RUMANIANS HAVE NOW TAKEN OFFENSIVE AND COMPELLED AUSTRO-GERMANS TO RETREAT

Russians Are Probably With Them—French Make Further Advance In St. Pierre Vaast Wood— Austrians Bring Up Heavy Reinforcements Against Italians—British Submarine Scores Hit On German Dreadnought

After a week or more of doubt concerning the operations in the Dobrudja region of Rumania, where the forces of the Teutonic allies had been marching almost unimpeded northward across the province from the Black Sea to the Danube, comes the report that the Rumanians have now taken the offensive, probably aided by Russians, and compelled the Teutonic allies to retreat at several points.

On the Transylvanian front, however, the Rumanians in the Jiu valley who for some time had been holding the upper hand over the Austro-Germans, forcing them to give ground, have now been stopped, the Teutons having brought up reinforcements. In the Predeal Pass region, after heavy fighting, the Rumanians also have met with a reverse being compelled to retreat after long and stubborn battles.

All along the battle line in France between the Somme and Aisne rivers the Germans are tenaciously disputing attempts by the British and French to get a further ground. Berlin says that in Sunday's fighting over a front of twelve miles the French and British suffered heavy casualties and won nothing except a local gain in the St. Pierre Vaast wood. London admits that the British were compelled to give back to the Germans ground the British had previously won at the Butte de Warlencourt. In the St. Pierre Vaast wood, however, the French Monday made a further advance in the northern part of the wood and captured additional prisoners—six hundred of whom were taken in the fighting of Sunday and Monday.

Rome reports that the Austrians are bringing up heavy reinforcements on the battle front north of Trieste. Here the Austrians apparently have taken the offensive, but nowhere have they been able to regain any of their lost positions, according to Rome.

Bombardments and small infantry attacks continue to feature the fighting in the Macedonian theatre.

London reports that a British submarine in the North Sea off the Danish coast has scored a hit on a German battleship of the Dreadnought class. The amount of damage done to the battleship is not known by the British Admiralty.

"GOTT STRAFE AMERICA" IS NOW GERMAN CRY

BUT HATRED FOR ENGLAND HAS NOT LESSENER— GERMAN WOMEN GIVE HUN GOVERNMENT TROUBLE—PEACE AND FOOD DESIRED.

New York, Nov. 7.—The New York Sun this morning publishes another instalment of the articles written by D. Thomas Curtin, of Boston, for the London Times, in which Mr. Curtin tells of the attitude of German women toward the war. Peace and food, Mr. Curtin says are the two principal subjects of conversation among German women. Excerpts from Mr. Curtin's article, follow:

"Beyond question the German women are not standing their losses as well as the women of England. The attitude of English women is quiet and not followed by peace talk which such events produce in German households. What surprises me in London is the fact that the word peace is hardly mentioned anywhere, whereas in any German tram car the two dominant words are 'friede' (peace) and 'essen' (food).

"Peace is always the German idea. Peace and food talk do not always result from the shortage, but from the difficulty of getting what is to be obtained and the increasing monotony. The feeling of the German women of the lower classes seems to rise and fall in curves, changing about every three months. There was a great curve of rebellious talk, food talk, peace talk in July immediately following the Somme offensive and the reports of the losses that trickled through.

"Gradually there began an agitation for a great munition strike about August 1. The proposal was effectually concealed by the censorship. There were, significant movements of machine guns to all points of danger and countless warnings were issued against anarchists. The German government went through a period of anxiety.

"Notice summoning semi-revolutionary meetings were whispered among women standing in the food lines. These women did not pay attention to the bell ringings, displays of flags and other manifestations ordered by the government upon every possible occasion, such as the safe arrival of the submarine Deutschland at Baltimore and her return to Bremen.

"Just before the first success over Rumania the same feeling was rising again which arose before August 1. Unless Germany achieves some success before Christmas I venture to prophesy it will rise once more. The interesting truth is that the women are the chief promoters of unrest. The unfortunate fact is that the government has the machine guns.

"The venom with which the German women regard the war is in contrast to the feeling expressed by English women. German women read a good deal about English and American women and cordially detest them.

"There is a notion in England, that the 'Gott strafe England' cry has ceased in Germany. I found no sign of it lessening. To it has been added 'Gott strafe America.' Pastors, professors and the press have told the German women that their husbands, sons and sweethearts are killed by American shells. Prince Rupert of Bavaria has made the public statement that half the Allies' ammunition is American.

"The feeling against America among the German women is so intense that the American flag had to be withdrawn from the American hospital at Munich, thought the hospital was supported by German-American funds."

POPE'S SYMPATHY FOR THE FRENCH.

Paris, Nov. 6.—A despatch to the Havas Agency from Naples says: "According to the Martino, Pope Benedict at the next consistory, will name three Cardinals from among the French prelates in order to show his sympathy for the French clergy. The candidates will be the Archbishops of Rennes, Rouen and Lyons."

HUN SHIP ATTO MAY BE INTERNED.

London, Nov. 7.—A Reuter despatch from Amsterdam says that the German steamer Atto, which has been lying in Antwerp harbor since the outbreak of the war, has arrived at Flushing, with the purpose of continuing the voyage to Rotterdam tomorrow. A military guard has been placed aboard the Atto, which probably will be interned.

ITALIANS RAID AUSTRIAN PORT

TORPEDOES ARE LAUNCHED— ENEMY STEAMERS SUNK AT DURAZZO.

Rome, via Paris, Nov. 6.—The following official communication regarding activity by the Italian naval forces was issued today:

"Italians torpedo boats daringly penetrated the anchorage of the Austrian fleet at Pola and ineffectively fired two torpedoes at a large warship and returned unharmed after making a comprehensive reconnaissance under the guns of the fortress.

"Italian torpedo boats sank a large enemy steamer moored under the shelter of the defenses at Durazzo (Albania), the night of Nov. 3."

Pola is the great naval port and arsenal of Austria at the extremity of the peninsula of Istria on the Adriatic, south of Trieste.

BOTH OF PRESIDENTIAL CAMPS ARE CONFIDENT

BETTING IN WALL STREET NARROWED DOWN TO 10 TO 8 ON HUGHES AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS—
WOMEN CANDIDATES.

New York, Nov. 6.—On the eve of the Presidential election general confidence in the result of the balloting tomorrow was expressed in the camps of the rival Republican and Democratic forces. Tonight the standard bearers of the leading parties remained quietly at their homes, President Woodrow Wilson at Shadow Lawn, and Charles E. Hughes at his hotel in New York. Surrounded only by immediate members of their families, the candidates plan to receive the election returns at their homes. Tomorrow Mr. Wilson will go to Princeton to vote, while Mr. Hughes will cast his ballot in New York city.

Officials to be elected follows:
President and Vice-President:
Thirty-three United States Senators.
Four hundred and thirty-five members of the House of Representatives Thirty-five governors.
Legislatures and other minor state offices.

A number of states will vote on certain amendments, chiefly of local interest. Six states, Idaho, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska and South Dakota, will however, vote on the prohibition question, an issue that is now looming large on the political horizon. The territory of Alaska will also vote on this question. In Arizona an amendment for the abolition of capital punishment will be up for popular decision.

Woman's part in the Presidential election is one of the outstanding features. In one quarter of the 48 states women have the vote this year. The twelve states are Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington, California, Arizona, Kansas, Oregon, Nevada, Montana and Illinois. The women in the last named six states have the vote for President this year for the first time. The interest political leaders take in this vote can be appreciated when it is seen that the states involved have ninety-one electoral votes, a little more than one-sixth of the Electoral College's total vote.

Miss Jeannette Rankin, of Montana, is running for Congress on the Republican ticket and in California Mrs. Josephine Fernald, of San Francisco, is an aspirant for a seat in Congress as a Democrat. If they are elected they will be the first women to win seats in the National House of Representatives.

For the first time in the history of Wall street betting on the outcome of a Presidential election today, the day before the votes are to be counted, the odds narrowed. In all former years the odds on "election Monday" have remained as they were or have fallen wider apart.

At the opening of business in Wall street the odds were ten to seven on Hughes, the same as Saturday. By noon the odds had narrowed down

BRITISH ADMIRALTY DENIES HUN CLAIM

HAS NEVER ORDERED SUBMARINE SURVIVORS NOT TO BE RESCUED.

London, Nov. 6.—The Admiralty tonight in a published communique again denies that it ever issued orders that survivors of German submarines need not be rescued. The communique states that the German press "is trying to make capital out of what they describe as a second Barcelona case, possibly in order to incite American opinion against Great Britain and as a pretext for an unstrained submarine campaign."

The communique cites the facts of the case showing that a British auxiliary flying a neutral flag on Sept. 24, 1915, approached a German submarine in the western channel engaging in sinking a British merchantman. When within range the auxiliary hoisted a white ensign and fired on and sank the submarine and then rescued the crew of the merchantman from their boats. When this was done she also rescued two of the submarine's crew who had climbed into a drifting boat.

The communique claims that the use of a neutral flag was justifiable, as shown by the German practice in the case of the Moeve and in other instances, and says that "nobody but a German could base an allegation of brutality on the lapse of a few minutes between the rescue of Britishers and Germans."

As described by the German Admiralty, the submarine was engaged in the examination of a steamer in the neighborhood of the Scilly Islands, apparently an innocent merchantman, flying the American flag. The steamer, according to this account, ostensibly prepared to lower a boat, but when the submarine had approached to within 300 yards the supposed merchantman suddenly opened concealed ports and began firing. The submarine was sunk, but two of the crew reached the water and swam for an empty boat. The German Admiralty alleges that the steamer attempted to ram the boat to 10 to 8 1-2, with bets made at those figures.

Just before the close of business bets were made on the curb at 10 to 9. On the Stock Exchange floor the odds on large amounts were 10 to 8 on Hughes.

BOSTON MAN EXPOSES GERMAN WAR SECRETS FROM "INSIDE GERMANY"

lady had put on her best—part of which was a huge silver medallion of Hindenburg and one of the Kaiser, and a bust of the crown prince, in the dining room. The best that the war diet permitted was provided. At that time, last November, certain English newspapers and speakers seemed to be under the obsession that Germany was starving. Well, I had an excellent meal of the German kind.

I do not propose to set forth my travels and investigations in Germany in chronological order. At the moment the inner world of Germany and part of England (though not all) realize that the real war is the battle of the Somme. I propose to deal with some experiences in connection with the battle of the Somme as seen from the German side.

