Glider Lands In Field On Douglas McNaughton Farm

The family of Douglas McNaughton, Boyd Settlement Road, were surprised on Sunday afternoon about 7:30 when a young man knocked at their door and said he had just landed a glider in their field. The man was John Burrough of Montreal, who was striving for the Silver C Distance record with his glider. He is a member of the Montreal Soaring Club and had started off from Hawkesbury, Ont., a distance of about 48 miles, before being forced to land in the McNaughton field here. A few nearby people were aware of the landing, but that is all. Mr. Burrough got in touch with Montreal and a vehicle from that point came later in the afternoon and took the glider and flyer back to that city. The McNaughton farm is about three miles from Huntingdon. We do not know if the flyer made a record.

Anthony Anderson Wins Reeve's Scholarship

The annual prize giving was held at Huntingdon High School, on Saturday evening with a good attendance. The event opened with singing of Canada accompanied by Miss A. Macintosh and the Invocation given by Rev. G. McMillen. Dr. K. G. Cameron, Chairman gave an address of welcome and a brief report on the school. For the Regional Board, Mr. J. Blake, Chairman, said that the new academic wing will be ready for 1967. Mr. A. M. Brockman, Principal made some remarks on the future of the school pupils and staff. Several of the students won higher than average awards and scholarships for their efforts during the past school year. The top award of these was the Reeves Scholarship of $750 won by Anthony Anderson. This scholarship goes to the student from Huntingdon High School, or Ormstown High School, who makes the Highest percentage out of 10 papers in the June Departmental Exams. The presentation was made by Mrs. J. Ryser.

This same student also won the Birk's Medal for Scholarship Merit and this was presented to him by Principal Brockman. The next highest award was for the Wood Bursary of $300, won by Nina Caldwell and presented by Mrs. E. M. Wood. The Laura Rose Stevens Scholarship of $200 was won by Jessie Fraser and awarded by Huntingdon W.I.

Following is a list of the winners of other awards:

Good Red and White Show At Havelock Fair

(By Frank Napier)
While our objective at that "Friendly Home Coming" Havelock Fair, on September 10, was the Red and White Show, we meandered through the other cattle sections before the commencement of the Ayrshire Show. In the Alumni covered barn, the only Holstein exhibit at that time was that of Murry Templeton of Riverfield. A decidedly attractive group and apparently mostly comprised of the animals which made such good winnings a week ago at Huntingdon Fair's black and white Show. It was rumored that there might be another exhibit and, if so, the reports of the prize winners of the cattle section will doubtless confirm same. Also in that Barn were a tidy Aberdeen-Angus exhibit owned by Kenneth Sample, Hemmingford, and a similar exhibit of Shorthorns owned by Rufus Fisher, also of Hemmingford. Outside, at the rail fence, was the Jersey exhibit of Hugh McAdam, and an animal owned by Laura Barbe who was also an exhibitor in the 4H Club section. We were informed that it was expected that Sproule and Son would also have an exhibit of Jerseys. A section of the open-faced Ayrshire barn was occupied by a small exhibit of Herefords owned by Wilfred Vaillancourt. On the far side of the cattle area there was a nice array of 4H Club calves.

Red and White Show
Unfortunately, because of circumstances beyond their control several of the regular, former exhibitors at the annual Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club's Red and White Show were not in attendance. Nevertheless there was a really worthy exhibit comprised of representatives of the herds of R. Brodie McFarlane, R.W. McFarlane, J. Earle Ness and Son, and James Scoble, all of Howick; and Oscar Vaillancourt, St. Chrysostome. All of which were placed by Hugh Peckham, Granby, Que., Henry Wilson, Secretary, Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club and Clerk of the Show, and he was ably assisted by A. Mitchell Ness of Burnside.

There was keen competition in practically every class, and in that connection we may particularly mention the magnificent line-up of first and second prize winners for the Senior and Reserve Female Championships. Quoting Douglas A. Ness, President of R. R. Ness and Sons Ltd.: "One of the nicest groups I have ever seen in competition (for the championships) at this Show", to which Gilbert Macmillan added: "I fully agree with you, and, considering the opposition these animals met with in their classes, I would say that the senior female classes would compare very favourably with those of past years at this

Early Morning Fire At Dewittville Claims Elderly Victim

Fire struck early Sunday one to enter the building morning and took the life of without proper equipment, so an elderly woman, at Dewittville, was not until men from village, on Route 4.

The fire occurred at a small cottage on the western outskirts of Dewittville, on Route 4 and was noticed by Game Warden Guy Stowell, at about 6:45 a.m. It happened that the hunting season was just opening the game wardens were on their rounds. He aroused the people in Dewittville, and Ormstown and Ormstown Fireman were also notified. Meantime, Royce Ruddock and some other helpers got the pump and hose that is used for flooding the skating rink and hurried to the fire.

By the time they got their pump into operation, the fire was a smouldering sort of fire, for there never seemed to be any flame. Billows of smoke poured from time to time from the building and then died down. The house had been owned by Mr. A. D. McCaig, who had died last winter. He came from Ottawa about four years ago and refitted the summer cottage for all year living and retired here with his housekeeper, Mrs. H. Weeks. After he died, Mrs. Weeks continued to live on at "Spruce Crest" as the name appeared outside.

Mrs. Weeks was known only intimately to a few of the villagers, but fears for her safety were felt. There was too much smoke for any.

Fire At Dewittville Where Elderly Woman Lost Her Life

More Work Still To Be Done On Filter Plant

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held at the usual place and time on Tuesday, September 6th.

It was presided over by Mayor Cappiello, with Aldermen McGerrigle, Laplante, Brisebois, Gaw and Murphy present.

Mr. Jacques Benoit, town engineer, had been invited to give a report on the Filter Plant. He stated that he had examined the plant and had made a list of things still to be done. The Contractors have agreed to complete the work remaining in the shortest delay.

Then he explained the situation about Cleyn & Tinker's request for more water pressure and the two alternatives which could help satisfy the Company. He is to meet representatives to discuss the matter further.

The monthly bills were then read and approved for payment. A lengthy discussion followed concerning the noise made

Prior to his return to the University of Puerto Rico, where he is engaged in both teaching and research, he spent a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Boyce, Huntingdon.

Wonderful Crowd — Beautiful Weather—That's Havelock Fair

A beautiful day, a wonderful crowd, plenty to see and do, and you have Havelock Fair as it was on Saturday, September 10th. The grounds were filled with people and viewed from the window of one of the show buildings, it was a very gay and colorful sight to behold.

This one day annual show had again attracted a very large attendance, although possibly not so large as the previous year which set a record. It was reported that less dinners were served this year, but no reason could be given for this. However, it was stated that money wise this part of the Fair would probably prove as great a success, as more sales of pie, doughnuts and coffee were made in the afternoon. One disquieting item was heard in this connection and that is that the same organization that has been looking after this dinner for years will not do so again. Two church women's groups help to serve this dinner and this year, members of the Hinchinbrook Firemen gave their assistance. One of the church groups, whose numbers get smaller each year, feels that definitely they will have to give up and reportedly had notified the Fair Board accordingly.

Over 900 dinners were served, so this is an important part of the Fair. Some of the officials were wondering what might be done in other years. All departments of the Fair seemed to have a full quota of exhibits and all of good quality. The ladies of the area did not let the Fair down and again showed their prowess in cooking, and sewing and such. The bread, cakes and preserves showed full classes and attracted a large number of viewing patrons. This cooking is always in great demand and patrons are waiting for an opportunity to purchase from the owners.

The next executive meeting will be held on October 3rd.

Powerscourt

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Ross, celebrated their 24th wedding anniversary, not the 35th as reported last week.

Mrs. Nettie Evans of Danville, was a Saturday overnight guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wood. Sunday dinner guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Evans and two children also of Danville.

that must have taken considerable time and pains, it was perfect. It was done in chocolate, but we did not see if it had a prize. There were too many people looking at them and others were wanting to push us on to get out of the building.

In the same building there was a wonderful exhibit of plants and flowers, much larger we believe than we have seen before. There was plenty of evidence of the industry of the womenfolk in the various sewing classes. Upstairs in the same building was more evidence of this art and also that of table arrangement.

The refreshment stands on the grounds were doing their usual rush of business during the day. The various church stalls were quite busy selling articles to the patrons for future gifts. These stalls as usual were well stocked and attracted a large number. The midway was crowded most of the time and people were taking away the usual prizes. Bingo was of course a favorite and many were seen with baskets of peaches which is also a good prize at this season of the year.

The cattle rings at the far end of the grounds were well filled with cattle of the various breeds and a large number of people were watching the judging of the different classes. As it was Red and White Day at this Fair, Ayrshires were predominant in one of the rings. The benches helped people to better enjoy viewing the cattle presentations.

Highland Dancers At Havelock Fair

The Highland Pipe Band and Dancers has been a great attraction at Havelock Fair the past two years and above are seen a couple of young ladies doing a Highland Dance routine. The Highland Pipe Band accompanied them and they received a great round of applause from the large crowd of onlookers around the enclosure.

The Stars of Notre Dame Had Great Part in Fair

Our own Stars of Notre Dame performed on Saturday night, Sept. 3rd, at Huntingdon Fair and put on a great performance. Fewer in number this year due to older ones leaving school and going from the district, these had to practice much harder to get into the drill work. They put on a fine performance and much longer routine than their first appearance last year. An addition this year while in the parade were the drummers who helped to keep the marchers in the proper marching time. All Huntingdon is proud of its own Majorettes and also of their instructors for the time spent in training the girls. Their routine was of precision drills and to music and they went through them perfectly.

Wonderful Crowd...

this day. Havelock is attracting quite a number to the horse show section. The ring where this attraction was going on, had a large crowd of onlookers and there was much applause as the various decisions were handed out on the judging. There were many beautiful horses and ponies to be seen in the ring and about the grounds. It would seem that this department is building into one of the largest of the show and attracting much interest on the part of patrons too.

There was a good display of poultry and rabbits, but we did not see any swine and only a few sheep. This year the sheep were being judged outside the building. Frank Napier did the report on the other cattle and this appears under another heading.

The vegetable and fruit section had a full showing and some very excellent specimens were on view. The many kinds of vegetables were in excellent quality and variety and were attracting much attention and comment. Fruit was in good variety, but considering this is a fruit growing area, it would seem that this part should have been in greater abundance. One official remarked that he felt that another year more emphasis should be stressed for exhibits in this department. He was not sure how an increase could be accomplished, but in view of the type of district then more exhibits should be encouraged for this Fair. With more people now attending Havelock Fair, he felt that Apples should be the predominant feature and be of great advertising value to the area.

There was the usual exhibit of machinery items and these were attracting a number of the patrons and providing much of interest.

On the entertainment side, the ring that has become a permanent part of this Fair, was well patronized. Here various children's sports and races were held and also the attraction of the day, the Highlanders, band and dancers from Maxville. A very large crowd listened to the band and watched the dancers and exclaimed in their interest of this event. The band and the dancers performed well. Later they went into other parts of the Ground and played their pipes. A pony potato race and musical chairs was also staged in this arena.

So it is that once again we can report another excellent Havelock Fair. There was not a dull moment for anyone who attended as they were kept busy going from one part of the grounds to another. Wherever one was most interested, that is where they stayed. Every department was well patronized.

Secretary Aylmer Hadley was back on the job again this year, last year he was hospitalized during the Fair and Mrs. Hadley deputized for him. Other officials were all doing their part and the gatekeepers and parking officials had a busy time. Talking to one of the officials, looking after the entertainment part of the program, he indicated that probably next year there would be some changes in order to make the Fair different and more attractive. Next year is the Centennial Year and the program may be along lines suitable to this. Discussions will be held at some of the future meetings he thought.

Early Morning Fire...

from Ormstown, came a little later and picked up the body and took it to Ormstown.

Enquiring about the victim, it was learned that she was probably about 66 years of age and lived alone and no relatives in the area, but had a brother in Ontario, who had been notified.

The firemen were at a loss to know at what point to best tackle the fire as from time to time fresh billows of smoke poured from the building. Hoses would be directed at these points and openings cut away in an endeavor to reach the seat of the fire. However, by about 9:30 the fire was completely under control and the building was entered. It was then found that there was a hole in the floor near a chair. It was surmised that the woman had been sitting in the chair for it had half burnt pillows in it. The bed had apparently not been slept in as it was fully made up. There were actually very little signs of actual burning, everything was damaged by the smoke and water.

