Fireman answers explosion alarm at his own home

An explosion causing some thousands of dollars in damages occurred last night at 112 Morris Street. And for Lionel Boudreau, officer in charge of Fire Station No. 2 answering the call, it was a double shock — the explosion was at his own home!

Mr. Boudreau said this morning that he was pretty worried when he arrived at the scene, but his son Andre told him that all the family was safe.

The explosion took place at 10:30 p.m. on the eve of Mr. Boudreau's 18th wedding anniversary!

Mrs. Boudreau and four sons, Andre, 17; Richard, 15; Mario, 12; and Marc, 8, were sleeping in the house at the time of the explosion, he said.

They were able to leave the house safely and sustained no injuries, he said.

The family of Fernand Doudier, living on the second floor of the house, was absent at the time of the explosion.

The explosion occurred in the basement. Its cause has not yet been formally determined but Mr. Boudreau said that it probably was propane gas.

Two outside walls of the house were pushed out a distance of four inches, he said, and inside walls of the first floor were demolished.

Windows were broken and furniture was damaged on the first floor.

Blaze destroys barn, hay

RICHMOND — (Special) — A large barn and several tons of hay were destroyed in a flash fire about ten p.m. Friday night on the property of Conrad Chaine at St. Felix de Kingsey, about twelve miles from here. Also lost in the fire were three young cattle and a bull. Some farm equipment was burned but most of the implements were saved.

Volunteers used one hose and a pump to bring water from a nearby brook but this was not enough to save the barn. Before too long, the huge structure was engulfed in flames and could not be saved.

Mr. Chaine said the barn was 160 feet long and 50 feet wide and he had 150 tons of hay in the building. His milk-cooler, a wagon, two electric pumps and heaters were also burned.

These were in the barn. Chaine's farm is about 2 1/2 miles from the village, on the sixth range which leads to the St. Felix-Danville Road.

The water was pumped from a brook on the property of Arthur Stevens, Chaine said, and 4,000 feet of hose was used.

Chaine has a large farm and several head of cattle. He said there were six cows in the barn at the time and all were taken out except for those that were lost in the fire.

Several people in the immediate area rushed to help put out the blaze but to no avail. Some men remained on the scene during the night to keep watch for other outbursts. Chaine said he did not know the cause of the fire.

5-year-old killed

EAST ANGUS — (Staff) — A five-year-old East Angus child was killed and his sister wounded when a 12-gauge shotgun, being shown by a brother, accidentally discharged Saturday evening, Cookshire QPP said today.

Marc Dupin, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Dupin of Aubin Street, East Angus, died in ambulance en route to Hotel Dieu Hospital, Sherbrooke.

His sister, Lucie, 13, is in satisfactory condition at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Sherbrooke, hospital sources reported today.

The brother was showing how the shotgun worked when the accident happened. It took place at the family's home when the parents were absent, police said.

Struelens continues at U of S post here

Michael Struelens, recently appointed to the post of Minister for Foreign Relations for Moise Tshombe's Congo government, will continue living in Sherbrooke to direct the International Institute for African Studies, at the University of Sherbrooke, it was announced Friday in a press communique from Marcel Therien, secretary-general of the Institute.

Six governments have officially recognized the Institute, said Mr. Therien, authorizing their ambassadors, ministers for external affairs, or other important persons, to take part in supporting his committee.

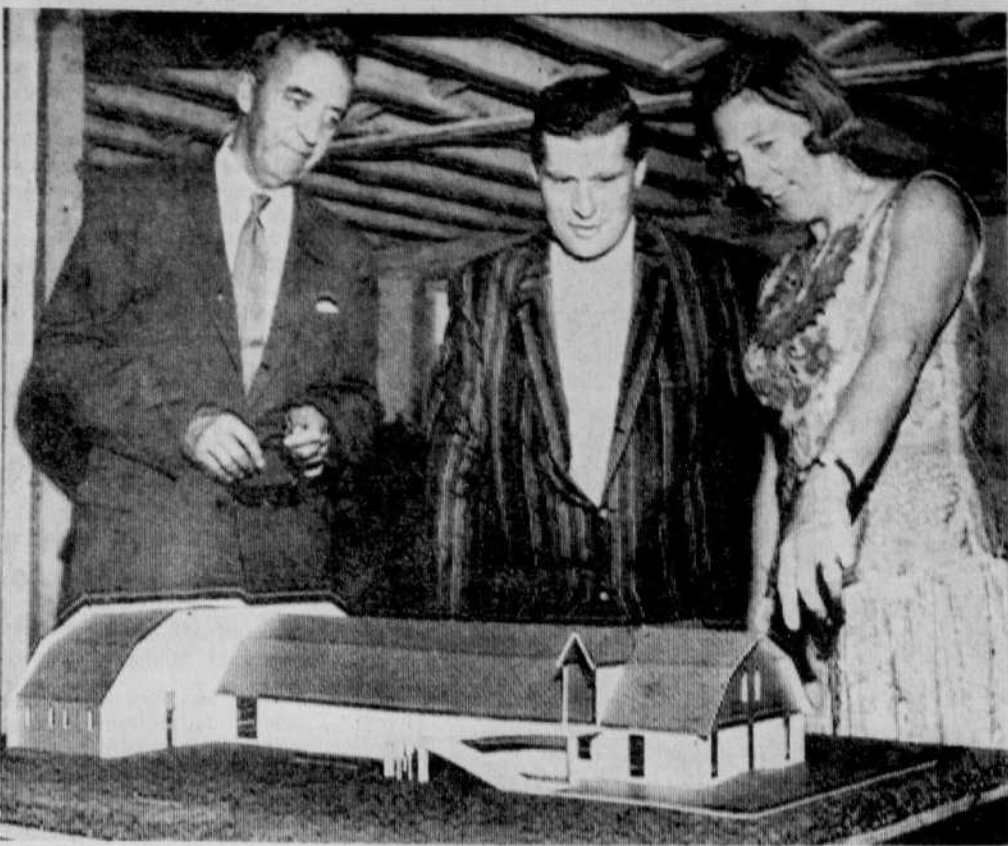

Mr. Therien stated in his communique that Mr. Struelens met with several members of IAS administration to plan the programs of studies for the next school year. In the coming week, it was added, Mr. Struelens will hold a series of meetings with colleagues in Sherbrooke and Montreal.

After these meetings, the communique said, he leaves for a lecture tour in Canada and the U.S., where several groups have invited him to speak on the Institute for African Studies, and on the role it expects to play in social, economic, and cultural relations with the African people.

The University of Sherbrooke has been called on to direct the movement which has attracted world-wide attention, said the press release.

The University made headlines all over the world when it was reported and widely commented on, that the Director of the International Institute for African Studies was appointed Minister for External Relations for the Prime Minister of the Congo.

Mr. Struelens has been living in Sherbrooke with his family for a year, directing the Institute for African Studies. He was appointed special advisor for the Congo for relations with the U.S. and Canada.

Guild accepts deed to playhouse

NORTH HATLEY — (Staff) — The deed to a former piggy to be used as a theatre by the Townships Playhouse Guild was officially turned over to the guild yesterday at a reception in the building here. At the same time, the architect presented a model of the finished playhouse.

A name for the playhouse has not been decided upon as yet. According to Mrs. John York, Director of Public Relations, the theatre is expected to commence its first full season of dramatic performances next summer. Later on, if possible, the Playhouse Guild would like to hold a workshop, in addition to which they would establish a scholarship fund.

The Townships Playhouse Guild is a non-profit organization, dependent upon the community for support. Any profits will be used to further the work of the Guild, added Mrs. York. A press release from the Virgin's piggy is completed, there will be, in addition to the theatre proper, a combined lounge and bar. Inclusion of a bar, however, will be pending until permission is received from the provincial authorities.

The architect chosen by the Townships Playhouse Guild is Patrick McG. Stoker, of Montreal. To accommodate theatre goers, he said, there are four acres of land that came with the building and it could be used for parking space.

When the renovation of Mr. Virgin's piggy is completed, the building as it stands now is 36 feet wide, and 120 feet long. This includes the auditorium itself, which is 75 feet long.

The stage itself is 24 feet wide, 12 feet high, and 16 feet deep, said Mr. Stoker. There will also be a two-foot fore stage.

As far as lighting is concerned, he said, there will be foot lights installed, but the rest will be left to the discretion of the players themselves.

Mr. Stoker's model of the proposed theatre included two dressing rooms, but two more are to be added, he said. The first fifteen rows of the auditorium will have sixteen seats each. The last three of four rows will have slightly less. The fifteenth row is 60 feet from the stage, the optimum distance for voice projection. According to Mr. Stoker, it is still too early to decide whether it will be necessary to install special devices for acoustics.

At this present time, said Mrs. York, a decision has not been reached concerning the theatrical group which will put on the Guild's performance. Nor has any definite policy been outlined regarding the type of plays which will be produced.

Mrs. York said that the choice of material would be left to the discretion of the director, but careful consideration would be given to the choice of director for the theatre.

At the moment no agreement has been made with any theatrical group in particular, but according to Mrs. York, several companies have already shown interest.

When completed, the playhouse will be one of the few English-language theatres in the Survey conducted for boundary autoroute

CASSVILLE — (Special) — Traffic travelling North and South at Cassville on the Sherbrooke Stanstead highway was stopped on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, as a 16-hour-a-day survey was conducted for the Quebec Autoroutes Authority to determine the weekend traffic trends.

Another mid-week traffic survey will be made starting tomorrow to determine the amount of traffic on the highway.

This is known as "origin and destination" survey and is in three phases. First selection of the location, then survey, then coding and computing of the information.

This information helps the authorities to decide if there is a need for an autoroute in the locality, and the number of entrances and exits required.

The survey is under the direction of J. Guay, an engineer from a Montreal firm. He is being assisted by university and college students (several from these communities) who are bilingual.

From this information the firm learns if traffic is local or long distance. Mr. Guay says a count survey, does not give the required information.

