Fifty-Third Year

1st SESSION OF NEW PARLIAMENT OPENS TODAY

World News In Brief

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—(P)—Heavy shipments of metals under Marshall aid during August sent the value of Canadian shipments since the plan began a year ago to more than $800,000,000.

A trade department spokesman, disclosing that August shipments amounted to almost $23,000,000 worth of goods, said if current Economic Co-operation Administration trends continue, E. C. A. off-shore purchases in the Dominion may reach as much as $1,000,000,000 by March, 1950.

Bonn, Germany, Sept. 15.—(P)—Dr. Konrad Adenauer, a Catholic Conservative, skinned through by a one-vote margin today to elect him first chancellor of the west-German republic.

The 73-year-old lawyer pulled a bare majority of 202 votes in the 240-member Bundestag lower house of parliament after his nomination yesterday by president Theodor Heuss.

As first German chancellor since Adolf Hitler, Adenauer will be the strongest man in the new federal government, heading a cabinet of his own choice.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 15.—(P)—The hurricane which swept through Florida and into Georgia and the Carolinas August 26-27 caused crop and property damage estimated at $52,350,000, a report showed today.

Quebec, Sept. 15.—(CP)—Premier Dupont yesterday pressed a button that set brand new presses rolling on the 15th anniversary edition of the Quebec Chronicle Telegraph, oldest newspaper enterprise in North America.

The Quebec government leader was chief guest at the inauguration of a modern Chronicle-Telegraph plant in St. Malo, old Quebec's new industrial district.

Hamburg, Germany, Sept. 15.—(P)—Count Gottfried von Bismarck-Schoenhausen, 48 grandson of the German emperor's "Iron Chancellor," and his 33-year-old wife, Melanie, were killed yesterday in an automobile crash, police reported today.

Gottfried von Bismarck-Schoenhausen was tried by a Nazi court for alleged participation in the 1944 bomb plot against Hitler, but was acquitted.

100 New Members Will Take Seats In Commons, Senate; Liberals Have Wide Margin

Vishinsky Wants Big Four To Meet

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Sept. 15.—(P)—Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, slated to head the Russian delegation at the United Nations Assembly in New York next week, is expected to press for a new meeting of the Big Four Council of foreign ministers.

With State Secretary Dean Acheson, of the United States, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, of Britain, and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, of France, all due to be on hand, informed circles here said Vishinsky will urge an early, formal meeting of the council.

When the foreign ministers ended their Paris meeting on Germany last June, they agreed to meet informally during the U.N. session to discuss their next meeting.

The Paris session reached an agreement to end Soviet traffic restrictions (the blockade) in Berlin, but several other questions were left hanging.

Among major problems still to be solved are possible future economic and political unity of Germany, an independence treaty for Austria and reconciliation of divergent allied views on who should write a peace treaty for Japan.

The Austrian treaty was turned over to the ministers' deputies, but they have failed to reach an agreement, thus turning the matter back to the foreign ministers council.

Moscow informants said Vishinsky, who was turned down at the Paris meeting, probably will press again for the action on a peace treaty for Japan.

Acheson, backed by Bevin and Schuman, contended a Japanese treaty was not a question for the council. They argued it should go to the far eastern commission, which includes Australia and the Philippines.

Vishinsky stressed then, and probably will do so again, that he felt the foreign ministers council was the place to begin negotiations on Japan, informants said.

(Acheson and Bevin agreed in Washington this week that a Japanese peace treaty is urgently needed in order to accomplish a long-delayed Pacific settlement.)

(Acheson indicated the United States and Britain may make a new bid to Russia to end the two-year deadlock over who should draft the treaty.)

Throne Speech to Be Read by Governor-General Will Set Session in Motion—Several Seats Still Vacant.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—(P)—First session of Canada's 21st Parliament opens today, but the interest ordinarily centred on formalities probably will be focussed on the new personalities in the two chambers.

The Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, is scheduled to read the traditional speech from the throne at 3 P.M., but it likely will be at least a half hour beyond that time when he reaches the Senate chamber.

He will appear in a chamber where fourteen new members, including three from the new province of Newfoundland, were sworn in before his arrival. His audience will include most of the members of the Commons, enlarged not only by Newfoundland's entry into Confederation but also by the distribution act of 1947.

When the chambers meet, this will be the standing:

House of Commons—Liberals 188; Progressive Conservatives 40; C.C.F. 13; Social Credit 10; Independents four; Independent Liberal one; vacant eight; total 262.

Senate—Liberals 79; Progressive Conservatives 15; vacant 10; total 102.

Because of the heavy representation of the Liberals in the Commons, many will find themselves seated in benches ordinarily reserved for members of the opposition.

There will be some 100 new faces among members of the Commons and the Senate. New faces include Camille Houde, mayor of Montreal and newly-elected member for Montreal—Papineau.

There is also Jack Garland, a 500-pound member from the Ontario constituency of Nipissing. He is due to occupy a desk by himself but insists that he is capable of fitting into the red-leather covered chairs used by ordinary members.

In the Senate there will be new faces as well; among them will be Thomas Reah, who for years represented the British Columbia constituency of New Westminster, and who gained a reputation as a bagpipe-playing Scotsman.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—(P)—Big chairs, little chairs, what's the difference? says Jack Garland, highest man on Parliament Hill. He's going to take a seat in the Commons today for the first time and when his more than 500-pounds of flesh and bone start sitting it will be on a normal Commons chair, the same provided for the other 261 members.

"I'm surprised there's nothing more interesting to talk about than my weight," adds the towering giant of a man who, at 31, liked four other candidates in his riding last June.

Not that he cares one way or the other, but the six-foot-two Liberal member for Nipissing kind of wonders why all the fuss and bother over the type of chair he sits on.

It all began weeks ago when rumors swept through parliamentary corridors that the government was going to build Mr. Garland, now serving his third term as a North Bay, Ont., alderman, two extra-size chairs—just in case something went wrong when Mr. Garland started sitting.

A parliamentary official denied that such chairs were being built. They became the ghostly chairs—appearing and disappearing in newspaper columns.

Finally, they were found to exist, locked up in a parliamentary workshop, but officials would allow no one to see them, no one to take pictures.

"I don't know how all the fuss started," Mr. Garland says. "I never saw those chairs and I don't want to see them. The ordinary Commons chairs are good enough for me."

Washington, Sept. 15.—(P)—The police rate in the United States is going down, and the public health service says the epidemic has passed its seasonal peak. The agency reported a drop in the number of new cases for the third week in a row—from 3,119 in the week ending Sept. 3rd to 2,628 in the week ending Sept. 10th.

Population Of Canada Is 13,545,000

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—(P)—Oil-rich Alberta now is Canada's fourth largest province.

Statistics released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics yesterday showing a major increase in Canada's population, also revealed that the most westerly of the three Prairie Provinces had overtaken neighboring Saskatchewan in population.

Spurred by the addition of Newfoundland's estimated 348,000 persons and a high entry of immigrants, Canada's population showed the largest increase "for a year on record" to reach an estimated 13,545,000. All provinces, except Prince Edward Island shared in the increase of 662,000 population during the year ended June 1.

During the year under review about 342,000 children were born in the nine provinces, excluding Newfoundland, while deaths numbered 117,000. At the same time nearly 125,000 immigrants entered the Dominion, offset to some extent by emigration of more than 30,000 persons.

Although Ontario and Quebec took the lion's share of the new population, Alberta and British Columbia showed the highest per capita advance.

Alberta's population now is estimated at 871,000, some 10,000 more than Saskatchewan which formerly held a 9,000 population edge according to 1948 figures.

Ontario is the largest province in population with an estimated 4,411,000 followed by Quebec with 3,887,000 and British Columbia with 1,114,000. Estimated present population figures for other provinces are: Manitoba 778,000, Nova Scotia 645,000, New Brunswick 516,000, Prince Edward Island 90,000. The Northwest Territories and Yukon were listed as unchanged at 16,000 and 8,000 respectively.

Luggage Compartment Blast Is Blamed For Plane Crash

Quebec, Sept. 15.—(P)—A coroner's jury ruled here yesterday that an explosion of unknown origin was responsible for the crash of a Canadian Pacific Airlines DC-3 at Sault Ste. Cochin on the north shore of the St. Lawrence river last Friday.

All 23 persons aboard the aircraft—four crew members and 19 passengers—were killed in the mishap.

The verdict was returned after jurymen heard a dozen witnesses. Chief witness was Melville Francis, a C.P.A. aero engineer from Vancouver, B.C., who said his examination indicated the explosion was concentrated in a luggage compartment on the left side of the plane between the passenger section and the cockpit.

Disappearance of Henri Paul Bouchard, only person aboard the plane whose body has not been positively accounted for, was said to be explained by the fact that he was the passenger nearest the location of the explosion.

Mr. Francis said examination of the plane wreckage eliminated as the cause of the wreck "almost all sources" associated with the functioning of the plane or its equipment.

The witness said the blast had smashed the floor of the luggage compartment section as well as the walls of the plane.