It was felt that there might be two causes for the fire — one that it started from the furnace, the other that the woman may have been smoking and fallen asleep in the chair and dropped a cigarette in it. There were signs of cigarettes and such around. In bringing the woman out, Jake actually had a narrow escape, which he did not realize until after. In some way he had gone around the hole in the floor when he went in to get the woman out. He could have fallen through this, as it was big enough, he had not seen it at the time.

Some of the villagers made coffee and brought cookies to the firemen, which was most welcome as the morning air had a chill to it, as well as their being wet. Provincial police were on the scene and making notes.

In memoriam

SUTTON — In loving memory of dear Earl, accidentally killed on September 19, 1964. "We were not there to say goodbye, Perhaps it was just as well, We never could save said goodbye, To a son and brother we loved so well, We mourn for you in silence, No eyes can see us weep, But many a silent tear is shed, While others are asleep." Sadly missed by Mom and Gordon

SUTTON — In loving memory of a dear husband, Earl Sutton, who was accidentally killed on September 19, 1964. "I was not there to see you die To hold your head or to say goodbye, But I'll remember My whole life through, The last few words I had with you, Memories are treasures, no one can steal, Death is a heartache, no one can heal, Some may forget you now that you are gone But I will remember you no matter how long." Sadly missed by Margaret

Card of Thanks

Dear Friends and Customers,

On my departure from Huntingdon to take up residence in Oshawa, Ont., I would like to say thank you very much for the support that you have given me during my stay as Manager of Legare Ltd. This has been greatly appreciated. I have many friends and memories of Huntingdon that I shall never forget. I would also like to thank the people who contributed and attended our farewell party held at the Chateau. My most sincere thanks to you all. If any of you are in the vicinity of Oshawa at any time please drop in to see me at Adams Furniture Ltd. I hope that you will continue to give your support to my successor Joffre L'Heureux Jr. at Legare Ltd.

Thanks to you all,
George and Wilma Laurin.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Collins wish to thank everyone for the lovely 20th anniversary dance and for the gifts and cards that were received from friends, relatives and neighbours.
Our sincere thanks to Dr. A. Kelen, Mrs. Bourassa and Staff for their kindness and care extended to our sister-in-law and aunt, Mrs. Margaret Walsh. We also wish to express our appreciation to all relatives, neighbours and friends for floral tributes and messages of sympathy during our recent bereavement.
Ward Rember
Nieces and Nephews

Mr. Alexander is the son of the late James Alexander and his wife, the late Euphemia Sinton of St. Louis de Gonzague.

Mr. Alexander received many gifts including a gift of money from his grandchildren, also cards, phone calls and telegrams from his grandchildren who were unable to be present from New York, Edmonton and Castar, B. C. A cablegram was received from Her Majesty, The Queen and messages from the Prime Minister, The Honourable Mr. Pearson, The Honourable Mr. Green, Minister of Agriculture, Premier Daniel Johnson, The Honourable Mr. Lesage, Air Marshall and Mrs. E. M. Reyno, Group Captain and Mrs. C. Evans of Ottawa and the Canadian and American Holstein Friesian Breeders' Associations.

Many relatives and friends gathered to join in the celebration and among those present were Mr. Alexander's son and grandson Dr. J. D. F. Alexander and Kenneth, his brother-in-law, Colin MacMillan, only surviving brother of the late Janet MacMillan Alexander, Mr. H. Borgerson and Mrs. Borgerson, niece of Mr. Alexander, all of Vancouver, B.C. and his grandson Mr. Ian A. Smith and his wife of London, Ont. Many other relatives and friends from Montreal, Ormstown, Huntingdon and surrounding districts attended.

An interesting highlight on this occasion was the violin music played by Mr. MacMillan, who is himself 86 years old. He was a former resident of St. Louis de Gonzague and was well-known for his musical ability.

News from Howick

Davidson — de Grandpré and parts west of there. The first stop was at her sister's home at Long Branch, Mrs. Annie Currell, who last fall at 84 yrs. of age miraculously recovered from cancer a few days before her expected death. The next visit was with her sister, Mrs. Lovelock at London, Ont. and together they enjoyed a short holiday at Kettle Point Memorial Church, Ottawa. The United Chapel was decorated with vases of gladioli. The Rev. D. Howard was the officiating clergyman.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Frank Boxall, wore a short dress of White taffeta and brocade and carried pink roses.

The Matron of Honour was Mrs. George Bilodeau, who wore a two-piece dress in yellow and carried white roses. The best man was Mr. Michael Davidson.

About 25 guests attended a reception which was held at the home of the bride's brother in Ottawa. Later the young couple left for a trip to Toronto and Niagara. The bride's travelling costume was a white wool suit, with brown accessories and corsage of red roses. They will reside in Ville LaSalle.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Davidson from Howick attended the wedding.

Frederick Johnstone (Ricky) enjoyed doing TV work during the summer months on two programmes for Focus. One has been televised and with other will appear at a later date. He left on Monday for Queen's University and will be studying and working on his Master's Degree.

Mrs. Richard Champ has returned from a visit to Toronto

Graduation At Notre Dame High School

Mr. Harold Murphy, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Murphy graduated from Notre Dame High School in June and was awarded "The Sir Winston Churchill Medal". Harold's best subject was Mathematics.

This medal was donated by Miss Ellen Mc Carthy to her Alma Mater, in memory of her God Father, William Fenwick, a School Trustee for many years and a Church Warden of St. Joseph's Parish. At present Harold is working for The Northern Electric in Montreal and we all wish him a very successful career.

Obituary

The late Mrs. Eleanor Mc Nicol
Death came suddenly to Mrs. Eleanor Mary McNicol at her home at St. Anicet, Que. on Thursday, August 25th, 1966, though she had been in failing health for some time. The deceased was born in St. Anicet, on April 19, 1884, the daughter of the late Clara Moore Caldwell and Peter Ferguson. She was united in marriage to William A. McNicol on October 29, 1907.

She was a member of Zion United Church, Dundee, and was active in its women's groups until ill-health forced her absence from its activities. She was made a Life Member of The Woman's Missionary Society in May, 1954.

Mrs. Mc Nicol is survived by three sons and a daughter, Cecil of Mc Masterville, Earl of St. Anicet, Twins, Roy of Ormstown and Ruth (Mrs. Harry Mac Naughton) of Huntingdon, three daughters-in-law and son-in-law, six grandchildren, Winston and Melvin Mc Nicol, McMasterville, Jane and Susan McNicol, Ormstown, Ronald Mac-

Boy Struck By Car On New Henderson St. Bridge

Thursday around 2:50 p.m. a car driven by Keith Howden of Huntingdon, proceeding south to north on Henderson St., struck a seven-year-old boy near the south entrance to the new Henderson St. bridge. Denis Deschambault, youngest son of Mr. Albert Deschambault of 12 Daniel St., Valleyfield was struck by the right front bumper and under and he suffered a fractured femur of the left leg, about four inches above the knee, also a ruptured spleen.

A Grade Two student at Notre-Dame School, Denis was on his way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Florian Perreault, Fairview Rd. After walking across the bridge and reaching that part near where the sidewalk ends in front of Builders' Supply and Feeds Ltd., he turned towards the river but changed his mind and started to run across the street, directly in front of the approaching car.

He was taken to the Huntingdon County Hospital in the Kelly ambulance where Dr. Geo. Lefebvre placed his leg in a temporary splint, after which he was transferred to the Hotel-Dieu in Valleyfield by the Montpetit ambulance. Surgery for the internal injury was performed that evening by Dr. Saulnier and his leg placed in traction. He is reported to be making a satisfactory recovery.

Town police investigated the accident.

Naughton, R.C.N., Halifax, Patricia MacNaughton, Huntingdon, two brothers, William Ferguson, Dundee and Archie of East Syracuse, N.Y. Her husband predeceased her in May, 1941, a brother, Martin of Toronto in 1954 and a sister, Lottie in infancy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Norma, Quebec, September 12th, 1966.
Dear Editor:

While vacationing in the Chateauguay Valley, I had the privilege of visiting the FRIENDLY town of Ormstown. Here, accompanied by friends, I spent a half hour in the lounge of one of the hotels. For myself and five other friends I bought a round of beverages which cost me almost twice as much as they should have. The waiter refused to refund the money which rightfully belonged to me. As I proceeded to contact the manager, the waiter became so flustered, that he spilled a tray of drinks, yet, this waiter (who couldn't speak or understand English), still contested that he hadn't pocketed the money. Having witnesses who could verify my protestations, the manager finally agreed that the manager and the waiter should equally compensate me for my loss. The management paid, but the waiter refused.

Personally, I would like to know how many other people are being gypped in this hotel, and in others like it across the country.

After reading the article in the Weekend Section of the Montreal Star, I eagerly anticipated my sojourn to this center renowned for its friendliness. I have left, with no desire ever to return. It's a shame that a few people, like this waiter, must ruin the reputation that Ormstown has established for itself.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Heather James.

Athelstan

HAVELOCK FAIR DINNER

This year the Hinchinbrooke Volunteer Firemen were a third party in conjunction with the two churches who have been responsible for this dinner in the past. I understand that they acquitted themselves creditably in their first venture into something they were not in any way familiar with. At time of writing the net proceeds from this dinner were not as yet available, when they are they will appear in this paper.

real has been the guest of Rebekah Lodges in District No. 1, was held in Ormstown, on Saturday evening, September 10th. A delicious banquet was held in MacDougall Hall, then

Beef Barbecue

The Beef Barbecue at the Curling Rink on Saturday night was a complete success due to the efforts of Robert B. Ness, his committee, and all the ladies and men who helped. A thunderstorm around 6:30 p.m. held the crowd back, but when 10 o'clock came 260 suppers had been served. Fred Letto and Ralph Reddick did a fine job as chefs though smoke and heat made them uncomfortable while they worked under tarpaulins during the storm.

Evening Auxiliary Meets

The Georgetown Evening Auxiliary met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Peter Peddie with a good attendance of members.

Mrs. John Anderson opened the meeting, the theme being "Harvest. The devotions were taken by Mrs. Ross Elliott and Mrs. Donald Ness. An interesting study was read by Miss Isabel Elliot. Final plans were made for the Pot Luck Supper at the annual meeting. Members were invited to attend the South Shore Rally at Rockburn. Another $15 was voted to be sent in towards the allocation.

Refreshments were served by the hosts assisted by Mrs. Ross Elliott, Mrs. Donald Ness and Miss Isabel Elliot.

Here again we see the small fry at Havelock Fair. Above we see a pony mare with foal at foot ridden by a child, 12 years and under. The child is Carole Lalreille, 8 years, the mare is Princesse and the foal is Prince, owned by George Lalonde. The animals were entered in three different classes and in each instance won first prize. The classes entered were as follows: Mare and Foal; Saddle Pony 14 years and under; Pony Mare with foal at foot ridden by a child, 12 years and under. They certainly make a lovely trio and deserved the prizes.

This and That in Town

As generally expected, Saturday was a fine day for Havelock Fair. Almost too fine, because a good number of farmers stayed home, getting their corn in. The admission gate was busy all day however and we expect attendance was as good, if not better than last year. President William J. (Bill) Brown and the officers and directors are to be heartily commended for arranging a good all-around fair, including the entertainment by the Highland Band and Dancers from Maxville, Ont. Entertainment of this nature accomplishes a great deal as far as patrons who attend for purely social reasons are concerned, and we all know many people who attend fairs go for that purpose only. Some bigger fairs would do well to take a tip from Havelock on this score. The dinner was excellent, and that too was expected, but can we expect the same for next year? Rumour has it that the groups involved are not increasing in members, but the numbers attending the fair are, thus making almost too much to handle. This year the Hinchinbrook Volunteer Firemen gave a helping hand, much appreciated by the hard-working sponsors. Each year, new faces 'discover' Havelock Fair and some come a long distance to attend. Young or old, everyone seems to have a good day.

Tragic death of elderly Dewittville woman believed due to asphyxiation following early morning fire on Sunday. (See report).

7-year-old Denis Deschambault of Valleyfield suffered a fractured left leg and ruptured spleen Thursday afternoon when struck by car driven by Keith Howden in Huntingdon. (See report).

Two well-known Huntingdon men were leisurely proceeding along Route 52 to Havelock Fair on Saturday when a Provincial Police car overtook them and signalled for them to stop. No, they weren't speeding. They had been driving about 35 m.p.h. and the OPP agent informed the driver he was obstructing traffic by travelling at that speed on a highway posted for 60 m.p.h. After advising the gentleman at the wheel to drive faster, the astounded Huntingdonians were allowed to resume their drive to the fair.