This stretch of autoroute will be from the border, at a point not yet decided upon, east of Ayer's Cliff to some point near Magog.

As this survey was being conducted similar ones were being made at a point near Highwater, east of Lake Memphremagog, and on Route 50 between Ayer's Cliff and Magog.

The main reason for the autoroute survey is to determine which route long distance travellers are using to Montreal.

It is planned the autoroute will be completed in time for the World's Fair in 1967.

Midway at fair provides fun in traditional ways

If you like a traditional fair midway — and you will be among tens of thousands of Sherbrooke — area youngsters and youngsters-in-emotion who do — then you may well enjoy the Conklin midway at the Sherbrooke Fair, a variety of perennially-popular concessions.

Paddy Conklin's potpourri of concessions this year do not depart from popular fair tradition. Although a few rides are different from those of previous years, the midway is basically unchanged.

You may sample, for example, the eateries, which again offer the standard fare of light goodies prepared in the open air.

You may enjoy the conventional games of chance. The games, you may observe with nostalgia, are exactly the same as in previous years. So are your chances, lovers of fair tradition will find.

You will undoubtedly partake of the rides. Although some are "new" in the sense of being newly-built, and although all have modern names which connote exotic differences (such as "Rocco Plane", "Tilt-a-Whirl", "Scrambler"), you will find that none vary to any significant degree from rides presented in previous years, or for that matter from each other.

All involve the age-old thrill of motion, usually fast, in a determined path.

There are the always-popular side-shows. As normal, some boast of animal oddities, human and otherwise, to which you may be attracted by the conventional (indeed, weather-beaten with age) signery declaring that all have been brought for your inspection from far-off sources, and are all "baffling to science" — a claim which has the traditional effect upon the non-scientist.

Or you may like the kiosks of peddlars, appearing in Sherbrooke for the first time since Festival d'Ete. Fair kiosks, which impede no traffic, offer sure-fire sellers from toys to metal crosses — a wide range of loudly colorful, glittering shiny popular material with an appeal compensating for a lack of apparent usefulness.

You may be a devotee of traditional fair come-ons, and these above all will you find in abundance at the midway now present. They include recorded sounds simulating the "thrills" or appropriate reactions to them, in the case of the almost-unthrillingly traditional "house of thrills."

You may like the ever-recurring "daredevil thrill show", consisting of the little monkey (who has now grown old, the veteran fair-goer will see with tears in his eyes) being sped about while strapped into a motorized vehicle. The monkey appears genuinely "thrilled", even terrified, traditionally.

You will see the old Penny Arcade, with name now changed because little is still available for a penny.

School opening and road dangers

Within the next few days schools throughout the Eastern Townships, like those in other parts of Canada and the United States, will reopen their doors for another term.

This is the time of year dreaded by parents and motorists alike. Suddenly the streets and highways become filled up with children making their way to the classrooms — some for the first time.

A few weeks hence the boys and girls will have become used to sharing the highways with motorists, but at first, the excitement of the occasion and the carelessness engendered through a summer's leisure tend to make them less cautious than they ought to be.

Used to running at will on side streets and byways, they will forget the perils of the main streets and heavily-travelled roads.

Thoughtful motorists, realizing the dangers to thoughtless children, especially those making their initial journeys to their classes, will display a little extra care for these junior pedestrians.

No college really teaches everything that graduates try to make their friends think they know.

Haydn S. Pearson's COUNTRY FLAVOR

Store porch was community forum

There was a time half a century ago when many men walked to the General Store in late afternoon, half an hour before the train was due from the city with the mail and evening papers. If a man opened the door to a general store, he knew he could whiff a pungent, heady and altogether satisfying fragrance compounded of cheese and molasses, tarred rope and fertilizer, over-ripe bananas and common crackers, tobacco, buckets of penny candies, vinegar and rubber boots, heaps of overalls and heavy leather work shoes.

He knew that on the wide front porch of the store there was a line of beat-up, decrepit but comfortable wicker chairs, a few upended nail kegs, and one or more boxes that gee-hawed at precarious angles. Half a century ago the store porch was the public club of the village in warm weather. Any and all citizens were welcome to sit there and relax while the forum got underway.

Before the modern, speeded-up era of radios and television, black roads and mechanical ice boxes, men not only took time to ponder and discuss national, provincial and local problems; they were also willing to take a position on any question. Today fence straddling has become one of the higher arts, and attempting to find a definite statement in a politician's speech is more hopeless than finding the needle in the well-known haystack.

We feel that there is an outstanding opportunity for a nation-wide chain of village and town stores that will feature porches and wicker chairs. It requires time and relaxation to settle national and local affairs and to discuss the grammar school teacher's heretical attitude toward spelling and handwriting. If all men could sit down for a spell each day in warm weather and join a forum on a store porch, we believe many of the pressing contemporary itches would be satisfactorily scratched and the general welfare of society greatly improved.

Husbands like to watch the girls go by but not the wife go by.

Other papers say:

The Johnson's conflict of interest

The Canadian Government has invited thousands of Chinese now in the country to emerge from the dark anonymity of hiding and walk with dignity in our land.

These are some of the 6,000 to 9,000 — nobody knows with certainty — who entered the country illegally in the post-war years. Three years ago, the apparatus which was bringing these men and women into Canada was detected and broken.

Since that time, about 3,000 have come forward and taken advantage of an amnesty pledged by Ottawa.

Toronto Telegram

The Government cannot be accused of impatience if it now gives notice, as it has, that the remaining numbers who gained entry fraudulently, come forward before the first of September and join the others who have become landed immigrants. The deadline, apparently, is not inflexible. This is reasonable. The alien naturally fears he will be deported if he acknowledges his illegal status. He is afraid of putting relatives and friends on the spot as suspected agents. But there is no other way of handling the situation.

But it cannot go on indefinitely calling for co-operation. At some point a limit must be defined and all who have not come forward will be assumed to have no compassionate reasons for being allowed to stay in Canada.

It is regrettable that this problem touches the Canadian Chinese community which, on the whole, is upstanding and law-abiding. This is why the problem must be solved quickly. It can be if all who want to see it out of the way will assist and co-operate.

In ancient Samarkand

Lenin and cosmonauts don't jibe

SAMARKAND (CP) — Lenin and the cosmonauts have a tough time competing for attention in this ancient city with a name that conjures up visions of Arabian knights and oriental bazaars.

Statues and portraits of the father of revolutionary Russia are duly spotted here and there as in any Soviet city, and helmeted Gagarins and Tityovs contemplate the heavens from a score of public billboards.

But somehow they seem out of place in Samarkand, second city of the Soviet republic of Uzbekistan. For Samarkand still belongs in spirit to Tamerlane, who made it the capital of a mighty Asiatic empire in the 14th and early 15th centuries.

The mayor, Rakhmat Julmatov, likes to dwell on modern statistics—Samarkand has 250,000 people; this year it's building 15,000 new apartments; it has 57 industries including one making tractors, another making cinema equipment and a third turning out super-phosphates for agriculture; and it has in recent years become an important scientific research centre.

STRESS THE PAST

But when it comes time for sightseeing, chances are the English-speaking guide will concentrate on the antiquities, especially those relating to Tamerlane, who was born not far away and who lies buried here.

Another place where the past seems to overshadow the present is Bukhara, 150 miles west from tourism is earmarked for restoration of old buildings and monuments. But this program appears casual and perfunctory, at best. Many of the old monuments and religious shrines are simply falling into ruin.

Economically, Bukhara has become important as the centre of a large natural gas industry. Reserves in nearby fields are said to be astronomical. A pipeline is being built to carry gas 1,500 miles north to the Ural industrial region.

Samarkand, apart from its antiquities, is best known as the home of the U.S.S.R. Caracul Breeding Research Institute. Caraculs are small lambs, usually black but sometimes grey or brown, raised in the Asiatic drylands principally for their fur.

Caracul culture is the only activity now possible in most of arid Uzbekistan. There are 200 co-operative and 50 state farms in the republic engaged in raising them. The institute itself has under its control farms with a caracul population of 500,000 and out of the total of 13,000,000 in all of Uzbekistan.

FEW TOURISTS

An industry that has been sadly neglected here, and in Uzbekistan generally, is tourism. Last year 830 tourists visited Samarkand; this year it's hoped 1,500 will come.

To help develop the tourist industry, says Mayor Julmatov, Moscow is providing 1,000,000 rubles for a new 310-room hotel. Fifty per cent of the income from tourism is earmarked for restoration of old buildings and monuments. But this program appears casual and perfunctory, at best. Many of the old monuments and religious shrines are simply falling into ruin.

From the man at the helm

Strong action at home, abroad Pres. Johnson's indicated plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Following are the views of President Johnson on a variety of issues, as expressed in speeches, magazine articles, press conferences and other public remarks and messages:

FOREIGN POLICY

In a speech Oct. 23, 1952, in Houston, Tex., Johnson said:

"If anywhere in the world—by any means, open or concealed—communism trespasses upon the soil of the free world, we should unleash all the power at our command upon the vitals of the Soviet Union."

In an article in the Texas Quarterly, winter, 1958, Johnson wrote:

"An international stalemate with communism would, I believe, be the greatest waste of American resources and the resources of freedom, even though stalemate produced no war. A vital government cannot accept stalemate in any area—foreign or domestic. It must seek the national interest solution, vigorously and courageously and confidently."

In his first speech before a joint session of Congress as president, Nov. 27, 1963, Johnson said:

"In this age when there can be no losers in peace and no victors in war, we must recognize the obligation to match national strength with national restraint. We must be prepared at one and the same time for both the confrontation of power and the limitation of power. We must be ready to defend the national interest and to negotiate the common interest. This is the path that we shall continue to pursue."

In a television interview March 15, 1964, he said:

"... As long as we are living in a world with 120 nations... we have got to realize that we have got 120 foreign policies."

