FORTY THREE LIVES LOST WHEN STEAMER MONROE IS RAMMED

Death Was Sudden, Sweeping Out of Dark and Fog, and Taking the Doomed with Ship Heavy Upon Them

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—The story of how forty-three victims went down to death in the chill waters of the Atlantic, when the liner Nantucket rammed and sank the steamer Monroe early today was brought to port tonight by the 85 survivors of the sunken ship's company, who were rescued and brought to shore by the Nantucket. It was a story of awful and sudden death, sweeping out of the dark and fog, and taking unawares the doomed half hundred with the heaviness of sleep still upon them.

Sinks Almost at Once.

It told how the stricken Monroe, with her side gored deep by the knife-like prow of the Nantucket, filled rapidly, rolled over on her side, and in a few minutes turned completely over and plunged to the bottom, carrying with her the ill-fated passengers and members of the crew who had failed to get clear of the wreck.

List of Dead.

Tonight the revised lists prepared by Captain Johnson, who survived the sunken vessel, showed:

Passengers	19
Crew	24
Total	43
Saved:
Passengers	36
Crew	55
Total	91

Under the thick bank of fog that hid the heavily running sea, both ships were making their way slowly and with difficulty in the early morning. The Monroe, with Captain Johnson on the bridge, and a double look-out peering into the fog ahead, was edging under half speed to the northward, having left Norfolk for New York last evening with a nerve-racking fog-bound voyage in prospect. The Nantucket, heavily laden with freight and with but two passengers aboard, was nosing her way southward bound from Boston to Norfolk. Urged through the dripping fog the two vessels were slowly drawn towards each other, while the death spirit waited and watched.

No Warning Given.

The crash came about 1.40 o'clock, without any warning. Out of the grey-black fog that shut out even the waves from view, the gleam of the Nantucket's searchlight scarcely touching the dripping side of the Monroe before the high steel prow of the southward bound vessel cut into the Monroe's side with a ripping and crashing of plates that threw the stricken ship aback. The Nantucket, with her bow crushed in, backed out of sight into the fog, as Captain Johnson, seeing that his vessel was fatally stricken, shouted an order for the lifeboats.

Only Ten Minutes.

When the crash came, those on board the Monroe were in bed and asleep. Capt. Johnson, and the watch on deck were up and about. But the shivering of the stricken vessel and her listing motion, as the water poured through the gash in her side awakened the sleeping passengers and sent them clambering toward the deck. Warned by the officers they hurriedly adjusted life preservers and made for the tilted deck. But the time was all too brief. Those rescued agreed that from the time the Monroe was struck, until she settled beneath the waves, not more than a short ten minutes elapsed.

Story of Flight.

Baggage, clothing, valuables, were all forgotten in the flight from the staterooms of the sinking ship. Pajamas, night gowns and bath robes, and blankets were the common apparel of those who made the slippery up-ended deck before the water trapped them below and most of them wore that garb when they left the limping Nantucket at her dock here this afternoon.

As the half-clad, excited throng of passengers reached the deck, they were headed toward the lifeboats by the officers and the crew. Three of the life-boats from one side of the crippled vessel were unslipped and gotten away from the side, freighted with frightened humanity, mostly women were shivering in the wet and cold under their flimsy night clothing. By the time these were away the Monroe was rolling over on her side, and it was impossible to launch the other boats.

Cabins Were Submerged.

With a sudden lurch, the liner, now fast filling with the water that rushed through the rent in her plates, rolled over on her side, throwing up her uninjured side, then submerging cabins and saloons. With a chorus of shrieks thefortunates left on the sinking vessel turned, and crawling like rats, made their way over the superstructure, through port holes, windows and companionways, until they rested, just out of reach of the waves on the upper side of the half-capsized vessel. But even this slippery security was not long available. With a rumbling sound the big vessel shivered and shook, and then she plunged beneath the waves, leaving her human freight afloat on the icy bosom of the ocean.

Nantucket Alos Damaged.

Meantime the Nantucket, herself badly damaged, had stood by, and Captain Barry had aroused the sleeping crew. As the ineffectual rays of the searchlight failed to pierce the blanket of fog, Captain Barry ordered out the lifeboats, and, one by one, they slipped away into the fog to search for the Monroe. They found only the struggling survivors afloat in the icy sea, crying frantically for help.

Many of those picked up were utterly exhausted, and unable to help themselves. Several had to be hauled over the side of the Nantucket with ropes, unable to climb the rope ladder. Thomas R. Harrington kept his wife afloat by superhuman efforts, swimming with her hair in his teeth, only to have her die a few minutes after she was hauled aboard the Nantucket. Lieut. L. B. Curtis, U.S.A., kept himself afloat until rescued, but died after reaching the Nantucket.

WITNESSES WILL BE GRANTED SAFE-CONDUCT TO TESTIFY

Motion of Sir Lomer Guoin to This Effect is Carried Unanimously—They Will Appear Monday---

Lorne McGibbon Furnished Money For The Operators

With the sensational developments of the past few days in the Quebec Legislature as a result of the charges of corruption made by the Montreal Daily Mail, yesterday's events were somewhat less startling, although there was ample to maintain the feverish excitement which is so manifest about the Legislative Buildings.

The appearance of Mr. Edward Beck, former Managing Director and Editor of the Montreal Herald before the Investigation Committee of the Lower House, furnished no end of conjecture.

While the Government was still considering the safety of conduct for the witnesses, Mr. Beck, with the same direct fearlessness which characterized his charges, took his stand as a witness and recounted as has been told in the Montreal Daily Mail the developments which attended the passage of the Montreal Fair Association Bill through the Legislature.

One most interesting point brought out in Mr. Beck's evidence was that the expenses of the exposure were undertaken by Mr. D. Lorne McGibbon, then the proprietor of the Montreal Herald, and that the original intention of the organization was to follow developments should there be a Montreal Tramways bill presented. That measure did not materialize, hence the fake bill which was presented. After putting Mr. Beck through a grueling examination for two hours, during which he never faltered, the committee adjourned until last night, when he was again on the stand, and at this sitting it was decided to have all the witnesses as well as the three accused, Hon. Messrs. Berard and Bergevin, and Mr. J. O. Mousseau, appear before the committee at its next sitting, on Monday night, at 8:30 o'clock.

Safety of conduct has now been guaranteed the witnesses by a motion presented by Sir Lomer Guoin in the Assembly yesterday afternoon and a somewhat similar motion by Hon. Mr. Perceau in the Upper House last night.

Both Hon. Messrs. Perceau and Chapais gave emphatic denials to the alleged statements of Mr. J. O. Mousseau, in the Montreal Daily Mail, that he had secured their support for the Montreal Fair Association Bill.

A new member has been added to the Investigation Committee of the Assembly, Mr. A. Bernier, of Levis, withdrawing, and Mr. Lavergne taking his place.

MORNING SITTING.

Mr. Beck Examined Before Special Investigation Committee.

For over two hours yesterday morning Mr. Edward Beck, former president of the Montreal Herald Publishing Company and editor in chief of the Montreal Herald unfolded before the members of the Special Investigation Committee of the Legislative Assembly how detectives from the Burns agency came to be employed to uncover corruption in the Legislature. The journalist told of how he had overheard through the detectaphone, a twenty minute conversation between Mr. J. O. Mousseau, ex-Chairman of the Private Bills Committee in the office of Mr. Sampson in the Duluth Building, Montreal, Mr. J. L. Perron, chief counsel and Mr. A. E. Robert, president of the Montreal Tramways Company, who are members of the investigation committee were watching his every move as he told of how the sleuths had been employed to frustrate Tramways and other legislation which it had been reported would be presented.

The proceedings were sensational in their interest and were marked by occasional clashes between Mr. Marchal, counsel for Messrs. Macnab and Nichols and Mr. Perron.

Safe Conduct Question.

At the commencement of the session Mr. Marchal explained that owing to indisposition, Mr. Macnab was unable to appear before the committee as ordered. The lawyer wanted a postponement of the sitting as he explained they would not send word to their witnesses in New York to come to Quebec until the question of safe conduct had been disposed of.

Mr. Beck took a seat inside the railing of the Private Bills Committee at 10:50 and until after 1 p.m. was subject to such a rapid fire of questions alternately from Messrs. Marchal, Perron and Chairman Taschereau that even the expert shorthand men reporting the proceedings were compelled to work in short relays.

Reference was made by Mr. Beck to the employment of a Burns operative to cover the City Hall in Montreal to watch for municipal legislation, inimical to the public interest, the detective whose name was J. H. Randall being employed on the Montreal Herald as a reporter at the express request of Mr. Sampson of the firm of Martin and Co. in the Duluth building.

After Mr. Beck has been sworn and had given his name, age and occupation, he was closely questioned as to his first acquaintanceship with Mr. Mousseau the ex-member for Soulanges whose resignation was, on Thursday, handed to the Prime Minister as a result of the charges of corruption launched against him.

Mr. Beck explained that he had first met Mr. Mousseau, the ex-Chairman of the Private Bills Committee when as editor of the Montreal Herald, he had been conducting a campaign against landlord and tenant laws.

This was four or five years ago, and Mr. Mousseau had been instrumental in introducing legislation to improve the tenant laws.

Mr. Perron sought to nail Mr. Beck down to a definite statement that the detectives had been employed to watch Tramways Legislation only, but the witness steadfastly declared that the Burns men had been sent for as a result of rumors he, Mr. Beck had heard that legislation inimical to the public interest was likely to be put through the Legislature at the present session.

McGibbon Financed It.

One of the most startling facts disclosed by Mr. Beck was that the financial costs of the whole investigation carried on both in Montreal and Quebec had been guaranteed by Mr. D. Lorne McGibbon, former owner of the Montreal Herald, who, on being approached by Mr. Beck told him that if such investigation was to be in the public interest and if he, Mr. McGibbon was kept out of it as witness, he could go ahead and take what steps he liked to investigate.

In the course of his general examination, Mr. Beck stated that when it was decided to put Burns detectives to watch legislation in Quebec and Montreal, he sent to the Burns agent in New York, asking that a representative be sent up to look into the situation.

A day or so later, a representative of Mr. Burns reported to Mr. Beck. Witness said he could not recollect his name, but he left for New York about 24 hours after he had arrived in Montreal and a few days later was followed by Mr. Sampson who reported to him at the Herald office.

"When did you first meet Mr. Mousseau, that is recently," Mr. Marchal asked.

In reply witness said that it was on November 24th last, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon after the Burns men had been operating for some time that he received a telephone message from Mr. Sampson to meet the latter at his office in the Duluth building, Montreal.

Watching The Game.

"I went over to the Duluth building and when I met Mr. Sampson he told me that he had sent for me as he expected a visitor in a few minutes. He wanted me to hear his conversation."

Witness explained that there were three offices in Mr. Sampson's suite. One was occupied as a general office. Mr. Sampson used a second for his private office, while there was a third office with a door opening into it from the general office.

Witness said that he was shown into the third office and a few minutes later a young man named Kelly came in. He carried a case with him and when he had opened it, he took out an instrument, explaining to him that it was a detectaphone.

Meanwhile witness said he had heard someone come into the outside office. He had previously asked that the door be left open that he might see who might be Mr. Sampson's visitor.

He saw Mr. J. O. Mousseau enter and heard him pass into Mr. Sampson's office and the door closed.

"When Mr. Kelly explained the detectaphone to me," witness said, "he handed me a headpiece not unlike a telephone set which I put on over my head plainly hearing everything that was transpiring in the adjoining room."

Took Down Notes.

"Mr. Kelly was a stenographer, an expert at the business and while he took stenographic notes I took down some notes in longhand of what I heard."