The above incident may surprise some people who feel even the highways in the local area aren't good enough for 50 m.p.h., but law is law and the officer is to be commended for his action. It has often been said that 'Sunday' drivers indirectly cause more accidents than those who drive in excess of speed limits. Any comments?

A real estate transaction took place the past week whereby John Thompson became the owner of the business block where the E. E. Bisson barber shop is located on the south side of Chateauguay St. The building was purchased from J. M. Smellie and the Thompson Tobacco Shop will be moved to its new location shortly.

Although there has been no frost yet, leaves have started to change color. A couple of old-timers we know predict a short fall and a long winter. Well, the mercury climbed to the 80's on Saturday and the grass grew faster last week than it had all summer, so most of us will wait until the Seaway closes before we admit winter's on its way.

Duck season opens Saturday. Some of the ducks around the lake are so fearless right now that it seems a shame to hunt them. Most sportsmen feel the season is opening much too early; some of the ducks are so young they still have down instead of feathers; also, experienced sportsmen say the ducks won't make good eating because the weather is still warm.

Fishing is excellent and everything with a dorsal fin is biting, according to St. Anicet Outfitters. Bass are striking lures and flies as well as minnows; Dore are plentiful and are going for worms and minnows; perch and pike are biting everything in sight. Wally Vass is reported to have landed a nine-pound Dore and young Eric Belanger pulled out a ten-pounder using worms. Bill Boyd tells us that Dore holes around Port Lewis just don't seem to have the fish they used to have, but they seem to be in the fast waters further up the lake. Muskies are providing plenty of thrills and one of the Hart boys lost one he estimates to weigh at least 40 lbs. when his line broke as he was reeling the fish in for gaffing.

Golf is becoming more popular in the district every week. The Legion Open will be held at Malone this Sunday and Jon Proudfoot tells us post entries are welcome. Come on Comrades, it should be a good day.

Elsewhere in this issue is a list of the merchants and businessmen who donated prizes for the Policemen's Golf Tournament recently held at St. Anicet Golf and Country Club. Chief Joffre L'Heureux of Outtown wishes to express his personal thanks to all who helped make the event a success.

The Gleaner's No. One compositor, Art Hampson, is back on the job this week after an absence of almost seven weeks due to an injured leg.

Gleaner readers will be sorry to learn that James F. Smythe (dim to a great many people) was admitted to the County Hospital Monday morning after suffering a heart seizure. Mr. Crawford Anderson admitted the day before, having been stricken at his summer home at Connaught Place, Port Lewis.

Remember the Mammoth Card Party in the Ormstown Ex arena tonight. Men, women and children have been busy for days decorating the inside of the arena. Rain or shine (woops, the sun sets before 8 p.m., now, doesn't it) the party will start on time so plan to arrive a few minutes early and pick out a table. The W.A. of The Barrie have made elaborate plans for entertainment and so on, so please help this worthy endeavour...don't just buy a ticket, BE THERE.

Jon (Safety Sam) Proudfoot is President of the Huntingdon Rotary Club this term and at Monday's luncheon meeting announced plans are being made for a big-scale safety programme. Congratulations Prez, and your idea of getting other organizations involved in a local safety campaign is laudable.

Friends of McKie (Cluff & Bourgon Insurance) Cluff will be pleased to learn that he expects to be home this week-end. This popular young Huntingdon business executive has been on the sick list since the middle of August. His partners in insurance expect him back in the office after a couple of weeks convalescing at home.

Just this: 'The Mountain City Chorus', Montreal Chapter S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. (Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America) will be in Huntingdon on Saturday, September 24. The group, consisting of about 40 male voices, will sing YOUR favorite barber shop quartet songs. Mrs. Ann Cameron, President of Br. 81 of the Royal Canadian Legion, invited the Mountain City Chorus here and they will be performing in aid of the Legion Hall Building Fund. SEE... HEAR... AND ENJOY the Mountain City Chorus members at Huntingdon Theatre, starting at 8:30 p.m. sharp. Advance tickets are now on sale and we suggest early reservations.

The National Film Board detailed a trio consisting of two men and one woman to Havelock Fair on Saturday. One was a photographer, another a writer and the third was possibly in charge. They interviewed several people and took pictures of exhibits in many classes, which is much appreciated by officials of the fair. But just who were the deuce did these people think they were? They were dressed beatnik-style, complete with long unkempt hair and beards (except for one of the men who didn't even have a dirty shirt on) and just didn't appear the type the National Film Board should send to a public gathering. No doubt they performed their work efficiently, but why oh why did they have to appear as they did? It's all right to dress like a bumpkin when coming to the country from the big city, but at least wear clean clothes and all of them when interviewing elderly men and women, many of whom also come from cities. Several people, including some who arrived from Maxville with the dancers and pipers, were thoroughly disgusted with the trio.

Mr. and Mrs. John Laurin attended the 20th wedding anniversary dance for Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Collins at Brysonville Hall on Friday evening.

From Nicaragua I decided to travel back — time was beginning to run short since I had to get to Canada for my visit to Howick — and finally, after nearly a month's travelling, I reached Mexico City again. During this time I spent virtually nothing to hitch-hike roughly 5,000 miles.

The only way to see what a country is really like is to travel without money, since this forces one into continual contact with the real population; in no country that I know of do rich people ever befriend an impoverished stranger. To me these countries seemed rich in jungle, ruins and poverty, and also in tourists who, living only with in the precincts of big expensive hotels (which abound in the capitals of Central American countries) know nothing of the country to which they are come. They find themselves in the same society and surroundings in Managua, Mexico, Miami or Montreal; it seems strange to travel so far just to look in a mirror. I was travelling with a shoulder bag and a guitar, and was able to learn some Mexican rhythms and songs. The folklore in those countries is very beautiful, as are the native hand-made textiles of brilliantly coloured wool or

I had only been in Mexico City two days when I met a young Mexican driving to Argentina, who asked me to accompany him. Mexico City is a vast sprawling city of six million inhabitants, and I was very glad to have a chance to leave it behind.

We discovered that between us we had about five dollars, I also had a quantity of Swiss francs, but I was to learn that these were absolutely useless, since no one would change them anywhere in Central America. (The Canadian Diplomatic Service was particularly unhelpful). Being penniless meant having to rely on the generosity of the peoples of Central America; and it is a tribute to this generosity that I travelled for a fortnight over 2,500 miles, to Nicaragua without spending any money at all. I can think of countless incidents of spontaneous generosity which are quite unparalleled by anything I have encountered in North America.

I was travelling in ragged blue jeans and barefoot — my shoes had begun to rot with the heat, so that I was forced to throw them away. Everyone, seeing my poverty, and recognizing me as a foreigner, befriended me at once. In a poor country the poor share what little they have even with a stranger; in a rich country, people have lost their contact with simple human values. In Guatemala I was sitting on a bench in a town park one night when a man came and sat next to me. He told me that his wife had just given birth to their first child, and despite his evident poverty, he brought me a melon and three cucumbers and a half-bottle of a liquor distilled by the Indians in Honduras which had been smuggled to him by his grandmother. Again, in Nicaragua I visited a local fair one night. I was surrounded by a crowd of young students. When they learned that I had not yet eaten they made a collection from their own pockets and those of passers-by and gave me the money to buy food. Thus all the while I was living as the poor do, eating with them (usually beans and tortillas, with a fried banana and pig skin as a treat), sitting and talking and looking around in the 'mercado' (general market place and centre of activity of the poor in Central American towns), in the jungle sleeping in a hammock I bought in Guatemala, while in the cities I spent four nights in prison — the only place where you don't have to pay. But elsewhere people would offer me a bed for the night.

Travelling 5,000 Miles On a Shoe String Neil Johnstone spent two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. J. A.E. Johnstone at Howick before returning to England. Neil, a scholarship student, is studying Philosophy, Politics and Economics as an Exhibitioner at Pembroke College, Oxford University. Last summer he hitch-hiked through France and Spain to Morocco and back. This summer he flew to Mexico on his way to Howick and the following is his account of the 1966 holiday trip.

A Behind The Scenes Look In all affairs there is always someone behind the scenes who is doing the actual work. Here The Gleaner took a look behind the Dining Hall at Havelock Fair last Saturday, to see what's 'Cooking'. The above picture shows some of the men helpers attending the cooking of potatoes on the outside stoves set up for the purpose.

Liturgie — La porte par laquelle on entre au Royaume des Cieux est étroite. On n'y entre pas le front haut et conquérant, mais la tête basse et en mendiant. Comme le publicien de la parabole. A la question des disciples: "Qui donc est le plus grand dans le Royaume des Cieux?" Jésus répond: "Si vous ne retournez à l'état des enfants, vous ne pouvez entrer dans le Royaume des Cieux" (Matth.). Les petits, les pauvres! Ils ont renoncé à leur propre justice, pour s'en remettre à l'amour du Père. Leur humilité périe de confiance, appelle la miséricorde du Seigneur, comme la vallée profonde attire le torrent. Dans la mesure où nous diminuons, nous permettons au Christ de grandir en nous et d'atteindre toute sa taille.

Liturgie — Sanctification de Sunday — Sunday is "a day of obedience". In Egypt the Jews were slaves. They had no free day. When they escaped from Egypt they became aware of their liberty. They celebrated a free day every week in commemoration of their liberation from Pharaoh: there was no work. Nor was manna available (Ex. et Deut.). After the exile, the day of rest acquired a sociological character. On the Sabbath, the Jews meditated on their dignity as living images of God (Gen., Ex., Ez.). The Pharisees complicated and multiplied rules for the sabbath (Acts.). Christ's reaction was to emphasize the real meaning of the Lord's day: a day of liberty and a day of imitation of God. He does this in two ways: he liberates us from sin and the devil (Math. et Mark), and he continues his Father's work of salvation on sabbath days (John). He insisted on preaching (Luke). Finally it was the day when he was in his grave (Luke) to rise on Sunday, which thus became the day of resurrection, the joyful Sabbath of the New Covenant.

Les travaux d'hiver se poursuivront cette année

L'honorable Jean Marchand, ministre de la Citoyenneté et de l'Immigration, a annoncé récemment que le programme d'encouragement des travaux d'hiver dans les municipalités se poursuivra au cours de l'hiver prochain.

On rappelle à cette occasion que le gouvernement fédéral contribue 50 pour cent des frais de main-d'œuvre affectés aux travaux exécutés en vertu du programme. Dans le cas des municipalités en voie de développement et des zones de chômage plus intense en hiver, la prime fédérale s'établit à 60 pour cent du coût direct des salaires. Le programme sera en vigueur du 1er novembre 1966 au 30 avril 1967.

M. Marchand a précisé que plus de 2.500 municipalités ont entrepris des travaux d'hiver en vertu du programme l'an dernier, procurant ainsi du travail à raison de 8 millions de jours-hommes.

"La poursuite d'un tel programme, nous l'espérons, normalisera le niveau de l'emploi au Canada et accordera ainsi plus d'occasions d'emploi à l'année longue", a souligné le ministre.

Ce message vous est transmis par votre bureau du Service national de placement, 63A, rue Champlain, tél.: 373-gramme sera en vigueur du 6220.

Les commissaires de la Régionale franchissent une autre étape

Les membres de la Commission Scolaire Régionale St-Joseph ont franchi une autre étape vers la fréquentation gratuite de l'école classique pour les élèves du niveau secondaire quand ils ont adopté, à leur dernière assemblée, une résolution qui permettra à ses délégués de poursuivre les négociations déjà entamées en ce sens avec les autorités du Séminaire de Valleyfield.

Les commissaires Raphaël Saint-Maurice et Gérard St-Onge ont en effet produit pour rapport sur une première rencontre avec le Séminaire, pendant laquelle ils ont discuté des démarches à entreprendre et des conditions de l'entente à intervenir entre les deux corps éducatifs.

L'autorisation à poursuivre les négociations pour conclure la signature d'un contrat, sujet à l'approbation du Ministère de l'Éducation, permettant aux élèves qui offriront les aptitudes nécessaires après entrevue et examen au Service de l'Orientation, d'entreprendre et de poursuivre des études classiques à titre gratuit. Une telle entente pourra également intervenir avec le Couvent des RRSS Jésus et Marie et autres institutions privées dispensant le cours classique au niveau secondaire.

La fréquentation scolaire. Le directeur général Maurice Marleau a dévoilé que 2.278 étudiants étaient enrôlés à la Régionale St-Joseph en date du 8 septembre, 183 professeurs dispenseront l'enseignement à ces étudiants. Au dernier, 3.015 élèves avaient fréquenté les écoles de la Régionale et un personnel de 181 professeurs avait été requis.

