ONLY ONE CONTEST IN MUNICIPAL ELECTION Judge Hackett Dead--Martin Is Returned At Montreal

J. K. Edwards Is Elected Mayor By Acclamation

Mayor Braut Retired and No Other Name Was Brought Against That of Mr. Edwards—Aldermen Houlihan and Forest Re-Elected by Acclamation to Centre and South Ward Seats—East Ward Electors Fail to Agree Upon Candidates and Two Names Are Brought Up—Messrs. Ephrem Beauchesne and J. E. Choquette Will Contest This Seat—Election for This Ward Will Take Place on Tuesday Next—Meetings Will Be Held During Interval—Mayor Braut Congratulates Mr. Edwards Upon His Election and Thanks Public for Support Given Him During His Term—Mr. Edwards Thanks Public for Honor Shown Him and Promises to Work in Best Interests of City—Alderman Houlihan Also Heard at Nomination Meeting, as Well as Messrs. Beauchesne and Choquette.

MR. JAMES KEITH EDWARDS was this morning declared elected by acclamation Mayor of the city to succeed ex-Mayor William Braut, while Mr. F. P. Houlihan and Dr. L. Forest were unanimously re-elected aldermen of the Centre and South Wards, respectively. In the East Ward, however, where there was a vacant seat, owing to Alderman Bourque's desire to retire from municipal life, two candidates came forward, namely, Messrs. Ephrem Beauchesne and J. E. Choquette, and elections for this particular section of the city will be held on Tuesday next.

Mr. Antonin Deslauriers, the city clerk, presided over the nomination meeting, which was held in the public auditorium of the City Hall between ten and eleven o'clock this morning.

At eleven o'clock sharp the result of the nominations were announced by Mr. Deslauriers, following which several short addresses were heard.

WILLIAM BRAUT COMPLIMENTS SUCCESSOR TO OFFICE

The first speaker to be heard was ex-Mayor Braut, who complimented the newly elected mayor and the aldermen who were re-elected by acclamation.

During the course of his remarks ex-Mayor Braut referred, very briefly, to his term as chief magistrate, pointing out that he had always attempted to act in the best interests of the city, and concluded by wishing Mr. Edwards success during his term of office. Mr. Edwards, who addressed the gathering in English and French, thanked the people of Sherbrooke for having elected him Mayor and especially for having elected him to this important position by acclamation. He assured his hearers that, during his term as Chief Magistrate, he would always try to serve the city to the best of his ability, and expressed the hope that all would work together for the general good.

Alderman Houlihan, who was re-elected as centre ward representative, also addressed the gathering and expressed his thanks at being re-elected, and added that he hoped his record during his term had been satisfactory. Alderman Houlihan, during the course of his remarks, paid a tribute to the retiring Mayor, and said "although we not always agreed with Mayor Braut, he nevertheless gave us very valuable advice and much food for thought."

The next two speakers to be called upon by the chairman were the two east ward candidates, Messrs. Beauchesne and Choquette. Mr. Beauchesne was very brief in his remarks, which were made in English and French, and stated that during the week several meetings would be held at which his programme would be explained. He extended an invitation to the public generally to attend these meetings. Mr. Choquette spoke at greater length than did his opponent, although he did not go into his programme.

Mr. Edwards Has Had Much Municipal Experience
Mr. J. K. Edwards, who will occupy the Mayor's chair for the next two years, has had considerable municipal experience. He was for seven years a member of the City Council, during which time he held many important committee offices, as well as being pro-Mayor for a term. He also gained valuable information and experience in Board of Trade work in which he has always taken a keen interest, while further experience, which will serve him in good stead, was secured while he was industrial commissioner for the city.

JUDGE HACKETT PASSED AWAY LAST EVENING

Had Been Failing in Health for Some Months—Held Many Important Positions During His Lifetime.

(Special to the Record)
COWANSVILLE, Que. April 13.—Hon. Michael Felix Hackett, judge of the Superior Court of Quebec for the District of Bedford since 1915, well known and highly respected throughout the Dominion, passed away last evening at his home at Cowansville. Judge Hackett, who was seventy-five years of age, has been in failing health for several months and his death was not altogether unexpected. Born on August 23rd, 1851, at Granby, Que., the son of Patrick Hackett, merchant, and Mary (Griffin) Hackett, Hon. Mr. Hackett was educated at the Granby Academy, College of St. Marie de Monnoir, St. Hyacinthe College and McGill University. He read law for the Hon. J. C. Abbott, who was later Prime Minister, and graduated from the law faculty of McGill University in 1874. He was admitted to the bar the same year and took up practice of his profession at Stanstead, being created a Q.C. by the Earl of Derby in 1890. He became a captain in militia and held a medal for service during the Fenian raid of 1870, and on December 3, 1915, was made Judge of the Superior Court.

The deceased was president of the Stanstead County Farmers' Institute; Mayor of the Village of Stanstead Plain for fifteen years, chairman of the Board of School Trustees for the same period, warden of Stanstead County for five years, director and vice-president of the Stanstead and Sherbrooke Mutual Fire Insurance Company, president of St. Joseph's Society and Grand President of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association of Canada from 1895 to 1916, a member of the Board of Examiners for School Teachers for the Eastern Townships for six years, batonnier for the District of St. Francis 1892-93 and 1900-01, and President of the Eastern Townships Liberal-Conservative Party in the Province of Quebec.

Mr. Hackett was first returned to Quebec Legislative Assembly in the general election of 1892 and on February 28, 1893, he entered the (Continued on Page 9)

HON. M. MARTIN WAS ELECTED BY LARGE MARGIN

Montreal Electorate Selected Mederic Martin as Their Chief Magistrate for Next Two Years.

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, April, 13.—Piling up a record vote in the history of civic elections in Montreal, the electorate went to the polls yesterday and showed that they favored Hon. Mederic Martin as their chief magistrate for the next two years. The plurality for Hon. Mr. Martin over J. V. Deslauriers, the runner-up, was 22,482.

Thus, after his defeat in 1924 at the hands of Charles Duquette by a plurality of 3,104, Hon. Mederic Martin returns to the City Hall as Mayor to add to his long term record as first citizen of the Metropolitan City of Montreal from 1914 to 1924.

"More power for the Mayor of Montreal, including the restoration of the veto; the power of supervision over employees, carrying with it the right of suspension, and a system of payment for paving whereby the entire charge will be borne by the city as a whole out of local power," are the main articles of a civic programme which Hon. Mederic Martin laid before the electorate in a series of fiery meetings during a ten day period.

The total vote cast for the Mayorality yesterday was 94,249. Of this number Hon. Mederic Martin received 52,094 votes, Alderman J. V. Deslauriers received 29,612 votes and J. B. Baillargeon trailed with 12,543 votes, losing his deposit. Mr. Martin is elected by a majority of the total vote cast. Yesterday's vote marks a record in the matter of a turn-out. In 1924 the number of votes cast was 82,582, of which Mayor Charles Duquette received 42,183 votes, Hon. Mederic Martin, 39,079 votes and J. H. Pettit, 1,320 votes.

