

MONTREAL, MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 29.

Though the AMERICAN Mail of Friday did not furnish us with later intelligence from EUROPE, we are enabled in this day's paper to present our readers with extracts from ENGLISH papers to the 25th May, brought by the packet ship Silas Richards, from LIVERPOOL. This we are enabled to do from having been obligingly furnished on Friday, by — DICKSON, Esquire, with NEW YORK papers of Tuesday evening, (a day later than those brought by the Mail.) containing the news by this arrival. This is not the first time we have been under similar obligations to Mr. DICKSON, as his attention on a former occasion enabled us to anticipate the intelligence by the Mail. We are also under obligations to our QUEBEC Correspondent, for Gore's Liverpool Advertiser of the 21st May, from which extracts will be found in this paper.

HIS EXCELLENCY SIR JAMES KEMPT, ADMINISTRATOR OF THE GOVERNMENT, arrived here from QUEBEC on Friday evening about nine o'clock, and has taken up his residence at the Government House, which had been prepared for his reception. It will be perceived by a notice in this day's paper, that HIS EXCELLENCY is to hold a Levee to-morrow at twelve o'clock.

M'GILL COLLEGE.

In consequence of a notification having been published, that this COLLEGE would be opened, and that formal possession of the estate of BURNSIDE, upon which it was established, would take place on Wednesday, a very numerous assemblage of the Inhabitants of this City, were present at what we consider to be one of the most important and interesting ceremonies, lately witnessed in this part of the PROVINCE. Though there was none of the gaudy appearance and display, characteristic of religious or Masonic Processions, yet to the mind of the philosopher and friend of education, the simple and appropriate ceremony, an account of which we are about to lay before our readers, presented more charms than if decked out with all the pageantry of chivalry and romance.

A large room in the house, which has been for some time existing on the estate, having been fitted up, it was soon after one o'clock filled by the numerous and respectable individuals who had assembled to witness the ceremony. Among the company we noticed several officers of the government, the principal members of the Bar; the lecturers at the MONTREAL MEDICAL INSTITUTION and several gentlemen, more or less connected with the proposed COLLEGE.

The Right Reverend the LORD BISHOP of the Diocese, attended by the Rev. G. J. MONTAIN, D. D.; the Rev. J. L. MILLS, D. D.; the Rev. B. B. STEVENS, A. M.; the Rev. A. NORMAN; and the Rev. A. F. ATKINSON of MONTREAL; the Rev. JAMES REID of ST. ARMAND; the Rev. W. ABBOTT of ST. ANDREWS; the Rev. J. ABBOTT of YAMASKA; the Rev. I. BRATHWAITE, A. B. of CHAMBLEY, and the Rev. H. ESSON; and E. BLACK of the KIRK OF SCOTLAND in MONTREAL, having entered the Hall, the business of the day was soon after proceeded upon.