"Have you got those notes with you?" Mr. Beck was asked.

Witness explained that he had kept a record of the notes which he had transcribed into a note book. He had not the originals which were destroyed. They were only made on copy paper and the backs of envelopes.

Asked whether he had compared his notes with those taken by the detective stenographer, witness said that he had had an opportunity of comparing both and that while he had taken down many sentences interesting from the journalistic viewpoint which had not been taken by the detectaphone man, the two reports were essentially the same.

Witness was grilled as to his certainty that it was Mr. Mousseau who was speaking to Mr. Sampson, but said that having seen Mr. Mousseau going into Mr. Sampson's office he could swear that the conversation he heard over the detectaphone was that between Mr. Sampson and Mr. Mousseau.

Mr. Beck stated that he had had altogether in four months, some 30 or 32 conversations with Mr. Mousseau himself. He had kept records of each meeting as to date and time and could give from memory, a general outline of the conversation which took place on each occasion. This point was brought out when an effort was made to shake the testimony of Mr. Beck, regarding the sound of Mr. Mousseau's voice.

Continuing his narrative, relative to the detectaphone conversation, Mr. Beck went over what has already been published regarding the payment of $500 to Mr. Mousseau and his promise of more money when the famous Montreal Fair Bill was put through.

The License Clause.

Witness told of how the ex-Chairman of the Private Bills Committee expressed fear that the license clause in the bill might meet with opposition and of how Mr. Sampson said that while they wanted to get as much as they could they could not complain if they did not get all they asked for.

The chief things Mr. Sampson told Mr. Mousseau was that the bill should be put through. They had $300,000 in the business and then Mr. Sampson went on to explain how, through neglect to look after the little fellows thought they had paid the bigger men, they had failed to secure a bill something like the present measure in the Legislature of a certain southern state.

Mr. Sampson told Mr. Mousseau that they did not want to fail here, whereupon Mr. Mousseau assured him that there would be but little difficulty in putting it through.

"A little difficulty?" interpollated Mr. Perron.

"No, but little difficulty witness replied, continuing his evidence of the conversation.

After the failure of the bill in the south had been recited, Mr. Beck said that Mr. Sampson declared to Mr. Mousseau that he would leave the whole affair in his hands and would give him $2,500.

Witness said he overheard Mr. Mousseau say: "It is most too kind," when presumably, some of the money had been handed over to the ex-Chairman.

Mr. Sampson replied that it was (Continued on Page Four)

"Today being Saturday," jocosely stated the Oracle this morning, "tomorrow will be Sunday, and consequently a holiday. In which connection I wish to remark: 'God bless the man who first invented holidays.' He was one of the greatest benefactors of the human race the world has ever seen. Why, just figure it out! Through the ingenuity of this one man alone, we have on the most conservative average, one holiday a week. Now, if we had only six other men of like genius in the world, we'd have seven holidays a week, and we wouldn't have to work at all. Do you understand it? Rather chilly today—guess it'll snow."

Tomorrow is a holiday, and by very virtue of the fact, it is displeasing to a lot for want of something to do. The best method of passing away a dull afternoon is by reading a good book or magazine. Obtain your BOOKS, MAGAZINES, Etc., today.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Elected Mayor of St. Colombe, of St. Mary.

At this time 36 years ago, Mr. James Timmony, of the firm of M. Stevenson & Co., was unanimously elected Mayor of the parish. Mr. Timmony may be often seen in the streets of Quebec looking hale and hearty as ever.

The New Aqueduct Pipes.

Thirty years ago the ice bridge was a great boon to the contractor who engaged to furnish them in this city. Notwithstanding the extreme size and weight of these pipes, two feet six inches in diameter, and from two to three tons in weight, the condition of the road is now so fine that the pipes are easily drawn by two horses. Although the ice bridge may be a boon to the contractor, it is also proving a source of some disgraceful scenes through the illicit sale of liquor in the cabanes, which are ostensibly there for the purpose of fishing. Judge Chapeau is determined to stop the evil and has placed at the disposal of the Inspector of Licenses, the services of the Provincial Police. In the first cabane visited, the officers found a cask and thirty bottle of spirituous liquors. The liquor was of course, confiscated. In another, they found 20 bottles and so on.

New Parliament Buildings.

Thirty years ago the work on the above buildings was being rapidly completed in the interior, and the temporary Assembly Chamber will be ready for occupation in a fortnight; workmen are also employed in laying down carpets and painting the walls and doors.

The insubordinate conduct of Major James Dunlop of the Montreal Volunteers in refusing to submit to the sentence of a general court martial, approved of by His Excellency the Governor-in-chief, and ordered by him to be carried out, makes it indispensable necessary in support of the discipline of the service, to declare the services of Major James Dunlop are no longer required in the Militia forces of Lower Canada. Captain John Ogilvy will assume the command of the Montreal volunteers in the room of Major James Dunlop until further orders.

By communication to the U. S. Secretary of State it appears that the Prince Regent has rejected the mediation for peace offered by His Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of Russia, and proposes instead that the negotiations to that end should be transferred to Gottenburg in Sweden.

A FOX TRAGEDY.

On one of the large estates in Hingham, Eng., a few weeks ago a fox was found to be destroying poultry. The time of the raids and their boldness were proof enough that the fox must be a female with young. Poisoned meat was prepared for her, and at once the raids ceased. A few days later one of the workmen of the estate came upon the den of a fox, at the mouth of which lay dead a whole litter of young ones. They had been poisoned. The mother had not eaten the doctored food herself, but had carried it home to her family. They must have died in the burrow, for it was evident from the signs that she had dragged them out into the fresh air to revive them and deposited them gently on the sand by the hole. Then in her perplexity she had brought various tidbits of mouse and bird and rabbit and placed at their noses to tempt them to wake up out of their strange sleep and eat as hungry children ought to eat. Who knows how long she watched beside the still forms and what her emotions were? She must have left the neighborhood soon after, however, for no one has seen her since about the estate.

Cut This Out

Famous Specialist's Recipe for Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises.

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferers perhaps from total deafness. Recent experiments have proved conclusively that catarrhal deafness, head noises, etc., were the direct cause of constitutional disease, and that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint, and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated, and which has aroused the belief that deafness will soon be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmit (double strength) about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of moist or granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose promptly ends the most distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison and which are quickly overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh, therefore there are but few people whose hearing cannot be restored by this simple home treatment. Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better.

Important.—In ordering Parmit always specify that you want Double Strength; your druggist has it or he can get it for you, it not, send 75c to the International Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, P. Q., who make a specialty of it.

A matter of business and not kindness, whereupon Mr. Mousseau replied: "I got it easy."

"It is a mark of my good faith," replied Mr. Sampson.

Reference was made in the conversation," Mr. Beck said, "to the opposition which might be raised by the Herald to the Bill. After this Mr. Sampson offered to have Mr. Mousseau driven home in his, Sampson's car, an invitation which Mr. Mousseau gratefully accepted.

Reporting Progress.
Mr. Beck continuing said that about 9 o'clock on Nov. 29th, 1913, he received a telephone call from Mr. Sampson to go over to 52 Duluth Buildings. Mr. Mousseau arrived at 4.30 o'clock to report progress on the bill. Mr. Mousseau said he had placed the bill in good hands in the Upper House. He said he had placed it in the hands of Hon. L. P. Berard, whose relations with the Premier he explained. He told of his influence as a member of the Upper House, and assured Mr. Sampson that if Mr. Berard fathered the bill there would be no trouble.

Taking Care of Them.
Mr. Mousseau told Mr. Sampson that the first reading of the bill would take place that week, and, to use his own words, "If I find we have to take care of certain people I will let you know." He added he would know better next week.

Mr. Mousseau asked Mr. Sampson if he had made any arrangements with Mr. Berard. Mr. Sampson replied, "I will leave that to you." Mr. Sampson said, "Tell him I will pay him $1,000—$500 down and $500 when the bill becomes law." Mr. Mousseau answered "good."

"There was a reference made to Hon. P. S. A. Mackenzie, Provincial Treasurer," said Mr. Beck, "and Mr. Mousseau said, 'Nothing for him.' Mr. Mackenzie sat opposite to Mr. Beck on the investigation committee, and blushed deeply.

"This is a high compliment to Mr. Mackenzie," said Mr. Marchal, counsel, "but there were other things said about Mr. Mackenzie, which, however unpleasant, will have to be stated." Mr. Mackenzie said, "It won't hurt; go on."

Mr. Beck said he could not exactly recall the other words.

A letter was then read by Mr. Sampson to Mr. Mousseau, said Mr. Beck. It came from Mr. David W. Hyland, really Mr. Biddinger, now chief of New York police, and was written from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. He said he was pleased with the progress made, and was ready to place $25,000 to the account of Mr. Sampson if he needed it. It also said, "Don't be stingy with the other fellows."

Mr. Beck said this letter was planned with the object of impressing Mr. Mousseau with the necessity of rushing the bill through. When Mr. Mousseau read the letter, he said there was no occasion to worry. He said it was impossible to spend money at that time to push the bill. He added that $10 here and $100 there might be useful later.

Talk of Premier.
"Following this," continued Mr. Beck, "there was some talk of the Premier, Sir Lomer Gouin. Mr. Sampson wanted to know if any inducement could be held out to the Premier. Mr. Mousseau said, No. He did not think the Premier could be induced to accept anything, and if any inducement could be held out to him at all, it would be that the measure was desired by his friends. He explained that the Premier was always anxious to please and oblige his friends, and that if it could be shown that the bill was for the good of his friends, that was the way to interest Sir Lomer Gouin in it.

Mr. Sampson asked, cannot we make the Premier a present of something?" Mr. Mousseau replied, "It won't be necessary."

Temper of the House.
Mr. Mousseau then spoke about the necessity of bringing the bill at the time the House was in good humor. He said, "Sometimes you know the members are cranky (laughter), and inclined to criticize anything that is being brought up and we will have to watch an opportunity for the House to be in good humor.

After that, they bade each other good-bye, and Mr. Sampson again offered to send Mr. Mousseau home in his automobile, and Mr. Mousseau accepted.

Chairman Taschereau: "Did you see Mr. Mousseau go into the office that day?"
Mr. Beck: "I did not see him."
Mr. Marchal: "Did you recognize his voice?"
Mr. Beck: "I swear I did."
Mr. Marchal: "Did Mr. Sampson mention Mr. Mousseau's name during the conversation?"
Mr. Beck: "Yes, fervently."

Visit to Quebec.

The scene of action was then changed to Quebec, where the detectives engaged rooms 367, 369 and 371 at the Chateau Frontenac. These rooms were connected with the telegraph, which Mr. Beck explained could be linked up and taken down in a few minutes.

Mr. Taschereau: "Was the management of the Chateau Frontenac aware of this machinery?"
Mr. Beck: "I am sure they were not aware of it. It was hid in the curtain."

Mr. Marchal declared that next week it was the intention of Messrs. Nichols and Macnab to bring the machinery to Quebec and show the committee how it worked.

At this stage the proceedings were adjourned until 8 o'clock last night.

SAFE CONDUCT GRANTED.

Motion of Sir Lomer to This Effect Carries Unanimously.

Immediately after the opening of the sitting of the Legislative Assembly this afternoon, Sir Lomer Gouin rose to give his opinion on the motion for the safe conduct of the witnesses who are to give evidence before the investigation committee on the famous graft charges against members of the Legislature by the Montreal Daily Mail.

The Premier's announcement was awaited with keen interest. He said that he had reviewed and thoroughly considered the whole question in view of the important circumstances attending it. "So that no one may be able to say that this Province which occupies a unique place in Confederation, that we were ever afraid to face the charges which have been made against us, I have the honor to submit the following motion to the House," said Sir Lomer.

