DIED LIKE A HERO.

Thomas Hovenden, the American Artist, Meets Death While Trying to Rescue a Little Girl.

Norristown, Pa., August 15.—Thomas Hovenden, the famous artist, was instantly killed by a railroad train near here last evening, in a fruitless attempt to save the life of a little girl. The accident occurred at a grade crossing on what is known as the Trenton cut-off of the Pennsylvania railroad. The Chestnut Hill Trolley Company's tracks run up to the tracks of the railroad company at the point where the accident occurred, but do not cross them. Passengers of the trolley company are compelled to leave the car at the railroad tracks and cross the latter on foot to take a trolley car on the opposite side. Mr. Hovenden had a summer residence in Plymouth township, this county, and he was returning home there last evening on a trolley car. When the car reached its stopping point on one side of the railroad track the passengers alighted and prepared to cross to the trolley car on the other side. Besides Mr. Hovenden among the passengers in the car were Mrs. Clara Pieffer and her ten-year-old daughter, Bessie. A fast freight train was approaching the crossing as the passengers from the trolley car alighted. The little girl did not notice the oncoming train and ran ahead of her mother to cross the tracks. The engineer blew his whistle when he saw the little figure standing between the rails. The child seemed too frightened to make an attempt to escape, and Mr. Hovenden rushed forward and snatched her up in his arms. Before he could make the leap that would have saved them both the pilot of the engine struck Mr. Hovenden with a terrible force. The engineer stopped his train, and the fireman ran to where Mr. Hovenden and the little girl were lying side by side. The man was dead, and the child died as she was raised from the ground. Thomas Hovenden was one of the leading artists that America has produced. He was fifty-nine years of age. His best known painting, "Breaking Home Ties," has probably been engraved more than the work of any other American artist. The painting was one of the most notable of the American group at the World's Fair. Mr. Hovenden leaves a widow.

ANOTHER MURDER MYSTERY.

An Anonymous Confession of Murder in Connection With the Disappearance of An Ontario Girl.

Tweed, Ont., August 15.—On the 16th of August last year Annie Calinder, a young English girl, living near Peterborough, disappeared leaving no trace. The detectives who were employed in the case were helpless. To-day a strange discovery was made. Edward Dowdell, section foreman at Sheffield Station, found under the timbers of a bridge a few miles east of Tweed, a piece of planed board about thirteen inches square, on which was written the following statement:

Sheffield, April 26, 1895.

To all the world—Greeting. This is to certify that I did, on the night of the 16th of August, 1894, murder Annie Calinder, a young English girl, in the little cemetery at Peterborough, and with a piece of rope and railroad iron I sunk her dead body in the lake. I did it to hide crime. I feel that God will never forgive me for it. I cannot rest day or night. I would like her body taken up and buried. F. R.

Streetsville, Ont.

The case is in the hands of the detectives.

MYSTERIOUS CATTLE DISEASE.

Crown Point, Ind., August 15.—A mysterious disease, baffling the skill of veterinary surgeons, has made its appearance among the cattle of this section. The eyes of the animals first become inflamed, and finally the entire sight is lost.

MARITIME MERCHANTS'

Want the Through Business of Subsidized Steamships Done at Lower Province Ports.

Halifax, N.S., August 15.—Most of the time of the Board of Trade was occupied yesterday with a discussion on cold storage on land at Halifax, St. John and Charlottetown and on transatlantic steamers, transportation and fast Atlantic service. The following were among resolutions passed:

"That the rapidly developing importation of fruit and dairying and perishable food industries in the Maritime Provinces seek improved facilities for transportation of the products of industries both by railways and steamboats, especially in the direction of cold storage, and this board hereby decides to give any scheme calculated to secure such ends its hearty support.

"Whereas the business communities of North Sydney and Glace Bay are much inconvenienced by the existing freight train service on the Cape Breton section of the I. C. R. and the interest of the towns named would be materially assisted and advanced by having between Sydney and Point Tupper a daily freight train, with accommodation for the travelling public;

"Resolved, This Maritime Board of Trade heartily sympathizes with the efforts of the Cape Breton Boards of Trade to obtain this improved service, endorse the same, and would stronly recommend the Department of Railways to give the matter their careful consideration."

The following resolution excited a very lively and lengthy discussion:

"Whereas, for years past, after the navigation of the St. Lawrence has closed, through Canadian freight carried on the steamers subsidized by our Canadian Government, has been landed and shipped at foreign ports, to the detriment of Maritime Province ports, therefore, it is resolved, that the Maritime Board of Trade memorialize the Dominion Government, urging that in the future subsidies be only paid to steamers landing Canadian freight at Canadian ports.

"It is also resolved that the affiliated Board of Trade in the Maritime Provinces be requested to urge upon their representatives at Ottawa to unite with other Maritime members in seeking to secure subsidies that will result in the landing and shipping of Canadian through freight at Maritime Province ports during the winter season."

The resolution was afterwards changed to the following, which passed:

"It is resolved that this Maritime Board of Trade memorialize the Dominion Government, urging that in the future subsidies only be granted to steamers sailing between a port, or ports, in the United Kingdom and a port, or ports, in Canada only.

"It is also resolved that all affiliated Boards of Trade be requested to urge on their representatives at Ottawa that they unite with the other Maritime Province members in seeking to secure such subsidies as will result in through mail and freight business being done through Canadian ports."

EMPEROR WILLIAM IN ENGLAND.

London, August 15.—Emperor William and his suite made a tour of the lake district to-day, in company with Lord and Lady Lonsdale. His Majesty met with an enthusiastic reception, crowds of people gathering all along the route followed by the Imperial party. At all the most important points there were floral or other arches, and bunting was displayed on all sides.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SUSPICIOUS OF THE VALKYRIE.

AMERICANS SUSPECT SHE MAY DEFEAT THE DEFENDER.

The Cup Committee are Going to Observe Strict Secrecy About the Defender's Measurements Until the Valkyrie is measured.

[Special to the Star.]

New York, August 15.—The America's Cup Committee let it be known to-day that they will not announce the measurement of the Defender and the Vigilant which are to be taken to-morrow, until the Valkyrie III is measured just before the race. The reason is that they do not wish to give Lord Dunraven the advantage of information that might lead him to alter the challenger's sail plan or ballast if he had time. For the same reason, no official information about the result of the trial race next week will be furnished.

This gives the impression here that the committee are very doubtful of the cup races. Such secrecy has never been maintained before.

New York, August 15.—Notwithstanding the many expressions of opinion to the contrary, Mr. Lewis Nixon, the naval expert still thinks that there is a strong probability that the States shall lose the cup this year. "Understand," he says in the Herald, "I want to see the Defender win, and I believe that theoretically she should win, for she is the logical development that should produce the better boat; but, examining her performance, it seems to me that she leaves so much to be desired that the question whether she will defeat the Valkyrie is still open to serious doubt.

"As for the yachtsmen whose opinions concerning my doubts of the Defender's success have been published, I can only say that neither their beliefs concerning the Defender nor mine have any value except to the extent that knowledge combined with experience, would make any opinion valuable. I was asked for my opinion, and I gave it for what it was worth. Many yachtsmen, I think, feel just as I do, but do not think it politic to be quoted publicly.

"Lord Dunraven's attitude is somewhat peculiar. He has gone to great trouble and expense to build a yacht to sail for the America's Cup, and all information obtainable here leads to the belief that he is satisfied with the Valkyrie—that he considers her chances for success as very good. But while Lord Dunraven finds my opinion agrees with his, he seems inclined to throw doubt upon its value, because, as he assumes, I have not sufficient accurate information about the rival yachts.

"Now, I admit that there are many technical features of the Valkyrie concerning which I have not the exact knowledge that Lord Dunraven has, but so many details about her have been given—details subsequently proven to be accurate—that I have a reasonable basis upon which to form an opinion. On the other hand, however, Lord Dunraven must be equally, if not more, in the dark about the Defender.

"Therefore, it occurs to me that perhaps the Valkyrie's owner, without too much exposing the secrets of his craft, may be willing to impart and to receive information. For instance, if he would give me certain details of the challenging yacht, I might find that my criticisms on her design were not based upon the right premises.

"I would like to ask Lord Dunraven for the following particulars, all of which must soon be made public:

"First, her exact displacement in racing trim.

"Second, the weight of her hull and equipments, not including ballast.

"Third, the weight of the ballast.

"Fourth, her sail area.

"Fifth, her length on the water line in racing trim.

"Sixth, the area of her rudder.

"Seventh, the area of her wetted surface.

"Eighth, her beam.

"Ninth, her draught.

"Without stating the extent of my knowledge of the Defender's designs, I believe that I am justified in saying that, on receipt of Lord Dunraven's answers to the foregoing questions, I shall be better able to tell him whether or not his yacht has the least chance of capturing the cup.

"There are some American enthusiasts who say that it is impossible for the Defender to be defeated. They ignore two very important facts. One is that the Valkyrie will almost certainly be much better handled than the Defender; the other is that there may be a surprise for us in the Valkyrie's construction. From experiments that I have made with steel and wood, I begin to suspect that, in spite of the use af aluminum in the Defender, the Valkyrie may have the lighter hull of the two. I don't say it is so, but it is not improbable.

"Heretofore we have been able to get a lighter hull and a greater sail area for our champion than the English have for theirs; but this time the challenger certainly has an enormous sail area, and if also they have a lighter craft our hold on the cup is in danger.

There seems to be a tendency to adopt fads in the Defender. Take the sails for instance. People were told that a great new principle in making sail had been discovered and was top be applied to those for the Defender. But the cross cut sail idea is over fifty years old, a patent having been applied for such a method of construction in England in 1844. It is very probable that the cross cut sails, like many other fads, will not be used in the races. The Amorita has consistent sails in design and make. They are made by Wilson, and are based upon his observations here and abroad, and will be much better than any of the cross cut type could be.

Concerning the handling of the Defender, her most prejudiced admirer must admit that it has been so far from satisfactory as to warrant doubts of her success. When I first said that unless the Defender showed great improvement, the cup would go back to England, I was referring to actual work. What her speed might be under the most skilful handling is one thing; what it is under existing conditions is another. Up to the present the improvement in the handling of the Defender is barely, if at all, perceptible, and I consider the cup as in very serious danger."

DICK'S INSURANCE CASE.

Toronto, August 15.—Application was yesterday made and granted for the immediate payment into court of the $2000 due by the Canadian Home Circles upon the life of the late Mary Dicks, whose husband, Arthur Alfred Dicks, now lingers in gaol charged with having caused her death. Since the fire last March which caused the destruction of the Dicks' home and the mother's death, the children have been kept by friends, who have recently sought this portion of the $19,000 of insurance for their further maintenance. To relieve itself of liability, the Order of the Home Circles, through Mr. Crawford, barrister, in consequence, yesterday applied for and obtained the order for the payment into court. Mr. George Boss, on behalf of Dicks, asked for the payment over of the money for the children, who are the beneficiaries, Dicks being the trustee under the will. The court, however, declined to make such an order. There are five children—Arthur, aged 13; Edith, 11; Ferdinand, 9; Mary, 6, and Jeffrey, 4. Dicks will be tried in October.

ADVOCATES OF SILVER.

An Important Conference At Washington.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The conference ot delegates favorable to the free coinage of silver began at noon yesterday at the Metropolitan Hotel, the sessions being secret. The object is to effect an organization within the party strong enough to dominate the next National Democratic convention, and to commit the party to free coinage of silver in the next national platform. The conference was called to order at 12 o'clock. Senator Jones, of Arkansas, was made chairman and Mr. Heinrichson, of Illinois, secretary.

There are about 85 delegates in attendance upon the conference, the personnel being more remarkable for what it lacks than anything else. The east has but a single representative—from Delaware. Ex-Representative Gresham, of Texas, was at the hotel, but refused to take part in the gathering. Prominent by reason of their absence were Senator Turpie, of Indiana, who was the third signer of the call; ex-Representative Bland, of Missouri, named to head the delegation from that state; ex-Representative Sibley, of Pennsylvania, the candidate of the bi-metallic league for president, and ex-Representative Bryan, of Nebraska, the free silver missionary to the south.

New York, Aug. 15.—Senator Edward O. Wolcott, of Colorado, was seen at the Holland House last evening. He is here on business, and had little to say. He says that already too much has been said about the silver question for its own good. He adds: "Anyone that says that the silver sentiment is dying out in the west is mistaken. I do not think I am wrong when I say that the west is a unit in its demand for a greater use of silver."

A HORSE TRACK FATALITY.

A Charge That the Killed Jockey Was Run Into Purposely Under Investigation.

Sherbrooke, August 15.—Coroner Woodward opened an inquest at Coaticook Tuesday on the body of Jean Baptiste Ruisseaux, dit Brooks, who was killed at the Coaticook Trotting Park on Saturday last. Mr. Henry Lovell was foreman of the jury and Mr. J. Beaulue, advocate, represented the deceased's family. The facts elicited were as follows: Brooks and a man named Eli S. Bacon, of Coaticook, were exercising their horses on the track. Bacon's horse broke the ring holding the bit, became unmanageable, and ran into Brooks' sulky, throwing him out of it. While he was lying on the ground, Bacon's horse trampled on Brook's body, injuring him to such an extent that he died shortly after. The deceased's son and widow in their evidence stated that before dying Brooks had given them the impression that Bacon had run into him purposely in order to disable him and thus incapacitate him from competition in future races. Other witnesses, however, testified to the friendly feeling always existing between the two men, and several eye-witnesses gave their decided opinion that the fatality was brought about in a purely accidental manner. The inquest was adjourned until the 27th instant.

QUEBEC'S NORTHERN RESERVE

Glowing Accounts of the Lake Temisangue District.

Ottawa, August 14.—Ex-Ald. P. T. C. Dumais, of Hull, has returned from the Lake Temisangue district, where he has been conducting the survey of a colonization road for the Quebec Government. He speaks very hopefully of the possibilities of that northern portion of Quebec becoming the best farming district in the province. The soil is the very best for farming purposes, and all that is required is to make good roads, for then these settlers will rush in of their own accord. The district is experiencing a boom at present. Settlers are taking up land wherever they can get it. The road which Mr. Dumais and his party have just finished surveying is a continuation of the colonization road from Gordon Creek to Bid-a-Pierre, a distance of twenty miles. This road begins at Mattawa, and is now built to Gordon's Creek, a distance of forty miles. When finished to Bid-a-Pierre there will be a good road for sixty miles north from Mattawa, which he surveyed. He will have about 75 men at work until the snow, and what then remains of the road to be built will be finished next spring. The road will cost $5000.

A G. T. R. DEFAULTER.

The Company's Cashier at Hamilton Under Arrest.

Hamilton, Aug. 15.—Fred. Filgiano, the alleged defaulting cashier of the G.T.R. freight office here, who suddenly disappeared on Oct. 2, 1894, was arrested yesterday by the detective of the G. T. R., assisted by four constables. Filgiano was concealed in a closet of his residence on MacNab street north, and said he had intended giving himself up, as he wished to have his case disposed of. When he left town it was said he was a defaulter to the extent of about $17,000. Filgiano has been living in Baltimore and New York, and returned to the city a few days ago, as he was tired living away from his family. At the Police Court today he was charged with stealing three sums of money, $915.66, $795.92 and $747.37, on Sept. 14, 15 and 20, 1894, respectively. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by a jury. The prisoner says he did not get all the money he is reported to have taken, and will fight the case. He says he was insured in a guarantee company for $5000, but the guarantee company refused to pay the G.T.R. on the ground that their auditor was careless.

THE DRACONA ASHORE.

The Thomson Liner Runs Aground Seven Miles Below Fame Point.

Quebec, August 15.—The Thomson Line steamship Dracona, from Dundee for Montreal, is reported by the Signal Service to be ashore seven miles below Fame Point. No particulars of the accident have reached here yet. Steamer Lord Stanley and a schooner with pumps have been ordered to the assistance of the steamer Dracona. The Dracona's cargo consists of coal, iron and bricks.

Later.—Steamship Dracona went ashore on beach at Fox River early this morning during a heavy fog. She is making water; crew safe. Her exact position will not be known until morning. Particulars are very hard to get.

USED TO COVER EVERY CRIME.

A CUBAN'S CHARGE AGAINST THE STARS AND STRIPES.

Finds it Hard to see How the United States can Push the Moraes Claim for Settlement and Ignore the Behring Sea Award.

New York, Aug. 15.—The mayor of Havana, Cuba, Senor Alvarez, who is at the Union Square Hotel, says that the insurrection in Cuba is not a serious matter, but that there is danger of trouble between Spain and the United States, growing out of the action of this Government in pressing Spain to pay the Moraes claim at this time and the aid that Americans are extending to Cuban agitators.

Senor Alvarez continued: "The people of the United States should remember that the war in Cuba is not a war between two nations. It is a difficulty which one nation is having in its own family, and America should keep her hands off. Americans have nothing to do with any territory outside of their own limits. If Canadians were to conspire against a portion of the United States it would be quickly resented, but Americans not only permit foreigners but allow their own citizens to conspire against Spanish territory, and Spain is a friendly nation."

"The American flag is being used to cover every crime. Spanish officers are getting tired of letting expeditions escape because they sail under the American flag. The day may come when an officer will no longer permit a vessel to go free through respect for the flag. Something will happen—not to the flag—but to the boat that is using it, and there may be trouble between Spain and the United States.

"Another thing we do not like," said he, "is insisting that the Moraes claim be paid just when Spain needs money for war purposes. The claim is unjust and should never be paid. All the arbitrators have decided against it. It does not come with good grace for the United States to pay a million and a half now, and the manner in which the claim has been pressed makes Spaniards sore. The United States does not pay the award made by the Behring Sea commission, and is getting the reputation of being a bad debtor among nations; and yet claim is made that Spain must pay the unjust Moraes claim, and we must do it at once. All these things make our blood boil."

London, August 15.—The Havana correspondent of the Times telegraphs to that paper as follows: "Since his arrival here Captain-General Martinez de Campos has received deputations from all political parties. His personal popularity makes everybody glad to welcome him. Addressing the Reformistas, he said that the revolution would probably develop further before the finale. Addressing the Autonomistas, he stated that it was his intention to begin an active campaign in September against the insurgents in the province of Santa Clara, afterwards to attack the rebels in Puerto Principe, and lastly, those in Santiago de Cuba. He promised that the next municipal elections should be absolutely free and that he would personally rectify any case of coercion reported to him. In the course of a private conversation, Marshall Campos expressed the opinion that dissension among the leaders would weaken the insurgent force and that the rebellion would be crushed before spring; but there is a persistent rumor in circles usually well informed that he has cabled to Madrid that only two courses are open to Spain, namely: either to send 100,000 troops to Cuba or to grant the island complete autonomy.

The report that the Alcalde of Sant-Espiritu has joined the rebellion is incorrect. The average number of deaths from yellow fever among the troops for the last few weeks has been 120 daily. Jose Maceo has lived for the past three months on a coffee estate between Santiago de Cuba and Guantanamo. The Government is aware of this, but does not attempt to attack him. The insurgents of this district levy fines from $500 to $1000 on plantations. Maceo has been re-supplied with ammunition from an unknown source.

The Times' Madrid despatch says: "The Queen Regent and the King will go to Victoria to-morrow to review the troops for Cuba."

UNCLE SAM CRITICIZED.

Members of the Peace Conference Who Think There Should Have Been No Delay to Pay the Behring Sea Award.

Brussels, August 15.—At the International Parliamentary Peace conference to-day a proposal looking to the establishment of an international arbitration court was discussed. Mr. Snape, a delegate from Liverpool, said he regretted that the standpoint in regard to arbitration taken by the United States in the American Congress, when they had refused to vote the sum of money decided upon by the Behring Sea tribunal of arbitration as damages for seizures made by American vessels and settlements of the claims of British citizens in connection with the Behring Sea fisheries, whereas Great Britain had paid to the United States the large indemnity decided by the arbitration court in the Alabama case.

Mr. William Randal Cremer, an ex-member of the British House of Commons, and secretary of the International Arbitration League, who recently visited the United States in connection with arbitration matters, protested against Mr. Snape's remarks. He declared that the United States had merely deferred payment of the claim, and only refused to admit the ungrounded claim of several of those who claimed damages.

MR. WALLER IN FRANCE.

The Former United States Consul in Madagascar Has More Complaints to Make Against the French Government.

Washington, D. C., August 14.—A letter to-day from ex-Consul Waller, by his step-son, H. H. Bray, says that his baggage was taken from him by the French on his arrival at Marseilles, and that he made a complaint to the United States Consul at that place on April 27, but has heard nothing of it since. He has not yet received a word from Mr. S. O. Waller or his children since his departure from Madagascar, nor had he yet received the money sent him by friends in Iowa, a few days after word reached this country that he was ill and without funds to supply himself with medical attendance. This was early in June. The letter to Mr. Bray is dated July 22. Mr. Waller expressed much gratitude for the interest taken in his case by the newspapers of the United States and by his friends, and was especially glad to learn that the Department of State was looking after the protection of his family. He expressed a belief and hope that he will be released soon. His health is a little better than when he last wrote.

DOUBLE DROWNING ACCIDENT.

A Wealthy Boston Lady and Her Guide Lose Their Lives in the Batiscan.

Quebec, August 15.—News reached here yesterday of the drowning in the Batiscan, on Monday, of Mrs. Joy, a wealthy lady of Boston. Deceased was canoeing when a rock was struck, and the vessel capsized. The deceased was a sister of Mr. W P. Greenough, of Portneuf. Her two daughters were staying in this city at the time of the melancholy occurrence. The body was subsequently recovered, and forwarded to her home in Boston. One of the lady's canoe men, named Joseph Audet, belonging to St. Alban, Portneuf, was also drowned. The other canoe man hung to a log and was rescued.

"It Will Work Wonders With this Generation of Men."

A Startling Advance in Medical Science is fully explained in a little book called "Complete Manhood, and How to Attain It."