Hudson Bay Railway Will Pay For Itself By Colonization And Opening Up Of Vast Stores Of Minerals, States Robert Forke

Leader of Progressives Declares Western Farmers Want Hudson Bay Railway, Not Only for Expediting Shipping of Wheat to Europe, But for Transportation of Dairy Products and Cattle.

(Associated Press Despatch)
TORONTO, April, 13.—The Hudson Bay Railroad will pay for itself by colonization and the opening up of vast stores of minerals, declared Robert Forke, M.P., in an interview while in Toronto.

The possibilities of all this northern country were very great for mining, the Progressive leader said. "There is also a large tract of splendid agricultural land north of Le Pas, which has not yet been touched on account of the lack of transportation facilities."

Western farmers, Mr. Forke said, wanted the Hudson Bay railroad, not only for expediting the shipping of wheat to Europe, but for transportation of dairy products and cattle.

Mr. Forke said the three million dollars voted by Parliament would make actual shipping possible. "We do not want any large amount of money spent on the scheme until the shipping facilities of the straits are actually proved," he said.

Canada Needs Men With Broad Vision
Canada needs men with broad vision—who are not narrow or sectional in their outlook—declared Mr. Forke, in addressing the Canadian Club on national unity.

"Talk as you will," the Progressive leader said, "there is an east and west, and it is one of the great political factors in this Dominion. Canada today needs public spirited men, of broad vision, even more than she needs capital."

Mr. Forke said he brought to Toronto a message of fellow citizenship. If Canada was to grow and prosper in power and influence, we must be a united people and to be this there must be give and take—a spirit of compromise, of good will and of national unity. There was no doubt that wartime industry gave to this country a fictitious prosperity, Mr. Forke said. "In 1926 we were still as a nation seeking to adjust ourselves to changed conditions, with better outlook than for years past. "If agriculture in the west can be made profitable and attractive," Mr. Forke declared "this agricultural empire of the west will fulfill all the hopes that have been entertained of future greatness."

MINISTER OF FINANCE ANNOUNCES BUDGET WILL BE BROUGHT DOWN ON THURSDAY; MINISTERS INTRODUCED

Measures Respecting Revaluation of Soldier Settlement Land, Advances to Settlers on Crown Lands and Old Age Pensions Will Be Considered in Commons Today—House Passed W. A. Black's Maritime Rights Resolution Favoring Routing of Canadian Trade Through Canadian Ports and Adjustment of Freight Rate.

(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, Ont., April 13.—Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Finance, announced in the House of Commons yesterday that the budget would be brought down on Thursday.

When the House opened Hon. J. C. Elliott, Minister of Labor, recently re-elected in West Middlesex, was introduced by Premier King and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice. The House yesterday passed the

MOVES GOOD FAITH SHOULD BE KEPT WITH MARITIMES

(Canadian Press.)
OTTAWA, April, 13.—A resolution was moved in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon by W. A. Black (Conservative, Halifax) stating that "good faith should be kept with the Maritime Provinces and other interested parts of the Dominion in regard to the recorded assurances of governments and Parliament and agreements set out in the statutes of the Dominion respecting the routing of Canadian trade over Canadian territory and through Canadian ports, and that freight rates over the Intercolonial Railway should be adjusted in accordance with the understanding of Confederation."

The resolution was seconded by Dr. Murray McLaren (Conservative, St. John-Albert).

Mr. Black quoted a number of statements on both sides of politics who, from time to time, had declared in favor of rights. He quoted Rt. Hon. W. S. Fielding as saying that "after years of discussion, humbugging and perjury" action should be taken to divert export traffic to Canadian channels and through Canadian ports. The National Transcontinental Railway had been built to bring the products of Western Canada through the Canadian east.

Dealing with the proposal to refer the question of Maritime rights to a royal commission, Mr. Black said that the members of Parliament from the Maritime Provinces were not satisfied with that.

"The Government should know, not only what to do, but how to do it," exclaimed Mr. Black. Prompt and definite action, he said, must be taken at the present session of Parliament; the Government should make a declaration of policy indicating that it intends to do justice to the Maritimes. "It is the duty of the Government to deal with the question themselves, and at the present session of Parliament."

Mr. Black declared that Hon. E. M. Macdonald, Minister of National Defence, had stated in the 1921 election campaign, in the course of his reply to a question by a Maritime newspaper, that he supported the detachment of the Intercolonial Railway from the Canadian National.

Mr. Macdonald had also stated in 1921 that he favored the operation of the Intercolonial from Moncton instead of from Toronto. What had Mr. Macdonald done to carry out the ideas he had expressed towards the betterment of the Maritime Provinces? Had Mr. Macdonald made representations to the Government and been overruled? Surely before the last election he had not lacked for support from the "solid sixteen" elected in 1921, but afterwards reduced to fifteen members. Mr. Black wished to assure Parliament that insofar as the large number of Maritime members elected in October and seated on the Conservative benches were concerned, they proposed to ask Parliament for immediate rectification of the evils now existing in these three provinces.

Action Required Immediately.
The result of the two provincial elections in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and the recent general election demonstrated that there was a growing dissatisfaction against the treatment accorded to the Maritime Provinces on the part of people residing there. There was also a conviction that the Maritime Provinces were being looked upon as "minor and unimportant parts of Confederation."

Action was required, and required immediately. The people of the Maritimes would not be turned aside from their intention to have prompt action, even by the appointment of a royal commission.

The entity of the Intercolonial Railway should be restored. Freight rates should be reduced so that the people of the Maritime Provinces could get their products to other parts of Canada. Maritime ports should be fully equipped for export purposes. Protection should be given to the basic industries of the Maritime Provinces. Full consideration to the rights of the Maritimes in all colonization and immigration policies should be shown. For many years Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island had been ignored in matters of immigration and colonization.

Dr. McLaren declared it was with the greatest pleasure that he seconded the motion before the House. It was absolutely essential for the life of the Dominion of Canada that trade in this country should be over Canadian rails and through Canadian ports. This principle had been expressed by a Liberal Government in 1903 and a Conservative Government in 1914. Surely Parliament could rise to the occasion and accord to the Maritimes the rights due them.

The Government of the country itself should act in this matter as was essentially a government problem. The present Government had no policy whatever. Yet it was placing the matter before a commission. The country was entitled to hear from the Prime Minister what the Government actually believed in respect to the problem of the Maritime Provinces. Dr. McLaren hoped that the resolution would reach a vote.

Requested Non-Partisan Consideration.
R. K. Smith (Conservative-Cum-berland) in a brief speech, asked for the non-partisan consideration of the question. He pointed out the pre-Confederation promises and the parliamentary commitments made at the time of Confederation. The Government was the only body that could deal with this particular problem.

C. H. Cahan (Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George) said that successive administrations had failed to consolidate the original plan of political union. The reference of (Additional Sport on Page 8.)

China Today Is Without A President And Also Practically Without A Government

Marshal Wu Still Hesitating at Taking Over Control of Peking—Foreigners Attend Race Meeting Outside Gates of Peking, Only Few Miles from Scene of Fighting.