Before reading the motion, he declared, "we have taken the context of the petition and we have granted safe conduct on the terms contained therein." The motion reads:

Whereas, Mr. M. E. Nichols and B. A. Macnab have by a petition set forth that they wish to summon Messrs. Edward Beck, G. B. Biddinger, S. C. Maloney, E. D. Keys, G. T. Martin, Alex. Appleby, and Miss Margaret E. Bailey to appear before the Special Committee appointed by the Legislature to investigate the truth of the facts in connection with the charges against Mr. J. O. Mousseau, and that to that end, such witnesses be accorded the privilege of coming to and sojourning in this province and after having been heard to return home without being sued, arrested, detained or molested, by reason of the infringement or violation of any rule concerning the immunities and privileges of the Legislature of this Province or other offences concerning the preparation, presentation and adoption of a certain bill, bearing the number 158, and whereas,

One of the persons whose name is mentioned in the said petition, Mr. Edward Beck, resides in this Province, wherein he is at present and has voluntarily appeared before the Special Committee of Inquiry appointed by this House, and consequently it is not necessary to grant the safe conduct asked for insofar as he is concerned;

The said Messrs. Edward Beck, G. B. Biddinger, S. C. Maloney, E. D. Keys, G. T. Martin, Alex. Appleby, and Miss Margaret E. Bailey may come to the City of Quebec to be heard before the Special Committee to sojourn in the said city, and after having been heard to return home so long as they sojourn in the said city for the said purposes, and during the time reasonably required for coming there and returning without being arrested or imprisoned or otherwise molested by reason of the infringement or violation of any rule or law concerning the immunities of the Legislature of this Province or other offences over which the Legislative Assembly of this Province has jurisdiction, which may have been committed in connection with the preparation, presentation and adoption of a bill of this House bearing the number 158, and entitled, "An Act to incorporate the Montreal Fair Association of Canada."

Mr. Tellier Approves.
Mr. J. M. Tellier, Leader of the Opposition, said that he was glad to approve of the motion in the measure that it would be applied. The House was well aware, he said, that this guarantee of safe conduct would only apply in so far as the laws of this Province were concerned. Would it not be possible to procure complete immunity from the Federal authorities, he asked.

Sir Lomer Gouin: "The petition asked for safe conduct. I think the motion is as wide as we could make it. I do not believe that Ottawa or any other country could give complete immunity, and I do not believe that it was ever done.

Those who are the accusers may take steps in that direction if they wish. It was said this morning that if safe conduct could not be obtained from the Province, it would be secured elsewhere. What I want is to prevent anybody justifying the statement that we have prevented Messrs. Nichols and Macnab from bringing all their witnesses to give evidence at this inquiry."

Premier's Motion Carries.
This motion was then unanimously carried. The remainder of the afternoon's sitting was spent in supply discussing the agricultural estimates.

Speaker's Decision.
Just before adjournment Speaker Delage announced his decision on the point of order raised last night by Hon. Mr. Taschereau on Mr. Lavergne's motion to have the House refuse the resignation of Mr. J. O. Mousseau until such time as the investigation

Committee had reported to the House and the House itself had taken a decision in the matter. The Speaker declared the motion out of order, upholding Mr. Taschereau's point. Mr. C. E. Gault (St. George, Montreal), appealed from the Speaker's decision and on vote being taken the appeal was rejected by a straight party division of 27 to 11.

Mr. Bernier, Levis, moved that the name of Mr. Lavergne be substituted for his on the investigation committee. After some discussion, this motion was carried and the House then adjourned until four o'clock on Monday afternoon.

MR. CHAPUIS DENIES.

Says He Has Never Conversd With Mr. Mousseau.

Hon. Thomas Chapuis, Leader of the Opposition, and Hon. Mr. Perodeau, Leader of the Government in the Upper House, both issued strong denials this afternoon, to the allegation made in yesterday's Montreal Daily Mail that Mr. Mousseau had said that he had conferred with Mr. Perron on the passing of the Montreal Fairs Association Bill.

Mr. Perodeau declares, "I was never approached by Mr. Perodeau or anybody else regarding this Bill, and I would like to make a strong denial of any suspicion that might have been raised in these mysterious conversations between Mr. Mousseau and the Burns' detectives."

Mr. Chapuis said "I see there is reference in yesterday's Mail to the Leader of the Opposition in the Legislative Council. I think that refers to me. As a matter of fact the title is given to me. I believe more as a courtesy than anything else, because there is no Opposition in this chamber. We merely offer criticism. I desire to declare in a most emphatic way that I have never had any conversation with Mr. Mousseau or any other individuals about the Montreal Fair Association Bill. The fact is, I have never had any conversations with Mr. Mousseau at all at any time. My relations with him have been confined to wishing him good-day in the corridors of the Parliament when I was walking past him."

NIGHT SITTING.

Committee Resumed Its Investigation of Mr. Beck.

When the Special Investigation Committee of the Legislative Assembly resumed their sitting last night. The first question taken up concerns the appearance of the witnesses regarding whom safe conduct Sir Lomer handed down his motion in the House in the afternoon.

Mr. Marchal said that since the witnesses had been guaranteed safe conduct it would be convenient for them to appear on Monday morning. It would also be necessary, Mr. Marchal said, to have Messrs. Mousseau, Berard, and Bergevin appear before the committee, and accordingly they will be summoned to appear with the other witnesses when the committee meets on Monday.

Cost of Witnesses.
The question then arose as to who should bear the cost of the expense of bringing the witnesses to Quebec.

Mr. Taschereau said in reply to Mr. Marchal that the Government would bear all costs for the witnesses from the United States. No other expenses were mentioned.

"You have no doubt that your witnesses can appear on Monday?" asked Mr. Taschereau.

"None whatever," replied Mr. Marchal. "They will be here without fail."

The resumption of the examination of Mr. Edward Beck then followed.

Mr. Marchal: "Mr. Beck, you were asked a question this morning to which objection was made. Will you please relate the conversation which took place between Messrs. Berard and Hyland after Mr. Berard had been introduced by Mr. Mousseau?"

Mr. Beck: "After Mr. Mousseau had introduced Mr. Berard to Mr. Hyland, he left the room, and Mr. Hyland asked Berard as to the character of the Fair Bill. Mr. Berard said he had not seen it, whereupon a copy was produced by Hyland, who outlined the intention of the company, to seek incorporation, explaining the nature of the Fair Bill, and stating among other things that it provided for horse races. Mr. Hyland explained the bill as a business proposition. There was lots of profit in it for all, he said, and if Mr. Berard undertook to ensure the passage of the bill through the Legislative Council there would be $2,500 in it for him when the bill had passed. Mr. Hyland went on to explain that a half a million dollars had been put into the proposition, and the conversation then turned on horse racing in Montreal, and Montreal as a business centre and a good place for horse races and fairs.

Mr. Marchal: "Now, Mr. Beck, did Mr. Berard answer?"
Mr. Beck: "Yes."
Mr. Marchal: "What did he say?"
Mr. Beck: "Mr. Berard made no reply to the offer of the $2,500."
Mr. Marchal: "Did Mr. Hyland repeat the offer?"

For Legal Services.
Mr. Beck: "Mr. Hyland repeated the offer," saying to Mr. Berard, "I have made you an offer of $2,500 if the bill goes through. I will take good care of those who help us. It will be a good thing for Montreal."

Mr. Berard said that in his opinion, it was a good proposition. Mr. Berard then talked about the prizes given at fairs and at the Toronto Exhibition.

Hyland explained that he knew something about that and upon reference again being made by Hyland about the passage of the bill, Mr. Berard said: "My public duty I cannot give you for payment, it is as a member of a law firm." There was further conversation with regard to the old exhibition company and the possibility of opposition to the Fair Bill. Mr. Berard then left and said to Mr. Hyland that he would see him again.

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "You did not know Mr. Berard?"
Mr. Beck: "I did not."
Mr. Taschereau: "Did you see him in the room?"
Mr. Beck: "I did not."

Mr. Marchal: "What did you hear in relation to Mr. Berard between Mr. Mousseau and Mr. Hyland?"
Mr. Beck: "I merely heard Mr. Mousseau introduce Mr. Berard to Mr. Hyland."

Mr. Marchal: "You recognized Mr. Mousseau's voice?"
Mr. Beck: "I recognized Mr. Mousseau's voice."

Mr. Marchal: "Will you relate the circumstances of the meeting between Mr. Mousseau and one of the people employed in the present case?"
Mr. Beck: "This meeting occurred between Messrs. Berard and Hyland at 6.05 p.m. on December 4th, in room 369 of the Chateau Frontenac."

Mr. Perron: "Mr. Mousseau was not there?"
The witness said that Mr. Mousseau was not there, and then proceeded to tell of the conversations which had passed in the course of which the name of Mr. Mousseau was mentioned, whereupon Mr. Perron interrupted with an objection that Mr. Mousseau could not be held responsible for anything that might have passed between Berard and Hyland. This led to a long technical discussion on the rules of evidence in which Mr. Perron, Mr. Taschereau, Mr. Marchal, Mr. Bisailion, Mr. Tellier and Mr. Armand Lavergne, who replaced Mr. Bernier on the committee, took part. The objection being put to a vote it was sustained by four to three, after which the examination of Mr. Beck was proceeded with.

Gaining a Week.
"On Saturday, December 6th, shortly before three o'clock," continued Mr. Beck, "I was telephoned to go to Mr. Sampson's office in the Duluth Building in Montreal. I used the instruments as before. At eleven minutes past three Mr. Mousseau entered Mr. Sampson's office. I knew it was Mr. Mousseau by his voice and by the greetings Mr. Sampson gave. Mr. Mousseau said everything was going fine, and that the Liberal members of the House would support it. He said there might be a little difficulty in getting some of the Conservative members and he advised Mr. Sampson to get Mr. J. A. Labelle to look after the Conservatives." Mr. Sampson urged haste to the bill and said he was in a great hurry to get it through. Mr. Mousseau said, "Owing to some funds which I gave, I have been able to gain a week with the bill. I got a clerk to advance the bill." Mr. Sampson said, "I hope the clerk will keep his mouth shut." There was no mention of the amount or the name of the clerk at this time, Mr. Mousseau just remarking that it was between him and the clerk.

Private Bills Committee.
Mr. Mousseau explained the make up of the Private Bills Committee, and said there were sixty members, and he would only have to take care of a few, because only half of the members attended the meetings. He remarked that the Liberals were in the majority. Mr. Sampson then produced a list of members and asked Mr. Mousseau to check the names of those he had seen.

Mr. Prevost "Dangerous."
Mr. Mousseau said: "This list I will attend to myself, and this one I will turn over to Labelle." Mr. Sampson said: "Who is this man Prevost, you have marked?" Mr. Mousseau explained "he was once a Liberal Minister, now on the Conservative side. He said he was dangerous." (Laughter.) "You should have Labelle see him. Others are all Liberals. I will attend to them." Mr. Mousseau then said: "These ones are the English members of the committee," and then he said: "Better have Sylvestre, he is more assiduous."

The Race Cry.
Mr. Perron here tried to press Mr. Beck for more information about the English members, and Mr. Marchal entered into a fierce clash with him about the propriety of this. Mr. Marchal said heatedly that this was not a question of either English, Irish or French members, and Mr. Beck said: "I am just plainly stating exactly what I heard, and if Mr. Mousseau in his conversation had referred to the French members I would have reported in exactly the same way as I am reporting this." Mr. Marchal said: "I want it to be distinctly understood that we are not here to discuss the race question."

