DREYFUS IN TEARS AT COURT-MARTIAL

Prisoner Breaks Down for the First Time When the Official Account of His Sufferings is Read in Court.

Rennes, Aug. 16.—The second trial by court-martial of Captain Dreyfus, of the French artillery, charged with treason, was continued this morning. Major Cuing, the representative of the Government, having refused to agree to the adjournment of the case until Monday, applied for by M. Demange, counsel for the prisoner, and Captain Dreyfus, owing to the murderous attack upon Maître Labori, leading counsel for the defence.

The feature of the day's proceedings was the story of the sufferings of Dreyfus on Devil's Island, his prison off the coast of French Guiana. Dreyfus wept in court when the clerk read a document recounting the details of his incarceration.

The proceedings opened with the application of M. Demange for an adjournment. This was followed by the deposition of M. Gervin, the former Minister of Justice, who, however, only repeated the evidence he had given before the Court of Cassation.

DREYFUS' KEEPER.

M. Lebon, the former Minister of the Colonies, a big, red-bearded man, then testified in justification of his instructions to Colonel Jouaust, declaring that the extreme stringency only dated from the time he thought an attempt would be made to rescue the prisoner.

Colonel Jouaust, president of the court-martial, asked Dreyfus if he had any questions to put to the witness, and he replied, in an emotional voice, "No, I am here to defend my honor. Do not let me speak of the atrocious case which, for five years, I, a Frenchman, and an innocent man, suffered on the Ile du Diable."

M. Demange asked that the official report of the treatment of Dreyfus on the Ile du Diable, which was published in the newspapers last week, should be read. The clerk of the court did so, and, in a sympathetic tone, recounted the harrowing tale of Dreyfus' mental and physical sufferings and inhuman treatment on the island.

Deep drawn breaths of indignation came from the hearers as the reading proceeded.

DREYFUS IN TEARS.

Dreyfus, at first, watched the faces of the judges with his usual composure, but gradually, as the story proceeded, and incidents of his awful existence were brought up before him, his eyes drew dim and tears glistened in them. Then they slowly trickled down his cheeks. Dreyfus could stand it no longer, and, for the first time during his trial, gave way to such emotions and sobs.

The faces of the audience expressed sympathy with the prisoner's emotion, and even the captain of gendarmes sitting beside Dreyfus, turned and gave him a look of unconcealed compassion.

DREYFUS' ONLY PROTEST.

Colonel Jouaust previously asked Dreyfus if he wished to say anything, and the prisoner who, during the time of Gen. Roget's fulmination against him, several times made a movement as if to rise and retort, but was waved down by Col. Jouaust, rose and, in the voice which is not at all ordinary times, but, when strained by emotion, as it was to-day, has a chilling effect on his hearers, he cried, crushing his kept in his hands: "My colonel, it is a frightful thing that every day they tear out my heart and soul without my being able to reply."

The audience, profoundly stirred, began to applaud, but the applause was quickly suppressed. M. Demange then announced that he would question General Roget to-morrow.

The following is the evidence in detail: Ex-Minister of Justice Guérin, the first witness, said he knew absolutely nothing of the facts in the case, but could repeat the surrounding circumstances, which had already been related before the Court of Cassation. If the court-martial desired,

Col. Jouaust having explained to the witness that the court-martial had no cognizance of previous proceedings, M. Guérin proceeded to repeat his evidence as given before the Court of Cassation, saying that at the end of October, after a Cabinet Council, the Premier invited him to his room, where General Mercier joined them and explained that for some time past documents had been missing from the headquarters staff, and that, in consequence of emotion caused by this scene when Madame Henry, in deep mourning, appeared in court and entered the witness box amid profound silence.

Col. Jouaust, addressing this witness, said: "We thought, madame, that your husband was your husband, but you placed him in a position to give interesting information. I beg you to tell the court what you know."

Madame Henry deposed that towards the end of September, 1894, after dinner, one evening, her husband told her a paper had been handed him as being very important. The witness added: "As he did not return I retired about eleven o'clock, and I asked him when he returned why he was later than usual. He undid a narrow, transparent roll of paper, and said: 'There is a serious matter here, which I have been requested to investigate this evening.'"

"Shortly afterwards he re-entered the room, holding papers and a letter which he had just placed together."

He placed them all in his hat in order not to forget them in the morning. He left on horseback in the customary, the following morning, saying he had to see Colonel Sandherr as soon as possible."

"What was his impression on seeing the document?" asked Col. Jouaust.

The witness replied that he, Colonel Henry, did not know the author of it, but said perhaps Colonel Fabre or Colonel D'Arville knew."

"The witness then said that he, Colonel Henry, did not know the author of it, but said perhaps Colonel Fabre or Colonel D'Arville knew."

SMUGGLERS CAUGHT

Lumber Vessels Found to Contain Large Quantities of Other Goods.

FRUIT, TOBACCO, CIGARS.

About Fifteen Thousand Dollars' Worth Seized in a Couple of Days—Heavy Fines Imposed.

Some days ago Mr. H. McLaughlin, customs inspector, learned that certain ships coming here for loads of lumber for United States ports, on the lakes, were not so empty as they seemed.

He accordingly spent two days examining each vessel as it passed the canal locks, and in nearly all he found packages of fruit, tobacco, cigars or cigarettes, and made seizures to the total value of ten or fifteen thousand dollars.

The customs authorities at Ottawa were communicated with, and it is understood that confiscation of the goods seized has been ordered, and heavy fines imposed on the ship owners.

The Government has the right to confiscate the ships altogether if it chooses.

MR. NORTON'S CORRECTION

An Error on the Part of a Newspaper Caused a Misunderstanding

He Has Taken All the Organ-Playing Section for the Association of the Royal College of Organists.

69 Bishop Street, August 16, 1899.

Sir,—I see in your issue of last night (Tuesday) a statement that I am laying claim to having degrees for which I have not passed the examinations.

During this summer I have passed the examination for the diploma of "Licentiate of Music," and also all the organ-playing sections for the Association of the Royal College of Organists, London, England; the certificate for which I hold.