(Associated Press Despatch)
PEKING, April 13.—China is without a president and practically without a government. Marshal Wu Pei Fu, Chihli warlord, is still hesitating at taking over control of Peking. Tuan Chun Jui, chief executive of China, deposed by a bloodless coup d'etat last Saturday, is now lodged in the legation quarters, where several cabinet ministers also have taken refuge. Wu Pei Fu today sent a representative to the capital to consult with Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian dictator, his ally, before he decided whether to come to Peking. Meanwhile the Kuominchun (National Army) chiefs are making desperate efforts to retard the advance of the "allied" forces from east and southeastward toward Peking. The nightly sound of heavy artillery fire near Hwang Tsun, ten miles to the south, is plainly audible here, but in spite of this and the events of Saturday and Sunday, there was little evidence today inside of the walls that anything unusual was taking place. Foreigners attended a race meeting outside the city gates, only a few miles from the scene of the engagements. Tso Kun, a former president of China, released from captivity by the Kuominchun coup last Saturday, is reported to have gone to Tientsin.

CARRIED WIFE TO BED

Suffered So She Could Not Walk. Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mining, Ontario. "I am a practical nurse and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to suffering women. For three months I was almost helpless and could not sit at the table long enough to drink a cup of tea. Many a time my husband carried me to bed, I would be so weak. Then he read in the paper of a woman suffering as I did who got better after taking the Vegetable Compound, so we went and got it for me. When I had taken three bottles I was just like a new woman and have had splendid health ever since. When I feel any bearing-down pains I always take it, sometimes a half bottle or whatever I need. It is my only medicine and I have told many a one about it. Any one wanting to know more about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I will gladly write to her. I do all I can to recommend it for I feel I owe my life and strength to it." — Mrs. NEAL BOWMAN, R. R. 1, Mining, Ontario.

PETER HEARS A RUMOR

Rumor one should never trust Unless he feels he really must. —Peter Rabbit.

There are times when one feels that he must trust in rumor. But those times are not often. You know rumor is simply a story which has been repeated and repeated without any one knowing the actual truth. Usually there is some truth in a rumor, but usually it is difficult to know what is true and what isn't. So it is wise not to put too much faith in rumors.

It happened one day that Bob White stopped at the dear Old Briar-patch for a bit of gossip. Bob often calls on Peter. "Have you heard the rumor?" asked Bob.

Promptly Peter pricked up his long ears. "What rumor?" he demanded. Bob White chuckled. "You haven't heard it then or you wouldn't ask," said he. "They say there is a newcomer to the Green Meadows and the Green Forest. In fact, there are two newcomers, if what I hear is to be believed."

Peter sat up a little straighter, if that were possible. "You don't say!" he exclaimed. "Who are they?"

Bob White shook his head. "I don't know," he confessed. "I am told they are a couple of feathered folk, but who they are or where they have come from, or why they are here, I haven't the least idea, I've been keeping an eye open for them for several days, but haven't seen them yet."

"Do you suppose they have come up from the Sunny South?" inquired Peter.

Again Bob shook his head. "I don't know," said he.

"Have you heard what they look like?" Peter inquired.

"Yes," said he, "I've heard, but I don't believe what I've heard. You see, I don't believe there is any such looking person. I've never heard any of the birds who go south for the winter tell of any such looking person down there as one of these is said to be. They do say he is so puffed up over his own looks that he will have nothing to do with anybody else. But, as I said before, I do not believe all I hear. I must see these strangers for myself."

Peter nodded that funny little head of his. "Quite right, Bob White. Quite right," said he. "There is nothing like seeing for oneself. Where did you hear that these strangers were seen, and who did you hear had seen them?"

"Blacky the Crow is said to have seen them," replied Bob White. "I got it from Carol the Meadow Lark, and he was told by Little Friend the Song Sparrow, and he had it from Sammy Jay who said that Blacky the Crow told him. The story is that Blacky saw these strangers close by the Old Pasture and later on the edge of the Old Orchard."

PETER HEARS A RUMOR

Rumor one should never trust Unless he feels he really must. —Peter Rabbit.

There are times when one feels that he must trust in rumor. But those times are not often. You know rumor is simply a story which has been repeated and repeated without any one knowing the actual truth. Usually there is some truth in a rumor, but usually it is difficult to know what is true and what isn't. So it is wise not to put too much faith in rumors.

It happened one day that Bob White stopped at the dear Old Briar-patch for a bit of gossip. Bob often calls on Peter. "Have you heard the rumor?" asked Bob.

Promptly Peter pricked up his long ears. "What rumor?" he demanded. Bob White chuckled. "You haven't heard it then or you wouldn't ask," said he. "They say there is a newcomer to the Green Meadows and the Green Forest. In fact, there are two newcomers, if what I hear is to be believed."

Pain in the Back Yields to Nerviline

If you have failed to secure relief from other remedies, rub on lots of good old "Nerviline" the strongest, most penetrating pain relief on the market. Nerviline acts quickly on small pains and is the surest to drive out the big ones. It's because every drop of Nerviline rubs in, because it has the ability to sink in deeply that it drives away pain that ordinary oily Liniments won't touch. Large 55c. bottles at all dealers.

corns removed at first soaking

No matter how long you may have suffered from corns or how deeply embedded they may have become, Radox Bath Salts will remove them without trouble and without pain. To cut a corn is but to prune it, and for the temporary relief you suffer increased agony a little later. A Radox foot-bath is the certain way to be rid of a corn. Read what this Radox user says: "As an agricultural worker, I have suffered agonies, and have tried all sorts of so-called cures. We got a packet of Radox, and the result was marvellous. The first soaking fetched out two large corns that nothing else would touch. One is about half an inch round, and stood out from the foot a good quarter inch like a button."

A. L. When you put your feet into a foot-bath containing Radox the salts soften the hard outer layers of the corn and the oxygen which Radox liberates enters the pores, opens them, and penetrates, further and further, carrying the corn-softening salts right to the root of the corn, which is thus loosened so that it can be lifted out bodily. This life-giving oxygen leaves the feet clean and healthy. Because it is the oxygen which carries the corn solvents to the root of the corn, and because Radox liberates, by test, more oxygen than any other salts, it is obvious that Radox is more efficient in removing corns than any other salts. On your way home to-night, buy a package at the druggist's.

PUBLIC CONVOCATION AT BISHOP'S UNIVERSITY

The public are invited to attend a meeting of the convocation of Bishop's University, to be held this evening at 8.45 o'clock in the Bishop Williams Memorial Hall, when two honorary degrees will be conferred. Mr. F. E. Meredith, K.C., L.D., will be installed as Chancellor and a portrait of Mr. John Hamilton, D.C.L., will be unveiled. Speeches will be made by the following:

ON DOCTORS AND OTHER THINGS.

Doctors try to locate the cause of the trouble before urging a relief, so also do all well regulated corporations and municipalities. Lawyers will tell you they lose many good cases by their clients withholding the truth, and the opponent, of course, takes advantage of this, so it is with municipalities who withhold the truth from the taxpayers, or deal out false statements to them.

It is possibly all right for a circus to whitewash a black elephant, and so jolly the people, or a sleight-of-hand performer on the stage to turn water into wine, but such deceptions will become a body of Councilors. Fooling the people (like converting them) is one thing, but fooling them in that state is quite another. It was said in Council, "we may not be fooling ourselves, but we are certainly fooling the people." Surely that's plain enough without explanation: but, what you gonna do 'bout it? Grin and bear it, and thank heaven that it's not worse? Haven't you been doing that long enough? Are you so indifferent to your own interest, that you won't even try to learn how to improve conditions, when you get the chance? Don't think that you must be in the Council to do something for improvement, for you are completely wrong in that; because, more has been done for this city, by energy outside that circle, than was ever done within it; and our future depends upon the same source for success.