Continuing, Mr. Beck said: "Mr. Sampson's next remark was, 'what shall we give these fellows?' Mr. Mousseau replied, 'some $100, others $200.' Mr. Sampson said: 'mark in front of each name what you think we should give.' Mr. Mousseau said: '$200 should be given to the heavyweights.' Sampson said: 'why this fellow $200, and this fellow $100?' 'Mousseau said: 'because he will be assured of with that.' 'Sampson said: 'Suppose he finds that other fellows got more?' 'Mousseau said: 'rely upon me for his not knowing.' 'Sampson: 'Won't he get mad?' 'Mousseau said: 'When he finds out the bill will be passed.' 'Sampson said: 'I see.' 'Mousseau said: 'We must do something for him.' 'Sampson said: 'Is there anybody else, we must clean up this week?' 'Mousseau said: 'Cannot possibly do it.'

"Sampson asked if there was anybody else likely to make trouble, and Mr. Mousseau assured him 'not on this side. Mr. Mousseau said Mr. Mousseau said he thought the names he had mentioned would be sufficient to get the bill through the committee."

The Next Meeting.
Continuing Mr. Beck said: "The next record I have was between Mousseau and Sampson. On Saturday, December 13th, 1913 at 52 Duluth building. After the usual greetings, Mr. Mousseau made reference to a letter which he had written to Hyland the week before. He said the bill had received the second reading yesterday and went on to relate that it was most important to win time. Mr. Sampson was very insistent on rushing the thing, and Mr. Mousseau explained we have strained every nerve, and we must not forget that it is very hard work to rush a bill through in so short a time."

"Mr. Mousseau said: '$2,300 is the amount required to pass the bill through our House.'
Sampson asked him how much he proposed to give each member and Mr. Mousseau said the figures he had the other day varied from $100 to $200 and $300. Mr. Sampson asked if those figures were final, and Mousseau said: 'My idea would be to pay half down and half after the bill is passed.'

Sampson asked him how many members he would take care of, and Mr. Mousseau said: "Let me look after this." "Sampson said: 'That is all right, but I want to know who my friends are, because I might require some future legislation.'
"Mr. Mousseau said: 'You know I am your friend, but I do not think I would like to circulate a list of members and figures.' Sampson said off-hand that he did not want them. "Mousseau said: 'I will know those who supported on the Liberal side and you will know those who supported on the Conservative side.'
"Sampson said: 'I will do as you say, when one has a doctor one must do as he says.'

Sampson elaborated on the idea of a man obeying his doctor and went on to say something about money not growing on trees.
"Mousseau said: 'We must find someone in the Upper House to help the bill there; we must get Berard, the representative of the Prime Minister, to push it through.'
"Mousseau said: 'I will not only take charge of the bill in my House, but I will look after it when it gets in the Upper House. Berard is too dignified. We'll get Mr. Devarennes to go among the members and put the bill through the Upper House.'
"Sampson asked: 'What is the matter with making a deal with him?' and Mousseau replied: 'Do you want to see him?'

"Sampson said: 'Yes, send him here. A man feels better when he knows whom he is dealing with.'
"Mousseau said: 'Now I can rely upon you, Mr. Sampson of meeting the promise you have made?'
"Sampson said: 'Sure, there's my hand on it. Anything I say goes.'
The Chairman: "Do you think Mr. Labelle was aware that this was a fake bill?"
Mr. Beck: "On the contrary, I am convinced that he believed that it was not a fake bill."

The Chairman: "What are your reasons for believing that?"
Mr. Beck: "Because these corrupt means were openly discussed between Messrs. Labelle, Hyland, Mousseau and Sampson."

Money Paid Out.
Mr. Beck went on to explain that the next record that he had was of an interview which took place at room 369 at Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, on December 16th, at 9:55 a.m. Mr. Mousseau and Mr. Labelle entered the room together. Mr. Mousseau said there was a fine chance to rush the bill through that morning, and said it should be through both Houses by Monday or Tuesday of next week. Labelle then left the room. Hyland asked Mousseau if he needed some money, and Mr. Mousseau said, "yes." He said that half of the $2,300 should be handed over now. "Hyland asked: 'What kind of bills do you want?' 'Mousseau asked: 'What kind have you got?' 'Hyland then gave Mousseau $650 in fifty dollar bills and the rest in $100 bills." "Hyland said: 'Count it.' 'Mousseau counting said: 'One, two three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, $650 fifties—one, two, three, four five in hundreds. Hyland said he had some five hundred dollar bills, and Mousseau suggested he should change them into fifties, because they were more easy to handle."

Mr. Marchal: "Now Mr. Beck, in the list of names to which you have referred, are there mentioned any names of members of the Lower House?"
Mr. Beck: "There is only reference to the Prime Minister."
Mr. Marchal: "Oh, there is a reference to the Prime Minister?"
Mr. Beck: "Yes."
Mr. Marchal: "If there are any references to the Prime Minister, we want to know what they are."
Mr. Beck: "Mr. Mousseau told Mr. Sampson that they should have Mr. Berard with them in the Upper House, and that they must also enlist the services of Mr. Devarennes to ensure the passage of the bill immediately."

Mr. Marchal: "You have also a list of names. In that list you have no names of members of the House?"
Mr. Beck: "Not in this list."
Mr. Marchal: "Then in another list do you understand my question. Are there any names of members of the Upper House?"
Mr. Beck: "There is no list following this conversation."

Mr. Marchal: "You referred to a list, and said there was a list of members. You said there were names. Were they the names of members of this House?"
Mr. Beck: "No."
Mr. Marchal: "Well, that settles it. Are there the names on the list of any members of any branch of the House?"
Mr. Beck: "No, only the Prime Minister."
Mr. Marchal: "Oh, I see."
Mr. Beck, continuing the record of what he had heard on the telegraph, said, "Mr. Mousseau asked Hyland whom he would like to see? Mr. Hyland suggested to Mr. Mousseau that he could come to dinner with him at 7 o'clock. Mr. Mousseau said that would be all right. 'I will bring someone with me, introduce him to you, and leave him with you.'
Mr. Hyland: 'I tell you right now, you won't have to wait a minute for your money when the bill goes through.'
At this juncture Mr. Gault moved an adjournment. Mr. Taschereau asked Mr. Marchal if he could get through inside of an hour. In reply to a question from the lawyer, Mr. Beck said there were another dozen interviews, whereupon Mr. Marchal remarked that it would be impossible to finish tonight, and it would not be fair to Mr. Beck to ask him to be on the stand for four or five hours.
Mr. Taschereau: "Let us sit for fifteen minutes more."
Mr. Marchal: "The next interview was a short one. When was it held Mr. Beck?"
Mr. Beck: "The evening of December 13th, in room 369, of the Chateau Frontenac. There were three interviews that day."
The next record is one of a meeting held on January 8th, 1914.
Mr. Taschereau: "Were there no interviews between the 13th of December and January 8th, when the meeting was held at 6.57, in room 479 of the Chateau Frontenac?"
Mr. Beck: "No."
Shortly after this the Committee adjourned and will meet again on Monday evening, at 8.30 o'clock.

HON. GEORGE FOSTER DOING GOOD WORK
OPPOSITION MEMBERS ANXIOUS ABOUT LORD STRATHCONA'S SUCCESSOR.
Ottawa, Jan. 30—Members of the Opposition tried to draw out the Prime Minister this afternoon on the question of the Canadian High Commissionership, but were unable to obtain much information. The discussion came during the voting of estimates for the expenses of the High Commissioners' office.
Hon. George P. Graham observed that there was considerable speculation regarding the likely successor to Lord Strathcona.
"As a matter of fact," he added, "we are all quite unsettled about it, and I would like to ask the Prime Minister if he has made up his mind as to a successor?"
"Except in so far as he can get relief from the newspapers, the honorable gentleman will have to remain unsettled for a time," replied Mr. Borden.
Mr. Foster's Work.
That Hon. George E. Foster, is making his department of real service to Canadian business, was made clear during the discussion of his estimates and the Minister received some compliments from his political opponents on the energy and ability he had shown. Hon. Mr. Foster made it plain that he intends to make the Trade Commissionerships posts that will call for the best men to fill them, and he indicated his desire that the Canadian trade consular service should become a field of work to which men would look and to which they might properly devote their lives.
The Minister was also in favor of the trade agents coming from their respective fields to Canada once a year, "to renew their youth," and keep closely in touch with Canadian conditions and to enable them to confer with Canadian business men.

COMING RESULTS OF REDISTRIBUTION
UNIT OF REPRESENTATION IN LARGER CITIES WILL BE ABOUT 40,000.
Ottawa, Jan. 30—Premier Borden tonight gave notice of the redistribution bill which will be introduced at an early date. This bill will set forth the number of members for each province, but will not state in any way how the ridings are to be constituted, this probably being left to a committee of the House, as in 1903.
The unit of representation obtained by dividing the population of Quebec by 65 will be 30,811. This means that the members to be allotted to each province will be as follows: Ontario, 82; Quebec, 65; Nova Scotia, 16; New Brunswick, 11; Manitoba, 15; British Columbia, 13; Saskatchewan, 16; Alberta, 12; Prince Edward Island, 3; Yukon Territory, 1; total, 234.
In the redistribution Ontario loses four members, Nova Scotia two, New Brunswick two, and Prince Edward Island one, while Manitoba will gain five, Saskatchewan six, Alberta five, and British Columbia six.
It is expected that the unit of representation in the larger cities will be considerably larger than the unit in the less congested. It is likely to be in the neighborhood of 40,000.

ACQUITTED.
Joseph Cote, the young man arrested at Levis, and accused by Mr. Fradette, of that town, of theft, was acquitted yesterday in the Police Court by Judge Langelier, for want of proof to sustain the charge.
DANGEROUS TO NAVIGATION.
Boston, Jan. 30—A dangerous obstruction to navigation, thought to be a submerged wreck, in latitude 42-26 north and longitude 67-28 west, was reported today by the steamer Cambrian. The wreck is believed to be one of the schooners abandoned off the coast during the gale of January 10th.
Killed by a Rusty Nail.
At the inquiry on Monday into the death of Thomas Marwood, fifty-eight Longford place, Streford, a butcher's assistant, it was explained that at the end of December, while chopping firewood in the yard of his employer, Alfred Kenyon, butcher, Chester road, Streford, he ran a rusty nail into his finger. Later the wound began to swell, and he died at the Royal Infirmary. A verdict of "Accidental death" was returned.

VOTES FOR NEXT CIVIC ELECTIONS

FOURTEEN THOUSAND AND NINETEEN NAMES ON THE LIST, FORTY PER CENT. OF WHICH ARE FEMALES.

It will be interesting to know that at the coming municipal elections 14,019 citizens who have paid their taxes and water rates, will be entitled to vote, and fully forty per cent. of this number are members of the gentler sex.

The following is a correct list of the number of qualified voters by wards and polling divisions:—
 St. Peter's Ward—Polls: 139, 113, 136, 108, 145, 95—736 voters.
 St. John's Ward—Polls: 143, 137, 158, 115, 127, 150, 120, 161, 139, 107, 128, 137—1,522 voters.
 Champlain Ward—Polls: 132, 152—284 voters.
 St. Malo Ward—Polls: 143—143 voters.
 St. Louis Ward—Polls: 153, 170, 202—525 voters.
 Montcalm Ward—Polls: 151, 173, 121, 155, 103, 99, 181, 135, 136, 162, 102, 96—1,614 voters.
 Belvedere Ward—Polls: 129, 121, 151, 165, 105, 139—810 voters.
 St. Valier Ward—Polls: 96, 174, 109, 120, 129, 144, 134, 152, 143, 117, 166—1,484 voters.
 Jacques-Cartier Ward—Polls: 146, 194, 186, 178, 157, 177, 118, 140, 147, 114, 90—1,647 voters.
 Palace Ward—Polls: 93, 99, 119, 98—409 voters.
 St. Roch Ward—Polls: 134, 145, 158, 138, 158, 144, 158, 164, 164, 97, 99, 137, 146—1,842 voters.
 St. Sauveur Ward—Polls: 143, 135, 131, 153, 107, 163, 174, 97, 191, 197—1,491 voters.
 Limoilou Ward—Polls: 79, 183, 150, 150, 140, 117, 161, 66, 163, 128—1,337 voters.