"I realize that we have discouraging incidents from time to time, and we have problems, and because we try to help with those problems, sometimes the role of the peacemaker is not a very happy one. And so, for that reason, we have to do things that we don't want to do sometimes, and are rather irritating—and sometimes we are abused because we do them, and sometimes we are misunderstood. But if the final result is good, then our action is justified."

"But there are going to be these demands from time to time—people who feel that all we need to do is push a button and determine everybody's foreign policy. But we are not living in that kind of world anymore."

CUBA

On April 20, 1964, speaking to the annual meeting of The Associated Press in New York, he said:

"The use of Cuba as a base for subversion and terror is an obstacle to our hopes for the hemisphere. Our first task must be, as it has been, to isolate Cuba from the inter-American system, frustrate its efforts to destroy free governments, and expose for all to see the ugliness of communism. That policy is working."

"The problems of this hemisphere would be far more serious if Castro sat in the councils of the OAS, (Organization of American States) disrupting debate and blocking decision—if he had open channels of trade and communications along which subversion and terror could flow—if his economy had been a successful model rather than a dismal warning.

"The effectiveness of our policy is more than a matter of trade statistics. It has increased awareness of difference and danger, revealed the brutal nature of the Cuban regime, lessened opportunities for subversion, reduced the number of Castro's followers, and drained the resources of our adversaries."

AGRICULTURE

In a message to Congress on agriculture, Jan. 31, 1964, Johnson said:

"The agricultural commodity programs developed during the past 30 years have served us well. They now are an indispensable bulwark of our agricultural economy. Without them, our food supply would be much less secure than it is today."

"But they are in need of improvement. New conditions arising from the technological revolution in agriculture present a special challenge—a challenge based upon the problems of abundance rather than scarcity."

CIVIL RIGHTS

On March 9, 1949, speaking of a proposal by President Truman for a civil rights law, Senator Johnson told the Senate:

"This civil rights question brings into play all those strong and evil forces of racial prejudice. Perhaps no prejudice is so contagious or so dangerous as the unreasoning prejudice against men because of their birth, the color of their skin, or their ancestral background. Racial prejudice is dangerous because it is a disease of the majority, endangering minority groups."

"When we of the south arise here to speak against... the civil rights proposals, we are not speaking against the Negro race. We are not attempting to keep alive the old flames of hatred and bigotry. We are, instead, trying to prevent those flames from being rekindled. We are trying to tell the rest of the nation that this is not the way to accomplish what so many want to do for the Negro."

In a speech at San Angelo, Tex., Dec. 12, 1958, Johnson said he was opposed to forced integration, but he added:

"We're a little late in our section in recognizing that all men are created equal. I wish the hotbeds on both sides would give us a chance to evolve a solution to this problem."

In explaining his vote for the 1957 Civil Rights Bill, Johnson said, "I voted for the Civil Rights Bill because I think everyone ought to have the right to vote, whether he's white or brown or black."

On Nov. 27, 1963, in his first speech as president to a joint session of Congress, Johnson said:

"... No memorial oration or eulogy could more eloquently honor President Kennedy's memory than the earliest possible passage of the Civil Rights Bill for which he fought so long. We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights. We have talked for 100 years or more. It is time now to write the next chapter, and to write it in the books of law."

DEFENCE

In a Senate speech Jan. 23, 1958, Johnson said:

"There can be no adequate defence for the United States except in a reservoir of trained and educated minds."

"Even more important, however, is the fact that there can be no security for the United States or any other country in weapons. The most accurate and destructive missile yet conceived can bring us nothing but a stalemate."

"We prefer a stalemate to defeat and slavery. Let there be no mistake about that."

In a speech April 20, 1964, to the annual meeting of The Associated Press in New York, he said:

"... Since Korea we have labored to build a military strength of unmatched might. We have succeeded. If the threat of war has lessened, it is largely because our opponents realize a attack would bring destruction. This effort has been costly. But the costs of weakness are far greater than the costs of strength, and the payment was far more painful. That is why, in the last three years, your government has strengthened the whole range of America's defenses—increasing defence spending by $17,000,000,000."

DISARMAMENT

In a speech June 8, 1957, to the annual conference of the United Jewish Appeal in New York, Johnson said:

"The intercontinental ballistic missile with a hydrogen warhead is just over the horizon. It is no longer just the disorderly dream of some science-fiction writer."

"We must assume that our country will have no monopoly on this weapon. The Soviets have not matched our achievement in democracy and prosperity; but they have kept pace with us in building the tools of destruction."

"With such weapons in a divided world, there will be little choice..."

"We must initiate action on five objectives, each contributing to our crusade for disarmament:

"1. Controlled reduction of military forces by all countries.

"2. A start on a mutual 'open skies' foolproof inspection system."

"3. A frank and open search for a method of suspending tests of the biggest nuclear weapons, under airtight conditions which give full protection against violations."

"4. A reduction of everyone's stockpile of nuclear weapons and means for delivery under copper-riveted methods of mutual inspection."

"5. And this is the key to ultimate hope: a worldwide agreement—backed by absolute safeguards—that no nation will make any new fissionable materials for weapons purposes—neither the three present nuclear powers nor those who may soon have the capacity."

On Jan. 21, 1964, Johnson commented over nation-wide television on the disarmament conference in Geneva:

"Agreement on the control

TEN YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Tuesday, August 31, 1954)

Directors of the Sherbrooke Fair who were on hand for the official opening were, W. G. McDougall, Sen. C. B. Howard, Hon. J. S. Bourque, Dr. L. A. Gendreau, Mayor Emile Levesque, Maurice Ginges, Colin Campbell, Wesley Nicol, C. B. Howard, D. J. MacMillan, R. Ste-Marie, D. G. Ross, Hugh McClary, R. A. Webster.

and reduction and the ultimate abolition of weapons and war is not impossible as it seemed for so many years. We now have a limited nuclear test ban treaty. We now have an emergency communication link, a hot line between Washington and Moscow. We now have an agreement in the United Nations to keep bombs out of outer space.

"These are all small steps, but they go in the right direction, the direction of security and sanity and peace. Now we must go further."

FOREIGN AID

In a luncheon speech at Tyler, Tex., Aug. 21, 1953, Johnson said unless the situation changes and "some nations put their houses in order, I have voted for my last foreign aid bill."

In a Senate speech, June 29, 1956, as Senate majority leader, Johnson said:

"There is no blinking the fact, Mr. President, that the American people are not convinced that today's program serves American national interest. The American people are doubtful that interest is any longer served by continued economic assistance to many nations and peoples far from our shores."

In his message to Congress on foreign aid March 18, 1964, President Johnson said:

"To those nations which do commit themselves to progress, under freedom, help from us and from others can provide the margin of difference between failures and success."

"We will be laying up a harvest of woe for us and our children if we shrink from the task of grappling in the world community with poverty and ignorance."

NATO

On April 6, 1961, Vice-president Johnson spoke in Paris on the 10th anniversary of the establishment of NATO headquarters. He said:

"No single nation has enough influence and power to maintain this spacious environment of freedom. The coalition of the peoples and nations of Western Europe and North America is indispensable to this end. Without their power—the resultant of population, resources, technology, and will—it cannot be preserved."

On April 4, 1964, in response to a press conference question whether the actions of General de Gaulle were splitting the Western alliance, Johnson said: "No I do not believe that the Western alliance is being split. I think we have differences in the alliance from time to time between countries and between spokesmen and leaders of those countries, just as we have differences among ourselves from time to time."

At Geneva

Canadian reactors on sale today

UNITED NATIONS — (TNS) — It is doubtful that there has ever been a scientific conference of such importance to the economic future of Canada as the UN's third Atoms For Peace Conference which meets in Geneva's Palais Des Nations today.

At stake is Canada's reputation as a leader in the field of commercial nuclear reactors and the various nuclear products which have become an important element in the Canadian export picture. And the maintenance of this reputation will determine whether or not Canada will win millions — or even billions — of dollars in export orders in the future.

Seventy-one countries, many of them potential customers, will be participating in the seven-day conference. Underlining the importance of the conference to Ottawa is the high powered Canadian delegation which is headed by Dr. W. B. Lewis, senior vice-president of the crown corporation, Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd.

Canada has submitted 26 scientific papers which will be read at the conference, most of them concerning the Canadian low-cost, heavy water reactor known as the CANDU reactor.

In addition to the five official Canadian delegates, there will be 50 Canadian "technical advisers" to talk up Canada's potency in the nuclear field. These advisers are from AECL: Eldorado Mining and Refining Ltd.; Atomic Energy Control Board; Department of Mines and Technical Surveys; Department of External Affairs; Ontario Hydro; McMaster University, and various private firms (there are 60 firms in Canada dealing in nuclear products).

The Canadian exhibit alone will occupy 3,000 feet of space and will include models of the CANDU reactor; a six-ton cancer therapy unit (which Canada has exported to 39 countries); a reference library displaying 1,200 AECL scientific publications, three films on Canada's nuclear program; and displays by Canadian General Electric Company Ltd., Canadian Westinghouse Ltd., Denison Mines and Hawker Siddeley Canada Ltd.

Until this year, it was generally recognized that Canada was the leader in the field of low-cost nuclear reactors. But the roof seemed to fall in this summer when it was announced that the U.S. would soon be able to boast of a nuclear power plant at Oyster Creek, New Jersey, which will have many of the low cost virtues of the CANDU reactor. The Oyster Creek project prompted President Johnson to proudly announce that a "breakthrough" had been achieved and that the long awaited day of low-cost nuclear power was finally at hand.

Canadian scientists are still optimistic that the CANDU reactor will be a big hit at Geneva because it utilizes cheaper and more accessible U238 rather than the more expensive U235 of the Oyster Creek reactor.