Mr. Francis said although investigations by C.P.A. officials were not complete he was satisfied the explosion did not occur in

West Is Lining Up New Blows Against Communism In Europe And Far East

Steel Strike May Begin On Sept. 25

By GIB STALEY

Pittsburgh, Sept. 15.—(P)—A country-wide steel strike in the United States Sept. 25 is a distinct possibility.

United States Steel Corporation, bellwether of the industry, says it will not accept the Presidential fact-finding board's steel peace formula without bargaining.

The next move is up to Philip Murray, president of the United Steelworkers (C. I. O.).

Murray forced the issue. He told Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, that he wasn't satisfied with Fairless' initial answer that bargaining be resumed—with-out committing big steel to the board's findings.

It didn't take Fairless long to reply. He told Murray the labor chief can't dictate U. S. Steel's acceptance of the board's recommendations as a condition to bargaining.

But Fairless reiterated he is perfectly willing to resume negotiations. Murray didn't comment. His aides said they don't know when, or if, he will.

In giving U. S. Steel's reaction to the Presidential board's report, Fairless made it plain he didn't like many of the recommendations. He was particularly angry at the board's suggestion the industry bear the entire cost of a pension plan.

The board suggested this peace formula—

Washington, Sept. 15.—(P)—New blows against communism in Europe and the Far East were forecast today by diplomatic authorities. They viewed these as coming from the cold-war strategy talks now building to a climax here.

The conference which State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States began Tuesday with Foreign Minister Bevin of Britain is being widened today to include Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France.

Top subjects for discussion on the three-power level were believed to range widely. They include development of the new western German state, a review of negotiations with Russia for an Austrian treaty, exploitation of the split between Yugoslavia and Russia, and the creation of far-eastern barriers against the spread of communism outside China.

On this last point, Schuman said on his arrival at New York last night that military advances by communists in the Far East are "very serious for France and the rest of the world."

He said it is necessary "that we find a solution quickly."

In addition it was expected that the three diplomatic chiefs would agree to hold a common front in the forthcoming United Nations General Assembly meeting on all issues involving Russia.

Schuman arrived here last night to undertake a heavy schedule of meetings and travel. His first conference today was listed for 11 a.m. with Acheson, Finance Minister Maurice Petesch, of France, Paul Hoffman, head of the Economic Cooperation Administration, and Averell Harriman, E.C.A. ambassador.

At that session the Americans were prepared to reassure Schuman that the recent economic agreement with Britain to combat Britain's financial crisis will not in any way work to the harm of the French or the general economic cooperation of the west under the European recovery program.

The meeting with Acheson and Bevin was scheduled to follow that session. Tomorrow Schuman will return here in time to attend the first meeting of the North Atlantic treaty council Saturday morning.

Acheson, meanwhile, was in the midst of a crowded program of meetings with others of the 11 visiting Atlantic-power foreign ministers. He held the first of these talks yesterday with Italy's Count Carlos Sforza.

78 Casualties In Jail Break

Seoul, Sept. 15.—(P)—Seventy-eight persons were killed or wounded today in a break by 430 prisoners from the jail at Mokpo, a sea-port 200 miles south of this Korean capital.

Ten guards and 68 prisoners were reported shot in a battle at a village two miles from Mokpo. Twenty-eight of the prisoners and 10 guards were known to be dead and 40 other prisoners were dead or wounded.

The prisoners staged their break yesterday while being returned to prison from work farms. They seized guns and ammunition and fled to the hills.

Police, army and navy units pursued.

The 1,200 inmates of the Mokpo prison were mostly rounded up last spring during a clean-up of Communist guerrillas on Cheju island.

Printers In Chicago May Resume Work

Chicago, Sept. 15.—(P)—The long and costly strike by 1,500 printers against Chicago's five major daily newspapers appeared today near settlement.

The strikers, who quit work nearly 22 months ago in a dispute over a new contract, will vote Sunday on terms agreed upon last night by union and publishers' representatives.

The new pact calls for a wage increase of $10 a week. The union originally had demanded a pay boost of $15. Provisions of the new contract have been approved by the executive council of the International Typographical Union (A.F.L.).

John J. Pileh, president of I.T.U. Local 16, said the local officers and local committee will recommend acceptance of the new contract to the rank and file at Sunday's vote.

The strike against the dailies is believed one of the longest against a group of metropolitan city newspapers. But the newspapers—the Tribune, the Daily News-Times, Daily News, Herald-American and Journal of Commerce—have not missed a day's publication since the strike started Nov. 24, 1947.

The strike of the composing-room workers brought a new look to Chicago's dailies. A new technique of newspaper printing was started. The printed pages were prepared by typing stories with typewriters, pasting them in place on large dummy sheets, fitting cut-out headlines over them, and photographing the finished pages for reproduction by electrotyping. The photo-engraving operations

Anglican Synod Discusses Divorce

Halifax, Sept. 15.—(P)—The upper house—the bishops—was expected to give its opinion on matters of re-marriage and divorce at today's concluding session of the general Synod of the Church of England in Canada.

If the upper house agrees with suggestions of the lower house the changes will probably be passed and become church law. If the upper house disagrees the matter is shelved until the next synod in three years time.

The lower house—the clergymen and laymen—yesterday approved by a 92-76 vote a motion asking that church law be amended "to permit the innocent party to a divorce to re-marry and to have all the benefit of all the services of the church."

Earlier, the lower house approved a move which would permit re-marriage, with services and sacraments of the church, where definite proof of nullification was given and a bishop had issued a permissive certificate.

The motion which would permit the innocent divorce party to re-marry was sponsored by the diocese of Calgary and was approved only after vigorous debate.

Patients Like U.K. Health Scheme But Doctors Don't

(Editor's note: Britain's National Health Service has brought new problems to the country's hospitals. They are discussed in the following article, one of a series.)

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Sept. 15.—(P)—A former Guards officer, wearing the old school tie of Eton, and a tramp who hasn't had a steady job for three years sat side by side in the outpatients' department at a small London hospital.

The tramp was glad to be there. He said he couldn't have paid his bill in the old days, before Britain's Labor government inaugurated a national health service covering 48,000,000 persons from the cradle to the grave.

The Eton man was less enthusiastic. Five years ago he wouldn't have gone near the hospital, which is in Camden Town, a tough inner suburb notorious for razor gangs and street fights.

Now he was one of the "new poor." He would rather have chosen his own hospital as a paying patient, but he couldn't afford it.

The tramp and the old Etonian were among patients and staff members interviewed by this writer in Camden Town, a tough inner how the health plan, subject of red-hot controversy, has affected one of Britain's 2,688 state-operated hospitals.

Generalizations are difficult, but one impression was that patients solidly favor the "free-for-all" plan, with few reservations, while doctors generally dislike it, with hardly any reservations at all.

Of 12 patients, 10 expressed unqualified approval of state medicine, and said their treatment couldn't have been better. Only dissent came from a Guardsman and from Colin Spencer, an accountant who spent four years at a hospital in Halifax, N.S., starting in 1942. Spencer said doctors lose interest when they get a set sum for each patient.

(Pay for consultants and specialists varies by grades under an agreement between the Health Ministry, the British Medical Association and the Royal College of Medicine. Many professional men contend this means that really good doctors too often get the same as less skilled men.)

All the patients were emphatic that national health's advantages outweigh its disadvantages. There were no complaints of inattention or sloppy work against doctors, nurses or other members of the hospital staff.

Doctors spoke critically of the service, although some said it hasn't had a fair trial yet. Main criticisms were that laymen instead of medical men are getting control of hospital administration; that there is too much paper work and red tape and that too many scrupulous are getting into hospital.

Hospitals are short of staffed

African Wants To Be "Rejobulated"

London, Sept. 15. — (P) — A colonial office in Nigeria reported receiving the following plaintive plea from a West African who unexpectedly found himself "disemployed":

"Dear sir—on opening this epistle you will behold the work of a dejobbed person and a very bewildered and much childrenized gentleman, who was violently dejobbed in a twinkling by your good self."

"For heaven's sake, sir, consider this catastrophe as falling on your own head, and remind yourself on walking home at the moon's end to five savage wives and 16 voracious children with your pocket filled with non-existent pounds, shillings and pence and a solitary six pence: pity my horrible state."

"As to the reason given by yourself enquire for my dejobment the incrimination was laziness. No sir. It was impossible that myself who pitched 15 children into this vale of tears can have a lazy atom in his mortal frame, and a sudden departure of 11 pounds has left me on the verge of destitution and despair."

"I hope this vision of horror will enrich your dreams this night and the good angel will melt and pulverize your heart so that you will awaken with such alacrity to rejobulate your servant. So mote it be, amen."

Officials in London did not know whether the native was reasso- ciated with his job.

Children's Fund Support Urged

During the past year $540 has been raised by members of the Quebec Women's Institutes through voluntary subscription to the Save the Children Fund, the Institute has announced.

Undertaken after the last war, this provincial project has received wide support and according to literature just received at the Q. W. I. office there is still urgent need to continue this effort.