Histoire des congés payés et loisirs

C'était le 11 juin 1936 que les congés payés ont été accordés à l'unanimité des votants de la Chambre des députés en France. Le processus commença par un débat de 10 heures sur le sujet. L'auto-mobilisme du peuple étant encore rare, les routes se couvrirent de bicyclettes portant des jeunes hommes et des jeunes femmes qui s'appropriaient le soleil pour la première fois de leur vie. Le spectacle le plus émouvant était dans les gares. On vit de vieux ouvriers portant des baluchons rouillés avec des ficelles. Interrogés, ils disaient: c'est la première fois que nous avons des vacances, nous n'espérons pas voir la mer avant de mourir.

Les bourgeois plissèrent les lèvres. Beaucoup d'hommes poussèrent des cris d'angoisse. Il y eut des tentatives de pétitions pour que les plaques à la mode fussent exclues de la liste des billets délivrés aux "congés payés". Certaines plaques perdirent leur clientèle, accablées, sur le bruit qu'elles étaient envahies par les "congés payés". De bonnes gens tremblèrent en août devant l'invasion de leurs vacances par les intrus qui n'avaient jamais eu. Il est douloureux de perdre un privilège. "Ce n'est pas le tout d'être heureux", disait le cynique Jules Renard: encore faut-il que les autres ne le soient pas.

Le repos, c'est une invention chrétienne. Depuis le Paradis terrestre, il n'existait pour l'immense majorité des hommes que deux états: le travail et le repos. Le repos était l'interruption du travail pendant le temps nécessaire pour la reconstitution des forces du travailleur. Il lui permettait l'accomplissement des fonctions animales élémentaires: manger, boire, dormir, se reproduire, plus un nombre limité d'exercices spirituels propices au bon ordre social et de divertissements généralement grossiers. Le reste de la vie du plus grand nombre appartenait tyranniquement au travail.

Le repos lui-même fut élastique à travers les âges. La tendance à la contemplation ou au mépris des biens terrestres fit du christianisme la religion la plus libérale, ou plus exactement la plus autoritairement libérale, en matière de repos. Il n'y a pas en core si longtemps, les offices dominicaux, rigoureusement obligatoires, duraient sept heures dans les communautés puritaines de la Nouvelle-Angleterre et quoique se libèrent à un travail manuel, l'usage de recoudre un bouton ou de redresser un pieu, était possible du fouet et du pilori.

L'Église catholique un peu plus aimable, était à peine moins stricte. L'ennui d'une densité particulière qui pèse sur les dimanches vient des siècles.

En contre-partie, la détente physique était assurée aux corps par le Jour du Seigneur et une certaine liesse était procurée aux coeurs par les fêtes religieuses ou corporatives.

Avec une trentaine de ces dernières et cinquante-deux dimanches, l'artisan et le laboureur du Moyen-Âge au XVIIIe siècle, comptaient dans l'année près d'un jour sur quatre sans travail.

La situation de l'emploi est stable

Monsieur J. R. Gérard LaLonde, gérant intérimaire du Service national de placement pour la région desservie par le bureau local de Valleyfield, nous informe que la stabilité a été le facteur déterminant dans la situation de l'emploi au cours du mois d'août 1966.

En août de cette année, 512 personnes (266 hommes et 246 femmes), ont trouvé du travail par l'entremise du Service national de placement.

Le 31 août dernier, 785 hommes et 596 femmes étaient inscrits pour emploi au Service national de placement.

Cercle des Fermières St-Joseph de Huntingdon

Mardi soir, un grand nombre de dames de la paroisse se réunissaient en la salle de l'école Notre-Dame pour procéder à la fondation d'un Cercle de fermières. Au cours de réunions tenues au cours de l'été, un exécutif avait été nommé et tout était préparé pour l'inauguration officielle du Cercle.

Après un mot de bienvenue par la présidente locale, Mme Conrad Ringuette, Mlle Liliane Labelle, conseillère technique à la division de l'économie domestique du Ministère de l'Agriculture de la Province de Québec donna un aperçu des principaux objectifs de cette organisation. Les membres se réunissent une fois par mois pour échanger des connaissances, soit ménagères, intellectuelles, sociales et morales dans un geste d'entraide mutuelle pour le développement de chacune.

Mme George Viau, présidente de la Fédération No. 12 des Cercles de Fermières ajouta quelques mots d'encouragement au nouveau cercle qui sera le 29e groupement de cette Fédération qui comprend les comités de Beauharnois, Châteauguay Huntingdon et Laprairie.

Mgr David et M. l'abbé Cartier, aumônier de la Fédération ont ajouté quelques mots de félicitations et d'encouragement aux dames qui ont fait le travail d'organisation.

Mme Jean Pilon de St. Thimothée et plusieurs dames de St. Anicet et Ormstown étaient présentes. Le comité élu se compose de: — Présidente, Mme Conrad Ringuette; Vice-Présidente Mme Armand Léger; Secrétaire, Mme Jules Caza; Bibliothécaire, Mme Gaston Taillefer; Conseillères, Mesdames Maurice Lefebvre, Marcelle Demers et Maurice Perreault.

Les réunions se tiennent le deuxième mardi de chaque mois. La prochaine aura lieu le 11 octobre à 8 heures à l'école Notre-Dame. Toutes les dames et jeunes filles sont invitées à se joindre au Cercle.

Diplomée

Mlle Suzanne Pilon, fille de M. et Mme Jean Réal Pilon, autrefois de Dundee, diplômée de l'Hôpital de la Miséricorde avec distinction. Félicitations.

320 millions de timbres de Noël 1966

L'honorable Jean-Pierre Côté a annoncé récemment que les Postes canadiennes ont choisi le 12 octobre comme date d'émission des timbres spéciaux destinés à marquer la période de Noël.

Pour la troisième année consécutive, les Postes canadiens émettront des timbres spéciaux de 3 c et de 5 c à l'occasion de la Noël. Le ministre des Postes a signalé que le dessin des timbres de 1966 a été conçu par Geoffrey Holloway, de l'Arnott Rogers, Batten Limited, de Montréal.

Au centre des timbres, figure une reproduction d'un très vieux dessin, "Bette en bande" les "mains jointes en prière", exécuté par le célèbre peintre, graveur et dessinateur de la Renaissance allemand, Albrecht Dürer, qui vécut de 1471 à 1528.

Le dessin, représentation enveloppante des mains nouées d'un homme humble et pieux qui remercie Dieu de ses bienfaits, se prête fort bien à la saison des Fêtes.

Les timbres, reproduisant tous deux le même dessin, sont de petits formats et portent une étoile de Noël, et les mots "Noël", "Christmas" et "Canada". Le timbre de 5c est orange et celui de 3c est rose. Ils ont été gravés par un Canadian Bank Note Company, d'Ottawa.

Les Postes canadiens s'attendent à faire imprimer et à vendre plus de 320 millions de timbres de Noël, cette année.

Incendie à Dewittville

Un incendie qui s'est déclaré tôt dimanche matin a coûté la vie d'une dame âgée à Dewittville, sur la Route 4.

Un garde-chasse qui faisait sa tournée, M. Guy Stowell aperçut la fumée vers 6:45 a.m. Le petit chalet était habité par Mme H. Weeks, qui y demeurait seule.

Les gens de Dewittville alertés par le garde-chasse firent appel aux pompiers d'Ormstown et de Huntingdon.

En attendant leur arrivée, quelques volontaires allaient chercher la pompe et le boyau qui servent à arroser la patinoire en hiver. A l'arrivée des pompiers, des bouffées de fumée s'échappaient et personne n'avait osé pénétrer à l'intérieur.

A l'arrivée de notre représentant, on avait réussi à sortir la victime qui semble avoir succombé à l'asphyxie par la fumée. M. Jake Ikema de Huntingdon raconta qu'il avait pénétré à l'intérieur après avoir mis son masque protecteur et avait trouvé Mme Weeks étendue sur le plancher du salon. Elle était complètement vêtue; il réussit à l'approcher près du couloir et M. Harold McCaig de la brigade d'Ormstown l'aida à la porter à l'extérieur. Elle semblait morte, mais ne portait pas de marques de brûlures. Ils la posèrent loin du foyer de l'incendie et la couvrirent. L'ambulance appelée sur les lieux la transporta à Ormstown.

Ce n'est que vers neuf heures et trente que le feu fut complètement sous contrôle; on pénétra à l'intérieur on put se rendre compte qu'il y avait un trou dans le plancher près d'une chaise. On croit que la dame était assise car on trouva des coussins à moitié brûlés. Il y avait peu de signes de feu, mais beaucoup de dommages ont été causés par la fumée et l'eau. On croit que la fournaise aurait pu être la cause du sinistre, ou que la dame se serait endormie avec une cigarette allumée.

Ici et là dans la Ville

Le prix monté à un rythme effrayant

Les maîtresses de maison se plaignent non sans raison du coût toujours plus élevé des aliments. Malheureusement elles ajoutent que leur revenu ne s'élève pas aussi vite en comparaison.

Des statistiques démontrent que pour acheter une commande dont le total était de $10. l'an dernier, on doit déboursier maintenant $13.08.

Voici quelques items et les prix de l'an dernier, comparativement à ceux d'aujourd'hui. Tranches de fromage, 39 auj. 41; fromage cheddar, 65 auj. 69; bacon, 89 auj. 1.39; blé d'inde 35 la doz., auj. 48; céleri, 12 auj. 25; poulet, 35 auj. 55; saumon 1.15, pêches au panier, 89 auj. 1.19; oeufs, 61 auj. 82; filet de porc, 55 auj. 63; margarine, 26 auj. 35; beurre, 58 auj. 65.

Il est reconnu aussi que la hausse ne se limite pas aux aliments; les vêtements, le coût du transport, des loyers, les coupes de cheveux, etc. Le bureau des statistiques révèle que pour le dixième mois consécutif, le coût de la vie a monté et atteint un record jamais vu.

C'est pourquoi même les maîtresses de maison qui veulent s'en tenir à un budget n'arrivent plus à le boucler. Espérons qu'une solution heureuse sera trouvée par les responsables; mais qui sont les responsables? De toute façon, le mal est là; il faut trouver le remède.

Saison de la chasse

La saison est ouverte et les amateurs ont sorti fusils et cartouches. Ce sport permet aux hommes de se promener au grand air en plus d'aiguiser leur sens d'observation; savoir reconnaître une perdrix qui s'envole ou un lièvre qui l'a entendu venir demande une bonne ouïe; les réflexes rapides sont aussi nécessaires.

Vous savez tout cela et ce à quoi nous voulons en venir c'est plutôt au fait que chaque année de nombreux accidents sont rapportés. Heureusement, ils n'ont pas tous des conséquences graves, mais ce n'est pas tout.

Remerciement

Nous désirons remercier sincèrement toutes les personnes qui nous ont témoigné de marques de sympathie à l'occasion du décès de Mme F. X. John Forget, soit par offrandes de messes, tributes florales, cartes, visites ou assistance aux funérailles.

Cote Ste Catherine Wharf To Be Repaired For Public Use

Mr. Ian Watson, M.P. for Chateauguy - Huntingdon - Laprairie announced today that the repair of the Cote Ste-Catherine public wharf will start within two or three weeks.

The wharf, which since the advent of the St. Lawrence Seaway, has been flooded each time the lock gates open for a ship passage at Cote Ste-Catherine, will be raised and repaired in order that it may usefully serve the tourist and recreational needs of the citizens of Cote Ste-Catherine, Laprairie County and surrounding areas.

Mr. Watson pointed out that this is the second such public wharf to be made available this year by the Federal Government to the population of Laprairie County and surrounding areas, for tourist and recreational purposes.

After a public tender call the contract has been awarded to the lowest tenderer, for the sum of $9,210.00.

Cultural Centre Construction To Start Soon

By Fergus Horsburgh

Mayor Richard Sutterlin of Chateauguy Centre told The Gleaner recently that tenders for construction of the Cultural Centre will be opened at the end of September and work is expected to commence early October.

In order to qualify for the substantial grants from the Federal and Provincial Governments, work must be finished by December 31, 1966, but one month's grace will be allowed for completion.

PERSPECTIVE:

16 Walk The Streets

by Russ Faughnan

They walk the streets of Chateauguy, and Huntingdon and Montreal and Everytown. Almost every family can think of at least one near relative who can be considered "different". You may not call it Mental Illness but you are only fooling yourself. And probably not even that. For Mental Illness is with us. It is only the rare case, the unusual one which reaches public attention and brings the thought home. That "odd" one, the relative or friend who is "different", is actually Mentally Ill.