I never claimed to have finally taken the A.R.C.O. diploma, as I have yet to do the paper work before I shall have this diploma.

As soon as I saw the statement "that I had taken the A.R.C.O. diploma" in Monday's Star I arranged to have it contradicted in Tuesday's issue, and this has been done.

I regret that sufficient time was not even given me to correct a newspaper error, for which I was not in any way responsible, before such an article was published as appeared in last night's issue of your paper.

You will greatly oblige me by publishing this reply to yesterday's article in your paper. Yours truly,

M. Norton, L.Mus., Organist and Choir Master of Christ Church Cathedral.

[In view of the explanation which Mr. Norton makes in the above letter, we regret that yesterday's article in The Herald was published. Ed. Herald.]

STEAL FROM MICA MINES.

Ottawa Owners Ask Quebec Attorney-General to Take Effective Measures for Suppression of Marauders.

Ottawa, August 15.—(Special).—The Attorney-General of Quebec has been communicated with by the owners of mica mines in Ottawa county, who complain that an organized gang of mica exploiters has been overrunning their properties and disposing of the stealings.

Rumors of mica stealing from the rich deposits in Ottawa county have been current in and about the capital for some time. The properties affected are located in the townships of Denham, Buckingham and Portland. These districts being particularly liable to such inroads, as they are far from lines of railway and are difficult of access.

The Ottawa men interested had been aware for some time past that the output reported from Ottawa could not possibly come from the mines which are being worked.

Thousands of dollars' worth of mica in excess of the output of the mines now working have been brought to this city and sent to the United States for sale.

According to the best information obtainable up to the present, parties of men-usually four or five in number—traverse the district and when an exceptionally good "show" is seen they place a "shot," tear up the surface and carry away the mineral hidden up.

In most cases the main features by which the indications of the mine are lessened are the making of proper trails leading to the mine, and the proper disposal of the mica stolen as described above.

FATAL FIRE IN TORONTO

Woman Who Jumped From Building Will Probably Die.

A Fireman Also Badly Injured By Falling Down an Elevator Shaft. Building Fully Insured.

Toronto, August 15.—(Special).—The premises of Whitworth & Restall, mattress manufacturers, at 120 Bay street, were partially destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. There were three men, two boys and one woman employed on the third floor, where the fire broke out.

The building is owned by Sanderson Peary and is damaged to the extent of $2,500, and is insured by the Ontario Fire Insurance Company. The stock was damaged to the extent of $3,000, and is partly covered by insurance in the California and Quebec Companies.

It is thought the fire originated in the basement. Fireman Jno. Lee, of Lombard street section, fell from the third floor to the cellar down the elevator shaft. Thomas Hane, an employee, was badly burned on the arm.

Premier of Prince Edward Island Arranges For a Direct Service Between Charlottetown and Liverpool.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—(Special).—Hon. Donald Macpherson, Premier of Prince Edward Island, is in Ottawa arranging with the Minister of Marine for the establishment of a direct steamship service between Charlottetown and Liverpool. The contract, which is said to be as good as closed, provides for fortnightly sailings from the island by steamships of about 4,000 tons to be equipped with mail stoves for the transportation of butter, cheese and other perishable freight, the service to commence about the 15th of September. The subsidy voted by Parliament last session for this service was $7,000. It will give island

PRICE ONE CENT.

CRACKSMEN'S TOOLS NEAR ROBBERY SCENE

It Looks as Though Professional Burglars Got the $7,000—Joliette Much Excited—Other Thefts.

Joliette, August 16.—(Special).—The robbery of the sum of $7,000 from the cellar of the Dominion Express Company at the C.P.R. depot here is still as mysterious as it was the first moment of its discovery, except that evidences have been found which indicate that it was the work of professional cracksmen.

In the freight shed adjoining the depot there have been found a quantity of burglars' tools, including a can of dynamite or gunpowder, an electrical appliance such as used by burglars for timing an explosion, and a small box containing a few nails.

These things appeared, though one or two men or more had decided on blowing open the safe, which was supposed to contain considerable money, and which had not been open for eight days because the lock was out of order.

The news of the safe not being opened spread over the town and district, so that in case burglars were lurking about with their cars open they could not fail to become acquainted with the facts.

The theory, then, of most people is that the men decided on giving the express authorities a little assistance in their efforts to get the safe open, so either on Sunday or Monday the gunpowder and appliances were hidden in the shed preparatory to the attempt.

On Monday the Banque Nationale branch at this town sent over to the express company a package containing $20,000 for shipment to Quebec, but it was returned to the bank with the message that until the safe was put in good order such sums could not be taken so far in advance of train time, as there was no safe place to put the money.

The theory was soon started, and if the story about the watchful burglars be right, one or two took up the game by keeping an eye on every move of the express and railroad employees.

SEVEN THOUSAND ARRIVES.

On the arrival of the evening train from Montreal on Monday a package containing $7,000 was received, and this had to remain in the hands of Agent Gignac until morning.

Mr. Gignac worked until ten o'clock at night, trying to open the safe. Then he gave it up and decided to go home. For several days there have been robberies at homes in the streets of Joliette, and he was afraid to risk taking so large a sum with him, particularly as the depot is in a very isolated spot. He, therefore, went to the cellar, and decided on placing the package in a hole in the chimney. It had been his custom since the safe became useless to hide valuable packages in an old furnace.

He now decided to open the safe, and he went home and went home thoroughly satisfied that the $7,000 was safe.

DOORS OPEN—MONEY GONE.

Yesterday morning, when Mr. Gignac arrived at the depot, he was surprised to find the front door of the depot open. He and the men's enquiry told him that none of the packages had arrived before himself. Nothing was disturbed in the office, and his first thought was naturally of the valuable package in the cellar.

Downstairs he went, and to his horror found that it was gone.

An alarm was quickly given, and the village authorities were kept on the lookout for suspicious persons.

If, however, they were professional cracksmen who had done the job, they were by this time well out of the way, as doubtless the money was secured almost as soon as Mr. Gignac left at 10 o'clock, and they had, therefore, about nine hours' start.

A careful inspection of the premises was made, and this showed that beyond any doubt the burglar or burglars had been in.