A contribution of one dollar, says the Institute, pays for any one of the following:

Enough powdered milk to give 10 children a glass of milk a day for a week. Enough raw cotton to make 15 diapers. Enough leather to make a pair of shoes. Enough raw wool to make cloth for a child's coat. A day's dose of cod-liver oil for almost 300 children. Testing and vaccinating 8 children against tuberculosis.

More and more branches are undertaking the satisfying task of adopting a needy child and are finding rich reward in the touching letters of thanks that reach them, the Institute says.

Veterans whose disability percentages lie between those given above are awarded the pension closest to their percentage—for example: 18 per cent disability will bring the veteran a 20 per cent pension as stated above.

WORLD WAR I

Up to the present time, Mr. Verlaeck stated, World War I veterans disabled on active service and incapable of supporting themselves were awarded $40.41 per month if single and $70.83 per month if married.

Special request forms are now available to these veterans, the welfare officer announced, that in special cases where the veteran is unable to live on the present pension ask a raise in pension grant.

If granted, these pension raises are $10 for single men and $15 for married men.

Mr. Verlaeck also announced that the Sherbrooke branch of the Department of Veterans' Affairs is open to answer all enquiries concerning pensions, allotments, medical treatment and other services.

Veterans in East Angus, Richmond, Coaticook, Rock Island, and Magog should contact the veterans' officer in their cities for all information, he said.

Asbestos Coporation Loses Some Foreign Markets Due To Strike

Montreal, Sept. 15.—Loss of "some foreign asbestos markets" coupled with the use of substitutes and a sharp increase in production have forced the Asbestos Corporation of Thetford Mines, Que., to oppose workers demands for wage increases, A. L. Penhale, president of the Corporation, said yesterday.

Testifying before an arbitration board appointed to settle the asbestos dispute which started February 18th and lasted three months, Mr. Penhale said the strike had cost his company about $1,250,000.

The arbitration board, headed by Judge Thomas Tremblay, of Quebec, was named by the Provincial government after asbestos workers and the company agreed to allow an arbitration board to bring about a settlement in the dispute. The workers went on strike for a 15-cents-an-hour wage boost plus a social security plan and other benefits.

Mr. Penhale added that the strike had cost striking employees of the Corporation an estimated $1,500,000 in wages.

He said that two of the company's largest customers, both French firms, were now being supplied with asbestos by Russian and African producers. These markets, he felt, were now lost to his company owing to the strike which at one time limited the production of asbestos to a mere trickle.

The president said his Canadian owned company was therefore forced to oppose the workers demands for wage increases. He estimated that a wage boost would cost the company $1,251,500.

The arbitration board at the same time heard testimony from two other asbestos companies involved in the dispute, the Flintkote Mines and Johnson Company, also of Thetford Mines.

Enrolment Of Freshmen Sets Bishop's Record

Although the return of cool weather may mean the end of summer holidays to many people, to those at Bishop's University it marks the beginning of a new era. For the first time in many years the college is expanding its facilities with the construction of new buildings, the enrolling of a record freshman class, and the addition of an athletics director.

The building program is well under way with a new gymnasium, residences and central heating plant under construction. The heating plant is expected to be completed before the frost sets in and it is hoped the gym will be ready for use in February. However, the main job is the building of two new residences and a central dining hall. These buildings, which are to be ready by next fall, will house both men and women students as well as completing the fourth side of the university's central quadrangle. These additions will provide greater facilities for higher education, and it is also hoped that the enrolment will be greater.

Steps in this latter direction have already been taken with the registration of the largest first year class in history. In the last few days 90 new students have been enrolled and to them falls the task of growing as Bishop's does. As Dr. A. R. Jewitt, principal of the university, pointed out to the students in an address yesterday, if the college expands it is also necessary for the students body to grow with it. In that way only can they expect to receive a maximum in education. Best wishes are extended to the incoming class and it is hoped they will carry on as those behind them have.

Another new addition is the presence of an athletic director, who will supervise all the college sports. This position is maintained by Hec Shields, who graduated last year from the McGill University Department of Physical Education. He has played football for many years with various teams throughout Canada, including one season with the McGill Redmen. Mr. Shields is now busily engaged coaching the college football team which plays its first game on Oct. 8th against Dawson.

With all these innovations and additions a great year is planned for Bishop's, and even higher hopes are held for the future.

A large number of friends and relatives yesterday paid final tribute to Harold Stevens Pye, popular local athlete, who was one of twenty-three persons killed when a Quebec Airways plane crashed north of Quebec City Friday afternoon.

Prayers were held at Johnston's Funeral Chapel and services were held in St. Peter's Church. Canon Russell Brown officiated, assisted by Rev. R. C. Tait and Thomas Hardy. Friends and relatives from all walks of life filled the church to pay their final respects.

HAROLD PYE MEMORIAL.
 Edson Warner, a past student at the Lennoxville High School, yesterday discussed with the students arrangements for acquiring a trophy in memory of Harold Pye, for 1½ years physical instructor at the school, who met his death in an air crash near Quebec City last week.

Mr. Warner suggested that a vote be taken of the students to select the finest and most outstanding all-round athlete who will receive a miniature of the trophy and have his name permanently inscribed on the memorial itself.

His proposals were unanimously approved and the students council was entrusted with the duty of raising the funds required to establish the trophy.

Physical Dept. Of Local YWCA To Open Sept. 19

Opening of the physical education department and swimming pool of the Sherbrooke Y.W.C.A. in the MacKinnon Memorial Building is scheduled for September 19, authorities there disclosed today.

Classes for children start on that date and adult classes begin September 26. Due to the popularity of the business girls' classes, it has been necessary to divide the class into Monday and Tuesday night sections. Membership is limited to 40 in each section and those registering first will have their choice of sections.

Nursery school for children from three to five years will start on September 23.

The club department, including the Hi-Dip and Dance Club, is expected to be in full swing by October 1.

He paid tribute to his colleague in the Superior Court, Mr. Justice William Mitchell, who was raised to the Bench last year. The latter was also representing Dr. A. R. Jewitt, Principal of Bishop's University.

The president of the tribunal pointed out the important changes which are taking place in the Court House and expressed the thanks of the district to the provincial authorities, and to the Hon. J. S. Bourque.

"The judges and lawyers have an important role to enact," he said, "the judge's duties being different from the lawyer's and more difficult to carry out. They must decide which side is right. Named by legitimate authority, the judge has veritable jurisdiction over all who appear before. His decision becomes law."

"Right being the object of justice," he continued, "the judge's task is to render justice, without exception of person. He is on the Bench to see that the law is carried out."

"The lawyer's role is different. He is, first of all, free to accept or refuse a case. However, in spite of the inevitable criticisms, we should remember that the lawyers occupy a most important place in our society. In fact many of the highest posts, such as prime ministers, senators, mayors, members of parliament and so on, are confided to lawyers."

"However," he added, "the importance of the lawyer's position bears with it serious duties. He must have an open spirit, and a logical one, he must be honest, even to the point of counselling a client against taking a bad case. In addition he must have a love for his profession, competence and a vast store of general knowledge."

Other speakers were His Excellency Right Rev. P. S. Desranleau, Bishop of Sherbrooke, Rev. O. L. Davidson, representing the Protestant clergy, Senator Jacob Nicol and Arcadius Denis, K.C., latonnier for the Bar of the District of St. Francis.

Others present included Judge Dorais Panneton, Judge Edouard Boissvert, Maurice Gingues, M.P., Raymond Hayes, K.C., joint crown prosecutor, representing the Hon. J. S. Bourque, Roland Dugre, K.C., Crown Prosecutor for the District, Maurice Delorme, syndic of the Bar, Leonce Cote, treasurer, Jean-Louis Pelouquin, secretary, Armand Rousseau, K.C., B. M. Holtham,

THE NEXT COURSE OF THE POUND

Despite further denials in British official quarters of any intention of devaluing the pound sterling, the stage has been so well set for such a move that many observers find it difficult to shelve the possibility. Sir Stafford Cripps has from time to time denied that the devaluation of the pound is necessary or that it will take place.

If in the last year he was speaking for the foreseeable future regardless of what developments might take place, perhaps we may dismiss the devaluation idea. Sir Stafford may be convinced that the present $4.03 will be the real value of the pound when the current trade and financial problems sort themselves out. Or he may wish to have a better idea where the value is likely to be in a stable world. At present, free markets indicate a value of nearer $3 than $4.

Certainly it can be taken from Sir Stafford's past statements that the pound would not be devalued as any panic measure and the majority of opinion seems to be that such a move would not solve Britain's problems until other basic conditions in the world are corrected.

The program agreed upon in Washington and the steps being considered by European powers might, of course, be considered the program required for any devaluation of the pound. The program is more significant in its intent than in its concrete steps. By intent it goes a surprisingly long way towards a freer entry of goods from other countries into the United States and despite internal objections the United States will find it difficult to retreat from this declaration of intent. Psychologically this seems the moment for a drive on the American market, and psychologically as well as practically, pound devaluation could give a big impetus to a properly operated drive.