Recent news events have featured mass killings. 8 nurses in Chicago, 16 citizens in Texas, 5 in one family in New Jersey. Murders all but most important, they were each committed by a poor soul who was Mentally Sick. In each case the cry for help had been made and to all practical purposes, ignored.

No, I am not a bleeding heart. I do not believe that murderers and other criminals should be coddled. In fact, I am one of those "throw 'em into the jug and let 'em rot" type of persons. I am not talking about punishment for crimes committed. I am talking, no, pleading for recognition and prevention. The recognition should be easy but what to do about it — aye there's the rub.

On TV last Sunday we heard of a young man named Howard Phillips. Howard is in jail. They say he stole $90 from his employer's wallet. Howard does not remember taking the money. I feel quite sure of that because this 19 year old spent the $90. on a cowboy suit and wore it to work. So, Howard has been in jail for ten months. No trial as yet. He was sent to hospital but judged as not insane within the criminal meaning and therefore returned to jail. Even the Warden admits that under our present laws, Howard Phillips does not fit in a Mental Institution, a regular hospital or a criminal court.

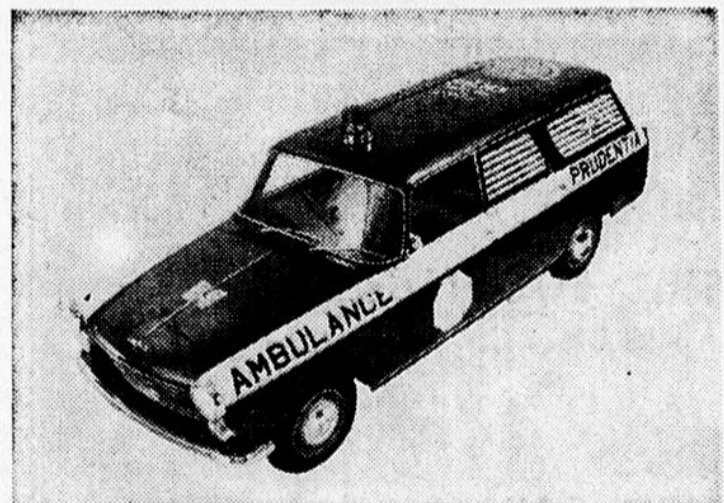

As far as the law is concerned, this young man does not fit anywhere. Is there a place for Howard?

Montreal has a grey stone building sitting on the slopes of Mount Royal known as the Allan Memorial Institute. In their rooms are dozens of Howard Phillips, brought there by relatives who recognized the problem and heard the cry for help. More important, they accepted the fact that someone was sick and knew where a sick person belongs. There are several such places in Montreal where specialized care is available. Where treatment is given, not to the insane but to the Mentally Ill. Such treatment is usually highly successful if, and it's a big if, the disease is caught and treated in time. When I had occasion to bring a member of my own family to the Allan Memorial a few months ago, there was great difficulty in gaining admission. After several days of frustrated attempts, we finally succeeded by the merest stroke of luck. We were told that 16 others were waiting for emergency admission that day. We were only grateful at the time but now that my relative is back home and doing fine, those 16 others come taking the money. I feel quite sure of that because this 19 year old spent the $90. on a cowboy suit and wore it to work. So, Howard has been in jail for ten months. No trial as yet. He was sent to hospital but judged as not insane within the criminal meaning and therefore returned to jail. New Ambulance Service

Dr. Claude Gareau, President of Prudentia, the independent provincial highway safety committee, announced last week that Dow Brewery will sponsor twenty-five (25) ambulances which will offer free services to highway casualties in different areas of the province.

Gerald Lévesque, Vice-President and General Manager for Dow Brewery in the province of Quebec, has presented Dr. Gareau with the keys to the four first ambulances. The other 21 ambulances are scheduled to go into service by the month of December.

At first, the ambulances will be available on weekends only. They will operate from Provincial Police stations. Eventually, all ambulances will be relayed by radio and they will be available every day of the week.

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

So many families in Seignory Park have been converted to camping holidays that the Horsburghs found themselves carried along by the trend. Our previous camping experience totalled a brief spell by Jane in the Girl Guides and one week's bicycling tour of Northern Scotland many years ago by myself. So the four babes in the woods took off South the day after Labour Day. The first stop was at Roger's Rock in New York State, where, before we even got the tent up, one of the trailer legs broke, after which we found ourselves unable to make the Coleman burner work properly.

Resisting a strong urge to call the whole deal off and return in ignominy to Chateauguy, we kept headed South and reached our camp site on Cape Code just before complete darkness.

Ten feet from our tent we spied what appeared to be a rabbit which turned out on closer inspection to be a skunk! An English couple in an adjoining site, being new to North America, thought this was rather cute, and promptly produced a spotlight and movie camera. During the next three days Mr. Skunk continued to visit us, and as he refrained from using his ultimate weapon, we have formed a rather gruesome friendship.

The weather has been just perfect, but we are still undecided as to whether camping is really for us or not. The final test is still to come — what happens when it rains?

There are some rather quaint customs in Massachusetts — for instance, several places advertise "Bottled Liquors" and I'm still puzzled about the type of liquor which does NOT come in a bottle. Never having swallowed the popular myth about lower prices below the border, I suppose I shouldn't have been shocked, but I was bearing in mind the premium on the U.S. Dollar and the smaller American gallon, prices generally seem to be about 50% higher than in Canada.

Quebec's New Road Map

Quebec — This year, the province is putting out a road map which is altogether different from the one motorists have been used to for a number of years. Printed on a single sheet the old map was folded like an accordion, which made it difficult to consult. Besides draughtsmen were limited to the relatively small scale of twenty miles to the inch; otherwise, "La Belle Province" being so large, the map could not have been unfolded at arms' length. For this reason, the centre part of the province was reproduced on the reverse side at a scale of fifteen miles to the inch; in other words, there were two different scales for the same map.

The Tourism Branch decided to publish the map in a format similar to the one currently used in Europe. Quebec's new road map is in the form of a 48-page brochure: as in the past, the cover depicts an historical event: the foundation of Charlesbourg by Intendant Jean Talon in 1666, and adoption of the "trait carré" which was then an effective defence system against Indians.

Areas covered by the highway network have been divided into fourteen squares, each of which is identified by a letter corresponding to a

You Shall Know Them By Signs At Expo 67

Montreal — (Expo '67) — Does a suitcase with a question mark above it mean anything to you? Or a coat hanger? Or even a bandaged hand?

These are only three of the 24 symbols that have been adopted to get essential messages across to the multilingual millions of visitors who will be coming to Expo '67.

Expo has created its own sign language to surmount the language barrier. To accomplish this the accompanying pictographs have been created. How many can you identify? For the answers, see below.

Expo 67's site will be a veritable labyrinth of pavilions, avenues, paths, parks, bridges, tunnels, and towers.

double-page map. Since the scale is the same throughout the booklet — fifteen miles to the inch — the map will be less confusing for motorists.

Tourism, Fish and Game Minister Gabriel Loubier pointed out that the new map is not intended as a reference document for the various departments or geographical societies and other similar groups. First and foremost it is designed as a travel aid with definite, useful purposes. Most tourists go by car and everyone knows how difficult it is to check an ordinary road map when driving.

The Minister added: "Since Quebec's road map is now in booklet form, the motorist can put it on the seat and turn the pages as he travels." The brochure contains separate maps covering larger urban areas such as Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa-Hull, Sherbrooke and Trois-Rivières so that tourists will readily locate city streets which are part of the provincial highway network. It also includes information on customs and main traffic signs as well as a list of localities.

Politics and Pensions

by C. J. Harris

It can be taken for granted that when Parliament reconvenes in the fall, all opposition parties will be sounding off on the subject of another increase in old age pensions. The debate, unfortunately, will not be guided solely by a search for the course that would be best for all, both for those who are too old to work and need more money to live on and for those who are at work and will have to provide the money. The prelude to the debate — the discussions that took place in the House just before the summer recess — showed very clearly that none of the opposition groups can resist the urge to put politics first when it

Since visitors from all over the world will be at the more than 1,000-acre site, Expo has made a special effort to avoid written messages. Without these pictographs the polyglot crowds could become lost, confused, uncomfortable, and even hungry.

The pictographs were created especially for Expo by Paul Arthur and Associates Limited, graphic designers of Toronto.

They will appear mainly in signs on doors, screened in black and, when applicable, red or white adhesive backed by four inch vinyl squares.

Where the nature of the messages makes the use of these pictographs impossible, the two official languages of Expo, French and English, will be used.

Expo will also use color to code areas to facilitate visitors finding their way about. Purple will identify the Cité du Havre area; green the Sainte-Hélène; and yellow the Notre-Dame. The amusement area located in La Ronde will be designated by a bright orange. Blue will identify Expo properties and services such as telephone and information booths, trains, and boats. The uniforms of Expo personnel will be predominantly blue.

The pictographs signify the following:

Valleyfield News

By Nancy Molyneux

VALLEYFIELD — The United Church Sunday School Picnic was held on Saturday, September 10th, at Charlottenburg Park in Ontario. It was a beautiful day so many of the children and adults were able to go in swimming. Everyone came out of the water in time to enjoy a delicious lunch of corn on the cob. After lunch, races for pupils of the various grades and ribbons were awarded to the first three winners in each race. Following this, some of the children went in for another swim while the adults chatted with their friends. The picnic was well-attended and everyone had an enjoyable day.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Glenn and Peter have returned home after spending the summer in St. Stephen's N.B.

Miss Lorine Buttress and Mr. C. Lavigne of Ottawa, Ont., were week-end visitors at the home of Mrs. J. Buttress.

Mr. J. Carter of Aurora, Ont., spent the week-end at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. T. Carter. Miss Carolyn Carter returned home with him after spending a week with her grand mother, Mrs. J. Carter.

Mr. John B. Angell of 2232 Harvard Ave, Montreal, received word on the 8th of Sept. from Miss Mary S. Sullivan of 2520 West Ardmore, Chicago, Ill. USA that her brother Jeremiah (Miah) Sullivan passed away at the hospital in Chicago on Aug. 31st. Miah who attended the Gault Institute around 1905-1910 had earned the love and respect of all who knew him.

comes to pensions. Their combined attack finally forced the government to make a statement of policy that was obviously premature.

Under the pressure of a filibuster strategy by the NDP on the phoney issue that the opposition was striving to melt the governments' hard heart, Welfare Minister MacEachen committed the government to guaranteeing a minimum income of $105 a month to all age pensioners. Initial cost, he said, would be about $225 million and new revenue measures to find the money are under consideration. It is not clear how the Minister arrived at this figure, for if 1,100,000 pensioners were given an extra $30 a month the total annual cost would be nearly $400 million.

It is being assumed that the government hopes to deal with the pension hike on the basis of what is called a negative income tax program. Under this arrangement all pensioners would file an annual income tax return, rather than just those who have a taxable income. In those cases where the individual's total income was below $105 a month, or $1,260 a year, the government would make up the difference. It would be a sound scheme because it would help those who need help without bonussing those who do not. It is possible that Welfare Minister MacEachen based his estimate of $225 million, as opposed to a probable $400 million for a universal pension increase, on this negative income tax idea.

Sound or not, the fact is that this is a pretty sophisticated method of paying pensions. It would take a while to educate the public on the mechanics and advantages of this quite different system. The question is whether the opposition would permit the government the time. Stanley Knowles of the NDP is al-

We were surprised, but happy, to see the long awaited sidewalk under construction on D'Anjou Blvd. Hope it will be ready in time for the opening of the new supermarket. Also glad to see several new homes going up on the corner of Wilbroad and St. Leon and St. Maurice, and one home on Dollard already has the framework up.

A word of caution to folks who might want to stock up on apples from the orchard way down the other end of Crown Homes. Apparently people trespassed and were ready on record as saying that such a system would be a form of means test and would rob old people of their dignity, a criticism that is as illogical as saying that filling out an income tax form and receiving a rebate is an embarrassment.

At least some of the opposition will be demanding a straight $30-per-month pension hike to all, regardless of income or need. But this would be no favor to the workingman, who must pay the increased pension cost either through higher direct taxes or higher indirect taxes that show up in higher prices and living costs.