USE FOR COLD STORAGE.

Dr. Kendall's Experiments Have Brought Some Very Satisfactory Results.

Ottawa, August 15.—Dr. Kendall, M.P. Cape Breton, has arrived in Ottawa from the Atlantic coast, where he has been conducting experiments on his new cold storage process for the preservation of fresh fish without freezing or the use of chemicals. He succeeded in keeping lobsters for thirty days in perfect condition. He believes he has thus solved the problem of a remunerative trade in fresh fish between the Maritime and Upper Provinces. But the doctor's most ambitious project is one for the establishment of cold storage plants along the coast for fish.

This has got so well under way that before long he expects to have a line of cold storage plants operating on the coast from Anticosti to Cape Sable. At the session just closed Parliament voted a substantial loan to make the scheme. Dr. Kendall is here to make a progress report to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

* OF INTEREST TO WOMEN *

All housekeepers interested in this column are invited to contribute recipes. Only favorite, true and tried ones must be sent, and great care should be taken that all directions for mixing ingredients, etc., be very explicit. Many kitchen recipes, such as some cook books give, are not desirable. Hints on the care of flowers and household information in general will be gladly received. Address "Cuisine," Herald Office.

We can all prate of experience, being the only teacher as well as the costliest, yet we go on indulging in unnecessary expense in that line when we could just as well save ourselves lots of trouble by profiting by the lessons of others. But we won't learn—we are so all-wise in our own conceits, we blunder along, listening to the tale of others' experience and thinking in our own superior fashion that such a thing could never happen to us. I don't believe that a girl lives who has not thought when her mother was talking to her of things to be shunned and those to be cultivated in life's span that she knew ever so much more than the girl whose ideas were a little old-fashioned. "Such things will never happen to me," thinks the girl. Mother lived in another generation and bases her sentiments on a past measurement. I can take care of myself, in fact, way beyond the reach of her theories and ideas. And so Miss Know-it-all goes blindly along, and when too late realizes that she has walked straight into the very pitfalls her mother warned her against and that she is wrestling with trouble she has avoided if she had only realized that life is life, no matter of what decade or generation. Human nature is the same today, to-day and forever, and it is a wise little maiden who at the outset of her career realizes that mother has been through it all and can give her the very best sort of help in her own career.

Many and many a woman, ad-eyed and lured by a weight of trouble, realizes that none of it need have been hers if she had only listened to that dear mother's words which only for her best good, who, alas, was deemed but foolishly fearful by the daughter who in later years awoke to realize the wisdom of such advice and the folly of not following it.

HERE AND THERE.

Mlle. Emma Calve, it seems, is a practical gardener, and has a large farm at Cevennes, France, where she rusticates each summer. Mlle. Calve actually works in her kitchen garden and takes care of all the vegetables that appear on her summer-table. Her working costume is a short skirt of blue jeans, sabots and a linen shirt-waist.

To the inspiration of Miss Helen W. Tinkham, of Boston, the missions for the distribution of flowers among the poor, the sick and the aged in our cities each summer. Thirty years ago the first flower mission was formed, with Miss Tinkham at its head, and she has since been the guiding spirit in the work.

In the spring of 1893 Miss Tinkham spent a few days in the city of Montreal, and the flowers that burst into fragrant bloom under the magical breath of April. Upon returning to Boston she found that the children who had followed her to the city of the future had followed her to the city of the future. A meeting was held and the work soon started. Boston is, therefore, the birthplace of the flower mission, a form of charity which has extended to every section of this country, and crossed the Atlantic—August Ladies' Home Journal.

Subordinate Officials Are Exchanging Manners for Martini-Henrys as Fast as Possible.

Pretoria, August 15.—The reply of the Government of the South African Republic to the proposal of the British Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, to refer to a joint commission the effect of the franchise reforms upon the status of the Uitlanders, has not yet been sent to Sir Alfred Milner, British High Commissioner in South Africa. The various alarming rumors in circulation are, however, without foundation.

A GENERAL REMOVED.

London, August 15.—Major-General Sir William Francis Butler, whom it was announced yesterday, in a dispatch from Cape Town to the Associated Press, would be relieved as commander of the British troops in South Africa, as a result of his alleged Boer sympathies, has been recalled, and Sir Frederick Walker has been appointed to replace him.

General Walker is regarded as one of the ablest generals in the army. His appointment, therefore, is taken to indicate that the situation is grave. Lieut.-General Sir Frederick William Edward Forster-Walker, K.C.B., has been in command of the western military district of Great Britain since 1895. He is the eldest son of the late Sir Edward W. Forster-Walker, K.C.B., who was born in 1814. He served in the Sikh wars of 1846-48, was military secretary of Sir John Buller from 1878 to 1879, served during the Zulu war; was

Some Good Recipes Specially Prepared for The Herald.

Sweet Watermelon Pickles.—Take off the green rind and cut off the pink portion from the inside of a watermelon. Weigh, and then, in a large bowl, allow four pounds of sugar, a pint of vinegar, two teaspoonfuls of allspice, the same of cinnamon, half a quantity of cloves, half a teaspoonful of ground mace and a teaspoonful of ginger. Mix all the spices together, separate them into four parts and to each part in a piece of cheesecloth. Put the watermelon over the fire in cold water, bring to boiling point and cook until it is transparent. Drain it. Put the sugar and vinegar with all the spices in a porcelain-lined kettle. When boiling add the watermelon, a little at a time, cook until it is dark—not more than five or ten minutes; then put away in jars. In the morning drain off all the juice, heat to boiling point and pour it over the watermelon rind. Do this for nine consecutive mornings, the last morning heating the watermelon rind again in the juice and boiling the juice down until it is just a syrupy rind.

Through the friendly attitude of China, we have succeeded in attaining our historic aim, having obtained the use of two Chinese harbors, Tsu-Lien-Wan, and Port Arthur, with a large territory, whereby an outlet for the Siberian railway to the Yellow Sea is secured."

