Mortgage rates

Hope slim for reduction

By JOHN E. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—Works Minister Walker says no one would be more delighted than he to be able to reduce the interest rate on National Housing Act mortgages.

But he told the Commons Thursday during debate of his department's 1961-62 spending estimates that there is little hope of such action in the immediate future.

Mr. Walker was replying to Liberal housing critic J. R. Garland who said the current rate of 6 1/2 per cent on NHA mortgages is placing a "tremendous burden" on home owners.

Mr. Garland, member for Nipissing, said he saw some hope for a decline in the NHA rate in the government's "change of heart" on economic policy—an obvious reference to Finance Minister Fleming's hint Wednesday of expansionist lines in Tuesday night's budget.

Mr. Walker said the NHA rate is based on the yield on long-term government bonds. Under the National Housing Act—"as framed by a Liberal government"—the yield could not be more than 2 1/2 per cent above long-term government bonds. COULD BE 7 1/2

"The present long-term yield on government bonds is approximately 5 1/2 per cent," the minister said. "Therefore, the maximum NHA rate under the rule promulgated by the late Liberal government could be 7 1/2 per cent."

"However, under our government the present rate is 6 1/2 per cent and is considered to be the lowest competitive rate compared with other bonds and industrial yields."

The government's April 17 decision to adjust the NHA rate twice yearly should keep the rate in relation to other yields. "There is no one in Canada who would be more delighted to make it possible to reduce interest rates on NHA loans than myself," Mr. Walker said.

LA PAZ Bolivia. — (AP)—United States Ambassador Adlai Stevenson flies to Peru today after a night of rioting in Bolivia's capital in which four leftist demonstrators were slain and five wounded. Extra troops and police were ordered out for his visit in Lima to prevent violence there.

The violence that flared in scattered sections of La Paz Thursday was not anti-Stevenson and he was not directly involved in it. Although there were shouts of "down with Yankee imperialism," the leftist demonstrations were timed to embarrass President Victor Paz Estenssoro during the visit by President Kennedy's special envoy.

In Lima, the guard was doubled at U.S. Embassy buildings and an extra 500 police and troops, 150 plainclothesmen and 50 motorized policemen were mustered for Stevenson's visit. A Communist student leader threatened a "better reception" for Stevenson than the stoning that greeted Vice-President Richard Nixon in Lima during his 1958 tour of Latin America. TALKS WERE SHIFTED

The fighting in La Paz broke out when police tried to turn back a crowd of 200 marching on the presidential palace to protest the detention of persons arrested last week when the government claimed it had broken up a Communist plot. The demonstrators thought Stevenson and the president were meeting at the palace, but their talk had been shifted to Paz Estenssoro's residence at the last minute.

The police used tear gas and clubs on the crowd, and then shooting broke out. The police claimed they began shooting only after the demonstrators opened fire first with revolvers. It was the second violence of Stevenson's tour, which now has covered seven of the 10 capitals he is visiting. In Santiago, Chile, about 30 leftist youths smashed windows of the U.S. information agency. In Montevideo, Uruguay, leftist youths held an anti-U.S. rally but there was no violence.

Laos hopes dwindling

GENEVA — (Reuters)—Western delegates assembled here today for the 18th session of the 14-nation conference on Laos with hopes dwindling for an early peace settlement in the Indochinese kingdom.

French delegates Jean Chauvel was expected to reply to Communist criticisms of French proposals for insuring the neutrality of the troubled kingdom. The proposals have the support of American delegate Averell Harriman, who charged Thursday that almost daily the Soviet Union has been airlifting supplies from Communist North Viet Nam to strongholds of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces in Laos.

Skeletons found

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—Dr. L. S. B. Leakey, curator of Nairobi's Coryndon Museum, Thursday announced the discovery of Tanganyika's Olduvai Gorge of two giant prehistoric skeletons. He said the almost complete skeletons were of a diatherium, a forebear of the elephant which lived about 500,000 years ago, and a 12-foot-tall ostrich well over 600,000 years old.

Budget deficit tabled

Free-spending Canadian consumer

Fatter wallets helped the economy

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian consumers with their fatter wallets, bigger demands and freer spending helped bolster the economy last year at a time when things might have gone badly, the government said today.

Finance Minister Fleming's pre-budget white paper, tabled in the Commons, made clear that higher expenditures at various levels of government and a record year for exports also had much to do with sustaining the economy.

Still, the consumer gets much of the credit. He made more money than in 1959—a picture true even of farmers. He also paid more taxes, but there still was more cash left over. Personal savings dipped slightly.

Against this background, and in a year when prices of goods and services showed their smallest year-to-year gain since 1955, the consumer increased his spending.

He bought more food, more clothing, more new cars, liquor, cigarettes, household electricity and gas, while cutting down slightly on outlays for second-hand cars and furniture and appliances.

PRODUCTION ROSE
Such increased consumer spending and bigger shipments of goods to export markets happened while imports—in volume—remained roughly unchanged. The result was that Canada met its own increased demand—and production went up accordingly.

This sustaining of the economy was reflected in a 3.2 per cent rise in the value of all goods and services produced—the gross national product—to $35,959,000,000 from $34,857,000,000 the year before. Mr. Fleming had predicted a rise of six per cent. However, the report called it a year "of special complexity."

"A high level of economic activity was continued; on the other hand there was also a high level of unused capacity, human and material. It is already apparent that there was an unusual conjuncture of economic forces, some of a special nature, others recognizably 'cyclical,' and still others of longer-term character."

The sore spot was unemployment. Over all average employment rose during the year by 1.7 per cent or 100,000 jobs.

Meanwhile the labor force went up by 2.8 per cent or 175,000 persons. Thus, with the labor force rise outstripping the employment gain, the average number of Canadians out of work for 1960 as a whole was 448,000 against 373,000 in 1959.

There also were other factors.

Construction activity was down five per cent, a drop blamed entirely on a 17 per cent decline in house building. An excess capacity described by the report as temporary appeared in some of the raw material industries. There were

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—A federal budget deficit of $345,500,000 in the last fiscal year — the fourth red-ink year in the row—was reported today by Finance Minister Fleming.

The deficit for the year ended March 31 contrasted with the $12,000,000 surplus forecast by the minister in his original budget March 31, 1960.

With the recession, revenues slumped and expenditures jumped from his original predictions and last Dec. 20, in his baby budget, Mr. Fleming changed his forecast to a $286,000,000 deficit.

The story was told in a white paper tabled in the Commons by the minister as the stage-setter for his budget speech next Tuesday night.

The white paper accounts—still preliminary since 1960-61 books aren't yet closed—showed the fourth — highest peacetime deficit on record. The four-year string of deficits since April 1, 1957, totals $1,406,500,000 including the peacetime peak of $609,300,000 in 1958-59.

REVENUES, COSTS, UP
Budgetary revenues climbed six per cent in the year to $5,615,600,000 from $5,289,800,000 the previous year. Expenditures rose five per cent to $5,961,100,000 from $5,702,900,000.

Both were at all-time highs. The economic growth Mr. Fleming predicted 15 months ago didn't materialize. Gross national product registered a below-normal gain of 3.2 per cent to $35,959,000,000 in the 1960 calendar year from $34,857,000,000 in 1959. The minister's March 31 budget last year based on a six-per-cent growth.

Hoped-for tax collections didn't shape up and the government boosted spending in some areas to meet the business slump.

As a result, budget revenues fell $276,400,000 short of his original forecast, $78,400,000 below his baby budget prediction. Expenditures exceeded the figure in his first budget by $81,000,000 though they were $18,900,000 less than the Dec. 20 budget expectation.

The white paper blamed the calendar for playing one trick with the accounts. It said that with the March 31 year — end falling on Good Friday, much of the last-minute rush of income tax returns weren't filed until after the holiday weekend.

It reckoned March revenues were about $400,000,000 below normal and said the year's deficit was that much higher as a result.

FUND HAS SURPLUS
The report also showed that the Old Age Pension Fund, which finances the $55 monthly pensions to all 70 and over, management before making the speech.

Says Cuba invaders made many mistakes

HAVANA (CP)—Fidel Castro says he defeated the Cuban invasion through the strength of his revolutionary movement and mistakes of the invaders.

The Cuban prime minister gave his sum-up of the abortive April 19 invasion in dramatic fashion Thursday, standing at high water mark the invaders reached before they met disaster.

He spoke to reporters and photographers during a day-long tour which he personally led through 300 miles of Cuba. He showed them both the economic projects which he touts as the backbone of his revolution, and the invasion scene in a swampy section of southwestern Cuba.

The two invasion beaches, Playa Largo and Playa Giron, showed few after-effects. At Giron Castro pointed out a crater which he said was caused by a 500-pound bomb from an invading airplane.

Two beach-type cottages showed heavy damage. A number of other buildings in the area still had bullet marks. Castro said many buildings had been repaired. Workmen were

He said that if it were not for mistakes made by the invaders, the force of anti-Castro exiles, his troops would have had a much tougher time.

U.S. shipping strike spreads; threatens to tie up industry

NEW YORK (AP)—A Maritime strike spread from port to port today and threatened to paralyze most of the 990-ship merchant marine in the United States unless a settlement is quickly reached.

More than 80,000 officers and unlicensed crew members sailing out of east, west and gulf coast ports were affected.

Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg, who was sent here Thursday by President Kennedy, planned new efforts today to settle the contract dispute between shipping companies and the seven striking unions.

The 70,000 union members on strike include deck officers, engineer officers, radio officers, unlicensed deck and engine room crew members and steward department workers.

Members of the striking unions man the bulk of the passenger ships, tankers, dry cargo ships and other seagoing craft flying the American flag. Their no-contract-no-work strike began last midnight when contracts expired.

Picket lines were set up at piers in the vast port of New York and in some other ports. No American-flag luxury liner was docked in New York when the strike began.

A number of seagoing unions with an estimated 10,000 members were not on strike because their contracts have not expired. But many of the ships they were on were expected to be immobilized — because a nonstriking crew can't sail a ship without a captain, engineer, a radio officer.

Ships at sea will not be affected until they reach American ports.

Joseph Curran, president of the big national maritime union, said support of the strike has been pledged by the International Longshoremen's Association, the Teamsters union, union oil workers and central labor councils in 30 ports.

At Goldberg's urging, negotiations between the seven striking unions and ship company representatives continued for a while after the midnight contract extensions pending further talks.

No time was set for resumption of negotiations. Both sides said they would stand subject to call by Goldberg or by each other.

A major issue in the dispute is the union demand for a right to organize and represent the crews of American-owned ships that fly so-called "flags of convenience." Most of these 450 ships are tankers registered under the flags of Liberia, Panama and Honduras.

The unions generally have been willing to forego wage increases if other major demands were met. Demands include issues such as vacations, shorter work week, more time off, subsistence improvements and severance pay.

NEW YORK (AP)—One thing rather diverting series. And although Perry Como's see on TV look as though they are a change from the usual Wednesday night variety hour on NBC.

Wednesday night's premier program of Mystery Theatre was, in fact, a neat and meticulous demonstration of a clever and comparatively nonviolent way to rob a bank.

