on it, and in place of the usual bouquet carried a rolling pin. Once or twice during the ceremony, when the groom seemed to falter in the responses, a wave from the rolling pin restored his confidence. For their wedding trip, the happy (?) couple left on a round of the local night clubs, and ended up in the Fullum street jail.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McAngus, of Sporran street, have left to spend the winter—and not much else—at Pom Beach.

Miss O'Calliganahan, the Griffintown beauty contest winner, has gone to the hospital for a few days, suffering from severe contusions in the area of the right ocular organ. (A black eye, to you.) Miss O'Calliganahan claimed she ran into a door in the dark. OH YEAH?

The wedding was held yesterday of Mr. Jock McUllochangus, and the former Miss Mary Lassie. The wedding was held in the back yard, so the chickens could eat the rice. Following the wedding, Mr. McUllochangus went on his wedding trip to Niagara Falls. His bride, having been there some years before, remained at home with her parents.

Now wouldn't that brighten up the page a bit? Next week, we'll give the dirt on Road Hogs.

"Now, Louis," said the teacher in the French primary school, "a slice of ham costs five sous, a piece of butter costs three sous and a small roll costs five sous. What does that make?"

"A three-franc sandwich," replied the precocious little beast.

Morn would be stark tragedy. Easter changes gloom into glory, tragedy into triumph. Amid the darkness of that grim night men did their worst: at the dawn of that glad morning God did His best. Life and immortality appear resplendent in that Risen Lord. He came from the tomb with the light of eternal life in His eyes and the flush of eternal life upon His cheek to announce the glad tidings that the tyrant had been conquered, that the King of Terrors had been hurled from his throne.

Easter is a time of spiritual rejuvenation. There are Winter seasons of the soul that chill and darken and deaden but Easter comes as the season of the heart's Springtime. Birds of Paradise return to the garden of life. New experiences of God bud and blossom and the resurrection becomes a personal reality when the Risen Christ reigns within.

Easter too, should be a time of renewed covenants and re-affirmed loyalties. It should do for us what ascending locks do for the vessels in the canal, it should lift us to higher levels of thought, desire and life. The challenge of Easter as stated by Paul is this: "Know ye not that so many of us were baptised into Jesus Christ were baptised into His death? Therefore we are buried with Him by baptism into death that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so, we also should walk in newness of life."

Our earnest desire for our fellow-citizens is that this Eastertide may prove a time inspiration, encouragement and blessing and that it may be a Springtime of spiritual renewal leading to a Summer of service and an Autumn of great fruitfulness.

Reunion Dinner This Thursday

One hundred boys and fathers have been invited to attend the sixth annual Turkey Dinner Reunion of Camp Laclouwhi, to be held on Thursday at 6.15 p.m., in St. Andrew's Church Hall, Cote St. Antoine Road and Stanton St.

An entertaining programme has been arranged, winding up with a ten-reel talking motion picture film.

Camp Laclouwhi is ideally placed in the heart of the Laurentian mountains, and is under the capable guidance of Fred B. Whittet.

Westmount High School Notes

By M. S.

Yesterday afternoon Westmount High closed it's doors for the Easter vacation. Everyone expressed the hope that the holidays would bring us some fine weather so that the mid-term vacation may be fully appreciated.

Good progress has been made in preparation for the Annual publication of the Westmount High Magazine. Editor-in-chief W. Kertland and his staff are hard at work assembling the many features. Many literary contributions have been prepared by the scholars. These, together with the graduation class biographies and many other items will comprise this number, and it is believed that the 1937 edition will exceed in interest all past issues.

From the number of rehearsals held during recent weeks by the newly formed orchestra and the girls choir under the direction of Mrs. F. Whiteley, music is evidently making appreciable progress at Westmount High. It is pleasing to note that music is taking its place in our schools and that right here on the Island of Montreal, orchestras and choral groups are making progress, and already recitals have come over the air from local schools.

Discarded Goods Are Required By Salvation Army

You will no doubt be moving or housecleaning this Spring. Why not sort out the articles you intend to discard and send them to the Salvation Army?

By doing this you will help keep men in employment and at the same time assist the work of relief.

