United Church area sessions map for future

The atom bomb, sex literature and liquor advertising were among items on the agenda of the 34th Annual meeting of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference of the United Church of Canada which concluded yesterday at Calvary United Church.

Rev. P. C. Lewis, minister of Knox Church in Cornwall, Ont., was elected President of Conference to succeed Dr. A. J. Gray of Ottawa.

A resolution deploring use of nuclear power for military purposes and urging "daring and imaginative leadership" which will take "carefully calculated risks" to secure peace was passed by the conference yesterday morning.

Sugesting that Western powers give serious consideration to the suspension of nuclear weapons tests during a stated period, the resolution urges diplomatic talks at various levels and that no overtures from the Soviet Union be rejected "out of hand."

The resolution states "that the use of nuclear power for military purposes can only lead to mass extermination, and this is a horrible mockery of God's holy purpose in the creation of man . . . The race for superiority in nuclear weapons is futile madness and our participation can only be justified as a means to an end."

Widespread sale of obscene literature has an "injurious" effect on the character of youth, the conference stated as a resolution was passed urging parents to help develop good reading habits in their children. The resolution also asked for active cooperation of municipal and provincial authorities to prohibit sale of this literature, and the conference requested that the federal government be asked to clarify the terms salacious and obscene.

"Laws against liquor advertising are being circumvented at the present time through the use of a Montreal publication address," a conference statement said. The conference affirmed "the promotion of the sale and use of alcoholic beverages through advertising, and especially through the use of the modern media of mass communication is entirely contrary to the public interest."

These three resolutions on nuclear power, salacious literature and liquor advertising grew out of a report by the Evangelism and Social Service committee.

The conference agenda also included other committee reports, ordination of several young men and commissioning of Miss Shirley Johnston, formerly of Queen Mary Road United Church, for missionary work in Africa; daily devotional services by Rev. John M. Wilkie of Toronto and public meetings in the evenings.

Inspection service

Referring to the Public Works Department in his April monthly report, City Manager Tom Hughes informed the Westmount City Council that work had begun at the end of the month on the reconstruction of the remaining 200 feet of Summit Circle north of Summit road. The breaking out of the roadway had been completed.

Work also started on the construction and completion of the Summit Circle sewer, 85% of the work on this project has been done during the winter months.

Real estate sales over $42,000,000

In the figures quoted by the Montreal Real Estate Board for the month of March for suburban municipalities, the City of Westmount totalled 28 sales valued at $654,455.

Senior High grads celebrate tonight

A Gala Premiere of a "surprise" movie of the Avenue Theatre will be the highlight of Westmount High graduation festivities tonight.

Although the theatre management has not released the name of the show, according to tradition, it is the first time that this first-run movie will be seen in Montreal.

Businessmen, from the manager of the theatre, W. Currie, to Seven-Up Co. Ltd., and the Philco Co., are pitching in to make the affair a memorable one for the teen-agers.

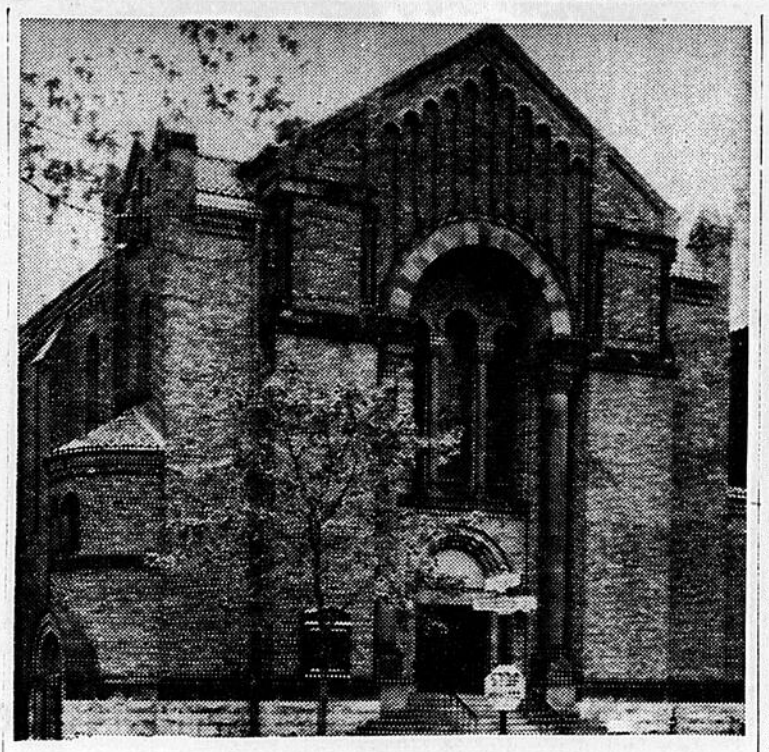

At the theatre, opened for this occasion to keep excited graduates happy and occupied during their dusk-to-dawn celebrations, students will be interviewed by CKVL.

The radio station has set aside the half hour from 12:30 a.m. to 12:55 a.m. for the graduates' program. Besides interviews there will be live entertainment broadcast from the theatre lobby including a rock-and-roll and western group.

Refreshments will be served by the Seven-Up Co., and door prizes will be allotted through the drawing of entrance ticket stubs. Prizes have all been donated by parents except for the "piece de resistance" — a tiny Philco transistor radio which can fit into shirt pocket, the smallest of its type in the world.

Activities at the theatre will follow the regular round of eating, dancing and making merry. The Graduation Banquet will be at the new Queen Elizabeth Hotel, and the Ball in the gymnasium, being decorated this afternoon by Grade 10 students.

After the movie premiere, students will disperse to various homes for more dancing and parent-sponsored breakfast parties, to keep things hopping through their dawn-hour vigil.

'Go North young man' advice to Rotarians

"The future of Canada is to the North and development of this region will require men of resource and determination as well as physical stamina", stated Major General John Meredith Rockingham, CB, OBE, DSO, ED, General Officer Commanding Quebec Command, who spoke Wednesday to the Westmount Rotary luncheon meeting. His topic was the "Canadian Army and Service to Youth".

General Rockingham noted eight opportunities which army life offers a young man ranging from an opportunity to be of service to the country to the advantages of travel.

Referring to a recent trip he made to the radar warning lines in the North operated by the Canadian army, he believed the life there develops the best qualities.

Moreover, the army instills a sense of discipline which leads to self-reliance.

Pride in a team which keeps the recruit striving to maintain a standard also benefits.

Education is not the least of the advantages which can be gained in the army. Each recruit is enabled to learn a trade, often highly specialized, which will be of use throughout his life.

General Rockingham further outlined the opportunities to youth for service in the army.

Advantage To Youth

Cadet units now boast 19,000 members in Quebec alone. These youngsters are offered the chance to spend part of the summer in army camps and during the year apprentice plan which will are trained at the expense of the government.

At the age of 16, with the permission of parents, selected young men may enter the army on a seven year give them command of a trade.

Officer training plans are also in operation. Students, thinking of the army as a career, can apply under the Regular Officer Training Plan for benefits which will pay their way through university and provide them with a reasonable living allowance. Or, they may enter one of the Canadian Service Colleges.

Others may join the Canadian Officers' Training Corps and quality as a lieutenant by the time they receive their degree. Under this plan, students are required to spend two summers and three winters in practical and theoretical training for which they are paid at the prevailing rate for the regular forces.

"Academically and athletically," concluded General Rockingham, "the Canadian Army is doing a good job for the youth of the country."

Thieves made off with an estimated $1,000.00 early Wednesday morning when they broke into the Avenue Snack Bar, 1182 St. Catherine street west. Entry was obtained through a window which had been left open in the rear of the premises.

The last employee of the restaurant, owned by Mike Eddie and Fred Kalil, left at about 1:00 a.m. Wednesday. When Fred opened for business at 6:40 a.m. he discovered the break in.