There have been added to the list 75 votes, which brings the total number of voters to 14,019.

S. P. C. A. MEETING.

At a recent meeting of the Women's Branch, S.P.C.A., it was decided to hold a garden party and sale in June, at the residence of the President, Mrs. J. T. Ross. An early intimation of this event is being given so that all friends of the Society may have an opportunity of helping this worthy object by preparing through the winter months, contributions of fancy articles.

COPPER THIEVES SENT TO GAOL FOR FOUR MONTHS.

Three men, who claim St. Sauveur as their residence, and two of them married, who gave their names as Fortunat Dufour, Joseph Boivin and Goudiose Page, were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday, accused of stealing copper from the old gas house building, at the Palais, the property of the Q., R., L., H. & P. Co. The accused admitted their guilt and were condemned by Judge Langelier, to serve four months each in the Quebec gaol.

AUCTION SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY

Investors and others would do well to read the advertisement in another column announcing the sale by public auction of the valuable property on St. Anne street, known as Tara Hall. The lot is an unusually large one, is centrally located and sure to increase in value. It is admirably adapted for the erection of a tenement house, private hospital, etc. The property will be sold on Monday next 2nd February, at 10 a.m. at 113 St. Anne street, by Mr. Jos. Gale, auctioneer, and should attract a large number of bidders.

OLD GLOVER & FRY DRY GOODS STORE TO BE REBUILT.

Dr. J. M. Mackay, one of the interested owners of the building on Fabrique street, some years ago occupied as a dry goods establishment by Glover Fry & Co., informs The Chronicle that the owners have not leased the premises as rumored, and furthermore, they have decided to rebuild and, should any party or parties desire to acquire the property as a dry goods store, they will build to accommodate such a business. If not they will convert the property into stores and the upper part as flats or office suites for tenants.

THE HOSPITAL FOR THE TUBERCULOUS

ENGLISH-SPEAKING CITIZENS WERE INVITED TO A MEETING YESTERDAY.

A meeting, to which English people were especially invited, was held yesterday at the City Hall to discuss the proposed construction of the Hospital for tuberculous patients.

Amongst those present were: Messrs J. T. Ross, Dobell, Evans, Seifert, Stuart, Wiggs, Whitehead, M. Tessier, Sirois, Dr. Rousseau, Sir Adolphe Routhier and Mr. F. Roy.

Sir Adolphe Routhier was elected chairman of the committee, and in a few well chosen words, said: "This construction was an absolute necessity, that nobody denied that; and he and all his French-Canadian friends were determined to carry the project through at all costs, the only question now being, whether English people were ready to help in the great work. To find out this was the object of the present meeting."

Sir Adolphe ordered that it was well understood the Hospital would be opened to all, regardless of race, creed, and denomination; and he ended by saying that the erection of the Hospital for tuberculous patients is a work of preservation for English as well as for French people, and that suggestions from all interested would be welcomed.

Mr. G. Stuart regretted the absence of many of his friends who were out of town at present. He approved entirely of the project in question and considered it a necessity to isolate our tuberculous patients; whether it would be better for English people to build themselves a small hospital for their sick, or to join the promoters of the work already started, was the thing which had to be considered. That his friends were all willing to help in some way he was positive; it only remains to decide by what means.

Mr. Ferdinand Roy, who has acted as secretary of the first committee of the Hospital, explained its constitution, and stated that nothing has been definitely settled about the general organization. It was argued from the beginning that a board of directors would be elected, which would comprise several English people.

Mr. Dobell doubted if the estimates already furnished for the construction and maintenance of the Hospital were high enough, judging from the cost of the Lake Edward Sanitarium.

Dr. Rousseau, who is the chief organizer of the hospital work, declared that his information on the subject proved that each bed in such an hospital costs $1,000. The cost of the construction as proposed, would be about $120,000. Mr. G. E. Amyot had enquired from the director of the New Haven Hospital for tuberculosis about the maintenance of the institution, according to their report, it would not exceed $20,000 yearly.

The subscriptions so far have reached $60,000. The annual allowance of the Government and that of the City would be for the present, $7,000, but it is thought that the Government will raise this sum, as it is very favorably disposed towards an institution which would not only be a work of benevolence or charity, but scientific training.

Dr. Rousseau did not question the possibility of finding means to build and maintain the said hospital, he believed that the Catholics could do it and if an appeal were made to English people it was not a case of helplessness, but a great wish to associate with them in this important social work.

YOUNG MAN ARRESTED.

On a Charge of Stealing From His Employer.

Raoul Perreault, aged 18 years, who managed a tobacco store on Mountain Hill, for Mr. Joseph Cote, was arrested on Thursday night last on the charge of stealing, by detective Defoy of the City police, and yesterday brought to the Police Court, where he was remanded to gaol pending investigation.

Mr. Joseph Cote conducts six cigar and tobacco stores in different sections of the city, and has had considerable unfortunate experience with clerks in his employ, whom he detected in dishonesty, and heretofore simply discharged them without prosecuting.

Raoul Perreault was one of his brilliant and trusted clerks, and some time ago when he had managed No. 2 store, he promoted him to the position of city salesman, but recently placed him in charge of No. 4 store, located on Mountain Hill.

Mr. Cote having reason to investigate his stock in No. 2 store, found that he had been a victim of pilfering, suspecting Perreault, whom he placed such confidence in, he also investigated No. 4 store, and discovered stock missing, and later caused the arrest of the young accused.

Mr. Cote places his loss at $600 in goods and cash, and says, that though he is reluctant to prosecute young Perreault, he feels that for his own protection, and the protection of society, it is his duty to make an example.

MAYOR DROUIN WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION TO MAYORALTY

MADE HIS FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT AT CITY COUNCIL MEETING LAST NIGHT.

In answer to a message sent the head office of the C. P. R. Company in Montreal, by the Quebec Board of Trade, concerning the 5 p. m. train between Quebec and Montreal, the Company has decided to send Mr. Hodge, Superintendent of this district, and Mr. Hebert, Assistant General Passenger Agent, to meet the Council.

At last evening's meeting of the City Council, His Worship Mayor Drouin, made his first announcement of again being a candidate for the office of Mayor for another term.

In the course of his remarks His Worship said that in consequence of the many insinuations and rumors concerning the administration of the city's affairs, and how the different works were carried out, particularly with regard to the laying of the new water main, he determined to seek re-election, and he hoped all the Aldermen would do the same. He wished to see all the works undertaken during his administration carried to completion, not only those under control of the city, but those under the Dominion Government and Transcontinental Railway, about which he had been in negotiations with the Government and others on behalf of the city.

With regard to the new water main it was his desire to be Mayor when it was handed over to and accepted by the city, and he would assume the whole responsibility for the work.

Certain people were asking for an investigation of municipal affairs, said His Worship. It does not require a great deal of effort to have such an investigation. He was prepared to deposit $2,000, provided the parties talking investigation would do the same, or give bonds for that amount, and let the proceedings commence as soon as possible, and if there was any mal-administration proven against him or the Council during his term of office, he would personally pay all the cost of the investigation. On the other hand, if the accusers failed in their charges, they to pay the costs.

The Mayor says he will hold a public meeting in St. Peter's Hall, St. Sauveur, on Sunday afternoon, 1st February, at 2 o'clock, to which all electors are cordially invited. His Worship will then announce his program for the next two years. Several Aldermen and others will also address the meeting.

ANTIQUITY OF FOOTBALL.

At Derby, a game of football was played as early as the third century, in commemoration of a victory over the Roman legion at Chester. The first football used in the annual game, still played each Easter, is said to have been the head of a Danish invader. In the Isle of Purbeck, too, says the London Chronicle, the quarrymen from time immemorial have perpetrated their claim to a grant of land, by kicking a football across it. In the fourteenth century the game was so popular as to call forth an edict forbidding it, on the ground that it interfered with the practice of more martial exercise. In the later times, Shakespeare referred contemptuously to the game, but perhaps few would be able to turn up readily the passage in King Lear describing "a base football player."

DEAN SWIFT DIES AGAIN.

In the process of expansion, press telegrams often undergo a wonderful transformation, says Chambers' Journal. Some years ago the first three horses in the Lincoln handicap were Ob, Dean Swift and Roseate Dawn. A press agent in London, wired the result to an Australian paper as follows: "Lincoln Ob Dean Swift Roseate Dawn." The sub-editor who was in charge had never heard of the Lincoln handicap, and for some time puzzled vainly over the mysterious message. Finally he came to the conclusion that "Ob" must stand for obit, the Latin word expressing a death notice. He accordingly turned out the following paragraph, which duly appeared in print: "We deeply regret to announce the death at Lincoln, of the celebrated Dean Swift, the author of that favorite hymn, 'The Roseate Hues of Early Dawn.'"

 BY-LAW NO. 7.
 Concerning Good Order and Peace.

(Drawn up in the French language.)
 At a meeting of the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec, held on the 16th day of January, one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, (1914) the following by-law was read for the first time.

It is ordained and enacted by the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec, and the said Council doth hereby ordain and enact as follows:

1.—It is forbidden to every merchant, or trader, in the City of Quebec, to keep standing on the sidewalk in front of his store or business establishment, or in a door, or on the threshold of the door of said store, or business establishment, near the sidewalk, and then there to annoy the pedestrians by soliciting them to enter said store or business establishment, or by soliciting them to purchase his merchandise or trade effects.

2.—It is also forbidden to any clerk or employee of such merchant or trader to keep standing on the sidewalk or in front of the store, or business establishment of his master, or in the door, or on the threshold of the door of said store or business establishment near the sidewalk, and then there to molest the pedestrians by soliciting them to enter in said store or business establishment, or by soliciting them to purchase merchandise or trade effects from his master or employer.

3.—Whoever renders himself guilty of infraction to the dispositions of the present by-law is liable to a fine not exceeding forty dollars and costs, and in default of payment of said fine and costs, to an imprisonment for a space of time not exceeding two months.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that, pursuant to the dispositions of law, the above by-law will be read a second time, for adoption, on FRIDAY, the 30th DAY OF JANUARY INSTANT, (1914.)

CAN CHAMPIONS REPEAT VICTORY

Can Quebec repeat their victory over Ottawa tonight? That is the question which is agitating the supporters of the Cupholders. If they are in the form that they were the other night they certainly will, but there are many uncertainties in hockey. As the honorable Michael Quinn would remark: "There is nothing certain but death and taxes."

At any rate it may be taken for granted that the champions will not have such an easy time as they did the other night, and it is dollars to doughnuts that Alf Smith and the Ottawa boys have been lying awake o' nights trying to dope out some plays to offset the tactics employed by Quebec on Wednesday night. They have been smarting under their defeat and on their own ice, with thousands of their supporters to cheer them on they will have every inducement to do their utmost to reverse the decision of the other night.