Early in August, last, I was in Berlin. The British and French offensive had commenced on July 1. Outwardly it appeared to attract very little notice on the part of Germany, and I do not believe that it attracted sufficient attention in the highest military quarters. It was considered to be Great Britain's final "bluff."

Thought "Big Push" a Trifle.

One hot evening I met a young officer in Berlin whom I had known on a previous visit to Germany, and who was home on 10 days' furlough. I noticed that he was ill or out of sorts, and he told me that he had been unexpectedly called back to his regiment on the western front.

"How is that?" I said. He made a curious and indescribable German gesture, which shows discontent and dissatisfaction. "Those English are putting every man they have got into a ridiculous and final attempt to make us listen to peace terms. My leave is cut short and we are off this evening," he said.

"You have been in England, haven't you?" he inquired.

"Yes," I said.

"They seem to have more soldiers than we, though," he said. "They seem to be learning the business. My battalion has suffered terribly."

Within the next two or three days there were other rumors in Berlin, rumors quite unknown to the masses. I was told by a friend that if I wanted to learn the truth I should go out to Potsdam and see the arrival of the wounded men of the famous Prussian Guard who had, he said, had a terrible experience at the hands of the English at Contalmaison July 10.

The Facts Would Shake Germany.

He drew me aside and told me, for he is, I am sure, a real German patriot, that the state of things on the Somme, if known throughout Germany, would effectively destroy the pretensions of the annexationist party, who believed that Germany has won the war and will hold Belgium and the conquered portions of France and Poland.

He warned me that I should have the greatest difficulty in getting anywhere near the military railway sidings in Potsdam.

I asked another friend if there was anything particular happening in the war, and told him that I thought of going to Potsdam, and he said:

"What for? There is nothing to be seen there the same old drilling, drilling, drilling."

So well are secrets kept in Germany!

However, I went. What I saw there is known to the German people, would shake the very foundations of the empire.

The fourth of August is the anniversary of what is known in Germany as "England's Treachery"—the day that England entered the war.

BY JOVE!

said a well educated man the other day when he was asked this question:—"Why, when you have a cold, a cough or bronchitis (troubles, you will note, of throat and chest) do you persist in pouring cough syrups, lung tonics and the like into your stomach, which is perfectly sound?"

Ever think of it? The stomach and the lungs are not connected, otherwise food swallowed would choke you. Lung and throat troubles were never yet cured by dosing the stomach. To cure coughs, colds and bronchitis, you must breathe the cure. Peps provide the rational treatment for these ailments. Peps are tablets made up of pine extracts and medicinal essences, which when put into the mouth turn into healing vapors. These are breathed down direct to the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes—not swallowed down to the stomach, which is not ailing. Try a 50c. box of Peps for your cold, your cough, bronchitis or asthma. All drug stores and stores or Peps Co., Toronto, will supply in what the German government tells the people is a "base and cowardly attempt to beat her by starving innocent women and children."

There were a couple of officers of the Guard Cavalry in the same carriage with me. They also looked out. "Act, noch einmal." ("What, more of the old?" disconcertingly remarked the elder.) They were a gloomy pair and they had reason to be. The German public has begun to know a great deal about the wounded.

Number of Wounded Not Told.

They do not know all the facts, because wounded men are, as far as possible, hidden in Germany and never sent to Socialist centres unless it is absolutely unavoidable. The official figures which are increasing at an enormous rate since the development of England's war machine, are falsified by manipulation.

And if easy proof be needed of my assertion, I point to the monstrous official misstatement involved in the announcement that over 90 per cent of the wounded Germans return to the firing line! Of the great crush of the wounded at Potsdam I doubt if any appreciable portion of the serious cases will return to anything but permanent invalidism. They are suffering from shells, not shrapnel, I gathered.

Arrival of the Prussian Guard.

One of the trains had just stopped. The square was blocked with vehicles of every description. I was surprised to find that great German furniture vans, which by comparison with those in use in England and the United States, look almost like houses on wheels, were drawn up in rows with military precision. As if there were not enough, the whole of the wheeled traffic of Potsdam seemed to be commanded by the military for the lightly wounded—cabs, tradesmen's wagons, private carriages—everything on wheels, except of course, motor cars, which are non-existent, owing to the rubber shortage. Endless lines of stretchers lay along the low embankment sloping up to the line. Doctors, nurses and bearers were waiting for the wounded.

The presence of the military at the stations stopped, but only for a moment. The police, of which there will never be any dearth if the war lasts 30 years, motioned them on a slight movement of the hand being sufficient.

I was so absorbed that I failed to note the constable until he laid his heavy paw on my shoulder and told me to move on. A schoolmaster and his wife had taken advantage of the glorious sunshine to get away from Berlin to spend a day midst the woods near Potsdam. They asked an officer what the matter was. The reply was: "Nothing to be seen here. Get along!"

The great Hush! Hush! Hush! machinery of Germany was at work. Not to be baffled I moved out of the square into the shelter of a roadside tree, on the principle that a distant view would be better than none at all. But a police lieutenant tackled me at once. I decided to work on the German military theory that attack is the best method of defence, and stating that I was a newspaper correspondent, asked him if I might not see the wounded taken from the train.

He very courteously replied that I might not, unless I had special permission from Berlin.

I remembered a low window in the first and second class dining room in the station, from which a very close view of the tragedy could be gained. I knew there was no train back to Berlin for an hour and a half. I took a ticket, handed it to the uniformed woman, who deals with them as in England, and explained to the soldier who stood beside her that I would like to get into the dining room to read and get something to eat. I walked straight to the window and ordered butterless bread. My ruse succeeded. I saw everything and unmo-

Then it was that I learned the use of those mammoth furniture vans. These vans are a part of Germany's plan by which her wounded are carried. I will not say secretly, but as unobtrusively as possible. In some of the mammoth vans were put 12; into others 14; others held as many as 20. The Prussian Guard had come home. The steel corps of the army of Germany had met at Contalmaison the light-hearted boys I had seen drilling at Hyde Park last year, and in a furious counter attack in which they had attempted to regain the village, had been wiped out.

There were not merely wounded, but dejected wounded. The whole atmosphere of the scene was that of intense surprise and repression. Tradition going back to Frederick the Great, nearly 200 years ago, had been smashed.

The extreme cases were carried at a snail's pace by the bearers, who put their feet down as carefully as if they were testing very thin ice, and who placed the comfortable spring stretchers in the very few vehicles which had rubber or imitation rubber tires. Each train discharged 600 or 700 maimed passengers. Nor was this the last of the influx. The Guard represents the physical flower of the German arm and is sent only where there is supreme work to be done. English people simply do not understand its prestige at home and among neutrals. If you hear it has been hurried into a charge you may rest assured that it is striving to attain something for which Germany sets the highest price—for the lifeblood of the Guard is the dearest she can pay.

The evacuation of the wounded occupied hours. I purposely missed my train, for I knew that I was probably the only foreign civilian to see the historic picture of the proudest soldiery of Prussia return to its garrison town from the greatest battle in history.

It was the visages of the men on the stretchers that riveted my attention. Never saw so many men so completely exhausted. Not one pair of eyes relaxed into a smile, and not an eye lit up with the glad recognition of former surroundings.

In Berlin at that moment the afternoon editions were fluttering their daily headlines of victory to the crowds, and here the mammoth vans were passing slowly through the streets of Potsdam. To the women who stood in long lines waiting with their potage and butter tickets, they were merely ordinary cumbersome furniture wagons as they passed.

How were they to know that these tumblers contained the bloody story of Contalmaison?

TIRED OF WORD "EMPIRE."

New York, Nov. 6.—Speaking at a luncheon given in his honor here today by the Pilgrims of the United States, Right Rev. Hayshe Wolcott Yeatman-Biggs, Bishop of Worcester, England, asserted that the role which English people believe the most thoughtful Americans desire to play is that their nation shall be "hailed by all the world, even by those who have been at war, as the herald of true peace and of progress which gives to every nation, big or little, a place in God's sun."

Later in his address the Bishop said:

"I doubt whether the temper of the Allies would ever suffer any suggestion of peace intervention until the cause for which we are ready to give our all is accomplished."

The British prelate declared that some day England with her allies will win "another world victory for the freedom of men," and that "new aspects of the relation of capital to labor, new phases of religion, politics, and domestic economy, must find their place in our new house."

"When peace comes, it would be indeed helpful if the neutral countries lent a hand in the adjustment of all our furniture, in the adjustment of those social conditions which will make for a lasting commonwealth. That is what we aim at. We are tired of the word 'Empire.' I do not think we want any longer to talk of the British Empire. We want to talk of the British brotherhood and the British Commonwealth."

NEW AND DEADLY DISEASE APPEARS IN THE TRENCHES

"ASPIRO-CHETOSE ICTERO-HEMORRHAGIQUE," THE DOCTORS CALL IT—THE MEN CALL IT "YELLOWNESS."

Paris, Nov. 6.—A new and deadly disease which has appeared in the trenches along the western front, particularly in the Somme area, has been defined. It is caused by soldiers drinking water which collects in shell holes, and in nearly all cases has proved fatal. A serum has been discovered, however, which is expected to save many men afflicted with this "acute jaundice" or "yellowness," as it has been erroneously called for some months.

In the Russo-Japanese war appeared the first cases of "aspiro-chetose ictero-hemorrhagique," as the disease is technically termed. The sufferers assumed a yellowish, jaundiced appearance, and usually within three to five days were dead. Symptoms were particularly hard to note in the case of Japanese sufferers because of their naturally yellowish cast of skin; but when hundreds of Russian troops were stricken with it during the battle of Mukden it was realized that a new disease had been encountered.

Almost before the doctors and surgeons had time to get down to work on this mysterious disease, however, the Japanese had stretched the Russians line to a breaking point snapped it, and won the battle and the war.

Cases in Russo-Japanese War.

"Yellowness" did not appear in any degree of frequency in the present war until the Somme offensive was well under way. The "Champagne offensive" did not last long enough to produce the conditions necessary for the disease, it is believed, and the French did not classify the malady under its proper terms.

But, when dozens and scores of British troops came down with it at the Somme the British doctors concentrated on the peculiar disease. They sent guinea pigs inoculated with blood from patients suffering from the deadly disease to the Pasteur Institute here. Drs. Louis Martin and Auguste Pettit took the matter in hand and began elaborate experiments. They received further reports on the disease as it raged on the British front.