No damage was done except to the drawer of the cash register. An unsuccessful attempt was made to force it open. The cash, in silver and bills, was taken from a box under the counter in which the money was kept.

The thieves apparently climbed the garage door and descended the fire escape to gain access to the open window.

The investigation is being carried out by Detective Sergeants H. Ward, J. Lessard and W. Wyllie of the Westmount Police Department.

Parking restricted on Lorraine avenue

Parking restrictions have been imposed on Lorraine avenue, running parallel and just above Sherbrooke street, east from Claremont avenue, in an effort to alleviate the parking congestion on the street which has, in the past, inconvenienced the residents.

At the east end of the cul-de-sac, parking is prohibited at all times.

On the north side of the street parking will be restricted from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. and on the south side, during the same hours, parking will be limited to two hours.

Foundation work starts on library

Test borings have been commenced on the site of the proposed extension of the Westmount Public Library. The borings, to cost an estimated 400.00, are meant to determne the soil conditions in the area.

The firm of Wood, McAdam and Magor, 4444 Sherbrooke street west, have been appointed consulting engineers for the mechanical and electrical work on the building.

The Examiner on page 7 presents a feature article by Valentina Rahr, on the United churches of Westmount — part of a series on local churches, and especially timely in view of the sessions of the Montreal-Ottawa conference of the United Church of Canada, just concluded at Calvary Church here.

Joseph Edward Chandler, assistant to the president of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada and until recently mayor of the Municipality of Hudson Heights, died at the home of his sister in Rochester, N.Y., Sunday after a long illness. He was 66.

Born in Manchester, England, Mr. Chandler came to Canada when he was 16 and for many years before the First World War he was a newspaperman with the old Montreal Herald. He followed this with two years on the staff of the Boston American and returning to Canada became press representative for the Keith Circuit. In July 1919, when he was with the Montreal Star, he accepted a post with the Sun Life on the head office staff and was identified with the company for almost forty years.

In 1930, he was appointed supervisor of the Sun Life's new press bureau; in 1936, he became publicity officer of the Company; in 1944, executive assistant and in 1950 he became assistant to the president.

Mr. Chandler, who was interested in pure-bred stock, maintained a small but select herd of Holsteins at Meadowwood Farm, his home in Hudson Heights. He was governor of the Farmers' Club of Montreal and a farmer director of the Holstein-Freisian Association of Canada.

Actively interested in municipal affairs, he was first elected a member of the Hudson Heights Council nearly thirty years ago and was a councillor until he became mayor in 1949. He was mayor for five consecutive terms, elected each time by acclamation, and he played an active part in the growth of the community, winning wide support in such matters as the commuters' railway fare discussions held in recent years.

Mr. Chandler was also past president of the Lake of Two Mountains Division of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Canada, past chairman of the Life Advertisers section of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association and a member of the Montreal Men's Press Club.

Mr. Chandler is survived by his wife, the former Grace McMahon, a son, Charles, a daughter Eileen (Mrs. A. S. Kirk), two grandchildren, Robert Kirk and five sisters, Madge (Mrs. Farrell Vincent), Rena Chandler Kirk and Kathryn (Mrs. W. L. Covert) and Florence (Mrs. W. H. The purchasing and stores department of Canadian National Railways spends an average of $282 million a year — or about $537 a minute, E. A. Bromley, the department's chief told members of the Hamilton Traffic Club.

According to the May Reader's Digest, a strange disease called cystic fibrosis of the pancreas threatens the lives of 6,000 white babies a year; a few Negro children, and absolutely no Orientals. WE SAY

50th anniversary should be marked

Westmount's fiftieth anniversary should not be allowed to go by without some celebration.

This city is the garden spot of eastern Canada. The municipal services are rated among the best in the country. The city is replete with tradition and stands as proof that the best of the past and the best of the present can be tastefully blended to afford a guarantee to the future of municipal achievement and dignity.

The spirit that has built Westmount, and maintained its standards of excellence is not the type that would overlook an important anniversary.

We are not suggesting any honky-tonk hullabaloo, any muddled midway type celebration with nothing but tinsel and terpischore. Far from it.

But we do believe that the story of Westmount's achievement should be told in the fiftieth anniversary setting, and such organizations as the churches, the service clubs, St. George's Club, etc., set aside special events to pay tribute to the achievement and those responsible for it.

A reader asks "Is Westmount too proud to celebrate?" We don't believe so. If there was nothing to celebrate then, perhaps, discretion might be the better part —but this city has much to offer in the way of municipal achievement.

It should be noted, in a public demonstration.

City departments have active month

Setting no records, making no headlines — city fire and police departments nevertheless marked up an active month in April.

Handled quietly and without fanfare by the police, were 78 accidents, bringing injury to 17 persons. This is a decrease in accidents of 12, and in injuries of two. There were no fatalities.

Traffic court handled 808 cases, all but 100 of the total going before the local municipal tribunal.

While the fire department answered only 30 calls, and only half of these were for fires, a great deal of fire prevention work was carried on. There were no major blazes.

Premises were inspected for fire hazards, and notices, cautions and recommendations were issued. Ten general complaints were handled and five cases of defective wiring detected. In addition 75 fire extinguishers were inspected.

This is a worth-while preventive work, and doubtless is the main reason for a lack of serious fires in the city.

Both of these municipal departments continue to maintain a high standard.

Finds publicity proves valuable

Sir: We are grateful to you, for the valuable publicity you've given the Canadian Cancer Society's Central Education Committee's worthwhile work.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. E. T. Reynolds,
Member of the Central Education Committee.

THEY SAY

You have not converted a man because you have silenced him.

—John Morley

"Say, Monsieur le Générale . . . I warn you, it takes time for us military guys to learn the know-how."

YOU SAY

Finds city report a 'fine document'

Sir:

It is difficult to restrain the justifiable urge to express appreciation of the "annual report" of the city of Westmount. Typographically it is a fine piece of work. Its documentation is a tribute to the efficient personnel of the administration.

Westmounters can really be proud of their city. The information contained in the report demonstrates that the administration is conducted in accordance with sound business practice in both revenue and expenditure.

The taxpayers learn at first hand what they are getting for their money. The general manager and principal officials are highly competent and determined to maintain the high reputation Westmount enjoys, as one of the most efficient municipal administrations in Canada.

The several departments are well staffed and the employees pleased with the consideration and treatment they receive from both the Council and the senior members of the administration.

Westmount was one of the first of the smaller municipalities to adopt the principle of placing responsibility for the city's good administration on a general manager. J. J. Hughes, who occupies this important position is recognized as an outstanding expert in all that relates to civic administration and government. Very few who reside in Westmount show any inclination to locate in an adjoining municipality. They are aware, that they can at any time approach the general manager or his able assistant, N. G. Dawe, to secure redress of any proper grievance.

Since it was incorporated as a city in 1908 it has been very fortunate in the type of public spirited citizen it induced to accept office as Mayor or alderman. They have given freely and generously of their time and ability to co-operate with the permanent staff in efficiently and economically governing the city. Those who occupied the position of chief magistrate gave this office both dignity and strength. The officers and men of the Fire and Police Departments are well trained, courteous and co-operative. They take pride in serving a city, that has earned the reputation it enjoys of being both a model and modern municipality.

Aldermen Cushing, Garber, Gales, Powis, Ryan and Seybold are highly regarded by their fellow citizens and their professional or business associates. They are prompt in dealing with the city's affairs and ready at all times to receive suggestions that will still further enhance the beauty of the city and add to the comfort and convenience of the residents.

The "Report" is a credit to all concerned and merits warm praise. It is one of the few cities in the province that shows an excess of revenue over expenditure. The Report is a powerful argument in favor of municipal decentralization, since, in the smaller municipality the taxpayer is closer to the administration than in a growing metropolis. Police, fire, and sanitary protection is generally better in the well governed small municipality than it is in the larger one. Another advantage is, that its activities can be chronicled in the local or district paper such as your own well edited weekly, that provides better coverage than can be given by the huge metropolitan newspapers. May I renew the suggestion contained in an earlier issue that Westmount should celebrate its Golden Jubilee as a chartered city.