"Thanks to the vision of the Russian Government, we shall, through railways in course of construction, be united to China, a result which gives all nations the measurable gain of easy communication and lightens the operations of the world's trade. Through your untiring energy and care for general well, we have deemed it necessary, after completing the railway, to declare Tsu-Lien-Wan a free port during the whole period of the treaty for the merchant ships of all nations, and to build a new city in the neighborhood of the said port."

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Activity in All Departments During the Last Quarter.

REPORTS SATISFACTORY.

Dr. Von Eberts Appointed to Succeed
Dr. MacTaggart as Medical Superintendent.

At the unanimous recommendation of the Medical Board, the Board of Governors, at the quarterly meeting yesterday afternoon, appointed Dr. Von Eberts as medical superintendent of the Montreal General Hospital, the term of Dr. MacTaggart having expired. The meeting was under the presidency of Mr. E. Wolfenden Thomas, who was supported by Messrs. B. White, J. P. Cleghorn, E. H. Copland, G. B. Cramp, J. Crathern, S. H. Ewing, treasurer; J. A. Hutchison, M.D., F. S. Lyman, Q.C., J. B. Learmont, F. B. McNamee, D. Morrice, J. Palmer, John Patterson, C. S. J. Phillips, Farquhar Robertson, J. Strling, H. J. K. Ward and A. G. Watson.

Mr. William Meldrum and Mr. F. S. Lyman were unanimously elected life governors of the institution.

The report of the medical superintendent for the quarter ended July 31 showed that the period had been a very active one in all departments. The number of admissions exceeded that of the corresponding quarter of 1898 by 36, although the daily average had been only 167, as against 173 in 1898. This was accounted for by the reduction of the average number of days in hospital from 23.12 in 1898 to 20.12 in 1899. In the outdoor department there had been an increase in nearly all branches, the total number of consultations exceeding the number for the corresponding period of last year by 1,011. Of 103 cases treated to a conclusion there were 51 deaths, and a mortality of 5.3 per cent. Deducting from this 32, the number who died within three days after admission, the mortality was reduced to 2.4 per cent. During the last quarter the ambulance responded to 289 calls, or an increase of 73 over the corresponding quarter of last year.

The treasurer reported that the ordinary income for the past quarter had been $16,375, as against $15,358 in the corresponding quarter of last year, while the expenditure had amounted to $10,308 in 1899, as against $10,188 in the corresponding quarter of 1898. There had been one extraordinary donation of $100 to qualify Mr. A. S. S. S. S.

The report of the Committee of Management indicated that the hospital had been used to its fullest capacity during the past quarter, the average daily number of patients having been 167. They had to regret the demise of three life governors—Mrs. Andrew Robertson, widow of a former president, whose portrait, presented by herself, now adorned the hall of the General Hospital; Mr. A. C. Clark, and Mr. James Johnston. Dr. MacTaggart's term of service as medical superintendent having expired, had been in such incessant demand, while the streets had been in wretched disrepair, increasing ordinary wear and tear, that they must inevitably have been in the institution in the near future at a cost of $2,000. They were indebted to Messrs. C. Jennings & Co. for the donation of rubber tires for one of the ambulances.

Mr. Charles Alexander, on his eighty-third birthday, presented to the hospital a donation of $100 for the purchase of a new ambulance. The managers reminded the subscribers and the public that they had not neglected the hospital, and that they had endeavored to the best of their power for the enhancement of their revenue, and procurement of funds was suggested by no holding of a bazaar in September or October, 1900, by which they believe they would realize $30,000 to the credit of the hospital.

The whole of the reports were unanimously adopted, and on the motion of Mr. J. Crathern, a vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Alexander for his portrait. Mr. Phillips said: "The public knows the management of the hospital is in good hands."

Mr. Richard White moved that arrangements should be made with the Trustees to have an entertainment in the hall of the General Hospital, but he wished more of them would attend these meetings. Mr. Phillips said: "The public knows the management of the hospital is in good hands."

ODDFELLOWS' OFFICERS

Annual Elections Took Place Yesterday—
Rebekah Assembly Also Names Its Officers.

Representatives of the thirty-one subordinate lodges of the Independent Order of Odd-fellows and officers and past masters of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, held their twentieth annual session yesterday and last night, in Wellington Lodge room, corner of St. George and Notre Dame streets, and elected their executive officers for the ensuing term:

It has been decided to hold the next annual session in Beaver Lodge rooms, next August.

Past Grand Master Staveley said, in concluding his annual report: "While our increase in numbers is not as large as the previous year, yet our work is more extensive, and I believe our lodges are stronger, financially and otherwise, than they were a year ago."

FRENCH VETERANS TO CELEBRATE.

On September 2nd the veterans of the French land and sea forces, who took part in the war of 1870, and are now living in Montreal, will celebrate the anniversary of the foundation of the association by a picnic to be held at Lac Beauport. The society, which is a branch of the Societe Nationale de Retraite, founded in Paris, January 1, 1893, has eighty members, at the head of whom is the Hon. Mr. Kleckowski, the French consul-general for Montreal. The other officers are Mr. A. Dubray, president; Mr. L. Perron, vice-president; Mr. J. Helbronner, treasurer; and Mr. M. E. Duboulay, secretary. The procession will be made up of the war veterans and their friends, the formation being on Cadieux street, and parading to Mount Royal avenue, where cars will be taken to the picnic grounds.

President Dubray said yesterday: "We expect that this year's celebration will eclipse anything yet attempted by the veterans. The committee in charge of the affair has arranged a splendid programme. It will be a reunion of our old comrades in arms."

EX-RECORDER DEAD

Hon. B.A.T. de Montigny Succumbed to His Long Illness Last Evening.

DIED AT THE HOTEL DIEU.

An Interesting and Varied Career as Lawyer, Magistrate, and Litterateur Closed.

The announcement of the death of the Hon. Bernard Antoine Testard de Montigny, late Recorder of Montreal, will be received with deep regret. Mr. de Montigny has been long ill, and for some weeks reports came from the Hotel Dieu that he was gradually growing weaker. Some hope was held out that his life might be saved by the amputation of a leg, yet even this last resort had to be abandoned, owing to the extreme weakness of the patient. The end came peacefully, at 9.55 o'clock last night, surrounded by his wife and twelve children, and consoled by a faith which he loved so well.