Fifty sufferers were concentrated in one hospital near Amiens. Dr. Inada of the Japanese School of Medicine, who had worked on the strange malady when it appeared in the Mikado's ranks before Mukden, aided the British and French doctors in studying its cause and course.

The Symptoms.

Men suffering from the disease first complained of severe laches, then repeated strokes of fever and intense jaundice, when the skin took on a vivid yellow color. In many cases there was hemorrhage.

An isolated virus was finally obtained from the infected guinea pig and this was used on rabbits and horses. From these experiments the doctors agreed on a solution, the strength of which was judged proper for a man. Now all suspected cases are given the serum immediately.

It is believed that the action of rain water on shell cases and other metal fragments usually found in shell holes, as well as the presence of putrifying flesh, causes the generation of a peculiar form of poison. Then when soldiers, trapped in these shell holes by barrage fire, drink the water they are immediately stricken.

"Yellowness" is said to be the first new disease directly discovered and classified in this war, as, although it made its first appearance in the Russo-Japanese conflict, it was never definitely classified.

FRENCH HAVE MADE ADDITIONAL PROGRESS

MORE GAINS ARE MADE IN THE ST. PIERRE VAAST WOOD—SIX HUNDRED MORE PRISONERS WERE TAKEN YESTERDAY.

Paris, via London, Nov. 6.—Additional progress was made during Monday by the French troops operating in the northern part of the St. Pierre Vaast wood and more prisoners also have been taken by them, according to the official communication issued tonight. The communication says:

"North of the Somme we continued our progress during the day in the northern part of St. Pierre Vaast wood. We have taken in this sector since yesterday over 600 prisoners."

"It is confirmed that the enemy in the course of his violent counter-attacks last night on our positions in the St. Pierre Vaast wood suffered very heavy losses."

"On the Verdun sector there has been only an artillery struggle which continued in the Douaumont-Vaux-Damloup region."

"In the Vosges a sudden attack on one of our small posts in the Ficht valley failed. On the remainder of the front calm prevailed."

"Eastern army—Along the whole front (Macedonia) there is nothing to report except intermittent artillery duels and patrol encounters; British airplanes have dropped several bombs on Bogdanitz (eight miles north-east of Doiran)."

MONTREAL PAYS FOR DOUBTFUL CHINESE EGGS

Montreal, Nov. 6.—The city of Montreal was condemned by the Court of Appeal today to pay John Layton & Company, $300 as compensation for the famous seizure of $100,000 worth of Chinese frozen eggs on their arrival in this city in October, 1910. The company sued for $28,000, and this action was dismissed by Mr. Justice Monet in the Superior Court of Quebec on June 28, 1915. The company appealed, and the decision today was on this appeal. The appellants' head office is in London, England, and they have an American office in New York. The frozen eggs were shipped in cans in bulk, having been put up in Hankow, China, shipped to Liverpool and thence to Montreal. The shipment to this city consisted of 258 tons. Fifty tons were forwarded to Toronto, and the balance stored in a local cold storage establishment. The eggs were seized by the city on the ground that they were not wholesome and suitable for food.

TRADE QUESTION DISCUSSED BY SIR GEO. FOSTER

ELOQUENT ADDRESS ON THE ECONOMIC CONFERENCE HELD AT PARIS.

Toronto, Nov. 6.—An eloquent address on the results and probable effects of the economic conference at Paris was delivered at the Canadian Club weekly luncheon today by Sir George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

In vivid language Sir George drew a picture of the eight nations drawn up about the conference table in Paris.

The conclusions reached by the Allied economic conference were divided, he said, into three categories. The first related to the action of the Allies during the war, in prohibiting all trade exchanges and transactions between any of the Allied nations and the enemy. The great problem that had to be faced here was determining how much trade should be enjoyed by neutral countries like Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Switzerland, which were like sponges surrounding the Central powers of Europe. "The rights of neutrals have been studied in every possible way," said the speaker, "and I think that it is due to Great Britain's earnest attention and great fairness in dealing with this question that the rights of neutral countries have been so well preserved."

The second set of conclusions referred to the course of action to be taken by the Allied countries in the reconstruction period, following the war. "The war has broken into shreds the treaties and conventions containing arrangements with favored nations, by which Germany bound certain countries to her in such a way as to gain great advantage for herself. The Allied delegates resolved, that these should remain scraps of paper and that they shall not be renewed. In short, this allows the Allied countries to be free to make any arrangements they like without considering the Central or enemy powers." The second category included provision against the dumping of products from enemy countries during the period of reconstruction, the first fall for materials should be made by the Allies upon the supplies of the Allied nations themselves, and not upon the enemy or neutrals.

The third conclusion to be reached concerning the matter of a permanent policy between the nations at present allied against Germany. What attitude should the Allies assume towards the enemy following the period of reconstruction. It was agreed, said Sir George, that all their natural resources and industries should be developed by co-operation and mutual good-will and self-help, so as to make the Allied nations entirely independent of the Central enemy powers. "Whether it shall be by government enterprise, or cooperative effort assisted by governments, or restrictive tariffs up to the point of efficiency, it was agreed that such a policy should be adopted. There shall be uniform, constant and honorable use of one, or all, or any, of these different means, as may be best suited to the purpose."

APPEALS FOR RECRUITS.

Montreal, Nov. 6.—Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., M.L.A., Toronto, who addressed the Montreal Reform Club on Saturday and spoke at St. James' Methodist Church here last evening, made a strong appeal at the Canadian Club luncheon in the Windsor Hotel at noon today in behalf of recruiting. Speaking of the lack of reinforcements in the Canadian army at various times, Mr. Rowell said that last summer in England there were not enough trained men among the Canadians to furnish proper reserves for the army in the field.

FAMOUS BATTLE PICTURES WILL BE HERE THURSDAY

"BATTLE OF THE SOMME" IN MOVING PICTURES AT THE AUDITORIUM ON THE 9TH, 10TH AND 11TH.

"The Battle of the Somme" motion pictures will be seen here at the Auditorium this week-end, beginning Thursday afternoon.

The silent fascination in which an audience views the official motion pictures of "The Battle of the Somme" the greatest film ever produced, is described in The Manchester Despatch of England, where it showed in thirty motion picture theatres.

Its account follows in full: The struggle on the western front became a reality to scores of thousands of Londoners yesterday. "If we had had something like this in the old recruiting days we should not have wanted conscription" said a member of the London recruiting staff when the show at the Scala was over.

To the regular picture theatre patrons the attitude of the audience was a surprise. Once, for a whole quarter of an hour, not a sound could be heard. The reality is so terrible, the war seems so close that one feels there is no time to breathe. Silently the vast audiences watched the troops move up to the firing line, from which many would never return. Silently they watched the grim preparations, the fixing of bayonets and wire-cutters, the last hitch to the belt, the last look toward the officer in command.

Even the last dash over the top surely the most wonderful motion picture that will ever be taken was watched in silence. But it was a silence so tense that it was startling. It was only when the Lancashire Fusiliers and the Royal Fusiliers came marching back with smiling faces that the tension was broken and there was time and inclination to cheer.

There have been many questions raised in the past few days as to whether the film was "fit" for say women and children to see. Let it be said that it was a harrowing spectacle, but let it be said also that there is a positive duty to see it, for it shows better than all description in the world just what the men at the front are doing and bearing for Britain.

One of the most striking features of the Somme battle has been the condition of publicity in which it has been waged and the official film, "The Battle of the Somme," the greatest motion picture ever produced, will do more than any number of lectures and speeches to show the worker at home what is really going on.

He sees at once the vast preparations, the wonderful organization of the army behind the army that has been perfected during the months of waiting. Then he sees the launching of the attack, and as he sits at home there comes a glimpse not merely of the horrors of war, but of its glories, of unselfish British soldiers sharing their cigarettes with their prisoners, of the wounded patiently waiting their turn at the dressing stations, of men staggering back to the British line with wounded companions on their backs. And all the time one feels that these men, cheery under the most trying conditions, are members of a victorious army.

The films are full of dramatic incidents—the explosion of a monster mine which envelops the countryside in debris and smoke, the devastating effect of the Royal Marine Artillery's 15-inch howitzer, the burying of the dead and the pathetic picture of the Manchesters' pet dog, killed with his master in the storming of the Dantzg alley.

But there is nothing more stirring than the sight of the infantry rushing over the parapet to the attack, some of them falling even before they have cleared their own wire.

These pictures will be shown in Quebec under the auspices of the "Chronicle."

KILLED BY FALLING ON HIS UMBRELLA

YOUNG MAN MET WITH STRANGE FATAL ACCIDENT AT THREE RIVERS.

A despatch from Three Rivers yesterday announced a strange fatal accident in which a young man named Hebert from Yamaska lost his life by falling on his umbrella.

It is related that the victim was walking along the street with his umbrella under his arm when he slipped and fell, the point of a rib of his umbrella entering his nose and penetrating his forehead. He was taken to hospital and expired forty-eight hours later.

MONTREAL WOULD HIT CONTROLLERS

NEW AMENDMENT TO CHARTER TENDS TO NULLIFY THEIR POWER.

Montreal, Nov. 6.—A majority of the aldermen voted this afternoon, at a meeting of the City Council, for a temporary amalgamation of the Board of Control with the aldermen to carry on the civic administration until the civic elections in 1918, when it is proposed to abolish the Board of Control. An amendment to the city charter is being sought at Quebec to the end that the Board of Control may cease to exist, and pending the legislation desired by the aldermen they propose to clip the controllers' wings by "amalgamating" them with the aldermen in such fashion as to nullify the controllers' powers.

HUNDREDS OF HUNS RAN TO SURRENDER

HALF DOZEN FRENCH GUARDS TOOK THEM TWO AND HALF MILES TO REAR.

With the French Army on the Somme Front, Sunday, Nov. 5, via Chantilly, from a staff correspondent of The Associated Press.—The battle today in the district between Sailly and St. Pierre wood was fought without the assistance of aeroplanes. The wind blowing eighty miles an hour prevented the planes from ascending and consequently the artillery fire from a hundred German batteries, as well as from the French and British was uncontrolled aerially. Every inch of the battle ground was a danger spot, and the correspondent of The Associated Press and other correspondents were compelled to take shelter in a dugout.

When the French infantry attacked a powerfully defended series of trenches with trench mortars and grenades they found a strong garrison, which in one portion surrendered, in a body, with their officers, more than five hundred running at a racing pace into the French lines and for two miles and a half to the rear accompanied by only half a dozen French guards. It was a strange sight when they ran the cauntlet of the German barrage fire.