By the way . . .

Nothing to do with me

A TRIBUTE to a girl "whose hands delicately mime blossoms, and can also wield a hockey stick," filled me with expectation. Most hockey girls have little time for blossom-miming, and regard it as a rather silly, effeminate habit. I should have thought that the rough and tumble of the hockey game would impair the delicacy of the blossom-miming, and result in the crude representation of only hefty great blossoms. And surely the use of the hands to suggest blossoms is a poor training for the whirling stick and the free-for-all in the goal's mouth. (See "Hockey In An Old-World Garden," by Mrs. Ernestine Faffnage.)

A veteran takes his leisure

"FAMILY life is changing," wrote a keen-eyed observer the other day. It is indeed. The tendency is for the breadwinner to be a boy of 16 who has retired with a fortune made from gramophone records and personal appearances. Father is his chauffeur, and looks after the five cars, grandfather is his agent and publicity man. One uncle lives in the yacht on the Riviera, of which another uncle is the captain. A brother is his secretary, and his mother runs his farm in the Cotswolds. The only catch is that when the fortune is spent, the big banks are doubtful about making him a director before he comes of age.

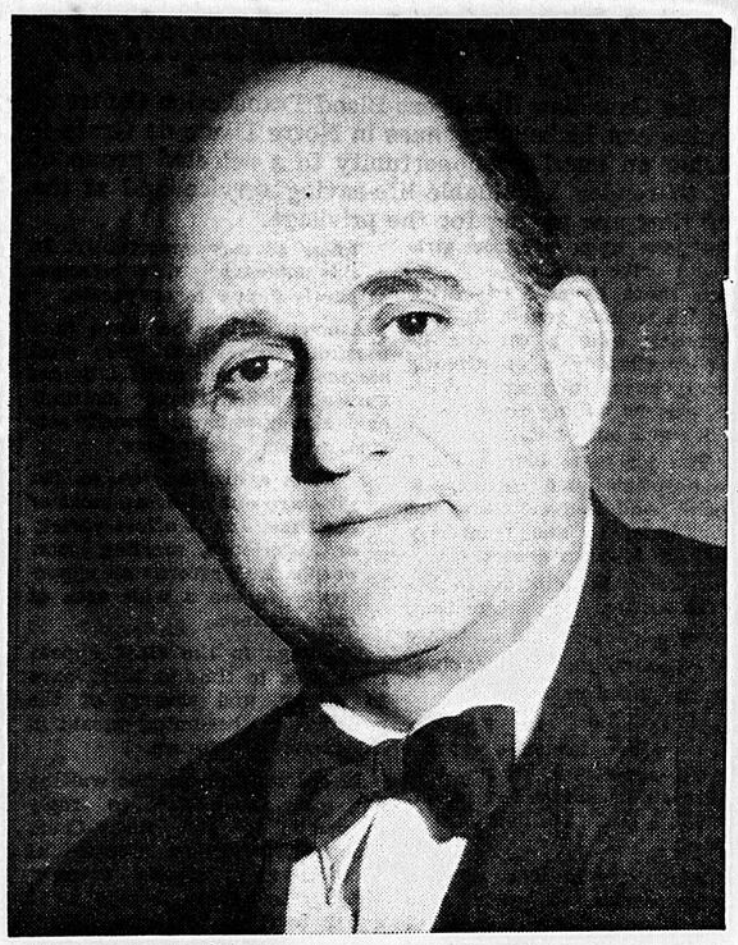

Marginal note

THE Government should advertise for a foreign policy. A few lines inserted in the morning papers, with a prize of six shopping-days in Paris for the winning suggestion, would be sure of an enthusiastic response. It would also be a fine fillip for democracy.

Resident lectures far and wide spreading the story of Baha'i

Albert Rakovsky, 201 Metcalfe avenue, has returned from a lecture tour in the United States and Eastern Ontario, during which he spoke to groups about his tour of Europe and the Holy Land. Mr. Rakovsky made similar trips to Europe in 1952 and 1953.

Born in Vienna, Austria, and educated there in Engineering, he emigrated to Canada just before Hitler's occupation of his homeland. Since his arrival here in 1938, he has made some advanced studies and done extensive research work in the fields of adult education, psychology, human relations and international affairs and management.

His lecture tours have brought him to countries both outside and behind the Iron Curtain — including France, West and East Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Luxembourg, Denmark, Iceland and Jerusalem, as well as the United States and Canada.

His talks, of course, must be adjusted according to the region he is visiting. In the Western Nations, he lectures on the United Nations, world unity and the Baha'i World Faith, a religious group of which he is a member. In Communist dominated countries, he speaks on the necessity of better understanding between East and West, and on the necessity of faith to solve the problems of the world.

Rakovsky contends that: "Both East and West are living in an atmosphere of fear."

The peoples of the West fear war and depression; they fear sickness and old age; they fear that they will lose their money. They do not fear, however, each other or their government.

The peoples of the East have little fear of unemployment for they cannot lose their jobs. There is no fear of inflation because there is not enough money; no fear of depression for they are constantly, in a sense, faced with one. There is no fear of sickness for 90 per cent of working wages are received by citizens who are ill; no fear of losing money, for it is general that anyone who has enough money to lose will lose his head with it.

The people of the East, however, are afraid of the government and of each other—even among families.

Rakovsky feels that "such a fear complex in the world is the result of lack of fear of God."

He maintains that "the one who fears God, fears nothing but Him; the one who does not fear God, fears everything except Him."

On his tour, Rakovsky was approached by several countries to help improve their relations with Canada. Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia want tourists; Czechoslovakia wants improved trade relations — and offers to the tourist a special exchange rate which is three times the normal rate.

One of the many observations he made on his tour was the relatively weak strength of the United Nations in parts of Europe. Prague, for instance, has an American embassy which employs more than 100 people; the UN centre in the same city has two employees.

At present, Mr. Rakovsky is an insurance executive, a chartered life underwriter and manager of the estate planning department of the Crown Life Insurance Company.

He is a member and officer in several international and community organizations, such as: Baha'i World Faith, the United Nations Association, the Canadian Club, the YMCA, the American Association for Adult Education, the Youth and Welfare Commission of the Knights of Pythias and the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews.

He is a past chairman of the Baha'i delegation to the Department of Information of the UN and was also founder and general manager of the Educational Research Society.

His tours, on which he speaks on radio and television and before audiences from universities, colleges, schools, adult educational organizations, churches and service clubs, are sponsored by various educational and religious groups.

Red Cross is seeking girls to drive life-saving blood to city, province hospitals

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Centre at Victoria and Isabella avenues in Notre Dame de Grace is offering an excellent opportunity to a selected group of girls to render a valuable life-saving service and at the same time are paying for the privilege.

The jobs open are for girls who can drive cars.

Girls must be able to drive cars with manual gear-shift (not automatic), hold a driver's license (preferably a chauffeur's license), have driving experience, and be willing to drive in the city and out of it.

The job is to deliver blood to hospitals, pick up specimens, and deliver staff and equipment to and from city and out-of-town clinics.

The work, in addition to being life-saving, is interesting, provides adventure and certainly can't be considered routine, humdrum or monotonous.

Applicants may be English-speaking or French-speaking, Red Cross officials report, and in addition to salary, the smart, distinctive, Red Cross uniform is supplied.

There are in this city a large number of girls who will jump at the chance of saving lives, and the ask of the Red Cross is to let them know of this opportunity. In this endeavor this newspaper is happy to cooperate.

Among girls who have successfully driven for this vital service have been models, dental nurses, teachers, dance instructors, stenographers, armed service drivers, and others.

It is a healthy job, as the girls are out of doors most of the time, and it offers variety of experience, meeting new people, and affords an opportunity to see a wide area of the province.