An earnest man who had suffered, hesitated, then put it to the test, writes thus:

"Well, I tell you that first day is one I'll never forget. I just bubbled with joy. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them that my old self had died yesterday and my new self was born to-day. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would find it this way?"

The man was not "made whole" by magic in a day—no man is—but in a moment he saw—KNEW—how he would be in a little while—he "saw the light" before he had finished the first chapter.

Every man who would know the grand truth, the plain facts, the new discoveries of medical science—who would atone for past follies and avoid future pitfalls, should secure this book.

To simple "curiosity seekers," to those whose physicial condition is perfect—to those who need no aid—to boys—we say emphatically this book is useless and uninteresting. It is purely medical and scientific, published to make known a system of treatment of incalculable value to men who need it.

If you are looking for something sentimental, frivolous improper, don't waste your time and ours by writing. This is not for you.

If you want advice, wisdom, warning, help, noble manhood—if you want to escape snares, traps, quackery—get this book now.

Writeto the Erie Medical Co., 64 Niagara st., Buffalo N. Y., and ask for copy "Complete Manhood." They will send it sealed in plain envelope, entirely free, for a short time. 57s

THE FRENCH TREATY.

Ottawa, August 15.—It seems that the French convention is still awaiting ratification. The Imperial authorities were notified some weeks ago that the legislation which was deemed necessary to empower the Canadian Government to carry out the treaty had been passed. When this information is officially conveyed to France and the two Governments agree upon a time for ratification the matter will come again before the Canadian Government, which is prepared at the earliest possible moment to exchange ratifications.

Special Notices.

Tricks that are Vain.

In vain is the net spread in sight of any bird, and in vain do unscrupulous dealers offer a high price label with a poor wine inside the bottle. The Bordeaux Claret Co. are not concerned about a label. They have put before the public a generous, old, robust wine at a price which has absolutely paralyzed the high-priced people. Even those who like well enough to get wine at half-price have almost been afraid to believe the good news. The new prices for Clarets and Burgundies are $3 and $4 per dozen quarts. Bottled from the wood imported direct from the vineyards of France. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

THE SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT NOW READY FOR BUSINESS.

No Legislation of any Moment Foreshadowed—England Acting In Concert With France and Russia Regarding Armenia.

London, August 15.—The House of Commons met at two o'clock this afternoon and the members were at once summoned by the usher of the Black Rod to the House of Lords to hear the reading of the Queen's speech.

Both Houses will re-assemble at four o'clock when the debate on the address in reply to the speech will begin

In the House of Lords the Duke of Marlborough will move and Lord Ampthill will second the address.

In the House of Commons the Hon. T. Wodehouse Legh, Conservative, eldest son of Lord Newton, will move the address, and his motion will be seconded by Mr. T. Herbert Robertson, the new Conservative member for Hackney.

The commission to read the Queen's speech consisted of Lord Halsbury, the Lord Chancellor; the Duke of Portland, the Earl of Lathom, Viscount Cross and Lord Balfour, of Burleigh. All were attired in their scarlet and ermine robes of office. Lord Halsbury read the speech while Speaker Gully and the members of the House of Commons stood at the bar. When the reading was concluded the Speaker and other members of the House of Commons retired to their own chamber.

The speech was as follows:

My Lords and Gentlemen:

"The communications which I received from foreign powers assure me of the continuance of their good-will. I am happy to say that no international complication has arisen in any quarter that is calculated to endanger the peace of Europe.

The war between China and Japan, which was in progress at the opening of the last session has been brought to a conclusion by a peace which, I trust, will be enduring. I have observed strict neutrality during the war and have not taken any action in respect thereto except such as appeared likely to be favorable to a termination of hostilities.

I deeply regret to say that most atrocious outrages upon a body of English missionaries have been reported in the Province of Fukien, China. In reply to an earnest representation addressed to the Chinese Government by my direction active measures which I trust will prove effective, are being taken to punish the murderers and all who were in any degree responsible for these crimes.

Internal troubles which have broken out in the Armenian districts of Asiatic Turkey, have been attended with horrors which have moved the indignation of the Christian nations of Europe generally, and my people especially.

My Ambassador and the Ambassadors of the Emperor of Russia and the President of the French Republic, acting together, have suggested to the Government of the Sultan the reforms which in their opinions are necessary to prevent the recurrence of constant disorder. These proposals are now being considered by the Sultan, and I am anxiously awaiting his decision.

A resolution has been passed by both Houses of the Parliament of the Cape of Good Hope, proposing that the adjacent Crown Colony of Bechuanaland should be incorporated with Cape Colony. I signified that I was willing to consider favorably an Act for that purpose providing it contained proper safeguards to my interests and those of my native subjects, especially as regards their lands, the liquor traffic, and the maintenance of their own system of justice. I received satisfactory assurances on these matters, and an Act has been passed by the Cape Parliaments which I have every reason to expect will fulfil my requirements.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

The estimates for the service year, which were not voted by the last Parliament, will be laid before you.

My Lords and Gentlemen:

At this season of the year it will probably be found more convenient to defer until another session the consideration of any important legislative matters, except those necessary to provide for the administrative charges of the year.

There was a large number of the members of the House of Commons at the reading of the Queen's speech, but there were only a dozen peers in attendance. The U.S. Ambassador, Mr. Bayard, and Mrs. Bayard were present. In the ladies' gallery there were quite a number of spectators.

THE BERLIN MURDER CASE.

Kurschinski Arraigned in Court—He Pleads Not Guilty.

[Special to the Star.]

Berlin, August 15.—There was a large crowd of persons at the Court House yesterday morning, awaiting the appearance of Kurschinski, the man arested on suspicion of having murdered Albert Jaenerette, on the 4th of August ast. Among those present were: A. J. Jaenerette, of Elmira, the dead man's brother, and Mr. Kurschinski, of Bloomingdale, son of the accused. The prisoner, though agitated, showed great self-control and coolness. He was paler than on the first day of his arrest. The scratches on his forehead and nose have disappeared, leaving a small white scar on the bridge of the nose. He was brought up handcuffed, but the iron bracelets were removed when the Court room was reached. Messrs. Mackie and J. McKay, magistrates, were on the bench. County Crown Attorney Bowlby appeared for the prosecution, and J. Mowat, for the accused. The Crown was not ready with its evidence, and asked for an adjournment of one week. After the complaint had been read by Mr. M. Mackie and interpreted to the prisoner by Mr. McKay, he pleaded not guilty.

The magistrate remanded the prisoner for one week, when the Crown will be ready to proceed with the case.

The prisoner was taken back to his cell, where Mr. Jaenerette, brother of the murdered man, asked to be allowed to see him, not having been able to see his face when in the Court room. Mr. Bowlby permitted him to do so. Accompanied by Mr. Bowlby and the gaol officials, he ascended to the cell and with uncovered head he gazed the prisoner in the eye without a word being spoken on either side. Kurschinski returned the look steadfastly for a moment or two, when, as if recognizing a relative of the dead man in his stern visitor, he turned sullenly around and refused to be looked at.

Kurschenski sent for the Rev. R. Von Pirch on Tuesday afternoon, and that gentleman visited him at the gaol, and spent an hour or more in conversation with him. Mr. Mowat, counsel for the accused, says he is puzzled by the prisoner's cool behavior and conversation. The latter recently asked him why he was confined in gaol.

MAGICIENNE LEAVES FOR QUEBEC.

Halifax, August 15.—H. M. S. Magicienne sailed for Quebec yesterday.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S FRUIT.

[Special to the Star.]

Vancouver, B. C., August 15.—Prof. Fletcher, Dominion Entomologist, has spoken to the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association in the highest terms as to the fruit-bearing possibilities of the province; a country to which, he said, he wished a "kind Providence" would send him to live permanently. He said that, so far, thanks to past vigilant efforts towards prevention, by the Provincial Board of Horticulture, the worst fruit pests are not in evidence any place in the province. The San Jose scale he has been unable to find in live condition in British Columbia, and the codlin moth had not yet made inroads on the orchards of the British Columbia fruit growers.

He thought the early future prospects were highly promising. He said that the Agassiz experimental farm was the biggest experimental fruit farm in the world; there were now two thousand different varieties of trees bearing fruit, and in many cases he thought the fruit was superior to the California article. He said that by analysis the soil of British Columbia was richer than that of Europe, Manitoba, the North-West or Eastern Canada.

BRIEF NOTES OF THE NEWS.

The corner-stone of the Sarnia General Hospital was laid in the presence of an enormous crowd of spectators Wednesday.

Mayor Parent, of Quebec, has called a public meeting for Friday next to consider the subject of a Winter Carnival.

The sum of $300 has been subscribed for the proposed regatta in Quebec harbor during the stay of the coming war ships.

Christian Alliance conventions are to be held in Montreal in September, and in Kingston in October, conducted by Revs. Dr. Simpson and Dr. Wilson, and Col. S. Merritt, of New York.

The Local Government is now opening to sportsmen and tourists, for fly fishing only, the upper portion of the Jacques Cartier river within the limits of the Laurentides National Park.

Hon. Edward Blake, M. P., and wife, and Right Rev. William Wilcox Perrin, D. D., Bishop of British Columbia, and wife, sail on the Allan Line steamer Parisian from Liverpool for Montreal.

The American Line steamer St. Louis arrived at Southampton port at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, having broken her best eastward record by two hours and twenty-two minutes.

The two hotels of Richford, Vt., the American House and Union House, and the drug stores of Messrs Garvin, Janes and White were searched last night and liquor seized at each place, except at Mr. White's.

In his political tour through the eastern part of Quebec, Mr. Laurier will be accompanied by Mr. Lemieux, M. L. A.; Dr. Guay, M. P.; Mr. Chas. Devlin, M. P.; G. W. Stephens, jr., and R. Lemieux, of Montreal, and O. Talbot, of St. Michel.

The Ontario Educational Department has decided to remove to Hamilton the Provincial School of Pedagogy, where it will be associated with the Collegiate Institute. A new school, to cost $75,000, will be erected to accommodate 600 pupils.

The London "Canadian Gazette" says that the judgment in the appeal to the Privy Council to decide whether the power to pass prohibitory liquor legislation belongs to the federal or the provincial authorities of Canada, will not be given until November.

A despatch to the London "Times" from Berlin says that the Kolnische Zeitung's Constantinople advices report that England is the only power in favor of coercing Turkey. She is, therefore, pushing a strong squadron north from Egypt. The other powers oppose coercion.

His brother officers of the 53rd Battalion intend to celebrate Captain R. J. Spearing's return from the Bisley camp, where he did some excellent shooting, by giving a dinner in his honor on Monday next, when an illuminated address will be presented to him.

Several sales have taken place at Ottawa within the past week in the lumber business which the sellers consider a good omen for increased activity in the trade. The sales were not of very large amonuts, yet they serve as an indication of a stir in the English and American markets.

Prof. McEachran has written the Department of Agriculture in reference to alleged cases of pleuro-pneumonia in a cargo of cattle landed at Deptford, England. The Inspector is of the opinion that the ailment was cornstalk disease, a lung affection brought on by exposure and hardships at sea.

Information from Pointe aux Esquimaux, is to the effect that Dr. Tremblay has been absent from that place for the last two months, having been to the confines of the province to hold an inquest upon the bodies of Mary Griffin and James Buckle, found frozen in four feet of water last winter.

The steam yacht Atalanta, Captain Tod, owned by George Gould, of New York, and bound for that port from Southampton and Falmouth, arrived at St. John's on Wednesday afternoon short of coal. She made the passage across the Atlantic in seven days. She expects to reach there before Valkyrie III does.

Extensive boring for gas and oil wells will begin at once in Onondaga and Oswego counties, New York, by a company headed by ex-Senator Hiscock and ex-Mayor Thomas Ryan, of Syracuse. The company has secured a franchise for laying its pipes in this city, and has leased hundreds of acres of ground in the two counties.

Gustav Bingen, a partner in the firm of Bingen Brothers, bankers, of Genoa, Italy, whose failure was recently announced, arrived at Rotterdam yesterday evening, apparently with the intention of going to New York. When embarking on the Netherlands Line steamship Spaarndam he attempted to commit suicide by taking poison.

The trade community at Quebec is complaining that while the forwarding of freight from Halifax, St. John, N.B., etc., to Quebec by the Intercolonial Railway, takes about or a little over twenty-four hours, it takes from eight to ten days to have merchandise forwarded from Quebec to points like Campbellton, Dalhousie, St. John, etc.

A terrible accident occurred at the Germania shipbuilding yard at Kiel on Wednesday. A number of workmen were returning across a gangway to the shore after their work had been completed on a new cruiser, when the gangway broke, and all the workmen were thrown into the water. Eight bodies have been recovered.

The annual retreat of the Oblat Fathers will commence at the Ottawa University on Monday week. Priests from Ottawa, Hull, Lachine, Montreal, Maniwaki and Mattawa will be present to take part in the exercises. Rev. Father Jodoin, superior of the Montreal house, will be the preacher. The ceremonies will be concluded the following Monday.

An editorial in the London "Times" urges General Lord Wolseley's claim to succeed the Duke of Cambridge as Commander-in-Chief of the army. The "Times" says: "The Duke of Connaught is young and can afford to wait. His appointment now would cast a doubt on the reality of promised reform, especially an appointment for a limited term."

At Loretto Abbey, Toronto, on Wednesday, Vicar-General McCann, in the absence of Archbishop Walsh, presided over the ceremony of taking the white veil. The candidates are as follows: Miss O'Connor, of Pickering, sister of Bishop O'Connor, London; Miss Gillen, Miss Coleman, of Camden; Miss Green, of Arnprior, and Miss Glynn, of Niagara Falls.

A letter to the Marine and Fisheries Office, Halifax, says that on the 31st ult. a partly decomposed body of a French fisherman was found in the lake on Sable Island, having floated through the channel. The day following a broken dory was found, with the word "Victor" on the stern. On the 5th inst. a life buoy was picked up. On it was painted "Narquoise."

CUSTOMS CHANGES.

A Number of Changes Instituted in the Service.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 15.—Orders-in-Council have been passed, giving effect to numerous changes in the customs branch of the public service. Niagara, Ont., has been reduced to an outport and warehousing port, with its outport at Queenston, under the survey of Niagara Falls. This change is in the direction of economy, as it is not intended to fill the vacancy recently created in the collectorship at Niagara. The outport of Rockland, N.B., has been abolished, and the services of the sub-collector at that point, Alexander Rondreau, have been dispensed with. The development in the west has called for changes in another direction. Virden, Manitoba, has been accordingly created an outport, under the survey of Winnipeg. Nelson, B. C., has been made an independent port of entry, and Kalso, B.C., has been erected into a customs outport and warehousing port. The collector at Port Arthur, Mr. Peter Nicholson, has been superannuated. He is 63 years of age, has seen 21 years' service, and is too infirm to discharge the duties of the office. The superannuation allowance is $420. The salary of the office is about $1000 a year. The next collector will be Mr. J. Wylie. The resignation of Mr. Sydney A. King, collector at Kingsville, Ont., has been accepted from September 1. Mr. Pierre Marier landing waiter at Ottawa, has been superannuated on $222 a year. G. A. Bois, sub-collector at Edmundston, N.B., has been retired on an allowance of $172 a year, and Levite J. Cyr has been appointed in his place. The services of the sub-collector at Sandy Cove, Robt. Bishop, have been dispensed with. Permission has been given the Bishop of Mossonee to import free of duty from England the material to erect a mission house at Moose Fort, James Bay.

MURDER AT AMHERSTBURG.

A Stranger Presumably From Milwaukee Found Shot.

Amherstburg, Ont., August 15.—The body of a man with a bullet hole in the temple was found at the mouth of the Detroit River here last night. He is about 5 feet 8 inches tall, with smooth face, dressed in very small checked white and black suit, white shirt with blue spot. In the pockets were found a white silk handkerchief marked "A. F. Walker," a telegram from Milwaukee to "Fred. Walker, Cincinnati," dated July 5. A pearl-handled jack-knife with cork screw, in case marked "Schluk Hotel Milw," gold cuffb-uttons with flowers on top, a gold shirt-button set with small Milw," gold cuff-buttons with flowers on for a Wilson, Chicago, pool ticket and a letter dated Guelph, Ont., July 16, signed "C. Walker," evidently from his mother. Foul play is suspected and a corner's inquest will be held and the body held till friends are heard from.

HAYHURST AT HOME.

[Special to the Star.]

Dundas, Ont., August 15. — Private Hayhurst, the winner of the Queen's Prize, was feted right royally last night at this, his home. The town was illuminated brilliantly in his honor, and the residents turned out en masse to welcome their hero. A torchlight procession formed at the town hall, and headed by cabs containing the three victorious riflemen, and met everywhere with cheers and waving of many handkerchiefs and flags, marched through the principal streets to the skating rink, where a reception was held. Acting Mayor Wardell officiated as chairman. He congratulated Private Hayhurst and his comrades in a neat speech and read a beautifully illuminated address from the citizens of Dundas. Private Hayhurst replied in his own modest style, referring to his own brilliant achievements as "rather good." He thanked his fellow townsmen heartily for their kind welcome. A number of congratulatory speeches were then made, after which John Bertram, of the Canada Tool Works, presented Private Hayhurst with a magnificent diamond ring on behalf of a number of personal friends. The reception was then brought to a close with "The Maple Leaf Forever."

PROSPECTS FOR D. R. A. MATCHES.

Ottawa, August 15.—The expectations formed early in the season of a big attendance at this year's D.R.A. meeting, which commences on the 26th inst., already give abundant promise of realization. Not only will every province of the Dominion be represented, which insures the prime requisite of a large attendance, but such a boom has been given to rifle shooting by the recent victory of the Canadian team at Bisley that competition will be keener than ever for the honor of a good place on the "Hundred." The programme shows 19 matches, with 899 prizes.

OTTAWA COAL MAN ASSIGNS.

[Special to the Star.]

Ottawa, August 15.—G. W. McCullough, coal and real estate dealer, assigned yesterday to Peter Larmouth pursuant, on a suit entered by the Bank of Ottawa to recover $10,700 on a promissory note. Mr. McCullough, who is prominent in business and social circles, was supposed to be wealthy, but is said to have sunk or locked up a good deal of money in outside business. The extent of his liabilities is not ascertainable, Mr. McCullough being ill, but the total may reach $30,000 or $40,000.

GRATEFUL CHURCHMEN.

[Special to the Star.]

Toronto, August 15.—From Rev. A. C. F. Wood, rector of St. Thomas Church, St. John's, Newfoundland, has been received a copy of a resolution passed by the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Synod of Newfoundland, in which the committee expresses gratitude to the Churchmen of the Diocese of Toronto for their expression of sympathy with the Church in Newfoundland Diocese in its recent embarrassed condition, brought about by a sudden and unexpected commercial disaster, and also for the very substantial assistance rendered in aid of losses sustained in the funds of the diocese, and in particular of the stipends of its poorly paid clergy.

FLOGGED FOR INSUBORDINATION.

[Special to the Star.]

Kingston, August 15.—Henry Davy, a Peterboro youth serving a term in the penitentiary here, received twelve lashes with the cat for insubordination. Though young, he has served several terms in the Central prison and Penetanguishene. He is incorrigible and gave the prison officials much annoyance, hence the resort to flogging. When Davy received the third lash he cried for mercy, without effect. The whole dose was administered.

A PRISON CONSPIRACY.

HAWKER ACCEPTS A CHALLENGE.

DOINGS OF THE PADDLERS AT THE A. C. A. CAMP.

International Cricket Matches—Lawn Tennis at Narraganset—Shamrocks to Play at Toronto, Monday—Miscellaneous Sports.

Sergeant Instructor Hawker is not willing to let any one claim the Canadian fencing championship, as the following letter shows:

To the Sporting Editor of the Star:

Dear Sir,—In the issue of the 10th instant appears a challenge from one Lucie Fournon, of Boston, who challenges any professor of fencing in Canada to an assault at arms, but who lays down the most preposterous regulations for the conduct of such a contest. As one who lays claim to the title of champion all-round fencer of Canada, I would wish to call to the attention of Mr. Fournon that as he has never fought for the championship he cannot claim it, but that if he wants a contest, according to the established rules of Agricultural Hall, London, then I will endeavor to accommodate him, and will also leave the same challenge open to any, but the contest must be as follows: Foil versus foil, sword versus sword, bayonet versus bayonet, sword versus bayonet, and bayonet versus sword. The winner of the first five points in each bout to be declared the winner of that bout; but the total number of points made in all bouts to decide the result of the all-round contest. At any time I am willing to leave a deposit with the Sporting Editor of the "Star," but must demand that the contest shall take place in Montreal about the second week in October, so as to give both parties plenty of time to train in. If more than one answers the above challenge, I am willing to make it a three-sided contest for an evening, turn and turn about.

ARTHUR HAWKER,
Sergt. Instructor.

Montreal, August 15.

Following are the rules for these competitions as followed in the Royal Military Tournament at Agricultural Hall, to which Mr. Hawker refers:

FENCING.

The platforms for fencing will be 24 feet by 4 feet, with a rail at each end.

39. The adversaries will receive the word "On Guard;" when they will come on guard out of distance, in order to avoid surprise. No further word will be given, and the assault will then commence. This rule will hold on every occasion after a hit or halt has been called. Competitors will fight on, until stopped by the Judges. Any competitor who, during the play, steps off the platform with either one or both feet, will lose a hit to his opponent.

40. Hits are counted good only when fairly made (i. e. "fixed"*) on the target, which will be placed on each fencer's jacket, and with the point fixed so that if delivered with a pointed weapon it would penetrate the body, and so be disabling; for this reason no "scratching" hits will count good.

(*"Fixed" means that the foil is perceptibly bent by the resistance of the recipient's body.)

41. Should any unfair means be taken to hide this target, a hit on any part of the body or arms (back or front) between the neck and the waist, is good.

42. The targets sewn upon the jackets will fill the space contained between the collar bone and waist, bounded by an imaginary line falling from the point of the right shoulder to the waist, and by another vertical line falling just inside the left nipple.

