The Hon. John Young on the Trade of the West.—The following letter, from the Hon. John Young, in answer to the chairman (the Hon. W. H. Merritt) of a select Committee of the Legislative Council, appointed to investigate the causes which have diverted the Trade of the West from our channels to those of the United States, and to suggest a remedy for them, will repay perusal:—

Montreal, 23rd April, 1861.

Sir,—I am in receipt of your letter of yesterday, requesting me to answer the questions in reference to the Trade and Commerce of the St. Lawrence, which I shall do as briefly as possible.

First—To what cause are we to attribute the diversion of the Trade of the West [from the St. Lawrence] through the United States, to the Port of New York, and what, in your opinion, is the best means of regaining it through its original and natural channel.

Answer.—The rivalry between Canada and the State of New York for the Trade of the West, commenced on the opening of the St. Lawrence Canal in 1849. Up to 1847, the trade of Western Canada was forced down the St. Lawrence by a protective duty in England on all agricultural products from Canada, American Wheat was then largely imported and manufactured into flour, which was also shipped as Canadian; previous to 1849, there was no exportation of Canadian cereals to the United States. In that year the bonding system of the United States was inaugurated, by which Western Canada could import and export in Bond. All discriminating duties in favor of Canadian produce were at that time abolished. The Navigation Laws in the same year were repealed, and for the first time the Trade of Western Canada and the Western States was left free to find the cheapest and best route either to England or the Eastern States. An additional impulse was given to the trade by the Reciprocity Treaty, under which Canadian cereals were admitted into the United States free of duty. The export of cereals from Western Canada in 1849 to the United States at points above the St. Lawrence Canals was equal, in bushels, to 164,600. In 1852 it had increased to 2,334,270 bushels. In 1854 to 3,812,875 bushels. In 1860 the cereals exported to the United States from Western Canada, exceeded 8,337,064 Bushels, while the total receipts at Montreal from all the Western States and Canada was only equal to 6,558,255 bushels.

The Erie Canal from Buffalo and Oswego to Albany has, since 1849, been greatly enlarged and deepened, so that boats of 130 tons are now employed instead of boats of 75 tons a few years ago. The Eastern States do not produce cereals to any extent, but take what they want for consumption either from the Western States or from Western Canada. The supplying of this demand for consumption in the Eastern States exceeds in the average of years, the amount exported to England and other countries Hence the importance of being able to reach these States through the St Lawrence.

It was to obtain a share of this trade between the West and the East that the Canals of the St Lawrence were built. Before their completion in 1849, I predicted that unless Lake Champlain was connected with the St Lawrence, by the most advantageous levels, that Canada would be powerless in trying to attract any considerable share of Western States and Western Canadian trade.

The Trade and Navigation Returns for 1860 shew that the whole exports of Canada for that year amounted to $32,361,460. Of this $18,427,968, was exported to the United States. Not only is this the fact, but of this $18 427 968, there was exported from Western Canada direct to the United States ports, above all the St. Lawrence canals, no less a sum than $13,141,000. I have mad these calculations hurriedly, but I believe the figures will be found in the main correct, and they shew how small a share of the trade of Western Canada with the United States is now attracted to the Lower St. Lawrence.

Since 1849 and now, the cheapest route from Western Canada and the Western States to New York, and the Eastern States generally, has been through the State of New York, and [illegible] in that direction, and not down the St. Lawrence.

The deepening of Lake St. Peter, the establishment of Ocean Steamers, the cheapening of Insurance by the construction of Light Houses, have done much to enable the Canadian merchants to compete successfully for the Export trade, but to give Canada that superiority which ought to belong to the St. Lawrence route for the sea Exports and Imports, it is of the highest importance to secure for the St. Lawrence the downward trade to the Eastern States. The route which has this downward trade will, from the low price of back freights, secure a large portion of the up freight. Until a Canal to connect Lake Champlain with the St. Lawrence is constructed, I believe it to be impossible for Canada to share in the carrying trade passing between the Eastern States on the one hand, and the Western States and Western Canada on the other, through the route of the St. Lawrence. Nor can this object be fully secured as regards the Trade of the Western States, until the Welland Canal is enlarged and the Locks on the St. Lawrence Canals lengthened. With these works completed, and Quebec fully developed, for receiving and shipping interior produce; I have not now and never had any doubt that the St. Lawrence route, either for export by sea or for supplying the Eastern States can be made the cheapest, quickest and best.

The State of New York is now collecting a very large amount in tolls on Canadian property, passing through her Canals which could be made to pass through the St. Lawrence Canals to the same point. The abolition of Tolls on the St. Lawrence Canals is wholly inadequate to overcome the cheapness of the Erie Canal route, and in my opinion there has not been one ton thereby attracted to the St. Lawrence.

The Locks of the St. Lawrence Canals are 45 and 55 feet wide, but the size of vessels in the trade from the West is controlled by the 26 feet Locks of the Welland Canal, so that the advantages of the St. Lawrence navigation can never be fully ascertained until the same class of vessels which now trade to Buffalo, can pass through to Montreal, Quebec, or Lake Champlain without breaking bulk.

Second. Whether equal facilities exist for importing goods from Sea by the way of Quebec, which are intended for consumption in the United States, as exist for importations at the Port of New York, which are intended for consumption in Canada?

Answer. There is no hindrance or obstacle existing to importing goods from Sea via Quebec, intended for the United States, and as lines of Ocean Steamers ply to the St. Lawrence as well as to New York, the facilities for importing to either places seem to be equal.—The navigation of the St. Lawrence opens in April and closes in December. Between December and April the Erie Canal and St. Lawrence are both closed by ice, but the facilities afforded by Ocean Steamers coming to Portland, and the connection from thence by Railway to all parts of the interior are equal to the facilities at New York during this period for the Import of goods.