However, the Quebec sporting public has confidence in their representatives in the hockey line whatever they may think about their representatives in other quarters, and they figure out that the champions have at last begun to show their true form and get together. Consequently popular impression is that they have enough tricks to bring them out ahead at the close of tonight's game. And, if they win tonight, then they should be able to retain the Cup once more.

LAURENTIDES WILL PLAY GRAND 'MERE

GOOD GAME IS EXPECTED WITH CRACK INTERPROVINCIAL TEAM TONIGHT.

The Laurentides club will meet formidable opponents at the local rink tonight when they tackle the famous Grand'Mere aggregation, which has been very much in the limelight lately especially on account of the attempts of the Ontarios to get the speedy forward, McLaughlin, who has received offers from the Stanley Cup holders and other N. H. A. teams. In spite of the reputation of the Inter-provincial leaders the Laurentides are going to leave nothing undone in an effort to make their best showing of the season tonight and a good game is expected. In addition to McLaughlin, the Grand'Mere team has a corking good player in Ritchie, who always shows great form when he comes to Quebec. They have a splendid all round team and will be well worth watching in action. The Laurentides will have a representative team out, the following being the line-up: Demers, Joseph Hamel, J. Walsh, E. Roy, Angers, J. Roy, and Simard. During the progress of the game the scores in the different N. H. A. games will be bulletined, and the fans will no doubt follow the game at Ottawa with great interest.

ALLEGATIONS ABOUT FORCIBLE FEEDING DENIED BY BISHOP

TOUR OF HOLLOWAY JAIL BY EMINENT DIVINE DISPROVES RUMORS.

London, Jan. 30.—There is no truth in the allegations made by militant suffragettes that three of their comrades imprisoned in Holloway jail are subjected to execrating torture while being forcibly fed, according to the Bishop of London, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington Ingram. The Bishop, accompanied by another clergyman, visited Holloway jail at the request of a deputation of militant suffragettes, and with the consent of the Home Secretary. While there he spoke with Miss Rachael Peace, one of the suffragette prisoners, about a statement made by Miss Florence Ansell who, after her release from Holloway, told a suffragette meeting that while she was incarcerated she had heard shrieks and moans twice daily proceeding from Miss Peace's cell.

The Bishop in a letter to the Women's Social and Political Union, says: "I found Miss Peace in the 'Remand Hospital,' which is 300 yards from the 'Convicted Hospital' where Miss Ansel was lying. Miss Peace lay on a comfortable bed fully dressed and in a well-warmed cell. Her face was fully rounded and she showed no signs of emaciation or distress." Miss Peace informed Bishop Ingram that she had never shrieked and had never been put into a padded cell in the jail where she is undergoing eighteen months' imprisonment. The only complaint Miss Peace made was that she had not been released like the other suffragettes under the provisions of the "Cat and Mouse" act.

Bishop Ingram informed Miss Peace that he was authorized by the Home Secretary to tell her she would be released immediately, if she would undertake to refrain from committing criminal acts of militancy such as the burning of houses for which she had been convicted. Miss Peace, however, replied that she was unable conscientiously to give this promise.

The Bishop's report on his visit concludes: "She said nothing to me about forcible feeding. If Miss Ansell heard shrieks they could not have been uttered by Miss Peace... the fears you express in regard to her condition are not borne out by the facts."

LIBERALS AGAINST CANADIAN NAVY

DON'T WANT ANY MORE MONEY SPENT ON NIOBE AND RAINBOW.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—There was some interesting dialogue when estimates for the naval department were reached. A. K. MacLean held that as the act was not being administered and the Niobe and Rainbow were tied up at a dock the Opposition was justified in refusing the appropriation. Hon. J. D. Hazen said that Mr. MacLean was wrong in saying that the estimates for the naval service was increasing. Only the smaller part of this vote was for the navy, this being $31,060, while the balance, $76,490, was for wireless service, tidal surveys and all the other work that was included in this department. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that when the Naval Service Act was passed there was a naval department organized. It was the intention to repeal the act, notice of a bill for which had been given, why were the estimates appearing. The ships were bare. There was no attempt to punish desertion, indeed it looked as if the government encouraged it. Hon. J. D. Hazen: "No, no."

CARDINAL MERRY DEL VAL MAY BE CHAMBERLAIN OF CHURCH

Rome, Jan. 30.—It is reported that Cardinal Merry del Val probably will be appointed Chamberlain of the Church, an office which has been vacant since the death of Cardinal Rampolla. It is one of the highest positions in the church, as during an interregnum, the Chamberlain directs the ecclesiastical and political government of the church.

KEPHALDOL

COMES TO CANADA

Originated by Dr. Stohr, a famous physician of Vienna, Austria, Kephaldol is known and used throughout Europe and Great Britain.

Now, backed by the endorsements of hundreds of physicians and hospitals, it comes to Canada to relieve pain and cure Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Neuritis, Headache, La Grippe, Fevers and similar troubles.

Kephaldol has received the highest commendation from the medical profession because of its direct strengthening action on the nerves, without injury to the heart, and its lasting regulative and curative effect upon the whole system.

Unlike other pain-killing remedies, Kephaldol is absolutely harmless. It causes no intestinal irritation, and has no depressing effects.

Kephaldol will now bring to pain-wracked Canadians the untold blessings which it has already conferred in the Old Country—joy of perfect life again to those who, perhaps for many years, have dragged through a tormented existence.

Get a 50c tube of Kephaldol tablets at your Druggist's. Kephaldol, Ltd., 31 Latour street, Montreal.

SENATE FAVORS BRYAN'S TREATIES

NUMEROUS ARBITRATION AGREEMENTS LIKELY TO BE RATIFIED SOON.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Responding promptly to President Wilson's appeal, made at the White House conference last Monday night, the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations today ordered favorable reports on a large number of arbitration treaties between the United States and the leading countries of the world. These were laid before the Senate later in executive session and will come up for ratification in the near future.

This action will rehabilitate that extensive structure or arbitration which had been gradually falling to pieces by the expiration of the time limit of one treaty after another, until all of them had either expired or were about to expire.

The far-reaching character of this group of treaties is shown by the long list of first-rate powers with which they are made, including most of the great powers of Europe, South America and the Orient. On the list are Great Britain, Japan, Italy, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Portugal, Switzerland and France, the pact with the latter having been ratified last February. A treaty of the same kind with Mexico expired last June and was not renewed.

The Senate committee considered today those treaties soon to expire and agreed, inasmuch as they are identical with the eight recommended for extension, that they should be approved for extension as rapidly as they expire.

Aside from the importance of the treaties in the cause of arbitration, some of them have a larger significance in affecting the political and international relations between the United States and other countries. It is understood to have been the purpose of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan in urging prompt ratification to establish a Pacific bulwark which would further lessen the possibility of complications on any of the existing foreign problems, including those growing out of the Mexican revolution, the Panama tolls question with Great Britain and the issues with Japan in respect to naturalization, land tenure, etc.

and all his officers got away from the sinking vessel and were rescued. All the officers and the crew of both the Monroe and the Nantucket were held here tonight to await an investigation of the catastrophe, which will be begun immediately by the Federal Steamboat Inspection Service.

Thrilling were the stories told by the rescued who were brought to Norfolk by the Nantucket. Revised lists put the lot at 43, of which number 19 were passengers and 24 members of the Monroe's crew. Eight of the Monroe's passengers, whom wireless reports had put in the list of the lost, walked or were borne from the steamer Nantucket when the latter landed the rescued at Norfolk this afternoon. These were George M. Martow of New York; Mrs. John M. Ray, of New York; E. P. Lyons, of New York; W. C. Clausen, of Milwaukee; Edward Gorman, of Philadelphia; Albert Synder of East Orange, N. J., and C. W. Poole, of Gray, Va.

Mrs. Ray's husband was lost, and she, a girl of 20, was tonight in Norfolk without friends or means.

The Old Dominion Steamship Company, through its assistant general manager, E. E. Palen, took charge of the survivors and Mrs. Ray is being cared for at a local hotel until she can communicate with her friends and determines when she will proceed to New York.

Died After Rescue.

Mrs. Thomas R. Harrington, of Bridgeport, Conn., and Lieut. Legrand B. Curtis, U. S. A., died on the steamer Nantucket after their rescue.

Lieut. Curtis was taken from the water unconscious and badly injured, and the only mark of identification found on the body was the name "Curtis" upon a handkerchief taken by the army officer's pajamas.

Mrs. Harrington had been rescued by her heroic husband, who was swimming with his wife's hair in his teeth when picked up by a boat from the Nantucket. Harrington, himself, overcame when lifted aboard the Nantucket, refused to find his wife dead. With a blanket about him he remained beside her body until it was, in his presence, borne from the Nantucket. Mr. Harrington will tomorrow accompany his wife's body to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kelly, Norwalk, Conn.

OFFICERS' GOOD WORK.

Many Passengers Were Picked Up Out of the Water.

New York, Jan. 30.—The presence of mind of crew and passengers alike was responsible for the saving of so many lives from the Old Dominion Liner Monroe, which sank off Hog Island, early today, according to a statement issued here tonight by H. B. Walker, president and general manager of the Old Dominion Steamship Line, through James Leyland, superintendent of the line.

In his statement Mr. Walker says that Captain E. E. Johnston, master of the Monroe, launched lifeboat No. 7, with the aid of eight volunteers and then picked up 27 persons who had jumped into the water just before the liner went under, making the total saved by this boat 35. Equally good work was done by First Officer Guy Horsley who, after launching boat No. 3 with ten passengers, rescued 24 persons who had jumped from the deck of the steamer. Lifeboat No. 1 was smashed as she landed in the water and No. 2 capsized.

Fourteen persons were saved by two boats from the Nantucket. One of the life rafts of the Monroe proved the means of saving the lives of six, while another saved four persons.

Second Officer J. E. Gately went below immediately after the collision to ascertain the extent of the damage done. He found most of the passengers on the promenade deck. He tried to get them on the boat deck but did not succeed. When the Monroe went down he floated off on a ladder and was later picked up.

The law of the sea, that women and children must be saved first, cost the chief wireless operator of the Monroe his life. He was standing by boat No. 3 when he saw a woman without a life belt, and promptly gave her his. Mr. Walker's statement counts him among the dead. The woman was saved. One of the passengers, a mining engineer, followed the example of the chief wireless operator. What became of him has not yet been learned.

Nineteen passengers of the Monroe have so far not been accounted for, the statement says. To the list of those saved have been added, the statement says, the names of Mrs. J. M. Ray, E. P. Lyons, and B. B. Vernon. Due to the fact that they were unconscious from shock when picked up, the names of these passengers could not be learned earlier.

When the presence of another vessel was suspected by the officers of the Monroe, the statement adds, the vessel was immediately stopped and the whistle was blown once. This signal was answered by the Nantucket with two whistles. In reply to this the Monroe whistled twice, being answered in the same manner by the Nantucket. The Monroe then kept her whistle going, but received no further signals, it is declared. A few seconds later the vessel was rammed by the Nantucket abaft No. 1 port on the starboard side.

A dramatic incident in connection with the sinking of the Monroe occurred late today at the office here of Captain Leyland. Mrs. J. E. Gately,

From Great Lakes To the Rockies

WOMEN SING THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Saskatchewan Lady Adds Her Testimony to What Has Already Been Said of the Great Work Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Doing.

Caesarville, Sask., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The scarcity of female help in a new country subjects the women of the prairies to unusual strain, and careful observation has established the fact that this strain first makes itself felt in the kidneys. For this reason Dodd's Kidney Pills are making an enviable reputation from the Great Lakes to the foothills of the Rockies.

Everywhere you will find women singing the praises of the great Canadian kidney remedy that has banished their pains and weariness, and brought them back to health. Among the many is Mrs. Edgar Cowen, an estimable lady of this place.