43. These targets will be of white buckskin or other material, and the points of the foil will be covered with a black preparation. After a hit the black mark upon the white will be obliterated by chalk.

44. These competitions will be decided by the first five hits.

45. When the men hit together, the judges will decide to whom the hit belongs, or whether it be a counter. The Referee may at his discretion, and after one caution, disqualify any competitor for "countering," or for any "unfair"  play.

( e. g.—A man dropping his weapon to avoid his opponent's hit scoring, will be disqualified).

46. The left hand cannot be used for parrying; a disarm counts nothing.

47. If a hit is received immediately after a fencer has lost the grasp of his foil, it is considered good, but if sufficient time has elapsed for his adversary to perceive his discomfiture before the delivery of the thrust, it counts nothing. In other words, the motion which causes the disarm must be the same motion continued to get home the hit; not first a disarm, and then a second and distinct motion to get on the hit.

The decision of the judges will be given in the ring, will be final, and without appeal.

SABRE vs. SABRE.

For this competition sabres, and not single-sticks, will be used.

55. The rules of sabre play are the same as those of fencing, except that cuts and thrusts upon any part of the body, head, or arms, from head, to not below lowest part of jacket (i. e., hip) are allowed. All hits must be laid on with a true edge, and be disabling (supposing the weapons were sharp, and the combatants unprotected).

56. When a sabre player touches his opponent by breaking his guard, it is not counted a hit. After broken guards and counters, a fresh engagement will be ordered by the Judges, and nothing be counted except that the rule as to the Referee's power of disqualification of a competitor for two countering, after one caution, will equally apply here as in fencing.

Attention is called to the following rules:

(1) A man who lunges on to his opponent's point, and gives a cut, or point, shall either lose the hit or it shall be given a counter, as the Referee may decide.

(2) If a man lunges and gets in his point or cut, but his opponent at the same time cuts at him without lunging, the former shall win the hit.

ATHLETICS.

Toronto Police A. A. Games.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—The annual games of the Toronto police force were held yesterday afternoon at the Island, nearly 4000 people attending them. The most interesting events were the bicycle races and the tug-of-war. Nichol, the champion hammer thrower of Canada, proved his superiority in all the weight-throwing contests. The Hamilton police tug-of-war team was vanquished both by the Royal Grenadiers and the Toronto police force, though only after a long and vigorous struggle. The militia men were hardly as heavy as the Toronto policemen, but they possessed strength, and it was only by a very slender margin that the policemen finally asserted their superiority in the final pull. In the running events, McArthur, Guthrie and Robinson carried off the prizes in the 100 yards, 440 yards and half-mile race respectively. In the five mile class A handicap bicycle race, Young and Doherty on scratch, were unable to overcome the lead allotted to Reid and Crowley, who finished first and second. Time, 1.39 3-5.

Sweeney for the High Jump.

New York, August 15.—M. F. Sweeney, of the Xavier Athletic Association, has been elected a member of the New York Athletic Club. Sweeney will represent the New York Athletic Club in their match with the London Athletic Club on September 21, and will carry the hopes of the "Winged Foot" organization in the high jump. Sweeney holds the world's record of 6 feet 4 1-2 inches in that event. The London Athletic Club will probably rely on J. M. Ryan, of the Irish Amateur Athletic Association, to defeat the Xavier crack. Ryan's best jump is 6 feet 3 1-8 inches.

CHESS.

Another Win for Pollock.

Hastings, England, August 15.—Following are the results of the eighth round in the International Chess Masters' Tournament contested here yesterday: Lasker beat Walbrodt in a Ruy Lopez after 24 moves; Gunsberg beat Mieses in a King's Knight's gambit, declined after 42 moves; Bird beat Steinitz in a Queen's gambit, declined after 36 moves; Scholchter and Bardeleben drew a four Knights game after 40 moves; Tschigorin beat Blackburne in a French defence after 56 moves; Mason beat Burn in an English opening after 31 moves; Pillsbury beat Schiffers in an Evans' gambit after 41 moves; Pollock beat Albin in a Giuoco piano after 50 moves; Tarrasch beat Tinsley in a P to Q 4 opening after 46 moves; Vergani and Marco and Teichmann and Janowski drew a Giuoco piano and a Queen's gambit, declined after 60 moves each. THE TURF.

Fantasy and Azote at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., August 15.—Yesterday was Ladies' day at the Grand Circuit races, so Mr. Hamlin filled his grand stand if he did not fill his cash box. The advertised event which attracted all attention was the matched race between Azote and Fantasy. Most horsemen expected that Mr. Hamlin would not let Fantasy race on account of her bad foot, due to the accident at Cleveland. When she did come on the track the odds were all against her. Andy Welch offered fifty to five aganst her and refused any money on Azote, so the betters sized it up as an exhibition race, and so it proved. Geers drove Fantasy and McDowell drove Azote. The track was in superb condition. The start was bad, Fantasy lagging half a length behind Azote. Geers let the mare out, and at the quarter she was head and head with Azote, but in the next quarter of a mile she dropped back again, content to stick at Azote's flanks. McDowell was driving in exhibition style. Geers drove Fantasy out again, and put her beside Azote at the quarter pole, but when Azote began moving in the stretch the mare couldn't keep the pace, and finished two lengths behind Azote, whose time was 2.09 1-4. In the second heat, to please the grand stand, McDowell held Azote in and let Fantasy trot beside her. When he came into the stretch he swung wide out into the track, giving Fantasy the pole, and drove home a length and a half ahead. Time, 2.12 1-2.

Azote will be taken to Chicago to race Beuzetta if arrangements can be made. Summary:

At Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 15.—The second day of the Indianapolis Driving Club races attracted a somewhat larger crowd, but the card was poor and the contests were tame. Wiggins had an easy walkover in the first race. In the second event Belle Orr, a 15 to 1 shot, carried off the first heat, but the other three were won by Earlmont, the favorite, as he pleased. The 2.27 trot was won easily by Franklin, an unknown horse, from Muncie, who was selling in the pools at 8 to 1.

The Meeting at Redcar.

London, August 15.—Yesterday was the second day of the Redcar second summer meeting. The principal event of the card was the race for the Great National Breeders' Foal stakes of 600 sovereigns, which was won by Lord Zetland's Keelson. Major W. J. Joicey's Linhope was second, and Mr. Douglas Baird's Chasseur was third. Summary:

The sixteenth Great National Breeders' Foal stakes of 600 sovereigns, a sweepstakes of 10 sovereigns each, five forfeit, the remainder from the fund; for three year olds, colts 9 stone, fillies and gelding 8 stone 11 lbs.; the nominator of the winner and the owner of the second each to receive 10 per cent. and the nominator of the second and the owner of the third each to receive 5 per cent. of the whole stakes, winning penalties and maiden allowances; one mile straight; 37 subscribers.

Major W. J. Joicey's b c Linhope, by St. Simon, out of Lanqua.......... 2
Mr. Douglas Baird's b c Chasseur, by Galoping, out of Lady Gower.......... 3

Another Challenge.

Chicago, August 15.—Myron McHenry, the trainer of John R. Gentry, has issued the following challenge:

"I will match John R. Gentry against any pacer in the world for $5000 a side. I will match John R. Gentry against Joe Patchen and Robert J. in a three-cornered race for $5000 a side, the distance to be within fifty feet of the wire and the winner to take the entire $15,000 and the purse offered by the association under whose auspices the race is run. The race must be upon the track offering the most money."

At Mystic Park.

Boston, Mass., August 15.—Continued good weather brought out a large attendance at Mystic Park yesterday. In the 2.25 pace Jenny Rolfe and Annie Shedd were favorites before the race, but after the first heat the opinion of the talent veered around to Annie Shedd. In the first heat Annie Shedd led all the way around. The second heat was Shedds all the way. The result of the third heat caused considerable murmuring, the finish being close. The judges awarded the heat to Jennie Rolfe, though it appeared that Shedd had won by a nose. Rolfe won the fifth easily. The sixth and last and the race was won by Rolfe, Annie Shedd 2, Daisy 3. Time 2.17, made by Daisy. Benton Wilkes was a strong favorite in the 2.17 trot. Nosegay led all the way, and won very easily. Nosegay won the second, being in the lead all the way. The third heat gave the favorite a chance to show his speed and he won by a neck. The fifth and deciding heat was won by Nosegay; Benton Wilkes 2, Catherine Leyburn 3. Time, best, 2.14 1-4. The 2.12 trot, which was the last race of the day, was won by Caprice, she taking the second, third and fourth heats; Nemoline 2, Wistful 3. Time, best, winner, 2.12 3-4.

The Kempton Park Meeting.

London, August 15.—Yesterday was the last day of the Kempton Park second summer meeting. The race of the day was for the City of London Breeders' Foal Plate of 1500 sovereigns. It was won by Lord Alington's Matchmaker, with Mr. T. Cannon's Curzon second, and Mr. F. Peck's Golden Maze (late Luminous) third.

At Saratoga.

Saratoga, August 15.—The attendance at the track was fair, but not as good as the programme would warrant. Scratches were few and fair sized crowds faced the starters in each event. There were but two candidates in the Rancocas Stud stakes and Victorious, a 20 to 1 shot, won from Dorian, who went to the post a prohibitive favorite at odds of 1 to 40.

First race, 5-8 mile—Falling Water, 95, McClain, 5 to 1, 1; Heresy, 104, Griffin, 8 to 5, 2; Marseen, 104, Perkins, 8 to 5, 3. Time, 1.02 3-4. Cotton King, Joansky, Sky Blue and Rena also ran.

Second race, 1 1-8 mile—Song and Dance, 107, Griffin, 11 to 5, 1; Saragossa, 121, Perkins, 4 to 5, 2; Ajax, 106, Lamley, 15 to 1, 3. Time, 1.56 1-4. Sandowne also ran.

Third race, mile—Victorious, 111, Perkins, 20 to 1, 1; Dorian, 115, Griffin, 1 to 40, 2. Time, 1.43. Two starters.

Fourth race, 7-8 mile—Dolabra, 105, Griffin, 1 to 2, 1; Stilanro, 102, Clayton, 8 to 1, 2; Lady Diamond, 101, McClain, 8 to 1, 3. Time, 1.29 1-4. Too-Much-Johnson, Silk Gown, Killirhoe, All Over also ran.

Fifth race, mile—Chant, 115, Martin, 1 to 2, 1; Pop Gray, 112, Perkins, 5 to 2, 2; Lake Shore, 112, Tendrum, 4 to 1, 3. Time, 1.44. Fullerton Lass, Laurel also ran.

Simms Says Its Absurd.

New York, August 15.—Willie Simms, the light-weight American jockey, who has been riding Michael F. Dwyer's horses in England, arrived here yesterday on the White Star steamer Majestic.

"I'm glad to get back here," he said, "although I had a jolly good time abroad. All this talk about the English jockeys not treating us decently is absurd. I was never better treated in my life. Mr. Dwyer's horses had some hard luck, but that's about all there is to it. They were impartially treated, and I have no complaint to make. As a matter of fact, the reason my mounts were beaten is that there were faster horses pitted against them. They have some crack-a-jacks over there. Not only that but they have some great jockeys. Take Cannon, Watts and Loates, for instance, They are all stars, and can ride a race for a man's life. In England there are far more good riders than we have here."

"The English style of riding is entirely differnet from the American. Here the jockey sits as far forward in his saddle as possible, grasps the bridle near the bit, and has short stirrups to brace himself on. In England the boys ride looser, their stirrups are very much longer, and by leaning 'way back in the saddle hold the bridle loosely and give the horse's head plenty of play. We don't believe in that sort of thing here. Perhaps the English style of riding is as good as our own, but I can't say that I admire it at all."

Racing at Aqueduct.

New York, August 15.—Following are results of yesterday's races at Aqueduct:

First race, 5-8 mile—Unity, 6 to 1, R. Doggett, 1; Ben Niad, 7 to 1, J. Regan, 2; King Hero, 12 to 1, C. Flynn, 3. Time, 1.03 1-4. Black Bonnet, Secret Service, Fay II, Terror, Fred K., Lapetite, Exilona also ran.

Second race, 5-8 mile—Irivana, 6 to 1, Ballard, 1; Reba, even, Hamilton, 2; Venetia II, 4 to 1, Keefe, 3. Time, 1.03 1-2. Little Thorn, Cut Along, Harry Rhodes, Ensign, Millie L, Connemaugh also ran.

Third race, 5 1-2 furlongs—Emotional, 3 to 5, Keefe, 1; Heretic, 6 to 1, Hamilton, 2; Hermia, 3 to 1, O'Leary, 3. Time, 1.09 3-4. Saracinesca, Mary Nance also ran.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 mile—Hermanita, 2 1-2 to 1, Keefe, 1; Charade, 7 to 10, R. Doggett, 2; Roundelay, 3 to 1, O'Leary, 3. Time, 1.52 1-2. Only three started.

Fifth race, 6 1-2 furlongs—King Gold, 7 to 5, Hamilton, 1; Campania, 6 to 1, J. Regan, 2; Pay or Play, 2 to 1, R. Doggett, 3. Time, 1.22 3-4. Old Dominion, Clarus, Milan also ran.

Sixth race, 1 mile—Sun Up, even, Overton, 1; Jack the Jew, 6 to 5, Hamilton, 2; True Penny, Sheedy, 3. Time, 1.45. Only three starters.

The Windsor Races.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 15.—Three hot favorites, a second choice and an outsider won at Windsor yesterday. Weather clear, track fast. Results:

First race, six furlongs—Clara Bauer, won; Captain Brown, second; Monte Penso, third. Time, 1.14 1-2.

Second race, five furlongs—Star Beam, won; Minnie Clyde, second; Lillian E, third. Time, 1.02 1-2.

Third race, one mile—Grannon, won; Hazel Hatch, second; Somersault, third. Time, 1.42.

Fourth race, five and a half furlongs—Serena, won; Bay Belle, second; Dr. Kellogg, third. Time, 1.08 3-4.

Fifth race, mile and seventy yards—Mrs. Morgan, won; Seal Diver, second; Lester, third. Time, 1.46 1-2.

Dwyer Cannot be Beaten.

London, Aug. 15.—The remarks attributed to Mr. Michael F. Dwyer have brought out sharp criticisms in the Sun, Sportsman and Westminster Gazette. The Sportsman says: "Clearly Mr. Dwyer cannot be beaten at any price. Heaven help us if Valkyrie beats Defender. The eagle will have a fit."

GOLF.

For International Supremacy.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, August 15.—There will be an invasion of Canada during the first week in September by golfers from the United States, and the question of supremacy in golf between the United States and Canada will be decided at the international golf tournament to be held at Niagara-on-the-Lake on September 5, 6, and 7. The St. Andrew's Club, of Yonkers, N. Y., the oldest golf organization in the United States, is sending up a team, captained by Mr. H. O. Tallmadge, secretary of the United States Golf Association. Mr. L. B. Stoddart, the United States amateur champion, will be a member of the team. The Chicago Golf Club will be represented by twenty entries, and Mr. Charles B. MacDonald, who ran Mr. Stoddart so close at Newport last season, will be the crack representative of the Chicago Golf Club. All the Canadian experts will be present. A full eighteen-hole course has been laid out at Niagara, overlooking the Niagara River and Lake Ontario, on ground remarkable for its beauty and historic interest.

The events are: International championship, open to the United States and Canada, for a beautiful trophy, valued at $300, and an open handicap, a consolation handicap, a driving contest, and a ladies' championship. It is expected also that a professional match will be arranged. Entries close on Wednesday, September 4. The committee is composed of Charles B. MacDonald, Chicago; H. O. Tallmadge, New York; Hobart Chatfield, Chatfield Taylor, Chicago; Langdon Wilks, New York; F. Stancliffe, Montreal; A. Simpson, Ottawa; Judge Kingsmill, Toronto; H. D. Warren, Toronto; Geo. Bleisein, Buffalo; Captain R. G. Dickson, Niagara-on-the-Lake, and Secretaries Chas. Hunter, Niagara-on-the-Lake; Stewart Houston, 18 Toronto street, Toronto.

THE WHEEL.

Titus Lowers the Ten Mile Record.

New York, August 15.—The most notable achievement of the day at the Manhattan Beach Cycling events yesterday was the smashing of the ten mile bicycle record by Fred Titus. He started out in a ten-mile match race with Harry Maddox, holder of the record of 21.39 3-5. Titus got behind the quad on the track, and this so discouraged Maddox that he dropped back, and was a lap behind before the second mile was finished. At the end of the third mile Maddox dropped out. Titus then turned his attention to the record and he fractured it every mile after the first.

It was originally intended to pace the mile with two quads, but one of them broke down and two tandems were pressed into service. The pacing was not fast enough for Titus, who on the last mile cut the pace of the tandem. He finished by knocking the record down to 20.58 4-5, a cut of 40 4-5 seconds. Had there been another quad to pace, Titus would have done much better. It was a great performance and aroused the utmost enthusiasm.

Woodstock Preparing for the L.A.W. Meet.

Woodstock, Ont., Aug. 15.—The Woodstock Amateur Athletic Association is making elaborate preparations for the L. A. W. Circuit meet at Woodstock track, August 29. The bicycle track has been greatly improved by widening the home stretch to 40 feet and carrying the banking at full height around into the stretch like the fountain Perry track at Louisville.

The curves on the track will also be mapped out on the surface in the way adopted on the Manhattan Beach track, enabling riders to hold their positions without trouble when entering or leaving the curves. The new surfacing has also proved a great success and the track is now quite as fast as any quarter mile track in existence.

The Diamond Meet.

The big bicycle meet on the M. A. A. A. Grounds, August 31, promises to be one of the best attended events ever held in this city. Over a hundred of the fastest Class A and Class B cracks of the United States will compete, in addition to the fastest Canadian flyers. Montreal is one loop of the great L. A. W. National Circuit, which begins at Toronto on August 24; Brantford, 26; Stratford, 27; London, 28; Woodstock, 29; Peterboro, 30; Montreal, 31. Every prize given for each of the various events is an uncut diamond, so that the very best men may be expected to compete.

Spokes.

Mr. Frank McNaughton is going to try and lower the Q. A. A. A. track record of 2.41, made last year by McKellar, of Toronto. The attempt will be made on Saturday afternoon on the Association grounds.

The Y. M. C. A. Bicycle Club will ride to Blue Bonnets this evening, leaving building at 8 o'clock. Every member is requested to turn out. On Saturday the ride will be to Bout de l'Isle.

Messrs. A. Martineau, A. Ayerst and N. S. Mitchell leave for Ottawa this evening to represent the M. B. C. at the races there on Saturday.

The M. B. C. will hold a half and one mile handicap race on the M. A. A. A. grounds this evening at 7 o'clock sharp.

Mr. E. J. Paradis leaves for Ottawa to-morrow evening to participate in Saturday's races. He will ride under the Wanderers' colors.

National vs. St. Albans.

Next Saturday, on the National Grounds, the above teams will meet in a regular schedule match. Both teams have scored the same number of victories, and every effort possible will be made by them to come out a winner.

Grounders.

Baseball is quietly making its way in Quebec, and there are actually four clubs now established in the city, the latest of which is that lately organized in connection with the Q. A. A. A., which turned out for its first practice last night on the grounds of the Association. The Royal Canadian Artillery Baseball Club have already sent in a challenge, which will probably be accepted, and the match played some time next week.

President Byrne, of the Brooklyn Club, has not changed his idea regarding the disposition of the Temple Cup. Two weeks ago the President of the Brooklyn Club created something of a sensation by stating that the club winning the championship this year must meet the New Yorks in the extra series to be played after the regular schedule of games is played. At the league meeting to be held next Monday the matter will be settled, and, if President Byrne has anything to say, the Temple Cup will leave New York only on condition that the club finishing first defeats the New Yorks in the extra series. Mr. Byrne talked in a very determined manner yesterday. He said: "If the New York Club give up the cup to be played for by the clubs finishing first and second, they will be committing a very foolish act. They should retain the trophy until they lose it in the same manner that they won it."

The Clintons are opened for challenges from any club the players of which are under eighteen years of age, to play in "Isle Grosbois," on Saturday, the 24th of this month. For conditions address to W. McWilliams, 27 Fulford street, city.

LAWN TENNIS.

The Narragansett Tournament.

Narragansett Pier, Aug. 15. — Fine weather and red-hot tennis were the features at the United States Lawn Tennis Association's matches yesterday morning.

The Wren and Chase vs. Paret and Fischer match proved to be tamer than was expected. Wren and Chase played at close quarters, near the net constantly, and won three straight sets. The other semi-final match was intensely interesting throughout. Foote smashed in grand style, and Howland, his partner, was omnipresent with his heavy ground strokes. On the other side, Budlong was in great form, and he made many a clean stroke all down the alleys. His partner, Talmage, played brilliantly, hitting short returns cross court that won many strokes. Foote and Howland's great work with their net won them the match, three sets to one.

Casino singles, first round—Foote defeated Davis, 6—2, 6—4, and Paret, Stevens and Talmage won by default matches from Wrenn, Goldsborough and Learned.

Consolation doubles, preliminary round—Reed and Coleman defeated Thompson and Bartow, Davis and Brooks defeated Herrick and Kearney.

Owing to the fact that the semi-finals were played yesterday morning, the only tennis played in the afternoon were the matches in the Casino single tournament. The best match of the afternoon was that between Alfred Codman, of Harvard, and J. C. Davidson, a Washington player. Davidson's long reach and careful playing from the back of the court won him the match. John Howland and Young Herrick played at the same time as the previous match. The result was never in doubt, and Howland won with ease. J. P. Paret and E. Thompson, both of New York, had a very close match, and it was not settled until the last stroke. Paret finally managed to win.

Sherbrooke vs. Richmond.

Sherbrooke, August 15.—A tournament between Sherbrooke and Richmond will take place Saturday. The following will represent Sherbrooke: Miss Hobson, Miss W. Hobson, Miss Morris and Mrs. Norreys-Worthington, Messrs. H. M. Tomlinson, W. M. Tomlinson, C. D. White and J. More.