Christopher has told us that he was not a member of the Council, yet we all know what he has accomplished for the city; and all this, through the medium of the Record, and his ideas are still being exerted by every department with increasing benefits to the city. Tomorrow, this space will contain the third volume of the fifteen years essential history of the city. How many have preserved the first two volumes? This work will be incomplete without each volume. They will contain: population, valuations taxable, valuations non-taxable, building permits, funded debt, current debt, maintenance of poor (for file), showing the increase in each item for the last fifteen years; besides some other trivial things that the taxpayers should have known each year. We have all heard of how Nero fiddled while Rome burned. What a delightful pastime for that jolly old ruler! Who, nowadays, blames Nero? Who blames the people?

Some natures are much slower than others to introduce reforms, but there can be no excuse for a municipality suffering the want of a head to care for its interests; and where the whole intelligent members of that miscellaneous community are fully convinced that such a head should be secured, and yet do nothing to put this conviction into action, or even make an attempt at it. The Little Orator advocates this innovation of a City Manager twenty-five years ago. Had this idea been acted on then, this city would now be more than double its population. He also said, and the same thought is equally good today, "but this city on a sound business basis, and industries would be breaking their necks in the rush to locate here." H. H. Moroney, General Real Estate, over Laura Record's Candy Shop.

OLD HOME WEEK.

(By G. Ellery Read, D.D.)

In view of the fiftieth anniversary of the granting of a charter of incorporation to our city some thought has been given to making arrangements for a suitable celebration of this important civic event. The suggestion was made that an Old Home Week would be an appropriate form for the celebration to take. The suggestion has its attractions. At first sight it has the merit of simplicity and an appeal to those sentiments which grow out of attachment to the place of one's birth and first abode. We may well imagine that those who were born here would gladly return to spend at least a week in their birthplace, and that they would bring with them their children and grandchildren to visit the old town. In such company they would become reminiscent concerning the former days and point out the many changes that have taken place in the intervening years since they departed to make their homes elsewhere. One can almost hear them describe the streets built of crushed stone, which was soon ground to fine powder and turned into deep liquid mud by a heavy rain storm; the old bridges that spanned the St. Francis and Magog rivers; the old Lansdowne market, and other features of the earlier days of our city. And then what gratification to hear their compliments on the changes wrought in the interval—miles of paved streets, steel bridges, a modern market, spacious and profitable, the Court House on Strathcona Square, and many other admirable aspects of the city as it now is. One can go a little farther and imagine the old-home "weekers" expressing their profound regret that they had not remained to grow up with the city and have a part in its progress and development.

Another feature, which may not have been thought of, is that some might return to their first home-town ready to help us to do things a little better than we have done them. Greatly daring, they might show us wherein we have failed to make our city harmonious with the beautiful natural surroundings in which it is situated. They might point to our inadequate playground facilities for children; they might ask an awkward question about the old skating rink and what has been done to replace it; they might enquire if a by-law had been passed to limit our Art Gallery to its present size, both as to space and the number of pictures hanging on its walls. Many other questions might be asked, which we can easily imagine, such as the reason for multiplying ugly and jerry-built tenements, instead of building comfortable and cosy homes for the people to dwell in. But we might as well stop here. It might be good for us to be asked these questions, for, unfortunately, a tendency to be satisfied with the way we do things is too easily developed. If we became uncomfortable under the questioning we might well point to some fine things accomplished of genuine civic benefit, such as the splendid hospitals that crown the eastern heights of the St. Francis, and the spacious Sacred Heart Home with its ample provision for the aged and the orphaned. Besides these we might tell of manifold activities carried on without the aid of splendid buildings and large facilities, but which do not make the same impression upon the public, but are of incalculable value in the life of our city.

The foregoing suggests only some of the benefits that might come from an old-home week. Many others might be mentioned such as the additional business that would come with a large influx of visitors to the city. This would be an advantage very generally and would be most welcome after the long period of business depression which we have had to share with the rest of the country.

But it does not seem likely, unless much more interest is aroused in the proposal, that we shall have an old-home week, for whatever merits the proposal may have there are difficulties that have to be taken into consideration. One is the enormous amount of work to be done to carry out such an undertaking successfully. An organization would have to be effected a long time in advance of the event, much longer than lies between now and the proposed celebration.

There is another consideration which may not have been thought of, and that concerns the migratory habits of our generation. There is a very pronounced return to the nomadic instincts of our primitive ancestry. We move from place to place without experiencing much regret. A million people a year in the United States alone move from the country to the city, while the number of those who flit from town to town and city to city is well-nigh past reckoning. That intense devotion to one's city expressed by the Psalmist when he cried, "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy," is the devotion of the exile, not of the man who changes his place of abode in perfect freedom to go where he wills. Even the modern Jew knows little of the passionate longing of the exiled Psalmist. Lacking this sentiment of permanent attachment to one place, it is difficult to arouse enthusiasm for an old-home week.

Notwithstanding this migratory tendency, the ideal of an old-home week might be realized if we could discover a few people who have moved from our city to other places and who are overmastered with a desire to return to their former home for a short visit. This would mean originating old-home week by those who really desire to return, not by those of us who think they should experience this desire. To put it another way: Old-home week should be a spontaneous and not calculated celebration; not a manufactured event, however admirable in its purpose, but a growth out of men's love for and memory of the old associations in which they were born and nurtured.

If this is the animating move of one's return to his first home, we might expect to have an old-home week every week in the year, for always would some one be turning his face towards us and planning to renew his life by contact with his early surroundings.

The city that draws a man back must have certain characteristics of good that have been indelibly stamped upon his memory. If we remember this, we shall understand that our opportunity lies in making our city a centre of beauty whose gracious influences will lure the wanderer home with the feeling that wherever he may have to dwell, his life is still where he first saw the light. This may seem to take us into the realm of the intangibles, but it is here that the realities lie. As Tennyson put it,

—the city is built
To music, therefore never built at all,
And therefore built for ever.

MUST PAY FOR REPORTS.

(Elora Express)
The value of the published reports of municipal Council proceedings is very often overlooked. Not so in the State of Michigan, where a new law requires every village Council to publish all proceedings of the Council in the nearest newspaper, within ten days after the meeting. The newspapers have to be paid for this service which, in this locality, we give without charge.

NOTHING THAT A REFERENDUM CAN DECIDE.

(Christian Science Monitor)
With one-tenth of the population of the United States, the State of New York naturally looms large in the discussion of all national issues. Therefore, it is not surprising that the proposal in the New York State Legislature for a statewide referendum on the question of nullifying the National Prohibition Law should have attracted general attention, but it is surprising to find United States Attorney Buckner approving the suggestion, and indulging in the stock wet phrases about hard liquor being the "poor man's poison," and the desirability of substituting for this "poison," inspiring drafts of "light wines and beer." Of course Mr. Buckner knows perfectly well that "light wines and beer," such as the wets want legalized, are intoxicating beverages, and he knows also that to legalize them would flout the Constitution of the United States. How can a popular vote alter these fundamentals?