In an interview this week Dr. Lewis admitted that the construction costs of the Oyster Creek project were lower than the present construction costs of the CANDU reactor. However, he added that the CANDU reactor's construction costs are likely to fall sharply as Canada builds more of this type reactor (only four have been built so far in contrast with the more than a dozen commercial reactors built by the Americans). And Dr. Lewis stressed the advantage of a U-238 heavy water reactor over a light-water reactor that uses the expensive U235.

Canada has already signed an agreement with India to provide that country with a CANDU reactor. Negotiations are progressing for a similar reactor to be set up in Pakistan.

It's no secret that each reactor-producing country will be out to prove at Geneva that its reactors are the best. So far, the CANDU heavy-water reactor and the U.S. light-water reactor are the leading contenders on the nuclear popularity poll.

Whether or not other contracts drop in Canadian laps will depend an awful lot on what goes at Geneva. Whatever happens, the scope of the Canadian participation in the conference shows that Ottawa is not sitting this one out.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Aug. 31, 1964 . . .

Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel launched his last African offensive against Allied forces during the Second World War 22 years ago today—in 1942—when although hampered by an overstretched supply line from the west he attempted to crush the surging strength of the Eighth Army. The "Desert Fox" as he was called by the Allies, was highly regarded for his tactical skill in war. Rommel became increasingly disillusioned with the Hitler regime and his opposition to the Nazi leader caused his own death in 1944.

1955—The Church of England in Canada changed its name to the Anglican Church of Canada.

1957—The Federation of Malaya entered the British Commonwealth.

P.E.I. centennial meeting staged

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — Prince Edward Islanders approach the climax of their summer-long centennial celebrations today. Months of festivities reach a peak Tuesday with re-enactment of the 1864 Confederation conference here that set the stage for Canadian union, 100 years ago to the day.

Prime Minister Pearson and all 10 provincial premiers were due here this afternoon for the event. For them it won't be entirely a holiday. They plan to sandwich in a federal-provincial conference on how to amend the Canadian constitution without having to ask the British Parliament to do it.

An air of festive expectancy built up during the weekend. Downtown streets were decked with colored lights and flags. Hotels and motels were jammed, restaurants were busy.

Aviation school opens

GRANBY — (Special) — Maurice Seguin, interested in flying for some years and an active member of the Air Club of Granby, has announced that a series of instructions will be given, not only to active members but to aviation amateurs of Granby and neighboring region.

All those who are interested in this course will contact any member of this club or Mr. Seguin, Leonard Brault, Roger Roy, Renal Picard or Gaston Breton.

The series will begin today. This Air Club has been assured of the services of the Sky-High Aviation School of St. Jerome. Chief instructor is Marcel Ste-Marie who will be in Granby for some time to complete the three month course.

Mr. Seguin said that a minimum of 35 hours of actual flying is required before anyone is allowed to obtain his private pilot's license which is issued by the Federal Ministry of Transportation.

It is hoped that all those who are interested in flying, around Granby or its region will take advantage of this opportunity.

Friendly but without agreement

Leaders meet on flag issue deadlock

OTTAWA (CP) — With the Commons troops showing no other than the flag, providing the House sits an additional seven hours a week to make up for lost flag time. Another condition is that the debate must be completed by the end of September.

It would be their second attempt in four days. A Friday meeting, like the three earlier ones of party leaders, was described as friendly, but without agreement.

Under discussion by the House leaders is a government suggestion that the Commons troops showing no other than the flag, providing the House sits an additional seven hours a week to make up for lost flag time. Another condition is that the debate must be completed by the end of September.

The Conservatives have so far contributed 88 speeches in their defence of Red Ensign and the retention of historic symbols. The Liberals have spoken 29 times, and all but one speech was in defence of the proposed maple-leaf flag. The three smaller parties have a combined total of 18 speeches.

As the leaders try to negotiate an end to the prolonged battle, backbenchers from both the Liberal and Conservative parties are also involved in unofficial chats about possible compromises. Some Liberals are known to be willing to make compromises on the government's proposed design, and there are Conservative backbenchers who would settle for the inclusion of only a small portion of the historic symbols. A cross or bar from the Union Jack would be sufficient in many cases.

Unless the House leaders agree on a new schedule, this week's parliamentary session will be the same as the last two — four days devoted to the flag, and Friday taken up with the consideration of departmental estimates.

For and about Women

Paris fashion collections based on philosophy

PARIS (Reuters)—Paris collections are fundamentally different from those of the past, she had passed at least her first quarter of a century. Paris dress designers have belonged to a fashion minority group.

This season, however, French designers have evoked a neo-classic approach, in the tradition of the pre-war era in Paris when clothes were created for elegant private clients, rather than becoming fads and fancies for the sake of something new.

Once again, the total effect of the new Paris fashion collections is based on philosophy that a mature and beautifully-groomed woman, wearing timeless fashions, is more attractive than the girl who puts all the accent on youth.

Until the 1930s, no French woman was considered capable of being truly fashionable until she had passed at least her first quarter of a century.

Today, an understated silhouette treated with restraint and simplicity is back in the limelight. All the Beatnik, "yeh-yeh," and sports fashions are strictly for teen-agers, or destined for their proper setting in the country and at winter sports resorts.

The lady may deign to don trousers for sports or casual wear, but basically she is feminine.

The feminine aspects of fashion are more pronounced this season than at any period since the late Christian Dior launched his famous New Look in 1947.

After more than a decade of sack and chemise-inspired silhouettes, clothes have revived a fit and a flare. They do not cling closely to the body, but have a definite curve.

There are real waistlines and fitted bodices, combined with wider swinging skirts cut with pleats, godets, side-wraps, tiers, tunics, or hemline interest.

Clothes make no attempt to camouflage a woman's natural assets, although "toplessness" and strip-tease décolletés were completely ignored in the main Paris collections.

NECKLINES RISE

The new mood is sedate and serene. It tends to conceal rather than to reveal, based on the assumption that no woman need bare her bosom to prove the difference between the sexes.

Indeed, most trend-setting designers go to the opposite extreme, with necklines rising high, even on gala ball gowns. Formal fashions, with necklines cut up to the collar bones and sleeves reaching to the wrist, are Paris' answer to the vulgarity of toplessness.

New silhouettes climax the trend towards soft smooth finish and supple fabrics, worked with intricate seaming to achieve the body line.

Clothes, including coats, fit by means of cut rather than any studied architectural construction with padding and interlining. Shoulders are rounded and natural, playing up long tight sleeves and high uncluttered necklines.

Hats and hair styles are the real focal point of the over-all new look. They emphasize the small, neat head, inflated bouffant coiffures and loose, unkempt locks are out-dated by sleek cropped bobs and cap and helmet styles in millinery.

Paris ladies finally get glimpse of fall fashions

PARIS—(AP)—The ladies who couldn't get a glimpse of the famed fall and winter fashion collections over here finally got a look at them Sunday.

Photographs, strictly embargoed against fashion scouting, were released for press use about a month after fashion writers and buyers saw the real thing paraded by mannequins in the haute couture houses of this fashion capital.

In addition, the delay in photo publication gives foreign dressmakers who have bought designs an opportunity to get them into production.

The freshest wearable look seemed to be Dior's peasant skirt silhouette, called the "new new look" by some. Dior's skirts are full and swinging on many of the models, with long and loose jackets or small and fitted basques.

SKIRT-LENGTH PANTS

Heim displayed pants which were skirt-length and tubelike, showing from under shirt tunics or coats.

Cardin's offerings included straight jackets and hip-belts threaded through loosely. At both Cardin and Chanel, there were slim coats, wrapped and belted. They had wide reverse flapping open to the waistline.

Fur trim seemed to be popular everywhere — mink and sable collars, cuffs and hems. Black was seen widely in the fall and winter styles. Otherwise, there were quiet smoky shades of grey and brown, particularly at Saint-Laurent.

Today's recipe

RAISED PEARS WITH CHOCOLATE SAUCE
1 x 15 oz. can of pear halves
About 6 oz. sponge cake (stale would do) or 4 or 5 blocks of ice cream, 3 oz. dark or milk chocolate, 6 tablespoons water, 2 level teaspoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla essence, chopped walnuts if desired. Sherry or liqueur if desired.

Method:
1. Break sponge cake into pieces and place in serving dish, or in individual dishes. Pour over the syrup from the can of pears. If desired, replace some of the syrup with sherry or liqueur for a delicious 'trifle' flavour. If ice cream is used, keep it cold until chocolate sauce has been made. 2. For the sauce, break chocolate into pieces and place in saucepan with water. Heat very slowly until chocolate melts. Mix cornstarch with 1 tablespoon cold water and stir in. Cook and stir until it thickens. Flavour with vanilla. 3. Place 1 pear half on each portion of trifle or block of ice cream. Pour sauce over and sprinkle with chopped nuts.

SLAM CONVENTION
IN JACOBY SYSTEM

The one revolutionary part of the Jacoby method of asking for aces is the use of five clubs directly over any three no-trump bid by partner as the demand for aces. It is revolutionary in that up to now the only bids used as ace demands have been four no-trump and four clubs.

It is not much of a revolution since the bid won't come up often but it makes possible the use of both four clubs and four no-trump as natural bids in this situation. It also loses nothing since the presumption is that you will be able to stop at five no-trump if two aces are missing.

The responses to five clubs are: five diamonds—no aces or four aces; five hearts—one ace; five spades—two aces; and five no-trump—three aces.

Today's hand does not represent any triumph for this method of asking for aces. As long as you have some way to shower in Sutton

SUTTON — Miss Catherine Carr, an October bride-to-be, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. P. Smith on Aug. 21.

The bride-elect, arriving with her mother, Mrs. C. Carr, was presented with a corsage and escorted to the bride's chair, over which was suspended a miniature watering can from which flowed a simulated shower of pink and white, the same colour scheme being used throughout the decorations.

Many gaily wrapped packages were opened and the lovely gifts displayed.