It was noticed at six o'clock that a marked change had taken place, and it was soon evident that death was at hand. All the time he remained cheerful, conversing with his wife, and telling her not to be alarmed, when he fell into a doze about half an hour before death, and then passed away. Two of his sons are engaged in farming in the country, but he gave instructions not to alarm them, as it was then too late.

Recorder de Montigny was the son of the late Lieut.-Col. Casimir Chevalier de Montigny, ex-M.P. He was born at St. Jerome, P.Q., on October 10th, 1838, at the family estate at Joliette. He was called to the bar in 1859, and not long afterwards left for Europe, where he was the first French-Canadian to enlist in the Pontifical Zouaves.

He returned to Canada in 1861, and was appointed recorder of Montreal in 1862. He was a member of the Legislative Council, and was elected to the House of Commons in 1872. He was a member of the House of Commons in 1872, and was elected to the House of Commons in 1872.

DEBT DECREASED.

A number of Conservative papers have been stating that notwithstanding the fact that there is a surplus of $22,556 in the finances of the Province for the year ending 30th June last there is a large increase in the public debt. This, however, is not the case, and these journals have been misled into comparing the excess of liabilities over assets for 1898 with the statement of the funded debt for 1899, which appeared on Saturday last. A true comparison cannot be made between entirely different things. The Chronicle, of Quebec, published the following figures on Monday last:

"Net debt, 1898, $25,850,523.
"Net debt, 1899, $22,556,117.
"Debt increase, $3,294,406."

Our contemporary was in error as it will see upon an examination of the year's work, comparing the funded debt of 1898 with the funded debt of 1899, exclusive of the sinking fund. According to the public accounts the funded debt for 1898 was $34,283,841. This year it is $35,128,847. Taking these figures alone it would seem that the obligations of the Province had been greatly augmented, but it must be remembered that the capital has been increased by conversion by the amount of some $915,000. This increase in the capital must of necessity be deducted from the statement of the funded debt, leaving the net funded debt for 1899, $34,213,847. So the figures resolve themselves as follows:

1898.....$34,283,841
1899.....$35,128,847
Decrease.....69,004

This decrease is represented by Government bonds which have been purchased by the treasurer to the above amount.

With regard to the temporary loans and deposits: Last year the trust deposits amounted to $334,063. In the recent Quebec Gazette statement, the trust deposits consist of Teachers' Pension Fund, $185,179; Protestant Council of Public Instruction, $34,658; and security and trust deposits, $100,107, a total of $329,946, a decrease of $4,057. Last year the railway guarantee deposits amounted to $132,702. This year they are $33,072, a decrease of $99,630. The temporary loans were $700,000 in both years.

The results of the year's work can be expressed in the shortest way as follows:
Surplus.....$22,556
Decrease in the debt.....69,004

PROSPERITY AND STRIKES.

No little satisfaction is derived by the business community from the fact that high prices for nearly all staples are at present accompanied by ready sales and satisfactory remittances. There is not the demand for grain for export that was witnessed last year, but it is enough to keep the prices reasonably high. The market for lumber is good and the supply is increasing. In iron, prices long ago passed the mark at which business is profitable, and are still on the rise. It is announced to-day that the largest American shipbuilders cannot get enough steel. Copper has made the fortunes of thousands in a few months. Even silver, owing to the demands of the East, is much less of a drug in the market than it was. Gold is being produced in abundance almost too great for the needs of the world's arts and commerce. Property values have increased; rents have been raised. Money is finding investment and is returning good rates of interest. The volume of international exchange is increasing by leaps and bounds. The clearing house returns, which constitute the best mirror of trade within the country, reveal a similar condition. Additions are being made to manufacturing plants, new buildings are under construction, new enterprises are being floated, more workmen and workwomen are constantly engaged. There are all the signs of that abounding prosperity which leads those who more directly encounter its impulse to give less heed to the future.

But there is a fly in the ointment. Disputes between great employing corporations and those who work for them are painful in evidence. The railways are beset by troubles. The Grand Trunk has ended a strike of considerable proportions. In Toronto there is a garment-makers' strike; in Hamilton a little while ago there was another; in London there is a mild species of terrorism over a disagreement between the street railway and its employees. In Brooklyn there have been armed conflicts over a street railway strike. In Cleveland they have been blowing up cars with dynamite. In Connecticut there is an outcry because passengers were killed through the neglect of an overworked employee. The New York Sun has a strike on its hands, and it is reported that an organization of 20,000 men have agreed to boycott the newspaper. In New York a new labor party is getting under way, and one branch of organized labor after another is giving in its adherence to the new movement. In Montreal there has been some talk of the same kind, and although the effort to consolidate labor sentiment here has failed up to the present, it is because the impetus came from without and not, as in New York, from within. Once a new labor movement makes any headway it is pretty sure to spread with great rapidity.

To say the least, such evidences of discontent in a time of general prosperity furnish food for reflection. That the workmen are reflecting is clear enough; that their conclusions and the action based upon them, or will be, and is just is not quite so patent. It is to be remembered, however, that in good times there is a disposition on the part of employers to take extra profits as their own share of good fortune; in hard times they have often no choice but to ask their workmen to bear part of the losses. In many cases workmen find that they are not profiting by the general advance in values, while, on the other hand, they have to pay rather more for the necessities of life. They learn that the products of their labor are more valuable, while the labor itself is not esteemed to be more valuable in proportion. If this breeds discontent who is to blame?

Higher prices for staples are not always easy to explain, for which reason the surprise and disappointment are always very great when the bottom drops out of the market. One circumstance that should not be lost sight of, however, is the enormous increase in the annual production of gold that has been witnessed in the last two or three years, the period of good times all over the world. In 1896 the total output was approximately $203,000,000. In 1897 it rose to $237,000,000. Last year there was another large increase, the output being approximately $290,000,000. It is the expectation that 1899 will show still another large increase, unless, indeed, trouble in the Transvaal should interfere. The precise effect of this extra abundance of gold upon prices may be difficult to trace, but it is fairly clear that it serves to augment prices by increasing the demand. The danger to be apprehended is an undue inflation of prices, followed, more or less quickly, by complete or partial collapse, with attendant destruction of capital. There are those among careful observers who give warning that such a period of inflation is now approaching.