Even more astonishing than Mr. Buckner's idea for amending the Constitution by a referendum of the people of New York State, is the attitude of the New York Herald Tribune toward that fantastic suggestion. The Herald Tribune strongly favored the National Prohibition Amendment, and until recently has shown little sympathy with the advocates of nullification. Now it suddenly discovers that, whether the opponents or proponents of "modification" (polite term for nullification) obtain a majority of the votes cast, "the situation would be more satisfactory than it is today." Indeed! Would a popular vote for prohibited alcoholic beverages change the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, which has upheld in many opinions the validity of the Volstead Act? What is there left, as Senator Borah pertinently asks, to vote about, so long as the constitutional provision remains as it is?

The Herald Tribune suggests that the dregs might well consider the legalizing of light wines and beer as worthy of a concession on their part. What have the dregs to do with nullifying the Constitution and violating the law? A thousand "straw votes" in the wet newspapers, or a state vote for or against "light wines and beer," are merely excuses for lawbreaking and laxity of law enforcement.

COLONIZATION AND REPATRIATION MOVEMENT.

Dear Sir,—The success of the colonization and repatriation movement depends on the amount of profitable work Canada is prepared to undertake for these objects. With a broad, get-together immigration policy, as advocated by Mr. Tom Moore, and a merger of all national (British-Canadian) immigration organizations under one head to conserve costs, and with a concrete plan to produce results, one follows to provide work, homes and welcome for the settlers:

(1) National Immigration Programme, 1926. Incorporate a British-Canadian company with a capital of half a billion and a board composed of eight British magnates and eight Canadian capitalists to create in Canada subsidiaries of the plants the British members now operate: such as a chain of four pulp and paper mills, four flour mills, four cattle export plants, four coal depots, four fruit salvage companies, concentrating on the four provinces of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, where the three rates are nearly in force, build one of each of these industries in each province. This Boss Company—British Overseas Settlement Company—to operate under one head, the chains of industries to save costs of management.

(2) The Federal Government shall grant the Boss Company seven square miles of open air grazing land for the cattle breeding and grazing plant, to supply cattle for meat for the British Army as well as use up the by-products of the flour mills.

(3) Federal and Provincial Governments shall grant one square mile for each of the industries in each province; free grant for ten years on a fixed valuation for land and water power for the paper mills, etc. On this square mile the British Building Immigration Organization shall erect two hundred and fifty duplex houses, with small dairy and poultry farm attached—nucleus of the 10,000 settlers—and the Boss Company shall erect the mills and plants as well as post office, church, school, hall, etc.

(4) Canada has ninety per cent. of world asbestos. Build an asbestos city of asbestos factories on one square mile near Thetford Mines, to produce the eighty millions of manufactured asbestos we now import. Community settlement on this site as above. Canada has ninety per cent. of world nickel. Build the nickel smelters, factories, etc., on one square mile near Sudbury, Ont., with community settlements as above. Canada has sixty per cent. of world coal; develop it with a chain of depots from Alberta to Halifax. Every autumn our fruit districts are carpeted with wasteful fruit. A Fruit Salvage Company with a chain from Niagara to Nova Scotia would keep in Canada the one hundred millions of fruit we now import.

HATLEY

"The day of resurrection, earth tell it out abroad, our Christ hath brought us over, with songs of victory," was the interpretation of the spirit of gladness and thanksgiving which filled old St. James' Church on Easter morning. The choral portion of the service, with a full choir of mixed voices, with Mrs. Hethington as organist and chorister, was splendidly rendered. The special homily was followed by a celebration of the Holy Communion, choral in part. Upon the holy table were placed golden-hued daffodils, the gift of Mr. A. C. Stevens, of Sherbrooke, who again remembered the sacred edifice wherein he was baptized and confirmed during the incumbency of his father, the late Rev. Rural Dean Stevens, of St. Stephen's Church, Coaticook. As usual, the offertory at this greatest festival of the Christian year was given the rector of the parish, Rev. C. R. Eardley-Wilmot.

Regardless of creed or nationality, a great wave of sympathy swept around and about the popular pastor of the United Church, Rev. John L. Hodgson, caused by the wholly unexpected death of his father, the late Mr. Thomas L. Hodgson, of Montreal. Mr. Hodgson returned to his charge in Hatley on Wednesday afternoon.

Kellogg's

This thing will dull the brightest "star"

YOU probably know this story, or one amazingly like it. It deals with a young man who started out "with everything"—who made brilliant progress for a time—became a "star"—had his little hour . . . and then faded. . . . What vicious thing can so transform a man? Can make a strong heart weak? An energetic body spineless? . . .

Constipation ruins so many promising persons—a dread disease which saps life and strength. The fortunate fact about constipation is that it can be conquered—surely, safely, permanently. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the answer!

As Kellogg's ALL-BRAN journeys through the system, its fiber remains unchanged. Doctors call ALL-BRAN a bulk food. You know the importance of "bulk" in diet. Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream, or with fresh or preserved fruit; sprinkle over other cereals or cook with hot cereals; use in soups or make into the many recipes given on the package. If eaten regularly, ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or money refunded. Eat two table-spoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Be sure to get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. A part-bran product can, at best, be but partially effective. Kellogg's is the original, genuine 100% ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it. All grocers sell it. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it.

FUTURE PLANS OF Y.W.C.A. ARE DISCUSSED BY MISS M. A. FORD, OF TORONTO

Board Meeting of Local Association Held Yesterday—Presentation Was Made to Mrs. S. A. Jones.

The Young Women's Christian Association held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. parlors. The president, Mrs. David Wilson, was in the chair. After the usual business had been disposed of, the guest of the day, Miss Marjory A. Ford, Finance and Publicity Secretary of the Dominion Council of the Y.W.C.A., Toronto, gave a short address on Y.W.C.A. work and especially on the coming National Conference which is to be held in Montreal some time this autumn.

"As we look forward to our National Conference in Montreal," said Miss Ford, "when Y.W.C.A. workers from coast to coast will gather to discuss our work and problems, I think we should recall the way by which we have come. Fifty odd years ago the first of our then called Young Women's Guilds and Young Women's Christian Association were organized in Canada. In the early nineties it was proposed to link together similar groups in several different countries and the World's Committee of the Y.W.C.A. was formed. At that time the nine Canadian Associations organized nationally and appointed a National Board called the Dominion Council. There are now thirty-nine Associations and several places urging for organization.

"Through the intervening years our work has developed to meet changing needs and it is interesting to recall that the first Y.W.C.A. was opened in Great Britain just after the Crimean war when women had ventured forth, stepping into the breach caused by the enlistment of so many men and the extra labor it entails. These hostels and clubs met the need of the girls of that day by providing a Christian home, rigid and formal as the tradition of the time demanded. It was soon evident that these girls were not as well equipped as their brothers for work outside the home, so educational classes and various training courses were arranged. Not so many years ago the Y.W.C.A. in Hamilton, Ontario, had an act of parliament passed relieving it from responsibility for technical education which was included in its original charter before the days of technical school in that province.