In the dining room, tiny dolls dressed as bride and attendants decorated the buffet, with candles high-lighting the colors. The cut work linen covered table was centered with a shower cake in the shape of a larger package, iced in white with pink roses. The cake was made by Mrs. H. Owens and decorated by Mrs. D. Fadden. Small rosebuds surrounding tall pink tapers in silver holders completed the arrangement.

Pourers were, the bride's mother, Mrs. C. Carr, and the groom's mother, Mrs. P. Davidson. Assisting in serving were Mrs. W. Holden and Mrs. L. Jordan.

Guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. G. Dyer; aunts, Mrs. H. Dyer, Mrs. W. Dyer, and Mrs. P. McGibbon; sister, Miss Anita Carr, and guests from Montreal, London, Ont., Foster and Sutton.

The centre, financed by provincial and federal governments of Canada, is still in the hands of the builders although some sections, including a theatre and art gallery have opened.

Social activities today for Mr. Pearson and the premiers included a reception on board the HMCS Cape Scott, a dinner at Prince of Wales College and a visit to Government House, home of P.E.I. Lieutenant-Governor W. J. MacDonald.

They also will join the crowds in watching a sunset ceremonial performed by local and visiting bands and military groups, a band concert fireworks and the lighting of ships in the harbor.

Tuesday the federal-provincial conference gets under way. This meeting will be held in the Confederation Chamber at the legislative building where the Fathers held their momentous session 100 years ago.

Re-enactment of the 1864 gathering will begin Tuesday afternoon with the arrival of the coast guard ship Ernest Laclaire, converted into a facsimile of the ferry Queen Victoria that brought the original Canadian delegates here from Quebec.

The ship left Quebec Saturday, a group of professional actors aboard playing the roles of the 1864 leaders. They will parade through the streets here with the federal and provincial leaders of today, then re-enact the Confederation meeting at the P.E.I. legislative building.

News flashes from around the world

TORONTO (CP)—A refusal by the Canada Council to provide a grant this year to the Crest Theatre of Toronto has caused the theatre to postpone its opening scheduled for Sept. 16, Murray Davis, artistic director for the Crest Foundation, said Sunday.

The council, asked for a $20,000 grant this year, refused to provide any money for the theatre. No reason was given.

The Crest Theatre is the only permanent theatre operating in Toronto outside of the touring houses. It has been operating for 10 years.

SAUCIER, Miss. (AP)—While his three younger sisters and a brother watched, 14-year-old David Thomas O'Neal shot and killed his father Sunday and the father refused to stop beating his mother for trying to take the family to church.

Jesse Thomas O'Neal, 38, was shot in the chest with an old-fashioned .45 - 70 Springfield rifle, sheriff's deputies said.

Deputy Sheriff L. W. Warfield testified at an inquest in Biloxi, about 18 miles south of Saucier, that he was told that when the elder O'Neal refused to stop beating the woman, the boy fired the rifle from the front porch of the family home.

Cuba. In a signed declaration, 27 of 32 English-speaking students said they feel Canadians "hold several misconceptions about Cuba."

Nine Quebec students in the group signed a separate but essentially the same declaration in French.

GENEVA (AP)—The United States has invited the nations of the world to join an American nuclear program aimed at converting vast quantities of sea water into fresh water for industrial and domestic use.

The invitation came Sunday in a filmed message from President Lyndon B. Johnson in connection with the third United Nations conference on the peaceful use of atomic energy opening in Geneva today.

The president said that money spent in harnessing atomic energy for peaceful uses is an investment in the future of all mankind.

LONDON (Reuters)—Police Sunday had details of an alleged confession by a man claiming he aided the prison escape of Charles Wilson, jailed for his part in the £2,500,000 ($7,500,000) great train robbery last year.

Wilson, believed by police to know the location of £2,000,000 in still missing loot from the mail train ambush, escaped from a maximum security prison in Birmingham three weeks ago.

KEALA LUMPUR (Reuters)—The Malaysian federation today celebrates its first anniversary amid strict security precautions and under the shadow of neighboring Indonesia's continued pledge to "crush" the young nation.

The 10,000,000 population Malaysian federation, linking Malaysia, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah (North Borneo) held informal celebrations during the day to mark the anniversary.

But security was the watchword as police patrolled the decorated streets of this capital in pairs. Heavy guards were placed on public buildings and road blocks were set up at some points.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman McAlpine, of Paris, Ont., visited their son, Robert, and Mrs. McAlpine, they also spent a few days vacationing at Island Pond.

Mrs. F. J. Glass will be at home to her friends on Tuesday, September 1, from 3-6 p.m. at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hewitt, 11 Vaudry Avenue, Lennoxville on the occasion of her 80th birthday.

Coaticook

The annual joint service commemorating the uniting of the Ayer's Cliff Way's Mills and Coaticook United Churches is to be held at the Ayer's Cliff United Church on Sept. 3.

Mr. Normand Masse, Mr. Robert Beerworth, and Mr. S. Beerworth were in Magog recently, the two young men returning to Montreal after a weekend at home here.

Mrs. Ovide Bissonnette was in Waterville to register Madeleine at the convent there where she will attend classes this coming term.

A large, illuminated sign has been erected at the new bus stop place at the corner of Child and Main Streets, where the former Unemployment Insurance Offices were, and the office, a loan company, is now open.

The Red Cross blood donor clinic, held at the Armory was very successful. The sponsors had hoped for 150 donors and 255 turned up for the one day clinic, this being 81 more than last year's total donations.

In the opinion of the engineer hired by the council to study the problem of the leaning retaining wall on Child Street, near the Belding plant, the situation has worsened over the past year, the wall leaning another four inches in that time.

The council is studying a proposal to modify the garbage collection regulations, in particular those dealing with pick up from commercial establishments. Many requests have been received from business places to have the collection truck enter their yards to load refuse, instead of placing containers at the street. The present rules do not consider this request and if the rule is changed there would have to be an increase in the garbage tax, at least to commercial places.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beerworth, who have returned from a New England seacoast vacation, were visiting relatives in town recently.

A regular meeting of the Coaticook Protestant School Commission was held on Aug. 17 at the High School. The usual painting of classrooms and lockers and repairs, where needed, have been carried out during the summer recess.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman McAlpine, of Paris, Ont., visited their son, Robert, and Mrs. McAlpine, they also spent a few days vacationing at Island Pond.

Good Day wins Canadian Juvenile Stake Sunday

Dr. R. Veilleux of Sherbrooke is congratulating Duncan MacTavish for winning the Canadian Juvenile Stake Sunday afternoon. Roger Trudeau, president of the Sherbrooke Race Track, is holding Good Day's bridle after presenting the special cooler donated by the local club.

Skowron belts homer, White Sox takes over

Moose Skowron's first homer in six weeks has put the cap on the 24-day period in which the three leading American League pennant contenders finished firing against each other and left unanswered only one small question: Who's going to win the American League pennant?

Skowron, who has a chance to play in his third consecutive World Series with as many teams, slammed a fifth-inning homer Sunday that broke up a scoreless battle and started Chicago White Sox on the way to a 3-0 victory over the first-place Baltimore Orioles.

That lifted Skowron's average to .308 since he was acquired from Washington Senators this season after pennant-winning years with New York Yankees in 1962 and Los Angeles Dodgers last year. It also lifted the White Sox within one-half game of the Orioles at the end of the contenders' round robin.

The Orioles, who started the 24-day stretch Aug. 7 in second place by four percentage points, compiled a 9-6 record against Chicago and New York during that period and took over the lead. The White Sox were 9-7 against the other two, moving up after being third, 1 1/2 out.

The biggest losers were the Yankees, who started the swing against Baltimore and Chicago in first place, lost 10 to 15 of the other leaders and fell to third, three games off the pace after walloping Boston Red Sox 9-3.

WON'T MEET AGAIN
Apart from a possible playoff, the three contenders won't meet again this season and none is offered any particular advantage by the remainder of the schedule. Baltimore has 31 games left, 16 at home. The Yankees play 17 of their 33 on the road and the White Sox have 14 at home and 14 away.

In other AL games Sunday, Tony Oliva's 28th homer brought Minnesota Twins a 5-4 victory over Washington, Ken McBride won his first game in 2 1/2 months as Los Angeles Angels edged Detroit Tigers 5-4 and Kansas City Athletics ended Cleveland's eight-game winning streak with a 9-3 victory before the Indians won the second game 6-5.

On Saturday the Orioles blanked the White Sox 5-0, Cleveland nipped the Athletics 4-3 in 11 innings, Minnesota outlasted Washington 4-1 in 10, the Angels nipped Detroit 3-2 and the Yankees slammed Boston 10-2 and 6-1.

Skowron smashed a 390-foot shot off Robin Roberts for his first homer since July 17 and that proved to be enough for the White Sox Sunday. Pete Ward of Montreal took care of the other runs, driving in one with a triple in the ninth inning and then scoring on a wild pitch. Joel Horlen nursed the 1-0 lead into the eighth inning, then departed for a pinch hitter.

Gary Peters, making his first relief appearance, took over in the eighth but left with two out and a man on second. Hoyt Wilhelm struck out Brooks Robinson to end the threat, then set the Orioles down quietly in the ninth.

Places fourth but cops second dash to win event, The Tempest and Adios Whitney take Mighty Dudley Pace

By LEN O'DONNELL

Good Day, teamed by Duncan MacTavish and owned by the Maplewood Stable of Montreal, walked off with the Sherbrooke section of the Canadian Juvenile Stake at the local track Sunday afternoon. In the opening dash Darryl M. Bee, the property of the Green River Stock Farm of Green River, copped the initial event in 2:05 2/5 but finished fifth in the second section.

In the first dash one of the favorites, Adios Watts with Gilles Lachance driving, set a merry pace going to the quarter in 30 3/5 seconds and the half in 1:00 4/5 for the best half of the season but faded on the second trip and finished third. Darryl M. Bee came from the outside to win the event.