HOW TO GOVERN WITHOUT SPENDING MONEY.

It would be interesting to learn from those leaders of the Opposition who protest with so much vociferation against the increase in the annual expenditure, by what means they would provide for the administration of the Yukon territory. In that time, of happy memory, when "the party with the instincts and traditions of government" was in charge of the affairs of the country, there was no administration of the Yukon territory to be provided for. Now there is. But because money has to be appropriated for the purpose, nearly a million of dollars, Mr. Foster calls down anathema upon the heads of the Ministers for spending more money than was spent by their Conservative predecessors. Of course, if Mr. Foster and his friends were in power, they would spend at least as much as the Liberals are spending on the government of the Yukon, and probably a great deal more, for spending was always their forte. What is more, if we can put any reliance on their talk while in opposition, these same gentlemen would, if they were in power, put an end to the system of royalties which brings in enough money to pay the whole cost of Yukon administration, and which bids fair in another year or two to leave the Government of the Dominion with a handsome sum to the good.

Again, the Intercolonial Railway has been extended to Montreal, and in the well-nigh unanimous opinion of the people of Canada, the extension was necessary to prevent any further deterioration in the value of an asset representing many millions of capital invested by the Dominion. The leaders of the Opposition fumed a little when they found that the Liberals had courageously grappled with a problem which they themselves had been too timid to approach, but they did not offer any serious criticism either of the project in its entirety or of the cost entailed. It would be interesting to know how Mr. Foster would pay the Drummond County people for their road, pay the Grand Trunk a yearly rental, pay the stipulated share of running expenses over the Grand Trunk section, and pay for handling a largely increased volume of traffic, all without increasing the total annual expenditure. He and his friends might do as they did before, of course, keep down the expenditure on the Intercolonial and present the country with annual deficits on traffic accounts and an annual loss of capital invested. But that would not be appreciably better for the country than to have a surplus at the end of the year and a road whose value does not depreciate.

Perhaps Mr. Foster or someone else—say Mr. Bergeron—might find it agreeable to explain how the Government could make improvements in the national port of the Dominion, to the value of three-quarters of a million, without adding to the expenditure. None of them say the work is unnecessary or improper. They all think the improvement of Montreal's harbor facilities is an imperative national necessity. They rather give the Government credit for undertaking the work. But when money is asked for the purpose, and included in the aggregate expenditure of the Dominion, there is another story to tell. Then the Government is to be condemned.

It is the same all along the line. Expenditures the Opposition approve in detail they condemn in the gross. But they cannot get over the fact which must be looked to as furnishing the final test of the wisdom of the Government's action, namely that under the Liberals the net debt has increased only about two millions a year, whereas under the Conservatives it increased, during eighteen years, by more than six millions a year. For the year just ended the addition will be little over one million dollars. And yet that is the year for which the Liberals are reproached so bitterly by the men who nearly doubled the national debt.

MAKING HISTORY IN FRANCE.

The Dreyfus trial and its attendant incidents have once more drawn upon France the sympathetic attention of all friends of representative institutions. Orleanists and Bonapartists are active once more. Their committees are enjoined to increased activity by the elements to the throne. De Gaulle and his league of patriots have set the forces of government at defiance. An obscure agitator has barricaded his house and continues to defy arrest, and, what is more disturbing, the administration permits its officers to be defied. In the court room a former Minister of War tells of a mobilization of troops on the German frontier because of a threatened war with France's traditional foe, and is contradicted by the man who was President of the republic at the time, who says there was not the remotest fear of war, and that, moreover, he was not consulted about the mobilization. No wonder he resigned his office in indignation. Outside the court room the prisoner's counsel is set upon by assassins and left for dead just at the moment when a decisive cross-examination impended. Worst of all, though the accused seems to be able to confuse nearly all of the witnesses against him, while those from whom the most damaging testimony has been expected appear to apologize for their own conduct rather than to fasten guilt on the man on trial, there seems to be a widespread sentiment which completely ignores the essentials of justice and looks for a condemnation, right or wrong, and at all hazards.

In such circumstances there is but one safe road for the friends of the republic, for the friends of France, to pursue. If Dreyfus is guilty it is clear that his guilt will be proved. If he is not guilty, it seems clear that there has been conspiracy of the foulest kind in which high officers of the state and leaders of the army were engaged. The acquittal of Dreyfus must mean the punishment and disgrace of these men and must involve a tremendous shock to those in and out of the army, who have believed in them. There seems to be no middle course. The shooting of Labori was not part of a judicial contest in which the guilt or innocence of a prisoner is under review. It was intended for a master stroke in a fight in which the fate of one man is of relatively small concern. It is to be hoped the men in charge of the Government, or at least some one of them, will prove strong enough to keep the conspirators, however influential, in their places.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Gazette had no reference this morning to the Marchand surplus. We hope its attention has not been diverted.

The Star "lights shy" of the Marchand surplus. With the exception of an attempt to deny any surplus at all, which it made in the heading put on the official statement in its news columns, it has had not a word to say. In the light of its protestations, of a few years ago, to see economy and retrenchment at Quebec was its most cherished desire, we beg to call its attention to the fact that last year's surplus is an actual one according to its own tests because along with the excess of receipts over expenditures there was a net decrease of the debt by the amount of seventy thousand dollars. Will the Star turn its attention for one short moment from the extravagance which it charges reigns at Ottawa, and tell its readers something about Quebec finances?

That eminent critic, Dr. George Saintsbury, professor of English literature at Edinburgh University, has just been operating with his critical scalpel upon Matthew Arnold—the sweetest, the most urbane, and the most lucid critic of the age. The Times' literary critic, wrathful at the professor's tenacity, proceeds to operate thus on Saintsbury with a tomahawk: "In lucidity and consistency of style he is sadly to seek. His sentences are often unsmooth and clumsily cumbed with parentheses and other interpolations. He is not the man to split an infinitive, but he never hesitates to split a sentence in two for the purpose of inserting an after-thought, often superfluous and not seldom irritating. We wonder what Matthew Arnold would have said of the two critics."