Foreign Enlistment.—We find by the Canada Gazette of Saturday, that His Excellency the Governor General thinks it right to call the attention of Her Majesty's subjects and others in this Province, to certain sections of the Act of the Imperial Parliament, 59, George 3, c 69, now in force in Her Majesty's dominions, and commonly called the "Foreign Enlistment Act."

It is stated in the preamble to the Act that, whereas the enlistment of His Majesty's subjects to serve in war in Foreign Service may be prejudicial to, and tend to endanger the peace and welfare of this kingdom,—it is therefore enacted—in the 2nd Section of the Act:—

That any subject of His Majesty so enlisting or agreeing to enlist, or any person whatever who shall engage or procure, or endeavour to engage or procure the enlistment of any subject of His Majesty, in the service of any Foreign Power,—"shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon being convicted thereof, upon any information or indictment, shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment, or either of them, at the discretion of the Court before which such offender shall be convicted."

By the 5th Section of the Act it is provided:—

That in case any ship or vessel in any place within His Majesty's dominions, shall have on board any person who shall have enlisted in any Foreign Service, it shall be detained and prevented from proceeding to sea with such persons on board, provided the Information [to any of the principal officers of His Majesty's Customs, or, where no such officers are, to any Governor or person having the chief civil command], that such person is on board be made upon oath, and also sets forth the facts or circumstances upon which the Informer bases his knowledge and belief of such person being on board.

That the master of any ship so detained, having any such persons on board [with said master's knowledge and consent], "shall forfeit and pay the sum of fifty pounds for each and every such person so taken or engaged to be taken on board."

The 7th and 8th sections of the Act provide for the forfeiture and confiscation of any ship or vessel fitted out or armed in His Majesty's dominions, with intent or in order that such ship or vessel shall be employed in the service of any Foreign Power, either as Transport or store ship or to act as a cruiser against any Power, with whom His Majesty shall not then be at war.

The 9th and 10th sections provide:—

That offences made punishable by this Act, committed out of the United Kingdom, may be prosecuted and tried in His Majesty's Court of King's Bench at Westminster; and that any Penalty or Forfeiture inflicted by this Act, may be sued for and recovered, by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, in any of His Majesty's Courts of Record at Westminster or Dublin, or in the Court of Exchequer, or in the Court of Session in Scotland, in the name of his Majesty's Attorney General for England or Ireland, or His Majesty's Advocate for Scotland respectively, or in the name of any Person or Persons whatsoever; wherein no Essoign, Protection, Privilege, Wager of Law, nor more than one Imparlance shall be allowed—actions must be brought within twelve months after the offence committed; persons adjudged against shall pay double costs of suit; and one moiety of every Penalty recovered shall go to his Majesty and the other moity to the person who shall first sue for the same.

Cricket.—The first match of the season was played at Three Rivers on the Queen's Birthday, between the "United" Cricket Club of this city and the "Union" Club of Three Rivers. The "United" scored 55 in their first and 43 in their second innings, making a total of 98. The Three Rivers Club made 58 in their first and 106 in their second innings, total 164, thus winning the game by 66 runs. In the evening after the match the two "elevens" sat down to a good dinner, provided by the Three Rivers "Union" Club. Toasts of "Her Majesty and the Royal Family," "Cricket in Canada," the "Union" and "United" Clubs, &c., &c., followed till 10 o'clock, when the "United Eleven" left in the Columbia.

I called at the White House this morning, with Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, to see the President on a pressing matter of public business, and as we entered the library we remarked the President standing before a window, looking out across the Potomac, running at foot of Presidential grounds. He did not move till we approached very closely, when he turned round abruptly, and advanced towards us, extending his hand: "Excuse me," he said, "but I cannot" We suppose that his voice had probably given way from some cause or other, and we were just about to inquire, when to our surprise the President burst into tears, and concealed his face in his handkerchief. He walked up and down the room for some moments, and we stepped aside in silence, not a little moved at such an unusual spectacle, in such a man in such a place.

After composing himself somewhat the President took his seat, and desired us to approach. "I will make no apology, gentlemen," said the President, "for my weakness; but I know poor Ellsworth well, and held him in great regard. Just as you entered the [illegible] me the painful details of Ellsworth's unfortunate death. The event was so unexpected, and the recital so touching, that it quite unmanned me." The President here made a violent effort to restrain his emotions, and after a pause he proceeded, with a tremulous voice, to give us the incidents of the tragedy that had occurred. "Poor fellow," repeated the President, as he closed his relation, "it was undoubtedly an act of rashness, but it only shows the heroic spirit that animates our soldiers, from high to low, in this righteous cause of ours. Yet who can restrain their grief to see them fall in such a way as this, not by the fortunes of war, but by the hand of an assassin?" Towards the close of his remarks he added, "There is one fact that has reached me, which is a great consolation to my heart, and quite a relief after this melancholy affair. I learn from several persons, that when the Stars and Stripes were raised again in Alexandria, many of the people of the town actually wept for joy, and manifested the liveliest gratification at seeing this familiar and loved emblem once more floating above them This is another proof that all the South is not secessionists; and it is my earnest hope that as we advance we shall find as many friends as foes."

POLICE COURT.—Yesterday.

Crimping.