The ROYAL Charter incorporating the Governors and Professors of the University being placed on the table, HIS LORDSHIP the BISHOP of QUEBEC rose and addressed the assembled body. He stated that in consequence of the absence of His Excellency the Administrator of the Government, who was one of the Governors of the corporation of M'Gill College, it became incumbent on him to make a few remarks on the present occasion. He would, however, first state that he was commissioned by His Excellency to express his regret, that in consequence of the very late arrival of the April and May mails, he was unable to leave Quebec in time to assist at the ceremony of promulgating the charter which had been conferred on the College. His Excellency in his letter was pleased to add that he would not fail to use all his exertions to promote the Institution. Having fulfilled this duty, the Lord Bishop begged to observe that the bequest which had been made in favor of this College by the late Hon. James M'Gill, consisted of the valuable estate of Burnside comprising the building in which they were then assembled, and the garden and grounds adjoining, together with the sum of £10,000, in furtherance of his benevolent intention. This liberal bequest was made in 1811 (two years previous to the death of Mr. M'Gill,) in trust to a corporation called the Royal Institution which was contemplated by an act passed in 1801. This Institution was to transfer the bequest, when a College, in pursuance of his views, was established and bearing his name. To this most benevolent legacy, he could not help referring as characteristic of its liberal donor, with whom he had the honor of an acquaintance and as furnishing an example which he hoped to see more frequently followed in the Province. The late Mr. M'Gill, who had amassed a very considerable fortune within the country, did not, like many others, leave the Province and spend his money in some other part of the globe, but having no direct heirs, he had left a very handsome legacy for the laudable purpose of commencing an University in a country where such an establishment was very desirable. The Institution was to bear the name of its excellent founder, and he firmly hoped that it might prove a blessing to many generations yet to come, that it might tend to immortalize his name, and be the best monument that could be erected to his memory. The Royal Institution was incorporated in 1818 and through their instrumentality, this College was in pursuance of the will of Mr. M'Gill incorporated in 1821, by a charter which would be read to them. Under that charter the Governors of the College were the Governor and Lieutenant Governor of Lower Canada, the Lieutenant Governor of Upper Canada, the Chief Justices of Montreal and Upper Canada, the Lord Bishop of Quebec and the Principal of the College. It would be needless for him to refer to the detentions and obstacles, which had hitherto prevented the College from going into operation; it was known that they arose from the residuary legate under the will of Mr. M'Gill, disputing the legality of the bequest, and carrying his opposition through all the Courts of the Province, till His Majesty in his Privy Council had finally given the decision in favor of the Institution, whose duty it had become to prosecute for the recovery of the bequest. The suit in relation to the money bequeathed to the College was still before the Council, but he was happy to say that that unfortunate dispute would soon be terminated as it was understood the residuary legate intended to withdraw all further opposition. It was the intention of the Royal Institution to transfer to the Governors of the College the property of Burnside, and on the part of the Governors, he was authorized to say that they were willing to accept of it. A majority of them were either now present or consenting, for he was charged with the consent of the Governor of this, and the Lieutenant Governor of the adjoining Province, both of whom had expressed a desire to attend on the present occasion and it was known that there was now no Chief Justice in Upper Canada. On the part of the majority, he accepted from the Royal Institution, the Charter which the Secretary of that body would now read.

The Rev. Dr. MILLS, Secretary to the Royal Institution for the Advancement of Learning, then read at length the Charter of the College.

The LORD BISHOP then again rose and said, that he was authorized on the part of the Governors of the new College to state it to be their intention as far as it was in their power to carry into effect the liberal intentions of the late Mr. M'Gill. It was not a work in which they themselves were solely interested, but it was an institution which concerned every inhabitant of the Province, and under such feelings the Governors were determined that no obstacles should deter them from following up and prosecuting the views of the testator. He deemed it unnecessary for him to exhort them upon the advantages of education, as he was sure they were all of opinion that a moral and religious education on christian principles, and a scientific course of studies on a true philosophical system, were what it was their bounden duty to promote. The Governors in assuming the Charter hoped that their exertions would meet with the co-operation of every individual within the Province.