Mr. Edward Bulwer Lytton Dickens, the youngest son of Charles Dickens, and godson of the first Lord Lytton, who represents the division of Wilton in the New South Wales Legislative Assembly, was recently defeated by a labor representative after holding the seat for two Parliaments. It was then a pastoral and agricultural constituency, but when it became swamped by an invasion of miners, the political career of Mr. Dickens came to a full stop. Mr. Dickens carries on business in Wilton as a stock and station agent, in partnership with his brother, Mr. Alfred Tennyson Dickens. He said, on the night of his defeat, that the only incident of his legislative career that he recalled with satisfaction was his friendship with Sir Henry Parkes.

After getting up a Cabinet crisis on the subject and causing a reconstruction of their Ministry, it turns out that Italy does not want anything in China—not even a nice little bay to make a commercial port. There was a good deal of talk about her occupying Samam Bay, but the Italian admiral in Chinese waters has been instructed from home that it is not suitable for commercial purposes. As the admiral on the spot is presumably the best judge of what is suitable and what is not, the instruction seems rather curious, were it not for other developments. The diplomatic note was supposed to be an "extraordinary agent" at Peking, after the prevailing fashion of European diplomatists in that interesting but by no means savory capital, has been recalled and a very mild personage sent out in his stead. "The objects of Italy," says a Milanese journal, "are entirely pacific and will be made known later." They seem to be sufficiently clear now. Italy wanted to join in the Chinese scramble, but the superior scambler would not allow her. This was no doubt entirely for Italy's own good. The superior scambler invariably consults the higher interests of the state he elbows out of the way.

A DEMAND OF ASSIGNMENT.

A demand of assignment has been made upon Abraham Loyer, contractor, by Ovide Galbreath.

WAITED FOR THREE YEARS.

Marie Dupont's Trial Has Been Often Postponed.

She Was a Prisoner, Meanwhile, in the Cornwall Jail—Her Release Ordered at Last.

Cornwall, Ont., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Marie Dupont, a Canadian, who has been a prisoner in the counties goal since Jan. 6, 1896, charged with the crime of killing her newly born baby was released on Tuesday on an order from Justice Moss, sitting in chambers, at the request of the Attorney-General of Ontario. She was found in her own recognition for $500 to appear at the fall assizes.

The case is probably without a parallel in the history of Canadian justice, as for nearly three years the unfortunate girl has lain in the counties goal awaiting her trial, which was unavoidably postponed from one court to another on account of the illness or absence of important witnesses for either the Crown or defence. When the case came first before a jury the medical evidence touching her sanity and mental condition was so conflicting that the jury could not agree. At the June meeting of the counties court, the matter was brought up by D. A. McArthur, the justice who had committed her for trial, and a resolution was passed memorializing the Attorney-General to have the matter settled one way or another. The facts of the case were laid before the Department of Justice with the above result. The crime with which the prisoner was charged was the killing with a knife of the illegitimate child to which she had just given birth. She is said to have carried the body some distance away and hid it in a brush heap.

WILL ENFORCE THE LAW.

The Harbor Commissioners Will Try a Captain on a Charge of Throwing Ashes into the Harbor.

The Harbor Commissioners met yesterday afternoon and decided that when the Royalist returns from Sydney, they will summon Captain Trenchard to appear before them. The by-laws of the commission say that no ashes or refuse shall be dumped into the harbor from the vessels, and it is on the charge of inflicting this by-law that the captain will be summoned. Before the meeting the commissioners decided to hold an enquiry relative to the recent collision between the steamships Turret and the Ramilles. Mr. Robert Bickelrude, M.P.A., presided over the other members present being his Worship Mayor Prefontaine, J. Hodgson, A. Racine, E. H. Leavay, W. Farrell, J. Constant and Andrew Allan.

FOR SAKE OF LADY FAIR.

Louisville Youth Dives From a Hundred Foot Bridge to Prove His Valor.

Louisville, Aug. 15.—Stung by the imputation of his sweetheart that he would not marry her, a young man named William Crowe dived from the "Big Four" bridge into the Ohio river last evening. The bridge is one hundred feet high. Miss Gertrude Moore, the woman in the case, had been taught how to swim by one Lloyd Smith and greatly admired his aquatic feats. Yesterday Miss Moore twitted Crowe about how Smith was going to jump from the bridge some day. A few hours afterward, while Miss Moore was standing near the approach to the bridge, Crowe ran out with a loaded revolver, stopped at the central span, poised over her and went and bobbed up safely a few seconds later.

PEROT CASE AT AN END.

By Mutual Agreement, the Child is Given Back to Her Grandfather and Proceedings are Stopped.

London, August 16.—When the case of Mrs. William Y. Perot, charged with the abduction of her daughter, Gladys, from Baltimore, Md., was called in the Bow Street Police Court this morning, it was announced that it had been settled out of court, the child, by mutual consent, being handed over to the custody of her grandfather, Mr. William H. Perot. The mother has access to her daughter.

HEAVY BUSINESS THIS YEAR.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—The amount of western grain carried by the C.P.R. via Owen Sound this season has been quite double what it was last. The quantity of flour has greatly increased, and the amount of general merchandise, west bound, has also shown a marked advance. The bulk of the wheat freight has been consigned to the Canadian Northwest, and indicates a thriving condition of affairs west of the lakes. A feature of this season's business at Owen Sound has been its steadiness and the absence of the slack times and rushes of other years.

Passenger travel on all the lines affords another evidence of the condition of business. It has been heavy all summer, and continues so, despite the near approach of the Exhibition and low rates. A man who has been connected with the Union station for many years stated yesterday that he did not remember as heavy a summer in his experience.

CITY CAN HAVE THEM

Municipal Ownership of Street Railways Proposed in Milwaukee.

ARE READY TO SELL OUT.

Company Takes Initiative and Suggests That in Ten Years the City Try Its Hand at Running the Road.

Milwaukee, Aug. 15.—Four-cent fares and eventually municipal ownership may be the basis of a settlement of the street railway problem in Milwaukee.