The trial of Charles McDonald, on the charge of inducing Quinn and Patrick Sullivan, sailors of the "Alexander" to desert, was proceeded with. Sullivan, being placed in the box, stated that he had become acquainted with McDonald through the latter being employed on board the "Alexander" two days last week. On Saturday morning, he was with a fellow seaman, Quinn, when they met McDonald and went into a tavern to drink and get breakfast.—While there, McDonald and Quinn went out, and when Sullivan followed them a short time after, he saw McDonald running away. He enquired what was the matter, and McDonald replied that Quinn had struck him. Quinn was also running along the street. The origin of the quarrel was not explained at the trial. McDonald then asked Sullivan to go and get his clothes, and he would bring him to a proper place. Sullivan understood him to mean that he was to get his clothes from his ship and desert. Through an informality in the information laid, the case was dismissed, Mr. Coursol first observing to McDonald that crime of the description with which he was charged would not be allowed, and although he was now discharged, yet he might be again arrested on the same charge, and if it were proved that he were a crimp, an example would be made of him. McDonald went off in great indignation at being lectured before his guilt was established.

Mutinous Conduct.

The two sailors above mentioned, Sullivan and Quinn, were then placed forward on the charge of refusing to obey the lawful commands of their master Benjamin Rice Berryman, of the "Alexander." Berryman stated that the sailors had gone ashore from his vessel against his orders; and had positively refused to aid in unloading the pig iron which composed the cargo. He had them arrested and subsequently bailed them, supposing that they would be willing to return to their work, but he had seen no more of them, till he saw them in Court.

The prisoner Sullivan contended that the articles of agreement were broken when they came to Montreal, and that he was not bound in any way to assist in unloading the vessel. As he rested his case on the invalidity of the articles, judgment was reserved till this morning, when the Magistrate will have examined the document in question.

Suspicion of Stealing Ropes.

Two laborers, Coté and Gauthier, residing at Mile End, were brought up on suspicion of stealing ropes from the wharf, but the proof not being satisfactory they were discharged.

Suspicion of Larceny.

One Hilaire Coté was brought up on suspicion of stealing, but there being no proof to convict, she was discharged.

Suspected Embezzlement.

Arthur Ryan was arrested on suspicion of having embezzled the sum of $10; but as the prosecutor did not appear to give evidence, and it was found he had left the city, the prisoner was discharged.

Suspected Lunatic.

A female named Mary Sharp was taken into custody on suspicion of being insane; but on examination she was pronounced of sound mind and discharged.

On View.

One Lemeur was committed for two months on view as "loose, idle and disorderly."

RECORDER'S COURT—Yesterday.

Thirty prisoners were brought up yesterday morning. Joseph Gagnon, carter, was fined $5 for furious driving. Lefroy Forest and Mrs. Patient were severally fined $6 for keeping their taverns open on Sunday. A carter, named Breard, was charged with buying whiskey on Sunday; but, as there were extenuating circumstances, he was discharged. Jas. O'Leary, selling liquor on Sunday, was fined $4.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Albany, N.Y., May 24, 1861.

To the Editor of the Montreal Herald.

Sir,—Understanding that statements have been published in some of the Montreal papers, reflecting upon the conduct of Frank Martineau (a native of Montreal) in returning to this city from his regiment at Washington, and stating that he had been drummed out of camp, we respectfully ask the use of your columns for the purpose of making a true statement of the case.

Mr. Martineau left his regiment solely because of a telegraphic despatch, received by him at Washington, announcing the dangerous illness of his wife, and informing him that he must return immediately if he ever expected to see her again. This despatch was received by him as he was about passing under the American flag to take the oath. He was in a distressed and excited state of mind, on account of this information, and asked the advice of superior officers as to the proper course for him to pursue. They declined to advise him, and Mr. Martineau finally decided not to take the oath, but to return to Albany, and to rejoin his regiment as soon as the condition of his wife would permit. This is now his intention, and as soon as her health is restored he expects to return.

These facts have been published in the press of this city, over the signature of Mr. Perry, formerly Mayor of Albany, who was in Washington at the time and cognizant of all the facts.

In addition to this, we have seen a letter from Ernest Wheener, on whose authority the statement that Martineau was drummed out of camp purported to have been made, denying that he had ever made such a statement, and pronouncing it a falsehood.

Mr. Martineau is a reputable young man, and is, of course, chagrined at these unfounded statements. And they are not only mortifying to his pride, but have injured his business here and elsewhere. Thinking that you would kindly allow the use of your columns to vindicate the character of a native of Montreal, where he has friends whose good opinion he is anxious not to forfeit, we have addressed you this note, and remain,

Very respectfully,
X.

[From the Canada Gazette of Saturday.]

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE.

Quebec, May 22, 1861.

With reference to the vote of Parliament for an additional, "amount for Drill" for the year 1861, His Excellency the Commander in Chief desires to acquaint Commanding Officers of Corps of the Volunteer Force, and all others the wishes of the Legislature by sanctioning payment for Drill of the following number of men and Horses of the Volunteer Force for the present year, viz:

Field Batteries, Class A.

In addition to the regulated number of Men and Horses to be paid for 12 days drill, pay will be allowed for 12 days drill for the Horses of such Non-Commissioned Officers, (including the Sergeant Major) as may require to be mounted, and for such spare Horses as may be considered absolutely necessary by the Commanding Officer, provided that the total number of Horses for which pay is claimed does not exceed 45 per Battery.

Cavalry Corps, Class A.

The 16 troops originally authorized, and now existing, will be allowed pay for 30 Men and 30 Horses for six days drill.

Foot Artillery Corps, Class A.

Will be allowed pay for 50 instead of 30 Men per Company for six days drill.

Rifle Companies, Class A.

Will be allowed pay for 55 instead of 30 Men per Company for six days drill.

Class B.

In consequence of the said "additional" vote and with a view to carry out its object, His Excellency the Commander in Chief will be ready to issue pay to the following Corps in Class B, for drill to be performed, viz:

The Troop at La Chute in Lower Canada, and the Troop at Loughboro in Upper Canada, will each be allowed pay for 30 Men and 30 Horses for six days drill.

The 2nd Foot Artillery Company of Quebec, One Company of the Montreal Artillery, } will each be allowed pay for 50 Men for six days drill.