Perry's substitutes are British films edited down to an hour's length, and Wednesday night not a gun was fired and only one person (the bank's night watchman) got caught.

Judging from the first film sample, this promises to be a

The Professionals, the kickoff show, told how a gang of thieves broke into an underground bank vault and grabbed the equivalent of $250,000 before they got caught.

The late-evening PM series starring Mike Wallace, designed to provide some fresh competition for late movies and the Jack Parr show, got off to a rather limping start this week.

Meanwhile, ABC, reported to be interested in picking up the series for its network come fall, said they had turned the taped series down.

Wallace is ably assisted by Toronto's Joyce Davidson.

NBC will run a repeat broadcast of The Accomplice, an hour long dramatic show next Monday night (10-11), mostly because of its timely theme. It was based on the capture of Adolf Eichmann.

Professor James Gray speaker at Stanstead College closing service

STANSTEAD — The closing ceremonies of Stanstead College took place on June 10, commencing with the Baccalaureate service in Centenary United Church. Race finals for inter-house competition, a luncheon, prize giving and the headmaster's annual report followed.

Professor James Gray of Bishop's University was guest speaker at the Baccalaureate service. Other clergy assisting were Rev. A. M. Rose, pastor of Centenary Church, Rev. James Hendry, Rev. A. L. Salt of Christ Church, Stanstead, and the College headmaster, Dr. Harry Hutchison.

Professor Gray congratulated the College Headmaster and board of trustees on their achievements in the expansion program and said "The strength of a school, however long its history, does not lie in its traditions alone, its success and its survival, must depend upon the faith, the loyalty and the enthusiasm of its trustees, the energy and wisdom of its headmaster, the competence and scholarship of its teachers and the ability, industry and patriotism of its pupils. Here at Stanstead you are blessed in all these respects."

SOURCE OF STRENGTH
Yet another important source of strength for any school is its Alumni Association, said Prof. Gray, continuing: "As I think of Stanstead College Alumni, my mind turns to one of Canada's ablest poets, Duncan Campbell Scott, a former student at Stanstead, and he quoted one of Scott's poems, Night Burial in the Forest."

Prof. Gray spoke of the life of Scott and his great achievements after leaving his Alma Mater, in the things that count, the qualities of a gentleman, the very essence of character, for which Stanstead College firmly stands.

TOP STUDENTS — Boys who were among the top prize winners at Stanstead College closing ceremonies are pictured above, from the left: Tom Faust, Ian Whitaker, Robert Cummings, Michael Malabre and Ruud Heerema. The College choir sang the Twenty-Third Psalm as the anthem, the Junior boys singing the hymn, "The Church is the Body of Christ." Organists were Miss Elsie McFadden, and Mrs. A. P. Gordon.

Mrs. Gordon played the prelude and postlude and for the offertory. The offering was added to the College Chapel building fund.

SPORTS FINALS
After the service the race finals were run off before a large number of visitors, parents and relatives of the students. Several records were broken, including the high jump for boys under 16 years of age when Tom Faust, of Colby House, broke the old record of 4'10" by a jump of 5'2 1/4".

Bob Cloutier, Davis House, also broke the old record by jumping 4'10 1/4".

In the Junior Class pole vault, boys under 16, Peter Rudge, of Davis House, broke the old record of 7'4" by a new record of 8'4".

Tyrone Payne, Colby House, broke the mile run record of 5 minutes and 49 seconds by a new record of 5 minutes, 41 seconds.

The award for the best all-round athlete and best track athlete was won by Tom Faust, Colby House, possibly the first time a Junior boy has won this award.

After the sports events, a luncheon was served buffet style in the school dining hall. During the luncheon and afternoon, the majority of visitors viewed the display of Canada in the Last Century, by students of Grades VIII, IX and X.

HEADMASTER'S REPORT
The prize giving took place in the hall in the evening, the principal owing to inclement weather. Dr. Hutchison welcomed the visitors and spoke on events at the school within the past year.

He thanked the parents for their support and aid in making decisions pertaining to their boys and the school, and complimented the majority of the students for their co-operation in observing school regulations. He noted the successes of the school soccer team, which was undefeated in the past season, the debating team, the chess team, and the boys' basketball team.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Funny thing happened to Gower Champion the other night at a big Hollywood party.

"He was lionized and sought after," reports Marge Champion, "and I enjoyed it immensely. So did he."

While the Champions have always been popular with the Hollywood set, they now evoke a different attitude on the social scene. It's that unmistakable respect that is accorded success.

Gower's success was known to everyone at the party — directing two smash Broadway hits in a row: Bye Bye Birdie and Carnival. He nearly lost his health doing it.

The Champions were spending a quiet day at their home when I dropped in. Quiet days are the only kind Gower is allowed right now. He is under doctor's orders to relax following his collapse a few weeks ago.

"I had an ulcer," he says.

Stanstead College shield, Senior tennis and P. N. Caven Trophy for Junior track and field, honorable mention for Junior football and hockey and Senior track.

VALEDICTORY
Charles Cavell was valedictorian and in speaking summed up the achievements of the past year, of the opportunities offered and taken advantage of by the students and said he hoped the teachings of Stanstead College will be remembered as the graduates enter adult life.

Herbert Fisher, athletic director, on behalf of the Cadet and sports section, presented bouquets of red roses to three who had given them considerable assistance, Sylvia Mooney, Mrs. W. H. Rudd and Mrs. L. C. McGillon.

After the day's events the students up to, and including Grade X left for their homes across Canada and points outside the Dominion.

The Philip Scowen Challenge trophy for interhouse was presented to Davis House, as were the following trophies: Ross Fifth Trophy for intermediate track and field, L. C. MacPherson trophy, Junior Cross Country, Stanstead College trophy, Senior soccer, Frank and Lester Patrick trophy, Senior hockey, Britton Moore Trophy, Senior Basketball, Stanstead College shield, Junior tennis, and honorable mention for Junior soccer, Senior and Junior skiing, cross country, Senior and Junior slalom and Junior rifle shooting.

Colby House were presented with the Stanstead College trophy for Senior football, Norman Smyth trophy for Senior cross country, Stanstead College trophy, Junior basketball, Stanstead College Marksmanship trophy, shooting, Captain L. G. McGillon cup, best Cadet platoon.

Special rental tax to finance project urged

The Sherbrooke Junior Chamber of Commerce has recommended to the city council that it authorize the construction of three recreational centres at an approximate cost of $1,200,000.

The recommendation was contained in a report prepared by the Chamber after a six months study of the city's recreational facilities.

The chamber has suggested that each centre contain sports facilities such as a bowling alley, swimming pool, badminton and basketball court. The report emphasized that the centres should cater to the needs of all ages.

Most of the facilities presently available in the city are for the teenage group and that the entire family should be given recreational opportunities, the report points out.

As well as the three new recreational centres needed, the Chamber recommended that more use be made of school and church property which could be made available for recreation.

Location of the recreational centres would be one on Galt West near the Sangster park, one on Portland Boulevard near the Jacques Cartier Blvd. and one at the corner of Chalfoux and 15th Street, the report said.

The Chamber said in its report that the best way to finance the construction of these centres would be by a one per cent increase in the rental tax. A tax of this type would mean that every one would contribute to the project and the burden would not fall on a few wealthy members of the community.

The report suggested that the recreational centres be administered by a central committee responsible directly to the city council. There should also be a permanent secretary to carry on the work and a sub-committee responsible for each centre.

The report concluded by emphasizing the fact that the measures they suggest can be improved upon. However, the chamber pointed out that the report does make concrete proposals which could be followed effectively.

Pickpockets active at Magog dance

MAGOG — (Special) — Ten persons, all men were victims of pick pockets who also rallied for the street dance held in this city Thursday evening.

Police Chief Telesphore Lavoie said the victims lost between four and five hundred dollars, and in all cases it was hip-pocket wallets that were stolen. He said his department has no idea who the thief or thieves are, and their activity was conducted early in the evening.

"There is always something of this nature happening when you have such a huge crowd gathered, as last evening", Chief Lavoie said in an interview this morning.

Organizing juniors at Richmond

RICHMOND —(Special)—The up-and-coming Boys Club organization is a step further in its program for organized sports for young boys. After a meeting of a group of local sportsmen, it was decided to take on have boys registered this Saturday for softball and track and field in the different age groups.

This new association is the outgrowth of the Quebec Weekly Newspaper Association founded six years ago, but which last year passed a resolution to allow the daily newspapers representation. This is the only English and French newspaper organization in the Province.

The theme of the convention is "The problem of publishing newspapers in a bilingual province." Proceedings began Friday morning with a panel discussion led by Richard White of the Montreal Gazette, and this discussion will continue throughout the day.

At St. Patrick School

Graduates warned against intellectual laziness

St. Patrick High School graduates were warned against "intellectual laziness" when they entered the business world. This warning came at Commencement Exercises held in the school gymnasium Thursday evening.

"Whatever you enter in the North American Society, a higher institute of learning, trade or business, a certain pressure will be upon you. You are about to face an enticing menace, a disease, that threatens our very way of life," Dr. Ronald Sutherland, professor of English in the B.A. department at the University of Sherbrooke College told the 12 graduates.

Dr. Sutherland was referring to intellectual laziness. "You will be willing to let someone think for you and you will soon be unable to think 'for yourself,'" he said. "When you leave school you are walking into the arms of a giant octopus, the North American Society, where people will try to persuade you — but you mustn't become a conformist. The speaker emphasized that we shouldn't sacrifice our own personality to become one of the crowd or to be 'accepted'."

Father R. Quenneville, S.B., principal of the school, wished the boys well in whatever they may do after leaving St. Patrick's and told the boys to work hard in all their undertakings, warning them there was no short cut to success.

The graduates were Michael Brooks, David Butler, Pierre Cadieux, Richard Cooney, Bernard Delorme, Dennis Ewing, Guy Fabi, Robert Hall, Randolph Jackson, Robert Jackson, Garth McVeigh and Anthony Morin, who gave the Valedictory Address.

Awards were then presented by Monsignor Rosario Moisan. In the High school department Michael Tinker of the 1962 graduating class won the honor student award. The scholarship Achievements awards set for them."

Antique show

Earlier days recalled at East Angus

By SANDRA PICKFORD
(Record Staff Reporter)

EAST ANGUS — (Special) — The familiar strands of the Strauss' Waltzes; the swish of a nooped skirts; the hum of a spinning wheel and the glow from a gas lamp could well be any living room in the latter part of the nineteenth century.

But the strains of the Strauss Waltzes are coming from a portable record player; the swish of the nooped skirt is from a costume worn by a member of the Christ Church Ladies' Auxiliary in East Angus. The time isn't the end of the nineteenth century but June 15, 1961 at the home of Mrs. R. J. Westgate in East Angus where the Christ Church W.A. held an antique show and tea to raise money for missionary work.

In an all-out effort to bring back the nineteenth century, Mrs. Westgate and the ladies of the W.A. have been working feverishly to convert the Westgate's home into a showcase containing some 500 articles belonging to pioneer families in the Eastern Townships.