Openings in the staff appear from time to time as girls leave to marry, and several of the positions are becoming vacant in the immediate future.

In order to get on the waiting list, girls are advised to reply in person to the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Centre at Victoria and Isabella avenues, Monday to Friday from 9 to 12 and 2 to 5, or to phone RE. 7-6521 during these hours.

United churches here serving broad area

By VALENTINA RAHR

"The most interesting time of my life was spent while I was at St. Matthews Church in Halifax, during the War Years" The Examiner was told by Dr. Daniel M. Grant, minister of St. Andrew's Church in Westmount. "There were an estimated 250,000 service personnel stationed there, and our church was jam packed every service with about 600 to 1,200 people. We also had a Sunday evening service, and it was attended so fully, that very often all standing room and even floor space leading to the pulpit was all taken.

The Wrens were usually up in front, row on row, and it was very moving to know that these young people, representing all the different services in Canada, were there to fill a definite spiritual need. And a minister just had to give his best, to reach out to them. It was a challenging time, packed with activity. Every Wednesday we gave an evening for the service personnel; which was partly entertainment and partly devotional. These evenings were always well attended. We tried to give them all we could to fill their needs."

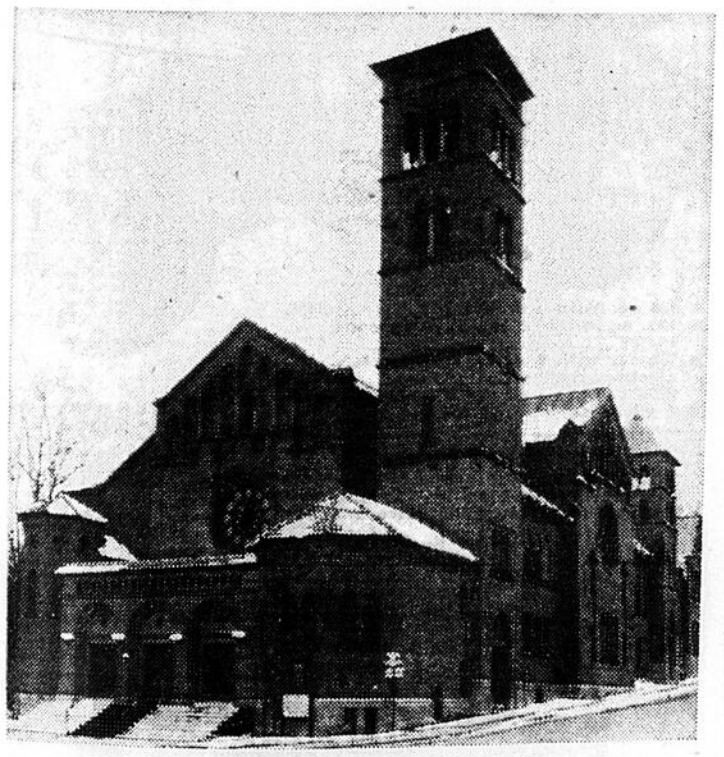

One day the S.S. ESQUIMAULT, from British Columbia, arrived in Halifax by way of the Panama Canal. The naval men on board received a last shore leave, and were awaiting orders to proceed overseas. This brought many Canadian brides to Halifax from B.C., and numerous marriages were performed.

Dr. D. Grant, a native of Nova Scotia, attended Dalhousie University and took his Theological training at Pine Hill Divinity Hall. This was followed by one year of post graduate work at New College, Edinborough. His first posting was at Princetown, Prince Edward Island. Then he spent 8 years at St. Matthews Church, in Halifax. Four years ago the Degree of Doctor of divinity was bestowed on Dr. Grant by his Alma Mater.

St. Andrew's Church traces its beginnings to November 3, 1900, when the church under its present name was organized by the Presbytery of Montreal. Before that time, and as early as 1860, meetings were held at private homes; and one of the residents of early Westmount which was known as Cote St. Antoine at that time, started a Sunday School on Clarke avenue, and from this small beginning grew St. Andrew's Church. First it was known as Melville Church in November 1885. The opening service was held in February 1886, in the new church which was constructed of wood, and which was located at the corner of Stanton street and Cote St. Antoine road. During the next ten years, in 1898, a new building was created at the rear of the Church, to be used as a permanent Sunday School, when a new Church was to be erected. As the congregation grew, the need for a larger building was recognized, and the first service of dedication was held in April 1909, at the present St. Andrew's Church in Westmount.

A Golden Jubilee Celebration was held in 1950.

Mr. Phillips Motley is the present organist and choirmaster. The Church is fortunate in having a man who combines virtuosity as an organist with exceptional ability in training a choir and inspiring the loyalty of those working with him.

CALVARY UNITED

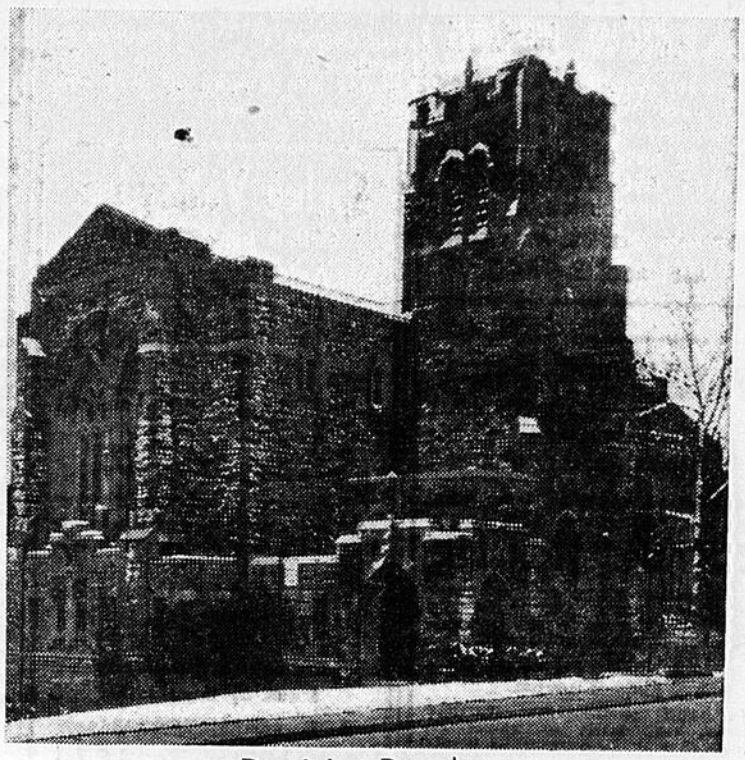

Calvary United Church, which is located at the corner of Greene avenue and Dorchester street, had its beginnings 81 years ago. At that time a group of men and women established Calvary Congregational Church after carrying on missionary work as a branch of Zion Congregational Church. The congregation grew and in 1883 the church at Western and Clarke avenues was built by the Bethleham Congregational Church, by some members of Calvary. In 1912 Bethlehem and Calvary Churches decided to re-unite as Calvary Congregational Church, in a new church located on the site where the present Calvary Church stands.

This building was opened in November 1913, and it was at this time that Mr. T. W. Jones became connected with Calvary as student assistant. In 1920 Mr. Jones was asked to become student pastor, until he completed his theological training which had been interrupted by World War I. When he obtained his BD Degree, he was inducted into the pastorate of Calvary and remained here for 30 years.

During this time Calvary became one of the outstanding churches in Montreal, having entered into the United Church of Canada in 1925, with all the Congregational Churches in Canada. Rev. Jones was honored with the degree of Doctor of Divinity by his College, and occupied every position of responsibility in the Congregational Union as well as in the United Church of Canada, culminating in the Moderateship in 1946.