LACROSSE.

Quebec Practicing for Young Shamrocks.

Quebec, Aug. 15.—The lacrosse teams had a good practice last night on the grounds of the Q.A.A.A. as a preparation for the match with the Young Shamrocks in the Senior Independent League, which will be played here next Saturday. The boys hope to make a better showing on that occasion than they did last week, and there is ample room for it.

The Capitals May be Surprised.

There may be a big surprise party on the M. A. A. A. Geounds next Saturday. The Montreal team will be selected from the following players: A. Hamilton, Patterson, Fraser, Murphy, Carlind, A. Reid, W. Reed, McCallum, Irving, Dade, G. Hamilton, Matthews, Gilmour, Collins and a dark horse from the country. The officials selected are: Mr. Pollock, of Cornwall, referee, and Messrs. McKenna and Bramley, of Montreal, umpires.

Shamrocks and Capitals to Meet.

After all, the Shamrocks will play the Capitals at Toronto. At a meeting of the Shamrocks last evening it was decided to send the team to Toronto Monday next.

The International League to Meet.

The Independent Intermediate League will meet this evening at the S. A. A. A. offices at 8.30 o'clock.

CRICKET.

Napanee Defeated by Ottawa.

Ottawa, August 14.—The Napanee cricketers played the Ottawas here yesterday. The match was very interesting, the Ottawas winning by four runs. Score, Ottawa 80, Napanee 76.

Chicago Wanderers Win at Paris.

Paris, Ont., August 15.—A cricket match was played here yesterday on River View Park between the Wanderers of Chicago and the Paris Club, which resulted in a victory for the Wanderers by 106 runs. The game was deciden in the first innings on account of time being called.

Canadians Win at Buffalo.

Buffalo, August 15.—A two innings cricket match between the Dunnville, Ont., and Buffalo cricket clubs was played yesterday, the Canadians winning by a majority of twenty-two, as follows:

Dunnville—First innings, 41; second innings, 77; total, 118.

Buffalo—First innings, 63; second innings, 33; total, 96.

CANOEING.

In Camp on Lake Champlan.

Hotel Champlain, Clinton County, N. Y., August 15.—Tuesday was passed very quietly by the members of the American Canoe Association in camp here. On account of the faulty connections made by the few Sunday trains, there were no fresh arrivals excepting a party from the Holyoke Canoe Club, consisting of Edward C. and Frank B. Towne and Mrs. Towns. A large number arrived yesterday, including the rest of the delegation from the eastern or New England division, and the Rochester and Toronto clubs.

The camp is very pleasantly located on the southern shore of Bluff Point, just opposite the northern end of Valcour Island. The site is well chosen in every way. The tents are pitched in and around a large open field, which slopes gently from the bluff from which the place takes its name down to the water's edge. Large trees are scattered over it singly and in groups, and it is fringed about by the primeval Adirondack forest.

Valcour Island, a mile out in the lake, protects it from eastern and southeastern winds, and the high ground of the point shelters it on the north and west; at the same time the open and level nature of the ground allows a free circulation of air and guards against heat. Even in the warmest days a breeze blows across the ridge and through the camp. "The official tents" are pitched together, and headquarters is an imposing sight this year.

At no time since the organization of the American Canoe Association has a spot for the annual encampment been selected that offers such a wide range of waters, both in variety and extent, combining all that makes canoeing pleasant, as the site which has this year been chosen. Lake Champlain and its sister, Lake George, are familiar to the canoeist, but they have newly discovered charms every time they are visited. "Adirondack" Murray, whose opinion on such a subject is entitled to serious consideration, says with reference to Lake Champlain:

Having seen most of the localities of the Continent noted for their beauty, I can but declare that I know no other spot which for loveliness of appearance, majesty of scenery, and varied resources of entertainment can compare with Lake Champlain. Nature has signalized and history has emphasized it with such charms and attractions that it challenges the attention and invites the presence of all who love the one or are impressed with the other. As among waterfalls there is but one Niagara, so among the lakes there is but one Champlain.

If Lake Champlain is the Loch Lomond of America, Lake George is the Lake Katrine of that ilk. Only it must be distinctly remembered that it is a very American Loch Katrine, spread out and widened to orthodox American dimensions; Still, there is really a great deal in common between the two lakes, especially their peculiarly romantic character.

It was the strategic importance of Champlain that made the Algonquins call it the gate of the Iroquois country long before Champlain became their friend and before the flags of three nations floated over all parts of its surface.

The exact height of Lake Champlain above tide-water is 96.56 feet. The result of this low level is that the altitudes of the mountains and hills on either side have their full relative value. They are not dwarfed by the exalted height at which they are viewed, as is the case with Memphremagog and other lakes that lie well up among the mountains. Another peculiar feature of the low level of Champlain is the broad sandbars that form at the outlets of all the rivers, and the magnificent gores through which those rivers tumble before they reach the quiet waters of the lake.

In the exact centre of the camp and occupying a commanding position half way up the ridge are the three big flagpoles. From the middle and tallest one floats the big pointed red and white burgee of the association, with its bright lettering, two horizontal red stripes and a white one, the latter in the middle and bearing the three letters A. C. A., in red. On one side of the association flag is a big American flag and on the other the British ensign, emblematic of the fact that canoemen from the States adn Canada are united in their sport.

Back of the flags are the headquarters tents arranged in a semicircle. First on the north is that of the signal officer, and next it is the habitation of the Regatta Committee. Then comes the office of Secretary and Treasurer Chas. E. Cragg, and then occupying the post of honor in the centre is the tent of Commodore Walter C. Witherbee. Next in order is the Camp Committee's tent; then follows that of the Transportation Committee. The office of Dr. Nellis, of Albany, the fleet surgeon, is next; and then comes the camp storage tent, where all tents, baggage and other pieces of personal property arriving in advance of their owners are deposited until claimed.

Frequently, however, it happens that the owner arrives before his baggage, and if his friends' tents are overcrowded he may occupy the storage tent until his own arrives. It has been so occupied by one or more such men each night since the camp opened, and on that account has been dubbed by the camp wags "the home for the friendless." A board sign bearing that legend adorns its front to-day, and there is every indication that the usual epidemic of signs will break out in a day or two. It will not stop until it has run its course, which means when almost every tree on the grounds carries an announcement of some kind or other. Sometimes these signs are very witty.

They were made the means of an amusing practical joke at Willsborough Point in 1891, when one of the members of the Ianthe Canoe Club, of Newark, pitched his tent in a grove some distance from the others of his club. His fellow members thereupon posted neatly lettered signs at about every hundred feet through the camp, which conveyed the information that it was but a short distance "to—Picnic Grove. Basket parties welcome." On visitors day, when the rustics from the country round swarmed into the camp, a number of them read the signs in all good faith, and innocently gathered there with their baskets to the great disgust of the occupant, who returned from a sail to find his rustic seats and table in full possession of the unsuspicious, unwelcome and unbidden guests.

In front of the headquarters tents is the large open space for the camp fires where all assemble in the evening to watch the flames and listen to the music, both instrumental and vocal, which is such a pleasant feature of the camp. From here the tents of the main camp stretch along the shore to the south. A space is reserved for the Wawabewa War Canoe Association of Boston. Then comes the tents of the Puritan Canoe Club of Boston, the Mohicans of Albany, Pointe Claire of Montreal, Canada, Amsterdam Canoe Club of Amsterdam, N. Y., Rochester Canoe Club, and the Brooklyn Canoe Club.

In the woods beyond the open and on a point which looks southward are the tents of the Knickerbocker Canoe Club of New York, and beyond them, last of all, are the Vesper Boat Club men of Lowell, Mass. North of the main camp and in the woods which line the shore is located the ladies' camp, or "Squaw Point," as it is called. It is pleasantly located with plenty of shade and a beautiful view of North Hero Island and the Green Mountains. There are almost twice as many here as in the main camp, as all the married men and the men who have sisters in their care live here.

First in this camp are the tents of the Holyoke Canoe Club members; then follow others from the Sing Sing Yacht Club, the Bulwagga Canoe Club of Port Henry, Mohican Canoe Club of Albany, Brooklyn Canoe Club, Yonkers, Vespers of Lowell, Ottawas of Ottawa, Ianthes of Newark, and Rochesters. The last named have an enormous tent, thirty-three feet long and twenty-four feet wide. It is divided into several rooms and is called "the Rochester Hotel" by others than its owners.

The mess shed is half way between headquarters and the ladies' camp. It is a large substantial wooden building built especially for the meet. It is light and airy, but lacks the beautiful view from its open sides which was such a pleasant feature of the dining room at Willsborough two years ago. The meals are very good and are served at the association rate of one dollar a day. A wire has been run down from the big Hotel Champlain, and the room is pleasantly lighted in the evening for dancing and other amusements when the weather may be disagreeable in the open.

The camp is three-quarters of a mile from the Bluff Point station, and half a mile from the Hotel Champlain, where the Post Office is located. It is four miles from Plattsburg. Mail for the camp should not be addressed to Bluff Point, as there are two such places in this State, but to "The A. C. A. Camp, Hotel Champlain, Clinton County, N.Y."

A camp fire was held Sunday night, and another one Monday evening. A trip to Ausable Chasm is talked of, but probably will not be undertaken until more arrive. There are about 700 people in camp at present. The racing may not begin until next Monday, as there are very few racing canoes in camp yet. Open paddling boats are largely in majority. The only well-known racing men present yet are Paul Butler and Howard Gray, of the Vesper Boat Club, of Lowell, Mass., and Frank C. Moore, of the Knickerbocker Canoe Club, of New York, though a number more are expected to-morrow.

[Special to the Star.]

A. C. A. Camp, Bluff Point, Lake Champlain, N.Y., August 15.—The fifteenth annual meet of the American Canoe Association opened at Bluff Point, one of the most beautiful spots on Lake Champlain. The site was given to the association by the management of Hotel Chmplain, and is about three-quarters of a mile above the hotel and four miles from Plattsburg. The location is charming, and possesses many advantages over former camping grounds of the A. C. A. Magnificent scenery on all sides, the Adirondacks in the background, the blue expanse of water in the foreground, encircling the green shores of Valcour Island, and away off in the hazy distance the Green Mountains of Vermont rise up and seem to mingle with the clouds. The whole country about here teems with historic interest, and has been the scene of many a battle, first between the French and the Indians. The canoes of the A. C. A. are not the first that have been beached on this pebbly shore or that have stolen noiselessly over the blue waters. Long ago the red man paddled his bark canoe on Lake Champlain and built his rough wigwam where these A. C. A. tents now stand. Valcour Island, opposite, whose green shores are dotted with peaceful farmhouses, was once the scene of a most horrible and cruel massacre of Hurons by the fierce Iroquois.

The camp is situated on gently rising ground. It skirts the edge of beautiful woods. That this part of Lake Champlain is particularly free from storms. The water is clear and pure, and sufficiently cool to make one feel refreshed and exhilarated after the morning swim. A good pebbly beach extends along the shore, which curves in, making a safe harbor for canoes. The transportation facilities are all that can be desired. All trains on the D. & H. stop at Bluff Point station, a handsome stone building surrounded with terraced lawns of well-kept grass. Waggons from the camp meet the trains and carry the indescribable duffer with which every canoeist travels. The roads are kept in excellent order by the owners of Hotel Champlain, and the woods are threaded with rolled paths, where one can wander for miles. Valcour Island is just opposite the camp, and to-day is lashed into white-capped waves, which sparkle in the sunshine. A few canoes are out having a skim over the course, but most of the men have not yet had time to rig up their sails, and are at present devoting their energies to making their tents comfortable and habitable. Numbers of yachts pass by the camp and now and then a steam launch, anxious to be civil, but not quite sure of the A. A. A. whistle, goes by giving half a dozen shrill screams by way of salute.

The Commodore, Mr. Walter C. Witherbee, a member of the Central Division of the A. C. A., and of the Bulwagga Club, of Port Henry, N.Y. The Central Division is to be congratulated on its choice. Mr. Witherbee has been untiring in his efforts to make this meet a success. He displayed excellent judgment in choosing the site and has been here since August 1, overseeing all the preparations. Besides being a good, practical canoeist and yachtsman, he is a charming man to meet socially, and by his tact and pleasant manner will aid much toward the social success of the camp. Mrs. Witherbee is among the ladies at Squaw Point. Her tent is not of the severe simplicity of the Commodore's tent, but gay with bright colored rugs, draperies, flags and flowers. Squaw Point is well filled, considering that the meet has only just opened. There are already between thirty and forty ladies in camp. Squaw Point is to the right of headquarters, across a ravine spanned by the most picturesque little rustic bridge. It is well shaded by large trees.

The arrangements for the general mess are excellent. The cafe is a large modern structure, principally consisting of roof and floor, but the tables are neatly laid, and the menu is decidedly good. There is a small shop in the camp where those who do their own cooking can buy the necessary articles, and those who do not can have Hughs' sweets and Manhard's chocolates. So far almost all are patronizing the cafe, but when things settle down a bit there may be a few sufficiently imbued with the true camping spirit to do their own cooking. Among those who have already arrived in camp are: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gray, of the Vesper Club of Boston; Mr. Paul Butler, of the Vespers; R. J. Wilkin, of the Aligator Club, Brookline; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hohn, Aligator Club; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hewn, Miss A. Scott, Mr. W. L. Scott, and Mr. D'Arcy Scott, of Ottawa; Mr. and Miss Cartwright, of Kingston. Commodore Witherbee has a large staff of workingmen, so there has been no waiting for floors and skids, flags, poles, steps and other carpentering work, and consequently not much grumbling. This is, of course, the quiet week of the meet given to yachting and preparing for the races, which begin next Monday. The sailing men spend most of the time with their canoes, and for the others there is always plenty of amusement.

Hotel Champlain, N.Y., August 15.—A game of baseball between a nine from the canoe camp and one made up of guests at this hotel, who were the challengers, was played yesterday. The canoe men won by 13 to 9. The game was played on the lawn in front of the hotel. The campers marched to and from the camp in a body, carrying banners and the camp band at their head. The "Camp Ambulance Corps," with an appalling array of axes, saws, bottles and stretchers was a conspicuous and amusing feature of both the procession and the game. A return game will probably be played soon.

A Long Paddle.

Mr. Anthony Dowd, brother of Mr. L. Dowd, of the Boucherville Boating Club, and Mr. de L. Selby left on Sunday in the canoe "Duck" to paddle up the Richelieu and Lake Champlain to the A. C. A. meet at Bluff Point.

AQUATICS.

Grand Trunk Win.

The second half of the unfinished water polo championship game between Montreal Swimming Club and Grand Trunk teams, was played last night, Grand Trunk scoring four more goals.

Gaudaur Arrives in Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—Jake Gaudaur, the champion sculler of America, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, and took up his quarters at the Empress Hotel, where he will be the guest of Richard Dissette until after his race with Edward Durnan over the Island course next Monday afternoon. Gaudaur says that he is in first-class condition, and as fit as a fiddle for the race.

It is Gaudaur's intention to row at the Austin regatta in November. The promoters have offered an English professional four $1000 for expenses to come over and meet America's best. Outside of the Texas regatta Gaudaur has no races in prospect.

Opinions of Yesterday's Races.

London, August 15.—The Times says of yesterday's race: "It is likely enough that the Niagara would have won if she had not touched the Portsmouth Spit mark."

With regard to the schooner race, the Times says: "The Amphitrite won undying laurels for the way in which she beat Yampa to windward over a lee tide. She was handled in the same perfect way as on Friday. The Yampa's length and sail spread told as they went free to the Bullock buoy. A long beat was then made home, and, sailing in peerless style to windward, the Amphitrite kept her lead. But with regard to the tide, the Yampa was favored by the ebb-tide lifting her home."

Yet it may be said she was fairly beaten by two miles in a fifty-mile course in a fine, true sailing breeze. So that a reliable and decisive international schooner victory has at last been gained by a representative British vessel. Both had a fair trial on every point of sailing. The sail area of Yampa is 10,033 square ft. and that of Amphitrite 8297 square feet."

The Sportsman says that Amphitrite had her usual cruising sails with working top-sails. Yampa carried the same canvas as when she crossed the Atlantic, and her boom and fore-sails most probably placed her at some disadvantage.

Valkyrie's Spars Unloaded.

New York, August 15.—The Valkyrie's racing spars, which were brought over by the Anchor Line steamship Furnessia, were carefully unloaded from that vessel yesterday and placed upon the company's pier at the foot of West Twenty-Fourth street.

The sun had almost set when the last stick was laid carefully on the pier, and the twenty-five men who had struggled all the afternoon with them breathed a sigh of relief when the task was done. They were awkward things to handle, for they were long and heavy. Then they had been wrapped in burlaps and straw and had to be moved very carefully to avoid ripping the covering, which shielded them from the public gaze.

Unloading the big booms was hard work, but the real work did not come until the ropes were attached to the two mainmasts. They made the hoisting engines on the ship puff and tug as they lifted first one end and then the other over the side. They appeared to be about 120 feet long, and with the wrapping of straw were more than two feet in diameter. They were so long and unwieldy that one end had to be pushed far out over the water before the other could be taken from the ship. The wooden mast was undoubtedly the heavier, and was the last to be taken ashore. There were in all ten pieces in the outfit, and their appearance would indicate that the Valkyrie is provided with two complete sets of spars. Their coverings will not be taken off until they are taken to Erie Basin, when the Valkyrie goes there to be put in racing trim.

THE WILD FLOWERS OF CANADA.

The coupons on page 5 of the Star represent portfolios Nos. 17 and 18, of "The Wild Flowers of Canada." These portfolios contain plates of the flowers of the Dominion, painted in natural colors and accompanied by full text, scientific and popular names, localities, and blooming time, a beautiful work of reference, by which every flower can be identified and its name instantly known. The commuted price at which the Star readers are enabled to procure these portfolios will hold good only during the time the coupons are running through the Star. We cannot guarantee back numbers.

AN APPRECIATED OBJECT LESSON.

The picture of ex-Speaker Crisp leaning over the gallery of the British House of Commons watching the re-election of Speaker Gully by the Unionist Parliament seems to have impressed the Americans not a little. The Boston Herald, for instance, says of it, under the title, "A Contrast":

> Ex-Speaker Crisp sat in the gallery of the British House of Commons yesterday, and witnessed the imposing ceremonies attending the re-election of a speaker of that body by the unanimous vote of both parties, the leaders of each side having apparently vied with each other in the eloquence of their pleas for the continued preservation of that position from partisan politics. The contrast between the methods of choosing a speaker of the Commons and a speaker of the House of Representatives in this country must have impressed Mr. Crisp.

The Philadelphia Times, in the midst of a long commendatory editorial, says of the British Speaker that "in practice he is simply a presiding officer, and the absolute impartiality that is expected of him — and which makes it possible for a Conservative House to elect a Liberal speaker without dissent—indicates one point in which the English system will be generally acknowledged as more highly developed than our own." Crisp watching the re-election of Gully was a kindergarten lesson in sensible Parliamentary procedure that may yet bear fruit.

LADY OFFICE HOLDERS.

Experience in the Western States seems to dispose of the flattering notion, entertained by some, that if the franchise were extended to the ladies—as Mr. Davin proposed prior to his marriage—the woman movement would rest there, and our wives and daughters would be content that we should hold all the offices and reap all the honors and profits. It has not been so, by any means, in the American West. Whether or not we regard woman franchise as a desirable thing, we must not make the mistake of thinking of it as standing alone. It implies office-holding as well as voting for office holders. For instance, nineteen women are holding the office of county superintendent of public instruction in the banner State of Kansas. Twelve were elected by the Republican party and six by the Populists. An American journal, in commenting on the situation, tells us that "in several counties women have been pitted against each other, and it has been a race to see which one could attend the most meetings and visit and talk with the greatest number of voters." In Wyoming and North Dakota the positions of superintendent of public instruction are filled by women; and now the Republicans of Dickinson County, Kansas, have nominated Miss Mace King, a leading society woman of Abilene, for registrar of deeds. "This is an office of profit in Kansas, and the local politicians usually get into a lively scramble in the preliminary contest for nomination," says our informant. There was the usual scramble in Dickinson County, a half dozen men travelling the county over to pack township delegations, but it availed them nothing.

This, of course, proves nothing for or against woman suffrage. It simply shows what any man of sense might know, that the granting of the ballot to the ladies is not a "reform," but merely the fragment of a reform. The sex will not be content, as some rose-water agitators pretend, to mark their cunning little ballots, mail them in the cute little ballot-box and then go shopping. They, being human, will occasionally think that they might do worse than vote for one of themselves." And so they might—so far as the filling of the office is concerned. The point, however, is that the movement should be regarded as a whole, and not finally judged on the comparative merits and demerits of one fraction of it.

THE WATER RATES.

Montreal is admirably situated naturally to get a first-class water supply, and get it cheaply.

It stands on the flowing St. Lawrence.

It is able to do most of its pumping by water power.

The mountain provides a site for a pair of reservoirs which are close to the centre of the city and yet high above the street levels.

A stranger visiting in the city would expect to find pure water in our taps and to be told that our water rates were phenomenally low.

This would be so because the aforesaid stranger would not know that we have a lot of aldermen who could overcome any natural advantage the world can produce.

As a matter of fact we have bad water and we pay exorbitant rates.

This becomes clearer when we compare our position with that of other cities. Below are some of the rates for water charged in other cities, compared as closely as may be with the tremendous water tax here:

TORONTO.—Meter rate, twelve and a-half cents per thousand gallons.

MONTREAL.—Ex-Supt. Davies estimates that we pay on an average one dollar per thousand gallons.

HALIFAX—$3000 real estate, or $180 rental—$7.80 per annum.

MONTREAL.—$180 rental—$18 per annum, counting no extras.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—14 cents per thousand gallons.

MONTREAL.—$1.00 per thousand gallons (estimated).

BOSTON.—Dwelling house at $3000, or $180 rental—$8.00 per annum, with $5.00 for closet.

MONTREAL.—At rental of $180—$18 per annum.