Delson Railroad Museum Receives Grant of $75,000

Ian Watson, M.P. for Chateauguy - Huntingdon - Laprairie, announced today that the Treasury Board has authorized a $75,000.00 contribution by the Department of the Secretary of State to the Canadian Railroad Historical Association Museum project at Delson, County Laprairie, P.Q.

This sum is to be paid in three installments with $25,000 to be paid immediately and the remaining two $25,000.00 instalments to be paid in the fiscal years 1967-68 and 1968-69.

Mr. Watson indicated that this special grant had been made by the Department of the Secretary of State because the Railway Museum at Delson is the largest and most significant such museum in Canada, in fact in North America, and consequently is of national interest and importance. This contribution, together with donations from corporations and individuals, will provide the museum with a second urgently needed exhibits building. Completion of this second building will enable the museum to place all of its unique collection of historic locomotives and cars under cover, where they can be readily preserved and dramatically displayed.

Canadian Sports A Two-Faced Coin

By Russ Faughnan

Two separate events occurred in the Canadian sports world last week. Apparently unrelated, there is a relation which graphically illustrates the two-faced nature of professional sports.

On the one hand, it was heartening to see the wonderful response to last Saturday's Jackie Robinson Day. The reaction to a casual suggestion by a radio caller was unbelievable. Within minutes, switchboards were alive with calls supporting the idea. Within hours, a committee of supposedly hard hearted businessmen had been organized to support and run the show. When the man of the day accepted that all benefits go to a scholarship fund, it drove such a rough, tough man as Herb Trawick to tears. It doesn't matter that the public were paying honour to a sports hero. It doesn't matter that the hero was a negro. After all, Jackie Robinson spent less than one year in Montreal and negroes now populate the upper strata of sports stardom. What matters is that the general public, from all levels, were quick to recognize and willing to honour a man truly great, in his time. He has given us much and we try to repay in kind.

And now the other side of the coin. The National Hockey League is a profit-making organization which lays claim to being the supplier of Canada's favourite entertainment. Our national game. In short, what is good for the N.H.L. is good for Canada. Hoo boy! The Carl Brewer case has sure blown that into a cocked hat. Here we have a professional man who decides to leave his chosen profession. He will take up new means of earning his livelihood. In his spare time, he sees a way to help Canada by giving of his talents to our national (amateur) hockey team. Note that as far as our national team is concerned, you are an amateur if you do not earn your living from the sport. Can Mister Brewer donate his services to Canada? Not if the N.H.L. has anything to say about it. And certainly not if Punch Imlack of the Maple Leafs has anything to say about it. How would you like to be told that you cannot earn a living with any firm other than the one for whom you now work? A little ridiculous isn't it? And not a little sad.

fined for helping themselves to the apples. Welcome home to our daughter Lynn, who got home Monday night from her stay at the Montreal Children's Hospital. She'll be on crutches for 2 or 3 weeks and then she should be as good as new. It's wonderful to have her home again.

A very happy birthday to our son Ricky who will be the ripe old age of 10 on September 17.

Wedding

BAILEY — McDONALD

A wedding of much local interest took place recently in St. Andrew's United Church, Chateauguay Basin, when Jill Pamela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald of the Heights became the bride of Alan G. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bailey, Colonia.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Howard Fraser and Mr. David Smith presided at the organ. White and yellow gladioli were used to decorate the Church and the guest pews were tied with white satin bows.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white organza over taffeta on Empire lines, having a scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves with inserts of lace. The waistline was trimmed with appliques of lace and the full skirt fell into a chapel train at the back. Her three tiered veil of tulle illusion was centered with a rose of peau-de-soie and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Dorothy Yarnell as maid-of-honour, wore a gown of yellow nylon over taffeta, floor length and with appliques of white lace around the waist and in two panels down the back to the end of the short train. Her headdress was a short veil of yellow tulle illusion centered with a yellow chrysanthemum and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white Shasta daisies.

Mr. Bernard Keenan was best man for the groom and the ushers were Mr. Brian Bailey, the groom's brother and Mr. John O'Hanley.

Mrs. McDonald, mother of the bride, wore a suit of antique white silk brocade.

Sunday started another year of Christian education in the Church, through the Church School and mid-week groups. Church Schools meets Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. with classes in the Church, and Hall, and spilling over into the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Marlin and Mr. and Mrs. Kittleson. During the 11:00 a.m. Worship Service little tots are being cared for at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin, just across from the church. Mrs. John Menzies is responsible for supervision of these children, if there is anyone able to lend a hand occasionally, please call Mrs. Menzies at 691-2574.

Much leadership is still required — that is for mid-week groups, as C.G.I.T. and Explorers, Jr. and Intermediate Choirs. Are you sitting on a little free time and talent? If you haven't been approached, do give Rev. Gould a call at 691-0425.

Senior Choir meets for practice every Wednesday Evening at 8:00 p.m. Please men, why waste all that talent in the shower? There is loads of room for everyone who enjoys music and likes to sing. Thursday, September 29th, at 8:00 p.m. an Official Board meeting is planned. This is a very important meeting, so

The Parish Education Committee is still short-staffed. It is possible there will be no classes at certain levels, if leaders are not found. If you would like to try your hand with one of the classes please contact the Church at 692-0911. Registration for classes is on Sunday Sept. 18th and 25th before and after 9:30 and 11.15 a.m. services.

The Bus now operates for the 9:30 service only. If the demand is there, the bus will be re-instated for the 11.15 service.

Choirmaster John Foster would like to have some tenors and basses offer their services. Practice is on Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Church. For the Junior Choir, Mr. Foster would be happy to audition boys aged seven and over. They must be able to read, and willing to learn.

Parents of young people, Grade 7 and over, wishing to be confirmed, are asked to phone the Church Office 692-0911 on Tuesday or Thursday mornings between 10 a.m. and 12 noon.

The W.A. will sponsor an evening, Sept. 21st at 8 p.m., of a travel talk, packing demonstration and film by KLM with Miss Jean Glasco as commentator. There is no admission fee and all ladies are welcome. Location: Church Hall.

St. Andrew's Notes

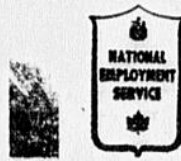

by Fergus Horsburgh

Last Sunday's sermon was entitled "The Church and the World."

Hymns "All Praise to our Redeeming Lord"; "Take Time to be Holy"; "Jesus, With Thy Church Abide"; and the children's hymn "When Mothers of Salem", were sung.

The Choir sang a choral anthem by Norman J. Clayton, "He Holds My Hand."

A welcome back to all families was extended and new families were invited to come and worship at St. Andrew's. Those who visited in other Churches during vacation were asked to post bulletins of out-of-town churches on the board in the Hall corridor.

Editorial Notes..

The Fate of The Commonwealth

WE are living in bewildering times in this age, an age to which we have not become accustomed.

We are witnessing this within the British Commonwealth of Nations and there is great danger that the last bulwark of the British Empire will crumble as a result.

Great Britain is in a bad way at this time, but the fate of the Commonwealth means much as to her recovery.

Canada can be deeply affected by any disintegration within the Commonwealth and our Prime Minister Pearson is doing all he can at a meeting of Commonwealth Prime Ministers to present further losses that may lead to other members pulling away.

The Integration of Canada's Armed Forces

WHEN this matter was first mooted several years ago we expressed doubts as to the outcome. As the zero hour approaches, these doubts are being founded.

At this time, when the moment is near for a one force armed defence, dissonance is being heard from all sides.

After finishing his game of bowls. Later

Measures used to date have failed to have the desired result and Rhodesia seems to be gaining in strength rather than decreasing.

A lot of this unrest stems from the smaller nations seeking their own independence under leaders of their own kind.

Many of the smaller nations are misguided and do not fully realize the benefits to be obtained while under the larger rule of influence.

If all these moves could be seen as an improvement, it would be necessary to ston them. But we have had plenty of evidence that such moves have led to suffering and deprivation for the masses and thus to revolutionary uprisings.

Our most difficult problem at the moment lies in Africa. History tells us that the fate of the Commonwealth lies in the balance.

thrilling episodes are the Battle of the Atlantic, the rescue at Dunkirk and the D-Day attack which brought about the defeat of the Germans in World War II.

Is all this to be buried under a one named, one uniformed force with a single identity? Defence Minister Paul Hellyer is determined to go ahead with his full plan and if he succeeds it will mean goodbye to the Armed Forces as we know them today.

We still feel this needs grave and considerable investigation before proceeding with the actuality.

Part 6 The building of a church was begun in 1839 on lot 8, 2nd con. it was a plain frame building and the congregation was only able to enclose it.

St. Anicet first became known as Dalhousie Settlement, where some dozen French Canadian families settled along the banks of the St. Lawrence the earliest being Genier.

Antoine Bouthillier had received a grant of land west of Lac Beauport in 1820, came one, Duncane McNichol from Glengary. He had landed there a year before.

In 1822, the settlement got an important addition in Donald Rankin who came from Argyleshire, with a large family of sons.

Counter Measures Against Inflation

WE have said in this column that we feared that unless counter measures are taken we could be in the throes of a depression following the close of Expo 67.

It is possible if measures are not taken to ward off the pressure, it will be hard to prevent a recession. What we fear is the tremendous build-up that is being given Expo and the amount of extra work and buying this is causing.

The above, together with the various general living expenses and wage spirals, is sending prices of everything up and causing an inflationary period to exist.

Dear Fellow Parents: Ask not, for whom the bell tolls... It tolls for thee and me...

May I be facetious for a moment and take liberties with this otherwise fine statement and say - Please consider this a "call to arms" re - home work

Apparently, the more important aspect of writing method is completely forgotten in this feverish attempt to load more and more books on the child.

If you "ask the teacher", the answer will be we don't make the rules - what can we do - only what "they" tell us in Quebec - This illusive "They" is very difficult to reach and if you do, be sure you are able to speak French.

So who is left to re-vamp this deplorable situation, where parents must be seen and not heard, at a meeting? These new fangled books of Grade I and II should be thrown out. A Sixty Mile Zone

When we had covered some three quarters of the distance between Huntingdon and Havelock, we were on Route 52 on September 10, we were "flashed down" by a Provincial Traffic Officer, who, in effect, politely, but nevertheless firmly, informed our driver that since we were in a 60 mile zone he must increase his speed.

Up to that point our driver, Gilbert Macmillan had been averaging a some 35 mile

On April 21, 1820, there sailed down the Firth of Clyde a small ship bound for Canada, her passengers were weavers, shepherds, farm laborers, mostly from Lancashire who determined to come to seek their fortunes in a free land.

speed, and we had thereby been able to observe the scenery, particularly the orchards. Moreover, except at one or another of the several narrow curves, at no time, and they only briefly, had there been a car immediately behind us.

While it appeared that there was the usual large numbers in the areas beyond the cattle grounds, it seemed that fewer people than usual passed by or tarried to look at the cattle and the showing thereof, although the benches at the ring, sides were always well filled. A lot of the old time faces were missing. The Saddle and on the Halter horse classes were judged nearby the cattle show and it seemed that "Old Master", Donald Black, had quite a heavy chore as the horse judge.

At the time of Havelock Fair, J. Earle Ness kindly gave us a few notes about the Ayrshire Show at this year's Quebec Provincial Exposition, at which event his son Robert E. exhibited a group from the

The trouble with travelling

We did a fair amount of color to your trip Black and travelling this summer. There's blue. Prices are fairly reasonable. I left from it but a pileable now, with family rates of travel folders and 12 which include meals. The equal monthly payments at latter, while adequate, are a

First of all, don't wish, just do it. If you wait until you can afford a trip you'll be too old to enjoy it. There's nothing more pitiful than those tottering old wrecks you'll see on any cruise, who have put off "The Trip" until the children are grown, the mortgage is paid and Dad has retired.

It's easy, almost frighteningly easy, to take a trip without money. Railroads, airlines and shipping companies are only too happy to take you to Tambuktu on the never-never plan.

Just forget about that new dishwasher or wallpaper and sign on the dotted line. Your friendly travel agent will loan you a pen. By the way, it's a good idea to plan your trip through a travel agent. There's no charge as he's paid by the air-rail-hotel people. Also, it's reassuring when you arrive in a strange city at midnight, to be able to wave that reservation in the desk clerk's face, even though it's for the wrong date.

How to get there? If it's a long haul, and your time is limited, and your legs are short, flying is your best bet. It's dull, cramped, the baggage handling is little short of sadism, and there's always a long ride into town from the airport, for which you pay. But, you're there in a hurry.