The present minister of Calvary United Church is Rev Charles R. Plaskett, who became minister in January 1957. He was born in Hamilton and educated in Toronto. He took a theological course at McMaster University, and was ordained to the Ministry in 1945. He has had pastoral charges for the past 8 years in Northern Ontario, and spent 3½ years at New Liskeard. He was largely instrumental in spearheading the efforts which terminated successfully in 1956, in the official opening of Northdale Manor, a home for senior citizens, and has been chairman of directors since its inception.

He was also chairman for the Camp Lorraine, for 3 years; a church camp for young people and children under the auspices of the Timiskaming Presbytery of the United Church, of which he has been immediate president. Calvary Church has had its 80th Anniversary in January 1957.

PARK EMMANUEL

Westmount Park Emmanuel Church, is unique among the United Churches of Canada, in that it contains the strands of three denominations merged into one — Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational — in one congregation. This arises from the fact that Emmanuel Church was a Congregational Church prior to 1925, while Westmount Park Church resulted from the previous amalgamation of Westmount Methodist Church, and members from Melville Presbyterian Church. The latter church continues as a congregation of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. This merger took place officially on June 12, 1948.

Westmount Park Emmanuel was erected in 1885 at the corner of Western and Lansdowne avenues, and was then known as Westmount Methodist Church. The three leading lights of the congregation were called George, and the church was often referred to as the "Church of the Three Georges." The first building was erected hastily, in fact it was begun one day, and a week later a few families attended the first service. Shortly after, an addition was made to the original wood structure, and the church was called Westmount Tabernacle. The name Westmount Methodist Church was given to the building that was built in 1895, on the same site.

The present minister is Rev. Callum Thompson. He received

SECOND LARGEST COUNTRY

Canada is the second largest country in the world, covering a land area of 3,845,774 square miles, as compared with an area of 8,524,750 for the Soviet Union, the largest country. Canada exceeds the area of the United States and Alaska by over 200,000 square miles.

A Tip From Your Travel Agent
Something very special for the Travel Gourmet

If you haven't planned your vacation yet, or if you are hard working on doing it now — indeed, this is the most pleasant hard work — you may as well read this and, maybe, think it over.

When, blindfolded, you were playing the game of putting your finger on a world map, and thus choosing the place where one dreams to go, we are quite sure that, secretly, you wished your finger could drop on one of these mysterious spots in the Far East, and colorful names, such as Singapore, Hongkong, Bangkok or Tokyo, came to your mind — please, don't say no . . . we've also played the game.

We, travellers of western civilization, from time to time, pay a visit to the "Old Country": sentimental, polite or curious; aren't we nearly all offsprings of that most revered old lady named Europe. But, we now and then should like to break with that tradition and go to other skies. The question is: where! Oh yes, there is the sunny south and its tropical flavor; the right invitation after one of these real Canadian winters, that's fine, but there are so many more Canadian winters to come . . .

So, let us face West . . . and go East. This geographical paradox is not foolish. Doesn't the Far East start where the Far West ends! What keeps them apart is only a thin imaginary dateline; one step before you cross it you are Far West, and as soon as you have crossed it you are Far East.

Of course, on board of the silver and scarlet "Empress" airliner of the Canadian Pacific Airlines you won't feel the difference; east or west of the dateline the hospitality is the same, which means; grand. So, here we come to this very special something; charming and picturesque Japan, busines-minded Hongkong, sinful Macao, and breaktaking Thailand, all of them neatly wrapped in a carefully planned package tour. Twenty-two days from Vancouver, the gate to the Orient, to Bangkok, one of its most mysterious places. And on the way home, you have the choice among some itineraries, allowing you, if you wish to, a stop-over in heavenly Hawaii — period. Everything has been said and sung about that place.

Twenty-two days, during which a dream comes true. Besides a perfect flight (in first or tourist class, as you wish) enlightened by delicious meals and good wines, you'll be the guests of well selected hotels, you'll have well planned sightseeing, native theatre performances, exotic entertainment, a glance at the feverish faces of gamblers around a huge jack-pot in Macao, and during the whole tour a senior Canadian Pacific Official will take care of everything.

This is truly Canadian planned tour, by a Canadian Airlines, whose contacts with the Far East are now a tradition. The tour leaves Vancouver once every month from June to October; and, in order to give you the most individual service possible, it is limited to the participation of twelve.

The rates! Well, they will surprise you; and, by the way, what does mean the rate you pay. If you return home with lots of unforgettable souvenirs.

We have read and re-read the program of this tour. Our conclusion! It was a must to mention it to you. Would you like it!

DOMINION-DOUGLAS

The Dominion-Douglas United Church, situated at the corner of Landsdown Ave. and The Boulevard, derives its name from the union in 1925 of two great Methodist Churches in Montreal. In 1865 Dominion Square Methodist Church was founded on the site of the present Laurentien Hotel, fronting on Dorchester St. In 1875 Dominion Square Church organized Douglas Church, a "West-end Mission" on the present site of the Seville Theatre, Chomedy and Ste. Catherine streets. In 1914 Dominion Square followed the movement of population and built what is now "Leslie Hall" at a time when the Boulevard represented the "edge" of the City, if not a bit beyond. On Easter Day, 1927, the present Sanctuary was dedicated. The Congregation has grown in the years since 1927, from a membership of 700 to its 1957 strength of nearly 1700.

The United Church of Canada is organized on the "Counciliar System" in which the highest court of the church is the General Council. There are eleven Conferences which are divided into 104 Presbyteries with 2673 Pastoral Charges. As a Pastoral Charge the Dominion Douglas Church belongs to the Presbytery of Montreal of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference. The officials are elected at an Annual Meeting at which every member has a vote. These officials consist of: the Session; Trustees; Stewards; and the Official Board; which body of people carries on the responsibilities connected with matters pertaining to the securing of Missionary and Maintenance funds; for the encouragement of stewardship; for the election of Presbytery representatives and for the general life and work of the church.

Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, MA, DD, is the present minister of Dominion-Douglas United Church. Born in Varna, Ontario, he was educated at Montreal, when he attended Wesley Methodist College, from where he graduated with his BD. Then, after having a job with the Merchants Bank at Acton, his family moved to Caledonia, and after four years with the bank, he decided to return to college. He entered Victoria College at Toronto. He graduated from Victoria in 1913, winning the Governor General's Gold Medal for highest proficiency in the University. He also took his Teacher's Certificate at the Ontario College of Education. He became ordained in 1915, at the Hamilton Conference of the Methodist Church — at which his father was holding a high office. In 1915 he married, and went to his first pastorate, Elm Street Methodist Church in Toronto. After two years there, he was asked to become Financial Secretary for Victoria College.

A grateful Alma Mater bestowed a DD degree upon him in recognition of his three years in this work. After holding several distinguished posts, he came to Dominion Douglas United Church in 1931. While Dr. Smith devotes his close attention to the many facets of his work, in Dominion Douglas, demands are made on his exceptional abilities by many organizations. He is an executive member of the General Council of the United Church; Vice Chancellor of the Board of Governors of United Theological College; President of the Greater Montreal Council of Churches; and an active Member of the Kiwanis Club . . . a busy working day of 12 hours, seven days a week, leave little time for hobbies or recreation. His favorite hobby is his grandchildren. During the summer vacation, he assumes the role of carpenter, and has built his own summer cottage near Gravenhurst, Ontario.

But his great avocation is also his vocation — people. It is fitting then, that tribute should be paid to a great humanitarian, and an utterly devoted servant of God.

Trinity

By

The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

The Church's teaching that there are three Persons in the Godhead has always been a stumbling-block to some people, especially to the intelligentsia. They are offended by being asked to believe something that they do not understand. The story is told that Bishop Gore was once delivering a lecture, when a gentleman stood up in the audience and asked courteously: "Would the reverend gentleman kindly define the nature of God?" With equal courtesy the Bishop replied: "Certainly, if the gentleman will first define the nature of man."

We do not always realize that the nature of man is also a mystery. Here I am, body, mind, soul, and yet a single human being. I cannot explain myself to myself and yet I know in myself that I really exist. It is a matter of experience.