It has, of course, been reiterated that currency devaluation was not discussed at the British-U. S. A.-Canada meetings but it is probable that the principal negotiators learned what was in their respective minds on the subject. American opinion, which certainly was divided on the matter a few months ago, seems to have swung in favor of devaluation.

The United States gave the utmost in concessions which could have been expected at this time, and one may wonder whether this was based on any knowledge or hope of British programs to come. At the World Bank and International Monetary Fund meetings, speakers are saying things which may be putting pressure on Sir Stafford, or else paving the way for him.

Eugene R. Black, World Bank president, said he can see no escape from devaluation of currencies if European goods are to compete for dollars in the American market. The report of the International Monetary Fund advises dollar-short countries to devalue their currencies.

Of course, it is easy to see a pattern in events where no pattern may exist, and accordingly it may be entirely wrong to see current events as pointing towards pound devaluation. All one can say is that they do set the stage, if one is desired.

SOCIAL SERVICES NOT FREE

Residents of New Zealand, which claims to have the most advanced social security system in the world, have had plenty of opportunity to find out recently that the services handed out by the Government are by no means free. The cost of the cradle-to-grave social security plan has increased every year since it was established by the Labor government and it is still growing. Payments under the scheme now total a third of the revenue raised by all forms of taxation.

Payments for social security benefits excluding medical services in the last financial year totalled $137,820,000, an increase of $6,742,000 on the previous year. In 1940 the cost of this part of the scheme was $37,348,000. With medical, hospital, druggist and other benefits added, it is probable that the total cost of the scheme for last year was over $168,000,000.

The largest single item in the payments in the last financial year was the family benefit, which cost $56,968,000. The family benefit involves the payment of two dollars a week to the parents of every child under sixteen, irrespective of the financial position of the parents. The next largest item was pensions, known under the scheme as "age benefits," which took $55,164,000.

The great increase in the cost of social security has taken place without unemployment benefits playing any significant role. These must be provided for out of the social security funds, but so great has been New Zealand's labor shortage since the war that unemployment has been almost unknown. There were only thirty persons throughout the country receiving unemployment benefits on March 31, this year, as compared with 16 at the same time the previous year. If unemployment occurred in New Zealand it would involve a further increase in social security costs.

PRESS COMMENTS

BREAKING THE BARRIERS

Winnipeg Free Press

In a Europe fragmented by innumerable trade restrictions it is significant that the new state of Western Germany and the ancient state of Switzerland have concluded what appears to be approximately a free-trade agreement. For Switzerland this maintains a traditional policy, but for Germany it represents a complete reversal of the system perfected by Dr. Schacht.

Under the Nazis all German trade was governed by strict commodity agreements which fixed the amount of goods which were to be imported and exported in every line down to the last clothe-pin. The new German-Swiss agreement allows traders in both countries to import and export whatever product they desire, with the exception of food-stuffs, which are to be covered by a subsequent agreement now under negotiation.

The Allied military government in Germany was quoted as saying that the "action taken (by Germany and Switzerland) can be heralded as the first break among the countries in the Organization for European Economic Co-operation, with the system of controlled commodity trade which has made inter-European trading difficult."

The break in this system is, of course, small. The paralyzing network of bilateral trade agreements still lies across Europe, but the fact that two of the most experienced trading nations are attempting to find their way out of it is encouraging. The ideal of unrestricted trade, though still far off, appears to be nearing the stage of practical politics in Europe again.

THE ADMIRAL DIDN'T SAY IT

Edmonton Journal

Remember Admiral Yamamoto, commander-in-chief of the Japanese navy at the time of Pearl Harbor, and his famous boast that he would dictate peace to the United States in the White House? So much publicity during the war, it is said, that the American people was like a whiplash across the face, it was constantly quoted and quoted whenever it was desired to rouse soldiers or civilians to fresh efforts.

Now U.S. intelligence officers, probing through the archives in Tokyo, have discovered that the admiral's mighty boast was just another wartime myth. While he did once use the phrase in question, it was with a meaning and intention altogether different from that attributed to it in the west.

It seems that some months before Pearl Harbor, a fanatical militarist wrote to Yamamoto urging that Japan seize the Netherlands Indies. The admiral replied that while such a conquest might be easy in itself, it would provoke a major war with the United States. Japan, he said, could only hope to win such a war by capturing Hawaii, invading the American Pacific coast, crossing the continent and finally dictating peace in the White House—a performance which he obviously regarded as too impossible to merit serious consideration.

But somehow or other, his remarks about the White House became detached from their context—probably through the agency of some clumsy Japanese propagandist who thought they might be good for home morale—and went winging around the world.

Now the truth has come out, but it has little chance of overtaking the legend. Nothing is harder to root out than a good popular myth. In all probability, the name of cautious Admiral Yamamoto will go down the ages with those of Goliath and King Xerxes, as an example of what happens to vain-glorious boasters.

13,000 DOCTORS

W. L. Clark in Windsor Star

Canada has 13,000 doctors, or an average of one doctor for every 1,000 people. That is a higher average than in any other country.

Liberia with 2,500,000 people has only one doctor.

India with 400,000,000 people has 40,000 doctors.

China with more than 400,000,000 people has less than 12,000 trained doctors. During the war the Chinese troops have been served by 30,000 medical officers of whom only seven per cent have had medical training, other than the rough training they picked up through experience in tending the sick and wounded.

Of the 12,000 doctors in Czechoslovakia in 1939, more than 7,000 are dead or missing. Ethiopia, with 12,000,000 people, almost as many as Canada, did not have a single native doctor left after the war.

Those are just some of the problems of healing the sick in so many nations. Canada, in spite of the better position enjoyed in this Dominion, is constantly striving to give better and better medical and surgical attention to the sick. That is an effort that deserves all the enthusiastic encouragement it can be given.

WHERE IT COMES FROM

We are indebted to the National Geographic Society for the information that vegetables are not called truck crops because they are hauled to market in trucks. They get their name, it says, from the French word "troquer" which means to barter or exchange, a feature of farmers' produce markets, particularly in Europe, for centuries.

U.K. Industry Thrives Despite Few Sales In Dollar Countries

By DON GILBERT

Canadian Press Staff Writer
Leeds, England, September 15.

British businessmen, their sterling-area exports booming, want more than an occasional pat on the back from their government.

Resentful of government interference with their business, and proud of the job they've done, many industrialists have developed a "what's in it for me" attitude to North American markets.

The answer is that there's little in it for the exporter. The dollars he earns go to the treasury. Because of the keener competition, the profit margin is thinner than in sterling area sales. The government frowns on anything in the way of tax rebate or other financial incentive for the successful dollar exporter.

There's no defeatist attitude in the British industrialist. Order books are bulging, production is high. Despite wide-spread criticism, many feel their prices are all right. They see Canadian and United States tariffs as a more potent barrier to sales.

Lamb And Tourists Have Place In N.Z. Dollar Saving Scheme

By ERIC BENTON

Wellington, N. Z., September 15.—(4)—This Dominion is going to try to sell scenery and lamb to Americans to help meet the dollar crisis.

New Zealand finds it difficult to prune her dollar spending by 25 per cent along with other Commonwealth countries. The reason is that dollar spending already is down almost to the bare bone.

Two years ago New Zealand cut imports of American newspaper, motor cars and other consumer goods. Not one new licence to import American automobiles has been issued this year.

New Zealand will cut dollar spending still more. She likely will stop importing timber from the east coast of the United States, cut down on other imports. She will seek more newspaper, farm tractors, and industrial machinery from sterling countries.

At the same time New Zealand hopes to build up her dollar earnings.

New Zealand's trout streams, hot springs, ski resorts, mountain scenery and deep sea fishing grounds are big tourist assets. All state-owned hotels and tourist houses have been told to spruce up their ideas of service. They also have been granted liquor licences. Even New Zealanders say there are not enough drinking places in the country.

New Zealand is a great primary producing country. She hopes some of her products will win more United States dollars. Almost all her surplus meat, butter and cheese goes to Britain. New Zealanders want this to go on.

But New Zealand government men, worried by the dollar problem, think some lamb can be sent to the United States without much loss to Britain.

Letters To The Editor

FARM PRICES AND PROTECTION COSTS

Sir: One of your letter correspondents says more rather than things about food prices and implies that greedy farmers are at the core of them. Well, in a democracy, a man is entitled to express himself—and even more importantly—is not afraid to do so. As I see it, that is one of the chief glories in the free world, and in the free press?

I have not the latest figures available, but it seems worth pointing out that the farmers' costs are one of the basic things which the average urban Canadian too easily overlooks; but the farmer doesn't and can't forget them. It may surprise some of your speedy urban readers to learn that out of the gross cash income for our 710,000 farmers in 1948 - officially estimated at $2,350,000,000 - better than one-third of that im-

The Record Short Story

The Good Question

By STANLEY C. VICKERS

More conscious of the time than of the book he was trying to read, he decided to go to bed. She had promised to be home about twelve. The dance was at Leedsville (why high school kids had to trapeze fifteen miles to hear Bunny Berman was beyond him) and midnight had seemed reasonable enough.