St. Pierre-Vaast wood is more than two kilometres square, with many positions enfolding each other, and proved a most difficult problem for the French. But French infantry finally rushed the place and held it with slight losses. The battle continued into the night.

THE DOMINIONS

ROYAL COMMISSION.

The members of the Dominions' Royal Commission leave Quebec today for England, after having spent a week in our city; where they have made many friends and have created a most favorable impression. Their business investigation in this city has been most thorough, although conducted in a very expeditious manner, involving as it did the examination of a great number of very competent witnesses in all departments of commerce, and will, we feel sure, be productive of much good in bringing the attention of public men in the mother country and in other parts of the Empire to the wonderful resources of the Province of Quebec in timber, water-powers, pulp, paper, fisheries and minerals, and to the facilities offered by the port of Quebec, where the largest ships can come, as a new and very short route to reach the wheat fields of the west.

A very pleasing incident in the visit of the Royal Commission was the reply of the Chairman, Sir Alfred Bate-ment, K.C.M.G., to the address of welcome presented to him by Mayor Lavigne, at the City Hall, when that gentleman responded, impromptu, and in well chosen words, in French. Some of our statesmen on this side might profit by such an example and learn the language of diplomacy.

The citizens of Quebec will, we feel sure, join with us in wishing the members of the Royal Commission a very pleasant voyage home, and a successful result to their patriotic efforts for the promotion of Imperial trade.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

Betting in New York is now much more favorable to Hughes. This would seem to indicate rapidly growing confidence, as the election draws near, in the success of the Republican candidate. Let us see to what extent this confidence is justified.

Here is a list of the States, with their electoral vote, which are claimed for Wilson and not seriously contested by the Republican managers:

For Wilson:

Summary:

For Hughes	197
Doubtful	135

Total 531

Necessary to a choice, 268.

It will be noticed that in the second and third tables, we have given figures after the name of each State. This is to prove that, but for the Republican split four years ago, Taft would surely have been re-elected. In other words, but for the Roosevelt bolt, Wilson never would have been elected at all. The figures in parentheses are in each case the majority of the Republican and Progressive vote combined over the Democratic vote. It will thus be seen that in the great struggle on Tuesday next, everything depends on the extent to which the breach has been healed and the wanderers have come back to the fold.

Great interest will attach to the vote in New York State. There the Republicans say they expect a majority of about 100,000 while the Democrats look for a majority of about 50,000. If the vote in the Electoral College is very close, New York may on this occasion, as so often before, be the pivotal State.

Of the really doubtful States the largest is Illinois. Here the women for the first time vote in a national election, and it is thought they will turn the scale. Whether they are more attracted by Wilson than by Hughes is the question.

Important elements will be the labor vote and the German-American vote. The former may go to Wilson because of his advocacy of the eight-hour day, while the latter is expected to go heavily to Hughes.

PRESS COMMENT.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Not a Plague—But a Panic.

(Editorial from the Philadelphia, Pa. Inquirer, Sept. 26, 1916.)

For adopting a common sense method of handling infantile paralysis Atlantic City is to be commended. Here is a city that has been crowded throughout the summer. Its guests have been numbered by the hundreds of thousands, coming from all parts of the country. The figures are placed at 2,000,000 by Mayor Bacharach, including a quarter of a million children. Here, if anywhere, according to theory, there should have been an epidemic. But there have been but 22 cases of paralysis in all, five of which were returned to Philadelphia. Of the remaining 17 not one proved fatal. There is a record for you!

Atlantic City has not been neglectful. It has kept itself clean and it has examined the certificates of children and maintained a general oversight after their arrival. But—and here is the important point—

THE WONDERFUL
FRUIT MEDICINEThousands Owe Health And Strength To "Fruit-a-lives"

"FRUIT-A-LIVES", the marvellous medicine made from fruit juices—has relieved more cases of Stomach, Liver, Blood, Kidney and Skin Troubles than any other medicine. In severe cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Pain in the Back, Impure Blood, Neuralgia, Chronic Headaches, Chronic Constipation and Indigestion, "Fruit-a-lives" has given unusually effective results. By its cleansing, healing powers on the eliminating organs, "Fruit-a-lives" tones up and invigorates the whole system.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

It has refused to carry on a campaign of frightfulness, and to this fact it believes that very much of its remarkable freedom from paralysis is due.

The disease is not new. It is usually in evidence, but this year it has broken bounds. Had other cities pursued the course of Atlantic City, had the public not been frightened out of its wits; had the authorities gone about their duties without hysteria, would there have been any such roll as there has been? We very much doubt it.

We cannot recall when there has been such a studied effort to produce fear. It began with the medical officials of New York. The modern method of preventing disease seems to be to frighten every one to death in an effort to escape it. In any event, New York medical men did their very best to give every parent a miserably wretched summer, and those of other cities have been quick to follow their example. Every mother has been made nervous. Every father has feared the worst. Let a dozen physicians get together and manufacture a new disease and placard its mythical symptoms and that disease, which never had existence, will have its run. There is no doubt in the world that great impetus has been given to infantile paralysis by the fear that has been forced upon parents, but upon children, and it is remarkable to what an extent the newspapers and magazines of the country, including medical journals, have taken up his idea.

Infantile paralysis has never been a "plague," it has been a panic, and well would it be if the medical authorities everywhere would take the lesson of the panic to heart and govern themselves accordingly in future, for to their mistaken zeal much of the summer's suffering is unquestionably chargeable. The experience of Atlantic City proves it.

SONGS OF THE TRAWLERS.

IV.—Kilmeny.

(By Alfred Noyes, in The London Chronicle)

Dark, dark lay the drifters against the red west.

As they dropped their long meshes of steel overside;

And the oily green waters were rocking to rest.

When Kilmeny went out, at the turn of the tide;

And nobody knew where that lassie would roam,

For the magic that called her was tapping unseen.

It was well-nigh a week ere Kilmeny came home;

And nobody knew where Kilmeny had been.

With a gun at her bow that was New castle's best,

And a gun at her stern that was fresh from Clyde.

And a secret her skipper had never confessed.

Not even at dawn, to his newly-wed bride;

And a wireless that whispered above, like a gnome

The laughter of London, the boasts of Berlin.

O, it may have been mermaids that lured her from home;

But nobody knew where Kilmeny had been.

It was dark when Kilmeny came home from her quest.

With her bridge dabbled red where her skipper had died;

But she moved like a bride with a rose at her breast;

And "Well done, Kilmeny," the Admiral cried.

Now, from sixty-four fathom, a conger may come

And tell you his tale of a drowned submarine.

But late in the evening Kilmeny came home;

And nobody knew where Kilmeny had been.

There's a wandering shadow that stares at the foam.

(Though they sing all the night to old England, their queen.)

Late, late in the evening, Kilmeny came home

And nobody knew where Kilmeny had been.

SYRUP OF FIGS."

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomachache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours it'll be fount, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

BATTALION MATE OF SGT.-MAJOR MCLEOD

SGT. BAGNELL OF ORIGINAL 14TH BATT. RETURNS FROM FRONT MINUS ARM.

One hundred and some odd men of all ranks, Canadians due to receive their discharge or on furlough returned to Canada yesterday on board the C.P.O.S. Scandinavian, which arrived in port shortly before two o'clock yesterday afternoon from Liverpool.

Among the most severely wounded in the batch is Sergeant Bagnell, of the original 14th Battalion, who lost his left arm when the battalion opposed a wicked assault by the Germans on the Canadian lines at Ypres on June 3rd. He fell with a gun shot wound in his left arm, the member having to be amputated later.

This battle-scarred warrior has an exceptional record, having been at the front fifteen and a half months without receiving a scratch. He was through some of the early fighting with Sgt.-Major MacLeod, who has long since returned wounded and is now in charge of the Quebec Discharge Depot.

Sgt. Bagnell spoke in high terms of praise of the character of Sgt.-Major MacLeod, who was a favorite in the 14th Battalion. Several who went over with the McGill draft to the Princess Pat's are also in the party.

Seventeen members of the 1st Newfoundland Battalion, in charge of Sgt. Mercer also returned on the Scandinavian. They are all on furlough.

DOUGLAS LECTURE

AT MORRILL COLLEGE.
"Reptiles of the Past," is the subject of an illustrated lecture to be given at Morrill College Hall on Friday evening, November 10th, by Prof. Bancroft, of McGill. This is the first of the Douglas Lectures for this season. The discovery of the fossil remains of Mesozoic age in the Cretaceous rocks of Alberta was one of the chief events of Canadian geology in recent years. Professor Bancroft, who is the Dawson Professor of Geology at McGill, and a most gifted lecturer, may be counted upon to give a vivid and interesting account of these animals and of their place in geological history. We understand that his lantern slides for this lecture are duplicates of those of Professor Henry Fairfield Osborn, the doyen of paleontologists on this continent. The Douglas Lectures are, of course, as usual, free to the public. tufrix2

A CHANCE TO TRAVEL.

An extraordinary example of business enterprise has just come to light. The war is still raging furiously in Europe, and seems likely to continue to rage for some time yet excursions to the war-affected areas are already being advertised. Personally conducted tours, in charge of experienced military officers are being arranged, and the rates are really low in proportion to the experience to be gained—they are in fact within the reach of nearly everyone.

It sounds attractive, too,—no; perhaps for delicate ladies, but for men who would be glad of such a unique opportunity to see countries they might never have a chance to visit otherwise, and at a time when they can see the biggest event in history actually in the making.

Particulars of these excursions may be had at the recruiting office of the 171st Battalion in the Auditorium building. O, that puts a different complexion on it, does it? You might go for a pleasure trip and pay your own way, but to go in the King's uniform, and at no expense to yourself—you back out. Why? Think it over, and you will find that the only essential difference is the chance of getting killed. And the man who would not take that chance, proportionately slight as it is, when country, home, fellow-men all call so persistently to him is Finish it yourself.—(Communicated).

SPLENDID LECTURE BY MISS BURKE

INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF HOSPITAL WORK IN THE WAR ZONE GIVEN LAST NIGHT.

Last night under the patronage of Sir Evariste and Lady LeBlanc, a most interesting lecture was delivered by Miss Kathleen Burke on the work of the Scottish Women's Hospitals and also on her recent visit to Verdun. The lecture was under the auspices of the Ladies of the Red Cross Society. There was a very fair attendance, and the audience was intensely interested in the description of the work performed by the hospitals, which was vividly depicted by Miss Burke.