The same reasoning applies to God. He made Himself known to His chosen people as one God — the only God. That was the unquestioning belief of all the disciples of Jesus: "The Lord is One." Yet as they lived with Jesus and heard His words and saw His works they realized that there was something more than human. When they saw Him risen from the dead their feeling was deepened, but when they had been granted the gift of the Spirit they knew that this Jesus is both Lord and Christ. They applied to Him the terms used in the Old Testament of Go Himself.

Then the question arose: "What, or rather, who is this Holy Spirit? It was a hard question to answer, and perhaps they felt rather than argued their way to an answer — "He too is God." For in the Epistles it seems to be taken for granted rather than stated: "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost," is the way they stated it.

The disciples lived through momentous days and came through them with their original belief in the One God, transformed by their experience into a belief in One God in Three Persons.

Christian Science welcomes space age

Humanity's emergence into the space age should be greeted with firm assurance of God's unerring direction and supporting care, The Christian Science Board of Directors declared Monday in Boston.

Some may view this new age with fear and trembling, but Christian Scientists welcome it and the oportunities that accompany it, they declared.

More than 7,000 church members from many parts of the world heard the Director's message at the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Masachusetts.

Scientific reliance on God's power is showing the way, the Directors said, to bring peace and harmony both to the individual and the world.

In spite of the material progress being made, it is becoming evident that material discoveries "are not really solving the basic problems confronting humanity, but seem, in fact, to be increasing them," they said.

Stressing the challenge of the new age, they added: "While the constructive uses of modern inventions promise much, their destructive possibilities . . . would threaten the very existence of our present civilization. Consequently, thoughtful people are beginning to realize that only by availing themselves of a higher power, a force far more powerful than that obtained through nuclear fission or fusion, can men hope to hold in check and nullify the evil elements of the human mind which would threaten to misuse the inventions of the space age."

Named president of The Mother Church was Leonard T. Carney of Boston, Mass., a Christian Science teacher and practitioner active in the healing work of the denomination for many years.

In a ringing address, Mr. Carney told the assembly that vast new opportunities for service to humanity are at hand. "It is yielding to materiality that blocks our progress," he declared "The shackles of materiality fall away as we advance spiritually."

Healings through wholly spiritual means of tuberculosis, cancer, blindness, epilepsy, and other disabilities were reported at the meeting.

Three anniversaries were celebrated during the year by The Christian Science Publishing Society, it was reported — the founding of The Christian Science Journal seventy-five years ago, the Publishing Society sixty years ago, and The Christian Science Monitor fifty years ago. production of a 30-minute documentary film in color regarding the Monitor entitled "Assignment Mankind".

Details of other new projects were disclosed in the meeting by key officials. Will B. Davis, Manager of Committees on Publication, revealed that a new hour-long motion picture in color entitled "The Mother Church in Action" would be released in the early spring of 1959. Gordon V. Comer, Clerk, announced that the air conditioning of the original edifice of The Mother Church, the Extension, and the Publishing House would be completed next year.

Also announced was publication of a Danish translation of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science.

Among the new branches of The Mother Church established during the year were those in: Letchworth and in Whitby, England; Lindau, Ludwigsburg, and Uelzen, Germany; Zwolle, the Netherlands; Rotorua, New Zealand; Sudbury, Ontario, Canada; and Porto Alegre, Brazil.

LEONARD T. CARNEY of Boston, Mass., has been named president of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. Carney's appointment was announced by The Christian Science Board of Directors at the annual meeting of the denomination attended by more than 7,000 Christian Scientists from many parts of the world. He succeeds Miss Mabel Ellen Lucas of Brookline, Mass. He will serve a one-year term. A member of the board of trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society, Mr. Carney holds degrees from Grinnell College, Iowa and the Harvard Law School. A native of Marshalltown, Iowa, he has been an authorized teacher of Christian Science since 1934, and a Christian Science practitioner since 1919. From 1943 until 1947 he served as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Hoagland, Manager of the Publishing Society, included: (1) publication on October 18 of a Fiftieth Anniversary Edition of the Monitor; (2) publication by Houghton Mifflin Company of a book by Erwin D. Pioneer synagogue located here

"This is the original Ark which stood in the Spanish Portuguese Synagogue on Chenneville street in Montreal when it was built in 1835," the Examiner was told yesterday. "When the new synagogue is completed, the Ark will be moved there". The Ark contains the Torahs, and has been used in every synagogue in Montreal, by the Spanish Portuguese Congregation.

The first Spanish Portuguese Synagogue stood on St. James street in 1768, where a plaque was placed and may still be seen today to mark the original spot. When the congregation grew, the synagogue was moved to Chenneville street, in 1835. This synagogue is sometimes referred to as North America's First Jewish place of worship. Soon the synagogue was too small to accommodate the congregation, and was replaced by a new one which was built on Stanley street in 1890.

As the Jewish population increased in size and moved farther west, it soon became apparent that this building was no longer large enough, and the present modern structure was erected in the Snowdon district in 1946. When the congregation moved, the original cornerstone of the first synagogue was moved once again with the Spanish Portuguese coins and thin brass plates placed in it by the founders together with a vellum scroll.

Campaign Started

Since 1946, this cornerstone has been "in storage" awaiting the time when the new unit, actually not a house of worship but a community hall, will be completed with the addition of a synagogue. A campaign has been under way to raise $500,000., necessary to start the synagogue — when the cornerstone again will be laid — extra classrooms, clubrooms and other facilities planned in the extension. When this new edifice is completed, the congregation will have turned full circle, from Canada's oldest — and for 90 years the nation's only-synagogue, to the newest.

The rabbi of today's modern home of oldest Jewish Congregation in Canada, is Dr. Solomon Frank. He came to this synagogue on Lemieux street in 1946. He is a native of Buffalo, N.Y., and received degrees from the University of Buffalo, Cornell University and University of Manitoba. He was formerly a rabbi at Winnipeg. Among some of the positions he has held are the following: President of Bnai Brith Lodge, Master Masonic Lodge, President, 9th Manitoba District Boys Scout Organization; President, Winnipeg Branch League of Nations Society; Vice - President, Winnipeg Branch United Nations Society; Editorial Writer for Canadian Jewish Chronicle, published in Montreal.

Early Records

Some interesting entries were shown to the Examiner in the records pertaining to the Stanley Street Synagogue. The land was bought in October 26, 1887, at 80 cents per foot. The building was erected at a cost of about $30,000., and the fixtures and furniture amounted to about $3,000. When the structure was demolished last year, the land was turned into a parking lot for downtown traffic, and was sold for the sum of $150,000.

While the demolishing of the building was going on, the cornerstones along with the door, were transported safely to the synagogue on Lemieux Street. The contents of the stones will be shown for the benefits of the entire membership when the new synagogue is completed.

The first Canadian Jewish cemetery was located in what is now Dominion Square in Montreal. Some of the outstanding members of the Congregation of the Spanish Portuguese synagogue have been: David David who was among the founders of the Bank of Montreal; Ezekial Hart was the first Jew to be elected to the legislature in the British Empire, even before Benjamin Disraeli, and was a leading member of the congregation; Moses Judah Hays established the first water works in this city and served for a time as Chief Commissioner of Police; Aaron Philip Hart was the first Jewish advocate in Canada; Dr. Aaron was the first Jewish physician in the country.

Scholarly Background

The most outstanding member of the congregation was Rabbi de Sola, himself a son of a distinguished London minister; he was a scholar of merit, and soon after arrival in this city he was named to the faculty of McGill University as a professor of Hebrew and Oriental languages. He also lectured on Spanish in the university.