Ernest Laporte's Sir Express Allie won the first division of the Mighty Dudley Pace Saturday evening when he led a field of ten starters under the wire in 2:10 1/5 after a tough battle. In the second half of the event the entry from the E.T. Stable of Richmond, The Tempest, pulled out the winner when Buster Hucksins drove the colt home in 2:11 3/5. Mrs. Albert Toutant's Sister's Adios, a top favorite, was set back to sixth for causing interference.

In the second dash Adios Watts broke at the three-quarter while Sokoloff's Rugged Pick broke at the wire and finished a poor seventh. They went to the quarter in 31 and the half in 1:02 3/5 to finish the mile in 2:07 1/5 with MacTavish teaming Good Day home, the winner.

The MacTavish entry finished fourth in the opening dash and by winning the second was awarded the special cooler for the occasion as the first winner finished fifth after breaking when he tried to make his bid for the honors. The drivers opened the whole way in both dashes and it was a wide open battle from wire-to-wire.

In the second half the MacTavish entry paid his backers the sum of $51.50, $10.10 and $3.60 across the board while in the first dash $26.70 was collected for a win bet on Darryl M. Bee.

The slowest time of the afternoon was registered in the Tenth when Arthur Giar's Jock Boy won in 2:13. All the other times were under the eleven-minute mark.

In the Ninth Mrs. Guerin's Mighty Counsel C pulled out the winner when he led the field home in 2:08 while in the Tenth dash on the card, Amedee Beaudoin's Lynn Ibañ nosed out Eddie Boy Jr. for the win. They were clocked in 2:07 4/5. It was a close fight with Lynn Ibañ holding on to his e, y lead to merge the winner in the dash.

Florent Brochu's Flare Wick was the winner of the opening half of the double while in the second Leclerc's Starlight Hal was the winner and $19.00 was collected. In the fourth the Quinella comprised Mosh-er's Vermillion and Prince Lou and $59.60 was picked up.

In the seventh it was Beaudoin's Lynn Ibañ and David MacArthur's Eddie Boy Jr. who formed the Quinella and $15.00 was shelled out. In the tenth it was Jock Boy and Lou Direct C and $109.10 was paid out for the winning combination.

On Saturday evening in the Mighty Dudley Pace Ernest Laporte's Sir Express Allie emerged the winner in the first dash while in the second half it was The Tempest, owned by the E.T. Stable of Richmond, who pulled out the winner. The top five horses in each section will meet Thursday evening in the final.

The double of Clear Sweep and Brochu's Jean Clap H paid their backers the sum of $41.50 while in the first Quinella $170.70 was picked up for the combination of Royal C. Way and Adios Peggy. Morin's Jarretown Dale and Tina Clap paid their backers $8.50 while in the tenth it was Pershing Lad and Hope's Star and $18.10 was collected.

Laurier St. Onge's Royal C. Way paid his backers the sum of $41.80, $21.10 and $6.60 across the board for the best payoff of the evening. The best time of the night was in the fifth when The Tempest came under the wire in 2:11 3/5 on the heavy track.

Woods take over as Giants and Jets win tilts

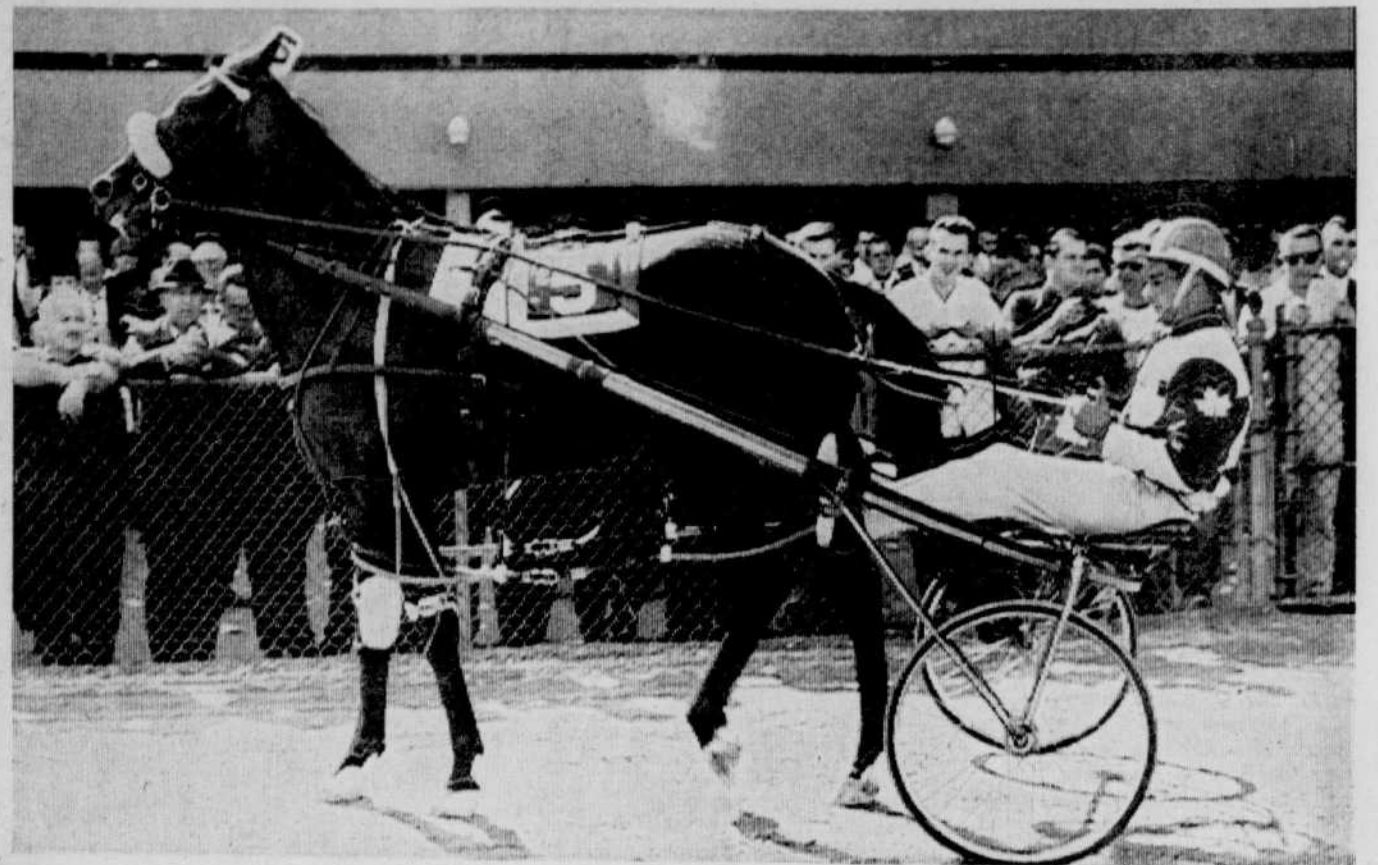

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's professional football teams aren't out of the Woods yet—and they won't be for some time if Giants' coach Alie Sherman and Jets' pilot Weeb Ewbank have their way.

The Woods, Gary of the Giants and Dick of the Jets, quarter-backed their clubs to impressive victories Saturday as the National and American Football Leagues moved through another weekend of exhibitions prior to mid-September season openers.

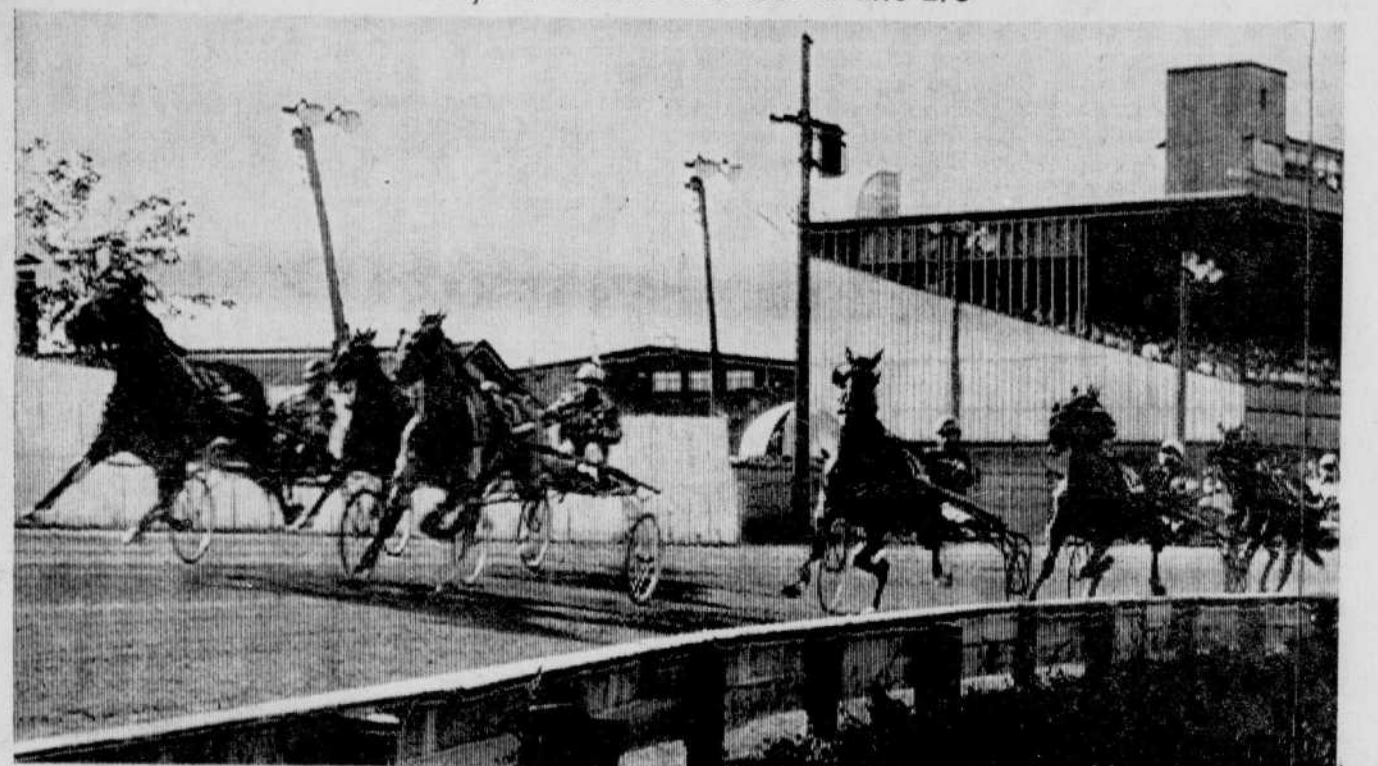

Gary Wood, filling in for hobbled Y. A. Tittle, threw three touchdown passes as the Giants trimmed Philadelphia Eagles 28-17 at Princeton, N.J., for their first NFL pre-season success in four starts. Dick Wood also fired three scoring strikes in the Jets' 34-6 rout of San Diego Chargers, the AFL champions, at Atlanta.