One Company of the Montreal Light Infantry, The Highland Rifle Company Hamilton, The Stratford Rifle Company, } will each be allowed pay for 55 Men for six days drill.

Pay will also be allowed, in addition to the above, for six days drill for a "Drill Instructor" and his Horse in all the said Troops of Cavalry—and for a "Drill Instructor" in all the said Foot Artillery and Rifle Corps.

His Excellency desires to acquaint Officers Commanding Corps to be paid that it is absolutely necessary that their pay lists should be rendered in the usual manner for payment, not later than the 1st day of November next.

A General Order will shortly be issued respecting the Commencement of the Drill for the present year.

No. 2.—The total number of Rifled Muskets and sets of Accoutrements, appropriated to the Rifle Companies of the Province, are not in future to exceed 55 per Company; and all Arms, &c., in possession of, or appropriated to such Corps, in excess of that number, will be collected under orders from the Inspecting Field Officers, who will forward a list of them without delay to this Department, with a view to their being issued to Efficient Corps in Class B, who are now armed with Percussion Muskets, which latter are intended to be given to new Corps, who are daily pressing to be allowed to organize in Class B.

His Excellency desires, at the same time to inform all Captains of Troops of Cavalry, who armed with Swords, Pistols, &c., of the new pattern, that if the strength of their Corps is not efficiently kept up to a number equal to that of the Swords and Pistols in their possession, they will be required to hand over to the Inspecting Field Officer, the surplus Arms, &c., which will be appropriated to Troops in Class B, and to meet the pressing wants of new organizations.

PROMOTIONS, APPOINTMENTS, &c.

Second Troop Volunteer Militia Cavalry, Quebec.

To be Lieutenant:
Lieutenant Beniah Gibb Prior, from the 8th Battalion, Quebec.
To be Cornet:
James Ferdinand Turnbull, Gentleman.
First Volunteer Rifle Company of St. Vincent de Paul.
To be Captain:
Lieutenant Joseph David vice Major J. H. Bellerose, who is hereby appointed to the Command of the whole of the Volunteer Force, in the 8th Military District of Lower Canada.

Opportune and Patriotic.—The New York Tribune says:—

Loyal Americans resident in England are making important donations to our Government at the present time. A number of gentlemen in London have notified the Secretary of War that they are about to ship three batteries of Armstrong rifled cannon, six, twelve, and twenty-four-pounders, with all equipments, complete, of which they beg the acceptance of Government. This princely gift could not have cost the donors less than $200,000. Other Americans living in Manchester, have forwarded a battery of Whitworth guns—twelve-pounders—each of which bears the following inscription:

"From loyal Americans in Europe to the United States Government, 1861.

A large commercial house in this city have also offered to furnish, at their own expense, a battery of four rifled cannon, six, twelve, twenty-four, and forty-two-pounders.

A Distressing Case.—Very seldom indeed is it that the Royal Gazette, published in Quebec, and paid for at an exorbitant rate by the Province, contains matter interesting to the general reader. But, for once, we are enabled to make from it an extract, the "excruciating" qualities of which cannot fail to be appreciated by the great mass of our readers.

In that department of the paper, wherein of late, having an eye to the forthcoming general election, the Government have notified the public that by a peculiar process, well understood by Sir Edmund Head, they have changed some hundreds of their friends from plain farmers, cobblers, tailors, and whisky-sellers, into skilled generals, gallant majors, captains, lieutenants and ensigns of the Sedentary Militia, we find the record of a judgment delivered by a military court of this Province! The case is a serious one. We do not wonder that it imperatively demanded the investigation of Lieut. Col. the Hon. M. A De Salaberry, Deputy Adjutant General of Militia for Lower Canada; of Lieut. Col. Irvine, Provincial Aide-de-Camp, and of Lieut. Col. Wily, 1st (or Prince of Wales') regiment of volunteer rifles, who formed the court of enquiry. It furnishes, too, an admirable exemplification of the efficiency of our militia system—it gives to all who are connected with it an appearance of importance—it is a serious piece of business—a capital, "screaming" farce.

The record begins:—"Head Quarters, Quebec, 16th May, 1861. Militia General Order." Our readers will observe something portentous in those few words, calling up reminiscences of soldiers shot for disobedience to orders, of military whippings, of regimental drummings-out. Then it proceeds to say that the gentlemen named above, having been duly constituted a court of enquiry to report upon certain improper language, alleged to have been used by one Capt. Anderson to Col. Sewell, during a meeting in the Armoury, on the 25th of April, His Excellency approves of their finding, which we are further told is as follows:—

"The Court having duly considered the evidence brought forward against the accused as well as what he has offered in exculpation, are of opinion that although the charge against Captain Anderson, of having made use of the words 'Damn you, you are only fit to talk' towards Colonel Sewell has not been wholly proven, he is nevertheless guilty of having made use of highly improper and disrespectful language towards Colonel Sewell, his superior officer, provoked thereto however, by that officer's very injudicious conduct, in refusing to acknowledge Captain Anderson as an officer of the Active Volunteer Force, and in attempting to exclude him from participating in the proceedings of the meeting, and inasmuch as this seems to have been the commencement of the discreditable scene which was enacted in the armoury, on the evening in question, in so far was Colonel Sewell the aggressor."