"Next came a realization that the adjustment from household tasks to the more monotonous work of clerking, sewing, etc., all day long was providing a serious physical strain, and the solution was the beginning of what is now a tradition in physical education, known today as a health programme, since it includes all those factors of happy, healthy living that belong to a normal life.

"Today, the Association is studying carefully the special needs of these girls who operate machines in our woollen factories, where often one operation only is done all day long, and where the physical and mental strain of the task needs to be understood if we are to provide the most effective help for counteracting this strain during the rest of the twenty-four hours of each day.

"Among the questions to be discussed at the National Conference at Montreal will be that of membership. Although nationally the basis of membership has always been the acceptance of the purpose and basis of the organization, many local Associations have made membership in a Protestant Evangelist Church the basis of membership. A generation or so ago when young people grew up within the home, church and home community, church membership was an accepted part of their tradition. Today, that is different. We have, unfortunately, many non-church going families, many young people away from home who have never had a church affiliation. It has seemed that as the Y.W.C.A. is a handmaid of the church, the Young Women's Christian Association should meet young women where they are and open their membership to those who are in sympathy with its purpose and basis, believing that the fellowship of the Association will lead directly into closer affiliation with the Christian church.

MISSING PLANE IS LOCATED ON SYRIAN DESERT

pedition, Captain Lariga and Captain Galarza on a flight from Cairo, Egypt, to Bagdad, Lariga and Galarza reached Bagdad safely. The absence of Estevez from his squadron was noticed shortly after the fliers had passed over Jerusalem. British planes immediately set out from Amman to search the desert for Estevez. They found his plane this morning near the air route from Cairo, but about five miles north of the actual mail route. Estevez had flown about one-third the distance between Cairo and Bagdad.

The British airmen examined the plane and reported that they found no trace of damage. They are of the belief that Estevez landed owing to some minor engine trouble. They express the opinion that no anxiety need be felt for the safety of Estevez and his mechanic. Meanwhile they are continuing to search the neighboring country in an endeavor to locate them.

Estevez was supplied with water and food to last for several days. Between Jerusalem and Amman the country is desolate, stretching for miles without an oasis.

(Associated Press Despatch)
 CAIRO, April 13.—The missing aeroplane of Captain Estevez, leader of the Spanish Aerial Expedition, which has Manila, on the Philippine Islands, as its objective, has been found intact about one hundred miles from Amman, in Palestine. Estevez and his mechanic had abandoned the craft, but they left a note attached to it saying they would make their way on foot through the desolate region to Amman.

Estevez has been missing since Sunday when he became separated from the two other fliers of the expedition.

SHAKESPEARE
 A school teacher was in the habit of giving out passages from Shakespeare to be written down by her pupils. One day she gave the class this one from Hamlet: "The appetite grows by what it feeds on." One of the boys, a thin little fellow from a poor family, held up his hand. "I've written it down, miss," he said, "but I don't think it's true." "Don't you? Why not?" "Because my appetite is growing by what it doesn't feed on."

HON. M. MARTIN WAS ELECTED

MADE HIT WITH PRINCE OF WALES.

(Associated Press Despatch) MONTREAL, April 13.—One of the bright spots in the career of Hon. Medie Martin, re-elected Mayor of Montreal, yesterday for his sixth term after being out of office for two years, was the hit he made with the Prince of Wales.

When the Prince made his first visit to Canada in 1921, Mr. Martin received him on behalf of the city. Something more than formal affability sprang up between them. The Prince paid a private visit to the Mayor's house in the outskirts of the city. Gifts were exchanged. The Mayor went back to his trade for the occasion and rolled the Prince a number of cigars. The Prince gave the Mayor a walking stick and a pair of gloves. When the Prince returned to Canada for a visit to his ranch two years later he called up Mayor Martin on the telephone and the two spent the afternoon together in the Prince's room at the hotel.

ELECTRICAL DEVELOPMENT AT COATICOOK

Town of Coaticook Takes Power Control from Different Manufacturing Concerns With Which to Develop Coaticook Hydro-Electric Development—Approximate Cost Is $175,000, Possible Development Placed at 1,850 H. P.

COATICOOK, April 13.—Last Saturday the matter which has been under consideration for several years past regarding the Coaticook hydro-electric development took definite and final shape, when the town took over the deed of the river bed from the Belding Corticelli, Hopkins Brothers and P. L. Baldwin and Sons, and decided to build a dam at the section of the river known as the miniature Niagara gorge and then tunnelling through the rock diagonally to the lower part of the town and placing a power house, at an approximate cost of $145,000, at the lower end of the town where there would be a head of 145 feet, and developing 1,850 horse power.

This matter has been under consideration for the past two years and had been the subject of much comment and discussion in local circles.

According to the past activities in connection with this development, the matter became most prominent before the public about two years ago when the Southern Canada Power Company offered to buy the Coaticook power. Two or three months later the people of the town decided to develop their own power, and two or three different plans were proposed. A plan providing for the building of a dam in the miniature Niagara gorge and then tunnelling through the rock diagonally to the lower part of the town and placing the power house where there would be a head of 145 feet, making possible a development of 1,850 H.P. was finally decided upon.

When this proposition was brought before the town council it was adopted and also met with the approval of the majority of the citizens when voted upon. Several members of the council, however, did not favor this proposition and attempted to fight it for a considerable time, regardless of the decision of the majority of the citizens. A private bill was later put through at Quebec to cover all technicalities.

Contracts Have Been Awarded

The contracts for this development have been awarded to the following concerns: The Nelson River Company, which will do the construction work at an approximate cost of $100,000, the English Electric Company, who are to supply the generators and switchboards at a cost of about $22,000, and the William Hamilton Company who are to supply the necessary wheels at an approximate cost of about $22,000.

The town of Coaticook will pay the P. L. Baldwin and Sons $10,000 for their power privileges and give the Belding Corticelli and the Hopkins Brothers an equivalent in electric power for a definite period for their rights.

With extra expenses provided for, the approximate cost of the development is estimated at about $175,000, while this unique development will approximately cost $100 per horse power which is far below the average.

Much of the credit for the realization of this development of Coaticook power is due to ex-Mayor E. O. Baldwin, who has given the matter his continued attention for the past two years and it is largely through his efforts that the matter materialized.

LACK HARRY'S THRIFT.

Sir William Carruthers recently told a story about Harry Lauder's last visit to New Zealand. A class at school was asked who was the richest man in the world, and one boy shouted, "Sir Harry Lauder."

"But," said the teacher, "Vanderbilt and other Americans are much richer."

"Ay," said the youngster, "but they spend some of theirs."

AND SO SAY WE

Miss Amy Wren, president of the Women's Press Club of New York, wants more hard-boiled women on juries. "And fewer half-baked men,"

MINISTER OF FINANCE

Both parties, Conservative and Liberal, had gone on record as favoring the development of trade east and west in Canada and the transfer of Canadian products through Canadian ports, Mr. Cahan said.

But, he declared, the policy of Government and of Parliament must be laid down on a number of important questions before a commission could investigate and report on them in a manner which would be in the least helpful. The question of freight rates was one on which the policy of the Government and of Parliament must be laid down before either the railway commission or the new maritime commission could deal with it. In the first place, it must be decided if there was to be a rate structure on Canadian National lines applicable to the whole of Canada or whether there was to be a separate structure for Canadian National lines east of Montreal designed to develop maritime trade with central Canada.