The Hon. Judge Routhier was chairman, and in a short speech introduced Miss Burke, who commenced her lecture by stating she represented some 800 ladies who were working on behalf of the Serbians, Belgians and French soldiers. The National Women's Suffrage movement was responsible for the organization of the hospital work. Immediately at the outbreak of the war the suffragette movement ceased, and those in charge of it went to the government with an offer to hand over its funds, amounting to some twenty-two thousand pounds sterling. The government, although appreciating the spirit of the women, suggested the founding of an hospital; the idea was accepted and the work which was now being done on behalf of the Belgians, French and Serbians was the outcome of the suffragettes offer.

A hospital unit was first sent to work amongst the Belgians, where it helped to stamp out the typhoid which had broken out amongst the people. Another unit was sent to Serbia, where an epidemic of typhus was at its height, and this unit was followed by three more. All the stores were shipped free of charge by the British government.

At Serbia they were given a small hospital of 500 beds, but this was not nearly sufficient to carry on their work, and five or six inns were handed over to them. The girls cleaned up the different places and soon patients were arriving at the rate of from 100 to 200 at a time. Tent hospitals had to be resorted to and these proved very successful owing to the great amount of fresh air which reached the patients. They had as many as 2,000 patients at one time. In their anxiety to ease the sufferings of the patients the girls often went hungry, but the patients never died. Whilst in Serbia seven nurses died.

When the invasion of Serbia by the Germans took place the different units tossed up to see which should have the honor of staying behind; it being necessary that the other units should go with the fleeing Serbians.

Miss Burke described in detail many of the hardships the units had to undergo during this trying time; also the sufferings of the Serbians. Several of the units were now working on the Island of Corsica, where there were 6,000 Serbian refugees. She then explained how the Serbians had always to fight for their existence. The nation had produced as fine men as those of any other country. Their imagination was an outstanding feature of their character, and they were always telling stories and singing songs to one another.

Speaking of the hospital work amongst the French, Miss Burke said that one could not help admiring the spirit of that nation, whose motto was "Why Worry." One of the Scottish Women's Hospital units was stationed about thirty miles from the Somme and looked after nearly five hundred French wounded soldiers. She gave an interesting account of her visit to Verdun and her meeting with the French Generals. In Verdun the soldiers were very happy even having a cinema show and other luxuries and absolutely lived their motto "Why Worry." When she met General Joffre, he made very complimentary references to the British troops and also those from the Missions.

Miss Burke concluded by making an eloquent appeal on behalf of the hospitals, and remarked that last year she returned from Canada with $20,000, with which another hospital was started which was called the "Canadian." She hoped to bring back to France this time at least $100,000.

At the conclusion of the lecture pictures were thrown upon the screen depicting the work of the Women's Scottish Hospitals in Serbia, France and Belgium, which proved that the services performed were very real.

DEATH OF MISS ZOE MOISAN

The death occurred yesterday morning after a comparatively short illness of Miss Marie Zoe Moisán, daughter of the late Michael Moisán, lumber merchant and shipbuilder, and sister of Marie Aline Cserine Moisán of Quebec and Mrs. L. A. Faucher of British Columbia and cousin of Mr. J. A. Everell, superintendent of the Montreal Division, Q.R.L.H. & P. Co. and District Passenger Agent for Canadian Government Railways.

HEBREWS WELCOME MR. P. BERCOVITCH

WARM GREETING EXTENDED TO NEW JEWISH MEMBER OF LEGISLATURE.

For the first time in the political history of the Province of Quebec the Hebrew element will be represented in the Legislative Assembly when the session opens today.

Mr. Peter Bercovitch, K.C., of Montreal, who was elected for St. Louis Division, Montreal, at the last election as an independent Liberal received the support of the Hebrew colony in Montreal and as he is a brilliant young lawyer and an eloquent speaker he should make a high mark for himself in the Quebec Legislature.

On his arrival here last evening from Montreal he was met at the C.P.R. depot by some two hundred representatives of the Hebrew colony in Quebec and given a rousing reception. Mrs. Bercovitch shared her husband's popularity and was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by Misses Ida Liebling and Ida Endler.

The "Tipperary" motorcar had been engaged for the occasion and Mr. and Mrs. Bercovitch were accompanied to the Chateau Frontenac by Misses Rebecca Smileovitch, Rachael Smileovitch, Jennie Gardner, Messrs. David Liebling, David Newstock, V. Ortenberg, Norman Liebling, M. E. Endler and a number of others.

On arriving at the Chateau Mr. Bercovitch, on behalf of his wife and himself, expressed the gratification which they felt at such a hearty welcome to the Ancient Capital and he delivered a neat little speech for which he was loudly cheered.

The Quebec Hebrews are organizing a banquet in Mr. Bercovitch's honor which will be held in this City shortly.

The Opening.

As already announced the opening of the session will take place at three o'clock this afternoon with the delivery of the Speech from the Throne by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor.

Sir Evariste LeBlanc, will be escorted from Spencer Wood by an escort of 100 men of the 171st Battalion, in command of Capt. N. E. Fletcher. The guard of honor will consist of fifteen men from the Royal Canadian Artillery under Lieut. H. W. Beck, these bodies being appointed by Brig.-Gen. Fawcett, O.C. of the Fifth Division.

State Dinner Tonight.

The customary state dinner will be held at Spencer Wood tonight to mark the opening of the Session. Invitations have been sent out and the event promises to be a brilliant social event.

CHURCH MISSION AT ST. PATRICK'S

SERVICES ATTRACTING LARGE CONGREGATIONS MORNING AND EVENING—ELOQUENT SERMONS.

The mission being preached in St. Patrick's Church this week for the married female members of the congregation, is attracting an immense number to both the morning and evening services.

Last night Rev. Father Turner preached a most eloquent sermon from the text "Know thou and see that it is an evil and a bitter thing for thee to have left the Lord, Thy God."

It is the part of every prudent man to consider, in advance, any obstacle that may chance to lie along his path to success; so that when such difficulties actually present themselves, he may be well prepared to meet them, and successfully overcome them.

Let us consider tonight the only barrier that lies between the soul and its eternal salvation.

You all know what that barrier is. It is Mortal Sin—the only thing in this world that can deprive you of the everlasting joy for which you were created.

What do we mean by mortal sin? First of all, it is a transgression, a violation, a breaking of God's law, in a matter of great importance. A mortal sin, therefore, is a supreme contempt of God, so much baser on the part of the offender, on account of the utter insignificance of a human being.

Mortal sin, moreover, is: An act of the blackest ingratitude. Oh, ingratitude is an unbearable crime—it is the basest of all crimes; it is a well nigh unpardonable offence. It is in our very make-up to despise the ingrate. But who can ever fathom the depths of the ingratitude of the mortal sinner towards God.

Oh, sinner! Do you understand the malice that is contained in your wickedness?

Your action includes all the malice just described.

Do not excuse yourself, but make a humble acknowledgment of your guilt. This is the only way of reconciliation with your offended God.

Then the preacher described the terrible consequences of Mortal Sin. He found sin in His Angels, and punished it.

He found sin in our first parents, and punished it.

God will punish the sin that he finds in us.

The preacher then mentioned examples from Scripture how God punished the sinner.

Oh! I implore you, brush not these thoughts aside as disagreeable—face them as they are,—do not lull your conscience to sleep, but rouse yourself to a sense of your sinfulness, and resolve during this mission, to clear up the past, now is the acceptable time—the time of mercy, yes, perhaps, it is the last call of God to you a sinner; Oh! hearken. I pray you to this call, for it is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of an angry God.

JOCKEY KILLED.

Baltimore, Nov. 6.—One jockey was killed and two others were seriously injured at Pimlico race track today. Harry Tanzy, 23 years old, Brooklyn, N.Y., fell with his mount in the second steeplechase race and was instantly killed. A little later "Tom" Parrette had his ribs and wrist broken by a fall.

In the last race Clinton Preece had his leg broken when his mount fell.

Believes She Was Saved From Stroke of Paralysis

All One Side Was Cold and Powerless When She Began Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

A dead nerve cell can never be replaced. In this way it is different to other cells of the human body. But feeble, wasted nerve cells can be restored, and herein lies hope.

In this fact is also a warning to take note of such symptoms as sleeplessness and loss of energy and ambition, and restore the vitality to the nervous system before some form of helplessness results.

Nervous prostration, locomotor ataxia and paralysis are the natural results of neglecting to keep the nerves in healthful condition. The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when you suspect there is something wrong, will soon restore vitality to the nervous system, and thereby prevent serious developments.

Mrs. Merritt Nichols, R. R. No. 3, Dundalk, Ont., writes: "I take pleasure in writing to tell you the great benefit I have derived from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was so nervous I could not sleep, and found it hard to get my work done at all, but, having no help at the time, had to do the best I could. Finally my left arm became powerless and cold, and this continued to get worse until my whole side was affected, head and all. I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and the first box helped me so much that I used several, and believe that this treatment saved me from having a paralytic stroke. It has built me up wonderfully, and I can recommend it most heartily, believing that if more Nerve Food were used there would be much less sickness."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures in nature's way by nourishing the feeble, wasted nerves back to health and vigor. Fifty cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

ST. PATRICK'S LEAVE

QUEBEC MANAGER EXPECTS SIGNATURES OF ALL BOYS BY END OF THIS WEEK

Satisfactory Terms Arrived at With Some of the Hold-Outs—
Strict Training Rules Will Be Enforced This Season—
Players To Get In Shape By Gymnasium Work.

The Quebec Hockey Club will probably be ready—on paper—within the next week. Manager Mike Quinn announced last evening that those players who were still unwillingly to sign have come to a satisfactory arrangement with the club and it is more than likely that they will now agree to lineup with their old team again.

Strict Training Rules.

The fact that last season, some of the players did not heed training rules, has stirred the management to action and it is absolutely certain that any of the boys who do not adhere strictly to the regime set down, will be suspended without pay. Manager Quinn, however, does not expect to have any trouble as from the list he now has in hand, there is every reason to expect the very best that is in the players. All the boys are of the clean-living variety and there will be little difficulty in keeping them in shape.

Gym Practice.

Arrangements are now under way to secure the use of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in order to begin training as there will be no possibility of ice practice before the middle of next month, at least. Montreal and Toronto will have the jump in this respect with their artificial ice plants.