After changing the dining room, three bedrooms and a hallway into a home 100 years ago; after collecting articles from a mahogany wardrobe to a Holy Bible from people from Sayreville, Cookshire and Lennoxville who loaned their precious antiques for the showing and after laboriously labeling each article with names and dates, Mrs. Westgate through the doors of her home open to the public.

The antiques on display were wide and varied, some unique, some rather odd, but all precious in their sentimental value. One of the more valuable pieces was a papier mache tilt dating back to the reign of Queen Victoria. Rather unique was the fact that the minute designs on the top of the tilt were all done in mother-of-pearl.

A huge walnut dining table brought from England in 1879 proved to be much lower, and somewhat wider than the dining room tables of today.

A rather unusual souvenir younger than the rest - was a lamp made of a bomb shell from the 1914-18 War. Although the base was wood the stem of the lamp was made of an empty bomb. Smaller articles on show was an Apostle spoon, handcarved in Egypt and brought to this district over 100 years ago. Even older was a beautiful jewel box brought from Scotland 150 years ago.

One of the bigger items was a French buffet or wine cabinet from the Hon. Judge Brooke collection 1850-1875.

More appealing to the men folk about, were the gaily decorated German steins with pewter top purchased in Hamburg in 1830 and a boot-jack to remove men's boots - 1870.

Even more interesting was an engraved brass inkwell brought from Tibet over 100 years ago and a five-piece smoking set from India. The most unusual exhibit was a forceps for extracting teeth. Although it couldn't have been too old — and it reminded you terribly of a screw used for uncorking champagne bottles — the crude article was humorously tagged "very ancient."

The sitting room's fireplace caught your eye the minute you came into the room. It displayed all sorts of powder horns and firearms of the period. One of the better exhibits along that line was a Muzzle Loader Flint Lock Shotgun dated 1825 to 1850. A tag on a Victorian hall stand 1850-1875 read, "It is believed there is only two such stands in North America. The other one is in a Hotel in Black Lake."

The two upstairs bedrooms housed a fortune in antiques. Posters dating back years that announced dances, fairs, and a table displayed old family albums including a hard covered revision of the Holy Bible dating 1881.

Draped across a crib was a basket quilt made by a Miss Harriet Embury. It had won first prize at the Cookshire Fair in 1895 and it is now owned by Mrs. F. R. C. Andrews.

Clothes of the century were neatly displayed on a bed and one notable item was an old cane which had been in a family for generations. Each generation that had used the cane had added a notch to the top of it. The cane had six notches and a seventh is soon to be added.

Window smashed by car

The display window of S. Smith Surplus Store was smashed Thursday night as a result of a two-car collision.

The first car, driven by Mrs. Lise Proteau, 25, of 935 Federal Street made the stop at the corner of Short Street and Wellington South and then started to enter Wellington as a second car driven by David Harmer, 18, of 66 Winder Street, Lennoxville, was approaching. Mr. Harmer swerved to the left to escape hitting Mrs. Proteau's car but was unable to swerve far enough. The impact of the collision forced Mr. Harmer's car into the display window causing considerable damage.

Mrs. Proteau escaped injury while Mr. Harmer entered the Sherbrooke Hospital for examination Friday.

Publications recommendations

The Royal Commission on Publications, which tabled its report in the Commons Thursday, recommended two strong measures to combat the increasing flow of Canadian advertising to foreign, and especially American, publications.

One was that domestic advertising placed in foreign magazines be stripped of its status as a legitimate business expense for income tax purposes — in effect, doubling the cost of such advertising to the advertiser.

The other recommendation called for action under custom tariff law to bar from Canada all periodicals printed outside the country that contain Canadian domestic advertising.

The report said that the commission's sole aim in these and other recommendations was to prevent the placement of Canadian domestic advertising in foreign periodicals available in Canada, and to discourage the use of second-hand editorial material as an enticement for advertising.

"These practices must be stopped; stopped effectively and permanently," the report said. "Involved is the question of whether or not Canadians shall have their own periodicals."

The recommendations are aimed squarely at a number of big American publications which allow the substitution of ads aimed at Canadians for part of their press run.

They apparently represent the commission's best attempts to cope with the problem of the increasing flood of American printed matter distributed in the Canadian market, to the detriment of the development of Canadian publications which lack both the market and the resources of their U.S.

counterparts.

In the attempt, however, the commission seems to have closed one eye.

It is true that one way to help support Canadian publications is to make it possible for them to get more advertising. The more advertising they have the stronger their financial position is, and the more they can develop both in quality and in size.

But there is also the matter of the reader. Left unanswered is the man on the street who said, while the commission was sitting, that if the prices of American publications in Canada were raised, he would just have drop some of his Canadian reading material.

Removing all Canadian advertising from American publications will not prevent them from flooding the country in as great numbers as they do now. They are not purchased, after all, solely for their Canadian advertising content, and most of them are quite big enough to continue Canadian distribution without such content. If the commission's recommendations were adopted, it is hardly likely the American publications would not continue such distribution.

The measures would not, then, be successful in stemming the tide of American publications in this country, and it is doubtful if they would direct as much extra advertising to the Canadian publications as the commission seems to anticipate, since many advertisers are already customers of both American and Canadian publications.

Without achieving any real solution to our publications problem, the recommendations, if implemented, would only curtail the advertiser's freedom to seek the widest possible audience.

U.S.-Canada plane swap

Canada has often cried that Americans don't understand our country or sympathize with our problems, but the effects of the recent $320,000,000 plane swap announcement between the U.S. and Canada may well provide us with an opportunity to prove we understand and sympathize with American problems.

Under the arrangement, Canada will get over 60 supersonic fighters to replace obsolete craft now patrolling North American skies, and a $200,000,000 order to build F-104G Starfighters.

The United States is bearing about 75 per cent of the total cost of the swap, and Canada the remainder by taking over the American portion of maintaining the Pine Tree radar line.

The deal has obviously been made with a view to bolstering Canada's none-too-flourishing aircraft industry, and making available for air defence more up to date planes than we can afford to build for ourselves.

It is an arrangement that should be appreciated this side of the border, especially since it is sure to run into bitter opposition in the United States.

The order for Starfighters goes to Canada at a time when the unemployment problem is almost as severe in the United States as it is here. Already, congressmen from the great plane-building areas of the U.S. are building up the pressure of protest, pointing to the thousands of unemployed airplane workers in their states.

To bolster their protests, they are attacking the whole idea of giving American aircraft orders to NATO allies. Belgium, West German, Italy and the Netherlands have also signed agreements to build U.S. planes in their countries.

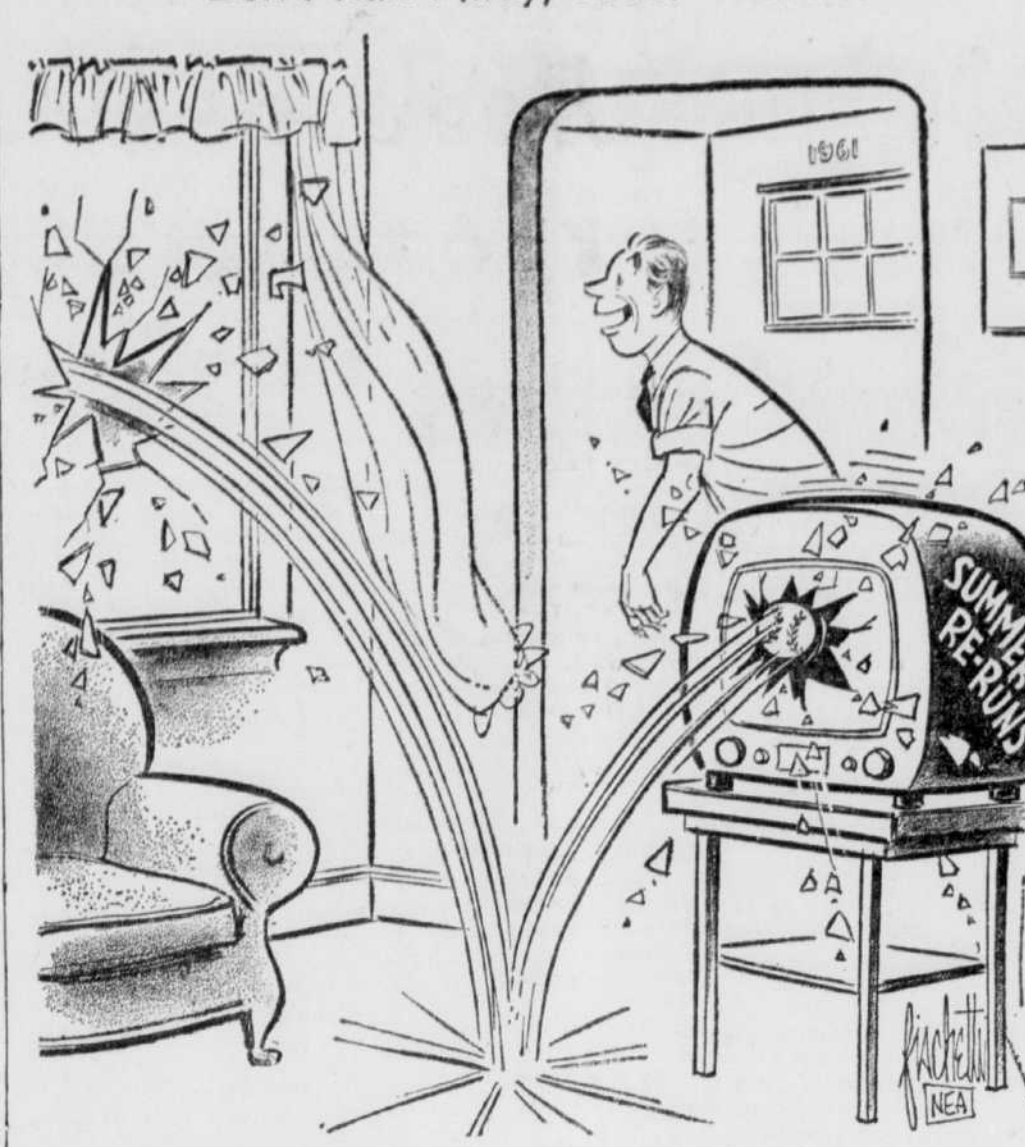

None of the countries involved in the deals is in any sense an underdeveloped country, critics point out.

And spreading the orders around to five different countries, they claim, will keep the unit cost of the planes much higher than if they were produced in the U.S. on what one congressman has termed "a single assembly line."

These are all cogent arguments, seen through any eyes.

It is not to be wondered at if large numbers of Americans raise them long and loud against the swap.

French-Canadian forces at work

Prepared for separate state if aspirations not fulfilled

By ALEXANDER FARRELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — An eminent historian says a majority of French-Canadians will be prepared to form a separate state if they find their awakening aspirations are not being fulfilled in Confederation.

Prof. Michel Brunet, director of the Institute of History at the University of Montreal, said in an interview that nationalism and the desire for social progress are the most dynamic forces at work in French-Canada today.

French-Canadians, he said, have always had a sense of nationality but they tilted at windmills until in recent years, the force of political events gave them a sense of direction to go with it.