"I have found Dodd's Kidney Pills very beneficial," Mrs. Cowen states. "If anything I can say will help any sufferer I am glad to add my testimonial to what has already been said."

The kidneys strain all the refuse material out of the blood. If they are out of order this refuse remains in the blood, and becomes poison. That's why sound kidneys mean pure blood and good health. Dodd's Kidney Pills make sound kidneys.

BASEBALL FIGHT IS NOT OVER

THE ORGANIZED BODY GAINS AN ADVANTAGE — FEDERALS WIN IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Organized baseball had an inning today in the contest with the "outlaw" Federal League. Jimmy Johnstone, who established a stolen base record on the Pacific coast last summer, was induced to sign a Cub contract, and Jacques Fournier and Russell Blackburn have agreed to accept the terms offered by the Chicago Americans. All three players were sought by the Federals, it was reported.

A telegram from Chattanooga brought the news that Umpire Henry O'Day, acting as emissary for the Chicago Nationals, had induced Johnstone to sign, and Manager Tinker, of the Chicago Federals, said the agreement had been made just in time for the Cubs, because he expected to make an offer Johnstone could hardly refuse.

The local Federal League club has lined up the needed number of property owners to offset a petition circulated by others asking that the city prevent the establishment of a baseball plant on the North Side site selected. This was announced tonight by Charles Weegham, president of the club, who said that by this time next week two hundred men would be at work on the new plant.

The Chicago Nationals, with Johnstone in the field, have signed practically all their players except Al Bridwell, shortstop, who is still holding out. Manager Brown, of the St. Louis Federals, recently made an offer to Bridwell, and the latter is wavering between his two choices, it is understood.

Olson Signs Up.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 30.—Cleveland club officials today received word that Ivan Olson, Nap utility man, had affixed his signature to an American League contract at Folsom, Cal., where he is wintering. The Federals had sought to sign Olson. Owner Somers also announced today that he had signed Jack Knight, former New York American first baseman. He will play first base for the Naps, if Wheeler Johnston jumps to the Federals. Johnston is on his way from Chattanooga, Tenn., to talk terms with Somers. Willie Mitchell, pitcher, and Fred Carisch, catcher, sought by the Federals, signed with Cleveland last night. Somers has sent Buddy Ryan, former Cleveland outfielder, out to Portland, Ore. Ryan was originally sent to Toledo but threatened to jump to the Federals if not allowed to play in Portland.

COLONEL HUGHES AND BISLEY RULES

HE IS STRONGLY OPPOSED TO THE NEW ONES AND STATES HIS OBJECTIONS.

(Special to the Chronicle.)

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Col. Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, is strongly opposed to the new Bisley rules and stated his objections emphatically today.

"If the regulations as proposed, and as understood in Canada, are enforced, certainly no Canadian team will go across this year," he said today. "The King's prize is the attraction. The rest is merely pothunting."

Concerning an aperture sight, Colonel Richardson, one of the leading practical English riflemen, and one of the Board of National Rifle Association, in discussing the Olympic match in Sweden last year, showed that the United States soldiers, using the aperture sight, shot twice as rapidly as did the British using the open sight, and that the eyes of the British soldiers were completely tired out with defining their open sights. With such evidence as this it would look like going back into the eleventh century for progress were Canada to return to the open sight. But Canada cannot do it, and will not do it, because the Ross rifle, as now issued, has no place for the open sight.

The fad of so-called service targets as against bull's eye targets, is fast being exploded in the Minister's opinion. The object is generally understood, he says, to be the killing of the National Rifle Association, and to perpetuate the middle ages system of training, in short to prevent progress.

"For purposes of war or active service in the field, Canada adheres to the obsolete British form of ammunition, but Canada has refused to adhere to the obsolete British rifle," said Col. Hughes. "Canada refuses to adhere to the archaic British form of rifle sighting. And Canada will not be coerced into this retrograde movement, much as she would desire to compete for the greatest prize in the world, the King's, at Bisley."

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST GOMPERS

BY SECRETARY-TREASURER OF ILLINOIS MINERS—SAID FORMER WAS "GLORIOUS DRUNK."

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 30—Scenes of the wildest disorder marked today's session of the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, which heard Duncan McDonald, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois miners declare that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was "glorious drunk" during the Seattle convention and on other occasion, Gompers' denial and the reiteration by Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, that if the copper strike in Michigan were to fail, it would be due to the lack of financial assistance given by the American Federation of Labor.

The delegates showed little sympathy for Gompers and he declared he was being tried "before a jury whose minds were already poisoned," but every point made by Moyer and McDonald was wildly applauded. After McDonald had concluded, the tumult was so great that Gompers, despairing of a hearing, put on his overcoat, and hat and started to leave. The delegates were silenced, however by an appeal from Moyer, and Gompers returned.

Gompers sat within four feet of McDonald and, during the applause which greeted the statement that the head of the Federation was "glorious drunk" at Seattle, charges of "liar," "slanderer," and the like were hurled back and forth by the two. In addition to the Seattle occasion, McDonald said Gompers was under the influence of liquor at the Atlanta convention.

"Gompers had a snoot-full at Atlanta," asserted McDonald. "He has told you what a great friend he is of John Walker, our former president in Illinois. I saw Gompers in Atlanta after he had been celebrating and he tottered up to Delegate Groce Lawrence and threw his arms around his neck, saying: 'Johnny Walker, I love you like a brother.'"

In speaking further of the Seattle occasion, McDonald said:

"Above the obscene language and maudlin song, I recognized the voice of Gompers, who seemed to be trying to sing a solo and keep time by pounding on the table with a beer bottle. Let me tell you they didn't have any glasses there, they had a tub, filled with bottled beer and cracked ice and on the table were half gallon decanters of whiskey."

In concluding the Illinois miner made a plea that the delegates give close attention to Gompers. "I resent the hypocritical plea of McDonald for a hearing for me," Gompers said, when the cheers had died down so that he could be heard. "The worst criminal in the land has a better show than I have here."

IN MISERY AT MEAL TIME

Indigestion Can Be Cured by the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

If your digestion is weak you cannot derive proper nourishment from your food. The pain and distress you suffer is a protest from your stomach that it is unable to do its work. It is then that you lose all appetite, have dull headaches, acute pains in the chest and abdomen, heart-burn and other distressing symptoms.

You cannot cure indigestion by the use of laxatives, and pre-digested foods only make the stomach more sluggish. Indigestion can only be cured by giving tone to and strengthening the nerves that control the stomach. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured indigestion times without number, because they purify and enrich the blood. In this way they improve the appetite, dispel the torments of indigestion and enable you to derive benefit from the food you take.

The following is proof of these statements: Mrs. George Brien, Great Shemaogue, N. B., says: "A few years ago I was taken down with a fever which left me suffering from nervous stomach trouble. I apparently got over it, but the trouble could not have been wholly eradicated, as during the summer of 1912 I was taken down with it again. I took many medicines, and was attended by two different doctors, but instead of getting well, seemed to be growing worse. I could not eat without suffering the most intense pains; even a drink of milk seemed to upset me. I slept poorly and at last dreaded to see night come. In this condition I saw in a newspaper the story of a woman who had similarly suffered and was cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to try the Pills and found by the time I had taken three boxes that they were helping me. I continued using the Pills until I had taken eight boxes, when the trouble had disappeared, and I have to thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for restoring my health after I had practically given up hope of ever being well again."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

McDonald you have laughed. How would you like to be placed on trial before a jury whose minds were already poisoned against you? "The fact that I was permitted to occupy a pulpit in Seattle the Sunday night following the Sunday morning mentioned by McDonald, is sufficient refutation of the charge that I was drunk."

CHINESE BANDITS BURN TOWN AND MURDER PRIEST

Shanghai, Jan. 30—Advices received here today are to the effect that the bandits who, on Thursday sacked and burned the town of Luan-Chow, province of Ngan-Hwei, murdered Father Rich, a French Jesuit missionary, and captured two Jesuit priests, Father Allain and Taille, who are being held for ransom. Father Gibert, another Jesuit, managed to escape.

A French gunboat has been ordered to make ready to depart for the disturbed district.

FOUNDATIONS OF THE TOWER OF SILOAM.

Cambridge Mass., Jan. 30—News of the finding of the foundations of the Tower of Siloam was received by Rev. Dr. Max Kellner, of the Episcopal Theological School, from a friend at the tower concerning which Jesus is quoted in Luke XIII. 4, as saying: "Those eighteen upon whom the Tower of Siloam fell and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?" The excavators, according to the message, have "discovered a long, well-cut Greek inscription, which speaks of the presbyters and fathers with Simondes, laying the foundation of the synagogue, the baths and caravansary. These baths and the foundations of the synagogues are exposed. They have found the base of a circular tower which may well be that of the Tower of Siloam, spoken of by Christ. They have also a conduit leading from the spring. That seen by Schinck in the nineties, wrongly thought to have been the oldest, is now shown to be above the spring."

Poisoned Deerhound. Howard Higgins, a house painter, was fined £4 4s. at Dudley on Monday for maliciously killing a Scotch deerhound, which the owner valued at £20. He admitted that he poisoned the animal, but pleaded that it had three times bitten his mother-in-law, who was ninety years old. "It was," he said, "like placing the old woman in the cage of a Bengal tiger."

A SECOND WEEK'S
25%
REDUCTION

After having discovered that the purchasing public appreciate at its proper value a sale at 25 per cent reduction, and understood that to give such a large discount on the regular assortment was really an exceptional bargain.
We have decided to hold a second week's sale and to even offer more astounding reductions than ever. We have re-assorted and increased the lots on our counters and have reduced them to fixed prices; that is to say that the reductions will be stronger than 25 per cent.
Special prices upon goods which we absolutely have to get rid of, represent a discount of 50 per cent. Pay special attention to our lingerie department, where the biggest reduction is offered. The sale will again take place on the same conditions as last week.
Thread, tissue cotton and ribbons will be the only things not sold at a discount. Take advantage of this reduction sale, the most important we ever made.

CHILDREN LOVE
SYRUP OF FIGS

IT IS CRUEL TO FORCE NAUSEATING, HARSH PHYSIC INTO A SICK CHILD.
Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.
With our children, it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.
If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.
Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups, plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it

AN ADVENTUROUS LIFE.
That remarkable novelist, Mr. Joseph Conrad, who now receives a well-deserved pension from the English Civil list, is a Pole by birth. He was born in 1857, his father being a well-known poet and critic, and the proprietor of a review in Warsaw. As the elder Conrad was an ardent patriot, he came under the notice of the Russian Government, and was arrested just before the Polish rising of 1861. Various members of the Conrad family were concerned in this rising, and the novelist's mother was banished to Siberia.
Mr. Joseph Conrad was educated in Cracow, and in his youth followed the sea. His first voyage was made on an English trading vessel, and in this manner he acquired a knowledge of the English language. He stuck to the sea for many years, and qualified as a master in 1884, becoming at the same time a naturalized British subject. About ten years later he wrote his first novel, "Almayer's Folly," and though it did not secure many readers, the literary critics were kind, and Mr. Conrad resolved to adopt writings as a profession.
Mr. Conrad writes English with a rare sense of style and beauty, so that it is a surprise to many of his admiring readers to learn that he is employing a language which he did not acquire until after boyhood.