Jeff Malone, Referee.

Mr. Quinn stated that Jeff Malone's name was handed to the president of the N.H.A. along with other Quebec names but that it apparently was omitted when he gave out the list submitted.

A Good Team.

"I feel sure that we will have a team which will gain the confidence of the public," said Mr. Quinn last evening. "The league is fearful of the 1916-17 season, because they have, apparently, an all-star outfit. Quebec is not worrying about it. If I get the line-up I'm planning for, the Bulldogs will come back strong."

The Wanderers.

Judging from the appearance of the Cleghorn boys in last Sunday's ball game in Montreal, both will have to reduce weight. Odie is no longer the slim, graceful youth. He widened greatly and has lost some of his speed. Of course hard training will bring him down. The Wanderers will have to re-organize greatly if they hope to show in the winners.

ELEVEN TEAMS IN BICYCLE RACE

SIX-DAY GRIND BEGAN LATE
ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Boston, Nov. 6.—Eleven teams of bicycle riders, contestants in the six-day race which began late this afternoon, were on even terms tonight, after six hours of racing. Each team had covered 147 miles and seven laps at ten o'clock, a record for local races of this kind. The men will ride ten hours a day until Saturday night.

Interest is added to this year's race by the participation of the Canadian entry, the Spencer brothers, of Toronto, who attracted much attention by their speedy work at Newark during the past summer. The reception accorded the Canadian brothers as they came upon the track tonight indicates that their work during the six days grind will be watched with interest. Most of the other entrants have frequently competed in similar annual events on New York and Boston tracks.

The contesting teams are:
Reggie McNamara and Bob Spears, Australia.

Alfred Goulet, of Newark and Al. Grenda, of Australia.

Clarence Carman, of New York, and George Wiley, Buffalo.

Eddie Root, of Melrose, and Iver Lawson, of Salt Lake City.

Willie Hanley, of San Francisco, and Edward Madden, of Newark.

Frank Corry, of Australia, and Jake Magin, of New Haven.

Tom Bellow, of Italy, and Vincenzo Madonna, of Providence.

Tim Sullivan, of New Haven, and Ray Eaton, of Newark.

Lloyd Thomas, and Percy Lawrence, of San Francisco.

Marcel Dupuis, of France, and Harry Kaiser, Germany.

Arthur and William Spencer, of Toronto.

K. O. EGERS LOST DECISION IN 20 ROUNDS

New Orleans, La., Nov. 6.—Peter Herman, of New Orleans, won a referee's decision over Jimmy Eggers, of New York, at the close of a 20-round fight here tonight. Both men are bantamweights. Herman was credited with fourteen rounds, Eggers with two and four were won.

Sporting Notes

We were marked "absent" yesterday.

The Stars of Montreal played a ball game last Sunday. Amongst those present were nine members of the St. Patrick's baseball team.

After watching the Saints' batsmen miss Fraser's curves last Sunday, one wonders what they'd do against Walter Johnson.

St. Pats blame their defeat on Tom Kelly and Wilfrid Duggan. Those two boys kept the whole car awake all night, including the Hon. Private Pierre Campagna. When Pierre was just going to sleep they swatted him with something and he was up for the night. Someone "cached" his puttees and tunic, etc. Pierre had fifty cents in the "etc.", and loudly demanded its return. When the missing garment did turn up to Pierre's surprise his original fifty cents had taken on the interest and his bank-book showed a balance of 69c. Whereupon Pierre exclaimed: "I wish somebody would swipe these things again."

Campagna set out to find his cousin in Montreal. It was Pierre's first visit to the Metropolis and on his return, the boys said "Well did you see your cousin?"

"I don't know" said Pierre. "The person who answered the door-bell could only speak English. It might be him but I couldn't understand what he said nor he couldn't savvy what I spilled to him."

The real truth was, Pierre had a card with the address written on it something like this:—"J. Jobin, 1101, Montreal." As Campagna did not have time to try every street in the city with No. 1101, he was obliged to come back without partaking of his cousin's er—er—er hospitality.

Eddie Cline was given three hits by the generous Cecil Hart. (Generous Hart is good). But this is the way Cecil scores. St. Pats player hits hard ball, which takes bad bound and runner is safe. Error marked for Stars player. Stars player—Cline hits ball into pitcher's hand on bound with man on second. Pitcher lets it drop, picks it up, hesitates about throwing, then tosses wild, run scoring. Hit for Eddie Cline. Cline hits grounder to McLeod, which Georges musses up—another hit for Eddie Cline. McLeod must have laughed out loud when he read the box score. George told that he must have had five errors—yet the score-sheet gave him one. Generous Hart.

Eddie Cline is a good batter but even the best of them must miss them. Eddie was whiffed twice by Campagna and got one honest-to-goodness hit but the scorer gave him three safe blows.

A Montreal paper announced Campagna as the "big Italian southpaw." No wonder things went wrong. The boys had Pierre nearly crazy for a while with new names such as "Macaroni, Giovanni Campagna" "Da greata biga pitchera of a Sen Pat-aries."

Pierre was out looking for the newspaper man who tried to change his nationality.

Romeo Lepine's "A little pep there gent's" made it sound like Quebec.

Mr. L. P. Barthe, of this City, has branched into the harness racing, and has just purchased Ruskland Boy, a roan trotting gelding with a mark of 2:21 1-4 which he took during last season's campaign when he won a number of important races. The gelding was sired by Stamboulouff, 2:09 1-4, which has also a record of 4:30 for two miles. His dam was Princess Esperanza 2:11 1-4 and he is a half-brother of Spanish Queen 2:04 1-4 and of Dorothy Hansboro 2:06 1-4. The growing tendency amongst local horsemen to buy trotters is a most laudable one which will improve the stock here much more rapidly than the hopped pacers which has been the favorite horse here in the past.

The Association football team of the 171st Battalion will play a picked eleven next Saturday on the Esplanade. Some veteran soccerites will be with the "Pickups."

BROWN-ANDREWS BOUT ON FRIDAY

FAMOUS BANTAMWEIGHTS WILL BOX BEFORE IRISH-
CANADIAN CLUB FRIDAY.

The bantamweight bout which will be staged at the Grande Allee Rink, next Friday, should furnish the devotees of the strenuous sport enough thrills to suit the most exacting fans of Quebec.

The bout in which Willie Andrews, the sturdy New York bantamweight, whose record entitles him to consideration as a logical opponent for Kid Williams or Johnny Ertle, will have his hands full to defeat Willie Brown, the fistic idol of the United States navy, who has fought and defeated every bantam of note.

Both fighters have agreed to weigh in at the Victoria Hotel at three o'clock in the afternoon of the day of the fight, and it is agreed that both fighters are not to be over 118 pounds. Both boys managers have posted $100 in Mr. Filiatrault's hands which will go as a forfeit on the weight question. It is a pretty sure thing that either boxer will not be over the weight, according to reports sent over here from New York.

Billy Peppy, Andrews' manager, has wired the Irish-Canadian A. C. officials, that Andrews has worked very hard for this bout, and he is down to 116 pounds as he is today. By the time he will enter the ring the most that he will weigh will probably be 117 pounds. Brown also claims to be below weight, and this means that both fighters are in great shape for the mill, as they have trained faithfully in order to win and to get a chance at the bantam crown some time next month, Brown has been doing his training in a New York gymnasium, having Jack Britton, the welterweight champion of the world, to assist him and to teach him some of the fine points of the fistic game. Andrews has been working at Grupp's gymnasium, with "Silent" Martin and Frank Carbone, two of the heaviest middleweight hitters in the game. Andrews and Peppy are expected in town today, while Brown will follow shortly.

KING GOSSIP.

Danny Fields, the New York welterweight, and Paul Doyle, the rugged Brooklyn fighter, will meet in a return bout on next Thursday night at the Lyceum A. C. of New York. Fields and Doyle met last week at the new Polo A. A., and they gave such a great ten round exhibition, having the fight fans standing on their heads that the officials of the Lyceum A. C. made Billy Peppy a good offer for Fields to meet Doyle in a return match. Fields will leave New York for Quebec right after the fight, as Manager Peppy intends to get George Rivet or "Red" Allan to meet his coming welterweight champion.

Archie Dunn, the New York feather weight, will also be busy this week. Manager Peppy has booked him for two fights in three days. Dunn will meet Chick McCormack for ten rounds at the Broadway Sporting Club of Brooklyn, on Tuesday night the 7th Nov., and Thursday night, the 9th, he will meet Joe Garry, of New Jersey, for another ten rounds at the Lyceum A. C., this will be the semi-final to Fields-Doyle bout.

Billy Peppy has taken another good fighter under his wing, the scrapper is Kid Saxby, the lightweight champion of England, who has only returned from a successful trip through Australia and parts of England. This Saxby is the real goods and Peppy is very anxious to show him to the Quebec boxing fans. Peppy states that he has struck a real fighting machine in the Englishman, and he would like to get Frankie Fleming to test his boy's ability.

Tony Simms is in Montreal, but will return to Quebec for a match with Gagnon.

Big guarantees with the privilege of percentage appears to be the popular cry among the pugilists these days. A New York matchmaker is understood to have the inside track in the arrangements for a match between "Kid" Williams and "Johnny" Ertle, but Ertle's demand for $3,500 is considered too high, and may prove a snag in clinching the bout.

Ertle, who won on a foul from the champion in the bout at St. Paul, has his own ideas about the value of his services, and he asserts he will not take a cent less than the sum mentioned. Ertle is in New York and is ready to talk business with any promoter willing to meet his figures. Williams has also a high opinion of his ability, and certainly would demand as much for his share.

A match between the little fellows would be a good attraction, but it is doubtful whether there would be any profit for the promoter unless the rivals take a smaller sum.

Leon St. Pierre the Laval manager was at the game. "If Laval was playing it would have been different" said Brown.

THE BATTLE OF THE SOMME

The greatest moving picture in the world

The eye of the camera followed the British Infantry's charge under fire, across "No Man's Land," through the barbed wire, July 1st.

Reproduced from the official film of the Imperial Government.