Whereupon His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief declares it to be his "opinion that the conduct of both Colonel Sewell and Captain Anderson, at the said meeting, and the language which passed between them, were such as are calculated to subvert all authority and discipline in the Militia of the Province." We assure His Excellency we agree with him. The only point on which we have any doubt is this—whether or not there is any discipline to be subverted. However, His Excellency assures us there is and we bow to his superior judgment. If we are to have a Militia Force, strict discipline must be observed—that is certain. But though the Court of Inquiry sat, though they have pronounced a verdict, though the Commander-in-Chief approves of the verdict, yet it appears the judgment is of no effect. And why? Because the meeting at which Colonel Sewell and Captain Anderson "squabbled" was not called with a view to carrying out the Militia Act. Had it been otherwise, His Excellency would have dismissed both parties; as it is, he can only reprove them for their naughty conduct. Both of them—the Captain and the Colonel—stand reproved through the columns of the Gazette, and a deal they care for that, no doubt. They had better [illegible] them no other resource, if they have any respect at all for the quarter from whence the hint proceeds. We are convinced that in giving to His Excellency's judgment the benefit of the extensive circulation of the Globe, we are taking the only course which can render it of any practical use whatever. The whole Province, His Excellency may depend upon it, will be as one with him on this important matter, and will admire the wisdom which directs the advertisement of particulars of all such momentous transactions in the columns of the Royal Gazette at four pence a line. Let a few more examples of a similar kind be made, and the discipline of the Provincial Militia will soon be as exact as any martinet can possibly desire.—Toronto Globe.

Mr. Turnbull and the Protestant Alliance.—In the Court of Common Pleas, on the 6th, the case of Turnbull v. Bird came on for hearing. This was an action against Mr Bird relative to Mr Turnbull, and his appointment as calenderer of state papers. Mr. Prideaux (with him, Mr. Folkhard) moved for a rule calling upon the defendant to show cause why so much of an order of Mr. Justice Williams as allowed the 4th, 6th, and 8th pleas to be pleaded should not be rescinded. The learned counsel stated that the declaration contained two counts, and the libels stated in substance that Mr. Turnbull was a gentleman of such prejudiced, bigoted and jesuitical principals that he could not properly be trusted with the care and custody of the state papers, and that Sir John Romily had felt it necessary to have three gentlemen to watch over him, in order that he might not mutilate or destroy such parts of the papers as had an apparent bearing against the Roman Catholic interest. The three pleas, which he asked should not be allowed to be pleaded, purported to justify certain portions of the libel, which, he contended, were immaterial whether they were true or false, and therefore the pleas were not such as should be allowed to remain upon the record, inasmuch as it might necessitate the plaintiff traversing those pleas, and thus raising issues upon certain historical facts which occurred, if they occurred at all, centuries ago. Rule granted.

A New Obstacle in the Way of the Exhibition of 1862.—Mr. Kelk, the contractor of the intended international Exhibition of 1862, was summoned before the Hammersmith magistrate, on the 6th inst. by Mr. Donaldson, district surveyor for South Kensington, for unlawfully commencing a building on the north side of the Cromwell Road before giving two day's notice thereof, as required by the Metropolitan Building Act. The building in question was intended to form part of the Exhibition, as the picture gallery, and it was contended that public buildings came under the supervision of district surveyors, as fire-proof staircases, &c. were required. Mr Kelk asked for an adjournment; to which Mr. Ingham, the magistrate assented, observing that it appeared to him there was an omission in the act, as it never could have been intended that a building of this nature should come under the supervision of a district surveyor, but as the act stood it seemed that it did. Mr Donaldson also wished for a short adjournment. He said there were certain things being proceeded with which could not be allowed. If they went on and were condemned the defendant would have to pull them down. The defendant said an opinion had been obtained, and it was to the effect that the building was lifted out of the act by the 56th Section. Mr. Ingham suggested that the summons should be adjourned, in order that an application may be made to the Metropolitan Board of Works, which, in certain cases, had power to take away the control of the district surveyor. His Worship recommended the defendant to be careful of his right to proceed with the building, as he might find after expending a large sum of money that he would have to pull down the works he had erected. The defendant said that unless he obtained the consent of the Metropolitan Board there would be no Exhibition of 1862. It would be impossible to erect it according to the terms of the Building Act. The summonses were then adjourned for a fortnight.

Bogle's Electric Hair Dye—The greatest wonder of the age—Patronised by the elite of fashion at the Courts of St. James and the Tuilleries, and to be found at the toilet of beauty and fashion throughout the world.
This wonderful compound has now been before the public for several years, and, wherever introduced, the sales have been beyond all precedent. Specimens have been sent to a number of Exhibitions, and, wherever it has come into competition with other preparations for Dyeing, its immense superiority has been acknowledged in every instance by awards of Silver Medal, and Diplomas. It is a liquid easy of application, and turns Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black, without staining the skin. In short, the inventor asserts, and every person who has carefully used it will join in the statement that this is the best Hair Dye in the world. It is now universally preferred in London and Paris. Price, 50 cents, $1, and $1.50.