This sense of direction had emerged from "a major evolution in political thinking" since the Second World War. The rising generation in French-Canada seemed less prone to waste time on such things as crusades for federal bilingualism and was more interested in ending its own economic and social servitude.

In the 20th century the Quebec government, he said, is the most powerful means at the disposal of French-Canadians for supporting collective action and assuring their progress as a group. Until recent years, however, they did not know how to use it and they were only now learning that "good government in Ottawa is no substitute for self-government in Quebec."

In Quebec, he said, the "provincial rights issue" is a struggle for the fullest possible measure of self-government because the Ottawa government "is, in the last analysis, an instrument for enforcing the decisions of the English-speaking majority on a minority of 5,000,000 people who intend to survive as a community and, in fact, have no choice but to survive."

They were too numerous to be assimilated and they were collectively conscious of themselves as a distinct people. French in Quebec "have their own language and traditions; their own cultural, economic and political institutions; professors, scientists, writers and artists; collective ways of thinking and living; common sorrows and common aspirations."

In short, he said, French-Canada is here to stay. French-Canada is different, and the leaders of both the nation's major ethnic groups can act wisely only if they accept these facts, the common good.

Prof. Brunet said the attention of French-Canadians shifted dramatically to their provincial who cannot face the facts as they are."

"They have made themselves believe that Canadians form one people under the leadership of a central government. To placate Quebec, they pay lip-service to French culture and to the so-called unique French-Canadian contribution to the building of Canada."

"They even pretend, in spite of all the evidence to the contrary, that this nation is bilingual and bicultural."

He said this pleased "those tradition-minded French-Canadians who still accept the nationalist — messianic interpretation of their history" — the notion that Quebec has a mission to make the French presence felt on this continent from sea to sea.

The French population, when faced with an English majority decision it was not prepared to accept, resisted and protested, feeling it was being pushed around.

The English population, having been told by the nation's leaders that all Canadians were really alike, was understandably mystified and prone to denounce "Quebec's separatist leanings."

The big-brother approach was founded on the notion that English have brought, or been trying to bring, political liberty and material prosperity to a backward people.

"If the French fail to show appropriate gratitude," Prof. Brunet said, "the English conclude that they are ill-bred, ignorant, biased and priest-ridden."

He said many French-Canadian intellectuals and professional people, working for English employers and associating with English friends, are constantly tempted to adopt this approach.

Looking at the dark side of their society — and every society has a dark side — they like to consider themselves more enlightened than the majority of their compatriots.

"One can easily understand why they speak and act as they do, but one must not pay much attention to their statements. They speak for themselves, they represent a tiny minority, and it pays them to say things that people who listen to them or hire them like to hear."

Behind the social-leftist approach lay the idea that the real division in Canadian society is economic, not cultural. "In other words, the class struggle is supposed to have modified the pattern of ethnic relations in Canada and united the have-nots throughout the country. This is nonsense."

"French-Canadians want more than ever before to improve their standard of living and get all the advantages of progressive social-security legislation but they also realize that their fate is linked to their own collective progress and to their influence as a nationality in the Canadian confederation."

As for the French-speaking minorities in the English-speaking provinces, Prof. Brunet said their status "is almost that of immigrants; they are desperately trying to survive as a cultural group."

"The English majority should realize that these people who want schools where their children

DIAMOND SLAM MADE EASILY

The only argument against the Jacoby-Smith forcing three no-trump response to show 11 to 15 high card points and 13 to 17 supporting points for partner's suit opening is that if you use this bid you can't use the regular three no-trump response to show the equivalent of an opening no-trump.

In my opinion, this is no loss. I find that this normal three no-trump response is more likely to hurt you than to help you. Thus, North has a classic three no-trump response to

If North can't respond three no-trump he will respond two clubs. South will rebid to two diamonds and from then on it will be duck soup to land at six diamonds.

The bidding in the box shows one way. North's two spades is a strong tempoing bid. South's two no-trump is the lowest bid he can make. North's jump to four diamonds causes South to go to five and North closes the bidding at six.

He makes no effort to get to seven because South has shown a minimum opening.

There it no play to the diamond slam. South ruffs out one heart and wraps up 12 tricks.

Presbyterian church moderator

Decries ministers' 'pedestal'

By KEN PRITCHARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — The new moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada is a family man from the Prairies who believes that ministers "must come down off their pedestals."

Rev. Robert Leishman Taylor, for 18 years minister of St. John's Presbyterian church in Medicine Hat, Alta., was elected for a one-year term at the 87th general assembly in Toronto June 7.

Meeting reporters in the richly furnished room set aside in Knox Presbyterian church here for the use of the moderator during the assembly, Mr. Taylor doffed his clerical coat. In shirt-sleeves and suspenders, he still had the quiet dignity with which he presided over assembly deliberations.

Skipping quickly from one subject to another in a discussion of matters of interest to the church, he said it is essential that clergymen "come down to earth" in their relations with the public.

"We must present the Christian faith to people in words they can understand."

He defended the teaching of religion in schools—a reference to the current controversy in Ontario—and expressed concern about the pressure for a more open Sunday.

"The use for which Sunday was intended is being forgotten."

On church union, he said the Presbyterian church "is ecumenically minded but not seeking organic union."

A slim, erect man of medium height, the grey-haired 51-year-old clergyman observes the world through a pair of keen eyes framed by spectacles. His hobby is bird-watching and he uses pictures of birds to illustrate the children's sermons which are part of his Sunday morning services.

A soccer player at the University of Toronto where he played for Knox College, winner of the inter-faculty championship several years, he finds little time now for athletic activity.

His church duties and five children leave him little time for golf and curling.

"A minister must keep up to date on the world," he says, and to this end he reads avidly.

Nine years ago his congregation paid for a six-week trip to the Holy Land.

"The trip contributed a great deal to my understanding of the Scriptures, which come alive when one sees the places where Biblical events took place."

The first moderator of the church from the Prairie provinces in 10 years, he says he didn't conduct any sort of campaign for the position.

"The fact that the Presbyterian church elected a moderator from a small city of less than 25,000 in the West shows there is no centralization in the church."

Mr. Taylor succeeds Rev. Robert Lennox of Montreal as moderator. The last one from the Prairies was Rev. Norman D. Kennedy of Regina, elected in 1951.

A native of Glasgow who was brought to Canada by his parents when he was three, Robert Leishman Taylor lived briefly in Owen Sound, Ont., then moved to Orillia, Ont., where he grew up and received primary and secondary school education.

His father was an iron moulder in Orillia. His only sister, Isabel, is a missionary in Formosa.

After high school, Mr. Taylor worked on a farm to help pay his way to university. He got his B.A. at University College and theological training at Knox and spent six years in the mission field in the Prairies.

He was ordained at 27 and last April returned to Knox to receive an honorary doctorate of divinity.

His first church was at Innisfail, Alta., where he met and married Jean Findlay. They moved to Indian Head, Sask., for three years and then to Medicine Hat.

The Taylors have three sons and two daughters. Patricia, 19, is studying interior designing at the University of Manitoba.

Robert Jr., 17, is finishing high school and recently won a national essay contest prize of a 14-day trip to Britain. John, 15, has graduated from junior high school and Nan, 9, is in public school. The youngest child is

Farnam's Corner church to hold special service

FARNAM'S CORNER—(Special)—Farnam's Corner United Church will have an Old Home Service on Sunday, June 18, at 2:30 p.m. The purpose of this service is to bring together old friends and neighbours and relatives to worship, and to see the improvements to the church which has been made over the years.

The church, for which land was donated by Mr. Walter Farnham, was built in 1894 by H. H. Smith, of Brome, Quebec and service began in September of that year, with Rev. A. E. Sanderson as pastor.

During the past five years, the church has been completely redecorated, and was financed by the Ladies Aid, which has a membership of six.

The interior of the church has been painted, pews furnished and a new carpet purchased. The church hall has been painted and new curtains for the kitchen bought.

The exterior was completed two years ago, and has a lovely plaque, bearing the name "Farnam's Corner Church", which was made by the present pastor, Rev. Carl Gustafson and printed by J. J. Barker, of Cowansville.

Services are held every second Sunday evening at 8 p.m. It is with great pride that the church extends its invitation to anyone wishing to attend the special service.

Each member is requested to bring a picnic lunch, and the Ladies Aid will serve tea and coffee after the service.

Budget report

turned up the first surplus in its 10-year history.

The fund, which operates outside normal budgetary accounts, paid out $592,400,000 in pensions but took in $803,100,000 from the three special taxes earmarked for the fund. The resulting $10,700,000 surplus was used to whittle down a $28,000,000 deficit carried forward from the previous year. What's left is covered by a temporary loan from Mr. Fleming's treasury.

Counting pension fund operations, the government's total spending in the 1960-61 year was $6,553,500,000 and its revenues $6,218,700,000.

The government's accounts didn't feel the full effect of the economic lag.

Personal and corporation income tax revenues showed strong gains even though corporation profits fell six per cent to $3,200,000,000 in 1960. This was due in part to higher rates in the 1959 budget that weren't effective for the whole of the previous fiscal year, and in part to the fact that substantial amounts were collected on account of 1959 corporation profits.

WELL DESERVED SALUTE

Today I'm turning my bit of praise to Magog, and saluting Mrs. Lillian Cochrane, president of No. 72 Ladies Auxiliary to Unit 203 of the Army, Navy & Air Force Veterans Association. Mrs. Cochrane has directed her group for two terms, and done a splendid job. She has displayed her ability as a leader and can be praised for the tremendous amount of effort she puts into the progress and running of her unit. As a matter of fact, praise for enthusiasm and hard work is due all the ladies in Mrs. Cochrane's group.

SPIT 'N POLISH

In another week many of the Eastern Townships' militiamen will move into Camp Farnham, and it'll be interesting to note how many arrive prepared for life under canvas. Practicing spit 'n polish means being equipped and ready to live outdoors in true military style, so take stock of your belongings. Have you got them all, needle and thread, scissors, pressing needs, polishes etc.?

Ladies' Legion holds meeting

WATERLOO. — (Special) — The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion combined business meeting with pleasure at their meeting Tuesday night, June 13. The President, Mrs. Jackie Soles, was in the chair.

Plans were made for the Legion Street Fair in August, in which the Auxiliary will participate.

Saturday night, June 17, a dance and supper will be arranged by the members in honor of Father's Day. A Chinese Auction will help defray expenses for the evening.

Four guests from the Sutton Ladies Auxiliary were present: the president, Mrs. Jessie Seigney, and Mrs. Josie Jones, Mrs. Davis, and Mrs. Whitford.

PICTURE MIXED

The white paper's review of the economy in 1960 showed a mixed picture.

The 3.2 per cent gain in gross national product compared with a six per cent expansion in 1959. The general price level rose 1½ per cent—a more moderate climb than in recent years.

The rise in national product was an actual gain in physical output.

The main economic pinch was on the job front.

Unemployment for the year averaged 448,000—seven per cent of the labor force—compared to 1959 average unemployment of 373,000 a six per cent rate. A one per cent rise in the number of people at work didn't keep pace with a 2.8 per cent jump in the labor force.