Trains are lurchy and rather slow, but you can relax. There's nothing like a stroll through a train to add some Scotch party appeared. He was glad for company and quickly helped them to put up a shelter with their belongings, boxes, blankets, spread out with a roof of boughs on poles. Having cooked a supper, they all lay down to rest for the night. Bullard offered to keep a watch. They were deeply touched by the friendliness of the big black man or the woods, who seemed to know every kind of the bush. They awoke early in the morning soaking wet. The sun was shining brightly as they gazed up into the mighty trees that stood thickly all around. They were overawed at these great giants of the forest, as they reached their stately tops up into the blue sky.

Bullard guided them to a stream going into the Laguerre. It may have been the creek at Rutherford's as it led into the Laguerre. So with canoes and rafts he led them down to the St. Lawrence River. As it was raining and late, he decided to make camp for the night. There was land for all.

There's only one thing wrong with travelling. It costs you the shirt right off your back. Best way around this is to steal a credit card belonging to Joe P. McGlutch and sign for everything. If this not feasible, the only alternative is to sell your wife and children into slavery. Either way, it's worth it. Now, have a happy, happy trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Frier Celebrate 40th Anniversary

Seventy-five friends and relatives gathered at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Frier, Davidson, Sask., recently for an informal lawn party to celebrate the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Frier.

The afternoon was spent reminiscing with many old friends and neighbors. A buffet supper was served by their daughter, Mrs. Ernest Johnson and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lorne Frier, who were assisted by several close friends of the family.

The highlight of the afternoon was the presence of Mr. Lorne Frier and his wife Jenny from Montreal, who had flown out for the week-end just to be on hand for the happy occasion. This was his first trip west and a complete surprise for Roland and Ethel.

BELL LINES

by Laurent Bourchard.
your telephone manager

I mentioned in Bell Lines last month how Canadians today seem to have taken to the open road to travel and enjoy their own country during vacation time. It remains to be seen if we are becoming a nation of people on the move, for more than ever people seem to move from one community to another, or to different homes within a community. To former generations who seemed to look upon moving as a chore to be undertaken only when absolutely necessary we must seem like a nation of Arabs who fold our tents and steal away — constantly it not stealthily. Why, in my 11 years with Bell Canada I have been transferred in my work 5 times. So I know many of the things that can make a move go more easily and smoothly. The telephone just about heads the list. Before a move the telephone seems in constant use, helping us to speedily check on the hundreds of last-minute chores. On arriving at our new home, the telephone is almost the first thing we need, to again save time establishing ourselves in a new community. I'd wear myself out running all the errands that the telephone does so effortlessly and quickly. We at Bell Canada know what a help the telephone can be at moving time and do our best to install your telephone as quickly as possible.

Although it may take our Installer only a few minutes to get your telephone in working order the "behind the scenes" details require much planning. Considerable work must also be done in our switching units to provide you with this taken-for-granted service. Please, give us a call just as soon as you know when and where you will be moving. That way we can plan our work, clear up all the details and avoid any delay in serving you in your new address.

Any time that you have a question concerning your telephone service I hope that you will either drop by our Business Office when you are in Valleyfield and see one of our Service Representatives or give her a call from your home or office. She is especially trained to help you with any problem whether it's an application for new telephone service, a question about your telephone bill, changes in your existing telephone arrangement or any other help you might need. All of us at Bell Canada are interested in your complete satisfaction with any transaction involving your telephone service. Just let us know when we can be of help.

On her fourth birthday a little girl came running into the house calling, "Mommy, did I get a phone call?" Mother, a little surprised, said, "Why no, were you expecting one?" "Well no," said Miss Grownup, "But I'm four years old now, so I think it's about time somebody called me up." Isn't it about time that you called somebody — in town or out of town? There must be lots of people who would love to hear the sound of your voice. Now.

65th Birthday Party
Mrs. Ernest Salter was surprised during the week-end when her family gathered to help her celebrate her 65th birthday. The following account is in Mrs. Salter's own words. "On Friday a car drove up with a big trailer at the back. I did not know who it was until a boy came running toward me and I recognized Connie's youngest boy. With open arms he greeted me "Hi, Gran". Soon the whole family embarked. I was expecting marriage, her son and Bob, came from Scotland who has been staying with her this summer. I began to wonder how I would house such a number when I noticed their tent in the car. This informed me that Elsie and Uncle Bud were also coming to make a long stay short of my sons and daughter, and their families arrived making a total of 30 and all four extra making 34 in all. I got hugged and kissed until I was dizzy.

When the party started on Saturday at 8 p.m. it was also Eric's birthday. He arrived, one Sunday 46 years ago just in time to keep me home from church. The children went to Sunday School as usual and they said to Miss Agnes Paul, who was their teacher, "This is mother's birthday and what do you think she got for a present."

Returning to the party it was started by putting me in a special chair beside a table and everyone lined up with their gift. This was well planned and I got some lovely presents, including a wrist watch from Elsie and her husband. Then Connie's husband set up the screen and showed several movies taken last summer. Some were very funny indeed. Refreshments were served including turkey, ham, salads, cookies and squares and a birthday cake for me. There were about ten candles in the centre of it and I blew them all out at once.

Later someone put on a record and the older children danced. Connie played the piano and all stood around her singing the old songs. We had a wonderful time and everyone was happy. No one thought of looking at the clock and when they did it was 2:10 a.m. It was like old times when Dad and I were young.

David took 17 years of love from his parents, first class honours from his school and $8,000 from your pockets.

Then he left.

David left for good. Brilliant high school student dies in car crash said the headline. All that love, all that brilliance, all that money; all gone for nothing.

Automobile accidents kill more young Canadians than anything. More than disease; more than all other accidents put together.

It costs some $8,000 in tax money just to prepare a student for university. A thorough high school driver training program costs $40 per student, and takes 50 hours of instruction. Small costs against the losses.

The automobile insurance industry promotes young driver training. Bursaries, text books and free instruction are given to high school teachers. They in turn teach the students.

The industry also awards cash discounts on auto insurance premiums to students who pass the course.

Driver training isn't a frill. School boards with experience know it's a proven method of reducing accidents. Urge and back high school driver training in your community.

won fourth prize in a class of 22, while the class of 27 cows, 3 years and over, included the 14th prize winner from Terrace Bank and the tenth prize winner for Archie Roy, Howick.

As already mentioned the first prize winner in a class of 14 was the Burnside-bred Burnside Gardenia.

Terrace Bank also won sixth prize in the Breeders Heifer class in which there were 16 cows in competition. "All in all," said Earl Ness, "it was really a wonderful show, with a large enthusiastic audience at the ringside."

The C.N.E. J. Earle Ness also showed a newspaper report of the Burnside Show at this year's Canadian National Exhibition was noted that while 13 animals were entered in the individual classes, only 65 head were on exhibit, apparently largely due to the fact that exhibitors were obligated to stay here for a period of some 14 days. And in that connection, it would appear that the other dairy breeds were similarly affected.

With an entry of only nine head the prize winnings of the Burnside Ayrshire herd of R. R. Ness and Sons Ltd., Howick, Que., included first prize on yearling bull, first on 2 year old heifer and third on 3 year old heifer, in addition to first in Breeders Heifer, and the Premier Exhibitor Award. That firm was also the runner up for the Premier Breeder Award, in virtue of not only their own showings but as well because of Burnside-bred animals winning for other exhibitors.

Roland Ness who was also a spectator at Havlock Fair, and the managed Burnside's exhibit at the C.N.E., informed us that the highlight of the Ayrshire Show at that event was the winning of the C.N.E. In-bred Best Udder Class by Burnside-bred Alfalfa 6th, a cow that owned by Wm. G. Reid of Reid's Ayrshire Farm (formerly Ann Brae Farm), Ashburn, Ont. He said that despite the heavy competition by the Holstein entries, the other three dairy breeds edged out same, with the Ayrshire entry in first place, two Guernseys in second and third places and a Jersey in fourth place.

Athelstan

Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor of Athelstan, Quebec had a very enjoyable flight to New Brunswick and attended the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Ann to Mr. B.J. Cunningham. They visited St. John's, Batwood, Gander and Grand Falls. A trip to the outposts on Herring Neck and Twillingate Island was a pleasant experience. Women's Institute Meetings

Franklin W.I.

Our meeting for this month was held at the home of Mrs. H. Steele on Tuesday evening, August 30th. Mrs. H. Frier presiding.

The roll call was answered by a parade of aprons by 10 members.

Plans for the booth at Havelock fair were completed. Plans were made for the next meeting when we will entertain the county president and the other branches. The secretary will be extending the invitations by phone.

We are pleased to welcome a new member, Mrs. Percy Sutton, to our branch.

The conveners' reports were heard and there being no further business the meeting was adjourned and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Ormsdown W.I.

The September meeting of the Ormsdown W.I. was held in the Senior Citizen's club rooms, on Tuesday, September 6th., at 2 p.m., the president Mrs. J. McKell, presiding.

The meeting opened with the Ode followed by the Collect, 16 members and 1 visitor were present, and responded to the roll call with "Handy aids for a sick room."

A letter of thanks from Mr. W. Rember for flowers sent his deceased wife, our past president, was read.

The treasurer reported on proceeds of the Food Sale held recently $21.30, also the balance on hand of $98.50.

As at the October 4 meeting we entertain the staff of Ormsdown High School and the R.C. schools with Miss Doris Clark, C.J.A.D., commentator as guest speaker, it was decided that we ask a representative of members from the neighbouring branch W.I.'s to be our guests and listen to Miss Clark's address. Huntingdon W.I.

The September meeting of the Huntingdon W.I. was held on Tuesday, September 6th., at the home of Mrs. Mildred Helm with 14 ladies present. Meeting conducted by Mrs. Ferry, President. Roll call was answered by naming a Canadian University and its location. It was noted that the Laura Rose Stephen Scholarship had been awarded to Miss Jessie Fraser of Dundee, who will enter Macdonald College to take the Home Economics Course. Mrs. Stephen and her sister Miss Annie Rose were instrumental in starting the Huntingdon Branch of W.I. and until their deaths continued to have a keen interest in the work. At her death Mrs. Stephen left a sum of $2,000.00 to be used as the Laura Rose Stephen Scholarship and to be awarded to a Huntingdon Scholar entering Home Economics. Congratulations and good wishes for future success to Jessie.

It was agreed to present a plant to Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Middlemiss on the occasion of their 50th Wedding Anniversary. A card was signed by all present to be sent to a grand old man, Mr. J. J. Alexander on his 100th birthday.

Agriculture. Program notes from a New Zealand Branch. Chemical preparations are dangerous to children. Such chemicals should always be well marked and directions carefully followed and containers kept out of the reach of children.

Home Economics. Each Branch is requested to enter six pieces of handwork for 1967 Convention.

Publicity. Reported on an all Negro Branch started in Acaciaville, N.S. and the group has already identified itself with a number of worthy projects. Also a report on the N.W.T. Institutes. One branch is at Reindeer Station, along the MacKenzie River, 25 miles South of the Arctic Ocean. So the W.I. is continually reaching out.

Welfare and Health. Gave an interesting report on "A Lab on Wheels". This is run by Miss Hardy who finds the work very rewarding although strenuous. Her days are long as she rises at 5 p.m. and it is usually 9.30 P.M. before she retires. During these hours she visits many patients over an extensive territory.

Plans were made for a Rummage Sale to be held in the near future. All members are asked to keep this in mind and gather goods of all sorts suitable for the Sale.

It was noted that there were 04 classes at the Huntingdon Fair for children's entries and only four had no entries. There was a splendid display.

An interesting discussion on "The Status of Canadian Women" was given by Mesdames A. Evans F. Olney and Miss Turner, with Mrs. Ferry as questioner. A good quiz "Jumbled Canadian Cities" was enjoyed and Mrs. Carl Anderson had a perfect score, followed by Mrs. C. Reid in second place.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Reid when a Pot Luck Dinner will be held at 11.30. All members requested to be present, and are reminded to bring jams and jellies for County Hospital and parcels for the Prize Bazaar. Meeting closed with the Mizpah. A bountiful Salad Supper was served by the hostesses.

One member passed along this timely word.

PARTY LINE
(By Helen Hawthorn)

A little consideration I feel should always be shown by all the parties who happen to share, a mutual telephone.

In the past, I have been patient. Now I am fed up and balking. For THEY cut in the whole day long, while I am busy talking.

Citizenship spoke of the Women's Institute group of Acaciaville, N.S. the only all Negro group in Canada formed in 1964. Since that time talks, demonstrations, classes in rug making and sewing were well attended. A variety concert was also put on by the women using their own talent. This was so well attended that W.I. was asked to repeat it in their own church. It was as one lady remarked "that through working closely together, we got to know one another better and to help Negroes in nearby communities to come to us for counsel and advice."