NEW YORK.—Naughty, Tammany-cursed New York—a 3-story house, with 20-22 1-2 feet frontage pays $9.00 per annum; same house with 22 1-2 to 25 feet front pays $10 per annum.

MONTREAL.—Such a house here would pay from three to thirty times as much.

So much for a few comparisons. Ex-Supt. Davis tells us that the water costs the city 14 cents a thousand gallons—much more than it ought to—and that they make the citizens pay no less than a dollar per thousand gallons, or over seven times the cost. Think of it! A profit of over seven hundred per cent. for the city, and yet the aldermen must borrow with both hands, else they are not satisfied. Surely the limit has been reached when the corruptionists try to actually increase this already shameless tax on water—that necessity of necessities. A tax on bread would be less onerous.

But at last the city seems stirred. Men whom the flagrant deeds of the past have failed to move now appreciate the significance of this homely object lesson. It is common talk on the streets that if the "clique" do not withdraw this last imposition, not one of them will get back to the Council Chamber next February. The meaning of corrupt city government has at last come home to the people. They know now that the whistle, be it ever so prettily blown upon, must be paid for. If the "clique" insist upon taking this new water-rate money out of our pockets, it is the last they at least will get. The tax bills of to-day will defeat them next winter; and it is by no means certain that in such a case we should pay too high a price for the victory.

Yet there is no reason why we should be plundered of the money that this last "stand and deliver" demands; and there is still time for the worthy minority in the Council to drive the horde off.

EX-QUEEN MARIE.

Berlin, August 15.—A despatch from Guenden states that fears are entertained that ex-Queen Marie of Hanover, the mother of the Duke of Cumberland, will become totally blind. Spots are forming on the right eye, and it is feared they will extend to the other. The ex-Queen is very popular, and her danger excites much sympathy.

THE VENEZUELA BOUNDARY.

New York, August 15.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamer Hubert, from Para, yesterday, are Sir Edward O'Malley, chief justice of British Guiana, and George Wilberforce Grant, of the British commission on the Venezuela boundary question.

MORE MISSIONARIES FOR CHINA.

San Francisco, August 15.—The steamer China sailed for the Orient Tuesday evening. She carries in the cabin ten Presbyterian missionaries, who are undaunted by the reported massacre of their compatriots in the East.

SPANISH RAILWAY COLLISION.

Barcelona, August 15.—Two railway trains ran into each other near here on Tuesday. Thirty persons were severely injured.

DAKOTA EMBEZZLER SENTENCED.

Pierre, S.D., August 15.—Ex-Treasurer Taylor was on Wednesday sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

MANITOBA'S MARVELLOUS CROPS.

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT'S OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

Magnificent Yields in Roots as Well as Cereals, and Live Stock in Splendid Condition---Progress of the Dairy Industry.

Winnipeg, August 15.—The official crop and live stock bulletin of the Manitoba Government, a brief abstract of which has already appeared in the "Star," contains information as to the condition of the crops and live stock, the probable yield per acre of the various kinds of grain and the quantities of land broken for the first time this season, etc., and is summarized from returns received from the regular correspondents of the department made under date of August 10.

The province is divided into districts, as follows:

Northwestern district—Comprises the municipality of Shell River, Bolton, Russell, Silver Creek, Rossburn, Ellice, Birtle, Shoal Lake, Strathclair, Harrison, Clan William, Archie, Miniota, Oak River, Blanchard, Saskatchewan, Odanah and the Lake Dauphin district.

Southwestern—Wallace, Woodworth, Daly, Elton, Cornwallis, Whitehead, Sifton, Pipstone, Glenwood, Oakland, Arthur, Winchester, Morton and Turtle Mountain.

North Central—Rosedale, Lansdowne, Westbourne, North Cypress, North Norfolk, Langford, Portage la Prairie, St. Francois Xavier, Woodlands, St. Laurent and Posen.

South Central—South Cypress, South Norfolk, Dufferin, Morris, Montcalm, Rhineland, Stanley, Pembina, Lorne, Louise and Argyll.

Eastern—Gimli, Rockwood, St. Andrew's, St. Clements, St. Paul's, Springfield, Kildonan, St. Boniface, Assiniboia, Tache, Macdonald, Ritchot, de Salaberry, Hanover, La Broquerie, Franklin and Rosser.

Regarding the weather, the reports of correspondents from all parts of the Province may be summed up as follows: "Copious rainfall in June, with ample heat, causing a luxuriant growth of all kinds of grain, grasses and vegetables; July, continued rains, with cooler weather, increased the growth to an unprecedented degree; grain filling well, but crops maturing slowly; local hail storms confined to small areas; no frosts."

The average rainfall during June was 3.51 inches, the greatest rainfall being experienced at Hartney, where it was 6.14 inches, and the slightest at Hill View, where it was only 1.21. In July the average rainfall was 3.84 inches, the greatest in any one locality being at Rathwell, where it was 6.74 inches, and the smallest at Rosebank, where it was 2.35 inches.

The appended table shows the estimated average yield per acre for each district:

District.	Wheat bushels.	Oats bushels.	Barley bushels.	Peas bushels.	Flax bushels.	Rye bushels.
Northwestern	28.0	47.0	34.0	37.0	10.0	26.0
Southwestern	24.6	43.5	35.5	26.3	15.3	24.1
North Central	25.7	46.5	35.5	20.0	15.0	....
South Central	26.5	47.5	37.0	25.4	15.3	19.3

North Central	1.5	1.3
South Central	1.3	1.6
Eastern	1.3	1.9

Owing to the continued rains in June and July, sloughs, hay meadows are now full of water in many parts of the province. It has, therefore, been impossible for farmers to cut the meadows as in past years. Many farmers waited, hoping to cut later when meadows dried up, but at last were compelled to cut lighter hay on higher lands. Haying the province over is later than usual. If dry weather continues during harvest it is possible that many tons of hay may be gathered after the harvest rush is over. Many farmers, however, are depending on oats, cut green fodder corn, or the straw from their immense grain crops, to provide fodder for their stock the coming winter.

Reports state that the barley harvest commenced in many parts of the province from the 1st to the 10th August, but was confined to small areas. A few wheat fields were cut by the 10th instant. About one-third of the correspondence report harvesting to commence on the 15th instant. The 20th August may be given as the date when harvesting will be general over the province.

Farmers have this year confined their operations to work done by themselves, hiring as little help as possible. With the magnificent crops almost ready to cut, the fact that they are not able single handed to harvest the same, forces itself upon them, and a general demand comes from all parts of the province for men to help in the harvest fields. The demand by districts is for 5700 men.

It will be a serious loss to the province if this demand cannot be supplied. Farmers are willing to pay fair wages, from $25 to 30 a month and board, but will not, however, pay fancy prices of from $3 to 4 a day. The laborers' excursion from the East, leaving on the 13th and 20th August, it is hoped will supply the demand.

The dairy industry in Manitoba has made very rapid strides during the present year. There are now nineteen creameries in the province, most of which are operated on the co-operative plan. Twelve of these commenced operations this year. The smallest output from any one creamery is two hundred pounds per day, and the largest is one thousand, the average being about 430. There are also a number of private dairies, where the centrifugal separator is used for separating the cream from the milk. There are forty-two cheese factories in the province, of which twenty were established this year. Their daily output is from two hundred to one thousand pounds for each factory, the average being about four hundred and fifty.

Potatoes and roots—Reports are nearly all alike favorable, such as "Good," "An abundant crop," "Extra good," "Very good." Actual yields will be given in the December bulletin.

Pastures—Pastures are reported as green and fresh as in the spring. The supply of milk at factories is a sure index of the condition of pastures. Up to date there has been no decrease, but an increase, in the milk supply.

Condition of live stock—The condition of live stock depends on the food they get. Nature has been so lavish in the supply of grass and pasture this season that reports may be summed up as follows: "Find condition; could not be better."

Where reports are all so favorable, it is necessary to quote only a few of the remarks, which are applicable to the whole, as follows, by districts:

North-western — "Have estimated wheat yield low. Should it come off free from frost, it will be two crops in one."

"We have had splendid rains; crops have not looked so well since 1887."

"Grain too heavy; commencing to lie down."

"Crops could not be better; best crop for many years. What we want now is dry, hot weather, and we have a heavy harvest."

"We beat the world this year for crops of all kinds. The wheat crop is the finest I have ever seen."

"The grandest crop that I have seen for years; rather late in this district, but the weather is good, and if it comes off all right, one can scarcely estimate the yield, which, especially in wheat, will be enormous."

South-western—"Weather fine, dry and cool nights. If wheat fills well it will exceed figure stated; if hot winds come it will not be above 20."

"The difference between good and poor cultivation is very apparent this year. Summer fallow will go 40 bushels to the acre where put in with press drill, other lands not over 20."

"Hot winds early in July greatly reduced our yield of grain."

"A very fine growing season and no hot winds; prospects good."

"Have placed estimate low to be safe. With favorable harvest weather yield will be much above figure given."

North Central—"Prospects of a good return for the farmers' labor never were better."

"All grain in splendid condition and ripening fast."

"Prospects of a bountiful harvest never better. Wheat, oats, barley, in fact everything is a splendid crop."

"Crops never looked better. Weather up to date all that can be desired."

South Central—"Manitoba has not seen such a year since 1879. This will be a record year if no misfortune comes before harvest."

"This year promises an abundant harvest, but weeds are bad."

"The season has been all that could be desired. First-class prospects."

Eastern—"Dry sunny weather and absence of frost from this date—August 5th — will ensure an abundant harvest."

"Everybody hopeful; numerous enquiries for farm property."

"The season has so far been remarkable for the rapid growth. We want hot, sunny days now to ripen the grain. Oats and wheat somewhat smutty except where the blue-stone was used. Barley cut August 2nd; wheat ready August 15th; prices good; farmers happy."

THAT ALIEN LABOR LAW AGAIN.

Washington, D. C., August 15.—The Tuxedo Club, of New York, which owns a park on the St. Lawrence River, devoted to fishing and boating, is liable to be called upon soon to defend a charge of violating the alien contract labor law. It is said that complaints have been forwarded to Washington to this effect. The ground of complaint is that the Club has employed Canadian boatmen in large numbers, whereby the American boatmen have been practically debarred from pursuing their avocation.

A VALUABLE STAMP FIND.

Louisville, Ky., August 15.—Hubbard Bush and Theodore Dierson, Court House janitors, have acquired sudden wealth. While destroying old papers Dierson noticed odd looking blue stamps on some of the papers. He took them to a stamp collector, and it was discovered that they were what is known as St. Louis "Bear" stamps, issued in 1845-7. They are now very rare. St. Louis and New York stamp collecting firms bid for them, and the former got them for five thousand dollars.

MYSTERIOUS CATTLE DISEASE.

Jamestown, N. Y., August 15.—Disease broke out in a dairy in Centralia. The cattle refused to eat, and in about 12 hours, having all the symptoms of poison, five cows from this dairy have died. A cow owned on an adjoining farm was stricken with the disease at night and died next morning. Fears are entertained that the disease may spread to other dairies.

SHOT BY HIS DIVORCED WIFE.

Eureka, Kansas, August 15.—James Amick was shot and killed by Mrs. Ella Amick, his divorced wife, yesterday, ten miles north-east of here, in the presence of Mrs. Amick's brother and the latter's wife. Amick had been threatening the woman, and finally turned upon her with a raw hide, when she seized a Winchester and fired. He died within a few minutes. Mrs. Amick surrendered.

Women do many things that get them all out of order. Careless dressing, exposure to draughts, over exertion—these and many others start the trouble. A slight cold may run into the most serious complications.

Perhaps none of these things would amount to much if only care were exercised to remedy them at once. Neglect is a most prolific cause of serious female troubles. By and by, the trouble is so much aggravated that the physician's skill is needed and then the dread of the examinations so much in vogue at present, deter the sufferer still longer.

As a matter of fact, examinations and "local treatment" should not be submitted to till everything else has failed. Nine times in ten, they are wholly unnecessary. Women were cured before these obnoxious methods came into practice. For over 30 years, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been successfully prescribed for all derangements of the womanly organism. It is remarkable for its effect on the whole system. It makes the blood pure, makes digestion better, helps stomach, kidneys and bowels and is wonderful in its effects on the generative organs. It immediately begins to allay the inflammation and stops the debilitating drain that is always apparent. As the inflammation ceases, the pain stops, the nerves are quieted and the increased bodily strength does the rest.

All suffering women should send for the 168 page book "Woman and Her Diseases" by Dr. R. V. Pierce. It will be sent free in plain sealed package on receipt of ten cents to partly cover postage, by WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Valkyrie III will Arrive Sunday.

New York, August 15.—H. Maitland Kersey, Lord Dunraven's representative on this side of the Atlantic, expects that Valkyrie III will arrive Sunday. Mr. Kersey said he would send a tug to meet the Valkyrie and tow her into port when she arrives. She will go to an anchorage off Bay Ridge. A day or two later she will be docked in the Erie Basin. Her hull will be cleaned, and she will change her jury spars for her racing rig. Mr. Kersey was asked what about the racing spars which arrived on the Furnessia, Monday, for the Valkyrie III. He said there need be no mystery about them, except that he would not permit them to be measured. He explained that there are several sets of nearly everything in the line of spars that a cup challenger needs, including two booms, one of steel and one a hollow wooden stick, together with several gaffs, and two masts, a steel and a wooden one.

The Valkyrie's present mainmast which she is using on her trip across is from 25 to 30 feet shorter than the one she will use when racing. The Yachting World, in speaking of the weight of the Valkyrie's spars and sails which arrived on the Furnessia, says:

"The total weight of the sails is 7 tons 8 cwt., and their value close on £2,-000. The vessel's spars weigh something approaching 16 tons. Though these will never be aloft at the same time, her sails and gear when racing will be nearly 20 tons weight."

The new Dutch tank steamer Rotterdam, which sailed from Rotterdam on July 30 and arrived at this port on Monday night, brought news of the cup chaser Valkyrie III., which she sighted and spoke on the way over. Captain August Voge, of Rotterdam, says that when he had been seven days out, on the evening of August 6, at 6.40 o'clock, his lookout sighted a ketch-rigged yacht ahead, just off the port bow.

The yacht was then on the starboard tack, sailing with a light west-northwest wind. She had all sail set. Her sails consisted of a fore staysail, a foresail, a gaff topsail and a jigger sail. Captain Voge says he kept off and bore down upon the yacht, when she set her signal displaying the letters N. O. P. G.

The Rotterdam passed the yacht on her weather side and ran within a few fathoms of her.

"What ship are you?" called Captain Voge.

"The Valkyrie," came the answer. "Will you report us in New York all well?"

"What sort of weather have you had?"

"Very bad. Strong southwest winds all the way."

"How long have you been out?"

By this time the Rotterdam had passed the yacht and had drawn away so far that Capt. Voge says he couldn't tell whether the answer was "Eight days" or "Nine days."

Capt. Voge says there were ten men on the deck of the Valkyrie, and all of them were dressed in oilskins. There was also a life line running along the yacht's deck from her fore to her after rigging. The speaking took place, according to the Rotterdam's log, in latitude 50.19 north, longitude 34.35 west, which, as Capt. Voge figured it, made the Valkyrie 1788 miles still away from this port.

In about an hour from the time of speaking her, Capt. Voge says he lost sight of the yacht astern. He looked her over carefully with a seaman's eye, and he could see nothing out of gear about her.

By the time the Valkyrie gets here almost every one connected with the cup challenger will either be in New York or on their way across the Atlantic. Arthur Glennie, a well-known amateur, who will sail on the Valkyrie III, left England for New York on Saturday, while Lord Dunraven will leave on the Teutonic on August 21, preceded by Designer Watson and Sailmaker Ratsey, who, it is thought, will come by way of Glasgow.

Preparing the Defender.

New York, August 15.—Work was very slack on board of the Defender yesterday. The great white sloop lay at her old moorings in Echo Bay, New Rochelle, and Hudson Park was crowded with spectators, waiting for her to spread her sails and scud away for a short flight. This, to their great disappointment, she did not do, lying placidly at anchor all day, with her revarnished spars stripped of every shred of canvas.

The only men busy about the boat were the painters, and they had the big job on hand of repainting every inch of the aluminum top sides. As has been pointed out in the World, the only possible way to prevent aluminum from rotting and pitting in salt water is to keep it well protected with paint. Mr. Iselin recognizes this fact thoroughly, and Defender's painters have what is practically a never-ceasing job. The white paint used on Defender is a new compound, smelling strongly of turpentine. Its ingredients those who know refuse to tell.

About 2 p. m. the suit of sails lying on Defender's deck was taken aboard the tender Hattie Palmer, and taken to Premium Point, where they were placed in one of Mr. Iselin's store houses, to be out of the way and retrimmed.

Capt. Haff and Mr. Iselin seemed to think that Defender had been marvelously lucky in her encounter with the big lightning storm. Mr. Iselin said that the boat would be taken to the dry-dock at Erie Basin either on Thursday afternoon or Friday morning.

Passengers by the Bay Ridge boats to Coney Island yesterday noticed a big white sloop yacht lying off the Atlantic Yacht Club house, and they wondered which it was, Defender or Vigilant. Some argued that because George Gould is commodore of the Atlantic Club it must be Vigilant, while others who had seen Defender were certain that it was the newer Herreshoff boat.

As a matter of fact, it was Vigilant, and, strange as it may seem, so near alike are the yachts above the water-line that it is hard for anybody but an experienced yachtsman to tell which is which from a distance.

From the constant alterations going on on board Vigilant, it is evident that Mr. Willard means to get some extra speed out of her at the trial races, even if it is only a few seconds. Just before "colors" yesterday morning she filled away from her anchorage and went down the bay for a trial spin. It was to try the new Sawyer mainsail, which has had four new cloths added to it. The wind was light from about W.N.W. She sailed down as far as the Narrows, and then took a short trip to the upper bay, returning to her anchorage at 9.30.

The new mainsail was unbent soon after she returned and sent ashore for further alterations. The crew were then set to work bending the Herreshoff mainsail, the one with the cloths running from leech to luff. The sail was bent early in the afternoon and the sail cover put on. Mr. Willard and Mr. Fish went on board at 6 p. m. to dinner. It is understood that the yacht will take another spin down the bay to-day to stretch the Herreshoff sail. She is to go on the dry-dock on Thursday.

Old sailors have no faith in the Herreshoff style of mainsail. They say that its seams wrinkle up and become rough, that ridges form after a strong breeze, and that the sail will never set as well as one with cloths running the other way. Be that as it may, the mainsail carried by Defender has not acted that way, if those on board are to be believed. It is also a fact that the Wilson sail used on Defender last Saturday at Newport and the Sawyer sail on Vigilant to-day are as near perfect setting sails as one could wish for.

Defender Does Not Come up to Expectations.

New Rochelle, N. Y., August 15.—The Defender took a spin up the Sound yesterday morning. Despite the high praise upon the new cup defender it cannot be concealed that the members of the syndicate are a trifle worried. A prominent yachtsman, who does not wish his name mentioned, in speaking of the chances of the Defender against the Valkyrie, to-day said: "In spite of the alleged satisfaction felt by the home syndicate over the performance of the Defender, it is nevertheless a fact that the yacht has not fulfilled their expectations." Many yachtsmen in this neighborhood, who have watched the Defender, also express the opinion that if the Valkyrie is as good as represented the cup is in danger. The Defender will leave here this afternoon for Erie basin, where she will go into dry dock preparatory to the trial races.

To Measure Vigilant and Defender.

New York, Aug. 15.—Measurer Hyslop, of the New York Yacht Club, said yesterday that he would officially take the measures of the Defender and Vigilant to-morrow or Saturday, either just before they entered the dry dock or immediately after they had been floated again.

MONTREAL GENERAL HOSPITAL.

THIRTY TWO THOUSAND OUT-DOOR PATIENTS.

Ladies in Silks and Carriages Seeking Free Treatment—The Attractive Appearance of the Renovated Hospital.

Mr. F. Wolferstan Thomas filled the chair at the meeting of the governors of the Montreal General Hospital yesterday afternoon, and among the other governors present were Messrs. Chas. Alexander, vice-president; Geo. Bury, Dr. F. W. Campbell, J. P. Cleghorn, Amos Cowen, John Crawford, Thos. Cushing, Walter Drake, S. H. Ewing, treasurer; Dr. F G. Finley, secretary; Wm. Francis, Charles Garth, Philip Henry, Dr. Hutchison, John Kerry, G. M. Kinghorn, J. E. Kirkpatrick, J. B Learmont, Dr. MacCallum, Owen McGarvey, F. B. McNamee, W. G. Murray, J. L. Marler, W. Paul, Jas. A. Ogilvy, Dr. Proudfoot, Dr. Shepherd, John Stirling, Harry Stikeman, W. F. Torrance, T. H. Hudson, Jas. Williamson, James Wilson, H. A. Budden and R. P. McLea.

The report of the Committee of Management, submitted by the president, showed that three patients had been admitted under clause 13 of the by-laws. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Adami, as pathologist, has been filled by the appointment of Dr. Wyatt Johnston, who is assisted by Dr. E. P. Williams.

The changes announced for the Morland wing have been made and it is now fully occupied. These changes mainly consist of an operating theatre, excellently lighted, two large, bright and airy general wards, an eye ward, five rooms for private medical patients, accommodation for medical superintendent with his whole resident staff, rooms and offices for the lady superintendent, a perfect linen and sewing room, lastly, and of primary importance, an unexcelled range of rooms for discharge of the daily work of the outdoor department.

A large brick-lined structure has been put up on Cadieux street for a workshop for carpenter, painter and plumber, storage room and cellarage space for a year's supply of coal. Grassing and turfing is going on in the yard, and is expected to be completed in about two months. The framed portraits of the former Governors will again be put up, together with the memorial brasses to benefactors. Slight memoirs of the old hospital have been preserved in the shape of the iron railing at the main entrance and the raised stone shield over the porch showing the ancientness of this charity. Action regarding the installation of an electrical plant for the better and more economical lighting of the hospital, as recommended by a sub-committee, has been deferred until the finances of the hospital may justify the outlay.