One economic mainstay was consumer spending, which rose to $23,409,000,000 from $22,482,000,000. The 4.1 per cent increase compared with a gain in personal incomes of 4.3 per cent to $27,442,000,000 from $26,319,000,000. But taxes took a larger bite and the rate of personal savings slowed down.

The report's outline of government accounts showed the treasury's cash balances declined by only $71,200,000 despite the big deficit of $345,500,000.

The government financed part of it through a $222,800,000 increase in unmatured debt—bonds and other securities—held by the public, and got another $51,500,000 from a series of non-budgetary transactions.

GOT FUND LOAN

One of the year's non-budget cash demands on Mr. Fleming's treasury was a $67,000,000 loan to help bolster the dwindling Unemployment Insurance Fund. Despite the loan the balance in the fund sank to $267,000,000 from $377,000,000 during the year.

Insurance fund expenditures totalled $518,000,000 including $510,000,000 in benefit payments and $7,000,000 in losses on sales of investments. The fund got $276,000,000 in contributions from employers and employees, $55,000,000 in government contributions, $10,000,000 from investment income and the $87,000,000 in federal loans.

The government's gross debt rose to $21,601,200,000 from $20,988,400,000. This is partly offset by various assets, and the net debt rose by $353,000,000 to $12,442,200,000.

This increase is equivalent to the budget deficit plus a book-keeping adjustment relating to transactions in prior years.

The treasury's two biggest money earners bolstered the budget revenues.

Personal income taxes rose by $144,600,000 to $1,711,200,000 and corporation income taxes advanced $133,700,000 to $1,276,900,000. The first provided 30.5 per cent of budget revenues, the second 27.7 per cent.

RETURNS DROP

Sales tax returns dropped by $12,100,000 to $720,600,000. The report said this is believed due to year-end tax remittances being delayed because March 31 fell on the Easter holiday weekend.

The income and sales tax figures do not include the special three per cent levies earmarked for the Old Age Pension Fund.

Defence remained the heaviest spending item—26 per cent of the budget—with outlays by the defence department at $1,519,000,000, down by a small $14,000,000. This fell $90,000,000 short of the amount appropriated by Parliament.

Cost of carrying the public debt rose by $13,700,000 to $797,200,000—13.4 per cent of the budget.

Subsidies and tax-sharing payments to the provinces increased by $18,900,000 to $537,800,000, and the expanding population pushed family allowance payments up by $15,000,000 to $506,200,000.

HOW TO OBTAIN RELIEF FROM ABDOMINAL PAINS

Provided you have safely and effectively treated an attack of abdominal pain of a type described in a preceding column, provided that the present attack seems identical with that successfully treated previously, provided that the present attack is not of greater severity or accompanied by fever, stomach upset or some other manifestation suggestive of serious illness — only then you may carry out the following procedures in an effort to provide rapid relief:

Induce vomiting by tickling your throat with a finger if the attack followed overloading of the stomach or some type of food that "disagreed" with you.

If mechanical stimulation fails to induce vomiting, drink several cups of hot water to each of which a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda has been added. Urge the situation is urgent, do not add mustard.

If the attack appears related to incomplete evacuation of the bowel, insert high up in the rectum, two plain glycerin suppositories.

While awaiting the action of the suppositories, drink a cup of hot black coffee.

If the suppositories fail after a 20 minute wait, give or take a gentle cleansing enema. Prepare a pint of soap suds in warm to hot water. Gently insert a lubricated enema tip. Use a twirling motion during the introduction to avoid injury to the delicate membrane. While preferably lying on your left side, slowly introduce the soap suds. If cramping occurs, pinch off the tube until the

Waterloo teacher feted at shower

WATERLOO — A pleasant event was arranged by the High School staff to honor one of its members, when a miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Fritz Pope, West 10th Avenue, for Miss June Smith, prior to her marriage to Roger Darbeson, of Montreal.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with tulips, forget-me-nots and pansies. On her arrival the guest of honor was presented with a corsage by Mrs. Clark Jones, and later with many beautiful and useful gifts, for which she expressed thanks.

A salad supper was enjoyed by the large gathering, among whom was Mrs. Guy Smith, of Highwater, mother of the guest of honor.

At the close of the school year, Mr. and Mrs. Darbeson will reside in Montreal, where Mr. Darbeson is employed.

Discomfort passes. Then continue. Repeat the enema once if necessary.

If the attack seems due to menstrual or intermenstrual cramps, take 2 or 3 doses of 5 to 10 grains of aspirin at 3 to 4 hour intervals. If you are accustomed to alcoholic beverages, you can wash down with a little gin and tonic.

In conjunction with any of the above, apply local heat to the abdomen. Use an electric pad or a hot water bottle for dry heat. For moist heat, soak a bulky towel out in boiling water, wring dry and apply after protecting the underlying skin with olive, corn or cottonseed oil. Do not add counterirritants (mustard, turpentine). These contribute nothing useful and may cause a chemical burn.

In another column we'll discuss what NOT to do and then conclude with suggestions by which you may help your doctor help you.

The Record's Farm Report

SEEDING NORMAL

This week's DBS telegraphic crop report indicates that seeding, after a slow start, has generally regained lost ground throughout Canada and is now mainly completed.

In the Prairies, seeding is almost all completed, and hot weather has stimulated rapid germination and growth. Continuing hot weather has reduced moisture reserves and made the grasshopper threat more severe. Forage crops have already been set back by the dry, hot conditions.

In Ontario and Quebec, hay, pasture and fall wheat crops are improving rapidly and are now close to normal. Seeding is now completed in most of Ontario, but has been delayed in much of Quebec by cool rainy weather.

Similarly in the Maritimes, seeding is still delayed. Maritime haylands and pastures are wet but growing well.

MORE CREDIT

The expansion of government farm mortgage credit in recent years was indicated by Agriculture Minister Hamilton's resolution this week in the House to amend the Farm Credit Act.

The amendment would increase the capital of the Farm Credit Corporation from eight to twelve million dollars.

POLAND DEAL

Confirmation of the wheat deal with Poland was announced in the House this week by Agriculture Minister Hamilton.

The agreement calls for delivery in this crop year (i.e. before July 31) of 3.7 million bushels of wheat.

Terms: 10 per cent cash, a third of the balance in two years, a third in two and a half years and a third in three years.

Pullets are at home on the range

From The Quebec Department of Agriculture

Pullets will soon be going out on grassy ranges—if they are not already out there. Mr. Joseph Filiatreault of the Quebec Department of Agriculture points out that this way of raising the birds in freedom calls for attention to certain important details.

First of all, it should be remarked that pasture will not do the pullets much good unless there is plenty of grass on it and the range is well looked after.

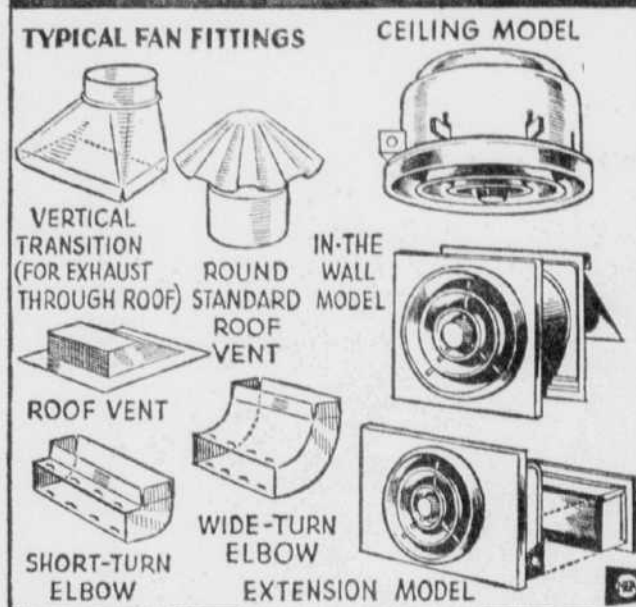

There should be at least an acre for every four or five hundred pullets. The moveable range shelters now generally used should be shifted to a new location every two weeks, so that used ground will have a chance to recover.

There should be shade, especially over the drinking fountains. The grass will be more appetizing to the birds if it is cut often enough to keep it about three inches high.

Rearing on range has several advantages: regular growth, resulting from exercise in the open air; a substantial saving of feed; a tendency to allow the birds to develop in such a way that they do not begin to lay prematurely.

Feeding programmes (mash and scratch grain, or balanced rations) will produce good results if used according to the manufacturer's directions. If the range is liable to be raided by foxes, it would be well to protect the birds with an electric fence.

VENTILATING FANS

Do-it-yourself

Fans beat the heat

BY MR. FIX

Exhaust fans in kitchen and bathroom won't air condition your home, but they will do much to prevent the accumulation of extra moisture-laden warm air.

In the summer, that can do a great deal to keep things cool, and in the winter it means that you won't be quite so bothered with sweating windows.

An exhaust fan in the kitchen will make the place more comfortable to work in for your wife and mean less work for you in the long run—since walls will stay cleaner, need painting less often.

The fan will pull out warm air along with the grease and the cooking smells.

WALL INSTALLATION
If the stove is located on an outside wall, the fan can be quite simply installed right through that wall.

But if the stove is located on an inside wall, then you will have to locate the fan in the ceiling, venting it through the roof or through the outside wall via a series of ducts. You will have to determine the location before purchasing the fan.

The through-the-wall type should be equipped with an automatic louver that remains closed when the fan is not in use. Other ceiling and wall fans will be designed for use with ducts.

TOOL LIST

A drill, keyhole saw, chisel and hammer should be about all the tools you will need to cut the fan opening. Mark the opening for the fan housing. With plasterboard, drill a hole, then remove the material with the keyhole saw. Plaster may need chipping with the chisel. Then use the saw to cut through the lath.

Ceiling installation is best when you are cutting directly through to an unfinished attic with a finished second floor it becomes too much of a problem for the average homeowner to run ducts between floor and ceiling.

Cutting through the outside wall isn't as difficult as it seems. Once the hole on the inside is cut, drill through the wall so that you can start your keyhole saw on the outside.

In a brick wall, knock out one brick first, then chip away with cold chisel and hammer at the others.

COVERING UP

Don't worry about ragged edges around holes. Grill plates will cover them. Wiring is not difficult. But if you aren't sure of yourself, hire an electrician to handle it. Later you can install a switch at some convenient point on the wall.

Your garden

Dahlias need full sun, good drainage

By Margaret E. Dove

Centuries ago, dahlias were found growing in sandy soil in Mexico. There they had full sun and good drainage, conditions they must be given here if they are to succeed.

Dahlias must not be planted too close to shrubs or trees, where they will have to compete for moisture and plant food.

The plants like a neutral or slightly acid soil and can be planted in the same location year after year.

Well-Drained

Soil should be well-drained and prepared in advance, working in plenty of organic soil conditioning material.

Before spading, broadcast a commercial fertilizer 6-10-4 or 5-10-5 at the rate of three pounds per 100 square feet and dig in to a depth of one foot. This should be done once a week or so before planting.

Space the planting so that the dahlias will be no closer than 36 inches apart. Dig planting holes eight inches deep and place the tubers firmly, with the eyes up. Before covering, put a five or six foot stake to one side of the tuber; this will eliminate the danger of injury to the root system by staking after the roots are covered.