The Salvation Army can use furniture, clothing, boots and rubbers, stoves, rags, bottles, and paper of all kinds, in fact anything for which you have no further use.

A call to FItzroy 5295 will bring the Red Truck of the Salvation Army to your door.

Locals Lose Exhibition Match Saturday Morning After All Night Journey

All Night Train Journey Proved Poor "Conditioner" For Local Champions — Game Started at 10.30 A.M. at Varsity Arena — Hellyer, Ross and Mowatt Scored For Westmount

Westmount High Seniors, champions of the local interscholastic league, were defeated 8-4 at Toronto on Saturday morning in an exhibition game with Upper Canada College at Varsity Arena. The players had left here early Friday evening via an excursion train, and the long journey was hardly a "conditioner" for the match, which began at 10.30 Saturday morning.

Upper Canada took a two goal lead inside of the first three minutes of play, Jack Woods and Laidlaw scoring, the former catching Fry, netminder for Westmount, on a penalty shot. Buddy Hellyer and Colin Ross tied the score shortly afterwards.

The Toronto team then scored three without reply from Westmount, and the first period closed with Westmount trailing 5-2. The only goal of the second period was scored by Jack Mowatt on an assist from Benison, making the score 5-3.

The final period saw a determined attempt by Westmount to tie the score or win the game. Their efforts boomeranged, however, and the collegians managed to get through their lines three times and sink the rubber to make the score 8-3.

Buddy Hellyer scored the final goal of the game for Westmount on a pass from Benison. The local team was unable to even the score, and the close of the match saw the Torontonians victorious.

This Appetising Recipe

FISH CHOWDER

1½ Pounds of fresh fish (cod, haddock or other fish)
2 Cupfuls of diced potatoes
1 Cupful of diced carrots
4 Cupfuls of water
¼ Pound of salt pork, diced
1 Medium onion, chopped
2 Tablespoonfuls of flour
2 Cupfuls of milk
Salt and pepper to taste

Remove the skin and bones from the fish and cut into small pieces. Cook the fish, the diced potatoes and the carrots in the water for 15 minutes. Fry the salt pork until crisp, remove the pieces and cook the onion in the fat until tender. Add the flour, stir until well blended and gradually add the milk, stirring until the mixture is smooth and thick. Combine this mixture with the fish and vegetables, season to taste with salt and pepper, simmer for a few minutes, stirring frequently and serve hot.

Metcalfe Pharmacy Is Now Last Word In Modern, Efficient Store

Progress, which alters all things, has been at work at one of Westmount's oldest sections. Fifty years ago the corner of Metcalfe avenue and St. Catherine street was part of a farm, and the present site of the Metcalfe Pharmacy was occupied by a flourishing tree. Later, a grocery store was erected on the site and run by a Mr. Regan; it was in turn operated by a Muir, and a Mr. Graham.

Ten years ago the premises was made into a pharmacy, and Lewis Sherwin, a McGill graduate who had just completed four years' work as pharmacist at the Montreal General Hospital, took over the store.

By giving good service, reliable drugs, and honest prescriptions worthy of his training, Mr. Sherwin has built up a substantial business.

Owing to the growth of business, the premises have had to be enlarged. A complete modern front has been added to the store, done in Vitrolite and polished stainless steel; and modern neon signs light up a scene that will appeal to the most discriminating eye.

Improvements do not end at the front of the store, however; the interior has been completey changed. Two walls have been removed, thus doubling the size of the premises, and a new modern dispensary has been installed.

Milk Bar

Keeping abreast of the times, Mr. Sherwin has installed a refrigerated milk bar, completely electrically equipped, for the dispensing of all kinds of milk and ice cream. This fixture is an excellent example of the beauty of a stainless steel and formica creation.

Additional help has been secured and a rapid free delivery service will be placed at the disposal of Westmount residents.

Mr. Sherwin extends a cordial invitation to all to visit him in his renovated quarters.

the fundamental cause of recurring cycles of depression are caused by a displacement in the economic ratio between saving and spending or, in other words, a too great piling up of investment and capital goods as opposed to spending and consumers' goods, then this plan is a step in the right direction. For every $1 borrowed at least $4 will be spent, as is proved by U.S. results. This wave of buying in such a vital industry as that of construction may well work wonders. It is a strange criteria of the times that instead of preaching thrift as our forefathers did, we must preach spending. But we must face the challenge of our own day and age, or God help us. There is no use in making things unless we can get somebody to buy them, no use in creating wealth unless it is consumed.