Rabbi de Sola collaborated closely with McGill's eminent principal Sir William Dawson, and also with Sir William Logan. Lecturer and contributor to the intellectual and scholarly periodicals of his time, his efforts established Montreal as an important publication centre in the field of Semitic and historical learning. The prayer book which he edited was adopted by many congregations all over the continent, and even overseas. He was invited by President Ulysses Grant to open the United States Congress with a prayer in 187?. His two sons followed his calling, and became distinguished rabbis of the congregation.

The extension to the present synagogue will house one of the largest and most modern synagogues in Canada, as well as enlarging existing facilities, and service. Fulfilling a long felt need, the synagogue provides seating for 1100 persons on two levels. The impressive and dignified auditorium is uninterrupted by columns and illuminated by tinted lights filtering through stained glass. Especially designed to provide the worshipper with visual and accoustic comfort, the assembly halls are completely air conditioned and provide every convenience consistant with modern practice.

The lower level is of a special interest; the lounge and auditorium combining to permit 1,000 persons to view a spacious stage, or 600 persons to banquet in comfort. These areas can be sub-divided allowing flexibility indispensible for smaller functions. Five levels provide meeting areas and classrooms, as well as facilities for offices of the congregation. The new floors adjoin to the existing structure, and are serviced by stairs and elevators. The exterior is a composition in brick, stone, and stained glass, modern in approach, yet with a dignity that follows in the tradition of a great synagogue.

Your School, Your Child, and You

MAKE HASTE SLOWLY

By E. George Cochrane, B.A., M.Ed.
Guidance Counsellor,
Northmount High School

The Russians' launching of Sputniks, I and II, resulted in an avalanche of criticism being directed at the schools of the United States and, to a lesser degree, those of our own country. Most of the critics seemed to feel that more emphasis should be placed on the teaching of science and mathematics. The talk has not abated, although the Americans' launching of their "Explorer" satellite has resulted in a diminution of the hysteria which characterised much of the fevered breast-beating that took place south of the unguarded border.

In Canada educators and laymen alike have been wondering if there are features of the Soviet educational system that could with profit be studied and adapted for use in Canadian schools. There have been some who have declared themselves emphatically in favor of more school time being devoted to the teaching of science and mathematics at the expense of the humanities. It is these critics that lead me to assert, "Let us make haste slowly."

Educational philosophy

Before any very drastic changes are introduced, let us first be certain that they will facilitate the implementation of our educational philosophy. And what is our educational philosophy? Surely it is not the primary task of our educational institutions to produce scientists and mathematicians. We are, first and foremost, concerned with the education — and the training — of human beings. This means that the humanities — literature, history, and the like — have a vital part in our curriculum. We have a responsibility to our young people to teach them to understand the world in which they live; to foster in them an appreciation of the beauty that exists in our world; to train their minds to think rationally and logically; to free their minds from the shackles of prejudice and ignorance; in brief, to enable them to lead rich and satisfying lives, to fulfill a socially useful function, and to play their roles as citizens of a democracy in a manner that will reflect credit upon themselves and will strenghten the free society of which they are a part.

That there are features of Soviet education that we should study is obvious to all dispassionate observers. The largest number of hours spent in the classroom per week is one. The external national tests of achievement in grades four, seven and ten is another. Financial aid to deserving students is a third.

Our schools are not perfect. That much any educator of any wisdom will admit. But that we are not likely to improve the situation by hurriedly revamping our courses of study should be equally obvious to all persons of discernment.

Mrs. Stuart R. Townsend briefs district leaders for Red Feather drive

District leaders of the Women's Division for the 1958 Red Feather Campaign met at the YWCA Thursday afternoon for their first briefing session and heard Divisional Chairman Mrs. Stuart R. Townsend stress the need for an all-out effort by residential canvassers in Red Feather's drive for funds this fall.

Over 4,000 women volunteers will be active in the two-week every-house canvass which opens September 22. Every municipality on the Island of Montreal is covered in this largest of all maintenance appeals.

Mrs. Townsend stated that last year women workers raised over $350,000 for the highest total ever achieved by the Division. She pointed out that the women canvassers raise more for Montreal's Red Feather services in their door-to-door effort than many community chests raise in total in the rest of the country.

Attending from Notre Dame de Grace were Mrs. A. H. McFarlane, 5088 Beaconsfield avenue; Mrs. A. L. Cooper, 5940 Clanranald avenue; Mrs. F. P. L. Lane, 5548 Queen Mary road; Mrs. J. N. Anderson, 4620 Draper avenue; Mrs. H. M. Morrison, 5975 Notre Dame de Grace avenue; Mrs. F. H. Dentith, 6256 Terrebonne avenue; Mrs. S. T. Strathy, 3867 Royal avenue; Mrs. R. A. Speirs, 5865 Notre Dame de Grace avenue, and Mrs. Earle C. McCurdy, 4645 Westmore avenue.

The need for prompt appointment of team captains was stressed at the meeting. District Leaders were urged to complete most of their organizational work before summer vacations increased the difficulty of recruiting volunteers to work in the drive.

John H. F. Turner, General Chairman for the 1958 Red Feather Campaign, said that the volunteer workers of the Women's Division were of vital importance to the achievements of Red Feather. He said the women of Montreal were among the finest volunteer workers for charitable causes in Canada.

Hard work and thorough organization is the key to a district's success in the Red Feather drive, those attending were told by Mrs. A. H. McFarlane, a Vice-Chairman of the Women's Division.

Mrs. McFarlane told the district heads that a street map of the area was one good means of ensuring an equitable distribution of the canvassing load. District leaders also have to find vacant offices or accommodation in churches or schools which they can obtain free of charge to use as headquarters during the drive.

Encouraging the canvasser to start early and continue until all prospects have been covered is perhaps the most important part of the district chairman's task, Mrs. McFarlane concluded. She said from her own experience that the women of the various districts were ready to work long hours and walk miles each day raising funds for Red Feather's services.

At the May meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Catherine Booth Hospital the president, Mrs. W. Boyd Campbell, urged the members to volunteer their services to the committees who are in need of workers during the summer months. The membership chairman, Mrs. Sydney A. MacSween reported that fees for the coming year were now being accepted.

Mrs. S. A. MacSween heads Grace Dart Unit

The formation of the Women's Auxiliary of the Grace Dart Hospital was made possible through the effort of Mrs. Sydney A. MacSween, who took the chair at the first meeting May 29, 1957.

This meeting closed with a membership of forty-five and with Miss W. M. Findlay as first president. Membership is now approximately one hundred.

Mrs. MacSween was also instrumental in starting the West End Group at a meeting in June 1957. As a result of this meeting, the West End Group came into being with a membership of fourteen. Mrs. MacSween was appointed chairman, pro tem, and Mrs. D. K. Gowans, secretary-treasurer, pro tem. These appointments have now been projected into the second year. It was agreed that the group should be kept small enough to meet in the various homes also that each member endeavor, if possible, to raise talent money.

At the November meeting reports were received from several members of money raised by them and of cash donations received. The group then organized the purchase of an aluminum padded chair for a recovery room in the hospital and of three bridge tables for the recreation room. These were presented at a subsequent auxiliary meeting with seven group members attending.

Members earned talent money in a number of ways — several members have had garden and bridge parties; one member last season sold vegetables from her garden, and another has just begun baby sitting to earn her talent money.

The third meeting was held in April when plans were laid for a benefit tea. This event was held in the auditorium of Knox Crescent and Kensington Church in May. The chairman of the group with Mrs. Stewart Allen and Miss K. Dickson received the guests, who numbered over one hundred. Following a musical program, Dr. Allen told the story of the Grace Dart Hospital. Refreshments were provided and served by the Group. Presiding at the tea table were Miss Findlay and Mrs. W. S. Hart, wife of the honorary president of the Board of Directors of the Hospital.

At the annual meeting of the Auxiliary held recently the West End Group were proud to make the presentation of a wheel chair and other hospital equipment to the Hospital.

A special invitation is extended to Old Country folks to come to the Lancashire Club celebration of D Day to be held at 1358 Dorchester street, west, opposite the YWCA, at 8.30 p.m. June 6. There will be refreshments and door prizes.