Since May 3 fifty-two patients have been received in the civic contagious hospital under Dr. Bazin and Miss Livingstone. The maximum number in residence has been twenty-four. There still remain twenty cases of scarlet fever and two of diphtheria.

Reference was made to the death of Mr. E. F. Ames, who has been replaced on the Board by Mr. J. B. Learmont, and to the illness of Messrs. R. W. Shepherd and Richard White. Eulogistic reference was made to the work of the staff—medical and nursing.

Dr. Byers, the senior resident, is taking a furlough of two months.

Allusion was made to the $6000 raised by a bazaar in 1887 for the purchase of surgical instruments. This fund has now been exhausted.

The president added: "At this date the cases of surgical instruments, the property of the hospital, are fairly well filled, if not contrasted with their former poverty, yet not a week goes by without a demand for some newly invented, and not infreqently, costly instrument, for want of which the operator is placed at a disadvantage; shall we be deemed presumptious in suggesting to our medical friends as their contribution to the restoration fund of the hospital, a repetition of the memorable service of Dr. Buller and his friends."

He concluded by announcing that $4000 was still needed to complete the renovation fund of the hospital. The board has confidence that the amount will be forthcoming. The reports were all adopted.

An interesting discussion followed. Mr. John Crawford thought the reports were most satisfactory ones, showing that the hospital was doing good work. He had no doubt but that the money which was wanting to complete the renovation work would soon be at hand.

Dr. F. W. Campbell drew attention to the increased work in the out-door department. During last quarter 8000 people had been treated, showing an average of 32 000 per year. In his department, though he gave three hours a day, this was not sufficient, the patients not receiving more than a few minutes each. Assistance would be needed, and he hoped the matter would be considered.

Mr. Walter Drake thought that a closer scrutiny might be observed regarding those applying for treatment. The proportion to him appeared very large.

The chairman admitted the judiciousness of the remarks made. The number of patients was certainly growing. It was difficult, no doubt, to attend to one hundred patients in three hours. Fully 90 per cent. of gratuitous patients do not pay. Large numbers received free treatment, but it was very hard to discriminate. Ladies with silk dresses and furs and in carriages had been known to apply to the Hospital for free treatment. The amount received last year from these patients had only reached $763.

In answer to Dr. Campbell, the chairman said the ambulance cost about $700 per annum. The police patrol might very often be called instead of the ambulance where there was nothing serious.

On motion of Dr. McCallum, the assistant specialists were appointed members of the Medical Board.

The meeting having been closed, the governors paid a visit to the Morland wing, and the outdoor departments, and they seemed very much impressed with what they saw. The whole place has been entirely renovated. The rooms are large and airy, and cleanliness reigns supreme. The out-door patients enter by the St. Dominique street entrance. There are excellent waiting, consulting and operating rooms, and the prospects of excellent and scientific work are most promising.

THE PROVINCIAL SYNOD.

To the Editor of the "Star."

Sir,—I must demur to the accuracy of the statement in your issue of yesterday respecting the question of marriage and divorce in its connection with the Provincial Synod.

In the first place, the question cannot be said to have been argued in the Synod at all. A canon forbidding marriage after divorce under any circumstances while either party was living was introduced by Dean Partridge towards the close of the Synod of 1889, in an able speech, but being objected to on the ground of the lack of sufficient information on the subject was referred without debate to a joint committee of both houses with instructions to study the question and report to the Synod of 1892.

The committee accordingly presented to the last Synod two reports, a majority and a minority report. These reports, however, were not reached in the order of business until the Synod was about breaking up; their consideration was consequently deferred until the Synod of 1895.

As there has been so far practically no debate upon the question in the Synod, it is impossible to say how the majority of even the Lower House feel upon the subject. As to the Upper House, the question, I fancy, has not been considered by them at all. My own impression, after carefully watching the progress of the question so far in the Synod, is very different from that of the writer of your article. I think that the great majority of the lay delegates in the Lower House, and at least a majority of the clerical delegates, will be found to be in favor of allowing the innocent party to marry. As to the Upper House, no one looking at the names of the present bench of bishops, a body of men so thoughtful and statesmanlike, could believe it possible that Dean Partridge's trenchant canon could ever find favor with them.

This very important question of the absolute indissolubility of marriage on the one hand, and the exception expressly made by our Lord in favor of the innocent party on the other, has been under discussion in the correspondence columns of the London "Guardian" for now more than six months, and has been argued out from every point of view by some of the very ablest divines of the Church of England. Those members of our Provincial Synod who read the Guardian will come to the consideration of the question well furnished.

Perhaps you will kindly permit me to give some of the unquestioned results of this discussion in a future number of your valuable paper.

THE BOYD FIRE CASE.

The Witness, Clarke, Cross-examined Yesterday Afternoon.

At the continuation of the inquiry in the Boyd fire case yesterday afternoon, the witness, Clark, was cross-examined by Mr. Davidson.

"What is your occupation?"

"I have worked for Mr. Robert Millar, stationer, on commission, and others."

"In what capacity were you employed by Grose?"

"As night man."

"When?"

"Last January."

"When the fire took place you were in Mr. Grose's employ?"

"Yes."

"How long have you known Haynes?"

"Four or five years."

"You have been friends?"

"Yes."

"Why did you go to Boyd, Gillies' warehouse on the 25th of May?"

"Mr. Haynes asked me to give a hand with the cases."

"Why did you help to get the place ready to be set on fire?"

"Because Mr. Haynes asked me."

"Will you swear that that was your only reason?"

"Mr. Haynes also promised to give me a partnership in a business he was going to start."

"Was the offer of a partnership the only consideration?"

"Yes. The goods that were in the cases were to go into the business, and Mr. Haynes was to put in some commission that he was going to get as well."

"Did you know to whom these goods belonged when you moved them?"

"I thought that Mr. Haynes had had permission to move them."

"What was to have been the name of the new firm?"

"The Anglo-American Agency."

"Did you ever tell any of your friends that you were going to enter into partnership with Mr. Haynes?"

"No."

"Was it Jenkins who showed you how to spread the oil and waste?"

"No."

"How did you do it?"

"I followed his example."

"You stated that you went from the warehouse to the livery stable?"

"Well, we might have had a drink on the way. I don't remember."

"You mean to say you don't remember that?"

"No. I was pretty 'full' at the time. Mr. Haynes had brought in a bottle of rye to the warehouse."

"But you can remember other things that took place?"

"Yes. Pretty well."

"You were pretty drunk by the time you got to Ste. Anne's?"

"Yes. Mr Haynes had to help me to bed."

"When you heard of the fire, I suppose you felt perfectly innocent?"

"No."

"How did you feel?"

"I felt sorry."

"Do you know a man named Keats?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever tell him that you were tired of hiding and wanted to give yourself up?"

"No."

"When were you first spoken to about the fire by any one besides Jenkins and Haynes?"

"About a month after by Oscar Malo, one of Carpenter's men."

"Where have you been living ever since?"

"At Mr. Carpenter's house."

"But you have not been under arrest?"

"No."

This closed the inquiry as far as the taking of testimony was concerned.

Mr. Justice Desnoyers will announce his decision in regard to the committal of the prisoners, or otherwise, on Friday morning.

THE FALL OF A CLEVER MAN.

[Special to the Star.]

Vancouver, B.C., August 15.—A somewhat sensational trial will shortly take place in Westminster, when an ex-labor leader and anti-Chinese agitator of some prominence, named Lucas, will be charged with the seduction of his wife's young sister, a girl of 15. The prisoner has already been committed for trial on strong prima facie evidence.

The case is interesting on account of Lucas' personality. He has had a decidedly adventurous career. He served as a British soldier through the Egyptian war, and previously in Indian service during action. In Australia he agitated for labor, and in British Columbia was the leader of a strong anti-Chinese immigration movement.

Shrewd labor men suspected that he sought self-aggrandizement and dropped him. He became destitute in the North-West, and, without money or means, attempted suicide, but was saved, only to face the present disgrace. Lucas has written several plays of merit, which have been produced in England with success.

His articles on labor have been accepted and published by all the leading papers in Australia and England.

CHAPTER XIV—Continued.

"None. I advertised in English and Continental newspapers, veiling my appeals in language which would mean little to the outside world though it would speak very plainly to her. I wandered about the Continent—Italy, Switzerland—all along the Rhine, and the Danube, to every place that seemed to offer a chance of success. I had reason to believe that she had been sent abroad, and I thought that her exile would be fixed in some remote district, out of the beaten track. It may be that my research was conducted feebly I was out of health for the greater part of my wanderings, and I had no one to help me. Another man in my position might have employed a private detective and might have succeeded where I failed. I was summoned home by the news of my mother's dangerous illness, and I returned remorseful and unhappy. At the thought that she might die unforgiving and unforgiven, my resentment vanished. I recalled all that my mother had been to my childhood and my boyhood, and I felt myself an ungrateful son. Thank God I was home in time to cheer her sick-bed, and to help towards her recovery by the assurance of my unaltered affection. I found that she, too, had suffered, and I discovered the strength of maternal love under that outward hardness, and allied with those narrow views which had wrecked my happiness. In my gladness at her recovery from a long and dangerous illness, I began to think the old heart-wound was cured; and when she suggested my marriage with our dear Emily, my amiable playfellow of old, I cheerfully fell in love with her views. The union was in every respect suitable, and for me in every respect advantageous. Your mother has been a good and dear wife to me, and never had man less reason to complain against Fate. But there has been the lingering shadow of that old memory, Allan, and you have seen and understood; so it is well you should know all."

Allan tearfully acknowledged the trust confided to him.

"When I am gone, if you care to know the story of my first love, you will find it fully recorded in a manuscript which was written some years ago. Heaven knows what inspired me to go over that ground, to write of myself almost as I might have written of another man. It was the whim of an idle brain. I felt a strange, sad pleasure in recalling every detail of my brief love story—in conjuring up looks and tones, the very atmosphere of the common-place surrounding through which my dear love and I moved. No touch of romance, no splendor of scenery, no gaiety of racecourse or public garden made the background of our love. A dull London street, a dull London parlor were all we had for a paradise, and God knows we needed no more. You will smile at a middle-aged man's folly in lingering fondly over the record of his own love story, instead of projecting himself into the ideal world and weaving a romance of shadows. If I had been a woman, I might have found a diversion for my empty days in writing novels, in every one of which my girlish love and I would have lived again, and loved and parted again, under various disguises. But I had not the feminine love of fiction. It pleased me to write of myself and my love in sober truthfulness. You will read with a mind in touch with mine; Allan; and though you may smile at your father's folly, there will be no scornfulness in your smile."

"My dear, dear father, God knows there will be no smile on these lips of mine if I am to read the story—after our parting. God grant the day for that reading may be far off."

"I will do nothing to hasten it, Allan. Your companionship has helped much to renew my pleasure in life. You can never know how I missed you when this house ceased to be your home. It was different when you were at the University—the short terms, the short distance between here and Cambridge, made parting seem less than parting. But when you had a home of your own, and half a dozen counties divided us, I began to feel that I had lost my only son."

"You had but to summon me."

"I know, I know. But I could not be so selfish as to bring you away from your pleasant surroundings, the prettier country, the more genial climate, your hunting, your falconry, your golf, and your new neighbors. A sick man is a privileged egotist; but even now I feel I am wrong in letting you stay here and lose the best part of the hunting season—to say nothing of that other loss, which, no doubt, you feel more keenly, the loss of your sweetheart's society."

"You need not think about it, father, for I mean to stay. Please regard me as a fixture. If you keep as well next week as you are to-day, I may take a run to Wilts, just to see how Suzette and her father are getting on, and to look round my stable; but I shall be away at most one night."

"Go to-morrow, Allan. I know you are dying to see her."

"Then, perhaps, to-morrow. You really are wonderfully well, are you not?"

"So well that I feel myself an impostor when I am treated as an invalid."

"I may go then; but it will only be to hurry back," said Allan.

His heart beat fast at the thought of an hour with Suzette—an hour in which to look into the frank bright face, to see the truthful eyes looking up at him in all confidence and love, to be assured that the three weeks' absence had made no difference, that not the faintest cloud had come between them in their first parting. Yes, he longed to see her, with a lover's heart-sickness. Deeply, tenderly, as he treasured every hour of his father's society, he felt that he must steal just as much time from his home duty as would give him one hour with Suzette.

He pored over time-tables, and so planned his journey as to leave Fendyke in the afternoon of one day, and to return in time for luncheon the day after. This was only to be effected by leaving Matcham at daybreak; but a young man who was in the habit of leaving home in the half-light of a September dawn to ride ten miles to a six-o'clock meet was not afraid of an early train.

He caught a fast evening train for Salisbury, and was at Matcham soon after eight. He had written to General Vincent to announce his intention of looking in after dinner, apologizing in advance for so late a visit. His intention was to take a hasty meal, dress, and drive to Marsh House; but at Beechhurst he found a note from the General inviting him to dinner, postponed till nine o'clock on his account; so he made his toilet in the happiest mood, and arrived at Marsh House ten minutes before the hour.

He found Suzette alone in the drawing-room, and had her all to himself for just those ten minutes which he had gained by extra swiftness at his toilet. For half those minutes he had the gentle fluttering creature in his arms, the dark eyes full of tears, the innocent heart all tenderness and sympathy.

"Why would you not let me go to you, Allan?" she remonstrated. "I wanted to be with you and Lady Emily in your trouble. I hope you don't think I am afraid of sickness or sorrow, where those I love are concerned."

"Indeed, dearest, I give you credit for all unselfishness. But I was advised against your visit. The hazard was too awful."

"What hazard, Allan?"

"The possibility of my father's sudden death."

"Oh, Allan, my poor, poor boy! Is it really as bad as that? How sad for you! And you love him so dearly, I know."

"I hardly knew how dearly till this great terror fell upon me. Nothing less than my love for a father whom I must lose too soon—whom I may lose very soon—would have kept me from you so long, Suzette. And now I am only here for a few hours, to see you, to hear you, to hold you in my arms, and to assure myself that there is such a person; to make quite sure that the Suzette who is in my thoughts by day and in all my dreams by night is not a brilliant hallucination—the creature of my mind and fancy."

"I am very real, I assure you—full of human faults."

WEAK MEN.

This Brings Strength!

For men who suffer from extreme nervous prostration, for men who have lived too fast, for those whose youthful indiscretions and excesses have drained every atom of vitality from their systems, for men who need a never-failing aid, Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is like the dawn of a new life.

Just give the matter a moment's thought, and you can immediately see that the reasons are sound and true.

Electricity is a nerve tonic, an invigorant, and the mild but constant current generated by these belts supplies to the shattered and weakened system just that force which is lacking. The tide is soon turned, and nature, reinforced so ably, does the rest.

Thousands of men are wearing these belts, and our office contains testimonials from every State in the Union.

None can possibly form any idea of the wonderful currents produced by these body batteries without examining; therefore, if you can, call at our office and see and test one; if not, our illustrated book will be sent free, sealed, by mail, upon application to inventor and manufacturer,

THE LONGUEUIL REGATTA

TO BE HELD NEXT SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Full list of Entries—Official Opening of the Fine New Club House—A Grand Bonnet Hop to Close the Day.

On Saturday next, at Longueuil, the members of the boating club hope to crown one of the most successful seasons in the history of the organization with a regatta which shall, in every respect eclipse all previous efforts in this direction. The circumstances this year happen to be peculiarly favorable to the holding of a first-class regatta. The additional accommodation at the disposal of the committee will be carefully utilized, and the new club-house is sure to be a great centre of attraction. The entry list, given below, gives promise of several exciting contests. Paradis will compete in the single scull race, and, if rumor is to be credited for once, he will have to row his best this time.

Longueuil's "four in a canoe" are prepared to contend for supremacy with all comers, and may be relied on to render a good account of themselves. The other events should all prove interesting, and the programme contains items suited to every taste. The prizes are very valuable, the friends of the club having shown themselves even more liberal than usual this year. Excellent arrangements have been made for the comfort of visitors, and the accessibility of the place, by boat or rail, will recommend it to Montrealers, who will, no doubt, attend in large numbers. The regulation "hop" will follow the distribution of prizes, and visitors will have an opportunity of judging for themselves whether the merits of new club house have been unduly extolled or not.

The entries are as follows:

1. Yacht race—Handicap once around course, 2.30 p.m.—Lulu, Wm. Ryan; Good Luck, E. Hurtubise; Eva, H. Edson.

2. Sailing canoe, open, two miles—2.35 p.m.—E. W. Monk, Lachine; F. Jeffery, Lachine; W. B. Morris, St. Lambert; W. Sully, Longueuil; C. A. Thompson, Longueuil; R. Laing, Grand Trunk.

3. Sailing skiffs, 4 miles—2.40 p.m.—A. Lefaivre, Longueuil; J. S. Archbald, Longueuil; E. Hurtubise, Longueuil; J. E. Brunet, Longueuil; C. S. Noad, V. S. O. P.; C. McLean, St. Rose.

4. Tandem canoe, under 15 years, half-mile 3 p.m. L. Russell and A. Bindon, Longueuil, red; L. Payne and C. Bishop, Grand Trunk, blue; G. Crutchlow and W. Kingston, Grand Trunk, white; A. Bigouese and C. Ancrum, St. Lambert, green; S. McConnell and B. Yenez, Dixie Island Camp, black; Hooper Bros., St. Lambert, yellow; G. Cameron and B. Horsfall, St. Lambert, brown.

THE OUTREMONT COUNCIL.

The Outremont Town Council held their adjourned meeting last evening, but no business of importance was transacted.

Mayor W. W. Dunlop presided; the other Councillors present were: Messrs. Thomas Hall, George de G. Languedoc, A. Joyce and George E. Cooke. The report of the committee appointed to confer with the Mile End councillors in regard to the laying of sewerage pipes on Villeneuve street was read and considered to be a favorable one, but it was decided to do nothing until a full meeting of the Council is held, by which time the share of the cost will be known.

LICENSED VICTUALLERS.

At the meeting of the English-speaking Retail Licensed Victuallers' Benefit Association yesterday afternoon the president, Mr. Arthur Jones, announced that he had the authority of Chief Legault to deny the statement made that proceedings were to be taken against seventy-five saloonkeepers for infractions of the law. Several new members were proposed and a vote of thanks was passed to the Montreal Licensed Victuallers for their attentions to the delegates of the Association at the hotelkeepers' picnic.

TUPPER AND LAURIER.

"La Minerve" Finds a Strange Contrast Between Them About Manitoba Schools.

"The contrast between the firm, energetic declarations of Sir Charles H. Tupper on the Manitoba school law and those of Mr. Laurier are most striking," remarks La Minerve. "The declarations of the former, who is a Protestant and a member of the Federal Cabinet, and the vague hesitations of Mr. Laurier, a Catholic, and the leader of the Liberal party, will not be overlooked by any one. The one is clear, frank, determined; the other is obscure, cowardly and dissimulated; he is afraid of his shadow. Sir C. H. Tupper does not allow himself to be influenced in his defence of the rights of the Catholic minority of Manitoba, neither by the opinions of his friends nor by the risk of seeing a brilliant and promising political career suddenly interrupted; he is at heart with the Premier on this question, and he seizes the first opportunity which offers itself among his own people to make a solemn declaration to that effect. At Sorel Mr. Laurier was with his own. A meeting of two thousand of his compatriots listened to his address, and his friends said that he would speak in such a way as to astonish the country, and clearly indicate his attitude." La Minerve then adds that all that Mr. Laurier did say was to disapprove of the remedial order.

A STAY OF ONE WEEK

Granted by Judge Belanger, Because the Shortis Commission Had Not Arrived.

The box containing the commission and evidence in the Shortis case, as mentioned in last night's Star, are still missing, and their present whereabouts are unknown. Last night His Honor Judge Belanger granted a special audience in Chambers to the lawyers for the defence—so that they could present a petition asking for an extension of the time set by the Court, August 15, in order to give time to institute enquiries regarding the missing box.

Mr. F. S. Maclennan, in the absence of Mr. Donald Macmaster, Q. C., Crown prosecutor, strongly opposed the petition.

After carefully considering the matter, His Honor granted a stay of one week. It is thought that the box, which was deposited in the express office at London, England, has miscarried.

Mr. George Bury states that he did not go to Ireland in connection with the case.

CITY ITEMS.

The visiting governors to the Protestant Hospital for the Insane for next week are Messrs. H. Montagu Allan, James Cantlie and Drs. Buller and F. W. Campbell.

At the regular weekly meeting of the St. Henri Town Council, held last evening, only general routine business was transacted, after which the Council adjourned until next Wednesday.

Ald. Stevenson and Chief Benoit are to enter four men from each of the four fire districts into the hose-laying competition at the athletic sports under the auspices of the Caledonian Society.

The members of Derry Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 221, gave their friends a garden party last night. A pleasant time was spent by all present. Addresses were delivered by several prominent officials.

An inquest was held yesterday afternoon at the Notre Dame Hospital on the body of Alexander Morin, who died from injuries received by a bar of iron falling on him, while he was working in Rousseau's foundry, Hochelaga. A verdict of "Accidental death" was returned.

The regular weekly meeting of the Ste. Cunegonde Town Council was held last evening. Several objections to the assessors' valuations were read, but after considering them the assessors stated they were unable to reduce their former valuations. The Council then adjourned until next Wednesday.

ACCIDENT TO A BICYCLIST.

Mr. Harry W. Monsel, of 26 Overdale avenue, met with a serious accident yesterday. He was proceeding down Bleury street on his bicycle when he collided with a cart at the corner of Lagauchetiere street, the shaft of which struck him, inflicting an ugly blow. He was removed to his home, where he was attended by a doctor, who says Mr. Monsel will recover, but that he had an almost miraculous escape.

A FAST PASSAGE.

The Allan Line SS. Laurentian was reported passing South Point, Anticosti, at 8 o'clock this morning. She will be due at Quebec to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and at Montreal on Saturday morning. Her time from Moville to Quebec will be about seven days.