Pinch Off

After a stalk has developed three pairs of leaves, pinch off the top just above the second true bud is the size of a small season. Allow only two or three stalks to remain on a plant. Pinching the tops off will make a strong, bushy plant. If large blooms are desired, start disbudding when the centre bud is the size of a small season. Water the plants generously, and from mid-July to August a second feeding is advisable. Work one tablespoon of a complete fertilizer into the soil around each plant and water in thoroughly. (TNS)

Women should walk more

VANCOUVER (CP)—Women should walk more, says Mrs. Lorne Brown, who has received her master's degree in physical education.

"I'm horrified at women's attitude toward fitness. They should be more conscious of it. If they just walked more."

"Housewives should be encouraged to get out and do more about physical fitness. It would change their outlook."

Mrs. Brown, mother of two young children and wife of a physical education teacher at the University of British Columbia, obtained her bachelor of science degree in physical education several years ago and

Present pretty arms this summer

By ALICE HART

This is the big spring and summer for sleeveless dresses. They'll be seen from early morning till late at night. And they'll display a variety of arms, some pretty and some flabby.

Which you'll have depends very much on you. The first essential is exercise to wipe out the flabbiness. Stand with your feet together and arms lifted straight out at shoulder height. Now, describe large circles with both arms, in unison. Strive for muscle tension. Begin with a count of 20 and work up to 50 or more.

This is one exercise that pays off rapidly. You'll feel your arms become smooth and firm within a matter of two months or so unless yours is an extreme case.

Now, what about the skin on your arms? Unless it's smooth and soft, it's time to get busy. Use a brush and a natural pumice stone for the elbows. Give them a good lathering.

Each night, after your bath or shower, cream your hands, elbows and even the upper arm to the shoulder. Use a softening, medicated cream that is absorbed instantly into the skin.

If you're a working girl, remember that an occasional hand creaming during the day gives off regularly. You can do it at work. This is it, too, by keeping a jar of something that many housewives have in their desk drawer.

"Buy Canadian" shoppers told look for label

TORONTO — (TNS) —

Women shoppers across Canada — and men, too — have a new standard by which to judge women's clothes.

All clothes being made by unionized manufacturers now bear a "union label." And Canadian manufacturers are as anxious as union leaders to make the label a household word.

Eighty per cent of women's clothes made in Canada will bear the label, according to the International Ladies Garment Workers union.

ILGWU Canadian director Bernard Shane said the label would show consumers that the workers earned a decent standard of living and that the garment was manufactured under stringent sanitary conditions.

Canada's women's clothing industry is big business. Montreal and Toronto are the chief production centres, but Winnipeg and Vancouver are growing in importance in this industry which employs 33,000 Canadians and whose annual production value is near the $500,000,000 mark.

Industry leaders say that widespread acceptance of the union label would stabilize this important segment of the country's economy and also help to eliminate fly-by-night operators whose tactics reflect on the entire trade.

High on the list of union-condemned practices are the hiring of unskilled labor — mostly New Canadians — under sweatshop conditions, and production of garments under piecework home contracts without proper inspection for cleanliness and sanitation. Union spokesmen cite actual cases where communicable diseases have been transmitted through garments made in unhygienic surroundings.

Acceptance of the union label by Canadian women would mark the coming into its own of a Canadian industry which, say its leaders, can compete favorably with any and all imports so long as these are offered at prices which embody wage rates equal to the Canadian standard based on the same quality of workmanship.

To guarantee sanitary workmanship every unionized garment worker in Toronto is compelled to take periodic medical examinations, including X-rays, and these are provided free through the union, which maintains panels of doctors for this purpose.

In an age when prolonged peace between unions and management would appear to be the exception more than the rule, there has not been a strike in Canada's women's garment industry for more than 26 years.

Friends pay tribute to leader of Thetford Band

The occasion was the 38th anniversary of his having completed 38 years of service as leader of Thetford's Philharmonic Band.

Clement Fradette, a member of the band, acted as master of ceremonies and gave a fine address reminiscing of the early days of the band. A purse of was a pianist and singer while his father was leader of a band. It is not surprising, therefore, that Jim Mole should be musically inclined.

FIRST VIOLIN

At the age of seven he was presented with his first violin, which, incidentally, disappeared shortly afterwards and was found in the rain barrel. His brother had, apparently, not appreciated his musical talents and had done away with the violin. A year later he was given another, this time in a wooden case with a lock and key.

His musical education then began in earnest under the direction of his Uncle Dan, from whom he took lessons for four years. He then went to a school of music in Birmingham, where he not only learned the violin but played in the school orchestra. He also took lessons on the cornet and became a member of his father's band. He gave his first violin concert at the age of 13.

When the Mole family came to Canada in 1902 they lived for a time in Montreal where Mr. Mole, Sr., was employed. They then moved to Chicago. There Mr. Mole, Jr., attended the Amour Institute of Technology, where he took a course on electricity.

During vacation time and at nights he would play the violin in theatres during the winter. When they closed for the summer he played the cornet and violin in circuses and minstrel shows to earn money to help defray expenses for his electricity course. Upon graduation he started working for the Canadian General Electric Co.

In 1920 he came to Thetford Mines to work for the Asbestos Corporation, where he remained until his retirement in 1954, at which time he was chief elect-

Blocks for a tulip quilt were brought to the meeting. After a brief discussion it was decided to have two quilts ready for quilting in the early fall.

The agriculture convener, Mrs. C. Hannan, reported on the flower box contest and plans were made for the prizes. The judging will take place in August.

Owing to much sickness in the community the series of card parties will be continued until fall, when a grand door prize will be given by the branch.

An enjoyable half-hour of quiz and jumbled word contests was held, contributed by the agriculture, education and home economics conveners. First prize for the combined score went to Mrs. E. Fulker and second to Mrs. S. Brock.

It was also decided to give the usual prizes for distribution by Mother St. Samuels at the Notre Dame School.

In 1923, with the backing of the mining companies, he formed the Philharmonic Society of Thetford Mines of which he is president. A plot of ground was made available to them on Johnson Street, where a band-stand was built, since replaced by one of the most modern in this area.

He was instrumental, also, in organizing the Federation of Amateur Bands of the Province of Quebec in 1937, which today boasts 20 bands and holds a festival of bands each year.

In the 1930's he formed an orchestra with 15 of the band members which was popular for a number of years at dances.

Mr. Mole has devoted a great deal of time and effort to the cause of music in Thetford Mines, and the members of his band and others organized this get-together to show their appreciation.

Joey Jay Posts His Eighth Straight Win For Cincinnati

Yankees Pull Surprise By Downing Tigers, Garard And Desjardins Pace Winners With Top Display At Plate

We must have reached the end of the road, stated Manager Bruce Smith, of the Lennoxville Optimist Club sponsored Yankees in the Little League, as his team came up with their first win in five starts last night. They took a 19-14 win over the Lion's Club sponsored Tigers and discovered hidden talent in young Alvin Doherty who went all the way on the mound. Doherty, working slower on the mound, should win more than one game for his club.

Five bases on balls coupled with three hits got the Yankees away to a six run lead in the top of the first, George Garard, star catcher of the Yanks hit a grand-slam homer to knock in four of the six runs. Tigers came back with three in their part of the same stanza, second baseman Guay clouting a homer with one aboard.

Second and third inning the Yankees added six more runs with Desjardins getting his third hit of the game. Tigers kept right in there duplicating the Yanks by getting six runs. In the fourth the Yanks went scoreless while the Tigers took the lead for the first time. Four runs in the inning gave them a 13-12 lead, Hulle, Guay, Laur-endeau and Vachon doing the hitting.

Yanks, in the fifth, with four runs went out in front again. Cotton, Garard, Carr and Desjardins sending the runs across. Three more in the sixth settled the issue and put the Yanks in the win column. George Garard came up with his second double in the sixth. One tally was all the Tigers could get in the last two innings with the Yanks taking the game on the long end of a 19-14 count.

Yankees, showed lots of improvement, especially in the infield. Dudley Coates snared a long fly ball in deep center field in the last inning also had a big say in the Yanks' win. He cut down what might have been three runs for the Tigers as they had the bases loaded when he made the out. George Garard, Alvin Doherty and Ronnie Desjardins were the other Yankee stars.

Starting for the Tigers were Jacques Guay, Jacques Halle and Peter Masenboelder. V Lacasse, Mullin and Thompson were the umpires.

Yankees 6-3 0-4-3 19-14
Tigers 3-3-3 4-1-0 14-12

Pirates Trade Gino Cimoli To Braves For Johnny Logan In Straight Deal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirates traded outfielder Gino Cimoli to Milwaukee Braves Thursday night for shortstop Johnny Logan in a straight player deal.

At the same time, the Pirates announced the sale of catcher Bob Oldis to their Columbus club in the International League and the purchase of catcher Don Leppert from Columbus.

The Pirates also asked waivers on infielder Gene Baker to make room for outfielder Walt Moryn, purchased earlier in the day from St. Louis Cardinals. The Pirates said if Baker is not claimed within the 72-hour period, he will be given an unconditional release.

Cimoli, 31, appeared in 21 games for Pittsburgh this season and had a .299 batting average. Logan, a 34-year-old veteran, batted .105 for the Braves in 18 games.

Oldis, 31-year-old third-line receiver, was used in four games and had no average with the Pirates.

Leppert, 27, led the International League in batting with a

.391 average in 38 games. He was just named to the league's all-star team.

Baker, a utility infielder and pinch-hitter, appeared in nine games for the Pirates and was hitting .100.

Moryn was obtained for an undisclosed amount of cash and a minor league player to be named later. The Cardinals used him sparingly this season. He batted only 32 times, compiling a .125 average.

Pirates Sign High School Star Bailey For Bonus

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirates today signed prep baseball star Bob Bailey, 18, for what may have been baseball's biggest bonus.

Rumors place it around $175,000. The Pirates and Bailey aren't saying. The previous high figure—once carefully guarded in baseball circles—was believed to be about $50,000 less.

Bailey, just over six feet, weighs 185 pounds and hits like the village blacksmith.

He batted .475 in 19 high school games this season. He got better than average grades and turned down several football scholarships to big-name colleges to sign with the Pirates.

They are sending him to Ashville of the Class A Sally League to play shortstop.

Virtually every big-league club made an overture to Bailey.

Cowansville To Have Little League Loop

The Cowansville Lions Club regular bi-monthly dinner meeting held at the Maurice Hotel Tuesday evening was devoted to discussion and formation of a Cowansville Little League Baseball association. From the left are: Norm Browning, Lions zone chairman, Jim Wilson of Montreal, guest speaker, Jack Barker, club president, Norm Waldron, club secretary and Mayor Roland Desourdy.

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — The need of Little League Baseball is rapidly germinating in Cowansville.

Proof of this was shown Tuesday at the dinner meeting of the Cowansville Lions Club when Jim Wilson, Little League Baseball district representative for Quebec, gave the Lions some interesting pointers as to how to go about setting such a league in Cowansville.

The speaker, a resident of Montreal, addressed members Tuesday evening after hearing of the local service club's earlier intentions of forming a six-team pee wee baseball league.