It was the morning of July 1st, 1916, destined to be one of the outstanding dates in British history. All was ready after two years of planning and preparing. Kitchener's army, ready at last to be loosed like a flood, was awaiting the word. The hour and the minute have been named in the orders, that moment when the Teutons were to lose their initiative in the great war. A lieutenant looks at his wrist watch. The moment has nearly come. He looks again. It has come. He leaps to the parapet and the others follow on the instant. Two are hit and fall back into the trench, their faces against the earthy wall. The others dash on to the German wire. And the eye of the moving camera permanently records it all. You may see this picture at the

EVERY ACT A GOOD ONE AT THE AUDITORIUM.

There could be a good word for every one of the acts on the bill at the Auditorium for the first three days of the week. Just as they come the Jacksons are first-class bicycle experts and they present some new tricks that pleased the audience.

Bernard and Armstrong, as comedians, will certainly get great popularity in Quebec, for they have the kind of talk that takes.

The banjoists, Crouch and Richards, gave eight minutes of good entertaining on their instruments and the costumes are particularly pretty and becoming.

Holmes and Buchanan, with their songs of the past and present, made a very big hit. They have a great novelty in this act and will command success.

Sid. Baxter and Geatrice are old friends that everybody was to see again on the Auditorium stage. Their has lost nothing of its attraction.

LARGE CROWDS SEE CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG.

"The Common Law" at the Empire Theatre for Three Days More.

The Empire was jammed to the doors at all performances yesterday when "The Common Law" featuring Miss Clara Kimball Young, one of the most popular actresses on the silent stage, was presented for the first time.

This film is the first release on the new Clara Kimball Young Company and it is a winner. Miss Young has unusual scope for her talents and her acting is splendid in the picturization of the famous novel.

Robert Chambers has never written a more wonderful story than this brilliant novel of New York life. Its heroine, Valerie West, artist-model and philosopher, is one of the most sympathetic figures in modern literature. As portrayed by Miss Young she becomes a living personification of sweet and noble womanhood.

"The Common Law" will run for three more days at the Empire and no one should miss it.

Nervous Period- ical Headaches

This trouble commonly called "sick headache," is said to be due to the retention of uric acid in the system. Often it is stated that a poor condition of the blood is a cause of these headaches, or that it is a nervous condition; and in certain cases, no doubt this is true.

Where treatment is demanded, it is more for the pain than anything else, and Dr.
F. Schellachmidt, of Louisville, has found anti-kamnia tablets to give prompt and satisfactory relief. "Rest should be insisted upon," he says, "and the patient should go to bed, darken the room, and all the attendants and family should be as quiet as possible. An emetic will sometimes shorten the attack. The bowels should be kept open with 'Actoids'; a hot bath and a thorough rub-down with a coarse towel, often give grateful relief. Two anti-kamnia tablets when the first signs appear, will usually prevent the attack. During an attack, one tablet every hour or two will shorten the attack and relieve the usual nausea and vomiting." These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also indicated for nervous headaches, neuralgia and all pains.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine
at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp
with the finger-tips. By morning
most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.

DISPENSARY PROBLEM
IN SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, Sask., Nov. 6.—The dispensaries in Saskatchewan will not be closed until the people have declared
their will at the coming referendum.
Premier Martin declared this morning.

"I believe the liquor stores will be voted out by a large majority," said
the Premier, "but I am not in favor of closing them until the people have expressed their preference. I know that a large number of people in this province are opposed to the government being in the liquor business,
but after the study I have been able to make of the conduct of the system,
I believe that properly controlled
stores afford the most desirable
means of dealing with this remnant
of the traffic."

Premier Martin said further, when asked if the government would introduce a direct prohibition bill this session, that the question of further legislation had not been decided.
There would have to be some liquor
sold for medicinal purposes, he said,
and whether this would be sold by druggists, under the control of a central government authority, had
not been decided.

SERBIANS TAKE FOE PRISONERS

GERMANS SUFFERED ENORM-OUS LOSSES ON THE CERNA RIVER BANK.

London, Nov. 5.—The Serbian official communication made public here
today says:

"Saturday the enemy attempted three attacks in the region of the villages of Budimirtsi and Polog (Cerna river region). All these were repulsed and we took German and Bulgarian prisoners.

"We have reliable news that in the recent fighting on the left bank of the Cerna the Germans suffered enormous losses."

AUTUMN'S TASK.

What All Good Housekeepers Should Know.

First—Fresh fruits and vegetables are first choice, if available. If not canned goods, homemade or commercial, are a veritable god-send—wholesome, convenient and economical.

Second—Canning means sterilization (killing bacteria and spore by heat, and hermetically sealing so that no invaders can enter the can). Nobody needs a canning powder. They are always dangerous and useless.

Third—There is little if any more danger of illness from canned goods than from fresh. Sterilization is a highly perfected process, and nearly all spoilage makes itself known to sight and taste and smell. The most care must be exercised with milk and meat and fish.

Fourth—Throw away a can that is
"swelled" or leaky. This may mean insufficient sterilization or gas formation, and no chances should be taken, though sometimes it means only over filling.

Fifth—Use a thermometer. Don't guess. Womanly intuition and the rule of thumb would never produce efficiency in a cannery, and they won't do it in the home kitchen.

Sixth—Sulphites and saccharine in canned corn, copper sulphate for greening peas, boracic and salicylic acids for easier and surer preserving are all evils of a dead and buried past.
The only canned goods chemically preserved to be found nowadays are those put up on the farms and in small towns, where the peddler of the "preserving powders" misleads the unsuspecting home canner into using his anonymous wares.

Seventh—A can of corn twenty-seven years old recently was critically examined by a food commissioner and pronounced to be "good eating."
A product that was inferior before going into the can may at one year of age be a poorer product than its elder brother. However, age is not to be desired in canned foods, and they should not be carried over several seasons. The amount of tin dissolved increases on standing, condensed milks "lump" and excesses of heat or cold injure quality.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine
at any drug store, pour a little into
your hand and rub well into the scalp
with the finger-tips. By morning
most, if not all, of this awful scurf
will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.

DISPENSARY PROBLEM
IN SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, Sask., Nov. 6.—The dispensaries in Saskatchewan will not be closed until the people have declared
their will at the coming referendum.
Premier Martin declared this morning.

"I believe the liquor stores will be voted out by a large majority," said
the Premier, "but I am not in favor
of closing them until the people have expressed their preference. I know that a large number of people in this province are opposed to the government being in the liquor business,
but after the study I have been able
to make of the conduct of the system,
I believe that properly controlled
stores afford the most desirable
means of dealing with this remnant
of the traffic."

Premier Martin said further, when
asked if the government would introduce a direct prohibition bill this session, that the question of further
legislation had not been decided.
There would have to be some liquor
sold for medicinal purposes, he said,
and whether this would be sold by druggists, under the control of a central government authority, had
not been decided.

OCEAN LINERS BRING PASSENGERS

BOY DIES ON ONE OF THE THREE VESSELS ARRIVING IN QUEBEC YESTERDAY.

Between an early hour yesterday morning and two o'clock in the afternoon three ocean liners all carrying their quota of passengers arrived here from European ports.

The first to dock was the C.P.O.S. Scotian, Captain John Williams, from Glasgow. She carried 86 cabin and 57 third class passengers. The majority of the former were Canadians returning home. The Scotian left Glasgow Saturday Oct. 21st.

At 11 a.m. the Donaldson liner Cassandra, Captain Brown arrived from Glasgow which port she left on Oct. 25th. The Cassandra carried 29 cabin and 37 third class passengers and a small cargo for this port. She proceeded to Montreal shortly after 2 p.m.

The R.M.S. Scandinavian of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services from Liverpool Oct. 28th, arrived shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon after an uneventful trip the last lap of which was marred by the death on board of Charles Gibson, the thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, of Hull, Eng. The boy in company of his mother was on his way to Canada and expired from diphtheria on Sunday last. The remains were buried at sea.

Four hundred and fifty passengers arrived on the Scandinavian. Of the 202 cabin passengers were Quebecers, Mrs. J. Lawrence and Miss M. C. Lawrence. A large number of the cabin passengers were Canadians returning home. Over a hundred members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, eighty some odd due to receive their discharge as medically unfit for further service and the balance as escorts, were also passengers on the Scandinavian.

SHIPPING NOTES.

With the arrival of three passenger vessels in port yesterday from overseas there was a stir of activity along the water front only witnessed rarely since the outbreak of the war. In addition to the passenger liners work on other vessels in port added to the busy scene. Before the close of the day the three passenger steamers had proceeded on their way to Montreal.

The SS. Romero, Candy and Governor passed inward yesterday bound for Montreal.

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the Canadian Government steamer Montcalm returned to port after an absence of three weeks spent in the lower St. Lawrence and Gulf. Following is the itinerary of the Montcalm's voyage.

On October 20th, she left Quebec for St. Roch Traverse. On the 22nd, she arrived at St. Mary's Island and continued to Flat Point, Flower Cove, Point Amour, the Strait of Belle Isle to Cap Bauld. On the 25th, the Montcalm left Cap Bauld for Belle Isle West and reached Point Amour the 26th. She continued to Forto Bay, Deer Island, Pointe Farrell, Pointe Rich and touched at a few other points before reaching Cape Ray on Oct. 31st. The Montcalm remained three days at Pointe Farrell on account of unfavorable weather. From Cape Ray the vessel went to Sydney and other points and arrived here at 7 a.m. yesterday.

The Captain and other officers of the Montcalm on arrival here declared the voyage was a pleasant one. Five or six employees of the Marine and Fisheries Department returned on the Montcalm.

A large number of schooners are moored at wharves in the inner basin taking their last outward cargoes before the season of navigation closes three weeks hence.

The Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Ltd., has purchased the Hackness, a steel screw steamer of the shelter deck type, of 4,928 tons gross register, and 2,534 tons net. She can carry 8,500 tons dead weight. The vessel was built in 1914, and is one of the most up-to-date freight carriers in the Atlantic trade, under the red and white flag of the C.P.O.S. In her new service the steamship will be known as the Miniota.

GUESTS OF THE CHAIRMAN OF HARBOR COMMISSIONERS
President and Members of Dominions Royal Commission
Tour Port of Quebec.

Sir Alfred Bateman, chairman of the Dominions Royal Commission, Messrs. Sinclair, Tatlow and Mitchell as well as other invited guests including Mr. J. R. Clancy, Quebec Agent for the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services Ltd. and Mr. Joseph Picard, former President of the Quebec Board of Trade were the guests of Mr. D. O. L'Esperance, chairman of the Quebec Harbour Commissioners, on a trip about the harbor yesterday on the C.G.S. Druid.