THE BUTCHERS' PICNIC.

The Result of the Long Programme of Sports.

The picnic part of the Butchers' Association's outing yesterday took place in the afternoon on the Exhibition Grounds, and was in every way a pronounced success. The races went off without a hitch, which was due to the excellent way in which the officials accomplished their work. The ever-restless small boy was, of course, there also, and kept the poor limbs of the law constantly on the "qui vive" to prevent their going where they should not. The races were all very good and well contested. The following is a list of the results:

1.—Race for police and firemen, 1-4 mile—Joseph Mooney, 1; John Carley, 2; Wm. Suthergill, 3.

2.—Race, for boys under 12 years, 100 yards—James Pain, 1; McCroy, 2; A. Lowe, 3.

3.—Race, for girls under 15 years, 100 yards—Laura Penny, 1; Lilly McEwan, 2; E. McRae, 3.

4.—Quarter-mile foot race for butchers, members of the association—This event, owing to lack of entries, did not take place.

5.—Trotting ponies race, under 13 hands, open to all—Nicolas, 1; Masterman, 2.

6.—Flat race for butchers' working horses, two rounds—Gus. Denault, 1; Prosper Monette, 2; Peter Henry, 3.

7.—300 yards race, 150 yards bare foot and 150 yards shoes on—Joseph Mooney, 1; Jas. Struther, 2; Wm. Montmagny, 3.

8.—Hotel keepers' race, buggy, three rounds—Michael Levy, 1; Hormisdas Daoust, 2; Emery Burnett, 3.

9.—Bicycle race for beginners, one mile—Wm. Shruft, 1; N. Mitchell, 2; Mr. Bernstein, 3.

10.—Running flat race, open, four rounds—Finny's Dianthus, 1; Minogue's Duke of Bourbon, 2; Palace stables Buzzle, 3.

11.—Trotting sulky races for butchers' horses, four rounds—M. Leroux, 1; A. Trottier, 2; A. Taillefer, 3.

12.—Fat men's race, practical butchers, 200 lbs. and over—F. H. Auge, 1; O. Hague, 2; A. Valade, 3.

13.—Exhibition of butchers' single express working horse and harness belong to exhibition—Joseph Dennis, 1; J. R. Granguere, 2.

There was no exhibition in No. 14 of butchers' cart, etc.

15.—Trotting buggy race, butchers' working horses, four rounds—P. Monette, 1; Racette Bros., 2; Z. Senecal, 3.

16.—Hurdle race, open, four rounds, Finny's Dianthus, 1; Minogue's Harry Benton, 2; Finny's Thistle, 3.

17.—One mile bicycle race, open—W. Thuff, 1; N. S. Mitchell, 2.

18.—Extra fat men's race, 240 lbs. and over—Mr. Beaucaire, 1; Mr. Labelle, 2.

19.—High leap race, open—J. Denault, 1; C. Robillard, 2.

CANADIAN COPYRIGHT.

Mr. Newcombe Did Not Accomplish Much in England.

Ottawa, August 15.—The mission of Mr. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice, right difficulty, has been a failure. He who went to England to adjust the copywill return shortly, without having accomplished anything, partly because of the political turmoil that prevailed in England during his visit and partly because the Home authorities are hopelessly opposed to the Canadian view.

Not Hopeless.

[Special to the Star.]

Toronto, August 15.—G. M. Rose, a member of the Canadian Copyright Association, was interviewed regarding the despatch from Ottawa announcing that Deputy Minister Newcombe, who went to England to adjust the copyright difficulty, will return shortly without having accomplished anything. He said the return of Mr. Newcombe was expected, as he had discharged his mission. But there is more involved in the case than a mere question of copyright. There is the interpretation of provisions of the North America Act. There is no reason whatever for regarding the settlement of the question as hopeless. Lord Ripon expressed himself favorable to the Canadian view.

THE AMHERSTBURG MYSTERY.

It is Now Generally Thought That Walker was Murdered.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 15.—The death of Frederick Walker, of Guelph, who was found in the river near Amherstburg Tuesday, is as mysterious as ever. Suicide was the first theory, but foul play is now suspected by friends of the dead man, from the fact that not a drop of water was found in the lungs when the body was recovered from the water, where it had probably been for 18 hours. The inquest did not take place at Amherstburg yesterday, because the coroner was out of town. It will be held today. Walker put up at the Crawford House in this city Sunday night, and Alfred Taylor last saw him at 6 o'clock Monday night. Twenty-four hours later his body was found at Bar Point, 24 miles from Windsor. The wound on his head, which was thought to have been caused by a bullet, is an old one, the result of a fall. Mr. Taylor says that Walker was the last man to commit suicide, as he had brilliant chances ahead of him. He was of a temperament that nothing could discourage, and Mr. Taylor thinks that he got into a row and was dumped into the river. All efforts to trace Walker after Monday night have failed. A sum of money was raised among the racing men at the Windsor races to send the boy to Guelph.

THE C. P. R.'S SUBSIDY.

[Special to the Star.]

Toronto, August 15.—The Globe's Ottawa correspondent, referring to Sir A. Caron's statement that he did not intend paying the Canadian Pacific Railway their increased subsidy until Parliament had been consulted, says: "That is a good story for the Postmaster-General to tell the country after his little scheme has been exposed. A gentleman from Montreal, who knows of the terms upon which the increased subsidy was granted, says that it was clearly understood between the Postmaster-General and the Canadian Pacific that the subsidy would be paid quarterly, starting from July 1 last. There is not a shadow of doubt, and the fact will be established later on, that it was the Postmaster-General's intention to pay the Canadian Pacific and then ask Parliament what they thought about it.

WANTS TO SEE HOLMES.

Philadelphia, Pa., August 14.—William Cappa, an attorney from Fort Worth, Texas, arrived in this city this afternoon in the interest of Minnie Williams and her sister, the two girls who are supposed to have been made away with by H. H. Holmes, the alleged murderer. Mr. Cappa went at once to the office of District Attorney Graham, but that official had left his office for the day and departed for Spring Lake. Mr. Cappa is exceedingly anxious to see the District Attorney for the purpose of obtaining through him an interview with Holmes, and will try again to-morrow.

FRIDAY BARGAIN DAY!

Friday Bargain Day! Friday Bargain Day!

Remember, Friday is NOT a day for US to sell trash and old truck. All these are nice, clean goods that we could sell any time for the regular price, but on account of the bad season in the year, we are willing to sacrifice at tremendous reductions for one day only, FRIDAY, 16th August, to see to what degree the people of Montreal appreciate such bargains.

Read! Remember! Ridiculous Reductions! Read!

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

MONTREAL WHOLESALE MARKETS

"Star" Office, August 15, 1895.

Cheese.—The market continues very quiet. In western goods there is, at the moment, so little doing on spot, that it is difficult to quote. Holders are talking 7 3-4c, and even 7 7-8c, but business would not be practicable to-day at more than 7 1-2c or 7 5-8c at the outside. For fancy French cheese 7 1-4c is the highest figure obtainable. At Picton yesterday 7 1-2c was bid without result. At Woodstock there was some business at 7 1-2c, but the majority of factorymen wanted 1-8c more, and some were holding for 8c. At Napanee there was some business done at 7 1-2c to 7 3-4c.

Butter.—There is very little wholesale business in progress. Jobbing lots of creamery are moving at about 18c and for choice Townships dairy 15c may be had.

Eggs.—Lots of candled stock are moving quietly at 11c to 11 1-4c. Single cases are selling at 11 1-2c to 12c, very choice goods bringing occasionally 1-2c more.

Live Stock Market.

At the Eastern Abattoir market this morning the receipts consisted of about [illegible] head of cattle, 1000 sheep and lambs, 100 calves, and 40 lean hogs. Trade in cattle was fairly good, and prices were about steady, last Monday's values prevailing. From 4c to 4 1-4c was paid for export cattle. Best butchers' beeves brought from 3 1-2c to 3 3-4c per lb., and secondary stock from 2 3-4c to 3 1-4c, and still lower grades from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb. There was a moderately active enquiry for small meats. Following is the general range of quotations:

Cattle—Butchers, choice, per lb., 3 1-2c to 3 3-4c live weight; do. medium to fair, do. 2 3-4 to 3 1-4c; do. do. do. culls, do. 2 to 2 1-2c do. Sheep—Common to good, $3.00 to $4.00. Lambs—$2.00 to $3.50. Calves—Good to choice, $7.00 to $10.00; common to fair, $2.00 to $6.90. Lean hogs—$3.00 to $9.00 each.

HAMILTON'S
FRIDAY BARGAIN DAY
AUGUST 16th.

The one great fact that is manifest in every line is, that the Dollar you spend here will buy two and sometimes three dollars' worth of goods. That is why our Friday Bargain Sales have grown. That is why the thousands who have been here come again.

☞ DOWN IN OUR BASEMENT. ☜

To-morrow, Friday, we will offer 3 Cases of 45 inch Wide All Wool Black French Henrietta Cashmere consigned to us by a Broker who has made advances on these goods. These Cashmeres are good value at 65c yard and cannot be bought less than that price anywhere. Our peremptory orders are to sell them as quickly as possible. So that all our customers may have a chance of participating in the exceptional bargains, our clerks have received positive instructions not to sell more than 6 yds, which is quite sufficient for a Costume, to any customer. Our price for these Cashmeres while they last will be 22½c Yard.

A Dept.—Colored Dress Goods.

Only 5 pieces of the 44 inch Scotch Cheviot left, it is cheap at 35c yd., you can have a length to-morrow if you come early enough at 10c yard. The early bird catches the worm.
40 inch All Wool Diagonal Dress Goods in good serviceable shades 50c, Friday 18c yd.
42 inch All Wool Satin Cloth, in very pretty shades, was sold at 65c, Friday, 28c yd.
Last Friday we were entirely cleared out of the French Dress Goods advertised at 49c.
For to-morrow we have picked out about 40 pieces of Plain and Fancy Dress Goods ranging in price from 85c to $1.25. We will clear them Friday at 49c yd.
It's our invariable rule never to carry our goods over. We must clear our entire stock of Dress Goods. The above prices ought to do it.

B Dept.—Black Dress Goods.

We have been fortunate enough to secure another little lot of Black Mohair Dress Goods, the value of these goods is 25c yard. We will clear them on Friday at half price, 12½c yd.
About 250 yds. of Black Cheviot with narrow white stripe: this is an all wool material and 45 inches wide, it is a novelty this season and is honestly worth 75c yard. You can have a Dress length Friday, at 25c.
We have some odd lines amongst our fine Black Dress Goods, both plain and figured, although some of these are worth $1.00 yard, prices cut no figure in this reduction. You can have your choice Friday at 37½c yard. Have a look at these lines to-morrow.

C Dept.--Silks.

We have just been having a general clear up in our Silk Department and turned out quite a lot of Silk Grenadines and Gauzes, beautiful goods, but still they should have been sold at this season of the year. Perhaps it was the price, they are marked from 85c to $1.25 yard. As we do not want to have a yard remaining in stock Saturday morning, we will offer your choice of the lot Friday at 25c yard.
Another small lot of Black Surah Silks, others ask 65c yd. for this silk; our price Friday, 39c.
A few odd pieces of extra wide Printed India Silks that were originally 85c, 95c, $1.10; all go Friday at 49c yd.
Our Black Surah Silk at 75c which will compare favorably with any silk value in the Dominion, we will sell on Friday at 49c yard.
Hundreds of pieces of Silks, "odd lines", will be offered to-morrow at sweeping reductions.

D Dept.—Linings.

36 inch Black and Colored Cambric Linings always sold at 10c: Friday, 7½c yd.
Another lot of our Twill Waist Linings that are worth 20c; Friday, 12½c yd.
At the request of many customers we will offer our Grass Cloths again to-morrow at the Bargain Price, 6¾c yd.
To-morrow we will offer a small lot of fine French "Batiste" Dress linings, the regular prices of which are 25c, 35c and 50c yd., having but a few pieces of each we will clear the lot to-morrow in three lots, 15c, 18c and 25c yard.
Ladies who desire a fine light dress lining should see these goods.

E Dept.---Flannels.

Cream Canton Flannel, good and wide, cannot be bought less than 8c, Friday 5½c yd.
Fancy Striped Flannelette, extra wide, the usual 12c kind, Friday 9c yd.
Fancy Shaker Flannels, especially for wrappers, worth 18c, Friday 10c yd.
Twill and plain Gray Flannels, 27 inches wide, worth 18c, some charge 20c, Friday 14c yd.
You should take advantage of these prices and buy your flannels now.

F Dept.---Linens and Cottons.

Good serviceable kitchen Crash, considered great value at 5c yd., Friday 2½c yd.
Good Blue and White Striped Ticking that you have paid 15c for, Friday 7½c.
Something we lead the trade in, "Bath Towels." We have a line of these towels that we should get 15c for, you can have them Friday, at 9c ea.
Another case of American Lonsdale Cambric, just received from the Custom House, every lady knows its value. We sell it Friday 9c yd.
To-morrow we will offer an unbleached Table Damask, 56 inches wide, cheap at 40c, although we lose by it we will sell it on Friday, at 25c yard.
Large size fringed Honeycomb Quilts "White," retailed usually at $1.10, Friday 75c ea.
We have been through this department with our pruning knife and found quite a lot of white checked Muslins and white striped Lawns, they were marked 18c, the price is all right, but as it is a little late we have decided to mark them down to half price for Friday, any of them at 9c yard.

G Dept.—Wash Goods.

Real Scotch Ginghams, striped and checked, elegant for children's wear, 12c. Friday, 7c yd.
The balance of our Best Quality English Prints, such as we sold at 10c and 12c yd. Your choice of the lot To-morrow at 8c yd.
Japanese Pongerine, beautifully figured, the prettiest blouse and wrapper material in the market, 25c yd. Friday, 9 1/2c yd.
The remainder of our Silk and Cotton Mix Crepons that were sold all through the season at 55c, will be offered at 25c; this should clear them. Our loss is your gain. We have made tremendous reductions in this Dept. for To-morrow's sale.

H Dept.---Neckwear and Veilings.

25 pieces of Figured Black Silk Veiling; this is usually sold at a quarter. Friday, 5c yd.
Ladies' Colored Belts, with Nickel Buckles, worth at least 15c. Friday, 5c ea.
Ladies' 3 inch wide Belts, with Japanned Buckle, cheap at 25c. Friday, 7c ea.
Ladies' Colored Silk Belts, 50c. Friday, 10c.
Ladies' Derby Ties, 25c. Friday, 10c.
JOB.—White Chemisettes. These goods were sold regularly at 50c. Friday, 15c each.
Hundreds of Bargains in Neckwear, Collars, Cuffs, etc., in this Department for To-morrow.

J Dept.---Laces and Embroideries.

75 pieces of 4 inch Mele Lace, these laces were retailed at 20c. Friday 5c yard.
Extra Wide Real Linen Torchon Lace. This width Lace is never sold less than from 25c to 35c yd. We sell it Friday at 12c yd.
A Lot Cream Spanish Silk Lace from 12 to 20 inches wide, worth from $1.25 to $1.75 yd. Your choice of the lot Friday at 25c yd.
About 50 pieces of 27 and 45 inch White Skirt Embroidery will be placed on tables to-morrow and sold at half the marked price. This is a snap.

MONTREAL'S ENORMOUS DEBT.

How it Jumped Up by Fourteen Millions in Six Years' Time.

A SKY HIGH DEFICIT IN SIGHT.

The Scared Aldermen may Reduce the Water Rate and Make it Uniform at Seven and a Half per Cent.

The civic record of Montreal from 1888 to 1895 is probably unsurpassed by any other city in America. What combination of men who have "run" the city for the last six years have done is now beginning more than ever to attract the attention of the ordinary citizen who has not paid any attention whatever to municipal politics, and had all his time taken up by his own business. The sending out of the water bills, however, with an all around increase of twenty-five per cent. for rentals exceeding $120 has fairly bewildered the ordinary Montrealer, who now begins to realize that the greatest feats of the coin jugglers of old were nothing to compare with the doings of the combine. The citizen who last year paid $18 for his water and is asked to pay $28 this year is fairly wild. One of these citizens was seen this morning. "I was certain there was a mistake of some kind when I first saw that bill, and I went down to the City Hall, I collared the first alderman I met and called him to account. "How is this?" I said to him. "It is not my fault; I voted against the increase." That citizen says that if he has to pay that additional ten dollars he will not vote for any of the aldermen who saddled this matter upon him. The citizens seen around the City Hall are indignant at this increase, and are awaiting the result of to-morrow's meeting of the Council. "Some of these aldermen will have a high old time if the water rates are not put back to seven and a half per cent."

"There is nothing to surprise any one who has followed the actions of the majority of the aldermen for the last few years in this action of theirs regarding water rates. This is only the beginning. The citizens will be up in arms before they get through with the ring. Just consider for a moment," added this citizen, "what these men have been doing. In 1888, when the charter was changed and the city authorized to borrow on fifteen per cent. of the assessed property, the net debt of Montreal was $11,520,000. Just six years later, on December 31, 1894, that debt had been raised to $25,755,342, and the aldermen still wanted to borrow. An increase of $14,235,342 in six years is an outrage. In 1888 Montreal paid $589,914 interest on its debt, and now she is paying $1,115,000, an increase of $525,086 per annum. The gross assessments, which in 1888 reached $89,634,093, were raised in 1894 to $170,457,315, and the exemptions from $19,130,920 to $35,180,550. The taxable property, by the last civic report, is put down at $135,268,765. The total revenue of the city in 1888 was $2,095,411 and the expenditure $2,062,275, and in 1894 $2,743,335 and $3,026,512 respectively. The ordinary expenditure had increased $964,237 per annum. The water rates netted $584,911 in 1888 and $625,801 in 1894. Last year there was a deficit of $400,000, and this year there will be a deficit of $700,000 at least."

"Where is this money to come from?" was the question put to a leading alderman.

"I will not undertake to answer that, but you may rest assured that it will be squeezed out of the citizens in some shape or form."

"How do you explain this enormous increase of fourteen million dollars in the debt in six years' time?"

"Simply by the fact that the citizens allowed the majority in the Council to run things as they pleased and to suit themselves."

"Where did that money go to?"

"It was chiefly spent for three purposes: Street widening, street paving and permanent sidewalks The expropriations, as all know, and the Corporation work was carried on in a scandalous manner, and I am of the opinion that the city paid at least four million dollars more than it should for these works. We lost probably half on street widening and the remainder on street paving."

What the Aldermen Say.

A number of aldermen were interviewed to-day respecting the reduction of the water rates to the old figure of 7 1-2 per cent. all round. From the views expressed, as given below, it would seem as if a large majority were favorable to the reduction. Technical difficulties are feared by some; but, on the whole, there appears every reason to hope that the present oppressive rates will be reduced at to-morrow's meeting.

Ald. Rainville, who voted against increasing the rates, said: "My views are very simple. I voted against the increase."

"Then you will vote for the restoration of the old figure to-morrow?"

"That cannot legally be done this year. I remember how it all happened. When the question of raising the water rates was raised in the Council ten aldermen voted on each side. The Mayor gave his casting vote against any increase. Thinking the question decided, I left for my place at Vaudreuil. After I had gone, a motion to reconsider was put and carried by ten to nine. That is how the increase was passed. I do not see why we should pay more for the water than is necessary to cover the working expenses."

"Do you not think that, although, legally, the old rates could not perhaps be restored this year, Council could, if it chose, do practically the same thing by remitting the difference?"

"Well, I do not think anything ought to be done this year, as the treasurer has based his estimates upon the increased water rates."

Ald. Robert, who moved to reconsider the vote rejecting the proposal to increase the rates, and who by taking advantage of Ald. Rainville's absence, succeeded in carrying the increase by ten to nine, would not say anything one way or the other. He had not made up his mind. He would like to hear the matter discussed at to-morrow's Council meeting.

Ald. Lefebvre, who voted for the increase, said: "We wanted to avoid additional taxation on property, and we thought that people who could afford to pay over $120 per annum for a house could afford a little extra for their water. I would be in favor of remedying any wrong that there is; but I am against an increased property tax. I do not understand, however, how it is that people have to pay so much more for their water this year than last. The increase was only from 7 1-2 to 10 per cent., and yet numbers complain that their water rates have been doubled."

Ald. McBride said: "I voted for the increase in order to enable us to pay our just debts. If it is possible, I want the rates reduced. I have asked Mr. Robb for the figures. I do not want the city to make any profit out of the water."

Ald. Penny, who voted against the increase, said our whole assessment system was wrong. He would vote to reduce the water rates. The loss in revenue could be met by economy.

Ald. Beausoleil, who was absent at Ottawa at the time of the last vote, said: "I have always opposed an increase in the water rates, and I will vote in favor of a uniform rate of seven and a half per cent., and no discrimination."

Ald. Turner, who opposed the increase, said: "I voted against it, and I worked against it. I know that increased water rates are deterimental to the city. People will go out to live in the adjoining municipalities, where water is free. The tenants have to bear increased taxation for water, and they do not like it. Why, one of the strongest points I would make if I were trying to sell suburban lots would be that water rates and taxes payable by tenants were little or nothing. People don't like paying direct taxes. The result of the present state of affairs in the city is that the outside municipalities are building up rapidly, and things are standing still in the city."

"You think the water rates can be reduced without the necessity of raising money by some other mode of taxation?"

"Yes; with economy we could get along."

Ald. Leclerc, who voted against the increase, said: "I am in favor of reducing the rates, but I do not see that anything can be done this year."

Ald. Hurtubise, who voted to increase the rates, said: "It is a difficult question. There is no doubt the rates are too high and something ought to be done to reduce them."

Ald. Lyall, who voted to increase, said: "As far as I can see the discrimination between tenants paying under and those paying over $120 rental is illegal. When the vote was taken before on the question, the increase was recommended by a majority of the Finance Committee. It was recommended that the limit of rentals to be subject to seven and a half per cent. taxation should be $150. I was anxious to reduce this to $100; but, as a compromise, $120 was agreed upon."