To help finance this project, Lions have already undertaken a raffle that will be decided at the Princess Theater here, Wednesday, June 28. Some $600 proceeds are expected to be collected.

2-0 Lead Acquired By Britain Over South Africa

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Britain opened up a 2-0 lead over South Africa Thursday in the quarter-finals of the European zone Davis Cup tennis competition.

Mike Sangster, 20-year-old British star, defeated Julian Mayers 6-3, 6-2, 6-4 in the first match. Bobby Wilson made it 2-0 by downing Abe Segal, South Africa's Davis Cup veteran, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

The winner of the British-South African series will meet the winner of the Sweden-Spain series to be played June 16-18 at Barcelona in the European semi-finals.

France already has reached the semi-finals by eliminating Poland 5-0. France will meet the winner of the Italy-West Germany match.

Mr. Wilson first suggested that a four-team league instead of a six-team league should be formed here. First year operational costs would amount to close the $1,500. Each additional year would cost about $600. Each team would have a 15-player roster with boys ranging in age from 10 to 12 years.

"The organization and responsible leadership of the league is the most important factor for its success," Mr. Wilson said.

Before the project is undertaken, continued the speaker, committees should be set up to ensure financial assistance, obtain a piece of land where a decent diamond could be set up, and to ensure proper publicity and promotion.

"Little League in any community wants to make it," the district representative said.

He pointed out that Little League was the finest and largest sports organizations in the world. Started back in Williamsport, Pennsylvania, in 1939, the association now groups over 5,600 leagues including four to eight teams per league spread throughout 23 countries and including well over one million children.

Little League first got underway in Quebec in 1950 with the formation of four leagues in Montreal. Today there are 27 leagues throughout the province, Mr. Wilson said.

"The big stumbling block in Little League is the parents," Jim added. "Parents should not let personal influences take over. They should work towards the strengthening of the league and not be influenced by their children's play."

Mr. Wilson stressed the fact that there are no racial, religious or color barriers in Little League and branded it as the "healthiest thing that could happen to children."

Alouettes Sign American Trained Canadian Player

MONTREAL — The Montreal Alouettes Football Club announced the signing of another American college trained Canadian.

He is Jack Hannabach a half-back from the University of Wyoming, who played under the name of Jack Furrer.

Hannabach, 23 years old, 5'10" and 165 pounds was born in Killaly, Sask., Canada. He moved to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in May of 1949 where he resided with his aunt. While in the States he assumed her name, Furrer. He attended Wilkesburg High School where he was an outstanding football player, making All WPAAL and played in the Junior Chamber of Commerce All Star game in Pittsburgh. He also made 2nd team All State. His other sport in high school was track where he competed in the 100 yard dash and put the shot.

In 1937 he was awarded a football scholarship to the University of Wyoming where he played left halfback on offense and defensive halfback while handling some of the punting duties. He dropped out of school after this past football season.

Hannabach is married and the father of a five and a half month old girl. He is currently working out at Jarry Park and may see action in the Canadian Camp All Star Game this Saturday at Jarry.

The Senators backed the four-hit pitching of Ed Hobaugh (4-3) with an 11-hit attack against the Orioles, scoring the clinching run on a walk and singles by Gene Green and Chuck Cottier in the sixth inning. Hec Brown (6-3) was the loser.

Jose Valdivielso, a .116 hitter subbing for the injured Zolo Versalles at shortstop for the Twins, beat Kansas City and reliever Jerry Staley (0-4) with a ninth-inning single after the As had tied it in the ninth. Hank Bauer hit a two-run homer for the As and Bob Allison swatted a three-run double for the Twins. Jack Kralick (6-4) was the winner.

The White Sox broke up a two-hit shutout by Eli Grba (5-6) with three unearned runs in the eighth. Billy Pierce (3-5), winning two in a row for the first time this year, and reliever Warren Hacker combined for a four-hitter against the Angels, who dropped their eighth straight.

Stops Pirates 8-1 In A Breeze To Tie Giants For Second Position, Giants Whip Braves, Cardinals Win

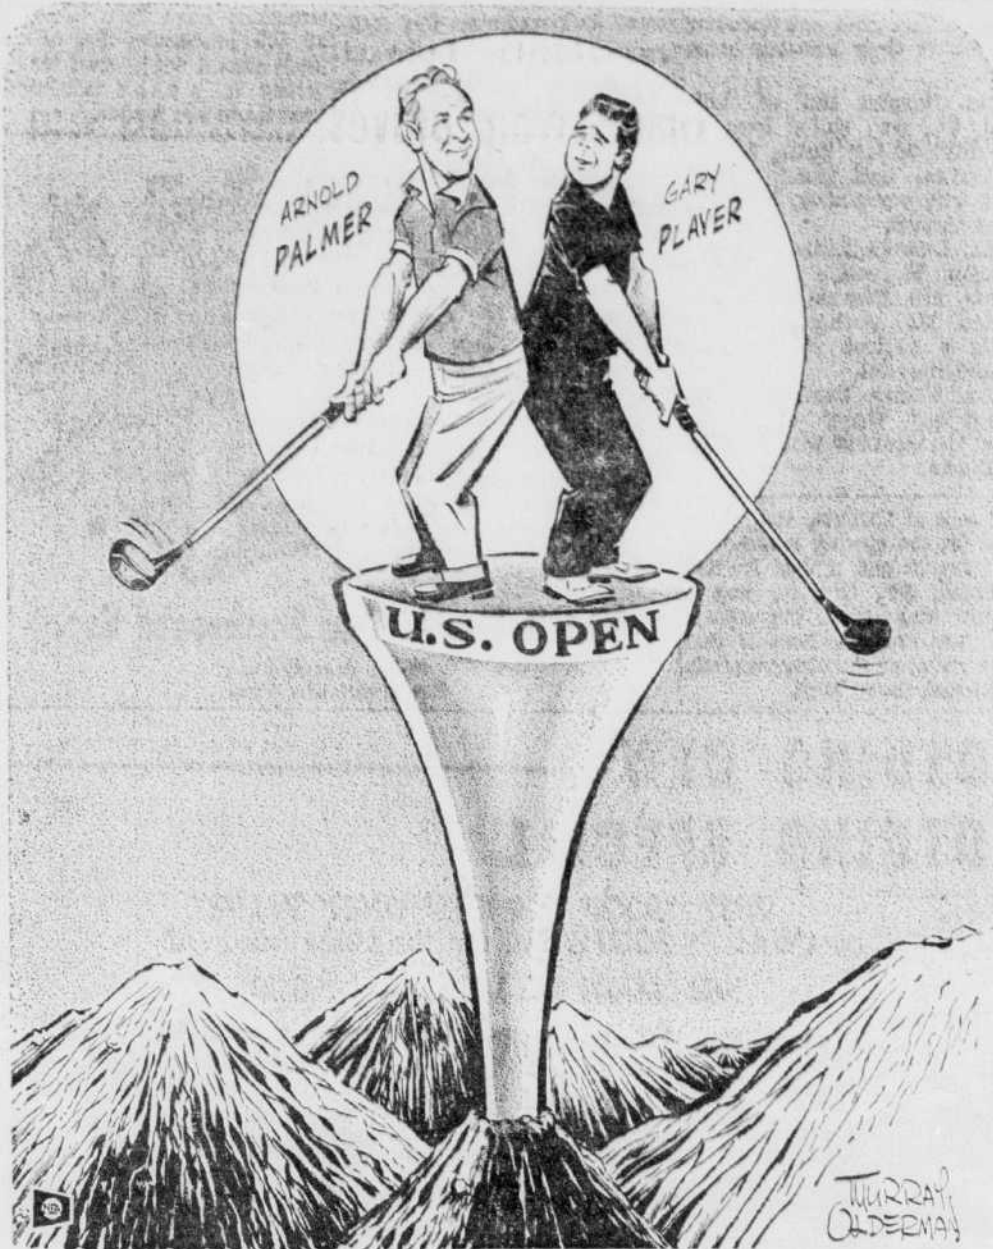

Righthander Joey Jay, over-due as a winner and figured expendable by Milwaukee Braves, is keeping things rosy for Cincinnati Reds in that leap-frog race for the National League lead.

Pal Joey, 25, who had only a 24-24 record for seven seasons with the Braves when he was swapped for shortstop Roy McMillan last winter, ended the Red's losing skid at two games with a breezy, 8-1 victory—his eight straight—over Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday night.

That kept the Reds in a second-place deadlock with the Giants, a half-game behind Los Angeles Dodgers.

Waterloo Rolls To 11-4 Win Over Sherbrooke In Error Studded Tilt

SUMMIT MEETING

Als Drop 11-4 As Miscues Play Big Part In Outcome, Drummondville Royals Here Sunday Evening At 8.00

Failure to hit in the clutches and errors proved costly to the Alouettes last night as they dropped a 11-4 decision to Waterloo in a regular fixture of the Provincial Eastern Townships Baseball League. In the other tilt Granby eked out a 2-1 verdict over Acton Vale.

On Sunday the Als will tangle with the Royals with the afternoon fixture in Drummondville and back home in the evening at the Park Avenue Stadium under the lights. The Sherbrooke Hotelmen's Association will make a donation to Lucien Dugre, president of the Als, at the Sunday night tilt.

Granby's win moved them into a first-place tie with Acton Vale for the leadership. It was a closely fought tilt with the Knights' new hurler, John Elias, hurling a two-hitter while Claude Groulx gave up six and was charged with the loss.

The Als commenced with Bert Cotterell, who worked five innings and drew the loss, but erratic support didn't help his cause. The Als were charged with three errors to start and this with three hits put Waterloo in the driver's seat.

Claude St. Vincent clouted a homer with two aboard to start things. The first up reached first on a single but then two errors allowed the next two to make it. In the next three innings Cotterell failed to give up a hit.

The fifth inning they bunched four hits, a double and three singles, to cross the plate twice. The Als picked up two hits in the first four innings. In the fifth they got two singles with a sacrifice fly and a couple of walks to tally three runs.

Claude Prud'homme took over and worked the last three innings. He gave up five runs on six hits while Cotterell had been touched for seven hits and six runs. Plourde ran into trouble in the seventh but managed to pull out without allowing a run. Three players were left stranded.

Rousseau, a new third baseman for the Als was the best at the plate with three hits while Jacques Monette picked up two. For the visitors it was Claude St. Vincent with a homer and single while Bert Morin batted out two bingles. Corbiere also collected two while Keith Peak clouted a homer in the top of the seventh and a single in the fifth.

The Als left 12 men stranded on the bases while Waterloo left seven. Waterloo committed three errors as both clubs played loose ball. Waterloo 400 020 311 11-13-3 Sherbrooke 000 030 001 4-11-7 Cotterell, Prud'homme (6) and Dubois; Plourde and J. Malouin.

Another 5 Years In NHL Expected By Gordie Howe

ST. CATHARINES (CP) —

Gordie Howe, 33, captain and left winger with Detroit Red Wings, said Thursday he expects to play "at least another five years" in the National Hockey League.

Howe, who has played 15 seasons with the Wings and scored more points than any other player in NHL history, said in an interview he wants to play 20 years with Detroit.