Nora was snoring gently in their front bedroom and, although he was faintly irritated by her seeming unconcern, he undressed quietly without turning on the light.

If you get them safely through high school the worst is over, he thought. Send her away to college and if she doesn't know enough to watch over herself by then, well . . . well, Elinor would! Any girl would who had been brought up right.

He recalled his own college days and grimly chuckled that bit of wishful thinking out the window.

But Lord! Elinor wasn't quite sixteen! At least they had some idea of what it was all about by the time they reached college.

He went into the bathroom and scrubbed his teeth viciously, impatient with his own anxiety, yet unable to dispel it.

It wasn't as if she had never gone out with boys before. He had never wanted to keep her in a cloister. But this Vernon looked older than the others. Handsome boy, really. And then there was the damn automobile! Going to a show downtown or to a dance at the school was different than driving alone in a car to a public dance hall in the next town. And why hadn't they taken another couple with them?

It was a few minutes before twelve when he re-entered the dark bedroom. He was circling the foot of the bed when he heard a car turn up the hill. He crossed to the window and when the car passed under a street lamp he saw that it was the tan Chevrolet sedan. He stood there while the car climbed up the hill beyond his hearing. It hadn't even slowed as it went by the house.

"What are you doing at the window?" Nora demanded sleepily. "Is Elinor home?"

He flung himself into bed, the memory of his short-lived relief at sight of the car deepening his rage. "No she isn't home, and she won't be for a while," he fumed. "They just drove past the house. Heading for some place to park I presume."

"Well," she replied after a time, "suppose that's normal."

"Sure, perfectly normal," he mimicked her. "Too damn normal!" He lay on his back glaring at the darkness and felt like swearing violently when he heard Nora's breathing betray the fact that she was not keeping his vigil.

Dozing, he awakened instantly at sound of a car door slamming. The luminous bedside clock read 12:50. Then the front door chimed rang and he was in his robe and slippers, hurrying downstairs in that panicky realization that something was wrong.

He flung open the door and faced a policeman. Elinor and the boy were standing at the foot of the porch and a police car was parked in front of the boy's Chevrolet at the curb.

"Your daughter said you'd identify this fellow?" He was a young policeman and he wore a friendly smile. "They were parked on top of the hill and he didn't have any registration for the car with him."

"His name is Vernon Bellows," he spat out, plainly indicating that the fact was very distasteful to him. "Would you step inside a second?" he asked on an impulse, then closed the door behind the policeman and himself. "Now what's this all about?"

"Nothing serious," the other asserted.

pressive total was paid in the form of general operating costs, or just $790,000,000, before a 'net' nickel accrued to these rural treasures.

Of course it would be over-simplifying the picture to merely deduct the latter "costs" from the former "gross" and, after dividing the result by the number of farmers, come up with a so-called "average" for those 710,000 rural homes. There are thousands of big-scale growers whose income would net from $4,000 a year and upward. On the other hand there are greater, far greater, thousands of farmers ranging from a net of $1,000 a year clear down to the barest subsistence or non-cash level.

The farmer, as a class, are simply not of the greedy or profiteering type. If they were, they wouldn't be farmers. Even tho'

FOR GOOD BRIDGE PAY CLOSE ATTENTION

When War Orphans Scholarships, Inc., was started, my thought was to provide a $500 scholarship to children of deceased veterans to help them get started in college. Today, however, trade school education is playing a very important part in this educational program.

With trade schools coming to the front and offering scholarships for war orphans, we can give the boys and girls who are unable to attend college, a concentrated trade school course that will make business men and business women of them.

My work with these youngsters is very reassuring. They realize the importance of getting the most they can out of school.

Bridge players who aim to get all they can out of every hand will find a good lesson in today's hand. The lesson is: pay close attention to everything that happens.

When the hand was played in the masters individual tournament, declarer trumped the opening lead of the three of hearts, then took five rounds of trumps. His next play was the deuce of diamonds. West played the ten, dummy played low and East won with the king, which showed that it was a singleton.

Now when East returned a club, declarer won it with the ace. Then he could safely finesse the nine of diamonds in dummy and thus make six-odd out of the hand.

False Alarms Being Turned In Locally

For the past few days the Sherbrooke Fire Department has been alerted by a series of false alarms. According to Captain Fortin, the department answered calls at 5.42 yesterday afternoon and at 8.52 p. m. the day before and found both alarms to be false.

A group of teen aged youths is believed responsible for at least one of the alarms, while, it is alleged, an eight year old boy turned in the other.

own generators and function as a radar warning system.

Headquarters are on the second floor of the Northern Electric Building and recruits will be accepted for registration within a week or two. Other such units will be set up in Shawinigan Falls, Quebec and St. John's, Que.

A squadron of aircraft and a complete radar convoy will be sent down by the R.C.A.F. on Saturday, September 24, about 3.30 p.m., to let the people in this vicinity know just what is going to be done. It is expected that by spring, the unit will be functioning efficiently.

The speaker was thanked by Fred Simpson, and during a brief question period, Lieut. Clark was called upon to outline the value of radar to the navy. Erwin Cochran, visiting Kiwanian, from Champagne, Ill., did the same for the army, saying that the possibilities of radar are seemingly endless and congratulating Sherbrooke and the club on being able to have a set-up here.

Kiwanian Harold Slater, speaking through his experience in the artillery, said that heavy guns cannot operate efficiently today without radar.

President Newman Hunter, who was in the chair, promised the support of the Club for this venture and said he believed Greg O'Boyle and Fred Clark had taken on a service to the community and to the Club and should be congratulated on their efforts.

A new member was inducted, in the person of Harry Prupas, general sales manager of Panther Rubber Company, who was introduced by Harold Slater.

Air Crash Victim Laid To Rest At Marbleton

Cecil Charles Goddard Humphries, Bank of Montreal inspector who died in the Quebec Airways plane crash north of Quebec City last Friday, was laid to rest Tuesday afternoon at Marbleton. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning at Grand' Mere, where his father is rector of St. Stephen's Anglican Church.

The deceased was born in Salvage, Nfld., on September 18, 1920. He spent many years, however, in Sherbrooke where his father, the Rev. E. H. Humphries, was rector of the Church of the Advent in the East Ward.

Mr. Humphries received most of his education in Sherbrooke schools. Following his wartime service with the RCAF in which he enlisted in 1941, he re-entered the service of the bank, being appointed inspector's assistant in 1948.

He was a victim of Canada's third worst air disaster that also claimed the life of Harold Pyle, Sherbrooke athlete.

At the committal service held Tuesday near Marbleton, Rev. Canon Belford officiated.

Among those who attended the graveside ceremony were: James Wark, Gerald Lemay, Ronald MacMillan, Mrs. J. H. Bryant, Mrs. W. H. Wolfe, Miss Doris Price, Mrs. Henry Harris, Jr., Mrs. D. Cathcart, Mrs. D. Miller and Mrs. A. K. Gibson, all of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville.

Also present were Rev. R. Turpin and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moo, of Cookshire, Rev. and Mrs. G. Robins, of East Angus, and Rev. and Mrs. Rowe, of Bury.

Conducted by Freeman Gill and inducted by Harold Slater.

President Hunter welcomed him into the Club and presented him with the badge and standard form of by-laws.

Sympathy was extended to the Granby Club who were guests at last night's meeting, for the loss of Walter Lege, a past president and valued member of their Club, who passed away this week.

Past President Fred Wallace, of Granby, replacing the president, thanked the local Club for their cordial reception, and congratulated them on the formation of the new Thetford Mines Club. "Your achievements of the past year speak highly for your leadership," he said, "and for the judgment of your members in electing the leaders."

Lionel Lamontagne, Granby inter-club chairman, presented the travelling gavel from the parent club to Len Keeler, inter-club chairman for the local Kiwanians.

Members from Granby who were present at last night's meeting were Harry Prupas, Leslie Roach, Andre Archambault, Hugh Gordon, Clayton Ball and Mr. Lamontagne.

Seated at the head table with President Hunter were Fred Simpson, Harold Slater, Gregory O'Boyle, Fred Clark, Len Keeler, Erwin Cochran, Harry Prupas, Freeman Gill, Past President Wallace and Lionel Lamontagne, both of Granby.

President Hunter announced that next week's meeting would be held on Thursday evening.

Recorder Frees Local Youth With Warning

The short sleepy-eyed youth who yesterday pleaded "not guilty" to a charge of drunkenness, received a suspended sentence and court costs in the Recorder's court this morning together with a stern warning from Recorder Hertel O'Bready to behave himself in the future.

Three other men came before Recorder O'Bready this morning on the same charge of drunkenness and two, who pleaded guilty, were given suspended sentences and ordered to pay $2.00 costs.

The other, who pleaded not guilty, will spend his time in the Winter street jail until court opens tomorrow morning, when his case will be heard again.

Then, he said, "it will be another matter."