"I do not want to impose anything upon the citizens that they feel to be an injustice. In the report of the Finance Committee, it was distinctly stated that extra taxes were necessary.

It was clear enough to me that we could not meet our obligations unless some steps were taken to increase the revenue. Whether increased water rates or increased property taxes were preferable was debatable. We reach a larger number of people by taxing the water than we would by taxing property, and certainly we have the Finance Committee to depend on for a report of that nature, and we are bound to believe what a large majority of that committee will bring before us. I do not think that I shall now vote for the increase, as it appears discrimination is illegal."

"You would favor an increased water rate rather than an increased property tax, as being the lesser of two evils?"

"Yes. The water rates reach a larger number of people.

Ald. Jacques, who opposed the increase, said: "I shall vote for the reduction. I was against the increase from the first. I shall do everything in my power to have the reduction passed at to-morrow afternoon's meeting."

Ald. Grothe, who voted for the increase, said he did not know how he would vote to-morrow. "I have not made up my mind," he said, "I find that the people do not complain so much about the increased rates as they do about the increased assessments. The assessors have raised the valuation and the amount which tenants have had to pay has been increased proportionately. I know a man who last year paid on a rental of one hundred and thirty dollars, and this year he was charged on one hundred and eighty dollars. I am not fond of the increased water rate, because it strikes me as well as my electors; but the city wants money and I prefer a water rate to a special tax, or an increased property tax. But, if the rates are increased the valuations of properties should not be also increased."

Ald. Nolan, who opposed the increase, said: "I was always opposed to the increase of water rates. It is bad enough to have to pay them; but they have gone and raised the assessments as well, and the workingmen suffer. Times are hard enough as it is."

Ald. Reneault will vote for a reduction.

Ald. Stevenson was in favor of the old rates and those only. "Why, the new rates are absolutely illegal. The court has decided that no discrimination can be allowed in favor of one party or another, and, consequently, in my opinion the increase over the previous rate of 7 1-2 per cent. cannot be collected. Indeed, I doubt very much if, in view of this decision, any money can be collected at all. The Council has to definitely decide upon a common rate for all, whether they be rich or poor. When they do this, and not until then, will they be able to collect the water taxes from the citizens. Why, the authorities at the City Hall were in a quandary as to whether they would charge those whose rental totalled the exact figures of $120 per annum with water at the old or new rates.

In some instances the bills are made out at the higher rate, while in others they are placed at the old figure. The whole thing is iniquitous, and at to-morrow's meeting of the Council I will have something to say on the subject.

Ald. Marsolais was seen this morning at his place of business on Notre Dame street, and asked his views on the subject. He said, "I am decidedly in favor of the 7 1-2 per cent rate and always have been. When the subject was first mentioned in the Council I was against it and voted against it. If it comes to the vote again I will place my ballot in favor of the reduction."

Ald. Connaughton has always been opposed to the extravagant and reckless manner in which public money has been wasted by the Council. "If the City Fathers were a little more economical, there would be no need of increased water rates. I am opposed to the change and will study the interests of the people who have recently placed me in this responsible position, when I take my seat in the Council to-morrow afternoon."

Ald. Hurteau, Prefontaine, Savignac, Wilson-Smith, Farrell and Brunet are out of town.

The Mayor's Views.

Mayor Villeneuve said: "I am strongly against discrimination in water rates, and in the tie last time in the Council I voted against the increase to ten per cent. for rentals of $120 and above. I will take the same stand to-morrow. I am going to see the City Attorney, and if it can at all be arranged, and the majority of the Council is willing, the uniform rate of seven per cent. will be re-established for all. The talk of the assessors having increased the assessments should not change matters."

The Rates in Brooklyn.

A comparison of the water rates in Brooklyn, N. Y., and Montreal—furnished by Mr. Geo. Hannah, passenger manager of the Allan Line. He has a house in Brooklyn, the rental of which is $660 per annum. The water rate is $10. On Mr. Hannah's Montreal house, the yearly rental of which is $500, a water tax of $51 is imposed. The Brooklyn tax is not paid by the tenant, as in Montreal, but by the owner of the property. The Brooklyn water is obtained from springs and wells at Bridgeport, about 40 miles from the city, by an elaborate system of pumping. The cost of the plant and the working expenses are, therefore, greater than that of Montreal. The system of appropriating water rates is different, too. The rate is obtained by the front width and the height in storys of a building. Thus, a one-story dwelling, 20 feet wide, would pay $6, instead of from $10 to $15, as in Montreal. Vacant lots are taxed from 10 to 20 cents per running foot frontage, according to assessment. Each private house in Brooklyn is entitled to one bath and one water closet without charge.

Toronto's Water Rates.

(Special to the Star.)

Toronto, August 15.—The rate charged by the water works department in this city are as follows: The minimum gross rate for a family of two persons occupying a four-roomed house and using one water tap is three dollars per annum. The rate is increased at the rate of fifty cents per room and fifty cents per inmate, with the following additional rates for special services: Basins—in private dwellings—for the first, $1 and 50 cents each one additional; baths, $2.50, hot and cold, $1.50 each one additional; cold baths, $1.50 and $1 each one additional; pantry taps, the same as for basins; urinals, $2.50 and $1.50; water closets, $2.50 and $1.

An addition of 50 per cent. is added to the foregoing when for public use. Bakers are charged $2.50 per annum for each barrel of flour used per day. Bar taps and saloon taps are charged at from $8 to $12. Barbers' chairs, $2, and $1.50 for each additional. A charge of 50 cents is made for each boarder, other than the charge for the family. Builders are charged 2 1-4 cents for each barrel of lime used in construction. Fire plugs are 50 cents per annum each in large buildings, generally two plugs, with hose attached in each flat. For steam engines under ten horse power, $3.50; between ten and twenty-five horse power, $3, and over, $2.50 per horse power. Stable, $1.50 per first horse and $1 for each additional, and 50 cents for each vehicle for washing. Warehouses are charged $1.50 for each flat, and 30 cents for each employe. Hose used for washing fronts and windows, $2 under thirty, and $3 under sixty feet, and 50 cents for each additional thirty feet.

All lawn rates are two dollars for anything under one thousand square feet, and it increases at the rate of fifty cents per thousand feet beyond two thousand square feet. No lawn sprinkler can be used for watering any boulevard, street or sidewalk except between 6.30 and 8.30 p. m. All large institutions, public and commercial, are metered, the rate charged being fifteen cents gross per one thousand gallons, and there is a special rate for manufacturers of ten cents net per one thousand gallons where over twenty persons are employed. All the foregoing rates are payable half-yearly in advance with a discount of twenty per cent., with the exception of manufacturers' rates, which are net.

The water works plant was taken over by the city in 1873 and was handled by a commission for about five years. The tariff rates have remained the same, the only change being in the discount for prompt payment. Last year rates were really reduced one-half, as the original rates had fifty per cent. written off. Of course, to the prompt payer who complies with the rules of the department, this makes no difference. Since 1878 the consumers have had the net cost of water reduced sixty per cent. by discounts from time to time, so that the consumer of to-day pays forty cents for the same service for which some paid one dollar in 1878, as all charges prior to 1878 were gross. In 1878 a discount of 33 1-3 per cent was allowed for prompt payment in advance. About three years afterwards the discount was increased to 50 per cent. off, and in 1890 the discount was fixed at fifty per cent. off the gross, and then an extra discount of ten per cent. off the net result.

About three years ago, 60 per cent. was taken off and last year the gross figures were cut in half and 20 per cent. discount allowed. In 1893 the revenue of the department after allowing discounts to consumers, was $446,734 and in 1894 it was $445,218. The cost of supplying water is about seven cents per 1000 gallons and the lowest net rate charged is 10 cents per 100 gallons. The department shows a surplus of between $30,000 and $40,000 per annum, after paying interest and all maintenance charges, capital account, expenditures for extensions made from time to time not being included. There are now over 250 miles of water mains and over 40,000 services in Toronto.

Here is an instance: A citizen has an eight-roomed brick house with bath, closet, hot and cold water, wash-basin, 6 taps in all. These cost him eight dollars a year. Has a tap in cellar for hose, $2 per year extra. He pays $148 rent; lives in the West end.

WATER RATES.

To the Editor of the Star:

Sir,—The citizens of Montreal have to return hearty thanks to those aldermen who so kindly consented to raise the water rate from 7 1-2 per cent. to 10 per cent. upon rentals above $120. They have shown how far they will dare to go and if they are not vigorously checked at the present crisis, still further unnecessary burdens may be endeavored to be imposed.

We have had various demonstrations before the City Hall and surely now is the time for an immense water rate assembly and a fitting time would be Friday afternoon, early, so that the so-called city fathers may judge for themselves what the feeling of the people is upon the subject. Surely it is time to take active steps to put an end to the present reign of jobbery, high contracts, and wasteful extravagance. Why permit it to remain? Remember, 1st February will soon be here and then will be the time to retire to private life the aldermen who are not protecting the citizens but simply acting to satisfy their own ends and desires. Do not pay the water rates on the present scale, and thus tie up the aldermen with the bonds with which they are seeking to bind the citizens. They dare not retaliate, water must be had at the present without increase and at a lower rate in the future than 7 1-2 per cent.

The time for apathy is passed and the present needs action and healthy vigorous action. Let there be no half-heartedness but let each and every one take a firm, manly stand in this matter.

CHEAP WATER?

POLICE CLOTHING.

A Contract Given to the Highest Tenderer on the Chairman's Casting Vote.

The Police Committee awarded contracts to-day for winter clothing for the police force. Ald. Robert presided and those present were Ald. Penny, Jacques, McBride, Grothe, Nolan and Lefebvre. There were three tenders for men's trousers, and although R. Charlebois was the highest tenderer, he was awarded the contract on the following division:

: For—Ald. Grothe, Lefebvre, Nolan.

Against—Ald. Penny, McBride and Jacques.

The chairman gave his casting vote in favor of Mr. Charlebois.

The other contracts were awarded as follows: Officers't rousers, Kelly Bros., at $6.50; officers' boots, P. Flannery, $4; men's boots, M. Thiverge, $4.25; men's mitts, Boisseau Freres, $11.50 a dozen; officers' gloves, Desormeau, $16 a dozen.

A letter was read from the Citizens' League, drawing the attention of the Committee to the fact that the League had written three times to Superintendent Hughes, asking that he should enforce by-law 153 in reference to boxing matches and the one recently held in the Crystal Rink. The communication further asserts that the members of the League are prepared to submit evidence to the effect that the by-law has been violated.

In reply, Superintendent Hughes said that several arrests had been made on different occasions, but they were dismissed on the grounds that the cases did not come under the by-law.

Ald. Penny and McBride replied that thae parties in question had not been arrested under the by-law, but under a provincial statute, and, owing to some technicalities, the prisoners were discharged. The speakers said that the law was plain, and asked that it be enforced. This was agreed to.

GRAND TRUNK'S NEW PRESIDENT.

SPEAKS AS THOUGH NO CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT IS INTENDED.

The Meeting of Trunk Line Presidents to Consider the Problem of Maintaining Rates Expected to be Successful.

[Special to the Star.]

New York, August 15.—As predicted in these despatches yesterday, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, the new President of the Grand Trunk Railway, attended to-day, the meeting of the sub-committee of the Trunk line Presidents to consider the problem of maintaining rates. He was accompanied by Mr. L. J. Seargeant, General Manager of the line, by whom he was introduced to the members of the committee, sixteen in number.

In private conversation to-day Sir Charles declined to discuss the many reports in circulation about a proposed reorganization of the company including wholesale reductions of wages and removal of officers. He spoke of Mr. Seargeant in such a way as to make it seem certain that there is no idea of changing the General Manager at any rate. He admitted, however, that he was not yet familiar with the affairs of the company and that his future action must depend on what he learned during his present trip of inquiry. He will go to Boston to-night thence to Portland and from there to Montreal.

The meeting to-day gave every promise of reaching a definite conclusion on the rate question. It was said that a cast iron agreement would be drawn up for submission to the Association and that it would almost certainly be adopted.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

First Division in the Commons—Government Sustained by a Vote of Three Hundred and Fourteen to Seventy-seven.

London, August 15.—The selection of the young Duke of Marlborough and Lord Ampthill to move and second the address was in accordance with the custom which obtains of allowing members thus to make a sort of debut in the House. Lord Dudley, when 24 years old, moved the address during Lord Salisbury's last Government. The Duke of Marlborough, who will be 24 years old next November, is reputed to be clever, and was popular when he was a student at Cambridge University. Since that time he has devoted himself chiefly to coach driving. Lord Ampthill, who is about 26 years of age, is tall and muscular, and a noted oarsman. He is a Liberal-Unionist. The two peers represent the great Churchill (Tory) and Russell (Whig) families, and in moving and seconding the address symbolized the Conservative-Liberal-Unionist alliance.

When Lord Salisbury entered the House at a quarter past four o'clock, he was greeted with cheers by the Government supporters. There was a large attendance of members and many visitors present.

The Duke of Marlborough, in speaking to his motion, said that Parliament had never assembled under more hopeful or interesting circumstances. He referred to the cessation of the Chinese-Japanese war, and also the acts of barbarism that had been committed in China and Armenia. He then said:

"It is not to be supposed that because Ireland is not mentioned in the Queen's speech that country is to be neglected. Antipathy against Home Rule does not mean that the Government will not seek the social and industrial welfare of Ireland."

Continuing, he said he was glad to know that the Ministers intended to introduce measures for the relief of agriculture. The Duke concluded by saying that the country's answer to the policy of demolition of the constitution beginning with the House of Lords had been most emphatic. The speech was greeted with cheers.

In the House of Commons, before debating the address in reply to the Queen's speech, Sir Richard Webster, the Attorney-General, made a motion for the production of the copy of conviction of and judgment against John Daly, who is now serving a sentence for treason felony, and was returned as a member of Parliament by the city of Limerick in the last election. Sir Richard also asked for the production of a certificate from the governor of Portland prison that Daly is still undergoing sentence there.

Mr. John Redmond (Parnellite) member for Waterford city, said he recognized this motion as being merely a formal one. Nevertheless it was the first step in proceedings aiming to over-ride the unanimous selection of the electors of Limerick He would protest against it by calling for a division of the House.

The motion was carried by a vote of 314 to 77. H. D. Daly was arrested when in possession of dynamite bombs. He was tried with J. F. Egan and others at the Waterwick assizes in 1884, convicted of treason-felony and sentenced to penal servitude for life. The pardon, which was granted by the late Government to some men who were convicted of similar offences was not extended to Daly. There is no chance of Daly ever serving in Parliament for the reason that the acts of 1870, which abolished attainder for felony, deals with the matter in express terms. It provides that no person thereafter convicted and sentenced for a term exceeding twelve months' imprisonment, unless he shall have received a free pardon within the two months of sentence or shall have suffered the punishment, shall be capable of being elected or sitting or voting as a member of either House of Parliament.

HOLMES TO GO TO CHICAGO.

Philadelphia, August 15.—It has practically been decided that H. H. Holmes, the alleged murderer of Minnie and Nannie Williams, Peitzel and a dozen others, will go to Chicago for trial for the murder of the Williams girls. This, it is said, was the outcome of a lengthy conference held in this city between W. A. Capps, of Fort Worth, Texas, and District Attorney Graham. After the conference, Lawyer Capps said that he had urged the District Attorney to allow Holmes to go to Chicago, and that Mr. Graham could hardly refuse to grant his request.

J. G. CORBETT MARRIED.

Asbury Park, N.J., August 15.—The Corbett cottage was the scene of a quiet wedding this morning. James J. Corbett, the champion pugilist, was married to Miss Jessie Taylor, of Omaha, Neb. The bride is known by the name of Vera Stanwood. Corbett returned from Buffalo this morning and made up his mind to get married. Mr. Corbett invited only three of his Asbury Park friends, and kept the proposed marriage so quiet that even William A. Brady, his manager, knew nothing of it. Justice John A. Bordon, of Asbury Park, performed the ceremony.

A BATTLE IN PROGRESS.

New York, August 15.—The Herald's special from Panama says: News has been received from Guayaquil, Ecuador, that a battle is in progress between the forces of Alfaro and Sarasti.

BRITANNIA BEATS AILSA.

Ryde, August 15.—The Britannia defeated the Ailsa to-day over the long course of the Royal Victoria Yacht Squadron for Ryde Town Cup, a distance of 50 miles. The Ailsa allowed the Britannia 1 min. 4 sec. The wind was light and the race called off after the first round.

Start—Britannia, 10.2.35; Ailsa, 10.4.00.
Finish—Britannia, 2.59.25; Ailsa, 3.7.15.

The Prince of Wales and the Duke of York sailed on the Britannia.

THE COATICOOK FATALITY.

How John Brooks Met His Death on the Race Track.

[Special to the Star.]

Sherbrooke, August 15.—There was an inquest held by Coroner Woodward at Coaticook on Monday and Tuesday concerning the death of John Brooks, killed on Saturday by being run over on the Coaticook race-course. From the statements made by poor Brooks during the four or five hours he lived after the accident, his friends expressed the opinion that there had been some foul play. Brooks stated to his son and others that he thought Eli Bacon, who was driving the horse behind him, had run into him purposely to unfit him for future races. The witnesses do not bear out this pretension. It appears from their stories that there were three horses on the course exercising for races being driven respectively by Brooks, Bacon and Smith. They had started around together, with Bacon behind Brooks occupying the inside, Bacon the Centre, and Smith the outside of the track. According to Smith, at the moment of the accident Brooks' horse had just broken, and in reining him back, he appeared to have pulled him a little out of his position and across the track. Bacon's horse was also on the run, and in restraining him the bit broke, and Bacon lost all control and his horse blindly plunged into Brooks' gig. Both men were violently thrown from their seats to the ground, Bacon being but slightly hurt, while the severe contusions which Brooks received about his breast very soon caused his death. The latter was sixty-one years of age, and leaves a wife and grown family.

The coroner has not completed the inquest and will resume it on the 27th instant.

ANOTHER ARREST MADE.

Mr. John Grose, general manager of the Dominion Burglary Guarantee Company, this afternoon had a warrant issued for the arrest of Fred Clarke, who was with Haynes and Jenkins when the preparations were made for the fire in Boyd, Gillies & Co.'s warehouse.

Speaking to a Star reporter, Mr. Grose said that an idea existed that Clarke had not been arrested, but simply held as a witness, owing to his being employed by the firm. This, he said, was erroneous, as there was no one so much surprised as he was himself when the news was brought to him of Clarke's doings. He was bound to make an example, he said, in the present case.

Mr. Romeo Prevost, accountant, has been appointed provisional liquidator in the matter of "La Boulangerie Nationale," Montreal.

Toronto Railway Weak.

The local stock market was dull and slow this morning, with a weaker undertone for some of the favorite speculative stocks. The greatest decline was in Toronto Railway, which dropped off from 84 to 83, rallying at the close to 83 1-4. Gas changed hands at 205 1-4 to 206 1-4. Montreal Street Railway old sold at 210 1-2, and the new at 209 3-4 to 209 5-8. Cable Co. were dealt in at 163 3-4 to 164, closing easier at 163 1-2. Royal Electric sold at 152. Cottons continue flat, and there was only one deal in Banks, a small lot of Union being placed at 100. The rest of the list was neglected.

The London market was reported as lower for American securities. The amount of bullion gone into the Bank of England on balance to-day was £102,000. To-day is a holiday in Paris, and the stock markets were all closed.

Wall Street was reported as very dull and tendency lower, in consequence of the gold drain. Tobacco will, it is said, work lower, the manipulation being in this direction. It is estimated that the bond syndicate has close upon ten million gold in reserve with which to replete the drain on the United States treasury. By the time that these ten millions are exhausted, gold shipments will probably cease. There is also a report on Wall Street that there is no fear that the syndicate will endeavor to bring about a situation demanding another issue of bonds, for the small profit they might derive from it would count for little against their probable losses in placing other classes of American securities. The managers of the syndicate have several times intimated plainly to Secretary Carlisle that they intended to continue their efforts to protect the treasury and their own customers for American securities without regard to the exact terms of their contract. They are, it is stated, continuing to offer bills of exchange drawn against their own credits, and they are prepared to take stronger action than they have yet taken if the legitimate demand for gold to settle balances should develop into a speculative demand for profit on the shipments. The broker who looks to gold shipments for a speculative profit will be very wary before tempting the vengeance of the syndicate, with their immense power over rates of exchange, the market for securities and the gold supplies of the world.

Sales.—17 Union Bank at 100; 45 Electric at 152; 50 Toronto Ry. at 84, 150 at 83 1-2; 25 at 83 1-4, 25 at 83, 25 at 83 1-4, 200 at 83 1-2, 25 at 83 3-8, 25 at 83 1-4; 12 Gas at 205 1-4, 50 at 206 1-4; 200 St. Ry. at 210 1-2; 75 St. Ry. new at 209 3-4, 150 at 209 5-8; 25 Cable at 163 3-4, 25 at 163 7-8, 25 at 164, 25 at 163 7-8, 25 at 163 3-4, 25 at 163 1-2.

A Car Load of Pianos.

Citizens were interested yesterday afternoon by a procession of teams conveying a car load of pianos from the depot to the warerooms of the Pratte Piano Company. This is the first lot of pianos that the Company has turned out from their new factory at Huntingdon. The managing director, Mr. Pratte, is making active preparations in anticipation of a large fall and winter trade. It is the Company's intentions to keep at their warerooms, No. 1676 Notre Dame street, the largest stock of fine pianos in the whole Dominion. The public are invited to visit the warerooms, whether intending purchasing or not.

I CANNOT TELL

the great value Hood's Sarsaparilla has been to me.

For two years I have been in poor health, taking medicine all the time with little benefit. In the winter I had a severe attack of rheumatism and thought I should never get rid of it. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Since taking five bottles I am like a new person. It will convince the most skeptical of its merits." MRS. LIZZIE SCHAFER, Riverton, Illinois.