DOES NOT OUTLINE
GOVERNMENT POLICY

HON. L. P. PELLETIER SAYS MR. LEONARD'S FUNCTIONS ARE MUCH RESTRICTED.
As a result of correspondence between the Quebec Board of Trade and Major Leonard, chairman of the Transcontinental Railway Commission, which the Board did not find to their satisfaction, the Board wrote to Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General and minister for the district of Quebec, on the question. The following is a copy of the letter written to the Postmaster-General and his reply:
Quebec, Jan. 20th, 1914.
Hon. L. P. Pelletier,
Postmaster-General,
Ottawa, Can.

Dear Sir,—I am instructed by the Council of the Board of Trade to enclose you copies of correspondence exchanged with Major Leonard, of the Transcontinental Railway, as to the probable cost of carrying wheat all rail from Winnipeg to Quebec, when this railway is finished, as compared with the present cost of bringing it to Montreal via Fort William and the Great Lakes.
Our Board thought that as the railway is to be finished this year, the present would be a proper time for commercial men to satisfy themselves as to whether the great economy in the cost of freight promised the country at the inception of this railway is about to be realized, so that we might be in a position to induce shippers and steamship owners to make their transshipment at Quebec.
To our very great surprise, Major Leonard tells us, as you will see by the enclosed, that he is unable to say what will be the probable cost of carrying wheat to Quebec by this road, and that he does not know what it costs to send it to Montreal by the rail and water route. Nor can he say whether the figures we subsequently sent him showing a probable saving of one-quarter to half the cost, are correct or even approximately so.
Although Major Leonard admits that the Transcontinental is 214 miles shorter from Winnipeg to Quebec than the Canadian Pacific, and although its trains will, by his figures, be able to haul 1,780 tons as compared with 940 tons on the C. P. R., he is still of opinion that a large portion of the grain will continue to be shipped by the C. P. R. to Montreal for export, and he adds that he considers that the harbor facilities and elevator capacity now under construction by the Harbor Commission at Quebec will probably take care of all the traffic to be expected. When Major Leonard makes this statement he must, of course, be aware that the facilities he speaks of are not reached by the Transcontinental Railway tracks, that the elevator in question is half a mile from them, and only of one million bushels capacity, whereas, as Mr. Leonard doubtless knows, the elevator capacity at Fort William and other points on the Great Lakes necessary to handle the grain traffic of the C. P. R. alone—with which the Transcontinental is supposed to compete—amounts to 58 million bushels.
This question is of such vital importance, not only to the port of Quebec, but to the ports of St. John and Halifax, and to the farmers of the Northwest, who have been calculating upon the saving in freight rates upon their grain as a result of building of this costly public work, that we trust this correspondence will have the immediate attention of the government.
Yours truly,
T. LEVASSEUR,
Secretary.

Mr. Pelletier's Letter.
Ottawa, Jan. 28th, 1914.
T. Levasseur, Esq.,
Secy., Quebec Board of Trade,
Quebec.
Dear Sir,—I have your letter of the 20th instant, enclosing copies of correspondence exchanged with Major Leonard, of the Transcontinental Railway, with reference to the probable cost of carrying wheat all rail from Winnipeg to Quebec by the Transcontinental when completed, as compared with the present cost of bringing it to Montreal via Fort William and the Great Lakes.
I have had this matter before me for some time and am devoting my time and attention to it.
Whatever Mr. Leonard's personal opinion may be, he is the Chairman of the Transcontinental Commission, but he does not shape or outline the government policy in this respect. His functions, as I understand them, are the construction of the railway, and unless I am very much mistaken, matters of policy and questions appertaining to the operation of the road do not belong to him.
Yours truly,
(Signed) LOUIS PELLETIER.

SENATOR CHOQUETTE
AND THE NEW MAIN

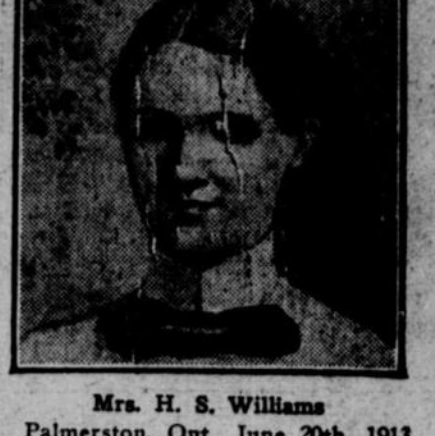

ACCUSES MAYOR DROUIN OF DECEPTION IN THE MATTER—WERE ENGINEERS DECEIVED?
Quebec, Jan. 30, 1914.
To Editor Morning Chronicle,
Quebec.

Sir,—I was amazed and somewhat amused this morning when I read the letter published in the "Chronicle," bearing the signature of Messrs. Gallagher and Forrester, of the Municipal Waterworks Department, in connection with the new 40-inch water main. I say I was surprised, because I recall several interviews given on different occasions by Mayor Drouin, and published in the Quebec press. Interviews that were endorsed by the same Messrs. Gallagher and Forrester that must cause the intelligent citizens to think that the public have been grossly deceived by the Mayor, and his too mentioned subservient City Officials, who must have forgotten all they have said and written in the past, or they are themselves the victims of deception.
Like a large number of citizens, and taxpayers of Quebec, interested in the new 40-inch water main, especially to secure a reduction of insurance rates I have followed the work done on the construction of the new main, and like others, I have from time to time heard rumors about the work that was to some extent alarming. However, I hesitated to express an opinion or to make use of certain information that had been communicated to me, in regard to broken pipes and defective work in general.
From the fact that I was in the running for the office of Mayor, I thought it my duty to investigate conditions, and while recently in Ottawa, I wrote a letter to the contractor, Mr. Connolly, and the following is a copy:
"M. Connolly, Esq.,
Contractor,
91 Crescent st., Montreal.
Sir,—As a contractor for the new waterwork at Quebec, will you please tell me, if the rumors circulated around the streets, that you have much difficulty in putting water in the pipes, because they cannot resist the pressure, and is well founded or not?
As a candidate for the Mayoralty of Quebec, I intend to attack the Drouin administration in regard to the water works contract, and the way the pipes were tested; according to my information, they were not properly tested although the City has to pay a large sum for that kind of work. Will you please give me, if you can do so, all the information on these important matters and accept my thanks in advance.
Yours truly,
P. A. CHOQUETTE.
N. B.—Can Mr. Forrester give me any information on these matters? Please wire me answer, collect, to Quebec.
I did not receive an answer from Mr. Connolly prior to the meeting held in my interest on Sunday afternoon last, but on the same evening I received the following telegram:
"Montreal, Jan. 25, 1914.
"Hon. P. A. Choquette,
"Quebec.
"Only returned here this morning, regret I am not in a position to give you information asked for in your letter of the 20th. Mr. Forrester, consulting engineer for the City, can give you all information you desire on subject.
"(Signed) M. CONNOLLY."
The next day I communicated with Mr. Forrester, requesting him to please come and see me at my house, at that time I communicated to him the contents of Mr. Connolly's telegram. He graciously called on me, when I placed my views before him and requested him, without any indiscretion on his part, as an employee of the City, if he could answer the letter I wrote to Mr. Connolly, as suggested by the latter in his answer. Mr. Forrester manifested the greatest caution and was very non-committal in his answers in regard to the work of testing the pipes, the introduction of the water, etc. Finally, he made the following answer which I requested him, and he consented to put down in writing:
"Mr. Forrester states that there has been the usual delays, in a contract of this magnitude, but everything will be perfectly satisfactory in due time."
It is not my intention, to seek to make political capital out of the new 40-inch water main. I simply referred to it on account of the various interviews given from time to time by the Mayor, which bear the earmarks of contradiction, and I would like to ask the public if this latest statement of Mr. Forrester is in accord with the letter he signed with Mr. Gallagher. Moreover, of the words "in due time," are not rather vague, and a confession that he can give no hope, that the City will have its water by means of the new pipe within any specified time, notwithstanding the million dollars the City has disbursed for this new main. It would be interesting to know when that "due time" shall arrive. Would it be in a month? or within the period of one year?
In the meantime the insurance underwriters are lying low. Taking in the situation, and not one word mentioned as to when the citizens of Quebec will find a relief, by a decrease in the exorbitant rate of insurance they are called upon to pay.

I OWE MY LIFE TO

I do not wish to raise the cry of alarm, but I do think it would be the correct thing in the interest of the public, and as a guarantee to secure lower rates of insurance from the Fire Underwriters, that an independent board of hydraulic engineers should be appointed to investigate the new main and give their expert opinion. I made this suggestion, because with the number of citizens, I am sorry to say are not satisfied, especially on account of information they have received from parties in a position to know, that the new main is not what it should be: Besides the responsibility, if any should exist, rests with the Mayor.
My reason for ascertaining that the public have been deceived is founded on previous declarations made by the Mayor, and the engineers of the Municipal Waterworks Department. In proof of my contention, I wish to point out that on the 5th of July last, Mayor Drouin in an interview with the "Evening News," which was endorsed by Messrs. Gallagher and Forrester, said: "I am glad to announce that the water will be put into the pipe by the month of November next, and I am supported in this statement by Messrs. Gallagher and Forrester."
In answer to an article published in the "Chronicle," on the 7th of November last, criticizing Mayor Drouin's administration, he said: "the new administration to satisfy the public, has undertaken to improve the water work, and in a few days, the 40-inch pipe will be completed, etc." On the 2nd of December last, Mayor Drouin had published a letter in the Quebec press, headed "The Waterworks," and boasted of what he had done, over his own signature and again endorsed by the signature of Mr. J. Gallagher, waterworks engineer. In this letter Mayor Drouin said that out of 41,500 feet of pipes, would be in operation in a few days.
Now, Mr. Editor,—Is it not reasonable, that any citizen would be suspicious of the present condition of the new 40-inch water main, taking into consideration the various declarations heretofore given by the Mayor and corroborated by Messrs. Gallagher and Forrester, which have not as yet been verified. Does it not strike you, that there are good grounds for doubting any statement that Mayor Drouin and his engineers, may make at this stage of the game, on the eve of a municipal election, and it does seem that they measure the citizens of Quebec on a par with imbeciles.
Tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, I will hold a public meeting in St. Roch, to discuss the municipal situation, and I have invited Mayor Drouin to be present and meet me in controversy; if he is again a candidate for the office of Mayor, I say this, because he has not as yet declared his candidature for re-election, notwithstanding that he has a number of his friends circulating his papers for signatures in the different wards of the city, and have obtained some false representations.
If Mayor Drouin really intends to seek re-election, he cannot decline to meet me on the public platform, and if he persists in shirking the public, let him be a man and publically declare whether he is a candidate or not, in order that I will be in a position to criticize his administration.

Other Treatments Combined

Mrs. H. S. Williams
Palmerston, Ont., June 20th, 1913.
"I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctors' bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old stomach trouble and distressing headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago I got a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use. 'Fruit-a-tives' completely cured me.
Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street noticed my improved appearance and asked me the reason. I replied, 'I am taking Fruit-a-tives'. He said, 'Well, if 'Fruit-a-tives' are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can.'
Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS.
'Fruit-a-tives' are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

I have a great deal to say, and expose, in connection with the personal administration of Mayor Drouin, his system of extravagance, that he alone is responsible for, and for this reason I tell him to be a man and meet me tomorrow at the public meeting I have called in St. Roch, or invite me to any meeting he might call himself!
Yours truly,
P. AUG. CHOQUETTE.

DIFFERENT COINAGE.
Coinage is always a mystery to the wayfarer. In Johannesburg they talk in silver. In Holland they talk in florins; across the frontier they talk in francs. But there are places where they talk on a lower scale. And I greet the boy who brought me change for 8s 9d out of a sovereign with two farthings in it. But what is a man to do with two farthings in England? I suppose an omnibus conductor would throw me off the vehicle if I proffered him those farthings.