Some of those present said Havana first urged that the committee on gold recommend his proposal for letting 50 per cent of new gold be sold free of ceiling price.

Snyder declared the United States to be opposed. But he said the United States would not object to the question being sent to the fund's board of directors for study.

Havana replied that if a board study were involved, the issue should cover more than his 50-per cent plan. That was merely a compromise, or "secondary" proposal, he said; the real need is for a flat increase in the recognized price of gold.

This, in effect, would be a devaluation of all the world's currencies in terms of gold, including the United States dollar. Considerable sympathy exists among fund members for such a move, since it would help many countries to reduce their balance-of-payments deficits.

were improved greatly during the lengthy strike but were slower than printing. The difficulties of operating with idle linotype batteries resulted in late press runs and fewer editions in the early weeks of the strike.

The printers have lost an estimated $13,000,000 in wages during the strike. However, this loss has been offset in part by strike benefits they have received from the working membership of the I.T.U. throughout the United States and Canada—$40 a week for married men and $40 for single men. Many strikers have not received benefits as they obtained jobs elsewhere.

Wages for the printers, before the strike, were $85.50 for a 36 1-4-hour week for day shift; $91 for 36 1-4-hour week for night shift; and $91 for a 30-hour week for the early-morning shift.

Kiwanis Head Will Speak In Montreal

J. HUGH JACKSON

J. Hugh Jackson, dean of the graduate school of business at Stanford University and president of Kiwanis International, will address the Kiwanis Club of Montreal at an inter-club meeting to be held at noon Friday, September 23, at the Mount Royal Hotel. This will be the California educator's first appearance in the Sherbrooke area since his election as president of the community service organization, which embraces 200,000 business and professional leaders in more than 3,000 communities throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii and Yukon Territory.

Dean Jackson, who resides at Palo Alto, Calif., will base his address on Kiwanis International's 1949 administrative theme, "Aggressive Citizenship—Our Individual Responsibility."

beds. Official estimates are that Britain needs at least 50,000 more beds for a first-class service. When Health Minister Aneurin Bevan (whose very name causes a kind of frenzy among some doctors) ordered a £5,000,000 ($36,000,000) cut in hospital costs, some authorities said hospital services would be set back 30 years.

The order was withdrawn. But hospitals account for two-thirds of the total yearly health bill of about £230,000,000, and Bevan has asked hospitals to try to trim their budgets.

Hospital beds are more costly now for paying patients. The fee ranges from 15 to 18 guineas a week compared with about eight before the state stepped in.

A SPECIAL CONTEST FOR SHERBROOKE AND NEIGHBORING DISTRICTS
BUY A BAG OF Newport Fluffs Today
WIN $200.00 first prize

CANADA'S GREATEST CEREAL VALUE
Newport Fluffs is a grand cereal that appeals to every taste... 100% whole wheat, roasted and popped... delicious and sweet tasting when served with milk, cream or fruit or even eaten dry. Try sprinkling Newport Fluffs in soups, too, for extra flavor.
You and your children will like Newport Fluffs—its easy digestibility... its ever-fresh flavor and goodness... its lasting crispness. You get more cereal for your money, too. Newport Fluffs is sold in 5-quart, 8-quart and 13-quart bags.

Here's a nice windfall for some one in Sherbrooke and neighboring districts... a simple contest which young and old can enter... with $200.00 first prize and many other prizes to reward the skill of successful competitors.
Here is the contest: the makers of Newport Fluffs... Canada's greatest cereal value... have taken a standard 5-quart bag of Newport Fluffs... removed the Libbey "Safe" Glass which is included free in every bag... then counted the number of whole fluffs in the bag. This counted bag has been sealed and placed in the office of the Sherbrooke Record.
Here's what you do: buy a 5-quart bag of Newport Fluffs from your grocer today. Figure out the number of whole fluffs contained in the bag you purchase. Then, using this number as a guide, estimate the number of whole fluffs contained in the sealed bag now at the Sherbrooke Record office. Or, if you prefer, you may examine this sealed bag, then make your estimate. If you usually buy 3-quart or 13-quart bags, then simply measure out 5 quarts from either of these sizes and estimate accordingly.
Important: The sealed, counted bag has no glass in it... your bag has. So consider this when making your estimate. When you have made your estimate, tear off the complete front of the Newport Fluffs bag, write on the back your estimate of the number of fluffs in the sealed bag, your name and address and your grocer's name and address. Then send it in to Post Office Box 612, Sherbrooke.
Buy your 5-quart bag of Newport Fluffs today. Enter the contest. Win $200.00 or one of the other cash prizes. Read the rules below carefully.

It was decided to hold a card party on Sept. 27. Request was made that all Sunshine bags be turned in to the treasurer at the next meeting to be held on Sept. 22. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. M. Cutts and Mrs. N. E. Cairns.

Mrs. T. E. Durocher, national president of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, and her sister, Miss Margaret Roy, both of Windsor, Ont., are arriving tomorrow evening, to attend the Provincial Convention of the C.W.L., being held Saturday. They will stay at the New Sherbrooke Hotel and will be the guests of honor at the membership tea, on Saturday afternoon, St. Patrick's Church Hall.

The engagement is announced of Marjorie Eleanor Benton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Benton, of Lennoxville, Que., to Mr. Edward MacLeod Siveright, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Siveright, of New Glasgow, N.S. The marriage will take place quietly in October.

A family gathering in honor of the fortieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woollerton, Kingston Avenue, (which occurs today), was held at the home of Mr. A. G. Batchelder, Compton, on Sunday evening. The guests of honor who had been invited to Compton for a friendly visit, were genuinely surprised to find their children and grandchildren waiting to greet them, and to hear strains of the wedding march being played by their daughter, Mrs. Donald Hutchison.

Excitement having subsided, little Miss Judy Woollerton presented her grandmother with a corsage of sweet peas and it being their "Ruby" anniversary, a ruby and rhinestone necklace and matching earrings, and her grandfather with a ruby ring, from the assembled members of the family. Mr. Royce Woollerton and family of Pointe Claire, and Mr. Norman Woollerton, presently at Jordan, Ont., were unable to attend the celebration.

Mr. A. G. Batchelder, who had been Mr. Woollerton's best man, forty years ago, acting as spokesman, paid a fitting tribute to the guests of honor and presented them with a gift of money from their cousins, including Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Nichols, of Waterville, Mrs. Gladys Ford, of West Charleston, Vt., Miss Eva Groome and himself. Mr. Batchelder was the only one present who attended Mr. and Mrs. Woollerton's wedding.

Mr. Woollerton replied to Mr. Batchelder's kind words and expressed his wife's and his own thanks for this get-together and beautiful presents. He referred with regret to the absence of some members of the family and to that of Mrs. Woollerton's bridesmaid, Mrs. Mildred Burr, of Dorchester, Mass., who had found it impossible to be present. He also recalled the memory of the late Rev. Isaac Wilkinson, who had officiated at their wedding.

The house was lavishly adorned with garden flowers, and in the dining room, where the buffet supper was served, the long table was tastefully arranged with pink tapers. Miss Eva Groome, the hostess, was assisted by Mrs. Howard Woollerton and Mrs. Donald Hutchison.

Plans Are Nearing Completion For Annual Rotary Fair At The Boundary

Derby Line, Sept. 15.—While a lot of last minute running around will be necessary, plans for the Fifth Annual Boundary Rotary are virtually complete, and it looks like a better-than-ever event.

Elwin Chadsey, chairman of the Fair, has announced that there will be three bed-radios for door prizes, one each evening, and you must be present to win. There will be 22 cash prizes and an electric refrigerator as a grand prize in the Rotary raffle.

It is not necessary to be present to win any of these prizes. The full committee and the booth chairman have been announced, and are as follows: Elwin Chadsey, chairman; Roland Roy, Albert Young and Earl Heath, assistants. Albert Young has charge of the Rotary raffle, and Lawrence Tilton will look after the construction of the booths.

Electricity for the Fair will be handled by J. A. Grady; Jack Cowens and Allen Greer will be the stock men, and Gordon Petrie will be the treasurer. Help for the booths will be attended to by Maurice Moore, and Earl Heath has charge of the publicity and advertising.

Booth Chairmen
For the various booths, the following will act as chairmen: Admission, William Dailey and Vincent Davis. That coney game, C. R. MacLean. Charles Crawford will have charge of blankets, with William Greer heading the staff in the China booth.

The Chanet booth will again be looked after by Earl Heath; Charles Parmenter will handle the popular fruit booth, and groceries will be looked after by David Goodell. Norbert Danneau will handle the booth devoted to hams; shirts and umbrellas will be presented over by J. D. Ferguson. J. M. Kirwin will look after the popular horse turns, and Allen Pocock will be back in his well known Pony Wheel booth. Albert Young will of course handle the raffle tickets, and a restaurant will be there, with Gordon Hartson to take care of it.

There will, as always, be a lot of extra help needed in the various booths, and this help will come from members of the Rotary Club of the Boundary and their friends, many of whom have worked at the Fair all the previous four years.