"Gentlemen, I appeal to you to do your part. Don't be content with tacit approval of the plan, sitting back and letting the other fellow do the work. Think of your own homes. Improve them. Give an example. One painting job on a street breeds ten others. Don't let worry of the future detain you. We are all going to sink or swim as a group. Don't say to yourself that you can't afford it. You must afford it. We can still less afford a general crack-up. Think it over. Apart from your own contribution, talk the plan up. Instruct your salesmen, jobbers and dealers to play it up. Refer to it in your advertising and exhibits.

"Today, as never before, gentlemen, Canada expects every man to do his duty."

the message of Hope. You have a conflict to wage somewhere, within yourself and in the world too. How is the battle going? Have you lost heart or have you given up trying? or allowed yourself to drift? Take heart today. Jesus is risen. He won the conflict for you; He will help you win it too. Trust Him and begin again. No one need be defeated if only he will continue to fight. Be hopeful of yourself.

Every Sunday is the weekly Festival of the Resurrection. It should be characterized by the note of triumph and of worship. Today it is fast losing its sanctity by the incessant demand for pleasure. Jesus and the Resurrection are ignored. All of you who worship on Easter Day look to it that you faithfully observe every Sunday. If you are a parent it is your duty and privilege to bring your family with you to God's House before you enter upon any recreation.

Let the new clothes that you don today be the outward symbol of the new life you purpose living in the faith of the Risen Christ.

the proclamation of the glorious tidings. "He rose again; He rose again; On this glad day."

An in that glad chorus we find the heart of the message of Easter. It is this, that Jesus, the Lord of Love and Light and Truth, rose triumphant over sin and death and by His wondrous victory brought a message of Hope and Joy and Salvation to all mankind.

A Message of Hope, in that the power of sin was broken.

A Message of Joy, for truth and love had won the victory, even over death.

A Message of Salvation, for "whosoever will," may experience through the ever living Saviour, that same power to triumph over sin and the grave.

backsliding among His followers and to take them again into His blest companionship. Ah, the world about us is full of fallen Peters, of backsliders, who have denied or still deny their Lord. How many, oh, many, vowed to be faithful to Him unto death when they renewed their baptismal vow at His altar, forgotten, forgotten His Gospel, forgotten His altar, forgotten their sacred vow; they live with the world and for the world and practically say as Peter said: "I do not know this man Jesus." Yet they are not happy. Remorse often gnaws at their hearts, and in secret they long to be back, with their Saviour, with His Gospel, with His Church. Where we know of such a faithless Peter, let us make it our business to tell him the blessed truth that the risen Lord still loves him and is anxious to have him back in His saving fold. "Go and tell Peter!" Let us not forget that sacred Easter duty.

Fill with radiance of Thy grace
The souls now lost in error's maze,
And all whom in their secret minds
Some dark delusion haunts and blinds.
And all who else have strayed from thee,
O gently seek! Thy healing be
To every wounded conscience given,
And let them also share Thy heaven.

Dispensers At Metcalfe Are Real Experts

Half a Million Prescriptions Without Error is Record of Lewis Sherwin; Alex Donaldson Has Had Enviable Career

Lewis Sherwin, pharmacist at the Metcalfe Pharmacy, conveniently situated at the corner of Metcalfe Avenue and St. Catherine Street, has an enviable reputation for his dispensing of prescriptions. Succeeding Frank W. Holman as pharmacist at the Montreal General Hospital in 1923, Mr. Sherwin dispensed an average of four hundred prescriptions a day for four years, which in round figures, amount to about half a million prescriptions. All these were made without a single error.

Mr. Sherwin is a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, and enlisted in the army when seventeen years of age. He saw active service in France with the Leicestershire regiment, and was returned to England with recommendations for a commission.

After taking his O.T.C. he returned to France and then took part in the "push" on the Rhine. Joining the army of occupation, he acted as interpreter to General Plummer of the 9th Corps in Germany.