Neuralgia or Nervous Rheumatism was the first of a line of Nervous Complaints, to which Hunnewell's Tolu Anodyne was so signally adapted. It has proved all we claimed for it. There is but one, and only one, obstacle to immediate results, which is Indigestion. As the Anodyne is based entirely on all objections to mercurials, so weakening to the muscular and intestinal parts of the body, a simple Pill, perfectly adapted to the Anodyne, is prepared by the proprietor, and will be sent, when requested, "free" until plans are matured for placing their true character as assistant to the Anodyne and most perfect Family Physic before the world.—See advertisement. THE MONTARVILLE ELECTION.—We are glad to hear that Mr. Kierzknowski's prospects of being again returned to the Legislative Council, as representative for the Division of Montarville, satisfied with the independent course pursued by Mr. Kierzkowski while a member of the Council, the large majority of the electors, who sent him there, are not likely to allow the little more than technical grounds—the insufficiency in the value of the property on which he qualified—upon which alone he was deprived of his seat, to affect either their opinions or their votes at the coming election. It is in a great measure to Mr. Kierzkowski that they owe the defeat and exposure of the gross and shameless bribery and corruption, by which, it was proved before the Election Committee, his opponent, Mr. Frazer, endeavored to defraud them of their franchises and usurp a seat, as their duly elected representative in the Councils of their country. Had Mr. Kierzkowski no other claim than this upon their good-will and confidence, it should alone induce them to spare no exertions to replace him in that seat, of which, if not wrongfully, certainly upon very trivial and insufficient grounds, he has been deprived. But, as we have said, never did any public man more faithfully, conscientiously and to the letter, act up to the principles, as a representative, which he had professed as a candidate, than has Mr. Kierzkowski; and unless the electors of Montarville have changed their political principles, it would be an insult to them even to suppose them capable of rejecting, in favor of any other candidate, be his qualifications what they may, a man who has so faithfully fulfilled the trust they had reposed in him; and of which he had been deprived—it is no slander to say—upon mere party grounds. It is notorious—notwithstanding the indignant reclamations of Sir Etienne Taché—that the Council has no faith in the impartiality of its own members, where party interests are at stake—that in the striking of the General Election Committee, it is always insisted upon, that there shall be an equality upon it of ministerialists and oppositionists;—and it is equally notorious that, had Mr. Kierzkowski been a supporter of the POWERS THAT BE, the electors of the Montarville Division would have been spared all the cost and annoyance of a new election at this very inconvenient season of the year.

As a guide to the English-speaking portion of our friends in this Division, how they should cast their votes in the present contest, whatever candidate they may have preferred at the last election, we have much pleasure in translating the following admirable letter, from the pen of the Hon. Mr. Sicotte. It will repay perusal, and as Mr. Lacoste is a professed ally and supporter of the Cartier-Macdonald Cabinet, we trust it may have the effect of securing to Mr. Kierzkowski the vote of every elector, who has the intelligence to appreciate and the independence to act in accordance with his appreciation of Mr. Sicotte's facts and arguments.

ST. HYACINTHE, 23rd May, 1861.

To Messrs. Antoine Lamoureux, Mayor, Louis Sicotte and others, Boucherville.

GENTLEMEN,—I have received your invitation to be present at a public meeting in your parish, there to express my opinion upon the political state of the country and upon the course which the electors should pursue in the present election and at the general elections.

I regret that it is impossible for me to comply with your request, as with similar invitations received by me from other parishes of the Montarville Division; but the confidence implied by such invitations is not the less appreciated by me and gives me, no doubt, the right to make some observations upon the political position of the country.

In every election the leading fact, the most important question submitted to the judgment of the electors, is the approbation or the condemnation of the government. The administration, in soliciting your suffrages in favor of the candidates who declare themselves their supporters, at the same time solicit your approbation of their acts and of the manner in which they administer the affairs of the country.

If my opinion can have any influence with you, I but perform a duty in declaring to you that, whatever may have been my personal relations with the Ministers, I have not hesitated to speak and to vote against their acts and against their policy, and that so often and upon questions of so much importance, that I believe it to be equally my duty to ask of you to refuse your suffrages and your support to any person, however estimable that person may be in his private life, who declares himself disposed to support the present Ministry.

Never has power, even in the worst of times, manifested so little respect for the constitution and the public liberties. It has placed itself above the constitutional rights and customs, to secure which the liberal party struggled for so long a time. Those in power have placed themselves above the law and in opposition to the spirit of our system of government, have believed that it was enough to relieve them from the censure, when they declared: "the constitution is our judge, it is our will; the constitution is only good and valuable in that it maintains us in the direction of affairs." They have sought and they seek to maintain an order of things which all the world disapproves, in giving birth to apprehensions equally selfish and ill-founded regarding the state of parties and the future of the country; they do not dispute the facts, the acts, the opinions, the rules of the administration; but they seek to establish a coterie, which shall divide among its members the public spoils and patronage, in presenting themselves as the good party, as if the good party was not that party which sought economy in the expenditure and to relieve the country from the necessity of always borrowing to meet the ordinary expenses of the State; as if the good party was not that party which demanded that the constitution and the rights of the people should be considered things sacred and above the mere arbitrament and will of ministers.

Allow me to say that the good party could not be that party, which, upon the question of the Seat of Government juggled [escamoter] the vote in the House, and whose talent consisted in making dupes.

The good party is not that party which imposes an exorbitant tariff upon the first necessaries of life and which taxes industry in the hope of obtaining a revenue from the misery and privations of the people.

The good party is not that party which regards the public money as a fund which it can distribute as private property and without the control of Parliament.

The good party is not that which makes advances of millions of dollars to the Grand Trunk Company and to the Bank of Upper Canada without the authority of the legislature, and who, to escape condemnation, disavows acts proved by the public accounts and retires behind a cloud of false explanations.

The good party is not that which accords salaries or indemnities to members of Parliament, for labor, which it was incumbent upon them to perform from the very fact of their being members of the Legislature.

The good party is not that which hides and conceals a defalcation in a public officer, by according, after many years, a salary to that officer, he having become a member of Parliament and voting with the ministry.

The good party is not that which refuses to afford explanations upon facts, a knowledge of which would be unfavourable or disastrous to the selfish interest of the party, and which resorts to and hides itself under quibbles, which are insulting to the good sense as to the dignity of Parliament, as the ministers have done in relation to the cost of the public buildings at Ottawa.

The good party is not that which regards the Legislature only as a means of obtaining subsidies.

The good party is not that which declares that there is nothing more to be done, that it has done everything, and which refuses to proceed with all important Legislation.

The good party is not that which proposed and supported a Bankrupt Law, in which the principle was embodied, that it was good and wise that all men in society ought to have a means provided by law, by which they might escape from the payment of their debts.

The good party is not that which, continually deceiving, boasts, with mockery, of the dupes it has made.