The Venerable ARCHDEACON MOUNTAIN then rose, and stated that as the individual named to fill the honourable office of Principal to the new College, it became his duty now to say a few words. He could not but express his sense of his own unworthiness for such a distinguished office, and he firmly hoped that he would be succeeded by a long line of eminent and learned principals. He had it in charge for his colleagues to state their anxiety to put the College into immediate operation, and he might urge as a proof of their wish, that they had not been idle in this respect. With the assistance of the Honourable Mr. Cochran then present, they had been engaged in preparing and modelling a constitution, and rules for the government of the Institution. Although it was not necessary to detail at present their precise nature, yet he could take upon himself to state that they were liberal in every sense of the word, imposing no test upon Professors or Students. In thus applying the term liberal he wished it distinctly to be understood, that he was not conveying the charge of illiberality against those noble and venerable Institutions of the Mother Country, in which a test was properly exacted of conformity to the National Religion,—but there were local circumstances which required local adaptation; and according both to the terms of the will and the provisions of the Royal Charter, all offices whatever in M'Gill College were left freely open either to Protestants or Roman Catholics, and Students of all denominations would be permitted to attend. He deemed it necessary for him to explain how the present Professors happened all to be members of the Church of England. When found necessary to name Professors in virtue of the Charter of the College, his late father, then Bishop of the Diocese, had submitted several names to His Excellency the Earl of Dalhousie for these offices, among which, those of the Rev. Archdeacon Strachan and the Rev. Dr. Harkness, having been proposed as eligible, either one or the other, to the same Professorship, His Excellency, whether swayed by a feeling of delicacy and desire to avoid the appearance of partiality, on account of his being himself a member of the Church of Scotland, or from whatever cause,—decided in favour of the former gentleman. This circumstance was mentioned in proof, that the original as well as the present intention of the Governors was in all respects to shew due respect to the intentions of the will of Mr. M'Gill and the terms of the Charter. It had been deemed necessary for the present to declare that the Professors should be graduates of some British University, but that a preference should hereafter be shown to those who had graduated within its walls. The Governors would feel it to be their duty under all discouraging obstacles to push on the great undertaking, and never to cease in their exertions for its prosperity. They hoped they would meet with general support, and they trusted with confidence that they would be assisted by all, when the very liberal terms of the will and Charter were considered. It would be necessary for them to make a strong and powerful appeal to the Mother Country, and they also expected great pecuniary assistance from those resident near the establishment, and more directly interested in its prosperity. They would as soon as possible establish a system of collegiate education, and there was a predisposition to engraft upon the College the well known and respectable Medical Institution now in existence in the city. The door of the building was at length open, and it was the duty of all to proceed with vigor. They might at first complain of a great want of means for such an Institution, for it required much to place it on a respectable footing, but while they thus looked forward with confidence, they should not be unmindful that the Province was highly indebted to the very liberal disposition of Mr. M'Gill, who had set such a praiseworthy example to his fellow-citizens, whose duty it now became generally to aid his work and follow up his munificent views. The ARCHDEACON concluded his address by expressing his conviction, that all who were present felt alike the dependence of every human undertaking for its success, upon the blessing of Divine Providence, and would therefore be unanimously ready to join in the religious services, with which it was proposed to conclude the business of the day; and in which he accordingly proceeded.

The 8th chapter of Proverbs which had been selected as appropriate to the occasion, was first read; after which, the following verses selected from different Psalms were repeated in the way of alternation,—the responsive part being sustained by the other Clergy of the Church of ENGLAND who were present.

The Lord hath been mindful of us and shall bless us: even he shall bless the house of Israel; he shall bless the house of Aaron.

He shall bless them that fear the Lord both small and great.

The Lord shall increase you more and more, both you and your children.

All the whole Heavens are the Lord's: the earth hath he given to the children of men.

The lot is fallen unto me in a fair ground: yea I have a goodly heritage.

Lord thou art become gracious unto thy land:—thou sendest a gracious rain upon thine inheritance, and refreshedst it when it was weary.

O pray for the peace of Jerusalem—they shall prosper that love thee.

Peace be within thy walls, and plenteousness within thy palaces.

For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will wish thee prosperity.

Yea because of the house of the Lord our God, I will seek to do thee good.

Except the Lord build the house; their labour is but lost that build it.

Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy name give the praise; for thy loving mercy and for thy truth's sake.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

The ARCHDEACON then proceeded with the following prayers.