Next week, Monday, the booths will be constructed; Tuesday evening they will be decorated; Wednesday evening the stock will be put in; and everything will be ship-shape for the grand opening, Thursday evening, September 22.

BEEBE

The Beebe Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Carboneau on September 8 for the regular monthly meeting, with 15 members and 4 visitors present. At this was the first meeting held since July, a rather lengthy session followed the opening formalities. Several letters were read and discussed. The resolutions, recently received from Macdonald College, were read and signed by the members present. Reports were given on sewing by Mrs. Brevoort; the county meeting by Mrs. Taylor; agriculture by Mrs. Elliott, and on eye-glasses for underprivileged children by Mrs. Leon Miller. Mrs. Ezra Woodard suggested that the institute purchase a loom, so that the members could learn the art of weaving. A vote was made to purchase one and this will be carried out in the near future. A committee was selected to help with the rummage sale to be held at the School Fair. These are Mrs. Vera Brevoort, Mrs. Jennie Moss and Mrs. H. Taylor. Anyone having articles for this sale are asked to leave same at the post office or at the home of Mrs. Leon Miller. A food sale is to be held to raise enough money to pay 50¢ per member for the "Mrs. Alfred

Community School Is Not Highbrow

Derby Line, Sept. 15.—"I didn't realize how much real pleasure there was in the Community School," is a common remark by those who attend for the first time. For some reason, many people have the impression that the International Community School is made up of high-brows and that the sessions are either dull or uninteresting.

Actually, of course, the classes are enjoyable; the speakers interesting; and the recreation fun. You do learn things—that's the purpose of the school—but education can be pleasant, and every effort is made to make the school just as pleasant as is possible.

The classes this year are varied, there are several hobby and handicraft groups, and the speakers are selected for their interest as well as for their knowledge. A list of the classes and hobby groups appears in an add in today's paper, and copies of the attractive program are available to anyone at the Haskell Library, Derby Line and Rock Island; the Goodrich Library at Newport; Lysle Thompson's store in Ayer's Cliff; or from the Registrar, Miss Aline Ricard, Rock Island, Que.

It is wise to enroll early, as some of the groups must of necessity be limited, and above all remember that "Education can be fun," and the officers of the International Community School make every effort to see that it is fun.

Watt's scholarship fund. Each member is to donate food and those named on the food committee are Mrs. Brevoort, Mrs. E. Shepard and Mrs. Leon Miller. The sale is to be held on September 24 in the Town Hall. A sick member is to be remembered, also a sick friend. A delicious tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Carboneau, Mrs. Jennie Moss and Mrs. Elliott. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ezra Woodard on October 3.

RAMBLING ROUND THE BORDER

Next week Tuesday evening, the 20th, the Ninth Annual Session of the International Community School starts at Stanstead College, and on Thursday evening, the 22nd, the Fifth Annual Boundary Rotary Fair starts at the Rock Island Armoury. Both are important and worthwhile local events, and both deserve the patronage and attention of everyone at the Boundary.

It is surprising but true to discover that many people are in a sense almost "scared" of the local Community School. They figure it is as something highbrow and boring, something beyond them. Nothing could be more wrong. Actually the school is a lot of fun, and the things you learn are practical, interesting and decidedly worth the time. A full account of the plans appeared in this paper last week, and there is an ad today that tells you where programs can be obtained. Get one of them, read it over, and decide now to enroll.

There will be news galore about the Fifth Annual Boundary Rotary Fair next week, but it might be well to mention now that the plans are very rapidly nearing completion and that it is sure to be just about the best effort of the Rotary Club of the Boundary. The prizes are truly fine and there will be a great many of them. All the old favorite games will be present, and for the fifth year in succession, it will be "Fun For All—All For Charity," at the Rock Island Armoury, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, September 22, 23 and 24.

A surprising number of cars with Western license plates have been passing through the local Customs offices the past week. Cars from California, Illinois, Iowa, Idaho, Wisconsin, and many other middle and farther Western states have been observed. Evidently, more and more people are finding out that everything does not end Labor Day, and that the scenery is more beautiful in the fall than at any other time of the year.

Two additional accidents on the road from Derby Line to Derby point to the need of fixing the road and of driving very carefully on this stretch. It is a very slippery road when it is wet, and the quick application of brakes is almost certain to result in a skid.

Mr. And Mrs. F. Fogerty, Formerly Of Granby, Celebrated Their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary At Galt, Ont.

Granby, Sept. 13. —The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fogerty, who resided for many years in Granby, will be interested to know that they celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding on Friday, August 13, at their present home, in Galt, Ont.

Mr. Fogerty was superintendent of the Granby Last Factory and from 1919 until 1925 was manager of the Granby Rubber Factory, when it closed operations. They then moved to Galt, Ont., where they still reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Fogerty were married at Malden, Mass., fifty years ago and had three children, Charles, Francis (deceased some years ago), and Clara.

A reception was held for them in Galt, where yellow roses and gladioli were used for decorations on the lawn of their Perbeck Hill home, on the Black Hespeler Road. Receiving with them were their son, Mr. Charles Fogerty, of Galt, and daughter, Clara, M. R. W. La Point, of Albany, N.Y.

Their grandson, Douglas Fogerty, ushered the guests into the living room, where Mrs. C. D. Fogerty presided over the tea table. Two other grandchildren, Nancy and Susan LaPoint were also present.

In the afternoon tea was poured by Mrs. A. C. Norman and Mrs. T. A. McKenzie, and in the evening by Mrs. W. Watkins and Mrs. Thomas McDonald. Those assisting in serving the guests were Mrs. D. Brewer, Mrs. E. Rush, Mrs. L. W. Turnbull and the Misses Beth St. Clair, Miss Mary Ferguson and Miss Ruth Fogerty.

The bride and groom of fifty years received many messages of congratulations and gifts from community friends.

Their many friends in Granby join in offering sincere good wishes for their continued good health, happiness and prosperity.

General Notes

The strong wind storm that passed over Granby on September 1, did considerable damage. A tall Lombardy poplar tree on the grounds of the house occupied by Mr. N. Hindley was blown down, falling on Mr. J. G. Fuller's garage and also splitting another poplar tree on the grounds of the latter.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. D. N. Coburn, of Ottawa, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Fuller, at "Edge-wood." Dr. Coburn was for some years pastor of the former congregational church here.

The Misses Lucy and Hazel Williams have left for a trip to Vancouver, B.C., where they will be the guests of their uncle, Mr. George Lewis.

Mrs. Lydia Swift, of Northampton, Mass., is visiting her niece, Mrs. O. V. Giddings and family.

Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Mitchell have closed their house on Bromie Lake and with their family have returned to Granby.

Dr. Rowell, for many years a dentist, has retired from the profession and with Mrs. Rowell has gone to reside in Ormstown, where he has purchased a house.

Saints Edge Out Cubs 4-2 To Knot Series 4-4; Final Game Tonight; Farnham Upsets St. Johns Braves 9-2

St. Hyacinthe Saints certainly are proving a big stumbling block for Drummondville Cubs in their bid for the Provincial Baseball League Championship.

The Cubs, after annexing the pennant by quite a healthy margin, didn't figure to have too much trouble disposing of the Saints who were lodged in the league cellar all year.

But they soon found out how wrong they were. Last night the Saints evened the best-of-nine semi-final series at 4-4 by virtue of their 4-2 victory.

Bill Herr was the winning hurler although he was reached for seven blows while his opponent, Tex Shirley, allowed only five.

The Saints scored twice in each of the first and third innings. Both Drummondville runs came in the fifth inning.

The final game of the series will be played at Drummondville tonight—weather permitting.

Meanwhile at St. Johns, Farnham Black Sox took a 1-0 lead in their best-of-seven semi-final series with the Braves by lacing the Braves 9-2.

The Sox rapped up the game as early as the first inning when they scored six runs off starter Bobec. The visitors trailed once in the second inning against relief pitcher Gardner and twice more in the top of the ninth. Mains was the winner allowing the Braves only nine scattered blows.

In other games, Chicago White Sox dumped Washington Senators, 8-1; Philadelphia Phillies whipped Pittsburgh Pirates, 12-4, and the Chicago Cubs outslugged the Boston Braves, 8-7.

A crowd of 10,712 fans sat through a steady rain which held up the Card-Giant game for one hour and 45 minutes, but were rewarded at the end. The Red Birds collected a dozen hits off three Giant hurlers with Stan Musial once again taking the most active role.

The Cardinal slugger slammed a bases-loaded triple, and added a pair of singles to account for six runs. He drove in four and scored two. Monte Kennedy absorbed the brunt of the attack to be charged with his 13th setback. It was the 13th victory for Brecheen.

gun for the East Angus team, in the first game, when he poled out two doubles and three bingles to drive home seven runs. Ray Bisson also came through with some timely hitting as he connected for a round-tripper and three singles to help his team's cause.

In the second tilt the clubs settled down to good ball, after a wobbly start, and the 1,500 fans were treated to good ball, as the East Angus squad came through with another win over Megantic to wrap up the title by the count of 6-3.