Again, there should be a pronouncement as to the conditions under which the Transcontinental Railway would be operated between Prince Rupert and Montreal and Montreal and Moncton. This road, said Mr. Cahan, was practically idle because the Government and Parliament had laid down no policy in regard to it. Was the Transcontinental to be used for the carriage of grain to Quebec? Was it to be used to develop trade between Quebec and winter ports at Halifax and St. John? These matters must be decided by the Government and Parliament before the railway commission or the maritime commission could pass on them.

Investigation of Tariff.

Some of the matters which the maritime commission was called upon to look into involved an investigation of the tariff. He did not think, said Mr. Cahan, that the personnel of the commission was qualified to investigate the tariff. "I would have liked to see one thoroughly practical business man on that commission," Mr. Cahan remarked.

There was the question of whether or not the Maritime Provinces were to be paid compensation when the natural resources were handed back to the western provinces. Again, there must be a declaration of governmental policy before the commission could work.

Mr. Cahan said he approached the whole question in a non-partisan spirit. The members of his side of the House would be willing to meet the Government more than half way in the hope of immediate solution and action.

Replying to a question from M. N. Campbell (Progressive, MacKenzie), Mr. Cahan said he thought the present freight rate structure had grown up in a haphazard way. The question of rate structure was one of great importance.

Discussion Becomes Rather Wide in Range.

Hon. E. M. Macdonald, minister of national defence, considered that the discussion on the resolution had become rather wide in its range. Mr. Macdonald traced the different enactments passed at the time of the taking over by the government of the present Canadian National Railway System. The Act of 1903 respecting the National Transcontinental Railway had set out that aid was being granted by the Government for the express purpose of the development of Canadian trade and the transportation of goods through Canadian channels. A similar clause had been inserted in the legislation of 1914, when the Canadian National was given financial aid. This principle was today the policy of the Government.

For over forty years, said Mr. Macdonald, both governments had admitted that the Intercolonial Railway should be run for the development of trade between the Maritime Provinces and central Canada.

B. Hanson (Conservative, York-Sturtevant) asked Mr. Macdonald if he was prepared to stand by the statement made under his own signature in the Halifax Herald during the 1921 election campaign regarding the Intercolonial Railway.

Mr. Macdonald replied that he had been opposed to the acquisition of the Grand Trunk Railway and the Canadian Northern. He would like to see the Intercolonial Railway put back under its old status.

The country wanted some responsible body to determine the truth or otherwise of allegations made in regard to conditions in the Maritime Provinces, Mr. Macdonald said. A report in which the people would have confidence would be of the greatest value. He felt that the facts of this commission appointed by the Government would command the confidence of the House and of the country. "If we find an infraction of Government duties on one hand or policy of railway management on the other, this Government will proceed to deal with those matters when the commission reports," Mr. Macdonald said.

John Miller (Progressive, Qu'Appelle) advocated a thorough investigation before there was "any tinkering with railway rates."

The whole question should be looked at from a business point of view and all the facts should be secured. Mr. Miller thought that 90 per cent of what were now called contractual obligations at the time of Confederation were only pious hopes as to what would take place.

T. Gantley (Conservative, Picton), speaking in support of the resolution, declared that the Maritimes had been made very definite promises by the fathers of Confederation.

BROMPTON PULP AND PAPER CO.'S MILL PLANS

New Newsprint Development to Be Financed With Bonds Held in Treasury—$293,000 Are 6's, While $1,163,000 Are 8's.

MONTREAL, April 13.—Subsequent to a meeting of the directors of the Brompton Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, held here yesterday afternoon, it was learned that arrangements have been made by the company for financing the construction of the new newsprint mill at Bromptonville, Quebec, with bonds now held in the treasury of the company and authorized to be issued. For the present, no financing will be undertaken in connection with the refunding of the present outstanding bond issues.

This announcement probably means merely deferring for a time the step, which, it was generally expected would be taken in connection with the new newsprint development, that is, the redemption of outstanding mortgages by a single bond issue which would also provide funds for the newsprint mill, and leave enough in the treasury for future financing when necessary.

Brompton Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, at the end of 1925 had outstanding $3,164,000 of bonds, of four different issues. Of this total, nearly half, or $1,554,700, were the eight per cent convertible mortgage, sinking fund bonds issued in the stress of 1921 and maturing in 1941. It was this high interest issue in particular, that many shareholders had hoped to see disappear. Of the prior first mortgage issue of $1,000,000 6s due in 1927, there are only $4,000 outstanding. The next class is the six per cent first consolidated mortgage sinking fund issue, due 1935. This was an issue of $2,000,000 of which $817,000 are outstanding, there having been redeemed $853,500, while $203,000 remain unissued in the treasury. Of the remainder of this issue $4,000 are held in escrow and $32,500 are held by the Groveton Paper Company, a subsidiary.

Of the $1,000,000 six per cent general mortgage, sinking fund bonds due in 1939, $211,100 have been redeemed, leaving $788,900 outstanding.

From the foregoing it will be seen that the company has in its treasury a total of $1,456,000 of bonds which it might issue to finance the new development. It does not seem likely that it will issue any more of the eight than absolutely necessary, and it seems probable that the company can altogether avoid recourse to further issue of this security. It has nearly $300,000 of the first consolidated sixes to start operations with as well as a comfortable cash position as revealed by the 1925 balance sheet when net working capital was shown at $3,670,498. Of the $5,603,326 of current assets, $193,723 was in cash, while inventories represented $3,948,718. The increased demand for the company's products since the last statement was made up will probably have turned considerable of the inventory into net cash holding so the company may be able to choose its own time for the permanent financing.

Work on the new newsprint mill will be started immediately. It will be manufactured by Charles Walmesley and Sons. It will be a 234 inch machine with a capacity of 100 to 114 tons per day which will give the company a total daily capacity of 220 tons of newsprint. The company has a groundwood mill at Bromptonville where the new development is to take place.

NOURISHING

It was little Ruth's first time in Sunday school and she listened with wide blue eyes as the teacher read the story of Elijah being fed by the ravens. Seeing her eager little face the teacher said to her, "Now, dear, can you tell us how Elijah was fed?"

"He was fed with raisins," was the earnest reply.

MANY CANADIANS APPLY FOR PRESENTATION AT THEIR MAJESTIES' COURTS

Only Two Courts Will Be Held This Year, and in Consequence Some of Overseas Applicants Will Be Disappointed at Not Being Presented.

LONDON, April 13.—The names of twenty-eight Canadian women have been submitted as applicants for presentation at one of Their Majesties' courts this season. The names have been submitted through Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London, and the Canadian ladies will be presented to the King and Queen by Mrs. Amery, wife of Lt.-Col. L. C. Amery, Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs. Only two courts will be held this year, as Their Majesties cannot conveniently arrange for a third court, and in consequence it is probable that some of the British and Overseas applicants will be disappointed at not being presented.

OLD CALL TO BATTLE SOUNDS AGAIN TODAY

Clear Skies and Slightly Rising Temperatures Predicted for Cities Entertaining Major Contests, But at That the Weather Promises to Be More Suitable for Football Than Baseball.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, April 13.—The old call to battle sounds again today through the baseball world as sixteen Major League teams, enter the great American classic, which leads to pennants and the final crown of world championship in Mellow October days.