This time the initiative has been taken by the Street Railway Company. The movement was an entire surprise, and the result in consequence cannot be forecast at this time.

The railway company made certain propositions in a communication read before the Common Council this afternoon which, if accepted, would settle the differences existing between the railway company and the city for all time. Though the propositions as outlined in the communication are admitted to be fair in many respects, it is very doubtful if they will be accepted in their present shape.

The propositions of the company in brief are: The company will gradually, through the sale of commutation tickets, reduce fares to 4 cents.

It will make the present universal transfer system permanent.

It will extend its lines where the public necessities demand.

At the expiration of its franchise the company will sell its lines to the city if the latter wishes to buy, the price to be settled by arbitration if necessary.

In return the city asks that the franchise be extended ten years, and that it be given franchises on such terms as will permit it to perfect its system.

HUMANITY INCORPORATED

Mayor of Toledo Starts Brotherhood-of-Man Stock Company.

Its Purpose Is the Co-operative Production of Wealth, Equitable Distribution and All the Rest.

Columbus, O., August 15.—Mayor S. N. Jones, of Toledo, has put his brotherhood-of-man idea into the form of corporation under Ohio laws to-day.

The name of the corporation is the Brotherhood of Man, of Toledo. Its associates are John B. Merrill, Byron A. Case, James S. Ingalls and Joseph Asbury Johnson.

The capital stock is $100, in shares of $1 each. The purpose is to provide for the collective use of means of producing and distributing the same—to secure the equitable distribution of the products of its industries, to engage in all kinds of production, in mining and manufacturing, and generally to engage in any kind of trade or business necessary or desirable to carry out the objects of the corporation.

STOLE CANADIAN POUCH.

United States Mails Robbed at Detroit and Valuables for the Dominion Taken.

Detroit, Aug. 15.—A bold robbery of the United States mails and the discovery of the pouch in the employ of the Grand Trunk Railway yesterday afternoon, and the machinery has already been set on foot to run down the thieves. A mail pouch from Chicago and the Northwest, with Canada as its destination, was found on the platform at the Grand Trunk depot, with the seal broken and the contents of one package looted.

No estimate of the amount taken from the letters can be made. The bag came direct from Chicago. Some of the letters were stamped on August 10, and others on August 11.

AWFUL SPREAD OF PLAGUE.

Poona Natives Have Become Panic-Stricken and are Fleeing the Country for Safety.

Rombay, Aug. 15.—The plague of Poona is daily becoming more virulent. The natives are panic-stricken, and are fleeing to the country in all directions. The streets are deserted. The relatives and friends of the dead leave hurriedly for the moment the funeral pyre is lighted.

JUST LIKE A MAGICIAN.

Pennsylvania Boy Tries a Circus Trick With Fatal Result.

He Saw No Reason Why He Could Not Swallow Fire and Started With a Mouthful of Burning Kerosene.

Lancaster, August 15.—A number of Ephrata boys were playing circus, and John Good, aged nine years, announced that he could swallow fire, just as he had seen franks do in shows. He filled his mouth with kerosene, and then applied a match to the fluid as it dropped from his mouth. In an instant his head was ablaze and his companions fled in terror. Before older people arrived to extinguish the flames, the boy was horribly burned about the face. He was also burned internally and may die.

SELL A MARTYR'S STAKE.

Relic of the ill-fated Bishop Hooper Will be Disposed of at Auction.

London, August 15.—An interesting relic of the ill-fated Bishop Hooper is to be sold to-day. It is a portion of the stump cut from the stake at which the Bishop was burned in St. Mary's square, Gloucester, in 1555, as an obstinate and irreclaimable heretic.

The stake was taken up to make room for the foundations of the present monument. A greater part of the stake was used in fashioning a casket, which was presented to the daughter of Mayor Broughton, of Gloucester, on the occasion of her marriage. All that now remains of the stake is the part which will be sold to-morrow.

BOIL CAUSED HIS DEATH.

Galt, Aug. 15.—Fergus Watson, the 17-year-old son of Mr. Robert Watson, died at his father's residence in Arr on Saturday evening under most peculiar circumstances. About a week ago a boil began to grow on his lower lip. The lip commenced to swell, and soon assumed enormous proportions, and although everything was done for him by the doctors, it proved of no avail.

A BRIDE'S LITTLE JOKE

She Pointed the Customary Unloaded Revolver at Her Husband.

Physicians Say That With Care and Nursing There is a Chance for His Recovery.

Winnipeg, Man., August 15.—Yesterday at Keewatin and Mrs. Eastwood, a newly-married couple, were dressing in their room, and Mrs. Eastwood picked up a revolver which her husband had left lying on a stand, and remarked in a joking manner that she was going to learn to shoot. The weapon discharged, and the bullet entered Eastwood's head. The doctors give some hope of recovery. Mrs. Eastwood is completely prostrated by the affair.

KILL ALL CATS AND DOGS

Altona Board of Health Adopts Measures to Prevent Increase of Smallpox Epidemic.

Altona, Aug. 15.—Alarmed by the persistent spread of smallpox in Altona, the Board of Health has decided to kill off all cats and dogs found in infested houses, to prevent the pet animals distributing the germs in the neighborhood. Since the edict has gone forth the health officers have opened a war on stray animals such as the city never saw before. One officer made a record of thirty dogs in one day last week, and another officer reported that he had killed a cat and a dog found in an infested house. The Board of Health is now taking steps to prevent the spread of smallpox during the winter months. There are now thirteen cases in the city. The number at any one time since the outbreak.

Government Ready to Start 20,000 Men for Transvaal at a Week's Notice.

London, August 16.—The Transvaal situation is unchanged, according to the reliable official reports, and the continued delay of the Boer answer to Great Britain's demand for a joint inquiry as to the cause of the Boer war, makes matters look more serious.

The War Office has completed its preparations for an emergency force of 20,000 men to be ready to leave within a week.

It is said that the Grenadier Guards, now at Gibraltar, and the 2nd Lancs, now in Egypt, may be sent to South Africa, in addition to the other regiments, which have already been ordered there.