Mrs. E. H. S. Piper is named Consumers' Association head

Highlight of the annual Canadian Aassociation of Consumers (Quebec English) meeting held at the YWCA was the formal ratification received from Quebec of the CAC application to the Quebec Marketing Board for accreditation as the voice of the Quebec consumer. CAC hopes to be useful in making known to the producer, through the marketing board, consumer preferences in grading, processing and packaging.

Mrs. E. H. S. Piper was elected president of the organization succeeding Mrs. P. W. Calvert. Other members of the new executive include vice-presidents, Mrs. E. L. Gilbert and Mrs. P. N. Evans; treasurer, Mrs. G. C. Brooks; recording secretary, Mrs. Stuart Ball; Assistant Recording secretary, Mrs. N. Kostman, and Corresponding secretary Mrs. W. R. Anderson.

RESOLUTIONS

A number of resolutions of great public interest included one urging the National Organization to apply to the Federal Government for the removal of the 10 per cent federal tax on all drugs, pharmaceutical preparations or patent medicines. Another requested the endorsement of the Canadian Council on Nutrition for vitaminized apple juice to be included in Canada's food rules.

The meeting also suggested a revision in the labelling of sizes for children under 16 and the adoption by large department stores of a common minimum standard for wadding used in bedding, padding and quilting for children's snowsuits, etc.

SUGGESTIONS

General suggestions passed on to national committees included better locks on medicine cabinets, use of metal rather than plastic attachments for vacuum cleaners. A request for safer match folders was passed on to two firms manufacturing these articles, both of whom received favorably the suggestion of putting the striking strip on the back. Several letters regarding the danger of staples in closing small food packages were discussed and handed to the national committee on packaging.

In presenting the president's report Mrs. P. W. Calvert noted that CAC contacts with industry have continued to expand during the year and that "we have been represented at a meeting of the Quebec Dairy Industries Commission."

MEMBERSHIP INCREASE

Mrs. A. L. Kilpatrick noted a total membership of 3,311 which represents an increase of 154 over last year. There are now 39 branches, 18 co-operating organizations and 16 groups not of branch standing.

The report from the research committee was presented by Mrs. A. D. Nickerson who noted that during the year over 50 consumer problems were dealt with by the CAC as well as reports from some 20 branches on the marketing of apples.

These complaints ranged from poor tips on children's shoe laces and better labels in clothing to complaints on the use of premiums. One complaint dealt with the fact that sales tax is charged on children's life preservers and the CAC wrote to both the Quebec Camping Association and the Canadian Red Cross asking them to take the matter up.

OLD FRIENDS MEET

Senior citizens are often lonely people who are slowed down by age but still able to get around and still able to take an interest in people and events. They need the company of their contemporaries, with whom they may exchange memories and opinions. Many churches, service clubs and other interested groups have helped the elderly people in their community to organize clubs and in some cases have supplied premises where they may meet to carry on social activities, hobbies and handicraft.

The middle-east nation of Lebanon, just 120 miles long and 30 miles wide, has given the world an incredible list of cultural gifts, says the May Reader's Digest. There began the use of latitude, longitude and marine charts; the modern alphabet; the numbering system based on 12 (12 inches to the foot, 12 months to the year, 12 English pence to the shilling); and probably the cultivation of grapes and olives. The names of Europe and the Bible were born there: Europe was a mythical princess, and Byblos was the city which provided the best Papyrus, for books.

Verdun beats Westmount for first place in cricket league

Verdun Cricket club, celebrating their 50th anniversary this season, have started off on the right foot. They beat the Montreal Cricket league champions Westmount 229-71, to take over sole possession of first place. The teams had two wins each prior to this match.

Verdun club officials are hoping that this will be their year in which to win their fifth league title in 50 years and what better than when they are celebrating their 50 years of operation.

In other 'A' games, Mount Royals came up with a 159-58 win over Adastrians; West Indians beat out Canadair 91-80; Wanderers scored 75 for nine against Stelco's 74.

Rolls Royce beat Adastrians, Canadair edged out West Indians and Wanderers had a close win over TCA in 'B' games.

The Verdunites batted first and except for Ed Gibson who made 61, Gerry Comacho 28 and Charlie White 24, the other wickets fell cheaply until the score reached 137 for the loss of nine wickets. Danny Collett then joined Sid Foster and in a last wicket partnership of 92, carried the total to 229. Foster finished with 61 not out, and Collett was run out for 31.

Bowling for Westmount, Eric Branker reaped 6 for 46 and Dave Lawless 2 for 19. This is not a formidable score for the strong Westmount batting side, but they could not settle down against the bowling of White, 4 for 25, and Dave Greenidge, 4 for 37 and were dismissed for the low score of 71.

Vere Lewis with 30 not out, was the only man to display any batting strength.

District wheel-chair boys win titles in New York

Canada's only entry in the week-end National Wheel-chair Games in New York, which were played indoor and outdoor at Flushing, Long Island, retained the title they won last year.

Jean Rochon placed first to win the Institute of Medicine and Rehabilitation Trophy.

The five-man Montreal entry also won its way into the semi-finals of the javelin throw and the wheelchair races.

The Canadians competed with other teams from all over the United States. Some of the games the paraplegics played were archery, 60 yard dash, 240 yard relay, basketball free throw, darts, javelin, ping pong, eight pound shot putt and bowlite, a form of bowling.

The games were under the sponsorship of the Joseph Bulova School of Watchmaking in cooperation with the Paralyzed Veterans of America Association.

The Montreal team were represented by John Rochon, Peter Brosseau, Gaston Provost and Gaetan Bourgoin and accompanied by W. M. Hepburn, recreation director of the Canadian Paraplegic Association.

Steinberg's back in 2nd, Verdun 3rd

THERE are seven games scheduled for teams in the Snowdon Major Fastball league and if the officials can get those games into the record book, they will do well for they are having a little tough luck with the weather man.

When the sun managed to shine on Monday morning 14 games have been called off on account of wet grounds or had been rained out.

Only 12 games have been entered into the record book. It will mean plenty of ball when the schedule is revised and those 14 rained out games which will have to be played with their usual games.

The teams went into action on Monday after being on the side lines since a week ago Tuesday. The weather has not been good to even call a practice.

The layoff will help Steinberg's and Dow awaiting their imports from United States who are teachers and will most likely be in action in about two weeks.

The league leading Dow Brewery crew face three games playing Prosper, Steinberg's and Verdun. Prosper have three games on tap the one against Dow and they also take on Steinberg's and Pepsi Cola. Verdun have two games, Pepsi and Dow; and Pepsi have a brace.

Snowdon games

Sunday: Verdun at Pepsi Cola, Trenholme Park, 8 p.m.; Steinberg's, at Prosper, Prefontaine Park, 6.30 p.m.; Dow at Steinberg's, Trenholme, 2 p.m.
Monday: Prosper at Pepsi Cola, Trenholme Park, 8.45 p.m.
Tuesday: Dow at Verdun, Willibrord Park, 7.45 p.m.

COSTLY ERROR

Steinberg's are back in second place after a 6-4 win over Verdun Sportsmen at Willibrord Park, Tuesday. The Grocer boys have 3-2 record while Verdun have a 3-4 record, but the teams are tied in points, six apiece.

Verdun had a one run lead on Steinberg's in the sixth after scoring one run in the fifth and three in the sixth for a 4-3 count.

The tieing run for Steinberg's was scored in the seventh when Homer McCracken made two errors. A two run homer by Gerry Levinson gave the Grocers the victory edge.

Ab Ryan, pitcher, had a good night at the plate with three hits, one of them a homer in the eighth when Verdun started a rally to even gain a tie.

Percy McCracken worked on the mound for his third win against two losses for the Steinberg crew. Dave Pearce for Verdun has a 2-2 record. Percy came up with three hits to help his own victory.

DOW WINS 14-3