While the American and National League teams take the post in the major derbies, the American Association opens its twenty-fifth year of baseball endeavor.

Clear skies and slightly rising temperatures were predicted for the eight cities entertaining major contests, but at that the weather promised to be more suitable for football than baseball, with heavy wraps the style hint for a quarter of a million customers.

The mercury has been unable to struggle very far above the freezing point in most of the cities.

The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates and the Washington Senators, twice winners of the American bunting, will find plenty of competition in their struggles to repeat this year. At least two other teams in the National League look just as good to the dopesters as the Pirates, with an additional two figuring among the possibilities, while the baseball wise-acs see at least five teams prepared to dispute the American League supremacy of Washington.

In fact, the two pennant winners face a stiff test right at the start, with the Senators pitted against Connie Mack's powerful Athletics, and the Pirates set to battle Roger Hornsby's flashy Cardinals at St. Louis. McGraw's Giants, another leading combination of the National circuit, try their luck against Brooklyn. The work of the Cincinnati Reds and the Boston Braves will be watched closely for pennant possibilities, while in the American ring there are plenty of partisans who look with favor on St. Louis Browns, the New York Yankees, the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago White Sox.

The Giants are given a slight edge over the Pirates in Wall Street wagering, with the Senators and Athletics an even choice in the junior circuit. The betting on the Giants is 8 to 5 and on the Pirates 2 to 1, with the latter odds for both Philadelphia and Washington.

The other National contenders were given the following financial ratings: Cardinals, Reds, Braves, Robins, Phillies and Cubs. American: Yankees, Tigers, Browns, White Sox, Indians and Red Sox. The games scheduled for today and the probable batteries are as follows:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York at Boston—Yankees: Pennock and Bengough; Red Sox: Ehmke and Gaston.

Philadelphia at Washington—Senators: Johnson and Ruel; Athletics: Harris and Cochrane.

St. Louis at Chicago—Browns: Gaston and Dixon; White Sox: Lyons and Schalk.

Cleveland at Detroit—Indians: Uhle and Sewell; Tigers: Whitehill and Bassler.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

TUNNEY MUST FIRST MEET WILLS

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, April 13.—Jack Dempsey will not be permitted to fight Gene Tunney, in New York State this summer, unless Tunney first defeats the negro, Harry Wills.

Chairman James A. Farley, of the State Athletic Commission, has made known this decision to Tex Rickard, the promoter who had planned a heavyweight championship bout for September with Tunney as a participant.

Rickard suffered another official blow yesterday when he was informed that the Commission would not compel Jack Delaney to meet Paul Berlenbach in a light heavyweight title combat. But more light may be thrown on the Delaney-Berlenbach feud within a day or two as a result of Ad Stone's beating at the hands of Tony Marullo, in Philadelphia, last night. Delaney and Stone had been matched for a bout in May at Brooklyn.

It appears from Chairman Farley's reported conversation with Rickard that a Tunney-Wills elimination bout, the winner to meet the champion, will be satisfactory to the boxing powers and also that there will be no interference if Wills and Dempsey are brought together.

Rickard may decide, it is reported in boxing circles, to take the Dempsey-Tunney affair to his wooden stadium in Jersey City, which is being made ready for boxing contests after more than a year and a half of idleness.

PORZIO PROCLAIMED HEAVY-WEIGHT CHAMPION OF SOUTH AMERICA

This gives a grand total for the series of 3,637 out of a possible 4,000 points, a very creditable figure and a great improvement over the last three years.

FOOTBALL

HUDDERSFIELD CAPTURED FIRST HONORS

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON April 13.—Huddersfield Town are once more champions of the English Football League (First Division). This honor, which amounts to a retention of the championship was acquired yesterday afternoon when they defeated Bolton Wanderers, the Cup finalists, by a score of 3 goals to 0. The two points thus gained at the expense of Bolton brought their aggregate to 57. The runners-up, Arsenal, with four games to go, are 10 points in arrears and must therefore be satisfied with

MORE TROUBLE IS THREATENING HONEYMOONERS

Validity of Marriage of Edward W. Browning, 51, and 15-Year-Old Bride Will Be Questioned.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, April 13.—Edward W. Browning, fifty-one-year-old real estate operator, and his fifteen-year-old bride of three days were back again today in Cold Spring, N.Y., the scene of their marriage with trouble from a new quarter threatening their honeymoon.

Special district Attorney Ryder of Putnam County, has announced that an investigation will be started to learn whether they violated the County's laws requiring a six months legal residence before obtaining a marriage license. The young bride already is under summons of the children's court here in an action started by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, seeking to have her removed from the custody of her mother, as an unfit guardian.

Mr. Ryder said perjury charges would be possible if it were found that Mrs. Browning swore to six months residence in the county.

second position.

It was late in the season when Huddersfield ousted the Arsenal from their place as league leaders, this event not coming until January 23rd, when the Yorkshiresmen won at Cardiff while Arsenal lost at Liverpool. From that time Huddersfield were never headed. For a while Sunderland ran neck and neck with them, but the pace was too hot, and in the last few weeks Huddersfield drew steadily but surely away until they placed such a margin between them and their rivals that the latter could not narrow down.

With that phase of the league championship ended, interest in the first division shifts from the top of the ladder to the bottom, where Notts County, Burnley and Manchester City are fighting to escape relegation. Burnley's tremendous win over Birmingham last Saturday would indicate that they are staging a strong comeback, but whether this has come too late to do them any good remains to be seen.

In the second division it seems fairly certain that The Wednesday and Derby County will move up into senior company next season. Chelsea have put up a hard fight, but a series of drawn games—no fewer than five out of six matches—has halted their progress somewhat.

whereas she had been there only a couple of days before the marriage. The validity of the marriage also would be questioned if it should be found that the six months residence law was violated.

"Of course" said Mr. Ryder, "we do not know yet whether any crime has been committed—we are endeavoring to find just how long she had lived here." He said the would inspect the marriage license and also probably question the town clerk who issued it.

The Brownings left this city to gether last night for Cold Spring and their ten room "honeymoon house" specially leased by Browning. They had come here by separate routes yesterday morning. Soon after Browning had boarded a train at Cold Spring for the city, his bride and her mother departed in an automobile in the other direction. In the afternoon, however, his bride arrived at the Plaza Hotel here, and Browning joined her there after a nervous day spent in his office.

When they departed northward in an automobile late last night, accompanied by the bride's mother, they intended to go to Montreal, but changed their plans at Yonkers when the bride complained of feeling ill. Earlier in the day she had visited the doctor who treated the burns from acid, which she said before the marriage, was thrown by an unknown intruder in her mother's Manhattan Apartment while she was alone.

It became known yesterday that Browning had transferred realty valued at $12,000 to a Corporation he controls. He declined to comment on the motive for this, but his associates pointed out that the transfer was merely in accordance with his real estate practice. Upon his arrival in this city in the morning, Browning had first gone to a license bureau, where he filed his application for the renewal of his pistol permit. He obtained authority to carry a pistol about a year ago when he alleged a man tried to blackmail him.