Goodness does not and cannot consist in intrigue, falsehood and deception. The existence of parties should be based upon truth, upon wise and rational progress and upon respect towards the constitution and the rights of the people. It was thus in the times of Lafontaine and of Baldwin, who understood the organization of parties. The liberal party is called to reconstruct itself, outside of coteries and of individual interests, and in the sense of those ideas, from which we derive the liberties we enjoy and which it is our duty to preserve and maintain.

Under these circumstances, the wisest policy I can suggest, and the best advice I can give, is to declare that the Government is bad, and to give your suffrages to those who shall be disposed to make the same declaration.

I hope to have the pleasure of meeting the electors of the Mountarville Division on the day of nomination.

I am, with esteem,
Your obedient Servant,
[Signed] L. V. SICOTTE.

THE UNITED STATES.—The telegrams from Washington received last night would indicate a steady advance of the Federal forces. The taking of Sewells' Battery, by Gen. Butler, with the alleged attendant loss on both sides, appears, however, to want confirmation.

NEWFOUNDLAND.—Matters would appear to have reached a very deplorable state in Newfoundland. We learn from the Halifax papers Newfoundland Legislature was summoned to meet for the despatch of business on Monday, the 13th inst., on which day it is rumoured that the city of St. John's was in the possession of a lawless rabble who were destroying the property of the Protestant supporters of the Government, and that the Legislature itself was in danger of being overawed and dispersed. These rumours, says our Halifax contemporary, may or may not be true, but the fact that the Governor of Newfoundland felt it necessary on Tuesday last to telegraph to the Commander-in-Chief here for a strong detachment of troops, which were forwarded the next day, shows that serious disturbances had taken place, or were apprehended, which the ordinary police of the colony, and the small garrison at St. John's, were unable to quell.

BOSTON, Friday, May 24.

Accounts from Newfoundland to May 16, state that order had not been restored. The war-steamer Hydra has been dispatched in haste from Halifax with a second detachment of troops. The house and stables of the leader of the Government, the Hon. Mr. Hoyle, had been set on fire, and destroyed by the mob.

BODY FOUND.—On Saturday afternoon, the body of Jean Bte. Sansfaçon, who walked into the canal near the Wellington Bridge, while it was open, on the night of the 6th inst., was found floating in the river. An inquest was held and a verdict found in conformity with the circumstances of the case.

ANOTHER BODY FOUND LAST EVENING.—On the 1st. inst. two boys, named Wm. Penniston and Thomas Lalley, seeing some pieces of timber floating down the river, went out in a boat to get them. While in the act of stooping over the side of the boat to reach to the logs, Lalley fell in and was drowned. This occurred about three miles from the Lower Lachine toll gate, and the body was not recovered till last evening, when it was found about a mile and a half below the spot where the accident happened. Lalley's parents reside in Quebec.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.—On Saturday morning, two men named respectively Edouard Turcot and Gideon Gagnon, were in a small boat in the King's Basin when the boat upset, and precipitated the occupants into the water. They managed to lay hold of the side and cling to it till rescued by Constable St. Denis of the Water Police, and another person who went to their assistance in boats.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A laborer named Michel Develier, was badly hurt on board the ship "City of Hamilton" on Saturday afternoon by a barrel of Pot Ash falling on him. Dr. Bowman was called to attend him.

CITY MORTALITY.—The interments during the week ending yesterday, were 62 in number, viz, 53 in the Roman Catholic, and 9 in the Protestant Cemetery. The males were 37 in number, and the females 25. Forty were children five years of age and under.—The causes of death were:—Hydrocephalus 2; inflammation of the bowels 1; consumption 7; dropsy 2; gravel 1; disease of the heart 2; infantile debility 35; old age 3, [at 84, 88 and 76]; fever 2; paralysis 1; small pox 2; inflammation 2; dispepsy 1, drowned 1; total 62.

82ND ANNIVERSARY OF MOORE'S BIRTHDAY.—For some years past, the compatriots of the gifted Bard of Erin, Thomas Moore, have celebrated in this city, with music, songs, and short addresses, the recurrence of his birthday, the 28th instant, [to-day.] The event thus commemorated happened in the city of Dublin, in 1779, and the fortunate Poet,—for he was fortunate in many things compared to the usual lot of his "order,"—survived until so recently as 1852, when he died in retirement near Devizes, Devonshire. Only the other day the chief persons in his native land, headed by the Earl of Charlemont, the Duke of Leinster, and others of their rank, united in erecting a suitable monument to the Poet's memory. In the same filial spirit of devotion the sons and daughters of Ireland, in our midst, are to cast their immortels on his grave, on this 82nd Anniversary of his birth.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Notwithstanding the very severe storm the performances last evening drew a most fashionable house. The beautiful Senora Isabel will appear again to-night in two of her fascinating dances. The engagement of this popular lady is drawing to a close, as is also that of the French Company. We shall doubtless see the Theatre crowded during the rest of the week.

We direct attention to the extensive Trade Sale of Mediterranean Goods and Fresh English Groceries at the stores of Messrs. A. Urquhart & Co., this morning. Sale at ten o'clock.

Great clearing sale of furniture, bedding, crockeryware, &c, this morning at 11 o'clock, at Mr. Arnton's well-known Auction Premises.—For particulars see advt.

TOBACCO—A speculative demand has sprung up for Kentucky, induced by the short planting this spring, Corn having been largely substituted for Tobacco at the South West.—Low priced Seed Leaf is wanted for export, but otherwise the market is without activity. The sales are 1282 hhds. Kentucky at 5@11 cents, chiefly for cash; 48 Virginia, 20 Maryland, 3 cases Florida, on private terms; and 533 do. Seed Leaf, part 4@7½ cents. The demand for Manufactured is light, but as there is now none being received here or made in Virginia, the market is firm. Receipts from January 1 to date about 70,000 pkgs.