Deciding to return to pharmacy, he applied for transfer to the R.A.M.C., and was appointed dispenser to the 25th General Hospital at Wiesdorf, Germany.

Following demobilization, Mr. Sherwin emmigrated to Canada and entered McGill University graduating with aggregate honours. He is keen on developing a thriving prescription business, in keeping with his earlier training.

Mr. Alex Donaldson, M.P.S., also a pharmacist at the Metcalfe Pharmacy, has had a varied career as a soldier and dispenser. Born at Creeff, in Scotland, he graduated as a chemist and druggist from Edinburgh University, renowned throughout the world for its excellent medical and pharmaceutical courses. During the war he saw service in German East Africa, with the South African Rifles, after which he was dispenser in Johannesburg Hospital, one of the largest in the British Empire.

Mr. Donaldson is also a graduate of the Ontario College of Pharmacy.

Encouraging Reports On Home Improvement Plan

At the weekly meeting of the Montreal Committee of the Home Improvement Plan held Friday afternoon several encouraging reports were submitted by the different sub-committees which comprise the Montreal organization. As indicated by these reports a great deal of work has been accomplished in the Montreal area during the past fortnight and an even more active program will be carried out during the coming weeks.

Undoubtedly the opening Dinner-Meeting held last week in the Windsor Hotel at which Mr. Arthur B. Purvis and Mr. C. E. Gravel were the main speakers, has stimulated greater interest in the local operations of the Home Improvement Plan. Many important Montreal Companies were officially represented at this Dinner-Meeting and their respective Companies are now taking steps to direct their own sales activities in a manner to secure full advantage of the H. I. P. program.

An important discussion at today's meeting centered around a motion regarding the relationship of increased assessment to property improvement under the H. I. P. A sub-committee was appointed to take this matter up with the proper civic officials.

Reports

A report from the Speakers Committee revealed that over 20 well known public speakers were contributing their time to speak at the different service Clubs, Curling Clubs and many other similar organizations in the interest of the H. I. P. in this way, it was estimated that several thousand Montrealers would receive first-hand information regarding the different ways in which they could take advantage of the Home Improvement Plan to improve their homes.

It was also reported that several large Canadian corporations with Head-offices in Montreal were enlisting the aid of H. I. P. speakers to address their annual sales convention being held this Spring.

The Architect's Committee reported that their members had received many inquiry from home owners and that there was every indication of a building boom this Spring.

It was announced that the Ladies' Committee will hold an important meeting on Tuesday, Mar. 23rd, following which several interesting announcements are expected.

Mr. Alfred H. Paradis, chairman of the Montreal Committee, presided at the meeting which was one of the most enthusiastic held to date. Other members of the Committee present included: Messrs. Wilfrid Gagnon, vice-chairman; W. S. Hulbig, Jean Perreault, C. J. A. Cook, J. H. Dupuis, Selwyn Irwin, W. D. McEwan, Raoul Trepanier, Edgar Genest, V. I. Traversy, G. H. Fisk, F. X. Leduc, A. J. C. Paine, M. Langlois.

Plumbers Have A Word To Say

Among the modernization schemes, obtainable under the Home Improvement Plan, which appeal most strongly to many householders is the provision of extra bathroom and lavatory accomodations.

While many feel the need of it, it is sometimes a problem to know just where to put it. This is a matter in which an ingenious plumbing contractor can always be of service, advises the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating. Accustomed to solving this problem, he can always find a practical and convenient location for an additional bathroom or downstairs washroom.

Usually there is an unused hall-end or a large clothes closet which reveals an unforseen opportunity for conversion into a charmingly modern and attractive bathroom. Sometimes bedrooms are larger than necessary and offer a corner which may be utilized. Quite a large number of houses have more bedrooms than are required and one of the smaller bedrooms may be converted into a bathroom with, perhaps, room to spare for a dressing room or for closet space.

Many older houses have more room than modern families require and to convert unused space into conveniences not only makes home life more agreeable but also adds greatly to the sale or rental value of a house. The trend of present day requirements and home design is distinctly towards more and better bathroom facilities.