A Dallas crowd of 60,057—the largest since the Chicago all-star game early in the month—watched the Cowboys take a 35-20 beating from Green Bay Packers while Pittsburgh Steelers edged San Francisco 49ers 16-14 and the unbeaten Minnesota Vikings outscored Los Angeles Rams 34-23 in other NFL games. Oakland Raiders took a 34-20 AFL decision from Houston Oilers in the first pro-game ever played at Las Vegas.

Don Meredith, Dallas quarterback, has been lost for an indefinite period as the result of a knee injury in Saturday night's game.

Maritimes hoping for junior golf title this year at Charlottetown, Jack Bryant of Halifax key man

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—will be played Wednesday and Thursday and the 36-hole final Friday.

There was a hopeful and growing conviction today that for the first time in the history of the Canadian golf championships the Maritimes will come up with a winner.

This burgeoning confidence, in a Maritime setting that offers no particular advantages, stems from the golfing prowess of 18-year-old Jack Bryant of Halifax.

The tournament, opening Tuesday, is a double-barrelled affair. The interprovincial layout title will be at stake as well as the individual junior championship.

There seems no doubt that the bespectacled, husky young Bryant is the key man for the Maritimes and for Nova Scotia in particular.

He was a semi-finalist in 1962 and quarter-finalist last year, when he led his four-man team to second place behind British Columbia in the team competition.

Bryant had a casual practice round Sunday over the Belvedere club's 6,405-yard par 72 layout and finished with 73.

"Let's just say we think we have a chance and are hopeful," said the young Nova Scotia team captain. "Of the other teams, British Columbia looks tough."

MADE SENIOR TEAM
Bryant not only is the Nova Scotia junior champion but was good enough to make his province's team in Willingdon Cup play in connection with the recent Canadian amateur championship at Saskatoon.

Not all of the eight teams were on hand Sunday for unscheduled practice rounds. Quebec and Ontario were absentees.

Tuesday's 36 holes of medal play combine the interprovincial team championship and the qualifying round for the amateur proper.

Quebec won the first team title in 1959, then Ontario and British Columbia each won twice. British Columbia has supplied three individual junior champions and Ontario two since 1959. No previous championships are in the 1964 tournament.

Out of Tuesday's qualifying round, with 82 entries, only 32 will enter match play for the junior title. Two 18-hole rounds

WBA bans rematch between Clay and Liston

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The World Boxing Association threw up another blockade Saturday in a move to solidify its ban on the prospected Cassius Clay — Sonny Liston heavyweight championship bout.

Closing its 45th annual convention here, the WBA voted unanimously to declare the heavyweight title vacant and expel all principals involved immediately on announcement by the promoters of the date and site of the proposed rematch.

If this happens, retiring president Ed Lassman of Miami Beach, Fla., said, the WBA would recommend an elimination series of bouts among the top contenders to decide the new champion.

The WBA refused Friday to sanction the fight because of violation of the return bout clause. Inter-Continental Promotions announced it would stage the fight anyway, probably in November and at a site to be determined.

BOUT NOT WANTED
New York and California, two of the 13 states not members of the WBA, have announced they do not want the Clay-Liston bout.

The latest ratings for the heavyweight division were released Saturday and Liston was again not listed. Ernie Terrell of Chicago moved up as No. 1 challenger to Clay.

The other rankings: 2. Cleveland Williams, Houston Tex.; 3. Floyd Patterson, New York; 4. Doug Jones, New York; 5. Eddie Machen, Portland, Ore.; 6. Karl Mildenberger, West Germany; 7. Billy Daniels, New York; 8. Zora Folley, Chandler, Ariz.; 9. George Chuvalo, Toronto; 10. Henry Cooper, England.

Everton out to regain English soccer title, down Tottenham for third straight win, Chelsea wins

LONDON (Reuters) — Everton, winners of the English First Division soccer championship in 1962-63, are obviously going to make a strong bid to regain the title this season.

Having won their first two goals, they made it three victories without conceding a goal in a row Saturday, beating Tottenham Hotspur, title winners in 1962, 4-1.

Centre-forward Fred Pickering of Everton opened the scoring in the first half, and got two more goals in the second to register his first hat-trick of the season. Alex Young scored the other goal.

Chelsea, another team with two victories behind it, also won Saturday, beating newly promoted Sunderland. Without Bobby Tambling, one of their best forwards, Chelsea won comfortably after leading 1-0 at half-time.

Leeds United also has a 100-per-cent record after three matches. Leeds came back to beat Wolves after being down 2-1 at half-time. Inside-right Jim Storrer got two of Leeds' three goals.

TIED GAME
Scottish International Denis Law gave Manchester United an away point with a brilliant goal tying the score 2-2 just two minutes from time at Leicester. Arsenal recorded its first victory of the season after a tough struggle against Aston Villa, winning 3-1.

Young Bobby Nichols, 28-year-old PGA champion, cops Carling World Golf championship and $35,000

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Golf's new breed, personified by young Bobby Nichols, is threatening to create a runner-up complex for Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Arnie and Jack had to be content with secondary prizes again Sunday when Nichols, 28-year-old PGA champion, walked off with the game's biggest tournament haul of the year, the $35,000 first prize in the $200,000 Carling world golf championship.

Palmer finished second, one stroke behind Nichols' winning 278 for four rounds over the tough Oakland Hills course. It was the fifth time in seven tournaments that Palmer, the defending money-making champion, had come in second. In the other two tournaments, he was third.

"I'm getting darned tired of it," Palmer said. "I hope it doesn't become a habit."

NICKLAUS 11TH
Nicklaus, who hasn't won a major championship this year, fell farther behind. He tied for 11th and 286 and collected $2,800. It was the first time in two months that he hadn't placed at least in the top six.

Since the Masters, which Palmer won, the big two have captured only three tournaments between them. Palmer won at Oklahoma City and Nicklaus the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas and the White Marsh near Philadelphia.

Others have been taking the big ones. Besides Nichols in the PGA, Ken Venturi won the U.S. Open and Tony Lema the British Open.

Palmer poured the pressure on Nichols Sunday by knocking in a 35-foot putt for an eagle on the 566-yard 12th hole, which brought him level with Nichols moving toward the showdown holes.

"Sure, I knew Arnie made an eagle at the 12th," said Nichols.

Injury may end season for Sandy Koufax

LOS ANGELES (AP) — About the only thing worth waiting for, if you happen to be a fan of the Los Angeles Dodgers, is the next pitching turn of Sandy Koufax.

No harm in grabbing a nap while you're waiting. Just set the alarm for next April. Koufax, who in 1963 won everything this side of the mother-of-the-year award, apparently is finished for the season.

Only one victory away from becoming a 20-game winner again, the matchless left-hander has been unable to pitch for more than two weeks because of swelling around his left elbow.

He left the Dodgers in St. Louis Sunday and today he had an appointment with club physician Robert Kerlan, who said he doubted Sandy would be fit to pitch again this season.

Koufax, whose 19-5 record is the best in the majors, injured the elbow sliding in a game at Milwaukee Aug. 8. He kept pitching but the pain finally forced him out of the rotation.

CALLS IT A BLOW
General manager Buzz Bavasi said the probable loss of Koufax "is a helluva blow to any chance we might have of salvaging third or fourth place."

"But we have to think about Sandy first," Bavasi said. "We don't want to take the chance of ruining his career."

Two years ago, Koufax developed a rare circulatory disorder in the forefinger of his pitching hand and missed nearly all the second half of the season. He had 14 victories and only five losses when he was sidelined.