NEW YORK BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.

BOOTS AND SHOES—The market remains very dull, and little or nothing is doing.—Prices are wholly nominal. The ship Nabob, for San Francisco, took out 395 pkgs., and the Boston Light 338 pckgs. According to the Shoe and Leather Reporter, 2737 cases of Boots and Shoes were shipped from Boston last week. Of this number, 1816 were sent to the Middle States, 794 to the Western States, 63 to the Southern States, 62 to the British Provinces, and 2 to Cuba.

Baltimore, May 26.

Alexandria, May 26.—Col. Wilcox, Commander, has issued a proclamation proclaiming strict martial law.

Captain Whitlesy of a Michigan regiment is appointed Provost Marshall, and Company 11 of that regiment will act as city Police.

Citizens are assured that they will be protected in their person, property, and slaves. All public property will be respected, unless the United States troops should be attacked.

Citizens are prohibited from entering and leaving the city without a permit.

All outrages or excesses of the Federal soldiers will be promptly punished if reported.

New York, May 27.

The pickets of the Forces at Alexandria were last night fired on, and the troops called to arms in consequence. No one hurt.

The 7th regiment will return home on Wednesday.

Strong and extensive entrenchments are being erected by the United States on the Virginia heights, entirely commanding the approaches to Alexandria.

Serjeant Butterworth of the New York Zouaves, was shot last night at Alexandria by Mike O'Neal, of same corps, who was acting as sentry, who receiving no reply to his challenge, fired and instantly killed him.

The 9th Regiment, though all but worn out from want of sleep, again volunteers to-day to labor in the trenches. The heat was oppressive all day, but they tried nevertheless with handy young men of New Jersey in handing the pick, shovel and wheel-barrow. They worked in squads of 150, relieving every 2 hours. Divine service was held in the 7th Regiment camp this a. m. At the conclusion the chaplain put himself at the head of his congregation and proceeded to work on the entrenchments.

Baltimore, May 26.

The steamer Adelaide has arrived from Norfolk. Gen. Butler was reinforced yesterday by 3000 troops from New York and Maine.

It is said that the Rebels there are confident of their ability to hold Norfolk against any force.

No communication allowed between Portsmouth and Norfolk.

Washington, May 26th.

All along the river front troops are engaged throwing up works. Several forts are being constructed; several are of large dimensions.

The 69th Regiment has thrown up a bank a mile long and 7 feet high.

Troops last night seized 250 Revolvers and 3000 rounds of amunition, all of which was in the hands of the Secessionists.

Private Bnckley of Company F. of N.Y. Zouaves was shot this a.m. while assaulting a Superior officer.

Mr. Snowden of the Alexandria Union would not publish Col. Wilcox's proclamation. A squad of printers from the Regiment was detailed to print it.

The Force at Harper's Ferry are from 7000 to 11000. About two-thirds are equipped and armed. They are, undoubtedly, very short of provisions, and must be starved within a week unless relieved.

BY VERMONT AND BOSTON LINE.

Washington, May 26.

All is quiet at Alexandria to-day. The Mass. 5th Regiment marched down after midnight, and occupied a position just on the outskirts of the city.

Fortifications are nearly completed on Arlington Heights. Two forts are being erected, one on each side of the height.

Philadelphia, May 26.

One of the Vermont soldiers, named Benjamin Underwood, or Underhill, was buried at Fort Monroe on Wednesday.

reached this city to-day, having left his boat at Wilmington to ascertain the truth of the report about Sewell's Point. He says he left Fortress Monroe on Saturday morning at 7 o'clock, up to which time no battle had occurred. He confirms the report of the capture of Hampton with 300 troops.

The Kingston left on Friday with a large ship in tow supposed to be a prize. Several prizes are taken daily by the blockading squadron.

Washington, May 26.

Postal service in the States of Virginia, N. Carolina, S. Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas will be suspended on and after the 31st inst.

Gen. Sanford, of the N. Y. State Militia, at Fairfax, Va., has issued a proclamation assuring the citizens of Fairfax County that they may return to or remain in their homes and usual pacific occupations in peace and confidence, and with assured protection to their persons and property, as the U. S. forces in Virginia will be employed for no other purpose than that of suppressing unlawful combinations, and causing the laws to be respected and executed.

New York, May 26.

The Times' Washington correspondent says it is settled that Ex-Gov. Banks will be appointed a Major-General.

The 69th Regiment burned 7 bridges on the Railroad between Alexandria and Lusburg, and destroyed the track to a point 15 miles West of Alexandria on Friday night.

Martial law has been proclaimed at Alexandria.

Washington, May 27.

Several Massachusetts citizens have presented the 5th Massachusetts regiment with an elegant Stand of Colors, while on their march into Virginia. Their position is 7 miles distant from the Long Bridge, and is a post of great danger.

Two Zouaves have been found guilty of insubordination, and will be sentenced to be shot, but they will probably be pardoned.

Four Zouave deserters are to be tried this evening.

No enemy is within ten miles of our outposts, but an attack is anticipated every night.

There is no news from Sewell's Point.

The troops at the Relay House are doing well. The N.H. first regiment will be here to-night.

Baltimore, May 27.

Reports from Alexandria this morning state that the town is nearly deserted, those remaining being under apprehensions that something terrible is about to happen. The troops are rapidly erecting fortifications commanding all the approaches to the city.

New York, May 27.

The Herald says that it has reliable information that Sewall's Battery has been taken by Gen. Butler; 85 of Butler's force and 385 of the Virginians were killed when the battery surrendered to Gen. Butler, with 13 cannon and 600 prisoners. The above wants confirmation.

A Baltimore despatch says it is understood that Norfolk will be attacked on Wednesday.