O blessed and eternal God, who by wisdom hast founded the earth and by understanding hast stretched out the Heavens,—Father of Lights and Author of every good and perfect gift, from whom we receive all that we have, and all that we are made capable of performing,—upon whose pleasure both we, and our works, and all creation depend,—look down from the habitation of thy holiness and glory, and favour the undertaking which is here before us; let thy blessing rest upon it; let the cloud and pillar of thy presence go with us; establish the work of our hands upon us, yea the work of our hands establish thou it. Our hope is in thee and thou art able to do for us, in things temporal as well as spiritual, exceedingly abundantly above all that we can ask or think. Raise us means, we beseech thee, to provide for the wants of this Institution: dispose the hearts of men and order the course of events favourably towards it: shed down the spirit of wisdom and of patient continuance upon those who plant and those who water, and do thou give the increase from on high. Sanctify all the instruction which shall hereafter be given and all the studies which shall be pursued in this Institution, and render them subservient to thy glory and the good of mankind. Grant that all the stores of knowledge and science, which shall be here opened to the minds of youth, may form them to the greater love of thy holy name, and lead them to magnify thee in thy wonderful works. O righteous Father, who hast hid the highest of all knowledge from the wise and prudent of this world, and revealed it unto babes, grant that none may be here spoiled, through philosophy and vain deceit, nor lifted up in heart through the opposition of science falsely so called, but give them grace to cast down imaginations and every high thing which exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and to bring into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ.—Yet, O Lord, while they are subject to this gentle and blessed yoke, enrich this Institution, we pray thee, with ample streams of all sound learning and science; and as we are taught in thy holy word that the Lawgiver of thy ancient people was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and the blessed Apostle St. Paul, profited above his equals, as well in the studies of his time and people, as in the learned lore of the ancients at large,—and as thou didst miraculously supply to the first planters of our holy faith that knowledge which, under thy blessing, must now be acquired by labour and length of time,—grant that all beneficence and industry may be exerted in the endowment and enlargement, the furtherance and prosperity of this Institution; grant that the grain of seed which is here sown may become, in process of time, a great and goodly tree: that Science and Literature may spring up and flourish upon this dedicated spot, and bear fruit an hundred fold.

With these our prayers, O Father of Heaven and Earth, we offer up our humble thanksgiving for all thy mercies manifested to us, and especially for that thou didst put it into the heart of thy servant, the Founder of this Institution, to provide, out of the means which thou hadst given him, for so needful a work:—And, alike in thanksgiving or prayer, we approach thy Throne in the prevailing name and through the powerful mediation of Jesus Christ, whose own holy words also, we couple still with our imperfect addresses. The Archdeacon here repeated the Lord's Prayer.

Then followed the Prayer for the Church Militant, from the Liturgy, with some adaptations to render it immediately applicable to the local authorities and to the occasion of the day. The assembly was dismissed by a blessing pronounced by the BISHOP.

Before closing this subject, we deem it but justice to the Venerable Archdeacon STRACHAN, to state, that that Reverend gentleman the PROVINCE is greatly indebted for M'GILL COLLEGE, as to his suggestions on this subject, his friend and relative the late Mr. M'GILL, lent a ready and willing ear, and was induced to frame the bequest, which is now about to be employed according to the intentions of its donor. To that gentleman, we understand, is also due the very liberal arrangement which was announced by the Principal, with regard to the total absence of any tests for the admission of Professors or Students.

By a notice from the GENERAL POST OFFICE at QUEBEC, we perceive that new Post Offices are to be established at COMPTON, in the LOWER, and SIMCOE, MERRICK'S MILLS and MAITLAND'S RAPIDS in the UPPER PROVINCE, and that the following gentlemen are to fill the situation of Postmasters:—ELIJAH WARREN at COMPTON; DUNCAN CAMPBELL at SIMCOE; and TERENCE SMYTH at MERRICK'S MILLS. The Postmaster at MAITLAND'S RAPIDS is not yet appointed. This last village and MERRICK'S MILLS are situated on the line of the RIDEAU CANAL. The first three of these new offices are to go into operation on the 6th July, and the last on the 6th August.—We observe also that HENRY NELLIS, Esquire, has been appointed Postmaster at GRIMSBY, U. C. in the room of WILLIAM CROOKS, Esquire, resigned.

We learn with pleasure that JOHN M'TAGGART, Esquire, formerly Clerk of Works on the RIDEAU CANAL, has been appointed Civil Superintendent of that stupendous work. The abilities which that gentleman displayed during his residence in UPPER CANADA, fully entitle him to the confidence reposed in him by the Government of the MOTHER COUNTRY.

At a Meeting of the Inhabitants of SHEFFORD, held on the 20th instant, the following Gentlemen were appointed Trustees to carry into effect the provisions of the Act for the Encouragement of Elementary Education, passed during the late Session of the PROVINCIAL PARLIAMENT, viz.—Dr. Sewell Foster, Messrs. Pere Hoskins, Gustus Geer, Roswell Cutler, and Robert Todd.