Records and rain abundant in track meet

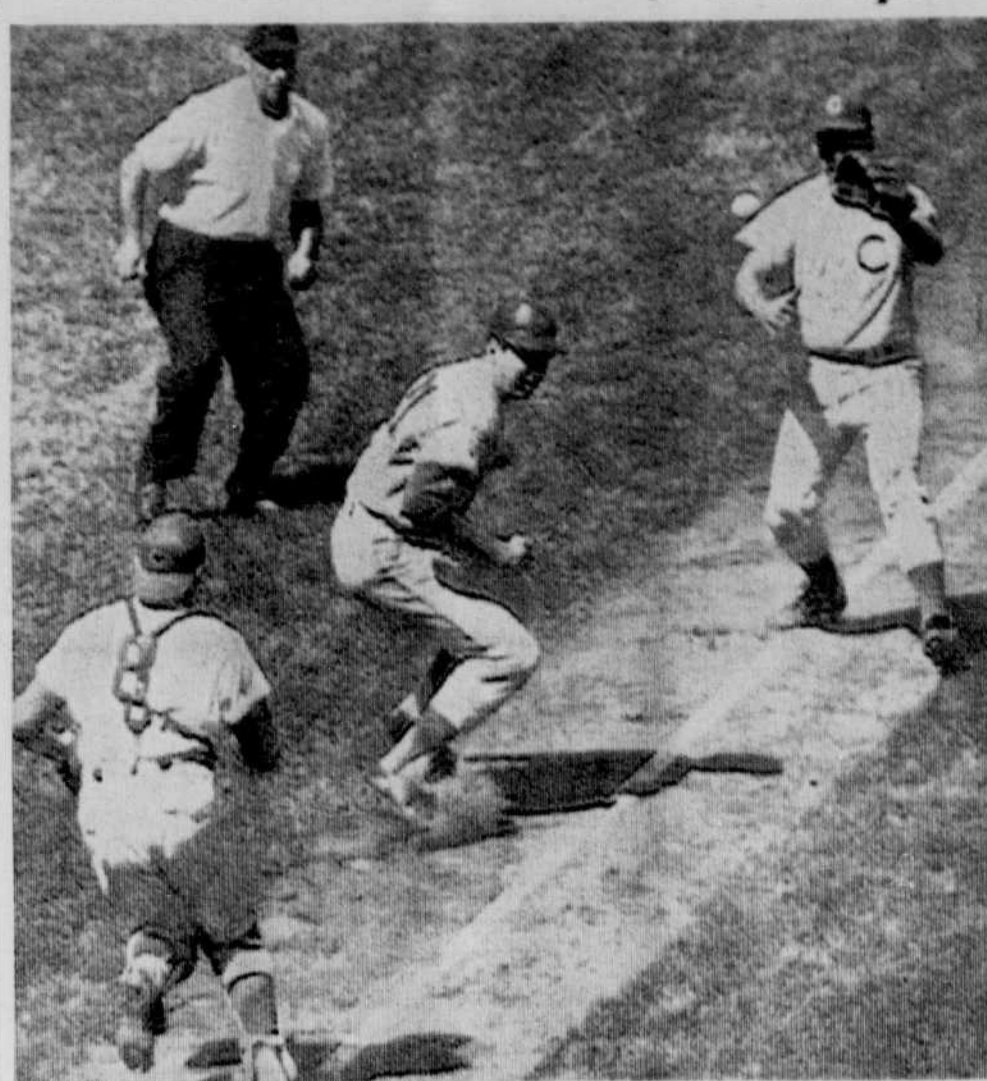

WINNIPEG (CP) — Records were almost as abundant as rain as the Canadian age-class track and field championships ran through a two-day program here during the weekend.

Paced by a tremendous individual performance by Janet Maddin, 15-year-old Winnipeg sprinter, 460 young athletes 19 and under established 10 new Canadian age-class records, equalled another and established standards in 13 events.

Chilly 60-degree temperatures and cloudy skies plagued the competition and a steady rain soaked athletes participating in the final events Saturday.

Richie Allen may boot Rico Carty of Milwaukee or Jim Hart of San Francisco right into the Rookie of the Year award in the National League.

Allen, Philadelphia's offensive spark, continued his less-than-red-hot defensive performance Sunday, committing two costly errors in the league leader's 10-2 loss to Pittsburgh Pirates.

Carty and Hart, meanwhile, provided lusty batting displays as the Giants won the first game of a doubleheader 13-10 and the Braves the second 7-4. Carty belted five hits, including his 16th homer, in five at-bats in the nightcap after slugging a homer in three trips in the first game. Hart went 3-for-6 in the doubleheader, hitting a homer in each game and driving in six runs.

Allen's errors increased his season total to 33, a rare height even for an entire season. Allen has done it in 129 games, giving him 33 more games in which to surpass the most mis-

scoring race with Hugh Campbell of B.C.'s supremacy. "They didn't push us out of the ballpark, but they did pretty well."

"We took the ball game away from them," countered B.C.'s Dave Skrien. "The defence played particularly well, but it was a 30-man effort."

Two touchdowns in the second quarter spelled the outcome, as Lions polished off a 92-yard ramble with a 24-yard pass from Joe Kapp to flanker Sonny Homer, and again after Brown's pass interception.

Rookie fullback Bob Swift scored on a three-yard plunge. Swift scored his second touchdown of the game and his seventh of the season in the third quarter and Peter Kempf converted all three.

scoring race with Hugh Campbell of B.C.'s supremacy. "They didn't push us out of the ballpark, but they did pretty well."

Bombers left the first quarter with a 3-0 lead on a 27-yard field goal by George Fleming. Their only other point was Jack Delvaux's third-quarter single.

Lions swarmed over quarterback Kenny Ploen and Hal Ledyard, dropping them eight times behind the line for a total loss of 36 yards.

Kapp was good on 13 of 23 passes and threw seven of them to Homer for 118 yards. Standby quarterback Steve Schafer added two completions in three attempts as Lions totalled 214 yards in the air, compared with 165 yards by Winnipeg. Ploen hit on six of 11 passes, Ledyard on seven of 11, and Delvaux missed a receiver when he fumbled a snap and was forced to pass instead of punt.

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions were defeated by only one Western Football Conference team — Winnipeg Blue Bombers — during the regular season last year and the Lions apparently have no desire to have the same thing happen this season.

The undefeated Lions consolidated their hold on first place in the WFC here Sunday afternoon by whipping the Bombers 21-4 before 33,607 fans at Empire Stadium.

The victory for the defending champions also avenged the only blot on their perfect record. Bombers tied Lions 10-10 in the opening game of the season at Winnipeg.

The B.C. defence, which has allowed only 36 points in five games, once again played brilliant football as Bombers were held to a first-quarter field goal.

By George Fleming and a third-quarter single by Jack Delvaux.

STIFLE BOMBER ATTACK
The Lions defenders, besides setting up a touchdown when linebacker Tom Brown intercepted a pass and returned it to the Winnipeg 13-yard line, allowed Blue Bombers only 46 yards rushing and never allowed Winnipeg to penetrate past the B.C. 20-yard line.

Entering the second month of the three-month Western schedule, the Lions have won four games and tied another for nine points. Calgary and Saskatchewan Roughriders are tied for second with six points and Winnipeg is fourth with three points. From a win and a tie in six games, Edmonton Eskimos are winless in four starts.

Canton Bulldogs stop Rifles in their opener

MONTREAL (CP) — Quarterback Bob Brodhead steered Canton Bulldogs to a 21-13 win over Quebec Rifles Sunday in the opening game of the United Football League season.

Brodhead, working behind a strong line, connected for two touchdown passes in the close-fought game played before 9,067 fans at east-end Delormier Stadium.

Fullback Dave Rogers, H. D. Murphy and end Jim Curry scored touchdowns for the Bulldogs. Tony Disconzo converted all three.

Halfback Ron McCauley, fullback Joe Williams scored Quebec's touchdowns, Bob Blakely converting one of them.

Split double with Acton for berth, Coaticook wins two to lead series, possible final tilt tomorrow night

Granby Knights, a team fighting for survival during the last week of regular season play in the Provincial League, has pulled a major upset of the present year. Acton Vale, also a team that was fighting, at that time for the league title, was eliminated from reaching the finals by Granby after dropping a 5-0 verdict.

Meanwhile, Coaticook Canadiens are well on the way to meeting the Knights as they sent Drummondville Royals down to two defeats over the weekend.

The sixth, and probably final, tilt of the semi-finals will be played tomorrow evening at Coaticook.

Acton Vale's absence from the finals will mark the first time in five years that this team hasn't offered opposition right up to taking the crown itself. Granby's strong defensive tactics proved to be too tight for the Beavers in their second game yesterday evening as Acton couldn't manage a run.

Jim Proulx allowed only four hits in the nightcap at Laval stadium, giving one of his better performances of the entire year. His excellent hurling and the tight defense were the keys in Granby's gain to the finals. J. P. Gauthier pulled through with a double play which eliminated the Beavers' chances of notching the column as a hard hit came at 2 time with the bases loaded.

Meanwhile Granby was also strong at the plate as ten hits came off their bats, thus giving Acton a tough time both in the field and at the plate.

The outstanding player for the Knights was Jean-Pierre Gauthier as his three singles and quick-thinking on the field put a halt to Acton's attacks. Teammate Desrochers added two bingles while Steve Oleschuk connected for two singles for Acton.

Coaticook's best were Bob Mecucci with a home run and single, Johnson and Knox with two bingles each while Drummondville's tops were Russ Ayoub with two singles with Sawyer, Este and Oechinero getting the other hits.

Johnny Knox led the way on the mound in this 9-2 win, while he met with a parade of three Royals' hurlers. Oechinero, Chabot and Pleau came up but couldn't do anything for the Drummondville squad.

Pierre Marchand hurls Brown Shoe to 3-1 win over Sherbrooke Albert

RICHMOND — Gerard Blais' Brown Shoe squad edged Sherbrooke Albert 3-1 in the first of a semi-final series for the Inter-City Fastball Championship. The game was played in Richmond before a fair crowd that saw Pierre Marchand go the distance for the win.

Marchand gave up four hits, fanned four men and walked one. He contributed one of ten hits by the local club. Beauchemin, the Sherbrooke hurler, also had four strike-outs but gave up a total of ten hits.

Lefebvre, Blais and Letourneau scored the Richmond runs while Rene Pepin scored for the losers.

Trailing 3-1 in their last bat Sherbrooke lost out when their hitters were retired in order. J. G. Forgues was first out, grounding to the shortstop who relayed to first, Bob Blais grounded out to second base while Guy Pelletier became the third out when he went out to third base.

Rollie Letourneau, sometimes hurler for Richmond, banded out a triple and single with Gilbert Gagnon and G. Lefebvre driving out two singles apiece. Other hits were from Gerard Blais, G. Frechette and Yves Tanguay.

In another series Asbestos Aramis leads Drummondville, this year's league titleholders, two games to none. These clubs met last Thursday evening in their second tilt of their best-of-five "A" series and Asbestos won 2-1.

In series "B", Richmond and Sherbrooke had met earlier with Sherbrooke leading the game 2-1 after five innings of play. The game was called because of rain and has to be replayed. Asbestos and Drummondville also clashed Sunday while Guy Pelletier became the third out when he went out to third base.