The meeting closed with the National Anthem after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses Mesdames Martin, Smallman and Arthur and a social hour enjoyed.

Home Economics. Each Branch is requested to enter six pieces of handwork for 1967 Convention.

Publicity. Reported on an all Negro Branch started in Acaciaville, N.S. and the group has already identified itself with a number of worthy projects. Also a report on the N.W.T. Institutes. One branch is at Reindeer Station, along the MacKenzie River, 25 miles South of the Arctic Ocean. So the W.I. is continually reaching out.

Welfare and Health. Gave an interesting report on "A Lab on Wheels". This is run by Miss Hardy who finds the work very rewarding although strenuous. Her days are long as she rises at 5 p.m. and it is usually 9.30 P.M. before she retires. During these hours she visits many patients over an extensive territory.

Plans were made for a Rummage Sale to be held in the near future. All members are asked to keep this in mind and gather goods of all sorts suitable for the Sale.

It was noted that there were 04 classes at the Huntingdon Fair for children's entries and only four had no entries. There was a splendid display.

An interesting discussion on "The Status of Canadian Women" was given by Mesdames A. Evans F. Olney and Miss Turner, with Mrs. Ferry as questioner. A good quiz "Jumbled Canadian Cities" was enjoyed and Mrs. Carl Anderson had a perfect score, followed by Mrs. C. Reid in second place.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Reid when a Pot Luck Dinner will be held at 11.30. All members requested to be present, and are reminded to bring jams and jellies for County Hospital and parcels for the Prize Bazaar. Meeting closed with the Mizpah. A bountiful Salad Supper was served by the hostesses.

One member passed along this timely word.

PARTY LINE
(By Helen Hawthorn)

A little consideration I feel should always be shown by all the parties who happen to share, a mutual telephone.

In the past, I have been patient. Now I am fed up and balking. For THEY cut in the whole day long, while I am busy talking.

MANDZIUK — CLIFFORD

The marriage of Miss Joan Clifford of honour, and Miss Violet Mandziuk as bridesmaid were in pink floor length peau-de-soie gowns with scooped bodices and trains falling from their shoulders. Their shoulder length veils of pink tulle illusion were held by two peau-de-soie roses and lilies of the valley. They carried cascade bouquets of white Shasta daisies and pink carnations. Miss Colleen Dack, as flower girl, wore a short pale yellow organza dress trimmed with small rosettes. She carried a basket of Shasta daisies and carnations. Her headband was of miniature yellow mums. The page boy was Master Michael Ewasin, nephew of the groom.

Mrs. Ron Mykyte was best man. The ushers were Mr. Wilfred Pawluk, Mr. Victor Ewasin and Mr. Ernest Zielenki.

Mrs. Clifford, mother of the bride, was in a blue lace suit, worn with a blue picture hat, matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Mandziuk, mother of the groom, wore a light blue gown under a matching

Wedding

GATES-HADLEY

At Toronto, Ont., on Saturday, August 6th., 1966, at 3 o'clock, in the chapel of St. Andrews United Church officiated by the Rev. Z. Bruce Hunter, the marriage took place of Hazel Catherine Hadley, daughter of Charles Hadley and the late Mrs. Hadley, Hemmingford, to Wilfred Aling Gates, son of the late Douglas L. Gates Waymouth, N.S. and Mrs. Cora Gates Lancaster (St. John) N.B.

The bride wore an eggshell ensemble of silk shantung with matching hat, hand rolled, bubble style in French melene with rose detail in back, blonde accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. T. Richard McCabe, Scarborough, Ont. Mrs. McCabe was dressed in blue linen with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white shattered carnations.

Following dinner at "The Inn On The Park", the happy couple left by motor for the New England States and Cape Cod, also visiting relatives and friends in Hemmingford and Lacolle.

Upon their return they will reside in Toronto, Ont.

Opportunity In Sales
The Gleaner
now has an opening for someone interested in sales work. French or English, male or female, but must have a working knowledge of the two languages. Driver's license a necessity. This is an ideal opportunity for a youth to get into the business world, but an older person with some sales experience would be preferred.
Apply in writing only to:

SCHOOLS' OPEN

GOT A LITTLE GIRL?

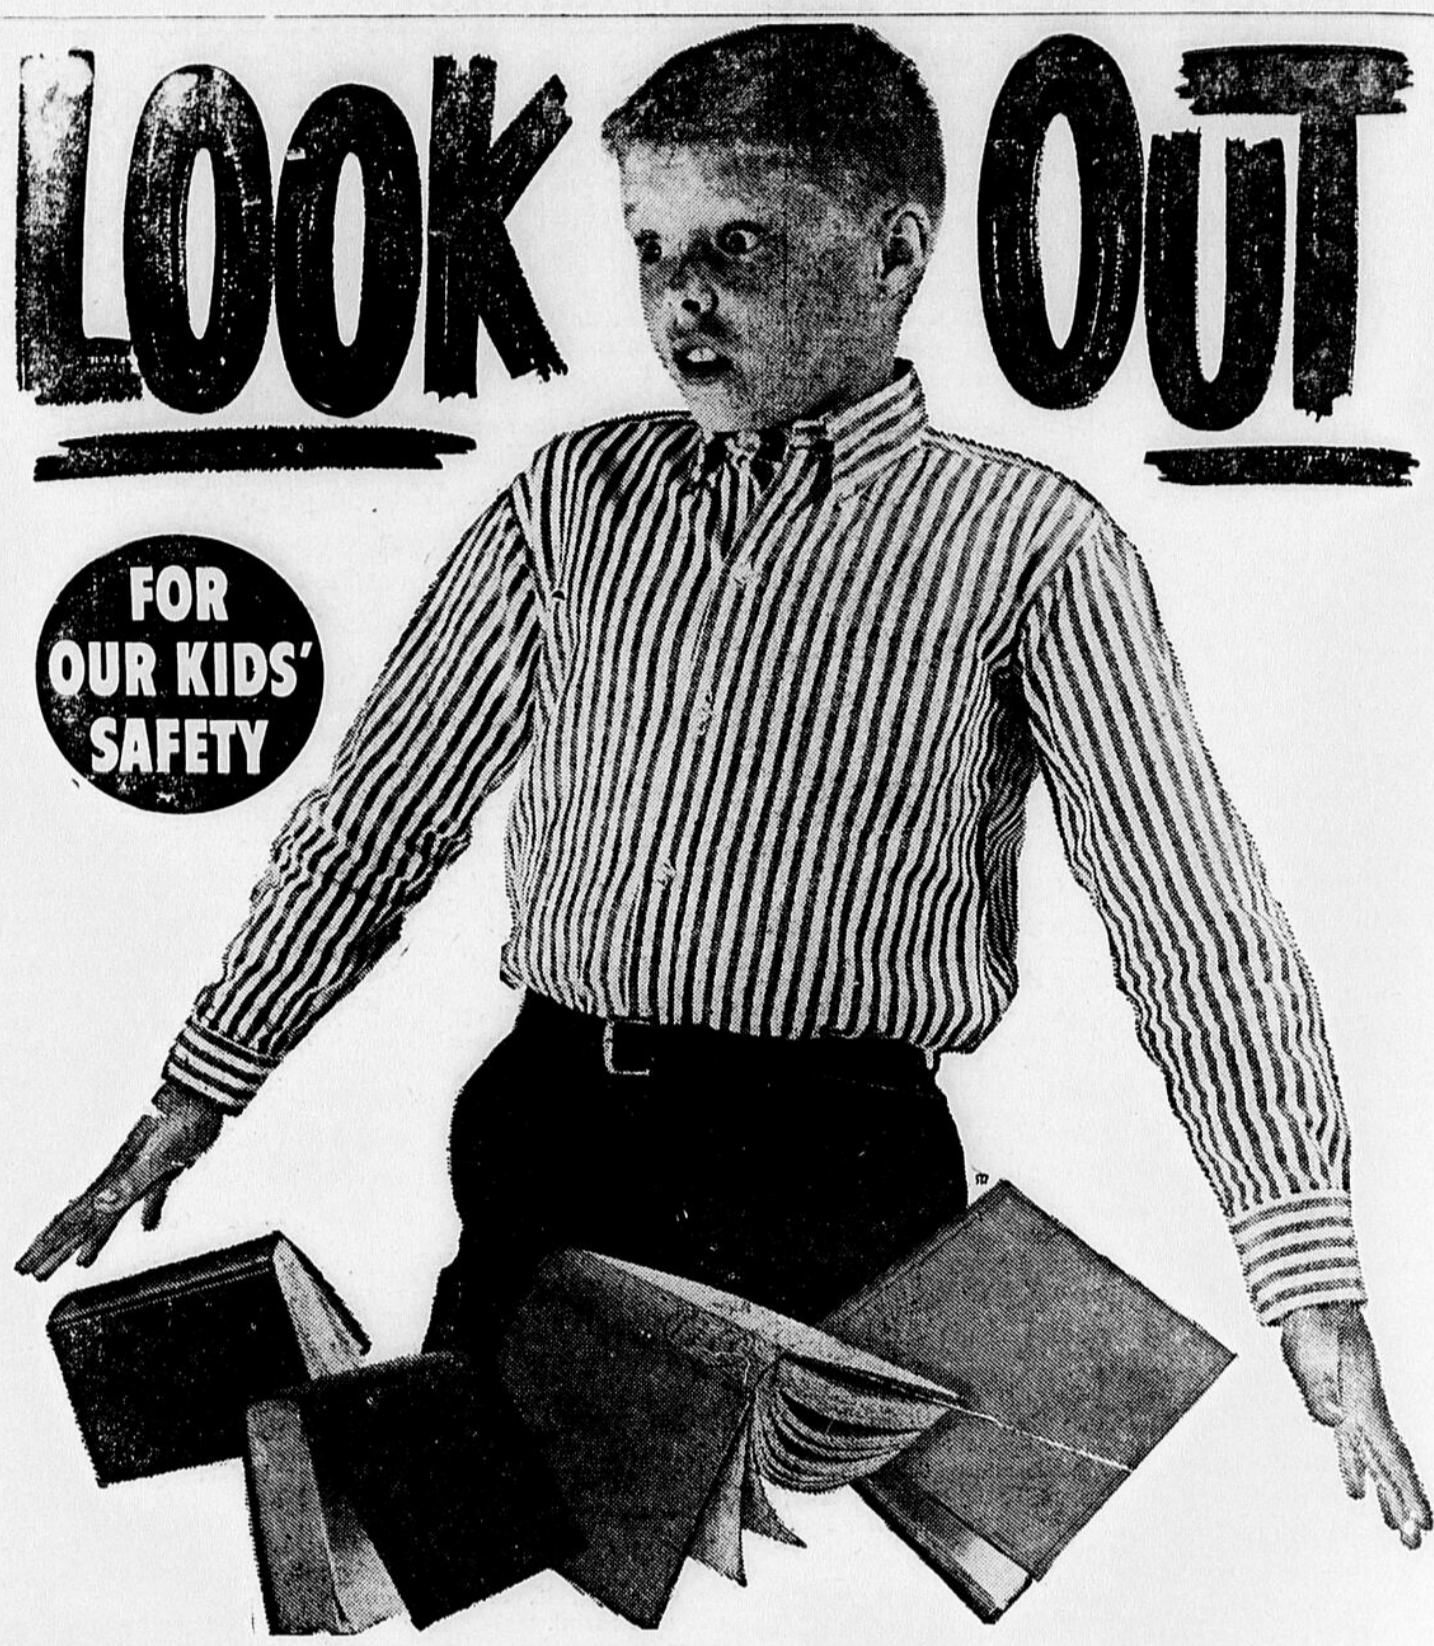

Little Girls, an full of fun, a lot of comfort and a lot of trouble. They're coy, they're tempestuous and unpredictable. They will steal your heart by putting their arms around your neck

GOT A LITTLE BOY?

Little boys are full of vim, vigor and vinegar. They're early risers, soap detesters, lovers of dirty jeans. They will capture your heart when they boast about "my pop"

LOOK OUT

FOR OUR KIDS' SAFETY

WE URGE YOU TO BE CAREFUL AND DRIVE WITH CARE

BECAUSE LITTLE BOYS AND LITTLE GIRLS SOMETIMES FORGET TO LOOK. SO WITH SCHOOL STARTED DRIVE WITH EXTREME CARE.