"Then I could hang up the skates with a paid-up, 20-year pension and some great memories."

Brompton-Brown Shoe Of Richmond Battle To 4-4 Deadlock, Game Is Called In Eighth By Darkness

RICHMOND . . . The Brompton-Richmond softball game played Wednesday night ended in a 4-4 tie after eight innings of play. Richmond remains undefeated in its five starts, having won their four other tilts.

Burly Bob Pariseau hurled the game for the local squad coming up with a four-hitter while Maurice St. Pierre, hurling for Brompton Hotel gave up twice as many hits. The former had eight strike-outs to his credit and allowed five walks. St. Pierre fanned two and walked four men.

Neither club scored in the first three innings and Brompton took a 3-0 in the fourth holding Brown Shoe to one run. Brown went ahead in the bottom half of the fifth holding Brompton scoreless. The Richmond crew scored three runs to take a 1-run lead but this was equalled by Brompton in the top of the sixth. Richmond was scoreless in the bottom half and neither club was able to break the deadlock. The seventh frame came along and both sides retired with out scoring.

An eighth inning was played and both pitchers worked hard to hold off the hitters. The fielding plays were good as both clubs put on the pressure in hopes of scoring an extra run. Umpires called the game on darkness and the tilt ended in the four-all tie.

Top hitters for Richmond were playing-coach Gerry Blais, with three hits, one a three-bagger. Catcher Connie Pariseau knocked out a three-bagger that scored three runs while Gilbert Gagnon bagged two hits and Emile Beauchesne showed up well in the infield. Brompton hitters did as well with one of their newly-acquired men knocking out two homers. Umpires in the game were Bruno Lavoie and Fern "Ted" Beaudoin of Richmond and R. Beaudoin of Brompton.

Windser has two games outside this week as they travel to Cookshire on Thursday and to Brompton Friday. Official opening of the league for the Richmond club will be held Sunday afternoon, June 18th, at the Brothers' School grounds for a 3-2, 11-inning victory over A doubleheader is scheduled place.

Geoffroy has been asked to throw out the first ball to get the season off on an official note.

Rookie Bob Brue Takes One-Stroke Lead In U.S. Open, Just Three Break Par, Bolt, Goalby One Stroke Back

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Nine players were locked at 72, including Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Rosburg and lead today in the 150-player field which plunged into the second round of the 61st U.S. Open golf championship.

Former champion Tommy Bolt fell into a second - place even-par 70 deadlock with Bob Goalby, another ambitious pro, in the first round Thursday.

All except three players were over par at windswept Oakland Hills. Today's second 18-hole skirmishing will reduce the field to the top 50 and ties for Saturday's closing double-round.

Brue, 26, playing in his second open, tamed the unruly par 35-35-70 course for the day's only sub-par round, 35-34-69.

Bunched between 71 and 74 were 46 players, including six former Open champions.

SEEKS FIFTH TITLE — Ben Hogan, seeking an unprecedented fifth open title, was grouped with six others at 71, two strokes off the pace.

REMEMBER WHEN — Norman (Baby) Yack, just a year out of amateur ranks, surprised everyone by gaining a split decision over Frankie Martin of Montreal to win the Canadian bantamweight boxing championship 24 years ago today.

Yack, one of Canada's most colorful boxers, built up an enviable ring record before joining the Canadian Army.

da Guia Tallies Winning Point For Brazil

MONTREAL (CP) — Ademir da Guia, the blond young son of a South American soccer great, supplied the payoff goal Thursday night when Bangor of Brazil shaded Montreal Concordia 1-0 in the International Soccer League.

The Brazilians had a substantial edge in play throughout, continually beating Concordia to the ball and denying the Montrealers even a single good scoring opportunity.

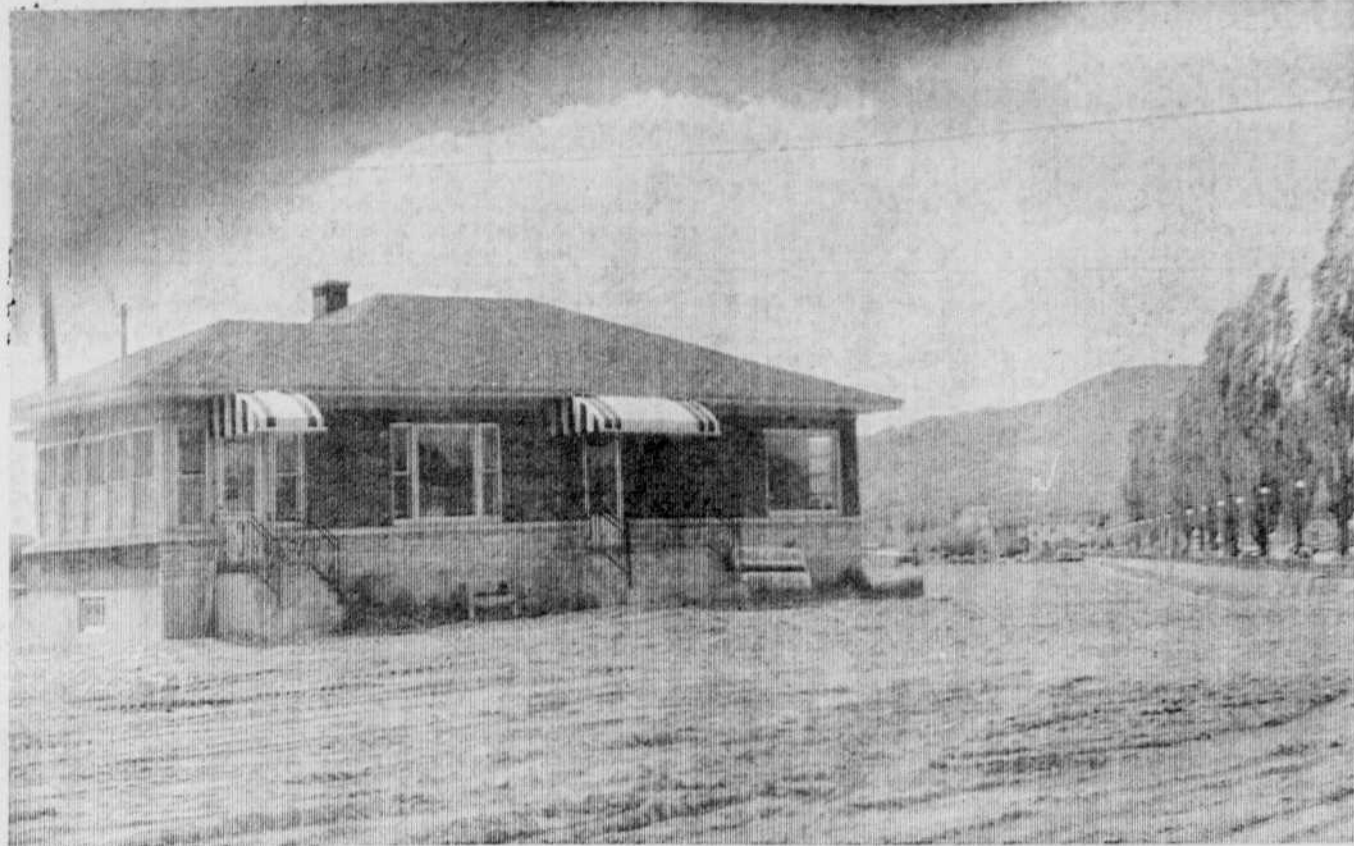

But Concordia salvaged the breaks and stayed in the game until the lanky da Guia cashed in with nine minutes to play on an 18-yarder that never left the ground.

Fishing Derby on Dominion Day weekend

By CHARLES CATCHPAUGH (Record Correspondent) MAGOG — Fishermen from various parts of Quebec, and some anglers from the New England States will again compete in the Memphremagog Conservation Club's fishing derby being held July 1st and 2nd. Still known as a provincial derby, this three year old event has been opened for all fishermen who wish to comply with rules and regulations set by the club, whose main objective is to raise funds to carry on their conservation projects. Top honours in the 1960 contest was won by a New Englander, and as Gerry Tremblay, president of the sponsoring group said, "It's any angler's day for prizes!" Main goal is winning the Molson trophy, but there are upwards of sixty-five other prizes to be given for individual catches and team efforts. This Dominion Day weekend derby does not only represent skill of fishermen, as a tremendous amount of pageantry accompanies the contest, which commences Friday evening the 30th of June. All those participating will rally for briefing on rules in the derby, and given a breakdown on fishing conditions in the Memphremagog Lake where the contest is taking place. Lines will start dropping at sun-up on the first, and many of the more ardent anglers will keep at their hobby till sunset. Others however will take part in a huge parade beginning at 2 p.m. off Sherbrooke Street in Magog. The procession will move along Main Street to Merry's Point where special outdoor entertainment is being planned. The parade will feature bands, floats, decorated cars plus a host of other colourful spectacles. Saturday evening there will be a dance at the New Magog Hotel followed by another enthusiastic bid by fishermen who will start fishing again on Sunday the 2nd at dawn the second in this two-day open contest. It'll be all over Sunday at 6 p.m. The final results will be tabulated, and trophies, prizes and honours shall be awarded at Magog's Union Hotel commencing at 8 p.m. Following presentations, and drawing for prizes there will be dancing. For some it will be rejoicing over their catches, and for others it will just climax another splendid weekend of fishing.

Weekly activities at Stanstead College

Sunday, June 11, 36 members of the staff and families were delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McClary at their cottage at Round Bay on Lake Massawippi. The weather was beautiful and the lake smooth, with hardly a ripple and several of the group enjoyed a ride and the scenic beauty of the south end of the lake. A buffet supper was held outdoors. Everyone had a good time. Three new trophies have been presented to the College and were in turn presented to students on Saturday. Philip Scowen gave one for Interhouse Challenge for the house receiving the most points during the year, this year won by Davis House. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Mello of Pembroke, Bermuda, whose son Roger is a student here, donated one for soccer and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Higgie of Lachute, whose son, David is also a student, gave one for senior football. All students but those writing government exams, Grades XI and XII have left the College as well as several of the staff, who have gone for their holidays. Sunday, June 18, the remaining boys, and the graduates will be entertained in the reception room for a supper and social program, when the headmaster, Dr. Harry Hutchison, will play a few piano selections and possibly others will contribute numbers. Farewell will be said by the staff to these boys, with wishes for success in the years which lie beyond their life here at Stanstead College. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Graham

A COURSE FOR FATHER'S DAY

The wind freshens . . . whitecaps form . . . the canvas fills and you are under way. You have charted the course, noted reefs and shoals, compensated for drift and current. The boy at the helm can steer a true course if you have chosen it well. Any father must feel the magnitude of the task of guiding his son through life's uncertain waters.

What responsible man could feel any other way? This is Fatherhood . . . the realization that nothing is so important as guiding your own son along a course that has maturity of outlook and responsibility as its destination. Such guidance requires a delicate touch, the mature understanding of a man who has sailed these waters before. And nowhere is this understanding more important than in the practice of Moderation in all things. It is this thought which The House of Seagram wishes to leave with you on Father's Day, 1961.