The visitors evinced a keen interest in the various works in progress about the harbour, including the new embankment and deep water wharves along the St. Charles River; the new spacious shed with grain conveyors on this embankment; the dry dock at St. Joseph; the Quebec Bridge and various other works. Sir Alfred and others present expressed the hope that these important improvements would be pressed to completion so that this port will be able to take care of the increased traffic after the war.

Lunch was served on board and the party returned greatly pleased with the excursion which was made all the more enjoyable by the agreeable weather conditions.

BETTER SHIPPING FACILITY FOR OREGON.

There are being built in Portland, O., and its vicinity by private capital about $5,000,000 worth of ships, but these are not all destined to operate from that port or from Columbia River points. With the view of financing a shipbuilding company for the construction of ships to operate between Portland and Alaska, Puget Sound, San Francisco, and other ports on the Pacific Coast, this project was inaugurated. The plan is to raise a tax of 1 mill a year for five years, the fund to be disposed of by the commissioner of docks, port of Portland, or a special shipping commission authorized by legislative act, in the form of a subsidy or bonus for steamship lines that will give the service needed. The Federal Government has expended more than $15,000,000 at the mouth of the Columbia River to make the great channel through which to enter the Columbia River basin. Other millions are being spent by the Government to finish the river channels between Portland and the entrance, and the belief is that strong efforts should be made to obtain sufficient capital for perfecting plans that will make these waterways, constructed at such great outlay, serviceable to the community, with fleets of steamships operating there.

MCGILL GRADUATE GETS MILITARY CROSS

Brockville, Ont., Nov. 5—Advices received today by W. A. Gilmore, Collector of Customs, stated that his son, Captain Norman Gilmore, medical officer of the 16th Royal Scots, a British regiment, has been awarded the Military Cross. Captain Gilmore is a McGill graduate, and before enlisting in England saw much service in South Africa as a trooper under General Botha in his drive against the Huns. His regiment has participated in some of the hardest battles on the Somme.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" ENDS ALL STOMACH DISTRESS IN FIVE MINUTES.

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy, and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

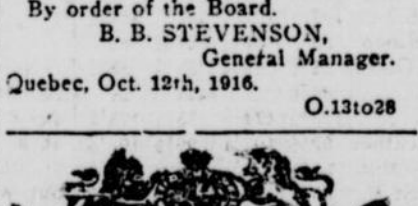

Millions of men and women today know that it is useless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

BOSTON MAN EXPOSES GERMAN WAR SECRETS FROM "INSIDE GERMANY"

CRIMINALS CHAINED TO MACHINE GUNS FIGHT FOR THEIR LIVES—CRITICISM OF KAISER MAY MEAN IMPRISONMENT.

Professor Hugo Munsterberg helped a Boston journalist secure German war secrets for the British public.

But, he said quickly, Dr. Munsterberg didn't know it.

D. Thomas Curtin, a brilliant writer, recently passed ten months studying military, political, social and economic conditions in Germany to get the German point of view.

He got it. He declares that he saw the "Hush! Hush! Hush! machinery" in operation; saw an appalling number of wounded men; discovered why Germans are sure they will win the war; found that German babies have never faced starvation; learned how German criminals are chained to cannon and made to fight, and had scores of gripping personal experiences.

What's more, he got out of the country, went to England and wrote an account of his ten months' investigation for the London Daily Mail. He was the only foreign civilian to see the remnants of the world famous Prussian Guard returning to Potsdam after being almost wiped out.

The Boston Sunday Post prints the story of striking scenes he witnessed and the important inside information he obtained—as they appear in recent copies of the London Daily Mail.

Boston Man and Harvard Graduate.

D. Thomas Curtin is a Boston man. His home is on Walter street, Roslindale, and he was born in Jamaica Plain 31 years ago. He attended the Agassiz School in Jamaica Plain, and prepared for Harvard in the very school in which he became a teacher before going abroad to acquire his extraordinary information about Germany within—the West Roxbury High School.

He was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1910, and at the university first gave signs of the literary talent he has employed to such good advantage. On leaving Harvard he went to the Hackensack, N. J. High School, where he taught for three years. Returning to Boston he was appointed to the High School of Commerce, and later to the West Roxbury High School, where he was an instructor in German and mathematics.

The international limelight first flickered on Curtin when in June, 1914, he went abroad purposing to "write up" conditions in Rumania. He was at Budapest when the war began, and nearly suffered death at the hands of a band of Hungarians who mistook him for a spy. Unperturbed, he seized the opportunity for observation of conditions in Austria and Germany. He made a short visit home last year.

Returning to Germany, through extraordinary efforts he secured the material for the articles now published. His return to England aroused a storm of criticism from the German press, which claimed broken faith with that government because of the nature of his revelations.

By D. THOMAS CURTIN.

In my four previous visits to Germany during the present war I had each time selected a different route. This present adventure I made via New York and Rotterdam. I left London a year ago and spent some time at my home in Boston, preparing all sorts of credentials for the long residence in Germany I was now to undertake at the request of Lord Northcliffe.

I left London in August, and arriving in Boston, my native city, I cast about for the means of arriving in Germany with such a complete set of introductions as would enable me to travel about fairly freely, and to come into contact with all sorts and conditions of people.

After a good deal of consideration I came to the conclusion that I might as a first base of operations use my acquaintance with Professor Hugo Munsterberg, the well known German professor at Harvard, under whom I had studied psychology, and I pleaded guilty of having enrolled the service of that worthy Teuton in the service of the London Times.

I told him, and quite truly, that I had been asked to go to Germany and make a close study of the situation; that I desired facilities for obtaining the truth.

Thinking that he was doing a good turn to the pro-German cause, he gave me a message of introduction to his friend, Dr. Drechsler, the head of the Amerika Institute in Berlin, who is Professor Munsterberg's partner in the German propaganda in the United States.

I had secured a commission for articles for some well known American magazines and newspapers, which was my ostensible reason for entering the fatherland as a writer, and I left Munsterberg with the knowledge that so long as I retained strictly and absolutely within my own breast the secret that I was collecting information for the British public my position in Germany would at any rate be safe.

First Arrival in Germany.

I arrived in Holland in the middle of November and forthwith attempted to get into Germany at Benthelm. The effort was frustrated at the first as it was evident that the Germans wanted no journalists to enter Germany at all. The Austrians had just blown up the Ancona in the Mediterranean. Submarine friction between the United States and Germany was growing, and the German authorities on the pretext that I had no birth certificate declined to let me enter. I cabled for my birth certificate and was allowed to cross the frontier.

Germany was in great spirits at that time. The government-controlled papers—the modern German Bible, as an American friend called them—were directing public opinion towards the Balkan success, the smashing of Serbia, the coming attack on Egypt.

The invasion of England, which had been the principal theme at the beginning of the war, the capture of Calais and all the rest of it had passed from the public mind. John Bull must be cut in half in the middle—the middle being the Suez Canal.

The hypnotic effect of the German newspapers on the German is not apprehended in Great Britain or in the United States.

Those papers, all directed from the foreign office, can manipulate the thoughts of those docile people and turn their attention to any particular part of the war with the same celerity as the operator of a searchlight can direct his beam at any part of the sky he chooses. For the moment the whole German nation looks at that beam and at nothing else.

When people here in England or at home in the United States ask me, "Aren't they beginning to learn the truth?" I reply that "some of them are but the great majority think exactly what they are told."

The great newspaper searchlight is today switched on to Hindenburg. Almost the whole of these industrious human ants think of nothing but Hindenburg—the loan now dragging its slow length like a wounded snake in the Hindenburg loan. Silesia has named one of its towns Hindenburg; newly arrived infants of the empire are being loaded down with the name daily; tobacco stores display Hindenburg cigars; the bust of this fierce-looking warrior is in every middle-class home.

The deification of Hindenburg and the downfall of England are in the uppermost thoughts in the whole German mind, though there are a few thoughtful cynics in high places who regard him as a well-advertised dummy, and a drunkard to boot.

But I will continue my narrative with a little incident that may reveal one small aspect of the German character to English people, who are, as a rule, completely unable to understand German psychology.

Among my minor armory of introductions was the execution of a small commission on behalf of a German-American in New York, who wished me to take £100 ($300) to her relatives in a small Rhinish town, where I arrived in the early evening of a November day. The following incident is exactly typical of what would happen in 90 German households out of 100.

Fear All "Unpoliced Foreigners." Although I was bringing what was for them a considerable sum of money, some portraits of their long-absent relatives in the United States, and interesting family news, I was refused admission, point blank.

The lady of the house came to the door, and although I said in my German, which is quite excellent, that I had come from her family in America, and brought money, her reply was an ugly:

"Have you been to the police?" "No," I said. "I did not think it was necessary to go to the police, as I am only passing through here." She replied, "Go to the police," and she shut the door in my face.

When I got to the police station I was fortunate in lighting upon a stout easy-going old fellow, who had been commanded for the job owing to the departure of all the police for the war. He knew little of his business, and I was the first foreigner who had come to him. He was more interested in trying to find out something about his relatives in America. He did not even look at my passport, and bade me a cheery "Good night."

I returned to pay the £100, deliver the photographs, and now that I had been officially "policed," I was received with great cordiality. The

"ENGLISH AS SHE IS SPOKE."

To Editor of The Chronicle.

Dear Sir,—Will you let me protest through your column against the disgraceful way in which the English language is constantly massacred in the official publications of our City Corporation. I have just finished reading one of the latest of these purporting to be the instructions and advice of the Health Department relative to the safeguarding of families against infantile paralysis, and I hardly know which feeling is uppermost in me—indignation at the palming of such abortions upon English-speaking people, or the inclination to laugh at the audacity and smug self-complacency of the whippersnappers who imagine, because they can jabber a little English, they are perfectly competent to translate into English, and to write the English tongue intelligibly and correctly, though these same worthies will tell you that it needs a highly educated man, intimately conversant with both languages, to convert English into correct French.

The fact is that the youngest school boy would be ashamed of the awful stuff that is inflicted upon this community by the many of our officials as English. "Anything is good enough for the English," seems to be the order of the day with these worthies, who do not seem to have the remotest idea of how ridiculous they are making themselves and their city and how much injury they are doing to it in the eyes of strangers.

It would be infinitely better for the Corporation to get down at once to hard pan, and to publish in French only, than to father the travesties, which it issues in a jargon that is supposed to be English and which only provoke the resentment or excite the laughter of all English-speaking people.