As in the opening game of the series Beliveau, Rolly Labarre and Ray Bisson paced the attack on the visitors when they collected six hits between them. Beliveau drove in two runs for his job at the plate, while on the mound he whiffed eleven Megantic boys at the plate and allowed only five hits, for one earned run, as his mates committed three costly errors behind him.

East Angus will now meet the winners of the Chateaufort and Chesham series, in section B of the loop, on Sunday, September 25.

Athletics To Hold Final Workout Tonight In Preparation For Tilt Against Navy In Montreal Saturday

Sherbrooke Athletics will stage their final heavy workout of the week at the baseball park tonight in preparation for their opening Quebec Rugby Football Union game in Montreal Saturday against the Navy.

With their scheduled game against Three Rivers last weekend postponed, the Athletics haven't yet had a chance to try out their new plays, or players, in action, but they have shown up well in practice over the last month.

Navy gained a surprise tilt against Lakeshore last week-end and a victory for the Athletics on Saturday would stamp the local team as one of the top contenders for honors in the intermediate league.

Last night the ball park was being used for a junior baseball game so coach Coach Brown and his assistants, backfield coach Ronnie Morrow and line coach Gordie (Beef) Ross, had a chalk talk at the armory.

Tonight's session will be to put into practice on the field the plays that were explained in the armory drill last night.

Another light workout tomorrow will wind up the pre-season training.

He's Not Same Old Rocky, But Graziano Still Is Most Exciting Battler In Game; K.O.'s Fusari

New York, Sept. 15. (AP)—The Rock is back on the victory road. Not the Rocky Graziano of old, but still the most exciting fighter to watch in the ring today.

For nine rounds against Charlie Fusari in the Polo Grounds last night it seemed the Rock was through. He was trailing on every scorecard and it seemed only a tenth-round knockout could save him.

Then it happened—the explosive burst that the crowd of 31,092 had been waiting for all night.

A left hook connected and Fusari reeled from mid-ring to the ropes. A right, then another, and then a rain of blows that draped Fusari over the ropes and then to the floor for a count of nine.

Like a tiger smelling blood, Rocky tore after Fusari. He pinned him in a corner, held his head in place with his left hand, and hammered him with his right.

The crowd was on its feet, roaring for the kill. But Referee Ruby Goldstein had seen enough. He pulled Graziano from his victim and declared the Rock the victor at 2:04 of the last round.

"He shouldn't have stopped it," said Fusari later. "I was waiting for him to slow up and then I would have gone after him."

Few observers agreed with him. But the 24-year-old Irvington, N.

J., better, stopped for the first time in his career, lost nothing in defeat.

He was outweighed 12 pounds—159½ to 147½—by one of the fiercest punchers in the game—and except for the one mistake was the better fighter.

The three officials all had Fusari in front for nine rounds. Judge Charley Shortell scored it 5-3 with one even. Judge Jack O'Sullivan recorded 5-4 while Goldstein's card showed 4-3 with two even. The AP scoresheet had Fusari ahead 5-3 with one even.

Fusari piled up points with left jabs and left-right combinations. He even rocked the Rock in the first round. He opened a cut over the 27-year-old New Yorker's left eye in the second frame and took a good many of Graziano's Sunday punches without flinching.

The weight edge caught up with him in the last stages and he admitted he was tired.

Rocky, fighting his first New York bout in 15 months, was jubilant.

"I'll take anybody on. Jake LaMotta? Sure, I'll take the champ and beat him too. But I need a couple of tuneup fights first. I was rusty but this fight did a lot for my confidence."

The gross gate was $135,117. Cloudy skies and a late sprinkle kept the melon from being larger.

Buffalo And Royals Win Opening Games

The pennant-winning Buffalo Bisons and the defending-champion Montreal Royals are off to a fine start in the opening round of the International League's playoffs.

Both the Bisons and Royals scored victories last night in the first games of their series which were delayed a day because of rain.

Righthander Saul Rogovin pitched the Bisons to a 10-4 triumph over Jersey City Giants and Dan Bankhead hurled the Royals to a 9-5 triumph over Rochester Red Wings.

Rogovin checked the Giants on six hits, fanned 11, walked five and helped his own cause with a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

The Bisons wrapped up the game with six runs in the first three innings, pouncing on Lefty Roger Bowman for four runs in the first frame.

Cy Block and Marty Taback checked paced Buffalo's 12-hit attack with two singles and a double apiece.

Bankhead, a 20-game winner during the regular season, also breezed home against the Wings.

Sam Jethroe started the Royals off to victory by opening the game with a home run off Cloyd Boyer. The Royals chased Boyer with a five-run assault in the second and clinched the decision with three more in the fourth.

Lefty Johnny Van Cuyk (10-10) has been selected to face Rochester's Johnny Yuhas (8-9) tonight in the second game of the series.

At Buffalo, Red Hardy (8-9) has been nominated to pitch for Jersey City against Buffalo's Bob Hooper (18-3).

Following tonight's games, both series will shift to Montreal and Jersey City for the next three games.

Proximity Given Edge Over Field Tonight

Westbury, N.Y., Sept. 15. (AP)—Proximity rules a strong favorite over nine other entrants in tonight's $25,000 American Trotting championship at Roosevelt Raceway.

The seven-year-old mare owned by Ralph and Gordon Verhurst of Victor, N.Y., is expected to go postward at even money or less. She has won all but one of her 19 starts this year and seeks to add the winner's share of $11,250 to her earnings of $144,954.

Pitted against Proximity in the one-mile event are Demon Hanover, which led the renowned mare home in the $50,000 Roosevelt two-mile trot here Aug. 25; Rodney, Chris Spencer, Cheshamtown, Charity Dean, David Spencer, Buster Volio, Dutch Harbor and Vita Lee.

Since finishing second to Demon Hanover, Proximity has twice avenged that setback in mile contests. Demon Hanover won last year's Hambletonian.

Unitcast Downs Superheater 7-4 To Cop Softball Title In Three Straight Games For Second Year

Unitcast, for the second consecutive year, won the Sherbrooke Industrial Softball League championship last night at Dufresne Park when they downed Superheater 7-4 to take the series in three straight games.

The feature of the playoff games, between the two teams, was Fern Bouchard's pitching. last night held Jim O'Connor's squad to three scattered hits, and his control over the Superheater batters was a big factor in his team's march to their second straight title.

In the opening inning Superheater got away to a good start, netting four runs on two hits and an error. One was a circuit blow by MacDonald with two aboard.

Unitcast came right back with two runs in their half of the first, and added three more in the third on two hits and two miscues. They collected two more in the fourth frame, errors by O'Connor's men helping them to tally.

After allowing Superheater two hits in the first inning, Bouchard gave up only one more hit in the remaining six innings, and he sent six batters down via the strike-out method.

Superheater congratulated the winners and wished them every success in their forthcoming clash with the winners of the Codere-Tuque Rouge for the city softball title.

Dodgers Must Find It Discouraging Business Trying To Overtake Cards; Win 11 Of 13 But Gain No Ground

Brooklyn Dodgers must be wondering today just what must they do to catch the high-flying St. Louis Cardinals.

Since the first of the month, the Brooks have piled up 11 victories in 13 tries, a true championship gait.

And how much yardage did they pick up on the Red Birds during that torrid stretch drive? Not a foot. The Cards duplicated the Dodgers' feat by winning 11 of their last 13 skirmishes.

So as the two perennial rivals swing into the final two weeks of the National League campaign, the Cards still cling to the 1½-game edge they held Sept. 1.

The Dodgers drew first blood yesterday, knocking off their favorite playmates, Cincinnati Reds, 4-2 in an afternoon tussle. That narrowed the Cards' edge to one game as a Red Bird defeat meant the slimmest of margins between the two clubs

—a half length. Then to keep the pattern going, St. Louis polished off New York Giants 9-3 in a night game as Harry (The Cat) Brecheen came through with a 10-hit effort. Brecheen, an extra-effective relief hurler, notched his seventh triumph in 10 lamp-light decisions.

In the American League, New York Yankees advanced two more strides toward their 16th championship, by sweeping both ends of a double bill from the hapless St. Louis Browns, 2-0 and 13-7. The sweep enabled the Bronx Bombers to increase their first-place lead over Boston to three games, despite the Red Sox' 1-0 victory over Detroit.

Cleveland virtually eliminated itself from contention by dropping a 2-1 decision to Philadelphia Athletics, 2-1. The Indians now are 7½ games off the pace, three percentage points ahead of the fourth-

(Special to the Record)

East Angus, Sept. 15. — The East Angus Black Sox baseball team copped the championship of the Compton-Frontenac section "A" when they defeated the Lake Megantic club in two consecutive games.

In the first game the Black Sox managed to edge out the Megantic squad 17-16 in a wide open hitting affair. The home team banged out a grand total of twenty-four safeties, and committed four errors, while Megantic collected sixteen, but were guilty of six miscues which proved costly to them.
